19 MEN OF CANADIAN NAVY DIE IN SEA FIRE

Yugoslav Students Lead Violent Riots

Sarajevo Police Battle 1000; Many Arrests Made in Belgrade; Bridges Guarded Against Possible Attack

BELGRADE, March 26 (AP)—This capital and the Bosnian city of Sarajevo, where a student assassin touched off the First Great War, were the scenes tonight of violent street riots led largely by students inflamed against Yugoslavia's new membership in the Axis.

In Sarajevo, where Gavrio Prinzip assassinated Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria-Hungary in 1914, more than 1000 rioters battled with police who tried to put down demonstrations against Germany. The fight started when 200 theological students paraded, singing old Slavic hymns and crying out against Germany.

Here in Belgrade, police battled with rioters in at least eight separate points, making many arrests, notably among dissident students and the reinvigorated Comitaji of old-time Serbian revolutionaries.

Soldiers and police hastened to guard against threatened bombing of the bridges across the Danube and the Sava Rivers, which meet here.

All-day disturbances among students resulted in closing of schools until Monday. In one school the students heaped up their benches and burned them with torches made of photographs of Hitler and Mussolini. In many others classrooms were wrecked and walls were defaced with scrawled jibes at Germany.

Many of the students were under 15 years of age.

Reports from Montenegro, one of the diverse elements in this kingdom of ancient races, creeds, hates and loyalties, told of vigorous demonstrations, particularly in Cetinje.

Police raided homes of many citizens suspected of sympathy for Britain and the United States, and there were unnumbered secret arrests during the day as a preventive measure which failed to prevent the outbreaks of the night.

Vice-Premier Vadimir Macik hurried to Zagreb to try to placate leaders of the Independent Democratic party, who are said to have ordered all their members to resign from local governments of Croatia in protest against Tuesday's capitulation to the Axis.

Frankovci, the Nazi Croatian organization, celebrated the pact in Zegreb by shouting, "our time has come at last."

Word came by telephone from neutral diplomats in Sofia, capital of German-occupied Bulgaria, that despite Yugoslavia's internal stresses the Axis alignment might permit a German attack on Greece this week.

They said the German drive Southward originally was set for April 1, but might be hastened by several days.

The Yugoslav temper was heightened by a radio broadcast in German that Nazi troops would enter the country to "protect Yugoslav independence" under the Vienna treaty terms if the demonstrations continued. The station was believed to be a "bootleg" transmitter.

(The British Broadcasting Corporation, quoting the German Radio, said that German troops would march in "if movements of revolt became a nuisance to Germany.")

LONDON, March 26 (CP) — Col. L. S. Amery, Secretary of State for India, urged Serbs, Croats and Slovenes by radio tonight to resist German domination of Yugoslavia and to "keep the flame of national spirit alive."

Col. Amery, perhaps the Government's best linguist, spoke in Serbo-Croatian.

"In this war are you going to be content to leave glory to the Greeks alone and be classed with the Rumanians and Bulgars as second-class men who follow the Germans because they dare not face them in the field?" he asked.

He paid tribute to the heroism shown by the people of Yugoslavia in the last war.

Open Verdict Is Returned in Death of Natal Woman

FERNIE, B. C., March 26 (CP).—An open verdict has been returned by a Coroner's Jury in the death of 38-year-old Mary Brandeis, whose bullet-riddled body was found in her home at nearby Natal, B. C., Saturday, just a few hours before her father was found shot to death on the bank of Michel Creek, not far distant.

A rifle was found beside the body of the father, Vincent Brandeis, 64.

The Coroner's Jury found last night that Mary met instant death from gunshot wounds in the neck early on the morning of March 22, "said wounds having been inflicted by some person or persons unknown." Her body was found on the kitchen floor of the Brandeis home.

Evidence by other members of the family disclosed the elder Brandeis was in failing health and threatened with blindness.

A note written in Czechoslovakian identified as having been written by Brandeis and found on the dining room table of the family home read:

"Already I have enough of this suffering."

Members of the family said they were awakened early Saturday morning by a noise like the report of a gun. They attributed it to the slamming of a door however, and went back to sleep.

The body of Mary was discovered in the kitchen when the family rose three hours later.

At Natal a Coroner's Jury returned a verdict that Brandeis came to his death on the embankment of the Michel Creek at Natal Saturday morning as result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Late Flashes

MIAMI, Fla., March 26 (AP) — Shifting winds kicked up the Gulf Stream today and prevented a "special delivery" navy plane from delivering the 7,000,000,000 British aid bill to President Roosevelt for his signature.

BERLIN, March 26 (AP)—Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka of Japan was welcomed here today for conversations which German commentators said would be intended to promote the Axis "new order" in both Europe and the Far East.

WINNIPEG, March 27 (CP) — Royal Canadian Air Force and Royal Canadian Mounted Police early today investigated a report from Warroad, Minn., 120 miles Southeast of Winnipeg, that the missing R.C.A.F. training plane had been found.

HONG KONG, March 27 (AP)—Veteran Chinese troops recaptured the Kiangsi Province city of Kaoan last night and are pushing vigorously toward the Japanese-captured Yangtze River port of Nanchang 50 miles to the North, the Central (Chinese) News Agency reported early today.

Monashee Open; Carry Chains

"The Monashee is open," was the announcement from the Provincial Public Works Department Wednesday morning, with reference to the Pass through the Gold Range that affords passage to the Edgewood-Vernon Highway, the alternative "Trans-Provincial".

Motorists, however, were cautioned to take chains for a few days, to cope with the snow in the Pass. The section now is being patrolled, as there is danger of rocks coming down.

John Learmonth, Manager of Central Canadian Greyhound Lines, when advised of the opening, expressed the opinion that bus service from Vernon, to link with the Greyhound service from this end, would start as soon as the road through the Pass was fully serviceable, perhaps in a week or so.

Earl of Athlone Takes Salute in Edmonton Visit

EDMONTON, March 26 (CP).—His Excellency, the Earl of Athlone Governor-General of Canada, took the salute in a march past of active service units here of the Canadian Army and the Royal Canadian Navy today during his one-day visit to Edmonton.

Later, the Governor-General visited the Royal Canadian Air Force Observers' and Elementary Training Schools.

The Governor-General arrived here early today, accompanied by Princess Alice Countess of Athlone and their daughter, Lady May Abel-Smith.

$200,000 RAISED FIRST 2 DAYS OF DRIVE

TORONTO, March 26 (CP).—Officials at National Headquarters of the Canadian War Services Fund announced tonight that $304,031 had been subscribed in the first two days of the campaign. The objective is $5,500,000.

Montreal citizens' contribution of $81,674 is the largest subscription so far among larger cities, officials said.

Nazi Extension of Sea Blockade Studied by U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 26 (CP) —A United States answer to Germany's extension of her sea blockade to the border line of the Western Hemisphere, if not actually across it, is in preparation tonight.

Whether it will take the form of a warning to Germany or more decisive measures to keep hostile operations from hemisphere waters, officials would not say until they had studied all aspects of the problem.

Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State, said the whole question is under consideration and he probably will make a statement in a day or two.

These possibilities were advanced unofficially:

1. A warning to Germany to keep submarines and other war vessels from the Western Hemisphere.

2. An extension of the European combat zone to include Iceland, thus closing that British-occupied Danish colony to American shipping.

3. An extension of the Pan-American neutrality zone to the Easternmost limit of the Western Hemisphere.

Nazis Aided in Capture of Town

CAIRO, March 26 (AP).—British headquarters announced tonight that there were some German troops in an Axis mechanized detachment which last Monday occupied El Agheila, Westernmost point of the British spearhead in Libya, and that there probably were other detachments in the vicinity directly Westward.

British patrols withdrew Sunday before the town was occupied, a communique stated.

The town is 150 miles Southwest of Bengasi on the Gulf of Sidra.

British officers said the town was of no importance; a ruined mud fort, a few bad wells and having a peacetime population of about 30.

In Eritrea and Ethiopia, last spots of Italian resistance in East Africa, the R. A. F. reported widespread air raids.

A Free French air squadron joined in the attacks in Ethiopia, bombing an Italian encampment 20 miles North of Gondar.

PILOT'S BODY FOUND

VICTORIA, March 26 (CP).—The body of Sub.-Lt. Yens Riiser, 26, pilot of the Royal Norwegian Naval Air Force plane which crashed at Patricia Bay March 18 was recovered yesterday and will be sent to Vancouver for burial.

ENEMY TORPEDO BOATS IN NORTH SEA DRIVEN OFF

Several Believed Lost While Nazi Plane Is Downed

U.S. BOMBERS TO PATROL THE SEAS

LONDON, March 26 (CP). — British war vessels shepherding convoys through the North Sea beat off a series of night attacks by German torpedo boats and shot down a German plane with a hit full "in the nose" the Admiralty announced tonight.

These reports were issued as reliable sources said Britain's answer to German extension of the Atlantic counter-blockade is a swarm of big United States patrol bombers that comb the seas for Nazi craft as far as Iceland—500 miles from the nearest Scottish cape.

Lockheed and Consolidated "Catalina" bombers bear the brunt of the aerial scouting.

The Admiralty said "light forces" hit several of the speedy German E-boats and that it was probable some were lost.

The plane — a Messerschmitt 110 —was shot down when it made a daylight attack on a convoy guarded by the destroyer Versatile, built during the First Great War. No damage was suffered by British craft, the Admiralty said.

German activity over Britain was light today but two Southern towns reported industrial buildings damaged by German aircraft.

One German plane was downed by ground guns, another by fighters.

Other successful aircraft attacks on enemy shipping were announced. Tuesday, aircraft of the Bomber Command intercepted and bombed a small enemy convoy off the Netherlands coast. Off Ameland an anti-aircraft ship was damaged and near Borkum a naval patrol vessel was bombed.

While on patrol Tuesday an aircraft of the Coastal Command attacked and scattered several enemy minesweepers.

Plant Ordered to Go Back to Work

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP). —The United States Government today resorted to a bold stroke to end a nine-week strike at the Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Company at Milwaukee, Wis., by virtually ordering the company and its employees to resume production immediately on vital defence orders.

The action was taken jointly by William F. Knudsen, Director of the Office of Production Management, and Navy Secretary Frank Knox after an all-day conference with company officials.

While company officials were en route to Milwaukee by train and plane, Knudsen and Knox dispatched a telegram to Max W. Babb, Allis Chalmers President, declaring that the Government could wait no longer for a settlement of the strike by ordinary means.

"FOG" TROOP IS NEWEST NAZI SCHEME

BERLIN, March 26 (AP).—German troops now carry their own "fog".

The Nebel Truppe (Fog Troop) is the youngest branch of German military service. Its purpose is to obscure the enemy's vision with a new variation of the smoke screen technique.

A military expert without giving the composition of the artificial fog said "the fog troop is still in the early stages of development" and added that the "fog" is not injurious.

Britain to Step Up Air War Says Viscount Halifax

NEW YORK, March 26 (CP)—Britain intends to step up her air war against Germany, Viscount Halifax declared today, and he expressed doubt whether the Germans could "stand up" against it as have the Britons against the incessant raids of the Nazis.

The British Ambassador to the United States told a Press conference:

"The British people will stand up against the bombing that the German Air Force can give them a good deal better than I expect the German people to stand up against the bombing that the Royal Air Force—supported and helped, as they greatly will be, by your people—will increasingly put onto Germany."

Observers thought Lord Halifax might have had in mind an obscure paragraph in the German editions of Hitler's "Mein Kampf" which has been scrutinized carefully by Prime Minister Churchill and other British war leaders.

This paragraph is believed to throw light on the question of German resistance of bombardment from the air. In it Hitler tacitly admits that if there had been fighting on German soil during the First Great War the Germans would have cracked up sooner than they did.

At his Press conference, the British Ambassador said Britain is willing to fight 20 years, if necessary to defeat Germany although he did not believe the job would take anything like that long because of the increasing flow of American armaments across the Atlantic. No matter how long it took, Britain never would accept a negotiated peace.

DE GAULLE IN AFRICA

LONDON, March 26 (CP). — Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Leader of Free French Forces, is making a tour of French Equatorial Africa, the radio at Brazzaville in that colony reported today.

Blockade May Cost Italy Her Dodecanese Islands

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE BRITISH BATTLE FLEET OFF CRETE, March 26 (AP) — Bombardment and blockade were expected by British authorities to cost Italy her Dodecanese Islands, where Italian garrisons already face serious shortages of food and war supplies.

The 12 rocky islands, strung out like pieces in an unfinished jigsaw puzzle, off the Aegean coast of Turkey, have been cut off from Italy for months by the British Fleet.

Serious shortages of gasoline and war supplies on the islands were given as one reason for the dwindling in the past few months of Italian air attacks upon the Middle East.

Greek refugees from the islands were quoted as saying talk of revolt was spreading among the Greek population, which outnumbers Italians on the islands 12 to one.

Nazis Claim More Shipping Damage

BERLIN, March 26 (AP). — The German High Command claimed today German warplanes destroyed 5000 tons of merchant shipping and damaged an additional 15,000 tons in attacks on vessels in the vicinity of Great Britain yesterday.

One vessel of 2000 tons was sunk East of Clacton-on-Sea by a direct hit, and another of 3008 tons was destroyed at the entrance to Bristol Channel, the daily war bulletin declared.

Later Nazi spokesmen claimed long range bombers sank a 10,000-ton British merchant ship today out of a convoy protected by five destroyers, two cruisers and six patrol boats in the North Atlantic.

They also claimed a British freighter, attacked from the air, was left sinking 250 miles West of the Hebrides, Scotland.

Raging Sea Claims Men Trying to Flee Enveloping Flames

Two Officers and 17 Men Drowned or Died of Shock and Exposure; Merchant and War Ships Save 22 Men

By JOHN LEBLANC, Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, March 26 (CP)—Fire at sea sent 19 men of the Royal Canadian Navy to death today. Flames suddenly enveloping H.M.C.S. Otter, a patrol vessel, drove her crew into the lifeboats off Halifax and only 22 of her complement of 41 survived a raging Atlantic.

Two officers and 17 men were drowned or died of shock and exposure, the Department of Naval Services announced here tonight. Two officers and 20 men were saved by a merchant ship and another war vessel.

Seven of the lost seamen had next of kin living in Nova Scotia; four in Ontario, three each in Quebec, and Prince Edward Island and two in Manitoba. The dead officers were both Nova Scotians.

Lieut. Denis S. Mossman of Halifax, commander of the converted yacht, was saved in the hazardous rescue that saw lifeboats of the assisting merchantman smashed after one of the Otter's lifeboats had been swamped and its occupants thrown into the windswept Atlantic.

Flames enveloped the Otter suddenly this morning as she was on patrol off Sambro Light, at the mouth of Halifax Harbor. The one-time luxury craft, converted into an auxiliary after the outbreak of the war was soon aflame from stem to stern.

Cause of the fire was undetermined, the Navy announcement said but it added "the usual investigation will be held." The little warcraft it was presumed, sank after the fire. The announcement said only she was lost.

Combers were running 15 feet high when fire broke out, according to her captain. The waves filled one of the lifeboats before upsetting it.

Some of the men clung to a life raft thrown overboard from the Otter as she was abandoned. An icy wind chilled them as they tossed in the sea within sight of land, awaiting help.

Ten minutes after the outbreak of the fire the merchantman, whose name was not disclosed by the Navy, sighted the distressed craft.

The two lifeboats aboard the merchantman were smashed when the seas sent her charging up against the Otter, the Navy story continued, but "ropes and ladders brought 15 men aboard."

The second warship saved the other six.

While the difficult rescue operations were going on, an unknown tanker came up and, thrusting herself between the wind and the laboring ships and men, provided a lee for them to work in. The Navy statement paid tribute to the "valuable service" of the anonymous craft.

Canada to Make New Explosives

OTTAWA, March 26 (CP).—Three types of explosives which never before have been made in Canada will be produced along with two other types in Canada's second national explosives plant which recently began operations in Central Canada, the Munitions and Supply Department announced tonight.

The announcement added that a third large national explosives plant is scheduled to come into operation next Summer.

The second plant, largest of its kind in Canada, "is one of the major explosives plants of the world," the announcement said. Capital expenditure on the undertaking runs to about $18,000,000.

The plant will be in full production by mid-Summer and will supply explosives for use in Canada, for export to Great Britain and for loading British ammunition made in United States.

Output of this plant, along with the Nobel, Ont., plant which started operations late last year, will make Canada's production of high explosives and propellants "considerably higher than the maximum output of the last war," the announcement said.

Birth and Marriage Rate in Canada Up

OTTAWA, March 26 (CP).—Canada's birth-rate during February jumped 16 per cent from that in February 1940, accompanied by 32 per cent increase in marriages, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports today.

Births registered in 67 Canadian cities and towns with a population of 10,000 or more number 7857, deaths 4436 and marriages 3896 during February, compared with 6765 births, 4285 deaths and 2947 marriages in February last year.

Supply Ships Are Guarded by Navy

VICHY, France, March 26 (AP).—A Petain Government spokesman said today the French Navy had been escorting merchant ships on the high seas "for many months." Although not actually convoyed groups of ships from the Colonies have been "policed" by small war vessels, the spokesman declared. He asserted no ship so accompanied ever had been stopped by British war vessels.

The disclosure was made when the spokesman was asked to comment on Spanish newspaper reports a merchant ship loaded with cocoa, coffee, tobacco and bananas was en route to Casablanca, French Morocco, escorted by a French warship.

Vice Premier Jean Darlan, who is also Navy Minister, declared on March 10 that France's food position was so grave it would be necessary to give armed protection to merchantmen if the British Navy did not permit them to pass through its blockade.

Hart Tax Reductions to Mean Big Contribution by B.C. to War Effort; $1,500,000 Saving for Taxpayers

VANCOUVER, March 26—A $2,500,000 contribution by the Province to Canada's "war effort", effected by reductions in the income tax and assumption by B. C. of the Federal share of direct relief costs: Repayment of treasury bills held by the Dominion in respect to refunding operations; outlining of increased aid to municipalities, amounting to more than $2,000,000; retirement of $25,000,000 of maturities, thereby releasing money for war investment, and a substantial reduction annual debt charges, amounting to $1,200,000, were the highlights of a speech delivered by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, before the Vancouver Board of Trade here today.

The present Government, he said, at an early date addressed itself to the task of lightening taxation, aiding municipalities and restoring public services. The result was a $1,364,000 income tax reduction in 1934;

Approximately having of interest on various tax arrears;

Halving of chauffeurs' licence fees, and permitting farmers to work out their taxes to the extent of $1,250,000.

By a succession of measures municipal aid was increased by $2,000,000. Further municipal aid has been provided to the extent of $250,000 in 1941-42, and $460,000 annually thereafter.

Mr. Hart said that the $6,000,000 surplus expected at the end of the current year would be used as follows:

Sinking funds $751,000; relief $2,800,000 and debt redemption $2,452,248. A further $1,156,519 would have to be taken from next year's revenue to complete retirement of maturities.

On a per capita basis the service expenditures had actually decreased since the last normal year. Per capita cost in 1930-31 was $30.05 as compared with $26.41 during the current year.

But for the financing of unemployment relief, B.C. would have been able to report a reduction of $8,621,886 in the net debt. Despite the borrowings on account of unemployment relief the interest rates on the Provincial debt had been scaled down by refundings and wise investments, and amount to very little more than they were.

During his regime the credit position of the Province had been greatly improved and sinking funds were sounder and proportionately greater than any other economic area throughout the Dominion.

VANCOUVER, March 26 (CP)—Hon. John Hart, British Columbia Minister of Finance, today announced plans for reductions in personal income tax, abolition of the surtax on income taxes and a special depreciation allowance for new plants and plant extensions constructed to handle war contracts.

The reductions will affect tax payments on 1941 incomes.

Emphasizing importance of the financial changes in Canada's war effort, Mr. Hart told the Vancouver Board of Trade in an address that payment of $28,364,636 in maturing debentures this year would release funds for re-investment for war purposes.

Reduction in the income tax will mean an estimated saving of $1,500,000 annually for 100,000 taxpayers. This, together with the Province taking over about $7,000,000 in direct unemployment relief costs previously paid by the Dominion, will release another $2,500,000 to the war effort, said Mr. Hart.

He announced the Province was ready to arrange payment of $10,193,844 in treasury bills held by the Dominion and suggested a review of the whole question of unemployment relief for which the Dominion has asked the Province to repay $24,550,542.

The reductions in personal income include raising of exemptions for single persons from $800 to $750, for married persons from $1000 to $1200 and dependent children from $200 to $400 with the age limit raised from 18 to 21 years. Exemptions for donations to charities will be raised from 5 to 10 per cent.

The reductions in exemptions will mean a saving of approximately $1,000,000 to taxpayers, said Mr. Hart, and the elimination of the surtax will mean a saving of $500,000. First imposed in 1933, the surtax was being abolished because of increases in the Dominion rates on incomes liable to this tax, said Mr. Hart.

The Government proposed to allow depreciation allowances in respect of capital investments in depreciable assets acquired or constructed for war purposes he said. This would be done to facilitate and encourage erection of new plants and extensions for work under war contracts. The special allowances would be granted, he said, at the same rates determined by the Dominion war contracts depreciation board on production of the Board's order.

For the first time in many years British Columbia will have a completely balanced budget, said Mr. Hart. Debenture maturities totalling $25,364,646 would be paid in full in 1941 and funds to that extent will be available for re-investment in war purposes." The debt payment would reduce interest charges by $1,200,000.

Mr. Hart referred to the federal request for payment of $34,744,387 in treasury bills. Of this amount, $10,193,844 represented refunding issues and th eProvince was prepared to arrange their payment. This could be done through a 25-year bond issue or replacement of the bills whic the Dominion could discount at the bank.

The balance, about $24,000,000 was due to unemployment relief costs. The Government proposes this be reviewed between the Province and the Dominion and any sum deemed due could be paid in similar manner as proposed for the refunding issues. Mr. Hart said the Province always contended direct relief was a national responsibility.

Total expenditures for relief of unemployed from November, 1930, to Sept. 30, 1940, was $37,850,264.20 said Mr. Hart. The Dominion paid $30,521,800.33, the Province $46,430,863.74 and the municipalities $10,892,600.13. Since withdrawal of the Dominion from paying 40 per cent of direct relief costs this year the Province is paying 80 per cent and the municipalities 20 per cent.

British Columbia also was contributing to the war effort by reserving natural resources and by greatly adding to the police force to insure protection against sabotage, espionage and subversive activities, said Mr. Hart. Camps and equipment have been turned over to national defence authorities.

Roads and bridges have been constructed or improved for military purposes and the youth of the Province is being trained for war requirements. All possible aid is being extended to industries and persons engaged in production of war materials.

"The Dominion is assured," declared Mr. Hart, "that all necessary sacrifices will be made and that the closest of cooperation will be extended in the war effort.

Four Lives Saved at Tadanac by Quick Act of Switchman Bellamy

TRAIL, B.C., March 26—Quick thinking of Jay C. Bellamy, of Trail, switchman of the C.P.R. Railway at Tadanac, was responsible for saving the lives of four people in a truck-train collision reported at the Warfield Crossing on the Schofield Highway about 1:30 Monday morning.

The truck, driven by Harold Brinkman of Grand Forks, came into collision with the C.P.R. engine which was backing down to Tadanac. The force of the collision broke Brinkman's jaw, and rendered him, and two other companions in the front seat, unconscious. The truck was whirled around on to the tracks facing upgrade in front of the train, and started to run away heading for a curve on the brink of a high bluff overhanging the highway.

STOPS TRUCK AT BLUFF EDGE

Bellamy jumped from the train, ran after the truck, and climbed on the fender, intending to apply the brakes, but found all three people unconscious, and huddled over the brake handle. He then cut the ignition and slammed the truck into gear, bringing the truck to a stop about 200 feet from the scene of the collision, and within a few feet of the bluff.

Brinkman, and the three other passengers, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Charles Cochrane of Rossland, and Nels Anderson of Trail, were taken to the Trail-Tadanac Hospital.

In addition to the broken jaw, Brinkman suffered chest injuries. He was reported, Wednesday, to be "feeling better."

Mrs. Smith was discharged from the hospital Wednesday. Mrs. Cochrane and Mr. Anderson were there only for treatment for minor injuries.

Hundreds of Bushmen Flock to Army to Learn Sniping Secrets

OTTAWA — Jubilant because it's open season for Huns again, hundreds of bushmen from the Canadian backwoods are flocking to the army to take on a job that suits them to the soles of their hob-nailed boots.

They are joining up in the sniping courses and have already selected the best areas for score carving on the butts of their Ross rifles.

Consisting largely of trappers and hunters, the sniping classes are being carried on at Camp Borden, one of Canada's largest training centres. There, among the rolling hills and wooded sections, the sniping recruits are taught to apply to military uses certain fundamentals with which they are already familiar—mainly the ability to shoot fast and accurately while remaining as invisible as possible.

From the manner in which they handle their long-barrelled Ross's and flick each speck of dust from their telescopic sights, it is plain to see that Canada's new generation of backwoodsmen are going to make good snipers. Many of them are full blooded Indians who only a few months ago were stalking deer in their native bush-country.

Today, with snow still blanketing the ground at Camp Borden. For a goodly part of every day they sit in classrooms listening to instruction in camouflage, map reading, signals and the numerous other duties that go with stalking men on the battlefield instead of animals in the forest.

After the classroom sessions they eagerly stomp to the range, where they carry on their training under conditions similar to those they expect to encounter when they go into action overseas.

"When firing upon advancing troops, pick out officers, machine gunners, etc. Leave the masses to the masses." So advises one part of the textbook for Canada's snipers. They consider themselves to be no ordinary soldiers. All are well aware of the fact that snipers of the last war were noted for their longevity.

They are taught to take advantage of all types of natural camouflage. They are warned that the flare of a match can be seen at 900 yards, and the glow of a cigaret at 300 yards. They learn to place in separate pockets all articles which might rattle against each other, because, says their textbook, the first man to make a noise is usually the first man to die.

They are expected to act as guides for night patrols. They are scouts as well as killers and they are taught to make careful note of every interesting thing they encounter during their cautious prowls over the hillsides.

Another point impressed upon the sniper is that every bullet he fires must carry a special delivery tag marked with the address of the Hun who is unfortunate enough to be his target. Sniping rifles are delicate weapons which begin to lose their accuracy after they have fired their first four or five hundred shots. Besides, every time a sniper fires a shot he is running the risk of exposing his position to the enemy. Thus the firing of every bullet becomes an event of importance in the life of a sniper.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Popless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet—you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

BLACKFOOT INDIANS FARMERS AND MINERS

OTTAWA, (CP).—The Blackfoot Indian, a notable success in hunting buffalo, and raiding neighboring tribes in bygone days in the Canadian West has become outstanding among his race in farming and coal mining, the Indian Affairs Branch reports.

Blackfoot Indians are the most prosperous of Canadian redskins. They have about $2,500,000 in the bank in trust, the result of land sales and accrued interest in past years. A certain portion of the revenue from this capital is used year by year in assisting the general welfare of the 830 members of the band.

Invasion Shock Troops Take to Indian War Canoes

LONDON, March 26 (CP). — British troops in training for an invasion of Europe demonstrated their amphibian technique today with assault boats resembling in design the birchbark war canoes once used by American Indians.

The boats are so light they can be portaged by four men. In a drill demonstration at the school for amphibian shock troops, soldiers leaped aboard, knelt in position, took up paddles and sped away. In practice they sing the song of the Volga Boatman to time their paddling.

In addition, the shock troops use an unsinkable reconnaissance boat with gunwales only a few inches above the water. It will carry two men sitting on inflated rubber seats, or can be used as a raft to carry equipment while propelled by swimming soldiers.

Trucks Ferried Across Mekong

By a Reuters Special Correspondent

LASHIO, Burma, March 26 (CP Reuters). — the Burma Road can never be effectively cut by attack from the air, nor can the steady flow of traffic along it to and from China be seriously halted except by land operations.

It is true the bridges over the Mekong River have been damaged by Japanese bombings. But such are the powers of ingenuity and resourcefulness of the Chinese, that an effective ferry service for fully-loaded lorries is now carrying 100 trucks each way over the river a day.

During the last 12 months, including the rainy season, traffic along the road was never interrupted for more than 24 hours by such natural hazards.

Last month as many as 160 trucks were going through a day, with a total cargo of 450 tons apart from petrol.

Why Use A "Sissy" Laxative?

Chronic constipation has to do with the colon or large intestine. Unless the large bowel is thoroughly emptied from time to time you become a victim of chronic constipation and poisoning of the system which may result in colitis or other serious disease.

Mild or "sissy" laxatives merely cause a movement of the bowels without effecting a thorough cleansing out of the colon or large bowel. For this reason you are misled into thinking that you are doing all you can to overcome a constipated and poisoned condition of the system.

Those who know Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills appreciate the value of a real medicine which not only effects a thorough cleansing of the colon or large bowel but also arouses the liver and kidneys to activity in filtering poisons from the blood.

Once you have proven the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will never return to the use of "sissy" laxatives. Keep regular by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills once or twice a week.

Nazi Tanker and Supply Vessel Sunk by British

LONDON, March 26 (CP).—A British plane torpedoed and sank a 8000-ton German supply ship off the Netherlands coast this afternoon, it was announced tonight.

An announcement by the Air Ministry news service said the German ship was creeping along the Netherland coast under cover of a heavy sea mist when she was squarely hit by a torpedo and started to sink by the bows.

The German gunners were so taken by surprise they did not have time to fire a single anti-aircraft shot, the announcement said.

LONDON, March 26 (CP).—The British submarine Sturgeon has torpedoed and sunk an 8000-ton German tanker off the Norwegian coast, the Admiralty announced tonight.

The Sturgeon fired her torpedo in mist and rain. There was an explosion and when visibility cleared 20 minutes later the stern of the tanker could be seen protruding from the water.

CREDIT UNIONS.

What the Attorney-General for British Columbia says about Credit Unions:—

"Credit Unions are like the crops from the fields and forests, given by Nature; they bring into being something that was not there before. They create. They create Thrift and Saving amongst the people, and a Savings Account essential to a higher standard of living. But they create something better than that; they create the desire and ability of the people to do something for themselves and for their associates, and the realization that each one of them is an active part in the force that controls and governs their destinies. Credit Unions destroy apathy which is the opiate to Democracy."

Rioting Breaks in Syrian Cities

VICHY, March 26 (AP).—Twelve persons were killed yesterday and today by rioting at Damascus and Aleppo, Syria, and reports from Beirut said Gen. Henri Dentz, the Commander of Vichy forces in the Levant States, had decreed martial law in several cities.

Dentz had been reported earlier as having arrived in Vichy for a visit but officials said this report was due to a misunderstanding and that conditions in the Middle East were far too serious to permit his departure.

The rioting broke out, it was reported here, as a result of Syrian protests over food shortages and also because of Nationalist agitation.

Some sources said the trouble was fomented by foreign agents.

Londoners Let Nazi Uniform Get by

LONDON, March 26 (CP).—Unchallenged, a man wearing a German army officer's uniform and trappings strolled London Streets for hours yesterday, looked over busy Scotland Yard and peered through Buckingham Palace's fences.

His was merely another uniform to Londoners accustomed to the varied garb of British, Dominion, Colonial, Netherlands, Czech, Norwegian, Free French and other Allied forces.

Census Will Be Taken This Year

OTTAWA, March 26 (CP) — Trade Minister MacKinnon told the House of Commons today the 1941 census would be taken and not postponed as had been suggested in opposition speeches.

Mr. MacKinnon said the information obtained in the census was more extensive and different in character than that obtained on the national registration last Summer.

The census, scheduled for June, had been taken every 10 years since Confederation and it was necessary information gathered at this census be such as could be accurately compared to that obtained at previous censuses. This would not be the case if an interval of 11, 12 or more years elapsed between two census-takings.

Canada to Have 500,000 in Forces by End of Year

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
(Canadian Press Military Correspondent).

OTTAWA, March 26 (CP).—Canada, with a peacetime strength of less than 100,000 men in the active and reserve formations of the army, navy and air force will have more than 500,000 all ranks either under arms or partically trained by the end of the present year.

Unlike the expeditionary force of approximately 620,800 men enlisted during the four years of the first Great War, Canada's modern military organization has been built up without aid of high-pressure recruiting campaigns.

Up to the present the voluntary response has been sufficient to meet needs of the active forces and measures have already been introdured to strengthen and consolidate the reserves.

British Warships to Be Repaired in U.S. Navy Yards

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP). —The opeping of American navy yards for repair of damaged British men-o'-war, military experts said today, may give Britain a great strategical advantage in her battle of the Atlantic.

Under the lease-lend provision, it was explained, the United States is extending to British fighting ships, in effect, the same privileges accorded to British merchant vessels. Since the war began, British cargo carriers have been putting in at private American yards for repairs of all types, and no restrictions have applied to work of this character.

Britain made her first request last week for the repair of a warship here. The Navy Department let that much be known, but adopted a stern policy of silence for the future, on the ground that detailed information on repair work or ship movements "would be of inestimable military value to enemies of a country whose defence the President deems vital to the defence of the United States."

Prior to inauguration of this "no comment" policy, however, it was indicated that the regular refitting, refueling and reconditioning of British warships would soon be under way. Pacific as well as Atlantic bases eventually may be used.

GERMANS UNITE TO BEAT HITLER

LONDON, March 26 (CP). — Formation of a "union of German Socialist organizations in Great Britain" was announced today by German Socialist groups who said their objective is to aid in the struggle for the "defeat of Hitler and his Allies."

RAF Hits Vital Spots in Berlin

LONDON, March 26 (CP) —An economic warfare ministry official said today that in British raids on Berlin in December and January bombs penetrated to underground railways.

Another blew the roof off a movie theatre, he said, basing his statements on reports from Royal Air Force observation and "other sources." The official also declared hits were made on a very important railway junction, causing considerable dislocation.

He said the Berlin police presidency and law courts were damaged the top floors of the widely known Wertheim Department stores were burned out and minor damage done to a number of important industrial plants.

The heaviest damage during the two months, the official said, was at Mannheim where the main dock were hit, several barges sunk, traffic blocked, several engineering shops destroyed and others damaged.

He said he understood the damage to war factories ran into millions of marks. The official reported that near Mannheim's main freight station a shed housing a field post office for the German Army of occupation received a direct hit "when Christmas traffic was at its peak."

Lip Reading . . .

Overcoming the Painful Stages if Growing Deaf

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

A correspondent writes that she is growing increasingly deaf and her husband is increasingly impatient with her for being deaf, all of which makes her extremely sensitive, nervous and hard to live with.

What shall she do.

She should get a medical diagnosis of her ear condition, buy the best hearing device she can afford; begin at once to learn lip reading.

Thanks to modern science, there are many devices that make the deaf hear. Lip reading is open to everybody and after the small initial cost of lessons, practice makes perfect. A heartless husband who shows irritation with his wife's affliction isn't going to become sympathetic. She's got to make it easy for him to communicate with her if there is to be any pleasnat home-life and the surest way to do this is to train her eyes to take the place of her ears.

A very intelligent deaf person says there are several painful stages which the hard of hearing and the deaf must pass through before they can adjust themselves to their affliction. First the sensitive stage, when one tries desperately hard to keep family, friends and acquaintances from guessing the secret. Then the stage where one lets the family in on the secret, partially but still tries to keep the public from suspecting. And finally the time of complete submission to the inevitable and the acceptance of the sentence to sit calmly by seeing others exchange conversation without hoping to hear it or get in it.

During these stages the person who is gradually losing her hearing undergoes a fearful nervous strain: the physical strain of trying to hear, the effort to look intelligent when she hasn't heard, the embarrassment of seeing people laugh and suspecting that they may be laughing at her, the unpleasant feeling of imposing upon the one person present who tries to relay the conversation, the sense of being different, peculiar, cut off. Is it any wonder that deaf people like to withdraw and live to themselves?

Surely we are selfish with our hard of hearing and deaf friends, though they deserve all the consideration the keen-eared can give them. Perhaps we don't realize what an affliction the loss of hearing is. The fact that deafness isn't disfiguring nor physically painful betrays us into believing that it is merely an inconvenience.

Talking Back . . .

Controlling Bad Behavior Habits

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

Dear Dr. Myers: We have received much help from your daily articles. I had several years' preparation in kindergarten work and try to apply the methods in raising my own two daughters; one is four the other almost two.

With the older girl who is nervous, full of energy, very observing, comprehends quickly, and very affectionate, we have successfully overcome a series of behavior problems such as tantrums and others However at present we want to know how to break her of talking back—I mean plain sassiness. She started last Summer after hearing her only playmate do it with her mother. To everyone else she is very polite.

We try to make our home one of love and harmony and she has never heard us talk rudely or raise our voices in argument to one another. We try to divide our attentions between the two children and they have never shown signs of jealousy.

THE ANSWER

I can see how hard you have tried to be a good mother and I am sure you are far a better mother than you think you are. Your kindergarten experience should be of great value to you.

Go on with the same poise you pursued in the kindergarten. Be sure never to talk back to this child. In your efforts to reason with her under emotional strain you may find yourself practically quarreling with her.

Carefully study the situations i which she is sassy. As a result, you may be able to reduce the annoyances to her which arouse this. Once you are very clear about the matter and have disciplined yourself to keep calm and never argue with her, announce to her in gentle but decisive tones what the penalty will be for each offense. Perhaps this penalty should be to sit quietly in one place for exactly 20 minutes. Assign this punishment in a good kindergarten fashion, without anger or excitement. Always assign the same punishment immediately for the same sort of offense. Allow no doubts nor exemptions to occur.

Peptic . . .

Ulcer Symptoms and Treatment

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Peptic ulcer is commonly called by the laity stomach ulcers. In the first place it is not ulcers, as it always occurs as a single ulcer. In the second place it is usually not in the stomach but in the first part of the intestine beyond the opening from the stomach. These duodenal ulcers are 20 times as common as ulcer of the stomach side o fthe pylorus. It is therefore, better to lump them both together and call it "peptic ulcer."

HYDROCHLORIC ACID

In peptic ulcer the hydrocloric acid which is normally present in the gastric juice, is greatly increased, and this keeps the ulcer from healing.

This increase in acid is the real key to our modern conception of the treatment of peptic ulcer—to keep the gastric juice neutralized either by diet or the use of neutralizing alkaline salts. In the strict treatment, which is often called the "Sippy treatment" the patient goes to bed and is completely neutralized by frequent doses of alkalies for a period of several weeks.

If all peptic ulcer patients would submit to this treatment it is probable that recurrences could be cut down about 50 to 75 per cent, but most of them are unwilling to take time off and to submit to the strict discipline which this requires.

The diet should consist, in these cases of substances which will not be irritating and which will neutralize the largest amount of gastric juice. Such substances are proteins, and fats, such as milk, cream, tender lean meat, as the breast of chicken, eggs, beef, fish, etc. Starches and sweets and many times, fruits, are likely to cause irritation. All bread eaten should be toasted or consist of crusts.

Most of these people find out for themselves if they take soda or milk of magnesia, it will give them relief, these are the basis of the powders used in the Sippy treatment.

Of late, a new substance has been introduced which, according to the reports the patients make, seems to work better than the old time alkaline powders. This is aluminum hydroxide. It can be carried about in the pocket in the form of a sort of creamy liquid and is undoubtedly very potent in neutralizing the excess acidity of the stomach. The principle of treatment with aluminum hydroxide is no different from that of the old Sippy treatment with alkaline powders.

SERIAL STORY . . . By Allen Eppes

EVELESS EDEN

SYNOPSIS

BILL LATHAM, young novelist, is about to marry

RITA LINWOOD, a local "butterfly".

JOEL RANDALL, Bill's older cousin, and

AUNT SALLIE RANDALL help him make his final preparations for the event.

YESTERDAY: They start for the church.

CHAPTER THREE

Down Main Street, into Oak Avenue, a short cut through Elm Lane—and there was the church. Joel could see the late sun touching its ivy-covered walls to silver. There was a sort of gleam about it, as glimpsed through the huge and ancient trees that bordered the grass-grown ground surrounding it. Peaceful—quiet—like an old-fashioned painting; the sort he had often seen on the calendars the grocer, the butcher, or the electric light maker had given his Aunt Sallie at Christmas time. "Just to remind you, Mrs. Randall, that we still want your patronage."

And what a big part that church edifice had played in his life, Joel thought; in his, Bill's and Aunt Sallie's. He could remember how Bill had looked in the infant class. Hair slicked down, cheeks pink and shining, a small boy who was a bit too eager to show how well he could answer questions. Dramatizing the story of Daniel in lions' den, putting an amazing lot of color into the one about David and his slingshot. Even that far back, Bill had possessed story telling ability. And how the small girls had admired him! Big-eyed, handsome, sure of himself; a pocket edition Adonis; an abridged edition of Romeo; a miniature Sir Galahad!

The church plays, the Christmas cantatas, the Sunday School picnics, with Bill growing handsomer all the time, and more popular; being the hero of the plays, the most outstanding angel in the cantatas, and the life of the party at the picnics. Selling his first story, the one about life in a small-town church, and getting written up in the local paper. Winning a scenario writing contest, with a yarn about a string of pearls hidden in a church choir, depositing his thousand - dollar check in the First National Bank of Ardendale, and getting written up again; this time on the front page with headlines. Then the trip to South America, a trip made possible by part of the thousand dollars. "You can invest all you've got in the Randall Mills," he'd said to Joel, but I'm going to see the world. Besides, I've got to get material for my next story. I can't go on forever writing about churches and small towns." And the return to Ardendale, the homecoming of the popular hero. And always the girls. Little, big, pretty, adoring; even the homely ones, dying to win a smile from the handsome home-town boy, and being a little pathetic when Bill forgot to notice them.

And now the church again.

It was the setting for William Randall Latham's marriage to Rita Linwood. More color, more drama, more headlines in the paper. Bill, with gay banners flying, doing everything to the flare of trumpets. Or so it seemed to Joel. He found himself wondering just how Bill would take a setback of some sort, just how he would act if the banners were suddenly not there, nor the trumpets. But he would probably never know, since Bill appear to be the sort of chap who went through life on wings of glamor and excitement. And — Joel grinned to himself as he thought this—and once he, Aunt Sallie and Uncle John had been afraid that Bill would always be a sad and forlorn sort of person—morose, even maladjusted—because of the tragic death of his parents. They had been afraid that event would leave an indelible mark upon the life of William Randall Latham. How wrong they had been! How very, very wrong!

Joel slowed down the car as he reached the church, peering about for a parking space. It was practically impossible to find one. Every available inch of space seemed to have been taken. However, he finally squeezed his car in between Judge Powers' antique electric which Bill had nicknamed "Creeping Paralysis", and Mrs. Mayhew's awe-inspiring Rools-Royce. Then he jumped out to open the door for Aunt Sallie. As he did so he remembered something else Bill had said. It was about Mrs. Mayhew's car. "Sure, it's a Rolls," he had said, "but it's not an English one. British cars all have a right-hand drive." His hearers had been impressed, just as Bill had known they would be.

City May Oppose Abandoning G.N. Passenger Run

Notice that an application for abandonment of Great Northern Railway passenger trains between Nelson and Waneta would be heard in the next Western trip of the Board of Railway Commissioners, reached the City Council Tuesday night in a letter from the Board secretary.

The Council directed Mayor N. C. Gibbs and City Clerk W. E. Wasson to interview C. B. Garland, City solicitor, and ascertain the cost of preparing a brief and presenting it to the Board.

Ald. E. A. Mann expressed the opinion that the railway company was deliberately discouraging passenger traffic on the line in order to be able to appear before the Board and state there was no traffic. He described the rolling stock as "dreadful" and said "long, unnecessary delays" were "meant to discourage traffic."

District Meeting of Soroptimists to Hear International President

Nelson Proposal to Abandon Regional Meet Adopted

A joint meeting of Trail, Rossland and Nelson Soroptimist Clubs to greet International President Jean Bennett when she visits the West early in June is proposed. The Nelson Club, meeting Tuesday night at the home of Miss Jean Gilker discussed the projected visit. Definite plans were left to a later meeting.

The Program Committee, outlining forthcoming meetings, anticipated having Mrs. Rex Eaton of the Trade Schools Regulation Office, Vancouver, at a May meeting to discuss "Women in Employment". Another entertainment anticipated was the showing of a patriotic sound film, "On Guard For Thee".

DIVERT FUNDS TO CANTEEN

Recommendation of the Nelson Club that the Western Regional Conference scheduled this year should be abandoned, since it was not an election year and the money required could be used to better advantage, had been indorsed by practically all clubs in the Region, it was reported. The next conference will be held in Edmonton in 1942.

The Club indorsed the plan of the Western Region to transfer some of the money which would have been used for the conference to the mobile canteen fund. Some of the fees previously sent to the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, which by agreement of the International Federation have been suspended for the duration of the war, would also be diverted to the canteen fund, it was indicated. The money from these two sources would provide a substantial start for the next Soroptimist war effort.

PARADE OPENS WAR SERVICES DRIVE AT CRESTON

CRESTON, B. C. — All points in the Kootenay Lake-Creston-Kitchener area were receiving careful attention from a group of about 40 canvassers on the rounds on behalf of the Canadian War Services Fund drive in an effort to reach an objective of $2000 by the end of the week.

As yet but incomplete returns are to hand from rural centres. Those available indicate the drive is being fairly well received. Canvass of the village also indicates a fairly generous response, although not quite up to expectations in the business section.

The Legion got the drive off to an official start on Monday night when the High School Band, Bugle Band and High School Cadets paraded downtown as well as part of the residential area, with proceedings terminating at the High School Auditorium where the boys and girls High School basketball teams played all-star squads recruited from Commercial League teams, the receipts going as part of the Legion contribution to the drive.

Facts About Poland Make the Blood Boil

Many poignant facts regarding the deliberate and ruthless policy of repression and reduction of the Polish race by the Nazis are given by the Canadian Friends of Poland, in a statement from Ottawa, facts stated to have reached Canada through the Vatican from reliable sources in unhappy Poland. Some of them make the blood boil.

As an example of what may happen to any Polish community, it is stated that on Oct. 13 last the Germans, in a sudden sweep, deported more than 2000 people from Wieliczka, a famous salt mining town, to a Southern district. These poor victims were given only one hour's time to get ready, and were allowed to take with them only 50 pounds of personal belongings each. The rest of their property had to be left behind for the Germans imported from the Soviet-occupied districts. Physical resistance at being thrown out of their homes and property, for the benefit of German usurpers, brought down cruel maltreatment from the German police as an added woe.

In the first days of December, the Germans deported from Wielun, to already over-populated Warsaw, 500 cripples and old people, the inmates of a huge old folks and cripples' home, and confiscated the equipment and removed it to Germany. The helpless victims were thrown out without any protection and assistance, and became an added burden on the already overburned Warsaw relief.

From the Western part of Poland, about 24,000 workers were deported to Krakow—about 17,000 of them being from Poznan and 7,000 from Silesia. The majority of them, according to the information received by the Friends of Poland in Canada, are suffering the worst hardships, many of them in destitution as to clothing and the most simple and necessary furniture.

But the concentration camps represent the highest flowering of the Nazi or Hitlerian conception.

"In the German concentration camps," says the summary issued by the Polish organization in Canada, "there are around 200,000 Poles, including women. Seven thousand of them are in the camps of Dachau. One of the most dreaded of the camps, a camp where the Germans use the worst kind of tortures, is in Oswiecim. This camp is complete with crematorium, where they burn at least 100 bodies a week. Those are the bodies of people who are literally tortured to death. A hundred new victims are brought in weekly."

How anyone anywhere can advocate appeasement of the unspeakable Nazi regime, is one of the mysteries of the day.

Certainly, in every land under the Nazi heel, a rage is being bred that, when it is the turn of the Nazi armies to be hard pressed, will cause the oppressed peoples to rise, at whatever cost, to speed the destruction of the unspeakable Teuton.

Words of Wisdom

"How" said one to Sir Walter Raleigh, of whom it was said he "could toil terribly,"—"how do you accomplish so much, and in so short a time?" "When I have anything to do, I go and do it," was the reply.

Tannic Acid Not So Successful

In the past several months opportunities for testing the tannic acid treatment of burns have been only too abundant, says the magazine Nature and the method, which was highly commended at the start of the war, has not emerged from the tests so successfully as had been expected.

The Minister of Health recently stated in the British Commons that tannic acid is not satisfactory for certain types of burns and more definite statements had previously been made by authoritative speakers in the course of discussion at a meeting of the Royal Society of Medicine. Thus, Rear-Admiral C. P. G. Wakeley said that no tannic acid preparation must be used on burns of the hands or face, and he gave ample reasons for this opinion.

A. M. McIndoe said the local treatment of war cases has shown that coagulation treatment, especially by tannic acid, has been carried too far. So overwhelming is the evidence that this method is fraught with great danger when applied to burns of the hands and face, that first-aid posts have been officially instructed not to use tannic acid in the treatment of them.

This charges includes driver's fare. Each additional passenger pays 25 cents.

W. M., Natal—I made an income of $1100 in 1940. I am a single person. Do I have to pay National Defence Tax on $1100 or $500? Is there an exemption of $800 for a single person under the National Defence Tax?

Vancouver Technical School, Vancouver. War emergency training in defence industries is also to be instituted in Nelson shortly. Apply B. B. Clark, Nelson Junior High School, Nelson.

S. K. M., Rossland—Could you please tell me where I could have an American penny dated 1889 valued and where old coins may be sold; also where I could obtain information on the value of stamps?

Write R. A. Wilson, La Tujera Station, Los Angeles, for coin valuations and Philatelic Research Laboratories Inc., 394 Park Avenue, New York, for stamps.

E. N., Creston—Are German prisoners in Canada receiving any pay besides their board and clothing?

"Under the terms of the International Convention Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War, ratified by the Dominion of Canada on February 20, 1933 and agreed to by some 39 of the various powers and states. Article 23 provides that officers who are prisoners of war shall receive certain pay. This is paid by the detaining power and recovered from the government in whose service the officers belong. From this pay the officers shall pay for their clothing and their food. There is actually no cash transactions, the money being placed to the credit of their accounts, against which they receive camp token money or make camp purchases which are subsequently paid for through their accounts. They receive pay according to their rank, based on the German rates of pay in Reichsmarks, converted into sterling at a rate agreed on by the governments of the United Kingdom and Germany, in accordance with Article 23 of the Convention. The rate of conversion from sterling to Canadian currency is that set by the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

"All these questions are governed by international law and the observance of that law by the enemy, as well as by ourselves, is insured by bi-monthly inspections made of all internment camps in Canada and in Germany by the protecting powers.

"It must be remembered that British officers in Germany are also receiving their pay from the German authorities and the same is recoverable from the British Government. Furthermore it must be remembered for every German officer in Canada, there are, probably, four British officers held in Germany, and the various people who suggest ill-treatment of these officers do not realize that such ill-treatment would provide an excuse for ill-treating many times the number of British officers held in Germany.

"The International Convention Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War is one of the few international laws relating to warfare which is, at least to some extent, being adhered to in the present conflict, possibly because its Articles provide for the employment of a protecting power to ensure its enforcement, and possibly because the matters with which it deals provide a practical means of retaliation in the event of non-observance."

Etiquette Hints

If you ask your girl friend what she would like to do on a certain evening, and she answers: "Anything you would" give her an idea of what you would like to do or how much you can afford to spend, and let her choose. Then you can't later accuse her of gold-digging or of not having ideas.

UNITED

"We are one family of British-speaking people, and when the family fights, every one chips in."—Prime Minister Menzies of Australia.

There's a War on

One way the British Columbia Government could have redeemed itself for the pitiful spectacle of its performance at Ottawa on the occasion of the conference on Dominion-Provincial relations would have been to show some war-time, war-conscious leadership. What has the British Columbia Government done to help along the war effort since the war began in any practical form?

It is one thing to give voice to expression of loyalty and patriotism. It is quite another thing to put a check-rein on political ambitions, to refrain from stirring up controversy on non-war questions, to abstain from the claptrap of petty talk-fests on once important but now, in comparison with the immediate necessity of winning the war, trivial issues.

Surely it is not too much at this time when other Canadians are sacrificing so much, to ask Provincial politicians to put aside all these things and cooperate to the utmost in positive word and deed in bringing the main task confronting the Empire to a successful issue.

What is the wartime record of the B. C. Government?

It has boosted its budget to record proportions.

It has, through its premier, helped to wreck the Dominion-Provincial Conference upon which thoughtful Canadians had based their hopes of a rationalization of the intolerable overlapping of Government charges and Government services in Canada.

It has told the people that all the expenses that were piled on in peace-time to make B. C. an "advanced" Province are going to be retained and that taxes must be levied accordingly.

It has been pouring out money on the drilling of a wildcat oil well in an area far removed from transportation facilities.

Premier Pattullo on occasion gives utterance to stout words of undying patriotism, but words don't win wars unless they are as heartening as those of Churchill and those of Roosevelt and unless they are backed by deeds.

Little indication has been given by Premier Pattullo that in this time of stress he thinks of more than his political future. His main concern seems to be the predicament he faced on returning from Ottawa after putting that same political future in jeopardy by doing his bit along with Aberhart of Alberta and Hepburn of Ontario, to kill the conference which but for this "unholy alliance" might have gone far to put Canada's house in order for greater results in the Dominion's war effort.

Some sign from Victoria of economy, some token of a lessened B. C. burden on the taxpayer with the object of making it easier for him to pay the war obligations would be welcomed by the electorate of British Columbia.

Dust of Gold

"I was glad when they said unto me, 'Let us go into the House of the Lord.'"
Psalm 122:1.

I found the following written in the margin of James B. Stirling's old Bible. "The joy of Divine worship is enhanced when shared by others. Its greatest joys are experience in the sanctuary. The worship in the Church on earth fits us for worship in the church above. Great spiritual loss is experienced by neglecting the sanctuary."

The whole of Psalm 122 is particularly suited to our present needs. Verse six says "Pray for the peace of Jerusalem," and in the margin is written, "It is the duty of Christians to promote by prayer and every other means, all that tends to universal and permanent peace." The word 'universal' interests me. Could J. B. Stirling have possibly forseen the calamity which has fallen on us today?

Many in England and in France are returning to the House of the Lord and finding what they need. What are you doing?

WHAT NAZIS WOULD DO TO BRITISH PEOPLE

I told you last week how the Germans intended to make us slaves if they conquered us. Some foolish people who do not understand the Germans doubt that.

Let them ponder over this. I was sent to me last week by a British general. It is a note of what was said to him not so very long ago by an active Nazi agent operating in a country which has since fallen to Germany.

"As soon as we beat England we shall make an end of you English once and for all. Able-bodied men and women will be exported as slaves to the continent. The old and weak will be exterminated.

"All men remaining in Britain—as slaves—will be sterilized. A million or two of the young women of the Nordic type will be segregated in a number of stud farms, where, with the assistance of picked German sires, they will during a period of 10 or 12 years produce nearly annually a series of Nordic infants to be brought up as Germans.

"These infants will form the future population of Britain. They will be partially educated in Germany and only those who fully satisfy Nazi requirements will be allowed to return to Britain and take up permanent residence. The rest will be sterilized and sent to join the slave gangs in Germany. Thus in a generation or two the British will disappear."

You may think no nation would do this—not even Germany. But remember it is being done in Poland today.

Every German you leave alive if an invasion comes brings you a shade nearer such a Nazi paradise.—Writer in London Daily Express.

WHY THEY FIGHT

The more surely our people grasp what they are fighting for, the better armored will they be against the strain and monotony of the struggle. And what are they fighting for? To preserve the British Commonwealth as it stood on September 3, 1939? For the right to resume life precisely as they lived it before Hitler challenged their right to exist? Will they be content, as compensation for this fearful upheaval in their lives, with a peace that merely puts the clock back, with a "Cease fire" that signifies "As you were?"

Not so. They want to forge a new order, for mankind in the furnaces of war. They expect its flames to consume not only Hitlerism, but all the social and international evils of which Hitlerism is the outcome and penalty. They want to end nationalistic prejudice and conspiratorial diplomacy. They want to end the exploitation of armaments for private gain. They want to end economic oppression of states and individuals. They want to end slums, poverty and every injustice of the old world.

Wrestling tanks through snow-drifts comes natural to many of the tank men, who were formerly "cat-skinners" on the tractor trains of the Arctic.

rnie Bonham Is Counted On as the Ace of 1941 Yankees' Mound Staff

anks May Have Won in '40 if He Had Played All Year

"Two National League clubs will counting strongly on a couple of nkee cast-offs this year—the Reds th Monte Pearson and the Giants th Bump Hadley. In the Yanks' yday they were good men for the adium forces, and they may be od men again," writes James hn in The New York Sun.

"There is a lot of usefulness left each, and the Yanks were aware it when they cut them adrift, t the encouragement which enled the McCarthymen to weed out ese older flippers was provided incipally by the one young rightnder they expect more from this ar than from any other hurler the staff—Ernie Bonham.

"Even at this early date, Bonm is expected to prove one of e pitching standbys of the Yanks as they go charging after anher pennant. In the short space a month and a half last year he inched a regular starting turn for mself. It is not extravagant to say at Bonham, a husky and eager ungster of twenty-six, well may ecome the right-handed wheelrse of the staff, taking that burden way from the veteran Charley affing.

"It is an odd thing that in a few onths Bonham changed the conete Yankee estimate of his ability. the Spring training camp of last asn he was not too impressive, e had promise, but he wasn't considered ready, and he was sent to nsas City for further seasoning. is conceivable now that had he uck with the Yanks they might ve won the pennant.

ONHAM'S QUICK RISE

"At any rate, when the pitching tuation late in the season demand- that another flipper be drawn from the farm, Bonham reported d proved immediately that he was major leaguer. He not only proted the Yanks right into the midst the pennant scramble, but in the st dramatic single game they yed last year, outpitched Bobby eller and for a brief moment lift- them into first place.

"This may be a significant sign—t the only time the Yanks could ve laid claim to first place last ar, Bonham put them there. He t Feller, and the Yanks were on p; but by the time the Tigers finhed playing the second half of a uble-header, they were back in e lead. It was a matter of minutes at the Yanks were first, but they were there, and Bonham put them there.

"Joe McCarthy was tremendously impressed with the big black haired righthander and the way he went about doing his job. It was no accident that Bonham was thrown in against Feller in the biggest single game the Yanks had to play. He had proved previously that he could pitch well enough, but Joe has a way of seeing how lads do when the pressure is most severe. It never was more arduous than when Bonham went up against the Tribe's fireball artist in the Cleveland Stadium with first place at stake and fruit flying all around.

BEST RECORD IN LEAGUE

"Bonham made the grade, as a pitcher and as a heart specialist, and he went on from there to compile in his short time the best record of any pitcher in the league. He wound up with an earned run average of 1.91 for twelve games, all but two of them complete.

"Of those 12 games he won nine, three of them by shutouts. Those nine victories he turned in made a close race of it, which kept the Yanks in the running until the last week. He was the shot in the arm they needed for their garrison finish.

"So, in letting Pearson and Hadley go, the Yanks knew they had Bonham. He will be beginning only his first full year as a Yankee when the gong rings this April, but he already has his work cut out for him. He's a regular starter, with the responsibility of keeping the Yanks up on top as well as he did last Fall."

Baseball's Boy Wonders Lacking

TAMPA, Fla. (CP)—Where are baseball's boy wonders this Spring?

No one seems to know just why but there is a noticeable absence of kid marvels at the sun-baked major league training camps.

Perhaps the most spectacular of all the boy wonders of recruit years was Bob Feller who was only 17 when he made his first Spring training trip with the Indians.

NO KID STARS

This Spring there's not a single new kid star. There are about two dozen youngsters no older than 21 and some are good enough to stick in the majors but there's not a single headliner in the group.

The one you may hear most about this year is Hal Reiser, who may play centre field for the Brooklyn Dodgers. And Hall is not really a newcomer. He made the Spring trip with the Dodgers two years ago. Hal is just 21.

Another young Dodger who should win some games this Summer is Pitcher Ed Head, who copped a dozen for Elmira last season. Head, a six foot one righthander, is 21.

The Cardinals have a good looking chap in Matt Surkont, a pitcher who won 19 for Decatur in 1940. Dick Conger, a 20 year old who had a trial with Detroit last Spring, is trying to catch on with the Pirates. The Cubs have a kid named Herb Chmiel, 20, who is getting a chance on the strength of three no hit games he pitched for Lane Tech in Chicago.

When Boston Bruins defeated the New York Rangers in a seven-game playoff series in 1939, they played a combined total of 553 min. 8 seconds for a record. Four games went overtime.

Greg Rice Unfit for Army Service

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 26 (AP)—Just four days after running the fastest two miles in history, Joseph Gregory Rice of Missoula, Mont., was declared physically unfit for today for military service.

Selective Service Board physicians who examined Rice said he had a triple hernia.

Rice's 8:51.1 performance in the two-mile run at the Chicago relays last Saturday stands as the fastest time ever made for that distance.

Scodellaro Sets Fine Goaltending Mark in Playoffs

The fine goaltending of Duke Scodellaro, who has been beaten by only five shots in Trail Smoke Eaters' five playoff contests so far this Spring has set a new mark in Alberta and Kootenay hockey circles for the season.

Since Ralph Redding scored halfway through the second game of the Kimberley-Trail series on a breakaway, Scodellaro went through 169 minutes and 45 seconds of shutout hockey before Doug French finally scored on him in the second period of the second Trail-Lethbridge game in Lethbridge Tuesday night.

Between those two goals, the "Duke" manufactured his first two shutouts of the season.

Scodellaro's current opponent, Handy-Andy Young of the Leafs, wasn't far behind though, his scoreless record reaching only 94½ minutes short of Scodellaro's performance before Buckna notched one of the Smoke Eaters' famous goals they invariably dig up while shorthanded themselves. Young also boasted two shutouts in succession, his second and third of the season.

FIRST AGAINST TRAIL

Incidentally, that 0-0 draw at Trail in the opening game of the series was the first time of the season that the powerful Smokies have been blanked. The best previous scoreless goaltending was Jess Seaby's string of 138 minutes and 34 seconds during Nelson's Alberta tour.

While on the subject of firsts, Tuesday's 3-1 beating at the hands of the Smokies was the first for the Leafs on their home ice since Feb. 5 when they absorbed a 4-2 defeat from Edmonton.

Tonight the Leafs and Smoke Eaters resume their series at Calgary. A win tonight for the Smokies would move them into the position where they would need only a tie Saturday to capture the series and advance against either Regina or Port Arthur. On the other hand, a victory for Lethbridge would square the series again.

Detroit Favored to Take Chicago

DETROIT, March 26 (CP)—Their youthful players brimful of confidence after eliminating the champions, Detroit Red Wings found themselves favorites tonight to knock out Chicago Black Hawks in the Stanley Cup semi-final series that opens here tomorrow.

This year's playoffs seem to prove the old adage of the value of home ice—in nine games so far only one, Toronto's 5-3 victory at Boston last Saturday, has been won by the visitors. Hence Detroit, who plays here tomorrow, at Chicago Sunday and here again Tuesday if a third game is necessary, is favored to advance into the Cup final.

The Wings' success against the Rangers showed that Manager Jack Adams finally has achieved the reorganization that he was forced to begin when his Cup-winning team of 1936-37 and 35-36 came apart in 1937-38.

Since then he has rebuilt until only three players, Capt. Ebbie Goodfellow, Left Wing Syd Howe and Right Wing Modere Bruneteau, are left of those Stanley Cup heroes.

Manager Paul Thompson said in Chicago that he hopes to have his injured forwards, Bill Thoms and Bill Carse, available for Sunday's game.

Winnipeg Juniors in Two-Game Lead

WINNIPEG, March 26 (CP) — Baldy Northcott's big and fast Winnipeg Rangers went on a scoring spree tonight to smash the weakened Port Arthur Juniors by a 9-1 count and take a two-game lead in their Western Canada junior hockey best-of-five semi-final series. Rangers won the first encounter 6-3 and the third will be played here Friday night.

The Kendall Memorial Trophy, posted by Elmer Ferguson, Montreal Sports Editor, was won six out of 11 times by Les Canadiens against Maroons in intra-city competition. The series was suspended after the Maroons dropped out from N.H.L. competition in 1938-39.

Trail Favored to Take Lethbridge Calgary Tonight

CALGARY, March 26 (CP) — A crowd of over 5000 is assured for the third game of the best-of-five Allan Cup inter-provincial elimination series to be played at the Arena Thursday night between Trail Smoke Eaters and Lethbridge Maple Leafs.

Smoke Eaters who were held to a draw in the first game on their own ice, and turned in a 3-1 victory during the second game at Lethbridge, arrived in the city this afternoon and limbered up during a light workout at the Arena.

There were 16 in the Trail party, 14 players, Manager Dave Buchanan and Trainer Bert Repton.

By their victory at Lethbridge, Smoke Eaters have been installed favorites.

Fourth game of the playoff will be in Calgary Saturday night when it is expected that the attendance record of 6095 will be shattered.

Cowley Returns to Wars Tonight

TORONTO, March 26 (CP)—The day Sylvanus Apps slipped away from his doctor's care to demoralize Boston ranks sickened the Bruins the last time out but they shook off some of the nausea today when it was learned that their own great playmaker—Bill Cowley—will return to the Stanley Cup wars here tomorrow night.

Scoring champion of the National Hockey League and arch rival of Apps for the honor of being the game's greatest centre, Cowley nursed his injured knee on the sidelines last night as Syl led the Toronto Maple Leafs to a 7-2 victory over the Bruins.

Manager Art Ross said that Cowley and Bobby Bauer, clever little right winger who suffered a foot cut about the same time as Cowley hurt his knee in the opening series game, both skated today and were declared ready to take their turns in the Boston cause. Bauer was used last night but his foot bothered him.

"Cowley may be only 50 per cent efficient but even that should help a lot," said Ross.

Coach Hap Day plans no Toronto lineup changes.

Cards' Power Is Missing Quantity

(By The Canadian Press)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26 (CP)—President Ed Barrow of the New York Yankees asked Baseball Commissioner Landis for permission to cut several youngsters off the squad before April 1, the date set by the rules, but Landis refused. So the boys will get to go as far as San Antonio, Tex., on the club's barnstorming tour before being shipped back to Sebring or Lake Wales, where the Newark and Kansas City farm teams train.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The St. Louis Cardinals, who break camp tomorrow, are wondering what's happened to their sluggers. In yesterday's 3-1 triumph over Cleveland, they produced only three hits — none by Sluggers Johnny Mize, Terry Moore or Enos Slaughter. The biggest disappointment is Harry Walker, the colorful young outfielder, who remains in the lineup although he's made only one hit in his last 19 times at bat.

CHARLOTTETOWN, March 26 (CP)—The Memorial Cup playdown series between Ottawa Canadiens and Charlottetown Royals has been awarded to Ottawa, Hanson Dowell, Vice-President of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced tonight after Canadiens had taken a lop-sided 12-3 win in the first game.

Canadiens, thrown into the second round of playdowns through the decision, will leave here tomorrow for Montreal, where they meet Royals of that city.

Pro Emphasizes Golf Putting Practices

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (CP)—If you would take a tip from Horton Smith, credited by fellow pros as the best putter in golf, make sure you can sink a three-foot putt before trying to hole out from 30 feet. Smith always practices on the short one first.

"Before starting a tournament round, I usually drop several new balls three or four feet from the cup and try to stroke them in from all directions. When I feel I have the proper touch, I may drop back to ten feet or farther.

"The closer you are to the cup the less is the margin for error. As you putt from three it is usually our accuracy that sends the ball into the cup. Farther away, other factors may enter in—such as the roll or the grain of the green.

Smith considers putting the most important single factor in golf.

KANSAS CITY, ST. LOUIS GAMES BEGIN TONIGHT

ST. PAUL, March 26 (AP) — George Higgins, President of the American Hockey Association, announced today the final championship series playoff between Kansas City and St. Louis will open Thursday night at Kansas City followed by another game there March 30.

The championship will be decided on a three-of-five game basis.

Joe Benoit Current Leader in Playoff Goal-Scoring Parade

When Joe Benoit completed his hockey playing for the season Tuesday night as Canadiens went down to Chicago in a third and deciding game, the former Smoke Eater was leading the pack in the N.H.L. playoff scoring parade.

He scored four goals, one more than Nick Metz, Cully Dahlstrom, Syl Apps, and Eddie Wiseman. He ranked third in the point-getting with four points, two behind Nick Metz and one back of Dahlstrom.

THREE BOXING TITLES VACANT

EDMONTON, March 26 (CP)—Three of seven Western Canada professional boxing titles have been declared vacant by the Western Canada Boxing and Wrestling Federation according to a list of titleholders and contenders issued here tonight.

Ratings showed the following as titleholders:

Heavyweight — Eddie Wenstob, Edmonton, Alta.

Featherweight—Jimmy Chapman, Vancouver, B.C.

Lightweight — Gordon Thomson, Black Diamond, Alta.

Middleweight — Paul Dyzandra, Winnipeg, Man.

The welterweight title has been declared vacant owing to the former titleholder, Ronnie Beaudin, failing to defend the championship since Dec. 16, 1939.

Recognition will be given the winner of a bout between Chapman and Kenny Lindsay, both of Vancouver, for the bantam title and "Young Tunney" Lust of Medicine Hat, Alta., and Inesay Guild, Strome, Alta., or Chuck Nickason, Vancouver, for the lightheavy championship.

Alice Thinks Tour Thrilling

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (CP)—Alice Marble thinks "Alice in Wonderland" was written with her in mind.

"It's fun," she said of the professional tour that is taking her places she couldn't afford as an amateur and bringing her an expected bank balance of $25,000.

"Just think of it, I get played for playing. With the money I am going to Hollywood for voice training. Singing, radio or concert, definitely is to be my career."

Any complaints? "No. Only one mild protest. So often we play in halls where the air is half smoke. And how that combination can burn your lungs in a three-set match. If the smokers pay to see us play, though, I guess it's not so bad," said she of the show girl's build, the crooning voice and the short shorts.

To combat those hours in the smoke, Miss Marble takes long walks, the only variation from the training routine she used in climbing to the amateur top.

STILL THRILLING

She still insists on 10 hours of rest out of every 24 and her tour was arranged to allow that schedule. Coming here from St. Louis, however, ice-covered roads and snow cost her all but one-and-a half hours of sleep.

"And now ask me whether I still get a thrill out of stepping onto a court. The answer is 'yes.' Tennis is tennis."

The troupe carries its own court, and the lighting in the various auditoriums all have been good — "But I'd still take sunshine for mine if it could be arranged."

Playing conditions indoors are almost identical with those found outdoors except that the balls bounce faster and lower, she says.

Reception of Miss Marble and the others in the troupe has been such that when the tour ends in May she may receive well above the $25,000 promised her. Her contract also gives her a percentage of the gate receipts.

1st Division Wins Boxing Championship

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 26 (CP Cable)—Members of the 1st Division boxing team were crowned champions of the Canadian Army overseas today as they punched their way to victories in 12 of their 15 bouts against the base-holding units of the biggest arena in the vicinity.

In the first major boxing competition since the Canadian Corps was formed, the 1st Division entered the finals by defeating the corps troops. The base-holding units became finalists by knocking over the 2nd Division's boxing team.

SHEEP GRAZING CAUSING GAME FOOD SHORTAGE

KIMBERLEY, B.C., March 26 — (CP).—Grazing of domestic sheep is causing a shortage of feed for game in some of the best game country of the Southeastern interior, Game Warden Alex F. Sinclair, of Invermere, told the annual meeting of the Rod and Gun Club here. He said game would not locate where sheep had been grazed.

Mr. Sinclair said the extended season on elk had done no harm and the animals are as plentiful as ever. He recommended an open season on pheasant providing the Game Department would send in pheasants for liberation.

H. C. Robinson, Supervisor of Game Fishing in the Interior, said fishing had increased because of the planting of fingerlings, an improvement over planting of eggs and fry. He recommended the prohibition of use of live bait.

E. T. Cooper, fish hatchery manager for the Cranbrook Rod and Gun Club, reported planting 22,300 fingerlings in Premier Lake last year with a bigger consignment planned for this year.

G. D. Martin was named President at the meeting, Ray Armstrong, Vice-President; Harry Almack, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer; and Executive Committee, Storm Maariman, C. J. Garrosaino, Frank Skribe, James Fulton, G. G. Show, C. A. Foote, Murray Helisson, A. K. Bond, Arthur Bryant and Jack Dean.

Trail Tigers to Meet Smart Team at Lethbridge

By DICK MATTHEWS
In The Lethbridge Herald

While overshadowed by the fanfare accompanying the Allan Cup playdowns, feat of the L. J. H. A. juniors in brushing aside all opposition to capture the Alberta junior "B" title marks a major step in the development of this city as a hockey centre.

When Ab Holt's smooth-working homesters completed their march to the Provincial throne-room it marked the first championship dividend paid off after five years of steady development by teams under the Lethbridge Junior Hockey Association banner.

It was a great night for those members of the Executive who have watched the L. J. H. A. develop from a mewling infant into a husky youngster which is now playing a major part in the city's hockey entertainment.

Manner in which the Lethbridge lads swept through to the championship speaks volumes for the training they received as they came up from L. J. H. A. pee wee, midget and juvenile ranks. There is not a man on the team who did not receive his initial training with the Association's "minor league" teams. Under the guidance of Coach Holt, the players took on a polish which is seldom seen in such youthful pucksters.

On several occasions, notably against Calgary Royals, the team ran into clubs whose lineups contained individually brilliant players. But on each occasion the smooth all-round teamwork of the Lethbridge team proved too much for the opposition. Actually they were never really extended in the junior playoffs. They were forced to display their best hockey against the intermediate clubs with which they competed in the Crow's Nest League. Their feat in not only finishing atop the standings but in capturing the league title in a playoff against Coleman, gave early evidence of their ability.

Now the juniors will entertain Trail Tigers, champions of B. C., in a special total-goals series arranged by the C. A. H. A. to increase interest in the junior "B" division.

Tigers, who in previous years have competed in the Memorial Cup playdowns, are expected to give Holt's team its stiffest opposition of the year. The series, which is scheduled for the local Arena Friday and Saturday, will wind up L. J. H. A. activities for this season.

It is hoped by the Association Executive that Lethbridge fans will support the boys to the extent which they deserve. The kind of hockey which the juniors are serving up should be played to packed houses.

Tiny Thompson a Success as Coach With Team Scrubs

Tiny Thompson was signed to coach Buffalo Bisons for another season and on his showing with a motley collection of puckchasers this season, the four time winner of the Vezina trophy and one of the greatest goaltenders the N.H.L. has ever had, certainly earned that recognition.

Tiny was unexpectedly rushed to retirement last Fall by an announcement that advised him of his appointment as Coach of the new Buffalo Bison entry in the American Hockey League. He caught the first train for Buffalo, interviewed Lou Giffels, new general manager of the Buffalo Auditorium and other Bison officials, accepted terms and then came up for air.

There's no telling what manner of means Thompson used to fashion a presentable American League Club out of fading veterans and discards from other minor units. On paper the Buffalo club that started the 1940-41 season didn't look good enough to keep company with senior talent. It didn't take much to change that opinion in the early weeks of the schedule. Yet Thompson brought the club along in turn in a smart first season as a coach.

A Gay Crisp Dress for Tots

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9680

Half the fun of having a little daughter is in making pretty clothes for her to wear. You'll really enjoy stitching up this Marian Martin dress from Pattern 9680—one of the simplest-to-follow patterns you've ever used. There's buoyant novelty in the way that front bodice panel smoothly curves down into a waistband. The sash ties into a big crisp bow in back, where a buttoning goes from neck to waist. Though just short puffed sleeves are shown, there's a long, full style too. Isn't contrast gay for the little collar, the sleeves and the back and side-front bodice sections? Add button trim for a final newsy touch—and order this pattern today!

Pattern 9680 may be ordered only in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10. Size 6, dress with contrast, requires 1½ yards 35 inch fabric and ⅝ yard contrast; dress all one, 2 1-8 yards 35 inch fabric.

Send twenty cents for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name and address, and style number.

Send your order to The Daily News, Pattern Department Nelson.

Start Vegetable Garden Early

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Many people working in stores, factories and offices are planning this year for the first time to devote mornings, evenings and weekends to raising vegetables in their own garden, on vacant lots available or with community groups.

The first important step is to plan the vegetable garden on paper. The second important step is to plan early.

Vegetables like tomatoes, eggplants, cauliflower, early cabbage, early celery and peppers can be started in a hotbed or indoors, in flats, while the ground is still too cold to plant outdoors.

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, a basement or kitchen window where there is a reasonable amount of sunlight will prove satisfactory.

Do not secure the flat too tightly to the window so that it cannot be easily moved about. As the light comes from just one side, the seedling plants will grow in that direction and become crooked unless the flat is turned around frequently enough to keep the seedlings growing straight.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

COVERING ALL YOU CAN

SOMETIMES your bidding cannot cover every possible holding which your partner might have, judging from his earlier bidding. There are times when you have to guess the most probable situation, especially if the opponents have crowded you. But there are many times when you can bid so that you protect the side, no matter what type of hand your partner has to cause the bidding he already has done.

North: ♠ K 5 4 3 ♥ J 2 ♦ Q 9 4 3 ♣ A 10 2

West: ♠ J 9 7 6 ♥ 10 6 4 ♦ K J 8 5 ♣ Q 5

East: ♠ 10 8 ♥ K 9 7 5 3 ♦ A 7 2 ♣ K 7 3

South: ♠ A Q 2 ♥ A Q 8 ♦ 10 6 ♣ J 9 8 6 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	Pass
1 ♣	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 NT

It was a shame to see that hand passed out short of game, especially since North took ten tricks, one more than enough for a No Trump game. He was inclined to upbraid South for not going on to 3-No Trumps, since his own bidding might have indicated a hand just below sufficient strength to bid 2-No Trumps as his first response. South in turn blamed North for the lost opportunity.

After discussing the various possibilities, including that of a 1-spade response by North to the opener, they agreed that a better first response would have been 1-Diamond. From North's standpoint, that would have made it easy for South to show a heart suit. It also would have told South the side had something in diamonds if South had to know it to bid No Trumps without worry. The latter is what South would have done—bid 1-No Trump on his second turn.

North then could have bid 2-Spades. Besides showing the very fair strength of his hand, this would have covered the possibility of South holding perhaps four of the suit headed by the Q or J-10. In that event, the side could go on in spades. Actually after 2-Spades South could easily have bid 3-No Trumps or, if he bid only two, North could have lifted him then the rest of the way. The beauty of suit bids, instead of No Trump ones in such cases, is that you show the location of your stoppers, not merely the fact that you hold some.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ Q 9 8 6 ♥ None ♦ Q J 10 8 5 3 ♣ K 8 6

West: ♠ K ♥ A J 10 6 4 2 ♦ A 9 7 6 4 ♣ 7

East: ♠ J 7 4 3 ♥ K 8 7 ♦ K 2 ♣ Q 5 3 2

South: ♠ A 10 5 2 ♥ Q 9 5 3 ♦ None ♣ A J 10 9 4

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

If West's strong bidding of hearts and diamonds shows a 6-5 distribution in those suits, and he then leads the diamond A, how should South plan to make his contract of 5-Spades on this deal?

Halifax Says U. S. Armaments Will Shorten Conflict

By J. F. SANDERSON (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, March 26 (CP). — The United States and the nations of the British Commonwealth will be the rallying point around which the new post-war economic order will be built, Lord Halifax predicted here today.

At a press conference, the British Ambassador to United States declared Britain is willing to fight 20 years if necessary to defeat the Axis but he did not believe it would take anything like that long in view of the increasing flow of American armaments across the Atlantic.

The duration of the war will depend on the flow of armaments from United States, he said.

Under no circumstances will Britain accept a negotiated peace with Germany, said the former Foreign Secretary.

"It would be worth just one-half the paper on which it would be written," he added

Machine Shop Owners Organize Group

VANCOUVER, March 26 (CP).—An organization of small machine shop owners has been organized here under the name of the War Work Co-operation Group of British Columbia pledged to seek more war orders for British Columbia, it was announced today by E. J. Vann, Secretary of the new organization.

The machinists are pledged to permit their shops to be surveyed and their machines inspected and tested. They stand ready to accept war contracts of any type their shops can handle.

Ex-Servicemen Work on Defence Contracts

OTTAWA, March 26 (CP).—Munitions and supply contracts call for employment of "a reasonable number" of ex-servicemen G. K. Sheils, Munitions Department Deputy Minister told the House War Expenditures Committee today.

Mr. Sheils replied to a question by Howard Green (Con.-Vancouver South) and said contractors' attention had been drawn to the clause calling for employment of ex-soldiers.

Henry Borden, K.C., Munitions Department Counsel, said a contract with Anaconda American Brass Ltd., New Toronto, Ont., was originally made with the United Kingdom and subsequently assigned to the Canadian Government. The contract was for construction of a plant for brass production and an operating contract had not been executed yet.

Flax Leads Gains in Winnipeg Pit

WINNIPEG, March 26 (CP).—Led by flax, course grains stole the show on Winnipeg Grain Exchange again today as a wave of general buying swept all coarse grain futures prices to new seasonal highs. The buying exuberance failed to affect wheat futures prices, however, and they closed only ⅛ cent higher, May at 77⅞ and July 78⅝ cents a bushel.

Flax values leaped more than nine cents above the previous close as crushers and investors offered substantial buying orders. Outside support boosted rye prices about a cent, shippers pushed barley quotations up nearly a cent and mills bought enough oats to lift prices more than ½ cents.

Trading in the coarse grain pit was fairly active although a prime factor in the advance was scarcity of offerings in all grains.

In the wheat futures pit, operations were confined to minor purchases by mills, Southern houses and domestic interests.

Roxana Oils Acquires Interest in Marlis; Holdings Are Revised

With cash assets of $2443 accounts receivable $5966 and casing worth $2934, Roxana Oils Co., Ltd., at end of 1940 had currrent liabilities of only $123. In the latter part of 1940 the company acquired a substantial interest in Marlis Development Corporation which owns permits aggregating approximately 30,000 acres 55 miles Northwest of Calgary, J. C. Dallas, President and Managing-Director, in submitting the Roxana statement says it is the intention of the Marlis Company to start drilling in 1941.

Due to the encountering of salt water at 6502 feet in the well drilled by Roxana on its holdings in Kootenay Dome the company has revised its holdings in this area, retaining what directors consider to be well located leases in relation to the McColl-Frontenac well, on the nearby Moose Dome.

Including 4160 acres retained on Kootenay Dome the company at present has a total of 10,374 acres. Besides the Kootenay Dome acreage Roxana has 799 acres in North Turner Valley, 1080 acres in Jumping Pound and 4335 acres in Grease Creek. Large drilling credits as result of past drilling operations, make it possible for the company to retain its present holdings without any cash outlay.

Profits in Sale of New Mine Free of Excess Profits Tax; Will Help Prospectors in Obtaining Backing

Commenting on a new ruling in connection with federal taxation as it affects the mining industry involving exemptions aimed at encouraging prospecting, G. C. Bateman, Metals Controller for Canada and retiring President of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, said:

"This ruling will help in clarifying the whole situation and should have a beneficial effect in helping remove some of the obstacles in the way of prospectors obtaining financial backing."

This comment was made last week at the 45th annual convention in Montreal of the C.I.M.M.

The effect of the ruling is that profits made in finding and developing a new mine and then selling it shall not be subject to income or excess profits tax.

The new ruling was reported to the convention by W. G. Segsworth of Toronto who has been acting for the Institute in negotiations with the Federal Government.

Mr. Segsworth quoted the following ruling:

"Where any person, association or corporation individually or collectively with others directly contributes work, money or other assets to assist in prospecting, exploration or development, and in such prospecting or exploration he or they acquire by staking, purchase or otherwise, mining claims, shares of stock or any other assets which represent the result of prospecting, exploration or development effort conducted by him or them and sell, transfer or dispose of such claims, shares or assets, then the proceeds of the sale, transfer or disposal of such claims, constitute capital and are not subject to income tax or excess profits tax. Such proceeds will likewise not be subject to tax in the hands of members of associations of persons or shareholders of corporations upon the winding up of, or upon a reduction of capital of, the association or corporation."

GEOLOGICAL INVESTIGATIONS

Later the institute adopted a resolution noting with appreciation the growth of provincial geological surveys, and urging frequent consultation between federal and provincial bodies of this nature where this procedure can be helpful. The resolution on this matter added the following:

"This institute believes that the Geological Survey and the Mines Branch at Ottawa should be strengthened and enlarged and should be instructed to proceed at once, in cooperation with the provincial mines department, with a program of geological investigation directed to the assistance in discovery of mineral resources. In the opinion of this institute, such a program should be planned over a period of years, as a cooperative effort and in full consultation with the provinces. This institute is prepared to help in the effort herein proposed to the full extent of the ability of its membership."

WOULD CURTAIL U S. COAL

Another resolution urged the proper authorities at Ottawa to devise ways and means to curtail as much as possible imports of American coal and to replace such imports with coal mined and transported in Canada."

This resolution, brought forward by the Northern Alberta Branch, declared that in addition to encouraging gold production and the development of other metals with we should, as an institute, do what which to obtain American exchange can to encourage the conservation of such exchange by the use of Canadian resources, Canadian transportation facilities and Canadian labor."

Both Dominion and Provincial Governments were asked to consider immedistely the recommendations of the conference, respecting mining, held in Ottawa in January.

As the convention came to a close Prof. W. G. McBride, the new President, commented: "I think this has been one of the best meetings we have ever had. The quality of the papers this year was certainly outstanding and very appropriate and we are very much indebted to those who presented them."

Effect of War Conditions Is Seen in Wholesale Price Advances; Shortages

Effect of war conditions on shipping and supply was reflected during the week in price increases on some products, reported by Nelson wholesalers.

One well-known brand of tea increased over four cents a pound. The adoption of the Lease Lend Bill in the United States had the effect of strengthening the dried fruit market. This was a direct result of the announcement of plans to ship large quantities of these products to Great Britain. Prices quoted on the new supply of raisins and currants, now mostly procured from Australia were also somewhat higher than last season's. Supply of vanilla beans has been hard to procure, the chief source being controlled by the French Government, and it was felt this would likely result in an increase in the price of vanilla extract.

Because of import restrictions on some United States products, housewives will likely have to use all Canadian-made jars for preserving this season. The restriction of imports is a war measure.

One line of tinned shortening advanced and the manufacturer of this had reported the possibility of price increases in soaps and soap powders.

FRESH VEGETABLES MOSTLY IMPORTED

Fresh spinach and asparagus from the United States, and local radishes were available. Spinach was brought in from Walla Walla. While there is still a heavy supply of potatoes locally and some carrots, beets, parsnips and new radishes, most fresh vegetables were still being imported from the States. Tomatoes were still coming in from Mexico.

Following the heavy rains in California practically all fresh vegetables advanced in prices. Head lettuce, cauliflower, celery and cabbage prices were especially effected. It was extremely difficult to obtain mixed shipments from California because of the scarcity of good quality produce, and labor trouble among field workers. The orange market was also strong and two price advances were listed in the last 10 days.

EGGS, MEATS, GRAINS UNCHANGED

Import bonus on eggs that lent strength to the Coast markets, apparently had no effect on the local conditions and prices were unchanged. Meat and milling markets were also steady.

Fertilizers were moving freely, and there was some call for seed potatoes.

Carlot imports included two of oranges, three of fertilizer, and one each of vegetables, flour and feed, seed potatoes, meats and sugar.

Coast Indians Make Clothes for Refugees

VANCOUVER (CP)—It used to be the white man's job to help the Indian—send him food and clothing when the fur catch failed and aid him adjust himself to modern living conditions. Now the process has been reversed.

Accompanied by a note saying "Usually people are helping us; now we can help others not so fortunate as we are," a hamper of clothing has been sent to Vancouver by 18 Indian women of a church circle at Hartley Bay, on the far North coast of British Columbia, to be given needy evacuee children from the United Kingdom.

There are 32 garments in the hamper, beautifully made dresses and underclothing for little girls, knitted garments and socks made by an 11-year-old member of the Junior Red Cross and babies' woolly clothing.

Shaving Mug Back in Barber Shops

LONDON (CP)— Nobody would have believed it possible, but the time has come to drag grandpop's shaving mug from amongst dust and cob web covered antiques, in the attic and whisk it down to the barber shop—they're in style again in war time Britain.

Barbers in London report a shaving boom because of a shortage of razors. Old-time initialled shaving mugs are appearing on shelves. Girls wielding electric razors have been recruited to help meet the rush.

"Three of my oldest customers have brought back the mugs they kept in my shop 25 years ago," said one barber. "They say they cannot be bothered to hunt for blades and come in every morning for a once-over."
