EIGHT MORE PERSONS EXECUTED IN PARIS

Tallin Captured Nazis Claim; Reds Driven Into Sea

Say 32 Ships Sunk; Stubborn Battles Are Reported Along Whole Front; 500 Nazi Planes Shot Down in Week

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (AP).—The Nazis claimed today that a combined land and naval offensive in which 22 Red transports and 10 warships were sunk resulted in capture of Tallinn, Estonia, and its harbor of Paldiski, driving entrapped Russians into the sea and laying Leningrad open to imminent peril from the West.

The fall of long-isolated Tallinn, as claimed by the German High Command, would complete the Nazi conquest of all the Baltic buffer states won by the Russians in the last two years.

It was accompanied, the Germans said, by a fierce and continuing action in the Gulf of Finland against the surviving Russian forces in flight from the flaming city, in dozens of troopships and fighting craft.

German soldiers entering Tallinn said its harbor was a desolate scene—with Russian warships keeling over in the water and the masts of sunken ships showing above the surface. Much of the city, including the chief railroad station, had been burned.

It was claimed by the Germans that apart from 32 Soviet ships destroyed, seven warships, including the 8800-ton cruiser Kirov, were damaged.

Tonight, the Germans claimed that Leningrad was almost completely cut off from the rest of Russia on the land side and the Gulf of Finland had become dangerous to Russia's considerable Baltic fleet, with German planes laying mines and controlling the coast through shore batteries.

MOSCOW, Aug. 30 (Saturday)—(AP).—Soviet Russia said today that the Red army fought stubbornly all day yesterday along the whole Eastern front and that the Red air force had destroyed 500 German planes in one week at a cost of 262 Russian planes.

The midnight communique gave no indication of where the fighting was particularly fierce but earlier reports had said German troops were hurled back from K (probably Kiev, in the Ukraine) in a fierce battle in which the 530th German infantry regiment was destroyed.

The communique said the German planes were shot down or destroyed on the ground between Aug. 21 and 7, indicating extremely heavy aerial activity during the last few days.

The Friday communique which reported the battle around K said the fighting had raged on through Thursday night but it, too, had omitted mention of the sectors of greatest activity.

A special war correspondent of the Moscow radio estimated that in fighting around "K" some 15,000 Germans altogether had been killed and many others wounded or captured.

The communique said that before the latest battle, German troops took up positions in gullies on the outskirts of a nearby village.

"But Lieut.-Col. Popov's men drove the Germans out of the village and converted the gullies into a Nazi graveyard," the communique said.

Red artillery fired point blank into masses of German troops, it was reported.

The communique failed to state specifically whether tremendous tank battles still raged in the Leningrad area but gave some idea of the intensity of the fighting with a statement that one Russian tank unit wiped out 100 German tanks in six days.

Woodward New B.C. Lieut.-Gov.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP)—W. C. Woodward, prominent Vancouver merchant, today was appointed Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia to succeed Hon. E. W. Hamber, whose term of office expired recently.

Final approval of his appointment was given at cabinet council today. Mr. Hamber had agreed to carry on until a successor was named.

Until recently Mr. Woodward has been executive assistant to Munitions Minister C. D. Howe, acting as a "dollar-a-year" man. He travelled to the United Kingdom with Mr. Howe when their steamship, the Western Prince, was torpedoed and was rescued from the sea together with the minister.

Widely known in British Columbia and across Canada, Mr. Woodward had been president of Woodward Stores Ltd., since the death of his father, Charles E. Woodward, founder of the big departmental store business.

Hearings on Dam at Trail, Spokane

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP)—The International Joint Commission will hold hearings at Trail, B.C., and at Spokane, Wash., Sept. 3 and 6 respectively in connection with an application of the United States for approval of construction of the Grand Coulee Dam, it was announced today.

"It was originally thought that this gigantic work, the world's greatest dam, would not back the Columbia across the International Boundary, but more precise engineering studies have convinced the reclamation service of the United States, which is building the dam, that when the dam has been put into operation a lake will be formed above it extending for some little distance into British Columbia, thus requiring the approval of the International Joint Commission," the Canadian section of the Commission said.

"The creation of this artificial lake is one of many indications of the unusual magnitude of the Grand Coulee Dam, as the distance from the dam to the boundary is 151 miles."

Interests which may be affected by the raising of the level of the Columbia River in British Columbia are the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, the City of Trail, the West Kootenay Power & Light Company, and individual land owners along the river between Trail and the Boundary.

About 500 U. S. Tanks Shipped to British

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—On an average, considerably more than half of the United States tank production has been going to Britain under the Lease-Lend program, it was learned today, and the total of light and medium tanks turned over to Britain is about 500.

The ponderous armored fighting machines so far produced in this country fall into two categories—light tanks of about 13 tons and medium tanks of approximately 28 tons; American heavy tank production is not yet under way.

PRAIRIE MEN AT CAMP WILL BE QUARANTINED

NANAIMO B. C., Aug. 29 (CP)—Several hundred men who began to arrive at Camp Nanaimo today from Prairie points will be quarantined for from 10 to 14 days in an isolated part of the camp to guard against the possibility of infantile paralysis developing, military authorities said today.

R.A.F. RAID PICTURES AT 100 FEET

Hitler, Mussolini Stage Conference

Claim Churchill, FDR Meeting Put to Shame

PROSPERITY FOR EUROPE PROMISED

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (AP).—Hitler and Mussolini ended a five-day secret conference on the Eastern front today and issued a communique promising a prosperity order for all Continental Europe shorn of the causes of past wars.

The Nazi Press instantly likened the conference to that of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt on the Atlantic which was announced Aug. 14, and claimed the two Democratic leaders made a poor show in comparison to the two dictators.

"Even the external picture of the Fuehrer-Duce meeting stands in sharp contrast on the other side of the Atlantic off the Newfoundland banks," said the National Zeitung of Essen, Goering's paper.

The communique announcing the Hitler-Mussolini meeting was dated at Hitler's field headquarters. It said the Axis leaders discussed all military and political questions concerning the development and duration of the war, and continued:

"The discussions were permeated with the unchangeable will of both peoples and their leaders to wage war to a victorious end.

"The new European order which will emanate from this victory will remove as extensively as possible the causes which gave rise in the past to European war.

"Destruction of the Bolshevist danger and of plutocratic exploitation will create the possibility of peaceful harmonious and profitable cooperation of all peoples of the European continent in the political as well as the economic and cultural spheres."

The general trend of German Press comment was that the Churchill-Roosevelt Atlantic declaration "preserves historic injustices" while the Axis new order "is a creative ideal" but specific definitions of the new order still were lacking.

ROME, Aug. 29, (AP).—Mussolini piloted Hitler's heavy airplane back from one sector of the German-Russian front during the meeting of the two dictators, Italian correspondents reported tonight in lengthy dispatches on the meeting.

The correspondents said Hitler and Mussolini had long talks alone in a big tent. They were escorted by armored cars and mobile anti-aircraft guns on their tours of the front and were said to have eaten soldiers' rations of soup and black bread.

Mussolini and Hitler began their trip to the Northern front by airplane at dawn Tuesday. Mussolini was said to have piloted the plane on the return from this trip.

On Wednesday they visited other commands by plane, hearing details of "conquests at the front" from the German generals.

Nazis Admit British Raid in Southwest

BERLIN, Aug. 30 (Saturday)—(AP).—British raiders dropped bombs at several places in Southwestern Germany during the night, it was admitted officially today.

Nazis claimed that several apartment houses had been damaged and that a number of persons had been killed and wounded.

Fine 2 Traillites; Dogs Not Tagged

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 29 — Two charges of failing to procure dog licences were tried before Magistrate Parke Williams in City Police Court Friday afternoon.

Both J. McCarthy and A. M. Oddy pleaded guilty to the charge. McCarthy being assessed a fine of $5 and costs, and Oddy $1 without costs. The fines were paid.

McCarthy's fine was heavier owing to the fact that he had had repeated warnings but had failed to pay attention to them.

JAPAN WANTS TO END CHINA WAR; HAS PEACE AIMS

Claim Conflict Being Prolonged by Aid to Chinese

LASTING PACIFIC PEACE IN MIND

By MAX HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Aug. 30 - (Saturday) - (AP). — The Japanese insisted today that Japan was holding firm on establishment of a "co-prosperity sphere" of influence as a prerequisite to lasting Pacific peace, despite "the very delicate relations existing between Japan and the United States" over the Russo-German War.

A statement carried by Domei, the Japanese news agency, on delivery of a message from Premier Prince Konoye to President Roosevelt Thursday gave the view of the situation and said Japan wanted to end the China War and establish a permanent peace in East Asia.

Iichi Kishi, a Government spokesman, said moreover that the "unfortunate Chinese-Japanese hostilities" were being prolonged by United States-British aid to Chiang Kai-Shek.

The announced intention to seek an end to the Chinese War involved no change in Government policy, each cabinet since the war started July 7, 1937, having been pledged to attempt a clean-up of what Japan calls the "incident."

Kishi said that shipments of oil and war supplies to Russia via Vladivostok undoubtedly would be included in any conversation with the United States.

It was added, however, that disclosure of Japanese representations to Moscow and Washington over the shipments had been premature.

In a nation-wide broadcast, Kishi told the public that Konoye's message was of major significance because the United States was eager not to break peaceful relations with Japan.

He reviewed moves of the United States and Great Britain, which he said were designed to block Japan's aims to East Asia, and told the nation it should keep its "firm determination to cope with any untoward happening."

The Japanese, he said, were trying to create peace and security in East Asia through the aid of Wang Ching-Wei (head of the Japanese puppet regime at Nanking which claims to speak for China) and through economic cooperation with China and Manchoukuo.

TOKYO, Aug. 30 - (Saturday) - —Kaname Wakasugi, Japanese Minister to Washington, arrived here today amid United States-Japanese negotiations aimed at easing the tension in the Far East, and immediately was closeted with Foreign Minister Admiral Teisiro Toyoda.

U. S. Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, who had intended to spend the weekend outside the capital, immediately changed his mind. He indicated the negotiations were important but declined to give any hint of their progress.

Epidemic Eases

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29 (CP). — Marked decrease in the spread of sleeping sickness and infantile paralysis — particularly in Saskatchewan, was reported by Provincial health officials in the West tonight.

At Regina, where the spread of encephalitis has been serious, no new cases have been admitted to hospital in the past 24 hours, while only 13 new cases were reported in the other parts of Saskatchewan, 10 in Manitoba and one in Alberta.

Poliomyelitis, which has centered particularly in Manitoba, also seemed to be relaxing, with only 16 cases reported in Manitoba and two in Alberta. Manitoba, however, reported one death from each disease, both in Winnipeg.

Total poliomyelitis cases now stand at 698 in Manitoba, with nine deaths; Saskatchewan, 20 cases and no deaths; Alberta, 86 cases and two deaths, and British Columbia, 22 cases and one death.

Land Urges Building of Barges for Oil

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—The peppery Chairman of United States Maritime Commission, Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, today opposed plans for building a huge new pipeline from Southwestern oil fields to the Atlantic seaboard to combat the oil shortage in the latter area.

Land said he was "between hell and high water" when members of a special Senate Petroleum Committee questioned him about the pipeline idea.

Nevertheless he went on to criticize the idea and to suggest instead the speedy construction of 100 reinforced concrete barges, to be loaded with oil and towed by other vessels.

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP). — Fire Chief Andy Spalding of Preston, Ont., was elected President of the Dominion Fire Chiefs Association at the concluding convention sessions here today.

RUSSIANS OCCUPY THREE IRANIAN TOWNS

LONDON, Aug. 30 (Saturday) (AP)—The Moscow radio announced today the Red Army had occuped the Iranian towns of Mehabad, Pahlevi and Meshed.

Mehabad is an inland town about 210 miles Northwest of Teheran; Pahlevi (Enzeli) is a Caspian seaport, 170 miles to the Northwest; and Meshed is in extreme Eastern Iran, some 420 miles from the capital.

Coordination of Prices, Supply in Board Hands

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP).—The Government moved tonight to bring about full coordination of control over prices and supply of goods and services essential to the prosecution of the war through the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and the Wartime Industries Control Board.

By order-in-council it made the Prices and Trade Board the supreme authority in the field of price-control throughout Canada, and gave a reconstituted Wartime Industries Control Board complete control of supply and allocation of commodities and materials essential to the war effort.

The new set-up was announced in a joint statement issued by Finance Minister Ilsley and Munitions Minister Howe.

The statement gave a strong indication that the Government may shortly move to curb instalment purchases. Restriction of instalment buying, it said, "would appear to be in the national interest under wartime conditions."

The statement described the new unified control established under two separate orders-in-council signed today as "evidence of the Government's determination to fight inflationary tendencies hampering Canada's effective participation in the present conflict."

The Wartime Industries Control Board under chairmanship of R. C. Berkinshaw, and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board under H. B. McKinnon, both were enlarged to provide for an interlocking membership.

U.S. Sending Men Special Missions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP). —The United States Government moved today toward a reappraisal of British and Russian war aid by ordering two high civilian defence officials and the chief of the army air corps to undertake special missions abroad.

President Roosevelt disclosed that W. Averell Harriman, whom he once called his lease-lend expediter in London, would head an American delegation to Moscow soon for conference on Russian munitions requirements.

Harriman, Mr. Roosevelt said, will be succeeded in London by John Biggers, OPM production chief. Biggers will have the task not only of handling Lease-Lend transportation problems from the London end but also of coordinating British and American production schedules wherever possible.

The War Department meanwhile announced that Major General George H. Brett, chief of the air corps, would head an army mission on an aerial tour of the African, near Eastern, Mediterranean and Atlantic battle fronts.

A similar but separate tour, touching at some of the same points, will be made by a second mission headed by Colonel E. M. Powers of the air corps.

Daylight Time in Winter Protested

VICTORIA, Aug. 29 (CP) — The cost of living bonus in all its aspects was being given careful consideration by the Provincial Government, Premier Pattullo announced today.

Daylight saving time also is being studied, the Premier said. Messages, letters and telephone calls from all parts of the province were being received protesting against continuance of the daylight time during the Winter months and Mr. Pattullo had communicated with H. R. MacMillan, president of Wartime Merchant Shipping Limited, at whose request daylight time was introduced in British Columbia.

Need for Recruits "Important Thing"

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29 (CP) — Lieut.-Col. H. E. Goodman, District Recruiting Officer for Military District 11, said here today that "the need for recruits is the most important thing in Canada right now."

Col. Goodman, who returned today from Ottawa where he attended a convention of all Canadian recruiting officers, said that from 7000 to 10,000 new recruits per month are required.

"The old quota system for provinces will not be revived," Col Goodman continued. "It is necessary that every recruiting office get as many men as possible for the army."

Bloody Reprisals Follow Shootings; Laval Near Death

Plan Dangerous Operation to Take Bullet From Near Heart; Associate Better; Firing Squad Busy in Paris

VICHY, Aug. 30 (Saturday) (AP).—Eight more persons have been executed in Paris, dispatcher from Paris reported today, bringing to 11 the number executed since the attempted assassination of Pierre Laval and Marcel Deat Wednesday.

Three of those executed, including Naval Lieutenant Count Henri Destienne Dorbes, were condemned for espionage, presumably for De Gaullists.

The other five were accused under the new French law providing death for "activity against the occupying power."

All eight were stood up against a wall at Vincennes prison just outside Paris and shot to death by a firing squad from the French Garde Mobile.

Among those condemned for espionage was a Netherlands citizen named Jean Doornik. The others executed were French.

None of the eight was described as a Communist, indicating the French had dropped the idea of "anti-Red courts" two days after they started working.

By ROY P. PORTER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

PARIS, Aug. 29 (AP)—Pierre Laval, symbol of French collaboration with Hitler, lay close to death tonight as his surgeons determined upon a risky operation to remove an assassin's bullet imbedded a tenth of an inch from his heart.

The surgeons decided upon the hazardous step after the 58-year-old politician and Hitler's number one Quisling in France, had run a temperature of 39 centigrade (102.2 Fahrenheit) for many hours, a possible sign that peritonitis was developing close to vital organs.

Tonight the temperature jumped to 39.5 (103.1 Fahrenheit) and X-rays disclosed the necessity of an immediate operation.

Laval's journalistic associate in advocating collaboration with the Nazis, Marcel Deat, who was wounded at the same time Wednesday, was improving normally.

Laval and Deat were shot by a Free French follower of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, youthful Paul Collette, who introduced himself, Trojan-horse fashion, into the ranks of an anti-Communist Legion recruited to fight alongside the Germans against Russia.

At Collette's home town of industrial Caen in Normandy police pressed their investigation of the assassin's political antecedents, and in France and the French Empire authorities drove forward in their efforts to purge "Communist" and elements opposed to both the Nazi and Vichy authorities.

Caen, where feeling was reported running high tonight because Colette showed traces of a bloody beating, has been a centre of numerous incidents attributed to British-Free French action.

It was the scene of a recent killing of a police chief when a violator of the ban, on celebration of Bastille Day, France's patriotic holiday, shot his way out of a police trap.

It is along the Normandy coast there that Marshal Petain once said whole boatloads of Free French volunteers were leaving for Britain every day.

Colette himself had attempted such an escape. This was after he served on the warship Niger which was sunk in the British evacuation of Dunkerque, had been taken to Britain and then in some unexplained manner returned immediately to France.

His parents, quiet and respected folk living in Caen, were stunned by their son's arrest. They said he had returned home July 28 from the Mediterranean port of Sete where he had been stoker on a ship, and supposedly had gone to Paris to seek work.

PARIS, German-occuped France, Aug. 29 (AP)—Pierre Laval was reported today to have sent word to authorities from his bed-side in Versailles: "I request that Colette not be executed."

HEAD U.S. DELEGATION TO SOVIET IS NAMED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — President Roosevelt announced today that he would appoint W. Averell Harriman head of an American delegation which will go to Moscow to consider the problem of aid to Russia.

Harriman has been in London handling lease-lend operations, and Mr. Roosevelt said John Biggers, who has been in charge of production for the office of production management, would take over Harriman's duties in the British capital.

The delegation to Moscow, which will meet with corresponding British and Russian groups, may be appointed within a few days, the President told a Press conference and may have a half dozen members.

Election Date for B.C. Is Set for October 21

VICTORIA, Aug. 29 (CP). — Premier T. D. Pattullo's Liberal Government will seek a new mandate from the people of British Columbia October 21, the Premier announced today, with candidates for the 48 seats to be nominated September 30.

Contesting the Liberals' bid for reelection — their second since the general Provincial elections of 1933 — will be the Conservative and C. C. F. parties, both of which are expected to nominate a full slate of candidates, and a number of Independent and Labor candidates.

Standing at dissolution of the Legislature July 22 was Liberals, 31; Conservatives, 8; C. C. F., 7; Labor, 7, and Independent, 1.

The Premier has already issued a manifesto giving his reasons for calling an election before his Government's term expired in June, 1942. Mr. Pattullo said that "to coordinate Provincial taxation with Dominion proposals, it will be necessary to pass legislation at the next session of the Provincial Legislature to bring into effect appropriate measures.

"The matter is of such importance that I feel the Government should have an expression of the wishes of the electors."

The Conservative party, under the leadership of R. L. Maitland, K. C., has also pledged itself to support of an all-out war effort as the first plank of its platform.

The C. C. F. party in a manifesto made public tonight said its policy in the forthcoming election campaign would be based on the "fundamental and paramount objectives of victory abroad, security at home."

Warfield Traffic Infractions Cost 5 Drivers Fines

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 29 — A traffic check-up in the Warfield "slow zone" by Constable D. C. Georgeson, of the Provincial Highway Patrol, and Constable Lloyd Gray, in charge of the Trail Provincial Police Detachment, resulted in five men appearing before Stipendiary Magistrate E. L. Hodge in Provincial Police Court Friday afternoon, charged with traffic infractions.

George R. Craig and Stanley G. Price of Warfield, and Ernest A. Mitchell of Rossland, pleaded guilty to failing to stop at the stop sign at the junction of Monument Road and the Schofield Highway. All three were fined $5 and costs.

Irving C. Trembath of Trail and Gordon T. Harper of Rossland were fined $7.50 and costs for exceeding the 25 mile-an-hour speed limit. Harper pleaded guilty, explaining that the car he was driving, belonging to the Rossland Co-Operative Transportation fleet, had a faulty speedometer, which he was checking at the time. Magistrate Hodge considered that Harper, knowing the meter was defective, should have taken greater precaution to make sure he was driving under the minimum speed.

Trembath pleaded not guilty, stating he was confident he had been travelling a normal rate of speed, but both constables testified that he was going at least 35 miles an hour, Constable Gray having checked him with the speedometer on the police car, and Constable Georgeson giving his estimate of Trembath's speed on judgment based on his experience as a traffic officer. Trembath drew a $7.50 fine with costs.

Magistrate Hodge, in each case, referred to the improved accident record in the Warfield Zone, reminding the offenders that it was necessary to have strict observance of restrictions in order to prevent any further serious accidents on the flats.

Three Teachers Still Needed for Vacancies in District Schools

With the exception of three schools for which teachers are not yet available, all district schools in the Nelson area are prepared for reopening Tuesday. Three teachers are still needed. There has been some difficulty in obtaining teachers, but all vacancies except these three have been filled. The condition is described as "unusual."

Edgewood Board, Host to District, Urges Monashee

Importance of the Monashee route from the Interior to the Okanagan and the Coast and means whereby the government could be pressed to develop it formed the highlight of discussions at a joint Board of Trade meeting at Needles Thursday.

The Lower Arrow Lakes Board of Trade was host to district Boards and Vernon representatives. Originally a luncheon meeting at Whatshan Lakes was scheduled, but owing to weather conditions the meeting was transferred to the Needles Community Hall.

J. B. McLeod of Edgewood, President of the Lower Arrow Lakes Board, presided, and Henry Murton of Edgewood served as Secretary of the meeting.

J. N. McLeod of Edgewood, consistent booster of the Monashee route, argued forefully for widespread district support.

Representing Nelson were W. G. C. Lanskail, C. F. McHardy, B. C. Poulsen, J. A. McDonald, P. E. Poulin and Capt. P. Hartridge. Among the visitors was a former Nelson resident, Adolphe Browne, now of Vernon. A. E. Jukes of Vancouver, at present making his headquarters at New Denver, was also a visitor.

Following luncheon the party drove to Whatshan Lakes to see this well known beauty spot and fishing centre.

The majority of the Nelson men stopped overnight at Nakusp, returning to Nelson Friday.

Leafs Clinch 2nd in Boxla League

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 29—Nelson Maple Leafs clinched second place in the West Kootenay Lacrosse League tonight as they administered an overtime 14-12 beating to the last-place Rossland Redmen.

The game was hardly a comfortable one for the fans, owing to the cold following several days of rain. This, together with the fact that play did not start until 8:30, prompted the officials to run the game through without any allowances for time lost in faceoffs, etc.

In contrast with the weather, Bill Scuby in the Nelson net was really hot all evening. His work was sensational throughout and during the first two periods, when the Redmen stormed his goal repeatedly with dangerous close-in shots, he permited only three to slip by. He stopped 35 to 40.

FIVE NEWCOMERS

Five Nelson men who were new to Rossland fans — Airth, Emery, Andrew, Arrell and Hunden—accounted for only one goal between them but showed heaps of defensive ability. Bill Townsend with five goals and two assists, and Ian Dingwall with two goals and six assists, were high men for the Leafs.

Ernie Carkner and Ray Scott notched three nifty goals each for the Redmen and Joe Laface helped himself to five assists as well as one goal.

In the overtime period the Redmen went into the lead on a goal from Joe Laface, lost it again when Bryant scored, and went ahead once more on Simm's tally. The last five minutes belonged entirely to the Leafs as they ran in the winning counters from the sticks of Kuhn, Townsend and Bishop, with Ian Dingwall assisting each time. Kuhn also drew an assist on Townsend's goal.

Saprunoff in the Rossland net provided support in large quantities particularly in the second and third quarter, when he held the Lake City crew to a single tally in each canto.

West Kootenay Open Tennis Tourney to Start at Tadanac Courts Today

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 29—The Tadanac tennis courts will be the centre of interest for all district tennis enthusiasts Labor Day weekend when the West Kootenay Open Tennis tourney climaxes a busy season.

Entries to the tourney were officially closed Friday night, with entries classified as follows: men's singles, 21; mixed doubles, 14; ladies' singles, 11; men's doubles, 11; ladies' doubles, 8; and two entries in the veterans doubles men 45 years and over class, making a total of 77 entries.

Entries represent Trail, Tadanac, Rossland, Nelson, Procter, Willow Point, and Spokane and Prosper, Wash. From the latter city return the two Knox brothers, Clinton and Clyde, twins, who turned out a brand of tennis that brought keen competition last year, Clinton capturing the men's singles event after a gruelling final match against his brother Clyde. Miss Beverley Weber of Spokane is also entering again.

The tourney starts at 1:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon with the mixed doubles class opening the events. Finals will be played off Monday, the only known finals at present slated are in the veterans doubles class, with D. K. MacAllister, of Rossland, and Herbert Oxley, of Trail, teamed against Jack West of Trail and J. A. Stewart of Nelson.

A split in the two finals men's doubles teams of last year, Ed Woollner and Bob Moran, of Spokane and Joe McDonell and Jack Neal of Rossland, is also noticed in the entries, Moran and Neal being the two missing players. Woellner and Moran defeated McDonell and Neal in this event last year. This year, Woellner is teaming with Frank Gaylord, of Spokane, and McDonell has entered with George Murray of Tadanac.

Bright Program Assured for Annual Regatta of Kootenay Launch Club

Commodore L. F. Gilbert of the Kootenay Launch Club reported Friday that arrangements for the annual regatta on the Nelson waterfront on the afternoon of Labor Day were well in hand.

"Because of war conditions the entry is down somewhat this year, and the length of the two bigger races has been cut down five miles, but we are anticipating a very interesting regatta," the Commodore stated.

As usual the highlight of the afternoon's activities, which start at 2 o'clock, will be the Kootenay Lake open race for the Nelson Hotelmen's Association Trophy, now held by Gilbert's Ladybird. To qualify for this race, a boat must have a speed of at least 40 miles an hour, and so far the race is assured of at least three entries. They are the defending champion, Ladybird, and two of Nelson's new boats, Westman Motion's Aquaduster and Henry Stevenson's new craft.

PERHAPS SPOKANE BOATS

Officials were not absolutely certain of the two Spokane boats coming, but there is a good chance still and word may be received today to that effect. They are F. T. Lenzi and a rival in business, and they will both be here with their boats if they can break away from other engagements.

The next event in point of spectator interest will be the 225 Hydroplane Division 2 class. Stevenson also qualifies in this division, and some of his competitors will be Westman Motion in his Stardust, and C. A. Cawley who has bought Jack Annable's boat. The Dr. Wilfrid Laishley Trophy is at stake in this event.

The open race will be over a 15-mile course, and the hydroplane Div. 2 event will be 10 miles.

Other motorboat races will be the Bang-and-go-back race for the Plaza Cafe Trophy, and an event for 35-mile-an-hour inboard runabouts for the J. B. Gray Trophy.

Interspersing the program with comedy and acrobatics will be an exhibition of aquaplaning and water skiing.

There is also a possibility of outboard races.

Trail Mercos Win From Sasks, Trail

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 29—The Trail Mercos advanced into the finals of the Trail Mens Senior Softball playoffs, by defeating the Sasks 10-4 in the second game at a best-of-three semi-final series at Victoria Park Friday night. The Mercos defeated the Sasks 2-0 Monday.

The Mercos staged a scoring spree in the sixth inning netting them seven runs, which placed them out of reach of the Sasks, who brought in all their runs in the eighth inning. They downed the Mercos in one-two-three fashion in the eighth and ninth innings, but failed to break away from Broverman's steady pitching record for any more than their original four counters.

Ken Lawn hit the first home run of the season from Broverman, incidentally, the only homer of the game, driving in Jule Bilesky and George Williams. Ken Stanton stole home for the Sasks other run.

Oni Basso did the throwing for the Sasks for the first five innings, registering three strikeouts as compared to Broverman's eight. Broverman went the route for the Mercos. Lance Hudson took over pitching duties for the Sasks for the next two innings and Ken Lawn finished the eighth and ninth. Neither Hudson nor Lawn did any fanning.

Score by innings:

Mercos	100 017 100—10
Sasks	000 000 040— 4

Lineups:

Russia's Great Air Reserve a Point in Favor

By DEVON FRANCIS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP). — After more than two months of warfare it is becoming evident, military sources said today, that Russia's air force not only retains its striking power but also is likely to remain a major worry to the invading Germans throughout the Winter.

In preparations for the campaign the Germans withdrew a large part of their air forces in the West to the Eastern frontier.

But in spite of that concentration the Russians continue to strike regularly from the air both at German columns and behind the German lines as well.

The Russian raid on the East Prussian city of Konigsberg yesterday is a case in point. At the same time Russian planes claimed to have sunk two German transports in the Baltic.

Significance is attached to failure of the Germans to continue their air attacks on Moscow. Leningrad, threatened for weeks, has put up a successful resistance with the help of the Red Air Force.

Contributing to the Russian air strength is the fact the High Command has had no worry over replacement of personnel lost in combat. No evidence has appeared that such replacements will be a problem in the months to come.

The flier-reservoir of the Red Air Force comes from the Osoviakhim Society, a civilian defence group numbering between 15,000,000 and 16,000,000 persons.

Several millions in the Society membership know the rudiments of flying, and several hundred thou*sand at least have been taught military* flying.

Axis Calls Quits on Plan Take Tobruk

LONDON, Aug. 29 (CP)—Axis forces in Libya, abandoning hope of taking Tobruk, have constructed a by-pass around the city to move supplies to troops, according to a dispatch in the Daily Mail from its correspondent in the Western Desert.

"The new highway is well designed and constructed," the dispatch said. "It is meant to be permanent—the Germans and Italians have given up hope of taking Tobruk by assault.

"It must be the heaviest guarded 40 miles of road in the world. It is separated from Tobruk's perimeter by minefields, barbed wire, booby traps, tank ditches, machine-gun nests and anti-tank posts. Along it are the best part of three divisions."

CONVOY DAMAGED

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 29 (AP) — Aircraft of the fleet air arm attacked *an Axis convoy of four merch*antmen and four destroyers in the Mediterranean Wednesday night, causing a series of explosions and a fire on one, it was announced today.

Royal Air Force bombers yesterday hit two Axis vessels in the central Mediterranean, a communique announced. One ship began to smoke and was down by the stern while bombs pierced the decks of the other.

The actions at sea were included in account of bombings of German and Italian positions at Bardia, Homs and Bengasi Wednesday night and Thursday.

First Class Army Officers Graduate

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP) —The first class of new officers for the Canadian Army to be trained in the recently established of*ficers' training centre here graduat*ed today, receiving certificates of qualification for commissioned rank from Defence Minister Ralston.

As is the case in graduation of airmen from schools in the British commonwealth air training plan, authorities placed a ban on mentioning the number of graduates from the officers' training centre.

But when the system is in full operation between 4000 and 6000 new officers will be trained each year.

They may be either non-commissioned officers and men who have shown merit in an active service unit, or they can be chosen from the ranks of the training centres. The third group in attendance at the officers' training centres are reserve army junior officers, mem*bers of Canadian officers training* corps or non commissioned officers of reserve units obtaining active service qualification.

Duisburg, Ostend R.A.F. Targets

LONDON, Aug. 29 (CP)—Royal Air Force bombers roared over the German industrial city of Duisburg last night and the huge bombs they dropped started "very large fires" and caused explosions, the Air Ministry said today.

The Air Ministry described the Duisburg raid as heavy and successful. Dock sat Ostend, Belgium, were atacked by a smaller force *of bombers and several other tar*gets in Western Germany and occupied territory also were blasted.

Nine British planes were lost.

Nazi sources in Berlin admitted that British bombers caused damage in attacks on Western Germany luring the night.

Conchies Doing a Great Job in National Parks

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP).—Some 900 young men of military age who profess conscientious objection to bearing arms now are at work in remote wooded areas, clearing trails and building roads.

After a few months experience with the alternative service plan for conscientious objectors, authorities are impressed with the willingness of the men to work and their amenability to camp life.

"Once we get them into the camps they are swell," said Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, Associate Deputy Minister of National War Services. "They work like trojans. They are doing a great job."

Getting them to camp, however, is not so easy. Some fail to show up when ordered to report, their *names are given to police who ar*rest them, bring them before the courts and usually secure convictions and jail sentences.

IN NATIONAL PARKS

The objectors in the main are members of the Mennonite, Doukhobor, and Seventh Day Adventist groups.

The Doukhobor group has a work camp of its own at Lac La Rouge some 200 miles North of Prince Albert, Sask. The men are engaged in extending for another 50 miles the road which now runs 150 miles North from Prince Albert, to give access to a rich mineral area and a scenic paradise.

The other alternative service camps are in the national parks.

There are 200 men in Prince Albert Park, 290 in Riding Mountain, 150 in Jasper, and 135 in Banff.

The men got 50 cents a day and their food and lodging. They must provide their own clothes and toilet articles. They live mostly in large canvas tents but if they remain at work throughout the Winter will be moved into logs huts.

A day in the life of a conscientious objector conscripted for labor service is much the same as that of a soldier in training. He must be up at a regular time and make his bed before breakfast. He must be at work at 8 a.m., gets an hour for dinner at noon and works until supper time, about 5:30 p.m.

The men have their evenings to themselves but may not leave camp without permission. They must be in bed at 10:30 p.m.

MACKENZIE KING SPENDS BUSY DAY ON STATE PAPERS

LONDON, Aug. 29 (CP Cable)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King returned to London today, refreshed after a night spent at a famous estate which forms the headquarters of Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps.

The Prime Minister planned to devote the day to working in his hotel *suite on state papers and corres*pondence. He also will have the opportunity of bringing himself up to date on international events by reading British communications normally sent to him in Ottawa but now delivered here.

Mr. King will spend the weekend in the country but the identity of his host was not disclosed.

Canadian Navy Ships Serve Around Britain; No Better Troops Than Canadians Says Minister on Return

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP).—Canadian Naval Units are on constant duty in the waters about the British Isles and the British Admiralty is "very appreciative of their assistance," Navy Minister Macdonald told The Canadian Press on his arrival home from Britain today.

Mr. Macdonald flew by bomber to Britain nearly a month ago and returned by clipper by way of Lisbon and New York, arriving here by train this morning.

He paid high tribute to the Ca*nadian troops overseas*, with whom he spent some time, conferring with Lt.-Gen. McNaughton, Corps Commander, and watching men at manoeuvres.

NO BETTED TROOPS

"There are no better troops in England than the Canadians," Mr. Macdonald said. "That is generously admitted by all who are in a posi*tion to know.*"

One result of the Minister's visit will be the dispatch to Canada of a party of skilled British shipyards Dominion's program for construction Dominion's prgram for construction of Tribal class destroyers.

On his visit to England Mr. Macdonald was accompanied by Rear Admiral Percy Nelles, Chief of the Naval Staff, and Captain F. L. Houghton, Directors of Plans and Operations at Naval Headquarters.

"We went to England mainly to confer with the British Admiralty," the Minister said, "and to exchange information which would be helpful to both the Royal and Canadian Navies.

"We had interviews with Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty and other Admiralty officers. They were all very helpful.

"We discussed particularly the problem of obtaining skilled destroyer construction men for our program here and I think we made good progress. We will get some men at once."

Mr. Macdonald had an audience with the King and conferred with Prime Minister Churchill. He also visited a naval training school where many Canadian young men are being instructed as officers.

"They were in excellent shape and making good names for themselves in competition with men from every part of the Empire including the British Isles," he said.

The Navy Minister was flown to England by Capt. Stafford and his ferry crew, the same captain and crew who were lost when their plane crashed on a return flight take-off, killing all 22 men on board including Rt. Hon. Arthur Purvis, head of the British Purchasing Commission in Washington.

A few days before that fatality Mr. Macdonald had spent an evening with Mr. Purvis and Mr. Alexander at the home of Lord Beaverbrook.

The Minister's return journey occupied a week, in marked contrast to his swift outward trip by bomber. He flew to Lisbon where he had to wait several days for a seat in the clipper ship which brought him to New York.

Fadden Calls Cabinet Meets; Praise Menzies

CANBERRA, Aug. 29 (AP).—One of the first acts of the new Prime Minister, Arthur W. Fadden, was to summon meetings of the War Cabinet for next Tuesday, the Advisory War Council Wednesday and the full Cabinet on Friday.

It is expected Mr. Fadden will carry on with the present Ministry until after the budget debate, leaving Mr. Menzies, who resigned yesterday as Prime Minister, as Minister of Defence Co-ordination. If the Government survives the budget *debate a reconstruction of the Min*istry will be effected.

All sections of the press and the public paid tribute to the "dignified, generous, public spirited action of Mr. Menzies in resigning in order to achieve political stability and party cooperation.

Mr. Fadden was concerned today about sending a Minister to London but said at present the Government will not do more than enter into negotiations with Prime Minister Churchill on the point whether such a Minister would be received by the British War Cabinet. He said no minister would be nominated until the negotiations were completed.

What will the Winter bring to Europe? Betty Sargeant tells why the Red Cross is fearful of epidemics and what it is doing about it.

By BETTY SARGEANT

GENEVA, Aug. 29 (AP) — Fearing famine and epidemic will come to war ravaged Europe, the international Red Cross is preparing for the worst.

Although *Europe has been sur*prisingly free from epidemics in two years of warfare—despite the exposure of civilian masses to rigorous conditions of life, despite bombings and mass migration —officials express fear for the coming Winter and Spring.

Two agencies at international Red Cross headquarters are jointly creating a stock of anti-epidemic serums, to be kept ready in customs-free Geneva depots and sent anywhere in Europe where an epidemic may break out.

European stocks are dwindling gradually and there are fewer and fewer countries where food can be bought by Red Cross money.

Portugal and Turkey remain the only real markets and large-scale transport problems impede food movements from those countries to most of the occupied countries of Europe.

Getting overseas foodstuffs is another headache because of the British blockade. Latin American Red Cross societies have long been willing to send quantities of wheat, canned meats and other foods to Europe's occupied areas provided the *Red Cross could get British navi*certs.

British authorities agreed to grant navicerts if the Red Cross could get a double edged guarantee from the German Government.

The first condition was that all foodstuffs and other necessities sent for distribution to needy women, children, and the sick in areas under German occupation or control would reach these people and no one else. This condition was agreed to by the Germans.

The second condition, however, was not agreed to by the Germans. This was that the German authorities must guarantee not to take out from the country in question local supplies equivalent to the amounts sent in by the Red Cross.

Until th German Government can give such an assurance, the British authorities say they will give no navicerts, and Latin American gifts still are waiting shipment on the other side of the ocean.

Turkey Prepares for Emergencies

By PRESTON GROVER

ANKARA, Aug. 28 - (Delayed) - (AP). — Turkey stepped up her emergency preparedness today.

*The general administering mar*tial law in Istanbul, European Turkey and the sector surrounding the strategic Dardanelles Straits issued a communique stating it is "considered necessary" that beginning Sept. 5 all male citizens must at all times carry a birth certificate or other positive identification.

After Sept. 5, it was decreed, all men will be subject at any time to identification. This measure apparently is designed to guard against sabotage or Fifth Column activity.

The veteran Nazi diplomat, Ambassador Franz von Papen, today revised plans to quit Ankara for Istanbul and instead called on President Ismet Inonu to let him feel once more the weight of German influence. The call was made after the British Ambassador, Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen had just outlined recent accomplishments of the British war effort.

The official reason made public for the von Papen call was that the Nazi had desired to present Inonu with a small copy of a Turkish museum piece made by a German.

Sir Hughe, when he called on the President was reported to have been armed with an impressive array of figures on British aerial operations over Western Germany, on reduction of ship losses and on the increase of supplies from the United States.

The possibility is recognized by Turks that the Russian campaign may compel Germany to confront them with demands to use her waters or for passage through the Dardanelles to make easier the supplying of German armies which may be deep in the Caucasus.

31 British Planes, Two Ships Destroyed, Nazi Communique

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—The high command today claimed the Royal Air Force lost 31 planes—17 of them bombers—in assaults yesterday on the Netherlands coast and German held channel regions.

It said German fighters and anti-aircraft batteries shot down 23 British planes, naval artillery seven and one pursuit plane was downed by infantry.

Two British merchantmen, one of them a tanker, were sunk by German aircraft off the British West coast of Pembroke, the Communique claimed.

Slight damage was done in raids on Western Germany, it was said.

R.A.F. Thursday losses, day and night combined, were 21, the Air Ministry announced.

FINNS SEE SOVIETS LEAVING TALLINN

HELSINKI, Aug. 29 (AP).—Finnish fliers claimed today they had seen many dozens of Russian warships and transports leaving Tallinn and heading Eastward last night. Germany claimed the capture of that Estonian capital today.

NEUTRAL WORKER IN NAZI SHIPYARDS FORESEES SUDDEN FALL OF GERMANY

LONDON, Aug. 29 (CP)—An eye-witness account of the Royal Air Force bombing of Hamburg, told by a neutral conscripted by the Ger*mans for war work in that city's* shipyards, has been issued by the Ministry of Information. Ill health enabled the workman to get permission to leave Germany.

The neutral, who formerly lived in Hamburg, was ordered back there from Belgium.

"There I worked and was bombed for Hitler until a few weeks ago," he said. "I took the oath that every German worker has to take to serve Adolf Hitler:

"The army of Hitler's war workers includes a large percentage of foreigners. We were given the most dangerous tasks, such as fire-fighting in the shipyards and factories. So I can give first-hand facts of the R.A.F. raids.

"I have heard those new, powerful British bombs explode in the shipyards of Hamburg. Few people are allowed to see the worst of the havoc, but the nature of my work qualified me for a special pass that took me into all four of the big yards.

DAMAGE TERRIFIC

"Bombed areas are ringed for a radius *of 500 yards; the official com*muniques grossly understate the damage and casualties but I can say that the damage has been terrific.

"Terror is one of the methods used by the Gestapo in Hamburg shipyards. One of my colleagues was sent to prison for two years. His offence was to observe aloud that Britain had a bigger navy when a fellow worker was praising the Tir*pitz, sister ship of the Bismarck*, which now is being fitted out. He was overheard by an S. S. Guard, arrested and sent to prison for treason.

"There are usually about 50,000 seamen waiting for ships in Hamburg. There is always a rush when crews are wanted for the Baltic coasting trade but when hands are wanted for ships going into the North Sea to the ports of occupied countries the seamen find various means of keeping out of the way.

"In the final stages of my stay in Germany I saw signs of the weakness of the Nazi war effort.

"The fall of Nazism will come without shadow of doubt, and I believe that when Germany cracks she will crack suddenly. But nothing but unremitting effort will be sufficient to meet Hitler's maximum onslaught in the next few months."

Beware Faddists . . .

Tasty Food Is "Good for You"

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dietitians and nutritionists have been accused of lacing in tight, unbending stays and taken the fun out of eating! Paul V. McNutt, in his opening address before the Nutrition Conference, complained that something frequently happens to good food when its selection is distilled through the coils of an expert. And that food loses its gastronomic gusto. Those were his words.

This stalwart Hoosier claims that in his state they've gotten their vitamins for years, all that could possibly be strung together, before they ever knew one by its first initial, but that the meals also contained an extra vitamin, one that could not be found in the laboratory —the psychological vitamin of human satisfaction. He termed it Vitamin Z — for zest, no doubt.

Well, hold on a minute, governor. You've got something in the idea that every meal should have that all important Vitamin Z. And we know that Indiana food has what it takes. But whatever gave you the idea that nutritionists didn't go in for good eats? Did you ever sit down to a meal served up to us when we got together? I thought not. A number of nutritionists had dinner the other night at the country home of a member who has a string of degrees after her name, and this is what we ate: golden brown chicken, fluffy hot biscuits and gravy, corn on the cob, a tossed green salad with snappy cheese, iced tea and honeydew melon. You can't do better than that in Indiana.

And it isn't a case of do as I say, not as I do. Every nutritionist worth her salt makes it her business to plan meals replete in the Vitamin Z that makes for rounded gastronomic satisfaction. We believe food should be so good the family will want to eat for the pure joy of eating.

It is not the nutritionists who have taken the fun out of eating. But I'm afraid a lot of people have the idea that nutrition means something that is "good for you," but not too tasty. The food faddists are to blame. They have harassed the public with ridiculous and far-fetched notions about what they should and should not eat. Some of them expound the theory that all food should be eaten raw. Nothing could be more unappetizing or idiotic! Others credit vegetable juices with virtues which the vegetables in their natural form do not possess. Some oppose the eating of meat—it isn't the nutritionists who try to take away your juicy steak. Still others oppose the mixing of protein and starches, whereas the scientists stress that we get along best on a varied diet and that the less we think about our digestion the better.

The exponents of these eccentric diets are the food faddists, not nutrition specialists. I only hope this nutritional education campaign will make the people so well informed about food they will not be fooled by the faddists.

Perhaps in our enthusiasm to sell the public on good eating habits and make strong men drink their milk, we have been a bit insistent on the balanced diet. But we are just as insistent on good food. Good food and good nutrition are synonymous.

"The Market Basket," which is a bulletin put out by the Bureau of Agriculture, and edited by as smart a bunch of nutritionists as you will find in the country, came out with an issues on ways to make eating more fun.

CAPE TOWN (CP) — "Wanting her picture taken" a 17-year-old girl put on her sister's uniform of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force. Pleading guilty to a charge on this offence she was remanded for sentence.

Diet to Blame . . .

Prepare Diet to Eliminate Some Foods, If Allergic

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Certain allergic people are sensitized to foods which have appeared in their diets practically throughout life. These people may have hives, asthma, skin eruptions, abdominal cramps, indigestion or diarrhea and not realize that foods with which they have long been familiar are the cause.

The responsibile foods can be detected by making a diary and selecting different foods on different days and noting which diets cause the symptoms. A series of diets suggested by Dr. L. P. Gay, of St. Louis, has proved successful in doing this.

Wheat, milk, eggs, white potato, pork, tomatoes, citrus fruit and pineapple are found to be the most common food offenders to most people. These foods have therefore been taken out of the diet and substitutions made for them. When the most toxic foods have been identified by experimental tests, a corrected menu can be worked out for each individual. The diets for five days are as follows:

FIRST DAY

Breakfast: Sauerkraut juice or apricots or papaya juice. Hominy grits with butter, or corn meal mush with honey or maple syrup, or corned beef hash, or liver. Tea or coffee.

Lunch: Beef, or mushrooms, or liver. Corn pone, corn, asparagus, carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, string beans, mustard greens, radishes, pumpkin, sweet potato. Jello, nuts.

Dinner: Same as lunch.

SECOND DAY

Breakfast: Prunes, prune juice or melon (in season), or dates. Rice with butter or preserves. Lamb chop or sweetbreads. Pure rye bread (toasted). Tea.

Lunch: Lamb chop or sweetbreads. Pure rye bread. Rice, squash, artichoke, beets, beet greens, celery (cooked or raw), lima beans, onions (cooked or raw), peas, cabbage or cucumbers. Peanut butter. Tapioca or fruit.

Dinner: Same as lunch.

THIRD DAY

Breakfast: Canned vegatable juices, apple sauce, baked apple, peaches or rhubarb. Pure Buckwheat cakes with honey or maple syrup, or liver or brains. Coffee.

Lunch: Chicken, duck, guinea fowl, squab or game. Buckwheat gems. Broccoli, carrots, okra, lettuce, lentils, eggplant, oyster plant, rutabagas, turnips or turnip greens. Avocado, olives. Jello.

Dinner: Same as lunch.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. B.: "Why do so many doctors prescribe evaporated milk for a baby's first formula instead of whole milk?"

Answer: Evaporated milk is a reliable clean milk which represents all the ingredients of the best obtainable whole milk. It is not more fattening than certified milk, but for many mothers it is more convenient to obtain and is equally as nutritious as certified milk.

Miss Hincks Tells of Radio Programs

VICTORIA, Aug. 29 (CP).—Librarians must steel themselves to meet the trying times ahead and must branch out into new fields to make the libraries in their communities serve a greater percentage of the population, said Mrs. Mary Duncan Carter, Director of the School of Library Science, Los Angeles, in addressing delegates here for the Pacific Northwest Library Association convention here last night.

Freedom Last Thing Loving Husband Wants

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

The second of our three marriage mysteries is the insistent cry of husbands for freedom, a freedom they don't enjoy as shown by the fact that they won't avail themselves of it even when it's offered—that is for a longer period than a few days consecutively. A very happy husband says that every wife should occasionally leave her husband with the household bag to hold, get out of town and stay until she's called back, which won't be long.

First few days of wife's absence, says he, is the most delicious experience known to a man. He treads air. He takes big draughts of freedom. He's like a balloon let loose in clear ether. No questions as to where he's been, what he's done, whom he's seen and what he's said. He can go to bed and get up at will, fling newspapers all over the place, come in with muddy feet and drop ashes anywhere. "Frankly," he adds, "three days is the limit of my enjoyment. At the end of three days I'm devoutly wishing for my wife's return and wiring her to come home."

The men are all alike, you know. Among the first things to be done when the wife gets out of town is to see the friends she doesn't like and won't associate with. He has them to a meal or to a game of cards. He fairly licks his chops over the reunions. Then he declares moratorium on all household rules and regulations. The youngsters aren't forced to drink their milk or eat their vitamins. All detested dishes are omitted from the menus. No regular meal hours or bedtime hours. The household is one holiday and husband, children, servants celebrate the gala occasion. What fun!

After a short spell of this helter-skelter living pop begins to think wistfully of mom's return. Soon he's impatient. He's seen the old friends and found that long interrupted communications have done something to the friendships. The reunions weren't as sweet as he expected them to be. Managing a menage is not such a soft snap after all. Two movies a day instead of two a week have got the children into a state of nerves. What with sitting up all hours, consuming gallons of ice cream and cases of soft drinks, pounds of candy, they have headaches, tummy aches, sore throats and foul dispositions.

The gentleman doesn't feel altogether adequate as he imagined he would. He's lonesome. The habit of talking it over, consulting, advising with the wife is more firmly ingrained than he guessed. He actually misses the irritating questions that he's accustomed to hear when he puts his foot inside the front door. The ball and chain that chafes and weights him down is a blessing in disguise and he writes, wires or 'phones "Come at once. Home is the place for you."

Isn't it mysterious that the very freedom which a man touts as being something he wants and hasn't got is something he doesn't want and won't use when he's got it—after a few days? Yet he will go on to the grave trying to make his wife believe that he's down-trodden and rebellious, frequently embarrassing her before others by making sarcastic remarks about his bondage. And sometimes he scares the very life out of her by intimating that if he had it to do over again he would go it alone. Yeah?

SERIAL STORY - - - By RICHARD HOUGHTON

Death at the Switch

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

Henry's first thought, when they saw the light moving inside the supposedly deserted lodge, was that they should call the police.

Then he realized that if he were ever to appear a hero to his own son, this was the time. "We're two against one," he said, trying to keep his courage up. "Let's find out who it is."

"G-gosh! Aren't you afraid, Father?"

"Afraid? W-what an idea!"

They walked forward cautiously, keeping in the grass at the side of the road. It was soaking wet, but there was less chance of stepping on loose gravel that might rattle underfoot.

The key John Jones had given them was, of course, the key to the basement door of the model railroad room. Henry knew there was no connection from the room to the upper part of the building, so they tiptoed up the front steps. On the porch they collapsed their umbrellas. Henry found a niche in which to lean them where the wind couldn't blow them over and make a racket.

Carefully, with Richard breathless behind him, Henry tried the front door. The handle turned with a faint rasping sound. The door was not locked.

Henry swung it open very slowly to minimize the creaking, and Richard followed him into the darkness, prudently leaving the door open for quick retreat.

Henry whispered to his son, "That fellow's on the second floor. Hold onto my coat so we won't get separated."

He headed into the black toward where he remembered the main staircase to be. Richard stumbled against his heels, but their rubber-shod feet made no sound.

Arms waving gently back and forth in front of him, Henry advanced. One hand encountered the heavy baluster. He set one foot on the first step.

There he paused a moment. He was surprised to feel that the stairs were uncarpeted. The last time he had been in the main lobby of Wildwood lodge it had been luxuriously furnished. Now the big halls and rooms must be bare.

He climbed two steps, comforted by the feel of Richard's hand pulling on the tail of his coat.

Again he halted. This time he was chilled by the thought that perhaps the man with the candle had heard them coming and was waiting for them in the dark. The building certainly was silent.

Shaking off his fears, he ascended slowly, one hand sliding along the stair rail. He could feel thick dust. Each tread he tested before putting his full weight on it, lest it emit a squeak. But the old building had been soundly constructed. The stairs seemed as strong as new.

Two dim squares of gray took shape in the blackness. They were windows seen through an open door in the wall of the second floor hall. Henry's hand came to a post at the end of the rail, and his feet trod vainly for a higher step. He reached back, grasped Richard and guided the boy up beside him.

"We will wait here," Henry breathed. "We ought to be able to hear him walking around."

They strained their ears. A faint moaning of wind came through the windows, which were open. Henry shivered in the cold, damp draft. Faintly he heard rain beating on the roof. A slight, scurrying noise caused him to start. He quickly decided it must be a rat. Of the man with the candle there was no sound, nor could they see the faintest glow of his light.

Richard tugged at his father's sleeve and whispered, "The light was in the South wing. Maybe we'd better turn to the left down the hall."

A thrill of parental pride steadied Henry's quaking heart. His boy wasn't afraid.

60,000 Nazis in Argentina Sworn to Obey Hitler

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 29 (AP) —Nazi Ambassador Edmund von Thermann was charged by a Congressional Investigating Committee today with receiving money from ostensible German welfare organizations and using it for ends "foreign to his diplomatic character."

The committee submitted to the House of Deputies its report on Nazi penetration. It said there were 60,000 Germans in Argentina organized into cells and under oath to obey Hitler and other Nazi leaders "to the death."

Raul Damonte Taborda, Committee Chairman, in a synopsis of the report cited a receipt for 10,000 pesos allegedly bearing von Thermann's signature and acknowledging payments by German welfare organizations which the committee charged were the "Nazi political machine in disguise."

He said a special report on activities of the German Embassy staff would be presented later to Congress.

The committee, formed June 21 after newspaper charges that military officers and civilians had plotted to overthrow the Government, revealed the Argentine Foreign Office protested to Berlin against von Thermann's activities as much as three years ago.

BOMBS DROP HALF HOUR BEFORE IRAN CEASES FIGHTING

By DANIEL DE LUCE

TEHERAN, Iran, Aug. 28 (Delayed) (AP)—Thirty minutes after a formation of four Soviet aircraft dropped six bombs on a Teheran suburb today orders by the new government of Premier Ali Furanghi went into effect for Iranian troops to cease resisting the invading British and Russian forces.

Rumors an armistice had been declared raised false hopes. They were dashed when the Russian planes appeared in a cloudless sky at 7:30 a.m., today after two blackout alarms during the night.

Less than three hours later, newsboys were shouting the news hostilities had ended at 8 a.m.

Premier Furanghi, Iranian philosopher and once President of the League of Nations Assembly, completed meanwhile his new cabinet, which was sworn in before parliament.

Kuranghi, who served as Premier from 1932 to 1935, named as his Foreign Minister Ali Soheilly, whose wife is a Russian. There were no other important changes in the cabinet.

It has been estimated that the average person knows from 25,000 to 35,000 words.

Thrums Doukhobor Is Fined for Carrying Passengers in Truck

John S. Perehudoff of Thrums was fined $25 and costs Friday in Provincial Police Court by Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine for carrying four passengers in his light delivery truck when he was not licensed to do so.

Perhudoff was checked by Constable Frank Slater of the B.C. Highway Patrol Aug. 16 at 10:45 p.m. while he was on his way back from Nelson to his home at Thrums carrying freight. He had two female passengers in the front seat with him, and two men were amongst the freight.

He pleaded guilty to the charge. Constable Slater prosecuted.

30 More Miners in Slowdown Laid Off

GLACE BAY, N. S., Aug. 29 (CP) —Dominion coal company laid off another 30 miners today from collieries engaged in a slow down production policy and announced the output yesterday in its 10 mines—more than 13,000 tons — was the highest since June 25.

For the first time, the company, suspended men employed in pits other than Caledonia, refusing lamp for a total of 20 loaders in numbers two and 20. Another 10 loaders were laid off at Caledonia where in the previous two days 30 were barred from their jobs.

Phalen local of the United Mine Workers of America, in the first action taken by the men to protest the company moves, wired Labor Ministers McLarty of the Dominion Government and L.D. Currie of the Provincial Government that "we place the full responsibility of having these men return to work upon your government." The miners of collieries two and 20 belong to the local.

French Parliament Exiled, but Leave Sign Over the Door

VICHY, Aug. 29 (AP).—The authoritarian Vichy regime today exiled the ghost of the French Parliament to the little watering place of Chatel-Guyon Les Bains, 45 miles away, but saved the face of constitutionalism by leaving the sign over the door of Parliamentary headquarters here.

A decree in the official journal ordered removal of "offices and legislative, administrative and secretarial services" of Parliament, forbade legislative activities in Vichy, but permitted the name to remain in the Allier Apartments here because the constitution of the Third Republic requires that Parliament sit only in the capital.

Marshal Petain has ordered salaries of Parliament Members suspended two days hence.

SUB COMMANDER AWARDED D.S.C.

LONDON, Aug. 29 (CP)—Award of the D.S.C. to Lt.-Cmdr. Haggard of the submarine Truant which was an impressive record of daring exploits is announced in the London Gazette.

The award was for skill and enterprise during successful patrols.

The Truant, 1900-ton submersible launched a few months before the outbreak of war, has sunk at least three enemy supply ships and damaged others in the Mediterranean.

In September, 1940, she rescued the captain and crew of 23 of the British steamship Haxby who were prisoners on a Norwegian vessel captured by the Germans.

The Truant also sank the 6000-ton German cruiser Karlsruhe after nosing her way through minefields in Oslofjod.

Wilf Wood Shown in Sun Picture From Exhibition

Gunner Wilfred Wood, R.C.A., at Vancouver, who enlisted from Nelson in January, was pictured in a recent issue of the Vancouver Sun with his arms full of packaged knitted and sewn Red Cross articles, handed him by Miss Helen Costello. He is the son of Alfred Wood of Nelson, and, completing his high school work last year, was employed for a few months prior to enlisting. He played hockey for nine seasons, the first eight being with the M.R.K. Hockey Club.

Under the Sun picture, the story is told thus: "Sweaters, socks and mitts . . . made from Red Cross materials, are arriving in a steady stream to the Women's Building at the Canada Pacific Exhibition as part of one of the feature entries this year. Sorting and placing is a busy job, and Miss Helen Costello, who is in charge of the building, gladly welcomed the two strong arms of Gunner Wilfred Wood for carrying some of the bundles to the showcases. He attends motor mechanics school, which is arranging a display in another part of the building."

PAIR CHARGED

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29 (CP).—Charges of breaking and entering were laid today against Alfred Bissett Ansom, 38, Vancouver, and James Murray, 24, no fixed abode, arrested early yesterday near a branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Mrs. H. H. Pitts of Nelson, B. The Canadian Women's Institute is patroness of the conference, and the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada will serve as the hostess society.

Subjects to be taken up include food problems and agriculture, natural resources services for the consumer, nutrition, organizing for defense, "Democracy in Our Time," racial problems, reconstruction, and so on A lengthy list of speakers of international repute has been announced. War problems will be woven deeply into speeches and discussions. A roll call of Canada's effort, answered by Canadian women's societies, will be a feature. 60,000 Men in Canada Steel Ship Program

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 (CP).—Close to 60,000 men are expected to be employed on steel ship construction and on manufacture of component parts on ships by next March, it was said in a Press release from the Munitions and Supply Department today.

"More than 17,000 men now are employed on steel ship construction in Canada," the announcement said. "At the peak of the program, which probably will be reached between December, 1941, and March, 1942, in excess of 30,000 men will be required in the shipyards.

"In addition it is estimated the number of men employed in the manufacture of ship compliments is about equal to the number employed in the shipyards."

This steel construction includes the large program for production of 9300-ton standard freighters, keels for several of which have been laid and which are due for delivery in 1942.

There has also been a large corvette building program and construction of tribal class destroyers in Canada is projected.

It is expected it will take two years to build the destroyers since this is a new type of construction for Canada and the normal construction period in Great Britain is about 15 months.

Destroyer construction is still in the preliminary stage and it is not believed any keels have been laid but manufacture of component parts is going forward.

Provision of the necessary steel for this construction program is one of the great problems. One of the duties of D. B. Colyer, retiring head of the Trans-Canada Air Lines recently appointed to Washington as representative of the Canadian Steel Controller, is to hurry along steel orders placed in that country.

EDMONTON, Aug. 29 (CP) — Service station proprietors in Edmonton and district said today they were experiencing no trouble whatever in regulating this week's supply of gasoline to motorists.

Edmonton garagemen said they would have no trouble getting through this week on their allotted 20 per cent and doubted if there would be any shortage by the end of September.

Next month's supply to stations will be limited to 25 per cent of July's supply.

WAR INDUSTRIES THREATENED BY FUEL SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — Senator Maloney said today that numerous vital defence industries along the Eastern seaboard of the United States are terrified because they have only four or five days supply of bunker oil."

The chairman of the special senate committee investigating shortages of gasoline and petroleum products offered this comment as he questioned the wisdom of diverting so many American tankers to other than normal transportation of petroleum products to the Eastern seaboard.

Maloney's comment came after Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, had testified that the shortages were caused by a pseudo-gentleman by the name of Hitler and further caused by the laws of Congress."

Maloney questioned this, saying that it had not been the intent of Congress when it approved the lease lend program and other defence measures to cause any severe hardships on industry or citizens.

"I'm not blaming Congress," Land said, adding that congressional approval of the administration defence program forced certain burdens.

The Senators also learned that the Pacific coast soon may face the same curtailment of gasoline sales now effective along the Eastern seaboard.

What Japan Sees in Thailand

In terms of Japan's own ambitions, as well as those of the German-Italian-Japanese alliance, the conquest of Thailand would offer three primary strategic advantages, writes Halloch Heicher in the Christian Science Monitor: First, Thailand lies between Japanese-occupied French Indo-China on the East and British Burma on the West. Second, Thailand straddles the neck of the Malay Peninsula at the extreme end of which is the great naval base of Singapore, headquarters of the British Far Eastern naval forces. Third, but not least important in Japanese eyes, Thailand, like French Indo-China, is within striking distance of the rich Netherland Indies. New naval and air bases in Thailand would be a valuable addition to the bases Japan has already acquired in French Indo-China.

Although it is commonly stated that British influence in Thailand is predominant, the Japanese have never neglected any opportunity to better their own position there. As early as 1936 the possibility of a new and closer relationship between Japan and Thailand was forecast in a speech by a former Japanese Minister in Bangkok who said that there were "a considerable number of protagonists in Thailand for an Asiatic league with Japan as its leader."

Japanese influence must not be minimized. It is quite possible that there are influential conservative groups in Thailand which might welcome Japanese control.

In recent years a number of economic missions have been exchanged between Thailand and Japan, and Japanese have often held high positions in the national government at Bangkok. Moreover a great many Thai military and naval officers have at one time or another been sent to Japan for training.

There is an old and constantly recurring rumor to the effect that Japan and Thailand have reached an agreement to construct a canal through the Kra Peninsula, 700 miles North of Singapore. Such a canal would save Westbound shipping from Japan, China and Indo-China the long trip around the Malay Peninsula and would thus cut many hundreds of miles off present trade routes. At the same time, however, the new canal would make the great British port of Singapore far less important strategically and economically than it is today.

Although the strategic value of Thailand to Japan would be very great, the economic benefit would probably be of equal importance. This is especially true at present when both Great Britain and the United States have imposed economic sanctions on Japan and have made it inceasingly difficult for her to get essential raw materials.

Thailand has an important production of rubber, tin, and tungsten. All three of these raw materials are always used in quantity by Japanese industry; in time of war they become vital military necessities.

No Clothes Worn at This School

ADELAIDE, Australia—Away up in the far corner of South Australia is one of the world's strangest schools.

Its pupils are members of the Pitjantjara tribe of aborigines. They wear no clothes and they come or stay away as they please. The school is not yet a year old but it has 100 children on the roll and the average attendance is 40.

Al linstruction is given in the native language but reading, writing and arithmetic form part of the curriculum. School opens each day with a communal talk during which the children are thoroughly bathed and dried.

After school the children return to their parents who live the life of the true Myall native, eating what the bush affords and sleeping under the stars between two fires.

"For the most part the children are fair-haired, some golden, others even snowy," says their only teacher. "Brown-skinned and healthy, they are free from any disease. They have attractive features, are quick-witted, sensitive, well-manner, affectionate and easy to control.

"Drawing is their favorite subject and singing comes second. With no appreciable previous experience of music they now sing in two or three parts, and all seem to have a perfect ear."

Gayda Thinks War to Last 10 Years

ROME—Virginio Gayda, authoritative editorial writer, calling the current conflict a "world war," says it will continue "ten years or longer" if the United States and Britain really maintain their proposal to destroy Nazi power.

His remark was made in a lengthy criticism of the eight-point declaration of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill which he characterized in Il Giornale D'Italia has a "coarse and incapable propaganda gesture" which had failed at its birth.

The Human Side of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

No Trace of Magnificence in Cellar of Dead Royalty

In Paris, under the great dome of Les Invaldies, eternally submerged in a blue, mysterious light, the only child of the Emperor Napoleon lies by his father's side. The Eaglet sleeps with the Eagle at last. The body of the Duke of Reichstadt who, at the age of 21 died of tuberculosis in Vienna in 1832, nearly 11 years after his father's death on the Island of St. Helena, was taken from its long-time resting place in crypt of the Church of the Capucines in Vienna and delivered to Paris and the tomb of Napoleon at the express order of Herr Hitler.

The event is somewhat mysterious to the man in the street. But there is a feeling that it was not a casual act on the part of the conqueror of France. Her Hitler, as is well known, feels a certain affinity with the great Napoleon. Like Napoleon, he sees himself as sweeping away the rubbish of a moribund age, as Napoleon swept away the last vestiges of feudalism. Perhaps Herr Hitler hopes that the French people will see in his return to Paris of the body of Napoleon's son a symbol of good will which will allay bitterness and be a step toward tranquillity and peace.

Whatever the political implications may be, anyone who has ever descended into the dim and dusty crypt where the members of the Hapsburg family have been sepulchred for many centuries, must feel a sense of satisfaction that the Eaglet has been rescued from the grimy crypt where his dust-covered coffin lay with his Habsburg kin who hated him because he was Napoleon's son.

There is no touch or trace of magnificence i nthat cellar of dead royalty. No slightest gleam of magnificence. Dark and gloomy, filmed by the dust of centuries, it contains coffin on coffin, set down anyhow, piled one upon another. There is no single spot in all Europe which so grips the imagination as this dusty, dim-lit, utterly silent resting place of the royal dead.

There are two magnificent chambers in the crypt—the magnificent bronze tomb of the great Empress Maria Theresa, and the gleaming white marble sepulchre of Francis Joseph and his tragic family. One need not be superstitious to feel conscious, moving slowly through that place of the dead, of the dreadful curse pronounced against the Habsburgs a hundred years ago—a curse which time and fate have fulfilled over and over again, until the cup was drained to the bitterest dregs.

Press Comment

There has been a slowdown strike in the Cape Breton coal mines for the past three months, with the estimate made over a week ago because of it production is short by 500,000 tons. There are two aspects of this "strike" which show its effects on war effort. One is that industries for making munitions, etc., are threatened with a shortage of fuel. The other is that ships used for convoy on the Atlantic may also suffer from a shortage. There are some 9000 miners who are participating in the slowdown process. It was thought some months ago that the dispute was ended when a board of conciliation made an award which was accepted by the miners' executive. The miners themselves, however, refused to be satisfied with a cost of living bonus of 30 cents a day. They instituted the slowdown strike which has been steadily maintained for three months.

It is symptomatic of the Federal Government's handling of labor matters that it has taken no steps to put an end to the slowdown strike, that is, no steps productive of any result. To that extent the Government must accept the onus of remaining supine in the face of what is in the nature of sabotage of war industry. The Ottawa Journal believes that the Government should say to the strikers: "If and when you end your sabotage we shall consider your demands; but you must end your sabotage immediately. Failing that we shall proclaim you saboteurs and deal with you accordingly." There is but little likelihood of this course being adopted. It is not in accordance with the tenets held by the Minister of Labor. In the case of the Cape Breton slowdown strike The Ottawa Journal says; "Is the Government to acquiesce it to become a party to lack of coal to send supplies to Britain? To help mock Canada's pledge to answer the apeal of Churchill? The Government, through three months, has shown patience with these Cape Breton miners, and the people of Canada have shown patience with the Government. Unless, now, there comes a quick end to the first there will surely come a quick end to the last."—Victoria Colonist.

SHABBY PATRIOTS

Miss Kathleen Banting, who refused to accept a position as school teacher in Hampton, Ont., deserves a hand. The previous teacher there—Canadian-born Miss Mary Kozak—it will be remembered, was asked to resign because the ratepayers objected to her "foreign name." The second cousin of the late Sir Frederick Banting would have dragged an honored name in the mud had she signed a contract with such shabby patriots as that.

The Hampton trustees, and ratepayers, too, ought to get lists of the educators at the University of Toronto, McGill, Harvard, Columbia and so on, and check them for foreign names. They'd find a lot who couldn't be placed in racial categories with the MacGoofs, O'Gawks and Superbothams. Perhaps, though, this snub from a Banting will be all the lesson they'll need.—Columnist H. C. MacPherson in Windsor Daily Star.

MIGHTY FORCE AGAINST HITLER

The agreement between Great Britain and the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics on joint action against Hitler, the agreement between Russia and the United States on economic cooperation, in conjunction with ever-increasing Anglo-American cooperation — all this means that the mightiest forces in the world have risen to the fight against Hitler's tyranny and are becoming more closely allied.

They will be able to conclude the honorable task of freeing mankind from the threat of Hitlerism.—Moscow Pravda.

GLARE SUPERLATIVE

A typically terrifying Chinese dragon is described as having "deer horns, camel head, devil eyes, snake neck, sea-serpent body, carp scales, hawk claws, tiger paws and ox eyes." camp days, things that seems to take in everything but the baleful glare of the quartermaster-sergeant when the trainee says his pants don't fit.—Victoria Daily Times.

Lillian Hickey, Nelson Batting and Outfield Star, in Fifth Year as Rep

Fine Throwing Arm Ranks Her as W.K.'s Top Outfielder

One of the most brilliant girl softball players the West Kootenay has yet developed, Lillian Margaret Jean Hickey represents a great batting and defensive threat as the Nelson Reps seek their third successive Kootenay title this year against Trail.

The good-looking star, who turns 19 on the 7th of next month, wields a particularly potent bat, and in the field she is nothing short of a wow. Her fine judging ability of fly balls and her sure hands enable her to track down files from left centre over to right centre during her patrol of the centre pasture.

One of the more striking features of her defensive play is her remarkable arm. She is deadly in making her throws to the plate, as her record in last year's playoffs would show. In the first four games, she threw a runner out at home plate in each game, and likely the only reason she didn't continue such accomplishments in the last two games was that the Trail coaches took little chance with the base-runners, and held them up at third.

LILLIAN HICKEY

SPARKS WHOLE OUTFIELD

In fact, when her fellow-outfielders see that there can be a possible play on runners at a base, they give her the ball to throw in—that is, providing she is always able to get over to back them up and help them out in time.

This is Lil's fifth year as a Nelson rep, after breaking into senior softball in Nelson at the tender age of 13. That was with the Red Sox in the middle of the 1936 season when Louise Coletti, a neighbor and now a team-mate, noted her promise during school softball games, and asked her to turn out with the now defunct Red Sox. She was broken in as a third baseman, and for the first two or three years of her senior career, she was stationed at the hot corner.

She was back at third base with the Red Sox in '37, and it was this year that she got her first break in the West Kootenay playoffs. Nelson and Trail had split the first three doubleheaders, and the series was to be wound up at Trail with a seventh and deciding game.

HER BIG CHANCE

Isabel (Donovan) Locatelli was the regular third baseman, the former Grand Forks girl having had a sensational year with the Aces. But Isabel left during the week before the game for the Coast on her holidays, so Lillian Hickey, as the next best bet, was selected for the job. That was a tough spot for a 14-year-old youngster to be in, especially since she had been out of softball for a month because home league action had been disbanded in favor of the West Kootenay playoffs.

This is what the late Gilbert Rowling, Nelson sports promoter, who covered the game for The Daily News, had to say about the young Hickey girl's performance.

"Lillian Hickey, who was subbing for Isabel Donovan at the hot corner, played a great game, although she has had only one practice in a month, and although charged with three errors, she handled seven other hard-hit balls cleanly."

Thus Lil was initiated into top-flight play. On the offensive end of things that day, she got a single in four trips to the plate that figured in Nelson's scoring. The Lakesiders won the game 7-4, and consequently the series.

In 1938, Lillian played third base again for the Red Sox, and by this time, she was becoming a full-fledged star. She even beat out Isabel Locatelli for the third-basing job for the rep team, and Isabel went into centre field. That's the way they played during the first four games of the series, but since Nelson was trailing one game to three in the series, the squad was revised from beginning to end. In the course of the extensive shake-up, Lil and Isabel changed positions, and the third doubleheader was split, giving Trail the series 4-2.

TIE FOR BAT LEAD

The next year the Red Sox broke up, and Lil hooked up with the Aces. She took over a regular outfield position immediately, and has held a first-string job since. Isabel and Lil had a great fight of it for the league batting championship, the two girls winding up in first place with .500 each.

Last Summer, Lillian played for the Rookies, and finished high up in the batting parade with .440, and was the City League leader in extra-base hits.

This year she missed several games because of her working hours as a waitress but she played in enough to merit recognition as the batting queen of the Nelson City League in a close race with Isabel Locatelli and Alice Gillett. In eight games, she smashed out 20 hits in 41 trips to the plate for a .488 mark. Included in her extra-base hits have been four homers and three triples, and she batted in 18 runs. These marks do not include last Sunday's opening doubleheader against Trail when she hit safely four times in 10 chances.

Small wonder then that "Slim" Porter, Manager of the Nelson rep team, classes her as "the best girl softball player in the Kootenay."

Her athletic prowess does not stop at softball. She has put in a couple of basketball seasons in senior company with the Red Sox and the Rookies. She stole the show on occasions in running and jumping in school meets, and for a couple of years ran for "Major" Wallach, noted track coach. She is also a fine skater, and two years ago teamed up with "Snooks" Ferguson in winning the Nelson doubles title, the last time it was competed for.

New Trot Mark

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—The world's record for trotters in a four-heat race was smashed in the featured Messenger stake of the Grand Circuit harness races over a fast track at the New York State Fair today.

Nibble Hanover, owned by the Aiken stable, Aiken, S.C., and driven by Harry Whitney, who won the fourth heat after Spencer Scott, which set the previous record at Lexington as a three-year-old last Fall, and Earls Moody Guy, had also won heats to force the runoff.

Times for the four heats were 2:00½; :59½; 2:02 and 2:03, breaking the previous record by 5½ seconds. Nibble Hanover, which also captured the second heat, was never worse than second in the four heats.

Whit Wyatt went the route for the Dodgers to record his 18th victory of the year against nine losses.

Joe Medwick and Billy German each drove across two runs with singles in the Dodgers' big inning, and Medwick further distinguished himself by making a sensational catch of Dick Bartell's long smash in the ninth. Billy Jurgess, Giants shortstop rapped four straight singles off Wyatt.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29 (AP).—Excellent relief pitching by Joe Haynes came too late for Chicago White Sox today. The Browns scored five runs off Buck Ross in the first three innings and made them good for a 5-2 victory. The game was the only one today in the American League.

Mike Kreevich's double with the bases loaded in the fifth inning drove in both of Chicago's runs. Ross walked the head man in each of the innings he pitched and all three scored.

Hogan Flashes to Golf Open Lead

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP).—Ben Hogan, Hershey country club professional playing before the home folks, added a brilliant 67 to his first-round 69 today for a total of 136 and a two-stroke lead over Lloyd Mangrum, from Monterey Park, Calif., at the halfway mark of the 72-hole $5000 Hershey open golf championship.

Jack Grout of Pittston, Pa., had the best score of the day, a 66 that included seven birdies, his first-round 77, however, put him at 143 for the 36 holes.

While Hogan's lead was distinct it was somewhat precarious in the face of the steady golf displayed by Lloyd Mangrum who put together two 34's for a 68 today and a total of 138.

Still to be counted upon, too, were Sammy Snead, who had a 69 without getting much of a break on the greens, for 141 along with Terl Johnson and Denny Shute who had duplicate 71s and 70's.

Dick Chapman, who flew here from Omaha, Neb., where he was eleminated for the 1941 United States amateur, was low among the amateurs with a 74 to go with his earlier 75.

Nelson Puckster Bus Algar Marries

LLOYD (BUS) ALGAR

Bus Algar, quiet-spoken left winger of the Nelson Maple Leafs, made a surprise jump into the sea of matrimony Friday morning when he was united in wedlock with Hilda Talberg.

They left the same morning to spend their honeymoon on the Prairies.

Besides being an efficient hockey forward, the Nelson fireman has been starring in the outfield with the Pucksters in the City Men's Softball League. He missed the final game against the Savoys Friday evening and the Pucksters missed out on giving the old college try—winning one for Bus.

Algar, who hails from Edmonton, broke into Senior hockey with the Maple Leafs Winter before last.

His wife is also known in Nelson sportdom. She used to play senior softball and basketball.

Maddocks Is New King of Seniors in Nelson Golf

S. A. MADDOCKS

S. A. Maddocks is the new king among the Seniors of the Nelson Golf & Country Club.

He wound up his campaign for the R. L. McBride Trophy by beating T R. Wilson on the fifteenth hole Friday evening in the final match.

Maddocks held a four-hole lead after the ninth, and his opponent was squarely up against it as they went into the second round. Wilson took the tenth and eleventh holes to stay in the fight, but Maddocks won the twelfth and thirteenth. They halved the fourteenth, and then Maddocks won the fifteenth and the match.

Earlier in the week Maddocks defeated R. E. Horton in a semi-final match on the seventeenth green. All the other games were played last Sunday.

R. L. McBride, the donor of the Trophy and last year's winner, defeated W. M. Cunliffe in the final of the consolation.

Cranbrook to Play in Junior Ball at Nelson on Sunday

Spotlight on Kootenay baseball Sunday swings on the Recreation Grounds where the Cranbrook and Nelson junior ball nines meet in a challenge game at 2:15 p.m.

It is the biggest test of the season for both squads, each proving the cream of the opposition in their respective classes in their districts.

The Nelson team has been playing senior clubs most of the season, and has been using ex-Nelson seniors to strengthen the squad. But for the game against the crack Cranbrook nine, Nelson will employ the services of only junior age players.

Mickey Prestley will do the chucking for the Lakesiders, and if the tall righthander needs any help, he can get it from Spud Waterer, the first baseman. Frank Green, the sub-goalie for the Nelson senior lacrosse team, will catch.

Bud Smith will play second, Doug Winlaw short and Buzz MacDonald third. The outfielders will be chosen from Dick Horswill, Len Smith, Ernie Wilson, Corky Ball, Gordon Nelson and Jackie Whitehead.

Austin Brennan is the Nelson Coach.

Cranbrook is bringing 11 players on the Nelson trip, there being three chuckers, Allan Bakken, Bud Holmes and Bob Rice. The visiting players, their positions and their ages follow: Eddie Eberlein c, 20; Scotty Malcolm 1b, 16; Bob Rice, 2b, p, 19; Gordy MacDermid ss, 20; Doug Gilchrist 3b, 18; Curly Cox lf, 19; Met Ukrainetz cf, 19; Blue Malcolm rf, 19; Jack Russell cf, 19; Allan Bakken p, 19; and Bud Holmes p, 18.

Slim Kraft, former Nelson senior pitching star, will umpire.

Don Donaghy, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Larry MacPhail staged a fashion parade at the Dodgers' ball park before a ball game. . . . It is now apparent why Blimp Phelps fled the Dodgers' gold. What ball player wants to go down in history as the man who modelled the stylish stouts? . . .

GENIUS

The winner of this week's furlined handkerchief is the brilliant mind in Joliet, Ill., who invented a softball game with three teams playing at the same time. One bats, one fields and one's on the bench. . . . When a side's retired, it takes over the bench, the fielding team comes in to hit and the outfit that was resting takes the field. . . .

What's this about Jimmy Wilson and the Cubs' front office? The whisper is the latest frowns came when Jimmy wanted Burleigh Grimes as coach and the office signed Kiki Cuyler.

Casey Jones Trying Out for Position on Vancouver Gridders

Casey Jones, sportdom's jack-of-all-trades, is now turning to football again. He is turning out with Vancouver Grizzlies, new entry in the Western Football Conference, in quest of a berth at end or blocking tackle.

Jones has been playing senior softball and baseball at the Coast this Summer, after several years at Trail. He has also played intermediate and senior hockey in the West Kootenay.

Jones formerly hailed from Winnipeg.

Entries Rolling in for Weekend Golf at Nelson

Entries are rolling in for the Nelson Golf & Cuntry Club's holiday weekend tournament in great style.

Among the latest entrants are Lt. Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin frm Hong Kong, and two colorful Trail-Rossland golfers, Harry Donaldson and Tom Ross. Both of the latter were down at Vancouver for the Western open, and they will be real contenders for the championship and the Leith Cup, at present held by Ken McBride of Nelson, McBride posted a 64 qualifying score, two strokes under par. Col. Dowbiggin is visiting relatives at present here.

Donaldson and Ross arrived in Nelson Friday for practice rounds, and they will play for their qualifying scores before the deadline this evening.

Match play will start Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, and will continue through Monday.

Play in the ladies' event for the Kootenay Breweries Trophy will get under way this afternoon.

Amateur Hockey Might Be Tried Says Coast Head

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29 (CP) — Amid prophecies of Pacific Coast Hockey League moguls that professional hockey will not function in the far West this Winter, Guy Patrick, owner of the Vancouver Lions, today raised the possibility of a Vancouver entry in the Allan Cup senior amateur scene.

Patrick agreed with Folger Peabody of the Seattle Seahawks that it was uncertain whether the Pacific Coast League would be functioning when skates are got out again, but said if the league folded up hockey fans might be satisfied by an amateur league taking in Victoria, Nanaimo, New Westminster and Vancouver.

Four teams — Seattle, Spokane, Portland and Vancouver—played in the P.C.H.L. last season and most of them had tough sledding financially. Vancouver ended the season as league champion.

Patrick said the situation was undecided because there had been no meeting of the league as yet to discuss next seasons set-up. He said that if the amateur set-up were adopted the British Columbia teams could cross the line to play exhibition games in the United States besides entering the Canadian senior amateur race.

Another P.C.L. higher-up to predict an amateur circuit was Bobby Rowe, owner of the Portland Buckaroos, who said last night there were "definite plans for amateur league if the pro league folds up."

The speculation was started last night in Seattle by Peabody, who also predicted the amateur set-up. Patrick said he thought many pros might be reinstated as amateurs.

Suncastle Wins Trial

NEWBURY, England, Aug. 29 (CP Cable) — Lord Portal's Suncastle, coming from behind in a stretch run, won the St. Simon stakes here today, a trial for the St. Leger next week.

Lord Glanely's Devonian was second and R. C. Dawson's Mazarin, third.

Mrs. MacDonald Buchanan's derby winner, Owen Tudor, failed to gain a place in the mile and a half race, trailing the field most of the way and stopping badly in the final drive.

Savoys Win 2nd Crown in a Row by Finishing Off Pucksters 3 Straight

Fisher Yields Only Two Hits, Ball Homers Twice

Savoys, following into step behind the superb pitching of Jack Fisher, have added their second successive Nelson men's softball crown after taking their third straight win from the Pucksters 9-2 at the Recreation Grounds Friday evening. The Savoys won the opening two games of the series 7-5 and 18-11.

Through last evening's victory, the Savoys have won eight straight playoff games, their record being marred by only a defaulted contest to the Bombers through a mixup in the schedule. Last year they drew a bye into the finals, and took C.Y.O. into camp three straight. In this year's semis, they won twice from the Bombers and defaulted one. Then last evening they completed their rout of the Pucksters.

The last game, though, was a battle all the way. Only four runs in the ninth inning turned the game into a walkaway, after the Pucksters had held their opponents to 5-2 through the first eight innings. Though they played smart ball a-field, even without the honeymooning Bus Algar, the Pucksters fell victims as result of their inability to hit Fisher.

FISHER IS BRILLIANT

Fisher, who hurled a no-hit no-run game against the Bombers in the first playoff game, set down the Pucksters with only two hits, both singles. Though he struck out only six, considerably under his performances ordinarily, he kept the Pucksters popping up and grounding harmlessly. Only four balls were hit into the outfield.

The first hit off Fisher came in the first inning, and got him into a mite of trouble. After Culley had walked, Bicknell, Fisher's mound opponent, drove him around to third when his ground ball went out into centre field beyond the reach of Savoys' shortstop, Sid Ball. Bicknell then stole second to put two men in scoring position. Culley scored on a passed ball, then with two out Bicknell also scored when Howard bobbled Seaby's grounder at first. That put the Pucksters ahead 2-1.

The other safety came in the fifth frame when Len Bushel, the first man up, singled over third base. After Brennan had walked, they got around to third and second on an infield out, but they died there.

Sid Ball continued his mighty playoff hitting with a pair of home runs, his third and fourth of the three-game series. The first of the brace was a long blast into right centre field, but he stretched a Texas Leaguer in right field into a circuit clout when the bounce eluded the right fielder. Besides the homers, Ball socked a pair of singles for four hits in five trips. He crossed the plate each time he was up, having got on base on the shortstop's error in the ninth frame.

Fisher himself was also dangerous with the willow, doubling home the tying and winning runs in the third inning, singling in the fifth, and drawing a pair of bases on balls in five chances. Tommy McInnes drove out a pair of singles to help the Savoys' cause along, and Jimmy Allan hit a three-bagger. Vic Howard, who played a great game at first base, got the other safety, a two-run single in the ninth with the bases loaded.

Ward and Abbott Reach Golf Final

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 29 (AP).—Marvin Harvey Ward of Spokane, Wash., and Buell Patrick Abbott of Los Angeles, a couple of Western to whom the experience is no novelty, reached the final round of the 45th United States amateur golf championship today.

Ward, who drew a soft spot in the upper half of the draw, had to go only 28 holes for a 9-and-8 triumph over 26-year-old Bobby Riegel of Houston, Tex., whose 12-over-par 84 in the morning 18 holes left him six down and practically out of the running right there.

Abbott, who went to the final in 1936, the year before Ward won the title at North Shore, came through to a 1-up victory over Ted Bishop of Boston, the New England champion.

Tomorrow they will meet at 36 holes for the crown which a year ago went to Dick Chapman.

Spray Destroys Tomato Pest

By DEAN HALLIDAY

The tomato hornworm is the most common and well-known insect of tomato plants. These caterpillars eat the leaves of the tomato ravenously; in fact, they will eat all the leaves off a plant in a few days.

A tomato pest with a big appetite

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, these fat green worms are from two to four inches long with a slender horn on the back end. The caterpillar is the same color as the foliage and is often difficult to detect.

In small gardens the worms can be picked off by hand or the plants can be sprayed with lead arsenate before the fruits set. Gardeners are reporting success with rotenone spray.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

NOT THE REAL PURPOSE

SAFETY PLAYS can be silly things. The real purpose of them is to protect your contract and help assure that you make it, even at the expense of a trick or two over contract, which might have been scored if you had been willing to risk the entire contract. But when there is an alternative play which does not subject the contract to any risk at all, but only stands to gain for you if it works, you are out of the bounds of logic if you pass it up intentionally.

West led his heart 3 to the Q and A. The declarer took in his top two trumps, then decided upon what he called a "safety play." Seeing that he must lose one trick, in spades, he decided that a safe way to avoid losing more than one other was to find West holding one of the two missing diamond honors. So he led the diamond J, West covering with the Q and the A winning. He led the diamond 2, then to the K. East fired back the heart 6, which South ruffed. He took in the diamond 10 and 9, then led the spade 6, West playing the A and making it easy, as South now had no more losers.

Better play, after the heart A, club A and club K would have called for work on the spades. With the honors of that suit marked with West by his bid, he could have discarded his diamond losers on the ultimately set up spades. His best method would have been to lead toward the suit. If West played low, finesse the 10, then return to his hand and lead toward the suit again. By this means, he would have made an extra trick.

Your Week-End Lesson

Should a sound match-point duplicate player ever try a play which will produce a trick above his contract if it works, but will cause the defeat of the contract if it fails? If so, what are the circumstances in which a declarer is justified in trying this? Can you set up a hand giving a clear-cut example of it?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP) — Pan American shipping prospects, hard-hit by diversion of merchant vessels to transport of war supplies, brightened today with the announcement of an inter-American agreement which eventually is expected to place as many as 168 refugee foreign vessels in service along the trade routes of the hemisphere.

In concert with the U.S., which already has requisitioned 54 warship ships of Axis or Axis-dominated countries, the 21 American republics announced jointly their intention of utilizing all such vessels tied up in American ports

THIS ONE DIDN'T GET AWAY—IT BLEW UP!

BECKLEY, W. Va., Aug. 29 (AP) —A powder plant engineer went fishing and hooked a catfish, which he took home, cleaned and placed in a frying pan. In a moment an explosion blew fish, skillet and hot grease over the kitchen. The engineer concluded that the fish, living in the stream below the powder plant, became so impregnated with nitro cotton it exploded in the heat.

First schools were opened at Tadoussac and on the site of the City of Three Rivers in Quebec in 1616.

Golds Improve

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP).—Gold shares improved their price level in the afternoon on Toronto Exchange today while other groups continued a bit heavy and closed narrowly lower for the day.

Gold shares were down a bit at mid-day but the afternoon brought a pickup and higher close for Malartic Gold Fields, O'Brien, Kerr-Addison, Perron, Chesterville and Aunor Final prices were down a few cents for Preston, Pickle Crow, Teck-Hughes, Little Long Lac, Macleod-Cockshutt and Upper Canada.

Nickel, Sherritt and Steep Rock displayed small declines against gains for Ventures and Smelters.

A weak tone dominated steels and miscellaneous industrials, and prices were steady for foods, utilities and papers. Walkers Common advanced 1½ to 44½ and gains in points came out also for Great Lakes Paper and Canadian Celanese.

In the Western oil section moderate losses appeared for Calgary and Edmonton, Home Oil and Okalta.

New Gold Prospect Merits Investigation Says Official Report

VICTORIA, Aug. 29 (CP).—Dr. M. S. Hedley, B. C Government Mining Engineer, describes as a "raw prospect which merits investigation" the new gold strike in the Shulaps Mountains of the Yalakom country, North of Lillooet.

The first official report on the new strike was made public today by the Department of Mines.

Dr. Hedley discloses that Bralorne Mines acquired options on the original holdings in the region and are reported to have staked 130 to 140 claims in addition, and said the company is determined to give it a thorough investigation.

"No accurate idea as yet has been gained of the average value of the showings beyond the fact that certain known sections are undoubtedly of high grade. Systematic sampling has not yet been done," said Dr. Hedley who has just returned from the district.
