NAZI AIR INVASION OF CRETE IS FAILURE

Nazis Beaten Back in New Attack on Egypt

U.S.-Made Bombers Blast Tanks; Armored Units and Artillery Halt Drive; British Carry Out Raids

By ERIC BIGIO—Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, May 20 (AP).—British military authorities said tonight that a new German sally into Egypt from Fort Capuzzo on the Libyan frontier has been beaten back with the help of the Air Force, which also struck heavily at German concentrations in Southern Greece from which the parachute army was launched on Crete.

American-made bombers were used to destroy Axis tanks during the German sally from Fort Capuzzo.

The planes, Martin Bombers, were taken from reconnaissance duties for front line work in the first use of United States planes in this area. One of the pilots was an American citizen; others came from all parts of the Empire.

In London it was suggested that the planes were from an order of 250 placed by the French before their defeat.

The planes took off at dusk after the German column of 160 armored vehicles moved into positions on a six-mile front.

British armored units and artillery withstood the main shock of the attack and observers said eight German tanks were destroyed, bringing the attackers to a halt.

The planes were used to harass the Germans and their bombs destroyed several more tanks and started fires among the vehicles. British Blenheims also attacked the same targets and figthers destroyed 19 automobiles and a gasoline dump.

(The Australian Army Minister, Percy C. Spender, announced in Melbourne that 500 Germans were captured in the Capuzzo area, vehicles were destroyed and heavy enemy casualties inflicted in British and Australian counter-attacks at Tobruk, besieged British-held garrison 80 miles inside Libya.)

This picture of far-ranging Royal Air Force activity was given in a Middle East Command communique:

Heavy raids on German-occupied airdromes in Greece during night of May 18-19.

Bombarding of military targets in and around strategic Fallujah in Iraq on the main highway to Baghdad The town was taken by British troops.

Five aircraft destroyed during heavy German raids on Crete during May 16.

Twenty-eight explosions caused in buildings on the mole in Bengasi during night of May 18-19.

The communique indicated that the Nazis had tried to soften up Crete from the air before landing their parachute forces.

"Enemy aircraft carried out sustained attacks throughout yesterday on Crete," the communique said. "The hospital at Canea was bombed and machine-gunned and some casualties were caused among the hospital staff.

"Later reports disclosed that on May 16 much greater damage was done to enemy aircraft over Crete than was first reported. Five aircraft were destroyed in addition to those already claimed."

NEW YORK, May 20 (CP).—The BBC said today that British airborne troops played an important role in the capture Monday of the town of Fallujah, 10 miles from the strategic Habbaniyah airport.

After Royal Air Force planes had bombed military targets during the morning, troops were landed by R.A.F. troop carriers, the town was surrounded on three sides and shortly afterwards fell to the troops, without a casualty.

Fallujah opens the road to Baghdad which lies 35 miles from the town, the broadcast, heard here by NBC, said.

EGYPTIAN LINER PASSENGERS ARE SAFE IN FRANCE

All Are Taken on Nazi Raider Then Ship Is Sunk

322 ON BOARD

BERLIN, May 20 (CP) — The 8299-ton Egyptian liner Zamzam's passengers and crew were reported all safe today after the vessel was sunk by the Grman Navy and the Nazi propaganda machine sought to put ove a story of Nazi humanity on the high seas, obviously for United States consumption.

Among the Zamzam's passengers were 23 Canadians and 138 Americans. Passengers and crew totalled 322.

The German News and Propaganda Agency DNB said tonight all were taken by a merchant ship to the German-occupied West Coast of France after a Nazi warship sent the liner to the bottom of the South Atlantic.

A Nazi spokesman earlier had broken the suspense over the lost liner by announcing that the vessel had been sunk and its passengers put ashore in German-held territory.

Deutche Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz, organ of the German Foreign Office, said everyone from the Zamzam was taken aboard the warship, then transferred to a merchant vessel and landed.

All other details were withheld, but the spokesman implied that a surface raider destroyed the Zamzam, saying "it is hardly to be assumed that a submarine could take hundreds of survivors aboard."

Nazi quarters and the Press reflected considerable irritation with the United States, charging that influential Americans deliberately misrepresented the sinking as "Nazi barbarity," whereas the German Navy, it was said, took pains to save everyone aboard, including the Americans.

"The ship carried contraband intended for the enemy," said the spokesman. "German naval units observed every regulation in meeting the situation. It might be called a perfect example of the war on sea commerce, carried out according to regulations." (This comment apparently was in reference to the fact that the Zamzam, as an Egyptian ship, was technically a neutral.)

British sources in London and shipping agents in New York said the only "war equipment" the Zamzam carried was a score of ambulances. British officials showed London correspondents a manifest on which the largest single cargo item was 2500 tons of lubricating oil in drums. Other items ranged from perfumery and breakfast foods to automobile parts.

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP).— A shortwave broadcast from London tonight classed as "utterly fantastic" Berlin's official report that all personnel was saved from the sunken Egyptian liner Zamzam while a Berlin radio report about the same time reiterated the claim and added that all the Zamzam's cargo was in German hands.

New Minister to Trinity Church Is Named at Coast

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 20 (CP) —At the British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada firty-seven ministers were appointed to charges, including seven in Victoria and five in Kootenay presbytery.

The Kootenay appointments were Rev. H. J. Armitage, Kaslo; Rev. C. M. Lancaster, Moyie-Wardner; Rev. G. G. Bothroyd, Nelson (Trinity); Rev. Thomas Moore, Windermere; Rev. W. K. G. Dovey, Ymir-Salmo.

'Nations Working Closely Together'

TORONTO, May 30 (CP).—Right Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner to Canada, said in an interview here today that a system of inter-Empire communication between the heads of governments in Britain, Canada, Australia and South Africa has been speeded up so much that "it almost seems as though the four leaders were sitting around one table."

"Churchill asks: 'What do you think about this?' And the answers from the far corners of the Earth pour in with incredible speed. We are in actual, true and literal fact a Commonwealth of nations working together for our mutual good."

He said "News-gathering in this war is remarkably efficient," and that news reaching the newspapers gets to them as quickly as it does to the Government chiefs, although "most of the secret messages back of the scenes never get to the public at all."

The present danger spot of the war is in the Iraq area, he said, but the British force there "will hold its ground." He said the source of most encouragement to him in this war was "the heart and courage of the people of Britain; there is no nonsense, no fear about them."

"They are dauntless. They will hang on, as Mr. Churchill said, until the new world in all its strength comes to the rescue of the old. I can assure you that these are not mere words. These are pledges written in blood."

Claim British Dislodged From Gondar Sector

ROME, May 20 (AP).—The Italian High Command claimed today Italian troops have dislodged British forces from positions in the Gondar sector of Northwestern Ethiopia.

(The British Command announced yesterday capture of an important position in the Gondar sector in the course of which serious casualties were inflicted on the enemy.)

The Gondar battle area, just North of Lake Tana, has been the scene of months of fighting since British forces invaded that part of Ethiopia from the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

On the North African front, the High Command claimed small British forays had been broken up around Tobruk, 80 miles from the Egyptian border, and that British prisoners were captured.

The Italians acknowledged a Royal Air Force raid on Bengasi, major Libyan port of entry for Axis forces in North Africa.

Guiding Important Princess Stresses

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., May 20 (CP)—Stressing the need of training youth for leadership, Princess Alice addressed members of Canadian Council of the Girl Guides' Association today at the opening luncheon of the two-day conference of Provincial Commissioners and of Guides, held at the Seigniory Club.

"On every occasion I have stressed the need of keeping on guiding and increasing the scope of Guide as a pre-eminently valuable form of war work,' said the wife of the Governor-General.

"There is no better school for training young women in the art of leadership, a quality which is so lacking in our generation."

Late Flashes

LONDON, May 21 (Wednesday) (CP)—The British capital had its 10th consecutive bombless night last night and early today, although raiders dropped some bombs in East Anglia and South Wales where a small number of casualties was reported.

It was the fourth successive night in which the raids were on a small scale.

TREENCOURT, Alta., May 20 (CP)—Fire believed to have started in an old livery barn destroyed the larger part of the business section of this hamlet and caused damage unofficially estimated at $50,000 tonight before being brought under control.

Greencourt is about 110 miles Northwest of Edmonton and has a population of about 100 persons.

Church Opposed to Toleration of Vice

VANCOUVER, May 20 (CP). — The British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada in final session here today went on record as strongly opposed to the toleration or legalization of vice as an essential part of army or community life after hearing reports on prostitution and the prevalence of venereal diseases.

The conference reaffirmed its stand on liquor asking that sale of alcoholic beverages be confined entirely to Government-owned liquor stores and recommending the continuance of their campaign for voluntary total abstinence for at least the duration of the war. A heavier tax on spirituous liquors was urged.

Military Personnel Use T.C.A. Service

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP).—From 60 to 75 per cent of passengers on Trans-Canada Air Lines are connected with military or other phases of the war effort; D. B. Colyer, Vice-President in charge of T.C.A. operations, told the Commons Railways Committee today.

Mr. Colyer was answering an inquiry by H. R. Jackman (Con.-Toronto-Rosedale) who said he felt some of the T.C.A. air planes might be more useful elsewhere.

Mr. Colyer said there was every indication that the new T.C.A. Toronto-New York service would be successful. No passes and no special rates were being granted on T.C.A. services.

Singer Paid Expenses Wedding to Teacher

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP) — Opera Singer Marion Talley testified today she paid the expenses of her wedding to Adolph Eckstrom, New York voice teacher, including the cost of both their rings.

She is suing Eckstrom for a divorce and the custody of their six-year-old daughter, Susan.

Miss Talley said she also paid the expenses incident to the birth of the child, which she testified yesterday followed their wedding in 1935 by only three weeks.

British Children Learn Self Reliance

An important problem arising out of the necessity for British women to engage in the various war services is now being solved through the use of creches and day nurseries. Mothers need no longer worry about their children while they work. They are given scientific care at 25 cents a day, of which the state pays six. In this pictue a child, almost an infant, is making his own bed with a maximum of concentration and self-reliance, after taking his noon-day nap, while others in the nursery look on with half-sleep eyes.

Recruit Drive Is Doing Well

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP) — Given a month to reach its peak, Canada's new drive for 32,000 active army recruits swept along satisfactorily today, campaign leaders reported.

National defence headquarters declined to issue figures on the response to date but officers pointed to Air Minister Powers' statement at a Press conference last week that all is well with the drive.

Maj. Power said citizens' committees had been formed in the various military districts and the campaigns was expected to reach its peak in mid-June.

"The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and 90 radio stations have offered free time to cooperate in the campaign,' he said. "We will make great use of billboards, streetcar advertisements, booklets, large-scale newspaper advertising and films."

WOODS DIES

CALGARY, May 20 (CP) — A veteran Western Canadian newspaperman, J. H. Woods, 73, President of South Western Publishers, Ltd., publishers of the Calgary Herald, died here tonight.

The death of Mr. Woods brought to an end the career of one of the best known newspapermen in Canada.

For years a powerful factor in the economic and political life of Canada, he had striven unceasingly to improve trade relations between Canada and the United States. Always he urged expansion of Canada's trade "to make Canada a great nation."

Mr. Woods was president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce for two years from 1929 until 1931.

CANADA PRODUCING OWN COD LIVER OIL

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP)—Canada now produces all her domestic requirements of cod liver oil and is able to export a small quantity, Labor Minister McLarty told the House of Commons today.

He gave great credit for this accomplishment to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Eastern Fires Sweep Forests

(By The Canadian Press)

Forest fires, fanned by brisk winds, swept through four areas in Eastern and Western Canada yesterday, eating their way through sundied underbrush and threatening valuable timber stands.

Most serious fire was in the Laurentian Mountain district near St. Donat, Que., where 500 soldiers from Joliette Military Camp were sent in to assist 350 volunteers who have been fighting the fire for 2½ days.

The flames spread over a 15-square-mile area, threatening homes of some 30 settlers who established themselves in the district undr the province's colonization plan. Already the damage from the fire has been estimated at $150,000.

Another fire in the Timmons district of Northern Ontario was sweeping towards the Abitibi timber limits, one of the largest timber sections of Northern Ontario.

SOLDIER ACQUITTED OF CHARGE OF MURDER

HALIFAX, May 20 (CP).—Pte. Clarence Sanderson of Morell, P.E.I. was acquitted today of a charge of murdering David Smith of Winnipeg, Royal Canadian Air Force wireless operator. The charge was laid after Smith died in hospital of a knife-wound suffered in a street fight here early March 14.

To Operate Steel Mill at Coast

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP). — Munitions Minister Howe announced today that a steel rolling mill will be in operation in Vancouver within a few months "to meet the increased demand for steel generally in British Columbia and especially for the expanded Canadian shipbuilding program in which the Pacific coast largely shares."

Mr. Howe's announcement said the project will be financed by the Dominion Bridge Company, which already owns and operates large steel fabricating facilities in the Vancouver area. The Compnay plans to move its furnaces and rolling mills from its Calgary plant which has not been in operation for some time.

"Thus steel will be produced in Vancouver more rapidly than by any other means and without substantial demands for the foreign exchange required to purchase equipment abroad," the announcement added.

The Vancouver mill will consume only the scrap available in British Columbia and Western Alberta, where it can be collected economically and where dealers have been facing the problem of disposing of scrap which has been accumulating since the beginning of the war.

Crew Members Tell of Nazi Attack on Empress of Japan

VANCOUVER, May 20 (CP).—Six Vancouver residents who were crew members of the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Japan, told today on their return here how the big boat was attacked by a German bomber last November 9. Location of the attack was not disclosed.

The six arrived with 96 other passengers for Vancouver, on the Hie Maru from Yokohama.

Eight bombs were aimed at the liner by the German bomber, one of the former crew members said. None of the bombs scored direct hits but several were "near misses." Guns of the Empress fired back and drove the bomber off.

Members Say Farmers, Fishermen Should Not Have to Pay Gas Tax

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP)—Sharp criticism of the application of the three-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax to fuel used by farmers and fishermen in their work tonight drew from Finance Minister Ilsley in the House of Commons the statement that the Government would have preferred a higher tax with exemptions for farmers, fishermen and tourists.

After long, weary hours of study, however, the Government had decided it could not administer rebates of taxes without evasions that would bring the federal tax-collecting machinery into disrepute.

Objections to the levy on farmers and fishermen came from Liberalsas well as opposition members as the House, in committee of the whole, considered Mr. Ilsley's budget resolutions.

Conservative House Leader Hanson suggested that as the war proceeds the Government might consider nationalization of the whole oil industry in order to secure revenue.

The Minister announced the tax would not apply to gasoline used by provincial governments in their own work but later promised to consider a suggestion from Arthur Slaght (Lib.-Parry Sound) that governments pay the tax the same as citizens.

Earlier the Minister intimated payment of succession duties by instalments might be permitted in cases where two deaths in quick succession led to taxes which may seriously impair an estate.

He was answering suggestions of members that exemptions be granted in cases of the repeated aplication of succession duties to the same estate within a short time.

Mr. Slaght said he was opposed to any exemptions in such cases but thought the situation might be met by permiting instalment payment of duties on the second estate. That would enable an established business to carry on which otherwise might have to be liquidated to pay the duties.

Mr. Ilsley said he expected a provision substantially in line with Mr. Slaght's suggestion would be in the bill and if not, it would be considered.

The House approved all the succession duty resolutions, one income tax resolution held over from a previous day, all of the War Exchange Conservation Act and tariff changes mainly designed to lower duties on British goods.

On the income tax resolution, Mr. Ilsley announced an amendment to meet the case of a property-owner outside Canada whose rents from Canadian properties largely go into maintenance of his properties. He acted on a suggestion from Howard Green (Con. Vancouver South.)

The resolutions impose a 15 per cent withholding tax on all rents and other revenues payable to non-residents. Mr. Ilsley's amendment permits persons drawing rents from real estate to file an income tax return showing their net revenue.

Then if the tax they would be required to pay on the net income if a resident of Canada turned out to be lower than the amount of the 15 per cent withholding tax on their gross rentals they may obtain a refund of the difference.

The General Secretary, Miss Elsa Reipert of Toronto, said the members are distributed in 1092 packs, 1625 companies and 189 Ranger companies.

Brief Battle Ends in Capture, Death to German Troops

British and Greek Forces in "Complete Command of Situation;" Flew 100 Miles From Occupied Greece

By HAROLD FAIR—Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 21 (Wednesday) (CP Cable).—Cairo dispatches today reported the killing or capture of all the airborne German troops who dropped on the British-Greek island base of Crete yesterday from gliedrs, transport planes and parachutes, at least 1500 of them reported disguised in New Zealand battledress.

The British Imperial and Greek forces were reported in "complete command of the situation."

The report of the quick roundup of the invading air army was received by Reuters News Agency as an announcement from Greek official circles. It was relayed by A.F.I., the Independent French News Agency.

Earlier, Prime Minister Churchill had said:

". . . the military has reported the situation in hand."

Military authorities in Cairo were quoted tonight as saying that the Allied forces defending Crete were considered strong enough to thwart any attempted invasion by airborne troops.

German troops floated down in gliders, in parachutes and in air transports. At least 1500 of them wore the same battle dress and distinctive broad-brimmed hats as New Zealand troops who, with British and Greek forces, are under orders to die in defence of Crete if necessary, but never to surrender it.

The Nazis flew in about 100 miles from occupied Greece, in the largest operation of its kind in history, it was said here, with their principal forces landing in the extreme Western end of the island, in the region of Canea and Malemi.

From the declarations of Mr. Churchill and others the strange aerial assault upon Crete meant these things:

1. That the great and expected battle extending from Egypt's frontier clear around the Eastern end of the Mediterranean now is under way, with encirclement of Turkey one German objective.

2. That Germany is ready to employ the talents of more than 100,000 trained glider pilots.

3. That the Nazi command is prepared for the greatest risks, for it was noted that any soldier found in enemy dress is subject to summary execution as a spy.

LONDON, May 20 (CP).—Motorless aircraft are getting their first real test as carriers for troops in the atempted air-borne German invasion of Crete, informed sources said today.

There were no confirmed reports of the use of gliders in the German invasion of France and the low countries last year, although Italian newspapers said at the time that German gliders each carrying six to eight fully-armed soldiers were employed in Belgium.

Later the glider method of transporting troops was mentioned frequently as a possible German device in case of an attempt were made to invade Britain.

It was recalled here that Germany turned to intensive study of motorless flight as a result of the Versailles treaty's ban on military aircraft in that country. Development of her military air force began in a big way, despite the treaty restrictions, in 1933.

Recently the Germans claimed to have more than 100,000 trained glider pilots.

British aviation writers have differed considerably in their reports as to the type of glider Germany was developing for troop transport.

One suggested that the Germans have at least 1000 old bombers, each of which could be used to tow a string of gliders carrying 35 men each; but informed sources said they believed smaller gliders built to carry 14 men each would be more likely.

CAIRO, May 21 (AP).—Authorities disclosed today in comment on air air-borne invasion of Crete that German parachutists were used six weeks ago in the Axis advance across Cirenaica.

These 'chutists and those employed in Germany's invasion of Greece had fawn-colored parachutes not easily distinguishable from clouds at a good height. They wore greenish silk jackets, lined with wool; pantaloons of the same color, and on their feet were suese top-boots with rubber soles and kneecaps two inches thick to protect them against landing shock.

Their light steel helmets had a two-inch rubber protection. Their chief weapon was a "tommy-gun". Other equipment included two thermos bottles strapped to the chest.

Crete offers ideal landscape for undetected arrival of 'chutists. Except for the Northern coastal belt, it is wild, mountainous and largely uninhabited.

MANCHESTER (CP) — Several hundred engineering apprentices on strike for 10 days returned to work on the advice of their leaders.

Admiralty Takes C. A. Steamship

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP)—One Canadian National Steamships Limited ship—the Lady Somers—has been requisitioned by the Admiralty, R. C. Vaughan, Canadian National Vice-President in charge of purchases, stores and steamships, told the Commons Railway Committee today.

Mr. Vaughan said all the West Indies Line ships were subject to Admiralty orders.

S. J. Hungerford, Canadian National Railways President, W. M. Armstrong, Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Research and Development, and Mr. Vaughan were present.

Mr. Vaughan said services to the West Indies were maintained, with operating revenues up $1,108,085 over 1939 to $5,750,341 in 1940. There had been increased traffic since the war started.

Ten Canadian National ships remain in the West Indies service.

After providing for bond interest, but before depreciation on Government advances, there was available from the steamships service $666,101 which will be paid the Government as interest on advances. The corresponding figure in 1939 was $153,859.

Mr. Vaughan said he had been advised by the Shipping Controller be required for other service shorty that three large freight vessels might be required for other service shortly.

Quiz Program Martials Support for Victory Loan; Duty to Fighting Men to Buy Bonds Declare Civic Leaders

Community Listens as Audience Tries for Cash Awards

Nelsonites gave the Victory Loan Campaign a big boost Tuesday night and had a lot of fun doing it, in a quiz program styled at the Capitol Theatre. The boost went far beyond the confines of the theatre, for the quiz was broadcast over CKLN and hundreds of listeners shared in the fun and in the call for all-out support of the Victory Loan.

Contestants were selected from the audience at random and were given the opportunity to answer one to three questions. If the second answer was right they earned 25 cents. If the second answer was right they received 50 cents. And if they answered three questions correctly they won $1. Admissions supplied the funds.

CIVIC HEADS SPEAK

Interspersed with the quiz questions were community singing periods and inspiring addresses by three community leaders—Ald. E. A. Mann, a member of the British Columbia Victory Loan Committee; Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, D. D., Bishop of Nelson; and C. B. Garland, a member of the Nelson Executive Committee for the Loan campaign.

George A. Hoover, Chairman of the Publicity Committee, thanked all who contributed to the splendid program and made it possible to stage and to broadcast it.

DEBT TO MEN IN UNIFORM

Alderman Mann spoke of the debt owed by Canadians to the men in uniform and the leaders of the nation, and of the duty to supply money to equip the Dominion's fighting forces.

Bishop Johnson emphasized the rights and privileges enjoyed in a democracy and declared that Canadians loaning their money to the Government in the form of Victory Bonds were only protecting those rights and privileges.

To fail to subscribe, the Bishop continued, was to assume a defeatist attitude. He urged complete support of the loan for its effect in revealing to the United States that Canadians were not apathetic.

More important than oversubscribing the loan, however, was the participation of everyone in it to show Canada was united. The responsibility rested upon each individual.

Recalling the First Great War, Mr Garland declared Canadians wrote history as they gave all they had, carrying high the spirit of service. Once again Canadians were in uniform, as grand as they were 25 years ago and it required money to equip them. The Victory Loan provided the opportunity, he stated.

QUIZ DIRECTORS

The entire quiz program was directed by T. S. Shorthouse. Mr. Shorthouse also served as one of the masters of ceremonies, assisted by Leslie Bartlett, J. B. Stark, and A. R. Hodson.

Bringing contestants from the audience to the platform were Thomas McGovern, J. P. Horswill, John Towler and T. A. Carew. Questions were prepared by P. C. Richards, Dr. T. H. Bourque and E. A. Stromstead. T. C. Lambert was paymaster and timekeeper. Dr. Sidney Chodorcoff and T. D. Rosling were cashiers.

Arthur Stringer and C. C. Halleran were song leaders, with Mrs. Halleran at the piano.

Responsible for the broadcast were Hume Lethbridge, Walter Poulton and Marion Brown.

One of the highlights was a solo, "There'll Always Be an England," by Mr. Stringer, with the audience joining in.

Earlier Closing at Trail Would Hurt Day Shift

TRAIL, B.C., May 20—Investigation into the advisability of earlier closing hours for Trail stores, being carried on by a committee from the Trail Merchants' Association, has been brought to a standstill by the general feeling of the shopping public that closing the stores at 5 p.m. instead of 5:30 p.m. would inconvenience men working on day shift, states H. R. Lauriente, chairman of the committee.

Rossland High Didn't Get Its Music in Time

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 20 — A request from Mrs. H. Mellor-Langdale for the pupils of the MacLean and High Schools be released during school hours for musical instruction, has been left in the hands of the respective school principals, a letter from the School Board informed the Parent-Teacher Association, at its monthly meeting on Monday evening.

WHY NOT REPRESENTED

H. Mellor-Langdale, music instructor at the schools, addressed the meeting and explained why there was no choral representation from the Rossland High School at the Music Festival held in Trail last week. The inability to secure music in time for sufficient rehearsals was the reason given by Mr. Langdale.

The curfew law came into the discussion when objection was raised to the Summer curfew hour being 9 o'clock. It was felt that this hour was too late, but Constable William Stark explained that it was the best that could be done in the meantime. However, a letter will be written to the Council concerning this matter, and an enquiry will be made at the same time as to children being permitted to remain at the theatre after 9 o'clock.

The condition of the school grounds was discussed, and it was stated that E. L. Hopkins had offered to secure ivy slips provided proper soil could be put on the grounds for planting.

TROPHY FOR ROSSLAND ENTRANTS

It was decided that money on hand donated by Irvin Gureitch and Max Woogman should be used to buy a trophy to be competed for at future Kootenay Music Festivals, commencing 1942. This trophy will be given to the Rossland artist securing the highest marks in the under 18 years class.

The Association voted $16 towards sending a track team from the High School to the forthcoming Kootenay-Boundary Track Meet.

Principal E. E. Perkins of MacLean School spoke regarding the part to be played by the schools in the Victory Loan campaign, and Mrs. B. G. Lees, Mrs. M. H. Hoyte and Mrs. J. Quinn were nominated as a commitee to work on either a float of a decorated car, to appear in the June 2 Victory Loan Parade.

JUNIOR BANDSMEN

E. J. Gibney, conductor of the Rossland City Band and the Rossland Junior Band, spoke concerning junior band music and the work accomplished with junior bandsmen. He said some of the juniors had been placed with the City Band. He mentioned that parents did not stress the attendance at rehearsals because they thought the cost of instruments too great, and to get around this he suggested that a Toy Band be formed, thus making the cost of instruments less, but at the same time maintaining a musical intereset among the children. There were only 18 members in the Junior Band at present, and Mr. Gibney said he would appreciate a litle more cooperation from both parents and pupils.

Nelson to Join in Dominion-Wide Pledge of Loyalty on Empire Day

"I Pledge Myself and My All to Hold the Torch on High"

"I hereby declare my belief in Almighty God, and reaffirm my loyalty and allegiance to His Majesty the King, and further declare my support for British institutions.

"I pledge myself and my all to hold the torch on high and to march shoulder to shoulder with the Motherland and the Empire in our righteous cause through victory and enduring peace."

This is the pledge and personal dedication which is to be made by everyone attending the torch ceremony at Nelson Saturday morning. It is the pledge to be made Saturday in thousands of communities across Canada as a Royal Canadian Air Force bomber wings its way across the Dominion, carrying a torch which later will be presented to Prime Minister Churchill.

FAITH AND LOYALTY

Saturday is Empire Day, and the torch ceremonies throughout the Dominion are to be a living demonstration of Canada's faith and loyalty. Scrolls setting forth this pledge will be signed by civic leaders in each community and forwarded to Ottawa, to be presented with the torch and main scroll to Churchill.

While the actual torch is winging overhead, Trail and Nelson will use replicas, and will employ in large measure, the cefemony order to be followed in all other cities.

MONSTER PARADE PLANNED

Preceding the actual ceremony a monster parade, including every available unit and organization, will march to the scene of the ceremony. In Nelson's case the scene will be the Recreation Grounds, or in the event of inclement weather, the Civic Centre Arena.

Nelson City Band will lead the parade. Units will fall in at the same places as on St. George's Day, and will march through the City to the Grounds. Mayor N. C. Stibbs has charge of the program for the ceremony.

Torch Plane May Swing Wide to Fly Over Rossland and Trail

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 20 — At a meeting of the Rossland Victory Loan Committee in the City Hall Monday evening, the position of Treasurer was filled by the appointment of T. H. Yolland; in addition to which reports of the various sub-committee chairmen were presented.

ORGANIZATION ADVANCES

James F. Cooper, in charge of decorating, was unable to give anything of a definite nature other than to say that numerous organizations—lodges, Cadet Corps, Canadian Legion, etc., were being approached as to whether they would appear in the June 2 parade—but a definite line up will not be available for a few days.

A route for the parade, commencing at the MacLean School and ending at the cenotaph on Columbia was also suggested.

L. J. Nicholson reported that several speakers have been lined up for addresses locally during the campaign and that additional ones can be secured quite easily. He also reported that Rev. D. S. Catchpole had consented to speak at the Victory Loan Concert in the Capitol Theatre June 8.

Russell Jones, who has been contacting the business men, said that the latter were ready to cooperate in decorating their stores, but did not feel they should be called upon to pay the cost of other decorating in the city.

Mr. Cooper stated that with the business men attending to their own decorating, other work of this nature would probably not cost $50.

Ald. J. R. Corner, Chairman of the Central Committee, reported the Victory Loan Headquarters would be established in the building next to P. Burns & Co., on Columbia Avenue, and he and W. A. Darby and T. H. Yolland volunteered to decorate the headquarters Tuesday evening.

W. A. Darby who is seeking the cooperation of the lodges said most of these would have to decide at their next meeting as to how far they would be able to go regarding entering floats or decorated cars and nothing definite therefore, can be said until he had further information at hand.

Dr. J. E. A. Kania, District Organizer, stated he was endeavoring to have the plane carrying the Victory Torch from Victoria on May 24 swing 20 miles out of its course at Castlegar and pass over Rossland and Trail about 7 p. m. of that day.

It is also thought that the Torch Day ceremony suggested by national headquarters will be incorporated into the Victory Loan parade June 2.

The City Councill will be petitioned to declare the afternoon of June 2 a civic half-holiday, in order that those entering floats may have ample time to work on them, and also in order that as many persons as possible may be able to attend the parade.

A jitney dance was suggested for Saturday, June 14, to sustain interest.

F. C. Ransom, Chairman of the Radio Speakers' Committee will try to secure at least one one-minute spot for Rossland each day of the campaign over CJAT as well as endeavor to arange for a 15-minute or half hour Rossland Victory Loan program.

Committee will meet again May 27.

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Gaston Henry-Haye, the Vichy Ambassador, today protested to Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, against what he termed "an unfriendly gesture" by the United States in placing French vessels in American ports under protective surveillance.

The Ambassador also told newspapermen he had discussed with Mr. Hull the entire question of United States opinion concerning France at this time since the Vichy Government was "amazed" at the reaction to present events in France, particularly the progress of Franco-German "collaboration".

The Ambassador said Article XVIII of the French-German armistice agreement stipulates that all French airports are to be under control of Germany and Italy.

"That fact," Henry-Haye said, "has been forgotten. It should be recalled."

Hanson Clashes With C.C.F. Over Tax Criticism

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP)—Criticism of the new Federal succession duties made in the House of Commons yesterday by Conservative House Leader Hanson brought him into conflict with C.C.F. members.

He said there was danger of duplication of taxation and observed that much of the wealth of Canada was the product of thrift and business ability. People should not be penalized for those virtues.

"There is a trite saying that in Canada and the United States it is shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves in two generations," Mr. Hanson said.

"What is wrong with that?" asked A. M. Nicholson (C.C.F., Mackenzie).

"Individuals with Socialist tendencies who have nothing themselves do not seem to want anyone else to have anything," Mr. Hanson retorted.

"They want to take from those who have. They want to penalize thrift and efficiency and all the other virtues that make up the best type of citizenship we have in this country."

"Restore to the people the resources that belong to them," interjected Clarence Gillis (C.C.F., Cape Breton South).

"That," said Mr. Hanson, "is the kind of claptrap I have been hearing in this House for 20 years. If you took from those who have and distributed it among those who have not in less than a generation it would get back to its original source. The others simply have not the ability and efficiency to hang onto anything."

At another point Mr. Hanson contended that the minimum limit for estate taxation$5000—was too low. No estate under $25,000 should be taxed unless there were no close relatives.

A C.C.F. members interrupted and Mr. Hanson said the C.C.F. group will not understand his argument. The Socialist idea was to take everything away from those who had something so that no one would have anything.

"This is not a Socialist state," he said, "and so long as I have a seat in this House and can raise my voice to prevent it, it won't be."

Canadians Lead Hunt for Nazi Airman After Plane Shot Down, 3 Captured

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, May 20 (CP)—A Royal Canadian Army Service Corps unit commanded by Capt. Robert Buckner of Niagara Falls, Ont., led one of the biggest night hunts for German airmen in the Canadian Corps area, carturing one Nazi and helping to round up the three others.

Anti-aircraft guns shot down a German plane near the unit's headquarters at 1 a.m., and the crew landed in the district by parachute.

The whole Canadian company of 50 men went out on patrols to search for them and within a few hours Pte. W. R. Conahan of Toronto captured the first one, a wireless operator, who was armed with a heavy German revolver and carried his parachute under his arm like a bundle of washing. The German submitted to capture without a fight.

The plane caught fire when it crashed and Capt. Buckner and Lieut. W. H. Heffernan, a Regina lawyer who was night-duty officer, posted a guard by the wreckage, detailed men to help local fire fighters put out grass and bush fires around the aircraft and ordered out patrols to look for the airmen.

"One of the most amazing features of this incident was the way the Home Guard turned out in the middle of the night," said Capt. Buckner. "The plane was swarming with them. Our men helped them corner the other Germans and the business was cleaned up in a couple of hours.

"We took our one prisoner to the local police station and he told us in fair English that he was astounded not to find German troops in England. He said they would be here, though, in a few weeks to rescue him—seemed quite confident about that."

Famous Colleges Damaged in Raid

LONDON, May 20 (CP) — The Royal Naval College at Greenwich and the Royal College of Surgeons in London were among places damaged in recent air raids, it was permitted to be announced today.

Valuable museum specimens were lost when the Royal College of Surgeons, twice slightly damaged in earlier raids, was hit by high expolsive and incendiary bombs.

The bulk of the famous Hunterian Collection made by Dr. John Hunter, known as the founder of modern surgery, was buried under a pile of fire-swept debris. The collection was bought by the Government for £15,000 two years after his death in 1793.

Another landmark destroyed was an ancient house at 10 Nevills Courts, just behind Fleet Street. It was believed to date back to 1664 and generally was considered the oldest dwelling in London.

U.S. Goods Get Across Atlantic

By W. B. ARDERY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP). — Senator Albin Barkley of Kentucky, the Administration Leader, said today that lease-lend war equipment "seems to be reaching Great Britain satisfactorily."

Barring a change in the situation, he added, it was unlikely that the Government would take any new "affirmative steps" to see that goods are delivered.

"Of course," Barkley told reporters, "the situation could change completely over a weekend. Right now, however, indications are that the goods are getting across and conditions are not acute."

Barkley said the government would keep a close watch on the progress of Vichy-Nazi "collaboration," and added that "of course it would be necessary for us to take some action if Germany sought to establish herself on Martinique or other French possessions in this hemisphere."

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP).—President Roosevelt said today he had no news on the issue of convoying supplies to Great Britain and further declared there was nothing to reports he would submit a special message to the United States Congress soon.

Mr. Roosevelt touched only lightly at his press conference on the argument whether American warships should escort the supplies but did question whether Senator Alben Barkley (Dem.-Kentucky) had asserted that war materials were reaching Britain satisfactorily.

Told of this, Barkley said he had not known that reporters would quote him when he said that American war equipment seemed to be reaching Britain satisfactorily.

"Of course I have no expert opinion," Barkley said. "I was just talking casually, and I was basing my statements on figures by Admiral Land (Chairman Emory S. Land of the Maritime Commission) that only four per cent of shipments had been sunk.

Seek Preference for Ex-Servicemen

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP).—Preference for ex-servicemen in calls on Dominion Government employment agencies will be sought by 14 officers of the newly-created welfare division of the Department of Pensions and National Health, the Commons Pension Committee was told today.

W. S. Woods, Associate Deputy Minister in charge of the division, said the officers will be ex-servicemen and will be placed in major centres throughout Canada where they will collaborate in work of the employment agencies. Rendering advisory counsel to the individual will be part of the job.

Iceland to Break From Denmark

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 20 (AP)—Delayed advices from Reykjavic reported today the Parliament of Iceland resolved Friday to dissolve the union with Denmark which has existed since 1918.

A temporary Chief of State has been appointed to take the place of King Christian, who stayed in Denmark when the nation was occupied by Nazi forces April 9, 1940.

Iceland, a part of Denmark since 1380, became a sovereign state in 1918—united, with Denmark only in that the Danish King also was King of Iceland.

Wilhelm Finsen, Iceland's charge d'affaires here, said the island's people still are loyal to the ruling house but that they were compelled to leave the union because of communication difficulties.

COPPEPNHAGEN, Denmark (via Berlin), May 20 (AP)—The Danish Press quoted Stockholm news sources today as saying Iceland had decided to become a republic and would not renew the present treaty of union with Nazi-dominated Denmark upon its expiration in 1943.

Svein Bjoensson, formerly Iceland's Minister in Copenhagen, was mentioned as a possible Regent.

The treaty of union with Denmark was signed in 1918 to be effective for 25 years.

Hess Statement Still in Doubt

LONDON, May 20 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today he was not in a position to make any statement on the Hess case and he was "not at all sure when I will be."

Thus he left the public and members of Parliament as well to their guessing on the reasons for the May 10 flight to Scotland of Rudolf Hess, No. 3 Nazi.

Vyvyan Adams, Conservative, had entered the questions of whether it was known if the Hess coming was "planned with the connivance and support of the German Government" and whether the Government would bear in mind the possibility that "the whole stunt may be the common or garden variety of plant."

James Maxton, Labor, said that two Ministers during the weekend had given a full description of why Hess was in Britain "and all the rest of it." He asked Mr. Churchill to restrain them until an "authoritative" statement is made on behalf of the Government.

The reference was to recent statements by Home Scretary Herbert Morrison and Labor Minister Ernest Bevin.

Mr. Churchill replied that he believed the weekend statements commanded "general approval" and added:

"It is one thing that statements of that kind are made and another that I should, as it were, sum up on behalf of the Government the results of all the inquiries we are making and all the information that comes to our hands."

James Griffiths, Labor, asked Mr. Churchill to allay "public anxiety" about a British citizen's receiving a "private letter from Hess in Germany."

The Prime Minister replied there was no doubt Mr. Griffiths referred to the Duke of Hamilton, whose estate Hess was seeking when he parachuted from a Messerschmitt in Scotland but added that this was a question which would be answered by the Air Secretary, "under whose authority the Duke is serving," as an Air Commodore in the Royal Air Force.

GERMANY'S OIL SUPPLIES LOW

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP). — A United States Government petroleum expert said today Axis oil supplies are so low Britain might win the war without invading Europe by bombing Germany's "vital spot"—her synthetic oil plants and transportation lines.

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, head petroleum consultant of the office of production management, made the assertion in a speech prepared for delivery before the American Institute of Chemical Engineers here.

Dr. Wilson said the Nazi-Italian war effort was being fueled with a total petroleum production, including imports and synthetic output, "equal to only five per cent of this country's production of crude."

Name Major Leighton Chief Press Officer

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP). — Defence Minister Ralston today announced appointment of Maj. Gordon E. Leighton, former Calgary and Regina newspaperman who has been serving at defence headquarters as Chief Press Liaison Officer, to the Staff of the Adjutant-General.

Joseph W. G. Clark of Toronto, Director of Public Relations for the Air Force here since June, 1940, has been appointed Director of Public Relations for both army and the Roya Canadian Air Force, the Minister said.

Capt. R. S. Malone of the General Staff and formerly of Winnipeg, is appointed Acting Assistant Director of Public Relations for the army.

NAZIS GIVE PLANES TO IRAQ REBEL FORCES

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP).—The British Broadcasting Corporation today quoted a Cairo dispatch saying that, in addition to 800 tons of war materials already sent from Syria to Iraq, about 50 Nazi planes have been delivered to the Iraq rebel forces.

It also reported the route from Beirut, Lebanon, to Northern Palestine had been mined.

Roosevelt Offers to Sell Supply Ships to Eire

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP). — President Roosevelt disclosed today that the United States had offered to sell or charter two ships to Eire and to supply $500,000 worth of food for the Irish civilian population.

Mr. Roosevelt said the vessels could be placed under the Eire flag and that they probably would carry much more than $500,000 in food, indicating that Eire intended to make purchases of her own.

Nothing has been done, he said, about supplying military equipment to Eire.

The Eire Government for several weeks has been seeking maratime commission approval for the purchase of two ships in this country for transporting supplies to Ireland.

Robert Brennan, the Eire Minister, said it was planned to purchase about a dozen ships in all if the Maritime Commission indicated approval.

Frank Aiken, Eire Defence Minister, has been in the United States for several weeks in connection with his government's efforts to purchase both food and defence supplies.

Both Brennan and Aiken have declared that American officials did not raise the question of possible British use of Eire naval bases during the discussions here.

Trial of Montreal Syrians Postponed

MONTREAL, May 20 (CP)—Preliminary hearing of 13 Syrian residents of Montreal, charged with evading compulsory military training or inducing and abetting others to do so, was postponed today until May 27.

At the same time, the trials in Court of summary convictions of Mike Maloley, 37, charged with aiding and abetting men to evade military training, and of Emile Souaid, St. Hyacinthe, Que., youth charged with evading training, were also postponed to May 27.

BURST WATER MAIN DISRUPTS TRAFFIC

SEATTLE, May 20 (AP)—Three switch engines were marooned, main line tracks were put out of commission temporarily, and an entire block was flooded to a two-foot depth early today when a 12-foot water main burst in Alaskan Way — waterfront thoroughfare. Several stores were flooded.

Churchill Tells Why Conscription Not in Ireland

LONDON, May 20 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill conceded in the House of Commons today that conscription for military service has not been applied in Northern Ireland owing to the "strong opposition" of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Eire.

Sir Hugh O'Neill, Conservative, asked whether Mr. Churchill would agree that "the reason why conscription was not originally applied to Northern Ireland was because of strong representations by Mr. De Valera against it and that he stated that if it was imposed it would lead to strong opposition from the minority in Northern Ireland?"

Mr. Churchill replied: "I believe the facts to be as stated by my honorable friend, but I hope to be in a position to make a statement on the whole subject shortly."

Lobby reports meanwhile said a Government decision to inaugurate conscription in Northern Ireland may be announced shortly by the Prime Minisister.

Aussie Election May Make Labor Minister

SYDNEY, May 20 (CP Cable)—Several Ministers and leading members of the Opposition today concentrated their efforts on Saturday's by-election in Boothby, which may have a profound effect on the Australian political situation.

John Curtin, Labor leader, tonight further clarified his intentions, declaring Labor would not move for a National Government if it did not win Boothby and insisting that whatever the result it would not upset Australia's prosecution of the war.

He said that what the by-election would determine was whether the nation's effort was to be administered by Prime Minister R. G. Menzies, now returning by air from a roundthe-world air tour, or by a Labor Prime Minister.

Broadway Says Figure Is the Most Important

By ALICE WADE ROBINSON

You can take the word of a showgirl, a hypercritical public would keep any woman from being average looking because it would make her look to her figure.

Kay Fears, tall and terrific, is generally concede to have one of the most streamlined figures on Broadway. She is six feet tall, weight 145 pounds and measures: bust, 36 inches; waist, 26 inches; hips 38 inches.

You might have a perfect figure, too, if you followed her cue and took your recreation in the form of exercise. She happens to like swimming, bowling and horseback riding and she does them—several times a week.

"There's nothing like bowling to pull you out of the slump that follows late hours and too much food," she declares. "And if you work up a little enthusiasm, you can count on losing about a pound during the game. But it seems to me that what the average woman needs to do is swim—or else take arm-swinging or circling exercises which will beautify her figure."

The trick in swinging the arms is to hold them at shoulder level and move the entire shoulder girdle. Begin by holding the hands straight out in front, then try to clap together in back. Next, swing your arms up, around and back in wide circles. Keep your arms straight and move the shoulder muscles.

For a more strenuous workout, lie face downward on the floor, legs straight down and hands on floor at sides about chest level. Hoist yourself off the floor by straightening the elbows—and don't let your figure sag in the process. When you begin to sag, relax and rest, then try again.

If that one is too much for you, stand facing a wall with feet together a few inches out, and hands on wall about chest level. Resist with the arms as you lean your weight toward the wall, then reverse the procedure and resist with your weight as you push away with the arms.

Those exercises will also improve your posture. Considering the few minutes' time they take, they make an excellent addition to your beauty routine.

Heroism of British Women Is Beyond Description Says Malcolm MacDonald

TORONTO, May 20 (CP).—The heroism of British womanhood in the present hour of Britain's struggle against Nazism is beyond description, Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald told the Women's Canadian Club in an address today.

"The attitude of these women is cool, calm, stoic," said the British High Commissioner to Canada.

"It is as though, just as individual women are prepared to sacrifice themselves every time ha hey bring a new life into the world, a whole generation of women were prepared for sacrifice in the hope that out of their suffering a new and better society might be born."

Mr. MacDonald said he thought a new and better society lay in the womb of embattled Britain today and it must be seen to that a sane world order emerged from present-day agony.

But today women of martial ardor no longer had to wish for creation of some special amazon brigade in which they might take part in the war. Women, with their children actually "are soldiers in the front line."

"Children no longer have to dress up in toy uniforms and play at being soldiers. That is the measure of barbarism into which one militarist nation led by a megalomaniac has brought this generation of men."

It would be unthinkable that the British Government should allow the civilian population to suffer this grim ordeal were it not that the cause of the Empire was higher "than any price which we can pay, any tribulation that we can suffer, any death that we can die."

The war had changed every way of life in Britain. Towns, villages and hamlets in the country, once enjoying a sleepy existance, now were alert and active on many war duties. They were the repositories of evacuation. But no abode was too humble or harmless to be exempt from a sudden visitation of Nazi frightfulness.

"The stately homes of England are serving the common people as they have never done before," said Mr. MacDonald. "To walk into their great parlors and long galleries and spacious drawing rooms would make you suppose that some violent revolution was in process of enactment.

"Well, it is a revolution, but it is being peacefully accomplished in the stress of a war which has swept away barriers between different sections and classes in national society."

But, said Mr. MacDonald, present trails were not a prelude to defeat. They were "not the death agony of Britain."

"Rather," he declared, "these are the grim, the terrible, but hopeful pangs of a new Britain."

Old Age Brings Its Rewards

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

There are a lot of interest things about old age when you are looking forward to it but haven't got there No doubt those who have arrived can say the same. Mrs. Glackens, wife of the distinguished painter who died a few years ago, has a yearly exhibition of her husband's paintings—in her home—and invites the public to see them.

The other day she was showing some art lovers several hundred canvasses and as she walked from one room to the other she said: "See the sombre colors in these pictures. They were the early ones. In his youth my husband loved the drab, subdued tones; greys, blacks, dull browns. He abhorred the cheerful, gay colors. As he grew older his palette began to brighten. He couldn't crowd in enough gaiety and movement and he had to employ bright paints to convey the scenes. People playing in the park, bathing in the ocean, gardens riotous with colorful bloom, vines smothered with blossoms, green trees and grass — anything and everything that expressed the joy and beauty of life."

Yes, the oldish folks brighten up their palettes, acquire a second time the childish fondness for sweets, eat all the candy the young folks bring in and then sneak to the store to buy a bag of pepper mint drops, chocolate drops or gum drops which they hide and eat on the quiet.

They get the urge to be on the go, to see new scenes, talk to a lot of people. They want to be in the conversation, the game or whatever it is. They want to hear all that's said and if they aren't included they ask questions, the answers to which they know perfectly well. They have more curiositiy at 75 than they had at five.

And, what a boon to them is the automobile! Ever think of it, they can ride further without getting tired than their children and grandchildren. There's never a time of day that they aren't rarin' to climb in and start off—anywhere, everywhere—and they don't care when they come back.

The old folks become more and more tolerant. A little child, you know, never bothers to criticise or complain of what anybody does so long as it doesn't work a hardship on him. If you don't torment the child by transgressing his right's he's a model of tolerance. The old folks are pretty much that way. Mistreat them and they wail about the callousness of youth to age.

Old age couldn't be very bad when those who reach it have a bright palette, a sweet tooth, keen curiosity, boundless enthusiasm and plenty of tolerance. But we can wait for it, can't we?

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Letters unsuitable for publication will be answered personally provided they contain stamped, self-addressed envelopes. All names are held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, in care of this newspaper.

Tests Show Best Plan to Memorize

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph. D.

Many studies on the memorizing of poetry and prose have been published. Most of these studies indicate that it is more economical in learning a stanza or poem, or a paragraph or larger selection of prose, to read the whole thing over and over until it is remembered. The psychological explanation is that each part of the selection is in some vague way, at least, connected in the mind of the learner who goes over the whole selection and that ,therefore, the learning and recalling of any one item tends to aid in the learning and recall of every other part.

Some children and youths have such good mechanical memories that after they read or hear a poem or selection of prose several times they can repeat it word for word. For such the "whole method" is unquestionably the best. The rank and file of persons, however, learn such selections only after many, many repetitions.

LEARNING BY SECTIONS

The average person who sets out to memorize, especially when it is an assigned task, hardly has the same urge to employ this whole method which has been proved so successfully under laboratory conditions. Anyway, he rarely uses this method, it seems. Some teachers who urged their students to employ the "whole method" don't use it themselves when they have occasion to do memorizing of poetry or prose.

A big item is the feeling of success as a means of striving when memorizing. Having centred on a stanza or several lines and mastered them the learner's confidence tends to increase faster than if he had spent the same amount of time and effort going over and over the entire selection. Of course, the student who will discipline himself to stick to the whole method will usually save time and effort.

LEARN MEANING

Perhaps most students could be persuaded to read the entire selection over five or six times, at least, before attempting to memorize segments of it.

Learning first the meaning of the content fully might increase one's desire to learn the selection by heart. Nevertheless, if on grew interested in content and cultivated the habit always of condensing what one reads, learning a selection by heart might grow more and more difficult. This helps explain why children under 6 with poorer memories than they will have at 10 or 12 seem to have better memories. It also may suggest the wisdom of rote memory by the child, of some beautiful selections of prose and poetry, long before he is able to appreciate their meaning.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. "Suppose a child 2½ years old resents adult visitors."

A. See that this child does not rule the house when no guests are present. Guide him gradually in finding self-amusement. It takes long, continuous training.

Q. Would you treat an adolescent son or daughter as if he or she were grown up?

A. As far as reasonably possible, yes; I think there need not be many exceptions. Most of the time, indeed, one can safely treat a child of five or ten so.

SERIAL STORY . . . By Allen Eppes

EVELESS EDEN

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

Outside Bill said to Eve: "Do you mean to tell me that all that gang sleep and eat in that one room?"

"Oh, there's an attic," said Eve. "The older children all sleep up there. Didn't you see the ladder that went up close behind the stone chimney?"

Jed came out to join them, his hair glistening from a recent application of oil. Alicia, Venetia and Patricia followed him a few moments later. Alicia wore a blue dress, Venetia a pink, and Patricia a green. Their faces were shining as a result of the scrubbing Larseeny had given them. And the hair ribbons they wore were crisp and stiff, sticking up like little blue, pink and green sails.

"Pile in the back there, all of you!" Eve directed. "But be careful of the ferns."

Larseeny appeared in the doorway, a snuff stick protruding from the corner of her mouth.

"You children better behave yo'selves," she warned. "Effen you don't, I'll shore have yo' paw whale the hide offen you."

"Yes, Maw!" Jed said.

Eve got in and started the engine. Bill took his place beside her. Once more they were moving off over a seldom-used mountain road.

Not long afterwards they were all in the schoolhouse. There, with the late afternoon sun slanting in through the windows, and every seat taken, Eve assumed her role as mistress of ceremonies.

Bill, finding a seat well in the rear, settled back to enjoy himself.

A very old mountaineer was first on the program.

He blew mournfully into a brown jug while beating time upon its clay side with a hickory stick. The result was somewhat strange and weird, and Bill found himself swaying a little, just as the mountain audience was doing.

The old man was followed by six young men and women who sang a group of native mountain airs that reminded Bill of Negro spirituals, in melody if not in wording. Then singly and in groups other young people and some not so young performed an assortment of dances that seemed to be made up of part Virginia Reel, part Big Apple, and part Strauss waltzes. Venetia, Alivia and Patricia did their dance near the end of the program. It was a quaint and charming minuet, and Bill found himself planning to inject a description of this number into his book soon after he had it under way.

But the outstanding thing on the program of the afternoon was Jed Proudy's rendition of the long poem entitled, "The Ghost of Mountain Meadows." It had to do with a mysterious flickering light that appeared frequently above a nearby moutnain—a light which superstition said was a "Ghost" that watched over the mountaineers, reporting their evils as well as their Christian acts. The Ghost's reporting resulted in punishment and rewards being handed out to those who had sinned excessively and to those who had been consistently good Samaritans in their dealings with their fellowmen.

The many verses were melodramatic in the wording at times, and then again they were almost overwhelmingly sentimental. And yet the poem as a whole was oddly interesting. Bill leaned forward, listening intently, wondering if he could get Jed to write the words down for him.

Eve invited everyone to stand and sing "My Country 'Tis of Thee." Then she called upon an elderly man to lead them all in reciting the Lord's Prayer.

And then the entertainment was over.

Eve stood at the front door, shaking hands with all the people as they filed out, complimenting them, and promising them that there would soon be another entertainment.

"I want all of you to think hard," she said, "and try to remember any unusual stories of the mountains you may have heard; and to bring me any old songs you may discover. And don't forget to practice up on all your dance steps."

Viscountess Astor Attacks Home Secretary on Lack of Leadership and Action in Battle on Home Front

LONDON, May 20 (CP). — Viscountess Astor, Conservative, accused Home Secretary Herbert Morrison today of causing a "useless waste of lives and property" in German air raids and declared Britain is losing the battle at home.

"We are losing the battle of the home front and will go on losing it unless we are more active and speak fearlessly and try to get things right," she said in debate on second reading of a bill to unify Britain's fire-fighting services.

The Peeress claimed that the country was "getting a little discouraged about the home front," where there had been "no leadership."

She said that the fact the government was bringing in the bill at hand after "six months of fire blitz and bomb blitz shows there was something fundamentally wrong on the home front."

Lady Astor said she did not blame Mr. Morrison entirely — "I blame the whole government."

"It is time we got someone to fight this battle in Britain who has not such profound respect for local authorities," she went on.

(Mr. Morrison is former Leader of the London County Council, whose control of fire brigades would be largely curtailed by the bill.)

"The minute a town has been blitzed the first thing the local authorities want to do is cover up their mistakes," the Peeress said.

"You let them cover up mistakes for six months. I wasn't going to have them covered at Plymouth (where Lady Astor is Mayoress). In London it is a public scandal.

"One local authority may be efficient, but another is useless."

Asking, "If a general lost 12 battles wouldn't you wonder where you ought to get rid of him?" Lady Astor declared that 12 towns had been "blitzed bombed and burned."

"If anyone critizes the government these days they are defeatists or bought politicians or a fifth columnist. I am neither.

"The Prime Minister is a magnificient military leader, but we want a home front leader as well.

"I am here to help him. I have come to praise Caesar not to bury him. We've got to get a coordinating plan for the whole country."

"Men are timorous animals," Lady Astor continued. "They write out the minutes and think it is done. They are always passing the buck. Women are not like that. There are plenty of really able women standing idle — and we have some doddering old politicians who ought to have been buried long ago."

When Lady Astor said the government is "run too much still on party lines" the Deputy Speaker interposed, saying the debate was on fire fighting, not party government.

Lady Astor retorted: "I just wanted to point out that the local auhoriies run on party lines, and the government too."

Kokanee Chapter to Give $500 to I.O.D.E.'s National Spitfire Fund

$250 Will Be Sent Now; Balance Later

Marking a record week in money making efforts, Kokanee Chapter was enabled to respond with a donation of $500 towards the Spitfire to be purchased for the R.C.A.F. by the British Columbia Chapters of the I.O.D.E. It was decided at the meeting Tuesday afternoon that $250 of his sum would be forwarded immediately and the remainder would be sent later in the year.

Approximately $200 will also be set aside to pay for the blankets the Chapter is having made from old woollens, and $50 was voted to go to the Women's Territorial Services overseas. Another $10 was donated towards buying flannelette for lining windbreakers being made by the Provincial Chapter.

Several efforts sponsored by the Kokanee Chapter in Nelson have made it possible for the Chapter to increase its aid to war efforts. The Daily Province Cooking School netted approximately $135; 75 per cent of the proceeds from the Little Theatre play, "Fresh Fields", netted over $70, candy sold at the theatre brought $18 and the suit raffle, $200.

WOOL FOR $100 BLANKETS

Mrs. J. McDonald reported that there had been a tremendous response from the public to the Chapter's appeal for old woollens, enough wool for 100 blankets being collected to date. The Chapter has placed boxes for this purpose at Imperial Oil stations in Nelson, and also is making house to house collections. The woollens are collected and sent to be made into blankets, for use in air raid shelters, for baby blankets, and to be used as raffle material.

Mrs. C. Kelman, who was assisted by Mrs. H. H. MacKenzie and Mrs. Stuart MacIntosh in convening the arrangements for the Cooking School, reported that $134.35 had been realized, and in her report on candy sold by the Girl Guides at the Little Theatre play stated $18.25 had been made. Mrs. Kelman was assisted by Mrs. H. E. Dill, Mrs. C. H. Stark, Mrs. R. A. Peebles, and Mrs. J. MacGregor.

Mrs. W. W. Ferguson in her report on the proceeds from the Little Theatre play, stated that after expenses had been paid the I. O. D. E. would benefit by $71.10. The sale of tickets on the suit which was raffled the night of the play enriched the Chapter's funds by $200.

ORATORY WINNERS HEARD

A feature of much interest was enjoyed by the members when the winner of the Chapter's School Oratorical Contest, Miss Sheila Gallaher, and Miss Roselle Poulin, who received honorable mention, delivered their compositions on "The Canada of Tomorrow". Widely different views were expressed by the winners, but both delivered their addresses with force and confidence.

Mrs. George Lambert read a letter from the teacher, Miss D. McDowell, at the Chapter's adopted school at Sproule Creek, thanking the members for donations of books and for making it possible for a radio to be installed at the school. Mrs. Lambert also reported that a most valuable donation of books had been made by Mrs. W. Walker, and that these books had been distributed to Central School and Hume School.

Members were asked by Mrs. Lambert to attend the patriotic program at the Central School Thursday.

Mrs. John Cartmel, Regent, gave an interesting and detailed report on the Provincial Meeting, which she attended in Vancouver last month. Increased demands to aid in the nation's war effort, and maintaining a high standard in peacetime activities, were stressed as the organization's objective, Mrs. Cartmel stated. She also listed "requests" for concentrated efforts.

GARDEN PARTY IN JUNE

Plans were made for a garden party, taking the form of a "garden tour", to be held early next month when the roses are in bloom. Five members, Mrs. Harold Lakes, Mrs. S. A. Maddocks, Mrs. Wilfrid Allan, Mrs. Hugh Robertson and Mrs. F. A. Jewett have offered their homes for this affair which will be convened by Mrs. Kerby Grenfell, assisted by Mrs. N. F. Freeman, Mrs. F. A. MacDonald, Mrs. G. A. Hoover and Mrs. George Lambert.

The annual Rose Tag to raise money for the milk fund will be held June 7, and Mrs. O. G. Gallaher was named convener, with a committee of Mrs. B. Lowery, Mrs. W. W. Ferguson, Mrs. H. H. Houston, Mrs. George Schupe and Mrs. R. R. Horner.

Members were asked to donate towards purchasing of a dozen pairs of Indian socks to be sent to the naval forces. The sum of $6.00 has already been given for these socks.

The Chapter also decided to sponsor the Elgar Choir at a concert next Fall.

Mrs. H. H. MacKenzie reported the milk list had been revised for the Summer months and only necessary cases, numbering 25, were now receiving the milk.

Mrs. N. F. Freeman was tea hostess, and was assisted by Mrs. G. S. Godfrey, Mrs. W. R. Grubbe, Mrs. Kerby Grenfell, Mrs. O. G. Gallaher, Mrs. W. R. Gibbon, Mrs. C. V. Gagnon and Mrs. Nelson Colville.

Mrs. J. Jestley of Trail was a visitor at the meeting.

Judging of Nelson Rock Gardens and Boulevards Is Proving Adventure; Robertson Garden Wins Warm Praise

Steep, Rocky Hill Is Transformed; Lakes' Place Beautiful

George A. Brown and John Draper, appointed by the Nelson Garden Club to judge 1941 rock gardens and rockery boulevards, are finding their "job" is an adventure. Since no entries for either class were required, they have enjoyed "roving commission" and have visited gardens in all sections of the City.

Their latest "sortee" took them to Rosemont and to a distinct surprise when they visited the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lakes and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Robertson just beyond the Latimer Street bridge over Cottonwood Creek.

In an interim report on the Robertson garden the judges said:

"Orginally a steep hillside, with outcrops of 'rock in place', but with a flat space at the top, this has been metamorphosed into a garden of beauty. One ascends a few stone steps among rock plants of every description, crosses a narrow plateau between cascades of sarpet plants, up a few steps and back the other way under similar conditions, past a couple of lily pools with goldfish, crossing and re-crossing by easy grades several times.

VARIETY IN SHRUBS

"Shrubs include reg-leafed maple, oak, blue spruce, juniper, contoneaster, red-leafed beech, mountain laurel and broom in several shades, one white.

"Contoneasters hang over jutting boulders; wholly thyme covers others, or red-flowered thyme, or white. Pentstemon abounds, at least one of them white.

"In front of the house is a long fringe of maidenhair fern, native and spotted among the rocks everywhere are small native rock ferns. There are several nice clumps of native mossy saxifrage, with rosy saxifrage neighboring them. In cracks in the rocks are cobweb leek and other sempervivems and sedums, while thymes, aubretia, dwarf phlox, saponaria and yellow alyssum, hang over ledges everywhere. Several clumps of veronica are spotted here and there and also trollius in several shades, while Spanish and Japanese iris will bloom soon as will spirea and heather.

"Even 'Dusty Miller' is used, but only where it can be kept under control. One glimpses the vision that foresaw a rockery on that hillside."

ANOTHER BEAUTIFUL SPOT

Next door, the report continues, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lakes, "anothe r beautiful spot." This is the judges' comment on it:

"Here slopping lawns, perfectly kept, take up much of the grounds, but rockeries, border the flatter ground around the attractive house, and shrubs are planted to harmonise with outcrops of rock and with the sontour of the grounds.

"In the centre of the rockery is a gorgeous rhododendron in full bloom, and a small fisherman awaits a bite at the lily pool, while a scape. This garden however, fits scape. This garde nhowever, fits better under the classification of general garden than of rock garden, and so does not come within the province of this special committee."

The judges point out that "rock gardens and rock boulevards, being early producers, have to be inspected while in bloom. . . . "They stated that in an account of last week's fine experiences inadvertently omitted the rockery of Mr. E. C. Wragge, who is a veteran gardener and has a fine display."

An Italian Army Surrenders

Score one for our side for the capture of the principal remaining Italian force in Ethiopia—the army under the command of the Duke of Aosta, who at last has had to ignore Mussolini's order to "fight to the death."

Beside the 7000 Italian troops surrendered, there are several times that number of native troops.

We can imagine that the bulk of the native soldiers will be glad to take service under Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia if given the opportunity.

As the equipment and material surrendered with them will be available for use, the problem of converting erstwhile Italian colonial regiments to Allied regiments should not be a hard one.

Actually, this great victory not only disposes of an Italian army of a couple of divisions, and completes the reconquest of Ethiopia from Italy, but provides men and material to be used against Mussolini elsewhere in the African theatre of war.

Ready for the Tools

In fighting the Battle of the Atlantic, whenever and however it broadens, and particularly in relation to the Battle of the English Channel, whenever it comes, it is reassuring to know that Britain has an ample reserve of naval personnel.

It was not long ago that a high British naval source told American correspondents that Britain had enough trained personnel to man the whole American fleet if it were turned over to Britain for the Battle of the Atlantic.

A huge pool of British man-power is stated to be ready to pour into battle as fast as equipment comes to hand, including that from the United States.

Britain's naval forces are prepared to man a mosquito boat fleet to patrol the Channel against any invasion and to use any additional destroyers, supplementary to the 50 turned over, for convoy and other purposes.

There is a huge reservoir of pilots trained in the use of American planes, ready to fly patrol bombers said to be needed for defence against attacks on British shipping.

The same applies to military personnel. There are tank formations that are ready to take over tanks, machine-gunners ready to handle their type of weapons, and infantrymen ready to do business with rifles—all in a position to be fitted into operating units when the "tools" are forthcoming.

Dust of Gold

"Offer unto God thanks giving: and pay thy vows unto the most High; And call upon Me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me."
Ps. 50:14, 15.

God does not hunger for material things. The world is His and the fulness thereof. He hunger for the praise and thanksgiving of His Children. It is the love, loyalty, and devotion of contrite hearts that delight Him.

"Praise the Lord for He is glorious:
Never shall His promise fail;
God hath made His saints victorious;
Sin and death shall not prevail.
Praise the God of our salvation;
Hosts on high His power proclaim;
Heaven and earth and all creation
Laud and magnify His name."

PRAYER

Help us, O God, to be truly thankful for the blessings that come daily into our lives. Help us to accept Thy protection and guidance and find the promised deliverance in hours of distress and need. In Jesus' name. Amen.

CHICKEN AU HESS

As surprising as the visit,
Of Hess from out the sky
Were the headlines of his diet,
Chicken, fish, fruit, nuts; Oh my!
No mention of a bedtime snack,
Or kippers for his tea,
What's that you say? No finger bowls?
Tsk. Tsk. Good gracious me!
I know! I've had a brainwave
That explains such dainty fare—
Just wait 'til Hitler hears the news;
He'll want to get his share.
He won't wait for transportation,
His chicken might get stale
He'll goodstep right across the waves
As he roars a mighty "Heil."
His conquests will be forgotten
While he licks his lips with glee.
"To Hell with smashing Britain—
I'll arrive in time for tea."

Torpedo Plane One of Deadliest Weapons

With the Battle of the Ionian Sea, the torpedo plane takes its place as one of the most devastating weapons of naval warfare ever developed. Its repeated and damaging use in this furious running engagement provides a final test of its power. Months ago the torpedo planes which crippled Italian battleships in Taranto harbor showed what heavy blows could be delivered against stationary targets. Against moving targets on the open sea the torpedo plane has now been almost equally effective.

Latest accounts of the battle reveal that torpedo bombers from the decks of the Formidable attacked the Italian fleet four times at intervals from before noon until the light failed. The British claim at least four hits on two enemy battleships, one of the Littorio class and one of the Cavour class. These are believed to have been severely damaged. Their speed was so reduced that the whole fleet was delayed, enabling British capital ships to storm up and sink three of the screening cruisers. Only the fall of darkness saved them from complete destruction.

These Swordfish biplanes are not fast as flying craft go, but they are swifter than the fastest ship. They fly straight at a victim and drop their 2000-pound "tin fish" only a few hundred yards away. The torpedo, set at the right depth and kept on a straight path by its gyroscope, strikes the hull of the target well below the armor belt with 500 pounds of explosive. Any fair hit is crippling; for while the ship may be kept afloat, it cannot be manoeuvred freely with a huge hole ripped below the waterline. Defensive gunfire sending up water splashes may deflect the torpedo or skilful handling may evade it. But the only real defence against the torpedo plane is fighter planes swarming up from another carrier.

"A People Raising Such Children Never Die"

When during the last days one has witnessed Norwegian school children's demonstrations against the country's subjugators, when one has seen class after class march through the streets of Oslo while "Ja, vi elsker" and "Kongesangen" have echoed in the streets from the palace to police headquarters at Mollergaten 19—then one has, also, heard the wings of Henrik Wergeland's genius. His song, "Smaguttenes Nasonalsang," which is now exactly one hundred years old, is timely as never before. His spirit lives in the Norwegian youths who refuse to bend knees before the foreign conquerors.

Quisling's so-called "Hird"—or SS.-guard—has all Winter long persisted in provocative activities, especially in the capital's schools. The result has been unrest and disturbances which have affected the studies, so that it has sometimes proved impossible to keep up with the prescribed curriculum.

In several instances schools have had to close their doors for shorter or longer periods, and as the German forces of occupation have requisitioned several of the largest school buildings instruction has been disrupted and deteriorated. But all this could be endured. Much worse it is, that the "hird" members force their way into schools and assault pupils and teachers in the most brutal manner. It was so bad, that the bishops of the country found it necessary to protest against the molestations.

However, what brought the cup to overflowing was the fact that 30 pupils and 3 teachers of the Hegdehaugen High School some time ago were arrested in the class rooms and brought to Mollergaten 19. From school to school the report of what had happened spread; work was stopped at all higher institutions of learning for a while. No power could stem this spontaneous and in the best sense youthful protest action. The strike lasted several days and was characterized by many public demonstrations that proved beyond a doubt that Quisling's followers are hated and despised by young Norway. Hundreds and hundreds of pupils gathered in front of the empty palace, shouting "Long live the king—down with Quisling!" They had Norwegian flags sewn to the backs of their coats to prevent "hird"-men and other Quisling lackeys from tearing them off. Group after group marched from there to "No. 19", filling the huge square in front of the police station, singing and shouting "Long live the king—down with Quisling!"

Nasonal Samling's organ, the "Fritt Folk", has its offices on the same square—offices stolen from the Labour Party's "Arbeiderbladet". Its windows were smashed while the King's Song filled the air, under the wintry sky.

An additional and perhaps no less important cause for the protest of the youths was the German Hitler Jugend Exhibition held at Oslo at this time. The Germans and the N. S. authorities ordered pupils of all the higher schools to attend the exhibition, an order met with staunch opposition. Most of the pupils refused to go, despite threats of having their schools closed and despite threats in a "Fritt Folk" editorial saying, that such pupils would be considered unfit for office and for leading positions in "the new Norway" and that they would be consigned to manual labor instead. The pupils stayed away from the exhibition which was supposed to show the German youths' wonderful life in work and sport.

There was one class, though, that decided to go to the exhibition—and did it in a way that neither they themselves nor the spectators will ever forget. In a silent parade these 13-14 year-old boys and girls walked through the halls while not a single one of them raised his eye to view the German propaganda. They stared at the floor paying no attention to repeated stern admonitions to look up. A silent protest, touching in its childlike helplessess—a spiritual victory, unassailable itself, irresistible in its reproach.

This is the Norwegian school-youth of today, marching towards liberty and justice: A class of 10-year-old boys parading to "No. 19", sending in a deputation demanding the release of their teacher—Another class of small boys marching with military precision up to their school and, at the command of their elected boy-leader, spitting out their contempt for the suppressors who have made their school into a home of barbarism.—Thousands of boys and girls who in front of "No. 19" not only sing in unison "Long live the king—down with Quisling!" but who, also, with voices quivering in anger demand that one of their own be released: "Long live the king—down with Quisling—set free our Ruth!"

Such youths deserve to live in a free country, and a people raising such children can never die. It shall live under a new and inspiring Wergeland Summer.

STUTTERING

Disputing the old theory that teaching left-handed children to use their right hands, particularly for writing, is likely to cause them to stutter, Prof. Harry J. Heltman, Chairman of the School of Speech and Dramatic Arts at Syracuse University, declared that in a survey in which about 1600 students entering Syracuse were tested, out of seventy-seven students who had had their handedness changed, only one of them stuttered.

In the interview with Miss Elizabeth Daniels, former graduate student at Syracuse, who completed her Master of Arts degree in 1940, Professor Heltman said that 1,300,000 people in the United States are stutterers.

"Out of every 100 people, there is likely to be at least one stutterer," he asserted. "One thing about stuttering that is difficult to explain is the fact that boys have a greater tendency to stutter than girls—there are at least three times as many boys who stutter as girls."

The cerebral dominance theory is based on the findings of early surgeons that one side of the brain is dominant. If a child is right-handed, it is said that the left side of his brain is dominant; while if he is left-handed, the right side of his brain takes the lead. Thus it has been suggested that teaching a left-handed child to write with his right hand is to force the weaker side of the brain to take the initiative, thereby disturbing the whole nervous system and causing stuttering.

"After we studied the data collected from about 1600 entering Syracuse as students," Miss Daniels told her listeners, "we did not find much support for this cerebral dominance theory.

"Most of the stutterers whom we found were not left-handed or ambidexterous or had not had their handedness changed. Of the thiry-four left-handed students, only one was a stutterer. Of the 138 ambidextrous students, only four were stutterers. And of the seventy-seven students who had had their handedness changed, only one of them stuttered."

Professor Heltman summed up Miss Daniel's survey with the contention that it certainly is not so dangerous, from the speech aspect, to change a child's handedness as has been supposed.

Jimmy Demaret Inaugurates New Campaign to Hit Winner's Circle

By FRANCIS J. POWERS
In Chicago Daily News

A year ago, James Newton Demaret, a grinning, oak-armed Texan was fresh from winning six tournaments along the Winter golf trails including the Masters, the Western Open and San Francisco Match Play. "Here," said golf writers and followers, "is the greatest golfer since Jones and just the chap to bring the color Hagen and Sarazen splashed all over the fairways." Brother professionals dubbed James "the second Hogen".

Then something happened and James has not cashed a winner's check in a twelve-month. Demaret had Hagen's flair for bright apparel, Walter's insouciance on the course and his capacity for watching the clock go 'round. But he lacked Hagen's recuperative powers, his concentration and, most of all, Walter's sound game (as Tommy Armour, the Great Dissented, pointed at a kaffee klatch last Spring).

So today, Demaret is starting all over again in a new setting—the Wee Burn Club at Darien, Conn. Jimmy had one of the prize professional berths with the Brae Burn C. C. in Houston, Tex. It amounted to a life job, paid plenty and Demaret was popular with everyone in his home town.

He explains his shift to New England as the desire to learn how to play Northern courses, although the prestige and dough a good professional earns in the Metropolitan district is not inconsequential. That being strictly true, Jimmy is starting a campaign to atone for his complete failure in the National Open at Cleveland and lesser ones in the P.G.A. and along the line.

Jim says—and no one with experience will doubt him—that playing off the soft turf of the North is altogether different from the stiff Bermuda fairways of the Southwest. Here a skilled player must know how to cut turf with his iron shots; down in Texas the ball sits up on the bristly Bermuda and can be scooped or "swished". The player unskilled on Northern fairways finds it difficult to control his fairway shots and to keep the ball from floating. Bob Jones was one of the very few who could make an overnight jump from South to North courses and still play to form.

Demaret's experiences also were those of Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Ralph Guldahl — to mention only three. None of them came close to the top until after a couple of years' experience in the North.

A great one for practice, Demaret may learn Northern fairways sufficiently well to again be a factor in the year's major tournaments. He can hit a greater variety of shots than almost any of the moderns (a fact that commends him to many an old-timer) although he always must be on guard against his left side collapsing.

Fired with ambition that was late developing (for the barbs of writers and friends after his Cleveland collapse were rankling) Demaret is going all out for the National Open title this year. Funny thing is that the National will be played in Fort Worth where the ball sits up on bristly Bermuda fairways and a guy "swishes" his iron shots.

Trail Men See Former Citizens at Track Meet

TRAIL, B. C., May 20—H. R. Lauriente and Fred Edmunds, just returned from the Rotary Convention at Victoria last week, report meeting several former Trailites at the track meet held between the Washington State College, Pullman, and the University of Washington at Seattle on May 10.

"We just decided to attend the track meet, and ran into them, all in a bunch," stated Mr. Lauriente. The "bunch" were Pat Haley, now famous Trail sprinter; Jack Buchanan, son of James Buchanan, General Manager of the C. M. & S. Company, a student at the University of Washington; "Doc" C. A. Mittun, Trail chiropractor, who recently moved to Seattle; Don McKenzie, former Rossland ball player, now Professor of Accountancy and Business Standards at Washington University and Bobby Morris, who played baseball in Trail in 1927, and who is now County Auditor at Seattle.

Mr. Lauriente said that young Haley was certainly making a "big hit" down in Seattle, and they called him the "one-man track team". Incidentally he and Mr. Edmunds took the "one-man track team" to supper.

"Doc" Mittun informed them that he was "doing finely".

Billy Jurges' Comeback Will Be Rated as One of 1941's Most Outstanding

NEW YORK—When they close out this year of 1941 with the usual choices of outstanding performances and such we will be ready to bob right up to move and second the nomination for the finest comeback, next to a possible return of sanity to this erupting world.

The comeback is that of Billy Jurges. Less than a year ago he was flirting with the undertaker and less than two months ago he was coming down with periodic spells which left him dizzier than a fly on a pinwheel.

His baseball future appeared to be definitely behind him. When he was felled by one of Bucky Walters' pitches last June 23 the blow seemed to have left a permanent stamp. He never knew when things would start twirling in his head; when the world would start spinning about him.

Weeks dragged by into months and the expected relief failed to materialize. The average citizen would have become panicky, would have given up all thought of strenuous physical exertion, haunted by the fear something might snap.

Jurges not only contemplated returning to the game which was responsible for his injury; he tried to return while the bells were still ringing in his head. When he suffered a dizzy spell just before an exhibition game at Havana, there did not seem any hope for his return.

The Giants shipped him to the Mayo clinic, but even Bill Terry, who admitted the fate of the team largely depended on the shortstop's ability to play, was pessimistic. We recall him silently showing a telegram from his absent star.

"Nothing definite to report," it read. "Glad the team is going well."

That was all, and Terry started to prepare for the worst. Then very abruptly Jurges returned. They had discovered what was wrong, and here he is, playing championship ball for what is now, at least, a faltering club.

Maybe that's what makes a champion, the ability to fight back from the dark hours, to stand up there fearlessly and face speeding balls, knowing what they can do. A lesser man, if he again dared to play, would keep one foot in the dugout.

Yet here he is, hitting well and without a head shield, and as always providing the spark for his team.

He's a tough aggressive gent, with a stormy trail behind him. He's come a wingin' from gunshot wound fines, suspensions, operations, lame arms, and other career-endangering incidents. Three times he was fined for abusing umpires; he went out in 1934 with appendicitis. In May 1936, he was believed lost for the season when he injured his arm, but they couldn't keep him out.

He's got what every great athlet must have—heart. He hasn't played every game of any season since he came up to the Cubs from Louisville in 1931 but it wasn't because he didn't want to be in there every minute.

And now he's come back from the deepest shadow to play as if his head had never felt the stunning impact of a baseball. He rates the comeback prize for even trying.

Dodgers Have Written Proof Against Cubs

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP).—Travelling Secretary John McDonald of the Brooklyn Baseball Club said today that Brooklyn Dodgers have written proof that Chicago Cubs were over the 25-player limit Sunday and Monday when they defeated the Dodgers. Manager Leo Durocher of Brooklyn has protested the games.

McDonald said the 26th player was Charles Gilbert, acquired by the Cubs from Montreal, Brooklyn farm, in the deal of the $50,000 purchase of Second Baseman Billy Herman.

"Correspondence in the office of the Montreal Club shows the player was ordered to report to the Cubs on May 16," McDonald said.

The Cubs cut loose Al Todd, 34-year-old catcher, from the player list today, but James T. Gallagher, General Manager, said that action was not caused by the protest.

5 Couples Still in the Race for Jefferson Cup

TRAIL, B. C., May 20 — Play for the Jefferson Trophy, mixed handicap golf tournament, which commenced at the Rossland-Trail Golf Club Saturday, has been delayed by uncertain weather, and also by three tie plays made by K. McBean and his partner, Mrs. E. W. Hazelwood.

In the first round, McBean and Mrs. Hazelwood tied twice on Saturday with E. Hill and Miss Mary O'Donnell. A third game Sunday morning broke the tie, resulting in a win for the McBean-Hazelwood combination.

The tie jinx haunted the couple again, however, when they ended up even with James Atwell and Miss T. Rossman Sunday afternoon, and the game has yet to be played off.

Play has advanced to the first half of the semi-finals, and to the second round of the consolation play, each event waiting for the tie teams to come to a play decision.

Goofers Visit Desreux When Are at Coast

"We saw Dave Desreux when we were down at Vancouver last week," Tony Arcure of the Gas House Goofers said Tuesday. "He's sure a husky fellow now."

Arcure said that Desreux plans to work at Vancouver during the Summer. In the 1939-40 season before he turned pro with Vancouver Lions, Desreux played for Nelson Maple Leafs, and used to chum around with the Goofers.

The Nelson bowlers also saw Owen (Lulu) Lennon, another Lion, who is a brother of Tommy Lennon of Nelson, Lou Labovitch and Jack Riley, of the same team. Riley's father is well-known in Nelson, having a C. P. R. run here from the Coast.

Cards' First Place Margin Slips as Phils Win; Cubs Defeat Dodgers 9-1; A's in Sweep; Yanks Edge Out Browns

(By The Canadian Press)

St. Louis Cardinals retained the National League lead by a fractional margin over Brooklyn yesterday after losing to the last-place Philadelphia Phillies 6-4. Until the sixth inning it seemed to be an easy victory for the Cards.

Then up stepped pinch hitter George Jumonville, a six-footer who drove in 100 runs for Ottawa last season, to hit a home run into the left field bleachers. The Phils scored another run that inning, another in the seventh and the tying tally in the eighth.

In the 11th Emmett Mueller was hit by a pitch of Ira Hutchinson. Bob Gragan forced him at second. Warren singled Bragan to third and Marnie drove him home. After Pearson struck out Merrill May singled Warren across the plate.

Pittsburgh Pirates broke through New York Giants' defence for three runs in the seventh inning and a 7-5 victory in the deciding encounter of the three-game series.

After Lee Handley had tripled and scored on Bob Elliott's single to drive Hal Schumacher from the mound, Arky Vaughan greeted relief pitcher Cliff Melton with his first homer of the season to sew up the game. The defeat was Schumacher's third as against as many victories.

Cincinnati Reds put on one of those ninth-inning rallies that made them the world champions last year and snatched their third straight victory from Boston Braves, 9-6. Frank McCormick's seventh home run of the year, coming with the score tied, two out, and two on, capped a six-run explosion.

Chicago Cubs crushed Brooklyn Dodgers again, 9-1, sweeping the three-game National League series and extending the flatbush losing streak to four straight. In cooling Brooklyn's pennant fever, the Cubs whipped the Dodgers' three best pitchers and gave the losers only two earned runs in the three games. Dodgers came to Chicago with 22 victories in their previous 26 games.

The Athletics mauled the American League-leading Cleveland Indians again to sweep a three-game series, 6-5, as rookie pitcher Tom Ferrick starred once more in a relief role.

Ferrick, who gave the Indians only four hits in 4 2-3 innings after he replaced Johnny Babich in Sunday's game, succeeded Nelson Potter in the eighth inning today. Ferrick did not permit a man to reach first base in the two innings he pitched.

The victory, however, went to Bump Hadley. Hadley went into the seventh with a 6-2 lead but was knocked out before retiring a man.

St. Louis Browns made six errors to throw away a 10-9 American League decision to New York Yankees. The Brownies combed three New York pitchers for 13 hits, including two home runs by Harlond Clift and one by Roy Cullenbine. Bill Dickey of Yanks bagged a three-run homer in the eighth.

Chicago White Sox shelled Dutch Leonard from the hill and trimmed Washington 5-2 to sweep a three-game American League series. Southpaw Thornton Lee let the Senators down with six hits in registering his fourth victory.

Earl Johnson, youthful Boston Red Sox left hander, ruined Hal Newhouser's 20th birthday party, letting Detroit Tigers down with four hits as his team snapped its five-game losing streak with a 4-2 triumph. Not until the ninth did the Tigers score. Then Paddy Mullin singled and came home on Rudy York's home run.

LOU STRINGER

Not as much publicized as his fellow teammate, Lou Novikoff, the "Mad Russian," Lou Stringer, star second sacker of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, is expected to make a strong bid for a regular job with the Chicago Cubs this year.

Stringer's batting average, .323 with the Angels, is well worth attention as is his ability to hit in the pinches. Last year Stringer managed to poke out some vital home runs in extra innings to win important games.

Born in Grand Rapids, Mich., Stringer went to school on the coast, graduating from Washington high in Los Angeles in 1937. He spent two years at Ponca City before playing with the Angels for the last two seasons.

Stringer is a righthanded hitter, stands an inch under six feet, weighs 173 pounds and is 23 years old.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)— Joe Cronin, tearing a page from Bill Terry's book, has barred the Press from the clubroom after the game. But no one is fretting. If the Sox keep going like they did last week, the scribes will see all they want of them on the field.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY:

Of the six leading hitters yesterday in the two big leagues, four are shortstops—Travis, Jurges, Cronin and Vaughan. . . . and those who think the Reds are through: Jimmy Wilson . . . the North Carolina U. tennis team, which thought it had a national collegiate record with 51 straight wins, must go way back and sit down. Up bobs the coach less Spring Hill College team with 53 in a row. . . . Lots of folks are wondering why the Cubs don't try to make a first sacker out of Dizzy Dean.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR:

Herbert Simons, Chicago Times: "Having pitched only one inning this season, the first against Pittsburgh, April 25, in which two Buccos tripled and another singled—Dizzy Dean thus gets 10 G's for an inning's work—a new high even for the era's most fabulous baseball fellow."

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP) —Lew Jenkins, of Sweetwater, Tex., recognized in New York as world lightweight champion and Sammy Angott of Louisville, the N. B. A. titleholder will clash in a 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden Sept. 5, it was announced today.

Whirly Easily Beats Mioland

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP). — Whirlaway put in a big early bid for the "horse of the year" honors today by easily whipping Mioland in a race that could be termed "Belmont's $50,000 bargain."

Making the first start of his career against older horses, Warren Wright's Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner hit his handicap rivals at the head of the stretch and ran away from them.

He did it this time without his "brains" in the saddle. For Eddie Arcaro, the jockey hired to keep Whacky Whirly running in a straight line in the Derby and the Preakness, was riding against him. Little Wendell Eads booted him home just as easily as Eddie.

At the finish, Whirly was two lengths on top, while Mioland barely nosed out Mrs. Payne Whitney's Hash, piloted by Arcaro, for place. Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance was fourth and Gus Ring's Ringie last in the five-horse field.

Whirly won the race — running the mile and one-sixteenth in 1.43 3-5 — but the real winner of the show was Belmont Park which paid only a total of $2500 for this attraction and had a surprise field good enough for any $50,000 stake.

Whirlaway paid $3.50, $2.70 and $2.30 across the board. Mioland paid $3.00 and $2.40 and Hash $2.80 for show.

Boston Ball Park Picketed by Union

BOSTON, May 20 (AP)—Fenway Park, home of the Boston Red Sox, was picketed today by members of local 30, building service workers union (A.F.L.) in protest against what they said was the club's refusal to recognize the Union.

Luke Taylor, President of the Local, said that 21 maintenance workers at both Fenway Park and Braves Field, home of Boston's National League club, had been forced by the ball clubs to resign from the Union, but that the State Labor Board, after two hearings this May, had directed both clubs to post notices recognizing the right of employees to join the Union.

Tom Yawkey, owner of the Red Sox, and John Quinn, Secretary of the Braves, both denied the charges of coercion.

Lawn Bowlers to Open Season on Greens Saturday

The Nelson Lawn Bowling Club opens its season at the C.P.R. greens Saturday afternoon, and an invitation is being extended to bowlers at Kaslo and Trail, and also to the Nelson platoon of the Veterans Guard, to enjoy an afternoon of recreation.

A man has been working on the greens for the past month, and they are now in fine condition. A good turnout is expected for the first day of lawn bowling, and during the following week, when the greens will, as in the past, be open to the public.

Concessions will be made to the Veterans Guard members in an effort to bring them into the Club.

Buckna Tells of Majesties' Visit to 2nd Division

"We are all in good health and are enjoying fine weather; the weatherman must be kind because in a softball game the other day we ran out four umpires before we decided to use one for the remainder of the game," writes Gunner Joseph Buckna from England to Daily News reader.

"Speaking of umpires, we were shocked at the death of Don Stewart. Many of Don's Vancouver friends are in our regiment, and of course nearly all of us from the Kootenay knew him from the seasons he spent at Trail.

"The third convoy of mail has arrived from Canada, and what a honey of a mail! Lots of it. That's what keeps our spirits high and optimistic.

"We have heard that Canadians hear rumors to the effect that we are all elsewhere but in England. Rumors, propaganda and lies such as this have put nations under the ruling hand of Hitler, so please do not allow this sort of thing to continue. Get to the bottom of it all.

"The King and Queen paid the Second Canadian Division a visit and as always they proved themselves very popular with the Canadian soldiers as they have with the people in England and the British Empire whom they met in their travel.

KING A REAL SOLDIER

"The King seemed very pleased with his rough ride in the Bren gun carrier. A real soldier! The Queen, too, captured the hearts of everyone present.

"Another great event was the personal appearance at a Canadian Legion sponsored show. There were many Kootenay lads presen, and I'm sure everyone had a good time.

"Newsreel photos were taken, and the Indian war hoop went over big with Formby. A sing-song was enjoyed and a pleasant evening quickly sped by.

"The Canadian Legion, Salvation Army, Y.M.C.A. and the Knights of Columbus are to be complimented for the excellent work they are doing to make the lads feel at home and to supply them with film shows, variety shows, stationery, sports equipment and reading material.

"The lads are keeping in grand shape with a lot of softball, baseball, soccer, running and gym work.

"We heard the radio announcer say that Trail Smoke Eaters were eliminated, and it was a hard one to believe because last week the announcer stated that Trail had two games and a draw to its credit, and would need only a draw to advance. But I guess we can lose as well as we can win. Must have been a bangup series."

Dodgers Change Their Tune Now That Kampouris Wins Spot in Their Lineup

By JOHN CHINGER
In the New York Daily News

You have often heard the expression, "It depends on where you sit how the picture looks." And when it comes to discussing Alex Kampouris the old saying just fits the Dressen, the Dodger board of strategy. This trio found a million things wrong with Kampouris when he was a member of the Giants two years ago. They pointed out all Bill Terry's guile had not changed Kampouris one iota since he was obtained from the Reds and his former manager, Dressen, was most outspoken in this blast of criticism at the little Greek. They have changed their tune, however, now that Pete Coscarart has failed to deliver at the plate and Kampouris has replaced him in the lineup.

Perhaps pride and enthusiasm in their ball clubs make managers and coaches deride players on opposing benches, then praise them to the skies when they are obtained in a trade. They appear foolish, however when the player whose ability they blasted so unmercifully, breaks into the regular lineup on their own club. And to make it doubly embarrassing, the player ousted is usually rated as the best in his position.

That's the spot Brooklyn's triumvirate is in now that Kamp has won the second-base job away from Pete Coscarart. It began during the Winter of 1938-39 when Bill Terry was forced to name the Greek as his regular second baseman for the '39 season. This was due to the Burgess Whitehead. In a fanning bee, the Brooklyn board of trategy called Kamp a minor leaguer. He was a poor hitter and rated a stupid fielder.

Each had his turn to knock down the kid's ability. Then spoke Dressen: "He can't play batters and can't follow instructions. Remember how Terry used to drive those balls down over second base?" queried Chuck, continuing his spiel.

"Well, when I managed the Reds I told Kampouris to stand at second base and when the pitcher wound up to take two steps back toward right centre and that would put him in the spot where Bill usually drove the ball. The kid would do that on the first two pitches, then walk over to the usual spot for a left-handed hitter, between first and second. I never failed after he did this, Terry would send a hit to centrefield, which should have been an out if Kampouris had followed instructions. No sir, he will never be a big league second baseman."

Giggles up the usual sleeves were in order when Kampy did fail and was released by the Giants to Newark in part payment for Mickey Witek. The Greek had a word for it and it meant comeback. He was drafted by the Dodgers because of his home run hitting in the International League. His fielding was did not want him for a regular player. He was to be insurance, should the injury jinx visit the Dodgers and affect Pete Coscarart, whom Brooklyn called the best fielding second baseman in the majors. There was no chance for this ugly duckling of baseball to replace the graceful Coscarart.

However, baseball is just another business in which men have had to eat their own words as those Dodger major domos are now eating 'em. Kampouris is playing regularly and doing a fairly good job, while their much-praised Coscarart is on the bench. There is no doubt Pete is a better fielder than Kampy, but the Dodgers want punch in their batting order and expect the Greek, who two years ago they said would never be a big leaguer, to supply it.

Bombers, C.Y.O. to Play In City Softball Today

Officials of the Nelson Softball Association are crossing their fingers lest something goes wrong this evening. Twice they've expected the opening game of the men's league to be played, but as many times it was postponed.

But this evening at 5:30 High School Blue Bombers and C.Y.O. are scheduled to play a game at the Recreation Grounds, that was rained out last Friday. Sunday's Pucksters-Savoys game was called off because of the fact that the Savoy team was not prepared to field a team yet.

Ernie Colman is the Bombers' choice for hurling duties and it will be his third mound assignment in as many nights. Monday and Tuesday he pitched for Prospectors in the Church League.

The Catholics' chucker will be Art Ross. Chuck French and Jimmy Eccles, who have been assigned infield positions, can also be used if Art decides he is not in shape yet to hurl the full game.

Lineups follow:

C. Y. O.: Teddy Romano c, Art Ross p, Joe DeLucrezio 1b, Louis Maglio 2b, Chuck French ss, Jimmy Eccles 3b, and Rev. Edward Doyle, Mickey Prestley, Bernard Kelly and Johnny Aurelio, outfielders.

Bombers: Bob Collinson c, Ernie Colman p, Elmer Tattrie 1b, Guy Cawley 2b, Doug Winlaw ss, Walter Wood 3b, Joe Hilliard lf, Olaf Hopland cf and Earl Jorgenson rf. Einar Domeij and Bud Smith are spares.

The next game is scheduled for Friday when C. Y. O. plays the Pucksters.

Gerald Simpson to Play for Rossland

Gerald Simpson, former catcher for the Trail Cardinals, is expected to line up with the Rossland Miners, who are returning to the West Kootenay Baseball League this Summer.

League officials have given Rossland permission to bolster its squad with available talent in Trail, provided a second Trail team is not formed.

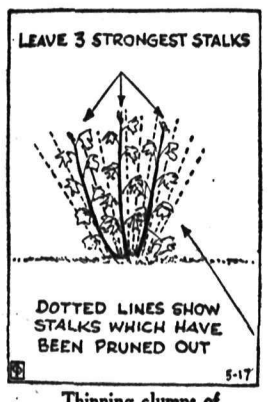
Thinning Clumps of Perennials

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Established clumps of perennials which have not been divided for some time are apt to overdo themselves and send up far too many flower spikes.



Thinning clumps of perennials

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph this delphinium plant sent up 13 stalks. All were thinned out, leaving only three of the strongest to produce flowers. Three or five are all that should be allowed to remain, all the others being removed shortly after they make some growth

If all the spikes are allowed to flower not many would attain their full size and beauty. This thinning goes far toward counteracting the bad effects of overcrowding.

Cryptoquotes are quotations of famous persons written in cipher. A substitute character has replaced the original letter. For instance, an "R" may substitute for the original "E" throughout the entire cryptoquote, or a "BB" may replace an "LL". Find the key and follow through to the solution.

FOUR ON ONE SIDE

REAL EXPERTS play a different kind of bridge against average players from that which they use against each other. Then they bring into use an entirely new set of extra weapons. The first of these is employed to take advantage of the mistakes made by ordinary mortals, the second consists of building situations which enable them to profit if the opponents do make a certain mistake, and the third lures the opponents into making those mistakes. Sometimes all of them are combined in one hand.

Charles H. Goren, great Philadelphia cardsman, who outranked everybody in the land in the 1938-39 season, played this hand for a top score in the annual tournament of the beautiful Skytop club in the Pocono mountains of Pennsylvania. West led his diamond 3, which Mr. Goren allowed to run to his K over East's Q, then led the club 10, covered by the J and K. He returned the club 7 and, when East discarded a heart, let it run to the Q. West here made his first bad error, leading the diamond 5, which presented a trick to the 10.

Followed then three clubs and a spade to the 8, 9 and 10. If East had not discarded one of his diamonds on the clubs, return of his last one now would have broken up a squeeze, but he had already made that error, so returned his heart K. Mr. Goren won that with the dummy's A and then led the diamond A, which squeezed East. With the Q-J-4 of spades and the heart Q, he could not at the same time protect both suits, as the dummy held the K-9-7 of spades and Mr. Goren's hand contained the spade A-6 and the heart J. Whatever he tossed off, the last three tricks were Mr. Goren's, enabling him to make two overtricks above his game contract, for a spanking top score.

SEEK TO REMOVE 48-HR. CUSTOMS CLAUSE

VANCOUVER, May 20 (CP).—Steps to have the 48-hour clause removed from United States customs regulations for the duration of the war, will be discussed by members of the Retail Bureau, of the Vancouver Board of Trade, at a meeting later this week.

Under the clause, visiting United States citizens are prevented from purchasing any dutiable articles in Canada free of duty unless they have been absent from their own country more than 48 hours. Beyond that period of time, they are allowed $100 worth, duty free.

Firestone Company Held Responsible for Deficient Tax

VANCOUVER, B. C. May 20 (CP) —Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., of Canada Ltd., of Hamilton, Ont., was held liable for $9500 Provincial Income Tax here today when an appeal of Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, from a judgement of Mr. Justice Denis Murphy was allowed by the Court of Appeal. Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald dissented in the finding.

The dispute arose out of handling of casings, tubes and tires by Firestone's principal distributor in British Columbia, Mackenzie, White and Dunsmuir Ltd. Provincial authorities contended the local firm was agent for the Firestone Company.

Mild Weakness in Toronto Golds

TORONTO, May 20 (CP).—Prices on the Toronto Stock Exchange today showed practically no change from the previous session apart from mild weakness in the gold group.

Kerr-Addison, Wright Hargreaves, Sylvanite, Pickle Crow, Cariboo, East Malartic, Preston and Pamour were lower. Pioneer and some of the penny issues held their ground.

Nickel and Sherritt displayed firmness and the other base metal stocks were unchanged. Except for a gain of ½ for Brown Oil to 7 the Western oils boarded no changes.

Steels, senior oils, banks and miscellaneous industrials held narrowly to the up side and the balance was down for the utilities. Brazilian, Bell Telephone and Montreal Power recorded minor loses and scattered narrow declines involved Massey-Harris, York Knitting, Consolidated Paper and Pressed Metals.

Utilities Gain in Late Trade at Montreal

MONTREAL, May 20 (CP). — Utilities showed rising tendencies in late trading in the stock exchange today and were followed by some leaders in other groups.

Montreal Power and Shawinigan both firmed the minimum fraction. In mines, Smelters gained a fraction better at 32⅝, while nickel Hollinger and Hudson Bay held their ground. Asbestos gained ⅛ in nidustrials, but Canadian Bronze slipped a point and Dominion Tar was slightly off at 4.

Wholesale Index Up

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP) — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics today reported its weekly index of wholesale commodity prices advanced to 88 for the week ended May 17 from 87.7 in the previous week. The index, on the base 1926 equals 100, stood at 81.9 in the corresponding week last year.

The index of Canadian farm products rose to 69.7 in the week ended May 16 from 69.4 in the previous week and 68.3 in the corresponding week in 1940.

LONDON, May 20 (AP).—Leading industrials drew some support today in a stock market dulled by flow of investment funds into war bonds by direct subscription for "War Weapons Week."

Speculative buying of kaffirs developed early but gains were lost at the close. Domestic rails were steady while oils and mining issues were neglected.

CRUDE OIL PRICES TAKE SHARP INCREASES

Winnipeg Wheat Trade Is Slow

WINNIPEG, May 20 (CP).—Mills supplies sufficient support to hold May wheat above its peg on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today although the volume of trade was not large. At one time the May future was ⅛ cent above the previous close but slipped back to finish unchanged at 76 cents a bushel—⅛ higher than its minimum.

No export sales were reported in Canadian wheat or flour and no figure was placed on mill purchases in the pit during the steady session. Just wheat remained at its 77½-cent peg.

In the coarse grain pit, shippers bought some oats, maltsters, Southern houses and shippers picked up a little barley, domestic interests dealt in rye and speculators juggled flax values. The moderate interest in all grains pushed oats, barley and rye quotations to fractionally higher levels while flax was up about a cent.

Export Clearances of Wheat Increase

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP)—Overseas export clearances of Canadian wheat during the week ended May 16 were far in advance of the amount for the corresponding week in 1940, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. Clearances during the week ended May 16 were 8,821,954 bushels compared with 4,726,567 bushels for the corresponding week last year.

Wheat receipts in the prairie provinces for the week ended May 16 amounted to 6,807,697 bushels, a decrease of 263,472 from the revised figures of the previous week when 7,071,169 were marketed.

Oil Buying Boosts Leaders on Wall St. Mkt.

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP). — Buying of oils provided rallying fuel for other leaders in today's stock market.

While recoveries were limited to fractions in most cases, a handful of favorites tacked on a point or so and few specialties were up as much as 3 on a limited turnover. Closing gains were at or near the best. Steels revived at the last.

In front were coppers, motors, aircrafts and farm implements. Even the rails and utilities, while not especially popular, managed to display occasional advances.

Dealings were never particularly lively, but transfers of around 400,000 shares compared with Monday's aggregate of 223,000, lowest in nine months.

Canadian issues were easy. International Nickel, Dome and Lake Shore each were off. In the bond market Canada 4s declined ¼.

Chicago Wheat Gains Checked

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP).—Disappointment over President Roosevelt's failure to mention at his press conference the Farm Loan Measure awaiting his signature and a liberal movement on wheat to terminal markets checked early rising tendencies of the wheat market today. Final prices were fractionally below the previous close.

CHURCHILL TEXT:

German Troops Disguised in New Zealand Outfits Attack Crete; 1500 Spill From Skies

LONDON, May 20 (AP)— Following is the text of Prime Minister Churchill's address today to the House of Commons.

Since we last were together several important events have happened on which perhaps I might presume to say a few words to the House.

In the first place the history of Amba Alagi has resulted in surrender of the Duke of Aosta and his remaining forces and this must be considered to bring all major organized resistance by the Italians in Abysinia to an end.

No doubt other fighting will continue for some time in the South, but this certainly wears the aspect of the culmination of a campaign which I venture to think is one of the most remarkable ever fought by British or imperial trops.

It reflects utmost credit on General Cunningham and General Platt, who discharged so well the task assigned them by the Commander -in-chief in the Middle East. Sir Archibald Wavell.

When we look back to January I find that the best expert opinion fixed the Middle or end of May as the earliest date on which we could advance upon Chisamaio and anyone who has acquainted himself with the geography will see the enormous advance — beyond anything that was hoped for—that has been accomplished by audacious action and by extraordinary competence in warfare in these desolate countries.

I take this opportunity of pointing out that in this campaign the South African Army has played a most distinguished part and have been ordered by General Smuts to go forward. Now that this theatre is closing down they are to move to the North to the Mediterranean. Also, two British Indian divisions have gained laurels in fighting at Kassala, and all the way from Kassala to Cheren up to the final phase of the final event.

Thes eIndian divisions consist of six Indian battalions and three British battalions and I am assured that the greatest admiration is felt at the extraordinary military qualities displayed by Indian troops. Their dash and ardor, their faithful endurance of all hardships has won them the regard of their British comrades.

Sometimes we have even seen cases when not a single British oficer remained and the battalion has conducted itself in the most efective manner. Altogether this campaign is one which reflects very high honor on the soldiers of India, of all the castes and creeds which were engaged.

I felt I could not refer to that matter without bringing it in a direct and emphasized manner to the attention of the House.

The second event which has occurred since we were last here is the sharp and well sustained action at Salum. This is of interest because it was fought exclusively between British and German troops. It has not, I suppose, been found worthwhile to maintain Italian troops at the end of such a long and precarious line of communication.

The fighting was severe, but of course, not on a very large scale. Several of our motorized brigades supported by armored brigades about 30 miles from the position where they had deployed for some weeks past and attacked the enemy, taking Salum, taking the hellfire (Halfaya) Pass, taking of Fort Capuzzo.

The armored troops had got well round the flank and were very well situated at about one o'clock on the 17th. But the Germans launched a resolute counter action of about 40 tanks and recaptured Fort Capuzzo. That entailed the withdrawal of the armored brigade from the advantageous position which it had attained.

The operations therefore were indecisive. The Germans claim 100 British prisoners. We have 500 Germans in our hands and losses in tanks and in personnel are certainly as heavy, if not heavier, on their side than on ours.

But this operation must be regarded on the background that for more than six weeks past the Germans have been proclaiming that they shortly would be in Suez and have been making much credit with the neutral world by spreading statements of this kind.

It is therefore satisfactory for us to see that we have retained strong offensive power and that the fighting is being maintained at any rate on even terms in advanced areas of the approaches to Egypt.

The third matter is not yet known to the House. For the last few days our reconnoitring airplanes have noticed very heavy concentrations of German aircraft of all kinds on the airdromes of Southern Greece and we have attacked them night after night, inflicting conside able damage.

But it now is clear that these concentrations were a prelude to an attack upon Crete. An airborne attack in great strength has begun this morning and what cannot fail to be a serious battle has begun and is developing.

Our troops there—British, New Zealand and Greek forces—are under the command of General Freyberg and we feel confident that the most sternhand resolute resistance will be offered to the enemy.

Mr. Churchill mad a second statement to the House on motion for adjournment as follows:

I mentioned to the House this morning that a serious attack had been begun upon the Island of Crete by air-borne troops. I thought the House would like to know it separated what is the latest information in possession of the Government.

I cannot pretend that the statemen is of momentous importance: It is only because we are all together in this matter that I thought the House would like to know and I was most anxious to keep them fully informed, as it is my duty to do whenever possible.

After a good deal of intense bombing of Suda Bay and various airdromes in the neighborhood about 1500 enemy troops, wearing New Zealand battledress, landed by gliders, parachutes and troop carriers in the Canea-Malemi area.

This message was sent at 10 o'clock today and the military reported the situation was in hand. Apparently the capture of Malemi airdrome was the enemy's object and this has so far failed.

A later report at 3 o'clock says there is continuous reconnaissance accompanied by sporadic bombing and machine-gunning, chiefly against anti-aircraft defences. The military hospital between Canea and Malemi, which was captured by the enemy, now hs been recaptured.

It is reported that there is a fairly strong enemy party near the Canea-Malemi road which is not yet mopped up, but the other parties are accounted for. The Heraclean airdrome has been bombed but there has been no landing so far.

I thought the people would like to hear how the action has so far developed.
