R. A. F. ANSWERS INCREASED NAZI ATTACKS

Round-the-Clock Raids Are Opened by German Fliers

Urban Objectives at Night, R.A.F. Bases in Daytime, Seems to Be Routine; 45 Shot Down in Day; 19 British Lost

By HAROLD FAIR—Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 7 (Saturday) (CP Cable)—The German Air Force steadily increased its pressure on England today striking before dawn at the Northeast coastal district after two shortly-spaced night forays on the London area.

Observers said that apparently the Nazi raiders have now settled down to attacking urban objectives during the night and confining their daylight attacks principally to the bases from which Spitfires and Hurricanes rise to challenge them in the air.

Hardly had Londoners emerged from their shelters after the first night alarm—the fifth since early yesterday morning—when the sirens screamed again for a second raid of brief duration.

High explosives and incendiary bombs were dropped in a number of London streets during the first raid. Some houses were demolished, fires started and some casualties caused.

The overnight raiders roared over the capital after day-long air battles in which it was estimated 650 enemy planes were driven off with loss of 45 while the Royal Air Force lost 19 fighters. Ten pilots, however, bailed out safely.

Some families were evacuated from one London area district when bombs fell on houses and in the road. The people were accommodated in a school prepared months ago for just such an emergency. It was estimated that about 60 persons spent the night there. About 30 families were believed rendered homeless as a result of fires caused by the incendiary bombs in this area.

Many lost all they possessed in the fire—a number fleeing their dwellings and leaving their weekly pay envelopes behind. Several persons were seriously injured or burned and it was believed a few casualties proved fatal.

The raiders apparently arrived so swiftly in one spot that bombs fell 10 minutes before the raid warning was sounded.

One plane took Londoners by surprise gliding in silently and dropping a cluster of incendiary bombs. A nearby railroad apparently was the objective but trains ran on without interruption.

Clanging fire bells drowned out the noise of planes as engines and a water tower sped to the scene. Firemen soon brought the outbreak under control.

At one spot a bomb burst a water main and the whole pavement rose, floating on the surging current.

Around the corner an all-night coffee stall quietly did big business, throughout the raid.

At 1:01 a.m. today the grateful, steady shriek of the "all clear" ended the sixth raid since Friday morning. This alarm lasted an hour and 28 minutes.

Three scream bombs were dropped just before the fifth raid ended—and a whistling bomb heralded the presence of the enemy in the sixth alarm.

Anti-aircraft guns blazed away at the Germans.

German bombers struck at one of the London districts thus far untouched by the raiders, dropping high explosive and incendiary bombs. One bomb exploded near the entrance of an underground public shelter but none of the several hundred occupants was injured.

Fires from Nazi incendiary bombs still burned brightly in the London area when the raiders returned at 11:33 p.m. last night, just 22 minutes after the fifth in the day's succession of all-clears. There were several casualties in the fifth raid.

In the fifth attack, showers of light and fire were loosed. It was a new bombing technique: A raider would drop a triple flare of three brilliant white lights strung together. While it was descending, the plane would make off to avoid the searchlights and then, when the flare was low enough to illuminate the target, would dive back over and release its bombs.

In the period between Aug. 30 and 5, the Air Ministry said 371 Nazi raiders were downed. Sixty-one were brought down by anti-aircraft fire.

Display to Start Off New War Loan

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—Canada's $300,000,000 second war loan will be launched next Monday morning with a military and air display designed to convey some idea of actual warfare, according to plans being completed tonight. Air raid sirens will shriek their warning in East and West coast cities, and in Toronto, preceding a pamphlet bombardment by planes of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Units of the Royal Canadian Engineers were busy today erecting air raid shelters and sand-bag bulments in Ottawa, Toronto, Vancouver and other cities and Monday there will be parades of troops at all points where they are available.

Finance Minister Ilsley, carrying out the first big loan operation to be attempted since he assumed that office, will ask for subscriptions to an offering of $300,000,000 in 12-year bonds selling at $98.75, bearing coupons for three per cent interest, yielding an average of 3.125 per cent.

Pacific Islands Unsuited, Defence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP).—United States defence officials, it was disclosed authoritatively today, have decided that Costa Rica's Cocos Island and France's Clipperton Island in the South Pacific are unsuited as possible naval bases, but that the Galapagos group be[illegible] Ecuador might warrant consideration.

JAPANESE LOGGING COMPANY FINED $375

COURTENAY, B. C., Sept. 6 (C[illegible])—The Japanese-operated Deep Bay Logging Company Ltd., was fined $375 today for infractions of British Columbia labor regulations.

Advance Payments on Income Tax Welcome

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—Advance payments of income tax on 1940 income will be gladly received by Income Tax Inspectors of the National Revenue Department, it was disclosed tonight.

Although payment of income tax is not due until April 30 next year, advance payments in part or in whole will provide the Government with additional tax-free money with which to carry on the war.

The Department also is urging taxpayers to put a little away each week or month so that when the tax comes due they will be in a position to pay.

U.S. Destroyers Take on British Tars, East Port

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Sept. 6 (CP)—The United States' exchange of "over-age" but serviceable destroyers for British air and naval base sites became a tangible factor today as a group of the vessels steamed into this port and British tars went aboard to man them.

It was the first time United States naval units had entered a Canadian port since the outbreak of war.

A few hours after their arrival, the destroyers suddenly up-anchored and put to sea in a murky haze on what a naval officer here described as "purely exercises." They returned two hours later.

British sailors were seen to go aboard some of the ships while they lay in anchor after their arrival, and observers assumed the destroyers were taken out so U. S. seamen could familiarize them with the operation of the vessels.

Just after the last of the two groups of destroyers had dropped anchor, a liner carrying some British navy men came up the harbor. Indications were they were to man the U. S. craft.

The port received the U. S. reinforcements quietly. No sirens screamed or whistles blew from the vessels in the stream or at the dock. The complement on the American flotilla itself, was equally subdued. The only sign of activity was the blinking of signal lights and the hoisting of signal flags between the ships.

Wheat Problem Still Discussed

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP) — The knotty problem of devising means of meeting financial needs of farmers who must store wheat on farms until elevator space becomes available occupied the Wheat Committee of the cabinet tonight with no indication when a solution may be reached.

Conferences on the question, involving the Cabinet Committee, representatives of Western Canada grain interests and growers, banks and the Canadian Wheat Board have been in progress all this week.

Latest news from the series of parleys was that representatives of chartered banks had rejected a proposal that banks make loans to Prairie farmers, the banks' security being wheat stored on farms and a Federal Government guarantee of 15 per cent of the total loans.

Birth, Marriage Rate Figures High in B. C.

VICTORIA, Sept. 6 (CP)—British Columbia's birth rate shows a great increase since the war, according to vital statistics made public today.

In the month of July, latest for which complete records are available owing to the rush of work handled by the bureau, there were 1368 children born. This was an increase of 398 or 40 per cent over the births of July last year.

Boy babies predominated 737 to 631.

July also established an all-time record for marriages in the Province, a total of 1475 couples going to the altar, more than double the figure of 664 in July 1939.

Board Order Fixing Bread and Flour Prices Is Rescinded

No Justification for Higher Prices Says Board

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP). — The Wartime Prices and Trade Board tonight rescinded its order of Aug. 3 fixing bread and flour prices.

At the same time, it warned that there was "no justification" for higher bread prices than those prevailing before the new 15-cents-a-bushel wheat-processing tax was applied in July. Because of the drop in wheat prices, bakers now paid no more for flour plus tax than they paid for flour alone early in May, the Board noted. This means, in effect, the tax will be borne by the bakers.

The price-fixing order was laid down when attempts were made to pass the new tax on the consumer by raising the price of bread one cent, although the tax amounted to a small fraction of one cent a loaf. The order stipulated that millers and bakers should each bear half the tax.

An audit by the Board since Aug 6 of representative milling companies' costs over the last five years has persuaded the Board that the millers cannot bear any appreciable part of the tax.

The lifting of the price-fixing order should not be interpreted as meaning the Board will take no action if bread prices now rise, a Board official emphasized.

In its dealing with bread and flour prices in this instance, the Board has been concerned with the effect of the processing tax, it was stressed, and that phase has been closed with the findings announced tonight.

If bread prices now do rise, after the Board's announced opinion that there is no present reason for them rising because of the tax, the Board may proceed under its own regulations regarding profiteering, it was explained.

Liverpool Only Slightly Hurt in Bomb Raids

By TAYLOR HENRY

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 6 (AP)—Port of Liverpool, which handles an important proportion of all this island's wartime shipping, has been only slightly affected by repeated Nazi air raids.

Liverpool and the surrounding industrial region with some 4,000,000 inhabitants appear to have become the No. 1 air target of England.

"Hell's corner" has shifted from Southeast England to the Northwest, but in a two-day stay in this area I have seen comparatively little damage. Industrial production has been slowed down, because most factories stop work during an alarm.

On a special pass, I have wandered at random through the properties administered by the Mersey Docks and Harbor Board. The only portion for which I did not have a pass was the oil installations, but from what I could see from outside there appeared to have been no damage and work was proceeding normally.

The windows of some buildings have been shattered. I saw evidence of one hit on a dock which had slightly damaged a grain elevator. The only visible damage to shipping itself was the sinking of one small trawler by a bomb.

C. P. R. TO SET UP, MILLS, FINLAY CREEK

CRANBROOK, B.C., Sept. 6 (CP)—Two portable mills are to be located on Finlay Creek near Canal Flats by the Canadian Pacific Railway Tie and Timber branch to produce ties and other lumber products on a timber cut the company has owned for some time.

Camps are now under construction and are expected to be completed about the middle of this month. They will be put into operation immediately and will employ between 50 and 75 men.

Transferred Teachers Refuse to Leave Jobs

LANGLEY PRAIRIE, B. C., Sept. 6 (CP)—Five Langley school teachers—four women and a man—today refused to leave their school to make way for new teachers following orders of the Board of School Trustees to place them in other schools.

When school opened last Tuesday, the "transferred" teachers appeared along with the new teachers. The regular teachers conducted the classes while the new teachers looked on.

The Langley School Board had informed the Superintendent of Education at Victoria it would not reinstate the five teachers in their old positions. However the Department already had upheld the appeal of the teachers against being transferred to other schools.

British and U.S. Stand May Be Ignored by Japan

TOKYO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Authoritative sources indicated tonight that the official stand of both Great Britain and the United States, calling Japan's attention to the interests of these powers in seeing French Indo-China untouched, will be passed over without action from the Japanese Government.

A Hong Kong dispatch tonight quoted semi-official quarters in Chungking as saying that a French Japanese agreement reached at Hanoi provides for landing of 12,000 Japanese troops at three Indo-China ports and their passage through that colony toward the Chinese border.

The foreign office spokesman, Yakichiro Suma, said the Government was not stating any official attitude toward the declaration of the United States Secretary of State, Cordell Hull, two days ago, that the effect on American public opinion would be "unfortunate" if Japan should bring about a change in the status quo of Indo-China and the Netherlands East Indies.

Berbera Attacked by British Fliers

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 6 (AP)—A Royal Air Force bulletin issued Friday night said:

"On Sept. 4 aircraft of the South African Air Force raided Berbera, Italian Somaliland, dropping bombs on the wireless station and barracks, and Isha Baidoa, where four Capronis (Italian planes) on the ground were damaged.

"Yesterday R.A.F. bombers attacked the naval barracks at Assab, and a large column of smoke was seen rising from the target area. The previous day, direct hits were scored on military buildings at Kassala, on the Sudan-Abyssinian frontier.

"A formation of enemy bombers escorted by fighters approached Malta yesterday but turned away without dropping any bombs.

"At the same time another formation of enemy fighters circled the harbor area and were attacked by our fighters, one CR 42 being shot down at sea and two others badly damaged. In these operations we suffered no losses of personnel or aircraft."

Fires Raging in Berlin Following Three-Hour Attack

Bombers Fly to Czech Borders in Search of New Targets; Oil, Benzine Tanks Blasted; Forests Raided; Italy Also Pounded

BERLIN, Sept. 7 (Saturday)—(AP).—Strings of British bombers raided Berlin and vicinity early today for nearly three hours, starting several fires.

The raiders crossed into Germany in waves, it was stated, and the raid on the capital became the most spectacular of the war.

The attack was characterized by low-flying planes and the thundering of bursting bombs, augmented by heavy fire from anti-aircraft defences.

The attack on Berlin was centred on the North side.

Shell fragments from anti-aircraft fire which met the Royal Air Force bombers pattered Berlin roofs in all sections.

The Nazis said pursuit planes rose to fight off the raiders.

Also, it was claimed for the first time that the invading planes were confused and obliged to go to a great height and make long detours because barrage balloons were raised in a surprise defence.

Nazi spokesmen claimed the invading planes crossed the Netherlands border in a succession of waves. Some went into the Ruhr and some continued Eastward to Berlin.

They dropped numerous flares over Berlin, Spandau and Potsdam. Defence fire drove some planes back from the vicinity of Potsdam, it was claimed.

From the centre of the capital several fires were noted, apparently within city limits. Nazi spokesmen admitted that buildings had been damaged in two districts of Berlin, but did not specify what type of building.

While most of the bombs were said to have fallen in the Northern suburb of Wedding, a later report revealed that a warehouse near the diplomatic quarter and a police station were hit.

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP Cable)—Britain's bombers flew across Germany to the borders of Czecho-Slovakia in search of new enemy targets Thursday night and Friday morning, the Air Ministry announced tonight, and blasted oil and benzine tanks at Regensburg, on the Danube.

Other bombers ranged over Baltic objectives for the second time this week, while still others swept over the tree tops of the Black and Hartz Forests, setting large tracts ablaze again and ferretting out targets hidden amid the greenery.

To the South the far-ranging Royal Air Force bombers struck once more at industrial Turin, in Italy, dropping bombs at the Fiat air engine works and the airplane factory.

Nearer home the R.A.F. maintaining strict surveillance over the German-held coastline of France, bombed Cap Gris Nez and Boulogne, possible bases from which a German invasion of Britain could be launched.

The bombers flew 1350 miles, round trip, to Regensburg, on Czecho-Slovakia's frontier, to carry out the attack on the oil and benzine tanks, while others flew almost the same distance to attack Stettin on the Baltic.

A pilot describing the Regensburg raid said: "We took them completely by surprise. We dropped two sticks of bombs in the light of flares and the oil and benzine storage tanks could be clearly seen. All our bombs fell on the target and were followed by terrific explosions that seemed to be hundreds of yards wide. The tanks must have gone right up."

The Air Ministry said that a large mineral oil installation at Hamburg was also attacked during the night and five big fires, started by raiders, were still blazing strongly when the aircraft left. In the Black Forest large numbers of incendiary bombs were dropped over a dense strip, 30 miles wide, running parallel with the Rhine.

Fierce flames were seen by the raiding crews, showing that the fires were gaining a firm hold. One observer reported seeing a mass of yellow flames followed by a series of great red fires visible for many miles away.

The pilot of one plane raiding the Hartz Forest said that near the centre he located "rows and rows of long buildings." They looked like barracks. Incendiary bombs were dropped on the buildings starting a fire. Then more were dropped among the surrounding pine woods. "We could plainly see the flashes of the explosions coming from the burning buildings."

Creston Man Is Believed to Have Died by Own Hand

CRESTON, B. C., Sept. 6—A coroner's jury opened an inquiry at Creston Friday afternoon into the death of Frank Hayhurst, a resident of Wyndel, who is thought to have committed suicide by taking strychnine at his home late Thursday night.

On returning about midnight, his wife found him unconscious and immediately summoned Dr. J. D. Campbell of Creston who, however, arrived too late to be of any assistance, and who immediately advised the Provincial Police of the incident.

The body was brought to the morgue at Creston Friday morning, and Coroner Lieut. Col. E. Mallandaine summoned a jury of E. Langston, Foreman, W. J. Avery, James Cook, H. Graham, W. G. Armstrong and Donald LaBelle, which viewed the body and released it for burial. The inquest was then adjourned pending an autopsy. The contents of the stomach will be sent to Vancouver for analysis.

Mr. Hayhurst was about 55 years of age, and he is survived by his wife.

INSURANCE COMMISSION DISCUSSED BY CABINET

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP)—Formation of the three-man commission to administer the Unemployment Insurance Act may be completed next week Labor Minister McLarty said tonight following a session of Cabinet Council.

It was understood only routine matters were discussed at today's meeting of Cabinet, but Mr. McLarty said the department had been engaged for some time in the work of organizing to initiate the Insurance Act at the last session of Parliament.

Submarine Saves British Seamen From Nazi Crew

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP)—The Admiralty announced tonight that the British submarine Truant had rescued the crew of a British merchant ship and a party of Norwegian sailors from a German prize crew which had taken charge of the ship.

The rescue was effected off Cape Finisterre, Northwestern corner of Spain. The Britons were the crew of 24 of the 5207-ton steamship Haxby, who were imprisoned aboard the 5781-ton Norwegian steamship Tropic Sea, which the Germans were sailing.

The Haxby had been torpedoed and sunk and the Tropic Sea captured by a German surface raider.

After the Truant's rescue all of the Britons and some of the Norwegians were brought to England. The Germans and the other Norwegians were left in the ship's boats.

When the Truant ordered the Tropic Sea to stop the ship was scuttled by the German prize crew "by means of explosive charges which were kept ready and in position," the Admiralty announcement said.

The Germans and their British and Norwegian prisoners took to the boats and the Truant picked up the 24 British seamen, the Norwegian Captain of the Tropic Sea and his wife. The others had to be left at sea because the submarine could accommodate no more.

The boats were not overcrowded and the sea was "flat calm", according to the Admiralty. Royal Air Force seaplanes immediately were sent to rescue those in the boats and brought one boatload to England.

"Having regard to weather conditions," the Admiralty said, "it is probable that the other boats reached land."

LONDON AREA HARDLY SCRATCHED BY NAZI BOMBS WRITER FINDS

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP Cable)—Hitler's sky raiders have scarcely scatched the surface of the great London area, a three-hour tour of the bombed districts revealed today.

Using taxi drivers, air raid precaution wardens and hobbies as guides, I visited half a dozen districts where Germans dropped their pills during the night. The tour was made without official guidance and I looked at what I liked, talked with whom I liked, without interference.

Scores of private dwellings and stores were smashed but only a couple beyond repair. The sole military hit was a railway line where some 50 feet of track were torn up.

Factory, residential, business and slum sections of the vast capital were included in the tour. Everywhere workers were on the job repairing gas and water mains, clearing debris from houses or sweeping broken glass and mortar from store windows.

People did not seem much shaken at losing their homes and businesses although in one of the poorer districts an old man who took me through the remains of his house admitted he did not know what he would do now.

His two-story house was one of half a dozen smashed open from the back when a heavy calibre bomb fell. The first floor was a mass of broken plaster, furniture and the frames of doors and windows.

A few blocks away on a busy street, a bomb fell at the rear of a large carpet store. This store was closed for business for today but others nearby were carrying on despite the lack of plate glass windows.

In the next district I saw that a bomb had scored a direct hit on a large underground shelter in the middle of a square. There were 1000 to 1500 people inside the shelter at the time but only casualties were two people sitting on top, smoking. They were killed.

These were the only deaths reported in the whole of the toured area.

Calls on Moslem to Help Britain

JERUSALEM (CP).—In a broadcast to the Moslem peoples in the Near East, Prince Aly Khan, son of the Aga Khan, appealed to them to "help Britain with all their united energy," He said:

"Today religious freedom and all its essential qualities have received what appears to be a death sentence in those countries that have fallen under totalitarian influences. Speaking as a Mohammedan I feel that whatever differences you may have had with the British democracy, that is not one of them. Religious freedom and all it implies exists untrammelled in all Mohammedan countries where there is British influence."

Prince Aly Khan relinquished his commission in the Syrian colonial army after the capitulation of France and went to Cairo to join the British forces.

Cadet Training Rossland Girls New Departure

ROSSLAND, B.C. Sept. 6—An innovation in the Rossland High School for this term and something unique not only in British Columbia but also in Canadian Schools in general has been introduced by Principal Wesley McKenzie. He is sponsoring a course in cadet training for girls

This is intended to be a most comprehensive unit. Besides the regular physical education, routine drill training in squads, platoons and companies is being organized. The study of measures for protection includes such topics as the composition of hand grenades, and how best to protect oneself from them, as well as the different gases used in warfare and the treatment for each. In fact, it is even hoped that eventually rifle practice may be given to the corps.

Principal McKenzie is anxious for the girls to have something very definite and practical from the course and to foster this he would like to have some citizens with the necessary qualifications offer to give lessons in home nursing and first aid. This could be done on Wednesday afternoons in cadet periods, and would not take a great deal of time, as it is unnecessary to teach it each Wednesday. It has been thought that perhaps one afternoon a month would be sufficient to prepare the girls for their examinations on these subjects.

Anyone interested in giving this helpful public service is invited to get in touch with Principal McKenzie.

Many District Points, All Ranks Represented Blackwood Funeral

Many Kootenay points, and all ranks, were represented in the company that filled St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral Friday afternoon, at the funeral of C. Dudley Blackwood, Kootenay and Nelson pioneer who was held in deep affection by innumerable people. Great banks of flowers formed a background for the casket.

The service was conducted by Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham, former rector of St. Saviour's, an intimate friend of Mr. Blackwood from pioneer times.

It included Saint Paul's "Resurrection Chapter", the Apostles' Creed, the 23rd and 24th Psalms, the hymns, "Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand," "Unto the Hills Around," and "God That Madest Earth and Heaven," the Lord's Prayer, and the Benediction. As he concluded, Archdeacon Graham said: "To our well-loved friend, I say, out of your heart and mine, 'Aur Revoir.'"

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Church, Vancouver, Saturday evening, when Euphemia Elizabeth, second daughter of George Webster, became the bride of William Frederick Page, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Page of Vancouver. The church was beautifully decorated with pink and mauve gladioli and clusters of pink asters and ferns marked the guest pews. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of shell pink net, fashioned on flowing lines, with bodice and jacket of lace. Her shoulder veil was pink also, and accessories were en tone. She carried a shower bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations and Maidenhair fern. The brides' only attendant was her sister, Miss Agnes Webster, whose gown was of mauve net and featured a frilled skirt and puffed sleeves. Mauve net and purple velvet made up her dainty hat, and the same color effect was carried out in her accessories and in her bouquet, which consisted of carnations, asters and Maidenhair fern. Victor Page attended his brother as best man. George Webster, Jr., and Raymond Page acted as ushers. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, 953 East 30th Avenue, where immediate friends and relatives of the couple were received by the groom's mother. Mrs. Page wore a charming costume of blue georgette and a corsage of pink rosebuds. For a wedding trip to Victoria the bride donned a blue tailored ensemble and fur jacket. On their return they will make their home at 1128 East 22nd Avenue, Vancouver.

An interesting wedding was quietly solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Gallamore, 6295 Columbia Avenue, Tuesday evening, when the latter's sister, Phyllis Mae, second daughter of Sergt. C. Robert Forbes and Mrs. Forbes of Trail, became the bride of Hilton Coupland, second son of Mr. and Mrs James Coupland, Sr., also of this city. Rev. F. G. St. Denis officiated. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an afternoon dress of queen's blue with navy accessories. Her corsage was of pink Talisman roses. Mrs. Gallamore, as matron of honor, chose a dusty pink frock with wine accessories. Deep pink Talisman roses formed her corsage. Alistaire Repton supported the groom. At the reception after the principals were assisted in receiving by their mothers, Mrs. Forbes' dress was of Agua, while Mrs. Coupland's was of Delphinium. The young couple left by train for Victoria, where Mr. Coupland is stationed with the Canadian Active Service Force.

Nelson at Trail Sunday in Semis With Cardinals

Nelson Seniors and Trail Cardinals will battle it out for the right to advance into the West Kootenay Baseball League final series with Trail Indians at Butler Park in Trail Sunday afternoon.

The teams haggled throughout the week over where the third game was to be played, and finally Con Cummins, Nelson Manager, made sufficient arrangements late Friday night with Gerry Thomson, Cardinals' Secretary, to warrant scheduling of the game. The Nelson team apparently will be paid $20 expenses before the game gets under way, and Umpires Bill Freno and Bill Waddell will alternate between the plate and the bases every two innings.

Nelson evened the best of three series at home last Sunday with a 10-6 victory to offset an 8-6 decision the Cards posted some time previous.

"Lefty" Mydansky and Jack Carpenter will form the Nelson pitching staff with Gordon Richardson behind the plate. "Doc" Chodercoff will play first, Ernie Beland second, Carl Locatelli short and Tom McInnes third. The outfielders will be chosen from Jack Fisher, Art Ross, Steve Smith, Jesse Seaby, Jimmy Eccles and Steve Scott.

CANADIANS IN DEMAND AS HUSBANDS FOR BRITISH GIRLS

Personality and Character Count More Than Beauty

By DONNA GRACE

It should be comforting to the somewhat plain girls to hear that, according to a famous Hollywood expert, plain or unusual faces are much more photographically interesting than the perfect-beauty type.

He tells us that after 20 years he has come to the conclusion that young girls who have beautiful, regular features, although they photograph wonderfully, haven't much chance to get anywhere in films.

"Girls who get ahead have character in their features," he claims. They have a quality above and beyond beauty, something that stands out."

Many of the great performers on stage and screen are far from the perfect beauty standards. There are very few of the best of them who could be rated really beautiful so far as perfect features. Scientific makeup can always give the illusion of facial beauty, so the important thing is to have a distinctive personality, and this applies to every girl, even those who have no desire to grace the stage or screen.

The encouraging thing about this is that everyone can develop an attractive personality. Even the dull backward girl may blossom into a fascinating beauty by making the effort. Just remember that those who have achieved success had to work for it, no matter how carefree and irresponsible they may act.

Respect and consideration for others is the first principle in building fine personalities. We can't be selfish and at the same time agreeable. We must try to understand that others are just as important and clever as we are.

The impression we make will depend on the way we present ourselves to others. When we have pride in our personal appearance it is generally safe to assume we are neat, orderly and dependable. Clean, healthy complexions are the result of good care and intelligence. Those who forget to keep well groomed in every sense are likely to fail in other things.

The mouth and teeth must be kept perfect. Offensive breath will distract from the good points. Physical perfection can be acquired with observation and practice, then mental poise, good speech, posture and grace is just a matter of education.

We all know girls whose features would never be called beautiful but who are far more attractive and lovely than the perfect model type. We even find ourselves loving them for their so-called plainness. Every girl has beauty to develop and when she has made the most of nature's gifts she will be adored.

Song and Music With Canadians

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 6 (CP)—Wherever Canadian soldiers assemble there is song and music. They arrived in England singing cheerful ditties, their gay, harmonious voices are heard daily as they march along the country roads but they reserve their real impromptu efforts for the nightly-get-together in the billets and the camp recreation rooms.

"I guess our boys are just naturally fond of music," said Armament Sgt.-Maj. H. G. E. Morgan, busy reorganizing a swingband among the members of the mobile army field workshops. An accomplished pianist, Morgan had a dance band of his own in Victoria.

Although routine duties keep the workshop boys busy every day of the week they find time for practice in their periods of relaxation and at night. For several days they have been rehearsing in a toolshed of a white-washed century-old stable which also houses some of the unit's administrative offices.

Inside & Out!

OF NELSON HIGH SCHOOL

Once again school has begun after a short two months' holiday. Students are dashing about collecting books and generally trying to get organized for another school year. We are glad to see so many old faces around the school and we take this opportunity to extend a hearty welcome to all newcomers.

This year we have two new teachers on the staff, Miss M. Cottingham will replace Miss P. Campbell as social studies teacher and Miss B. Lang will teach French.

What a hub-bub there was on Tuesday when the 10's, 11's, and junior matrics tried out the new lockers. I bet there'll be some sore heads before long. There were some really bruised elbows the other day at noon when we tried to get out of the school for lunch. This year all the classes with the exception of the senior matrics will change classes. This is a change for the N.H.S. this year and it is to be hoped that the "little tots" enjoy lugging their books from room to room. (The senior matrics feel pretty smug and I do mean pretty!)

We have also discovered that this year a detention room is to be established, office hours being from 4 p.m. to 9 a.m. If you should happen to feel like staying in bed a few minutes longer Monday morning, just thing of those nice little addition and subtraction questions you will be doing in the D.R. Monday night and perhaps early Tuesday morning. If you should like it so much that you wish to pay a second visit they add a few multiplications and long divisions just for variety. It certainly is too bad that they have decided to have a roll call at 4 p.m. as well as 9 a.m., isn't it? The fact that the trees have been cut down on the Southwest corner of the school also adds to the difficulty of making an early exit.

We have already discovered that Mr. Gray has not lost any voice power during the holidays. He can still say, "Alright, alright," with the same old force when the bell rings.

If we all obey Article 13, Clause 1, etc. of the School Law, read out to us Thursday morning, we are sure to surprise ourselves and the teachers, too.

CANADIANS RANK HIGH WITH DANCING GIRLS

LONDON (CP)—Canadain soldiers rank high in popularity with girls who go dancing in the Covent Garden district. A survey showed this order of favor: 1. British sailors, 2. Canadians, 3. Royal Air Force, 4. foot guards, 5. New Zealanders, 6. French sailors (who used to be at the top of the list before France capitulated), 7. all other troops in khaki, 8. civilians.

Forcing . . .

Teaching Baby to Eat His Food

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph. D.

I do sometimes wish that some pediatricians could read about 1000 typical letters I receive on problems mothers face to get their babies to eat. Then more of these pediatricians would become interested in the psychology of appetite and would realize they don't do enough when they tell the mother what to feed the child and how much; that they also need to show this mother how to cultivate an appetite in the child for this food, how to lead the child to want to eat it. Then fewer doctors would give such advice as the mother in the letter below says was given her.

FORCING FOOD ON CHILD

"Dear Dr. Myers: I am at my wit's end as to what to do about getting my baby to eat. She is eleven months old. . . . The doctor told me to force her to eat. When I did she became ill; he said not to pay any attention to her sickness, just to go ahead feeding her. This morning I did just that, and when it was time for her to eat lunch she refused. She didn't become ill, but she wouldn't swallow the spinach or beets. She would push them out of her mouth just as fast as I would put them in. And she was crying and getting upset and so was I. I just had to stop feeding her because I was almost hysterical."

Although it is true that a very slight amount of resistance to a new food might be overcome by pushing a tiny bit of it into the baby's mouth, by gradual adaptation; yet if this child's resistance increases instead of diminishing this food grows more repellant and the child's resistance to all food may increase.

The trouble is the mother expects the baby to eat what she offers and all of it right away. She is told what he should have and how much. Then if the child doesn't choose to eat it she proceeds to force it into him. Moreover, her unhappy emotions increase all the while and in turn increase the child's resistance and decrease his appetite. If she is to succeed she will not bother about how much the child eats today nor about his weight now. She will think only in terms of cultivating gradually his appetite so he will be eating well and weigh enough a month or two hence.

Canadian Troops See Films "in the Rough"

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 6 (CP)—Canada's overseas soldier boys who only a few months ago viewed the latest screen hits amid the pleasant surroundings and comforts of a modern theatre are taking their screen entertainment in the rough—and enjoying it just as much.

Every night the flickers are brought right to the door of some unit by the mobile movie van operated by the Y.M.C.A. If the night is warm and dry the show is given in the open, often in the very shadow of defensive barriers, gun implacements and lookouts. A sheet hung from the branches of a tree serves as a screen.

Lieut. O. M. Hertzberg of Toronto, in charge of the detachment in the absence of his company commander, Maj. G. T. Roche, also of Toronto, admitted the place wasn't exactly a palace but it served as a popular rendezvous, not only for the troops but farmers of the area as well.

"Come with me and I'll show you a real sight," he said. From the dark interior of the barn came a roar of youthful laughter. The place was crowded to the rafters. Men clung precariously to the stout oaken beams, huddled against the walls or sat tightly-packed on the straw-covered floor. In the centre of the group were an 80-year-old farmer and his wife viewing the first movie they had ever seen. All were enjoying the antics of Mickey Mouse and his pals.

New Fall Fashions Are 'Nicely Naughty'

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP). — A popular new Fall fashion phrase is "nicely naughty."

It applies to deep necklines which sometimes reach to the diaphragm; "sireen" clothes, whose bodices leave the back, rib section and arms covered simply with black chiffon, and "peek-aboo" gowns with sections of black lace on nude-pink fabric.

Diphtheria . . .

Give Children Fighting Chance

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I am sometimes chided for writing every year about this time in favor of diphtheria immunization for the child who is entering school for the first time. It is argued that in many cities such immunization is practically compulsory and that my arguments are pointless and unnecessary. But I do not desist because I think it is the highest duty that a column like this can obey to attempt to spread the gospel of immunization.

There is probably no single health conquest in the history of mankind that ranks with the elimination of diphtheria.

RARE DISEASE NOW

Now barely 20 years after diphtheria immunization was made possible, it is a rare disease.

Diphtheria cannot be eliminated by broad hygienic methods such as are applicable to typhoid fever by putrifying the water supply. The person who is rendered immune to diphtheria must be persuaded by the logic of the evidence—this is often the hardest part of the battle—and they must allow themselves to be examined and undergo a hypodermic injection.

THE SCHICK TEST

Selection of proper cases is accomplished by applying what is known as the Schick skin test. This consists in putting some diphtheria toxin in a small scratch in the skin. If at the end of 24 hours the skin around this scratch is red it means that the toxin has awakened a reaction in the chemical forces of the body and that the person will catch diphtheria if exposed. Immunization is done to susceptible people by using a form of diphtheria toxin that has become detoxicated. It is called toxoid.

The age at which this procedure should be carried out is during the young years when diphtheria is prevalent. Some authorities think that at the end of the first year is none too soon. All agree it should be done before the end of the second year.

WOMEN SEEK FLIERS

The bride wore a Queen's blue woollen tailored suit with navy accessories and corsage of gardenias. Her only ornament was a cameo brooch, a gift of the groom. Miss Lillian Trevelyan was bridesmaid, wearing a beige dressmaker suit with brown accessories, and corsage of Talisman roses. The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Arthur Webster of New Westminster.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left later in the morning on a trip to Coast points, before taking up residence at Oliver.

Loyalty . . .

Deceit Need Not Destroy Faith

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

Several years ago the girl I loved deceived me cruelly. It was only a small matter but it shattered my faith in the sex. We were planning to be married a few months later than the incident. An old beau came to town and instead of telling me the truth she broke a date because she said her mother was sick and she had to sit with her. By accident a week later I met the other man and he spoke of the pleasure he had had in a visit to this girl and her family. I broke the engagement and swore I would never put myself in a position to be hurt this way again. I'm nearly 40 now and I am thinking about the future. The girl is happily married with a fine family of children, and I'm pretty lonely. Is it too late to start, and do you suppose I could have faith in another woman?

BACHELOR.

ANSWER—Mr. Bachelor, for each deceiving, two-timing woman in the world, there are thousands and even millions of loyal, faithful wives and sweethearts. A man can't afford to lose faith in the race of women because one woman was scared to tell him the truth. Why, a merchant might as well refuse to do a dollars worth of credit business because one customer failed to clear his account. We cannot get along in business, in social life, or in love without faith. We cannot afford to fling our faith overboard merely because one person deceives us.

When a man turns on the race of woman because one girl tricked him, and afterward refuses to have anything to do with any other girl you know who is being punished most? The man, of course. He is denying himself the thing he wants. Love and marriage, a normal life. What if some girl is being denied a prize package in him, she doesn't know it and so she's not unhappy about it. He isn't getting even with anybody, which is what he's trying to do.

We rate ourselves too highly if we consider a disloyalty on the part of another human being an excuse for losing faith in humanity. If we are so sensitive, so egotistical, so jealous for our rights as all that, we have nothing but bitter disappointment ahead. Not a one of us but can remember a broken faith and we are lucky if we haven' the memory of a repeat or two.

Now, show a little spunk, Mr. Bachelor, quit crying over spilt milk. Try again, and next time remember that when a girl is dealing with a highly sensitive gentleman, she's sometimes afraid to tell him the whole truth for fear he will be offended and she takes her chance at getting caught in the fib. Essentially truthful people sometimes resort to subterfuge when they are scared.

Marriage Agency Can't Keep Up; Canadians Prefer Country Girls

By HAROLD FAIR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Beneath the cage of a couple of passionate lovebirds in an office overlooking fashionable Bond Street two English girls have been working on a never-finished jigsaw puzzle for 18 months—helping people find suitable husbands and wives.

But they have their troubles now that the Canadian soldiers are here. The number of English girls wanting Canadian husbands is twice the number of Canadians seeking a spouse. The war, naturally, has given the bureau its heaviest business. Six Canadian soldiers corresponded with English girls after answering the bureau advertisements before coming to England have since married them.

"We can't get enough Canadians," lamented blond Heather Jenner who started the "Marriage Bureau" with petite, brunette Mary Oliver. "The English girls are crazy over them. We have 200 Canadians who want wives and twice as many women who want Canadian husbands."

These marriage brokers are out for business even if the caller is just a bachelor reporter seeking to learn how the mate-providing system works. Before I could even ask, Miss Jenner cracked, "Can we find you a wife?"

SOLDIER RATES

If the mate-seeker is in the fighting forces the fee is cheap—30 shillings ($6.68) except for officers. For civilians and officers they talk in terms of Bond Street—five guineas (about $23). "And yet," said Miss Oliver, "we have 20 Canadian officers who want wives."

When the fee has been paid, the applicant fills out a form listing age, figure, religion, height, nationality, income, color of hair and such personal details and specifies the type of girl wanted. The brokers check the demands with available material and arrange for a personal introduction. Then it's up to the pair to see how they suit each other.

The fee entitles the applicant to considerable assistance. The bureau suggests where the boys could take the girls for tea, dancing or dinner. If they become engaged, the brokers obligingly help with wedding details.

Among the assets of Canadians, Miss Jenner and Miss Oliver placed the Canadian accent high. Also, the prospect of wide-open life in the Empire appeals to English girls. Next to Canadians, they prefer Australians.

The Canadian applicants who consult the bureau after reading its advertisements at various places here, favor country girls. They ask for women who are intelligent but not too sophisticated. .

There is no set period between meeting and engagement but Miss Oliver said the bureau discourages rush war weddings. Often after a couple has been keeping company for three weeks or so, they telephone and say the middle aisle is not far away.

BONUS FOR BABIES

Feeling that just helping applicants find their partners is not enough, the girls offer a bonus of £50 ($222) if a baby is born in the first year of marriage to the wife of one of their clients providing he is in the fighting forces.

A British army colonel won it twice over. "He had twin sons and we had to produce £100 ($445)", Miss Oliver said. "That's our war work."

The bureau's civilian business still thrives. Miss Oliver thought the blackout had a lot to do with it and mentioned one applicant telling her how lonely he got these dark nights. In addition they are asked to find wives for a considerable number of English business men.

One of the civilian clients, she said, is an 84-year-old widower, who, to use an English expression, "is walking out" with a 16-year-old girl.

"In fact, we have men from peers to chimney sweeps, and the girls include farmers' daughters, debutantes and mannequins."

Air Raids Bring Advice to People

LONDON (CP) — Intensification of air raids over the London area has brought forth a list of "don'ts" for civilians from the Ministry of Home Security.

Some of them are:

Don't stand and stare. Several people have lost their lives through looking at mysterious smoke signs made in the air by raiders. When they have been doing so a low-flying machine has "hopped" over a nearby building or hill and machine-gunned them.

Don't visit the scene after a raid. Sightseers hinder the civil defence services.

Don't take souvenirs. A war reserve policeman was fined £10 for doing this.

Don't go near unexploded bombs or shells. They may be delayed-action ones.

Don't smoke in a shelter. It fouls the air.

Don't go near a bomb-crater or pick up splinters in it. Splinter may be of utmost value to technical experts. Also, there is danger of the crater collapsing and there often is carbon-monoxide gas, a product of the explosion, at the bottom.

Don't touch any strange or suspicious-looking object which you may find lying around. Report it to the authorities.

LOVE WITHOUT MUSIC

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN

Linda turned to the car where Ronald waited as the door closed behind Robert. It was such a final closing. Too sharp. Not swift. Just inevitable.

"Linda, Sarah's eloped," Ronald said. "Eloped with a man from our band."

"I didn't know she was interested in any of the men in your band," she answered as she climbed into the car.

"She isn't. That's it! Don't you see? But she thought that it was hopeless to wait around. Oh, I'm making a mess of it. Sarah fell in love with me, really in love. Not at first. That was a game she played. But later. . . ."

His voice was broken and hurt. There was no pretence in it now. Linda spoke steadily.

"You mean since that night on the boat when I saw you and maybe before?"

He nodded, not speaking.

The road was deserted at this hour. They had gone over to the streets along the piers and turned Northward. There was a smell of fish and an odor of salt in the wind.

Ronald spoke again. "She can't marry this man, Linda, because she doesn't care anything about him. He's not a bad saxophone, but he's not for her. Some day there'll be somebody else. Oh, hang it, we've got to stop her, Linda!"

It seemed to Linda, thinking about it afterward that in that moment she grew up. Suddenly the whole pattern was clear. She and Ronnie had grown up together. They had given their first boy-and-girl devotion to each other. It had been a preface to an older, wiser love, but they had not known. They had gone on, blindly believing this was real.

And it wasn't. She knew it now. Ronald loved Sarah, but he had felt that the new affection must not replace the old one. In this new understanding Linda could even forgive him for asking her to wait with her evidence concerning Mr. Parrish. She could forgive him but not quite forget.

As the car sped past the steamship agencies she spoke simply. "Ronald, why didn't you tell me you loved Sarah?"

The eyes he turned to her were troubled, not believing.

"I love you!"

So he still would cling to the fabric of the pattern, still believe in something that was beautiful and had been lost! Oh, life and love would be such simple things if she could accept his words and make her heart repeat them.

"No Ronald, not for a long time. Or why are you trying to rescue Sarah?"

"Because !—" His voice paused, then finished swiftly. "Because I can't bear to see her marry anyone else!"

Linda managed to grin in the dark car. "Swell, Ronnie, then she won't marry anyone else. We'll get to her. Do you know where she went?"

"I think so. The saxophone player spilled the beans to some of us tonight. Wanted me to hear, and I got the name out of him. They have a head start. Maye we can't overtake them."

"I'm holding on tight and you're stepping on the gas. We will overtake them!"

"But you, Linda?" Suddenly he remembered that he had been engaged to her.

She tried to laugh, but the sound was more like a sob. She did not care—but so many things were going to pieces. "Don't you remember, Ronnie? I'm the girl who told you we were taking different paths awhile ago? We aren't engaged anymore."

"But that was foolish—"

"Not foolish. Just sensible. I like you, Ronnie. You're — you're tops. But that's all. Now let's think about getting to Sarah."

At that moment she did not think about Robert. She was seeing the many times when Ronald had come to her in loyalty, trying to keep an old romance bright, telling himself that Sarah was an infatuation because he had made a pledge elsewhere.

There was a traffic jam ahead of them as they swung to the road up to Connecticut and they were held up 15 minutes. At last Ronald climbed out of the car.

He came back in a moment. "We can't get through. Two trucks overturned. No one hurt, but it will be half an hour before the highway is opened."

Half an hour.

In that time Sarah would have said her marriage vows, and she and Ronnie might as well go home at once. They couldn't do that. She had helped Ronnie too long to fail him now.

"Isn't there some sort of car on the other side of the jam that we could commandeer?" she asked. She slipped into the driver's seat and drove Ronnie's off the beaten path into a field. Then she held out her hand.

"Come on, we'll get one and make it turn around after we get through the barricade."

They found a car which was willing. It belonged to some high school boys who had covered it with gay signs, but they did not notice them.

"Step on it!" Ronnie said, and the car whizzed up the road. It didn't travel as fast as Linda had imagined it would. She felt herself holding to the door, shaking it, trying to wish it into faster speed.

One mile passed. Two and three. They went on and on. Finally Ronald gave the name of the minister they wanted. It was that of a man who conducted a marriage mart, performing ceremonies in swift procession. They were brief affairs, too. Probably Sarah and the saxophonist were gone by now, Linda thought.

For just a moment, eyes on the low white moon, with the sweet smell of new earth rushing past, she thought of that other Connecticut ceremony of two nights ago. It had been held in a church, where there were flowers and candles and vows to be taken. And Robert had been there. Ah, there would be time enough to think about him later.

The car stopped. Ronald handed the driver a bill and clutched Linda's slender arm. He hurried her through the maze of cars at the entrance to the building.

From the entrance she could not see Sarah. Nor was there any sign of her around the room.

"She must be here," Linda said. "Or maybe she hasn't arrived yet, Ronnie. Maybe that's it."

Combine first five ingredients and mix well; shape into balls, allowing one heaping tablespoon to each ball; then brown in fat. Melt butter in top part of double boiler, blend in flour, mix smooth, gradually adding milk, stirring constantly until thick and smooth, then stir in mustard.

Add hot ham balls (ham should be cooked) and hard cooked eggs cut in halves lengthwise. Place over boiling water and heat from 10 to 15 minutes before serving. This amount serves from four to five.

Beat well and stir into slightly beaten egg yolks; return to double boiler and cook one minute longer. Remove from hot water, add the softened gelatin and stir until dissolved, then stir in vanilla and cool.

NELSON SOCIAL

By MRS. M. J. VIGNEUX

• A pretty but quiet wedding took place yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock, when Rev. Foster Hilliard united in marriage before immediate relatives and friends, Christina Mary (Tina), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McLean of Nelson, and Kenneth O. Fish, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Fish of Victoria. For her marriage the bride chose a dress in ashes of roses with navy blue accessories, and a corsage of matching gladioli. Her bridesmaid, Miss A. E. Houston, wore a frock of cedar wood with black accessories, and corsage of carnations in matching tones. The bride's brother, William McLean, supported the groom. The reception followed at the home on Latimer Street of the bride's parents, when Mrs. McLean chose an ensemble in black and white and a corsage of white carnations. For the informal reception and buffet breakfast the home was artistically arranged with autumn-colored gladioli and marigolds. Centering the bride's table was a dainty two-tier wedding cake embedded in shell pink tulle flanked by crystal holders containing pink sweet peas, mauve lupin and fern. Serviteurs were Mrs. John McLean, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Guy Browell, Mrs. J. Boyce and Mrs. D. D. McLean. The toast responded to by the groom was proposed by Rev. Hilliard. For travelling to the Coast, where they will visit friends in Vancouver and the groom's parents in Victoria, Mrs. Fish donned over her wedding dress a Royal blue top coat with silver fox collar. On their return to Trail Mr. and Mrs. Fish will make their home in the Columbia Apartments.

Alarms Shriek as Canadians March Into New Camps

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Sept. 6 (CP Cable)—To the accompaniment of the piercing wail of air raid sirens, the latest contingent of the Canadian 2nd Division marched into camp today, heads high and singing.

Although it was their first experience of an air raid alarm they had already become aware of the fact they are now in the active theatre of war, where death falls from the skies on soldiers and civilians alike.

On the long journey from the port of disembarkation many of them saw enemy planes caught in the beams of searchlights and heard the crash of bombs in the distance and the rumble of anti-aircraft defences. But they got a real thrill today en route to their billets.

The alarms, there were two,—came while the Canadians were in the midst of a major dispersal operation which continued on its orderly way despite the drone of Nazi bombers overhead. Those without steel helmets were ordered into shelters.

Within a few minutes British fighter patrols were buzzing around while another squadron went after the raiders, flying too high to be seen without field glasses. The Germans hovered around for a time then sped off Southward without dropping any bombs.

High tribute to the morale of the new arrivals was paid by a man who knows his soldiers—Maj. C. N. Mitchell, V. C., of Montreal.

His remarks were underlined by Sgt. A. L. Evans of Washington, D. C., a member of the Royal Canadian Engineers who won the military order of the Purple Heart for meritorious service under fire while serving with the United States forces in the last war.

Throughout the day a steady stream of troops poured into camp. They were greeted at the station by the brass band of a famous British regiment and a group of senior officers from divisional and brigade headquarters.

Despite a wearisome nightlong trip in a blacked-out train, the men arrived comparatively fresh, evidence of fine condition after a long siege of training.

Following the roll call, kits were loaded on to trucks and the columns started off for their new quarters. Some went into billets which once housed units of the Canadian 1st Division. Others moved into barracks just vacated by British troops dispatched to positions of readiness.

Two More Fined, Traffic Offences

Two more traffic bylaw prosecutions, one for double parking and one for "going through" a stop street were heard in City Police Court Friday.

Magistrate William Brown fined (T. C. (Con) Cummins $10 for double parking on Baker Street; and P. K. Rieben $10 for failing to halt at a stop sign at the intersection of Cedar and Vernon Streets.

Both pleaded guilty.

Registration Shows More Than Million Single Men of 19-45

Gardiner, Federal Agriculture Minister and Minister of National War Services, said in an address here today that nearly-complete information from the recent national registration of Canadian adults shows more than 1,000,000 single men between the ages of 19 and 45 of whom at least 300,000 between the ages of 21 and 27 will be available to fill all military draft requirements during the next year.

He said that by tonight the Department of National War Services will have compiled "all the necessary informaiton necessary to placing 1,000,000 single men in training if necessary."

American Youth Joins Up at Rate of 40,000 Men a Month

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (CP). — With a spectacular publicity campaign and energetic recruiting officers, the United States army has drummed up voluntary enlistment in its ranks to 40,000 a month — largest voluntary enlistment in the United States in peace or war.

Since May, when the preparedness program was started, enlistment has grown rapidly om 9500 in that month to 23,000 in June, 31,000 in July and approximately 40,000 in August. These figures cover enlistments in the army and the army Air Corps.

Canadian visitors in the United States notice the first evidence of this recruiting campaign in posters and billboard advertisements in the cities exhorting young men to join up with Uncle Sam to keep America safe.

'Molotoff Bread Baskets' Believed Used in Raids

By PAT USSHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 6 (CP Cable). — Nazi raiders high in the sky thrust at the London area during the morning rush hour today following a night alarm of record length and a brief dawn "alert." A fourth alarm of the day was sounded at the lunch hour.

Thirty-four German planes were shot down during the morning. Nine British planes were lost but the pilots of six were reported safe.

The growing intensity of the Nazi attacks on Britain followed within a few hours Prime Minister Churchill's warning that raids in September would probably "magnify and multiply."

Roof-top observers heard the booming of anti-aircraft fire and the sound of explosions. At a tremendous height over one district of the London area white streams of smoke were visible though planes could not be seen.

It was an uncanny experience to watch the intricate smoke patterns woven. The manoeuvres suggested a dogfight was in progress.

"It seemed as if a skein of white wool were suspended over the London area," said one eye-witness.

The Press Association said Molotoff "bread baskets" may have been dropped on the capital for the first time during the night raid. The Agency's roof-top reported described seeing "a rosy red glow in mid-air which faded with a deafening explosion and brilliant streaks across the night sky."

The bread basket, named for Premier Molotoff of Soviet Russia after the device was used in the Finnish war, holds a cluster of 100 incendiary bombs which usually burn out quickly.

In two cases formidable formations of Goering's Luftwaffe made airdromes their objective today but failed to hit them.

High explosive bombs which struck a hospital in Kent during the night killed a few patients and two nurses. Some of the former were trapped under tons of debris. One nurse clad in a night dress crawled into the wreckage to give the injured injections of morphia.

Terrific running fights developed after one formation of 200 bombers and fighters crossed the Southeast coast. At least five of the invaders were sent fluttering to earth as Spitfires and Hurricanes tore into the formations with savage fury, split them up and attempted to scatter them.

One of the German planes shot down was a Messerschmitt which crashed into a policeman's garden. The pilot was captured unhurt.

Three members of a bomber crew which crashed in flames over a Southeastern town crawled out unhurt. The other crewman had bailed out.

Enemy planes were believed in the vicinity of Northwest and Southwest towns in the forenoon.

A Dornier 17 crashed in flames into the Channel off Southeast England after an engagement with a fighter during the day raid. A vessel which had altered her course to search for survivors was machine-gunned by a Messerschmitt.

Raids during the night were widespread and resulted in fatalities among casualties in many sections of the country.

High explosive and incendiary bombs fell in the London area, and traffic was disorganized in an Eastern suburb by hits on a railway station.

Rossland Enjoys Dramatic Troup

ROSSLAND, B. C., Sept. 6 — A thoroughly delightful program of song and dramatics was presented to a capacity audience in St. Andrew's United Church Thursday night by the Pattern Players of Regina—Miss Charlotte Barber Patterson, B. E., Miss Winnifred Fletcher and Gordon Smith.

The Pattern Players have been touring during the Summer from Saskatchewan to Vancouver, and are now on their way back to Regina. During the Winter, Miss Fletcher and Mr. Smith will be on tour through Ontario and the Maritimes.

Gordon Smith's rendition of two songs "Old Man River" and "Smilin' Through", was particularly well done, and the manner in which he interpreted all selections was excellent. "Dialects in Rhyme" by Miss Patterson was superlative in all four variations. Miss Fletcher's rendition of "The Waltz" was exceptionally effective.

Following is the program presented:

"Give a Man a Horse he can Ride" and "Duna"—Mr. Smith, accompanied by Miss Fletcher.

"Dental Chair," monologue—Miss Fletcher.

"Proposing," comic skit presented by Winnifred Fletcher and Mr. Smith.

"Old Man River" and "Smilin' Through", Mr. Smith.

"Reminiscences of Childhood," comic childhood songs and recitations, Miss Patterson.

Comic skit, Miss Fletcher and Miss Patterson. Scene: Two wives waiting at home for their husbands who are "not home yesterday yet."

"The Waltz", monologue, by Miss Fletcher.

"Over Here for Over There" and "There'll Always be an England", chorus by audience, Mr. Smith.

"Dialects in Rhyme", Miss Patterson, done in dialects of a Scotch Mother, Italian, Southern Negro and Hoosier dialect.

"Molly and Jeannie Baker in Bed", comic number by Miss Fletcher and Miss Patterson.

"The Elmer Thompsons After the Party," monologue by Miss Fletcher.

"River Stay Away From My Door" and "Homing", baritone solos by Mr. Smith.

Dramatic scene in which all three players participated. This scene was laid in the home of "Mr. and Mrs. Alden of Philadelphia."

The performance by the Pattern Players was sponsored by the Women's Association of St. Andrew's United Church.

Nazi Fliers Believe Troops in England

LONDON, (CP). — Apparently German fliers carrying out bombing raids on England are being told at home that German grounds forces have begun to invade England.

An 18-year-old German pilot, wounded and captured in North-East England recently, asked a nurse who was dressing his wounds, "how far are the nearest German troops," the British Broadcasting Corporation reported.

The nurse could not convince him there were no German troops in England.

SOVIET PRESS MAKES COMMENT ON U. S. DEAL

MOSCOW, Sept. 6 (AP). — The Exchange of United States destroyers for air and naval bases on British territory was viewed by the Soviet newspapers Pravda today as "a considerable extension of Anglo-American cooperation."

The Communist party paper said the agreement was "designed to increase British resistance" and that "the war is now acquiring a greater scale and a more tenacious and prolonged character."

GEOLOGIST FOUND DEAD

QUEBEC, Sept. 6 (CP). — Officials of the Quebec Bureau of Mines said today they have been notified of the discovrey at Lake Olga in Northwestern Quebec of the body of Dr. Bruce Clark Freeman, 40-year-old Assistant Geologist of the Bureau.

They said the body was found in Freeman's tent by a fellow geologist and that it was believed he had died of natural causes.

Canadian Armored Brigade May Grow Into Division With U. S. Tanks

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP). — Formation of a Canadian armored division may be expedited considerably if several hundred obsolete United States tanks are transferred to the Canadian Government.

The National Defence Department has already authorized formation of an armored brigade and Defence Minister J. L. Ralson hopes the brigade may grow into a division.

The immediate need is tanks for training purposes as Canadian factories are now working toward production of modern service tanks.

Military authorities in the capital interested in armored units welcomed the news from Washington about the possible transfer of several hundred tanks to Canada as a partial solution to the problem of equipping the armored brigade for training.

At present Canada has a limited number of the latest model of British light tanks. These are in use at the armored fighting vehicles training centre at Camp Borden. These are not enough, however, to give a full course of training to a brigade.

The new Canadian tank brigade will be under the command of Col. F. F. Worthington who has been stationed at Camp Borden in command of the armored fighting vehicle training centre and is now in Washington studying United States tank training methods, inspecting their vehicles and discussing the transfer.

The brigade will consist of men from the Ontario regiment, Oshawa; the Three Rivers Regiment; the 1st Canadian Cavalry Regiment, London, Toronto, Winnipeg and Calgary; and the Fort Garry Horse, Winnipeg. All are Canadian Active Service Force units.

The brigade will also have affiliated with it four Non-Permanent Active Militia units, the Essex Regiment, Windsor; Calgary Regiment; Argyle Light Infantry, Belleville, and the New Brunswick Regiment.

TORPEDOING OF THE CHILD REFUGEE SHIP

One of the events of the week in the war was the sinking of a ship carrying hundreds of British children bound for Canada, by a torpedo fired by a German U-boat.

By the Providence of God, the children were all rescued, and were shortly back in Britain.

There is little that can be said about this war incident.

What once would have caused a world clamor, and an unquenchable anger against the German power that sought to send these children to the bottom, now passes almost without comment, for a stage has been reached when nothing, positively nothing, in the way of frightfulness can be put past the German monster.

The worst that can happen is accepted as the thing to be expected from the war machine that from the very start has mowed down civilians, bombed and machine-gunned refugees, and flattened and burned cities that tendered surrender.

Germany has sought to be known in this war for the terror that it can evoke.

It has sown a hatred of its evil self that will recoil upon it when it is on evil days, and in all the world it will have no defenders or well-wishers outside of the camp-followers benefitting temporarily from its criminal acts.

HITLER TELLS GERMANS NOT TO BE SCARED

Hitler tells the German people of the remarkable patience he has exercised for the past three months, toward Britain; of his patient waiting for the British to cease their senseless and planless raids. His patience, he now says, is exhausted, and every pound of explosive dropped on Germany is to be answered in multiple.

He also tells the Germans that the German machine is ready for anything the British may spring. No matter what form of attack the British may use against Germany, it will be foiled.

After all the threats that Hitler and his mouthpieces have been making, this declaration that Germany is prepared to meet Britain's might sounds very funny.

It is an unconscious admission that somebody or something has scared the German people—presumably the Royal Air Force bombings. No matter what terrors the British uncover, they will find the heroic Germans prepared and determined!

To put it in another way, Germany is mentally on the defensive.

For the inventors of the Blitzkreig to reassure each other of their ability to turn back attacks, is an admission that the initiative has passed to their opponents.

There is of course good reason for the Germans to be worried.

Germany's borders have been consistently crossed by the British fliers, and also the borders of all the lands from which Germany is hoping to strike Britain. When British formations fly over Germany, there is no interference worth speaking of.

When, however, Germany hurls her formations at Britain day after day and night after night, they have to unload their bombs virtually at the coastline, and retire in flight. London's defences have time and again turned back the German squadrons. A British mastery has been established, and apart from the great German wastage, the British air power is increasing day by day relatively to the enemy's strength.

It is quite clear why Herr Hitler has to reassure the Germans that he will be able to counteract the British goblin.

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE

Be watchful of deception during the next year if your birthday is today. Your health will be good throughout the year, and you will be happy in your domestic sphere. Born on this date a child will have a serious, scientific and profound mind, and will be courageous, ambitious, magnetic and possessed of much charm of manner.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE

When walking with two ladies a man should walk on the outside, not between the ladies.

HOROSCOPE FOR SUNDAY

The next year will be propitious for those celebrating birthdays today. It promises gain through elders and business dealings in property. A tendency toward extravagance should be checked. A child born today should be trained to restrain its natural inclination to speak out of turn. Such a child will be active, energetic and industrious, but too frank and outspoken, thereby causing the displeasure of superiors, unless trained otherwise.

S. S. S., Nelson—Is it necessary to have one's birth certificate in order to obtain the special identification card for entry in to the U. S. for less than 29 days? What are the office hours of the American Consulate at Trail? Is there any charge for the identification card?

To obtain an identification card to enter the U. S. one must first have a passport which would require a birth certificate. The only instance where a passport is not required is when a person is travelling from one Canadian port to another through the U. S. by a recognized transportation service. Office hours of the American Consulate at Trail are from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. There is no charge for an identification card.

E. J., Nelson—Would you please tell me how to get rid of the smell of stale smoke in a room? Airing the room doesn't seem to help much.

To help rid a room of stale smoke odor put a little vinegar in an open saucepan and heat. Set the pan in the room until the fumes thoroughly penetrate.

Inquirer, Nelson—Can you tell me how to can fish?

Fish should be canned as soon as possible after it is caught, and should be in perfect condition. Scale and clean the fish and wash well. Wipe the fish with a damp cloth and cut in pieces suitable for packing in jars. Pack solidly in clean glass jars, filling them to within one inch of the top. Add from one half to one teaspoon of salt for each pint of fish, but no water. Adjust the rubbers and covers and partly seal the jar. Heat under 10 pounds of pressure for one and three quarters hours or if a water bath is used, boil for five hours.

M. C., Yahk—In setting a watch, should the hands be turned forward?

It makes no difference which way they are turned. Turn them in the direction in which the correct time is nearer.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

OVERTAKING THE KING

If you hold the ace of an unbid suit in which your partner leads the king, you should nearly always overtake with it. Practically always he will hold the queen, and a goodly percentage of the time either the jack or ten also, regardless of whether the contract be suit or No Trumps. Holding up the ace should seldom be done unless you have some special situation in your own hand which points to the value of doing so.

South was one of those No Trump fiends, who considers himself a good bridge player because once in a while he steals a game to make up for the tremendous number of undue defeats he takes by his queer bidding. This time he took advantage of the fact that he was up against a pair he considered far below him in ability, and wanted to top everybody else in the duplicate tournament in which he was playing.

East and West certainly made good his estimate of them. After the scores were posted, everybody seeing he was credited with a No Trump game on the hand said it was impossible. Surely it seems so when you notice that great heart suit. But what actually happened?

West, who had cannily passed his big suit during the bidding, led the heart K. East wouldn't think of taking a trick that was already his partner's, so played the 10, and then won the second heart trick with his A, blocking the suit. West never got into the lead again, and East took nothing further except two diamond tricks. The declarer scored four tricks in diamonds, three in clubs and two in spades, for game in a hand which did not truly contain a game.

A friend both loyal and true.
A sportsman and a gentleman,
Pure gold, all through and through.
In business and in pastime,
His standards were the same.
Upright in all his actions.
He always played the game.
Renowned in many a field of sport,
Loved for his charming way.
Revered: his name will ever be
A symbol of fair play.
He loved the woods, the hills and streams,
And all that lived therein.
No mean advantage of his skill
Could be applied to him.
Rich was his store of district lore,
Stirring the tales he told,
Exploits and thrills, with rod and gun,
With keenness he'd unfold.

WOMEN OF BRITAIN

Wave upon wave they are coming,
Wings of a tyrant's might.
Coming with death and destruction,
Grim birds of prey in the night.

High in the sky over England,
While women and children sleep,
Laden with deadly missiles,
They come at the dawn's first peep.

Mothers with babes at their bosoms,
Wake at the sound of the roar,
And know as they hurry to shelter,
That death is right at their door.

Calmly these women of Britain,
True to their ancient race
Kneel to their Heavenly Father,
And rise refreshed by His Grace.

They soothe and comfort the aged,
And hope for all they hold dear.
Then smile and break into singing,
Till the siren sounds the "all clear".

British Mediterranean Fleet Hope to Be Reinforced by U. S. Destroyers

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 6 (AP)—British naval authorities at this Eastern Mediterranean base hailed today the acquisition of 50 over-age United States destroyers as providing Britain with powerful additional weapons to crush Italy's communications with her armies in North Africa.

The British Mediterranean fleet, demonstrating its strength in its unchallenged bombardment Wednesday of the Italian Island stronghold of Scrapanto, expects to get a number of American craft.

This would release warships now tied up by convoy duties and would give more screen protection to British battleships and cruisers in increased attacks expected on Italian bases.

British authorities here would not disclose how the Eastern Mediterranean fleet had been reinforced as announced by Prime Minister Churchill in London yesterday, but the joining up of the Eastern and Western battle squadrons the past week brought together the largest number of battleships, destroyers and aircraft carriers seen in the Mediterranean since Italy entered the war.

The Egyptian Press gave prominent display to Mr. Churchill's statement that a stream of convoys was pouring fresh troops into the Middle East as an indication major activity may soon be forthcoming on the African war fronts.

British successes in shelling Scarpanto and an earlier attack this week on Rhodes in the Dodecanese Islands were lauded as further evidence of Britain's mastery of Premier Mussolini's "mare nostrum"— our sea.

"Italian fleet again runs away," said the headlines here.

This latter was in connection with the British statement that the Italian fleet was sighted in this week's operations in the Mediterranean but withdrew without giving resistance.

Every Man on Active Service to Have Chance to Continue His Education

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP)—No matter where a man is in training or on active service with the Canadian forces, land, air or sea—he may continue his education.

Educational services are under Chairmanship of Lt.-Col. Wilfred Bovey and organized by the Canadian Legion War Services, Inc., the National Committee on Education acts on recommendations of technical advisory committees and today Dr. J. E. Robbins, Chairman of three of these committees, explained the scope of the work planned.

Dr. Robbins, who heads the committees dealing with curricula, visual education and books and libraries, said elementary and secondary education for members of the armed forces include:

Spare-time opportunities for the learning of trades and vocations which will aid in civil re-establishment and which are considered a psychological guard against boredom; good reading facilities at no or very small cost;

Authentic information on the war and Canada's part in it (aimed at the maintenance of interest and of morale.)

Such other educational help as may be possible or desirable for the men.

A uniform high school curriculum has been compiled through the offices of the Provincial departments of Education, Alberta supplying the English, Saskatchewan mathematics, Nova Scotia and British Columbia technical subjects such as motor mechanics, diesel engineering, radio electricity and drafting; Ontario and Manitoba the program of elementary school subjects designed in a year's work to give possibilities to qualify for a grade eight entrance examination, the minimum required for the air force.

If a soldier, sailor or airman is taking a course in motor mechanics the British Columbia director of correspondence courses looks after him. The work can be done alone or under some tutoring. Sheets in the exercise books are perforated and after being filled in they can be torn out and sent to the proper department for correction.

Investigation in some of the camps Dr. Robbins said, shows the level of education for the majority of men in the forces is about grade eight.

Canada Will Not Send More Troops Overseas at Present Says Macdonald

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—Arrival of the latest contingent of Canadian troops in the United Kingdom brings Canada's military establishment there close to the maximum contemplated for the present.

Naval Minister Macdonald today said 11,500 Canadian soldiers and 33 Canadian nurses, largest of six big Canadian contingents to go Overseas since the war began, crossed in the convoy which arrived Wednesday and gave a flat denial to a Nazi claim that a troopship carrying Canadians was sunk.

While there has been no official statement from the National Defence Department on the number of Canadian troops in the United Kingdom British newspapers placed the number at 35,000 recently. Thus the latest contingent brings the total to more than 46,000.

Not a single Canadian life was lost at sea from enemy action in the movement of these troops overseas. The movement started last December and over a period of nine months the rate of movement was about 1200 a week.

The Navy Minister said also that a group of 14 cadets bound for the Royal Navy Training School in England was included in the contingent of Canadians safely landed in England this week.

These young men will be trained in England for commissions in the Royal Canadian Navy. They came from various centres in Canada from Halifax to Victoria. Among them was William Hastings Howe, son of Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply.

Britannia still rules the waves, "Hitler's boasts notwithstanding," the Navy Minister said today, presenting figures to show a large increase in Canada's import and export trade "largely due to the war."

"Exports," he said, "are largely to the United Kingdom and the safe conduct of them across the seas speaks volumes for the thoroughness and efficiency of the convoy work of the Royal Canadian Navy and of the mother service, the Royal Navy."

The Minister said for the first seven months of the year Canada's import and export trade showed an increase of $378,071,180 over the corresponding period of a year ago. Imports increased $206,437,649 while exports gained $169,633,537.

Although figures of the number of ships leaving and entering Canadian ports since the war were not at the moment available, he said, latest statistics showed that for the 12 month period from March, 1939, to March, 1940, which includes outgoing and incoming ships over the corresponding time a year ago. This increase in tons amounted to 4,991,001.

68 Canadian Ships Armed Since War

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP).—Defensive armament has been fitted to 68 merchant vessels in Canada since the outbreak of war it was announced today by naval headquarters.

The Department makes a sharp distinction between this type of armament and that placed upon merchant vessels which are transformed into auxiliary cruisers to work with the Navy.

These 68 vessels, ranging from fast liners to slow-moving freighters, have been fitted with stern guns which can aim only at pursuing targets, hence the term "defensive" armament.

U. S. Destroyers Come to Canada

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Sept. 6 (CP)—A group of United States destroyers—part of the 50 warcraft to be turned over to Britain under the destroyer-base exchange—arrived in port out of the dense fog along the coast today.

The trim men of war were the first of the over-age vessels to reach an Empire port. They will be manned by British crews and then brought into the conflict as swiftly as possible.

The transfer of the destroyers from United States officers and men to the British command will proceed under plans that will have the vessels speeding to battle stations as soon as possible.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — An expression of gratification that 50 over-age destroyers from United States are being transferred to Great Britain in Canadian waters came today from Hon. Angus Macdonald, Minister of National Defence for naval services.

"We here in the navy department are all delighted that the 50 United States destroyers are being transferred in Canadian waters and the navy is doing all in its power to assist in the turnover," he said.

These craft will fly the United States flag until they are formally taken over by British crews, the Minister said. He had no information on the state of service ability of the destroyers.

Mr. Macdonald repeated his statement of some days ago that the Canadian Navy had personnel available to man several destroyers but he would not comment on the possibility of any of the United States craft being retained by Canada.

The Minister said one of the four Canadian destroyers operating over seas with the Royal Navy has been relieved by another Canadian craft for return to Canada to be overhauled after 11 months' constant service.

GERMAN EXPERTS WILL GO TO BESSARABIA

BERLIN, Sept. 6 (AP) — Six hundred German experts in resettlement work, with chauffeurs for trucks and medical personnel, have started or are starting soon for Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina, territories recently ceded by Rumania to Soviet Russia, a high foreign office official disclosed today. The Germans are to bring to East Prussia and former Polish territories Germans from Bessarabia and 38,000 annexed to the Reich some 90,000 from Northern Bucovina.

NO NEGOTIATIONS FOR MORE BASES—F.D.R.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that Costa Rica and Ecuador were cooperating completely with the United States in plans for defence of the Americas, but he added that no negotiations for acquisition of additional naval and air bases were now under way with any country.

British Industrial Centres Are Surprisingly Free From Destruction

By HUGH WAGNON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP). — A nationwide survey by The Associated Press, completed today, shows Britain is tending to "business as usual" despite the damage and death inflicted by German air raiders.

From the white cliffs of Dover to Land's End on the South coast, in the industrial Midlands and the great harbors of Hull and Liverpool, Portsmouth and Southampton, Bristol and Plymouth, our staff were permitted to go freely to see for themselves the extent of damage — and the lack of it.

Dover, focal point of attack by air and artillery across the Channel, is surprisingly free of extensive destruction, the inhabitants are repairing homes and even building new ones in the face of Nazi air squadrons which daily roar overhead.

At the great naval base of Portsmouth, raiders once succeeded in dropping a bomb in the courtyard of the barracks but little damage was done and no one was hurt. Most of the fatalities there have been among civilians.

At Southampton, police gave me carte blanche not only to go where I pleased but also to photograph what I pleased. One bomb had set fire to a cold storage warehouse and a few houses had been wrecked here, but the streets were filled with shoppers. The shops and great fruit and meat storehouses were amply supplied.

Plymouth and Bristol, although frequently attacked, showed little evidence of bombings.

Around the Greater London area the heaviest toll has been taken in the matter of sleep. High explosive and incendiary bombs have caused negligible damage — and that chiefly to residential property.

Liverpool, still one of Britain's busiest ports, has been the target of numerous fire bombs, some of which started small fires on the docks, but these soon were extinguished.

A survey of the towns and the countryside gives the impression damage is of infinitesimal proportions.

College Students to Be Allowed to Train at Schools

OTTAWA, Sept. 6 (CP)—College students who are liable because of their age for 30 days' compulsory military training will avoid a stretch in militia training centres if their military training at their places of learning satisfies Defence Department authorities.

The Department of National War Services has undertaken not to call university students from their studies for compulsory training and the universities have agreed to make part-time training compulsory for all fit male students.

Thus, it was understood at Defence Headquarters today, places the students in the same category as men already members of the Non-Permanent Active Militia.

More Indictments in French War Case

VICHY, France, Sept. 6 (AP)—The controlled French press predicted today further indictments would follow the charges filed yesterday against former Air Ministers Guy la Chambre and Pierre Cot in the war blame case now before the Riom Court.

No names were mentioned in the predictions.

The newspaper Le Figaro, published at Clermont-Farrand, claimed that La Chambre, who headed the Air Ministry during part of the war, told a secret meeting of the Chamber of Deputies that the state of French aviation was "satisfactory".

"The facts gave tragic denial to the statement," the newspaper asserted.

La Chambre and Cot, whose arrest was ordered, are believed to be in the United States.

Another ominous sign of the times came today with a decree in the official Gazette which prohibits the sale of coffee in boarding houses, dining cars, cafes, restaurants and clubs after 3 p.m.

GOV.-GENERAL OF ALGERIA GIVEN WIDE POWERS

VICHY, France, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Governor-General of Algeria was given unlimited powers to remove any military or civil member of his administration under a Government order published today. The order gives him powers until November 30 similar to those held by the Central Government of France proper.

onn's Left Hooks Too Much for Pastor; Kill Homes in 13th Round

onn's Low Blows Come in for Criticism

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For 12 full rounds, he wore down the New York heavyweight with an assortment of left hooks, both high and low, to the body. In the 13th, with Bob dog-tired from trying to get out of the way of these swings, Billy flattened him for the full 10 count.

Pastor went down for the third and final time from a left-right-left to the mid-section, and Referee Billy Cavanaugh counted him out. Weight, he tried to get up, but he didn't make it, and at 10 he slumped flat on his face.

Thus did the Pittsburgh champion, who, at 174 pounds tonight was still under the light-heavyweight limit, make good his campaign to get at the Brown Bomber.

The winner of tonight's tussle has been promised a shot at the heavyweight boss by Mike Jacobs, and there was no question about who is the winner here.

Pastor, scaling 180¾, was well-beaten, although there's no telling how much some of the "abdicating" light-heavyweight champion's low blows took out of him. Three times Billy was warned for hitting below the belt, and two rounds were taken away from him for this violation. One of these—the 12th—left him lost after knocking Bob clean through the ropes for a count of nine.

On the Associated Press score card Conn took eight of the 12 completed rounds. Of Pastor's four he was awarded the eighth and 12th for Billy's "submarine ball" pitching below the belt. But the fight itself was a lot closer than that and time after time it had the crowd that contributed a gross gate of $49,415, roaring.

At the finish, boos were mingled with cheers, either for Conn's low punching or Pastor's knockout from body blows, but there was no arguing against the decisiveness of Conn's triumph.

However, it was disclosed later that all Pastor had to do was get up before the "10" sounded over him, and he not only would not have been knocked out, but would actually have won the 13th round. Climbing out of the ring, Referee Cavanaugh said the final left to the body was "dangerously close" to foul territory.

All but a few of Billy's belts to the "tummy" were in fair territory.

As a result, Jimmy Johnston, Pastor's manager, claimed that his boxer was "knocked out by a foul punch."

"He has marks on his groin and is nauseated," Johnston said. "I don't know what kind of a rule that is—that a man can be knocked out by a foul blow."

He found Pastor's weak spot along about the fifth round, and after that seven out of every 10 punches went in that direction.

By the time the 12th session rolled round, Billy's left hand found its mark almost at will.

Conn charged out in the 13th with a pair of left hooks to the face that momentarily shook Bob. Both moved around the ring for a few seconds, then Pastor held, dog-tired. As they parted, Conn threw left, right and left to the body, and Pastor slumped to the floor near Billy's corner. Ten seconds later, it was all over.

AT LEAST FIVE TEAMS ARE READY NELSON SENIOR BOWLING LOOP

Aurelio, Mydansky Again at the Helm

Johnny Aurelio and "Lefty" Mydansky, who got ten-pin bowling back on its feet in Nelson last Winter, were reelected President and Secretary-Treasurer respectively of the Nelson Gelinas Bowling Club at the annual meeting in the Hume Hotel Friday night.

"They did a great job last year, and we're having nobody else," was the way Frank McClements, Captain of the Dodge-DeSoto team, put it as he nominated both men for office again.

Five teams — the Champion Daily News, Gas House Goofers, Interior Truck Lines, Dodge-DeSoto and Millionaires — signified their intention of competing again this season, and two or three more teams are yet expected. Deadline for entries is the 20th, and initial play will begin about October 1. A seven-player limit was set for each team, which allows for two spares.

Jimmy McCandlish, a staunch supporter of bowling, was elected Honorary President, and Ald. George Benwell, Vice-President. The Captain of each team automatically places on the Executive, which now comprises Jack Hamson (Goofers), Bud Stevens (Interior Truck Lines), Sam Brown (Daily News), Frank McClements (Dodge-DeSoto), and Frank Defoe (Millionaires).

One of the first problems to confront the Executive will be the method employed in deciding matches. Last year total pins on the match was the deciding factor, but a number of players preferred the system of having the best of three games in the match determine the winner.

The Executive will also work out the spots for the teams for the first tournament, and from then on during the Winter the handicaps will be readjusted as need be to keep the teams as even in strength as possible.

TWO ALL-STAR TEAMS

Comment was also received on the method of choosing Nelson representative squads for The Daily News Trophy in the West Kootenay championships with Trail and South Slocan Good Friday, which goes in 1941 to Trail. Two teams are to be picked, and it was decided that the same system as last year will be employed. The first five men in the City League averages will place on the No. 1 team, and the next five on the second squad. To qualify for consideration, a player must play in at least 50 per cent of his team's games.

The tournament for the City championship will be the last one to be run off in the season. At stake will be the Hume Trophy, held at present by The News.

Bill Freno and Jesse Sesby were appointed scorers for league play.

Dodgers Gain Game on Reds by Beating Phils; Yanks Drop One

By The Canadian Press

Brooklyn Dodgers crept up a full game on the first place Cincinnati Reds yesterday — but there's still a full seven games separating the top two teams in the National League. While the Reds were idle, the Dodgers whipped the Phillies twice today 3-0 and 14-3.

Clyde Shoun, making his 49th appearance of the season for the Cardinals seemed overworked as he pitched in his third consecutive National League baseball game. He gave up four runs in the first two innings but after that shut out Chicago Cubs as his teammates came back for a 6-4 victory.

Foldup of Cleveland Indians turned into a panic as Detroit Tigers completed their massacre of the American League's best pitching staff with a 10-5 victory that extended the Tribe's losing streak to five straight games.

The hot breath of the Tigers was blowing on the backs of the Indians' necks tonight with Detroit riding in second place a single game behind the leading Clevelanders.

Louie (Buck) Newsom pitched one of his poorer games of the season for his 18th victory and a Tiger sweep of the three-game series, but the Tiger attack was strong enough to offset his shortcomings.

New York Yankees lost second place in the close American League pennant race when young Ken Chase, Washington left-hander, stopped the world champions 3-1 while Detroit's Tigers blasted the league leading Cleveland Indians 10-5.

Though the Yanks' pennant drive was stalled, they lost no ground to the league leaders. They are two full games back of the Indians and one back of the second place Tigers

Gee Gee Walker played the leading offensive role for the winners, his two homers — one in the first inning and the other in the sixth—being sufficient for the victory.

Johnny Rigney pitched Chicago White Sox to a four-hit 6-3 American League victory over St. Louis Browns.

SOFTBALL STAR

AL EUERBY

Hard-hitting Albert Euerby will hold down the initial sack when the Nelson Reps tangle with the Rossland men's softball team in West Kootenay playoffs in Nelson Sunday afternoon. Euerby, a line hitter in softball, played short for Hume Hotel in City League play, but Coach Louis Aurelio has moved him over to first for the rep team.

Indians Blasted in All Sectors

DETROIT, Sept. 6 (AP)— Life among the Indians—that is, Cleveland's Indians— must be a long way from joyous nowadays, even though a big bag of gold may be awaiting them from the world series.

Veteran baseball followers say that never in the organized game's history has a team been dealt with as harshly by fandom as the Indians have been, and the clamor for the scalps of the tribe reached —a new peak in the Tiger series.

From the bleachers, from the grandstand and from the public prints have come a host of gibes, and there's little doubt that if the Indians make it through successfully to the pennant it will be partly because they held a taut rein on their tempers.

Witness what they encountered when they came to Detroit to open three battles with the Tigers, who made it hurt worse by thumping Bob Feller to take the opener 7 to 2.

Across six columns of a sport page in one city's newspaper were six pictures—of six bawling babies. Just above, over an article on the series, was the headline:

(The Tigers were in a slump until they started teeing off on Feller.)

"SQUEAKING PAPOOSES"

The article said of the Indians, "Nobody loves them. Every thumb is turned down," and asserted that "only Cleveland wants to see Cleveland win," that the rest of the league is all anti-Indian.

In a rival paper a writer dubbed the Indians "squeaking papooses" and "assistant bosses."

All this related to the falling-out of some of the Indians with Manager Oscar Vitt a few weeks ago and their complaint to the front office.

For example, a wag placed a baby's bottle, nipple and all, atop the Indian dugout, and loud was the accompanying verbal abuse. Then there was a lusty cheer when Third Baseman Ken Keltner ran into a photographer while chasing an easy pop foul and missed the catch.

Rossland Bants Win 1st Playoff With Trail Team

TRAIL, B. C., Sept. 6—The opening game in the best of three series finals of the inter-city bantam lacrosse championship between the Trail and Rossland teams in the Trail rink Thursday night ended with a 8-2 victory for the Rosslanders.

The game, marked by two fights in the last canto, was played before the senior lacrosse playoff game. The second will be held in Rossland before the senior game Monday night.

Arthur Laface registered three goals, with his brother "Babe" scoring two. Archie Scott, completing a Scott-Laface lineup which seems traditional wherever Golden City enters the sport field, accounted for another goal, and two were scored by Jerry (Jazzy) Monshagn and Fred Munroe.

Optional Kickoff After Touchdown Canadian Rugby

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP). — The Canadian Rugby Union playing rules for 1940 show only a few minor changes from last season. Rule changes suggested at the last annual meeting have not been carried out, with but two exceptions.

Last Spring following the annual meeting of the Union, it was announced that the Rules Committee had decided to limit the use of the huddle. William Foulds of Toronto, Rules Committee Chairman, said today that the huddle decision had been tabled for the time being. The change would have called for only three huddles by a team each quarter.

OPTIONAL KICKOFF AFTER SCORE

The two changes to be instituted call for an optional kickoff after touchdown and the allowing of a player to re-enter the game in the same quarter he was removed.

The optional kickoff allows the team scored against to have its choice of kicking off or receiving and gives a team, which through lack of a good kicker, might be on the defensive most of the game, a chance to work out from its own end of the field. Formerly, the team against which the touchdown was scored, kicked off.

The second rule was explained by Foulds, who said:

"We felt that a player whom to all appearances is badly hurt, could be served better off the field, rather than by a hurried examination made on the field and the game consequently held up."

The player may re-enter the game in the same quarter if found not to be seriously injured, but on a second occurrence a substitute must take his place.

War conditions were mainly responsible for continuation of the huddle system. It was explained that with many players taking military training it is impossible for teams to have complete units out for each practice. The huddle will allow players a chance to check on any play before it is used.

KIMBERLEY SOFTBALLERS TO PLAY CITY CHAMPION SAVOYS SUNDAY

The crack Kimberley Hi-Grades are due in Nelson over the weekend for an exhibition softball game with the Savoy Hotel at 4:30 Sunday afternoon at the Recreation Grounds.

The visitors, coached by Vernie Ahrens, former Savoy star third baseman, created an outstanding record in East Kootenay men's softball this Summer. They won the Dominion Day tournament in decisive fashion, and will furnish tough opposition for the Savoys, who are Nelson City champions. Monday the Kimberley team will play Warfield Aces in Trail.

Jack Fisher will go to the mound for the Nelson team and Denis Ball will be behind the plate. Coach Bob Paterson isn't quite sure about the rest of his lineup, but if he needs any help, he will enlist the services of players from other Nelson league teams.

The Kimberley team, as seen in their picture, is composed of:

Back row — Buck Cavanaugh, Russ Shaw, Alex Caldwell, Swede Dellert, Jake Jacobson, Bee Edwards and Manager Jack Morrison.

Many of the Kimberley players are well-known in Kootenay sport circles. Corbett is a defenceman with the Kimberley Dynamiters.

Farr to Do Film Job at Vancouver

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP). — Tommy Farr, British heavyweight, cabled his manager, Joe Gould, and Promoter Mike Jacobs that he will fly to American early in November for a "film job" in Vancouver, B. C., and would like a fight while he is there.

Jacobs replied he would hold Nov. 29 for a fight between Farr and some other heavyweight in Madison Square Garden for the benefit of the British Red Cross.

Nelson, Rossland Continue Playoff in Nelson Sunday

Nelson Leads in Men's Softball Playdown Series

Nelson and Rossland representative softball teams will decide their West Kootenay semi-final series in men's softball playdowns for the Rowling Memorial Trophy at the Recreation Grounds Sunday afternoon when they clash starting at 1 p.m.

The Lakesiders are in the driver's seat at present, and they can end the best of three series with another victory. However, if Rossland evens the count, the third and deciding game will be played immediately after.

Nelson won the first game in Rossland 20-12, with Art Ross on the mound. Ross will probably draw the starting assignment, with Len Bicknell, Jack Fisher and Les Trainor held in relief. If the series goes the limit, either Bicknell or Fisher will start the deciding contest.

Coach Louis Aurelio isn't quite sure of his whole lineup, but Denis Ball or Pete Kuntz will be behind the plate. Al Euerby will be on first, Ernie Beland at second and Sid Ball at short. The rest of the team will be chosen from Tom McInnes, Carl Locatelli, Jesse Seaby Jimmy Eccles, Phil Kuntz and Armando Maglio.

The winner of this series will tangle with either Trail Crown Points or Castlegar to decide Warfield Aces' successor to the West Kootenay championship. The Trail team won the first game of the other semi-final series, which will also be resumed tomorrow. If a third game is necessary, it will be played Wednesday.

Then the finalists will start a best of five series starting next Sunday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP).—Jack Kramer, tall youngster from Los Angeles, brought color to the United States tennis championships at Forest Hills today by beating Frankie Parker in the quarter-finals 1-6, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Parker is the country's second ranked player, right behind Bobby Riggs, and was seeded fourth in the current championships. Kramer is ranked No. 17 off his records of last year.

Don McNeill, Oklahoma City, scored a victory today over Elwood Cooke by 2-7, 6-0, 4-6, 6-3.

Alice Marble, seeking her fourth hard ch;- women's title, won from Helen Bernhard of New York, 6-2, 6-3, to enter the semi-finals. Her next opponent will be Valerie Scott of England, who eliminated Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica 2-6, 6-4, 6-3.

100 Fish Drown

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 6 (AP). — What caused the death of several hundred fish in the Sangamon River? Simple, they drowned during a warehouse fire. Alfalfa in the warehouse, State Conservation Department Inspectors theorized, absorbed oxygen from the water firemen poured into the building. When this water flowed into the river, the fish in the vicinity "drowned" from lack of oxygen.

Blue Bombers Defeat Regina

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6 (CP).—Winnipeg Blue Bombers, defeated in their first two games of the Western interprovincial football season, tonight found the weak spots in the youthful Regina Roughriders' armor and came through with a 12-0 triumph.

It was a great comeback for Reg Threlfall's Canadian champions who started the season on home grounds without several stars of former years, including the fleet Fritzie Hanson.

Beaten by Calgary and Regina, Bombers tonight showed few weaknesses and in the last quarter drove through Roughriders in sparkling style. In Calgary last Friday they were humbled 12-1 and in Regina Labor Day they bowed to a 3-1 defeat.

Cleveland Only One Up on Tigers

By The Associated Press

The stumbling Cleveland Indians are only a game in front of Detroit Tigers, two in front of the Yankees and a bare four games ahead of Boston Red Sox in the American League race.

Tigers defeated the Indians yesterday 10-5 and took over second place from New York who bowed to Washington Senators 3-1. That gave the Tigers second place by a margin of .566 to .562. The idle Red Sox gained a half game on the Indians.

The National League isn't close yet, despite a twin victory for Brooklyn Dodgers over the Phils by 3-0 and 14-3 which cut a full game off the lead the Cincinnati Reds enjoy. They are now seven full games ahead.

Indians Rebel on Vitt Again

DETROIT, Sept. 6 (AP)—Cleveland Indians went on a new war path unchartered by Oscar Vitt today as the American League Baseball pennant race developed into the tightest tangle of the season.

Most players attended a hotel room session without the knowledge of Manager Vitt last night and laid new plans for the rest of the season. They were a serious and determined-looking band after the disastrous series with the Tigers.

The Indians were reluctant to discuss their council of war, which recalled previous such sessions—first to demand that Vitt be fired and later to agree to forget everything but the pennant.

Several players indicated this session was attended by "all but two or three regulars."

Asked how they expected to carry out their plans without cooperation of Vitt, one spokesman said grimly. "If we have to do it, we'll give the orders ourselves.

"I've decided we must go for one or two runs at a time and this means we can't overlook any chances to advance runners. That's what we talked about—ways and means of getting runs across the plate without leaving so many men on the bases."

Yanks Stand Out as Real Champions by Keeping Dignity in Tough Season

Fans Do About-Face as Rally Behind Yanks' Driving Finish

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Yanks are coming, pushed along by the hopes and cheers of thousands of baseball fans who a few short weeks ago were wishing McCarthy's musketeers all kinds of luck, just so it was bad.

A team often shows a form reversal such as the world champions have shown recently, but seldom have the fans shown a form reversal such as that displayed by the crowds which for a goodly part of this season gloated in their chance to stick pins into the shanks of a shackled king.

When nearly 70,000 fans turn out to watch the Yanks play the Athletics, a team which, on its record, this year, wouldn't figure to draw its breath at the gate, Mr. McGinnity can just figure there is something in the air besides the raw material for hay fever.

REACTION COMPLETE

The plastic reaction of the fans during the trials of the champions this year is as interesting as the trail of the team last year. It reads like a fever chart, starting with downright hostility and running a gamut which includes gloating over the club's downfall, tolerance, mild sympathy and finally avid support.

The hostility was the natural result of too much success; the critter instinct in man which causes him to find glee in the downfall of the mighty. Four straight pennants and a smug confidence in their ability to proceed as usual put the McCarthymen behind the eight-ball with the public before the season even started.

When the club fell upon evil days and couldn't have won with its own umpires, the fans' reaction was an unholy glee. They turned out in huge quantities to be in on the kill, to hoot and jeer. The team's pride might have suffered, but not the gate.

CHANGED TO SYMPATHY

The fans thought the lapse was only temporary, but when it became apparent something was radically wrong, that frustration was a keynote of the play, tolerance began to creep into the fans' attitude, and then, almost against their wishes, sympathy.

Then abruptly the team hit its stride. It seemed too late. The Cleveland Indians were far out in front. Even the Detroit Tigers seemed too far ahead to be nipped.

But the Yanks played their game, and the underdog role swung their fans abruptly to their side. Not just the New York fans, who had been as hostile as any during the early season debacles. The fans over the circuit, with possible exceptions at Cleveland and Detroit, began to root for the revived champions.

In addition to the natural sympathy for the underdog, two other factors entered into the situation. One was the Cleveland uprising which turned sentiment against the Indians and left them an unpopular choice for the pennant. The other was the attitude of the Yankees during the dark days when victory was always just around the corner.

OFFERED NO ALIBIS

Seldom has a team conducted itself with such dignity in the face of reverses. The players might have been a little more fiery in fighting for their rights, but there was never an alibi.

Red Ruffing couldn't get going; Lefty Gomez was gone; Joe Dimaggio was injured; Monte Pearson went on the shelf; Red Rolfe could not hit a table with his open hand, Bill Dickey seemed to be a tired old man.

Yet the bosses and players closed their lips to alibis and plugged along as best they could. In truth, the Yanks showed themselves to be champions in every sense of the word, and the fans at last have realized that not through performance alone is New York a great ball club. Class will stand out even in defeat.

Nineteen Paper Box Companies Fined In Ontario

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP). — Nineteen Ontario paper box companies and one individual were found guilty of combining in restraint of trade in a judgment issued here today by Mr. Justice J. A. Hope of the Supreme Court of Ontario and fines ranging from $10,000 to $2500 were imposed.

Thirteen companies were fined $10,000 each, five companies were fined $5000 each and one company was fined $2500. The judge said he wished the penalties to be deterrent to combine practices and not ruinous to the companies concerned.

The convictions took place under the Combines Section, No. 498, of the Criminal Code of Canada.

H. J. Badden, President of Container Materials, Ltd., was fined $5000 with the alternative of six months in jail.

Companies fined $10,000 were: Container Materials, Ltd.; Shipping Containers, Ltd.; Standard Paper Box, Ltd.; Martin Hewitt Containers, Ltd.; Canadian Wirebound Boxes, Ltd.; Corrugated Paper Box Company, Ltd.; Gair Company of Canada, Ltd.; Hinde and Dauch Paper Company of Canada, Ltd.; Hygrade Corrugated Products, Ltd.; Hilton Brothers, Ltd.; Martin Paper Products, Ltd.; Canadian Boxes, Ltd.; and Acme Paper Box Company, Ltd.

Companies fined $5000 were: G. W. Hendershot Corrugated Paper Company, Ltd.; Kraft Containers, Ltd.; Superior Box Company, Ltd.; Wilson Box Company, Ltd., and Maritime Paper Products Company, Ltd.

Dominion Corrugated Paper Company, Ltd., was fined $2500.

Evidence at the lengthy hearing of charges against the companies last Spring was marked by the appearance of numerous minute books and sheafs of documents seized in certain offices.

Vancouver Brewers Net Profit Decreased

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (CP). — The consolidated statement of Brewers and Distillers of Vancouver, Ltd., and subsidiaries for the six months ended June 30 shows net profit of $140,603 after deductions of $60,555 for depreciation and $129,500 for income taxes.

The foregoing figures compare with net profit of $302,627 for the corresponding period of 1939, after deductions of $67,253 for depreciation and $90,062 for taxes.

Apart from the increase in taxes, the decrease of net profit is more than accounted for by the complete liquidation of inventories of American type whiskies which were taken into the accounts last year.

Northern Wheat Sold in East

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6 (CP)—Traders were inactive in the wheat pit at the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today and prices closed at fixed minimum levels of 73⅝ cents a bushel for the October future and 74⅝ for December. No export business was indicated.

Approximately 500,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern was sold for shipment into Eastern positions in the cash wheat market. Small lots of No. 2 Northern changed hands.

Chicago Wheat Down as Profits Cashed

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP). — A desire to accept profits accrued as a result of a 10 cents a bushel advance in wheat prices the past three weeks dominated trade today and caused quotations to drop more than a cent.

Wheat closed 1 to 1⅜ cents lower than yesterday, September 75⅝ to 75½, December 77 to 76⅞; corn ⅛ to ⅝ down, September 63⅛ to 63, December 56 ⅞ to 57; oats ⅛ to ⅝ lower.

Building trades reported a good week, except at Montreal where a slight falling-off was noted. Wholesale grocers reported generally good business in good supplies although a slight decline was reported at Winnipeg.

Dome and Lake Shore Golds weakened ¼ to ½. Buffalo-Ankerite and Wright-Hargreaves fell back 10 to 15 cents and smaller losses were netted by Little Long Lac, San Antonio, Malartic Gold Fields, Moneta, Sullivan, Preston and Kirkland Lake. Sigma advanced 40 to 6.90.

Nickel lost ¼, Waite-Amulet 25 cents and Steep Rock dropped 5. Hudson Bay edged forward 2 to 27.

KOBE OIL FIRE IS UNDER CONTROL

KOBE, Japan, Sept. 6 (AP)—A spectacular fire, starting in a Kobe Oil Company early today, was brought under control nine hours later after destroying 12 warehouses and a great quantity of gasoline.

Kootenay-Boundary Forest Fires at Season's Total of 911; 32 in Week

554 of 911 Fires to Date Reported in West Kootenay

Thirty-two new forest fires reported in the week ending at midnight Thursday boosted the Kootenay-Boundary total for 1940 to date to 911. This was nearly double the season's total of 574 at the same date a year ago.

Thirty-nine forest fires were burning at the end of the "statistical week," compared with 56 a year ago. The total of 32 new fires in the week compared with 145 for the corresponding week of 1939, a week in which a lightning storm accounted for a large number of outbreaks.

Fires burning at the end of the week were all under control and many of them were almost out, the result of heavy and fairly general rains. The fire situation was described as quiet throughout the district.

West Kootenay continued to lead in fire occurrences. Nineteen of the week's 32 outbreaks were in this district, six in East Kootenay and seven in the Boundary. It led also in those still burning, having 22 of the 39 listed, compared with 15 in East Kootenay and two in the Boundary.

Of the 911 fires to date this season, 554 have been in West Kootenay, 280 in East Kootenay and 77 in the Boundary.

Prince Michael Again Succeeds to Throne

Wild Enthusiasm Sweeps Rumania as Carol Abdicates; May Seek Refuge in United States

BUCHAREST, Sept. 6 (CP). — King Carol II surrendered today to the demands of Rumania's new military dictatorship, abdicated in favor of his 18-year-old son Michael and was authoritatively reported to have left Bucharest to join Magda Lupescu on a Royal yacht bound for exile.

Prince Michael immediately was proclaimed King-Successor to his father, but only to be a figurehead ruler under stern Gen. Ion Antonescu, to whom Carol first yielded his kingly powers and at whose demand he finally gave up the throne.

While a wild, strained enthusiasm swept the capital at the proclamation of Michael's succession, 46-year-old Carol was said to have left by special train for Constanta, there to board the Royal yacht Lucea Sarul aboard which his titian-haired friend, Magda Lupescu, was said to have been waiting for five days. She had been banished.

Carol was believed by some to be en route to Egypt. But there was no confirmation of this, and other observers supposed he might seek exile more distant from his dismembered Balkan realm — possibly some place in America. Switzerland had been suggested earlier as a place of refuge.

Gangs of anti-Semitic Iron Guard, which Carol had outlawed and hundreds of whose members had died before his firing squads, roamed Bucharest, beating Jewish shopkeepers who failed to hang out pictures of Michael in their windows.

Much of the clamor for Carol's abdication and Michael's succession had come from the Iron Guard. Michael had been King under a regency a decade while Carol was living in Paris with Mme. Lupescu.

Police made no effort to control the excesses of the Guardists. Street celebrations of Michael's rebirth to Kingship often masked the depredations of the Guardist squads.

It was learned on high authority that Carol slipped away from Bucharest immediately after the dramatic surrender of the throne. Few persons were aware he had gone until hours later.

The old Crown Council, composed of former Premiers and close confidantes of Carol, was "suppressed," as the announcement said, shortly after noon today. This had been the highest governing body in the old regime.

Earlier it was reported Antonescu had ordered arrest of other important figures in the Carol regime, including the millionaire munitions manufacturer Milaxa and Gen. Constantine Argetoianu, who was Premier after the assassination of Premier Armand Calinescu last year.

It was Argetoianu who ordered execution of hundreds of the then outlawed Iron Guard in retaliation for the shooting of Calinescu.

The abdication and succession climaxed reported differences between Carol and Michael over the son's sympathy toward the Iron Guard and his desire that his mother, Princess Helen of Greece and divorced wife of Carol, be permitted to return.

At noon Rumania's new dictator, Antonescu, was still without a cabinet. He went to bed for his first real sleep in many days after ordering cancellation of all Rumanian passports.

In a political round-up touched off by the abdication, many persons were placed under "house arrest." It was reported these included Gen. Bengliu, Chief of Rumanian police at the time of mass execution of Iron Guardists last year in retaliation for Calinescu assassination.

Ion Morozeau, Chief of Secret Police; Mititza Constantinescu, really President of the National Bank and former Premier; and Gen. George Millail, Chef fof the Rumanian General Staff, were among others.

Gen. Antonescu telegraphed the Princess Helen, who had gone from Italy to a sanitorium at Dresden, Germany, saying:

"Your Majesty, in the hour in which your son has become King, I beg you to take the first train to arrive as soon as possible to be with your son to aid and lead him."

Government circles reported that Carol in exile would receive an annual pension equal to $80,000. Close associates of Antonescu said there was a long debate at the Palace during the night on Carol's demand for a financial settlement.

Michael's first act was to sign over full dictatorial powers to Gen. Ion Antonescu, the iron-willed army leader who had assumed supreme power only 24 hours before. Gen. Antonescu issued an order that the Rumanian army must take an oath of allegiance to King Michael by 6 p.m. (midnight Thursday P.S.T.).

Carol, whose loves and escapades as Crown Prince earned him a worldwide reputation as a playboy, thus handed back the throne — this time stripped of its authority — to the son from whom he had taken it in a coup in 1930. Michael then had ruled for three years as the world-famed "Boy King."

Carol abdicated at dawn in the presence of Gen. Antonescu as mobs of Fascist Iron Guardists — supporters of the dictatorship — rioted in the streets, demanding his abdication.

The Iron Guardists had demonstrated most of the night. Steel-helmeted soldiers were called out to protect the palace.

These demonstrations were resumed — but this time in festival spirit — following public announcement of Carol's abdication and Michael's succession. Tens of thousands of persons stormed down the Calea Victorrei carrying flags and photographs of Michael and headed toward the palace.

Banishment of Mme. Lupescu, long an enemy of the army and the Iron Guard, was one of the first results of Gen. Antonescu's bloodless coup.

Carol issued a proclamation to his people asking them to support Michael.

Carol referred to the breaking up of Rumania, this Summer at the request of Russia, Germany, and Italy who demanded Rumania cede away territory so that she now is back to her pre-war size.

"I make this sacrifice," he said, "to save the country. I pray God it will not be in vain."

Gen. Antonescu, likewise in a brief statement, appealed to the public to support Michael.

As Carol's monarchy thus collapsed, Gen. Antonescu was expected to form a cabinet— he is nominally premier—to include the peasant party leader Juliu Maniu and several liberal leaders who had refused to collaborate with the general until he had forced Carol's abdication.

Summoned back to the throne which he had relinquished as a lad of eight to his father 10 years ago, Michael received a promise of fidelity from Gen. Antonescu. As this ceremony was concluded, the premier shook hands with the young king, saying:

"Sire, a prayer to God to help your majesty and me."

Michael took the oath with a firm voice in front of a microphone at 7:30 a. m. The abdication had been at 6 a. m.

Present at the oath-fixing were Gen. Antonescu, the patriarch of the orthodox church and the president of the supreme court.

The radio broadcast of this ceremony coincided with the great street demonstrations indicating the public's pleasure over the change. Antonescu issued the following order of the day to the army:

"Officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers:

"His Majesty King Carol II abdicated today, Sept. 6, 1940. Voevov Mihai of Alba Juli has ascended the throne of Rumania.

"In these times of upheaval unite our hearts in hope with the whole nation behind Rumania. The army swears allegiance to the new king. All Rumanians hail Mihai V.

"May God and our ancestors guard our brave ruler and help him make his reign true and deeds of victory triumph. May the love and devotion of his people be with him."

"Soldiers, the armies of Rumania always will be first in swearing allegiance to the King, therefore today wherever they may be the soldiers of Rumania will take the oath until 6 p. m., this evening."

Rumanian newspaper censorship was lifted completely as an indication of public celebration.
