FIVE ITALIAN WARSHIPS SUNK BY BRITISH

Italian, Nazi, Danish Ships Seized by U. S.

All Ships Taken After Systematic Plot to Sabotage 28 Italian Ships Uncovered; 20 Already Had Been Damaged

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The United States Government today took over all Italian, German and immobilized Danish ships in American territorial waters—more than three score—after the Naval Intelligence Service uncovered a systematic plot to sabotage the 28 flying the Italian flag.

Officials said 20 of the Italian ships had been quietly "put completely out of business" by their crews. The two German and 36 Danish vessels were taken over along with the Italian ships to guard against similar acts by their crews.

The initial action was taken against the Italian vessels late Saturday night and early today. The Danish ships were being taken over tonight—15 in New York harbor, six in Baltimore, three in Boston, two each in Philadelphia, Norfolk and Los Angeles and one each at Portland, Me., Jacksonville and Gray's Harbor, Wash. No action was taken against several Danish ships which are in service out of American ports.

Crews were removed from the vessels and Coast Guard maintenance men were placed aboard.

Some resistance was encountered in boarding an Italian ship at Jacksonville, Fla., and Capt. P. S. Stimson of the Coast Guard carried a machine-gun when he went aboard the 4358-ton German freighter Arauca at Port Everglades, in South Florida. The swastika on the Arauca was run down and replaced with an American flag.

The other German ship taken into custody was the tanker Pauline Friederich, at Boston. The Italian ships were at 13 ports on the East and West coasts, at Cristobal, Canal Zone, and at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The assumption of custody over the ships was described by Herbert Gaston, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, as a "purely protective" action. It was taken, however, under a First Great War Statute which provides that a vessel sabotaged by its own crew in an American port may be declared forfeited to the United States.

The first word that some of the Italian ships had been sabotaged was delivered to the Treasury Saturday by the Navy's Intelligence Division.

The information was laid before President Roosevelt at Port Everglades, and with his approval Coast Guardsmen were sent to take over the ships.

Gaston said "wholesale sabotage" was found. At least 20 of the Italian ships had been damaged he said, adding that apparently the sabotage had been concerted and simultaneous.

Reciting instances of damage, Gaston said that the machinery of one vessel at Norfolk, Va., had been torn down. One crew in Norfolk was caught starting a fire under a dry boiler.

Details of the damage done to five Italian vessels were supplied by Harry Sommers, Acting Deputy Chief of the Newark, N. J., Fire Department, who accompanied the Coast Guard officers on an inspection.

"They must have spent at least a week smashing machinery," he said.

From other cities where the vessels are tied up came similar accounts.

One of the vessels was the 23,000-ton Italian liner Conte Biancamano, tied up at Cristobal, but most were small freighters.

Italo E. Verrando, General Manager for the Italian line in the United States, estimated at New York that the Italian ships aggregated approximately 175,000 tons. He said the average was about 6000 tons.

Although the way apparently was open for the United States to assert a claim to ownership of at least some of the ships—if it desires to invoke the forfeiture clause of the old law—Chairman Walter George of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he believed this would not be done.

Unofficially, it was said the crewmen might be kept in custody similar to that of members of the scuttled German liner Columbus. They are being detained until—and if—a means of returning them to their homeland is found.

Coast Guardsmen boarded the vessels, hauled down their colors and hoisted the Stars and Stripes in some cases.

The Italian skipper of one of the ships, the 6113-ton freighter Mongiola at Houston, Tex., disclosed that orders to destroy his engines had come to him from the Italian Naval Attache in Washington. The latter, along with other officials at the Italian and German Embassies, refused to comment.

INVASION PORTS STRUCK HEAVILY IN NIGHT ATTACK

British Coastline Lit by Intensity of Bombing

FIGHTERS PICK AT GROUND TARGETS

LONDON, March 30 (CP)—German invasion ports along the English Channel were heavily attacked by British bombers shortly after dark tonight.

They struck at the ports along a line from Calais to Boulogne in a raid so intense that bomb explosions and glare of fires lit the British coastline.

Shore watchers described this latest in a series of British raids on possible German concentrations points as being on a "comparatively large scale."

The bombers struck shortly after dark. Calais was severely hit and the raid there continued with unbroken intensity despite heavy anti-aircraft fire from German batteries.

Several big fires blazed up quickly after the raid began, witnesses said.

The Germans raided the British Channel area during Saturday night but Sunday was comparatively quiet.

The Air and Home Security Ministries said a number of fires were started in the Bristol Channel area and some damage was done to commercial buildings and houses.

"The number of casualties reported was small but included people killed," the communique added.

A German Junkers 88 bomber was shot down by fighter planes near Middlesborough, East Yorkshire.

The Air Ministry also said a supply ship and an anti-aircraft vessel were bombed and machine-gunned by British bombers in attacks on shipping off the Netherlands coast.

During Saturday British pilots skimmed 20 feet over rooftops in German occupied France and Belgium in daylight attacks and the populace waved at them everywhere, the Air Minister said.

Speedy little R.A.F. fighter planes, attacking in Paris, swooped down to machine-gun railroads, highways, shipping and grounded German planes.

The Air Ministry said not one German fighter rose to challenge them and some returning fliers said they did not even encounter anti-aircraft fire. All returned safely.

Peter McGregor, 47 Years Kaslo Resident, Dies

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Peter McGregor, resident of the Kaslo district for 47 years, who died in hospital here Saturday.

Scottish-born, he came to Canada 55 years ago. He was a meat merchant and mining man in the Kootenays, before coming to Vancouver three months ago.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. P. B. Birch of Langley Prairie and Mrs. L. S. McKinnon and Miss Marjorie McGregor, both of Vancouver.

Export Permits for Shipments

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP)—The Prime Minister's Office announced tonight that starting April 1 export permits will be required for all shipments "to points outside the Western Hemisphere except for parts of the British Empire or territories under British occupation or control."

The statement said an order-in-council was being gazetted to establish the new regulations.

Exceptions to the order-in-council in the Western Hemisphere are French colonies or possessions, the announcement said. Export permits will be required for shipments to them.

For purposes of the order-in-council the Western Hemisphere is defined as all territory East of the International Date-Line and West of Longitude 30 West.

"It should be noted that these new regulations do not affect the requirement of export permits covering the commodities included in the lists of essential commodities which have been published from time to time, for which permits are required to all destinations," the statement said.

EAST KOOTENAY POWER EARNINGS DECREASE $2800

MONTREAL, March 30 (CP) — East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, reported today February net earnings of $22,824, a decrease of $2819 compared with $25,643 in February, 1940. Gross earnings declined $767 to $43,561 and operating expenses were higher by $2052 at $20,737.

Increase of $40,789 was shown in net earnings of $354,644 for the 11 months ended Feb. 28, compared with $313,905 a year earlier. Gross earnings were $553,407 and expenses $198,763.

Matsuoka Leaves

BERLIN, March 30 (AP)—The Japanese Foreign Minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, who came half way around the world to discuss Axis matters with German and Italian leaders, left for Rome late today by special train.

There were no indications as to what had been accomplished in the Berlin conversations.

Nazis Report Yugoslavia Closed Frontier; Axis Nationals Stream Out

BERLIN, March 31 (Monday) (AP)—The German Radio said today Yugoslavia had closed the entire German-Yugoslav frontier except for one crossing between Maribor and Spielfeld.

BELGRADE, March 30 (AP)—Axis nationals began the evacuation of all Yugoslavia today, leaving by special train, river boat and automobile, as German Press dispatches claimed Yugoslavia had hinted that she may occupy Albania if Germany starts a march into Greece.

Germans and Italians began leaving not only Serbia but also the more friendly provinces of Croatia and Slovenia, in a movement which was expected to be completed Monday.

The German Legation was a scene of great confusion, with the sidewalks piled high with packing cases bearing the name of the German Minister, Viktor von Heeren.

Von Heeren's wife was planning to leave immediately for Vienna by special railroad car, but it was not indicated whether the Minister himself intends to leave.

Trains of 10 and 12 cars were pulling out almost hourly toward the North, carrying Germans and Italians.

Six to seven hundred Germans left tonight on a special German river boat going up the Danube to Vienna. Other caravans of Axis nationals streaked toward the frontier.

One of the last stories sent out of the country by German correspondents contained this statement which they claimed the Yugoslav Premier, Gen. Dusan Simovic, made to the Italian Minister:

"Yugoslavia is not going to be enclosed. If the Germans go to Salonika (Greece), the Yugoslavs must get to the sea by way of Albania."

Yugoslav official circles denied this report.

One German claimed that "Yugoslavia has decided to keep herself completely neutral and adhere to the Nazi Pact because the new Government has discovered that even the secret clauses (of the pact) do not threaten Yugoslavia's independence; but no formula has yet been found to make this clear to the public."

German correspondents continued to claim that the Croat Peasant leader, Vladimir Macek, was still awaiting clarification of the Government's foreign policy before giving it his support, but the Belgrade Press said Croat and Serb relations are more firmly established than ever.

Inspired articles in the Sunday newspapers carried stern warnings to foreign correspondents, threatening expulsion for "spreading false news".

One-Cent Sugar Price Increase Effective Today

Hits at Buying to Beat the Budget Boost

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP)—Definite indication the present excise tax of one cent a pound on sugar will be increased to two cents in the 1941-42 budget was seen today in announcement that the price of sugar at refineries will be increased one cent a pound, effective tomorrow.

"This action has been taken at the request of the Minister of Finance (Hon. J. L. Ilsley) as the result of a tendency toward heavy buying in anticipation of a possible increase in the excise tax on sugar in the forthcoming budget," the Wartime Prices and Trade Board said in announcing the price increase.

A spokesman for the Board said the price increase to the general public was expected to be one cent. It was conceivable the retail increase might be slightly more, he said, but added: "The Board will frown on any increase over the one-cent mark."

Finance Minister Ilsley in a supplementary statement said:

"This action (the price increase) is necessary to prevent avoidance of the payment of any increase in the sugar tax that may result from the budget and the action I have asked the Board to take will be effective only until the date of the budget."

There has been no official indication when the budget will be presented, but it is generally expected this week.

Both Mr. Ilsley and the Board emphasized that the extra cent payable at the refinery for sugar would accrue to the Dominion Government.

A Prices and Trade Board spokesman said it was expected the increase in price would not be reflected on the retail market until several days after it goes into effect.

"Competitive conditions probably will keep the price constant until retailers have to buy new stocks," he said.

Lone German Plane Machine-Guns Men at War Manoeuvres

LONDON, March 31 (Monday) (CP)—A lone German plane flew unnoticed above 40,000 British troops engaged in manoeuvres in Southern England, swooped down and machine-gunned some of them and then flew away, it was disclosed today.

The sham battle was carried out on a large scale, planes and parachute troops participating. The German evidently flew along with the British planes, unheeded until he opened fire.

It was not indicated whether there were any casualties.

Another hitch in the four-day war games occurred when a soldier knocked over a table on which intelligence officers of one army had just finished a five-hour job of piecing together torn battle plans of the other army. The plans were taken from a "captured" messenger.

Surviving are his widow, three daughters and two sons at home; five daughters: Mrs. G. Waddell, Pibrock, Alta.; Mrs. R. Canters and Mrs. W. Morrison, Edmonton; Mrs. L. Conroy, Rossland; Mrs. W. Littlewood, Calmar, Alta., and two sons, Ryle and James, Edmonton.

Tailor Dies in Chair

BELLEFONTE, Pa., March 31 (Monday) (AP)—Paul Petrillo, 49-year-old tailor, died in the electric chair today, calm but protesting to the last he played an unwitting part in Philadelphia's Murder-for-Insurance Syndicate.

Petrillo was the first of three to face death in the electric chair for parts in the murder syndicate credited by police with taking the lives of more than 100 persons to collect insurance.

Canada Producing Enough Aluminum for 50,000 Planes Yearly

MONTREAL, March 30 (CP). — Canada now is producing enough aluminum to go into 50,000 planes annually, R. E. Powell, President of the Aluminum Company of Canada Ltd., said in a broadcast address here tonight.

Speaking on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's industrial series over the national network, Mr. Powell outlined aluminum production since the outbreak of war and said that in 11 months Canada has "more than doubled the capacity developed during the 40 years preceding the war—and the capacity continues to soar."

"Measured by cubic feet," he said, the volume of any other metal proproduced in Canada is greater than the voume of any other metal produced in this country, except iron, and is enough to make more than 50,000 planes annually."

Late Flashes

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP). —Despite increasing German pressure on Japan to enter the war against Britain, the feeling grew in responsible Washington quarters tonight that developments in Yugoslavia had tipped the scales against such a step by Tokyo.

Those of this view expressed belief the Balkan setback to Axis diplomacy would lead Japan to proceed cautiously.

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP). — Presentation of the 1941-42 budget some time this week was looked upon today as a possibility but there was no official confirmation.

BRISBANE, March 30 (AP). — Return of the Forgan Smith Labor Government in Queensland seemed certain tonight, with incomplete returns from the State election indicating that party strengths will be almost unchanged.

COLEMAN, Alta., March 30 (CP). —More than 800 members of United Mine Workers of America, employed at the McGillivray and International mines here, will strike Monday unless their request for a closed shop agreement is met by company officials.

Veteran Fighters of Air and Land Now at Singapore

SINGAPORE, March 30 (AP)—Crack fighter pilots from the Battle of Britain and veterans of the campaign in France have reached this British Far Eastern stronghold to reinforce its already strengthened defences, it was disclosed today.

Arrival of veteran units of the British and Indian Armies and the Royal Air Force was announced by Air Marshall Sir Robert Brooke - Popham, Britain's Commander-in-Chief in the Far East.

Singapore's defence already was raised to formidable proportions last Feb. 18 when Australian forces came to join the armed watch over this key link of Empire.

The air reinforcement was the first to arrive from the home front in Britain since the outbreak of the war. Land forces included infantry, artillery and mechanized units equipped with the latest weapons perfected on the battlefields of Flanders and Africa, the announcement said.

Britain's "greatly increased strength in the Far East is a threat to no one," Sir Robert said, "but is a great stabilizing force and influence for peace."

The Commander-in-Chief said it was a cause of satisfaction that the situation in other war theatres was so favorable that Britain not only was able to spare forces from the United Kingdom but also could transport them such a distance despite the Axis' sea and air warfare.

105 Casualties in Sinking of Destroyer

LONDON, March 30 (CP)—The Admiralty announced today there were 105 casualties in the sinking of the destroyer Exmoor, lost in an attack by a German torpedo boat in the North Sea the night of Feb. 25.

The Exmoor was engaged in convoy duty at the time. The convoy itself suffered no damage.

Three Cruisers, 2 Destroyers Caught in Mediterranean

No Casualties or Damage Suffered by British Ships; French Guns Also Encountered During Convoy Examination

ALGERIAN BATTERIES OPEN FIRE; 6th ITALIAN SHIP HINTED SUNK

By Y. T. YARBROUGH, Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—The Mediterranean fleet, finally getting an Italian force within range of its big guns, sank five Fascist warships in its greatest naval triumph of the war, but came to blows anew with Britains former ally, France, the Admiralty announced tonight.

Three of the Italian ships sunk were 10,000-ton cruisers—the sister ships Fiume, Pola and Zara—and two were the destroyers Vincenzo Gioberto and Maestrale.

With its customary reserve, the Admiralty gave only the barest details of the great sea and air battle waged in the Eastern Mediterranean from Friday until today.

But, calling the sinkings all that have been confirmed "so far", it hinted that the total reckoning may climb still higher.

Fragmentary British air and naval bulletins Saturday had listed a battleship of Italy's big, new 35,000-ton Littorio class among the warships damaged in the battle.

Just where or how the Italian ships were sent to the bottom, a brief communique did not tell.

But according to its account, not one British sailor even was wounded.

"No casualties or damage were sustained by his Majesty's ships throughout the recent operations," the communique said. Britain's only cost was two planes "not yet accounted for."

Elated Admiralty officials said they were astonished at the low price Admiral Sir Andrew B. Cunningham's forces had to pay for slicing three more first-line fighting ships from Italy's already badly dented sea forces and could not recall when such a feat ever had been accomplished before.

In the West, near Gibraltar at the other end of the sea, meanwhile, British ships and French guns traded blows.

The clash came when British warships moved to stop the flow of goods to France which they suspect is reaching Germany.

French shore batteries in Algeria on the North African coast, opened fire on British warships which stopped a convoy of four merchantmen carrying "important war material for Germany," the Admiralty said, and French bombing planes later attacked the British vessels.

An informed British source said one of the four French ships was loaded with rubber from Bangkok, Thailand, for Germany and emphasized that the navy's action was no departure from its usual policy of "visit and search" for all ships carrying war material for the enemy.

A British Broadcasting Corporation broadcast in the French language, heard in New York by the National Broadcasting Company, called the incident proof that the Vichy Government is willing to collaborate with Germany not only economically but also militarily.

Admiral Jean Darlan, Vice-Premier and Foreign Minister of the Vichy Government as well as commander of France's fleet, declared March 10 that if the British blockade—"which I consider idiotic"—continues, French ships would be convoyed.

The encounter today was the first British-French clash since then.

In a third, separate sea action today, the Air Ministry News Service said one well-placed bomb from a British plane sank a German anti-submarine vessel off the Loire River Estuary on the French coast.

A terrific explosion, it said, followed the bomb hit forward of the bridge and "the ship was soon on fire and seemed to be sinking rapidly."

British sources figured that the latest sea blow to Italy leaves her navy with only two or four undamaged battleships — depending on whether the two newest of the Littorio class have yet been commissioned.

Italy started the war with eight battleships, including four of the older and smaller Cavour class and the four in the Littorio class, counting the two which had not been completed.

Loss of three more cruisers, according to these sources, cut Italy's pre-war total of 19 to 13. The Italians also are said to have lost 11 of a total of 127 destroyers and torpedo boats and it is said here that more than 20 of Italy's 105 submarines have been sunk.

ATHENS, March 30 (AP)—Survivors of the Italian cruisers Pola, Zara and Fiume and the destroyer Alfiera were brought to the Athens' harbor of Piraeus today aboard a Greek destroyer.

This indicates the possibility that a sixth Italian warship was sunk in the great Eastern Mediterranean battle.

A British Admiralty communique lifted the three cruisers as sunk and the Italian destroyers Vincenzo Gioberto and Maestrale but did not mention an Alfiera.

Jane's "Fighting Ships" lists an Italian destroyer Alfiera. This may mean an error in giving its name or that the warship has been added to the Fascist fleet since the register was issued.

Another Improvement In Leased Wire News Service for Daily News Readers

Further development in The Nelson Daily News leased wire telegraph service is marked by the installation of a duplicate Canadian Press wire system.

In future, when big news events make it necessary, two wires will be available to carry increased volume of news for Daily News readers.

A. Skattebol, mechanical superintendent in the British Columbia bureau of the Canadian Press, Vancouver, completed the installation in Nelson during the week-end. Canadian Pacific Telegraphs wires carry the service through two Creed automatic telegraph printers, both of which may be operated simultaneously.

Four Crown witnesses in the case against Henry Haigh were heard Saturday morning before the case was remanded, while the hearing of Mrs. Haigh was remanded immediately after she entered her plea of not guilty.

Plan to Observe St. George's Day In National Way

TORONTO (CP). — A Canada-wide salute to Britain has been chosen as the theme of national observance of St. George's Day, April 23 by a committee formed from several Canadian societies and organizations at meetings in Toronto.

The plan calls for St. George's Day observance in schools, churches, hotels, restaurants, private homes, and by fraternal and service organizations. The various branches of the armed forces as well as the general public will be asked to cooperate.

Represented at organization meetings in Toronto were the Canadian Corps Association, Royal Society of St. George, Canadian Red Cross Society, English-Speaking Union, Rotary Club, National Council of Education, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, and various church denominations.

The people of Canada will be asked to omit one course from every meal St. George's Day to add reality to Canada's identity with Britain in this war. Schools will be asked to prepare a celebration in which students can take part and moving picture theatres will be asked to show patriotic films. Special church services and military parades also are planned.

It is hope that special church services also will be held in the United States and in a statement issued recently the Toronto committee said the organization is intended "to draw together the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon people and to reinforce the newly re-formed English-speaking front in readiness for that time when humanity will look to it for fearless and unselfish leadership.

Patriotic organizations in Britain and the United States will join the Canadian committee to further its plan of "a great crusade" throughout the English-speaking world for support for Britain. Second step in the program will be observance of an Empire Youth Sunday May 11 or May 25 to be featured by a broadcast from Britain to the youth of the Empire and the United States.

Transport Men Strike at Coast

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP)—A strike of 44 maintenance men employed in the British Columbia Motor Transportation, Ltd., garage here went into effect today, tying up service on five British Columbia Electric Railway Company Ltd., bus feeder lines.

Pickets were posted at the garage after failure of attempts to settle a wage dispute between the Transportation Company and the garage employees, members of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America—(A. F. L.)

Officials of the electric railway company said all their buses had been removed from the garage before the start of the strike, but bus drivers refused to operate them.

R. Girven, Business Agent for the union, said the drivers refused to operate the buses because they had been serviced by other than union members. He maintained however that the bus drivers were not on strike.

Pacific Stages, operated by the Motor Transportation Company continued, however, to operate to rural districts but Girven said these also may be tied up if serviced by other than the striking maintenance men.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA GOV'T LIKELY TO BOOST SEATS

ADELAIDE, March 30 (AP). — Early results in the state election in South Australia indicated tonight that the Government Liberal-Country party likely would increase its number of seats in the state House of Representatives from 16 to more than 20.

The increase would give the Liberal-Country party an absolute majority in the House. It seemed likely tonight that the Independents would lose seven seats and Labor would gain four.

Castlegar Team Will Soon Work Out in Softball

CASTLEGAR, B.C., March 30 — Softball got away to a good start for the 1941 season at a meeting attended by over 40 interested persons held in the Community Hall Friday night.

Dr. J. E. Wright was returned as President of the Club and will have Gus Dittrich as Vice-President, Harry Sommers as Secretary-Treasurer, and an executive composed of Leo Bourdon, S. C. Muirhead and Martin Petersen to help him. Gerry Wanless will once again coach the club.

The financial statement showed a balance on hand of $17, and all bills paid.

It was felt that the club this season would be as strong if not stronger than last year, and would have the addition of Bob Magee who played for the Warfield Aces. The playing field was being put into shape and practices would be called shortly.

Allen Describes Submarine Attack

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD THE BRITISH SUBMARINE PARTHIAN WITH THE BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, March 30 (AP). — The British submarine Parthian has torpedoed two heavily-laden Italian supply ships in a daring daylight attack on an enemy convoy near the edge of Italy's toe.

Creeping within close range in the Straits of Messina, the Parthian banged away with torpedoes into a convoy of three ships and an escorting sloop, showing three projectiles each into two vessels.

The sharp, metallic clang of torpedoes striking the sides of a 6000-ton supply ship and a 10,000-ton oil tanker was followed by heavy explosions which started the vessels toward the bottom of the sea.

The Parthian plunged toward the bottom to escape depth charges dropped by the convoy's escort sloop and anti-submarine motorboats.

The Skipper, Cmdr. M. G. Rimington, D.S.O., said the Italians chased his craft six hours before giving up. Some depth charges came "too close for comfort."

Cmdr. Rimington said the convoy was going North at the time of the attack, apparently headed for Albania.

The 6000-ton vessel carried a large deck cargo of fresh-cut timber.

The Parthian, already credited with sinking one Italian submarine off Tobruk, Libya, and three merchantmen and scoring a hit on one Italian cruiser, launched her torpedoes at less than a mile distance when the convoy was rounding Italy's toe in the Straits.

Trail Cyclist Gets Face Cut

TRAIL, B.C., March 30—Egidio Bortolussi received a badly cut face when the motorcycle he was riding spilled while he was making a U-turn at the end of the 300 block, Rossland Avenue, about 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP).—Increase in complement of the permanent force of the Royal Canadian Navy by 6000 officers and ratings has been authorized by general orders published in the current edition of The Canadian Gazette.

The new set-up provides for the appointment of a Vice-Admiral as the senior officer, creation of three additional Rear-Admirals and general expansion of the officer personnel.

Prairie Precipitation Figures at Variance

TORONTO (CP). — The Western grain-grower has one eye on the weather these days and the other on the government's program aimed at reduction of wheat acreage. The government's proposals may cause much discussion, but precipitation records and similar matters become less controversial as preparations for Spring planting get under way.

Fall and Winter precipitation across most of the Southern prairies has been well above normal and optimism prevails in those areas over the prospects for this year's grain crops. Elsewhere throughout Western Canada conditions have not been so favorable, but farmers hope rains will create a brighter picture.

Western Manitoba, with an increase of 23 per cent above the average, provided the high spot on the statistical record prepared by the Dominion Meteorological Office covering the six-months period from Aug. 1, 1940 to Feb. 28, 1941. The excess in Southern Alberta amounted to 20 per cent and slight increases were recorded by Northern and Southeastern Saskatchewan.

Deficiencies in other parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan were not very marked but good rains are badly needed in central and Northern Alberta where decreases from the normal of 35 per cent and 23 per cent respectively were registered.

Wisconsin Beats W.S.C. for Title

KANSAS CITY, March 30 (AP)—Wisconsin pulled the Washington State defence out Saturday night, then sneaked behind it for a 39-34 victory over the Westerners to keep the national collegiate basketball title in the Big Ten Conference.

Wisconsin, in turn, stopped all the Far-Westerners but Kirk Gebert, junior guard, who collected 21 points in the vain effort to bring to the Pacific Coast the crown won last year by Indiana University.

Wisconsin, with little Johnny Kotz and Gene England swiping the rebounds off both boards, built a 32-17 advantage at the half.

So effective was the Big Ten team's defence that Washington State was held without a single point for nine minutes in the first half and struck another scoring drought of more than five minutes in the period after the rest.

British Well on Way to Diredawa

CAIRO, March 30 (AP)—The Middle East Command announced tonight that British forces are "now well on the way to Diredawa" after the Italian Command had acknowledged abandonment of that strategic city in Ethiopia.

The Rome High Command communique announced withdrawal of Italian forces from Diredawa without explanation and said the men were taking up "new positions to the West."

Diredawa, with a population of 30,000, stands in a crook the Addis Ababa-Jibuti Railway, some 35 miles North of the ancient walled Mohammedan City of Harar which fell to British forces last week.

The railway is the sole link between the Ethiopian capital and the sea.

To the Northwest British troops in Eritrea marked up similar successes as they pursued the Italians from Cheren to Asmara, the capital, in a drive to the Red Sea where they would complete the encirclement of the Italians in Ethiopia.

"So far we have captured 3775 prisoners, including 68 officers, together with a number of guns," the communique said of the chase to Asmara.

Americans Urged to Stand United Against Dictators

PORT EVERGLADES, Fla., March 30 (AP) — Americans of every political creed were summoned by President Roosevelt Saturday night to stand united in a determination that "with all our resources and all our power, we shall help those who block the dictators in their march toward domination of the world."

Arising from an "alliance of dictator nations," the President warned, is a threat to the United States, its union, its democracy, and its cardinal principles of freedom — a threat which "draws more tightly around us day by day."

But, speaking to Fellow-Democrats attending party rallies throughout the country, Mr. Roosevelt declared that to meet the threat nearly all Americans had risen above considerations of party politics and had remained devoted to country and democratic ideals.

The President spoke by radio from the officers' wardroom of the White House yacht Potomac to "Jackson Day" dinners held to raise money for the Democratic party.

The enemies of democracy, Mr. Roosevelt declared, are "trying to destroy our unity," using as their chief weapon a propaganda of increasing quantity and violence.

Agents of Nazism and their unwitting helpers, he said, have attempted to exploit the natural love of Americans for peace.

"They have represented themselves as pacifists when actually they are serving the most brutal warmongers of all time. They have preached 'peace' in the same way the devil can quote scripture.

"Of course, the purpose of all this has been to spread the terror among us. The effect of it has been only to fortify our determination."

Twilight Mines Plans Surface Work and Deepening of Shaft; Will Carry on Development of the King Solomon

Radio Examination of Twilight a Success States Paris

With plans for the season's development work outlined, Twilight Mines Extension will soon start on its program of surface exploration and downward extension of the main shaft at the Twilight group on Forty-Nine Creek, West of Nelson.

Twilight will also continue development this Summer of the King Solomon group on Sitkum Creek, the property which last Fall produced the sample of gold quartz awarded second prize at the Canada Pacific Exhibition at Vancouver, stated T. L. Paris on Friday. A. D. Paparon is President and Paris is Manager.

Late last Fall, Paris stated, a highly successful radio and geological examination was made of the Twilight group. It revealed several parallel veins, and assays taken at various points on the surface gave results of .03 to .58 ounces of gold. A slight trace of tungsten within the veins was regarded as of future importance.

RICH LENSES

Although the Twilight group has been developed and explored over a period of seven years it is not yet a producer. It is well known for extremely rich lenses of ore in the deeper sections of the main vein, Paris continued.

After all surface showings have been confirmed the Company plans to extend the main shaft down to a point where it will intercept the more important parallel veins, he said. It would then be possible to bring the property into production at an early date.

Development work at the King Solomon will be confined to exploring the extension of the main vein Paris stated. A radio survey is also planned to determine parallel veins and to ascertain the exact location of the main vein, which is under several huge rock slides. Upon locating it the owners plan to strip and sample it.

OLD DISCOVERY

The King Solomon is a discovery of over 35 years ago. Within the last few years it was relocated and crown granted, and was brought into production within the space of a year by Twilight Mines Extension, said Paris.

Some 15 years ago a small tonnage taken out and packed to the Gold Crown mill at the head of Sitkum Creek yielded 5½ ounces of gold. Further work was suspended, and no efforts were made to explore the vein until 13 years later. In 1939, 30 tons of ore shipped to the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company plant at Trail averaged .8 ounce gold per ton, Paris said. The mine is now equipped with camp buildings, snowsheds, blacksmith shop and so on. It is served by a narrow road.

Paris stated Twilight Mines Extension also plans to make radio surveys on other gold properties at district points this Summer.

Democracies Can Not Be Defeated

BRIGHTON, England, March 30 (CP Cable).—A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, said at a war weapons week inaugural yesterday he did not believe the combined strength of the English-speaking democracies can be defeated or ultimately robbed of complete victory.

"I do not believe, great and hideous as may be the task which lies before us and heavy though the tribulation through which we must pass will be, that the two great English-speaking democracies — the British Commonwealth and the United States of America—will ever relinquish the task until freedom is secured.

"Make no mistake: If we were defeated we should perish. Let no more think that any compromise or peace terms would be possible with Hitler in such a case."

The Daily war bulletin said British planes raided the Lecce Airfield in Italy Friday morning, machine gunning installations there.

Turkey Hopeful of Nazi Agreement

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 30 (AP). — Turkey, encouraged by Yugoslavia's latest attitude towards the Axis, hopes to reach an agreement with Germany which would prevent war in the Balkans, it was reported yesterday in reliable but unofficial circles.

It was understood that Turkey expects the cooperation of Yugoslavia and perhaps other Balkan countries in an understanding that if Germany does not march none of these countries will attack Germany.

It was emphasized also that Turkey's role is purely defensive.

Deputies speaking throughout the country on foreign policy are avoiding any reference to Yugoslavia's about-face, reiterating merely the theme that Turkey will fight if attacked.

Canada Exports to Australia Up

OTTAWA—Exports from Canada to Australia last year had a total value of $33,360,000 as compared with $32,029,000, according to figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Four Canada items exceeded a million dollars each in value. These were newsprint paper, automobiles, canned salmon and cotton fabrics.

Newsprint exports with a value of $8,185,000, an increase of nearly 26 per cent in value over 1939, was the largest item among exports to Australia. In the aggregate exports in the wood section declined, although some items were sharply higher in value. The largest single decline was in logs, the value of which was less than one-third the 1939 figure. Both these changes were in line with the trend in Australian imports, which show a rise in paper imports and a decline in those of wood.

Automobiles exported to Australia from Canada aggregated $7,600,000 in round figures and exports of parts $937,000 additional. Freight automobiles formed the greater part of the motor car exports in 1940. In the previous year passenger cars accounted for 70 per cent of the automobile exports. The value of canned salmon exports, the third largest item, was $1,713,000, which was slightly below the 1939 figure. On the other hand, exports of cotton fabrics, next in order of value, rose 8.1 per cent in quantity and 25.2 per cent in value to reach $1,323,000. Substantial increases occurred also in exports of aluminium in bars, blocks, ingots and sheets, asbestos milled fibres, dynamite, and soda and sodium compounds.

Ju-Ju Spirit-Chaser Invoked to Prevent Wind-Sock Losses

CAIRO, (CP)—British tars think the admiralty should consider supplying warship commanders who have to spend any time in an African desert with a Ju-Ju—an evil spirit-chaser. They're pretty handy things to have around.

The commander of an aircraft carrier attached to a flotilla established ashore was having trouble keeping a wind-sock hoisted on the flying field. It kept disappearing from the tall pole.

Finally he obtained a Ju-Ju for four shillings and two empty lemonade bottles. There was no more trouble with the wind-sock. He even thought the result worth an official communication to his commander-in-chief.

"The attached correspondence, concerning the purchase of a Ju-Ju from a native which doctor, is submitted for information," he wrote. "This claim has been met out of the medical comforts fund as the Ju-Ju was supplied by a member of the medical profession.

"It is not, however, considered that the qualifications of any of the R.N. or R.A.M.C. doctors serving in the district would have enabled them to produce the desired effect.

"The Ju-Ju consisted of a bunch of chicken feathers well-soaked in chicken blood and held together by strips of snake skin. The witch doctor buried the Ju-Ju in the earth at the foot of the wind-sock and covered it with cement to enable the curse of the Ju-Ju—a black snake—to emerge and attack any prospective thief. . . . After its installation the wind-sock was untouched."

Privateer Miner Buried for 3 Hours

ZEBALLOS, B. C., March 30 (CP) — Andy Liptak, miner, survived a "never to be forgotten experience" here when he was buried under eight feet of loose rock for nearly three hours following a "stope" cave-in at Privateer Mines Ltd. He escaped with minor injuries of two broken ribs, cuts and bruises.

Although unable to move Liptak could breathe and occasionally called to rescuers through air spaces in the rocks. Every available man was put to work in the confined space and after nearly three hours of furious digging they reached the buried miner, who was rushed to hospital.

Cranbrook Church Mission Band Presents Children in Clever P[illegible]

CRANBROOK, B. C.—The United Church Mission Band, and assisting artists, presented "The Land of Dreams Come True", by Alan Gray M. Campbell, Wednesday and Friday evenings. Each evening found the hall packed with an enthusiastic crowd that saw a picturesque and clever play by children ranging from the ages of 3 and 5, to High School students. Rev. and Mrs. Callum Thompson produced the play and the performance showed great talent in direction, and handling of children.

The first act opened with a scene in the woods with a group of children enjoying a holiday with games, etc. Betty refuses to join in the games and says that she is looking for some magic berries to enable her to enter The Land of Dreams-Come True. She finally finds these berries but only three of her playmates will eat them with her. The four children fall into a deep sleep and eight pixies steal in. With magic incantations, the throwing of star dust, etc., they waken the children and lead them away to the Land of Dreams Come True.

The second act opens on the Land of Dreams Come True, the "earth" children meet Mother Goose and the Old Woman who lived in a shoe, who introduce them to their own children, Bo Peep, Jack Horner, etc. Mother Goose entertains the little mortals by telling them facts regarding her family which "earth" people have not known heretofore; such as Mary, who was not contrary at all but proves her ability to raise flowers by displaying her groups of animated roses, blue-bells, daisies. Also, Bo Peep, who not only did not lose her sheep, but sold them to the meat market for lamb chops—much to the horror of the "earth" children.

The wee tots can always be counted on to provide fun for the audience and the Bunnies hopped in with wiggling pink ears, bowed to the audience, then turned 'round and 'bowed backwards—with each white tail awiggle, and proceeded to tell each other just where to go. By the time the evening was over the Bunnies' heads were nodding and little "paws" were trying hard to keep sleepy eyes open.

In the midst of the fun and frolic the giant's voice was heard in the distance, proclaiming he smells the blood of Englishmen. The terrified "earth" children tried to run away to escape capture but were surrounded by the Mother Goose people. They fought to free themselves against the spell that was being cast upon them and called to the pixies for aid; the pixies entered the magic circle and the wonderland people sang a lullaby to put the children to sleep.

The third act returned to the woodland where the four mortals are still slumbering. Their friends find them there and waken them. Betty and her associates are bewildered by their entry into the "Everyday" world but are convinced that their adventure might have been a dream, although Betty contends that there is a time and place where dreams come true.

Between the second and third acts all the city lights went out and Vic Edwards, assisted by violins, led the crowd in a singsong [illegible] the assistance of a flashlight.

When the curtain went up [illegible] third act the stage was [illegible] candle footlights, and the pla[illegible] right on as though nothi[illegible] happened. Seamen Describe How British Convoy Beats Off New Long-Range Bombers

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 30 (CP)—How a British convoy beat back the challenge of Hitler's newest long-range bombers in one of the opening clashes of the Battle of the Atlantic was described by Merchant Seamen here.

Five huge Condors roared out of the dusk when the convoy was three days from England but the merchantmen and their armed escort threw up such a curtain of fire only one escaped. The seamen did not know how many ships were lost, but said the average was less than one in 10.

"They came at us at dusk, five of them and the ships let 'em have it. And believe me, they got it on the button," Able Seaman Jimmy Quick 23-year-old Cornwall youth, told newsmen.

Able Seaman Donald Jackson said the Germans "got more than they were looking for."

"The sky was literally ablaze with gunfire," he said. "We were too busy to watch what was falling, but I do know that only one Jerry plane was to be seen after the battle ended."

The convoy had been forwarned when they were shadowed during the morning by a reconnaissance plane and everything was in readiness when the attack came.

"The Jerries flew low," Jackson related. "One of them swooped down toward our stern—he couldn't have been more than 20 feet from the tips of our mainmast—and machine gun bullets from the bridge ripped his belly.

"A shell from the 12-pounder on the stern plugged him about three feet from the tail, he wobbled a bit, and then dropped his bomb—we figured it was a 1000 pounder — about 10 yards off starboard. The concussion was terrific. It knocked me about 10 feet.

"That shot of ours spoiled his aim," otherwise we wouldn't be here telling the story."

Quick said the bomber was "four feet above the water the last look I had, we were so busy keeping off another blighter."

Chief Wireless Operator Reg Poole said the plane machine-gunned the gun deck as he swooped by.

"He sprayed the ship and plunged holes in some pipes, but he didn't hit anyone."

MAJ. GEN. THE HON. A. D. McRAE, C.B.,
GENERAL CHAIRMAN, CANADIAN WAR SERVICES FUND,
TORONTO, CANADA.

THROUGH THE DEVOTED WORK OF THE MEN AND WOMEN ASSOCIATED WITH THE ORGANIZATIONS COMPRISING CANADIAN AUXILIARY SERVICES MUCH IS NOW BEING DONE FOR THE COMFORT AND WELFARE OF THE MEMBERS OF OUR ARMED FORCES BOTH AT HOME AND OVERSEAS. THIS FIELD OF USEFUL AND CONSTRUCTIVE EFFORT IS AS YET ONLY PARTIALLY COVERED AND MUCH MORE SHOULD BE DONE IN THE INTEREST OF THOSE NOW SERVING IN THE CANADIAN ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE. IT IS TO THE PEOPLE OF CANADA DIRECTLY THROUGH OUR GREAT NATIONAL, SOCIAL AND WELFARE ORGANIZATIONS THAT WE WILL LOOK FOR THE HELP WE NEED, ON BEHALF OF ALL, AND TO THIS END, I ASK YOUR GENEROUS CONTRIBUTION TO THE APPEAL NOW BEING MADE BY CANADIAN WAR SERVICES FUND.

McNAUGHTON

"These societies make no charge for gifts or work . . . you people at home need not hesitate in helping them."

"They have arranged all manner of entertainment for me . . . home visits, shows, dances and any number of sports."

"It means a lot when you are away from home and have nothing to do to pass the idle hours, to have somewhere to go where a fellow can have clean, respectable entertainment."

"The boys wish to say how much they appreciate the gifts which help to pass the long dreary hours from dark till lights out."

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL A. G. L. McNAUGHTON, commanding the Canadian Corps overseas, speaks for Canada's fighting men. Letters home from the men themselves bear this out. Extracts from the few quoted are typical of tens of thousands.

You have helped to buy planes and tanks and ships and guns—THIS appeal is for the boys themselves. They rely on the folks back home. This is the ONLY NATIONAL APPEAL, this year, for our men in uniform. It enables you to combine a whole year's givings to six organizations which formerly appealed to you separately.

Your money started these services. Your money is needed to continue them. They are performed on an organized basis, with human understanding, by six agencies that know how to do the job well. An army of workers labours unceasingly to carry these services wherever our men need them. Every dollar is made to count.

Let the volunteer helper who calls on you carry back your pledge of fullest support for our fighting men.

THE BOYS RELY ON THE FOLKS BACK HOME!

You never have failed them — you will not now.

Changing Schools Often a Handicap

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

We little realize how many children, because their families move, must change from one school to another during a term. The family moves from country to city, city to country, city to city, or from one place to another in the same city.

For the child coming from one school to another, the same grade may be harder or easier than the one he came from and the methods of work very different. If the work is much more advanced, he may be greatly handicapped. If, moreover, it seems wise to the Principal to place the child in a lower grade than the one the child was in, the child and his parents may feel discouraged. Yet it may be the wise thing to do.

MAKING FRIENDS DIFFICULT

Among the children the new child is a stranger and may have a hard time making friends. This strange experience may inspire new fears in him causing him to seem queer to other children. They may tease him and make him even more frightened.

Often a still harder problem for the school child whose parents have moved is to learn to feel happy and win friends among the other children of the neighborhood, especially if these children are under High School age. But when these children do adapt themselves to the new environment their gain in personality and general education may be very great, indeed.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q.: Is it valuable to a youth who will go to college to learn to type while in High School?

A.: Yes, indeed. Some who cannot fit typewriting courses into their High School schedule could afford to study typing during the Summer, in the Public Schools or at a local Commercial School.

Character . . .

Home Atmosphere Influences Child

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph. D.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Not long ago much to my consternation I discovered that my twelve-year-old daughter was taking small sums of money out of my pocketbook. She has an allowance and a fairly comfortable home. We had quite a talk and she promised never to do such a thing again.

"However, I am wondering whether the strained relations existing between my husband and myself most of the time would lead her to commit this offense.

STRAINED PARENT RELATIONS

I wrote this mother: "The strained relations existing between you and your husband easily might cause your daughter to steal money. Indeed, unhappy farther-mother relationships can cause all sorts of serious behavior and personality problems in children. What's more, it is hard to see how children can grow up happily and acquire wholesome moral character in a home of constant strained relations between the parents. As I have often said, the most essential relationship in the home, even so far as the child is concerned, is the father-mother relationship. And let us remember that lying and stealing—deceit in short—practically always begins at home."

Any parent who puts the welfare of his or her child first will be willing to make all sorts of sacrifices to win the other parent's affection, companionship and co-operation.

I have just read a most unusual autobiography of a bright college man serving sentence in a penitentiary. The most apparent contribution to this seemed to be the ceaseless strained relations between his distinguished father and mother. They neither loved him nor each other. It is easy to see how this boy was emotionally and morally unstable.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. Suppose your child, say of 12, complained to you in confidence about treatment by the other parent in your absence.

A. I should listen attentively but make no criticism of the other parent to this child. But I should discuss the matter frankly and calmly with the other parent privately.

Q. What do you consider a good way to train the baby to avoid matches?

A. Tell him just once he must not touch them. Immediately, every time he does, punish him. Allow no exceptions. When you are sure he should begin to use matches, limit his use of them to times when he is supervised.

Q. What do you think of the practice by many a conscientious parent of putting the youth returning home from a "date" on the "witness stand" to question him or her about all that happened?

A. I consider this about the worst practice any parent can engage in, since it puts the parent in the position of a prosecuting attorney and the child a prisoner on trial, and it builds a wall between them.

GREENWOOD WOMEN ENJOY NUTRITION TALK

GREENWOOD, B.C.—The Greenwood Women's Institute met March 22. Twelve members and three visitors were present.

The executive reported that the hall had been rented several times during the month for Hockey Club dances.

The purchase of a quantity of Women's Institute badges was approved, these to be sold to members.

R. P. Forshaw, a local resident and health authority, delivered a lecture on "Nutrition", illustrated by a display of samples of foodstuffs of various types. Informative literature on the subject was distributed. Practical ideas concerning the choosing and serving of proper foodstuffs were presented. It is a matter of pride to the people of this district that the speaker was born and raised in Greenwood.

The institute is making an effort to secure the services of other local authorities to address future meetings.

Mrs. E. H. Bowering and Mrs. T. M. Gulley served tasty refreshments.

Best Intentions . . .

Mother Love May Menace In-Laws

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

One of the cruelest facts of life (and there are plenty of them) is that love frequently betrays us into doing the very things that wreck the happiness of our loved ones. Witness the mother who hangs on to her children like grim death, never relinquishing her right to rule and reign in their hearts and homes.

Of course it's painful for a woman to face the fact that her little boy she's borne and reared ceases to be her little boy when he finds his mate. She's shocked when comes the first intimation that the son she adores can live happily without her; and more happily without her if she doesn't love his wife.

It's a bitter discovery that the daughter whose boon companion and confidant she's been no longer needs her in this capacity, now that the new husband is there to share daughter's life.

Unless mother is a wise and understanding woman she begins a little tug of war with these interloping strangers who have moved in and taken her place with her children. Perhaps she's not conscious of the tug. There's never been a mother who didn't tell you how she had resolved not to interfere with her children's marriages. And tell you, too, what a model she had been, doing everything to help and nothing to hinder their happiness. But mother's tales don't invariably tally with the tales the in-laws tell.

Give mother full credit for best intentions, old habits are upon her which can't be broken without a struggle. The habit of being mother, directing, criticising, telling her children what they should and should not do, is deeply ingrained. And it's terrifically hard for her to see son or daughter undervalued, taken for granted, imposed upon, neglected, mistreated by a mate without registering her protest; for the habit of protecting her young is also ingrained.

Nevertheless the price of peace between her and the in-laws sons and daughters is relinquishing her right to rule and reign and in accepting gracefully the place which they assign to her. The less she demands, the more she gets. The less she interferes, the more she's called in. The more genuine appreciation she shows of the in-laws, the more genuine affection the married children and their mates will feel for her and express to her.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Letters unsuitable for publication will be answered personally provided they contain stamped, self-addressed envelopes. All names are held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, in care of this newspaper.

CHAPTER FOUR

"Why, Rita!" Aunt Sallie finally gasped. "You aren't dressed for the wedding yet!"

"No" said Bill, "you're not. What's the idea of wearing your travelling outfit at this hour?"

"Oh, Bill, darling," Rita panted. "—I—something's happened. I — I—"

"There, there, sweetheart," said Bill. "Take it easy."

Rita looked at him, her violet eyes enormous in her flushed face.

"I can't do it, Bill!" she wailed. "I can't do it."

"Can't do what?" said Bill.

"I can't marry you. It's all been a terrible mistake."

Aunt Sallie caught hold of a chair to steady herself. Joel swallowed a couple of times, thought of those nonchalant gentlemen who always have the right words for every occasion upon the tips of their tongues, and wishes he didn't feel so dumb.

"Do you mean to stand there," Aunt Sallie finally gasped, "and tell us you are not going to marry my nephew?"

"Yes, Mrs. Randall, I do," said Rita. "You see, I—"

"Well!" Aunt Sallie exploded. "I always said you were a mental lightweight, and now—"

"You keep out of this, Aunt Sallie," said Bill. He took a step toward Rita and reached out for her hands, but she backed away from him. "Rita! Darling! You don't know what you're saying. You're excited—nervous. Girls often have a panicky feeling just before getting married, or so—"

"Or so you said in your books," Joel cut in, finding his voice at last.

Bill glared at him. "You keep out of this, too!" he snapped. He turned back to Rita. "Come, now, Rita," he said soothingly. "Everything's going to be all right."

"Oh, no, it isn't," Rita said. "I can't marry you, I tell you. Don's back."

"Don!" said Bill. "You—you mean that man you were engaged to up in New York?"

"Yes. Bill. He got back yesterday, and—and—he still loves me."

"So what?" said Bill, forgetting for the moment his dislike of slang.

"And—and I'm not sure I don't love him," said Rita. Then, before anyone could voice shocked surprise over that statement, she went on. "Don bought a copy of our home town paper, and saw about our wedding. He said he knew then that he still loved me, and rushed down to keep me from making a terrible mistake."

"He's got a nerve!" Bill exploded. "Dashing down here to mess things up like this! Where is he? I'll—I'll—"

"He's waiting outside for me," said Rita. "We're going to—"

"Eloping on your wedding day!" said Aunt Sallie. "Well, of all the crazy stunts I ever—"

"He wanted to come and tell you himself," Rita said, ignoring Aunt Sallie's remarks, "but I felt I should do it. We're going to talk things over —about marrying, I mean, and going out to California together."

"California!" said Bill.

"Yes. . . . Don's expecting to land a nice position out there," Rita said. "He'll even have a house supplied him, and he wants me to go with him."

"But, Rita you can't!" Bill exclaimed. "The church is full of guests. Glenda Williamson is singing, and—we're due to be married right now!"

"I know, Bill, darling," said Rita miserably. "But I've got to think." She sank into a chair. "Anyone got a cigarette?"

"This is a fine time to ask for a cigarette," snapped Aunt Sallie.

Joel took his aunt's arm. "Come along," he said. "I think we're the crowd. Let's exit smiling, if we can manage a smile between us."

"You're staying right here!" said Bill. "Anything Rita's got to say, she can say it to all three of us. All right, go on, Rita."

Rita drew a deep breath. "Don begged me to see him," she said. "And I finally consented. I met him on the side porch last night, after Grandma had gone to bed."

"Fine goings-on, I'd say!" said Aunt Sallie, "And you a bride-to-be!"

"Aunt Sallie, WILL you keep quiet!" said Bill.

"You can't talk to Aunt Sallie like that," said Joel. "You asked her to stay and—"

"But for heaven's sake make her stop interrupting!"

Joel pushed his aunt into a chair. "There, honey," he said, "do try to be an innocent bystander."

2 pounds finnan haddie fillets, 4 tablespoons butter.

Put single layer of fish in steamer over boiling water and cook until tender, which should take 12 minutes or so. Remove fish to hot platter and pour melted butter over it. Leflover steamed finnan haddie is excellent when flaked and warmed up in cream sauce.

You will need about 1½ pounds of rhubarb to make 3 cups stewed thick. Wash, cut into small pieces and add a very little water. Cook until soft. To this sauce add sugar, butter and yolks of eggs, well beaten. Cook mixture slightly. Beat whites of eggs to stiff froth, add baking powder and fold into first mixture. Pour into well greased baking dish, cover with cake or macaroon crumbs and set pan in another of hot water.

Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees F., for about 30 minutes, or until firm, well puffed up and delicately brown on top. Serve hot with sweetened whipped cream or custard sauce.

Britain's 'Diplomatic Widow' Takes Turn Serving Tea In Hell's Corner

By WILLIAM W. WHITE

LONDON (CP)—Tall, dark-haired Beatrice Helen Beckett Eden, the wife of Britain's glamorous foreign Secretary, used to practice non-intervention in her husband's official duties, but got his go-ahead to do a job of her own when war came.

Often in years past the well-groomed Mrs. Eden was called the "diplomatic widow." She still shuns publicity, but even her dislike of headlines cannot hide the fact that she is doing a tough job—dispensing cheer and refreshments in "Hell's Corner."

Her first war work, aside from knitting sox and scarves for soldiers was to serve as a hostess in a London canteen. Then came the historic retreat from Dunkirk. During "the three busiest days of my life" Mrs. Eden worked hours on end serving food to exhausted beaten soldiers.

OUT OF RETIREMENT

"After that experience," she says, "I was tremendously impressed by all I saw of the work that women could do. I determined to help. I spoke to my husband and he urged me to do whatever I could."

So Mrs. Eden accepted the difficult job of driving a tea car. She operates her mobile unit through all sorts of weather over all sorts of roads; blitz or no blitz.

Almost as tall as her husband, Mrs. Eden was known before the war as a shy, well-bred, ultra smart hostess who kept a home that was "a refuge from political affairs—not merely a social annex to the foreign office."

Through reams of publicity woven about her handsome, dashing husband, there was only an occasional reference to the fact that in 1923 he married the third daughter of Sir William Gervase Beckett, wealthy horseman, publisher and banker.

But much of Mr. Eden's success must be credited to the manner in which "the missus" as he calls her, quietly has handled the management of their home and two strapping schoolboy sons—Nicholas and Simon—while her spotlighted husband was busy carrying out a brilliant career.

Accustomed to wealth and noted for her extremely smart evening ensembles, Mrs. Eden moved into a small country home in Kent last Spring because, she said, "I can live half as cheaply down there."

SEES LONGING FOR PEACE

A pleasant if not profound speaker, she has helped to launch ships, inaugurate airlines and all the other public duties falling to wives of important officials. She relieves her "widowhood" occasionally by dragging Eden from his desk for a brief whirl through haunts she once knew so well—the swank social life of London's West End.

Her life is reflected in the words of one of her speeches, in which she said: "The dominating desire of people is for peace, and everywhere there is evidence of a real longing for goodwill and understanding."

That was in 1937, but she hasn't changed her mind.

"Reality" Subject of Lesson-Sermon

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God" (Jer. 51:10).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But as it is written, eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (1 Cor. 2: 9, 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas . . . Everything in God's Universe expresses Him."

Mackenzie King Plans to Visit U.S.

By JOHN DAUPHNEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 30 (CP), — Miscellaneous information from wartime Parliament Hill:

Prime Minister Mackenzie King has decided almost definitely to visit President Roosevelt during the long Easter adjournment next month . . . That would be a business trip and he could get United States money, but other members of the Cabinet who used to head Southward for golf and suntan will not be going there on pleasure trips this year . . . Foreign Exchange regulations affect them as well as plain Mr. and Mrs. Canada.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner will take a journey to the Prairies. . . . It's a pretty safe bet he'll keep busy on the wheat problem . . . Trade Minister MacKinnon may resume his trade mission to South America before the house reconvenes.

That "plastic" process for making plane fuselages is still under test by the Munitions and Supply Department . . . It won't be long until a sample plane with a body made under the new system by a special treatment of plywood and cement takes the air . . . Decision whether the process gets used by the aviation industry for any whole fuselages under Government contract depends on the results . . . But it's understood a plastic nose has already been approved for use when production starts on the re-designed Avro-Anson Trainer.

British Columbia loganberries are a new delicacy in the Parliamentary restaurant — and they're going very well . . . They're being boosted as a possible substitute for imported citrus fruits which use up foreign exchange.

Rev. M. W. Lees, Minister.

TRAIL, B. C.—On Sunday the congregation of Knox United Church celebrated the 46th anniversary of the establishment of the Presbyterian Church in Trail.

Services were first held in 1895 in an old log cabin schoolhouse on the site of the present Central School by a young Presbyterian missionary who also held services in different points along the Arrow Lakes.

Regular church work was soon organized under Mr. McMillan, member of the Student's Missionary Society of Queen's College, Kingston, Ont.

Rev. Charles Ladner, then minister of the Methodist Church in Rossland, held occasional services in Trail and organized the work of the Methodist Church in Trail. The first official board meeting was held at the home of J. A. Irvin on December 22, 1896.

FIRST CHURCH

The urgent need for suitable church buildings resulted in the erection of the First Presbyterian Church on what is now the corner of Spokane Street and Pine Avenue. This particular building was later moved to the present site of the Odd Fellow's Hall, on Pine Avenue and from there next to the hospital, where it served as a newspaper office and is now a plumbing shop.

This church was opened for service in September 1896. The interior was roughly finished, and rough hewn benches served for chairs. For some time it was used by all denominations.

The Trail Methodist Church situated at the corner of Pine Avenue and Farwell Street, now known as the Wesley Hall was erected and officially opened in 1897. It was used for worship until the amalgamation of the two churches in 1925, and since then has been used chiefly for recreational purposes.

Although the increasing congregation made the need for a larger church apparent, it was not until after the First Great War in 1920, the present Knox Church was built at the corner of Pine Avenue and Eldorado Street. The foundation stone was laid by Mrs. Noble Binns, wife of the Senior Elder, on May 18, 1921.

$32,000 BUILDING

The building, costing $32,000 was of concrete block construction of Norman design, 72 feet long by 40 feet wide, with a tower 50 feet high, and seating 300.

In the basement is a hall, 50 x 40 feet, which has been turned over to the Trail Red Cross Society for the duration of the present war.

The church was opened for service and dedicated on Dec. 18, 1921 by Rev. R. J. Douglas.

Mortgages were burned with due ceremony by Mrs. E. Twells, Mrs. G. F. Weir and Mrs. D. H. Chapman on March 21, 1933.

Negotiations for a union between the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations came to a successful and impressive climax on Sept. 22, 1925, when the people of the Methodist congregation marched in a body from the Methodist Church over to Knox Church. The combined congregation was known as the Knox United Church. Rev. Alfred Wilson, then Pastor of the Presbyterian Church, was first incumbent of the United Church.

GIFTS FOR ORGAN

Through personal representation of Dr. J. B. Thom, who was taking post-graduate work at Toronto, the first contribution toward the pipe organ was made by the late Rev. Charles Gordon, Ralph Connor of literary fame, in December 1921. Gordon and Dr. Thom's father had attended school as boys. Dr. Thom visited the minister then in charge of St. Stephen's Church in Winnipeg and received generous response from Mr. Gordon and several of his friends in initiating the organ fund.

In February, 1926, a two-manual, electric pneumatic pipe organ was installed, costing $6000. It was officially dedicated March 2.

A modern manse was built in 1930 on the two lots adjoining the church at a cost of $5500.

A motion of approval for the erection of a modern, well-equipped Sunday school and religious education building adjoining the church and the rear of the manse was approved at the annual meeting of the congregation this year. Buildings will be erected when negotiations for the sale of the Methodist Church property can be completed.

EAST TRAIL CHURCH

The East Trail United Church, built in 1928, was dedicated on Feb. 17, 1929 by Rev. Bryce H. Wallace who later became minister of Knox United Church. Other ministers of the East Trail Church before it was closed in 1936 were Rev. C. Addyman, Rev. F. H. Stevens, and Rev. C. E. Motte. The church was again opened in 1939 with Rev. C.H.L. Clerihue, present incumbent, in charge.

Rev. W. M. Lees, present minister of the Knox Church, was in charge of the congregation during 1917 to 1919, going from Trail to Smithers, then to Courtenay and thence to Sydney. He returned to Trail in 1934, and has been minister continuously since. Mr. Lees received a call to return to Courtenay but has not yet decided whether to accept.

Season's Final "Quiet Hour of Music" Pleases

Music and songs of great composers were blended into a fine "Quiet Hour of Music" program by four leading Nelson artists Sunday afternoon in St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral.

The program was the last of the "Quiet Hour" series for this season. The popular afternoons will probably resume in the Fall. The monthly "Quiet Hours" have been held through the Winter season under the auspices of Mrs. Vincent Fink's Circle of St. Saviour's Church. One of the pleasing features of the endeavor to provide a regular entertainment for those who enjoy fine music, Mr. Fink said Sunday was the fact that there were many who had never missed a program since their inauguration.

The program included:

Soprano solos—W. H. Squire's "My Prayer", E. L. Ashford's "My Task", Cesar Franck's "Paris Angelicus" and Handel's "Come Unto Me", by Mrs. Reginald E. Stratton.

Contralto solos—"O Rest In the Lord" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah", Max Reger's "The Virgin's Lullaby", and Mallott's "The Lord's Prayer", by Miss Jean Walton.

Organ solos—Spence's "Song Without Words", Edward MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose", "Andante" from Gluck's "Orpheus", and "Song of Peace" from Sibelius' "Finlandia", by Miss Margaret Graham.

Violin solos—"Canzonetta" from Tchaikowsky's "Concerto in D", Victor Herbert's "Serenade", Dvorak-Kreisler's "Songs My Mother Taught Me" and Kreisler's "Schon Rosmarin", by Miss Daisy Norris.

Toronto Lady Taken From Train Undergoes Operation at Nelson

Removed from a C.P.R. train to Kootenay Lake General Hospital Friday, Mrs. G. J. Carter of Toronto underwent an appendix operation Friday night. She is reported to be doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter intended to make only a short stop in Nelson while Mrs. Carter was making a business call in the course of a Western trip, but owing to Mrs. Carter's sudden illness will be here for two weeks.

Dr. N. E. Morrison attended Mrs. Carter.

Did Not See Beyond the Coast

The other day a dispatch from Victoria announced the appointment of 15 King's Counsel.

Of the 15 British Columbia lawyers thus honors

Eight practice in Vancouver.
Six reside in Victoria
One in New Westminster.

All are able men, but so are many lawyers outside of Victoria and the Coast cities.

There was no appointment from the Okanagan, from the North, or from Kootenay.

It is an incident far too typical for the good of British Columbia.

If We Only Had More of the Rich in Canada

If Canada had more wealthy people the problem of the Minister of Finance in financing the war would be much simpler.

Returns filed in 1940 showed that less than 10,000 persons had incomes of between $10,000 and $25,000. The exact number in this bracket was 9901.

Those with incomes of between $25,000 and $50,000 numbered only 1433, and the number in excess of $50,000 was 483.

We are now taking in taxes considerably more than half of such larger incomes, but if we confiscated the whole amounts the increased revenue would not amount to enough to buy more than two or three dozen bombers.

Until one gets the figures, taxation of the rich looks like an easy method of financing. The trouble is that there are so few of the rich.

Hibernating Apples

Apples from last year's crop, kept by a new process so they remain as fresh as when picked, are coming on the market in May and June.

This will be the first commercial test of "sleeping" fruit. The apples are now in a state which literally simulates the deepest sleep.

They have been stored since last Summer by four storages in New York State, and also at Cornell University, where this new process has been under development for four years by Dr. R. M. Smock, assistant professor of pomology.

The fruit was placed last Fall in cool rooms, 40 degrees instead of the ordinary 32 degrees cold storage temperature. The rooms were tightly sealed and the oxygen of their air reduced to 2 per cent instead of the normal 20 per cent. At the same time the carbon dioxide was raised to 5 per cent, this gas coming from the fruit.

The effect is to literally slow down the apples' rate of living, so that they last for many months without detecttable change, even in flavor.

At two years, however, there is a difference in flavor. It is slight, might escape notice sometimes, but it is sufficient so that no commercial plans now are under way to keep apples fresh for more than one season.

In the Kootenay and Okanagan we "pre-cool" apples, to make the most of their natural keeping qualities.

Perhaps the time will come when we will have "hibernating" instead of "pre-cooling" plants.

FOR OUR PROTECTION

To hear some of the radicals talk, you would think that Canada had interned thousands upon thousands of people since the war began. Actually there have been only 870, of whom 10 are women. Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, has given the official figures in response to a direct question.

And, most people will believe that practically all of the 870 are held as prisoners because that is where they deserve to be.—Windsor Star.

EFFICIENCY THE TEST

The Canadian people both last year and this are not thinking in party terms. What they want is the most efficient possible instrument of government for the purpose of war and victory. Unfortunately the party composition of the present cabinet leads to the temptation, to which the parliamentary opposition gives way too much, of attacking it on partisan lines; and the defence that the government can make against such attacks is thereby rendered less effective.—Winnipeg Free Press.

The Lewis Gang and Canada's War

(From Labor Review, organ of the Canadian Federation of Labor).

Public opinion in Canada would not tolerate the expression of indifference to the war, much less the hostility to plans for helping the Motherland that was voiced by the Congress of Industrial Organizations at Washington. The indifference is therefore cloaked by professions of patriotism on the part of C. I. O. union officials in Canada, though proclaimed by their actions.

They want to help win the war, they say, and complain that they are hampered in this noble endeavor by the war-time rules which other citizens regard as essential. Last May, it will be remembered, they figured large at a left-wing conference in Montreal to demand relief from the Defence of Canada Regulations. But still, though grumbling continually at restrictions designed solely to prevent treasonable practices, they start and finish every public utterance with fervid protestations of their loyalty.

That is one voice of the C. I. O. in Canada. That is the voice of words that are words. There is another C.I.O. voice. It is the voice of words that are deeds. This second voice is heard at union meetings; it is recorded in the C. I. O. publications. The second voice shouts for exploitation of the war effort by those to whom the war effort has given jobs 3000 to 6000 miles from the firing line. Its constant theme is that of the well-known soap-maker's broadcast quiz program: "Gold, gold, gold! Dollars, dollars, dollars! Gold and silver dollars! Share the wealth!"

Look at any of the C. I. O. union publications that are dumped into Canada, tax free, from across the line. They all contain the odd line about winning the war. It is usually in small type and obviously printed for protection. The rest of the material deals with demands for higher wages and promises of higher wages still. These are not the normal demands and proposals that unions might make in peace time, nor even that they might make in a peace-time boom. They are invitations to raw union recruits to capitalize on an emergent situation, to view the nation's need as their chance to chisel.

Decorating the back page of a recent issue of Steel Labor, a C. I. O. sheet, are photographs of cheques received as wage improvements by steel workers. Steel Labor is published in Indianapolis, U. S. A., and it has a special "Canadian" edition, printed at the same place, which headlines the figures of wage increases and other concessions secured in this embattled country just as the U. S. edition does for the neutral Republic. One might say that the war doesn't mean a thing to these Lewis publishers and salesmen—but it does mean one thing to them: it means not business as usual, but more so. Like the Sinn Feiners, they see Britain's extremity as their opportunity

"Christmas Under Fire"

By G. S. REES

Many Nelsonites saw "London can take it", many will have now seen the concise "Christmas Under Fire", second in this cinema series. Well scissored as a "Short", it packs a potent appeal which is enhanced by the solemnly narrated scrip of America's Quentin Reynolds. The film depicts the grandeur of the Islanders upon their serrate shores at the Yuletide season, enduring and suffering with every ounce of their courage; shrugging off the daily and nightly terror from the skies, smilingly determined that there'll always be a Christmas—for the kiddies! During the "Lull-ablitz", children gather holly and play with war toys, armed shepherds watch grazing sheep and soldiers man bristling barricades with guns shrouded in camouflage, alert for any Hunnish devilries, Beneath the balloon barrage, tinselled Christmas trees brighten bomb-burrow and basement.

And over here in Canada—"In this quiet room beyond the surging ocean, Lights gleam unhindered from uncurtained panes!"

The brief record epitomizes the communal cheeriness and homely humor of the Briton in his native haunts; they are his Excalibur—the enchanted sword.

In battle dress or overalls, men and women from all over the Empire are holding the fort for civilization in their embattled citadel, saving this old world of ours for better and brighter days.

"STANDS ENGLAND WHERE SHE DID?"

A thousand times—Yes!
"Still the clear white cliffs of England stand;
"Tintagel's Rock remains. And Cornwall's coast
"Traces the pattern of a storied land,

"And Beachy Head survives the breakers' boast."

Dover's cliffs are still white; they may be stained crimson when the roaring skies rain death, but they will whiten again, and the close-cropped turf will be greener than ever across their broad bosoms.

Across the Channel, Futilitarian Germany sets the diplomatic blowtorch to Mittel Europa, and Hitler, Hermann and the gorilla Gestapo howl their Hymn of Hate—

"Hate of the hammer and hate of the hand
"Hate of ninety millions choking down.
"We love as one, we hate as one,
"We have one foe and one alone—England!

Last time, there were seventy millions; one confesses the so-called "Hymn" sounded eerie and "windy" coming across No Man's Land at Bully Grenay and Bethune, tougher in German gutterals than in the gentler Saxon tongue!

TURNING WHEELS—MARCHING FEET

Britain remains the rock upon which Nazidom tyranny has thus far been broken. Her resistance will eventually grind the Brutalitarian regime to powder. Time and again, the United Kingdom, in her rough island story, has faced apparent extinction—by Saxon and Dane, Norman William and Spanish Philip, Louis, Napoleon and Wilhelm. She lacks imagination to prepare for defeat, and usually wins the last battle in any war which is the only one that matters!

All this and much more shines forth in purest rays from the screen-short.

THE SPRING-BLITZ

"Oh to be in England, now that April's there." "Who said this?" asked a London school teacher! "'Itler!", shouted a Cockney lad! "Spring a'cumen in," quoth Chaucer, and the bud is breaking on the thorn. Spring is already tripping lightly into our home valleys and the hills begin to roll up their white vestments. The yearly miracle happens early over yonder in the little land that saw the Romans go, the Normans come and saw Elizabeth and Cromwell pass. No shouting of demagogues, and neither shell nor bomb can stop it!

How small you are, England
Dropped in the pounding sea.
From East, West, North to South
So small a territory!

Even now there must be a veil of shimmering green across the sheltered orchards of "Zummerzet" where dawn and sunset on heathery moor and windy upland "come in beauty like slow old tunes of Spain"! The daffodils have dared the winds of March, and are burgeoning in King Arthur's land with its golden sands, ancient castles and abbeys full of age and holiness. The violets lift their shy heads with the primrose and bluebell in Devon coombes from Bideford to Appledore—where the cider apples bloom, and the lambs are a-gambol along the rolling downlands of the Conqueror's Coast in Sussex-by-the-Sea.

"COME THEN, LET US TO THE TASK . . ."

"Christmas Under Fire" fades to its flickering finish, and the Yuletide of 1940 is now long o'erpast! Spring is here, in the immemorial breaking of the leaf, in the mounting fire and fury of the most terrible of all wars, and we catch the echo once more across the Western ocean of the brave words, sonorous and grave, spoken in truly Churchillian phrases by the British Prime Minister—shadow of a great rock in the Anglo-Celt world, as H. M. S. Great Britain surges unafraid into the storms of Spring—"We shall not falter or fail—We shall not weaken or tire—Under Providence, all will be well."

GOD SAVE ENGLAND.

Words of Challenge

"First and foremost, let all of us who have taken upon ourselves the privileges and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship, fully realize that whatever ties of kinship and sentiment we may have with other lands, Canada must claim our first allegiance. This will make it more difficult for undesirable elements to establish themselves among us."—"Der Nordwestern", German language weekly, Winnipeg.

SAPRUNOFF IS NOT DOUKHOBOR

References in various Western papers to the effect that Sammy Saprunoff, Trail Smoke Eaters' clever young second-string centreman, who has almost single-handedly accounted for Trail's two victories so far over Lethbridge, is a Doukhobor are incorrect.

Sammy's family came to Canada direct from Russian about 30 years ago, and Sammy was born at Sutherland, Sask. He came to Trail with his family later, and they are in no way related to the Doukhobor sect.

Incidentally, Saprunoff's fine work for the Smokies in the playoffs is not going unnoticed, for big league scouts are in the stands at Lethbridge and Calgary scouting the series.

The teams shift back to Maple Leaf Gardens at Toronto for the sixth game Tuesday. If a seventh is necessary it will be staged here next Thursday. The winner of this series will meet either Detroit Red Wings or Chicago Black Hawks in the cup final.

Leafs first goal, in the opening period, was scored by Lex Chisholm who returned to action after a long lay-off.

The goal came while Gordon Drillon and Des Smith were serving high-sticking penalties. Billy Taylor carried the puck behind the Boston net and when Hollett and Crawford chased him in he flicked a quick pass out to Schriner. Dave saw Chisholm was uncovered and swept the puck easily across the front of the net. Chisholm had only to poke it into the uncovered corner as Brimsek sprang across, a split second too late.

The equalizer capped half a dozen five-man rushes by Boston. Cain carried in deep and passed back to Clapper who raced over the blue line, gathered up the puck and let go with a 50-footer. Broda got his left foot to the puck but it rebounded straight out a dozen feet and McReavy trapped it and eased it back into the uncovered corner

Capilanos Take Up Four Seattle Men

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP).—Bob Brown, Owner-Manager of the Vancouver Capilanos of the Western International Baseball League, announced Saturday that he had closed a deal with Seattle Indians for four players and a cash settlement—believed to be $1000—for Louis Goldman, young left-handed pitching star.

Players Brown obtained in the deal, include Pete Jonas, Paul McGinnis and (Cowboy) Ed Tate, outright, and Ernie Endress, on option.

Tate, a pitcher, was with Seattle Indians last year and McGinnis, well-known here, figures as Brown's first baseman. Jonas hit .361 in the W. I. L. last year and plays the mound and outfield.

Endress, a six-foot-four outfielder, whom Seattle paid a bonus and $300 a month to sign, was in the Pioneer League last year.

Prairieites Win Intermed. Title for Second Year

Red Carr Scores Four Goals as Indians Win 6-5

NANAIMO, B.C., March 30 (CP)—Saskatchewan's Swift Current Indians tonight held the Western Canada Intermediate hockey championship for the second straight year.

The Indians retained the title here last night when they nosed out Nanaimo Clippers, playing their first year in league hockey, 6-5 in the fourth game of their best of five series, but they had to stand off a five-man attack in the closing minutes of the game to do it.

Indians took an early lead in the first period on sloppy clearance by the Clipper defence, Bak scored twice after his team mate, Downing, had opened the scoring at 5:10. Corry counted for Nanaimo after Downing's goal.

Clippers started in the second when Carr got the initial counter. Indians weren't standing around, though, and Powell put them up 4-2, when he fired in Bak's rebound. Zoboroski made it 5-2 for the Prairie champions when he counted on a trick shot from the corner minutes later.

In the final frame, Clippers turned on the heat, Carr scoring the first when he picked up a loose puck at 1:10. Four minutes later, he repeated, batting in the rubber from out of a melee of players in front of Goalie Buzinski, to make the score 5-4.

Keeping up the pressure in an effort to tie the count, Clippers lost possession to Downing who raced away on a breakaway and scored what proved the Indians' winner. Clippers tore in on the next face-off and Hoppus drove a wicked shot which Buzinski cleared. The puck got away from him, however, and Carr banged it home for the fifth and last goal.

Marlboros Win From Montreal

MONTREAL, March 30 (CP) — Toronto Marlboros, hardly conceded a chance to take a game with Montreal's powerful Royals, skated off with a 6-2 upset victory here Saturday and forced a fourth game in their best-of-five Eastern Canada semi-final Allan Cup play-off series.

Royals still hold a 2-1 edge in games, on the strength of a 3-1 win in Montreal and a 3-2 verdict in Toronto. The teams play the fourth game of the series at Toronto, Monday.

The McNamara brothers, George and Paul, figured in three goals and completed the rout in the third period.

Alex Davidson and Punch Imlach each got a pair of goals while the other Toronto markers were credited to Johnny Inglis and Eddie King. Johnny Acheson picked up two assists as he set up the plays for Bert Janke and Russ McConnell.

Red Wings Gain Place in Stanley Cup Finals With 2-1 Victory Over Chicago; Giesebrecht Nabs Winners

CHICAGO March 30 (CP). — Gus Giesebrecht's goal after nine minutes of sudden-death overtime shot Detroit Red Wings into the Stanley Cup finals tonight with a 2-1 victory over Chicago Black Hawks in the second game of their best of three series.

A crowd of 16,516 fans watched Giesebrecht combine with Mud Bruneteau and Syd Howe for the goal that spelled the end of the hockey season for the Hawks, who had advanced to the semi-finals by putting out Montreal Canadiens. It was Chicago's first loss on home ice since the playoffs started.

The Wings struck suddenly to the deciding game. After a listless third period with the score remaining deadlocked after each team had scored in the second, the overtime period opened raggedly with both teams apparently content to wait for a break.

Then Howe and Bruneteau, two of the three players left on the Wings of today who starred when Detroit rode the hockey heights in 1936 and 1937, broke through the Chicago defence, and Giesebrecht, following in fast, picked up the rebound to drive the puck cleanly past Goalie Sam Lo Presti.

Up to that time, it had been a bruising close-checking game with Referee Mickey Ion handing out a multitude of penalties to keep tempers in check.

The Wings, who took the first game at Detroit 3-1, opened the scoring early in the second period when the Hawks were two men short. Alex Motter bagged the counter from well out, with Howe and Carl Liscombe assisting.

Chicago weren't long getting that one back. While Defenceman Jimmy Orlando of the Wings was serving one of the four penalties he drew down in the match, Doug Bentley sailed the puck past Goalie Johnny Mowers from near the blue-line. March and Dahlstrom drew assists on the play.

Detroit now meets the winner of the Toronto Maple Leafs-Boston Bruins series in the Stanley Cup finals.

Detroit—Mowers; Orlando, Stewart; Grosso; Jennings, Abel. Subs: Motter, Liscombe, Howe, Bruneteau, Giesebrecht, Fisher, Jackson, Kilrea, Whitelaw.

Chicago—Lo Presti; Seibert, Wiebe; Dahlstrom; Papike, Allen. Subs: MacKay, Cooper, Mariucci, March, D. Bentley, R. Carse, W. Carse, Chad, Hergesheimer.

Referee—Ion. Linesman—Smith.

First period: Scoring none.

Penalties: Seibert, Liscombe, Allen, Orlando (major and minor), Mariucci (2), Motter, Seibert.

Second period: 1, Detroit, Motter (Liscombe, Howe) 1:25; 2, Chicago, D. Bentley (March, Dahlstrom) 4:02.

Penalties: Orlando, Mariucci and Jackson.

Third period: Scoring none.

Penalties: Orlando, Mariucci.

Overtime period: 3, Detroit, Giesebrecht (Howe, Bruneteau) 9:15.

Campbell Starring in Calif. Hockey

HOWARD CAMPBELL

Former Nelson boy, who was popular in hockey lacrosse and basketball circles before leaving the Lakeside City in September 1939 to attend the University of California at Los Angeles, Howard (Howdy) Campbell has developed into a prime favtorite since joining the U. C. L. A. Bruins in intercollegiate hockey competition.

Howard plays defence for the Bruins, and was recently featured in a two-column action photo in the Hollywood Citizen-News, as U. C. L. A. went into an important hockey game against the University of Southern California that meant the leadership of the California Ice Hockey Association.

Campbell has also played a major role in U. C. L. A.'s success in non-conference game on tours.

Campbell went to the California University with George Bishop, a close pal of his in Nelson sport. They had helped Nelson Maple Leafs on their way to their second successive Kootenay box lacrosse title, and the Leafs were awaiting Provincial championship battles with New Westminster Adanacs. But it was the break of their young lifetimes when Bishop and Campbell got the chance for a university education through their ability in sport, and so they had to leave before the B. C. title series. Bishop that year was voted the most valuable player in the League and won the Murray Memorial Trophy.

Both were standouts in Nelson junior hockey, Bishop as a goaltender and Campbell as a rearguard. Campbell's prowess also extended to basketball, and he was Captain of the High School Blue Bombers.

Howard's mother is now residing in Vancouver, but his sister, Dorothy and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Townsend, live here.

COLLEGE TEAM WINS JUNIOR HOOP TITLE

VICTORIA, March 30 (CP) — St. Louis College whipped Penticton's junior hoopsters 56-11 to take the British Columbia junior championship in a sudden-death game last night.

Star was Reg Clarkson, sharpshooting forward for the college, who made 37 of his team's total points.

KIMBERLEY IN RUNNING FOR JUNIOR HOOP TITLE

KIMBERLEY, B. C., March 30 (CP).—Kimberley Braves remained in running for the Whistlecroft Trophy in the Kimberley junior basketball playoffs by defeating Kimberley Macs 27-26 here last night. Macs took the first game of the best of five series.

Braves also defeated Cranbrook Adanacs 37-33 in an exhibition game here during the weekend.

Cincinnati Reds reached the top on gilt-edged pitching and air-tight defence,—and Bill McKechnie will use the same prescription in the 1941 pennant hunt.—The Reds are still short on power but the team is loaded with pitching.

Lawn Bowlers Prepare for Opening Play in Nelson Victoria Day

Preparations for opening play on the greens of the Nelson C.P.R. Lawn Bowling Club May 24 were laid at a meeting at the Canadian Legion Friday night. A man will be put to work immediately on the greens, and lawn bowlers from Kaslo and Trail are being asked to participate in the holiday play Victoria Day.

For the present, last year's executive is carrying on with the direction of the club.

All indications point to a fine lawn bowling season in Nelson. A membership of over 30 persons is anticipated.

Rossland Redmen to Draft Juniors

ROSSLAND, B. C., March 30 — Manager Cec. Pitt reports that his Rossland Redmen will go into the 1941 season with almost the same personnel as last year. Pitt and Leckie will take over the management again.

The local outlook has also been brightened by the acquisition of several of last year's juniors who have decided to vacate the lower ranks to join the Redmen. That means one more Scott at least on the local lineup The boxla flooring has not yet been laid in the rink but that will be attended to in a few days and it won't be too soon for the players.

It is understood that Trail will have a team definitely but the situation in Nelson is still something of a question mark.

BOXING RESULTS

INDIANAPOLIS — Lou Thomas, 198, Indianapolis, knocked out Joey Parks, 190, St. Louis (3).

HOLLYWOOD — Jimmy Garrison, 141, Kansas City, outpointed Cecil Hudson, 141, San Jose, Calif (10).

Regina Turns Down Basketball Playoffs

REGINA, March 30 (CP). — Regina Ware's Ramblers, senior men's Saskatchewan basketball champions, have decided to discontinue play in the Western Canada basketball playoffs. Ramblers were scheduled to play Winnipeg St. Andrews on Friday and Saturday, April 4 and 5.

Gordon Hamilton, Ramblers manager, said Saturday that the decision was due to lack of finances and the refusal of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association to give financial aid.

Negotiations are underway with Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta champions, for a home-and-home series with total points to count for the Adanac Brewing trophy.

District Curlers Enjoy Vernon's Spiel to Limit

"It was a fine bonspiel and each of us enjoyed himself to the limit. Vernon spared no effort to make our visit worth while," stated Robert Foxall of Nelson upon his return to the City Sunday from the Okanagan centre.

Foxall's rink reached the final in one of the competitions, losing the final game to Donald MacDonald of Trail.

"In many ways the bonspiel was more social than competitive, but splendid competition developed in several of the events," Mr. Foxall continued. "The prizes were well distributed. Two went to Trail, one to Rossland, one to Nelson, two to Vancouver, one to Merritt and three stayed in Vernon.

"The Kootenay curlers enjoyed themselves throughout the bonspiel," he stated.

M.R.K. Hockey Club Keeps Its Ninth Birthday

"Where is the Bantam Cup?" "When do we get the Cup?" were pointed remarks emanating from M.R.K. Bantam players at the annual spread of the M.R.K. Hockey Club at the Golden Gate Cafe Friday night. The whereabouts of the silverware donated by the Wood, Vallance Hardware Company some years ago were a deep mystery, solved only when Magician W. A. Wilkinson, at a later stage of the proceedings, caused it with his magic wand to materialize, bearing the M.R.K. colors, from one of his "empty" lengths of stovepipe, from which he extracted a wealth of silk handkerchiefs, a puck bearing the initials of one of the M.R.K. Midgets, and a Canadian flag. The Cup he handed over amid applause to Richey Wassick, captain of the M.R.K. Bantam team.

Mrs. H. H. Currie cut the birthday cake, which bore nine pink candles, six of them for the six years at the Civic Arena, and three for the early years at the old Rink, where a group of youngsters ranging from 10 years down to seven, were introduced to hockey in the Winter of 1932-33.

SIX IN FIGHTING FORCES

It was pointed out that Jimmy Kinahan and Earl McNicol, two former M.R.K. coaches, were fighting overseas, while four ex-M.R.K. players, including three who were with the Club last season, were also in the Canadian forces.

The cake also elicited birthday congratulations for A. N. Winlaw, who returned from Duck Creek in time to be at the banquet.

Speakers included Harry Wassick, Jack Wood, James Avis, H. H. Currie, Mrs. H. H. Currie, Andy Spelrs and A. N. Winlaw, adults, and Doug Winlaw, Red Wassick and Richey Wassick, captains of the M.R.K. Juvenile, Midget and Bantam teams respectively, and Bill McMordie. The latter replied to regrets expressed at the coming removal of Lieut.-Col. S. P. McMordie and family to Vancouver, an event that will cost the M.R.K.'s two supporters and two players.

It was pointed out that both the Bantam and Midget M.R.K. teams showed the way in their respective Leagues, and that it was just hard luck that the Midgets, in their five-game series with the Panthers, did not have the Midget Cup to place beside the Bantam one. As it was, the Club's teams won three of the six honors possible in the season's "kid hockey," the best showing made by any of the three clubs, as the Fairview Athletic Club won two honors—the two Juvenile—out of six possible, and the Panthers one—the Midget Cup—out of the four for which they were in competition.

Bantam Pool players who joined the Club at the close of the season were among the 46 present.

Smokies Taking Rest in Calgary

CALGARY, March 30 (CP)—With one victory to their credit, Lethbridge Maple Leafs with the remaining game or games scheduled in their home city, left for the South this morning.

Trail Smoke Eaters are remaining in Calgary until Monday morning. The Management decided that players could enjoy the rest here just as well as in Lethbridge. Moreover Cronie's and Wade's parents live here and many of the players took advantage of the day's rest to visit friends, whom they made while winning the Allan Cup in Calgary the Spring of 1938.

KAMLOOPS GIRLS WIN HOOP FROM VICTORIA

VICTORIA, March 30 (CP).—Victoria Adverts lost the intermediate "A" girls' championship to Kamloops in a sudden death game which they dropped 23-18 last night.

Andy Young Sensational as Smokies and Leafs Clash in Blazing Hockey

CALGARY, March 30 (CP)—Brilliant goalkeeping on the part of Andy Young featured Lethbridge Maple Leafs' 3-2 victory over Trail Smoke Eaters in the fourth game of the Allan Cup Interprovincial elimination series here Saturday night.

The result will send the two teams to Lethbridge Monday night for the fifth game with Smoke Eaters having an advantage of two victories to one. The first game was a scoreless draw. The British Columbia champions only need a draw to qualify to oppose either Regina Rangers or Port Arthur Bearcats in the Western finals. The Alberta title-holders will tie up the playoff if they win and should this happen a sixth game will probably be played in Lethbridge Wednesday night.

In contrast to the dull, listless contest these teams turned in during the third clash Thursday night, the sextets set a dizzy pace throughout 60 minutes of Saturday's event.

Alex Kaleta (2), and Doug French were the goal scorers for Lethbridge, while Cronie and Duffy tallied for Trail.

Close checking resulted in no less than 15 penalties being handed out, eight to Leafs, including an additional misconduct to Kaleta and seven to Smoke Eaters.

The Albertans assumed a two-goal lead during the first period and added another without retaliation in the second. The Smoke Eaters staged a thrilling offence that netted them two goals in the third.

A penalty to Defenceman Morris enabled Leafs to apply the power and a three-way play gave them the first goal. Culley carried the puck, passed to Stewart who shot. When the puck rebounded off Scodellaro, Kaleta was on hand in time to drive it into the open net.

With less than a minute left to play in the first period and while Bunny Dame was serving a penalty for high-sticking Pug Young, Leafs made it 2-0. Lunde carried the puck over the blue line and when checked by the defence, relayed a pass ahead. Kaleta cut in fast enough to gain possession and sizzle a shot that evaded Scodellaro.

Lethbridge boosted its advantage to 3-0 when Darling carried the puck over the blue line and made a goal-mouth pass to Doug French who had no difficulty beating Scodellaro.

With Pug Young serving a penalty, Ab Cronie scored for Smoke Eaters at the 1:23 mark of the third period. The shifty Trail centre eluded the defence on the right side for a shot that beat Young all the way.

Smoke Eaters scored their second goal when Duffy located the right side of the net with a low shot. The goal was hotly protested by the Lethbridge players, claiming that the puck hit the post.

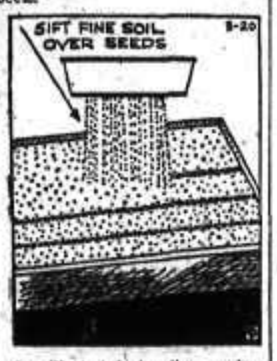
Preparing Seeds for Home Garden

By DEAN HALLIDAY

When the seed flats are filled with soil, preparatory to seed planting, smooth off the top and slightly firm down the soil by means of a small piece of board or brick. Next use a ruler or pencil point to form little rows or tiny furrows in which to plant the seeds.

The rows should be two inches apart and one-eighth of an inch in depth for celery, one-quarter-inch for cabbage and tomatoes, and three-eighths of an inch for onions and beets.



As illustrated in the garden-graph, cover the seeds evenly with soil, using a sieve made of mosquito wire netting. Use a small board to press the covering soil into firm contact with the seeds.

Very fine seeds are not covered over at all, merely pressed down into the soil with the board.

Label the rows to identify each vegetable and also put date of planting on each label.

Soft "Dress-Up" Shirtwaister

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9683

This new Marian Martin dress, Pattern 9683, is a real "conversation piece"! For though it's in the familiar shirtwaist style it has a new point of view in its many novel, graceful touches. The back and front yokes are cut in a single easy piece. The clean cut notched collar, front bodice buttoning, gathered, bloused lines and simple long or short sleeves are all familiar shirtwaist features. But there's fashion news in the hip-yokes of the skirt that point right down into the seams of the panels in a marvelously slimming effect. Dress-up the style with gay flower buttons and with a decorative belt—make it in a soft, dainty fabric—and wear it for any daytime occasion!

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

THE FIRST THING TO DO

AFTER MAKING whatever deductions you can from the opening lead and the opponents' bidding, your first job, after seeing the dummy laid down by your partner, is to count up your winners, in the case of a No Trump contract, or your losers, in the case of a suit contract. The number of apparent losing cards in your "master hand" may be small enough for you to have a sure thing way of making the contract. If so, don't try anything that jeopardizes it. If not, then and then only figure out ways and means to cut down the number of them which may possibly cost the loss of another trick.

North: ♠ A J 10 5 3 ♥ 7 6 5 ♦ A 8 6 ♣ 3 5

West: ♠ 6 2 ♥ Q 8 3 2 ♦ Q 10 9 ♣ K J 4 2

East: ♠ 9 8 7 ♥ A K J 10 4 ♦ 7 3 2 ♣ 9 7

South: ♠ K Q 4 ♥ 9 ♦ K J 5 4 ♣ A Q 10 6 3

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1♠	2♥
3♣	3♥	3♠	4♥
4♠

After leading his heart K and seeing the dummy's singleton, East switched to his spade 9 to prevent ruffs. The declarer promptly took this with the dummy's K, then led to his diamond A and ruffed one of his two losing hearts with the spade 4. Noting a dearth of entries now to his hand, he decided to accept philosophically the loss of another heart trick, since he still could make his contract if either minor suit finesse would work. So he led the spade Q to his A and promptly tried the club finesse, which lost to the K. West led his heart 3 to East's 10 and the latter returned the club 9. The declarer tried a finesse of the 10, which lost to the J, and he was down one.

How easy this contract was. North, who had lost one heart trick, could have treated both minor finesses as sure to fail and still make his contract by ruffing his two losing hearts. For this he needed two early entries to his hand. The first could have been by winning the second lead, the spade 9, in his own hand. He then could have ruffed one heart. The diamond A would have furnished entry for a ruff of the last heart. With his contract now safe, he could have tried for an overtrick by laying down the diamond K and another diamond, hoping for an even split of the suit. When that developed, he could have won any return, dropped trumps and used the club A as an entry to play the thirteenth diamond for a club discard, thus making an overtrick.

WOULD ASK JAPANESE MINISTER TO LEAVE

WESTON-SUPER-MARE, England, March 30 (CP Cable). — Lt.-Cmdr. F. T. H. Fletcher, Labor Member of Parliament at Nuneaton, suggested in a speech here yesterday that the Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain should be asked to leave.

The visit to Berlin of the Japanese Foreign Minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, led many people in the United Kingdom to consider what was the position in London of the Japanese Ambassador, Lt.-Cmdr. Fletcher said.

Report Five Loads of Gold Finch Ore Worth $2700 Untrue

While "it is true that we have received assays varying from one to 11 ounces," it is not true that five truckloads of ore from the Gold Finch Mine, Greenwood, were estimated to value $2700, writes Eric Larsen of Greenwood, one of six partners in the mine.

"The mine is operated by myself, A. D. Bromfield and J. J. Malone of Princeton, Ole Mohus, Anton Bognar and Leo Morris, all equal partners," Larsen continues.

CANADAS' PETROLEUM OUTPUT REACHES HIGH

OTTAWA, (CP)—A long-standing record was toppled last year when Canada's production of crude petroleum reached an estimated total of 8,700,000 barrels, the Department of Mines and Resources reports.

The 1940 figure compares with an output of 7,826,301 barrels in 1939, Alberta's Turner Valley fields, where 131 wells now are in production, supplied 96 per cent of the output.

The department admitted Canada's production fell short of domestic requirements, but said the "steady increase in the output of the fuel is reducing the Dominion's dependence on foreign sources of supply."

Shipbuilding in Britain Sets New Records for 1940

OTTAWA — "Although no figures for British shipyards are published in war time, it is well known that many firms established new production records during 1940," writes G. B. Johnson, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Glasgow, in a report to the Department of Trade and Commerce on Scottish Trade and Industry in 1940. "At the outbreak of war the industry had in hand a large volume of work; at that time 173 ships were being built or were projected for the Royal Navy alone. At present some hundreds for the Navy are under construction, in addition to a vast number of merchant ships. When the war began the large volume of work on hand was rapidly increased by further orders and by the end of 1939 (four months after hostilities began) there was hardly a berth throughout the country which was not occupied by a ship, either war or merchant, undergoing construction.

"Each month during 1940 added to the demands on the industry and the output has rapidly expanded. Many new ships have been added to the strength of the Royal Navy and the Mercantile Marine. The speed attained in construction is apparent from the fact that many ships which were not even laid down at the beginning of 1940 are now in service. This is a remarkable accomplishment and one which reflects the greatest credit on the shipbuilders and their employees. While much has been done during the past year to speed output, maximum production has not yet been reached, for shipbuilding, like most other war industries, is one that requires many months of intense effort to accelerate to maximum speed."

Record progress has also been achieved in the vital iron and steel industry, states Mr. Johnson, the works being operated at full capacity and with a good supply of pig iron, scrap and other raw materials. As in shipbuilding great efforts have been made to speed up poduction by introducing standardization in rolling operations and by the curtailment of holidays to permit of continuous operations.

"The fall of France and the loss of supplies of Belgian and Luxembourg steel products, of which large quantities are normally imported by the local industries, increased the pressure on domestic steel mills, quite apart from the enormous war demands, and therefore increased the demand for scrap and pig iron. The scrap position was eased by record imports of United States and Empire scrap and also by the unqualified success, so far as the West of Scotland is concerned, of the drive for the collection of scrap in Glasgow and district."

Output of the diversified engineering industry of Scotland was also of record-breaking proportions, states Mr. Johnson. "But perhaps its outstanding feature at the present time is the preparation it has made to meet the requirements of a long war by the building of new factories, the installation of the most modern machinery and the return to the industry of thousands of men and women after some months' training. Such plans have been made in every branch of the industry, such as aircraft construction, chemical engineering, marine engineering, manufacture of scientific instruments, structural engineering and the making of bolts and nuts. Vast scope for development remains despite the fact that many firms have multiplied their output several times in 1940 as compared with previous years."

LONDON (CP)—A ministry of overseas trade, to handle all responsibility for British imports and exports was suggested at the annual meeting of the Institute of Export

Newsprint Imports Rise in U. S. Despite European Shortage

OTTAWA—As a result of the war, United States imports of newsprint from Europe practically ceased after the first four months of 1940. However, this has not had any material effect on United States supplies, observes D. S. Cole, Canadian Trade Commissioner at New York, in a report to the Department of Trade and Commerce published in the current issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal, since the United States was able to increase imports from Canada and Newfoundland as well as to raise her own production.

Imports of newsprint paper into the United States in 1940 amounted to 2,762,535 tons, an increase of 147,495 tons or 5.6 per cent over the 1939 figure. Imports in 1940 were 20.9 per cent over the 1938 imports but 16.7 per cent below the large 1937 imports of 3,317,024 tons. Of the total imports in 1940, Canada and Newfoundland furnished 98.7 per cent or 2,726,585 tons as compared with 2,304,651 tons in the previous year, an increase of 18.3 per cent. Imports from European countries amounted to only 33,850 tons as against 310,343 tons in 1939 and 243,065 tons in 1938.

BRITAIN NEEDS MOLES

LONDON (CP). — Britain wants 10,000,000 moleskins in a hurry. They are sought by the Export Council of the Board of Trade to bring in foreign exchange to help pay for war supplies from abroad. In peacetime, London, world centre of the moleskin trade, used to get from Europe an average of 25,000,000 pelts annually. Most were re-exported to Canada, the United States and South America. They are needed now for export as skins or for making up into moleskin garments for which markets are being developed abroad.

Humble Ship Is Acclaimed Queen of War Crossings

By DOUG HOW
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (CP)—They don't make a habit of crowning "Queens of the Atlantic" in time of war but, if they did, no palatial giant would draw the vote of this hustling harbor-front.

Your ship—they think down here—would be an unassuming, one-funnelled, sombre little craft which, before the war, wasn't even in the ocean-crossing class. Censorship prevents even her being named.

She will never be listed high in any "who's who" list of passenger boats because her interior is humbly home-like and her whole general appearance could in no way be confused with the term beautiful.

Yet, come stress or storm, she has slipped across the ocean to enter this harbor with human cargo more often than any of her kind, be they bigger or smaller.

Usually travelling alone, she has eluded the treacherous traps of the North Atlantic time after time to bring her passengers to these shores. And many an imposing figure has come ashore when her gangplank was dropped at this port of call.

Lords and countesses, admirals and men decorated for bravery in war, Jewish refugees and authoresses, millionaires and common folk, have all spanned the ocean aboard this brave little craft.

Her crew calls her a "lucky" ship but they put more faith in the skill of their skipper than in any superstition. He's a bluff, brave Britisher, this man, with more than 40 years on the high seas behind him.

His men say, "If there's any way of getting out of a tough spot the old man will think of it. . . . He knows this job right down to the ground."

Because of her unusual record of defying destruction, a strong love has sprung up among officers and men alike for this little urchin which now rubs elbows with the high brows of the business.

"More than a lot," as one man put it, "it has seemed that her luck has saved us. We'd pick up a radio message that another ship was torpedoed a few hours behind us. A little later, another vessel would get it a mile ahead. Then the old man would go into action and we'd move out of that zone mighty fast."

"My Boy Had Wings"

Scottish Mother, Formerly of Trail, Tells In Poetry the Story of Son's Supreme Sacrifice in Desert Air War

Sergeant Young Born in Trail; Leaves His Wife and Baby

TRAIL, B. C., March 30 — The story of a courageous mother who has given her only son to die in defence of the British Empire, and who can still carry on with a brave message to other mothers throughout the world of democracy, lies behind the poem "My Boy Had Wings", dedicated by Mrs. M. Young of Roslyn, Scotland, formerly of Trail, to her son Sgt. Ernest Seath Young, R. A. F., aged 24. Sgt. Young was born in Trail Hospital October 5, 1916, and was killed during an operational flight in the Middle East on November 28, 1940.

"MY BOY HAD WINGS"

My boy had wings—
He used to fly
Down mountain tracks, with hair awry;
His whistle echoed through the glen,
To tell me he was home again.

My boy had wings—
He knew the haunt of every bird,
With Nature's children he would herd;
And so he gained a spirit free,
Abiding sense of liberty.

My boy had wings—
So when the country called to arms
From City home and Country farms,
He joined the ranks of brave and true;
His duty then he swore to do.

My boy had wings—
He rode a plane of silver grey,
With courage, to the fatal day
When desert sands, yellow and gold,
Closed over him who was so bold.

My boy had wings—
They carried him away from me,
So far into Eternity,
Where in the hush of setting sun,
He'll hear the Master's words: "Well done."

M. YOUNG.

Mrs. Young sent the poem inscribed on the folder of a photograph, to her sister, Mrs. Alexander Kerr, 817 Eldorado Street, Trail.

Sgt. Young left a wife and a six-months-old baby boy. His mother is now writing a diary of her son's life, from babyhood, for her small grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Young and family returned to Scotand from Trail when Ernest was three years old. Mr. Young worked at the C. M. & S smelter.

Death Bed Confession Restores Daughter to Yakima Couple

YAKIMA, Wash., March 30 (CP) — A mother and father will see their 25-year-old daughter for the first time this weekend when Mrs. Jack Stewart of Seattle visits her parents, who for a quarter of a century have believed she died at birth.

Mrs. Stewart was born in Seattle while her mother, Mrs. L. M. Rathburn, was visiting relatives there in 1916. An attendant at a nursing home told Mrs. Rathburn the baby had died, then allegedly gave her to a childless couple in return for a sum of money.

A deathbed confession by the attendant, a nurse, disclosed that Mrs. Stewart, now the mother of a small boy, was alive. An advertisement seeking the whereabouts of Mrs. Rathburn subsequently brought about the reunion.

The Rathburns have four sons, all of whom have visited Seattle recently to meet their sister.

Germans Say Troops Forced to Lifeboats

BERLIN, March 30 (AP). — The German high command claimed yesterday a long-range German bomber attacked a British troop transport in the Atlantic about 310 miles West of Cape Wrath, Scotland, and forced the soldiers to take to lifeboats.

In the same region a 2500-ton ship sank and a large steamship was hit in other attacks, the German communique claimed.

TORONTO, March 30 (CP)—Toronto Junior Marlboros defeated Oshawa Generals 4-1 here last night to take a one-game lead in the best-of-seven series for the Ontario Hockey Association junior "A" championship and the right to enter the Eastern Canada junior final.

The game was fifth of the series. Toronto previously had won the second and third games, Oshawa the first and fourth.

Tractor Trains Rush Airport Material on Famous Trail of '98

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—The famous trail of '98 worn by people who took part in the Yukon Gold Rush is being used again—by men freighting construction equipment to complete a modern air highway between Edmonton and Alaska.

Two tractor trains carrying hundreds of tons of equipment to be used in construction of an airport have completed most of the 300-mile trek from the end of steel at Dawson Creek, 350 air miles Northwest of Edmonton.

Construction crews will build an airport which can be used throughout the year and by all types of planes—even the largest bombers. The airfields are being developed on recommendation of the permanent Canada-United States joint defence board.

The tractor trains being hustled over Canada's frontier in Northeastern British Columbia each carry about 50 tons of freight. They consist of a series of sleighs with seven-foot runners and 10-foot bunks hauled by caterpillar tractors. Each tractor is capable of pulling six or seven loaded sleighs on normal roads and must reach their destination before the Spring break-up.

Warm weather would leave them stranded and practically useless as it would be nearly impossible to move the tractors over the rough terrain without a snow road.

Pacific Hockey Playoff Money Held by Taylor

VANCOUVER, March 30 (CP) — Fred (Cyclone) Taylor, President of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, said tonight he is standing firm in his decision "not to turn over one cent of playoff money" until he finds out who was responsible for refusal of players to play one game of the finals between Vancouver Lions and Spokane Bombers at Spokane, Wash.

"Not one cent of playoff money will be paid out until they tell me all about it, even if it is five years from now," Taylor said.

The league president said he was making no investigation into the players' "strike" and that it is up to the players themselves to reveal names of the offenders.

Taylor said yesterday that when he finds out who the players were he will fine them at least $25 each, with the money to go to the Red Cross to prove the fines are paid.

Germany Needs War Equipment

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP). — Noel Hall of the British Ministry of Economic Warfare, who has been assigned to the British Embassy in Washington with the rank of Minister, said on his arrival here Saturday that Germany soon will not be able to replace vital first-class equipment as quickly as it is needed and that "they are scratching their heads now over their need for wool, rubber, petroleum and the better metals."

He arrived on the Yankee Clipper as an aide to the British Ambassador, Viscount Halifax, and he will coordinate the economic activities of Britain and the United States.

The flying boat carried nine passengers, including Maj. Robert B. Williams, U. S. air observers who was seriously injured in a Nazi air raid on London.
