GERMAN TROOP MOVEMENT INCREASING

Volunteers From Canadian Militia Are to Be Called

No Officer or Man Under Compulsion to Report Says Defence Minister; to Bolster Permanent Forces

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP).—Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie announced tonight volunteers would be called from the non-permanent militia at once to bolster the permanent force in such special military duties as manning coastal defences and guarding "certain vulnerable points."

A statement issued by the Minister made it clear that "no officer or man shall be under compulsion to report" for the duties considered necessary for national security at this time.

The complete statement follows:

1. Pursuant to a decision made at today's meeting of the Cabinet, certain portions of the Canadian militia are being called out for duty on a voluntary basis.

2. Immediately after the cabinet meeting instructions were issued that officers commanding the militia units affected should be notified through the several military district headquarters.

3. It is considered that, in the light of the present situation, there are certain military duties for which the strength of the permanent force of Canada is insufficient and hence, it has been decided to place portions of the non-permanent active militia on service. The duties to be carried out include the manning of coastal defences and the guarding of certain vulnerable points.

4. The present action is being taken under the authority of Section 63 of the Militia Act which permits the Governor-in-Council to authorize the Minister of National Defence to place the militia or portions of it on service for any military duty other than drill or training.

5. The procedure under Section 63 differs from that under the well known Section 64 which deals with calling out the militia for active service. Under Section 64 the call is compulsory on all members of the militia units named in the Order-in-Council invoking the act. Further, if Section 64 is invoked it is mandatory upon the Government to summon Parliament immediately, but this is not the case when Section 63 is invoked.

6. It is considered that the voluntary response to the call now being made on the militia will be adequate for the immediate purpose and the minister's instructions are definite that the response shall be entirely voluntary and that no officer or man shall be under compulsion to report.

7. Those who go on service in response to this call, will receive the pay and allowances of their rank.

BELGIAN PEACE EFFORTS BACKED BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP).—President Roosevelt cabled King Leopold III of the Belgians today the wholehearted support of the United States and its Government in Leopold's efforts for peace.

The message to King Leopold said:

"I have read with the utmost measure of satisfaction Your Majesty's peace address of August 23 and the appeal for the maintenance of peace made therein in the name of the powers of the Oslo Group. Your Majesty expressed the hope other heads of states might join their voices with yours in the same debt for the peace and security of their peoples.

"I take this occasion to assure you the people of the United States and their Government wholeheartedly share the hopes and the aspirations so eloquently expressed by Your Majesty."

As for precautions lest the outbreak of a war abroad dislocate the nation's economic functioning, Mr. Roosevelt later said the machinery which had been created was better able to function than at any time in the past. Putting it into operation, he added, was a matter of pushing a button.

FOUR KILLED IN COVENTRY BLAST

Blackpool Town Hall Front Wrecked in Second Blast

LONDON, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (CP).—A violent explosion damaged the front of the Town Hall of the West coast resort town of Blackpool early today 12 hours after a blast attributed by police to the Irish Republican Army killed four persons and injured 60 at Coventry. No one was injured.

Police reported that before the Blackpool blast, bombs had been discovered in a dust bin in the promenade and in gardens outside the constable's office.

In London a special police guard was placed over Government buildings after reports at Scotland Yard of an asserted I. R. A. plot to make a concerted attack on Government buildings here.

The building where the explosion occurred in Coventry was believed to be an ammunition dump of the I. R. A.

Three persons were reported arrested after the blast.

Buses and trolleys were damaged by the explosion and many injured lay screaming for help before ambulances arrived. Glass and debris were ankle deep.

Britain, Poland Formally Sign

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP)—A formal agreement of mutual assistance between Britain and Poland was signed at the foreign office late today by Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, and Ambassador Count Edward Raczynski.

The agreement consists of eight articles setting forth the circumstances under which the parties would go to each other's assistance.

"It is a source of lively satisfaction to both governments that the negotiations for the present agreement have been so speedily and satisfactorily concluded," a foreign official statement said.

"This agreement replaces and gives formal effect to the provisional agreement reached between the United Kingdom Government and the Polish Government during Foreign Minister Joseph Beck's visit to London last Spring and announced in the House of Commons on April 6," the statement added.

Timing of the announcement of the signatures was considered significant in the light of the reported attitude of skepticism in Germany toward Britain's determination to aid Poland.

WITNESS TELLS COMMISSION HE DRANK LIQUOR IN COAST CABARETS

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP)—F. H. Proby today told the Vancouver Police Commission he violated the British Columbia Liquor Act by drinking intoxicating liquor in various cafes and cabarets in the city in company with two other men.

After hearing evidence from Proby and Geoffrey B. Turner the commission adjourned to Monday its enquiry into charges made by Mayor Lyle Telford of laxity in police administration.

Proby, who described himself as a manufacture agent, said that on Aug. 5 he visited a cabaret with Turner and another friend, Jimmy Hoggan, to whom he had been introduced by his uncle, W. G. Proby, a former Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable. He said that nearly all patrons in the cabaret were drinking intixicating liquor.

He said a waiter brought glasses and ice to their table and a few minutes later requested him to put a bottle of whisky he had under the table.

Proby said he visited another cabaret where he saw drinking going on, then went to two cafes where he and his friends drank liquor which they had brought with them.

A protest by Proby to giving the name of the Montreal firm which he said he represented was overruled by Judge A. M. Harper, who is hearing the charges with Police Magistrate G. R. McQueen.

Continuing his cross-examination of the witness General J. A. Clark, counsel for Chief Constable W. W. Foster, drew from him the information that he had been employed by a Vancouver concern from 1936 to April of last year at a salary of $1000 yearly. Proby said he then started himself in business but to date had received no returns from the firms he represented.

7 UNITS READY

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP)—Canada's airforce units were ordered today to be in readiness to move to the stations they are to occupy in case of war. The announcement by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of defence, tonight followed one earlier in the day that all leaves to members of Canada's permanent forces had been suspended. Seven airforce units are ready to move.

The minister's announcement tonight follows:

"Warning has been given to the appropriate commands of the Royal Canadian Air Force that the several active service units are to be prepared to proceed to their stations in the event of an emergency.

"The squadrons in question are ready to move at short notice.

"The stations to be taken up are those selected as best suited for defence.

DELEGATION TO MOSCOW LEAVES

MOSCOW, Aug. 26 (Saturday). (AP)—The British and French military missions left Moscow at 12:30 a.m. today (1:30 p.m. Friday P.S.T.) by train for Leningrad, their staff talks with Russia ended by the Soviet-German non-aggression pact.

The missions will travel homeward via Finland to avoid German territory.

Heads of the missions bade farewell to Marshal Kelementi Voroshiloff, defence commissar and Soviet leader in the staff discussions. The conference lasted only 30 minutes.

What took place in the meeting remained a closely-guarded secret, but diplomatic quarters said it was a "million to one" that the talks interrupted by the announcement of the German-Rusian non-aggression pact, would not be resumed.

Emergency State Exists in Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Aug. 25 (CP.-Cable)—A state of emergency existed in this British colony today after a special act was rushed through the Legislature. The act, immediately proclaimed, gave Acting Governor Major E. A. Dutton authority to take over full powers of Government.

Under the measure known as the Emergency Powers Act the Governor has authority to conscript men and to acquire property other than land for defence of the colony.

Shut Off From World as Preparations to "Deal With Poland" Go On; Roosevelt Appeals Again; Feeling in Poland Peace Hangs by Slim Thread

Polish President Accepts Roosevelt Peace Appeal Providing Germany Agrees to Do So Also; Push Preparations

HENDERSON AWAITED IN LONDON

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP Cable).—Great Britain today strengthened its alliance with Poland in a direct answer to the German-Soviet non-aggression pact and watched a series of unexplained diplomatic moves that held a slight glimmer of hope in the war clouds that have settled over Europe.

Sir Nevile Henderson, Britain's Ambassador to Germany, noted for his blunt speech and forthright manner, will fly to London tomorrow with a report for Prime Minister Chamberlain as a result of a suddenly-arranged interview with Fuehrer Hitler.

Nature of the conversation with the Fuehrer or the report he would make could not be learned in London but talk of a new peace offer resulted in diplomatic and political circles here.

A source close to the Government, commenting on Sir Nevile's flight said:

"The news has brought a new hope that perhaps some move is afoot which may break the deadlock and the accelerating drift toward disaster. It is clear that Henderson is bringing proposals or questions requiring an answer from Britain."

Official circles would not comment on the latest developments in the European crisis and no hint was given of what passed between Mr. Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, the Foreign Secretary, during a lengthy interview tonight.

WARSAW, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (AP).—President Ignace Moscicki accepted today the conciliation suggestion of President Roosevelt and agreed to refrain from hostilities provided that Germany also agreed to do so.

The following message of President Moscicki expressing his consent was cabled during the night from Warsaw to the White House:

"His Excellency Franklin Delano Roosevelt President of the United States of America.

"I highly appreciate the most important and noble message which your excellency was good enough to address to me.

"I would like to emphasize that the Polish Government always considers direct negotiation with Governments as the most appropriate method of solving difficulties which may arise between nations.

"We consider this method all the more fitting when employed between neighboring countries. It was with these principles that Poland concluded the pact of non-aggression with Germany and with Soviet Russia.

JUST METHOD

"We consider likewise the method of conciliation by a third power, as disinterested and impartial as your excellency, to be a just and equitable method in the solution of controversies arising between nations.

"While naturally wishing to avoid

Rev. J. H. Matthews, United Church Minister at Fernie, Is Nominated C.C.F. Candidate in Kootenay East

District Council of C.C.F. Maps Out Campaign

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Aug. 25—Rev. J. H. Matthews, United Church minister of Fernie, tonight was unanimously chosen by a C. C. F. nominating convention as standard bearer for the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation in Kootenay East in the forthcoming Federal election. Harold Winch, M. L. A., Vancouver, Provincial C. C. F. leader, occupied the chair. There were 35 present, among them representatives of Canyon, Creston and Fernie.

Mr. Nott passed the vote for Canyon, Mrs. Penson for Creston, J. Fleming for Fernie and O. Samuelson and J. McGregor for Kimberley.

Mr. Matthews made a short speech of acceptance, saying that a fighting speech from him would be like bringing concentrates to Kimberley. He spoke on crises in history. First, when James Watt discovered the power of steam, the beginning of industrial expansion which brought much good.

"But there are always malicious minds ready to use these discoveries against mankind, so we have engines of destruction," he said.

MACHINE AGE CRISIS

The machine age had brought about a real crisis. Wealth was being concentrated in the hands of a few, bringing poverty to many.

Another crisis was the development of individualism. This was a new philosophy but philosophies would come and go.

Rains Accompanied by Electric, Hail and Wind Storms, Blanket District; Many Small Fires Set

Rains that have been looked for in a tinder dry Nelson forest district for nearly two months finally fell Friday, bringing with them thunder, lightning and wind storms practically throughout the district from Penticton East to the Crow's Nest. Forests were given a good soaking, but dozens of lightning strikes were reported, setting innumerable small fires, only some of which were reported. A total of .9 inch of rain was reported from Grand Forks, while every district point reported at least some rain.

For the first time in 37 days, rain fell in Nelson, a total of .19 inch being recorded by 5 p.m. About 3 o'clock rain began to pour from clouds overhanging the city for several days, hailstones the size of moth balls accompanying the rain. After the sudden downpour, rain fell periodically and continued into the night. Regular rivers washed down city streets and gutters were full. Small lakes formed at street corners where drains could not accomodate the sudden downpour.

Last time any rain fell in Nelson was July 19 when .10 inch was recorded. Before that .05 inch fell on the 15th.

During the afternoon, reports from district points stated there were 180 men on old fires, but later reports did not state how the heavy rains had affected the fires, or whether the crews were still in place.

POWER OFF

Lightning struck a pole of the West Kootenay Power & Light Company on the power line between Blueberry Creek and China Creek about 8 p.m., interrupting light service to Castlegar for several hours.

At least 12 lightning strikes were reported from Grand Forks, but it was not known if they had developed into fires. All other districts reported much the same. Among fires started near Grand Forks were one on McCrae Creek, which runs into Christina Lake about five miles from the South end; one at Stewart Creek, which also flows into Christina Lake; and one on Pass Creek, on the North fork of the Kettle River. It was soon put out.

Three new fires were reported in the Nelson District. They were on

He predicted that oil developments on the Western edge of the block in the vicinity of Hudson Hope will have a vital effect on the future of the district.

The Premier spent a busy day here, visiting the Sudeten refugee settlement at Gundy ranch where 150 Czech families are breaking in the first of 40,000 acres, lunching with the Pouce Coupe Board of Trade and attending a meeting of the Dawson Creek board in the evening.

BULLETINS

Troops Moving

GLEIWITZ, Aug. 25 (AP)—German troops in the Gleiwitz area have been moving towards positions on the Polish border since early tonight.

Up until 11:30 p.m. however, no crossing of the line had been reported, or firing heard.

The road between this border town and Beuthen was mined at 9 p.m. at places where it is near Polish territory. Movable entanglements stand ready to be thrown across other highways.

Infantry companies moved up in field equipment between the two industrial cities of Gleiwitz and Beuthen, followed by grey military lorries. Officers' cars and mounted detachments, as well as civilian automobiles and trucks drafted by the army, raced along the road.

PARIS, Aug. 26 (Saturday). (CP)—A Havas News Agency dispatch from Warsaw said today Polish anti-aircraft batteries at Gydnia shot down a German bomber late last night.

The articles appeared to reflect official opinion and one of the papers, Il Messaggero, hinted Premier Mussolini might take a hand in trying to settle the crisis.

Tannenberg Celebration Next Sunday Is Called Off; No Reason Given for Closing of Communications

REPORTS OF GERMAN ABUSE SPREAD

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (Saturday)—(AP).—Germany shut herself off from the world for seven hours last night and early today as she made apparently last-minute preparations "to deal with Poland."

From 6:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m. PST) yesterday to 2 a.m. (5 p.m. Friday, PST) today authorities shut off telephone, telegraph and cable communications with most of the world.

During this tense period Germany cancelled her projected celebration at Tannenberg next Sunday, where Fuehrer Hitler was to make an important announcement.

Other rumors said that the Nuremberg party congress to start Sept. 2 also had been cancelled. These reports, however, were denied by the Propaganda Ministry.

Meanwhile military preparations along the Polish border went on through the night and in military circles the conviction was expressed that Germany is "ready for any action on the part of the Poles or anyone else."

The reason for the sudden closing of lines of communication was not apparent early today. The shut down came without warning. An Associated Press dispatch being relayed to London was broken off in the middle. But there was no censorship, and the official German News Agency continued to bring in reports from the rest of the world.

One explanation for closing down communications was that all available lines were needed for the military and important state calls. While hope that a conflict might be avoided faded during the night, sleepless diplomatic observers were somewhat relieved when the ban on outgoing messages was lifted. This slight relief admittedly had no substantial foundation.

CHILE REVOLT QUICKLY HALTED

SANTIAGO, CHILE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Chile's Popular front government, backed by thousands of volunteer workers, today quickly put down an insurrection in the army.

With quiet restored and the leaders of the revolution arrested or dispersed, President Pedro Aguirre Cerda decreed a nation-wide state of siege — the equivalent of martial law—for one month.

The ministry of the interior issued a communique praising the people's calm in the face of the uprising. Popular Front leaders congratulated the workers for their support. Thousands had volunteered to defend the President and Government buildings.

But it was impossible to find anyone who heard any shots fired, although there was said to have been shooting this morning on Santiago's outskirts. No casualties were reported.

Russia Approves Bulgaria Claims

SOFIA, Aug. 25 (AP).—Deputy George Markoff, Vice President of the National Assembly, said tonight that Russia had signified its full approval of Bulgaria's territorial claims on Rumania.

Markoff who returned today from Moscow with 21 other deputies told newspapermen Premier Molotoff said "the Soviet finds Bulgaria's claims fully justified."

It was the first sign of possible German-Russian cooperation in affecting territorial changes in South Eastern Europe. Nazi German leaders have publicly espoused Bulgaria's claims for return of the Dobrudja from Rumania.

Soviet Russia herself has never renounced her claims on Bessarabia, annexed to Rumania at the end of the Great War.

NEW APPEAL IS SENT TO HITLER BY ROOSEVELT

New Appeal Follows Acceptance by Moscicki

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt addressed tonight another appeal to Fuehrer Hitler immediately after receiving an acceptance from President Moscicki of Poland and asked Hitler to "agree to the pacific means of settlement accepted by the Government of Poland."

"All the world," the President added, "prays that Germany, too, will accept."

President Roosevelt telegraphed to Hitler the text of President Moscicki's reply in which Moscicki agreed to direct negotiation or the process of conciliation.

He then said: "Your Excellency has repeatedly and publicly stated that the ends and the objectives sought by the German Reich were just and reasonable.

"In his reply to my message the President of Poland has made it plain that the Polish Government is willing, upon the basis set forth in my messages, to agree to solve the controversy which has arisen between the Republic of Poland and the German Reich by direct negotiation or through the process of conciliation."

Mr. Roosevelt told the German Chancellor:

"Countless human lives can be yet saved and hope may still be restored that the nations of the modern world may even now construct a foundation for a peaceful and a happier relationship if you and the government of the German Reich will agree to the pacific means of settlement accepted by the Government of Poland."

The President's message to Hitler was written almost immediately after the reply from the President of Poland arrived.

Drop in Canadian Dollar Not Serious

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP)—Todsy's slight drop in value of the Canadian dollar on the United States money market was not considered serious here and financial circles ascribed it to "fright" rather than to any real cause.

The Canadian dollar closed at 99 cents on the New York money market today, a decline of ⅜ cents from the previous close.

Since 1933 the Canadian dollar in terms of United States money has been close to par with occasional fluctuations which at times brought it above par, but in 1933 it was at a discount at one time as high as 23 per cent and in 1931 it was close to 25 on one day, Dec. 16.

GERMAN FREIGHTER RUSHING HOME ON ST. LAWRENCE ORDERED SEIZED

SOREL, Que., Aug. 25 (CP)—A warrant from the Admiralty Court to seize the German freighter Koenigsberg on a charge of theft was sworn out today as the 7000-ton vessel steamed down the St. Lawrence River for home.

The freighter was due in Montreal tomorrow with 400 tons of cargo, mostly zinc oxide, but received orders from Germany to return home and headed downstream this afternoon, against orders of Adelard Paulhus, officer in charge of National revenue in this St. Lawrence River grain port, 40 miles East of Montreal.

The warrant, sworn out at the request of C. R. McKenzie, K.C., Montreal, on behalf of the consignees, was to be served at Quebec with assistance of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The freighter was expected to reach there about midnight.

The Koenigsberg and the freighter Johannes Molkenbuhe, which cleared from Montreal this morning, are the only German vessels in the St. Lawrence River.

RUSHES FROM YARMOUTH

YARMOUTH, N.S., Aug. 25 (CP)—Leaving part of her intended pulpwood cargo on the dockside, the German freighter Helene left Yarmouth Harbor hastily today after apparently receiving wireless instructions to put to sea.

Captain Cornels had told customs officials yesterday he did not intend to leave until tomorrow. He obtained clearance papers today.

Flowers Blaze Color at Kimberley Ninth Annual Show; Cooking Highlight

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Aug. 25—Ninth annual flower show of the Kimberley Horticultural Society, opening Friday, was a blaze of color. It was outstanding in the history of the flower show for brilliant masses of blossoms, but an equally important feature was the exceptional display of home cooking. Throngs of people including many from Cranbrook, admired the beauty of Kimberley District gardens and the prowess of housewives of the district in the splendid displays.

Exhibits of gladioli and roses gave the judges a difficult job, an exceptionally high standard being set in these classes.

Embroidery and sewing competitions also established a remarkably high standard.

As far as garden and field produce was concerned, the flower was "in the nick of time", for on Friday afternoon a heavy rain and wind storm damaged gardens considerably.

Judging was not completed today. Additional results will be available Saturday.

Doubinin Fined, Collision McGee

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 25—Six-hour hearing of John J. Doubinin of Castlegar, on a charge of driving to the common danger resulted in his conviction and a fine of $10 and costs, Provincial Police reported Friday. The case defended by R. D. Macauley of Nelson and prosecuted by Constable R. B. McKay, was heard by Parker Williams, Stipendiary Magistrate.

The charge arose out of a collision between Doubinin's truck and a car driven by C. R. Magee of Robson on the Fruitvale road just outside of Trail August 12.

"I have seen many rise and fall in my lifetime. This philosophy was aided by literature where we learned to admire great wealth without considering how it was made," Mr. Matthews said.

"Will Durant likened the world to a huge box with rubber sides and a funnel at each end. We pour youth into one end and take old age out of the other. But we pour in youth so fast and take out age so slowly that the sides are bulging dangerously," he said.

"There are many men between 60 and 75 walking the ties and asking for food from door to door. We could do something about this. We could lower the age limit for pensions and increase the pensions," he said.

FASCISM GROWING

"Fascism is growing in Canada. A clash is coming between it and democracy. Fascism is responsible for our heavy national defence program. You can spend all your income to make your home burglar-proof and then leave the door open. Canada is doing just that. She is selling war materials to the nation most likely to use them against her. A great deal of the threat of war comes from the armament firms.

"The enemies of our country are not the Japanese and the Germans, but hunger, malnutrition, poverty and injustice. We hear that man is a fighting animal but we fight the wrong thing—we fight each other. We should be united to fight the evils around us," he asserted.

Mr. Matthews concluded by thanking the gathering for his nomination and declared that he would do his best.

Following the convention, a meeting of the District Council of the C. C. F. was held to map out a campaign.

Washout Cuts Rail Line Greenwood for 8 Hours Following Cloudburst

A cloudburst over the Greenwood area at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon caused a wash-out on the Canadian Pacific line between Greenwood and Midway. The flood water washed out several pieces of track on the dump, and at various places covered the track with mud and debris. Points were affected over a stretch of more than two miles.

The result of the washout was to block the line for some eight hours, during which the Westbound passenger train from Nelson was held up at Greenwood. The Eastbound passenger had passed that area before the downpour and the flood occurred.

Equipment from Grand Forks, was rushed to the scene and the line was open again around midnight, allowing the Kettle Valley train to continue Westward toward Vancouver.

The cloudburst at Greenwood was one of the thunderstorms that were general all over the Kootenay-Boundary territory Friday, marking the weather break-up.

First Effect Tension in Kootenays Is Seen as Banks Delay Trading in Sterling Until Instructed; No Reservists Called to Date

Kootenay banks delayed trading in sterling for a short time Friday morning as sterling slumped on world exchanges, but the delay was only a temporary measure pending later advice that trading would continue at lower prices as determined by world prices. This was the first immediate effect in the district of European tension.

So far as is known no reservists, ed from this district. Several men are understood to have advised the authorities that they stand ready to answer a call, but so far their advice has been to "stand by"

For some time militia units throughout the district have had a plan of action outlined should hostilities occur, the plans being such as would be prepared whether a crisis impended or not. There has

D. MacDONALD IS CHOICE NOMINEE

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 25—Appointment of R. R. Burns, M.L.A. to succeed Hon. Frank MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, should the latter accept a seat on the Federal Transport Board, will be urged in a resolution to Hon. T. D. Pattullo; and Donald MacDonald will be unanimously supported by the Trail Liberal Association delegates at the Federal riding nominating convention in Nelson, the Association decided at a meeting Thursday night.

Charles E. Fenton, President, and James Skinner, secretary, were named as convention committee.

SEES UNANIMITY

Mr. McDonald expressed his pleasure at evidence of unanimity between Trail and Rossland Liberals in their support of him. He had been assured Rossland would not split with Trail at the nominating convention.

Speaking highly qualifications of Mr. Burns for Minister of Public Works, Mr. MacDonald declared that Trail-Rossland, as one of the most important constituencies in the interior, was entitled to a cabinet member.

"In saying this I am in no way discounting the qualificaitons of other men suggested for the cabinet post," the speaker added.

Asking again for support, Mr. MacDonald declared that if elected he would take no little part in promoting the affairs of the West Kootenay.

"There is the biggest job in the world to be done here and I hope with your part to take some little part in doing it".

MORE ABOUT POLAND

even the semblance of availing myself of this occasion to raise the point of issue, I nevertheless consider it my duty to point out that in this crisis it is not Poland who is proffering any place or demanding concessions from any other country.

"It is therefore only natural that Poland agrees to refrain from any positive act of hostility provided that the other power also agrees to refrain from any such act, direct or indirect.

"In concluding may I express my ardent wish that Your Excellency's appeal for peace may contribute to a general appeasement which the peoples of the world so sorely need to return once more the blessed part of progress and civilization.

"Ignace Moscicki."

HEARTENED BY PACT

Polish volunteers, heartened by signing of a mutual assistance pact with Great Britain, dug air raid trenches in Warsaw's parks and public squares tonight as a feeling grew that peace now hangs by the slimmest of threads.

Signing of the British-Polish military alliance, Polish circles said, was "an answer" to the Soviet-German non-aggtession pact.

Observers here, attempting to analyze effect of the new pact on the rapidly-changing political history of Europe believed it would be a decisive element in answering the question of whether or not Europe was to be plunged into war.

For the first time no German newspaper correspondents were at the foreign office Press conference when announcement of the British-Polish alliance was made. All were understood to have returned to Germany.

High Polish circles, however, reported "terror" continued in Danzig and in Polish territory along the border between Danzig and Polish Silesia.

It was officially charged here German attacks on Polish frontier guard stations, made by Germans on German territory shooting into Polish territory, continued despite sharp protests made by the Polish embassy in Berlin to the German Foreign Office.

Announcement was made of a new series of arrests of Polish officials, allegedly made by German *inspired Danzig police, and the re*placement of Polish employees in

Monday Boxla to Be One of High Lights, Season

Trail Golden Bears versus Nelson Maple Leafs at the Civic Arena Monday night fans are really talking about this game which will probably be one of the outstanding features of the playing season. It will be more than a warmup for the playoffs for the two teams will be wanting to test their strongest lineups against each other.

It will be the final game of the West Kootenay Boxla regular league schedule and although the standings of the teams cannot be changed as result of the game, a titanic struggle is anticipated. One point of interest will be the league point-getting battle being waged by George Bishop of Nelson and Booney Sammartino of Trail. This will be settled Monday night, George going into it with a slight advantage in points.

Marcus Smith will play his first game in Nelson of the season and the rest of the lineup that Trail will use in the playoffs will be on hand. For Nelson Jock Walmsley will inject himself back into the lineup and it is likely that Jackie Bishop, Ian Dingwall and Freddy Graves will again return to action.

Among the spectators who will witness the game Monday night will be 110 persons in connection with the British schoolgirls' tour through Canada. There are 70 girls themselves and there will be 40 St Saviour's Young People who will be their escorts.

MORE ABOUT Rains Soak Fires

Hall Creek, Rush Cheek, near Erie; and one South of the Three Sisters mountains, South of the Reno Mine. They were all controlled.

Nineteen men were sent in the afternoon to an outbreak on Bear Creek, West of Sproule Creek. It was believed to be a spot from the Sproule Creek blaze.

From Nakusp, New Denver, Robson, Kaslo, Cranbrook, Fernie and Invermere came reports of numerous lightning strikes with a number of fires. At Nakusp, lightning set two fires, both in Fire Valley near Edgewood. They were soon under control.

No known fires were reported from New Denver, but lightning had been heavy there. Robson reported the same.

Two small fires were in the Kaslo district, a small one soon controlled across the lake from Kaslo; and the other at Blaylock, on the Kaslo-Slocan C. P. R. line.

From Cranbrook a small fire was reported from Pyramid Creek, on St. Mary's River. Two fires near Kimberley were out.

A crew was sent to an outbreak South of Casey Mountain lookout, about 10 miles West of Waldo in the Fernie district; and another fire was five miles North of Newgate.

Two fires were in the Invermere district, one on Blackwater Creek, 20 miles North of Golden, and the other almost in Golden.

Creston was the only district free of fires.

Before the weather break came, R. E. Allen, District Forester of Nelson and E. E. Gregg of Victoria, Assistant Forester, gained a "bird's eye" view of fires throughout the Nelson district Thursday afternoon, when they flew over the district in a C. M. & S. Company plane. They flew over areas covered by the Sproule Creek, Apex, Ten-Mile, or Thrums-Shoreacres, Granite Creek, below the Second Relief Mine, and the China Creek blazes.

As a result of their observations, they organized two crews early Friday. One crew was to go back up Cedar Creek at the rear of the Sproule Creek fire, to hold it from spreading into Cedar Creek. A crew was taken off that fire a few days ago. The other was to go up Murphy Creek at the back of the China Creek fire, and prevent it spreading into valuable timber. The fire has burned on China, Sullivan and Murphy Creeks.

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 25 — A lightning fire was reported about 3 p.m. Friday on the second summit, about one mile South of the Cascade Highway. It was checked by a crew of men sent out from Rossland. Covering half an acre, it was under control late Friday evening. Nine men were left on patrol.

A false alarm was sent in to Rossland about 12 noon of a fire in the Little Sheep Creek district. Investigation showed there was no fire.

VISIBILITY POOR, DAMAGE HEAVY IN KOOTENAY GALE; PRAIRIE BURNS

CRANBROOK, Aug. 25 (CP)—A wind shrieked up the Kootenay Valley this afternoon for ten minutes on the crest of a thunderstorm, carrying black dust which cut visibility to 20 feet, bent smokestakes, blew down trees, telephone poles, fences and reached a high of 67 miles an hour. It carried traces of rain, but not sufficient to be recorded by the Meteorological Bureau.

A full report of damage is not yet available. Either lightning or a blown down power line set fire to tinder dry St. Mary's Prairie near Kimberley airport and caused a shut down in power which was not resumed by eight o'clock. The fire was soon under control.

An orphan caboose on the tracks was pushed along by the wind during the storm. Sizeable trees on boulevards were uprooted. Rumble of thunder continued into the evening.

Rains, thunder and lightning were reported generally throughout the Kootenays, from Penticton East to the Crow's Nest at least. Wire trouble was reported by the C. P. R. near Michel about 3 or 4 p.m., with poles and wires down, but the trouble was all clear by 8 o'clock.

MORE ABOUT GERMANY

It was impossible to determine early today whether Germany had been in contact with their countries in the course of the anxious night. The last fact known for certain was that Hitler had called in the British, French, Japanese and Italian ambassadors. It was reported that for those who hoped peace might yet be saved, the interviews were "not very encouraging."

INSIST ON DEMANDS

Germany, it was reported, was still insisting on demands which amounted to virtual capitulation on the part of Poland.

And while holding firmly to her demands, Germany spread increasingly sensational reports of abuse of Germans and Czechs in Poland. The official news agency carried many stories of German fugitives, particularly in Silesia, being killed, beaten and driven into hiding.

Cafes, bar rooms and hotels had a poor night. No one was in a mood for a good time, and thousands of Berliners remained anxiously close to the radio.

Commercial air lines ceased to operate. "Bad weather" was given as the reason. Great crowds gathered in the Wilhelmplatz, in front of Hitler's residence.

The Propaganda and Foreign Ministries were lighted as work there continued far into the night. Government buildings were surrounded by cars of officials who were going to and fro throughout the night. No nervousness appeared in the capital, but the radio boomed martial music constantly.

DANZIG CUT OFF

The decision to take drastic steps followed reports of more "atrocities" to German nationals in Poland and an alleged shooting by a Polish warship at a plane bringing the Reich's Secretary of State for the Interior, Wilhelm Stuckart, from Danzig to Berlin.

MORE ABOUT AIR FORCE

"In view of the extreme rapidity with which aircraft can be moved, there will be no delay once it has been decided that orders should be issued.

"Altogether, seven units are standing by ready to move, and another unit is capable of being organized speedily, with available service aircraft and personnel."

Regarding a report that seven biplanes were en route from Trenton, Ont., to Portsmouth, N.S., the Minister said, "this is a purely routine flight of a type that has been made on several occasions."

The minister declined to amplify his announcement as to the number of planes which would proceed to stations if ordered. With one exception, the statement refers to them as units rather than squad*rons. The size of a squadron is gen*erally nine planes.

No information was available as to points from which the units would be drawn except that an officer of the department said they were stationed all across Canada.

The announcement tonight came after a day of great activity at defence headquarters. Canadian youths show a keen desire to join the air force. It was learned at the department today some 25,000 applications to join the force are on file.

COAST STORE ROBBED

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP)—Police today sought a slender burglar who last night escaped with $225 after squeezing between bars on the rear window of a downtown tobacco store.

Trail Bears Trim Redmen 16-9 in Rossland's Last Game; Wet Floor

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 25— A damp floor as result of a heavy rainstorm during the afternoon, sprinkled with sawdust, turned the West Kootenay Boxla fixture between the Rossland Redmen and the Trail Golden Bears at the Rossland Arena Friday night into a sliding scramble on both sides, which resulted in a 16-9 win for the Bears. It was Rossland's last game in the league schedule.

Condition of the floor made running difficult and when a player stopped short to make a shot, his feet slipped from under him, making them miss his aim time and again.

Rossland's play was very ragged with many errors in passing and receiving, while the Trail players managed to play a good game in spite of the slippery floor.

The Bears scored the first four goals and kept ahead of the Redmen throughout the whole game. The star goal was scored by Jim Kendall when he slipped the ball across his shoulder from the side of Gidinski's net, on a three-way play with Merlo and Taylor.

Joe Laface was given 10 minutes for misconduct in the second period when he attacked the goal judge during a dispute over a goal. The only other major dished out was to Hughie Miller in the fourth for holding.

Len Wilson was referee and Curly Wheatley was judge of play.

CANADIAN POLES GIVE TO DEFENCE FUNDS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25 (CP)—President F. Sedziak of the Polish National Defence Committee of Canada announced today Polish-Canadians have contributed $21,998 to Poland's defence funds. Poles in Manitoba contributed more than $4000.

The committee was organized after abrogation of the Polish-German non-aggression pact and embraces almost every Polish organization in Canada.

Alberta People Buy in Creston

CRESTON, B. C.—A recent orchard property sale is that of four acres on the East side of the Clark ranch. It is part of the better-known Ryckman-Paulson property of 24 acres, which Mr. Clark bought last Fall from Percy Boffey.

The new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Vincenzo Miscuraea of Blairmore, Alta. It is understood they will erect a fully modern home on the place and lease it for a few years—until they retire from active life at Blairmore.

Sales of orchard lands have been scarcer than usual this year, and this will probably be the last until the present tree crop of fruit is picked—the harvest of Wealthy apples will be under way before the week is out.

There is some turnover of village lots with a view to later homebuilding. Creston Consolidated School District is completing the purchase of two acres from John W. Dow and J. G. Connell, North of the present central public school, having in mind still further school expansion. The acreage will be useful for athletic purposes in the meantime.

Economic Life of Poland Rests on Free Danzig

WARSAW, Aug. 25 (AP). — Poland's determination to fight if Danzig's changed status violates Poland's basic and vital interests and rights in the Free City was emphasized today in Warsaw's two leading pro-government morning newspapers.

Poland cannot permit, according to almost identical articles in the Kurjer Poranny and the Express Poranny:

1. Any attempt at union between Germany and Danzig:
2. Exclusion of Danzig outside the Polish customs frontiers:
3. Submission of Polish rights in Danzig to the control of a third power (particularly meaning Germany):
4. Depriving Danzig Poles of their rights of national development.

The seemingly inspired survey of the situation coupled with widespread reports the Polish Government had sent — or was sending — a note to the Danzig Senate, led to the belief among observers here that the note contained in essence the four rights which Poland considrs vital to maintaining its outlet to the Baltic Sea and its continued independent economic existence.

No Censorship, No Internment, Until War Breaks

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP)—The King today received Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, presumably to discuss projected orders-in-council which would implement the sweeping defence act passed last night by parliament.

Sir Samuel gave the House of Commons assurance that while the powers of the Act were "wide, flexible and indefinite" the Government would bring into force only those of the regulations "that are actually necessary at the present time."

It was indicated the immediate scope would be compulsory air raid precautions and regulations inflexibly preventing the flight of capital from Britain. Certain "priorities" undoubtedly were contemplated to ensure procedure for the manufacture of arms and war materials over commercial orders.

"I give assurance," Sir Samuel told Parliament, "that so far as the whole press is concerned there will be no censorship until and unless this country is involved in hostilities."

The Home Secretary omitted for the time being consideration of the interment of the citizens of hostile nations who might be in Britain at the outbreak of a war.

Coronation Chair Moved to Hiding

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP) — The 600-year-old coronation chair in which King George VI was crowned May 12, 1937, was removed from Westminster Abbey today, carefully crated, and taken out of London to an undisclosed hiding place.

The same precaution was taken during the Great War.

Nelson Men Take Part, First Aid Opening Balfour

BALFOUR, B. C., Aug. 25—An official First Aid Post was opened at Balfour Wednesday afternoon when representatives from the Nelson Branch of the Red Cross Society, the St. John Ambulance Association, the City Council and the Provincial Police took part in a dedication ceremony on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holt. A large number of Balfour and district residents attended.

Ven Archdeacon Fred H. Graham of Nelson presided at the official opening and dedication, and presented St. John Ambulance certificates to the personnel of the First Aid Post and to members of the First Aid class last Spring.

Short addresses were given by W. R. Grubbe, President of the Nelson Branch of the Red Cross; David Rees, St. John Ambulance teacher who has instructed the class; Dr. F. P. Sparks, Public Health Officer of Nelson, who examined the class; Sergt. C. W. A. Barwis of the Provincial Police, and Captain P. Hartridge of Balfour. Ald. George Benwell was the representative of the Nelson City Council.

Afternoon tea was served by the Balfour ladies.

Members of the class were Miss Audrey Hudson, Wallace Maynard, Miss Daphne Shrieves, Mrs. Charles Holt, Miss Janet Holt, Wilmer McHardy, Miss Hazel Noakes, Mrs. A. Houston, A. Collison, Verner Hoskins and Peter Shrieves of Balfour; and Miss Viola Sanders, Hon. Mrs. H. Perry-Leake and William Hrooshkin of Queen's Bay.

Gambler Charges Discrimination by Vancouver Police

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP). — Harry Joseph, Vancouver Chinese formerly employed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, told the Police Commission today of his unsuccessful efforts to run a gambling house in Chinatown and asserted that police showed discrimination in the houses they raided.

His evidence was given as the Police Commission continued hearing of Mayor Telford's charge that the Police Department has not enforced laws against vice and gambling as it should.

Later Mrs. Louise Hastings, cigar stand operator, testified that the activities of prostitutes in the downtown rooming-house where she lives keep her awake until late in the morning. She said three alleged prostitutes occupy rooms in the building at present.

CRACK GERMAN LINERS AT SEA

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Shipping between New York and Europe was thrown into confusion today when all German boats were ordered to return to Germany at once and other nationalities cancelled sailings or ordered their vessels to sail at once for home ports.

The order affecting German boats found not one of the crack Nazi passenger liners in a Nazi port.

Hamburg-American-North German Lloyd line ships at sea now are:

Europa—in mid-ocean, enroute to Germany; Bremen—two days out of Cherbourg bound for New York; Hamburg—two days out of New York for Germany; Hansa—left Hamburg Thursday for New York; Deutschland, arrived in Southampton Thursday, no word on departure; New York and St. Louis—in New York harbor; Columbus—cruising West Indies.

Tri-City Tourney Lawn Bowling in Nelson, Sunday

Six teams representing Kaslo, Trail and Nelson will compete Sunday afternoon at the C.P.R. lawn bowling greens for the Kootenay Breweries Trophy and the West Kootenay title, last year won by Nelson.

Play will start at 12:30 p.m. Draws will probably be made in the forenoon. There will be two teams from each of the three cities, and each team will play two games during the afternoon. Total scores will decide the champion and the holder of the trophy for 1939-40.

To Call Churchill, Eden, Attlee, Sinclair to Government, if War

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug 25 (CP Cable).—War would bring a National Government of all parties, it was learned in authoritative circles tonight. The plan at present under consideration would involve Winston Churchill, Anthony Eden, Clement Attlee and Sir Archibald Sinclair entering the Government.

At the same time an inner cabinet would be set up, consisting of about seven members. The composition probably would consist of Prime Minister Chamberlain; Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Lord Chatfield, Minister for Coordination of Defence; Mr. Attlee, leader of the Labor Party; Sir Archibald Sinclair, who is Liberal Leader, and Mr. Churchill.

The size of the cabinet would be increased to include Mr. Eden and possibly one or two Front Bench Labor members such as Arthur Greenwood, who has been Acting Leader of the Opposition during Mr. Attlee's illness.

Think Hitler Intended Action Thursday Night; Hesitated at Last Minute; Radio All Ready

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (AP). — The Russian Commissar for Foreign Affairs, Wyacheslaff Molotoff, through his Ambassador in Poland, has started a movement for a possible 11th hour "peaceful" settlement of Europe's war threat, a source in the confidence of Field Marshal Hermann Goering said today.

The combined pressure of Russia and Germany is confidently believed here to be sufficient to convince the Poles of the hopelessness of their position and to force them to capitulate.

It is for this reason, this source said, Hitler did not give the word last night that everybody had expected, to start his offensive upon Poland.

How near the Fuehrer was to action last night was illustrated by one significant detail in the Reich propaganda setup.

The broadcasts of the various German stations throughout the late evening and early morning hours were reported to be identical by various persons who tuned in to different stations.

Normally all stations have different programs except when there is a nationwide hookup for a special occasion such as a Hitler speech. They also are hooked together when important news announcements are expected momentarily.

On the nights of Wednesday to Thursday, for instance, they were all set to broadcast the news of the conclusion of the Russian-German pact in Moscow. Last night, however, they waited in vain for the expected signal that the act of "liberating" Danzig and the Germans in the former German sections of Poland was on.

To veteran observers, this was but another illustration of Hitler's tactics to try to make the other fellows nerves snap. Hitler has shown again and again that at critical moments, when everybody else thinks action is inevitable, he hesitates. Apparently he was trying also to gain time for further broadening his basis of friendship.

Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, according to well-informed sources, is determined to bring Soviet Russia and Japan together, further to embarrass Britain.

VON PAPEN BUSY IN TURKEY

Over in Turkey, Ambassador Franz von Papen, adept at shuffling the political cards, was reported busy trying to convince the Turks they made a mistake in tying up with Britain and that they had better swap horses.

Brit.-French-Russ. Meeting Surprise

MOSCOW, Aug. 25 (AP)— War Commissar Marshal Voroshiloff and the heads of the British and French military missions met in an unexpected conference this afternoon.

Russian officials and foreign quarters would neither affirm nor disclaim Berlin reports the Soviets were seeking a peaceful solution of the Danzig dispute through the Ambassador to Poland.

The British and French missions had been preparing to depart for home soon, because the German-Russian nonaggression pact apparently ended the likelihood of a British-French-Russian military agreement.

Russia's supreme Soviet, or Parliament, today was summoned for extraordinary session next Monday to ratify the new non-aggression pact with Germany and hear Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff explain Moscow's startling shift in foreign policy in the midst of international crisis.

GIRL AVIATOR PLANS ATLANTIC FLIGHT IN LIGHT PLANE

Children's Sake . . .

Mental and Physical Well Being Is Needed for Successful Teachers

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

The welfare of our children who will attend school next year will depend in a great measure on the physical and mental health of their teahers, and the health of these teachers will depend, in part at least, on their days from now till school begins.

My fellow teachers: Being older than most of you, and having taught longer, and in every grade from the first to the graduate school inclusive, I venture to offer you a little advice, c efly for the sake of the children you will teach.

You know very well, of course, that a day of school consumes a vast deal of nervous energy; that you can do your best only when you are fittest physically, when you are well-poised and under complete self-control.

TIME FOR UPBUILDING

By taking thought you may be able to do a great deal from now until school begins to build up in yourself good physical and mental reserve. You may, however, have done well in this direction already.

Some of you have traveled, broadening your education vastly. Some of you have gone to Summer School, earning credits — and growing a little wiser, we hope, and not too much worn out, we also hope. A few of you, alas, have grown weary caring for a family or some sick person. From this, however, you may have gained spiritual values.

Fortunately, some of my fellow teachers, especially men, have worked on a farm, getting good out-of-doors exercise. A few also have had other out-of-door experiences, such as camping.

LOOK BACK AND THINK

Regardless of your experiences so far, unless you feel poised and relaxed most of the time, let us hope you find ways of spending some days before school begins in such a way that you can forget the world and all responsibilities in the open air and sunshine, with lots of sleep.

Looking back, try to ascertain if you have gained the best possible values for your physical and mental health. In case you went to Summer School, was the expenditure of nervous energy a good investment for you and the children you will teach next winter? Provided you didn't attend Summer School, was the program you followed a good substitute?

SHOULD HAVE GONE

Some who didn't go to Summer School should have gone, while many who went should have engaged in some other activity, relaxed or just lolled around, instead.

Although something is to be said in favor of teachers gaining more credit by attending Summer School and taking extension courses during the school year, it seems to me that the health expert of the public schools should be called upon to recommend to the school authorities the most profitable mental and physical health program for each teacher — especially with the welfare of our children in mind.

The mania for more credits, often confused with more education, frequently does a vast deal of damage to teachers, and consequently our children, when the purpose is only to do the opposite.

The day will come when the physical and mental health of the teacher will be given a far larger place by boards of education than it is given today. What do you think about these matters?

A. C. Foreman Makes Special L. D. Call to Planta, Daily News

A. C. Foreman, Field Secretary of the B. C. Products Bureau was the first person yesterday to test the novel exhibit being prepared by the B. C. Telephone Company at the Canada Pacific Exhibition which opens in Vancouver next week. He called E. S. Planta, Advertising and Business Manager of the Nelson Daily News, while visiting the exhibit now being assembled.

The exhibit will be similar to those which have caused widespread interest at the New York and San Francisco fairs this year. Visitors holding lucky tickets are given the opportunity of making free long distance calls to points in B. C., and an illuminated map of the Province shows the connections as they are made.

Another educational feature of the exhibit is called the "Voice Mirror" a device which reproduces in the presence of the speaker, his own voice exactly as it is heard on the telephone.

SOUTHERN GIRLS IN GOLF WINDUP

DARIEN, Conn., Aug. 25 (AP).—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., went into the final round of the 43rd United States Women's Golf championship today by defeating Elizabeth Hicks, 18-year-old youngster from Long Beach, Calif., 3 and 1, in their 18-hole semi-final match over a rain-soaked course.

In tomorrow's 36-hole final, it will be Miss Jameson against Dorothy Kirby, 19-year-old Atlantic girl who rallied on the back nine to eliminate Charlotte Glutting, West Orange, N. J., one up.

Improved Efficiency and Speed in Reading Can Be Acquired

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

In spite of the competition of radio and movies, the daily output of literature keeps increasing. A modern person is called upon to digest an enormous amount of reading to keep up with the times. All kinds of literature — books, newspapers, magazines, news weeklies—pour into the home in greater variety than ever before. The increase has been estimated at 200 per cent more than in 1900.

GREAT INCREASE IN READING

The amount we read, whether we are required to or not, is astonishing compared to a person in the same relative walk of life a century ago. I inherited my grandfather's library. He was a physician, as I am.

His medical library consisted of five books. On the shelf in front of me are 37 technical medical books. He subscribed to one medical magazine. I take six.

His general library consisted of about 75 volumes. In the room where I sit are 2000 books.

NEWSPAPER AN EDUCATION

My grandfather's newspaper was a thin two-page sheet, mostly sheriff's advertisements. I recently, as an experiment, in five different cities on five different days, read all of one local newspaper. In each case it took me over two hours.

In each case I was interested, instructed, stimulated and enlightened. I don't suppose my grandfather ever read in any one day as much as I read in each of those five days. To read such newspapers is a cultural experience — a liberal education.

The question arises: How efficient is our reading nowadays? Is the human nervous system able to stand this high-power onslaught on it?

Beginning i nthe schools, Dr. Arthur Gates estimates that of pupils in junior and senior high schools 1 per cent are no better readers than third grade pupils. Of 12,000 fifth and sixth grade pupils, 30 per cent have not progressed beyond the fourth grade reading standard.

Pauses make up 95 per cent of the time you spend in reading. You read to the end of a line, then, with a long reverse sweep, your eyes move to the beginning of the next line. Then you pause before starting to read that line. Ten per cent of the non-reading time is spent in making the eye movements. The rest of the non-reading time is spent in a pause at the beginning of the line.

This can be determined by a device with a camera which records the eye movements while reading. The good reader is the one who cuts down the pause period to the lowest possible point. Good reading is rhythmic reading.

Reading efficiency can be improved. Nine out of every 10 students who were carefully trained by experts improved in capacity for reading.

The highly efficient reader can take in more than one word in an instant, as his eyes travel across a page. That is, he can read more than one word without a fixation, however momentary, of the eyes. But even the best cannot take in many words. If in reading a line of 10 words you pause fleetingly six times, your index is 1.6. Even the most efficient cannot do better than 1.7.

DOROTHY TILY OF PENTICTON MISSING

PENTICTON, B. C., Aug. 25 (CP).—British Columbia Police today were searching for Dorothy Tily, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Tily of Penticton, last seen Tuesday evening as she left a downtown cafe here.

The girl left her home earlier in the evening to attend a theatre with two girl friends but complained of a headache and did not accompany them, going instead to a cafe.

Cleanliness Is an Essential

By DONNA GRACE

Today we are going to discuss the foundation of all beauty—cleanliness. Beauty begins with cleanliness. Without fastidious daintiness there can be no beauty.

This does not mean that you must devote the major part of your time to beauty duties—but you must have a regular daily routine and follow it implicitly. Since the most elaborate part of this routine is done before going to bed, we will begin there.

Clothes are the first interest. See that the things you plan to wear the next day are in order. This is a great timesaver in the morning and should be the practice of every smart girl.

It is not necessary to leave your fresh underthings out on a chair as you do at boarding school, but know just what you are going to wear, that it is in order, and where it is.

The straps on slips and such things must be in perfect condition. The length of the slip, too, must be considered. There is no excuse for a slip showing below the hem of the skirt and spoiling your whole ensemble.

If stockings are broken there will be a run, making a hose worthless if worn before it is mended. So examine stockings carefully. Do not wear the very sheerest thread for your daily walking, but only when dressed for afternoon or evening. At all other times have a service weight that will wear.

The hair should be brushed thoroughly; a reward if you are faithful to this rite. After brushing, set your hair in the correct pattern. This may require curlers or pins, depending on what style you have adopted. The long bob needs to be rolled on curlers or pinned securely in ringlets.

When the hair is dry, rub a bit of vaseline between the palms of the hands, then stroke the brush across your hand and this will help to lubricate the hair and impart a nice sheen to it.

Excessively oily hair may be sponged with alcohol and rubbed with a towel, then combed. Cover the head with a net, or secure it with a wrap-around cap and you are ready for your bath.

Set Light Plane Altitude Mark, Wants Proof of Dependability

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., (CP)—Two men have flown to oblivian over the Atlantic this year, but their fate has not swayed vivacious Irene Crum from her determination to cross the ocean in a light plane next Spring or Summer.

Her blue eyes sparkle excitedly as she tells of her plans to start from Newfoundland for Ireland. When you remind her that young Tommy Smith vanished in his light plane and Charles Bachman was lost on an attempted flight to Sweden, she is serious. Her flight, she insists, will not be a stunt.

"My main idea," she explains, "is to convince people of the dependability of light planes. Friends ask me, 'But why not fly over land?'

"A flight over land won't prove a plane's dependability, because a safe landing is usually possible if anything goes wrong. A trip over water would mean far more."

Irene is 26 and works in an office supply house. But every day, when work is done, she puts in more strenuous hours studying radio technique, navigation and cross-country flying.

If she makes the flight it will not be the first time she has surprised aviators. In 1936, a year after she started flying, she set a new international altitude mark for light planes—19,246 feet—a mark which still stands.

Light planes "are my meat," she says. To acquire her present ship, a bright red monoplane, she swung a series of trades and deals that involved a second-hand automobile, the patched-up wreck of another plane and two city lots.

Irene's older brother Ted was practicing landings at Mansfield, O., some years ago when something went wrong, and he was killed in the wreck.

ERADICATE PLANTAIN FROM LAWN

By DEAN HALLIDAY

To maintain a good lawn one must wage an unrelenting war against weeds. To wage this war single-handed, that is, by digging up the weeds by hand, means an almost endless campaign. Modern chemical warfare can be applied to the weeds in lawns and makes the task of eradicating them much more simple.

Common plantain weed, shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, is found in most lawns. It is a perennials and seeds itself from July to October. Plantain is especially destructive to grass; for its basal leaves are wide and as they spread out they shade and then kill out the grass beneath them.

One especially effective method of eradicating plantain is to fill an oil can with carbolic acid. Then stab each plant in its centre with a sharp stick and squirt a few drops of the acid into the bruised centre of the plant.

Iron sulphate is also an effective chemical ally in the war on plantains. It should be used at the rate of two pounds to one gallon of water. This mixture can be sprinkled on the weeds with a watering can or power sprayer.

Sometimes a second application is necessary. If so, apply a few weeks after the first dose.

Fighting . . .

Wives Who Use Their Heads in the Struggle With Rivals Usually Win

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Dear Miss Chatfield:

What is a wife to do when she stands by and sees her husband falling in love with his secretary? I want to use my head but that's not easy. Lately I've doubted that I had a head when I see his eyes shining at the mention of her name and hear him teasing himself about her for the benefit of friends. I can see the end from the beginning and while I must give her credit and say she's not encouraging him, she's naturally flattered by his obvious interest in her. Mrs. S.

ANSWER:

Why, a wife is to fight for her husband when she sees him slipping but she mustn't put up the sort of fight that a tigress would put up and under such circumstances. Curse the luck, a poor women can hardly keep her mouth shut when her mind is agitated. She can hardly hold her tears when her heart is hurt. She can hardly absorb punishment at her husband's hands without striking back at him. However it has been done and is being done everyday.

This is what it takes to hold a husband when he's slipping: superhuman self-control of mind and emotions. The wife must be tactful, guileful, generous agreeable and a 'teeny' bit independent. She cannot beg for his pity, nor berate him for his weakness nor give expression to the hate that almost overstops her love.

Now for some cold logic which is cold comfort to an anguished wife but which like the icepack, may be good for the pain-riddled patient. Husbands (that is respectable husbands) don't deliberately go on detours. They don't get full satisfaction of the side trips—only a little excitement and when excitement palls as it usually does husbands are ready for the more casual, comfortable companionship of the tried and trusted friends at home—namely their wives. Can they get it?

This depends entirely on how the wives have carried on during the interim. It's right funny that every year on Broadway there is a triangle play in which the wife is fighting for her husband. (Incidentally most of the triangle plays are written by men and have the masculine slant on the subject of detouring husbands.)

Wife does her worrying in secret and presents a calm exterior to her husband. She doesn't curse him or the other woman, she's gay and alluring. She's indulgent, understanding, gracious to the rival and agreeable to the bone of contention. Of course husband decides that old ties cannot be broken, that the wife who knows him loves him none the less in the answer to all his questions. And he folds up the other affair and flings it away.

Take the cue, Mrs. S. Fight, not like a tigress, but as a wise and witty wife can fight when everything she has is at stake to be held or dropped—according to the sort of fight she puts up.

SERIAL STORY . . .

PHANTOM RANCH

By OREN ARNOLD

SYNOPSIS

LORENA HAMILTON, in the desert country of Arizona, to visit her uncle, meets

• • •

YESTERDAY: Rogers tells Lorena that several cowboys have been slain at her uncle's ranch recently and cattle stolen. He offers his horse and gun for her trip from the station.

CHAPTER TWO

For a long half minute Lorena Hamilton just stood there and stared up at the Westerners, trying to clarify her mind. The whole situation was so strange that she couldn't quite adjust herself. She would never have believed, in advance, that such conditions as these existed out here. And yet—facts are facts.

"You are certainly courteous, Mr. Rogers," she began, eventually. "Shot, I mean." She remembered, and glanced at the other men. "It is pleasant to find one so generous with offers of help but—"

"That ain'—that's nothing, ma'am. I'd be run out of Arizona, and deserve it, if I didn't do what I could."

"I understand. Hospitality is a law in Kentucky also. I should have been unhappy without it out here!"

"That's a fact, ma'am. The Brazees have always proved it, let me say. They come from good stock. Now as to your ride—would you rather I send an escort of two or three boys, ma'am? To sort of look after you?"

"No! Certainly not. If you thought it safe at first, then you needn't think I am afraid, and need somebody just to nurse my fears."

She said it with some asperity, and Shot Rogers smiled in approval. Two of the other men nodded also. Here was a girl with nerve.

"That's all right, then," Shot declared. "It won't take you long to fit in out here, Miss Hamilton, I can see. Anyway my gun there it's dependable. You won't have to use it, but if you did, then you could rely on it, ma'am."

"I'm ever so thankful. But—all of my shooting has been with a rifle."

"Then the Brazees or me'll learn—teach—you. Now you take my horse now ma'am, and head on out. Anybody stop you, you tell 'em Shot Rogers said you was all right. They'll know my gun and belt, and my horse. Nothing to be afraid of. Nobody out here going to bother no woman. If you set out to surprise George, why you go on and do it. You tell George me and four men will be out tomorrow and help ride down whoever's back of this killing. You tell George that, Miss Hamilton."

He spoke intently, his eyes looking a bit hard. Lorena noted the set of his chin. He still held his hat, so that his tousled hair was moving in the desert breeze. She noted that it was almost sandy of color, straight and rebellious. And becoming. She decided that Mr. Shot Rogers must be a very competent young man. Dressed better, he might even be handsome.

"Oh, thank you, indeed I will!" She almost gushed in her relief. "To tell the truth, I was almost sick with worry until you offered your horse. I had no—no idea Arizona was like this! How far is it to Uncle George's?"

"Just over 12 mile ma'am. But it's an easy trail to follow. I'll show you. You leave your baggage. George'll send in a hack for it."

He said it casually, but Lorena looked up at him again in fresh alarm. Could she ride 12 miles? Across a strange country? Where men were being killed? Wearing a heavy six-shooter? She swallowed gamely, and walked on.

The horse was hitched at a rail about 100 yards away. She knew instantly that it was a good animal. She hadn't been reared on a Kentucky farm for nothing. She had been "at home" in a saddle since her sixth birthday. Rogers watched her mount a little diffidently, then in a few moments he grinned.

"You can ride," he declared, satisfied. "Kentucky stock, ain'—aren't you, ma'am. Like George."

She smiled at him, and thanked him again for his kindness. She wanted to ask him a thousand questions, more or less. Her alert eyes had noted that most of the villagers in this little railroad station town of Blanco were watching them. Strangers here must be a source of interest, she reasoned.

She saw that Blanco was no more than a dozen small stores and a few residences huddled at the foot of a great rock hill. Beyond it were other hills leading to the southward, blue peaks far and near, beyond which were canyons holding mysterious purple haze. Vegetation was scanty, and mostly bristling with thorns.

Most of all, though, the people interested her. Shot Rogers had spoken to several darker men — "Buenos dias," or "Como esta usted, senor?"—soft and easy. Eight or ten, even darker, obviously were Indians, and Shot said they were Papagos. They stared intently at the white squaw.

"Mr. Rogers—Shot—about those—bodies—the killings and all—" Lorena looked down from the saddle at him, "—can't you tell me what—?"

"Now, now, ma'am, don't pay no mind to all that! You—why, you are a woman. A girl, in fact. This is not any cause for you to worry. You'll be safe like a settin' hen, once you get in George's home."

A setting hen!

Shot Rogers—who was expert at judging cows and horse flesh, but not at judging women — was to hear that phrase echoed in months to come! Now he missed entirely the sudden set of her lips, the new glint in her eyes, partly because he was admiring the proud, erect way she sat in his saddle. He removed his hat again, in farewell.

"Just you head for that highest peak, ma'am." He pointed. "The one that looks like it's topped with a king's crown. When you hit the river, stay on this side and bear left with it. Trail's clear, then. Cross the river with the trail, and go right on to the ranch house. If George ain'—isn't there, then he'll be back soon. Or that fellow, Dale. You know him, ma'am? Dale?"

She nodded. "Jerry Dale's photograph has been on my dresser at home for two years."

"Oh. Well—well, all right."

He stood spraddle-legged to watch her ride away. Just before she disappeared around a clump of cactus and ironwood on a slope, she turned to wave, and he lifted his hat again.

"Oh, my glory!" murmured Lorena then, alone and feeling it. "But I'm not a baby, a setting hen! At least he might have told me what the trouble was all about."

But he hadn't, and that was that. He had treated her like a little sister. He who couldn't be so very much older than she. Still, it was comforting, maybe, not to know too much. She would enjoy the ride—Rip was a wonderful horse—and get a good first view of the Arizona wilderness. Surely there was nothing to be afraid of, really. Just some sort of men's quarrel.

The big pistol annoyed her. It was heavy. So when loneliness crept around her after the first half hour, she took the gun out and shot it—BANG!

The noise was terrific. She had aimed at a prickly cactus ear, and missed it by two feet. "Mercy!" she grumbled, and tried again and again. Then she re-holstered, unsatisfied. She certainly needed the practice Shot Rogers had mentioned!

In an hour she came to the river—Ghost river, Rogers had called it, because it flows through Phantom ranch. She watered Rip, then rode on up the trail. The scenery had become spectacular; hills had grown intimate. Ghost river snaked through a canyon of its own, and new verdure was growing. Happy always in the outdoors, Lorena felt like singing, and did so.

She was riding thus rather lazily in her saddle, when—PLOP!—something grabbed her!

In one swishing instant, the something pinioned her arms to her sides. She was jerked upward and backward. Before she could defend herself or even scream, she fell from her horse to the sand.

SOLE BAKED IN MILK

Ingredients: four or five filets of sole, salt, pepper, one half cup of bread crumbs, one half cup milk or cream.

If you use frozen filets, let thaw before cooking. Put filets in baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dot with butter, cover with bread crumbs, add milk or cream to moisten.

Bake in 350 F. oven 30 minutes. If you like the flavor of cheese, sprinkle some, grated, over top of fish with bread crumbs before baking.

SOUP OPENS PARADE

Jellied Summer Soup, because it is a soup, opens the tomato dish parade. It is made with two-thirds cup each finely diced carrots, finely diced onions, finely diced celery, one cup cooked tomatoes, three cups water, four chicken bouillon cubes, one half cup chopped dill pickles, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, gelatin.

Add Dill pickles and Worcestershire sauce. Measure, and for each cup use one teaspoon plain, unflavored gelatin. Soften gelatin in one fourth cup cold water five minutes. Reheat soup to boiling point, add gelatin, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Chill. When slightly thickened stir to prevent vegetables from sticking to bottom. Chill until set. Serve in bouillon cups.

TOMATO FRENCH DRESSING

One clove of garlic, one half teaspoon dry mustard, one tablespoon confectioner's sugar, one half teaspoon salt, dash of tabasco sauce, one third cup each vinegar and oil and one cup tomato juice.

Rub together first five items in a small bowl until garlic oil has been thoroughly mixed. Add vinegar and combine well; remove garlic. Add remaining ingredients and shake well.

This Tamale Is a Pie

Tamale Pie comes next, made with two cups boiling water, teaspoon salt, one half cup oatmeal, one fourth cup bran, two tablespoons fat, one finely minced clove of garlic, one pound ground beef, one teaspoon minced green pepper, two and one half cups tomatoes, one tablespoon chili powder, one and one half teaspoons salt, one eighth teaspoon pepper, one third cup grated cheese.

Add cornmeal to boiling water, cook until thick. Add bran and cook in double boiler 20 to 30 minutes. Pour into shallow greased pan and cool.

Melt fat. Add garlic, meat and green pepper and brown slightly. Add remaining ingredients except cheese. Simmer for about 15 minutes or until juice from vegetables has partially evaporated. Line the sides and bottom of greased casserole with strips of cool mush. Pour in meat mixture. Cover with grated cheese. Brown in moderately hot oven (400 F.) for about 10 minutes.

"BE CAREFUL" SAY FRENCH TO POLAND

PARIS, Aug. 25 (AP). — The French today urged Poland to give Germany no excuse for charging maltreatment of Germans in Poland and to avoid any action that might serve as a pretext for border incidents.

In authorized quarters it was said the Poles were following this advice carefully. It was emphasized that it was purely a precautionary policy and should in no sense be considered a weakening in French determination to back up Poland in case of war.

WARSAW, Aug. 25 (AP). — Immediate reaction in Poland to President Roosevelt's appeal today was that although this country is appreciative of the efforts of "all peoples and nations of goodwill" the present moment is scarcely susceptible to any efforts toward mediation or conciliation.

There was new emphasis on Poland's stated determination "not to negotiate under the intimidation of an armed and aggressive Germany."

Life, Liberty, of Poland at Stake—Daladier

PARIS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier, heading France's Government and armed with extraordinary powers, in a radio address to the French Empire declared tonight that 'France's only goal is to turn the war clouds back."

"Why does the question of Danzig risk unleasing war?" The Premier asked and, answering, said:

"Because it poses the question of the entire life and liberty of Poland."

"It is the destiny of other peoples of Europe which is really at stake," the Premier declared.

He said Russia had "reversed her policy by signing a treaty with Germany."

Germany and Russia, he pointed out, have no common frontiers and he asked what use there was for a non-aggression pact between two such nations if Poland was to live.

He paid tribute to Great Britain's resolution "to defend her honor."

"Frenchmen," he said at the end of his 10-minute broadcast, "we want to stay free, we want peace, but we cannot accept submission to violence."

Popular Kaslo Couple Married

KASLO, B. C. — A quiet, informal wedding of particular interest to Kasloites took place in Nelson Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Trinity United Church, when Martha Elizabeth Tinkess, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Tinkess and Thomas Henry Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Beck, all of this city, were united in wedlock by Rev. J. A. Donnell. Miss Mabel Beck, sister of the groom, was the winsome bridesmaid, while William Tonkin of Sheep Creek supported the groom. Only immediate relatives and a few close friends attended.

For her wedding attire the bride chose a chiffon gown of white, sprinkled with mauve flowers, a mauve picture hat with white shoes, gloves and other accessories. To complete the charming ensemble, she carried a sheaf of beautiful gladioli in pastel shades.

The bridesmaid wore a pale yellow chiffon gown flowered in rust shades. With it she wore a rust hat, shoes and accessories and carried a sheaf of pale shaded larkspur.

For a short time during childhood the brides' family made their home in Kaslo later moving to Riverhurst, Sask., where they resided until about three years ago and where the bride received her education. The family returned to Kaslo in April 1936. The groom was born in Kaslo and received his education in the local public and high schools. The popular couple have returned to Kaslo to reside.

FISHERMEN REPORT GOOD CATCHES, CRESTON

CRESTON, B. C.—Rod and Gun Club members report that fishing in Kootenay Lake is at its best, but with the local creeks you have to go quite a few miles upstream to get really worthwhile fishing.

A sample of what is to be had 15 miles up Goat River from Kitchener was brought in by Harry Christensen earlier in the week; a one pound 10 ounce cutthroat. The lake honors to date are claimed by W. L. Bell, with a two pound three ounce silver trout, which he got at Kuskanook.

Poor fishing in the lower parts of the streams is probably accounted for in the sale of fishing licenses to tourists, which are large this year, particularly to U. S. anglers.

As yet there appears to be no announcement in the Bonners Ferry Herald that Idaho game officials had prohibited the catch of sturgeon in Kootenay River. Creston Anglers got a few of these earlier in the season which are supposed to have migrated into B. C. from the Idaho side of the river.

IRISH VIOLENCE HAS DEFEATED ITSELF

Practically every employment of violence for the purpose of terrorizing in history has defeated itself. This applies to air raids upon civilians, it applied to the sit-down strikes and to all strike violence of the past, and it applies to the campaign of terrorism by members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army in England.

Every unusual form of terrorism employed by the Germans during the Great War only stiffened the wills of the Allied peoples, or, as in the case of the sinking of American ships, brought in new Allies.

Practically every great strike that has used violence as a major weapon has been lost by the side that has used it, the reason being that public sympathy has been alienated.

While the deportation of members of the illegal Irish Republican Army from Great Britain continues steadily, the De Valera government in Dublin is now actively investigating the activities of this organization in Ireland. Under the provisions of the recent legislation passed by the Eire parliament, many raids have been made on suspected revolutionary premises in Dublin and other centres, and large quantities of I.R.A. documents have been seized.

In a recent speech Premier De Valera condemned the I.R.A. outrages in England. He said that they had given a serious setback to the movement looking to the union of Ireland because the opposition of Ulster to union was being justified by this form of violence.

The Irish Times of Dublin speaks even more definitely. In its comment on recent outrages in London it says that the group of young men and women who apparently believe they can serve Ireland by desperate deeds have done the cause of All-Ireland union irreparable damage. They could not have hit on a more effective means of alienating British opinion and strengthening Ulster's opposition to an accord with Eire and a single parliament for Ireland.

What is the position now, it asks. Even the sincerest friends of Ireland in Great Britain have been shocked and horrified by the events of the past seven months, it says. It continues: "Their sympathies have been transferred from Dublin to Belfast. The 'I.R.A.' terrorists have justified everything that has been said from Orange platforms in the North; and there is less hope of Irish unity today than there has been at any time since the riddled body of Kevin O'Higgins was found at the Booterstown cross roads."

Contract Bridge

Shepard Barclay Tells How to Bid and Play

STUDY HUMAN TYPES

ABILITY TO read characters and temperaments is part of the equipment of the fine bridge player. Sometimes you have no clue at all to the location of a key card except the known or indicated tendencies of an individual. If he appears to be the tricky, shrewd or smart-alecky type, you read the situation one way, but if he seems like the dependable, unimaginative type, then you reckon the other way.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South bid 1-Heart to open this deal in a rubber game, North responding with 2-No Trumps; South bid 3-Spades, North 4-Spades and South 6-Spades. In view of North's knowing that South had only 4-Spades, it would have been better over the 3-Spades for him to bid 4-Diamonds, South 4-Hearts, North 4-No Trumps and South 6-No Trumps, which could not have been put in jeopardy, in view of the location of the heart K.

The Spades would have been beaten, however, except for South's acumen. West, a trickster, led the spade 5, on which dummy played the 6, East the J and South the K. South then read East as thoroughly honest and therefore not holding the spade 10. So to protect himself against a possible bad division, he finessed the spade 8, and the contract therefore was rendered safe.

C. R., Trail—Where can I find an electrotyper to have electros made from a picture, and would I be able to make more prints of the same picture from electros at home? Also what would it cost for electros?

Your best plan would be to have made a copper or zinc plate. From that an electrotype could be made but there would ordinarily be no need as printing could best be done from the original zinc or copper plate. You could not make prints at home from such a plate or from an electro unless you possessed a printing press. The cost would depend on the size of the plates. Send more details if you require an exact price.

R. C. K., Nelson—What would one have to comply with to manufacture and sell black shoe polish?

A manufacturer's licence from the Dominion Excise Department would be required, also a City or Provincial trading licence depending on whether the factory was in a City or unorganized territory.

Sun., Sept. 3—Some clouds and light rains on Pacific slope, but most of the central regions clear and warmer; in Southeast light rains probably continue.

Week Aug. 28 to Sept. 3, 1939, in Central Provinces begins with a period of clear, cold weather setting in from the Pacific slope and Northwest central regions, but in Eastern portions considerable rain is indicated, with unsettled weather for most of the week, heaviest from East sections of Alberta extending to West parts of Manitoba. Last of week a change to warmer and in general much clearer, except some light rains on the Pacific Coast. In West and Northwest less than normal moisture, but in East of central Province fully normal.

Around the first of September this year an unusually cool period in indicated and in these regions cold days at this time of year are nearly always followed by frosty nights. These cold spells come on immediately after a few days of considerably warmer and quite rainy weather, which often turns into snow, in some sections, and nearly everywhere ends the season for field crops. Warmer days come on later in the month, yet they are only short periods of a day or two, and while for most part temperatures are near normal, in first and middle of month some unusually variable conditions may be expected, rain and snow, with greatest disturbances near 7, 13 and 24th.

For Safety's Sake

Under this heading the Nelson Daily News will present each day a section of the Motor-Vehicle Driver's Manual issued by the British Columbia Government. Interior drivers will shortly be required to take examinations based upon the information contained in the Manual. The questions they may be required to answer will follow the sections devoted to information and advice.

Drivers' Licences

Every person who drives a motor-vehicle on any highway must be the holder of a valid driver's licence.

Drivers' licences may be obtained from offices of the Motor-vehicle Branch of the British Columbia Provincial Police at New Westminster, Vancouver and Victoria, and Government Agencies and Police Detachments elsewhere. Fee $1.

Applications for original (new) drivers' licences must be made in person.

All drivers' licences expire on the last day of February following date of issue, with the exception that the holders of current drivers' licences may renew same any time during the month of February for a year ending the last day of February in the following year.

Persons who wish to learn to drive a motor-vehicle may obtain a learner's driver's licence which is good for a period of 30 days from the date of issue, and entitles the holder to drive and operate motor-vehicles other than motor-cycles when accompanied by an adult holder of a driver's licence who occupies the seat beside the driver or to drive motor-cycles without being so accompanied. A learner's driver's licence is issued free of charge.

Applicants for original (new) drivers' licences are required to pass an examination as to their fitness and ability to drive motor-vehicles, and persons who hold drivers' licences may also be required to pass such examination. Such examination will consist of tests as to:—

(a). Their ability to understand warning and other road signs.
(b). Their knowledge of the laws and regulations covering the operation of motor-vehicles.
(d). Their reaction time.
(e). Their eyesight.
(f). Their hearing.
(g). Their ability to drive a motor-vehicle.

The fee for this examination is $1.

for the BOYS and GIRLS

Son Who Couldn't Sell

By W. BOYCE MORGAN

INSTALLMENT I

Jim Belder sat behind the wheel of his father's car, parked along the curb and kept his eyes on a little bungalow which stood well back from the street. Mr. Belder was a real estate dealer, and right now he was inside that bungalow showing it to a couple of prospective buyers, a Mr. and Mrs. Waverley. In a few moments they would all come back to the car, and Jim would be able to tell immediately how his father's sales talk had gone over.

Jim was tall, slender and 16. He had dark hair and a shy expression, and he seldom talked. The reason for his shyness and his reluctance to talk was something that Mr. Belder would never understand. For Jim's father was an exact opposite to his only son. He was a splendid salesman a glib and convincing talker, never ill at ease or at a loss for words.

"Good gravy, Jim!" he would say impatiently to his son. "People won't know you are alive if you never open your mouth. There's no place in the business world for a fellow who's afraid to say anything. You've got to sell yourself! You've got to make people sit up and take notice."

When Mr. Belder talked like that, Jim would hang his head and look distressed.

"I know, Dad," he'd say miserably. "But I — I just don't seem to have anything to say."

"You aren't dumb," his father would continue. "You get fine grades in school. But you don't take part in anything. You aren't a leader. I'll bet half the school doesn't even know you're there."

Jim wouldn't answer. He knew it was true. He knew he was too shy, too quiet. But when he tried to overcome his self-consciousness, things just got worse. He got panicky and choked up. He couldn't say a word.

As the end of school approached Mr. Belder talked to Jim about getting a job for the Summer, Jim wanted to work, because he knew it would be helpful to the family. His father had recently opened his own real estate office, and he had not yet had time to get it well established. And with Verna his older sister, going back to college in the Fall, a little extra money would be most welcome.

Jim resolved desperately to get a job. He tried at several of the stores, and at two factories. But he was so shy when he went for the interviews that he made a poor impression. Jobs were scarce at best, and he had no luck.

Finally he had managed to get a half-dozen lawns to mow, and they kept him in spending money. But his father wasn't very happy about the situation. He wanted Jim to be out working at a real job. He thought it might help him overcome his shyness.

Finally, when the Summer was half over, Mr. Belder spoke rather sharply to Jim.

"As long as you're just sitting around most of the time," he said, "you might as well be helping me. From now on you can drive the car for me when I take prospects out. Then I can devote all my attention to them. And maybe, by watching me, you can pick up a few pointers on how to deal with people. At least, you'll learn to meet them and talk to them."

Jim had agreed willingly, but the plan hadn't helped much, as far as his shyness was concerned. He faithfully drove his father all around the town, and out into the country where Mr. Belder handled quite a little property. He watched and listened to his father work on scores of prospective buyers, and he marveled at the way he did it. But he hardly ever said a word himself. He just sat up in the front seat and silently drove the car.

For instance, when they had picked up Mr. and Mrs. Waverly today, his father had introduced him, and Mr. Waverly had said.

"Ah yes, your son. And I suppose he's going to go into the real estate business with you?"

"Well, I don't know," Mr. Belder had replied, with a rather rueful laugh. "I'm not sure he cares much about real estate."

Mr. Waverly turned to Jim. "And what are you interested in?" he asked in a friendly manner.

Jim started to reply, but couldn't think of anything to say. He gulped for a moment, blushed and finally managed to get out. "I don't know, exactly."

Jim flushed as he recalled Mr. Waverly's surprised glance, and the quickness with which his father had changed the subject.

.xlxxG—sbyOlmslxl,wlsnetobde

But now Jim looked up suddenly. The Waverly's and Mr. Belder were coming down the walk from the bungalow. Jim shot a glance at his father, and knew absolutely that a sale was about to be made. He could tell by the spring in Mr. Belder's step, the way he carried his head, and the tone of his voice. "We'll go right down to the office and fix up the papers," Mr. Belder said as they reached the car. "It won't take long, and I know you'll be glad to have it settled."

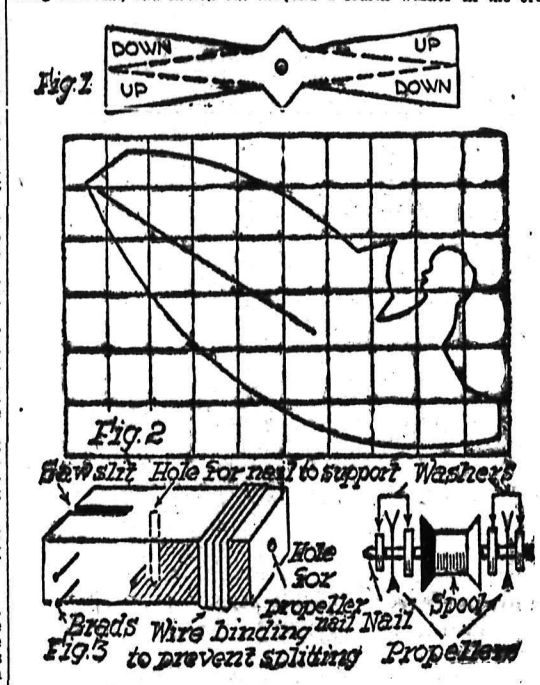
As Jim started the motor and drove the party back to his father's office, he felt something very much like envy. What a kick his father got out of successfully completing a sale! And it wasn't just the commission he was earning, although Jim Knew that was very important. It was also the thrill of accomplishment, the feeling of victory, the knowledge that he had met and overcome objections and difficulties.

AQUAPLANE WINDMILL IS FINE ORNAMENT FOR BARN, GARAGE

By SETH HARMON

This aquaplane windmill, when in-will attract attention for two reas-stalled atop your barn or garage, ons: its design is distinctive, and its two propeller blades which turn simultaneously in opposite directions, give it a most unusual effect. To make one, you'll need only a piece of light-weight tin—an empty two-gallon motor oil can will do nicely—a pair of tin shearers, a spool, some metal washers, nails and a scrap of wood.

If you use an oil can, first cut off its top and bottom, slit the side wall along its seam, and flatten out the tin. Better wear leather gloves when doing this, to protect your fingers from sharp edges. At one end of the tin mark off two propeller blades in the shape shown in Figure 1. They should measure about 8 inches from tip to tip, and 1½ inches across at their widest point.



SHAPING THE BLADE

Cut these out carefully. Punch a nail hole as indicated in the centre of each blade so it will turn easily on a 10-penny nail. Lay a metal rule or file along each dotted line shown in the illustration in turn, and bend the corner of the blade up or down as indicated in the sketch.

Cut the vane of the windmill in the shape shown in Figure 2. If you mark off inch squares on the tin to correspond with those in this sketch, your finished vane will measure about 6 by 10 inches, a good size to balance the 8-inch propeller blades. Attach the vane to a short crosspiece of wood measuring about 1 by 1 by 4 inches. Saw a slit one inch deep into one end of this crosspiece as illustrated in Figure 3. Insert the blunt end of the vane into this slit and nail it fast with two brads, as shown.

To assemble the propeller blades, put the 10-penny nail through a metal washer, one propeller, another washer, a small empty spool, a third washer, the other propeller and a fourth washer in the order named. When putting on the second propeller be sure it faces in the opposite direction from the first; that is, if its right upper edge is bent downward, the corresponding edge of the first propeller blade must be bent upward. This is very important.

Before driving the nail into the end of the wooden crosspiece opposite the vane, bore a hole ⅛-inch in diameter into the piece with an auger or brace and bit. Also bind this end of the crosspiece with wire, as shown, to prevent its splitting. After attaching the propellers, bore a verticle hole through the crosspiece for the nail or screw which attaches it to an upright post. Put a drop of motor oil on all the moving parts occasionally.

POINTERS ON PETS

By HORACE MITCHELL

GOING TO LEAVE 'EM?

Old Man Summer is just about to pick up his bag of tricks and start slogging along the road. Pretty soon Joe Autumn is going to start the school bells ringing. Your mothers have commenced buying you the new school clothes you'll need. And perhaps the place you've made a Summer home is soon to be closed.

When you move back to the city there'll be a number of things you'll leave behind. You won't have room to carry all you have accumulated during vacation. And when the car is ready to take you away, the cat or the dog you've enjoyed so much through vacation may not be around to go with you.

Or perhaps even if the dog or the cat is around, you'll have to leave him standing there while you go off, many miles away.

But—Don't Do That!

It's being a mighty poor sport, at the least. It's not the right thing to keep such a pet all Summer and leave him in the lurch in the Fall. You wouldn't do it to a human friend.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

It's being cruel, too. Even though some folks (who, just between you and me, are very, very weak in the head) say the dog or the cat can find another home or can look out for himself, it is still cruel to force him to do so. And it makes you or your parents liable to prosecution for cruelty to animals.

Doing such a thing throws a domesticated animal right out into the wild. He'll make a nuisance of himself; either a nuisance to the people in the town, or a nuisance to all the wild birds and animals in the country. He'll have to live some way, and if he can't get donations from human homes he'll chase rabbits and birds. Half-wild dogs will chase deer and sheep, and pull them down and eat them alive. Cats will clean out songbirds over a big area.

By deserting your cats and dogs you force them to lead an awfully hard life, and you fail to do your part to make the world a little better place in which to live.

So, boys and girls, when you go back to the city, make sure that your pets will have good homes if you can't take them with you. That's a very important thing to do.

Don't Leave Him Standing There!

RIDDLES

Last vacation days are always the very nicest, But it's hard to forget that classes will start in just another week or two, and you'll be faced with more work than play. However, these riddles will help you forget that you will soon be solving problems for teacher.

2. What is the sun's trade in the Summer?
3. What is the difference between a camera and measles?
4. What man has a job, but never does a day's work?
5. Why is a colt like an egg?

ANSWERS TO POSERS

THE ZULUS' FEAR

During an uprising of the Zulus against white rule in South Africa, a British colonel, out scouting, found himself lost in the veldt without weapons, carrying only a walking stick. To make matters worse, he was suddenly surrounded by a horde of savage blacks, all armed with spears and knives. His death seemed absolutely certain.

There seemed no way out, but the resourceful colonel tried a bluff. Assuming a determined expression, he pointed his walking stick straight at the foremost black, and walked toward him.

For a moment the blacks stood their ground, then they began to back away slowly, puzzled and alarmed at this strange weapon. As they retreated, the colonel followed, still pointing his walking stick.

Now, fighting with spears was a familiar thing to the Zulu. They also were wildcats with knives, and although they had never handled guns, they had seen them in action. But this strange, long stick with which the white man menaced them was something quite new to them.

Suddenly the colonel, still walking forward, threw the stick up toward his shoulder, like a gun. With one accord, the Zulus turned and ran like mad, dropping spears and knives as they went.

Famous Babe Siebert of Montreal Canadiens Is Drowned in Lake Huron

ZURICH, Ont., Aug. 25 (CP).—Alberta (Babe) Siebert, famous defence player of the Montreal Canadiens hockey team, was drowned late today while swimming in Lake Huron at St. Joseph, Ont.

Siebert, 34, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Siebert of Zurich. He recently was appointed Coach of the Canadiens for the next National Hockey League season.

Siebert was swimming with his two children and a friend, Clayton Hoffman of Zurich. The hockey star called for help and disappeared about 150 feet from shore when he swam after an inflated inner tube which had drifted away from his little daughter.

One of the great defencemen of hockey in the last few years, both with Boston Bruins where he costared on the rearguard with Eddie Shore and later with Canadiens, Siebert originally was a forward.

His first fame was achieved with Montreal Maroons where he teamed on a spectacularly robust forward line with Nels Stewart and Hooley Smith. In those days he was regarded as one of the fastest skaters and hardest shooters in the N. H. L.

But as a defenceman he reached his greatest heights on the ice. For two or three seasons his effectiveness was scarcely less than that of Shore himself.

The Babe left a brilliant amateur career at Kitchener to turn professional with the now-defunct Maroons in 1925.

As a member of "M" team, Siebert was a barging, aggressive forward in a unit known around the N. H. L. as one of the most dangerous lines ever developed. Memories of the straight-ahead methods of Smith, Stewart and Siebert still live vividly in the minds of fans in these days of new emphasis on patterned passing.

For seven years Siebert piled up goals and penalties for the Maroons in their most lavish days. In a surprise deal, he went to New York Rangers in 1932. But the hot-spirited Siebert and Manager Lester Patrick of the Rangers didn't always see eye to eye and in the 1932-33 season the Babe was traded to Boston.

There, paired with Shore on the Bruin defence, Siebert piled into opposing forwards like a man who had been brought up on the defence.

During the Summer of 1936 Siebert went to the Canadiens and there became a favorite of French-Canadian fans, for whom "Da Beb" transformed the club from a fading force into the brilliant pack of Habitants of the National League's early days.

That following season the Canadiens leaped from last place to first, with Siebert the driving force and inspirational leader.

YANKEES DEFEAT BROWNS TWICE

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland Indians blanked Philadelphia 6-0 yesterday in an American League baseball game. Southpaw Harry Eisenstat held the Mackmen to six scattered singles.

Chicago White Sox slapped a second straight defeat on Boston Red Sox winning 9-2 with an eighth inning splurge of seven runs.

With big Buck Newsom pitching four-hit ball Detroit Tigers defeated Washington 5-2. It was Newsom's 15th victory of the season.

Two sparkling pitching performances brought the New York Yankees a pair of victories, 11-0 and 8-2, over the Browns and increased the champions lead in the American league to 10½ games.

Steve Sundra, the "throw-in" for the Johnny Allen-Monte Pearson swap with Cleveland in 1936, allowed only four hits in capturing the first game, his eighth triumph without defeat this season, and the veteran Lefty Gomez permitted just three in the nightcap.

In the first game Joe Gordon hit a home run with two on in the opening chapter, brought his total of homers for the season to 23 with another in the third, and batted in another run in the eighth with a single.

Chapman Camp Athlete to Run Here Labor Day

P. H. Edgcumbe of Chapman Camp has sent in his entry to compete in three track events in this year's Caledonian Games in Nelson Labor Day under the sponsorship of the Clan McLeary Sports Association. He will run in the half-mile, mile and three-mile competitions.

The East Kootenay runner has earned a fair reputation in district track circles. Earlier this month he came third in the mile event in the B. C. championships at Trail.

Edgcumbe plans on bringing several other athletes from East Kootenay with him, Albert Wallach said Friday night.

Three games were finished yesterday. Yorkshire defeated Kent by an innings and 14 runs, Essex downed Nottinghamshire by seven wickets and Surrey won over Glamorgan by six wickets.

ADANACS DEFEAT FISHMEN 17-12

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Aug. 25 (CP).—New Westminster Adanacs are a step closer to the Inter-City Box Lacrosse League finals today—all set to win that for the second successive year.

Last night, the 1938 Western Canadian champions, defeated the Salmonbellies, their home-town rivals and champions two years ago, 17-12, in the first game of the best-of-five semi-final series. Next game will be played here Monday.

The winner will play a best-of-seven series against Vancouver Burrards, winners of the league, for the Inter-City title.

Adanacs, who finished second in the league, two points below Burrards, had little trouble holding back the Fishmen, predicted a "three straight" victory.

Cricketers Go to Rossland for Match on Sunday

Nelson Cricket Club will travel to Rossland Sunday to meet the Golden City representatives in a match originally scheduled for a week ago. That was when a mixup occurred in the allotment of the Rossland Ball Park, and the cricketers withdrew in favor of the Rossland-Nelson senior baseball game. But the game is definitely scheduled this weekend.

The Nelson team, under the leadership of Captain G. A. (Pat) Brabazon, will consist of T. S. Dawson, D. F. Deacon, G. Fitzer, W. Howlett, Robert Main, R. J. Mulloy, Alfred Parker, H. A. Parker, F. H. Smith, Mr. Brabazon and another yet to be named.

The Rossland team will be chosen from E. B. Bourchier, L. A. Read, A. G. Read, Robert Spencer, James Finney, John Aiken, J. R. Corner, Kenneth Adcock, Richard Ayres, John Barry, Matthew Ellis and C. E. Bell.

Castlegar, Nelson Battle Here Sunday Deciding Game Kootenay Semi-Finals

Nelson rep softballers will field their strongest lineup of their West Kootenay men's softball semi-final series Sunday afternoon when Nelson and Castlegar play the fourth and deciding game of a series originally slated to be three games.

The two teams are very evenly matched, as witnessed from the fact that they are all even after three games. The first game, in Castlegar, was won by Nelson in the late innings by 11-6. Then last Sunday Castlegar evened things up with a victory in the first game of a doubleheader when Bill Mann came up with a neat pitching performance to defeat a crippled Nelson lineup 12-4. Then came the second game of the day, and Nelson came through with a run in the last half of the ninth to tie proceedings up again at 7-7. The game was immediately called an account of darkness.

Tomorrow afternoon, the game scheduled to get under way following the senior baseball game at about 4:30 or 4:45, Nelson will have the services of Jesse Seaby and Ernie (Kid) Beland for the first time in the series. On previous days the Senior Ball Club has played out-of-town or some place other than where the softballers were scheduled. But this time both teams have home games slated.

It was not certain Friday night what pitchers will go to the mound but it will be either Mann or Jerry McGauley for Castlegar, while the Nelson mound staff will consist of Len Bicknell, Don Lazier and Les Trainor. Jerry Wanless will be behind the plate for Castlegar and it will be either Denis Ball or Jimmy Ball, probably the former, in there for Nelson.

The remainder of the teams will be:

Castlegar: Frank Avis 1b; Joe Moore 2b; Bobby Magee ss; Pete Obedko 3b; and Leo Borden, utility infielder; Hilton Bacon, Paul Samson and Ross Obourne, outfielders.

Nelson: Vernie Ahrens 1b; Sam Pisacreta 2b; Sid Ball ss; Ty Culley 3b; with Beland and George McCulloch probably given spots in the infield, Harold Mayo, Pat Egan, Jesse Seaby, Andy Selinger, Bill Kapak, Ken McBride and either D. Ball or Allan.

Louie Aurelia will call the balls and strikes.

Vernon Cricketers Lose to Vancouver

VERNON, B. C., Aug. 25 (CP)—A Vancouver cricket team captained by Tommy Reed continued a tour of interior British Columbia today with two wins to their credit against two losses, and two more matches to play.

In an exhibition game here yesterday they defeated Vernon Canadian Legion. The visitors, batting first, scored 147 for seven wickets declared. The Legion was all out for 52.

Dr. Harry Warren was high batsman for Vancouver with 58.

The Vancouver team previously defeated Salmon Arm but lost matches at Penticton and Kelowna. They will play the remaining two games of the tour here.

Coleman Pucksters Defeat Elk Valley

NATAL, B. C.—The final Elk Valley home game in the Crow's Nest Pass Baseball League was played before a fair crowd Wednesday, when the league leading Coleman Pucksters although outhit 9 to 4, managed to defeat the cellar-dwelling Elk Valley Senators 8-2 for the sixteenth defeat of the season. Both starting pitchers, Volpatti of the Elk Valley and Scheph of Coleman pitched good ball but poor support especially by the Elk Valley team who committed no less than eight glaring errors paved the way for many unearned runs. The Elk Valley took an early first inning lead but could not hold it as they played without a number of their regular players. The game was umpired by A. Krall of Natal. The win boosted the chances of the Coleman team to finish in first place with two games left in hand to play, winning 13 of their 18 games played to date, while Natal-Michel is in second place with two games in hand, winning 12 of their 18 games. Hillcrest is the only team in the league to finish their 20 game schedule with 13 wins and 7 losses.

League Throws Out Blairmore Protest

NATAL, B. C.—A special executive meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Baseball league was held in the Coleman Hotel Wednesday, with President Fred Gregory of Hillcrest presiding. Representatives from Natal-Michel, Coleman, Fernie, Blairmore and Hillcrest were present to voice their opinion on the Blairmore protest against the Natal-Michel Buffaloes who defeated them 6-4 at Blairmore Aug. 14. The league representative from Elk Valley failed to make an appearance. After much discussion the protest was thrown out as nothing could be found in the rules whereby an unregistered player could not coach with or without a uniform. The protest by Blairmore was based on the fact that Natal-Michel used Gergel coaching with a Buffalo uniform in that game after the league ruled that his transfer from the Elk Valley to the Natal-Michel team had been rejected. Nothing could be found in the rule books to stop an unregistered player from coaching with a suitable answer coming from Gail Egan, sports Commentator at Calgary who gave his version of the situation. The loss practically eliminated Blairmore from the league playoffs and sent them in fourth place behind Hillcrest. It was decided to return the five dollars posted by the two protesting teams with the league to cover the necessary expense involved. It was decided that all postponed and tie games must be played off by Wednesday, August 30. The league was to have originally been ended on August 11.

Doubles will be played tomorrow, weather permitting, and the two final singles matches Sunday.

Vic Howard vs Red Tulloch as Miners Battle Nelson Sunday in League Ball

Last League Games in Nelson and Trail

The West Kootenay Baseball League will wind up its regular league schedule with games at Nelson and Trail Sunday afternoon. Rossland's Miners will be the opposition for Nelson and the league-leading Salmo outfit will travel to the Smelter City to seek revenge for the surprise defeat handed it in its own home park last week.

When Rossland takes the field against the Nelson Seniors at 2:30 p.m., the Miners will have a chance to even the score over the season in the four games they play with the Lakesiders. So far the Nelsonites took two games out of three but they must win tomorrow if they want to wind up the schedule in third place, a full game ahead of the Miners. The result of the Trail-Salmo game cannot change the positions of any of the teams in the standings.

HOWARD-TULLOCH

Vic Howard will likely go to the mound for the Nelson team and his opponent will be Red Tulloch of the Miners. Howard has broken even in two engagements with the Miners, his victory being a shutout. In his two 1939 appearances against Nelson, Tulloch was bested 3-0 in a pitching duel with Steve Smith and the then beat Howard in Rossland last Sunday.

Gordon Richardson and George Petrunia, two big receivers, will be behind the bat for Howard and Tulloch respectively. For Nelson the infield will be Doc Chodorcoff 1b, Roy Anderson 2b, Ernie (Kid) Beland ss and either Walt Gelling or Jesse Seaby 3b, while Rossland's will be Rusty Wynn 1b, Johnny Cameron 2b, Rico Martin ss and Merle Wilson 3b. The latter two will make their first appearances of the year in Nelson, although Martin has played with visiting teams on numerous occasions in the past. Wilson is a recent arrival from Vancouver. He has played two games with Rossland now.

The outfielders will be chosen from:

Nelson—Steve Smith, Jake Alles, Art Scribner and if Gelling is available Sunday, Jesse Seaby will be in the outfield and Gelling at third; otherwise Seaby will be at third.

Rossland—Duke Scodellaro, Doug Norris, Joe Morasco, Johnny Gidinski, John McIntyre and Chow Sadao.

Bill Freno will umpire behind the plate.

This will be the last game between Rossland and Nelson of the season unless both teams win their way into the finals, Nelson getting past Trail and Rossland by Salmo in best two of three game series commencing the following week.

President T. Con Cummins of the Nelson Baseball Club announced late Friday night that he hoped to have Tom McInnes and Albert Euerby in uniform for the game against the Rossland Miners Sunday. He was jubilant over the prospect of having this pair back on the team roster for the game and the playoffs.

Japan Protests German Perfidy

TOKYO, Aug. 25 (CP-Havas)—Domei (Japanese) news agency announced today the Japanese Government had decided to protest to Berlin against Germany's non-aggression treaty with the Soviet Union.

The newspaper Kokumin, which had consistently advocated a military alliance with Italy and Germany, tonight described the anti-comintern pact as "a dead letter." The axis powers are no longer Japan's allies, the newspaper concluded.

The Yomiuri termed Germany's action a "sheer breach of international faith" and said the anti-comintern pact 'has now lost all meaning.'

CRESTON DYKING DIST. TAXES SATISFACTORY

CRESTON, B.C.—Land owners in Creston Dyking District got 1939 tax notices from Assessor and Collector Charles Messinger at the middle of the week, and considerable satisfaction is expressed with the conduct of district affairs in keeping the maintenance and pumping cost down to 80 cents an acre—the lowest in the district's history. The year previous it was double that figure, but the abnormal charge was due to cost of flood control work on the dykes before and after the North end broke about June 7, 1938.

With the tax notice is also the assessment for dyke reconstruction which is $3 per acre. This rate was forecast some months ago and is reasonable considering the amount and class of dyke reconstruction that has been carried on, especially at the Wynndel end, where the break occurred.

Trustees of the district are Guy Constable, Frank Putnam and Elias Uri.

Hungary and Rumania Getting Together for Benefit of Germany!

BUCHAREST, Aug. 25 (AP)—Authoritative quarters said today a non-aggression pact between Hungary and Rumania "is nearly ready for signature."

Official quarters in Budapest denied any such negotiations were in progress but declared "there may be something in the future."

It was recalled that in March Hungary offered a non-aggression treaty to Rumania in return for "better treatment" of the large Hungarian minority in Transylvania. Recently the Hungarian press has expressed satisfaction with the new treatment accorded Hungarians in Rumania.

Foreign observers declared conclusion of such a non-aggression treaty between the two traditionally opposed nations would be another triumph for Germany.

It would be a further step toward the complete neutrality of the little nations in Southeastern Europe should war break out. Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria already have signified their intentions to remain clear of any conflict.

Turkey, ally of Britain and France would be blocked from advancing toward Germany. The Western democracies could not get help to Poland from the East.

Further a neutral Southeastern Europe would ensure an undisturbed land route from Germany around Poland to Rusia's raw materials and her oil. Rumanian oil would also be available to Germany.

West Kootenay Doctors Meet Nelson Monday

Some 23 doctors of the West Kootenay district will converge on Nelson Monday when the West Kootenay Medical Association holds its annual meeting at Kootenay Lake General Hospital. Dr. R. B. Shaw of Nelson, President, will be in the chair.

Among those present will be Dr. E. H. Cleveland, President of the British Columbia Medical Association, and Dr. M. W. Thomas, Executive Secretary of the B. C. Association, both of Vancouver.

Doctors will attend from Nelson, Trail, Rossland, Grand Forks, Salmo, Ymir and other district points.

Four Teachers Appointed Staffs Rossland Schools

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 25—The resignation of Miss Ruth McRae of Agassiz from the MacLean School staff was accepted by the Rossland School Board Thursday evening. Miss McRae's sister, Miss Elsie D. McRae, also of Agassiz, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Appointments made to the Junior and Senior High School staffs were Robert Melville, B.A., Miss Dorothy Buchanan, B.A., and Miss Helen Pattison, B.A., all of Vancouver.

Matric Students Start to Write 'Supps' Monday

Senior and Junior Matriculation students of Nelson and district who failed in some subjects in their June examinations, will start writing their supplemental exams at Nelson High School Monday morning at 9 o'clock. They will continue till September 1. Writing of the "supps" will be held in larger centres throughout the Province on the same dates.

Due to noise made by construction of the new addition at the High School, Nelson and district students will write their exams at the Junior High School, F. A. Jewett, School Inspector, stated Friday night.

Ottawa Cancels Military Leave

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP)—Leaves to all members of the Canadian permanent forces have been cancelled, Defence Minister Mackenzie King announced today. Before this action was taken however, many officers and men who were on leave had returned of their own accord and others intending to go on leave had cancelled such arrangements.

The order cancelling leave applies to approximately 4000 men of the permanent militia, 3000 in the regular air force and 2000 in the naval services.

Meantime the headquarters staff in Ottawa is working at high pressure to be in readiness should Canada be involved in war. Meetings and conferences were held throughout last night. The minister was closetted with his senior officers the whole forenoon.

British Labor Offers Truth to German People

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP)—The British Labor Party tonight sent a message "to the German People," saying:

"War is very near. You must clearly understand that if war comes Britain and France both stand firmly by their pledges to Poland.

"Your Government does not tell you the truth. British labor which is the friend of the German people, will tell you the truth.

"There need be no war. Provided that the threat of force is renounced, there can be just and peaceful settlement of all international disputes."

CRESTON WOMEN'S INST. EXHIBIT READY FOR VANCOUVER FAIR

CRESTON, B. C.—Nineteen of the district's outstanding needle workers have supplied the quota of 31 articles to make up Creston and District Women's Institute exhibit in the B. C. Women's Institutes' section at the Vancouver Exhibition, which opens next week.

The exhibit has been assembled by Mrs. Robert Stevens, president, and calls for a considerable variety of work. Rugs are prominently featured. There are five different kinds of these, including cotton, hooked wool as well as one in the thrift class.

The thrift articles are those made from flour sacks, one of which is to be a pair of boy's trousers. There are four kinds of knitting, one a knit suit, and there are four articles in plain sewing—two each of hand and machine.

Those supplying articles for the local entry include, Mrs. Ael Johnson, Mrs. Charles Kirk, Mrs. E. W. Payne, Mrs. T. Semeniuk, Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. James Maxwell, Mrs. W. H. Crawford, Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. C. Gay, Mrs. W. N. Fraser, Mrs. C. Botterill, Mrs. James Cherrington, Mrs. W. H. Morrow, Mrs. Charles Bothamley, Miss Tena Recroft, Miss Annie Pascuzzo and Miss Iris Taylor, Mrs. J. Sorrentino and Mrs. R. Stevens.

The prize is a silver cup, which must be won three times before it becomes the permanent property of the winner. Creston and District Institute already possess one of these cups, taking first place for three consecutive years ending about 1935. Since then no entry has been made until this year.

$311,000,000 From Liquor Goes to Governments Instead of Bootleggers

OTTAWA — Figures made available by the Federal Bureau of Statistics disclose that since the passing of prohibition Government control of the sale of liquor has poured a net revenue of more than $311,000,000 into the coffers of eight of the nine Provinces of Canada.

Prince Edward Island, last remaining haven of prohibtion in the Dominion, is alone in having failed to participate in the revenue that a system of controlled sale of alcoholic beverages yields — but which a system of bootleg distribution does not contribute.

The figure of $311,000,00 furnished by the Federal Bureau represents the aggregate net profit that the othe reight Provinces have derived from their Government control operations over periods varying from only nine years in the case of Nova Scotia to 18 years in the cases of Quebec and British Columbia.

At the present time the annual net revenue accruing to these Provinces from this source is running somewhere in excess of $27,000,000.

In connection with this latter figure, it is interesting to note that the combined expenditures of the eight Provinces concerned upon sundry services of major importance to the citizenship run, in the course of a year, approximately as follows.

Upon education, $27,000,000.

Upon roads and other transportation services, $21,000,000.

Upon the assistance of agriculture, $14,000,000.

In other words, at the present time the revenues from the controlled and legal sale of alcoholic beverages in eight out of the nine Provinces is sufficient to meet the expenditure of those Provinces upon education to more than meet their outlay on the maintenance of roads and other transportation facilities, or to more than meet their annual budget for the encouragement and assistance of agriculture.

Actually, of course, it is impossible to say to which of these purposes the profits of the government control commissions are devoted, since under the system of accounting which all the Provinces employ, all receipts go simply into a consolidated revenue fund, without being earmarked for any specific purpose.

What is obvious, however, regardless of the particular object to which the government control profits have been devoted, is that their total—the exact figure is $311,101,405—represents the amount by which the burden on provincial taxpayers has been eased since the boot-legger, who contributed none of his profits to any public treasury, has been practically put out of business.

By Provinces the revenues which the various government control commissions have earned since the passing of prohibition are:

Nova Scotia (since 1930) $5,036,157.

New Brunswick (since 1926) $9,762,375.

Quebec (since 1921) $99,037,629.

Ontario (since 1926) $88,321,450.

Manitoba (since 1925) $16,738,164.

Saskatchewan (since 1925) $20,980,122.

Alberta (since 1924) $24,747,294.

British Columbia (since 1921) $52,488,214.

LONDON STOCK PRICES FIRMER

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP). — Dealings in the stock exchange were still a matter of direct negotiation today but quotations generally showed firming tendencies. International stocks were strong, which brokers said reflected the wide drop in sterling. Domestic rails improved following decision to call off the strike in view of Britain's need for all resources. Foreign bonds were neglected. Gold shares attracted good support. Oils were boosted sharply.

Home Oil Gains 17

CALGARY, Aug. 24 (CP). — Oils advanced today on Calgary stock exchange due to firmness in Eastern Markets. Home Oil gained 17 cents at 1.62.

Anglo-Canadian and Okalta each gained seven at 77 and Commoil at 28 was up three.

U. S. Dollar Gains in Chaotic Paris Trade

PARIS, Aug. 25 (AP). — The United States dollar advanced to 40.15 francs (2.491 cents to the franc) at the close of a chaotic foreign exchange trading session today. The rate compared with the French unit at 2.649 cents in New York overnight. Exchange on London was 176.20.

Three per cent rentes in the course finished at 73.30 franc; 4½s "A" 82.70; 4½s 1937, 156.00.

Wall Street in Buying Mood for Domestics; Foreign Bonds Slump

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP). — Wall Street saw faint chances of at least a momentary European peace today and traders bid up stock market favorites 1 to around 4 points at the best.

United States Government Securities, weak at one time, came back substantially, as did many corporate loans. Foreign dollar bonds, however, kept going down.

The stock list loafed throughout the greater part of the proceedings but picked up momentum in the fourth hour's upturn. Transfers approximated 750,000 shares. Final prices were under the tops in the majority of cases.

Considerable buying was attributed to the belief of financial contingents that, war or no war, markets may have been oversold and that, even if there is a world explosion American industry stands to profit by a sharp demand of foreign nations for supplies unobtainable elsewhere.

Transfers approximated 750,000 shares. Final prices were under the tops in most cases.

Prominent gainers included U. S. Steel, Bethlemen, Chrysler, General Motors, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, U. S. Rubber, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, U. S. Gypsum, American Telephone and Texas Corporation.

Marked up fractionally among Canadian issues were C. P. R., McIntyre Porcupine and Lake Shore. Dome and Distillers headed lower. Dominion 4s were under fair pressure in the bond market.

Winnipeg Wheat in Sharp Decline

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25 (CP). — Wheat futures prices skidded 3¾-3¼ cents lower on Winnipeg grain exchange today as liberal selling by nervous traders easily overwhelmed the meagre support. For the first time since Tuesday minus signs interrupted the current climb of wheat prices and left October at 57½, November and December at 58⅞-59 and May 61⅞-62.

Observers regarded Hitler's requested interview with Sir Nevile Henderson as an encouraging sign in the European crisis, Selling orders flooded the pit from all sides near mid-session, driving prices far below previous levels.

Lack of buying power was an important factor in the decline. Seaboard interests made only minor purchases and it was believed that export sales of Canadian wheat were restricted to small quantities for the day.

Liverpool added 2¼ to ½d in extremely nervous trading. The sharp decline of the pound sterling price and the ever present threat of war in Europe harassed English traders and injected a cautious attitude into operations. Chicago lost more than a cent while Buenos Aires made its first move for some time when it slipped 3⅜ cents.

Coarse grain prices eased in sympathy with wheat, the greatest drop being recorded by flax which sagged the five-cent allowable limit. Cash wheat trade was limited.

Yesterday's country marketings reached 3,305,000 bushels compared with 3,185,000 for the same day last year.

Argentine wheat shipments this week totalled 4,233,000 bushels against 2,670,000 the previous week and 1,568,000 in 1938.

Wheat and flour clearances from Australia aggregated 1,672,000 bushels during the current week, 1,150,000 last week and 2,557,000 for the corresponding seven days a year ago.

Sterling Slumps Under Pressure Too Great for Stabilization Fund

LONDON, Aug. 25 (CP). — Britain took urgent and far reaching steps today to husband her financial resources for possible war needs.

The necessity for preserving the nation's gold stocks became so compelling the British stabilization fund for the moment at least abandoned its market support of the pound in relation to the United States dollar.

This support has been exerted under great pressure in recent weeks and consequent heavy losses of gold.

When the government overnight "pulled the plug" which had pegged the pound at $4.68⅛, sterling opened at $4.59, fell to $4.37 and then followed zigzag pattern which came to $4.42 at noon.

There was no immediate indication of what new level might bring a renewal of government support or whether the pound would be permitted to find its own level.

Under the 1936 Tripartite agreement, Great Britain, France and the United States agreed to prevent extreme fluctuations in their currencies. The unfavorable trade balance promoted in part by rearmament imports has made Britain desire to depreciate the pound in terms of dollars but the United States has been reported firmly against such a step.

Despite pressure, the British stabilization fund until today had been able to keep the pound in 1939 at $4.68⅛. Last September it slumped to the "Munich Low" of $4.60.

The London gold price rose to a record figure of 150 shillings, 6 pence per fine ounce, an overnight increase of 2 shillings, 1 pence.

Toronto Stocks Rally Despite Europe News

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP)—Toronto stock market advanced today in the face of disturbing news from Europe. The rally was touched off by the discount on Canadian funds which made conditions more favorable for the marketing of Canadian gold. In the final half hour selling again ruled the market and part of the advance was cancelled. The indices showed gains of ¾ to two points in the mining and industrial divisions. Volume was around 550,000 shares.

A moderately strong opening was followed by slowly firming prices until the early afternoon when the gains were enlarged under reported short covering. A wide right-about was effected in spots. From a drop of 2 points at the close while nickel was up a point or better and smelters about 2 points.

Hollinger, Dome, McIntyre and Lake Shore received 1 to 2 points of their recent losses and gains of 10 to 20 cents were netted by Bralorne, Buffalo-Ankerite, Pickle Crow, East Malartic, MacLeod Cockshutt, Aunor, Sylvanite and others. Wright Hargreaves advanced about 50 cents, Macassa 35 and Lamaque 45.

Industrials finished with narrow gains predominating in the steel, food, senior oil, liquor and miscellaneous industrial groups.

Home Oil swung up to 1.65 from a morning low of 1.43 and the close around 1.58 was up 16 cents. Calgary-Edmonton firmed about 8 cents and Davies and Okalta worked slightly higher.

Stocks Move Up in Coast Trading

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP). — Prices were up considerably on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today although reaction set in at the close of the session and cut deeply into some of the bigger morning gains. Transactions totalled 64,270 shares.

Bralorne showed the way in the gold section bounding ahead 35 cents to 10.00. Premier gained 7 to 147, Sheep Creek jumped 4 to 1.04 and Pioneer shot up 11 to 2.26. Cariboo closed 19 higher at 1.90 while Reno at 41 was up 8 and Kootenay Belle was 5 stronger at 65.

The oils were firmer, Home regaining 70 cents to close at 7.50, after reaching as high as 1.63. Calgary & Edmonton moved ahead 11 to 1.49, as Anglo-Canadian closed 6 higher at 76 and Vulcan sold up 3 to 45. Royalite was off 50 cents to 29.50.

Hope to Get Oil in Peace River

POUCE COUPE, B.C., Aug. 25 (CP) — Premier Pattullo today is visiting the Peace River constituency in the course of his 5,000-mile Northern air tour.

From Fort St. James the air trail led to the valley of the Peace, Finlay Forks, an dthe tumultous sea of the Rocky Mountain range that ends West of Hudson Hope.

At Hudson Hope the Premier stopped long enough to apprise himself of the latest developments in the oil exploration the government is conducting at Moberly Lake, 40 miles South.

There the Premier met Professor A. H. Cox, of the University of Wales, who is in charge of the survey. Professor Cox assured him the prospects for oil are most hopeful.

Less than two hours later, Mr. Pattullo told a gathering of 75 Peace River people at a dinner party at Fort St. John that the government expects to start drilling operations next year. He assured them, also, that he and the government will do all in their power to push the Peace River road outlet to the Coast as soon as possible.

Gold at Highest Price in History

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP). — Bar gold, establishing the highest level in history, was quoted 150s 6d, up 2s 1d from Thursday. In view of the fall in sterling the gold price this morning was established on the basis of supply and demand and bore no relationship to the dollar-sterling rate. Figured on the opening sterling rate of $4.68⅛ prior to withdrawal of the control fund the equivalent works out at $35.23.

Bar silver was quoted 20 1-16d, up 1 penny (equivalent 39.72 cents.)

Wheat Price at Chicago Loses

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP). — Europe's hesitancy on the brink of war upset wheat prices in leading North American markets today, causing a sharp slump that eliminated much of the gains registered during this week's war scare.

Chicago wheat tumbled more than two cents a bushel while losses at Winnipeg amounted to more than four cents. Some of the selling was credited to foreign interests offsetting purchases aboard.

DOES WELL ON PLACER CLAIM

CRESTON, B. C., Aug. 25, — Eighty-five dollars for his August operations is the showing of one of the placer operators, working 25 miles up Goat River from Kitchener, who was in that town at the first of the week for supplies.

Dan, as the miner is known, is just getting operations well under way, and had a better showing than on his previous trip out, when his earnings were about $30 less. With him on this trip were two associates who had been on the job a few weeks, who were so well satisfied with returns they pulled out for Cranbrook and Fernie in the hope of making a grubstake and coming back for a lengthy stay.

R. J. McDougall, Mining Engineer, of Fort Steel, who has conducted night school classes in mining at Kitchener, the past two seasons, is authoritatively reported to have staked some claims. A. Lepage and Lewis Simpson, quite oldtime residents at Kitchener, have also acquired claims and are expected to develop them.

There is a very healthy enquiry from U. S. people for placer claims and news of this modest success is likely to attract operators who are presumed to have capital.

$60,000 Theatre for Kimberley

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Aug. 25 — Garnet Blaine, Manager of the Orpheum Theatre at Kimberley, announced Thursday morning that the construction of a new theatre at the corner of Wallinger Avenue and Spokane Street would start immediately.

The contract was awarded to the Fabro Building & Supply Co., Ltd. of Kimberley. A large crew will be employed to rush the job through as quickly as possible. Henry Johnson, formerly associated with Moncrieff Co. will be the foreman in charge.

When completed, the building will be among the finest theatres in Western Canada. Everything will be new, including the seating and sound equipment. The total cost will be in the neighborhood of $60,000.

Montreal Stocks Up Due to Peace Hopes

MONTREAL, Aug. 25 (CP) — The stock market staged a mild recovery in late trading today on the strength of brighter peace hopes in Europe.

In constructions, steel of Canada, Algoma Steel, Asbestos and Dominion Bridge all strengthened. Rails up fractions to one point included Canadian Car common and preferred, C. P. R. Cosco and National Steel Car.

Smelters pushed up more than two points while smaller improvements were chalked up for nickel, Hollinger, and Hudson Bay Mining.

Other issues moving ahead included Imperial Oil, Canadian Celanese, Imperial Tobacco, Massey Harris, National Breweries and Seagrams.

B. C. Relief Rolls 18 Per Cent Higher Than Rolls in 1938

VICTORIA, Aug. 25 (CP)—Relief rolls in British Columbia reached a low point for the year in July, but were about 18 per cent higher than the corresponding month of last year, the Provincial Relief Department reported today.

Including welfare cases the department had 57,046 persons drawing relief including 13,360 heads of families, 36,203 dependents, and 7483 single persons.

This compared with 48,593 persons in July 1938, including 11,065 heads of families, 31,395 dependents and 6133 single persons.

Pound Sterling Reaches Lowest Level in 6 Years

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—The pound sterling today tumbled to its lowest level in six years in relation to the United States dollar as the British equalization fund withdrew its support from the unit and a heavy "war scare" demand for dollars forced it lower.

The move caused the French franc to drop, as the French control tied itself to sterling, and caused great confusion in the foreign exchange market here.

Few dealings were done in other currencies, bankers reported, and most of the day quotations were merely nominal. Scandinavian currency units, pegged to the pound, fell proportionately in the first rates given but later were not quoted.

The sudden drop in the British unit led to formation at a meeting at the New York federal reserve bank of a foreign exchange committee to cooperate with the bank in exchanging information concerning the market, particularly as it might be affected by the European crisis.

John W. Hanes, acting Secretary of State, said at Washington the British control had notified the treasury of the impending move and he added the tri-partite agreement between the United States, France and Great Britain, intended to prevent wide fluctuations in the currencies of the three countries, still remained in effect.

Closing rates, Great Britain in dollars, others in cents:

Great Britain, demand 4.47, Great Britain cables 4.49½; Canada, Montreal in New York 99.00, Canada, New York in Montreal 101.00; Belgium 17.00; Finland 2.00; France 2.56½; Germany 38.50, benevolent 18.00, travel 21.75; Greece .85⅝; Hungary 19.70; Italy 5.26¼; Netherlands 53.80; Poland 18.00; Portugal 4.10; Rumania .72; Switzerland 22.90; Argentina (official) 29.50, Argentina (free) 22.50; Brazil (official) 6.05; Brazil (free) 5.10; Mexico 17.20; Japan 26.30; Hong Kong 28.05; Shanghai 7.05; Yugoslavia 2.33.

U.S. Dollar Takes a Sharp Gain

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP). — Following withdrawal of the equalization fund control in an already nervous foreign exchange market the United States dollar rose sharply today and was finally quoted at $4.42 to the pound compared with $4.68⅛ for sterling in New York late yesterday.

French francs also made moderate advance in relation to sterling closing 176.56 to the pound against 176.72 the previous close.

85 Cases to Date at Cost $706,785; 14 Deaths

Mine operators have been advised by Victoria that an additional 2½ per cent assessment, based on the payroll of men covered by silicosis legislation, will be required this year to balance the books of the silicosis fund. The silicosis levy this year will amount to 5 per cent, over and above the regular workmen's compensation payments of 4 and 4½ per cent.

The circular advising mining men of this assessment stated that from January 1, 1936, awards to silicosis sufferers had amounted to $706,785.96. There had been 85 cases, 14 of which resulted in death.

Collections from the mining industry for 1936, 1937, 1938 and 1939 to date totalled $601,318.77, leaving a balance of $105,467.19. To cover that balance and cases anticipated up to the end of this year it was estimated $160,000 would be needed. Therefore an assessment of $2.50 per $100 on the payroll of those within the scope of the silicosis amendments would be made, the notice to mine operators said.

PAY 9½ PER CENT DOWNWARD

The added assessment means that mines this year will pay from 9½ per cent downward, in inverse ratio to their size and scale of operations, for workmen's compensation and the silicosis fund.

It works out at $148 a year for each miner and $133 for each mucker providing they work full time, wages for this district being $5 a day for miners and $4.50 for muckers. This is in addition to the "cent-a-day" contribution made by the miners themselves, which covers medical fees.

Mine owners agree with the principal of workmen's compensation, and with the principal of a silicosis fund to take care of miners suffering from this industrial disease. But they quarrel with the manner in which the regulations are applied, claiming they are an impediment to development of small, new properties.

HOW ASSESSMENTS WORK

This is how compensation and silicosis assessments work in actual practice, as described by an operator: All mining properties pay 4½ per cent compensation, with this figure reduced to 4 per cent if they operate a mill. All properties pay silicosis assessments for men who go underground. In the case of a larger company the average percentage is further reduced because of the number of men who are not employed underground—mill hands, blacksmiths, machinists and so on, whose work is considered less hazardous.

But for the small prospect under development it works oppositely: the fewer men, the more underground. When it comes to the very small prospect, where three or four men are employed, the whole crew spends some time each day underground, as a rule, and silicosis assessments must be paid for each man. In other words, for each man employed the operator pays 9½ per cent for compensation and silicosis fund.

Entries for West Kootenay Tennis Nelson Labor Day Weekend Reach 33

The West Kootenay annual lawn tennis tournament will take place in Nelson next Saturday afternoon and will continue until all competitions are completed the following Monday evening, Labor Day.

J. A. Stewart, Dr. L.J. Maureer and E. L. Hedley, in charge in Nelson, stated that entries to date seemed to justify the hope that it would be one of the best tournaments held in the district. With many more entries still anticipated, there are already 33 received, coming from as far as Salmon Arm, Kimberley, Cranbrook, Spokane and Idaho points.

The Committee this year was faced with the difficulty, that had not to be contended with in previous tournaments, that the courts at the Nelson Golf & Country Club had been allowed, through lack of play, to deteriorate to quite a serious extent. Now the courts are being put back in shape again and should be in excellent condition by next weekend.

For the first time play will be conducted in the tournament under floodlights, on the Nelson Civil Service courts, and this will prove of great assistance in the case of players who in previous years could not commence play until Sunday morning. A rule in force for this tournament is that at least one match must be played by each entrant Saturday evening.

On former occasions the continuous play for two days resulted in the entrants being so tired that when the finals were reached the players were nearly exhausted. Even one match played Saturday will aid in this respect, officials reported.

Play will take place at the four courts at the golf course and the two at the Court House.

Qualifying for Men, Ladies' Singles Golf Labor Day Weekend Here Starts

Qualifying play for the Kootenay Breweries Trophy for the ladies open singles championship and for the Leigh Cup for the men's open singles title will take place at the Nelson Golf and Country Club between today and August 31, Charles Blunt, Club Pro and Greenskeeper, reported Friday night.

These are two of the most popular tournaments held here each year. They are open to any golfer, Nelonsites and visitors. It is conducted on match play with no handicap. Qualifying scores determine the flights which each entrant shall enter.

Rain Friday afternoon and evening was very welcome to Nelson golfers, and it will keep the course in fine condition for the three-day tournament over the Labor Day weekend.

Elk Valley Is One Up in Junior Ball Crow Final Series

NATAL, B.C.—Behind the eight-hit pitching of Georgie Oley who struck out 12 batters, Junior Elk Valley Senators came from behind in the final innings to defeat the Junior Buffaloes 10-6 in the first game of their best-of-five series for the Natal-Michel junior championship. During the league the Junior Senators recorded 10 straight victories, winning five games from each of the other two teams, and promise to win the series in three straight games.

Home runs in the eighth inning by Salva, Krall and Letasy spelled disaster for pitcher Kombenac who came in for the Junior Buffaloes in the second inning to relieve Altomare. Up until that time he kept the heavy-hitting Elk Valley team guessing with his speed as he took them in his stride for five innings, allowing but four hits and striking out 10 batters. The game was umpired by P. Zeith of Natal.

It was the second drastic increase in rates in two days.

Mailing List for Mine Inquiries Is Plan of Chamber

Compiling of a mailing list, to whom notices would go forward when inquiries for mining properties were received, was decided upon by the Executive of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia Thursday night. It was felt such inquiries did not circulate sufficiently, and that a mailing list, by which interested mining men would be advised when an attractive inquiry was received, would help to remedy this.

A. Wilkinson's Mother Dies at Victoria at 79

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilkinson left Friday morning by motor for Victoria to attend the funeral of Mr. Wilkinson's mother Sunday after receiving word that she died Thursday night.

Mrs. Wilkinson was about 79 years old, and lived in Nelson for a number of years, leaving to reside at the Provincial Capital between 25 and 30 years ago. Her husband predeceased her by about 15 years.

Dick Halhed Is Added Announcer of Station CKLN

The new voice at Radio Station CKLN—heard for the first time at noon on Friday—is that of F. R. (Dick) Halhed, who has joined the staff as announcer-operator.

A native son of British Columbia, born and educated on Vancouver Island, Mr. Halhed comes to Radio Nelson from Victoria, where he was employed at Station CFCT for the past two years. A slight re-arrangement of schedule will result in "Morning Bulletin Board" listeners at 11 each morning being greeted by "Dick" instead of Gerry White, and the many friends of the Kootenay Lake General Hospital programme—which will be extended to occupy the half hour between 10 and 10:30—will now hear Dick's voice too. The station has announced that several new programmes are in process of construction, some to be developed by Dick Halhed and some by Gerry White. Hume Lethbridge, Manager of the Station, feels that the Nelson audience will now have two excellent announcers, bringing a wide experience in diversified lines, from two different stations.

Gerry White will continue on his own programme at 8 each morning, and as news announcer. He will also continue to serve radio advertisers as writer of their programmes and announcements, with Dick Halhed's help.

The commercial department of CKLN is now being represented locally by W. J. McLeod.
