Germany Declares Move Necessary to Forestall the Allies

BERLIN, Ma 10 (AP). — Germany launched military operations today against the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg to "safeguard" their "neutrality."

The official explanation for the sweeping campaign was that the British and French Allies were planning to attack Germany through the territories of the three.

"In order to ward off the impending attack," German troops received orders to safeguard the neutrality "of Belgium and the Netherlands," said an announcement by D. N. B., German News Agency.

"Since the offensive decided upon by France and England shall also include Luxembourg, the Reich's Government sees itself forced to expand the military operations under way for staving off attack also to include Luxembourg territory."

That was the way D.N.B. concluded the announcement which had been anticipated by Dutch correspondents already listening to their homeland radio broadcasts that German parachute troops had landed and were fighting in numerous places.

At the outset of the brief announcement D.N.B. said Germany had submitted to the Belgian and Netherlands Governments memoranda claiming evidence that the British and French were planning immediate attack on the Reich through territories of the two neutrals.

D.N.B. said the evidence "unequivocally proved" that the Allied attack would be toward the Ruhr through Belgium and the Netherlands.

"The Reich's Government therefore ordered German troops to safeguard the neutrality of these countries with all the military means of the Reich."

It was announced that Germany had addressed another memorandum to the Luxembourg Government."

According to the agency, Germany established in her memoranda to the Netherlands and Belgium that "she is reliably informed that England and France, in pursuance of their policy of expansion of the war, have decided to attack Germany in the near future via Dutch and Belgian territories."

2 Fined, Speeding in School Zone; 2 Others to Appear

Two men paid fines totalling $20 when they appeared in Police Court Thursday morning on charges of speeding through a school zone, and two more are to appear on similar charges today. The charges were laid following a City Police check-up Wednesday.

The two men who appeared before a Police Magistrate William Brown Thursday pleaded guilty. Each was fined $10.

Egil Alstad was charged with failing to slow from 30 miles per hour to 15 miles per hours in the Central School zone on Stanley Street about 2:45, Wednesday; and Richard Green was charged with failing to slow from 25 to 15 miles per hour in the same zone about 3 p.m.

Information was laid by Chief of Police Alex Stewart, who said two others have yet to appear.

PARIS AROUSED BY SECOND LONGEST ALARM

PARIS, May 10 (AP)—The second longest air raid alarm of the war, one hour and 48 minutes, roused sleeping Paris early this morning.

Anti-aircraft fire was heard above the sound of wailing sirens.

The alarm first sounded at 4:48 a.m. and ended at 6:36 a.m. It was the first alarm in Paris since Feb. 27, and the 10th of the war.

Alarms also were sounded in Northern France.

Slavs and Reds Work on Plans for Cooperation

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 9 (AP).—Yugoslavia and Soviet Russia have agreed to work at top speed on plans for political and military cooperation, it was reported authoritatively today.

The Yugoslav military mission headed by General Vojin Maximovic, Inspector of National Defence, is expected to leave for Moscow at the end of next week.

Concrete Soviet proposals will be brought here for submission to the Cabinet by the Yugoslav Trade delegation which is in the Soviet capital.

Simultaneously it was reported in Sofia that Russian diplomats had conveyed to Britain, France, Germany and Italy the desire of the U. S. S. R. to see no Balkan adventure by any of them.

Such a "fatal collision," it was stated, would hurt Soviet interests. The action, concerning which both Yugoslavia and Bulgaria were informed because they may become military partners with Russia, was taken after arrival of an Allied battle fleet at Alexandria and concentrations of both Italian and German troops near the Yugoslav frontiers.

MOSCOW, May 10 (Friday)—(AP).—Foreign reports that Soviet Russia has adopted a policy of Pan-Slavism and proceeding from this was encouraging Rumania to help Yugoslavia if the latter is attacked by Italy, were declared "ridiculous" in a statement today by Tass, Soviet News Agency.

"In the opinion of responsible Soviet quarters, Pan-Slavism in general, and in the sphere of foreign policy in particular, is a thoroughly reactionary trend incompatible with the policy of the Soviet State," Tass said.

Allies Will Go to Aid at Once Says Holland Legation

LONDON, May 10 (CP). — The Allies will give Belgium and the Netherlands their full aid, it was announced today.

LONDON, May 10 (CP). — The Netherlands Legation in London said today that "we are now Allies of Britain and France."

"Our appeal for aid sent to the Allied Governments has been answered and Britain and France are going to our assistance immediately," the Legation announced.

PARIS, May 10 (CP Havas). — The following is the first communique of the Netherlands' Army Quartermaster General on the German invasion today:

"German troops have crossed the Netherlands frontier starting at 3 o'clock.

"Aerial attacks have been launched on some airdromes.

"The army and anti-aircraft artillery are ready.

"The inundations are proceeding according to plans.

"At present as far as one knows at least six German airplanes have been shot down."

LONDON, May 10 (CP). — German forces are moving forward in an attempt to cut off communication between Belgium and France, Exchange Telegraph News Agency reported today.

In addition to an invasion by mechanized units German soldiers also were dropped by parachute from troop-carrying planes, the agency said.

The announcer over the Hilversum radio was heard here to say that German planes also flew over the Frisian Island.

The Hilversum radio broadcast a warning to the Dutch people that German parachute troops had descended, some in German and some in Dutch uniforms. The people were asked to watch for them.

The announcer said two big formations of planes were reported approaching the Netherlands.

Fifteen Heinkel bombers and 23 other bombers have crossed over into the Netherlands, the announcer added.

EDMONTON, May 9 (CP)—Fourteen new cases of red measles were reported today by Dr. G. M. Little, Edmonton health officer, bringing the total of persons afflicted to 61.

Nelson Board Is Inactive on Gas

When a telegram from the Vancouver Board of Trade failed to arrive, Nelson Board of Trade took no action at its luncheon Thursday on a suggestion that it should object to proposed gasoline legislation of the Provincial Government.

W. B. Bamford, Honorary President of the Board, reported a telephone call from T. G. Norris, Vancouver, in which the Coast man indicated a telegram would reach the Board during its luncheon. It was expected the telegram would ask Nelson to join a protest against legislation introduced at Victoria Wednesday under which the Government would be empowered to go into the gasoline business.

13 NAZI VESSELS HIT BY BRITISH; PLANES DOWNED

Submarines Attacking Convoys Find Marks

THREE AIR FIGHTS

LONDON, May 9 (CP).—Military successes by sea and air were announced in Britain today. At sea, the Admiralty reported that 13 German vessels had been hit by torpedoes from British submarines. In the air, two German planes were shot down off the Scottish coast.

The Admiralty bulletin did not disclose how many ships were sunk but indicated that three convoys had been attacked and that torpedoes found their marks in all in 13 vessels.

The vessels were not identified, but some observers believed that one of them may have been a Swedish freighter which was torpedoed earlier this week with a German prize crew aboard.

The air force today accounted for two German planes, shot down off the coast of Scotland. Tonight another encounter was reported in which a British Hurricane fighter attacked a German Junkers off the East coast. The German ship disappeared out to sea with smoke pouring from both engines.

Civilians in the streets of a Scottish town watched British fighting planes chase German raiders away from the coast.

The German victims were the 69th and 70th shot down over Great Britain or off the British coast since war began.

Watchers told of hearing bursts of machine-gun fire and seeing a German plane turn tail before its British assailant, firing as it fled.

The original communique on the encounter said: "The Air Ministry announces that shortly before midday today fighter aircraft of the Royal Air Force intercepted an enemy aircraft off the North Sea coast of Scotland and shot it down into the sea."

A supplementary communique this evening said: "It is now known that a second enemy aircraft was shot down in the combat already reported off the Northeast coast of Scotland this morning."

Blast at Belgium From Skies; Cross Dutch Border Zone

BRUSSELS, May 10 (Friday) (CP Havas). — Belgium appealed to Britain and France today to protect her against German invasion after the Evere Airport was bombed in the early morning hours.

The invasion began about 5 a.m. when German planes bombed the Brussels Airport.

The Belgian Foreign Ministry said the invasion was launched by bombardment of the Brussels Airport.

Great clouds of smoke could be seen rising from the airport while anti-aircraft batteries kept up a continual pounding against the invaders.

The Defense Minister immediately declared a "state of alarm" throughout the nation which in the World War learned the tragic cost of a German invasion.

Unconfirmed reports said that the neighboring Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, wedged in between the warring powers, also had been invaded by parachute troops which landed at Hassels.

The Belgian Cabinet went into emergency session as soon as the first news came through that the Netherlands was invaded.

Reports from the Netherlands said the Dutch Quartermaster General had announced German troops crossed the Netherlands frontier at 3 a.m. (6 p.m. P.S.T. Thursday).

Several houses around the Brussels airport were destroyed.

Belgians stood in the streets of Brussels in their night clothes watching blobs of anti-aircraft fire in the sky as military cars and motorcycles dashed through the streets.

Troop recall posters were posted throughout the city.

Nine planes passing over Belgium early today brought an air alarm as soldiers urgently were called to join their units. There were reports of parachute troops landing in the North but officials could not be reached to explain what had happened.

Three Convicted Toronto Assault

TORONTO, May 9 (CP).—All convicted of criminally assaulting and robbing the 26-year-old wife of a Royal Canadian Air Force member, three Toronto men will be sentenced by Mr. Justice J. Keiller MacKay Saturday.

An assize court jury today considered the case for three hours before returning a guilty verdict on both counts against Tony Bello and the Hill brothers, David and Leonard. The judge thanked the jury for its verdict which "meets with my complete approval."

The crown attempted to prove that on April 3 last the men forcibly urged the young woman into an automobile, drove her to a lonely suburb and there each assaulted her. On the return to Toronto, it was contended that she was struck and robbed of rings, watch and money.

Operations of the Nelson ferry on the West Arm were halted from midnight to 6 o'clock this morning so that repairs could be made. The ferry closes down periodically for repairs and alterations. The work was done by the Provincial Department of Public Works.

Hitler Offers to Free Norwegians

BERLIN, May 9—Adolf Hitler today tried to drive a wedge between Norway's Government and its people.

He bid for Norwegian sympathy by offering to release Norwegian soldiers captured by the German army. This liberty is unconditional for drafted soldiers but conditional for officers and regular members of the standing army.

He tried to place the responsibility for the bloodshed in Norway on King Haakon and the Cabinet of Johan Nygaarsvold, which he stigmatized as "the former Norwegian Government."

His alternative condition for liberty for these soldiers was that they disregard their Government's appeal and "individually obligate themselves by solemn word of honor under no circumstances to participate in further combative action against Germany."

FINNISH SHIP LOST

HELSINKI, May 9 (CP-Havas)—Loss of the 2262-ton Finnish freighter Martti-Ragnar following its seizure with a cargo of cellulose by Germans at Bergen, Norway, was announced here today by its owner B. R. Nordstroem and Company. The Germans forced the crew to sail the vessel for a German port. The Company said, but it ran aground near Stavanger, Norway and had to be abandoned.

Nazi Troops Drop From Air at Narvik; Meet Little Success

Believed Desperate as Norwegians Hold Them in Passes

ALLIES PREPARING FOR BIG ASSAULT

By ROBERT RIEFFEL
Havas Staff Writer

WITH ALLIED FORCES ON THE NARVIK FRONT, May 9 (CP Havas). — German parachute troops have been dropped near Narvik to reinforce hard-pressed Germans holding the Norwegian iron ore port against strong attacks by Norwegian, British, French and Polish troops.

The parachutists have met with little success. It was believed the German command has resorted to parachute reinforcements in desperation at finding the overland route to Narvik from Namsos in the South blocked by determined Norwegians in the trackless mountain passes.

British airplanes have been fighting off the German Air Force and bombing German ground positions, aided by artillery landed from British transports. The Allied troops, concentrated between Narvik Fjord and Salangen, 20 miles to the North, are preparing for a decisive assault on Narvik in which, however, they can hope for little aid from the British Navy.

Sunken wrecks left in Narvik Harbor after the recent naval battles, and mines laid by German airplanes at the harbor mouth appeared to preclude any attempt by warships to effect a landing. Heavy damage done to the docks by British bombs and coastal defence guns set up by the Germans would also hamper an attack from the sea.

Norwegian officers here believe the troops on shore can take the town, in cooperation with Allied planes, as soon as the weather improves. The Sixth Norwegian Division, commanded by General Karl Fleischer, is reinforced by heavy contingents of Allied troops including detachments specially trained in mountain fighting. French Alpine Chasseurs and Polish battalions from the crags of the Urals and Carpathians are expected to lead the attack through the Arctic defiles of the Norwegian mountains.

Norwegian officers expressed little fear that German reinforcements might arrive overland from the South to complicate the situation at Narvik. They said Norwegian troops which retreated from Namsos when the Allies evacuated Central Norway have established a line of defence through Mosjoen, Elsfjord and Korgen, South of Mo. Even if the Germans managed to break this line, they would have to advance about 230 miles Northward to reach Narvik through mountains untraversed even by wagon roads.

The strip of Norwegian territory between Sweden and the sea is so narrow at many points along this route that German columns would come under heavy fire from British warships in the fjords. The British Navy could also intervene effectively if the Germans attempted to make any part of the journey by boat.

British Troops to Land in Iceland

LONDON, May 10 (Friday) (CP)—Great Britain took protective custody of Iceland today by landing an armed force on the North Atlantic island which was united to German-occupied Denmark by the tie of the crown.

The Foreign Office announced this action was taken to prevent the seizure of Iceland by Germany.

The Foreign Office issued the following announcement—

"Since the German seizure of Denmark it has become necessary to reckon with the possibility of a sudden German descent upon Iceland.

"It is clear that in the face of an attack on Iceland even on a very small scale the Icelandic Government would be unable to prevent their country falling completely into German hands.

"His Majesty's Government have accordingly decided to preclude this possibility, which would deprive Iceland of her independence, by themselves landing a force in Iceland. This operation was carried out this morning.

"His Majesty's Government have given explicit guarantees to the Icelandic Government that this force has been landed to ensure the security of Iceland against a German invasion and that any further measures that may have to be taken will be designed for that purpose. This force will be withdrawn upon the conclusion of hostilities.

"His Majesty's Government have made it plain to the Icelandic Government that they have no intention or desire to interfere with the existing administration of the island, further, that they are prepared at once to negotiate with the Icelandic Government an agreement on trade matters which it is anticipated will bring material advantage to the inhabitants."

C.C.F. Four-Point Program Would Have B.C. Control Gas Industry

VICTORIA, May 9 (CP)—A four-point program which included a recommendation that the Provincial Government take immediate control of the British Columbia gasoline industry was outlined in the Legislature today by Harold Winch, C.C.F. Leader.

Speaking in the debate on the Petroleum Sales Act which would permit the Government to enter the gasoline business, the member for Vancouver-East urged:

1. Immediate control of the oil industry to prevent a repitition of the impasse which occurred when the oil companies shut off supplies rather than accept the three-cent reduction per gallon in wholesale prices ordered by the Provincial Fuel Board.

2. Alteration of the act from permissive "intimidatory" legislation effective by proclamation to a mandatory statute providing for Government ownership.

3. Immediate opening of negotiations with a "safe" oil supply to prevent possible "blockading" tactics by Canadian and United States oil companies.

4. The Government enter immediately into negotiations with British interests for the purpose of utilizing recent inventions relative to the manufacture of gasoline from coal so that in future British Columbia will not be solely dependent upon foreign sources of supply.

"British Columbia has every right to utilize any means to obtain control of oil companies in this Province," Mr. Winch said. "It can be done by confiscation.

"The C.C.F. will confiscate, if necessary and give compensation if warranted. This legislature has the power to do so constitutionally."

The C.C.F. leader declared the pending bill was not good legislation, since it was permissive, not mandatory, and intimidatory as well.

"It is a swell act to get campaign funds out of the oil companies," he charged. "It is a proclamation bill. We may, we may, we may everywhere in it. Kick through or we shall.

"This session should decide whether we are going into business or not. The companies still have control. They are actually controlled by the Imperial Oil which in turn is controlled by the Standard Oil of New Jersey.

"There are only three independent companies left in the United States and one of them is semi-independent only. . . ."

Crude oil was from nine to 15 per cent cheaper, yet the gasoline companies claimed they could not continue in operation with the recent cut of two cents a gallon ordered by the Fuel Board, Mr. Winch charged.

Stating that the public still were being overcharged, the speaker showed an advertisement in a Cranbrook paper offering gasoline at 30 cents a gallon. This was during the recent tieup of supplies. Yet the new order No. 11 set the price at 32 cents. The gasoline came from Alberta and met all British Columbia requirements.

Attorney-General Wismer interjected that that angle should be brought to the attention of Chairman W. A. Carrothers of the Fuel Board.

Mr., Mrs. Hipperson, Mrs. Kidwell, and Mrs. Hardington Win Cards

Outscoring 23 other tables, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hipperson, Mrs. W. P. Kidwell and Mrs. W. J. Hardington carried off first prizes at the Eagles Thursday night military whist. Consolation prizes went to the table of Len Warren, J. Maglio, J. DeRidder, and George Chadney.

Geno Genero was Master of Ceremonies, while the refreshment committee comprised Al Smith, William Smiley and H. Froglage.

Congratulations Go to Blaylock on Medal Award

S. G. Blaylock of Trail, President of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, will be tendered the congratulations of the Nelson Board of Trade on having won the gold medal of the Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, London, for outstanding achievements in advancing the science of metallurgy in the Dominion.

At its luncheon Thursday at the Hume the Board by resolution decided to extend a message of congratulation to Mr. Blaylock and his associates.

ROOSEVELT CALLS A CONFERENCE FOR TODAY

WASHINGTON, May 10 (Friday)—(AP).—President Roosevelt called a conference for 10:30 a.m. today of State, Justice, Naval and Army experts to fix the neutrality limits for American ships in light of the German invasion of the low countries.

He also directed Secretary Morgenthau to take steps before the markets open in the morning to "freeze" the credits of Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg so that the funds of these nations cannot be alienated.

The President stayed up far into the early morning hours because of the news from Europe to complete these arrangements.

Thompson Named Honorary Prexy of Trail Lacrosse

TRAIL, B. C., May 9 — A. B. Thompson, member of the Trail High School teaching staff, who was instrumental in organizing the Trail Junior Lacrosse League and has been the Junior Lacrosse Club President during the five years it operated, was elected Honorary President at the club's reorganization meeting Thursday night when he announced he was unable to continue in any active capacity due to the fact he would be absent from the city during the Summer months.

Bruno Sammartino was elected President; Rae Billingsley, Vice-President; Tom Fraser, Secretary; and Ken Weir, Bob Forbes and Mario Distefano, Executive Committee.

A representative of the Rossland Junior Lacrosse Club expressed the desire to enter the league and offered use of its "box" for games in Rossland. This matter and that of obtaining use of the Trail rink for home games, was referred to the executive.

Votes of thanks were tendered Mr. Thompson; P. F. McIntyre, Chairman of the Trail-Tadanac Parks Board; William Ramsay, Manager of the Trail rink; and the T. A. A. A. which sponsored the club last year.

Widdowsons Married 35 Years; Celebrate Anniversary Quietly

Thirty-five years of married life were celebrated quietly at their home Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Widdowson, pioneer residents who were married in Nelson May 9, 1905.

Mrs. Widdowson entertained a few friends at tea in the afternoon and the couple received a large number of telephone calls, telegrams and cards congratulating them on their thirty-fifth anniversary.

Mrs. Widdowson was the former Miss Ruth Tipping of Stockport, England. They were married in St. Saviour's Church by Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham, then the Rev. Mr. Graham.

Trophies Presented Legion Bowlers Banquet; 'Chappie' Says 'Farewell'

Happy camaraderie of most sports gatherings was prevalent at the annual Canadian Legion Bowling Club featured by the presentation of prizes won in the past season, but as the bowlers marked the close of another successful season there was a note of sadness interjected with the announcement that their President "Chappie" was giving up the game.

"HAIL AND FAREWELL"

Organizer and President of the Club since it was revived several seasons ago, J. H. Chapman, "Chappie" to the bowlers, in giving his annual review of the season's play and other activities, closed with, "bowlers, this is my last hail and farewell to the game. I only hope you have continued success and give your next President the same cooperation I received."

"I've had a lot of fun, but I'm tired", said the 65-year-old President.

"You'll be back again next year, though Chappie" was the general feeling expressed by the bowlers. A vote of appreciation was passed.

Mrs. F. Clark, 22, Years at Winlaw, Dies in Nelson

A resident of Winlaw for 22 years, Mrs. Florence Clark, 72, died in Nelson early Thursday morning after suffering a stroke. She had been living at 253 Baker Street for about three months, and had been in indifferent health.

Born in Killingbek, near Leeds, England, she came to Canada in 1882, settling in Manitoba. It was there that she met her husband, H. George Clark. They moved to British Columbia in 1917, settling at Winlaw.

Surviving her besides her husband are four sons, Harry, Winlaw; Charles Edward, Nelson; Frank and Oulmer, Central Butte, Sask.; one daughter, Miss Mildred, at home; 11 grandchildren; and two brothers and two sisters in Vancouver. Another son died 11 years ago.

Board of Trade Will Advise Public Works Spokane Men Coming

Provincial Department of Public Works office at Nelson will be advised by the Nelson Board of Trade that the Inland Empire Relations Committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce will visit Nelson Thursday; and will request that any minor road conditioning possible on the Nelson-Nelway route may be carried out. The Spokane party will return home via Ymir, Salmo and Nelway.

"All that they could do would not be too much," said Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham, making the suggestion.

O. G. Gallaher, Engineer, had told him he would do all in his power, reported John Learmonth.

Province Must Take Initiative Obtaining Road Funds at Ottawa

Roads and Bridges Committee of the Nelson Board of Trade was charged Thursday by the Board with drafting a letter to Hon. Capt. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, explaining that the Board was unable to ask for Dominion funds for the Nelway-Nelson road; that the initiative in obtaining such funds rested upon the Province.

Full information was already in the files of the Nelson Board, reported C. B. Garland, who with C. F. McHardy was appointed to interview W. K. Esling, M.P., on this question. Mr. Esling forwarded the information some time ago.

Mr. Leary recently suggested, while in Nelson, that the Board should work for Dominion assistance on conditioning the road.

September 9, 10, 11 Dates for Convention of Doctors in Nelson

Dr. F. M. Auld informed the Board of Trade Thursday that the 1940 convention of the B. C. Medical Association would be held in Nelson September 9, 10 and 11. Dr. Auld is President of the Association.

He was assured of Board of Trade cooperation.

Walter Kitto Is Head Eagles Here

Walter Kitto Wednesday evening was elected President to head the Nelson Aerie of Eagles for 1940. Other officers elected were: J. W. Johnson, Past President; Roy McKay, Chaplain; Albert Smith, Secretary; Harry Wassick, Treasurer; James Cummins, Inside Guard; and Horace Morgan, Trustee.

Miss M. Thompson, Going to England, Honored by League

Miss Malys Thompson, who plans to leave today for her home in England, was the guest of honor at a surprise party given by the Nelson Branch of the League of Nations Society at the home of her brother, A. G. Thompson, Gordon Road.

She was presented with a souvenir of silverware and a letter of appreciation for her helpful work with the Nelson Branch. The letter, read by Rev. Dr. J. W. Stevenson, was signed by the officers. They were A. G. Thompson, President; Dr. Stevenson, Vice-President; and Mrs. R. L. Oliver, Secretary-Treasurer. The evening was spent in games and entertainment. Refreshments were served.

Miss Thompson, who has been in Nelson about a year, was formerly in the London branch office of the League. She plans to go into war work. She would keep in touch with the Nelson Branch, she said.

NELSON ENTERTAINERS AT PROCTER TONIGHT

A group of young Nelson entertainers will visit Procter tonight for a concert. The program will consist of three groupings. The first will be the "Fairview Wranglers", CKLN Radio Nelson entertainers, followed by four girls in a Mexican dance and song. Then the St. Joseph's Kilmer Club will present "Sudden Thoughts", a prize entry in the third annual West Kootenay Drama Festival. Miss Pamela Terry will give her prize elocution number of the Kootenay Music Festival. A social hour will follow the entertainment.

Nelson Board of Trade Indorses Five Road Resolutions to Go to Associated

14 Resolutions So Far for the Annual Meeting

Nelson Board of Trade on Thursday indorsed five district Boards in resolutions urging improvement and completion of the Yahk-Gray Creek Rossland-Paterson, Rossland-Cascade and Hope-Princeton roads; but left its delegates uninstructed on a resolution recommending that the Government abandon spray coating of unimproved roads and instead undertake permanent work.

These and eight other resolutions, dealing with radio reception in East Kootenay; daylight saving; depletion of trees along scenic highways; presentation of resolutions to the Provincial Government; the war-time tax on domestic light; public consideration of matters upon which the Government is legislating; wider distribution of the cost of school taxation; and action on domestic problems clouded over by war activity—will be presented to the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia when the annual meeting is held at Fernie, May 27 and 28.

Resolutions total 14 to date.

INDORSE ROADS

The Board gave its backing to Kimberley's requests for completion of the Yahk-Gray Creek section of the Southern Transprovincial Highway; to Trail's request for completion of the Rossland-Paterson road, provided this was linked with improvement of the Nelway-Nelson road, to Grand Forks and Rossland resolutions urging improvement of the Rossland-Cascade section of the Southern Highway; and to a Grand Forks resolution urging completion of the Hope-Princeton link to provide a complete Southern Transprovincial route.

Delegates were also uninstructed on a Kimberley resolution urging the Government to take steps to prevent depletion of trees along scenic roads, and consequent loss of scenic beauty.

The daylight saving resolution, urging advanced Summer time throughout the Province, and the resolution urging the Association to send a delegation to Victoria to press home its requests originated in the Nelson Board.

SUPPORT KIMBERLEY, RADIO

Nelson supported Kimberley on the request for improved radio reception in East Kootenay; but it left its delegates uninstructed on Kimberley's resolution urging steps to prevent depletion of trees along scenic highways.

Delegates were also uninstructed on the Trail proposal that the Government, before bringing down legislation, should make such legislation available for public discussion.

Because it offered no solution to the difficulty, the Board left its delegates uninstructed on the Trail resolution urging that the Provincial Government should absorb a larger proportion of school costs and so spread these costs over a larger section of the population.

Grand Forks, fearing that war activity was diverting money from such urgent domestic problems as unemployment, health insurance, public works and so on, and that many centers where there was no war activity were not benefitting from war expenditures, urged that necessary financial and monetary arrangements should be made for proper expenditures for domestic problems requiring funds. Delegates were uninstructed.

Kaslo Man Found Hanging in Barn; Buried Thursday

Funeral services were held at Kaslo Thursday for Findlay McDougall who was found dead, hanging in a barn at his home near Kaslo Monday afternoon.

A brief report by Provincial Police headquarters at Nelson said that McDougall had been in Kaslo Sunday to see a man about some horses, and that this man went to his home about 1:30 Monday afternoon to discuss them further. He found McDougall hanging. An inquiry was held Wednesday by Dr. D. J. Barclay, Coroner.

McDougall, about 55 years of age, was a veteran of the First Great War and had lived alone since the death of his wife several years ago. A son is believed to be at Wells.

Future of Fair Should Rest on Council—Barnes

Since the City Council had been called upon to make up deficits of Nelson Fall Fairs in recent years, the onus of deciding whether or not the Fair was to continue should be upon the Council, asserted R. D. Barnes at a meeting of the Nelson Board of Trade Thursday at the Hume.

His remark followed a letter from George Horstead, Secretary of the Fair Board, stating attendance of appointed directors at meetings had been disappointing and the question of abandoning the Fair was under consideration.

S. T. Oidham, Board of Trade representative, said it seemed probable the Fair had outlived its usefulness. It was intended primarily for farmers, and smaller exhibitions at district points might be more valuable in this respect. While the Fall Fair "does bring a certain amount of business to town, it's probable a couple of good lacrosse games would do as much," he added.

No action was taken.

To Study U. S. Navy and Air Programs

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—An extraordinary study of the United States navy's shipbuilding and aviation programs, with a view to making the United States "dominant" in warships and seaplanes, was announced tonight by Chairman Carl Vinson of the House of Representatives Naval Committee.

Vinson disclosed that his committee would begin the special inquiry next week to determine whether navy yards and private industry had been making progress "commensurate with the appropriations of Congress."

B. C. Awaits Oil Strike in Peace River—Pattullo

Not to Go Into Gas Business Right Away

VICTORIA, May 9 (CP)—The British Columbia Government does not intend to go into the gasoline business immediately, Premier T. D. Pattullo told the Legislature today in moving second reading of the Petroleum Sales Act.

The act merely gave the government authority to do so if oil was struck in the Peace River district of the Province where the government started oil drilling operations last Tuesday, the Premier said.

Mr. Pattullo said that sooner or later the measure would be brought into effect as great hopes were held out for success in the Peace River District.

It was not the intention of the Government, he added, to interfere with any business. He was an individualist but was in favor of control where control was essential in the public interest.

"I wish this Legislation would be the end of such measures," he told members, "but I am afraid that other big business may try to flout the law as the oil companies did."

In such circumstances, he said, his Government would not hesitate to act in the interests of the people.

R. L. Maitland, K.C., leader of the Conservative opposition who followed the Premier, said the act gave the government powers never before given to any cabinet and was a march in the direction of bureaucracy.

Under the Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board Act, Mr. Maitland continued, there was no right of appeal to the courts. The Premier had said he might have to take similar steps in other industries. If this policy continued, said the Conservative leader, no business was safe from interference. He agreed conspiracy to monopolize and raise prices without justification should be punished.

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said the Petroleum Sales Act did not give any power to encroach into business. It merely gave authority to go into the oil business.

Referring to the Fuel Board's three cent reduction order Mr. Wismer said he had suggested to one oil firm that the companies go to the board and prove increased costs of production. Instead, they went on strike and the only action left the Government was to bring in legislation so that such a situation should not arise again he added.

Trail and Rossland Soroptimists to Be Guests Nelson Club

Turkish Fleet in Battle Positions on the Aegean Sea

Led by the battle cruiser Yavus, foreground, the Turkish navy took positions in the Aegean Sea between Turkey and Greece as the Italian navy manoeuvred near the Dodecanese Islands where the Aegean merges with the Mediterranean. The general feeling is reported to be that Italy is preparing to announce her decision to fight with the Nazis against the Allies. In this event, the Turkish navy will be called upon to prevent Italian warships from entering the Dardanelles. The Valleta, another Turkish cruiser now in the Aegean, is shown beside the Yavus with destroyers and submarines in the background.

Canada's Navy Keeps Supply Route to Britain Open

Living up to their tradition of being "the silent service", the Canadian navy is grimly pursuing its duties in the Atlantic and Pacific, protecting the ugly, unromantic freighters which carry vital supplies to Britain in an never ending stream, through waters where German submarines in the last war spread havoc among Allied shipping. Aboard one of the Canadian destroyers on convoy duty, these gunners are shown as they manned their guns and swept the sky with keen eyes for any signs of hostile aircraft.

Treatment of "Trench Mouth"

By LOGAN CLENDENNING, M.D.

Does the removal of the tonsils affect the voice?

Singers used to be cautioned against having their tonsils out. It was said that their removal would influence the register of the voice so that the whole range would be lowered.

According to modern beliefs, removal of the tonsils enlarges the throat cavity, both in breadth and height, which tends to result in a fuller and more resonant voice. If the operation is advisable, the singer can be assured that no unfavorable change will take place. In fact, the removal of the tonsils does not affect the singing or the speaking voice either one way or the other in most instances. Only if a heavy scar remains is the voice changed for the worse.

Throat sugeons who are used to treating opera, stage and screen folk advise that the voice should be used soon after a tonsil operation—scale exercises the first two or three days after, humming at first. On the sixth day after operation a trial at singing should be made, but using only half the volume.

What is trench mouth—nature of infection, treatment and consequences?

Vincent's angina is an infectious disease which seems to have been endemic throughout the world for a long time, but was not forcibly brought to the attention of more than a few physicians and dentists until it became epidemic in the armies during the World War, when it became known as "trench mouth." Since then it has occurred with increasing frequency in the civilian population. It affects the tonsils, soft palate and especially the gums, where a chronic form may supervene on the acute phase. The affected parts have an ugly gray membrane, underneath which the parts are likely to bleed. A fetid odor of the breath is common.

ITS TREATMENT

In treatment, hot water gargles and rest, with a liquid diet (the mouth is too sore to allow of solid food), should be used during the acute stage. Later, antiseptics such as hydrogen peroxide or tincture of iodine should be applied to the infected areas. Reasoner and Gill have shown that toilet soaps have a germicidal property toward the offending germs, and may be used as dentifrices with benefit.

A chronic form occurs in which little pain or soreness develops. The gums are red and spongy, bleed easily and often a little pus can be squeezed from the gum margin. Many cases of pyorrhoea have the Vincent's germs as the causative organisms. Such cases are best treated by the dentist.

In still another group of cases, the Vincent's germs can be cultivated from the mouth, but they are doing no harm, simply living on the mouth secretions.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. L. M.: "Please furnish a list of up-to-date books on human foot anatomy and foot disorders. Do you recommend arch supports for weak feet? I have been advised to get made-to-measure arch supports. Are these superior to the ready-made kind?"

Answer: Dickson and Diveley's "Functional Disorders of the Foot" (published by Lippincott) is a modern exposition of foot troubles. I do not recommend any single method of treatment for weak feet. Some need arch supports; others exercise. Made-to-measure supports are naturally better; your feet didn't get flat on a ready-made pattern.

Nyinksey Barred as U. S. Visitor

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ JR.
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

ZURICH, May 9 (AP).—Vaslav Nijinsky, renowned dancer who knew the heights of World acclaim before mental disorders blighted his career two decades ago, was blocked by the United States Consulate today from visiting the United States.

Despite a Labor Department ruling that the dancer should not be barred because of insanity—astate from which he is emerging gradually—the Consulate refused Nijinsky a six months visitor's visa on the grounds that spread of the war might prevent his return to Europe.

To his wife, Mme. Romola Nijinsky, it was a bitter setback in a two-year fight to take the great dancer to the United States for further treatment from a Viennese physician.

Insulin shock treatments administered by the Viennese physician, Dr. Manfred Sakel, already have brought Nijinsky back from the twilight of schizophrenia, enabling him to leave the sanitarium where he had been confined since 1919.

Sakel has gone to the United States and the Nijinskys wish to follow him for more treatments.

Driver Unaware Passenger Dead

TORONTO, May 9 (CP)— Investigating the wreckage of an automobile here today, police found the crumpled body of 45-year-old George Simpson slumped in the rear seat.

Apparently unaware one of his passengers was dead, George Herbert, driver of the car, took a taxi and proceeded to his home. He was found in bed by police and later charged with careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Herbert and three other passengers in the car suffered minor injuries when the vehicle crashed into a hydro pole and after receiving emergency hospital treatment, went to their homes.

When the survivors tumbled out of the car they were unaware Simpson was dead, they told police.

Sufferings . . .

Sympathy for Bashful Boys

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

There comes a time in nearly every boy's life when he looks down on girls as very inferior creatures, from about nine to 12 years of age. It was during this period when one of my boys refused to have his picture taken with his sister, a few years younger.

"What will the boys think of me if I have my picture taken with a girl?" he asked with great feeling. It was a serious, solemn matter. The issue was not pressed.

There also comes a time (from about 11 to 14) when a boy is fearfully self-conscious in the presence of a girl. This is no time for us to make fun of him. He needs our sympathy and understanding then, for his suffering may be very intense.

RECALLS EXPERIENCE

William Lyon Phelps, in his Autobiography with Letters (Oxford University Press), recalling his experiences on graduation from grammar school, gives us a vivid reminder.

"The 24 hours before graduation exercises were among the unhappiest of my life. The reason for this may seem ridiculous, but my agony was real. All the boys and girls who were to receive diplomas were carefully drilled to march in to the auditorium two by two, first the girls, then the boys. The principal in addressing us said there was an odd number of boys and an odd number of girls. . . . "The girls will walk in two by two, then Willie Phelps and Alice Post will follow arm in arm, then will come the boys." I could not have felt worse had he announced my execution.

"My own sufferings in childhood from bashfulness and self-consciousness were so acute that I have ever since had profound sympathy for any bashful boy or girl. Older people laugh at this, which is brutal; one might as well laugh at a boy writhing in physical torment. . . . Yet, all that night I saw myself entering the auditorium, the only boy with a girl, and the entire audience grinning at me. I seriously thought of running away—I was thirteen years old and the smallest boy in the class."

CONFUSED BY GIRLS

He said that in the presence of girls he was hopelessly confused and tongue-tied. Sometimes while walking on the street, if I saw one a hundred yards away whom I knew and to whom I must therefore remove my hat, I would dive into a side street, or hide in a yard until she had safely passed."

Then he tells of how at the graduation exercises he suffered because he had to laugh and couldn't stop. "It was sheer nervousness." . . "I was often afraid in the church and prayer meetings that I should laugh, not because anything struck me as funny, but just because I did not want to laugh. This is a curse that particularly afflicts bashful, self-conscious, imaginative boys and girls."

This account by Dr. Phelps should help parents to want to be more considerate of the feelings of our children, especially at the dawn of the teens.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. Should a mother kiss her baby?

A. Of course she should, but not on the lips lest she kill him through spreading disease. What babies and children need is more love, not less of it. However, genuine parental love is not limited to kisses and caresses. Perhaps the best medium of affection is the voice then it is soft and low, expressing sympathy, interest and understanding.

Stay Calm When Husband Rages

Dear Miss Chatfield:

I often think that wives living in town are luckier than us farmers' wives in many ways. When all is quiet down on the farm it is a good life and I am contented to stay here. But when my husband goes off on one of his temper jags I want to get away and there's nowhere to go. If there were a movie nearby or any sort of place of amusement such as city women have I think I could manage better.

When I married my husband I thought he was a gentleman farmer. I had great respect for him and loved him, too. Soon after marriage I found he had the most vicious temper and absolutely no control. He storms, kicks me and the children and then goes out and does something spiteful. Yesterday evening he turned the calves in with the cows and there was not a drop of milk. This was spiting us for having moved a magazine he had been reading.

It wouldn't be so bad except that the children are coming along the same way. They fight like tigers and I can't control them. They inherited their father's bad temper and they follow his example in giving way to it. My family wants me to walk out and sometimes I'm tempted to do it.—S. G.

Answer: Friend, it isn't what's on the outside in the way of amusements that enables a woman to handle an uncontrolled emotionally unstable husband but rather what's inside herself. The sort of rages your husband indulges in are one step this side of insanity and if he keeps on as he's going, one day you'll probably have to lock him up. You might reason with him on this score when he's in a peaceful mood.

In the meantime, you can exercise special care to avoid doing and saying the things that bring on rages and, when they come in spite of your care, keep calm and refuse to be embroiled in a fight. Even if the children did enherit their father's terrible temper, their mother's influence is stronger than his. The home environment, created largely by the mother, is the big factor in children's lives.

A serene spirit in the midst of an uproarious crowd has the same effect as oil on troubled waters. A mother who is self-restrained makes an unrestrained father appear cheap and shoddy and contemptible to the children making the inevitable comparison. Isn't this a better plan for a wife to follow than walking out and taking the children with her?

Pedicure . . .

Feet Should Have Little Attention

By DONNA GRACE

Today's beauty schedule for business girls is devoted to the feet. When we think of the tasks we impose on them, they certainly are entitled to at least one day of the week for special consideration.

We know of course, that good fitting shoes are of first importance, and fortunately we've out-grown the old-fashioned idea that the smaller the shoe size, the more attractive we were.

Begin your foot treatment with a warm foot bath, including a thorough scrubbing with a thick creamy lather of warm water and soap. After rising, soak them in an Epsom salt solution. Dissolve a pound of Epsom salts in the hot foot bath and you can sit on the side of the tub and let the water run enough to cover the ankles. After five minutes, let the hot water out and run the cold water from the faucet on them until they are cool and refreshed.

Massage the feet with a soothing cream or lotion, then lie down for 10 minutes with the feet and legs elevated on a pillow and you'll be ready for your pedicure.

Open sandals, gay wedgies and play shoes draw attention to the feet and they have to be smooth, white and smartup pedicured to flatter these gay shoe designs.

Inspect the nails and file them as you would for a manicure. Smooth them with the emery board and buff with a powder polish. Follow with your cuticle remover and an orangewood stick wrapped in cotton, work around and under each nail thoroughly. When all the loose cuticle is removed, scrub each toe. Rinse and dry well and make sure each nail is perfectly clean and smooth before applying your polish.

Small tufts of cotton can be placed between each toe to prevent any overlapping and protect the polish until it dries.

Finish with a lotion or cream to smooth and whiten the foot. Then check up on your shoes. See that they are in order—shining and with straight heels. Sprinkle the sides with a foot powder.

TODAY'S EXERCISE

This is a bending and stretching movement. Stand erect, knees rigid with feet one step apart. Bend forward from the waist and touch the right foot with the left hand. The right arm is stretched up and back as you bend. Back to first position, and alternate with the right hand on the left foot. Repeat 10 times for each leg.

Baked Eggs in Toast Cups
Scalloped Potatoes
Buttered Greens
Cottage Cheese Salad
Date Tarts Coffee

BAKED EGGS IN TOAST CUPS

Cut a thick slice of bread (one-half inch) and hollow out by using cookie cutter, pressing one-half way through slice.

Remove cut layer of bread, being careful not to cut too deeply. Drop fresh egg into hollow and place in moderately hot oven until egg is set and bread browned. Butter top of case and egg, and salt and pepper and serve at once.

COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

Make nests of lettuce, put mounds of cottage cheese on top, seasoned with salt, pepper, chopped green pepper, green onion tips or chives. Serve plain or with any dressing desired.

DATE TARTS

Four egg whites, two cups powdered sugar, one-half pound dates, one-half pound almonds, one teaspoone vanilla. Shell and blanch almonds by pouring boiling water over them, then removing brown skins.

Wash dates, removing stones and chop dates and nuts very fine. Beat whites of eggs stiff but not dry, fold in fruit and nut mixture; add vanilla. Form in small mounds in buttered pan, bake in slow oven (275-300 degrees F.) until a delicate brown, about 20 minutes.

CAFE CHANTILLY

One egg white, two tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one-fourth cup heavy cream, whipped, and hot, freshly-made coffee.

Beat egg white until stiff but not dry; add sugar gradually and continue beating; add vanilla.

Fold in whipped cream and egg together. Top each cup of coffee with a spoonful of this mixture. Makes six to eight servings.

COFFEE EGG NOG

Two egg yolks, five teaspoons sugar, two cups double-strength, freshly-made coffee, two cups milk, scalded, and two egg whites.

Beat egg yolks and sugar together until well blended. Add freshly-made hot coffee and milk. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, add the coffee-milk mixture. Serves six.

CARAMEL CHARLOTTE RUSSE

For six servings use one cup evaporated milk, one and one-half teaspoons gelatin, two tablespoons cold water, one-half cup sugar, one-fourth cup boiling water, few grains salt and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Chill milk thoroughly. Soften gelatin in cold water and set over hot water to dissolve.

Caramelize sugar, add the boiling water slowly and cook until caramel is dissolved. Add salt. Cool slightly and add dissolved gelatin. Cool. When gelatin mixture begins to thicken, whip milk stiff and fold into gelatin mixture. Add vanilla. Pour into a mold lined with lady fingers. Chill before serving.

APPLE CAKE

Use left-over cooked apples to make a good cake. To four ounces cooked apples, add one ounce bread crumbs, two large tablespoons marmalade, a little grated lemon rind and a beaten egg.

Make some short pastry, line pans with it and put in a spoonful of the apple mixture. Bake 10 minutes in quick oven.

HOT CHEESE BISCUITS

Take two ounces grated Parmesan cheese, add the same weight of butter and flour. Knead together and roll to the desired thickness.

Cut into small rounds and bake for 10 minutes. If liked, these biscuits may be spread with a little anchovy or sardellen butter before serving.

Dr. Gunn Urges Vaccination for Horse Disease

CRANBROOK, B. C.—Dr. Wallace R. Gunn, Livestock Commissioner for the Department of Agriculture is visiting in East Kootenay, in connection with organization work for vaccination of horses against encephalomyelitis, horse sleeping sickness.

He is emphatic that the vaccination must be continued this year to supplement last year's efforts that had such marked results in cutting down of the disease.

The disease made its initial B. C. appearance in the Cranbrook district in July, 1938. Forty-eight hours after the Cranbrook case was reported, Dr. Gunn was here and began the program in the province which showed results the following year in the statistics of 15 or 29 suspected cases reported few of which were positively diagnosed.

The improvement in the situation is ascribed directly to the universal vaccination of animals in the danger zones, according to Dr. Gunn, with 16,000 to 20,000 horses receiving the two-dose treatment last Spring.

However, Dr. Gunn insists the danger if an epizootic year is not yet over, and the vaccination must be repeated this year.

The Department's method of carrying out the vaccination policy was to organize each district with a committee in charge. Public co-operation, Dr. Gunn said, was the most important single feature.

The vaccination must be completed before the danger season, and by early in June last year the program was completed. All cases that were positively diagnosed in 1939 were in animals which had not been vaccinated.

The Department's object is to prevent the disease setting up permanent reservoirs of infection in the province as well as preventing the economic loss in dead or disabled horses. Should the program receive the cooperation this year it did last it will be a step toward prevention of establishment of these reservoirs.

The B. C. Department of Agriculture does not take complete credit for the success of their campaign last year, and are insistent that it was the experience of the other provinces and states together with the resultant development of an effective and inexpensive 'chick' vaccine which was available in the quantities required at the strategic time.

Dr. Gunn visited the various districts into which East Kootenay and the Columbia Valley were organized last year for mass vaccinations and impressed the committees with the importance of carrying out the work again this year.

BOSWELL PLANS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR TRACK MEET

BOSWELL, B. C.—A dance is scheduled shortly to raise funds for the track meet for the schools on the East side of Kootenay Lake. In previous years, six schools have competed—Sirdar, Sanca, Boswell, Gray Creek, Crawford Bay and Riondel. This year, La France school, which opened last Fall, will be represented. The sports will be held at Crawford Bay in early June.

Province Kitchen to Visit Nelson

The only Travelling Kitchen in Canada will pay a visit to Nelson next week when the Vancouver Daily Province Modern Kitchen travelling unit will arrive to hold a two day cooking class at the Civic Theatre.

MRS. MARGARET HENDERSON

Under the able direction of Mrs. Margaret Henderson, home economist of The Vancouver Daily Province and her assistant, Miss Ruth Hamlin, dietitian, this popular British Columbia household centre will give the women of Nelson and district a chance to share the services made famous throughout the Dominion.

This is the fifth year that the Modern Kitchen has gone on tour throughout the Province in order that all women may have the opportunity of sharing in this up-to-the-minute service. Those who attend the cooking classes will receive first hand information about preparation of food, obtainable in this Province, as well as gain the newest ideas in concection of a variety of dishes.

Mr. McRory, Manager of the Nelson Electric Company, who is sponsoring the school, states that all proceeds will be turned over to the Nelson Branch of the Red Cross Society in cooperation with the Women's Institute.

Nelson Man Glad to Be Back in B. C.

VANCOUVER, May 9 (CP) — Bright lights look good to H. C. Cairne of Nelson, who 12 days ago was groping his way around in a London blackout.

Telling of his wartime experiences in England, Mr. Cairne confessed to reporters here that he was so glad to be back in British Columbia that he was even talking to strangers about it.

ITALY'S FOURTH NEW BATTLESHIP "ROMA" TO BE LAUNCHED SOON

GENOA, Italy, May 9 (CP) — Shipbuilders announced today Italy's fourth new 35,000-ton battleship Roma, described as the world's finest, super-battleship was ready for launching.

Two sister ships, the Littorio, and the Vittorio Veneto, already are in service, while a third, the Impero, is under construction.

URGES EXPANSION OF MACHINE TOOL WORKS

CARDIFF, Wales, May 9 (CP)—Leslie Burgin, Minister of Supply said today that much of the success of Britain's armament effort depends on the rapid expansion of the machine tool industry.

He appealed in an address for more night shift and more skilled workers.

Chamberlain Under Barrage of Criticism From British Press

LONDON, May 9 (Cp Cable)—Among London afternoon newspapers which commented on the political situation, the Star said:

"It is inconceivable that the present Government should continue in office unchanged."

It added that "it remains to be seen" whether Mr. Chamberlain "will cling tenaciously" to office or "with higher patriotism make way for a man who it fitted to win the war, not muddle it."

It predicted an offer of cabinet posts to Labor and Liberals is "certain to be made this week" and will be "rejected at once."

Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard cautioned:

"We must not jump to the conclusion that the Labor Party has assumed plenary powers to dictate the removal of Mr. Chamberlain. . . . He still possesses the biggest voting strength in the House. . . . Conceivably the difficulty might be overcome by the presence of Mr. Chamberlain in a new Government not as premier but as leader of the house."

The Evening News said the Government's "credit is shattered."

"They may linger on a while as caretakers, pending reconstruction of the cabinet or formation of a new Government," it said of Mr. Chamberlain and the members of his cabinet, "but their end cannot be more than a few days away."

Questioning the Labor party's wisdom in forcing last night's vote this morning's Manchester Guardian said the Government deserved reprobation but the opposition party "would have done much better to have held its hand."

If we are soon to get a greatly strengthened government and a new and infinitely more vigorous prosecution of the war, it will take more than a parliamentary challenge by a numerically small opposition. . . .

"It is not the fault of the employees or workers that our output or airplanes is, as Sir Samuel Hoare has to admit, insufficient. It is not the fault of the hundreds of thousands of unemployed and of the army of women in unessential jobs that they have not long ago been brought into munitions production and that we have to stint our expeditionary force in equipment.

"And it is the same through the whole range of war activity. We have had all these years of Mr. Chamberlain and this is where we have arrived. This country can never organize itself for a victorious war so long as he and the friends on whom he called last night keep their dead hands on the levers of the national effort."

The Yorkshire Post of Leeds said:

"The further very strong impression left by the debate is that we are suffering even more than Mr. Chamberlain and his colleagues have admitted from a state of war preparedness far behind that of Germany. This, in all probability, is the very crux of the matter. Details cannot be revealed lest they should aid the enemy, but the truth is that we are all paying a stiff price for the unreality which hung over our defence preparations for many months and even for years, while Hitler was training his soldiers and amassing his resources for war. . . .

"We entered upon the war so unready for it in many respects that there were bound to be setbacks if not disasters. A new Prime Minister would have had almost certainly the same experience. Owing to past delays, we still need time before we can hope to arrive at the strength of total mobilization but that time must be short."

Creston Students Present 'Sleeping Beauty' at Concert

CRESTON, B. C.—Pupils of Creston elementary school demonstrated their musical, dramatic and dancing capabilities at the High School Auditorium Friday, and at a matinee Monday. The latter was attended by the elementary school students from all points in the district, and many from the high school.

The offering was the children's operetta, "The Sleeping Beauty." The presentation was on a large scale with a cast of 60 lords, ladies, dancers, fairies, attendants and others.

Interest was sustained throughout the four acts. Choruses were good, and the solos "Some Day I'll Find My Love" and "Some Day My Prince Will Come," were outstanding. The dancing of the minuet in the opening and closing acts was pleasing.

The principal characters were taken by James Rolfe, "King"; Muriel Gilchrist, "Queen"; Helen Armstrong, "Prince"; Dora Amatto, "Princess"; June Malone, "Wicked Fairy"; Dorothy Dickinson, "Old Woman", Murray Joyce and Bob MacDonald, "Heralds."

The fairies were Luella MacDonald, Joan Lockhead, Shirley Mawson, Beverley Allan, Leone Roebuck, Joan Burgess, Irene Hatterill, Carol John, Doreen Marshall, Gail Ebener, Pearl O'Neil, Marjorie Martin.

The stately minuet was executed by Elaine Ebener, Doris Mocanu, Leona Kiselbach, Jeannie Quinton, and Olive Botterill, with Eleanore Amatto, Dorothy Hilton, Mary Biscum, Shirley Thompson and Olive MacDonald as lords.

Ladies of the court were Ruby Boffey, Alice Boffey, Violet McNeil, Irene Patrick, Frances Jones, Jaqueline DeVoin, Carmen Foerster, Lorraine Kilback, Margaret Peltzer, Evelyn Kiselbach, Connie Giles, Jane Barrigan, Violet Pagens, Velma Geier, Doris Mocanu, Jeanne Quinton, Mary Upton, Lorna Wightman, Leona Kiselbach, Olive Botterill, Elaine Ebener.

Gentlemen of the court were Jack Peck, Bob Plumb, Raymond Martin, David MacDonald, Colin Christie, Bill Kellom, Lawrence Romano, Alvin Hendren, Rodney Shafer, Keith Jensen, Jack Somerz, Lloyd Robinson, Elvin Kilback, Lloyd Biscum, Gavin Ramsay, Eleanor Amatto, Dorothy Hilton, Shirley Thompson, Jeanne Vasseur, Olive MacDonald, Mary Biscum.

The costuming, which added greatly to the beauty of the presentation, was largely taken care of by the parents under the direction of Miss M. L. Wade, Miss Florence McClure and Miss Hazel Hobden. Mrs. McGregor was pianist, and Miss Helen Moore, school director of music, directed the dancing and assisted with the musical features. The lighting and properties, which also were a factor in the successful presentation of the operetta, were in charge of Herb Dod and Sid Rogers.

Supervising principal Earl Marriott briefly welcomed the large attendance.

LORD ERSKINE FILLS VACANT HOUSE SEAT

LONDON, May 9 (CP)— Lord Erskine, former Governor of Madras, today was elected to parliament from Brighton without opposition, filling the seat vacated by Major G. C. Tryon, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, now Lord Tryon.

Lord Erskine, heir of the Earl of Mar, like Lord Tryon is a Conservative.

Nakusp Institute to Take Up Destruction of Signs With Police

NAKUSP, B.C. — Arrangements for the Institute concert, "Lilac Time" which is to be held the first week in June, were discussed at a Women's Institute meeting. The resignation of the director, Mrs. Albert Turner, who leaves shortly for Victoria, was received and Mrs. J. Parent Sr. was elected to take her place.

It was reported that street signs have been completed and have been erected. The question of the destruction of signs and street lights about town was brought up and it was decided to take the matter up with the Police Department.

Arrangements were being made for two school children to receive eye treatment in Nelson.

Mrs. M. Kerr was appointed convener of the thrift exhibit for the Edgewood Fair.

F. Atherton was appointed caretaker of the Nakusp cemetery.

Mrs. E. Munn, Convener for Public Health and Child Welfare, gave a practical demonstration of the Making of Mustard Plasters and Poultices.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. E. Levesque and Mrs. H. Thompson.

COMMONWEALTH GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER ENTIRE AUSTRALIAN APPLE CROP

Picking of Australia's first war-time apple crop—of the present war—is now in progress, and it is interesting to note that the Government's control of it will be complete. The control is Nation, not Provincial, as we have here, and consequently there is no question of parts of the domestic market being unregulated.

The Commonwealth Acquisition commenced on March 1, 1940, upon and after which date all apples in Australia become the property of the Commonwealth Government. During the 1939 season approximately 4,700,000 cases of apples were exported from Australia, mainly to the United Kingdom. The fear that shipping space would not be available, led the Commonwealth Government to take prompt action to confer upon the Apple and Pear Board power to control the marketing of apples throughout Australia after March 1, 1940.

The Apple and Pear Board has set up a central Marketing Committee, which in turn has appointed State marketing committees to regulate the supply and distribution of apples in their respective States. By this means it is expected to secure the maximum monetary benefit from each market and eliminate the unsatisfactory position usually created through markets becoming glutted and values falling to unpayable levels.

1. Assessors have been apopinted in all apple growing districts throughout the Commonwealth, to prepare estimates of growers' crops as at the 31st January, 1940.

2. Advances will be paid to growers of 2s per case on 75 per cent of their assessed crop after the deduction from the 75 per cent of any portion of the crop marketed prior to March 1.

3. Growers will only be required to market their fruit as and when requested to do so by the State Marketing Committee appointed by the Board. When fruit is marketed the grower will be recouped to the extent of his packing costs only. The State Committee will collect the proceeds of sales, and after deducting all marketing costs which cover costs of packing, freight, seller's commission, cold storage, the balance will be credited to a Commonwealth-wide pool.

4. Pools will be upon a varietal basis, and after the marketing season is completed, any surplus in the pool after deducting costs of operating the scheme and original advances will be rebated to growers in proportion to their orginal assessments, less any portion of their crop marketed prior to March 1, 1940.

MORE SPEED NEEDED

After conferring with British and French military leaders and examining the Maginot Line, Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of National Defense, told newspapermen in London that he has been deeply impressed by the thorough and realistic preparations which have been made and he is more confident than ever of the final outcome. This is all quite encouraging but the public are anxious to hear more from the Minister of the Government's plans for expanding the Canadian military establishment and what is proposed to be done with it. The country is still very much in the dark about the effort to date and knows practically nothing at all about the program for the future. When Mr. Rogers returns from England later this month he will be expected to make a full report to Parliament on these matters.

It will then be possible to weigh Canada's war effort with that of the other Dominions. From the piecemeal information which so far has been given out there is reason to believe that the country has not yet commenced to dig its toes in, because the Government has not asked it to. Despite the pre-election assurances, there is little evidence that the administration is anything more than lukewarm about getting together a powerful Canadian corps.

At the present time there is one Canadian division in England and a second has been in training in Canada since the beginning of the year. It is unlikely to go overseas until after Summer training. There has been no official intimation about a third division. There is, of course, the extensive air training scheme which is now getting under way.

Compared to what Canada has done so far, the Australian effort looks far more impressive. With a population of 7,000,000 Australia is now in the process of forming an army corps of 48,000 men, with one Division already attached to the Allied middle East command. By June of next year her army corps and reinforcement troops will total 90,000 men, all available for overseas service. On June 30 of this year she will have a home defense army of an additional 75,000 men who have received from three to four months' training. Australia is also expanding her air force.

Southern Rhodesian troops recently arrived in Egypt, to join other Empire formations in the Eastern Armies, which the Allies may use against Germany's Balkan drive or Italy's Mediterranean adventure.

Canada alone does not seem to have a formation at the front, after eight months of the war.

Reports from Canadian training centres are that large numbers of young Canadians are applying, and applying in vain, for enlistment. The Government seems to see nothing but the Air Training scheme.

Approximately five months have gone by without any recruiting outside of the air training scheme—except of replacements.

The Norwegian campaign has shown clearly enough that the day of infantry is not at all over. When is the Government going to call for another division of recruits?

The recruiting offices will be swamped when the call is made.

Canadians do not want to be shamed in this war. They are getting restive. It is to be hoped the Government does not interpret its "mandate" as one for slow speed and soft pedal.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

DEFEAT TO VICTORY

Who doesn't get a kick out of changing impending defeat into victory? It tastes all the sweeter when it is not expected. And how much better still, if it is more than a mere borderline triumph, with an extra trick attached, when events might have gone so that success would have been impossible.

North: ♠ Q 7 3 ♥ Q 8 3 ♦ A 5 2 ♣ K 7 6 3

West: ♠ K 10 9 2 ♥ A 9 5 ♦ J 7 6 ♣ A Q J

North reckoned that he took no great chance with his double, after having passed on his first turn, as it would show his partner a hand slightly weaker than a minimum opening bid. It was all August P. Jurgensen, in the South, needed to know a heart bid by him at the range of three involved no great risk. West's double, based on general principles and a size-up of his aggressive opponents, whose habits he knew well, was none too sound nevertheless.

West's greatest hard luck was in finding his partner with no spade honor, so his lead of the 10 presented declarer with a trick for the J. With a diamond lead, South could have lost two tricks in that suit, one each in the others. But his contract was safe after the spade opening, and he went to work for an extra trick. He led a heart to the A, took the heart return with the J, led to the club A, let the diamond J. covered by the Q, win, took the diamond return with the A, then built a double squeeze.

Two heart tricks, the spade A and then two more hearts did the business. As the last was played, he also had a club and a diamond, the dummy the spade Q and two clubs. West had to hold his spade K to guard the Q, so tossed away from his club Q-J, whereupon the spade Q was discarded from dummy. Now East was squeezed. If he threw the diamond 10, South's 8 would score, so he kept it and tossed a club from the 10-9. Then the club K dropped the defenders' last cards in that suit and the club 7 took the final trick

7 British Soldiers Sail Home in Ship Taken From Germans

A NORTHERN BRITISH PORT, May 9 (CP).—Seven British soldiers and two Norwegian seamen told today how they became separated from their colleagues in Norway, trudged 200 miles to the coast, sometimes through waist-deep snow, took a Norwegian boat away from the Germans and sailed home.

They said 100 British troops were fighting twice as many Germans in the mountains when their band of 15 became stranded. Guided by the stars and an occasional native, they struck out for the coast, leaving their wounded behind in a Norwegian hospital.

Reaching the sea after seven days, they said they found a Norwegian ship in German possession. In the laconic words of one of the men, "Nine of us decided to board the ship and, aided by some Norwegians, we took command."

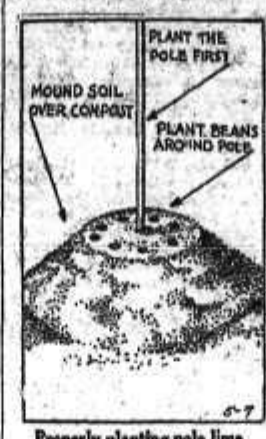
Pole Lima Beans Need Rich Soil

By DEAN HALLIDAY



Properly planting pole lima beans

To plant pole lima beans properly, one should first plant the pole. While the pole will undoubtedly be hardy the pole lima beans are much less hardy than bush lima beans and therefore should not be planted until all danger of a late frost has passed. Although pole lima beans mature later than the bush variety, they are more prolific.

Pole limas should be planted in hills composed of a rich compost or manure covered over with several inches of soil. As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, first plant the pole in the centre of each hill. Use poles eight to 12 feet long, setting them 18 inches into the ground. Plant six or eight beans around the pole, as illustrated. Plant the beans on edge, eyes down. Later thin out the plants, leaving only three or four of the strongest.

If the plants appear to be making more growth than pods later in the season, cut off the top of the plant at the top of the pole in order to divert the plant's energy into the production of pods.

Kohl Confident of Allies' Help

PARIS, May 9 (CP-Havas). — Halvdan Koht, Norwegian Foreign Minister, told newsmen today that after his talks with leaders in London and Paris he was certain that "the French and British Governments will do their utmost to reinforce the cooperation between the Allied forces still in Norway and Norwegian forces in defending our country and defeating our common enemy."

Mr. Koht expressed his country's gratitude for the active sympathy extended by the Allies and added: "I cannot conceal from you the impression of sadness we had in Norway, when we learned of the order for re-embarkation of the Allied troops which had taken positions on Norwegian soil."

The talks he and Col. Birger Ljunberg, Norwegian Defence Minister, have had here and in London have convinced him that the battle will go on and "that Norway will in the future have greater possibility of defeating Germany."

"Germany has come out beyond its frontiers," he said. "The battle is joined. It is possible to win it."

Concerning the condition and number of Norwegian forces still in action against the Germans, the Norwegian Minister said that a good part of the six divisions of the Norwegian army had succeeded in escaping the German grasp. The Northern division, the Sixth, he said is intact. The army has a year's supply of wheat safely stocked, mostly in Northern Norway, he added.

There were also stocks of munitions but these are inadequate, he went on, and have been renewed by recent purchases in Great Britain of both ammunition and rifles.

Norway's merchant marine of 4,500,000 tons is still functioning, Koht said. Some Norwegian ships were taken by the Germans, but 90 per cent of Norway's tonnage is on the high seas.

Chamberlain Agrees to Sweeping Changes; His Own Fate in Doubt

OPINIONS ARE RAGING HOTLY IN CRISIS

By J. F. SANDERSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, May 9 (CP Cable)—Prime Minister Chamberlain has agreed to make sweeping changes in his ministry, it was reported in political circles today, while the feeling grew that Britain's wartime leader had abandoned precipitate action over his own resignation.

Earlier reports had indicated Mr. Chamberlain might offer his seals of office to the King today, but now it is believed that he will spend some time conferring with his followers and canvassing the whole situation before deciding on action.

The Prime Minister was reported to have told a group of Conservative members of the House of Commons this afternoon at a meeting in Westminster that he is willing to overhaul the ministry and admit Labor, Liberals and rebel Tories. But whether they would be willing to serve under him remained doubtful.

Another Conservative committee under the Marquess of Salisbury, whose father was once Prime Minister, agreed that since a coalition of all parties under Mr. Chamberlain appeared to be impossible, he should resign.

Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, told the House this afternoon that "consultations are going on now as to whether, by getting rid of the Chancellor of the Exchequer (Sir John Simon) and the Secretary for Air (Sir Samuel Hoare), the Prime Minister might be allowed to carry on with partially fresh colleagues."

Mr. Mander said such a move would be "perfectly useless."

R. K. Law, Conservative, son of the late Andrew Bonar Law, Canadian-born Prime Minister, said that Herbert Asquith, Prime Minister at the beginning of the last war, was, like Mr. Chamberlain, able and loyal but not a man for war.

Mr. Law said there need be "no fear of finding an alternative Prime Minister now." He said new leadership is required, not a reshuffle of the cabinet.

Clement Attlee, leader of the Opposition, and Arthur Greenwood, his deputy, saw the Prime Minister at 10 Downing Street tonight.

The Press Association said it understood that Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, and Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, also were present during the interview which lasted 45 minutes.

It is argued that it would be a national folly to accept the Prime Minister's resignation until his successor is selected and alternative ministers have agreed to take office.

The whole political situation is in a state of flux with reports and rumors filling the air.

A sudden meeting of the War Cabinet was called at 11:30 p.m. (3:30 a.m. PST) in Mr. Chamberlain's room at the House, but whether it concerned political affairs or the war situation could not be learned.

It was called during the meeting of the House, Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary for Air, entered the chamber and whispered to the Prime Minister, who gathered his cabinet colleagues. After a short consultation on the treasury bench they all trooped out.

Within a minute or two Clement Attlee, leader of the Opposition, Arthur Greenwood, his deputy, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal leader, and David Lloyd George left the chamber, suggesting that they might be conferring with the Government over the general political situation.

Meanwhile it appeared that the Labor Party is in the role of "Warwick the Kingmaker." One of the reasons why political observers believe Mr. Chamberlain must retire is the steadfast refusal of the Labor Party to serve under him. It also declines to enter a government with Sir John Simon and Sir Samuel Hoare.

At present Labor members are forbidden by a resolution of their national organization to enter any government with representatives of other political parties, but this bar, which dates back to 1931, is expected to be withdrawn at the party's annual meeting on Monday.

This consideration, in the general picture, adds strength to the relief that Mr. Chamberlain's resignation, even if offered today, would not be accepted until it is known definitely if the Labor leaders are to be free to enter an alternative administration.

It is still impossible to say who may succeed Mr. Chamberlain. Two of the likeliest possibilities continue to be Winston Churchill and Viscount Halifax, but white-haired Mr. Lloyd George, despite his 76 years, is being mentioned in some circles.

No matter what changes are made in personalities, one thing is certain—Britain's war effort is due to be accelerated. The Chamberlain administration has been brought to the brink of defeat by charges of ineptitude, timidity and complacency, by allegations of lack of drive, determination and initiative, and, in general, by the old story of "too late, too late."

The two-day debate which preceded last night's division impressed upon all parties the consideration that there must be more direction, more drive and more determination and zeal in the nation's war effort, regardless of who forms the government.

It is quite possible that the whole basis of the Government will be changed with establishment of a small compact war cabinet of men shorn of departmental routine.

If the Liberals, Labor and rebel Tories are invited into the Government, these men would be in line: Mr. Attlee, Mrs. Greenwood, Herbert Morrison, A. V. Alexander, Mr. Lloyd George, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Alfred Duff Cooper and L. S. Amery.

In the House today Mr. Chamberlain agreed to a further debate two weeks hence "if events should make it desirable." In some quarters this was taken as an idication that he does not intend to resign.

Commons is to reassemble May 21, after the Whitsuntide recess, and the Prime Minister made his promise of a debate on the war then. The statement was made to Mr. Attlee.

Replying to critics of a parliamentary holiday at this critical time, Mr. Chamberlain said the power already had been given the speaker of the House to summon parliament before May 21 if, on the advice of the Government, he felt it necessary.

THE KILLER SPEAKS

CHAPTER 20

I intended to dump the box of knives in the river and thus destroy this damning evidence against Jerry, but I soon saw that the job wasn't going to be as easy as I thought.

For one thing, I should have wrapped the box in paper. It stood out white in the darkness, a very suspicious object for anyone to be carrying along the streets at this time of night.

The trees on this street sheltered me for only two blocks. I decided to cut across into an alley. To do that I must cross in the centre of a block. There was someone on the opposite sidewalk and two cars on the street. I held the box behind me in the shadows and waited.

A man came walking down the sidewalk on which I stood. He stared at me curiously as he passed, but said nothing.

My mouth as dry. Belzer would tell the police the knives had been stolen from him in a shoe box. Would this man remember he had seen me with a shoe box?

I encouraged myself with the thought that he was a stranger, only half seeing me in the shadows and he might not be able to identify me.

The street was clear at last. I hurried across, but avoided running, and entered the dark alley. I tumbled against a tin can and stopped in fright, when someone close to me said, "What's that?"

Another voice answered. "Probably just a cat." Footsteps moved away from the opposite side of the high board fence. I heard a screen door slam in a nearby house.

I moved on, more cautiously.

When I reached the other end of the alley I found the street in front of me brilliantly lighted. Officer McClure was only a half block away, coming toward me. I knew he probably would look into the alley.

There was a garbage can close by. I set the box on the ground behind it, quickly brushed my clothes, straightened my hat and stepped into the street. When McClure passed me, I was looking into a drug store window.

I didn't dare go back into the alley until the officer was out of sight. In the meantime, as I stared into a drugstore I was looking straight at a public telephone booth, which reminded me of Jerry's last request. The episode of the knives had driven it completely from my mind.

He had said: "Get to a telephone Bill. See if there's someone who'll put up bail or bond for me."

That was four hours ago. Jerry was behind the bars by this time, wondering why he didn't hear from me.

After a dozen calls to friends who I knew had money, I began to realize what it meant to be poor, and in trouble. Everyone was sympathetic, but that was all.

At last I tried Harvey McGuire. He promised to do all that he could. I left it in his hands and walked out of the store. The street was fairly deserted—the best I could expect at this time of night.

I had purchased a newspaper in the store. I wrapped it quickly around my shoe box and crossed the street to another alley. I was approaching the riverfront.

Footsteps were following me down the alley. I looked over my shoulder. Between me and the light of the street behind me approached the dark figure of a large man. It might be McClure. I thought in alarm, and started to run. My pursuer started to run, too!

I was burdened by the box. I stumbled, but I reached the street first and whirled into the nearest doorway, which happened to be the office of one of the river boat lines, open all night. I looked back into the street. The man who had been following me was not Officer McClure. He looked like a typical river front ruffian. Now that his quarry apparently had escaped, he assumed a nonchalant, innocent air and wandered off.

"What can I do for you?" asked the young man behind the counter. He was in shirt sleeves with a green eye-shade pulled over his eyes, and he came to the counter and rested both hands on the edge expectantly.

"N-nothing," I told him. "I was going to send these—these flowers by boat, but I guess I'll try parcel post."

He gave me a queer look. There seemed to be a smile lurking behind it. I think he had seen my apprehensive glance into the street, noticed the shadowy figure of a man moving away and decided I didn't want to confess I had been running away from what looked like a possible holdup.

I was willing to let it go at that.

Out in the street again, I crossed to the parapet which guarded traffic from the river below. I set my package on the flat top of the concrete wall and stared down into the black water. Little waves lapped with the reflection of distant lights.

Now that I was here a new fear assailed me. All I had to do was to drop the knives, crumble the box and drop it in some alley. But I knew that I would be destroying evidence. I believed it was false evidence, but the police—and certainly Belzer—would not look at it in that way. They might never learn I had done it, but on the other hand I had been seen by too many people. Surely someone would remember.

If I dropped the knives, I could never get them again. The mud on the bottom of the river was deep.

I looked back up the street. It was not far to my studio, and the way was fairly dark. Suppose I took the knives home with me and hid them? There would be nothing so final in that.

And, I suddenly thought to myself I'd be doing nothing worse than Belzer did. He'd have nothing on me.

I tucked the box under my arm again, skirted one of the riverfront sheds and started homeward. Then I thought, why not walk openly? I'll seem less suspicious if I act less suspiciously.

I was shaking as I passed McClure. I don't think he recognized me. For a nerve-wrecking moment I thought he was going to stop me and question me—he gave my package such a scowl—but I passed safely on. Five minutes later, wet with perspiration, and my knees weak under me, I was inside my own room.

I set the box on the table and shut the door. With a gasp of relief I sank into a chair, but the next moment I was shocked to my feet by the ringing of the telephone.

"Hello, Butch," said a familiar voice on the other end of the line. "I've been trying to ring you back for half an hour."

"B-Belzer!"

"None other. I've been thinking over your proposition. Maybe you have got something. If it's good enough I'll hold my story about your pal's knives until next day. It can't get away from me. And in the me—"

"I'm not in a convincing mood," I told him. "Write your story if you want. Tomorrow it won't be worth the paper it's printed on — and as a police reporter you'll be washed up, Belzer—washed up!"

"Aw, now, don't be that way, Butch. I'm coming over to see you."

"You're what?"

"I'm coming over to see you now. We'll argue this thing out."

I dropped the receiver frantically on the hook and looked frantically around for some place to hide the box.

B. C. Exhibition Dates Set for 1940

VICTORIA, May 9 (CP) — No curtailment in exhibitions and of fairs in British Columbia has been made this year, according to a list of dates of exhibitions issues yesterday by William J. Bonava, Secretary of the British Columbia Fairs Association.

The Provincial Exhibition in Victoria will be held from Sept. 7 to 14, and the Vancouver exhibition will be from Aug. 26 to Sept. 2. "B" class exhibitions will be held as follows: Kamloops, Sept. 4 and 5; Armstrong, Sept. 9 to 12, and Chilliwack, Sept. 17 to 19.

The fair circuit for Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands is as follows: Pender Island, Aug. 21; Duncan, Sept. 2; Courtenay, Sept. 3 and 4; Cobble Hill, Sept. 5; Lasqueti Island, Sept. 11; Coombs, Sept. 11 and 12; Ladysmith, Sept. 18 and 19, and Saanichton, Sept. 24 and 25.

FRANCE MAY BUY CANADIAN HORSES

WINNIPEG, May 9 (CP)—Captain Hubert de Monthal, member of the French purchasing mission in Canada, said today that a large number of horses, possibly between 2000 and 3000, may be purchased in Western Canada this Summer for France's artillery and cavalry at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars.

Initial orders have been placed for 50 horses from a Winnipeg dealer and 200 horses from a Calgary dealer, Captain de Montal, Reservists Officer in the French cavalry, said.

Baxter Accuses Lloyd George of Aiding Hitler

LONDON, May 9 (CP). — Just before the House of Commons rose today for the Whitsun recess, Beverley Baxter, Toronto-born Conservative, accused David Lloyd George of having encouraged Adolf Hitler at several critical moments.

He urged that Mr. Lloyd George "reform so that his genius and indomitable spirit might be used in the future conduct of the war."

Mr. Lloyd George, who in yesterday's debate was one of the leaders of the attack on the Government, replied that Britain was to blame for Hitler's rise to power and that since 1923 he had urged the conquering powers to exert their authority and carry out the pledges made in the Treaty of Versailles and afterward.

"They had the opportunity," he declared. "Germany was prostrate and the creation of this terrible power in Germany, and the spirit behind it which makes it so formidable, is due to the fact that we did not carry out our pledges."

"Chamberlain No Match for Hitler"

CALCUTTA, May 9 (CP Cable).—The Star of India, commenting on yesterday's debate in the British House of Commons, said today that Prime Minister Chamberlain "is no match for Hitler."

"He (Mr. Chamberlain) is not conscious that he is living in a ruthless age," the newspaper said. "It is no use applauding New Testament precepts to a megalomaniac."

Armless Man Shows Power of Feet

MONTREAL, May 9 (CP).—William R. Watson, author, lawyer and musician, in Montreal on a lecture tour, is showing service club members how he does with his toes the thousand and one things ordinary people do with their hands. Watson, a native of Scotland, was born without arms.

In an interview here, Watson, now living at Toronto, said he does almost everything with his toes, washes his face, combs his hair, eats, cleans his teeth, writes and even shaves.

Asked if he had dictated the 90,000 words of his last book, Watson answered that "I wrote every word of it in longfoot."

PORTLAND, Ind., (CP)—Officers here are built for heavy duty. The weights of four policemen totals 927 pounds. Sheriff Charles Imel, heavier than any of them, weighs 337.

Heroic British Airmen Fight to Death Against Vast German Force

LONDON, May 9 (CP)—Behind the brief report given in the House of Commons last night by Sir Samuel Hoare, Air Secretary, of a gallant battle between a fighter squadron of Gladiators and 60 or 90 German bombers over an improvised base in Southern Norway, lies an amazing story of the bravery and determination of the small group of Royal Air Force men who participated in the fight.

Further details today revealed that this battle was one of the most thrilling and inspiring air engagements of the war. Soon after the squadron had landed on frozen Lake Kesjeskogen, 40 miles Southeast of Andalsnes, it was necessary for some of them to take off to intercept two aircraft which were approaching the lake but were found to have Norwegian markings.

These Norwegian aircraft probably were flown by German pilots, for at 3 a.m. the next day a patrol of the lake began. After shooting down a Heinkel in preliminary battles the Royal Air Force men were raided from 7:30 a.m. until 8 p.m. Except on a runway, melting snow in drifts several feet deep made it almost impossible to move. British pilots had to crawl through the snow on their hands and knees. Their clothing became drenched.

Throughout the incessant attacks to which the landing ground was subjected, the pilots remained in the open, without cover and without thought of seeking any. As they came down from their combats with the enemy they refuelled, replenished their ammunition and tried to start up again.

As one by one the aircraft were destroyed, the pilots, although some were badly burned, helped one another get the remaining aircraft into the air. Towards the end of the day, when ammunition was exhausted, the pilots made attacks which were feints, without any chance of returning the enemy's fire.

One pilot, with no ammunition and practically no gasoline, was attacked by three of the most modern and heavily armed German fighters. He saved his aircraft from being shot down by repeatedly attempting to collide with the enemy until they swerved away from him.

"I attacked three Heinkels during the course of my patrol," one pilot reported. "How much damage I inflicted I cannot say, as there was always another Heinkel to attack.

"I broke away as I was running short of petrol and not certain of my position. I landed on the lake and saw three Junkers approaching so I took off again and attacked these, eventually making a forced landing through lack of petrol. In all I had 16 combats.

Altogethtr on this day 40 sorties were carried out and 31 enemy aircraft were engaged. On the British landing ground on the frozen lake 132 craters could be counted.

By the end of the day only five of 18 Gladiators remained serviceable, but the Gladiators had taken their toll, six enemy aircraft for certain and probably eight more were brought down on the surrounding mountains.

Fruit Growers to Ask Assistance From Government

KELOWNA, B. C., May 9 (CP)—A. K. Loyd, Chairman of British Columbia Tree Fruits, Ltd., said today a delegation of Okanagan tree fruit growers will go to Ottawa this month to learn what assistance the Federal Government is prepared to give the industry towards marketing its 1940 crop.

Mr. Loyd declined to discuss the nature of the proposal Okanagan growers will make.

"It is obvious that the industry will have to demonstrate to Mr. Gardiner (Federal Minister of Agriculture) that it is willing to make whatever economies and adjustments it can to decrease the problem which must be faced," he said. "We feel sure that with this evidence of goodwill the government will do everything in its power to help."

After numerous conferences between officers of British Columbia Tree Fruits Ltd., and shippers, the 1940 contract is ready for submission to shippers in its final form, Mr. Loyd reported.

"We are anxious to have these signed before we leave for Ottawa, as we wish to present a United front to the government," he said.

It is expected that the last box of the 1939 crop will be sold before the end of the month.

NEWFOUNDLAND TAKES PRECAUTIONS AGAINST POSSIBLE SEA ATTACK

TORONTO, May 9 (CP) — Sir John Puddester, former Secretary of State in Newfoundland and now Vice-Chairman of Newfoundland's governing commission, said in an interview today Newfoundlanders do not fear a Nazi air attack as much as attack from sea.

He expressed the opinion that unless Germany is kept busy in Europt and finally defeated there is grave possibility Hitler might strike at Newfoundland as a stepping stone to Canada. He added every possible defence precaution had been taken against possible submarine attacks on shipping off the coast.

TURKEY DENIES REPORT OF MARTIAL LAW

ANKARA, May 9 (AP).—Turkish officials denied today a German radio report last night that Turkey had proclaimed martial law. (The report was intercepted in New York by Columbia Broadcasting System).

Death Penalty for Grave Cases of Espionage Included in Bill to House

LONDON, May 9, (CP) — The death penalty for "grave cases of espionage and sabotage" was provided in a series of measures presented to the House of Commons today by Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary and Minister for Home Security.

Sir John said the steps were urgently required to combat "fifth column" activities and subversive propaganda "calculated to foment opposition ot prosecution of the war."

He emphasized that "these regulations have been very carefully drawn so as to avoid penalizing mere expression of opinion, while at the same time giving full power to deal with mischievous activities directed toward impeding the war effort of the nation."

The death-penalty clause was provided in a special Government bill. The other measures were presented as orders-in-council to amend existing defence regulations.

As explained by the Home Secretary, these amendments empower the Government to:

1. "Intern non-enemy aliens who would ordinarily be deported, but cannot be deported to their own country by reason of circumstances arising from the war."

2. "Control the entry into this country of persons repatriated from enemy territory who, technically British subjects, have no close association with British interests. . . . A person to whom the regulation applies may, as an alternative to internment, be required to reside within a specified area and not travel outside it without permission."

3. "Check the spread of propaganda calculated to undermine the resolution of the people to prosecute the war to a successful issue."

4. "Make it an offence to endeavor to incite men who are liable to military service to evade their duties, or to endeavor to incite persons who abstain from enrolling voluntarily in any defence service."

Sir John told a questioner that the measures would not be enforced retroactively. He said that individuals or organizations persisting in such propaganda after being warned would be liable to a prison term of seven years, a fine of £500 ($2225), or both.

After listing the anti-espionage and anti-defeatist regulations, Sir John said: "I am satisfied that these powers are necessary to meet situations with which we may be faced."

Asked whether the Government had been influenced by "experiences recently endured by other countries as a result of enemy action," he explained.

"While I would be sorry to think that circumstances in this country were exactly comparable to circumstances elsewhere, the Government have certainly had in mind in farming these regulations the dangers—possibly limited in extent—to which the state might be exposed."

"Only Facts" Will Break Mussolini Silence on War

ROME, May 9 (AP). — Premier Mussolini told his Fascist followers celebrating Army and Empire Day that "only facts" would break his self-imposed silence on the European war.

Il Duce thus indicated to his hearers massed under his Palazzo Venezia balcony that Italy's non-belligerency remained without change until some new development in Europe's conflict plunged his country into war.

Mussolini referred to the declaration of the Italian empire four years ago.

Il Popolo di Roma indicated that Italian interests eventually would require it, saying "the idea of being able to preserve one's own peace with the most clever and pilate-like conduct can be for the present non-belligerents a dangerous delusion."

None should delude themselves that any country which stays out of the war will be able to make its voice heard afterward as the Italians intend to do, the paper added.

Air Weakness May Speed Up British Purchase

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP). — An official British admission that the Allies were inferior to Germany in air power stirred expectations today of a speed-up in Anglo-French orders for United States-made warplanes.

Aviation authorities, conversant with negotiations to date, said they were puzzled by the lag in Allied purchases.

It has been six weeks since the last of the army's newest military ships was released for sale abroad, yet the Allied purchasing mission has announced contracts for only about 1900 planes out of a projected $1,000,000,000 order for a fleet of possibly 8000.

The acknowledgement of Allied air inferiority came from Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, who told the House of Commons yesterday that the Allies, as a result, would be exposed to difficulty and danger for an indefinite time.

On the assumption that the Allies will place their remaining orders soon, informed airmen calculated that the American industry might be called on to turn out upward of 12,000 military planes of all types in the next 18 months, for the army, navy and foreign governments. Further war orders would increase the estimate.

AIRMAN GIVEN UP, IS PRISONER IN GERMANY

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., May 9 (CP).—Virtually given up for dead after being reported "missing and believed dead" by the British Air Ministry in London, Flying Officer Wilson Donaldson, young Lethbridge member of the Royal Air Force, today was reported a prisoner of war in Germany.

FOSTER FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., May 9 (CP)—John Foster, found guilty by an assize court on a charge of manslaughter yesterday, will be sentenced at the close of the Spring assizes. The charge was laid after the traffic death of John Kozak, reportedly struck by a stolen car.

EMERGENCY PRECAUTIONS TAKEN AT ANTWERP

BRUSSELS, May 9 (AP)—Emergency precautions were taken today to patrol the port of Antwerp. Guards were at communications centres, strolled in streets near barracks and kept watch on gasoline storage tanks. Sentries were doubled on all bridges over the Albert Canal. Similar measures were enforced at Ostend yesterday.

NAKUSP CHURCH LADIES TO STAGE DRIVE FOR CHURCH FUNDS BENEFIT

NAKUSP, B.C.—The members of the Evening Auxiliary were entertained at the United Church Manse, Mrs. F. Oxenham was in the chair. An invitation from the Women's Missionary Society, asking the Auxiliary members to attend a special meeting when Mrs. Hammond of Nelson will speak, was accepted. The Auxiliary will sponsor a drive in Nakusp for the "Observer."

The committee in charge of arranging for an entertainment in aid of Church funds submitted a report. It was decided to divide the members into four groups, each group being responsible for putting on something in aid of the Church. The committees are as follows; first group—Mrs. J. Motherwell, Miss M. Kirk and Miss B. Jamieson; second group—Mrs. E. Oxenham, Mrs. W. Morgan and Mrs. R. S. La Rue; third group—Miss V. Morice, Mrs. C. Thompson, Mrs. G. Johnson and Mrs. McCulloch; fourth group—Miss A. Bowes, Miss N. Johnson and Mrs. G. H. Gardner Jr.

The devotional period, led by Mrs. G. Keys, was from the topic "Love," taken from the 13th Chapter of Corinthians. A chapter of the Study Book was read by Miss A. Bowes.

A program contest arranged by Mrs. R. McCulloch was won by Mrs. G. H. Gardner and Miss Bowes. Mrs. C. Thompson was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. E. Oxenham and Mrs. G. Johnson.

ASK WORKER'S AID TO FIND THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR RADIO PAMPHLETS

LONDON, May 9 (AP)— Home Secretary Sir John Anderson said in the House of Commons today that printed notices urging workers to listen in on a German radio station calling itself "the new British Broadcasting station" were being distributed outside of North London factories. He said the workers could aid police in the efforts they are making towards discovery and bring to justice the persons responsible."

HITLER PRAISE CAUSE OF FRACAS NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP). — At Columbus Circle Soapbox Forum last night an orator praised Hitler, a woman objected, a man spectator kicked her, and all three were arrested after many of 200 spectators pitched into the fray. At a newsreel theatre two men of Swedish descent booed Hitler. A lawyer and a salesman objected, about 20 other persons joined in, and the two men of Swedish extraction were locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Canadian Flotilla Leader Aids In Capture of German Merchant Ship

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP) — The new Canadian flotilla leader, H.M.S. Assiniboine, shared honors with a cruiser of the Royal Navy in the capture of the German merchantman, Hannover, in the Caribbean Sea, the Royal Canadian Navy made known today.

The 5600-ton Nazi vessel, attempting to run the Allied blockade with 6000 tons of ore and lumber from the Netherlands West Indies was overhauled in the early morning darkness of March 8 off the Dominican coast.

Despite high seas and attempts of the German crew to destroy their ship by fire, the Allied vessels towed her to Kingston, Jamaica, as a prize of war and the Assiniboine and her commander earned high praise.

In his letter of proceedings the captain of the British cruiser, unnamed in the navy's announcement, wrote:

"I should like to stress the value of the work done by the H.M.C.S. Assiniboine without whose assistance it is most unlikely that the German ship Hannover would have been saved.

"Great credit is therefore due to the commanding officer who showed initiative and ability and handled his ship with great skill throughout the operation."

Sir Sydney Meyrick, Commander-in-Chief, America and West Indies station, also praised the Canadian navy's work, reporting "valuable assistance has been rendered by the Assiniboine in patrolling the Caribbean."

He added, "the towing into port of the disabled Hannover was a feat of seamanship of which officers and men in both ships can be justly proud."

Catholics, Savoy In City Softball Opener Tonight

Winding up a week of arduous practice with intensive drills Thursday evening, Catholics and Savoy Hotel are all set for the opening game of the Nelson Softball Association men's division this evening at 5:45 at the Recreation Grounds.

The C.Y.O. team, a strong contender all through last season's schedule, will have just about the same lineup again, while the Savoy is a newcomer to the league, composed largely of High School graduates.

Coach Bob Paterson of the Hotel team has not announced his starting pitcher but it will either be Leo Atwell or a dark horse whose name Paterson refuses to divulge. Dennis Ball will be behind the bat, Jim Cherrington at first, Bill Kasak at second, Sid Ball at short and Ernie Ahrens at third. Jim Niven is a utility infielder.

The outfielding will be done by a choice between Harold Mayo, Pat Egan, Wilbur Bentz, Art Hill, Jack Gray and Nick Lutkiwich.

The team lost the services of Jimmy Allan, who was one of the organizers. Allan leaves today to join the Gold Belt nine in the Salmo district league.

Doug Blais will be on the mound for the Catholics with Pete Kuntz on the receiving end of the battery, according to the tentative lineup of Rev. Maurice Cooney. The infield will be Andy Selinger 1b, Lawrence Selinger 2b, Ernie Boland ss and Eugene Maglio 3b. Armando Maglio will be in left, Louie Maglio in centre and Joe DeLucrezio in right.

Lakeview Tennis to Start This Weekend

The tennis season of the Lakeview Athletic Club will open this weekend on at least two of the three courts in Fairview, President Danny Barry said Thursday. Preparation work will be rushed to completion in the next two days. About all that remains now is stringing up the three nets, and laying the tapes.

It had been hoped to open the season last weekend but heavy rain dashed all prospects of that.

Bob Feller Sets Down Yanks With Three Hits

BUCKY WALTERS HURLS 5th WIN

By The Canadian Press

Brooklyn's Dodgers burst out with three runs in the 10th inning at Chicago today to handcuff Chicago Cubs 4-1 for their 12th National Baseball League victory in 14 games this season.

The score was tied 1-1 and two were out when the storm struck. Dixie Walker doubled, Cookie Lavagetto was purposely passed and then Dolph Camilli rapped a single for a run, going to second himself on the throw-in. Roy Cullenbine also was walked intentionally, filling the bases and "Pee-wee" Reese shot another single to score two more runners.

The game started out as a hurling duel between Tex Carleton, making his first start since his no-hitter against Cincinnati, and Lefty French, winner of four games and defeated only once previously. Carleton gave way to a pinchhitter in the ninth and Newel Kimball received credit for the triumph.

PIRATES COLLAPSE

In a travesty of baseball, Pittsburgh Pirates made seven errors and five of their pitchers gave up 15 hits, 10 bases on balls and hit three batsmen in the process of collapsing in their ninth consecutive National Baseball League defeat 17-6 before New York Giants. It was Carl Hubbell's first victory against two defeats.

Bucky Walters' five-hit pitching and good stickwork put Cincinnati Reds back in the winning column with a 4-1 decision over Boston which gave the righthander his fifth National Baseball League victory without defeat.

Walters and shortstop Eddie Joost each had a perfect day at the plate. Bucky bunt-singled, drove out a fifth inning double that scored Joost and walked twice. Joost singled and walked three times.

CARDS SWEEP SERIES

After a wobbly start, St. Louis Cardinals pulled themselves together behind the relief hurling of Rookie Ernie White and, aided by Stu Martin's fourth homer in three days, handed Philadelphia Phillies an 8-4 setback for a clean sweep of the two-game National Baseball League series.

White, making his first big league appearance, also did well at the plate, getting three hits and a walk for a perfect day at bat.

In the American League Bob Feller made a gesture toward a second no-hit game and scared the world champion Yankees into their sixth successive defeat as Cleveland Indians finished their Eastern swing with a 4-0 victory.

At the finish Feller had given three hits, but for six innings he held the bombers helpless with his fireball and the 14,790 fans were just beginning to get a throb in their throats when Joe DiMaggio singled off Shortstop Lou Boudreau's gloves in the seventh.

Paced by the homers of Jimmy Bloodworth and Jimmy Pofahl, Washington Senators beat Chicago White Sox 8-4. Dutch Leonard scattered 10 hits to win his second American Baseball League victory of the year.

Pinch Hitter Johnny Peacock punched out a single with the bases loaded in the 10th inning to give Boston Red Sox a 6-5 victory over Detroit and a clean sweep of the two-game series. Earl Averill clouted a homer for Detroit in the first with one on.

St. Louis took advantage of the wildness of Pitcher Johnny Babich and backed by Bob Harris' airtight hurling, turned back Philadelphia Athletics 4-2.

B. Wightman Heads Creston Lacrosse

CRESTON, B. C.—Lacrosse fans were out in considerable numbers Monday at the Fruit Exchange for a meeting called to reorganize the sport for 1940. The meeting elected W. McL. Cooper, Chairman.

The 1939 season was not up to expectations. The team played a couple of games — at Trail and Nelson — in return for visits from these places in 1938, but with no competition available at points that required no over-night stop, boxla had an off year.

The outlook is better for this year, and after fully discussing the situation 1940 officers were named as follows: President, Bud Wightman; Secretary, Ronald Cooper; Captain, Campbell York; Coach, W. McL. Cooper.

Lacrosse has caught on at Kimberley this year and the secretary will write that town inviting the team to open the season with a game at Creston May 24.

Tuesday, Friday and Sunday were agreed upon for practice nights. Work will commence at once at putting the grounds at Exhibition Park in shape for the year's play.

First Junior Ball Practice Scheduled Saturday Evening

The first practice of the Nelson Junior Baseball team will be held Saturday evening. It had been originally scheduled for the morning, but most of the players are working then.

Ambers Favored to Beat Jenkins in Title Defence

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP).—Ever since Lou Ambers won the world lightweight championship the first time in 1936, he has had the doubtful pleasure of tangling with punching specialists rather than less-dangerous skilled boxers every time the chips were down.

Now that he's getting along in years, so far as fistic experience is concerned, he's too old to change the habit at this stage of the game.

So he puts his crown on the line again tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden against another knocker-outer—Texas Lew Jenkins, a swatter from Sweetwater, who had disposed of his last three opponents in a total of five rounds.

Promoter Mike Jacobs figures the chances of a "kayo", plus Ambers' only recently-recognized ability as one of the classiest lightweights in years, should draw some 15,000 into the Garden to take in the show in which the Herkimer, N.Y., Hurricane defends his title for the first time since he regained it from Henry Armstrong last August.

Despite Jenkins' right-hand cannon and a left hook that does funny things to the other guy's body, the betting fraternity has installed Herkimer Lou at 1-to-2 shot to keep right on being lightweight boss when the festivities end.

This corner strings along with the 26-year-old champion in this one, despite the word that Ambers has had trouble making the weight. Jenkins has won 10 straight fights, the last seven by knockouts.

Columbia Beats Giants, Forks Ball

GRAND FORKS, B. C.—Rallying strongly in the late innings the Columbia ball team came from behind to trounce the Valley Giants 9-5 at the city park May 5. The Giants were leading 3-0 going into the fourth but the winners came back strongly in the next two innings to tally four times and take the lead 4-3. A walk and single by the Giants in the 5th accounted for another run and tied the score at 4-4.

The winners added another score in the 7th and 8th innings and then closed strongly to outscore their victims 3-1 in the final frame.

Al Donaldson showed a fine return to form after being troubled with a sore arm earlier in the season. He struck out 14 of his opponents, yielded only five hits and issued one base on balls in going the entire route for the Columbia team.

J. Lawrence started on the mound the 6th after he had allowed six hits and struck out six and walked three during six innings on the mound. R. Matheson who took over the mound duties for the Giants walked two, was touched for five hits and retired two Columbians via the strikeout route.

The lineups:

Giants—Lawrence, C. Matheson, Danshin, Talerico, Thompson, R. Matheson, Ruzicka, Chambers, McDonald.

Columbia — Gowans, Boyko, Clarke, Woodhouse, Mednedeff, Bickerton, Palek, Gray, Donaldson.

BUDDY BAER MEETS CAMPOLO JUNE 6

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP). — Promoter Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Club announced today he had signed California's Buddy Baer and Valentin Campolo of South America for a 12-round heavyweight bout in the Garden June 6.

There are 400 baseball teams operating in Australia, but in the entire country there is not a single legitimate baseball diamond. The Australians lay out their ball fields on football lots, since football comes first with them. In their rainy season they play the game just the same, and use a waterproof baseball which was designed in Australia.

TACOMA — President Jack Quill today said Dan Trower, San Francisco Seals rookie shortstop had been acquired by the Tacoma Tigers of the Western International League.

Egan Emphasizes Value of Clean Living, Panthers

Successful Season of Club Wound Up by Banquet

Putting the finishing touches on a splendid hockey season, close to 40 boys representing the bantam, midget and juvenile teams of the Panther Athletic Club were the guests of Mayor N. C. Stibbs and Alderman G. M. Benwell at a victory banquet in the Hume Hotel Silver Room Thursday evening. After the dinner came a picture show for the talented hockey youngsters who brought the club City championships in the bantam and juvenile divisions.

Undoubtedly the high light of the evening was a talk on the value of clean living by the hero of Nelson hockey youth, Pat Egan, who made the grade in the National Hockey League with New York Americans last season. Egan, who broke into senior hockey with Nelson Maple Leafs in 1936-37 and has played senior lacross here ever since 1938, told his listeners that seven out of 10 Canadian boys aspired to become N.H.L. stars like Eddie Shore, Charley Conacher and Busher Jackson, but "the way you live counts for a whole lot."

Very few in the N.H.L. smoked or drank, Egan said: in fact one of the first questions Red Dutton and Lester Patrick asked rookies were whether they had either of the habits. "If you drink, they just don't bother with you". There were many disappointments on the way up, but if a good player went about it the right way, he'd eventually be rewarded with success.

Mayor Stibbs, who was chairman, said that the midgets did not win a title this year, but he thought they had a fine chance in 1940-41. Most of the bantams, who compiled a brilliant record in winning the honors, were moving up, but the bantam team would be rebuilt again. He complimented the fine coaching of Freddy Romano and the support of Ald. Benwell during the season. Placques for the members of the two champion squads and pictures for each club player of his team were presented by Mayor Stibbs and Egan.

RECEIVE TROPHIES

Ald. Roy Sharp presented the Wood Vallance Cup to Billy Benwell, Captain of the bantams, and said that "there's more to hockey than winning games. Keep your minds and bodies clean and you will play cleanly on the ice, and exhibit good sportsmanship."

Don Gibbon, Captain of the victorious Juveniles, received the Tip Top Tailors Trophy from Charles Morris who voiced his hope that the boys realized all that was being done for them by their sponsors and coaches. Also if sport did not give a player control, cooperation and fair play, then he had missed the true meaning of sport. He stressed the necessity of youths abstaining from tobacco and liquor until at least attaining manhood, when he would know better. He pointed to such examples as Cyclone Taylor, Lester Patrick and Torchy Peden.

Ald. Benwell said "we're behind you all the time, but we expect new players to carry on the tradition of the members of your preceding teams as you graduate through the club." He congratulated the bantams on their marvellous record, and complimented the Juveniles for beating off keen rivalry from the M.R.K.'s and Fairview.

Cranbrook Business Men's Golf League Organized for 1940

CRANBROOK, B. C. — The Business Men's Golf League has been organized for the 1940 season with eight teams entered and a closely knit schedule drawn up for the Spring session.

In the 1940 league the eight teams entered will be required to play seven games to complete the schedule. So far four of these seven have been played with the result that Alan Graham and R. B. Mitchell are leading with 20 points, V. A. Lundboen and George Wilton are second with 18 points, Elgin Hill and Jack Atchison are third with 14 points, E. S. Jones and W. D. Gilroy are fourth with 13 points, F. Fergie and Gordon Pascuzzo are fifth with 13 points, I. J. McNaughton and Archie Finley are sixth with 7 points, Dick Large and E. H. McPhee are seventh with 6 points and Dr. Fergie and James Logan eighth with 5 points.

Last Sunday Elgin Hill made a dangerous assault on par for the course, 72 strokes, when he went out the first nine in 39, which is three over par and came back on the second nine in 34, which is two under par, to give him 73 for the round.

An Approach and Putt competition has been arranged for next Saturday at the Golf Club.

To Form Swim Club Trail; Miss Mary Lamb to Instruct

TRAIL, B. C. May 9—For the purpose of encouraging the development of all aquatic sports, a Swimming Club will be organized at the Memorial Hall, May 15. The new body will be sponsored by the Memorial Hall Society.

Miss Mary Lamb, who taught swimming in Trail at the Jubilee Swimming Pool last Summer, under the Provincial Recreation scheme, has again been obtained for similar duties this season.

Four Stallions Die in a Kentucky Fire

PARIS, Ky., May 9 (AP). — Fire struck suddenly at E. K. Thomas' Timberlawn Farm near here last night and burned to death four thoroughbred stallions at a loss which veteran horsemen said may exceed $100,000.

The four — Flying Heels, Kiev, Aneroid and Sergeant Byrne — were trapped in their barn by flames that spread so quickly farm employees were unable to reach them. A yearling colt, which dashed back into the burning structure after once being led to safety, perished with them.

Enlarged Heart Will Force Maki to Train Layoff

ST. PAUL, May 9 (AP). — The Dispatch said today it had learned authoritatively that Taisto Maki, Finnish distance runner, had been advised to cut down his training because of an enlarged heart and that a race scheduled for the West coast May 17 probably would be his last before returning to Finland.

Allan Quits to Play for Gold Belt Team

Jimmy Allan, a Nelson youth well-known in sport circles, particularly golf and softball, leaves this morning for the Gold Belt mine where he has secured employment. He will play softball for the mine team, which is entered in the five-team Salmo Valley League and which plays its first game this evening at Salmo against the defending league champions, from Kootenay-Belle.

Allan, one of the Nelson Golf & Country Club's top-ranking players, was recently elected to head the Nelson Softball Association, and for the time being at least he has named Bill Kapak to act in his stead. The remainder of the executive consists of Isobel Donovan, Vice-President, and Lawrence Selinger, Secretary-Treasurer.

The prime organizer of the Gilbert Bowling Memorial Trophy playoffs for the West Kootenay men's softball championship, Allan will likely play for the Salmo Valley rep team, and hopes to wrest the trophy from the present holders, Warfield Aces.

Cranbrook Tennis Club to Hold Open House Sat.

CRANBROOK, B.C.—The Cranbrook Tennis Club is having open house Saturday to mark the official opening of the season, when those interested in tennis are invited to attend. An invitation is also extended to the Kimberley and Chapman Camp tennis players.

All three of the club's courts will be available for play and tea will be served by the house committee.

This year the Juniors of the club will receive special coaching attention. For the past couple of years the Juniors have persisted valiantly in their efforts to master the game, and under the supervision of Miss Woodland and Mrs. G. E. L. MacKinnon have had outstanding tournaments each September, in which calibre of play was conspicuously on the up-grade.

This year the experts of the Senior Club will make their services available to the Juniors Saturday morning.

Two Games Church Softball Tonight

Two games are scheduled this evening in the Nelson Church Softball League. Baptists and Trinity meeting in the boys' division and St. Paul's and Senior C.Y.O. tangling in a girls' encounter.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By The Canadian Press

Remember When—Babe Ruth hit his seventh home run of the American League baseball season at Chicago 16 years ago today, to give him a lead over his rivals—Gabby Hartnett of Chicago Cubs, Jake Fournier of Brooklyn and Harry Heilmann, Detroit. The Babe hit 46 homers that season, to bring his all-time record to 384. When he retired in 1935 he had 729 to his credit.

Two Free Shots in Last Half Minute Gives Leafs Two-Point Win, Montreal

Bardsley Runs Wild to Score Total of 19 Points

By JACK MITCHELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, May 9 (CP)—Vancouver Maple Leafs, after building up a nine-point lead in the first half, were forced to come from behind in the final minutes for a 48-46 victory over Montreal Y.M.H.A. in the second game of the Dominion senior basketball final here tonight.

Y.M.H.A., who lost the first game of the best of five series 30-26 last night, staged a desperate, fighting rally that carried them into a two-point lead with but two minutes remaining. It went for naught, however, when the Leafs tied the count with a field goal and then sank two free shots in the last 30 seconds.

It was a free throw by Jim Bardsley, awarded with the count tied 46-46, that proved the winning point. The husky Vancouver forward, who ran wild throughout the game to pile up a total Joe Richman, captain of the Mon- of 19 points, sent the shot spinning through the hoop to end the Y's hopes.

COASTERS WERE ON RUN

Just a few moments before that the Eastern champions had Vancouver on the run. Behind 27-16 soon after the start of the final half, Y.M.H.A. burst forth with a stinging rally that was placed always by the slim figure of Donald Bloomfield.

Bloomfield, who bagged 18 points in all, kept the crowd of about 800 continually rising to its feet with his dazzling play. But this was more than matched by Bardsley, spearhead of the Maple Leafs attack, who scored 14 of Vancouver's 33 points in the final period.

All other members of the Western champions but Captain Joe Ross and Art Willoughby were overshadowed by Bardsley's brilliance. Ross and Willoughby were the defensive towers of the Leafs while the tall captain sank four field goals and Willoughby baggid three.

treal squad, notched 10 points and was topped only by Bloomfield in his effectiveness. The remainder of the squad was little better than in the first match, when poor shooting caused them to miss many basket set-ups.

The teams will meet again here Saturday night with Vancouver needing only another victory to sweep the series.

Referees—Sarge Swinburne and Chuck Mallis, Montreal.

Earl of Athlone Looks Forward With Princess to Life in Canada

LONDON, May 9 (CP)—The Earl of Athlone, Governor General-designate of Canada, broadcast a message of greetings to the Dominion tonight, declaring that he and Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, "feel that we shall love Canada and we hope to be worthy of the great privileges and the opportunity which lies before us."

He said that "we in England have been encouraged and cheered in these difficult days by the knowledge that Canada stands shoulder to shoulder with us." The text of the broadcast follows:

I am happy to have this opportunity to say to the people of Canada how much Princess Alice and I are looking forward to being among you. We have read and heard so much of Canada that we are eager to see your great country and to take up your life there.

I am proud to succeed Lord Tweedsmuir, whose great achievements will long be remembered through the length and breadth of Canada, and whose sudden death was so universally deplored. I am happy to think that I was honored by his friendship.

On the eve of the last war we were making ready to go to Canada, where I was to have taken up the duties of Governor General. And now once more the peoples of the British Empire find themselves engaged in war.

In the struggle, as in the last, Canada is playing a vitally important part. We in England have been encouraged and cheered in these difficult days by the knowledge that Canada stands shoulder to shoulder with us.

I myself have very recently had an opportunity to see something of the Canadian forces serving overseas. On the invitation of Major-General McNaughton I had the privilege of inspecting many units of the 1st division, taking part in an ordinary day's training and, with Princess Alice, of meeting and talking with many officers, non-commissioned officers and men.

They are a splendid body of men of whom you may well be proud. They were the Seaforth Highlanders from Vancouver, the Edmonton Regiment, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, the Carleton and York Regiment, the Royal Montreal Regiment, and the Royal 22nd Regiment from Quebec.

(Here Lord Athlone interjected a few words in French.)

Les officiers de ce dernier parlament Francais a leurs hommes et ceci me rappelait que les races Francaise et Anglaise qui combattent aujourdhui cote a cote se sont deja associees chez vous en une grande nation. Chez vous, comme dans d'autres parties de l'empire, une volonte commune a'est en effet superposee a la diversite de la culture et des langues.

(The officers of this last spoke French to their men and this recalled to me that the French and English races which are fighting side by side today already were associated among you in a great nation. Among you, as in other parts of the empire, a common will has, in effect, been superimposed on a diversity of culture and languages.)

Finding within a small area of England so many famous Canadian regiments, one's mind is carried to those great territories stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific whence they set out, and to those distant homes which they have left in order that they may serve His Majesty the King.

To relations and friends of those I was with on Saturday, I send special words of greeting and good cheer.

In coming to Canada at this time her Royal Highness and I will wish to add our help to the common cause. We shall look forward to a life of varied interests and activity. We hope to see the manifold beauties of your country and to come to know its people.

We feel that we shall love Canada and we hope to be worthy of the great privileges and the opportunity which lies before us.

Canadian Led Men From Namsos

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 9 (CP Cable) — The nerve-testing task of "covering" the withdrawal of Allied troops from Namsos, Norway, was carried out by a Canadian member of the British forces, Captain Robert Williams.

Assisted by French Alpine troops, the former insurance man from Toronto mined the Steinkjer Bridge and the tunnel bridge at Namaseid just before the Anglo-French forces sailed down Namsos fjord.

Captain Williams, a veteran of the First Great War, was on a business trip to the United Kingdom when this war broke out and obtained a commission with the British forces. He was chief transport officer on the Steinkjer front.

A newspaperman just returned here with the evacuated allied fighters told The Canadian Press how the Canadians blew up bridges and roads to prevent the Germans arriving at Namsos before the British and French troops had successfully embarked.

Captain Williams also sabotaged war equipment that had been left behind. He smashed in the engine heads of lories and slashed their tires to prevent the transports being used by the Nazis.

After completing a job that fellow officers described as "magnificently done under dangerous circumstances," the Canadian was one of the last four men to board the transport that evacuated the outnumbered Allies.

French Cabinet Talks Norway Withdrawal

Senate Approves Increase in U. S. Navy's Strength

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — The Senate Naval Committee unanimously endorsed today a measure already approved by the House of Representatives authorizing an 11 per cent increase in the United States navy's fighting strength.

The committee rejected, however, an amendment by Chairman David I. Walsh (Dem.-Massachusetts) that would have provided that the 19 new combat ships authorized in the bill should become permanent additions to the fleet and be subject to replacement without further congressional action when they are obsolete.

The bill approved, calling for a future outlay of $655,000,000 to be spent over a period of several years, carried no immediate appropri- Navy officials for $46,000,000 to start ations. Navy officials indicated, however, that they expected to ask this congress for $46,000,000 to start work on some of the ships involved if the bill is approved by the Senate.

The foes of future warship building, meanwhile, were priming their guns to fight the naval expansion measure on the Senate floor.

Men 27 to 36 Are Subject to Call

LONDON, May 9 (CP)— King George today signed a proclamation making men from 27 to 36 years old liable to military service and bringing Britain's total of those subject to call to an estimated 2,500,000.

The last proclamation, issued Jan. 1, rendered men from 20 to 27 subject to service.

The 27-year-age group is scheduled to register May 25 making the total already called to the colors, 2,000,000.

The King's new order affects men born May 10, 1903, and May 9, 1921, inclusive.

The proclamation also enabled the government to call up 19-year-olds, though they will not be required to register unless they reach 20 in the next few months.

It was expected that one age group on an ascending scale, would be called each month unless circumstances require registration of more than that number a month.

GIRL BOOKKEEPER FORCES BANDIT GIVE UP

ORTING, Wash., May 9 (AP) — Heroism of Miss Emma Olsen, bookkeeper in the Orting State Bank, resulted in the capture of an unidentified bandit here today.

Refusing to be intimated when the bandit pulled a pistol on her shortly after the Bank opened at 9 A. M., Miss Olsen seized one of the guns the bank keeps for such emergencies and forced him to surrender, according to Leslie A. Stone, bank cashier.

No More Mail for "Lonely Soldier"

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—Mail addressed to the "Loneliest soldier" or "Lonely Soldier" has given the Canadian Post Office Department such a headache that hereafter it will not accept any letters or parcels so addressed.

A few months ago a new report from Aldershot, Eng., where Canadian soldiers are training, told of the "loneliest" soldier in the camp who never received any mail from home as his parents were pacifists and did not believe in war. A barrage of mail from sympathetic Canadians followed.

While "recognizing the sympathetic consideration which prompted writers of such letters," the Department pointed out today the difficulty which would confront the postal service or military authorities in "attempting to select the 'loneliest soldiers' from day to day upon receipt of batches of mail so addressed.

Such mail in any quantity also delays the despatch of properly addressed mail, it said.

Prices Improve on Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, May 9 (CP)—Better prices and a little better action marked Toronto Stock Exchange trade today.

International Petroleum at 22⅝ was up ⅝, Imperial added ¼ at 13⅝ and British American Oil at 21 had a minor gain. Distillers-Seagrams advanced ⅛ to a new high for the year at 27⅞ and Canada malting firmed ¼.

A drop of 1¼ showed for Page-Hersey Steel. Consolidated Smelters declined a point to a new low for the year at 38.

Losses showed for Ventures, Falconbridge and Sudbury Basin. Hudson Bay and Noranda lost about ¼. The close was up for Waite-Amulet, Steep Rock and Sherritt.

Bralorne Gold, Dome and Hollinger weakened narrowly. Soft spots included Wright-Hargreaves, Pioneer, O'Brien, Sheep Creek and Sylvanite. Gainers included Lake Shore Pickle Crow, Macassa, Aunor, Pamour, Signa, Powell Rouyn, San Antonio and Coniaurum.

Royalite, Calgary and Edmonton, Home and South End Pete were all gainers among Western oils. West Flank and Brown weakened slightly.

Lind Property Near Kaslo Is Ready to Ship; Spur Finished

A considerable tonnage of ore is ready for shipment on the C. Lind property near Kaslo, on which the owner is doing development work, it was stated in Nelson Thursday.

The road to the Rambler mine, which will be used, is in fair shape, although the last two miles to the mine are covered with four to five feet of snow.

A new C. P. R. spur has been completed and it is anticipated that shipments will start as soon as snow conditions permit.

Corn Leads Price Flurry at Chicago

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP) —Grain prices made new attempts to advance today, with corn in the lead following inauguration of a government export subsidy program for that commodity, but the upturn was shortlived.

After corn values had pushed ⅝-¾ cent higher to the best levels in almost three years' the market reacted due largely to profit taking. Traders reported country offerings increased on the bulge. Wheat was ⅛-⅛ cent higher at one state but these gains were wiped out and fractional losses substituted before the final bell.

Corn closed unchanged to ⅛ lower than yesterday, May 60½-⅝, July 67¼; wheat ⅛-⅛ off, May $1.06⅝-¾, July $1.04⅝-½; oats ⅝-⅛ down.

They Stung Nazi Battleship

The officers and crew of the British submarine "Spearfish" are shown on the deck of their "pig boat", as they arrived at an unnamed English port from their assignment in Norwegian waters, during which, the "Spearfish" hit the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer with one torpedo and maybe more. Members of the crew are looking at the Spearfish insignia on the side of the craft.

Brisk Buying of Papers at Montreal

MONTREAL, May 9 (CP)—Propelled by brisk buying, Papers swung to the front of a rallying stock market late today.

Fractional gains showed for Bathurst, Price Brothers, St. Lawrence Corporation common and St. Lawrence Corporation preferred.

Gains of fractions came out for C.P.R., Dosco, and National Steel Car. Canada Steamships moved up, nickel gained a fraction.

COAST BANK CLEARINGS

VANCOUVER, May 9 (CP) — Bank clearings for the week ending Thursday, May 9, 1940:

		Corresponding week in 1939:
Vancouver	14,756,190	16,116,343
Victoria	1,891,507	1,750,920
N. Westminster	713,067	650,172

Seeding in Full Swing at Creston

CRESTON, B.C.—With the exception of a few, and small, low-lying tracts the end of the week will see the completion of seeding on the 14,000 acres in crop in the three dyked land projects at Creston. The crop has gone in under quite ideal conditions and the moisture supply could hardly be better.

An unofficial estimate is that 12,000 acres are in wheat, with possibly 1700 acres in seed and commercial peas, and the balance in oats and barley. About 20,000 bushels of seed wheat was required for this year's planting, practically all of which is from the local crop of 1939. Several varieties of Spring wheat are finding favor, with the preference still for the Marquis.

Acreage planted to Winter wheat was smaller than usual, but the fall sown grain has Wintered well and is looking remarkably fine.

Gordon Thorpe, in charge of the experimental farm tract of 10 acres on the flats, has the season's planting well in hand. For 1940 his grain experiments will be more extensive than a year ago, and there will be an enlargement of operations with vegetables. The blank head grain experiments, which were featured on Nick's Island in 1939, will be continued.

Foreign Bonds Gain

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP). — Up fractions to around 2 near noon today on the bond market were Oslo City 4½s of '55, German Government 7s of '49, unstamped, Norway 4s of '56, Sidney 5½s of '55, Australian 4½s of '56, New South Wales 5s of '58, Belgian 6s, Denmark 4½s of '62, Italian 7s of '51, and Milan City 6½s of '52.

To stretch the supplies of road material, highway builders in Manchuria are laying mere ribbons of concrete, four to a highway.

Little Interest Winnipeg Trade

WINNIPEG, May 9 (CP).—General lack of interest, which observers said appeared to be a reluctance on the part of traders to take a definite stand in the market, held wheat futures prices almost unchanged on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Fractional gains dotted quotations at times but the close was ⅛—¼ cent lower, May at 88⅝, July 90⅛—¼ and October 92⅝—⅛ cents.

Export interests were credited with taking some wheat out of the pit and mills made minor purchases at times. This support, however, was offset by reports of beneficial rains in sections of the United States Spring and Winter wheat belts.

Wheat prices at Chicago were down more than ½ cent at times while Argentine values were off 1¼ cents at the half-way mark of Buenos Aires trading.

Mills made light purchases of No. 1 hard, Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 Northern, No. 5 wheat and No. 4 special in the cash wheat market at practically unchanged price spreads. Most of the wheat was believed to have been taken for domestic account. Coarse grain operations were unimportant.

Western farmers delivered 180,000 bushels of wheat to country elevators yesterday against 361,000 unloaded on the same day a year ago.

Wheat shipments from the Argentine were estimated at 3,123,000 bushels this week compared with 4,310,000 last week and 3,266,000 bushels cleared during the corresponding period last year.

Creston Creamery Buys Remainder of Equipment

CRESTON, B.C.—Announcement of the date for the commencement of buttermaking at Creston Valley Co-Operative Creamery is looked for any day now. At the directors meeting Friday a wire was sent Buttermaker H. Smith at Vancouver, asking him to be here by May 15. The meeting was in charge of C. C. French, with Directors H. A. Rogers and K. Feidler in attendance.

Purchase of the balance of the equipment was authorized. This included a 24-bottle tester, sanitary pipe, moisture scales and testing outfit. The two electric motors, with a voltage to meet the demands of the plant, have been ordered, and Contractor W. J. Craig was instructed to make some minor adjustments to the creamery.

Salmon Arm Creamery will be written to asking for information as to their records and the size of their butter boxes. A representative of the directorate will interview cream cans and separators.

The office at the creamery building is to be fitted up with a desk and filing cabinets, and a typewriter will be purchased. The secretary stated no reply had been received from W. A. Drayton, Fort Steele, who had been written requesting that he ship his cream to the local creamery.

CANBERRA (CP)— Too many birds are being killed by motorists on Australian highways, and Chief Inspector F. Lewis of fisheries and game, has pointed out "the slightest touch of the horn will warn the birds."

Creston Watches Cherry Bloom "Set"

CRESTON, B. C.—The "set" of the sweet cherry bloom will be watched with some anxiety this year due to a couple of touches of three degrees of frost April 29 and 30. Those who examined the blooms claim they show no ill effects of the cold touch, with the possible exception of trees in the low spots. Cherry bloom was about at its peak at the month end.

The coldest temperature of the month, was 28 above zero April 11, and the highest followed two days later when the mercury got up to 73 in the shade. April's total rainfall was .71 of an inch. While this is below normal, it shows a gain over 1939, when April moisture supply was .02.

While the 1939-40 snowfall of less than two feet is about the lightest on record, this does not mean that the moisture supply is equally low. Records kept by S. G. Parker, at the West Kootenay power plant at Goat River Canyon, show the highest stream flow at the dam this year as 3289 cubic feet per second. In 1930 the peak flow was 2560 c.f.s. at May 21st and in 1926 it was 3160 c.f.s. for highwater mark on April 30th.

The Parker records show that since 1925 the three years of highest water were 1938 with a 11,240 c.f.s.; 1935 with 11,360 c.f.s. and 1925 with 10,800 c.f.s. In the 16 years covered in the report highest water was recorded once in June, four times in April and for 11 years May had the record. The latest high water encountered was in 1933, at June 16.

British Studying Woodpulp Imports

LONDON, May 9 (CP Cable)—Replying to a number of questions about the cessation of woodpulp imports from Scandinavia and replacement with supplies from Canada and Newfoundland, Lieht.-Colonel J. J. Llewellin, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Supply, told the House of Commons today that "steps already have been taken to secure alternative supplies and these will be continued to the fullest extent."

Colonel Llewellin did not answer when Rev. James Little, Conservative, asked if he was aware that "there is a large quantity of very suitable timber in Newfoundland awaiting shipment."

Outside the House it was learned that periodical proprietors not included in the huge newsprint supply company scheme have made their own approaches to the Ministry of Supply seeking to import from Canada and Newfoundland raw material or finished supercalendared paper, or both.

Permission has been asked to import sufficient raw material to produce about 80,000 tons of paper annually. The figure was said to be the minimum necessary for the production of the periodicals on an economic basis.

The interested parties have urged the Ministry of Supply that logs should be imported because woodpulp is needed if the slowing down of many United Kingdom mills is to be avoided.

Most of Britain's biggest paper mills are working only part time.

KASLO DISTRICT W. I. PLANS FLOWER SHOW

KASLO, B.C. — The President, Mrs. Fred Speirs, presided at the Kaslo and District Women's Institute meeting at the home of Mrs. G. K. Sutherland, 14 members being present.

The Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. A. MacGillivray gave satisfactory monthly and financial reports; $8 was voted to the funds of the Salvation Army.

It was decided to hold the annual flower show in August. Miss Lorna Spiers was chosen as Secretary.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Sutherland.

PET SHOW IS HELD AT GRAY CREEK SCHHOOL

GRAY CREEK, B. C. — A Pet Show was held at the Gray Creek school under the patronage of the Bluebird Club. Tom Lymbery was convener. The eight classes provided for the handsomest, the shortest tail, the longest tail, the best-cared-for, the fattest, the best-mannered, the ugliest and consolation.

A chow dog took the prize as handsomest and best-cared-for. The ugliest award went to a group of mussels; a small took the shortest-tail honor, and the consolation was given to a group of baby rabbits.
