Nelson Unit's $1,054,550 for Loan Is $204,550 Over Quota and $199,700 Over Subscriptions in 1941 Drive

Producing $1,054,550 for Canada's second Victory Loan, Nelson unit has gone over the top by $204,550 and has beaten its total in the 1941 Victory Loan campaign by $199,700.

This splendid record was achieved by the district in the face of doubt; and was achieved by wide cooperation in the final drive.

And still returns are incomplete. It is not expected the present total, $1,054,550, will be greatly increased but it will be slightly higher.

Figures are now being compiled to show the number of individual subscribers in the district.

Two of the ships were observed to be in a sinking condition, and a third was beached, the communique said.

VANCOUVER, March 10 (CP)—The Executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, in special session here today, demanded in a resolution that the Provincial Government stand by its 1940 pledge to exempt municipalities from any portion of the cost of the Teachers' Superannuation Fund.

In its resolution the Executive said the Government had violated a promise given by ex-Premier T. D. Pattullo on Nov. 21, 1940, by imposing pension liabilities on municipal school boards in excess of the $450,000 annual grant the Government is making the municipalities.

DRIVE ON RUSS AT ONCE LATEST HITLER DECISION

Drops North Defence, Southern Drive Schemes

FEARS RUSS MAY GAIN NAZI SOIL

LONDON, March 10 (CP) — Haunted by the muddy spectre of Spring thaws and fearful that a Soviet push from Leningrad might penetrate German soil, Hitler was reported today to be calling up his ultimate reserves for an all-or-nothing offensive in Russia as soon as possible.

Reliable sources described as "almost certainly accurate" confidential advices that the Nazi Fuehrer had abandoned earlier plans for a defensive campaign in the North while concentrating on a big drive in the South.

Instead, they said, he evidently had determined on attacking all along the line.

This was said to be due to his fear that defeat of a defensive force on the Leningrad front would let the Red Army into the Baltic States, behind the German Army and with a clear path to invade Germany itself.

Red Army successes around Staraya Russa and a weakening of the Finnish forces were said to have raised this fear.

A Russian dispatch from the Donets Basin said, "Spring is expressed by warm sunny days but by artillery music, the noise the Red Army is making as it advances."

In the Staraya Russa area, substantial Russian reinforcements were reported moving into that sector Southwest of Lake Ilmen.

Other new forces were massed behind the Kholm marshes while Leningrad's troops hammered away at German fortifications between Volkhov and Lake Ladoga.

A supplement to the Soviet midnight communique said Russian units had broken through German lines on one sector of the Northwestern front and occupied 18 populated places since Sunday.

U.S. Army to Build Highway to Alaska; Civilians Not Needed

EDMONTON, March 10 (CP) — The Edmonton Journal in a front page story said construction of the Alaska Highway will be "a job entirely produced by the United States Army, and civilian workers will not be needed, at least this year."

The Journal said "the pioneer road will be nine feet wide and capable of handling heavy trucks. Eventually it will be 24 feet wide."

SHIP TORPEDOED NEAR NEW YORK 4TH FROM BRAZIL

26 Survivors Reach New York; 59 Missing

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP).—The torpedo-sinking of the Brazilian cargo-passenger liner Cayru, the fourth Brazilian ship sunk in 21 days, was announced tonight by United States naval authorities following the arrival here of 26 survivors. Fifty-nine others are missing in three lifeboats.

The navy said the 5153-ton liner was sunk between 4 and 4:30 p.m. P.D.T. Sunday about 130 miles off Ambrose Light at the entrance to New York harbor.

The survivors included 22 seamen and four passengers. Six other passengers and 53 crew members are missing.

Brazil's tonnage loss rose to 22,231 gross tons with the sinking — a serious inroad in the marine lifeline between the United States and Brazil.

All passengers and crewmen got off in four boats but a gale soon separated the boats. A United Nations ship rescued the survivors landed today after they spent 15½ hours in the pitching lifeboat.

The navy said the submarine submarine surfaced and its commander, speaking in broken English that resembled German, asked the Cayru's captain the name of his ship and its destination.

The captain, who is missing, was in a lifeboat with a motor but rough waves put the motor out of commission, the navy said.

Certain Parts of Kootenay Are Barred to Japs

VICTORIA, March 10 (CP). — Japanese are being moved from Vancouver Island points, with logging camp and sawmill employees forming the vanguard under the Federal order for all Japanese to be evacuated from the Pacific Coast defence area, it was learned here today.

Meanwhile the Provincial Government made preparations to enlarge its system of road camps and projects East of the Cascade range, to provide work for Japanese males who are being moved from the coast in groups.

Public Works Minister Rolf Bruhn said the Jasper and Hope-Princeton Highway projects had been approved by Ottawa and that authority was being sought for other roads East of the range, but not in certain parts of the Kootenay area, where essential war industries are located.

OFFENSIVE WILL COME DECLARES CANADIAN CHIEF

Attack on Alaska or Canal Zone Is Likely

COMMANDER IS CHEERED BY VISIT

By J. F. BANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10 (CP). —The United Nations will let no opportunity slip by to take the offensive against the Axis, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian corps, declared here today.

At a Press conference, sandwiched between discussions with high-ranking American and British military officials, Gen. McNaughton said the Canadian army in Britain was designed for offensive action, as a spearhead against Axis formations and is "itching for action."

In a quick survey of the Western Hemisphere, he said it would not surprise him if the Japanese attack Alaska or the Panama Canal zone but he regarded an invasion of Northern Canada by the Hudson Bay route as the idea of a man "with a maggot in his brain."

At the same time, the general took a strong stand against immobilizing the Canadian army in Canada to meet the demands of people who anticipate nuisance value raids, particularly on the on the West coast. He said we "must not dissipate our forces" but continue the policy of building up an offensive force to be used in Europe.

The Press conference was held at the Canadian Legation and followed a lengthy interview Gen. McNaughton had with Rear-Admiral F. J. Horne, who in yesterday's shakeup of the United States naval command was made assistant to Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations. Later, he saw Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, war shipping administrator and the man in charge of the merchant shipbuilding program and also inspected the Washington navy yard.

It seemed significant that Gen. McNaughton should spend so much time with American naval and ship-building officials because he told his Press conference the one limiting factor on the size of the Canadian army in Britain was shipping in the North Atlantic.

The question of general offensive operations against the Axis was the main topic of discussion at the Press conference. The general said he could not be specific about his interviews with President Roosevelt and American and British military officials but he admitted "I have never had such a heartening experience in my life as I have had in Washington," and "I will go back to my troops with very much increased confidence."

Gen. McNaughton said invasion of England this Spring "is one of the most dangerous things that can happen to us and we have got to be on the alert to meet it."

MCKECHNIE REELECTED CHANCELLOR OF U.B.C.

Peparations Speeded for Soldiers' Vote; Plan Advance Polls in Canada

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP) — Speeding of facilities for the overseas active service vote in the manpower plebiscite next month held the attention of Federal officials tonight, with the prospect that early shipment of supplies by boat would be undertaken.

Service men vote from April 18 to 25, others on April 27.

It was understood precautions will be taken against loss of printed materials, including ballots and other documents, sent overseas by boat.

These precautions will take the form of sample documents being sent to the United Kingdom by various routes so they will be in the hands of representatives there. Should a ship carrying the heavy burden of documents be lost or delayed, emergency arrangements will be made with United Kingdom authorities to have printing undertaken there.

Advance polls in Canada will be open between 2 p.m. and 10 p.m. on April 23, 24 and 25. The privilege of voting at an advance poll extends only to commercial travellers and those engaged in transportation services who expect to be absent from their usual place of residence on voting day, and to members of the armed forces and Royal Canadian Mounted Police who expect to be unable to vote in their usual polling division.

Britain Aroused by Jap Atrocities Statement

LONDON, March 10 (CP Cable).—Disclosure of Japanese atrocities in Hong Kong tonight aroused resentment and bitterness in every Briton and brought renewed Press and parliamentary demands for concentration of the nation's full powers in a re-invigorated war drive.

The BBC began almost immediately to tell the world of the Japanese outrages and officials said the substance of the statement would be included in 120 news bulletins broadcast in 46 languages.

WINCH DEMANDS ACTION AT ONCE ON B.C. DEFENCE

"If Gov't. Doesn't Take Action, We Will"

OTTAWA "MUST CUT RED TAPE"

VICTORIA, March 10 (CP) — Harold Winch, Leader of the C.C.F. Opposition in the Legislature, in an interview here tonight said he had conferred with Premier John Hart and military and nava authorities on British Columbia's defences and air raid precautions preparations, and that "if the Government doesn't take action, we will."

After a conference with Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, General Officer Commanding in Chief of the Pacific Command, and Commodore W. J. R. Beech, senior naval officer, commanding the Pacific, Mr. Winch said they gave him "all assurances within their power, but I feel Ottawa should realize the necessity for a wider viewpoint and cutting of military and naval red tape."

"I feel," he continued, "that Ottawa should give the local commanders greater authority and speed up supplies for all branches of the service, including Home Guards."

Mr. Winch said he later saw Premier Hart "and found him, in my estimation, greatly perturbed by the situation."

The Premier agreed, said Mr. Winch, to telephone Defence Minister Ralston at Ottawa "in connection with our request to be kept fully informed and for necessary authority to be given commanders of all three services on this Coast to confer with the Premier and myself on Coast defence matters."

"If A.R.P. is not established on an efficient basis," the C.C.F. Leader said, "I would have no hesitation in recommending compulsory service . . .

"If we don't get action on these two issues (A.R.P. and defence) fairly soon, we are going to move immediately and bring about that action by placing the situation before the public and telling them what we know. If the Government doesn't take action we will . . .

"If we, as individual citizens, don't wake up to a realization of the grave danger we are facing and volunteer for service where we can best serve, the time will soon come when we will be forced to serve wherever we are placed . . .

"There has been too much apathy and passing the buck; we have got to get down to a realization that we are at war. The time has come to stop playing at war. The situation is too serious—it is critical."

Drive on to Union With Chinese for Defence of India

R.A.F. Strikes Heavy Blow at Jap Airdrome, Shields Retreating Troops; Important Port Bassein Is Demolished

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—British Empire forces abandoning the Southern tip of Burma, have slashed through a Japanese trap and were driving tonight into Central Burma toward their first mass rendezvous with their Chinese allies in the Shan States for the supreme defence of India.

Operations on the Burma front indicated that Britain was staking everything on the belief the battered army of Burma could, with Chinese aid, make a prolonged resistance.

A communique from New Delhi announced the Royal Air Force, despite the British retreat and readjustment to new bases, had struck a heavy blow at a Japanese airdrome at Moulmein, dropping sticks of bombs among 14 scattered planes and setting two fires. Fighting planes, too, lifted a shield over the retreating troops. A Japanese air raid upon Tharrawaddy, however, killed some Burmese civilians.

Signalling the total loss, for the time being, of extreme Southern Burma, Allied engineers and drillers were carrying out great demolitions at Bassein, the import port 90 miles West of Rangoon, which itself already had been evacuated of military forces and stripped of all military value.

SMASH OUT OF BAD SPOT

Afield, Lt.-Gen. Harold R. L. G. Alexander's forces made a successful withdrawal Northward toward central Burma, thus extricating themselves from what had been a grave position.

This was made possible in heavy separate actions, a subsidiary British force previously isolated around Pegu, 40 miles North of Rangoon, smashing its way through the Japanese toward a junction with the main British bodies, which in turn broke through the Japanese astride the Rangoon-Prome Road in two violent and bloody tank and infantry assaults.

Rangoon had been made untenable not only by the temporary isolation of the Pegu force, but by enemy landings on the North shore of the Bakir River and on the West bank of the Rangoon River—landings opposed by a British sloop which incidentally captured one enemy craft to find that it contained a single Japanese officer and 55 traitorous Burmese.

Rangoon, according to delayed advices, was left a spectacular area of waste by the British scorched earth policy. The Syriam oil refineries 20 miles down-river were smashed and the pipeline 300 miles Northward was cut, these dispatches stated.

"Great warehouses, docks, quays, jetties — everything of any possible value to the Japanese — were ruthlessly blown up or set on fire," it was added.

The new British-Chinese front now being projected across central Burma from the Chittagong area East of Calcutta to the upper Thailand border is intended to form a constant threat to the right flank of the enemy movement toward India.

Admittedly there is little present chance of reinforcing the British troops in Burma and it was evident the existing forces and the Chinese were counted on to halt the Japanese until India's own resistance can be fully organized.

CONCERN AT LASHIO

Both British and Chinese authorities were reported concerned at present over the Lashio railroad terminus of the now useless Burma Road, where large stocks of materjal for Chiang Kai-Shek's Burma troops are concentrated. Japan may try a major assault on Lashio.

There appeared to be more confidence here in Gen. Alexander's ability than in any other British leader since Sir Archibald Wavell smashed the Italians in Libya in 1940.

Gen. Alexander's immediate objective is to so harry the Japanese forces that they cannot make progress of consequence through Burma without first breaking his forces, and his second objective is to protest the projected Assam Road to China intended to carry the traffic of the old and now lost Burma Road.

Mennonites to Work in B.C. Forest Land

VICTORIA, March 20 CP).—British Columbia has agreed to take 3000 Mennonites and other conscientious objectors from other provinces for forestry work, Lands Minister A. Wells Gray announced here tonight.

Duties of the Board which may be enlarged will not be statutory. It will act in an advisory capacity on all public works matters, such as estimates, contracts, personnel, salary increases and economy salary increases and economy.

The Board will advise on costs and approve appointments and transfers of officials, allocate and distribute funds, examine contracts and generally streamline the Department.

Public Works Minister Bruhn said such action will result almost immediately in a saving of $50,000 to the taxpayers of B.C.

Stewart Given Broad Powers Over All Forms of Motor Transportation

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP)—Broad powers of control over all forms of commercial motor transportation have been conferred upon James Stewart, Administrator of Services under the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the Board announced tonight.

"Plans are already well under way," the statement said, "drastically to cut down empty running or running without full loads, and to concentrate equipment and give priority to essential services."

The order, prepared in collaboration with the Wartime Industries Control Board in the Department of Munitions and Supply, has for its main objective the maximum conservation on rubber, oil and automotive equipment, and to ensure the maintenance of essential services.

It covers all forms of commercial truck and transport services and facilities, ordinary taxicabs and "drive yourself" cabs.

The only exception to the control is buses licensed by Provincial or municipal authorities to carry passengers on a defined route.

The Administrator of Services is given power to regulate, control, restrict or prohibit the use and operation of any commercial automotive vehicle and to prescribe rates, routes or loads and control empty or "dead" running time.

He may require any person owning or controlling commercial automotive equipment to pool his equipment and facilities with other persons, to accept and carry specified loads or otherwise operate his equipment as the Administrator may direct.

A provincial grant of $19,889.55 on the per diem basis, a laboratory grant of $1650 from the Province and a grant of $9910.00 from the City of Nelson were other major items. Donations totalled $2313.26.

Salaries and wages consumed $48,716.82 of the money received; the dietary department $15,907.82; and the housekeeping $3645.58, the last figure excluding $2,514.07 for linen.

Other major items of expense included $8,898.48 in bad debts and $13,582.60 for "free patients." The balance sheet showed patients' accounts receivable at $36,376.55. J. C. Forbes, Secretary, explained that in two years $14,750 had been written off in bad debts and $25,000 in such accounts had been placed in reserve, while $5000 in accounts had been "resurrected" by small payments made on them.

OWE ABOUT $6000

The profit and loss statement showed a surplus of $7,840.97. H.M. Whimster, President, discounted this, stating the hospital owed about $6000.

The Hospital Women's Auxiliary statement placed receipts at $769.07, the major item being $236.20 raised by a tag day. The Auxiliary spent $206.94 on furnishing a hospital ward and a large part of $510.09 now on hand would be spent when orders already placed were completed, said Miss Gladys Ewing, Treasurer.

The Society passed votes of thanks, in appreciation of services rendered during the year to President Whimster; Miss Vera B. Eidt, Superintendent, the Auxiliary, the medical staff, the Nelson Daily News, and the Board of Directors.

Wheat Policy Challenged by C. C. F. Member

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP). — Every dollar that can safely be taken out of the Federal treasury to assist Western wheat growers is being taken out, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in the House of Commons tonight.

The Minister spoke as the Government's wheat policy was challenged by the opposition in amendment which called for implementation of the requests of the Saskatchewan farm delegation which visited Ottawa last month seeking a $1 wheat price.

The amendment was proposed by Rev. T. C. Douglas (C.C.F. Weyburn) in second reading of a government bill to raise the guaranteed wheat price of 70 to 90 cents basis No. 1 Northern at Fort William.

Mr. Douglas moved that it be not read a second time but that the House decaire the action of the Government in disregarding the requests of Western farmers for a $1 wheat price was contrary to the peace, order and good government of Canada.

Taking direct issue with the amendment Mr. Gardiner argued that most of the representations of the Western delegation had been adopted by the Government and that none of them had been disregarded.

Dr. F. W. Gershaw (Lib. Medicine Hat) said the Government, faced with the wheat problem created by loss of markets through spread of the war, had decided to save the industry so it might function when all farm products would be needed. Had the Government chosen otherwise, 1,500,000 people would have had to go on relief.

Lakes Urges Nelsonites to Make Acquaintance With Golf Course

Cutting down their outside trips to patriotically conserve gasoline, many Nelsonites not now acquainted with Nelson's golf course will have the opportunity, if they choose to take it, to treat themselves to a new and unique pleasure this season, argues Harold Lakes, in urging both full local utilization of the Nelson course, and wide publicizing of its attractions.

Mr. Lakes asks that when Nelson Golf & Country Club, Ltd., meets Thursday night for the purpose of electing directors, all those interested in golf attend, even though not shareholders, in order that full discussion may be given to publicizing the course, and emphasizing its value to Nelson and, to the general public.

Under changed time conditions, business men who once could not find time to play in the evening will now find the time ample, Mr. Lakes points out, and he expects the local golfing fraternity to be reinforced also from new residents, many of whom have indicated their intention to appear on the links. It is generally believed, he says, that many will use the Nelson golf course this Summer as healthful relaxtion from the increasing worry and strain of present day conditions.

Last year Charlie Blunt, the Club pro was on the course March 23, and regular play was in full swing by April 1, and it is expected the course will be open on the same day this year.

Hospital Awaits Ottawa Approval New Equipment

Telegrams will be forwarded to Ottawa today by the Kootenay Lake General Hospital Society urging early action on the request for authority to purchase, and install new equipment financed by a $15,000 bylaw recently passed by ratepayers of Nelson.

The equipment includes a new sterilizer, new X-ray and new elevator.

Ask Cut in Wheat Storage Charges

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP)— Reduction of wheat storage charges was urged today in the House of Commons by two Western members as the Government's Wheat Policy met mingled approval and censure in debate on the three Bills in which it is embodid.

Thse Bills are an amendment to the Wheat Board Act to increase the minimum guaranteed wheat price from 70 to 90 cents a bushel, Basis No. 1 Northern at Fort William; a Bill to continue the Wheat Acreage Reduction bonuses instituted last year; and an amendment to the Prairie Farm Assistance Act which provides for crop failure acreage bonuses.

Dr. Thomas Donnelly (Lib. Wood Mountain) urged that the present storage charge of 1-40th cent a bushel a day be cut in half and E. E. Perley (Con. Qu-Appelle) said he wanted it cut to one quarter of the present rate.

Both Dr. Donnelly and Mr. Perley said they consider the new wheat price and minimum prices for barley, oats and flaxseed which the Givertment proposes to establish are fair, but Rev. T. C. Douglas (C.C.F. Weyburn) said the new wheat policy woud occasion widespread disappointment in the West.

Aberhart Says B.C. Best Place for Jap Civilians

EDMONTON, March 10 (CP) — J. H. Walker (Ind. Warner) said in the Alberta Legislature today that 500 Japanese families may be sent from British Columbia to the sugar beet areas of Southwestern Alberta and urged that the Dominion Government be asked to accept responsibility for educational costs of children of those families.

Premier Aberhart in his reply said the Provincial Government has no power to stop the movement of Japanese, the Government does not want the Japanese "gathered" in Alberta, the Government could protest and that it is possible some action will be taken.

The Premier asserted he thinks British Columbia is the best place for these Japanese. He asked Mr. Walker is residents of Warner Riding were protesting to the Federal Government and Mr. Walker replied he understood some such plan is under way.

A few minutes later Provincial Treasurer Low introduced a bill to "prohibit the sales of lands to any enemy aliens or Hutterites for the duration of the war." The Bill is not printed but one Minister said the title of the Bill explains it.

Rape, Murder . . .

British at Hong Kong Subjected to Fiendish Cruelties From Japanese

50 Officers and Men Bound Hand and Foot Bayoneted to Death, Many Die From Merciless Treatment in Camps

LONDON, March 10 (CP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden charged in the House of Commons today that the Japanese army in Hong Kong had been guilty of wholesale atrocities in the occupied Crown Colony and declared the Japanese Emperor and Government and "the whole Japanese people" were to blame.

Fifty British officers and men were bound hand and foot and then bayoneted to death following the capture of Hong Kong; women both European and Asiatic, were raped and murdered, and one whole Chinese district was declared a brothel without exception for the status of any of the inhabitants, Mr. Eden declared.

These happenings, previously reported to the Government, were not made public until it had confirmation from reliable eyewitnesses recently escaped from the Colony, Mr. Eden said.

"Their testimony establishes the fact that the Japanese army at Hong Kong perpetrated against their helpless military prisoners and civil population without distinction of race or color the same kind of barbarities which aroused the horror of the civilized world at the time of the Nanking massacre of 1937," Mr. Eden continued.

He referred to the Japanese capture of the former Chinese capital on Dec. 13, 1937.

Substantiated accounts at that time said a reign of terror existed for four days, with thousands of women raped and murdered and other thousands of the inhabitants killed during the burning, looting and pillage of Nanking.

Japanese statements at the time described the disorders as a "mopping up" operation.

Sir Percy Harris, Liberal Member for Southwest Bethnal Green, asked Mr. Eden to "make it clear that the Emperor, Government and whole Japanese people were responsible for these atrocities."

"That is certainly so," Mr. Eden replied.

All survivors of the Hong Kong garrison were herded into a camp of brick huts without doors, windows, light or sanitation, he said.

The dead had to be buried in a corner of the camp.

No drugs or medical facilities were supplied, he declared.

He said eye-witnesses had confirmed the reports of Japanese atrocities in Hong Kong; that the atrocities were committed without race or color distinctions and were of the same kind which aroused the world's horror at the time of the Nanking massacre in 1937.

The Japanese actions, he said, apparently would not bear independent investigation as permission was refused for a representative of the Red Cross to go there.

"Two things are clear—to the House, the country and the world—first that the Japanese claim that they are animated by lofty chivalry is nauseating hypocrisy," he said.

"Secondly, the enemy must be utterly defeated and we can best express our sympathy by redoubling our efforts to ensure his utter and overwhelming defeat."

By the end of January, he said, 150 cases of dysentry had occurred in the camp.

"The Japanese guards are utterly callous and repeated requests by Gen. Maltby (Maj.-Gen. C. M. Maltby, British Commander at Hong Kong) for an interview with the Japanese commander have been refused," he added. "This means presumably that the Japanese high command have connived at the conduct of their forces.

"Most European residents, including some who are seriously ill, have been interned. But like the military prisoners, they are being given only a little rice and water and occasional scraps of another food.'

He declared the Japanese Government had refused to allow a diplomatic protecting power or the International Red Cross Committee to visit Hong Kong, and placed blame for the atrocities on the Japanese Emperor, the Government, and "the whole Japanese people."

He said the official announcement had been withheld until the British Government was "in possession of statements of reliable eyewitnesses who succeeded in escaping from Hong Kong."

He said there was some reason to believe that conditions had slightly improved since late January and early February when these eyewitnesses had escaped.

He said the Government had no information yet as to the condition of prisoners of war and civilians in Malaya and Singapore, but that Japanese news agencies had reported on March 3 the arrest of 77,699 Chinese who were described as being subjected to a "severe examination."

"It is not difficult to imagine what that entails," he commented.

Ten days after the capitulation of Hong Kong, he added, the Japanese were still bringing in wounded from the surrounding hills and were refusing permission to bury the dead.

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP)—While no specific reports of Japanese atrocities against Canadians have been received, there is no information to show any Japanese differentiation between Canadian troops and British, who are known to have been maltreated, the External Affairs Department said today.

"Disturbing reports of Japanese treatment of prisoners of war and civilians in Hong Kong have been confirmed," said the External Affairs Department in a statement.

Canadian troops taken prisoner at Hong Kong, the British island outpost off the China shore which surrendered Christmas Day, are believed to number 1,689.

The Canadian force which landed in Hong Kong in mid-November numbered 1,973 officers and men and of those taken prisoner the External Affairs Department said:—

"Of all the reports of specific atrocities received up to the present none are alleged to have been committed against Canadians but no reports show, however, that insofar as the general treatment of prisoners of war is concerned the Japanese have made any differentiation between Canadian and other British troops."

The British Foreign Secretary's statement said all survivors of the garrison—the Japanese reported a total of 10,947 prisoners including 5,072 British, 1,689 Canadian, 2,829 Indian and 3577 others—had been herded into a camp "consisting of wrecked huts without doors, windows, light or sanitation."

As yet the Japanese Government has refused permission for a visit to Hong Kong by a representative of the protecting power, Argentine or a visit by the Red Cross representative.

Mr. Eden's statement, relayed to the Canadian Government before he delivered it, was the first official word received of maltreatment of prisoners at Hong Kong though there have been various reports to this effect.

The Government was hesitant to give out any such information until it had been thoroughly checked and on several occasions the External Affairs Department announced it was doing all possible to get accurate information regarding conditions at Hong Kong.

Almost the complete Canadian contingent which sailed to Hong Kong under Brig. J. K. Lawson of Ottawa, since listed as killed in action, was compose of members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers and the Quebec Royal Rifles of Canada.

Mr. Eden's statement in the British House backed up the first report—unofficial—of Japanese ill-treatment of prisoners which was received from Arnold Vaught of the International Friends' Mission at Chunking. On Feb. 15 he reported 5,000 Hong Kong prisoners were living in an internment camp at Kowloon, on the China mainland, without proper food and without sanitary facilities.

He told how the Empire troops "begged for water" as they marched past the Kowloon Y. M. C. A.

Vaught said people who ran to give the prisoners water were driven away and threatened with bayonets by the Japanese. Once in the internment camp the men only had two bowls of poorly-cooked rice a day, "with nothing else" Vaught reported. Only last night Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons the Canadian Government was "taking every possible step" to send food supplies for the use of Canadian soldiers held prisoners by the Japanese.

TORONTO, March 10 (CP)—Sir Ernest MacMillan, chairman of the War Prisoners' Aid of the Young Men's Christian Association of Canada, announced today that Russell Durgin, representing the Y. M. C. A., has arrived in Tokyo to assist in preliminary arrangements for aiding British and American prisoners of war in Japan.

Mr. Durgin is an American Y. M. C. A. secretary who has been connected with Y. M. C. A. work in the Orient for many years. Sir Ernest said the actual work among the prisoners of war will probably be undertaken by Y. M. C. A. workers from neutral countries.

Large Contingent Canadian Troops Arrive in Britain

U-Boats Reported Enroute, Depth Charges Dropped; Nursing Sisters and Transport Volunteers Included

BY ALLAN NICKLESON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A BRITISH PORT, March 10 (CP Cable)—A convoy carrying a large contingent of Canadian soldiers and airmen has reached port after a safe passage through submarine-infested waters during which depth charges were dropped at least once when U-boats were reported.

Besides many hundreds of airmen and reinforcements for the Canadian Army, the contingent included Canadian nursing sisters and Dominion volunteers for the mechanized transport corps.

There was also a group of Poles, Norwegians, and Belgians who have come to join the armed forces of their countries in Britain.

I was aboard the convoy as it crossed the Atlantic under almost perfect weather conditions. As the big transports moved into port the air was filled with cheers from land and from the ships.

Fighting men lining the decks tossed cigarets to a crowd of dock workers who gave the Canadians a rousing welcome.

There was a mighty cheer when land was first sighted after the fast crossing from an East Coast Canadian port. Soldiers and airmen sang and danced about the decks.

The arrivals, who enjoyed the novelty of their shipboard life of lifeboat drill, concerts and moving pictures, represented all parts of Canada. There were offly a few cases of seasickness and an emergency appendectomy performed aboard ship by Capt. J. E. Nichol of Toronto.

His airman patient recovered so well he was able to smoke three cigarets the day after the operation.

A veteran aboard one of the transports was Cpl. W. A. Kennedy, Orillia, Ont., a member of an armored division reinforcement unit. It was his seventh Atlantic crossing and he was looking forward to seeing his brother in the Royal Navy.

Included in the dental corps unit was Capt. Eric Appe of Kenora, Ont., a cousin of Syl Apps, hockey player.

Pretty Patsy McNulty, Winnipeg, was among the group of Canadian women who paid their own passage to come to Britain to serve as members of the motor transport corps without renumeration.

Miss McNulty, who said she had signed up to "do my bit," was accompanied by Mrs. E. Kelly, Edmonton.

Nursing sisters included Margaret Fletcher, Victoria.

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 10 (CP)—More Canadian fighting men have left this Dominion for the bastion of Britain, their hundreds intended as reinforcements for Canuck troops already there. Safe arrival of the convoy at a British port was announced today.

Sailing with them were nursing sisters, women of the mechanical transport corps, Polish soldiers and airmen and modern Vikings from Norway, vowing to return to the fight for freedom. Others in the miscellaneous cargo of humans included Yugoslavs, Belgians, a sprinkling of Greeks and Americans enlisted under the banner of the maple leaf.

Travelling with the movement was Allan Nickleson of The Canadian Press. He has been transferred to the London bureau of the news-gathering organization.

Other civilians in the groups were eight girls of the mechanical transport corps, all travelling at their own expense and several looking forward to rejoining husbands and fiances.

Forty-seven nursing sisters helped make these girls feel more at home among the swarms of uniformed males. All provinces in the Dominion but Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan were represented in the group, with six from British Columbia, three from Alberta, six from New Brunswick, 24 from Ontario, two from Quebec and four from Manitoba.

More Jap Soldiers Land on N. Guinea

CANBERRA, Australia, March 10 (CP)—The Japanese made a third landing on New Guinea today, enlarging the forces they are marshalling there for what Australians are convinced is an imminent attempt to invade this continent.

The landing was at Finschhafen, where there is a small airfield and a harbor which can accomodate moderate-sized vessels. The strength of the new landing force was not stated.

It is 60 miles East of Lae where, with Salamau, the Japanese had previously landed.

These and repeated Japanese bombing of Port Moresby—another air raid there today was the 10th—have banished any doubt among officials that Australia may be overlooked by the Japanese temporarily in favor of a drive into India.

Australia's air force, strengthened by the return from other fronts of battle-proved fliers to defend their homeland, has been ordered to take the offensive against the gathering enemy strength at the Commonwealth's doorstep.

Air Minister Arthur Drakeford said the R.A.A.F. is using every resource at its command to strike at the springboards of invasion on New Guinea, some of them but 45 minutes by fighter plane from these shores.

All this was regarded only as a delaying action, however, as the new enemy landings and renewed air operations underlined the conviction of Australian authorities that an invasion attempt has become imminent and inevitable with the fall of Java.

He warned his countrymen not to sit back and wait for others to defend the continent.

Canadian Bomber Pilots Take Part In Raids on Essen

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 10 (CP Cable)—Great fires visible 100 miles away were started by British bombers during last night's attack on the German industrial centre of Essen, Canadian bomber pilots reported today.

Describing the extensive havoc caused during the second raid on the armaments centre in as many nights, Sqdn. Ldr. Johnny Fauquier said three huge orange colored fires were raging when he reached the target. There were numerous smaller ones.

"They were the biggest fires I have seen on any of my trips," said Fauquier, veteran of many raids who succeeded Wing Cmdr. Fenwick-Wilson, Rock Creek, B. C., as Squadron Commander.

"There was thick, black smoke coming up. We circled around the great cones the searchlight made. Then we came slap over the target. All the flak they had seemed to come up at us but only the starboard aileron was damaged."

Some of the hundreds of searchlights—more than any the airmen ever saw—probing the sky aided Higginson's plane and he was obliged to take evasive action before he could shake them and bomb the target.

"We had no difficulty finding the target," PO F. V. Taylor, Gull Lake, Sask., told newsmen. "We could see it a long way off. Unfortunately we didn't see the results of our own bombing as we were taking violent evasive action after we had done our job and we were busy getting out of the way of the flak."

Three British bombers were missing from operations which included attacks on other objectives in the war-important Ruhr valley.

British heavy guns along the Dover strait blasted at enemy targets intermittently during the night and early today and the sounds of heavy explosions across the channel could be heard by coastal observers.

The crash of the big guns awakened residents of the Southeast coast shortly after midnight. The firing continued at intervals for 45 minutes.

The warfare started again at 4 a.m., and an hour later heavy explosions could be heard up the French coast between Boulogne and Calais.

British Forces to Stay in Burma

LONDON, March 10 (CP)—British forces in Burma intend to fight on in central Burma "side by side with our Chinese allies," a military commentator said today.

The British force isolated around Pegu, 40 miles North of captured Rangoon, was reported cutting its way through the Japanese toward the main body of troops which smashed through the Japanese astride the Rangoon-Prome road after "heavy fighting" and two attacks.

He said a supplement to the Burma communique related the withdrawal from Rangoon was forced forced by the "temporary isolation of part of the force at Pegu" and landings by the Japanese on the North shore of the Bakir River and the West bank of the Rangoon River.

A Japanese force of armored fighting vehicles infiltrated into the Pegu area, he said, adding that this was the first report o fthe presence of Japanese tanks in Burma.

The river landings were opposed by both R.A.F. fighters and the 1190-ton sloop, H.M.S. Hindustan.

Stark Post May Mean Expansion of U. S. Navy Forces

LONDON, March 10 (CP) — Assignment of Admiral Harold Stark to London as Commanding Officer of American warships in European waters caused speculation in naval circles today as to whether the United States might be planning to increase its naval strength across the Atlantic.

These sources said they considered it obvious an officer of such high rank as Admiral Stark would not be sent to London unless some new development of naval importance were in the offing.

Muscles . . .

Put Snap Back in Your Own Girdle

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Among our natural resources — about which you may have forgotten entirely—is a muscular girdle that will wear forever.

Your figure may not show it but you are fitted with a perfect network of muscles from the lower ribs to the upper rim of the hipbones. These muscles are constructed to exert a power-pull against gravity, to hold the internal organs in their proper place in spite of this continualdownward tug. They are also designed to give you a nice, flat line in front.

Instead of worrying about a possible scarcity of girdles on the market, you should go to work and put the elasticity back into your own. There's one thing about muscles, they can always be recharged and brought back to life. You can put your midsection into trim with five to 10 minutes' exercise daily.

Begin by elevating the hips until your body is in a straight line from chest to toes. Slowly lower hips to floor and press small of back against floor. Repeat six times, gradually increasing to 12. From the same position, raise hips in straight line, then flex alternate knees to chest; or, raise hips in straight line, then raise alternate legs, knees straight, to right angle with trunk; finally, with hips in straight line, try circling hips. Between each of these exercises you should lower hips to floor, dig small of back into floor, and then relax.

Finish up your reconditioning with two exercises of a different type. A good one is a modified "bicycle"—lie on your back on the floor with both knees flexed to chest, and thrust downward with alternate legs, just half-straightening knees and flexing again. Another is to straight up, arms down at sides, legs out on floor in front, filing arms up overhead and draw knees up to chest. You will find yourself leaning slightly backward as you exercise. That is all right. What you must avoid is thrusting the head forward. Repeat the exercise only three times.

Pretty Ann Guier, member of the cast of "Best Foot Forward," illustrates a conditioner for that natural girdle you may have forgotten you are wearing. Just half-way flex and straighten the knees and keep pedalling.

Many Subjects Covered in New Medicine Book

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

A book by George W. Gray, The Advancing Front of Medicine, consists of a series of discussions of recent research work and recent discoveries in medicine.

"The Five Ailments" suggests to Mr. Gray the Poem by Walter De la Mare:

It's a very odd thing—
As odd as can be—
That whatever Miss T eats
Turns into Miss T.

This poetical observation contains all the mystery that physiological chemistry has been trying to unravel for two hundred years.

I think it is too bad that Mr. Gene Tunney did not read Mr. Gray's chapter on "Smoke" before he blew off his cylinder head in print lately. He lists all the possible dangers of smoking; he admits there is no evidence that it is beneficial in any way, but he does not believe that its injurious effects are very widespread. Only those who elect to smoke, smoke.

It was once said of the biologist, Loeffler, that each Summer as he started on his vacation, he packed 100 cigars. His practice was to return home as soon as he finished the 100 cigars. He had found by experience that when he was having a good time he didn't smoke much, so he made his supply stretch out further and thus enjoy a longer holiday.

Under the chapter on "Drink" again Mr. Gray points out all the possible dangers of the habit. Responsible citizens have three attitudes about the matter. Among one group, liquor is regarded as an emissary of the devil. In the second, it is regarded as an arouser of the cheer, the invoker of hospitality, the companion of good fellowship, the servant of man. The third group takes a middle ground, knows what its dangers are, what its advantages are and feels that it is one man's meat and another man's poison.

I think Mr. Gray is fair to all disputants in the various controversies that rage around the subject.

SERIAL STORY . . . . . By JERRY BRONDFIELD

No Refuge From Love

CHAPTER TWELVE

AT BREAKFAST the next morning Burton Whitworth waved a grapefruit spoon expressively at his wife.

"Aggie, you missed the thrill of your life last night. That girl was—well, she was the most beautiful thing you ever saw. Better than Henie. Better than Henie, I say. Er—by the way, your cold—is it any better?"

Agatha fixed him with a baleful eye. "Burton, my cold is no better, no worse than it was last evening, if you must be solicitous. I just wasn't interested in attending—and I do not like your gentle whimsy lately of calling me Aggie!"

"Oh, come now—everyone called you that in your younger days."

"Burton, I am only 48. You sound as though you were thinking of getting me a cane."

Burton Whitworth, amused, started to say something, but Tay and Neil came in just then, with Tay waving a newspaper.

"Boy, did she get the raves this morning. Look at this—just look at this. 'Beautiful Norwegian Refugee Thrills Crowd at Red Cross Ice Benefit'."

Tay smacked the paper with the back of his hand. "Our Molla. Some stuff, hey Pop?"

Agatha curdled. "OUR Molla? What, proprietory interest do you have in the girl, Taylor, and MUST you show such enthusiasm? You don't see Neil bursting at the seams, as it were."

Tay sidled over and kissed her on the cheek. "Oh, Neil never was the appreciative sort, Mother. Lacks imagination."

Neil Lundquist registered mock indignation. "You wretch. You're as wrong as two and two making five. I think she's wonderful, not only as a skater, but as a person. She's a grand girl to have gone through what she has and still come up smiling."

"Oh, so you, too." Agatha said frigidly.

"Now see here, Mother. Let's come to an understanding about this thing!" Burton Whitworth tossed his napkin aside angrily. "I'm not going to do much about forcing you to like a situation for which you have no particular relish, but please don't try to destroy our ideals on the matter. I believe Taylor and I are pretty well set on them. And Neil, of course, is even more entitled to his private opinions. And now if you'll excuse me please."

He started from the dining room, came back and took the paper from Tay. "If you're through, let me take a whirl at it."

"Well," said Agatha. "Well, indeed!"

Tay looked at Neil and winked broadly.

Molla was awakened by someone rocking at the door. It was Mrs. Cassidy. "Telephone, Miss Glendon. Will you take it or shall I have them call back?"

She scrambled into her robe, took a few quick passes at her hair and rushed to the extension in the hall.

"Hello," she said quickly. "This is Molla . . ."

". . . and this is Kurt Wilhelm. Is the lovely fraulein refreshed after a good night's sleep?"

Molla's heart leaped. Yes, it was he; It was the same, soft, melodious voice.

"Hello, Kurt—it—it is strange to hear your voice again. I did not know—"

He interrupted with a laugh "You did not know many things, Molla. But you can find out. You would like to, would you not? Good—then I shall expect the honor of your having dinner with me tonight? Good. At seven, then."

Wartime Hints . . .

Wheat Germ Gives Needed Vitamin B

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good" is a time-worn quotation but it certainly applies to the sugar ration for nutritionists state that too much sugar and fat in the diet make it difficult to get enough Vitamin B.

Diet surveys indicate that among the groups questioned a B complex deficiency exists and this is considered serious by Nutrition Services of the Department of Pensions and National Health for, as one writer has said: "Vitamin B puts a roar of power in your personal motor." It is needed to aid in the proper absorption of other food constituents, is necessary for growth and therefore important in children's diet, aids digestion and helps to maintain a good appetite and a healthy nervous system.

"Wheat-germ, pork and yeast top the list as Vitamin B sources but whole grain cereals, vegetable—root, dried and green vegetables, meats, fruits and milk all are available Vitamin B. food.

In grandmother's day flour and breads had a high vitamin B content but as people came to depend on flour sources that could be stored for long periods, more and more of the wheat germ and bran coating were removed from the flour because these components are apt to deteriorate. In order to re-introduce more food value into flour, a new milling process has been developed and within a few months Canada Approved flour will be on the market which though white and fine in texture will have more of the Vitamin B content.

This vitamin is one that cannot be stored in the body so it is necessary to get requirements daily and the harder you work, the more you need. A good way of adding to the B content of diet is to include wheat germ in the menu. Wheat germ is the part of the grain which is largely lost in the refining process. It can be purchased in bulk or in packages. It may be de-fatted or it may contain the natural oil of the germ. If it contains the natural oil it should be bought in small quantities or kept in a cool place so that it will not become rancid.

Wheat germ may be used in many ways. It can be sprinkled on cereal, stirred into vegetable soup just before it is served, or put into baked products such as muffins. People eating in restaurants often take it at home with a glass of water or fruit juice.

In cooking wheat germ some of the vitamin content is lost so if used in that way it should not be depended upon as the only source of Vitamin B.

When whole wheat flour is used you are getting in one cup of flour five times as much Vitamin B as in one cup of ordinary white flour. About one-fifth of the food budget should be spent for cereals and at least half these should be whole grain. So here is a recipe for muffins that uses both flour and wheat germ.

1¾ cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, ¾ teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup wheat germ, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons fat, melted.

1. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt, sugar.
2. Add wheat germ.
3. Beat egg add milk.
4. Sift and mix dry ingredients.
5. Add melted fat.
6. Bake in greased muffin pan at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 to 25 minutes.

Hopeful Signs in Family Life

By Garry Cleveland Myers, M. D.

Travelling about constantly and meeting groups of parents, teachers, religious leaders, social workers and groups of youths in high schools and colleges, I have been encouraged and pleased over finding so many happy and congenial situations.

Mrs. Myers and I have been guests in families of various levels of education and income and we have found at all levels some very happy family groups.

We have heard children, youths, and parents, away from their own homes, tell of the good times they have together in their respective families. We have heard children and youths relate the things their parents do to make them feel eager and worthy to do right.

TEACHERS MORE UNDERSTANDING

We have visited ever so many classrooms in various towns and cities; also in some strictly rural schools. Compared with what we saw and heard in schools 15 years ago, we are convinced that the proportion of teachers who understand children and treat them as real persons has greatly increased.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Matthew Celebrate Golden Wedding Amid 136 Old Timers

Over 100 guests, all but a few of them Nelsonites of more than 40 years standing, joined with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Matthew of Nelson who on Sunday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. It was an old timers' festival, made the more merry because they were together to honor two ranking old timers who have been partners for 50 years and who have lived all but three years of this half century in Nelson.

The anniversary was celebrated in a house the couple have occupied for nearly 46 years. And in the rooms in which the old timers gathered were house plants—cacti, a century plant and others—cultivated by Mr. and Mrs. Matthew for 45 and 46 years, standing beside masses of cut flowers and pot plants given by friends in commemoration of the golden wedding.

MARRIED IN MONTANA

Mr. Matthew, born in Minnesota, and Mrs. Matthew, born in Virginia were married at White Sulphur Springs, Mont., in 1892.

In 1895 Mr. Matthew came to work on construction of the Great Northern Railway's narrow gauge line from Kaslo to Sandon. He arrived in June, and liking the country, wrote to ask Mrs. Matthew if she would like to settle in it, or at least to try it. Mrs. Matthew arrive in the Fall with their only son, then two years old, the late E. G. (Duff) Matthew, and they have lived in the Kootenay since.

When he had finished with the railway work Mr. Matthew became a miner, working first for E. J Ryan on the Eureka and later on the Coronation above Three Forks for Hughie Mann.

Ben he bought out an Italian who had a store at Three Forks, and shortly afterward purchased two lots in Silverton and built another store. Ymir was going ahead, and he built a third store there.

TO NELSON IN 1899

By this time Nelson had become the centre of the district and in 1899 Mr. Matthew bought out Robert Ince's store. He remained in business from 1899 to 1937 with the exception of an eight-year "holiday" from 1918 to 1927 during which he ranched on his property at Riondel, went prospecting and engaged in a variety of work.

A mining enthusiast from the early days, he grubstaked many prospectors and helped to finance many mining ventures. He still owns three claims within his 800-acre property around the Perrier Mine, South of Nelson, and a claim at Riondel, all four being crown granted.

Mr. Matthew owns two old-time steamboats, the International and Alberta, purchasing them after the Great Northern Railway ceased to operate them on Kootenay Lake. Both for many years have been tied up in Galena Bay, at Riondel, where they served as Summer homes. The International is now being broken up.

A Correction

Omission through a typographical error of the words "and myself" gave a wrong impression of the meaning of the last paragraph in the statement by H. A. Matthews, Nelson Unit Victory Loan organizer, in Tuesday's Nelson Daily News.

The paragraph should have read: "On behalf of F. L. Burns, Assistant Organizer, and myself, I can only say it has been an honor and a privilege to have been associated with and to have taken part (humble though it was) in this Victory Loan campaign."

A Call for the Soldiering Iron

We are told by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Supply, that hereafter it will be an unpatriotic action to buy any metal utensil one can do without. He made this statement particularly in connection with the new zinc order, but practically all Canada's industrial metals are now being controlled.

Here is where the young high school student and the soldering iron come in strongly.

Galvanized iron tubs, pails, coal scuttles, tin pails, tin and aluminum kettles, can all be made to serve longer by a judicious application of solder.

There are of course metal containers that are beyond repair, and that are not possible for service except as scrap. But, under present conditions of metal shortage for war uses, appearance of a hole or a leak should not automatically send a utensil to the dump.

This is one sort of waste that practically every household can avoid, and the boys versed in the practical arts courses at the schools should be in neighborhood demand for this service.

Rangoon

Rangoon, fired—and by Monday's dispatches, evacuated—by the British, was not only the capital of Burma but its principal port and modern commercial centre, as well as a city of religious significance. Paradoxically, the name of "Rangoon" is a modification of words that mean "End of War".

Much of the business of Burma was in British hands, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Before the recent exodus from the city, the population had grown to more than 400,000, covering an area greater than that of the District of Columbia.

Under Western influence, Rangoon was regularly laid out. Unlike the narrow, crooked streets of many old Oriental cities, Rangoon's streets were broad, paved and bordered by many buildings of European architecture. Along the more important thoroughfares ran motor buses and electric street cars.

Downtown Rangoon had hotels the equal of those in European capitals, and its busy trade was carried on both in large shops and native bazaars. It was a city of open squares with gardens and parks. It had its golf and yacht clubs and its popular racing course.

Although Buddhism is the dominant religion of Rangoon, the city had fine Anglican and Catholic cathedrals, and churches of other Christian denominations. Particular religious significance attached to Rangoon because of the towering Buddhist Pagoda of Shwe Dagon. There are other golden pagodas in the vicinity, but Shwe Dagon is the finest and one of the most famous places of worship in Southern Asia, and has attracted pilgrims from Cambodia, Thailand, Korea, Ceylon and Burma.

Incredible Rescue

(From New Horizons Magazine)

When the Japanese blitzkrieg struck at Hong Kong in the early morning of Dec. 7, it produced, as far as the pilots of CNAC (China National Aviation Corporation) were concerned, only one more war zone to cope with. Since 1932, the pilots of this joint Chinese-Pan American airline have rolled up a record for such unorthodox, ingenuous flying that their feat of last month was, judged by CNAC standards, probably not remarkable. But to the outside world it was an incredible achievement.

Soon as the Jap bombers had left, the CNAC flight group at the Kai-tek airport across the river from Hong Kong went into action, prepared to evacuate all the U. S. citizens possible, all leaders of China's national government in Hong Kong. Though the Jap bombs had blasted eight CNAC planes on the field, five in the hangars remained unscathed, were at once wheeled out on the field, scattered among nearby Chinese huts, covered with bamboo, straw and mud. All day those five planes remained invisible to the Japanese airmen, who twice more before sundown returned to attack Hong Kong.

Late in the afternoon, a heavy overcast came down like a blanket. When it was dark, the CNAC ground crew brought the five good planes out of hiding, got them ready for departure. In groups, the evacuees were brought to the field, assigned to seats. Then, one by one, as though the whole thing had been rehearsed before, the CNAC transports took off, vanished in the overcast, hurdled the Jap lines, headed toward China's interior.

All that night the planes came and went, were again hidden during Tuesday's daylight hours. All Tuesday night, the shuttling went on between Kai-tek airport and a point some 200 miles inland. Now and then a Japanese gun would bark up blindly at the roar of an invisible CNAC plane. Not one was hit, but once, as a CNAC pilot was approaching the airport to pick up his next load, a British anti-aircraft gun let go, came close to the mark. Typical was the pilot's reaction: "I simply dropped to the rooftops and went on in. There was nothing else I could do but sweat a little."

Today's Horoscope

The persons who celebrate birthdays today, are endowed with powerful emotions. They make deep, sincere lovers, but will be bitter enemies to those who cross them. During th coming year unexpected aids and benefits will be experienced by them, also social activity. They should, however, be discreet and tactful in property deals, especially if involving elders, correspondence and travel. Children born on this date will be very successful in life, but inclined to occasional fits of despondency in connection with relatives and old associations. Young society will counteract these tendencies.

The First Airplane to Fly at Nelson

By R. G. JOY

A huge quantity of water has gone over Bonnington Falls since we saw the first airplane land on our Fair Grounds. It was constructed of bamboo rods, canvas and wire. The machine had a very home-made appearance and was known as a pusher. The engine and propeller were behind the pilot, who sat on a very frail seat.

It seemed to me that carpet tacks were used to hold the canvas on the bamboo rods.

The late Archie M. Johnson was very much interested in its construction and made the remark that it required some nerve to go up among the many air currents coming from the various draws among the mountains.

On the first descent the ship and pilot nearly collided with the old warehouse building, which later bore the name of a church. The pilot, however, raised his ship enough to miss the apex of the roof and on landing nearly collided with the fence. Several bystanders grasped the machine and prevented a smash up.

At the next take-off George Horstead provided six or eight huskies to hold the machine till the engine got sufficient speed to make a quick take off. The idea worked. The machine went up after going along the ground for about 60 feet.

Again, we remember the flight of Lieutenant Trent. We were waiting and watching for his machine to perform above the grandstand. At last we saw it coming over Morning mountain and later we were treated to a fine exhibition of looping the loop. In fact the people in the grandstand were a bit uneasy because he was too close to be comfortable.

Then came the Forestry Department Moth. It was used to locate forest fires and other work. We admired the graceful landings made on the lake. Several machines came later and many citizens took the opportunity of seeing the panoramic view up aloft.

Now we have the hum of the huge machines that are used in the T.C.A. passenger service which are a common everyday occurence.

We old timers have seen Kootenay develop from a virgin state to one of maturity, because of the mineral found in "them thar hills" and Trail is turning out huge quantities to aid the Allies to beat the enemy that may be soon knocking at our gates.

We can hardly imagine the devastation that might happen if a few Jap bombers got past our defences at the Coast. Would Nelson be sidetracked? There's danger ahead. Bombs could destroy most of the improvements that have been made during the last four decades. Bombs could destroy our Civic Centre, our schools, our churches and our homes.

Talking to a veteran of the last war he said "we should have an ack-ack gun. It could be fixed on a truck. I think I could hit a plane or two if we had the gun here," said he, with confidence.

Verse

FROM A HOSPITAL WINDOW

Where are you going, you plane up on high,
Winging your path through the cloudless sky?
Off in the distance, your lights green and red
Slowly draw near me, lying in bed.

Now on my ears falls your engines' faint thrum;
Passing the stars, towards my window you come.

At your controls, I fancy, is bent
A keen-eyed young lad, alert and intent,
Ready to sacrifice all for the cause
Of freedom, of right, of just Christian laws.
Yet as he sails 'neath the heavenly dome,
Is he not thinking of loved ones at home?

Your motors grow loud; my lips move in prayer—
May the Good Father keep safe in His care
This pilot and all who traverse the sky;
Strengthen their brave hearts as onward they fly;

Grant them the courage their duty demands;
Bless those tonight over enemy lands;
Hasten the day when this cruel war will cease,
And nations unite in goodwill and peace.

Farewell, aeroplane, you fade in the night,
Now all is still as you vanish from sight.
Hamilton Mountain. —Judith St. John

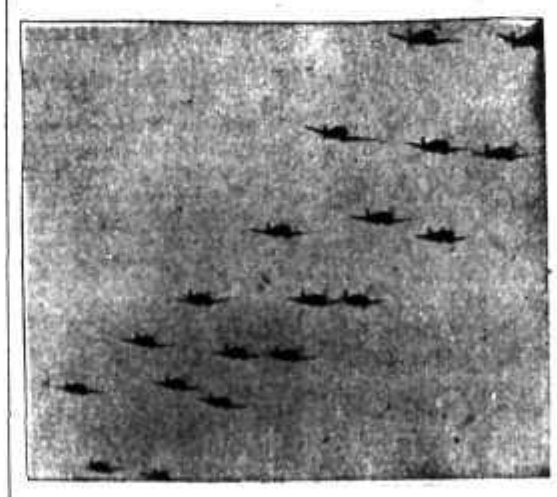
A DAY WITH THE BOMBER COMMAND



An interesting series of pictures made somewhere in England and somewhere over the cloudy no man's land of the English Channel in a day with the R.A.F. bomber command. Every raid conducted by the command is the result of careful research and planning, and in our first picture we see the wing commander issuing his final instructions over a map in the briefing room. Next, one of the 12 Blenheim bombers to take part in the aerial raid over Channel and enemy occupied land beyond, is loaded with death-dealing bombs. That skull and crossbones isn't just an insignia. At the bomber airport a long line of bombs are wheeled to their objectives, the bomb bays of the bombers. Ready for their deadly work fighters escort the bombers, flying south to the channel and beyond. One objective is reached with the sinking of an enemy vessel in mid-Channel. The bomb is seen exploding just beyond othe vessel's stern on the starboard.

U. S. SOLDIERS TAUGHT "JIUDO"

Soldiers are taught to be friends and advisers to others in the force Military Police school at Arlington, Va., but sometimes force must be used. Lieut. A. R. Flores, national jiudo champion in 1935, shows the men how to use a defence against bayonets. This is the bare hand defence. The bayonet lunge, top is met by sidestepping and, centre, firmly grabbing the rifle, he twists it, throwing the attacker off balance. Bottom photo shows the "kill".

uppose someone shoved a 10-pin wling ball into your hand and l you he'd give you $1000 if you ow a strike. Under this pressure ld you do it? This situation conted Joe Falcaro, undefeated ich game champion, the other ht in Mt. Vernon. Joe has a new eement with a soft drink con-n. Well ,the other night Falcaro sent ball speeding" down the alley times. After each toss there folved the resounding crash of 10 s toppling against the backboard. e more strike and he'd have a rfect score and the $1000. Falcaro ped his perspiring brow and his nds and sat down. The man who d bowled 54 perfect games in his s waited fully five minutes bee he prepared for the final, vital ot. Then, his eyes narrowed on king pin, he glided toward the al line, his arm swinging with smoothness of a pendulum. He eased the ball.

It rolled dangerously close to the ht gutter, hoked gracefully tord the centre and caressed the 3 pocket". The pins went flying I but one, the No. 10 pin. Then shrugged his shoulders and turnaway.

"What was wrong with the shot?" I asked. "Did you cut the head pin too thin?"

"No," he insisted. "It was a perfect shot. It hit the pocket exactly right. Just tough luck, that's all. There's no use trying to kid anyone about it. Panthers Keep Midget Trophy

Standing off the third game challenge of the M.R.K. Midgets, the Panther Midgets Tuesday night won custody of the Wood, Vallance Cup, Midget hockey trophy, for another year, when they defeated the M.R.K.'s 4-2 in one of the hardest fought games of the year. This gave them the cup series, as they won the first game 8-2, and halved the second game, when the M.R.K.'s secured a 7-7 tie. They took the preliminary series from the F.A.C. Midgets 15-5 and 15-3.

The cup came to the Panthers last year after a series with the M.R.K.'s that went to the unprecedented length of five games before a winner emerged, after the previous holders, the F.A.C.'s, were eliminated in the preliminary.

M.R.K.'s had the lead once, when Crayford scored the opening goal on Wasick's pass. But Breeze, Appel and MacDonald all tallied, unassisted, for the Panthers before the scarlet-and-blue lads got their second and last, when DesChamps converted Hielscher's pass. Choquette improved the Panther margin in the third period on Breeze's pass. MacDonald served time for the Panthers, and DesChamps and Lyon for the M.R.K.'s.

Bud Whitfield was Referee, and Frank Christian Scorekeeper and Timekeeper. Teams were:

EDMONTON, March 10 (CP) — Percy Williams of Vancouver, who won fame and glory for Canada and the British Empire as one of the greatest Olympic games sprinter of all time, last week joined the staff of ferry pilots employed by Canadian Airways Training Ltd., and now is stationed at the No. 2 air observers school here.

The wing-footed Williams won the 100-metre sprint at the 1928 Olympic games at Amsterdam and two days later flashed along the cinder paths to score an unprecedented Olympic double for Canada by winning the 200-metre sprint.

Ranger Scorers Still Lead List

MONTREAL, March 10 (CP) — With the National Hockey League 1941-42 schedule on the last lap, it looks as if New York Rangers will have a N.H.L. scoring champion in their lineup for the first time since Bill Cook took the title back in the 1932-33 season.

Adding three assists during the last week to raise his total to 58 points, Bryan Hextall looked to be practically a sure bet to cop the League honors in the individual scoring list.

League statistics issued today showed Lynn Patrick and Phil Watson, Hextall's linemates, tied in second place with 51 points. Patrick's total was made up of 30 goals, the highest in the circuit, and 21 assists, and Watson had 15 goals and 36 assists to his credit.

Pat Egan, Brooklyn American defenceman, still was undisputed "bad man" of the League with 104 minutes, having added two minutes during the week. He also had two misconduct penalties against him.

Individual scoring leaders follow:

SAD BUT TRUE

For years I've bowled—but even so,
My average score is mighty low.
My arm is strong enough, but still
Those cussed pins I cannot spill.

My teammates cry, "What's wrong with you?"
And I reply, "I wish I knew!"
And when we're getting near the top—
That's just the time I'm sure to flop.

But now and then I have a night
When I can knock 'em left and right
Why, I can sweep the alleys clean
Of all the splits you've ever seen.

Which makes my captain shout with joy
And urge me on with "Atta boy!"
And to myself, I proudly say,
"At last, by gum, I've found the way!"

I know the swing that I should make,
I know the stride that I should take;
I've learned just how to hold the ball,
And now, by gosh, those pins'll fall.

My days of puny scores are through!
I'll show those birds a thing or two;
I'll leave 'em trailing in my dust;
I'll leave the bottom place—or bust.

And so, next week, as we begin,
I say, "Here' one we're going to win."
But splits are many and strikes are few;
My captain growls, "What's wrong with you?"

"Last week I thought you'd learned the trick—
I say, "My gosh, you make me sick."
Oh boy, but you should hear him storm
As I return to my old form.

The moral is, if dub you are,
Don't think you'll ever be a star.
Some days you'll shine, and then you'll think
That you have really crossed the brink.

But, oh, how well we duffers know
That once a dub—we're always so.
A flash of form—and then, alack!
We're soon back in the same old track.

Boston Swamps Hawks 9-1 to Make Certain of at Least Third Place

BOSTON, March 10 (AP). — The defending champion Boston Bruins assured themselves of at least third place in the current National Hockey League campaign by overwhelming Chicago Black Hawks 9-1 tonight before a skimpy 8000 crowd at the Boston Garden.

This one-sided contest, considered a preview of the circuit's "B" series playoffs, became a route in the second period when the Bruins put on a three-goal splurge to break a 1-1 deadlock. They lashed five pucks through the harassed Sam Lo Presti during the finale.

Herb Cain was greatly excited about his goal, for it represented his 100th goal of his nine-year N.H.L. career.

HILLER INJURED

The easy triumph proved to be a bit costly for the 1941-42 Stanley Cup champions, for little Dutch Hiller, their handy winger, was forced to retire with a lacerated ear that required eight stitches.

The setback put the fourth-place Hawks, who only have two more games to play, five points behind the Bruins.

Lineups:

Boston — Brimsek; Crawford, Shewchuk; A. Jackson; Gronsdal, Cain. Subs.—Hollett, Conacher, H. Jackson, Smith, Martin, Bruce, McGill, Hiller.

Chicago—Lo Presti; Cooper, Weibe; R. Carse; Mosienko, Hamill. Subs—Thoms, M. Bentley, March, D. Bentley, W. Carse, Mariucci, Kaleta, Allan.

Referee — Bill Harwood. Linesmen—Bill Cleary and Herb Gallagher.

Summary:

First period—1, Chicago, Mosienko (R. Carse, Hammill) 1:14; 2, Boston, Bruce (Hollett) 6:10.

Penalties — Mariucci, R. Carse, Smith, Shewchuck.

Second period—3, Boston, Smith (Cain) 4:40; 4, Boston, Hollett (Bruce, Crawford) 5:58; 5, Boston, Conacher (H. Jackson, McGill) 12:38.

Penalty—Smith.

Third period—6, Boston, Shewchuk (H. Jackson, A. Jackson) 4:08; 7, Boston, Hollett 11:41; 8, Boston, Cain (A. Jackson) 17:27; 9, Boston, Conacher (Gronsdal, McGill) 19:35; 10, Boston, McGill (Gronsdal) 19:46.

Penalties—W. Carse 2, McGill.

Syl Apps Wins Writers' Vote for Byng Trophy

MONTREAL, March 10 (CP). —A new honor was bestowed on Sylvanus Apps tonight when the great centre ice star of Toronto Maple Leafs was named as the winner of the Byng trophy, awarded annually to the player in the National Hockey League adjudged to combine the best type of sportsmanship with a high standard of playing ability.

Eleven hockey writes in the six N.H.L. cities took part in balloting conducted by the League, with Apps winning in a walk. Second place went to Gordie Drillon, also of the Leafs while Bill Thoms of Chicago Black Hawks was third.

Each hockey writer named 10 choices, with 10 points being alloted for a first place vote, nine for a second, and so on down the line. On that basis Apps compiled 100 points from eight firsts, two seconds and one ninth. Drillon, who received one first place vote, had 66 points while Thoms, who got two votes for first, had 64.

In naming Apps as the winner of the award, the writers took into consideration the fact that the Leaf centre has yet to incur his first penalty this season. And he is tied with Drillon as Toronto's leading point-maker. Apps has 18 goals and 22 assists for 40 points, while Drillon has 23 goals and has helped in 17 others.

NEW YORK, March 10 (P)—Earl Walsh, chief scout at Fordham University the last nine years, was named acting head coach tonight for the duration. Jim Crowley, present coach, was granted a leave of absence to join the avy.

Blum Insists Trial Will Be Political

BIOM, Forest, March 10 (AP)—Leon Blum, Socialist leader of France's Popular Front Government which came to power in 1936 and one of six defendants in "war guilt" indictments, reaffirmed today his contention that the trial "is and will be political even despite the court."

Blum disposed briefly a statement by presiding Judge Pierre Caous that politics do not enter into the hearings and asserted "the basis of the charges is purely political."

In reply to accusations that his Government was responsible for French unpreparedness for war with Germany, he answered: "I was a Republican Minister and I carried out my duties as a Republican Minister."

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

REASON THOROUGHLY

UNEXPECTED developments may occur in the play of any hand, making you stop, look and think. If up to that stage you had a well-considered plan, which did not take into account what has just occurred, you are likely to see the whole thing differently in a flash and so may promptly decide to change your methods. But before doing so, please do just a bit more reckoning, of the kind you did at the beginning of play. You may find that the originally-intended move is still the best one.

North: ♠ J 9 5 3 ♥ J 10 ♦ 10 5 ♣ K 10 5 4 2
West: ♠ 8 4 ♥ 6 2 ♦ K Q 8 7 3 ♣ Q 9 8 6
East: ♠ Q 10 7 6 ♥ A 9 8 7 5 ♦ J 6 3 ♣ J
South: ♠ A K 2 ♥ K Q 4 3 ♦ A 9 4 ♣ A 7 3

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 ♣
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	3 NT

South let the defenders take the first two diamond tricks, then came in with his A on the third, using the hold-up thus with the idea that he would play the clubs so as to keep West out of the lead later, if he could, and would hope the heart A was not held by West.

To the fourth trick, South laid down the club A, and was startled to see the J fall. Expecting a small card on the trick, he had intended to lead the 3 next and, if West did not come in with the J or Q, play the 10 from dummy and let East win it. But, when he saw the J, he decided East probably had the Q-J doubleton. If so, he could take all five club tricks by playing the K on the second round. So that is what he did. He was both chagrined and beaten when this failed. Even though the heart A was where he wanted it, with East, he had no way to get more than eight tricks—two in spades, three in hearts, one in diamonds and two in clubs.

If South had thought a moment longer, he would have realized the 10 was the right play to the second club trick. If East had the Q, West would have had only three clubs so the rest of the suit could have been run by giving up a trick to it. If, however, West had it, as he did, the contract would still be safe, as the successful finesse of the 10 would have made the vital ninth trick.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ Q 2 ♥ K 7 3 ♦ 10 7 5 ♣ A 10 9 7 6
West: ♠ K J 9 7 6 ♥ 5 4 ♦ A 8 4 2 ♣ Q 4
East: ♠ A 10 8 5 4 3 ♥ Q 9 8 ♦ J 6 ♣ 5 2
South: ♠ None ♥ A J 10 6 2 ♦ K Q 9 3 ♣ K J 8 3

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

How should North and South bid this deal if West overcalls in spades on his first turn and East supports the suit on his next two turns?

War Costs $64 Million a Day in Britain

LONDON, March 10 (CP)—Britain's expenditures for war needs are £14,500,000 ($64,000,000) daily "and expenditures will show a further rise in the next few weeks" an official spokesman declared today.

The total government expenditure was approximately £88,500,000 each week from votes of credit, of which the fighting services took £68,000,000 weekly—nearly £9,750,000 each day, he said.

Reprisals Against Japs in Canada Must Not Happen—Hanson

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP)—Conservative House Leader Hanson said in a statement today the facts on Japanese atrocities given the British House of Commons by Foreign Secretary Eden would "shock the world" but would "renew our determination to end forever those systems of government under which such atrocities and barbarities are permitted to happen."

"Reprisals are unthinkable to those of us who believe in the Christian way of life," said the Commons Opposition Leader. "I would sound a note of warning that reprisals against Japanese Nationals in Canada must not be contemplated."

Ship Splits Under Pounding Waves; 10 of Crew Lost

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 10 (CP)—Weary survivors from an Allied ship that was smashed to matchwood when she was tossed against a shoal off Canada's Eastern Seaboard have arrived here, telling how the courageous crew of a Royal Navy craft snatched them from a death that was only a matter of hours away.

Ten of the crew, including the captain and three of his officers, were drowned when the ship split in two under the pounding of the waves. The survivors were brought safely to port after clinging to their crumbling craft for nearly two days.

The survivors said a Canadian warship was the first to come upon them but was unable to make a rescue attempt. The British craft came up later and took them aboard, losing a rating in the heavy seas, while the Canadian vessel stood by.

A lanky red-head emerged as the hero of the disaster, according to his shipmates. A radio operator, he stuck to his key even after the ship had cracked in two, repeatedly flashing word of the mishap.

Wholesale Pork Prices Frozen

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The Government temporarily froze wholesale prices of 90 per cent of the U. S. pork products, including ham and bacon, today at the highest levels prevailing between March 3 and March 7.

The ceiling, effective March 23, applies to dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts, and price administrator Leon Henderson declared it was expected to help importantly in holding down the cost of living.

Neither farmers nor retail outlets are covered directly by the emergency price schedule but Henderson asserted both would feel its effects.

CLAIM NAZI U-BOATS SINK FOUR SHIPS OFF WEST AFRICAN COAST

BERLIN, March 10 (CP)—The German High Command claimed today Nazi U-boats operating off the West coast of Africa had sunk four more enemy merchant ships, totalling 27,000 tons, including two tankers. (This claim lacks confirmation.)

Japs Claim 767 Enemy Ships Sunk

TOKYO, March 10 (AP)—Imperial Headquarters claimed today Japanese forces had sunk or damaged 767 enemy vessels, had captured another 134 and had destroyed 1,161 airplanes since the start of the war in the Pacific.

The communique, recounting "brilliant military results" for Japan's armed forces, claimed enemy losses in dead alone amounted to 79,999 up to the time Japanese forces penetrated Johore in the Malayan campaign.

It also claimed 119,028 prisoners of war.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, March 10 (AP). — A moderate revival in investment demand gave the stock market a firmer footing and closing levels showed some improvement.

British funds were generally higher while in the foreign list Chinese bonds lost ground.

NEW YORK—The stock market tried for specialized recoveries today but persistent unsatisfactory war news restricted buying support in many instances.

There were a number of new lows for the past year. A few pivotals posted four-year bottoms.

TORONTO — The mining share market again moved downward, golds leading with a loss of a half-point or more in the index.

Among the senior golds, McIntyre was down ¾ to a new low at 36⅝ and Hollinger at $7 was off 15. Pioneer weakened 10 to 1.56.

MONTREAL — A few favorities managed to attract patronage up to the final hour.

VANCOUVER—Few price changes were registered during dull trading.

WINNIPEG — In routine trading bolstered slightly by mill support in connection with flour exports, wheat futures closed unchanged with May finishing at 79¼ cents a bushel and July at 80⅛B.

Coarse grain prices held firm in response to the announcement from Ottawa that minimum prices would be set in these commodities.

CHICAGO — Realizing sales and drying up of demand forced grain futures to surrender much of the early sharp price gains.

LONDON, (CP) — Hopi Indians have sent hand-knitted jumpers each with a tiny pair of Indian moccasins, to British children who suffered because of the war.

Alaska Highway to Be Completed 'Within One Year'

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Interior Secretary Harold Ickes said today present plans for completion "within one year" of the United States-Alaska highway.

"The road," he reported, "will be protected from the sea by the alpine country unpassable for airplanes for at least fifty per cent of the time due to coastal fogs and storms.

He said that army engineers now were surveying a route tentatively approved, and that heavy equipment for construction would be moved in while the ground was still frozen so that progress would not be delayed unduly by the Spring thaw.

The road would run approximately 1,500 miles from Washington State to Fairbanks, and estimates of its cost run from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000.

DAWSON CREEK, B.C., March 10 (CP)—Conferences were held here today by United States army engineers and Provincial Government officials on location of camp sites to handle the steady stream of United States soldiers coming in to the Peace River district to start work on the Alaska Highway.

The largest camp site is expected to be at a point seven miles West of Fort St. John, but supplementary stations will be established between Dawson Creek and Fort St. John.

Mining Industry In Danger Unless Waste Checked

TORONTO, March 10 (CP)—Canada's mining industry is in "grave danger of exhaustion" of its ore resources unless a survey of its operations is made to avert further waste, W. G. McBride, President of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, said today in an address to the Institute's Annual Convention.

Commending the industry for its efforts to meet the demand of wartime and in training mechanics and for its "bits and pieces" workshops, Mr. McBride said this same increased wartime demand might, if unchecked, be the downfall of the industry. Production speed-up coupled with a decrease in prospecting is resulting in ore bodies being mined out at a much greater rate than replacement by prospecting and discovery is taking place, he said.

Madagascar Gains Importance as Supply Base, Allies May Move Soon

LONDON, March 10 (CP)—Unofficial quarters discussed the possibility today that allied troops may soon move to occupy the Vichy-controlled island of Madagascar in the Western part of the Indian Ocean, close to Africa's East coast and in a strategic position to control allied supply lines.

They pointed out that since the fall of Singapore the importance of Madagascar has been doubled, and that such an allied move might have to be made to forestall Japanese occupation of the island.

They emphasized too, the fact that a Japanese mission is reported to have been in Madagascar for the last six weeks, negotiating for naval and air bases.

One informed but unofficial quarter said occupation of the island was imperative because the Axis already is in possession of one naval base in the South Indian Ocean, on Vichy owned Kerguelen Island Southeast of Capetown.

"I am positive the Japanese were refuelling German raiders there early in 1941," he declared. "I know Kerguelen well and any other mariner will verify that it has a series of well-sheltered harbors.

"Japanese whalers know those waters," he added, "here was a very large Jap whaling fleet tanker that put in at Batavia in June, 1941, and asked for 5200 tons of crude oil to go home to Japan.

"The Dutch discovered the tanker had come from Kerguelen, and that she supposedly had been whaling in Southern waters. But there wasn't a drop of whale oil in her tanks.

"The Dutch pumped 250 tons of crude oil into her and told her indignant captain to shove off. There was no doubt in their minds, I suppose, that this whaler had been servicing German raiders.

"There is no doubt in my mind either. My guess is that the Germans and Japs have been using Kerugelen as a trading post since the Japs got into Indo-China. When the Axis isn't there, the island is inhabited only by rabbits."

LONDON, March 10 (CP) — The Ankara radio in Turkey, reported today that six light naval units of the French fleet had been transferred from Dakar in French West Africa, to Madagascar, French island off the African East coast.

Lett Commands Infantry Brigade

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP) — Appointment of Lt.-Col. Sherwood Lett, M.C., E.D., of Vancouver, Officer Commanding the South Saskatchewan Regiment, to the command of a Canadian Infantry brigade with the rank of brigadier, was announced late today by Defence Minister Ralston.

Brig. Lett was born at Iroquois, Ont., Aug. 1, 1895.

VANCOUVER, March 10 (CP)—Lt.-Col. Sherwood Lett, M.C., E.D., who was appointed today to the command of a Canadian infantry brigade with the rank of brigadier, is widely known in Vancouver and British Columbia.

Always active in military circles he joined the 11th Regiment, Irish Fusiliers of Canada, in 1914 and served overseas with the 121st Battalion. He was Captain and Adjutant of the 46th Battalion in France and won the Military Cross at Amiens in August, 1918.

Stilwell Is Staff Chief in China

CHUNGKING, China, March 10 (AP). — A Chinese Government spokesman announced today the appointment of Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, former United States military attache at Peiping, as Chief of Staff in the China theatre under Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek.

He said China was sending a military mission to Washington and also announced China and India would exchange diplomatic representatives. They will be commissioners with ministerial rank.

Kokanee Chapter, I.O.D.E., Plans a Program of All Possible War Work

Activities and war work galore were discussed and planned by 48 ladies of Kokanee Chapter of the I.O.D.E., who attended the monthly meeting Tuesday. The ladies look on this year as one in which they must put their every effort into war work and that no matter how small their task, they must fulfill it to the best of their ability. "It will be a hard year, and we will all have to go to work," declared Mrs. Jonn Cartmel, Regent. "Everyone will have something to do, and I hope that every member will get down and do the work."

Kokanee Chapter will not receive assistance this year from the War Services Fund, and this will necessitate an even greater effort than last year.

OLD LONDON CABARET

One of the main projects planned by the chapter is the staging of a cabaret along the theme of "Old London." The scenery will be the streets of old London, and the songs cries and food from the old city will add to the atmosphere. Tentative date set was May 22. Also planned was a raffle of a suit, the tickets to be sold by a committee headed by Mrs. A. L. Creech, and her helpers will be Mrs. H. Chester, Mrs. H. Harrop, Mrs. L. E. Hamson, Mrs. S. S. Simpson and Mrs. H. Burns.

Mrs. George Lambert submitted the Educational report, stating that the I.O.D.E. Oratorical contest will take place this year, March 27, at the Junior High School. There will be 10 contestants, four from St. Josephs Academy and six from the Junior High School, the subject chosen is "How I Can Best Serve Canada", the speakers to have a minimum of four minutes aand maximum of six minutes. This year there will be two prizes, a first and second, instead of the usual first prize only.

Mrs. E. C. Wragge, convener of the War Committee, reported the latest shipment from the chapter contained military and civilian comforts, and was valued at $146.90.

MANY CHILDREN AIDED WITH MILK

The Welfare work done since the last meeting was summarized by Mrs. Leo Ganzmer, who stated that 36 pupils in the Central School, and three in St. Joseph's Academy, and 32 in the Hume School were given half pints of milk; seven families were given milk where there were pre-school children; and two families were outfitted with clothing. "This clothing," said Mrs. Ganzmer "is not given to them the way it is handed in. It is all ripped, washed, and re-measured to fit the members of the family."

Here the ladies decided to send a vote of thanks to Mrs. W. H. Smedley, who has done a great deal in outfitting these families.

Mrs. Jack MacDonald appealed for old woollens, since the Spring drive has begun. This wool is collected throughout the city and district, sent to Provincial Headquarters and is then made into blankets. The ladies agreed that the next shipment of blankets sent to Kokanee Chapter would be turned over for use in the A.R.P. The ladies on the wool committee were Mrs. W. R. Gibbon, Mrs. C. H. Stark, Mrs. W. Bell, Mrs. E. Marsden, Mrs. D. D. McLean, and Mrs. W. J. McLean. Convener of the committee is Mrs. MacDonald.

The Girl Guide report was given Mrs. H. J. Reed who asked that money for wool be donated to the Guides who are knitting or war purposes. A $5 donation was decided upon.

A letter from England, written by Mrs. Gunner Graham, formerly of Nelson, was read by Mrs. H. E. Dill, in it Mrs. Graham said that she had seen blankets sent overseas by the I.O.D.E. and that Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth hal also seen them and was greatly impressed.

The Regent, Mrs. John Cartmel, plans to attend the Provincial I.O.D.E. meeting at Vancouver in April.

Mrs. W. E. Wasson offered to keep the scrap book for the Chapter.

A suggestion that members represent the I.O.D.E. at the A.R.P. meetings, to see if they could help in any way, was taken up by Mrs. A. L. Creech and Mrs. C. F. McHardy, who volunteered to attend.

MISS DUNN GIVES TALK

Ater tea had been served by a tea committee, convened by Mrs. H. D. Dawson, and consisting of Mrs. G. S. Godfrey, Mrs. W. R. Grubbe, Mrs. E. E. L. Dewdney, Mrs. H. Gore, Mrs. H. E. Dill, Mrs. W. R. Gibbon and Mrs. Leo Ganzmer, an address was given by Miss Nancy Dunn, School Nurse. Speaking of the distribution of milk in the schools, Miss Dunn said that nutrition was playing a foremost part in time of war. "Milk contains many important items necessary to the upkeep of the body," she said. "A pint and a half contains all the calcium necessary to bone-building; 90 per cent of Vitamin B., which is essential to the eyes and to growth; over half the phosphorus for tooth and bone tissue; 40 per cent of Vitamin A; and one-third protein.

"Milk is such a vulnerable food that Sir Wilson Jameson of the British Ministry of Health has devised a system to provide two and a half million British children with milk—this is done, of course, at the expense of the parents and older people, who do without it."

"During the year," she said, "8736½ pints of milk were drunk in Nelson schools and 5434½ pints were drunk by other children who were encouraged by the Chapter to drink it.

Concluding her talk, Miss Dunn quoted Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, who said: "Let us reappraise our own efforts, having the patriotism to discard from our plans whatever contributes little to national needs, and the courage to move ahead boldly when we can add to national strength. Ours is the responsibility for leading the fight against the weakness from within, which impedes attack upon the enemy without. "The ladies of the I.O.D.E. are certainly helping in the fight against the 'weakness from within.' " she said.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Cartmel, the Regent. The Treasurer, Mrs. G. S. MacIntosh and the Secretary, Mrs. Louis Choquette, gave monthly reports.

Alta. Legion Branch Objects to B. C. Japs

RAYMOND, Alta., March 10 (CP) —A special meeting sponsored by the Raymond Branch of the Canadian Legion here last night endorsed resolutions expressing objection to a reported influx of Japanese to this district from vital defence areas of British Columbia.

A Citizen's Committee was set up with Rulon Dahl as chairman and Shirley King as secretary, to work with the ex-servicemen in a campaign to stop any Japanese from moving here where a colony of from 150 to 200 already is established.

(The present group were brought into the district several years ago to work in the sugar beet fields.)

Says Billions Will Be Lost by Removal of Japs From Calif.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10 (AP)—Forced evacuation of Japanese farmers from California will result in losses of billions of dollars, Nobumitsu Takahashi, agricultural Coordinator, Northern California District Council of the Japanese American Citizens League, said today.

"he Japanese farmers stand to lose approximately $100,000,000 in investments, but due to the complexity of the economic system, billion dollar investments by others (Caucasians) will also be lost," Takahashi said.

Hosek and Brown to Be Heard in Trail, Rossland

Frank Hosek, the gifted young violinist from Bellevue, Ita., who recently gave a recital in this city is in Nelson for a few days, while en route to Trail and Rossland, where he is scheduled for three recitals. He will be assisted on his program by Donald Brown, popular young baritone of Nelson. Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson of Nelson will act as accompanist for all three recitals.

The Trail event is being sponsored by Knox United Church Choir, while the two recitals in Rossland are under the auspices of the local Parent-Teacher Association. While Hosek was performing in Nelson, Mrs. Ferguson received invitations from Trail and Rossland for concerts there. It is in response to these requests that the two boys will be heard in Trail and Rossland. Mrs. Ferguson also received two requests for young Hosek and his assistant one from Vernon and one from the University of British Columbia. The party have found it impossible to go farther afield than the Kootenays, however.

The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Another step in United Nations preparations to strike a crushing blow eventually at Japan's vital communication lines in the China Sea has been taken, this time in China.

An American Army officer, Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, in China as President Roosevelt's personal representative, has been named Chief of Staff under Chiang Kai-Shek for operations on the Chinese front. And it's in the Great Eastern Bulge of China, south of Shanghai, that some of Japan's most important land bases lie. These bases protect the Nipponese sea traffic that sustains the enormously extended threats to Australia and to India.

The possibility that swarms of American planes may be based in China within close striking range to Japan's Formosa stronghold and of the teeming China Sea war traffic is an alluring one.

Bracketed with widening American naval sorties into the island-studded "hornets' nest" of enemy bases in the North Pacific far west of Hawaii, the pattern of a future Sino-American pincer squeeze on Japan's China Sea conquest life line is obvious.

A Japanese claim says that Truk Island, southeast of Lost Guam and 3,000 miles west of Hawaii, was the objective of such an American sortie. That is unconfirmed from any American source as is the Tokyo claim of a U.S. plane carrier sunk and a destroyer fired.

Truk is another of the many "stationary plane carriers" Japan developed in preparation for her wanton attack on the United States. It is less than 2000 miles due East of the Pacific shore of Midanao in the Southern Philippines.

American Naval forces which may be operating in that area of the lower North Pacific are roughly two-thirds of the way from Hawaii to the Philippines. The Japanese claim indicates a task force similar to that which wrought havoc with an enemy air bombing fleet west of the Gilbert Islands.

Like the Tokyo report of a frustrated bombing attack on Marcus Island, 1000 miles north of Truk in the Bonin Group, the Nipponese account of the Truk episode is subject to suspicion. Both might be designed to draw out information as to American Fleet dispositions.

Even so, there seems every reason to believe that a progressive American advance westward in the Pacific is feeling its way island by island toward one or the other China Sea jugular veins of Japanese war traffic.

Voluntary Reduction of Motoring Lessens Car Traffic on Ferries

With exception of Nick's Island Ferry the passenger traffic on all Kootenay ferries reporting to Nelson decrease in February this year in comparison to the 1941 figures for traffic at the same time. Voluntary reduction of motoring presumably accounted for the lower figures.

In passenger cars there was a drop of 474 on the Nelson ferry, or slightly over 10 per cent on the Kootenay Lake and Kootenay River ferries only slight drops in car traffic were recorded.
