1500 MEN FIGHT SOUTHERN INTERIOR FIRES

LONG, HARD WAR FACING BRITAIN SAYS CHURCHILL

Undismayed Country Awaits German Assault

LONDON IN RUINS, BUT NOT SLAVERY

LONDON, July 14 (CP Cable)—Prime Minister Churchill told the world tonight that "we shall seek no terms, we shall tolerate no parley" when declaring that Britain awaits unafraid and undismayed the impending German assault on this country.

Everything indicates the war will be "long and hard," he said. Britain is forced to prepare "not only for the Summer but for the Winter; not only for 1941, but for 1942, when the war will I trust take a different form from the defensive in which it has hitherto been bound."

Britain has an army of 1,500,000 trained and equipped men on guard to assist the navy and air forces in hurling back German onslaughts at British soil. Behind these military forces, he said, are a resolute people and a united, determined government that is "prepared to proceed to all extremities, to endure them and to enforce them."

"Should the invader come to Britain," the Prime Minister declared, "there will be no placid lying down of the people, no submission before him, as we have seen, alas, in other countries.

"We shall defend every village, every town, every city. The vast mass of London could easily devour an entire hostile army and we would rather see London laid in ashes and ruins than that it should be tamely and abjectly enslaved."

The Prime Minister, who spoke to the Empire and the world on Bastille Day, announced that as long as the remaining French warships made no attempt to return to ports occupied by Germany or Italy, Britain would not molest them.

Referring to relations with France he said: "So long as our pathway to victory is not impeded, we are ready to discharge such offices of goodwill towards the French Government as may be possible."

In drawing the teeth of the French navy, he said, "our painful task is now completed. Although an unfinished battleship still resists in a Morrocan harbor and there are a number of French warships at Toulon and in various French ports all over the world, these are not in a condition, or of a character, to derange our preponderance of naval power."

Mr. Churchill, speaking "in this strong city of refuge,' said Britons wait undismayed for the German invasion.

"Perhaps it will come tonight; perhaps it will come next week; perhaps it will never come," he said. "We must show ourselves equally capable of meeting a sudden violent shock or, what is perhaps a harder task, a prolonged vigil."

He recalled he was speaking on France's Bastille Day and that a year ago he "watched the stately parade down the Champs Elysees of the French army and the French Empire," and asked:

"Who could foresee what the course of a year would bring?"

LONDON, July 14 (CP) — The German radio commenting tonight on Prime Minister Churchill's speech, claimed the attack on Britain would come "very definitely some time."

Boys Build Play Tent With Missing Canvas

The "theft" of two large sheets of canvas, used in connection with the recent strawberry festival at Gyro Park, reported to Nelson City Police Friday turned out to be nothing but the harmless prank of a few small boys. Police learned Saturday the boys had taken the canvas only a short distance away and constructed a play tent from it.

Factories, Refineries, Airdromes in Germany and Netherlands Pounded by R.A.F.; 7 Nazi Planes Fall in Battle

By PAT USSHER
Canadan Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 15 (Monday)—(CP Cable).—Germany lost seven planes—five Junkers dive bombers and two Messerschmitt fighters—in a big air battle Sunday over the Straits of Dover. A third fighter was badly crippled and probably dd not reach its base.

People on shore watched the thrilling battle. A running account of it was broadcast by an excited British Broadcasting Corporation observer.

Official figures showed the weekend air engagements cost the Nazi air force 20 planes, at a minimum, compared with the loss of seven R.A.F. machines.

British fighters broke up two concentrated German raids on convoys off the Southeast coast, one Saturday, one Sunday, while R.A.F. bombers unloaded tons of explosives over enemy territory.

About 40 German dive bombers as well as a number of escort planes were engaged in Sunday's series of thrilling dogfights off the Southeast Coast.

R. A. F. fighters swarmed up to the attack. One patrol of Spitfires accounted for four enemy craft itself.

The R. A. F. in their counter-attack on Germany Saturday night, paying off the German raids that day on British ports and ships, blasted 14 German airdromes and other enemy continental objectives.

The Air Ministry said a survey showed one of Britain's raiding planes lost, one defence plane brought down repelling the Nazi attacks Sunday and three lost fighting off the Germans over Britain Saturday.

In addition to the six German planes downed Sunday, one was shot down attempting to stop raids into Germany and 12 Nazi raiders were wrecked' and others damaged in Saturday's fighting over the English coast.

The British announcement listed these German targets in the night attack:

Aircraft factories at Bremen and Deichshausen; docks at Hamburg, Bremen, Emden, and Wilhelmshaven; oil refineries at Hamburg and Monheim; supply factories at Grenvenbroich, Gelsenkirchen and Hamburg; goods yards at Hamm, Osnabruck and Soest; 14 airdromes in Germany and the Netherlands.

Separate squadrons bombed ammunition dumps at Halingen on the Netherlands coast, and large concentrations of barges seen near Bruges, just inland from the Belgian coast.

British fliers have been on the lookout for such concentrations of barges which might be used to ferry German troops across the English Channel for invasion.

The Air Ministry said direct bomb hits started fires among the barges and one heavy explosive shattered searchlights with which German ground crews tried to spot their attackers.

The Air Ministry credited a Lockheed with a bombing that caused "explosion after explosion" in ammunition warehouses at Harlingen.

One German attack on a British convoy today occurred off the Southeast coast — near enough to land so townspeople of communities along the coast watched the battle.

Ten dive bombers screamed down at the ships from 10,000 feet, through a screen of heavy anti-aircraft fire from warships of the convoy.

British fighter planes were on the scene within a few minutes, engaging the big bombers in dogfights that drove them off.

Onlookers from the coast saw one bomber spiral down into the sea, then another, with the pilot parachuting into the water.

Pilots of the British ships said they rode, firing, on the tail of the bombers until those which escaped crossed the coast of France.

New Church of St. Theresa at Sheep Creek Blessed by Bishop

Church of St. Theresa at Sheep Creek, constructed by congregation members during the past two months, was blessed by Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, D. D., Bishop of Nelson, Sunday afternoon. It was described in a sermon by Rev. Gerald Murphy, C. Ss. R., of the Redemptorist Order, as "another outpost" where Christ's work would be carried on.

Christ instituted the Church to teach men the truth of salvation and to give to men the necessary grace and strength to follow out these truths in daily life, said Father Murphy The new chapel was "another outpost."

Prayers were said at the outside entrance of the Church, and a procession of the Clergy, followed by congregational members, circled the building before entering for the ceremony. Bishop Johnson officiated at the blessing and, following Father Murphy's sermon, at the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Assisting were Father Murphy, Rev. J. J. Cheevers of Nelson, and Rev. John Lambert, C. Ss. R., Pastor of the Ymir-Salmo Missions, in which Sheep Creek is included. Linus Morrison and Patrick Morrison served as altar boys.

Over 40 attended a banquet honoring the Bishop, the visiting clergy and men who voluntarily worked on the Church.

Father Lambert was Toastmaster and called on the Bishop, the visiting clergy members, and a number of the men for brief speeches. The dinner was served by the Sheep Creek Catholic Women's League.

Legless Pilot Shoots Down Nazi Bomber

LONDON, July 14 (CP Cable).—The story of a legless pilot in the Royal Air Force fighter command who shot down a Dornier bomber was told yesterday in the Air Ministry's news service. The pilot himself is a Briton, but at present leads a squadron of Canadians.

Injured in a plane crash before the war that cost him both legs, this flier "refused to die." After being fitted with artificial metal limbs he resumed sports like tennis and squash.

At the outbreak of the war he argued his way back into the Royal Air Force and passed his flying test.

In the course of a weekend raid he took up a Hurricane fighter and sent an invading Dornier crashing down into the sea.

McNaughton Corps to Include Canadian Forces

EVENTUALLY IS TO BE ALL-CANADIAN

OTTAWA, July 14 (CP)—Maj. Gn. A. G. L. McNaughton, General Officer Commanding the 1st Canadian Division, Canadian Active Service Force, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-General and placed in command of a new British army corps which will include the Canadian forces now in England, it was announced today by Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence.

It was understood here that the corps under General McNaughton would eventually become an all-Canadian corps.

It was said unofficially that such Canadian troops as arrive overseas from time to time would be attached to Gen. McNaughton's corps.

Chief of Canada's general staff in 1939, General McNaughton is in his early 50s.

He has stressed the increasing importance of the engineer in modern warfare and was drafted from his post as President of the National Research Council last Fall to take command of Canada's 1st Division.

At the age of 31 he commanded Canada's heavy artillery at the close of the last war. After six years as Chief of the General Staff he was made President of the Research Council because of his proven administrative and organizing ability coupled with a sound training in the fundamentals of science.

Twice wounded and thrice mentioned in despatches in the first Great War, he holds decorations of Companion of the Order of the Bath, Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George; Companion of the Distinguished Service Order.

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN ENGLAND, July 14 (CP Cable) — The Canadian Forces in England, brought to a state of unexcelled fighting efficiency under the Command of Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, have entered upon a new vital role in defence of the Empire.

They have become part of a unique consolidated army corps embracing not only the Canadian 1st Division with its ancillary units, but also certain crack British formations.

Additional Canadian troops have been arriving in England almost weekly. Ultimately these forces will be absorbed into Gen. McNaughton's command, temporarily-attached units released and the corps then converted into an outright Canadian fighting entity.

Nelson Man Opens Bomber Fund With $50: Who Will Aid?

If 49 other persons will put up $50 each, Alfred R. Moore of the West Arm will donate $50 towards buying a bomber for the air force, or a fighting plane, or a tank.

In a letter to the Nelson Daily News Mr. Moore encloses his check for $50.

It is hoped that others will contribute, under the same conditions.

Checks for $50 will be received by the Nelson Daily News and held in trust until 50 checks of $50 each have been received.

A meeting of contributors will then be called to decide upon the exact type of war equipment to be purchased.

In a letter to The Daily News, Mr. Moore says:

"Dear Sir:

"What about a bomber to be subscribed for and presented to the Royal Canadian Air Force by the citizens of Nelson and District?

"Enclosed you will find my cheque for $50 to be applied to a fund subscribed for the above purpose when 49 other men who are either too old or physically unfit to more actively serve their country have subscribed, or promised, a similar sum, i.e., $50 each.

"With such a start, with all the smaller subscriptions from individuals, firms and organizations and a few larger ones from individuals and firms of larger means, it should be possible for Nelson and district to raise enough to buy a bomber for the air force, if not a bomber, then a fighter or a tank, but, whatever it can be, let us do something to materially help and right away while the need is great.

"A. R. MOORE.
"R.R.1, Nelson, B. C."

Mr Moore adds that he was going to purchase a war savings certificate, but believes that his offer of a straight donation of money for war equipment will be of greater help to the Empire's cause.

Mr. Moore emphasizes the condition that every cent subscribed must go toward the objective and whatever is bought is purchased from a firm which works on not exceeding the established 5 per cent margin of profits basis.

151 Fires Threat to Many Stands of Valuable Timber

110 Fires Burn in Nakusp, New Denver, Kaslo Areas; 26 in Invermere, Cranbrook, Creston; Lumberton Fire Held

Fifteen hundred men are mobilized on the forest fire front in Southern Interior British Columbia, fighting 151 fires that in many cases are burning in, or threating stands of valuable timber.

Dry lightning storm Friday—worst day of the fire season to date—left in their wake blazing forests. Although in most cases the fires were high up on mountains, burning in scrub of no value, there were sufficient in or near good timber to require a small army of fire fighters.

The familiar "lightning belt" — Nakusp, New Denver and Kaslo areas—suffered most heavily with 110 fires reported to date in this belt. Nakusp area listed 76 fires, and expected the count would probably be close to 100 when a complete check was available; Kaslo district had 24; and New Denver had 10. Majority of the Nakusp fires were around Arrowhead. Several were in the Lardeau.

ONLY 10 OLD FIRES

Forest Branch officials at Nelson counted 151 fires Sunday night. Of these 10 were old ones, and 141 were the result of lightning strikes.

Following its policy of striking fast and hard, the Forest Branch has rushed big crews to the major fires, and is fighting them with every means at its disposal. Its greatest need is rain.

Out of a mass of details on new fires came one bright report—the big fire in the Lumberton area, where wind threatened late Friday to drive the flames past fire guards into valuable timber on Lamb Creek was checked by the fighters. They were able to maintain their guards.

Among the fire fighters is Harry Johnson, pole operator, M. L. A. for Revelstoke. He is in charge of crews fighting five fires opposite Arrowhead, and has three of the outbreaks under control.

26 EASTERN SECTION

There are 26 fires in the Eastern section of the Nelson Forest District—eight in Invermere area, and six each in Fernie, Cranbrook and Creston areas.

Of five fires in the Invermere area information is incomplete for the outbreaks on Bugaboo Creek and at Wapiti Falls. A fire on Horse Thief Creek is under control, as are the remaining outbreaks in the area.

All Fernie fires are under control. In Cranbrook area the lack of call for more men for the Yahk fire led to the belief it was being handled by the crew. The Lumberton fire was "in good shape," and three small ones were not causing a great deal of trouble.

WEST CRESTON THREATENED

Three small fires on Goat River, Creston area, have joined into one but they are high and in scrub.

The settlement of West Creston was threatened, though not dangerously, by fire which came down fast from a high point on Corn Creek. A crew of 100 men checked it.

The Summit Creek, Arrow Creek, Thompson Mountain and Mission Creek fires were under control. The Mission Creek outbreak was near the International Boundary.

A new fire was reported about half a mile from the Spokane mine, which is in the Bayonne neighborhood, above Tye. At Midge Creek flames continued to consume the litter of a 10-year-old burn.

Kaslo's 24 fires were mostly in the Lardeau and around Kaslo itself. The old Coffee Creek fire was "in good shape."

In Nelson area a large crew was fighting on top and bottom of the Hidden Creek fire, in the neighborhood of the Aspen mine, Salmo vicinity. The Porcupine Creek, Nine-Mile Creek and Selous Creek fires were well under control and a checking patrol was on the Bear Creek outbreak.

NAKUSP HAS 76

Men have been rushed to all the accessible fires among the 76 in Nakusp area. Four between Scott and Menhenick Creeks, in timber, are under control. Guards are being built around a fire in timber on Johnson Creek. Three fires on Thompson Creek near Burton are high but are coming down into timber. Mr. Johnson has three of five outbreaks opposite Arrowhead under control. Fires on McKenzie Creek, near Whiskey Point, on Mosquito Creek opposite Nakusp and on Kuksanax Creek are in timber. Twelve fires are centred around Edgewood.

New Denver district's biggest fire is on Silverton Creek near the Van Roi mine, and over 100 men are fighting it. Another large crew is on a fire on the South Fork of Lemon Creek; and additional crews are fighting three fires on the Little Slocan.

Rossland district is "all clear."

Grand Forks district remains a bright spot, with its only serious fire near Terrace Peak. This is threatening good timber toward the Granby properties and a large crew is trying to "hit it hard."

Concessions to Be Offered Japan

LONDON, July 14 (CP Cable)—Britain is prepared to offer concessions to Japan over the Burma road and Hong Kong in the hope they will lead to a general settlement between China and Japan, it was reported tonight.

Although Britain is unwilling to forego treaty rights and industrial interests in the Far East, concessions will be offered Japan in the hope a larger settlement can be arranged involving the three-year-old Sino-Japanese war.

Negotiations proceeding at Tokyo between Foreign Minister Arita and the British Ambassador, Sir Robert Craigie, centre around the Burma road. Hong Kong, from which the Japanese wish export of arms to General Chiang Kai-Shek's forces prohibited, takes a secondary place in the negotiations because no arms have been shipped through that port since 1939.

Nazis Contribute to British Aluminum

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP) — The British Broadcasting Corporation said yesterday that the German Air Force is "contributing" to the British campaign to collect and conserve aluminum.

"A number of aluminum rods about four feet long by three quarters of an inch thick, with a square plate at one end, have been picked up after air raids on this country," said the broadcast heard here by the Columbia Broadcasting System. The Air Ministry now tells us that these rods are used for holding incendiary bombs and are dropped with the bombs. It advises finders to hand them straight over to the local scrap metal salvage depot so they can be returned to Germany with interest."

R. C. Crowe, K.C., Vice-President and General Counsel Consolidated Dies in Boat on Christina Lake

Collapses Cranking an Outboard Motor; Cram With Him

R. C. Crowe, K. C., Vice-President and General Counsel for the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, collapsed while cranking an outboard motor on Christina Lake Sunday and died before a doctor could reach him.

Mr. Crowe, during a weekend visit to his Summer home, had been swimming and afterward rested in the sun. Going out on the lake in a boat powered by an outboard motor he was accompanied by J. K. Cram, also of the Consolidated. They were about a quarter of a mile offshore when the motor stopped. Mr. Crowe collapsed when he attempted to start it again. Mr. Cram, getting him ashore, called Dr. Windsor Truax of Grand Forks, who pronounced life extinct.

Previously in private practice in Trail, and having the Consolidated Company as one of his clients, Mr. Crowe gave up practice to join the Company staff as solicitor about 1918. Growth of the legal department has been rapid, keeping pace with the growth of the Consolidated since the early 1920's.

In the past 20 years Mr. Crowe has distinguished himself in legal cases involving the Company and its subsidiary, the West Kootenay Power & Light Company, appearing in a number of high courts and before the International Joint Commission.

KING'S COUNSEL

As a result of his distinguished work he was appointed a King's Counsel. In April, 1939, in the course of reorganization following the death of J. J. Warren, President, he was promoted to the office of Vice-President of the Consolidated, his official title being "Vice-President and General Manager." He also served on the directorate of a number of companies controlled by the Consolidated.

He took a keen interest in community affairs, serving actively with the Trail Rotary Club, the Trail Board of Trade and other branches of community life. He was a member of the Rossland-Trail Golf and Country Club.

It was believed his death was due to heart failure.

Slocan City used a succession of pitchers, finishing up with Hicks.

Tony Arcure, Nelson centre fielder and second baseman, led the batsmen with a perfect day at the plate, six hits in as many trips to the plate.

CAIRO, July 14 (CP).—The Royal Air Force announced today that its planes had bombed El Adem, El Gubbi and Bardia in Eastern Libya during the weekend and had attacked shipping in the Libya Harbor of Tobruk.

Above and below the Suez, the air statement disclosed, the R. A. F. blasted during the weekend at Italian army, navy and air bases—from Mediterranean Libya to the tip of the Red Sea.

The air statement said:

"The extent of the damage done was not observed owing to poor visibility, but three fires were started at Bardia.

"Ammunition dumps and a petrol dump near Assab were raided and one fire was started. One of our raiders is missing.

"A successful attack was carried out against Massaua airdrome and several direct hits were scored on hangars and airdrome buildings.

Bastille Day One of Sadness, France

VICHY, July 14 (AP).—A France in tears observed today the 151st anniversary of her freedom — the day revolutionary mobs stormed the Bastille fortress and won the first taste of a liberty that now lies crumbled in military defeat.

Heading the Bastille Day observance was Marshal Petain, Chief of the new State. With members of his Government, the aged Marshal attended Mass, placed a wreath on a monument to the war dead, then stood, bowed and silent.

Petain followed that brief ceremony with a farewell conversation with President Lebrun, turned from office in the swift change of Government that made France an authoritarian State.

The new Government sought the answers to two important questions: The American attitude toward the French colonies in the Western Hemisphere, and the German conditions under which the French Government may return to Nazi-held Paris and Versailles.

Batista Winning Cuban Election

HAVANA, July 14 (AP).—Fulgencio Batista, the stalwart army stenographer who became the strong man of Cuba when he led the "Six Sergeants' Revolt" in 1933, evidently won easily at the polls today the national presidency into which he could have stepped at any time without the formality of election.

Choosing to take his case to the voters, he defeated a former President, Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin, by a 3-to-one margin on the basis of unofficial reports.

There was scattered violence which caused at least four deaths and wounding of 15 persons, but generally the balloting was comparatively quiet.

Officials returns from three precincts in Havana and four in Oriente Province gave Bastita 1222 votes and Grau 330. Unofficial returns from scattered points through the island indicated that Batista was holding the same margin everywhere.

Red Troops Seen Travelling East

SHANGHAI, July 15 - (Monday)-(AP).—Reliable travellers arriving here from Europe via Vladivostok reported today they saw more than 30 Soviet Russian troop trains complete with tanks and artillery, moving Eastward.

This report was linked here with the recent disclosure that Japanese-dominated Manchoukuo protested to Russia July 9 regarding recurrent incidents along the Manchoukuo-Siberia border.

These incidents allegedly included Soviet encroachments on Manchoukuoan territory and the kidnapping of Manchoukuoan officials. Report also was linked with recent Japanese Press claims that Russia, Britain and the United States were engaged in a gigantic "plot" to disturb Far-Eastern affairs.

Destroyer Sunk

LONDON, July 14 (CP).— The Admiralty tonight announced the loss of the destroyer Escort in the Western Mediterranean. She was torpedoed.

The 1350-ton destroyer was so badly damaged by the torpedo that she sank while other ships tried to tow her to port. Two sailors lost their lives. There was no information about the action in which the Escort was damaged.

The Escort, commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. J. Bostock, was started under construction in 1935 and completed in 1934. Her normal complement was 145 men.

The ship carried four 4.7-inch guns, six smaller guns and eight torpedo tubes.

Ralston Inspects Military Camps

VALCARTIER CAMP, Que., July 14 (CP)—Col. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, flew back to Ottawa last night in a Royal Canadian Air Force plane after a "splendid" tour of the military camp here.

Earlier in the day the camp was inspected by a group of 20 members of Parliament, veterans of the First Great War. Earlier the "Old Soldier" group had inspected the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec.

PETAWAWA, Ont., July 14 (CP)—Defence Minister J. L. Ralston cast a seasoned soldier's eye over several thousand tanned gunners and sappers today and pronounced them ready for any job anywhere.

Accompanied by his executive assistant, Lt.-Col. A. A. Magee, Col. Ralston inspected the big artillery and engineer training camp here, attended church service with the men, and addressed them briefly.

Miss Sybil Norgrove of Cranbrook Is Wed at Pretty Ceremony

CRANBROOK, B.C.—Sybil Lillian Norgrove, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Norgrove and David John Hunden, son of Mrs. James Bond and the late Evan John Hunden of Cumberland were married at the United Church Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Callum Thompson.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, looking lovely in a gown of white sheatly satin trimmed with seed pearls. Her chapel veil was held in place by a wreath of gardenias, and she carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses.

Her attendants were Miss Nancy Leigh Bowen of Vernon, her cousin, wearing a gown of chartreuse chiffon, and Miss Eleanor Blair of Canyon, wearing a frock of dusty rose chiffon. Both wore flowered hats and carried colonial bouquets of mauve and pink sweet peas. Little Colene Reid was flower girl, wearing a colonial yellow taffeta. The groom's attendants were his brother William Hunden and his cousin, John Thomson of Cumberland.

The ushers were J. Sims and Frank Edwards. T. S. Beynon played the wedding music and Miss Ethel van Acheran sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the church hall where over a hundred invited guests assembled to congratulate the bride. Mrs. Norgrove received the guests in a gown of Queen's blue georgette with navy accessories, while the groom's mother chose navy with white accesories, and both were corsages of briarcliffe roses.

Mrs. James Coutts, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Harold Brown were in charge of the reception hall. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. E. H. McPhee and Mrs. Robert Finley poured coffee and tea, while Miss Helen McClure, Miss Ruth Lundy, Miss Evelyn Whitter, Miss Irma Taylor, Mrs. James Dixon, Miss Helen and Miss Nancy Haddad assisted with the serving.

For travelling the bride wore a suit of dove grey sheer wool, trimmed with grey squirrel and rose accessories, their wedding trip will take them up the B.C. coast to Alaska.

Germans Demand Cash, Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, July 14 (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today that economic demands upon Costa Rica were contained in the recent German communication requesting that no action against Germany be taken at the American ministers' conference July 20.

The German note also was transmitted to four other Central American countries by Dr. Otto Reinebeck, German minister. Diplomatic circles here were unable to say whether the demands reported made to Costa Rica were included in the other notes.

In addition to observing that any action at the Havana conference affecting Costa Rica's neutrality would be "disadvantageous," the German communication was quoted in diplomatic circles as saying:

1. Frozen deposits in the Costa Rican National Bank intended for exporters in Germany should be made available to the Reich, possibly to maintain German ships and crews in refuge in Costa Rican ports. Enactment of a law to this end was asked.

2. The treatment accorded German naval units in the port of Punta Arenas is not as satisfactory as that accorded Allied naval units there.

The same sources said it was understood that all five Central American governments would reject the German minister's note.

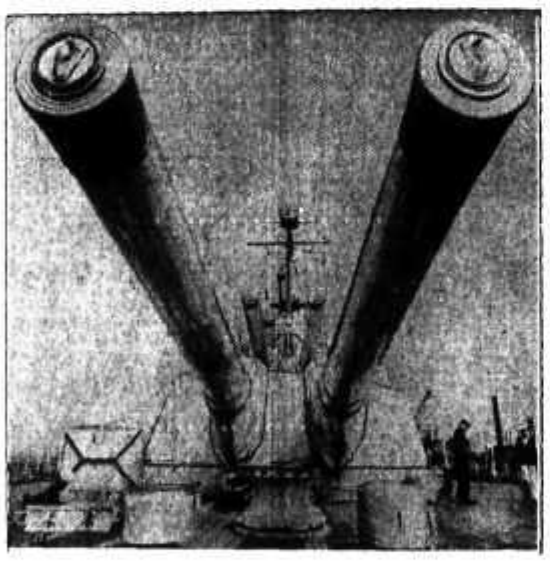
British Fleet Hitting Hard in Mediterranean

Here is the 35,000-ton French warship Richelieu, largest and most powerful battle cruiser ever built, which was damaged and put out of action in the Mediterranean, by British naval action. The battleship is thus rendered incapable of being used by Germany or Italy against Britain.

ADMIRAL CUNNINGHAM



H.M.S. Warspite's Guns

Turning from the job of immobilizing the French fleet, Britain's naval forces in the Eastern Mediterranean sought out an Italian naval squadron. The Italians immediately fled under cover of a smoke screen but not before one destroyer and a submarine had been lost and one hit from a big gun had found its mark on a Fascist battleship. Commander of the British Mediterranean fleet is Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham whose flagship is the mighty "Warspite" which participated so successfully in the Narvik engagement.

SIR ARTHUR LONGMORE

A letter expressing his personal regret at the death of Marshal Italo Balbo was dropped from a Royal Air Force plane at the express orders of Air Marshal Sir Arthur Longmore, R.A.F. commander in the Near East, following death of the Italian air ace in a crash. Sir Arthur was a personal friend of Balbo. The letter was addressed to the Italian commander-in-chief.

Model 'Plane Pilot Gets Tips From R.C.A.F.

Getting ready for the model aircraft contest which will be a feature of this year's Canadian National Exhibition, one Toronto contestant took his gasoline powered model to one of the R.C.A.F. depots to get some expert advice. Here Corporal V. M. Ervin and Aircraftmen J. Partridge and L. Muir give him some tips, and express keen interest in the machine which has an engine the size of a pocket watch and has reached an altitude of 1,000 feet.

Moated Fort Abandoned to Italians

Here is the gateway to the old moated fort of Kassala in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, from which British forces retired after inflicting heavy losses on Italian troops. Reports indicate that the British command decided that strategic importance of the post was not sufficient to warrant a sharp engagement with the enemy. The fort was built by the Italians and abandoned by them after defeat in the Italo-Ethiopian war of 1896. It was taken by the British when Lord Kitchener conquered the Soudan.

Public Opinion in U. S. Changes as Hitler Gains More Powers

By CHARLES BRUCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 14 (CP)—Rotund and jovial, a bus passenger bound for the subway-head at Flushing swayed on the strap and remarked to the driver: "He'll get his bellyful if he comes over here;" and added a bit ruefully, "Likely we'll get a bellyful too."

He was speaking of Adolf Hitler, and in many ways his comment reflects the present attitude of the United States toward the days ahead. The fungus of more interested sympathy that crusted this country was scraped away sharply by the invasion of Scandinavia and the Lowlands. For a time its raw skin shivered in something a bit like hysteria.

Now, since the collapse of France and the imminence of Hitler's war against Britain alone, the United States is tightening its hide to hand out a bigger bellyful than it gets. For there are few who would give odds against attempted conquest on the American Continent if Britain's guard should fall.

The "if" in the bus commentator's observation was no expression of doubt about Hitler's intentions. Were there no Royal Navy, no Britain buttressed by steel and sinew from the ends of Empire, the word on American lips would be "when."

For that reason the great mass of public opinion in the United States applauds vast plans for naval and military expansion now taking shape in blueprint and legislative enactment. These are the tangible evidences of United States reaction to the Hitler threat.

In brief, they call for: Construction of a navy equal to any possible hostile combination; a potential war time army of 1,200,000 fully equipped, with reserve equipment for another 800,000 if needed; gearing of industry to produce the necessary military supplies; immediate production of 19,800 army and navy planes to give the Nation a combined air force of 36,000 planes by a year from this Fall; some form of compulsory service.

To pay for this the public debt limit has been raised. And there is no squawking at the extra cent on a can of beer, on two packages of cigarettes, on an hour at a newsreel, payable under the new defence tax.

There is some political bickering of course, some survival of the old "to hell with the rest of the world" isolationist idea, but in the main the parties are united on fundamentals. President Roosevelt's declaration that no aggressive war is contemplated spiked considerable "war party" talk. Criticism that followed the appointment of two Republicans, Col. Frank Knox and Henry L. Stimson, as Secretary of the Navy and Secretary for War, seems to the layman to have died down. Both Knox and Stimson are advocates of the fullest possible aid to Great Britain, short of sending an expeditionary force.

When an American talks defence he means the Western Hemisphere. He is not worrying about Canada particularly, because Canada is already well on the way to looking after herself in collaboration with the Mother Country; though in the words of the Chicago Tribune: "The American people have long accepted the proposition that the United States will resist an invasion of Canada as quickly and vigorously as it would an attack on its own territory." The Tribune was advocating a military alliance between Canada and the United States, partly because it viewed them as the only two American countries "with a demonstrated capacity for waging modern warfare."

Probably a combination of friendliness and the instinct for self-preservation was reflected in a recent poll of public opinion that showed 53 per cent of Americans willing to volunteer for service in the event of an invasion of Canada.

But the United States definitely is worrying about the Nazi influence in Mexico and in Central and South America, where entrancing visions of export trade have long been held out by the agents of the Hitler Reich. In June a United States cruiser called at Rio and Montevideo. They were routine visits, but they coincided with talk of increased German underground activity South of the Equator.

At the Conference of Foreign Ministers of the 21 Republics called for Havana July 20, at the instance of the United States State Department, common Hemisphere defence undoubtedly will be discussed, as well as plans for international co-operative handling of American export staples.

Aid for Britain picks up apace. Planes—only the authorities know how many—have been released by the navy to manufacturers for resale to Britain, as have stores of military equipment, munitions and artillery. The British Purchasing Commission has taken over French contracts standing on the order sheets when France fell. Thousands of United States homes will be open if the stream of refugee children increases and continues. Organizations have been set up to look after that.

Meanwhile:

Next to an editorial urging the United States not to "butt into a losing war," the Daily News publishes Edna St. Vincent Millay's ringing "lines written in passion and in deep concern for England, France, ad my ow country." . . . Bars in the German section of New York blossom with signs, "Don't Talk War Here." . . . But plenty of war is talked in plenty of places. . . . Bartender John Corrigan heaves a saluting Nazi into 51st Street. . . . An unidentified customer in a barbershop drags the Mussolini-loving barber into Sixth Avenue to avoid smacking him on his own property . . . but the passing cop says he wouldn't mix into it anyway.

British Say Nazis Minimize Losses in Air and Fabricate Successes

LONDON, July 14 (CP) — An authoritative British source commented thus on the German communique:

"German High Command communiques are sytematically minimizing German air losses. Today's communique for instance halves the number of enemy machines brought down around British shores Friday, where German losses were 11 bombers at a cost of two British fighters."

"Again the communique, while fabricating a new claim for British losses announced on the 12th avoids mentioning the number of German losses announced on that date, which was 23 machines as against four British fighters lost in action."

BERLIN, July 14 (AP)—Saturday's German High Command communique:

German naval units have been conducting successful operations in overseas waters for a long period. Several merchant ships with valuable cargoes, which were taken as prizes during these operations, have arrived in our harbors.

(There have been no reports from British sources of Allied ships being captured.)

"One submarine reported sinking 24,674 registered tons of enemy merchant shipping space.

(Britain has announced the loss of only one merchant ship, the Netherlands vessel Lucrecia, 2584 tons, in the week ending July 12).

"We succeeded in sinking a patrol boat and a merchantman of 2000 registered tons and severely damaging five merchant ships by bomb hits.

(The Admiralty yesterday announced loss of the patrol yacht Warrior II.)

"Eight British fighting planes were destroyed on the ground of St. Merryn airport, while petrol tanks in Exeter, Portland, Newport and Dundee were effectively bombed, as well as quay facilities there and workshops of the armament industry in Billingham and Newcastle.

"Also in the night of July 12-13 British airplanes again dropped bombs in Northern Germany, destroying several houses and killing a number of civilians.

(London did not comment on the claimed raid on St. Merryn airport. The R.A.F. nightly carried out long-ranging bombing raids on military objectives in Germany and German occupied Europe.)

"Enemy losses reported July 12 were increased by four planes bagged by anti-aircraft at night, from 13 to 17 aircraft.

(London announced the loss of four planes July 12.)

"Yesterday's total losses of the opponent amount to 13 planes, of which four were shot down in airfights during the day and one by night by a chaser. Five of our own planes are missing."

Capital Closeups

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadain Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 14 (CP) — Vast powers given Hon. J. G. Gardiner as Minister of National War Services clearly show the far-reaching importance of the new phases of the war effort on the home front.

There is a good chance Mr. Gardiner's successor as Agriculture Minister will be selected from among the present Cabinet. He would thus know the inside story of most of the agricultural problems.

Capital chaff: Air Minister Power has developed a tremendous pride in his Royal Canadian Air Force in the short time he has been Chief of the Department—it is nothing stiffly formal, either, but a sincere admiration for the men in blue working with him on their hazardous jobs. . . . In recent visits to Ontario air stations he talked with them all, from fighter pilots to the men who grease the machines.

Two prominent members of Acadia University held the spotlight during the budget debate—Finance Minister Ilsley and Ken Eaton, his tax advisor, who sat on the floor of the House during the debate to aid the Minister. . . . Mr. Ilsley was nervous as an ingenue as he started the debate, but he knew his job . . . There is some trouble hearing him, though.

Corridor cuff notes: Col. Colin Gibson was the dark horse of the cabinet shuffle. . . . In the Commons he has only been heard briefly. . . . and when the Prime Minister announced his appointment as National Revenue Minister there were many newsmen and M.P.'s mystified as to just who he was. . . . But he has a vital post now to exercise his ability.

Women have been coming into the House galleries these nights with ordinary handkerchiefs—sometimes men's — draped over their heads. The reason: Rules of the House forbid women entering the Chamber with head uncovered. . . . It didn't apply to the Press Gallery for some vague reason, and the one woman member, Mrs. Evelyn Tufts of Halifax, exercises her journalistic prerogative on occasions.

Sartorial notes of the week: The vivid tan coat—it's like a hunting jacket—sported by G. G. McGeer (Lib., Vancouver-Burrard). . . . The Conservative leader Hanson's pink-and-fawn Summer outfit.

Around town: Key man in the R.C.M.P. investigation of Communistic subversive elements is famed Sergeant John Leopold. . . . He was the principal witness at the trial of Tim Buck and seven other Communists in Toronto in 1931, revealing that as "Comrade E. C. Esselwain" he was member of the Regina branch of the Canadian Labor Defence League for some months . . . He charged the League was allied with the Communist Party.

Italy Claims Two British Cruisers and Battleship Sunk in Heavy Sea Battle

ROME, July 14 (AP).—Saturday's Italian communique:

"The enemy naval formation discovered and constantly pounded throughout the day of July 11 by our aviation divided into three groups during the night, all proceeding Eastward but at different speeds.

"When contact was regained in the early hours of Friday through active scouting by our naval reconnaissance planes, the three groups were followed closely and bombed by a whole mass of planes leaving bases in Southern Italy, Libya (North Africa) and the Eastern Mediterranean.

"Results of this action ascertained thus far show at least two cruisers and one battleship certainly and repeatedly struck with large-calibre bombs.

"During a reconnaissance flight over Malta (British Mediterranean naval base) our escort fighters entered into combat with four enemy chasers, two of which were shot down in flames.

(There was no report of this engagement from British quarters).

"All of our planes returned to the bases.

"One of our destroyers was sunk as the result of enemy bombardment. The crew was saved.

"In East Africa an English village was occupied near Moyale after repulsing enemy counter attacks and inflicting considerable losses.

"In an aerial fight in the same zones four English chasers were shot down. The enemy attempted raids on Chisimaio (Italian Somaliland), Gigiga and Massaura (Eritrea) without causing any damage. One plane was shot down by our chasers and another by our anti-aircraft defence. All our planes returned unharmed to their bases.

"One of our planes reported lost Friday returned to its base."

Warm Tones . . .

Makeup and Dress Should Harmonize

By DONNA GRACE

The midsummer fashion shows are so interesting for the girls who wish to have the perfect dress and makeup ensemble.

One recent afternoon the leading stores exhibited costumes in green and white combination, and with this an accent of the new Summer makeup in warm tones.

White must have this contrast also the pastels, especially for outdoor sports. Pale skins look insipid on a Summer day.

Rico tan is one of the smartest. This can be applied before and during the time the skin is tanned, and with regular use of good sun lotions or sun screens a fine tanned base will be the result.

All young faces look beautiful in the warm tones. Even the mature women are wonderfully improved with the new complexion. Gray hair needs this accent when light costumes are worn. When there is so little contrast btween the light costume and light hair, one lacks the natural warmth of expression.

The skin must be kept smooth and unblemished for all makeup. Even though the new tones are dark, they will not cover blemishes.

Summer colognes and a definite perfume are more in keeping with the deep tones than are the floral toilet waters. With all sports attire, however, colognes and toilet waters are used. The heavier perfumes should be reserved for the cocktail hour and evening.

Packs to Keep Neck Beautiful

By DONNA GRACE

Poets are glib and flattering when they write sonnets about the neck of their adored one. It is always lily white or compared to the perfection of smooth ivory. Necks should be like that, but some are so discouraging. They will take on ashade so much darker than the face or even a tinge that looks as if it were not clean as it should be.

While this may be attributed to many things, such as the friction of the dress fabric, furs, or some type of dryness, we know it is possible to improve its appearance and usually restore the natural color.

One of the fundamental treatments is thorough and frequent scrubbing with soap and water, then a daily application of massage cream. There are also the bleaches for this purpose that will work magic in erasing the dark tone.

All the trouble starts when one neglects to include the neck in all facial cleansing. We can't do the neck during the day if at business or away from home. The night bathing is the time to give it the attention it needs.

Packs are fine for bringing back the normalskin tones, and women who have their weekly facials seldom have any neck discoloration. The cream, along with manipulation, will remove the rust tones and keep the surface so normal and lubricated that all harshness soon will disappear.

The muscles and nerve centres at the back of the neck must be kept active for skin perfection etc., up ready for home use and there are the old reliable ones such as the grated soap and cornmeal mixtures, which is made with a tablespoonful of the soap with a halfcupful cornmeal. This is wet so it may be spread on a fresh strip of gauze and then wrapped about the neck.

First cleanse the neck with cream then leave the pack on for five minutes. If the skin is not the sensitive type, 10 minutes will be better.

Rinse and pat dry; then do the usual neck massage with the massage cream.

Plain lemon juice will prove an effective bleach for the average skin and may be applied several times a week. All packs and bleaches should be followed by the cream massage.

SERIAL STORY . . . By Oren Arnold.

HAPPINESS, C. O. D.

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

On the day following their decision about the new play, first announcement came out in the city's newspapers. "The Wit to Woo" was as catchy a title as "Maid to Measure" had been. It was keyed to youth and Spring, and rollicking romance, so that literally everybody, it seemed, was interested.

Before 9 o'clock that morning Mr Walsh, Manager of the Orpheum, largest theatre in the city, telephone for an appointment with Bill.

"Frankly, Mr. Bailey," the theatre man said, "I hear so much about your plays that I hope we can arrange a way to stage them here in the Orpheum, where we have every facility you need."

Bill was elated. "Thank you, but I don't think it can fit into our present plans," he answered. "Anyway, come on out and talk about it, sir."

They made the appointment for afternoon at Bill's request, because he and Gayle were concerned this morning about a more personal worry. The two had agreed to drive to police headquarters at 10. They started in the Merrifield car that Bill used. After a few blocks, though, a thought struck Bill.

"Say!" He pulled to a stop. "We ought to have brought Jeremy. He's in this now, Gayle. I mean, he knows as much as we do, and—well, lordy, he's a pretty good egg and all."

Gayle nodded. "Let's go back for him."

They found Jeremy upstairs in the library. They came onto him unexpectedly, and he evidenced some embarrassment at their finding him as he was. He was not reading one of the weightier volumes from the excellent Merrifield collection—he was enjoying a fiction story in a popular magazine.

"Why, Jeremy!" Gayle teased. "I'll bet there's not a word about archeology in this story. Shame!"

He began to stammer an apology or explanation, but they laughed it down, finally making him smile with them. In a little while the three were in the car and rolling again.

At police headquartrs the detective captain was courteous, but noncommittal.

"You young people are impatient," he said. "We're watching that matter all the time. Mrs. Holmquist is right there, and she's good. But it takes time. We have some pretty good ideas who stole the watch and the old jewelry too, but we must have proof. We're not amateurs at this business, son."

He eyed Bill significantly, and Bill grinned a trifle weakly. His "interference" in the theft matter, and the resultant difficulties for himself and others, was hardly a laughing matter with him.

"Still," the captain went on, "we do appreciate what you have tried to do, and done, to help us. We need your cooperation, as we direct. Have you anything new to tell us Any suspicions that might help? Anything?"

Jeremy Tucker took no part in the conversation. He had never been inside a police station before: he was definitely awed by the experience this morning. Nor, for that matter, did Gayle say much; it was as if both she and Jeremy were out of place, above and detached from the human miseries with which the police must deal.

"No, sir, nothing important," Bill said. He was trying to be very honest, though. "I—I suppose I ought to say that we have some reason to—well, to think maybe the Montesa girl—"

"Oh, Bill!" Gayle barely whispered the exclamation.

"Well, you see, captain, the responsibility is mostly mine, you understand. I mean that I was the one who hired those six girls for Mr. Merrifield, and he's a grand old man. He trusted me in that, after I had sort of barged in on him roughly, see? He put the girls in my charge, too. Now, this Miss Montesa—you see we like her immensely, and that's what hurts—but the fact is, she's given some reason to—to—well, she could be the thief. See what I mean?"

Bill struggled with it, and the captain smiled kindly at him.

"I know, son, Mrs. Holmquist is a mature woman. She told me about that. She likes you, by the way. All of you, incidentally, if you ever let leak a single hint that she is not a maid, but is really a detective, her usefulness there is done. Understand?"

The three nodded.

"Now, Mr. Bailey, you figured that this Montesa girl was one of those on her own here. Earning her own living and everything, and so might be tempted to steal. Well, the police know that, but we also know she is a devout Christian as well. She attends church regularly, and has done so for years. That's all in her favor. On the other hand, it may not mean a thing. It could mean simply that she uses her Christian front for a cover-up. There's lots of unexplained, unsolved thefts and some of them could be hers.

"It might be that she was suddenly desperate for money—maybe she wanted something very badly and needed money to get it, and so cracked when temptation was under her nose. You see? That's the way it happens, often. So we'll take note of your hunch and recheck there, carefully. You yourself just lay low. You're inexperienced, and if you get to playing dtective again you might warn the thief away."

They had to leave it at that.

The detective captain's summary made sense anyway, Bill and Gayle both admitted en route home again. But it didn't allay the gnawing suspicions of Lola, Jeremy particularly was distressed about it. He denied, repeatedly, that Lola could "have it in her heart" to be anything but the exceptionally lovely girl she appeared to be; a little shy, maybe, but all the more adorable therefore.

The matter prompted Jeremy to seek Lola out when he got back to The Oaks. He had promised to drop no hint of the suspicions against her, to do or say nothing that might disturb her again. He just wanted, somehow, to be with her.

Because the other girls were in the swimming pool, awaiting Bill's return and his call to a study of the play again, Lola had found a book and gone off into a shaded nook on the lawn to read. Adele Larraway directed Jeremy to her. Lola's big eyes looked up in pleasure when Jeremy came near, smiling.

"It is a lovely spot to read, Lola," said he.

"Yes. Iss beautiful here. Iss so beautiful all around thee place you live, Jeremee."

He stared. He wasn't at ease in the presence of any girl ordinarily, and dark, slightly foreign Lola, was even more disturbing to him. Quite unconsciously he was appraising the depth of her eyes, the silken blackness of her hair, and her perfect teeth, which by contrast seemed whiter than white.

He coughed a little, nervously.

"Yes. What are you reading? May I look at it?"

"Oh, sureleel"

"Poetry again."

She nodded, smiling sweetly. "Iss thee best way people say how they in their hearts. No es verdad?" She slipped into her Spanish idiom quite unconsciously, as she often did. Spanish she had brought with her from the border country, in New Mexico.

He looked at the page where she had been reading. A short poem ne read aloud:

"A saguro, finger to the skr,
Might strain
Top rip some passing cloud
For rain;

Or barrel cactus near the stand,
Content,
Be careless of the fount
Of nourishment.

Unhandicapped by holiness,
Or sin,
Life bubbles from the gound,
Within."

There was an appreciative pause, and then Lola spoke barely above a whisper, looking closely at Jeremy. "Iss by a man name Alfred Pratt. He was see my countree and love it. Thee Mexican border countree. Iss beautiful there, too, Jeremee. Iss different, but beautiful. Iss much beauty everywhere, if one sees."

Jeremy looked at her again. Remembering the discussion at police headquarters a while ago, he was moved to study her closely now, and did so.

He wasn't experienced at reading character, though, and for no particular reason he felt his blood pumping fast. The strange, tingly delight of being near to a beautiful girl suddenly embarassed him, so that he looked away.

"Yes, any place is beautiful, Lola, if one sees. I hadn't thought of that before, but it is so. It is so!" He paused for a long moment. She did not speak. "Lola—see here! Beauty loves beauty, doesn't it? I mean, beautiful things sort of—of run together, I believe. Poetry. Trees. Flowers and birds and sunshine here. You. I say, Lola—"

He did not finish. He just sort of drifted off. He was gazing at the book again, and so was she. For a long while they read there together, page by page, quiet, content.

Sometimes — for some people—companionship does not demand conversation. There is between them a communion more subtle and more powerful than words. It is especially possible between boy and girl, for it is the stuff from which love is made.

Secretions . . .

Importance of Thyroid Gland

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The thyroid gland in the neck is one of the four most important glands of internal secretion. It works along in conjunction with the other three—the pituitary, the adrenals and the pancreas.

An enlargement of the thyroid gland, goiter, usually means that there is an increased secretion, and when the gland atrophies we think of a decreased secretion which in an advanced form leads to a condition known as myxedema. However, there are many minor forms of thyroid deficiency notserious enough to be called myxedema.

WHEN IT'S LACKING

It is often thought that a lack of thyroid secretion produces obesity, overweight and a phlegmatic mental state, but in the minor forms quite the opposite is true. Obesity is very seldom the result of lack of thyroid secretion and most of these patients are quite definitely underweight.

Instead of being phlegmatic, a great many of these minor forms of thyroid deficiency were nervous: they had often first been diagnosed as neurasthenia or hysteria by other physicians and had quite frequently been given sedatives.

Dry skin and hair, mental and physical sluggishness, constipation, obscure aches and pains, headaches, acne (the pimply face of adolescence), lack of bone development, the falling out of the hair itching, sensitivity to cold, palpitation of the heart, are all subject to treatment by the proper adjustment of the decreased thyroid activity.

GET DOCTOR'S ADVICE

The logical treatment when there is a deficient thyroid secretion is to supply thyroid extract taken from animals and given by mouth. This is available, on the judgment of a physician and can be obtained in proper strength. On the use of this, many of these patients fatten up and, curiously enough, say that it makes them sleep better and alleviate their nervousness. Children held back at school on account of poor scholarship have skipped a grade on taking the needed thyroid extract.

The dry skin and oily face of the adolescent youth who has acne frequently clears up under the use of thyroid extract.

Children take thyroid extract very well, although it should always be taken under the care of a physician, and frequently administration should be stopped for several days in order to reduce the amount of stimulation which the drug invariably causes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. R.—"My husband and myself take two tablespoons of Russian mineral oil nearly every night for constipation. We are 41 and 43 years old. Please tell me will that do us harm if we continue?"

Answer—I believe that Russian mineral oil is the best thing to take for chronic constipation. It does no harm.

Reading Can Be Holiday Pleasure

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

During the Summer vacation, children of school age can find abundant time to read. I wish parents within the reach of a public library would encourage their children to borrow books from it and read them.

There are great opportunities for wholesome fun and education when older children read to children much younger. A few years ago a mother wrote me of an interesting project. A P.T.A. leader enlisted the interest of a number of high school girls of a neighborhood to volunteer to read to children under six. Each girl read for half an hour or so to a group of four or five young children in a home. The girls liked it. They were sure it improved their expression. They felt they were doing a useful service at entertaining these tots so wholesomely, keeping them from the dangers of the street and relieving their mothers, for the time, of their care.

BACKYARD CONFAB

Another mother wrote from "Since the children are having their vacation we have realized more than before that their activities require intelligent supervision. Several weeks ago we started reading with a group of children who play in the yard. We have three children, 4, 8 and 9 years, and among their friends are some who are twelve years old. We read a story and as we go along the older children define the hard words so the youngest children can understand . . .

"Our yard is very attractive to all the children since it has all the equipment in it which one finds on the playground. In this way we can allow the most desirable to play in the yard and from time to time we allow the less desirable to enter, one at a time and they gradually reform so this privilege will not be denied them. The results are almost miraculous and make us all very happy."

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. Are nicknames ever desirable?

A. Yes; when acceptable to the ones who have them. Indeed, a nickname is often a mark of being well-received among one's fellows. Only when the nickname annoys the person called by it, is it harmful; and it can be very injurious then.

Feelings . . .

One Must Give to Get Friends

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Dear Miss Chatfield:

I am eighteen and haven't a friend in the world though I have lived in the same town all my life. I quit school because I was ashamed of having no friends. I haven't learned to do the things most young girls do because my health wasn't good when I was very young, though I love the out of doors and think I could go for sports if I had the opportunity. I am having a flower garden this Summer which pleases my father, but I don't want to spend the Summer working with flowers.

I have everything a girl could wish, except girl and boy friends and I want lots of them. After staying alone so much I'm stagnant and a little bitter, for people think me snobbish. Where that used to hurt me, now I can look them straight in the eye and feel superior to them. In other words I have grown a hard outer crust that is impossible to break through. I have no one to turn to but you and I know you can help me.

E. N.

Answer:

My dear child, no matter how much beauty and brains, wealth and position you may have inherited, you are a pauper if you have no friends. Paupers can't afford to be hoity-toity nor to feel superior. If they attempt it, they starve to death, that's all. Without meaning to be cruel I mus tell you that you will have to change your attitude toward people and change your tactics with people or they will continue to pass you up and leave you lonely and unhappy.

Everybody can't be popular and have lots of friends. We must have special gifts to be liked by all of the people all of the time. We must begin early and work late to achieve popularity. But anybody can have a few friends, anybody who is willing to pay the price.

We must have something to offer those that spend time with us. Conversation, entertainment, thoughtful attentions or at least a sympathetic hearing. And our offerings must be sincere. The undercurrents of our feelings toward people are always recognized by them, however well we think we've covered up.

NEW SPUN GLASS UNDIES FOR U. S. NAVY DIVERS

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 14—(AP)—Fashions change—and today traditional woolen "longies" gave way to electrically-heated, spun glass underwear for United States navy divers.

The new style garment, worn beneath regulation diving costumes, was given its first showing anywhere by divers of the submarine sailing vessel Falcon in the comparative privacy of the Atlantic Ocean, off Portsmouth.

The newly developed underwear with its thousands of tiny heating wires, does away with the danger of short circuit that attended older type garments.

HER PHOTO WON THE BEAUTY CONTEST

— but SHE Couldn't Win a Friend

SCIENTIFIC FACTS ABOUT B.O.

IN her photos, Kitty had everything—a gorgeous face ...a perfect figure. Women envied her. Men sought to meet her. But, in real life, Kitty didn't have a single close friend. For some strange reason she believed herself immune to the most common enemy of popularity—she had become a "Hot-Weather Offender."

All of us must perspire to live, just as we must breathe. Warm, sweltering weather increases perspiration—and what is worse, it speeds up decomposition. Left on the body, under the arms, around the waist, sweat deposits go stale—decompose. Then YOU have "B.O."

"B.O." can ruin romance, business and social chances. Check it before it starts with Lifebuoy. Lifebuoy contains an exclusive deodorizing ingredient not found in any other leading toilet soap. Used regularly in your daily bath, Lifebuoy protects you from offending others—stops "B.O."—and its generous purifying lather washes stale sweat deposits away. It is also kind to the skin—20% milder than many so-called "beauty" and "baby" soaps, by actual test.

The adult skin has 2 to 3 million sweat glands which act as a cooling system, giving off from 1 to 3 pints of perspiration daily—even when we are sitting still. If perspiration stopped, we would die from hyper-pyrexia (heat stroke).

Because much of the water in perspiration evaporates, we do not see or feel it. Summer heat, nervous excitement, heavy clothes or warm rooms quickly decompose this sweat deposit—turn it stale—cause offensive "B.O." (Body Odor).

LIFEBUOY IN YOUR DAILY BATH Stops "B.O."

Predicts 'United States of Europe'

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., July 14 (AP)—Emil Ludwig, here to live and write history, predicts that out of the European chaos will emerge one great nation, the United States of Europe.

"The trend in Europe is unmistakable," said the refugee from Nazi Germany in an interview.

"There will be states united under one flag—a flag of their own making. Switzerland for years and years has had three races, three languages and three customs in one solidified nation. Why not the rest of Europe."

"Wilhelmina, Haakon and Christian are symbols of a dying age. And if King George of England forsakes his capital and moves to Canada, it means the breaking up of the empire."

Nikawa Beach Is Open to Public If They Register

Nikawa Beach is now the name given to the point formerly known as First Powder Point. For the past eight years it has been the private property of Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson and here the family have spent Summer holidays.

Much work has been done — the two stone powder buildings have been converted into Summer residence and another cabin has been built—an acre of land has been cleared, and general improvements are in evidence—There is a good landing place at the old wharf for launches.

During the past eight years the owner has given the free use of the whole property to the public, but his experience has been such that he has been compelled to exercise private control and supervision—everything movable has from time to time been stolen and all the window panes broken, and last Fall 300 feet of half-inch water pipe was taken, and all the vegetables in the garden.

Carelessness in making bonfires on this beautiful fine sandy beach of nearly 800 yards makes it imperative to put the whole point under proper supervision.

It is the desire of the owner that people may have the fullest use of this property, and all are welcome to take their families and parties, but it will be required that they register at the stone lodge and make arrangements with the person in charge.

Junior Boys Practice for the Gala; Omahas and Kootenais Win Softball

Friday, Happy Day No. 4, has drawn to a close, and again the Juniors have had a swell time. Freddy Robins wasn't going to take any chances on having anybody sleep in, so he sent all the braves running through Cabin No. 0. That's the cabin where the sleepyhead leaders stay. So for once, everybody had to take "physical jerks". After jerks the boys washed up and went to flag raising, and thence to breakfast.

The chapel service was taken by Rev. Bill Selder. His subject was "The Power of Pure Thinking". The project groups and the bible groups were held as usual. During the swim period, all the boys were seeing how well they could swim as the acquatic meet is going to be held quite soon.

After dinner, tent inspection was held, and for the third consecutive time the Ojibways won it, much of the credit for their win goes to Little Chief George Hoover. He is constantly on the job, and is always in there helping his cabin to win.

During rest period it began to rain, but as most of the boys had received funny books and were supplied with chocolate bars, which they had bought at the canteen, they were well occupied. About 4 o'clock the rain stopped and everyone went in for a swim.

ONE-SIDED SOFTBALL

When all had finished a hearty supper, the cabins played softball. The games proved very interesting. The Abanackees played the Omahas, and the Ojibways played the Kootenais.

In the first game, the mighty Omahas literally swamped the Abanackees. In a free hitting game, they knocked out 40 runs, compared to the Abanackees' 8. The second game was just about as bad. The unbeaten Kootenais beat the Ojibways 20-3. In this tussle Little Chief Don Lane of the Kootenais knocked out two homers, the bases being loaded on both occasions.

No sooner had the softball games been finished than it was time for Campfire. Great Chief Fred Robins led the singsong, and he introduced quite a few new songs. Everybody got a great kick out of Jack Melville's scribe report. To top off the entertainment, Allan Templer' Abanackees put on the play about Johnny Smith and Pocahontas. We then had our friendship circle.

The braves really welcomed their beds and no sooner did they snuggle into them than they were fast asleep.

PROJECTS UNDER WAY

HAPPY DAY NO. 5:

Another eventful day has passed in the junior boys camp. The sleepy heads in Cabin 0 again slept in and missed physical jerks. However, everyone was in time for breakfast. The project groups are really in full swing and all the boys are keen on what they are doing. The belt makers and the mat weavers are going ahead quickly, and the boys doing archery are finishing off the work the senior boys started.

After dinner tent inspection and canteen were held, filowed by rest period. Then came one of the biggest events in the whole camp. The Little Chief vs. Big Chief Softball Game. There had been rumors of the Little Chiefs beating the pants off the Big Chiefs, so, to remove any ideas of this kind, the mighty Big Chiefs got together and, headed by Star Centre Fielder Fred Robins, they went out and beat the Little Chiefs so badly that the game was called at the fifth inning. The score was 40-17. To make things worse, the big boys batted the opposite way to which they are accustomed.

After the big game everyone went in swimming and then dug into a big supper. In the opener of the daily softball games, the Omahas beat Ojibways 36-17, Hugh Urquhart and Junior Melville each hitting three homers. The second game saw the Kootenais beat the Abanackies 14-7.

SONGS AND "DRAMA"

The next thing on the program was the campfire. We had a dandy singsong, and the scribe's reports were very good. When Junior Melville gave his, he had everybody roaring with laughter. Cabin 1, the Kootenais, put on a humorous play called "The Supreme Sacrifice."

Then the Big Chiefs again took the spotlight with the presentation of a heart stirring drama called "Fatal Quest". It was about a handsome prince (Gordon Allan) who wanted to marry a beautiful princess (Martin McLennan). He came to ask the harsh king (Russel Jones) and the devoted queen (Garth Barnes) for the hand of the princess. He was ordered out by the king, but as he was on his way out, the princess said she had lost her pet cat. The prince rescued the cat and again asked the king for the hand of his daughter. When the king refused, the prince killed him. The queen couldn't stand the shock and she died. When the prince realize what he had done, he drank a cup of poison. The princess then entered and when she saw everybody had died she died herself. It was on this note that the play ended. This super-collossal production was directed by Fred Robins. We then held our Friendship Circle, and it was a tired bunch of boys who went to their beds.

Canada Steps Up Armament Works

OTTAWA, July 14 (CP)—Industrial developments now taking shape under the direction of the Department of Munitions and Supply are designed to make Canada independent of all outside sources for weapons and munitions of war.

As rapidly as possible Canadian factories are being whipped into shape to produce every fighting weapon from the service rifle to the giant coastal defence and naval guns which hurl shells weighing hundreds of pounds.

A high authority indicated the industrial mobilization powers vested in the Government and the Department of Munitions and Supply in particular are being used to bring a full-fledged armament industry into being.

Soon after the war started, apart from one plant working on production of Bren light machine guns, and another preparing to make field guns, there were no facilities for manufacture of arms.

Now, arrangements are being made to produce every weapon required by the fighting services, as well as projectiles used. These arrangements include doubling of the capity of the Bren Gun plant and establishment of other small arms plants for the manufacture of service rifles, an enlarged program at at gun factory which has been working for some time on 25-pounder guns for the British Government, and establishment of other plants in different parts of the country.

Duff Cooper's Son Will Stay in U. S.

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—The United States liner Washington arrived from Galway, Eire, yesterday on her final war refugee removal trip, with 1610 passengers, 273 of them aliens.

The voyage was uneventful in contrast to her last trip, when she was stopped by a German submarine.

Three hundred and eighty of the passengers were children under 10, and the ship, as on her last two voyages, resembled a floating nursery.

One of the children was the nine-year-old son of Alfred Duff Cooper, British Information Minister, going to stay with unnamed friends at Easthampton, Long Island, N. Y.

Another was the 10-months-old son of Ernest Simpson, former husband of the Duchess of Windsor, and his second wife, the former Mrs. Mary Raffray of Baltimore. The Simpsons are still in England.

Among the passengers were John Kerr Davis, United States envoy, and his wife who were in Warsaw during the siege by the German armies and who more recently have been at Dublin. Mr. Davis once was United States Consul at Vancouver.

Maritime Union Offers to Man Ship to Evacuate Children

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—The National Maritime Union, a Congress of Industrial Organizations affiliate, offered yesterday to furnish a crew without pay to man a "mercy ship" to evacuate children from Europe.

In a telegram to Marshall Field, Chairman of the United States Committee for the care of European children, Joseph Curran, President of the Union, made the offer on condition that there be "no discrimination" between children of wealthy and poor families and that a steamship company provide the children free passage.

'Recruit Response Is Magnificent'

OTTAWA, July 13 (CP). — The response to the appeal for recruiting made by Defence Minister Ralston last Wednesday night "has been magnificent," the Defence Department said Saturday in a statement.

Applications should be made to the nearest militia unit, the statement said. All infantry units of the non-permanent active militia have been authorized to recruit up to war strength and other units, such as artillery, army service and army medical corps, to recruit as needed.

Many commercial and industrial institutions have already arranged with their employees to grant leave for camp and are organizing their staffs to carry on while the militiamen are taking training. One Toronto firm has notified all its employees that they will be given full pay for the time in camp and their usual holidays in addition.

Full time staffs are being authorized for all military units, so the recruiting offices will be open all day and also in the evenings.

JULY 12.

DEAR SIR:

Questions continue to reach me concerning the new Passport Regulations which have been put into effect by the United States Government and which affect our Canadian friends who wish to travel to the United States.

A resident of Cranbrook, writes:

"I am a British subject, residing in Canada. Can I get a visa at Trail or must I apply to Washington, D. C.?"

You must first obtain a Canadian passport. You can get that by filling in a simple form, getting it properly vouched for, and sending it to the Passport Officer at Ottawa or Vancouver. A one-year passport costs $1 and a five-year passport $5. After having secured the passport you can then obtain a visa at Trail, by personally appearing before the United States Vice-Consul there.

Another friend, residing at Kimberley, states that he has a passport and asks:

"Will my visa by the United States Vice-Consul at Trail or Calgary be good for five years, the same as the passport?"

No, while a $5 passport is good for five years and may be renewed for another five years on payment of $2 to the Passport Officer at Ottawa, the United States Consular Visa is good for one year only. It has to be renewed after one year, but the formality is simple.

Trusting that this information will be of value to our Canadian friends,

I remain, yours sincerely,

Daniel O'Cowen

A VICTORY FOR BRITISH SURGERY

Striking medical victories scored by British surgeons amid the muck and terror of the recent Allied withdrawal from Flanders were noted in London last week by the authoritative Lancet, reports Time Magazine.

In their desperate need to deal at top speed with tens of thousands of wounded who had to be rushed on to steamers in the Channel with the Nazis only a few jumps behind, hard-pressed, sweating surgeons had to have some new and faster technique of treating wounds. Fortunately, most of them had read last Winter the revolutionary work on wound surgery written after the small-scale war in Spain by brilliant Dr. Josep Hrueta of Barcelona, now in England. In treating 1073 projectile fractures, Surgeon Trueta obtained wholly satisfactory results in 976 cases and there were only six deaths. His method: instead of lengthy and painstaking work in old-fashioned suturing and splinting (sewing up wounds and applying strips of wood in the bandage like stays in a corset), the wound is thoroughly trimmed of all germ-breeding dead tissues, soothed with vaseline gauze and sealed raw in a swiftly and easily wound-on cast of bandages soaked in plaster of Paris.

When Spanish wounded so treated began to hobble and be carried over into France as refugees, what was most noticeable was the terrific stench, notes Time. This at first suggested to French surgeons that the plaster casts must be quickly ripped off and stinking human members amputated. The French soon learned, however, to let plastered Spanish wounded alone, observed that, while the odor for a time became almost unbearable, the end result was nearly always satisfactory. Last week the British Lancet said nothing about a heroic stench, said flatly that results of the Barcelona method have been so good in Flanders that from now on suturing applied on the battlefield must be considered "almost criminal."

Quoting Dr. William Heneage Ogilvie of London, especially enthusiastic about plaster, the Lancet summed up: "Once a wounded man has undergone efficient surgical treatment and has been put in plaster, he is safe—he may be blown out of an ambulance, derailed in a train, crashed in an aeroplane or torpedoed at sea, he may be left for weeks in a cellar . . . but so long as the plaster holds he will come to no harm."

VANDALISM SIGN OF THE BOOR

Vandalism against public property and against semi-public institutions is one of the annoying manifestations of boorishness that is met with from time to time, as often in adults as in juveniles.

Public parks are of course common sufferers, in the shape of broken bottles, raided flower beds, mutilated seats or tables, and the like.

In a recent instance, a freshly painted structure was invaded while the paint was still wet, and a table tramped on, for the purpose of disfiguring the upper part of the structure with private lettering. A few days yater, in the same park, a heap of dust was scraped up and deposited on a freshly painted table not yet completed.

A few days ago the Rowing Club suffered from its generosity in not shutting off the Nelson Boat Club building from general access. Someone, individual or individuals, in this case probably boys, harboring a grudge broke in and manifested displeasure in various ways. Here is an institution kept going by the oarsmen, with much effort, expenditure of time, and devotion in training beginners, largely to keep Nelson on the rowing map, when the community has as fine a natural course as exists anywhere, and its reward is vandalism. When a shell costs $1000, and could be converted into junk by a moment's carelessness, it should be accepted that some rules must be enforced.

Nelson has reason to be proud of its parks, of its water, and of its recreational facilities generally.

Every good citizen should feel justified in voicing disapproval of all vandalism observed, even of the comparatively mild kind of failing to clean up picnic rubbish and consign it to the receptacles everywhere provided.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

SUIT TO SET UP.

WHEN PLAYING a No Trump game contract, it is nearly always necessary for the declarer to establish and take tricks with the small cards of some suit. The honors alone will seldom produce a large enough number of tricks. One of the declarer's first duties, therefore, is to decide which suit to select, as the one in which he will seek the small card tricks. If there is only one promising suit, he has no such problem, but frequently he must choose between two suits, or from among three.

Several factors count in the choice of suit. An obvious one is the high card strength in the suit, or in other words, the question of how near it is to being surely established. Another is the matter of entries and re-entries into the hand containing a suit. Presuming these factors to be equal, there still are other ones which bear with considerable importance on the choice between suits. Several are illustrated by these:

Declarer	Dummy
1. AKQ4	7632
2. AKQ4	763
3. AKQ9	763
4. AKQ42	763
5. AKQ42	76
6. AKQ92	7

If you were the declarer and had the choice between some two of those suits, as the one to establish, No. 1 should be preferred to No. 2 because the opponents hold one less card of it, and therefore are likely to run out of cards in it earlier. No. 3 is very slightly preferable to No. 2 because, though the four cards of it are bunched with one opponent, the other may possibly happen to hold the J and 10 alone, so that the 9 sets up.

No. 4 is preferable to No. 1, though the side has eight cards in each, because it can net one more trick by setting up. No. 5 is for the same reason preferable to No. 2, but No. 4 is to be preferred over it. Though the side has a minority of cards in suit No. 6, it should be preferred to No. 2, which has more, if five tricks are needed in the suit, as an opponent with only two or three cards may hold both the J and 10. In a case where five tricks are needed, No. 5 would also be preferred to No. 1, though the side has one less card in it.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠A 3 ♥A 5 ♦A 9 7 5 4 2 ♣A Q 6

How should South play this hand for 7-No Trumps after West doubles and then leads the heart J?

On The Air

MONDAY, JULY 15, 1940

Today, CKLN is celebrating its first anniversary, and many special programmes have been prepared for listeners in honor of the occasion. Many local entertainers who have been heard on the air from the local station in the past year will be heard again today. It was hoped at first to have some of Nelson's leading citizens in the studio for a short programme too, but when this was not to be found feasible, a "revue" of the past year was arranged, which will be presented at 7:30 p.m.

The festivities will commence this morning at 7 o'clock, with a special request Toast and Coffee programme. Extra staff will be on hand at that hour to look after phone calls, since telephoned requests will be taken on this occasion. Dick Halhed will be in charge. Next of the specialties will be the appearance of "Betty Brown", whose Wednesday morning programmes were so well received by the ladies in CKLN's audience. Betty Brown has prepared a special "CKLN Anniversary Cake" recipe, so be sure to listen at 10:30, ladies, and help the station to celebrate by copying the recipe, and baking the cake. The Hospital Programme at 11 a.m. will be another special affair, with requests for patients and nurses broadcast for half an hour. Tommy Derbyshire handles the programme, as usual.

At 5:30, another special feature "The Building of CKLN" will be heard. This is a short description of some of the outstanding features of the building with suitable music in the intervals.

Some of the more popular of the Nelson High School Student artists will be on the air from 6 to 6:15, and a quarter hour has also been arranged by the pupils of St. Joseph's Academy, which will be aired at 8:15. At 6:30, the Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce spokesman will interview Constable Lees, Fire Chief McDonald, and Game Warden Ewart, all of whom have been heard on several recent occasions.

Dave Dyck will put in a special appearance at 6:45, to sing and yodel a whole raft of special requests. Miss M. N. Hincks has prepared an unusual script for her "spot" at 7:15, for which friends of the Municipal Library will wait with interest. At 7:30 comes that special revue, "CKLN's First Year"; eight of Nelson's prominent young men have been lined up in two teams of "Fairviewites" versus "Townites" in one of those popular, amusing quizzes the station calls "Questions in the Air." The Scandinavian Singers will present a final "Scandinavian Melodies" programme tonight, which will probably be the last appearance of Mr. Earl Lindgren on the air before his departure for Seattle.

The day ends up at CKLN well after midnight tonight, because the final programme will be on from midnight to 2:00 a.m.—a midnight frolic during which most of the station's staff will be on hand to help with the fun.

One of the big disappointments of the day to the local station was the unavoidable cancellation of a programme by the Nelson Happy Crew. It was thought, when they made their last appearance a few weeks ago, that an "extra" programme could be given tonight, but due to holidays and the absence of some of the "crew" members from the city, it could not be arranged. Another disappointment was the cancellation of a programme by Margaret Graham and her orchestra. This too, was unavoidable. But all in all, it looks like a big day at CKLN, and those whose sets are on the local station from before breakfast until after midnight, will be rewarded with excellent entertainment, featuring some of Nelson's most popular artists, the cream of the CBC's programmes, and of course the latest news.

It has been announced that visitors cannot be admitted to the studios after five o'clock this evening, because of the large number of guests who will be taking part in the special broadcasts. Those of Nelson's residents and visitors who would like to call throughout the day, however, will be welcomed.

WE'LL NEVER LET THE OLD FLAG FALL

First verse:
Britain's flag has always stood for Justice,
Britain's hope has always been for Peace,
Britain's foes have known they could trust us
To do our best to make the cannons cease.
Britain's blood will never stand for insult,
Britain's sons will rally at her call,
Britain's pride will never let her exult,
But we'll never let the old flag fall.

Second verse:
Britain's sons have always called her Mother,
Britain's sons have always lov'd her best,
Britain's sons would die to show they love her,
The dear old Flag, laid on each manly breast.
Britain's ships have always rul'd the ocean,
Britain's sons will serve her one and all,
Britain's sons will show their true devotion,
And we'll never let the old flag fall

Chorus:
We'll never let the old flag fall,
For we love it the best of all,
We don't want to fight to show our might,
But when we start, we'll fight, fight, fight,
In peace or war you'll hear us sing,
God save the flag, God save the King,
At the ends of the world, the flag's unfurl'd,
We'll never let the old flag fall.

R. R. Burns Writes Trail Board No Confirmation of the Dominion Grant

To The Editor of the Daily News:

Sir—I am enclosing herewith copy of a letter forwarded to the Trail Board of Trade.

So that there should be no inaccuracies I have had the facts checked by the Department of Public Works, Victoria.

R. R. BURNS,
Trail, B.C., July 12, 1940.

Mr. R. M. Hoyland,
Secty. Trail Board of Trade,
Trail, B.C.

Dear Sir:—I have a copy of your letter to Mr. Leary, Minister Public Works, re Patterson Road in which you state that Mr. Esling has written informing you that $500,000 had been set aside for Tourist Highways in B.C.

That information may be correct but I am not sure however. What Mr. Esling did not inform you of was the fact, that this money can only be expended on projects approved by the Dominion. So far, only the New King George Highway from New Westminster to Boundary and the Kootenay National Parks' roads have been approved.

We have, from this district submitted for inclusion the Rossland-vale-Salmo roads as well as the Patterson, the Fruitvale and Fruit-Cascade Highway, also for the improvement of the Kaslo-Nelson road.

So far as I can find from a diligent reading of Hansard, no Federal Member in Southern B.C. has raised his voice insisting on road expenditures in Southern B.C., and it is just as much their duty as it is the duty of the Provincial Member.

Had we had aggresive representation from these districts for some years past, the All Canada Route would be where it should be (i. e.) via Fernie, Nelson, Trail, Penticton and Hope-Princeton.

I have called the attention of our Provincial Minister to this $500,000 vote mentioned by Mr. Esling. I would suggest you instruct our Federal representative to use his prestige and influence on the Departments at Ottawa, and that he get approval for projects submitted by the Provincial Dept. in his constituency.

Yours truly,
R. R. BURNS,
Trail, B.C. July 4, 1940.

P.S.—Since writing the above I am informed that the Dept. Public Works of British Columbia know nothing of this $500,000 vote or agreement.

Hopes Youths Will Discount Fanfare

To the Editor of the Daily News.

Sir: One reads with much interest and deep sympathy the published reports of Boys' Parliaments and Summer camps. The writer has no desire to criticise these activities adversely when he points out that there are certin dangers to youth itself lurking beneath the publicity and fanfare of these well-meant activities.

Every well-bred youth should know that publicity is something to be avoided. The glare of publicity scorches and injures the finer sensibilities like the noonday sun scorches the tender flesh. Few mature men and women—even when endowed with a tender conscience and weighted with a deep sense of responsibility—have wholly escaped the malign effects of being too often in the limelight. Keen observers of student life can point to many a promising student whose career was blasted by too much prominence gained in social activities, in school debates, in sport, or in editing school journals and various other activities by which a temporary prominence may be gained.

The boy who has in him the germs of real manhood is diffident of present praise. I once knew a boy whose father praised him for leading his class in the entrance examination. "Thank you, father," he said, "but I hope you will still be able to praise me when I am at high school and university." "Yes, my son," the father replied, "I hope to be proud of you when you have entered upon your life work as a citizen of this country."

Now the task before the youth of our land is to acquire the ideals, develop the habits and acquire the skill that will make them useful citizens. Failing to do this, it does not matter what schemes they may formulate for unemployment relief in their mock Parliaments. It savours too much of the railroad President's 10-year-old son who undertook to tell his father how to manage the railroad.

In fact, to be brutally frank, if a boy is saucy and disobedient to parents—if he lacks good manners—if he is slovenly and careless in his work—if he spells badly and writes atrociously—if he gets up late and spends his evenings on the street—if he smokes cigarettes and refuses to study—if such a caricature of a boy really exists—then I say no one in the world will ever care what he may think about the Brotherhood of man.

We have many good youths at our Summer camps—in fact I believe such to be in the vast majority. But let us remember that real excellence in any calling comes only after years of patient effort. Let us teach our youth to scorn cheap success and vulgar publicity. Above all let us see to it that they acquire good habits and good manners, and that they are actuated by the highest ideals. If we fail in doing our duty along these lines all our efforts to amuse and entertain them will be worse than wasted.

ANXIOUS.

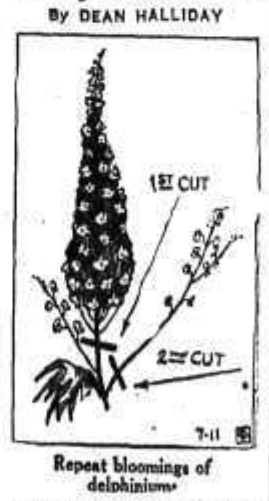
Seal Over Open Delpinium Stalk

By DEAN HALLIDAY



Repeat bloomings of delphiniums

Many gardeners disagree about the advisability of cutting back the first delphinium bloom to secure a second and even a third flowering. Some argue that this reduces the plant's vigor. Others take the stand that the strength of the plant is not impaired, and exhibit strong, healthy plants which are proudly displaying second blooms.

As shown in today's Garden-Graph, when the flowers on the main spike of a delphinium begin to fade, the stalk should be cut out. This will throw all the plant's energy into the secondary buds. As these lateral sprays also begin to fade they also should be cut off. This again will throw the plant's energy into the next set of lateral buds.

When the complete blossom fades the stalk should be cut back one foot from the ground. The open end of the remaining stalk should be sealed with a piece of chewing gum or melted paraffin. This will prevent insects or rain from entering the opening in the stalk and causing disease or rot. After cutting back the main stalk let the plant rest for ten days, then water it well and give it a feeding of a complete fertilizer in order to encourage further blooming.

Sapronoff Drives All Runs in for League Pace-Setters

TRAIL, B.C., July 14—A towering infield fly by Cameron in the fifth inning that dropped safely catcher crashed into each other in when the Nelson pitcher and trying to field it, turned a fast West Kootenay Baseball League game at Butler Park the way of the league-leading Indians by a 4-3 score Sunday.

One man was on first and one was out with the score 3-1 for Nelson when the Indian second sacker lofted a high fly down the first base foul line. "Lefty" Mydansky and Gordon Richardson both went after it, bumped into each other, and Cameron was safe at first. Burrows, who had singled, went down to second. That brought Sammy Sapronoff, ex-Cardinal infielder, to the plate and the redhead drove out a home run into left field. The blow was good for a single but as Chodorcoff, the Nelson fielder, raced in to try a shoe-string catch the ball went through him for four bases.

TULLOCK JINXES NELSON

The aging "Red" Tullock again had the Nelson batsmen at his mercy, beating them for the ninth time in 10 games in the span of his three years in the Kootenay since coming from Northern Alberta. It was the third straight time Nelson was beaten by the Indians this season.

Tullock was in serious difficulties only once in the game—in the fourth when the visitors scored all of their runs. It was an outfield error that started that parade. The big guns of the Nelson attack, Coach Ray Humble and Jesse Seaby, were silent before Tullock's seven-hit twirling. His performance was closely matched by the ill-fated "Lefty" Mydansky, who hurled seven innings for Nelson. He allowed only six hits, and Humble, his successor, pitched a hitless eighth inning, registering three strikeouts.

Woodward's Fenelon Wins New York Race

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—William Woodward's Fenelon turned on the heat down Empire City's stretch Saturday to win the $10,000-added Empire City handicap by half a length. The son of Sir Gallahad III beat out one of his entry mates, Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Asp, in the 32nd running of the mile-and-one-eighth gallop for three-year-olds, clicking off the nine furlongs in 1:53.

Fenelon, packing 125 pounds, was piloted by Jimmy Stout.

Arnold Hanger's Dit packing top weight of 126, was third.

Blister Stops Feller

PHILADELPHIA, July 14 (AP).—A blister kept Cleveland's Bobby Feller from chalking up his second no-hit, no-run game of the season, says Rollie Hemsley. Feller's battery mate, when the 21-year-old Iowa farm boy turned in a 1-0, one-hit performance against the Athletics Friday night.

For seven innings the pride of Van Meter, Iowa, mowed down the A's without a hit, only one man reaching first by getting a walk. Then Dick Siebert, first man up for the A's in the eighth, singled over second base.

"Siebert's a first-ball hitter," Hemsley declared. "If it wasn't for that blister we'd have curved him on the first pitch. But the blister gave Bob trouble when he tried to throw a hook so we gave Siebert a fast one and he hit it."

The blister developed on the fourth finger of Feller's right hand and resulted, Hemsley explained, from the force with which the hurler gripped the ball. He fanned 13 batters.

"Don's" signs were the first things to go at the Louisville baseball park after the change in management. Such warnings go against the grain of the customers, it was explained.

Mack Figures Has a Pitching Find

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Connie Mack, who ought to know, thinks he has the rookie pitcher of the year in Southpaw Porter Vaughan.

The 21-year-old freshman of Stevensville, Va., who jumped direct to the Athletics from the University of Richmond campus, hasn't won in three starts, but Connie, looking ahead to 1941, is pleased nevertheless.

Two of his starts were against the world champion Yankees, and the other against Cleveland and Bobby Feller. He worked 23 innings in this stretch giving up only 17 hits.

Vaughan made his major league debut in Cleveland June 16.

He lost to the Yanks, 4-3, on nine hits, at Yankee Stadium, June 30. Last Sunday the Yanks beat him again 6-3, although Vaughan yielded only six hits in seven innings.

Armstrong Says Retirement Near

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., July 14 (AP).—Even Henry Armstrong's most rabid rooters are admitting today he is no longer the dark destroyer of a year or two ago—but, oddly enough, no one is doing much worrying about it.

The reason, says large Eddie Mead, Armstrong's pilot, is that Hennery the Hammer, now going through some unimpressive training paces in preparation for his 12-round fight with Lew Jenkins in the Polo Grounds Wednesday night, is planning on only six more fights before retiring at the end of this year. He is more determined than ever that nothing will happen to spoil his record before that time.

Mead says "we're sure Henry will put Jenkins away in six or seven rounds."

GROSSINGER LAKE, N. Y., July 14 (AP)—Lightweight Champion Lew Jenkins did his last sparring today in preparation for his fight with Henry Armstrong Wednesday night. He put in four rounds during a busy day and came out weighing 135½ pounds.

Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC, July 14 (CP)—Double laurels in the Canadian Tennis Championships were held tonight by each of three players— the Vancouver duo of Eleanor Young and Jean Milne, and Montreal's Phil Pearson, formerly of Vancouver—while Don McDiarmid of Ottawa wore the mantle of the men's singles champions.

The lithe McDiarmid, third-ranking player in the Dominion, captured his singles title in the finals of the week-long tourney yesterday over the hard-hitting Lewis Duff of Montreal. He mounted the champion's throne alongside Miss Young, who won the women's singles final against Miss Milne.

First in women's ranking, Miss Young paired with Miss Milne to win her second title in the women's doubles over Mrs. Rene Bolte and Franoise Lacasse of Montreal. Teamed with Roger Durivage of Montreal, she was beaten by Miss Milne and Pearson in the final of the mixed doubles.

Pearson's second share of a title came in the men's doubles when he paired with Ross Wilson of Toronto to defeat Duff and McDiarmid for the title. Duff and McDiarmid bowed in straight sets, 11-9, 8-3, 6-3.

Hearn Fans 17 as Salmo Beats Nelson Juniors

SALMO, B. C., July 14—Scoring seven of their eight runs in their last three times to bat, the Salmo Juniors made it three in a row over Nelson this season by running up an 8-3 victory here today. And while his mates were looking after the offensive end of things, Eddie Hearn pitched a well-fashioned three-hit game, registering no fewer than 17 strikeouts.

Nelson presented a patchwork lineup, a number of players being out fire-fighting, but they made a close game of it until the late innings. Until Salmo scored two runs in the last of the sixth, the visitors were leading 2-1. John, first up in the first inning, slammed out a home run for Salmo, and Larsen had a double to his credit.

Mickey Prestley, Nelson chucker, struck out 11, and walked three, and allowed seven hits. Hearn issued four free passes, and hit one batsman, Waterer. Prestley to Waterer at first reeled off the only double play of the game.

Soldier Dies in Plane Crash

BRANDON, July 14 (CP)—Two men were killed here Saturday when the airplane in which they were flying suddenly dived into a ploughed field about four miles West of Brandon.

The dead were Pte. F. J. Hunter, 23, enlisted with the R.C.O.C. unit in training at nearby Camp Shilo, and Simon Rosenman, 27-year-old instructor at the Brandon Flying Club. Rosenman, an experienced flyer, had been instructor for two years at the flying club while Hunter held a private pilot's licence.

Because ideal flying weather prevailed when the plane, an Aeronca machine, crashed at 6:45 a.m., airmen here were at a loss to understand the reason for the accident. Hunter had been taking instructions from Rosenman with the hope of being transferred to the Royal Canadian Air Force.

No one saw the plane plunge to the ground and the first knowledge of the crash came when two young men from a neighboring farm found the machine, its nose buried more than a foot in the dirt and its tail high in the air.

It was believed the flyers had tried to guide the ship over a knoll in the rolling countryside when they lost control and the plane nose-dived to earth.

Rosenman was thrown clear while Hunter was still in his seat, held fast by his safety belt.

The force of the impact had driven the engine four-feet into the plane's cabin. The men had died instantly.

Hunter, who enlisted with No. 10 Detachment, R.C.O.C., last April, was born in Prescott, Ont., before being transferred to Shilo Camp, he lived in Winnipeg where his widow resides.

Instructor at the Flying Club here for two years, Rosenman was the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Rosenman, Brandon. He is survived by his widow and a child.

Gov't. to Detach French Franc

GRENOBLE, France, July 14 — (AP)—The Petain Government has decided to detach the French franc from the pound sterling and peg it to the United States dollar, the newspaper Le Petit Dauphinois said yesterday in a dispatch from Vichy.

The dispatch said the Government had not yet announced the rate to the dollar, but the franc, which formerly was 176¾ to the pound, now may be set 43.30 to the dollar.

"The strength of the Government and the confidence of Frenchmen in it will give the franc its true value, which will be mainly determined by the nation's working capacity," the dispatch said.

The franc thus will become a strictly controlled currency with the rate on the official market based on United States cents, the newspaper added, "and will represent the real economic wealth of our country."

Movale Garrison Holds Against Italian Attack

CAIRO, Egypt, July 14 (AP)—Although heavily outnumbered, a small British garrison still is holding all its positions against the Italians assaulting Moyale, fortified post in the British Kenya-Ethiopia frontier district, British army headquarters said yesterday.

The defenders have inflicted heavy losses on the Italians.

In the Western desert, the statement said, two Italian columns approaching Fort Capuzzo were "effectively engaged again yesterday."

'FAMINE IN FRANCE UNDER NAZI RULE'

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 14 (CP Cable)—The Exchange Telegraph reported it had learned reliably that 17,000 political arrests had been made in Nazi-occupied sections of France.

"It now seems quite possible" the British News Agency said, "that moving of the Petain Government to Paris will be followed by the Germans occupying the rest of France to restore order by methods of the machine gun."

Stating there is a growing realization by the French people that they had been betrayed by the Bordeaux Government, the Agency said the Petain-Laval decision to move from Vichy to the Chateau Versailles, "where the swastika still flies and to Paris, shows they are aware of the growing storm."

The Exchange Telegraph dispatch which did not disclose the source of its information continued:

"The Germans are removing everything of value on which they can lay their hands. They are not content with looting banks and paying for the upkeep for their armies with worthless paper money. Livestock is either taken from France or killed for immediate consumption and in this way agriculture, the basis of French economic life, is being ruined. Next Winter will see famine in France, the like of which has not occurred since the sixteenth century."

Vast Powers Granted Petain

VICHY, France, July 12 — (Delayed) — (AP) — The vast powers granted Marshal Petain as France's Chief of State were thus described in a decree in the Official Journal, signed by this Marshal himself:

"The Chief of the French State has full Governmental powers. He names and revokes appointments of Ministers and Secretaries of State, who are responsible only to him.

"He exercises legislative power in the Council of Ministers until the formation of the new Assemblies—also after that formation in the case of exterior tension or grave internal crisis—by his own sole decision. In the same circumstances he can take all decisions of a budgetary or fiscal nature.

"He promulgates laws and assures their execution.

"He names all civil and military employees where the law has not provided other manner of their designation.

"He commands the armed forces, he has power to accord dispensation and amnesty.

"Foreign ambassadors and envoys are accredited to him.

"He negotiates and ratifies treaties.

"He can declare martial law in one or various sections of the territory.

"He cannot declare war save with the prior assent of the Legislative Assemblies."

ALL FRENCH PORTS NAVY CONTROLLED

GRENOBLE, July 14 (AP) — All French ports, harbors and rivermouths from the Seine to the Bidassoa River on the Spanish frontier, together with all ports along the Mediterranean coast and in North Africa, were placed under authority of the French navy yesterday.

This was announced in a decree signed by Chief of State Marshal Petain.

The decree specifically mentioned the sea and river ports of Nantes and Bordeaux on the Atlantic and Rouen on the Seine. But since the Channel, Atlantic and Bay of Biscay coastlines all are part of German-occupied territory, the exact meaning of the decree was not clear.

AMERICAS TO REJECT NAZI 'OBSERVATION NOTE'

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, July 14—Reliable sources said yesterday that the five Central American countries would reject the recent "note of observation" by Dr. Otto Reubeck, German Minister, requesting that the forthcoming Havana Conference of American Foreign Ministers take no action directed against Germany.

These sources added that the rejection would be sent in message form.

TORONTO, July 14 (CP)—Despite the Federal Government ruling Friday that men married after July 15 will be considered single for military purposes, young Torontonians thronged the marriage licence office here yesterday. Officials said the office, already rushed in recent weeks, was doing a record business.

Under Ontario marriage laws three days must elapse between the issue of a licence and the ceremony.

Number to Be Called Under First Draft Depends on Response to Call for Aid

OTTAWA, July 14 (CP)—All military training accomodation and equipment in Canada will be taxed to the utmost from now on providing for a big inflow of men into the non-permanent active militia, first through voluntary enlistment and next through a compulsory draft under the National Resources Mobilization Law.

The number of men to be called under the first draft and the age limits within which the call will be issued has not yet been determined. I will depend largely on the result of the appeal for voluntary enlistments broadcast this week by Defence Minister Ralston and Air Minister Power.

Col Ralston said 40,000 men were needed for the Canadian Active Service Force. These will be volunteers. Major Power said some 75,000 men were wanted for the non-permanent active militia. If the latter number come forward voluntarily they will receive camp training during August and September for periods ranging from 15 to 20 days.

If the number the training camps can accommodate does not come forward voluntarily a draft will be made. Later on in any case a draft will come to provide sufficient men to keep training facilities going full blast until Winter puts restrictions on camp life.

It has been suggested the first compulsory call will go to men between the ages of 21 and 24 years. No decision on this point has been reached as it depends on the response to the appeal for volunteers which, according to reports coming in from the military districts, is greater than was expected.

Militiamen in camp, whether volunteers or drafters, will be paid at the standard militia rates based on $1.30 per day for private soldiers.

Report Rumania Ready to Sever Turkish Ties

Rumania Speedily Follows Totalitarian Lead; Restrictions Against Jews Tightened; 'Racial Purity' Stressed

BUCHAREST, July 14 (AP)—Rumania was reported authoritatively yesterday to be ready to sever her Balkan Entente ties with Turkey unless officials responsible for Turkey's mutual assistance pact with Britain and France are replaced.

The German legation here told King Carol's Government that the latest Berlin white book "proves conclusively" that Turkey planned with the Allies for an attack on Rumania as well as Soviet oil fields.

The Government censor approved an editorial in Bucharest's German language newspaper Tageblat charging Turkey with "treason" to the Balkan Entente, consisting of Turkey, Rumania, Greece and Yugoslavia, by "conspiring against the sovereignty and integrity" of Rumania.

In German circles here it was reported that Gen. Ion Antonescu, leader of the pro-Nazi Iron Guard, still is in prison.

King Carol's new totalitarian regime put into effect Saturday anti-semitic orders forcing Christian wives of Jews to give up Government jobs.

The Rumanian General Staff yesterday ordered farm workers and industrial technical experts demobilized, beginning today. The number to be sent back to their civilian jobs was not given, but it included both officers and men.

This was one more of a series of steps being taken speedily to create in this country a small-sized model of Europe's larger totalitarian states, and followed a night of conference involving King Carol, German air and military attaches and most of the members of the cabinet of Premier Ion Gigurtu.

Diplomatic circles said Rumanian foreign policy was reviewed in what they labelled the beginning of closer German-Rumanian cooperation.

The new Rumanian Government frequently has announced reorientation of its policies in the direction of the Rome-Berlin axis. But just as Rumania geographically is much closer to Germany, so its new totalitarianism resembles the Nazi more than the Fascist brand.

As in the early days of Fascism and National Socialism, Rumanian Jews have borne the brunt of many attacks and many new laws.

They have been denounced in speeches by cabinet members as "poisoners of the national life." Jewish songs no longer may be sung nor Jewish music be played in public. No orchestra may contain Jewish musicians. Jewish artists are barred from the stage.

All Rumanian newspapers have been required to discharge Jewish editors and staff members. Jews may hold neither public office nor Government positions.

As in Italy and Germany, the Press is under rigorous control. Three newspapers already have been suppressed in Bucharest. Today, the Rumanian Press denounced the "imperialistic tendencies and exaggerated ambitions" of Hungary.

Strict censorship has been imposed on foreign correspondents.

Many Communists have been sent to concentration camps.

As in Germany, "racial purity" is being stressed. Help-wanted advertisements in the newspapers now contain the phrase "please state ethnical (racial) origin."

The members of the new national party which, just as in Italy and Germany, dominates political life wear bright blue uniforms and give each other a salute which is halfway between those of Hitler and Mussolini.

TRADE DIFFICULTIES

BERLIN, July 14 (CP by Radio).—The German radio said today that Rumanian-Turkish trade negotiations have "encountered difficulty" and have been "interrupted temporarily."

The Turkish delegation prepared to leave Bucharest for home, it was said.

"Turkey demanded much higher supplies of oil than formerly, which aroused the suspicion that Turkey wanted them in a large part for Great Britain," the German radio said.

Slow Trade on Wall St. Exchange

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—The stock market had one eye cocked on Chicago and the other on Europe today, and the net result was general speculative astigmatism.

Many leaders failed to appear on the ticker tape during the two-hour proceedings. Numerous issues sold at Friday's final quotations.

The proceedings were among the slowest since 1918, transfers approximating 160,000 shares.

Packard shares got up a fraction on the word the company's directors had finally approved a "general arrangement" for the production of 6000 airplane engines for Britain and 3000 for the United States.

Canadian Pacific and Dome showed fractional gains as the other issues in the Canadian section were inactive. In the bond market Canada 4s were unchanged.

Third Week for Winnipeg Wheat Pegged Prices

WINNIPEG, July 14 (CP)—Wheat futures prices on Winnipeg Grain Exchange Saturday finished their third consecutive week of trading without moving off their pegs. Operations were confined to minor commission buying in October wheat as quotations stuck to the minimum levels of 71⅝ cents a bushel for July, 73⅝ for October and 74⅝ for December.

No overseas sales of Canadian wheat or flour could be traced during the dull session. For long periods not a trader was in the Pit as lack of definite market news discouraged buying.

Chicago wheat quotations fluctuated nervously at levels close to the previous closing levels, while Buenos Aires values ended a quiet trading day ¼-⅝ cent lower.

Toronto Closes on Cheerful Note

TORONTO, July 14 (CP)—Toronto Stock Market closed the week with a moderately cheerful note Saturday.

Bralorne Gold firmed 15 to 7.80 and Kerr-Addison gained 6 to 1.81. Wright Hargreaves and Teck Hughes were off 5 each.

Nickel and Smelters were down slightly, while Noranda and Hudson Bay firmed fractions.

Point gains came out for Bell Telephone, Consumers Gas and Gatineau Preferred.

Davies Petroleum changed hands at 14 cents, unchanged, and Calmont at 25 was a cent higher. Home Oil gained 4 to 1.55 and Pacific Pete at 24 was up slightly.

Experimental Farm at Creston Goes on Display Wednesday

CRESTON, B. C. — The productive quality of the dyked lands without irrigation, and with and without fertilizer, will be displayed at the second annual field day at Creston's 10-acre experimental farm in Creston-Dyking District, on the road to the Reclamation farm ferry, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Superintendent Gordon Thorpe has this year a display that comes well up to the best traditions of the flats, in wheat, oats, barley, corn, alfalfa and clover, sugar beets and most everything in the hay, grain, roots and vegetable lines, including strawberries, and a display of budded apple trees as well as this year's supply of saplings in pears and apples. A modest start has been made with flowers and the grounds are being put in shape for still more flowers, shrubs, ornamental trees and lawn.

Of particular interest is the several plots of wheat, sown one week apart, in an effort to discover the best time in the planting season to sow the varieties of grain that are being tested.

Chicago Wheat Loses Early Gain of Cent

CHICAGO, July 14 (AP).—Wheat prices pushed upward almost a cent in early trading but later lost most of the gain following forecast of probable showers over the week-end and at intervals next week in the Spring wheat belt. Warmer weather was in prospect however.

Helping to strengthen the market at times was buying apparently associated with flour sales. Some hedging was done but receipts at principal terminals were slightly smaller than a week ago, Chicago however, had 734 cars, the largest of the season.

Lows reached at one stage yesterday were at or near the bottom price for the year.

Report Eire Will Allow British Troops to Cross Frontiers in Event of Raid

By J. NORMAN LODGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DUBLIN, July 14 (AP) — An amicable arrangement between Britain and Eire under which British troops will be given the right to cross Eire's frontiers in the event of a raid by a hostile power was reported today in quarters close to Premier de Valera's office.

In this event Eire will align herself with Britain without the formality of a declaration of war on the original invader, these sources reported.

But no British troops will move to Eire soil from Northern Ireland or from the shores of the Irish Sea until an invader has first violated that soil, the reported agreement stipulates.

If a hostile raid should throw Eire and Britain together in defence, Britain will have the use of important ports on Eire's West coast, closer to America than her own, at which to receive munitions and supplies from Canada and the United States.

In the meantime Eire goes her way with little outward show of perturbation. There is an occasional test air raid alarm, but no street lights are dimmed.

Gas mask drills are held, but there are no gas masks. Instructions have been published for conduct in air raid shelters.

Owners of land tracts suitable for enemy airplane landings have been asked to barricade them but thus far only an occasional branch has been placed here and there. Automobile owners have been asked not to park their cars in running condition. Recruiting goes on.

One noticeable element here in the past week has been a decided swing toward pro-British feeling.

Creston Cherry Crop Pack Ends

CRESTON, B. C.—Harvesting and packing of Creston Valley's 1940 cherry crop was completed Saturday, when the skeleton packing crew at Creston Cooperative Fruit Exchange was laid off, after a season of two weeks, and at the peak was giving employment to 17 — mostly girls. Manager Cooper of the Exchange reports small quantities of Lamberts still coming from Boswell, where they have their own packing facilities, but the Boswell crop will all be in by Tuesday.

The three local shipping houses combined to make up a second straight car which rolled on Friday to Toronto. It was Lamberts, in the four-basket crate, and carried a load of 960 cases. These were sold at $2.25 per crate f.o.b. Creston, which is, possibly, the best price Lamberts have realized in at least six years.

The fourth truckload left Sunday for Yorkton, Sask., in which was mostly Lamberts, with a few Olivettes and Morellos. Incidentally, this is the first time this point has been reached by truck.

The superiority of the 1940 crop is indicated in the very few claims that have been received as to inferior fruit. Rebates asked for this year are the lightest the trade has ever known.

The expectation now is that the 1940 cherry crop will reach the estimated 7800 crates, a drop from 12,466 in 1939. However, the decline is pretty much on a par with the Okanagan, where this year's crop is placed at 145,378 crates, as compared with 207,131 crates sold in 1939. As at Creston, the decline has been about equal as to Bings and Lamberts.

Elevator Addition Proceeds at Creston

CRESTON, B. C.—Excavation for the foundation of the crib addition the McDougall Construction Company, Ltd., is making to the Alberta Wheat Pool elevator at Creston is well along. The addition will provide storage for another 40,000 bushels.

Cement and lumber is on the ground and no time will be lost in completing the work. The latter is from Charles O. Rodgers Limited. The firm reports an unusually heavy demand for elevator construction lumber. Material has already been shipped for a new Pool elevator at Macleod, Alta., as well as material for a repair program to Pool elevators in Southern Alberta.

At Creston, the Pool elevator last week took in the last of the 1939 wheat crop. It was from the storage warehouse of Christensen brothers on their 800-acre operation on the Reclamation Farm, amounting to a few truckloads that had not been required for seed.

No Change, Montreal

MONTREAL, July 14 (CP) — Leading issues held unchanged in quiet late dealings on the stock market Saturday. Imperial Oil lacked support and minimum declines were boarded. Price Brothers advanced fractionally.

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP) — Selected rail loans advanced fractions to 2 points or more in a steady bond market yesterday. Italian loans tended upward while issues of Argentine and Columbia retreated.

Wheat Board to Talk Trade Plans

OTTAWA, July 14 (CP)—Trade Minister MacKinnon has invited all Western members of Parliament interested particularly in the wheat problem to attend a meeting here Monday when members of the Canadian Wheat Board and Board of Grain Commissioners will discuss with them the entire situation.

The Board members and the Commissioners came to Ottawa from Winnipeg this week to assist the Government in making a decision whether to allow trading in wheat to continue in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange after July 31. They held three meetings with Mr. MacKinnon and other members of the wheat committee of the cabinet Friday and are spending the weekend in Ottawa preparing memoranda for the Government on every phase of the problem.

It has not been decided whether Monday's meeting with the Western members will be open to the public.

Fruits, Vegetables In Profusion Are Offered at Market

Cherries, red currants, raspberries, and huckleberries, along with a profusion of fresh garden vegetables were offered in quantity at the Vernon Street Market Saturday. Previously the fruits had been on the stalls in lesser quantities.

Broad beans at two pounds for 15 cents or four pounds for a quarter, and red currants at 25 cents a basket, made their first appearance on the stalls. Cherries and raspberries were sold by the crate to housewives for preserving for the first time.

Only price changes reported were of cucumbers and radishes. The cukes were down to three for 10 cents from five cents each, while the radishes sold at three bunches for a dime, instead of four.

New Exchange Ban Hits at Pleasure Journeyings Only

New restrictions on sale of United States funds are designed to preclude the use of American exchange for "purely pleasure purposes" and not to interfere with legitimate travel for business, health, educational or scientific purposes, states an explanatory announcement which The Daily News has received from James E. Coyne, Secretary of the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

Early reports of the changed policy indicated that in future all applications for no matter what amount or no matter what the purpose of travel might be would have to go before the Board instead of being dealt with by the banks, who are agents of the Board.

These reports gave a wrong impression. There was no intention to interfere with legitimate business travel, or with travel necessary for health or similar purposes. It is pleasure travel at which the Board is hitting. For business travel, banks may deal immediately with applications for up to $100 U. S. For additional sums an application must be passed on by the Board. For example, if a Kootenay business man wishes to go to Chicago, he can obtain $100 immediately from his own bank. At the same time he can apply for an additional sum. This application goes to the Board for approval and when approval has been granted the money can be forwarded to him. Railway or bus tickets can be bought as usual with Canadian funds in Canada.

To provide "quick and efficient service to the people of British Columbia" a branch office of the Board has been established at Vancouver, Mr. Coyne points out, so that applications for over $100 can be dealt with promptly.

The spending of Canadian dollars in the United States for pleasure purposes is equally frowned upon and restricted.

The formal announcement from Ottawa says:

The Minister of Finance announced that in order to conserve the nation's supply of United States funds for the purchase of war supplies and other vital needs, the Foreign Exchange Control Board is requiring that applications for United States funds for the purpose of travel for pleasure are to be referred to the Board.

The Minister pointed out that the budget, and particularly the war exchange tax and the excise tax on certain goods which are partly imported, would have the effect of cutting down unnecessary imports very considerably. The further action now being taken does not impose any tax or any monetary sacrifice; it is simply designed to restrict another type of unnecessary expenditure which was causing a drain on United States funds.

"Much as Canadians would like to continue their practice of visiting their friends in the United States," the Minister said, "the time has come when this ought to be regarded as a luxury which we should forego so as to maintain the flow of war supplies and essential commodities which have the first call upon Canada's foreign resources. There is no doubt that Canadians are determined to bend every effort toward winning the war.

"Canadians ask what they can do. The answer is that we can deny ourselves the enjoyment of travelling for pleasure purposes in the United States and thus save those U.S. dollars for Canada to purchase war supplies and essential comomdities from our neighbor to the South. I believe that the people of this Dominion will readily accept this opportunity to help Britain and to help Canada."

The applications will be forwarded by the banks to the Board, accompanied by a statement of the purposes of the proposed visit to the United States. The Board's policy will be to preclude the use of foreign exchange for purely pleasure travel unless special circumstances exist which call for the exercise of discretion by the Board. Foreign exchange will continue to be sold as usual for necessary business travel including international conventions for business purposes, and also for travel necessary for reasons of health or for educational or clentific purposes. Small personal remittances to persons who are dependent upon Canadian residents for their support will also be permitted. Under the new United States regulations all Canadians must obtain passports and visas and it is proposed to have the amount of U. S. funds which such persons procure endorsed in their passport by an authorized dealer of the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

The Minister expressed his confidence that the people of the United States would realize that the present action was only taken because of Canada's position in organizing itself for the primary purpose of prosecuting the war to the limit of its resources. Since Canadians felt they had to forego the pleasure of going South, he hoped that our American cousins would come North and see us. He repeated the assurances given by the Prime Minister and other members of the Government that friendly American tourists are even more welcome than ever in Canada, that no passport restrictions affect them, and that Canadians have spontaneously adopted the motto "Be a good host to a good neighbor."

Surface Work Is Done at Tamarac

A small crew of men is at work on the Tamarac Mine near Ymir, where surface work is being done. The veins are being traced and physical testing and exploration of them is under way, E. W. Widdowson states.

Opportunity, offered by the fine weather, is being taken to do this work, but later in the season the body of ore found in the 40-foot drift in the lower No. 2 tunnel will be developed, and possibly further extension work will be undertaken to get under the pay shute in the main ledge which lies about 250 to 300 feet to the North of the face of the lower tunnel.

Mrs. John Notman Passes; Resident of Nelson 33 Years

Mrs. Elizabth Shaw Notman, wife of John D. Notman, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Sunday afternoon after being under treatment in hospital for about three weeks. She had been ailing for about the past year, although she was active. She would have been 73 in August. Mrs. Notman had resided in Nelson since 1907.

Born in Kilmarnock, Ayrshire, Scotland, she married Mr. Notman in Kilmarnock on Christmas Day, 1890. The would have celebrated their golden wedding this year. Mrs. Notman was not a member of any church organization or lodges but she was widely known in the Nelson district. Her husband, a mason and bricklayer by trade worked on most of Nelson's brick buildings. His work included building the present Kootenay Lake General Hospital on a sub-contract and many other enterprises.

Mr. and Mrs. Notman and three children came to Canada in 1903. They spent a year at Milton, Ont., a year at Cape Breton, N.S., and two years at Coleman, Alta., before coming to Nelson. Three children, Janet, Jane and William, died in Scotland before their parents emigrated to Canada.

MOTHER OF "SCOTTY" NOTMAN

Surviving Mrs. Notman are her husband; a son, James (Scotty), of Kootenay hockey fame, now of Vancouver; and two daughters, Mrs. W. A. Talbot of Grand Forks; and Mrs. Arthur MacMillan of Trail. Mrs. Talbot and Mrs. MacMillan are in Nelson and "Scotty" is expected to arrive tonight.

CONSTABLE AT WARDNER IS NAMED COMMISSIONER

Appointment of Thomas William Glaholm, Provincial Constable at Wardner, as a Commissioner under the Evidence Act, is currently gazetted.

The appointment is in effect while Glaholm remains a member of the Provincial Police.

No Trace of Body of Procter Man, Feared Drowned

No trace of the body of Thomas Mair of Procter, beleved drowned in Kootenay Lake near Boswell during a storm June 23, has been found. Dragging operations carried out by Provincial Police immediately following the discovery of Mr. Mair's untended launch partly on the beach at Lewis Point June 23, and subsequent searches for the body since, have been fruitless. It was believed Mr. Mair was thrown off balance into the water while attending the engine of his launch during the storm.

Mr. Mair had resided in Procter for over 11 years. In 1911, at the age of five years, he came to Canada with his parents from Glasgow, Scotland, his birthplace.

Surviving are his wife and four children at Procter; his parents, Mr. and Mrs T. Mair; two sisters and a brother in Mayerthorpe, Alta.

Church Bells in Trail to Remind Residents of God

TRAIL, B.C., July 14—Continuously from Monday, Trail church bells will be rung each day at noon. Rev. L. A. Morrant, rector of St Andrew's Anglican church, announced Saturday.

The purpose, said Mr. Morrant, will be to remind residents of Trail that now, while the nation is engaged in a great war, they should think of God and appeal to Him as they would in times of peace. There was a tendency, he explained, for men working under the increased tempo of wartime conditions to neglect spiritual things. The church bells, it was hoped, would serve as a reminder. They would be a call to prayer in time of war.

"Prayer is a state of mind towards God and all good," Mr. Morrant said. "Remember that without the blessing of God we cannot be assured of victory."

At Catholic Camp . . .

Senior Catholic Boys Close Camp With Sports, Fun

A weiner roast and general fun, with all camp rules suspended for the evening, wound up the senior boys' outing at the Catholic Camp on the West Arm Thursday. The junior boys, 40 strong, arrived Friday. The first contingent of five arrived from Kimberley Thursday.

Thursday was sport day and various camp champions were crowned. "Blackie" White of Revelstoke won the open and 16-year-old races and teamed with Walter Ozino to win the hut relay. "Bugs" Nelson won the 15-year-old race, "Gigi" Forte the 14-year-old race, and Ray Bertola the under water swimming. In ping pong Isadore McLaughlin won the camp championship defeating Mike Johnson. Cabins 2 and 5 won the volley ball tournament.

A grand parade with varied costumes followed the weiner roast at night. After the parade a "date" was made for next year—the same place, same time.

Forest Fires Cast Haze Over City, but Weekend Is Bright

While forest fire smoke cast a haze over the Northern part of the West Arm valley, Nelson enjoyed another weekend of hot, sunny weather. Temperatures were slightly lower than during the week, when a record 96-degree high was recorded. The Saturday and Sunday maximum was 86.

Clouds blotted out the sun intermittently during Saturday and only nine hours of sunshine were recorded, however over 13 hours sunshine were enjoyed Sunday. Low temperature for the weekend was marked Sunday, when the mercury dropped to 55. Saturday's low point was 60.

Apparent Waste Is Glorious Gain, Mr. Maddocks Tells Veterans, Home Guard at St. Saviour's on Sunday

"Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit."

This was the text taken by Rev. K. H. Maddocks of the Divinity Faculty of Emmanuel College, Saskatoon, at St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral Sunday morning when he spoke to a congregation composed partly of members of the Nelson Canadian Legion, the Veterans' Home Guard, and the Nelson Brass Band. The three bodies paraded to the church for a special service.

Mr. Maddocks, who will supply while Rev. J. G. Holmes is recuperating in the Windermere district, from an appendicitis operation, is an honorary chaplain in the Canadian Legion. He will be here for about five weeks.

He took his text from John 12:24. "Jesus says here plainly that there is a waste, a patent, obvious, stupid waste that is no waste at all—a grievous loss that is no loss at all, but glorious gain We take a grain of wheat, a precious thing, realizing that in it is food for the sustenance of men. It holds within itself the staff of life. But of what use is it if we hoard it up, place it in a safety deposit vault? It then abideth alone in its darkness and security, safe from harm, but its contribution is absolutely nil," he said.

LAW OF LIFE

But if the grain of wheat were planted and grew more wheat, then "this is the law of life, from the lowest to the very highest, up to and including the work of God Himself. And so says Christ, looking hard at our life. . . . Use your life for selfishness, for your own ends and comforts and it will mould and rot. Give it away, cast it away into the soil of life and so alone can it come home to you, full and rich in experience and contributing to the welfare of the world."

". . . . for some of us who remember the dark days of 1914-18 there comes the same story—the old stunned questioning sense of the sheer folly of it all. Was it all in vain? Those who fell into the soil of France and Flanders

"Went with songs to the battle, they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow,
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted,
They fell with their faces to the foe."

BEQUEATH TORCH

"Those who died, and those who risked their all, bequeathed to succeeding generations a torch at which other hearts have lighted themselves. In times of crisis those who are young and in health feel the eyes of those who suffered and died upon them, and in their turn, they play the man. They cannot be false, not they, who come of such a breed. . . . Has not again, then, the apparent loss been turned to glorious gain?" Mr. Maddocks asked.

"Once again we find ourselves called upon to cast into the soil the precious thing that we call human life. It is not because we love war but because we hate it that we have been drawn into this terrible conflict," he said.

"Either the rights of all nations to live their own lives will be guaranteed again to the world, or we enter upon a rapid and devastating reversion to the age of barbarism, and all the humanitarian measures which have been gained slowly and at great cost through the years, will be lost."

MUST FORGIVE

"If we believe that we are called to be the instrument of God in the vindication of justice, we shall be strengthened in our cause. . . evil always produces evil, and a peace of vengeance can only bear bitter fruit in the future.

"If we are to break the spirit which makes one war the forerunner of another, we must be prepared, after victory is assured, to be the instrument of the divine pity, and be ready to forgive our enemies, and build with them the supra-national fellowship of world peace. Peace terms must be such as can be guaranteed and the treaty just to all concerned but a vindictive peace will sow again the seeds of danger to the whole corporate body, not of europe only, but of the whole world. Then would the apparent waste be waste indeed. If along with our honored dead we sow dragon's teeth, then shall we reap a harvest of perpetual strife," he stated.

"Sacrament" Subject of Lesson-Sermon at Scientist Churches

"SACRAMENT" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him" (John 4:23).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me; nevertheless not my will, but thine be done" (Luke 22:41, 42).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Edy: "When the human element in him struggled with the divine, our great Teacher said: 'Not my will but Thine be done!'—that is, Let not the flesh but the Spirit be represented in me. This is the new understanding of spiritual Love. It gives all for Christ or Truth. It blesses its enemies, heals the sick, casts out error, raises the dead from trespasses and sins, and preaches the gospel to the poor, the meek in heart."

Brass Band Scores a Success at Park

Nelson Brass Band scored another Sunday afternoon success with a splendid concert at Lakeside Park Sunday. A large, appreciative gathering of park-goers applauded the selections. S. J. Newell directed the band.

The program follows:

2 Home Guards Included Party of 21 Recruits

Twenty-one recruits were paraded through Nelson Saturday to the C.P.R. station, where they entrained for the Coast. Another large crowd thronged the station to bid them Godspeed. Major A. C. Sutton, D.S.O., Recruiting Officer, was in command. The Nelson Bugle Band led the parade.

Remaining members of the Platoon presented the two men with gifts, Lieut. M. K. Harrison making the presentation, as they left to join active service units.

Joseph Moran, formerly with the 111th Field Battery, was one of the recruits.

"We are here to tell you how much we appreciate your offer to help out in this devil of a mess we find ourselves in today," H. E. Thain, Nelson Legion Secretary-Manager, told the recruits. He assured the men that each would find the others the finest comrades they would ever know.

Creston Postoffice Receipts Are Down

CRESTON, B.C.—For the 1939-40 Federal fiscal year just ended customs receipts at Creston postoffice show a decline over 1938-39, by about $85. For the year just ended 286 parcels were handled with collections of $259. Last year the intake was $344 for 343 parcels.

Stamp sales were slightly better than the year previous and are above the $3000 mark. Sales of postal notes and money orders were well up to the standard of 1938-40. Since the new office was opened in May, 1939, there has been a steady increase in the number of boxholders.

Nelson Theatres in Win War Drive

Two Nelson theatres—the Capitol and the Civic—join 12,000 theatres across Canada today in a Win the War campaign which is expected to raise approximately $1,000,000 for Canada's war efforts.

Admission to the theatres today will be obtained by purchase of War Savings Tickets, an admission ticket being given with each purchase of two 25-cent war stamps.

Expenses are being borne wholly by the film industry of Canada, so that all money contributed in purchase of stamps will go directly to the war effort.
