SOVIET CIVILIANS AID DESPERATE ARMIES

Nazis Claim Last Real Red Fighting Troops Entrapped

Victory Called by Hitler Attained Officials Assert; 1,400,000 Red Troops Put Out of Action Says Press Chief

BERLIN, Oct. 9 (AP). — The German High Command claimed tonight that the last fully effective Russian armies remaining on the Eastern front were now fatally encircled in two areas along the centre before Moscow, and Hitler's military spokesmen proclaimed the setting of the Soviet star.

The victory which Hitler in a special order of the day had called "the most essential condition for peace" had now been attained, these authorities asserted.

While there still was much bloody fighting to come, they asserted "the military decision has fallen."

Three Red armies claimed to be without leadership were said to be facing destruction in the region of Bryansk—about 220 miles below Moscow—along with other units entrapped about Byazma, some 125 miles West of the capital.

Dr. Otto Deitrich, Hitler's personal press chief, estimated Russian divisions encircled at the centre totalled from 60 to 70 divisions. A Russian division at full strength numbers about 20,000 men, and on the basis of this figure it was stated that the total number of Red troops put out of action might be as high as 1,400,000.

Authorized persons claimed the Soviet disaster was one of such magnitude that there was no longer an effective Russian military leadership.

On the assumption widely held in German quarters that the collapse of all European Russian armies was imminent, an authoritative person acknowledged that no one could say whether the Soviet Union would be able to set up new forces during the coming Winter.

"However," he added, "no Russian army could be dangerous to the German forces for more than two weeks."

He acknowledged there were wide expanses of Soviet territory yet to be conquered, but insisted that the areas vital to the Soviet war machine are in German hands.

Conceding that Stalin might withdraw and set up a new front, he asserted this would have value only for propaganda purposes.

Hitler himself, in his order prepared before the most recent developments, thus summed up the achievements of the German armies as of that time: 2,400,000 Russian prisoners taken; 17,500 Red tanks and more than 21,600 pieces of artillery destroyed or captured; 14,200 planes shot down or destroyed aground.

Territory occupied more than twice the size of the German Reich of 1933 and "more than four times as large as the English motherland."

German casualties, he said, were "not yet five per cent of those of the First Great War."

Russian Collapse Seen as "Remote" by War Experts

LONDON, Oct. 9 (CP.-Cable)—British sources said tonight the possibility of a Russian collapse is "remote" although they admitted the battle for Moscow, in which 3,000,000 men have been locked during the last week, is "grim."

A spokesman expressed doubt whether the Russians, in the event of reverses, would "do a Vichy" and seek a separate armistice with the Nazis.

"If the Russians want to keep their present form of Government they will have to fight it out," he said, pointing to the fact that Hitler has dressed up his invasion of Soviet Russia as an anti-Communist crusade.

Pressed as to what would be Britain's position if the worst came to the worst and Russia did collapse, the spokesman said that this would not affect Britain's long-range battle plans.

They were drawn up months before Germany invaded Russia, he said, and they still hold good.

The News Chronicle said today the Soviets are in "desperate danger" and had reached their 11th hour. It asked whether there was anything Britain could do to help.

"Suppose the worst happens. . . and in a fortnight's time Britain stands virtually alone again," it said.

The man on the street would say, the paper added, that "for 3½ months Britain never raised a finger on land or sea to help the greatest ally we have had. . . Do we still have to remain on the defensive everywhere and let the moment slip?

"It will never return."

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON—Associated Press Staff Writer

Germany's boast that Russian power of organized resistance has been shattered "from the springs of the Volga to the Sea of Azov" may be premature; but there is enough grim reality in that Nazi-drawn picture to justify foreboding.

From the source of the Volga to the Sea of Azov is a thousand miles, as the crow flies. The Volga rises on the lake-studded Southeastern slopes of the Valdai hills, nearly 200 miles Northwest of Moscow. It is the mother stream of Russia. And it empties not into the Black Sea or the Sea of Azov but into the Caspian Sea 2000 miles and more from its springs, looping far Eastward of Moscow on its way South.

There are indications that Hitler hopes to hurl the Russians back beyond the river within a few weeks if not days. It is by no means certain that German forces are not already on the Upper Volga. Hitler has asserted that a large number of Russians have been encircled at Vyazma, which is some 70 miles due South of Rjev on the Volga. It still seems possible that the Nazi push to Vyazma came from the North, via Velikieluki and Rjev, as well as Eastward from Smolensk. If so Moscow is menaced from Rjev down another spoke of the far-flung wheel of railroads and highways which converge from all directions of the Kremlin.

The outer rim of that wheel, on which Russian defence of Moscow was rebuilt after the fall of the Stalin line on the Dnieper, is already broken. Along several routes from the West, North and South, Hitler's troops and war machines have driven forward with giant strides.

Every Western spoke of the Moscow communications web is involved. And in desperate Russian fighting North of fallen Orel a Southern approach to the city is at stake, probably the best approach for German use. For a double rail system connects Orel and Moscow through Tula. If the Nazis also take or have taken, Tula, they will have broken also the inner rim of the Moscow defence wheel.

There is another grave danger for the Russians in the loss of Orel. By whatever route German forces reached that city, they are now in a position to lash Southward down the Moscow-Kharkov-Rostov Railway. That would take Russian defenders of Kharkov in the rear.

The badly battered Red Army of the Ukraine could again be caught in a great encirclement trap as it was East of Kiev.

There is little of a specific nature from Moscow to offset German insistence that the whole struggle is all but over, with only mopping-up actions to follow. It should be recalled, however, that the Russians have come through previous disasters in this war to fight again on new fronts.

And terrain for many a bloody stand in defence of Moscow still offers itself to any Russians who break out of the Nazi traps in the centre. The wear and tear on Nazi troops and the strain on ever-extending German communication lines are factors that cannot be ignored in calculating the possibilities.

Southward, however, there seems less hope that the Donets basin and the Rostov key to Russian oil sources can be held. That is the weakest link in the Russian defence chain, even discounting Nazi claims of utter Red Army collapse and flight on that front.

New Panama Gov't Expected to Recall "No Guns" Order

Nazi-Minded President Arias Thrown Out, Flees by Plane to Cuba; Followers Rounded Up; Name New Head

PANAMA, Panama, Oct. 9 (AP).—A coup Government quickly pledged to support democratic principles ousted Nazi-minded President Arnulfo Arias today and a member of the new cabinet said it was reconsidering Arias' order, issued just before he fled by plane to Cuba, banning guns on United States ships flying the flag of Panama.

The cabinet member said no action would be taken formally tonight, but added that some decision might be announced tomorrow.

The "no-guns" questions, he said, would be "handled in the spirit of unselfish cooperation" which would characterize the new regime's attitude toward the United States.

Panama police quickly rounded up a number of Arias' followers suspected of pro-Nazi sympathies and possible fifth column activities in this vital American defence area.

Among those arrested was Antonio Isaza, private secretary to the President, and former Panamanian Consul-General in Hamburg, Germany. Isaza was regarded as one of the most convinced Nazi sympathizers in Panama.

Others arrested were Cristobal Rodriguez, a Presidential Secretary; and Enrique Linares, senior manager of the national lottery.

A number of Panama police officials were said to have fled.

Arias fled by plane to Colombia Tuesday, soon after the "no-guns" order of last Monday complicated the Neutrality Law repeal debate in Washington, and proceeded from there to Havana, where he was located today.

The Second Vice-President of Panama, the first eligible successor to Arias who could be reached immediately, was sworn in as President. For three hours he headed an interregnum Government in probably the shortest term ever.

Then the cabinet he formed called in Richardo Adolfo de la Guardia, Justice Minister and physician of pronounced pro-democratic leanings, and handed him the presidency.

Officially, the new Government issued a manifesto pledging "decided support for democratic principles now menaced throughout the world and affecting in a very marked manner the Republic of Panama because she is situated at the epicentre of continental defence."

Unofficially, it was reported that a cabinet meeting tomorrow would re-open the ship-arming question.

The jails closed on several of Arias' supporters, including his so-called strong man, Nicholas Ardito Barletta, the Panama City mayor.

In Havana, where Arias arrived under his mother's name, "A. Madrid," the displaced President said he was surprised at his ouster and insisted he had come to Cuba merely to see an eye doctor, expecting to return.

The Panama Supreme Court order which first replaced him said he had "absented himself suddenly from the country, leaving vacant the post he had held" and that it was not possible to learn of his whereabouts.

Arias slipped out of the country before dawn Tuesday, but the news was let out only today.

All police were held in barracks against the possibility of an uprising; all Panama leaves for United States soldiers and sailors from the Canal zone were cancelled; Panama City and Colon were declared "off limits" for U.S. officers and men.

(Panama maintains no armed forces and in times of emergency the police serve as the nation's armed force. Concentration in barracks would have been in readiness for any military action that might be required.)

It was reported that the staff of Arias' mouthpiece, the newspaper La Tribuna, was under arrest.

The Government suspended gambling concessions. Slot machines were removed from saloons and cabarets, pending an investigation of their legality. In Colon, intoxicated persons were expelled from bars.

Most people knew nothing of the changes, however.

Since he took office a year ago, Arias had proclaimed a policy of "Panama for the Panamanians," revised the constitution, and had legislation adopted barring Negroes and Asiatics from citizenships.

Canada Launches First Wartime Merchant Ship

MONTREAL, Oct. 9 (CP). — Canada expects to duplicate Britain's 1942 output of cargo ships, Munitions Minister C. D. Howe said here today at the launching of the Fort Ville-Marie, first of 50 freighters ordered to be built in Dominion shipyards for the British Government.

Designed to supplement the Empire's war-ravaged merchant fleets, the Fort Ville-Marie, 9300 tons, is the largest ship ever built in Canada. One hundred and fifty steel vessels will follow her and already keels have been laid for 24 vessels of the Fort Ville-Marie design.

With a blessing in French, Mrs. Howe, wife of the Minister launched the first of the line of ships that will commemorate Forts famous in Canadian history. The site of Fort Ville-Marie is now covered by the City of Montreal.

"I fear that few of our citizens have any conception of the size of the program we have undertaken," the Munitions Minister said.

"If our objective for 1942 is reached, we expect in that year that Canada's program will equal the British annual output of cargo ships."

Canada can take place in the front rank of the shipbuilding nations of the world, Mr. Howe said, with the continued cooperation between management and labor.

Control of Ichang Near Chinese State

CHUNGKING, Oct. 9 (AP)—A Chinese communiqué said tonight that two columns of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek's troops had entered Ichang, main objective of the current Chinese offensive, after recapturing 11 strategic points in its environs.

The communique said Ichang, the Westernmost point of Japanese penetration, now was partly occupied and that Chinese forces might soon be in complete control.

Air Plant May Be Seized by Gov't

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—A charge of non-cooperation with the Defence Mediation Board was levelled today against Air Associates, Inc., Bendix, N.J., firm making airplane parts, by a board official who said the government may seize the plant if recommendations for settlement of a Congress of Industrial Organizations strike are rejected.

Meantime, an American Federation of Labor walkout occurred at the South's largest steel plant—the Fairfield Works, near Birmingham, Ala., of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company.

In charging Air Associates, Inc., with non-cooperation, Frank P. Graham, chairman of the Mediation Board panel considering the C.I.O. strike, asserted F. Leroy Hill, President of the firm, and Walter Chalaire, attorney, had walked out of the hearings on the case here Wednesday.

Two Canadian Navy Men Drown at Coast

VICTORIA, Oct. 9 (CP) — Two ratings of the Royal Canadian Navy were drowned today when their small boat capsized in Esquimalt Lagoon here.

Naval officials here refused to identify the ratings pending notification of next of kin, but at Vancouver Mr. and Mrs. Allister Kerr said they had been advised one of those drowned was their son, David Kerr, 30, native of Idaho Falls, Idaho. Able Seaman Kerr had spent most of his life in Vancouver.

Alaska Highway Unlikely to Be Started in War

OTTAWA, Oct. 9 (CP). — The Alaska Highway, advocated as a tourist attraction in peacetime and a defence asset in wartime, is still only a road on paper and will likely remain there until the war is over, authoritative sources said tonight.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Chairman of the British Columbia, Yukon and Alaska Highway Commission, said that a detailed report on possible routes for the road has been completed. The Commission, in light of its studies, has come to the conclusion the most suitable pathway through a waste of mountains will run from Prince George, B. C., to Dawson, Y. T.

"We have tried to make our report as detailed as possible and a second feasible route from Hazelton, B. C., to Whitehorse, Y. T. has also been studied," Mr. Stewart said. "It is not part of the Commission's duty to decide what route will be followed but simply to present its completed information to the Government."

Mr. Stewart said the fact that the report was complete and gave detailed information should dispose of charges which had been made in the United States that the Canadian Commission was delaying construction of the road.

Recruiting Officers in B.C. Won't Make Canvass of Homes

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9 (CP).—Recruiting officers in Military District 11 will not make a "house to house" canvass in a campaign for recruits, Col. T. S. Leslie, Officer Commanding the Vancouver Depot, said today.

(Recruiting officers in other military districts have announced that every man in the district between the ages of 18½ and 45 would be interviewed by a recruiting officer).

Col. Leslie said recruiting officers on the Pacific Coast were visiting industrial plants, factories, retail stores and other firms employing men, explaining the army's need of volunteers but there were no individual interviews.

RETURNING MISSION DECLARES RUSSIANS WILL HOLD GERMANS

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP). — The British and United States supply missions returned to England from Moscow today for a supreme effort to sustain imperilled Russia to the last, on the theory that if Moscow falls the armies beyond the Urals still may forestall a German lunge at Britain.

Members of both missions expressed confidence that Moscow would hold out against the present offensive, and some declared that even if the capital should fall Russia would continue the fight.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 9 (CP). — Hon. J. P. McIntyre, Prince Edward Island Minister of Public Works and Highways, today was elected President of the Canadian Good Roads Association for the 1941-42 term at the 26th annual convention meeting here.

New Lines Drawn to Meet Growing German Torrent

Division After Division of Germans Hurled Into Every Hard Pressed Point; Admit Situation Serious

By HENRY C. CASSIDY—Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Oct. 9 (AP).—Russian civilians joined the outnumbered Red armies of the centre tonight in a supreme and desperate effort to break the blunt German wedges still advancing on Moscow with ever-increasing strength.

In deep forests and broad plains more than 100 miles West of the capital and 200-odd miles to the South these mighty Nazi offensives were met with new Soviet lines.

After retreating from Orel, an important railway junction South of Moscow, Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's forces occupied fresh positions North of the town and stubbornly sought there to breast the unending onslaughts of German tank columns.

About Vyazma to the West of Moscow the Russians were bitterly contesting the second Nazi advance.

The Soviet command's communique late tonight indicated no change of consequence anywhere, merely reporting heavy continued fighting in all the vital areas.

It acknowledged that the Germans wedged into the Soviet defences at one point on the central front but declared that in the ensuing tank battle the Germans lost more than 30 tanks, 19 anti-tank guns and crews, nine truckloads of infantry, one large cannon and an anti-aircraft battery and that more than 400 men were slain. Exact location of this battle was not given.

In another three-day battle, the communique said, the Germans lost more than 500 men, seven tanks, many guns and mine-throwers and trucks loaded with infantry while the Red Army captured 16 cannon in good condition, along with ammunition and other supplies.

Thirteen German tanks, 21 trucks and nine motorcycles were destroyed and 200 men killed on the Southwest front when six Soviet planes bombed a Nazi armored column, the communique added.

The situation behind the Red Army lines remained calm and orderly, so far as could be learned, and life in Moscow went on as usual. But the position was clearly grave, although not disastrous.

The mid-day communique of the Soviet command acknowledged the German offensives—the greatest of all the war—had not been checked. Although the invaders were declared falling by the thousands, their lines grew only longer, for fresh German division after division was being hurled into every hard pressed Russian point.

Here and there over the transfixed central front German parachutists were floating down behind the Russian line; 200 were reported wiped out in a single area.

Tass, the government news agency, advised the country:

"It would be unpardonable thoughtlessness to underestimate the whole gravity of the danger hanging over the important industrial centres of our country. . . .

"Every Soviet citizen must realize that there can be no middle course. . . . It is either destruction of Nazi Germany or the most brutal extermination and enslavement of the peoples of the U.S.S.R."

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9 (CP).—Construction of another 14-car wooden barge to go into service as a lumber carrier between Vancouver Island and Mainland ports will be started immediately at the yard of the West Coast Salvage & Contracting Company, it was learned here today.

One 14-car barge already is under construction at the Star Shipyard (Mercers) Ltd., at New Westminster.

THREE MEN IN LABOR DISPUTE JOIN ARMY

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 9 (CP) — Major George Tilley, district recruiting officer, today received three enlistments after he rushed a mobile recruiting truck with loud-speaker to the vicinity of an East London factory where a labor dispute was in progress. A broadcast "pep talk" to the picket line brought three volunteers as well as several promises of enlistment if the dispute is not settled speedily.

C.I.O. LEADERS SPLIT ON WORLD POLICY OF F.D.R.

Desperate Fight for Control Expected of Lewis

MURRAY FOR F.D.R.

By J. F. SANDERSON (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (CP)—The foreign policy of the Roosevelt administration has driven a deep wedge between John L. Lewis, founder and first president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and Philip Murray, his successor and co-worker in the field of labor for 30 years.

With the C.I.O. convention scheduled to open in Detroit Nov. 17, it has been reported here that Lewis may attempt to seize partial control by supporting his daughter, Kathryn, prominent in anti-interventionist organizations, as secretary-treasurer in opposition to Murray's candidate, James B. Carey.

It is also rumored that Lewis, who has opposed aid to Britain, Russia and China and practically every other major element in the Roosevelt wartime policy, is prepared to take the C.I.O. to the point of insolvency by withholding the $30,000 a month paid in by his own union, the United Mine Workers.

It is believed here that the elements aligned against Lewis within the ranks of the C.I.O. are sufficient to endorse the Roosevelt foreign policy, just as the rival labor organization, the American Federation of Labor, signified approval at its convention in Seattle this week.

But Lewis' friends within the United Mine Workers say he will not hestitate to take the C.I.O. to the verge of a crackup if he cannot have his way on the convention floor. The situation is complicated by the fact that Murray is Vice President of the miners' union and draws his only salary from the union that Lewis has dominated since 1920.

It has been suggested that Lewis even might go the length of withdrawing his miners' union from the C.I.O. making the same sort of bolt he made in 1935 when he broke away from the A. F. of L. to form his competing organization.

Lewis, an old-line Republican, still wields tremendous power in American labor relations and in Washington he is listed among the six most influential men in the United States.

Liberal Stand on Old Age Pensions "Sudden Awakening" Says Winch at Cranbrook; Eliason Outlines Aims

CRANBROOK, B.C., Oct. 9 — A fairly well attended meeting in Cranbrook Thursday night heard O. A. Eliason, C.C.F. candidate for the Cranbrook riding, and H. L. Winch, C.C.F. Leader in B.C., enunciate the C.C.F.'s provincial policy.

Mr. Eliason described the party's achievements both in the provincial field and the Federal. He stated that as a member of the working class he stood for progressive reform of the conditions of the working man through parliamentary reform. Certain legislation had been instituted by the present government but it was only at great pressure from working class organizations such as the C.C.F., trade unions and so on, he asserted.

He outlined briefly the provincial platform, stated what had already been done along the various lines mentioned and what the C.C.F. was prepared to implement once in power.

Mr. Eliason described the beliefs and policies of the C.C.F. from the beginning of the war to the present time, and declared that it had been consistent throughout.

Mr. Winch condemned the present government's policies, both in peace and war. The responsibility of the election lay with Premier Pattullo. The Premier, he said, had brought on an election a year before it was absolutely necessary, on the ground that it was imperative to obtain a mandate from the people to continue the prosecution of the war with the fullest possible effort.

He declared the patriotism of the citizens of Canada lay with the ordinary people rather than with the industrialists. The latter sought to make a profit, rather than to hurl their fullest resources into the war effort.

Lashing out at members of the government who claimed credit for social legislation in B.C., he outlined the proposals and resolutions of the C.C.F. in the past eight years. He charged a "sudden awakening" of the Liberal party in advocating larger old age pensions and lower age qualifications. This had been advocated by himself and the C.C.F. many times and had been voted down.

The provincial government failed to solve unemployment it was lethargic in amending the Compensation Act, it had refused to act upon the 1937 mandate to institute health insurance, and it had been willing to use tear gas on the unemployed of a few years ago charged the C.C.F. leader.

The C.C.F. slogan was security at home with victory abroad. The party had given warning of an impending international conflict and had endeavoured to persuade the various governments to place embargoes on the shipment of vital raw materials to Germany, Italy and Japan, but to no avail, said Mr. Winch. He condemned profit in wartime, and stated the burden on working class backs was being increased by tax and cost of living advances, while certain industries were still allowed to make undue profits.

Mr. Winch appealed for local support for Mr. Eliason, saying that his election, together with others in B.C., would prove that the people wished a more definite and equitable war effort. Mr. Winch declared his party was prepared to assume office.

Trail Trucker Guilty Driving Upon Sidewalk

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 9 — John McKortoff, driver for Teahan's Transfer Company, elected a five-day jail sentence in the lock-up in lieu of paying a $3 fine for driving a coal truck on to a sidewalk, contrary to the Trail City Bylaw, after he had pleaded guilty to the charge, before Stipendiary Magistrate E. L. Hodge in City Police Court Thursday afternoon.

McKortoff explained to the Court that it was impossible to unload the coal into the Elks' Hall unless the truck were on the sidewalk, but Magistrate Hodge stated that if such were the case, it was up to him to report the situation to his employer, rather than take it upon himself to commit an infraction of the bylaw, particularly as he had been warned against this procedure.

Acting-Chief of Police F. H. Steele stated that all coal and transfer companies had been warned against this a short time ago, and requested to make deliveries in the early morning hours to avoid interference with pedestrian traffic. McKortoff's truck was parked sideon, with a front and back wheel on the sidewalk along Riverside Avenue, causing the pedestrians to walk out into the middle of the road in a particularly hazardous section of the city. He asked for a severe penalty as a warning that other similar cases would be prosecuted.

Mr. McKortoff went into the difficulty of delivering coal in that section, but Magistrate Hodge stated that two wrongs did not make a right. He did not wish to impose a heavy penalty in the first case, but gave a warning that any further infractions would be dealt with more severely.

Hart Tells Trail Province Has Made Big Sacrifices in War Aid; on Sirois Report One Plan Only

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 9—John Hart, Minister of Finance, in an address to a Trail audience Thursday night, cited the assumption of full unemployment relief costs and conceding of the Provincial income tax field to the Federal Government as evidence of the Liberal Government's cooperation with the Dominion Government for an all-out war effort. The unemployment relief costs would add another $1,000,000 annually to the budget.

Mr. Hart also said that the relinquishment of the Provincial income tax with the agreement to accept a Dominion grant based on 1940 income, entailed a considerable sacrifice, as the 1940 figure was based on the 1939 income, which at that time showed very little impetus from the industrial war effort.

In addition, the Government had assured civil servants of employment after their period of enlistment, as well as assuming the cost of carrying on their pension payments. Other war measures were the cooperation of the public works department in contributing equipment and material for building air fields and army depots; the work of the Provincial Police department in guarding all essential industries and vital points and registration of enemy aliens; and also the cooperation of the lands department in making spruce and timber available to Canada and Great Britain.

DEBT RETIRED AIDS WAR FUNDS

The Government has also retired nearly $30,000,000 of debt, releasing this amount for reinvestment in the war effort.

"And the other party talks of our lack of cooperation in the war effort!" Mr. Hart said.

Defending Premier Pattullo's stand regarding the Sirois report, Mr. Hart stated that the Dominion conference agenda demanded the discussion of Plan 1, and either acceptance or rejection of the plan as a whole.

OTTAWA AUTOCRACY

The plan would have centralized power at Ottawa, which would have formed an autocracy, dictating the policy of British Columbia When they were told of an $1,500,000 deficit, which, Mr. Hart claimed, would be the result during the first year, the obvious and only answer British Columbia would have received would be to "Cut social service and educational costs."

When Mr. Pattullo asked to go into committee to discuss matters of mutual interest, he was again confronted with Plan 1 and had refused to accept it.

If he had accepted the report without a mandate from the people, he would have sold the right to the mining, forestry and fishing industries of the Province. All the returns from the industries allowed would have been 10 per cent from the mines, with the understanding that the money was to be used for further mining development; and the stumpage tax from the forests with which they would be expected to conduct a reforestration program. No returns from the fisheries would be allowed.

PROVINCE'S CREDIT HIGH

Mr. Hart, giving an account of B. C.'s financial position, stated that the Province's credit had been raised from the lowest of any Province in 1933, to being the second only to Ontario in its credit rating. Bonds which sold at $89.82 in 1933 were now selling at $107.50.

British Columbia was the only Province in the Dominion to show a decrease in its gross debt during the past eight years, he stated. There has been no increase in taxation since 1933.

Other accomplishments itemized included a $1,200,000 decrease in income taxes given those in the lower income brackets; and assistance to municipalities in unemployment relief, reducing the cost to the municipalities from $739,339 annually to $147,867. Aid to municipalities had been increased by the annual sum of $2,191,569 as follows: Increase in direct grants, $548,098; by assuming 80 per cent of the cost of indigence, $591,471; by assuming social service costs, $802,000; and special educational grants, $250,000.

Taxation relief had been given farmers by permitting them to work off their taxes on the road, value of this amounting in 1940 to $300,000.

Mr. Hart stated that the gross debt of the Province was $2,071,313 less than in 1933, and that the net debt had been reduced by $5,547,036 during the past 12 months.

The average interest rate on the public debt had been reduced from 4.7332 per cent in 1933 to 4.17 in 1941.

He also referred to the retirement of $29,667,432 of public debt since Dec. 31, 1940, without recourse to refunding. Debt repayment since that time had reduced the interest charges by $1,225,525, and the sinking fund requirement by $421,630, making a total saving of $1,647,155.

Mr. Hart was introduced by R. R. Burns, Liberal candidate for the Rossland-Trail riding.

During his introductory speech, Mr. Burns gave a review of improvements on the roads in the Rossland-Trail district, stating that he had concentrated his efforts on the Castlegar highway, with a consequent increase in population of from 200 to 1200 in Castlegar. He referred to the new community being built at Kinnaird, and his efforts to secure electric power and light through the Utilities Commission.

Referring to Rossland, Mr. Burns stated that the serious problem of a small area of taxable lands against the educational demand of Rossland's population had been aggravated when the Government had assimilated the 2 per cent ore tax. A school grant had been made by the McBride Government, but that had been decreased by $2400 during the Tolmie administration. Mr. Burns stated that he had obtained a $9600 increase in the grant.

Mr. Burns also gave a brief review of the difficulties encountered by the Rossland Cooperative Transportation Society, stating that he had been instrumental both in securing a change in the act, allowing the drivers as members of the Society to drive the transportation cars on private drivers' permits instead of chauffeurs' licences; and also in influencing the Government to withdraw income taxation on the surplus funds of the society, assimilated to pay for the cost of repairs and replacement.

PROMISES FRUITVALE WORK

He promised further work on the Fruitvale highway, stating that he planned to have work concentrated on that highway until it was completed.

He also referred to Mr. Pattullo's recent announcement of a compulsory retirement fund. This would entail compulsory contributions to the fund and compulsory retirement at 60 years of age.

He replied to R. L. Maitland's charge that the Liberal Government had refused to cooperate with the Conservative party, stating that whenever Mr. Maitland's advice was sought, the Conservative leader's favorite reply was always, "That's your baby."

J. L. Webster was Chairman.

J. C. RILEY, A PROSPECTOR OVER 40 YEARS, PASSES; HERE SINCE '97

John Christopher Riley, who spent over 40 years hunting the hidden wealth of the Kootenay hills as a prospector, died Thursday at Kootenay Lake General Hospital. He was 75 years of age.

HERE IN 1897

He came to Nelson from a Saskatchewan farm in 1897, and for some years worked in the mines that first brought fame to this section. For nine years off and on he worked at the Athabasca, where his brother Charles was foreman. Later he worked at the Silver King mine of Nelson, at Springer Creek in the Slocan, at the Fern on Hall Creek, and the Juno.

After these years in the mines, he was employed for four or five years at the Nelson Iron Works, but the call of the mountains that had first brought im West was still in his blood, and he returned to prospecting.

He worked various mineral and placer claims, notably claims on Cultus Creek and three claims on Toad Mountain. These latter he owned in partnership with his son, J. E. Riley, now of Trail, and formerly of Bonnington, and retained them until his death.

HUNTED AT 70

Mr. Riley was active up to a few years before his death. Even at the age of 70 he used to carry a gun out into the hills after deer. He was known as a bear hunter, and had bagged over 50 grizzlies during his lifetime. Many a time he had close calls while hunting the dangerous grizzly.

Born in Cornwall, County of Pert, Ontario, on Nov. 5, 1866, he, with his parents, three brothers and three sisters, moved West to Manitoba in 1883. After a year they moved on to Grenfell, Sask., travelling the last lap of the journey from Broadview, where the steel ended, by ox-cart. Hail, frost, and other discouragements however forced the family to give up farming.

CAME FIRST TO ROCKIES IN 1887

It was then, in 1887, "Jack" Riley first came to the Rockies. For some time he worked on the snowsheds at Illecillewaet, and in the mines of that area. He returned to Grenfell in the Fall to resume farming, and in 1889 married Ellen Emma Lackey. He was on the farm 10 years before he returned to the mountains, and to Nelson in 1897.

HEAD OF PROSPECTORS ASSOCIATION

He served as President of the B.C. Prospectors Protective Association, and was a director of the Chamber of Mines for years. He was also a life member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 25 here.

Soon after the First Great War he was a candidate or the City Council.

He was predeceased by his wife, who died here in 1904, two sons, William who was killed in Portland, Ore., in 1932, and Charles who died here in 1939; and a sister, Mrs. A. W. Harrod, who died at Trail a year ago.

Surviving are three sons, A. J. Riley in Regina, Ross Riley in Nelson, and Joseph E. Riley in Trail; a daughter, Mrs. J. F. LeCain at Grenfell, Sask.; a broter, Isaac Riley at Nelson; a sister, Mrs. Pollard at Regina; a niece, Mrs. Frederick Plester at Trail; and a nephew, Norman Harrod at Trail. A wire was received by the family here indicating his daughter would arrive from Grenfell Saturday.

Plan Coordination of Safety Measures in B.C. Industries

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9 (CP)—Safety experts are working toward coordination of safety measures in all industries in the Province under Charles Pearse, provincial safety adviser to the logging industry, told Mr. Justice Sloan, in answer to a suggestion, at sittings of the Royal Commission investigating the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Five years ago, Mr. Pearse said, he found much apathy on the part of workers in logging camps toward accident prevention because they felt the companies were interested only in getting out logs. Interest in first aid work was stimulated by contests among the men and some of the larger operators had been persuaded to appoint safety directors. The Compensation Board has appointed three logging safety inspectors.

Last year, Mr. Pearse said two companies showed 30 and 35 per cent decreases in accidents.

Medical Standards for Active Army Drop

REGINA, Oct. 9 (CP). — Reduced medical standards for recruits who volunteer for service with the Canadian Active Army were announced Thursday by Lt.-Col. A. W. Pascoe, District Recruiting Officer for Saskatchewan.

New regulations governing medical standards have just been issued by Ottawa and greatest changes are concerned with hearing and vision defect. From among the large number of volunteers who have received low medical categories because of these defects many can now hope to join the army for overseas service, said Col. Pascoe.

Col. Pascoe, who made the Regina announcement, is a cousin of Mrs. H. T. Brown of 824 Robson Street, Nelson.

CONSERVATIVES WOULD CORRECT MARKET ACT

VERNON, B. C., Oct. 9 (CP) — R. L. Maitland, K.C., Provincial Conservative Leader, told a public meeting here last night his party supported the Provincial Marketing Act but wanted to correct "abuses and explain to the public the principles of the act."

Speaking in support of Gordon Lindsay, Conservative candidate in North Okanagan riding in the Oct. 21 Provincial Election, Mr. Maitland said Conservative Governments have been the friends of the farmers since the days of Confederation.

Important Stage in Canada's War Effort Is Reached

OTTAWA, Oct. 9 (CP).—Important developments in Canada's economic and armed war effort are reported to be reaching a stage where official announcements may be expected momentarily.

These developments are reported to have a bearing on wage and price controls, commodity restrictions, redistribution of manpower, and aid to Russia in cooperation with the United States.

Significant events today, following Prime Minister Mackenzie King's return from Quebec where he visited the Governor-General and conferred with Premier Godbout, were a long meeting of the Cabinet War Committee and a conference with Hon. Leighton McCarthy, Canadian Minister in Washington.

The only definite information which might have arisen from Mr. King's conference with the Governor-General was his statement today, in reply to questions, that there would be no formal opening of a new parliamentary session this year.

Mr. King said it was his belief that when Parliament resumes on Nov. 3 it should proceed with whatever business comes before it, and open the third session of its 19th session after the New Year.

Today's meeting of Cabinet War Committee was described by one Minister as "very important," and it was also stated that an "important" Cabinet Council would be held tomorrow.

Dismissed Man Taken on Internment Order

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9 (CP).—Louis Guberman, business agent for the United Garment Workers of America, here, was taken into custody of Royal Canadian Mounted Police today on an internment order a few minutes after a charge against him under the Defence of Canada Regulations was dismissed in City Police Court.

Guberman had been charged with continuing to be a member of the Communist Party of Canada, outlawed by Dominion Statute, June 6, 1940, but Magistrate R. B. Graham ruled today that certain portions of Crown evidence submitted at his trial were not admissible and on these grounds he dismissed the charge.

Roads Chief Problem in B.C. Daly Tells Rosslanders; Commission Is Answer; C.C.F. Criticism Reckless

ROSSLAND, B.C., Oct. 9—Charles F. Daly, Rossland-Trail Conservative Candidate, speaking to a large audience at the Velvet Hall tonight, reiterated a pledge given earlier in his campaign that he would, if elected, devote himself conscientiously to his work as a member of the Legislature, and do his best for every resident of the constituency regardless of political complexion.

Three other speakers, A. E. (Ed) Walters of Rossland, Joseph Haley of Trail, and James Calder of Warfield, preceded Mr. Daly on the platform. Mr. Walters stated the Candidate had done a great deal of valuable work for the community and district generally without many people being aware of it, for the reason that Mr. Daly did not like to be patted on the back.

BLAMES PRIME MINISTER

James Calder denounced charges by opposing parties throughout Canada in this and other campaigns that the Conservative Party was directly responsible for the state of world affairs today. He declared the complacent attitude of Canadians in the face of grave peril was due entirely to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

"The C.C.F. party," he said, "could not solve present day problems even if it was in power for the reason that the members of the party have not the moral fibre to withstand the storm and trials through which they would have to pass."

Joseph Haley described the Candidate as a beacon for the youth of this District.

ROADS CHIEF PROBLEM

Mr. Daly described roads as "the chief problem of British Columbia," and asserted that of nearly seven million dollars collected in gasoline and motor vehicle tax in 1940, nearly all was given over to the patronage machine by which roads were being constructed in this Province.

"A highway commission independent of any political party is the solution to our road troubles," he said.

Premier Pattullo had failed even to discuss certain recommendations of the Sirois report which would, he said, assure the maximum Dominion-Provincial cooperation in the prosecution of the war.

Mr. Daly asserted C.C.F. criticisms "are exceedingly reckless," and could at best breed nothing but civil tumult.

"They attack everything and anything that does not move fast enough for them, and overlook the fact that we build slowly but surely by orderly evolution, ..ot by reckless revolution."

BANK DEPOSITORS

He refuted charges by C.C.F. candidates that the bulk of Canadian bank deposits were held by so called "big shots," and said that depositors having $1000 or more in the bank comprised only eight per cent of the depositors. They were not by any means the only individuals but included also municipalities, churches, universities, insurance companies, mining, industrial and other corporations, cooperative organizations and others, many of which had shares widely distributed.

Acute indigestion may arise from overeating or the use of food which is difficult to digest.

But chronic indigestion, which stays with you, causing sleepless nights, headaches, bodily pains and depressed spirits, is usually the result of torpid liver and constipation. The process of digestion is held up and the body is poisoned by accumulated waste matter.

The use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills helps to arouse the torpid liver to action, the bile flows freely to the intestines, stimulating these organs and soon everything is going fine. What a pleasure it is to enjoy your meals and feel that there will be no discomfort afterwards.

Gov't Tightens Exemption Rules for Men Called Up Under Training Plan

OTTAWA, Oct. 9 (CP) — The Department of National War Services announced today amendments to National War Services regulations broadening "the powers governing the effective use of manpower for the successful prosecution of the war, in the national interest and the economy of the nation."

The amendments to the regulations, to be effective when they appear in an extra editinn of the Canada Gazette which is expected within the next 24 hours, decree that:

"When ruling on applications for postponement (of compulsory military training) made by any man engaged in a war industry, a seasonal occupation, the boards are now to take into account the supply of available labor and the importance of the individual man called out for military training to war industry or to the national economy and always in the national interest."

The statement from the department said war services Minister Thorson "may declare an occupation to be a seasonal one or one essential to the successful prosecution of the war or in the national interest."

The regional boards have the power to grant an advancement or postponement order for military training when they are of the opinion that it is in the national interest to do so.

No postponement may be for more than six months but under the the local board may grant one or more extensions.

There is the safeguarding provision that at any time the board may cancel the postponement for military reasons or for cause. The amendments specifically state that there shall be no exemption and no indefinite postponement of military training.

Penalties are provided for any person concerned in the administration of the regulations who accepts bribes or gifts to grant a postponement of military training or issues a certificate of physical or medical unfitness.

The penalty is a fine not exceeding $5000 and not less than $100 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years and not less than six months, or to both the fine and imprisonment, and in default of payment of fine to a further imprisonment.

For convenience, it now may be ruled that the age class of any man will be the year in which he was born. To avoid delays the Minister has power to appoint a member to a board to fill in during the absence of any other member. Under the previous regulations, it was necessary to notify a man selected for military service by registered mail. This now is broadened to make personal service legal.

Canada Must Cut Gas by 10 Per cent

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 9 (CP)—G. R. Cottrelle, Canada's oil controller, warned today that "we must go on and prepare for a more serious situation than we have yet had to meet," when he addressed the Canadian Good Roads Association.

To carry on the war it is necessary to make a 10 per cent cut in gasoline consumption throughout the Dominion—or about 100,000,000 gallons, taken out of non-essential consumption, he said.

"Whether a 10 per cent cut is sufficient to meet the situation is a very serious question," he continued. "We do not know what the sinkings will be next month. We do not know th efull result of the outcome in Southern Russia.

"We have exhausted every facility of which we know in the effort to determine to what extent it is safe or possible for us to depend upon the U. S. for a supply of aviation gasoline. We have come to the conclusion that we must not put ourselves in that position—we must take the aviation gasoline out of the crude which we bring in," he emphasized.

"Those who say that we should close down our refineries and should buy refined products, if they know what they are saying, are advising us in this country to stop our commonwealth air training plan."

SECRET TORPEDO TO BE MADE IN U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP) — Great Britain has developed a highly secret, new type torpedo which will be manufactured in the United States with money from the second Lease-Lend Fund.

All details about the new underwater projectile are carefully guarded, but its manufacture will require special productive facilities.

Rear Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, gave a House appropriations subcommittee some information about the new torpedo, but indicated production would not be started for almost a year.

Young Prisoners Are Keen Fascists

BOSTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Lt.-Cmdr. S. H. Norris of the British destroyer Firedrake, here for repairs including the patching of a few bomb fragment holes, wears two bits of ribbon on his chest.

One, the Distinguished Service Order, was awarded for sinking an Italian submarine in the Mediterranean. The other, for sinking a German U-boat in the Atlantic After disabling both, he saved the crews.

Of his Italian prisoners, the 38-year-old Commander said:

"The younger men were keen Fascists; the older were not so much in favor of the war. They hadn't much use for the Germans."

Of his German prisoners, he said: "The German crew was very keen. Most of them were young fellows, 18 to 23. The older men didn't think so much of it, but the young men were very well drilled in Nazi doctrine."

Near the Firedrake is the H.M.S. California, formerly a palatial Anchor liner, now an armed merchant cruiser with drab paint. She has gone unscathed in 100,000 miles of travelling through war zones.

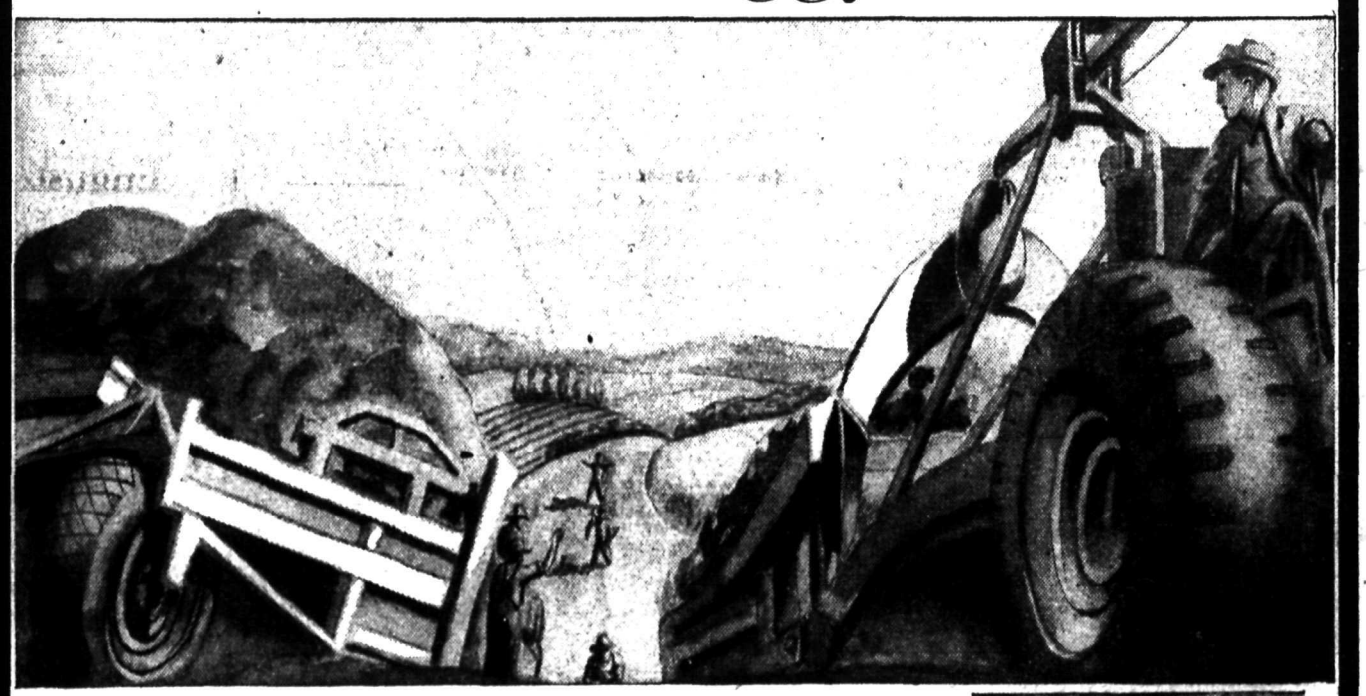
Can Our Highways Of Tomorrow Spring From Horse and Buggy Minds?



A HIGHWAY COMMISSION WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU?

Since 1933 more than $15,000,000 of your money has been spent on British Columbia highways. Do you know what value you got for this sum?

Has the Fraser Canyon route ever been modernized? No. Is there a Provincial Highway to Northern British Columbia? No. Is there any highway connection between Prince Rupert and the Interior? No. There is no Southern Provincial highway. Nor is there any proper connection between Nelson and the United States.

Not a thing has been done to the Hope-Princeton route (one of our greatest necessities) since 1933. During the height of this season's tourist traffic the Vancouver Island highway was in such deplorable condition the road had to be closed down for repairs. A Highway Commission will take our highways out of politics.

As a Private Citizen?
Have you often wondered why there should be such a marked difference between our highways and those of the State of Washington? It is not because they spend more money than we do, so much as their money is spent under the direction of a highway commission such as we advocate for British Columbia. Greater tourist revenue will ease the financial burden for all and make taxes easier for you as a private citizen.

For Farm Prosperity?
Think what such a system of modern highways would mean to our great agricultural communities. It would provide fast and efficient access to their markets and increase our population. From this immigration everyone in every line of business is benefitted.

For National Defense?
Regardless of the direction from which the threatened blow may come, British Columbia has had ample warning from the fate of other countries as to the desirability of well-integrated defense highways. The time to build them is now, not when the enemy hammers at our gates.

Good Roads, Good Times!

Bad Example Set by Putting Off Everyday Tasks

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

I am writing this article today because I don't want to do another job I ought to do but have been putting off for months. This I find a pleasure; that promises no satisfaction to me. A certain Harvard professor, I am told, has had a half a dozen scientific studies nearly ready for publication for several years. Some of them would take but a few hours for completion.

That's nothing; some mothers reading this article have dresses which have gone wholly out of style, awaiting a few stitches here or a button there (I suppose I'm out of date concerning buttons), any of which could have been done in about ten minutes.

A CONFESSION

And here I inflict this confession upon you because I am trying to fool myself that I am doing something useful wen I really have my back toward what I actually believe to be a duty. I suppose we all are guilty of such cowardice. Nothing to boast about, to be sure, since it does not bespeak a well-trained will.

We certainly do not want our children to form the habit of so avoiding little hardships and then of fooling themselves that they are spending their time profitably all the while. The effort at escape is not so bad, perhaps, as the self-delusion. Curiously enough, we can fool ourselves into almost anything. We first do wat we want to do, or what we find for a moment least distasteful or most satisfying, and then we proceed to reason with ourselves that we should have done so; and we usually are convinced. Sometimes with a little lurking doubt we proceed to persuade those about us that our action was justified.

We are tempted often, and we often fail in our relations to our children. We hesitate, for instance, to make a decision which concerns them; instead, we let the matter go until it works out the easy way but the way we would not have chosen had we manifested courage. Then we fool ourselves that we were not responsible. We may defend a decision which we know very well has been a wrong one, merely to escape acknowledgement of having erred. Or we may reverse a decision following a strong objection by the child, giving as our reason something we have declined ourselves to think as the real reason, when we merely lacked the spine to stand by what we had known to be right.

When our children so run away from duty let us be charitable. They probably are only imitating us. Certainly they are seeking temporary relief just as we frequently have done. But if we can lead them to face the task before them always honestly, and if we cultivate in them the habit of sticking by the job despite the little hardships that arise, we are contributing character in them and building up assurance of their later happiness.

PEPLUMS PREFERRED

When you look at the new frocks, no matter whether they are designed for day or evening wear, the chances are that the dresses that take your eye, will have peplums. This is especially true of frocks designed for the slim or youthful type. For the more mature figue the peplum is extended into a tunic line. This smart frock fashioned of black celanese rayon crepe, features fairly long peplum, gracefully rippled. The side-draped bodice is fastened with simulated gilt hairpins. A good choice for gay late afternoon doings, especially when worn with black suede gloves, a black suede bag overlaid with gilt kidskin, and this charming velvet hat with its pointed brim.

Windsors Stop Train for Dogs

CALGARY, Oct. 9 (CP)—Detto, Pooky, and Breezy, cairn terriers owned by the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, almost got left behind last night when the train on which the Duke and Duchess are travelling stopped at Bassano, Alta., for coal and water.

An attendant who took the dogs for a walk during the 10-minute halt didn't notice the train was leaving until it was in motion. He jumped aboard but couldn't lift the dogs after him, so leaped back to the platform.

The Duke and Duchess saw his plight and stopped the train about a quarter of a mile down the track.

Watch the Child When Playing for Visual Defects

By LOGA McLENDENING, M.D.

Children do not tell you of their visal difficulties, because they are not aware that they exist. So we have to detect them by the behavior of the child.

A child of six years with normal vision for his years has an eye that is well adapted for seeing objects twenty feet away. But in any group of children there will be found some who can not get a clear image of objects that far away. And there are some who get blurred images of objects no matter how far away they are. The power of fusion should be developed at six years, but it isn't always. Likewise the perception of depth.

To detect these difficulties the parent or teacher must notice behavior. When a child likes to throw a ball or roll it across a floor, but makes no effort to catch it when thrown to him from a distance his vision should be examined. When a group on the playground excitedly watch an airplane, and there is one child who appears puzzled as to what all the fuss is about, he too should have his eyes looked at.

Have you watched a child who is playing with a small wagon stop occasionally as if to brush away a fly from his eyes? Have you noted the same child with a group of others hanging over a fence to watch a passing train? Have you observed a tenseness in his body, a puckering of the face not apparent in the others?

These and many other actions testify to blurred vision either at a distance or close at hand.

SERIAL STORY - - - By RICHARD HOUGHTON

Death at the Switch

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

Henry told him about the man who had tried to kill him by dropping rocks on him in the well. "I could tell it was a man by the way he moved," Henry explained. "It was a man swinging that shovel. And a woman couldn't handle those big rocks so easily."

"Could it have been Laurence? He lives over in that general neighborhood."

"I can't imagine him trying to kill me."

"Any man might—if he thought you had found proof he was a murderer."

"But I haven't. I'm just as much in the dark as I was when King found Ives lying there in the dispatcher's room." Henry gazed over the countryside. "I wonder what the sheriff is discovering?"

Spinelli lighted a cigarette. "Probably nothing. I doubt that there'll be a single piece of new evidence when the inquest is held tomorrow. Seems to me the police and sheriff don't know how to investigate a murder. What about this man John Jones? Is he a detective? Why doesn't he do something?"

"He's investigating for the company in which Ives was insured. Ives' violent death means that the insurance company will have to pay double — and Ives had a big policy."

"That's interesting," Spinelli's long thin hand rested on his knee, drooping the forgotten cigarette. His eyes almost shut. "I wonder. . . ."

"Yes?"

"Never mind. It was just a thought." He looked up. "Here's the sheriff's car coming up the drive. He's back in a hurry."

The officer alighted and motioned them to follow him into the basement room. "What did you find?" Spinelli asked.

The officer grunted. "Plenty!" He swung the door open and ushered them in. "Someone tried to shoot King all right!"

The others crowded around. The taxi driver, being beyond suspicion, showed his curiosity even more than the rest.

"A shotgun was fastened against the wall of King's house, with a string tied to pull the trigger when the window was opened," the sheriff announced. "Luckily for Mr. King, he didn't stick his head out or it would have been blown off. Any of you know who owns a shotgun?"

"G-gosh!" said Pete, "most everyone in the village owns a shotgun. Use 'em to shoot rabbits in their gardens."

"Well, there's one shotgun missing from the murderer's house," the officer told them grimly. "I'm going to check every one of your homes!"

"Can't do it without search warrants," Spinelli reminded him.

"Oh, I can't? If you've got nothing to hide you'll invite me in!"

"The gun probably was stolen."

"Then why hasn't anyone reported a gun stolen?"

"Ay tank better you look for fingerprints," Hans suggested.

"Don't kid me!" the officer told him sharply. "This killer is smart. He doesn't leave fingerprints."

"Sounds like the work of a dumb man to me," observed Laurence. "He must know the gun can be traced. If Mr. Spinelli doesn't want his house searched—that shows how dumb he is!"

Henry protested. "Laurence!"

Spinelli clutched Henry's arm again. "Never mind," he drew him aside and whispered. "My idea's clicking! Henry, was that a big man who dropped rocks on you from the top of the well?"

"I don't think so. He climbed the ladder without breaking it—and my weight broke it."

"I knew it! Are you game for more private investigating tonight—with my help? It may be dangerous."

"Anything to get out of this mess."

"Okay. Meet me at the fork of the old tunnel road at 8 tonight. Don't tell anyone!"

The sheriff was speaking. "I can't arrest you all, but I'm warning you that each of your houses will be watched by one of my deputies tonight, and if any of you tries to run out on me. . . ."

Blame the Stars for Extra Weight

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Whether you hold out for a palmistry or astrology, you will be interested to learn there is a theory that your birth month exerts an influence on your weight. Those born under the sign of Pisces, February 21 to March 20, had better count calories furiously or they will be fat by the time they are 30!

My authority for this and other prognostications to follow is David Argo. Mr. Argo reads the stars for the patrons of a restaurant, and he has had excellent opportunity to observe the close affinity between birthdates and pounds. He thinks it's not how old you are but the date you were born that makes you susceptible to fat. (I contend it's your susceptibility to calories).

At any rate, Mr. Argo declares the people who are born under the Pisces sign are the ones who have the greatest trouble keeping thir weight within bounds. "This is the sign of the two fishes, one swimming upstream and the other down," he explains, "and they have to put up an almost constant struggle between the emotions and the intellect."

Taurus, which rules from April 21 to May 20, is another bad sign as far as weight goes. "These people usually are stocky," Mr. Argo asserts. Sometimes they have tremendous bony structure. They have thick necks and round faces."

The Libra people, those born between September 24 and October 23, are designated the handsome ones of the Zodiac and are practically a pushover for obesity. "They are averse to hard work and are apt to be pampered," is Mr. Argo's succinct comment. Both Taurus and Libra are ruled by Venus and that's bad.

The Scorpians, born October 24 to November 22, are some others who can watch their step on the scales. They gain weight very easily. In fact, it's a pleasure.

Those born under Aries, March 21 to April 21, are more aggressive and have more will power. Coincidentally, they are tall and slender and excess weight is not apt to be one of their worries.

The Virgo people, August 23 to September 23, are slim. But Mr. Argo says they haven't any reason to be glad about it because most of them, fully 80 per cent, suffer from stomach ulcers.

The people born under Gemini, May 21 to June 21, don't have to watch their weight. Both the Virgo and Gemini people are nervous types and that keeps their weight down.

I still contend it's calories!

New Nelson I.O.O.F. Lodge Rooms Officially Opened by Grand Master

New lodge rooms of Kootenay Lodge No. 16 were officially opened Monday night by Charles Tewnion, Grand Master of Odd-Fellows in British Columbia, when he made his official visit to the Nelson Lodge. The official opening was attended by Rebekahs headed by the President of the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia, Mrs. M. Somerville of Victoria; by Theta Rho girls and by a gathering of district members comprising one of the most representative Odd-Fellows gatherings in Nelson in years. W. L. Hicks of Slocan City, Deputy Grand Master, was among the visitors.

The visitors included 12 from Kaslo, 10 from Slocan City, one from Castlegar, two from Trail and two from Sheep Creek.

JEWELS TO VETERANS

Presentation of veteran's jewels to three members was another feature, Mr. Tewnion being assisted by the Rebekah President in making the presentations. The recipients were Paul Phillips of Trail, long a member of the Nelson Lodge, who received a 30-year jewel; J. H. Lemmon, 35-year jewel; and D. H. Proudfoot, 40-year jewel.

The Grand Master's official visit was paid during a short lodge session. After he had been officially received, lodge was closed, and the Rebekahs and Theta Rho girls joined the gathering for the official opening of the lodge room.

Among the Grand Lodge officers attending besides Mr. Tewnion and Mrs. Somerville were J. R. Hunter, Nelson, Grand Treasurer; William Houston, Castlegar, Past Grand Patriarch; and D. H. Proudfoot, of Nelson, Past Grand Master.

URGES AID CANTEEN FUNDS

Over 100 were served at a banquet in the upper hall at which Mr. Tewnion delivered an inspiring address on the work of the Order. He stressed its united war effort and the urgent need of more funds to carry out the undertaking to purchase two mobile canteens for overseas service.

Mrs. Somerville spoke of Rebekah work, and also urged wholehearted support.

Other speakers included Mr. Hunter, Mr. Proudfoot, Mr. Houston and Mrs. Tewnion, wife of the Grand Master.

The Nelson Lodge was congratulated repeatedly on the new lodge rooms. The middle floor of the I.O.O.F. building has been taken over and completely renovated. New flooring has been laid, new lighting has been installed and repainting and other redecoration work has been undertaken, with the objective of making it one of the finest lodge rooms in the City.

Nelson Refugee Workers Do Their "Bit for Britain"

Under the capable direction of Mrs. T. W. Brewer, the Nelson Centre of the National Committee on Refugees has been in full swing for the past 18 months, fulfilling its part in Canada's War Effort, ever since its initial meeting in 1940.

Every Tuesday and Friday the volunteer women who compose the local centre can be seen sewing, mending, and generally repairing, wherever necessary, the articles sent in by a countless number of war workers.

Throughout the Kootenays, organizations such as Church Circles, Sewing Circles and school clubs, heeding the appeals of the Committee, have readily responded by sending in items which are liable to be lost in the bombing of homes in Britain.

Two ladies are kept busy packing and sorting the "V Bundles" which, since Christmas, have been sent out each month for shipment overseas.

The work of these women is entirely voluntary, and many give up time at home to do this splendid work for refugees. Expenses are very light, money being needed only for the purchase of threads, elastic, dye and tapes for repair work.

Nelson Always Likes to Hear Him

Nelson always delights to welcome Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, who will speak here tonight. Nelson likes this able and good humored Victorian with his Irish brogue and gift for pleasant and effective speaking.

Some of us may think he permits his colleagues to spend too much money—especially in districts other than Kootenay—but we recognize the qualities he has shown as Finance Minister in the Oliver, MacLean and Pattullo Governments.

Critics of the huge and unfortunately still increasing British Columbia Governmental expenditures will admit that but for John Hart things might have been very much worse.

His grasp of Provincial finances, and of finance in the broader continental sense is unquestionable. John Hart is an able man.

Occupied Countries Waiting for the Day

Military conquest of a country does not finish the job if the conqueror employs upon the conquered every species of oppression and victimization.

Hitler is holding the countries overrun by his armies, only by sword, the Gestapo, the concentration camp, and the firing squad.

So the natural hate of the subject peoples—most of whom were at peace with Germany when the invader struck—has been fanned to fever heat.

That the trouble into which Hitler is now running is serious cannot longer be concealed. The very desperation with which his strong-arm squads are shooting rebellious leaders is an indication of the genuineness of the revolt movement. Hitler cannot subdue any nation by terrorism. He can, at best, keep rebellious elements under cover, and they are always ready, given hope and a rallying point, to spring to arms in an attempt at self-liberation.

The spreading tide of revolt, which now extends from Norway to Greece, has not yet attained proportions actually dangerous to Nazi sovereignty. There is still little chance of an armed uprising that will throw out the conquerors. This may never come while the enslaved people are left to rely on their own strength.

The unrest and militant indignation, however, are paving the way for invasion of the Nazi-occupied countries that is sure to come. When the Germans drove into these countries, they faced a people who, though they constituted a frightened rabble, were definitely hostile to the invaders. The British will find a population only awaiting the chance to spring to their support.

But German brutality has solidified the covert opposition.

All the "occupied countries" are now filled with peoples determined to strike for home and freedom when the time comes. Life itself will not count in that day—is not counting now with those who are paying for acts of sabotage.

Ultimately, universal revolt in all countries under the German spurred heel will play a part in the condign defeat that Germany will suffer.

Today's Horoscope

Provided you do nothing rash and are cautious in all things, the next year will be most successful for you who have birthdays today. Recognition or promotion, also some domestic trouble are portended by your stars. Very active, energetic, enterprising, ambitious and generous will the child be who is born on this date. Such a one will be highly intellectual, talented and fortunate, except possibly with elders and some friends.

Letters to the Editor

Letters may be published over a nom de plume, but the actual name of the writer must be given to the Editor as evidence of good faith. Anonymous letters go in the waste paper basket.

Writers on political questions between now and election day are requested to make their letters as short as possible. During the last two or three days the Daily News has received a deluge of letters, some of which it has been necessary to abbreviate.

Why Were Workers Not There to Hear?

To the Editor:

Sir—I would like to express in your paper my disappointment in the shocking lack of public interest in the present election. There were only some 40 or 50 people at the meeting held by the C.C.F. candidate Tuesday night, practically all of whom were elderly men. Where were the women voters, the middle aged, and the young people?

I think it is a shame that not more working people in Nelson heard about the many social injustices under which they are suffering; that they did not have the chance of seeing the amply proportioned candidate filled with rage and indignation as he told of the shame of malnutrition throughout Canada.

Why were the fathers and mothers of our school children not there to hear the Chairman plead for equality with the one in Russia, where high school students are promoted on the basis of examinations instead of favoritism?

I am shocked to remember the indifference of the audience when Mr. Castleden, the member for Yorkton, Saskatchewan, revealed that some man in "Who's Who" had framed the Timber Royalty Act, which deprived the people of our Province of one of their most important natural resources. Why did the candidate not inform the speaker that the Act prevented the lumber companies from freely exploiting our forests? Why is it that not one member of the party came forward with the truth to say that the millions of dollars received from timber royalties, licences and sales are one of the chief sources of financing the highest standard of social services in Canada?

Perhaps, Mr. Editor, you, or one of your readers, can explain the neglect of our working people to attend meetings held in their behalf. I am also anxious for someone to tell me why the local chairman or the candidate did not correct the Prairie speaker's remarks about our Timber Royalty Act.

Quotes Province on the Choice of Leary

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—I take the liberty of writing to you at this time a letter which I hope you will publish in your paper.

The information contained, I think, is of vital interest to the voters of the Slocan country in particular and to the entire Kootenay District as a whole. We are fortunate in having the Minister of Public Works a member from the Kootenay country.

The following article appeared in the Vancouver Province at the time Mr. C. S. Leary, M.L.A., of Nakusp, was appointed Minister of Public Works. It should be of interest to all:

"Had he searched the Legislature through, as perhaps he did, Premier Pattullo could not have found a man more highly popular with all parties than his new Minister of Public Works. Captain C. S. Leary is liked and trusted for his human qualities. He is liked and trusted also for his independence.

"For five years or more he has been Liberal whip at Victoria, and quite a competent whip, too. But he has not sunk himself in his party, and on matters with which he had an intimate acquaintance has not hesitated to criticize government policy.

"Capt. Leary is a lumberman, and is well aware that the forest policy of the Pattullo Government is not by any means what it should be. Repeatedly Capt. Leary has pointed to the need of taking more thought for the future of our forests. Hitherto he has been, like other friends of the forests, a voice crying in the wilderness. Now that he is in the inner councils, it is to be hoped his voice will have more effect."

And it has been seen that his voice is effective, far more so than the voice of someone who is not personally acquainted with our problems.

Roosevelt, Not "Duff" Boosted Gold-Haggen; "Blue Sky" Tory Baby

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Do your headline writers lack a sense of the ludicrous? Imagine New Denver giving a "rousing reception" to poor old Dugald Donaghy, or "Cheering Throngs" lining the Slocan Valley to honor "King Johnny"!

Dugald seems to have been among the Liberal discards of late, but has now been retained to endeavor to save Sid from the hands of the Public Executioner at the polling booths. From all reports, Slocan Liberals and Conservatives seem to be making some plain remarks about each other, the electors assuming that each is telling the truth.

Now just why does Dugald claim that the Pattullo Government is responsible for the upward trend in B. C. mine production since 1932? Surely he is not like Bret Harte's heathen Chinee—"The same with intent to deceive."

$35 GOLD DID IT

Primarily the upward move was due to the rise in the price of gold from $20 to $35 following the inauguration of President Roosevelt. Duff had nothing to do with that, though he does try to hitch hike on the Roosevelt coat-tails, as does the Conservative candidate in Rossland-Trail. Secondarily, since 1937, the base metals, lead, zinc and copper, have been in demand. Until the war started, the market was chiefly among the aggressor nations of Europe and Asia. Since then, Britain and the U.S. get the metal. The new camps in B.C. have come into existence in spite of, not because of help from the Mines Department.

It was the Conservative Government that put on the statutes the restrictions against certain mine finance practices. Now they brazenly ignore their own baby.

The present Liberal regime did, to my knowledge, allow a deal whereby English investors were induced to put money into a B.C. mine on terms which provided that, out of every dollar invested, 60 cents went to the brokers and 40 cents to the treasury.

HEDLEY AMALGAMATED HUSHED

And surely Mr. Donaghy is tactless to mention Hedley Amalgamated in support of any member of the Pattullo Government, for many electors have not forgotten the stink that attached to the suppression of the Richmond report, and to the whole pre-unloading circumstances attached to the case. In any other British country it would have caused the retirement of the Minister in charge of the Department. Incidentally, no Mining Engineer was jailed, or even tried on a criminal charge, in connection with Hedley, so Mr. Donaghy's remark, as reported, is entirely false.

In your columns appears one other "joke". Did any Kootenay prospector, within the last decade, ever manage to get help, or even a polite hearing, from a Vancouver broker?

I believe the lead-zinc mines of Slocan are idle largely because Trail Smelter is able to feed its plant to capacity from its own Sullivan Mine. The Smelter rates and deductions are so high that they effectively bar shipment of most outside ores and concentrates. Whether these rates are justified may be debatable, but the cold fact is that they prevent mining in Slocan except for exceptionally rich ore and exportable concentrates.

R. W. HAGGEN.

R. S. T., Wynndel — Where did the term "Black Friday" originate?

That name was given to Friday, December 6, 1745; and Friday, May 11, 1866. A financial panic resulted in London, England, on the former date because the Highlanders were at Derby under Charles Edward. The second panic was due to the failure of a great banking firm in Great Britain. There have also been Black Fridays in the United States for financial reasons.

Shiners Make Good Sardines in P. E. I.

A new feature of the fishery industry of Canada is the canning of silversides as "sardines" by a Prince Edward Island firm. In 1940 some 800 cases of this fish were marketed in this form.

The scallop fishery in the 1940-41 season in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia reported a marked increase. These two provinces supply the bulk of the Canadian scallop catch, but there are smaller takings in Prince Edward Island and Quebec.

Canada's sardine industry centres off Southwestern New Brunswick, where the pack is made up of immature herring (Clupea harengus). In 1939, however, experiments were undertaken by a Prince Edward Island company in canning silversides (Menidia notata), small silvery fish which run into the inlets and estuaries along the island's coast in big schools. The fish were reported to make a satisfactory pack and in 1940 canning was undertaken on a somewhat more extensive scale, some 800 cases of silversides being canned. Silversides are taken in two seasons in the Island, first in January, February and March with a second run in October, November and December. The fish are very numerous in King's County where the cannery is located. Hitherto the silversides have not been of much commercial importance, though large quantities of them have been used as food for foxes on the Island's numerous fur farms. Development of the sardine-type pack indicates that a more profitable outlet may now be available.

The scallop landings in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in the season October, 1940, to April, 1941, totalled 60,322 shelled gallons as compared with 56,269 gallons in the 1939-40 season, the Dominion Department of Fisheries reports. The landed value rose from $102,900 to $107,900. In New Brunswick the takings rose from 8729 to 14,507 gallons; and in Nova Scotia from 43,540 to 45,815 gallons. Practically all of the Canadian scallop catch it marketed fresh, though a small quantity is occasionally canned. The greater part of the scallop catch is ordinarily marketed in the United States, though in recent years a considerable quantity has been purchased by Canadian markets.

VICE-PRESIDENT SIGHTS ANTI-TANK GUN

Vice-President Henry A. Wallace, of United States, sights a 37MM anti-tank gun mounted on an armored car during an inspection of the Fort Belvoir, Va., army base. WHAT BURGLARS MISSED

Lying in wait until a barred door was opened to admit a messenger, three armed men looted Hollywood's Paul E. Flato jewelry establishment of an estimated $50,000 in gems—but missed the "big stuff" because it was in use at a motion picture studio. Among the items which the men apparently expected to find were $120,000 in rings and other jewels which only the day before had been loaned for Marlene Dietrich to wear in a film scene. Marlene Dietrich is shown wearing some of the "big stuff".

GANGSTER GUNS TO ARM HOME GUARD

U. S. BOMBERS ARRIVING IN ENGLAND BY AIR AND SEA

"Give us the tools," asked John Bull of the U. S., and he must have found a partial answer in the wide assortment of fighters and bombers that came to British ports in a recent convoy. The docks immediately became a hive of industry as prominent government officials watched the planes check in. This bomber was swung to the pier by a giant crane. Three days later it was in the air. The shipment was part of the "lend-lease" aid from the U. S. Many bombers go to Britain by way of the Atlantic ferry service, but not this one, as the photo shows.

Roosevelt.

Roosevelt Urges Speedy Revision of Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP) —President Roosevelt, asserting it was time for the United States to "stop playing into Hitler's hands, and to unshackle our own," urged Congress today to revise the Neutrality Act speedily to permit the arming of American merchant vessels.

In a special message he also left the door open for further revision later to wipe out another major prohibition, that preventing American cargo ships to travel to belligerent ports.

Saying that Hitler "has offered a challenge which we as Americans can not and will not tolerate," the President said:

"We will not let Hitler prescribe the waters of the world on which our ships must travel. The American flag is not going to be driven from the seas either by his submarines, his airplanes, or his threats.

"We can not permit the affirmative defence of our rights to be annulled and diluted by sections of the Neutrality Act which have no realism in the light of unscrupulous ambition of madmen.

"We Americans have determined our course.

"We intend to maintain the security and integrity and the honor of our country.

"We intend to maintain the policy of protecting the freedom of the seas against domination by any foreign power which has become crazed with a desire to control the world. We shall do so with all our strength and all our heart and all our mind."

Administration leaders moved rapidly to implement the President's message, introducing bills in both Houses to repeal the Neutrality Act provision against the arming of American merchant vessels.

Declaring it was obvious that world conditions had changed violently since the first Neutrality Act was passed in 1939, the President said:

"The revisions which I suggest do not call for a declaration of war any more than the Lend-Lease Act called for a declaration of war. This is a matter of essential defence of American rights."

Mr. Roosevelt said it was an "imperative need now to equip American merchant vessels with arms."

"We are faced," the President said, "not only with the old type of pirates but with the modern pirates of the sea who travel beneath the surface or on the surface or in the air destroying defenceless ships without warning and without provision for the safety of the passengers and crews."

He then continued: "There are other phases of the Neutrality Act to the correction of which I hope the congress will give earnest and early attention. One of these provisions is of major importance.

"I believe that it is essential to the proper defence of our country that we cease giving the definite assistance which we are now giving to the aggressors. For, in effect, we are inviting their control of the seas by keeping our ships out of the ports of our friends.

"It is time for this country to stop playing into Hitler's hands and to unshakle our own."

The President said that most of the vital goods authorized by Congress in the Lend-Lease Act were being delivered to Hitler's enemies, yet many were being sent to the bottom of the ocean. As this country approaches full production requiring the use of more ships now being built, he added, it would be "increasingly necessary to deliver American goods under the American flag."

"We can not, and should not," he continued, "depend on the strained resources of the exiled nations of Norway and Holland to deliver our goods nor should we be forced to masquerade American-owned ships behind the flags of our sister republics.

Asserting Hitler was marshalling all his resources, mechanical force, and manpower to crush both Russia and Britain and that the Fuehrer was "racing against time," he said:

"Therefore, it is our duty, as never before, to extend more and more assistance and ever more swiftly to Britain, to Russia, to all peoples and individuals fighting slavery. We must do this without fear or favor. The ultimate fate of the Western Hemisphere lies in the balance."

WOMAN OF 78 IS QUITE SPRY FOR HER AGE

Health Surprisingly Good

Aches and pains are not inevitable in old age. When they do come, there is always a cause for them. Here is a little lesson on growing old, by a woman of 78:—

"For the last five years I have taken Kruschen Salts and I tell you truthfully I don't know what I would do without them. I am 78 years old. I have hardly a pain in my body, and I feel years younger than my actual age. I give the credit to Kruschen Salts. No one will believe I am 78."

—(Mrs.) C. M.

Many people from middle life and on, suffer, because they neglect one vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness. Eventually they start the Kruschen habit. Then, probably for the first time in years, they start getting rid every day of the waste matter from the system. They begin to feel energetic and happy. In a word, they've got that "Kruschen Feeling." (Advt.)

"Any Amount however small is worth while"

BOY: "Gee, dad, look at this. I got my first pay today!"

FATHER: "Well, well, that's great. Son, you'll be earning money regularly from now on. I want you to get the habit of saving a part, each payday It's easy to learn, when you're young."

BOY: "But Gosh, dad, I'm not making much to start."

FATHER: "That makes no difference. Any amount, however small, is worthwhile. That's ALWAYS good advice, but right now, it's doubly valuable."

BOY: "Why's that?"

FATHER: "Because we've got to win this war. And that means we've got to have guns, ships, planes, and tanks—more and more of them."

BOY: "But what's that got to do with my saving?"

FATHER: "A great deal. Put your money into War Savings Certificates, to keep our soldiers, sailors, and airmen supplied with all the things they need. In that way you'll be doing your bit for Canada, and making money at the same time. For each four dollars you invest will be worth $5 in seven and one-half years."

The help of every Canadian is needed for Victory. In these days of war the thoughtless, selfish spender is a traitor to our war effort. A reduction in personal spending is now a vital necessity to relieve the pressure for goods, to enable more and more labour and materials to be diverted to winning the war. The all-out effort, which Canada must make, demands this self-denial of each of us.

R.A.F. CASUALTIES

LONDON, Oct. 9 (CP.-Cable) — Three Canadian airmen were listed killed in action in the Royal Air Force's 84th casualty list issued tonight, which contained 250 names.

Following is the list of Canadians and their next of kin:

Previously reported missing, now presumed killed in action—Arthurs, K. N., Pilot Officer, from Parry Sound, Ont.

The Air Ministry officially listed him as missing the next day.

PO. Cutmore was listed as missing, believed killed in action June 8, 1941.

Planes for Britain Under Lease Lend Plan May Be Built in Canada

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (CP) — Torpedo-carrying planes for the Royal Navy may be built in Canada under the United States Lend-Lease Act, it was learned here today.

Capt. D. C. Ramsey of the United States Bureau of Aeronautics told the House of Representatives Sub-Committee reviewing Lend-Lease appropriations that it was impossible to fill all British orders for planes in the United States and there was a possiblity that some would be manufactured in Canada.

He said the reason orders might be placed in Canada was "on account of the tremendous increase in orders at the Consolidated Company, at San Diego, Calif.

Another witness before the Sub-Committee, Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, said total of major ornance contracts placed in Canada was $48,000,000, part of it subcontracted in the United States.

There was some criticism from committee members concernings wood pulp being supplied Britain under the Lend-Lease Act on the ground most of it could have been obtained directly from Canada. It was explained by Government officials however that some types could not be supplied by Canada and others if supplied would have disrupted Canadian-American commercial business. In these circumstances it was thought advisable to supply the pulp on a Lend-Lease basis.

First Campaign for N. S. Chiefs in Leaderships

HALIFAX (CP)—Men of different generations, the leaders of the Government and opposition in Nova Scotia have little in common as they head for an Oct. 28 general election. But in a single major respect they are as one: neither has ever led his party to the ballot boxes of the Province.

The span of 31 years separates the ages of Premier A. S. MacMillan, veteran of 21 years in politics, and leonard W. Fraser, who had held no political office up until a year ago but now leads the Conservative opposition. The premier is 70; his opponent 39.

The premier has been through four Nova Scotia election campaigns, though never at the head of his Liberal party. It was not until June of 1940 that he became the head of the party when Premier Angus L. Macdonald was called to Ottawa to become Minister of National Defence for Naval Services. He started off unsuccessfully in 1920, but thereafter was never headed at the polls, winning in 1926, 1933 and 1937.

Mr. MacMillan missed the 1925 general election because he was then a member of the appointive Legislative Council — the upper House now abolished. He was chairman of the Nova Scotia Highways Board from 1920 to 1924, when he became Minister of Highways. He held that ministry until 1928, when the Liberal Government fell.

Advent of another Liberal administration in 1933 under Mr. Macdonald saw him back in the highways job, which also embraces public works. He exchanged that portfolio last year for the provincial secretaryship, which means he is Minister of Finance.

Mr. Fraser, the opposition leader, a Halifax lawyer, had his first experience at the polls when he contested Bugsborough unsuccessfully in the 1933 general election. He was president of the Nova Scotia Conservative Association when he stepped into the provincial party leadership Oct. 9, 1941.

Army Voting Starts Overseas

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Oct. 9 (CP Cable)—This was Provincial Election day for British Columbia's fighting men and they filed into polling booths, some in barracks, others in burlap enclosures in the open air. Election day at home is Oct. 21.

Forty two polling stations for uniformed voters, established throughout the army camps, were open for three hours today and will be open again Friday and Saturday when the voting ends.

Another booth was established at British Columbia House in London for men on leave and others stationed nearby. It is open six hours daily.

There was no estimate of the number of eligible voters, but the two largest groups of army electors are the British Columbia infantry battalions of the 1st and 3rd divisions. The electorate also includes engineers and members of scores of other units.

Maj. B. M. Hoffmeister of Vancouver, in charge of voting in the 1st division, said: "There has been a considerable poll all day. My own company cast 40 votes out of a total strength of 140. A large number of men on duty won't be able to get to the polls until tomorrow."

In the 1st division there are 967 eligible voters scattered throughout 19 districts.

The keenest voters are in the 3rd division infantry regiment newly arrived from Canada. Capt. I. A. rounding of Victoria, their adjutant, said: "The boys are getting a real kick out of this field election."

There was only a trickle of voters at the London poll in the British Columbia recreation room where Norman Mackintosh, Press representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is deputy returning officer. Maj.-Gen. Victor Odlum was one of the first of some 20 appearing in the first two or three hours. There was none from the Navy or Air Force.

Lavender and Cress Tried as Substitutes for Pipe Tobacco

LONDON (CP)—Pipe-smoker Sir Stephen Tallents, faced with Britain's wartime tobacco shortage, started a lively flood of press suggestions for substitutes with a more or less frantic letter to The Times.

'Pipe tobacco is none too plentiful nowadays and briars are in short supply," wrote Sir Stephen, who is a BBC controller of overseas programs. "Can I persuade your readers to pool any experience they may have of home-grown substitutes for either?"

Sir Stephen reported experimenting with watercress and lavender and although his results were "instructive rather than alluring either to the smoker or those about him" he hoped to devise "some more tolerable blend" before Winter.

Proposals for substitutes were quick to follow. Within two days the Times printed a list of correspondents' suggestions—including raspberry leaves, sun-dried leaves of chrysanthemum and coltsfoot, a common English weed. But there was one "sour" note. E. P. Hart wrote: "For the problems of tobacco addicts there is a simple and satisfactory solution—to give up smoking."

"Any wide scale experiment with such substitutes (as weeds) may make the top of a bus a somewhat exciting place for a sensitive nose," the Manchester Guardian editorialized. "If it does not produce instant asphyxiation or hay fever there will be fine room for speculation on who is smoking lavender or dock-leaves and who has pinned his faith to watercress or sycamore leaves."

SOUTHEND-BY-SEAS, England (CP)—Seeing onions growing in a flower-bed on the cliff a visiting foundry-worker pulled seven of them (value sixpence) and was fined £2 ($9).

Britain Prepared to Smash Nazi Night Raiders

LONDON, Oct. 9 (CP)—Bad flying weather over the Continent prevented Royal Air Force bombing operations again last night, making the longest period of inactivity in British offensive aerial operations since the start of the German-Russian campaign.

The last R.A.F. night raid over the Continent was the night of Oct 3, when Nazi-occupied Rotterdam was a pincipal target.

A year ago the German Air Force was striking hard at Britain, even when weather conditions were foul.

The long lull in heavy German operations against Britain has been utilized in manufacturing and training efforts and Lt.-Gen. Sir Frederick Pile predicted that if the Nazi Air Force resumed night raids in force this Winter its losses would be twice those of last Winter.

Naval Trawler Sinks Nazi Sub

LONDON, Oct. 9 (CP)—A naval trawler, the Lady Shirley, was credited today with shelling and sinking a German submarine in a spirited battle at sea with what the Admiralty called a "larger and better-equipped adversary."

The Admiralty said the gun-layer of the Lady Shirley was killed by machine-gun fire from the U-boat, and his place was taken over immediately by an officer.

"After having been hit by several four-inch shells, the U-boat crew held their hands above their heads and shouted that they surendered," the Admiralty announced.

The submarine sank almost immediately and the Lady Shirley rescued 44 survivors, who were taken to Gibraltar as prisoners.

The King approved the award of the Distinguished Service Order to Lt.-Cmdr. A. H. Callaway, Commander of the trawler in the engagement.

New Type Planes in Test Flight

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 9 (AP)—Three new American interceptor pursuit planes whipped across an equally new airport here yesterday, their wing tips leaving vapor trails in the Autumn air, to signalize the start of quantity production of a novel airplane in a freshly-constructed factory.

The planes, known as Bell Airacobras, flew so fast their wings precipitated moisture from the air. Vapor trails ordinarily are deposited behind planes in flight only by exhaust gases.

U.S. Wonders How Germans Learned Contents of Letter

WASHINGTON Oct. 9 (AP) — The White House shared public mystification today on how the German Government learned what was in a letter President Roosevelt sent Premier Stalin, promising Russia aid against Germany.

Shephen Early, Presidential Secretary, said the United States Government did not know how it happened, but "the significant thing is the use the Germans tried to make of the letter."

Early added there was no reason why the letter should not have been released generally in Moscow since it was not regarded here as "confidential."

The Nazi news and propaganda agency, DNB, raised the curtain on the mystery in Berlin yesterday by distributing the purported text of Mr. Roosevelt's communication.

"When such a comparison is made," the White House statement said, "the propaganda objectives of the Nazi action becomes very clear."

A comparison disclosed wording of the body of both texts was identical, except for an occasional phrase here and there in the DNB version—and such variations were reported to be due largely to translation.

There were two pointed differences, however. Where the salutation in the White House text was "My Dear Mr. Stalin," the unofficial translation of DNB's version had it "my dear friend Stalin." Similarly with the conclusion — "Yours Very Sincerely" for the White House, and "Yours in Friendship" for DNB.

The White House aparently referred to these diferences when it spoke of Nazi "propaganda objectives."

Germans and Turks Sign Trade Pact

BERLIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—Conclusion of a German-Turkish trade treaty involving 200,000,000 riechs marks (nominally $80,000,000) on each side was announced officially today. It will run until March 31, 1943.

A spokesman said that the pact, signed today at Ankara, called on Germany to send war material and iron and steel products in return for Turkish exports of raw materials, principally cotton, tobacco, olive oil and minerals.

LONDON (CP). — Fighter plane take-off in the R. A. F. is done in seconds, but a new Air Ministry books prescribes 50 things the pilot has to do between the time he slips into the cockpit and rises from the ground.

HAIFA RAIDED

ROME, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Italian High Command said today strong formations of Italian bombers carried out a heavy raid on refineries and fuel depots at Haifa, Palestine, last night.

British planes carried out raids in several localities of the East Coast of Sicily, the High Command said.

SOLDIER SUCCUMBS TO STREET ACCIDENT

The Colisseum of Rome built in 82 B.C. had a capacity of 87,000 spectators.

Lots Other Big Fish Are Caught During Past Week

Pete Osby of Balfour, the outstanding fisherman in this year's Gyro Trout Derby, got another big one out of Kootenay Lake on the first day of this month, this fellow weighing 22½ pounds. The latest catch was exactly two pounds under the Derby's leader, also to the credit of Osby.

This catch of Osby's was good for fourth place, exceeded only by the Balfour man's 24½-pounder, C. P. Jeager of Spokane's 23 pound 4 ounce fish and Mrs. O. C. Thomas' fish weighing 23 pounds 1½ ounces.

Previously Osby had caught one weighing 18 pounds 11 ounces and another tipping the scales at 18 pounds. All his other fish were caught in May.

Osby's catch of Oct. 1 was the thirteenth exceeding the 20-pound mark this season.

The entry forms of six fine fish, headed by one weighing 19 pounds 2 ounces, caught by Kingsley Fleck of Nelson last weekend also have been received by E. E. Hopwood, Secretary of the Derby.

Mercos, Rossland Teams Ordered to Resume Semis

"This argument in the West Kootenay men's softball playoffs has got to be settled once and for all," stated Slim Porter, Nelson softball official, who is handling this year's playoffs for the Gilbert Rowling Memorial Trophy.

"Three teams, Rossland, Trail Mercos and Castlegar were entered this year, and they all paid their entry fees," Porter said. "Rossland and Trail were drawn to play in the semi-finals and Castlegar got the bye.

"I see where now the Trail Softball League has thrown the Mercos out of the playoffs just because they did not show up for a game that I myself postponed to this coming Sunday. Rossland won the first game last Sunday 6-3, but the second game originally scheduled for Wednesday was called off Monday night because of prospects of rain and because of the short evenings now.

ORDERS SEMIS GAME

"I'm acting for the trustees of the cup, and I say that the Trail League has no right butting into something that is none of its concern. Rossland showed up at Victoria Park last Wednesday, and claimed the game by default when the Mercos weren't there. And the Trail League upheld the claim. But I told Demore myself Monday night that the game was postponed to Sunday." Demore is the Manager of the Mercos.

Porter stated that he has ordered the Mercos and Rossland to play in Trail Sunday in the second game of the semis before either team can advance against Castlegar. If Rossland doesn't show up, he will disqualify the Golden City team and send the Mercos into the finals with the Millionaires.

"In any case this Rossland team shouldn't have been in the playoffs at all," Porter said. "Only one team is supposed to be entered from each town, but this Rossland outfit is actually a combination of the Warfield Aces and Saskatchewan Life. But since only two other teams would have competed this year, it was decided to let this other team in to make more interest."

D. DiMaggio Is Sued for Damages Caused When His Bat Slips

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9 (AP) — Dominic DiMaggio, Boston Red Sox baseball player, has been sued for $11,600 damages by Joseph W. Rodgers, Long Beach oil supply company executive, for injuries he charges he received at an exhibition baseball game at Wrigley Field here last October.

Rodgers alleged he suffered concussion and other injuries when DiMaggio's bat slipped from his hands and flew into the grandstand.

Lethbridge Puck Team to Take to Skates October 15

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Oct. 9 (CP) — Lethbridge Maple Leafs, champions of the Alberta Senior Amateur Hockey League and semi-finalists in the Allan Cup playdowns with Regina Rangers last season, will take to the artificial ice at the arena here Oct. 15 it was announced today.

Under the direction of their new playing-coach Riley (Moon) Mullin, formerly with Edmonton Flyers, who will not play this Winter, approximately 20 picksters will start preparations for the 1941-42 season in initial drills.

Names of those expected to turn out for practice were not released but Mullin stated the number gradually would be weeded out in preparation for a series of exhibition games with Regina's Allan Cup winning Rangers and Moose Jaw Millers of the Saskatchewan Senior League.

Lethbridge this year will play in the newly-formed Alberta-British Columbia circuit. Besides Lethbridge teams from Red Deer, Calgary and Trail and Kimberley in British Columbia form the loop.

Turner Valley Oilers and Edmonton dropped out of the Alberta senior loop, as neither team has a home rink, Edmonton's being taken over by the Federal Government while Nelson Maple Leafs withdrew affiliation with the new set-up at a meeting here last Sunday, when it was decided a larger subsidy — which they requested — could not be granted.

Salmon May Be Taught to Live in Fresh Water

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 9 (CP)—As an offshoot of the effects in Canada of the construction of huge power dams in the Western United States, experiments are being made to see if the salmon can live all its life in fresh water instead of making a migration to the sea, Hon. Charles Stewart, Chairman of the International Joint Commission, said today.

Yesterday the Commission met here to discuss an application for permission to raise the crest of Grand Coulee dam in Washington State to a point where it will cause some increase in the level of the Columbia and subsidiary rivers in Eastern British Columbia.

Mr. Stewart said no final order permitting the dam to be filled to peak level will be granted by the Commission until a test period has passed in which the effect of the high water level in Canada will be observed.

"One of the effects of the Grand Coulee dam construction has been to cut off the annual movement of salmon from the sea to fresh water which carried many of them up the Columbia into Canada," he said.

"It has been said that some salmon still remain in Canada fresh water areas which feed the Columbia, but there is some concern over the possibility that they will entirely disappear because of the cut-off.

Mr. Stewart said present proposals were that the United States should stock the river area above the Grand Coulee dam with rainbow trout if the salmon experiment is not successful.

With the dam filled to its crest, engineers said, water levels in British Columbia may be raised two and a half feet. Canadian interests had to be watched and engineers would pay close attention to the effect of the rising waters, Mr. Stewart said, but actual experience with the dam at maximum levels was desired.

Army Tactics Will Be Carried Right Into Their Football Team

FORT LEWIS, Wash., Oct. 9 (AP) "Calling Coach Tuttle! Calling Coach Tuttle! Pull Hank Smith out of left guard! He's been letting too many men through. That is all."

The United States Army's new technique in radio communication has reached the football field and if the idea spreads there are bound to be complications.

The experiment is to be made on Sunday, for the first time on any gridiron, when coaches of the Army's 41st Division football team try out two "walkie-talkie" radio sets during a game between the team of Seattle.

The plan is this: Lieut. Loren W. Tuttle, head coach, will pace up and down the side lines with a walkie-talkie strapped to his back. Assistant Coach John Hackenbruck will perch on the roof of the Press box with another portable set.

From his vantage point, Hackenbruck, former Oregon State and Detroit Lions star, will try to spot plays and openings not discernible to Tuttle.

Coaches Tuttle and Hackenbruck will have no difficulty procuring the necessary equipment, seeing as how the 41st Division uses 100 or more of the portable sets on field manoeuvres. The two-way voice sets weigh 20 pounds and hang on the back like a knapsack.

Jenkins-Angott Lightweight Title Bout Posponed; Lew's Rib Broken

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—The 15-round lightweight title fight scheduled for Oct. 31, in Madison Square Garden, between Lew Jenkins, recognized as the champion in New York, and Sammy Angott, N.B.A. king, today was postponed to allow Jenkins time to recover from a rib injury.

The New York State Athletic Commission approved the new date, tentatively set by Promoter Mike Jacobs as Dec. 19, when an X-ray showed Jenkins had a cortical fracture of the left 11th rib. Jenkins said he was injured about three weeks ago in a motorcycle accident and hence was not at his best in the Red Cochrane fight Monday night, which he lost after being floored five times.

Fred Browning, Manager of Jenkins, put up a $1500 forfeit and Jenkins was instructed to report for a physical examination Nov. 7. If Lew is not in good condition at that time, the Commision ruled he must forefeit his claim to the title, $750 to Charley Jones, Manager of Angott and the remainder to Promoter Mike Jacobs.

The new date is subject to Angott's approval.

Chairman John J. Phelan of the Commission said Jenkins' purse of approximately $7000, held up after the Cochrane fight, probably would be returned to him Tuesday.

A 10-round "handicap match" between Cochrane, welterweight champion from Elitzabeth, N.J., and Ray Robinson, New York Negro, for Oct. 31 in the Garden was announced by Jacobs. The bout replaces the postponed Jenkins-Angott fight.

Jacobs labelled the fight a handicap affair because Cochrane must make 145 pounds. Cochrane's title will not be at stake as the State Commission requires all championship fights to be over the 15-round route.

Cochrane's Manager, Willie Gilzenberg, said at Newark that his boy "definitely notified Jacobs he wouldn't go through with the match unless I handle him and work in his corner."

Gilzenberg was suspended for six months by the New York Boxing Commission in a sequel to the Cochrane-Lew Jenkins fight in the Garden Monday night. The Commission contended Cochrane's Manager held him back.

Gilzenberg said the Cochrane-Robinson match was submitted today to the Commission for approval and they agreed to pass on it Tuesday.

Chuck Conacher to Go Into Army or Stay in Business

TORONTO, Oct. 9 (CP)—Charley Conacher is satisfied with Red Dutton's ruling that there's no place for the former big bomber of the National Hockey League with Dutton's New York Americans this season. Charley is through with hockey.

He wired Dutton yesterday thanking him for his treatment in the two seasons he had been with Americans and hoping "you will find some good kid to take my place."

Sales Manager for a wine company all Summer, Conacher hopes to get into the army and "if that doesn't happen I find my business activities fascinating enough to convince me there is more future for me in business than in hockey."

Conacher is 31. At the top of his hockey career, he was one of the greatest right wingers in National League history and with Harvey Jackson, still with Americans, and Joe Primeau, formed Toronto Maple Leafs' famous "kid line."

His career was believed to have been ended in 1931 when a major operation to remove a kidney was necessary to save his life.

Conacher came back after that and remained one of the highest-scoring forwards in the game until the season of 1936-37.

Scottish Jockey Sets Win Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Jockey Alfred Robertson, the veteran little Scottish riding star, wrote a new record into the turf books today, by booting home six winners on the seven-race card at Jamaica.

Available records show several other jockeys have ridden as many as half a dozen winners in one day's riding, but the 30-year-old Scot, by his performance today, became the first rider to turn the trick twice in his career. He did it first in February, 1928, at Havana, during his first year in the saddle.

Although he was stopped aboard the long-shot Picture Hat in the fifth race today, each of his other mounts paid handsome odds. They were Sorgho at $15.80 for $2 in the first race; Running Lights at $29.30 in the second; Sun Galomar at $23.40 in the third; Grand Party at $20.80 in the fourth; Paul Pry at $12.70 in the sixth, and Star-Like at $46.30 in the seventh.

Transportation Sent to Smith by Amerks

PORT ARTHUR, Oct 9 (CP)—Manager Red Dutton of New York Americans' National Hockey League club said today the club has sent transportation from Montreal to Port Arthur to Hooley Smith, veteran utility player reported to have said in Montreal yesterday that he had received no word as to whether he should report to the Americans' training camp here.

Two other veterans of last year's team, Charley Conacher and Johnny Sorrell, are missing from the camp. Dutton said Conacher has retired from hockey and that Sorrell was sold last season to Springfield Indians who in turn sold him to Hershey Bears of the American League.

Farmers' Youth to Test Veterans at Boxla Tonight

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9 (CP). — When Canada's two top-notch lacrosse clubs take the floor here tomorrow night in the first of a best-of-five series for Dominion honors and the Mann Cup, the old story of youth versus experience will be in evidence.

The Athletics from St. Catharines, Ont., perennial winners of the Eastern Canada championship and defending Mann Cup champions, due here tomorrow, will pit their superior experience against the youthful zip of Richmond Farmers, British Columbia champions.

It will be the Farmers' first appearance in Mann Cup play but their coach and manager, Eddie Gilmore, thinks that Richmond's speed and snappy combination may stop the St. Kitts squad.

Although the Richmond manager is overflowing with confidence he refrained from making any pregame predictions. "We will put up a good showing," said Gilmore, "but we will have to wait until St. Kitts' strength has been tested tomorrow night before making any rash commitments."

The Athletics, who swept through 12 playoff games with only one loss to win their fourth Ontario championship and a berth in the Dominion final, will present a more robust lineup than the Coast team.

The weight advantage combined with experience may offset the speed of the younger Richmond squad in the eyes of some experts, but no matter which team wins all agree it should be a bangup hard and fast series.

Many of the St. Catharines squad were here two years ago when the Eastern team lost three straight games to New Westminster Adanacs in the championship final.

Second game of the series is set for Oct. 13, the third Oct. 15 and the fourth if necessary Oct. 17.

Calgary Pucksters Go to Pro Training Camps

CALGARY, Oct. 9 (CP) — Sweeney Schriner, Ken Reardon, Jack McGill and Chuck Millman, well known hockey players are en route to pro hockey club training camps.

Schriner goes to St. Catharines, Ont., where Toronto Maple Leafs will train. Reardon, who made good with Montreal Canadiens last Winter, his first season in pro ranks, is en route to St. Hyacinthe, Que. He spent the Summer in Edmonton. McGill, former Edmonton Athletic Club Junior and last Winter outstanding forward with Nanaimo Clippers, and Millman, defenceman of Calgary Stampeders who has been playing football with Vancouver Grizzlies this Fall, are en route to Hershey, Penn., where they will workout with Boston Bruins and Hershey Bears. McGill is subject to military call and has only been granted two months absence from the Dominion.

Ernie Bonham, Yanks' 220-pound pitcher who pitched the 1941 World Series clincher, is the 13th child in his family.

Twelve Teams to Play in Trail's Five-Pin League

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 9 — Twelve teams are entered in the Ladies' Five-Pin League, and the schedule calls for games Wednesday and Friday nights commencing at 7 and 8:30.

Mrs. Oliver Ford was elected President and her executive comprises Miss Marion Baillie, Secretary; Miss Betty Haggarty, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, and Miss Kay Lamb, Vice-President.

An innovation in the league this year is the entry of two nurses teams, members of the Trail-Tadanac Hospital staff, who are entering as the "Cavell's" and the "Nightingale's".

A new system of playoffs, similar to the mens ten-pin league, has been decided upon, whereby the winners of the first half, ending at the Christmas season, play the winners of the second half, ending on February 20th.

The teams, with captains mentioned first, follow: Devito's: Pearl Charlton, Helen Vellutini, Betty Haggarty, Lydia Sheretta; Vogues—Cecelia Palek, Minnie Buckna, Sadie Illott, Doris Barr Woolworth's: Jessie Gall, Phyllis Lowther, Dorothy LaBelle, Marjorie McInnis; softballers: Evelyn Davies, Mary McGregor, Flo Kjorsvick, Dora Davis Meakin Hotel: Evelyn Latham, Gladys Miles, Jean Kendall, Mrs. Harry Ivers; Credit Bureau: Jean Brown, Dorothy Haynes, Marjorie Ford, Irma Salsiccioli; Dollar Cleaners: Sarah Korbin, Jeanette Burton, Violet Hamlin, Vivian Hamlin, Jeanette LePage; Crow Points: Pat Loblick, Marion Baillie, Enid Wilson, Mable Ford; Sherries: Dolly Evans, Elsie Reid, Wyn Murray, Ellen Saunders; Nightingales: K. Lamb, D. Bye, M. McLacheur, M. Blott Cavells: N. Wood, M. Fitzpatrick, E. Sommerville, H. Grant.

Trail Basketball Getting Set to Go

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 9 — The annual meeting of the Trail Basketball Club has been called for October 20. Jack Minton, Club President, has asked all teams intending to enter either the men's senior or intermediate, or ladies' leagues to notify him as soon as possible so that the schedule can be lined up right away.

The men's senior champions last year, the Tadanac Police, will be minus two of their most valuable men, Lance Hudson and Ken Lawn who coached the policemen to victory.

Hudson took over coaching duties with Hughie Miller in lacrosse, and Hugh Miller gives him full credit for pulling the Golden Bears out in front in the West Kootenay Lacrosse League to prove a sensational threat to the Richmond Farmers in the Provincial lacrosse playoffs.

Hudson is in Vancouver, and is applying for enlistment with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Ken Lawn is also at the Coast, and has been called for the next military draft.

The intermediate Aces, who pulled in the Provincial championship last season are playing in the senior league this year for practice, but will retain their intermediate status in the Provincial playoffs as the boys have every intention of keeping the cup.

Lon Warneke, St. Louis Cardinal star, is the only National League pitcher to hold an edge over all opposition in his lifetime record.

Road Monies Wasted by Pattullo Equal to Two or Three Trans-Provincials Donaldson Tells Ymir

YMIR, B. C., Oct. 9—Campaigning for the support of the Ymir-Sheep Creek voters at a rally meeting here Thursday evening, M. C. Donaldson, Conservative candidate, declared that a million-dollar-a-year mine in the hills of Southeastern British Columbia was infinitely more important than a million-dollar industry at the Coast.

"Everyone prospers when the mines are working," he said, "even the people in distant places. It is the crime of a bad government that we have only a mere handful of mines operating in this proven area instead of a score of steady producers. The Conservative Party is determined that mining shall be placed on a sound footing. This can easily be done, and we propose to do it."

Mr. Donaldson referred to the prosperity enjoyed by this district in the past, to the fact that the few mines now operating are the salvation of the area. But he warned that even today's business would disappear in a few years unless new properties were brought into production.

HAVE PAID FOR THREE HIGHWAYS

Dealing with the ever-present tragedy of bad roads, the Conservative candidate quoted instances of "glaring waste of public money." He said that in discussing highways recently with a prominent engineer, the latter declared that forty-odd millions of dollars spent by the Pattullo Government during the past eight years would have built two or three main highways clear across the Province.

"There can be no progress in this country until we take the roads out of politics and get down to sound business practice in government," asserted the speaker. "In this district—and the same is true all over the country — we have bumped over so-called highways for countless years, roads which in places are not even trails. Our American friends come here for an extended stay, but turn around and go home disgusted—taking their money with them."

The Conservative Provincial Organizer, Russell R. Walker, spoke in support of Mr. Donaldson, claiming that a great deal of the bitterest opposition to the Pattullo administration today was coming from Liberals.

"Even good Grits cannot sit idly by and watch a profligate government throw $10,000,000 a year out the window, even though it is a sore trial for many of them to oppose their party," he declared.

"This sum represents a careful estimate of the amount of money required today to bridge the gap between sane business administration and the reckless, dont-care-a-damn boss rule at Victoria."

Mr. Walker reviewed party government in British Columbia over the past quarter-century, told of the rise and fall of parties, and said that the inevitable was again taking place — the downfall of a political dictatorship through the collapse of its own weakened supports.

AN INDUSTRIAL INTERIOR

He outlined the Conservative Party's plans for rebuilding of industry in small centres. This policy, he declared, would coordinate industrial effort and round out a businesslike picture which would see at least two million happy, prosperous people in British Columbia within 10 years.

"Reflecting the opinions of thousands of men and women with whom I have come into contact during my work as organizer, I pass on the prophecy that we have already entered an era of unprecedented development in this country, which can add up to an undreamed-of prosperity if sound government is provided," Walker declared.

"Farming, mining, lumbering, manufacturing and the tourist industry can all be coordinated if we substitute ordinary business methods for the present hit-and-miss juggling act set up year after year on the political vaudeville stage at Victoria.

"The Conservative Party in the past has had to shoulder the load during times of crisis. It is being called upon now to take over a tough job. Three out of four elective jobs in British Columbia today are held by Conservatives. The voters can well entrust the big task at Victoria to the same capable hands."

All Out War Effort and Peace Effort Are Vital C.C.F. Leader Winch Tells Salmo, Ymir; Frisby, Herridge Speak

An all out war effort and an all out effort to build for peace were urged by Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader in British Columbia, at election rallies at the Salmon and Ymir community halls Wednesday night. Mr. Winch and H. W. Herridge of Nakusp, C.C.F. candidate for Rossland-Trail, spoke in support of Frank Frisby, candidate in Nelson-Creston.

The C. C. F. leader outlined the efforts of his party to bring about social reforms by legislative amendments and charged the Liberals had opposed such proposals.

Mr. Winch urged the necessity of amendments to the Old Age Pensions Act and the Workmen's Compensation Act, and spoke of the C. C. F. fight to bring industrial diseases, particularly silicosis, within the scope of the Compensation Act. This act has been the subject of considerable study by the party, and its views were outlined in a brief presented to the recent Commission inquiring into operation of the Act.

PLANNING NECESSARY

Mr. Winch asserted planning for social security was vitally necessary. Plans should be considered now for post war years.

Old age pensions, compensation and health insurance were the major themes of the candidate, Mr. Frisby, as he appealed for support. He asked for "the opportunity to work for those who have been so badly neglected by the Conservative and Liberal administrations in the past, including the business men of the district."

PLANNED GOVERNMENT

C. C. F. proposals for planned Government were discussed by Mr. Herridge. He declared it was necessary that administration of the various government departments should be in the hands of experts freed from political interference, and described political interference as the curse of modern governments.

He called upon his listeners to face the issue squarely by looking back on "twenty years of failure", by considering the present world chaos, and by realizing the urgent necessity for planning now if peace was to be a blessing instead of a calamity.

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLEN

"Gambling wouldn't seem wicked if everybody won; but as poor as Jane is, its a sin for her to play cards for money and lose."

Press Urges More Help for Russia

LONDON, Oct. 9 (CP)—Britons were warned today of dangers to Russia, and Britain, too, in the mighty German offensive along the Russian battlefront.

But observers failed to see any signs Britain would take the advice of Russian Navy's organ, Red Fleet, and launch an attack on the European Coast which, the paper had claimed, is only thinly guarded.

London newspapers, ranked the danger to Russia as greater now than at any other time of the 15½-week-old onslaught in the East and told the public bad news is likely.

"Tanks, guns and planes must go out from Britain now, and at any cost, to Russia," the Daily Express said. "America, too, you are in this!"

The News Chronicle alone among the chief London newspapers raised the question of a British landing on the continent.

"If by any action in the air, on sea or on land—even at great risk—we can help relieve the fearful pressure in the East," it said, "we should take that action."

British sources said Britain would not be able to keep invasion plans secret any more than the Germans in 1940 were able to hide their preparations — that the Germans soon would spot concentrations of shipping and send bombers over to blast them.

This prospect of heavy losses to the Allied merchant fleet, which officials have emphasized already is too small, is considered by many sources to weigh heavily with British leaders.

London newspaper commentators said they expected the fate of Russia's main armies to be decided within two or three weeks.

They agreed Hitler apparently is sure of success because he associated himself personally with this offensive more than with any other.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

DON'T BE TOO WOODEN

AFTER YOUR partner has opened the bidding, and you know he can lay down a dummy containing his share of high cards, your own hand becomes more potent. Even if you have no high cards, worth speaking of, you may still bid soundly if you have any appreciable suit lengths. Let those who rave at you for responding "without a trick and a half" have their fun. But if you can count a probability of about four "playing tricks" of any kind—even if only a seven-card suit in an honorless hand, or a six-card suit with about a couple of queens or so in the hand—bidding your length is sounder bridge than passing.

North: ♠ 9 8 6 4 2 ♥ K 10 8 6 5 ♦ 4 ♣ K 2

West: ♠ A 7 ♥ A Q 7 4 2 ♦ A Q 7 ♣ A 6 5

East: ♠ Q J ♥ 3 ♦ 10 6 5 2 ♣ Q J 9 8 7 4

South: ♠ K 10 5 3 ♥ J 9 ♦ K J 9 8 3 ♣ 10 3

(Dealer: West Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 NT

That is definitely not the bidding which was done on this deal in a game of rubber bridge among rather literally-minded players who had given a careless reading to a few good books. They had learned that, to keep the bidding open with a response of any kind to a one-bid, you should nave about a trick and a half in honors, or about a trick if you have a good suit.

Here they could not count East as having anything better than "a half a trick plus." They counted the spade Q-J as only a bare plus value because it did not have a small card with it to make it a half trick. So the entire four players at the table agreed that East was right in passing. Consequently the deal was passed out at 1-Heart, and the chance for a game went glimmering.

Later, when their error was explained, they all saw it. East could count three "length tricks" in his six-card club suit, plus a chance for a trick at the top. In addition to which his spade honors were potentially valuable. As it turned out, if East had bid 2-Clubs West would have snapped into 3-No Trumps. Even against a spade lead game would have been easy.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ A K 8 ♥ Q J 8 ♦ A 6 5 4 ♣ 7 4 2

West: ♠ 5 3 2 ♥ 9 7 3 2 ♦ 10 2 ♣ K 9 8 6

East: ♠ 9 7 4 ♥ K 10 5 ♦ Q 9 7 3 ♣ A 10 5

South: ♠ Q J 10 6 ♥ A 6 4 ♦ K J 8 ♣ Q J 3

(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

After North bids 1-Diamond and East makes a terrifically unsound overcall of 1-No Trump on this deal, what should South do?

HOW TO WORK CRYPTOQUOTES

Cryptoquotes are quotations of famous persons written in cipher. A substitute character has replaced the original letter. For instance, an "R" may substitute for the original "E" throughout the entire cryptoquote, or a "BB" may replace an "LL." Find the key and follow through to the solution.

Winnipeg Wheat Takes 2 Cent Drop

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9 (CP).—Profit taking and minor hedging drove wheat futures in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange more than two cents lower in dull trading today. Final prices were 2⅞—2½ cents lower with October 73½ cents, December 74½ and May 78½.

Traders took a pessimistic view on war news with buyers backing to the sidelines. Southern interest took profit on recent purchases and these sales along with hedging proved weighty.

Cash wheat dealings continued at a low ebb although some inquiry was mentioned in the trade for top-grade hard Spring wheat for movement to Buffalo. No sales were confirmed, however.

Crusher orders lifted October flax in a low coarse grain session. Other operations were routine.

Kootenay Belle Gold Production $32,000 in Month September

Production by Kootenay Belle Gold Mines Ltd., Sheep Creek, during September amounted to $32,000 from 3008 tons of ore milled. This compares with $42,364 from 3075 tons in August; $39,515 from 2996 tons in July; and $32,759 form 2785 tons in June.

Gradual Decline on Montreal Market

Noranda dipped two and Hudson Bay a point in metals while Nickel and Smelters shrank major fractions.

C.N.R. Revenues Up

Oil Development Essential In War Mining Men Told

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9 (CP)—Joseph S. Irwin, Alberta Geologist, in a paper read to the annual convention of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, said today wartime development of new sources of oil production in regions free from enemy attack was a primary responsibility of powers fighting the Axis.

Chief hope for new sources of oil lay in the Vermilion area of Alberta, Mr. Irwin believed. He said Wells could be drilled there for $8000 to $10,000 compared with about $200,000 in Turner Valley.

Max W. Ball of Edmonton told the convention Germany must augment its oil supplies materially by conquering Russia before Spring if it is to maintain anything like its present military effort. The Nazis faced prospects of empty victory, if the Russian oil fields were destroyed.

"The whole Russian adventure, I believe, is due to Hitler's desperate need for oil," Mr. Ball said.

War News Hits Wall St. Trade

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP).—War tension weakened the Foundations of financial markets today, bringing losses of fractions to around two or more points in stocks and proportionate declines in leading staples.

The trends reflected a pessimistic appraisal in financial circles of the Russian situation.

Canadian stocks were generally lower. Canadian Pacific and Lake Shore Mines each lost ⅛, Dome Mines ¼, McIntyre ⅝, Hiram Walkers ⅜ and Distillers Seagram ¾ point.

PRETORIA (CP)—South Africa is the adopted home of many Greeks, mostly royalists, and arrival here of the exiled King of Greece and his family created much excitement in the cafes and fruit shops throughout the Union.
