Americas Urged to Stamp Out Fifth Column

By J. C. STARK
Associated Press Staff Writer

HAVANA, July 24 (AP).—Firm measures to stamp out "Fifth Column" activities by foreign diplomatic agents or other persons and knit hemisphere defences were urged tonight by Foreign Ministers of the American Republics.

Proposals before the Peace Preservation Committee headed by State Secretary Cordell Hull of the United States included an investigation of diplomatic and consular agents and possible limitation of their immunity privileges.

Simultaneously Cuba went a step ahead of the United States' proposal to establish a "collective trusteeship" over Western colonies of European nations in the event they are threatened with acquisition by another non-American State.

Cuba suggested that the Pan-American nations issue a declaration warning that "any Western Hemisphere territory offering peril" to any American nation may be occupied by armed American forces.

The United States had begun investigating foreign consular agents at home and warned the German Embassy in Washington in one case that its officials must refrain from public discussion or activity in domestic affairs or leave the country.

Nazis' U.S. Plane Downed by British

LONDON, July 24 (CP).—The Air Ministry said tonight that one of 12 German raiders shot down today during attacks on shipping was a United States dive-bomber the Germans captured from the French.

British Spitfires downed the American-made plane.

The Air Ministry said that twice during the day American "Chance Vought 156" bombers were encountered by British fighter planes.

In the first encounter one American-made plane and two Messerschmitt fighters crashed into the sea. The "Chance Vought" fell into a spin, with pieces flying from it where bullets struck. In the second encounter a Messerschmitt plunged out of control and a "Chance Vought" staggered away with a damaged wing.

"Mental Cripples" Criticize Red Cross

VANCOUVER, July 24 (CP).—F. W. Tuffrey, Acting Provincial Red Cross Commissioner, today blamed "mental cripples" for spreading fantastic rumors concerning the Society and its work in B. C.

"Silly stories are kept in circulation by a few mental cripples who cannot keep their mouths shut when they hear ridiculous rumors," said Mr. Tuffrey. "Apart from these people it appears that some persons are starting the stories. We hope they will be caught up with and quietly put in the right place."

U. S. Starts Checkup of Defence Labor

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP).—The United States Social Security Board set out today to marshal an "army in overalls" for defence of industries.

Instructions went to all state employment security agencies for a sweeping inventory of the entire country's labor supply and demand situation.

The action was taken after the National Defence Commission and the Security Board accepted a series of recommendations made by the Board's Federal Advisory Council for employment security.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE BY PRAIRIE WIND

REGINA, July 24 (CP).—At least 3 barns were reported destroyed in rural districts of Southern Saskatchewan today by a wind of cyclonic proportions. Crops were damaged and telephone poles were snapped off like match sticks.

Communication lines were down in a number of districts.

Heaviest damage was reported in the vicinity of Yellowgrass, 75 miles south of here. Rain fell between Weyburn and Estevan.

NEW MAGAZINE TAX WILL BE HANDLED

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP). — The Department of National Revenue explained today how the 10 per cent import war tax will be paid on magazines and advertising matter entering the country by mail.

The tax will be paid in customs revenue stamps which will be obtained by publishers and affixed to taxable magazines and advertising matter before mailing. Such mail matter with stamps affixed will not be delivered until it has been examined and the stamps have been cancelled by the customs.

Wheat Processing Tax to Bolster Board Finances

PRODUCERS URGED TO GIVE ALL AID

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP)—Continuation of the guaranteed basic 70-cent wheat price, Winnipeg Grain Exchange operation and present pegged prices, was announced by Trade Minister MacKinnon today as he outlined the Government's 1940 wheat policy to the House of Commons.

In addition to those basic features of last year's program, the Government is introducing added measures to meet the serious situation caused by disappearance of wheat markets through war.

Because of the prospective overflow supply, producers will be able to deliver to the wheat board immediately only a portion of their crop, a storage allowance being paid for the wheat stored on the farms.

Most revolutionary feature of the new program is a domestic wheat processing tax of 15 cents a bushel which will not only bolster the board's finances directly but also will help to restore prices, at least as far as domestic consumption is concerned.

This levy, effective immediately, applies to all existing contracts for future delivery of flour and other wheat products but should not, the minister said, require any change in the retail price of bread.

Eagerly awaited in recent days as the beginning of the new crop year, Aug. 1, approached, the minister's statement on wheat policy came after considerable debate on first reading of a new Prairie Farm Assistance Act altering much of the detail of the acreage bonus scheme for crop failure areas inaugurated last year.

The United Kingdom and Eire were now the chief export markets, with small outlets in the West Indies, Newfoundland, the Orient and South America. This created a serious storage problem in Canada.

It was essential that ample food supplies, particularly wheat, be available to Britain from the nearest possible point—Canada. The minister accordingly appealed to producers to co-operate fully in plans being taken to meet a difficult situation, first of all by providing storage facilities on the farms.

The incoming crop was currently estimated at 350,000,000 to 400,000,000 bushels but the net available storage capacity would be 150,000,000 to 160,000,000 bushels at July 31.

Mr. MacKinnon said the Government intended to arrange equitable use of available storage space by all producers. At the outset every producer would deliver a part of his crop to be determined by total available supplies and available storage space.

The allowance granted the producer for storing wheat on his farm would vary according to the time the grain was held and the basis of the allowance would be announced as soon as possible, he added.

Returns from 61 small theatres are still outstanding and the final total is expected to reach $700,000.

LONDON, July 24 (AP)— The Admiralty today named the following nine German destroyers as sunk in the first and second battles of Narvik, Norway.

First battle, April 10—Anton Schmidt and Wilhelm Heidkamp.

Second battle, April 13—Diether Von Roder; Hans Ludemann; Wolfgang Zenker, Bernd Von Arnim, Erich Koellner; Hermann Kunne and Erich Giese.

"At least 2000 German sailors were lost in the second action alone," the statement added.

KONOYE CABINET TO STRENGTHEN DEFENCE

TOKYO, July 24 (AP). — The cabinet council of the new Government of Premier Fumimaro Konoye agreed today on this basic platform:

1. To attempt to contribute to world peace in accordance with the Empire's "spirit of international brotherhood."

2. To strengthen national defence, including the establishment of an East Asia economic bloc and reform of the domestic structure.

9 SURVIVORS OF BRITISH SHIP ARRIVE IN SPAIN

VIGO, Spain, July 24 (AP). — The fishing boat Felix Montenegro today brought in nine survivors of the British steamship Eliaroy, 1000 tons. They said their ship was torpedoed off Cape Finisterre yesterday en route to Cardiff, Wales, from Portugal.

A lifeboat bearing the captain and eight other members of the crew was reported missing.

46 KILLED IN HAIFA AIR RAID

JERUSALEM, July 24 (AP). — Forty-six civilians were officially reported killed and 88 wounded today when 10 enemy planes dropped 80 to 100 bombs into the harbor and on the streets of Haifa, port city of the British-mandated Holy Land.

The planes roaring over the Eastern section of the city from the Southeast — the direction of Italian East Africa—were driven off finally by anti-aircraft fire.

Chinese Battle Japanese Force

HONG KONG, July 24 (CP). — Chinese guerrillas and regulars fought a pitched battle today with the Japanese forces which a month ago occupied a strip of mainland adjacent to the British colony of Hong Kong.

The Chinese attacked in force at dawn.

Observers on hilltops within British territory saw the Chinese engage the Japanese force, which was estimated at 900 Japanese and 3000 Chinese mercenaries.

By mid-afternoon, witnesses said, the superiority of Japanese artillery had forced the attackers to retreat, but the fighting continued 20 miles North of the centre of Hong Kong.

The Japanese forces were those which had moved in and blocked the colony's trade and communication with the interior of China.

T. C. A. Is Aiming at Stratosphere

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP)—An efficient commercial air line is proving valuable to Canada in wartime and Trans-Canada Air Lines is planning to maintain its service and even develop further in the next year, possibly to the extent of introducing stratosphere planes.

By the Spring of 1941 the present fleet of 15 Lockheed "14" planes will be considered out-of-date for the first class service and experts are considering new types of planes to be used.

While the question is far from settled, officials say it is possible that some stratosphere planes might be introduced. These planes recently were put on the regular trans-continental run of a United States airline and are believed to be practical for use in Canada.

The flight from Montreal to Vancouver now takes about 16 hours with four or five stops en route. Stratosphere planes could make the hop in 11 or 12 hours with one stop at Winnipeg. On the return flight the present time of around 14 hours could be reduced proportionately to nine or 10 hours.

Inquiry Into Rise in Costs Under Way

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP).—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board reported today numerous complaints have been received on rising prices of meat, rentals and coal.

It was indicated an inquiry into the subject was underway, although it was emphasized the Board cannot interfere in any way with the price of primary products on the farm.

A recent chart showed the increased price of steers on the hoof had gone up. The cost of dressed and retail meat immediately responded upwards. Prices vary in this line but the increase in price of most of them is about three cents per pound.

HUNGER BRINGS CONVICT DOWN FROM TOWER

ATLANTA, July 24 (AP). — Hunger and guards' arguments prevailed after 19 hours and brought a 20-year-old convict to earth today from the top of a 100-foot water tower at the Federal penitentiary, where he had taken refuge to avoid return to a Georgia prison camp.

Warden J. W. Sanford said Andrew Jackson Wynre apparently suffered nothing worse than sunburn and a fierce appetite from his stay begun at 1:30 p.m. yesterday, continued in the afternoon's 94-degree heat and on through last night until about 8:30 this morning.

Japanese Take Over

Japanese troops are shown marching into the Zikawei sector of Shanghai, which was formerly guarded by a French garrison. The Japanese took possession through "agreement" with French military authorities.

No Cave-In, But Slide of Muck, in Accident at Second Relief

There was no "cave-in" at the Second Relief mine at Erie, but a slide of muck, in the accident in which George Kennedy was injured Sunday morning.

In Monday's Daily News "a cave-in" was mentioned. J. C. McCutcheon, manager, corrected this yesterday.

There was a slide of a steep pile of muck and Mr. Kennedy went down with it. The accident was "not due to bad ground in the back" said Mr. McCutcheon.

The statement that Mr. Kennedy was working alone might have given a wrong impression. He was a shift boss and naturally alone, Mr. McCutcheon pointed out. As shift boss he was responsible for the safety of the working places of the mine.

Mr. Kennedy is still suffering severely, especially from shock, and is not yet able to give any explanation of the accident.

Provisional Dates for Registration Set for Aug. 19-20-21

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP). — Registrars across Canada are being instructed to be ready to take the national registration on Aug. 19, 20 and 21, Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, Deputy Minister of National War Services Department, said today, but these dates are only provisional and will likely be changed.

Mr. Justice Davis said provision was being made so the dates could be changed easily, and that they have been issued to registrars only to get machinery in working order. He expected Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of War Services, would announce definite dates in the House of Commons Friday.

Son of Associated Growers of B. C. Head Is Prisoner of Nazis

LONDON, July 24 (CP.-Cable)—Lorne Edward Chambers of Vernon, B. C., was among eight members of the Royal Air Force said in a German broadcast tonight to have been taken prisoners between July 19 and 22.

Flying Officer Chambers was reported missing last June 16.

Flying Officer Chambers is a son of E. J. Chambers of Vernon, President of the Associated Growers of British Columbia Ltd. Mr. Chambers is well known in the Kootenays.

ALBERTA YOUTH DROWNS

B.C. Liquors to Go Up Slightly

VICTORIA, July 24 (CP)—The British Columbia Liquor Control Board expects to revise its price list on three or four brands of imported Scotch whisky, imported brandies and on some other lines about Aug. 1, but there will be no general increase in the price of vendors wares, W. F. Kennedy, Liquor Control Commissioner, said today.

Mr. Kennedy said the board had been advised by a few firms selling imported Scotch to the Liquor Board that due to war taxation in Britain, price to the board would have to go up slightly. Not more than four brands are affected, and these very slightly, Mr. Kennedy said.

At the same time the board will act to adjust prices on imported brandies from sources outside of the British Empire, due to Canada's new 10 per cent import tax on such goods.

Battleship, Aircraft Carriers, Cruisers Are Lost by Britain

LONDON, July 24 (CP).—Britain has lost one battleship, two aircraft carriers and three cruisers among her larger naval units since the start of the war, the Admiralty announced today.

Other losses listed by the Admiralty were: Four armed merchant cruisers, 26 destroyers, 11 submarines, 11 small naval vessels such as sloops, gunboats, minelayers and patrol ships, and 61 small auxiliary craft of many types which were pressed into war services from civilian duties.

Actuary Advises Insurance Bill Be Studied by Impartial Committee

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP)—Hugh H. Wolfenden of Toronto told the Special Committee of the House of Commons studying the Unemployment Insurance Bill that the measure is "actuarily indeterminate."

A consulting actuary, Mr. Wolfenden, was adviser to the Government in the drafting of the Unemployment Insurance Bill which passed Parliament in 1935. Having regard to conditions prevailing in 1935 he felt safe in stating the former bill was "actuarily sound" but he could not say the same for the present bill in view of conditions now prevailing.

The Toronto actuary said he was not opposed to the present bill going into effect but wished the utmost care taken to ensure that when it did it would function on a sound basis and not impose an unexpected burden on the Treasury.

To this end he suggested that the plan of administration contained in the Bill be referred to an impartial committee of employers and employees for study on methods of procedure and that contributions be not collected until this committee completed its studies and the Advisory Committee provided in the Bill had recommended that conditions indicated the insurance fund would be able to meet all liabilities for at least four years.

Mr. Wolfenden told the Committee the plan of insurance in the bill was based as in the 1935 measure on an estimated 12½ per cent rate of unemployment but conditions had greatly changed since 1935.

If the war continued until 1943 it might be assumed that the rate of employment would be seven per cent in 1941, and six per cent in 1942. In 1943, however, should there be dislocation due to cessation of war activities it might jump to 20 per cent. In 1944 it might be assumed to reach 30 per cent and in 1945 it might drop to 20 per cent.

Should this occur the average rate for the five-year period would be 16.6 per cent. That would mean the unemployment insurance fund would become bankrupt early in 1944 unless adjustments were made as provided for in the bill on recommendations of the Advisory Committee.

British Win Day of Sea and Air Battles

12 Nazi Planes Downed, Two British; Little Spitfires Have Day; Torpedo Boat Puts Nazis to Flight; Escort Ship Hit

LONDON, July 24 (CP).—The air and sea defenders of Britain smashed with sudden fury today at the gathering sea weapons of Nazi blitzkrieg invasion from the waters of the English Channel to the Eastern North sea.

Sleepless fighter pilots of the Royal Air Force too, fought a grand scale dogfight over the Thames Estuary, water-gate to London, with massed Nazi air raiders. Six German machines were shot down in this scrape and altogether during the day the Nazis lost 12 and the R. A. F. two.

The Air Ministry in a long statement tonight announced success, often against heavy odds, for Britain's fast little Spitfire fighters.

Again and again throughout the day the "barrier line" of high-flying R.A.F. defence planes dived into dogfights to drive waves of German Heinkel, Dornier and Junkers bombers and Messerschmitt fighters from attacks on ship convoys.

"It was a Spitfire day," the Air Ministry declared, in contrast to recent days in which Hurricanes have carried the brunt of the defence load.

"Since the small hours of the morning (Wednesday)," the Ministry said, "Spitfires and anti-aircraft guns have been beating off the attacks of German bombers, fighters and mine-laying aircraft on ships and shipping. Up to the early evening they were still successfully destroying and beating off the enemy."

In the day's biggest air battle a patrolling squadron of Spitfires, 7000 feet up, saw a flight of raiders heading toward the Thames estuary.

Eighteen bombers in "V" formations of three with a large escort of fighters came into view through a heavy rain.

The Spitfires dived on them from the rear and tangled in an engagement of at least 80 planes.

While night bombers of bomber and coastal commands roared home from more night raids on the continent, British planes and ships struck these blows at the sea-borne forces which Nazi Germany is massing in the waters around England:

1. A lone British motor torpedo boat picked a fight with six German torpedo boats in the Channel, put them to flight and, in the darkness before dawn, put one out of action. "It is thought," said the Admiralty, "that casualties were inflicted on another."

2. Swordfish "Spotter" planes of the Fleet Air Arm, flying far into the Eastern North Sea, located a German naval concentration guarding an auxiliary vessel. In the dawn, the planes sent torpedoes screaming at the group. The Admiralty said an escort vessel of the 600-ton Konigin Luise type, of which Germany has 10, was hit by one torpedo.

There were no British casualties in either engagement.

Sixty or more planes, German and British, tangled in a flaming battle high over the Thames estuary when Nazi raiders attempted to repeat an earlier attack in which they had dropped 100 or more bombs at a merchant convoy.

Watching for the chance, British fighters, buzzing like mammoth hornets, dropped out of the sky and fell upon the bombers' tails.

An observer said the planes were so thick he could not distinguish friend from foe, as German bombers began falling out of the air, and the rest streaked for home across the English Channel. The convoy escaped damage.

Munitions Costs in Canada 57 Million

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP). — Total orders placed for shells and for the creation of shell manufacturing facilities in Canada now amount to some $57,000,000, Munitions Minister Howe announced today.

Of this sum approximately $12,000,000 covers cost of equipment and extensions to plants in order to create shell production facilities required.

Approximately 60 companies are engaged in the manufacture of shells, cases and their components.

FALLS KILL TWO

SEATTLE, July 24 (AP). — Falls killed two persons, one of them in a drop of only about seven feet, here last night.

Thirteen-year-old Ralph Anderson fell from a shed roof at his grandmother's home onto a pile of lumber in the backyard, apparently striking on his head. The grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Sanderson, found his body.

Leo R. Simpson, Riveter, fell almost 50 feet, from a crane track nearly 50 feet, from a crane truck at a machinery plant. The widow and two children survive.

VICHY, France, July 24 (AP).—A semi-official source said tonight that the French Government intends to maintain "the ties that unite the French colonies to the Mother Country."

The observation was made after publication of reports that United States proposed to the Pan-American conference at Havana that an inter-American mandate be established over the European possessions in the Western Hemisphere.

Mrs. Tarasoff Pleads Guilty to Obstructing

Swings Her Broom as Police Arrive for Children

Changing her plea to guilty after only one prosecution witness was heard, Mrs. Tina Tarasoff of Nelson, charged with obstructing a peace officer in the performance of his duty, was given a year's suspended sentence by Magistrate William Brown in City Police Court Wednesday morning.

"I appreciate the fact that Mrs. Tarasoff was trying to defend her children, and whether right or wrong, was acting in such defence," said His Worship before passing sentence. "However, she cannot use the children as a shield to gain advantage for herself. I understand Mrs Tarasoff felt her relief allowance inadequate and used the children as a lever to try and force more money from some source. From the proceedings, I believe, Mrs. Tarasoff has learned to make the best of the circumstances and that she must stay within the law."

Mrs. Tarasoff previously pleaded not guilty. One witness for the prosecution, Miss Jean Holbrook, Provincial Welfare Department Visitor, testified, before the plea was changed through E. C. Wragge, defence counsel.

Miss Holbrook told how, at the request of Mrs. Tarasoff her three children had been placed in a foster home early in May. After Mr. Tarasoff had obtained employment later, the children returned to their home without authority After some further difficulties with Mrs Tarasoff, an order for the apprehension of the children was obtained and Mrs Tarasoff was ordered to appear in court for an investigation under the Infants Act July 15. She failed to appear.

Miss Holbrook, Chief of Police Alex Stewart, Sergeant Robert Harshaw and Constables C. W. House and G. A. Brabazon of the Provincial Police called at the Tarasoff home to apprehend the children. Miss Holbrook described how Mrs. Tarasoff intercepted them at the door of her home and swung at Chief Stewart with a broom. Miss Holbrook then went into the house to quiet the sobbing children.

Mrs. Tarasoff was charged with obstructing Sergeant Harshaw "in the execution of his duty . . by pushing, pulling and striking the said Robert Harshaw."

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP). — Notice of a bill to reduce the salary of the Chairman of the Tariff Board was given in votes and proceedings of the House of Commons today. The bill will make provision for the superannuation of any civil servant who may be appointed a member of the Board.

The salary at present is $15,000 a year. This year's estimates provide for a salary of $12,000 a year and the bill will fix the remuneration of Hector McKinnon, present Chairman, at that figure.

New Heat Marks Set in U.S. 280 Deaths Result

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—The longest and broadest United States heat wave of 1940 reached a new crest today.

Previous high temperature records for the season were shattered at many points in the Midwest and no general relief was in prospect.

The total of deaths attributed directly and indirectly to the sultry spell—now eight days old in some prairie states—was increased to 280. These included 96 heat fatalities and 184 drownings.

Among the new marks for the Summer were: Chicago, 101; Milwaukee, 100; Beloit, Kas., 116; Hays, Kas., 110; Overton, Neb., 109; Lincoln, Neb., 108; Topeka, Kas., 106; Wichita, Kas., 105.

A half dozen deaths were reported in Chicago, on the sixth consecutive day of temperatures of more than 90 degrees. Citizens there were using nine carloads of lemons and limes a day. The daily attendance at beaches averaged 1,000,000. The water works pumped 1,388,950,000 gallons in a 24-hour period—an all-time peak. Officials urged householders to conserve it lest they create a fire hazard by reducing further the pressure in the hydrant mains.

Aridity provoked growing concern in some farm areas. Topeka, Kan., checked off its 31st day without measurable rainfall. The New Jersey Department of Agriculture reported that drought had caused serious damage to potato, truck, and hay crops and pastures. Reports that corn leaves were withering lifted prices of that commodity 1¼ to 2½ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat advanced, too.

LONDON, July 24 (CP). — A single German raider dropped 19 bombs on a Southeast England village tonight and machine-gunned one village mansion—but no casualties were reported. A fighter plane chased the bomber away.

BERLIN, July 24 (AP). - (By Radio) — All Jews in Slovakia between 18 and 50 were ordered to report for labor service today, the German radio reported from Bratislava, the capital.

NEW YORK, July 25 - (Thursday) (AP). — The British Broadcasting Corporation, in a broadcast picked up by the National Broadcasting Company today, declared Germans had admitted losing 250,000 men since the beginning of the war, and that the German casualty list in France since the armistice amounts to more than 1000 dead.

All Aliens, Not Only Germans and Italians, Must Turn in Firearms

Not only aliens of German or Italian origin, but all aliens of any nationality are prohibited the possession of firearms, ammunition, dynamite, gunpowder, or other dangerous explosives, Inspector John Macdonald, Registrar of Aliens, emphasized Wednesday. Those of German or Italian origin naturalized since September 1939, are included.

Many in the district were of the opinion that only enemy aliens of German or Italian racial origin were required to surrender firearms and so on, but this impression was false, Inspector MacDonald said. The ruling applied to all aliens whether enemy aliens or otherwise.

Regulation 37A, an amendment to the Defence of Canada Regulations, states:

"Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Criminal Code, the possession of firearms or any ammunition therefore, or of any dynamite, gunpowder or other dangerous explosive within Canada by any person who is an alien, or any person of German or Italian racial origin who has become a naturalized British subject since the first day of September, 1939, is prohibited.

MUST TURN IN

"It shall be the duty of every such person within Canada having in his possession or upon his premises any firearm or any ammunition therefore, or any dynamite, gunpowder or other dangerous explosive, within 10 days from the publication of this regulation in the Canada Gazette to cause such firearm, ammunition, dynamite, gunpowder or other dangerous explosive to be delivered to a Justice of the Peace residing in or near the locality where such firearm, ammunition, dynamite, gunpowder or other dangerous explosive is had in possession, or to an Officer or Constable of a police force of the Province or City in or near such locality, or to an Officer or Constable of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"Any Justice of the Peace or any such Officer or Constable receiving any such firearm, ammunition, dynamite, gunpowder, or other dangerous explosive shall give to the person delivering the same a receipt therefore and shall report the fact to the Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police under whose direction the property so delivered shall be retained or otherwise disposed of."

R. C. A. F. Applicants Can Avoid Waste Time Says Office

OTTAWA—Applicants for enlistment in the Royal Canadian Air Force can avoid waste time and personal inconvenience by carrying out two suggestions made by R.C.A.F. headquarters officers.

All prospective recruits living at some distance from the nearest of the 19 R.C.A.F. recruiting centres should first write to the commanding officer of the recruiting centre to arrange an appointment.

The second suggestion was that when the applicant keeps the appointment he should bring with him all the necessary documents for the completion of his application. Essential for such a purpose are a birth certificate, a marriage certificate if the applicant is married, evidence of education, two letters of reference from reputable citizens or employers, a discharge certificate if the applicant has served with His Majesty's armed forces at any time, and what other personal papers the applicant considers may advance his chances for enlistment.

Lithuania Minister Will Refuse Demand to Turn Legation Over

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Minister Povilas Zadeikis of Lithuania served notice today that he would refuse any demand to turn over his legation to Soviet Russia.

He thus joined the growing group of foreign diplomats in Washington, who, although their former Governments have been overturned or driven into exile, have chosen to maintain their posts in the hope of ultimate restoration. Zadeikis said no request that his legation be turned over had been received from the Soviet and none was expected, but said any such request would be rejected.

Dr. Alfred Hilmanis, Minister of Latvia, another of these Republics, has denounced the recent elections in his country as a "farce" and has accused Russia of unprovoked aggression.

Estonia, the third of the Baltic Republics, has no representative in Washington, but maintains a Consul General, Johannes Kaiv, in New York.

Britain's Electric Vehicles to Save Much Gas in Year

LONDON—Six million gallons of gas will be saved in Britain next year by the fleet of electric vehicles which will then be operating.

The 5000 on British roads when war broke out has now increased to 6000 and the Electric Vehicle Association of Great Britain estimate that there will be 8600 of them by the end of the year, each vehicle releasing approximately 700 gallons of gas in twelve months, or a total annual saving of 6,020,000 gallons.

One London firm now has 300 electric milk delivery vans; another in Bristol has 300 vans for milk, groceries, coal and other goods. Big London stores which have run electric vehicles for years are increasing their fleets and in the early hours giant electric vans now creep silently among London's dust cans.

Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Trinidad are now all showing an interest in electric vehicles, especially for short haulage deliveries.

Colonies Give Over 41 Million to Britain

LONDON, July 24 (CP Cable)—The House of Commons was told today by the Under-Secretary for the Colonies that since the outbreak of the war the various colonies have contributed more than £9,350,000 ($41,162,000) in cash gifts and loans free of interest.

Strasser and Grynszpan Now in German Hands

BERLIN, July 24 (AP). — Otto Strasser, exiled foe of Nazism who is charged by the Gestapo with organizing the Munich bomb plot on the life of Hitler, and Herschel Grynszpan, a young Polish Jew who killed a member of the German Embassy staff in Paris, were reported today to have fallen into German hands.

A German source said Grynszpan was found in La Sante prison in Paris, where he had been held pending trial for the 1938 slaying of Ernst von Rath, a Secretary of the German Embassy there.

Grynszpan now is held for trial by German authorities on a charge of murdering Von Rath, this source said.

Strasser was deprived of German citizenship in March, 1934, and thereafter his anti-Nazi Black Front organ, "Deutsche Revolution" appeared secretly in Berlin.

He carried on anti-Nazi activities from Greece and Switzerland until he was forced to leave and finally took up residence in Paris. In an interview in Paris last November he declared that Heinrich Himmler, head of German Secret Police, himself had organized the Munich bomb plot on Hitler's life.

French Press Urges Food Be Sent to Unoccupied Area

GRENOBLE, France, July 24 (AP). — The German Armistice Commission at Wiesbaden was urged by a French newspaper today to remove restrictions preventing food and fuel from the Nazi-occupied zone being sent into France's unoccupied area.

The newspaper, Le Petit Dauphinois, said "the Armistice Commission at Wiesbaden — not the Vichy Government—holds France's fate in its hands."

It added that the refugee-swollen unoccupied zone normally draws much of its food supplies from the occupied zone and "therefore our supplies and our future for months to come depend upon the attitude of officials of the forces of occupation."

Firearms May Be Carried Only With R.C.M.P. Permission

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP) — New provisions make it possible for hunters from the United States to enter the Dominion with their guns should be an important factor in stimulating Canada's tourist trade, an official of the Canadian Travel Bureau said today.

Under the terms of an order-in-council published in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette, the Commissioner, S. T. Wood of the R.C.M.P. is given the power "to make orders for the exemption of residents, bona fide tourists and visitors from neutral or Allied countries, from the provisions of regulations 37A of the Defence of Canada Regulations regarding the possession of firearms.

Soldiers Repair Storm Damage at Camp Shilo

CAMP SHILO, Man., July 24 (CP)—Soldiers were working today to repair damage caused by an electric storm last night at this military camp 125 miles West of Winnipeg. Huts were wrecked, tents torn from their pegs and one tent set on fire by a bolt of lightning which hit a stack of rifles and bayonets.

Hurricane-like winds picked up tents and deposited them hundreds of feet away. A 100-foot long building was wrecked when a blast of wind entered its uncompleted doors and windows and ripped it apart.

No one was injured during the storm, but one group of soldiers had just left their tents when lightning struck it and set it on fire. Their rifles, which had apparently attracted the bolt, were reduced to junk.

Labor Warns Against Poor Bearing Brunt of Food Rationing

LONDON, July 24 (CP). — The Labor Party warned today that "considerable resentment will show itself — already is showing itself —if poorer households only are called on to make real sacrifices" in wartime food rationing.

Well-to-do families able to afford more expensive food "can eat as much as they can pay for," the party's Executive Committee declared, urging the Government to curtail "luxurious and unnecessary expenditure on food."

The Committee asserted that the present system imposed "real restrictions" on the working class housewife and left the better-off classes "largely untouched."

City Engineer Is Granted Power to Control Sprinkling

Authority to regulate garden sprinkling in certain sections of the city should the necessity arise was granted City Engineer H. D. Dawson by the Nelson City Council Tuesday evening.

The City Engineer reported water over the spillway at the Five Mile Creek was decreasing, and that rains of the past few days, while reducing the need for sprinkling, had affected the water level but little.

U. S. to Produce 3000 Planes a Month for Great Britain

LONDON, July 24 (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook, Minister for Aviation Production, declared in a broadcast tonight that the United States will approve a production plan to supply Great Britain with 3000 planes a month.

He said, however, that since his ministry was formed May 14 Britain had purchased 12,115 airplane engines from the United States.

Lord Beaverbrook said Morris Wilson, head of the British Aircraft Purchasing Mission in the United States, just had informed him of American acceptance of the production plan, and that word came from the Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau.

"It is our purpose by every means we can develop and every device we can adopt to give our air force bigger and better advantages when we come to grips with the enemy," he said.

He added Britain's own aircraft production reached a record production last week, and that the output so far this month was double that of the same period a year ago.

"If we are put to trial by fire we think we can demonstrate that workers in the aircraft industry will not fail.

"At our posts we will stay on duty, we will stand at our benches, we will meet and defeat the enemy who dares to drive liberty from the land of freedom."

Britain Starts Campaign Against Waste of Materials, Scrap Is Valuable

By HAROLD FAIR
(Canadian Pres Staff Writer).

LONDON, July 24 (CP).—A rag, a bone or an old tin can—all are demanded for Britain's mighty war effort. The country is borrowing a leaf from the dictators' system of economic self-sufficiency.

Here, however, the campaign against waste by saving and salvaging is not dictatored by poverty of resources. Britain wants to produce as much food and recover every bit of scrap so valuable shipping space may be reserved for essential war material and foreign exchange be conserved to buy it.

In this country, you don't toss away that silver paper from a pack of cigarettes. The old iron sink or bedstead in some dark basement corner has definite scrap value. A regiment of women, called "salvage Sallies," has been recruited to tell the housewife what to save.

The "dig for victory" campaign brought results in thousands of vacant lots turned into small gardens and now a "low heels for victory" appeal to women appears destined for success. The higher the heels the greater the amount of wood and leather required. Timber is scarce now in wartime Britain and one timber control official estimated 50,000 tons of wood a year are used for women's shoe heels.

The Ministry of Supply has mobilized every one of the 10,000 parishes in Britain to provide scrap metal. The scrap includes tins and metal refuse ordinarily thrown into quarries or gravel pits. Money from disposal of the waste goes to the Red Cross Agricultural Committee.

Students in Liverpool go from door to door as rag-and-bone merchants. Birmingham offers its garbage-men a bonus of one shilling three pence hundredweight for waste paper. Southgate, in North London, opened a "victory dump."

In less than a year the amount of waste salvaged has increased fivefold.

British Resolution Pleases U. S. Papers

NEW YORK, July 24 (CP). — Great Britain's steadfast courage and resolution in the face of the threatened German attempt to invade and subjugate the tight little isle formed the leading subject of editorial comment in New York's morning newspapers today.

The News put it: "We still have a hunch that the British have a good chance to beat back Mr. Hitler and hand him his first reverse."

"Words falter," said the Times as it depicted "this unparalleled spectacle of the nation rising, as by a single impulse to defend 'this blessed plot, this earth, this realm, this England.'"

Wife Waiting to Greet Husband Sees Trawler Hit Mine

LONDON, July 24 (CP). — Mrs. Tess Johnson waited happily on a quay to greet her husband and son-in-law who were coming home on the naval trawler Campina.

The woman was glad for her daughter's sake, as well as her own, for her son-in-law was coming home to see his wife and nine-months-old child.

From the shore Mrs. Johnson could see her husband in the wheelhouse of the trawler. She smiled at him and waved.

A moment later the craft hit an enemy mine. Johnson and his son-in-law were killed.

The trawler's loss was announced yesterday.

Souvenirs Too Heavy Canadian Boys Decide

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, July 24 (CP).—The Canadians of the 1st Division who picked up an odd assortment of war mementos on their fleeting jaunt to France have discovered that every extra pound in their haversack becomes a ton during these days of sudden and constant movement.

Henceforth the boys are travelling light nad are sending off their souvenirs to the folks back home.

French steel helmets were brought back by the score.

"I'm shooting mine off home and probably by the time we get through with Heine I'll have a fair collection," remarked Pte. C. C. Dunham of Hamilton.

Soothing . . .

Shampoos Relax Nerve Tension

By DONNA GRACE

"Nothing clears the mind and settles the nerves like a good shampoo." This observation was made long ago by the distinguished actress, Ethel Barrymore, and it still holds good. Even the very thought of this refreshing operation improves the mental attitude.

The soothing effect of warm water, with the gentle manipulation of the nerve centre at the back of the neck, releases tension so that there is comfortable relaxation. There is the anticipation, too, of a sparkling coiffure, which is always more attractive when the hair is beautifully shampooed.

While many go to the beauty salons for all beauty work there are some who like to do their own shampoo. There is no reason why this should not be satisfactory when done thoroughly. The final rinsing is most important, as even the slightest bit of soap film left on will mean a poor shampoo.

First the hair should be combed well, then water is applied before any of the shampoo is applied. Some prefer to use only enough water to dampen it, then as it is parted in sections the soap is applied until the scalp is covered. The soapless kind is used in the same way with enough water to manipulate smoothly.

Never use a cake of soap for a shampoo. If there is no prepared soap liquid on hand, take time to shave and melt the soap.

When the melted soap is cooled a bit, to a cupful add the beaten eggs. One is sufficient for bobbed hair and two or three for long hair. The addition of a teaspoonful of bay rum to the soap mixture will make a pleasing aroma and will facilitate the soap removal.

SUMMER SQUASH

Summer squash is not usually peeled unless the outer skin is very tough. It should be well scrubbed, cut in quarters, the seeds removed, and cut into thin slices or pieces. Cook in very little boiling, salted water, about one inch in depth.

Cover and cook for five minutes, then uncover and cook until squash is tender. Sprinkle with salt, pour melted butter over it and serve very hot. If you wish to mash squash, better peel before cooking.

HOT BLACKBERRY PUDDING

Two cups sifted flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons shortening, ¾ cup berries and juice.

Sift dry ingredients together. Work in shortening until mixture is granular. Add berries and juice and stir until berries are mixed through dough. Drop by spoonful in greased muffin pans. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Serve hot with whipped cream or lemon sauce.

SERIAL STORY . . . By Oren Arnold

HAPPINESS, C. O. D.

CHAPTER 47

Any person not in excellent mental, emotional and physical health doubtless would have cracked up right there.

But lovely Gayle Dixon just sat down for a moment in one of the hall chairs and allowed matters to sink in. She stared off vacantly for a little, orienting her thoughts. It provided just the necessary reserve for her to "take" the fact that Tempe Hyde was the thief that The Oaks had shielded.

There was a great deal she could have done. Certainly there was much she wanted to say and do, immediately. She wanted to fly to Bill, to tell Lola. Te tell dear old Mr. Merrifield. To go to the police headquarters and get details from Mrs. Holmquist. And of course to tell Jeremy, who had been brought in on the regrettable affair.

But no. She mustn't, because she was seeking Jeremy even now for another purpose—to start the play. Approximately 1700 people were in their seats on the lawn chatting amiably—but waiting. Tempe's part would have to be glossed over some way—another managerial detail for Bill. Explanations could come later, tomorrow perhaps.

She had been looking hurriedly for Jeremy when the interruption came, so that now Gayle resumed her way on upstairs.

She stood thinking a moment. She remembered then that Jeremy sometimes used his grandfather's study because there were books there, and th eplace was cozy and nice. She turned th eknob of the study door. No light was on, but the small fireplace blaze threw dancing lights and shadows. Silhouetted before the fireplace she saw Jeremy, standing, head bowed.

"Jeremy!" she said walking in. "We've been looking everywhere for you!"

He turned in surprise. He held out a hand as if in supplication, and he answered her at once. "Gayle! Gayle—see here, I'm awfully glad you came!"

Something in his voice, some significant tone infection, made her pause and look carefully at him.

"Gayle, I—see here, I've been doing an awful lot of thinking. Honestly I have. All evening, longer, I guess. Things have been—well, a great many things have happened to me and—see here, Gayle, wil you marry me?"

Shocked again, she could not answer, or even move.

"Wil you marry me, Gayle? Soon? I—see here—"

He paused to swallow hard. And in the interval they heard another sound. From around the bookcase came unmistakable footsteps, suddenly and rather energetically. In a moment Mr. Merrifield appeared and his old face was illumined not only by the fire, but by a definite inner excitement and stimulation.

"Jeremy!" he boomed when he approached. "I had no thought of evesdropping on you but it all happened so fast—I was resting. Nevertheless I am delighted. I congratulate you, and—"

He was holding out a hand to shake Jeremy's and in another moment he would have turned to Gayle but she turned quickly and in an instant was running out of the room.

The talk between grandfather and grandson was brief, but significant. Mr. Merrifield was almost boisterous for a moment.

His plan had worked! His plan to bring Jeremy out of the mental and social doldrums. It had worked better than he had dared hope, really. With his own ears he had chanced to hear Jeremy propose marriage to Gayle and he felt that Gayle was as nearly perfect as a young woman could be. The eccentric old fellow simply never gave thought to Gayle's own possible reactions in the matter.

"Women are likely to be upset easily son," he counseled now. "You sort of took her by surprise. That is, all. Now go on out there in the hall—you'll find her in tears, likely as not. Women are emotional creatures so be gentle with her, and kind. We men never understand them. But you just go out there and put your arm around her. I'll congratulate her, and then I'll get out and let you have a talk alone!"

He ended in a chuckle, not noting the distress in Jeremy's face. The old man, still chuckling delightedly, had stooped over to turn on his desk lamp, so Jeremy started toward the door.

In the hallway he did not see Gayle as he expected. Nor was she in any of the other large rooms on this floor. He looked and he called her gently, moving slowly from place to place. Out the windows he heard the soft music from the orchestra entertaining the 1700 people but he gave little thought to that. Most of the cast had assembled at the tent dressing room, ready to go on.

But all the principals were missing.

Nearly 10 minutes had passed before Jeremy walked slowly down the stairs and came onto Gayle again. She was near the side doorway and she was sobbing—and she was leaning on Bill's shoulder and being held tightly in Bill's arms. As if he were a man in a trance, Jeremy came up to them.

"All right Tucker!" Bill began firmly. "You said or did something that made this girl cry, and you can't get away with it. I don't know exactly what the score is between us, but I'm telling you here and now that I'm in love with Gayle Dixon, and hereafter it's a man-to-man fight. You understand that? I mean what I said. You and your whole confounded fortune can't stop me, nor anything else if Gayle will give me a chance! I'm chucking this job. I don't want but one thing in life—a chance to win Gayle—and somewhere else I can get a job that isn't as hairbrained as this. If Tucker here has insulted you or—"

"Bill!" Gayle looked up.

"I mean it! I mean it's going to be man to man! I've held off, Gayle because I don't like to play dirt on any man. But I'm serving notice. The only person who can stop me is you, Gayle, and you're going to have a hard time!"

"Bill!" She had stopped sobbing and she grabbed his shoulders to shake him, her pretty face tear-touched and drawn in what surely was combined pleasure and pain. But he was not looking at her.

"You said the old gent was upstairs," he resumed, speaking firmly and rather fast. "We're going to him. I'm resigning, here and now, and I'm telling him so. Then I—"

"Oh, I say—see here, Bill—!" Jeremy tried to interrupt.

"I'm not joking or anything of the sort." He was striding up the stairs now, Gayle and Jeremy near him and trying to tal kto him both at once.

Their youthful voices made a veritable wrangling as they entered th estudy again. Mr. Merrifield looked up in some surprise.

"Play or no play, I'm done. I'm done" he kept declaring. "When I make up my mind to something—"

"SIR!" Old Merrifield could roar when necessary. He roared now, and quite interrupted the others. A sudden silence reigned, and then Gayle broke it.

"Make him behave, Mr. Merrifield! He doesn't understand a lot of things! I—I just hate him— I mean I love him! I love him, Mr. Merrifield! We have come to explain that we can't—oh . . . Mr. Merrifield!"

She quite lost her words in sobbing again, and again Bill held her very close to him and petted her and fondled her hair, glaring defiantly at the rich grandfather and grandson.

Wife Can Have Fun Even If Husband Refuses to Play

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Dear Miss Chatfield:

Please give me some advice before I go wild. I've been married nine years and have a good husband and three fine children, which should be enough to make a woman happy. But I am not. I do all my own work and keep the store for at least eight hours a day while my husband fishes in Summer, hunts in Winter and enjoys himself generally. Comes the weekend and he lies in bed, refuses to go to church with me on Sunday, which is my only recreation. He's selfish. He thinks I should be just like his eighty-year-old mother who stays at home the year around because she wants to. I am only twenty-eight and longing for some pleasure. Something has got to be done or I will go crazy. Hard work and begging a man to change his ways have got the best of me.

Answer:

No wonder life has got you down. But if you will calm yourself and make some plans to get on top, you can do it. Three suggestions. First. Quit thinking of yourself, as a beggar asking a dole and think of yourself as a wife with a perfect right to tell your husband that you are going to have some fun, preferably with him, but if that isn't his idea, you'll have it without him. Now you can be nasty and lose your advantage or you can be gay and agreeable and win it.

Second, announce your willingness to keep store during certain hours and close the store if he isn't there to relieve you. Here again you shouldn't show any fight but be firm and pretend to be free.

Third: This is picnicking time. The children are out of school. Why not begin by packing up a lunch and taking the children, some of their friends and yours on a picnic. You'll be amazed at the difference in your viewpoint when you have got out of the store and into the woods, and forget the daily grind.

Some say once a man gets his foot on a wife's neck she need never hope for freedom. But when you've seen a few down-trodden women rise up, make a life for themselves, you know it can be done. It's, first of all, an inside job. The wife has to get in the mood, remind herself that she is free in spite of the ball and chain, that she can have fun even if her husband doesn't take part in it, so long as she isn't stewing over his absence.

When a husband is faithful, supports his family and confines his extra-mural activities to the beautiful sports of hunting and fishing during the week and sleeping on Sunday, his wife should force herself to have pleasures with her friends and her children, enjoy life generally without the participation of the so-called head of the house. Not ideal for any wife to lead a separate life from her husband but now much better than to go wild trying to make him give up what he wants and take up what she designates.

Prickly Heat and How to Relieve It

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

What is prickly heat and what is the treatment of it?

The medical name for prickly heat is miliaria. It is generally agreed that it is due to the stopping up of the sweat ducts. The mouths of the sweat ducts swell up because the cells are unprotected by sufficient oil. There is a congestion of the capillaries and the formation of blisters or swellings in the upper layers of the skin.

Excessive sweating tends to remove the oil on the skin, and all cases of prickly heat are associated with excessive sweating.

Diagnosis is not always simple. Many eruptions are called prickly heat that are really insect bites, especially flea bites. A good point to notice is whether the rash affects the covered or exposed parts of the body. If the latter, insect bites or plant dermatitis may be suspected rather than prickly heat. Ringworm is another confusing possibility.

Treatment should consist of soothing preparations—lotions and powders. Starch, almond meal or bran water may be applied and the area then dried and dusted with 10 per cent boric acid powder with zinc oxide and starch. Calomine lotion with or without phenol is used in severe cases. Sponging with alcohol may be all that is needed.

Is there any scientific evidence that middle-aged people with a history of heart attacks should remain at sea level?

The question concerns a man of 50 who had a moderate attack of angina eighteen months ago and wants to take his vacation in the mountains. I quote the Journal of the American Medical Association that altitudes up to 5000 to 7500 feet are safe for those who have had coronary disease, provided there are no symptoms at the time and even if there are symptoms on condition that these persons avoid climbing step grades, such as are common at high altitudes. Many feel better in the clear air of the hills at 1000 to 2000 feet than they do in the moist air at sea level. In fact, the general experience is that heart symptoms are often benefitted by such a change.

Answer—Yes, to both questions.

Taking Care of Baby's Food in the Hot Weather

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

In this column today I have in mind especially the baby in congested city areas, the baby in rural places, and the baby who goes travelling.

Just because hot weather may increase digestive disturbance and intestinal troubles in babies and young children, the mother can afford to take special precautions.

Especially in rural places, the baby's drinking water should be boiled. It won't hurt him if the water is not cold.

Fruit and vegetables are safer when cooked, though cooking might destroy some of their vitamins. Anyway, we can be sure the fruit and vegetables are well washed; this also to remove poisons left by spraying.

BOIL BABY'S MILK

In city or country, a safe way is to boil the baby's milk. H. Kent Tenny, Jr., M.D., (in "Let's Talk About Your Baby"):

"About continuing the use of boiled milk: I believe it is a good plan to keep it up until the baby is about two years old. It is more easily digested and much safer than raw milk. Pasteurization probably makes the milk perfectly safe but does not affect its digestibility. The fear of the constipating effect of boiled milk would not influence my opinion even if it were true. And anyhow, a bit of constipation is a much safer thing to have around the house than a tendency to diarrhea.

"The very common use of boiled milk in the treatment of diarrhea is for the purpose of preventing the entrance of tough curds into an already irritated bowel and not for any specific constipating effect."

Concerning diarrhea, Dr. Tenney says:

"In line with this question of dietary restrictions, I want to say a few words about diarrhea, which, in spite of our efforts, is still a large contributor to infant mortality and morbidity. As I have told you before, diarrhea is a very untrustworthy neighbor to have around, and the younger the child the more treacherous it is. In other words, the potential dangers of a diarrhea at one year are far greater than at four years. Now, while there are many types and causes of diarrhea, and it is not worth while for you to learn all about them, still there are some things you should know so that if your child develops the condition you can make some dietary changes.

WATCH DIET

"Regardless of the type of diarrhea, it is wise to reduce to a minimum the fat, sugar, and roughage in the diet. This can be readily done by using skimmed, thoroughly boiled milk, and omitting sugar, cereals, and vegetables. The addition of a teaspoonful or so of unsweetened chocolate to the boiling milk is frequently effective, as is also the use of some of the protein powders such as Mead's Casec.

"But the really important thing to do is to replace the fluid that is being lost, by giving plenty of water. I told you a few minutes ago that when the baby had fever you could give him any kind of fruit juice, but in the case of diarrhea it is best to stick to plain water or very weak tea, as fruits are somewhat laxative.

"If his diarrhea is complicated by vomiting, the necessity for fluids is even greater. Here you must start with minute quantities, building up gradually as he demonstrates his ability to retain them. When it comes to the treatment of the type of vomiting that is not complicated by diarrhea, the system is much the same in regard to quantities, but here we use much sweetened fruit juice or at times just plain sugar."

I wish every mother of an infant might have a copy of Dr. Tenney's little book.

Expect Fashion Change fo Follow New Sales Tax

LONDON, July 24 (CP Cable).—The new budget was described today as the most sweeping in the history of Britain. It will affect every household in the land. "Shiny nose and shiny trousers budget" was how it was described by a London wholesaler.

The new 33 1-3 per cent sales tax on the wholesale value of luxuries and 16⅔ per cent figure on necessities such as clothes, shoes and books, with children's clothes and shoes exempted, have not yet gone into effect. Wholesalers and retailers anticipate an attempt at a buying rush before the leap in prices.

While stocks are plentiful, a buying wave is not desired and the Daily Mail said it understood the Government would take steps to stop the rush if it comes.

A fashion trades official said he believed a revolution of women's fashions will result from the sales tax. He said that dressmakers certainly will try to meet the situation by producing clothes at a lower cost.

'NOT POSSIBLE' FOR BRITISH TO ARRANGE CHANNEL EVACUATION

LONDON, July 24 (CP Cable)—In a written reply, Osbert Peake, Under-Secretary to the Home Office, today said "it is not possible on present information to hold out any hope of such an arrangement" as suggested by John Parker, Labor, who asked in the House of Commons if it is possible to arrange further evacuation of British people from the Channel Islands. Mr. Parker suggested that it might be possible to approach the German authorities through a neutral source to arrange for the evacuation of any British residents desiring to leave the German-occupied islands.

Hymn Books and Camp Song Book Among Projects

Happy Day No. 5.

Dr. W. J. Endicott was in great demand by all the tables this morning—he certainly is popular.

In Chief Cammy's group we discussed the "Trials, tribulations and wisdom of Job." Chief Big Laff led us in the discussion of "Witnessing for Christ as a Church Member." Chief Silver Locks outlined the basic needs of young people.

In the volleyball game the Playmates and the Carrillons staged some real rallies and the Playmates emerged victorious.

The weatherman again put a temporary halt to outdoor activities in the afternoon. Work projects received some attention, hymn sheets being repaired and work started on the proposed badminton court and patio before the lodge.

HYMN, SONG BOOKS

The first Council Ring of leaders and campers met and chose a committee to arrange securing hymn books for camp services. Fred Robins proposed compiling a loose-leaf camp song book of all songs used in the various camps and was chosen to promote the project.

Again in the evening's softball game the Playmates showed that they really know how to play when they scored a 21-4 victory over the Carrillons. Rev. J. A. Donnell visited the camp and spoke to us at the sunset service. His topic was "The Effect of Hatred in Human Life." Mr. Donnell was accompanied by Mrs. Donnell; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Megg; Mrs. Donnell's sister, Mrs. Ross, and her daughter Joan of Minneapolis.

At campfire the Hi-Aimers dramatized "Cinderella." The horse that carried Cinderella to the ball was realistic, even to the tail. Characters were, "Cinderella", Joan Austad; her two sisters, Doris Lemmon and Dot Nesbit; fairy godmother, Agnes Eliason; the prince, Dr. Endicott; the king and queen, Irene Boardman and Derek Groom; attendant, Herbert Swanson; horse, Chief "Cammie" and Bob Kay. The play was read by Joyce Maldment and sound effects by Mary Heddle.

To end the night buns and cocoa were served and then we formed the friendship circle.

C. delegate to accompany Provincial Superintendent Thomas Johnstone of Vancouver to the annual Dominion conference in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Story and son David and Frank Dyke, lay delegate, of Nelson; Miss L. L. Schneider and Miss Mildred Johnson, Pentecostal workers of Sheep Creek and the Provincial Superintendent, who was visiting here, left for the Conference July 18. Mr. Dyke, Miss Schneider and Miss Johnson returned to Nelson Saturday night, while Mr. and Mrs. Story and son stopped at Grand Forks. The Nelson Pastors assisted in the Sunday services at Grand Forks, and conducted a well-attended meeting there Tuesday. They were Pastors in Grand Forks from 1927 to 1929.

BOSE CALLS OFF BLACK HOLE RESISTANCE

CALCUTTA, July 24 (CP-Reuters)—The passive resistance movement designed to destroy the Black Hole Monument here was called off temporarily today pending a final decision on cancellation by Subhas Chandra Bose, the radical leader.

The move followed an announcement by the Bengal Government in the House of Assembly that the monument would be moved immediately from its present site. Kootenay Urges Ottawa to See That Veterans, Other Citizens Are Given Work Before Doukhobors, Objectors

OTTAWA, July 24 — Ottawa is in receipt of representations from West Kootenay citizens urging that steps be taken to safeguard the rehabilitation of men now enlisting and also to see that Doukhobors and other conscientious objectors are not given employment in preference to ex-service and other deserving citizens.

The matter of care of interned enemy aliens has also been discussed and the Director of Internment Operations has informed the West Kootenay member that internment camps are lighted by electricity where possible and the beds in the camps are similar to those used by Canadian troops in barracks, while their food is similar to that also provided to Canadian soldiers.

PAID 20 CENTS DAY

In regard to the working of the interned aliens the Director states that it has been a practice to provide work for them, for which they receive pay at the rate of 20 cents per day for such days as they are employed. They do not receive pay for work in connection with the administration and internal arrangements of the camps or on construction or improvement of quarters for their own use. This rate of pay is fixed by Regulations Governing the Maintenance of Discipline Among and Treatment of Prisoners of War and Other Internees, passed by Order-in-Council in December last.

Apparently the conditions surrounding residence in these internment camps are considered so congenial that there is a desire among some aliens to be interned.

All C.A.S.F. Men to Be in Huts, July 31

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP). — All members of the Canadian Active Service Force in training in Canada will be housed at their training centres in permanent army huts by the end of the month, it was stated today at Defence Headquarters.

Up to now a large proportion of the force has been under canvas and the change is being made possible by a hurry-up job of hut building by the engineering service which will have completed 802 huts during July with accommodation for 36,372 soldiers. These huts added to those previously built will be sufficient to house the entire force.

The huts are large substantial buildings, generally 120 feet long and 24 feet wide and 17 feet high to the top of the pitched roof.

It takes 1,000,000 feet of lumber to built huts sufficient to house a battalion of 1000 of all ranks. To provide accommodation for 36,732, exclusive of kitchens, will use up during this month somewhat more than 30,000,000 feet of lumber. "We are combing the country for suitable lumber," said an official today. "We shall have to transport considerable from British Columbia when we start a later program to provide Winter quarters for the Active Militia."

As a result of the order of June 28, the following huts will be completed this month: Camp Borden, Ont., 349 accommodating 16,184; Petawawa, Ont., 165 accommodating 7072; Valcartier, Que., 146 accommodating 6120; Shilo, Man., 108, accommodating 4760; Dundurn, Sask., 32, accommodating 1600.

NO COMMENT FROM DEFENCE MINISTERS

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP)— The report from La Linea, Spain, today that Canadian troops had disembarked at Gibraltar came as a surprise to high officials of the National Defence Department who were inclined to doubt it.

Defence Minister Ralston and Col. H. Desrosiers, Deputy Defence Minister, would not comment on the report.

Canadian troops are now serving in Iceland, Greenland and the British West Indies and the 1st Division is in the United Kingdom, along with Royal Canadian Air Force fliers.

Victoria Soldier Weds Wealthy Bride

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND — July 24 (CP). — When Sgt-Major Graham Cuthbertson left his home in Victoria, B.C., nearly 10 months ago he expected to see plenty of action in the mud of France and Flanders with his famous Canadian Active Service Force regiment in the 1st Division.

Fate, however, decreed otherwise. He was transferred to the Division Headquarter's staff, is now in the forward defensive zone of the home front—and cupid has done the rest.

Cuthbertson married Miss Teresa Jangman, younger daughter of Mrs. Richard Guinness, relative of the wealthy Irish family of brewers. The couple met at an entertainment given for a group of Canadians in the bride's London home.

Rumania Seizes Largest British Oil Company

BUCHAREST, July 24 (AP).—The Rumanian Government today confiscated the largest British oil company in Rumania.

The confiscated concern was the Astra-Romane Oil Company, which is jointly owned by British and Dutch interests.

Oil Commissar Gheron Netta appointed one of his deputies to run the company for the Government.

A Government order asserted that the concern, a subsidiary of the Royal Dutch Shell, had failed to provide information on production as required by Rumanian law.

Under the terms of a recent oil decree Rumanian Government now may send the company's production to Germany for use by the Nazi armies.

Since the start of the war the Astra-Romane Company refused steadfastly to ship oil to the Reich.

FURTHER STRAIN ON RELATIONS TO RUMANIA

LONDON, July 24 (CP)—Difficulties over British oil interests in Rumania will put a further strain on relations which have not been so cordial since the new Rumanian government showed a leaning toward the Rome-Berlin axis, informed circles said today.

These sources declared that with the British Minister, Sir Reginald Hoare, in bad health, German propagandists have taken advantage of his non-appearance in public to circulate rumors of a worsening of relations between Britain and Rumania."

Rumania circles here said it would not be strange if the new foreign minister in Bucharest made a change in the representation of his country in London. The present minister, Viorel Tilea, always has been regarded as pro-British and one of those responsible for the British guarantee which Rumania renounced recently.

'Newsmen Give False Impression of Japanese Acts'

SHANGHAI, July 24 (AP). — A Japanese Embassy spokesman today described a series of incidents involving United States citizens since July 7 as "an unfortunate coincidence from which it cannot be concluded that Japan is adopting an anti-American attitude."

Declaring at a press conference that "it is the duty of newspapermen to keep calm and cool," he said telegrams sent to President Roosevelt yesterday by five American newsmen — who urged retaliatory acts against Japan unless Tokyo acted to restrain Japanese elements in Shanghai—gave a false impression than Anti-American sentiment was growing among Japanese.

Hallett Abend, correspondent of the New York Times who recently was beaten and robbed of manuscripts in his apartment, declared that a tall Japanese, accompanied by a heavy-set Chinese, attempted to enter his office this morning on the pretext that he had phoned them to fix his typewriter.

He said policemen guarding the office refused them entry, and thereupon the men left the building.

The correspondents called the Embassy spokesman's attention to a proclamation issued by Japanese residents of Hangchow saying:

"Since the atrocities committed by American Marines at Shanghai July 7, the American Government has tried to avert its responsibility. This hostile attitude can never be tolerated. We want to warn Americans that if they don't withdraw from Asia forthwith, Japan will take the necessary steps."

One correspondent asserted that persons attending the mass meeting at which the proclamation was drawn up were transported by Japanese army trucks.

VOTING TODAY ON NELSON'S WATER BYLAW

Pproperty owners in Nelson will vote today on a $40,000 bylaw for the extension and improvement of its waterworks distribution system.

The work proposed is essential. It is necessary that Nelson's growing population be adequately supplied with water. There are areas which lack adequate service for domestic and sanitary needs. Public health is involved.

There is not likely to be serious opposition to a bylaw for such a purpose. But it is necessary that public-minded citizens should devote the few minutes of time it will require to cast a vote.

Balloting is at the City Hall.

NOTHING DULL ABOUT THIS BBC BROADCAST

Vigor, pep, zip or any of those things has not been a feature of the technique of the British Broadcasting Company but it is going to town in great style with some of its actuality broadcasts.

Britain is putting the war on the radio—the war with everything from the first distant zoom of planes to the fury of battle almost in front of the microphones—and even Death itself.

"Newsreel No. 8" of the British Broadcasting Company, picked up by short-wave listeners in Kootenay was an on-the-spot radiocast of an air battle over the English coast.

"He's bailing out—his machine is falling—it's plunging down in flames—he parachutes slowly to the sea—"

The announcer speaks much as a Nelson broadcaster would describe a hockey game from the rinkside.

"And over there! About four, no five, planes—Can't make out much, just a whirl, their machine guns hammering at each other—Hear them? Right over our heads—One of our planes has just put himself behind a Messerschmidt—He's chasing him—Oh, this is beautiful!—He's got him! The Messerscmidt's coming down! I've never seen anything so good."

IN FUTURE, TOO

Most Canadian universities have decided to require all men students to take military training, either in the Officer's Training Corps or in student militia units. This plan is to take the place of intercollegiate sports for the duration of the war. Even before the last war, military training was compulsory for freshmen in State-supported universities in the United States. With Canada actually engaged in war, this modification of university requirements is a natural and proper measure.

At least one year's military training should become a permanent requirement of all Canadian universities—at least until we have reached, instead merely have worked and hoped for, that Utopian condition in which the rest of the World has become so good so trustworthy that we in the British Empire no longer need to prepare to defend ourselves.

Spray for Thrips on Gladiolus

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Fifth columnists among gladiolus

Thrips are the under-cover terrorists which work like "fifth columnists" among gladiolus. Precautions against them must be on a year around basis. These always active insects feed upon the leaves, buds and flowers of gladiolus. From the time growth is six inches high until the bud show color a spray campaign (once a week) must be maintained if damage by thrips is to be prevented. Spray with a mixture of 4½ teaspoonfuls of tartar emetic, 8 ounces of brown sugar to three gallons of water.

The adult thrip is a black-winged insect, one-sixteenth of an inch long. A closeup of one, greatly enlarged, is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. In the immature stage these insects are wingless and a pale yellow in color. The results of their undercover work among gladiolus are imperfect flowers and distorted flower spikes. Signs of thrips at work are small silvery-white streaks on the leaves and flowers.

Gladiolus corms should be treated for thrip after they are dug up. Burn the tops from the plants and fumigate the corms in closed paper bags, using one ounce of naphthalene flakes to every hundred corms. After a month's time, open the bags, remove the flakes and store the corms in a dry place.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

THE FORCING PASS

WHENEVER it is certain your partner knows you have enough strength to bid again, your pass of an opponent's bid is an absolute force upon him to take some action when it is his turn. It commands him either to double the opponents or bid again. It gives him an option, telling him, in effect, that you don't know whether the side can score a profitable set or not, and that you are putting the decision up to him. If he passes, instead of doubling or bidding, your only recourse is to look for a new partner.

North: ♠6 3 2 ♥K 4 ♦A 10 7 4 2 ♣10 5 4

West: ♠9 7 5 4 ♥J 6 3 ♦K ♣9 7 6 3 2

East: ♠J 10 ♥A 10 9 8 7 2 ♦Q J 9 8 5 ♣None

South: ♠A K Q 8 ♥Q 5 ♦6 3 ♣A K Q J 8

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1♦	1♥
2♣	3♥	Pass	4♥
Pass	Pass	Pass

What a terrible pass was that last one by North! His pass on the preceding round was really good bridge, because there was no very clear-cut good bid he could make himself and he knew from South's game-guarantee jump that South was prepared to do something. In fact, that pass was a good one, to give South a chance to double if he wished.

But when South had passed East's 4-Hearts, he put the problem up to North, to see if North would rather double than bid. When North felt he could not double the bid profitably, his duty was to call 5-Clubs. This could have been made easily, with the loss of only one trick each in the two red suits. North had enough cards to support the suit, which had been bid first by South and therefore was probably of at least five cards, the spades being probably only four.

The basic difference between North's first pass and his second one was that the first time he was passing a bid by West, so that South would surely get another chance, whereas the second time he was passing a bid by East, and South would get no more chance at it.

The 4-Hearts got set only one trick not doubled, small consolation for loss of a game.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠J 3 ♥A 9 8 3 3 ♦10 5 4 ♣10 4 3

West: ♠9 6 4 ♥K 10 7 6 ♦A K 8 ♣Q 9 6

South: ♠K Q 10 ♥Q J ♦Q J 9 7 3 ♣A K J

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

If South bids 1-Diamond, North 1-Heart, South 2-No Trumps, North 3-Hearts and South 3-No Trumps. West leading the spade 9, how much does that card tell East about what declarer holds in the suit?

General de Gaulle Fought Years for Mechanical Divisions for France

General Charles de Gaulle, who was Chief of the Military Commission in the Reynaud Government, broadcast from London on June 18 a stirring appeal to all French Officers and men, Engineers and others to prevent "the flame of French resistance" from being extinguished.

General de Gaulle was born at Lille in November, 1890, graduated from Saint Cyr in 1911 and was attached to the 33rd Infantry Regiment then commanded by Petain, whose influence on him always remained great and to whom his book Au fil de l'Epee is dedicated.

Like most of France's great military leaders, he fought in the last war and was several times mentioned in despaiches. He was wounded in August, 1914, at Dinant, in March, 1915, at Mesnil-les-Hurlus and again in 1916 when he was also gassed and taken prisoner. After several unsuccessful attempts to escape he finally succeeded in December, 1917, as a result of which he was awarded the Croix de Guerre, avec palme.

After the war he was successively attache in Poland, a member of Marshal Petain's staff with the army in the Near East and a member of the Conseil Superieur de la Defence nationale. He then commanded a formation of tanks, and has fought in the present war at the head of an armored division. Later he became Under Secretary for National Defence.

Although General de Gaulle is a brilliant soldier, his reputation is not primarily based on his military career. France has many great soldiers who fought in the last war and have been fighting again in this. General de Gaulle is famous as the man who fought, too, through 20 years of peace, for the victory of the idea that the machine had transformed the army and military strategy, and that the concepts which ruled military strategy in the last war were therefore now out of date.

He fought for the creation of motorized and armored divisions manned by a professional army. His book Vers l'Armee de Metier, published in 1934, passed almost unnoticed in France, though it was translated into German and received much attention in Germany. In France, however, it was noticed by one man at least—M. Reynaud—who took up with enthusiasm the ideas expressed in it.

In 1935 M. Reynaud's book Le Probleme Militaire Francais echoed General de Gaulle's plea, and in March of the same year M. Reynaud introduced a bill for the creation of 10 motorized and armored divisions. In his speech of March 15 M. Reynaud put forward the hypothesis, then considered so unlikely, of an invasion of Belgium, and predicted the events which we have just experienced.

"Let us assume," he said, "that Belgium is invaded. It is an event not without precedent. If we have not the means at our disposal to go immediately to her aid and to help her to cover her Eastern frontier, what will happen? Perhaps what has happened once already. The Belgian army may be pushed back to the sea. For us that means 350 kilometres of frontier to defend in the North of France. Is there anyone here who accepts in advance the idea of seeing the richest provinces of France once more invaded and torn from the motherland?"

The new ideas were not, however, generally welcomed. The conception of fast moving armored units was not felt to be in harmony with the pacifist ideal which relied on defence and rejected anything which could be regarded as "offensive" in outlook. France relied on her Maginot Line and her citizen army. But General de Gaulle was not discouraged by the attitude just revealed and continued to write and to work for the acceptance of his ideas. "I am quite confident," he said, "that they will come to it. But I am afraid that they will come to it too late."

Even after the outbreak of the present war he continued his appeal, and in January of this year he wrote a report urging France to make a superhuman effort to produce tanks and aeroplanes even at the cost of demobilizing troops in order to relapse the necessary labor.

NAZIS CLAIM RAIL DAMAGE BY RAID

BERLIN, July 24 (AP)—The text of today's German High Command's communique follows:

"A U-boat shot two armed merchant ships, of a total tonnage of 14,000 out of a heavily armed convoy and sank them.

(This claim was not confirmed).

"Because of unfavorable weather, the activity of the air force was limited. In Southern England several rail lines and roads as well as reserve barracks were bombed.

"In the course of armed reconnaissance over the Channel and off the English South coast, our planes bombed and sank two patrol boats and one minesweeper and damaged another ship. In the North Sea, one of our fighters succeeded in sinking a submarine.

(No losses at sea due to air action have been announced by the Admiralty.)

"On the night of July 23-24 British planes dropped bombs over various points in North and West Germany without much effect. Our night hunters shot down two enemy planes and our anti-aircraft one. One of our own planes is missing."

BRITISH DENY ANY DAMAGE

LONDON, July 24 (CP)—Authoritative quarters, commenting on a German claim that Nazi bombers "hit important rail and road objectives in England," said today:

"German raids over the 24 hours in question were so slight that British authorities found it unnecessary to issue any communique.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Raring to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c. (Advt.)

Weatherley Homers Indians to Win; Hutchinson Wins First Big Leaguer

(By The Canadian Press)

Roy Weatherly's two-run homer was the decisive factor yesterday as Cleveland Indians turned in their sixth straight triumph to stay a half-game behind the American League-leading Detroit Tigers.

Chicago's Whit Sox and Boston's Red Sox got hot in their own right and in better than 100-degree temperature boomed out 34 hits totalling 64 bases. Chicago got the decision, its sixth in a row, 12-10.

A home run by Walt Judnich with one on in the ninth inning gave St. Louis Browns a 14-12 victory over New York Yankees.

Detroit Tigers' $70,000 rookie, Pitcher Freddie Hutchinson, chalked up his first American League victory yesterday at the expense of Washington's Senators, but the league leaders owed no small part of their 7-5 triumph to the relief pitching of Big Alton Benton.

Hutchinson shut out the Nats with three hits for the first five innings. But he yielded four hits and two runs in the sixth and three consecutive singles—each good for a counter—before he was removed from the mound in the seventh.

Benton yielded only one single and a walk in 2 1-3 innings, while he struck out four.

Boston Bees snapped a six-game losing streak by coming from behind twice to nip Chicago Cubs 4-3 in the National League. The triumph was the third Dick Errickson has gained over the Cubs this season.

Bucky Walters mastered the Dodgers with seven-hit pitching in a night game at Brooklyn for his 15th victory of the season as the Cincinnati Reds rapped out a 6-3 decision and increased their lead to eight games.

Net Stars Lose Out, Third Round

SEA BRIGHT, N.J., July 24 (AP)—Defending women's champion Helen Bernhard of New York and fifth-seeded Bryant M. Grant, Jr., of Atlanta were eliminated today in the third round of the Sea Bright invitation tennis tournament.

Henry Prusoff, Seattle, cut down Grant, 6-2, 6-3.

Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Calif., defending champion, lost his first set of the tournament as he defeated Jack Kramer of California, 1-6, 3-6, 6-2.

Bobby Riggs, Chicago, eliminated Owen Anderson, Los Angeles, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3, and Elwood T. Cooke, Portland, Ore., ousted George Toleh, California, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

Alice Marble led the advance to the semi-final round, where she will meet Sarah Palfrey, Brookline, Mass., winner today over young Louise Brough, Beverley Hills, Calif.

Kimberley Wins Close One at Natal in Ball

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—After trailing for seven innings the Kimberley Dynamiters baseball team tied up the game at 3-all in the eighth and scored three runs in the ninth to defeat the Natal-Michel Buffaloes 6-3 in a weird baseball game at the Natal ball park Sunday.

Youthful Bob Halko pitched masterful ball for the Buffaloes until the ninth inning when he weakened to fill the bases with none down. Until then he allowed nine hits while striking out 11 opponents. He was relieved by T. Krall who coudn't stop the winning run from scoring when the visitors produced three hits for three runs.

S. Young hurled the entire game for Kimberley allowing eight hits and striking out eight. The Buffaloes, after spotting Kimberley a one-run lead in the first, scored singles runs in the second, third and fourth innings to take a 3-1 lead. The lead was reduced in the sixth to 3-2.

This was the first of a two-game home-and-home exhibition series, a return game to be played at Kimberley August 4. The loss was the Buffaloes' first on home grounds this season in seven games. The game was umpired by J. Josay and J. Krall of Natal. The Natal-Michel Buffaloes will travel to Cranbrook in a return game on Sunday, July 28.

Score by innings:

Kimberley	100 001 013—6	12 4

NELSON AND DISTRICT OLD TIMERS REVEL IN ANNUAL PICNIC AT PARK

Mr., Mrs. Hielscher Oldest Old Time Couple

Threatening weather failed to dull the keen enthusiasm of hundreds of old timers as the Nelson and District Old Timers Association staged its annual picnic at Lakeside Park Wednesday. Storm clouds rolled up menacingly early in the afternoon, but later cleared away to some extent and the brisk wind died down.

The afternoon and evening program comprised sports and novelty events for the youngsters and provided a grand opportunity for the old folk to engage in their ever-popular reminiscing and story-telling of the "good old days". When the outing concluded with a dance on the spacious park lawns, to lively tunes played by a group of musicians under the direction of David Dyck, many forgot their gray hairs to essay old and new dance steps.

MANY TALES OF EARLY DAYS

Manifold tales of early enterprises and happenings in this district were recounted, and the most familiar question on the grounds was "When did you come?" R. G. Joy, Association Historian who has made it a hobby to compile the life stories of as many old timers as possible, added to his wealth of interesting knowledge of pioneer days as he contacted old acquaintances throughout the afternoon. Mr. Joy himself came to B. C. in 1893.

Attending their second Association picnic, Mr. and Mrs. Hielscher qualified as the oldest old time couple at the picnic. Mr. Hielscher came to America in 1883 and to B. C. in '87. He then engaged in railroad work with the C. P. R. at Donald, and a year later his future wife came to join him. For many years he resided at Midway, where Mr. Hielscher retired from railroad work in 1922. Now he and Mrs. Hielscher are Nelson citizens. They happily declared "we're having the time of our lives."

Another veteran old timer was J. A. McDonald. He came to B. C. in 1890, living for three years at the Coast, where he worked in the Dunsmuir Collieries at Wellington. Then he came to Nelson to work for the Hall Mines Company and smelter. After mining in the Slocan, he went to the Klondike in '98, and two years later returned to Nelson. Thirty-five years ago he started a manufacturing and wholesale business, in which he is still engaged. Previously he was a retailer on Baker Street. Twenty-eight years ago he established his well-known jam factory.

MANY PIONEERS

Others who were among the pioneers of the country long ago and attended the picnic were John Blomberg, who came in 1889; E. E. H. Applethwaite and W. P. Dixon, old-time Nelson electricians, who came in 1890; Mrs. A. McL. Fletcher, 1891; Mrs. George Johnson, 1893; and many others.

George Horstead was assigned his usual duties of looking after the peanut, candy and coin scrambles for the youngsters, and the jovial Secretary was again a popular figure. M. C. Donaldson, of Salmo, Association President, who came to B. C. in 1888 and to Nelson in 1896, had general charge of the picnic.

Committees follow: W. B. Coles and Clyde Emory, Registration; Charles Morris, Announcer; Napoleon Malette, H. T. Brown, Louis Johnson, Robert Qua, Harold Curran and R. G. Joy, Sports; and Ross Fleming, Music. Cyril Edgington had charge of the public address system.

David Dyck, Rex Little, Thomas Tourand and Thomas Cragg formed one musical group and the Nelson Brass Band, under the direction of S. J. Newell, gave a concert at night.

Upsets Feature Public Tourney

DETROIT, July 24 (AP)—Championship dreams of 49 golfers for supremacy in the United States public links championship turned into nightmares today in two rounds of match competition that produced a series of startling upsets.

Sixteen survivors will struggle through two more runds over the Rackham municipal course tomorrow.

Still in the contention were those par-wrecking youngsters — Worth Stimits, Jr., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Edward J. Furgol, Utica, N.Y.—who set a qualifying record of 138 yesterday—but only one can survive tomorrow because the fate of the draw has paired them in a third-round contest.

Andrew Szwedko of Pittsburgh, defending champion, faded before William Bublis, Chicago, 3 and 2.

David A. Mitchell of Atlanta, 1934 victor, lost to William Doll of Louisville when the latter put down a fine putt for a birdie three on the final green.

Carl K. Kauffmann of Pittsburgh, the 1927, 1928 and 1930 champion, bowed to Jack Larose, 19, of Detroit, 2 and 1.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By The Canadian Press

World heavyweight champion Jim Corbett successfully defended his title against Billy Maynard 37 years ago today at New York. Corbett scored a knockout in the second round of the bout.

Rep Softball Girls Hold First Practice

Tony Arcure put his Nelson ladies' rep softball team aspirants through their first workout as a unit this season at the Recreation Grounds Wednesday evening.

He gave the girls batting and fly-chasing drill, and the infield a few rounds of fielding. For the infield, he had Isabel Donovan at third, Vera Matheson at short and Deanie Wallace at second, all last year's regulars. On first he had Phyllis Wallace in place of Ross Stewart, who is in Cranbrook at present. Among those who were on hand was Martha Rogers, new swimming instructress, who is expected to catch a position.

The next practice is slated for Friday evening.

100 Yards to Be Run Under 9 Seconds in Future?

One hundred yards is equal to something like half a city block, and has been run by Charley Paddock, Ralph Metcalfe, Jesse Owens, Minoru Fijuii, Eddie Tolan, Frank Wykoff, and others in "a handful of seconds." Yet in the last five decades the World's greatest athletes have lowered the "century" record only six-tenths of a second. Is 9.4 the best man will ever do?

"Big Jim', Thorpe, referred to by many a coach and sports scribe as the greatest all-round athlete of modern times, doesn't think so. In a current Rotarian Magazine article he predicts a day when the distance will be covered in 8.8 seconds. "Outside factors," training, muscle control, improved starting blocks, modern processed tracks, and redesigned running shoes and spikes, will do the trick, he says.

"I am certain that within the next 50 years some streamlined sprint wonder will come plunging off the starting marks, his legs tattooing the hard-packed cinders with a speed never before seen," "Big Jim" asserts. "Where the average athlete requires, today, 45½ strides to cover the distance, this superman, adding extra inches to his stride, will require no more than 42. Where the average athlete feels fatigue at 60 yards, this superman will not know it until 80 yards. He will bullet into the tape at almost maximum velocity—and he will run 100 yards in 8.8 seconds. That is my prediction for tomorrow.

"You must be patient. I remind you, 50 years ago it took 10 seconds to traverse that half block. Today it takes 9.4 seconds, and unofficially not even that long. And tomorrow, well, maybe not this Spring or Summer, maybe in several dozen Summers, men will do the 100 in 8.8 seconds. That will be the human limit. That's when glycogen in muscle fibres will call a halt."

Feller Hit in Face

CLEVELAND, July 24 (AP).—Bob Feller, Cleveland's star pitcher, was struck in the face by a ball thrown in pre-game practice today Feller was taken to the clubhouse and his face packed in ice, but club officials expressed belief the injury was not serious.

DODGERS, REDS PLAYERS FINED $25 FOR FIGHT

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP). — Pete Coscarart and Whitlow Wyatt of Brooklyn Dodgers and Lonny Frey of Cincinnati Reds were fined $25 each today by President Ford Frick of the National League as an aftermath of yesterday's fight at Ebbets Field.

Jesse Owens, who won three first places for the United States in the 1936 Olympic Games, is barnstorming with a Negro baseball team. His act is against a polo pony.

PERSONALITIES IN BIG LEAGUE BALL

Speaking of baseball celebrities, if you see a scholarly looking gentleman sitting in an airliner with a paper bucket in his lap, it's Will Harridge, and he ain't eating ice cream. . . . If you see a gent in dungarees polishing the brass on a yacht called the Wasp, don't think he's a roustabout, for that would be P. K. Wrigley. . . . If you see a nervous little man phoning newspapers to check on his news ticker, don't think it a gag. That's Harry Grabiner, and the White Sox are losing away from home. . . . If you see a gent buying Mose Grove a beer, the fellow's not trying to get Lefty's autograph. He already has it and his name's Tom Yawkey. . . . You may think that literary gentleman so busy on his typewriter is telling about runs, hits and errors, but he's not. It's Tom Swope ripping off another item about the luxuries of the press box in Cincinnati or the soft beds in the Floridan Hotel, at Tampa, Fla.

If you see a gentleman with bushy eyebrows setting down a lot of figures, you can believe it is Ed Barrow, but don't think he's figuring Yankee batting averages. He's computing the Stadium gate receipts.

That man with the crooked nose, who is mumbling to himself, is not trying to memorize Lincoln's Gettysburg address. It's Frankie Frisch, Manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . The Yankee tying into a three-pound steak is Buddy Rosar, the catcher.

If you should see 12 men in line pass through the press gate at Shibe Park, followed by a well-dressed man, short in stature, with closely cropped grey hair, rather slooped and looking downward as he follows the others inside, he's Harry S. McDevitt, Judge of the Common Pleas Court in Philadelphia, following one of his murder case juries into the park for an afternoon of baseball after hearing "I object" and "May it please Your Honor" all morning. . . . If you see a stout fellow, with a fairly new but well out of shape hat, and a good suit that doesn't quite hang right, and if he is looking enviously at Leo Durocher or Lyn Lay, or anybody who wears clothes well, wishing he could buy that well-groomed look and stay that way, you're looking at Branch Rickey. . . . And if the guy you're looking at needs a shave and has sideburns and a big hat and a polo shirt, open in front over a hairy chest, it's barrel-chested Papper Martin, pride of Oklahoma.

Veteran Oarsmen to Be Honored, Henley

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., July 24 (CP)—A side feature to the 58th Royal Canadian Henley regatta which opens here tomorrow will be staged Friday when two veterans of the sport, Joe Wright, Sr., and P. J. Mulqueen, both of Toronto, will be presented with life memberships in the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

Wright and Mulqueen rowed together as a double team in one English Henley more than 50 years ago.

H. A. Powell Head Creston School Board; New Teachers Appointed

CRESTON, B. C.—H. A. Powell, Chairman of the board; and J.W. Hamilton, Secretary, were the unanimous choices of the trustees of Creston Valley United School District at the inaugural meeting Monday. Mr. Powell headed the poll at the election a few nights previous and Mr. Hamilton was reappointed at a salary. of $600.

The principal business was the filling of a couple of vacancies in the high school staff. Principal J. S. Graham wired asking that the board confirm his hiring of Miss Miriam Horn as teacher of Home Economics, succeeding Miss Mary Baldwin, and Miss D. Kathleen Johnson of Victoria to handle the Girls' Physical Training, in place of Miss Margaret J. Harvey.

Trustees Archibald, McCreath, and Young favored conmation as requested by the principal but Trustee Bradley demurred. He was of the opinion the board should have a letter from the principal outlining the qualifications of the two new members of the staff, and moved that appointment be deferred until such information came to hand. The other three and the chairman pointed out too much time would be lost by such procedure, and teachers being scarce it would be in the best interests of the school to accept Mr. Graham's recommendations and a motion to this effect was carried after Trustee Bradley failed to get a seconder to his resolution to defer appointment.

In the elementary school section, Miss Iris Taylor, junior teacher at Canyon, will be moved to Creston to replace Miss Rita Wall. A salary of $1000 was recommended by Supervising Principal Earl Marriott for Miss Taylor, who will have charge of the library and other extra work at Creston.

The vacancy at Canyon will be filled by the appointment of Miss Alma J. Andrews of Newgate, who will be paid $960. She has had nine years' experience, and is particularly accomplished in music and art. She comes highly recommended by Inspector J. E. Brown.

The resignation of Miss E. Fleck, junior teacher at Erickson, was accepted. This leaves elementary school appointments to be made for Erickson and West Creston. Several applications have been received and sent to Principal Marriott at the Coast. In order to avoid the necessity of calling a full board meeting to handle teacher appointments, the board chairman and secretary along with Trustees McCreath and Bradley were authorized to fill vacancies.

There are four applicants for the position of transportation superintendent, made vacant with the leaving for overseas service of William Upton. These are E. G. Timmons, J. H. Fisher, X. Dupyron and Godfrey Vigne. These were referred to H. S. McCreath, the new Chairman of the Transportaiton and Bus Committee, to consider and bring in a recommendation at the next meeting. Mr. McCreath was also asked to go into the matter of changing the bus system, if feasible, so that buses would remain at their rural destinations overnight instead of returning to Creston, and save half the present mileage now travelled.

The matter of purchasing supplies for 1940-41 is urgent and the chairman named Trustee Archibald to head the supplies committee, and take care of the purchasing of requirements forthwith.

For Canada's three days of national registration the board will permit the free use of its schools on guarantee of adequate caretaking. At Creston the high school cafeteria in the old Central School basement will be offered.

TO SAVE ON HIGH SCHOOL SALARIES

Financially the board rejoiced to know that the new appointees to the High School staff will permit a saving of $100 in estimated salaries for these two departments. The secretary advised that there is still due the board $347 of unpaid 1939-40 Grade 13 tuition fees, along with $130 still owing on 1938-39 account. The sum of $426 was collected last term from students from other districts attending High School, and Mr. Hamilton advised the new board started the year with a surplus of $911 on 1939-40 operations, and a prospective $866 due from department—an unpaid balance on last term's Transportation cost of which Victoria pays 50 per cent.

The second Monday in the month was agreed upon for the regular meeting. By resolution it is now provided that for the next annual meeting the estimates will be published in the local paper, along with the names of the retiring trustees, and word as to whether they are eligible for reelection.

The meeting was called to order by Secretary J. W. Hamilton who was in charge for the election of the permanent chairman. Other trustees present were D. K. Archibald, H. Young, Donald Bradley, H. S. McCreath, and Chairman H. A. Powell. Messrs. Bradley, McCreath and Powell are the newly elected members of the board with Mr. McCreath entering upon his second term.

Executive of the Nelson Softball Association Wednesday night ruled Art Ross eligibl to play for the Hume Hotel in the men's semi-finals between Hume and C. Y. O. opening Friday evening.

Columbus Termed "Master Navigator"

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 24 — (AP).—After retracing the routes followed by Christopher Columbus and studying his sea journals, Harvard's Professor Samuel Morison announced today his belief that the discoverer was a "master navigator and a shrewd and accurate observer with a keen sense of beauty."

Back from a month of sailing the Caribbean in a ketch, Morison said he definitely found Columbus' first new world harbor, on the island of San Salvador, as well as his second landing place, in Northern Cuba.

Last Summer, in beginning the Harvard Columbus expedition, Morison sailed the route followed by Columbus across the North Atlantic. Most previous researches, he said, were in libraries rather than at sea. He added that existing charts of Columbus's routes were 80 per cent inaccurate.

This Summer's quest, the professor said, showed that the discoverer's first landing on San Salvador must have been on a beach on the leeward, or West, side of the island, known now as Hall's Landing. Reefs surrounding the isle would have wrecked Columbus' vessel had he tried to gain shore except for a two-mile opening on this side, Morison explained.

MEN AT SEA WILL REGISTER ON RETURN

HALIFAX, July 24 (CP)—Men at sea during the three-day period for registration of Canadians will report at their local post offices when they reach home, officials at this Atlantic port said today.

Seafaring men whose ships are docked here during the three days will swell the list of persons registering in Halifax, the officials said. The scheme provides that a person unable to register in his home town may do so wherever he may be.

NO ALTERATIONS FOR REGISTRATION FORMS

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP) — The questionnaire for the national registration will remain in its announced form, a Government source indicated today.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen appealed in the Senate last night that the Government simplify the questionnaire but it was learned that most of the forms have been printed and it would not be practical to alter them now.

The questionnaire includes 18 questions for men and 19 for women with numerous subdivisions.

British Issue of Norway Paper Reaches New York

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—British troops fighting the Germans in Northern Norway had time to publish at least one issue of a newspaper, "The Midnight Sun," it was revealed today when a copy reached here from England.

The paper, dated May 18, was the first—and perhaps only—issue and contained news items, jokes and soldiers' poetry, as well as a 'hello and goodbye' foreword from the then British Commander, Maj.-Gen. Pierse Joseph MacKesy.

Apparently MacKesy had been recalled to England or was just then preparing to withdraw his troops and their French and Polish Allies.

The Sun was a 4-column, 4-page tabloid edited by Canon J. C. F. Hood. Among its items was one: "Good news! Beer is on the way!"

A soldiers poem on air raid shelters went:

"I like my cellar cool and dry,
"I like it full of beer
"I hate my cellar dark and drear,
"I loathe the air-raid habit.
"I see no reason why a man
"Should imitate a rabbit."

MAN WHO CUT PHONES SENTENCED 7 YEARS

LONDON, July 24 (CP Cabyle).—A welder who cut the wires of seven public telephones on the outskirts of London was sentenced at Old Bailey today to seven years' imprisonment.

Police said the man, William Gutheridge, 28, was a former member of the British Union of Fascists and was engaged in vital Admiralty work when arrested.

R. A. F. Scores on Italian Submarines in Tobruk

CAIRO, July 24 (AP).—British bombing planes scored direct hits on a jetty at which some submarines were moored in Tobruk Harbor, Italian Libya, on Monday night, the Royal Air Force reported today

Four explosions followed, the statement said.

The text of the communique follows:

"Bombing aircraft carried out a successful raid on Tobruk Harbor on the night of July 22-23. Direct hits were registered on a submarine jetty, followed several minutes later by four explosions.

"Some submarines were moored at the jetty.

"El Gubbi and El Adem airdromes also were attacked. One of our aircraft is missing.

"A low leevl bombing attack was made on Umm Ahgar airdrome in Italian East Africa and considerable damage was done. During another raid in the Massawa area, one enemy fighter, which attempted to intercept our bombers, crashed. All our aircraft returned home safely.

"Boxers of the South African Air Force attacked an enemy military formation on the Takab Abuna road, damaging lorries and machine guns.

"Four raids were carried out on the Diredawa airdrome and surrounding buildings, many bombs bursting on the target. One hangar was damaged badly, direct hits also were registered on other buildings. One enemy aircraft on the ground was set afire.

"Although many enemy fighters intercepted, all our aircraft returned safely.

"A Sunderland flying boat, during redonnaissance, sighted an enemy convoy consisting of three merchant vessels, three tankers and one destroyer. It is believed two merchant vessels were hit and badly damaged."

ITALIANS CLAIM AUSTRALIAN DESTROYER SUNK

ROME, July 24 (AP).—The text of the communique issued today by the Italian High Command:

"Our submarines in the Eastern Mediterranean have sunk an Australian destroyer and a submarine.

(These claims were not confirmed from British sources).

"One of our formations bombed a gasoline depot at the Malta naval base. Despite the enemy's violent anti-aircraft reaction objectives were hit squarely, causing numerous fires.

(No word of a raid on Malta during the past 24 hours has come from the R. A. F.)

"In North Africa two enemy fighting planes of the Gloucester type have been shot down in an air fight with losses on our part.

(The R. A. F. said one of its planes was lost in attacks on El Gubbi and El Adem).

"During the night hours of July 23-24, following an alarm based on reports from Gaeta, anti-aircraft batteries of Rome went into action twice, firing barrages. No bombs were dropped. Several persons were injured by shell fragments."

45 WOLF CUBS IN FINE CAMP AT FRUITVALE

TRAIL, B. C., July 24—Forty-five Wolf Cubs are back in Trail after a week at Lord Tweedsmuir Camp, near Fruitvale. From the first day to the last the outing was one of the most successful in local Cub history.

The Cubs followed the normal routine of camp life until Thursday when "Indian Day" was held. On this occasion they dressed in Indian costume and went on the warpath as early as 6 a.m. Wearing little more than their war paint and loin cloths, the braves raided and demolished several camps. That night they slept under the stars.

Italians Raid Malta 80 Times

LONDON, July 24 (CP).—Italians have raided Malta, big British naval base in the Mediterranean, more than 80 times, inflicting at the start "comparatively heavy" civilian casualties but with little damage to military objectives, military circles said today.

"Now that civilians have learned the art of taking cover, their casualties are greatly lessened," these sources said.

Malta is defended by artillery, infantry, strong anti-aircraft batteries and Royal Air Force fighters.

Italian air losses from anti-aircraft fire are estimated at two planes shot down and four severely damaged. R. A. F. fighters have destroyed 12 Italian raiders and severely damaged nine others.

AUSTRALIAN FRUIT ARRIVES IN BRITAIN

Cameron, Minister of Commerce and the Navy, announced today the sale to the British Food Ministry of 750,000 cases of Australian canned apricots, peaches and pears for £700,000 ($2,561,000). Bulk of the fruit has arrived in the United Kingdom, Mr. Cameron said.

New Air Conditioned Beds Warm in Winter and Cool in Summer

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

SEATTLE, July 24—Invention of an air-conditioned bed was announced today at the University of Washington.

The bed warms a person in Winter and cools him in Summer. He dials his own weather for the night with a knob at the head of the bed.

An air-cushion under him and a new form of air-blanket over him makes this possible. The air-cushion affords, furthermore, another easily installed possibility.

If father won't get up when called, mother downstairs may press a button, and plop goes father's air-cushion.

The inventor, Dr. F. K. Kirsten, famous aeronautical engineer, estimates the new bed can be manufactured for less cost than present high class beds.

The bed is a sheet metal box, minus a top. Over this open space is stretched a fabric sufficiently air-tight to form a good cushion when the box is filled with compressed air.

But the fabric is also porous enough to permit slow seepage of this compressed air, whether warmed or cooled, up and around the sleeper.

Asbestos lines the steel interior, and an electric heating tube in the box warms the air. If cooling is wanted, it is only necessary to turn down the heater, for the air always comes into the box cooled automatically by expansion.

The compressed air comes from a basement tank, at 150 pounds per square inch. In the bed this pressure reduces to only one-quarter pound a square inch. The expansion automatically reduces the temperature to 52 Fahrenheit.

A single special cover goes over the sleeper. It is a hollow blanket. Air from the bed below passes through fine tubes into the foot of this blanket and rolls forward inside the fabric to exit around the sleeper's shoulders. But by the time the air reaches there, Dr. Kirsten says, it has lost its speed and temperatures so that there is no draft blowing on the sleeper's neck.

The bed was designed specially for use in hotels and large establishments.

Balloon Barrage Crews Patiently Wait for Raiders

By W. T. YARBROUGH
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

LONDON, July 24 (AP).—London's balloon barrage crews are waiting patiently for the first big air raid to prove that their lofty mooring cables are more than mere inspiration for amateur poets and devices for strengthening public confidence.

They already have given a sample of their use by netting four stray German raiders—and, inadvertently, five British planes as well.

The latest German to be victimized by a cable was brought down Monday when Royal Air Force fighter planes enticed him into the trap of great dangling cables supported by the gargantuan "guppy" balloons.

It is said that small bombs and even good-sized incendiary bombs bounce off the resilient balloons without damaging them. The big bags are constructed with inner compartments, so that a puncture would not bring them down, and the newest ones are declared to be lightning-proof—a hint that they are constructed to withstand explosive attacks.

Each balloon is manned by a crew linked by an intricate communication system with all the others so that any defence plan can be coordinated and executed instantaneously.

Some idea of the size of these forces can be formed from the fact that more men are employed than were in all the Royal Air Force before its big expansion in 1935.

The balloons are anchored to especially designed trucks which can haul them down and speed to a new location in a few minutes.

Rossland Finances Improved but City "Not Yet Out of Woods" Gordon Tells Council; Receipts Are Holding Up Well

Slightly More Than Half Allowable Expenditures

ROSSLAND, B. C., July 24—Rossland's financial report for the first six months of the year was encouraging, but the great improvement shown over last year "should not entitle us to slacken our efforts as we are not yet out of the woods," said Mayor John E. Gordon in a report to the Rossland City Council.

Figures compiled by L. A. Reid, Auditor, showing receipts and disbursements for the six-month period, with the estimates for the year for comparison, was presented by Mayor Gordon.

His Worship's comment and the figures presented follow:

"We had a special problem to meet this year and it was to meet this problem that our very drastic budget was drawn up. If, then there are any comparisons to be made, I think we should make them as between what we estimated to spend and what we actually have spent for any particular purpose, rather than to results of previous years. A brief summary of these expenditures shows that whereas we estimated on spending $129,125.42 for all purposes for the one-year period (not including loan repayments etc.) what we actually expended during the six-month period amounted to $67,620.44 made up as follows:

Item:	Extended to June 30	Estimate for Year
Sinking fund deposit	$ 9,600.00	$ 20,172.92
Administration, office, etc.	2,839.54	5,401.00
Administration of justice	1,437.42	3,284.00
Fire protection	3,870.40	7,795.00
Sanitary department	104.00	900.00
Health and relief department	1,585.10	3,710.00
Social assistance, hospitals etc.	4,072.14	7,800.00
Social assistance, direct relief	5,917.17	10,000.00
Board of works	3,822.06	7,420.00
Waterworks department	1,281.07	2,530.00
Miscellaneous:
Debenture interest	6,194.83	12,837.50
Donations and grants	300.00	300.00
Street lighting	761.81	1,500.00
Bank interest and charges	473.56	800.00
Miscellaneous items	915.77	800.00
Schools	24,653.96	44,475.50
Totals	$67,620.44	$129,125.42

SLIGHTLY OVER HALF

"It will be seen that this amount of $67,620.44, represents slightly more than half of the year's allowable expenditures but this can be explained partly by certain expenditures that do not recur in the second half of the year. Then the expenditures for school purposes represents six-tenths of the school year as during the month of July and August the schools are not operating and the expenditures during this period are considerably less.

"Regarding the revenue for the six-month period, it is noted that collections from all sources, not counting Bank Loans and credits, amount to $86,938.66 as against an estimated revenue for the year of $134,059.00. Here again we have exceeded the half-way mark but as municipal taxes are all due and payable before July 1, it would appear that approximately $26,000 is still unpaid and overdue. The complete list of receipts follows:

Item:	Collected Revenue	Estimated for 1940
Taxes, current	$40,902.80
Taxes, arrears	7,609.53
Interest	54.90
	$48,567.03	$ 86,616.00
Provincial Gov't. grants	23,356.42	37,248.00
Water rates	11,406.06	22,500.00
Trades licences	1,368.50	3,300.00
Poll and road tax	1,489.00	1,700.00
Police court fines	35.00	800.00
Sanitary fees	103.75	300.00
Dog tax	297.50	350.00
Building permits	46.00	85.00
Miscellaneous	269.40	760.00
Totals	$86,938.66	$134,059.00

DEPENDS ON CITIZENS

"The cooperation of all departments of the City in working to this budget plan has been really wonderful and is greatly appreciated. I feel sure that we can count on their continued assistance in this regard. However, the final success of our plan for the balance of the year depends on the willingness of our citizens to cooperate with us by meeting their financial obligations to the city promptly.

"This six-month statement proves that the Council is doing its part and that a good percentage of the taxpayers are doing their part in reestablishing the financial affairs of the City of Rossland, but we still need to watch closely our spending departments while making a concentrated effort for 100 per cent cooperation in our collection departments. In this connection I think that further efforts should be made toward interesting our taxpayers in the monthly-payment of taxes plan. Applications should be filled in at any time between now and the end of the year with a view to commencing the monthly collection at the begining of the new year and thus taking full advantage of the interest on prepaid taxes."

Brief Flurry on Winnipeg Market

WINNIPEG, July 24 (CP).—Trading closed on a duller tone on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, with wheat futures prices still at their peggedm inimums of 71⅝ cents a bushel for July wheat, 73⅝ for October and 74⅝ for December.

A brief flurry shortly after the opening this morning had provided the only real activity in the wheat pit in weeks, with some 250,000 bushels being traded for export in July and October futures.

In the coarse grain pit, rye advanced 1⅛ cents. There was some domestic and mill support for oats.

Traders were showing slight demand for No. 2 Northern and lower grades in the cash grain pit.

C. P. R. TRAFFIC EARNINGS INCREASE $712,000

U. S. Exports Gain During June

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP) — Italy's entrance into the war dealt a blow to United States merchandise exports in May, but the loss was more than made up by larger subsequent shipments to Great Britain, Canada, and South America.

The Commerce Department estimated today that June exports totalled $344,000,000, or eight per cent more than May, and within four per cent of the peaks set in December and January.

Shipments to the United Kingdom expanded from $49,415,000 in May to $76,957,000 in June, Canada from $59,308,000 to $64,229,000, South America from $39,914,000 to $44,494,000, and Cuba from $6,994,000 to $7,257,000.

Although France quit fighting about the middle of June, its purchases before that date were large, giving it a total for the month of $45,674,000, compared with $37,711,000 in May.

A sharp decline was indicated for future months, as the department reported some ships laden with American goods for France turned back after the armistice, and the British blockade was expected to prevent any substantial shipments.

Shipments to the Mediterranean—including al principal ports of both belligerent and neutral countries—totalled $54,000,000 in June. While this was about double the figure for June, 1939, it was about $12,000,000 less than the average earlier this year.

Corn Leads Strong Rally at Chicago

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP).—Corn led a strong rally in grain prices induced by the hot weather today, scoring a gain of almost 4 cents a bushel at one stage. Wheat was up more than two cents.

Although latest official reports indicated corn was progressing favorably in most sections of the belt, recent private reports have told of firing, tasseling on short stalks and withering leaves. Need of general widespread soaking rains in addition to local showers recently prevalent over most of the belt was stressed.

Corn closed 1⅛—2⅝ higher than yesterday, September 62—62⅛; December 58⅝—⅝; wheat 1⅛—1¼ up, September 74⅝ — ⅝, December 76⅛—76; oats ⅝—⅞ higher.

Public Is Buying Sugar Heavily to Forestall Lack of it for Canning

Apricots About Over; Peaches Beginning to Arrive

Heavy purchases of sugar by the consuming public — apparently in fear of a repetition of the sugar shortage in the height of the canning season last year — was reported by Nelson wholesalers on Wednesday.

Apricots from the Okanagan are just about finished and peaches and peach plums are arriving from the Okanagan. The peaches are mostly of the Clingstone variety. A few local apricots are on the market.

Cantaloupe and watermelon are at the peak of their season. Tomatoes and cucumbers from the Okanagan are plentiful, but because of the long dry spell, local head lettuce has been "burned up." Supplies are being brought in from the Okanagan. Some local new potatoes are on the market but the main supply is from Grand Forks area.

BUTTER, PORK UP

While egg prices remained steady, the butter market advanced one cent during the week. Hog prices were up 10 cents over the previous week, sending prices of all pork products up. Smoked meats, other than pork products, also increased. Fresh beef was slightly higher in price, while veal remained stationary. The lamb market was easier.

Due to the protracted dry weather, some canners have withdrawn price lists on new pack canned peas and beans. In the Mission district, the big pea-growing area, it was reported there had been no rain for 33 days, an all-time record. While the new pack would be earlier this year, wholesalers feared there would be a shortage of the old pack before the new pack was ready.

Eastern Canada milk canners had notified wholesalers that Great Britain was no longer drawing its canned milk supply from Norway and Holland and it was anticipated that a portion of the supply would be obtained from Eastern Canada. This would likely create a price increase, the dealers said.

BRAN, SHORTS UP

Bran and wheat middlings made a further increase of 50 cents a ton and shorts climbed $1 a ton during the week. Dealers said this was because Canadian mills, after losing export markets due to the war, were milling so little flour that they were not turning out enough bran, middlings and shorts to fill the Canadian demand. Hence the increase in price.

Bananas, grapes, oranges, lemons and grapefruit are about the only fruits being imported from the United States, one dealer said.

Carlot arrivals of the week included two of groceries, two of meats, five of flour and feed, one of fruit and vegetables from the Okanagan, one of fruit from the United States, one of sugar, one of cereals, and one of Timothy hay.

Rapid Progress in Street Surfacing Program of City Is Shown by Dawson

Front Street, Alley Finished; Vernon Near Complete

With Front street completed, the Easterly end of Vernon Street proceeding, and a lane in Block 86 between Baker and Vernon Streets finished, marked progress in the City's street surfacing program was shown by H. D. Dawson, City Engineer, in his report to the City Council Tuesday night.

The report, covering two weeks ending July 22, follows:

WATER WORKS

Water flowing over the spillway at Five-Mile Creek is now 2½ inches in depth. The slight rains and cooler weather of the past few days has eased up the sprinkling situation somewhat, but it is to be remembered that we are still in the earliest stages of the usual dry spells. Citizens have been requested to eliminate unnecessary operation of garden sprinklers.

We have installed new house services to the following houses: Hancock and Renwick on Sixth Street; Maglio on Josephine Street; Maras on Beasley Street; Busk on Union Street; Calbick on Fourth Street; and to the two Nelson houses on Douglas Road which have recently been moved.

A considerable leak in the half-inch supply pipe in the alley between Baker and Victoria Streets East of Josephine Street developed, and in repairing this we found the pipe to be in such condition that we replaced about 25 feet of it with new.

STREETS

We have continued the street oiling work and have now finished a second carload of 8174 gallons, making a total to date of oil used of 16,280 gallons.

Our usual crews of from 10 to 12 men have been employed daily in the various operations of street cleaning, cutting weeds, tree pruning, attention to catch basins, ditches and boulevards.

Two men have been continuously employed in caring for sidewalks.

Front Street—The asphalting on Front Street and this project have now been ocmpleted.

We have asphalted a small area at the entrance of Lakeside Park.

Alley in Block 86, S. D. 95, between Baker and Vernon Streets—This alley is in considerable use by heavy traffic as well as from pedestrians from those residences facing Vernon Street, and we graded this alley and have laid blacktop surface. Prior to doing this a short length of gas main was laid.

900 Block, Vernon Street — The work of execavating poor subsoil material and of reballasting with gravel and crushed rock has been completed, and we are now continuing the rolling and the laying of asphalt blacktop. The southerly half has been entirely completed and the northerly half will be completed in a couple of days.

Ward Street, between Victoria and Silica Streets—We have removed the former concrete curb and also some loose material on the East side of this block, and have reballasted with gravel and crushed rock preparatory to extending the asphalt to the edge of the sidewalk, thus widening the roadway about four feet. This widening, in view of the diagonal parking now permissible, was badly needed.

Hendryx Street—We have laid a number of lengths of concrete pple as a culvert on the East side of Hendryx Street South of Silica Street.

At the corner of Davies and Fourth Streets, in front of the new Silverwood residence, we have removed some 50 or 60 yards of high ground and removed it to a site further South on the same side of Fourth Street.

CEMETERY

The work on the stone pillars is progressing. We have execavated for the foundations of the pillars. This work, together with the laying of concrete and rock foundations, it is estimated will cost $100.

PERMITS

Eight plumbing permits have been applied for and the necessary inspections have been carried out.

Building permits to the number of 16 and to the value of $1447 have been applied for and issued.

The number of inquiries as to particulars of zoning and other bylaws have quieted down.

Foreign Dollar Bonds Take Gains, New York

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP).—Wide advances in a few foreign dollar bonds overshadowed minor changes in the main domestic group today. Brisbane 5s of '57 jumped out in front at the start of trading and soon extended the advance to around 8 on light transfer. Argentine 4½s added more than a point; Oslo City 4½s were around 2 higher.

Little Change in Montreal Trade

MONTREAL, July 24 (CP). — Light buying came into the stock market in quiet late trade today and Bathurst, in newsprints, turned an earlier fractional decline into a small gain. In rails, C. P. R. advanced lightly.

Smelters sold off a small amount in base metals but Nickel remained stationary.

HAYLING, England (CP)— After careful experiments, C. A. Arbuthnotannounces that hens produce a larger quantity of eggs when fed sawdust, a 10 per cent mixture over a certain period.

WALL ST. STOCKS TAKE LOSSES

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP) — Stock prices mostly were shaved fractions to around a point today as scattered selling orders found the market rather barren of buyers.

Additional favorable business news seemed to carry little weight compared with the emphasis put on the war and political questions.

Lower were Bethlehem, Western Union, Goodrich, American Can, Du Pont, United Aircraft, Loft, New York Central, Chrysler, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Union Carbide.

Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagrams showed fractional gains in the Canadian section while Dome lost ⅛. In the bond market Canada 4s lost ⅛.

Gains and Losses Even at Toronto

TORONTO, July 24 (CP)—Price changes were chiefly in eights and quarter-points among the senior issues today on the Toronto market and 5-cent changes were about the limit among the cheaper mining issues. Gains and losses were practically balanced at the close. Trading aggregate was around 85,000 shares.

Buffalo-Ankerite, Pickle Crow, Beattie, Perron, San Antonio, Toburn and McKenzie chalked up losses and the moderate gainers included Lamaque, Sylvanite, East Malartic, Malartic Gold Fields and Ketr-Addison.

In the base metal group gains for Noranda and Hudson Bay offset small declines for Steep rock, Nickel and Pend Oreille.

The papers were soft.

Most of the Western oils were dormant. Home Oil came out at 1.60 for a loss of 3 cents and Royalite was down ⅛ to 21⅛ for broken lots. Calgary and Edmonton at 1.35 held unchanged.

London Stocks React Favorably to Budget

LONDON, July 24 (AP).—Quotations were marked up in the stock exchange today, as general reaction to the government's budget message appeared favorable.

Gilt-edged securities staged a last-minute rally. Industrials, especially tobaccos, which drew a less-than-expected tax, advanced.

GOLD MINING ENCOURAGED . . .

New Gold Mines Since 1937 Will Pay Profits Tax on Bonus Only; Older Mines on Extra Gain Per Oz.

General tax provisions of the new budget, involving a minimum of 30 per cent corporation tax and 75 per cent tax on excess profits apply to gold mines, but with special provisions so that the excess profits tax will not discourage gold production. These special provisions are based upon the country's need for gold for foreign exchange purposes and the speculative nature of the industry.

Questions by Howard Green, M. P. for Vancouver South, brought explanations in the House of Commons as to the application of the taxes on gold mines from Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance.

In effect, there are two classes of gold mines, as far as application of the taxes are concerned. The first is the gold mine which has been in operation for four years on which there is the basic corporation income tax of 18 per cent, plus the minimum of 12 per cent excess profits tax, making a minimum of 30 per cent. This has to be paid on all net income, after allowances for depletion, etc.

APPLICATION DIFFERS

To gold mines which have been in operation for four years the 75 per cent excess profits tax also applies if it works out at a greater figure than 18 per cent income tax plus 12 per cent. But the manner of application in the case of gold mines differs from that in the case of ordinary businesses.

The ordinary business takes its average annual profits during the four years, 1936, 1937, 1938 and 1939, and pays 75 per cent on the 1940 profits in excess of the base average, or 12 per cent excess profits tax on its whole net income, whichever may be greater.

With ordinary businesses the base is the dollar income. In the case of gold mines the base is ounces produced. "We will," said the Minister, "take the volume of production in the taxation year. I would say either the number of ounces of gold or the number of tons of ore produced. . . It will be considered that the mine produced, in each year of the standard (four-year) period, that number of ounces, which will be multiplied by the profits per ounce which actually were made during the standard period. The result will be taken as the earnings or profits of the average year of the standard period; in other words, the standard profits. Then that will be subtracted from the actual profits of the taxation year, and the result will be the excess, which will be taxed according to the provisions of the act, 75 per cent of the excess being taken."

THE NEW MINE

In the case of a new mine, the Minister pointed out, there is no base to go by, as the mine has not been in operation. Therefore: "We propose to take the number of ounces of gold produced in the taxation year and assume that this number of ounces was produced in a year before the act came into force and that the average price obtained was the average price during the four pre-war years. The subtraction will then be made and the result will be the excess which will be taxed. . . It will be seen that in all probability the excess tax in that case will be the premium on the price of gold, the difference between $33 and $38.50 an ounce."

The Minister explained that this rule would apply to all gold mines coming into operation after July 1, 1938, as while mines coming into operation between then and 1940 have had some experience, it is not considered sufficient upon which to establish a base.

While the Minister was not specific, it is assumed that mines operating in and since 1937 will have their excess profits tax based on the average of their years of operation, as if they had been operating 1936-39 inclusive.

EXCESS PER UNIT OF PRODUCT

"The principle underlying the gold taxation, as distinguished from the taxation of other companies, is that the excess profits per unit of the products produced, that is per ounce, is taxed, while in other industries it is the excess profits per dollar invested that are taxed."

If mine production costs rise, the tax authorities will take the factor into account.

The effect of this principle is this: If a gold mine with an average of one million ounces production a year during the four-year base period, made $1,000,000 annually or a profit of $1 an ounce, and during 1940 produces two million ounces at a profit of $1 an ounce, or a total profit of $2,000,000 it does not pay the 75 per cent excess profits tax because its profit per ounce has not been increased, though its income has doubled.

75 PER CENT OF PREMIUM

MR. GREEN—In connection with new mines is it the idea of the Government to take 75 per cent of the premium? Is that what it amounts to?

MR. ILSLEY—Yes, that is what it amounts to.

Mr. Ilsley emphasized the national importance of gold production for exchange for United States dollars and went on to say: "In the gold mining industry high returns must be possible. It would be foolish to say that high returns must be guaranteed. They cannot be guaranteed but they must be possible. . . . It is useless to try and get capital into a business as risky as the production of gold, unless there is some possibility of high returns."

HON. R. B. HANSON—That is the reason why they go into it.

HON. J. L. ILSLEY—Yes.

Allowance for depletion and exemption from income tax on new gold properties remain unchanged by the 1940 war budget.

Depletion allowance to gold mining companies is 33 1-3 per cent and to shareholders in gold mining companies 20 per cent. This is because profits are from a wasting asset, or in effect a return of capital. Before application of taxes a deduction of 33 1-3 per cent is allowed from income and treated as an expense. A shareholder in a gold mine who receives $100 in dividends is taxed on $80.

Leafs Break Losing Streak as Beat Rossland 12-11 in Boxla

Murray Clark on the Floor; 40 Minutes in Penalties

ROSSLAND, B.C., July 24—Nelson Maple Leafs broke their jinx Wednesday night by defeating Rossland Redmen 12-11 at the Rossland rink. It was the hardest checking game seen in Rossland this season. The penalties, totalling 40 minutes, included two majors given to Clark and Anderson for drawing blood in their checking.

The floor was wet from a heavy rain which fell earlier in the evening and in the first quarter it looked like being a boring game for the customers. Play was slow with the players sliding all over the floor.

In the second and third frames the teams took advantage of penalties to score shutouts on each other, Nelson failing to score in the second and Rossland failing in the third.

The fourth quarter started with a 9-9 tie but Nelson forged ahead to score two goals in rapid succession, matched Rossland's next scores, and then limited the final local attempt to one goal to win the game.

CLARK ON DEFENCE

Murray Clark put in his first appearance of the season for Nelson filling in on defence as the squad was short a man.

Lineups were:

Nelson — Gibbons, goal; Kuhn, Cooper, Carr, Clark, defence; Bonneville and Bishop, rovers; Walmsley and Paterson, centres; Mayo, Price, Dingwall and Hill, wings.

Rossland — Sapronoff, goal; Simcock, Ezart, Bailey, and McQuire defence; Saundry and Carkner, rovers; Jorgensen and Jack LaFace, centres; Anderson, Dougan, Cox, and Sitton, wings.

Score by innings:

Nelson	4	4	9	12
Rossland	2	9	9	11

Refree, Max DesBrisay, Nelson; Judge of Play, John Gidinsky, Rossland; Timekeeper, George Nixon; scorekeeper, Austin Bathie.

Intermediate Girls Enter "Port" Koolaree July 30; to Do War Work

"Shipmates from East and West Kootenay are answering the call to Port Koolaree. The Intermediate girls will go into camp July 30," said "Admiral Taddy", Miss Amelia M. Hanna, who will again be Director of the Camp. She is Girls' Work Convener for the West Kootenay Religious Education Council. Intermediate girls range from 12 to 14 years of age.

Applications have been received from Invermere, Chapman Camp, Kimberley, Cranbrook, Creston, Wynndel, Ymir, Sheep Creek, Castlegar, Rossland, Trail and Nelson; and Porthill, Idaho, she said.

Counselors will be Miss Norah Ellis, Chilliwack, who teaches at Tadanac; Miss Gertrude Patmore, Miss Marian Richmond and Miss Ruth Lundy, teachers at Cranbrook; and Miss Peggy Spreul, Cranbrook, a graduate of the University of Alberta. "Sporty Person" will be Miss Helen Staples of Creston, who is studying physical education at Margaret Eaton School at Toronto. Camp Mother will be Mrs. Walter C. Kettlewell of Nelson, and Camp Nurse will be Mrs. Edith Short of Nelson.

Miss Ellis and Miss Patmore will also be at Senior Girls' Camp, Miss Patmore as Director.

TO DO WAR WORK

"The girls hope to do some war work while at camp. Each girl is asked to bring size 8 or 9 knitting needles and any scrap wool available to knit squares to be made into lap robes for convalescent soldiers. Many girls who received out bulletin have replied enthusiastically and have stated they will be glad to carry out the project," Miss Hanna stated.

"Camp has a challenge, and such a challenge, this year," she said. Quoting Miss Ann Fountain, Girls' Work Secretary for British Columbia, she said: "In the intimate community living of camp, we can dare together to live tolerance and forgiveness, love and true fellowship; curbing in thought, word or action all hatred and bitterness. Here away from the war zone we must 'fight for peace by really beginning to try ourselves those things which belong to peace'."

Bible study this year will be in the form of a work book which the girls may purchase and take home.

Interest groups will be campcraft, two handcraft groups and choral speaking. Some formation swimming is expected for the stronger swimmers. New water games will also be held.

Miss Hanna said the West Kootenay R. E. C. was "more than grateful to the number of volunteer counsellors from East Kootenay, and to Miss Ellis who is coming back early from Chilliwack to attend both girls' camps."
