RUSS TAKE INITIATIVE AT STALINGRAD

Hepburn Resigns Premiership; Conant Sworn in

Hepburn "to Retire From Public Life"; to Retain Portfolio of Provincial Treasurer for Short Time

TORONTO, Oct. 21 (CP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn tonight resigned as head of the Liberal Government of Ontario and Attorney-General Gordon Conant was immediately sworn in as his successor.

Mr. Hepburn in an official statement announced that he would retain for a short time his portfolio as Provincial Treasurer "after which I shall retire from public life."

A later statement issued by Mr. Conant said he would retain the portfolio of Attorney-General as well as the office of Premier and that "the entire personnel of the new Government will be announced in a few days."

It added that "other pronouncements of plans for the future as may be considered advisable will be made shortly thereafter."

As Mr. Conant and his predecessor left the Lieutenant-Governor's house, Mr. Hepburn was asked by newspapermen "how about Harry Nixon?" (Provincial Secretary Nixon who has acted as Deputy Premier in Mr. Hepburn's absence.)

He replied: "Harry and I are still friends and I hope we always will be."

Mr. Conant interjected: "I hope he (Nixon) will always be my friend too.

In announcing his resignation from the premiership, Mr. Hepburn issued the following statement:

"Tonight I resigned as Premier of Ontario and recommended to his Honor Lieutenant-Governor Matthews that Attorney-General Gordon Conant be called upon to form an administration and carry on the business of the Province.

"It has not been my desire to seek a third term of office. One year ago I called a meeting of my colleagues of the cabinet and urged then that my successor be selected.

"I was, however, prevailed upon to lead the government through the last session of the legislature, after which action was instituted in the courts in an effort to force byelections in the Province.

"Under the circumstances I did not consider it fair to pass on to a new premier the possibility of an immediate miniature general election which involved as well the taking of the votes of the Ontario citizens in our armed forces across Canada and in various parts of the British Empire.

"When the Court of Appeal for Ontario in its judgment a week ago rejected the appeal against the judgment of the Honorable Mr. Justice Green in which he held that the courts had no jurisdiction to order by-elections, I at once asked the attorney-general to accept the position as head of the government. Yesterday he consented. I have now handed to him my resignation as Provincial Treasurer, but at his request have agreed to retain the portfolio for a short time, after which I shall retire from public life.

"During my term of office I have endeavored to give to the people of Ontario a sound business administration. To the extent that I have succeeded or failed, is a matter of public record."

The new Premier is 57 years old, a former Crown Attorney in Oshawa for Ontario County and was first elected to the Legislature in 1937.

In retiring from the Premiership Mr. Hepburn, 46, leaves personal command of a regime that for eight years provided the public with the unexpected in politics, not infrequently embellished with the Hepburn stamp of showmanship.

He bitterly challenged and defied the Federal Government of Prime Minister King for whom he stumped and against whom he was enthusiastically campaigned.

He publicly heralded the Congress of Industrial Organizations for its part in the 1937 strike at the General Motors plant in Oshawa. Ten days ago he stood on the same public platform with Communist Tim Buck and called for lifting of the legal ban on the Communist Party.

One of Mr. Hepburn's last major clashes with the Ottawa Government was in the February campaign. Espousing the candidacy of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative Leader in one by-election and an independent candidate in another, Mr. Hepburn collided head-on with the Federal Liberals and took the count. Both of his choices were defeated.

In January, 191, Mr. Hepburn led the outspoken opposition of three provinces against consideration of recommendations made by the Sirois Royal Commission report on Dominion-Provincial relations. At an Ottawa conference Prime Minister King sought implementation of the recommendations.

Mr. Hepburn termed the report a "peacetime document" and declared the Ontario delegation would "leave these wreckers of Confederation to carry on their nefarious work." The Conference broke up.

Second Charge of Rape Against Flynn

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21 (AP) — A second charge of rape involving a 15-year-old girl was filed today against Actor Errol Flynn.

Juvenile Officer Lt. R. W. Bowling, signed a complaint charging that the swashbuckling film idol raped Peggy Larue Saterle, 15, Aug. 3, 1941, during a weekend trip to Catalina Island on the actor's yacht.

Flynn is awaiting the preliminary hearing Friday on a charge of raping Betty Hansen, 17, Lincoln, Neb., girl at a party in Bel Air night of last Sept. 27.

The District Attorney's office said the girl's mother, Mrs. William C. Saterle, had asked an investigation in August, 1941, but the girl could not be found. Later the parents wrote from Santa Barbara saying they had decided not to press the charges because of publicity to which Peggy would be subjected.

Miss Saterle was working in a Hollywood nightclub when she was taken in protective custody by Juvenile officers Tuesday.

2 U.S. Destroyers Sunk; Two Jap Vessels Damaged

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The United States Navy tonight announced the loss of two destroyers—the O'Brien and the Meredith—in the still-developing battle for Guadalcanal, but American airmen damaged a Japanese destroyer and "stopped" a cruiser with a bomb hit.

Aerial activity yesterday and the day before resulted in the destruction of two enemy planes, nine Zero fighters and a seaplane. Three American fighter planes were lost.

These developments were made public in a Navy communique which said many enemy ships had been sighted in the Northern Solomons, and reported "little recent troop activity" on the island of Guadalcanal itself.

American airmen are meanwhile seeking out and attacking small ships units or task forces in the Souhern Solomons, and continuing to bomb enemy supply dumps and positions on Guadalcanal.

Thus, in its present phase, the battle for the Solomons appears to be:

Thus, in its present phase, the battle for the Solomons appears to be:

For the enemy an effort to gather his strength for an assault, while attempting to weaken the American defences by bombing the air base on Guadalcanal.

For the American forces, an effort to soften the blow when it comes by attacking the enemy's sea forces, seeking to cut him off from supplies and disorganize his land forces with aerial attacks.

On the island, what troop activity there was was taken to be skirmishing for position. Since two destroyers were lost it was taken for granted that larger American naval units were in the area awaiting a favorable opportunity to strike.

On Monday, the communique said, enemy aircraft attacked American positions on Guadalcanal. American Grumman "Wildcat" fighter planes shot down two "Zeros". One "Wildcat" was lost.

Later that afternoon "our Douglas dive bombers attacked three enemy destroyers to the Westward of Guadalcanal. One destroyer was damaged and an escorting seaplane was destroyed."

During Monday night, the communique continued, naval aircraft attacked an enemy cruiser to the Westward of Guadalcanal. "The cruiser was damaged and stopped by at least one bomb hit."

TWO JAP ATTACKS

Yesterday 30 "Zero" fighter planes flew over the Guadalcanal airfield and were followed an hour later by 16 enemy bombers escorted by fighting planes. In these two attacks, two enemy bombers and seven Zeros were shot down, and two United States fighters were lost.

Persons familiar with Japanese tactics speculated that the two raids were a typical bit of Japanese strategy which they made familiar during the early fighting in the Philippines.

First the 30 fighting planes came over. The object was to draw American fighters into the air, skirmish with them until they were forced back to the field for refueling, with the bombers appearing at that point and finding the American fighters earthbound.

The communique said that it was believed all of the personnel of the destroyer O'Brien was saved, and that many from the Meredith were saved as well. Each ship carries a normal complement of 175 officers and men.

The Meredith was launched at the Boston Navy Yard on April 24, 1940. Her displacement was 1630 tons.

The O'Brien, of similar dimensions, was launched October 20, 1937.

Coal Miners on Strike Until Findings Given

NANAIMO, B. C., Oct. 21 (CP) — Coal production in two Nanaimo mines of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., were halted indefinitely today as 400 miners voted at a special meeting of the United Mine Workers of America to strike until announcement by the Federal Minister of Labor of the findings of an Arbitration Board which investigated their demands for wage increase.

About 500 miners in the No. 8 and No. 9 mines of the Canadian Collieries here are affected.

H. R. Plommer, General Manager of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., who had just arrived in Nanaimo when the miners' decision was announced, said that 'this action must be regarded as a strike against the Government in connection with the miners' application for a 30 per cent increase in wages over their own signed contract rates."

Union President Radford said the meeting voted overwhelmingly in favor of refusing to work until the ruling of the National War Labor Board 'should not be held up some five weeks after the Commission had concluded its sittings here."

$92,634,000 Total; Second City in Quebec Over Top

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP) — The National War Finance Committee announced tonight that 52,843 individuals subscribed to Canada's Third Victory Loan in the first two days of the campaign, during which a cumulative total of $92,634,000 was rolled up.

Though there is no accurate basis of comparison between the daily number of subscribers to this loan and the Second Victory Loan last February the dollar total was up by some $7,196,000. Minimum objective of the present loan is $750,000,000.

Film distributing companies doing business in Canada, turned in subscriptions totalling $625,000.

Waterloo, Que., with a population of 3000, has already topped its objective of $118,000 and established a new quota of $170,000—double its objective in the Second Victory Loan last February. Four large industrial plants in Waterloo have also exceeded their quotas.

Five of the larger municipalities reporting to national headquarters have attained more than 20 per cent of their full loan quota. Latest figures show that Sherbrooke, Que., has forged still farther into the lead, with 38 per cent of its objective reached.

Following Sherbrooke are Saint John, N. B., with 24 per cent; Moncton, N. B., with 22 per cent and Victoria, and Sydney, N. S., each with 21 per cent of their quotas attained.

Other centres reporting include Calgary, with 19 per cent; Charlottetown, 15 per cent; Winnipeg and Edmonton, each 12 per cent; Vancouver, 11 per cent, and Montreal and Quebec City, each with nine per cent.

Youthful war workers, too, are behind Canada's Victory oan. Eighteen passer boys in a North Vancouver shipyard subscribed $100 each when one of them explained the bond he himself had bought would pay interest. Another young war worker, earning 25 cents an hour, has obligated himself to pay $5 monthly for a bond.

Drive Huns From Rain-Soaked Industrial Area

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Oct. 22 (Thursday) (AP) — The Russian Army took the initiative in the blackened, rain-soaked wreckage of Stalingrad's northern industrial district yesterday and drove the Germans from a number of buildings, a Soviet communique said today.

In other parts of the city the Germans were said to have "constantly attacked" Russian positions throughout the day without dislodging the Red Army from the positions which it has defended successfully since Sunday.

"All attacks were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy," the Wednesday midnight communique said.

The Russians also took the initiative at several points Northwest of Stalingrad but results of the operations were not disclosed. The communique merely said Soviet units 'conducted active operations on sectors."

On other sectors of this front there were engagements of local importance and exchanges of artillery and mortar fire.

In the Modok area in the Caucasus the communique said, Soviet troops held their previous positions despite enemy attacks and conducted several reconnaissance raids.

The Red Army also held its Sea area, Southeast of Novorossisk. The main engagement took place around an important height which the Germans attacked unsuccessfully, losing about two companies of men.

There appeared to be no letup in the German attacks inside Stalingrad as the battle for the City continued in a cold Autumn rain.

The Soviet noon communique said Red Army men "hurled the enemy back to his original positions," wiping out a company of infantry used in overnight attacks.

Further diminution of the Nazi offensive was indicated by reports that the German planes now were flying in groups of only five or six, whereas they previously made 1430 flights over a single sector in a single day and dropped 2000 tons of bombs.

Thus Stalingrad ended its 56th day of the battle.

(The Germans, who claim the Red October gun works is one of three main Russian centres of resistance, said Wednesday in a communique that 'struggles are being continued" in Stalingrad and reported the resumption of strong Russian tank-infantry relief attacks from the North of the City. There, the Germans added, "broke down" with the loss of 40 Russian tanks. In the Caucasus the Germans said, "numerous bad weather was impeding operations."

The Russian Army organ, Red Star, said the defenders of the Stalingrad factory area, had liquidated the original enemy breakthrough and covered their flanks.

The cold rains which have been falling since Sunday had their effect on operations.

Nevertheless in this period the Germans used two divisions, on infantry and 60 tanks for assault on a narrow sector. Reserves were brought up for the assault on the factory, starting Sunday.

Nelson Will Seek to Go "Over the Top for the Navy" by Beating Victory Loan Objective by Oct. 31

"Over the top for the Navy"—Nelson has a new Victory Loan objective—to go over the top in time to greet the Royal Canadian Navy Band coming to Nelson Oct. 31. If this is accomplished the honor pennant will be raised and a city-wide fanfare will be staged in tribute to the Band.

While the drive does not close officially until Nov. 7, or earlier at the discretion of the Minister of Finance, representative citizens meeting Wednesday morning with members of the Victory Loan Executive decided to make a grand effort to do better than this—to reach the quota in the next nine days. To do this it will be necessary to obtain $37,700 in subscriptions.

Organization of the Committee is under way. It will make an appeal to every man, woman and child to fill in their applications as early as possible.

PROUD RECORD

Nelson has a proud record in Victory Loans to date. It has never failed to reach its objective, and has gone well over the top in most campaigns. With this in mind the meeting Wednesday morning felt it would be a fine tribute to the Navy Band to greet it on Oct. 31 with the announcement that Nelson had gone over, and to invite the band to participate in the ceremony of raising the honor pennant.

By going over the top Nelson and district will also be able to send back to General McNaughton the Commando dagger now waiting in the Victory Loan Committee Rooms. It can be engraved and sent to a selected regiment, to be used in combat with the enemy.

The Committee will make its appeal to the citizens on the basis that Victory Bonds mean ships, tanks, planes and guns for the armed forces. Without the citizens' money the Government cannot maintain a full flow of the equipment and arms needed in modern war. Failure to achieve objectives ,the Committee will also point out, will reduce the chances of the armed forces to achieve victory and a safe return.

To make it easier for citizens to make their subscriptions, arrangements have been made to keep Victory oan headquarters, 364 Baker Street, open until 10 u.m. each night. Salesmen will continue their canvass, and the banks will continue to assist by accepting applications.

For its final and clinching argument, the Committee will tell prospective subscribers that Victory Bonds provide the soundest and safest investment in Canada, paying interest at 3 per cent.

Salmo Raises Victory Loan Flag; Children Parade; Donaldson Speaks

SALMO, B.C., Oct. 21—Salmo and District Victory Loan Committee got down to work Tuesday afternoon, when the School Children paraded from the School to Victory Loan Headquarters, where M. C. Donaldson gave a short address.

The Victory Flag was then raised, where it will remain for the duration of the campaign. L. G. Moir had charge of the arrangements.

PLAN CARNIVAL

In the evening the Committee met in the Committee Rooms where business was discussed. At the suggestion of the Board of Trade, a Mammoth Midway Carnival was planned for Nov. 6 and 7 to be held in the Skating Rink, proceeds of which will be turned into Victory Bonds or War Savings Certificates to be given away as prizes. L. G. Moir and Archie Gray will be the committee in charge.

Of funds on hand from the Second Victory Loan Campaign, $40 will be turned over to various organizations in the district to be used to send parcels to the Soldiers overseas.

The committee will again meet on Monday evening.

Four Doukhobors Jailed for Failing Register

Four Doukhobors have entered the Provincial Jail at Nelson in the past two days to serve three-month terms for failure to register, and a fifth is free on suspended sentence after registering.

Polly Kinakin, Stania Veregin, Nastia Nazaroff and Helen Legebokoff were arrested at the Kostancic farm, Crescent Valley, on Monday on charges of being unregistered. When they appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine Tuesday they pleaded guilty. The first three, given the option of paying $100 fines or serving three months in jail, elected to serve time. Helen Legebokoff, however, registered, and received two months suspended sentence.

On Wednesday Fred Podovilnikoff of Slocan Park appeared on a similar charge, pleaded guilty, received a similar sentence, and similarly elected to serve three months.

Podovilnikoff also pleaded guilty to a second charge, of operating a horse-drawn vehicle on a highway at night without a light. He was given the option of paying a fine of $15 or serving two months, the jail term if chosen to be consecutive to his other sentence.

PEOPLE ORDERED FROM HOMES AS FIRE SPREADS

California Canyon Area of 3300 People Threatened

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP) — Residents of Topanga Canyon, in the Santa Monica mountains North of here, were ordered to evacuate their homes tonight as brush fires swept into the canyon after destroying a score of residences during the day.

The fire, which broke out early yesterday morning, hurdled the ridge from Las Flores into Las Tunas canyon late today, and it quickly swept through the latter, reached Topanga Canyon with a population of 3300, including the hamlet of Fernwood.

Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, who ordered the residents to leave, said his office and Federal authorities are investigating possibilities that the fire was of incendiary origin.

The $40,000 ranch home of actor Richard Dix, and the $20,000 residence of Frank H. Asbury, Los Angeles transportation executive were saved after the flames had reached their immediate vicinity. Firebreaks were built and water pumped from a swimming pool on Dix' ranch.

20 HOMES BURN

Residences in Topanga Canyon, ordered evacuated tonight, were declared to consist mainly of small homes. Sheriff Paul Nester said at earlier today in other nearby canyons at least 20 homes were destroyed, including luxurious residences.

A dozen firefighters were trapped by the flames at one point and suffered burns some requiring hospital treatment. Two hundred other reported trapped earlier in Las Flores Canyon, were found to have been transferred before the flames reached them.

Deer fled in terror before the flames and one Box canyon in which they took refuge looked like a deer park. Some horses and cattle were burned but many more were driven to safety.

Two miles away on the Warner Ranch near Calaasas, flying embers touched off a replica of a Swiss chalet which Warner Brothers had built to use tomorrow in a new Ann Sheridan picture. The fire was controlled after four hours.

Nearly 1500 firefighters deployed along the three-mile seaward front battled desperately to control the surging wave of flame.

Mrs. Stibbs Is Head Women's Advisory Group

A sub-committee of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee, Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, was formed in Nelson Wednesday night. Representatives of 20 organizations, meeting at the home of Mayor and Mrs. N. C. Stibbs, named Mrs. Stibbs Chairman and Miss Eileen Cross, a member of the Canadian Home Economics Association, Secretary.

Mrs. Mary E. Hurrell, Vancouver, of the Women's Regional Advisory Council, addressed the meeting, stressing the three-fold purpose of the Consumer Branch. The first was to guard prices so that the price paid for an article a year hence would be the same as the price paid today. She explained how the blue book, obtainable from Wartime Prices and Trade Board offices, was intended for this purpose.

Second object of the Consumer Branch was to assist the public in interpreting orders and regulations of the Board, and helping the public to incorporate these orders in daily living. The third purpose was to bring to the Board the consumer's point of view.

Work by the Women's Regional Advisory Committee and sub-committee was all voluntary, she stated.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP)—Appointment of David B. Rogers, Managing Editor of the Regina Leader-Post, as an executive officer of the Wartime Information Board, was officially announced tonight.

The Board, of which the Chairman is Charles Vining, also officially announced that J. Hugh Campbell, former Canadian Pacific Railway publicity officer at Winnipeg, and Harold Garner, Publisher and General Manager of the Peterborough (Ont.) Examiner, has been appointed to executive positions on the Board.

Mr. Rogers, a Nova Scotian and brother of the late Hon. Norman Rogers, former Defence Minister who was killed in an airplane accident in 1940, is expected to serve as General Supervisor of the Canadian Branch of the Board. He is expected in Ottawa tomorrow.

Mr. Garner, a Past President of the Ontario Daily Newspaper Association, will serve in the Ottawa Office of the Board.

Mr. Rogers is a former news editor of the Toronto Star, a former foreign correspondent in Europe for that paper and one time Managing Editor of the Saint John (N.B.) Telegraph-Journal.

The Board announced earlier the appointment of Harry Sedgwick, Toronto radio executive, as head of the New York Bureau which now is being organized with Leo J. Casey, an American newspaper and publicity man, as adviser on United States publicity.

It is understood that Campbell Smart, former Montreal advertising executive and an officer of the Board almost since its inception, will have general supervision over United States publicity with his head office in Ottawa.

JAPS FORCED TO RETREAT BY DRIVING AUSSIES

Allied Bombers Hit Jap-Occupied Town Seriously

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Oct. 22 (Thursday). (AP)—Australian troops, falling on the flank of Japanese entrenched in the Owen Stanley Mountains of New Guinea, forced the enemy to abandon his positions about nine miles North of Kokoda, a communique announced today, and "the engagement continues."

The Japanese retreat, the second announced in two days, occurred near Eora, a creek village near a section of the mountain trail which plunges sharply downward toward Kokoda on the Northern slope of the mountain backbone of the huge island North of Australia.

A spokesman said the communique's reference to heavier fighting meant that a greater number of troops now are engaged on both sides. Both factions still are using mortar fire, and the spokesman said the Japanese might be making a last stand in the towering range before falling back on Kokoda.

A raid by Allied bombers which caused serious damage to the Jap-occupied town of Maobisse in Timor, which is North of Port Darwin, was reported in the communique.

Allied heavy bombers also attacked shipping in the harbor of Rabaul, in New Britain causing fires and explosions. The oft-bombed Rabaul airdrome was attacked and fires started.

An enemy launch also was reported sunk with machinegun fire by an Allied reconnaissance unit near Gasmata on the Southern side of New Britain Island. The shores of Japanese-held Luschan harbor were strafed.

Eora is about nine miles South of Kokoda, and several miles North of Templeton's Crossing where the trail winds down the Northern slope of the mountains toward Kokoda.

Germans Shift Air Strength to Sicily and Crete

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 21 — (AP.)—Large German air reinforcements have recently been shifted from the Russian front to bases in Sicily and Crete, the Rome correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper, Dagens Nyheter, reported today.

The correspondent linked this with what he said were reported Italian plans for heavy attacks against Malta, Britain's island "aircraft carrier" athwart the Axis Mediterranean supply lines about 60 miles South of Sicily.

CHUNGKING, Oct. 22 (Thursday). (AP)—Nine Japanese light bombers from French Indo-China attacked Mengtz, in Yunnan Province, Tuesday afternoon, bombing the city and machine-gunning its streets, the Chinese Central News Agency reported today.

Chilean Cabinet Changes May Lead to Break With Axis Powers

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 21 (AP) —Chile took a step in the direction of a break with the Axis tonight when President Juan Antonio Rios swore in a new cabinet, eliminating Foreign Minister Ernesto Barros Jarpa, Chief advocate of maintaining relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Although there was no definite indication that the Government would change its policy immediately, it was regarded as significant that radical Paul orales, who initiated police measures against German espionage, was reappointed Minister of Interior.

Barros Jarpa, whose ouster was demanded by pro-Democratic group throughout the country, was replaced by German Vriesco, member of the Liberal Party and former representative of the semi-official Nitrate Iodine Sales Corporation in Europe.

The newspaper El Siglo, anticipating that the Cabinet changes would lead to a break with the Axis warned that a fifth column might prepare a Fascist coup d'etat, intrigues, and provocations in a vain attempt to prolong its existance and create an atmosphere of hostility in our land against the entire continent."

President Rios issued a statement after he had sworn in 11 of the 12 new ministers saying "my purpose in the international field is to maintain the country on the side of all nations on the continent" and to defend 'the great principles of territorial integrity and American solidarity."

"I will go as far as the high interests of America require," he said.

The new cabinet was completed after a day in which a demonstration before the U. S. embassy, was broken up.

Some of the demonstrators left a letter at the Embassy demanding an explanation of the recent charge by Undersecretary of State Welles that Chile was permitting Axis agents to use their territory as a base for hostile acts against her American neighbors.

SINGLE-ENGINED MUSTANGS FLY TO GERMANY

Barges and Military Camp Shot Up in 600-Mile Flight

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP.)—Flying Fortresses on their longest foray of the war in Europe smashed in daylight today at French bases from which the Nazi submarines and aircraft strike at Atlantic shipping while single-engined Mustangs for the first time in the history of British aviation flew into Germany from English airfields.

The precision-bombing Fortresses hit the U-boat base at Lorient on the Breton coast of France and the Nazi airdrome of Maupertus, near Cherbourg, from which aircraft work with the submarines. (See page 10).

Some of the fleet Mustangs flew a round trip of approximately 600 miles. They machine-gunned a military camp near the Dutch-German border and left lines of huts ablaze.

At tree-top height, the Mustangs flew unhindered along the German Dortmund-Ems Canal. They surprised the defences at Lathen, in Hannover Province, and scored hits on a factory and a gas tank.

The only opposition, and it was classed as ineffectual, came as the Mustangs shot up barges in canal locks.

Other Mustangs left a 500-ton ship in the Zuider Zee burning while Mosquitoes bombed selected targets in Holland and Germany, including airdromes.

Not a single plane was lost in the attacks on Germany and Holland, the Air Ministry said. It was the second successive day the R.A.F. was over Germany.

Smuts Speech Broadcast . . .

Nazi Army Bleeds to Death From Russ Mauling

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP). — The Allies are at the threshold of "the offensive phase of the war," Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, told 1000 members of Britain's Parliament today in a session described by Prime Minister Churchill as "in many ways unprecedented."

The meeting, kept in strict secrecy in advance, was an informal gathering, not a formal joint session such as the Canadian Parliament or United States Congress sometimes hold to hear distinguished guests. It was attended by the High Commissioner of the Dominions.

It was the first time a British Empire statesman ever had broadcast a speech before the combined membership of the Houses of Commons and Lords and Mr. Churchill hailed Field Marshall Smuts' message as "invaluable."

The occasion, complete with all the colorful trappings of an honor guard, thick carpet and the tumultuous welcome of the assemblage, was turned into a tribute to the 72-year-old Field Marshal, the last surviving member of the British Cabinet of the First Great War now active in the high councils of this war.

While the British Commonwealth stands "unshaken by the storms and setbacks" of the war, the South African Prime Minister declared, the German army is "bleeding to death" in Russia and "the stage is set for the last, the offensive phase of the war for the United Nations."

While this technically was not a joint session of Parliament—and the ban on broadcasts from Parliament meetings, therefore, was not violated—actually millions of radio listeners in North America and South Africa had their first opportunity to hear a speaker addressing the assembled members of Britain's Parliament. There was no broadcast to listeners in Britain by the BBC, however.

Like a huge secret society, nearly 1000 members of both Houses assembled to hear the South African Prime Minister.

Neither the time nor the place nor even the date of the meeting which brought together one of the most distinguished British assemblages of the war was disclosed in advance to the public.

Prime Minister Churchill was among the members present and David Lloyd George, who as Prime Minister in the First Great War appointed Smuts to his war cabinet, introduced the Field Marshal.

The Germany army is "bleeding to death" in Russia and "the stage is set for the last, the offensive phase of the war for the United Nations," Smuts declared.

He said the "appalling blood-letting which is necessary for Hitler's ultimate defeat is being administered by the Russians."

Although he said "they alone can do it," he urged "whatever help—we can give to Russia . . . in the fullest measures and with the utmost speed."

So strictly were the arrangements held in secret that writers were not allowed even to describe the chairs in the hall lest the enemy be given a clue to Parliament's wartime meeting place.

Smuts was given a tremendous ovation as he arrived in field marshal's uniform, attended by an honor guard of the Parliamentary Home Guard, and ascended a specially-built dais covered with a rich, broad, red carpet.

In a brief response, Mr. Churchill called Field Marshal Smut's message "invaluable."

"The magnitude and duration of the Russian resistance surprised not only Hitler but probably everybody else," he told the gathering presided over by David Lloyd George and including Dominion representatives.

"Probably no such losses on both sides have ever been suffered in the history of war," he said. "If Russian losses must be terrible it is equally true the German army is bleeding to death in Russia.

"In spite of their losses in men and material and territory, the Russians do not show the least sign of giving in and the bitter defence will go on to the bitter end. This is the impression confirmed by all the best inside information."

The Prime Minister listed three steps he said had lifted the Empire out of the "abyss into which the fall of France had all but plunged us"—defeat of the German air force over Britain, the German attack on Russia, and the Japanese assault on Pearl Harbor and its sudden and timely effect in carrying the United States 100 per cent into war.

"We've much to be thankful for, but not the least for the colossal mistakes of our enemies," he added. "Will a fourth blunder be committed? Will Japan, in spite of her peace treaty with Russia, launch a treacherous attack against her also in Siberia? Time alone will show."

Field Marshal Smuts described Mr Lloyd George and Prime Minister Churchill as the "two great actors in the continuing drama of our age" and the people of Britain as "real heroes."

Germans Charge British Bomb Dressing Station

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP).—The German High Command concluded its communique today with a charge that British planes had attacked a German dressing station on the Egyptian front and with this menacing remark:

"From this the German High Command is compelled to draw the conclusion that the British Government no longer attaches any value to maintenance of the Convention of Geneva."

This apparently is a new phase of the German propaganda campaign of threats combined with allegations, unsupported by any independent evidence, of Allied actions contrary to international pacts and the accepted rules of war.

The Geneva Convention pledges its signatories to respect for the Red Cross emblem of medical services in the field.

The German charge apparently is an attempt to weaken Britain's stand in the issue raised when Germany began shackling prisoners of war. British authorities announced the Germans were violating a Geneva agreement against such practices.

Japs Not Likely to Invade Coast Says Macdonald

VICTORIA, Oct. 21 (CP).—Navy Minister Angus Macdonald doesn't look for any serious trouble with the Japanese on this Coast.

"A permanent invasion attempt by the Japs on this continent is most unlikely," he declared in an interview today. "Of course, the possibility of a hit and run raid is always present. We must be prepared for any eventuality and we are not overlooking any moves the Japs might make."

"We are going right ahead with our navy building program," he said discussing Canada's steadily increasing naval strength. There was now a naval personnel of 50,000 men and 500 ships. It was hard to predict developments in this sort of war, but the Navy would continue to grow to meet the demands made upon it.

Four new destroyers building in Great Britain would soon be added to Canada's navy, he said, and two others of the Tribal class were under construction in Eastern Canada, with two additional destroyers programmed.

Asked about the possibility of destroyers being built on the British Columbia coast, Mr. Macdonald said there were plants out here that could handle this type of warship construction, but they were fully occupied with other important naval work.

Navy Celebrates Trafalgar Day

By FRANK LOWE

HALIFAX, Oct. 21 (CP). — The Royal Canadian Navy came of age today when for the first time its hard-hitting fleet officially combined with the powerful Royal Navy to commemorate Britain's greatest naval victory, Trafalgar.

From the oak decks of Britain's naval shrine—Lord Nelson's flagship Victory—to the oily, steel plates of a Canadian destroyer in Halifax harbor came greetings as part of the Royal Navy's Trafalgar Day observance.

No fuss marked the occasion. Fighting men doing a tough job in all parts of the world paused for a moment to exchange best wishes by radio, that's all.

LONDON, Oct. 21 (CP) —Copies of newspapers dated 1905 reporting Nelson's victory at Trafalgar were displayed on Trafalgar Square today beside the latest editions chronicling the addition of the two mighty battleships, the Anson and Howe, to the Royal Navy.

Today was Trafalgar Day, the 137th anniversary of the great victory over the French and Spanish fleets.

Jap Radio Names U.S. Prisoners

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Tokyo radio, continuing to broadcast threats of severe punishment for United States fliers taken after raids on Japanese territory, today named four airmen it said had fallen into Japanese hands after the April 18 raid on Tokyo.

The names were given as Lieut. William J. Farrow, Lieut. Dean E. Hallmark, Cpl. Jacob D. Deshazer, and Sgt. Harold A. Spatz.

Four U.S. airmen whose names closely resemble those given in the Tokyo broadcast, as heard in London, were in the list of 80 men awarded decorations for the raid at Washington on May 19. They were Lieuts. W. D. Farrow and D. E. Hallmark and Cpls. Deshazer and C. Spatz.

The broadcast suggested also that the sentences might not be carried out immediately.

SERIAL STORY .....By Marie Blizard

MARK'S WIFE

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

After they left, she hastily wrote to the greeting card company asking them to hasten her order for Christmas cards, and then there was nothing to do but plan how she would display them. Somehow she managed to pull that minute planning out until the lunch hour, when three girls from the nearby telephone office came in and asked for three books she didn't have. She made notes of their titles and gave them three others and they left with promises to send fellow office workers around.

Well, she had three customers. It wasn't a bad start, she told herself stoutly. Eating her sandwich lunch, she thought the afternoon was the time when she could expect the rowd. There wasn't much to do in South Winridge in the afternoon and curiosity ought to bring them, if nothing else.

Two o'clock brought her next visitor—Miss Addie Bradshaw, stopping in, she said, on her way to lodge meeting to wish her luck, and proffering her cotton-gloved hand primly. Her tone of congratulation was the one she used to the millhands' brides when she knew they were headed for them arital misery of poverty. She said she didn't have much time for reading and so wouldn't take a book. But before Barbara's genuine gratitude, she weakened and added that she'd take along something in case she did find time.

At 3 o'clock a small boy burst in, saying his mother had sent him for a spool of thread, and this small echo of the tinkling bell was followed by Peter Skiff. He was the sheriff, an old friend of Barbara's, and he came "just to have a look around." But he went away with three volumes of "The History of Crime" and Mark's old copy of "The Anatomy of Melancholy."

And between these visits and 5 o'clock when Pamela Kilcran came, not one person opened the door.

Pam came in, bringing radiance with her. Snowdrops hung like diamonds in her fair, unhatted hair, and showered from the shoulders of her short beaver coat. Her "Hullo!" was as clear and cheery as her bright wool dress. She threw her angora mittens on a table and went to warm her hands before the crackling hearth as if she were accustomed to dropping in. She turned her back to the hearth after a moment and, thrusting her hands into the pockets of her short skirt let her frank, appraising gaze wander slowly from corner to corner and then to Barbara.

"It's rather sweet," she said. "I thought there'd be a mob here."

Barbara offered her a cigaret from a carved box and held a match to its tip. "The mob, it seems has come and gone."

"Lots of 'em?"

"In round numbers—eight and a half, counting one small boy."

"This sure is a go-getter town. Full of sheep." Pamela dropped into one of the big chairs and curled her long legs under her. "You'd think you wanted to knock 'em down and steal their purses. But when a few come, the rest'll follow. You'll see."

"I hope so," Barbara answered, wondering if etiquette would permit her to sit also, deciding to do it anyway.

Pamela's eyes roved expertly over the shelves within her range of vision. She said, "You've got a lot of swell books. I've been starved for some. Ever see our library at the House?"

Barbara shook her head.

"It's wonderful. The decorator's delight! From the floor to ceiling, nothing but books, books, books. At least that's what they look like. I don't believe anybody ever looked inside. On the personal side, there's a shelf back of a chair full of Father's Horatio Algers. He's rather an Alger hero himself. Know him?"

"No, I don't."

Pamela gave her a long look and then nodded. "He'd like you. You must meet him."

Barbara didn't know what to say to that so she said. "And what are the other books on the 'personal side,'?"

"Darned few. Mother had a feeling for Michael Arlen when he was chic . . . And I've got a handful."

"I'd like to know about those," Barbara said, knowing that she would like very much to know what sort of books the girl liked, and for no professional reason.

Child More Apt to Learn From Teacher He Likes

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

Your child or mine learns best at school from the teacher he esteems. More than most of us parents realize, we help determine how our child feels toward his teacher herself, or the child himself, may be the chief factor in his attitude toward her, and an occasional teacher may not seem to warrant the highest regard by the child. Yet such teachers are rare, indeed.

Anyway, so long as the child has a certain teacher we might as well help him make the most of the situation. We can aid him in decreasing his dislikes, even in some cases to grow enthusiastic about her. What we need to remember is that the teacher, just as any other person, tends to grow more considerate towards the child who has been respectful and courteous toward her. Here is where we parents come in.

Trying to be practical, so our child might make favorable progress in his studies and citizenship at school, we parents shall try to build in him the most favorable attitude possible toward his teacher.

When we are wise we listen silently so long as the child is not abusive of the teacher; we wait for a day or two and then if we consider it desirable, go as a lady or gentleman to see the teacher to talk matters over in a calm and reasonable way.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. Which would you consider better: to send a motherless four-year-old girl to a private boarding school or to let her live with her 30-year-old aunt and uncle who love her dearly and have had her for two months?

A. Without doubt, I would vote to have her live with the aunt and uncle. No institution can supply the family love and warmth possible in a normal home.

There's a Reason When Weight Seems to Stay Put

By IDA JEAN KAIN

You can't lose all the time. Those of you who began the bout with the pounds right after Labor Day may have slowed down to a stop at this point.

You hop expectantly on the scales and the indicator says the same as last week. Then you think something needs adjusting so you push the scales around and try to find that one spot on the floor where the register is usually less. When that doesn't work, you'd like to pitch the thing out the window. But you write me instead!

Reducing is that way. A chart of your weight losses would probably look like rickety flights of stairs. There would be a sharp decline, then a leel; another decline and another leel. That is entirely normal. You hae nothing to kick about.

What if you were in the fix of the overweights who go on a rigorous diet, count every last calorie, and don't lose even a pound for as long as two weeks? That sometimes happens. Actually, you are burning fat and losing weight every day you take fewer calories than you are using.

But as the fat is lost, water may be stored in the tissues. Until the water balance is adjusted, weight loss cannot show up on the scales. This is one of the most discouraging things that can happen but knowing what goes on should help you tohold out. If you will only stick to your diet, you will see a sudden loss of all the pounds you are entitled to lose.

Whenever this reducing level occurs, whether at the beginning of the diet or after the loss of 10 or so pounds, there are several things you can do. For one, keep your diet high in protein. Have your lean meat and a couple of eggs a day along with your pint of skim milk or buttermilk. The high protein diet helps overcome the tendency to water storage.

In sufficient Vitamin B is sometimes a factor in water retention. Your Vitamin B-rich foods are liver and other meat organs, whole grain and enriched bread, wheat germ and yeast, and the supplementary source is thiamin chloride. You can purchase these tablets from your druggist.

Still another factor in water retention is salt. Avoid very salty foods and do not result food after it is placed on the table.

It should be made clear that water drinking is not involved in this retention. You need from six to eight glasses daily but you should drink most of it between meals, not with the meal.

Three Causes . . .

New Treatment for Chronic Shoulder Pain

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

One of the minor, silent revolutions, but none the less important and striking advances in medical science, has been in the study of those old afflictions of mankind—the pains around the muscles and tendons, like lumbago, sciatica, sacro-iliac, wry neck, tennis elbow, etc.

Such terms as "lumbago" or "sciatica" are now used almost exclusively by the laity and whether they know it or not, they are nothing but labels, mere smoke screens for ignorance. A patient is all pleased with himself when he has learned to say, "I have lumbago." He thinks it shows a profound knowledge of the situation, when all it means is "I have a pain in the general region of the lumbar muscles of the back."

Now the medical profession was in exactly this blissful psychological state of mind fifty years ago, and they used the terms lumbago and scatica as if they had definite meanings.

PAIN IN THE SHOULDER

A quiet accumulation of information has occurred around that humble but troublesome affliction, chronic pain in the shoulder. Forty years ago it was "rheumatism" (that name satisfied everybody) and the diagnosis was made when the patient made a wry face, put his opposite hand on his shoulder an drubbed and shrugged. And the treatment was to put a piece of flannel over it and apply a hot iron.

Now, according to an article I have been reading by Dr. N. C. Moseley, of Montreal, we have quite definite conceptions of the three common causes of chronic shoulder pain. They are: (1) inflammation of the bursa under the acromial process of the shoulder blade; (2) calcified deposits around the tendons and muscles; and (3) rupture of one of the shoulder tendons.

When doctors fifty years ago began to x-ray their patients with shoulder pain they often found that the bursa between the arm bone and the shoulder blade, which should be a nice oiled cushion to keep the joint sliding carefully, had become calcified. It was a piece of rock. Nowadays surgeons dissect out this calcified bursa under local anesthesia with very happy results.

Another method that has contributed to our knowledge is the development of aseptic surgery. If a shoulder pain gets unbearable, and the flannel and hot iron don't work, the surgeon can cut in safely and see if there is anything he can fix. This is what he does with the ruptured short rotator tendon.

MODERN TREATMENTS

Under treatment the wider employment of massage, electric treatments such as diathermy and faradism, the injection of novocain into the tender spots, has done wonders.

Wants Her Boy Friend Back

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax: My boy friend and I decided we wanted to be free and go out with other boys and girls. It was my idea really, as I felt I was too young to date only one boy.

One day I saw him at a concert with another girl, and it made me feel faint all over. I had t cleave the hall. I see what a mistake I made and want to make up with him. Some friends of mine tell me that he would like to come back too but I'm too proud to apologize. What is your suggestion?

ANNE.

Since it was your idea originally, I think it's up to you to take the first step toward a reconciliation. You don't have to apologize, phone him or write him a note and ask that he come to Sunday night supper which is always a pleasant and simple little festivity.

CINNAMON PECAN COFFEE RING

1 cup milk, scalded; 3 tablespoons butter; 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, slightly beaten; 1 cake compressed yeast; ¼ cup lukewarm water, 3½ cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup broken pecan meats.

Pour scalded milk over butter and sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved and butter melted, cool to lukewarm. Add egg. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water; add to milk mixture; add 2 cups flour and beat hard and smooth. Sift remaining flour with cinnamon and salt; add mixing well. Add nuts. Knead lightly, cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Knead lightly, shape into ring and place on greased baking sheet, cover and let rise in warm place until light (about 1 hour). Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 minutes. You may, if you wish, top with thin confectioner's sugar icing and whole pecan nut meats. Makes 1 large coffee ring.

ROLLS

1 cup milk, 1 cake compressed yeast, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 to 4 cups flour, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 egg, ½ teaspoon salt.

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm. Crumble yeast in mixing bowl, add 1 tablespoon sugar and stir in milk; stir until well mixed. Sift flour, measure and sift again, add 1 cup flour to milk mixture and mix it in well. Cream butter with remaining sugar, add to batter and blend with other ingredients. Add egg beaten with salt; then stir in remaining flour, adding enough to make a soft dough. Take from bowl onto a lightly floured board, knead, clean bowl and grease lightly. Put dough back in bowl, cover and set aside in a warm place to rise until double in bulk or until blisters begin to appear on top, from 1½ to 2 hours. Take dough from bowl to lightly floured board, round up into ball and let stand 10 minutes, then lightly roll out and cut into desired shapes. Makes 1 dozen rolls.

SAUSAGE ROLL, STUFFED

2 pounds bulk pork sausage, 2 cups diced raw apples, 2 cups bread crumbs, 2 small onions, diced.

Pat sausage into a flat rectangular shape about ½ inch thick. Mix apples, onions and bread crumbs and spread over the meat. Roll like jelly roll, tucking edges in. Put in baking dish and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, about 45 minutes.

Nelson Called on to Dig in in Drive for Metal

Metal scrap is vital to Canada's war effort. So much so that a lack of it would result in curtailment of certain industries. To do its share in providing this essential the Red Cross Salvage Committee is throwing special effort in the drive for iron and steel.

Householders, business men, and school children all are being called on to aid in the collection. Children can collect the small scrap to be found in empty fields and streets business men can give their premises a checkup for any possible unusable iron or steel, and householders can scour the attics, sheds and cellars for metals ,broken utensils, or discarded articles. Everything from the smallest to the largest pieces are needed.

A City truck will call Friday to pick it up, and deliver the metal to the Salvage Yards at the foot of Hall Street. Scrap collectors are only asked to call the Board of Trade rooms giving their address, and the truck will call.

SMART BLOUSE

One good suit and a supply of blouses is a fashion formula that can see a girl through a season, especially if the suit is of the type that lends itself to dressing up or down. For after-dark doings, wear a lace blouse. Julie Bishop wears a charming model that is ultra feminine but not too frilly. It is white lace with a front panel of white net accented by neat little ruffling for the neckline. I would go well with a dinner skirt, too.

Scrap Will Turn the Tide

In Spokane and the Inland Empire, the drive for scrap — metal, rubber, and all useful kinds—seems to be far ahead, for thoroughness, of anything we hear of in Canada.

To mention one item: Members of the Spokane fire department are inspecting all basements in the city of Spokane, and accomplishing the double good of finding in the aggregate a vast volume of unreported scrap, and making the city's basements and cellars tidier for navigation in the case of fire.

Another detail of organization is that there exists a Salvage Bureau, whose trucks collect the scrap put out by thousands of households and thousands of business premises.

There are communities outside Spokane that are turning in 200 pounds of scrap per capita. Of course, car bodies count there, though not in an area like the Kootenay, where distance from the utilization plants is prohibitive.

In the case of Nelson, there should be another drive for metal scrap in the early future. There is little doubt that Nelson's contribution of war metal scrap could be increased by many tons if every household made a determined and exhaustive survey of its premises. The same is probably true throughout this territory.

Scrap will undoubtedly be one of the factors that will turn the tide of war.

Finding the metal for the plants of Canada and the United States that must turn out guns, tanks, trucks, planes, steel ships, and every kind of armament and munition, has long been completely past the capacity of the mines of this continent.

Metal scrap must make up the deficit, and more, for we want these war weapons and equipment turned out in increasing volume, without a moment's halt.

Let us make our search for war scrap exhaustive and productive.

by Alice Buphan.

A royal chronicle. Though the suns of five centuries have faded this stretch of tapestry, the figures of Richard of Bordeaux, Henry Bolingbroke and his son, the victor of Agincourt, are vivid again under this author's hand, standing out from an arras crowded with the pageant of these stirring days.

"AMBASSADORS IN WHITE"
by Charles Morrow Wilson.

This volume presents the epic story of medicine in the American tropics. The men, famous and unknown, who have waged unheadlined war on the invisible deaths and diseases that make the countries to the South of us truly "a sick man's society" were our first and are still our best ambassadors of good will. These men have been making Latin American history and transforming the tropics.

"IT'S FUN TO BUILD MODERN FURNITURE",
by Clifford Keith Lush.

It's really fun to build the modern furniture shown in this interesting collection of more than 50 things to make, ranging from a simple condiment shelf and knife rack to the more complex pieces such as a desk, table, etc.

"THUNDER IN HEAVEN",
by Armine von Tempski.

Romantic, mysterious, Hawaiian. This is the story of young red-headed Dr. Graham, a brilliant New York specialist unfairly barred from practicing medicine at home, of Kauka, a half white plantation doctor, and of beautiful April Wilde, daughter of a rich and powerful Island family. In the vast shadow of Mauna Loa the tale unfolds. It is a novel of man's humanity to man, of love, sacrifice, and devotion.

"GLASS MOUNTAIN",
by Mary Frances Doner.

In Glass Mountain Mary Frances Doner presents a powerful and absorbing romance which is essentially a story of Chautauqua life and of the influence which this great American institution had on the lives and careers of Capt. Tim Sloane and Irene Barker. Set against the background of the Great Lakes country, Glass Mountain is replete with the characterizations of the Lakes people which are such an integral part of Miss Doner's writing.

"FAMILY HONEYMOON",
by Homer Croy.

Professor Jordan of the Botany Department was safely married to the charming young widow and mother, Hetty Armstrong, and the problem of "what to do with the children" had been happily solved. Or had it? A story as funny as it is human.

"WHAT SHALL WE NAME THE BABY",
edited by Winthrop Ames.

Winthrop Ames, famous theatrical producer, was often asked to invent suitable stage names for young actors and actresses, and he came to make a hobby of collecting given names and investigating their significance and derivations. This book is the result.

"FIRE IN THE PACIFIC",
by Simon Harcourt-Smith.

Many people know deeply, in their bones, why we are at war with Germany; but here is the one book which reveals with utter clarity why we are at war with Japan. To most Americans, Pearl Harbor was a sudden, treacherous onslaught; to Mr. Harcourt-Smith, it was the inevitable culmination of a long term process. His book is the result of long first-hand experience of the problems of the Far East.

"THE LADY IN THE MASK",
by Anne Green.

Were he alive today, Gregorio would very properly be in jail, but to his contemporaries of four centuries ago, he was judged merely a useful rogue, expert for intrigues, quick with a knife, ready with a marvelous lie, a discreet accomplice to any shady business, a hardy fellow untouched by embarrassing sentimentality. His adventures are portrayed with the finest skill and wit of the author, as well as with a remarkable knowledge of Italy's golden age.

"LOOK DOWN FROM HEAVEN",
by Naomi Lane Babson.

This story begins in 1905—the epoch of stiff shirts, stiff hats and lush mustaches, of jabots, ruffled parasols and pompadours—in a small coast town North of Boston, where "foreigners" from the city played in Summer while Finns hewed granite from the quarries almost at the water's edge. It is the story of Mary, American-born, proud of her Finnish blood, proud of her first job at a dollar a week when she was only twelve and "big for her age"—the story of her growth to beauty of body and spirit, and in telling it, Miss Babson also tells the story of the coast town, the stolid Finns, "Summer folk" and "natives", and brings vividly back to memory that period of American life that came to an end with the first World War.

"THIS FORTRESS",
by Manning Coles.

Manning Coles has established an almost unique reputation in the field of the novel of espionage. This Fortress, while lacking none of the quick excitement which characterizes his spy stories, gives full rein to his ability to deal with the hearts and minds of people—simple people, important people, all kinds of people. The quiet humor, too, which so enlivened his previous works, is here given much wider scope.

"LAST TRAIN FROM BERLIN",
by Howard K. Smith.

Here is the book for which the democratic world has been waiting—a full, clear, authoritative picture of what war, and especially Russia, have done to Nazi Germany since the fighting began on the Eastern front. Not a story of battles and marching men, nor one of personal adventure. It is the far more important story of the front on which Nazidom must, ultimately stand or Fall—the home front in Germany. One by one Mr. Smith reveals the flaws that have developed in Hitler's armor since his attack on Russia.

"GOLDEN FLEECE",
by Hughie Call.

A greener tenderfoot never learned the sheep business than the young Mrs. Call, a city girl from the Texas cotton plains, who married a Montana sheep rancher, and went of fto the isolation of a mountain ranch. But she had a good outfit; a sense of humor, an eager curiosity, and a lot of will power. Now she can tell a lifetime's adventure stories about people, dogs, horses, an dsheep, with all the fun and wisdom of an Old Timer.

"DACEY HAMILTON",
by Dorothy Van Doren.

A love story that every reader will remember for its very real characters. The portrait of a woman of arresting charm. Dacey Hamilton is also a story of New York City on the eve of the twenties, when artists and newspapermen and young people whose zest for living outran their discretion gave color to Greenwich Village.

Big Air Battle Zooms Over Axis Desert Army

CAIRO, Oct. 21 (AP). — Allied squadrons shot down 11 Axis aircraft and destroyed others on the ground on the forward landing bases of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's desert army with flame-setting attacks yesterday, headquarters announced today.

The operations, among a series of thrusts at Axis bases and shipping across the Mediterranean basin area from which a dozen planes are missing, were described officialy as on a large scale. Long-range fighters destroyed transport on the coastal road which links the Axis lines with their Libyan bases, it was announced.

At the same time torpedo-planes and bombers were credited with hits upon a tanker and two other vessels in a raid Monday night on enemy shipping near Lampedusa, Italy.

"Enemy air attacks on Malta were on a reduced scale," the headquarters communique announced. "Only fighter-bombers and fighters were employed in a series of abortive raids."

At last two pilots of the 12 missing planes were reported safe.

American medium bombers participated yesterday in the broad Allied attacks. Sweeping deep into enemy territory, an American force scored direct hits on grounded planes, protective revetments and tent areas of the desert war theatre.

All the American planes returned safely.

LONDON, Oct. 21 (CP). — The sinking of four Axis supply ships in the Mediterranean by British submarines was announced today in an Admiralty communique.

Two of the sinkings were credited to one submarine. They were a small Axis supply vessel which went down off the Italian coast and a medium-size ship which burst into flame and sank after a torpedo hit amidships.

The other two were a large supply ship, hit three times from close range and sunk within two minutes despite extremely bad weather and destroyer portection, and a smaller ship sunk off the Libyan coast.

BERLIN, Oct. 21 (AP).—A fierce large-scale aerial battle over the Egyptian battle zone was reported today by the German High Command, which said "German and Italian fighters and anti-aircraft fire thereby scored great success."

A communique account of the operation said the Axis air forces suffered only minor losses, but that "exact results are not yet available."

Continued air raids against Malta were reported, and the High Command said a 5000-ton tanker was sunk Monday night in a bombing attack in the Gulf of Suez.

ROME, Oct. 21 (AP).—The Italian High Command claimed today that Italian aircraft shot down "scores of British planes" in "bitter and violent aerial engagements" over Egypt yesterday.

The communique asserted that German fighters also scored several victories and six British planes were reported shot down by anti-aircraft gunners.

"The exact figure of the enemy's losses as well as our own will be given after checking all reports," the communique added.

78 Gas Stations Closed in East

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP). — The Munitions and Supply Department today announced that police, acting under instructions of Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle, have closed 78 service stations in the Windsor, London and Hamilton area in Southwestern Ontario.

The announcement quoted Mr. Cottrelle as saying the padlocking action was taken today as a result of investigation which showed operators were violating gasoline ration regulations by accepting loose coupons from ration books not issued for the vehicle for which the gasoline was sold.

In taking action against operators who accepted loose coupons or coupons from improper books, the action was similar to an enforcement sweep made August 15 when more than 225 operators were closed for a week in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

"The gasoline position in Canada is too acute to justify any leniency to the operator who refuses to abide by the regulations," said Mr. Cottrelle. "We are determined to stop infractions of all kinds.

"Those who were closed today will be allowed to reopen in due course, but if they commit a second offence they will be denied the right to sell peroleum for three months. A third offence will mean closing for the duration of the war."

I've Been Thinking...

● Yes, thinking a lot, lately—and now I'm going to do something.

But first, let me tell you about my thinking. I'm typical of thousands of Canadians. I'm approaching middle age . . . married . . . have children (they're almost old enough to join the armed forces) . . . and I have a steady job and a fair income.

For three years I've been, theoretically, "at war"—but until now I haven't been really in it. I've followed the war (that's right, "followed" is the word!)—followed it daily—in my newspapers.

I cursed the Germans over Rotterdam . . . despaired at the Fall of France . . . thrilled at the story of Dunkirk . . . shuddered at the Battle of Britain . . . then cheered the R.A.F. when the Luftwaffe turned tail in defeat. And I remember that historic Sunday, December 7th, when the Japs came in.

No need to go on, you see how keenly (!) interested in the war was I. During this time I was doing my bit, too. (Don't laugh!) I bought a few War Savings Certificates—and, by Jove! during the last Victory Loan this year I actually bought a Bond (like throwing a penny on the Drum!)

You see, in this way of following the war, my own way of life, and that of thousands like me, was pretty well untouched.

Then one day I saw myself in the true light . . . a spectator outside the arena, while the peril was being fought off for me by others. I began to see those perils . . . possible defeat . . . cruelty, slavery, desolation . . . my loved ones, my Canada, my home and my possessions, all that I cherish, destroyed at the hands of the Nazis and the Japs.

At last I did some serious thinking. Like a sudden shock came the resolve. Canada needs—the crisis demands—that I do something. I'm not in the fighting line, so I must get behind those who are. I must send them guns, and tanks, and planes, and ships.

So my wife and I spent hours at the week-end, figuring on a new budgeting of our income. We're going to change our way of life, to help prevent the Nazis changing it for us. We're going to cut out every unnecessary expenditure, and cut down many of the necessary ones, too, in order to lend all the money we can to Canada.

I'm going to buy VICTORY BONDS, not alone because it is a splendid investment, but because—as you see—"I've been thinking . . . now I'LL DO SOMETHING! I'll do my utmost in helping to put the new Victory Loan ($750,000,000) over the top."

WEAR YOUR COMMANDO DAGGER

It is a symbol indicating that you have bought the new Victory Bonds.

HOW TO BUY—Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hand of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorise your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.

NOTHING MATTERS NOW BUT VICTORY—

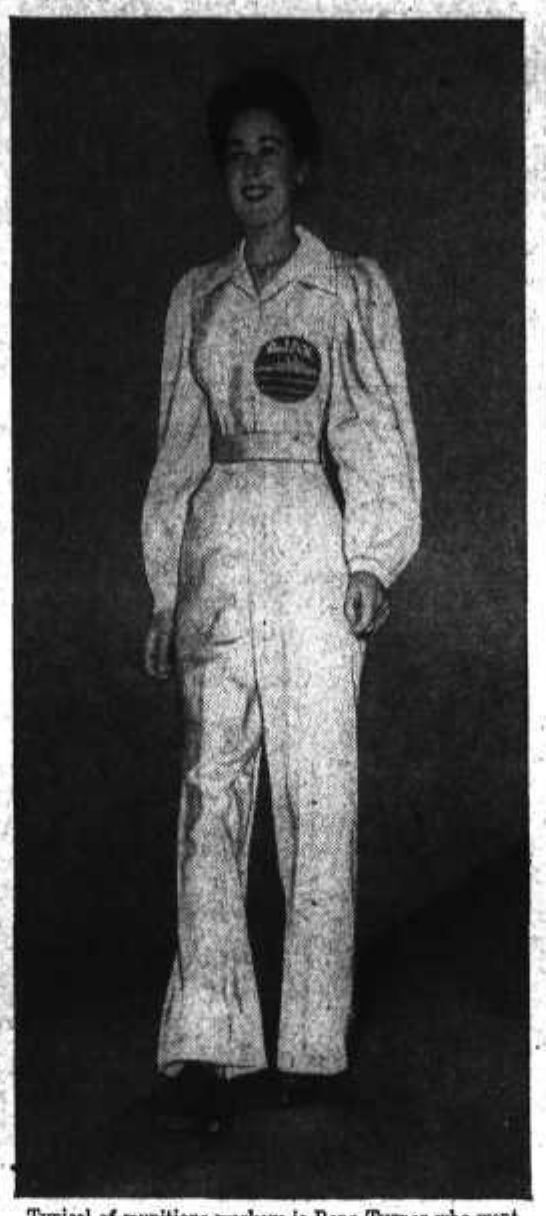
NATIONAL WAR FINANCE COMMITTEE

In This Munitions Village, Created by War, Army of Girls Work for Victory

Women had a big share in filling these Bundles for Berlin in a Canadian plant. Evelyn Chartrand, tightening nose plugs on 500-pound aerial bombs, knows the accident rate in this type of plant is lower than in many commonplace trades.



Typical of munitions workers is Rena Turner who went to Ontario from Merigomish, Nova Scotia. University graduates, teachers, debutantes work in war plants.

On courts in a recreation hall provided by the plant, pretty Irene Brayley plays basketball after her eight-hour shift is finished. Several types of recreation are provided. Irene placed fourth in a "Miss War Worker" contest.

Plants realize relationship between war production and health of workers so medical staffs keep close check on employees. This girl is having an eye test.

Dormitories house single employees at this shell filling plant. Two girls to each bedroom. Comfortable common rooms are open to workers' friends. Emma Akerley, Moncton, N.B., relaxes on bed while Joy Proctor tells her about a tennis game. Courts, bowling alleys, recreation hall, movies, are provided for workers by management.

Reine Davis gets "permanent" in modern beauty parlor on plant property. Joy Proctor looks on. General Store on grounds stocks necessities. Girls pay $7 room and board.

Twice weekly dances are held in large recreation hall which is community centre at this plant. Men in uniform from nearby camps are popular guests. Stage in background serves amateur dramatic society. Curtains hide movie sound equipment.

Learning dressmaking from matron, Mrs. M. McConnell, Irene Brayley, left and Joy Proctor, make own clothes. For post-war rehabilitation, plant offers many courses.

Plant cafeterias supply nourishing meals at reasonable prices. Irene Brayley pays 25 cents for hot lunch. The latest National Film Board movie, "Women are Warriors", is now showing at many theatres, emphasizing role of womanpower.

Bentleys May Take Up Chicago Line

HIBBING, Minn., Oct. 21 (CP)—Hockey fans on the Big Circuit will see something new in the way of brother acts the coming season if Manager Thompson of Chicago Black Hawks has his way.

Today Doug Bentley reported to Thompson and in practice sessions Doug played left wing with brother Max at centre and brother Reg at right.

If Reg, who is a newcomer to Major League ranks, can accustom himself to the right-wing post, a position new to him, hockey will see an entire forward string of brothers on the ice for the first time in the history of pro hockey.

After today's workout Manager Thompson said that in all probability the Hawks would carry five defencemen: Tulen, Mattes, Carbol, Mitchell and Seibert.

Joe Papike, right wing, who holds an important war production position here, was denied permission today to take two weeks off to practice with the Hawks. Papike said he would hang up his skates for the duration.

DEFENCEMEN WHO MAY REPLACE MAPLE LEAF STARS IN UNIFORM

Here is a quintet of hockey defencemen on the ice for their first 1942 drill, who may replace Stanowski, Kampman, Dickens and Goldham, former defence stars jobs with the Stanley Cup holdes. From left to right, they of Toronto Maple Leafs, now in uniform. All are seeking jobs with the Stanley Cup holders. From left to right, they are George Boothman, former Calgary, Nelson ond Sydney player, Ken Dixon of Mimico, "Red" Garrett of Toronto, Bom Copp of Toronto, and George Baldwin of Winnipeg.

Four-Year-Old Steals Show From Favorites

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)— The glamor boys of the three-year-olds, Alsab and Shut Out, were so intent on watching each other in the Gallant Fox handicap today that a four-year-old filly who wasn't supposed to have a look-in stole the $11,300 pot from them.

She is Dark Discovery, a daughter of Discovery from the stable of John A. Bell, Jr. This mile-and-five-eighths tussle was supposed to come close to deciding 1942's championship of the three-year-olds. In their previous get-togethers Shut Out had won the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes for Mrs. Payne Whitney and Alsab had grabbed off the Preakness for Mrs. A. Sabath.

As the field of six headed into the clubhouse turn, Warren Mehrtens gave Dark Discovery her head and she shot out in front and opened a gap of five lengths on her nearest rivals.

A half-mile from home, Bierman whipped the Sab and he started to move up, fast. He was only a length away at the head of the stretch, but from there on he couldn't gain an inch on the filly, apparently already tasting all the hay that $11,300 would buy, fought to hold her edge. The $3,000 second money boosted Alsab's earnings to $335,825. Trailing the winner and Sab at the end was Marriage, two lengths back of Alsab.

TORONTO (CP)—Katsuma Marioka, formerly well-known as a bantamweight boxer in Canadian fight circles, is in the Canadian Army. Marioka is of Japanese descent, but was born in Vancouver. Recently he wrote to a Montreal paper from Cornwall where he is stationed and said that if it was planned to put on any patriotic boxing events there, he would be willing to box for nothing.

LONDON (CP) — Minimum age for enrolment in the Air Training Corps has been lowered from 16 years to 15 years and three months.

Pneumonia Hits Big Game

CRANBROOK, B. C., Oct. 21 (CP)—Good hunting of big game is reported in the East Kootenay area of British Columbia this season, but indications are that mountain goat in the Southern part of the Columbia and Kootenay Valleys have been struck with the same pneumonia epidemic which resulted in high sheep mortality in Kootenay National Park last Spring.

Hunters report finding sheep skeletons and skulls in the foothills and mountains.

A hunting party of Americans, W. J. Miller, C. M. Miller and Clare Miller, all of Corvallis, Ore., returned with their guide, Jim White of Fort Steele, this weekend. They spent a month on a pack train trip to the White River section over White Swan Lake and returned with magnificent trophies including elk, moose, rocky mountain goat and a black tail deer.

18-Year-Old Player of Toronto May Join Rangers

DETROIT, Oct. 21 (CP)—Detroit Red Wings today signed Hubert (Bill) Quackenbush of Toronto to a National Hockey League contract and Manager Jack Adams said "we may take a chance" on the 18-year-old defenceman who played last season with Brantford Lions of the Junior A Ontario Association.

Pat Egan, $16,000 acquisition from the defunct Brooklyn Americans, hasn't reported for training yet and may be unable to leave his job in a British Columbia shipyard, so one defence job with Wings is wide open. Quackenbush, weighing 185 pounds and standing an inch short of six feet, will be given careful scrutiny in exhibition games by Adams and the Detroit board of strategy.

TORONTO (CP)—The Fort Erie Senior Softball League has something to boast about when it comes to recording enlistment achievements. Already 21 members of this League have joined the Armed Forces of Canada and the U. S.

Rickey Confers With Brooklyn Heads

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers' search for a President moved closer a solution today with the appearance of Branch Rickey, Vice President of St. Louis Cardinals, for a conference with Brooklyn's Board of Directors.

The negotiations were surrounded in secrecy by both Rickey and the directors, but Rickey said he hoped "to know something definite within the next week."

Pick Benoit as Year's Best Stickhandler

By The Canadian Press

In between practice sessions yesterday Canadiens took time out to hold a poll on various aspects of the coming season covering individual performances and here are some of the results: Goaler Paul Bibeault unanimous choice as outstanding player for year; Gordie Drillon to be top scorer; Joe Benoit best stickhandler and Jack Portland and Elmer Lach fastest skaters.

The poll showed Drillon top of the scoring heap with 25 points followed by Benoit with 22; Toe Blake 21; Tony Demers 18; Buddy O'Connor and Lach 17.

Bob Kirkpatrick, 24, Regina, shifty centreman with New York Rovers of the Eastern United States Amateur League last season, has signed a pro contract with New York Rangers. Kirkpatrick made a record 57-point mark in the Alberta senior circuit in 1938-39 while with Lethbridge Maple Leafs.

In addition to Kirkpatrick, Manager Lester Patrick announced that the star line of Watson, Patrick, and Hextall have signed new contracts. These three finished among the first in N.H.L. scoring last season with Hextall leading, having a total of 56 points.

Lester Patrick said he really would like to bring a youngster up from the Simon Pure ranks to fill the vacancy left by Sugar Jim Henry in the Ranger goal. He may make his choice between Jack McGill, with Rovers last year, Steve Buzinski, from Swift Current, Sask., or Roy Rocha, netminder from Baltimore Orioles of the E.U.S.H.L.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP) —The way Ned Irish looks at it, the entries for this year's Fall basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden—three service teams and one aircraft corporation—may represent a "trend." . . . And it's a good bet that he's right. Most of the coaches partaking Ned's free groceries yesterday were wondering if they'll have teams left by the time the season rolls around.

OLD HOME WEEK

When the Manhattan Beach Coast Guard Football team plays at Toledo Oct. 31, it ought to be designated as the Coast Guardsmen's "homecoming" game. . . . Ensign Gar Griffith head Coach of the squad, is an old Ohio State player. So are his playing assistant, Eako Serkkinen, and players Joe Aleskus and George Sting, and Larry Gilgor, First Assistant Coach, comes from Mount Union College in Ohio. . . . To complete the official family, Lieut. B. F. Money, who is helping Jack Dempsey with the station's physical fitness program, used to be the Ohio State wrestling coach.

Before Pepper Martin could go home after the Pacific Coast League season he had to sell a hoss he had bought last Spring. It wasn't the nag but Mrs. Martin who balked at hurling it all the way from Sacramento to Oklahoma. . . . Hialeah's new idea for transporting race fans seems appropriate for these times. Using wood burners to take 'em out to see the hay burners.

WHEN CAN HE SIGN OFF?

LETTING your partner's sign-off stand is an important point-saving habit, when used at the right time. But when is the right time? If he responds to your opening bid with a suit of his own, and you then bid No Trump, he still might have a pretty good amount of strength. But if he then makes a minimum rebid of his own suit, a warning is implied. Maybe his hand is virtually worthless except for play at that one suit. Unless you are pretty strong, it is well to heed him and pass.

North: ♠ A K 2 ♥ Q 8 3 2 ♦ A K 7 ♣ J 5 3

West: ♠ Q 8 7 5 4 ♥ 10 ♦ 9 8 6 2 ♣ A K 10

East: ♠ J 10 6 ♥ A 9 7 6 4 ♦ 4 ♣ Q 5 3 ♣ 8

South: ♠ 9 3 ♥ K J ♦ J 10 4 ♣ Q 9 7 6 4 2

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 NT

At one table the bidding went just like that except that North passed the 3-Clubs, considering it a sign-off which was almost an obligatory command to quit bidding unless North was considerably stronger or held enough of a club fit to try for a club game. That contract was made after West led the singleton heart 10. The defenders got two trump tricks, one heart ruff with the club 10 and the heart A, a diamond being put on the heart Q, so that South exactly made his contract.

Where North played at 3-No Trumps, the spade J was led to the K, club 3 to the Q and K, heart 10 to the A to clear the dummy of a re-entry, which happened when the next heart went to the K, then the club 6 was led to the A. The spade 5 was ducked, the 10 winning, and the A knocked out. North scored his diamond A and K, plus the club J, then gave up a diamond to the Q, as he had East counted. That made East return a heart from his 9-7 up to the Q-8, giving North the last two tricks — a neat end-play — but North was down a trick in spite of it.

Bidding 2-Clubs on a hand like South's is highly dangerous unless you have a partner who is pretty likely to consider 3-Clubs on your next turn a plea to drop the conversation.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ K 10 7 6 ♥ Q 5 ♦ J 10 8 4 ♣ A 6 2

West: ♠ A J 8 3 2 ♥ 6 4 ♦ 9 7 2 ♣ 10 9 5

East: ♠ Q 9 ♥ A 7 3 ♦ A Q 5 3 ♣ Q J 7 3

South: ♠ 5 4 ♥ K J 10 9 8 2 ♦ K 6 ♣ K 8 4

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

If East wins the opening trick with the diamond A, what should he return in an effort to defeat 4-Hearts?

Canada to Build Ten New Explosive Plants

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP). — Vast expansion of Canada's wartime explosives and chemical program with the addition of 10 new plants—six of them "major projects"—was announced today by Munitions Minister Howe.

Location of chemical and explosive plants is not made public for security reasons. Completion of the new program will bring to 38 the number of plants of this type in Canada.

Three of the larger projects now scheduled are for large-scale production of aklylate for high-octane aviation gasoline. It is expected the first of these will start operating by mid-November and that the others will be in use next year, Mr. Howe's statement said.

The three other major developments will manufacture special chemicals. Two are to start production within four months.

Of the four smaller, "but vitally important," chemical plants one is entering the production stage, another is expected to be completed at the end of this month and another will be in operation early next year.

These Government-owned plants are administered by the Chemicals and Explosives Branch of Munitions and Supply, through Government-owned Allied War Supplies Corp.

There are already 28 explosives, chemical and ammunition-filling plants operating in Canada.

Today's announcement disclosed that individual plants manufacturing rifle cordite and ammonia have set new production records during the past month. The ammunition-filling program is approaching maximum capacity with Government-owned plants turning out 27,000,000 rounds a year in addition to large scale production of bombs, mines, depth charges, pyrotechnics and other material, Mr. Howe said.

Opening of Victoria Naval College Made on Trafalgar Day

ESQUIMALT, B.C., Oct. 21 (CP).—A Royal Canadian Naval College came into being after a lapse of 20 years with an impressive ceremony at which Navy Minister Macdonald described the new institution as a "powerful guarantee" for the future of the Navy.

The official opening of the college at H.M.C.S. Royal Roads near here was timed to coincide with 137th anniversary of Trafalgar Day, and a few minutes after the white ensign was hoisted before the administration building Nelson's famous signal was broken out: "England this day expects that every man will do his duty."

Hundreds of guests lined the lawns of the college grounds, formerly the estate of the late Hon. James Dunsmuir, to watch Mr. Macdonald, Vice-Admiral Percy Nelles, Chief of Naval Staff, and other senior officers, inspect the 100 new cadets, the first of their kind since the last naval college at Halifax was suspended in 1922 after an 11-year existence.

Among the guests was Vice-Admiral C. S. Freeman, N.S.M., Commandant of the 13th U.S. Naval District and Commander of the Northwest sea frontier.

The need for more men and ships was stressed by Admiral Nelles when he addressed the cadets, and Mr. Macdonald assured them that the Canadian naval vessels lost in this war "will be replaced and they will be back to sea with new hands to avenge the fate of their predecessors."

There was nothing in the news to identify with the market's mild reversal.

The Canadian section was firm.

TORONTO—The Gold group harbored scattered gains on today's Toronto exchange market and other groups were mainly firm. Western oils livened up a bit on tightening prices.

MONTREAL — Price revisions were narrowly mixed in transactions today on the stock exchange.

Noranda was a feature on the easier side, slipping a point to a new low.

VANCOUVER—Trading was at a lower pace with 3800 shares trading compared with yesterday's 8700. Golds and oils were fractionally lower while base metals remained unchanged.

WINNIPEG—Trading was more active today and about 400,000 bushels of December wheat was reported taken out of the pit. Futures prices closed unchanged with October at 90 cents a bushel and December at 90⅝.

CHICAGO—Corn prices sagged about ½ cent a bushel at times today to lows for the year reflecting marketing of grain stimulated by expanding harvest operations.

Buerling Injures Heel in Fight

LONDON, Oct. 21 (CP Cable).—George Beurling, Canada's ace fighter pilot, is in hospital with a heel wound, suffered just before he bailed out of his Spitfire over Malta after destroying three Axis aircraft in a single scrap.

The R.A.F. Middle East News Service disclosed today that an X-ray picture showed there was no serious injury, and the young wildcat of the air was hobbling about the hospital.

Relating for the first time the story of Beurling's jump last Thursday after his triple victory, the news service said the youngster had followed his Flight Commander through an enemy fighter screen and made a head-on attack on a group of bombers during a morning raid.

"Skrewball"—the peculiar nickname his R.A.F. mates have given him—shot down a bomber and then a fighter which was on his leader's tail. Beurling was wounded in this tangle and just after shooting down another Messerschmitt 109 he had his own control column shot away. He bailed out and was soon rescued from the sea.

While in hospital Beurling, who took a cattle boat to Britain to join the R.A.F. after he was rejected by the R.C.A.F., will be able to put in time on a book on air fighting he is reported to be writing.

Few men know more about the subject than this 20-year-old flier.

The news service told a new story of Beurling's objections to taking a commission some weeks ago, and they were unorthodox.

"If I were an officer," he said, "I should have to clean my buttons and boots, if the batman didn't do it, and I don't like cleaning boots and buttons, and I don't want a batman.

"I should also probably have to answer the telephone and I hate the telephone. These slacks too would never do for an officer, and they are the only pair I have."

But higherups insisted that he graduate to a more dignified rank. Since wearing the narrow ring of a pilot officer he has added the Distinguished Flying Cross to the Distinguished Flying Medal and Bar he won as a Sergeant Pilot.

LONDON, Oct. 21 (CP).—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, answering questions on foreign affairs in the House of Commons today, said there was no agreement between Britain and Italy or any other country to avoid bombing Rome or other cities.

Answering another question, he said that control of the Suez Canal is "wholly in the hands of the London directors," though the head office is still in Paris.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP)—Close co-operation of all the United Nations is "the necessary condition" for victory, Fedor Gusev, first Minister to Canada from the Soviet Union, said today in an address accompanying the presentation of his credentials to the Governor General.

He said the Soviet Union, "in co-operation with Canada and the other United Nations," is fighting "a titanic struggle against the enemy of all liberty-loving people of the world.

Mr. Gusev was introduced to His Excellency by Norman Robertson, Undersecretary of State for External Affairs.

He presented a letter of credence, accrediting him as "envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics to Canda."

The Governor General received the letter "in the name of his Majesty the King," and extended to the new minister "a very cordial welcome."

The new Western Lines Press Representative joined the Editorial staff of the Moose Jaw Times in July, 1923. He was with the Winnipeg Tribune from January 1928 to May 1929, when he went to Vancouver to become Canadian Pacific Press Representative there, the post he held until his promotion to Winnipeg this September.

Hess Is Treated As War Prisoner

LONDON, Oct 21 (CP).—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the Soviet Government has made no suggestion to the British Government that Rudolf Hess, German leader now held in Britain, should be brought to trial immediately.

"Hess has been treated as a prisoner of war," Mr. Eden said. "There never has been, nor can there be any question of treating him as an envoy or of giving him any form of diplomatic privileged status."

Asked if Hess lived "in exactly the same conditions of comfort or discomfort as ordinary prisoners of war," Mr. Eden replied:

"Yes, sir, that is his status."

The Foreign Secretary said that "In our judgment there is cause to apply to Hess treatment other than that now being elaborated by the United Nations for dealing with war criminals, whoever they may be."

Rossland Junior Band Must Cease Unless Have Practice Room

ROSSLAND, B. C., Oct. 21—"Unless we can get a definite place to practice there will be no Junior Band in Rossland," stated Winston Churchill, Bandmaster, following an interrupted meeting at the City Hall tonight.

The Junior Band had been promised a room in the City Hall each Wednesday evening until further notice, stated the band leader. Tonight's meeting was well advertised, and the band had received no notice to vacate, but about 7:20 was ordered out by another organization, the A.R.P.

About 15 members of the Flutina Band, organized by Edward Gibney, are anxious to purchase instruments and join the Junior Band, Mr. Churchill stated, but unless a satisfactory arrangement can be made for regular practice the whole thing would have to be abandoned.

Before the meeting terminated Kenneth Martin Jr., was elected President; John Hamilton Vice-President; and Morden Hoytes, Secretary.

Robert B. Allan Dies; Uncle of Hon. N. McLarty

Robert Burns Allan, father of Alex H. Allan of Nelson, died suddenly at Calgary Wednesday. Alex Allan was called to Calgary by his father's illness about two weeks ago, but returned when his condition improved.

He is returning to Calgary to attend the funeral services Friday. His father had been in fair health up to two weeks ago.

Born at Port Rowan, Ont, Mr. Allan was in his ninetieth year.

In business for some years in Ontario, he left Dunville in 1905 to travel Westward to Staveley, Alta., where he conducted a general store. He retired in 1915. For the 10 years preceding his wife's death in 1931 he resided at Vancouver; and subsequently with his sons at their various residences. For three years before going to Calgary recently he lived in Nelson.

POLITICA FAMILY

Mr. Allan, a Liberal in politics, was a member of a family which has taken an active party in Government. Hon. Norman McLarty, Secretary of State for Canada, is his nephew. At one time two of his brothers were members of the House of Commons at the same time, one representing a Toronto constituency and the other sitting for Essex, the riding now representing by Mr. McLarty.

Previously a Presbyterian of lifetime standing, he joined the United Church at the time of the union.

Surviving are two sons, Henry of Edmonton and Alex of Nelson; and three grandchildren, R. Blake Allan of Vancouver, 2nd Lt. James G. Allan, now at Dundurn, Sask.; and Alex A. Allan of Nelson. He was predeceased by his wife in 1931. His eldest son, Wilfrid, died at Nelson in 1938, and another son, Blake, was killed in action at Festubert in 1915.

Interpreting

The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Analyst

Whatever the reason, the slow-motion pace of Japan's attempt to regain lost ground in the Solomons is so striking a departure from previous practice as to invite conecture.

The implication is that the enemy is forced to move with extreme caution. For the first time, except for abortive attacks in New Guinea, Japanese leadership has been dealt a hand with certain maor trumps lacking. It can count neither on surprise nor air superiority. If there is a grim oker in the deck, it is apt to be disclosed in the American hand, not the Japanese, this time.

If there is any parallel for the week lost since Japanese landings in force were effected on Guadalcanal without a maor battle developing either ashore or afloat, off-hand memories of Nipponese blitzkrieg methods in China, the Philippines, Malaya, Dutch East Indies and Burma do not call it to mind. Those campaigns were driven forward at amazing speed.

Gen. MacArthur's stand on Bataan caused the only previous notable delay in the Japanese conquest schedule unless his defence of New Guinea has also upset Tokyo's plans. There is not much doubt also that his long-range bombers now are contributing vitally to the defence of Guadalcanal.

The prime uncertainty with which the foe must reckon is the whereabouts and strength of American naval forces. A substantial part of the air forces available to the Nipponese commander in the Solomons zone, certainly a navy man, must be seeking that information. That not only limits the air power that can be thrown into action over Guadalcanal to aid a land attacker or shelter additional landings. It sharply restricts Japanese ability to screen important movements of fleets or convoys from American eyes.

The Japanese commander also is feeling the lack of fifth column agents with means of communication in the Solomons. They helped materially at every preceding stage of the long-plotted Japanese attempt to master the Far Pacific. Now the delay in development of the expected full-scale Japanese attack to recapture a lost and vitally important air base warrants the conclusion that its commander must go it blind.

American air scouting as well as the air bombing odds are against him. That he hesitates risking swift action and is groping for somp sign of American main fleet dispositions before moving in is understandable. He must know even better than his opponents how crucial for Japan's whole war design a bad sea defeat could be.

Yet the certainty expressed by Navy Secretary Knox and American naval authorities that the foe still is to strike his greatest blow in the Solomons rests on something more than greater specific information as to the Japanese forces assigned to the task. It is founded very largely on the conclusion that having begun the attempt to retake Guadalcanal, Tokyo dare not permit its abandonment or that it can long lag.

Guadalcanal is now a matter of "face" with the Japanese as well as an important element in military strategy.

Southern Calif. Jolted by Quake

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21 (AP).—Southern California was jolted and rocked—depending on where you were—by a series of three earth shocks today, the first at 9:24 a.m. P.D.T.

The Seismological Laboratory of California Institute of Technology at Pacadena put the centre of the disturbance at about 200 miles Southeast, approximately in the Imperial Valley.

At El Centro, the valley's chief city, the shock was felt as a jolting one, but there were no reports of damage. It was jolting, too, at San Diego, where it cracked plaster, rattled dishes, and even moved furniture.

Hospital officials reported that many patients were frightened.

The tremor also was felt with moderate sharpness in the sea-coast cities of Long Beach and Santa Monica, but in Los Angeles and other inland points was described as rocking in nature.

BROOKWOOD, Eng. (CP)—Members of a London Home Guard battalion placed a wreath on the grave of an unknown Canadian Serviceman in the Military Cemetery here "as a mark of appreciation, affection and esteem which we have for the Canadians, and an acknowledgment of their courage and comradeship in coming to the aid of this country in its great task."
