NEW RUSS ADVANCE THREATENS NAZI ARMY

Allies on Verge of Big Assault on Tunis, Bizerte

Terrific Aerial Battering Handed Axis Bases; Nazis Pour More Men Into Sardinia and Sicily to Fly to Tunisia

By BLAKE SULLIVAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The grand Allied assault on Tunis and Bizerte is about to be launched by the force of British Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Anderson, the Morocco Radio announced tonight, while American and British planes in relays pounded Axis hotbeds over the whole Tunisian battleground.

The Morocco Radio declared that Anderson, Leader of the British 1st Army and a supporting force of Americans, is on the verge of beginning a large-scale offensive. It said further that his force had once more thrown back a German column in an engagement 28 miles south of Tunis.

The regular communique of the allied force headquarters in North Africa merely said that the British 1st Army is making satisfactory progress in operations against the enemy in Eastern forward areas.

The communique, devoted mainly to the terrific aerial battering that the combined R.A.F. and U. S. air forces are giving the Axis, said that two successful raids were carried out on Bizerte Monday and Tuesday nights and that U.-S. Army P-38 fighters of the 14th Air Force destroyed 14 enemy planes in Tunisia yesterday.

The fighter bag included, the report said, seven Italian troop transports shot down at Gabes and two Junkers 88 destroyed elsewhere in Southern Tunisia; four transports and one seaplane and a tank destroyed on the airfield at Gabes.

From these actions, all planes returned safely. Four were damaged and one pilot was wounded.

In the raids on Bizerte the big naval base city in Tunisia, the communique said, R.A.F. bombers Monday night caused a large explosion and more than 30 small ones on the Bizerte airfield.

The Tuesday night attack was devoted mainly to the Bizerte docks and shipping in the harbor.

"Numerous bomb flashes were seen and there was a terrific sheet of flame that appeared to come from exploding gasoline," the communique said. "All bombers returned safely."

The Axis poured aerial reinforcements into Sardinia and Sicily and flew troops to Tunisia.

The determined efforts to reinforce Tunisia made it plain the Germans and Italians will try to win in Tunisia at any cost—even perhaps at the expense of the Russian front or the battered retreating forces in Libya, which apparently will be left to make whatever stand they can at El Agheila.

Axis power appeared to be concentrated in the small pocket about Bizerte and Tunis on the North coast where the British 1st Army, augmented by Americans and French was within 25 to 30 miles and moving in along the rugged coastal road from Algeria.

The main battle has not been joined. It is expected to be tough and bloody as the Germans are firmly entrenched in stout fortifications laboriously built over the years by the French.

German broadcasts said that their Tunisian forces had been reinforced by armored formations, mechanized detachments and artillery and that their hold on the coastal and inland highways had been strengthened. Bombing was said to have slowed the movement of British and Americans from Algeria. British tank spearheads were reported ambushed and mauled on the Algerian frontier.

The 8th Army advancing Southwest of Agedabia was reported by Reuters to be near El Agheila and the next day or so should disclose whether Rommel has had time to organize defence there.

C.C.F. Victor in Salmon Arm Byelection

SALMON ARM, B.C., Nov. 25 (CP)—Election of George Stirling, C.C.F., in today's byelection to fill the provincial riding of Salmon Arm, was conceded tonight by the coalition office of Mayor Cyril Thomson.

With only nine of the 34 polls to report, Stirling had 1138 votes to 980 for Mayor Thomson.

Result of the byelection, first since the Provincial General election of 1941, gave the C.C.F. 15 seats in the 48-member legislature, with Liberal-Coalition 20, Conservative-Coalition 11, Liberal 1, Labor 1.

Mayor Thomson was the first candidate to run in British Columbia on a "Coalition" ticket since Liberals and Conservatives united to give themselves a majority over the C.C.F. in the legislature.

The byelection was necessitated by the death of Hon. Rolf Bruhn, who represented the riding as a Conservative and held the post of Public Works Minister in the Coalition Cabinet.

Ontario Gov't to Carry on; to Call Convention After Next Session

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP.) — The Ontario Government as presently constituted will carry on during the next session of the Legislature after which a general convention of the Liberal Associations of Ontario will be called to choose a permanent leader and to decide the future policies of the Provincial Liberals.

This was decided today in a caucus of Liberal members of the Legislature who met together for the first time since Gordon D. Conant succeeded Mitchell F. Hepburn as Premier in a dramatic move Oct. 21.

Decision to carry on the present set-up through the next Legislature session and to call a convention following that session was endorsed by a 47-5 vote.

At the same time, it was learned the caucus had been told by Mr. Conant that the next regular session of the Legislature, scheduled for February, probably would open around Jan. 15. An earlier start than usual is being made because of important power and labor legislation which is coming up for Legislative action.

Chairman W. Lynn Miller, member for Algoma-Manitoulin, said that while preliminary reports had it that a fight would develop between party factions at today's gathering, the meeting in reality was conducted on a high plane.

ONLY 25 SHOPPING DAYS 'til Christmas

Railway Targets Blasted by British Fighters

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)—British fighter planes conducted daylight sweeps in Northern France and Brittany today, shooting up trains and other railway targets in pursuance of the policy of wrecking French transportation to hinder shipment of goods to enemy countries.

The Air Ministry disclosed that "one of our aircraft is missing."

JAP ATTEMPT TO AID BUNA FORCES SMASHED

Two Troop-Laden Warships Sunk, Third Is Damaged

FIGHTING HEAVY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Nov. 26 (Thursday), (Ap)—Heavy and medium bombers operating under General MacArthur's Command smashed a Japanese attempt to land reinforcements at Buna yesterday, sinking two enemy destroyers and damaging a third, apparently all heavily loaded with troops, Allied Headquarters announced today.

A Japanese light cruiser and a fourth destroyer also in the action retreated hastily from the Northern New Guinea shore under the heavy Allied pounding, carried out in darkness by planes which first dropped flares and then blasted their lighted targets with 500-pound bombs.

This latest success was announced in a noon communique which disclosed that the fighting on land, continuing heavy, is slow and difficult in "low, tropical jungle, interspersed with swamp and Tidal Creek," and that the Allied troops "are now encountering carefully prepared positions, strongly fortified with barbed wire, dugouts and all the defensive attributes of a fortress."

The destroyer damaged off Buna probably also was sunk, headquarters said.

The communique told this story of the air battle against the enemy ships:

"Enemy naval forces under cover of darkness again attempted to land reinforcements to the beleaguered garrison but were shattered and repulsed and the attempt was unsuccessful.

"A light cruiser and four destroyers made the sortie. Our heavy and medium bombers intercepted with flares and 500-pound bombs in Huon Gulf and sank two destroyers with direct hits and severely damaged a third.

"This latter was dead in the water for 25 minutes and then was seen heading for land at a speed of six knots. It is probable she also sank, as our rear air echelons searched her possible area of position without seeing her.

"The ships were apparently heavily loaded with troops and those on the destroyed units undoubtedly were lost.

"The light cruiser and the remaining destroyer fled to the North."

Today's communique also told of additional Allied air raids on Portuguese Timor and of two raids by Jap planes on Port Moresby, the Southeast New Guinea Allied base from which the land push over the Owen Stanley Mountains toward Buna began late last September. The Jap bombs intended for Port Moresby dropped harmlessly in the brush.

48 Seamen Missing Following Loss of Two Ships

By The Associated Press

The United States Navy disclosed Wednesday that 48 seamen were missing following the destruction of two allied merchantmen by enemy submarines in the Western Atlantic.

One of the vessels, an American cargo ship was sunk in the North Atlantic last month, lost 32 crewmen but 27 others were picked up soon after the ship went down.

The second submarine victim, whose registry was not revealed, sank so quickly that most of her crew were thrown into the sea.

WILLKIE FEARS WORLD HAS NO COMMON CAUSE

Wants Discussion of Purposes Before War Ends

MUST AID RUSS

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP.) — Wendell L. Willkie said tonight that he lives in "constant dread" that the war may end before the peoples of the world "have come to a common understanding of what they fight for and what they hope for after the war is over."

Willkie, 1940 Republican nominee for the Presidency of the United States, said in an address prepared for delivery at a Canadian-aid-to-Russia-fund meeting in Maple Leaf Gardens that "the people must define their purposes during the war," and he added: "I am quite deliberately trying to provoke discussion of those purposes between the peoples of the various countries of the world."

"I was a soldier in the last war," said Willkie, "and after the war was over I saw our bright dreams disappear, our stirring slogans become the jests of the cynical, and all because the fighting peoples did not arrive at any common post-war purpose while they fought. It must be our resolve to see that that does not happen again. . .

"Unless Britons and Canadians and Russians and Chinese and Americans and all our fighting Allies in the common cooperation of war find the instrumentalities and the methods of cooperative effort after the war, we, the people, have failed our time and generation."

Willkie was introduced by Finance Minister James Ilsley. Others on the speakers' platform included L. D. Wilgress, newly-appointed Canadian Minister to Russia, and F. Gusev, Russian Minister to Canada who recently took up his post at Ottawa.

Willkie was escorted to the platform by members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and members of the official party. He was applauded vociferously by the attendance of 17,523.

He urged that the utmost aid be given to the people of Russia during a Winter in which food "will be scarce" and fuel "will be little known this Winter in Russian homes."

"The Russian people are turning to the democracies of the West for hope and aid. We must not fail them. For just as the African front is Russia's front, so Stalingrad and Moscow are our fronts. And the Russian people behind those fronts who are our Allies today must be our friends tomorrow.

"It is with them that we must work to make this war what their leader has called it: 'A great war of liberation.'"

Later he said:

"We must guard against the recurrence of dollar and pragmatic diplomacy. We must guard against the use fo the great moral force of our country not for the liberation of mankind but for the maintenance of the old international order—spawning ground of the present struggle.

"We must educate ourselves to accept the economic changes which must take plage in the world.

"But, most important, it remains for us to convince those people to whom we are promising freedom and opportunity that we really believe what we have declared to be self-evident truth in our own declaration of independence: That all men are created equal.

"If we are to convince others of our good faith, we must see to it that racial and cultural and economic exclusiveness belong to the past, within as well as without our borders."

Germans Occupying Norway Refuse to Shoot Comrades

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP.) — The Norwegian telegraph agency said today that reports from Norway continued to tell of mutiny among the occupying German troops. German officers and men in chains were said to have been seen on ships which put into Norwegian ports on the way South.

The agency also reported that German firing squads had refused to shoot their comrades charged with mutiny. It said that in Narvik German mutineers and a firing squad which refused to shoot them were lined up for execution by a second squad, but that it, too, refused to fire. All were said to have been sent South for punishment.

Man, Woman Found Shot in Ontario

COBURG, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP.)—Autopsies today showed that a man and woman were killed by a shotgun fired at close range not long before their bodies were found today on the Toronto-Cobourg highway, it was announced tonight.

The victims of the double slaying are William Wallace Cunningham, 40, Toronto, and Mrs. Tony Fafdella, 33, Cobourg, the mother of three small children.

The Weather

With November nearly over, Wednesday was only the eighth or ninth day of the month without precipitation recorded some time within its 24 hours—from 5 p.m. to 5 p.m. The day was prevailing sunny, after a frosty night, and the mercury attained a high point of 40.5 degrees.

HOPE FOR QUICK SETTLEMENT OF FORD STRIKE

Company's Answer to Union Offer Is Awaited

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP.) — The announcement tonight that union officials have offered a basis of settlement to the Ford Motor Company of Canada and now are waiting the Company's response heightened hope for a quick settlement of a two-day strike which has paralyzed Ford war plants and left 13,500 men idle.

"It looks hopeful," said J. C. Adams, Executive Director of the Ontario Reginal War Labor Board, as company executives and officials of the United Automobile Workers Union (C.I.O.) filed out of a room tonight after an eight-hour conference.

Union representatives this afternoon proposed to the company that 56 women, about whose employment the dispute centres, be paid the minimum rate for male employees.

Roy England, President of Ford Local 200, said he had been assured the Regional War Labor Board will enforce the principle of equal pay for equal work which is being sought by the Union.

During the day Ford Motor Company President, Wallace R. Campbell, issued a statement in which he described the strike as illegal and asserted that the company had not employed women at hourly rates but had hired 27 women for clerical work at rates of pay approved by the Government.

There was no immediate reply from the union—which had said yesterday the strike resulted from employment by the Company of women on men's jobs at less than a man's rate of pay.

Squeeze Corridor Left to Nazis by Taking Junction

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Nov. 26 (Thursday) (AP)—The Red Army striking across the snow-covered Don Steppes west of Stalingrad has seized the Don-Chir River junction in a move threatening rapidly to complete the envelopment of the 300,000-man German assault army at Stalingrad.

A special Soviet communique, the fourth in four days, announced also that the Nazi toll in dead and captured now stood at 98,000, and another 140,000 Germans have been wounded in the bloody battle of the Don River Bend.

The Russian armies occupied Novomaximovsky and Staromaximovsky at the junction of the Don and Chir Rivers, 65 miles Southwest of Stalingrad, the communique said, without detailing the significance of this advance.

This indicated one of two developments. Either the Russian army which struck across the Don River at Serafimovich on the North side of the Bend had penetrated clear across that strategic elbow to the Southern side, or the Red army column driving down the Stalingrad-Novorossisk railroad had turned Northward to link up with the upper Soviet army.

Field dispatches had reported only a 30-mile gap remained to be closed in the Don Elbow to encircle the Nazi Stalingrad armies. These reports preceded the issuance of the latest special communique, which did not give the new mileage rolled up by the Soviet offensive begun Nov. 19.

Besides occupying the new and old cities of Maximovsky on the Chir-Don Rivers, the communique said, six more villages had been taken, the 22nd Nazi tank division had been routed, 15,000 prisoners taken, and 6000 Nazis killed during yesterday's operations.

This made a total of 47,000 German dead and 51,000 captives, in addition the Russians said they now have captured 1300 guns of all calibres, 5518 trucks, 62 ammunition dumps and vast quantities of equipment and food.

Inside Stalingrad, the regular Wednesday midnight communique reported, Russian troops had cleared the Germans from several gun emplacements and strong points, killing 300 Nazis in one sector and putting out of action some enemy artillery and Mortar batteries.

The regular war bulletin acknowledged that the Russians are meeting heavy resistance from Germans operating from field fortifications Northwest of Stalingrad and said the enemy also is counter-attacking in some sectors.

But the Russians said their shock troops are repulsing these fierce charges, and that Soviet attack planes shot down nine Nazi fighters and 15 Junkers 52 transport planes. This reference to transport planes indicated a hurried German effort to bolster their troops with aerial reinforcements.

A tremendous battle was in progress some 50 miles West of Stalingrad between Kalach and Trekhostrovsknya—both recaptured by the Russians along the ice-clogged Don—to cut the corridor and thus trap for liquidation the survivors of the 300,000 Axis troops which for three months had assaulted Stalingrad.

Russian drives both North and South of the path of death continued to roll forward over the bodies of Germans, Italians, Rumanians and even Finns.

"The snow spaces of the Don Steppes are covered with thousands of bodies of Germans and Rumanians," the newspaper Pravda said and published photographs depicting such scenes. "Lines of captives proceeded to the North. Ragged, starving and frozen soldiers are stumbling to quarters, often without guards."

The offensive to the Northwest carried 65 miles into German defences-in-depth. To the Southwest along the Stalingrad-North Caucasus railway, the Russians had plunged 65 miles and were nearing the junction of Kotelnikovski. Within the Great Don Bend, several Russian columns were sweeping down in a Southwesterly direction beyond Chernyshevskaya, which fell two days ago ,and were menacing the main Moscow-Rostov railway.

The Caucasus, where German positions were threatened by the momentum of the Russian offensive to the North, was quiescent. Local German attacks were reported repulsed Southeast of Nalchik and Northeast of Tuapse.

Nazis Piling Up Planes in Bizerte, Tunis

LONDON, Nov. 26 (Thursday)—(CP.)—The London Daily Mail today reported in a dispatch from Madrid that the Germans are "piling up fighters and bombers in great numbers" in the Bizerte-Tunis fortified zone in preparation for the struggle for total air supremacy.

The dispatch said that the Germans' intention to sacrifice even Tripoli if necessary and concentrate all their strength on holding the Tunisian Peninsula are "becoming more evident."

Baby Snatched From Buggy Is Found

ZION, Ill., Nov. 26 (AP.) — A four months old baby boy—alive and well and tucked in a travelling bag—was found today less than 24 hours after he was snatched from his buggy in nearby Waukegan.

Police Chief Alvin Reusch said the infant was recovered from Mrs. Anne Tyrell, 27, in Zion and that the woman admitted she took the child but offered no reason for her action.

The finding of the baby—Gary Botsford — ended a search that aroused the North Shore.

Marines Clean Up Jap Machine Gun Nest; Kill 70, Take Five Guns

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP.)—A Marine patrol knifing deep into the mountainous jungles on Guadalcanal Island has killed 70 Japanese and captrued five machine-guns at a loss of only two men wounded, the United States Navy announced today.

The enemy troops were caught in an encampment at the village of Mambulo on the upper Matanikau River, beyond the Southwestern flank of the American positions on the Solomon Island.

From somewhere on these jungle-covered heights the Japanese had artillery firing down upon the Guadalcanal airfield, and it was possible the patrol was out hunting for the enemy field pieces when it came upon the Japanese camp.

A navy communique, which made no report on land activity elsewhere on the island, said that dive-bombers scored a direct hit on enemy warehouse at Munda, New Georgia Island, 180 miles Northwest of Guadalcanal airfield. The bombers were accompanied by fighter planes.

The patrol raid at Mambulo was carried out last Monday, Guadalcanal time. A Navy communique issued yesterday had reported Japanese activity in the region on Monday, but without indicating its purpose or direction.

Lumber Head Says Big Brass Hat Needed to Force Canada's Hand

WASHINTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Ben Alexander, Lumber Coordinator for the War Production Board, told investigating Senators today that it apparently woud take "a bigger brass hat than I've got" to force Canada to lift a war embargo against exportation of logs into the United States.

Moved by complaints from mill owners in the Pacific Northwest, Senator Mon. C. Wallgren (Dem.-Wash.) repeatedly urged Alexander to "get tough" with Canadian officials and to urge "a little reciprocity" in return for what he termed American aid to the British Empire.

Alexander asserted that while negotiations were continued and he still retained hope, Allen Nicholson, former Timber Controller, now Deputy Controller, for Canada, had "absolutely refused" to lift the restrictions. Nicholson explained, the witness said, that Canada had a shortage of logs to keep its mills going.

"Well, that simply is not true," Wallgren asserted.

"American mill owners were permitted to buy crown grant logging rights on Vancouver Island in good faith with the understanding they could ship to the mills in this country."

Wallgren said the mills were threatened with a serious shortage of logs and that the Canadian policy aggravated the situation "and our producers feel you are not bearing down enough."

"We've done everything in our power," Alexander replied. "We've pointed out this situation a thousand times."

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

A headache need not be an illness in itself, but it may be a warning symptom that there is intestinal sluggishness within.

To help overcome the cause of headache it is necessary to eliminate the waste matter from the system. Burdock Blood Bitters helps to remove the cause of headaches by regulating the digestive and biliary organs, neutralizing acidity, regulating the constipated bowels and toning up the sluggish liver, and when this has been accomplished the headaches should disappear.

GOEBBELS SHOWS WORRY ABOUT GERMAN MORALE

Tells People They Must Learn to Accept Reverses

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—A revealing article by German propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels broadcast by the Berlin radio tonight indicates that the German people are being swayed by Allied propaganda and are concerned about the German reverses.

Furthermore, throughout the article is the strong suggestion that the Nazi leaders are gravely worried about German morale.

In one of the frankest articles Goebbels has yet written in the weekly publication Das Reich, the propaganda minister has told the Germans that they must try to surpass the enemy not only in gaining victories "but also in the art of mastering reverses."

"Obstacles on the road to victory only heighten our spirit of attack and occasional reverses encourage us to fresh achievements," he said.

The German propaganda minister has not seemed so concerned in any one matter since his speculative articles on the second front last Summer when he boasted to the world that Germany was ready everywhere—no matter where the Allies might strike.

At the outset of his discourse, he said:

"It is he who approaches his objective never looking to the left or right and justifying his actions by their success rather than by morals who has the advantage in war."

Obviously concerned about the effect the Allied cause and perhaps Allied war aims are having on the German people, Goebbels propounded in the frankest terms a modern-day "might makes right" theory:

"It is not so much a matter of what is moral and decent but of what promises success.

"If the German people immediately yield when their magnanimity and objectivity are appealed to, then this is due to the fact that they lack experience in political affairs and see their opponent as they are themselves, or what is still worse, as they would like to be themselves.

"It will yet take a long time until the idea has taken root in the German people which is a matter of course with the British, that it is not a matter of right or wrong, but of the fatherland."

Kay reported on the war work done in the Work Rooms by Mrs. J. Davidson, remarking on the amount of work it took to make the toys.

Following the close of the meeting, Mrs. G. C. Wilton introduced the speaker for the evening, Archer Davis, Cranbrook Manager of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Mr. Davis spoke on price control and its benefits. Following his talk, Mr. Davis threw the meeting open for discussion and answered many questions which were of great assistance to the members present.

By MRS. HARVEY FLEURY

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 25—A wedding of wide interest was solemnized Monday afternoon at 5 in St. Andrew's United Church, when Susan Seaton, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Urquhart, became the bride of Ac2 Ronald Edward McKinnon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reginald McKinnon of Edinburgh, Scotland. Rev. C. H. Daly performed the ceremony. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the soft strains of the "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin", played by the church organist, Frank Tracy. Chrysanthemums in shades of gold were used effectively to decorate the altar. The bride chose an attractive afternoon frock fashioned from gold-colored wool, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of bronze 'mums and yellow rosebuds. Mrs. J. S. Daly of Trail as matron-of-honor, was her sister's only attendant. Her ensemble and accessories were of bottle green and her corsage of pink rose buds. Dr. J. S. Daly, brother-in-law of the bride, acted as best man. Following the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Urquhart, becomingly attired in a navy afternoon dress, with which she wore a black hat and black accessories, assisted the happy couple to receive the guests. Her corsage was of crimson roses. Ac2 and Mrs. McKinnon plan to leave for Toronto immediately, where the groom is stationed with the R.C.A.F. The bride was born and educated in Rossland, and since graduating from St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, has held positions on the Trail-Tadanac Hospital staff and with the C. S. Report French Nazi Leader Doriot Is Dead

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP Cable)—The Evening Standard today said that according to reports reaching Britain Jacques Doriot, French Nazi leader in Paris, is dead.

Doriot was taken to hospital last Saturday after being attacked while leaving a meeting of his French Popular Party, a collaborationist group.

The Standard said that Doriots speech, broadcast yesterday, was probably a recording, adding that "there is no official confirmation" of the report of his death "but circumstantial evidence is regarded as very strong."

619 Australians Lost in Egypt

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 25 (CP)—Army Minister Francis M. Forde announced today that 610 Australian soldiers were killed, fatally wounded or listed as missing in the British 8th Army's successful offensive to drive the Axis Army out of Egypt. In addition, 1800 Australians were wounded.

Gen Sir Harold Alexander, British Commander in the Middle East, announced last week that British casualties in the campaign, presumably up to Nov. 18, totalled 13,600.

De Gaulle Speech Might Have Upset Operations In Africa Just at Critical Stage Says Eden

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)— Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today that the battle for North Africa is in an extremely critical phase and declined to discuss arrangements which Lt.-Gen. Eisenhower has made with the local French authorities.

Allied spokesmen, however, have pointed out that the relatively light resistance from the French was only the first phase and that the showdown for domination of the Mediterranean's African shore would be the test, now developing, between the allies and the stronger defences of the Axis.

Referring to the fact that the North African expedition is under U. S. command, Eden said

"This is not the time to discuss arrangements made in Africa between Gen. Eisenhower and local French authorities.

"The battle is in an extremely critical phase and it will be time to go into all these measures when it is won."

Meanwhile he said, nothing should be done to give the Americans any cause for complaint.

The statement was made while Eden was commenting for the second day on the cancellation by the Prime Minister of a broadcast that Gen. Charles de Gaulle had scheduled for last Saturday.

"The Prime Minister and I do not think its delivery at this time will be helpful to the extremely tense an serious operations now preceding in Tunisia," Eden said.

"We could not take the responsibility for allowing anything to happen so far as we had the power to control it which might hamper the responsibility commanders or make the task of our own troops and those of our allies more difficult."

The House cheered when he said: "The British 1st Army, strongly supported by U. S. forces is making its way Eastward over enormous distances with the utmost possible speed, and they are greatly helped in the advance by the favorable attitude of the population and also by the vigorous resistance which the French troops of Tunisia already are offering to the German and Italian invaders."

"The government entered into engagements with deGaulle and those engagements stand," Eden said.

"I hope the House will agree that the greatest discretion should be observed in the utterances which may be made while the battle and general operations are in their extremely critical phase."

Earlier Eden told the House that all Britons interned in North Africa and almost all the Fighting French internees now have been released.

Demurring to question about the position of members of the international brigade and others who are imprisoned because of opposition to the Axis Eden said the area was a military zone and added "you have seen the statement recently made by President Roosevelt upon which I cannot comment at this juncture."

War Prisoners Jump Off Train; All Recaptured

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 25 (AP)—Four German prisoners of war jumped from a slow moving train early today and enjoyed brief freedom before their recapture.

The escape, at Altamont Pass near Livermore, Calif., was discovered by a train brakeman, who saw one of the prisoners lying alongside of the track feigning death.

All of the recaptured men said they were from Field Marshal Rommel's Afrika Corps.

Sgt. Hans Kirbert, 21, of the German Luftwaffe, who admittedly engineered the escape, was recaptured as he rode into the Livermore air base on the back of a workman's automobile.

He was trying to get to Mexico when he jumped on the back of the automobile. He was discovered by a guard at the airport. When the guard demanded what he was doing on the back of the machine, he was unable to answer. He couldn't speak English.

His recapture at 7 a.m. ended the short-lived break which started at midnight.

Two were caught at the train side by armed guards after the brakeman signaled the train to an emergency stop. The fourth was arrested by civilian defence police who found him asleep in an automobile near Pleasanton.

Edward Loreno, 21, who climbed into the stalled automobile to rest, demanded that he be taken to the Polish Consul in San Francisco, claiming that he was a Polish citizen.

He said he was drafted into the German Army while in the country visiting an aunt.

Loreno, who was a Corporal in the Mine Laying Division of the Afrika Corps, told Sheriff H. P. Gleason of Alameda County that the Germans know they are licked in Africa. He said Rommel would attempt to make a stand near El Agheila merely to cover his retreat to Sicily. He said for some time Rommel had been getting by largely on captured stores.

At the time of Rommel's successful offensive, he said the German General had 450 Stukas, but the promised additional dive bombers failed to arrive from the Continent.

Fighting French Won't Broadcast to France While Darlan Is Chief

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)—A fighting French military spokesman skipped his customary broadcast to France today and, in explanation declared, "as long as Darlan is retained as the head in North Africa I feel I cannot conscientiously continue."

Eleven of the Churchill Government's persistent critics introduced a motion in the House of Commons tonight disapproving the United States' dealings with Darlan which Foreign Secretary Eden, Government spokesman in the House, said the Government had endorsed as a temporary military expedient.

The eleven, who never yet have been able to shake the Government's foundations in the House, will try to obtain a House vote on the motion declaring "our relations with Admiral Darlan and his kind are inconsistent with the ideals for which we are fighting this war."

Among them are laborites Aneurin Bevan and R. J. Davies, Conservatives Robert J. G. Boothby and Richard G. Stokes, and Liberals Edgar L. Granville and T. L. Horabin.

It was the first time since June, 1940, that the voice of fighting France—which twice daily had been broadcasting messages of hope and encouragement to Frenchmen under Nazi rule—had remained silent.

"It is not possible for me to make the appointment of Darlan clear to the French people" said the spokesman for the time being therefore, the messages have been stopped."

Darlan's Quick Changes Bewilder De Gaulle Followers

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP) — The United Nations military success in North Africa, accompanied by necessary creation of some sort of French authority in territory which might well serve as a jumping-off place for a continental invasion, has built up in the public mind a jigsaw puzzle the pieces of which do not fit together.

Most of the confusion which competent opinion suggests will clarify itself over a period of time hinges around Admiral Darlan—one day scorned as the evil genius of Nazi collaboration, the next apparently the trusted collaborator of the Allies.

Acceptance of Darlan as supreme French Commander bewildered the followers of Gen. de Gaule just as it perplexed the British public.

One observer discussing Darlan's position warned: "We want to be careful not to make snap judgments in a situation about which we do not know all the facts. The united nations at this time will hardly permit the wool to be pulled over their eyes."

Another source described Gen. Giraud as one of the most influential Frenchmen on the Allied side and noted with interest that he had taken second place to Darlan.

He expressed hope Giraud and de Gaulle would somehow be able to get together for establishment of a unified fighting France.

If in any way the united nations in attempting to foster a strengthened fighting France interfere with the fundamental French rights, then untold harm might result.

Bomber Pilot Acquitted

SANTA ANA, Calif., Nov. 25 (AP)—Lieut. William N. Wilson, accused of manslaughter in the death of 12 persons after a collision between his army bomber and a commercial airliner was acquitted today by a court martial.

The trial board of 10 superior officers deliberated 37 minutes.

Its decision concluded a trial of less than three days—highlighted yesterday by the testimony of a 20-year-old private in the tank corps than an American airliner flew under the bomber when they collided in mid-air near Palm Springs, Cal., Oct. 23.

"In this great undertaking," the President said in a message to the Minister, "which we shall prosecute with ever increasing power, we are proud to feel that we have the sympathy and cooperation of Iraq and of all the Arab peoples."

The message was in reply to an open letter from the Prime Minister, Nuri said, congratulating the President on the successful American landing operations in North Africa.

2 Yrs. Suspended Sentence for Time Story Author

BARRIE, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP)—Edward Gay Rohrbough, 31-year-old American-born newspaper correspondent, pleaded guilty in court today to a charge laid under Defence of Canada Regulations, and was placed on suspended sentence for two years.

Magistrate Compton Jeffs suspended sentence on the charge—which concerned transmission to Time magazine, New York, of a story dealing with disturbances at a prisoner-of-war camp at Bowmanville in violation of censorship regulations—after hearing Crown Counsel J. C. McRuer and Defence Counsel J. R. Cartwright of Toronto appeal for such action.

Mr. Cartwright told the court that Rohrbough was born in the United States of Dutch ancestry and that his father was recently elected to U. S. Congress. Rohrbough, who was a teacher for several years, sought to enlist in the U. S. Army in Texas and when he was unsuccessful came to Canada where he enlisted in the Canadian (Active) Army Aug. 10, 1940. He was discharged in April, 1941, because of eye trouble.

Since his discharge he had worked as a correspondent for a Toronto newspaper. He wrote the story on the Bowmanville disturbances and sent it to his Toronto paper. He sent a similar story to Time, assuming it would be subject to censorship.

Mr. McRuer observed that the article submitted to Time was not based on first-hand information, it was not published as written and its most important details have since been repudiated by Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence.

The "accused had no desire to break the law" and it "would seem that the ends of justice would be met if sentence is suspended," Crown Counsel added.

Morocco Sultan Says U. S. Forces Welcomed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Sultan of Morocco, Sidi Mohammed, has informed President Roosevelt that the inhabitants of Morocco have received American occupation forces "as friends".

Further, he said, the French colony "has no disagreement with the great nation of the United States, whose chivalrous and liberal principles are known to us."

"It was, therefore", the Sultan said in a message made public today by the White House, "in the above spirit that we declared to Maj. Gen. Patton that as long as our prestige, our soil, our religion and our traditions were respected by your troops they could rest assured that they found in Morocco only friends and collaborators.

Youth Should Be Taught Thrift

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

Ever so many youths who should be in high school are getting jobs. Except the few who have special talents in industry and a still smaller group who hardly could profit from further school attendance, these youths would do a more patriotic service to their country by staying in school and studying.

While some youths on purely patriotic grounds quit school to go to work, most of them do so for very selfish reasons. They want money. Until recently, a leading motive was a car. With that limited by rationing, many youths leaving school to work will lavish money on fine clothes and various sorts of amusement.

The youth who quits school to work would be so much safer morally if he could be induced to save and invest a large part of his earnings in war savings.

SCHOOLS ENCOURAGE SAVING

The public schools have done exceedingly well in stimulating children to buy war saving stamps and bonds but the efforts and good results have been far better in the elementary schools than in the high schools. Nevertheless the older the child at school the more he should be encouraged there and at home to invest in war savings.

Let me entreat my fellow parents who have young children to begin now to cultivate thrift in them and not to spend too much on them for their whims nor give them nearly all they desire.

Looking ahead to Christmas, plan to spend less on film-flams and luxuries and prepare your children to spend less. Among the gifts include war saving stamps and bonds. In most homes this should come first in Christmas shopping.

Public Health . . .

Three Rules for T.B. Treatment

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Chadwick, in The Modern Attack on Tuberculosis, outlines a program for the eradication of tuberculosis as follows: "First, a medical profession interested in the problem and familiar with modern methods of diagnosis and treatment. Next, complete diagnostic X-ray and laboratory facilities freely available to all physicians in a community and to the health department, regardless of the patient's ability to pay. Third, and equally important, a well-organized active health department with complete family records of all cases, and a public health nursing service capable of teaching preventive measures in the home and maintaining effective contact between patient, doctor, and health department."

Remember that during war years the necessity for tuberculosis control increases rather than decreases and the need for funds and for active preventive work is greater than under normal conditions. In Germany the tuberculosis death rate rose from 43 per 100,000 in 1914 to 230 in 1918. In the United States the rate increased from 147 per 100,000 in 1914 to 150 in 1918.

There are good psychologic and economic reasons why tuberculosis control must be active rather than left to the initiative of the individual.

The psychological factor involved is that tuberculosis is an insidious disease which develops very slowly — usually without dramatic symptoms that frighten the patient or make him go to a doctor.

It also notoriously leaves the patient rather cheerful. Every tendency is for the patient to put off an examination for slight ill health such as weakness, gradual loss of weight, chronic cough, pallor, anemia and a little afternoon fever.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. H. M.: How are the body cells and nerves related?

Answer: I presume you really do not want an anatomical answer to your question. I assume that you wish to know what the relation of bodily ills is to mental states. This is very close: the mind always affects the body, whether there is organic or functional disease present, and emotional states or habits of thought can at times create symptoms which often imitate organic disease.

Acquired Tastes . . .

Vital Foods From Many Sources

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The day may come when the home maker can quit worrying about any scarcity and high cost of oranges or tomatoes and give the family jam for Vitamin C.

It is pointed out that synthetic ascorbic acid, which is the scientific name for Vitamin C, could be manufactured at a very low cost and enough added to jam, jelly or any other fruit preserve to make it as rich in Vitamine C as ripe tomatoes.

That wouldn't be any stranger than getting Vitimin C in roses. The English, who have been hard pressed for this vitamin, have discovered that wild rose hips are in excellent source. One day we may be growing roses for food and ordering them from the grocer.

Another glimpse into the nutrition of tomorrow concerns the use of brewer's yeast for its proteins. Autolyzing the yeast would make it taste like meat. Our armed forces are already receiving yeast in peanut butter and tests show that besides being high in Vitamin B1 (thiamine), in niacin, and in Vitamin B2 (riboflavin), the butter is about one-third protein.

But instead of waiting for new foods to be put on the market, we should utilize more of those already available. These scientists claim that civilization has developed too nice a taste for that reason does not, in some respects, enjoy as good nutrition as primitive man.

We discard or convert into dog food the organs of animals and from the nutritional standpoint these are the most valuable part of the meat. We would either have to reeducate our palates, or our food industries would have to help us out with a new process to make the stomach of an animal attractive. But there are many other meat organs on the market that are good eating just as they are. We should eat more balm, kidneys, liver and the like.

There are plenty of fish in our lakes and streams and we can learn to enjoy the ones we have been tossing back, and we can try new varieties such as carp. We haven't even started to tap our supplies of protein. We may get so we like grasshoppers!

Oats can be grown farther North than wheat and are somewhat more nutritious. There used to be a saying that in England oats were fed to horses and in Scotland to humans and someone demanded "and where will you see such horses and such men?"

50 Aussie Fliers Invited Here for New Year's

Billets for 50 Australian student fliers on New Year's leave are to be sought by the Nelson Citizen's Committee in charge of entertainment of visiting airmen. These will be in addition to billets for R.A.F. men from No. 34 S.F.T.S., Medicine Hat who are expected to come for Christmas.

The Committee, meeting Tuesday night, heard a letter from Flt. Lt. C. F. Kearns, formerly of Nelson and now an instructor at the Macleod school, stating the Australians would have five days leave at New Years. Canadians at the school are to have their holidays at Christmas.

In response to this letter the Committee decided to extend an invitation.

Additional billets are also being sought for the men from the old country who will visit Nelson at Christmas. A number of offers have already been made.

MARK'S WIFE

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

She felt her cheeks warm, was immediately embarrassed because of it, and thought for a moment that was why he looked at her so peculiarly. But also instantly her woman's instinct read surprise and approval in his eyes and knew it was because she appeared very different now in her chic frock and hat than she had the night of the carnival.

Her own stock went up and she said, "Nice luncheon, wasn't it?"

"Nice speech," he answered.

This was followed by a little pause in which she murmured, "Thank you."

"Can I give you a lift? My car's at the door."

"Oh, thanks, but it's only three blocks. I . . . . I think I'll walk." She didn't know which would be allier, to ride or to make a situation of it.

"Good idea. I need some exercise," he answered readily. "Besides, I want to talk to you. About Pam."

"Oh, Pam," she said brightly. "Do tell me about her. I miss her."

"She misses you, too, I'm sure."

"Are you really?" she said in the same bright voice, thinking, "Noel Coward wouldn't think much of this dialogue."

"Very sure. She's particularly fond of you . . . Barbara,"—her name slipped out so naturally. Neither noticed it. "I'm troubled about my youngster."

"But why?"

"She writes that she's 'fed to the teeth' with Bar Harbor. It isn't like her to want to come back to a slow little town like this when she could be having a lot of fun elsewhere. Her mother has a big place there, you know."

Didn't Kilcran know that Pamela and Tony were showing all signs of falling in love? Barbara wondered.

"I suppose Pam told you about the . . . er . . . circumstances of her mother bringing her back east last autumn?"

Pamela hadn't, but aBrbara murmured something that might pass for either a yes or no.

"It seems she's eating her heart out for a lad in Sante Fe. Was engaged to him last summer. Her mother didn't think she was old enough, or something."

Barbara said, "She's pretty young."

"Not too young to know what she wants." He was going to say that Claire wasn't much older when she married him but, thinking that Clair obviously hadn't known her own mind, he let it go. "At first I was going to take it lightly, but now I'm beginning to worry a trifle. This wanting to come back here and —as she says—'keep house' for me, is a bad sign. I'm wondering if I shouldn't invite this chap to come east and take a look at him."

"Oh, no, not without asking Pam first," she blurted impulsively. "You might find . . ." Her voice trailed off. She couldn't very well say that Pamela wasn't the kind of a girl who'd be in love with two men at one time. And unless she'd misread all the signs, she could read adoration in Pamela's eyes for Tony. About Tony she was not so sure.

Tom chuckled. "Anyway, I've a surprise for her. Poor little kid, we must have been mighty stern parents. The post office sent up a bunch of letters from Mexico addressed to a Miss Betty Brown, with a note saying Pam'd been picking them up herself. She must have been afraid for us to know she was writing to him. I'm saving them for her."

A bright red flag of danger waved wildly in Barbara's mind. She had an idea that whatever reason Pamela had for getting letters she didn't want her family to know about, it was not because she was afraid to have her family know she was writing love letters. Pam wasn't afraid of anything. And she had reasons for everything she did.

Humdrum Civilian Jobs Essential

BY MARGARET ECKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—The shop girl behind the counter, the waitress juggling heavy trays and rush orders, the telephone girl plugging at a switchboard—each one of them is doing a war job says Mrs. Rex Eaton Director of the Women's Division, National Selective Service.

"We want women for essential war industries and for the uniformed services first, of course," Mrs. Eaton told a Canadian Press reporter today.

"But there are other jobs that simply have to be done. Yes, I know, it isn't glamorous working in a hotel, or in a hospital, or a restaurant or at a noisy switchboard. But the girl who sticks to her humdrum civilian job, if it's essential, is doing as important a war job as she could possibly do."

Women of Canada, Mrs. Eaton thinks, are wonderful. They've given up soft peacetime living and in some cases they've given up their homes for strange, lonely new places.

By Aug. 1 there were 155,000 Canadian women in industry. And that number is greatly increased now, we can't estimate how much," she said. "Six months ago we made a plea for help to the women. The voluntary response was marvellous."

She expressed pride in the women of Florence, N.S., who have gone to the Bras D'Or mine and are working at the bankhead cleaning the coal as it comes out of the pit.

She has a lot of others to be proud of too: women who drive trucks, dig ditches, drive taxis, carry mail, work in sawmills, in shipyards, in gas stations, machine shops, railway roundhouses, aircraft plants, carpenter shops, construction gangs, on farms, lumber camps and scores of other places that never felt the feminine touch before.

Women's Injuries Not Worth So Much as Men's

The vote climaxed one of the most heated debates in Parliament.

Party lines were dissolved as a cross-fire of oratory swept the House, marked by charges that the Government, which sought to turn the question over to a committee, was stalling.

Women are given lower compensations than men by virtue of the differentials in wages.

France Didn't Deserve Laval

Laval, in his first announcement after becoming the dictator of such portion of France as is still nominally under the rule of the "Men of Vichy," states he will never consent to France again having a parliament.

Apparently he envisions France as the No. 1 dependency of a victorious Germany, with himself as Hitler's No. 1 henchman.

The French people are certainly paying for their sins against democracy, the licence of various kinds they took in the name of liberty—including the licence to do as little work for the state as possible; the faith they put in incompetents and traitors; and their leaders' acceptance of the pledges of Hitler.

But they didn't deserve Laval.

There can be few Frenchmen today who have the slightest respect for Laval. He is too blatantly a traitor, added to which he is a degenerate who, even before the war, had an extremely unsavory record both in his public and private affairs. The vast majority of Frenchmen will realize that, under his rule, their case is entirely hopeless.

Beaten and crushed as France is, there are still some sparks of national feeling left. The people as a whole will not resign themselves to permanent serfdom. They have accepted, with what grace is possible, their sad state up to this point, but only because they believed an ultimate restoration of their nation was possible.

With Laval in the saddle, holding the power to make laws and to set aside legal rights at will, even to adjudicate as to life and death, there can be no more illusions as to the possibility of the Nazis ever relaxing their grip. It is patent to everyone that Laval is the appointee of Hitler, and not Petain. His elevation is the final and convincing evidence that the aged marshal has lost all power, and has become a docile tool in the hands of his overlords.

Faced with this fact, the French will see no recourse other than to fight for their freedom. The new situation should rally thousands to the underground revolt organization, and immensely strengthen the force on which we can count for armed cooperation when the crucial moment arrives.

Dakar Comes Over

One of the results of General Eisenhower's acceptance of Admiral Darlan's collaboration is the bloodless accession of Dakar to the cause of the Allies.

The great naval base is now in the hands of the Allies. With this transfer, the whole situation in the Atlantic is changed.

Darlan, historic hater of Britain, and sharer of the infamy of Vichy in the eyes of the Fighting French, appears to be giving value for the contol he is allowed to exercise.

What we all want is to see the French African Empire with us in the fight to drive the Germans and Italians off African soil.

Even the Fighting French would admit that to be one of the most immediate aims in their general objective.

If Darlan can play a highly useful part in bringing that condition about, and contribute to and hasten victory, his help ought not to be ruled out, at this fluid stage of the North African movement.

Interested, Fruitvale—How often does a soldier in Canada get leave or furlough after he has finished his basic training? Is the five days leave granted at Christmas or New Year's in addition to travelling time, or do they have to travel within the five days?

Leaves or furloughs depend a great deal on individual circumstances. One furlough of 14 days is usually granted annually. The five days granted at Christmas and at New Year include travelling time.

A.A.A., Harrop—Would you please tell me where to write to get into the Civil Service?

Application forms may be obtained at Post Offices.

E. T., Castlegar—Where do I apply for birth certificate in Scotland—I was born in Glasgow? Also the cost, please.

Apply Registrar-General, General Register House, Edinburgh, and enclose post office order for three shillings and threepence.

V. G., Trail—Whom could I write regarding an allowance from my husband's pay? He is an American citizen serving with the United States Air Force.

Write the Dependent's Allowance Board, United States Army, Washington, D. C.

F. R. Kimberley—How much should a married man with no dependens, and earning $31 a week, pay in income tax?

The tax would be $3.30 per week, which includes the savings portion, $2.27, repayable after the war.

Reader, Nelson—Could you tell me who plays Baby Snooks' (Fanny Brice) father?

Hanley Stafford.

H. W. S., Burton, has written us the following letter in connection with the answer that we gave to T. E. P., Gray Creek, asking if chipped enamel pans may be made useful again.

"First, buy a card of mendits and insert one and this will last a long time.

The second method. Scrape the pan around the hole and even chip off a little more of the enamel. Brighten the 'tron' base with a file or knife blade on both the outside and inside of the pan. When this is scraped BRIGHT solder in the usual way but on both the inside and the outside of the pan, thus forming a rivet. This will last for years and T.E.P. can use his saucepan until the Huns won't require any more (except asbestos ones) and we can once more get new ones."

I. B. Kimberley—Could you please publish a copy of King George's Declaration of War?

Prime Minister Chamberlain gave the text of and commented on the note sent to Berlin as follows:

"In the communication which I had the honor to make to you on September 1, I informed you, on the instructions of H.M. Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, that unless the German Government was prepared to give H. M. Government satisfactory assurances that the German Government had suspended all aggressive action against Poland and were prepared promptly to withdraw their forces from Polish territory, H. M. Government would, without hesitation, fulfill their obligations to Poland.

"Although the communication was made more than 24 hours ago no reply has been received, and German attacks on Poland have been continued and intensified. I have, accordingly, the honor to inform you that unless, not later than 11 a.m. British Summer time, today, September 3, satisfactory assurances to the above effect have been given by the German Government and have reached H. M. Government in London, a state of war will exist between the two countries as from that hour."

That was the final note. No such undertaking was received by the time stipulated, and, consequently, this country is at war with Germany. I am in a position to inform the House that, according to arrangements made between Britain and French Governments, the French Ambassador in Berlin is at this moment making a similar 'demarche' accompanied by a definite time limit."

Today's Horoscope

Kindness, strong affections, prudence and deliberateness in action are the dominant traits of the person who has a birthday today. He is trustworthy, dependable, the center of many loyal friends, warm-hearted, and gives most of his attention to his family. Business difficulties and reverses await him in the next year. Changes should be avoided if possible. Love or domestic affairs may cause anxieties, but courage, initiative and some good luck will sustain him or her. The child who is born on this date will not have an easy life. Hindrances through bereavement or deception are probable, but determination to overcome all obstacles promise final success.

Words of Wisdom

Empire Industry Revolutionized

(Metal Industries, London)

Much publicity has been given to the tremendous effort that Great Britain, the United States of America and Russia and China, have, and are, putting into the total war; the former two particularly in the production fields and the latter in fighting man-power, but there is a tendency to overlook the magnificent supporting energy that is being given by the smaller partners or the United Nations' front.

Our Dominions and Colonies have gone all out in developing existing sources of supply of materials and products and finding new ones. When it is reflected that the production of war material was a minor consideration in the economic life of these countries overseas, one canont but be proud of their achievements since the outbreak of war.—

There has been an industrial revolution throughout the British Commonwealth of Nations. From Australia we have had increasing supplies of high-grade steel, copper and zinc, as well as huge quantities of war goods manufactured from these metals.

Canada poured out its wealth of zinc, nickel, aluminum, silver, magnesium and other products, and has promised to break further records in the supply of those two essential metals—aluminum and magnesium—and of the alloys and products manufactured from them.

New Zealand has rapidly got going in the exploitation of its mineral resources, hitherto undeveloped, in particular scheelite, manganese and tin.

South Africa is producing practically all the armaments and munitions required by its own men in the field, and in addition has increased its production of copper, as well as of one of the strongest sinews of war—gold.

India has greatly developed its munitions industries, and particularly its steel industry.

Circumstances do not permit of a detailed survey or the mention of any precise figures, but when the time comes for the full story to be told, the unanimous summing up will be that the British Empire Overseas has courageously and without stint carried out the stupendous job it set itself.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

We like the Raymond idea for getting the man for the farm job, and the farm job for the man and machine. Raymond is showing the way for all South Alberta communities which are anxious to see the harvest completed.

"Raymond has set up a clearing house. Men available for work register. Farmers needing men register. The clearing house brings men and jobs together. The men available come mostly from the town where business men and their staffs sign up to undertake harvest work in time they can spare. But Raymond's plan goes farther than that. When a man finishes a harvest job or has a machine which has finished its job he registers man or machine or both, and the clearing house looks down its list of unfinished jobs to see where spare man-machine power can be used to best advantage.

It is going to require some organization in every village and town to undertake some such scheme if we are to save the big crop which may play such an important part in winning the war. Raymond has set a good example. —Lethbridge Herald.

CUTTING TRAFFIC FATALITIES

If the number of automobiles in use falls off by one-third, if total mileage travelled drops by 50 per cent, and with a 35-mile an hour speed restriction, one might think that motor fatalities would decline almost to the vanishing point. But this will not occur, according to experts in the field of traffic safety. Other factors will counter-balance these in large degree. Among them are the progressively poorer mechanical conditions of the cars remaining on the road, migration of war workers into areas with which they are unfamiliar, and fewer enforcement officers in many localities.—Houston Texas, Chronicle.

Football Costs Mandel $100 a Minute

By WATSON SPOELSTRA
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, Nov. 25 (AP)—At the very stiff rate of $100 a minute, owner Fred L. Mandel Jr., of Detroit Lions might expect records, but not the kind he is getting.

Mandel's toothless entry in the National Football League has dropped 10 straight games without victory, and No. 11 is coming up Sunday just as sure as Sammy Baugh and the Washington Redskins will be on hand to administer it. League records show seven successive defeats for Dayton in 1928 but 11—never.

Mandel, 34-year-old member of a wealthy Chicago mercantile family, has invested a third of a million dollars in pro football in Detroit in three years, and thus far the returns are nine victories, 21 defeats, and two ties.

The franchise cost Mandel a cool $225,000 in 1940. The first season he dropped a big wad of money, but last year just about broke even. His current losses lie between $50,000 and $75,000 which is very rough indeed. For 660 minutes of football, that's probably the highest price on record for goose eggs.

Mandel admits privately that he doesn't think there'll be pro football next year or any other year for the war's duration. The Lions alone have over 30 players in the service now, with others to follow when the season is over. Moreover, there's practically no source for replacements.

Indians' Boss Thinks Fans Against Baseball

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25 (AP.) — President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians expressed doubt today that fans want wartime baseball and declared that he "would rather not open" the ball park next Spring if he thought the "wolves" would ride his players for not being in the military service.

"I would rather not open the ball park next Spring than go out there and hear the wolves yelling, 'why aren't you in the army, you big lug.'" Bradley asserted.

"The members of the Indians will have a very good reason for not being in the army," he added. "They'll have wives and children to support.

"But I want to know whether the public will accept that as a valid reason."

He said he wanted "an expression from the fans."

"For my part, I don't want any men on my club who aren't heads of families."

This policy would eliminate several valuable Indian players including Lee Fleming, Chubby Dean and Harry Eisenstat — all married but without children.

Big Horse Entry Forces Split in South Program

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25 (AP)—The local gentry who backed Racing's Comeback at the Fair Grounds hope there's a good omen in the fact that so many horses were entered for the opening day Thanksgiving Handicap tomorrow that the race was split and two handicaps will be run.

Seven horses were entered in each division of the $1,200 added event, a 5½-furlong feature of the opening eight-race card.

More than 800 horses are at the rejuvenated Fair Grounds track, with another 400 or more en route.

Wet or dry snow we have an answer, and parowax did its share to make the skiing worth while on Sunday. A secondary attraction was one man. We won't always be able to adjust your own harness, girls.

Goalie Franks to Replace Steve Buzinski

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (CP)—Manager Lester Patrick, whose New York Rangers are in the National Hockey League cellar, today announced the purchase on option of Goalie Jimmy Franks from the Detroit Red Wings system.

The 28-year-old Franks, netminder for the Champion Omaha Knights of the defunct American Hockey Association last season, probably will replace Steve Buzinski in the Ranger goal against Chicago Black Hawks at Chicago tomorrow night, Patrick said.

The Rangers have won but two games, lost six and tied one this season and Buzinski, attempting to make the jump from amateur to N.H.L. ranks in one season, has allowed 55 goals in the nine games.

Franks is a native of Melville, Sask., and played amateur last for Port Arthur Mintos in 1935-36. He has been with Pittsburgh Hornets, Indianapolis and Omaha since. He has played part of one N.H.L. game, replacing Norm Smith in the Detroit goal when Smith was injured during a Stanley Cup playoff against Montreal Canadiens in 1937.

Rovers Boost Lead in East League

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25 (AP.)—New York Rovers boosted their Eastern United States Hockey League lead to four points tonight by defeating the second-place Philadelphia Falcons, 5-1.

Unable to score in the first 19 minutes of the opening period, the Rovers took the lead when Dave Livingstone beat Goalie Maurice Corteau on a pass from Warwick at 19:20. They added two more tallies in the second period, and ran the count to 5-0 before the home team scored with three minutes to go in the final period.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 25 (AP)—Big Ralph Guldahl hopes to pocket part of the $5000 purse for the Miami open tournament next week, then he's chucking golf in favor of war work.

NEW YORK (CP)—Paul Governali, veteran triple-threat halfback is known as "The Arm" at Columbia University, Eastern grid enthusiasts tab him as U. S. best passer. Figures show he has gained more yardage through the air than any other college pitcher—1197 yards in seven games, 73 completions out of 136 attempts—up to Nov. 13. Sixteen of Columbia's 23 touchdowns have come on his passes.

TORONTO (CP)—Among players on Marty Burke's Calgary Stampeders last season who now are on active service are Art Rice-Jones, goalkeeper, Tony Desmarias, Les Thirwell and Dunc Grant, forwards. These four are in the Army. Chuck Millman, defenceman, and Joe Shannon forward, are in the Navy, and Doug French is in the Air Force.

Says Youngsters Showing Way in Big League

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP)— This is Navy Week, and, appropriately Jack Singer, Calgary promoter, announces a return welterweight fight Dec. 4 between Calgary's Pte. Al Lust, and Eddie Marcus of Los Angeles with all proceeds going to the Navy League of Canada. When Lust decisioned Marcus in Calgary last Oct. 16 net proceeds of $1036 were turned over to the Milk for Britain fund. This time the merchant navy figures to benefit by more because the Navy League executive has already raised $1200 in contributions to be deducted from expenses of the show. Lust returned from Montreal where he lost to Lac. Dave Castilloux in a Canadian title bout, is taking a special course at Currie Barracks, Calgary, but training for the Marcus fight won't interfere with his army duties.

THE EXPERT SAYS:

Fred (Peterborough Examiner) Craig: "The manner in which young hockey players, some of them not out of their teens, have been stealing the show in NHL games should be giving professional magnates something to think about. . . . In recent years the newspaper and radio press agents of pro hockey have glorified the NHL brand as something miles better than the ordinary senior and junior "A" variety. It will be difficult to keep selling the professional game on that basis if kids continue to step out of junior "B" teams and make good at 17 or 18 years of age."

Fleming Keeps in Touch Sports

Lac. Donald Fleming, former Nelson Daily News sports writer now in the R.C.A.F., continues to keep in touch with sports and Nelson. In a letter to his father, Ald. Ross Fleming, he states:

"George Boothman who played defence for Nelson in 1940-41 and was with Sidney Millionaires last Winter, is trying out with Toronto Maple Leafs. Both he and Sweeney Schriner are from Calgary and Schriner got him a tryout. Boothman wired the Leafs something like this:

'Schriner told me to tell you about myself. I scored 20 points on defence last season. Am six feet tall, have been rejected by the military boards for everything except housemaid's knee and arthritis toes. But I am in perfect health and always feel good.'

'Also Bill Scuby got a bid to play goal from Montreal Canadiens this Winter when he was down East with N. W. Salmonbellies in the lacrosse playoffs. Goaltender problem in the N.H.L. is acute this year with military calls and so on.'"

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.,
Associated Press Sport Writer

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)— If, as we have been arguing, the current hockey season will give an indication of the wartime fate of other sports, you can stop worrying about 'em and send your mind off on a long vacation. . . There's a precedent in the meeting of the National Hockey League governors the other day. . . . The hockey men know that they can't get any more players from Canada to play in the U. S. but when they started to cut the player limit to give the weaker clubs a break, they compromised on a reduction of one. . . . The clubs that have more than 14 besides a goalie now will be able to keep that extra man, even though they can't use him in every game, instead of selling off their surplus.

SPORTSMENTION

A new story of why the Dodgers fired Chuck Dressen is that Chucg has been outspoken about being anything but fond of branch rickey. . . The idea of having midshipmen substitute for the absent army cheering section at the Army-Navy game isn't exactly new in military circles. For years West Point and Canada's Royal Military College have furnished rooters for the visiting team in their hockey series. . . . The fight mob has decided that Henry Armstrong will have trouble making the lightweight limit again so now it looks as if Henry's return to Madison Square Garden will be against Bummy Davis late in January.

Giants Badly Need Hurler and Outfielder

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — Give New York Giants an outfielder who can hit .300, a pitcher who can win 20 games and guarantee that Sid Gordon will come through at third base and they'll be a contender for the 1943 National League pennant—providing Uncle Sam doesn't exact too great a toll.

That is the way the situation at the Polo Grounds was lined up today by Manager Mel Ott, who dropped in town to talk over matters with his boss, Horace Stoneham, before attending the Major-Minor League meetings in Chicago early next month.

"But can you tell me where we are going to get such a hitter or pitcher?" Ott asked of his interviewers. "Actually, I don't look for much trading at Chicago."

"As for Gordon," continued Ott, "he's our third baseman now that Bill Werber has quit baseball. If he doesn't come through, I don't know what we'll do."

"We have 37 players on our reserve list who, at the last report, were either in 3-A or other deferred classifications," said Mel. "But that includes Hal Schumacher, who has applied for a commission in the Navy; Vick Bradford, rookie outfielder who has enlisted at Jacksonville Naval Air Station, and pitcher, Steve Koslo, who we understand has been called up for reexamination. Eighteen of the group are pitchers."

Cornwall Regains Top Place in Quebec League

MONTREAL, Nov. 25 (CP) — Cornwall Army moved back into top place in the Quebec Senior Hockey League tonight when they eked out a 1-0 decision over Montreal Canadiens, while Montreal RCAF trounced Montreal Royals 5-1 in the nightcap.

To win put the Cornwall one point up on the idle Ottawa Commandos. Air Force moved up to fifth place, ahead of Royals and Canadiens who dropped down to joint occupancy of the cellar.

Horton Smith Joins Army Air Force

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 25 — (AP.) — Horton Smith, 34, professional golfer, has enlisted in the army air forces.

When he was not retained by the Pinehurst, N. C., club this season, Smith returned to his Springfield home.

Says Sportsmen Want Phils Franchise

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25 (AP) — The Baltimore Sun said today that several groups of sportsmen in the city are seeking to buy the National League franchise of the Philadelphia Phils.

One group headed by Sterling Wilson Klein has formulated tentative plans to raise money by a subscription campaign to purchase the Phil's franchise. Klein and others of the group will meet Mayor Howard W. Jackson Saturday to discuss ways of furthering the campaign.

The Sun said, however, that another group interested in moving the franchise to Baltimore involved out of town people of national repute. Their identity was not disclosed.

The paper added that no such sale could be consummated before an agreement had been reached with Mrs. Jack Dunn, owner of the Baltimore Orioles of the International League.

The National League about two weeks ago recommended the sale of the Phils' franchise.

NEWS TO NUGENT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25 (AP)—"I've never heard anything about it and don't recognize any of the names commented Gerald Nugent, President of the Phils, when informed of a Baltimore report that negotiations are pending for sale of the Phils franchise.

"As far as I know, there's nothing to it," he said.

Nugent said he is going ahead in plans to operate the Phils here in 1943.

Army Favored to Win From Middies

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 25 (AP) —Navy's footballers went into hiding today, along about the time the bookmakers in these parts established Army's well-drilled machine a 2 to 5 favorite in Saturday's transplanted Service game.

Now this is not to say only that Coach Billick Wheichel wanted secret practice—he wasn't kidding. You had as much chance of taking a peek at the Middies at work as you had of getting samples from the Mint.

The Naval Academy announced Saturday's probable starting lineups, showing a surprisingly close statistical set-up between the two teams. Navy had a slight edge in over-all weight, with an average of 185¼ ponds per man to 183½. But Army's sturdy forces had the budge where it counted—down the line, with an average of 193½ to the Middies' 183½.

The man on the street here was hardly worked up past the yawning stage over the game. In fact, unofficial communiques from the tunstile headquarters indicated there might not even be a sell-out of all the 20,000 seats in Thompson Stadium when the gun goes off Saturday. This is hardly maintaining the proud Service tussle, that usually plays to 100,000.

Hurricanes Batter Out 24-0 Victory Over Balmy Beach to Gain Finals

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian rPess Staff Writer

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP.) — The R.C.A.F. precision squad didn't attend today's Ontario Rugby Football Union final, but R.C.A.F. Hurricanes were precision itself as they shelled Toronto Balmy Beach into stunning 24-0 submission to enter the Eastern finals against the Ottawa City League titists, Uplands R.C.A.F.

Playing right back to the form that brought them eight victories in 10 O. R. F. U. games this season, Hurricanes struck for three converted touchdowns, a placement, a safety touch and a single to gain the Eastern final bracket against Uplands here Saturday and a possible shot against Winnipeg R.C.A.F.-Bombers in the Dominion final at Toronto Dec. 5.

The hero, if one had to be chosen from the starry air force cast, was Don Crowe, former star halfback for the disbanded Peterborough Orfuns. Crowe took a touchdown pass from Bill Stukus early in the second quarter and brought 7500 fans at Varsity Stadium to their feet by completing a similar play, this time from Charlie Prince, for the final Hurricane touchdown. Crowe converted both touchdowns.

Beaches, winners of seven of their 10 league starts but 40-6 and 20-10 victims in their previous meetings with Hurricanes, were outgunned defensively and offensively. Bobby Porter and Sammy Sward were outdistanced in the kicking exchanges by Fred Kilpeck and the airmen received sharper forward passing from Stukus and Jack Parry than Porter or Joe Bailey provided for Beaches.

Parry placed the old gold and blue on the defensive on the third play of the game, snatching a wild alteral from Thompson and racing 75 yards to the Beach 11. Thompson's placement attempt failed but on the secon dtry several plays later the kick was good for three points. Stukus and Crowe clicked for the first touchdown in the second quarter. Crowe accepting a 42-yard flip to move play to the Beach 10 and taking a touchdown pass on the next play.

The air force dynamite didn't explode again until the third quarter when Jake Gaudaur intercepted a forward by Bailey at his own 45 and sprinted 65 yards for the touchdown, shaking off two tacklers with a straight-arm in the last 15 yards of his brilliant drive. Thompson converted.

Kilpek's single, a safety touch scored when a bad Beach snapout rolled to the deadline, and Crowe's converted touchdown completed the scoring in the fourth quarter.

Stangherlin Leads Dominoes in Ladies 5-Pin Win

Spitfires and Black Kats both hit the score board for wins. The Spitfires knocked out the Greyhounds, 1341-1111; while the Kats triumphed over the Hurricanes 1047-946.

Ottawa's Kicking Halfback to Play Saturday

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 (CP) — Ottawa's football hopes for the Eastern Canada senior final with RCAF Hurricanes, at Toronto Saturday soared tonight with the announcement that Buddy Hellyer, kicking halfback with the City champions representing the RCAF, would be able to play.

Hellyer, feeling no after-effects of the minor concussion he received in the local final with Rough Riders last Saturday, turned out for practice today. Coach Dave Sprague said Thain Simon, Ottawa backfielder would also be ready for the final.

Simon was bothered by a knee injury.

Big Tony Golab will carry a major part of the load.

WHAT SUIT IS BIDDABLE?

SKILLFUL showing of four-card suit lengths is the soul of fine bidding, especially four-card majors. Some of the best players won't show a four-card major on the first round of bidding, but they most certainly do it later when they have the hands that justify it. You will find the very best of them frequently bidding such suits which are headed by any card as good as the jack, when they have partners who won't support them with only three cards. Thus they score many otherwise impossible games.

North: ♠ J 4 ♥ J 10 9 ♦ A 9 7 ♣ J 9 8 3 2

West: ♠ K 9 5 2 ♥ K 6 ♦ Q J 8 6 ♣ Q 10 4

East: ♠ A 7 6 2 ♥ Q 8 7 5 2 ♦ 4 ♣ A K 7

South: ♠ Q 10 8 ♥ A 4 3 ♦ K 10 5 3 2 ♣ 6 5

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 Pass	1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
2 Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
3 Pass	1 ♥	Pass	1 NT
Pass	2 ♥	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 NT

Only two pairs out of nine tables got into 4-Spades on this deal in a social duplicate, their bidding being as under 1 and 2 above. In the first case East was anxious to show his exact relative suit lengths in the two majors. In the second East wanted to make it cheap to bid hearts second instead of showing great strength with a reverse, as he would have to do if West answered hearts with 1-No Trump. Those two pairs, of course, made spade games, losing one trick in each suit except clubs.

The number 3 bidding is only one of various sequences by pairs which refused to bid such spade suits as East and West held. They all played at 3-No Trumps, and all were set, the defenders usually taking two hearts, two diamonds and a spade.

If you are unwilling to bid a four-card suit containing a single honor, and you have a partner who feels the same way about it, then reconcile yourself to never making any of the games like this one, which are quite frequently produced by the shuffle and deal.

Sidney Norman Informed of Brother's Death

Sidney Norman has received cable advice of the death of his older brother, Dr. George Notman, at his home, Worrin Road, Shenfield, Essex, England, on November 17.

Dr. Norman began his medical career as House Surgeon of Westminster Hospital, London, and later was in practice for many years at Buckhurst Hill, near London.

During the First Great War he was a captain in the Royal Army Medical Corps and since his retirement from active general practice a few years ago has been engaged in consulting work for the War Department in hospitalization of the wounded in the present war. His practice at Buckhurst Hill was turned over to his son, Dr. Anthony Norman, who is now also attached to the Royal Army Medical Corps.

This is the second death in the family this year, the younger brother, Frank Meade Norman, a captain in the Third Entrenching Battalion in the First Great War, having died in April.

The remaining member of the immediate family in England is a sister, Mrs. E. K. Moy of Cheltenham, who visited her relatives in Spokane, Wash., on two occasions some years ago and spent over a year with her brother Sidney at the Vancouver Hotel, Vancouver, seven years ago.

Fighters Down Hun Transport Off Tunisia

LONDON, Nov. 26 (CP)—A Reuters dispatch said today that a mammoth German transport seaplane, capable of carrying up to 80 fully equipped soldiers, was shot into the sea yesterday off the Eastern coast of Tunisia by R.A.F. long-range fighters from Malta.

The dispatch called the craft a Blohm and Voss 222—apparently a huge new type by the makers of flying boats which the Nazis used experimentally for flights across the Atlantic before the war.

Three R.A.F. fighters sighted it North of Linosa Island, midway between Tunisia and Sicily, flying Northward and unescorted, presumably returning to Sicily after having landed enemy reinforcements in Tunisia.

No one was seen to escape as the plane crashed into the water.

Later, when fighter planes from Malta shot down a JU-52 German transport plane in the same area, troops were seen struggling in the water. The JU-52 also was unescorted. A Dornier 24, escorted by three ME-109's was intercepted between Tunisia and Sicily and damaged.

Men Demand Big Pay Shipyard Jobs

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)— C. M. Cole, Senior Selective Service officer here, said today that Vancouver's Labor market is being flooded with manual laborers arriving daily from the prairies, lured by hopes of "big-pay shipyard jobs."

"Every last one of those men is looking for a job in local shipyards and they don't want anything else," Cole said. When they were offered anything else "they turn their backs on us and laugh, particularly if the job is out of town," he said.

Cole said there were plenty of jobs "but we can't fill them with men who insist on choosing their own berths at their own wages."

MANPOWER CZAR NOT NEEDED SAYS MITCHELL

MONTREAL, Nov. 25 (AP)—Labor Minister Mitchell said in an address here today "there is no manpower czar in England. We certainly don't want one in Canada."

Speaking at a service club luncheon he made only a brief reference to the resignation of Elliott M. Little, as Director of National Selective Service.

"We will continue to work out our manpower program," he said, "in a common sense way, just as they did in England."

Pleads Guilty to Accepting Bribe in Recruit Case

QUEBEC, Nov. 25 (CP) — Pte. Paul-Henri Cloutier of Charlesburg, Que., member of the district recruiting office here, pleaded guilty today before an open court martial to a charge of accepting money from various persons "in relation to the performance of his military duties."

Cloutier was the first to be tried of five officers and four other ranks facing charges which arise from "irregularities" in military medical examinations here.

As the court martial opened, the names of the accused were read and they were asked whether they had any objection to the members of the tribunal presided over by Brig. J. A. Leclaire, officer commanding the 15th infantry brigade.

The drill hall, of substantial size, was almost filled with spectators as the accused marched into the room and faced the members of the court martial. When they offered no objection to the tribunal, its members were sworn in.

Accused with Cloutier were the following:

Maj. Joseph Eugene Guimont, 34, of Pont-Rouge, Que., Maj. Ludovic Lavallee, 52, of Neuville, Que., Capt. Georges Etienne Gadbois, 26, of Quebec, Capt. Georges Grondin, 43, of Quebec, member of the House of Commons for Portneuf and Quebec district organizer for the "bloc populaire Canadien" movement.

Pte. Georges Fontin, 24, Pte. Louis Hamel, 25, and Pte. Leopold Houde, 35, all of Quebec.

All were dressed in army uniform with the exception of Lieut. Gauthier.

The men are being tried separately, with Pte. Hamel scheduled to follow Pte. Cloutier.

The verdict of the court will not be announced until after it has been submitted to Maj.-Gen. H.F.G. Letson, Adjutant-General, at Ottawa. If the proof does not justify the sentence, he holds the right to veto the court's verdict.

Only 15 Per Cent of Applications for Export Permits Approved

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—National Selective Service officials said today they have approved only 18 per cent of the 400 applications for labor exit permits received since Oct. 20 when, by order-in-council, permits were made necessary for Canadians leaving the country to work elsewhere.

Among the 85 percent refused permits were a number of skilled workers who were considered needed for war work in Canada. They included doctors, nurses and other professional and technical men and women.

The 18 per cent who were granted permits included a few men and women who wanted to join their families outside Canada, some key men and workmen needed in the production of war materials outside the country, girls abroad to be married, and students completing courses in Universities outside Canada.

The 400 figure did not include a number of persons like government officials, persons in ill-health and others who are exempt from the regulations. It also did not include several hundred lumber workers who wanted to work in the New England woods during the Winter but who were required at home.

In a number of cases, officials said, persons have completed arrangements to leave Canada and have been stopped at the border because they had failed to obtain labor exit permits.

Japs Leave Bases Open to American Attack

By REILLY O'SULLIVAN

Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE U. S. AIR FORCES IN CHINA, Nov. 23 (Delayed), (AP) —American bombers, accompanied by the largest fighter escorts yet seen in the China theatre, subjected two of Japan's main air bases in South China to punishing attacks today without drawing opposition from a single enemy plane.

An airport on the Island of Sanchu 72 miles South of Canton, was raided in the morning and installations on the Tienho airfield at Canton were destroyed in the afternoon.

They handed it back two for one for the ineffective pre-dawn enemy raid on the Kwangsi airdrome in which two of three Japanese bombers were shot out of the sky and the third was possibly destroyed.

Three hangers believed filled with Japanese planes, a barracks and a large workshop area at the Sanchu airport received direct hits in the morning raid. Five tons of bombs were dropped on the field, Japan's principal South China reserve base and airplane repair and storage centre. Fires were started and oil supplies were believed set ablaze.

A string of bombs exploded on a runway as three enemy planes were taking off. One was demolished before getting off the ground. Fighters attacked the others probably damaging one.

Suggests "Something Smelly" About Getting Canada to Lift War Embargo Against Log Exports to U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Senator Mon C. Wallgren (Dem-Washington) contended at a Senatorial Lumber inquiry today there was "something smelly" about War Production Board deals in getting Canada to lift a war embargo against exportation of logs into the United States.

Wallgren made his statement during questioning of William B. Greeley, Seattle, Manager of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, who asserted the negotiations had been "well and capably handled" by W.P.B. Lumber Coordinator Ben Alexander.

Greeley warned that those not knowing the "full picture" of the Canadian negotiations would "do well" to restrain their comments on "these international matters."

He obviously referred to a telegram filed with the committee yesterday in which T. R. Robinson, plywood manufacturer of Everett, Wash., complained about the Canadian "embargo" and suggested replacement of Alexander by some one "friendly" to lumber and "not its chief competitor."

Greeley said he had been in close touch with the Canadian situation for a year and a half, and as a member of W.P.B. Lumber Advisory Committee he was convinced that W.P.B. and War Procurement Agencies have "done an excellent job" to meet requirements.

Senator Wallgren told Greeley the lumber interests in the Pacific Northwest were in fear they might have to shut down unless negotiations to lift the embargo were speeded up.

"They feel Mr. Alexander is one of their competitors and has not been energetic enough in obtaining release of the Canadian logs,' Wallgren declared.

He added "there's something smelly about the whole thing" and "if the people of Canada knew all the facts as to the need for the logs, they would not be held up."

Wallgren also renewed a plea that the War Production Board speed negotiations with Canadian officials looking to early lifting of an Canadian embargo against exportation of logs into the Northwest.

"If we could get these restrictions lifted, it would ease the lumber production problem of the Northwest," Wallgren said.

Speakers Debate Religious Faith Baptist Church

Following a week of successful services in the Cranbrook Baptist Church, Rev. Herbert Stovell of the Nelson Baptist Church and Rev. Frank Patch of the Cranbrook Baptist Church, are conducting services each evening of this week in the First Baptist Church here. Questions from the audience are numerous.

Mr. Stovell, in analyzing religious faith on Monday night, declared that worship creed, moral conduct and theology were all products of the Christian religion, but religion in its essence was fellowship with God.

Pleading for a saner interpretation of Scripture, he stated Tuesday night that the writings of Scripture were primarily intended for the day in which they were written, and should be related to their background for a correct interpretation. "Faith and conduct based on Scripture," said the speaker, "must be related to the mind of Jesus. His Spirit is our standard for belief and practice."

Mr. Patch, dealing with the general topic of the Church in the Bible, the Old Testament contained the roots of the Church of the present-day. "Jesus Christ established no Church in His day, "Mr. Patch declared, "but we find in his deeds and teachings a clear basis for a body of believers, separate from the world and organized to carry out His divine teachings and commission.

Meetings continue until Friday night.

Rossland Rehabilitation Committee Envisions a Civic Centre; Proposes Revival of Rink Fund

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 25—At a meeting of the Rossland Rehabilitation Committee Tuesday night, a motion was passed recommending that the Golden City Club revive the rink fund. At present a fund of $3750.00 is invested by the Golden City Club in Victory Bonds. This was collected for the rink fund from sweepstake percentage up to about December, 1939, the sweepstakes being stopped at that time.

It was the feeling that efforts should be made now to raise a substantial sum for a civic centre for Rossland, as post-war reconstruction work, in the meantime the fund to be invested in Victory Bonds, and Victory Bonds to be given as prizes in the event of sweepstakes again being held.

Chairman J. R. Corner was very emphatic in stating that something must be done to boost Rossland and make it an attractive residential city; otherwise it would not survive. People would not continue to pay high taxes with no more attractions offered than at present. With proper modern facilities, Rossland could be one of the finest residential cities in the West, he claimed.

Several of the members praised Nelson's Civic Centre, but stated that Rossland would not need as pretentious a structure.

It would be necessary for the local centre to be self-liquidating, stated Mr. Corner.

Ald. F. M. Ethridge thought a Civic Centre should be of subordinate importance to such improvements as paved streets, cement sidewalks, and proper sewage system. These necessities, he felt, should come first.

TAKE IN C. M. & S.

Edward Daly, after praising the Nelson centre, thought the Rossland centre should be a three way proposition, with the responsibilities divided between the citizens, the city, and the Company which employed the majority of the residents of the town.

After the war, it was pointed out by Fred Barlee, a great deal of leisure could be expected, and he felt such a Civic Centre would be of inestimable value.

William Pollock, whose subject on the committee is "Sports", was asked to find out how the curlers would welcome the idea of the rink fund being revived.

Ald. William Cunningham consented to prepare a brief dealing with the "ridiculous present set-up regarding the widow's pension." A radical change was needed, he held, cutting off the allowance for children when they attained the age of 16 years being more than unjust.

INDUSTRIAL MOTHERS

A great deal of discussion ensued following Mrs. R. W. Haggen's announcement that the committee comprised of Mayor J. E. Gordon, F. M. Ethridge and herself had not acted regarding the resolution that was to have been forwarded to Ottawa to the Director of National Selective Service regarding the children of mothers in industry. Mrs. Haggen stated that during the month since the last meeting, it had not been convenient for all three of the committee to meet.

Some of the members felt that the matter should be dropped as the City and Parent-Teacher Association seemed better able to cope with it.

Chairman Corner stated he had been told that a Provincial Welfare Officer had been appointed, and that the district welfare worker, Miss Madge York, was working with the local association on this matter.

It was finally decided that the same committee should draw up a resolution suggesting that the Provincial Government investigate the scheme used by the British Government, to insure the well-being of the future generation.

A. F. Snowball, whose subject is "Education", said he would prepare a brief for the next meeting, in January.

IDEALS FOR YOUTH

A. F. G. Drake, whose subject covers "Youth Training," stressed the importance, not of a League of Nations, not a Union of Nations, but the application of the Atlantic Charter, if another war in 10 or 15 years time was to be avoided. He said all racial superiority bunk must be avoided; the Germans were not the only ones with a Herrenvolk complex; Canadians still sang "Land of Hope and Glory", with gusto, with its smug line, "God has made thee mighty, make thee mightier yet." Humanity and peace, stated Mr. Drake, were much more important than nationalism.

ADULT EDUCATION

Mrs. George Benzies presented a paper on "Adult Education" a lively discussion period followed. It was shown that practically every subject which the committee expects to cover will depend largely on adult education, for without the suport of the general public, little can be accomplished, Mrs. Benzies said. The people of Rossland must study the needs of Rossland, not weakly imitate schemes which have succeeded in other countries.

Mrs. Benzies emphasized the need for the individual members of society to read, think, and discuss timely matters, for it was necessary for this generation to lay the foundation upon which the new generation, in turn would build a new world.

The War News

Evidence continues to accumulate that the twin-jawed Russian counter offensive in the Don Bend caught Hitler as much by surprise in its scope, power and direction as the Anglo-American doubleheaded attack in Africa although his failure to foresee it remains a mystery.

It speaks volumnes for Red army staff skill, inasmuch as weeks of preparation under the eyes of Nazi scouts must have been required to mount such powerful blows. There is little cover available on the barren, windy Russian Steppes to conceal mass troop and supply movements from enemy observation.

It is possible that the Nazi High Command already had determined to lift the siege of Stalingrad and withdraw to Winter lines before the Allied offensive in Affica or the Russian flanking squeeze play took shape. It would take time and meticulous management to effect a retirement from so deep a pocket as the Stalingrad Salient. Not only men but all manner of heavy army impediments would have to be moved back, without prematurely revealing the strategy to the enemy.

Engrossed by preparations for so dangerous an undertaking, the Nazi field command might have failed to give sufficient attention to reported Russian troop movements on the flanks of the great Volga triangle. From the hour of his order to attack Russia, Hitler and the generals on whom he has most heavily relied have been guilty of a cardinal military crime. They have, by Hitler's admission, repeatedly underestimated the foe—his morale, military skill and resources.

That they have now repeated that unforgivable blunder is obvious if Russian claims of continuing deep advances on both flanks of the dwindling Stalingrad Salient have any basis in fact. That they have, Berlin has officially admitted.

While it is not definitely established that Hitler is on the retreat in Russia, it seems clear that Russian designers of the trap think he is. They are turning the double-play flanking squeeze into a triple-play affair. Inching attacks by the Stalingrad garrison itself at the apex of the Salient have that look. They are primarily designed to hamper a Nazi get-away from the depths of the trap before its mouth snaps shut in the rear.

Another factor leading up to the Nazi predicament in the Stalingrad pocket must have been hasty withdrawal of aircraft to meet the peril of the Anglo-American drives in Africa. By every indication, that transfer of planes was compelled by initial British successes against Rommel in Egypt even before Eisenhower's Anglo-American command put in its surprise appearance in French Africa. The very stress laid by Berlin on "waves" of planes now striking in Russia to halt the Red drives is suspicious. Russian accounts do not confirm it and it probably is largely a Nazi propaganda device to ease public tension in Germany.

For there can be no question that not only loss of all Africa but of any appreciable control over Mediterranean communication lines is threatening the Axis. What the result would be on already shaky Italian war morale can only be conjectured, but there is ample evidence that Berlin has no illusions on the point. It knows the danger of an Italian internal collapse and is pouring agents into distressed Italy in an effort to avert it.

It requires no seventh son of a Seventh son to foresee that if Hitler loses not only his grip on Stalingrad, but an army and its gear in that Russian trap, nothing he could say could keep such a major defeat from having its full psychological effect on a German populace that had been promised nothing but victory.

Third Car Rubber Scrap Ready to Ship Today

A third car of scrap rubber for war use will be ready for shipment to Montreal by the Nelson Red Cross Salvage Committee Thursday afternoon. Loading of the car was about completed Wednesday, and the work will continue this morning.

Space will be available for further contribution of rubber, and citizens having scrap on hand have been asked to advise Chairman J. H. Aylwin this morning so that it can be picked up. A truck was sent out to Thrums to bring in a load of tires collected by residents there.

While previous cars have been shipped to Toronto, this carload will go to Montreal. The car is being loaded by City employees.

A permit for the shipment of another car of mixed scrap to Vancouver within the next 15 days has been received. Salvage workers will turn their attention to this collection, and non-ferrous metals, brass, aluminum, bronze, copper, lead, batteries, rags and bottles will principally be required. About half a car of mixed scrap is available at Creston, and this will be combined with the Nelson collection for shipment.

W. T. Heins of Kinnaird Critically Injured as Car Plunges Off Bridge on Trail-Castlegar Road

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 25—William T. Heins, resident and employee of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada Ltd., was in a critical condition in the Trail-Tadanac Hospital tonight as a result of an accident on the Castlegar road Tuesday night. Mr. Heins was suffering severe head injuries as well as bruises and shock. His car, in which he was travelling alone toward Castlegar, plunged through the railing of Murphy Creek bridge and dropped 36 or 40 feet to the creek bed, turning completely over and landing on its wheels in the creek.

George Lebreton was the first person at the scene of the accident. Shortly after 9:30 p.m., he was driving alone towards Castlegar when he saw a section of the Murphy Creek bridge had been smashed away. Stopping his car he saw that there was a machine in the creek bed. He called down and heard groans from the smashed automobile. Lebreton clambered down the steep banks to find the doors of the car, a coupe, were jammed.

Another car headed toward Trail had come up and was dispatched to Crockettville and from there the Provincial Police were notified. Constable D. C. Georgeson of the Highway Patrol, was there within 15 minutes. He brought a crew of men from Trail.

Lebreton had managed to pry open a door and wrapped Mr. Heins in a blanket. The rescue crew were able to get him out of the car. It took 12 men to carry the stretcher up the steep bank. Mr. Heins was then rushed to hospital in the patrol car.

Mr. Lebreton said that the tracks of Hein's car were the only ones visible on the frost-covered bridge and that it appeared the car had skidded on the bridge and plunged through the guard rail.

Employed as a plumber by the Consolidated since 1935, Mr. Heins had recently moved from Trail to Kinnaird where he operated a small store.
