U.S. PLANES STRIKE FIRST TRIPOLI BLOW

Rostov Advance Threatens Big German Army

By HENRY C. CASSIDAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Red Army, again crushing desperate German counter-attacks and breaking through enemy defences, was reported less than 60 miles from Rostov today as its flanks advanced on a broad front on both sides of the Lower Don.

That the hundreds of thousands of Germans in a narrowing corridor in the Caucasus and in the Don Valley definitely were in danger of having their supply channels shut off at Rostov was indicated as the Russians pushed massed forces into the angle formed by the Don, the Donets and the Severny River North of the Don.

This was one of the last favorable natural positions for a German defence of Rostov from the Northeast, and the Soviet bludgeon poised ther threatened not only a frontal but a flank assault on the Germans' key position.

The advance point reached by the Russians Saturday was Ust-Kagalnitsky on the North bank of the Don, a bare five miles East of the Donets which joins the Don 57 miles Northeast of Rostov. Kastirochny, just East of this point, also was taken.

The midday communique Sunday said Russian troops followed up this success, "overcoming enemy resistance and repulsing his counter-attacks" and then "broke through enemy defences," pursued the routed forces and occupied a number of villages.

The exact location of this breakthrough was not given, but 800 dead Germans were said to have been left scattered on the battlefield and a quantity of war equipment smashed and captured.

(Slightly to the North of Ust-Kagalnitsky, said a Reuters News Agency dispatch received in London, the Russians smashed the biggest German counter-attack yet made in the lower Don area, and advanced another five to eight miles, reaching Trofimov, 10 miles East of the Donets and about midway between the Stalingrad-Likhaya railway and the Don.)

Simultaneously, the Russians occupied 30 more settlements in the North Caucasus where they were rapidly dissipating all dreams the Germans might have had of tapping Russia's Grozny or Baku oil.

They also pursued their quickening offensive down the Stalingrad-Tikhoretsk railway close to Salsk where they were threatening Rostov from the Southeast.

On this flank Col. Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko's forces passed Vesely, 32 miles from Salsk, important junction on the railway 100 miles Southeast of Rostov. This meant an advance of 36 miles from Simovniki, on the West side of the Sal River.

LONDON, Jan. 10 (CP.) — The Moscow radio tonight announced capture of the town of Kuma, 25 miles Northeast of Georgievsk, by Red Army soldiers rolling onward in a flanking movement on that Caucasus city.

The Soviet Bureau of Information midnight communique, heard here by the Soviet monitor, also announced the capture of the town of Vorontsovo-Alexandrovsky, 12 miles North of Kuma; the district centre of Kammenyodoe-Mostaskaya, and eight other large populated places in that general area.

In the Barents sea, the communique said, Red fleet warships sank a 12,000-ton enemy transport.

STOP GRABBING OF STUDENTS IN UNIVERSITY

Services, Industry Competition for Men to Halt

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP.) — New regulations have been passed making it impossible for the armed forces or war industry to offer service or employment to university students in engineering, science and technical courses without the consent of Labor Minister Mitchell, it was announced Saturday by Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service.

The announcement was made at a meeting of university leaders to plan their institutional programs for the year.

In a speech to the meeting Mr. MacNamara said students and university officials have been disturbed by the competition of the services and industry for their services.

"Under these opposing pressures the students and their advisers have not known where their duty lies and have been kept in a state of uncertainty and unrest."

The new regulations "provide that no person, whether or not on behalf of any of the armed forces, may interview or solicit any science or technical student with regard to service or employment, or offer him service or employment, except with the consent of the Minister of Labor.

"Each such student is required as a condition of entering or continuing his course to submit to medical examination and to declare whether or not he wishes to volunteer for active service in the armed forces as a technical officer.

"The names of those who so volunteer will be submitted to the various branches of the forces who will make from them a selection of potential technical officers. Those who complete their course but do not so volunteer will be compelled to accept such essential employment as the Minister may require."

Recommends No in Basic Rates for Steel Plants

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP.)—The majority report of a three-man commission, investigating rates of pay at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sydney, N. S., steel plants, recommended tonight that there should be no change in basic wage rates, except in the case of some maintenance men.

The commission, however, recommended overtime at the rate of time and a half for the seventh day where it was found necessary for employees to work a seven-day week.

Denies Report of Third Registration

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP.) — Selective Service Director Arthur MacNamara tonight described as "a figment of someone's imagination" a report carried by a Vancouver newspaper Saturday stating that a third national registration would be made in February.

"I can't understand where some of these stories get their authority," Mr. MacNamara said.

BLOCK BUSTERS SMASH ESSEN PLANTS

New Ventura Planes Hit Holland; Raid Rail Systems

MINES DROPPED

LONDON, Jan. 10 (CP.)—Essen, site of the Krupp Works which is Europe's largest arsenal, was raided last night by perhaps 150 big British bombers, seven of which were lost. It was the fifth raid in seven nights on the heavy German industrial area of the Rhur.

Returning pilots reported they left fires raging all over the great industrial area, some of them visible for 100 miles, with the bombardment that included a shower of two-ton block busters. They said they were subjected to intense anti-aircraft fire and were forced to fight their way through swarms of German night fighters.

Extensive mine-laying operations were carried out in German-controlled waters.

Essen is a city of 500,000 which lies in the heart of the great German coal mining district. Even in peacetime, the Krupp Works employed 35,000 workmen producing guns, tanks and other war material, locomotives, freight cars, trucks, farm machinery and the whole gamut of heavy industry.

It was the 50th attack on Essen, one of the previous being a 1000-plane raid.

Speedy new R.A.F. Ventura (Vega) bombers smashed at the IJmuiden Iron and Steel Works in Holland Saturday, planting bomb bursts on furnaces and coke ovens.

Fast new British wooden Mosquito bombers also attacked railway targets in North France and Belgium Saturday while squadrons of fighters including Canadians, swept over the same areas and engaged in battles with defending Focke-Wulf 190 fighters.

In one encounter with 14 Focke-Wulfs near Abbeville, France, latest model Spitfires manned by Fighting French and West Lancashire pilots shot down one of the interceptors. The Air Ministry for the first time designated the new Spitfires by their official name—Mark Nine. They are new models with four-bladed propellers and Rolls Royce Merlin engines. They are reported to be in service in large numbers.

PROMISES BIG RAIDS

Sir Stafford Cripps, Minister of Aircraft Production, told workers in a factory making four-motored Lancasters, however, that Germany and Italy are about to undergo the heaviest air assaults yet. Presumably he meant these would be heavier than even the 1000-bomber raids of early Summer. Weather alone, he said, accounts for the brake on operations in the last two months.

The Germans raided a Southwest coast town killing at least 12, injuring others and causing damage. A number were missing in what the Press Association called "the worst raid yet experienced in the town." One German plane was downed.

Iap Air Base on Munda Raided

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP.) — The United States Navy announced today that air forces in the Solomon Islands had carried out two new raids on the Japanese air base at Munda on New Georgia island and that a probable hit was scored on one anti-aircraft battery.

Ontario Workers to Return to War Jobs Today

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 10 (CP.) — Approximately 1500 workers who left their jobs at the No. 3 plant of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada will return to work on their regular Monday shifts, officials of the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.) announced tonight.

The huge plant—housing the main assembly line for military vehicles—was closed for about three hours Saturday when the men left their machines after lunch-hour in protest, union officials said, against dismissal of a senior employee.

Prisoners' Letters Say Germans Took Off Chains

LONDON, Jan. 10 (CP)—Letters received from some British officers taken prisoner at Dunkerque and Calais and men captured at the Canadian-led raid on Dieppe last August said they have been unchained after being handcuffed for a month, it was reported early today.

This was the first indication the Germans had taken the shackles off some of the men who were handcuffed last Fall. Last Wednesday it was reported that Britain's reply to Germany's stalling on the question of releasing all the men from handcuffs would come when Parliament reassembles.

JURY BLAMES C.P.R. FOR ALMONTE WRECK

Need of Telegraph Operator, Signals Reasons

EXONERATES CREW

ALMONTE, Ont., Jan. 10 (CP.) — Blame for the Dec. 27 train wreck, which took 36 lives in this Lanark County town has been placed "entirely" on the Canadian Pacific Railway Company by a five-man coroner's jury.

It gave three reasons for blaming the C.P.R. for the disaster, which occurred when a troop train ran into the rear of a Pembroke-Ottawa local standing in Almonte station.

1. There was no telegraph operator on duty at Pakenham, Ont., between Arnprior, Ont., and Almonte, and the troop train had no way of knowing the local was losing time because of bad weather, heavy crowds and al eaky engine tube;

2. There was no protective signal at a "most dangerous curve" at the entrance to Almonte;

3. A green signal light showing above Almonte station gave the troop-train engineer the impression that he could proceed; whereas if signal had been red—according to the testimony of the engineer and his fireman—the troop train could have been stopped.

The jury said in its verdict that it placed "no blame whatever on the crews" of the trains involved in the wreck, but expressed belief an effort could have been made from Smith Falls, Ont., end of the division, to call an operator at Pakenham and Almonte to advise them the troop train was gaining on the local.

With its findings as to the reasons for the collision, the five-man jury made four recommendations "to prevent occurrence of a similar catastrophe and to safeguard the travelling public, especially under wartime conditions":

1. A telegraph operator should be kept "on steady duty" at Pakenham."

2. An automatic station-protective signal should be installed immediately West of Almonte;

3. A standing order should be issued putting into effect a 25-mile-an-hour speed limit through Almonte, and this order would be "strictly enforced" by the railroad;

4. The "block-signal" device at Almonte station should be changed to give protection to standing trains.

Call Attention to Vacant Seats

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP.) —The C.C.F. National Executive announced tonight that M. J. Coldwell, National Leader, has been requested to notify Speaker James T. Glen of the House of Commons that three house seats have become vacant in recent months.

"This request was made on the principle that no group of Canadian citizens should remain unrepresented in Parliament longer than is necessary, especially in this time of war," an executive statement said.

SCORE NEW HITS ON FLEEING JAPANESE SHIPS

133 Jap Planes Are Destroyed or Damaged in Battle

LAE BOMBED

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Monday, Jan. 11—(AP.)—Allied heavy and medium bombers yesterday continued relentlessly pounding the Japanese convoy fleeing from Lae, New Guinea, scene of the enemy's costly attempt to land reinforcements.

Direct hits were scored on two ships of the convoy from which three troops transports already had ben sunk, General Douglas MacArthur reported.

Other Australian and American planes at the same time poured bombs, cannon and machine-gun fire in the Lae harbor area and the airdrome.

Farther Northwest along the New Guinea coast, Flying Fortresses bombed the recently strengthened Japanese bases at Finschhafen, Madang and Wewak.

Australian Beaufighters and American Mitchells, escorted by Lightnings, resumed the work of destruction at Lae Sunday morning, starting fires which were visible for many miles at sea.

Pressure on the remaining pocket of Japanese at Sananada was maintained. The village of Tarakena was occupied by U. S. forces who killed 40 Japanese and captured five machine guns and a mortar.

Earlier today a record flow of official reports had disclosed the magnitude of the most destructive purely aerial drubbing given to the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific and possibly the most extensive administered in any area. They told of the convoy-air battle off Lae, New Guinea.

In the three-day battle of the Lae convoy ending yesterday Australian and American planes probably put out of action 133 planes, all Zero fighters except one bomber which was blasted on Lae airdrome. Of these 85 were definitely destroyed, 29 probably destroyed and 19 damaged.

Official figures disclosed the convoy-air clash resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Allies. Allied losses being only a small fraction of the price the Japanese paid toocover their attempt to land reinforcements at Lae.

Twin-engined Lockheed Lightning fighters, fast becoming the scourge of Southwest Pacific skies, were credited with destroying or probably destroying at least 50 Japanese Zero fighters while Curtiss Kittyhawk P-40s played an almost equal part in piling up the fantastic aerial score.

The Japanese transports withdrew from the harbor under cover of darkness after unloading.

Gen. MacArthur, considering the campaign in Papua closed despite the fact that a pocket of Japanese still is entrenched at Sananada Point in the Buna area, has returned to his general headquarters here.

GERMANS ARREST PRINCE BONAPARTE

BERLIN, Jan. 10 (AP)—The German radio broadcast a report yesterday that Prince Papoleon Bonaparte, grand nephew of Emperor Napoleon III and present head of the House of Papoleon, had been arrested.

LEADING U-BOAT "BUSTER" PRESUMED DEAD

5 Missing, Two Escape Crash; 5 Die in Another

CAUSES OBSCURE

HALIFAX, Jan. 10 (CP)—Five men, including Sqdr. Ldr. N. E. (Molly) Small, one of the first three fliers to win the D.F.C. on this side of the Atlantic, have been posted as "missing and presumed dead" after an airplane crash, the R.C.A.F. announced tonight.

The R.C.A.F. also announced five other fliers were killed in the crash of a twin-engine aircraft at Markland, N.S. All aboard this machine perished.

The plane carrying Sqdn. Ldr. Small and six other men crashed a few miles from an R.C.A.F. station in Newfoundland. Two survivors of this crash, suffering only from slight injuries and exposure, have made their way to safety.

D.F.C. WINNER

One of the top sub-busters in the R.C.A.F., Sqdn. Ldr. Small was awarded the D.F.C. in the New Year's honors list.

Small was credited with five attacks against submarines, three of them successful, within the last few months. His citation said he showed courage in attacking surfaced submarines which carried armament superior to that of his aircraft.

Here are the casualty lists of the two crashes:

In Newfoundland:

Missing, presumed dead—Sqdn. Ldr. N. E. Small, 34, native of Allandale, Ont., Yarmouth, N.S.; Fo. A. M. Tingle, 28, native of Hanna, Alta., (father) C. M. Tingle, Chilliwack, B.C. (Fo. Tingle has been mentioned in dispatches); Flt. Sgt. B. L. Hudson, Yarmouth; Flt. Sgt. J. T. Mangan, North Bay, Ont.; Sgt. H. E. White, Saint John, N. B.

Survivors—Flt. Sgt. J. E. V. Banning, Timmins, Ont.; Sgt. W. H. Wilson Oakville Ont.

At Markland;

Dead—Pilot, Po. E. W. Bocelsanc, Peterborough, Ont.; Observer, Flt. Sgt. D. M. Day, Yarmouth; Wireless operator-air Gunner, Sgt. L. E. Thomas, Lower Sackville, N.S., and Sgt. W. D. MacRae, West Middle River, N.S.; Armorer, Lac. William Dale, Toronto.

A search party has been sent to the scene of the Newfoundland crash. The air force said the cause of the crash is "obscure" but an investigation is underway.

Like the plane that crashed in Newfoundland, the one that smashed up at Markland was a twin-engine machine. The Newfoundland crash occurred Thursday; the one at Markland Friday.

The cause of the Markland accident is not known.

R.A.F. Coordinates Blows to Squeeze Rommel

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Jan. 10 (AP)—United States medium bombers from Tunisia struck their first blow today at the Libyan base of Tripoli in an extension of their campaign to slam shut the back door of retreat in the face of Marshal Erwin Rommel, believed on the move again toward the port and Tunisia.

The Americans attacked an outlying airdrome, scoring direct hits and returned without loss.

Fighters from Tunisia have attacked Tripoli before and nearly all categories of planes have raided the port from Libya and Egypt but today's attack was the first of U. S. bombers from Tunisia.

The meeting of allied bombers from the East and West emphasized the squeeze being clamped on Rommel.

ATTACK COMING?

Coordinating with the U. S. attack were day and night Royal Air Force assaults on the African Corps along a 180-mile stretch between Tripoli and the Wadi Zem-Zem, where the British 8th Army has been drawing up for attack. Increasing German nervousness and assertions from Berlin that the British troops are preparing for a full-scale attack were reminiscent of the Axis reports a few days before Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery renewed his offensive recently at El Agheila.

Many observers at headquarters believe Tripoli itself is indefensible and that Rommel must attempt to withdraw into Tunisia along the supply route on which Sousse, Gabes, and Sfax have been consistent targets.

These observers said the concentrated allied air attacks Friday apparently anticipated this move and were aimed to cut his supplies and weaken his retreat before the 8th Army in Libya.

The weather deteriorated over Tunisia again today adding to the mud bogs immobilizing ground forces and keeping much of the opposing air fleets on the ground following the three U. S. raids on Bizerte Friday. This action was coordinated with the pounding of the East Coast positions.

A Cairo communique said allied planes were active over the Libyan battle area "with good results" and that the road between Homs and Zliten, 65 to 90 miles East of Tripoli was machine gunned. Misurata was bombed and many fires were started. There was nothing to report from ground forces.

The R.A.F. attacked the Italian islands of Sicily and Pantelleria and Tunis and struck at transports between Sfax and Gabes.

(The Germans made the wholly unconfirmed claim that 13 tankers totalling 124,000 tons had been sunk in a convoy bound for North Africa, from Trinidad via Gibraltar. Three other tankers were claimed to have been torpedoed.

(The Italians said Algiers was bombed and big fires were started in the harbor. Other raids were reported on Maison Blanche air field at Bougie.)

NANKING GOV'T DECLARES WAR AGAINST BRITAIN

TOKYO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo announced yesterday that President Wang Ching-Wei's National Government of China at Nanking had declared war against the British Empire and the United States.

(The BBC in a broadcast recorded by CBS in New York said the declaration of war by the Puppet Nanking Government could have no military importance, but that it would be likely to affect those Britons and Americans still living in the area. It estimated 12,000 Britons and Americans are in Shanghai alone. Until now, it added, they have been allowed a certain amount of freedom).

TWO SUBS SUNK, SIX DAMAGED IN CONVOY WAR

Powerful Sub Pack Was Striking at Important Convoy

11 ATTACKED

LONDON, Jan. 11 (Monday) (CP)—Two Axis submarines were "almost certainly sunk" and at least six others were damaged by an important convoy which recently crossed the Atlantic to British ports, the Admiralty and Air Ministry announced today.

British, Polish and Norwegian warships and U. S., Canadian and British aircraft escorted the convoy.

Some 55 attacks were made by and against submarine wolf packs.

The convoy "did not escape without some loss" the announcement said, but it listed only one torpedo hit on a merchant ship in an account of the running sea battle.

Both the U-boats regarded as sunk fell prey to the coastal command and U. S. Navy patrol planes.

By ALLEN NICKLESON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE RAF SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 10 (CP Cable) —Spectacular attacks on a powerful enemy submarine pack massing to strike at an important convoy in the Atlantic were made recently by two Liberator aircraft it was disclosed today with news that the pack had been dispersed. One of the Liberators carried two R.C.A.F. members in its crew.

The aircraft, guarding a convoy from the U. S. which reached Britain without serious loss, sighted 13 U-boats in less than nine hours and attacked 11 of them. Two were almost certainly sunk and others damaged.

The two underwater craft believed sunk were attacked by an aircraft in which Fo. Michael Layton of Montreal was Navigator and Po. R. Thomson of Port Hawkesbury, N.S., was another crew member. Layton, it was announced today, has been made a member of the Distinguished Service Order.

This Liberator, piloted by Sqdn. Ldr. Terence Mulloch, the R.A.F.'s ace U-boat stalker, sighted eight submarines and attacked seven. The first attack was so accurate the submarine apparently burst open under water. Masses of debris in which were bodies floated to the surface.

Bullock, also named to the D.S.O. for his part in the battle of the Atlantic, said a U-boat surfaced 11 miles from the convoy and that it sighted us and started to crash dive but we got it just as it was disappearing and depth charges went down on top of it."

A corvette rushed to the scene and signalled the Liberators: "You certainly got him," a later message said: "You killed him."

Three hours later the same Liberator sighted two subm rines 300 yards apart "going like mad" for the convoy. It attacked one and a couple of seconds later a terrific water spout shot into the air.

The Liberator returned to its base as darkness fell after almost 17 hours attacking U-boats.

In signal congratulations Air Vice Marshal Sir Philip Jubert, Air Officer commanding the Coastal command said that while all shared in the success he wished to convey his especial congratulations to Layton and Bulloch. He said the action undoubtedly saved the convoy from loss.

Say Von Bock, Speaking for Other Officers, Urged Nazi Retreat

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 10—(AP)—German Marshal Fredor von Bock, speaking for a number of German generals who were alarmed by the dangerous position of the German armies in the Caucasus as a result of the developing Russian offensives, is reported in Berlin to have urged Hitler to withdraw his lines while there is still time.

Neutral sources just returned from Germany said Von Bock, formerly the commander on the Stalingrad front, who was relieved of his duties in apparent disgrace during a shakeup of the German command when the Nazi armies failed to take the city on the Volga, had returned to a command at the front in November.

These sources did not know where Von Bock took charge but they reported that he visited Hitler at his field headquarters and declared that he and other officers he represented could no longer take responsibility for the situation unless Hitler ordered a retreat out of the Caucasus.

Hitler was said to have gone into a rage and ordered Von Bock out of the headquarters after stating that he, as supreme commander, bore all responsibility.

Von Bock later was seen in Berlin, these sources said, but they said he since had dropped from sight, and it was not known whether he had returned to the front.

Rumors circulating in Stockholm said it was believed Von Bock is back on the Stalingrad front.

Coach Seaby was on hand to see the Juvenile practice, which was strong on speed though small in numbers. There will probably be over 20 candidates for the Juvenile Reps, and perhaps 18 for the Midget Reps.

"Sacrament" Theme of Lesson-Sermon

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, was "SACRAMENT."

The Golden Text was: "I will take the cup of salvation and call upon the name of the Lord. I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people." (Psalms 116; 13,14.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon, was the following from the Bible: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit." (Psalms 51: 10, 12.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Simply asking that we may love God will never make us love Him; but the longing to be better an dholier, expressed in daily watchfulness and in striving to assimilate more of the divine character, will mould and fashion us anew, until we awake in His likeness."

Herridge Places B. C. Education Behind Russia

ROSSLAND, B. C., Jan. 10.—At a supper-meeting held by the Rossland Teachers' Association at the Empire Cafe Annex Friday, to discuss the present urgent problems of education, President George Grant outlined the steps taken by the British Columbia Teachers' Federation to bring the situation to the attention of the Government and the public.

Mrs. M. Welykochy, secretary-treasurer, spoke of inequalities in educational opportunities caused by the present system of financing education.

H. W. Herridge, M.L.A., guest speaker, said, he was fully aware of the acute need for changing the system of educational finance, and thought it excellent that the teachers, who were trained in educational matters, should bring the situation to public attention.

Mr. Herridge compared the educational efforts of other countries at this time with B. C.'s on this important matter. He mentioned that Russia, in spite of her almost superhuman war effort, had found time and money to build over 6000 new schools, and repair thousands which had been bombed. He mentioned that Britain, also working under stress of bombings, had provided schools and teachers for evacuated children, had refused to let male teachers over 35 years enlist, and had made it compulsory for all women teachers to remain in the profession for the duration. British Columbia, on the other hand, had closed 44 schools this year because of shortage of teachers, and was letting certain schools go into disrepair.

REMOVE BURDEN FROM LAND

It was Mr. Herridge's opinion there was no possibility of equality in education unless the burden of taxation was removed from the land. At present, he stated, there was great inequality in school taxation. For example in the Nelson-Creston district the mill rate for educational taxation varied from 2 to 32 mills.

The problem, he said, should be attacked first in rural areas, where it was most acute, by equalizing taxation, and including mineral claims and timber limits in educational taxation.

In concluding, Mr. Herridge invited expressions of opinion from those present and an interesting discussion period ensued, during which Principal A. B. Thompson compared the average weekly salary of teachers with that of persons in six or eight other industries. Rural teachers were found to have the lowest, with $17.50 per week.

Invited guests included Mayor J. E. Gordon, Inspector K. B. Woodward, Fred Fletcher of the Junior Board of Trade, T. H. Yolland, School Board Secretary, Mrs. Rene Morin, President of the Parent-Teacher Association, and Miss Florence Rutledge, President of the West Kootenay District Council, Trail.

PLAN TO SLASH "LIBERAL ARTS" COURSES

Courses to Be Open Only to Students Ready to Work Hard

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP)—Canada's university leaders at an all day conference Saturday drafted a wartime program for their institutions that, one spokesman said, will result in a "ruthless reduction" in the number of students taking the so-called "liberal arts" courses.

While details of the program were not made public—at any rate it will be subject to alteration at the Nation's manpower needs change—it was expected to bring virtual rationing of higher education.

University courses will be open only to students prepared to work hard and capable of earning high marks.

Compulsory military training for all men students will be continued on its present basis.

Foundation of the meeting's decisions was a speech delivered at the morning session by Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service.

At the end of his address, Mr. MacNamara said.

"I have suggested that we may have to face the necessity of some further restriction (in liberal arts courses)

"At the worst it may be hoped that male students not liable or not fit for military service, female students and a steadily increasing number of discharged men, will maintain the student population at a level sufficient to permit maintenance of staffs and educational standards.

"For the present, however, speaking quite unofficially, I venture the personal conviction that if the universities will ruthlessly weed out the incompetent and mediocre students, if we continue to require that all students take their military training while at the universities, and if it can be understood that, when the requirements of the armed forces or the industrial war effort so necessitates, National Selective Service would be authorized to call up students even though that interrupts their courses, no immediate further restriction would be necessary.

"In any case, I can certainly assure you that no call-up in the middle of an academic year and no basic change in policy will be undertaken except in the common sense way after full consultation with university authorities."

British Fleet Firmly Controls Western Mediterranean

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

A NORTH AFRICAN PORT, Jan. 10 (CP Cable)—Far reaching control by the British fleet now is firmly established in the Western Mediterranean as the result of the North African landings, and sea supply routes to the Allied forces in Tunisia are being tenaciously and effectively guarded by powerful units of the Royal Navy.

From the United Kingdom and the United States, troops, tanks, guns, vehicles and all the vast quantity of needed supplies are reaching North Africa in convoyed merchant ships.

I came to this war zone aboard a troopship carrying British combat units from Britain and saw British warships screen us from Gibraltar. With calm confidence the navy audaciously shepherded us along the hot spots of the Malta convoy route which until a few months ago was certain to involve air attacks.

But the Royal Navy's grip on vast sections of the Mediterranean has become so firm that I did not see a shot fired in anger. The only aircraft overhead were Allied patrols, fighters and bombers.

Our convoy was only one of the many the navy is getting through and the outstanding manner in which the North African sea routes are being protected is a vital feature of the current campaign. The seagoing traffic is one of the most emphatic first impressions here.

Along the coast and in a number of ports I have seen British and American shipping moving safely with surprising unconcern over the proximity of a major battlefront and enemy bases. Destroyers swarm all over the place. The Italian navy is not daring any major interference with its surface fleet against the Allied military operations but the submarine menace is ever present and necessitates day and night sea patrols.

Acquisition of a string of air bases in North Africa enables the R.A.F., including a number of Canadian and American squadrons, to patrol far out in the Mediterranean.

The success of our voyage demonstrated what a French newspaper here described as the "magnificent immunity of the Royal Navy."

Jap Prisoners a Sorry Sight

By WILLIAM F. BONI
Associated Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 8 (Delayed) (AP)—To the accompaniment of the drone of planes going to attack enemy shipping and troops in Lae Harbor, Australian and United States correspondents were permitted to view Japanese prisoners of war today.

For the most part, the 27 prisoners we saw were scrawny, underfed members of forced labor gangs who had worked in Papuan on airstrips, gun emplacements, roads and other military installations. The majority of these obviously were from the lowest strata.

Under an Australian Provost-marshal, prisoners are given ample tent space behind barbed-wire barricades from which they are permitted to leave almost at will to perform light tasks around the camp. They are not fit physically for any harder work.

Their rations are the regular Australian army issue, which is far better than they had been getting, in addition to 20 ounces of rice daily.

"Good Guess" Canada Will Follow U.S. in Meat Rationing

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP)—Officials connected with food supply regulations, with an eye to the United States trend toward rationing of beef and probably other meats, said Saturday they consider it a "good guess" that Canada will follow the American lead at least as far as beef is concerned.

While a definite date for meat rationing in the United States has not been set, Washington authorities have said they hope it will be started around March 1. Since Canada's ration books are renewable on that date, provision doubtless will be made in the new ones for additional coupons to be used for meat rationing in this country.

The expressed feeling in government circles here has been that there should be equality in the matter of rationing between the United States and Canada.

The expectation is that Canadian cattle marketing will follow the usual seasonal course and show a substantial increase during the Spring months. It might be possible to have enough beef then to avoid rationing in Canada, but officials said that this would mean a continued cutting off of the movement of Canadian cattle to the United States.

It would be better to have rationing and allow Canadian cattle to go to the United States, they said.

In the peace years the United States was Canada's best customer for surplus cattle, and Canada should make an effort to supply cattle now, when United States need them the most, one official said.

Saturday the Ottawa Evening Citizen said that "meat will be rationed in Canada as soon as the necessary machinery has been set up according to reliable reports circulated in Ottawa today."

"Action taken by the United States government in announcing the rationing of meat in that country for March 1 is held to be an indication that a similar policy will be followed in this country.

"The rationing will take in almost all types of meat, it is understood, and will most certainly include pork and beef.

"The present visit to Washington of Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner and of J. G. Taggart, Foods Administrator for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, is said to be in connection with a combined form of rationing program for both Canada and the United States with regard to meat."

British Bombers Back Over Big Ruhr Plants

LONDON, Jan. 10 (CP)—R.A.F. bombers attacked industrial targets in Germany's Ruhr Valley Friday night for the fourth time this week.

Five British aircraft were reported missing from the night's operations, indicating an attack by perhaps 100 planes. No official details were given immediately of the raid's scope or specific targets, however.

It was the second night in succession that the big British bombers carried their destruction to the maze of steel mills and heavy industrial plants in the Ruhr and the fourth attack this year.

British aircraft also laid mines in enemy waters during the night.

The Berlin radio earlier said the bombers were over Northern and Western Germany.

Meantime, four Focke-Wolf fighter-bombers made a hit and run attack on a rural district and on a Southeast coast town. One bomb struck a bungalow and killed an occupant.

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP)—Under a new wartime order signed by J. H. Berry, Motor Vehicle Controller, and approved by Donald Gordon, Chairman of the Prices Board, priorities have been established in motor vehicle repair work, it was announced here Saturday.

It does not mean there is a prohibition on repair work, Mr. Berry states, but that trucks and passenger cars engaged in vital war service are to be given priority over vehicles in less essential services.

Motor vehicles owned or operated by the armed forces, Royal Air Force Ferry Command or by any auxiliary war service, are to have first priority. After them come any commercial motor vehicle, trucks, bus, tractor, ambulance, motorcycle uted for commercial delivery, fire truck or other fire department vehicle.

Third in line for repairs are any vehicle in respect of which the owner is the holder of a ration book over than category "AA".

Refuse Appeal to Raise Potato Prices

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 (CP)—Appeal by Lower Mainland potato growers for an upward adjustment in potato price ceilings has been turned down by the Prices Board, Reeve R. M. Grauer of Richmond, Chairman of a comgrowers, announced Saturday.

The growers have made no shipments to civilian markets since the ceiling was first imposed Nov. 19. Current price permited is $1.38 per ton for No. 2 grade potatoes, the quality generally produced on the Lower Mainland, $10 per ton less than the price in early November.

In their latest application the growers, asked that the price be raised to $33 per ton, the same allowed here for first grade Interior, Alberta and Eastern varieties, but Reeve Grauer said Foods Administrator J. G. Taggart had refused on the grounds the coast potatoes were of inferior quality.

Reeve Grauer disputed this contention and added "the pity of the situation is that there won't be any crop planted this Spring."

How About Filling Those Seats?

The municipal edifices of the Kootenay-Boundary—and some of them are thoroughly modern—all have council chambers where there is, generally speaking, commodious accommodation for the public who may wish to observe at close range the public transaction of municipal business.

The seats are there, usually comfortable opera seats, but are the audiences there?

Very seldom, it is safe to say, are there any spectators who are there from a general interest. They are almost always confined to those whose interest is of the moment, of some subject to be dealt with at that meeting.

There is a city on the Canadian Prairie—one of the oldest in the West, though exceeded by many Western cities in size—that has a great belief in itself. The city of Brandon, 133 miles from Winnipeg, too near to be a business rival, but so near as to feel all the disadvantages of being in the shadow, has a record of having always fought for its own. It faced Winnipeg squarely on the issue of the western live stock show, and "made a monkey of" Winnipeg which had grabbed its dates. It built up a large number and variety of manufactures. It supported loyally its own institution of learning. And it believed in looking after its own business.

It was an article of faith with the citizens of Brandon to have their public business fully public property. Business men, workers, citizens of every rank and quality and interest, attended the council sessions, week in, week out, in at least one era of Brandon's history. Never was there a sea of empty seats in the council chamber. Citizens attended with all the zest apparently of patrons of the drama, but a zest not for entertainment, but for knowledge of the community's affairs.

One can imagine the new spirit and new dignity the various municipal councils in the Kootenay-Boundary would gain and would manifest, if always there was looking on and listening intently an absorbed audience of ratepayers—of persons who acted as if good administration of the public business was of real interest to them.

Also, one can imagine that the city fathers would quickly find that they could speak up so as to be heard. The day of low conversational tones would be past.

It would be refreshing to find, somewhere in the Kootenay, a populace that believed in knowing intimately the basic things about its own town business—knowing of its own knowledge, and not merely gaining a smattering around election time.

How about a resolution on this line, Mr. Kootenay Citizen?

Subscriber—If milk was 12½ cents a quart before Dec. 16, what should the price be now? Should it be 10½ cents a quart?

Yes.

E. M. W., Nelson—Has a boarder any control over the weekly half pound of butter which her landlady receives on her coupon? I only take butter at one meal, and my landlady says she can't give more at a sitting than one-third of an ounce. I claim that this ruling applies to hotels and restaurants only in cases where they do not receive ration coupons from their guests.

If the operator of a boarding house has not registered the place as an institution with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, boarders should be treated as members of the household and as such are entitled to their full ration. The boarder must take into consideration that a certain amount of the ration is used in cooking.

J. G., Erickson—Could you please tell me how old one would have to be to join the R. C. A. F. air crew and what education is required? I would also like to know where the recruiting office is situated?

An R.C.A.F. recruit must be 18 years of age. To make application and to learn educational requirements write R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre, Calgary, Alta.

A. J., Zincton—Could you tell me what would remove nail polish remover from a crepe dress?

Nail polish remover contains bleaching properties, therefore the color has probably been taken out of the material. Sponge the spot with warm water, but we doubt that this will have any effect.

Low-Brow High-Brow

(R. E. Porter in Toronto News)

I see by the papers the Progressive Conservatives are pledged to ensure equal educational opportunity for all. They might begin with a survey of current prospects for democratic education in Canadian universities.

In colleges all over the continent, the cost of an education has been steadily going up, making it increasingly difficult for any student to work his way through, either by Summer jobs or by part-time employment during the university session.

The fees at the Canadian university I know best are twice as high as they were in the middle-twenties; four times what they were immediately after the last war. Members of the Arts faculty admit that the percentage of students from "the far side of the railway tracks" is becoming smaller each year. And if this is true of the Arts courses, it is far worse in more expensive courses like Engineering or Medicine.

We are not getting the best possible medical students in Canada, simply because only a small element in the community can raise the money to put its children through medical school. There are, of course, scholarships and other forms fo assistance, but these are not always sufficient or always satisfactory. And scholarships, especially those given by private donors, can have some formidable strings tied to them.

Canadians might be warned in time by a study of the scholarships being granted in the United States by the great cartels and corporations. These big firms will scout out promising human material even in the collegiates, and will pay its expenses right through college to a Ph.D. and beyond.

CORPORATION SCHOLARSHIPS

The young man who accepts such assistance is in some ways marvellously lucky; his future is assured, he can marry by the time he is 25, and settle in security to the work of his choice. But he is expected to be the creature of the corporation that ensured his education, and if he falls out of favor there, he need not waste time trying to get a job with another corporation because personnel managers compare notes and generally hunt in packs.

It is not so bad for the young scientist if he restricts his thinking to statistics or organic chemistry, but the process seems to sterilize a man as an independent intellectual leader. His position is too much like that of the clever Hellenisticslave the Roman master found it profitable to educate. For the corporation, it ensures not only faithful service but useful "experts" prepared to justify anything the directorate chooses to do. The public can still be impressed by what a Doctor of Science says, when it won't swallow the assertions of a General Manager. Science retains some part of its tradition of detachment, of disinterested truthfulness.

It is with some hope of preserving the reality behind such traditions for Canada, that I suggest a study of Canadian higher education before too late.

ATMOSPHERE CHANGING

It is not high fees alone that makes things difficult for the poorer student. The atmosphere of the universities is changing, and even the price of the students' own societies is set high. In the college paper you can see the influence of the advertiser; "Surely you don't think of taking Her to the Junior Prom without getting her some of our orchids?" In the nineteen-twenties, when tuition fees were lowr and Summer work comparatively easy to get, most college festivities were fairly simple and inexpensive. But all through the depression they grew more costly. The Fraternity and the Sorority were in the saddle: "Let's put the price up high enough to keep the rabble at home."

And yet, although the universits are alleged to be getting "a better class of student," I am told there is more cheating at examinations than there was ten years ago, more disappearance of library books, cruder jokes in the college papers. The raternity and the sorority, which might be expected to supply in some degree the aristocratic ideal, in too many cases promote only a feeling of superior irresponsibility, a consciousness of immunity.

Progressive Conservatives might gather quite a following among conscientious college faculties if they would start to work now on the task of making university education in Canada either fit for heroes or safe for democracy.

HITLER BURNED BOAS' BOOKS

Dr. Franz Boas, whose death is reported from New York, was never in the least interested in British Columbia as a prosperous, developing province. But he was interested in it as an ethnological and anthropological laboratory, and visited it more than once.

Dr. Boas was born in Germany in 1858 and educated there. His first visit to this continent was made in 1883, when he explored that part of Baffinland about Cumberland Sound. Beginning in 1886, he made a study of British Columbia Indians for the British Association and carried on the study for the New York Museum of Natural History.

At the beginning of the present century he planned the Jesup expedition to the North Pacific on behalf of the American Museum of Natural History and took part in it. This expedition resulted in a number of discoveries concerning the relations of the Eskimos and Pacific Coast Indians with the people of North Asia.

Dr. Boas was the author of numerous scientific books dealing with such subjects as primitive man, culture and race, primitive art, and the physical changes in the descendants of immigrants. A British Columbia book has to do with the language and customs of the Tsimpsean Indians.

As an anthropologist, Dr. Boas, through a German would have nothing to do with the Aryan myth which Hitler has promulgated so assiduously. He regarded it as a myth and nothing more. So his writings found no place in Nazi Germany—except in the book bonfires. —Vancouver Province.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Holfelt. Attired in a brown dressmaker suit with matching accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Delia Sabeck, maid of honor, chose a gold frock and brown accessories, with corsage of matching roses to the bride's corsage. The groom was attended by Merton Sabeck. The reception table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a three-tier wedding cake flanked by white lighted tapers. R.C.A.F. Mobile Unit to Visit Kootenays Soon

Next visit to the Kootenays of the Mobile Recruiting Unit from the RCAF Recruiting Centre, Calgary, is scheduled in the two weeks following Jan. 18, first stop being at Fernie on that date. It will move to Trail for three days, Jan. 20, 21, 22; then go to Nelson Jan. 25, and 26. It will complete the tour at Kimberley Jan. 28 and 29.

As on the last visit to the Kootenays, actual enlistment will be made of suitable candidates eliminating the necessity of the long trip to Calgary.

Men recruits will be sought for both air and ground crew duties. A number of skilled tradesmen are urgently required at this time. In the Women's Division the officer in charge will have the largest list of trades that the Calgary centre has been able to offer.

Changes in the regulations regarding aircrew make it possible now for young men of 17½ years of age to enlist in the RCAF, provided they obtain written consent of their parents or guardian. It is also possible for men up to and including 33 years of age to serve in aircrew as air gunners. This is a new departure as the present 32 age limit formerly applied to all branches of aircrew. Those enlisted at this time for aircrew duties will not be called to commence training until the late Summer or early Fall.

The Calgary Recruiting Centre has been allotted a particularly large percentage of the thousands of women required to meet the RCAF (W.D.) quotas. Clerks, cooks, teleprinters, transport drivers and a host of other occupations are included.

Prospective recruits who have already filed applications with the Calgary centre and who are desirous of furthering same, should immediately write the Commanding Officer, RCAF Recruiting Centre, Calgary, of their intentions to visit the Mobile Unit so that the applications and correspondence will be brought along by the Mobile Unit.

MARK'S WIFE

CONCLUSION

"You fakir! You humbug!" he said. "Don't you have enough trouble of your own?"

Tony knew!

"I'm all out of it today, but I might buy a little if you have some for sale."

"Don't leap to any conclusions, my good woman. If I didn't have my professional dignity to think of, I'd paddle you for the scare you gave me. I'd turn you over my knee.—"

"Over?" she said, her eyes dancing at him.

It seemed as though his eyes were caressing her.

"You'd better come in out of the cold," she said, leading the way in." "We're going to have a luscious lunch. Ruth is getting it now."

He said, "Hi Ruthie!" and closed the door to the kitchen, explaining, "I have some private matters to take up with you, Miss."

Barbara sat on the lounge with one foot under her. "Such as?" she asked.

"For one thing, I've just been talking to my old friend, Tom Kilcran."

"Oh, so now you're old friends!"

"You bet. Just like that!" He crossed her fingers for her to see.

What nice hands he had! She'd noticed them before, but not the way that she was seeing them now.

"And what did you old friends have to say?"

He made his scowl very fierce. "He told me about Pam.—As a matter of fact, Pam herself got on the phone. She had quite a lot to say.—"

Barbara could feel an embarrassed flush creep into her cheeks.

"Oh, what a lot of touble I'm going to have wish you."

"Are you?" she asked softly.

"Getting you out of other people's messes all my life is going to be quite a job."

There! He'd almost said it. Only he didn't really say it.

"We'd better start making some plans. We won't have much time," he said then.

"For what?"

Why, he hadn't even heard her. He'd gone to the radio and was twisting the dials. The football music of a collegiate band blared forth.

"They play football in February in California," he told her. "We'll have to be back by next Thursday."

"We can make it easily, but why?" she answered pleasantly, just as if he had made sense.

"The board will meet then. Of course we'll have to float a small bond issue, but with Kilcran's hundred thousand to start . ."

Barbara exploded "Tony!"

He snapped the radio off.

"I get the hospital, darling," he said. Kilcran made only one condition. It's to be called the Bradshaw Memorial—after my father."

She couldn't say a thing as the pressure of her hands on his told him what she wanted to say.

"What do you suppose ever made him come across?"

Barbara shook her head dumbly. Ruth Calder called from the kitchen, "Lunch'll be ready in about 20 minutes."

"Lunch?" Tony said. "Lunch? We'll have to make it snappy. The real estate office closes early on Saturday."

"What real estate office?" Barbara asked patiently.

"Over at the apartment house. You . . . you'll like living there, won't you, darling? It'll be easier to keep house than a big place like this."

Barbara gave him the wryest little smile. "Tony, my darling, please SAY it."

"Say it?" he said. "Say what?"

"I can't take everything for granted. Say it. Will you marry me?"

Tony could grin the widest grin. He was doing just that. "Will I? You bet I will! I've been waiting for you to ask me that. When?"

SMART NEW DRESSES AND HATS
Milady's Fashion Shop

I REMEMBER trying Postum years ago, and being disappointed because I expected it to taste like coffee. So I never tried it again, until . . .

Mary and I were talking and I said I wished there were a third hot mealtime drink. Mary said:

"There is! It's Postum!"

I told her I'd never thought of Postum that way before.

"Why," Mary said, "you've been thinking of Postum as a substitute. Postum is not a substitute for anything! It's a swell drink, and you mustn't expect it to taste like coffee or tea."

She made me a cup of Postum right on the spot. What a delightful surprise to discover that Postum is really a delicious drink with a hearty, full-bodied flavor you don't find in any other drink in the world!

A Favorite in Millions of Homes

Postum is such a wonderful drink for everyone in the family, from children to grandparents. It contains no caffein, no stimulant of any kind. Millions of people drink it regularly.

If you haven't tried Postum recently, you're in for a pleasant surprise. Your first sip will show you why. Economical, too.

Buy Postum today . . . Postum Cereal Beverage, the kind you boil or percolate; or Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup or pot by simply adding hot water.

POSTUM

"Now, how did I ever get that idea?"

I FELT LIKE HIDING WHEN MY MOTHER-IN-LAW SAID— "YOUR CLOTHES LOOK ONLY HALF-WASHED!"

THEN SHE EXPLAINED— "NO MATTER HOW YOU DO YOUR WASH YOU NEED SUNLIGHT'S 'EXTRA-SOAPINESS' FOR THOSE EXTRA-DIRTY SPOTS"

Stubborn Spots Vanish—Safely!

YOU, TOO, WILL BE ASTONISHED to see how much brighter and sweeter-smelling clothes come washed the Sunlight way. Grimiest work clothes, the most soiled towels, play suits and bed linens turn out spotlessly clean when you put a touch of Sunlight to them. Yes, just a touch of this amazing soap on the most soiled parts does the trick. For Sunlight instantly leaves a film of soap where it comes in contact with the dirt . . . and as you wash, Sunlight whips up into the richest, deepest-cleansing lather you ever saw!

No rubbing needed

THINK OF IT! There's no hard rubbing needed when Sunlight's "extra-soapiness" gets to work on grimy spots. That saves the clothes—and you, too! And best of all, clothes come brighter all over. No danger of anyone saying your clothes look streaky or "half-washed" when you use the Sunlight method. Sunlight is all pure soap—safe for colors. Get Sunlight today!

SPEEDIEST, EASIEST DISHWASHING EVER!

• The moment you touch Sunlight Soap you can feel how much more soapy it is. This "extra-soapiness" makes quick work of grease and stuck-on food particles. So use Sunlight for dishwashing and all cleaning, too. See how dishes, silver, glasses sparkle! And Sunlight is so kind to hands.

FOR A COMPLETE WASHING JOB— YOU CAN'T DO WITHOUT SUNLIGHT

FEAR FOR YOUR ACES

AGGRESSIVE bidding of one or two suits by an opponent should always warn you against over-valuing the defensive value of your high cards. You should even have a certain amount of fear for your aces in such circumstances. One or more of them is in danger of being ruffed because of a void suit. No statistics have ever been compiled to show what percentage of unsuccessful business doubles are due to this factor, but it is undoubtedly large.

North: ♠ 8 6 4 2 ♥ 4 ♦ K Q 7 5 ♣ J 7 5 4

West: ♠ Q J 7 5 ♥ J 5 2 ♦ 9 8 4 3 2 ♣ 6

East: ♠ A 10 9 3 ♥ A Q 10 ♦ A J 10 6 ♣ 10 3

South: ♠ K ♥ K 9 8 7 6 3 ♦ None ♣ A K Q 9 8 2

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 NT	Dbl
3 ♣	3 ♠	4 ♣	4 ♠
5 ♣	Pass	Pass	Dbl

East was sorry about the whole thing after South made his contract, losing tricks to only two of East's three aces. He had no apologies to offer, however, but merely figuratively kicked himself on the shins, confessing that he should have known better when South bid as he did.

The key to the situation was really South's second bid, 3-Clubs. That showed two things pronouncedly. One of them was that his hand was splendid if played on the offensive, at one of his two suits. The other was that he was not overly strong in high card values outside of his own suits, or otherwise he would have redoubled over East's double, or else might have passed first to see what would develop. There could not have been any earthly reason for such a jump bid over a double except extreme length in his own suits, with pretty fair solidity in secondary honors, and extreme shortage in the other suits.

Disregard of those obvious inferences caused East to hand his opponents some extra points by means of his dangerous double.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ A Q 10 2 ♥ K 4 ♦ K Q 7 6 ♣ J 9 3

West: ♠ 9 ♥ A 8 7 6 3 ♦ A 10 9 8 ♣ 4 2

East: ♠ K J 8 6 ♥ 4 ♦ 9 5 ♣ K Q 10 6

South: ♠ 7 5 3 ♥ Q J 10 2 ♦ J 4 ♣ A 8 7 5

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

How should South play this hand for 3-No Trumps after the diamond 10 is made as a bad lead after East's double, West having opened the bidding with a shaded 1-Heart?

Blackpool Plays to Draw With Manchester

LONDON, Jan. 10 (CP Cable) — The champions of the English football League's North Section Football in the first half of the season, Blackpool, are not finding the cup-qualifying games so easy.

They clashed with Manchester United Saturday for the first time this season and were held to a 1-1 draw at home. As a result the seasiders slipped into 17th place in the qualifying table. The first 32 teams enter the tournament proper after 10 preliminary games. Three have been played.

Stoke at home beat Aston Villa 1-0 and deposed them from the lead. Aided by Don Welsh, English International forward who scored twice, Manchester City rose to second place by beating Stockport 7-1.

Derby County ran up the day's highest score, trouncing Mansfield Town 16-0. Mac McCulloch, Scottish International centre, made an auspicious wartime debut for Derby, scoring five goals, victory jumped Derby from 26th to 13th place.

A crowd of 20,000 watched Everton defeated 3-1 by Liverpool. Among other cup matches, Coventry edged West Bromwich 3-2; Rochdale whitewashed Blackburn 4-0 and Chesterfield defeated Sheffield 2-1.

Although Arsenal maintained their lead in the League South by whipping Fulham 7-2, Brighton carried off scoring honors defeating Luton 8-0. The second-place Queen's Park Rangers beat Millwall 2-1 and the third placers, defeated Aldershot 3-1.

Glasgow Rangers remained two points in front of the Scottish Southern League by edging Dumbarton 1-0. The two teams tied for second place also won. They are Hibernians who trounced Celtic 4-0, and Greenock Morton who edged Hearts 3-0.

Nelson-Creston C.C.F. Indorses Agricultural Conferences, Suggests Kootenay Meet at Nelson

Indorsing the action of the Provincial Executive, as a result of suggestions by farmers, in making arrangements for regional agricultural conferences throughout the Province, the Nelson-Creston C. C. F. Council, meeting in Nelson, recommended that an East and West Kootenay agricultural conference should be held at Nelson.

The District Council met at Eagle Hall Saturday night, with Frank Frisby, Chairman, presiding. He placed before the organization several matters requiring attention and gave a report on activities. A number of questions to be brought before the Provincial Legislature were discussed.

H. W. Herridge, M.L.A. for Rossland-Trail, reported on activities of the Provincial Executive. He also dealt with several injuries as to the position of men who, at the time of enlisting, owed the Government income taxes. He stated he had been advised that income tax arrears remained a debt owed to the Government, but no attempt would be made to collect the debt while the men remained in the armed services.

The Council indorsed the stand taken by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, as outlined in his letter to Prime Minister Mackenzie King concerning arrangements for military and civilian medical services. A number of delegates reported there was widespread opposition to present plans in this connection.

The recently announced Beveridge Plan for social security in Britain was discussed. It was decided that, while the plan did provide for increased security for some classes of people, the Council could not give it unqualified indorsation as it anticipated mass unemployment and the continuation of the present competitive system.

Delegates from various parts of the riding reported on progress in their various communities in the organization of the Aid to Russia campaign. Their reports indicated all classes and sections were aware of the necessities of the Russian people and were cooperating to make the campaign a success. Frank Frisby and Spencer J. Newell were named delegates to the meeting called by Mayor N. C. Stibbs to organize the campaign in Nelson.

Canada In Line to Lead in Magnesium

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP)—Investigations recently carried out in laboratories of the Bureau of Mines for the production of magnesium chloride from asbestos indicate the possibility of Canada becoming a leading producer of magnesium, officials said today.

The Bureau reported preliminary small-scale experiments and a pilot plant operation have confirmed the feasibility of chemical reactions discovered by H. G. Wildman of Montreal in investigations conducted in his own home.

Canada now is producing 40 percent of the aluminum needs of the Allied nations and with its large sources of magnesium supply, especially the asbestos tailings, the Dominion appears to have the opportunity of becoming a leading producer of magnesium.

More than 200,000,000 tons of asbestos waste rock are available, with daily production of roughly 20,000 tons going to the dump.

The Wildman chemical process is described as simplifying plant design with an accompanying decrease in capital investment and the cost of production as compared with other processes.

Interpreting

The War News

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Official Axis war reports, never too reliable, may be expected to become more untruthful in this year of prospective United Nations successes.

Some of the victories which the Axis are no longer able to win in fact are almost certain to be created in fancy and dished out as fact, and the reverses they meet are sure to be offset in the propaganda of Berlin, Rome and Tokyo by distorted reports.

This has always been true of the claims made by Tokyo, even when the Japanese had things pretty much their own way. Back in the early days of their China conquest they would frequently announce terrific engagements with the Chinese air forces in which they destroyed 10, 12 or 20 planes and lost few if any of their own.

At that time the Chinese had no air force and the Japs were making their aerial forays without opposition. But the reports of "victories" naturally were good for home consumption and probably were designed also to dishearten the Chinese.

After Japan went to war with the U. S., the list of inaccuracies grew swiftly to ludicrous proportions. Shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Japs claimed that of 250 ships in the Pacific Fleet, they had destroyed all but one battleship and six cruisers, later they broadcast to North America that 80 per cent of the U. S. fleet was lost at Pearl Harbor. Similar information undoubtedly was given to their own people.

As their China sea campaign developed they not only reported their actual conquests but also began to sink American aircraft carriers right and left—in their reports. As they actually did damage the Lexington fatally in the Coral Sea they did not find out about it for a long time but meanwhile they said they had sunk two carriers, a battleship, two heavy cruisers, and a destroyer. In the battle itself one U. S. destroyer was sunk.

Berlin and Rome had a different record. During their land advances in Europe, the Germans gave a more apprehensive account of what was going on than could be had from allied sources. Being on the offensive, they knew better than their retreating opponents what was happening, and being victorious they had no reason to withhold or seriously distort the facts.

The Italians usually acknowledged blows dealt their sea forces by British naval squadrons but tried to offset it with drastic boasts and threats and vague optimism about the inevitability of victory for their side.

It is unlikely that the Germans or Italians will ever go to such lengths as the Japs in falsifying official reports. But with their controlled press and radio, false information is a weapon ready to their hands and it would be surprising if the Nazis and Fascists did not employ that weapon more and more as the tides of war roll against them.

U.S. Zinc Duty Cut May Aid Kootenay Mines

SPOKANE, Wash.—Benefits of a new agreement between the United States and Mexico providing for a reduction of the duty on the zinc entering the former is to be extended to Canada according to information reaching members of the American Zinc Institute.

This will aid Canadian zinc producers which have shipping agreements with United States smelters providing for deduction of the duty. In British Columbia chief beneficiaries would be Zincton Mines, Ltd., wholly owned subsidiary of Sheep Creek Gold Mines, Ltd., and Western Exploration Co., Ltd. A cut, as announced from 1.20c to 0.75c per pound, will prove of material assistance to this company.

Another company expected to benefit is Base Metals Mining corporation. In later agreements covering new British Columbia operations agreements have provided for purchase of the concentrates at the mine. The reduction is to be effective 30 days from proclamation of the new treaty.

The Reeves MacDonald property particularly will be benefited. It was stated in mining circles, with its program for the construction of a large zinc concentrating plant.

URGE LIBERAL ATTITUDE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—The statement of the American Zinc Institute, Inc., calling for adoption of a more liberal and expansive attitude in the premium price limits on the metal, as voiced by Ernest V. Gent, Secretary of the industry's trade and statistical organization, high-lighted dealings in nonferrous metal markets this week.

If ore is to be mined at home in keeping with needs of enlarged smelting capacity, Gent said, "it appears obvious that the steadily falling grade of ore available must be utilized regardless of the increased cost of mining and milling such ore."

Gent said mine production outlook beyond 1943 was not particularly cheerful, but if immediate difficulties were taken in hand promptly and dealt with the future should be shaped along more effective lines.

Overbasic quota zinc production receives a premium price of 11 cents a pound, East St. Louis, under the premium price incentive plan, compared with the regular price of 8.25 cents.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP)—Conditional release of Marc Carriere of Montreal from detention under the Defence of Canada regulations was ordered by Justice Minister St. Laurent today.

The Justice Department stated Carriere's release was on the recommendation of an advisory board which held a hearing on his case Dec. 31.

It was also stated that Carriere expressed regret for the conduct which led to his detention and "undertook to the best of his ability to assist in the National War effort and to comply with the requirements of the law."

Carriere was detained Nov. 20 following a speech in the Montreal Outremont Federal by-election campaign in which he was reported to have said he had received a notice to report under the compulsory military service law and had ignored it.

Subsequently it was stated by authorities that Carriere was not in a medical category which would involve his being called out for training. He sought release from confinement by way of habeas corpus proceedings in the Quebec courts but his application was dismissed.
