2ND ARMY TAKES GERMAN CITY

Important City Falls to Russ

Gyongyos, Seven-Way Road Hub, Taken; Heavy Budapest Fighting

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP)—Russian troops, in a six-mile push beyond the severed Budapest-Miskolc railway, today captured the important communications centre of Gyongyos, 40 miles Northeast of the Hungarian capital and only 23 miles South of the old Czechoslovak border, Moscow announced tonight.

Seven other localities were captured on a front extending from the approaches to Miskolc, 85 miles Northeast of Budapest, down to the area of Hatvan, key rail junction 26 miles from the capital, the bulletin said.

Berlin said the battle East of Budapest had entered a new assault phase with the Russians now massing 35 infantry divisions and seven motorized corps, possibly 400,000 men, around the Hungarian capital.

The Germans admitted heavy fighting just North of Gyomro, 10 miles East-Southeast of Budapest, and also acknowledged a Russian entry into Gyongyos, a seven-way road hub in the foothill of the Matra Mountains 40 miles Northeast of Budapest. Violent street fighting is going on in Gyongyos, the enemy broadcast added.

In the Baltic, off the West Estonian Coast, the Russians were reported by Berlin to have thrown three divisions of 30,000 men and strong tank forces against narrow Sworbe Peninsula, the Southwestern tip of Saare Island dominating the entrance to the Gulf of Riga.

The guns of Russian warships shelled German lines in support of the land strike which breached German defences to an undisclosed depth, Berlin said. An attempted Soviet landing from the sea behind the German lines failed, the enemy claimed.

Saare, a 1,010-square-mile island, was invaded late in September by Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army forces who also overran the neighboring islands of Vormsi, Ristna and Muhu. All of Saare except the Sworbe Peninsula has been conquered. The spit of land is only 16 miles across the Riga Gulf mouth from Latvia and 90 miles Northwest of fallen Riga, Latvian capital and port.

The Russians need to wrest Sworbe from the enemy to free completely the Gulf of Riga for possible amphibious assaults against the German Baltic Sea flank.

Bolivian Revolt Quickly Put Down Gov't Says

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Government announced tonight that quick counter-measures had put down a revolt in the city of Oruro but said troops and aviation units were en route to keep order.

A country-wide state of siege was decreed by President Gualberto Villaroel.

A preliminary communique said leaders of the plot had been arrested but a later announcement indicated they still were free.

Expects Good Number of Que. Volunteers

MONTREAL, Nov. 19 (CP) — Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, Minister of National War Services, said in a statement here tonight that with the organization he helped set up in Quebec last week "it is evident that it is possible to send overseas a good number of trained volunteers to maintain the (French-Canadian) units now in action when they will require reinforcements."

"More than ever, I am confident that French-Canadians will make it a point of honor to back up our brothers and sons who are on the firing line," he added.

"With reference to the problem of finding reinforcements for French-Canadian regiments overseas, I have passed three days at Montreal with the object of perfecting the organization needed to attain our objective. The first appeal will be made to men already in camps and trained; later we shall find it necessary to create a reserve of volunteers so that, at no time, will the French-Canadian regiments be threatened with a shortage of reinforcements.

"I have met the commanding officers of the different French-Canadian battalions and training camps in the province of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. It is a pleasure for me to emphasize the spirit of collaboration they have demonstrated in our interviews.

"From all these conversations, it is evident that it is possible to send overseas a good number of trained volunteers to maintain the units now in action whe nthey will require reinforcements. More than ever, I am confident that French-Canadians will make it a point of honor to back up our brothers and sons who are on the firing line."

Senate Leader, Coldwell Reach Ottawa

OTTAWA, Nov. 19 (CP) — Hon. J. H. King, Government Leader in the Senate, and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader in the Commons, arrived in Ottawa today to prepare for the reassembling of Parliament on Wednesday.

Senator King said he expected the Senate, which has been called for 2 p.m. Wednesday, would adjourn in time for the Senators to listen to the proceedings in the Commons which opens at 3 p.m. The Upper Chamber would likely meet again on Thursday when the Members would have an opportunity to discuss the Government's stand on the reinforcement question.

Mr. Coldwell thought there were some figures which the Members of the House should have which could not be made puolic without assisting the enemy and these should be given in a secret session. However, the main debates should be in the open.

Arrangements have been made for caucuses of the Progressive Conservatives and the C.C.F. members on Tuesday but no steps have yet been taken to hold a caucus of the Liberals which has given rise to the belief the Government supporters will await the first day's House proceedings.

Jap Battleship, Cruiser Hit by Bombers

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 19—(AP)—Headquarters today reported the damaging of a Japanese battleship and a heavy cruiser in Allied air strikes from the Philippines to the East Indies. Twelve enemy cargo ships were sunk or damaged.

Heavy bombers hit the enemy base on Brunei Bay, on the coast of Sarawak, British North Borneo, Thursday. They scored five direct hits on an enemy battleship and four on a heavy cruiser. The warships were set afire.

Ammunition Shortage Delayed Fall of Aachen—Eisenhower

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, PARIS, Nov. 19 (AP) — The reduction of the German fortress city of Aachen was delayed by a shortage of ammunition, Gen. D. Eisenhower said today.

Gen. Eisenhower declared also that "Allied fighting men have achieved in Europe since June 6 one of the most remarkable military victories of all time. They have eliminated more than a million German soldiers."

The Allied Supreme Commander appealed to munitions workers in the United States to turn out ammunition, especially artillery shells, at top speed. In an address on the Army Hour program, broadcast in the United States over N.B.C., Gen. Eisenhower emphasized the enormous drain on ammunition resulting from the stepped-up tempo of the war.

"Today we are firing ammunition that we would not have used until next February or March if we had been content with slower advance, with less crushing victories, or if we had been ready to sacrifice soldiers to save materials," he said.

In the capture of Aachen, he reported, the 1st Army used 300,000 rounds of 105-millimetre ammunition in a two-weeks' period "and even so the reduction of that place was delayed because of shortage of ammunition."

"Now we are hammering at the massive crust of armor surrounding the German fortress," Gen. Eisenhower added. "Appalling conditions of rain, fog, snow and mud make difficult the employment of our air forces and the manoeuvre of our tanks, even of our foot soldiers. But wretched weather cannot stop artillery shells. More than ever before we need ammunition."

Expenditure of ammunition has "raced ahead of our receipts from home, but I know that you do not want us to give the enemy one second's rest," he said.

The Supreme Commander said 5000 rounds of ammunitions are being poured into German defences every minute. Six million rounds of artillery fire and 2,00,0000 rounds of mortar fire are being hurled at the Germans each month.

GERMAN CITIES SHAKE UNDER DUAL AIR BLOW

91 Enemy Planes Destroyed in Munich Attack

HIT OIL AREAS

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP) — Allied aircraft today gave support to the Allied smash along the Western front while British-based heavy bombers were grounded due to bad weather following a double-punch which 900 R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. Lancasters and Hallifaxes threw at Munster and the Ruhr Saturday.

But Allied bomber fleets from Italy smashed at Germany's Southern supply bases in rounding out a weekend which saw nearly 5,000 Allied planes loose a tornado of destruction on enemy front positions and rear areas.

An R.A.F. spokesman said "there has never been anything like" the dual Munster-Ruhr blow.

Railways and waterways at Munster were blasted by a force of about 500 R.A.F. and Canadian Hallifaxes late Saturday. Then Saturday night Lancasters attacked a synthetic oil plant at Wanne Eickel and reported "many explosions and the glow of large fires" on clouds over the Ruhr.

A fleet of 1250 United States bombers, divided into two formations each more than 600 strong, struck for the second successive day at the sources of supply for German troops facing the American Army charging on the Saar and the Russians pushing through Hungary.

The heavyweights struck at oil targets in the Vienna area and at Linz, 95 miles farther West, while fighter-bombers flying to the support of the Russians strafed traffic between Vienna and Budapest.

A recount of Saturday's bold strike by 400 American fighters on a 1200-mile round trip flight from Britain to Munich that saw them shoot up oil depots, showed they destroyed 91 enemy planes — 27 in the air and 64 on the ground. This was five more than first reported.

Eight aircraft are missing of the 16 reported last night. Eight landed in France.

One jet plane was shot down and 30 others were destroyed by strafing aground.

Americans Land in Asia Islands

MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS Philippines, Nov. 20 (Monday) (AP)—American forces have landed in the Asia Islands, 130 miles North of Sorong, New Guinea, Headquarters reported today.

The Asia landing was made Sunday, while mopping-up operations in the occupation of the Mapia Group were completed, a communique announced.

The Asia Group lies about 180 miles due West of the Mapias, and presumably also was used as a lookout station for Japanese spotting the departure of bombing flights for Northward targets.

Headquarters disclosed that a British warship was the flagship for the first time in an amphibious operation in the Southwest Pacific, when it led the force making the Mapia landing Nov. 15. The warship also participated in the preceding naval bombardment.

Gen. MacArthur reported in yesterday's communique that American heavy bombers damaged a Japanese battleship and a heavy cruiser off Borneo. At the same time he announced landings on Fanildo Island, third islet in the Mapia Group to be invaded. Mopping up was underway on nearby Bras Island.

Winnipeg Bakers Postpone Strike

WINNIPEG, Nov. 19 (CP) — A mass meeting of Winnipeg bakery workers last night decided to postpone threatened strike action pending reconsideration of their application for increased wages and improved working conditions by the Manitoba Regional War Labor Board.

After a 2 hour debate the workers decided to accept an offer of the Federal Government to have the Board rehear the entire case a statement issued after the meeting said.

SAYS SCHACHT ARRESTED AGAIN

ZURICH, Nov. 19 (CP Reuter) — A report from Germany Saturday claimed that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former President of the Reichbank, who was recently released following his arrest for complicity in the plot to assassinate Hitler, has been arrested again.

8TH RUNS INTO NEW BARRIER IN COAST ZONE

'Takes Small Hamlet; U.S. Patrols Make Deep Slashes

ROME, Nov. 19 (AP) — The British 8th Army, battling into the Southeastern tip of the Po Valley across innumerable rivers and canals, after breaking through the Gothic line, has run up against a new delaying line along the Adriatic coast sector, Allied headquarters said today.

The communique said the line runs along the Montone River South West from Ravenna near the coast, across Highway Nine between captured Forli and Faenza and Southwest into the hills in the Monte Fortino area where Polish troops were reported engaged in bitter fighting with the enemy.

British troops on the East flank of the Polish soldiers captured the small hamlet of Golfara, about 1000 yards East of Monte Fortino.

North of the Ghiaia Canal and West of the Adriatic coast road, armored troops have reached buildings on the Forli-Ravina road at a point 1½ miles West of Ravenna airdrome.

In Central Italy on the stalemated Bologna sector American patrols of the 5th Army made deep penetrations of German positions, the communique said with sharp skirmishes developing.

45,000 Jap Dead and Wounded on Leyte Island

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 20 (Monday)—(AP)—Gen. MacArthur announced today that Japanese dead and wounded on Leyte Island have exceeded 45,000 since the Philippines were invaded Oct. 20, compared to United States' casualties of 5691 dead, wounded and missing.

New reports told of bloody fighting around Limon, at the northern end of the Ormoc corridor.

American ground forces broke a vicious Japanese counter-attack and held firmly to their road block across Ormoc highway, as tank-led Japanese attempted to send reinforcements to remnants of a reinforced regiment surrounded at Limon.

The breakdown of American casualties was 1133 killed, 126 missing and 4432 wounded, a communique said.

Enemy Fighter May Have Shot Down Mallory Plane

LONDON, Nov. 19 (CP) — The R.A.F. plane carrying Air Chief Marshal Sir Trafford Leigh-Mallory and his party to India, reported missing last night, may have been the victim of an enemy long-range fighter, it was speculated here today.

Sir Trafford was en route to take up his new post as Allied Air Commander-in-Chief in Southeast Asia.

Early Christmas Thrills Boy Who May Not Live to See Real One

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 19 (AP)—Forest (Nubbins) Hoffman was overwhelmed with joy when he awoke today for his "Christmas".

"Today's Christmas", were the first words of the three-year-old boy who may not live until Dec. 25 to enjoy Santa Claus' visit with other children.

There's my puppy," shouted Nubbins, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Hoffman, arranged for his Christmas today because they fear a bladder affliction may take their son's life before the Yuletide.

"Oh, there's Sant," he cried exultantly, and rapturously shook hands with St. Nick—Charles B. Dilbeck of Cheyanne.

He admired a pile of gifts that Santa estimated contained 250 packages from persons and organizations throughout the nation.

Nubbins posed at a window for photographers and for friends gathered outside the house.

Besides a toy automobile—gift of William Jeffers, President of the Union Pacific Railroad—there were a teddy bear, a stuffed kangaroo almost as large as the 22-pound Nubbins himself; presents from his parents which he himself had picked out, including a toy jeep, battleship, wooden freight train and candy-filled locomotive. The puppy came from a friend of Nubbins' father on the railroad.

The little boy was so happy today that he didn't even notice there was no snow.

Relatives of Men Returning Will Be Notified

OTTAWA, Nov. 19 (CP) — Next-of-kin are to be notified when their relatives overseas are granted leave under the plan announced recently by Defence Minister McNaughton, it was learned Saturday.

Full details of the leave plan by which it is hoped to have some men home by Christmas, are expected to be announced during the weekend.

Two Dead in Murder, Suicide, Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP)—Arthur Otto Schultz, 37, of Vernon, B. C., and George McGunigle, 38, are dead and Schultz's sister, Mrs. Grace Varney, 32, is in hospital with injuries suffered in what police described as a mudrer-suicide committed in suburban Maillardville today.

Mrs. Varney, a divorcee and a schoolteacher at Port Coquitlam, B. C., had lived with McGunigle, police said. She had left for school Friday and did not return to her home until today when Schultz also arrived from Vernon in answer to a summons from his sister.

Schultz and his sister went to McGunigle's house to pack Mrs. Varney's effects and an argument ensued in which Schultz was knocked unconscious by a blow on the head with the stock of a rifle.

Mrs. Varney told police McGunigle attempted to choke her and bit her on the forehead. She ran from the house and shortly after that heard a shot.

Police found Schultz dead in a bedroom, shot through the cheek. Powder burns indicated that the muzzle of the gun apparently had been placed directly on Schultz's face beofre it was fired.

McGunigle was lying dead in another bedroom with a bullet hole through his temple, a gun lying beside him.

McGunigle's eight - year - old daughter lived with the couple. She was sent outside by her father before the row started.

Report Hun Positions at St. Nazaire Are Penetrated

LONDON, Nov. 18 (CP Reuter) — The German News Agency reported today that the Allies, after strong artillery preparation, penetrated the German positions at St. Nazaire, Bay of Biscay port left far to the rear in the Allied drive toward Germany.

The German garrison at St. Nazaire, a famous U-boat port before the invasion, has been estimated at 30,000 and includes sailors and marines under Gen. Junck.

Retention of this port, along with Lorient, La Rochelle and the mouth of the Gironde, was part of a German plan to deny as many of the Atlantic ports as possible to the Allies, thus increasing the Allied supply problem.

BRITISH FIGHT ALONGSIDE TITO'S TROOPS

Paratroops Aiding Albanians; Huns Quit Tirana

ROME, Nov. 19 (AP) — British troops of the land forces of the Adriatic—the same outfit which began the Allied invasion of Greece last September—now are fighting alongside Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Army in Montenegro and Hercegovina and are in contact with the enemy, Allied headquarters announced today.

The communique also reported that British paratroops have landed and are aiding Albanian forces in harassing retreating Germans between the Adriatic coast and Lake Ochrid on the Yugoslav East Albanian border and just North of the Greek frontier.

Strong enemy fortifications at Risan, located at the head of the Bay of Kolorska in Southwestern Yugoslavia, were heavily shelled by British artillery.

The Germans announced Saturday night the abandonment of Tirana, Albanian capital, to Albanian patriots, and now hold only the Northern part of the country around Scutari and Kukes and the port of Durazzo, West of Tirana.

Invasion of Montenegro and Hercegovina, Yugoslav provinces along the Adriatic just North of Albania, threatens to cut off the retreat of those Germans attempting to hold the line in Northern Albania.

Pipeline to China Near End

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 19 (AP)—A two-year blanket of secrecy was lifted today with disclosure by American Army Headquarters here that the main portion of a fuel pipeline which ultimately will reach from Calcutta across Burma had been completed. It is already the longest military operational pipeline in the world.

When completed it will at least have double the capacity of the Ledo Road, which it was built to supplement. Allied forces in North Burma already are being supplied gasoline by it.

(A dispatch from Chungking said the line runs from Calcutta through the Brahmajutra Valley to Assam and then across the Patkai Range and is constructed of four and six-inch pipes.)

One part of the system is used to fill the gigantic tanks of superfortresses in India and one of its major tasks is to feed gasoline into the planes ferrying fuel to Maj.-Gen. Claire Chennault's U.S. 14th Air Force in China.

Swedish Gov't to Better Relations With Soviet Union

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 19 (AP) — Finnish Premier Juho K. Paasikivi said Saturday the program of his newly installed government would be to observe the armistice terms with Russia "scrupulously and to effect better relations with the Soviet Union."

In an interview at Helsinki with a correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Tidningen Paasikivi added that "it would be better to wish me luck rather than to congratulate me."

Report Hitler Suffering From Jaundice

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 19 (CP Reuter)—Hitler was reported Saturday to be suffering from jaundice but the illness was said to be kept secret because jaundite is an unromantic disease and can be caused by shock—such as a bomb explosion.

Road Hub Falls; Nazi Stand West of Rhine Cracking

LONDON, Nov. 19 (CP)—Allied armies fought Eastward from Holland to the Alps today as British and American forces captured Geilenkirchen, 12 miles North of Aachen, American troops invested one-third of Metz and the junction city of Blamont 40 miles West of Strasbourg was seized.

The Swiss Radio said the French 1st Army had fought into Belfort, on the Southern route of invasion into Germany, and had struck into the Proyince of Alsace to capture two other towns in a thrust 18 miles East of Belfort.

East of Aachen the United States 1st Army lunged forward four miles in suddenly fluid fighting amid strong indications the bitter German stand West of the Rhine was cracking at last.

First word that the British 2nd Army was operating in any strength in Germany came in field dispatches Saturday, and today the road hub of Gielenkirchen fell to British tanks and American infantry operating under British Command.

(About two months ago British Army patrols were reported to have entered German territory East of Nijmegen but this was the first time Lt.-Gea. Dempsey's forces have driven into Germany in force.)

There was still no indication of any major activity along the Hollandsche Diepe-Maas River front running across Holland, a front reached by the 1st Canadian Army and by British 2nd Army formations nearly two weeks ago.

Here was the situation tonight on the sectors extending some 400 miles South from Southeast Holland to the French-Swiss border.

British 2nd Army forces, including American infantry, struck into the heart of the Siegfried line positions by capturing Gielenkirchen. Units reached Suggerath, 2½ miles North-east of Gielenkirchen.

To the Northwest, Gen. Dempsey's forces continued their drive to eliminate the German pocket West of the Maas River in Southeast Holland, reaching to a point near Helden, 7½ miles Southwest of Venlo, a main gateway into Germany from Holland.

(A Reuter war correspondent in a field dispatch from Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters said: "The great new Allied drive on German soil is going well" and a spokesman for the field marshal said "it has been a day of slow, steady progress.")

The American 9th and 1st armies, were attacking in close conjunction with the British 2nd, and the joint drive threatened both Julich and Duren, Northeast and East of Aachen.

British and American soldiers punched out gains along a 15-mile sector in the Aachen area, with one advance to Eschweiler, eight miles East and slightly North of Aachen, accomplished a bloodless, ghostly night assault. A town of 50,000, Eschweiler is 28 miles West of Cologne.

Men of the 9th Army took Setterich, five miles Southeast of Gielenkirschen and also battled Northeast of Eschweiler. A field dispatch said they fought to the outskirts of Apweiler, three miles East of Geilenkirchen, and Warden, three miles Northwest of Eschweiler, and entered Weiden, four miles West of Eschweiler. The 9th Army destroyed between 20 and 30 enemy tanks in 25 hours, the dispatch added.

REACH HITLER HIGHWAY

The 1st Army's surge carried to the outskirts of Eschweiler and put American soldiers astride the fine Adolf Hitler military highway to Cologne and the Rhine. Some units cut in Southeast of Eschweiler.

The 1st Army's four-mile advance was the greatest gain since the big offensive opened four days ago.

"There are strong indications the enemy is reaching the breaking point in one area under the terrible weight of the 1st Army's attack," Don Whitehead, Associated Press War correspondent, reported tonight from the front. There are signs, he said, that "the tough crust of Nazi resistance protecting the outer fringes of the Rhineland has been smashed in spots," but "there is no breakthrough by the 1st Army" as yet.

First Army men won the town of Hamich Southeast of industrial Eschweiler after a see-saw battle, then pushed on and captured Hamich ridge, the high ground used by Germans to spot American movements.

Some 15 or more towns were seized in advances from Southeast of Eschweiler to the Geilenkirchen area.

For the first time in the Aachen offensive, German planes opposed the Allied air attack, but American pilots claimed 15 enemy aircraft downed, while losing one.

On the 3rd Army front, Metz was falling to American assault— the first time in 1500 years that it has been taken in direct attack. Third Army forces struck into Germany at new points and infantry broke into the fortress city of Metz and in a four-way squeeze.

By tonight the Americans had won one-third of the fortress town from befuddled German defenders, many of them "people's army" with arm bands as the only vestige of uniforms.

Metz' escape gap had been shut, and the Germans were in wholesale retreat all along the 3rd Army front toward the Saar Basin, a front dispatch declared with Lt.-Gen. Patton's men driving ahead to the frontier of that rich industrial province. Planes hammered the fleeing enemy columns, knocking out more than 250 transport vehicles.

At Metz, AP Correspondent Lewis Hawkins tonight said "early completion of the first successful storming of the fortress city appeared certain as the American speed disrupted defensive plans."

Units of the 95th Division broke into Metz from the Northeast, North and Northwest, and men of the 5th Division invaded from the Southeast. The 5th Division by-passed Fort Queuleu and many surprised German troops surrendered without resistance, Hawkins said. The city was cut off.

The wholesale German withdrawal along the 3rd Army front began Saturday noon, he added, in a retreat toward Saarlautern, Saarbrucken and Saareguemines. Pilots hammering these columns reported the best transport-hunting since the German retreat from Avranches in Normandy.

Third Army troops and armor were piling up to or over the German border on a 15-mile front angling Southeast from the Luxembourg frontier. The United States 10th Armored division made a new crossing into Germany near Launstroff and pressed close to the frontier at two other points.

Earlier the 3rd Army had taken the towns of Besch and Wochern in Germany near Luxembourg, and several villages farther South in France.

From Nov. 8 through Saturday, the 3rd Army took 11,304 prisoners.

The United States 7th Army farther South also scored brilliantly, capturing the junction city of Blamont only 40 miles from dozen other towns, some scorched Strasbourg and overrunning a by German torch.

The 7th Army was beating steadily toward the entrances to gaps in the Vosges Mountains. Blamont, an important highway centre, fell soon after capture of Raon-L'Etape, 13 miles farther South. Other troops stood before St. Die, another 10 miles Southeast.

The Swiss radio, in addition to reporting the French 1st Army had fought into the gateway city of Belfort, said other forces swung around some 18 miles to the East, seizing the Alsace towns of Dannemarie and Altkirch and threatening to seal off German defenders inside the trap.

At Altkirch, the French would be in Alsace eight miles South of Mulhouse at the Eastern end of the gap 13 miles from the German border at the Rhine. While there was no Allied confirmation, the Paris radio broadcast a French war bulletin saying its army had entered Alsace.

West Kootenay-Boundary Farmers Ask Cheap Power Rural Areas; to Collect Data for Commission

A resolution sponsored by the Robson and District Farmers Institute son and District Farmers nstitute, calling on the Provincial Government to do all in its power to "bring electric light and power to as many rural areas as possible, at rates within the reach of the average rural dweller," was adopted by the West Kootenay-Boundary Central Farmers Institute. in annual session at Nelson Saturday.

The convention requested the Robson and Fruitvale Institutes to collect data as to charges for electric light and power, to be laid before the Central Institute for presentation to the Public Utilities Commission.

Balfour Institute submitted a resolution calling upon the Provincial Government to revise the School Act with a view to removing the heavy school taxation on land. This was adopted, being in line with the Central Institute's representations for years past

A resolution from the Arrow Lakes Institute, that convention minutes be read over at the close in order to prevent any mistakes or misunderstanding, was adpoted.

REVERT TO SUMMER ANNUAL

Another resolution was adpoted making the Summer meeting the annual meeting and the November meeting the semi-annual meeting. This restored the constitutional status under which the West Kootenay Institutes operated until the last year or two.

H. C. Carne gave a review of the vegetable marketing condition in this district.

It was agreed to apply for affiliation with the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, and its submission on "Social Security" was endorsed. H. W. Herridge was named as delegate to the Federation's convention.

The conventinon's work consumed the entire day sessions being held in the City Council Chamber.

MAYOR WELCOMES DELEGATES

After registration of delegates President O. B. Ballard called upon Mayor N. C. Stibbs to open the gathering. Mayor Stibbs said that though the ranchers might be small in numbers, yet they were big in power in convention. The City was pleased to have those who tilled the soil here in Nelson. During this war many had been educated to see how essential were those who raise products from the land. He extended best wishes for every success for the Institutes' deliberations, and that they might benefit from new recruits.

R. H. Bowlby, speaking for the Nelson Board of Trade, extended best wishes for a successful meeting. He asserted the farmer needed all the help he could get, but he hoped the bad times were now past.

The matter of the defatting of beef carcasses, and of the price paid to farmers for kidneys, etc., was discussed at length. It was decided to gather data and to forward them to the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, and request some action at Ottawa in interests of beef producers in outlying district who were far removed from packing plants.

P. S. Beatt suggested the solution was getting together and shipping in carlots.

O. B. Appleton, Advisory Board member, stated there had been no meeting of the Advisory Board since the last Cntral Meeting at Robson, and he had no report to offer.

Secretary - Treasurer B. Holliday Smith gave a brief report of a meeting of the Nelson Rehabilitation Committee he had attended. There had been no meeting with the Associated Fruit Growers owing to pressure of crop movement.

BALLARD RE-ELECTED

H. W. Herridge, M.L.A., for Rossland-Trail, was asked to take the chair for the election of officers. For President there were two nominations, O. B. Ballard and W. Shipmaker. R. Main and Noele Brown were appointed by the chair as scrutineers. The election resulted as follows: President, O. B. Ballard, Robson; First Vice-President, W. Shipmaker, Edgewood; Second Vice-President, F. Abey, Kaslo; Advisory Board Member, O. B. Appleton, Procter with W. Shipmaker as alternative; Secretary-Treasurer, B. Holliday Smith, Nelson; Auditor, R. Foxall, Nelson.

E. C. Hunt, District Horticulturist, gave a brief report saying that a lot of work had been done in connection with mealy bug control. New material had been tested out this year, and supplies appeared available, being in the form of salts to be put in the spray tank, and not requiring heating. Mealy bug was reported back in 1922 in Nova Scotia and B.C. and was a menace in this district; in the Okanagan, with a drier climate, it was not so bad. One application in dormant spray fairly late had given results by count of 26 bugs left, against 500 on test check unsprayed.

In the afternoon the financial report was presented, having been audited by Thomas Hunter of Vallican. Receipts totalled $179.08, and expenditures, $119.69, leaving a balance in hand of $59.39.

He reported the Central Institutes had affiliated during the year witn the Nelson Board of Trade and with the Industrial Reconstruction and Social Development Council.

Official delegates to the meeting were C. Ehl, Nakusp, for Arrow Lakes; T. Hunter, Vallican, for Lower Slocan Valley; M. Quance, Robson; F. Abey, Kaslo, for Kootenay Lake; E. Bailey, Trail, for Winlaw; J. Egloff, Edgewood for Inonoaklin Valley; Capt. P. Hartridge, Balfour.

Executive Members attending were O. B. Ballard, Robson; W. Shipmaker, Edgewood; O. B. Appleton, Sunshine Bay; Capt. P. Hartridge, Balfour; B. Holliday Smith, Nelson.

Visitors included H. W. Herridge, M.L.A., Trail; R. Main, Major Turner Lee, Noel Brown, Bonnington; M. Major, Procter; Mayor N. C. Stibbs, P. S. Beatt, H. C. Carne, E. C. Hunt, R. H. Bowlby and C. F. McHardy, Nelson.

Return of Airmen to Civil Life Confuses N.S.S.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — Unemployment is "increasing somewhat" but there is no cause for alarm, Horace Keetch, Selective Service Director here, said yesterday.

"We have to be very cautious about forecasting any changes in the employment picture," he said.

Announcement by the R.C.A.F. that several thousand men will be returned to civil life in Vancouver during the next few months has Selective Service officials confused.

"We don't know what percentage actually is returning to civilian life and what percentage will be going into the Army," said Mr. Keetch. "Until we do it is difficult for us to make arrangements to see that they are helped to re-establish themselves.

Bombard Island

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 19 (AP) —Striking within 750 miles of Tokyo, American warships bombarded Iwo Island Nov. 10, causing several explosions and large fires visible 35 miles at sea, United States Pacific Fleet Headquarters announced today.

The Japanese apparently were so surprised that they put only one plane in the air and their shore batteries replied lightly and ineffectually.

Dr. Alward, Prince George, Heads B.C. Conservatives

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — Dr. R. W. Alward, of Prince George, B.C., was elected President of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association at the annual meeting here Saturday, succeeding C. B. Garland of Nelson.

Other officers included: W. Jones, Agassiz, First Vice-President; Fred Davey, Saanich, Second Vice-President; Mrs. Agnes Johnson, Ashcroft, Third Vice-President.

Belgians Call for Pierlot Gov't Resignation

BRUSSELS, Nov. 19 (AP)—Steel-helmeted Belgian police with rifles slung over their shoulders patrolled the streets of this capital tonight in the wake of a demonstration by an estimated 15,000 marchers, shouting for resignation of the Pierlot government and singing "The International."

Embittered by the government's demand for surrender of all firearms and an acute shortage of food, a mile-long column paraded through the city with cries of "A bas Pierlot" (down with Pierlot).

The Hammer and Sickle insignia of Soviet Russia and Communist Red flags were predominant on banners.

About half the marchers were women and there was a considerable sprinkling of men in Belgian army uniforms. Beneath tunics there were unmistakable bulges of revolvers and some ill-concealed rifles. One hysterical shot, it was avident, could easily have meant blood but police were patient and reported "no incidents."

In streets off the line of march Allied troops and armored cars were held in readiness with equipment for street barricades.

One of the major complaints seemed to be government reluctance to seize and try political and business bigwigs who allegedly have been sympathizers or supporters of the Germans and who now are in high government posts and running the country's business.

Coast Business Man Seriously Injured in Crash

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP)—Brenton S. Brown, 62, of Vancouver, provincial manager of the Crown Life Insurance Co., was seriously burned and injured when his auto caught fire after colliding with another car at an intersection here tonight.

Police said driver of the other auto was A. Galloway, of Vancouver, who sustained minor injuries.

Mr. Brown is prominent in British Columbia Liberal circles.

Coast Man Killed

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — D. McMillan, 65, of North Vancouver was fatally injured and his wife suffered shock when they walked into the path of an auto at an intersection here Saturday. Police said the driver of the car, Jack Hay of North Vancouver, started forward just as Mr. and Mrs. McMillan cut in front of the car.

THANK PEOPLE FOR BIG LOAN SUBSCRIPTION

May Possibly Reach $1,500,000,000 Say Radio Speakers

OTTAWA, Nov. 19 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Finance Minister Ilsley and Graham Towers, General Chairman of the War Finance Committee, tonight broadcast their thanks to the people of Canada for subscribing more than $1,500,000,000 to the Seventh Victory Loan.

The speakers said that during the seventh loan's three-week campaign for $1,300,000,000 Canadians had subscriber possibly as much as $1,510,000,000. The campaign closed a week ago and on the basis of preliminary statistics subscriptions now totalled $1,500,079,000.

"It is particularly significant that, in the sixth year of war, the people of this country did not slacken their efforts," said Mr. King. "They increased them."

"Nothing could disclose more clearly the determination of our people to put forth, in every direction, the utmost effort towards the winning of the war."

"Each new anticipation of early victory has only served as a spur to our efforts. No finer example can be found than in that portion of the seventh loan composed of the purchase of individuals. Here the minimum objective was $600,000,000—a vastly larger sum than ever before asked—and yet you bought more than $750,000,000."

Mr. Towers had a special word of thanks for the 100,000 canvassers whose work was to a great extent responsible for the the success of the loan. He also thanked members of the clergy, the newspapers, the radio and the motion picture stars who had contributed to the success.

Safe Air Travel Goal of Experts

CHICAGO, Nov. 19 (CP)—Safe, efficient and economical air travel over al lthe world is the goal of experts from 54 nations at the International Civil Aviation Conference which enters its 20th day of deliberations tomorrow.

The experts made their aims partially known during the weekend as they waited for the expected break in a week-old dead-lock between Canadian, United Kingdom and United States delegates over the draft of a convention for future control of international flying.

It was generally believed that the draft convention would be presented to a plenary session of the conference tomorrow, approved by the three delegations and by those from a number of other countries represented.

The technicians, who agreed on the necessity of adopting a convention in the operational field, have proceeded independently of the deliberations on economic and political issues with which many delegation leaders are concerned. These latter have been in a state of expectation since Friday, with the next important step—and even the fate of the conference—resting on the reply from London, which is hoped for by Monday.

The Technical Committee held a plenary session yesterday and heard from the chairmen of 10 sub-committees summaries of their recommendations for international aviation methods and practices to be harmonized throughout the world in the interests of safety and efficiency.

From Air Vice Marshal Ferrier of the Canadian delegation, chairman of the sub-committee on airworthiness regulations, came an added, personal plea that the plenary conference be urged to complete and put into effect at the earliest moment the recommendations of the Technical Committee and to make these matters the subject of continuous, cooperative study.

Canadians Enjoy Week's Leave in Belgium City

By ROSS MUNRO

GHENT, Belgium, Nov. 19 (CP Cable)—Troops of the 3rd Canadian Infantry Division had their first real leave of the Western Front campaign in this Belgian city of canals, ancient buildings and friendly people.

After the battle of the Schelde was ended, the 3rd Division—which has fought across France and the Low Countries since D-Day—came to Ghent on leave on the invitation of the burgomaster. The city was thrown open to these Canadians and thousands of them were billetted in private homes, while others lived comfortably in buildings put at their disposal by the civic authorities.

For nearly a week the division took it easy in Ghent.

SAYS DE GAULLE ACCEPTS STALIN'S INVITATION

MOSCOW, Nov. 19 (AP) — The news agency Tass announced Saturday that Gen. Charles de Gaulle had accepted a Soviet invitation to visit Moscow and establish personal contact with the Russian leaders. He is expected shortly.

Safecrackers Busy in Vancouver

NORTH VANCOUVER, Nov 19 (CP) —Safecrackers renewing their activities during the weekend, blew open a safe and obtained a total of $1500 cash.

Using a fire-axe which they stole from North Vancouver ferry thieves smashed their way through two rear doors of a meat market in North Vancouver, blew open a heavy safe door with a charge of nitro-glycerine and stole $1500 in cash, Saturday night.

Jailed for Telling Story Soldier Blind and Limbless

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP)—Convicted by a military court of circulating false information about the Canadian Army, Pte. Earl Thomas Victor Mitchell, 22, of Eburne, B.C., was sentenced to 60 days in jail, military authorities announced. The court-martial sentenced him to 90 days, but military officials reduced that sentence.

Pte. Mitchell was accused of circulating a story that a Canadian soldier who had returned from overseas blind and minus legs and arms was in military hospital where only his wife was permitted to see him.

Fo. Norman Boss, Nelson, Killed on Active Service

FO. Norman Holmes Boss, well known Nelson youth, was killed on active service with the R.C.A.F. Nov. 15, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Boss, 913 Hall Street, were advised Sunday.

FO. Boss joined the R.C.A.F. after graduating in forest engineering at the University of British Columbia in 1942. An outstanding student, he had won a scholarship to Queen's University while a student at Nelson. In his fifth year of forest engineering at U.B.C. he was awarded the Phil Wilson Bursary.

His parents and a sister, Leona, at Nelson survive.

To Ask Collins to Continue as S.C. Superintendent

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — The Vancouver Sun published today an Ottawa dispatch saying that "Federal Labor Department officials will ask George Collins, Superintendent of the B.C. Security Commission, to continue in office following expiral date of his two-year appointment next month, Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Labor Minister said today."

Mr. Collins was loaned to the Federal Government by the Manitoba Provincial Government, where he was Assistant Deputy Minister of Public Works, in 1942, to assist in the administration of Japanese evacuated from the Pacific Coast.

His leave of absence from Manitoba is up December 1.

Mr. Collins, declining to comment on the report, said whether he would continue was a matter to be decided on between the Federal and Manitoba Governments.

Charges Coast Man Killed 13 Days After Going Over

VERNON, B.C., Nov. 9 (AP)—A Vancouver man was killed in action 13 days after he crossed the Atlantic, Capt. H. P. Coombes charged at a public meeting here, called by Mayor Davie Howrie, which endorsed without a dissenting vote a resolution that all fully-trained home defence forces be sent overseas immediately.

Capt. Coombes, Secretary of the meeting, claimed that he was in telephone conversation with R.C.-O.C. Headquarters in Vernon, and was told that 14 members of the Corps left Friday night on leave, were issued rifles and given to understand they are for reinforcements.

"Although they have trained three years, they have never had a rifle in their hands until today," Capt. Coombes stated.

"The boys in France have been scrapping since June 6 to today without a rest. They are fine lads to stick it. But we have 70,000 fully trained men at home serving no useful purpose," he declared.

Fire Damages Coast High School

NEWWESTMINSTER, B. C., Nov. 20 (CP) — Fire of undetermined origin in the basement of the Duke of Connaught High School here Saturday night, damaged the Auditorium floor, stage and seats. The motor which operates the heating system was also burned. Until repairs are made to the heating system, the school will be closed. Damage is estimated at between $7000 and $8000.

Japs Counter With Tanks in Burma

KANDY, Ceylon, Nov. 19 (CP)—Japanese troops in Northern Burma counter-attacked with tanks from Bhamo in an effort to break a Chinese encirclement of the town and advanced 400 yards before being checked an Allied communique said today.

The Allies seek to make Bhamo a station on the projected Ledo-Burma Road route to China.

FENWICK, Scotland (CP) — Ayr County Council is obtaining a site near here for a proposed artificial insemination centre.

Immediate Conscription Urged by Prog. Cons. Coast Meeting

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — Adoption of a policy of immediate conscription for overseas service was urged at the annual meeting of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association here Saturday.

Speakers at both morning and afternoon sessions debated the conscription question at length demanding that all draftees be made available for overseas duty at once.

A resolution to that effect brought forward by the Women's Committee was passed unanimously.

Attorney-General R. L. Maitland said conscription was the most vital issue ever faced by the Dominion.

The Canadian Government was gambling with the lives of young Canadians overseas under the present policy, he said.

"Give McNaughton a chance means give Mackenzie King a chance, which means giving our boys overseas no chance," he said. "Col. Ralston would never have taken the drastic step of resigning if the situation had not been tragically serious."

Howard Green, M.P. for Vancouver South, charged that the "meanest kind of conscription" was being practised by the Government in sending overseas men who have had no training, while holding back 8000 fully trained infantrymen "who could step on the boat tomorrow."

A. E. Jukes, past president, said the crisis was not at Ottawa but at the front.

"Let's not look at the victims, let's look at the criminal," he said. "The criminal in this case is a weak government that will not take a stand.

"We need reinforcements at the front and need them soon. Mackenzie King is simply trying to take as much time as possible. He hopes the war will be over soon and he will not have to be embarrassed."

Mr. Jukes said Canada should spike the idea of trying to become a small nation and should go all-out for a policy of cooperation with the British Empire.

CRACKS AT DOUKHOBORS

Mr. Maitland said he was against giving more power to Ottawa in the matter of immigration.

"Is there a man here who asked to have the Doukhobors in B. C.?" he asked.

As far as he was concerned the three year term given Doukhobors who disrobed in the province recently would continue to be the penalty for the offence in B. C.

"They don't keep Doukhobors in Eastern Canada and they are already passing laws against Japanese there," he said. "They say, keep them on the Coast."

Score Injured in Train Crash

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 19 (AP)—A score of persons were injured, none fatally, when 15 cars of the Atlantic Coast Line passenger train No. 19 en route from New York to Tampa, Fla., were derailed near Hortense, Ga. Fourteen of the cars overturned.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 19 — (AP) — Five eastbound freight trains, including one fully loaded gasoline car, were derailed when one of the trains buckled. The derailment knocked down high tension power wires setting several cars ablaze.

Must Apply for Home Leave

OTTAWA, Nov. 19 (CP) — Defence Headquarters announced tonight that Army personnel overseas who have completed five years of continuous service and who wish to obtain leave must apply through their unit commanders, and that a list of those applying will be maintained in all units and formations and a roll of precedence setup.

The announcement, giving further details of the recently-announced plan for granting 30-day leave to Canada for overseas personnel, said that between 400 and 500 men were expected to reach Canada before Christmas. Other groups will follow later, but their size will depend on many factors, of which shipping is the most important.

Special consideration in the granting of leave will be given those who have served against the enemy. Their periods of service in operational areas will count double in figuring their length of service overseas.

Men on leave from their units will retain their ranks and rates of pay, so that when they return to service they will not suffer loss of seniority and will be eligible for promotion just as if their service overseas had been continuous.

Catholic Bishops Ask International Peace Organization

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (AP) — Roman Catholic Bishops of the United States called today for an international peace organization founded on moral law and repudiating power politics.

They said in a statement the security council planned at Dumbarton Oaks "must not be an instrument for imperialistic domination by a few powerful nations."

"It must not allow any nation to sit in judgment in its own case."

The Soviet Union has been insisting that major powers should sit and vote with the council, even if they themselves are accused of aggression. This would permit a major power to veto international collective action against itself since it is proposed that no action be taken without a unanimous decision by the major powers.

Say Vancouver Cleanest Morally

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — Army statistics mark Vancouver as one of the cleanest centres, morally, in Canada.

Pacific Command reveals that only three Vancouver dance halls are "out of bounds" to troops of all services because of venereal disease.

Other places out of bounds in Pacific Command are a hotel and adjoining cafe at Victoria and two cafes at Kamloops.

Pacific Command officials point out places now out of bounds later may be declared open to troops and that numbers of such places never have been large in Vancouver.

Endorse Use of Cartels

RYE, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—Use of cartels in world trade was given the tacit approval of the International Business Conference Saturday at the closing session of its 10-day meeting.

This endorsement was contained in a report of the conference panel on cartels which asserted that "it is essential to preserve the benefits of such agreements, and to avoid their use in a manner which is contrary to the public interest of any nation."

"We therefore recommend," the report said, "that the governments concerned, in association with their respective business interests, should immediately take steps, continuously to study and consult together on the various issues raised and, in particular, to consider the effect of such agreements in relation to employment, standards of living, industrial development, prices and volume and flow of trade."

"Further, it is vital to economic co-operation between nations, that they reconcile their views and practices in regard to these agreements over as wide an area as possible and establish rules and standards to govern such agreements in international trade."

Plan Regency in Yugoslavia in Near Future

LONDON, Nov. 19 (CP)—Marshal Tito's National Committee of Liberation and the Yugoslav Government in London were reported tonight to have agreed to establish a regency in Yugoslavia in the near future, with a plebiscite to be held after the war to determine whether King Peter returns to his throne.

Marshal Tito himself was reported to have been chosen to be Premier of a new Yugoslav Government of 28 members representing both the National Liberation Movement and the exiled regime. Dr. Ivan Subasic, Premier of the London government, is expected to be one of the three regents.

Tito already is in Moscow, and Subasic is expected to arrive momentarily. It seemed likely that the announcement would come from Moscow after Tito and Subasic have talked with Premier Marshal Stalin.

Sometimes we come across a piece of folk lore which leaves us in doubt as to whether a humorist has been at work or whether we are the fruit of ancient wisdom despised by modern science. Many years ago we heard from an Indian how the fox rids himself of fleas. According to this, we trust, truthful aborigine, the fox when he finds himself infested, takes a piece of moss between his teeth and swims out into a stream. There he permits his whole body to be submerged gradually. Finally only his nose and the piece of moss are left above water. A few minutes later the fox lets go on the moss and swims to shore with not a flea on his body. The theory is that the fleas to avoid drowning gradually travel along the body of the fox to the only part above water. Eventually they congregate on the moss, and at this point the fox drops it and, thoroughly de-flead, goes back to land about his business.

8343 Not in Good Standing N.S.S. Test Shows

OTTAWA—Out of 41,344 doubtful cases reported by employers in the last eight months, a total of 8343 men not in good standing under Mobilization Regulations have been located, A. MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service, announced.

By an Order issued early this year under Mobilization Regulations by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, employers were required to check on the documents of all male employees, and report on those apparently not in good standing under Mobilization Regulations. By a subsequent order of Aug. 15, last, the checking process, which had originally carried only to May 1, was made continuous. It is now necessary for an employer to report—within 7 days of engagement—on any new male employee who fails to furnish documents proving that he has complied with mobilization regulations.

These reports are sent to the Registrars of the 13 Mobilization Divisions across Canada. The 41,344 reports received by the Registrars to date cover the period from the 1st of March, when the first order of the Minister of Labor became effective, to Nov. 4.

Mobilization officials take immediate steps to follow up on the cases of men who are reported upon and found not to be in good standing under the Regulations.

No Margarine in Canada Because of National Pool

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — Why Canadians get no margarine to stretch their butter supply was explained Friday by Mrs. Lois Dallamore, Prices Board Consumer Branch Representative.

This country, Mrs. Dallamore told the Board's Regional Advisory Committee of Women, now receives its full quota of fats of all kinds from the United Nations pool.

If margarine were added to the list, it would only mean that some other fat—salad oil, shortening or butter—would have to be reduced proportionately.

There is a law against sale of margarine in Canada but the law of supply now makes it unnecessary.

Nazi Sub Fights for Britain Now

LONDON, Nov. 19 (CP) — In case the Germans are wondering what happened to their submarine U-570 back in August, 1941, they are not going to like this.

The sleek vessel, fitted out with all the latest secret equipment was captured by Britain and sent out under the flag of the Royal Navy to hunt down more Nazi submarines.

It had several successful engagements, destroyed one sister U-boat and scored hits on several other ships, the Admiralty disclosed today.

The U-570, renamed the "Graph", was captured after a depth charge attack by a Hudson aircraft of Coastal Command patrolling from Iceland. The sub surfaced and ran up a white flag, which subsequently was found to be the captain's shirt.

The sub had suffered little damage and no essential alterations were necessary, but a picked crew had to undergo special training to handle it.

B. C. Refunds $4,000,000 in New York Funds

VICTORIA, Nov. 19 (CP) —B.C. Saturday completed refunding of $4,000,000 in New York funds, it was announced by Premier Hart, Minister of Finance.

The issue comprises three year two per cent bonds and were sold to redeem an issue maturing Dec. 15, bearing interest at three and a half per cent.

The Premier said the Province not only will save $400,000 in foreign exchange but also institutes a saving of one and a half per cent each year.

The bonds were sold at a net cost to the Province of 2.03 per cent which is the lowest rate that has ever been received by British Columbia in the history of its financing, Mr. Hart said.

Says Handicapped Canucks "Doomed to the Breadline"

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — Thousands of handicapped Canadians are "doomed to the breadlines" unless pre-war standards of judging employability are discarded, Alex Clark, Publicity Director of the Dominion Society of Disabled Adults, warned in an interview Saturday.

He called for a federal and provincial effort to train handicapped persons when young so that they could be put to work on the basis of ability—not disability.

Referring to a statement that current employment was due to women and persons regarded as unemployable before the war, Mr. Clark said that "thousands of handicapped men and women had proven their ability to work in war industry and in countless occupations." Previously they had been classed as unemployables.

Mr. Clark said experience had shown that with proper, individual vocational training, handicapped persons could be converted into a valuable asset.

Girls Refuse to Dance With Home Defence Men, Coast

VICTORIA, Nov. 19 (CP) — Maj. C. J. Milley, Supervisor of Salvation Army War Services for this area, at a meeting of the War Services Committee reported difficulties that his organization had been encountering in providing entertainment and canteen services for a certain group of Home Defence troops.

A dance had been arranged, he related, and they contacted a group of 35 girls, asking them to go to the dance. However, when the girls learned that they were to dance with Home Defence troops all but 10 of them refused to go and it was only after some difficulty that 18 finally went to the camp, Maj. Milley said.

He told of taking the mobile canteen out to this same camp when the particular group were moved in and serving them coffee and cigarets without one man having the "intestinal fortitude" to say "thank you." Major Milley expressed distress because he felt that some people were getting the opinion that his organization was not doing all it could for the men in not being able to obtain the girls to dance with the men.

Export Credit Insurance to Come Into Effect Nov. 21

OTTAWA, Nov. 19 (CP) — Canada's export credit insurance plan will come into effect Nov. 21, it was announced Saturday in a special issue of the Canada Gazette.

Parliament at its last session established an export credits insurance corporation with authority to issue guarantees up to $50,000,000 against loss in export trade. The Act was to come into force at a date announced by proclamation.

Appoint of H. L. E. Priestman, former Exchange Control Board official, as chief executive officer of the corporation was announced recently and organization is now proceeding.

Heparin Keeps Blood Flowing . . .

New Surgery Will Save Many Limbs

By MARGARET ECKER
Canadian Press War Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN BELGIUM, Nov. 19 (CP)—A young Canadian doctor working in a Canadian casualty clearing station almost on the border of Belgium and Holland has found a new method of surgery that will save the limbs of untold numbers of soldiers fighting on this front when the innovation becomes known.

Thirty-year-old Maj. W. T. Mustard of Toronto, already has saved the shell-shattered legs of Pte. E. O. Brewer of Fredericton and Capt. Graham Dixon, a British officer.

Working with his team-mate Capt. Ken Wilson of Ottawa, Maj. Mustard has successfully inserted glass tubing to replace a shattered piece of artery and in this way maintained a normal blood supply to the wounded leg. Normally the artery would have been tied to prevent bleeding to death and the limb eventually would have had to be amputated.

The first operation was performed a few weeks ago on a prisoner of war whose leg was almost completely shot off. The medical officer replaced the severed artery with a glass tube but the blood clotted in the long tube after a few hours and the leg had to be amputated.

When he got the drug he wanted, heparin, the doctor solved his greatest problem. Heparin, which prevents blood clotting, was discovered some time ago but first used for arterial surgery by Dr. Gordon Murray of Toronto.

The first successful operation was on Capt. Dixon, brought to the unit with an artery in his right leg slashed high in the thigh and badly mangled below the knee. The Major inserted glass tubes, one in the artery in the groin, one below the knee.

"Using heparin to keep the flood flowing, we left in the tubes until the Captain was in condition to stand an operation," said Dr. Mustard. "We removed the tubes, replaced the shattered piece of the artery with a graft from a vein. We had some bad moments until the vein settled down and we know it will now assume the characteristics of an artery. The operation took more than two hours."

Five days later the Scottish Captain was in good spirits and joked with us as we stood beside the bed, where the bottle of heparin was still flowing into his veins. In the next bed Pte. Brewer also was on the road to recovery.

Working as an operating room assistant with Dr. Mustard is Cpl. H. N. Barker of Winnipeg, a graduate of the University of Manitoba, who is so enthralled with the work he plans to continue studies in medicine after the war.

Interpreting The War News

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press War Analyst

Have the Allies launched the biggest offensive in history in the midst of a supply shortage?

If taken at face value, two items of news might give that impression. Six armies of thousands of men and tens of thousands of heavy weapons are attacking the strongly-fortified Western border of Germany. Military leaders announce they have been expending 35 days' supply of ammunition in 10 days.

Even though the recent and current rate of supply expenditure at the front is well in excess of receipts, a stockpile has been built up in the European theatre of operations sufficient to make possible the offensive.

The aim of most military planners is to have a margin of about two month's supplies in a theatre. Because German holdout forces still deny to the Allies the use of some Atlantic ports which others are being restored only after prolonged repair efforts, the stockpiling program may have fallen behind schedule in recent months. However, in those same months there has been a comparative lull in large-scale combat, with a corresponding saving in supplies.

The second factor in the reckoning of the Allied High Command is a vastly increased tempo of production. General Eisenhower and Robert Patterson, United States Undersecretary of War, make this plain in their appeal to factory management and workers to turn out more supplies, including the critical item of ammunition.

A third phase of the planning seems to rest on confidence that, once the supplies come off the production line in the United States, they can be put in the hands of the armies before too critical inroads are made on the reserves hoarded during the late Summer lull in Europe. In the early days of the submarine-infested Atlantic war zone, it would have been unthinkable that anywhere near the full tonnage shipped from the United States would reach Europe. Today there are many more ships and many less U-boats.

Pinworms . . .

Treatment of Parasites

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

My mail contains an average of three letters a day asking for the treatment of pinworms.

It should be said at the outset that there is no excuse for having pinworms.

The pinworm, or thread worm, is the smallest worm which acts as a human intestinal parasite. It can be seen by the naked eye and is reallily identified because the name threat worm describes it—it looks like the snipp ngs of white threat. It occurs almost exclusively in children. It inhabits the lower small intestine, especially the appendix and rectum. It develops in enormous numbers.

It seldom causes any serious disease, although cases have been reported of sufficient numbers accumulating in the appendix to cause symptoms resembling appendicitis. But while no serious disease is ascribable to the infestation they can be very annoying because at night the worms wander out from the bowel and cause great irritation and itching of the skin. Widespread inflamation of the folds of the skin around the buttocks is the result, and the scratching may infect it. The parasites usually come out at night and may be seen on the bed clothes. Then they wander back into the bowel. For this reason prat of the treatment is to change the bed clothes every night and boil the sheets separately from other washing. They do not breed in the human intestine but their breeding places attract flies and other insects and these light on exposed fruit and leave their ova on the skin of the fruit. The prevention is to wash all fruit and vegetables with very hot to scalding water btfore putting it in the icebox or serving.

The treatment is effective but requires patience. The latest drug used for pinworm is phenolthiazine. It is given in dosage of about three grains a day for seven days. For children it can be mixed in oatmeal. Adults usually find no difficulty in swallowing capsules of it.

The older classical treatment was with gentian violet. It is given in the dose of ten milligrams to children three times a day for eight days Adults can take larger doses at the same intervals and for the same length of time. No alcoholic beverage should be used while taking treatment. It may cause some nausea in children.

Gentian violet should be given in capsules, especially capsules with an enteric coating, which do not dissolve until they are in the intestines. For children too young to swallow capsules, gentian violet is a poor method of treatment because it will stain the mouth, lips and tongue. It can be given by enema and is quite effective in that form.

The entire eight-day treatment must be repeated three times in succession and then every three weeks for some time. The worms are very resistant and stubborn.

Deceitful Child . . .

Should Have Companionship

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Dear Dr. Myers:—A very dear friend of mine has a little seven-year-old daughter who takes little trinkets which do not belong to her. Then she lies about it until she is cornered with the evidence.

She came home from school the other day with a tiny basket of candy. She said she made it. The outside was covered with pleated crepe paper. Her mother knew it was a bought basket and tried to get her to say it was without accusing her. But she insisted she had made it. The next day I pulled the crepe paper away from the handle and showed her the little wire that fastened the handle.

I took the cushion from the living room chair and ran by hand under the cushion where I found a handful of yeast tablets. Instead of swallowing them as I thought she had been doing she would hold them in her mouth until she was out of my sight and hide them in the chair. As usual, she owned up to it when confronted with the tablets.

She is exceptionally bright. She reads better than most adults. Her grades in school are the highest.

When confronted with the thing she has taken and her lies, she is very humiliated and repentant.

She is easily managed except for the things I have told you about. Won't you tell us what to do?

In writing I urged that trials be discontinued. In both cases cited when the evidence was so clear, what was the sense of making her confess? She should have been merely told what she did. If punishment seemed best—I doubt if it would—she should have had it. The problem is to get the child to see that she just does not wish to do these things that she and others can't be happy together when anyone tries to deceive the other. She needs to feel she is secure and worthwhile in the family group. She needs abundant companionship and affections from this friend and the parents.

Perhaps she has gained more satisfaction from winning very high grades at school than from sharing in the home responsibilities and getting along happily with other children of her age.

Also she needs protection so she will not find it so easy to take things which tempt her. This whole problem of deceit in a child is so complicated that it is difficult to explain to parents just what to do. It involves practically every factor and item of relationship I have ever discussed in this column. It should be a challenge to all intelligent parents. Under wise guidance, this little girl should grow up to be a loved, dependable young lady.

KASLO

KASLO, B.C.—Mrs. A. B. Robertson and Mrs. T. A. Gibson of Nelson were guests on Thursday at the home of Mrs. M. McQueen.

Mrs. Eric Thast had as a guest her mother, Mrs. L. C. Colletti, of Nelson.

Mrs. C. Moore left on Thursday to spend several days in Nelson before going on to Wichita, Kansas, where she will spend the Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Sherridan of Ainsworth were shoppers in Kaslo.

Mrs. Lambert has returned to Seattle after visiting her nieces, Mrs. Ray Hughes and Mrs. C. J. White.

Joseph Nofield has had as guest his son, Lac. Louis Nofield, R.C.A.F.

H. A. Matthews and Brigadier Stevenson were in Kaslo on Wednesday.

King Greenlaw of the Canadian Armored Corps is on leave from the East and visiting his parents at Howser.

A Maki is back at Mirror Lake, after spending several weeks at Wetaskiwin, Alta.

Mrs. T. A. Moryson was hostess on Wednesday afternoon at a delightful birthday party in honor of Mrs. S. H. Green. The spacious living rooms were lovely with bowls of Autumn flowers. A Radio Quiz contest, conducted by Mrs. C. Moore of Mirror Lake, was won by Mrs. Moryson. Much amusement and interest was created among the guests when photographs and "tin types" were produced for inspection, some of these being residents of Kaslo over 50 year ago. A lovely tea was served. Mrs. J. Paterson presided at the beautifully appointed table covered with a lace cloth and centred with a lovely birthday cake. Mrs. Brian Thompson helped serve. Guests were Mrs. W. English, Mrs. C. Moore, Mrs. G. Gibson, Mrs. C. W. Webster, Mrs. S. Stocking, Mrs. C. R. Fahrni, Mrs. E. R. McIntosh, Mrs. G. S. Baker, Mrs. H. Beck, Mrs. H. J. Armitage, Mrs. J. Paterson and Mar. Brian Thompson.

Mayor E. H. Latham received word recently of the death of his brother at Victoria.

Exercises . . .

Relax After Hard Day

By IDA JEAN KAIN

It doesn't seem right, but what the overworked 9-5 girls need is exercise. But they should be the relaxing kind, for relaxed muscles reflexly relax the nerves. Specifically, these exercises are a combination of rhythmic movements, stretching, bending . . . and sheer fun.

First, stretch, then fold up. Stretch to full extension, standing on tiptoes with arms high overhead. Stretch every inch, then let your knees sag and your whole body go limp. It's a queer sensation the first time, but you'll like it. Stretch up and go limp, several times.

Most office workers build up tension through the shoulders. Here is an easy exercise to banish all the tension: Standing erect, tummy pulled up, hips under, chest up and shoulders relaxed. Swing one arm straight out in front of the body, and the other straight out behind, swinging both arms simultaneously and rhythmically. Reverse the position of the arms, swinging freely and easily to give the entire body a lift. Do not raise the shoulders. Stop before you feel tired.

Now shrug the shoulders up and down. Move them forward and back. Move the entire shoulder girdle, not the arms. Then bring your shoulders up about the ears and slowly circle down, back and around. Three times will be enough.

Now an easy exercise lying down—lying on back on floor, knees flexed and feet on floor, have arms flexed limply at the elbows. The exercise, if it can be called that, is to raise one arm and shoulder off the floor, then let it drop effortlessly to the floor. Try the same with the other arm. This can be continued for ten counts, always slowly and lazily. Throughout the exercise keep the lower abdominal muscles pulled up and in and the small of the back pressed abainst the floor. This position rests the back and helps to restore tone to the abdominal muscles.

Now for a thorough going stretch through the midriff. Sit up, legs stretched wide apart, arms upstretched above head. Bend the upper part of the body sidewards to the right, sway over the leg with the entire trunk and touch fingers of right hand to the right leg. Stretch to the opposite side and continue for four counts.

Now standing, hop three times on the left foot, shaking your entire body loosely, then hop three times on the other foot, shaking yourself loose-jointed. Let go with all the muscles.

Doubtful . . .

Should Announce Engagement

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm deeply in love with a boy of 22, now in the Army. We've known each other two years, and plan to marry as soon as the war is over and I finish college. I've never met my fiance's parents who live 300 miles away.

He wants me to visit them during his furlough, but m. mother thinks I'm too young, and that I should accept the rink first. But I want to meet them before I accept his ring, which he is planning to give me while there.

Mother has no objection to our marriage, or my accepting the ring, and she likes my fiance immensely. But she seems to be opposed to my visiting at his home until I have the ring in hand and am publicly engaged.

Mother and I read your column, and she agrees with all the advice you give, so perhaps you can tell me if you think I'm right in wanting to visit his family before I accept the ring.

—Desperate.

If you have received a cordial invitation from the boy's mother, asking you to visit her home and she understands you are engaged to her son, that would seem to make this visit O.K. But unless you have received such a letter and the boy's family acknowledges you as his fiancee, such a visit would be questionable taste, don't you think?

Why do you want to meet his family before you accept the engagement ring? Are you doubtful as to their social standing, their education, or anything else concerning them?

Hints for Housewives

By BETSY NEWMAN

New methods of mixing cakes, different methods of cooking meats and vegetables and of baking pies all add to the house-wife's interest in her job. Most experienced cooks have evolved methods that they have found successful but the up-to-date cook is always ready to try another method. A well-known flour company recently published a new method of cake mixing. Let's give it a trial.

TODAY'S MENU

Sliced Roast Meat warmed in gravy.
Fried Potatoes.
Cauliflower.
Molded Beef and Cabbage Salad.
Cake. Coffee.

MOLDED BEEF AND CABBAGE SALAD

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1½ cups hot water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup shredded cabbage, 2 tablespoons orange or canned berry juice, ½ cup diced cooked beets, 1-3 cup chopped sweet pickes.

Dissolve gelatin in the hot water, add lemon and other fruit juice and chill. When gelatin begins to set, add shredded cabbage, beets and pickles; pour into 7-inch square pan rinsed with cold water, and chill until firm. Serve squares on crisp lettuce and top with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

WHITE CAKE

2½ cups kitchen-tested flour (enriched), 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup vegetable shortening, 1 cup skimmed milk, 1 teaspoon flavoring, 4 large egg whites.

Sift first four dry ingredients together in the mixing bowl, taking care to measure accurately. Add shortening, milk and flavoring, and beat with a spoon or electric mixer for exactly two minutes by the clock. Scrape bowl frequently. Add egg whites unbeaten and continue beating for 2 more minutes, then pour into greased and floured pan and bake at 350 degrees F. in two 8-inch cake pans.

PRESTO CAKE

1½ cups sifted flour, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons shortening, melted, 1 egg, milk, flavoring.

Sift first three ingredients into mixing bowl. Melt shortening into measuring cup, add unbeaten egg and fill cup with milk. Add to dry ingredients and beat thoroughly; add flavoring and bake in two layers or loaf

"Soul and Body" Is Church Subject

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God" (Psalms 84: 2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God" (Daniel 3: 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ presents the indestructible man, whom Spirit creates, constitutes, and governs. Christ illustrates that blending with God, His divine Principle, which gives man dominion over all the earth."

Stirring Early Days of Nelson and Rossland Camps Recalled by Death of Samuel Coulter

BY R. G. JOY

(Note—S. E. Coulter died Nov. 12 at Trail at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. O. Johnson.—Editor.)

It was on a visit to Salmo, where I was getting in touch with some Old-Timers. I was directed by Mr. C. Donaldson, who was very pleased to be of help, and in the main it was through his courtesy and hospitality that I was able to get so much information.

I was surprised to meet Sam Coulter—had known him for some years when he was a member of the Nelson Fire Department. I found his residence; it was a picturesque cabin, rather out of the ordinary design.

"Quite a cabin, aye, R.G.?"

"Yes, it is very nice, and fits in the scene around it."

"There's a story in connection with it too."

"Oh, tell me it."

"It was built by a young German, a likeable chap. He used to tell his friends that he was bringing a young bride from Germany. Come inside, R.G. I'll show you the fireplace, a neat piece of work, built of the various kinds of rock found in this district."

"Was he a mining man?"

"Well, kind of. He left quite a number of books all in the German language."

I made known to him the reason of my visit, and here is his story:

"My name is Samuel Egerton Coulter. I was born on a farm five miles from Owen Sound, 17th June, 1867. Was educated at Kilsytoe, Ont. Worked on C.P.R. boats, at various occupations. Was at one time on the old Athabasca.

MOUNTIE WHEN RIEL HANGED

"I joined the N.W. Mounted Police in 1885. I was at Regina and was trained there. Louis Riel was in prison, later saw him executed. There was a story that he was not. He sure was!

"Six years later I came to Nelson, in June, 1891, via Kootenay River, past Rykerts, on board the old S.S. Spokane, a U.S. steamer (The Spokane was tied up in the Winter of 1893. J. Allan was watchman—R. G. J.).

"The Madden Hotel, Phair and International were partly under construction. Fred Hume, Bob Lemon, George Bigelow were all in business then—both Lemon and Bigelow sold liquor wholesale.

GUN PLAY ON BOAT

"Before coming to Nelson I was in the Crow's Nest Pass. Charlie Dundee and Alf Seaman were prospecting near Priest Lake. These swam across Kootenay River, on their way up to Idaho. They had a collapsible canoe which was used in swimming horses across the river. Then they took the S.S. Spokane to Nelson. Crossman and Ross Thompson of Rossland fame were on the boat. There was some gun play during the journey to Nelson. (But I could not get the details of the story—R. G. J.).

"I prospected at Rossland camp later with Charlie Dundee. He and Hughie Morris and another prospector whose name was Josh McKinley, had a one-third interest apiece in a grub stake. The name of the claim was the De Baugh Sisters. It was stocked through Page and Race; they offered him $200,000 in shares and $100 in cash. They would also build a mill. The mill later was burnt; the concentrates were shipped to Northport.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY DUNDEE

"Charles Dundee had the Joker-Mascot, claim on the hill, also the Columbia, at Rossland, next to the Josie. He received $18,000 for this. Bowes, the lawyer of Nelson, was interested in with Dundee and C. Rameimeyer; it was eventually sold for $30,000

"Dundee was what you might call a lucky man; money came easy. Just as when he was enjoying this run of luck, his mother died, and, yes, left him £10,000 in English money". Mr. Coulter said it was estimated that Charles Dundee spent around $200,000 in and around Rossland. He was no more satisfied than when he was a remittance man, getting his regular sum of money. He was also a friend of Topping of Trail, later known as Col. Topping.

"You heard of Dave Bremner, R.G.?"

"Yes, met him at times."

"He was an ex-officer of the British Navy. He was a whale of a man, stood about six feet three; he was also thick-set. It was in 1893 Dave got feverish, if you remember, R.G., it was easy to contract typhoid fever; sometimes it was called mountain fever, sometimes malaria.

ICY EDDY CURED BREMNER'S FEVER

"Dave swam the eddy at Trail, a distance of nearly two miles. Ice was coming down, but it did not bother Dave. He was cured of the fever, and was soon ready for more adventure. (Dave also dived from the top of the stack of the old Ainsworth. He was also the subject of the story of the mustard plaster at the old Stanley House, now the Club Hotel—R. G. J.) Dave Bremner, J. Johnson and Arthur Dick, started East Trail Townsite."

Mr. Coulter prospected for about 10 years. Dundee and he staked a big showing of ore at Big Sheep Lake, 15 miles from Rossland, Northwest. It assayed five per cent copper, and gold $3 to the ton. The lead averaged 50 feet across. Two hundred feet up was also a great showing, owned by the Bank of Montreal; it was mortgaged for $40,000.

FIRED AND REINSTATED NINE TIMES

"Later I went into the hotel business, and got married," continued Mr. Coulter. "As you know, I was in the Nelson Fire Department, was fired eight times, and reinstated nine

"I then quit and went up North for a while, and so did John Houston.

"In 1898 Dave's little son got lost. The whole populace of the town was out looking for the lost one; they went down by the lake, also at Cottonwood Creek, following it to the Dam. The trails to the Athabasca and Silver King were searched, also Venus and Juno. After all this searching someone thought of Evening Mountain, and some of the men came to the wood chute that was used to get cordwood to the track. The little kiddie had travelled up the chute till he got exhausted, and was found dead.

"What a shock to his parents! It was indeed a sad day for them. The old fire bell was used to get the volunteers out in systematic search; little did they think the bell was tolling for the child.

"In those days children were very popular, no tenant was turned away because of children. Young people from all over the world, came here to seek a fortune, to build a home and live as a human should live—for home and its country's security.

"We went to Rossland. I gained employment at the Centre Star, was there for 10 years. I then looked after the Richmond M.C. in the South Belt for Joe Warner; was under Joe Warner for four years.

MAN SAVED BY SONG

"I was also at the Kootenay Belle and the Silver King mine; was blacksmith under Rudd when he was looking after the King. Mr. Rudd was the first P.O. Clerk that Jim Gilker hired in Nelson. At one time he went down to Nelson to get money for the payroll; he did not return, the men went out to look for him. It had been snowing hard. Rudd had got off the trail, and fell down a shaft, but the snow had let him down easy. The searchers were about to give up Rudd as lost, when two of them heard a voice singing, 'Shall I Ever See My Home Once Again? They answered 'Yes', and soon had him up on top."

Mr. Coulter was at the Athabasca when Nelson Fell was in charge.

"My oldest girl was born on the hill at that time," he said. "It was during a two months run then that the mine made $32,000 and $35,000.

ORIGINAL STAKE AT SALMO

"Now I am going back to 1891. I went to the Pend d'Oreille and cabined there all the Winter; then came back and put in three stakes in what is known as the Salmo Townsite. I found a stake marked 1888 and did not press my claim. Later I found that the staking had never been reported. It was then too latee.

"I then staked 320 acres in the Pend d'Oreille—it is where the Chuches Orchard now thrives. held it for two years, and did not bother about it after that.

"At that time I saw 50 to 100 men using rockers to get the gold. I understool that the river had been placered since the year 1849. We got 2 ounces out of one crevice. 'We' were Coulter, Dundee and Carey.

"I also worked at the Trail Smelter for a time.

"In 1893 I located the Red Bird at Boundary, near Waneta. Arthur Campbell was with me. We sold to a Spokane outfit — lead carbonates and silver Sometimes we got assays of 100 ounces. It is still owned by the Spokane Company. They paid us in stock $30,000.

"I then prospected at Keno Creek, off Hall Creek; good country there, gold and copper.

"I am now living a retired life, getting Old Age pension, and awaiting the $10 raise."

EVENING OF LIFE

I also met Mrs. Coulter, who was a likeable woman. It was nice to see this old couple spending their evening of life together in such a beautiful spot; they had seen many changes, both in their own life, and others in the Kootenay. But so many ups and downs weaken the heart. But there is one complacency—that is the old age pension.

"The economies used in Sam's prospecting expeditions come in useful now, R. G. We had two boys, the oldest is in the C.P.R. shops. (I understand he is foreman now at Cranbrook, R. G.) Yes! and four girls. Three are in heaven," said Mrs. Coulter. "The other is Assistant Postmistress at Salmo.

"Well, goodbye, R. G., and good luck in your prospecting, and thank you for calling!"

Racketeering — Then Dictatorship — Then Ruin

Labor racketeering in the United States has reached the point at which a member of a union is threatened with expulsion and his right to earn a living because he refuses to contribute to the campaign funds of a political party to whose policies he is opposed.

Union leaders adopted this policy in many cases in the recent presidential election. "Kick through with the assessment to aid the party to which you are opposed or we will expel you" has expressed the position of the union dictators who have adopted from the Nazis this policy.

Not all unions, of course, have so openly flouted the fundamental tenets of democracy. Most of the leaders of local labor organizations are far too able and far sincere in their beliefs in the true functions of unions to approve of any program that would lead to totalitarianism, but they are often squeezed into tacit acceptance by pressure of internal politics and from international head office executives.

The chief offender in the United States in the attempt to build up a labor-political dictatorship has been the CIO, but it has not been alone.

In one case in San Francisco—it was a CIO union—a union member contributed his forced assessment in support of the Democratic party campaign but did so under protest and at the same time stated that as a free American citizen he proposed to exercise his rights under the Constitution and contribute five times as much to the Republican party campaign funds. He was expelled from the union, and as closed shop condition prevailed in the industry concerned, he was precluded from working at his own occupation anywhere in the United States.

Then we have the De Mille case. De Mille refused to pay an assessment to his union for a fund to fight an anti-closed shop referendum in California. He personally while a member of a union was opposed to the closed shop on the ground, among others, that it denied democratic rights and curtailed liberties supposed to be inherent in a democratic constitution. He was immediately threatened with expulsion from his union and loss of his job as director of a radio program.

Labor organizations have done, and are doing a tremendous amount of good work, but much of it will be destroyed and labor will receive a setback from which it will not recover in generations if some of its leaders, hungry for greater power and large slices of the many millions which are being raised in dues and assessments, are not curbed by their members and by public opinion in their efforts to impose policies which are modelled on those which brought labor to ruin in Germany and Italy.

Canada, and especially some of its provinces, as well as the United States, is wide open to the danger of a politico-labor dictatorship, which would end in a political dictatorship at the expense of labor organizations as well as of the majority of the public.

They Are Conscripted

M. J. Coldwell continues to demand that wealth and industry be conscripted. He fails or refuses to understand that this has already been done, says the Windsor Star. There is certainly a much more thorough conscription of material possessions than any which applies to men for the armed services.

Much of the industry devoted to war production, of course, has been voluntarily converted to such purposes. But the Government has not hesitated to allocate orders to whatever plants are capable of handling them. Manufacturers have been given no chance to decide whether they should make munitions. No factories have been actualy seized, but curbs placed on production of civilian goods have constituted compulsion of a very real kind.

As to wealth, that has certainly been conscripted. The tremendously high income tax has taken a huge proportion of larger incomes and a large percentage of all incomes. Corporations, in addition, are paying an excess profits tax of up to 100 per cent. The proportion of total money wealth left in the hands of individuals and companies is much smaller than the percentage of men who would be left out of uniform even under the most thorough system of compulsory service.

These are facts which Mr. Coldwell and his followers have not yet admitted. To do so, of course, would take from them one of their most effective bases of criticism of our mode of government, so there is method in their refusal to face facts.

Mountain Music

By G. A. BUTLING

"Shall I lift up mine eyes unto the hills?"

Certainly not, says the translation in the Great Bible, and it is only the King James' version that leaves the reader in any doubt as to the real meaning of the Psalmist, who goes on to say, "My help cometh from the Lord."

Farmers, workers and parents, are you leaving it to the mountains to inspire your children in music, in art, and in craftsmanship, or are you prepared to make more certain? Remember: The worlds that you have seen and known, are passing.

Today's children are emerging into a world of memories. Out of the abounding energies of their sturdy hearts and minds, their souls are taking shape; beautiful or deformed, generous or mean, according to the moral, social, economic and artistic climate of their environment. Feed them well. Feed the fires of their curiosity. Feed their ambitions wholesomely. Cultivate round their first efforts to play, to work, sing, dance, invent, or to re-create their own experiences in words, colors or patient workmanship. As much as lies within your power, let them feel the glow of comradeship among their peers and the majestic modesty of genius.

These mountains, among which their young lives are shaping, may so easily become either an advantage or a hindrance. Shutting them off from the rest of the world. They do not see or hear, the hideous blast of war. They do not see the blasted and darkened acres of industry; the poluted streams. For this, let them be thankful, rather than conceited. Remind them that truth and beauty is more often learned in suffering than in luxurious isolation. Where every prospect pleases, man needs a double portion of imagination, or the result will be vile. So, when you hear your neighbors planning together to secure a richer measure of art and music for themselves and for their children, don't look at the height of their brows but at the breadth and length of their vision. Many of them may have learned their music and art elsewhere, and for the remainder of their lives, they could, and do draw upon their memories, prompted by reproductions and radio.

But what of the children?

Here, the disadvantage of the Kootenays becomes more prominent. In times past mountain folk have always been obliged to develop the native talent in song, handicrafts and in architecture. The same was true of their industries. They had to depend upon the quality, rather than upon the bulk of their products. And to attain quality, you must have intense loyalty to a few ideas: the fewer the better. And of these few, let it be music, cream chocolate, or watchwords, one must dominate. The initial choice often seems almost accidental at the time; but how right it becomes as the years pass. At the moment, there seems to be hardly any reason why the Kootenays should become a centre of the arts. But if they did, at one stroke these mountains that hitherto have threatened to cut us off, become instead, a gorgeous arena for our plays, our concerts, and our fairs.

The decision, of course, rests with ourselves. Placed as we are, we can do nothing as a bloc ideals beyond starting the snowball rolling. We can organize our individual interests among the people we know. We can send our children for lessons in skating, weaving, drama, or whatever is available; but the founding of a real standard in any of the arts demands the united loyalty and force of a people who will be content with nothing but the best. And even the teachers themselves must long for the day when they can introduce their pupils to the personality and the work of authentic genius.

It will require vision and a fine cooperative effort from everybody—farmers, workers and parents—to secure and maintain a headquarters where classes may be held and local talents may find an audience—somewhere where the artists who have worker in attics and backyard shacks for long enough may meet and discuss their projects cooperatively; a place where travelling exhibitions may be displayed, or distinguished and friendly visitors may be made to feel at home.

What is it worth to see a real play from time to time, to hear a real concert, to discover and get to know all the others who, unbeknown to you, are following the same hobby? What is it worth to the hotel keepers and business men, to the caterers and dairymen, to the strawberry and cherry growers, to have a planned program of attractions properly housed? And what is it worth to us all, to secure for our remaining years, and for our children in perpetuity a standard of living and culture worthy of our inheritance?

But for the Wartime Prices Control Board, I would say it is worth a million dollars. At any rate, it is worth more than a passing thought.

L. C., Salmo—Could you please give me the complete procedure to be followed in making a photographic copy of a letter, step by step, directions and exact quantities of material required, and state if original letter will be left undamaged. It is not convenient to give this letter to a photographer.

Fix your letter under a good light to get a clear picture using the smallest stop on your camera, which is the biggest number. It depends on the nature of the letter, that is, if written in ink on white paper, or on colored paper, as to exposure given. If it is dull you would have to use a longer exposure. Develop in the usual manner. The original letter will not be damaged.

W. B., Kimberley—Would be very much obliged if you would tell me the names and addresses of half a dozen publishing houses in Canada? I have completed a book which I would prefer to have published in Canada before submitting it to publishers in the United States. McMillan Publishers in Canada can not fill their contracts at the present time to be able to pulish.

Six publishing houses in Canada are Ryerson Press Co., 299 Queen's Street, W. Toronto; Cassell & Co., 215 Victoria Street, Toronto; Cap, Clarke Co., Ltd., 517 Wellington Street, W. Toronto; W. J. Gage & Co., 84 Spadina Avenue, Toronto; George J. McLeod, Ltd., 266 King Street, W. Toronto, and the McLelland & Stuart Co., 215 Victoria Street, Toronto.

C. S. A., Nelson—How large do Great Lake trout sometimes called Mackinaw 'trout grow?

Specimens have been known that exceed 100 pounds in weight, but the average is from 15 to 20 pounds.

C. N. R., Trail—Is it true that spider webs are used commercially?

Strands of the web of spiders are used for cross lines in microscopes, range finders, and other exacting instruments. The web is wound on a card like thread.

Every Comunity in Canada Should Demand Sending of Draftees

To the Editor:

Sir—There must be thousands of people in Canada today who are disturbed about the manpower situation and the failure of our Government to take the advice of Colonel Ralston who has just returned from the scene of battle. It certainly looks as though politics took precedence over the safety and welfare of our boys at the front.

How about the people in Nelson, who feel now is the time to send reinforcements, joining together and sending that message to the Government? After all, the Government in this democratic country is supposed to be the voice of the people, and so if we want something done we must speak.

If every community in Canada demanded the immediate sending of the training draftees, and the immediate training of those whose training has not been completed, we would have action before it is too late.

Let us forget our politics. We have many times said we would do anything to shorten the war and to help our boys over there. Let's prove it now.

Vernon Passes Resolution for Conscription

VERNON, Nov. 19 (CP) — A resolution expressing agreement with "the policy of making available immediately for overseas reinforcements all full trained home defence forces as recommended by Col. Ralston," was passed by a meeting of citizens called here by Mayor D. Howrie.

The resolution recommended that "the government be asked to implement this policy without further delay."

Copies of the resolution will be forwarded to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, former Defence Minister J. L. Ralston and all B. C. members of Parliament.

Plan New Military Training Program in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 19 (AP) — Argentina is preparing to put into effect a new armed forces statute requiring all citizens of both sexes to begin training for national defence at the age of 12, it was learned Saturday.

The program for girls of 12 to 20 presumably will take the form of athletics and improvement of health standards, while organization of an army auxiliary service is contemplated to absorb women.

Vice-President Juan Peron announced that the new statute divides citizens' military service into preconscription, beginning at 12; conscription at 20 with service for two years; and post-conscription membership in the organized reserve.

See Need Greater Stress Training Fundamental Knowledge in Schools

Viewpoint of student, teacher, businessman and parent in the pros and cons of the present educational system, its benefits and shortcomings were aired at the Soroptimist Club supper meeting. A cross-section of the opinions of the community was sought through the discussion.

Students should be given a more definite knowledge to serve as a basis to branch out to higher fields, it was felt by both teacher and student. This viewpoint was supported by the businessmen's complaint that students did not gain enough fundamental knowledge they could aply to the jobs they later filled.

That there was a need for more opportunities for technical education to cater to students having such ability, was widely believed. The student representative expressed the view that more attention should be given to preparing students in practical education which would be of use in their future work.

There was a necessity, parents felt, to make children work—until they developed their own sense of responsibility. Such close supervision was impossible because of the size of present classes and the many extra-curricular activities, was the teacher's answer.

Of exceptional benefit, it was felt, was the health program conducted in schools. It encouraged proper physical development and forwarded instruction in health matters, nutrition, and information on current health problems.

The opinion that students now were perhaps more developed socially and more frank in their outlook was expressed.

J. H. Coventry in the discussion represented the parents' viewpoint, H. Lupton the business men's, Alan Ramsden the students', and Mrs. Mona Meagher the teachers'.

Experience Gained by Air-Sea Rescue Service Will Aid in Pacific

LONDON, Nov. 19 (CP) — Experience gained by the air-sea rescue service in the European and Mediterranean war zones means that airmen forced down at sea in the Pacific theatre will have an increased chance of survival.

Thousands of airmen, including hundreds of Canadians, owe their lives to the air-sea rescue service of the Royal Air Force.

When Britain and the Dominion turn their weight against Japan, division of the air-sea rescue responsibility will be adjusted among the Allied Nations.

In the East patrolling planes must have a long range and it is probable four-engined aircraft will be used more extensively than in other theatres. Flying boats, rather than launches, may become the chief method of complete rescue. Airborne lifeboats will be used more frequently.

In Europe, majority of forced landings on water occurred close to shore. In the Pacific the larger number may be at a greater distance from land.

Accordingly, air-sea rescue officials must supply increased rations and equipment for "ditched" airmen out East who may have to spend long hours floating on, or in, the water before rescue. But he may be in less danger of enemy attack because of the distance from enemy bases and the warmer waters may permit longer endurance.

Canadian members of the rescue service include Fo. Doug Todd, Calgary; Pos. Allan Middleton, Winnipeg; Jack Smih, Saskatoon; Wo. Verne Taylor, Winnipeg, and Roy Bien, Shamrock, Sask., Flt. Sgts. J. R. Campbell, Fort William, Ont., and M. C. Freed, Wainwright, Alta.

Working with air-sea rescue ground crew are Cpl. C. E. Couling, Hayfield, Man., and Lac. H. A. McLaren, Vancouver.

To Play Title Football Saturday

TORONTO, Nov. 19 (CP)—The Eastern Canada championship game between Hamilton Wildcats, winners of the Ontario Rugby Union title, and the Navy team representing H.M.C.S. Donnaconna of Montreal and H.M.C.S. St. Hyacinthe of that city, Q.R.F.U. champions, will be played at Hamilton next Saturday, Canadian Rugby Union officials announced today.

To the winner of the game will go the Grey Cup, emblematic of the Canadian championship, as there is no Western Canada challenger.

Louis Limps Through Exhibition Cards

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP)—Sgt. Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, now involved in picking up a few extra nickles while on furlough by knocking over a few foes in exhibitions and acting as refree for wrestling matches, has been limping through his engagements because of a dislocated bone in his right foot.

Lew Diamond, who has been manager pro tem of the champ on the current tour, said Joe took a "terrific swing" at a golf ball, and did "something to a bone in his right foot."

"The foot swells up to twice its normal size, and Joe can't get his shoe on. So he cuts a house slipper to shreds and wears that. We finally get the swelling down so Joe can out-punch Jimmy Bell in three rounds in Washington Monday night."

"He was no better Tuesday night when he flattened Johnny Davis with one punch at Buffalo.

"The foot was a little better Wednesday night at Elizabeth when he went the full three rounds against Dee Amos, and he hopes to be in better shape for the rest of the tour."

Diamond said Joe so far on the tour has paid out of his own pocket for tickets for at least 2500 service men who desired to see the exhibitions.

"He wants to stay the full three rounds in the exhibitions, to give the fans their money's worth, but a couple of the opponents got cute and tried to knock him out," Diamond said. "But Joe got 'em out of there pretty quick."

Army Pounds Penn 62-7

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP) — Army trounced Pennsylvania 62 to 7, on Saturday as compared with Navy's 26-0 victory over the Quakers three weeks ago.

For about 13 minutes in the Penn game it looked like the old Franklin Feild jinx again was working agains Army. Penn had driven to the Army 12, lost the ball on downs, yielded a touchdown on Max Minor's 66-yard sprint, but had bounced back to tie the score at 7-7. Then came the deluge as the cadets piled up the biggest score in the history of Franklin Field and more than atoned for the worst lacing an Army club ever suffered, the 48-0 licking Penn inflicted in 1940.

While the route was on at Philadelphia, Navy put Purdue through the hoops, 32 to 0, at Baltimore. It was the Middies' fourth straight victory.

"Nothing New" on Ezinicki

TORONTO, Nov. 19 (CP) — An Army Public Relations officer here said tonight there was "nothing new" to report in the case of Bill Ezinicki, 20-year-old rookie right winger with Toronto Maple Leafs who was reported Saturday to have volunteered for active service with the Canadian Army after he passed his medical examination.

Ezinicki earlier in the year was rejected when he applied for army service. He was discharged recently from the RCAF for medical reasons after four months' service.

He had been called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act regulations and reported for his medical Thursday. He was arrested by military authorities and put under close guard Friday night when it was said he had torn up his medical papers during examination.

Leafs Take Hawks 5-4; Canadiens Beat Bruins; Rangers Tie Wings

TORONTO, Nov. 19 (CP)—Coach Hap Day's Toronto Maple Leafs held off a determined drive by Chicago Black Hawks to score a 5-4 victory in a National Hockey League game here Saturday night. A crowd of 13,162 watched the match.

Leafs showered Goalie Mike Karakas with pucks in the last period to net three goals while allowing Hawks only one.

SCHRINER INJURED

The win may be costly as Dave (Sweeney) Schriner, left winger from Calgary, was seriously injured half way through the final stanza when he crashed into his own goal. He was at first believed to be a fractured leg but x-ray examination showed it was only badly bruised.

Lineups:
Chicago—Karakas, Cooper, Thoms, Harms, March, Brayshaw.
Chicago subs—C. Smith, Purpur, Check, Mosienko, Fraser, Seibert, Horeck, Mitchell.
Toronto—McCool, Hamilton, Davis, Bodnar, Schriner, Carr.

THURIER SCORES TWO

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 (AP) — New York Rangers came to life for one minute during the second period Saturday night and Rookie Fred Thurier scored twice in that brief span to give the home club a 2-2 tie with Detroit Red Wings in an unexciting National Hockey League tussle.

Thurier's two goals, 50 seconds apart, equalled the total efforts of the Red Wings in the first half of the game which was witnessed by a crowd of 14,811.

Lineups:
Detroit—Dion, Quackenbush, Jackson, Armstrong, Bruneteau, McAtee.
New York—McAuley, Heller, McDonald, DeMarco, Warwick, Shack.
Detroit subs—Simon, Hollett, Liscombe, Howe, Grosso, Carveth, Lindsay, Wochy.

NANAIMO, B. C., Nov. 19 (CP) — Nanaimo Clippers registered the second shutout of the newly-born circuit when they defeated Johnnie Clark's Vancouver Arrows 5-0 in a Pacific Coast hockey league game here tonight before 1300 fans.

Clippers notched a paid of goals in each of the first two stanzas and added a single in the final period. Pacing the Nanaimo sextette to a smart victory were Jimmy Mailey and Ronnie Koehle from Trail, who flanked Norm Kirk.

Clipper goal getters were Norm Kirk (2), Mailey, Koehle, and Johnson.

Result of the win left the three coast teams deadlocked with one win and one loss apiece.

Jones' Horse Wins Pimlico Futurity

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19 (AP) — Trainer Ben Jones came up Saturday with a stronger contender for next year's three-year-old stake classics when his Calumet Farm's Pot O' Luck won the 22nd running of the Pimlico Futurity by a head in a photo finish over George D. Widener's Plebiscite.

Recovering from the next to last position, Jockey Doug Dodson rode the son of Chance Play into the picture on the far turn and in a stretch battle brought the favorite home to grab the winner's share of $35,130 for Pot O' Luck's owner, Warren Wright, of Chicago.

Col. C. V. Whitney's Recce was third, a length behind Plebiscite, with Col. E. R. Bradley's Buymeabond fourth in the field of nine two-year-olds seeking a claim on the 1944 juvenile honors.

Ban Professional Wrestling, London

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP)—A ban on wrestling—professional style—was recommended by the Public Control Committee of the London County Council.

"In our view, 'all-in' wrestling cannot be regarded as true wrestling," said the Committee. "We do not consider that it contains any element of sport, and we regard it as a degrading and unhealthy form of entertainment."

U. S. Golf Pros Take Coast Men

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (AP) — Byron Nelson, Toledo professional, and partner Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Philadelphia professional, fired sub par golf here today to defeat two top Vancouver pros Freddie Wood and Stan Leonard, three up and two to go.

More than 5000 people, the largest crowd in British Columbia golfing history, attended the match in aid of prisoners of war fund.

The leading U. S. shot makers had a best ball of 60 against the local pros 63 over the par 71 course. Nelson and McSpaden left Vancouver tonight for Portland, Ore., to play in the $15,500 open starting Nov. 23.

Nelson was four under on the first nine with a 32, but took an eight on the par four 10th and bogeyed the 11th but settled down to come in with 37 for a 69. McSpaden, off the beam with his irons in yesterday's exhibition, carded five birdies and an eagle for a 67. Leonard matched McSpaden's 67, shooting six birdies and an eagle. Wood played a steady game and came in with a par 71.

Hamilton Cats Blank Beaches to Capture Title

TORONTO, Nov. 19 (CP)—Hamilton Wildcats won their second straight Ontario Rugby Football Union championship and their third in four years Saturday in spite of a brilliant individual performance by 20-year-old Ross (Red) McKelvey who sparked Toronto Balmy Beach to a 6-0 victory in the second game of the Union's home-and-home points-to-count-final series.

Wildcats, who now enter the Dominion final against the Quebec Rugby Football Union champions, H.M.C.S. Donnaconna of Montreal, took the round 18-10 through the 13-4 triumph they scored on their home field in the first game of the series the previous Saturday.

Although he didn't figure in the scoring, McKelvey played inspired football and his frequent broken-field runs for gains of as much as 30 and 35 yards were sensational.

Billy Myers, fleet 19-year-old halfback, and veteran Earl Selkirk scored the six points. Myers took a 22-yard pass from Selkirk in the second quarter and dashed 70 yards through an open field for a touchdown, outdistancing the great Joe Krolin in the middle stages of his sensational run.

WIN NAVY TITLE

MONTREAL, Nov. 19 (CP)—H.M.C.S. York football team, displaying the brand of ball that won the Ontario Services title, Saturday captured the first Canadian Navy grid title in history, when they sent the high-powered combines of St. Hyacinthe and Donnaconna down to a 12-1 defeat here. The Torontonians took advantage of loose ball handling by the Montrealers to push over two converted touchdowns for victory.

Montreal's middies now meet Hamilton Wildcats for the Eastern title next Saturday in Hamilton. H.M.C.S. York are unable to compete with civilian teams.

Canadian Railways are now moving more cars per day than during any period since the start of the war.

To feed the population of liberated areas, Canada has undertaken to provide a large quantity of wheat and flour, which must be moved to the eastern seaboard before the close of lake navigation; in addition, large quantities of munitions and war supplies, as well as current commercial shipments, will have to be transported. As very few cars have been constructed during the war years, it is necessary that we make our present equipment perform the service.

To help us fulfill Canada's obligations, the Railways request that shippers and receivers of carload freight, load and unload their cars as rapidly as possible.

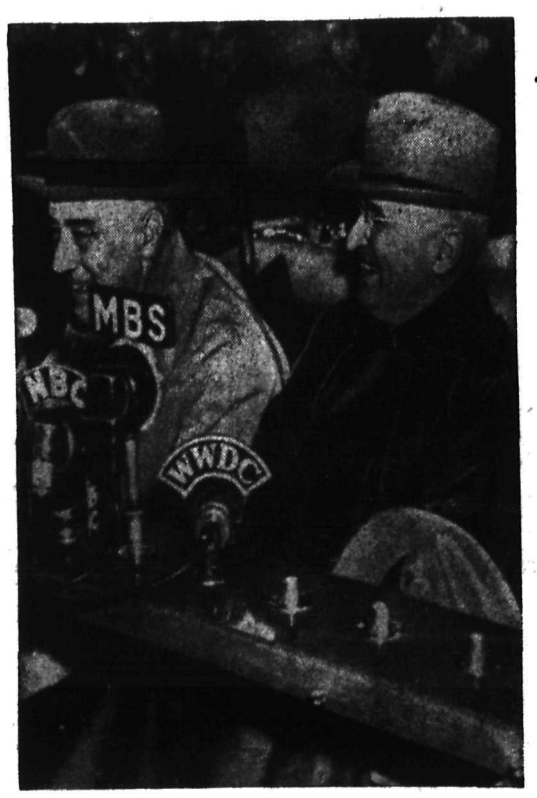
THE HUNTING IS GOOD IN ITALY: An American Doughboy stands guard over three German soldiers who seems to have had enough war to last them for the rest of their lives. The fighting in Italy is as hard now as it was when the invasion of that country first was undertaken. Allied progress is slow, but sure.



PRESIDENT IN GOOD FORM: If the wide grins here are any indication, President Roosevelt was on top of his form on his return in triumph to Washington from his Hyde Park home. He is shown as he made a brief radio address before the big crowd that gathered to welcome him. Seated with the President is Vice-President-Elect Harry S. Truman.

NO NYLONS NEEDED: There's been lots of talk in Hollywood about this glamor girl and that having the most appealing limbs, so co-workers of Ann Jeffreys decided to show you their idea of top honors in this field. Ann certainly seems to bear out their contention.

HORSEPOWER GETS LIFT FROM MANPOWER: With practically unlimited manpower and very little mechanical horsepower, something like this could happen only in China. An army jeep destined for Chinese Lieut.-Gen. Soong Hsi-Lien, commander of the 11th Chinese Army group, is carried in parts for 15 miles over mountain trails to the Burma Road where it is reassembled. At top, parts of the jeep are shown in transit. Below, Gen. Soong proudly shows off his new chariot.

WILL PRESIDE: W. J. Parker, President of the Manitoba wheat pool, will be guest speaker at the annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture to be held at the King Edward Hotel, Dec. 6 and 7.

WILL BE SPEAKER: Alex McKinney, a Brampton, Ont., farmer, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, will preside over the annual convention to be held in Toronto early in December.

MOYIE

MOYIE, B.C.—A surprise party was given recently in honor of four of our citizens on the occasion of their birthdays. They are Mrs. C. Stanton and daughter, Betty, Mrs. C. MacFarlane and Mr. Walter Andrews. A presentation of gifts was made by Charles MacFarlane. There was a huge birthday cake donated by Mr. Jensen. Mrs. Jessie Whitehead of Vancouver, an oldtimer of Moyie, was also presented with a gift. Dancing was the entertainment for the evening. A lunch provided by the community was served. Many out of town guests from far and near were at the party.

Mrs. Alice Guindon left for Cranbrook to spend a couple of weeks visiting Mrs. Alex Hurry.

The Moyie school teachers entertained the children on Hallowe'en. Games were played and candy made. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Sholund and son, Al Sholund of the R.C.A.F., accompanied by Mrs. Benson and Mrs. William Barr, all of Kimberley, were in Moyie Tuesday.

Mrs. Harry Strand and children left for Grand Forks to visit at the home of Mrs. Strand's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hlady.

Many friends of the late Mrs. Sadie Farrell motored to Cranbrook Thursday to attend the funeral service at St. Mary's Church. They were: Mrs. A. Pearson, Mrs. E. J. Sylvester, Mrs. B. Burch, Miss Mamie Farrell, sister-in-law Mrs. R. A. Smith, Mrs. A. Guindon, Mrs. M. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Grivell and Walter Ginamer.

Seamen Remanded on A.W.L. Charges

VANCOUVER, Nov. 19 (CP) — Four of eight merchant seamen against whom 81 charges were laid under the Shipping Act of being absent without leave from duty on a Park Line freighter, were remanded until Monday by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson Friday.

In order that the ship might leave port several charges against the last two to be tried—John Beck and Cliff Mahone—on which pleas of not guilty were to be entered, were dismissed. On several other charges of being A.W.L. which were admitted, they will be sentenced Monday.

N. Sondrill was convicted on two charges of assault.

J. Mennie was convicted of being absent without leave at one port where he was found in jail after getting into a street fight.

The other four men in custody awaiting sentence are W. Labodie, P. Serota, J. Walker and A. Ferguson. Mennie and Sondrill are also in custody. Bail was continued in the cases of Beck and Mahone.

Thousands Wander in Sub-Zero Weather in Norway

LONDON, Nov. 19 (CP) — Thousands of Norwegian men, women and children, driven from their homes in the Far North of Norway, are wandering over snowbound roads in a temperature of 20 degrees below freezing.

A Norwegian Government spokesman said the forced exodus was supervised by the Germans in an effort to "concoct a story of a panic flight from the Bolsheviks."

Hospitals Refuse to Admit Jap Medical Students

EDMONTON, Nov. 19 (CP)—City hospitals "have refused to accept Japanese internes," and until this policy is changed the University of Alberta is unable to accept Japanese students in medical courses, Dr. Robert Newton, President, said Saturday.

"Fifth-year students of medicine now take their entire year in hospitals," Dr. Newton said, "and only a limited number of women students can be accepted because of the lack of accommodation for living quarters in the hospitals.

"As far as the Japanese are concerned, they were accepted in medicine up to this year. But now the hospitals have refused to accept them as internes. Since it is obligatory for medical students to spend the year in hospital, the university can do nothing about it until the hospitals change their policy."

Winnipeg Legion Demands Conscription

WINNIPEG, Nov. 19 (CP) — Winnipeg's Valour Road Memorial Branch of the Canadian Legion endorsed a resolution at a meeting here calling upon the provincial command to organize a public meeting "at the earliest possible moment" to discuss the conscription issue.

C. Rhodes Smith, President of the Manitoba Command, said he would summon resident members of the Provincial council to act on the request.

The branch members passed another resolution urging parliament to take the conscription question "into its own hands," should Prime Minister King elect to dissolve parliament and call a general election on the issue.

Majority C. M. & S. Workers Plan Return to Company Test Shows

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd., largest industrial firm in the province whose longest payrolls are here and at Trail, is taking practical steps in its post-war rehabilitation plans in relation to its 2300 employees who are serving in the armed forces.

Each service man formerly employed has been mailed a questionnaire on his personal post-war plans and the 1500 completed questionnaires returned so far show definite trends; 97.3 per cent of the answers showing the particular serviceman intended to return to the employ of the company. More than 63 per cent of those answering were willing to return to the type of work they left when they enlisted, and 29 per cent wished to continue with the company at different jobs from those they left.

Technical education acquired in the services showed up in the answers to the question of the individual's preference of type of work when he comes back. For every company electrician who enlisted there will be three qualified electricians who were former employees, and for every company machinist who enlisted two qualified machinists will return. Two company truck drivers enlisted, but 58 former employees now state they qualify as truck drivers.

Of the 1500 former employees who answered the questionnaire, exactly half stated they intended to marry and build a home following their discharge.

All answers to the questionnaire are being tabulated and filed so that information on individuals as well as statistical preparation can be ready for immediate post-war action. Outside factors may necessitate some variation in the present plan with the great turnover of labor during the past four years, with many replacements of former employees going into the services, and their replacements following them.

The management of the company states, however, that it is the company's sincere intention to carry out this plan to the greatest extent possible in meeting the obligation to those returning from active service.

Nelson District V-Loan Sales at $1,090,350; Gain 14 Pennants Believed Best Record in Canada

An added $9650 in 7th Victory Loan applications, recorded since Thursday, has boosted Nelson District's total sales in the greatest war finance campaign to $1,090,350. This figure is 32.15 per cent over the quota of $825,000.

"Nelson District's response has in every way been a creditable one." said H. A. Matthews, Organizer, of Vancouver Sunday. "Not only did it meet its biggest war loan assignment, but, as far as we can ascertain, it has set a record in Canada by receiving 14 honor pennants for over-subscription in its various sub-units."

Every sub-unit in the District topped its individual quota by over 25 per cent. Salmo District earned four honor awards, New Denver-Slocan and Kaslo three apiece, and Nakusp and Nelson districts two each.

Mr. Matthews and Brigadier J. B. Stevenson, who also participated in the organization of the campaign here, expect to leave Monday for Vancouver.

Sensational Chelsea Forward Scores 4 More

LONDON, Nov. 19 (CP-Cable)—Chelsea's John Payne scored four goals today to continue his sensational pace as Chelsea defeated Brighton and Hove Albion 5-3 in the South Coast town and remain atop the League South soccer standings.

Payne's four-goal effort, following up five he scored in Chelsea's victory over his old team, Luton, last week, featured a heavy afternoon program throughout England, Wales and Scotland in which upsets were many and the scoring high.

Payne, a centre forward, has scored 27 goals in 13 games this season. His crafty footwork is a big factor in rejuvenating a team which was once the butt of music hall jokes and seldom far from the cellar in the standings.

Tottenham Hotspur leaped from fourth place to second—right behind Chelsea—by defeating Clapton Orient 2-0. West Ham United dropped from second spot when edged 2-1 by Southampton before a crowd of 14,000 in one of the day's biggest surprises. Brentford, which dropped from third to third place last week, took another unexpected beating today when nosed out 2-1 by Crystal Palace and dropped into fourth place behind West Ham.

Newcastle United, with Tom Carr scoring six goals, smashed Bradford 11-0 in the most one-sided victory of the day while Blackpool, League North champions last season, took a 4-3 beating from Halifax. Everton, which moved into second place last week, dropped back to fourth position through losing 5-3 to Crewe while a home crowd of 21,000 watched glumly.

A howling crowd of 18,000 saw Manchester United edge their city rivals, Manchester City, 3-2 while 10,000 watched Aston Villa trim Coventry 4-0.

Cardiff, which lost 4-2 to Bath, stayed atop the League West on the basis of a better goal average than Briston, victors over Aberaman 5-1.

The biggest upset was Crewe's triumph over Everton. The crowd fully expected Everton, with four Internationals, to have no difficulty in winning but the toffee-makers suffered their third home defeat of the season.

Clyde retained the Scottish Southern League leadership, although being defeated 3-0 by Dumbarton. The big surprise was Motherwell's 1-0 victory over second-place Hibernian. Celtic showed a revival of form in nosing out Third Lanark 2-1.

Dundee became the sole leader of the Scottish Northeastern League with a 2-1 victory over the cellar-dwelling Falkirk. Aberdeen overwhelmed Hearts by 7-0.

Thomas Powell, Well Known in District, Dies

Thomas Powell, well known in the District as a carpenter by trade and a hunter by avocation, died Saturday afternoon in his 67th year.

It was in his role as a big game hunter that Mr. Powell came first to Nelson District from his home in Pennsylvania in 1906. After about two years he returned to the United States, but visited here for lengthy periods until finally making his home at Nelson in 1923. He had married in Pennsylvania in 1919.

Mr. Powell was born Dec. 21, 1877 in England, but came to the United States with his parents as a child.

Three Mill By-Law Discussed, Creston

CRESTON, B.C.—Most of the November Council meeting was taken up with the reading of the proposed "Town Planning" by-law in connection with the three mill levy to be presented to the eligible voters and the James Cook report on the inspection of hydrants. Reeve Mallandaine and James Cook were present and previous to the regular meeting town advisory committee representatives, J. D'Appolonia and Neville Smith heard the reading of the three mill by-law.

It was suggested by James Cook that the by-law receive its three readings, sent to Victoria for formal approval and upon its receipt a public meeting will be held potentially for December 4th. It will then be presented to the electorate at the civic election time, n order to be made law the by-law must receive a three fifths majority.

A letter from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board construction department asked for a report on new buildings and that only excavations and concrete work be completed. The council will reply that construction is being proceeded with.

The Council also advised that no water will be piped outside the city limits.

The Creston Badminton club was advised that they could have the park pavilion on the same terms and conditions as last year, that is two nights a week and Sunday afternoon.

In answer to the legality of voters if any civic election occurred it was pointed out that the Council should use their own discretion. The Council stated that for this election trade-license payees and poll tax payees would be allowed a franchise.

W. Beck gave permission for Mrs. Berkinshaw to run a pipe line across his property but the council warned that it would be at her own expense. The Salvation Army thanked the Council for its donation.

The waterworks statement showed that accounts totalled $1001 and the village statement showed $685 expense sheet for the month.

Following a hydrant inspection on the upper side of the tracks by Fire Marshal Joyce, Water Commissioner Cook and Superintendent Ferguson, the report showed that 16 hydrants were in good condition, seven needed repairs, four needed caps, three needed boxes and nine needed sawdust.

Trail High School Entry in Spokane Chase

MOSCOW, Idaho, Nov. 18 (CP)—Track Coach Mike Ryan of the University of Idaho, Manager of the Second annual Pacific Coast Cross Country championship races to be held in Spokane Thanksgiving Day predicted today that the races will be "bigger and better in every category" than last year's.

Listing some of the individuals and teams already signed to compete in the races sponsored by the Spokane Athletic Round Table, Ryan said more entries may be received before the closing date Monday.

Ryan said more than 100 high school runners also are expected to compete in the schoolboy division. Teams have entered from schools in Spokane, Rathdrum, Kellogg, Moscow, Lewiston and Grangeville, Idaho, and Trail, B. C.
