SIX NAZI BASTIONS FALL TO RUSS

Nazis Run Before Big Tanks

Dougboys Smash Within 5 Miles of Coutances; Lessay, Periers Taken

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, July 27 (AP) — Swift-moving American tank columns shattered the Germans' Western Normandy Line today in a sudden break-through that plunged the enemy into chaotic retreat and drove to within five miles of strategic Coutances, fall of which might entrap the entire 84th Corps of seven battered Nazi divisions.

Lines of tanks, half-tracks and self-propelled artillery, revealed by Headquarters for the first time to be striking in divisional strength in the greatest armored blow since D-Day, smashed all organized resistance, Field Commanders said.

Without a fight the enemy yielded the old seacoast strongpoint of Lessay, 12 miles North of Coutances, and Periers, six miles to the East, and fled South under a hail of bombs and shell fire to try to make a stand, possibly around Coutances.

Headquarters communique No 104 tonight said the enemy in the Caen sector "has made no further effort" but added that a strong enemy counter-attack towards the hill-top village of Verrieres, 4½ miles South of Caen, was repulsed Wednesday night.

Headquarters had no comment on German broadcast claims that the British and Canadian offensive South of Caen has been resumed.

All day long the Germans reported powerful Allied reinforcements had been landed at the mouths of both the Vire River, on the American front, and the Orne River, on the British front, and the Nazis predicted even mightier offensives.

The communique tonight, chronicling the American gains, disclosed that besides the column driving toward Coutances from the East, a second column fanned out four miles Southwest of fallen Canisy in what may be an outflanking threat to Coutances, road junction town near the West coast of the Cotentin peninsula.

Field dispatches said one armored finger had stabbed to Cerisy la Salle, seven miles Southwest of Canisy and 7½ miles southeast of Coutances.

The column heading westward along the road from St. Lo to Coutances had enveloped Campremond North of the highway and less than five miles from the threatened town.

Coutances already was within artillery range and it appeared it could not hold out for long unless the sporadic resistance the bewildered enemy is offering on this sector of the flaming 40-mile front tightens. Prisoners up to noon totalled 2600 and tank crews did not both to corral them.

Yet another tank column, pouring through a gap in the German lines around Canisy in a gain of up to six miles captured le Mesnil-Herman, six miles South of St. Lo.

This thrust, drawing a steel ring about the Germans who from the strategic heights South of St. Lo have been holding up the American advance, severed the road from St. Lo to Avranches, 30 miles South, which is the side door to the Britanny Peninsula and its naval base of Brest.

Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's American 1st Army kept the pressure all along the 40-mile front. Early in the day his forces had cut the road leading to Lessay from Periers.

Then on the East of St. Lo, the Americans knocked off Berigny, seven miles up the road to Bayeux, overran Montrabot, eight miles East of St. Lo, and drove on two miles South to Mouffet, South of the St Lo-Caumont road.

TAKE 20 CENTRES

In all, the Americans have captured 20 communities in 48 hours, advanced up to nine miles, and now have thrust from the coast 20 miles into France for their greatest penetration since D-day, and are knocking out tanks trying to stop them at the rate of 80 a day.

Gunners, closely-supporting tactical warplanes, and tanks destroyed or disabled 80 yesterday and approximately 90 today.

Headquarters admitted British forces had withdrawn from Esquay, 7½ miles Southwest of Caen, and had given up blood-stained "Crucifix Hill," which dominates the Orne-Odon River wedge in that area, but said positions South of Caen were strongly held.

The Germans have massed 40,000 troops in this region, by Allied estimates, have set up strong positions backed with plenty of armor, and appear bent on defending it bitterly to prevent a break-through which would set the Allies loose on the road to Paris.

HAMMER NAZIS FROM AIR ALL ALONG LINE

500 Heavies Smack Big War Plant at Budapest

HUNS ACTIVE

LONDON, July 27 (AP)—Allied fighter-bombers and fighters plastered enemy front-line troops, tanks, guns and strong points along the Normandy front throughout daylight hours today while from Italy 500 American heavyweight bombers hit the Manfred Weiss Works in Budapest, the largest industrial plant in Hungary.

R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. Typhoons, Spitfires and Mustangs lent strong support in the British-Canadian sector of the Normandy battleline, carrying out 500 sorties. The enemy produced fighter opposition but lost 16 aircraft, 12 to Canadian Spitfire pilots. One Canadian squadron alone downed eight.

There were no Allied losses in this sector.

Some hours after darkness fell, the German radio reported "nuisance raiders" over the border territory of East Prussia while the Nazi-controlled Budapest radio said Budapest was undergoing a "nuisance raid" and that planes were over Serge, Maros and Kolos. Earlier the Belgrade radio said enemy bombers were over Montenegro.

Increased enemy fighter opposition on practically every front from Normandy to Pisoeti was considered significant. Front reports said there had been a considerable increase in German fighter bomber activity but there was no explanation for the increase after the Nazi Air Force's long stretch of playing dead.

Only the American Liberators on the run to Belgium were unopposed by Nazi fighters and their escort took over the job of strafing ground targets.

R.A.F. Lancasters and Stirlings delivered another daylight assault upon Nazi flying bomb sites in Northern France.

An R.A.F. daylight attack upon robot bomb installations, carried out with fighter escort, was delivered without loss, it announced.

A force of 800 American heavyweights from Italy bombed the Manfred Weiss Works in Budapest. The Mediterranean squadrons had to fight through a surprisingly strong force of German planes which engaged them all over the attack route.

BOOST VICTORY SCORE

First reports from up to 500 bombers participating said the bomber gunners as well as fighter pilots scored a number of victories to boost the total of 188 tallied in the last three days, a top mark for this theatre. One of the hardest knocks yet received by the Germans in this area was delivered yesterday when Allied airmen knocked down 78 enemy planes.

The Manfred Weiss Works produces aircraft engines, guns, ammunition, machine tools and other war essentials.

Airmen said this target was well hit and enveloped by smoke.

Germany's industrial structure took another beating today as American heavies based in Britain, inforce up to 250 strong, penetrated murky weather and smashed at the Nazi Air Force's supply and communications centres in the Belgian cities of Brussels and Ghent.

During the night, British heavies bombed the rail centre of Givors-Baden, 12 miles South of Lyon in Southeast France. Mosquitoes kept Hamburg awake, bombed other German targets for the fourth night running and harassed troop movements in Normandy.

Up to 250 American heavies, with an equal escort of fighters, struck in Belgium in the same general area where Thunderbolts late yesterday hurled high explosives and incendiaries on dozens of rail targets. Brussels and Ghent both are rail bottlenecks leading from Germany to Normandy. A single bomber and one fighter were lost to flak today; no enemy fighters rose to challenge.

Fighters swooped low to strafe ground targets such as locomotives and freight cars.

Six heavy bombers were lost in the Givors Baden thrust that carried the R.A.F. fleet across France to a point about 80 miles Southwest of Lake Geneva, and immediately North of an area which had been under attack by Italian-based Allied bombers frequently last month.

The weather over Northern France still was unfavorable today, with overcast skies and some rain, but Allied Headquarters said it was no worse than yesterday when Tactical Air Units flew 3500 offensive sorties.

BREAD AND BEER FLOWN TO NORMANDY: A long range fuel tank of a Spitfire, converted for the purpose, is being filled with beer from barrels before being flown to Allied forces in the Normandy sector. Also included as cargo on the voyage is bread.

4000-Pounders Hit Stuttgart In Third Raid

LONDON, July 28 (Friday)—(CP)—R.A.F. Mosquitoes blasted Stuttgart with 4000-pound bombs last night, subjecting that German industrial city to its third raid in four nights, the British announced today.

Pound Japanese Ships, Gain on Tinian

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—A Japanese destroyer, an oiler, a destroyer escort or minelayer, seven small cargo ships and many smaller craft were sunk by American carrier-based planes in a series of attacks in the Western Caroline Islands, the Navy reported tonight.

With the American attack on the Japanese inner circle of outposts being maintained at a fast tempo, the Navy also announced that American Marines now control the Northern one third of Tinian Island, including Mount Lasso, the island's commanding height.

Aerial support is being extended the Marines by fighters based on Saipan, neighboring island in the Marianas chain.

American casualties on Tinian as of July 25 were 150 killed in action, 441 wounded and 32 missing.

Enemy dead totallin 3089 have been counted, and 62 Japanese troops have been taken prisoners. Eighty civilians have been interned.

The Japanese naval base at Truk also came in for a pounding, 70 tons of bombs being dropped on it by heavy bombers.

KING GEORGE WATCHES NAZI SHELLS BURSTING

ON THE BRITISH 8th ARMY FRONT IN ITALY, July 28 (Delayed)—(AP)—King George VI of Britain stood in an observation post in front of newly-captured Arezzo today and watched British artillery shell the little church of Campriano, 3000 yards away, while Sherman tank units and Indian infantry worked their way up a hillside toward a Nazi strongpoint in the basement of the church.

The King's face was streaked with dust and dirt from a 70-mile drive, much of it through lines of cheering British troops, as he imperturbably watched German shells bursting on the plain directly in front of his tree-shrouded hillside grandstand seat. The late afternoon action unfolded before the King wasta minor one as battles go, but was typical of the German last ditch delaying action across the Italian front in terrain highly favorable for defence.

The King has been on a vigorous tour of the Italian battle front for several days.

King Invests Soldier With V.C. on Field

WITH THE 8TH ARMY IN ITALY, July 27 (CP Cable) Representative men of a veteran Canadian formation stood on an Italian hillside and watched King George invest with the Victoria Cross a 19-year-old Indian soldier, Sepoy Kamal Ram, it was disclosed tonight.

This ceremony took place Wednesday in the course of a tour during which the King drove miles along roads lined with cheering soldiers and took his first flight in a "Whizzer", a British single-engined small artillery observation plane.

His Majesty also decorated two other soldiers with the V.C., and performed the ceremony of knighting Lt.-Gen. Sir Oliver Leese, Commander of the British 8th Army.

During the day he met for the first time Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski, Commander-in-Chief of the Polish Army, as well as Lt.-Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, Commander of a Polish Army Corps in Italy, and Leopold Stokowski, composer and conductor, at an impressive review of Polish troops.

The other recipients of the V.C. were Lieut. Richard Wakeford and Fusilier Richard Arthur Jefferson, who were decorated together on a parade ground behind the front lines.

The King stopped to talk to Canadians of the veteran Armored Brigade in a party under an Ontario Regiment's commanding officer from Victoria, B. C.

The King shook hands with and decorated officers and non-commissioned officers, including Maj. J.R. Walker, of Three Rivers, Que., and Capt. Arnie Charbonneau of Ottawa both of whom were awarded the Military Cross, and Sgts. R. Campbell of Clyde Forks, Unt., and F. J. Fontaine of Toronto, holders of the Military Medal.

The King talked with the Commanding Officer of the Brigade, from Vancouver, as he drove down a troop-lined highway through the dust. Between 400 and 500 men formed up on the hillside and cheered his Majesty as he drove through the ranks.

SCHACHT SHOT BY GESTAPO REPORTS CLAIM

LONDON, July 27 (AP) — The Algiers radio quoted a Stockholm dispatch today as saying that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Reich Minister without portfolio, had been shot by the Gestapo.

Reports of Schacht's death have cropped up previously and have never been verified. German broadcasts made no mention today of the German financier.

FOUR P. CONS. MEMBERS BACK FAMILY BILL

Green Would Send Regulations to Committee for Study

PRAISES IDEA

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) — Four Progressive Conservative Members from Western Canada said today in the Commons that they will support the Government's Family Allowances Bill.

Howard Green (P.C.—Vancouver South), John Diefenbaker P.C.—Lake Centre), A. H. Bence (P.C.—Saskatoon City) and Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross (P.C.—Souris) said they would vote for the bill because there could be no disagreement on its objective.

Another Progressive Conservative, Tommy Church, Member for Toronto Broadview, criticized the legislation as drafted, but did not say how he would vote on the bill if a vote was called.

As the support for the measure came from the Opposition, Liberal Members, in favor of the legislation, called attention to criticism directed at it by John Bracken, National Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, Gordon Graydon, House Leader, and Dr. Herbert Bruce (P.C.—Toronto-Parkdale).

Mr. Diefenbaker, while giving unreserved support, said he believed the measure was unconstitutional and should be submitted to the Courts at once with a view to determining whether it could be made operative and taking whatever steps were necessary to regularize it.

"I intend to support this measure," said Mr. Green. "I do so in the hope that it will benefit Canadian children and Canadian parents, thereby benefitting the Canadian nation as a whole . . .

"I am not sure the objectives sought to be reached in this bill might not have been attained in other and more practical ways but that now is beside the point, the bill has been brought down; the Government stands behind it as their method of meeting the problem and the House is faced with acceptance or rejection of this measure."

Mr. Green's principal complaint was that the bill was in general terms and left too much to be settled by regulations. He thought the whole arrangement should be written into the statute and suggested that the regulations, at least, be referred to a small committee for the House to study.

Mr. Diefenbaker argued that great uncertainty and disappointment would result if the bill were thrown out by the Courts after it went into effect. He said he thought the position could easily be clarified by getting a decision on it from the Courts before next July when it is due to come into operation.

Arthur Roebeck (L.—Toronto-Trinity) said one had to look at John Bracken, Progressive Conservative Leader, to find out what his party thought of family allowances.

Mr. Bracken had stated the allowances had all the earmarks of a political bribe. This meant he was irrevocably against the allowances because "I take it that he himself would not be a self-confessed briber of the public," said Mr. Roebuck.

Mr. Bracken's attitude could be taken as that of his party. "Therefore, I say his party is irrevocably against family allowances," he said.

He felt that the allowances would be repealed if the Conservatives were elected to power.

"We'll make it a workable act," interjected Mr. Graydon.

Mr. Green said he did not believe payment of the allowances should only begin July 1, 1945. Payments should begin immediately at least to the children of men in the forces, or of men who have been discharged.

The allowances also should be paid for children born overseas from marriages of Canadian servicemen to British or other young women.

Some provision should have been put in the bill to prevent employers from reducing wages when payment of the allowances begin.

Speaking during continued debate on second reading to the Family Allowances Bill, Mr. Diefenbaker said there could be no disagreement on the objective of the bill, aimed at providing equality of opportunity and freedom from fear and want.

However, the allowances legislation as drafted was similar to the Old Age Pensions Act. Prime Minister Mackenzie King had stated in 1925, 1931 and 1936 that Parliament did not have the power to pass an Old Age Pensions Act under which the Federal Government would pay and administer the pensions all over Canada. What Mr. King said of the old age pensions would equally apply to the allowances legislation.

The allowances legislation was unconstitutional under the terms of the British North America Act, and it was on such grounds that he wished to criticize the bill, said Mr. Diefenbaker.

He said he wanted to see legislation that would be operative and which would banish fear from the homes of the poor in the country. He did not want to see legislation passed which would be declared unconstitutional and therefore would remain inoperative.

Laureys First Canadian Ambassador to Peru; Pearson Promoted

OTTAWA, July 27 (AP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight announced appointment of Dr. Henri Laureys as Ambassador to Peru and the promotion of L. B. Pearson to the rank of Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States.

Dr. Laureys will be the first Canadian Ambassador recently returned from South Africa after a term as High Commissioner there.

Mr. Pearson has held the rank of Minister-Counsellor at the Canadian embassy in Washington. That rank was established when the embassy was a legation and the head of the mission, Hon. Leighton McCarthy held the rank of Minister. Since Mr. McCarthy has been promoted to the rank of Ambassador the elevation of Mr. Pearson brings his status up to the next grade.

Arrangements for an exchange of ambassadors with Peru have been in progress for some time Mr. King announced the government of Peru has designated Dr. Humberto Fernandes Davila as charge d'Affaires in Ottawa pending the appointment of an ambassador.

Other Latin-American countries with whom Canada has previously exchanged diplomatic representatives are Brazil, Argentina, Chile, and Mexico.

Mr. Pearson is one of the senior officials of the External Affairs Department and has served in London and Washington as well as in the External Affairs Department here. Since going to Washington more than a year ago as Minister-Counsellor he has played a leading role in the organization of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

Berlin Again Cut Off From World

LONDON, July 28 (Friday)—(CP)—Berlin was cut off from the outside world last night under circumstances much the same as the night before announcement of the attempt to assassinate Adolf Hitler.

The Daily Mail in a dispatch from Stockholm said there was no immediate explanation of the shutdown in communications. During recent Mosquito bomber raids on the German capital there has been no such isolation of Berlin.

POLES PUSH 17 MILES BEYOND PORT OF ANCONA

British Continue to Advance Against Florence

NEW LANDINGS?

By GEORGE TUCKER
AP War Correspondent

ROME, July 27 (AP) — Driving up the Adriatic coast of Italy against the weakening German resistance Polish troops of the British 8th Army have pushed 17 miles beyond the captured port of Ancona and seized Senigallia at the mouth of the Misa River only 22 miles from Pesaro, Allied headquarters announced tonight.

Pesaro next objective of the Poles is believed to be an outpost of the "Gothic Line" whose main fortifications are said to be anchored in Rimini, another 30 miles up the coast.

British, New Zealand and South African troops engaged in closing a steel clamp on Florence gained up to four miles at some points in bitter fighting, winning positions within six miles of the Arno River West of the historic city.

Battle-tried New Zealanders were meeting the brunt of fierce German counterattacks in their push directly North up Highway No. 2 in the area of San Casciano, where they were within eight miles of the heart of Florence.

A German broadcast declared, as on several previous occasions, that the allies were preparing to make new seaborne landings near Genoa on the West coast of Italy, some 75 miles above the present battleline. It said that a large of transports and landing craft and several divisions of troops had been massed for the attempt.

Indications grew that American troops drawn up along the Arno from the West coast inland would be forced to take the ancient City of Pisa by storm and perhaps turn their artillery against the celebrated Leaning Tower, which the Nazis had converted into an observation post.

From their positions in the portion of Pisa South of the River the Americans could see the enemy erecting barricades in the streets on the opposite side of the wide stream and setting up scores of machine guns in buildings. The Germans have made no effort to spare Pisa by declaring it an open city, as they did in the case of Florence.

Dash Within 30 Miles of Warsaw

Seize 1635 Cities, Towns, Villages as Nazis Flee Before Giant Thrust

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 27 (AP)—Russian troops, inflicting the war's most disastrous series of defeats on the Germans, today plunged to within 30 miles of Warsaw, captured the great city of Lwow and five other enemy bastions, and crossed the San River in a wide sweep toward Germany itself.

Lwow, Bialystok and Stanislawow, ancient Polish fortresses, fell to the Soviet tide pouring Westward through broken German armies, along with 1635 other cities, towns and villages. This was the greatest one-day bag yet announced by Moscow during the gigantic Soviet Summer offensive.

In the North Daugavpils and Rezekne in Latvia and Siaulial, strategic rail junction in Lithuania, also were seized, and the capture of Siaulial plugged the last main enemy escape route out of the Baltic States.

Routed German armies nearly everywhere appeared to be falling back in precipitate flight, and military men here now believe the Germans may retire to the Oder River in Eastern Germany itself. They based this belief on the almost two-miles-an-hour pace of the Russians, and the lack of any sign that the Germans would attempt to hold on the Vistula River in Poland.

Berlin itself said the Vistula defences had been pierced Southeast of Warsaw, and that water barrier is the last natural defence line short of the Oder.

German Silesia is only 140 miles West of the Vistula, where the Germans said the Russians had crossed, and farther South other Soviet units were reported officially by Moscow to have crossed the San River on a 60-mile front and raced 17 miles beyond to a point only 120 miles from Silesia.

Capture of Garwolin by Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's 1st White Russian Army troops put the Soviets within 30 miles Southeast of Warsaw, and the Russian communique also said that other Red Army shock troops had fought their way into Siedlce large rail city only 80 miles East of Warsaw.

The rumble of Soviet artillery could be heard in the Polish capital which the Germans took the first month of the war begun Sept. 1, 1939. By capturing Garwolin the Russians were within 540 airlines miles of Berlin itself.

Premier-Marshal Joseph Stalin in an unprecedented issuance of five orders of the day announced the fall of six major German strongholds on this "Black Thursday" for Germany. The fifth order of the day told of the capture of the strategic rail junction of Siaulial, 72 miles Southwest of Riga and 83 miles East of Memel in East Prussia.

The fall of this "large communications centre linking the Baltic with East Prussia" to Gen. Ivan Bagramian's Baltic Army effectively boxed up 30 German divisions of perhaps 300,000 men under Nazi Col.-Gen. Lindemann retreating toward Prussia from Estonia and Latvia with other Russian armies in close pursuit.

ESCAPE HOPES BLIGHT

A small railway running from Riga to Liepaja (Libau) on the Latvian West coast, thence South to Memel, is al lthat is left to these disaster-ridden German forces, and is considered ineffective for mass movement. The Nazi alternative is escape by sea, and it was believed the German Navy was incapable of handling the fleeing troops.

It was a big night in Moscow as 224 of the Soviet capital's victory guns fired a total of 100 salvoes in celebration of the great victories—announced within a few hours after Berlins' admission that the Germans were in general retreat.

The fall of two other big German bastions, Brest Litovsk, 115 miles East of Warsaw, and Kaunas, former Lithuanian capital, appeared to be near. Red Army shock troops were reported fighting in Brest Litovsk's streets, and all adequate German escape routes already had been cut by other Soviet units attacking about 50 miles East of Warsaw. In the North Russian troops were only a few miles from Kaunas.

Lwow, nine-way rail junction which is one of the largest in Europe, fell after a two-day attack by Soviet shock troops. Stanislawow, another important rail junction 65 miles to the Southeast in the Carpathian foothills on the road to Czechoslovakia, was taken by other units of Marshal S. Konev's 1st Ukraine Army.

Sixty miles West of Lwow other troops under Marshal Konev had reached the San River on a broad front and were reported across that barrier at some points in a strike toward Krakow, 35 miles away on the trunk line leading to German Silesia.

Stanislawow's German garrison already had been cut off by Soviet captrue of points on all sides of the city, including Delatyn, within 18 miles of the Atar Pass leading to Czechoslovakia.

The fall of Lwow, pre-war Poland's third largest city with a population of 317,000, will release thousands of Russian troops as reinforcements for the surge southward into the Carpathian mountains and Westward toward Germany.

BRITISH SHIPS, PLANES SMASH SABANG HARBOR

Bold Lighter Ships Hurl Torpedoes, Shells Inside Harbor

SURPRISE JAPS

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
AP War Correspondent

ABOARD A BRITISH CRUISER OFF SUMATRA, July 27 (AP) — The Japanese-held Sabang naval base on Northern Sumatra at the entrance to the Malacca Strait leading to Singapore, was heavily bombarded by major units of the allied Eastern fleet with a covering support of carrier-borne aircraft just after sunup today, and was torpedoed, gunned and strafed by an inflighting light force which swept boldly inside the harbor.

British, Netherlands and Allied warships took part in the powerful attack, in which "complete surprise was achieved," an allied communique announced. It added harbor installations "were almost completely destroyed." Battleships, cruisers, and destroyers took part in the 39-minute battering. The ships received only minor damage, and one aircraft was lost.

(Tokyo radio asserted that two allied destroyers and a submarine were sunk and that a number of allied planes were shot down.)

Carrier aircraft initially damaged a radar station and an airdrome and destroyed four grounded planes and two more attempting to shadow the fleet.

The bombardment, which a communique described as "most effective," hit dockyard workshops, wharves and slips with at least 75 salvoes of heavy shells, and they all were damaged extensively.

Battleships, cruisers and destroyers lay offshore lobbing scores of tons of shells with devastating effect and providing cover for a Netherlands cruiser — operating in Dutch Colonial waters— and three allied destroyers which penetrated the almost land-locked harbor.

With guns blazing, the raiders sank a medium merchantman, silenced remaining shore batteries and wrecked two jetties with torpedoes at a cost of minor damage and very few casualties, including two dead, before withdrawing.

Bombers Break Up Jap Convoy

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Friday, July 28 (AP)—The smashing of a five-ship Japanese convoy South of Truk and comprehensive bombing of objectives in the strategic Manokwari area of Netherlands New Guinea were among widespread aerial strikes reported today by headquarters.

One small freighter and three lugger-type vessels were set afire or probably sunk when Ventura bombers intercepted the convoy Wednesday 100 miles South of Truk in the Caroline Islands. One ship escaped by fleeing northward.

Three important airdromes around Manokwari were blasted with a total of 30 tons of explosives Wednesday.

Medical Supplies Also Thrown on Highway Dump

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP) — Large amounts of medical supplies were among material thrown on a big dump of unused United States Army goods near Dawson Creek, B.C., Peter H. Schroeder, trucking contractor of Dawson Creek, said here today in an interview.

Mickey Prestley, Nelson Hockey Star and Youth Leader, Dies of Wounds Received in Action

Michael (Mickey) Prestley, 21-year-old native son of Nelson, who as a member of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps arrived overseas in May, has died of wounds received in action, his sister Miss Frances Prestley of Nelson, was advised by wire Thursday morning, by the Department of National Defence.

That the action was in Normandy is considered practically certain, as Miss Prestley received an airgraph from Mickey only Monday, of last Saturday's date, stating he was "on board ship." From the brief lapse of time since, no other war theatre would fill the time requirement.

MICKEY PRESTLEY

ACTION IN MANY LINES

Taking part in nearly all team sports in Nelson, from the opening of the Civic Centre on, Mickey was widely known and popular. He was a member of the Nelson Boys Band. In hockey he played successively for the Scouts, the Catholic Boys Club, the Panthers and the M.R.K., also playing rep hockey, and in his last year here he was a flashy forward on the Nelson juniors. He also played some lacrosse. He and his older brother, Bernard (Barney) had their own kid baseball team before the Civic Centre was started. He was very active in Catholic youth circles, and was president of the C.Y.O. here for two years. An active debater, he represented the local C.Y.O. on a number of debating teams that went up against the Trail and Rossland C.Y.O. teams. He was on the C.Y.O. basketball team that won the local championship for three years running, with its well known line of Gagnon-Eccles-Prestley, the others being Louis Gagnon and the late Flt. Sgt Jimmie Eccles. Mickey was senior soloist in the choir of the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate.

After leaving school he was employed by the Nelson Transfer Company. Entering the Army in November, 1942, he trained first at Wainwright, Alta., and then at Nanaimo, before going overseas the past Spring.

He is survived by his older brother Bernard Joseph Prestley, who is in the Signal Corps at Grande Prairie, Alta., his sister, Miss Frances Prestley, of Nelson; and his younger brother, John, of Nelson, garage mechanic. His father, the late Joseph Prestley, died in June, 1942, of a heart attack, when he fell from the City Wharf into shallow water. His mother died 12 years ago.

Strikers Have Some Scuffles

HALIFAX, July 27 (CP) — The clang of the hammer and the roar of the riveter was absent tonight along the waterfront as the deadlock continued between the management and workers of the Halifax Shipyards, Ltd., and the marine slip and windmill pier at Dartmouth across the harbor.

Although some 60 workers disobeyed the strike order called for today by the Action Committee of Local One, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (C.C.L.), no one went through the picket lines for the night trick. Close to 2,000 workers are affected by the strike.

Hundreds of strikers thronged the outskirts of the yards today but officials said their actions were orderly. Union Headquarters said there were a few minor scuffles early tonight when the workers who ignored the strike order made their way home through the picket lines. One striker had a bruised head.

CIVILIANS, NAVY MEN SCRAP

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 27 (AP) — This city, the capital of California, was declared out of bounds for non-resident United States Navy personnel today and nearby American army bases announced they are temporarily withholding passes for enlisted men in the lower grades.

The drastic action followed a street fight last night between Navy and civilians, which resulted in the gunshot wounding of Charles Robert Redifer, 28, a sailor stationed in San Francisco.

Police said Pte. L. Roy Clark, a negro military policeman, accidentally shot Redifer—who was not participating in the fight—during a melee near a restaurant. Redifer's wound was not serious.

Fifteen more patrol men and one officer were "on their way to Sacramento to handle the situation", the San Francisco office said.

Plane Rushes Loggers to Hospital

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—A Royal Canadian Air Force plane rushed Don Stanich, Nanaimo logger, to hospital here today after he suffered a serious eye injury while working at Juskatla Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands, 300 air miles northwest of here.

Hospital attendants report Stanich's condition as unchanged.

Stanich, an employee of Aero Timber Products, was hammering a wedge when a piece of it flew into his eye. FO Don Ritzell was pilot of the plane.

Drop Bomb at U. S. Embassy

BUENOS AIRES, July 27 (AP)—A harmless noise bomb exploded in front of the newspaper La Nacion building tonight durnig an other wise orderly demonstration in favor of the government's foreign policy by several thousand persons who first assembled in front of the United States Embassy. No one was hurt.

The demonstration came 24 hours after a radio address in which Foreign Minister Gen. Orlando Peluffo, outlining the country's foreign policy, asserted Argentina was resolved to continue her present course, a course officially criticized by the United States as pro-Axis.

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—The Argentine government, by its continuing support of the Axis, is considered in official quarters here to have forfeited its right to sit down with the United Nations in important war and post-war conferences, including whatever peace conferences may be held.

This exclusion policy, already invoked at the Bretton Woods Monetary Conference, has been given a new and more permanent base by last night's official United States declaration denouncing Argentina as a "deserter" of the Allied cause.

One immediate result will be that the Argentina Government will have no part in the talks this Fall between the United States and the other American republics on creation of a post-war security agency.

Prince George Fires Spread

VICTORIA, July 27 (CP)—Weather conditions which caused fires to spread rapidly made Prince George Forest District the "hot spot" in the British Columbia Forest Fire picture today.

Forest Branch Headquarters reported a fire at Norman Lakes escaped control and drove toward Henry Lake and Dahl Creek. More complete information from the Punchaw Lake area showed there were five separate fires in that section and additional firefighters were being assigned to them.

Nelson reported only eight fires, all under control and practically "mopped up."

Throughout the Province the fire hazard was increasing and additional restrictive measures were under consideration.

For the Island and Lower Mainland no general gain was in sight for at least 48 hours.

Kamloops, Nelson and Prince George all reported the hazard as high and increasing.

CANADIAN GENERAL HOSPITAL HANDLES CASUALTIES

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, July 27 (CP-Reuter)—Canadian casualties from this week's fighting South of Caen are being cared for in a Canadian General Hospital which opened Tuesday, the day the push was launched.

It is the first Canadian hospital to go into operation in the beachhead although a Canadian casualty clearing station was opened about two weeks ago. Only a few hours after it opened, casualties from the fighting at May sur Orne, Verrieres and Tilly la Campagne started to come in.

Wounded soldiers found themselves treated by Canadian doctors and nurses who spoke with Canadian accents.

In the first six months of 1944 the live stock marketings showed a sharp increase over the corresponding period in 1943. The total number of hogs graded in inspected plants was 3,165,721, an increase of 60 per cent over the number graded in the first six months of 1943.

Claimed Ford "Interested" in Silver Shirts

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP) — A letter purportedly written in 1941 by William Dudley Pelley to Maj.-Gen. van Horn Moseley of the U.S. Army, outlining plans "to alter the course of American history in the next two to four years," was introduced in evidence by the Government today in the sedition conspiracy trial.

Pelley, leader of the "Silver Shirts," is a defendant. The letter said the writer was carrying in his head "information of such colossal character" that he wanted to share it with four others, whom he named as Gen. Moseley, Henry Ford, Charles A. Lindbergh and Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat.

The writer said in the letter that "Mr. Ford is definitely interested in the preliminary material which I have submitted to him and has implied that he would put $1,000,000 behind our gesture, providing it can be shown that we can deliver the goods."

Outside the courtroom, a spokesman for Ford said in a statement: "The statement concerning Henry Ford in connection with William Dudley Pelley and Maj.-Gen. van Horn Moseley is a malicious lie. Mr. Ford has never seen Pelley or Moseley and the former was thrown out of the office building at Dearborn, when he attempted to obtain funds."

3 Nelson Boy Singers Are Best in Province

Three Nelson boys, students of Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson, each won a silver medal in Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations, these awards being given for the highest mark of all students of the grade and subject in the province of British Columbia.

The boys are Ralph Burnham, who won first place in Grade I singing, Alfred Anderson, who won the same award for Grade II singing, and Don Brown, who won in Grade X singing class. Both the younger students are active members of St. Paul's Boys' Choir.

Success of the third silver medallist, Don Brown, is considered remarkable in view of the fact that he is still in his teens and was in competition with much older voices. George Coutts, recent examiner, had this to say about the winner: "A remarkable fine voice and his interpretive gifts are of a very high order—He gave a first class performance in every way and in every department of his work." He awarded the contestant 88 marks.

This opinion was on a par with that expressed in Vancouver in the Spring of 1943 by G. Jones of Calgary, when young Brown won 90 marks in the young baritone class.

Clement Q. Williams of Vancouver said of Brown's singing, "In my opinion he is one of the most outstanding singers of B. C., and, for his age, in Canada."

Don Brown is now in Winnipeg as a member of the Visual Service Department of the Canadian Navy.

LONDON, July 28 (Friday) — (CP)—In a special communique over the Free Yugoslav radio, Marshal Tito announced early today 5000 Germans had been wiped out in the Berane area. Partisan forces routed the force of Germans making an attempt to cut Tito's communications in the Lim Valley preparatory to a drive on Bosnia.

Bank Bill Study Completed

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) — The Commons Banking Committee today completed study of the Bank Bill extending the charter of Canadian banks for 10 years and making some revision in the banking regulations.

The bill will be reported back to Parliament where it is expected to be the subject of further debate. The Committee devoted almost the entire tome of its two meetings today to discussing the amendment made by E. E. Perley (L.—Qu'Appelle) which would have limited the charter extension to two years and recommended an investigation of the Canadian banking system during that period. The amendment was lost on a 16-4 vote.

The Committee still has to consider the Industrial Development Bank Bill, a bill providing for intermediate farm credits and several private bills.

G. G. McGeer (L.—Vancouver-Burrard) supporting Mr. Perley's motion said present banking legislation lacked control measures which the Government could use to block an inflationary boom.

"It is a dangerous thing to move into conditions we cannot escape in the post-war period with anything frozen that doesn't have to be frozen," he said.

MONTREAL, July 27 (CP) A mass meeting of street car and bus operators of Montreal Tramways Company was called for Monday night by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CCL) late today, with the possibility a strike vote might be taken.

Union officials said merely that by Monday night they expected to be able to report to workers on the report of a conciliation board which reconvened here Monday to consider demands of the union for a union shop. The demands had previously been rejected by the Board.

Report of the Board on the reconvened sitting is expected to be made public in Ottawa tomorrow. Unofficial reports circulating here said that the report would again reject the union shop proposal.

Union officials had said previously that in the even tof a refusal, a mass meeting would be held to take a strike vote.

Flying Bomb Barrage Spreads Death

LONDON, July 27 (AP) — The Nazis' flying bomb barrage increased in ferocity tonight, spreading death through Southern England. One smashed a row of houses sending a dozen persons to hospitals and trapping a family of six in a backyard shelter. In one house a number of mothers and babies were among the casualties.

A bomb that wrecked a row of shops also damaged a church nearby, causing casualties. Other people were hurt in a blast that damaged buses.

Halcrow Downs Another Nazi

WITH THE RCAF IN NORMANDY, July 27 (CP Cable) — Canadian Spitfire pilots flying from beachhead airfield, today destroyed at least 12 enemy aircraft, one squadron alone accounting for eight.

The "eight bag" was scored on a pre-breakfast sortie by a squadron which had just been taken over by Sqdn. Ldr. Charles Trainor, D.F.C., of Charlottetown, who shot down an ME109 himself, bringing his personal score to 8½.

In another early morning sweep two city of Oshawa Squadron pilots—Sqdn. Ldr. J. L. McElroy, of Kamloops, B. C., and Flt. Lt. D. E. Noonan of Kingston, Ont.—destroyed two FW109s. A third was damaged by Flt. Lt. Don Hayworth of Regina and s/lt. Sgt. R. Chambers of Lloydminster, Sask.

Noonan and McElroy made their kills as the enemy aircraft were about to land, Noonan's victim crashing without a shot being fired as the German dipped into the ground while taking evasive action.

Successful pilots in Trainor's squadron included Flt. Lt. W. R. McRae, Port Arthur and Flt. Lt. A. F. Halcrow of Penticton, B. C., formerly of Nelson, with ME109 to their credit; and Flt. Lt. A. E. Morrison of Stettler, Alta., with a Focke Wulf 190.

London to Be Leading Place of Commerce in Postwar Plans

LONDON, July 26 (CP) — The battered mile-square "city" around St. Paul's Cathedral—will emerge as a district devoted purely to business after the war, with no fancy face-lifting proposed in rebuilding plans put forward today by civic officials.

The program calls for wider streets, taller buildings, fire-proofing of some of the older edifices, and removal of some of the ramshackle buildings which clutter the district.

But City Engineer F. J. Forty, who drafted the plan, struck its keynote when he said: "I want the city to be the leading place of commerce in the world, and not—as some planners would suggest — a park.

Its new rebuilding program—to be carried out over a period of between 20 and 25 years—proposes a general widening of roads, and a "ring" road North of the city to relieve traffic congestion, as well as an extension of the existing embankment from Blackfriars to London Bridge.

The new program called for leaving more open space around St. Paul's, but made the careful point that it did not intend the famous Cathedral set aside in some exotic arbor foreign to the atmosphere of Old London.

Denies He Left Canada to Live in U.S. in Last War

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King denied tonight in the Commons that he left Canada during the years of the First Great War to take up residence in the United States.

Mr. King said that at no time between 1914 and 1918 "did I give up my residence in this city, at no time did I go anywhere to reside other than Ottawa, except temporarily."

He made the statement after Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross (P.C.—Souris) said he believed that between 1911 and 1919 Mr. King wrote his book, "Industry and Humanity, and spent some years in the country to the South of us studying social problems—the years from 1914 to 1918, or something."

Mr. King said Mr. Ross was "repeating something, whether consciously or not, which is wholly untrue."

Typhoons Swoop on Nazi Troops

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Correspondent

ON THE ORNE RIVER FRONT IN NORMANDY, July 27 (AP)—Without lifting a finger—but with cheers — British frontline troops watched a heavy German counter-attack as it was smashed and scattered in the orchards South of Verrieres.

Here is the story of what happened in this strange episode of modern warfare:

Across no man's land late yesterday German infantry, supported by upwards of 50 tanks ,was seen forming for an assault in the Requancourt sector.

The British gave no inkling they were aware of the Nazi plan, and instead of laying down an artillery barrage tipping off the Germans their scheme was known, the Tommies sat quietly in their slit trenches.

Immediately, however, word was flashed back to air headquarters and several hours passed while the Germans were allowed to mass for the attack.

Then suddenly, at the crucial moment, R.A.F. rocket-firing Typhoons streaked across the sky and spread havoc among German troops and tanks alike.

At the same time a great artillery concentration of hundreds of guns behind the Canadian front opened up, adding to the enemy's confusion.

Five Nazi tanks were destroyed, eight were damaged and unknown numbers of enemy infantry killed or wounded.

In less than an hour the entire German concentration was cut to ribbons and dispersed. The enemy fled in confusion and never attempted to "get off" from the starting mark under the terrible punishment meted out by the rockets.

McNair, who was 61, was responsible for the training of the ground forces now in action overseas, and was regarded as one of the army's most brilliant officers. Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, one called him "the brains of the army."

Ten - Ton Robots May Be Possible

ADVANCE COMMAND POST, Allied commentator said today that German talk of using ten-ton explosive rockets against England, in the manner of the robot bombs may not be sheer propaganda talk.

He pointed to attacks by RAF Lancasters on possible V-2 (rocket) sites with 12,000 pound "quake-makers."

A new rocket is reported from certain unauthenticated sources inside France to weigh about 90 tons at launching. Its size is said to diminish as fuel is expended in flight through the stratosphere and the ten-ton warhead is designed as the part of this monster weapon to reach its destination.

The commentator said V-2 might be highly inaccurate or might fizzle out in flight, but that there should be no wishful thinking.

The Germans call their present robot bombs, bombarding London and Southern England, the V-1.

Polish Premier Will Make Bid for Russ Terms

By ALEX SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 27 (AP)—Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk of the Polish Government in London left for Moscow today.

His departure came after the cabinet of the Polish Government had approved a plan to send him to the Soviet capital to confer with Premier Stalin in an apparent effort to effect a compromise with the rival Polish faction in Moscow.

The Premier was accompanied by Foreign Minister Romer who was Polish Ambassador to Moscow prior to the rupture of Soviet-Polish relations.

The cabinet's decision was regarded as a sign that neither the London Poles nor the British Government had abandoned hope of settling the differences between the government of the peasant-born Premier and the Polish Committee of Liberation with which the Soviet government signed an agreement for administration of Polish territory occupied by the Red Army.

Meanwhile the London Daily Worker took a milder tone and said "a splendid opportunity exists for all honest Polish Democrats to take part in the rebuilding of a strong Poland." If Mr. Mikolajczyk and his followers "find the courage to break once and for all with the reactionary gang around him."

Some degree of unity is being developed in the Polish armed forces. The Moscow radio broadcast a letter from Lt.-Gen. Sigmund Berling and Maj.-Gen. Alexander Zawadski, commanders of Polish troops in the Soviet to Gen. Jucjan Zeligowski in London calling for "Poland great, strong, happy and not dependent on anyone." Zeligowski's reply praised them for their part in the restoration of an "independent" Poland.

Under terms of the accord between the Soviets and the Liberation Committee, supreme power is vested in the Russian Commander-in-Chief in areas where the Red Army still is engaged in fighting, but as soon as the area ceases to be a zone of military operations the Polish committee will assume full responsibility in matters of civil government and establish an administration in accordance with the Polish constitution.

Name High Nazi Officers in Hitler Bomb Plot

LONDON, July 27 (AP) — The German radio asserted today that Infantry Gen. Olbricht, Col.-Gen. Ludwig Beck and Col.-Gen. Erich Hoepner took part in the bomb plot against Hitler.

Olbricht was shot after a court martial, the broadcast said.

Beck was said to have committed suicide when arrested.

Hoepner was reported under arrest awaiting trial.

The Berlin account said these were the three mentioned by Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels in his speech last night.

The Propaganda Minister, without mentioning names, said one General "up to then had been prominent only for sabotaging all decisions in the war."

Goebbels said a certain Colonel General "had hysterical breakdowns" and that another Colonel General conducted a "cowardly retreat" on the Russian front.

How Olbricht, Beck and Hoepner tallied with the propagandist's description was not immediately made known.

Meanwhile four other Generals have been added to the swiftly lengthening list of Nazi command casualties in 24 hours.

The Russians announced the capture of Lt.-Gen. Moser-Hillmann, commander of fallen Lublin. He was their 26th captured General of the Summer offensive. Lt.-Gen. Wilhelm Grimm "met with a fatal accident," probably at Munich, the Berlin radio said last night. Allied planes raided that Nazi shrine city last week.

Col.-Gen. Freiherr Geyr von Schweppenburg, commander of a German tank division in Normandy, was reported by the Stockholm Morgon Tidningen to have been shot.

Gen. von Machenfeldt was arrested in the Hitler bomb plot, the same newspaper said.

ROVING POWER HOUSE FOR LIBERATED COUNTRIES: The eight exhaust stacks of this Westinghouse power train, the first roving power completed in this country for the Allies abroad, form a striking silhouette against the sky at New Philadelphia, Ohio, where the eight-car train underwent full 5000 kilowatt power tests. Through these stacks roars 800,000 cubic feet of air per minute, drawn through condensing coils along the sides of the car by eight large, propeller-like fans, to cool live steam exhausted from the turbine in the generator car. A part of the generator can be seen at the extreme left of the picture. The power trains will be used to supply power to recaptured cities where the retreating enemy has destroyed normal facilities.

Pretty Legs Mean Good Muscles

By IDA JEAN KAIN

It is no secret that most women's legs are either too fat or too thin. And, so often, they don't match the rest of the figure.

It is muscle tone that makes good legs. That's why the dancers, even though ultrastreamlined, have such lovely limbs. In fact, musculature counts more than weight. Of course, structure enters into it. With fine bones, your legs may measure from 11¾ inches to 12½ inches at the calf and from 7½ to 8 inches at the ankle. The more solidly built girls will have just as nice legs that measure from 12½ to 14 inches at the calf, and from 8 to 8½ inches at the ankle. But no girl has those measurements without good muscle tone.

Dancers have lovely legs because they use them. Some of the ballerinas who have the most beautiful legs wear woolen tights for their practice periods. They claim the exercise plus the warmth makes for long, smooth muscles. Some of the dramatic actresses keep their legs lovely by walking barefoot, on their toes, for 10 minutes a day. And there are Hollywood's actresses who walk barefoot in the sand on the beach—and that's really exercise.

Don't Sacrifice Education for Job

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Some of the boys who have graduated from high school have several more weeks or months before they will be accepted into the armed forces. By working this summer they may be rendering a patriotic service and gaining valuable experience. Some of these boys will be wise, if their parents can afford to supply the funds, to spend this time in college or a technical school.

Girls with college minds, who have just graduated from high school, should plan now, if possible, to enter college or nurses' training next Fall, as a highly patriotic measure. If they are able to earn durnig the summer and will save their money, they may be able to accumulate enough to make possible their further education. We wish that these girls might see that the returning here they hope to marry won't have much money, as a rule, and that they (the girls) could well afford to save for a favorable fund for beginning family life.

The youth who earns this summer has, if he only realized it, far more reasons for saving as much money as possible than he has ever had before. I wish all earning youths might be led to sense this fact so as to budget their earnings and spend but a small portion thereof on passing pleasure.

Some boys and girls needing one or more years in high school in order to graduate, will find the fat envelope this summer so alluring as to choose to remain on the job next Fall instead of returning to school. Not a few of their parents, alas, will encourage these youths in this shortsighted and unwise choice, even fooling themselves into believing it patriotic.

Small Minds Hold Grudges

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax—"Why is it that some people hold grudges against children for what their parents have done?

"My husband and I have been married for nine years and are very much in love with each other. He is now in the Army. My husband's father served a prison sentence about 18 years ago for something which was later found to be unjust and he was pardoned. However, people still are holding it against us. Friends told me the other day that they were ridiculed because they had anything to do with us.

"My children are only 8 and 3 years old now, but if some unkind person should taunt them later on with this fact, how am I going to explain such a thing to them? I had a great many friends before I married, who have dropped off, but I was so much in love with my husband that it didn't worry me.

"My husband is a bit shy and hard to get acquainted with but everybody likes him. I do believe I'm developing an extreme case of inferiority myself, as I've let this prey on my mind, especially since my husband has gone into the Army. M.H.D."

It's hard to believe that anyone could be as cruel as this mother states. Punishment for a crime not committed would seem enough to satisfy the most savage instincts of what the Scotch call "unco good." Time and time again, men have been punished for crimes they had never committed.

Reason in Food Habits

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The time has been ripe ever since the science of nutrition gained maturity, which I would say was about 10 years ago, for the expression of views as those in the book I am reviewing today. It is entitled—Man's Food, Its Rhyme or Reason, by Mark Graubard, of the Department of Biology at Clark University.

The emphasis is upon the social conscience of the food expert, and his convictions about physiology. Food plays too great a part in the general health of mankind to have its choice left to crop conditions, the whims of the agrarian producers, to economic depressions or to the prejudices and religious taboos of different groups.

No man should be allowed to go on in an enlightened community eating just what he likes or what his whims or prejudices dictate.

We are very far, in this land of plenty, from any real familiarity with the spectacle of the social consequences, of the effect on the morale of a population of not getting the right kind of food. But it is probably happening every minute in some part of the globe.

Think of the experience given in the graphic words of R. R. Williams, the Bell Telephone chemist who discovered the chemical nature of (Vitamin B. "On several occasions in the absence of a medical associate, I went at the call of a health inspector to the Tond slum district of Manila to attend without benefit of medical certificate reported cases of beriberi. Often I dosed the baby myself to be sure to get as much of my precious preparation inside and as little outside as possible, and sometimes sat down beside the anxious mother on the split bamboo floor of the little nipa shack to await results. Within as little as three hours I have seen the cessation of the weird, almost soundless crying which, due probably to paralysis of the larynx, is characteristic of the last stage of the malady. Easing of the gasping, breathing soon followed, and then occurred the smoothing of the wild pulse, the fading of blue lips, a hungry nursing, and peaceful sleep."

Such spectacles as that must never happen in a world governed by an enlightened social consciousness. The knowledge of food today is not any longer a mass of haphazard guess or tradition. It is as exact a science as can be found in the realm of physiology and what men are to eat is not to be controlled by the screams of some long-haired nut-chewer from the backwoods.

A graphic illustration of the difficulties is found in the use of meat. Scientific dietetics states that provided it is hygienically prepared meat is one of the best of foods. It is a better source of protein than vegetables. We have no scientific evidence that the protein in beef is any better or worse than that of pork, mutton or horse meat. Yet the religion of the Hindu prevents him from eating beef, the religion of the orthdox Hebrew prevents him from eating pork, the religion of the Brahma prevents him from eating meat of any kind, and the prejudices of the Anglo Saxon prevents him from eating horse meat and he would view the dinner table of the Frenchman on horse meat day with disgust amounting to revulsion.

Is this rhyme or reason?

Dr. Graubard thinks it is merely rhyme. I agree, but I can see practical difficulties in imposing pure reason on the world in the matter of food habits.

TODAY'S MENU

Cottage Ham, Pork Chops or Cube Steak for Two
Scalloped Potatoes
Buttered Beets
Tomato Jelly Rings with Vegetable Salad
Butterscotch Squares
Iced Tea or Coffee

COTTAGE HAM

1 or 1½ pounds cottage ham, ¼ cup brown sugar, ½ teaspoon whole cloves, ¼ cup vinegar, ½ cup water.

Cottage hams today need very little cooking. I allow 3-4 to 1 hour in moderate oven, hot enough to scallop the potatoes—around 350 degrees F. Put ham in open pan, after washing, put in oven and cook for ½ hour. Put vinegar, water, sugar and cloves on to boil, boil for 10 minutes or so, then pour over ham, and continue cooking.

TOMATO JELLY RINGS WITH VEGETABLE SALAD

Make jellied tomato with your regular recipe, mold in individual rings. Unmold on salad plates on which you have placed crisp lettuce, and fill center with mixed vegetable salad.

BUTTERSCOTCH SQUARES

Three-quarters cup meats, 3-4 cup cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

Grease an 8-inch layer-cake pan and line with waxpaper. Prepare nut meats, breaking them coarsely. Sift flour, measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Measure shortening (preferably butter) into small saucepan and place over low heat until melted, stir in brown sugar and stir until well blended. Allow to cool to lukewarm, stir in unbeaten egg and beat well; add dry ingredients gradually, stirring them in, and vanilla and nut meats, turn into pain and bake at 325 degrees F from 30 to 35 minutes. Cool in pan, then cut in squares. Serve plain or topped with ice cream and a butterscotch sauce for dessert.

Today he is back in Canada, a fuzzy-cheeked veteran with one Messerschmitt confirmed as done Focke-Wulf probable to his credit. Startled RCAF officials caught up with him just after D-Day and hustled him back to Canada, where he must remain until he reaches 18 years of age. With 18 operational trips against German targets and others in Occupied Europe as a backlog of experience, Sgt. Hadwyn will serve as a gunnery instructor.—RCAF photo.

"Anyone can have milk for delicious new dishes!"

SAYS ELSIE: "Don't let lack of milk keep you from enjoying new mealtime treats! Use KLIM Powdered Milk. Just mix with water to get creamy milk for making tasty biscuits, custards, soups and creamed sauces for vegetables and fish. Good for tea or coffee, too. Made, as needed, this milk is always fresh."

Good reasons why you'll like KLIM:

1 KLIM is pasteurized whole milk—powdered. Only the natural moisture has been removed. All the cream is left in.

2 KLIM keeps fresh indefinitely in its vacuum-sealed container. Even after opening, KLIM keeps fresh and sweet for a long time. (Note: Be sure to replace lid tightly.)

3 KLIM is light, easy to carry. Saves space. Ready for immediate use. Just follow the simple directions printed on the can.

KLIM is a vital product required in large quantities for our fighting forces everywhere. Naturally the amount for civilian use is restricted. However—for infant feeding—if you have difficulty in getting a sufficient supply have your dealer get in touch with us.

The Russo-Japanese Situation

It is said that frantic calls have en going out from Berlin to Tokyo ging that the Japanese attack Russia.

The Japanese have shown no inination toward responding, and it is t the Russo-Japanese treaties which e keeping them from doing so. othing would please them more than see Russia weakened by defeat.

Japan and Germany are bound to utual military aid by the Axis treaty October, 1940, but this treaty spefically excluded Russia from the untries against which Japan should d the Germans. A treaty with Russia e following April bound Russia and apan to refrain from aggression ainst each other.

History teaches us that treaties ean nothing to Japan; they mean no ore to Japan than to Germany. Jaan would unhesitatingly make an unrovoked attack on Russia if it thought hat by so doing it could gain any milary advantage.

There were times at which Japan as tempted to attack Russia. In fact, r a year or more an undeclared war etween Japanese and Russian miliary forces was in progress on the Manhuria borders. From these tests of trength the Russians emerged vicorious. Japan backed up. Today, with Russian military strength at a peak, ith new victories against the Germans being recorded daily, only the ost insane militarists in Japan would dvocate a dislocation of relations with Russia, much less military action, reatly as they may fear the future ffects of Russian military strength ligned against Japan's Eastern borders.

Japan also knows that if it attacked Russia, or by other offensive action gainst the Russians brought about a reak in relations, it would open Siberian territory for use as airfields rom which the United States air orces could more easily devastate apanese war munitions centres, exerience of which has already caused anic among Japanese leaders and eople.

Social Security Makes for Efficiency

Sir William Beveridge incorporated mily allowances in his social security lan for Great Britain, and it is being upported in that country by many roups, including the Trade Union Congress and the British Medical Association.

A recent article in the British Medal Journal pointed out that family llowances and other social security easures are important for the surival of the nation, because by releasing the mind from fear they increase uman efficiency, upon which the ealth of the nation depends.

"The question is a fundamental one," the Journal maintained. "The evidence from psychiatric experience on the whole supports the view that the creation and maintenance of a ondition of insecurity do not make for ximum efficiency." The psychological harm that comes from fear and depression and the inferiority feelings that arise from loss of prestige produce deplorable effects on the nation.

From the economic as well as psychological standpoint, it is to the interest of the community to help all the people, and especially the youth, to enoy a sense of security. In this connection the British Medical Journal reminds its readers: "The war has shown that what matters, even more than death itself, is the severance of home ties and the break-up of family life; it is especially the latter that any scheme of subsistence allowances and rehabilitation must provide against."

In Canada at the recent National Welfare Conference in Winnipeg Dr George Davidson, director of the Canadian Welfare Council, referred to family allowances as "a particularly ing development in the children." He asserted "There can agreement on the point that such a program will have profound implications for our child welfare services in all parts of this country. The preponderance of opinion among social agencies is in favor of a children's allowance program as part of a comprehensive total social security program."

Lakeside

By GERALD S. REES

Cottontails are falling beside my bench in Parkland; petals have long since fallen in the apple orchards, and poppies and the blue cornflower are abloom among the hedge-crossed wheat fields of the low-slung English coastlands from whence the British Lion with bared claws has sprung on Festung Europa. We promised this in far '40 after immemorial Dunkirk when the battered B.E.F. licked its wounds on its own hearthstones, and British Tommies shouted—"Thank God, now we're on our own!" Here, beside the seamless slow-moving stream slipping quietly along its tree-fringed channel remains a familiar Summer scene with dappled sunlight on emerald lawn and silvery sand. But because they are sounding "Taps" and the "Last Post" over many a mother's son across the blue-water, boys that you and I knew well, one's thoughts wander where the world's greatest armies in the bitterest war of all time are locked in climatic conflict. Casualty lists sober elation over surely coming triumph and drive home the grim hard humor of that poignant witticism, "It's all over but the fighting." D. Day will become Hitler's and Hirohito's Doomsday though date cannot yet be marked on calendar. Then a world no longer at war can commence the building of a world-wide peace.

HERE AND THERE

There is little variation in parkland scene, but no monotone in the music of human activities. We miss the trim-of-limb and berry-browned lads o' the village who one-time disported themselves with merry sun-tanned Aquabelles, changeless in a changing world! We keep them in the Books of Memorie. Folk freely patronize the orange-hued Water-bus, journeying between limited ports o'call. Faithful Ferry is a limited thought-vehicle, but let it "Become an arch where through, Gleams the untraveled world"! Plan that next voyage to South America apres la guerre when a mine is just something under the ground instead of something under a ship! Use your Victory Bonds! Leisurely folk spread-eagled on grassy plot of the local Shangri-La have for the nonce given their Victory garden the brush-off. How does your garden grow? This garden-seat sharecropper warns that the weeds are on the up-and-up in 24-hour shifts. There should be a law against such unrestrained growth of this low form of vegetable life! If one could only have planted from Beanstalk Jack's cornucopia, how bountiful a harvest for the moon to shine over!

PASSING SCENE

From beneath the lace-boughed cottonwoods, this paragraph-trooper lazily observes the kaleidoscopic pattern all on a Summer's day—and eve. lines of laden cars in motion hither and yon . . . the Flag slightly satir in errant breeze . . . small sailboat, a gull's wing on water . . . tiny tots with pop and popsicle . . . whirligig a-whirl and the teeter a-tottering! . . . pink-cheeked cherub asleep in pram (Mothers, shade the sun from precious eyes!) . . . an empty bandstand—even synthetic music would be better than none (Fonder this please, Parks Alderman!) . . . the usual tagless dog—multiplied . . . checkerboard gang whooping 'er up noiselessly . . . Twin towers of CKLN also silently broadcasting heartening news from the far fields of war . . . cosmic rhythm of tiny waves caressing edge-firm beach. Last but not least, Cock a doodle-do atop weather-vane, reminding me of one seen atop a wee church half as bold as Time dropped like a child's toy between Blackdown and Beachy Head where the lights of Eddystone "Watch the ships of England go." A sanctuary of Kipling's delight, of Domesday Book vintage—

> Where little lost Down churches praise,
> The Lord who made the hills.

It has seen much of England's history in the making, with casements—burnished by the setting sun—that have framed Elizabeth and Cromwell, and watched in vain for the Dons' Armada. King Alfred once worshipped within its weathered walls and dimly oil-lit interior houses the oldest wind-organ in the world, and believe me, it looks a lot older even than that!

NOW DAY IS OVER

A coolness in the air becomes apparent when Old Sol dips below the western portal of the river-pierced valley, its last lateral rays merge into greying shadows that deepen beneath a dusk-darkened sky, radiant cloud-galleons have all found a haven in the port of High Heaven. Lakewater taken on a silvery sheen, knife-steel in color, and the birds are busy with their vespers. The hills o' home don their purple robes and verdant valley is filled to the brim with the gathering dark. A benign peacefulness unmasks the morrow's worries and induces a proper perspective in man's multiple affairs. One would fain wrap such a day and bring it back to a January snow-storm! Comes the evening star, neon-like in an apple-green sky, forerunner of the uncountable twinkling host "in the infinite meadow of the Heavens."

One goes not hasten home—along though hillside hacienda calls, but dallies, heedless of echo of watchman's ancient cry—"All's well. Who goes home?"

Because there are those in our midst who are confined within walls unable to participate in communal amenities such as herein related by this chronicler of the passing scene, these random reflections are set forth for their simple solace.

R. E. U., Rossland—Would you kindly tell me where are the offices and who are the directors of the Cariboo McKinney Mining & Milling Co. Ltd.?

The name of this company does not appear on lists contained in mining handbooks. Suggest you write to the Superintendent of Companies, Parliament Buildings, Victoria.

B. L., Rossland—I would like to know if we are allowed to send cigarettes and packaged tobacco overseas when sending parcels?

Yes, it is allowable, although it is more convenient and cheaper to send tobacco to servicemen through the Overseas Tobacco Fund; $1.10 will send 300 cigarettes, and the monthly quota is 900 cigarettes for each serviceman. You may send them in three separate parcels of 300 each, and space them at intervals through the month, or you may send them in the one order of 900 cigarettes. The latter, however, is not so practical for the serviceman, as the separate shipments of 300

E. C. J. N., Nakusp—I had a "water color" picture given to me which has been hung without a glass and has been very badly fly-specked. Could you please tell me what I could have done to this to clean it?

Valuable paintings should be taken to an expert, as cleaning and restoring requires special knowledge, and damage is likely to result from inexperienced handling.

Today's Horoscope

You have a keen, alert and active mind if today is your birthday. You are energetic and, when working under a strain, you are nervous and somewhat petulant, although charming and happy when your mind is free. You enjoy culture and refinement, love children and will be happy in your own home. Do not spoil the excellent vibrations now operating for success and harmony by doubtful friends. Concentrate on business and intellectual pleasures. Born on this date a child must be warned against arrogance and undue pride, then the fortunes should be good. Ambition should be awakened early.

Extend Bank Charters Ten Years and Avoid Disruption Fraser Urges

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) — W. A. Fraser, Liberal member of parliament for Northumberland, today urged the Commons Banking Committee to extend the charters of Canadian Banks for 10 years as protection against possible disruption of the Canadian Banking system.

Mr. Fraser and Hon. R. B. Hanson (PC-York-Sunbury) spoke in opposition to an amendment to the Bank Bill by E. K. Perley (PC-Qu'Appelle) which would limit the charter extension to two years. M. J. Coldwell, CCF Leader, and G. G. McGeer, (L-Van. Burrard) supported Mr. Perley's amendment.

"The Banks have done a reasonably good job and should be left alone in the most trying period in the national life of this country," Mr. Hanson said. "This is no time to rock the boat."

Mr. Coldwell, supporting the two-year limit said he would personally favor an extension for only one year. If the C.C.F. gained power it would make the banks responsible to a bank of Canada directorate which was representative of all Canadian interests and not of business alone.

Extending the charters for 10 years would fortify the banks against disruption which might result from movements which were prevalent in Canada and other countries, Mr. Fraser said he did not refer to movements favoring changes in monetary policy.

Mr. McGeer took the position that in the face of an uncertain future opportunity should be given the Canadian people within the next two years to redefine the monetary and banking system. Banking had now changed in recent years and fast would change in the future. A policy of setting a hard and fast course for the next 10 years would result in reactions from the Canadian people.

Dive Bomber Plays Tag With Bailed Out Pilot; Elephants Toy With Ruins

WITH THE RCAF IN INDIA, July 27 (CP) — Fo. Eb Ettinger, 23, of Saskatoon, was proud of his sleek Vengeance dive bomber—until the day it played aerial tag with him with clouds for company.

Ettinger, serving with an Indian Air Force squadron, took off with a live bomb load. Before his aircraft got aloft a tire burst, crumpling the undercarriage and crippling the hydraulic system.

Unable to crash land with live bombs aboard and unable to jettison them because the mechanism was also damaged, Ettinger climbed to 4000 feet, headed his plane seawards and ordered his gunner, Sgt. Mike Steel of Stoke-on-Trent, Eng., to jump.

Ettinger himself bailed out from 3000 feet, but as he floated down he saw his bomber, as though piloted by a ghost, turn neatly, lose height and head straight for him, said Sqn. Ldr. J. Crampton in an RCAF press release today.

It made another live at him again, missing him once more. The bomber made one more circuit and dived earthwards. About 400 feet above ground the Vengeance shot up in a steep climb, then turned over and crashed in the jungle.

When maintenance men reached the spot next day to salvage what they could they were too late— a herd of elephants was playing toss and pitch with the aircraft's remains.

"I was glad to see the end of that plane," was all Ettinger said when he reached his base later.

LUDWIG WRITES BIOGRAPHY ON MACKENZIE KING

TORONTO, July 27 (CP) — A brief character study of Prime Minister Mackenzie King by Emil Ludwig, biographer of Napoleon, Lincoln and Roosevelt, will be published by the MacMillan Company of Canada in connection with the 20th anniversary of Mr. King's leadership of the Liberal party.

Ludwig says that the Prime Minister's "most outstanding talent is a power of reconciling contrary elements."

Of Mr. King's "decided aversion for publicity," Ludwig says, "King belongs to the few New World statesmen whose name will gain in importance after his office ends," and writes wistfully: "And yet publicity is a great help to history. Alexander the Great was clever enough to take along with him on his campaigns a staff of writers without whom we might have only a very vague idea of his deed."

Women "Icers" at Penticton

PENTICTON, July 27 (CP) — Women now are "icing" refrigerator cars here and making a good job of it, George Pratt, Assistant Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Kettle Valley line, said today.

"Icing" means walking narrow catwalks atop the cars, crushing and salting the ice and tamping it into the bunkers at the ends of the cars.

Chilliwack Paper Takes a Holiday

CHILLIWACK, July 27 (CP) — The Chilliwack Weekly Progress announced today it will not publish next week, missing an issue for the first time in 50 years. The staff will take a 10-day holiday. Staff shortage and desire to conserve newsprint dictated the action.

French Patriots Walloping Nazis

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, July 27 (AP)—French patriots have defeated German tank attacks in ambushes and are continuing successful warfare against the foe, the Allied Command said today in a communique from an advanced command post.

Patriot forces annihilated a German convoy of 116 trucks in the Saone-et-Loire Department.

The German attacks aimed at liquidating Maquis areas have taken the form of raids by armored columns, but since July 19 the French forces of the interior have repelled such attempts.

In Normandy and other areas enemy lines of communication have been disorganized by blows against railway systems.

In the Pyrenees, resistance forces attacked a column of armored cars and artillery so successfully the Germans were "forced to bring up reinforcements in order to avoid complete defeat," the communique declared.

Locks on important canals, particularly in the North and East, have been destroyed, interfering with transport of fuel, and "barges carrying 100,000 gallons of oil and fuel have been blown up and petrol depots and conveys have been destroyed in the Nievre" Department

"No One Without a Bed" Housing Registry Says

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP) — National Housing Registry representatives will in future visit the scene of every eviction and arrange temporary quarters for evicitees, Miss Milicent G. Fleming, Registry Manager said today.

"We will see to it that no one is without a bed," she said, but pointed out that many persons are wary of accepting "temporary shelter" fearing they will be forgotten and left there." Also it meant splitting up families.

The Housing Registry is one of the busiest spots in Vancouver. Efforts continue to find homes for people when empty homes seem to be non-existent.

Trail C.W.A.C. Helps Keep Barracks Staff "Civilized"

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) —The West still has a reputation for being wild and woolly but Cpl. Belle Traill, of Trail, B. C., presently working in an Orderly Room at Currie Barracks in Calgary is doing here best to civilize the staff. Cpl. Traill's chief weapon is a tin tobacco can noticeably labelled "Swear Box-Donations gratefully received." It costs money to swear when Cpl. Trail is around because each time she hears an "off" word she marches over to the culprit, shakes the box under his nose and collects five cents. Just what constitutes a swear word is a matter of argument. "Hell", insists the Sergeant-Major, "Isn't a swear word, it's a town in Norway."

CHERBOURG NOT FULLY USEFUL

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

As the air-escorted tank columns mushroomed out to east and west from the deep penetration of enemy lines below St. Lo there seemed no question that the desperate Nazi effort to contain the allied invasion had failed. Front line dispatches told of American infantry swarming through the air and tank cut gaps to consolidate the ground, disrupt German rear echelon services and outflank his battle lines in both directions.

West of St. Lo dent Americans troops had taken Lessay and passed the Periers Nazi road-hub block to threaten Coutances from the North while tank columns rolling down the St. Lo-Coutance highway pressed upon it at even closer range from the East. There was little doubt that German hasty retreat from the Coutances-Lessay coastal triangle of the Cherbourg peninsula was in progress to escape a closing allied gap.

Russians crossing the Vistula on the 30-mile span where they had reached the river Southeast of Warsaw seemed highly probable. Red forces had seized East bank towns, Deblin and Pulawy, guarding the important rail and road crossings West of Lublin. Nazi evacuation of Brest-Litovsk was clearly impending since the breach in the Vistula line meant Warsaw was due for flanking, not frontal attack, and the Brest Litovsk garrison was in growing danger of being cut off and annihilated.

Once beyond the river in the Deblin-Pulawy sector in any force, the Russians could swing Northwestward to take the old Polish capital from the rear, its vulnerable side, or cut its communications lines. Whatever the Russian plans, however, the battle is rolling back upon Warsaw again just two months short of five years from the day it fell to German arms, Sept. 27, 1939, and launched the world into the greatest war it has ever known.

B.C. NEXT SAYS C.C.F. PREMIER

TORONTO, July 27 (CP) — Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan arrived here today en route from Ottawa and predicted in an interview that B. C. would be the next province to get a C.C.F. government. He said also that his party would make "substantial gains" in the Aug. 8 Alberta General election.

Fuel Production Up in May

Alberta's May output was recorded at 738,817 barrels, of which the Turner Valley field accounted for 697,240 barrels. During the five months ended May 31, the Dominion total was 4,211,330 barrels, a slight reduction from last year's corresponding output of 4,211,751 barrels.

External Trade Near Record

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) — Canada's external trade in June, excluding gold, was of "near record proportions," with the aggregate at $488,465,000 compared with $539,887,000 in previous month and $397,888,000 in the corresponding month last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today.

During the first six months of 1944 the total was $2,633,245,000 compared with $2,127,785,000 in the corresponding period of 1943, an increase of $505,460,000

Officer Overseas Helps Out the "Shortage"

CHILLIWACK, July 27 (CP) — Some time ago Canadian newspapers carried a report of shortage in in Chilliwack of a highly personal household utensil.

OPEN SEASON ON DOES THIS FALL

CRANBROOK, B.C.—Conceding costly damages to field crops from foraging herds of wild animals, the 1944 game regulations declare an open season on does for both Kootenays this Fall, except in a limited area in the West Boundary district where the deer season is closed this year. An additional concession based on these damages extends the hunting season on elk in Fernie Columbia Valley districts a month to December 15.

Hunting of prairie chicken, Blue, Franklin and Ruffed grouse in Cranbrook, Fernie, Columbia, part of Nelson-Creston, Lillooet and Cariboo is forbidden this year.

On advice of interior game associations the season will be closed this year on mountain goat throughout the province except in an area West of Ashnola River and South of the Similkameen on the coast.

Otters preying on beaver and muskrat in Lillooet and Cariboo resulted in opening of the otter trapping season November 1 instead of March 1, with May 15 the same closing date.

Difficulty in securing ammunition will probably continue to be the main hunting handicap here this Fall.

Everything points to a splendid recovery in the production of sugar beets in 1944. The Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference in December, 1943, set as its 1944 objective 63,400 acres and the latest reports received indicate that a total of about 70,000 acres have been planted.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, July 27 (CP)—Profit-taking in stocks continued throughout the session but the greater part of it was well absorbed and losses were confined to narrow limits.

Industrial shares finished easier and home rails mostly were steady. Oils declined. Kaffirs showed little activity while diamond shares were meeting supporting orders from Cape Town.

International issues also were easier at the close.

British funds were generally supported but German, Argentine and Brazilian bonds showed losses.

NEW YORK—The market steadied selectively after a downward drift in the forenoon and, while near-closing quotations were no worse than slightly mixed, declines again were among the slackest of the past several months. Canadian issues were exceptionally dull and, except for McIntyre which gained ¼, showed no changes.

MONTREAL—Led by papers, losses were down. Hudson Bay Mining and Noranda gave ground in metals.

TORONTO—Stocks registered a considerable slump and all four indices were down at the close, scattered rallies developed in the last hour and the close was above the lows for the day.

Noranda, up ½ to 58, was about the only gainer in the base metal group. Nickel, Ventures, Smelters and Hudson Bay weakened, small fractions and Labrador dropped 20 cents.

VANCOUVER—Mines were irregular and oils kept within a narrow margin.

CHICAGO—The commercial demand for wheat futures tapered off in late trading and prices dropped fractions from the day's best figures under the pressure of scattered selling, some of which was regarded as hedging. At the close wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ higher than yesterday's finish. September $1.04⅛. Oats were ¼ to ½ higher, September 72-72⅛. Rye was ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, September $1.06-1.06⅛. Barley was unchanged to ¼ higher, September $1.13⅛.

WINNIPEG—Wheat purchases by the United Kingdom included 300,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern. Rye trading was quiet with futures registering gains of one cent at times. Closing prices were ¼ lower to unchanged with July at $1.05, October $1.05⅛-⅜, December $1.05⅝ and May $1.06⅛.

Dependence on Newspapers Is Demonstrated

The story of how people reacted to the news of the invasion on D-Day and how newspapers presented one of the biggest news stories of all time is pictured and described in "When D-Day Came," released today by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The profusely illustrated booklet pictures people avidly devouring newspapers for detailed reports from the front; and reproduces headlines, stories, pictures and maps of the invasion.

"The dependence of the people on their newspapers," the Bureau declares in the booklet, "has probably never been so dramatically demonstrated. Never has the newspaper's indispensability as the source of full information been more apparent. Radio broadcasts seemed merely to sharpen people's appetites for the more complete information in their newspapers. They wanted all the news they could get. They milled around newsstands, eagerly grabbing each new edition . . . thronged into newspaper offices to get copies still earlier. Editions were quickly exhausted. Circulations soared . . . with the available newsprint supply the only limiting factor."

Reproduced are many retail and national advertisements that were keyed to the news and the spirit of D-Day. "The advertisements," the Bureau points out, were not only a tribute "to the public-spiritedness of newspaper advertisers," but also served as "new evidence of the flexibility and timeliness of the newspaper as an advertising medium."

Wigwagging and heliographing, utilizing reflected flashes of sunlight were among man's earliest systems of signalling.

Chess Champion Joins Navy

WINNIPEG, July 27 (CP) — A master strategist, Abe Yanofsky, 19-year-old chess champion of North America, has already seen a good part of the world, but now he wants a different view of it—in action with Canadian naval forces.

Abe, who enlisted in the Navy this week as an ordinary seaman, will be called for duty to H.M.S. Chippawa, Winnipeg's Navy headquarters, next month.

"They say you see the world when you're in the Navy, so I'm going to take them up on it."

He'l lbe happy as long as he sees action on foreign soil, but there is one department where strategy counts—gunnery and he'd like to be there.

Yanofsky, who made his first impression on the chess world at 11, started manipulating chessmen while other boys were still playing gang busters.

It wasn't long until he was playing in international tournaments, climaxed two years ago at Dallas, Texas, when he took the North American championship from Ruben Fine of Washington. Last year, for the second consecutive time, he took the Canadian championship, and for the sixth time the Manitoba title.

CBC Chairman and Manager Recommended

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) — The Parliamentary Radio Committee, reporting to the Commons today, recommended the appointment of a full-time salaried chairman for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to have charge of policy and a General Manager to have charge of administration. This recommendation had been forecast on the basis of reports in Parliamentary lobbies.

The Committee report said:

"This would not involve a dual authority, as each would have his own definite field of action, and their respective functions should not involve and conflict, and should any conflict arise, the authority of the chairman must be predominant or such matters might be referred to the Board."

The present part-time Chairman of the Board of Governors of the CBC is Howard B. Chase, a Montreal labor executive, and it has been indicated in radio circles that he is too busy with his labor activities to devote his full time as Chairman. Most widely-reported choice for the post has been B. K. Sandwell, a recent Governor appointment and Editor of the Toronto Saturday Night.

The report explained that the General Manager was expected to be responsible for an ever-expanding organization and policy.

"At present the Chief Executive is responsible to the Board of Governors for the general policies of the Corporation under the direction of the Board, and must assume the responsibility for all broadcasting respecting political, religious, economic, social, educational and other controversial matters," the report said.

"He is also in charge of public relations as well as of the relations between the Corporation and private stations, and will soon have to supervise the operation of the Government short-wave station now under construction (at Sackville, N.B.).

"Further, the Corporation owns and operates 10 broadcasting stations throughout Canada, as well as two short-wave stations, and operates two networks connecting these stations with a large number of private stations; the commercial operations of the Corporation have become quite extensive.

"The relations, with a large staff, involve many delicate problems, and its annual budget now amounts to $5,500,000 involving a strict control of its finances.

"One function calls for imagination, a broad culture, a comprehensive understanding of our national problems, and an enthusiastic faith in the future of our country. Whilst the other, business experience, administrative ability, and a positive mind are required.

The Committee, naturally, asked themselves whether such diverse functions can properly be filled by a single person and whether the set-up of the Corporation would not be improved and a better control experienced should two separate officials, a full-time Chairman, and under him and the Board the General Manager, each possessing the best qualifications possible in the particular field allotted to them, be charged with the carrying out of the Canadian Broadcasting Act."

In recommending the two appointments the report said such a step would necessitate an amendment to the Broadcasting Act.

The Committee report rejected the suggestion of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters that an impartial judicial body be established in Canada to control all radio.

Chinese Recapture Leiyang

CHUNGKING, July 27 (AP) — Counter-attacking Chinese have recaptured Leiyang, Southernmost point of advance from the North in the Japanese grand strategy to split China in half and seal her off from help from the Pacific, a Chinese communique announced tonight.

Thirty-four miles to the northwest in Hunan Province, confused fighting raged and outside the beleaguered rail junction of Hengyan, where the Japanese were acknowledged to have broken into the streets after hammering at its gates for a month.

The importance of the recapture yesterday of Leiyang is that it was a logical springboard for a further plunge southward to link up with the Japanese trying to push up from positions, about 150 miles away, North of Canton.

Young Rosebery Angler Uses Toe for Bait

(Contributed)

ROSEBERY, B. C. —"We have heard a number of fish stories that have originated from the lips of some of the Nelson Derby entrants, some of them doubtful and some of them true but we, as Slocan fishermen are contributing our nickels worth to those to whom it may prove interesting.

Six of us, preparing for a week-end of fishing, were discussing the topics that are discussed at such a time, comparing lures and of course telling each other of the large fish we had caught. When this subject was in full swing, the "contestants" cast a doubtful eye on the story teller but only to get a word in edgewise and to find a suitable spot in the room to stretch their arms out when it came their turn to describe "the fish I caught."

There was a knock at the door and everybody quieted for a moment, and a small voice was heard saying, "Here's the milk."

Bottles were exchanged and the six fishermen started to suck in their breath to get ready for the next blast of exaggerations, when a young lad accompanying the milkman pipes up with "You should see the fish I caught today."

Someone ventured to take time off long enough to ask the lad how big he was. Jackie, stretched his arms out as far as he could. A few snickers emanated from the body of fishermen, and one, or rather a skeptical tone, asked the lad to tell how he caught him.

In a manner very different to the way the previous stories were unfolded, Jackie, nonchalantly described the catching of the fish: "I was standing on the beach at the mouth of the creek with bare feet in the water, the fish nibbled at my big toe so I hit him with a stick and threw him on the shore.

That was all there was to it. We finished packing our tackle and each one of us were thinking to ourselves it might be well if we stayed at home, bathed our feet at the mouth of the creek and kept a good club handy.

Record Breaking U. S. Crop to Boost Supply

OTTAWA, July 29 (CP) — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today a record reduction of approximately 600,000,000 bushels in the carry-over of old wheat in the four major exporting countries, in prospect for this July 31, loses most of its significance in the light of production prospects in North America in 1944.

In the United States, the wheat surplus was reduced from 620,000,000 bushels to 350,000,000 bushels in the 12 months ended July 1, but the record-breaking crop of 1,128,000,000 bushels forecast for 1944 would build supplies of wheat for the 1944-45 season up to a figure some 22,000,000 bushels greater than the supply of native wheat in the United States during the crop year 1943-44.

Canada's wheat surplus of the close of the current crop year is expected to be between 330,000,000 and 350,000,000 bushels, compared with 594,000,000 bushels at the end of July, 1943, but crop prospects at the moment are such as to suggest that total wheat supplies in Canada during the next 12 months will be perhaps only 10 to 15 per cent less than they were in the crop year coming to a close.

The Bureau said there would appear now to be assurance that supplies of wheat in the surplus-producing countries of the New World are ample to meet requirements in the 12 months ahead and leave a sizeable reserve stock on hand at July 31, 1945.

Canada would seem to be in a position to maintain exports of wheat in the 1944-45 crop year at a level approximating that of the 1943-44 season and still finish with substantial reserve stocks on hand at the end of July, 1945, the Bureau added.
