NAZIS RETREAT TOWARD SEINE

Opposing Armies Leave Florence

Patriots and Fascists Fighting in Streets; Empoli Falls to British

ROME, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Arno River city of Empoli on Florence's West flank fell to the British 8th Army without a fight today as the Germans probed Allied lines with patrols whose members had been told by Hitler that soon Germany's armies would resume the offensive.

The task of bringing help to the hungry population of historic Florence, abandoned by the contending armies to spare its treasured art and monuments, was immeasurably complicated meanwhile by patriots and Fascists battling in the streets.

Empoli, which lies about 15 miles West of Florence on the South bank of the Arno, had been stoutly defended by the Germans in retreat toward their Gothic Line. But 8th Army tanks and infantry found the town clear except for snipers as they moved up to solidify their hold on the Arno to the sea.

Hitler's proclamation told the retreating troops in Italy that the "defensive phase" of the war would soon end and the German Army would be on the march again.

A number of German and 5th Army patrols tankled in brisk fighting on the South banks of the Lower Arno, but there was no major engagement anywhere along the entire front Saturday, an Allied communique said.

Polish and Italian troops on the Adriatic sector enlarged their bridgehead across the Cesano River about 35 miles South of the German coastal anchor of Rimini.

ROME, Aug. 13 (AP) — The Germans withdrew all their forces from Florence Saturday and the ancient cradle of Italian art and culture was spared from the ravages of battle.

British 8th Army troops, who have refrained from firing on the Northern part of the city lying beyond the Arno River, remained on the South bank of the stream, but officers of the Military Government crossed over to assist the hungry civilian population.

Bill Ross, Canadian Press war correspondent in Italy, entered Florence Saturday with Italian Partisans. Entry into the historic city is described in the following dispatch:

FLORENCE, Aug 12 (CP Cable) —This ancient and beautiful city fell into Allied hands this morning.

British 8th Army patrols early this morning discovered that the enemy had withdrawn to the Northern outskirts of Florence during the night. The honor of mopping up Florence went to Italian Partisans who entered the city in some strength around 10:30 a.m.

Skirmishes are still going on in the Cascini, a large public park in the Western section of the town, while the main force of the enemy still is in the Northern suburbs.

(This dispatch made no reference to Canadian participation in the Florence mopping-up but a Rome dispatch Thursday said Canadian troops, aided by 250 Italian patriots, mopped up hostile Fascist elements in the Allied-held Southern portion of the city.)

The main Allied endeavor now will be to evict or make prisoner the remaining Nazi with the minimum fighting and to preserve Florence's status as an open city.

(An official 8th Army announcement in Rome today said "Our troops have not advanced into the city beyond the Arno" and added that Allied Military Government officers crossed into the main portion of Florence North of the river "to assist the civilian population.")

With Capt. Yvon Beaulne, Canadian Army Public Relations officer, of Ottawa, I crossed the Arno this morning and entered the town with the Italian Partisan forces. We were driven to the earlier-liberated outskirts of the city by Pte. Gordon Woodrow of Toronto for a routine check and happened on a Partisan Assembly point where the Italians were cleaning a great variety of weapons and preparing to cross the river.

We crossed from the South bank by means of a breakwater on to the Santa Rosa dam.

We climbed up a ladder from the end of the dam and found ourselves in the Piazza Ognissanti. This square was like all the other streets bordering the river bank—littered with rubble and shattered glass that was shattered down when the Nazis blew up the Arno bridges last week. Neighboring houses had their entire window-casings and doors blasted in and walls and ceilings were cracked open and furniture thrown into jumbled disarray.

Farther inside the town everything was intact. The famous Palazzo Vecchio, the Palazzo Degliuffizzi, the Cathedral and various galleries seemed untouched. The Police Chief assured us that Florence's world-renowned statues, paintings and books are still in places of safekeeping.

Florence has been without food, water and light for the last 10 days. Allied Military Government officials are already in the town to cope with the problem.

R.C.N. COMMANDOS, TRAFFIC COPS ON INVASION BEACHES IN NORMANDY: Traffic cops and trouble shooters of the invasion beaches of Normandy are the Beach Commandos of the Royal Canadian Navy—tough young Canadians who live and thrive among the sand dunes of the Channel coast. They are there to direct landing craft where to nose into shore with their cargoes of troops, tanks and supplies. They direct the movement of traffic along the beach and disentangle any snarls that may develop in the traffic in the water or on shore. They are trained fighters, too, and stand ready to repulse any sneak landing German forces might try to make on their section of beach. The complicated job of traffic control which confronts the Royal Canadian Navy's Beach Commandos in the section of the invasion coast under their supervision can be guessed from scenes such as this showing great landing ships disgorging men and equipment. Von Kluge Makes Desperate Fight to Pull Out of Trap

Crisis Heightens Hourly as Nazi Troops Caught by U.S.-British Fire on Both Flanks

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Correspondent

ON THE ORNE RIVER FRONT IN NORMANDY, Aug. 13 (AP)—A German retreat toward the Seine River along a 30-mile front West of the Orne River was in full swing today.

Under errible punishment from

Under terrible punishment from Gen. Guenther von Kluge was trying desperately to pull his armor and troops back through a narrowing gap South of Falaise—thus tacitly conceding the biggest German defeat on the Western front since D-Day.

Caught between British and American fire on both flanks, German troops, transports and tanks were jamming roads headed East in broad daylight as urgency of the crisis heightened hourly.

"Very large enemy movement, including armor, all going East toward the escape hatch South of Falaise has been in progress throughout the morning," said a British staff officer at forward Headquarters.

So far it is a fighting retreat covered by tanks and there is no immediate sign of chaos or panic as Von Kluge seeks to extricate the bulk of 20 divisions from the trap.

But with clear, sun-sparkling skies, great fleets of Allied bombers and fighters including rocket-firing Typhoons are inflicting tremendous damage on the long columns of enemy transport and plodding Nazi troops.

Tens of thousands of enemy vehicles were estimated to be involved in the mass trek toward the Seine.

The ultimate goal of Von Kluge's retreat—whether to the Seine or before Paris itself—was still a matter of conjecture, but the enemy Commander may attempt at least a delaying stand in Falaise, depending of course, on what he is able to save from the wreckage.

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 13 (AP)—United States armored columns, in a scythe-like sweep Northward behind the enemy line, have stormed into Argentan, cutting the last direct escape highway towards Paris for the bulk of the German 7th Army retreating in bombent columns through an escape hatch now narrowed to 18 miles.

One good road, leading Northeast from Falaise to Lisieux and indirectly to Paris, remained in German control, but was made hazardous by Canadian artillery fire. (The Brazzaville radio, heard in New York by CBS, said the Canadians were only 1½ miles from Falaise.)

Lifting five days of secrecy, Allied Supreme Headquarters disclosed that the American drive in France beyond Le Mans had pounded 56 miles North to Argentan, within some 18 miles of the British and Canadian armies pinching in from the North of the Germans in the 30-mile-deep "Coffin Corner" of Normandy.

There was no indication of how many of up to 200,000 Germans engaged in that sector were getting out.

The whole escape corridor was within artillery range of the Americans on the South and Canadians and British guns to the North. The Allied Northern flank was closing in on Falaise, key road hub only 15 miles North of Argentan.

Northwest of Falaise the 1st Canadian Army advanced nearly five miles down the West bank of the Laize River, taking the little villages of Le Bequet and Le Mesnil and making contact with advance forces of the British 2nd Army in the area of Fresnay.

British forces were nearing the important German strongpoint of Conde, midway between Falaise and Vire.

Simultaneously the United States 1st Army at the Western end of the bulge opened a general offensive at dawn today, advancing some miles on a front between Vire and Mortain. The Germans withdrew in every conceivable type of vehicle, a front dispatch said, and these enemy columns, too, were being cut to pieces from the air.

The American armor forming the Southern jaw of the trap had plunged more than 100 miles through Nazi lines since it slashed Eastward from the Breton Peninsula. Then one column hammered Northward, from Le Mans, seized Alencon 30 miles away, and punched another 25 miles to Argentan, Argentan perhaps already had been passed.

Allied armies had taken 115,000 prisoners since D-Day and had been in contact with 40 Nazi divisions—the cream of the German Army in Northwest Europe. Since Saturday, 5760 prisoners had been taken.

Even without the bomb seal-off, it was a race between German retreat and Allied attack to determine whether the Germans got out with the remnants of what was once a great German Army—or went to death in an entrapment that would open up the whole West of France.

Front reports described the new American assault as a general attack all the way from Vire to Mortain and said the initial thrust had carried forward several miles, sweeping up hundreds of prisoners. Here, too, the Germans were observed withdrawing. At the same time, they rushed up at least one rested division in a frantic effort to block a break-through.

This American push was slowly rolling back the last of some nine German divisions against British and Canadian positions in a squeeze play which left some forces already hopelessly trapped, and others facing little brighter prospects.

(Berlin admitted loss of both Mortain and Sourdeval, a few miles North.)

The Germans still held on to their last stronghold in the citadel of St. Malo on Brittany's North Coast, and the situation apparently was not greatly changed around the besieged U-boat and naval bases of St. Nazaire, Lorient and Brest.

HURL GERMANS ACROSS LAST WATER BARRIER

Yeremenko's Men Kill or Capture 70,000 in Month

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Russian troops attacking with increased power drove today to within 16 miles of the Nazi stronghold of Lomza in their broad flanking movement Northeast of embattled Warsaw, and hurled the Germans across the Bwebrza River, last big water obstacle before the German East Prussian border, 16 miles beyond.

A special Moscow announcement also disclosed that Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko's 2nd Baltic Army had killed or captured nearly 70,000 Germans in a month, boosting to more than 600,536 the number of enemy casualties suffered since the big Summer offensive began June 22.

Yeremenko's troops, now almost half-way across Latvia in a drive toward the Baltic Sea, today captured the rail and highway centre of Madona, 75 miles East of Riga, Latvian capital, other units are within 55 miles of Riga on the Southeast in the concerted Russian drive aimed at smashing 25 weakened Nazi divisions of possibly 200,000 men trapped in Estonia and Latvia.

A Moscow communique said Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's 3rd Baltic Army, operating North of that of Yeremenko's had rolled through 60 villages, including Voru, 95 miles from the Gulf of Riga, and 130 miles Northeast of Riga itself. Maslennikov's troops apparently intend to seal off all the Germans in Estonia, while other Soviet armies finish off the Germans trapped in Latvia.

Two huge Red armies wheeling close to German East Prussia in the area Northeast of embattled Warsaw captured 180 localities during the day, the communique said. These included Goniadz on the Biebrza River, last big water obstacle separating the Russians from pre-war German soil.

Berlin, in admitting a further German retreat in the sector, said G. F. Zakharov's 2nd White Russian Army had been reinforced with 10 fresh divisions. Zakharov's troops captured 80 villages West and Northwest of Bialystok, and the adjoining White Russian Army took 100, the bulletin said.

Moscow dispatches said tens of thousands of Lithuanian, Leotish and Estonian volunteers had joined three powerful Soviet armies in the sustained drives against two German armies trapped in Estonia and Latvia. The size of the German forces now has shrunk to about 200,000 men, a Moscow estimate said.

MUST GET BASES NEARER JAPAN SAYS ROOSEVELT

Sees Permanent Pacific Defence to Protect Coasts

ASKS COOPERATION

BREMERTON, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP)—Tanned and fit-looking after thousands of miles of steaming over the Pacific, President Roosevelt returned here Saturday to report on the condition of the Pacific War and to disclose that the pattern for carrying the war across the threshhold of Japan had been laid.

Just a month to day from the time he left Washington, D.C., the President returned to his Puget Sound Navy Yard to tell in a broadcast address of the results of his inspection of Pacific Coast, Hawaiian and Alaskan defences.

Beyond the defences and the winning of the war, he stressed that never again must Japan be allowed the opportunity for aggression and emphasized that years of probation must follow before the Japanese may be admitted to the society of nations.

"The word and honor of Japan can not be trusted," he declared.

During his three day inspection of Hawaii, the President conferred with General MacArthur, Admiral Nimitz and other Pacific Commanders.

For the peoples of the Pacific generally Mr. Roosevelt foresaw an era of mutual benefit through cooperation in both commercial and military spheres to guarantee a future peace.

"The destinies of the peoples of the whole Pacific will for many years be entwined with our own destiny," he said. "Already there are stirring among hundreds of millions of them a desire for the right to work out their own destinies and they show no evidence of seeking to over run the earth—with one exception.

"The exception is and has been for many, many years that of Japan and the Japanese people . . . it is an unfortunate fact that other nations can not trust Japan, it is an unfortunate fact that years must pass before we can trust Japan and before we can classify Japan as a member of the society of nations which seek permanent peace and whose word we can take."

Permanent Pacific defences must be obtained by the United States, Mr. Roosevelt said, to protect the Western Hemisphere from Alaska to Chile. It is important, he added, that permanent bases nearer to Japan be obtained.

"We have no desire to ask for any possessions of the United Nations," he said. "But the United Nations who are working so well with us in the winning of the war will, I am confident, be glad to join with us in protection against aggression and in machinery to prevent aggression.

"With them and their help, I am sure that we can agree completely so that Central and South America will be as safe against attack from the South Pacific as North America is going to be from the North Pacific itself."

Of the post-war Pacific, the President said.

"A line for sea and air navigation following the great circle course from Puget Sound to Siberia and Northern China passes very close to the Alaskan Coast and thence Westward along the line of the Aleutians. From the point of view of national defence, therefore, it is essential that our control of this route shall be undisputed."

Waves of Planes Hit Backtracking Nazis

Heavy Bombers Pounding Highways in Effort to Prevent Enemy Escape

By NED NORDNESS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Wave after wave of Allied aircraft sprang a trap on Field Marshal Guenther von Kluge's backtracking armor and troops today, laying down a wall of bombs on road junctions and enemy movements as the Germans desperately attempted to withdraw South f Falaise.

Lending their full weight to the effort to prevent the escape of German troops, heavy bombers in unprecedented operations smashed at roads and highway junctions in the areas of Bernay, Eelebuf, Rouen, Buchy, Conches, Damville, St. Leger, Meulan and Hermonville in the broad sector between the Seine and the battlefront.

R.A.F. and American heavy bombers plastered roads and bridges. Medium and fighter bombers swarmed down, strafing roads. Fighter-bombers darted in to hit armor, troops, locomotives, railway cars, oil cars, and all types of vehicles, hindering enemy movement behind a mass of twisted wreckage.

The weather was perfect for flying, and the enemy offered little opposition from ground guns or interceptors. Rarely have allied planes had such a target and op

Meanwhile Mediterranean heavy bombers again smashed at military targets in Southern France, in Northern Italy and Yugoslavia. It was the second straight day of enemy bomber blows on Mediterranean anti-invasion defences.

At least 730 four-engine bombers participated in today's sweeps against the Southern approaches to fortress Europe. Twenty-eight planes were lost in all operations from the Mediterranean Saturday.

From the West, U. S. heavy bombers also smashed an important railway bridge over the Seine and other formations thundered down upon enemy gun positions at St. Malo, on the North coast of Brittany and at the nearby Isle de Cezembre where big German naval guns have been hampering the attack on St. Malo's citadel.

Close to 335 medium bombers in coordinated attacks chewed up roads leading into Lisieux, Bernay and Rugpes, in successful operations in support of the ground attacks.

In darkness this morning Lancasters and Halifaxes struck the day's first blows at road junction and other targets in the enemy rear, heavily bombing such objectives as Falaise.

Other RAF Lancasters went back to the besieged Breton port of Brest for the second straight day and unloaded six-ton earth quake bombs on the U-boat pens. A tanker also was set afire.

The R.A.F. Bomber Command sent out more than 1300 planes in the 24 hours ending this morning, it was announced, including Saturday's attacks on the submarine nests of Brest, Bordeaux and La Pallice.

American fighter bombers covered approximately 2500 square miles in an area bordered roughly by Le Havre and Mons on the North and Northeast and Vitre in the Southeast, adding to Saturday's amazing record of destruction.

By noon fighter-bombers had destroyed or damaged more than 300 locomotives, 838 railway cars, 273 motor vehicles, 51 oil cars and attacked tunnels and additional installations.

Their total Saturday including more than 3000 rail sy cars, of which 113 were ammunition cars which blew up, 365 locomotives destroyed or damaged, and 499 other vehicles.

P.G.E. Engine Plunges Into Lake; 2 Missing

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13 (CP) — Two men are missing and believed drowned after a Pacific Great Eastern Northbound passenger train hit a washed-out culvert Saturday and the engine plunged into Anderson Lake, P.G.E.R. officials said here tonight. Anderson Lake is about 120 miles Northeast of Vancouver.

The missing men are Mike Powell, engineer, and F. J. Mulhern, fireman, both of Squamish. Squamish is the Southern terminus of the line which runs to Quesnel.

Railway officials said only the engine went into the lake and all passengers escaped unhurt. The passengers continued their journey Northward Saturday being carried on special cars sent to the other side of the washout. It is expected service on the line will be resumed Monday.

The culvert was washed out by recent heavy rains, some of cloudburst proportions, railway officials reported.

Objects to Japs Taking Notes in House . . .

Says C. C. F. And Jap "Connection"

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP) — A charge that there was a "direct, permanent connection" in British Columbia between the C.C.F. and Japanese in that Province was made in the Commons Saturday by A. W. Neill, Independent Member for Comox-Alberni Constituency in British Columbia.

He made the statement during a speech in which he said there were two Japanese in the gallery taking notes, contrary to rules of the House, when Prime Minister Mackenzie King was outlining the Government's policy after the war of handling the Japanese in Canada.

"When the Prime Minister was making his remarks the other day, two Japanese nationals were sitting up in the gallery and one of them, a stenographer, was taking notes all the time. And they were occupying the room of a private member of this House, making it their headquarters."

Rodney Adamson (P.C.—York West) interjected: "There were actually five nationals of Japan taking notes. I was in the House at the time and I complained to the Speaker about it."

He added that the Speaker had instructed the protective staff to stop them from making notes.

Mr. King interrupted to say that it was "rather absurd" to try to make a sensation "out of a few people being in the gallery taking notes."

He added:

"Was there anything they heard or saw, or could possibly have listened to, that was not reported in Hansard and that they could not have obtained the next morning in printed form."

(Dr. Arthur Beauchesne, Clerk of the Commons, said today that his attention was called some time ago to two Orientals who were taking notes in one of the special galleries to which admission is by card. As it was against the rules for persons to take notes, except in the Press gallery, an attendant warned them to stop and they did.)

Mr. Neill said the Japanese attending the debates used the room of Angus MacInnis (C.C.F.—Vancouver East) as their headquarters. (Mr. MacInnis has been absent on a parliamentary tour to Australia.)

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, said he was in charge of Mr. MacInnis' room and had the key to it. No one had used it without his knowledge and he knew of no Japanese using it. He demanded a retraction.

Mr. Neill said: "Then I will put it another way, in a way that will be more satisfactory. You know sometimes people are liable to make a big fuss when they are only labelled. I will put it more directly. I claim there is a direct, permanent connection in British Columbia between the C.C.F. and the Japanese."

Mr. Coldwell: "That is not true . . . we are not filled with the hate that some people are."

After Deputy Speaker J. A. Bradette said he understood Mr. Neill had stated he was not aware there were Japanese in Mr. MacInnis' room, Mr. Neill withdrew his remark.

"Yes, dear," he said. "I will withdraw."

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.—Winnipeg North Centre) interjected: "Why did he ever make it."

Earlier, Mr. Neill had noted that Acting Premier Fines of Saskatchewan had been the only Premier of any Province outside British Columbia to indicate a willingness to have Japanese remain within its borders.

"Well, let's put the C.C.F. and the Japs together in Saskatchewan," he said.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13 (CP) — Angus MacInnis (C.C.F.—Vancouver East) said here tonight that he did not give permission for anyone to use his room in Ottawa except for the holding of the usual party caucus.

Six German Supply Ships Sunk or Damaged In Channel Skirmishes

LONDON, Aug. 13 ((CP)—British, Canadian and Polish warships sank or damaged at least six German supply ships and trawlers off the French coast Saturday in a series of skirmishes ranging from Le Havre in the Channel to the Bay of Biscay, the Admiralty announced today.

There were no Allied losses or casualties, a communique said.

Four of the enemy ships were sunk by a destroyer force led by Lt.-Cmdr. J. D. Birch of H.M.C.S. Qu'Appelle, which encountered three enemy armed trawlers and a supply ship off Cape Finisterre and sent them all to the bottom.

Other Canadian destroyers engaged in the action were the Athabaskan (Lt.-Cmdr. R. F. Welland, D.S.C.), the Skeena (Lt.-Cmdr. P. F. X. Russell) and Restigouche (Lt.-Cmdr. D. W. Groos).

The skirmish took place before dawn Saturday and later in the day another force under the command of Capt. E. G. A. Clifford in the cruiser H.M.S. Diadem sank a medium-sized armed merchant ship West of La Rochelle in the Bay of Biscay.

The ship previously had been sighted by Halifax aircraft of the R.A.F. Coastal Command and the position was reported to surface forces, which shelled the vessel and set it afire. It was sunk finally by a torpedo from the Polish destroyer Piorun.

Off Le Havre a patrol of M.T.B.'s encountered an enemy auxiliary vessel escorted by eight R-boats and pressed home an attack despite heavy enemy fire. Two large explosions were heard and it was considered the auxiliary vessel had been hit.

For the Qu'Appelle it was the second successful Channel action but the first for the other Canadian ships, all of which are veterans of the North Atlantic convoy route. They now are being employed to block any German attempt at sea evacuation from France.

Gov't Takes Over Montreal Tramways

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP) —Labor Minister Mitchell announced Saturday the Government placed 525 controllers in charge of Montreal Tramways properties and will resume service Monday morning.

An order-in-council passed by the Cabinet Friday makes it an offence for any person to refuse to resume work or to recommend that work not be resumed.

It would also make it an offence for the Company to refuse to place its properties at the disposal of the controllers.

The 4000 employees are required to return to work under the same conditions that prevailed when they went on strike Aug 3 seeking a union shop.

The controllers who will be in charge of Montreal's public transportation system are E. L. Cousins, Halifax, Wartime Administrator of Canadian Atlantic ports, and J. E. St. Laurent, Ottawa, member of the National Harbors Board.

The controllers take charge of the property at midnight Sunday and remain in control until the order is revoked. During this period the authority of the Board of Directors and shareholders is suspended.

The employees, who are represented by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CCL) and the Company are required to enter into negotiations immediately with a view to completing a collective agreement."

If the controllers at the end of 60 days report to the Labor Minister that the parties are unable to negotiate an agreement the Cabinet is to consider what measures should be taken for settlement.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 (CP) —Labor Minister Mitchell, announcing in the Commons that the Government has placed controllers in charge of Montreal's Tramways Co., said the government was taking action in the public interest.

Mr. Mitchell said the Government action was not to be interpreted as interfering with the freedom of any worker to join the union of his choice.

Rossland 7 Months Revenue $96,339; 83.8 Per cent of Budget Collected

ROSSLAND, B.C., Aug. 13—L. A. Read, City Auditor, reported to the City Council Friday night on the meeting, advanced from Monday, that the City finances were in a better condition; also that over 83.8 per cent of the budget collections had been collected.

Total receipts for seven months were $96,339.08 and total disbursements, $77,711.32.

Water rates collected came to $8,896; Police Court fines, $109; dog tax $852.72; building permits yielded $26, and poll tax $831.33.

Ald. A. C. Ridgers inquired why the road tax collected was lower than the amount on the budget. City Clerk J. A. McLeod replied that this was the first year it had not been collected by the C. M. & S. Company.

It was decided the City Clerk should send out notices of road tax, allowing a month for them to be paid.

TO CONGRATULATE MINER

The newly-formed Rossland Miner Publishing Company, with Fred White, J. L. Jecks, and C. F. McKenzie as the Executive, informed the Council by letter of the first issue, to be printed Aug. 17, and solicited a congratulatory advertisement in same.

The City Council as a whole felt the men should be congratulated on their efforts in giving the city a much needed local paper. The Clerk was instructed to prepare a suitable advertisement.

IAN MacKENZIE ON DENTAL TRAIL

Two letters were received from Hon. Ian Mackenzie in connection with securing the services of a dentist for Rossland, reporting he had referred this matter to the Secretary of British Columbia Dental Board, also to the Canadian Dental Association, and that he was doing everything possible to secure Rossland a dentist.

The Council decided that copies of these letters should be sent to W. K. Ealing, M.P., asking his assistance in personally presenting the situation here, stressing the points, that owing to industrial conditions, dental attention was imperative, also that for a district population of 15,000 there were only two dentists, and both of them in Trail.

Two complaints were received on the water service, one from J. A. Wright, who complained that the water service at the Rossland Meat Market was so poor the ammonia plant could not be used. R. L. Rice, W. Hocking and P. Lalonde presented a petition to have their water services improved. These were both referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee to investigate, with power to act.

A letter from W. C. Stevens, Assistant Fuel Officer, asking for definite information about the wood stock pile, was received. The City Clerk was instructed to prepare and send the necessary information.

REPORT ON CONVENTION

A letter containing reports of the Federation of Mayors convention was turned over to Ald. Ridgers to peruse and report.

Major Ian Eisenhardt, National Director of Physical Fitness, sent a questionnaire asking particulars on the City parks, halls, etc.; also a copy of the Physical Fitness Act. These were turned over to Ald. Darby to fill in and study, respectively.

Matt Fertich offered $10 for a lot adjacent to his newly acquired property on Victoria Avenue, this offer being referred to the Property Committee to investigate and report.

Blaze Sweeps Amusement Park

CLIFFSIDE, N. J., Aug. 13 (CP) —The fourth major fire in three days in the New York City-New Jersey area swept through Palisades Amusement Park for 2½ hours today, driving out an estimated 25,000 Sunday pleasure seekers, sending at least 19 persons to hospital and destroying about 85 per cent of the property before it was brought under control.

Fire apparatus from 14 municipalities battled the flames, which Irving Rosenthal, Park Proprietor, said had caused damage which "will probably exceed $1,500,000."

Hundreds of persons, overcome by smoke and heat or slightly injured by sparks and embers which showered from collapsing amusement structures, received first aid treatment from emergency squads of doctors and nurses.

Between 70 and 100 automobiles in the parking lot were destroyed. The sound of exploding gas tanks led many to believe there were bombs going off. The pavement itself erupted and cracked from the heat.

The fire, which came as a temperature of 100 degrees broke all New Jersey records for the fourth successive day, was the third major resort blaze in three days, coming after the burning of a block of boardwalk and buildings Friday at Wildwood, N. J., and part of Luna Park at New York City's Coney Island Saturday.

At Pier 4 in nearby Hoboken, a $4,300,000 fire which started Friday night was still smouldering and flaring up in a pier building and among creosote-coated piles, blacking out the sky over Hoboken with smoke.

According to eyewitness accounts, the fire started when flames burst from under the Virginia Reel, a circular ride which was loaded with children. Thomas Mensorio, Cliffside Park, who was waiting his turn to enter said: "It was awful. It suddenly turned into a mass of flames while I watched."

At the swimming pool next to the Virginia Reel, 4000 persons were caught on the beach and a jam was created at the entrance to a narrow bridge leading to the dressing rooms.

In the panic, Anthony Mattag, 36, lost his 5½-year-old son Eugene for whom he was still searching at a late hour today.

Southern England Has Quiet Sunday

LONDON, Aug. 13 (CP) —Fighter pilots and anti-aircraft gunners beat back flying bomb attacks today, exploding a number of the missiles over the sea as Southern England enjoyed a comparatively quiet Sunday. A few robots got through however, inflicting battle scars on two churches, one of which dates back to the 12th century; a famous English school, a hospital, a postoffice and wrecking a row of 14th century houses.

Some of Scouts Visit Glacier; Camp Winds Up

BY BOB WASSICK

CAMP BUSK:

Wednesday afternoon—Well, after the Cubs left we got settled right down for work. The cook house gang (bigger boys) left for Kokanee Glacier while the rest just found themselves more room in the tents. We had a small camp fire with Mr. Affleck's stories.

Thursday—We decided we would not go on the hike because of the weather. Gloom reigned everywhere on the boys' faces, but Mr. Affleck said, "If we can't go up there and stay, we'll bring it down here."

GROUPS BIVOUAC

So we built bivouacs, just as we would on the hike, went on our days rations, and were off on our own. We divided into five groups, located away from each other.

The names of the camps and the groups were: Forest Nook: George Welbourn, Raymond Johnson, Earl Casemore and Len Mathews; Mount Ilse: Airman Burt Batty(English Scoutmaster) and Bob Wassick; West Bank: Allan Wood, Don Purdy and Gordon Abbot; Big Cedar: Jack Burgoyne, Billy Hunter, Joe Meagher and Don Bone; Jack Pine: Tinker Young, Philip Holmes and I Larson.

Friday—In the morning we cooked and cut firewood, then hiked down to Willow Point and back. At night we entertained at Mount Ilse's campfire. This included Mr. Affleck's stories and cocoa. Half of the boys got a little worried about the shelter as it looked like rain, so they moved into the cabin. By the looks of their bivouacs I didn't blame them.

Saturday—We made breakfast, then packed. While waiting for the cars, the Glacier gang arrived, all tuckered out. As no cars came we started out, hoping for the best.

So another year at the Scout Camp was ended.

A. S. Hunden, Pioneer Nelson, Rossland Business Man, Passes

Nelson lost another oldtimer with the death of Adam Stephan Hunden, widely known as "Pete" Hunden early Saturday morning at Kootenay Lake General Hospital after a lengthy illness. Mr. Hunden, who was 78 years of age, had been in business in Nelson since 1910, and is well known to oldtimers as an ardent curler and hockey fan.

Born in Krakow, Poland in 1866, Mr. Hunden, at the age of 19, went to Liverpool, England, where he spent two years apprenticeship as a plumber on the construction of battleships. Leaving in 1887 for New York he continued on to San Francisco, and established a plumbing business. In 1896 he came to Rossland, where he and the late John A. Smith of Nelson, became business associates.

In 1901 he married Miss Pearce M. Dupuis.

Mr. Hunden and Mr. Smith moved their business to Nelson in 1910, establishing the B.C. Plumbing and Heating Company. The late Alexander Gibson became a business associate of the firm in 1913. In 1931 Mr. Hunden and his sons purchased the business where he worked till 1940 when, owing to ill health, it was necessary for him to retire.

He is survived by his wife at Nelson; three sons, Paul of Calgary, Joseph of Vancouver and Robert of Kaslo; two daughters, Mrs. Albert Hanson of Nelson and Mrs. Arthur Scheldrup of Salmo, and four grandchildren. A son, Frank, predeceased him in 1917 and a daughter, Mrs. F. M. Sloan, in 1938.

FIRE HALTED ON EDGE OF TOWN

MINTO, N.B., Aug. 13 (CP) — A forest fire roared to the edge of this coal mining community near Grand Lake in Central New Brunswick tonight, leaving about 25 families homeless at Rothwell and also destroying six dwellings in the district known as New England Settlement.

Fire that ringed this ming community on three sides was halted at the edge of the town, but in its path it had wiped out for some time all communications between Minto and the outside world.

Fought by every able-bodied man in the district, the fire had subsided late tonight after spreading toward Newcastle Creek near the power plant of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

Members Close Up Offices and Head for Homes

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP) — The Parliament Buildings today were virtually deserted of senators and members of the Commons as steady streams of parliamentarians, confident that the current session would end shortly, closed up offices and headed for their homes.

There were hopes that business would be completed last Saturday and the House adjourned to Jan. 31, but the Commons bogged down into a protracted discussion on pension and external affairs departmental estimates and when the Commons adjourned for the weekend there were still 190 items still to be passed.

There was no indication tonight when these would go through, but it was generally believed that unless a great spurt is made tomorrow business would not be completed until Tuesday or Wednesday.

Hammer Huns on Mediterranean Coast of France

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 13 (AP) — For the third successive day Allied air might hammered at German defences along the Mediterranean coast of France today while inland the Maquis rallied to a new campaign in a bid to seal off escape of Nazi forces or Vichyites in the region South of the Loire River now shakily held by forces of Gen. Johanes Blaskowitz.

It was clear that the fate of the once Vichy-ruled region had reached the stage where the decision no longer rested with the defence—but with Allied strategy.

There was no indication from Supreme Headquarters that the American breach of the Loire River line South of Nantes had been deepened beyond the 10 miles disclosed two days ago but Germans who admitted a withdrawal South of Nantes said tonight their troops had been pulled back to the Southern bank of the river barrier from South of Angers to 50 miles upstream.

There was no suggestion either of a German stand in strength or that Blaskowitz could make one without draining his whole Mediterranean coast in an exposure. Tactically at least, equally as dangerous.

By this two-way threat he is forced to split his 10-division defence force so badly that he is left with insufficient strength to hold against a major onslaught from either direction.

His 10 divisions thus have been turned by a single great strategic stroke into potentially little more than a garrison of suicidal prospects.

He had little hope of reinforcement.

More than 4,000,000 GOODYEAR all-synthetic rubber tires are now making history on the road!

YES, in spite of many wartime difficulties, Goodyear has already built more than 4,000,000 all-synthetic rubber tires of all types—nearly half of them in the popular 6.00-16 passenger car size.

This is a record achievement, made possible by the Goodyear Research Laboratory's twenty years' work in developing synthetic rubber. It proves that synthetic rubber tire production is out of the woods and rolling into high.

More than that, it provides a real measure of the worth of tires manufactured from man-made rubber, as shown by such typical records as these:

A large metropolitan taxi company using 3,000 Goodyear synthetic rubber tires reports an average service of 30,000 miles per tire—before recapping.

On sixteen taxi fleets operating in as many cities, the average before recapping is 22,360 miles.

And scores of letters from war workers, police officials, doctors and other unrestricted drivers tell of equally high mileage with trouble-free performance. Similar satisfactory service is being enjoyed by users of Goodyear synthetic rubber tubes.

All this demonstrates that it is not the material but what is done with it that counts most in building tires. It is one more proof of the tire-building skill that makes more people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind.

Surely, if you judge by performance, your choice in synthetic rubber tires must be Goodyears—now, as for the past twenty-nine consecutive years, the world's first-choice tire.

Trapped Canadian Unit "Swallowed Up" in Futile Stand Scribe Relates

TORONTO, Aug 13 (CP)— Ralph Allen, Globe and Mail war correspondent, told in a dispatch Saturday from France of a gallant but futile stand of the four rifle companies that comprised almost the full fighting strength of the Black Watch (Royal Highlanders of Canada) from Montreal.

Allen said the unit was trapped on a barren ridge above May-Sur-Orne July 25 and "all that was left of their gallant spearhead was swallowed up, platoon by platoon, section by section and finally man by man."

He quoted an officer of the regiment as saying that only a handful of men who crossed the ridge ever came back" and told how 24-year-old Major Peter Griffin of Vancouver who had taken command of the battalion after his two immediate superiors were killed sent back a message: "Don't send reinforcements We have too many men here now."

House Aims at Early Adjournment

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP) — Members of Parliament renewed their efforts Saturday to clean up the business before them and pave the way for adjournment of the session which began last Jan. 27.

A considerable amount of work remained to be dealt with and some Opposition members were doubtful that adjournment would come before some time next week. However, Prime Minister Mackenzie King was confident that with "cordial cooperation" from the Opposition there would be no need of prolonging the sittings into next week.

The Senate still has to deal with the $750,000,000 War Services Gratuities Bill, passed through the Commons.

The Commons still has to pass a bill to amend the Canadian and British Insurance Act of 1932, and more than 200 items in the civil estimates of various departments.

Finance Minister Ilsley said that the Insurance Bill was the last legislation the Government would introduce. The Bill would allow Canadian insurance companies operating in the United States to invest in bonds and notes secured by mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Commission of the United States.

The Government has given no indication as to whether the House will be asked to pass the Bill authorizing the Provincial Government of Alberta to set up a Provincial Bank. The Bill has yet to be reported by the Commons Committee on Banking and Commerce which was asked to study the measure after it was given second reading in the House.

Union President Suggests Strikers Go Back to Work

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP) — A. R. Mosher, President of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.), said Saturday he was suggesting to striking Montreal Tramways employees that they abide by the Government's order for work to be resumed under the direction of Government controllers.

Mr. Mosher said the Government, by its order, had "abrogated the right of workers to strike."

"By compelling the employees to return to work under the conditions which prevailed prior to the time the strike commenced, it would appear that the Government is not even giving recognition to the change in working conditions agreed upon between the company and the employees' organizations and I fail to see how this will bring about the required cooperation of such a large public utility.

"As law abiding citizens we have no alternative but to comply with the order and suggest to the employees of Montreal Tramways Co. that they return to their duties cooperating with the controllers who have been placed in charge to the fullest possible extent and to continue negotiations with a view to reaching a satisfactory agreement.

"It should be clearly understood that there has been no consultation of officials of the Government with national officers of the Brotherhood with respect to this drastic order-in-council which affects so many of its members."

Research transformed Cast Iron

ALTHOUGH IT HAD BEEN PROVED by laboratory experiments that the quality of cast iron could be vastly improved by the addition of Nickel, it remained for the Canadian Nickel industry to lead the way in putting this knowledge to commercial use.

In 1921 Nickel investigators began intensive laboratory research on cast iron. They reviewed previous experiments carried on by other scientists. They made countless experiments of their own. They proved that cast iron could be made stronger, more uniform in texture and more resistant to corrosion and wear by adding Nickel. They sent out this information to buyers of castings. They instructed foundries how to use Nickel to get best results.

So Nickel alloy iron was adopted for scores of new uses. Another new market for Nickel had been developed to take the place of war markets wiped out in 1918.

Today Canadian Nickel is again diverted to war purposes, and again the industry looks to the future with confidence. Plans are ready to develop and expand old and new peacetime markets, so that the Nickel industry may continue, through its own initiative and enterprise, to make still greater contributions to Canada's welfare.

Step-Mothers . . .

Consider Problems Before Marriage

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

I have never been a step-mother, and can never hope to be one, but I have listened to, and read so many problems of step-mothers that I sometimes imagine I have been in their place.

It must be exceedingly hard to be a successful step-mother. First of all, it is difficult for the child over four or five, and espicially for the adolescent child, who has been devoted to his real mother, to feel entirely right toward the real mother's place. Then, if the father has won the ardent esteem of the child who had no mother for a number of years, the new mother enters a triangle in which both the child and father may unconsciously conspire against her. In the event the child believes the father and new mother are in league against him the problems are no less serious.

In spite of all such difficulties, some step-mothers measure up most wonderfully. Many conscientious step-mothers do far better, indeed, than they are given credit for doing.

To avoid troubles, or to keep them at a minimum, anyone about to become a step-father or step-mother should, before marriage, very seriously consider with the prospective mate, in a wholly thoughtful fashion, the problems which face them, and feel pretty sure that each is so disposed by temperament, point of view, and self-control to work with the other reasonably on the child's behalf.

Recently a step-mother who had married a man that holds a high public office in his city, poured out her woes to me. In the picture is an adolescent daughter whose mother died when she was very young and whose father is described by the step-mother as worshiping this daughter and letting her always have her own way.

The step-mother feels responsible for the girl's conduct. Naturally so. But, according to the step-mother's report, when she attempts to advise or reprove the girl, the latter turns upon her and abuses her or strikes her. If I were that step-mother, I should resolve never to interfere with the girl's conduct unless I first had presented the problem to the father, as I saw it, and had worked out with him a plan of action and had his solemn promise of support. Anyway I should put my trust in winning the girl's regard and cooperation, and place no hope in the effect of negative criticism or in efforts of coercion.

What makes many a family discord tragic is that every one involved may be suffering, each one feeling all the while himself or herself the only one to be pitied.

Walk With Gay Thoughts

BY IDA JEAN KAIN

Some of the glamor girls are no more glamorous than paint, powder and false eyelashes. But Beverly Clark, the entertainer, is as refreshing as a Down East breeze in midsummer. Her idea of putting a song over is to get everybody in the audience to singing with her. That shows they are happy and happiness seems to be her theme song. It shows very decidedly in her posture. Beverly is only five feet, one-fourth inch, tall, stretched. I asked her posture secret, hoping she wouldn't dust off that old one about walking with a book on her head, and she came through with, "I walk with gay thouhts. If I go along worrying about some problem, I tend to slump, so I snap right out of it, think about something that makes me happy, and up comes my chest. And pretty soon I feel wonderful." That is the best posture advice I have heard in some time.

She has a neat figure, too, but when I asked if she exercises she said: "I am ashamed to tell you I take only four—but I take them every day." Anyone who takes four exercise every day doesn't need any more. Here they are.

Stand tall, arms down at sides, feet slightly apart. Stretch up with the right arm and at the same time step back with the right foot and stretch all along that side, inhaling as arm is raised and exhaling as arm is lowered. Of course, that exercise doesn't hurt her posture!

For the waistline, stand by the wall, an arm's length away, with the hand at shoulder level against wall, other arm straight up in air. Bend sideward and touch the upraised hand to wall just above other hand. Don't take the foot off the floor. Is that a good waistliner? Beverly's waist measures 24 inches.

For hip slimming, she smacks down hard against the floor, and finishes with rolling.

This young woman frankly says she eats anything she wants but she seems to want what is good for her. She loves breakfast and has orange juice, two eggs, toast and milk—not the canary meal you might think a glamour girl would order. She drinks at least a quart of milk a day, and her favorite beverage is a glass of orange juice and a glass of milk and two straws, and she drinks the two beverages together. She actually likes vegetables, greens, too, and eats plenty of baked potatoes. In case you think all this sounds fattening, Beverly weighs 103 pounds. But she never eats dessert other than fresh fruit. That's glamor nutrition!

Poor Substitute

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP)—When an Army sergeant headed for his Alaskan outpost, Mrs. M. M. Mochesney slipped an assortment of delicacies into his duffle bag, including a full chocolate malt can which she told him to share with his buddies.

A letter from the sergeant informed the donor:

"The only reason I am alive now is because we are all Christians. The can of malted milk you gave me turned out to be fruit jar rubbers.

"I was almost thrown into the sea."

Pencing will develop the calves of the legs and is good for the beanpole type of girl.

Treatment . . .

Cause of Ulcers Unknown

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The cause of ulcer of the stomach is not known and has led to many speculations. An ulcer is a round area on a mucous membrane surface—which includes the skin, the mouth cavity, the cornea of the eye, etc., which has been denuded of its membranous covering.

Theoretically thinking of all the things which could cause such a thing, there is first mere abrasion, scratching off the surface with a sharp instrument or burning, including chemical burns by lye. Second, infection by germs can eat off the upper surface of membranous tissue. Third, poor circulation in the affected part, as is the case in ulcers of the skin of the legs from varicose veins. And, fourth, a cancer appears as an ulcer.

Applying this theoretical reason to ulcer of the stomach we see immediately that some of the causes do not operate at all—cancer, for instance, and abrasion with a sharp instrument. An ulcer of the stomach is not cancer. Some doctors have tried to prove that circulatory disturbances in the stomach wall, such as embolism, create a spot of lowered local resistance, but the evidence is very shaky.

This leaves us with infection which is a possibility, and the eating away of a spot of the surface of the stomach by a chemical which we always have present in the stomach secretions in the form of hydrochloric acid. There used to be an old quiz question the physiology teachers propounded—"why doesn't the stomach digest itself?" They should never have asked it because they didn't have a very good answer to it—they said the life in the stomach wall prevented it from being digested. But as a matter of fact, the stomach juice may sometimes digest the wall of the stomach, the result being an ulcer.

Especially if the stomach juice is increased amount and strength of of hydrochloric acid! And here is where the war enters in. One of the variations of this acid theory is that it is pointed out, ulcer occurs in a nervous type of individual, high strung, thin and subject to nervous influences. Worry or excitement starts his stomach hydrochloric acid to flowing and this opens up his ulcer.

If so we would suppose that the stresses of combat service would cause a good many soldiers, sailors and airmen to come down with stomach or duodenal ulcers. And we are beginning to get reports on such occurrences. Although I must say the number of cases reported is not as high as you would think if the nervous theory of causation is 100 per cent true.

Most ulcers of this type get well very promptly under treatment. Most of them are not in the stomach but in the duodenum or intestine just outside the stomach. They are located on a spot where the stomach in emptying, squirts a stream of juice out against the wall. The tendency is for such ulcerations to heal.

The important feature in treatment has recently been re-employed by Smith and Rivers of the Mayo Clinic. They reject all the faddy treatments which have arisen so frequently and been as frequently rejected in recent years. The fundamental principles of treatment are:

Rest and elimination, so far as possible of the nervous factors.

Diet—bland. Avoid sweet, sour, spiced and fried foods. Depend upon milk and cream mixed—half and half—lean meat, eggs, pureed vegetables, toast, fruit juices, cream soups.

Neutralization of excess acidity by soda and calcium carbonate or aluminum hydroxide.

Elimination of infection.

Perseverance in treatment—Make taking milk and cream at 10 a.m., at 3 p.m. and at bedtime a lifelong habit.

Don't Form a Barricade

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My husband's mother whom I never knew until a little over a year ago has asked me to call her "Mamma", which is Jim's name for her. I always called my own mother that, and I don't like the idea of giving the same name to someone else, especially as my mother died a little before my marriage.

I've called her Mrs. — and she seems to resent that, and so does my husband. I don't want to become too friendly with my husband's mother who is not objectionable but I think it's wise not to get too chummy with my in-laws. What do you think about it?

Lieutenant's Wife.

For a bride to assume a barricaded attitude toward her in-laws seems a mistaken policy. You need not become over-intimate but there is a difference between that and a pleasant family recognition of one's husband's kith and kin. Please don't carry your standoffish policy too far.

Lovely Wedding for Kimberley Girl

Weaver, of Kimberley and Percival Campbell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McKinnon of Windsor, Ont. The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of white bridal satin with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. The bodice featured a draped yoke and sweetheart neckline edged with Viennese lace, lace also edged the long lily-pointed sleeves. A cascading veil was held in place by a Dutch cap of matching lace. Her bouquet was of yellow roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Fred McKim as matron of honor, chose a gown of pale yellow sheer with brocaded bodice and bishop sleeves. The bridesmaid, Miss M. Mahaffey wore a similar gown of pale blue sheer. Both attendants wore half hats of flowers with chapel veils and carried bouquets of pastel sweet peas, and swainsonia. Daisy garlands surrounded each tier of the cake and it was topped by a miniature T.C.A. airplane. The brides mother helped receive the guests. Bacon for Breakfast

In summertime, breakfast is a particularly important meal. Make sure your family gets a breakfast that is both appetizing and nutritionally right!

Hot weather does things to peoples' appetites, but their nutritional needs are just as great. That's why wise wives and mothers lay special stress on breakfast as the summer moves along. And for all-round nutritional value and food energy, you still can't beat the old fashioned eggs and bacon. But eggs and bacon need not always be served the same way. In the panel I make one suggestion which has been very popular wherever it has been tried. You can think of others . . . scramble the eggs sometimes . . . or make an omelette . . . serve bacon with marmalade or jelly, on pancakes. But make the morning meal sustaining and attractive.

The "Primary" System of Electing Political Candidates

A writer in Collier's makes the strange mistake of stating that Canada's provincial elections are comparable to primaries in the United States. Actually, they are comparable to state elections.

American primaries are an entirely different thing. They compare with our party nominating conventions.

Originally the parties in the United States followed the same practice in nominating candidates as we follow in Canada. Local branches of parties nominated delegates to a district convention, and the delegates at that convention chose a candidate for the Republicans or the Democrats as the case might be.

It was argued that this method was not sufficiently democratic, that the great mass of the Republicans or Democrats or Farmer-Labor or independents did not have a sufficiently direct voice in the choice of the candidates who would represent them in the final election.

In the American primaries, which this year were generally held in July in preparation for the general elections in November, candidates for two or more parties are chosen. Voters appear as Democrats or as Republicans or independents, though there is nothing to prevent switching of parties, or voting for new parties or non-partizan candidates. A voter known as a Democrat may vote in the Republican primaries or vice versa. Each party usually has a number of contendents for choice as official candidate. The Republican who gets the most votes, the Democrat who heads his party's list, or the non-partizan choice, become the final candidates who will fight it out at the general election. Defeated contendents for nomination are not precluded from running in the general election as independents.

The primary system applies to those who wish to be candidates for Congress, State offices and so on. Presidential candidates are still chosen at party conventions, though delegates to these conventions from many States are selected through public primaries.

There are merits in the primary system chief of which are that the primaries give wide open opportunities to anyone who thinks he should be his party's choice, it attracts more men and women to public life and the resultant widespread political activity makes the public more politically conscious. Primaries have a tendency to whip up interest in the election which follows. They can, however, occasionally have the effect, if candidates for one party receive an overwhelming preponderance of votes in a primary, of causing the public to believe that the final result is a foregone conclusion and that it is hardly worth bothering to vote in the general election. Against the primary plan it is argued that it is costly to the public treasury and to candidates, who in effect have to fight two elections, the first for nomination and the second for office.

That the primary plan has been found to work well in the United States is indicated by its growth. It commenced in one or two states and in about 30 years has become generally adopted.

At various times this method of selecting candidates has been advocated in Canada, but it has not received much popular support. There would be nothing to prevent it from working insofar as Conservatives, Liberals or independents were concerned, but it might clash with the C.C.F. practice of restricting contendents for local nominations to those who meet with headquarters' approval.

The Facts in the Ukrainian Case

The demand of the Ukrainian Labor-Farmer Temple Association that Ottawa return its property, halls, equipment and literature that were seized because the organization was subversive should be examined in the light of the facts.

The facts are that the organization was also subversive in the war of 1914-18. It had to be suppressed in 1918. In its schools from the conclusion of that war until the present war was well under way, and they were suppressed, children were taught hatred of Canadian and British institutions. British democracy was held out as the devil; Communist dictatorship was the god. There was no good in free democratic institutions. Militant atheism was the creed; Christianity was constantly under attack. This continued during the period that the pact between Hitler and Russia was operative. No change in tune came until Hitler attacked Russia and Tim Buck issued his directive in which he explained that while the Communists could not support British democracy they could now fight beside the British to defeat the Germany that was attacking Russia.

All that is a matter of recorded history.

Further than that, the fact is that the Ukrainian Labor-Farmer Temple Association is not genuinely Ukrainian. It took into its membership all sorts of East and Central Europeans that were not Ukrainians. Their one bond was Communist-hatred of democracy, and a policy of obstruction of democracy's fight for existence. Only 10 per cent of their members were Ukrainians.

There are 300,000 loyal Ukrainians in Canada, and they must not be confused with the Labor-Temple crowd that is today making all the disturbance for the release of the property, including 108 halls, that was sequestrated because of the organization's subversive activities. These 300,000 were true to Canada and to their own national traditions of freedom. They have participated in Canada's war effort from the commencement. They carried their share of Canada's burden before Germany's attack on Russia caused Tim Buck and his cohorts to declare that while they would not fight or work to preserve the British Empire and Canada from destruction they would fight and work to preserve the Comintern that Stalin has since discarded.

Perhaps the Communists have reformed; perhaps they have become good British subjects; certainly they are now contributing to the war effort, but Ottawa is not to be blamed if it is cautious in responding to demands that properties that were the base for subversive efforts be returned.

G. P., Castlegar—This season I have grown West India Gherkins in my garden and would like to get a recipe for Sweet Gherkin Pickles. Also would these Gherkins be suitable for Dill Pickles?

PICKLED GHERKINS

To each quart of vinegar allow ¼ ounce of black peppercorns, 4 cloves, 2 blades of mace. Cover the gherkins with salt and water, and let them remain in the brine for three days. At the end of the time drain them well, dry them with a cloth, and pack them compactly in a jar of suitable size. Boil sufficient vinegar to cover them, with peppercorns and spices in the above proportions, for 10 minutes, and pour the liquid over the vinegar, simmer very gently for 10 minutes longer, and when quite cold pour into small bottles. Cork securely, cover the corks with melted wax, and store for use in a cool, dry place.

We believe it would be all right to use these gherkins for dill pickles.

Profit-Sharing in Canadian Aircraft Industry Recommended

OTTAWA, Aug 13 (CP) — A system of profit-sharing by labor should be studied and applied to all of Canada's aircraft industry, the Commons War Expenditures Committee recommended in a report tabled in the House Saturday.

The Committee, reporting Canada had produced 12,908 planes up to June 30 with total government assistance to the industry of $66,000,000 cited the example of the Vickers plant at Montreal where it was found profit-sharing "has increased production and substantially lowered costs."

The Committee also found:

1. New aircraft contracts with the United States or the United Kingdom should be for transport planes rather than fighters and bombers, looking to post war success of the aircraft industry in Canada.

2. There are occasional infractions and isolated indiscretions on the part of army boot inspectors but the Canadian army boot "is now equal if not superior of any boot supplied to any soldier anywhere."

3. Ownership of the Polymer Corporation synthetic rubber plant at Sarnia, Ont., should be retained by the crown and the plant be operated after the war by the government.

4. A policy of post war public ownership also should be applied to the government owned ammonium nitrate plants at Calgary and Niagara Falls, to assure supplies of chemical fertilizers to Canadian agriculture.

The 100-page report was presented after more than 80 hearings which were held in camera over the objections of some progressive Conservative members.

The report did not elaborate on the mechanism of the profit-sharing scheme but it was clearly learned that it works on this basis.

The company established a 100-per cent efficiency standard and then told the employees that if they exceeded 75 per cent efficiency they would share plant profits on a 50-50 basis with employers. This resulted in efficiency being increased from 60 per cent to over 100 per cent in most departments and the company estimates a saving of more than $3,000,000 on contracts.

Pay boosts to employees ranged from four cents to 15 cents an hour. It was also found that in teams of workers, the efficient men made it a point to see that careless comrades were jacked up and turned in their share of the work.

The committee found that the government-owned victory aircraft plant at Malton, Ont., "is now well-managed and is maintaining its estimated production."

The report said a large percentage of the cause for disappointment results in the past at that plant was due to the fact the plant did not have long-term contracts and was constantly shifting production.

The sub-committee on rubber production suggested an immediate survey of Canada's postwar requirements so proper steps could be taken for the conversions of tire producing facilities from military to civilian needs.

The report also suggested that plants be immediately considered to speed up, as soon as war conditions permit, the readjustment of the motor vehicle industry from a wartime to peace time basis with special consideration to the urgent needs of Canadian industry for trucks.

The committee recommended that wartime methods to stabilize labor output in truck manufacturing be extended in the post war period to all automotive industry "in order to avoid the alternate peak loads and low ebbs of labor experienced in that industry before the war."

The committee report said that last year approximately 542,000 passenger tires were released to those qualifying under the tire rationing order. Of this number some were old pre-war tires and 314,000 manufactured from reclaimed and synthetic rubber.

The 1944 program provides for the rationing of 840,000 passenger tires practically all made from synthetic rubber.

Six-Ton Bombs Hit U-Boat Shelters in Brest

LONDON, Aug. 13 (CP-Reuter) Lancasters, of R. A. F. Bomber Command, with fighter escort, Saturday morning attacked U-boat shelters at Brest with 12,000 pound bombs, the Air Ministry announced.

The attack, it said, was made in brilliantly clear weather. Crews reported that the bombs fell in a close cluster around the objectives.

American Guns and Dive-Bombers Deliver Life to "Lost Battalion"

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ON THE MORTAIN SECTOR IN FRANCE, Aug. 13 (CP) — American Long Tom 155s, delivering life instead of death, fired shells filled with blood plasma, morphine and sulfa drugs to a "lost battalion" fighting on a hill behind German lines.

For five days the battalion of an American infantry division fought behind enemy lines, causing great havoc and refusing two demands to surrender from Hitler's prize SS troops. They were supplied by food in "dive bombing" P-47 Thunderbolts, and with medical supplies by Long Tom artillery shells.

The battalion was part of a division which has been in the line more than 40 days. Although tired, it bore the brunt of an attack by more than four Nazi armored divisions, standing firm even when battalion and regimental command posts were overrun an switchboard operators had to use bazookas to drive off the enemy.

The battalion command directed artillery fire on German positions, and the infuriated Germans retaliated with mortar fire and a renewed counterattack. But the battalion held.

Friday during daylight the Germans, striving desperately to withdraw, took to a road with a large convoy of tanks and guns. The lost battalion on the hill spotted the column, called on artillery and every American gun along that sector of the front rained shells down while the battalion corrected their fire.

The total destruction of the column was told in these words by an observer on the fading radio:

"Tired as we are and hungry as we are, there is not a man who is not happy as can be at the sight."

Late Saturday a regiment fought its way to the battalion position, opening up a relief route.

"Ghost Heckler" Bothers Berlin Broadcasts

LONDON, Aug. 13 (CP) — A "ghost heckler" broke in during pauses in the Berlin overseas radio newscast Saturday shouting comments on Allied advances. At the first pause the voice said: "The Russians are advancing. The Americans are advancing. The British are advancing."

'Peg Press Hints Ontario Election

WINNIPEG, Aug. 13 (AP) — The Winnipeg Free Press said Saturday in a dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent that Ontario circles in Ottawa believe that Premier George Drew was preparing to announce a Provincial election, in which main issue would be his Government's opposition to the Federal Family Allowance Scheme.

The dispatch said belief had been expressed in Ottawa that Premier Drew's stand against family allowances, might crystallize opposition against him in the Legislature, where he does not command majority support.

It said that strategy of precipitating an election on the chance Drew's Progressive Conservative Party would secure a clear majority in the Legislature had been approved at a party caucus.

"One report heard yesterday was that Drew would not wait for defeat in the Legislature, but would ask dissolution shortly and call an election," the dispatch added.

OTTAWA, Aug 13 (CP) — Reports circulated in Parliamentary circles here Saturday that Premier Drew of Ontario might soon call a general Provincial election. The reports began after Premier Drew announced his Government's intention to fight the Federal Government's family allowances legislation.

Premier Drew said the allowances would benefit Quebec at the expense of Ontario.

The reports claimed that if Mr. Drew was to carry out his proposed fight in the Ontario Legislature he would need a larger majority than he holds at present.

The C.C.F. Party in the Federal field supported the Liberal Government's allowances legislation and it was believed the C. C. F. Party in Ontario would do likewise.

If the C.C.F. and Liberal Parties joined forces on the question in the Ontario Legislature they could defeat Mr. Drew's Government, as together they have more members than the Progressive Conservatives.

OIL TANKS BURN, ONE MAN DEAD

NEWHALL, Calif., Aug. 13 (AP) —One man was burned to death, another was seriously injured and a woman was reported missing in a fire which followed a series of explosions at the Newhall Refining Company near here early Saturday and ignited 16 of 25 tanks containing 3,000,000 gallons of crude oil and casing head gasoline.

The fire spread to surrounding brush and grass, causing evacuation of scores of families in the vicinity.

Several persons reported they saw a screaming woman rush into the refinery area and stumble and fall into a stream of blazing oil from one of the bursted tanks.

Flames shot 2,000 feet high after the explosions.

Officials said the fire probably was started by ignition of fumes from a broken naptha line.

TITO, MAN OF DESTINY: The unknown Josip Broz, who rose to fame and the rank of marshal (now known as Marshal Tito) at the head of Yugoslavia's guerrilla army, is shown with his dog, "Tiger," as they enjoyed a dip near the marshal's secret headquarters in Yugoslavia. This dog is probably closer to the legendary marshal than anyone.

A closeup study of Marshal Tito, head of the Yugoslav National Committee of Liberation and most successful guerrilla leader of the war. As Josip Broz, Tito was unknown. Today, with the backing of the United States, Britain and Russia, he is the spearhead of resistance against the Germans in Yugoslavia.

Few people have seen Marshal Tito as relaxed as he is here, caught during a game of chess with his Chief of Staff Stoyan at his secret headquarters. The leader of the famous Yugoslav guerrilla army that has been a thorn in the side of the Germans, likes chess and plays it after dinner. Note the tiny pipe he uses for a cigarette.

KINGCOBRA HAS DEADLY STING: The P-63 Kingcobra, built by the Bell Aircraft Corp. of Buffalo, N.Y., is now in production according to the war department. Larger and more powerful than its predecessor, the Airacobra, it uses a low drag wing and a two-stage supercharger for improved performance.

WANTED FOR JAILBREAK: Charles H. Adams, one of the three heavily armed desperadoes sought in a state-wide manhunt. Adams was identified as one of the youths who freed Robert Cecil Mam from the Inglewood jail, Calif.

TURKS BREAK WITH NAZIS: After many months of neutrality Turkey has broken diplomatic relations with Germany. The Allies are now expected to ask for, and receive, bases from which to blast the Nazis out of the Aegean Isles and to attack Nazi satellite countries. The Turkish army along with Allied forces might move against Bulgaria (shown on map), whose border is reported to be strongly fortified.

Giant pitchers also hit four batsmen and made three wild pitches in two games.

Hausmann's exhibition came in the fourth, when with the bases full he first fumbled, then kicked a grounder by Steven Mesner to score two runs. His third error came with the bases again full when he threw high to first on an attempted double play. Two more runs came in.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Stock market leaders generally kept one foot on the recovery ladder although the majority failed to do much in the way of spectacular climbing. Canadian issues were quiet, Dome gaining ¼ and Seagrams losing that fraction.

CHICAGO—Selling of rye futures forced that market down as much as a cent in late dealing and liquidation spread to other pits, turning earlier gains into slight losses. Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher than yesterday, September $1.33⅛-⅜; oats were ⅛ off to ¼ up, September 88⅝; rye was ⅛ to 1 cent lower, September $1.02⅝-⅞; and barley was ¼ to ⅜ off, September $1.10⅝.

December and May rye reached new seasonal lows at one time at $1.03⅛ and $1.04⅝ respectively.

WINNIPEG—Wheat export trade totalled more than 1,000,000 bushels. Trade in rye futures was irregular.

Byron Nelson Favored to Win Spokane Golf

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP)—Byron Nelson will be the one to beat for the 1944 Professional Golfers' Association $20,000 championship, which starts here tomorrow and finishes next Sunday, say the men who should know, his fellow professionals.

The Toledo, O., entry is at peak form although slightly golf weary from a steady series of matches for many months.

Although he has been placed in the role of favorite, Nelson will have his work cut out for him because there are tough ones in the field such as McSpaden and Sam Byrd of Redford, Mich., duration United States open champion, Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, a former champion and others in the major league class.

Scotland Opens Soccer Season

GLASGOW, Aug. 13 (CP Cable)—Scotland scored the usual two-week jump on the rest of the Kingdom Saturday with an official opening of the 1944-45 soccer season. The major English and Welsh Leagues start on Aug. 26.

Fourteen games played in the Scottish Southern and North-Eastern Leagues drew great crowds. Glasgow Rangers opened auspiciously as Southern defending champions edging Falkirk 3-2 in an uphill struggle that produced the winning goal in the last minute.

Celtic, in rampaging form, had little difficulty in trouncing Hearts 4-1, while Edinburgh Hibernians lost at home to Clyde 4-0.

The main interest in the Northeastern competition centred on two teams—Arbroath and Dundee. Arbroath fell at Aberdeen 2-0, and Dundee notched a 4-2 victory over Raith Rovers.

B.C. Women Wins Swimming Events

WINNIPEG, Aug. 13 (CP) — No. 13 Service Flying Training School, Davidson, Sask., yesterday won the No. 3 training command swimming championships here.

Lac. Doug Northstein, formerly of Winnipeg, led the Davidson team with first in the 50, 100 and 200-yard free-style events.

Cpl. Dorythy Heavenor of Powell River, B.C., won three events in the W.D. events for No. 7 Bombing and Gunnery School where she is stationed. She won the 50-yard free-style, 50-yard backstroke and the W.D. diving competition.

Rookie Wins First Time In Majors

BOSTON, Aug. 13 (AP) — In a dramatic fashion the second-place Boston Red Sox rushed in a raw rookie pitcher to defeat the first place St. Louis Browns 7-6, in the opener 13-inning game of a double header today, and then bowed 6-1 in the second game, a five-inning affair.

Rex Cecil, 27-year-old hurler from San Diego, hopped off an airplane and hurled the last four innings of the opening game to be credited with his first major league triumph.

Never before had the six-foot two-inch Cecil seen a major league game or been in a major league park; nevertheless, he shut out the League leaders, gave them four hits in four innings, and struck out three batters.

Fred Wood Pushes Watrous Close to Win Second Prize Money

SCARBORO GOLF CLUB, Scarboro, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP) — Al Watrous, the veteran American progolfer for Oakland Hills, Detroit, who carded three sub-par rounds and a four-over in the final 18 holes, walked off with the $3000 first prize money first prize money in the three-day $5000 added Maple Leaf invitation open tourney here yesterday.

Watrous went around the 72-hole distance in 280—four under par.

Vancouver's top-notch pro, Fred Wood, pressed Watrous all the way and wound up three behind the Detroiter for second prize money — a $1000 purse—carding 283. Toronto's Bobby Gray, playing over his former course, ended up with 285 for third money, while Hugh Borthwick of Toronto edged out Stan Horne of Montreal Islesmere Club for Fourth spot. Borthwick turned in a 70 on the last 18 to card 287 with Horne totalling 288.

Par for the course is 71 and Watrous after shooting 136 in the first two rounds hit 70 in yesterday's first round and then wound up with a 75. Wood, with 139 from Thursday and Friday, wound up with two 72s.

Amateur honors were taken by Ken Black, Canadian amateur champion from Vancouver and Nick Wisnock of Burlington, Ont., who each ran up 298 counts for the distance.

Watrous started the final round six strokes ahead of Wood, but that lead was cut to three when Watrous went three over par on the first nine and the Vancouverite kept even with the regulation figure.

Watrous finished the round four over with Wood going one over par when he missed an eight-foot putt for a birdie on the last green.

Canadian amateur titlist, Ken Black, failed to continue the pace he set in the opening two rounds. After a pair of 77s, Black shot a 74 Saturday morning and finished up with a 78. The Ontario champ, Nick Wisnock, after carding a 74 and 72, completed the round with a pair of 76s to tie with Black. They split the $300 in war bonds that were prizes for first and second in the amateur division.

The list of winners and prizes follows:

Al Watrous $3000; Fred Wood $1,000; Bob Gray, $700; Hugh Borthwick $500; Stan Horne $400; Dick Borthwick $300; Gordon Brydson $250; Bill Kerr, Bill Lamb and Les Robson $150 each; Bob Burns, Gerry Proulx, Joe Kirkwood, Sr., Leo Diegel and Jules Huot, $100 each.

"Soul" Is Subject of Lesson-Sermon

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from Him" (Psalms 62: 5.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible; "Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses. And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation" (Psalms 107: 6, 7.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key yto the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As the children of Israel were guided triumphantly through the Red Sea, the dark ebbing and flowing tides of human fear,—as they were led through the wilderness, walking wearily through the great desert of human hopes, and anticipating the promised joy,—so shall the spiritual idea guide all right desires in their passage from sense to Soul, from a material sense of existence to the spiritual, up to the glory prepared for them who love God."

Police Catch Fugitive Near Cranbrook After 80 Mile Chase

CRANBROOK, B. C., Aug. 13 — Stuart Fleming, 27, escapee from Burwash Industrial Farm in Ontario, since July 6, was the third prison fugitive caught in this District in a week when he was rounded up after an 80-mile chase over cross country trails in pitch darkness early Sunday morning.

He was reported at Radium Hot Springs Friday but eluded search until Constable G. A. Brabazon, Provincial Police at Invermere, located him Saturday evening at nearby Fairmont Hot Springs when he slipped off into the dense woods eluding capture. Police guards were posted along highways in the area and when a car bolted through the bridge guard at Tata Creek pursuit was engaged and police at other points were notified.

The car was reported by the owner, Ora Taplin, as stolen from Canal Flats, while the chase was under way. From Tata Creek four police cars pursued the fugitive to Wasa, then along a disused road to Fort Steele, 20 miles along a back road through Bull River to Wardner, where a three way intersection presenting darkness and rain, obscured the course taken by the fleeing car.

Patrols were put along the highway East to Fernie and West to Cranbrook and Corporal Pomeroy of Fernie Provincial Police caught the flash from the bumper of a side-lined car near Elko, and found the escaped man asleep inside the allegedly stolen automobile. Members of the pursuing party were Sgt. W. J. McKay, Constable R. Shiell, Constable Norman Wells, Constable C. N. Ramsay, of Cranbrook, RCMP Corporal Harry Giles and Constable Don McCrae of Cranbrook, Constable Brabazon of Invermere, Constable Borodula of Kimberley, Corporal Pomeroy and Constable Jamieson of Fernie, Game Warden Ben Rauch, and Louis Holmes of Cranbrook.

Fleming will be charged with theft of a car in Provincial Police Court here before being returned to Ontario authorities to complete a breaking and entering sentence. He is a former District resident which accounts for his familiarity with little known trail routes through the District.

Interpreting The War News

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press War Analyst

The Battle of Western France is revealing an inability of the German strategists to cope with offensive schemes which they themselves have used successfully.

One of the fundamentals of the Nazi blitzkhieg in Poland in 1939 and in France the following year was to slice the opposition into segments, then chew up the segments, using armor for the slicing and infantry and artillery for the chewing.

Now the German 7th Army is crumbling under allied application of that strategy.

Breaking out from the Normandy beachhead and Eastern Brittany, the Allies threw a series of armored prongs ahead of them, slicing into the 7th Army. They have hacked that army into groups with little or no contact between the groups.

With the battle approaching a crescendo, a general allied attack was launched Sunday in the Vire-Mortain sector and the enemy began withdrawing toward the Seine.

This appeared to be precisely what the allied high command desired—a German retreat toward the Seine.

The allies intend to use the Seine as the Northern wall of a trap. For this reason, allied aviation has been working steadily at the bridges over the river cutting them and keeping them cut.

The developments of the last few days make it clear that the allied high command is not yet thinking in terms of seizing Paris. The immediate objective is the destruction of the Army deployed in front of Paris and the Seine. When that is accomplished, Paris should fall like a ripe apple.
