Comb Mountains For Lost Youth

Planes, Trucks, Hounds Used as 200 Scout Okanagan Greystokes

KELOWNA, B.C., Oct. 8 (CP)—More than 200 searchers today combed treacherous Greystoke Mountains near this Okanagan Valley fruit-growing centre, without finding any trace of Nick Husch, 17-year-old Rutland, B.C., youth, missing since Sunday on a hunting trip.

Aircraft, Army trucks and bloodhounds are being used and Col. Harry H. Angle, Officer Commanding B.C. Dragoons in the area, offered all available Army equipment.

Searchers were pressing the hunt into top gear as leaden skies forecast the first snowfall of the season, which would obliterate any tracks left by the youth.

Husch left his camp and two friends in their camp, stating he would return in two hours. After waiting several hours, his companions, Everett Reser and Andy Kitsch, began a search.

The lonely Greystoke Mountains are considered one of the finest deer hunting districts in the Province, but also abound with grizzly bear and cougar. The terrain is generally rough and treacherous.

THEORIZE STABBER AN ACQUAINTANCE

New Clues Turn Up In 'Peg Mystery; Dog Not Aroused

MANY MOTIVES

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8 (CP) — With undisclosed "new" clues in their possession, Winnipeg police today believed they moved a step closer to solution of the mystery stabbing last Friday of 38-year-old Elsie Frances Tasker in her downtown Winnipeg home.

Police declined to say what the new clues were, except to indicate that they supported theories on which they had been operating — that whoever gained entry into the woman's home to inflict the eight wounds, distributed between her back, head and breast, was well known to her.

Thrice-married, twice-divorced and once widowed, Mrs. Tasker was known to many men, police said. Chief Charles MacIver said Monday that "many motives could have brought about this woman's death."

An inspection of the slain woman's cutlery and silver established none missing, tending to support the theory that the slayer provided his own weapon.

Meanwhile, preparations went forward for Mrs. Tasker's burial tomorrow, six days after her death.

Friends recalled the slain woman's dog, normally hostile to strangers, didn't bark or take exception to the Friday-night intruder's visit. Nor did the woman protest his or her arrival, but, consistent with her practice of admitting only friends into her home, allowed him in.

KEY MISSING

Though Mrs. Tasker was known to have had four keys to her home, only three have been accounted for, indicating that her slayer might even have been well enough known to her to possess one.

WAYWARD PLANE STANDS 53 ON HEADS

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 8 (AP)—A four-engined American Airlines DC-4 Flagship went into an unplanned loop and stood 53 passengers and crewmen on their heads for a brief interval early today.

The story was told by Capt. Charles Sisto, veteran pilot who righted the big ship and made an unscheduled landing at the El Paso municipal airport. It was bound from Dallas to Los Angeles.

Bob Pfunder, local sales manager for the airline, said most of the 48 passengers were shaken and bruised but none was injured seriously. Six were X-rayed and given first aid at a hospital.

VESCIO HEARING PACKS COURT

Thrill-Seekers Turned Away; Father Testifies

11 WITNESSES

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8 (CP)—Preliminary hearing of Michael Angelo Vescio, 22, of Port Artnur, charged with the murder of 13-year-old George Robert Smith, one of two sex slayings which terrorized Winnipeg residents in January and September, 1946, opened today.

Hearing into Vescio's second murder charge, that of 13-year-old Roy McGregor, will follow.

About 100 persons jammed the courtroom while scores of would-be thrill seekers—mostly women—were turned away. Led into the courtroom by a single policeman, Vescio showed little emotion.

William Smith, father of the murdered boy and first witness, told how his son had left the house at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 18, 1946, to attend the first Scout meeting of the season. "That was the last time I saw him alive," he said.

FIND BODY BULLET-RIDDLED

Mr. Smith then related how, on the boy's failure to return home late that night, a search had been conducted and finally the police notified. The next time he saw the boy he was lying dead in a West-Central Winnipeg lane, his body riddled by three bullets.

Other witnesses, boys from the Scout meeting, told of leaving the Smith boy after the meeting was over and that "George had started towards his home."

Eleven witnesses were heard before adjournment.

2 Lost, Seiner Awash

ALERT BAY, B.C., Oct. 8 (CP)—The seiner Florence No. 2, owned by J. H. Todd and Sons of Victoria, was found awash at Growler Cove on Cracroft Island, 20 miles from here, B.C. Police reported today. Two of the crew of seven were lost.

Police identified the victims as O. Krestnick, 18, of Prince Rupert, and William Field, 60, whose next of kin was given as Lloyd Mooney, care of Atlin Fisheries, Prince Rupert. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Other members of the crew were brought here.

Constable W. H. Davidson of the Provincial Police detachment here is proceeding to the scene immediately.

SLICES BACON RATION

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP) — Food experts in the Capital today predicted that the Dominion-wide meat-packing strike would "almost certainly" force a cut in the United Kingdom's two-ounce bacon ration unless full production resumes within the next few days.

EATS FOR FIRST TIME IN 26 YEARS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 8 (AP) — Mickey Schuster, who was fed through a tube inserted in his stomach for 26 of his 28 years, ate a pork chop dinner last night and then nibbled on a chocolate-covered cherry.

"It's wonderful to be able to eat like other people," said Mickey, who is recovering from a series of operations that enabled him to swallow food normally for the first time since he swallowed a can of lye at the age of two.

"I could taste the food before, but I couldn't swallow it. That way I worked up a terrific urge for it."

BALKAN BORDER WATCH IS WON

Russo-Slav Bloc Overwhelmed; Guilt Issue Not Forced

SEEK ASSURANCE

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Oct. 8 (CP) — Russia and her associated Slav states went down fighting and arguing tonight when a flood of votes approved the United States' resolution for establishment of a special United Nations Committee to watch the Greek-Balkan border.

For the moment the American delegate Herschel Johnson, did not force that part of the resolution asking the Assembly to hold Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia guilty of aiding Greek guerrillas.

That clause would be dropped, he said, if the three countries would give their undertaking to cooperate with the Balkan Committee.

The spokesmen for Albania and Bulgaria, non-members said they could give no such assurance at the moment. The Yugoslav delegate merely asserted that his country was "a charter member of the U.N."

UPROAR

The Political Committee was thrown into an uproar when the American offer was made to drop the "guilt" clause in return for a promise of Balkan cooperation.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky accused the Americans of backing the Balkan countries against a wall, of delivering an "ultimatum," and of "cowardice" in forcing them into a "horse trade."

Johnson retorted that he had no doubt Vishinsky himself had often indulged in a similar form of "horse-trading."

Pend d'Oreille Sawmill Worker Killed

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 8—Mike Kanigan was accidently killed early Wednesday morning at the Pend d'Oreille sawmill of Lazareff and Company. No details were available.

A coroner's jury viewed the body at 4:30 in the afternoon at Clark's Funeral Home.

Provincial Police authorities are investigating.

He was rushed to the Kaslo Victorian Hospital for treatment to burns of the face, neck, wrists and both legs.

The crew was burning old timber at the time of the accident which occurred when gasoline was thrown on a smoldering timber. Fire had crept along the timbers unnoticed.

AWAIT OUTCOME MARSHALL PLAN

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP) — Canada will probably await more definite developments in Washington, particularly on the Marshall aid-to-Europe proposal, before Governmental action is taken here to deal with the Dominion's shortage of United States dollars, it was learned here today from sources close to the Government.

Ottawa's decisions will be greatly influenced by the extent to which this Marshall plan, still in a formative stage, goes in its efforts to prevent a collapse in Western Europe and Canada also will be guided by the attitude of the American Congress, which must approve the plan before it is implemented.

5 TO 15 YEARS MANSLAUGHTER PUNISHMENTS

Baker Sentenced for Park Slaying; Two For Chinese' Death

CHARGES CHANGED

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8 (CP) — Three persons, two men and a woman, convicted of manslaughter, today were sentenced to penitentiary terms ranging fom five to 15 years. Both charges, originally murder, were reduced during trial at the Supreme Court Assizes.

Elmer Edward Johnson, 26-year-old baker of suburban Burnaby, and father of two children, was sentenced to 12 years for the Stanley Park slaying of Mrs. Norma Burton, June 22. Her body was found near lonely Lost Lagoon and medical testimony proved she died of asphyxia.

"You have been ably defended," said Mr. Justice J. M. Coady, adding: "Circumstances in the case were of a sordid nature. I have given the sentence a great deal of consideration and feel you should serve 12 years in penitentiary.

John Kneller, 26-year-old bulldozer operator convicted in connection with the June 17 death of Harry Woo, 52-year-old cannery worker, received a sentence of 15 years.

Elinor Eva Boucher, 21, his common-law wife, received five years.

Woo died on an emergency ward operating table during an operation for a broken jaw, allegedly inflicted by Kneller during a fight in the woman's room.

Adverse Trade Balance Soars

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP)—Canada's adverse trade balance with the United States climbed another $71,600,000 during August, reaching an all-time high of $844,500,000 for the first eight months of this year, but there was an appreciable slowing up in the rate at which the monthly deficit is piling up.

Official figures showed today that the August deficit—at $71,600,000—was $13,300,000 lower than the July tota lof $84,900,000. A still further improvement was indicated by the fact there had been a gain of nearly $10,000,000 during the same period last year.

Nonetheless, these new figures, coming on the eve of Finance Minister Abbott's return from financial talks in the United Kingdom, still served to emphasize growing official concern over the country's diminishing reserves of U.S. dollars.

SIDESTEP MARINE TIE-UP

Coast Transit Men Record Strike Wishes; Break Picketing Pact

FARMERS ROUSED

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8 (CP)—British Columbia's labor picture cleared slightly tonight with the settlement of the proposed walkout of 150 marine engineers on 36 coastal boats.

A two-hour emergency meeting between George H. Baillie, Pacific Region Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and representatives of the National Association of Marine Engineers, averted the tie-up just 23 hours before the deadline.

Chief engineers were awarded seven and one-half per cent monthly wage increase; other engineers 10 per cent increase; $5 additional increase for one-year junior engineers and $10 additional for two-year juniors, plus the 44-hour week for all categories in place of the present 48-hour week.

More than 2800 streetcar and bus operators in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster today were taking a strike vote to back demands for a 20-cents-an-hour wage boost.

Results of the vote were not expected to be known before the end of the week, but union officials said that if the walkout comes, it will not be before next Wednesday.

Two of Vancouver's three independent meat packing plants closed today as the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) tightened their grip on the city's meat supply. The third firm, Pacific Meat Co., announced it would close Friday.

By The Canadian Press

Announcement that packing companies would open three strike-bound meat-packing plants in Montreal Thursday brought from Union Director F. W. Dowling of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) an assertion the move breaks off an agreement the Union had with Canada Packers Limited for peaceful picketing in the 26-day old strike.

Canada Packers, Wilsil Limited and Modern Packers Limited assured workers of wage increases and other inducements and the Montreal Police Department said "full police protection" would be given willing workers. Union leaders, urging workers to ignore the company offers, said they would be able "to picket all gates of the companies effectively."

President H. H. Hanham of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture said in Ottawa that the wages strike by 12,000 U.P.W.A. members had cost hog producers an estimated $1,000,000. He added that Canadian farmers were growing indignant and demanded a better way of handling such disputes.

Admits Confession

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 8 (CP) — Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of the Ontario Supreme Court today admitted into evidence a purported confession to the murder of Joseph Grant, 71-year-old Schreiber, Ont., prospector, said to have been made by Charles (Chuck) Martin, formerly of Vancouver.

The purported confession took the form of a statement which Martin is said to have made to Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers at Moose Jaw, Sask., Feb. 21.

Police said that in it he admitted murdering Grant and his partner, Marcel Duchesneau, at Antelope Mine, North of Schreiber, Dec. 10, robbing them of more than $1200 and leaving the West the same day.

Martin's trial on the charge of murdering Grant opened today. He pleaded innocent on grounds of self-defence. Later he will go on trial on a charge of murdering Duchesneau.

Seek $5000 for Wedding Gift Food

KELOWNA, B.C., Oct. 8 (CP) — This Okanagan Valley fruit-growing centre today voted to contribute a minimum of $5000 for a fund to send a wedding gift of food to Great Britain in honor of Princess Elizabeth's wedding.

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games officially opened the drive, which will cover all surrounding municipalities and will end Oct. 25 in order that the food may be purchased in time for the Nov. 20 Royal wedding.

ARREST PAIR FOR THEFT OF SECRET PHOTOS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced the arrest of two former servicemen on charges of theft of highly confidential photographs relating to atomic energy development.

F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover said the two men are former Army photographers who had been employed at the Los Alamos, N.M., atomic project.

Hoover gave their names as George Wellington Thompson, 42, taken into custody at Riverside, N.M., and Ernest Lawrence Paporello, 29, arrested at Albuquerque, N.M.

Prices, Communism Get C.C.L. Going-Over

Denunciation of All Totalitarianism Comes From Roaring Word Battle; House Session on Prices Demanded

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP)—A turbulent convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor today voted a denunciation of Communism in a roaring, wall-shaking showdown with the Red minority in the Congress.

In a three-hour battle that reverberated to impassioned oratory and plunged at times into uncontrolled bedlam, the Congress' anti-Red majority pushed through an administration resolution denouncing both Communist and capitalistic attempts to "stifle the freedom of the workers."

Though capitalism was mentioned, the issue swung squarely about the influence of Communism in unions, and both factions plunged into the uproarious fray on that question and fought it out on that battleground.

TAKE SIDES

Red-dominated unions such as the United Electrical Workers and the International Woodworkers of America led the fight against the administration forces, and their leaders hammered at the resolution's strong terms as tending to destroy unity in the Congress.

A phalanx of administration forces was led by Secretary-Treasurer Pat Conroy of Ottawa and Vice-President Alex McAuslane of Vancouver, Conroy hoarsely telling the convention this was a move to "put an end once and for all to the character assassination of those not liked by the Communist Party."

Throughout, the long oratorical donnybrook was punctuated by staccato running fire of cheers, boos, foot-stamping, desk-thumping, cries of "order" and shouted heckling.

CARR GAVE ORDERS

The debate reached the point where one member—James Robertson of the United Steel Workers of America in Toronto—admitted former membership in the Communist Party but said he had left it after discovering "they didn't give a damn about anything except trying to build up the Communist Party."

While he was in the party, he said, union leaders got orders, among others, from Sam Carr, now a fugitive from justice following Russian spy-probe revelations, and J. B. Salsberg, Labor-Progressive member of the Ontario Legislature for Toronto St. Andrew.

He named as a Communist also Harvey Murphy of Vancouver, a leader of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. Murphy took the floor later; said he was known as a Communist, and added that Reds at the convention were getting the same attacks as they got from the "bosses."

One of the strongest denunciations of C.C.L. Communists came from Sam Baron, Canadian director of the United Textile Workers of America, who said he had heard today "the most vicious vituperation in the best manner of Vishinsky."

Besides "denouncing and condemning" both capitalist and Communist intrusions on labor, the resolution also recorded the Congress as opposing by all legitimate means "any totalitarian philosophy, whether it be Communist, Fascist or the reflection of either one."

SEEK SESSION ON PRICE CONTROL

A demand for re-imposition of price controls and subsidies chorused from the convention, with spokesmen for 360,000 workers calling for a special session of Parliament to bring it about.

Besides demanding action on prices generally, the 700-odd delegates registered unanimous opposition to a reported Federal Government intention to relax rent controls and urged the revival of the prohibition on all evictions.

Threats of a nation-wide strike to enforce the labor demands on prices and rentals came from some individual delegates, but administration spokesmen threw cold water on these proposals.

Upshot of the debate was that—on prices—they "condemned" the Federal Government for its recent decontrol order, and called for the special session to replace subsidies and controls on basic foodstuffs, clothing and other essentials, reimpose the excess profits tax and investigate and punish profiteering.

MUNITIONS PAPER PUZZLES

Defending Gerson Unable to Explain Embassy Document

PLOT DENIED

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP)—Harold S. Gerson of Montreal, former key man in the ammunition production branch of the wartime Munitions Department, denied before an Ontario Supreme Court jury today that he had any connection with a conspiracy to provide confidential information to Russia.

Taking the stand in his own defence at his second trial on conspiracy charges, Gerson said he had only passing acquaintances with four of the 23 persons with whom he allegedly conspired to make the information available. He said he had never been asked for nor had be provided any secret or confidential information to unauthorized persons.

During his three hours on the stand, Gerson said he could not explain how a sheet of paper, in his own handwriting and dealing with ammunition tests could have found its way to the Russian Embassy.

The document was produced during the trial as one of those taken from the Embassy by Igor Gouzenko, former Russian Embassy cipher clerk, when he tipped Canadian authorities off to the operation of a Russian-directed spy ring in Canada.

GAVE NO INFORMATION

Gerson said he had met Fred Rose, former Labor-Progressive member of the Commons for Montreal Cartier, Sam Carr, former Labor-Progressive Party organizer, and Gordon Lunan, former Canadian Army officer, at parties in Montreal. The meetings were not prearranged and at them he had not been asked for nor had he given any information about his work.

Rose and Lunan now are serving pentitentiary terms, but Carr disappeared as the investigation got under way and is understood to be in Mexico.

NEWSHAWK MAKING LONE SAIL OF NORTHWEST PASSAGE; SEARCHERS WAIT

By H. DENT HODGSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP)—Canada's Northwest Territories soon will have their first cocktail bar, it was decided today at a meeting of the Northwest Territories Council, but it will be a long trek for a drink for most of the far-flung inhabitants of the Northland.

The first—and only—cocktail bar will be established in the booming community of Yellowknife, gold mining centre on the Northern edge of Great Slave Lake, 650 air miles North of Edmonton. Yellowknife already boasts the Territories' only two beer parlors and has a liquor store, the only other one being at Fort Smith.

This was one of a wide variety of decisions reached by the Council at its first meeting in some weeks. The Council approved in principle the proposal that the bar be established, but shelved the matter until some revenue details could be worked out.

The Council also considered the case of Robert Reeds, a Toronto newspaper man who, contrary to the advice of Government officials, set out from James Bay some weeks ago in a one-man boat to attempt to navigate the Northwest Passage.

Since no reports had been heard from Reeds for some time, the Council cinsidered starting a search, but decided to withhold action until some word is heard of the man's whereabouts. There was no indication of where to search.

Regarding poor radio reception in the North, it was reported the CBC has been asked to consider increasing the power of its long-wave Edmonton station and to beam special broadcasts to the North from its short-wave station near Sackville, N.B.

Some consideration also was given to supplementing old age pensions for persons in the North, establishing a recreation centre at Yellowknife, forest fire protection, postal services, establishing a power commission an dscholarships for university education.

Public Hearings in Nelson Nov. 14 On Reclamation of Duck Lake Land

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP)—Application of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration for approval of a project to divert Long Creek flood waters from Neptune Lake, in Saskatchewan, to Maxim Lake, was granted today as the International Joint Commission closed a two-day semi-annual session here.

A progress report of the International Columbia River Engineering Board was presented by Gen. R. C. Crawford, Victor Meek, C. G. Paulsen and F. G. Goodspeed, members of the Board for the United States and Canada. The Columbia River investigation has been under way since the matter was referred to the International Joint Commission in March, 1944, and progress reports have been made at six-month intervals since that time.

The application of the Creston Reclamation Company for the reclamation of some 7000 acres of land from the Duck Lake area, came before the Commission, and it was decided that a public hearing of all interested parties should be held at Nelson, B. C., Nov. 14.

The International Osoyoos Lake Board of Control made a report on the work that has been done in the mouth of Osoyoos Lake as well as in the Okanagan River in British Columbia and the State of Washington.

In the matter of Sage Creek, Alta., it was decided that the Commission should hold hearings on Nov. 10 at Havre, Mont., to consider complaints of United States residents that water was being held on the Canadian side of the boundary.

The Commission discussed the matter of the Similkameen River flood control, power development and diversion of the waters, which questions are part of the Columbia River reference. The Commission has asked the International Columbia River Engineering Board to make an interim report as soon as possible on these matters.

TOAST and TEA
BY J. V. McAREE

Stephen McKenna tells us in Bookman's Holiday that in all reading undertaken except for historical, critical, or purely fancy-feeding and joy-giving purposes, one should merely skim and put by. Some little will always hold, enough to breed thought, not enough to stifle it; what one takes in mingles, instead of crushing down in a hard lump; the reader will be an original and not an echo. The more temptingly a writer lures, the more swiftly one should flee him—except always for the poets, for the pure artists of poetry or prose. Every writer, who has other ends than to paint pictures and tell stories is plotting against the freedom of every reader; the thing is to take from him not the thing he wants to force on you, but what you yourself need; if you don't cheat him, he cheats you.

BELIEVE GIRL WOUNDED BY HAMMER BLOWS

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP).—Ivan Cowden, 32-year-old rooming-house landlord, who told police he was awakened to find 18-year-old Mary Morrison bouncing on his bed with blood pouring from a head wound, today was charged with murder when he appeared in court less than three hours after the girl's death. He was remanded to Oct. 15.

Cowden was previously charged with wounding with intent to commit murder but the comely store clerk died in hospital this morning after being unconscious for more than 24 hours. She suffered a skull fracture caused by what police said they believed were blows from a hammer.

A taxi driver who notified police that he had driven a man, a woman and an injured girl to a downtown hospital gave police first word of the case.

Officers questioned Cowden, who told them the dark-eyed girl fell half-dazed across his bed about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday. He said that, assisted by the girl's mother, he administered first aid to gashes about the girl's face and later called a taxi and took her to hospital.

Cowden told police his bedroom was upstairs and that the Morrisons' living quarters were on the first floor of the building.

WIN C.P.R. SCHOLARSHIPS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8—Two scholarships to McGill University, Montreal, offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway for C.P.R. employees and minor sons and daughters of employees, were both won this year by students who gave up other scholarships to accept them. Scholarships, 76 of which have been awarded since inception of the plan, entitle the winner to four years free tuition at McGill.

Dorothy May Spowart, 17-year-old daughter of A. A. Spowart, C.P.R. Agent at Golden, B.C., won one of the railway scholarships and in accepting it she relinquished an entrance scholarship to the University of British Columbia valued at $175.

The other scholarship was won by Kenneth Pinder, 18-year-old son of Gladstone Pinder, C.P.R. Agent at Aberthney, Sask. In accepting it Pinder gave up a Saskatchewan Government scholarship to Queen's University, valued at $100 with $100 per year annual expenses.

Miss Spowart whose favored school subjects have been mathematics and science, is an accomplished musician and has been organist at Saint Paul's Anglican Church, Golden, for three years. Her father has been C.P.R. Agent at Golden since 1943, having been at Revelstoke, B.C., between 1919 and 1943, and in Vancouver with the communications department of the railway from 1917 until he went to Revelstoke.

LONDON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth's wedding grown, now being stitched from secret designs sketched by the Queen's dressmaker, will cost something under £200 ($800), it was disclosed today by one of the few persons around the court who really know.

A penalty of three months with hard labor was pronounced on Karl Bergquist of Blueberry, convicted Wednesday morning in City Police Court at Nelson of intent to defraud.

Sea Cadets Resume Duties Aboard Nasookin

With the former Kootenay Lake steamer Nasookin as their floating base, Nelson Sea Cadets have resumed training activities for the coming Winter season.

Most of the cadet's equipment has been transferred to the Nasookin, Commanding Officer D. H. Tye stated Wednesday. Part of the ship will be set aside for drill and training duties during the Winter months.

Replacing many boys who have left Nelson or passed beyond the age limit, 22 new Sea Cadets have been recruited. They now bring the force to 47, just short of the maximum of 50 permitted the Nelson corps.

Expect Thousands at Boundary Peace Dedication at Porthill

CRESTON, B.C., Oct. 8 — A dedication ceremony will be held at Porthill, Idaho, next Sunday when a peace marker will be erected as a token of the goodwill existing between the people of the United States and the Dominion of Canada by the 11 clubs of Division Eight of the Pacific Northwest District of Kiwanis International.

An international parade will begin at 1:00 p.m., followed by music from the Trail Pipe Band and four Highland dancers; Sandpoint, Idaho 50 piece school band; Creston, B.C. band and the Bonners Ferry, Idaho school band.

Invocation will be spoken by Rev. A. O. McNeil of Creston and the address of welcome will be by Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture, British Columbia Government, with the response being made by Arthur W. Nystrom, President of the Kiwanis Club of Bonners Ferry, Idaho.

Presentation of the Kiwanis Boundary Peace Tablet will be made by D. E. Engdahl, Governor of Northwest District Kiwanis International, and the unveiling will be made by a Creston Girl Guide and a Canadian Scout along with an American Camp Fire Girl and an American Scout.

Acceptance of the tablet for the United States will be made by Charles D. Robins, Governor of the State of Idaho and for Canada by Squadron Leader N. S. Macleod, Aide-de-Camp to the Lieutenant-Governor.

Local color will be added with a selection, "A Century of Peace," by Miss Muriel Huscroft and the address of the day will be made by Edward P. Ryan, Past President of Kiwanis Club, Spokane. Benediction will be spoken by Ralph W. Walsh, Bonners Ferry, Idaho.

The dedication will be the first of its kind in this area since the war, the last one being at Patterson in 1942 at the boundary between Northport and Trail.

Remembering that a crowd of 7500 persons witnessed a similar ceremony at Patterson, it is anticipated that thousands will attend the Sunday services.

INJURED NORTH CLERGYMAN "FAIRLY GOOD"

CORAL HARBOR, N. W. T., Oct. 8 (CP)—Canon John H. Turner, seriously injured when an accidentally-discharged rifle bullet pierced his upper lip to lodge in his brain, is "fairly well" at his lonely Arctic mission post, and will be evacuated by boat, the R.C.A.F. Dakota which last Saturday dropped an Army rescue team reported today.

Piloted by F.O. Bob Race, who sent the news by radio from Moffat Inlet, the Dakota flew back to the inlet today to see what it could of happenings there.

Although the group of four who leaped into the frigid, bleak mission area was unable to set up the high-powered radio equipment dropped, a smaller, low-powered set with a 10-mile radius enabled conversation between the plane and the ground.

Capt. Ross Willoughby, doctor in the quartet, relayed a technical description of the clergyman's injury and treatment he had received, which, Race said, indicated his condition was "fairly good."

The Hudson's Bay Company is to be asked to send a boat from Arctic Inlet, 75 miles North of the Northern shore of Baffin Island, to evacuate the missionary, Capt. Willoughby said his condition was well enough to permit the operation.

Moffat Inlet is 400 miles North of the Arctic Circle.

$280 for Blind In Cranbrook Tag Day

CRANBROOK, B.C., Oct. 7 — A net total of about $280, largest amount in some years, resulted from a tag day Saturday on behalf of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Taggers were school girls who called from door to door, in addition to street tagging, and got a tough weather break in the heavy rain which started early in the afternoon.

Kuskanook Chapter, I.O.D.E. was the sponsor of the tag here, and Miss Muriel Baxter was in charge of lining up the volunteer taggers.

With taggings, canvassing or mail appeals outlawed at Kimberley under the Community Chest organization there was no Kimberley tag for the C.N.I.B., but the Community Chest made a donation of $500 to the Institute on behalf of its contributors.

Library Gift By Kaslo I.O.D.E.

KASLO, B. C., Oct. 8 — The 54th Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire meeting in the Club rooms of the Drill Hall, instructed the Secretary to purchase a wreath for Armistice Day.

A complete encyclopedia set was purchased and is to be presented to the Kaslo schools. An appeal from the Canadian National Institute of the Blind was read. The meeting decided to place collection boxes in the schools and in each store and to donate $10 to the fund.

The I.O.D.E. is to adopt one needy family in England, the name and address to be supplied from the National Head Office. As soon as the address is available the Kaslo Chapter will ship a 20 pound parcel of groceries each month.

Regent Mrs. J. R. Tinkess was appointed to represent the I.O.D.E. on the committee to arrange for the TB Mobile Clinic visit on Nov. 19.

Music of Gray Creek Horn Hath no Charms for Bruin

GRAY CREEK, B. C., Oct. 8—Mrs. Hoffman being alone at Kootenay Cottages was alarmed by a noise outside the house. A large bear was robbing an apple tree by the living room of the lodge. Having no gun, she blew the horn used for paging guests. The startled bear fell out of the tree and crashed off into the bush.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B_1, C, D, Riboflavin (B_2), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Penny Candies Scarce For Canadian Children

By The Canadian Press

Hold that penny tightly, sonny, until you get two of them—one won't buy much in these days of high prices.

Your elders, who hark back wistfully to those delightfully sticky times when a penny all-day sucker lasted almost all day would never feel the same eye-popping anticipation if they wended their way to the corner store now.

It's taxes, son, and the sugar shortages that keep your eyes from growing round in front of the candy counter. Manufacturers tell The Canadian Press there's not much room left for a profit on cent candy with a 40 per cent sales tax and a 25 per cent excise tax.

Here and there a kid can get three fruit drops, a wrapped candy kiss, a sucker (much smaller than before the war), or a licorice stick for his cent, but generally cities report a dearth of candies for a copper.

For two cents and up, now, there's quite a variety. Bigger suckers and better licorice buys. If you want to go higher to six cents, you can get an even bigger sucker, but most kids prefer the seven-cent chocolate bar, the CP survey shows.

In Western Canada dealers look forward to better supplies next year. Candy kisses which used to be five for a cent at Moose Jaw now sell for a cent each, but there's not much market expected for such sales until one-penny candy reappears in the same size as before the war.

Similar reports come from other Western centres, but the West Coast reports no penny candies as makers are putting their short sugar supplies into higher-priced goods.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 8 (CP) — Jim St. Louis, former student at Assumption College here who batted .481 in a local baseball league last season, has been signed by Pittsburgh Pirates along with two other players from London, Ont.

ROCKET PLANE ATTAINS SPEED OF 900 M.P.H.

Test Effects Of Flight Faster Than Sound

REPORT IN WEEK

PADSTOW, Cornwall, Eng., Oct. 8 (AP).—A small, pilotless rocket plane, launched by an R. A. F. bomber high above the Atlantic, attained a speed estimated at 900 miles an hour today in an experiment to determine the effects of flight faster than sound.

The plane was the first of a group to be used by the Supply Ministry in experiments with supersonic speed.

The experiments were expected to produce valuable data about performances of ultra-high-speed aircraft as they approach and surpass the speed of sound, which varies from about 660 miles an hour at sea level to 760 miles an hour at 30,000 feet.

The robot today was cut loose nearly seven miles above earth—at 37,000 feet—at a point 14 miles West of the Scilly Islands.

DIVES INTO SEA

It was adjusted to dive into the sea after about 20 miles.

One phase of the experiment was to test air resistance at extreme speeds, which causes lack of stability and leads to slack and inefficient control in conventional planes.

The experimental plane was made of polished mahogany. It had a wing span of eight feet and a length of about 12 feet.

The robot was equipped with transmitting apparatus to report technical details of its behavior. Its alcohol-burning motor was an adaptation and improvement of those used in German rocket-propelled fighters during the war.

Scientists conducting the experiment will require about a week's study of the records before precise details can be announced.

USE RADAR

Sir Ben Lockspeiser, Director of Scientific Research for the Ministry, decided to use a pilotless plane because he did not wish to gamble with human life.

Ground observers watched the start of the flight by radar.

Scientists directing the test said different plane models would be used in later experiments.

Saw Man Leaving Home of Slain Winnipeg Woman

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8 (CP) — A neighbor of Elsie Frances Tasker may hold a clue which will lead to identity of the slayer of the Winnipeg divorcee, whose fully-clad body, stabbed eight times, was found in her downtown home last Saturday.

The neighbor told police that while working in his yard last Friday — the day the hazel-haired, thrice-married woman is believed to have been killed — he saw a man suddenly open the front door of the Tasker home, rush to her car, at the same time partly shielding his face with his coat collar, and drive away at a furious rate of speed.

The neighbor said he recognized the clothes the man was wearing, and believed he could identify him. He had seen him visit the Tasker residence before.

This report tended to confirm police suspicions that the slayer had been somebody known to the 38-year-old woman who, according to a sister, had been planning a fourth marriage shortly. Two of her previous marriages had ended in divorce, her other husband dying.

The suggestion that an acquaintance had committed the crime—the first murder in Winnipeg within a year—was further borne out by a friend of Mrs. Trasker, who said:

"Elsie would never let anyone into her home unless she knew them real well."

There were nine members of the show, all cowboys, in the room when the fight started, police said. The man who wielded the knife escaped.

Russ Wait Report Before Stating Own Policy

POLISH POLICY

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 8 (AP)—A leading delegate to the United Nations Assembly said today he was told by a high State Department official that the United States would support the proposal for partition of Palestine "with perhaps a few modifications."

A spokesman for the United States delegation said a rough draft of the American policy declaration on Palestine has been completed, but declined to discuss its contents. The statement will be made here probably tomorrow or Friday.

A source close to the Soviet delegation said the Russians were waiting to hear the United States declaration before making their own policy statement. This source said the Soviet policy was not definitely determined, although Russia was inclined to support creation of a big national federalized state.

The proposal for a federalized state was recommended by the minority report of a special U. N. Committee on Palestine, but has been opposed by both the Arabs and the Jewish Agency for Palestine.

Poland meanwhile delivered her policy statement, urging the U. N. to drop all other proposed solutions and concentrate on plans to partition the Holy Land.

At the same time, Poland demanded action to permit immediate immigration of 250,000 European Jewish refugees into Palestine, despite vigorous Arab protests against further Jewish immigration.

Poland's position was outlined by Joseph Winiewicz before the General Assembly's 57-member Palestine Committee, which already had heard Uruguay and Panama support the partition plan and the Moslem Dominion of Pakistan line up with the Arabs in opposing it.

Nearly 6000 of Europe's homeless are being brought to the Dominion. Two other passenger vessels are expected before the year is out.

Among the Stewart arrivals will be 100 girls specially selected for hospital work in various cities, including Calgary.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 8 (AP) — Danish and Russian representatives embarked today on trade negotiations which a high Danish official predicted would result in the Soviet Union getting a large share of the exports which Denmark previously sent to Britain.

Sees Another Cut In U.K. Imports

Could Lead to Economic Strangulation Says Cripps; Need Dollars Before Long

LONDON, Oct. 8 (Reuters)—Sir Stafford Cripps told a press conference today that "In the absence of some new dollar availability for Europe and ourselves within the quite near future we shall be driven to cut still further our dollar imports."

This would be the beginning of a process which unless rapidly arrest*ed would lead on to a gradual* economic strangulation, Britain's economic chief said.

"We should have no alternative. We have already begun to dip into our reserve of gold and dollars—a reserve which is none too big and which serves the whole sterling area.

"Unless therefore there is some new availability of dollars before long, we shall be obliged to embark upon further cuts. That is the urg*ency of the present situation so far* as we ourselves are concerned."

"Other countries are faced with the same problem and will not be able to feed their people. There is no doubt as to the urgency of the whole problem raised by the Paris report, and this is recognized upon both sides of the Atlantic."

SHOULD NARROW GAP

Sir Stafford said that Britain, by cutting imports and by increasing production efforts to expand imports, should narrow and finally abolish the gap in her over-all balance of payments. This would still leave her saddled with the dollar-deficit problem as dealt with by the Paris report.

"What has happened is that we have been forced to take our own extreme measures to try to mitigate our own very serious difficulties."

Explaining the difference between the Paris figures and the Government's actual plans, he said:

"What I want to point out by this comparison is that though it is within our own power and capability to increase our production sufficiently to balance our imports by exports, we cannot of ourselves solve the bilateral question of the exchange of goods and services between Europe and the Western Hemisphere. It is this latter question which dominates the world's economic difficulties. Until it is solved nothing that we alone can do will enable us to get out of all our difficulties."

Asked whether he considered that Britain might be able to draw on the remaining $400,000,000 of the American loan before the end of the year, Sir Stafford replied: "It would be a useful form of aid."

This "very likely" would enable Britain to get through this year—"But how much further would depend on how much we dipped into our reserves."

He said he does not think it likely that British exports to the United States will ever balance United States exports to Britain.

Edmonton Man, Girl Sentenced on Abduction Charges

EDMONTON, Oct. 8 (CP)—Robert Geary of Edmonton was sentenced to five years in penitentiary and his 21-year-old girl friend, Audrey Brettle, received a two-year term when they pleaded guilty to abduction charges before Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin in Supreme Court here yesterday. The charges involved a 14-year-old girl.

Geary recently received a similar sentence when convicted on a statutory offence charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

The pair were arrested following a three-day motor tour in which the two were accompanied by the com*plainant and another girl her own* age.

Crown Prosecutor Guy Patterson told the Court the Brettle woman had threatened to whip the juvenile involved if she refused to go "for a car ride."

Soon after reaching Calgary, Geary purchased a bus ticket to Edmonton for the girl and allowed her to return.

Claims Holy Land Would Face Loss If Britain Left

JERUSALEM, Oct. 8 (CP).—Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, British High Commissioner for Palestine, declared today that the Holy Land would face a period of "economic loss and chaos and possibly bloodshed" if Britain withdrew her troops.

Nevertheless, he told Press conference, he wished to emphasize "that Britain withdraw from this country in the event no solution is found" by the United Nations.

In Haifa, as Sir Alan spoke, a British army truck hit a protective field mine and blew up with 26 casualties, none of them serious.

APPEALS FOR RACIAL TOLERANCE

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP)—An appeal for racial tolerance was made to the Canadian Congress of Labor convention today by Michael Rubenstein, National Chairman of the Jewish Labor Committee.

Intolerance was "the handmaiden of every reactionary and labor-baiter," he said. It was "the last refuge of the scoundrel."

"Wherever race discrimination is pursued,' he added, "there is always a denial of democratic rights, a denial of the rights of labor, all of which leads to the greatest exploitation of man."

Canada had been spared many of the evils of other countries, but "fomenters of race hatred who brought misery to other countries are also preying on Canadians."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

LOCATION IS DECISIVE

LOCATION of your honor cards —whether to the right or to the left of the main hostile honors—decides to a large extent how potent they are as trick-takers. If you get last whack at the other fellow's forces, your own can be quite powerful. But if he can have the last say in playing on your big cards with his, yours may be reduced to ineptness. That factor of location should always be considered carefully in deciding whether or not to double an opposing contract, but plenty of otherwise fair players seem to pay no attention to it.

North: ♠Q 8 4 ♥A K 7 4 ♦8 5 4 ♣K J 8
West: ♠J 9 6 3 ♥10 6 5 2 ♦7 ♣Q 7 5 2
East: ♠A K 10 5 2 ♥Q 8 3 ♦K J 2 ♣9 3
South: ♠7 ♥J 9 ♦A Q 10 9 6 3 ♣A 10 6 4

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♠	2 ♦	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	5 ♦	Pass	Pass
Dbl

You will seldom see a more unsound double than that, since East could tell from the bidding that South had very few cards in the majors and also held considerable diamonds to the left of the K-J. South could have made his contract against any defense, if he had guessed club and diamond plays just right, though he could have been set if he guessed them wrongly. With the aid of East's double, however, he could hardly fail to make his contract, and a later fortuitous guess in clubs gave him an extra trick.

West took the first trick with the spade J and South ruffed the 9. Declarer led to the heart A and because of the double finessed the diamond 8, then the Q, and cleared out East's K with the A. Knowing East as a wild doubler and also that completely trickless hands are rare, South now decided to count on West for the club Q. He bottled up that card by leading the 10, finessing the J, scoring the K, returning with a heart ruff and laying down the club A.

If East had kept his mouth shut after the opening bid, South should have finessed the Q on the first round of diamonds. Later he might have played East for the club Q. Who knows? If he did both of those things, his contract would have been beaten. Instead he got a swell mess of extra points because of East's largesse.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠A K 10 7 2 ♥A 4 3 2 ♦A K 4 ♣5
West: ♠8 6 5 ♥Q J 9 7 6 5 ♦J 6 ♣K 8
East: ♠3 ♥K 10 ♦Q 8 5 3 2 ♣Q J 9 7 3
South: ♠Q J 9 4 ♥8 ♦10 9 7 ♣A 10 6 4 2

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

What mistake is a careless North in danger of making after East leads the club Q against his 6-Spades.

U. S. Not Best Fed

Far from being the best fed nation in the world—as many Americans believe—the United States ranks far down the line in the nutritional value of food consumption, The American Magazine discloses.

"New Zealand probably is the best fed nation on earth," states Fred Bailey, executive director of National Agricultural Research, Inc., who declares that "we feed our hogs better than our children."

Here, as given by this food authority, are some blunt facts about the situation in this great food-producing nation:

Only one-third of the American population gets all the necessary food elements in its diet.

At least another third of the population actually suffers from hunger, not from lack of volume, but from lack of nutrition.

In per capita consumption of milk and milk products, the U. S. ranks 13th.

In protein consumption, animal and vegetable, America ranks 12th.

In the consumption of meats, her position is sixth.

Here are the nations that lead:

Consumption of milk and milk products—Sweden, Switzerland, Finland, Iceland, Denmark, Austria, New Zealand, Eire, Norway, Canada, Netherlands, the Argentine.

Consumption of meats—Australia, Uruguay, the Argentine, New Zealand, Paraguay.

While "we have always considered Soviet Russia and Manchuria regions of comparative destitution," Bailey points out, they enjoy equal ranking with the U. S. in animal and vegetable protein consumption.

"Low income is one of the principal causes of our national failure to eat as we should," says Bailey, who is a member of a Committee created by Congress to work with the Secretary of Agriculture in promoting research into farm production, marketing, and use of agricultural products. Other causes are laziness and lack of knowledge, improper cooking techniques, wastage, soil impoverishment, etc.

Bailey reports that only one out of three girls in the U. S. receives even elementary training in home economics. Moreover, the American girl is inclined to adopt the cooking habits of her mother, as her mother did before her, and, he states, "through these inherited cooking habits, ignorance is perpetuated."

Citing the $12,000,000 spent last year by the Department of Agriculture and land-grant colleges on research in animal diseases, production and nutrition as compared to only $2,500,000 expended on human nutrition and home economics problems, Bailey declares:

"This picture must be changed if our children are to be fed as well as our hogs.

"If the nation's diet is to be improved generally, millions must be spent for mass education and other millions for fertilization of our soils.

"Perhaps the greatest need is for the establishment of a U. S. Department of Public Health and Nutrition at Cabinet level. The creation of a Government department would focus all activities upon a single objective, hasten its fulfillment, and save millions of dollars, perhaps, by preventing duplicated effort."

Awaiting Congressional action is the Taft-Fulbright Bill, which would create a U. S. Department of Health, Education and Security to be represented in the Cabinet, and, says Bailey, "Its passage may contribute to the improvement of the nation's most important crop—its children."

No Mystery

A Hollywood correspondent reports that motion picture executives, in search of intelligent criticism of their films, are scouring Hollywood hotels in search of out-of-town visitors to attend secret previews of new productions. The executives explain that the "foreign" witnesses give a more reliable cross-section of probable public reaction.

This, of course, should be no mystery to anyone outside the talkie capital. It is notorious that Hollywoodites are already thoroughly conditioned to life as it is lived on celluloid, and therefore see little or nothing remarkable in a film which assumes that a cross-section of existence in Hollywood is identical with a cross-section of life in general.

All outside observers do is remind the film big-wigs that a film of people acting as people usually act in a film is somewhat different from a film showing how people act in New York, Vancouver, or Podunk Corners.

REVERSING THE PROVERBS

I was engaged in the (for me) very odd occupation of sewing a rip in the seat of my old work pants, when the Old-Timer lowered himself beside me on the porch. Moppet was busy getting the kids to bed when I took a sudden yen to take a couple of stitches in a tear that had been in existence in my back porch pants for months.

I wasn't making much of a fist of it, as the Old-Timer noticed.

"Never been a Boy Scout" he sniffed.

"Twenty-five years of it," I retorted, "but I could never get the hang of sewing on a button. Never liked sewing, that's why—now, you take knot-tying. . . . ."

"You mean you cant' sew just because you don't like it?"

"That's right. People always do the thing they like to do best. Now you take knot tying. . . ."

"You're screwy."

"What!"

"I said you're screwy. People don't do things well because they like doing them. They like doing things they do well."

"That's what I said."

"No it isn't. Think it over. . . ."

"Well . . . sure, I guess it works both ways. People do like to do something they can do well. Now you take knot-tying. . . ."

"Did you like to tie knots before you learned how?"

"Why sure, I guess that's why I got so good at it."

The Old-Timer sucked on his pipe as the flame of a match bent down into the bowl of his pipe.

"Don't believe it."

"What do you mean, you don't believe it?"

"I think you learned to tie knots good because you had a good teacher, and you didn't learn to sew a button because you had a bum teacher. Makes more sense than al lthis tomi-diddle about liking and not liking."

"You mean to say that natural inclination has nothing to do with learning?"

"Mighty little. Do you like playing the fiddle?"

"Sure."

"And do you remember the heck of a time your Ma had to keep you practicin' at the fiddle."

There was a kind of long, uneasy silence.

"But if I had liked playing the fiddle I might have been a virtuoso or something." (It was a weak effort to keep my end up).

"Sure, son, sure. But just remember—and don't let your kids forget it—many a man has made a fairly passable job of a thing he hated doing. Don't let's get the idea that things people don't like to do is bad for them anyhow. That's a mighty poor philosophy for any family or any country, son."

And, with that, the Old-Timer heaved himself up and shambled off next door to Pete's for the mid-week game of pinochle.

Today's Horoscope

You have a clear and logical mind, good judgment and confidence in your ability. You love children, like fun and amusement, provided it does not interfere with your business. You are just and loving in your home, and you will find real happiness in your married life. Your day is good where public dealings and marital affairs are concerned. Secret information or exchange of confidences are also favored. You will make a beneficial contact. An eventful, prosperous and happy year is foreseen for you, despite sharp annoyance through misrepresentation or a sudden, unwise change. Valuable secret help will be forthcoming, however. Today's child will be endowed with many admirable qualities, enjoying more than average success and popularity, but be very nervy and high-strung.

ON THE SIDE

By E. V. DURLING

They sin who tell us Love can die.
With life all other passions fly,
All others are but vanity . . .
But Love is indestructible.
Its holy flame forever burneth,
From Heaven it came, to Heaven returneth . . .
It soweth here with toil and care,
But the harvest time of Love is there.
—Southey, The Curse of Kehama.

It would seem improbable that a bearded lady would have much of a love life. However, Jane Barnell, one of the most celebrated of the sideshow bearded ladies of the 20th century, had four husbands. Her fourth was a handsome fellow, who was 19 years younger than his bride.

TRICKY BET

Were you ever on the wrong end of one of those tricky election bets? I was. When a kid I had to push a peanut with my nose for one block. A tough proposition. If you don't think so, just try pushing a peanut a few yards with your proboscis. Then consider what it meant to do that for a city block. I haven't bet on an election since.

SAYS HE

"So a Brooklyn mother has great difficulty in making her young children drink their milk, and the daily battle to make the kiddies do so is her greatest household headache," writes a New Yorker. "The human animal is the only animal to continue the milk habit after infancy. After all, cow's milk is a food intended for the infant bovine whose rate of growth is not at all commensurate with the human infant or adolescent. I agree with the children. In fighting against consuming too much milk they are probably guided by instinct. In any avent I believe their idea is the right one."

VERSATILE FELLOW

Jack Johnson, the heavyweight boxer, was an extremely versatile fellow. When in exile in Europe he engaged in a wide variety of activities in order to acquire means of support. Carl Brisson tells me that in Spain he saw Johnson, attired in the traditional costume, perform as a bullfighter. Johnson had never been in a bull ring before in his life, but the skill with which he performed astounded the Spaniards in attendance. After dodging and sidestepping the infuriated bull in the manner of an experienced toreador, Johnson skillfully killed the animal amid the cheers of the amazed spectators.

PENTHOUSE LIQUOR CASE DISMISSED

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8 (CP)—Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson dismissed charges against Joe Philiponi who had been accused of keeping liquor for sale in a downtown Seymour Street "penthouse."

Evidence in the case was also accepted in the cases against Thomas Doucet and Ross Philiponi, charged with selling liquor, and the dismissal was applied to all three.

Defence counsel attacked the testimony of constable George Whitby, who had testified he bought liquor at the "penthouse." The police operative was accused of committing perjury and putting "himself in that position for promotion."

American Ball Too Much for Britons--Locke

LONDON, Oct. 8 (AP) — Bobby Locke, South African golf champion predicted today that British Ryder Cup players will not accomplish as a team what he recently did as an individual — defeat United States professionals.

Locke, who walked off with $24,327 in prize money from tournaments in the United States and Canada this year, said he thought the larger American ball would be the Britons' downfall in the Ryder Cup matches at Portland, Ore., Nov. 1-2.

"It took me over a month to become accustomed to the flight of the big ball used in the States," Locke commented today on his arrival by plane from New York. "I don't think the British players will have sufficient time to get used to it."

In addition, Locke said, the British team will be facing some of the finest golfers in the game "like Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, Sam Snead, Porkie Oliver and Byron Nelson."

The 29-year-old South African, who prefaced his 1947 North American tour with an equally successful invasion of Britain in 1946, is a popular golfer here and his comments are taken seriously.

But they clash somewhat with other opinions. Golfing circles believe the British team which leaves for the United States Oct. 18 will give a good account of itself at Portland.

Henry Cotton, the team captain, has his players practising with the larger American ball.

"Our team will have an opportunity to play with the larger ball in the match against the Oxford and Cambridge Golfing Society, Oct. 16," Cotton wrote Sunday in the Sunday newspaper, News of the World.

Plenty of Hands To Back Wings' Strategy

DETROIT, Oct. 8 (CP)—Barring injuries and the like, manpower will be no problem for Detroit Red Wings this season. When they open against Chicago Black Hawks they'll have 18 men on the roster.

It falls in line with club strategy of using five defencemen and 10 forwards against strictly offensive teams like Toronto and Montreal, and dressing four rearguards and 11 attackers against defensive squads like Boston.

Red Kelly, who made the jump from junior to N.H.L. hockey in one year, will be carried as the extra defenceman with Jack Stewart, Bill Quackenbush, Doug McCaig and Leo Reise at present forming the two lines.

Up front the forward combinations look like they'll shape up this way:

Sid Abel, Ted Lindsay and Pete Horeck; Max McNab, Gerry Couture and Roy Conacher, Gord Howe, Billy Taylor and Jim Conacher.

That leaves Jim McFadden as an extra forward with a lefthand shot, and Ed Bruneteau and Pat Lundy shooting from the right side.

Tommy Ivan, newcomer Red Wings coach, is about satisfied with the team's condition. They're about the right stage for opening the season in contrast with last season when they were too fine.

Ward Holds Off Leonard

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 8 (AP)—Spokane's Marvin Mard, the Walker Cup amateur ace, successfully defended his Pacific Northwest Open Golf Championship today as he finished the 72-hole medal play with an eight under par 280 over the rain drenched Alderwood Club course.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., pro, who moved up on the champion at the 63rd hole to tie, came in second one stroke behind the winner with 281.

Ward and Leonard were separated by two strokes at the end of the second round Tuesday and again at the halfway mark of today's rugged 36-hole play.

Like Leafs Against All-Stars

By The Canadian Press

The All-Star aggregation that will represent the other five National Hockey League teams against Toronto Maple Leafs next Monday may be the greatest ever assembled — on paper, the bossmen around the circuit agreed today. But nobody needs to feel sorry for Conn Smythe and his Leafs.

In fact, the concensus of managers was that "team play will triumph" in the League's first annual All-Star tilt in Toronto Thanksgiving night. And by "team play" they meant the Maple Leafs.

That left Boston Bruins' Art Ross in his accustomed role of individualist. The outspoken Ross started it all from Hershey, Pa., Tuesday night by calling the All-Stars "the greatest team ever assembled" — a team that could go through the whole N.H.L. schedule unbeaten—and offering his condolences to Smythe for the whipping the Stanley Cup champions were about to take.

ON PAPER ONLY

To the part about them being "the greatest," both Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings and Frankie Boucher of New York Rangers ascribed. But both added the qualification that it was on paper only.

"Most All-Star teams of the past found it quite difficult to get going as a team in only one game," observed Boucher in Ottawa last night. If an All-Star team played several games together, "I have not the slightest doubt they could beat all comers easily.

"But since this is not so, I shouldn't be surprised if Toronto defeated the All-Star aggregation."

Adams suggested in Detroit that Ross was alternately (a) talking through his hat (b) with his tongue in his cheek, or (c) "giving Conny Smythe the rib."

"Sure that All-Star team packs a lot of power, but for my money I'll still take Toronto."

Market Trends

MONTREAL, (CP) — Industrials were evenly distributed. Mines displayed easier tendencies.

LONDON, (Reuters)—The Stock Market was quiet.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Grains advanced despite smaller government cash wheat purchases and receipt of good rains in a wide part of the Winter wheat territory.

Weds Wealthy Prince

Beautiful daughter of a poor London wagon driver, Katherine Scott's dreams have come true, and soon she will live in a magnificent Oriental palace in India. Katherine, a 16-year-old honey blonde, is now the wife of Prince Major Abbasi, 23-year-old son of the immensely wealthy Nawab of Bahawalpur. Their romance started when the Prince saw her picture in a charm school advertisement. Katherine's father, who earns $24 a week, said he was unable to attend his daughter's wedding because he couldn't afford to lose a day's pay.

In Battle of Hemline

When the British phase of the battle of the hemline comes to be written, "Kilroy Was Here" may be as prominent as it was in the grimmer battles of World War II. She is Miss Alex Kilroy, above, clothing coupon expert and Undersecretary of the Board of Trade, who carries a lot of weight in Britain's clothing ration situation. In private life she is Lady Meynell, wife of Sir Francis Meynell, poet and publisher. Latest British fashions feature the "new look", but with an average of four clothing coupons a month to spend on their clothes, British women have not much chance to be a la mode. A suit costs 18 coupons.
