U.S. Clamors for Price Curbs Return; Rents Skyrocket

By WILLIAM R. SPEAR

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP) — The House of Representatives voted today to act immediately on a 20-day revival of the Office of Price Administration law pending further Congressional action, but administration strategy in the Senate took a different tack.

Democratic leader Alben Barkley planned to set the Senate to work immediately on a longer-range extension without pausing to vote on the House, stop-gap. This meant the temoprary bill would get no further.

WOULD RESTORE RENT CONTROL

Still a third course of dealing with the problem was mapped by House Republicans. They drafted a bill which would restore rent controls, but nothing else.

The preliminary vote in the House came late in the day on a "rule" providing for immediate consideration of the 20-day extension bill. The rule was adopted on a voice vote, and the chamber then proceeded to debate the measure itself.

As the Congressmen moved to tackle the problem posed by President Truman's veto of the original extension bill Saturday and the consequent death of legal price control Sunday midnight, they were bombarded by thousands of telegrams and letters from the public on both sides of the issue.

House leaders said that branch was set to pass the 20-day extension speedily but when it reaches the Senate, the plan of Senator Barkley is to transform it into a one-year measure. The Kentucky Democrat said he believes the long range bill, in some form, can be put through in about the same time the 20-day extension would take, and this would avoid the necessity of the Senate's taking "two bites" at it.

RENTS SOAR; OTHER PRICES HOLD

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—United States retailers—despite lifting of Government controls — generally held prices at office of price administration levels today in the face of near record-high quotations in cattle and hog markets, grain, cotton and wool.

Industrial stocks on the New York exchange rose sharply in the morning but extreme advances were reduced ultimately and a number of losers appeared at the close.

Rents advanced 15 to 33 1-3 per cent in many places and soared out of sight in a few in the first 24 hours of freedom from four-year-old Federal ceilings.

A rising clamor for emergency State Legislation was heard in some sectors, especially where the rents shot up sharply.

Fresh fruits and vegetables, some of them early and out-of-season, registered slight gains at scattered points.

Restaurant prices were mostly steady.

Reports of rent increases ranging from 15 per cent to 300 per cent—the latter case in Florida resort areas—were widespread.

In Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Ohio State officials heard demands for State Legislation to curb the rising trend.

EMERGENCY ACTIONS

New York already had its own rent control program as well as the District of Columbia. In Massachusetts O.P.A. rent ceilings were held through an emergency order from Governor Maurice Tobin, and Acting Governor Hayon Proctor issued a similar order in New Jersey.

Leading department stores throughout the country adhered to O.P.A. ceilings, announcing they would continue to do so until Congress had time to act.

Reports of reduced prices and rents were not at all rare A Milwaukee, Wis., men's store cut prices five per cent. So did a New York delicatessen.

The price of oranges declined from $6 a crate to $4 in Baltimore.

One report of decreased wages due to the passing of the O.P.A. came from Portland, Me., where A.F.L. carpenters boosted their hourly rate from $1.16 to $1.37½ cents.

Walter P. Reuther, President of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) summoned his Policy Committee to plan a buyers' strike until price controls are restored and advised tenants to resist any attempts to raise rents.

Trieste Mobs Stone Troops

JEWS THREATEN DISOBEDIENCE; 2000 ARRESTED

4 Killed as British Move to Restore Order; Tension High

WANT HEADS FREE

JERUSALEM, July 1 (CP) — The British Army announced tonight that a cache of munitions so large that "it is not yet possible to count, even estimate, the amount of ammunition and arms it contains" was discovered today in an underground chamber at Mashez Yagur, a Jewish settlement near Haifa.

JERUSALEM, July 1 (CP) — Tension grew in the Holy Land tonight as Zionist leaders — Conservative and radical — urged Jews to remain calm in the face of mass British arrests until a course of action is plotted by Jewish officials.

Although there was an uneasy quiet throughout Palestine, the Jewish National Council issued a statement threatening civil disobedience throughout the country unless the "general onslaught against the institutions of the Zionist movement" by British authorities is stopped and Jewish leaders now held by the British Government are released.

At the same time it was learned that another "very large" underground ammunition dump was discovered by British troops searching Mesheq Yagur, Jewish settlement near Haifa.

"Voice of Israel," secret radio station of the Jewish Resistance movement, broke through the Government transmitter which has been jamming cladestine broadcasts for several days to say: "We will fight the British Nazis."

FOUR DEATHS

Speakers at an extraordinary meeting in Jerusalem of Vaad Leumi, called to protest against British detention of 2000 persons in sweeping security operations which resulted in four deaths during the weekend, cautioned Jews to remain "undespairing and united."

PLAN PROTEST FASTS

ROME, July 1 (AP) — Jews throughout Italy will fast from dawn to sunset Tuesday in protest against British meausres in Palestine, representatives of Jewish organizations said today.

CONDEMN POLICY

TORONTO, July 1 (CP) — The United Zionist Council of Canada, representing all Zionist parties in the Dominion, today issued a statement condemning British Government policy in Palestine "in illegally arresting members of the Jewish agency executive, the shooting of unarmed Jews, arbitrary mass arrests, forcing Sabbath travel on orthodox rabbis, the employment of hounds to apprehend peaceful citizens and the looting by British troops of Jewish relief funds and property."

SEEKING PACT

LONDON, July 1 (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee, answering charges by two Parliamentarians that British weekend raids and arrests in Palestine constituted a policy of war, declared tonight he was seeking an agreement with United States on a policy to bring peace to the Holy Land.

Great Britain, Mr. Attlee said, would reject any peace plan unacceptable to all parties concerned and which would require arms to enforce it. He added that Great Britain hoped to settle the Palestine question in accordance with the recommendations of the Anglo-American Inquiry Committee.

The Committee has recommended that 100,000 European Jews be allowed to enter Palestine this year and has suggested placing Palestine under a United Nations trusteeship.

In a sharp debate in the Commons, Mr. Attlee charged the Jewish agency, a chief British target in the weekend operations in the Holy Land, had a "close link" with Haganah, illegal Jewish resistance organization.

The House adjourned without voting on the Palestine question.

"The Jewish agency," Mr. Attlee asserted, "cannot be a cover for an illegal army. There is evidence that Haganah works under the general direction of some members of the Jewish Agency. I do not say all of them."

Moreover, Mr. Attlee said, "we also have evidence of a very close link between Haganah and Irgun Zvai Leumi," another underground organization with a greater record of violence.

Cheers greeted his assertion that "the Government will not tolerate any attempt by any party to influence a decision on the Palestine question by force."

"DRIFTING INTO WAR"

R. H. S. Crossman, a member of the Anglo-American Committee and Labor Member of Parliament for Coventry East, referring to the militar yaction, said "in this action of the Government, we are drifting into war. We are drifting first into war with the Jews, and after that into war with the Arabs."

S. S. Silverman, Labor, termed the British military operation a "plain, naked war upon the Jewish national home," and called upon the Government to announce "in plain, clear terms" acceptance of the British-American recommendations."

British, U.S. Replies Today on Control Plan; Russia Accepts

RIOTS CONTINUE

TRIESTE, July 1 (AP)—British and United States troops were stoned tonight when they broke up an attack by an angry mob on the Communist party headquarters, as a series of new riots broke out in this strike-paralyzed city claimed by both Italy and Yugoslavia.

At least eight civilians—seven men and a woman—were wounded during the day, bringing the toll of two days of armed conflict to one person killed and approximately 38 injured. There was no indication the violence was subsiding.

British tommies and American troops were called into action to help Venezia-Giulia police.

The Americans, helmeted and carrying rifles and carbines, fired several volleys into the air before the mob in front of Communist headquarters dispersed.

One civilian was shot when he stoned an American jeep loaded with military police. His comrades carried him away.

Others in the crowd threw bottles and rocks.

REINFORCE POLICE

One hundred additional British troops, arriving tonight, were ordered to "act as police unless it gets too difficult. Then you will act as soldiers."

The riots, which began as clashes between Italian and Yugoslav sympathizers, seemed to have developed into hostilities between Rightists and Leftists.

Despite intervention by the British and American troops, crowds remained on the streets near the Communist building. Women and children within that structure armed themselves with sticks, bottles and stones against a possible resumption of the attack.

NEAR SOLUTION?

PARIS, July 1 (AP) — The four-power Foreign Ministers Council tonight approved a French-proposed boundary between Italy and Yugoslavia and appeared to be within striking distance of a solution to a companion problem—the disposition of riot-torn Trieste.

Russia accepted a plan to place Trieste under international control. Britain and the United States asked for further time to study this proposal on the Adriatic city, but promised to give their answers tomorrow.

Britain and American acceptance *of the Trieste compromise, also of*fered by the French, would remove the last road-block to writing peace treaties for Italy and the Balkans and would pave the way for a European Peace Conference.

A British source said the Foreign Ministers had made "dramatic progress."

In accepting the Trieste proposal, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of the U.S.S.R. suggested that internationalization of the city be considered as a permanent solution instead of a 10-year stop-gap. It was learned privately the British delegation also favors permanent internationalization. Both Italy and Yugoslavia have demanded sovereignty over Trieste.

AT LEAST 55 LOSE LIVES DURING HOLIDAY

Hunt on for Slayer; 8 Die, 25 Hurt in Bus-Auto Collision

29 DROWNINGS

By The Canadian Press

A total of 55 persons across Canada lost their lives in mishaps during the Dominion Day holiday weekend, a check by The Canadian Press showed Monday night. The total — still incomplete — was already one higher than last year's July 1 holiday when 54 died.

This year's holiday toll included 29 drownings, 13 killed by cars or trucks, four dead in fires and nine deaths from various other causes.

CRASH TAKES 8 LIVES

MONTREAL, July 1 (CP)—Eight persons are reported dead and 25 injured in a highway collision between a Provincial Transport Company bus and an automobile today at Woodlands, Que., 17 miles Southwest of here, Quebec Provincial Police said tonight, adding the report was not official.

SEEK MURDERER

FORT WILLIAM, July 1 (CP) — Police tonight pushed their investigations into the mysterious slaying of Susie Thoms, 60-year-old Fort William spinster, whose body was found Saturday night on her bloodsplashed bed in her Myles Street rooming house.

Her head was crushed in but police found no weapon which might have been used. She apparently had been reading a newspaper in bed. Her broken glasses were found beside her and a bed lamp was still lighted.

Police said there was no doubt that it was murder.

TRAMPLED TO DEATH

ESTEVAN, Sask., July 1 (CP)—A. L. Robinson, 63, was trampled to death by two horses in his barn here Saturday. It is believed that Mr. Robinson fainted and fell at the horses feet as he was about to unharness them.

Charges Opposition To Grain Pact

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., July 1 (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, National C.C.F. leader said Saturday that "speculative interests" in Great Britain and United States and members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange "used every means" to prevent signing of a long-term grain agreement at a stabilized price between Canada and Great Britain.

Addressing a nominating convention which chose Sidney Coulthard, 43-year-old apiarist-farmer a CCF candidate in a Federal by-election necessitated by the death of Harry Leader, Liberal member, Mr. Coldwell said Britain, however, was determined to enter into an agreement.

Atom Bomb Spreads Havoc Over Entire Fleet; 5 Ships Sink

Explosion-Wracked Carrier Likely Doomed; Ships Fired 2 Miles From Target Centre; Some Little Touched

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD THE U.S.S. APPALACHIAN OFF BIKINI, July 2 (Tuesday) (AP)—The atomic bomb—its wrath pitted against a naval fleet for the first time—sank five of Bikini's target arra yof 73 ships, wrecked six, damaged 25 and possibly damaged every other of the remaining vessels, official and unofficial surveys showed today.

Latest vessel to succumb to the smashing power of the bomb was the Japanese cruiser Sakawa, which sank quietly at its mooring this morning. It was under completely within 10 minutes after the stern started down.

However, not a capital ship was sunk by Monday's atomic blast — man's fourth such experiment — and goats chewed calmly on hay at the rim of the target fleet as the first observer craft poked into the lagoon three hours later.

But the havoc wrought by the terrifying power of the bomb was evident at every hand. Fires raged aboard at least eight of the vessels, including one ship two miles from the target centre.

One capital ship, the battle-scarred light cruiser Independence, was wrapped in smoke and convulsed by internal explosions of ammunition and gasoline, touched off six hours after the bomb let go in a blinding flash of light that outshone the sun.

Vice Admiral William H. P.* Blandy, Task Force Commander, assessing the violence of the bomb, told a press conference that despite the damage there was no reason to conclude the day of the carrier and the destroyer was done.

"We had carriers and destroyers sunk in the war with Japan," he said, "but we didn't stop building them. We continued to build them because we needed them and that's what we will do in the future."

Admiral Blandy declared that while the fire-swept Independence was "not a carrier any more" with its flight deck destroyed and its bridge structure over the side, he said he had seen ships that were damaged worse by raiders of the Kamikaze—the Japanese suicide pilots.

He predicted it would require months to assess the full facts of the test.

Radioactivity prevented inspection crews from boarding ships in the centre of the target. Admiral Blandy said a cursory inspection had been made of less than a dozen ships on the fringe of the fleet

While many a watcher styled the test a disappointing spectacle, the fact remained that the bomb took a heavy toll and no one could say how many men might have died from heat and deadly rays even had they been aboard ships that got off with relatively light damage.

FIGHT FLAMES

Fire boats fought to save some of the flaming ships and the valuable recording instruments, army equipment put aboard to see how it would stand up, and animals left behind to test the effects of heat, blast and lethal rays on living organisms.

It seemed unlikely the fire *fighters could save the Independ*ence, for death shudders ran through her as ammunition in the hold blew up. The hangar deck was in flames.

From the U.S.S. Panamint, carry*ing the world's scientific observers*, anchored inside Bikini Lagoon, Associated Press Correspondent Paul K. Lee messaged a binocular inspection indicated it was unlikely a single vessel escaped the bomb's fury.

Lee said some of the more fortunate ships got off with bent masts or light damage above decks.

From the U.S.S. Mount McKinley, flagship of Admiral Blandy, Associated Press Correspondent Elton C. Fay said the official tally by Monday night stood at three *ships sunk, one missing and pre*sumed sunk, seven heavily damaged, and 25 slightly damaged.

This was the lineup:

Sunk—The Destroyer Lamson and the attack transports Carlisle and Gilliam, all within a mile of the centre of the tarket.

Missing and presumed sunk — the Destroyer Anderson, seen earlier to be badly damaged and in a sinking condition.

Badly damaged — The old carrier Independence, near where the bomb exploded; the battle ship Arkansas, its superstructure wrecked; the Japanese battleship Nagato; the Japanese cruiser Sakawa, its topside demolished and its side ripped open at the waterline; the U.S. heavy cruiser Pensacola; the submarine Skate near the target centre with all its structure above board ship.

blown away; and a tank landing

PLANE CRASHES

Fires licked at all these damaged ships, Fay reported, with the exception of the submarine Skate.

Admiral Blandy sent out a "well done" to all hands of the task force.

Only one of the unmanned drone planes sent out to sample the atomic cloud crashed into the sea. The others got back with their data.

Scientific observers said the bomb was about as efficient as the one loosed on Nagasaki, which far exceeded the power of the one dropped on Hiroshima.

Princesses Attend First Public Movie Theatre Performance

EDINBURGH, July 1 (CP cable)—A feminine voice telephoned the manager of the new Victoria Theatre Saturday and asked if any seats were available. The manager said: "Yes, drop in."

A little later Princess Elizabeth, who made the telephone call, and Princess Margaret Rose attended their first public movie theatre performance. They saw the film "Scarlet Street."

Most of the audience left without knowing the Princesses were there.

Good Wishes Flood Canada on 79th Birthday

By The Canadian Press

Canada celebrated her 79th birthday Monday with congratulations and good wishes flooding in from her good neighbors, from her sister Dominions and the United Kingdom and from her wartime allies.

This year's Dominion Day was the first peacetime one for seven years and more than ever before, foreign countries paid tribute to the growing stature of the country which was founded July 1, 1867.

United States greetings were expressed by President Truman in a message to Prime Minister Mackenzie King which spoke of the warm relations between the two countries in war and in peace.

"In this first year since victory Canada and the United States have stod together in pursuit of common ideals and the development of a just and peaceful world," Mr. Truman said. "The warmth of our friendship and our cooperation have carried out through many difficult times . . ."

HEAT WAVE ENDS

Sudden storms broke a heat wave in parts of Quebec and Ontario yesterday, but failed to mar Dominion Day celebrations in which thousands of Canadians participated.

From the Maritimes to the Pacific citizens in thousands flocked to sports events, picnics or Summer resorts for the great Summer holiday. A tragic note always accompanying the country's great Summer holiday was a death toll of around three-score in a variety of mishaps, the majority drownings.

TRAVEL HEAVY

Highways and railways were crowded to capacity and air travel was at a new peak over the holiday. Lake cruises were jammed. Typical of the rush from the cities for even those of small means was the exodus from Toronto to the islands across Toronto Harbor, which can be reached for the price of a carticket. Up to 5 p.m. yesterday the Toronto ferries had carried 15,486 persons across the bay.

250,000 WATCH PARADE

VANCOUVER, July 1 (CP) — Favored by bright sunny weather after a week of almost continuous rain, thousands of Vancouver citizens today celebrated the opening of the city's Diamond Jubilee with its biggest civilian parade since 1936.

A crowd estimated at 250,000 packed the downtown area to watch the parade which marched through streets bedecked with flags, bunting and totem poles. The five-mile parade consisted of 24 bands, including the famous 120-piece Boys' Band from Edmonton, and 198 floats depicting the city's 60-year-old history.

Krestova Houses, Brilliant Hall Fired, Pipeline Believed Damaged

Sons of Freedom Saturday burned down the Brilliant Community Hall, valued at an estimated $15,000. Although police arrived immediately after the building had been set afire, they were unable to take any preventative action, as a reported 300 Doukhobors were milling around the flaming structure.

At Krestova, a Sons of Freedom village, several houses were fired. It is understood that the Pass Creek pipeline was also damaged, and that water has covered several acres of farm land.

Police are investigating.

1000-Ton Mill for Reeves-MacDonald; Plan 1,000,000 Ton-a-Year Output

VANCOUVER, July 1 (CP)—A 1000-ton daily mining and milling plant will be constructed on the Reeves-MacDonald Mines Limited, British Columbia zinc-lead-silver property ond Pend Oreille River, 20 miles South of Salmo, near the United States Boundary.

Announcement of the new plant was made here by Lewis P. Larson, Company President.

He added the Pend Oreille plant will be increased from 1000 to 2000 tons daily as soon as men and material permit, giving the two properties a combined output of about 1,000,000 tons a year.

Cowboys, Indians Roam Kimberley Streets in West-Style Celebration

KIMBERLEY, B. C., July 1—Kimberley's faithful friends for many years, Old Sol the weatherman, this year is acting coy. With flashes of sunshine and downpours of rain, like a sweetheart with a daisy chain he loves me not. But nothing daunted July 1 is being celebrated with the usual gusto. Today, the day broke clear and fine for this morning's big parade.

Over the weekend cowboys and Indians roamed the streets giving the atmosphere of a typical Western movie.

The Saturday afternoon rodeo sponsored by the Kimberley Rodeo Club followed by a repeat performance Saturday night marked the beginning of the celebration. An audience of ecstatic youngsters and astounded adults watched one of the highlights of the rodeo—the beautiful horse "Paloma" at the bidding of his master, Glen Betts of Tacoma, Wash., place a "baby" in a cradle and rock it to sleep, bring napkins and a bottle, open a gate and march like a soldier. These were but a few of his tricks.

At 9 p.m., Miss Florence Campbell was crowned Queen of the 1946 Rodeo. Her attendants were her contestants, Tina Petrotti, Dot Park, Jenny Heitman. The preliminaries of the rodeo were keenly contested as the audiences were treated to displays of calf roping, steer riding and bucking the bronco. The winners of these events will be decided Monday night.

The animals seemed to have plenty of pep and vim. One of the riders was carried away on a stretcher after a struggle with a horse in the box. During the evening riders received some real spills. The wild West atmosphere was carried out as a quartet of cowboys entertained with ballads of the range.

The Canadian Legion Pipe Band drew a big hand for its part in the day's affairs. Several dances were held in the evening and were attended by large crowds.

The mile-long parade this morning was headed by the Pipe Band followed by Glen Betts, the Boy Scouts carrying the colors, the queen and her attendants. Beautiful floats and decorated cars were entered by Fernie Rodeo, Rotary, Moose, I.M.M.S.W. Local 651, Elks, Technocracy, Victory Rebekah Lodge, Chapman Camp Boys Town, *Knights of Columbus, Canadian Le*gion, City of Kimberley, Kimberley Community Chest and several business places. Decorated bicycles, pet parade, children in costume, Cranbrook Girls Band, Kimberley Brass Band, cowboys and Indians were other features.

"I dreamed you hired a blonde with a News Want Ad—who is she?"

Minister Under Fire

LONDON, July 1 (Reuters) — Sharp criticism of the Education Ministry was voiced in the Commons today by W. G. Cove, former President of the National Union of Teachers and Labor Member for Aberavon, as he moved what amounted to a vote of no confidence in Education Minister Ellen Wilkinson.

Declaring that Miss Wilkinson gave the impression she was not at grips with her department, Mr. Cove moved her salary be reduced by £100 ($445) a year—the customary means of expressing criticism of a minister.

Curlers Take Over City as Second Midsummer Bonspiel Opens; Hundreds Take to Ice, See Sports

Second Annual Canadian Midsummer Bonspiel was away to an enthusiastic start Monday as curlers from many parts of Canada poured into Nelson and proceeded to take over the City.

All weekend they streamed in by train and by car, until 250 strong they were ready for the busy week of curling and fun ahead. Most brought their families with them. Many did not arrive until the small hours of Monday morning. Unable to accommodate the sudden flood of cars, the Kootenay Lake ferry Nasookin carried on through the night, depositing the last load at Fraser's Landing at 4 a.m.

The curlers were officially welcomed to the City at the Civic Theatre following the Kinsmen celebration parade in which the curlers marched.

Mayor N. C. Stibbs reminded the curlers in a welcoming speech that the 79th anniversary of Confederation was not just a holiday. It was the first peacetime Dominion Day. He recalled the great leaders who were successful in forming the Confederation, and said he hoped that present day leaders would continue to keep a united Canada.

Introduced to the gathering were Roy Sharp, Civic Centre Commission Chairman; J. P. Armstrong, President of the Dominion Curling Association and life member of the Regina Curling Club, Art Ronmark, President of the Nelson Club, W. G. Harold, Chairman of the Nelson Club's Finance Committee; Bill Good of the Winnipeg Tribune and C.B.C. sports commentator; Pat Aitken, B.C.A.H.A. Secretary-Treasurer; Fred S. Peters of Rossland, only surviving member of the old Kootenay Curling Association formed in February 1898; Pete Gilbert, skip of the Chatham, Ont., rink; Dave Laughton, Nelson Curling Club's oldest member; J. K. Wilson, Historian of the Saskatchewan Curling Association and life member of the Regina Club; J. B. Gray of Nelson, President of the B.C. Curling Association; Ed Kelter, Secretary-Manager of the Civic Centre; Mayor Frank McCallum of Oshawa who is skipping a rink; Mayor MacDonald of St. Catharines, Ont., who visited the City en route home from Vancouver, and H. Farenholtz of the Civic Centre Commission.

HERE 50 YEARS AGO

The St. Catharines Mayor expressed great interst in the Centre and told Mayor Stibbs he had been trying to have such a building established in his city. He also said that 50 years ago he came to Nelson with the late John Stobo, former master, shipbuilder here, and recalled how after two days without a meal they got a wood-cutting job and with their 25 cents in wages enjoyed a meal consisting of two loaves of bread. Mayor MacDonald had since become a doctor and has been practicing for 35 years.

While curling began at 7 a.m. and continued until 1 a.m. Tuesday, first "official" rock was thrown in the afternoon by Mr. Peters while Mayors Stibbs and McCallum shook hands. A moving picture of the scene was taken by Clifford Bourne of Vancouver Motion Pictures. Mr Laughton, who threw the "first" rock last year, also stood by.

It was noteworthy that three life members of curling clubs were present for the 'Spiel, including A. C. Ashley of Banff, who has been curling at Banff since 1907. The others were Mr. Armstrong and Mrs. Wilson, both of Regina, who were introduced at the Theatre. Mr. Ashley has played in Coast bonspiels three times, and in 'spiels in many parts of Canada, and in 1936 curled at Calgary against the curlers from Scotland

Many curlers had stories to tell of notable trips to Nelson, but perhaps the best was that of E. Bennett of Vancouver, St. Helen's Hotel proprietor. He had serious car trouble near Ritzville, Wash., about 70 miles West of Vancouver. The Dessert Hotel owner, Mr. Davis, came to the rescue and drove Mr. Bennett's party the rest of the way to Nelson.

Bonspiel officials had praise for the way in which arrangements were made to bring the visitors across Kootenay Lake. Three additional trips were made. At the time the last regular run in the afternoon was made, 82 cars were still lined up at Gray Creek.

An extra ferry was run Saturday and it was thought another might have to be run Monday.

Many of the curlers were here last year. Among Alberta skips who returned were W. C. Allan and R. G. Habkirk of Olds, S. Ashley of Banff, W. L. Evans, Blairmore, W. L. Hope, Lethbridge, W. Kerr, Bellevue, I. L. Klein, Didsbury, R. W. Patriquin, Vulcan, and B. F. Robertson, Edmonton.

Saskatchewan skips returning included J. E. Franklin, Rosetown, D. Gill, Leader and F. Wille, Regina. J. P. Adams of Vancouver and Art Scheffler of Cranbrook were also back, Scheffler bringing three high school boys, Les McKenzie, Dirk Anglin and Don Laurie.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

LONDON, July 1 (CP)—Arthur R. Boyce of Brighton, 45-year-old painter arrested two weeks ago for forgery, today was charged with murdering Elizabeth MacLindon, former housekeeper for King George of Greece.

STILL PLACE FOR NAVIES IN FUTURE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1 (AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal inspected the battered Bikini target fleet today and broadcast in a radio interview two general conclusions: "There will still be navies in the future," and "heavily built and heavily armored ships are difficult to sink unless they sustain underwater damage."

He added in the informal question-and-answer session aboard* the flagship Mt. McKinley the hope that "the American Navy will continue to be the most efficient, the most modern and the most powerful in the world."

Heavy ships in Bikini's target fleet sustained "relatively unimportant" damage and apparently still are operable, he said, after the atomic bomb blast that sank five vessels and damaged 31.

Mr. Forrestal made it clear that his comments were drawn from early observations, and "it is too early to draw specific conclusions."

Rejects Rose Application for $25,000 Bail

MONTREAL, July 1 (CP)—Mr Justice Gregor Barclay of the Appeals Court Saturday rejected application on behalf of Fred Rose, Montreal-Cartier Member of Parliament, for $25,000 bail pending hearing of appeal against his recent conviction on a conspiracy charge. Motion for bail was entered last Wednesday.

Rose, sole Labor-Progressive Party Member of the House of Commons, was convicted by a King's Bench Court jury on a charge of conspiracy to communicate information to Russia, and he was sentenced to six years in penitentiary.

An appeal against the conviction on 32 grounds in law is scheduled to be heard at the next term of the high court which begins in September.

ST. BONIFACE, Man., July 1 (CP)—Police said tonight that Peter Meder, 27, *found early Sat*urday on a street semi-conscious and with a bullet wound in his chest and back, told them he had shot himself accidentally. He is expected to recover.

Recommends Plant-by-Plant Negotiations

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP)—Judge J. C. A. Cameron of Belleville, Ont., industrial disputes commissioner who investigated a labor dispute involving 10 Ontario rubber factories, has recommended that negotiations be re-opened on an idividual plant basis, Labor Minister Mitchell disclosed tonight.

Main points in his proposals were wage increases of eight cents an hour, introduction of a week and payment of a premium of five cents an hour to workers on night shifts. The Union sought a 20-cent increase, 40-hour week and 10-cent differential.

SEEK MISSING JET PLANE

OTTAWA, JJuly 1 (CP)—An augmented force of R.C.A.F. search planes intensified its search without avail today for a Gloster Meteor jet-propelled aircraft missing somewhere between Kapuskasing, Ont., and Toronto with its pilot, Flt.-Lt. William Hugh McKenzie of St. Vital, Man.

The plane has not been heard* from since taking off from Kapuskasing late Saturday.

40 Games Curled Opening Day of 2nd Annual Summer Bonspiel; 72 Rinks From West Taking Part

Forty games were curled Monday in the eight draws of the opening day's play in the Second Annual Summer Bonspiel being staged jointly by the Civic Centre Commission and the Nelson Curling Club, this completing the preliminary round and the first round of the first primary competition, the Canadian Summer Curling Championship event, with 72 rinks from Western Canada taking part. The eighth draw was completed at 1 a.m. Tuesday.

Tuesday morning's 7 and 9 a.m. draws will take care of 10 games in the second round, and the Kootenay Challenge, the secondary to the C.S.C.C. primary, will get under way at 11 a.m.

The Dominion Day play of course eliminated 40 of the 72 rinks entered in the C.S.C.C., leaving 32 still in the running for the honors. These eliminated rinks, and others still to be eliminated, are automatically entered in the Kootenay Challenge.

The third and fourth events—the Queen City competition, and its secondary, the Rosebud competition—will be started in turn as the week advances.

RINK PACKED

Even in the forenoon the Curling Rink was well filled with spectators, and for the afternoon and evening play was simply packed, in spite of the sports staged by the Kinsmen in the afternoon and the Kinsmen Carnival in the Civic Arena at night.

Staff of Radio Station CKLN broadcast games both afternoon and night, those on sheets 1 and 2 in each case. The evening pair were the clash between J. G. MacKenzie of Moose Jaw and W. Kerr of Bellevue, and that between A. C. Scheffler's high school squad from Cranbrook and H. L. Garrett's of Winnipeg.

As usual, the hosts of Prairie visitors went for the tubs of roses, and, again as usual, the remarkably keen ice, quite beyond comparison with ordinary curling ice, won the plaudits of the entire curling body.

TUESDAY MORNING DRAWS

The three draws for Tuesday morning are as follows:

Canadian Summer Curling Championship—

7 a.m.—Hanson vs Shaw, Somerville vs Whimster, Livingstone vs S. Ashley, McGhie vs Waters, Marshall vs Anton.

TRAIL SWEEPS INTER-CITY HIGH TRACK MEET; CRESTON SECOND

Running up a total of 26 points, Trail carried off the Inter-City High School Boys' Track and Field Championship, held here Dominion Day by the Nelson Kinsmen. In front all afternoon, the Trail boys finished 10 points ahead of their closest rival, Creston, which had 16. Kimberley followed with seven, Cranbrook with five, and Nelson, the home team, was unable to get a point.

Nick Catalano led his team to victory, scoring nine points by winning the shot put and broad jump, taking second place in the high jump and third in the 100 yards dash.

Most outstanding results were the running of the 440 in 52.2 seconds by Christie of Creston and the high jumping of Kimberley's Johnson who cleared five feet five and a half.

Surprising was Nelson's lack of entrants. The city's sole representative, Robertson, although he won his heat in the 100 yard dash, was unable to place in the finals.

STOPS GREASY PIG

Several women's events were staged with D. Wallace and S. Hall taking top honors.

Bob Leeming of Nelson was the lucky man to catch the greasy pig for which deed he was awarded $5. F. Imming, 509 Latimer Street, won the door prize for a similar amount.

Smooth organization of the meet won the plaudits of the outside contestants. Kinsmen committee workers were on the job from the early morning start and throughout the day kept events running efficiently.

TOAST-TEA
Perhaps the reason the professional humorists pin so many of their stories on the Scots is that they know the Scots have their own sense of humor and will not mind. One day a Scotchman and his wife were watching excursion airplanes on a field. A flier, noting their interest, made this proposal to them: "I'll take you and your wife up free if you don't get nervous up there. One word out of you and I'll bring you right down." The Scot agreed. Up they went and rode for about an hour. After landing safely, the pilot congratulated the Scot, saying: "For your first ride, you certainly kept quiet,—not a peep out of you." The Scot smiled modestly, and replied: "But there was once when I nearly said something—that was when my wife fell out."

Unable to Accept Appointment As Conciliator

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP) — Appointment of a conciliator in the British Columbia dispute between hard rock mine operators and employers probably will be announced tomorrow, Deputy Labor Minister Arthur MacNamara said tonight.

VANCOUVER, July 1 (CP)—Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson announced here that he would be unable to accept the appointment as conciliator in the dispute between British Columbia hard rock mine operators and employees.

Mr. Justice Wilson, whose appointment was announced from Ottawa Thursday by Labor Minister Mitchell, did not give any reason for declining the post.

Earlier the Provincial Government had suggested to Ottawa that a special commission be appointed in an effort to avert a strike of 2500 miners scheduled for July 3.

The workers demand a 40-hour week, a 20-cent pay boost, and union security. The operators have offered a 6½ cent wage increase.

The Weather

Synopsis:

The holiday was marked by clearing skies over the Southern Interior of B.C. with temperatures 10 to 20 degrees higher than yesterday in this region. Continued cloudiness with widely scattered showers was experienced by the rest of the Province with a few thunderstorms thrown in along the Northern boundary of the Province. However, with the influx of warmer air over this region from the Southwest continued clearing is expected Tuesday.

Kootenay:

Holiday Crowds See Colorful Nelson Parade

Crowds of holidayers flanked downtown Nelson streets Monday afternoon for the Kinsmen July 1 celebration parade in which curlers of the Second Annual Midsummer Bonspiel participated.

Beautifully decorated floats and a host of bicycles trimmed with streamers combined to make a colorful parade while music was added by the Nelson Junior High School Bugle Band and the Nelson Kiltie Band.

The curlers, from five provinces, led the long line. Various subjects were represented by the pretty floats. One depicting Nelson's scenic parks, glowed with Summer blooms as was the beautiful Nelson Garden Club float. Popular was one carrying a mounted deer. The four Nelson girls seeking the 'Miss Nelson of 1946" crown rode in gaily decked cars.

The float picturing Nelson's scenic parks, by Walkden's, won first prize, second going to the Garden Club. Another prize went to G. Arishenkoff for his early model car entry.

Bicycle owners winning prizes were Robert Longden, clown, first; Harry Swingler, jockey, second; Billy Short, third; Joyce Bland, "Peace," fourth, and Beverley Lithgoe, Tommy Shorthouse and Dorothy Wassick.

Judges were John Erb, Rotary Club, Norman Roscoe, Gyro Club, and Martin Varseveld, Lions Club.

The banana plant, resembling a tree, actually is an herb with tightly rolled leaves serving as stems.

Retired Chief Grain Commissioner Dies; Two Years at Balfour

Edward Bannerman Ramsay, former Chief Grain Commissioner for Canada, who has been living at Balfor the past two years, died at Kootenay Lake General Hospital, Friday. He was a member of the Nelson District No. 7 School Board.

Born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1886, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Killer Strikes Again; Pretty Woman Victim; Laborer Being Held

Body Found Lying on Grass; Ear Cut Off; Fourth Mystery Slaying

LONDON, July 1 (CP)—A killer struck again giving Scotland Yard investigators their fourth case of a pretty woman slain under mysterious circumstances in two weeks.

The body of Mrs. Ivy Griffiths, 33-year-old estranged wife of a former R.A.F. flyer, was found sprawled on a lawn beside her home in suburban Arnold Grove. Her dark curly hair was matted with blood from brutal slashes on her face and head. One ear had been cut off.

Scotland Yard meanwhile announced the arrest of a 30-year-old laborer in connection with the death of Kathleen Grace Patricia Lindsay, 18, whose nude body was found in a London hotel room Thursday. Police said Joseph Henry Marshall had been charged with the murder of Miss Lindsay, who they said had been strangled or smothered on her bed.

Miss Lindsay, dark-haired and described by police as "remarkably beautiful," registered at the hotel Wednesday night with a man. A maid found her body the next morning.

Investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Griffiths was centred on a search for a teen-aged youth who, a Scotland Yard spokesman said, had been keeping company with the woman in recent weeks.

Police said they had no clue as to a motive for the killing.

Harried Scotland Yard homicide detectives received another call tonight to go to Penllergaer, Swansea, to investigate the death of Muriel Drinkwater, 13-year-old Welsh girl, whose body was found in a wooded, isolated spot. Cause of death was not determined immediately.

1190 Canadians Win King's Honor Awards

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP)—Recognition of Canada's big civilian war effort—recognition that was suspended during hostilities—was given today in a unique King's Dominion Day honors list that contained 1190 names.

The list touched a wide range of voluntary effort from sewing circle production to national war financing. There were civil servants who assumed great additional wartime men who helped carry the heavy responsibilities and dollar-a-year administrative load.

And there were newspapermen at home and on the war fronts and an artist, a musician and a poet. There also were Canadian polar explorers—men who sailed through the icy Northwest Passage.

The list resulted in something of a surprise in capital circles in that the expected announcement of first awards of the Canada Medal did not appear.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King, in an early war statement said that decorations to civilians would be suspended until peacetime, and announced creation of a distinctive Canada Medal which would be distributed after the end of the war. He also spoke of a distinctive Canadian Order.

He gave as his reason for suspending civilian awards the fact that while the war was in a critical stage it would be inexpedient to take up the question. Before civilian honors were recommended, the situation would be carefully reviewed with the intention of taking appropriate action at the end of the war.

Today's list, announced a few weeks after the King's Canadian Birthday Honors that were reported to be the war cleanup for the armed forces, is also understood to be final. It was all-embracing, touching contributions to the war effort from all walks of life.

Three Canadian leaders of the arts were among those receiving the highest award—Companionships in the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

They are:

A. Y. Jackson, of Toronto, one of Canada's leading artists, who brightened service messes at home and overseas with his own paintings and devised a reproduction scheme by which the work of all leading Canadian artists was mass-produced for general distribution among military camps.

Dr. Wilfrid Pelletier, Montreal Conductor and Musician, who gave his services in many wartime concerts.

Edwin John Pratt, Toronto poet, whose most widely read work was on the return of the Canadian forces from overseas.

The C. M. G. list also contained the names of John H. Berry of Ottawa, President of War Assets Corporation in charge of the big job of disposing Canada's war surpluses; Leonard W. Brockington of Ottawa, who served in various war capacities but is probably best known as a lawyer and for his intimate national broadcasts on the forces; Dr. Augustin Frigon, General Manager of the CBC.

D. C. Coleman, Chairman and President of the C. P. R., and R. C. Vaughan, Chairman and President of the C. N. R.; Dr. Norman A. M. MacKenzie, President of the University of British Columbia, and former Chairman of the Wartime Information Board.

In the list of Commanders of the Order of the British Empire (C.B.E.) were the chiefs of the principle labor groups in Canada—Percy R. Bengough, Ottawa, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada; A. R. Mosher, Ottawa, of the Canadian Congress of Labor and Alfred Charpentier, Montreal, of the Catholic Confederation of Labor.

Among the other C. B. E.'s were J. W. G. (Joe) Clark, Ottawa, former Chief of Public Relations of the three armed forces; Asst. Cmsr. H. A. R. Gagnon, Ottawa, who directed R. C. M. P. investigation in the recent espionage cases; H. H. Hannam, Ottawa, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and Walter S. Thompson, C. N. R. Director of Public Relations.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Ross of Vancouver won awards. He was Naval Airaments Controller and held various shipping apopintments during the war while she was Administrator of Fats and Oils for the Prices Board. Mr. Ross won a C.M.G. and Mrs. Ross a C.B.E.

Two well-known mayors were mentioned. Robert H. Saunders of Toronto got the C. B. E. and Stanley Lewis, Ottawa were made an officer of the Order of the British Empire (O.B.E.)

Home front newspapermen like the wartime presidents of the Parliamentary Press Gallery and some of the war front correspondents also won O. B. E.'s.

Among the war correspondents honored were Ross Munro and Maurice Desjardins of The Canadian Press, Matthew Halton of the CBC and Gregory Clark, formerly with the Toronto Star.

One of the most colorful recipients of this decoration was Mrs. George Black, wife of the Progressive Conservative member for the Yukon and once a member for that riding herself.

Arthur W. Holmes, Ottawa, a CBC engineer who risked his life getting the best recordings of shell fire during the war, also won the O. B. E.

The same order went to Gilbert A. LaBine, Toronto, who played a large part in the development of the Eldorado Mine which supplied uranium for atomic bomb production, and J. G. Glassco, Toronto, who conducted a highly secretive investigation in connection with the mine. His report has not yet been made public.

Jules Castonguay, Ottawa, chief Electoral Officer, who directed the Wartime June 11, 1945, General Election, was among the men who were made Companions of the Imperial Service Order (I.S.O.)

A Gaspe priest who trained the "Guetters"—Civilian-Military Defence Organization on a section of that peninsula—was in the list of those who won membership in the Order of the British Empire (M. B. E.) He is Rev. Regis Grenier of Ste. Therese, Gaspe.

A bar to the Polar Medal went to Staff Sergeant Henry A. Larsen, skipper of the St. Roch which made a cruise of more than one year in Arctic waters, exploring the Northwest Passage. Ten of his crew were also honored.

Labor Government Defence Plans Hampered by Growing Anti-Conscription Sentiment

LONDON, July 1 (CP cable) — The Labor Government, Foreign Office and advisers in the armed forces are trying to reach a decision on the future of Navy, Army and Air Force establishments, their deliberations little helped by growing opposition among House of Commons members to peacetime conscription.

The latest manifestation of opposition is a motion by two Labor members, signed by 70 others of various parties, which would have the House declare its opinion that "military conscription in peacetime is alien to the traditions of this country and should come to an end as soon as practicable."

Pre-war members still at Westminster remember storms launched when the Chamberlain administration, shortly before the Second Great War started, decided conscription was necessary. The Labor leadership is fully aware of the formidable body of opinion within the party whose opposition to conscription at that time eased only because of the extreme danger to the United Kingdom from Nazi Germany.

Efforts of Labor back-benchers to have the conscription issue debated have been fruitless thus far, but it may be a different story in the case of the motion sponsored by the veteran Rhys Davies of West Houghton, and Victor Yates, Ladywood, executive member of the powerful Clerical Administrative Workers' Union before the election last year.

Obviously, the Government is hoping there soon will be so many volunteers that conscription will be unnecessary. Vigorous recruiting campaigns stress improved conditions of service. Pay increases, improved accommodation for single and married servicemen, and shorter tours of duty overseas are among the inducements listed.

The Government claims that with these advantages a man entering the services has educational and other opportunities at least equal to those of the average civilian, with the security of a good pension at the end of service.

Philippines to Be Independent Republic July 4

By AL VALENICA

MANILA, July 1, (AP) — The Philippine Islands on July 4 will become the Republic of the Philippines; the Stars and Stripes will be replaced by the Philippine flag and Manuel A. Roxas will take the oath as President of the new nation.

Thus will end nearly 48 years of United States administration.

Manila, sorely beset by the hard task of reconstruction, is rushing final preparations for the event.

J. A. Krug, U. S. Secretary of the Interior, President Truman's personal representative, will give an address and read the proclamation of independence.

Chief Justice Manuel V. Moran of the Philippines will administer the oath to Vice-President Elpidio Quirino and then to President Roxas. A treaty of general relations between the United States and the Republic of the Philippines will be signed.

President Roxas and other Filipino leaders see in independence an opportunity to make the Republic an outstanding exponent of Democratic Government in the Orient and, as such, to exert a strong influence in the affairs of the Far East.

Tugby Sentenced To Be Severely Reprimanded

WINNIPEG, July 1 (CP)—Military authorities today announced CSM. Narcus Charles Tugby of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, tried by a General Court Martial last April on 16 charges of collaboration with his Japanese captors and mistreatment of Allied prisoners, had been found guilty on eight counts and sentenced to be severely reprimanded.

The Court-Martial, presided over by Maj-Gen. H. W. Foster of Halifax and Picton, Ont., had acquitted Tugby of eight counts of collaborating with the Japanese, misappropriation of Red Cross supplies, improper disciplining of fellow prisoners and five charges of assaulting Allied soldiers. Their findings on the remaining charges were not announced immediately and were forwarded to National Defence Headquarters for confirmation.

The eight charges on which he was found guilty all involved assault of seven members of the Grenadiers and one British soldier.

The original charges against Tugby, 29, whose home is in St. James in the Winnipeg district, numbered 19 but three of them were dismissed midway through the Court Martial for lack of evidence.

His court-martial was the second to be held at Fort Osborne Barracks here as a result of events at Oeyama prisoner of war camp in Japan. The first was that of S. Sgt. John Hugh Harvey of the Royal Army Medical Corps who initially faced 30 charges, including one of manslaughter, but eventually was found guilty of nine, most serious of which was misappropriation of Red Cross supplies. He was sentenced to one years imprisonment and reduction to the ranks.

Six Drowned In Welland Ship Canal

PORT WELLER, Ont., July 1 — (CP)—Six persons—five men and a woman—were drowned in the Welland ship canal here early Saturday when the Dalhousie Rover, an 80-foot steel tug owned by the C. S. Boone Construction and Dredging Company, Toronto, turned on its side and sank. Five crew members are safe.

Names of those missing were not immediately available.

Company officials in Toronto said the vessel is valued at $90,000.

The tug—the Dalhousie Rover—had been in drydock for repairs, and about 2:30 A. M. cleared from the drydock and headed out into the canal. Marine men said she apparently struck a mudbank, turned on her side and sank about 300 yards South of Lock One.

The only eyewitness to the sinking was Charles Jennings, 25, of Port Dalhousie, Ont., an employee of the Government drydock.

Jennings said he saw the tug turn on its side and shouted for help. Another drydock worker, Harry Lemon, and Jennings rowed to the spot where the tug sank. They picked up three men and took them to the side of the ship canal.

Jennings and Lemon said that about 20 minutes later, as they tried to spot other crew members in the canal, they heard a commotion in the water, rowed out and picked up two other men, who said they had been asleep in their bunks when the tug started to overturn but had been awakened by the lurch. They could not get to the surface before the vessel sank, but found they had a foot of airspace in the passageway as the craft settled into the water.

13-Day Manhunt Ends With Capture of George Jackson

ISLE OF WIKHT, July 1 (CP) — A 13-day manhunt, conducted by several hundred British Paratroopers, blood hounds and police armed with machine guns, ended Saturday with the capture of George Jackson, former Commando, who escaped from the Island's Parkhurst Prison 13 days ago and has been terrorizing the entire region ever since.

After days of bushbeating the searchers spotted the 24-year-old fugitive running along a road and giving chase, caught him.

Jackson, who was serving a five-year sentence for housebreaking and larceny, was reported to have broken out of his cell and climbed the prison wall.

During the search several housebreakings were reported in the neighborhood, with thefts of food and clothing. On June 19 an unidentified assailant attacked a 60-year-old housekeeper in the vicinity with an axe.

(In London police still sought Neville George Heath, self-styled Colonel in the South African Air Force whose assistance is sought by Scotland Yard in their inquiry into the murder of a 30-year-old movie extra last Friday. Heath was sought for questioning in the murder of Mrs. Margery Gardiner, found dead in a Notting Hill Gate hotel room, naked and with legs bound.)

Rossland Scholarship to Audrey Bacon; 4 Citizenship Awards Made

ROSSLAND, B.C.—Tuesday evening the Auditorium of the Rossland High School was filled with parents and friends of the graduating classes of both Junior and Senior High Schools. Principal D. G. Chamberlain was Chairman. The program opened with the singing of O Canada and an invocation by Rt. Rev. A. K. MacIntyre.

Mr. Chamberlain welcomed the parents and friends.

Awards were presented to the students. Lloyd Crowe, Chairman of the School District No. 11 presented the Citizenship award. He complimented the school on its Annual, saying it was a great credit to the school and students. In his address to the students Mr. Crowe said a "Good Citizen must have good principles, good tolerance of others and follow the Golden Rule. It was very necessary that the Senior students set a good example for the Juniors who watch with interest their Seniors. He told them there was no royal road to learning nor short cuts to being good citizens that one must be willing to work hard and guide and lead others to being good citizens. One must start being good citizens early in life so that he may look back with great satisfaction on good work and feel he has left the world a little better for having in it.

He congratulated the graduating classes. He presented the awards to June Tortorelli and David Glover of the Senior School and to Gail Gibson and Herbie Osing of the Junior Class. It was explained that these awards were presented to the boy and girl in the Senior and Junior classes whom the teachers judged had excelled in cooperation, leadership activities and service during the year.

Each student receiving the award will receive a book of their own choice.

Arthur Turner, Chairman of the former Rossland School Board, thanked the Student Body for their cooperation in making Rossland School the good school it was. In presenting the school letters he explained these letters were awarded by the Students Council to show their appreciation for the work the students had performed during the year. The recipients were elected by a committee appointed by the Students Council and were judged according to scholarship, citizenship, athletics, drama and miscellaneous activities. Mr. Turner compared the education system today with that when schooling meant the learning of a lot of formulas and Latin, etc. Today students receive education and were taught to adjust themselves in their surroundings to learn tolerance of others to learn to manage their own affairs and to take life seriously. They also left the school with pleasant memories of the School activities and association.

He presented the major awards to the following students:

Eugene Anderson, Orma Bray, Keith Jamieson, David Keffer, June Palmer, David Smith, Hugh Uruquhart and Lorraine Swift.

The minor awards were presented to Audrey Bacon, Bob Chamberlain, Bob Miller, Pat McCandless, Sheila McKenna, Elizabeth Petrie, Bert Pepin and Arthur Ridgers.

HOUSE C WINS

George Grant of the High School staff presented the House awards and Sports trophies. He explained the house system used in the school.

House "C" won the major competition and he presented the awards to the two captains of the House, Bob Miller and Betty Densky. The shield presented by the Parent Teacher Association to the House winning the greatest points on School Sports Day was awarded to House "B", Captains being Audrey Bacon and Arthur Ridgers.

Irene Kootnikoff, Polly Poohachoff and Buddy Fulton were each presented with individual trophy cups for points received at the track meet.

Mayor Corner in addressing the graduates on behalf of the community extended hearty congratulations and hoped the happy occasion would live long in their memories of the school. He thought the House System, their school colors and motto "Temporibus Futuris Constuimus"—(We Build For the Future) were excellent. He said the students were graduating into broader fields of learning. The Junior graduates were entering Senior High School; while the Senior graduates were entering either University and industry to gather further knowledge. He hoped they would be very happy in their new endeavours and told them to always keep a high goal ahead of them, remember honor and fortitude and always play the game.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

The highlight of the evening was the presenting of the Junior Matriculation Scholarship, provided by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cooper. F. E. Batt, trustee, who has been working to have scholarships for the students, made the presentation. He also read the rules governing the award.

In presenting the award to Audrey Bacon, Mr. Batts said she was a credit to her school, parents and community and wished her every success in her new plane.

Inspector W. E. Lucas presented the diplomas to the graduates of both schools. He said he thought "Awards Day" was a fine thing. It brought the parents and citizens out to see the work students were doing and the results attained. He explained that a student must have 112 credits to graduate. He said the diploma they were receiving was most important as it showed the student had measured up to the 12 years in school and persisted to his goal and had learned the ability to give and take, tolerance of others opinions and the ability to see it through to the end. He was sure the students would prize the diplomas for they showed they had attained their goal, and were presented by the School; where the University Entrance Certificate they receive from the Department merely indicates marks received and academic standing.

He presented each senior graduate with a diploma neatly rolled and tied with the school colors, purple and gold, and each junior graduate, who is graduating to senior high, with a diploma tied with their colors, green and gold.

Senior graduates were Ronald Aiken, Audrey Bacon, Orma Bray, John Gordon, Margaret Haggen, Peggy Johnson, Margaret Kalhóvd, David Keffer, Richard Marcuzzi, Isobel McNab, Patricia McCandless, Florence Nixon, Herbert Pepin, Elizabeth Petrie, David Smith, Lorraine Swift, Hugh Urquhart.

The junior graduates were Robert Allison, Alan Bacon, Patricia Bathie, Inga Bonde, Winnifred Bourchier, William Bradshaw, Frances Bray, Myrna Colenso, Joan Corner, Denis Daly, Andrea Davidson, Francis Delmas, Doreen Elmes, Patricia Ewing, Allan Fisher, Ilene forder, John Fox, Louise Fredrickson, Donald Gordon, John Harasin, Joyce Heaton, Donavon Jecks, Dorothy Johnston, Brian Keane, Duncan Keffer, Mary Lou Leckie, Maureen Manning, Lillian Marcuzzi, David Mason, Earl Mason, Geoffery Mason, John Molyneaux, Adair Moore, Edith McNab, Rigmor Nora, Herbert Osing, Gordon Perkins, George Profili, Frances Read, Robin Saare, Gladys Samuelson, Durston Sinclair, William Subasic, Frances Sutherland, Jerome Topliff, Robert Tweed.

Miss Florence Nixon is giving the Valedictory Address comparing the educational program of the students to the building of a house: saying some plan a lofty mansion and get no further than the foundation; others plan a modest structure but due to a lack of imagination and perserverence it becomes nothing but a mediocre structure. Yet others, build a small but solid foundation. They keep forever adding where additions are needed and changing where changes will serve to lead them on to seek that pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

She explained the first step was collecting materials and finding a location. Most of the students spent the first nine years of school gathering knowledge and experience in living before any idea of building came to their minds. At this stage two options for foundations were offered; Junior Matriculation or High School Graduation Diplomas. The 1946 class all chose Junior Matriculation.

After this decision followed the drawing of the blueprints of the ultimate development of the structure. Most of the graduates blueprints this year indicate considerable ambition; some were planning to be teachers, engineers, doctors, nurses, etc.

She said the final layer of the foundation for Junior Matriculation had been an uphill work, but it had many pleasant memories associated with it. Also the hard work had made them appreciate their ambitions and made their goal much more desirable. As the craftsman was urged on to extra effort when he sees his work nearly completed so this year had spurred the students on to extra effort and as their first goal came in sight they did their work with joy in their hearts. The comradship in the class and the social functions were the best yet and the year had been a very happy and valuable one. On behalf of the class she thanked the teachers for the training the class had received and promised that they would all do their best to build successfully on the foundation given them at the Rossland High School.

Hugh Urquhart on behalf of the graduates presented Mr. Chamberlain with the Valedictory gift, a picture comprising an individual pose of each student, Mr. Hayes, the room teacher, and Mr. Chamberlain grouped around the School Crest.

Mr. Chamberlain accepted the gift and promised it would be hung in the hall with other school pictuers.

Miss Lillian Marcuzzi gave the school farewell to the graduates, wished them greatest joy and good luck for the future.

Mr. E. Hayes, the graduates' room teacher gave the farewell address from the staff. In a humorous manner he advised them to have a sense of humor, a stick-to-it attitude, to be truthful, never be a traitor to themselves and to always keep to their word.

Steal 2 Barrels Of Beer

CRANBROOK, B. C., July 1 — (CP)—Theft of two barrels of beer from the Cranbrook Bewery June 16 has resulted in charges of breaking and entering or possession being laid against eight Indians.

Four of them, Fred and Zack Birdstone, Joe Barney and Joe Jimmy, appeared in police court and were remanded to Monday for preliminary hearing on the breaking and entering charges.

The other four, Abraham and Sabrian John, Renhard Stanley and Ben Francis, were remanded for hearing on charges of being in possession of the beer.

Means Test Must Continue Unless Pensions on Contributory Basis

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP) — Health Minister Claxton said in the Commons that the Dominion's social security proposals to the provinces were based partly on the levying of a social security tax.

Speaking during resumed study of Health Department estimates, Mr. Claxton said this tax was discussed at the Dominion-Provincial Conferences which adjourned in disagreement early last month.

The tax proposed was to have been around three, four or five per cent.

Mr. Claxton made the statement during a discussion on the old-age pension problem.

Mr. Claxton said pensions could be paid only on a means test or as a right on a contributory basis. An increased pension as a right could not be put into force without consultation with the provinces, especially when the sum involved was $200,000,000.

A. M. Nicholson (CCF-Mackenzie) said Canada had the money to increase old age pensions. The country had spent large sums during the war.

John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) said Mr. Claxton's attitude that nothing could be done unless the provinces accepted the Dominion's proposals was foolish.

The Dominion's attitude was wrong. The amount of money that could be given the people depended on the method by which goods were distributed. That was the core of the matter.

Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East) said the pensions should be placed on a straight insurance basis with a man beginning contributory payments as soon as he went to work. There would be a minimum. But higher contributions would be optional.

Mr. Claxton said the great trouble was that one of every two Canadians was self-employed. It would be difficult to work out proper payments. Again, those who had not contributed would have to be provided for.

WHYALLA, Australia, (CP) — This little South Australian shipbuilding town challenges the claim of Canberra, national capital, to having the highest birthrate in the country. Whyalla estimates its birthrate at 40 per 1000 population compared with Canberra's 27. Whyalla's population is 7000.

HESSLER - SMITH

● St. Johns Lutheran Church was the scene for an evening wedding Saturday when Rev. H. J. Kritch united in wedlock Mary Christine Hessler, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Konrad Hessler, of this City, and William Smith, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Trail. The church was tastefully decorated with roses and peonies, the altar banked with fern, sweet peas, roses and the guest pews marked with white bows, lily of the valley and tiny wedding bells. The brunette bride made a charming picture entering the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Mrs. Kritch. Her dress was of white satin and net over taffeta, featuring bishop sleeves and a square neck line and a sweeping veil of net forming a halo effect. Her bouquet was of red talisman roses. She wore as her only ornaments a string of pearls and matching ear rings, a gift of the groom. The bride was attended by Miss Lily Smith, a sister of the groom, as bridesmaid also Miss Barbara Serres, as maid of honor. Little Joan and Anne Hancock(nieces of the bride looked lovely as dainty flower girls. The groom was supported by his brother David and the ushers were Thomas Smith and Alex Hessler. A reception was held in the Golden Gate where covers were laid for thirty-five. The bride's mother received the guests assisted by the groom's mother. The bride's table was attractively decorated with roses and fern and with a three-tier wedding cake set in tulle, adorned by a miniature bride and groom. Toasts were proposed to the happy couple by Rev. Kritch and the best man to which the groom fittingly responded. For her going away outfit the bride chose a suit of white cashmere, with corresponding accessories over which she wore a white topper coat. The young couple left by car for Banff, Calgary and Lake Louise where they will spend two weeks.

"Step in Closer, Shorty, and Learn How To Stretch Your Way to Movie Fame"

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 1 (AP) — Step in closer, Shorty, and learn how you can stretch your way to movie fame.

Teacher is Vera-Ellen, the bright, blond dancer from Cincinnati who is now starring in "Carnival in Costa Rica." Five years ago at 16 she was a puny four feet, six inches and weighed 76 pounds. What's more, she hadn't grown a bit for two years.

When she was turned down for a role in "Leave It to Me" on Broadway because she looked like a midget, Vera-Ellen decided to do something about it. She devised a set of exercises which would either kill her or stretch her.

The dancer demonstrated some of them for me. She bent over and tried to touch her elbows to the floor. Sounds hard, doesn't it? Well, it is. Then she stood next to a door and put one foot high over her head. Try that some time.

"Really, any simple exercises can be used," she explained. "The important thing is to s-t-r-e-t-c-h and try to reach further than you can."

As a result of her exercises, Vera-Ellen is now five feet, 4½ inches tall and a well-developed 115 pounds. And she is doing very well in her chosen profession, too. Aside from the big plans Goldwyn and 20th-Fox have for her, she will probably star in "Bloomer Girl" and the life of Marilyn Miller.

Many stars are becoming increasingly frightened by the attention of fans in public, which sometimes reaches the ferocious stage. In the past, stars have been fairly safe from mobs in Hollywood where the public was blase about celebrities. Now they are swamped wherever they go. Mark Stevens was thrown down at a radio show recently and barely missed serious injury.

The Franco Case

In the absence of the documentary evidence submitted to the Security Council of the United Nations as a supplementary memorandum it is difficult to judge how much new evidence against the Franco Government was obtained by the subcommittee charged with investigating the Spanish problem.

In its conclusions it goes little further than the previous condemnation of the present regime. It agrees that the Franco Government is Fascist; that it was a spiritual if not military partner of Hitler and Mussolini; that it has given shelter to some Fascists; that it is not fit for membership in the United Nations; that it is in no position to become aggressive now, but that it could become a source of trouble just as it was in the 1930s.

It is, the report says, maintaining a larger army than a peaceful nation of its size requires, but any dictatorship must have plenty of troops to maintain its authority. The situation is summed up in the terse conclusions: "No breach of the peace has yet occurred. No act of aggression has been proved. No threat to peace has been established." Therefore, it holds, none of the punitive provisions of the charter, calling for an economic and communications boycott and the severance of diplomatic relations, is in order at the present time.

Somewhat inconsistently, and obviously in a spirit of compromise of conflicting views within the Council, the committee then goes on to recommend future severance of diplomatic relations if the Franco regime remains in power. It does not announce a definite time limit within which Franco is to be deposed, or suggest how this is to be done unless the Spanish dictator dies of natural causes or decides to step down. It agrees with the American-Anglo-French declaration of March 4 that it does not want to promote another Spanish civil war.

In the light of all this it appears that the subcommittee is handing back to the Council the same baby intrusted to it, providing it, perhaps, with a few new clothes, but leaving it just as unpopular as ever.

Out of all the discussions and argument, the end to be hoped for is that by some means Franco will be dispossessed of his position as the head of a State.

It Began Before the Atomic Bomb

Two leaders of a certain school of thought in Britain have argued that the democracies' difficulties with the Soviet are due to the fact that they have withheld the secret of the atomic bomb. The proponents of this theory are Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, a simple-minded churchman suffering from an infatuation which blinds him to all the unsavory facts in the history of the Soviet's international relations, and Professor Harold J. Laski, retiring chairman of the executive committee of the British Labor Party, a doctrinaire who was a constant critic of Winston Churchill during the war and whose advice on foreign affairs has been rejected by the politicians of his own party since their assumption of responsibility for the nation.

Both the dean and the professor forget that the trouble began before there was an atomic bomb. During the war, Henry L. Stimson, United States Secretary of War, complained time and again that the Soviet would not allow attaches from the democracies to accompany its armies, though its armies are fighting with weapons the democraies had supplied, and the Russians steadily refused to share their secrets with the Allies, who were at that time sharing precious secrets with them. It was the totalitarian state that set the example of secrecy when the democracies were overflowing with good will and when they were ready to make almost any concession for the sake of Russian friendship.

The present situation, in which the democracies are on one side and the Soviet on the other, had its origin in the San Francisco conference, months before the atomic bomb was a perfected weapon. At the opening of the conference the Soviet had failed to fulfil Stalin's Yalta pledge that the Lublin puppet government of Poland would be broadened, and Mr. Molotov's demand that this government should have a seat in the United Nations, with his withholding of information about the kidnapped Polish leaders, caused a rift between him on one side and Edward R. Stettinius with Anthony Eden on the other. The rift was widened by the Soviet's insistence that the veto should apply to discussion of disputes, and before the conference was concluded the general hope of happy collaboration had given way to the foreboding which has been so sadly justified by the event. The end of the conference came more than a month before the atomic bomb was mentioned.

Ask Why Delay in City Construction

To the Editor:

Sir—With Nelson labelled as a progressive sort of city, it would be interesting if some spokesman for the City Council would, in the absence of any signs to the contrary, outline for the citizens what is actually being done about a number of matters of which considerable has been said at different times, but—with midsummer days well behind us—of which little can be seen around the town.

What arrangements are being made, for examples (a) to implement the handling of heavy Lakeside traffic during the holiday season, especially with new regulations issued by Victoria about maximum overloading of street cars; (b) when will roadmaking and road-repairing (and sidewalk installations where badly needed) be in full swing, including the long-delayed levelling of the pavement at the Northwest corner of the 400 block on Baker Street, which is surely a sorry sight for the main stem of the city; (c) when overgrown grass streets will be made to look a little less like the backwoods. But these will do for a starter. Is the city short of suitable labor, or without funds, or ways of obtaining them? It is because citizens generally are asking a lot of this sort of questions that attention is drawn thereto through the columns of the home-town newspaper.

Ratepayer.

M. P. N., Penticton—What is a mazurka?

A mazurka is a lively Polish dance in triple time. Several famous composers have written music for this dance, notably Chopin and Schubert.

I. M. T., Procter—Where is Lindisfarne? I have found some old letters and one of them bears this address.

Lindisfarne, also known as Holy Island, is off the coast of Northumberland, England, in the neighborhood of Bamburgh. At low tide it is joined to the mainland by a stretch of sand that vehicles drive over, but posts at regular intervals mark dangerous quicksand and it is as well to keep in the middle of the track. On the island is a ruined castle and remains of a Benedictine monastery, as well as one or two small farms.

Humorist, Nelson—Can you quote a limerick by Edward Lear other than the "Old Man With a Beard" that most of us know?

One of our favorites is:

"There was an old man in a boat,
Who said, 'I'm afloat, I'm afloat!'
When they said, 'No, you ain't!'
He was ready to faint,
That stupid old man in a boat!"

A Reader, Nelson—Can a Canadian join the American Army Air Force? What qualifications must one have, and where is the nearest recruiting centre?

Write, stating age, nationality, and all particulars, to U. S. Army Air Force Recruiting Office, Spokane, Wash.

Etiquette Hints

Don't "razz" a dear friend so much that his or her feelings are hurt. The sure way to keep a friendship is to treat a friend with the same courtesy and formality accorded to strangers.

In the matter of tipping, one must be guided by the amount and kind of service given. Ten or 15 cents is an acceptable tip for a checkroom attendant.

CANADA'S LOSS

Last month the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation announced the award of a fellowship in atomic research to Dr. Shiuchi Kusaka, a physicist on the staff of Smith College and a private in the U. S. Army. This is of special interest to Canada, for Dr. Kusaka grew up in this country. When he was four years of age he was brought by his parents to British Columbia. He attended public schools in Vancouver and the University of British Columbia. He transferred to the University of California at Berkeley, where he received a degree in science. During the war he worked on atomic research in a California laboratory, and when the U. S. opened its ranks to Japanese he volunteered for military service. With the Guggenheim fellowship Dr. Kusaka will continue atomic research under Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, who headed the atomic bomb project at Los Alamos.

Had Dr. Kusaka remained in Canada, he would likely be among the thousands of Japanese-Canadians now suffering from the discriminatory legislation which was put into operation by the Dominion Government. He would not have had the opportunity to serve his adopted country as a scientist and Canada is poorer for having lost the services of this brilliant young scientist.—Toronto Star.

U. S. CLINCH DAVIS CUP TENNIS SERIES

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., July 1—(AP)—The United States clinched the North American zone Davis Cup tennis series with Mexico Saturday when national champions Billy Talbert and Gardnar Mulloy defeated the Mexican brother titlists, Rolando and Armando Vega, 6-0, 9-7, 6-2, in a doubles contest to give the United States a 3-0 lead in the five-match tie.

French Star Takes Pails in Quarter-Final

WIMBLEDON, England, July 1 (CP)—Yvon Petra, six-foot, seven-inch French star, today scored perhaps the greatest triumph of his career in knocking out Dinny Pails of Australia, the All-England championships No. 1 seeded player, 7-5, 7-5, 6-8, 6-4, in a quarter-final match.

Possessed of a thunderous service, the towering French Davis Cup player scored 19 aces over the highly-touted Pails, who is expected to lead Australia's coming defence of the Davis Cup. Frequently Pails could only shake his curly head as the balls whizzed by.

Tom Brown of California smashed his way into the semi-finals with a straight set, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4, victory over Ference Puncec, Yugoslav Davis Cup star.

Brown, a 23-year-old with a cannonball service, will continue his quest for world tennis fame when he clashes with Petra for the right to enter the famous centre court in Friday's final.

Reaching the semi-finals in the opposite bracket were Geoff Brown, the ambidextrous Australian who was seeded No. 3, and Jaroslav Drobny, the Czech who earlier upset second-seeded Jack Kramer of California. Brown eliminated Lennart Bergelin, Sweden's top star, 13-11, 11-9, 6-3, while Drobny ousted Pierre Pellizza of France, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Following his victory over Puncec today, Brown teamed with Kramer to breeze into the third round of men's doubles with a 6-2, 6-1, 6-2, win over J. Siba and J. Vodicha of Czechoslovakia.

In mixed doubles, Brown and his partner, Louise Brough, already have pentrated to the fourth round and now are waiting for the remainder of the field to catch up.

Gallery Sees Everything in Book As Fazio Takes Canadian Open

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BEACONSFIELD GOLF CLUB, Que., July 1 (CP) — In a tense, drama-packed finish — one of the most thrilling any tournament could offer—George Fazio of Los Angeles today blasted a two-under par 70 to win the Canadian open golf championship over Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kan., by a single stroke margin in an 18-hole play-off.

It was a terrific uphill fight almost all the way for Fazio until he moved in front when Metz blew himself to a six on the par three 16th hole, then Fazio nearly threw the title and $2000 first prize money right back in Metz's lap on the home green.

Fazio, down four strokes after playing 11 holes, fought back gamely and capitalized on Metz's miscues in the second nine after the Arkansas professional went out in a brilliant, four-under-par 32.

He picked up three strokes in one grand sweep at the 16th and gained another one of the 17th when Metz went over par. The whole picture had suddenly changed and Fazio was in front by two strokes.

From there on almost everything in the book happened and the gallery—a small holiday crowd of about 1000—was left groggy.

INTO WOODS

Both Fazio and Metz were wild with their second shots. Fazio caught a sand trap to the left of the green. Metz went into a bunker at the right. Fazio tried an uphill shot to get on the green and it flew over the bank into thick bushes and shrubbery behind the galleryites. He peeked and peered into the bushes and elected to take a penalty stroke. He dropped the ball on the bank in the clear and then lifted it to the right and back of the pin, 15 feet from the cup.

Metz got out of the bunker on the green safely, 25 feet from the hole. Metz' putt was two feet short but he got down on his next try for a par five. Fazio, with five strokes against him already, had one more left for a win and two for a tie and another 18 holes of play. He took his time, rapped his ball straight for the cup. It slowed up, then seemed to gain momentum and dropped in.

That putt meant that Metz, who put on a blazing display yesterday to tie Fazio's early 278 for the 72 holes of medal play, had to be satisfield with second place money of $1400.

LEONARD TAKES CUP

Vancouver's Stan Leonard just missed making it a three-way play-off by one stroke yesterday. His 279 was good enough to gain him the Rivermead Cup, awarded the low-scoring Canadian professional. Sharing third-place money with him were Lloyd Mangrum, United States open champion, and Harry Todd of Dallas.

Rossland Juniors Whip F.A.C.

ROSSLAND, B.C., July 1—Rossland Juniors made a big comeback in the sixth and seventh innings in their first West Kootenay Junior game against the Fairview Athletic Club to overcome a 12-run deficit and win 16 to 13 in a West Kootenay Junior Baseball League fixture.

The F.A.C.'s played airtight ball up until the end of the first half of the sixth. They had a comfortable lead that looked like a sure win till their infield fell to pieces with the result that the home boys drove in eight runs. They added six more in the seventh and two more in their last half of the eighth. The visitors collected three runs in the third, nine in the fourth and one in the eighth.

Alec Clark, on the mound for the Nelsonites allowed only five hits before he was relieved in the eighth. The relief came too late, and the Rosslanders nicked Postlethwaite for two hits and three runs. Jimmy Todd who starred in the left field for the visitors along with Clark, were their only bright lights. Rossland was forced to use three hurlers to check Nelson, Lauaratto, a Southpaw, started the game but was knocked out of the box in the fourth. Walters then went on the mound but he was relieved after walking two runs in and Babe Laface was called in from shortstop to finish out the game. Lauaratto struck out two, walked seven batters and gave up seven hits. Laface struck out 10 batters, walked three and gave up four hits. Only big hits of the game were two doubles, one by Willie Scott and the other by Postlethwaite of the visitors.

Archie Scott and Corrodo paced the home team with three runs each. Babe Laface, Lauaratto, Urquhart, Campbell and Conci scored two runs each. For Nelson, Todd, Bob Koehle, Fred Koehle, Kraft and Fisher scored two runs each, while Postlethwaite, Cathcart and Clark scored one run each. Batteries were: Rossland—Lauaratto, Walters Laface and Corrodo.

Nelson—Clark, Postlethwaite and Cathcart.

Umpires—Baitman and Harry.

Palermo Claims Derby Cash

By WALLY HILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, July 1 (CP) — Palermo, a three-year-old brown colt furnished an upset at Polo Park today before more than 16,000 fans, by winning the $5000 added Canadian Derby—1¼ mile run for three-year-olds, foaled in Canada.

Yorkton, a chestnut filly from the K. and K. Stable, Winnipeg, running as an entry with Fort Garry, were odds-on-favorites to take the race, but Yorkton finished second, eight lengths behind the winner and Fort Garry fourth.

Time for the race was 2:29 over a muddy track. The track record set in 1929 by Shasta Sheik, is 2:07 4-5.

Net value to the winner was $5160. Yorkton, by finishing second, earned $800, Georgie O, $350, and Fort Garry $100.

Carberry, owned by W. J. Lochead, Vancouver, after setting the early pace, finished fifth. Jessefield, owned by the Whittier Park Stock Farm, was sixth and Wee Meadows, owned by E. Johansen, Calgary, seventh.

Palermo paid $7.10, $3.20 and $2.10 across the board. Yorkton paid $2.35 for a $2 place bet.

The Derby was won last year by Ferry Pilot, a Western-bred colt, from the Halton Brook Stable, of Oakville, Ont.

Colts and geldings carried 126 pounds and fillies 121 pounds.

TRAIL, B.C., July 1 (CP) — A group of American pleasure boats on a tour through British Columbia water systems, left Trail Saturday for Nakusp, next important stop on their way to Revelstoke.

Despite the rain a crowd of more than 1500 residents of Trail turned out to greet the trippers. There are 26 boats in the group. Some of the smaller craft were almost out of gasoline on reaching Trail.

Speaking before the college of cardinals, his holiness stated that the recently-won peace is "fading away." The pope urged Catholics of the world to be "conscious of their strength," and charged that subversive, atheistic forces are striving to lead the "deuded masses like senseless sheep."

U. S. Hopes of Winning Net Title Boosted

WIMBLEDON, July 1—America's hopes for winning the men's singles title in the Wimbledon tennis championships were boosted considerably today when Tom Brown of San Francisco won his quarter-final match, while top seeded Dinny Pails of Australia was defeated. Brown defeated the Yugoslav Davis Cup star, Franja Puncec, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

Brown played a steady game, and featured a hard back-hand that seldom missed. Hugging the baseline, the 32-year-old Yugoslav was forced to run so steadily in retrieving Brown's accurate returns that he tired perceptibly.

Pails was upset by the French giant, Yvon Petra. The score was 7-5, 7-5, 6-8, 6-4. Petra and Brown will meet in the semi-finals.

In today's opening quarter-final match, Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia defeated Pierre Pellizza of France, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. It was Drobny who eliminated Jack Kramer in the previous round.

Geoff Brown of Australia reached the semi-finals by eliminating Lenhart Bergelin of Sweden, 13-11, 11-9, 6-3.

The top-seeded American doubles combination, Tom Brown and Jack Kramer, turned in a sparkling victory over J. Siba and J. Vodicha of Czechoslovakia. The score of the third-round match was 6-2, 6-1, 6-2. Budge Patty of California and Pancho Segura of Ecuador beat Derek Barton and Geoff Paish of Britain, 6-2, 5-7, 5-7, 8-6, 6-1.

Plane Missing

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP)—Dakota Aircraft recently returned from overseas today combed a large area of Northern Ontario for a missing Gloster Meteor jet-propelled plane piloted by Flt.-Lt. William Hugh McKenzie of St. Vital, Man.

The plane has been missing since it took off from Kapuskasing, Ont., late Saturday on a flight from Edmonton to Malton airport near Toronto.

Although the search planes, formerly with the Chinthe and Elephant Squadrons, covered 33,000 square miles in the North Bay-Kapuskasing area in good visibility, no trace of the missing plane was found.

LEICESTER, England (CP) — Half a dozen fires, started with pages torn from Bibles, were found in the church of St. James, Aylestone, recently. Candles were strewn about, the cross was overturned, and curtains and carpets were torn.

Market Trends

WINNIPEG—(CP)—Rye futures on the grain exchange advances the full five-cent limit allowed by the exchange. October and December scored near seasonal high points in a moderately active session.

Little buying was necessary to push the prices upwards as offerings were light in the deferred months.

In the export market, 350,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were purchased for UNRRA.

Prices at the close were: July $2.12; Oct. $2.82; Dec. $2.72¼.

AVIATION NEWS and VIEWS

By EDGAR BAUMAN

SCHENECTADY, N.Y.—I've just met the jet! It was all very informal. Not one of those stuffy introductions where someone says "Gentlemen,—this is a jet plane" and you spread around a few dutiful "OOOOO"s and "Ah"s. After this introduction someone said "You're next for a ride in it." "Who, me!"? Bru-thurrr!

We've come here at the "invitation" of General Electric Company to take part in what, for want of a better name, they've chosen to call an "Air Research Demonstration." It turns out to be nothing more than a repetitious "fly-by" of some of America's marvels of the air.

A paradox was the train ride to Schenectady what with all the planes at New York and Newark grounded by early morning fog. Four long hours on the train, that seemed so futile a little while later, when a P80 Shooting Star streaked from New York to Albany in a little under 17 minutes!

The aforementioned snafu made you feel that there wasn't an air research demonstration in existence that was worth all the inconvenience. Oh no!? A sweet little jet job known as a P59 with the name "Mystic Mistress" painted on it's nose changed all that. What a ride!

ONLY 2-PLACE PLANE

The P59, made by Bell Aircraft Company of Buffalo is the only American two-place jet plane there is. The P80s only have room for the pilot under a plexiglas canopy that covers his pressurized cabin. The P59 has a little semi-open cockpit ahead of the pilot's compartment. First difficulty encountered was getting my bulk into a space hardly half big enough for it. I'm convinced now that I ought to diet! Next embarrassing moment was when the straps in the parachute harness had to be let out to full limits. I'm sure the pilot's thoughts included "Hmmmm, pretty fat boy." But right now nothing matters. I'm going for a ride in a jet plane. "Never mind sonny, you just see that I get the whole works" —I did!

You don't hear the motor, because its merely a blowtorch-like "Whoooosh" 'way out behind you. There is of course no propeller. You're squared to the runway. You take a deep breath. You feel for your helmet to make sure it's on tight. "All set?" comes over the interphone. You raise your hand, forming a circle with the thumb and forefinger, while the other three fingers stretch out in true upity-upity style, "Okaay—here we go!"

You streak down the runway; you're off the ground; you gain altitude a little slowly, and then turn in the steepest bank, (about 90 degrees!) you've ever experienced to get out of the traffic pattern. Then the pilot pours on the coal. As far as you're concerned, you're just "floating through the air with the greatest of ease." No vibration. No noise. Just the whistling of the wind as you zoom along at better than 475 miles per hour.

Suddenly, — ooooops, — the pilot has pulled into a steep climb. The plane is standing on it's tail and you're laying on your back. You feel as if someone had reached through the back of your head trying to pull your eyes through from front to back! It's hard to lift your arms as you try to hold on. No need to. You're firmly held by your seat belt although you think at this point that it's unnecessary. You imagine that centrifugal force will keep you in place. Hey, — wait a minute — the ground is now on TOP and the sky is underneath. You never knew that you reached the top of the climb rolled over and'd been travelling upside down for a few seconds.

Now you're straightened out right side up and level. You zip along faster than you've ever moved before and still that delightful sensation of floating, gliding, effortless, noiseless, magnificent. "How about a couple of loops?" comes over the interphone. You mutter an inaudible "nh-nh" as you shake your head from side to side to indicate a negative reaction to the suggestion. When you're about twenty years the senior of that brilliant and splendid youngster in the driver's seat you've got to curb his enthusiasm a little. Not that it wouldn't be safe. But my pilot-host wants to treat me to all the thrills that I can stand so in less time than it takes to negotiate a couple of hard swallows, we start to dive. Speed is near 500 m.p.h. Yipes, — I've never seen the ground come up at me so fast, as we lose about 5000 feet in five seconds. Before I can even formulate the suggestion that he'd better pull out we've done it and we're crossing the field at an altitude of about 200 feet. Here's where you get the first realization of what a speed of 500 m.p.h. really means. I try to look for my grey-suited missus but before I can focus my eyes, we're on the way up again and the time worn expression "As-quick-as-you-can-bat-an-eye" takes on new meaning.

Afraid? Golly no. You settle back with a feeling of well being. You find yourself wondering why you ever have to come down to earth. Down there were there's so much trouble. Where men have already fought to preserve the thing they're now perhaps getting ready to fight for again. But all good things unfortunately come to an end all too quickly. It's hard to believe you've been up over a quarter of an hour, and you note that your pilot is making a sweeping dive towards the field. You silently glide to earth and come to a noiseless stop.

The process of sliding out of the parachute harness and getting out of the plane is dreamily automatic. You nebulously thank the pilot, and walk towards the hanger. You're aware that a few of your buddies who weren't fortunate enough to draw a ride on the P59 are asking you "Well, how was it?" or "What'd you think about it?" They tell me I looked sort o'far away and that I smiled a little. Then as your stomach arrives on a later plane, your thinking processes break through the clouds in your now steady head and in a semi-coherent manner, no matter what the question, your answer is the same as when they told you "you're next for a ride in the P59." All you say is "Bru-thurrr!"

Fazio Defeats Metz for Canadian Open

MONTREAL, July 1 — George Fazio of Los Angeles today captured the Canadian open golf championship. Playing at Montreal's Beaconsfield course, Fazio downed Dick Metz of Arkansas City. He came from behind to win the coveted Dominion championship. At the end of the first nine Metz was leading by three strokes.

On Saturday Fazio had turned in an early 278 for the 72-hole tourney and sat back while the big money men went to work to cut under it.

Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kan., took up the pursuit in earnest, leaving a trail of seven birdies and going over par on only one hole. The veteran pro, who has not won a major tournament since 1940 came roaring in with a 66, six under par, to catch Fazio.

The contenders fell off rapidly. Stan Leonard of Vancouver shot a 68 for 279. Harry Todd of Dallas, Texas, blew his chances on the third hole when he got into bush, could scarcely swing his club, and landed into two bunkers. He took a seven and ended with a par 72 for 279.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., shot a sub par 71, but wound up with 280, one stroke short also. Gordon Brydson of Toronto Mississauga, who has shot consistent sub par golf in the tournament, went one over and finished with a 281.

Ellsworth Vines, former Davis Cup star, dropped back to 281, and Vic Ghezzi of Knoxville took two over par at 74, for a 283.

Improvements to Airport Considered Cranbrook Board

CRANBROOK, B. C., July 1.—Costs of hard surfacing of the municipal airport and improving it to the standard required for licensing as an airport for use of private Canadian and foreign planes will be investigated by the Aviation Committee of the Board of Trade, who will interview the City Council on this matter.

A natural airport site near city limits, the field is the location of the Department of Transport radio range station on the transcontinental route. As an emergency landing field, it has been equipped with runway lights and has a revolving light beacon, which operates only in an emergency. The site is city-owned and the City has done some work on it in levelling, extending and fencing, but it has never been surfaced, is weedy and rough for small craft.

The Board of Trade is also interested in having the Canadian Pacific Railway reserve for Cranbrook traffic part of a sleeping car systematically on the Eastbound train which leaves here nightly soon after midnight. Under present conditions the Board maintains that berths on the Eastbound are infrequently available at Cranbrook, as they are sold at Nelson.

District road conditions continue to bother the Board of Trade, who are voicing their dissatisfaction at the rate of improvement to the Provincial Minister of Public Works, and the Cranbrook member of the Legislature, Dr. F. W. Green.

House-to-House Calls, Cranbrook Clothing Drive

CRANBROOK, B. C., July 1 — Wednesday, July 3, has been set by a general local committee as the date for Cranbrook's used clothing collection for overseas relief. Mayor A. J. Balment, Mark Cook, R. T. Simpson and V. C. Brown are the committee in charge.

Canvassers who go on the job early Wednesday and will collect through the city in house-to-house calls will come from service clubs and other community organizations. Collecting depot will be the Cranbrook Armories, where the collection will be packed by members of the Kuskanook Chapter, I.O.D.E., for overseas shipment.

The public has been asked to have its contributions bundled and ready for collection, and if a house is overlooked the occupant can leave his bundle at the Armories.

Literary Awards Presented By Governor-General for First Time

TORONTO, July 1 (CP)—For the first time in the history of the Canadian Authors' Association the Governor-General's Literary Awards were made personally by the Governor-General at a banquet concluding the Association's 25th Annual Convention Saturday night.

Lord Alexander presented silver medals, recognized as the highest distinctions available to Canadian writers in Canada, for four books published in 1945.

The awards went to Hugh MacLennan for "two solitudes," a novel, Mrs. Evelyn Richardson for "We Keep a Light," a book of creative non-fiction, Earle Birney in the poetry division for "Now Is the Time" and Ross Munro for "Gauntlet to Overlord" in the academic non-fiction class. The award to Ross Munro at present European Correspondent for The Canadian Press was received on his behalf by his mother, Mrs. Ross Munro.

W. A. Deacon, Literary Editor of the Toronto Globe and Mail who succeeds R. S. Kennedy of Montreal as President of the Association, made a strong appeal for united effort in the interests of the future of Canadian literature.

"For the first time, Canada's writers are an influence on public thought," said Mr. Deacon, "their books are pushing out into foreign lands in an ever-widening stream.

"Either Canadian literature triumphs, overcoming all the unique handicaps and obstacles confronting the Canadian writery and in the result Canada becomes a great nation, realizing her immense potentials or we fail to manufacture the cement of a strong native literature, and Canada ceases to enjoy a separate existence, becoming merely a Northerly extension of the ecofiomy of the United States."

Officers elected by acclamation in addition to Mr. Deacon included:

Vice-Presidents, British Columbia and Alberta, W. G. Hardy, Edmonton; Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Kathleen Strange, Winnipeg.

Counsel—C. W. Topping, Vancouver.

Council—James Morton, Vancouver.

Regional representatives: British Columbia, Audrey Alexander Brown, Yvonne Stevenson, Celesta Hamer-Jackson, all of Vancouver.

WILLOW POINT, B.C.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blunt have as their guest, Pte. Ernest Blunt of the Canadian Scottish, just arrived from Holland. His bride will arrive as soon as passage is available.

Indian Independence Threatens Colorful Lives of Maharajas

By PRESTON GROVER

NEW DELHI, India, July 1 (AP) The approach of independence for India threatens to upset one of the most colorful and romantic features of life in India—the autocratic rule of the mighty Maharajas.

These princely rulers range from the Nizam of Hyderabad, reputed to be the richest man in the world, to petty rulers whose domains would not match a good-sized Western cattle ranch. Some of the ruling houses reach back 1000 years or more. Tradition says some of them, notably of Mewar, are descended from the sun.

With few exceptions they have been distinguished by lavish display. Only in recent years has their love of luxury and extravagant living been curbed somewhat by pressure of public opinion, but they still live in a manner probably not matched anywhere else in the world.

Altogether there are more than 600 native states in India, ranging downward from Hyderabad and Kashmir, the largest, to those consisting of a few small villages. Their total area, 709,583 square miles, compares with 1,094,300 square miles in the provinces, districts and agencies directly under British rule.

One of the suggestions advanced by the powerful All-India Congress for the proposed new Indian constitution is to retain the Maharajas of the bigger states, provided they set up something akin to democratic rule within their domains. The Chamber of Princes on their own initiative earlier said they would no that, but progress has not been rapid.

It is no easy job remaining Maharaja of Kashmir. The Maharaja, Sir Hari Singh, is a Hindu; more than 90 per cent of his subjects are Moslems and they long have been galled by the Hindu circle which has run the Government.
