N.S. Premier in New Tax Talk; Hart Has Parleys Today

Authorities Quiet on Second Conference With Macdonald; B.C. Premier to Meet King and Ilsley

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP)—Premier Macdonald returned to Nova Scotia from Ottawa today amid some evidence that new ground had been broken in a brief week-end resumption of negotiations for a Dominion-provincial agreement and Premier Hart of British Columbia was waiting here to reopne conferences with the Federal Government for the same purpose.

Premier Hart's talks were to begin Monday.

In a flying visit, Premier Macdonald conferred Saturday with Finance Minister Ilsley, shortly after the Dominion minister had returned from a trip to Quebec City. It was the second meeting of the two on the financial agreement question within a few weeks.

Federal authorities tonight were non-committal about the results of the meeting, saying merely that Mr. Ilsley and Mr. Macdonald had met and that the provincial premier would report on the outcome of the discussions to his government colleagues.

A high Federal official, asked by The Canadian Press if any new approaches to the problem had been made by either party, declined to confirm or deny that any had been made.

DEMANDS UNCHANGED

Before the meeting, Mr. Macdonald had declared his Government was standing pat on its original attitude, which called for return of the gasoline and amusement tax fields to the province. Also, The Canadian Press had been informed the Dominion Government had given some indications it might be willing to compromise somewhat on the terms laid down in the budget speech of last August.

For Premier Hart, his discussions will be the first his Government has had with Ottawa on the taxation question since the break-up of the Dominion-Provincial Conferences last May.

"So far as we are concerned," he said tonight, "the situation is unchanged from the last conference. We have never discussed the proposals in the budget speech with Ottawa, and that is what I am here for."

The British Columbia premier did not indicate what he proposed to ask of the Federal Government but he said last week that, if British Columbia did not enter into an agreement with Ottawa, there would have to be a cut of about 10 per cent in Federal corporation and personal income tax to let his province get into that field.

Premier Hart had an interview scheduled for tomorrow with Prime Minister Mackenzie King, and later he was to meet Finance Minister Ilsley.

P. C.'s, Socreds Expected To Lead Attack Against Continuance of Wartime Controls in Parliament

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP)—Government policy regarding price and other controls tonight emerged as likely to engender the first verbal clash after Parliament opens, possibly late next month.

A source close to Government circles expressed belief that the Progressive Conservative and Social Credit parties will wage a stiff battle when the Government introduces legislation calling for continuance of some of the wartime controls.

These controls are due to end when emergency legislation expires March 31, 1947, but Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other officials concerned with the subject have emphasized that legislation would be introduced to maintain control over such things as prices and rents.

The source said it was anticipated that the first Liberal Party caucus the Government would be urged, possibly by Quebec members, to relinquish at least some of the controls.

That controls will be maintained was stressed by Mr. King Saturday when he announced in Quebec that wage and salary controls had been abolished.

"... the removal of controls shall take place in a gradual and orderly manner so as to protect the standards of living and value of the war savings of the people."

A high Government authority said Mr. King's remarks were a studied statement of Government policy. He had been asked to comment on a report, not carried by The Canadian Press, that all wartime economic controls, except rents, would be lifted before Parliament meets.

He added that Mr. King had told "all that could be said" on the subject.

REINFORCE CEILINGS

Some question was raised here as to whether the new wage set-up, tending to increase the national payroll, might not produce inflationary pressure against the present ceilings. However, the indications were that, rather than yield to the pressure, Prices Board authorities would merely batten down the hatches a little more tightly.

There also was considerable speculation over the future of another control—meat rationing — and suggestion was heard that it might be discontinued shortly. But Government sources said they saw little possibility of taking meat off the rationed list before Spring or early Summer.

A great variety of articles still remain under price control, including food, clothing, household equipment and supplies, luggage and leather goods, tools and garden equipment, agriculture and fishermen equipment, construction products, motor vehicles, petroleum, rubber, oils and fats.

Mrs. Charles Kelsey of Erickson Is North American Wheat "King"

Culminates Work Of Many Years On Exhibition Grain

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 — A Canadian is once more Wheat King of North America. This year's crown rests on the head of Mrs. Charles Kelsey of Erickson, British Columbia. Mrs. Kelsey's sample of hard red Spring type wheat today was adjudged the finest at the 47th International Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

Her entry weighed 66½ pounds to the bushel.

The newly-crowned soy bean champion is an American H. L. Stiegelmeier of Normal, Illinois. The reserve soy bean championship went to an Ontario man—Robert H. Peez of River Canard.

Canadians have won the wheat title every year since 1928. The last international was in 1941 when William Miller of Edmonton won the much-coveted crown.

W. S. Simpson, Canadian grain grower of Dawson Creek, B. C., was named "Rye King" of North America at the Hay and Grain Show. His successful entry weighed 56.6 pounds to the bushel.

Mrs. Kelsey has won about 40 prizes in several years' showing of seed grain raised in the Kootenays, securing triumphs at seed fairs in Vancouver and Toronto as well as Chicago.

MRS. CHARLES KELSEY

In 1937 she won seventh prize for hard red Spring wheat at Chicago and showed Reward wheat which graded No. 1 hard, weighed 65 pounds to the bushel and was outstanding as to germination.

Along with this fine showing, Mrs. Kelsey also captured two third prizes on Dent and Flint corn shown at the Royal Winter fair in Toronto in November, 1936.

Starting in 1934 with a 37 prize, Mrs. Kelsey the following year had improved her position to stand 22nd. In 1936 the same marked improvement was manifest to land her in 12th place and in 1937 she continued this better to achieve seventh highest standing in a class that carried a very heavy entry.

Her showing in corn at Toronto was equally creditable. In three exhibits in 1936, she was successful in winning a second and sixth prize. In 1937 in three entries she brought home two thirds. In corn Mrs. Kelsey stuck consistently to the Dent and Flint varieties. In 1934 at Chicago she displayed Marquis wheat, but for the previous years she had shown Reward exclusively.

Charles Webster, Kaslo Alderman, Mayor, Dies; 45 Years in Kootenay

KASLO, B.C., Dec. 1—Charles W. Webster, for many years an alderman on the City Council and for one year Mayor, died suddenly Saturday at his home. He was 70 years old.

C. W. WEBSTER, KASLO

Mr. Webster, who lived in the Kootenays for 45 years, was active in almost every phase of Kaslo life. He served as Alderman several times and was Mayor in the 1944-45 term, at the same time taking part in Hospital Board and School Board activities.

Steward of St. Andrew's United Church, he was born in Edinborough, Scotland.

He owned a Kaslo grocery store for many years after he worked with E. L. Smith in his grocery store. Mr. Webster also aided Mr. Blackburn in publishing the Kootenaian, and was a member of the Kaslo Golf and Country Club.

BUCK AGAINST BRINGING POLISH VETS TO CANADA

WINNIPEG, Dec. 1 (CP)—Labor Progressive Party leader Tim Buck charged in a public address here today that Gen. Anders' Polish Army veterans who had been allowed admittance to Canada were being propagandized.

"A year or two from now these veterans, who had been working on farms, will be pounding the streets looking for employment. The labor movement should protest the bringing of Polish veterans here."

Mr. Buck did not explain what he meant by the Poles being "propagandized."

FIND BRIDE'S BODY

OAKLAND, Me., Dec. 1 (AP)—The decomposed body of Mrs. Edith Norman, 27, missing since July 7, five weeks after her marriage, was found Saturday by her husband, Earlen, in woods behind the Norman home. Police said both arms were missing, the left leg lay nearby and the neck was encircled by a fragment of clothesline.

CREWS LABOR TO FREE BODIES FROM WRECKAGE

Four Crewmen Killed When Trains Collide in Ontario

15-BELOW-ZERO

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Dec 1 (CP) — Seven wrecking crews were working under floodlights tonight to extricate the bodies of four crewmen killed when two Duluth, Winnipeg and Pacific Railway trains collided near Virginia, Minn., 75 miles South of here, today. The line is operated by the Canadian National Railways.

The wreck, described as the worst in the history of the D.W. & P., swung the Northbound locomotive completely around, leaving it lying on top of the Southbound engine.

The names of only two of those killed were known immediately. One was Paul Kelly, of Duluth, a fireman, and the other was Willard Young, also of Duluth, engineer.

Kelly's body, with his wristwatch still running, was removed from the wreck, but that of the engineer was still trapped under the twisted shell of the train late tonigh.

Igor Keith, of Virginia, another fireman, was reported in critical condition tonight. Caught by a flying boxcar when he jumped as the collision took place, he was pinned down for three hours, suffering shock, frostbite and two broken legs.

ROLLS HURLED TO TREETOPS

Wrecking crews, working in 15-below weather, did not expect to have the line cleared until tomorrow night.

The crews reported that wreckage was strewn over a large area. Newsprint rolls carried in a boxcar on one of the trains was tossed about when the car splintered, some paper even being found on treetops.

LITTLE FLOWER TO RESIGN

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—Fiorello H. La Guardia said Saturday he would announce his resignation as Director-General of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in a speech opening U.N.R.R.A.'s Council meeting in Washington Dec. 10.

FIND DRIVER SHOT

TORONTO, Dec. 1 (CP) — Shot through the head with .38 calibre bullet, the body of Alfred Reddish, 53-year-old taxi driver, was found slumped over the wheel of his taxicab late Saturday night in Toronto's West End.

3 CANADIANS CONTINENT'S TOP GRAIN GROWERS

Rye King's Writing A Puzzler for Exposition Judges

ENTRY UNKNOWN

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 (CP)—Canadian grain-growers — two from British Columbia and one from Ontario — were named "Wheat King," "Rye King" and "Oats King" of North America in weekend judging at the Hay and Grain Show running here in conjunction with the International Livestock Exposition.

They were:

Wheat King — Mrs. Charles Kelsey of Erickson, B.C., whose hard red Spring Wheat weighed 66.5 pounds a bushel.

Rye King — W. S. Simpson of Dawson Creek, B.C., whose "Hiram Cane" — apparently a new species — weighed 56.6 pounds a bushel.

CHICAGO, Decv. 1 (CP) — A Canadian grain-grower whose almost-illegible handwriting made it difficult for judges and newspapermen to tell of his success — W. S. Simpson of Dawson Creek, B.C.—was named "Rye King of North America" Saturday at the Hay and Grain Show running in conjunction with the International Livestock Show here.

With an entry weighing 56 6 pounds a bushel, the new king mounted his throne—but as far as officials were concerned his sceptre was a question mark.

No one here pretends to be adept at reading Simpson's writing and hence no one knows what variety of rye he entered. Simpson was not here to speak for himself. As far as judges, peering through a Sherlock-Holmes magnifying glass, could decide, it a new species labelled "Hiram Cane."

To add to the confusion, original press reports gave the new king's name as Dawson.

C. H. E. Walther of Boonville, Mo., was named reserve Rye King.

In the last International in 1941, Brodie placed first in the same event with the same type of animal.

Either "W. J." or "C. J." (Brodie, Senior) has been a force to reckon with for years in the Livestock Show. Previous to this year's show, the Brodies had won eight successive animal titles in the carlot lamb contest. The Brodie record has not been approached by any other show family.

Jane's Blouse Alright With London Council

LONDON, Dec. 1—The battle over Jane Russell and her style of dress is over. Londoners now are free to look at the curvaceous Jane as much as they want to.

The posters show Miss Russell, star of the film, The Outlaw, wearing what is for her a traditionally low-necked blouse. An inspector reported to London County Council that the neckline showed altogether too much of Jane, and the County Council did consider painting in a little extra blouse or something. But eventually they decided that Miss Russell's blouse wasn't actually indecent or demoralizing. So Miss Russell is wearing her generously cut blouse just as Hollywood intended her to.

New Holy Land Peace Plan Suggests Mandate Continue for 15 Years; 52 Questioned After Violence

JERUSALEM, Dec. 1 (AP) — A new seven-point plan reported to have been suggested by Palestine Government experts for bringing peace to the Holy Land was published today as police questioned 52 persons in connection with Saturday night's machine-gun attack on a police station and accompanying violence that injured two Jews and two British constables.

A communique declared the attackers were believed to have suffered injuries, and said 16 road mines had been removed from highways leading into the city.

The usually reliable Socialist Hebrew paper Mishmar published the latest plan for Palestine, and said the Palestine Government had offered it as a basis for future discussions among the Jews, Arabs and British. The seven points were:

Continuance ofthe present British mandate for 15 years with a new decision possible after that time; opening Palestine to 100,000 Jews within the next 18 months; federalizing Palestine into purely Jewish, Arab and British sectors with the British sector including places of special interest to Christians; halting further Jewish settlement where Arabs constitute more than 70 per cent of the population and making land purchase for Jewish colonization possible in other areas only under certain conditions; Jewish settlement in the Southern Palestine Desert to be permitted; establishment of separate Jewish and Arab police forces jointly headed by the British Supreme Police Command; establishment of a legislative council of 40 per cent Jews, 40 per cent Moslem Arabs and 20 per cent Christian Arabs and other Christians to assist the mandatory administration.

(A Foreign Office spokesman in London said he had not heard of the plan. He considered it "very unlikely" that such a proposal, if it existed, had reached any official level.)

Meanwhile Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chief of the British Imperial General Staff, went to Athens after a series of conferences with military and other security officers.

FALSE BOMB WARNING

A dispatch from Famagusta on Cyprus reported about 1500 men, women and children—part of the 4000 Jewish immigrants who had been barred from Palestine last week—were landed there for removal to detention camps.

The landing was carried out quietly.

Palestine also was quiet today, with the only flurry of excitement an anonymous "bomb warning" received at the Jerusalem Post Office. The building was closed and a search held, but no explosives were found.

Police to Shoot to Kill as Blood Flows in Shanghai

By SPENCER MOOSA

SHANGHAI, Dec. 2 (Monday) (AP)—Dozens of Shanghai shops reopened this morning as well-armed foot and motorized patrols—with shoot-to-kill orders—guarded against any resumption of bloody weekend rioting which city officials blamed upon Communists.

Many stores, however, still were closed and tightly shuttered, with proprietors evidently fearful of further violence.

The day began quietly, and at mid-morning a municipal spokesman said "we think we have the situation under control."

By SPENCER MOOSA

SHANGHAI, Dec. 1 (AP)—Shoot-to-kill orders were issued to police tonight and the Woosung garrison declared an emergency as shuttered Shanghai strove to choke off bloody rioting which authorities blamed on the Communists.

At least 100 persons were reported injured and property damage was high in the wreckage of shops, automobiles and street cars from riots which began Saturday with the wholesale arrest of unlicenced sidewalk veridors.

In an emotion-choked broadcast address tonight, Shanghai's Mayor K. C. Wu, ordinarily suave and serene, announced he had ordered police to shoot to kill anyone disturbing the peace or carrying unauthorized arms. He said no one had yet been killed, despite reports to the contrary.

The Mayor appealed to all places of business to reopen tomorrow. Most were closed today under threat of the riot leaders to smash them if they opened.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Mr. Wu announced the Woosung Garrison had been placed in a state of emergency and martial law — never repealed since liberation — was being strictly invoked for the first time.

Armed members of the Peace-Conservation Corps patrolled the tense streets, in which unwonted silence was broken by intermittent gunfire. Regular troops had not been called in.

The Mayor told foreign correspondents he held the Communist underground responsible for the outbreak and said they were terrorists whose sole aim was to destroy the peace and security of this greatest city in China.

In his statements for domestic consumption he did not name the Communists, possibly fearing this would aggravate a situation already the ugliest since Japanese occupation. The Mayor said, however, that representatives of the sidewalk merchants visited him at his home today and gave him a written declaration that they were not responsible for the rioting.

Failing to storm the jail, which police defended with fire hoses, tear gas, guns and clubs, the mob outside spread through the heart of Shanghai, wrecking and looting. A theatre near the race course was seized by the rioters for use as headquarters.

BUSINESSES THREATENED

The uproar continued all Saturday night and there was sporadic firing all day today. Shops which opened today were wrecked.

Tonight the city presented a grim appearance. All stores on the once-thriving thoroughfares were dark. The usually noisy night life was almost completely stilled.

Keepers of several foreign-owned bars and cabarets said well-dressed Chinese called on them and in impeccable English advised them to close immediately or risk "plenty of trouble." The operators said they did not know these Chinese but took them at their word and closed.

A careful check of riot incidents indicated anti-foreign feeling was not a factor in the rioting, although some foreigners said their faces were punched by assailants who stopped their cars.

Some of the attackers, they said, shouted "Down with Nanking," and "Chou En-lai is right." Chou En-lai is China's No. 2 Communist and recent unsuccessful negotiator with the Government.

INDIA LEADERS FLY TO LONDON FOR CONFERENCE

To Strive to Save Independence Plan, Avert Strife

PERSUADE JINNAH

CAIRO, Dec. 1 (AP)—Viscount Wavell, Viceroy of India, arrived here today en route to London, accompanied by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Vice-President of the interim government, and M. A. Jinnah, President of the Indian Moslem League. They are expected to leave for London tomorrow.

JINNAH THREATENED PLANS

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP)—British officials tonight hoped, after another day of off-again-on-again decisions by India's antagonistic political leaders, that all would arrive here for a conference on saving the plan for Indian independence and averting a communal war.

Representatives of the Indian Congress Party, the Moslem League and the Sikhs-left Karachi with the Viceroy, Viscount Wavell, for the flight to London.

But Mahommed Ali Jinnah, President of the Moslem League, almost wrecked the plans for all-party participation in the round-table by a last-minute change of mind—which he later reversed.

An exchange of correspondence made public Saturday disclosed Prime Minister Attlee also had persuaded Jawaharlal Nehru, leading Congress minister in India's interim government, to change his original decision not to attend the conference only by promising him that Britain's plan for transition to Indian independence would not be abandoned and the conferees could return to India in time to go through with the scheduled convening of the constituent assembly Dec. 9.

6000 KILLED

Jinnah, who first accepted the invitation to London with alacrity, was reliably reported to have notified Britain Friday night he was not coming after all if the talks were to be restricted to the present British plan for Indian independence. He also has been an advocate of postponing the constituent assembly in the present state of Indian turmoil.

Lord Wavell and Liaquat Ali Khan, Moslem League Secretary, had a conference with Jinnah when they arrived at Karachi from New Delhi Saturday, however, and Jinnah hold a press conference he definitely had decided to leave for London after an exchange of telegrams between Mr. Attlee and himself.

Officials, describing the present Hindu-Moslem strife as tantamount to "civil war," have disclosed that more than 6000 persons have been killed.

Use Tear Gas to Dislodge Man After All-Night Siege

CAPLETON, Que., Dec. 1 (CP)—Provincial Police used tear gas following an all-night siege today to oust Lloyd Sergent, 68, who police said shot a noisy neighbor and then entrenched himself in his house with a loaded shotgun.

Sergent was booked on an attempted murder charge.

TRUCK CONVOYS HEAD FOR ALASKA HIGHWAY

EDMONTON, Dec. 1 (CP) — A convoy of 18 trucks loaded with Winter supplies for the Alaska railroad was rolling over Northern Alberta roads tonight headed for the Alaska highway and Fairbanks, Alaska.

Officials of the Alaska Highway Control Office (Canadian) said the trucks left Edmonton early today on the 470 mile trip Northwest to Dawson Creek, Southern terminus of the Alaska highway.

The convoy, made up of former United States Navy army vehicles, left Seattle, Wash., last week manned by 29 railway employees flown from Alaska for the journey.

Control Office officials also reported that three trucks loaded with food supplies for Alaska left Edmonton Saturday for Dawson Creek and the 1700 mile trip up the highway to Fairbanks. The trucks were part of an eight to 12 vehicle convoy that left Great Falls, Mont., last week. Several vehicles were delayed by mechanical trouble after crossing the British-Columbia-Idaho border at Kingsgate. They are expected to pass through Edmonton en route North this week.

New Tax Plan Will Cost Working Couple Only $100 More Yearly

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP) — While protests flow to the Revenue Department agains the decrease next year in the tax exemption for married women, officials of the Canadian Welfare Council and National Employment Service counsel married couples—both working—to take another squint at the new tax regulations.

The nurse and teacher, for instance, who have considered tossing aside starched apron and white chalk for a printed pinny and pan in the kitchen may discover it still pays to work—even if a husband must start digging down where it hurts after his wife makes more than $200.

It's the concensus of people who go into such things that it will cost the working couple approximately $100 extra in taxes if the wife keeps her job.

"And no woman, who is well-established in a good job, is going to chuck it to save $100 yearly," said a top National Employment official.

Asked for an opinion on the new regulations, officials of the Canadian Welfare Council referred to a recent survey by the Toronto Welfare Council.

NO GREAT CHANGE

The survey, made available to similar organizations in other parts of Canada, carries examples of tax calculations illustrating the net position of husband and wife in 1946 and 1947.

Under 1946 taxation plans a married woman could receive an income of $660 before her husband's exemption of $1500 was affected. The provision reducing the $660 to $250 becomes effective Jan. 1.

"While the husband pays more tax in 1947, he does pay so little more that the total net position (amount left after tax payment) of his wife and himself taken together, is not very much less than the situation in 1946," the report said.

The examples showed that "with a wife earning $1200 and the husband $2500, the total amount which they will have left in 1947 will be only $94.50 less than in 1946." Another example of a wife earning $1700, with a husband earning $3000, showed that in 1947 the pair would have only $68.50 less than it received for this year.

The report concluded: "The total amount of net loss in a typical case will be something of the order of $60 to $90."

It added that "if there is a dependent child in the family the additional exemption of $100 for the husband plus the family allowances will just about make up the moderate loss which the new tax situation involves."

The report shows that a husband in the $2000-$4000-a-year income class will benefit by a $200 drop in his tax if his wife stops working. On the other hand "this $200 must be balanced against the $1100 to $1700 which will be lost if the wife leaves employment."

FEAR WITHDRAWALS

Nevertheless fear has been expressed in some areas that the new tax exemption will mean a wholesale withdrawal of married women essential in many industries where there are not sufficient unmarried women and where the jobs cannot be done by men.

Meanwhile, in the rural areas the farmer's wife isn't paying much attention to this urban fracas. Officials of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture say the new exemption is approximately what a farmer's wife is permitted on the money she makes from the sale of produce grown in her garden, of eggs from the hens she has raised, or of dairy products from the cows she milks daily.

"What shall I compare it to, this fantastic thing I call my Mind?" asks Logan Pearsall Smith in All Trivia. "To a waste-paper basket, to a sieve choked with sediment or to a barrel full of floating froth and refuse? No, what it is really most like is a spider's web, insecurely hung on leaves and twigs, quivering in every wind, and sprinkled with dewdrops and dead flies. And at its geometric center, pondering forever the Problem of Existence, sits motionless and spiderlike the uncanny Soul."

Braefoot Housing Subject Today

VICTORIA, B.C., Dec. 1 (CP)—The Braefoot Veterans Housing controversy will be aired here Tuesday when representatives of the Veterans Land Act Administration from Vancouver, Zone Council of the Canadian Legion (Victoria), Greater Victoria Citizens' Rehabilitation Council and Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., for Nanaimo, meet in the local C.L.A. headquarters.

While General Pearkes said he had been invited to attend such a conference, J. D. Patterson, regional officer of the V.L.A. here, said he knew nothing of any contemplated meeting Tuesday.

General Pearkes inspected V.L.A. houses in Nanaimo Saturday and said he found them a similar design to those on the Braefoot Estate here. Prices were not fixed and Nanaimo District veterans were anxious to know what they are going to cost, the General added.

LONDON, Dec. 1 — The British Isles were wrapped up in a lot of barbed wire during the war when invasion seemed probable. It was a necessity then—but now it is a problem. The discarded tanks, huts, sandbags, corrugated iron and other army gear still clutter up the countryside, too, but clearance of those items is just a matter of manpower to cart them away.

The barbed wire situation is different. For instance, in the House of Commons the other day, the Independent Member for Cambridge University wanted to know if the 18 miles of barbed wire coiling around the common at Leith Hill in Surrey would be removed in the next year or two. So the Secretary for War, Captain F. J. Bellenger, has appealed for volunteers to help the Government remove the wire from its strategic wartime placements.

U.S. "Hell-Bent" For Another Depression—Reuther

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Dec. 1 (CP)—Walter Reuther, International President of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) told a union meeting here Saturday night that "the United States is hell-bent for another depression and if we go into another economic tailspin it will affect you as Canadians."

Mr. Reuther asserted that the stock market had "dropped 20 billions and the boys in Wall Street are unloading because they know we are heading for another collapse." He said that goods worth $37,000,000,000 were stored in United States warehouses "to break price control."

"A depression means that children won't eat, and at the long end of another depression is another world war."

But we know you are happy dear father with Him.
And to be happy together, forever more.

Putnam Pays Tribute to "Wheat Queen"

OTTAWA, Dec. 2 (Monday) (CP) Tribute to Mrs. A. Kelsey of Erickson, B.C., newly-crowned "Wheat Queen" of North America, came early today from one of her neighbors — Hon. Frank Putnam, British Columbia Agriculture Minister.

"I am very pleased to hear that Mrs. Kelsey won the award," said Mr. Putnam, who lives "just across the road" from the new winner.

The Agriculture Minister recalled that in 1940, Mrs. KeKlsey had placed seventh in the show with a sample of Reward Wheat.

"Her showing is the more surprising since she and her husband operate only a small farm," Mr. Putnam added. He estimated its extent at about 10 acres.

Lad Hangs Himself In "Game"

CORNWALL, Ont., Dec. 1 (CP)—Realism ended a game Saturday when nine-year-old Henry Lupein hanged himself accidentally while playing with his brother as their mother was out Christmas shopping.

Henry and Roger Lupein, 10, and another youngster fashioned the game from a quarter-inch length of rope and a scantling protruding from a pile of lumber. Henry, his brother related, wanted to be the first one "hanged" and placed the noose round his neck before stepping off the lumber pile.

When he began to get blue in the face, the youngsters tried to hold him up, but he was too heavy. Roger ran home and got a knife to cut the lad down, but he was too late.

CRACK DOWN ON REVIVAL OF KU KLUX KLAN

Charters Revoked By Courts in Several States

OTHERS MOVE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—The American government, and the individual states themselves, are cracking down on any revival of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the mid-twenties, it was estimated that the Klan had two million members. It was a political power in large sections of the Middle and the Far West. And in hundreds of communities—from Oregon to Massachusetts—religious and racial prejudice turned neighbor against neighbor.

During the recent war, the Klan was relatively dormant. It is not believed to be very strong right now However, officials want to make certain it does not flourish again the way it did after the First Great War.

In the middle of the past Summer, the Justice Department launched an investigation of Klan operations in seven states. Now it's planning to extend that inquiry to other states.

Last May, Georgia Klan leaders proclaimed a rebirth of the invisible empire. Since then, state charters of the hooded order have been revoked by courts in California, New York, Kentucky, and New Jersey.

Georgia also has brought suit to dissolve the order's state charter. And Governor Martin of Pennsylvania has turned over to the Justice Department a police report of Klan activities.

The Justice Department also is looking into the possibility of an alliance between the Klan and former German American Bund. Evidence of pre-war collaboration is said to indicate that the Klan and the Bund were aiming to form an anti-Labor third party, apparently in a move to align other elements of the population against Labor.

Hunger Stalks British Zone

BERLIN, Dec. 1 — British military authorities are considering drastic proposals for relieving hunger and Winter hardship in the British occupation zone of Germany. The proposals include reducing exports of fuel and power and importing more food.

It was also recommended that the British stop tearing down German factories for the time being, and the German war prisoners be released in order to provide labor. The suggestions were made by the zonal advisory council for the British zone, and they are now before the British Military Government.

The Advisory Council said drastic measures would have to be taken to save the people from "further starvation", and to achieve the normal output of work. The Council said "misery and despair" were on the upswing in the British zone.

Floods Spread In England As Rain Continues

LONDON, Dec. 1 (CP-Cable) — Torrential rain falling on Southern England has caused rapid spreading of Thames river floods and thousands of new acres were inundated with the stream still rising today.

The main London-Windsor road was closed to traffic with several major bus routes affected. Housewives were paddling in skiffs from their homes to do their weekend shopping in several areas including Wargrave, Berkshire.

Eton, Buckinghamshire, is practically surrounded by water and riverside houses have water on the ground floors. Many families were evacuated from flooded houses at Wraybury, Bucks. At Oxford, the flood was reported much worse. Villagers at Wolvercote, near Oxford, have been forced to live upstairs because water is inside their homes.

This has been the wettest November for six years with rainfall almost double London's November average.

Supplies of potatoes, fish and fruit in London stores have been reduced by the bad weather which has curtailed normal transportation and has kept fishing boats in port.

At Windsor, Berkshire, the Thames is three feet above normal and the flood was spreading across the Eton Public School playing fields and the low-lying land between Windsor and Staines, Middlesex.

Heavy seas prevented an attempt to get a relief crew to the Royal Sovereign lightship seven miles off Eastbourne, Sussex. The crew now is five days overdue for relief.

Wins U.S. Medal Of Merit

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—A Canadian-born veteran of two wars is wearing the United States Medal of Merit today. He is Sir William Stephenson the former director of British Security Services.

Sir William, born in Winnipeg, fought the First Great War in the Royal Flying Corps. In the last war, he directed Security Services, behind a cloak of secrecy that may never be completely pierced.

The man who presented the medal to Sir William was General William Donovan, former head of the United States Office of Strategic Service. The two worked together throughout the war and they were familiarly known as Big Bill and Little Bill. It was Little Bill—Sir William Stephenson—who received the United States' highest civilian decoration in New York.

From brief disclosures the Canadian Press has pieced something of the story together. Unpretentious houses outside Toronto and Montreal served as schools where professional instructors taught the dangerous game of Security to Canadian, British, and American agents. And Sir William's New York headquarters was working "round the clock seven days a week to co-ordinate activities.

The Canadian schools were just ordinary houses set back from the highway. Canadians who lived near the Toronto and Montreal schools had no idea that anything unusual was going on.

Later the Americans established their own schools, but agents trained in Canada formed the nucleus of United States Security forces in the Far East.

Sir William, an erect, dapper man at fifty, was described as an ideal liaison between Britain and North America because of his Canadian background.

GREECE TO LAY CHARGE, U. N. ADVISED

U. S. Agrees Atom Bomb Control Priority Subject

VETO BLOCK

ATHENS, Dec. 1—The Greek Premier has formally notified Soviet Russia that Greece intends to register a plaint with the United Nations Security Council. Premier Saidaris told the Russian Charge D' Affaires in Athens today that Greece will charge so-called foreign sources with inspiring and directing disorders and violence in Northern Greece.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 1 (AP)—The United States agreed with Russia that control of the atom bomb should be given top priority in any consideration of general arms reductions.

In a counter-proposal to the Soviet Union's Arms program, the United States stressed that agreement must be reached in the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission on a system to outlaw the deadly bomb.

However, the American stand differed sharply from the Russian position over a check on the results with the United States insisting that all controls and inspections having to do with atomic weapons or any other means of mass destruction be kept outside the range of the veto

Although the American resolution made no specific mention of the veto a spokesman for the delegation said the text made it clear that effective safeguards could not be had if one nation could block the whole process by a single vote.

Russia has repeatedly stated that all checkups should be controlled by the Security Council, where she holds the veto along with China, France, the United States and Great Britain.

The U. S. proposal also differed in effect from the attitude taken by Sir Hartley Shawcross, chief British delegate, who told the 54-Nation Political Committee that he rejected Soviet demands that the scrapping of the atom bomb be the first step toward the arms cutting program. He agreed that the bomb should be outlawed but only as part of the general plan.

Earlier France warned the U. N. that control measures covering the bomb and arms reduction would be ineffective unless the veto was eliminated.

H. V. Wellington Koo, China's chief delegate, said that his country also favored giving up the veto on atomic matters.

Bulgaria Claims Greece Disturbing Frontier Tranquility

SOFIA, Dec. 1 — The Government of Bulgaria has fired a diplomatic broadside in the direction of Greece.

The Foreign Office in Sofia asserted today that "planes of unknown nationality" have flown from Greece over Bulgarian territory seven times in the last five weeks. A Bulgarian official declared.

"The purpose of the increased Greek campaign against Bulgaria is clear. Greece tries to spoil the Bulgarian name before the Foreign Ministers Council and the United Nations. The Greeks are actually the ones who have disturbed the tranquility along the frontier."

Scientist Must Have Freedom

LONDON, Dec. 1 — Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade of Britain, declared today that the state must keep hands off scientific research.

The British Cabinet member spoke at the anniversary dinner of the Royal Society, an organization of Britain's leading scientists. Said Sir Stafford:

"One thing is to my mind quite certain, and that is that there must be absolute freedom for the researcher to wander over the field of knowledge wherever his will and his genius take him. The discipline and carefully costed economy of production methods are wholly out of place in the matter of pure research."

Say Boy Admits Shooting Father After Mom Beaten

SEATTLE, Dec. 1 (AP)—A 16-year-old Seattle boy, who police say has admitted in a signed statement he shot and killed his father with a borrowed rifle after a family quarrel last night, is being held in the city jail today on an open charge.

Coroner John P. Brill, Jr., said the slain man, Charles F. Jenkins, 62, a janitor at the Seattle Port of Embarkation, was shot through the head and back.

Detectives reported the youth, William L. Jenkins, called the police late in the evening and said, "I've just shot my father; please send a car to get me."

The boy told the detectives he borrowed a rifle from a neighbor "to kill rats" after his father had beaten his mother and ordered him "to get out."

His signed statement continued: "When I came in the door my father was alone. He said something about my not being wanted any more. He was drinking . . . and sitting on the kitchen floor. I shot once into the wall to scare him. Then I shot him in the shoulder. Then I shot him in the head."

DIDN'T EVEN GET HIS DRINK

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1 (CP)—W. J. Hicks won't be so accommodating for the next prowler he finds in his home. Hicks told police he caught a burglar in the act of robbing his home Saturday night and held him but left him momentarily when the man asked a drink of water. When he came back the prowler was gone—but empty-handed.

Indian Leader to Set Up Army To "Protect People"

RANGOON, Dec. 1 — An Indian political leader, Thakin Ba Sein, announced today that he would organize an army—as he put it—"for the protection of the people." Ba Sein charges that the interim government in which he is Minister of Transport and Communications has failed to preserve law and order.

Ba Sein also predicts that Indian political parties will be formed into a democratic National United Front Organization this week.

Expect Lewis, Gov't Battle To Last Week

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—Attorneys have indicated that the legal battle between mine workers chief John L. Lewis and the American government may last most of the week. And that forecast raises the prospect of one million American workers unemployed as a result of the bituminous miners' strike.

Government authorization of fines against the striking miners appears to have brought no miners whatsoever back to work. The fines range from $1 to $2 daily, and they'll go into the medical fund of the A.F.L. United Mine Workers.

The court trial will resume tomorrow, when Federal coal mines Administrator Captain N. H. Collisson is scheduled to take the witness stand once more for cross-examination by union lawyer Wally Hopkins.

As for effects of the soft coal strike on American production: the Magazine Steel estimates steel output last week at 65½ per cent of capacity, and it forecasts that by the end of this week production will drop below the 43 per cent level of last spring's coal strike.

Toronto Cabbie Murdered

TORONTO, Dec. 1 — Police in Toronto are probing a new murder mystery. They found 53-year-old Alfred Reddish dead behind the wheel of his taxi cab Saturday night. Reddish had been shot through the head by a .38 calibre bullet. The police discovered the shooting in an unusual fashion.

Two men, Charles Gay and Sydney Bandy, phoned police to report that Gay's car had been stolen at gunpoint by two men. Investigating the car theft, police officers found Reddish's taxi-cab standing nearby with the body slumped behind the wheel.

The shooting took place around 11 p.m. Saturday night. The police are working on the theory that the two men who stole Gay's car were using the vehicle for a get-away after shooting the cabbie. This theory has been substantiated by an eyewitness report of the actions on the mysterious pair after making off with the car. They drove down the street, drew to a stop by the taxi, opened the door, then returned to the stolen auto and drove off after turning around.

$1000 REWARD OFFERED

The Toronto Police Department has offered the largest reward in its history for the killers of Reddish. The reward is $1000, and police say they do not remember any reward larger than $500 being offered by the Police Department for the apprehension of a killer.

EMBASSY NOT INVOLVED SAYS ROOSEVELT

Furore Over His Russ Discussion Teapot Tempest

BLAMES SCRIBE

MOSCOW, Dec. 1—Elliott Roosevelt declared today that he has not accused the United States Embassy or the Embassy officials of being implicated in the publication of his off-the-record discussion in Moscow. He said that a newsman who apparently sent out such a story was the person who suggested to him that the Embassy was involved. Roosevelt said he was calling the newsman "right now." He said he also will inform the Embassy in Moscow of the true facts.

Roosevelt described the furore over his discussion a tempest in a teapot. He said it was reaching pretty absurd proportions. The original account of Roosevelt's discussion said that he criticized United States foreign policy and declared America had broken pledges made at Yalta, Potsdam and Tehran.

WASHINGTON, — A Republican Congressman criticized Elliott Roosevelt as what he termed an "Ambassador of ill will." The term was coined by representative Lawrence H. Smith of Wisconsin, who suggested that the State Department remove Roosevelt's passport privileges.

Smith is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. In a letter to Secretary of State James F Byrnes, he protested statements attributed to Roosevelt who is visiting in Russia. Smith said that the late President's son has openly courted Soviet favor at the expense of American standing and prestige abroad.

In the meantime, representative John Rankin has voiced opposition to what he termed the proposed investigation by the Committee on Unamerican Activities of Roosevelt's recent speech in Moscow Ranking declined to say who proposed the inquiry. The Mississippi democrat went on to say, however, that as a reserve army officer, Roosevelt is subject to court martial for any offense against the United States.

Seek Wage Gains For Longshoremen On West Coast

HONONLULU, Dec. 1 — President Harry Bridges of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union has announced that higher wages will be sought for longshoremen on the American West Coast. Bridges told newsmen that the CIO union will start discussing the matter with employers this week. The discussions will come under a clause of a new contract which permits semi-annual reopening of the wage scale.

Bridges said the need for higher wages is based upon two factors—the increased cost of living and parity with East and Gulf ports, which generally pay 13 cents an hour higher. The longshoremen's chief also said that January 1 would be set as the date for wage boosts to become effective.

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good
For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

"The Nutmeg Tree" Greer Garson's Next Picture; New Swedish Star To Share Billing With Reagan

By HELEN BANNERMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Greer Garson's next picture will be Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen version of Margery Sharp's "The Nutmeg Tree." M.G.M. has owned the property for nine years and perhaps the success of the same author's "Cluny Brown" goaded them into getting busy on it. The story is about an English music hall singer posing as a great lady who wins the prime minister's affection.

Viveca Lindfors, the new Swedish star being hailed as worthy to follow in the footsteps of Garbo and Ingrid Bergman, will share top billing with Ronald Reagan in Warners' version of Philip Wylie's romantic drama, "Night unto Night."

Frank Faylen, the red-headed bit player who made a hit as the orderly in "Lost Weekend," will play a happy-go-lucky taxi driver in Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life."

Jeanette MacDonald is back in Hollywood, after 4½ years, to co-star with Jose Iturbi in "The Birds and the Bees." The two stars play a husband and wife endowed with three daughters, portrayed by Britain's Ann Todd supported by Jane Powell and Mary Donahue.

Maurice Chevalier, cleared of collaborationist charges, is back before the French cameras again and now is starring in "Silence Is Golden," written and directed by Rene Clair for R. K. O.-Pathe.

"Song of the South" is Walt Disney's latest feature-length film but anyone expecting another "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be disappointed.

In "The Three Caballeros" Mr. Disney made use of live action in an attempt to keep down skyrocketing cartooning costs and the picture was so-so. "Song of the South" is also so-so, with a lot of mawkish technicolor sentiment about an unhappy little rich boy and an unhappy little po'-white girl in a romantic version of the Old South. The cartoons of the famous Joel Chandler Harris stories of Br'er Rabbit's misadventures with the wily Br'er Fox and Br'er Bear are the best part of the film.

Reticence on Family Matters

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D

You and I agree, I think, that it is very desirable for our children to learn at an early age that there are certain matters which we do not talk about outside the family circle. Where fine parent-child relationships obtain and parents are good models in this respect, children readily cooperate. Accordingly when guests are present, wise parents never refer to any undesirable act or trait of any child or of the other parent; they say nothing before the child or marital companion to embarass him.

On the other hand, if the young child should ask a question or make a remark embarrassing to the parents, they would be charitable and would answer the question right then and there or gently say they would do so later; and they would keep their promise, in which event they could explain again to the child that such matters "we talk about only among ourselves."

Wise parents had begun to practice keeping family secrets in the family as soon as they were married — even before. I wish, indeed, that young men and women would make it a code of honor only to speak kindly of their boy friends or girl friends. And wouldn't it be a splendid thing if wives and husbands would maintain such a code of honor in relation to each other? Any one who is an average observer can't help detect some little anoying traits or acts or attitudes even in the one engaged to for several months, and more surely in a marital partner.

Young married couples, older ones as well, looking for happiness will consider all their mutual relationships so intimate and so sacred as to count it a dishonor to divulge them to any other person. Should serious problems arise, however, they might properly be discussed with a person known to be entirely disinterested, preferably an expert in human relationships.

A great many such troubles are placed before me, in care of this paper. It makes me happy when some one writes me that I have helped. Even if I am unable to help iron out all your problems, it ought to do you good to unload them to some one you can trust. Nothing will be made public you mark "confidential."

I have prepared a list of books on personality problems and mental health to be had free by sending me in care of this paper a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it; also one on marriage and how to make a god of it, to be had in like manner.

Massage Helps Damaged Muscles

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Muscle damage, which could easily be relieved by massage, is frequently at the root of many aches and pains which are mistakenly assigned to more serious causes.

This, at any rate, is the opinion of Dr. Harold D. Storms of Canada, who believes that unnoticed muscle strain is responsible for many supposed cases of nerve inflammation, sciatica and disease of the lower part of the spine.

The woman, for instance, who finds it's hard to raise her arm sufficiently to comb her hair is very likely to believe that she is suffering from neuritis. According to Dr. Storms she is much more apt to have torn some muscle fibers pulling or tugging at a heavy object of furniture. She may have felt some little pain at the time without thinking much of it. Later when the pain becomes more or less constant — due perhaps to other even more trivial strains of the damaged area — she has forgotten all about the earlier strain.

The point is, says Dr. Storms that at the time of the first strain, the muscle was injured and it will continue to be painful from time to time until treated by massage

Often when a muscle, or some of its fibers are torn by too-sudden or too-great a pull, there is pain, swelling and inflammation. The muscle reacts by going into spasm — that is it contracts, knots-up and becomes tense and hard. This may last for hours, days, weeks, months or even, years. If it remains for a long period, the part of the muscle affected becomes fiber being replaced by in-elastic permanently damaged, its elastic scar tissue.

A common injury of this type is what is known to athletes as a "charlie horse." Such a condition is usually quickly relieved by the trainer who feels around with his fingers until he finds the spasm in the affected muscle and kneads it out with massage.

In just the same way, Dr. Storms believes that many people who suffer from backache, pain in the arm and leg muscles, painful feet, or headaches affecting the back part of the head, owe their troubles to unrelieved muscle spasm, which could be successfully treated by proper massage in most cases. In fact, he sees in this, the chief calue of massage. Of course, it may also be used to improve the circulation and for its soothing effects.

MAN ISN'T ALWAYS BOSS

BOSTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Veterans, are you scaring the girls with that "wife-hunting" approach?

Dr. Herbert D. Lamson, Boston University expert on courtship, says the girls are complaining that the boys are "too serious" right off the bat.

"They feel the boys are bent on wife-finding in a hurry," he said, "to make up for lost time."

Another word of advice from the marital expert—the man, isn't always the boss.

"Woman is emerging as a personality," he says, "and is no longer a piece of furniture to be pushed around."

brings you Perfumes from France

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE in the Cannes, Grasse and Nice regions of France earn their living in the growing and processing of orange flowers, jasmine, roses and other flowers for perfumes. Thousands of people in Canada earn their living directly or indirectly in the production of nickel.

A large part of the perfume produced in France is exported to other lands. Less than three per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is consumed in Canada. The rest is exported, and the money received helps to pay for French perfumes and other products necessary to good living in Canada. Canada cannot keep on importing from other lands unless Canadian goods are exported.

Each increase in the export of Canadian Nickel means more workers employed in the Canadian Nickel industry. It also means jobs for the other thousands of Canadians who produce the power, steel, lumber, explosives, machinery and supplies used by the Canadian Nickel industry.

By constantly expanding the use of Nickel at home and abroad, the Canadian Nickel industry brings additional benefits to Canada and Canadians.

"The Romance of Nickel", a 60-page book fully illustrated, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

Art Lecturer Urges Union and Support of District Painters; Many Works Placed on Exhibit

Urging Nelson and district artists to band together for greater understanding and recognition, and emphasizing the need for "attention, interest and support" of these artists from local laymen, B. C. Binning, Chairman of the Federation of Canadian Artists, conducted a lecture and exhibit in Central School Saturday as part of an art survey of Interior B. C.

Mr. Binning, at present Instructor of the Vancouver School of Art, based his talk on "Art Today", with the view of better enabling his listeners to look at "every day's pictures without a biased opinion."

"Art has survived through each artist being a commentator of his time and place," Mr. Binning said, and backed up his statement with a series of slides illustrating periods in the history of painting, and pointing out how art fitted the circumstances and general thought of the era.

Contrasting modern and classical paintings to demonstrate varied "interpretive means", Mr. Binning explained that the new trend in painting is an expression of the time—not to be blamed on the individual painter.

Concerning Canadian painting and the profound influence of The Group of Seven, Mr. Binning outlined the changeover from a European inclination to a distinctly Canadian line in painting. In recognition of this, "it is the responsibility of Canadians to back their artists," the veteran B. C. art promoter concluded.

Exhibited throughout the School Library were many works, mostly landscapes, of Nelson and District painters, including William Bayliss of Crawford Bay, Alec J. Garner of Procter, Mrs. Collingwood Grey of Bonnington, Alan P. Alsebrook of Kaslo, Mrs. E. C. Attree of Queen's Bay and J. C. Ingram Rogers, C. M. Young, Ed Kelter, Oskar Nielson, Mrs. Pentland E. Dickinson, all of Nelson.

37 Per Cent Gain In Accidents On B. C. Highways

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 1 (CP) — Although the increase in number of vehicles on the highways of British Columbia this year has been only 8.6 per cent, the increase in accidents has been 37.5 per cent, number of persons injured 33.3 per cent, deaths 18 per cent and property damage 40 per cent.

This grim statistical picture of death and destruction on the highways of British Columbia was painted by the Motor Record Office.

Since the end of the war steady gains in number of accidents, persons injured, deaths and property damage have been recorded.

During the first 10 months of this year traffic accidents have occurred on the highways of British Columbia at the rate of almost one an hour and persons have been injured at the rate of 10 per day. On the average one person has been killed every three days and property has been destroyed to the value of $3263 per day.

Total number of accidents so far this year has been 7088, persons injured 2066, deaths 105, and property damage $992,976.

A Modern Transportation System for Nelson

Everyone realizes that the time has come for replacement of our Nelson municipal transportation system. The time is overdue, but during the war years it was not possible to obtain the necessary new equipment. Street cars, tracks and other equipment are in such bad condition that operation is wasteful and inefficient.

There are various alternatives to be considered, and the City Council has wisely through its Street Railway Committee secured the services of A. C. R. Yuill, consulting engineer, to report on their merits and demerits.

We could patch up our existing system.

Or we could rebuild the equipment and install modern street cars.

Or we could put in the most modern of all systems, which is the trolley coach.

Three other alternatives are light buses, heavy gasoline buses or diesel buses.

The public is asked to express an opinion as a guidance for the new City Council in a plebiscite which is to be held at the time of the Civic Elections, Dec. 12.

Light buses seem pretty definitely out. They might be slightly cheaper, but from a long range viewpoint they would not be a wise investment. They would not provide the type of service which Nelson requires. The diesel bus stinks to the high heavens. All three types of buses have the disadvantages of being smelly, noisy, high in maintenance costs and involve sending out cash for fuel. About the only advantage is flexibility of route changes, but extension of routes is proposed as part of the trolley coach plan. Nor would buses be good advertising for Nelson. A trolley coach line, using electric power, is good advertising, whether the trams be on rails or on rubber tires.

Mr. Yuill recommends the trolley coach, and an analysis of his reasons, which are set forth in detail in the excellent report he has presented, supports the recommendation.

Three trolley coaches, each with a capacity of 44 passengers, could maintain a 20-minute service during busy hours and a 40-minute service during slack periods, leaving one bus in reserve for servicing or for extra heavy traffic conditions.

With trolley coaches passengers are loaded and unloaded at the curbs. The coaches provide rapid but smooth acceleration, cleanliness, comfort and reliability. They are quiet in operation, have high running speed, smooth braking and no exhaust vibration. The cost of maintenance is low. They have no offensive odors. They give the best performance on grades, an important consideration in Nelson. Three trolley coaches will move as many people as four gas buses, and be less subject to breakdowns. They will use our own electric power. Outside factors such as strikes can interfere with gasoline or oil supply, whereas our electricity supply is dependable.

There is the matter of cost. Trolley coaches show lower annual costs than tram cars, and we have to take into account that these costs include street improvements, which are necessary and will anyway be of general advantage.

It may be added that the trolley coach is the most modern type of public transportation for cities. The B. C. Electric is buying them for Vancouver and other Coast areas. Calgary is installing a number of them. They have for several years been immensely successful, and by all odds the most popular means of public transportation, in Seattle and Portland. In those cities no one rides on any other public conveyance if he can get trolley coach service.

They have all the advantages and lack the disadvantages of street cars. They result in improvements to streets, rather than making it impossible to obtain a satisfactory street service when rails have to be maintained. They are almost silent in operation. Passengers do not have to wade across streets in bad weather to get aboard, or when alighting. They provide curb service. They immensely lessen traffic problems.

Nelson has always been proud of its street railway. It could be equally proud if it keeps in tune with the modern trend by installing modern coaches, continuing to use its own electric power.

Mr. Yuill cautiously estimates revenue at the same figure for all types of vehicle, but it seems reasonable to assume that we would secure more revenue from clean, silently moving trolley coaches than from a less attractive and consequently less popular means of transportation.

Those on the voters' list are being asked to take part in a special plebiscite on the question Dec. 12. It might be wise for the City Council to extend the plebiscite beyond the rather narrow limitations of the voters' list. Many hundreds of customers of the civic transportation system, whether it is to be an old-style tramway, modern trolley coaches, or the less desirable buses, are not on the voters' list, yet they also will be using the new system and paying their fares for the service. It would seem that the widest possible expression of public opinion by everyone over 21 years of age is desirable.

Rosemont Tieup in Storm Necessary? Asks Resident of Area

To the Editor,

Sir—We in Rosemont have taken note of the serious position the North Shore residents were in while the ferry was out of commission. No doubt it was very bad, and we certainly need a bridge, and should have one. And there is no reason why we should not. If it was for war it would have been there long ago.

Now, what about the people of Rosemont? We were snowed in for a week. The children—that is, the small ones—were not able to get to school, and the older ones who did go had to tramp through two and in places three feet of snow. On Sunday morning a small plow came up and opened the road, but so far it has never been finished.

It now reminds me of the Bridge River Valley some years ago. Just a one-way trail. If you have the good luck to meet another car, you have to head for the snowdrift.

Now, we do not think this is necessary. There should be enough snowplows to at least keep the roads open within, you might say, the City limits.

In Rosemont we have at least two dairies that deliver milk daily to the city, also quite a number of chicken ranches. The dairies could hardly get out, and the chicken ranches could not get any feed in.

How about the doctors? They certainly would have had to walk had they been called during that week, or not come at all.

Well, we just want to know if this was necessary? If so, we had better go back to the Dark Ages!

A ROSEMONT RESIDENT

Nelson, B. C.

Says Householders Should Vote on City Transportation

To the Editor,

Sir—Having read with interest and satisfaction the Report and Recommendations by Mr. Yuill on our railway system, I can't quite agree with the Railway Committee recommendation.

The householder, or non-property owner, should, I believe, have some say in what kind of transportation is finally decided on, since I venture to estimate that at least half of our passengers are householders, and entitled to some consideration, other than running the risk of breaking their necks or legs on our rotten sidewalks. They have, of course, another alternative, stumbling along on our equally rotten roads; but it seems to me that the householder is somewhat underestimated; we are NOT voting on a money bylaw, we are asked to pass an opinion on a mode of transportation, and as such, I think the householder has an equal right.

C. P. O., Christina Lake—Further to your question on the price of a birth certificate copy ordered from England, "Subscriber" of Nelson advises that the cost is five shillings, one penny, not one guinea as we advised. "Subscriber" just recently obtained one at that cost.

E. L., Trail—"Subscriber," Nelson, advises that woollen rags are made into blankets at The Golden Fleece Woollen Mills, Magrath, Alta. "Subscriber" states this company does an excellent job.

H. H., Nelson—What is quartered oak?

Quartered oak is oak lumber that has been quarter-sawed. In order to produce the quarter-grain effect, the oak log is first cut into quarters, and then boards are sawed by cutting alternately from each face of the quarter. Such lumber not only shows the grain advantageously but does not warp or check as much as lumber sawed in the customary manner. White quartered oak is commonly used in the manufacture of office chairs.

A. B., Cranbrook—Could you please tell me if I am able to send a parcel to the British zone in Berlin, Germany?

Parcels may be sent to German civilians in the British zone. However, they must not weigh more than 11 pounds, nor exceed a value of $25. Food, clothing and soap may be sent.

J. A., Trail—Does one need an education to get into the Merchant Navy? Where do you address letters of application?

Wartime regulations required an applicant to have completed grade eight. You may send your application to H.M.C.S. Naden, Victoria, B. C., where they will pass it on to the proper authorities.

Gayety is to good humor as animal perfumes to vegetable fragrance; the one overpowers weak spirits, the other recreates and revives them.—Johnson.

DEBT OWED TO FARMERS

Canada owes Canadian agriculture billions of dollars that went to urban Canadians during the war period. Farmers expect the small part of this debt necessary to maintain agriculture temporarily at low levels compared with urban earnings, to be paid. Whether the wartime agriculture policy was the wisest or not will be decided by history. It was, perhaps, the best that could be done. It was part of a war policy that brought the end of armed conflict and gave farmers and all others a chance for peace. There can be no doubt about whether the wartime bargain with farmers is to be kept. Farmers will not be enjoying any privilege in whatever is done to sustain agriculture.—Clinton, Ont., News-Record.

"Slip-Up" on Dismissing 52 Non-Union Nurses

LONDON, Dec. 1 (CP-Cable)—A Willesden Borough Council spokesman today admitted there had been a "slip-up" when 52 non-union nurses and other hospital staff members were given their notice to quit.

It is expected the order will be withdrawn next week.

Today eight nurses not affected by the notice handed in their resignations in protest against the Labor Council's "closed shop" order. Miss E. B. Bath, Deputy Matron at Willesden Municipal Hospital, said: "The whole of the nursing staff now stands 100 per cent against tyranny."

Miss Bath was one of those dismissed. The nurses refused to join a union because they said they had their own organization, the Royal College of Nursing.

If the order to quit stands, the hospital will be forced to close next week. However, Alderman Jack Clark, chairman of the Council's Establishment Committee, said it deeply regretted that notices were issued and he said he expected they would be withdrawn after council recognition that the Royal College of Nursing was a suitable union.

Council officers had no alternative but to serve the notices because of a council resolution requiring employees to be union members. The notices went to 48 nurses, two matrons and two doctors.

Canada's Cities Tell Tales of Early Settlers, Tagged by Indians

TORONTO, Dec. 1 (CP)—East and West, Deer, Duck, Trout and Eagle Lakes sprinkle the Canadian scene generously. Greater rarity and originality distinguish many other place names from nature across the Dominion.

Moose Jaw, Sask., is borrowed from Moose Jaw Creek, so named in 1859, and celebrates, according to an Indian story, the skill of an early settler who repaired his Prairie wagon wheel with the jaw bone of a moose.

Antigonish, town and county of Nova Scotia, is a Micmac Indian word meaning "broken branches." Beech trees were plentiful in the region and hungry bears smashed the branches in a big way while after the nuts.

A stream in Alberta, one in Manitoba, and two lakes in Quebec are all named Pembina, an Indian word meaning the fruit of the cranberry bush. A red berry growing profusely in the district gave the city of Saskatoon its name.

Flos, Tay and Tiny, townships of Ontario, were the names of Lady Sarah Maitland's three pet dogs. Toronto, Iroquois Indian word, has been variously interpreted; all the way from "a place of meeting" to "trees growing in the water."

Cacouna, summer resort on the St. Lawrence, combines two Algonquin words to identify the home of the porcupine. Kamloops, B.C., is also a place name of Indian origin. At this point the North and South Thompson Rivers unite, and the name means "meeting of the waters."

FIRE WIPES OUT MOST OF STOCK OF FASHION CENTRE

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 1 (AP)—A $500,000-plus basement fire Saturday practically wiped out the reserve stocks of Dallas' famed Neiman Marcus department store, one of the nation's fashion centres.

The stubborn, furnace-hot blaze sent billowing clouds of destructive smoke throughout the five-storey building, decorated for the Christmas season.

An investigation was launched to place the cause of the four-hour blaze.

Benning Field, fireman, called it the most stubborn hard-to-reach fire in his 27 years on the force. At least half a dozen firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke.

Leafs Overwhelm Spokane Spartans

Starting off at an "anybody's game" clip, Nelson Maple Leafs suddenly found themselves and broke into a rash of scoring to crush the hapless Spokane Spartans 9-2 at the Civic Arena Saturday night.

Only sterling work in the Spokane net by Al Laface, who blocked 29 shots to 15 by Jesse Seaby, saved the Spartans from a worse defeat. Crippled by injuries following their hard-fought series with Los Angeles Ramblers last weekend, the team took its fourth defeat in a row.

The teams were all tied up half way through the second period when the game exploded in the Spartans' faces. Jack Kilpatrick had put Nelson ahead 3-2 and three minutes later Bob Proulx went to the penalty box. That seemed to start the rout, Johnny Arichuk and Johnny Hryciuk blasting in two goals in seven seconds just before the period ended. The third period saw Leafs pound in four goals without a return from Spokane.

Frank Ogenski chose as the night's three stars Bill Vickers, Kilpatrick and Tatchell. Vickers, who hadn't matched his usual effectiveness to date, put on a brilliant stickhandling and passing display that delighted the crowd. Coordination between the rocky centreman and Doug Winlaw in particular caught the fans' fancy and young Doug took full advantage of a whip in two goals.

POINTS FOR HRYCIUK

Hryciuk picked up four points as the boys fattened scoring averages by scoring two goals and two assists. Johnny Fargher also scored two goals, Kilpatrick, Arichuk and McIntyre notching the others. For Spokane Bob Porter and Sonny Barclyn were scorers.

The second period was rugged, with seven penalties being meted out. Porter of Spartans lost a tooth and there was some argument when he was sent off for a trip, the Spartans claiming there should have been a double penalty. Len McCarthy also was out temporarily when he had the wind completely knocked out of him by George Barefoot.

In opening the scoring, Winlaw and Roy Allen set the example for classic combination as Allen whipped the rubber across the front of the net to Winlaw, who made no mistake. With Nelson short one, Porter, Proulx and Kirk combined in a rush to beat Seaby, but Fargher, aided neatly by Kilpatrick and Spence Tatchell sent Leafs ahead again.

Then the elusive Spartan Barchyn tied it up, but four minutes later with Spokane two short, Kilpatrick scored the victory goal. Hryciuk had gone through just previously but the whistle had gone for an offside to spoil his effort. In the last two minutes of the period, with Spartans short one, Arichuk and Hryciuk came through with their seven-second splurge. While Arichuk was credited, most observers claimed Koehle actually was the scorer.

After that it was just a victory parade for Leafs, as they whipped in four gols in succession, Hryciuk, Winlaw, McIntyre and Fargher finding the net during an almost continual attack.

Hugh Currie of Tacoma and Joe Conn of Vancouver started the fireworks when they tangled near the Canuck goal, and then continued their brawl in the peanalty box before being ejected from the game. Strong Prospects For Canadian Team In Olympics

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Dec. 21 (CP)—Prospects now are that Canada's team at at the 1948 Olympic Games in London will be the strongest ever to represent the Dominion at the international meet, Prof. Nelson C. Hart of London, Ont., Secretary of the Canadian Olympic Association, told The Canadian Press in an interview following the Association's annual meeting here.

"From the numerous inquiries on the games I have received from athletes all over Canada, and from the great enthusiasm shown by delegates at this meeting, I think it is safe to say the Dominion will send the finest bunch of athletes ever assembled in this country to the 1948 games," Prof Hart said.

"We may not have any stars like Percy Williams of Vancouver or Montreal's Phil Edwards, two former Canadian Olympic greats, but the team will be made up of a well-balanced group of young athletes, some of them perhaps unknown as yet in top-flight competition."

At yesterday's meeting, held in conjunction with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada's first post-war annual session, delegates authorized the formation of a financial committee which with the help of A.A.U. branches throughout Canada will raise funds to promote the interests of the Association.

A report by the Association's executive committee revealed that five athletic associations had already applied for places on the 1948 Olympic team.

They are: Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen; Canadian Amateur Ski Association; Amateur Skating Association of Canada for both speed and figure skating competition; Canadian Amateur Basketball Association; and the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association. The Canadian Lacrosse Association has forwarded a request that lacrosse be added as an exhibition event at the games.

Toronto Argos Take Bombers To Retain Title

VARSITY STADIUM, Toronto, Nov. 30 (CP) — With errorless striking power that netted five touchdowns, four of them by forward passes, Toronto Argonauts successfully defended their Dominion senior football title here today by turning back a game but outclassed Winnipeg Blue Bombers, 28-6.

With a sell-out crowd of 19,000 packing Varsity Stadium, the Eastern champions never made a fumble as they opened up with three spectacular touchdowns in the second quarter and went on to another major each in the third and fourth.

Big Joe Krol, triple-threat halfback of Argos marched through their big four schedule into these Grey Cup playdowns, pitched passes to Royal Copeland, Ron Smylie and Boris Tipoff for three touchdowns. He took Copeland's forward for another to emerge as high scorer by adding three converts for an eight-point total.

The other Argo major came when Bryon Karrys plunged over from the one-yard line after Krol's masterful onside kick was caught by Copeland.

The Western champions had two perfect scoring chances in the first quarter, and they had others throughout the game. But it wasn't until thef inal seconds that Winnipeg finally averted a shut out by cracking through the centre of the strong Argonaut line.

Appropriately, it was slight Wally Dobler, a shining figure at quarter in defeat, who plunged the three yards needed and converted the score himself after pitching two forward passes that set it up.

MONTREAL, Dec. 1 — Montreal Canadiens made it two in a row over Detroit, downing the Red Wings 4-1 last night in a tight checking game to keep pace with Toronto Maple Leafs at the top of the National Hockey League standings. A crowd of 11,256 saw crafty Centreman Elmer Lach lead Habitants to victory with a pair of clean cut goals.

Lach got both goals in the first period, one unassisted and the other with the help of veteran Leftwinger Toe Blake and Jimmy Peters, to put Canadiens into the lead they never relinquished.

Butch Bouchard, off Maurice Richar's pass, and Buddy O'Connor on a play with Murphy Chamberlain and Leo Lamoureux put Canadiens ahead 4-0 before Wings were able to break into the scoring column. Roy Conacher broke Bill Durnan's hopes of a goose-egg as he grabbed a blueline pass from Sid Abel and shot through a maze of players at 10:18 of the second period.

That wound up the scoring for the night, and from there on in it was but a round of opportunity hockey as both squads kept up a fast pace, looking for the breaks that didn't just pan out.

GOLD COAST CHILDREN HELP HUNGRY EUROPE

ACCRA, Gold Coast (CP) — Schoolchildren in the Gold Coast are helping to relieve the oil shortage in Europe. Between February and July pupils of the Oda Government School collected 4006 pounds of palm kernels — 1502 pounds in July alone—and children of the Tutu infant and junior schools of Koforidua gathered 1543 pounds in April, May and June.

All the money from the sale of these kernels goes to the children who know their efforts will help to relieve hunger conditions among schoolchildren in Europe.

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — A Sydney woman has flown to Vancouver, spent nearly a fortnight there with her mother, and flown home again in about the same time it takes her marine engineer husband to sail from Sydney to Vancouver. She is Mrs. Alan A. McIntyre, who returned to Sydney on Oct. 9 by Australian National Airways' trans-Pacific Skymaster Warana. Mrs. McIntyre, who is the wife of the chief engineer of the steamship Aorangi, is believed to be the first person to make the return flight on the recently-established Sydney-Vancouver service.

FORTUNES AWAIT MISSING HEIRS

JOHANNESBURG, (CP)— Many thousands of pounds are lying in South Africa awaiting the discovery of missing heirs, many of whom are probably in distant parts of the world. These sums of money amount to fortunes in some cases—and a few pence in others.

The money comes from deceased estates and other sources and has been placed in the Guardian's Fund by private individuals, business houses, mining companies and even the Durban Penny Bank. There is nearly £8000 ($32,000) awaiting the unknown heirs of a man named George H. Althys; and more than £4000 waiting to be claimed by the unknown heirs of Lawrence M. Smith. There are also many individual sums of more than £2000.

Some of the beneficiaries under the Penny Bank Deposits, however, are likely to be disappointed as in the case of L. M. R. Bricourt. If this person puts in a claim, the answer will be: "Dear Sir; We have pleasure in enclosing the sum of one penny."

German Millions Out for Voting

FRANKFURT, Dec. 1 — Germans voted today in two States in the American occupation zone. In Bavaria and Greater Hesse they voted for state legislatures and constitutions that will place the governments in the American zone almost entirely under local rule.

Millions of Germans turned out for the balloting. Interest was particularly high in Greater Hesse. There the Germans were asked to vote on a sweeping socialization program. The proposal was to nationalize mines, power companies and railroads, and to subject insurance companies and banks to government supervision. A "yes" or "no" vote was called for.

Both in Greater Hesse and Bavaria, the constitutions submitted to the voters guaranteed freedom of the press, religion, speech and assembly—the first time these four freedoms had been offered to the German people in 13 years.

EUROPEAN FROGS FIND FREEDOM IN U. S.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 1 (AP)— Two dozen European frogs, air travellers from far away Vienna, Austria, found freedom today because nobody wanted them.

They came air express, collect, addressed to Major Chapman Grant, herpetologist of the San Diego Natural History Museum, who is away on a trip. His wife and associates said he never ordered them. The San Diego Zoo also declined to give them a home.

The air express agency finally conferred with customs agents and got permission to get ride of the frogs by liberating them in a lily pond.

State Department May Expand Foreign Broadcasts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—Government officials in the United States have disclosed that the State Department is considering plans to change and expand its short wave broadcasts to foreign countries. The program is known as the Voice of America.

One proposal would turn the entire broadcasting job over to a government-financed foundation controlled by private American citizens. Some key government officials are said to be urging the private enterprise angle in an effort to end criticism that the present newcasts are propaganda. All the American short wave broadcasts to overseas listeners currently are being supervised by officials of the State Department. This arrangement is considered temporary until Congress decides whether the American Government shall continue such work or return the facilities to private companies.

Luke Scores for Lethbridge Leafs

EDMONTON, Dec. 1 — Edmonton Flyers edged out a 5-3 victory over Lethbridge Maple Leafs in a Western Canada Senior Hockey League game here last night before more than 6000 fans.

Stan Devlin led the Flyer attack with a pair of markers while singleton's were chalked up by Ab Newsome, Bob Solinger and Cy Thomas.

COAST MAN HELD ON DANGEROUS DRIVING

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1 — City Police are holding Edward Burgoin on a charge of dangerous driving. Burgoin was charged after he had allegedly struck the rear end of a streetcar unloading passengers and had brushed a pedestrian slightly who was endeavoring to catch the street-car. The pedestrian, Miss A. James, suffered minor bruises about the body.

LONDON (CP) — Brain-child of three demobbed officers of the British women's services, "Send for Elizabeth," is proving a boon to tired housewives, businesswomen and bachelors distraugh with household worries.

To earn a living Annette and Mary Birtwhistle and Mrs. Mona Corbauld, found Auxiliary Household Services, and called it "Elizabeth" for short. For 3s 6d (65 cents) an hour they do housework for anybody—but they won't "queue for caviare, comb poodles or arrange flowers.

"It's time housewives had a break," said Mrs. Courbauld. "They have queued and cooked, washed and sewn single - handed long enough. We three are ready to give them the break they need and deserve."

And that goes, too, for business women and bachelors with toe-less socks and frayed cuffs.

NEWPORT (CP) — Newport County, dubbed the thirteen-against club," has spent £6000 ($24,000) for four new players in an effort to change its luck. The English football league team was defeated 13-0 by Newcastle United recently.

The Turkey Wouldn't Trout

It looks as though Britain's smallest postman, Donald McNeil, aged 63, and only 4 feet tall, is going to have a tough time delivering this "package." But delivering strange parcels comes naturally to the little man as he often picks up stray animals on his round along the fringe of wild Dartmoor country near Roxborough, Devon, England. Stray cows and horses and this 30-pound turkey are all in the day's work. Off came Donald's belt, and with the reluctant gobbler in tow, he continued his route until he found its owner.

Australia Boosts Test Cricket Score to 595 Runs

BRISBANE, Dec. 1 (Reuters)—Australia ran its test cricket match score up to 595 runs today against England with a loss of only five wickets.

The Aussies were at their most effective as the second day of the six-day England-Australia test match was concluded without Australia declaring.

In only five other inning in test match history has Australia done better.

Australian Captain Don Bradman added 25 runs to his big score Friday to retire with 187. The world's greatest batsman now has scored 22 centuries in test cricket and his performance Friday provided his 95th century in first class cricket. All told, Bradman has counted 16 centuries against England.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1 (AP)—Judge W. G. Bramham, 72, a pillar of organized baseball for nearly 50 years, announced today that he expected to retire as President of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

This statement came on the eve of the opening of the Association's annual convention here next week.

Co-Eds Want Slacks Back With Cold Weather

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 1 (AP) University of Michigan co-eds want their slacks back, now that the cold weather is upon them.

"Our shapely legs will get blue," wailed two women students who signed a letter in the Michigan Daily, university publication, asking that the present ban against slacks be lifted.

"Stockings are too thin and too precious for campus wear," the letter added, "and long wool stockings do not meet with male or co-ed approval."

Meat Ration May Keep On Until Spring

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP)—Speculation arose here over the future of meat rationing in Canada, and Government sources said they saw little possibility that it would be discontinued before Spring or early Summer.

It was stressed that the final dedecision as to whether rationing should continue rested with the Cabinet. However, it was thought Britain's food needs would make rationing necessary until the Spring months.

It also was recalled that Prime Minister Mackenzie King shortly after he announced the resumption of meat rationing last year, estimated it would continue through the 1946-47 Winter season.

Alaska Highway Not Ready For Tourists

EDMONTON, Dec. 1 (CP)— Maj. John Mahony, V. C., General Staff officer, Western Army Command, in an address to the Military Institute here said the government will not open the Alaska Highway to tourists until there are adequate facilities along the route to cater to them.

Maj. Mahony did not think the highway would even run through a populated area and that "if and when it was opened to the public" it would be only a tourist road.

The first purpose of the road, he said, was an inland supply to Alaska.

Carrying Coals To Sonnblick, Austria

U. S. Army cargo planes recently participated in a series of operations to drop fuel and supplies to a weather station on the summit of Mt. Sonnblick in the Austrian Alps, 10,200 feet above sea level. The station belongs to the Austrian Government and is operated by two Austrian civilians who are relieved every six months. Their reports are radioed daily to another station at the base of the mountain, from where they are telephoned to Salzburg, 65 miles North. Top photo shows a container of supplies dropping from a U. S. Army transport plane as it soars above the rugged splendor of the Alps.

The weather station, snowed in six months of the year, is perched on the edge of the snow-swept peak with the surrounding chasm appearing as a black void. One of the two weathermen may be seen looking up at the circling plane from the centre of the photo. The supplies, including 1300 pounds of coal, kerosene and food, were packed into containers formerly used for German ammunition and dropped during four missions. The U. S. Army depends greatly upon the reports sent out by the two Austrians, Rubi Sojer, 25, and Hans Hubilchcer, 27.

For the present time this agreement will cover practically the same services as in the old agreement. Employees not having their applications in by Dec. 15 will be termed as new members and be subject to medical examination.

Urges Britain Not to Be Complacent In Facing Man Power Shortage

LEEDS, England, Dec. 1, (AP)—Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council and Governemnt leader in the House of Commons, surveying British production bottlenecks, named a manpower shortage as Britain's main problem, but declared "We are not going to have in this country compulsory direction of labor."

Morrison, in an address prepared for delivery before a Labor Party Regional Council, said: "As a free democracy we must, in time of peace, allow the citizen to choose his job freely, although from the planning standpoint this may result in a maldistribution of labor."

He pictured production bottlenecks caused by a scarcity of men and materials in Britain as much the same as in Russia and the United States.

Mr. Morrison urged Britons not to be complacent in the face of "one of the most momentous transitions in the history of mankind."

Shortage of coal is the next worst throttle on industrial expansion in Britain, he said, declaring that lack of coal "threatens our hearths and industries this Winter."

Mr. Morrison said the British Economic General Staff which he heads "cannot yet see our way clearly to keep our factories burning and our homes warm this Winter."

FIVE MINUTES TO MIDNIGHT, GREAT BUCKING HORSE, NEARS LAST ROUNDUP

By MATT R. KRAMER

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)— There is a Canadian horse called Five Minutes to Midnight and when he went into retirement it was at a public ceremony before 10,000.

This small, shaggy, dark horse had one credo: "If it's on my back, it's got to be bucked off." Most Western horsemen say there never has been such a bucker.

For better than two decades cowhands have been trying to stay aboard him. Owner Verne Elliott, Platteville, Colo., estimates better than 2000 tried. He says that 14 succeeded for the required 10 seconds.

Few of these still were up at 11 seconds. And even fewer at 12. Elliott adds that even the 14 who made it once were pitched off on other rides.

"He's the greatest I've ever seen," says Elliott, who runs a string of buckers for rodeos from Madison Square Garden to the West Coast, and has seen them all for more than 20 years.

"But he wasn't the most dangerous," Elliott continues. He gives that honor to Midnight, a feared mankiller of early rodeo days, whose grave on Elliott's ranch is virtually a cowboy shrine.

"You can lead Five Minutes to midnight around like a pup, just so long as no one tries to get on his back," Elliott says. "But I never saw another horse that could put so much into bucking.

"Tain't his size. He stands only 14 hands. Average bucker is at least 15 hands, weighs 1000, maybe 1300 pounds. Five, he was only 1040 at top, now he's about 975.

"He's always been skittish and wild. Not mean, you know. Just wild. He's hurt hardly a one of his riders. Lets them down easy, sort of. But he never could stand anything on his back."

Elliott first heard of Five in 1924. It was a story from Canada—of a wild horse, bought for $3, who was pitching all comers out of the lot.

In 1927 Elliott bought him at Calgary. He named him after the great Midnight. Then started Five's tours. He scattered cowboys from here to London, appearing in every major show a number of times. The London appearance perhaps was his biggest sensation, for they'd never seen such a horse.

Few Americans have either. W. T. Johnson, San Antonio, Tex., once offered $10,000 for him—a record for a bucker. Elliott refused it, but promptly insured Five for $5000, also a record.

For 19 years Five travelled with Elliott, bucking them off. Plus the three years he bucked in Canada, that makes 22 years—a long time to be a champion. Now Five goes on pension for life—the run of the Elliott ranch at Platteville; soft, green grass when he wants it and grain when his now-ailing teeth can't handle grass.

But a great horse requires a final tribute. So they brought Five to the Pacific International Livestock exposition here for a farewell ceremony.

Mountbatten to Succeed Kinahan

LONDON, Dec. 1 (Reuters)—The Admiralty announced that Admiral Viscount Mountbatten of Burma has been appointed Rear-Admiral commanding First Cruiser Squadron, Mediterranean Fleet, in succession to Rear-Admiral H. R. G. Kinahan. The appointment will take effect in April, 1947.

On taking up his sea command, Lord Mountbatten will revert from acting rank of Admiral, which he held during his wartime appointment as Supreme Allied Commander, Southeast Asia Command, to his substantive rank of Rear-Admiral. The move was made at his own request so that he could resume an active Naval career.

Man Who Said Was Death Valley Scotty Dies at Cranbrook

CRANBROOK, B. C., Dec. 1—Following a few days illness Walter (Death Valley) Scott, age 93, died at the hospital here Friday. He had come in from his shack near Lumberton several weeks ago to spend the winter because of uncertain health.

Born at Granmere, Ont., he spent the first half of his life in the United States. He returned to Canada in 1894. In 1928 he turned up in this district claiming to be the famous Death Valley Scotty of California. This was disproved quickly but he remained in the district, mostly in the Lumberton area.

He was a widower, and though he is survived by a son and daughter in the United States, their whereabouts are not known.
