Greek Forces Battle "Freedom Fighters"

By L. S. CHAKALES

ATHENS, Sept. 17 (AP) — An authoritative source said today martial law might be clamped down throughout Greece because of mounting violence in the Northeast where the gendarmerie is battling Leftist bands estimated at more than 10,000.

The informant said the Cabinet has considered application of martial law first in the areas affected by the renewed Leftist activity, and then, if necessary, throughout the entire country.

Demetrius Partsalides, Secretary-General of the Communist-dominated E.A.M. (National Liberation Front) said there were more than 10,000 "Freedom fighters in the free hills" who had been driven there by "excesses of the Monarcho-Fascist Government which is controlled by Britain."

The principal theatre of action at present is the rich plain of Thessaly, athwart main lines of communications between Athens and Salonika.

COMMUNICATIONS IN IN DANGER

Operations have shifted from Macedonia in the North, where recently the Governor-General declared a "Guerrilla Civil War" had been raging. The Government has exhibited growing concern over possible rupture of the vital Athens Salonika communications.

Leftist bands, Government reports said, have been mining roads, cutting telegraph lines and attacking gendarmerie and soldiers moving over roads in the area. An Allied military observer said the shift in the concentration of Leftist attacks from the North to Thessaly might be part of a broad plan to sever communications at Larissa, Karditza and Trikkala, all vital links.

Recent announcements by the Greek ministries of press and public order said that bands on the borders of Yugoslavia and Albania were preparing to enter Greece, and the Allied observer said the attempt to sever communications might be linked with such a plan.

ASKS IMMEDIATE ACTION

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 17 (AP) — Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, said today that some countries are "yielding to the spirit of Munich" and called upon the United Nations Security Council to adopt Russia's proposal for immediate action in the Greek case.

Dr. Lange said that Poland's reply to the spirit of Munich was "still the same resolute 'no' which it gave in September 1939."

He declared that the Council must do "something immediately to avoid the possibility of conflict in the Balkans".

The Polish delegate, who yielded the Council presidency today to Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko, thus joined Mr. Gromyko in opposition to a move by the Australian delegate, Paul Hasluck, to passing on to the next item on the agenda. Brazil, the Netherlands and Great Britain have indicated support for Mr. Hasluck's motion.

Dr. Lange declared that "dismissal of this case would . . . diminish the confidence of smaller nations in this Council."

Dr. Lange said there was in Greece "an unduly large number of persons who collaborated with the Nazis who not only are respected but actually are holding important positions"

WOULD WITHDRAW TOMMIES

He distributed to the Council a letter from the World Federation of Trades Unions, saying that the Greek Government was hindering the development of free trade unions in Greece and asked that the Council investigate "infringement of democratic rights" of the Greek workers.

One part of the Ukrainian charges against Greece was that the presence of British troops in Greece was conducive to the policy of the present Greek Government. The Polish delegate expressed the view that the withdrawal of British troops from Greece would reduce the problem to one of internal affairs.

JOHN LAW TAKES OVER STRALLA GAMBLING SHIP

Raid on High Seas Follows Misuse of Licence

500 ABOARD

LONG BEACH, Calif., Sept. 17 (AP) — The U.S. Justice Department, taking Tony Cornero Stralla's word for it that his gambling ship Bunker Hill is on the high seas, sent some 70 Coast Guard blue-jackets aboard the vessel today and seized it under the Admiralty laws.

As the Coast Guardsmen entered the vessel's luxurious casino, roulette wheels stopped running, dancing dice came to rest and poker hands were discarded. The party was over for some 500 beguilers of Lady Luck, many of whom had spent the night aboard.

U.S. Attorney James M. Carter said condemnation proceedings would be instituted on grounds that the craft is engaged in operations other than that for which it was licensed — coastwise trade.

A boarding party, led by Cmdr. Chester M. Anderson carried out the raid with precision. He stepped up the accommodation ladder and told Stralla, who was aboard, that the ship was being impounded.

Shortly afterwards the large white ship was taken in tow by commercial tugs. The Bunker Hill was hauled approximately eight miles and was proceeded by a Coast Guard cutter when brought into the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor late today for anchorage.

Carter said the ship would be turned over to the U.S. customs collector, and a libel filed against it.

COULD HAVE CANCELLED LICENCE

"The Government's case is simple," he said. "The ship was licensed for coastwise trade, and instead has operated as a gambling barge. The statute provides that any vessel which operates in an employment other than that for which it is licensed is automatically forfeited to the Government."

Admiralty lawyers said today that Stralla could have avoided Federal seizure if he had cancelled his coastwise shipping licence.

Stralla's attorney, Samuel Rummel, said the move came as a surprise to him and he did not know what action will be taken.

"But we will resist to the utmost," he declared.

NO FALL SESSION LIKELY FOR B.C. MEMBERS

VICTORIA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Reports that British Columbia legislators might be called together this Fall were discounted here today by Premier John Hart, who said a second session of the House "was most unlikely."

Mr. Hart indicated his intention to go to Ottawa at the end of this month or early in October, after Finance Minister Isley's return to the federal capital, to discuss impact of Mr. Isley's budget proposals on British Columbia's tax structure and endeavor to work out a new Dominion-Provincial financial agreement that would afford a more equitable return to British Columbia.

Predict Jump In Coal Price; Strike End Near

CALGARY, Sept. 17 (CP) — Sources close to the Western Canada coal industry predicted an increase of about 50-cents a ton for domestic coal mined in the West tonight as the dispute between some 9000 miner and coal operators appeared near settlement with the miners conceded a $1.40 per day wage increase.

Earlier today a joint statement issued by the United Mineworkers of America, the domestic operators and bituminous operators said the wage increase had been agreed to. The increase must now be ratified by the War Labor Board and the miners' locals. A number of minor points in the dispute still remain to be settled.

Mining authorities said the average man-per-day production in the domestic fields stretching from Estevan, Saskatchewan, to Vancouver Island was about 3.5 tons. The wage increase alone of $1.40 a day would mean an additional cost of 40-cents a ton, they said. The domestic mines employ about 4500 men.

Other concessions granted the miners that are expected to increase the price of domestic coal includes the welfare fund royalty of three cents a ton, reduction from a 48-hour to a 40-hour work week, with mine maintenance costs remaining the same and new holiday provisions.

The increase granted the 4500 bituminous miners are not expected to affect the public so directly. Chief customers of these mines, which are located in Alberta and British Columbia, are the railways, steam industrial plants in the West and the big smelting company plant at Trail, B.C.

An increase in the price of coal would have to be ratified by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

MOUNTIE NO KILLJOY, AND HE HAS TO PROVE IT

Talks to Pupils Aim At Teaching Police Are Friends of Youth

TELL ADVENTURES

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—The Mountie has been given a new assignment — proving to young Canada that he isn't a kill-joy.

It's a long-range program directed at the school children of the Dominion, carrying the principle that the policeman is not always on the lookout to arrest somebody but is the friend and counsellor of every boy and girl, a public servant essential to the well-being of the community and a referee of the law.

Outlined in this tolerant edition of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police quarterly, the program was conceived by Commissioner S. T. Wood and is being carried out with the cooperation of educational authorities across Canada. Under the plan, members of the force upon request address school children and youth groups in their respective detachment areas.

Officials said the activities of the new program go hand-in-hand with work being done by other organizations already active in the youth field.

HAVE GLAMOR APPEAL

The Mountie is considered to be one of the best-fitted of policemen for this task because his uniform and the name of the R.C.M.P. itself appeal strongly to young minds and he can draw upon the history and traditions of the force to flavor his talks with exciting adventure.

For instance, the themes selected and used include:

Policing the Far North; duties of the public toward the police; functions of the police in society; safety rules; discipline; the story of the R.C.M.P.; courtesy; you and the police; a friend of yours and the story of our law.

CHENG PREPARES FOR OFFENSIVE AGAINST REDS?

PEIPING, Sept. 17 (AP)—General Chen Cheng, Chief of Staff, went to Mukden today after an extraordinary conference with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Military observers immediately theorized that he was prepared to inaugurate a total offensive against the Communists in North China.

Chen came here direct from a surprise meeting in Kuling, the Summer capital, with Chiang and top military generals of North China. He then left for Mukden with Gen. Tu Li-ming, commander of Government forces in Manchuria. They stopped briefly at Chengeh, which Nationalist forces recently seized from the Communists.

Tu reported to Chiang on the military situation in Manchuria.

Informed Chinese sources said that plans were charted at the military conference with Chiang to cut off the Communist supply line between Yenan, the Red headquarters, and Manchuria, for the Government's strong offensive against Kalgan, the Communist military base in Chahar Province.

(In Nanking, a leading Kuomintang (Government Party) figure told Associated Press Correspondent John Roderick that a major military victory, such as the capture of Kalgan, combined with further political concessions by the Government, would convince Yenan of the futility of further delays in framing a coalition Government.

("Believe me, unless such procedure is followed, we never will reach an agreement," said the party leader, who declined use of his name. "Regardless of how many political concessions we make, as long as the Communists gain militarily, they will refuse to make any agreement.")

NO RIGHT TO EXECUTE NAZIS SAYS G.B.S.

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw asserted today the Allies have no ethical right to execute Nazi defendants awaiting the International Military Tribunal's verdict in Nuernberg.

"The atomic bombs have blown our moral airs out of court," the 90-year-old playwright said in reply to a written question.

"After using the bomb without warning or demonstration, and repeating it unnecessarily, we are hardly in a moral position to hang anybody, however logically."

1946 Apple Crop Huge Compared To Last Year

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Canada's 1946 apple crop, which is expected to be huge compared with the dwarfed 1945 yield, will enjoy a ceiling averaging five cents a bushel higher than last year, the Prices Board said today.

A change in storage dates is partly responsible for the new prices, effective Sept. 23. Last year, the date on which storage allowance was authorized varied according to the varieties of apples. This year, under a revised order, storage allowances on all varieties begin Nov. 1.

Another reason for the increase is an averaging of Eastern and Western prices. Last year, the shortage of apples in the East forced considerablep rice increases. This year, Eastern and Western prices are brought closer together by a five cents a bushel decrease in Eastern Canada and a five cents a bushel increase in British Columbia.

The main thing is, there's a good supply of apples. At present the supply is so good apples are selling well below ceiling figures, an dare expected to do so for at least two months.

Hospital Boards Of Kootenay Meet Here Oct. 9

"While August was one of the busiest months on record at the Kootenay Lake General Hospital, this last week has experienced a considerable lull," commented Miss Honor Tregear at the Hospital Board meeting Tuesday night.

Only nursing staff change announced was that of Miss Gertrude Utley, who has left for Edmonton to take a public health course at the University of Alberta.

At the regional conference of Hospital Boards of Kootenay Municipalities to be held in Nelson on Oct. 9, Nelson will be represented by H. M. Whimster as Chairman.

Undecided as to Disposal of Registration Cards

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP) — The Government has not yet decided what disposal will be made of the National Registration records with the termination of registration some weeks ago, Deputy Labor Minister Arthur MacNamara said in a statement today.

"Severa Government offices have expressed definite interest in the records fo rstatistical use, but nothing definite has been decided," Mr MacNamara said.

The records consist of more than 9,000,000 cards of 12-by-10-inch size on which the registration originally was made in 1940. Registration certificates formerly carried by Canadians now may be thrown away.

One suggestion the Labor Department is considering is preserving the original records for 12 months against possible use and then giving them to salvage. Another is that the cards be microfilmed and stored, if it seems likely they will prove useful in the future.

Usual Government practice in keeping records is to preserve them until it can be determined they are of no further value.

FIRST FLIGHT OF NEW SERVICE ENDS TODAY

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — First passenger flight from Sydney, Australia to Vancouver, will be completed at 5 p.m. daylight time Wednesday, when the big DC-4 Australian National Airways plane now winging its way across the Pacific, lands at Vancouver airport.

LEARN SON'S BODY FOUND

NANAIMO, B.C., Sept. 17 (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nowden of Nanaimo were notified by B.C. Provincial Police today that the remains of their son Isaac, missing since last March, has been located and identified at Port Mellon. He was a plant employee and nothing had been heard of him for the last six months. Identification was made through an Army rejection slip but no other details were available at Nanaimo.

KIDDIES BURN TO DEATH

MONTGOMERY, W.Va., Sept 17 (AP) — Three small children of Mr. and Mrs. David Delbert Wills burned to death today in flames which destroyed the family home.

Truman Fails Keep "Filched" Wallace Letter A Secret

Lays More Emphasis on Be-Easy-on-Russ Attitude, Reveals Invitation to Stalin; Columnist Denies Anything Underhand

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—A letter from Commerce Secretary Wallace to President Truman urging a sweeping overhaul of United States foreign and military policy, junking of the Baruch-Acheson atomic control plan and more conciliatory treatment of Russia was made public tonight with the President making last-minute efforts to head it off.

A perhaps historic mixup on high levels of Government accompanied the latest episode in an international drama touched off by Mr. Wallace's speech last Thursday decrying what he termed the policy of "get tough with Russia."

The letter, it was explained, was written July 23 in response to a presidential request for Cabinet members' views on foreign policy. The Commerce Department said it was "filched" from the files and came into the hands of a columnist.

Mr. Wallace took the matter up with Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross, and they agreed it probably would be a good idea to make it public inasmuch as the columnist was distributing it. Mr. Ross told Mr. Wallace to go ahead and mimeograph it for the press.

Then Mr. Ross got in touch with the President and was told Mr. Truman did not wish to give his approval to the release of the letter. Lest it be understood abroad that he was approving its contents. As Mr. Ross put it, Mr. Truman "disapproved" specifically the release of the letter.

But distribution to the press had started, and it was too late to head it off. Mr. Ross took full blame, if any. There was no censure of Mr. Wallace by the White House, which took the position he acted in good faith.

PEARSON THREATENS SUIT

The Commerce Department did not name the columnist who obtained the letter but Drew Pearson, columnist and radio commentator, issued a statement saying:

"Unless Secretary Wallace retracts the statement indicating that I 'filched' from the Commerce Department files his Russian letter to President Truman I shall be compelled to bring suit against him for libel."

Mr. Pearson said he came into possession of the document in "open and above board fashion from sources which had no connection with the Department."

INVITATION TO STALIN

The letter revealed officially for the first time that Mr. Truman previously had invited Premier Stalin to visit the United States.

And it disclosed that Mr. Wallace prepared a memorandum last March for Ambassador W. Bedell Smith to take to Moscow suggesting trade discussions. Whether the President gave it to Gen. Smith was not clear.

The 3600-word letter went far beyond Mr. Wallace's controversy-ridden speech in New York of last Thursday in expressing anxiety over "the present trend toward conflict" and the secretary's convictions that drastic changes in the United States' attitude toward Russia were necessary to stop it.

In writing the letter, Mr. Wallace recalled to the President at the outset that "I checked with you about this last Thursday and you suggested after Cabinet meeting on Friday that you would like to have my views." The letter was dated the following Tuesday.

Thus it seemed clear that Mr. Truman had the opportunity to be familiar with the views of his Commerce Secretary when Mr. Wallace checked his New York speech with him before delivery.

QUESTIONS WISDOM

William L. Clayton, Undersecretary of State, today challenged the wisdom and prudence of personal foreign policy statements by Government officials. He told his press conference that he presumes such speeches in future will be cleared with the State Department. Later he had an unheralded conference with Mr. Truman.

Mr. Wallace, who already has served notice that he expects to speak further on the subject, is to see the President tomorrow.

Mr. Wallace's July letter called for ascertaining "from a fresh point of view what Russia believes to be essential to her own security," judged "against the background of what we ourselves and the British have insisted upon," and continued:

"We should be prepared, even at the expense of risking epithets of appeasement, to agree to reasonable Russian guarantees of security."

Mr. Wallace singled out two State Department policies for specific assault:

1. That Russia discuss her trade relations with other countries as a precondition for obtaining an American loan.

2. The American stand for internationalization of the Danube and against fortification of the Dardanelles. Mr. Wallace wrote that "we would be horrified and angered by any Russian counter-proposal that would involve also the internationalization and disarming of Suez or Panama."

MAY SEEK TO HUSH WALLACE

The repercussions from his speech—editorially, politically, and diplomatically—have been so far-reaching that some diplomats expect the President to make a private appeal to Mr. Wallace to cease commenting on foreign policy in the interests of party harmony and international relations.

CALL 35,000 SASK. FARMERS TO JOIN STRIKE

Alberta Leader Has Queries From British Columbia

MEETINGS IN MAN.

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON, Sept. 17 (CP) — Shortages of meat, eggs and cream and closing of butcher shops and restaurants left without dairy produce marked the 11th day of a delivery strike by 20,000 farmers in Alberta tonight as word came of a strike call to another 35,000 farm families in neighboring Saskatchewan over the same issue—parity prices.

As the Alberta Farmers Union pressed its 30-day strike with mass meetings and extensive picketing and another arrest was reported by police, word of the Saskatchewan strike call came from the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada. A strike resolution has been passed by the U.F.A. Board and is being sent out to its locals.

SHORTAGES SOON

Frank Eliason, Secretary of the Saskatchewan section of the U.F.C. said a re-iteration of the previous strike call was made after some 150 locals had asked the executive to urge all farmers in the province to organize for strike action. He said farmers would be asked to withhold all products except loose milk to the cities.

The U.F.C. which supports A.F.U. demands for Dominion establishment of a fact-finding board to map a parity between farm costs and returns, lacks authority because of its constitution, to order its locals to strike. But U.F.C. authorities have said many of its farmers have been supporting the Alberta strike action and that 160 communities in the Northern half of Saskatchewan had stopped deliveries. "Serious shortages" were predicted in the province within a week.

A.F.U. President Carl Stempfle, who once farmed in Arkansas and now farms outside Edmonton, was "not surprised" at the Saskatchewan action which he said had been "promised." He added the strike was "spreading" and that farmers meetings had been held in Manitoba and "inquiries" had come from farmers in British Columbia.

AGAIN ARRESTED

Today farm pickets swarmed over chute gates at the Olds stockyards North of Calgary and delayed a train but withdrew when police warned them they were trespassing and obstructing. But the trainload of livestock went to Calgary.

Pickets generally were observing the law and the "no violence" dictum of their Central Strike Committee in the face of swift police action which has brought 20 arrests in previous disorders. Latest arrest was that of Andrew Winczura near Viking Southeast of Edmonton, for the second time. Last week Winczura was convicted on charges of assaut and wilful damage and ordered to pay damages in a cream-dumping incident.

Raise U.B.C. Total to 10,000

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Original estimates of an 8000 enrolment this season at University of British Columbia are being revised today as registration exceeds the anticipated 1000-a-day.

On the basis of registration booklets issued to students, it was estimated 5300 students had fully or partially registered by 5 p.m. Monday.

Registration continues to Saturday.

The tremendous problem of feeding between 8000 and 10,000 students at University of British Columbia, is to be handled by at least eight cafeterias, restaurants and lunch rooms, on the campus.

FORMER FLYING TIGERS TO TRANSPORT SUPPLIES

SHANGHAI, Sept. 17 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, former commander of the China-based 14th Air Force, announced today he has signed a contract with the Chinese National Relief and Rehabilitation Administration to fly relief supplies. He immediately ran into Chinese criticism.

He said American pilots, most of them former Flying Tigers, would airlift the supplies from Canton to Kweilin, Lianchow, Hengyang and other points designated by the C.N.R.R.A.

King to Broadcast

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 17—(CP) — King George will be heard during a special broadcast from London, Tuesday, September 24, from 8 to 8:30 a. M., P.D.T., it was amounced today.

Originating from the London studios of the B.B.C., the broadcast will be carried nationwide on the Trans-Canada Network. It will describe the opening ceremonies of London's new industrial exhibition, "Britain Can Make It."

Battle 300 Barrels Of Blazing Tar

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — A three-alarm fire raged out of control for almost an hour at the Barrett Co., Ltd., plant in suburban Vancouver today while firemen from Marpole and Vancouver battled an inferno in 200 barrels of blazing tar.

Damage was estimated unofficially at $30,000.

Gold on Northern Ice Yarn Told Lost Party; Police Prepare Search

SEATTLE, Sept. 17 (AP) — A story of gold lying free on the ice in Canada's remote Interior was revealed today as Royal Canadian Mounted Police prepared to search for James A. Watts, Yakima school teacher and his party, unreported after a prospecting trip into the wilderness of the Northwest Territories.

Watts, his wife, Beatrice and her brother, Edward Rose, are eight days overdue at Watson Lake in Northern British Columbia, on the Alaskan Highway.

Information regarding gold in the area was contained in a letter written by Mrs. Watts to a friend, Mrs. H. V. Anderson of Yakima, from Watson Lake. Mrs. Anderson and her son Harvey, jr., captain of last year's football team at Yakima High School, originally intended to accompany the Watts' party.

"We are ready to start our hiking strip," Mrs. Watts wrote. (The party later changed plans and went by plane to Seaplane Lake). "Mosquitoes are after me even though I am completely covered except my hands.

"We hope to go North on the Hyland River to the Flat River drainage. From that we should be able to get an idea of the country West — around Mount Logan and the much talked of North part of the South Nahanni Valley.

"Last night we were so fortunate as to talk to one of the men who first located on the Flat—about 1909. He and a partner were on a three-year trapping circle from Finlay River, and were on the Flat watershed one winter.

"They found gold on top of the ice and on a creek they named Borden's Creek."

The letter added they did little prospecting because the creeks choked with boulders and the water too swift for panning.

Squatters Yield to Prosecution Threat

By TOM WILLIAMS

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Britain's Communist-led luxury squatters bowed before court and police opposition tonight and began evacuating the plush apartment buildings they commandeered 10 days ago in a revolt against the Government's housing program.

Dozens moved out of the Ivanhoe Hotel in Bloomsbury, and a spokesman for 300 squatters entrenched in the Duchess of Bedford House in fashionable Kensington said they would "all march out together" Friday, hoping for "humane consideration" from the public authorities.

The exodus came after the Government, despite swelling opposition from Labor Union ranks, obtained court orders evicting some squatters and announced that anyone who disregarded the court edicts would be prosecuted.

The squatters decided tonight to begin their exodus just as powerful support from organized labor was rallied to their cause.

TO COMMIT PAPPIN ON PASSPORT CHARGE

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Magistrate Glenn Strike today decided sufficient evidence had been submitted by the Crown to commit William M. Pappin, clerk in the Ottawa passport office, to trial by jury on charges arising from attempts to obtain a false passport for a Soviet agent seeking to enter Canada.

Magistrate Strike indicated he would formally commit Pappin Sept. 23 when a date for the trial also would be set.

The magistrate's decision came after Mrs. Adrienne Soulière, star witness in the two-day preliminary hearing, testified he had asked her in August, 1945, for an eight-year-old file containing documents on a 1937 passport issued to Ignacy Witczak, a Polish-born Canadian who fought in the Spanish Civil War that year.

That was the file which the Royal Commission on Espionage contended had been tampered with to facilitate the issuance of the false passport, which was to be used by a Russian agent living in Los Angeles. The Russian ring believed Witczak had died in the Spanish war but he actually returned to Canada.

LEARN GOV'T. WILLING PAY TOWARD UPKEEP ESQUIMALT ROADS

VICTORIA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Reeve Thomas Hadfield of Esquimalt said today the municipality had received a letter from Robert Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, indicating the Federal Government is willing to pay a proportion of the cost of the upkeep of Esquimalt roads used by Department of National Defence vehicles during the war.

Soviet Papers Print Wallace's Speech

MOSCOW, Sept. 17 (AP) — All Soviet newspapers today carried without comment the foreign affairs speech which Commerce Secretary Henry A. Wallace delivered in New York last Thursday, Izvestia, the government newspaper, devoted 1500 words to the speech.

RECORD SALMON CATCH

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Fraser River salmon gillnet fleet caught approximately 200,000 sockeye Monday, biggest day's catch in the river in four years.

Suggest High School Be Used for Overflow Classes After New One Built

Use of the High School to accommodate overflow classes of Junior High and possibly elementary schools after the new High School has been erected is proposed by Nelson School District 7 School Board. Under this plan building of an extension to Junior High School would be dropped.

The proposal was brought to light by Chairman E. E. Hopwood after F. L. Irwin, Junior High Principal, had asked if the plans for the Junior High extension had been forwarded to the Department of Education at Victoria.

Such a move would solve the problems of what to do with the present High School after the new one was built and of how to accommodate increases in school population, Mr. Hopwood said. There were already two roving classes at the Junior High School and the situation was likely to be aggravated in coming years by growth in school population.

Schools Inspector F. A. Jewett thought the Board was "on the right track" and had found a good way to meet the problems.

Mr. Hopwood, Dr. C. E. Bradshaw and Secretary N. S. Macleod, who will attend the annual convention of the B.C. School Trustees, will discuss the subject with F. T. Fairey, Deputy Minister and Superintendent of Education, at the Prince George convention.

Objects to Shipment Of Used Lumber and Plumbing Supplies

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 17—(CP) — Objection tto shipment of used lumber and plumbing supplies from Prince Rupert out of this Province came today from Robert Menicol, Secretary of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion.

Centring his statement on an explanation by C. W. Nash, General Manager of Highway Construction Company, contractors involved, that only the "surplus" is shipped out, Mr. Macnicol said, "It comes as a great surprise to us that there is such a thing as surplus lumber in British Columbia."

(Mr. Nash has used the term "surplus" to denote materials for which there were no ready buyers when available. He said the salvaged lumber and supplies must be moved quickly.)

"We have no fight with any particular construction company, but we are endeavoring," the Legion officer said, "to direct attention to the apparent lack of control of distribution of lumber in this Province."

First Carload of Slocan Ore Shipped to Trail From Bosun Mine

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Reawakening of the long dormant Slocan mining camp began officially today with Santiago Mines Ltd., of Vancouver, reporting the shipment of the first carload in years of high-grade, silver-lead ore to the Trail Smelter from the re-conditioned "Bosun" Mine.

The report, released by Stanley B. Snell, Secretary-Treasurer of the Santiago Company, sent a thrill of excitement through British Columbia mining circles where memories are still fresh of the halcyon days of the Slocan area when it was one of the great mineral producers of Canada.

In the thirties, slumping silver prices left a trail of abandoned mines behind them. In the intervening years, a few big companies produced on some of the properties. Other small operations were conducted by "leasers."

This Summer, however, the jump in silver price to 90 cents an ounce; similar price increases in lead and zinc; and a shortage of lead which developed in the U.S. mining industry, attracted new capital into the Kootenay for development work on the old ghost mines.

Canada Would Encourage Return Of Displaced Persons to Homes

By R. J. ANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 17 (CP) — Canada aligned itself with Russia today before the United Nations Economic and Social Council in declaring that repatriation must be the "primary object" of all organizations attempting to solve the problem of Europe's 1,000,000 refugees.

Urging the immediate establishment of the proposed Interim Commission of the International Refugee organization to prevent these non-German refugees being "abandoned to their fate in occupied territory," Paul Martin, Canada's delegate on the Council, declared: "I fully concur in the opinion of my Soviet colleague that wherever possible obstacles which stand in the way of voluntary repatriation must be removed."

In Saturday's meeting, Nicholai Feonov, Russian delegate, pointed out that the work of repatriation, which he termed the "main task" facing the United Nations refugee commissions, had not yet been completed. He urged that repatriation, rather than resettlement outside of Europe, be the first duty of the Interim Commission which is to take over the U.N.R.R.A.'S refugee activities next year.

$260 MILLIONS FOR JOB

The immediate problem facing the Council is to set up interim machinery for the care and maintenance of refugees for the period when U.N.R.R.A. will be winding up its activities and before the U.N.'s proposed I.R.O. can operate. A provisional first-year budget for I.R.O. contemplates expenditure of almost $260,000,000 on care, repatriation and resettlement during 1947.

Mr. Martin noted that some 8500 homeless persons were given temporary refuge in Canada during the war and now have been granted the right to apply for Canadian citizenship. Four thousand veterans of the Polish army in Europe also are to be admitted to Canada and will "in due course," be eligible to become citizens and be able to bring their close relatives to the Dominion. To Mr. Feonov he said:

"I should like to assure my Soviet colleague that we are in full agreement that as many people as possible in displaced person camps should be encouraged to return to their countries of national origin . . ."

Motor Transport Seeks Increased Rates at Coast

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Increased motor freight rates are being sought by the motor transport industry of Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria to meet hourly wage increases of 15 to 20½ cents an hour for more than 1000 workers G. L. Buckman, chairman of the operators' committee, said today.

The workers are members of the General Truck Drivers and Helpers Union, Local No. 31, represented by Reg Atkinson. Their wage boost, approved by the Regional War Labor Board, is between 20 and 31.7 per cent.

Mr. Buckman said the industry will require relief in order to meet the increased wages and applications are now pending with the Prices Board and other governing bodies for freight rate adjustments.

TOAST and TEA
BY J. V. MCARLE

In his essay On Liberty John Stuart Mill tells us that the despotism of custom is everywhere the standing hindrance to human advancement, being in unceasing antagonism to that disposition to aim at something better than customary, which is called, according to circumstances, the spirit of liberty or that of progress or improvement. The spirit of improvement is not always a spirit of liberty, for it may aim at forcing improvements on an unwilling people; and the spirit of liberty, insofar as it resists such attempts may ally itself locally and temporarily with the opponents of improvement; but the only unfailing and permanent source of improvement is liberty, since by it there are as many possible independent centres of improvement as there are individuals. The progressive principle, however, in either shape, whether as the love of liberty or of improvement, is antagonistic to the sway of Custom, involving at least emancipation from that yoke; and the contest between the two constitutes the chief interest of the history of mankind.

MEMPHIS BILL READY FOR BALL COMEBACK

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 17 (AP)—William (Memphis Bill) Terry, who managed New York Giants to their last pennant, said today he was "definitely interested" in returning to baseball—this time as general manager of the National League's Cincinnati Reds.

Terry, one of the greatest first-basemen of all-time, told The Associated Press that he had been approached by a spokesman for Cincinnati interests who, the spokesman said, were trying to buy the Reds.

Woodcock Takes Yank's Crown

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP)—British sports fans who have spent the major portion of the post-war era seeing their athletic heroes defeated by invaders watched with glee tonight as Bruce Woodcock, British and Empire Heavyweight Boxing champion, knocked out Gus Lesnevich of Cliffside, N.J., world lightweight king, in eight rounds.

The knockout, produced by a right smash to the chin, came at one minute, 40 seconds of the eighth frame. Lesnevich weighed 181½ pounds, Woodcock 192.

The triumph of the British boxer, knocked out by Tami Mauriello in New York City last Spring, was witnessed by a sell-out crowd of 10,700 in Harringay Arena. The gate was estimated at £43,750 ($175,00).

New Staff Members Of School District Meet School Board

Members of Nelson School District 7 School Board Tuesday night met two newcomers to the District staff.

Introduced were Miss Nancy Lee, Health Nurse, who is working in outlying areas in conjunction with Miss Jean McVicar, Health Nurse for the City; and Fred Middleton, new principal of Salmo High School. Mr. Middleton is a war veteran.

New member of the Board is A. P. Hudson of Longbeach, who succeeded the late E. B. Ramsay of Balfour.

Fisherman and Wife Fight Fire on Boat

STEVESTON, B.C., Sept. 17 (CP) —A 28-year-old fisherman and his wife fought flames aboard their explosion-and-fire-racked boat Monday for three hours—while two miles from shore in the Gulf of Georgia—before they were pulled to safety by rescuers, seriously burned.

Fire swept their small craft when the spare gas tank overturned, spewed over the deck and exploded.

Force of the blast hurled Harold D. Derksen, Steveston fisherman, from the cabin.

Flames from the explosion trapped Mrs. Derksen.

Derksen was badly burned about the face and arms as he plunged through the flames to pull his wife to mometnary safety.

Both burned and injured—Mrs. Derksen suffered body injuries in the blast—they then began a three-hour struggle to save their boat.

Their condition today is "fairly good."

The fire started when they were two miles out in gulf waters, off the mouth of the Fraser River.

Ask for Books For Rural Schools

Books which can be spared by Nelson schools are urgently needed in schools outside the City, C. H. Sewell told the School Board Tuesday night. The outside schools were badly off for books for children.

F. B. Pearce, Central School Principal, and B. B. Stallwood, Hume School Principal, agreed to a suggestion made by Secretary N. S. Macleod that they visit the rural points and assess the schools as to their requirements.

MRS. WHITESIDE TO JOIN SCHOOL STAFF

Recommendation of probationary appointment of Mrs. E. Whiteside as a Junior High School teacher was made by Principal F. L. Irwin at Nelson District 7 School Board meeting Tuesday night. The recommendation must be approved by the Department of Education at Victoria.

Mrs. Whiteside has had nine years teaching experience on the Prairies, Mr. Irwin said.

Eldred Evans has been transferred to the High School staff.

Burnaby Tram Has Day of Misfortune

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Misfortune followed a one-car Burnaby Lake interurban tram into Vancouver early today.

At 1 a.m. the tram was involved in a collision with an auto at Second and Victoria in which the auto driver was injred.

An hour later its own motorman was hospitalized after the tram made a spectacular leap from street car tracks at Commercial and Venables.

Suffering head injuries in the first accident was David Hessler, 28, whose Northbound auto and the Interurban collided at a point where the Interurban tracks cross the intersection.

Police said the auto was practically demolished.

Continuing towards the centre of the city as a "deadhead"—without passengers and with its air breaks not functioning, the Interurban failed to make a turn from Commercial onto Venables, jumped the tracks and came to rest half a block away on Commercial, straddling a lane.

The motorman, William A. Miller, 39, New Westminster, was taken to General Hospital with knee and elbow abrasions.

Ceiling Damaged In Baker Street Store Fire

Damage was confined by firemen to the ceiling area of Mann Rutherford Drug Company store on Baker Street, where fire broke out at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Damage to the ceiling was estimated at $100.

A short circuit in a ceiling light fixture caused the fire. Salvage covers were placed over counters and shelves thus preventing any damage to store stock, and a fog line was used.

About six square feet of ceiling was torn out to get at the flames which had worked up between the joists. A door was damaged when entry had to be forced into the store.

Auto Awaits Lucky Phillie Fan

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17 (AP)—Philadelphia's Phillies of the National League, put a pot of gold in the form of a new automobile at the end of the rainbow today for the 1,000,000th Phils' fan.

President Bob Carpenter and General Manager Herb Pennock said the automobile will be waiting at Shibe Park for the lucky fan to drive home.

"A SOCIAL CREDITER 100 PER CENT" SAYS PONTIAC BY-ELECTION WINNER

VAL D'OR, Que., Sept. 17 (CP)—Real Caouette, winner in the Pontiac Federal by-election yesterday, said in an interview today that he is a "Social Crediter 100 per cent; and that he is "100 per cent for Social Credit on Social Credit matters."

Mr. Caouette was elected under the banner of L'Union des Electeurs de Pontiac, the name by which the Social Credit Party has become known in Quebec.

"The press that reported me on the occasion I was supposed to have repudiated my leader was absolutely wrong," said Mr. Caouette, 29-year-old garage manager.

"What I told the crowd was this: 'When I go to the House of Commons, I am not going to serve a political party, I am not going to serve a political chief, but I am going to serve my electors, and all the electors of Pontiac."

"I did not repudiate Social Credit, nor my chief, Solon Low. I am 100 per cent for Social Credit on Social Credit matters, But suppose some other question comes up, that does not involve Social Credit. I shall consult with L'Union des Electeurs, in fact, I shall consult my electors generally, to see how they feel about things. I plan to keep in close touch with my people."

Mr. Caouette's statement removed the uncertainty as to whether he would sit with the Social Credit in the Commons. That party now has 13 members all from Alberta.

EDMONTON, Sept. 17 (CP) — Jubilation was displayed in Social Credit quarters today over the party's victory Monday in the by-election in the Federal riding of Pontiac, Quebec.

Premier E. C. Manning commenting on the results said "The people of Pontiac constituency are to be congratulated on this forward step. It is indicative of a growing public realization that a true, economic democracy for which the Social Credit movement stands, is the practical solution to the economic problems of this present day."

A. V. Bourcier, chairman of the Social Credit Board, said the result was a most magnificent victory.

"Because it is a clear result of a genuine Social Credit test, and it was held apart from such issues as are found in a general election."

SKUNKS TERRORIZE TORONTO SECTION

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — No one volunteered to count noses of the skunk family that is "terrorizing" West Toronto's Baby Point district, so police today had no estimate of the number of marauders.

But the wife of Inspector W. J. Franks doesn't think her husband could help much. She's one of the complaining residents who nightly are afraid to venture out after dark. More than once she's left her car in the driveway all night because of the skunks.

Now neighbors are staying indoors with cellar windows tightly locked after George Gordon's automobile headlights picked out a fat "wood pussy" waddling placidly from his garage.

Dozens of skunk tracks and overturned garbage cans bear testimony to activities of the nocturnal besiegers but their victims are talking darkly—and somewhat helplessly—of imminent reprisals.

SAYS 50 PER CENT OF SERVICEMEN HAD LITTLE TO DO WITH CHURCH

By GEORGE BURMAN

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP) — About 50 per cent of the members of the Canadian armed forces during the war had little or no connection with any church in the Dominion, Rev. W. Franklin Bannister of Toronto today told the 12th General Council of the United Church of Canada in presenting a statement from the Church's chaplains who served during the last war.

These non-churchmen came from both urban centres and from sections of Canada in the North and in the West where the church never has been properly established. They were not antagonistic toward the chaplain or religion, the statement said, but for the most part were simply apathetic.

The chaplains' statement said that of the enlisted members classified as churchmen, of Protestant affiliation, many were indifferent to denominationism and "raised no objection to being lumped together with other Protestants at church parades."

CHURCHMEN SUPERIOR TO NON-CHURCHMEN

As regards qualities of life, the churchmen were superior to the non-churchmen. In the main, they honored women and believed in sexual virtue. Crimes were rarely committed by those who had attended Sunday school in their youth. They usually frowned on excessive drinking, but in the main rejected the doctrine that total abstinence is a Christian virtue. The United Church men drank in proportion to men of other religious bodies.

As a postwar program Dr. Bannister suggested: Friendliness and warmth in church services; more Biblical, doctrinal instruction; more Christ-like preaching; more accessible ministers, with frequent contact with men; an early union of Protestant communions; insistence on the relevance of the church to every phase of life.

Rev. Uriah Laite of New Westminster, B. C., captured in the fall of Hong Kong where he was chaplain of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, told of some of his experiences during his 44 months in a Japanese prison camp.

He would never forget the spirit, comradeship and faith of his fellow prisoners and if he had to repeat the experience, would choose to be with the same officers and men.

Religious services were held daily, with four or five on Sunday. More than 100 men voluntarily made a profession of faith.

Hon. Wing Cmdr. Robert Fayne, a native of Winnipeg and now head of the R.C.A.F. chaplaincy service at Ottawa, spoke of the pastoral work facing peacetime chaplains. Their task would be to strengthen Canada's spiritual life, "and God knows it needs strengthening."

A report on colleges and secondary schools said some favorable replies had been sent to four institutions who asked permission to launch campaigns to raise funds. These included St. Andrews, Saskatoon, Sask., $250,000, and Winnipeg College, $1,500,000.

Castlegar Children Attend School in Shifts

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 17 (CP) — School accommodation at nearby Castlegar is so limited and there has been such an influx of beginners from the district that the Board of School Trustees of Castlegar School District No. 9 have decided to inaugurate a "shift" system.

Castlegar Community Hall has been taken over as a school house and between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., Kinnaird school children wil laitend Grades one, two, three and four, and be dismissed. In the afternoon the building will accommodate Castlegar and Robson children attending grades one and two between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Wife Receives Letter From Missing Husband

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 17 (CP)—The mystery of the reported disappearance in Vancouver during the weekend of A. J. Palmer, 35, of this city was clarified here today by his wife.

A Vancouver dispatch last night said the Moncton man was being sought by police as the possible victim of foul play following a check of hotels and rooming houses. The fears for his safety were said to be based on a "mysterious" telegram he sent his wife after his arrival in the Pacific Coast city.

Mrs. Palmer said she had received word today from her husband that he had left for Phoeniz, Ariz., his original destination, and that the "mysterious" telegram had been one askin gfor further identification for the purpose of crossing the United States border.

Report of his disappearance followed his failure to appear at the Vancouver Y.M.C.A., where he was expected to stay, but Mrs. Palmer said he had visited at the home of friends instead.

Thousands can cut down on laxative dosing this Carter way. Ask for Carter's Pills by name to get the genuine at any druggists—35¢, 70¢, $1.00. Start the Carter graduated dose method tonight, and jump out of bed tomorrow rarin' to go.

Cease Picketing AFL Manned Ports

Frees About 40 Ships; Does Not Mention Action on Pacific Coast

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP) — A.F.L. longshoremen resumed work today on several New York piers following a National Maritime Union (C.I.O.) decision to cease picketing ships in Uited States ports manned by the A.F.L. Seafarers' International union "except where they are berthed at the same dock with N.M.U. vessels."

The first break in the strike, begun September 5 by A.F.L. seamen against a Wage Stabilization Board decision limiting egotiated wage increases, occurred without incident, police said. They estimated 500 men were at work by 8 A. M., and that six piers were free of pickets.

All foreign ships not under contract to the N.M.U. also were exempt from picketing uder the new directive, issued today by N.M.U. President Joseph Curran after a conference with his aides at union headquarters here.

Curran's order did not mention the future action to be taken by N.M.U. members regarding ships manned by the A.F.L. Sailors' Union of the Pacific.

The N.M.U. head said the union's action would free about 40 S.I.U. ships in the port of New York, permitting them to prepare to sail immediately.

REQUEST PICKET WITHDRAWAL EXCEPT ON C.I.O. CONTRACTS

Curran's directive followed by several hours a request by the A.F.L. Maritime Trade Department that the N.M.U. withdraw its picket lines around all vessels on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts except C.I.O. contracted ships "to eliminate the possibility of wide-open jurisdictional warfare along all docks in all ports."

In urging the N.M.U. withdraw its pickets by 6 A. M., E.D.T., today, John Owens, executive secretary of the department, which speaks for A.F.L. Maritime Unions, added that A.F.L. Maritime unions would respect picket lines around vessels whose operators have contracts with the N.M.U. or the C.I.O. Marine Cooks and Stewards Union.

Also involved in the strike is the Maritime Firemen, Oilers, Wipers and Watertenders Union, an independent organization.

The three unions are seeking parity with the A.F.L. sailors who gained wage boosts of $22.50 monthly on the West coast and $27.50 on the East coast. The N.M.U. last June won a $17.50 monthly raise for its members. (See story on page 3.)

Madame's Wardrobe Blooms in Banff Blues, Mountie Reds, Beaver Browns

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 16 (CP)—Canada one day may rival Paris in daring styles, judging from the costumes displayed today by two Toronto department stores at the opening of their Fall fashion shows. Approximately half the clothes modelled were by Canadian designers.

Sperber of Montreal has fashioned an evening-dress of black taffetta lined in powder blue, which has a hemline shortened in front almost to the knees, but dropping to a long, full train at the back. Both midriff and neckline are bare.

A black Russian broad-tail suit, draped as though it were thin cloth, caused the audience to catch its breath. Designed by Andre of Toronto, the coat has the popular full peplum, and even a pleated skirt.

Other Canadian designers represented included Hildebrande of Toronto and Sanft of Montreal.

Color too has gone Canadian and bears such homey titles as "Banff" blue and "beaver" brown. A dressmaker suit and afternoon dress were shown in the dashing "mountie" red.

For the most part hats this year are hoods, and anything goes, but the ostrich plume reigns supreme, both for day and evening wear.

The "atomic bomb" note crept in with the bikine model by Madame Agnes of Paris. In a tall "cocktail" hat for the woman who likes her clothes extreme, she has created the illusion of the mushroom of smoke with grey feathers and flowers.

VANCOUVER MAKES ONE OF LARGEST FIRE INSURANCE SETTLEMENTS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — One of the city's largest fire insurance settlements—$105,000—has been made for stock burned a year ago in the spectacular fire at the five-storey McMaster Building.

The building, owned by Smith Davidson & Wright Ltd., was scene of the tragic fire in which three firemen were killed and 15 people injured.

CALL R.C.A.F. INTO SEARCH FOR PLANE

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — R.C.A.F. reported today that it was asked by the United States Navy to assist in the search for a missing PBY flying boat with eight passengers aboard. The missing PBY was on a routine flight of 50 airmiles from the Naval air station at Sand Point, Wash., to the Naval air station at Whidby Island in the same state.

Wary Cabinet Shuffle, Gov't Drive Seen

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP) — Postmortems in political circles today on the significance of the Government's defeat in the Pontiac by-election produced a variety of opinions on the cause and consequences.

Observers agreed that the defeat at the hands of Real Caouette, 29-year-old garage manager and supporter of Social Credit theories, likely will mean a concerted Government drive for victory in the forthcoming by-elections in Toronto Parkdale and the Manitoba constituency of Portage la Prairie.

They also agreed that Prime Minister Mackenzie King likely will strive in his proposed Cabinet shuffle to avoid opening any seats until political winds are more favorable.

Some interpreted the vote in the by-election as a protest against the Government. Others attributed the result to good organization on the part of Mr. Caouette, who ran under the banner of L'Union des Electeurs de Pontiac, the name under which the Social Credit Party is known in Quebec.

In the latest returns available—262 out of 274 polls — this is how the votes in Pontiac were divided:

Mr. Caouette, 10,515; Lucien Labelle, Liberal, 9696; Hector Belec, Progressive Conservative, 6893; Bernard Molloy, C.C.F., 1736; and Oscar Roy, Labor Progressive, 472.

Urge Means of Warning for Fraser Gillnet Fishermen

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — B. C. fishermen are urging use of former air raid sirens or other means of warning to inform Fraser River gillnet fishermen of the approach of freighters or other large ships in the river.

Danger of small fishboats being run down by big ships in the river channel is acute with a record-sized gillnet fleet in operation. On Friday night, former Canadian boxing champion Joe Ashenbrenner died and a companion narrowly escaped death when their gillnetter was run down by the British freighter Fort Lennox.

SPAIN'S COST OF LIVING UP 400 PER CENT

Accuse Police of Black Market Roles; Franco Leads Drive WAGES LAG

By HENRY BUCKLEY

MADRID, Sept. 17 (Reuters) — Spain's cost-of-living index at the start of 1946 was 360 per cent higher than that of 1926, and by the end of May statisticians reckoned it was up 400 per cent over the figure of 20 years ago.

Generalissimo Franco personally has assumed leadership of a drive against the black market, combining threats with appeals to discourage illegal dealings.

Steadily rising wages still have not caught up with soaring prices, and the lower class in urban areas has suffered correspondingly.

The military and police—who receive the lion's share of the $7,500,000,000 Spanish budget apppropriations—are accused of dealing on the black market with the extra rations which are part of their special position under the Franco Government. Manufacturers have been known to pay three or four times the market price for coal to keep their industries going. State, municipal and trade organization officials also have been charged with corruption in the distribution of food.

German Rejection Of Communism Noteworthy Move

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

Communism has been rejected by an avalanche of moderate and conservative German votes in the British and French zones of occupation, just as was the case in the American zone a few weeks ago; in the Russian occupied Provinces of Brandenberg and Mecklenburg the Communist-dominated Socialist Party won a big margin.

That's a highly significant development—a matter of vast import not only to Germany but to Europe as a whole.

The significance lies in the reasons why the vote in the American-British-French areas eschewed the Red ism. And perhaps the easiest way to get at our analysis is first to state the problems which the voters had to face. There are three issues involved:

1. From the moment Hitler came to power in 1939 until he died in the fortress beneath the Chancellery in the smoking ruins of his castle, he had hammered hate and fear of Communism into his people. To the average German, Communism was the last word in evil.

2. Before the war Germany was the economic keystone of the Continent, and the consensus of experts is that the Reich's legitimate economic life—that is, an economy shorn of all military possibilities—must be restored if Europe as a whole is to be rehabilitated. You can't have a sick Germany and a well Europe, any more than a man can have an ailing heart and a sound body.

3. History may record that the greatest long-term disaster which befell Germany and numerous other parts of Europe was not material but was spiritual and moral destruction. Hitler himself was chiefly responsible for this because he deliberately debased his own people and those of other countries which came under his control.

The majority of Germans find no answer to any one of these three problems in adopting Communism.

Problem No. 1 speaks for itself. Even those Germans who abhorred Hitlerism — and there were many among the older folk—still are fearful of the Red tide from the East.

Concerning the economic ills of Problem 2, I found during my recent visit to Germany that there were few in the zones occupied by the three Western Allies who saw any remedy in Communistic doctrines.

The third issue—that of spiritual and moral rehabilitation — looms large in the calculations of the many who believe that these elements are essential for the stability of a nation in the long run.

Here again the answer is that Communism—which holds that religion is the opiate of the masses—obviously doesn't fill the bill for anyone who has religious leanings.

DISCUSS NURSE SHORTAGE

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — British Columbia's nurse shortage is under discussion today by a joint committee of hospital authorities, medical health officials and registered nurses association.

"Closed Shop" Established in Buckingham Palace; Unionize Staff

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 18 (CP Cable)—Off duty from Buckingham Palace, a lordly footman shorn of his finery was enjoying a quiet glass of beer in the tavern "around the corner" when a newspaperman upset his equilibrium.

"Excuse me, but are you a member of a trade union?" the reporter asked.

The footman set down his glass and surveyed the questioner in frozen horror.

"Good heavens, no," he replied in awed tones.

That was two months ago.

Things have moved fast since then, for now it is claimed that the "closed shop" has been established at Buckingham Palace—quietly and without opposition from the comptrollers of the royal household.

FOOTMAN DELEGATE

All 220 servants, male and female, on the palace domestic staff recently joined the Civil Service Union and the Civil Service Union now has become affiliated with the Trades Union Council.

The Union also has joined the London Trades Council and what is still more remarkable, one of the king's footmen has been selected as delegate to the London Council.

Organization of non-clerical workers in Buckingham Palace began last April, a Civil Service Union official said. The campaign since has been extended to Windsor Castle and Marlborough House, residence of Queen Mary.

Palace officials stolidly decline comment on the present situation, but J. R. Clynes, a former Home Secretary, writing in the Municipal and General Workers Journal said that "in an enlightened future the head of a royal household staff may not only have the honor attaching to his place of employment, but the honor of acting as shop steward for his mates."

3 Canadian Red Cross Women Left In Normandy

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Sept. 17 (CP) — In the still ruined towns through which Canadians fought in Normandy, three women representing the Canadian Red Cross are distributing new clothing to needy French families.

The three, doing one of the last Canadian Red Cross jobs in Europe, are Marion Bigelow and Margaret Evans of Vancouver and Claire Watson of Montreal.

Their headquarters are at Bayeux, West of Caen, and although their area extended from Rouen on the Seine to Cherbourg, they are particularly interested in the Caen and Falaise areas where great Canadian actions were fought.

Mme. Georges Vanier, wife of the Canadian Ambassador to France, initiated the work after a visit to the battlefield area which impressed her with the urgent need for clothing.

The Canadians work in close cooperation with the French Red Cross, which decides which families are most in need. Then the Canadians distribute the clothing, calling personally at many homes.

"We try to pay particular attention to vilalges, towns and farms that have not been helped previously," said Miss Evans.

"All the clothing we distribute is brand new," she aded. "It is from our Canadian wartime stock and was left over at the end of the fighting."

During June, 930 cases—about 70 tons—were received for distribution. Another big shipment has arrived at Rouen and a third is on the way.

Another Canadian Red Cross worker in France is Nora Walsh of Vancouver. She is attached to the British Red Cross in Paris, helping distribute Canadian and British prisoner-of-war parcels which were surplus when the war ended.

France Puts Up Baby Bonus

PARIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—France is willing to pay 20,000 francs—roughly $168—for every child born into newly-founded households as a part of the Government's effort to rebuild the population.

Population Minister Robert Prigent intends to introduce a bill in the current constituent assembly session whereby newly married couples can obtain "marriage loans" of 80,000 or 100,000 francs (roughly $672 or $840 at legal rates) repayable in 10 years to help them set up housekeeping.

For each child, these couples would receive a repayment credit of one-fifth the borrowed amount, or 20,000 francs on an original loan of 100,000 francs, with five children, the loan would be considered completely repaid.

"Every French family," said the Minister in explaining government plans, "should have three children on an average if France is to have as many inhabitants 100 years from now."

Other measures to help boost the birthrate, most of them already on the books in a law passed Aug. 6, include birth bonuses to French mothers, family subsidies, and parental payments, all intended to equalize the standard of living between childless couples and large families.

U.B.C. TO BE LEADER IN NUCLEAR PHYSICS

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 17 (CP)—Dr. Gordon Merritt Shrum of the University of British Columbia Physics Department, said today that UBC is soon to become one of the leading Canadian Universities in nuclear physics.

Dr. Shrum, who returned from a conference at McGill University today, told a press conference, that UBC has been granted $6000 by the National Research Council to be used for nuclear research.

"Professors Man and Brown are bringing back equipment made at Chalk River, Ont., for use here," Dr. Shrum said. "They are also bringing back radioactive materials, although this is short lived, and arrangements will be made for transporting it by air when research gets under way here," he added.

In referring to the conference at McGill, Dr. Shrum said it was purely scientific and nothing political was discussed.

Nuclear work at U.B.C. this Fall will be carried on by "eight to 10 M.A. students and about four members of the staff," he told the press conference.

KING OF EGYPT RETURNS

CAIRO, Sept. 17 (Reuters)—King Farouk of Egypt today returned to Alexandria from his 17-day Mediterranean cruise for scheduled talks on the revision of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty. Ismail Sidky Pasha, Egyptian Prime Minister, said negotiations would start "immediately."

FOREST FIRES CAUSE EXTENSIVE DAMAGE UP NORTH

EDMONTON, Sept. 17 (CP)—Forest fires have caused extensive damage in the Far North, due in large part to an extremely dry season, Mackay Meikle, Ottawa, Chief Inspector for the Northwest Territories and Yukon Affairs Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, said today.

Mr. Meikle has just completed an inspection trip which took him as far North as Aklavik and said the forest fires extend ocer much of the country between Fort Smith and Aklavik. Carelessness of prospectors and Indians was believed to be responsible for fires in many cases.

Mr. Meikle said an important development in Northern transportation was the opening of an air strip at the Eldorado Mine property at Great Bear Lake. Large planes now were able to land on wheels, which meant that the volume of tonnage could be increased.

The officials said considerable mining development is expected in the Yellowknife field, as plans are being made to open new properties. An increased amount of new construction also is expected at the mining town next year.

Sees Housing Prices Unchanged For Many Years

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP) — P. C. Armstrong of Montreal today told members of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards the present price of housing would remain constant for many years to come.

Mr. Armstrong, Canadian Pacific Railway economist, said "we are being led down the garden path of Socialism by the theory the Government is responsible for seeing everybody has a good house." People were being "bribed into Socialism — a millenium here on earth — by a Government making promises that cannot be fulfilled."

Young people today want a "good house, in a good suburb with all the advantages" and think they are entitled to it. But because labor was so costly, they should be taught to accept a lower standard.

He said the National Housing Act, though it had no great disadvantages, only enabled people who would build houses anyway to build them a little cheaper—"but it doesn't cause any more housing to be built." The weakness of all subsidized housing was that rentals were inevitably higher than in houses built by private enterprise.

SCORES RENT CONTROL

The way out of the present housing dilemma was to let people build houses for themselves. A class of professional landlords should be recreated by allowing them to make a profit. Rents, which were "totally cockeyed at present," should be equalized so as to do away with the disparity between rentals on pre-war and post-war housing. Finally, rent controls should be eliminated.

Delegates to the fourth annual conference of the Association elected Alfred J. Bender of Kitchener, Ont., President.

Other officers elected include Vice-President, L. K. Johnston of Winnipeg; Regional Vice-Presidents —Western Ontario and Manitoba, G. Barrett of Winnipeg; Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, Stuart Darroch, Edmonton, Alta.

Change Date of Announcing Verdict Of War Crimes

NUERNBERG, Sept. 17 (CP)—The International Military Tribunal announced today that its verdict against 22 leaders of Nazi Germany on war crimes charges will be handed down Sept. 30, instead of Sept. 23 as previously planned.

One source said it was "physically impossible" for the court, which recessed Aug. 31 to consider its verdict, to get through the mountainous heaps of evidence, exhibits and speeches heard during the trial, which lasted more than nine months, by Sept. 23.

(Reuters News Agency, in a Berlin dispatch, said it had learned that the Allied Control Council has unanimously decided not to make any announcement of the exact time or place of any executions resulting from the trials until after they have taken place.

(Reuters said that the council also has decided that after sentences have been pronounced, an announcement agreed upon by the Big Four powers will be issued. This will be followed by a "briefing" by a legal expert explaining the verdicts.)

LONDON (CP)—Mrs. Catherine Bush, 96, who landed at the London airport recently, is the oldest person ever to fly the Atlantic.

Impressed With Health Officers' Work in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 17—(CP)—Dr. Matthew Burn, Deputy Medical Health Officer for Birmingham, England, said in an interview here yesterday that he is "tremendously impressed by the exceptionally good work" carried out by city medical health authorities, and intends to incorporate several ideas gained during his five-day inspection here into a projected new hospital in Birmingham.

Dr. Burn's tour for new ideas to be used in his hospital, has taken him to Sweden, Denmark, France, Germany and Switzerland. He expressed admiration for the vaccine prepared by medical health authorities here for use against diphtheria and whooping cough, and said he had never seen it used before.

He intends to put it to use when he returns home.

ACCUSES ALLIES OF PLANNING AGAINST SLAVS

Free Territory Only Space for Armed Forces DR. BEBLER

By JOSEPH DYNAN

PARIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—Yugoslav spokesman Dr. Ales Bebler accused the Western powers today of seeking to establish a bridgehead in the Free City of Trieste for future military action against Yugoslavia.

Opening the Slavic bloc's attack upon the proposed boundaries of the free territory, Dr. Bebler told a Peace Conference Commission the only reason these were expanded beyond the Trieste city limits was to "allow space for the deployment of armed forces."

Dr. Bebler spoke as statesmen lined up once again in the Italian Political and Territorial Commission on opposing sides of the Trieste issue—this time in connection with the frontiers of the projected free area.

He urged the adoption of a Yugoslav amendment which would push the boundaries back to the city proper, a proposal paralleled by a White Russian amendment and contested by South African and Australian amendments which would extend the free states South in Istria to include Pola and other Italian coastal communities.

The Military Commission adopted without argument provisions for division of surplus Italian fleet units among the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

The vessels include three battleships, five cruisers, seven destroyers, one sloop, six torpedo boats, eight submarines and a host of minor craft and auxiliaries.

This same Commission approved clauses ordering Italy to demilitarize her frontiers with France and Yugoslavia, as well as Sicily, Sardinia, Pantelleria and smaller islands in the Mediterranean and Adriatic.

Kimberley Oldtimer Dies

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Sept. 17—One of Kimberley's best loved old timers passed away on Sunday evening in the person of Robert Turner.

A barber by trade, Mr. Turner went into Trail in 1905, moving to Sandon in 1907. In 1921 he moved to Kimberley where he served the public until his retirement a few months ago.

Death came suddenly in the McDougall Memorial Hospital, following a heart attack suffered during the course of the evening.

The late Mr. Turner was born at Crook, Durham County, England, in 1874. A sister survives in England.

Skitch Henderson's Change From Bomber Pilot to $1,000,000 Industry Doesn't Worry Him a Bit

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17 (AP) — The transition from bomber pilot to a $1,000,000 industry doesn't seem to perturb Skitch Henderson.

In fact, the blond, English-born pianist and bandleader appears extremely calm. No combat fatigue, no post-war jitters. Maybe that's because he is sitting on top of a fortune.

Before the war, Skitch was content to earn a comfortable living by pounding piano in radio orchestras and filling in for bands such as Tommy Dorsey's. When the Pacific war started, he took up flying Superforts over "Purple Heart Corner" in Japan. Surviving the flak and army red tape, he returned to Hollywood last January. Then things began to pop.

"For a long time I have been thinking about my own band," he told me. "So I decided to do something about it." He whipped up a sweet-playing outfit (including four French horns!) and the jobs began pouring in.

Up to the time of printing, Skitch had these deals completed: Playing a solo spot on the new Bing Crosby show; making Capitol records and transcriptions; coaching Jimmy Stewart as a pianist and composing a score for a picture; making a lucrative tour with the band. Other movie and radio deals are on the fire.

The big ones are beginning to make their entry into the Academy race, now that Fall and the Oscar deadline approaches. Latest is "Sister Kenny," which offers a potent bid for the honors.

Producer-Director Dudley Nichols offers the story of the famed nurse with admirable restraint. Rosalind Russell is a cinch for an Academy nomination with her portrayal of the Australian nurse.

Mrs. O'Brien couldn't get Margaret to bed the other night. Maggie received a sample package of children's toiletries and had to try everything from manicure to bubble bath.

Suggests Soap For Gift Parcels To U.K.

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP Cable)—Canadians packing gift parcels for the United Kingdom for Christmas or any other time might remember the British people like to be clean as well as full.

Some soap would be a welcome addition to the food parcels. British officials said the parcels must not exceed 11 pounds, of which only seven can be food, and not more than two pounds of any one food. The other four pounds could include necessities like soap and clothing.

Not more than one parcel monthly is allowed, and it must be unsolicited. These regulations are set forth by the Board of Trade, which demands import permits for almost everything brought into the United Kingdom apart from gift parcels.

CLOTHING DUTIABLE

Customs officials said both new and used clothing sent in gift parcels are dutiable. Thus, while the Trade Board has no objection to clothing being part of the parcel, the recipient may have to pay duty. Although many may have received clothing in parcels and not been charged duty, it does not necessarily mean they will escape in the future.

Officials said the flood of parcels from the Dominions continues, although there have been recent protests that the parcels have not been received. If regulations are contravened the department has power to impound the parcels, but one source said that of the millions received in the first five months of 1946, only 125 were stopped in that manner.

Officials said they doubted that many parcels had been lost in transit as lengthy delays still occurred in shipments, and some who protested that parcels were stolen or had strayed received them later.

British housewives find the food situation more difficult than during the war, with bread rationed and reductions in several categories. They find it difficult to make food tasty and orange or lemon peel would help with Christmas cakes. Nuts would be welcome, and dried pears, apples or apricots. Some raisins and currants are available here, but Canadian chocolate bars, soups, puddings, canned meat and the like remain most acceptable.

AFL WORKERS REFUSE RETURN TO WORK AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Sept. 17 (AP)—Confronted with a massed CIO-Maritime Unions' picket line AFL-Metal Trades Union Workers refused to try to enter the Todd Shipyards plant on Harbor Island when called to return to work today.

Within an hour, most of the pickets and AFL men left the plant area and the operators' plan to resume work on navy repair jobs today, at the navy's request, was given up, at least temporarily. The navy said yesterday the work must be resumed, or the ships would be moved to the Bremerton naval shipyard.

Hints for Housewives

By BETSY NEWMAN

In the following menu, I'm suggesting an economical but nourishing and delicious main dish that starts a meal off with the essential elements we've been talking about.

TODAY'S MENU

Lamb Riblets and Green Beans
Boiled Potatoes
Tossed Green Salad
Orange Cereal Flake Cookies
Coffee Milk

LAMB RIBLETS AND GREEN BEANS

3 lbs. lamb riblets
3 tablespoons fat
6 medium-sized carrots
2 lbs. fresh green beans.
Salt and pepper
6 small onions
4 tablspoons vinegar
Flour

Lamb riblets are made by slicing between the ribs of a breast of lamb. Brown the lamb well in the hot fat and season with salt and pepper; cover with water, cover and cook slowly for 30 mins. Add onions, carrots and beans and continue to cook for 45 mins. or until vegetables are tender. Add the vinegar during the last 15 mins. of cooking.

To serve, place ribs in the center of a large platter and arrange vegetabels around the outside. Thicken the liquid with flour smoothed in cold wter for gravy. Serves 6.

ORANGE-CEREAL FLAKE COOKIES

1 cup flour
2 tablespoons orange juice
1-3 cup fat
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup wheat cereal flakes
30 pecan halves or other nut meats
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ taplespoon grated orange rind.

Scald the pecan halves and put to drain. Sift flour, measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Prepare orange rind and juice. Cream fat, add sugar gradually, creaming in as added. Beat egg until light and fluffy, and add slowly to creamed mixture, then add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice and grated rind. Wheat flakes should be added last.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto a well-greased cookie sheet. Put a pecan half in the centre of each cookie, and bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 deg. F.) about 15 mins. This will make two and a half to three dozen cookies.

Advantages of Child's Sleep

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

The child should have a regular afternoon nap till school attendance interrupts. Some day he will have the nap at school, even up to the sixth grade. In a few kindergarten and first grades children have a nap now.

But so far as I can ascertain the average child gets no regular nap at home after the age of three. What amazes and distresses me is that so small a proportion of tots with educated, well-to-do parents get the afternoon nap.

The majority of these parents believe the nap desirable. Yet, they either don't go to the trouble to hold themselves to a regular routine of training the child, or they have been so "corrupted" by the philosophy of "mere persuasion" that they don't find their ways effective. I wonder how great has been the price paid in loss of sleep to growing children from this destructive doctrine, not to mention loss to character and citizenship.

Parents who have been followers of the "mere persuasion" doctrine say you can't make a child sleep by commanding him to sleep. No, you can't make him sleep just by telling him to do so. But you can set the stage so he will sleep. You can keep him in a horizontal position for a regular period each day. If this is done skillfully, he just naturally will sleep then.

To accomplish this, you may have to employ physical pain or an effective substitute. You must train him ealry in the unambiguous meaning of No".

Such training when done well takes very little time and effort, or discomfort to anybody concerned. I know. It worked with our six grandchildren. For several weeks this past Summer they were all with us. Their ages are 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7.

Every afternoon, right after lunch, they all went off to bed and soon were silent and asleep. Each child brought with him his sleep habits a good many hundred miles. Even the seven-year-old observed this nap period. No question was raised by any of these youngsters. It was the thing to do.

Consider the relief to the rest of the family for two or three hours each afternoon. Besides, the children got up rested. How much more cheerful and happy they were for the rest of the day than if they had had no nap.

I think I could do a lot for the mental health and happiness of mothers and young children if I had the ability to persuade most mothers that every child should have a regular nap till school interrupts it. I believe that any parent who really cares about the welfare of her child can learn to train him to enjoy the nap.

The results are best, of course, when the training has continued without interruption from early infancy. Habits are not built in a day.

"British Imperialism Died in Boer War"

ABERDEEN, Scotlanad, Sept. 16 (Reuters)—Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa said last night that British Imperialism "died in the Boer War and has been non-existent since."

Although the South African leader did not mention Commerce Secretary Henry Wallace of the United States by name, observers interpreted his remarks as being aimed at the American's statement Thursday that United States foreign policy must steer clear of British Imperialism and Russian retaliation to avoid war.

Rubber Ball Personality

By JANE ATKINSON

Here is a girl in love with a man wo has a rubber-ball personality. He bounces away from her in pursuit of somebody else and then bounces back again. She is getting a little tired of it and wants to know how long she ought to let him keep it up.

"I have been going with a boy for a year," she writes. "I love him and he has told me many times he loves me. We went steady for a month and broke off. He is very popular with girls and everyone seems to like him.

"He has come back to me five times and every time I was willing to take him back. I asked him why he kept on coming back, and he said it was because he really loves me. I told him I felt like a fool, always playing second fiddle. He told me I was the only girl he came back to and that he'd never go back twice to any other girl. He said he just can't go steady with any girl.

"He has now entered the Navy. Before he went away, he promised to write, but the last time I saw him I told him not to bother. He assured me he would write just the same, but he has been gone four weeks now and I have not heard from him.

"I have always felt he took me for granted. And if I write to him now, before he writes to me, I feel he would take me for granted again. I thought if he really loved me, he would write to me as he said he would, and, if he didn't write, I would know I was just a pastime in his life.

"Do you think I am being selfish? Should I write to him first, or keep on hoping?

"May."

If you like the kind of young man of whom you never can feel sure, "May," then by all means write to him. You have taken so much from him already that if you want to hang on to him, you probably won't mind taking a littel more. I am sure that is the only way you'll ever have much chance of seeing or hearing from him.

But I think you are much more on the right track when you say you feel that he takes you for granted, and you suggest that you don't care much about that. In which case, it would be very foolish to write him again. If he thinks you are perfectly willing to let him play "fast and loose" with you, and that he's always going to find you waiting patiently until he feels like coming back to you, he's certainly not going to bother to show you very much consideration. Why let yourself be kicked around like that?

Apparently your boy friend considers it a compliment when he tells you that you're the only girl he comes back to, and "he'd never go back twice to any other girl." He seems to think that any girl ought to be happy to get him back whenever he wants to bounce in her direction. But it isn't any compliment, May. Quite otherwise. And as for that stuff about really loving you—well, if you can swallow that, you can swallow anything! Do you think for a minute that if he did love you he'd want to leave you even temporarily for any other girl? Don't be a sap, May.

What your problem boils down to is simply this: Do you care so much about this human rubber ball—and rubber balls, you know, are full of nothing but afr; in his case, hot air, I'd say—that you want him at all costs, no matter how poorly he treats you and how much nonsense you have to take from him, or would you prefer a man who thinks enough of you to treat you with true affection and respect?

Think that over, May, and if you give it much though, I'm betting that you've taken your boy friend back for the last time.

Bird Assistant RCMP Commissioner For Manitoba

Diabetic Life-Preserver

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Most people think of diabetes mellitus as a disease of the kidneys. It is not at all, but rather a disease of the metabolism, the process by which the body is maintained. In order to use sugar, the body must have a substance known as insulin, normally manufactured by the pancreas.

In people with diabetes, the pancreas fails to secrete this chemical. When this happens, sugar appears in the urine and the amount of sugar in the blood is increased.

Before it was discovered that insulin could be made from the pancreas of certain animals, the man or woman with diabetes was doomed to a miserable life and an early death.

The use of insulin in diabetes has lowered the death rate to the vanishing point in persons under 35 years of age, and has diminished the death rate in those between 35 and 40. The fact that there is an increased mortality from diabetes in those over 65 means only that diabetic patients now are living longer, and not that modern treatment has been a failure.

In treatifg diabetes, it is necessary to keep the amount of sugar in the blood at the proper level without producing hypoglycemia, or too little sugar in the blood. This can be done by adapting the dosage of insulin to the patient's needs and comforts rather than by modifying the diet.

There are a number of different varieties of insulin which can be used. The plain or unmodified insulin will lower the blood sugar for about four hours. Globin insulin with zinc and protamine zinc insulin have an action which persists for 24 hours or more.

Mixtures of both types may be employed. The proportion of each depends on when the injection is to be given and on the blood sugar level at the time the injection is employed.

It is not possible in all cases to keep the blood sugar at the normal level. However, early cases of diabetes may be cured with prompt and thorough treatment, particularly in children or in overweight persons in which the diabetes has come from the excessive use of sugars or in which the symptoms are due to the flaring up of chronic diabetes.

In most instances, the patient is permitted to have a slight elevation of the blood sugar from time to time, because by so doing hypoglycemia will not occur. This type of control is satisfactory in patients who have had diabetes for a long period of time.

In severe emergencies, it may even be advisable to allow the blood sugar to remain at a high level by giving plenty of sugar in the diet. This is done to prevent reactions and to make sure that the patient is using sufficient food material to keep the tissues from being damaged.

Of course, diabetes should always be treated by a physician. He will decide in each instance the type of diet to employ as well as the kind of insulin to use.

Have Some Fun While You Reduce

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Slimming off inches can be fun if you make a game of it. That's a promise from Claire Man, physical education instructor who has created a delightful system of "relaxercising," which means to relax as you exercise. It sounds wonderful and it is.

Any exercise is dull, she explains, unless you use your imagination. So, imagine you're a champagne glass, spilling champagne. The stem of the glass is long and slim—thats you through the middle. Put your arms behind your head, elbows well back, that's the top. Fill the glass by pulling up with your rib cage and lifting your chest, shoulders easy. Spill over by bending sideward.

Claire Mann, who is a former ballet dancer of the Metropolitan Opera, believes that exercise is infinitely more relaxing and more enjoyable when done to good music. She suggests bending to the tune of a Strauss waltz, swaying gracefully to the right as you bend, and then swaying to the left. You will find it's impossible to be bored, or to make an awkward movement, when slimming down with inspiring music.

One vital point teacher stresses is to make that little extra effort. In side bending, bend farther than you thought you could. Keep your feet on the floor. In stretching, reach for that extra fraction of an inch. That's what makes it slimming.

To budget your hips, imagine you have to walk through a narrow alley, just the width of your hips. Hold yor hands out in front, palms facing and spaced the width of your hips. Walk regally across the room ten times. You can't wiggle or let your hips waddle or you'll bump against the wall sides. To "narrow" your hips, you have to contract the gluteus muscles on the back of the hips and pull up firmly with the lower abdominal muscles to slim up. That means holding your chest up too, and your head. There you are, walking like a princess. For that number, Claire Mann likes rhythmic music like "Rhapsody in Blue."

Now an apple for the teacher. Standing on toes, arms upstretched. Imagine you are reaching for an apple, stretch up with one arm, then the other, pulling slim through the midriff. Continue for twenty counts and reach until you get the big red apple on the very top branch. For music, try a flute number, reaching higher and higher as the notes go up. You are on your tiptoes, you can feel the rib-cage lifting. You feel slimmer! Relax and reach again. Fun, isn't it?. And it's an easy way for all Eve's daughters to be elegantly slim.

SYDNEY, Australia, (CP) —Traffic exeprts are drafting a master plant to meet Sydney's traffic needs to the year 1990. Experts say that more than 4000 vehicles a day are delayed by traffic congestion in Sydney proper, causing a big loss in labor hours and money.

Canada, Running Short on Ducks, Chops Season, Limits; Hunters Get Bigger Cut Than U. S. Scattergunners

By H. DENT HODGSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 (CP) — Canadian duck hunters, back in bigger force this year than at any time since before the war, are finding their hours and bag limits considerably reduced from previous years.

The season on ducks opened today in Northern Ontario, Southern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and during the weekend in Southern Alberta, Central Quebec, and parts of British Columbia. In some Northern Districts it opened as early as Sept. 1.

Varying throughout the country, it will extend as late as Feb. 28 in some British Columbia districts, but the usual three-month season has been cut to a maximum of 2½.

This, however, is a situation that crops up every so often due to drought conditions, and the Mines and Resources Department, which sets the seasons and bag limits, says reasons for the cut are pretty convincing. In 1944 the duck population of North America was 140,000,000. It dropped to 120,000,000 in 1945 and this year is estimated at only 80,000,000. The figures are at the point where steps must be taken to preserve enough waterfowl for breeding purposes.

12 DAILY

The new Canadian regulations give most Canadians a season of 2½ months compared with a previous maximum of three, allow shooting only between one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset—a one-hour reduction—and limit the bag from a previous 15 to 12 ducks a day, with a season limit of 150 in most areas.

But, United States hunters, in all zones, have a seven-duck daily bag limit, with a season limit of 14 and a 45-day season.

General reason for the drop in duck population is lack of moisture in the Canadian Prairies. The ducks generally breed in potholes, where they can find both food and water and escape predatory animals until they are strong enough to fly overland to the big water.

Lately, the potholes have been drying up, and the ducklings have been dying off before they can develop. Water damming-projects by such organizations as Ducks Unlimited have helped the situation, but so far have not reached a scope necessary to assure a heavy supply of waterfowl.

INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENT

Both Canadian and United States seasons are set by international conventions. Due to the wide area of the Dominion, the surveys of duck population are undertaken by the American authorities. Then the two countries reach an agreement on the season's hunting restrictions.

Canadian hunters get a bigger cut for several reasons. For one thing, there are fewer hunters in Canada. Another reason is that Canada produces 75 to 80 per cent of the duck population. Canadian hunters claim that U.S. tourists get a "double season" by coming up to Canada for the season here and then doing further hunting in the States.

Then there is a duck's point of view. He may fly to the Gulf of Mexico, and during that time he is vulnerable over a longer total season in the various U.S. zones than in Canada.

Canadian regulations as to seasons and bag limits are more complicated than South of the border, where the zones run fairly regularly along the parallels of latitude. This is partly because the Canadian flyways are themselves more complicated.

Prairie ducks generally just head South, through the Dakotas and other Northwestern States and down the Mississippi Valley. However, many Manitoba ducks — particularly the famed canvas-back —head down Southern Ontario way, ignoring Eastern Ontario hunters. In the Rockies and Western Alberta, they go for the Coast, and take the hazardous mountain journey South by easy stages.

Another reason the seasons are more complicated in Canada is that the provinces control their own hunting laws, and only in 1920 was the control of migratory birds recognized as a Federal responsibility. Hence the different shooting regulations.

In general, however, the Canadian hunter this year has a 2½-month season on ducks and geese. He can bag 12 ducks a day, 150 in a season and five geese a day, 25 a season. On the Prairies he is only slightly less fortunate. There, the bag limits for ducks are: Manitoba and Saskatchewan, 15 a day, 100 a season and 40 in possession at any one time. In Alberta the limits are 15 a day, 150 a season and 60 in possession.

NEW RECORD FOR MEAT COUPON DONATION

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP) — A new record in the voluntary donation of meat ration coupons was set in the last two weeks of August when 234,014 were turned into Ration Board offices, the Food Information Committee announced today. This is almost five times the previous average fortnightly donation. Total coupon donation to Aug. 31 is 781,226 which has made available 1,356,780 pounds of canned meat for export to Europe.

DUNLOP Faces A GREAT RESPONSIBILITY

With other tire plants closed down for the past two months, Dunlop is faced with the great responsibility of endeavouring to satisfy the tremendous demand for tires due to the non-production of other tire companies.

Dunlop accepts this responsibility. Confident in the consistent loyalty and productive skill of its employees with whom the friendliest relations have always existed . . . possessed of the understanding and co-operation of Dunlop Dealers everywhere . . . Dunlop is bending every effort . . . concentrating every resource . . . on the production of Dunlop Tires to meet the needs of essential transportation, regular Dunlop customers and all others whom it is possible to serve through its established dealers.

TIRE SITUATION CRITICAL

No one can over-emphasize the critical shortage of tires today. And there are few signs of improvement. Even the manufacturers of new cars and trucks are obliged to ship cars and trucks without tires. It is utterly impossible for one tire plant to attempt to reasonably serve essential transportation, equip these new vehicles and to take care of consumer sales. Nevertheless, Dunlop Dealers are exercising the keenest judgment and sense of fair play in establishing equitable distribution of their very limited supplies.

Yes, in addition to being the only Tire Plant in Canada presently operating . . . in addition to the pressing demand . . . Dunlop is handicapped in its efforts by shortages of essential materials, including tire fabrics, steel and other metals for tire beads, moulds, valves, etc., and other materials and equipment essential to tire building which, on account of unsettled labour conditions elsewhere, have been in short supply or not available at all. Because of these shortages, Dunlop, in spite of having been as far ahead in its raw material inventories as conditions permitted, has been unable to maintain normal production. Users of tires such as the new 6.50-15 size will thus appreciate the difficulty of getting into quantity production of this particular tire.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

In the face of this grave, unprecedented situation, Dunlop . . . in the public interest . . . is going beyond commercial considerations and is doing its level best to serve tire users throughout Canada.

Dunlop assures you that it will continue to serve Canadians to the utmost of its ability, sparing no effort or expense. There is still great need for patience, of course, for conditions show no sign of easing. But when times return to normal . . . when present difficulties are ironed out . . . Dunlop, with its expanding production facilities, with the assurance of the steadfast loyalty and mutual goodwill of its employees and the co-operation of its dealers . . . will again be in a position to make available to tire users everywhere unrestricted supplies of the famous, long-serving, smooth-riding Dunlop Armorized Tires.

Wandering John MacNicol Off to Break Bottlenecks

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 16 (CP) — J. R. MacNicol, Progressive Conservative for Toronto Davenport, who has built a record of having travelled through more parts of Canada than any other member of Parliament, is on the move again.

He left today on a 3000-mile motor car trip through Quebec and the Maritime Provinces where he will survey the possibilities of eliminating transportation bottelnecks which have been hindering trade between Eastern and Central Provinces.

Elimination of the bottlenecks would be good for the whole of Canada, said Mr. MacNicol, who frequently in the Commons has urged the carrying out of irrigation projects in Western Canada. He said he was leaving on his new tour with the knowledge that some of the projects he had supported in Western Canada were being started.

An engineer by profession, he will make a survey of the Richelieu Rives to see if something cannot be done to facilitate the movement of larger boats through its waters.

If he found that free ports in Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Saint John, Halifax and elsewhere could increase Canadian trade he said he would support proposals that they be established.

While making his way back to Toronto he will strive to pick the shortest possible route between the Maritimes and Quebec. He believes that a "super" highway connecting those provinces would greatly increase trade.

If this super highway had to pass through Maine he believed Canada and the United States could work out an agreement similar to that on the Alaska Highway. While the highway now belonged to Canada, the Dominion had agreed to give the United States free passage over the route to Alaska.

BERESFORD-DEMKO

● A very pretty Autumn wedding was that solemnized at St. Paul's United Church Sept. 11th with Rev. H. Stewart Forbes officiating when Yizelle Demko, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Demko of South Forks, Sask., became the bride of Norman Beresford, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beresford, of Nelson. The happy couple were attended by Miss Rosena Maglio as bridesmaid and the groom's brother Frank as best man. Given in marriage by J. B. Maglio, an old friend of the family, the bride chose a floor-length white sheer gown, a silk net veil and matching white gloves. Her flowers were red roses and her only ornament a string of pearls. J. A. Maber and Howard Jeffrey were the ushers. A reception for about 70 guests was held at the Canadian Legion. A beautiful wedding cake, resting on a framed mirror stand, was flanked by pure white tapers in silver holders also by tiny silver vases of dainty Summer blossoms. The Church and reception hall were both decorated with large baskets of gracefully arranged gladiolis, asters and Autumn flowers. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Beresford plan on making their home in Nelson. For travelling the bride donned a suit of light blue and white accessories.

● Mr. and Mrs. William Turner of Sandon visited relatives and friends in town yesterday.

● Mr. and Mrs. Dingwell, McQuarrie Avenue, have left on a visit to the Coast.

● Major J. J. Zubick, who has been guest of his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beresford, Nelson Avenue, Fairview, has returned.

● Mrs. W. A. Bennett, Chatham Street, has returned from visiting at Rossland at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall.

● Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Wright, who have been visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Spencer, Victoria Street, returned to their home in Nanaimo Monday.

● Miss Betty Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holt, Fairview, has left to attend U.B.C. Miss Holt who was captain of the First Nelson Girl Guides was given a farewell gift at the C.P.R. depot as she departed for the Coast, many guides being present to see her off.

● Mr. and Mrs. George Reit have returend to their home in Naramata, B.C. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. McGinn, 511 Cedar Street while here to attend the marriage of their daughter, Mary Cecilia, to Daniel Lee McGinn.

● Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jorgensen, 806 Mill Street, have left on a two weeks motor trip through the Okanagan, Oregon and points at the Coast. They were accompanied by their son Earl, who will attend U.B.C.

● Robert Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fleming, Fairview, has left to attend U.B.C. in Vancouver.

● Mrs. Martin Demko, who has been in the city to attend the Beresford-Demko wedding, has returned to her home at South Forks, Sask.

● Miss Dolores Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Smith, Fairview, left Monday to attend U.B.C. in Vancouver.

● Major and Mrs. E. C. Whitelock and their two children arrived Sunday from England and are guests at the home, 308 Victoria St., of the Major's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Whitelock.

● J. H. Morrison, his son, J. A. Morrison, William Irvine, Charles H. Sewell, and George A. Gelinas are on a brief motor trip to Spokane.

● T. Rosling has returned from Banff where he was a delegate to a Kinsmen convention.

● Miss Mae Bowkett has left for Vancouver to attend U.B.C.

● Miss Doris Bergstrom, Silica Street, is visiting her mother in Sylvan Lake, Sask., for a few weeks.

● Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weir of Trail were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beresford, Jr., Nelson Avenue, Fairview.

ERICSON-BUSK

● The Mission Covenant Church in Vancouver was the setting for a lovely candlelight wedding Saturday evening, Sept. 7, when Anne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Busk of New Westminster, formerly of Nelson, became the bride of L. T. Daniel Ericson, son of Rev. and Mrs. D. N. Ericson of Nelson. Before the ceremony Rev. E. E. Lindgren of Bellevue, Wash., sang "We With Thee Will Begin." The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin played by Rev. J. S. Peterson of Prince Albert. 'Mid a profusion of Autumn blooms the groom's father, Rev. D. N. Ericson performed the double-ring ceremony assisted by Rev. Melvin Peterson of Vancouver. The bride was beautiful in shimmering white satin, her gown fashioned with sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice fell into a graceful train with misty veil of lace and satin inset cascading from a coronet of white stephanotis. She wore a string of pearls, the groom's gift to his bride, and she carried a shower bouquet of deep red roses. Chosen as maid of honor was Miss Frances Norris of Nelson with Misses Ida and Hanna Busk as bridesmaids. Little Janice Peterson served as flower girl. Acting as best man was Kenneth Rose of Seattle and Abe DeHaan, Ronald and Ernest Hansen and Herbert Eliason as ushers. During the ceremony the young couple knelt as Rev. E. Lindgren sang "Our Wedding Prayer"; at the signing of the register he sang "Because." Mrs. H. M. Busk and Mrs. D. N. Ericson assisted in receiving the guests at the reception which was held at the home of Mrs. A. Anderson on West Twelfth Avenue. The bride's table, which was covered with a satin damask cloth, was centred by the three-tiered wedding cake and flanked by lighted tapers and roses. Mrs. H. Saare and Mrs. E. Lindgren poured while Mrs. A. Anderson cut the ices. Professor J. S. Peterson acted as toastmaster and read the many congratulatory telegrams from friends including the bride's relatives in Sweden. The happy young couple left to spend their honeymoon in the Kootenays, after which they will reside in Nelson where the groom wil lserve as pastor of the Mission Covenant Church.

● G. S. Rees has left on a visit to Boston and New York.

● Thursday evening Miss Dorothy Norfield, Mrs. Harry Wilson and Mrs. George Burns entertained at a delightfully arranged miscellaneous shower at the home of the latter on Third Street honoring Mrs. John Paul, nee Miss Mildred Ross, who was married in Nelson recently. On behalf of the hostesses Mrs. Wilson pinned a corsage of pink carnations on Mrs. Paul. Bingo was enjoyed during the evening, the prizes for high scores being won by Mrs. N. Brown, Sr., and Mrs. A. Skilton. Little Miss Addie Marie Burns presented the gifts to the guest of honor. The invited guests included Miss F. Ferraro, Miss C. Fornelli, Miss M. Fornelli, Miss S. Smith, Miss E. Smythe, Miss W. Farmer, Miss L. Crossley, Mrs. R. Ross, Mrs. M. Brader, Mrs. J. A. Curran, Mrs. E. E. French, Mrs. R. Mills, Sr., Mrs. A. Skilton, Mrs. I. Johnson, Mrs B. Pearson, Mrs. C. Houde, Mrs. C. Carlson, Mrs. T. Crossley of Bonnington, Mrs. W. Brown, Sr., and Mrs. V. Phillips.

● Lawrence Chaluk, 316 Robson Street, left for Vancouver Sunday morning to attend technical school.

NAKUSP MASONS TOLD OF SHRINE HOSPITALS

NAKUSP, B.C., Sept. 17—Members of the Nakusp Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star members and visitors numbering about 80 were at home to hear Harry Rawlings of Victoria, formerly of Nakusp, and G. I. Warren, Ivan Beercroft and Eric Druce, all of Victoria, speak on the work of Shriner's hospitals for crippled children.

There were 16 hospitals in Canada and the United States. A brief presentation, both spoken and in pictures, of their surgical and medical achievements and administration in almost a quarter-of-century was given. Nearly 100,000 underprivileged boys and girls were aided.

Refreshments were served by members of the Eastern Star.

Girls More Popular Than Boys With Foster Parents

LONDON, Sept. 16 (Reuters) — Would-be foster parents in Britain apparently believe the nursery rhyme that little girls are made of "sugar and spice" etc., while little boys' ingredients generally are "rats and snails" etc.

Adoption societies report they have 10 applications for babies for every application for a little boy. They say the reason is that lonely adults prefer little girls who stay home and invite their playmates in, rather than little boys who develop an independent streak at six or seven years of age and want to be out with the gang after school.

Women more than 40 years of age are the majority of applicants. With their husbands back from the wars and with their wartime jobs gone, they seeek a child to fill the gap caused by cessation of their jobs. Most of them are refused, adoption officials say, because it is considered that middle-aged parents are not suited to cope with the problems of the adolescents their foster children will be in a few years.

N. Z. ALLOWS 5000 VEHICLES FROM U. S. AND CANADA TO ENTER

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Sept. 17 (Reuters)—New Zealand will allow 5000 vehicles from Canada and the United States to enter under a 1947 import licensing system announced today. Fourteen thousand automobiles will be purchased from Britain.

W.I. Aim Community Betterment B.C. Head Tells Arrow Lakes Members; Ask General Saving Time

NAKUSP, B.C., Sept. 17 — The Arrow Lakes District Women's Institute rally was held on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 14 in the K.P. Hall with guest speakers Mrs. Stella E. Gummow, the new superintendent of British Columbia Woman's Institutes, Miss Leighton assistant superintendent, Mrs. K. Popoff of South Slocan, President of the West Kootenay District, and Mrs. J. S. Chalmers member of the Advisory Board.

Mrs. F. Rushton, President of the Arrow Lakes District, welcomed the visitors and introduced the guest speakers, Mrs. A. B. S. Stanley, President of the Nakusp W.I., presented the flag and corsages were pinned on the official guests by Miss M. Butlin of New Denver.

Mrs. Gummow spoke of her journey through the North Central section of the Province. Her first meeting was held at Terrace, where she helped to organize a Woman's Institute. Her next meeting she explained was at Telkwa, where Quick and Glenwood were represented by delegations. Topley and Forestdale women were represented at Topley.

PLAN INSTITUTE

The women of Palling were planning to organize. Mrs. Gummow also attended the W.I. conference at Francois Lake in joint session with the District Farmer's Institute which was attended by Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture, Dr. J. B. Munro, Deputy Minister, and Major L. B. Johnson.

Fort St. John and Rose Prairie further North were also visited. There were the speaker said 21 Institutes in the Peace River Country.

In explaining the work of the Institutes, Mrs. Gummow said they were self governing but not primarily money raising institutions. membersship comprised women of all races and creeds. In aim they were community builders for the betterment of the country.

ADVOCATES ADULT EDUCATION

Mrs. J. S. Chalmers of Thrums, member of the W.I. Advisory Board of B.C., spoke of the importance of the Institute's taking advantage of the lectures to be given free through U.B.C. courses, to commence early in the new year. The courses consisted of home decorating, sewing, cooking, glove making and so on.

Mrs. K. Popoff of South Slocan, a member of her District School Board, asked the members to be ready at all times to cooperate with their District school boards. Constructive criticism was alwayswelcome for rural improvement, the speaker said. The Cameron report was also discussed.

TO START MEMORIAL FUND

Miss Leighton described her work of the past 20 year as that of keeping the records straight, writing and answering letters and helping to solve many problems. Miss Leighton also spoke of the Othoa Scott Fund as being completed having reached the $10,000 objective. A new memorial war fund is to be started, the aim to be to endow a scholarship to help finance a rural girl for home economics course at the U.B.C.

A program of music and singing interspersed the speeches. A table of handicraft was on display. Mrs. C. Wanstall, jr., of Nakusp, who is a connosseur of fine art, loaned an exceedingly fine collection of hand sewing showing work from Mexico, Italy, China, Japan, Norway, Hungary, Indian lace, Rumanian, Maderia, Portuguese, also Danish lace. Mrs. B. Crowell also loaned fine specimens of Chinese hand work both of sewing and painting. Miss Gwen Sutter of New Denver showed a collection of Japanese hand work, and Miss Moss, also of New Denver, and Mrs. B. Crowell of Nakusp showed Canadian hand work.

Several resolutions adopted were:

1. That daylight saving be introduced as Canada wide or not at all.

2. That vocational training for young men in handling the heavy machinery pertaining to road maintenance and building be undertaken.

3. That the Greyhound bus service be improved re connections between New Denver and Trail.

A letter is to be sent to the Department expressing thanks for the efficient services of the District Health Nurse, Miss M. Stamforth.

After the business session a banquet was served to some 70 members of the local W.I. convened by Mrs. John Mikulasik.

Mrs. B. Heddle Gives Report on W. I. Conference

WILLOW POINT, B.C., Sept. 16—Mrs. B. Heddle, as delegate to the District Conference of the Women's Institute held in Nelson Tuesday, gave an interesting resume of matters discussed, quoting from the talks by Mrs. G. Gummow, new superintendent of Women's Institutes, Miss Cross, Home Economist; Miss Leighton, W.I. Secretary for 20 years, and Mrs. Chalmers, past President of District Board.

A baby gift will be sent a new arrival and a wedding gift to a lifelong members' son, Kenneth Campbell and his English war bride, who are at present in Vancouver.

The President voiced the regret of the members at the departure of another member, Mrs. C. Lemont, and on thir behalf presented Mrs. Lamont with a lovely picture of Kootenay Lake.

Mrs. Lamont thanked the members and hoped that she would like Enderby, where she and Mr. Lamont are to reside, as well as she liked Willow Point.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. J. C. Campbell and Mrs. J. Learmonth.

BRACKEN SEES LOSSES FOR C.C.F., LIBERALS

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP) — John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said in a statement last night that the result of the Pontiac by-election, won by Real Caouette, candidate for L'Union Des Electeurs, had made it clear that the Government and the C.C.F. have "lost heavily."

"Two things are clear as a result of the by-election," said Mr. Bracken. "The Government and the C.C.F. have lost heavily, while the Progressive Conservatives and L'Union Des Electeurs have made considerable gains."

He paid tribute to the campaign waged by the Progressive Conservative candidate, Hector Belec, and the assistance given him by Ivan Sabourin, party leader in Quebec.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King heard the results of the elections at his Summer home in Kingsmere, Que., but made no comment on the outcome.

Youth Isn't as Screwball as Those Who Would Regiment It

Isn't it just terrible about our Canadian youth?

It's really horrifying!

According to a survey which has just been completed by the Canadian Youth Commission, the youth of this fair country of ours is spending its spare time talking, listening to the radio, dating and dancing.

Just wasting their spare time, says the august body which has got all wrought up about it.

Just what, in the eyes of the Canadian Youth Commission, should the youth of this country do in its spare time? Be enchained in a regimented iron-clad system like the Hitler "Freedom Through Joy" movement or its opposite number, the Comosol, where the boys and girls just have to be joyful in the interest of an all-holy and all-powerful state?

Heaven forbid. Let us provide youth with all the means of recreation that we can, but leave youth to choose its own form of legitimate amusement. There are people who would permit youth to listen to the radio—if the regimenters could select the programs, nice symphony concerts and lectures and speeches on public affairs, but of course no boogie-woogie, no jive or Charlie McCarthy. Reading? —That would be permitted, but confined to the "good solid literature", anathema on any of this shallow modern stuff. Dancing? —Well, providing it is properly supervised and wouldn't be so helpful to our youth if every program had to include some folk-dancing or something really classic, but with none of this jitterbugging. "Dating" should, of course, be prohibited—there should be a law about it, and a horde of enforcement officials. Boys and girls should only meet under arrangements made by parents and then only—this is most essential—after approval by the Supervisor appointed by the state.

This may be a screwball era, but we are sometimes led to the conclusion that youth at its dizziest shows a lot more sense than some of those who set themselves up to direct it.

Nothing to Apologize for in Preparing to Defend Ourselves

There is an atmosphere of apology and of excuses for the visit of Field Marshal Montgomery to Canada and the United States in response to suggestions that he is on this continent for military reasons, for perhaps bring about closer relations between British, Canadian and American defence measures.

If he is here for such purposes there is no reason that we should attempt to disguise the fact that the realities of our defence needs call for cooperation between the United States, the British Empire and Canada. It is not only a matter of Northern defences, but there are almost countless other directions in which more intimate military relations would be wisdom for all of us. There is the matter of calibre of rifles and cannon as an example. It is absurd that ammunition for British and Canadian weapons should be useless for American weapons, and vice versa.

We have just as much right to discuss our defense measures with our friends as have the Russians to discuss them with their Balkan friends, or as Holland has to discuss them with Belgium.

As Prime Minister Mackenzie King has said, there is nothing sinister in the visit of the Field Marshal; neither the British Commonwealth nor the United States has the slightest idea of attacking any other nation, nor do we believe has Russia but we have not only a right but a duty to be prepared to defend ourselves against the event of an attack.

The Law as to Picketting

The law as to picketting, which has been violated in several recent labor disputes in Canada is set forth in Section 50, the Criminal Code.

"Dissatisfied employees may advertise their refusal to work. They may tell others seeking employment in their stead that they are not satisfied with working conditions, that they have not given up their jobs, that they have stopped work in protest. They are entitled to persuade such applicants for employment not to apply for their jobs. "Persuade" is rigidly defined as by peaceful means and without violence or threats.

"Picketting is permitted as a means of advertising a strike. Strikers are entitled to march up and down the street near the premises concerned, carrying placards advertising the strike and listing reasons.

"Strikers or pickets are breaking the law if they interfere with normal traffic; prevent anyone from entering or leaving picketed premises, except to try to dissuade him by verbal argument interfere with any of their fellow employees who choose to continue work.

"The right of employees to strike implies that employers have an equal right to resist a strike. That right is recognized by law and the fact that an employer does not resist a strike does not permit or justify any deviation on the part of the strikers from the regulations laid down for their behaviour.

"An employer whose workers have gone on strike may persuade other persons to enter his employ; continue to employ those workers who did not join the strike; refuse to keep jobs open for those who have gone on strike; ask for police assistance if pickets prevent anyone from entering or leaving the premises."

In the long run there can be no profit to any group in breaking these clearly reasonable provisions, which are based on the principles of equal rights, and of maintenance of order.

Moon Rockets

(Kansas City Star)

Earthbound man is forever intrigued by dreams of flying to the moon. Any second-string prophet with a scientific background of sorts can bank on a hearing when he predicts that rocket trips to other planets will be possible some day. If he claims interplanetary travel will begin within the lifetime of his listeners, so much the better. Those in his audience may feel somewhat sheepish about turning an ear to what is generally regarded as poppycock in right-thinking circles, but they take it all in just the same.

Before the war the prophets spoke vaguely of rockets as the between-planets vehicles. Since the public knew little about rocke's except the Fourth of July variety, no one ever questioned them very closely about details. It's different now, though, with every man an expert on atomic energy, jet propulsion and guided missiles. A man disposed to sound off publicly on journeys to the moon has to be at least versed in the popular scientific jargon. Otherwise, he is liable to be slammed broadside by a wave of embarrassing questions.

Major P. C. Calhoun, head of the guided missile branch of the Army Air Forces, undoubtedly is capable of replying to any such questions convincingly. The major had better be, for he has recently asserted that the Air Corps expects to be able to shoot a rocket to the moon within 18 months. He also went on record as planning to make the trip himself, round trip, "within my lifetime." The major thinks he may "see things and perhaps peoples beyond the powers of our imagination."

We hope the major never is confronted with the wonders of another planet. For one thing, the people and terrain might be prosaically similar to those of the earth. Then, too, the other planets benefit the earth enough as it is by serving as never-never lands. If we knew what the moon, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn were like, we might become wholly satisfied with our own speck in the universe. And that would never do.

Today's Horoscope

You are sometimes impetuous, diffident, or headstrong, but usually kind, tender and understanding. You are a good planner, and use what you have to best advantage. You are genial and form friendships easily. You might fall in love at first sight and be very happy. While new ideas surge through your mind today, analyze. Advice proffered is likely to be poor, so do not take it. Incisive speech commands respect if you use it. Squabbles can ruin this birthday for you, so avoid them. Shop, as there are bargains to be had. The moon enters Cancer at 10:43 A. M. A friend can give you a profitable tip this afternoon, so heed it. Act with speed on the advice offered above.

SPEAKER UNDER FIRE

Some recent scenes in the House of Commons have raised grave questions as to the qualifications of Hon. Gaspard Fauteux to hold the office of Speaker. Since his election, he has displayed a dictatorial attitude not untinged with partisanship. His latest action is to make a "suggestion" that questions dealing with subjects which are before committees should not be put to the Government in the House. Apparently to avoid this being challenged, he stipulates that it is not a ruling, though he knows it will have all the force of one.

This is not a matter of interest only to the House of Commons. It threatens the dispatch of public business, which has grave possibilities for the whole country. The Government should consider whether it would not be in its best interests to suggest to Dr. Fauteux that at least a trace of impartiality would become his high office.—Windsor Star.

FEDERAL PAYROLL

The extraordinary size of our Federal Government payroll is shown in figures just issued at Ottawa. The Government, in March last, was directly employing 147,073 persons in addition to 105,000 employees in the Canadian National Railways; more than 1000 in the Trans-Canada Airways; about 1600 in the Canadian Boardcasting Corporation; and 1200 in the Bank of Canada, a grand total of about 255,273. In other words, about one in 50 persons in our entire population, including children, is now in the employ of the central government. Add to these the employees of Provincial and Municipal governments and it is evident that a surprisingly high fraction of the Canadian people now work for and are supported by the state.—Winnipeg Free Press.

One of "Six Greatest Men" Dies

DORKING, Surrey, England, Sept. 16 (Reuters)—Sir James Jeans, O.B., world-famous scientist, died at his home tonight.

Sir James, described by the late Sir Oliver Lodge as "one of the six greatest men in the world," was preeminent among astronomers and had a luminous gift for explaining the facts of astronomy in vivid phrases easily understood by the layman.

His father for many years was a reporter in the House of Commons gallery and he was related to the late Sir Alexander Jeans of the Liverpool Post, and to William Jeans, London correspondent of the Dundee Advertiser, whose son was afterwards chief editor of Reuters News Agency.

James Hopwood Jeans was a noted follower of Sir Isaac Newton and became famous for his extension of Newtonian mechanics to the more complicated behavior of gases, solids and liquids under forces due to gravitation and rotation. He showed how these influences applied to the formation of stars.

In 1919 his book, "Problems of Cosmogony and Stellar Dynamics," won him the Royal Society's gold medal.

Ten years later he published a popular version of the same subject, entitled "The Universe Around Us," which became a best seller.

Some of his theories caused considerable controversy. He held, for example, that the universe was gradually running down, and compared the stars to icebergs split from the parent mass and gradually melting in warmer seas.

...ok, Krizan, Jenkins Off to Other ...ck Pastures, but Leafs Have Talent ...lenty; Pilot Vacancy a Problem

There's a hint of Winter in the air around Nelson, but it isn't just the Fall temperatures that are accounting for it. There's hockey talk aplenty in the air and preparations to ice-making are proceeding apace in the Civic Arena as reminders that the nippy season is on its way.

There's every indication that Nelson Maple Leafs will have a team which will give other Western International Hockey League teams plenty of opposition.

The majority of last year's Leafs plan to stay with the team and a number of hopefuls are angling with Leaf officials. Wilf Cook is off to Tacoma, Steve Krizan is to try out with Calgary Stampeders, but in a letter to Nelson Hockey Club President W. A. Duckworth, he said he would turn out with the Leafs if he failed to make the grade with the Stamps. Bill Jenkins is not expected to return to the city.

Among possible newcomers is Dave Livingstone, forward last season for the New Haven Eagles; Hector Bourgeois, Brandon Juniors; Bus Zobrosky, defenceman who put in part of the 1945 season with Chicago Black Hawks; Phil Andrijkew, defenceman who played with Army teams for a couple of years; and Clarence Walsh, Toronto Staffords and now living here.

DISTRICT QUARTETTE TO TRY OUT

Leo Atwell, last season's Coach, said Tuesday Roy Allen of Winnipeg was definitely coming. Atwell saw him in action in Navy hockey and said he is all hockey. Feelers are out for Ben Juzda, brother of N.H.L.'s Bill Juzda. Ben was a Winnipeg Junior. Two or three Calgary players are being contacted, one a goalie who would understudy Jesse Seaby if obtained.

Four District boys will try out. They are Jack Prestley and Bud Whitfield of Nelson, Swede Larson of Salmo and Red Koehle of Trail. All played last year for Nanaimo.

The coach question is yet to be solved. Atwell does not want the job, and two other possibles turned it down flat.

Pollet Racks Up 20th Win as Red Birds Trim Giants; Brooklyn Wins

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Two games ahead with 10 to go was the story of St. Louis Cardinals' flight toward the National League pennant Tuesday after the League-leaders handed New York Giants a 10-2 pasting while Brooklyn was downing Chicago 4-2.

Heading to Boston for their final stop of the last Eastern invasion, the Red Birds were riding high with the first National League 20-game winner of the season in Howie Pollet, southpaw stylist.

The Cards' "stopper" coasted home with No. 20 although hit hard in the late stages, yielding 11 hits in all, eight in the last three innings after his mates had given him a commanding lead. Pollet is the first left-hander to reach the goal since Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton did it for the Giants in 1937.

BENDS IN 5 COUNTERS

Enos Slaughter, the Birds slugging right-fielder, shared the headlines for driving home five runs with a two-run homer, a single and an infield out.

At Brooklyn Leo Durocher's scrappy gang sewed the game up in the opening frame by blasting Paul Erickson for four hits and three runs.

The Cubs had nicked southpaw Joe Hatten for a run in the first and after the Dodgers scored another run in the sixth on Galan's double and Dixie Walker's single, the Cubs chased Hatten in the seventh, cliping him for their final run on Billy Jurges' double, a walk and Bob Sturgeon's single.

Little Vic Lombardi relieved Hatten and stopped the Cubs the rest of the way to insure Hatten's 12th victory.

Boston Braves, given only an outside chance by many experts of finishing in the League's first division, climbed within a game of third place by walloping Cincinnati Reds, 8-2. It was the Braves' fifth straight victory. Si Johnson, nicked for two runs that put the Reds in front in the third inning, thereafter held Cincinnati in check as the Braves came from behind to take the lead in the fourth and coast home.

In the American League's only game Hank Greenberg clouted his 38th home run of the season in the first inning as Detroit Tigers defeated Washington Senators 6-4. Greenberg and Ted Williams are now tied for the League lead.

Greenberg thus pulled even with the tall Boston slugger in the season's four-bagger totals.

It was the 300th home run of Greenberg's major league career. By driving in four runs today he boosted his season R.B.I. total to 114, just five behind Williams who also leads the League in that department.

RULES DISCHARGED BASEMAN ENTITLED TO $2884 SETTLEMENT

SEATTLE, Sept. 17 (AP)—Judge Lloyd L. Black ruled today that Al Miemiec, second baseman discharged by Seattle Rainiers after returning from naval service, was entitled to a contract settlement of $2884.50, based on a monthly salary of $750.

Rifle Champ

Defeating half a hundred lady sharpshooters from nearly every state in the union, Adelaide McCord, of Sewickley, Pa., became the new U.S. national woman rifle champion at the National rifle and pistol shoot at Camp Perry, O. She is the only woman to "make" the International Dewar team three times. Runner-up was Kat Woodring, who was six points behind the champion.

Winnie Still Wows 'Em

Just as cocky as he was in war days when he was the keystone of British resistance, Winston Churchill, former British Prime Minister, is shown giving his famed "V" sign as he was greeted by an enthusiastic crowd on his arrival in Geneva, Switzerland, for a vacation. Mrs. Churchill is seated in the car with him.

N.H.L. Adds Extra Two Weeks to Hockey Schedule; Start Play Oct. 16

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP) — With the dropping of the first puck Wednesday, Oct. 16, the National Hockey League squads break from the barrier for the 23-week grind that will wind up late next Spring with the crowning of the Stanley Cup holders.

The official 1946-47 schedule, released today, shows the six big league teams will open eight days ahead of last year's opening date, Oct. 24, while they will slug it out six days later in the Spring, winding up their year's activities March 23 instead of March 17 as last year.

The extra two weeks were added to the schedule to make room for the extra games—each squad will play 60 games this season instead of 50 as in the last few years of the six-team loop. But despite that, a glance at the schedule shows that all teams will have a full book of engagements, with plenty of those rugged week-end "double headers" on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings start the ball rolling Oct. 16 when they tangle in the Motor City, and the next night New York Rangers, a dismal sixth in the league last year, meet the champion Montreal Canadians right in Canuckville.

Boston Bruins get into action Saturday, Oct. 19, when they tangle with Canadiens at Montreal while Detroit visits Toronto. Chicago Black Hawks don't wipe the rust off their skates until the following night, when they visit Boston to take on the Beantown boys in their first Saturday-Sunday hop.

All six teams get into action Oct. 23 and repeat the procedure the next Saturday.

The season winds up Sunday, March 23.

Gamblers Cagy With Louis Money on 23rd Title Defence Tonight

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—Joe Louis puts his world heavyweight championship on the line for the 23rd time tomorrow night in Yankee Stadium against the challenge of tough Tami Mauriello and Joe figures it to be a short night's work.

Promoter Mike Jacobs talked the Bomber into taking this one, after Joe had about decided to play golf the rest of the year following his victory over Billy Conn in June. Uncle Mike is looking for 28,000 to 30,000 customer to show up and chip in to a gate within shouting distance of $300,000.

They've been throwing victory celebrations and torchlight parades in the Bronx for Tami in recent days just as if he'd swum the English Channel or sat on a flagpole for several days. But practically no one except the Bronx barkeep and his immediate family are giving him any kind of a look-in for this go.

BOMBER IN TRIM

This corner tabs Joe to turn the lights out for Tami inside of three rounds. The local betting boys are quoting even money it will be all over in the first five heats after the Bomber and the Barkeep come out at 8 p.m. C.S.T. The 49th Street betting shops are laying you 8 to 1 if you like Mauriello and asking you to invest 10 to 1 if you want to send it in on Louis. If you think Mauriello can kayo the champ, you can get 15 to 1. If you like Louis to wind it up somewhere along the way, you have to put up 17 to win 1. That's how sure the gambling gentlemen are of a windup before the 15-round route is run.

Getting ready for this title defence Joe has looked considerably more like the old Brown Bomber this time than he did training for Conn in June.

He'll scale about 208 pounds to Mauriello's 196 at the weigh-in tomorrow.

13 Centremen Hopefuls Set Leaf Bigwigs to Pondering

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 17 (CP)—You can't blame Managing Director Conny Smythe and Coach Hap Day of the Toronto Maple Leafs if they wonder whether the number 13 is unlucky or just a worry. That's the number of centre ice players they have on hand or coming to St. Catharines where the Leafs are in training for the National Hockey League campaign opening Oct. 16.

Five centres are at this week's preliminary training school and eight more report next Monday—five for the Leaf camp and three for the Pittsburgh entry in the American Hockey League.

Six of the baker's dozen have played centre on Toronto Stanley-Cup-winning teams. There's Pete Langelle, just back from overseas and trying to find his hockey legs at the school for rookies this week, Billy Taylor, Syl Apps, Gus Bodnar, Ted Kennedy and Nick Metz.

Others at this week's training session besides Langelle are Tod Sloan, high-scoring centre with Toronto St. Michael's College Juniors last season; Harry Taylor, the Winnipeg boy who helped Winnipeg Monarchs win the Memorial Cup last Spring; Elmer Kreller from Vancouver and Bill Kyle from Portland.

High School Track Meet Oct. 9

Plans are proceeding for the annual High School track meet, Principal Gerald Lee advised the School Board at Central School Tuesday night. The meet will be held this year on Oct. 9.

Rangers Purchase Church From Bruins

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17 (CP)—Manager Frankie Boucher of New York Rangers of the National Hockey League announced today here at his club's annual hockey school that he had purchased Defenceman Jack Church from Boston Bruins for the waiver price of $3000.

McCarthy Hopes For Lure To Return to Ball

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Joe McCarthy, who retired to his farm last Summer because of failing health after nearly 16 seasons as manager of New York Yankees, says he's well again and eyeing a major league job—"but so far no offers."

"There's no use denying I'd like to be back," he said. "But so far I've made no connections for next year and haven't tried to make any."

"When I quit managing the Yanks all I wanted was to get my health back," he said in an interview. "For three years I had been under a nervous strain that just about broke me up."

The man who led the Yanks to eight pennants and seven world championships — his teams never finished worse than fourth—admitted he had "heard a lot of rumors" about openings for 1947 mangerships.

According to the reports, some already confirmed, the Yankees, St. Louis Browns, Pittsburgh Pirates, Cleveland Indians, Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers are in the market for new leaders. Also the rumor mill says Joe Cronin may step up to the general manager's spot with Boston Red Sox and Leo Durocher may quit Brooklyn Dodgers to go with the Yankees.

Bears Confident Can Beat Fishmen

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Trail Golden Bears, British Columbia's Interior lacrosse champs, arrived here today, and immediately repaired to the Forum to get the kinks out of their legs and sharpen their collective shootin' eye for the opening contest for the Provincial title with the New Westminster Salmonbellies tomorrow night.

Coach Hugh Miller and his 15 boxla buckaroos, who stampeded their way through the Kootenay League, told interviewers they are not sure they can swamp the Fishmen, but are reasonably certain they can beat them.

According to the Bruins, they intend to use two styles of play, alternating to meet changing circumstances. Their block play, which carried them through the Kootenay League, will be for the most part, shelved, because, the boys say, the Salmonbellies check too hard and are too heavy for the successful use of blocks.

LOOK TO MERLO

They intend to feature their fast-breaking game with long passes up the floor. Many of these passes will be coming from Goalie Tony Merlo, who team-mate Booney Sammartino described as "the best goalie to ever play for an Interior team." Merlo, who is reputed to pass with the accuracy of a forward, scored 27 assists in 24 games this Summer.

The series will be Trail's fourth attempt to capture the Kilmarnock trophy, and the Bruins, though bested in all four previous tries, were never badly beaten.

All in all, the Trail team is bigger than anything with which the 'Bellies have had to contend in the inter-city series, and when the two aggregations take to the floor tomorrow, it will be a battle of champions.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

Yesterday we mentioned the necessity of varying the stance with the club and we explained the principle that governs this change and the values the golfer gets in automatic control of the backswing and placement if he observes this golf fundamental. Pictured today we show a slightly opened stance with iron. What club would you, Mr. Golfer, say this player is using? Before you answer, notice his stance is slightly opened. Well, I am sure you have judged it correctly. With a stance so slightly opened as is pictured here, the player is using a No. 1 iron. If the club were a No. 5, for example, the player would stand closer to the ball. His left foot would be turned at a 45 degree angle toward the hole. With his stance so changed for the No. 5 and his heels drawn nearly together, it would be impossible for the player, without forcing, to take more than a three-quarter backswing. And this would be correct. And in this same way your backswing is limited correctly by the definite control of your stance.

BOMBERS SMASH STAMPEDERS 13-5

CALGARY, Sept. 17 (CP)—Winnipeg Blue Bombers—particularly a bomber of the atomic variety named Wally Dobler—last night smashed Calgary Stampeders 13-5 before a crowd of 5000 fans at Mewata Stadium, to move up within two points of the leading Calgaryians in the Inter-Provincial Rugby Football Union.

Bums' Bugs Get Kayo Treatment

BROOKLYN, Sept. 17 (AP)—An insecticide crew gave the gnat-like insects who have been pestering players and fans alike at Ebbets Field the army treatment today.

For the last two days swarms of insects have plagued the Ebbets Field area adding further woe to the Flatbush faithful. The fans thought that having the bums lose two out of four to Chicago was torment enough.

The crews today laid a heavy fog over the grandstand, bleachers and grounds with a D.D.T. solution.

Gives Up Attempt To Swim Channel

DOVER, England, Sept. 17 (CP) — Elna Anderson, Danish swimmer, gave up an attempt to swim the English Channel this morning three hours and one minute after entering the water at Cap Gris Nez, France.

She was nearly blinded by salt water when pulled from the Channel—the result, she said, of having used a pre-war pair of goggles.

The 37-year-old swimmer said she hoped to try again next year. Jorge Berroetta, Chilean, who failed on his second attempt last week, also said he hopes to try again in 1947.

Olivera Beats Turner

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 17 (AP)—Tony Olivera, 119, San Francisco, tonight won a close decision over Jackie Turner, 117, Vancouver, last night in the 10-round main event of an outdoor boxing card curtailed because of rain.

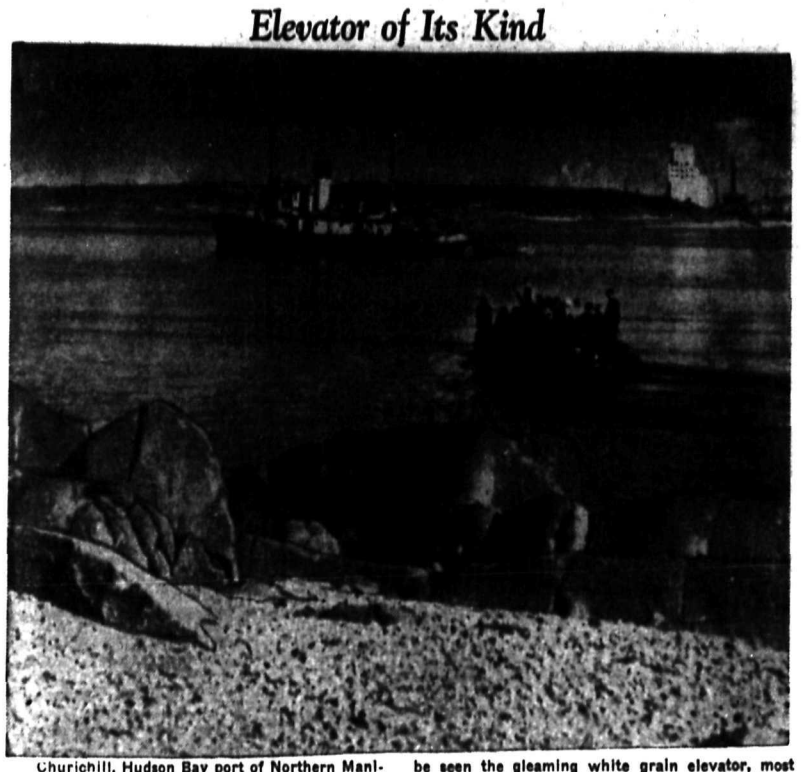
Churchill, Man., Has Most Modern Grain Elevator of Its Kind



Churichill, Hudson Bay port of Northern Manitoba, which was closed during the war years to all but shipping for military needs, has opened again and from the North side of the Churchill River can be seen the gleaming white grain elevator, most modern of its kind. Built in a year, it stands in marked contrast to ancient Fort Prince of Wales on the North bank, which took 40 years to complete.

Glider Solves British Housing Problem

Mrs. E. G. Corrie of Crossthwaite, Cumberland, England, shown with her two children, Robin, 2, and Mavis, 5, prepares dinner outside their glider "castle" her husband purchased for approximately $300. It's their solution to the British housing shortage. The former troop-carrying glider was converted into a three-room dwelling and moored in a field.

In Struggle for Chilean Presidency

A note of tension crept into the Chilean election situation with unmistakable challenge in statements from the opposing camps. Leftist Gabriel Gonzalez Videla, who led his closest opponent by 48,000 radical and Communist votes, is pictured at the left here. Rightist Dr. Eduardo Cruz Coke, at right, running second to Videla, said the election failed to give victory to any of four candidates because none had a majority, so the Chilean Congress would have to choose the victor. Videla, recognized as a fighter, announced he would not accept any rightist manoeuvre—rightists hold a slight majority in Congress,—to "cheat him of his victory."

Strikers Delay Cattle Shipment

OLDS, Alta., Sept. 17 (CP)—Striking Alberta Farmer's Union pickets swarmed over the chute gates at the Olds stockyards Monday evening formed up shoulder to shoulder in the loading chutes, and delayed a number of shippers and drover loading a C.P.R. stock car with cattle.

While other pickets and district farmers attended a meeting held in the Olds Arena, a number of pickets watched over the cattle, but at 9:30 p.m., they followed police advice and permitted the cattle to be shipped. The stock arrived in Calgary this morning.

The R.C.M.P. advised the pickets that they were trespassing on private property and obstructing, and police urged them to withdraw. After they had withdrawn the cattle were loaded.

OLDS, Alta., Sept. 17 (CP) — J. L. McMillan, Edmonton organizer of the Alberta Farmers' Union, in an adress to a meeting of more than 350 farmers here last night said Canadian farmers had pulled their weight during the war and now want a fair share of the wealth they produce.

He said the farmers' representations to the Government were fair and just and the strike action taken because other methods were useless.

"Farmer conventions in the past have passed resolutions and got no results. This time we are determined to get action."

If the farmers win their demands all residents of Alberta and not only the farmers will benefit, he said.

Mr. McMillan addressed the meeting in the absence of Carl J. Stimpfle, A.F.U. President, who had been kept at headquarters because of the pressure of work.

FIRE SWEEPS BELLEVILLE DRY FOODS PLANT

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Sept. 17 (CP) —Damage estimated at $250,000 was caused early today by fire which swept through the Graham dry foods plant and for a time threatened the City Gas Works.

Cause of the blaze, considered the worst in Belleville's history, was not determined. In operation at the time of the outbreak, the plant turned out canned corn, peas and tomatoes in addition to a large line of dehydrated foods.

At the height of the canning season the plant employed between 250 and 300 persons. Some 75 to 100 were at work when the fire started but all escaped from the burning plant.

Firemen said they believed drafts from the drying equipment fanned the flames and helped to spread them swiftly through the factory.

For a time firefighters feared the blaze might spread to the city gas plant Southeast of the Graham plant in the heart of the city's industrial district.

Four firemen were injured.

Market Trends

TORONTO, (CP) — The Toronto Stock Market had a moderately weak turn and the close was down for mining groups and industrials. Western oils showed no change of any consequence. Trading was comparatively dull.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Late demand for selected steels and industrials stemmed an early decline with assorted issued converting minus signs into modest advances.

CHICAGO, (CP) — Grain futures moved upward toward the close of a dull session, the swing being attributed to announcement of additional purchases of wheat by the Government and the strength of September oats at Minneapolis.

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP) — Argentine railway shares extended sharp gains as observers further evaluated reports of the Anglo-Argentine agreement.

WINNIPEG, (CP) — Trading in rye futures was somewhat irregular with October showing an easier tone and selling chiefly for American accounts.

MONTREAL — Trends on balance were down in trading.

VANCOUVER — Mines and oils both continued to fall off.

LONDON (CP)—Thieves entered the home of the Earl of Jersey and stole £50 ($200) worth of whisky and champagne.

Six Die From Polio In Alta. in 3 Months

EDMONTON, Sept. 17 (CP)—Six persons have died in Alberta in the last three months from poliomyelitis, city and provincial health officials said today. Possibility of another death, which occurred in Calgary on Saturday, resulting from the same disease is being investigated.

The total number of cases listed by health officials in the province today was 64. Of this number 41 have occurred in Northern Alberta, eight of which were in Edmonton and the remainder in Edmonton district points, including the Westlock and Wetaskiwin districts.

The latest victim in the Calgary area is a 13-year-old girl from the Dog Pound district.

DEATHS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Charles Culley, 74, former well-known Vancouver musician and pioneer.

Born in London, England, Mr. Culley came out to Canada in 1881, locating in Vancouver in 1898. He taught music for many years in the city and was a former member of the Vancouver symphony orchestra.

United Church Urges Support Inflation Fight

By GEORGE BURMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP) — A recommendation that "all essential and necessary measures to prevent inflation" continue to be supported was endorsed today by the 12th General Council of the United Church of Canada during presentation of a report on social conditions by the Board of Evangelism and social service.

LAUD WHEAT PACT

The Board Secretary, Rev. J. R. Mutchmor of Toronto, in presenting the recommendations of the Board touching on management-labor relations, minimum workers' requirements for healthful and decent living and the conditions under which a strike is permissible, commented that "one birght spot" concerned the Prairies—namely ,the recent wheat agreement between Canada and Great Britain.

This four-year agreement guaranteeing the sale of wheat by Western Canadian farmers at a minimum price was described by Dr. Mutchmore as 't'he greatest piece of planned economy in this or any other nation and in this or any other time."

Says Teen-Ager Gatherings Be Left For Weekends

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — H. N. MacCorkindale, superitendent of schools here, told a School Board meeting last night that "students should be home doing assigned schol work" instead of attending Teen Town gatherings on week-nights.

Mr. MacCorkindale, in answering a request by Collingwood-Norquay Teen Towners for permission to use the Norquay School auditorium "every night of the week if possible," said that high school is a "full time job in terms of efficient scholarship."

"Teen Towns should be operated Friday or Saturday nights so as not to interfere with the serious business of high school education." he added. "It is time to place emphasis on the classroom again."

The board's rental committee will confer with district Parent Teachers Association officials concerning a hall for use by the Teen-Towners on weekend nights.

Funeral Services For A. E. Oslund

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Sept. 17 — Funeral services will be conducted here on Thursday for the late Anton Emanuel Oslund, whose body was found on the North Star Hill on Sunday morning.

Born in Osberg Breche, Jemtland, Sweden, in 1896, Mr. Oslund came to Kimberley first in 1929. After some years employment at Yahk as a logger, he returned here and worked as a miner for the C. M. & S. Co. up to the time of his death.

Surviving are his wife, Anna, six sons, Olaf, Eddie, Roy, Handy Ralph and Gordon and one daughter, Margaret, all of Kimberley.

Air Cadet Head Says Cadets Future RCAF

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP) — Canadian Air Cadets will, in future, become the main source of supply of manpower for the Royal Canadian Air Force, C. Douglas Taylor, national president of the Air Cadet League said here last night. Mr. Taylor was speaking at a meeting of the B.C. committee, while visiting here on a national tour of provincial conferences.

Equipment and instruction for the entire air cadet training program will be provided by the R.C.A.F., he said, adding that the new syllabus provides for the instruction of 15,000 cadets throughout Canada. British Columbia's quota numbers 1067 cadets.

Mr. Taylor told the conference that, under a recent act of parliament, the cadets will in future be known as the Royal Canadian Air Cadets.

Feels Monty Victory Unpopular With U.S. So Command Changed

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (CP) — A condensation of Col. R. S. Malone's forthcoming book "Missing From the Record" appears in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post under the heading "You Yanks Never Gave Monty His Due."

Col. Malone, who was Canadian liaison officer with Field Marshal Montgomery's staff, attributes prolongation of the war beyond 1944 to the fact that Field Marshal Montgomery was removed from over-all command of Allied field forces and thereafter was unable to get American divisions for his planned break-through into Germany.

Col. Malone, who served with the Canadian Army from 1939 to 1945, leaving an executive post at the Winnipeg Free Press to do so, doubts that the split in command in September was according to prearranged plan, and comments:

"Victory . . . appeared to be imminent and Gen. Eisenhower's main headquarters was still located back in England.

"This would mean that a British general would be in command of all the Allied armies on the Continent when surrender came. It is possible that this state of affairs was not acceptable to Washington, regardless of Monty's ability.

"DICTATED BY VAIN DESIRE"

"There is some confirmation for this view in the sudden, hurried move of SHAEF (Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces) offices from London to Paris about the same time as Monty was relieved of his over-all command.

"In my mind the move was dictated through a vain desire to get the headquarters set up and established on the Continent before the surrender came . . .

"The refusal to loan Monty a few American divisions at the time of Arnhem, and the refusal to support his plan for clearing the West bank of the Rhine, I can only attribute to a policy perhaps dictated to Gen. Eisenhower through Gen. Marshall in Washington. . . .

"Instead of exploiting the brilliant British success which had carried our forces to the border of Germany, the American divisions, against every military principle, would be employed 'to attack the enemy equally on all fronts.' The Arnhem operation was allowed to fail."

Col. Malone comments that it might be said "Monty's only serious tactical error during the war was his failure to visit the United States before D-Day" and win an American following.

He says that "on the top level Roosevelt, Churchill, Eisenhower and Montgomery unquestionably made super-human efforts to maintain harmony and trust between the Allies."

"There may have been times when Monty doubted Eisenhower's tactical wisdom, but he stated repeatedly that Ike was 'a gift from God.'"

Dealing with failure in the Italian campaign of the original plan to draw German reserves into the toe of the Italian boot and then slice Italy in half from Salerno, Col. Malone says:

"Monty struck up through the mountains of Italy and, in a period of only 11 days, covered a distance of more than 250 miles (over 400 miles by road) to bring aid to the 5th Army.

UNEQUALLED FEAT

"This spectacular advance by one British and one Canadian division is a feat unequalled by any Allied force during the entire war. . . .

"American criticisms both then and now were in extremely bad taste, for undoubtedly this small force of men under Monty's command was largely responsible for rescuing the much-advertised Salerno assault."

Col. Malone discusses Montgomery's personality, relates that on one occasion he was "exceedingly rude" to Gen. Mark Clark of the United States 5th Army and that on another he refused to receive a visit in Italy from Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, Canadian Corps commander. Gen. Crerar, who had come over from Sicily, visited 1st Canadian Division headquarters instead and, by so doing, says Col. Malone, "undoubtedly acted in the interest of Allied solidarity, as others had done in overlooking similar affronts."

The forthcoming book will appear serially in England in the Sunday Chronicle of London.

First Lord of Admiralty Alexander Is Labor Gov't. Work Horse

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Sept. 17 (CP)—Rt. Hon. Albert V. Alexander, 61, who once said it was a greater thing to be a Baptist lay preacher than First Lord of the Admiralty, has become the Labor Government's chief trouble-shooter.

This solemn-voiced, sturdy man, who likes to sing sea chanties and make speeches, succeeded Winston Churchill as First Lord in 1940 and held the office throughout the war, making clear by dress and manner of speaking that he took Churchill as his model of wartime behavior.

FAVORED COALITION

When Labor ministers decided the Coalition Government should be broken up before the end of the Japanese war, Mr. Alexander made it plain he was sorry the association between Labor and Conservative statesmen could not continue longer.

But, the decision being made, he went along with the Labor chieftains, was frankly critical of Conservative policies, bade the navy a warm farewell in May and hustled back as First Lord after the Labor general election victory in July.

Prime Minister Attlee and his advisers depended on Mr. Alexander to carry a heavy share of election campaign speeches and then set him to work meeting impatient delegations after the Government took office.

In the Commons he became a leading spokesman for the service departments—and for various other Government affairs.

Suddenly Mr Alexander was appointed a member of the three-man cabinet mission to India, where he carried a major part of the burden of negotiations with Indian parties to speed Indian independence.

Mr. Alexander was barely home when he was hurried off to the Paris Peace Conference to speak for Britain when Ernest Bevin, Foreign Secretary, was told to rest. There, with his jaw thrust out, Mr. Alexander answered Russian attacks on Britain with the proud:

"We yield to none in our regard for the Red Army, but my nation is not ashamed of its part in the struggle either."

Mr. Alexander is supposed to have made more speeches during the war than any other minister.

"I DON'T HAVE IT"

Mr. Alexander's ability to say "No" was responsible for his navy nickname—"I won't have it."

Eight times he has stood in the House to ask that the navy bill be paid during presentation of estimates for the service. He is believed to have held the post longer than any other civilian Commoner and the high award of Companion of Honor was conferred on him for his wartime services.

Montreal Harbor Abustle as Peace Brings Shipping Comeback

By DON GILBERT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP) — Montreal, the port that war by-passed ,is making a quick comeback in peace.

The long piers and the towering grain elevators stretching 10 miles along the St. Lawrence hum with the healthy clamor of men at work. Cargo winches rattle noisily as the products of Canada's factories, fields and mines move out in the race to reestablish pre-war export markets.

For the St. Lawrence port 1000 miles inland from the Atlantic coast it is a return to normality after lean years.

Montreal as a port enjoyed little of the excitement of wartime activity.

Montreal saw her nearly 17,000,000 tons in the last year of peace dwindle to 4,250,000 in 1943.

The top-heavy movement of foodstuffs to the British Isles continues as an aftermath of the war. Steady improvement shows in the volume and diversity of manufactured goods and mineral products flowing into the export markets.

There are heavy newsprint shipments to Australia, India and South America. Farm implements, auto parts, typewriters, glucose, sheet asbestos, machinery are a few of the hundreds of items Canada is exoprting.

RESUME SCHEDULES

Schedules have been resumed between Montreal and South and Central America, the West Indies, Australia, New Zealand, India, the Philippines and Chinese ports.

Within a week a big slice of the West's 430,000,000-bushel wheat crop will begin pouring through the grain elevators, and before the close of navigation Nov. 30 some 100,000,000 bushels of the new crop will have left Canada's shores.

Imports are keeping pace. From Britain came automobiles, motorcycles, chinaware, steel, toys and other hard-to-get commodities. Liquor shipments are heavy from Scotland. Scrap iron from Australia, bulbs from Holland, peanuts from Nigeria are a few of the variet imports.

Quickwitted Octagenarian Heads Delegates

Senator Joseph S. Collings, Vice-President of the Executive Council in the Australian Federal Parliament, will lead the Australian Government delegation to the International Labor Office Conference which begins in Montreal on September 19.

Senator Collings is 81, but he is a quick-witted octogenarian who can hold an audience for hours even in the tough field of political debate. He can run 50 yards, and exercises daily.

Senator Collings was born in England and arrived in Australia at the age of 18 with his parents, sister and three brothers. The total funds of the family were $2. He is the oldest member of the Australian Labor Party in the Federal Parliament, and one of the oldest Cabinet Ministers in the British Empire.

During the war he had one of the most exacting jobs in Cabinet—Minister for the Interior which administered the Allied Works Council. This body converted the almost untouched North of Australia into a vital and efficient war base with airfields, camps, hospitals, wharves, roads and petroleum installations, and the 1000 other things needed in a war base.

Truman Faces Critical Wallace Decision

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Truman faced one of the most critical decisions of his administration today—whether to sanction further criticism of his foreign policy by Henry A. Wallace or, possibly, to ask his Secretary of Commerce to resign.

Mr. Wallace, who declared his intention yesterday of keeping up his fight for changes in the conduct of American international affairs, was scheduled to see the President either today or tomorrow.

Republicans already are making political capital of Wallace's speech in New York last Thursday and the resulting controversy over it, while Democrats acknowledge privately that they consider the incident their toughest "break" this year.

In Paris, State Secretary Byrnes maintained complete personal silence on the whole question on Mr. Wallace's demands for a softer policy toward Russia. But there was ample evidence that State Department officials here were considerably disturbed by what they regard as an appearance of American disunity to the rest of the world.

It was understood from top officials that State Department leaders are considering a recommendation to Mr. Truman that any further speeches by Mr. Wallace on foreign policy should at least be subject to State Department clearance.

Diet Therapy Still Vital In Diabetes Control

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP)—Despite the development of insulin, only known control of diabetes, diet therapy still is vital to successful treatment of the disease, Dr. Frank N. Allan of the Lahey Clinic, Boston, said today at the sixth annual session of The American Diabetes Association.

Treatment should be based on the standpoints of relieving or preventing the patient's symptoms and of dealing with the underlying disorder, he said.

"Insulin is needed in all cases of severe diabetes; in other cases the need depends on th kind of diet employed . . . to begin treatment with insulin alone is undesirable. Regulation of the diet cannot be abandoned without risk of detriment to the patient.

"Avoidance of extremes and adoption of a middle course" in diet seemed preferable at the start. After a trial, diet modification might be desirable either to achieve better control of the disease or to give the patient more satisfaction.

Dr. Priscilla White of the New England Deaconess Hospital, Boston, said observation showed abnormalities when pregnancy is complicated by the mother suffering diabetes. Among the physical abnormalities were the large size of the infant, congenital defects and jaundice. The liver, heart and spleen were especially large.

"Only one woman in 1000 in the United States of child-bearing age has diabetes," said Dr. White. The hospital advised against intermarriage of two diabetics or a diabetic and a known hereditary carrier of the disease.

NAIROBI, Kenya (CP) — Major Hugh Grant, a District Commissioner in the reserve for Kenya's Masai tribe, was killed by a spear thrown by a native. The Government of the East African colony reported that the incident was isolated, but that precautionary measures against unrest had been taken.

Though Declining, V.D. Still Top Problem in Canada

OTTAWA, Sept 17 (CP)—The incidence of venereal disease, although showing some decline, is still among the top-ranking problems facing Canada, Acting Health Minister McCann said in a statement today.

During the second quarter of this year, 10,235 cases of venereal disease were reported—a decrease from the 11,698 cases in the first three months of the year, but more than 10 per cent greater than the 9188 cases recorded in the same period of 1945.

Dr. B. D. B. Layton, chief of the venereal disease control division of the Health Department, said the latest figures are "encouraging." The rate of syphilis for Canada has fallen from 147 per cent per 100,000 population during the first quarter of 1946 to 125 per 100,000, while the incidence of gonorrhea has declined 11 per cent, from 236.8 to 210.8 per 100,000.

Total number of cases during the first six months of this year was 8283 cases of gonorrhea and 13,658 of syphilis.
