DEMANDS COMMISSION ON JAPS

One Dispute Ends; Idle List Grows

Union Trouble in Lumber Strike; Canada's Unrest Not Up to U.S.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (AP)—One of the big United States labor disputes—the 22-day rubber strike in Akron—ended Tuesday and plants were readied to receive 15,000 production workers today.

Important labor developments elsewhere included:

1. Government, management and labor representatives gathered at a conciliation meeting in Chicago aimed at a prompt ending of the seven-State C.I.O. oil workers strike.

2. The House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee set aside all legislation proposing liberalization of unemployment compensation in view of the current wave of reconversion strikes.

3. Nearly 30,000 coal miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia were away from the pits, supporting supervisors in their demand for recognition of their union.

4. Strike settlements, including the B. F. Goodrich Company dispute in Akron, were offset by new disputes and the unofficial tabulation placed the national total of persons idle in labor controversies at 343,000.

Shortly after the Goodrich Company and the C.I.O. United Rubber Workers announced reopening of six Akron plants, foremen voted unanimously to end their three-week strike and resume work.

In Chicago, Justice William L. Dwyer of the Colorado Supreme Court, head of a three-man conciliation panel, said he was "hopeful of a quick settlement" of the C.I.O. oil workers' strike for a 30-per-cent wage increase.

The strike involves 30,000 workers in seven States and has threatened some communities with a gasoline shortage.

The labor-management conference was the first important test of the Truman administration's postwar wage policy under a reorganized Labor Department and a strengthened conciliation service.

ALARMED OVER IDLENESS

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee voiced alarm at the idleness in spreading strikes and shelved legislation proposing liberalization of unemployment compensation.

A strike of supervisory workers closed 45 soft coal mines in Western Pennsylvania and numerous other pits in Northern West Virginia.

The Solid Fuels Administration estimated the number idle in Pennsylvania coal fields at 21,637 and in West Virginia at 6000.

There appeared no immediate prospect of settling the two-day strike of A.F.L. elevator operators and building service employees that spread gradually, stopping up another transportaton in 1996 New York office and loft buildings. Some 15,000 workers were idle.

In Detroit where the United Automobile Workers are campaigning for an industry-wide 30-per-cent wage increase, union and Chrysler Corporation representatives opened conferences.

30 PER CENT PARALYZED

PORTLAND, Ore.—Two hints of inter-Union trouble arose today in the strike of A.F.L. lumber and sawmill workers which has paralyzed over 40 per cent of the Northwest lumber industry.

Max Wedekind, President of the Washington State C.I.O. Council, announced at Seattle that tugboat operators would continue moving logs which were cut before the strike.

John M Christenson of Seattle, President of the A.F.L. Northwest Council of Lumber and Sawmill Workers, promptly retorted that C.I.O. handling of "hot cargo" would not disrupt the strike. "Our American Federation of Labor loggers are out', and none of their logs are going to be handled, that's a cinch."

More than 400 logging camps, sawmills and woodworking plants in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana were stilled for the second day today as an estimated 60,000 A.F.L. Unionmen picketed plants in their demand for an industry wide contract for wage increases.

So far there has been no violence at any mill but the possibility of local differences between A.F.L. teamsters and the production workers developed when Dave Beck of Seattle said his teamsters would continue to handle lumber loads now in retail yards.

SMALLER SCALE

OTTAWA—Canada's current labor unrest has shown little parallel with that of the United States where mounting strikes have left more than 350,000 workers idle, a survey of the Canadian strike picture indicated today.

The Dominion's major labor disturbance is the 14-day-old strike of 10,000 workers at the Windsor, Ont., plant of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada. Other work stoppages across Canada, all of a small scale, involve a further 470 workers

Across the river from Windsor 90,000 Detroit automobile workers have walked out. Between the strikes on the two sides of the border there is, however, a major difference. While the Canadian automobile workers are on strike in an effort to enforce demands for union security in their contract with the company, the American workers are seeking 30 per cent wage increases.

Apart from the labor disturbances, Canada is experiencing a strike of butchers in various parts of the country in protest at the Government's policy on meat rationing.

UNION DISPUTES

In general Canadian strike records show that during the last year or more Canadian disputes have centred upon union security rather than wages. The Ford case is typical of this with the strike marking the climax of a 17-month effort by the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) to have a union shop introduced.

Tenders Called for West Kootenay Road Projects

VICTORIA, Sept. 25 (CP) — Tenders for two road projects in West Kootenay and another in the Cariboo are being called by the Works Department. They must be in the hands of Works Minister Anscomb by noon Oct. 10.

The Cariboo work will be reconstruction of 11 miles on Cariboo Highway No. 2.

In West Kootenay the jobs will be construction of 1.23 miles of construction on the Hall Creek diversion, part of the Nelson-Spokane route, and two miles of reconstruction on the Southern Transprovincial Highway between Creston and Arrow Creek.

Demands Halt in Jews Going to Palestine

LONDON, Sept. 25(CP)—An Arab spokesman tonight demanded a halt to all Jewish immigration to Palestine, and almost simultaneously a Zionist group sharply criticized Britain for not lifting its limit on the number of Jews permitted to enter Palestine.

And from the actual scene in the Eastern Mediterranean, a Mutual Broadcasting Co. correspondent reported from Cairo that conditions were fast approaching a showdown stage—perhaps a violent one.

"It is an open secret," said the correspondent, "that British troops are being sent into Palestine in ever-increasing numbers."

Viscount Gort, High Commissioner for Palestine and Trans-Jordan, returned to Jerusalem today after several months in London, and had this comment when advised of the Cairo broadcast:

"I'm afraid we in the colonial office have no statement to make."

Twefik Saleh Husseini, acting chairman of the Palestine Party, sent a message from Jerusalem to the Arab office in London, reiterating "basic Arab demands," which included stoppage of Jewish immigration and transfer of land to Jews; termination of the British mandate over Palestine, and formation of an independent Palestine national government, bound to Britain by a treaty of alliance and friendship.

2 Non-Confidence Motions Beaten

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — The Commons tonight disposed of two motions of non-confidence in the Government — one without a recorded vote — and appeared ready to vote on adoption of the Speech from the Throne when a Progressive Conservative Party member presented a new amendment.

By a vote of 163 to 67, the Commons defeated tthe Progressive Conservative Party's motion which accused the Government of failing to provide proper demobilization, reconversion and housing measures.

A Social Credit sub-amendment which added that the Government had failed to provide for a prosperous peace for Canada and had failed to give Canadins a proper monetary policy was defeated without a recorded vote.

Vote on the motion for adoption of the Throne Speech appeared to be the next move when Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross (P.C.—Souris) rose to propose a new amendment. Col. Ross said he presented his amendment as a result of the Government's wheat policy announced last week.

The amendment said that pending the establishment of more equitable prices for farm products, consideration should be given to setting prices at levels not less than 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is considered that point where prices for farm products are in fair relation to the price the farmer has to pay for goods and services. In some cases the period of 1926 to 1929 has been chosen to fix a parity for farm prices.

Under the wheat policy, the Government undertakes to pay not less than $1 a bushel for wheat during the five year period ending Sept. 30, 1950. The current export price has been fixed at $1.55 a bushel.

At the earlier sitting members from Western Canada held the floor and from them came suggestions for changes in Canada's monetary, banking, immigration and agricultural policies.

FAVOR SOCIAL CREDIT BASIS

J. H. Blackmore (S.C.—Lethbridge), House Leader for the Social Credit Party in the last Parliament, said his party favored putting the British Empire and the British Commonwealth on a Social Credit basis so as to make it economically self-sufficient.

He expounded the theories of Social Credit, explaining how money could be created debt free, how inflation and deflation could be avoided, and how competitive trade —termed by him as the cause of wars—could be replaced by a system of trade mutually advantageous to all.

Among speakers following him was Hazen Argue, 24, youngest member of the Commons, who urged that credit unions might be given the same privileges as chartered banks so people might again own the banks instead of the banks "owning the people."

Other speakers were Norman Jacques (SC—Wetaskiwin); Benoit Michaud (L—Restigouche - Madawaska), and Col. Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East), who urged that Canada immediately adopt a policy of restricted immigration.

Prior to resumption of the debate, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced the appointment of three Parliamentary assistants. R. W. Mayhew (L—Victoria) becomes assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley, while W. C. Macdonald (L—Halifax) and Lt.-Col. Hugues (Bob) Lapointe (L—Lotbiniere) become assistants to Defence Minister Abbott.

Mr. Blackmore said the British have a great responsibility to discharge in the world, and the British Commonwealth, on a Social Credit basis, could "withstand any enemy on earth or any combination of enemies."

"No combination could then destroy it politically or economically."

The Social Credit party favored full understanding and cooperation with the British peoples, and it favored cooperation with world organizations.

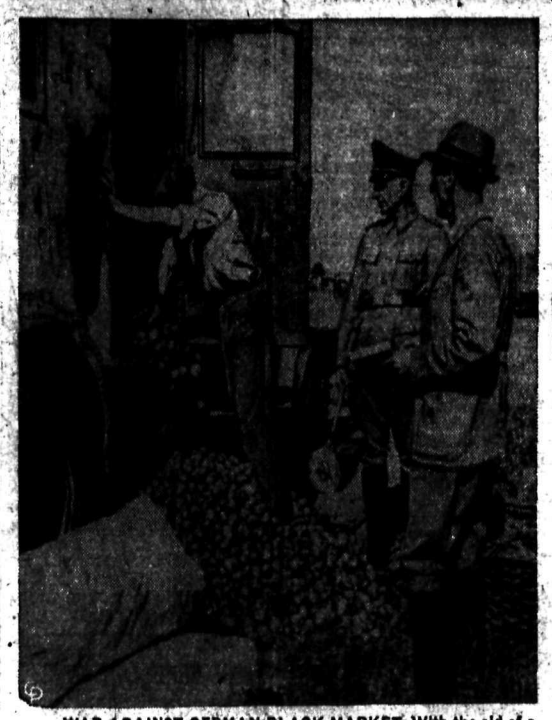
"We are ready to cooperate," he said. "We are ready to discharge our full responsibility, but we are not willing to surrender our sovereignty to any international or other external force on earth."

RESTRICT IMMIGRATION

Col. Harkness said Canada has not enough people to make "our great transportation systems economically sound; to make for a well balanced economy, properly to develop our natural resources, or to to support our multitude of governments — Municipal, Provincial and Dominion—in the manner in which they have become accustomed."

Immigration should be restricted to the extent that a man could be assimilated in Canada. Experience had shown that Orientals could not be assimilated and "I believe we should rigidly close the doors against them."

Mr. Michaud said the Government should finance the building of homes. He disagreed with criticisms of housing regulations which prevented property owners from evicting their tenants. These regulations were justified by the emergency situations.



WAR AGAINST GERMAN BLACK MARKET: With the aid of a German policeman, Military Government officials in the British occupation zone unload black market potatoes from a truck entering Hamburg. With the coming of Winter, potatoes will be a staple food in Germany and Military Government officials have determined that the crops shall not find their way to the black market. In one day over 5000 kilos of potatoes were uncovered.

Donald Gordon . . . Most People in Favor of Meat Rationing

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP) — People as a whole are strongly in favor of meat rationing, Donald Gordon, national chairman of the Prices Board, said today on his arrival in Vancouver from an extended vacation in Interior British Columbia. He was accompanied by F. S. Grisdale, Deputy Co-Ordinator, and Administrator of Meat and Meat Products of the Board.

"A relatively small but vocal group including a bunch of hoodlums in Montreal who have forced the closing of some of the stores there are getting far more attention than they deserve," said Mr. Gordon, referring to the recent forced closure of meat stores in Montreal.

He predicted that in other centres where strikes have been inaugurated in protest of phases of meat rationing the movement will die out.

"They will have to realize that everybody must suffer to relieve the misery and hunger in Europe," he continued. "The goal now is to reduce for Canadians their entire supply of meat to the point needed to keep them healthy."

"Equalization of distribution is now only a phase," he continued. "The main objective is to get overseas more and more meat above the minimum needs of the people."

"Tokens which have been attacked in many quarters were the result of suggestions made in a conference with meat dealers," Mr. Gordon continued. "Tokens tend to make the system look more complicated but in no time at all both butcher and householder will find them the most useful part of the rationing system."

Mr. Gordon added that he was sure the United States would not abandon meat rationing until the need was ended. "There is an agreement that one country will not abandon rationing without first conferring with the other," he said.

Patton Denies Lenience to Nazis

BAD TOLZ, Germany, Sept. 25 (Reuters) — Gen. George Patton, Commander of the United States 3rd Army in Bavaria, today denied that he is being lenient to Nazis and declared that victory would be incomplete until they had all been uprooted from responsible positions and, in some cases, actively punished.

Gen. Patton was speaking at a conference which, he admitted, had been called in case the outcry caused by certain remarks he made last Saturday should reflect on Gen. Eisenhower, American Representative on the Allied Control Council in Germany.

Gen. Eisenhower's policy, Gen. Patton said adhered strictly to the Potsdam Declaration providing for the quickest possible "de-Nazification" of Germany, the care of displaced persons and providing Germany with the minimum for living standards.

36,000 R.C.A.F. Men Home Since May 1

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — More than 36,000 R.C.A.F. personnel have been repatriated from Europe since May 1 of this year and if the present rate of return is maintained it is expected that, except for those required for the occupation Air Force, all Canadian Air Force men will have been brought home by next March 31, Air Minister Gibson said tonight in a statement.

In addition to the 36,000 already home, another 1,000 airmen were expected to reach Canada by Oct. 1, the statement said, adding that repatriation was "proceeding at a satisfactory rate" with full advantage being taken of all shipping accommodation.

The Minister said his statement was occasioned by reports that radar personnel were not being repatriated as fast as others. In answer to this he said that because 3580 of the 4550 R.C.A.F. radar personnel overseas were serving with R.A.F. units when VE-Day came, the initial rate of repatriation for them was not as high as the average "but this situation has been overtaken."

The disposition of radar personnel outside Canada did not permit repatriation before VE-Day but since then 1068 radar personnel had come home. It was anticipated that by the end of November all radar personnel from R.A.F. units will have been returned to the R.C.A.F. "at which time all those low priority personnel required for the occupation force will have been selected and the balance will then be available for repatriation."

Molotov Wants Policy Set Out for MacArthur

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP) — Tentative plans for a December meeting of an Allied Control Commission for Japan have been presented to the Big Five Council of Foreign Ministers, the Associated Press said it learned authoritatively tonight. The meeting would be in Washington.

The proposal, originally put forward by Britain, has been neither accepted nor rejected by the United States, reliable informants said, the news agency reported.

While the subject is not being discussed at formal sessions, it forms an important background for the talks.

Authoritative sources said the British plan was put forward several weeks ago but withdrawn yesterday, the AP added, saying pressure exerted by the Dominions, particularly Australia, forced the British Cabinet to restore its support of the measure.

The AP said these are the recent developments on formation of such a commission:

Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov demanded that the Council set up an Allied Commission to lay down policy for Gen. MacArthur. His move came after Washington announced that the United States would be supreme in deciding Japanese occupation plans.

The United States Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes, refused to discuss the question, saying he was unprepared and that the Pacific was not on the Big Five agenda.

In view of difficulties with the Soviet Union over matters directly affecting British Mediterranean interests, Britain is reported to have decided to go along with the United States in the Pacific and abandon its request for a control commission meeting in Washington.

It was learned from officials here today that the Australians, objecting to the change in British policy, delivered a note to the British Cabinet stating they would insist on the right to participate in the determination of occupation policy.

According to reliable reports, Britain reconsidered and decided to request once more establishment of a control commission.

STILL HAZY

The plan still is in such a hazy state that it is not clear who would be invited to Washington. One source suggested it be limited to Britain, the Soviet Union, the United States, China and Australia.

Unless Mr. Byrnes receives instructions from President Truman, which seems unlikely at this late date and on such short notice, it is considered improbable that any decision will be reached before the Foreign Ministers leave in the next day or two. The subject undoubtedly will be taken up in diplomatic exchanges, however.

Persons in a position to know what has happened in the meetings of the Foreign Ministers, which are closed to the press, said M. Molotov's move in demanding an Allied Commission for Japan was a reflection of Soviet dissatisfaction with what the Russians regard as Gen. MacArthur's policy toward the "old gang" in Japan, especially the industrialists.

BITTER CLASHES

Bitter personal clashes were reported between British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov.

Reliable sources said the Russians were unreceptive to American and British proposals that Austria be fed from the great Balkan granary, always its source of farm products, and were determined also to prevent the Western powers from discussing Balkan frontiers.

An informant who attended the secret sessions of the Foreign Ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France and China gave this as an example of the friction between Molotov and Bevin:

Molotov, objecting to the British attitude against Balkan governments sponsored by Russia, declared that Bevin was supporting an anti-democratic regime in Greece.

Angered, Bevin retorted that he refused to permit that he be spoken to in such a tone. "Besides," Bevin is reported to have said, "I am tired of always being the butt for accusations. It is as though I am always being put in the prisoner's dock. Is it because I used to be a docker?"

"Well," Molotov was said to have replied, "I don't know but there is one thing you and I have in common anyway. Our nobility is not very old."

FIVE-YEAR-OLD SHOOTS MOTHER

CHAPLEAU, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP) —Shot accidentally by her five-year old son, Mrs. Rose Lalonde, 38, of Sultan, Ont., was fatally injured Sunday.

Mrs. Lalonde had attended the Catholic Church leaving her two children, five-year-old Wilfred and 12-year-old Richard in the house. During her absence the boys went to a neighbor's home and borrowed a .22 rifle. They were playing with the rifle in the backyard when Mrs. Lalonde returned.

Mrs. Lalonde entered the house with the older boy who placed the rifle at the kitchen door. The younger boy picked up the rifle and aimed it at his mother.

The gun discharged, the bullet striking Mrs. Lalonde in the heart. She died almost instantly.

Attempt to Quell IndoChina Uprising

By VERN HAUGLAND

SAIGON, Sept. 25 (AP) — An uprising of Annamite (Indo-Chinese) independent forces occurred today and British forces fired mortars and heavy machine guns in efforts to halt the disturbance.

The Annamites, seeking immediate independence, have opposed the return to French rule to this Southeast Asia country taken over by Japan at the fall of France.

Saigon, Allied occupation headquarters, was under a virtual state of siege, with Annamites firing from places of concealment at French, British and American forces.

Annamites seized the market place, two blocks from the hotel, during a major outbreak Monday and shut off all the city's power. British troops went to work plant and hoped to restore electricity and power soon.

Some Annamites, who compose three-fourths of the country's population, marched in a body toward the French section Sunday and French soldiers fired machine guns, wounding several of the natives.

A 9 p.m. curfew was imposed Sunday for the first time, and light, sporadic shooting was heard throughout the night.

British authorities said recently that their only role in Indo-China was to keep order until sufficiently large French military forces arrived to assume control.

Says Arrogant Nazis and Japs Roam Streets of Shanghai

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 — Edward Souder, Jr., American Broadcasting Company correspondent, reported today that armed bands of Japanese and Germans currently roam Shanghai streets without interference.

Souder said the Japanese greeted Americans "with gestures of contempt", while the "heil-Hitlering Germans," were "just as arrogant as they had been during the war."

All Navy Prisoners Now Are Free

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — All Royal Canadian Navy personnel known to have been taken prisoner during the war have been freed with the recovery of two naval officers held prisoners in Java, Naval Service Headquarters announced today.

The officers, now reported safe in British hands are Lieut. (SB) George Tidy of Toronto and Sub-Lt. Richard Hugh Leir (The Mill House) Penticton, B. C.

Find Second Victim of Alta. Snowstorm

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Sept. 25 — (CP)—The body of W. "Bill" Cameron, 44, sheepherder of the Old Kirkpold sheep ranch in Southern Alberta, was found today on the Lost River, North of Conrey.

Cameron is the second victim of a severe September snowstorm which swept this area Saturday.

Victoria Butcher Stores to Open

VICTORIA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Butchers of Victoria who closed their doors Monday in protest against meat rationing, will meet tomorrow to consider further action, it was announced tonight.

Most of the independent butchers, members of the Vancouver Island Retail Meat Dealers' Association, took part in the strike. Other independent butchers chain stores and department stores with meat markets, continued to do business.

However, those who kept their shops open, reported no unusual buying in the last two days.

May Occupy Japan for Many Years; Cut Silk Production

TOKYO, Sept. 25 (CP) — Gen. MacArthur declared today Japan might be occupied "many years" although the conquering force would be small "under favorable conditions"—presumably if the people behave.

His denial of the report that occupation might end in six months came as Japan embarked on an economic transition that will erase her, at least for the present, as the world's greatest silk producer.

Faced by the stark prospect of mass starvation this Winter, the Japanese Ministry of Agriculture announced that all but 75,000 of the 1,225,000 acres of mulberry trees that fed the silk worms would be plowed up for food crops.

These were other facets in the transformation of Japan from a world power into a fourth-rate island power:

The Nippon Times reported Gen. MacArthur had banned films of a militaristic or ultra-nationalistic character.

Heavily-armed combat veterans went ashore into the port of Aomori, extending the occupation of Japan into the Northern tip of the main home island of Honshu.

The United States Army announced that more than 20 suspected Japanese war criminals would be moved to the same island prison in Tokyo Bay that once housed Allied war prisoners. It was undecided whether to put former War Dictator Hideki Tojo in that Spartan prison, too.

PLEADS FOR SYMPATHY

The head of Domei, stripped by Gen. MacArthur of its monopolistic prerogatives, said he would recommend to directors the disbanding of this news and propaganda agency that once spoke for the militarists.

A brother of Emperor Hirohito in an interview pleaded for American sympathy "toward the Japanese people in their sincere endeavor for peace."

The Japanese Ministry of Commerce and Industry said air raids hastened Japan's collapse, cutting machinery production this year to nearly half what it was in 1944 and reducing oil and alcohol output almost two-thirds.

Gen. MacArthur's statement on the length of occupation was in the form of an elaboration of a signed article by Ted Dealey, President of the Dallas, Tex., Morning News, in which the Supreme Commander was quoted as saying the Army of Occupation might be withdrawn in six months "if we are not too ruthless and cruel."

Says He Served in British Convoys

BORDEN, Hampshire, England, Sept. 25 (CP)—Charged at a court martial here today with being absent without leave for four years and 17 days, Pte. Romeo Lee, of Amqui, Que., testified he had been serving in British convoys.

The findings of the court will be made known.

In another case Pte. Adrien Demers, 35, of Montreal, convicted by a field general court martial of being absent without leave for four years and eight months, was sentenced to two years at hard labor and discharge with ignominy.

Attempt to Oust Argentine Gov't Quickly Suppressed

BY RAFAEL ORDORICA

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 25 (AP)—Gen. Arturo Rawson, leader of the 1943 revolution that overthrew President Ramon S. Castillo, attempted an armed revolt today to oust Argentina's military Government, but the rebellion was quickly suppressed.

The abortive uprising came amid increasing signs of nationwide opposition to the regime of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, President, and Col. Juan Peron, Vice-President and "strong man."

Army officers loyal to Peron jailed Rawson at Cordoba, provincial capital at the foot of the Andes.

Also arrested were Gen. Osvaldo Martin, one of Peron's inner circle until he was relieved four days ago of command of the 4th Army Division at Cordoba, and other officers.

Gen. Ambrosio Vago, Martin's successor in the command, ordered the two arrested for inciting officers and men of the garrison to rebellion.

TO BE HELD INCOMMUNICADO

A statement by Peron this afternoon credited the "determined and energetic attitude" of the garrison with averting the uprising, and said Rawson and Martin would be held incommunicado "until the prosecuting judge can act."

"The Government has taken the necessary measures," Peron added, and "there is tranquility throughout the republic."

Those measures included the interruption of communications with Cordoba—described by an Associated Press correspondent as "confused"—and prohibition of broadcasting of news of the attempted coup to the interior.

Rawson, President for two days after the 1943 revolution in which he led 10,000 armed men into Buenos Aires, had to resign when the Army voted non-confidence in him.

Of late, he has several times expressed contempt for Peron and President Edelmiro Farrell, calling the latter "a puppet in Peron's hands," and asserted they now were holding the "two key posts of power" despite their refusal to join the 1943 movement.

Cardinals Given the "$5000 Jitters"; Grizzlies Out of Reach

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Those "$5000 jitters" jolted the Cardinals just a little bit more than the Cubs yesterday—and the jolt jerked Chicago's grizzlies virtually out of reach in front of the National League's pennant stretch struggle.

The Cubs came to life with a four-run spree in the seventh inning of this first game of the senior circuit's own "Little World Series" to pile up a 6-5 win and jump 2½ games out in front of St. Louis in the flag chase.

Taking this thrill-a-play heartbreaker, the Cubs zipped to a spot where they have to take only four of their remaining six games to lock up the championship, even if the Cards win all of the five they still have to play.

Riding to victory on the shaky—but rugged—right arm of Hank Borowy, who thus posted his 10th win against two setbacks since being bought from the Yanks in mid-season, the Cubs, too, had all the heat taken off them for tomorrow's second and final fuss. The Cards are carrying all the load now—especially since their ace, Harry (the Cat) Brecheen, was trumped so soundly and solidly today.

Borowy wasn't around at the finish. Coming back with a two run rally in the eighth, the Cards clouted Hank out of the box for the first time in 12 starts since he joined the Cubs.

At New York, Goody Rosen's 12th homer of the season, coming with two out and two on in the ninth inning, climaxed a Brooklyn Dodgers spurt for a 7-4 National League decision over New York Giants.

Vic Lombardi went all the way for his 10th victory and his third straight over New York as the Dodgers made it 14 out of 21 over the Giants for the season.

In the American League, Detroit's tussle with Cleveland was rained out and joy reigned in the Bengal quarters. If today's double header is washed out too, the Tigers automatically become the American League champions, finishing ahead of idle Washington Senators on percentage points.

At St. Louis, the Browns put together a walk and four hits to produce four runs in the fourth inning and down Chicago White Sox 5-1.

The International League playoff between Montreal Royals and Newark Bears also was rained out.

TOAST and TEA

BY J. A. McARDLE

One day a doctor friend was approached by another medical man and asked if he knew the meaning of ergophobia. What kind of disease was it? He explained that he had waiting for him a young Englishman, a remittance man, who had dropped in to explain that one of the conditions of his receiving the remittance as he wandered about the world, was that he should have a medical examination yearly, and that the examining doctor should say what, if anything, was the matter with him. The doctor had noticed that on the chart the patient had carried with him another doctor a year ago had said that he was suffering from ergophobia, though himself could find nothing the matter. The other doctor, remembering some of his Greek, said that ergon meant work and phobia meant a fear. So the man was apparently suffering from a fear of work. The other doctor thanked him and duly entered the word ergophobia as had been done a year earlier.

Says Wheat Price Peg Was Jolt to Westerners

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — Announcement of a pegged wheat export price of $1.55 a bushel and a $1 floor under delivery for the next five years was a "distinct jolt" to the people of the West, T. J. Bentley C.C.F. member for Swift Current constituency, said tonight in the Commons.

Westerners did not object to a limit on the export price. The jolt was that the minimum price guaranteed on "authorized deliveries" meant a continuance of the quota system.

"We are not opposed to the quota system," he said.

But the provision of a minimum price on the quota system might mean that the open market price would hover around the minimum of $1 and if there were low grades the farmer might get so little they would be unable to finance their operations.

"Away With Human Rats"—McLure

OTTAWA, Sept. 24 (CU)—W. C. S. McLure (PC—Queen's) told the Commons tonight he was inclined to believe that "the Great Ruler may never fully pardon the American nation or the British nation for not absolutely destroying and driving into the sea those human rats of the Pacific."

"God forbid that our nation ever allow one of them to put foot in Canada again," said Mr. McLure.

He said some might consider him bitter but if they studied Japanese atrocities he was sure there was not a member of the House who would not say: "Away with those human rats."

Molotov Action Brings Different Views

LONDON, Sept. 25 (Reuters) — The reported action of Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia at the Big Five Foreign Ministers' meeting in querying the nature of joint Allied control in Japan provoked varying interpretations tonight.

One explanation for the question describes it as a reaction to the recent "hands off Japan" attitude assumed in some United States circles; another holds the Russians were both surprised and disappointed at United States failure to support Soviet claims to Tripolitania when disposal of Italian colonies was under discussion.

Observers holding the last view believe Russia, assuming the United States attitude in the Mediterranean to be prompted by a desire for a free American hand in the Far East, wasted no time in making clear her intention to stake her claim in that theatre.

Trains Will Stop to Await New Time on Sunday

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 25—One hundred and six Canadian Pacific trains, 4000 stationary clocks and 16,000 standard railroad watches will stop on daylight time and start again on standard time in the early hours of Sunday morning as Canada's return to "God's time" is put into effect over the five time zones through which the coast-to-coast road operates. Two o'clock in morning of Sept. 30 has been set as the C.P.R.'s zero hour when trains from Halifax to Victoria will grind to a stop before open telegraph offices and wait for an hour to keep in tune with the times (both of them).

Extensive "briefing" of all operating personnel in their duties, reduction of the number of trains on the road at that time to an absolute minimum and an elaborate communications set up to relay the signals starting the trains again all have a part in the time change.

Letters a Long Time on the Way

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 — A file of three letters—two of them written by men who later died while in Japanese hands—reached Vancouver today, four years after being mailed at Hong Kong post office.

The envelope with its Hong Kong cancellation stamp dated Dec. 6, 1941, was addressed to K. M. Fetterly, foreign freight agent of the Canadian Pacific railway, Vancouver. The envelope also bore a stamp stating:

"Detained in Hong Kong by Japanese from Dec. 1941, to Sept. 1945". It was discovered by British occupation forces when they re-took the city and then forwarded to Vancouver.

The letters deal with C.P.R. business. One of them was written by L. E. N. Ryan, agent at Hong Kong, who died in Stanley internment camp from beri beri, in February, 1945. Another was written by J. Oram Sheppard, freight agent, who died from wounds received during the battle for Repulse Bay. The third letter on the file is from David Drummond, C.P.R. Oriental manager at Hong Kong, Drummond, rescued from a Jap internment camp, is now enroute to the United Kingdom.

Women Guinea Pigs . . .

Nazis Killed Weak by Injecting Gas, Disinfectants

LUENEBERG, Sept. 25 (AP) — A witness testified today that the Nazis picked hundreds of women as guinea pigs for extremely painful artificial insemination experiments at concentration camps and killed the weak by injecting gasoline and disinfectants into their blood streams.

The new disclosure of horrors came from a Polish Jewess, Helene Hamermerz, testifying against Josef Kramer and 44 other defendants accused before a high British military court of mass murder at Belsen and Oswiecim.

In a low, steady voice, the 25-year-old witness told of naked women being hung up by the legs and dangling helplessly while the artificial insemination experiments were conducted.

"Friends of mine in the hospital told how the victims were first injected with some drug to stimulate heart action," said the Jewess, who was a medical student before being sent to Oswiecim.

"When sperm was introduced, the women twisted in great pain and often soon died."

She swore that SS doctors killed off hospital patients with injections of gasoline and disinfectants, after telling the victims the injections were glucose.

"They died in a few minutes," she said.

HANGED FOR STEALING

She said Dr. Fritz Klein, Kramer and Hessler—all in the prisoners' cage—selected victims for the gas chamber and that Hessler "ordered six girls hanged" for alleged stealing.

"I worked in the leather factory," she added. "The overseer, Otto Graf, beat us every day, and once beat a girl Calle Maria Domroska so severely that she died. Sometimes he made us undress and beat us with a rubber truncheon.

"He quite often spoke about the crematorium, where he put in half a day's work, and once said women's bodies were more suitable for burning than men's."

Of Franz Hessler, guard at the Oswelcim camp, she said: "Before we were moved to Belsen, Hessler ordered six girls to be hanged. I saw four of them hanged. We were lined up in fives and told to watch."

Factory supervisors habitually beat prisoners and "used to make sport" of flogging men until they were covered by blood she said.

An earlier witness, Dora Szaran told of seeing Kramer beat women prisoners with a stick. She also said that Juana Borman had set her Alsatian dog on woman prisoners who had gone lame and could not keep up with the others.

"Bormann boasted to another labor leader about setting the dog on to the internee. When the dog went for the woman's clothing she rebuked it and said 'at her throat,' commanding to choke her to death," Miss Szafran added.

"As the woman died after the dog's attack, quite a crowd gathered around. Bormann then told the leader who came to see what it was all about, 'this is my work,' and pointed to the body."

In the dock the accused woman Bormann, with wrinkled face and greying hair, listened intently, never taking her eyes from the face of the witness, except once, when she drew out her handkerchief and mopped her face and brow.

The wife of Joseph Kramer arrived at Lueneberg today and it was learned she may give evidence on behalf of her husband. After hearing of his wife's arrival, Kramer looked almost buoyant as he entered the dock.

Cross-examining Miss Szafran on her account of the beating which she alleged she saw, Maj. L. W. W. Cranfield, defending officer, asked if she had been with other witnesses for the prosecution, while waiting to be called to give evidence.

When Miss Szafran admitted they were always together, Maj. Canfield declared: "I suggest to you that the additions to your affidavit which you have made are the result of discussions between you and the other female witnesses."

Miss Szafran: "It is untrue."

Describing the alleged shooting of 50 people outside the Belsen cookhouse on the day of liberation by British troops, Miss Szafran said: "When I asked one man why he was shooting he said: "Do you think that when the English people come here you will be better off?"

Maj. Cranfield: "I put it to you that this incident only occurred in your imagination and that the whole incident is a tissue of lies?"

Miss Szafran: "Perhaps the report was not made correctly but I swear the whole thing really took place."

B. C. Revenue Reaches All-Time High; Over-All Surplus $6,900,000 With Big Reductions In Debts

VICTORIA, Sept. 25 (CP) — An all-time high of $40,813,000 in the B. C. Government's revenue for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1945, resulting in an over-all revenue surplus of approximately $6,900,000, was announced today.

The over-all revenue surplus was coupled with substantial reductions in the net and gross debts.

"Since 1933, revenues have exceeded ordinary expenditures by $66,000,000," the Premier's announcement reported. "This amount has provided approximately $28,255,000 for debt redemption and $14,745,000 for unemployment relief, thus leaving a net revenue surplus of $23,000,000."

The Premier concurrently announced that the gross and net debts of the Province have been substantially reduced as follows: The gross debt by $14,330,000 since 1941 and the net debt by $4,623,000 since 1941.

"The gross debt of the Province as at March 31, 1945, amounted to $150,598,000, and the net debt, $132,196,000," he said.

"This has been accomplished despite increase in expenditures on behalf of old-age pensions, mothers' pensions, social service allowances, education, public works, municipal aid and other public services," Mr. Hart said.

"In order to provide new and improved highways and bridges; new provincial buildings, assistance in construction of institutions, hospitals and schools, $8,000,000 were appropriated from this surplus by the enactment of statutory provisions during 1944 and 1945," he continued. "Only a portion of this sum has been spent.

The unappropriated portion of the revenue surplus, amounting to $15,000,000, together with a sum of $1,686,000, which accrued under the Dominion-Provincial tax agreement and which is held in suspense, makes available, for new projects, a total of $16,686,000," he said.

Total revenue for the 1943-44 fiscal year was $38,760,636.05. Total expenditure that year was $31,484,747.99.

54-Hour Week in Lumbering Industry in B. C. Eliminated

VICTORIA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Board of Industrial Relations regulations eliminating the 54-hour week in the lumbering industry and prohibiting split-shift working hours for female employees of restaurants were announced today by Adam Bell, Board Chairman.

The new order for the restaurant trade covers women and girls working in restaurants and hotel dining rooms and provides that no such person shall be employed between midnight and six the following morning unless her employment is continuous during the period.

STOP BROKEN SHIFTS FOR WAITRESSES

"This is intended to stop the practice of broken shifts which make it necessary for female employees to travel to and from work in the deep hours of night when transportation facilities are not available and the hazards attendant to such circumstances are frequently encountered," said Mr. Bell.

This regulation comes into effect on Oct. 15.

"A regulation that has remained in force since 1925 permitting a nine-hour day and 54-hour week in the lumbering industry East of the Cascade Mountains has been cancelled," Mr. Bell continued.

"This means that as from the end of October this year the eight-hour day and 48-hour week in the lumbering industry will become the maximum standard throughout the entire Province."

This regulation does not affect the logging and lumbering industry West of the Cascades where the eight-hour day and 48-hour work week has always been the legal maximum.

"These limits do not apply to persons holding positions of supervision and management and limited hours in excess of the maximum are allowed by the regulations in the case of certain key position such as engineers and mill wrights," Mr. Bel lsaid. "Provision is also made for extra hours in the event of mechanical breakdowns."

Nazis Planned to Strike at Britain in 1940

By ROSS MUNRO

BERLIN, Sept. 25 (CP Cable) — Documents discovered here reveal that the Germans in the Autumn of 1940 were preparing to strike at Southern and Southeastern England with 22 divisions and with 17 divisions in reserve, it was learned today.

Attack in that area of Britain would have involved Canadian troops within a day or so of the landing.

The mystery surrounding German plans for invasion of Britain is gradually being unravelled and although no one here will say for certain that the final operation order has been uncovered, this appears to have been the general plan:

The initial attack was to be carried out by the 16th and 9th German armies forming Army Group "A". The 16th Army was to sail from Ostend, Dunkerque, Calais, Boulogne and the mouth of the Somme River, to land on the Kentish Coast between Margate and Hastings. The 9th was to leave Dieppe, Le Havre and Caen to make an assault on the British Coast between Brighton and Portsmouth.

Airborne landings were planned North of the Romney Marshes which lie between Folkestone and Hastings, on the South Downs behind Brighton and on Beachy Head East of Brighton.

After the landing of Army Group "A", Army Group "B", comprising an enlarged 6th Army, was to sail from Cherbourg to land West of Bournemouth in Weymouth Bay.

The Army and the Army Group reserve set aside for the invasion totalled nine infantry divisions and eight additional infantry divisions available from the General Headquarters reserve, the discovered documents revealed.

The Germans even had a secret weapon — their six-barrelled "Nebelwerfer" mortar.

The invasion plan called for the two beachheads of Army Group "A" to link up and the first main objective was a line running Northeast from Portsmouth toward Aldershot and Guildford, then Eastward to Leatherhead where Canadian Headquarters was located and on through Caterham to Gilbury on the Thames Estuary.

British and Canadian forces were to be smashed in the hedgerow country of Kent, Sussex and Surrey and the Germans then intended to drive ahead to their second objective — a line from Colchester on the East to the mouth of the Severn North of Bristol on the West.

London was to be cut off and strong mobile forces would then break through to occupy the important coastal towns and industrial areas of the Midlands.

Lethbridge Asks If Agreement on Japs Still Effective

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Sept. 25 (CP)—City council last night decided to ascertain whether the agreement Lethbridge received from the British Columbia Security Commission more than three years ago to cover evacuation of Japanese to Southern Alberta is still effective.

Council's move was made after it received an application from a local hospital asking permission to employ Japanese help. The application was tabled until it is learned whether or not the agreement with the Security Commission is still in force.

More than 3,000 Japanese were evacuated to Southern Alberta under the agreement, conditions of which stated Japanese were permitted to come to this region primarily for work on sugar beets, that they would not be permitted to accept employment in the city, that they would be removed when the emergency which required their evacuation or the war with Japan ceased to exist, and a number of other stipulations.

About two years ago the Security Commission was dissolved and was succeeded by the Japanese Labor Division of the Federal Department of Labor.

Before the council decided to seek its information it heard complaints that Japanese were coming into the city to work, as had been done on some previous occasions contrary to the agreement.

Survives One Accident, Killed in Second

MONTREAL, Sept 24 (CP)—Pte. Gerard Meloche of Mont Laurier, Que., survived after being dragged several feet under a street car today, but died when the ambulance in which he was being taken to hospital collided with a police car.

Meloche suffered minor cuts and bruises when struck by the tram, and was taken to a Montreal hospital. When his injuries were found to be not serious, he was transferred to a military ambulance to be taken to Montreal military hospital. He was thrown out of the ambulance in the subsequent collision, in which two other persons suffered injuries.

Wide Controls Placed on Nazis

BERLIN, Sept. 25 (Reuters)—A proclamation issued today by the Allied control commission gave the Allies sweeping control over a German life, including her relations for other countries, and decreed abolition of the German general staff.

It also indicated the Germans may in the future be required to pay for the cost of the occupation.

The proclamation, drawn up at a meeting of the commission last Thursday, announced that all military formations and organizations, including the general staff, will be abolished. It prohibited any group which might develop military characteristics, or which is designed to carry on the German military tradition, under whatever guise.

It contained these provisions:

The Allied representatives will regulate all matters affecting Germany's relations with other countries. No foreign commitments of any kind will be entered into by German authorities or nationals without Allied sanction.

All German diplomatic and consular officials abroad are recalled, and their property and archives are at the disposal of the Allies.

The German authorities must furnish all information and documents necessary for the trial of Nazis leaders as war criminals and ensure the attendance of witnesses.

The German authorities must comply with any directions the Allies issue for defraying the costs of the maintenance, pay, accommodation and transport of the forces and agencies stationed in Germany, the costs of executing the requirements of unconditional surrender and payment for relief in whatever form it may be provided by the United Nations.

The control commission will specify the times and conditions under which German civilians and officials are evacuated from territories both inside and outside the 1937 frontiers of Germany, and the German authorities will make the necessary arrangements for the reception and maintenance of the persons evacuated.

The German authorities are to comply with Allied directions for the repeal of Nazi legislation and for the reform of German law and the German judicial, administrative police and educational systems, including the replacement of their personnel.

They also must comply with Allied directions concerning the property, rights, titles and interests of persons affected by legislation involving discrimination on grounds of race, color, creed, language or political opinion.

In any proceedings before any German court or authority, judicial notice will be taken of all Allied declarations and proclamations, which shall override any provisions of German law inconsistent therewith.

German nationals will be prevented from leaving German territory until further notice, except as authorized or directed by the Allied representatives.

The Allied representatives will exercise such control as they deem necessary over all or any part of German finance, agriculture and industry.

Production and acquisition of war material, and the possession, maintenance or operation of any aircraft are forbidden.

The German authorities and all persons in Germany will hand over to the Allied representatives all gold and silver in coin or bullion form, and all platinum in bullion form, situated in Germany, or possessed by any German bank, company or cartel outside Germany. All foreign notes and coins will similarly be handed over.

Protest Czech Expulsion of Hungary Minority

LONDON, Sept. 25 (Reuters)—A breach in the otherwise solid cooperation among the new left-wing governments of Eastern Europe appears to have been caused by the Czechoslovak Government's plan and practice of expelling the Hungarian minority from Slovakia, political observers here believe.

Throughout the last week, Budapest radio has devoted much of its time to protests by various governments parties and unofficial bodies against the expulsion policy.

Former leaders of the Hungarian Social Democrats and Trade Unionists in Czechoslovakia who once used to side with Czech democracy against the disruptive nationalist activities of Admiral Nikolaus Horthy's Fascist regime now protest against the "fatal aberration which makes blind racial intolerance the dominant idea of the Czechoslovak republic."

Politically significant is the fact that the protest has been supported by the Hungarian Communist leader, Josef Reval, at a party meeting, on the ground that expulsion would "ruin the chances of Czech-Hungarian friendship for decades."

But the official defence for the expulsions has been put forward by a Slovak Communist, Dr. Vlado Clementis, Czechoslovak Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs.

Dr. Clementis argued that this government proposes to exchange the Hungarians of Czechoslovakia against the Slovak minority in Hungary, and is prepared to negotiate. To this the Hungarians reply that the Slovaks in Hungary have no desire to be uprooted and that it would be undemocratic to start a forced migration against the will of the people conceived on both sides.

To the claim that the Czechs, after their experiences since 1938, cannot live together with Hungarians any more than with Germans, the Hungarians answer that they fully agree that Hungarian Fascists should be punished, but that they reject collective racial responsibility, and that the Potsdam decisions sanctioning the expulsion of Germans made no mention of Hungarians.

Urges Unionists to Make Watchword Unity and Vigilance

PARIS, Sept. 25 (Reuters)—Leon Jouhaux, France's veteran Trade Union leader, today called on unionists from 59 countries gathered here for the opening of the World Trade Union Congress, to make "unity and vigilance" their watchword in building the peace and in the economic reorganization of the world.

The Congress, attended by representatives of 60,000,000 workers, is meeting in the vast Palais de Chaillot to discuss the formation of a new world organization to replace the old International Federation of Trade Unions.

Sir Walter Citrine, General Secretary of the Trade Union Congress, and Ebby Edwards, this year's Trade Union Congress Chairman, are attending for Britain, Pat Conroy, Secretary-Treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, for Canada.

Four More B.C. Men Liberated

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — The Office of Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight released additional lists of Canadian civilians now officially reported as liberated from the Japanese in various parts of the Far East and some who have arrived in Manila enroute home.

The lists, totalling 38 names and including three who have arrived in North Africa from Japan, contained mostly the names of missionaries who were caught in the Far East by the Pacific War.

The names include:

Liberated in Malaya:
Blanc, F. E., Vancouver.
Piercy, George William, Victoria.
Strand, Axel H., Vancouver.
Liberated in Japan:
Zaitzeff, Anatole, Vancouver.

Asks Where Election Fund Came From

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., Sept. 25 (CP)—Harold Winch, C.C.F. Leader in the B.C. Legislature, told a public meeting here last night that the present Coalition Government has enjoyed the "easiest" years any Provincial Government has ever experienced.

Mr. Winch spoke in support of John MacInnis, C.C.F. candidate in Port George for the Oct. 25 Provincial general elections.

Criticizing claims that the Coalition Administration has provided the "best Government" in the Province's history, Mr. Winch said the Hart-Maitland Government since 1941 had passed only four agricultural bills including two amendments to control bills, a third for loans up to $75,000 for fibre flax promotion and a fourth providing $500,000 for land clearing.

Mr. Winch challenged the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives to make public the source of all their funds for campaign advertising and promised a C.C.F. Government would enact legislation making mandatory sworn public declarations as to where election funds come from.

Mr. Winch held that is possible to provide 100,000 new jobs by public corporations establishing new industries "if people have the power."

He approved retention of $1.10 per hour wage rates in peace-time industry and 60 cents an hour for girls.

Mr. MacInnis attacked monopolies and cartels, submitting that "if interests other than the people themselves have control it is impossible to plan efficiently, effectively."

Expect 6400 U.B.C. Students by January

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP) — University of British Columbia Board of Governors last night approved plans for further expansion of the University to help take care of an estimated total of 6400 students by January.

More than 5200 students have already registered at U.B.C. and another 200 are expected within the next two weeks. A total of 1000 more former service personnel will likely arrive by the new year.

Dr. Norman MacKenzie, U.B.C. President, told the Board that of the total now registered 3842 are in the faculty of arts and science, with 2812 taking first and second year subjects. Applied science students number 994 with 98 women studying nursing. There are 295 registered for agriculture and law students total 101.

In addition 30 men and women articled to city lawyers are attending a special refresher course arranged through the cooperation of the Law Society of Vancouver.

The Long Road Back

During the war years the growth of the telephone systems of North America was restricted by Government order so that materials, labor and manufacturing facilities could be diverted to war purposes. This policy contributed greatly to the war effort but naturally resulted in thousands of people being unable to get telephone service. At the time of writing, there are over two million names on the waiting lists for telephone service in North America.

Now the factories are changing back to peacetime production, and the huge job of catching up with telephone demands has begun. The products of the factories are being apportioned among the telephone systems of the continent. We are getting our share of telephones, wire, cables, switchboards, automatic equipment, and so forth, but it will be many months before factory deliveries enable us to make telephone installations on a normal basis.

The Navy Held the Indian Ocean

The opening of the Pacific War by Japan coincided with a serious weakening of British Naval power by the recent losses of the Barham, Ark Royal, Sydney and Dunedin, with the losses of the Princes of Wales and Repulse following almost immediately. Nevertheless, the British Eastern Fleet, though comparatively weak, frustrated the Japanese attempt to exploit the capture of Singapore, by obtaining command of the Indian Ocean. In April, 1942, when a powerful Japanese fleet with aircraft carriers made heavy air attacks on the British bases in Ceylon, the British Eastern Fleet was not in port.

In the ensuing engagements, the Royal Navy lost the fleet carrier Hermes and the cruisers Dorsetshire and Cornwall; but the Japanese Fleet was so mauled that it never again ventured beyond the Eastern fringe of the Indian Ocean. An equally gallant attempt to stop the Japanese thrust was made by a small Allied force in the Battle of the Java Sea in March 1942, in which the Australian cruiser Perth, the British Exeter and the Dutch cruisers de Ruyter and Java and the American cruiser Houston were lost, while severe casualties were inflicted on the Japanese invading armada.

The Perth and Exeter thus both ended their war services which had taken them around the world. H.M.A.S. Perth, following patrol work in Caribbean until March 1940, played a valiant part in the Battle of Matapan, and in the evacuation from Greece. H.M.S. Exeter won undying fame, with the cruisers Ajax and Achilles (the latter New Zealand manned) in the Battle of the River Plate, in which the Exeter bore the brunt in opening stages, being repeatedly hit by the Graf Spee's 11-inch shells ,and having her eight inch guns put out of action. Australia has lost three of the six cruisers with which she started the war. Besides H.M.A.S. Sydney and Perth, the Canberra (which had fought a number of engagements in the Indian Ocean at the beginning of the war) was lost in the Battle of the Solomons in August, 1942, which marked the beginning of the turning of the tide against Japanese aggression in the Southwest Pacific.

Rice and the Hungry Orient

Whereas Europe is hungry for grain and meat, the Orient is starving for rice. Hence the rapid rehabilitation of Burma is vitally important.

It is being watched with special interest in India, British West Africa, and other parts of the British Commonwealth and Empire where lack of Burmese rice during the period of the Japanese occupation has meant considerable deprivation. Burma, the world's greatest exporter of rice, is a country of 261,000 square miles, with a population of nearly seventeen millions, the majority of whom are Burmese, though there are also Shans, Karens, Chins and Kachins, a large Indian community and a fair number of Chinese. Burma's exports are about fifty per cent of her rice production, and she has an average surplus of three-and-a-half-million tons per annum. In 1939-1940 Burma exported 3,048,664 long tons of milled rice, of which over one-and-a-half-million tons went to India and nearly 368,000 tons to Ceylon. Most of the crop is raised in South Burma. The Japanese occupation did great damage to Burma's rice trade, owing to loss of markets, widespread destruction of paddy fields, transport difficulties and the ruination of milling machinery. From the beginning of Burma's liberation steps have been taken to restore rice cultivation. Cultivation of Burmese rice for export dates from the beginning of British administration early in the last century. The opening of the Suez Canal in 1869 resulted in an enormous increase. India has always been the principal market.

High School Band Received $1500, Not $150

To the Editor:

Sir:—Wil you please correct an error that occurred in my letter as printed in the News of Sept. 18th.

My letter stated that the High School Band received $1500 and not $150 which makes quite a difference. If it had been the latter figure, the fact that we have no Band could be excused, but the townspeople have a right to expect something for $1500.

Castlegar Needs Rink 'Says Writer

To the Editor:

Sir:—Our town has progressed as can be expected and with progress come new organizations.

One thing that is lacking is common co-operation.

Kinnaird, pee-wee compared to Castlegar, has a hall, which is used for a school room and dance hall, built by the good citizens of that community through whole-hearted co-operation.

Salmo is also smaller than Castlegar but the mining town boasts a fairly good indoor skating rink.

With the backing of the newly-organized Board of Trade and K.P. Lodge and cooperation of all citizens, this town should be able to build a rink. If the quota in every victory loan can be surpassed by a large sum, surely about $15,000 can be raised for a much needed civic centre. There has been talk of building a rink for the last three years but no action has been taken. Earlier this year a dance was held to raise funds. If a rink is to be constructed, it must be started now. The youth of Castlegar need some sort of recreation in winter. Such a building can house many sports such as skating, hockey, carnivals, curling, lacrosse and basketball.

Another point is that nothing has been made to commemorate those who helped to preserve peace in the two wars. A rink would be just the thing and would be an asset for many years to come.

Before we think of such things as incorporations let us keep the community ahead in all respects, social, as well as business.

If this project can be accomplished then we can look to the two new organizations and others, that have been in the background, to sound leadership and with high-spirited co-operation, Castlegar will go places.

JUDGE LANDIS.

Trolley Busses Would Give City, Speed, Comfort Says Serviceman

To the Editor:

Sir:—Since returning to Nelson from overseas I have noticed discussions, written and verbal, on the question of exchanging the present street car system of this city for a bus service.

The system of passenger transport needed in Nelson, I would suggest, is that of electrical trolley bus.

It certainly seems that in comparison with the modernization of Nelson generally, and the many efficient public services, that the present street car method of transportation is a little in need of a change!

While on service overseas I saw many towns and cities in England, Italy and the Continent, similar to Nelson in population and area, which had previously been serviced by street cars, and now are employing buses, with the electrical trolley type being the most favored.

As an employee of a corporation transport in a city in England that used electrical buses, It was in a position to judge their performance and service. With this in mind—and considering Nelson's population, area, etc, plus the electrical facilities here, it appears that an exchange of street cars for electrical trolley buses, would give our city a modern, more speedy, and comfortable system for efficient service to the public.

Six Ferry Trips Via Kootenay-Queen's Bay Says Lake Resident

To the Editor:

Sir—Kindly find space for the following letter.

I would like to emphasize the importance of connecting the Kootenay Highway between Gray Creek and Kootenay Bay. I understand the present plans of the Government are to use a route between Gray Creek and Balfour, which will necessitate building two new wharves and approaches to accommodate the parking of 40 cars. This route can only give a service of three trips per day.

This service, when considered in reference to the future and considering the advantages of the suggested route via Kootenay Bay, seems to me to be very unreasonable. Not only would the suggested route be more economical but it would enhance the services to the public; it would, at the very least, give us six instead of three trips as at present in operation.

To be pertinent: Why do the authorities responsible for the building of roads, wharves, and ferries, insist on such an uneconomical project involving the investment of large sums of money and large investments without appreciable benefits, and ignore a suggestion which will benefit the people, the locality, the country as a whole?

As far as the road between Gray Creek and Kootenay Bay is concerned, there is, approximately, only one and one-half miles of rock work to be done to make it passable. To make Gray Creek a starting point for the ferry, and to make parking space for 40 cars, will necessitate widening the Highway at that point. If the Government plans to dig out the side hill, which is very steep, it will cost an immense sum. If, on the other hand, they widen it on the lake side of the road the Government will have to compensate the present owners of the improved property, and that will cost quite a sum. Then, at Balfour end, there is quite a raise to the present Nelson-Kaslo Highway. I admit, however, that the problem here is not a difficult one; but, considering the easier problems facing us by going via Kootenay Bay-Queen's Bay, it seems to me a waste of money to improve and make roads and wharves at Gray Creek and Balfour. The approaches at Kootenay Bay and Queen's Bay will give easy access to and from the ferry landings.

Apart from my suggestions in regard to ferry service, a good road is a real necessity to the settlers of Crawford Bay, Kootenay Bay, and Riondel. There is bound to be quite an influx of settlers along the East side—as in other parts of Kootenay Lake; so that, in the light of these facts, a shorter ferry service is a necessity.

If the Government proceeds with present plans, spending large sums on two wharves and improving roads which will, in a few years be obsolete, while same amount spent on the suggested route would result in permanency. In the former case it seems to me to be a waste of money, but in the latter case a good investment in favor of the settlers from Riondel to Yahk, and to the country at large.

I would also like to suggest that the Ferry start from the East side of the lake in the early morning. This would allow settlers to make the round trip to Nelson the same day.

Some of the advantages of having the ferry at Kootenay Bay-Queen's Bay: 1, It would be a short trip. 2, It would give us six trips instead of three as at present. 3, through bus service. 4, a great convenience for local truck and car owners.

Some of us have been here for 40 years and are still wanting an adequate transport service. The writer is not only speaking for himself but is voicing the wishes of every himself, but is voicing the wishes of every citizen between Riondel and Yahk, and I am sure that every traveller will endorse the need for the suggested road and ferry route via Kootenay Lake and Queen's Bay.

Want to Hear From Amateur Composers

To the Editor:

Sir:—Please will you publish this letter? I am writing it in the hope that it will induce any amateur composers, of Nelson and District, who like to "make their own music," to let us know who they are, so that we can contact them and eventually form a musical group who will meet together from time to time, to talk over their musical troubles, to help one another, and perhaps arrange for short lectures now and then, from somebody who really "knows how."

If anyone, from 16 to 100, who is interested, will write to say so, to Box 263, Daily News, it will be a step in the right direction for a musical peace activity.

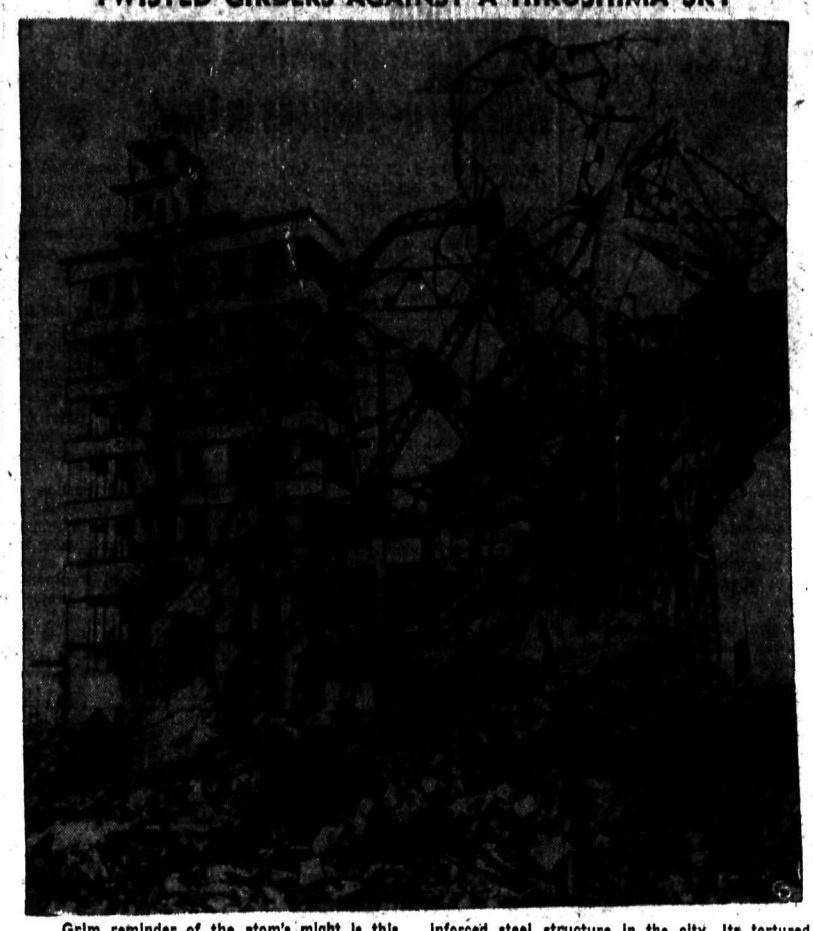
TWISTED GIRDERS AGAINST A HIROSHIMA SKY



Grim reminder of the atom's might is this picture of weird destruction in Hiroshima—first city ever hit by an atom bomb. Steel girders twisted into grotesque shapes by the tremendous power of the atom blast are all that remain of a modern reinforced steel structure in the city. Its tortured shape dominates the foreground while in the background stands another modern structure, miraculously erect, but gutted by flames. Around both ruins are the flattened acres of debris which mark where the city stood.

Joy Reviews Early City Days for Gyros

R. G. Joy, Nelson and District Oldtimers Association Historian, who has had considerable part in the growth of Nelson during the 52 years he has lived here, traced some of the history of the City for the Nelson Gyro Club at the Hume Monday night. He also read excerpts from Charles St. Barbe's history of Nelson.

Mr. Joy came into the City by foot from Robson to Nelson along the railway track, he said, and the first house he saw here was that of Fred Ewing, Gyro member. Mr. Joy and his partner, "Billy Coles", pitched a tent on the C.P.R. Flats and lived on skilly, oatmeal and water, for two weeks.

He chuckled as he recalled the time he caught a fine string of fish only to learn that they were suckers. In attempting to sell the fish, he found a sympathizer in "Pop Phair", hotel operator, and landed his first Nelson job, turning an ice cream freezer. He was then 19.

St. Barbe, Secretary of the English Club in the early days, told in his history how letters of G. M. Sproat, founder of Sproat's Landing and Gold Commissioner for the District, helped turn attention of the British Government towards British Columbia. Slocan was unknown as a mining country at that time.

Mr. Joy recalled talking to a prospector in 1893 who was working 49 Creek and had found a cedar log cabin. Indicating the length of time it had been there was the fact that the cedar logs were rotten. Much gold had been taken from the Creek and Mr. Joy believed that it still held possibilities of a good future.

He said one man told him how he would have apparently cleaned out a pocket of gold, and return to the same spot the next Spring and work the same spot over again. The motherlode had never been found.

First settlers were established along Nelson's waterfront, many staying in the big tent known as Ward's Hotel. All were attracted by the "silver magnet on Toad Mountain", St. Barbe said. Those were the days of the Silver King silver operation.

Names famous in the City's history apepared in the book, including Harold Selous, real estate, John Houston, first mayor, Blake Wilson, who, with Mr. Perdue, had the mail contract for some time and later became a Director of the C.P.R. and the Bank of Montreal. U. S. stamps were used mainly for mailing purposes then, and there were many Americans in the District.

It told of the arrival of the first steamer, brought in by William Baillie Grohman. Mr. Grohman came here in 1884 when only one white man, Dick Fry, lived in the district.

Helping to picture the early days were pictures that were passed around to the members.

City Makes $50 Grant to Salvation Army

A grant of $50 was made by the City Council Monday night, to the Salvation Army, in response to a letter from Major D. Hammond, who is here from the Coast to direct the Army's "Home Front" campaign in this district. This grant was provided for in the City's estimates.

Request of Kootenay Lake General Hospital for use of a City truck and driver to make the annual fruit and vegetable collection was granted. The three-day collection will be made about the middle of October.

A. MacPhee was granted a business licence to operate an auto camp and service station at 805 Nelson Avenue, formerly operated by Ed Shardelow.

The Council referred to the Public Works Committee a letter from Dr. N. E. Morrison respecting the caving banks on the Cotton wood and First Street sides of his property on Maple Street, and requesting that the City define the street lines, the roadways at present encroaching on his land. He expressed the opinion that he ought not to be at the expense of surveying, widening, the roadways, and rocking up, or "otherwise stabilizing" the bank. His land is 10 or 12 feet above the street level.

Church Opposes Lotteries, Liquor Plebiscite

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—Resolutions opposing lotteries and licencing of bookies were passed here yesterday by the Evangelism and Social Service Committee of the British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada.

The committee, convened by Rev. H. T. Allen of Fernie, went on record also as opposing a liquor plebiscite in B. C. before a Royal Commission would be appointed fully to investigate and report on the liquor situation here.

The committee urged the B. C. Government to adopt the same policy toward lotteries, draws and raffles as that shortly to be enforced in Alberta and Manitoba where they will not be permitted after the end of the year.

The committee requested the reopening of the deportation question of Canadian-Japanese to permit reconsideration on the part of those who previously signified their readiness to return to Japan. This was "in the belief that such deportation will split up families and return to the East of some who psychologically belong to the West."

Regarding the liquor question the committee urged appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the present liquor situation and report its findings. Its opinion was that the public would then be prepared for a plebiscite "based on informed opinion."

Rev. A. E. Cooke of Vancouver reported active participation of the church in industrial relations at the request of B. C. labor bodies. He said that steps are being taken to have church representations accompany the labor delegation which goes to Ottawa at the end of this week.

Miss M. Dolphin Gives Recital at St. Paul's

Miss Maud Dolphin, violinist, was guest artist at St. Paul's United Church, Sunday night. During the service she played "Ave Maria", accompanied by Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson at the organ. After the service in the Church Hall, in company with Miss Dawn Purkis and Guilford Brett, she again entertained the congregation.

Rev. H. Stewart Forbes chose as his sermon, "The Worship of Defeated Gods." He told the story of King Amaziah, who "defeated his enemies and then took back their gods and set them up as his gods. And that was the end of Amaziah."

Mr. Forbes mentioned "three gods of our enemies," and said that instead of "gods" we might speak of "ideals."

"The first is arrogance or pride, which was most pronounced and most obnoxious, and which led to cruelty and ruthlessness." Mr. Forbes said, "They looked on themselves as a super-race, a divine race. It was this bait that led Adam and Eve astray. Said the Tempter, 'Ye shall be as gods'.

DANGEROUS TIME

"This is a dangerous time in our history, for we are apt to be proud and overbearing because we are the victors. Still stands thine ancient sacrifice, a humble and a contrite heart.

"Another god is the god of force. 'Might is right', said Germany and Japan. Power is needed to maintain pride. It is encouraging that the trials of the war criminals are not being held in this manner.

"The farcical trial of Mrs. Shriber related in her book, 'Paris—Underground' was contrasted with the trial of Joyce, Lord Haw-Haw. William McGeachy, the B.B.C. commentator said, 'His extreme personal unpopularity has nothing to do with the trial of Joyce. He has the same chance of acquittal as any other.'

"And still there are those in our midst who cry, 'Back to Japan with all the Japanese in Canada, guilty or not guilty, good or bad. We do not want them. We are the victors, they are the vanquished, and we do not like them. Away with them.' Let us in British Columbia beware the bewitching power of the insidious god of our defeated enemies, that god whose name is force.

"There is also the god of hate, and these three are a triune; three gods that are one god. If our enemies by their devilish atrocities, even in their defeat, can make us continue to hate them, than they will not have failed, for they will have done something to make us like themselves."

Mr. Forbes concluded by saying that it was impossible to serve these gods of pride and force and hate and also serve the God who is love, the God who has revealed Himself to mankind in Jesus Christ.

"Very different was His method of winning the victory. He died on the Cross, and still He conquered, and He is conquering and He will conquer. And if we follow Christ, and worship the God He worshipped, then with Him we will also conquer."

HEAR RECITAL

After the service the congregationed listened to a delightful recital in the Church Hall, when Miss Dolphin, accompanied by Mrs. J. Fraser, played "Andante Cantabile" by Tschaikowsky, "Frasquita Serenade" by Lehar, "Liebeslied" by Kreisler, "Old Refrain", arranged by Kreisler, "Hungarian Dance, No. 5" by Brahms, and "Serenade" by Toselli.

Miss Purkis, soprano, sang three songs, "A Mood" by Travers, "Think on Me" by Lady Scott, and "Drink to Me Only" by Roger Quilter.

Guilford Brett, boy soprano, sang, "Page's Road Song" by Ivor Novello, "The Way to London Town" by Dunhill and "My Task" by Ashford.

Miss Purkis was then recalled to the front, where G. A. Brown, on behalf of the Choir, expressed appreciation of the work she had done in the Choir, and their regret that she was leaving Nelson, and presented her with a gift of remembrance.

Tells S. Slocan W.I. of Army Life Overseas

SOUTH SLOCAN, B. C.—Mrs. Popoff of Slocan City and Advisory Board Member of the Provincial Women's Institute, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Bonnington and South Slocan Women's Institute, and gave an interesting and informative address on consolidation of schools, referring especially to the Creston school as being a very fine example.

Mrs. Chalmers was given a very attentive hearing. Later the pupils of the Senior School, with their teacher, H. Loewen, came to the hall to hear a talk by Sergeant Seaton of the United States Army, who was visiting in the district. He spoke on his experiences overseas, and displayed a number of souvenirs of various kinds which he had brought back with him from Germany. His talk was much appreciated, and both speakers were given hearty votes of thanks. This was the opening meeting, after closing for the two Summer months.

Mrs. J. B. Yeatman presided. The business of the meeting included arrangements for a military whist in the latter part of the month. The treasurer reported a balance of $42.

Many new members were welcomed, and a social time was spent with Mrs. Yeatman and Mrs. D. J. Davis as hostesses for tea.

Serviceman Asks City Regarding Vocational Work

A letter from Signalman Fred H. Sutcliffe, young Nelson soldier, who has been in the armed forces since enlistment with the 111th Battery in 1939, and hopes to return, with his wife, to his native town to reside, was referred by the City Council Monday night to the Electric Light Committee.

Sutcliffe wrote from Vancouver asking whether the City would be prepared to take him on its power plant staff as a vocational student under the Dominion Government's rehabilitation plan, and to retain him as an employee when he completed the course; and also asked for particulars of the work available, wages, and opportunity for advancement.

Soldiers Verify Maple Leaf Story Low-Point Men First

CALGARY, Sept. 25 (CP)—Several of the 20 army veterans who returned to Calgary last night aboard a special train substantiated the statement made in Maple Leaf editorials that draftees are being sent home to Canada ahead of long service personnel.

The Maple Leaf is the Canadian army newspaper published overseas.

"Some men with 200 points are still sitting around overseas while draftees and volunteers with as low as 30 points are on their way home," said one veteran of four years overseas.

Several other men claimed a number of draftees returned on the special train with them. Another said about 50 per cent of a Montreal regiment, which returned on the same ship with him, the Louis Pasteur, had been sent overseas on N.R.M.A. drafts.

"Lots of fellows who have been wounded two and three times are still overseas while the draftees are on their way back to Canada or have already landed here," a British Columbia soldier said.

Declares Franco Should Be Tried as War Criminal

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Nikolai Novikov, acting Soviet Ambassador to the United States, called last night for the removal of Gen. Francisco Franco as head of the Spanish government and said he should be tried "as a war criminal."

Novikov, Charge d'Affaires of the Soviet Embassy in Washington and acting Ambassador in the absence of Andrei Gromyko, addressed 17,000 persons at a Madison Square Garden rally sponsored by the Spanish Republic Government in exile.

The Russian representative said Franco, through actions against the Soviet Union, had "put himself on the same level with Hitler and Mussolini and, in the same measure as they, is subject to prosecution as a war criminal."

Prof. Harold J. Laski, Chairman of the British Labor Party's Executive Committee, addressing the rally by radio from London, urged the democracies to withdraw their recognition of the Franco regime and recognize the Spanish government-in-exile, now functioning in Mexico.

Building Permits Increase 89 Per Cent in Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — Reflecting the continued high level of building activity in Canada, the value of building permits issued by municipalities reporting to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reached $22,425,000 in August, exceeding the August 1944 total of $12,132,912 by 89 per cent, the Bureau said today.

Permits for new construction in August totalled $18,498,276, and additions, alternations and repairs, $3,927,273.

For the first eight months of the current year, permits totalled $122,743,139, compared with $89,081,113 in the comparable period of 1944, an advance of 38 per cent.

New housing units represented in the building *permits issued in Aug*ust numbered 2725, of which 2405 were new buildings and 320 were conversions.

Interpreting the News

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press News Analyst

British troops, a few French, and a handful of Americans in Saigon, French Indo-China, find themselves in the peculiar position of teaming up with remaining Japanese forces to quell disturbances caused by native Indo-Chinese who want their independence.

There are many causes back of this situation, but one is the fact that there are not enough French forces in the colony to do the job. Some are on the way, but shipping shortages hold them up.

Here is some of the background:

France gained a protectorate over Indo-China through a war of conquest against China late in the last century. The five kingdoms of Tonkin, Laos, Annam, Cambodia and Cochin-China had previously paid tribute to China.

After France fell in 1940 the Japanese, who had been drooling over this rich tropic storehouse of rice and strategic materials, walked in.

Vichy France appointed a new Governor-General, Vice-Admiral Jean Decoux, who tried to resist Japanese demands and finally invasions. But after bloody losses and after it became obvious no help was arriving, he agreed to Japanese occupation.

Japan was to furnish consumer goods in return for raw materials. Tokyo took the raw materials, but no consumer goods arrived. The Japanese plundered the country economically with their usual thoroughness.

It was not until last March that the Japanese formally took over the administration, and by then the colony was in bad shape.

France promises Indo-China dominion status and full equality according to its ability to govern itself and walk alone in the world. But it is not the way of subject peoples to be satisfied with half a loaf when their minds have been turned toward the whole loaf of freedom.

Right now the Allies are concerned with law and order. It remains for France, herself a conquered country not so long ago, to work out, peaceably with the Indo-Chinese a settlement which will satisfy everyone.

Phil Cavarretta, Tony Cuccinello Claim Batting Titles

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs and Tony Cuccinello of the White Sox stake all-Chicago claims to the batting titles of the Major Leagues today with less than a week of the season to go but the 1945 champions may not be crowned until the final official averages are released around Christmas time.

Cavarretta at .352 is three points in front of Boston's Tommy Holmes who still remains a serious threat to regain the lead he held during most of the Summer.

Cuccinello at .308 is three points ahead of Stirnweiss who rocketed from sixth to second at .305.

Down-Under Ships Avoid Panama Canal

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP)— The Ministry of War Transport announced tonight that ships from New Zealand and Australia had been rerouted to avoid the Panama Canal, where tolls must be paid in dollars.

The Ministry said ships from New Zealand would be sent generally around Cape Horn, although some would travel through the Suez Canal.

Australian coal burners will now be sent around the Cape of Good Hope and oil burners will go through Suez.

Former Trail Publisher Dies

TRAIL, B. C., Sept. 25—Walter B. Willcox, pioneer managing editor of the Spokane Chronicle and former operator of the Commercial Print Shop in Spokane, who died in Spokane Sunday was at one time publisher of the old Trail News, fore-runner of the present Trail Daily Times.

One of the pioneers of newspaper publishing in the Kootenays, Mr. Willcox was publisher before the turn of the century of the Brooklyn News which was published in Trail, but was distributed in Brooklyn, C.P.R. construction camp on the Arrow Lakes.

He purchased the Brooklyn News from W. K. Esling, this marking the end of Mr. Esling's career as a newspaperman. After the C.P.R. camp became a ghost town Mr. Willcox moved his paper to Cascade.

He operated the Trail News from December, 1915 to June, 1919, and under his management the paper grew. The weekly was inceased to an eight page paper and became the basis for Trail's present daily.

Again the Weatherman Was With the Tigers

DETROIT, Sept. 25 (AP) — Most of Detroit Tigers sat around their hotel home today and watched the descent of a soothing, gentle rain with all the appreciation of a Saskatchewan farmer after a long drought.

To Manager Steve O'Neill's nervous athletes each drop looked like another digit in a world series cheque. One after another they looked at the glistening streets and scanned the lowering clouds and said hopefully: "Looks as if it might last for days."

There was never a chance of playing today's opener with Cleveland. Before noon the home club, the judge and jury in such cases, announced there would be a doubleheader tomorrow, starting at 12:30 p.m. C.D.T.

If those games should be washed out, too, the Tigers automatically would become American League champions, assured of finishing ahead of the idle Washington Senators on percentage points even if they should drop their final two games in St. Louis Saturday and Sunday.

The best the Weather Bureau could say was that tomorrow's weather should be better — how much better it wouldn't guess. The airport said it would clear in the afternoon. Even if the sun should appear early in the day, Briggs Stadium still will be a wet ball yard at game time.

City to Replace 6 Transformers on the Relays

Six new transformers, of capacity to take care of all foreseeable future increase in load, will be ordered by the City Council, for the City substation, to replace six now overloaded. This was authorized by the Council Monday night, on recommendation of George H. Boyes, Electric Light Superintendent.

Drawing attention to "the need for an increase in capacity of the current transformers which actuate the protective relays and ammeters on your 12,000 volt lines coming into the substation, due to the increase in the load during the last few years," Mr. Boyes wrote that "the present transformers have reached the place where it is no longer feasible to keep them in service, and failure of any one of these units would undoubtedly cause a complete disruption of power to the city.

"Therefore I recommend that you purchase six current transformers, ration 150-5 amps, 15,000 volt maximum, to replace the ones that are overloaded. These new transformers are as large as good electrical practice will permit, and should give efficient service, allowing for any increase in load which can be foreseen at the present time."

Mr. Boyes estimated cost of the proposed change at about $375.

Mrs. Koochin of Salmo Convicted of Wounding Horse With Axe

Mrs. Annie Koochin of Salmo pleaded not guilty when she appeared before His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet in County Court, Tuesday, charged with wounding a horse owned by Mike and Frol Pictin on Sept. 8. After an all-day trial Mrs. Koochin was convicted and she will appear at 3 p.m. Wednesday for sentence.

Evidence for the prosecution was given by Constable Melville Stanley Parsons of the B. C. Police and Mike Popoff and Mrs. F. Pictin both of Salmo. Mrs. F. Popoff, daughter of Mrs. Pictin, acted as interpreter for her mother.

Constable Parsons told of receiving a call to the Pictin home in Salmo where he examined a horse suffering from a severe cut on the left hip, about five to six inches long, which appeared to be very deep. He also took possession of a blood-stained axe lying outside the Pictin fence.

SAYS TEMPER ADMITTED

He questioned the Pictins and Mike Popoff. Mrs. Pictin's nephew, and then proceeded to the accused's home. He quoted Mrs. Koochin as saying she was sorry for what she had done but she had lost her temper.

W. W. Ferguson, counsel for the defence, when cross-examining this witness, said his instructions were that the policeman had said to the accused, "You must have lost your temper."

Constable Parsons disagreed with this. Mr. Ferguson then called Mrs. Koochin to the stand, by permission of the court, on this point.

"The constable said it was a serious matter," she stated, "and that I must have lost my temper, and I said maybe that's what you would call it."

Mike Popoff testified that his aunt, Mrs. Pictin, had told him to get the two horses off Mrs. Koochin's property. As the first horse was stepping over Mrs. Koochin's fence he saw her lift the axe and hit the hind horse. It was the first time he had noticed the axe. He had not spoken to Mrs. Koochin at that time.

TRIED TO SAVE HORSE

The Pictins phoned for a veterinarian from Rossland, and tried to stop the flow of blood, from the horse, he said. Later the doctor came but the horse died while the wound was being stitched.

Mrs. Pictin's evidence was similar to that of her nephew. She also said she had seen Mrs. Koochin raise the axe and drive it into the horse.

After C. H. Hamilton, prosecutor had concluded the case for the crown, Mr. Ferguson placed Mrs. Koochin on the stand.

She testified she had the axe in her hand to prepare kindling for the fire, when her little boy told her the Pictin horses were in her pasture. She had heard that the horses were runaways and had been in an accident, so she carried the axe to ward them off in case they went wild.

Finally she walked the horses into the lane after they had run around the pasture several times and nearly knocked her little girl down, she said.

She stated that when the front horse was right up against the gate, Mike Popoff shouted, "Look out, Annie, or they'll trample you!"

"The front horse turned and pushed the rear horse back towards me," she said, "I got frightened. It was coming up pretty close, and I couldn't see where to run. I don't know how I struck it."

After the horse passed she got under the fence to the other side, Mrs. Koochin said. She reiterated her claim that she had not meant to use the weapon as an axe but as something with which to drive the horses off her land.

She believed that Mrs. Pictin shouting from the porch and Mike shouting to the horses caused them to get excited.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hamilton, she admitted that she had had quite a lot of experience with cows and horses. She was afraid of these particular ones because they had been runaways and had trampled Mr. Pictin.

STRUCK IN PANIC

In summing up W. W. Ferguson said that apparently nothing had angered the accused. She was placed in a position of danger and, seized with a panic of fear, had struck out blindly, not realizing what she had in her hand, possibly to make the horse go ahead.

"There is nothing in the evidence to suggest that it was a wilful act," he declared.

Mr. Hamilton said it was a question of credibility, mentioning discrepancies between the statements made by Mrs. Koochin and those made by Mrs. Pictin, Mike Popoff and Constable Parsons.

VERY SERIOUS OFFENCE

Judge Nisbet said it appeared to be the old story of neighbors in the country and animals trespassing on the other's property. He felt there must be a conviction, as it was a very serious offence, and a penalty of up to 14 years in prison could be given for it.

Hockey Reserve List Cut to Two Categories

EDMONTON, Sept. 25 (CP) — Some light on the question of hockey's contingent reserved list was shed last night by Dr. George W. Hardy, President of the International Ice Hockey Association who returned to Edmonton after attending a series of meetings between amateur and professional league heads in Eastern Canada.

"We found that the professional representatives were just as anxious to do something about this matter as we were" and progress was made to the point where a memorandum has been prepared, he said. It will be released shortly and will go to all branches of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, an affiliate of the I.I.H.A.

The memorandum breaks down the contingent reserve list into two categories: (a) Professional players who entered the services and therefore remain the property of their respective professional clubs, cannot be approached by any amateur organizations; (b) Other players who have never performed as professionals but have entered into contractual agreements with a professional club are still amateurs insofar as member associations of the I.I.H.A. are concerned.

Players in category "B" may be approached by amateur clubs—subject, however, to them fulfilling their tryout agreements with professional clubs and also the possibility of their turning pro before Jan. 15, 1946. Dr. Hardy said branches are being asked to suggest to those concerned it might be advisable to make certain the player is not turning professional. This could be done by approaching professional organizations and ascertaining if the intention is to sign the player to a professional contract.

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 25—An 18-year-old Trail-Tadanac High School student, James Donald Broster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Broster, 1229 Dewdney Avenue, was announced today as the winner of the Consolidated scholarship awarded to sons of employees for highest marks obtained in the Government junior matriculation examination.

Broster won the award, which provides $500 a year for four years in engineering studies at any Canadian university, with an average mark of 88.2 per cent. His closest competitor for the award was Gerald Garossino of Kimberley with 86.2 per cent.

The scholarship winner was employed at the plants of the company during the Summer vacation and is now attending Trail-Tadanac High School, where he will complete his senior matriculation year before going on to university. He was born at Crawford Bay, B.C. and came to Trail with his family when his father began working for the C.M.&S. Company in August, 1940.

To Ask for Censorship on Movies, Coast

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP) — City Council decided last night to ask Attorney-General R. L. Maitland of British Columbia to see that movies are "properly censored."

The decision followed a lengthy discussion during which certain types of moving pictures, radio programs, newspaper stories and comics were blamed for creating conditions which Aldermen said might have been a factor in the murder of four-year-old Dianne Blunt in Vancouver.

The child's body, battered and stabbed, was found buried a week ago and police said a 12-year-old boy has confessed that he killed the little girl.

Alderman H. L. Corey said he thought newspapers "remiss" in printing full details of the murder in Victoria of 18-year-old Phyllis Stroud. He added that all these details were available "to Dianne Blunt's killer."
