10,000 RETURN; 12,000 COMING

British Brides on Ship Bringing Canadians Home

HALIFAX, Oct. 21 (CP)—Nearly 10,000 Canadian servicemen and women, the first of an estimated 22,000 due here this week, arrived in port today aboard the big troopship Ile de France after speedy but storm-tossed trip from Southhampton, England.

The Queen Elizabeth is expected here Saturday with 12,000.

Bulk of the returning troops were army men, representing nearly every branch of the service. There were 7580 army personnel aboard, including 44 CWAC's, while RCAF personnel totalled 1050, with 109 Canadian nursing sisters and other miscellaneous personnel, making a total of 9883.

MANY BRIDES ARRIVE

The ship's passenger list included nearly 400 civilians, mostly British brides of Canadian and American soldiers, with more than a score of young children.

Heading the prominent civilian passengers was Rt. Hon. Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian Minister of State for External Affairs, who arrived on his way to sessions of the Advisory Commission on occupation policy slated to open at Washington, Oct. 30.

Other passengers included A. B. Powely, CBC war correspondent, and Fred Griffin of the Toronto Star.

Maj.-Gen. E. G. (Bunny) Weeks, CBE, MC, MM, returned to take over his new duties organizing Canada's interim military forces of a regular and reserve army group.

CARRIERS BRING OTHERS

MONTREAL, Oct. 21 (CP)—The converted aircraft carriers, Empire MacCallum and Empire MacKendrick, arrived in Montreal today, bringing back 102 officers and men of the Canadian Army from overseas. Of these, 11 were from the Province of Quebec, and the rest from Western points.

Capt. J. Douglas MacFarlane of Toronto, who was ousted as editor of the army newspaper the Maple Leaf for his editorials criticizing the army's repatriation policy, also returned.

Returning with MacFarlane was Bing Coughlin, Maple Leaf cartoonist whose "Herbie" and other characters won wide acclaim.

READY TO SAIL

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Oct. 21 (CP Cable)—In a driving Autumn rain thousands of Canadian servicemen from many parts of the Dominion today solemnly boarded the liner Queen Elizabeth as the world's largest troopship began to get up steam for her first departure Monday on the Southampton-Halifax repatriation run.

By late tonight the 85,000-ton Cunard-White Star Line transport, turned over to the Canadians by the United Kingdom after she was released by United States authorities, was loaded to capacity with 12,000 troops and more than 600 civilians.

They were ready for a big send-off tomorrow morning when a band will be on hand to play the red-and-black funnelled liner from the pier out into Southampton water.

The Toronto Scottish and Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal of Montreal, two of the 2nd Canadian Division Regiments which took part in the Dieppe raid of 1942, are going home as complete units. Together they make up 1000 of the Queen Elizabeth's passengers for this voyage.

The 13th Canadian Field Company, Royal Canadian Engineers, is en route home to Calgary and the 14th Field Company, RCE, is going to Winnipeg and Regina.

Most of the remainder of the Army men aboard are grouped in "Canada drafts" for repatriation. Their ultimate destination points span the Dominion from Halifax to Vancouver. Other Canadian personnel include 1314 RCAF officers and men, eight members of the Royal Canadian Navy, a few members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps and the Women's Division of the RCAF.

MICHEL MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK TODAY

NATAL, B.C., Oct. 21—The Michel miners will return to work on Monday thus following the footsteps of the Drumheller Valley miners who returned to work Friday. This will increase to over 51 per cent the number of miners returning to work from District 18.

The swing vote of the Drumheller Valley miners is expected to cause the return of the remaining striking miners throughout the Crow's Nest Pass, including those of Michel and Fernie where special meeting were held today to live up to the motion whereby the miners would return to work only after 51 per cent returned to work.

The large turnout at the Michel Legion Hall was assured a food administrator was expected to visit all mining camps throughout the district regarding the use of sandwich bars immediately after the miners return to work.

The three-week-old holiday started Sept. 27 over the refusal of extra meat ration for the miners.

Over one hundred miners work in the Michel mines from Fernie, travelling by miners buses every day

Soviet Troops Manoeuvre Near Turkish Line

SOFIA, Oct 21 (AP) — Soviet troops with freshly-arrived tanks and artillery are manoeuvring in Southern Bulgaria near the border of European Turkey, ideal training ground for mechanized equipment.

Only a part of these troops have been in Bulgaria with the Soviet occupation forces. Additional Red Army units have been coming across the Danube from Western Romania at a fairly constant rate for several weeks.

This is the third time in the last year that Russian troops have manoeuvred near the Turkish-Bulgarian border, but previously the soldiers participating were those returning from the battlegrounds of Eastern Europe.

While official figures are lacking, dependable estimates place the total of Red Army troops in Bulgaria at 200,000, with only a portion considered attached to the army of occupation.

Extensive manoeuvres and training programs for the Bulgarian army have been in progress for a long time, and indications are that the Russians regard the Bulgarian army as an auxiliary.

A stiff training program is normal procedure for the Bulgarians.

Victoria Man Dies in Violent Storm

VICTORIA, Oct. 21 (CP)—The worst gale in four years struck Victoria and Southern Vancouver Island today, causing one known death, uprooting trees, gardens and fences and blowing over scores of telephone and electric light poles.

Dead was: Sperry Shae Phillips of Victoria, Field Crop Supervisor of the British Columbia Department of Agriculture, who was belived to have been electrocuted when he stepped from his automobile near Duncan, to investigate a tree which had crashed across a high tension wire.

Dozens of small craft in Victoria harbor were driven ashore by the gale that reached a velocity at one time of 60 miles an hour. Electric lights in city homes were extinguished for more than an hour late in the day, but service was resumed by nightfall. City street lights, however, were blacked out. Many citizens were inconvenienced in proper time by lack of electricity or gas.

Canadian Pacific Airlines cancelled three evening flights from Victoria to Vancouver and the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Victoria, was delayed one hour on its outbound trip to Seattle. It finally cleared the harbor with the aid of a tug.

Booms in Victoria harbor were broken and logs tossed in the water and on beaches by the rough seas.

CALLS SWAMP FIRE DEPT.

The barometer dropped to 28.93 in the steepest descent of the year, with a Southwest wind blowing from 40 to 60 miles an hour beginning early this morning and continuing until sundown, when it changed to Southwest at 50 miles an hour in squalls, with heavy rainfall.

Police and fire departments received hundreds of reports of fallen wires, trees and chimney fires. The fire department was unable to cope with all the calls.

At Vancouver, heavy rain fell during the late afternoon, accompanied by a strong Southeast wind, but no immediate damage was reported.

REMOVE CAMBODIA PRIME MINISTER

SAIGON, Indo-China, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Prime Minister of Cambodia has been removed and brought to Saigon on orders of British Maj Gen. Douglas Gracey, Allied headquarters said today.

A British-French communique said Sorg Neoc Teanh was ousted because his activities in Cambodia "threatened the security of Allied forces and he was working against Cambodian interests." Cambodia, a French protectorate, is in Southern Indo-China.

Correspondents covering the Annamese uprising in Indo-China have protested an order issued by the Southeast Asia command forbidding all officers and men of all nationali-

ROYAL FAMILY TO AGAIN VISIT CANADA?

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Oct. 21 (CP Cable)—An implied suggestion that there will be another royal visit to Canada like that of 1939 was given today by Queen Elizabeth in a message to the Canada-bound Toronto Scottish Regiment. The Queen is honorary colonel-in-chief of the regiment, which is sailing home on her namesake ship, due to leave for Halifax tomorrow.

In a telegraphed message to Lt.-Col. J. F. Ellis, commanding officer of the 2nd Division unit, the Queen said: "I trust that some day I shall see you again in your own dear land."

DEATH FOR VIOLENCE, WARN INDONESIANS

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 21 (AP)—British forces restored order in two North Java cities today after serving notice on Indonesian Nationalists leaders that any form of violence or disorder would be punished by death.

Gurkha troops patrolled the streets of Bandoeng, the Summer capital, and Semarang, scene of a three-hour battle Friday between British and opposition forces.

An army spokesman at Allied headquarters in Batavia said the British forces had the situation in hand at Semarang, although "extremists" had established themselves in a jail there and had put up road blocks.

Europeans in internment camps near Semarang have been threatened by thes "extremists," but apparently have not ben harmed, the spokesman said.

220 FRENCH VANISH IN UPRISINGS

SAIGON, Indo-China, Oct. 21—(AP)—Two hundred and twenty French citizens have vanished since the first Annamese uprisings in September, police announced Saturday as guerillas continued attacks against Allied troops.

Nineteen of those missing are known to have been assassinated, the announcement said, and 32 others are presumed to have been killed.

A British-French communique reported sniping against Allied troops holding bridges over the Cho River, North of Saigon. There were no casualties. The Annamese, after disastrous losses in the only frontal attack they have attempted thus far, are resorting to guerilla tactics to which they are best adapted.

Approximately 1900 French women and children are stranded at Hue, capital of Annam Province. At Cap St. Jacques in Southern Indo-China, the Japanese navy is safeguarding big guns for the British, while Japanese troops are reported slipping arms to the Annamese to keep the rebellion going. French warships lie offshore at Cap St. Jacques with their big guns trained inland.

3 Western States Capitulate Without Bloodshed

CARACAS, Oct. 21 (AP)—The revoluntionary Venezuela Junta announced triumphantly today that opposition forces in three Western states had capitulated without bloodshed, and that the Junta "completely controls the country."

The Junta, headed by Romulo Betancourt, a former communist who resigned from the party and renounced its creed, issued its first proclamation over the Caracas radio.

The broadcast said deposed President Isaias Medina Angarita and presidential candidate Elgazar Lopez Contreras were "both in custody and in good health."

Naming Tachira, Merida and Trujillo as the states where the apposition had crumbled, the Junta said it also was in control of Zulia and its huge, rich oil fields which form the economic lifeblood of the country.

The radio stations of the Andean states of Tachira, Merida and Trujillo, which previously had been under Medina control, seemingly confirmed the Junta claims by broadcasting that opposition to the revolution had ceased.

Betancourt has been critical in newspaper articles of foreign oil companies exploiting Venezuela's natural resources but the Junta has announced it will respect all contracts made by the Medina Government, including the 1943 oil law.

Ruiz Pineda, Secretary of the Junta, asserted that published reports of 300 dead and 1,000 wounded in the revolt that started last Thursday were inaccurate. He said a better figure would be 100 killed and 300 wounded.

HOLD OUT IN CARACAS

Opposition continued in Caracas but only in the Southeastern part of the city where small forces loyal to Medina were entrenched in the hills. The Junta said armored cars mounting machine-guns were expected to bring the situation under complete control quickly.

Pineda charged that the opposition in Caracas consisted of communists dressed in national guard uniforms. He said a number were captured and held in Miraflores Palace, the Presidential residence.

Maintenance of Crown Corporation Best for Industry

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21 (CP). — Malcolm Macleod, President of the British Columbia Shipyard General Workers Federation, told the opening session of a three-day annual convention today that employment for shipyard workers and a high standard of wages can best be brought about by the maintenance of Wartime Shipping Limited, a Crown corporation.

Declaring W. S. L. must promote and develop the shipbuilding industry in Canada, Mr. Macleod said if this is done, there will be a greater guarantee that thousands of ship workers can be maintained in jobs at high-standard wages.

He asserted the federal Government should announce soon whether it intends to continue W. S. L. He estimated the Canadian shipbuilding industry employs between 20,000 and 40,000 workers.

James Thomson, chief labor conciliator for the provincial Government, told some 70 delegates that maintenance of the high standard of working conditions in British Columbia is one of the aims of the provincial Government.

SUPPORTERS OF DE GAULLE WIN SWEEPING GAINS

PARIS, Oct. 21 (CP)—Voting figures in the French general elections late tonight showed sweeping gains for the popular Republica nmovement, Catholic left party, which supports Gen. de Gaulle, with the Communists as runners-up. The Socialists appeared to be in third place.

Voters favored discarding the constitution of 1875 by balloting heavily in the affirmative on the proposal to establish a constituent assembly to draw up a new constitution.

This was the first question in the referendum. A majority of affirmative votes also was cast on the second question, authorizing the head of the new government to wield executive power while a new constitution is being framed.

Latest reports estimated that 85 per cent of the electorate voted.

Ministers elected included Georges Bidault, head of the popular Republican movement and Foreign Minister; Pierre Tietgen, Minister of Justice; Louis Jacquinot, Navy Minister; Christian Pineau, Food Minister; Andre Diethelm, War Minister, and Adrien Tixier, Interior Minister.

HERRIOT RETURNED

Vincent Auriol, President of the Foreign Affairs Committee, also was elected to the assembly.

Edouard Herriot, leader of the radical Socialist party, was returned.

Others elected included Emanuel d'Astier, former Interior Minister; Pierre Cot, former Air Minister, and Maurice Schumann, a leading spokesman for the popular Republican movement.

Argentina Restores Political Parties; Peron Backers in Office

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Argentine Government said tonight that a decree was signed Saturday restoring all political parties.

Restoration of Argentina's political parties would permit resumption of political activity, but under restrictions of a state of siege, proclaimed last month and still in effect.

President Edelmiro Farrell appointed Gen. Juan Pistarina as Argentina's Vice-President and filled four cabinet posts with men regarded as sympathizers with the policies of "strong man" Col. Juan Peron.

The new cabinet members are: Col. Bartolme Descalzo, Minister of the Interior; Col. Amaro Avalos, Minister of Finance; Jose Astigueta, Minister of Justic, and Education, and Pedro Marotta, Minister of Agriculture. Pistarini also is Minister of Public Works.

SERVICEMEN SALESMEN

Returned servicemen of this war will make the canvass in Nelson's campaign. Six will cover the City and four will work in the rural areas. The men are anxious to succeed in keeping up Nelson's record of going over the top in every campaign, in this their first job in civil life.

Another feature of the drive will be presentation to the City of an exact replica of the 20-page document signed at the surrender of Germany. Suitably illustrated and bound, copies will be sent to each sub-unit and are expected to reach headquarters in a few days. So that subscribers to the Loan will feel they have in reality signed their names to Victory, names of those who care to have their names used will be attached to the document.

In addition a replica of the fountain pen and ink stand used by Air Marshall Tedder when he signed the document will go to the subscriber winning a draw for the set at the end of the drive.

MONEY FOR PEACE . . .

$1,500,000,000 is Objective

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP)—Canada's Ninth and biggest Victory Loan with a minimum objective of $1,500,000,000 opens tomorrow and thousands of loan workers in every province begin their task spurred on by a message from Graham F. Towers, National Campaign Chairman.

"The realization that the Ninth Loan will provide funds for the constructive purposes of peace rather than the destruction of war has resulted in wide public acceptance," Mr. Towers' message said.

"CAN SHOW APPRECIATION"

"It is also clear that Canadians are determined to prove their gratitude for the cessation of battle and for their escape from the many trials endured by other countries.

"Everything we have heard from the organization in the last few days confirms the belief that the Ninth Victory Loan will be the outstanding performance in a series of accomplishments," he added in speaking of the organization of workers from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In British Columbia the campaign will be assisted by a Royal Navy troupe of musicians and other entertainers on their way to entertain occupation troops in the Far East.

Canada's biggest previous loan was her eighth which had a minimum objective of $1,350,000,000 and to which a total of $1,569,000,000 was contributed.

Previous loans were over a six-month period but the Ninth campaign will actually be two loans in one and Finance Minister Ilsley already has announced no campaign will be staged next Spring.

Thus officials are hopeful Canadians will take advantage of the extra time to make bigger than usual subscriptions and those contributing through payroll deductions may have their weekly or monthly payments spread over a year instead of six months as previously.

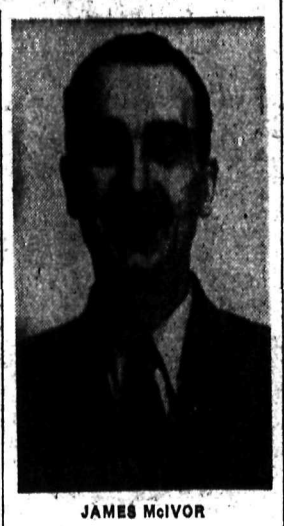
James McIvor, Popular Disabled Veteran and Ex-Railroader, Passes at 55; Nelson Oldtimer

James McIvor, disabled war veteran, ex-railroader, and Nelson District oldtimer, died Saturday night at Vancouver, where he was taken for treatment a couple of months ago after a long period of invalidism. He was aged approximately 55 years.

Born in Caithness, Scotland, he immigrated to Canada as a youth, and came direct to Nelson, about 1908 or 1909 and at the age of 18 or 19, was a wiper at Farron for the CPR, as a prelude to becoming a fireman. He fired for a time out of Revelstoke, and then out of Nelson.

When the First World War broke out, he missed the first two contingents on account of a broken leg but as soon as he was fit he went to Vancouver from Nelson and was accepted for the 16th Canadian Scottish Battalion, with which he served overseas, becoming a company sergeant-major, winning the Military Medal, and being wounded in the shoulder.



JAMES McIVOR

On his return to Nelson he resumed his employment with the CPR as a fireman, and was promoted to locomotive engineer about 1929, shortly before the disability which arose from his wound compelled his retirement. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

PRESENTED WITH BAG

From the time of his return from Overseas, Jim was identified with the cause of the Veterans, being first a member of the G.W.V.A., and later of its successor, the Canadian Legion. Always a popular figure, he was presented by the Legion with a travelling bag at a large smoker 10 years ago when he was leaving on a trip to Scotland, accompanied by his young son. Some years ago he presented the Legion with the flag now borne on parades. He assisted the Legion in many ways.

He was also identified with the Knights of Pythias, and was chancellor commander of the Nelson Lodge three times. He was a regular attendant at the Nelson Church of Christ, Scientist.

In recent years he was in Kootenay Lake General Hospital for length periods.

James McIvor is survived by his son, James McIvor, Jr., now on leave in Vancouver from the Royal Canadian Navy; by his mother, Mrs. Robert McKillop, of Corbigoe, Thrumster, Caithness, Scotland; and by a sister in Scotland.

Burial will be at Nelson under the joint auspices of the Canadian Legion and the Knights of Pythias.

TOAST and TEA

BY J. V. McARTHUR

On one occasion, a long time ago, according to The Science of Life, a physiologist obtained the heart of a criminal aged thirty-five. He removed the heart eleven hours after the execution, and ran a suitable artificial fluid into it through the veins, to take the place of blood; the heart revived and began to beat again, and was then studied and experimented upon for a full three hours. The heart of a cold-blooded animal, such as a tortoise, will live for weeks under such conditions. Similarly the mammalian kidney can be removed altogether and supplied with artificial blood through a glass tube tied into its artery; it will continue for hours to remove any undesirable matter from the fluid that runs through it. It has even been shown that the isolated brain of a goldfish will go on for a considerable time sending out perfectly regular breathing impulses down the stumps of the nerves that used to go to the gill-muscles.

These days most people are working harder, worrying more, sleeping less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living lowers resistance—increases body and mental fatigue. Overwork; hasty meals; irregular hours; worry—any of these may upset proper kidney action.
When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and poisons remain in the system. Then backache, headache, rheumatic pain, disturbed rest or that "tired-all-the-time" feeling may soon follow. "HART OR WINCH AS PREMIER IS PRIMARY ISSUE"

REVELSTOKE, B.C., Oct. 21 (CP) —Senator J. W. de B. Farris of Vancouver said here Saturday night that Premier Hart of British Columbia is the "ablest administrator in the history of this province."

"In fact," he said "Mr. Hart is the most able Premier in Canada."

"It would be a calamity should Coalition Government be defeated" in the Provincial general election this Thursday, he contended.

"We need the practical and sensible type of Government the Hart-Maitland Government has been giving us. We have no place for an administration of fancy theorists."

The Senator said the primary issue in the Provincial election was whether Premier Hart was to be succeeded by C.C.F. leader Harold Winch.

National Fruit Employees Reach Objective

First Nelson firm to achieve its objective in the 9th Victory Loan campaign today was the National Fruit Company, its payroll objective was already reached, it was reported over the weekend.

Two other Nelson firms reported they were near their objectives. Payroll quotas are set on the basis of 12 months salary in place of the six months in previous drives.

Extend Clothing Drive Here to Wednesday

Original closing date of the National Clothing Collection, set for last Saturday, has been extended, at the discretion of local chairmen, to the end of October, Mrs. T. W. Brewer, Nelson Chairman, stated Sunday.

Practically everyone wishing to contribute in Nelson has already done so, Mrs. Brewer said, however, packing of what is already in the depot at the Armory will take until Wednesday to complete, and last-minute contributions will be accepted if taken in before Wednesday.

Packed Friday and Saturday were 760 men's articles, 1004 women's, 165 children's, 263 infants, 102 hats, 472 pairs of shoes, 27 blankets and 169 coats, making the two-day total 2962. Total articles packed to date were 20,430. Next shipment will be made Tuesday.

Communists Move In Unity Gesture

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Oct. 21 (AP) — Communist forces South of the Yangtze River are moving Northward in accordance with concessions offered during the recent unity talks at Chungking, the Communists reported on an official statement here today.

The statement said the withdrawal was being carried out with a view to establishing peace and unity in China.

The areas from which the Communists are pulling out included Southern Kiangsu, Southern Anhwei, Easter and Western Chekiang.

The statement said the Communists "with pain in their hearts" were saying goodbye to the people of these areas, with whom they had lived for eight years "like fish and water."

Finally the statement appealed to the central government to carry out its promise to democratize politics, nationalize the army and accord legal status to all parties "so as to achieve as soon as possible an independent, free, prosperous China."

Other quarters in Chungking, while welcoming the reported Communist withdrawal from areas South of the Yangtze, appeared to regard it as a mixed blessing—on the ground that the movement would strengthen the Communist position North of the river.

Some sources attributed the movement to the growing strength of central government forces South of the Yangtze, against whom, they said, the Communists now realized they were in no position to contend.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 21 (CP)— All conflicting reports on where Sylvanus Apps is going to play his hockey this season were set at rest today when the star centre of early war years arrived at the National Hockey League training camp of Toronto Maple Leafs, accompanied by coach Happy Day.

Apps was reported discharged a week but later denied the report. Late last week he was posted from Ottawa to Military District No. 2 in Toronto.

Leaf officials said today they are unable to say whether Apps has been discharged or is on leave of absence—but it seems definite he will play with Toronto.

Johnny McCormack, rangy centre from Edmonton ticketed for Tulsa Oilers of the American Association, was taken to a Toronto hospital Saturday for an appendectomy. Hospital officials said today McCormack, formerly with Toronto St. Michael's College Juniors, is resting easily.

First Snow Falls in Nelson Sunday

Nelson's spell of fine weather came to an abrupt end over the weekend when Saturday's sunny start turned into rain in the evening, and on Sunday Winter began its onslaught with rain and snow and temperatures ranging from 25.4 and a maximum of 39.7.

All day Sunday the clouds hung ominously low and heavy, and a sprinkling of snow lay on the gound on the uphill and Rosemont areas at noon. Snow began falling on Baker Street in the afternoon, .13 inches of rain and snow falling altogether on Sunday.

The temperature range of Saturday was 50.2 to 32.2, with .16 inches of rain from Friday night.

Reports from various parts of the district on Sunday told of snowfalls ranging from one to three inches.

Rebukes Gov't for Not Sending Representative

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP)— A stinging rebuke was given British Columbia's Coalition Government tonight for not having sent a representative to the B. C. Federation of Labor (CCL) Conference here.

"I'm surprised that representatives of the Coalition Government should have ighored the meeting," Dan O'Brien of Vancouver, the Federation's President, said at tonight's session. "It almost seems they have held organized labor of B. C. in contempt—they have not only not sent a representative but they have given no commitments. . . The organized workers of the Province will reply to this insult on election day."

B. C. leaders of the Social Credit Association of Canada, the Labor-Progressive Party and the CCF, briefly addressed the meeting.

It is just as important to defeat the dictatorship of finance by which we are governed today as it was to defeat Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo, said Peer Paynter, President of the B. C. Branch of the Social Credit Association.

The deplorable housing situation that this country finds itself faced with today should have been solved long ago, he continued. "If the citizens had been able to build in the depression years there would have not been a housing problem today.

"We must wipe out discrimination in wages and conditions as between the East and West side of the Cascades," said Nigel Morgan of the Labor Progressives. "Prince George lumbermen now work nine to 12 hours a day. . . What better time to reduce hours than when jobs are scarce.

"The Coalition has shown itself incapable of decisive leadership," Mr. Morgan continued. "B. C. has to have planning and Government direction to solve the housing problem."

CLAIMS LPP AIDING GOVERNMENT

Referring to the Labor-Progressive Party, Harold Winch, CCF Leader, described it as "doing all you can to reelect the Coalition. . . And if we don't come to power it will be because of the activities of splinter groups."

"We in the CCF want it clearly understood that the only basis of unity is sincerity and a common program and objectives and policy," Mr. Winch continued. "Our objective is to use the democratic processes of Canada step by step to change from the old order of capitalism to the new order of Socialism."

". . . One thing I want to make clear," he concluded, "the CCF cannot be bought by big business and it canont be blackmailed by the LPP."

STREAMLINING OF MUNICIPAL ACT FORECAST BY HART

ESQUIMALT, B.C., Oct. 21 (CP) —Streamlining of the Municipal Act was forecast by Premier Hart here Saturday night at a campaign meeting in support of Cmdr. Charles T. Beard, Coalition candidate in the October 25 Provincial election.

A committee of experts will be appointed to look into the claim of municipalities for a larger share of motor tax, liquor profits and taxation upon Provincial Government lands and buildings, he announced. Other questions of Provincial-municipal relations also would be investigated.

"British Columbia was the first Province in Canada to legalize collective bargaining and we have had less labor troubles here than in any other part of Canada," he said, during the course of his address.

Three Speakers Open Loan Radio Campaign Here

The radio campaign in Nelson distict for the Ninth Victory Loan was opened Saturday over CKLN when Mayor Stibbs outlined the reasons for the Loan, J. G. Ridland, British Vice-Consul at Spokane, dealt with some aspects of rehabilitation of returned servicemen and women and Col. George A. Hoover asked for cooperation with the servicemen who will act as canvassers.

N. S. Electors Quietly Await Tuesday Voting

HALIFAX, Oct. 21 (CP)—In its lonely seaside hamlets and war-boomed towns and cities, the Nova Scotia electorate waited quietly tonight to vote on Tuesday in an election that will send 30 members to the Provincial Legislature.

Flood-time of war which brought naval battle to the granite shores apparently had removed some of the voters' old-time heated interest in elections, despite the efforts of 83 candidates to curry favor in the largest electoral list in history.

Premier Angus L. Macdonald in a radio address Saturday night that capped two weeks' campaigning in the major centres of the Province, remarked that the campaign "has been a quiet contest."

"I can understand that it should be so," he added. "After people have gone through the agony and worry of war for six years, many other matters must seem unimportant. But elections are important in a democracy. I therefore urge every person whose name is on the electoral list to vote for the candidate of his choice next Tuesday."

The list of candidates, swelled by the C.C.F. making its first important bid for power in the Province, was made up of 30 Liberals, 30 Progressive Conservatives, 20 C.C.F., two Labor Progressives and one Independent C.C.F.

Standing in the Legislature at dissolution last month was 21 Liberals, four Progressive Conservatives, three C.C.F., with two seats, formerly held by Liberals, vacant.

A. S. Barnstead, Deupty Provincial Secretary and chief returning officer, said he woul have no complete figures on the number of names on the electoral lists until he received the returns. But he estimated the list would be larger than ever before and that 400,000 ballot forms were needed.

Imperial Family Not Immune War Crime Trials

BY JAMES LINDSLEY

TOKYO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur's legal officer, Col. Alva C. Carpenter, hinted today that special international tribunals may be instituted to try certain Japanese charged with crimes against all Allies and that members of the Imperial family are not immune.

Col. Carpenter said war criminal trials, which may begin within 30 days, will last for at least two years and that Japanese facing trial total 2000 and may climb to twice that number. Five hundred Japanese now are in custody in Japan.

In response to a question whether there was a possibility of Emperor Hirohito being tried as a war criminal, Col. Carpenter said the Emperor had not been investigated as an individual, but that if examinations of State papers led to the Imperial household they would be followed regardless of where they go

There is a strong possibility that international courts may be established in some cases to try some Class 1 defendants whose alleged acts were directed against all Allied powers, Col. Carpenter announced.

This also may be done in cases of some Class 3 suspects who are accused of atrocities against the nationals of several countries.

TOJO NO. 1

Col. Carpenter refused to say whether any members of the present Cabinet of Premier Kijuro Shidehara are on the fast-growing list of suspects.

The thousands of war criminal cases are classified into these major categories:

1. Political defendants—Cabinet members and other government officials accused of actually fomenting war.

2. Military commanders who permitted or ordered crimes and atrocities committed by subordinates.

3. Minor Japanese officers and authorities who actually carried out the orders to torture and execute.

Former Premier Tojo is considered No. 1 defendant.

Crowds Visit Chrysanthemum Show; 15 Exhibitors Show Many Flowers

Crowds of people visited the Chrysanthemum Show, sponsored by the Nelson Garden Club, and held in the Silver Room of the Hume Hotel Saturday and Sunday, to see the glorious display of blooms arranged in baskets, vases and jars on tables around the room.

The Autumn-tinted flowers ranged from dainty single blooms of about one inch in diameter to large full ones up to six inches across. The blooms were yellow, pink, white, bronze, red, some of these almost crimson, and many other colors, and they consisted of early hardy and large varieties.

Many of the baskets held mixed blooms, but others were more dramatic with a large group of one color. An especially attractive bloom, one of many displayed by Alderman H. H. Hinitt was a large double 'mum in an elusive shade of mauve.

Fifteen people exhibited flowers. They were Mrs. Burrard Smith of Longbeach, Mrs. J. Walkden, R. D. Wallace, Ald. H. H. Hinitt, A. V. Bowley, Mrs. Louis Santor, Mrs. R. D. Wallace, W. Lauritz, S. P. Bostock, T. W. Kall, C. W. Ramsden, J. S. Holmes, Mrs. C. Henrikson, S. A. Timmins of Kaslo and Mrs. R. D. Gardiner of Kaslo.

Canada Places New Emphasis on Importing

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP) — The Trade Department headed by Hon. J. A. MacKinnon has become a double purpose organization with the development of the import division now well under way. The department's aim will be to continue to boost the sale of Canadian goods aboard but also lay important emphasis on increasing the purchases from customer countries.

This emphasis on imports is a new departure and applies not only to the departmental officials in Ottawa but also to the 34 Trade Commissioners around the world. The Canadian Press has been informed the number soon will be increased to more than 50.

These Commissoners will be instructed to explain to Empire foreign countries that Canada is not only ready to provide, in many instances, credits with which to pay for Canadian goods but also is ready as a good trader country to increase the purchases of their goods. The Minister last week announced the Commissioners from Latin America soon will meet in Ottawa to discuss the possibilities of greater trade with South America.

PUBLIC IN FAVOR

The letters which have poured into the department since the import division was announced have convinced trade officials Canadian people generally are alive to the importance of buying goods from other countries in payment for Canadian goods.

With the public evidently favorable to increasing imports three important decisions confront the government:

1. What to do about price ceilings when they interfere with imports.

2 Should Canada's 300-ship merchant marine be used to develop trade routes or be sold.

3. What reply should the government give when a Canadian manufacturer says he can increase employment if he is given an increase in the tariff.

Maitland, Thomas Clash

SIDNEY, B.C., Oct. 21 (CP)—A lively interchange between Attorney-General Maitland and Dr. J. M. Thomas, C.C.F. candidate for Nanaimo Riding in the last Federal election, took place here Saturday night at a Coalition meeting held in the interests of Norman W. Whittaker, K.C.

Dr. Thomas, who is campaign manager for Martin Neilson, C.C.F. candidate, interrupted Mr. Maitland as the latter was referring to the C.C.F. constitution. Mr. Maitland claimed that C.C.F. members of the Legislature were, under the constitution, responsible to the Executive of the C.C.F. Party.

Dr. Thomas denied this, asserting the members were responsible to the Party convention.

Mr. Maitland countered: "That is worse, then; only a few people might be at the convention."

When Maj. A. D. Macdonald asked Dr. Thomas what the C.C.F. policy was towards the Japanese, the doctor replied their policy was to make it practical to distribute across Canada citizens of Japanese origin remaining after Japanese nationals had been sent back to Japan.

"C.C.F. policy would remove the economic menace of cheap Oriental labor," Dr. Thomas asserted. "We realistically recognize that Canadian citizens of Japanese origin are the result of immigration laws for which the C.C.F. are not responsible."

VOTE MAY EFFECT DISCUSSION

"The impression has gone out that the Coalition Party is anti-Japanese and that the C.C.F. is pro-Japanese," said Mr. Maitland. "While each of us may express our individual attitudes towards the Japanese issue, there is no Coalition policy on the question, it being a Federal matter.

"The minority problem undoubtedly will come up for discussion at the forthcoming peace conference and the vote in the Oct. 25 election in British Columbia may affect that discussion so far as this province is concerned," he said.

Many Attend Last Rites for Mrs. Fletcher

There was a large attendance at funeral services for Mrs. Christina G. E. Fletcher conducted in St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral, Saturday afternoon, and teachers of the Central School were present in a body.

Many flowers were sent to the funeral. Mrs. Fletcher died in Nelson on Thursday, aged 78 years. She was born in Germany in 1867.

Rev. W. J. Silverwood officiated at the services, and F. E. Wheeler was organist.

Hymns sung were, "Fierce Raged the Tempest", and "Unto the Hills Around".

Pallbearers were Hector Mackenzie, A. J. Manson, F. B. Pearce, T. S. Shorthouse, John Teague and Jack Wood. The interment was in Nelson Memorial Park.

Electric Services Affected Slightly By Snow in Trail

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 21—Brief interruption in service was caused in electrical services here today when sleet and snow conditions affected wires.

Both West Kootenay Power and Light Co. Ltd. and B.C. Telephone Company reported slight service interruptions, but no damage. Lights were off for about 20 minutes this afternoon, while tonight they flickered off for less than a minute. Some interference was noticed on telephone lines.

Interpreting the News

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press News Analyst

Peace in the Pacific and the world may some day depend upon how Chinese and Russians work together in operating a vital Manchurian railway under a strange and complex new agreement.

The rail system is one of the keys to political and economic domination of Eastern Asia. The agreement for its operation is manifestly designed to interlock the personal responsibilities of both Russian and Chinese administrators to such an extent that anything but cooperation would be unthinkable as long as their governments remain friendly.

This agreement is one of six highly important treaties signed between Moscow and Chungking late in August, designed to settle important issues between these two greatest remaining powers in Asia.

Whoever controls the rail system controls Manchuria, and there is an old saying that whoever controls Manchuria sooner or later controls China.

China and Russia have scrambled and interlocked control of Manchuria for the next 30 years by treaty. Cynics will call it a Chinese face on a Russian reality, but it is an agreement which could function in much the same way as the interlocking technique which Britain and America envolved during the war in the joint command organizations.

Indians, Beaches, Riders, Argos Gain Playoffs

By The Canadian Press

Eastern Canada's biggest football week-end of the season brought the results that most fans were expecting—cinching of the playoff spots in the Ontario rugby football union and the big four.

Toronto's experiment in co-operative club enterprise—the O.R.F.U. Indians—find themselves tied for top spot with their intra-city rivals, Balmy Beach, with the closest contenders, Hamilton Wildcats, knocked out of a playoff chance.

It was much the same story in the big four where those perennial rivals, Ottawa Rough Riders and Toronto Argonauts, are top of the heap together while Hamilton Tigers and Montreal Hornets are neck and neck for cellar position and definitely out of it.

Hamilton Tigers made a great battle of it in their effort to keep in the top drawer of the big four and Argos had to come from behind with a last-minute touchdown by Royal Copeland to take 13-10 decision. Rough Riders had little trouble knocking out Montreal Hornets 28-5.

INTERCOLLEGIATE PLAY

In the O.R.F.U. the Beaches made a parallel showing with Argos, nosing out Hamilton Wildcats 11-8. But the Indians had a field day with Windsor Rockets, swamping that winless team 33-0.

The week-end also saw the opening of an abbreviated intercollegiate season, first since the fall of 1939.

Queen's University downed University of Toronto 19-15 and University of Western Ontario, 1939 champions, took McGill 20-7.

Asselin Cracks Back at Churches

MONTREAL GAMBLING CONDITIONS CRITICIZED

By OWEN SHANNON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Oct. 21 (CP) — Some chance-takers say Montreal is a place where you can win a pot of gold or lose your shirt any old night and if you heed J. Omer Asselin gambling can't be stamped out here unless a force of 5000 men battles it exclusively.

The chairman of Montreal's six-man Executive Committee—whose position is more powerful than that of Mayor Camilien Houde—made his statement in an interview replying to criticism on the streets and in newspapers of gambling conditions in Canada's largest city. The present Montreal police force numbers about 1400 including office staff and all.

Mr. Asselin cracked back at churches and service clubs for "encouraging" certain types of gambling. He mentioned bingo games for parish support, lotteries by service clubs and publication of race results by newspapers.

But of all the forms of gambling to be found in Montreal the most popular is barbotte. You meet barbotte players everywhere.

Barbotte, a game played with dice and said to have a faster turn over than craps, came to Montreal about 20 years ago from the United States. Since then its popularity has increased, with houses operating in many parts of the city. The morality squad of the city police have made raids on some of these establishments, and some have been padlocked—at first from one to three months, but latterly for a 12-month period.

In addition to barbotte and bingo, bookies carry on heavy traffic in betting on horse races, fan-tan establishments operate in Montreal's Chinatown, some establishments deal exclusively in poker, while even bridge clubs could be included, since many bets are made on these games.

The only public bodies to come out openly against gambling in recent months has been the Montreal and Ottawa Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and the Montreal Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church.

WINS $5000 IN ONE NIGHT

There have been reports of "big winnings" by those who have visited the barbotte houses, and these have tended to obscure the losses which have occurred. Some persons are said to have won as much as $5000 in one night. The operators draw their revenue from an assessment on the amount played by the bettors, ranging from five cents on a dollar upward. Since the same dollar may be exchanged several times in one night, the operators' take usually runs quite high when arrested. there are those who provide bail for the operators and customers—$200 for the operator, and $50 for those "no bail" for the customers generally is forfeited, and sometimes the operators forfeit their's also.

OPERATORS FORCED OUT OF BUSINESS

It has been reported that a number of the larger operators have been forced out of business, at least temporarily. Some of the former establishments which have been padlocked have been taken over by Pierre Seullac. Emergency Shelter Administrator in Montreal, and have been allotted to homeless families.

Tales of dummy doors, and two adjacent doors for one apartment have been common. Reports have it that when police padlocked one door, the operators opened the second and continued business the same night. Another story is that operators switched a number from their establishment to a dummy door just before police arrived, and this door was padlocked leaving the actual gambling premises open.

There is no actual count as to the number of such gambling houses in Montreal. Many operators are just one jump ahead of the police and move from place to place. One source said there were "hundreds" of these operators around the city and suburban districts. Many of these places have since been closed, but latest reports are that a "good number" still are in business.

Britain Had Less, Canada and U. S. More Civilian Goods During War

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (CP) — While the British people tightened their belts, in terms of consumption of civilian goods, during the war Canadians and Americans enjoyed more than they did before the war.

That is the effect of the conclusions reached by na othree-nati study of consumption levels directed by the Combined Poduction and Resources Board.

81-PAGE REPORT MADE PUBLIC

A summary of their 81-page report was made public here today by Munitions Minister Howe, Canadian member of the Combined Production and Resources Board. It was released simultaneously in London and Washington.

The report showed that per capita purchases of civilian goods and services in Britain dropped 15 to 20 per cent from the pre-war level, but in Canada and the United States they increased 10 to 15 per cent.

All three countries increased expenditures on alcohol and tobacco during the war, Britain by eight per cent, United States by 33 and Canada by 24.

All cut down on motor vehicles and their; operation, Britain where no gasoline was allotted for ordinary civilian use, by 95 per cent, and the other two both by 52 per cent.

The general upward trend in Canada and the United States as contrasted with the downward trend in Britain was shown in such items as:

Food—Down 11 per cent in Britain; up eight per cent in the U.S. and six per cent in Canada.

Clothing—Down 34 per cent in Britain; up 23 per cent in the U.S. and 22 per cent in Canada.

Fuel and electricity consumption rose in all three but only by two per cent in Britain against 32 per cent in the U.S. and 28 per cent in Canada.

Household goods, mainly electrical and metal products were down in all three but down 82 per cent in Britain against 23 per cent in the U.S. and 13 per cent in Canada.

The supply of munitions, food and raw materials from the United States and Canada enabled Britain to take a higher proportion of its manpower from farm and factory and devote them to the uniformed services, said the report. By June of 1944, Britain had drawn 55 per cent of its total labor force into the armed forces or into war production. The corresponding figure for Canada and the United States was 40 per cent.

Referring to a study of food consumption levels made by the Combined Food Board, the report recalled that pre-war diets of the three countries were nearly on a par in caloric content.

The average per capita calories a day in Britain were computed at 2987; at 3080 in the U.S. and a similar figure for Canada. During the war this changed to 2923 in Britain, or minus two per cent, and to 3215 in the U.S., a gain of four per cent. In Canada it rose eight per cent to 3480.

Canada's contributon to the study was made under the direction of Prof. J. F. Parkinson, Economic Advisor, Research Division, Prices Board, Ottawa.

Holidays With Pay Law Is Winch Promise

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP) — Legislation will be introduced to guarantee Union security if a CCF Government is elected in British Columbia next Thursday, Harold Winch, Leader of the Provincial CCF Party, told listeners in a radio broadcast here tonight. Promising that holidays with pay would become law in B. C., Mr. Winch added that "great improvements" would also be made in educational and social services—the Province to accept the financial responsibility.

Turning his attention to B. C.'s fishermen and farmers the CCF Leader added that Government assistance would be given them ". . .In bringing under co-operative public ownership processing and marketing facilities so as to give them greater control over their own produce and catch."

Establishment of a real and lasting prosperity depends upon the workers doing their own planning and building, Mr. Winch told his radio audience. He explained that this requires "the conferring of actual responsibility in government upon a far larger number of citizens than now share it."

"The CCF is convinced that the wider use of advisory committees is essential for this purpose," he continued. "The fisherman, the farmer, the industrial worker and the professions all will become partners in government and will thereby truly express the power of the people."

"The Coalition Government has failed to outline policies and initiate plans to effectively provide the basic things expected by the people," the CCF Leader continued, adding that his party enumerates these requirements as ". . . equality of opportunity for all, employment for those who can work, security for those who need it. . . And a wider and constantly rising standard of living."

"Coalitionists stand by their sacredness of contract to protest the exploiting interests," Mr. Winch said.

"They ignore the contract which should be assumed by all governments to use legislative power as an instrument of progress and as a means of planning and building for the people's well being."

If British Columbians elect a CCF Government next Thursday Legislation brought down at the first session of the Legislature ". . . will establish a housing authority so that the Province takes the lead in the construction of new houses," Mr. Winch concluded his address. Voters would then have had a hand in the policy "of taking over the B. C. Electric and the West Kootenay Power so that an overall plan of development for British Columbia could be put into operation."

Sgt. McKay served in Italy, France and Germany with the Canadian Army and returned only recently to Canada. He is on 30 days leave and is visiting in Trail with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fowler.

Trail Times Observes 50th Anniversary as Newspaper

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 21—Trail Daily Times Saturday observed its 50th anniversary as a newspaper. First edition of the paper was printed on wrapping paper on a hand-operated press Saturday, Oct. 19, 1895.

The Trail Creek News, published by W. F. Thompson, was the forerunner of the present Trail Daily Times and its appearance, six years before the incorporation of the town of Trail, began an unbroken period of publication resulting in the present-day daily newspaper.

Started as the Trail Creek News, the newspaper was named after the original settlement on the present city site, Trail Creek. Now Trail Creek is buried for most of its course through the city and few people realize that a creek rushes under the very floor of the present Trail Daily Times building.

FIRST DAILY IN 1925

On Nov. 2, 1904, the name of the paper was changed to the Trail News and this name remained through a series of changes in ownership until the end of 1925. Nov. 3, 1925, the first daily paper in Trail was published by the Trail News but it was merely in addition to the weekly Trail News.

This daily paper was called the Daily Bulletin and was published as well as the Trail News for two months in 1925. At the beginning of 1926 the News was abolished as a weekly paper and the Trail Daily Bulletin combined the features of both papers.

The Daily Bulletin became the Trail Times in April 1928 when the present Trail Times Ltd., took over the publishing firm. On May 1 of that year the Trail Times became a member of the Canadian Press, co-operative news-gathering organization and began to supply world and Dominion news brought to Trail through the leased-wire service of the Canadian Press.

Shortly after the present name of the paper, the Trail Daily Times, appeared on the masthead.

BUILT BY CO-OPERATION

"I came to build"... said Calvert 300 years ago

CALVERT, famous 17th century English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, founded pioneer colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland over three centuries ago.

"All have co-operated," said Calvert of the early settlers in 1622. Thus, many generations ago, Calvert, man of vision, planted seeds of co-operation between the Old World and the New.

History has proven Calvert's wisdom . . . demonstrated today in the strong partnership between the British Commonwealth and the United States of America for the benefit of all mankind.

Co-operation between nations will build the future

England and America must continue to co-operate for the future security of the world. We of Canada are best fitted to preserve the great partnership between Britain and the United States . . . for we are their mutual friend, the interpreter of one to the other.

Every Canadian can help guarantee lasting peace by fostering co-operation between the British Commonwealth and United States.

Impression of Bali to Some Is Walking Into a Burlesque Show

BY HAL BOYLE

DEN PASAR, Bali, Oct. 21 (AP) —The island of Bali is just one big Ziegfeld Follies—without the box-office.

Sweater girls couldn't make the grade out here because of the competition. They don't wear sweaters in Bali.

BURLESQUE SHOW

When you first come to Bali you have the uneasy feeling that you've walked into the third act of a burlesque show. That's because people in the Western world are reared with the idea that the Northern half of the femnine torso is something to be displayed mainly in art galleries, night club shows and maternity wards.

In this sunburned, carefree island in the Dutch East Indies, however, bare bosoms are more common than bare feet, but after a few days they are hardly more interesting.

You fall into the viewpoint of the natives themselves, that after all there sn't anything permanently startling about the human body, nude or clothed.

CREW PLAYED "BEAVER" GAME

Before we stopped here en route to Australia our airplane crew was eager-eyed with anticipation. The crew members decided to play that old childhood "beaver" game, only in this case they were to tabulate feminine bosoms instead of manly beards.

We hadn't gone a quarter mile from the airfield until we spied a dignified, middle-aged Balinese woman walking along the roadside with a basket on her head, but bare to the waist.

Everybody saw her at once.

"Beaver! Beaver!" they shouted. At this strange outcry as the truck swept past, the native lady switched her betel nut from one side of her mouth to the other and smiled at us through stained teeth in pleasant astonishment.

After that, the "Beavers" came thick and fast. When we reached our hotel and compared tallies I was high man.

Balinese girls are light brown in color, delicately featured and have marvellous posture developed by the custom of carrying burdens atop their heads. They are extremely modest.

A FOREIGN WHITE ARTIST

One foreign white artist who has spent 14 years in Bali painting native life used one feminine model all those years and never portrayed her in a nude study. He said he would hesitate to embarrass her by askng her to pose without benefit of her half-length sarong.

"These people are unbelievably shy," he said.

His bosom landscapes, however, are extremely popular with visiting tourists. I asked him if he weren't weary of painting them for 14 straight years without a vacation.

"No, I never tire of this subject," he replied, seriously. "I am an artist."

Here's Quick Relief from

SINUS PAIN

3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear Out Congested Sinus Areas

One best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-Purpose Medicine . . . Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's best relief they've found. Try it!

2 Natal-Michel Servicemen Arrive Home

NATAL, B. C. — Among Natal-Michel servicemen who are still arriving steadily form overseas was Sgt. Gus Venzi who returned to Michel after serving overseas for more than two years.

Sgt. Venzi jbined up in June, 1940 and was with the 6th Anti-Tank, 2nd. Corps when he landed overseas three years later in August, 1943. Previously he spent two years on coastal command with short batteries at Victoria before being sent back East to Petawawa, Ont., from where he went to Debert, N. S., and finally overseas.

He saw action in France, the Netherlands and finally in Germany where he was stationed at Emden when VE-Day was declared. He arrived back in Canada aboard the troopship Scythia which docked at Halifax.

Gnr. Joe Latka of the RCHA, eldest son of J. Latka of Michel also returned after spending over three years service overseas.

He joined the service in April, 1942 and was sent overseas three months later arriving in England in July after spending only a short training period in Canada. He was first sent to Sicily where he saw action followed with the Italian campaign.

One of Natal-Michel's much-travelled soldiers he then saw action throughout the European theatre of war ending up in Germany when the end of the war came. Before going overseas he trained at Vernon, B. C., and at Brandon, Man. He arrived aboard the Ile de France. His younger brother Sgt. A. Latka arrived safely a few weeks previous.

ELECTRONIC BOW INTO XMAS TOYS: Gnr. John McPaul, 10, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the man behind the gun here as he makes a test of the new toy cannon, fired by electro-magnetism. The cannon fires wooden shells with just enough force to make it interesting, but not dangerous. It is one of several toys displayed by the Electronic Toy Division of Electronic Laboratories in New York. You may be seeing them on Christmas toy counters.

Reason enough?

EVEN if there were no other reason for buying all the bonds you can in the 9th Victory Loan, it should be reason enough that men wounded and disabled in action must continue to have the best of care.

Our debt to them is but one of Canada's obligations to all who served, and are still serving, in the armed forces.

Investing our money is after all a small way of repaying a debt which cannot be measured in money. But it is concrete evidence we recognize the debt and that we will not fail to meet the obligation it brings us.

Put all you can into the 9th Victory Loan. Set your personal objective higher to reach and pass the higher objective of the loan.

RENTALS JUDGE IS APPELLANT IN RENTALS COURT

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP). — Bruce Boyd, regular judge of the Rentals Court at Vancouver, appeared in Rentals Court as a landlord-appellant today. The hearing was before Mr. Justice A. M. Manson.

Judge and Mrs. Boyd have applied for a home they purchased in West Vancouver a year ago. The hearing was adjourned until Tuesday by which time, the tenants, Mr. and Mrs. L. Musham, hope to have a definite information about construction of a new home.

Judge Boyd is asking for a definite undertaking by his tenants that they will vacate by next Jan. 15 but their lawyer, Hugo Ray, was unwilling to give this because of building difficulties.

After hearing something of the negotiations, Mr. Justice Manson said there did not seem to have been much prompt action by the tenants; that the law is intended to protect but not to be abused.

Judge and Mrs. Boyd said they are living in a two-room-and-kitchenette converted suite in the West End while their son sleeps out, waiting to get into the five-room house on their five acres in West Vancouver. They sold their Coquitlam home after the Judge was appointed to the Vancouver County Court Bench and was required to make his residence in this county.

Advise Motorists to Carry Chains on Cascade Highway

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 21—The public works department reported here today that motorists travelling over the summits would be well-advised to take chains with them. In Rossland there was four inches of snow early Friday. Although the highway to Rossland was reported clear there was considerable snow left on the summits.

From now on, public works officials said, chains might be needed at any time on the Cascade Road.

Beatt for Unity of Progressive Forces, Herridge Advocate of Internationalism, at Creston

CRESTON, B.C., Oct. 21—Peter S. Beatt and R. W. Herridge, M.P. Kootenay West, explained to a small audience the reason of the differences between the People's C.C.F. and the official C.C.F., a matter of principle, Saturday night in K.P. Hall. Tom Montford of Wynndel was elected chairman.

The election tempo warmed up in Creston when Mr. Beatt stated that labor and the farmer would take a slap in the face if the Coalition candidate was elected, and labor would take a slap in the face if the Independent candidate were elected. He felt that the C.C.F. candidate had not been told of the disturbances here within the party.

He felt that the curse of today was partizan politics, and explained four points dealing with the beliefs in the principles of the Regina Manifesto, the unity of all progressive forces and the trade union movement, the program of labor to bring full employment, better wages and living conditions, and finally, price parity of agrarian primary producers.

His only local touch was with the water problem in the Creston Valley, and he pointed out that it could only come by cooperation of all political party representatives.

H. W. Herridge, M.P., was in full support of Mr. Beatt, People's C.C.F. candidate, and organized labor. Mr. Herridge adequately explained his presence in the Kootenays during the campaign, when the Dominion House was in session.

His address dealt with internationalism, nationalism and provincialism. In the former he felt that the Canadian people could play a great part between friendly attitudes of the Western democracies and the Soviet Union, a principle long fought for by Mr. Beatt.

As to nationalism, his highlight was the "democratic mobilization of Canadians far beyond partizan groups in order for common unity."

His first statement regarding provincialism was on finance. He made it plain that C.C.F. legislation must administer under capitalism, but hastened to show that "we don't want socialism built on borrowings from financiers." Revenues would be from taxation, profits from public utilities, and borrowings internally from the people.

TAKE OVER UTILITIES, BUSINESS, INDUSTRY

Social ownership would include the taking over of public utilities under the jurisdiction of the province, and the business and industry with products which could be controlled by government price.

Other items on the program would be greater expansion of cooperatives, municipal ownership, amendments of the I.A.C. Act, equitable taxation, 100 per cent compensation under the Compensation Act, program of forestry and conservation of forests, floor prices for agriculture, public works and parks programs, a national health act, and a national marketing and national co-operative act.

Shell-Out to Aid District Youth in Sports and Education

Hallowe'en Shellout, sponsored by Nelson Kinsmen Club throughout the District and in East Kootenay, will have a new meaning for the youngsters who participate this year.

During war years, the kids gave up many of their pranks and parties and worked hard to see that British children received plenty of milk through the Kinsmen Milk for Britain Fund. This year, they will work for their own benefit, as all proceeds will go to various youth projects in athletics and education.

The Shellout has the endorsement of the Department of Education at Victoria. It has assisted in development of character of children, and municipal authorities welcome the plan because it has helped the youngsters find constructive fun instead of the destructive acts many performed previously. Damage has been at a minimum.

Projects include purchase of athletic equipment by Michel-Natal; a movie projector for school at Fernie; building up of a swimming pool fund at Creston; and a youth centre planned at Cranbrook, where the Stagette Club will run the Shellout and devote most of the proceeds to the centre. Kimberley has not yet decided what to do with its proceeds, but they will go towards similar funds.

AID SCHOLARSHIPS

In Nelson, funds will be used for student scholarships, and Junior High School students will be in charge of sales. The students will discuss plans in one of their periods Monday afternoon.

For their aid in collecting tickets Hallowe'en night, the youngsters will be guests at free shows. In outlying points where there are no theatres, prizes will be given. The campaign extends into all district points as far North as Nakusp and into the Creston area.

CRANBROOK BOY SCOUTS HAVE GOOD APPLE DAY

CRANBROOK, B.C.—A total of $130. was paid out by the general public for shiny apples to local Scouts and Cubs on the annual Boy Scout Apple Day.

Scouts and Cubs were posted along main business streets and made a canvass of residential parts of the city through the day to exchange an apple and a lapel tag for nickles and dimes to show the buyer supports the Scout movement. Cubs, included this year for the first time in the day's activities, proved particularly adept at luring out the small change.

The money goes to the adult Boy Scout Association who handle financing of all local Scout and Cub troops and administer the Baden Powell Memorial Hall.

Helen Henderson, 45 Years in East Kootenay, Dies

CRANBROOK, B.C. — Widely known through the Eastern part of this district Helen Henderson, age 73, who made her home at Jaffray, died in the hospital here where she was rushed by ambulance after being taken ill suddenly.

She was the widow of John Henderson who operated the hotel at Jaffray for many years until his death in 1931. She was born in Boston and came to Canada and East Kootenay about 1900. They lived in the Windermere district until they took over the hotel at Jaffray.

Surviving her is one daughter in New Jersey. Funeral services were from St. Mary's Church with Rev. A. L. McIntyre officiating and burial in the cemetery here.

WHITCHURCH, Middlesex (CP) —The wedding of George Alexander Morrison and Irene Marian Doherty at St. Lawrence Church here was recorded on gramophone records so that the bridegroom's mother could hear the service. Resident of Glasgow, Mrs. Morrison was unable to make the journey to Whitchurch, but through the records she heard the church bells, the singing of the choir and every word of the ceremony, including her son's "I will."

LET'S TALK ABOUT SECURITY

● Men have always sought security, worked for it, fought for it; for security, in essence, is the freedom from care. For the individual, security means a backlog of savings readily accessible in case of need.

Your purchase of Victory Loan Bonds will give you that secure backlog of savings. Backed by Canada's vast resources, your money will at the same time provide the future buying power to keep Canadian industry rolling at high speed.

AND—your money will serve to rehabilitate and re-establish the men who fought for the security we now enjoy. It will provide for the armies of occupation that will be our safeguard against future wars . . . It will help to pay part of our debt to the wounded and the dependents of those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

The 9th Victory Loan must be successful if we are to reap the full benefit of the peace.

We Must Make a Success of the Ninth Victory Loan

Canada's Ninth Victory Loan campaign opens today.

Its objective is $1½ billion, which is $150 million more than that of the last loan. But this objective is about the same as the amount actually raised last Spring.

Eight Victory Loans have been required to finance the winning of the war. The Ninth is to clean up the job.

It may be the last opportunity to save money in Victory Bonds.

The security is 100 per cent. All Canada's resources are behind Dominion Bonds.

While the objective of this loan is larger than for the Eighth the money to be raised will carry on for the Government for one year instead of for six months.

War costs, as everyone knows, are not over. While the services are making rapid discharges it will be some time before the army, air force and navy have been cut to whatever may be considered necessary for the future. People in the services must be paid; their dependents must get allowances. Gratuities have to be provided for. So does the immense cost of demobilization. The best of medical care must be given to the wounded and sick. War costs include the cost of rehabilitation.

There is very much to be done, huge sums must continue to be spent out of capital before the work of winning the war has been completed.

Dutch Troubles in Java

Accounts from Java indicate that the Indonesian Nationalist Movement, which existed before the war, has acquired a preponderance undreamt of by the Dutch before Pearl Harbor. Evidence goes to show that the Indonesian Nationalists in the great majority have come to hate the Japanese; though it was the Japanese who, anticipating their own defeat, and, in order to give the Allies a troublesome legacy, enabled the Indonesians to occupy key posts throughout the civil administration.

It is obviously not for the British to attempt to instruct the Dutch how to deal with the situation which they will find after nearly four years of absence. But it does appear that Java is affected by a contagious urge towards independence, which throughout the East received impetus from the Allied victory, interpreted as heralding the emancipation of all countries, however backward, from all outside interference, however civilizing.

It is believed that the Indonesian agitation for complete and immediate independence might, without too much difficulty, be toned down into a more moderate call for autonomy. Autonomy within an imperial partnership is precisely what Queen Wilhelmina promised in her proclamation of Dec. 7, 1942.

The Indonesians find this promise vague and ill defined, and wish it to be amplified.

London commentators say that there is wide sympathy in the United Kingdom with the Dutch. The fact that Dutch shipping, which would otherwise have been available for transporting troops to the Dutch East Indies, is tied up in the Allied shipping pool, is a source of exasperation to the Dutch, who feel they are too dependent on British troops in the restoration of order which is a necessary preliminary to political changes.

Re-educating the Germans Is a Tough Job

Field Marshal Montgomery in the "sombre picture" he drew on Oct. 2 of conditions in the British Zone of Germany, nevertheless spoke of the great progress being made in the field of education. Despite shortages of teachers' books and buildings, all children in the British zone are now receiving at least part-time education, and Hamburg, Goettingen and Kiel Universities are being reopened.

Field Marshal Montgomery said he regarded as a most important British long-term obligation that of reeducating German youth. The present personal visit to Germany of the Minister of Education, Miss Ellen Wilkinson, shows the United Kingdom Government's interest in this matter. Notwithstanding the great shortage of teachers and educationists in Britain, a number of British men and women fill posts as administrators dealing with the German universities, adult education, technical colleges and youth activities. The actual teaching, is, however, done by carefully selected Germans.

The following account by the British Major Gallacher, who controls the education of 83,000 German children in the "land" of Brunswick, is typical: "Our first big problems were buildings, teachers and equipment. Thirty per cent of the schools in the 'land' were damaged or destroyed. Of approximately 430 schools, we now have 329 we can open. We have submitted all who taught under the Nazi regime to a long and exhaustive questionnaire, which assists us to check up against information we have about their past Nazi connections.

"In this way, we are able to decide which teachers to retain or dismiss or subject to further investigation. All teachers whom we approve are required to sign a statement that they understand the fundamental principles on which we are re-opening the schools, that there will be no teaching which glorifies militarism, or propagates, revives or justifies Nazi doctrines, which favors race or religious discrimination, or disturbs relations between any of the Allied Nations. To open all schools which previously existed would require 1790 teachers. To date we have dismissed about 200, suspended 59 and appointed over 300. Over 900 of our teachers are still to be demobilized from the Germany army.

"On the equipment side, we started with appalling difficulties. Almost every existing book was indoctrinated. Arithmetic books contained problems such as 'if four Germans can do a job in 12 days which it takes 8 Poles or 16 Jews to do in the same time, how long would it take 4 Germans and 12 Poles to do a job which takes 20 Jews 40 days? 'So we had to start pretty well from scratch and get new books printed by local German firms. To begin with, we shall have to work on the basis of one book for every two children."

Press Comment

ATTLEE NO REVOLUTIONIST

Mr. Attlee is certainly not the model of a revolutionist. His life, as far as one can see, has been guided by conscience, not by a party line. He had all the advantages of an Oxford education, but he had a heart that took him into social work in the poverty-stricken Limehouse district of London, and thence into Labor politics. He is the very opposite of the racial bigot, to whom nothing matters but the ultimate Utopia. We must believe that he represents the present mood of the British people. Another mood may come. In the meantime we can certainly deal with Labor Britain, as we did with Coalition or Conservative Britain, in the confidence of international aspirations which we share.—New York Times.

TEETH GROW AGAIN

Faulty teeth have been extracted and replaced to grow again by British surgeons of St. Mary's, the famous London hospital and birthplace of penicillin, says the British Information Service. This revolutionary treatment in dentistry has been successfully applied to abscesses and root infection. In one case the tooth was extracted, the infected ends of the roots were cut off, the pulp canals filled and the tooth replaced in the sockets, which had been treated with penicillin to receive them. Five months after the tooth had been replaced, bone had re-formed around the roots. The tooth was so firm that it was made to carry a missing neighboring tooth on a bridge.

Nelson had its first fall of snow yesterday morning when approximately an inch carpeted the city for a time though it melted rapidly, and by noon only slush remained.

Dr. G. A. C. Walley gave an account of his stay in Chicago to the Gyros last night, telling them of the World's Fair, dental classes, lectures, and his work in general.

A. M., Michel — Is an Italian man whose family has been in Italy from 1940 to 1945, classed as single or married on an Income Tax form?

We believe he would be classified as single. The applicable section reads as follows: "A married person who supported his spouse, and which spouse was resident in any part of His Majesty's dominions or in a country contiguous to Canada, or residing elsewhere, was a subject or citizen of a country associated or allied with Canada in the conduct of the war which commenced in September, 1939, and was prevented by reasons of such war or prohibited by law from entering or landing in Canada."

M. A., Wardner, B.C. — Could you please tell me how to make syrup in the home out of sugar beets?

Wardner reader, Stewart Blake of Kimberley has kindly supplied you with your answer. Sugar Beet Syrup Recipe: Pull beets, leaving tops on. It takes from six to two months for them to ripen. When the tops turn yellow they are ripe and ready for the syrup. Have a good scrubbing brush ready—shake off the dirt first, soak the sugar beets in lukewarm water for a while. Then scrub all the dirt off. Wash two or three times until they are really clean. Cut about one inch from the top of the beets because the top doesn't contain much syrup and if you leave it on, the syrup has a strong taste. When the sugar beets are clean, you can peel them like potatoes if you like, but this isn't necessary. Soak them in cold water for one hour. Take them out. Slice them paper thin and boil until they are soft. Strain all the syrup off in some sealers or crocks, and then again pour hot water over them (the beets). Let them stand until all the sugar is out. Strain again. Let stand over night. Next morning strain the syrup again and boil again in the boiler for a while. Remove the scum from time to time. It takes hours to get good syrup. You get three quart sealers of medium thick syrup from a three-quarter filled average size boiler of beets. The beets and syrup boil over very quickly, so boil slowly and be careful about your stove. If you want thick syrup, it must be boiled longer and stirred all the time, as it burns easily on the bottom of the dish. This syrup is good for baking, bran muffins, ginger snaps, and ginger bread, etc.

A C.C.F. Government Under Executive Explains Organizer

Elected members of the C.C.F. Government in Saskatchewan are not controlled by the electorate but must accept dictation from the C.C.F. Council, said Mrs. Eva Pfeifer, C.C.F., Saskatchewan divisional organizer, who outlined policy at a meeting in Vancouver recently.

Mrs. Pfeifer stated that Premier Thomas Douglas, head of the Government in Saskatchewan, will have to adhere to C.C.F. policy as dictated by the Council, or will find himself out of a job.

As quoted in the Vancouver News-Herald, she stated:

"If Tommy Douglas cannot give a good account any year of his Government to the C.C.F. Council, he will not be Premier."

Mrs. Pfeifer left no doubt in the minds of her audience as to what stand the C.C.F. will adopt toward private industries which, in the opinion of the Government are not being "conducted properly."

"When you hear the phrase 'taking over', it means we buy. If the Government decides that an industry is not being run to its greatest efficiency, we offer to buy it," she said.

"If they don't want to sell, we buy anyway."

Commenting on Mrs. Pfeifer's statements, Hon. R. L. Maitland, B.C. Attorney-General, expressed the belief that, like many another C.C.F. member who refused to adhere strictly to orders of the C.C.F. Provincial Executive Committee, Premier Douglas may have to "walk the plank."

NO DEMOCRACY IN C.C.F.

"Three years ago," said Mr. Maitland, "I gave chapter and verse of the C.C.F. constitution. I said then, and I repeat now, that the C.C.F. is governed and controlled by a High Council, and there is no democracy in the C.C.F.

Rev. Robert Connell, one-time C.C.F. leader in British Columbia; Dr. J. Lyle Telford, and H. W. Herridge, M.P., already have been "liquidated" from the C.C.F. as represented by the High Council, Mr. Maitland said.

"They all walked the plank when those in control decided what their policy would be. According to their constitution, no C.C.F. member is free to express his or her own views or opinions in the Legislative Assembly without consent of the High Command.

"No man in such a position," Mr. Maitland said, "can represent the people. He represents the party, and it cannot be denied that power begets power. It is quite true that they shade their emphasis on various clauses of their constitution to fit the occasion, but now and then it breaks out here and there."

Regarding Mrs. Pfeifer's statement, Mr. Maitland said: "Compare her statement with the C.C.F. constitution, which reads: 'It shall be clearly understood that all members of the C.C.F. elected to public office—either singly or in groups—are responsible to the Provincial Executive Committee during periods between annual conventions. On all questions of policy and tactics, the decision of the Provincial Executive Committee shall be authoritative and binding, and all representatives shall consult the Provincial Executive Committee.'

"What Mrs. Pfeifer was saying in fact," the Attorney-General concluded, "is this:

"'Tommy Douglas is not a free agent to serve the people'."

THEY BOTH WORK

There is no need for larger hats at all. A woman can look just as ridiculous in the smaller ones.

Natal-Michel Servicemen Arrive Home

NATAL, B.C.—The latest group of servicemen to reach their homes throughout Natal and Michel after serving overseas for some years, contains six men.

Flt.-Lt. W. "Bill" Fowler, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fowler, Sr., of Michel, who joined the R.A.F. in June, 1941. He went overseas in September, 1943. Altogether he amassed a total of 110 operational trips over Germany and occupied territory until he was sent back to Canada, arriving on the Ile de France which docked at Halifax. Out of all the boys from Natal-Michel who served with the Air Force, Flt.-Lt. Fowler rose to the highest ranking of all.

L.-. Oliver Winstanley of the Seaforth Highlanders joined up in June, 1940, and went overseas a year later in 1941. He saw action in Sicily, Italy and finally in Germany when the war ended. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Winstanley, Sr.

Tpr. Richard Guest of the B.C. Regiment joined up in June, 1940, and after training throughout the Canadian Army centres he was sent overseas in September of 1942. He saw action in France and Holland, being wounded while in a tank battle in France where he managed to crawl to safety while the remainder of his crew were taken prisoner, including Tpr. Norman Bell of Natal. He first saw action shortly after D-Day on the Normandy coast. While overseas he married an English girl who arrived at Natal some months ago prior to her husband. He is the only son of Mr. T. Guest of Natal.

Corp. K. W. Cannon of the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada joined up in August, 1942, and went overseas in March of 1943. He went immediately into action in Sicily four months after arriving in England, then going to Italy, Holland and finally into Germany. He arrived in Canada aboard the troopship Ile de France. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cannon of Michel.

L.-C. Henry Thomason of the famed Westminster Regiment joined the force in September, 1940 and went overseas in November of 1941. He saw action in Italy for over a year and followed the German retreat through Southern France, Belgium, Holland and finally into Germany where the war ended. While with the Westminster Regiment, L.-C. Thomason was a member of the Westminster Band which held together until only recently. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomason of Michel. He has a younger brother, Albert, still serving overseas. He arrived back in Canada aboard the Nieuw Amsterdam.

Spr. W. H. Barber, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barber of Natal, joined the forces in March, 1941. He landed overseas in December of the same year. He saw action in Sicily, Italy, being wounded in Italy, from where he later proceeded into the Netherlands and Germany where the war ended.

NATAL MISS HONORED AT SHOWER

NATAL, B. C. — A surprise shower took place at the IOOF hall at Natal recently in honor of Miss Sophie Chala of Natal who will become the bride of Albie Krall of Michel soon.

One of the largest gatherings of ladies numbering over 200 were present at this shower to enjoy the evenings entertainment by playing the different games of bingo and whist.

Refreshments were served during a short intermission during which time the many gifts that were brought were passed around the hall.

"PIGS" MEAN JOBS

This pig of pure Tadanac Brand Lead is a job-maker. It provides jobs for the men who mine and concentrate the ore, jobs for the smeltermen and the refiner, jobs for the workers in innumerable supply industries; finally, it provides jobs for the railway and steamship men who transport the pigs to market.

But this little pig is only a job-maker if we can sell him. That's obvious. What is not so obvious, but equally true, is that this Company can make enough lead in one day to supply British Columbia's needs for one year, or enough in two months to supply the whole of Canada.

So, if our pigs are to provide full time jobs for all the men now employed, five out of every six must be sold outside of Canada. They must find buyers on the world markets in competition with the pigs made in Australia, Europe, United States and other countries.

This was no problem at all in wartime. The world was clamouring for lead. But now we are faced with the task of meeting this competition, relying upon improved techniques and maximum efficiency in operation to maintain quality without raising our price beyond what the market will pay. This will require the combined efforts of us all—men and management alike. Only by such co-operation will our country be able to develop to the full its vast natural resources and only thus can its people prosper.

Many of the suggested designs reaching the office of State Secretary Martin give prominent place to the Union Jack, but most feature the maple leaf. Practically the same trend has been followed in suggestions sent to newspapers by readers.

Miss Blanche Boisseau, a Montreal postal clerk, submitted several designs, favoring white as the background color. In one she placed a maple leaf on the red Cross of St. George to indicate attachment to the British crown. In another she had the nine-pointed North Star surrounding the maple leaf in the fly.

A small Union Jack with the fleur de lys superimposed was in the upper masthead corner.

A. A. Holland of Moose Jaw, Sask., has a design with a blue background. In the fly was a red maple leaf surrounded by nine silver stars, representing the provinces.

One design has already found its way into the Commons. It was shown by Rev. Dan McIvor (L—Fort William), who said it was drawn by an Ottawa manufacturer. The flag consisted of nine stripes in red, white and blue, in that order. In the fly was a green maple leaf on which was superimposed the Canadian coat of arms.

MacArthur's Legal Forces Prepare for Trial of Japanese War Criminals to Begin in 60 Days

BY JAMES LINDSLEY

TOKYO, Oct. 21 (AP)—War trials for the first of 2000 Japanese on charges including sickening atrocities are expected to begin within the next 60 days.

Among those already in custody are such well publicized personages as Hideki Tojo, Japan's Premier when the war in the Pacific began, members of his Cabinet and such war leaders as Lt.-Gen. Masaharu Homma, accused of responsibility for the brutal death march on Bataan.

TRIALS TO BE PUBLIC

The trials will be public. They will be held in the largest suitable places. Authorities wish to permit the attendance of the largest possible number of Japanese.

Meanwhile, it appeared drafting of legislation to dissolve Japan's Zaibatsu—family controlled monopolies—must await the formation of a new Cabinet expected to follow general elections early next year, it appeared today.

Premier Shidehara's ministers rate election reform their basic policy-making task just now and plan to postpone some other fundamental reforms, including dissolution of the Zaibatsu, for a government "more representative of the people", sources close to the Premier said after a Cabinet meeting today.

Government sources also said the Shidehara Cabinet probably would resign after the election, making way "for a younger, more vigorous government" whose Premier largely will be determined by the outcome of the election. They added that the Government believes extensive legislation essential for dissolution of the Zaibatsu should be presented "to a more representative Diet," elected, under liberalized voting laws permitting participation of women and younger men.

TRANSPLANT KAMLOOPS TROUT

Introduced into Ontario waters experimentally about eight years ago, the Kamloops trout, delight of anglers in the lakes of British Columbia, appears to have made itself at home. One Toronto angler caught seven fine specimens in Lake Bernard, about 180 miles North of Toronto on a recent day's fishing. All seven were close to 20 inches long and weighed two pounds each. He describes the Kamloops as being as good to eat as the speckled, and as game a fighter as the small-mouthed black bass.

4 WAYS TO BUY

(1) You may give your order to the Victory Loan Salesman when he calls on you, (2) Place your order with any Bank or Loan or Trust Company, (3) And you can also buy through your Employer for cash, or (4) on the Payroll Savings Plan.

Any one of these agencies will give you every assistance in completing your application.

Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 or larger.

A SOUND INVESTMENT

What is the security back of Victory Bonds, that makes them such a worthwhile and sound investment? They are backed by all the natural wealth of this vast Dominion — all the resources of forest, lakes, rivers and mines. Too, Canada has never yet failed to pay, in full, a Dominion Bond obligation. Victory Bonds pay you good interest now, they are marketable any time you urgently need money, and return their full value at maturity. Buy, and hold, Victory Bonds.

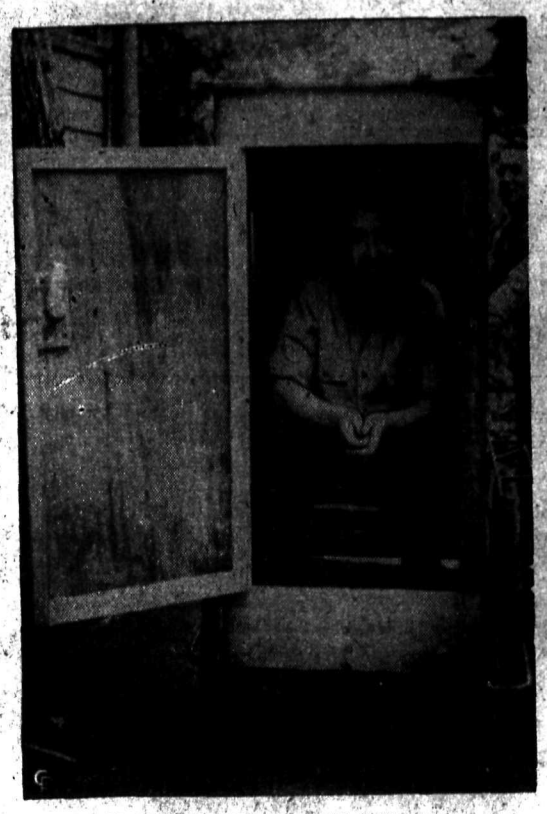
TODAY'S News Pictures



AMBULANCE—JAP PRISON CAMP STYLE: Brother F. Lemay of Montreal, a French Canadian priest, in the hands of the Japanese for some time, is seen here in an ambulance used at the internment camp where he was held.

PREVENTED ATTACK: The keen observation and photo-interpretation of Flight Officer Constance Babington-Smith, 32, of the British Women's Auxiliary Air Force, is revealed to have prevented the Nazis from launching their V-bomb attack on New York. It also made certain that the invasion of Europe was not hampered by the robot bombs. An air raid resulted which set the Germans back in their work by at least six months and killed 800 of their leading scientists. She is pictured here looking at the airviews at the British Information Office in New York.

EISENHOWER AID: Judge Simon H. Rifkind of New York City, who was appointed General Dwight D. Eisenhower's adviser on Jewish affairs. He leaves for Germany shortly.

BELSEN CRIMINAL: Irma Grese, on trial as a war criminal at Luneberg, Germany, covered her face to hide her laughter as the wife of Josef Kramer, "Beast of Belsen", testified that her husband used to come home worried over the lot of the prisoners at the camp.

HOME MINISTER: Zenjiro Horikiri, Home Minister, member of the new Japanese cabinet formed by Premier Baron Kijuro Shidehara, and apparently approved by the Supreme Allied Commander, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

CROWNED QUEEN: Constance Joannes, whom the Pan-American Society crowned "Miss Avenue of Americas" at a reception at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York. Miss Joannes was chosen queen by the good-will ambassadors, consulate-generals of 21 South American republics, and a board of well-known artists.

MURDER VICTIM: Solon Burt Harger, Broadway dancer, whose dismembered body was found in the Hudson River, New York, last August, is shown here with his former dancing partner, Miss Charlotte Maye, now the wife of a U. S. army officer. Identification of the torso murder victim came with the arrest of Walter Dahl, of Philadelphia, who, police say, admitted killing Harger and dismembering his body after the latter had made improper advances. Dahl had been kept under constant surveillance since he refused to identify the body of his friend, three days after it was taken from the river.

PICKETS' GAS MASK: One of a number of pickets outside Warner Brothers studio, Los Angeles, Calif., who donned gas masks as protection against recurrence of a barrage of tear gas hurled against them when they attempted to halt studio workers attempting to go on duty.

Pat on Back Goes With Fine

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 20 (CP)—From the bench this week Magistrate Harry Johnston commended Clifford Gibbs, retired New Westminster carpenter, for having done his part to relieve the present housing shortage. At the time Magistrate Johnston fined Gibbs $100 after the latter pleaded guilty to a charge of having built a house when he was not the holder of a construction licence issued for that purpose.

Evidence revealed that without a construction licence, Gibbs, who was entitled to build only a house costing $1500, or less, put up a building estimated to have cost $7000. Gibbs had erected a duplex, now housing two families. Actual out-of-pocket cost was $3700, including plumbing and wiring and all labor costs attached to installation. Gibbs had done the rest of the work himself.

Dawson Creek Man Wins $13,000

KAMLOOPS, B.C., Oct. 21 (CP).—Ken Stewart of Dawson Creek, B.C., was holder of the lucky ticket in the Kamloops Memorial Centre sweepstake which was drawn today by Smokey Smith, New Westminster Victoria Cross winner. The lucky draw brought Mr. Stewart the choice of $13,000 in Victory Bonds or a hunting lodge built to his specifications in the Kamloops area.

Second winner was L. Mangles of Vancouver, who received $1500, or bonds, and an additional $300 because he sold the second prize ticket himself.

Other winners are: $1000 to T. W. Kalk, Englewood, B.C.; $500 to Joe Cernat, Upsala, Ont.; $300 to Mike Pillar, Port Arthur; $200 to Frank Fella, Cultus Lake, B.C.; $100 to Oscar Sallenback, Lethbridge, Alta.

C. B. Maple of La Glace, Alta., won a $1000 bonus for selling the winning ticket. W. MacBryan of Englewood, B.C., received a $200 bonus for selling the third prize ticket.

To Build Fishways at Fraser Rapids

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP) — The Vancouver Sun said in a newspage story today that the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission has decided to proceed with the construction of fishways at Bridge River Rapids North of Lillooet in the Fraser River.

This will be the second project for the rehabilitation of the sockeye run in the Fraser for which the United States and Canadian Governments appropriated $2,000,000, Sun said. The first project of construction of fish ladders at Hell's Gate is practically completed.

INDEPENDENT LIBERALS HAVEN'T PARTY SUPPORT

VICTORIA, Oct. 20 (CP)—Premier Hart today issued the following statement:

The Liberals in convention in 1941 gave a mandate for the formation of a Coalition Government. Later the Liberal Executive approved this action and at its last meeting held in Vancouver on July 27 it was decided that the Liberals would not oppose sitting Coalition members.

Therefore any candidate running under the banner of Independent Liberals have not the endorsement or support of the Liberal Party.

I therefore appeal to all Liberals in the Lillooet Riding to support the Hon. E. C. Carson, Coalition candidate. Likewise in Vancouver Centre I appeal to all Liberals to support the two Coalition candidates, namely, Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., and Allan J. McDonnell.

SCOUR AREA FOR MISSING MEN

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Oct. 20 (CP)—Police and Prince Rupert citizens scoured this area today for two men reported missing here within the last week.

Latest disappearance is that of James Colussi, 28-year-old war veteran, who only returned from overseas a week ago. Search began today for Mr. Colussi after his empty boat was found on the beach at the head of Prince Rupert Harbor. He left the city yesterday on a hunting trip.

Meanwhile the Prince Rupert local of the Carpenters Union organized a posse of 40 men to help police search the surrounding bushland and the waterfront for traces of Frank Murphy, 63-year-old contractor, who has been missing since last Saturday.

Mr. Murphy, a well known lumber yard operator, came here from Pouce Coupe, B.C. three years ago. He has not been seen since Oct. 13 when he left his business to go home to supper. Yesterday police constables in rowboats probed under the wharves along the waterfront on the theory that he may have collapsed and fallen into the harbor.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 20 (CP)—Robert Holmes was fined $150 and costs when he pleaded guilty in police court at New Westminster this week to a charge of assaulting bus driver Thomas Thompson.

Recommended for Leniency, Soldier Given 18 Months

WINNIPEG, Oct. 21 (CP).—An assizes jury here yesterday found Cpl. Frederick McCallum, 37-year-old R.C.A.F. service policeman guilty of manslaughter after being told by the trial judge, "I am inclined to agree with the defence that the accused did not intend to murder." McCallum, on trial for the murder of his attractive 30-year-old wife, Ileen May, Sept. 8, was sentenced to 18 months in the provincial jail at Headingly, Man. His sentence dates from the day of his arrest.

The jury, which took less than two and one-half hours to reach a verdict, recommended leniency.

Mr. Justice W. J. Major, presiding at the trial, told the accused before passing sentence, "You have had a very unfortunate domestic life . . . There was no evidence that you were responsible for the failure of your married life.

"You were distracted and you had been drinking a great quantity of liquor. I think you had great provocation, but still that is no excuse for taking the life of another. I concurr in the recommendation of the jury for leniency . . . and so will sentence you to 18 months."

Market Trends . . .

NEW YORK — The stock market attracted selective support Saturday after an early extension of Friday's late retreat.

A number of Steels, Rails and Specialties converted declines into modest plus marks. Near the close trends were no worse than moderately mixed. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

Hiram Walker registered a sharp retreat of 1½ near midday while Distillers Seagrams was up ⅛. Dome Mines gained ¼ and Canadian Pacific was unchanged.

CHICAGO—Grain futures rallied Saturday, influenced by heavy government buying of wheat and reports that Belgium would purchase 1,400,000 bushels of oats in the open market.

Wheat was up around a cent a bushel and oats more than a cent at times. Rye showed less strength most of session and gains were small.

Following a lull Thursday, the United States Government was reported to have bought about 2,000,000 bushels of wheat yesterday. Most of the buying—about 1,750,000 bushels or more—was reported in the Northwest. Some of the wheat futures buying today was considered lifting of hedges against the cash sales to the Government agency.

WINNIPEG— Rye futures prices on the grain exchange rallied in the last half of the session to erase early losses of more than two cents.

In early trading commission houses selling and offerings from American account found indifferent support. Later, offerings dried up and local buying stimulated a rally. Trading was moderately active.

Final prices were ⅝ higher to ¼ lower with Oct. $1.68⅝; Dec. $1.66¼-⅜; May $1.65¼ and July $1.59⅝.

Only export trade reported was sale of two cargoes, involving approximately 500,000 bushels of wheat to France and Belgium.

LONDON (CP) — School children, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and other youth organizations are being asked to arrange collections and to sell acorns direct to local pig and poultry breeders as a supplementary carbohydrate food.

Rossland Woman's Estate Goes to Husband

Letters of administration to the estate of Annie Kristina Holm were granted to John Victor Holm, administrators, by His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet in County Court, on Oct. 9. A. G. Cameron was solicitor.

Mrs. Holm, who died in Rossland Oct. 7, left an estate valued at $2906, consisting of real estate, cash and bonds.

The whole estate goes to John Victor Holm, husband of the deceased, the six children having renounced their right to apply for letters of administration.
