RUSSIANS BLOCK IRAN TROOPS

Others to Face Conspiracy Charges

"Nonsense" Says Lawman of Barrister's Charge of Use of Third Degree Methods

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 6 (CP)—Some of the nine men still held in Canada's Soviet spy ring inquiry definitely will be charged under the Officials Secrets Act and their appearance in court will coincide with release of the second interim report of the Royal Commission inquiry. The Canadian Press learned authoritatively today.

When these charges will be laid down was not known, but it was not expected the accused would be brought into court for another week or so. The number to be charged also was unknown, but it was believed they would constitute a complete "cell" in the ring, which the Commission said in its first interim report Monday had operated "under direct instructions from Moscow."

It was noted the interim report identified Capt. Gordon Lunan, one of four persons arraigned in court Monday under the Official Secrets Act, as the "head of a group" which worked under the personal instructions of a member of the Russian Embassy staff in Ottawa.

This prompted the belief that charges would be laid against groups of persons who acted as "cells" in the espionage organization. It was considered likely that none of those in any one cell was known to the members of another such group.

Following procedure used in the first interim report, which covered one group, it was considered likely the Commission would release interim reports as it concluded inquiry into activities of each "cell".

It also was learned that any additional detentions in the inquiry, aside from the nine men now held and the two men and two women arraigned Monday, will depend on evidence being presented before the two Royal Commissioners, Mr. Justice Robert Taschereau and R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court.

CHARGES THIRD DEGREE METHODS

Just how many persons were involved could not be learned in exact numbers but the organization, likened by the Commission to a "network", is believed to have extended to organizations closely associated with Russia either through blood ties or political leanings.

Official circles said the inquiry had disclosed no connection between the ring and Communist organizations in other countries.

An unnamed barrister representing one of those held charged in an interview that coercion and third-degree methods had been used in questioning the suspects and this statement was promptly met with a denial from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"Absolute nonsense, of course," commented Assistant Commissioner Royal Gagnon of the RCMP. "We do not use third-degree methods."

A CHARMING CHARACTER

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 6 (CP)—Captain Gordon Lunan, one of nine persons held in connection with espionage activities in Ottawa, formerly served here as signals officer with the Edmonton Fusiliers.

Capt. Lunan, named by Prime Minister Mackenzie King as "the head of the group of agents, acting under Russian direction," was described by acquaintances here as "a charming character."

REFUSE INFORMATION

KINGSTON, Ont., March 6 (CP)—It became known tonight that the R.C.M.P. have taken a well-known Kingston man into custody but have refused all information regarding the action, saying that any statement would have to come from the Commissioner of the R.C.M.P. in Ottawa.

Queried as to the disappearance of a certain individual in Kingston the R.C.M.P. said only that they "knew of" this man.

Beyond that they would not go and there was immediate speculation that the man was taken into custody in connection with the Canadian Government's inquiry into Russian espionage in Canada.

BRITONS TO DIG FOR THEIR SUPPERS

Profits Forgotten in Intensified Dig Against Famine Drive

LABOR A PROBLEM

By MURIEL PENN

LONDON, March 6 (Reuters)—British farmers, gardeners and even the humble allotment amateurs are busy with the "dig-against-famine" campaign.

Responding to urgent appeals of the Government again to grow more food, they are working as they worked during the days of the Battle of the Atlantic when every ounce of food grown at home was an ounce less exposed to U-boat attack.

Farmers who thought to turn their land to more remunerative crops have abandoned dreams of larger profits and less work and are preparing to plow up their land to sow cereals as soon as the snow disappears.

The National Allotments Society has called upon allotment holders and small gardeners to grow £10,000,000 ($44,500,000) worth more food this year—although their contribution to the country's supplies is already estimated at between £20,000,000 and £30,000,000 annually.

NO EASY TASK

For farmers, this big "dig-against-famine" campaign is not so easy.

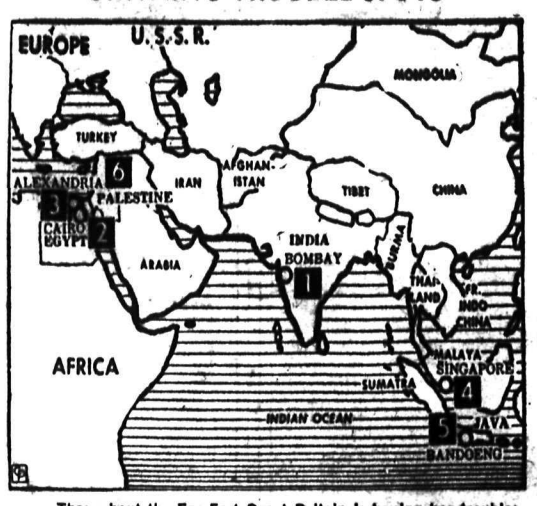
They are faced with two major problems—manpower and the 11th hour nature of the appeal. Their crops were planned months ago and to turn over now to growing more wheat means upsetting all their carefully-made plans and in many cases putting Spring sown wheat into not too suitable ground.

Their greatest problem is manpower. To implement the new campaign, it is estimated between 125,000 and 200,000 additional workers are required on the land.

Large numbers of German prisoners of war are being brought into the country from the United States and Canada. But they are coming to replace Italian prisoners who are being repatriated and to fill the gaps left by demobilization of thousands of women from the Women's Land Army.

Last year some 2,200,000 acres of land were under wheat compared with 1,900,000 in 1938. However, this was 880,000 acres less than in 1944.

BRITAIN'S TROUBLE SPOTS



Throughout the Far East Great Britain is having her troubles, as uprisings and revolts mark the unrest in her colonies and occupational zones. Indian navy mutineers at Bombay (1) have just surrendered but some trouble continues. British troops in Cairo (2) fired on Egyptian rioters after they attacked churches and other institutions in anti-British disorders, while in Alexandria (3) Reuters reported crowds beating Europeans in the streets. At Singapore (4), British troops have put down an uprising of Indian Nationalists, and in Java (5) they have ordered all Japs evacuated from Bandoeng after an attack by Indonesian extremists on a theatre audience. Completing the troublesome picture, terrorists in Palestine (6) attacked police headquarters in Haifa and Tel Aviv.

Terrorists Raid Palestine Camp

JERUSALEM, March 6 (Reuters)—Fourteen Jewish terrorists dressed in British uniforms, with the flash of the 6th Airborne Division, today raided the biggest British garrison camp in Palestine and seized a quantity of ammunition—only a few hours after the Anglo-American commission on Palestine had arrived in Jerusalem from Cairo.

An official statement said raiders entered Sarafand camp in a three-ton truck, overpowered the sentry on duty at the arms dump and loaded a quantity of ammunition before the alarm was raised.

They withdrew under fire, a stray bullet fired during the battle penetrating a hut and seriously wounding a British woman welfare worker. A Jewish constable also was wounded and the attackers blew up an ammunition tent. Later three men and a woman were arrested.

A heavily guarded train brought the Anglo-American Commission from Cairo, where it had heard evidence from the Arab side.

Premier to Carry Protest to Stalin

Soviet Troops Prevent Garrisoning Three Towns Previously Reported Evacuated

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

TEHRAN, March 6 (AP) — The Iranian War Ministry said tonight that Iranian troops had "been stopped by the Russians" 60 miles East of Tehran as they moved in to garrison three Eastern towns which Soviet officials had said they were evacuating last Saturday. No further details were given.

"The Soviet troops have prevented them from proceeding to the points to which they were assigned," a War Ministry official said. "We are awaiting further word from the commanding officer."

At the same time a message from Iran's Premier, Ahmed Qavam es Saltaneh, now in Moscow, declared he would not accept any Soviet demands contrary to Iran's interests. He said he would protest orally to Premier Stalin himself on Russia's delay in evacuating the country.

The towns were Samnan, Shahrud and Meshed, the only three places mentioned specifically in Moscow's announcement that the Red Army was being withdrawn from some areas which were "more or less" quiet.

The Iranian Parliament, meeting secretly after Leftist demonstrations and rioting had prevented a session for three days, was told by Acting Premier M. Q. Bayatt that Iran had protested to Russia against Moscow's refusal to withdraw her troops from Iran.

Ahmed Qavam said in Moscow that he was postponing his departure until Thursday, at the request of Soviet officials, for further discussion.

A Moscow dispatch quoted an Iranian source as saying that Ahmed Qavam might request permission of his Government to visit London and Washington after he returns to Tehran and reports to the Cabinet.

SEE REQUEST FOR REPORT TO U.N.O.

LONDON, March 6 (CP) — Informed sources said tonight they believed Russia's failure to withdraw all her troops from Iran would result in a request from some country—perhaps Iran herself—for an immediate report to the United Nations Security Council on the Soviet-Iranian negotiations.

Some diplomats expressed belief Moscow would delay replying to Britain's request for an explanation and would report direct to the Security Council when it meets in New York March 21.

Under the Security Council decision last month, Russia and Iran agreed to report the results of their negotiations. At the same time, the Security Council retained the right to ask for progress reports at any time.

McInnis Advocates Equal Pay for Women, Men in Same Work; Higher Bounties, Forest Conservation Aid

VICTORIA, March 6 (CP)—The Provincial Government should ask Dominion authorities to stop export of pulpwood to the United States, John McInnis (CCF-Prince George) told the Legislature today.

Pulpwood exported to the States kept two big pulp mills going and retarded industrial development of central British Columbia, he said during the throne speech debate.

The Prince George member urged equal pay for women and men doing the same work in industry, endorsed the stand of Mrs. Nancy Hodges (Cin-Victoria) that discrimination against women in industry should cease and reminded the House that women paid as much as men in cost-of-living, clothing and amusement.

LOBBY DEMANDS REASONABLE

He complimented last week's mass labor lobby on the fact that labor throughout the Province had combined to present a united front though delegates belonged to different organizations.

The lobby's demands were reasonable, he said, unless hours of work were reduced it would be impossible for all employable men and women in the Province to be put to work.

Turning to problems of the North country the Prince George member urged an increase in bounties on predatory animals. Wolves, cougars and coyotes were increasing so rapidly and were preying on game and livestock to such an extent that destruction was running into the thousands, he said.

Stating that it was cheaper to protect than to plan he laid stress on the need for conservation in forestry and recommended an increased grant this year for the Canadian Forestry Association. This body, he said, was doing a service that even the government could not do in educating the people and particularly youth to the importance of timber resources.

INDO-CHINA GUNS FIRE ON WARSHIPS BRINGING FRENCH

ABOARD THE FRENCH CRUISER EMILE BERTIN OFF HAIPHONG, Indo-China, March 6 (AP)—Coastal batteries fired on this flagship cruiser today when French warships carrying more than 20,000 French troops cruised off Haiphong Harbor awaiting Chinese permission to land the forces in Northern Indo-China.

Shells from one coastal battery missed the flagship by more than a mile, but reports reaching the Emile Bertin said a landing craft also was fired upon and a French sailor was seriously wounded.

The warships brought troops intended to relieve the Chinese who have been garrisoning Northern Indo-China for months.

Canada, Britain Sign New Loan Agreement

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 6 (CP)—The Canadian and British governments today signed an agreement on a new loan from the Dominion, it was announced by the Prime Minister's office.

However, the amount and terms of the loan—under negotiation here since Last Feb. 11—will not be disclosed until tomorrow when simultaneous announcements will be made here and in London.

The agreement was signed shortly before Finance Minister Ilsley and his chief assistants left by train for Savannah, Georgia, to attend the conferences of the International Monetary Organizations set up under the Bretton Woods agreements.

There was no hint as to what the announcement would contain, but unofficial speculation has placed the amount between $1,000,000,000 and $1,250,000,000.

It was learned the agreement covered a new loan and was not connected with the interest-free loan Britain obtained from Canada in 1942. That loan amounted to $700,000,000 and the amount still outstanding is reported to be in the neighborhood of $500,000,000.

WANTS BETTER BASIS FOR LIQUOR BUSINESS

Okanagan MLA Asks Cancer, Arthritis Fight; Car Insurance Candidate Control

VICTORIA, March 6 (CP)—First mention of liquor control during the Throne Speech debate was made in the Legislature today by Charles W. Morrow (CLN—North Okanagan)

The people of British Columbia spent $40,000,000 on liquor in 1945 despite rationing and one could imagine what the amount would be had there been no restrictions, the speaker said. The amount spent last year was equal to $55 worth of liquor for every man, woman and child in the Province.

Mr. Morrow recalled that the ballot in 1923 when a plebiscite was held on the sale of liquor it provided for a system of moderation and control with purchases done up in sealed packages.

"I urge the Legislature to take this whole question in hand and do something to improve conditions that we know exist in the Province. Let us refuse to tolerate such a condition any longer. We have nothing to be ashamed of in bringing the whole matter into the open. The problem can be solved like any other," he said. "I am not saying we should have prohibition or increased sales. I say the liquor business should be put on a better basis," he added.

Turning to his election in the last Provincial by-election Mr. Morrow told how there were five candidates. "Three of the candidates polled four per cent of the vote; the C.C.F. 32 per cent, and I received 64 per cent," he said. "I maintain this is valid reason for establishment of the deposit system. Had such a system been in effect, three of the candidates would have lost their deposits. Something should be done to keep candidates down to a reasonable number."

Mr. Morrow then dealt with salaries of police magistrates and recommended to the Attorney-General that they be paid by the Province.

WANTS FIGHT AGAINST ILLNESSES

The member endorsed the setting-up of a separate Department of Health and Welfare.

He would have "millions of dollars" made available to fight cancer which, he said, kills one in seven, and to alleviate sufferings of arthritic victims.

Dealing with roads, Mr. Morrow urged improvement to a 10-mile stretch North of Enderby, a 16-mile stretch leading out of Vernon and the Okanagan Landing road.

Mr. Morrow urged establishment of an agricultural school in North Okanagan, joined other members in advocating higher old-age pensions, wanted a land registry office located at Vernon and recommended compulsory automobile insurance for public liability and damage to others, to be collected at the time licenses are taken out, "the fee to be $10 or even $20."

U.S. Rail Tieup Would Hit Canadian Lines

Would Maroon Cars, Cut Citrus Fruit and Coal Imports

TORONTO, March 6 (CP) — Canadian railways will be "definitely affected" if the country-wide strike of 300,000 railway engineers and trainmen is called for Monday in the United States, Railway officials said today.

One result, they said, would be the tieing up of Canadian equipment—mainly freight cars—in the United States, which would be "marooned" there.

WOULD CALL FOR CANADIAN STRIKE

R. G. Smyth, chairman of a local of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (A.F.L.) said United States brotherhoods would call on Canadian affiliates to strike, but such action would first be referred to a strike vote by Canadian members.

Mr. Smyth added that a new agreement, which called for an increase of 58 cents a 100 miles, was signed last Spring and described relations with Canadian companies as "very good."

Food importers said they thought main effect of a railways strike in the U.S. would be on citrus fruit imports but would effect few other food supplies as Canada was 80 to 85 per cent self-sufficient.

Meanwhile, E. R. Lockyer, Secretary of the Toronto Coal Exchange, said: "We are depending on daily arrivals of coal from the U.S. At least 97 per cent of our supplies come from the U.S. and this would be entirely cut off by a railroad strike."

Heads of two big railroad operating brotherhoods, issued a strike call for 6 a.m. Monday which they claimed would cripple rail transportation from coast to coast and the City of Detroit appealed to President Truman to intervene in the 106-day-old General Motors strike.

NO PROGRESS

After a one-hour meeting of G.M. and the unions' negotiators today both unions and corporations said no progress had been made.

The number of strike-idle along the labor front remained at about 800,000.

Suggests Merger Utilities, Power Commissions as Economy Measure

VICTORIA, March 6 (CP)—R. C. MacDonald (Cln-Dewdney) said during the throne speech debate in the Legislature today the Public Utilities Commission should be merged with the B.C. Power Commission because he was inclined to think the British Columbia Electric Railway Company ran the former body.

"There is a dual function here that should be removed for economy's sake. Here we have a government body charged with the responsibility of seeing that the public are protected in the matter of light and power charges. The other is actually in possession of and operating in the field of light and power with statutory authority and right to set its own rates without any interference from any other sources."

"An applicant for service which requires extension of pole lines writes to the B.C.E.R., if he is turned down he then appeals to the Utilities Commission. The commission in turn notifies the company of this application and complaint and asks the company for a report. If the company says 'no' that ends the matter. I am inclined to think the B.C.E.R. runs the Public Utilities Commission who are paid handsome salaries to protect the public interest."

He said he noted in the Press lately that the company had applied to the commission to reduce its rates and asked why the commission did not order rates reduced instead of waiting for an application to do so.

VANCOUVER DISAPPOINTS

Dealing with purchases of existing plants by the government's B.C. Power Commission Mr. MacDonald said that with the B.C. Electric permitted a monopoly in profitable areas, he feared "this government, instead of buying a milch-cow has acquired a tail." He was amazed and disappointed at "the lack of courage and initiative" shown by Vancouver in rejecting the government's proposition to acquire and control transportation and distribution of light and power within its area.

While commending the government on its policy of acquiring and extending hydro-electric development in rural areas, the Dewdney member expressed himself as absolutely opposed to the confiscation of any property before proper negotiation, no matter whose property was involved.

The Premier, he continued, had said he hesitated to invade the field municipal responsibility. "I say that in buying other properties that field already has been invaded—in Duncan, Nanaimo, Vernon.

"I don't think it right to disposses the little fellow because he is easy to subdue and allow the big, strong financial corporations to dominate at will."

VICTORIA, March 6 (CP) — Answering a question from Opposition Leader Winch on the order paper, Premier Hart today replied that the Public Utilities Commission contemplated obtaining additional data on British Columbia Electric Railway Company operations and already is undertaking an inquiry and audit of the company's accounts and operations.

The Commission, he added, always made a check to verify the correctness of information furnished by the company to the Commission.

When a request for extension of electric services is received, the Commission sends a copy of the request to the company requesting a report. The Commission's reply to the applicant, the Premier stated is based on information supplied by the Company.

FIND MAN KILLED BY GUN IN HANDS OF 17-YEAR-OLD

KAMLOOPS, B. C., March 6 (CP)—A coroner's jury found here today that Gordon Burns, Valemount trapper-farmer, died March 1 as result of wounds inflicted by a .33 calibre rifle in the hands of a 17-year-old Vancouver boy who had been sent to the Burns farm by a Welfare Bureau.

Mr. Burns was shot on his farm near Valemount, North of Kamloops. The boy was taken into custody following a search of the surrounding bush land and has been held for questioning in connection with the shooting.

Dominion Favors Cities Operating Own Airports

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP)—The Federal government is in favor of cities operating their own airports, Reconstruction Minister Howe said here today.

"The Federal government is trying to work out a pattern for operation of airports throughout Canada," he said in an interview.

"We believe, after conversations with many of the cities concerned, that the cities can operate their own airports more successfully and more economically.

"All the cities seem to feel they'd like to control their airports and we're for it. We'd like to have local bodies running the city airport."

Wholesaler Dies After 25-Foot Fall

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., March 6 (CP)—John G. McKelvie, 59, Manager of the National Fruit Company here, died today from injuries he received a few hours earlier in a 25-foot fall from the Central Viaduct over the railway tracks.

A patient in a Prince Albert hospital, he had dressed at noon and told his nurse the doctor had said he could go for a walk.

CLAIMS JAMES ROOSEVELT HAS JOINED REDS

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP) — Representative John Rankin (Dem.-Miss.) told the House of Representatives today James Roosevelt has joined the "Communists." Representative George Outland (Dem.-Calif.) promptly replied by citing the war record of the late President's son and terming him a "real American."

Brand Speech as Part Anti-Soviet Crusade; Russia Critics Heard

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Three Senators today called Winston Churchill's speech "shocking" while other Congressmen discussed it pro and con, sometimes heatedly.

Representative E. E. Cox (Dem.-Ga.) inserted it in the Congressional record with the remark that Russia seeks "to communize the whole world."

Mr. Churchill's blunt remarks at Fulton, Mo., yesterday about Russia and his appeal for close Anglo-American military collaboration evoked the main line of comment.

Senators Claude Pepper (Dem.-Fla.), Harley Kilgore (Dem.-W. Va.) and Glen Taylor (Dem.-Idaho) issued a joint statement saying:

Mr. Churchill's proposal would cut the throat of the United Nations Organization. It would destroy the unity of the Big Three without which the war could not have been won and without which the peace cannot be saved.

"It is shocking to see Mr. Churchill, who rose to power on the repudiation of Chamberlain, align himself with the old Chamberlain Tories who strengthened the Nazis as part of their anti-Soviet crusade."

They added that the speech should warn the American people against "those would-be political statesmen in our country who are the counterpart of the Chamberlain-Churchill Tory spokesman of Great Britain and not let these American Tories lead us into another war."

The Senate itself was not in session but the House of Representatives provided a forum for other Congressional speakers.

Chairman Andrew May of the House Military Committee said he thought the United States should take no position on any military alliances until Russia has been given a chance to state her aims through the United Nations.

Representative John McCormack (Dem.-Mass.) issued a statement asserting that Russia "is going out of its way openly to attack religion in an effort to divide the religions of the Western world." He declared that Moscow "has been unwilling to date to cooperate for world peace" and added:

"Outside of the Soviet Union all the nations of the world have shown a strong desire to work for peace. It is up to Soviet Russia to cooperate or to be charged with responsibility for failure."

MUSKOX OFFICER CATCHES UP ON FAN MAIL

BAKER LAKE, N.W.T., March 6 (CP)—Stormy weather here halted exercise Muskox, mobile force on a 3200-mile trek across Northern Canada, but it gave Lt.-Col. P. D. Baird, Commander, a chance to catch up on his fan mail.

Most of it comes from the United States, where one woman has promised to pray for the success of the Arctic expedition. Pupils of the Shelbourne, Ont., school are also interested, sending a letter wishing safety and success.

The pupils will receive the first memento from the pioneering force—a frayed end of the Union Jack taken from the Commander's snowmobile.

"I am glad to see the youth taking an interest in the North (55 said Col. Baird.

RCAF supply planes act as mailmen for the force, bringing the mail from Churchill, 425 miles to the South.

Leaves Accident Victim Unaided

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP)—A motorist who left his car to glance briefly at a woman he had hit and then drove off without assisting her was sought by police today.

Mrs. Hugh S. Roberts, 53, was hit while crossing a Vancouver street and suffered fractured ribs and leg injuries. Her condition today was reported as good.

200-Feet Deep Mud Buries Summer Homes, Swamps Others; Damage $14,000

LADNER, B. C., March 6 (CP)—Spring mud rolling off a cliff side at Chewassen Beach, seven miles from here, buried two Summer cottages and swamped four others. Damage is estimated at $14,000.

Owners today were digging out silt, 200 feet deep in places, which was crunching against six other houses along the Boundary Beach stretch.

All that was left of one five-room, $2000 cottage owned by Robert Cooper, Ladner, was a brick fireplace.

A tar-papered roof teetering on a cliff over 100 feet of silt was all that could be seen of a $3000 five-room cottage near by.

Olive Thorsen, said the mud had shot through the windows of the structure and knocked the kitchen stove right out of the sea-fronting window and on to the beach.

"I thing the recent earthquake unsettled the cliff and caused shifting mud," said K. R. McCann of Vancouver.

"This is the first time I've seen this happen here in 50 years," he added.

Man Convicted of Doctor Masquerade Performed Operations Wife Tells

WINCHESTER, Hampshire, England, March 6 (CP Cable)—The wife of Garnet Frederick Matson, convicted of representing himself as a doctor and serving in that capacity on ships, said today he had performed a number of operations.

Matson, a native of Belfast, was sentenced Tuesday at Winchester Assizes to three years' penal servitude. He claimed he obtained a medical degree at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, which has no faculty of medicine.

Mrs. Matson said: "I believe in him and always will. He has even had letters from patients thanking him for his services and I know he has performed a number of operations."

They were married in 1940 and she described him as "the best of husbands and the best daddy" to their four-year-old son.

Submitted at the trial was a passenger's statement that once on the liner Stirling Castle when a child was taken ill the "doctor" was a long time answering a call for help and was found studying the section on "fits" in a medical book.

Evidence at the trial showed Matson served two years as a doctor on five ships of the Clan and Union Castle Lines.

Crown Counsel C. S. S. Burt said Matson, under the name of Frederick Gary de Laurier, "apparently bamboozled everybody, including patients, ships' officers and the shipping companies."

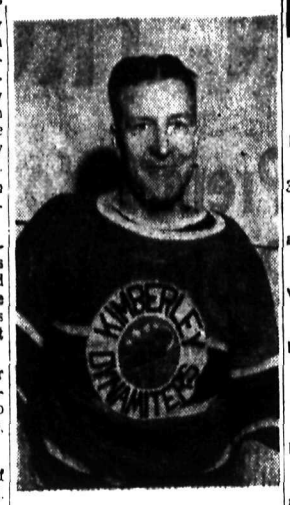
Harry Brown Scores With Minutes to Go to Give Dynamiters Win Over Leafs and Force Third Game

It was Kimberley Dynamiters' night at the Civic Arena Wednesday night. Sparked by Defenceman Harry Brown who scored their victory goal, they evened up the Kootenay Hockey League semi-finals by squeezing out a 2-1 win from Nelson Maple Leafs in a fast, rugged game in which tempers flared to finally come to a head in the third period.

The teams play in Trail tonight in the crucial game of the best-of-three series.

Smiling Harry did some fast travelling throughout the game and his strenuous efforts were rewarded late in the third period when he picked up Buck Kavanagh's pass and sped in on Jesse Seaby to beat him cleanly.

Seaby again did Trojan work for the Leafs, blocking 28 shots compared to 19 for Cliff Kilburn, who also turned in a fine performance.



HARRY BROWN

FIGHT IN THIRD

It was Kilburn who touched off the fireworks in the third period. Rugged bodychecks were being handed out on all sides. The action was climaxed by a battle when Kilburn went to work on Jack Kilpatrick after he steamed in on the goal and wound up on top of the Dynamiter guardian. Kilburn flailed away at Killy and several players dived in. As Killy yanked his way out of the pile, Referee Curley Wheatley grabbed the Kimberley goalie and held him until he simmered down. Putt Holditch served Kilburn's time in the box and Kilpatrick was also sent off.

The opening period didn't carry the wallop of the next two sessions, although each side scored. Kimberley picked off the first one just after a Nelson drive in which Kilburn twice fished out the puck from his pads. Jim Slugg went in with big Gordie Wilson to beat Seaby. About five minutes later hard-working Johnny Fargher evened it up on a neat three-way play with Kilpatrick and Spence Tatchell. Bill Vickers emerged with a badly swollen eye after an encounter with Sully Sullivan at the Nelson blue line. Vickers was getting up steam for a rush and never saw it coming as Sully hit him.

The middle session was scoreless, but was a particularly rugged session. Harry Brown was throwing out bodychecks with abandon when he wasn't blazing down the ice with a goal in his eye. Johnny Arichuk just missed the net on one attempt to beat Kilburn, and seconds later nearly made good his first miss. Nelson was banging away at the Kimberley goal when Kimberley lost Sanderson who went off for boarding Vickers, but the breaks weren't coming their way. Kilpatrick went through on a brilliant, but unsuccessful rush.

Sullivan again tackled Vickers, finally winding up in the penalty box for tripping him with his skates.

Remarkable saves were registered by Seaby in the hectic third stanza. Early in the period he outguessed Sam Calles when the Dynamiter had only Seaby to beat.

Following the battle in which two players went off, Tatchell steamed in but was tripped by Sullivan. This left Kimberley with three players to Nelson's four. Vickers missed by inches on two shots as Nelson piled in and the home team nearly evened it up. Kilpatrick fooled Bill Johnson nicely and the big defenceman broke his stick in his attempt to lay Killy low.

SEABY STALLS 'EM

Fargher, hit by Holditch in the Nelson zone, looked groggy but kept on and just missed a close one. Jesse Seaby came out to beat Holditch in what seemed an impossible save and he was forced to save again seconds later as Kimberley pressed with Len Bicknell off on an interference penalty.

The Leafs were hammering away in the Kimberley zone when Brown broke away after taking Kavanagh's pass and broke up the game with the winning goal.

Ed Benson, Trail Hockey Club President, chose Harry Brown, Jesse Seaby and Cliff Kilburn as the three stars.

TOAST and TEA

BY J. A. MARTIN

We heard the other day a strange story about Leonardo da Vinci. He was for a long time engaged on his picture of The Last Supper. He was able to find a model who satisfied him as representing Christ, after a long search, but he was not able to find a model whose face might seem appropriate to that of Judas. Then one day in the street he did see such a face. Anybody looking at it in the group of the disciples would know immediately whom he represented. As he drew from his new model they entered into conversation. "We have met before," said the model. "Don't you remember?" "No," said the artist, "I don't remember. When was it?" "It was nine years ago," replied the model, "when I sat to you as a model for the portrait of Christ."

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

Kootenay Air Service Seeks Charters for Interior and Spokane Routes

TRAIL, B.C., March 6 — Application has been made by the Kootenay Air Service to the Air Transport Board at Ottawa for a charter to establish a non-schedule passenger and goods airplane service in the Kootenay, it has been announced by Donald Hermon. Kootenay Air Service is a partnership of Mr. Hermon and George Brown.

The purpose of the proposed new non-scheduled service which would be based at Trail, would be to act as a feeder service linking up with the main lines through Lethbridge and the Okanagan. Application for charter for similar service to Spokane has also been made.

A three-passenger and pilot all-steel amphibian plane is to be the first unit with others to be added as traffic expands. Should the application be approved and charter granted, the company will be incorporated as a limited company.

The company would use the Columbia Gardens airport and if the mooted dock or wharf on the city waterfront became a reality it would be highly advantageous in the landing and docking of commercial and visiting passenger planes. Customs services for incoming planes from the United States are available at both Trail and Nelson.

Car Insurance Becomes Sask. Law

Bill to Support Venereal Disease Control Progresses

REGINA, March 6 (CP) — The Saskatchewan Government's compulsory automobile accident legislation covering every Saskatchewan motorist and pedestrian against personal injury to a maximum of $5000, became law tonight as it and nine other measures were given royal assent by Lt.-Gov. R. J. M. Parker in the Legislature.

The insurance bill, previously described by the Liberal opposition as the "greatest hoax ever perpetrated on the people of any Province under the guise of insurance," sets up an insurance fund and will be operated by the C.C.F. Government insurance office.

Ordinary motorists will pay an extra $5 for their auto licenses starting this month and $1 extra for their driver's licenses. Rates scale higher for taxies and commercial and public vehicles.

Among other measures given royal assent were the Provincial Lands Act providing for alocation of school lands to veterans and the Oil and Gas Wells Act which prohibits the drilling or operation of any oil or gas well in the Province without a license.

Earlier the House gave second reading to an act making changes in the setup of the University of Saskatchewan, providing among things for enlargement of the Board of Governors from 10 to 14 members, five instead of three of whom would be appointed by the Government. Arthur Procter (Lib—Moosomin) said this increased Government representation was to be "regretted."

Second reading also was given to a new act for the prevention and control of venereal disease. It would require every physician to report V.D. cases, every person afflicted to take treatment, and give wide powers to medical health boards and officers wide powers to seek out the disease.

Power would be given to close public places such as dance halls and hotels if these were determined a source of infection. Penalties are provided for infractions of the act.

Missouri to Carry Reminder of U.S. Strength

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The 45,000-ton battleship Missouri, symbol of victory over Japan, was assigned today to visit Turkey and several Mediterranean ports.

Its mission is one into which any who cares to do so can read political significance in the light of Russian moves in the Eastern Mediterranean. But the State Department said that "there are no political implications."

The mighty battleship, on which the Japanese signed their surrender, will leave New York March 21 to bear to Istanbul the body of Mehmet Munir Ertegun, Turkish Ambassador who died at his post here in November, 1944. The mission is one for which precedent would dictate the use of a cruiser.

Returning from Istanbul, the Missouri, escorted by the destroyer Power, will call at the Greek Port of Piraeus and the politically less critical ports of Alexandria, Naples, and Tangier.

Some diplomatic authorities said that whether it was intended so or not, the trip to Turkey and Greece unquestionably would have diplomatic meaning to the extent that it serves as a reminder of the sea power and military strength of the United States—strength which Secretary Byrnes said his Government would use to back up the principles of the United Nations Charter.

Russia several days ago renewed informally her old demand for a base in the Dodecanese Islands in the Eastern Mediterranean.

SEES PROSPEROUS YEARS FOR AREA

FORT WILLIAM, March 6 (CP)—N. P. North of Winnipeg, General Superintendent, Manitoba District Canadian National Railways, here today in an interview forecast the next two years would be "prosperous ones" for the lakehead and Northwestern Ontario.

He said there would be considerable grain moved via the CNR from the Prairies and heavy iron ore shipments, about 1,000,000 tons, from the Steep Rock, Ont., mines this year.

He foresaw increased mining activity and said the railway had a large budget of maintenance work to be done when materials are available.

AVERT STRIKE

NEW YORK, March 7 (Thursday) (AP) — Agreement of officials of the National Federation of Telephone Workers on terms for settlement of the threatened national telephone strike was reported authoritatively in Washington early today. The strike had been set for 6 a.m., E.S.T.

However, a Labor Department official said announcement of the terms of the agreement between the Federation and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company was being delayed pending approval by member unions of the Federation.

Demonstrations May Greet UNO Commission

By WILLIAM B. KING

TRIESTE, March 6 (AP)—An air of expectation and apprehension pervades Trieste and the disputed territory of the Julian March (Venezia Giulia) as residents, divided into three camps of opinion, await the long-expected visit from the United Nations Commission, whose arrival may be a signal for mass demonstrations.

Recent demonstrations have indicated, however, the ability of the armed civil police to maintain order.

The situation in Trieste itself has been intensified further by the presence of a number of refugees who have fled from Yugoslavia, by reports of Yugoslav troop concentrations in the zone, by attacks against the Allied Military Government in the Yugaslav press and radio and by occasional acts of political violence.

The elongated triangle of land called Julian March lies athwart the Italo-Yugoslav frontier, with its upper angle pointed to Austria and the countries of the Danube basin and its lower point jutting deeply into the sealanes of the Adriatic.

This strip of mingled Slovene and Italian populations lives in uneasy, unsettled, transitory existence partly under A.M.G. administration and partly under the Yugoslav Military Government.

Approximately one-third of the area, consisting mainly of the city of Trieste and rail and road communications into Central Europe, is under Anglo-American control. A.M.G. efforts to admister their area without prejudice to the eventual sovereignty has resulted in charges of partisanship on both sides.

The campaign for Yugoslav sovereignty is centred in the well-integrated, energetic Julian Communist Party, although the Italian Communists do not concur.

The mainspring of the Yugoslav claim is the desire to rescue approximately 500,000 Slovenes and Croats who were put under Italian rule by a decision following the last war. All sides agree that Italy made a mess of administering the area.

Sister Dies; Served in Kootenay Indian Schools

CALGARY, March 6 (CP)—Pioneer sister in the Roman Catholic Church in Western Canada Sister Casilda (Marguerite Schoffen) 88, died in a Calgary hospital today. She was a member of the Sisters of Providence at Lacombe Home in Midnapore.

Born in Minnesota, Sister Casilda came from there to the Kootenay Indian Schools in 1896. Later she moved to St. Joseph's School for Indian children in Cluny where she was Sister Superior for many years. In 1925 she went to the Lacombe Home. Some years later she went to St. Genevieve's Orphanage in New Westminster, B.C.

Sister Casilda celebrated her diamond jubilee in the sisterhood two years ago.

She is survived by a sister, Miss Elizabeth Schoffen, Washington, and several nieces and nephews in the United States.

Solemn requiem mass will be celebrated at Lacombe Home Chapel Saturday.

Howe, Research Head Doubt If Valuable Information Lost

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP) — Hon. C. D. Howe, Federal Minister of Reconstruction and Supply, and Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of the National Research Council, threw doubt today on the value or importance of any atomic-bomb information that may have been given by alleged spies now under arrest in Ottawa.

Dr. Mackenzie is travelling with Mr. Howe.

"I doubt that there was any great value in any information that was given," Mr. Howe said.

Dr. Mackenzie was careful to state he did not know exactly what information was given out but declared he is convinced it contained nothing about atomic power that had not been previously published in the Smythe report in the United States.

British to Quadruple Ocean Flights

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 6 (CP Cable)—The British Overseas Airways Corporation, with a wartime record of daily trans-Atlantic service, plans to quadruple the number of its flights as soon as planes and crews are available. The new plans call for 28 flights weekly incoming and the same number outgoing.

The government company is Britain's only entrant in the North Atlantic flying race under the Labor government's policy for nationalization of all British airways.

The regular year-around two-way ferry service operated by B.O.A.C. between Prestwick, Scotland, and Dorval Airport, Montreal, will be maintained. The first expansion step will be the addition of an almost parallel daily land-plane service between the United Kingdom and New York. Then both trans-Atlantic services will be doubled.

But B.O.A.C. has insufficient crews to permit immediate expansion and its planes, besides being few in number, are converted warcraft which leave much to be desired.

To help meet the aircrew shortage, three flying boats which have maintained a weekly service to Baltimore have been withdrawn and under present plans will not be restored.

Under the British government program, B.O.A.C. has the British monopoly on the North Atlantic run in competition with Trans-Canada Air Lines and several United States private companies. It also has British monopoly right on all Empire routes including the trans-Pacific.

Another government company will operate European services and a third the services to South America.

YOUNGSTERS FIND PENICILLIN WASHED ON BEACH

PORT ALBION, B.C., March 6 (CP)—A water-soaked package containing 100,000 Oxford units of penicillin has been found by children walking on the beach at Wreck Bay on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

The package was turned over to Mrs. Frank Doiron of Port Albion, who is keeping it in a cooler. Mrs. Doiron said the penicillin is in good condition, sealed in 17 glass containers. She has been advised to send it to the Provincial Health Laboratories at Victoria.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 6 (CP)—Seattle Ironmen forged into a one-game lead in the best-of-three Northern Division Pacific Coast Hockey League semi-finals when they turned back Portland Eagles 3-1 here tonight.

Eddie Dartnell, Dick Milford and Maurice Duffy were Seattle marksmen while Eddie Shamlock netted Portland's lone counter.

Reaffirms U.S. Charter Support

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

COLUMBUS, O., March 6 (AP)—President Truman reaffirmed today the United States' stout support of the United Nations Charter before an assemblage of church leaders to whom he also appealed for support of his domestic legislative program. Mr. Truman told the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America:

"The United States expects to support that charter.

"It expects to defend that charter. It expects to expand and perfect that charter. And we are confident that all the other United Nations expect to do the same."

The President also took occasion to remark that "certain interests" were so "greedy for gold" that they were lobbying to defeat his domestic legislative program.

The President told the church delegates that if the people "really believed in the brotherhood of man," it would "not be necessary" to seek a bill creating a permanent fair employment practices commission to prevent racial and other discrimination in job giving.

And, in what was seen as a bid for church support of bogged-down measures, he declared:

"A truly religious fervor among our people would go a long way toward obtaining a national health program, a national housing program, and an extended and improved social security program."

He said there was a crying need "for an Isaiah or a Saint Paul to reawaken a sick world to its moral responsibilities."

The Geneva version of the Bible, often known as the Breeches Bible, is so called because in it Adam and Eve made breeches of fig leaves.

Details of Secret Floating Docks Revealed

By RONALD BEDFORD

LONDON, March 6 (Reuters)—Details of a hitherto secret weapon—concrete floating docks as big as the Queen Mary—which were to be used by Britain had the war against Japan continued, and additional information about the ring of sea forts encircling Britain which enabled munition and food convoys to reach the islands from the United States and Canada, were revealed today by G. A. Maunsell, consulting engineer for design and construction of the Admiralty.

Mr. Maunsell told the story to the members of the Royal Society of Arts. The floating docks, or arks, were specially built to repair within air-striking distance of the Japanese coast any units of the British fleet damaged in action.

They were fitted as floating hotels to accomodate at least 600 dockyard specialists and were put in hand in the Summer of 1945.

"Had the war continued they would have been ready for service by Christmas," he said.

Mr. Maunsell is the man who invented and perfected the heavily-armed sea forts which drove off German bombers which tried to raid convoys as they steamed up Britain's river estuaries.

"These sea forts were planted far out in the open sea at various points around our coasts," he said. "Each fort was a complete prefabricated hotel accomodating 100 citizens complete with its own kitchens, power stations, drainage system and furniture. Built of reinforced concrete, the pre-fabrication work took two months."

"Living quarters for the crew, the magazines and a great deal of complicated machinery were housed inside the cyclindrical towers. Each tower consisted of seven storeys so that men and material were accomodated under water. But in spite of the rough treatment they received there was no leakage. Many aircraft and flying bombs were shot down by the men who manned these forts."

See Red Parallel of Churchill Talk by Kalinin

LONDON, March 6 (CP) — References in the speech of Winston Churchill at Fulton, Mo., Tuesday, to Russia's post-war objectives today called the attention of observers here to a previous speech by Michael Kalinin, President of the Soviet Union.

The British Conservative Party leader asked: "What are the limits if any, to the expansive and proselytizing tendencies of Soviet Russia and its Communist International organization?"

In the January issue of Bolshevik, official periodical of the Communist Party, Kalinin defended tactical alliances in emergency periods, recalling "How our party during various phases of its struggle reverted to practical compromises with bourgeois Liberals and small Bourgeoisie while at the same time carrying on a merciless struggle against them in principal political questions . . . Bolsheviks forever continue this policy."

He claimed Communists have established their right to leadership by emerging "as chief organizers and leaders in the holy struggle against Fascism not in any single occupied country but literally in all such countries." He cited Yugoslavia, Greece, Holland, Belgium and Norway where Communists "became chief initiators of unification of all true patriots and Democrats."

Sylvain Mangeot, a Reuters News Agency diplomatic correspondent, said British official quarters have discussed with interest the implications of the article for the future of relations between British Labor Government and Moscow.

Mangeot continued: "The Kalinin article provides a noteworthy parallel to the Churchill speech in the following respects:

"1. It is an historical review by an elder statesman of world conflict of Communism with rival Democratic forces in the light of circumstances which have emerged from war;

2. It is at least as frank in its criticism of forces opposing Communism as Mr. Churchill in his condemnation of present Soviet tendencies;

"3. It uncompromisingly advovocates continuation of revolutionary tactics and the technique of international Communism just as Mr. Churchill stoutly upholds Democratic ideals within the framework of Western Christian tradition."

SHACKLING OF CANADIAN PRISONERS COMES UP AT TRIAL

NUERNBERG, March 6 (AP)—Col.-Gen. Alfred Johl, last chief-of-staff of the German army, today asked the permission of the International Military Tribunal to introduce in his defence reports by Hitler's headquarters relative to the fettering of German prisoners captured by the Canadians in the Dieppe raid.

Because of the alleged fettering of the Germans, the German High Command ordered reprisals against Canadian prisoners of war under it control, Johl's counsel told the court. The reports by Nazi headquarters were said to be dated Sept. 2 and Oct. 7, 1945.

Jodl's counsel also asked for production of Gen. George Marshall's 1945 report to President Truman to disprove a charge that Jodl was a "warmonger."

"These notes by one of the Allies' most outstanding officers about the activity of the German High Command General Staff relieve Jodl of the reproach of having been a warmonger with far-reaching plans of conquest," Defence Counsel Franz Exner said in requesting that the Marshall report be furnished Jodl for his defence.

In addition, the defence demanded the right to present a Nazi foreign office compilation of Red Cross reports relative to breaches of International Law by the Allied powers as "cause for high command reprisals;" and the Soviet official view of partisan warfare in White Russia as evidence justifying "thorough counter measures."

Earlier, the Tribunal, on written request from Hermann Goering's counsel, postponed the opening of the No. 1 defendant's defence from tomorrow until Friday.

SHARP CONTRAST BETWEEN SIR HARTLEY AND BEVIN

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 6 (CP)—No one looks less like the usual conception of a trade unionist than debonair Sir Hartley William Shawcross, 44, Attorney-General who spoke for trade unionists when he opened the House of Commons debate on repeal of the Trade Disputes Act.

Speaking as a member of the Labor Government Sir Hartley was like the movie conception of a successful lawyer for the defence. His dark smooth hair gleamed and his plum-colored tie was matched with a plum-colored handkerchief peeping from the breast pocket of his dark coat.

He spoke easily, coldly, with none of the wrath displayed by Foreign Secretary Bevin, who also took part in the debate. Mr. Bevin, who spent a lifetime organizing unions and fighting their battles, battered the dispatch box on the Commons table as he emphasized his words. He remembered vividly the furies of the general strike in 1926 and passage of the Disputes Act in 1927, designed to make recurrence of a general walkout impossible.

Sir Hartley stood erect, his voice calm and his motions unhurried, as dispassionate as when he denounced traitors in recent London trials or presented the British case against German war criminals at Nuernberg.

When the general strike was staged Sir Hartley had been called to the bar for only a year. He took first class honors in all his legal examinations and was senior law lecturer at Liverpool University from 1927 to 1934. His hobby is yachting.

Amendment: Members of Parliament, accustomed to long, involved sentences, had to struggle through this amendment to the industrial industries bill, moved by James Griffiths, Minister of Insurance:

"This act shall, in its application to members of a police force within the meaning of the Police Pensions Act, 1921, and persons employed in respect of which benefits are payable under that act as extended by or under any enactment, have effect subject to such modifications as may be prescribed."

ONE FOR JOE

Pipe for Joe: Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, who goes from Moscow to be British Ambassador in Washington, is an inveterate pipe-smoker. During a visit to London once he decided to take back an English pipe to Generalissimo Stalin.

The familiar theme of wartime scarcity was sounded at the exclusive pipe shop he visited. Sir Archibald explained who he was, said he wanted the pipe as a gift for Mr. Stalin.

The salesman looked blank. Then a great light dawned.

"If, Sir, it's for Mr. Joseph Stalin, I think we can spare one."

Start U.B.C. Physics Building

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP) — The University of British Columbia marked the construction of its first permanent building in over 20 years today when Chancellor Eric W. Hamber turned the first sod of the new $700,000 physics building during a noon-hour ceremony.

Members of the Board of Governors and prominent Vancouver business men attended the ceremony.

In a brief address, Chancellor Hamber referred to the new building as a "long looked for, and desperately needed structure."

Tribute to the UBC Department of Physics was paid by Dr. C. J. McKenzie, President of the National Research Council.

"No other scientists," said Dr. McKenzie, "have made a greater contribution to Canadian science, than have the UBC physicists with whom I was privileged to work."

Dr. G. M. Shrum, head of the Physics Department, said that 3300 students were registered in physics courses this year at UBC.

The new building will embody all the modern improvements for research and will house facilities for carrying on research work in nuclear and atomic physics.

DISTURBING ELEMENT IN BIG THREE RELATIONS

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—A disturbing new element beset suspicion-riddled Big Three relations today—Winston Churchill's plea for quick creation of an Anglo-American military alliance.

Two schools of diplomatic thought here reacted to the impact of the Churchill address. One held that it would bring hidden distrust out into the open and force a showdown; the other that it would bolster belief that security must entail spheres of influence.

Mr. Churchill's words came only five days after State Secretary Byrnes said the United States must stand ready to fight, if necessary, to protect the principles of the United Nations Charter.

On top of Mr. Byrnes' words have piled these developments in recent weeks to strengthen arguments in some quarters that another meeting among the Chiefs of State has become essential:

1. British and United States protests sent to Moscow against the failure of Russia to withdraw Red Army forces from Iran by the March 2 Treaty deadline.

2. A second United States note of protest based on a Chinese report to this Government that the Soviet Union has claimed Japanese industries in Manchuria as "war booty" and has proposed joint operation of much of the territory's basic industry. The United States has taken the stand that no such reparations settlemen in Manchuria could be undertaken by Russia alone or by only Russia and China.

3. Canada's disclosure — and Russia's acknowledgement—that Soviet agents in Canada attempted to obtain military secrets through espionage.

4. Published reports from Dairen that Russian troops were deporting Japanese forces to Siberia for use in labor battalions.

5. A Soviet announcement that the Kuriles, strategic chain of islands across the entrance to the Sea of Okhotsk, and Southern Sakhalin, have been incorporated into Russia on the strength of a Yalta agreement but without ratification by the United Nations.

New Constitution for Japan Announced

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, March 6 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur announced a new and radically altered Japanese constitution in which war and its threat "are forever renounced as a means of settling disputes with other nations."

The document vests sovereignty in the people and says the Emperor is "a symbol of state," deriving "his position from sovereign will of the people." He "never shall have powers related to the government."

The new constitution also limits the Emperor's state functions to such specified acts as proclaiming elections and convoking the Diet and says these functions may be delegated as provided by law.

It specifically states that maintenance of land, sea and air forces "as well as other war potential will never be authorized. The right of belligerency of the state will not be recognized."

The document was announced suddenly after a two-day Cabinet meeting. It will be submitted to the next Diet session—presumably shortly after the April 10 general election—for approval.

The constitution includes an unprecedented clause for establishment of a regency. It also specifies authorization of the Diet before property can be given to the Imperial House or disbursements can be made by it.

It abolishes the right of peerage to any national or govermental power and provides for an end to the peerage upon death of those now holding titles.

It resolves "that never again shall we be visited with the horrors of war through action of the government."

All Yours
TO WORRY ABOUT
Unless you shift the burden

When a relative or friend names you in his Will as executor of his estate, the time will come, (if you survive him), when everything that is his, — business, investments, debts and family problems — will be all yours — to worry about.

If you are a busy man or are not experienced in estate administration, you would find that arranging for Probate, valuing Assets, establishing Debts, paying Succession Duties, dealing with Investments, setting up Trusts, making Distributions, and attending generally to the many details of Administration, would be more than you could handle, with justice to either the estate, the heirs, or your own affairs.

Should this happen to you, the thing to do is appoint The Royal Trust Company your Agent, to administer the estate, which would relieve you of all but superficial functions as executor.

Conversely, and in consideration for the friend you might yourself appoint, be sure to name The Royal Trust Company in your own Will as executor and trustee of your estate, to act alone, or with a relative or friend as co-executor or adviser.

It often pays in many ways to have the job well done.

See Danger to Working Class in "Anti-Soviet Drive"

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP) — An immediate trial for Canadians "allegedly detained for investigation in the spy scare" was demanded by the Marine Workers and Boilermakers Industrial Union (C.C.L.) at their regular meeting this week, it was announced today.

W. L. White, Union president, announced the Union's attitude in a prepared statement.

The Union said these people should also be granted "full democratic rights to obtain counsel on their behalf or be immediately released."

They added that the "present press campaign" is an attempt of "anti-Soviet, pro-Fascist elements in Canada to disrupt relations with our wartime ally as a prelude to an attack on the Canadian working class."

WANT VANCOUVER TO RESUME OPERATION OF SEA ISLAND PORT

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP)—A proposal that Vancouver City Council resume operation of the Sea Island airport, with the Federal Government paying an annual subsidy to cover cost and maintenance of improvements to the field, was made today by Reconstruction Minister Howe.

Mister Howe placed the proposal before the City's Special Airport Committee at a private conference.

Russians Strip Manchuria

(Editor's note: This dispatch is written by a member of The Associated Press Shanghai staff just returned from Russian-occupied Manchuria.)

SHANGHAI, March 6 (AP)—Possibly only the Kremlin knows when the Russians will leave Manchuria.

But it is certain that when and if they do leave, the land will no longer be the same rich industrial region the Japanese built there after 1931.

Systematic stripping of thousands of Manchuria's best factories, especially in the region of Mukden which is the industrial heart of the territory, now is all but complete.

Heavy and light machinery, from locomotives to screw-drivers, has been carted off as booty.

Manchuria still has its extensive and productive farmlands, but the industrial complex that was Mukden is no more potent industrially than a wheat field.

Principals Should Take Action With Pea Shooters

WINDSOR, Ont., March 6 (CP) —Public School Inspector A. R. Davidson today coupled the food famine in Europe with activities of boys with pea shooters and declared the time has come for school principals to take action.

School grounds, he said, are becoming covered with wasted beans at a time when millions are crying for food.

The inspector said never mind seizing the pea shooters—educate the boys to the meaning of food.

NO KISS FOR MacARTHUR

TOKYO, March 6 (AP)—Madame Mary Akiya, an opera singer, failed to kiss General MacArthur, but the United States Army newspaper Stars and Stripes gave her credit—all over the front page—for trying.

The singer, who will give a concert here March 13, went to Gen. MacArthur's office to arrange the kiss in gratitude for the liberation of Japan which made it possible for her to sing in public again.

She couldn't get past Col. H. B. Wheeler, Gent MacArthur's Aide-de-Camp, but didn't kiss him because "no photographers were present," she said.

Australian Gov't Resumes Session

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CANBERRA, March 6 (CP Cable)—Australia's Federal Parliament met here today in an air of informality and quickly began the business of debating an opposition motion of censure against the Labor Government led by Prime Minister Chifley.

The Government faces a general election this year and today's meeting was a resumption of an adjourned wartime session.

Liberal leader Robert Menzies opened the censure debate with an attack on the Government charging a lack of clear-cut policy on Indonesia, a lack of determined effort to help Britain with food, docility in labor disputes and slowness in its reconversion program.

Mr. Chifley replied briefly to the Liberal leader and dismissed the Menzies charges as "a preliminary election speech."

The tall and silver-haired Menzies is acknowledged the most impressive speaker in Parliament but he was heckled from the Labor side where Government members outnumber the combined Liberal and Country Party opposition 2 to 1.

The censure motion is bound to be voted down when the debate concludes because of the big Government majority. After that Legislation will be brought in.

He's Eager to Marry but Shy With His Girls

By JANE ATKINSON

Quite a lot of letters have been coming in from returned servicemen who complain that they're painfully shy and self-conscious with girls.

In some cases this feeling may be because these letter-writers have been away from home for a long time—living in a purely masculine world—and as a consequence find it difficult to get back the easy give-and-take that's normal between American girls and boys. Where this is true, the remedy obviously is just to keep on accepting invitations to parties, going out whenever asked, and making it a point to invite a girl to a movie, a dance, a hockey game or whatever, at reasonable intervals. Or, in other words, to take advantage of every opportunity to practice the social gestures, and before long they'll become second-nature again.

But, on the other hand, there are the letters that indicate it's more than merely a problem of readjustment to civilian life. In these cases the writers are suffering from an inborn shyness that has evidently made their lives miserable as long as they can remember. And this is a much harder problem.

Here is a typical letter of that kind:

"Dear Miss Atkinson:

"I really am ashamed to admit this at my age, but I have decided to tell you my problem. I am a man of 28, single, and would very, very much like to marry.

"But words cannot express how angry I am at myself for being so bashful and shy. I blush very easily, and I also have a tremendous inferiority complex. Occasionally, when I am in the company of as many as four or five people, I am completely speechless and feel very embarrassed. In other words, to put it bluntly, I feel like a dummy. I have some men acquaintances, but no girl friends whatsoever. I have just been discharged from the navy after almost five years of service.

"I would very much like to know what gives men this handicap and how I can overcome it.

"Discouraged Veterans"

It would probably take a psychiatrist to find out what gives you this handicap, but you don't necessarily need one to help you get over it. For there are plenty of painfully bashful people cursed with an inferiority complex who do get over it with a little patience and persistence. And, most cheering of all, many of the timid ones do eventually find the right girl—or the right man, as the case may be—marry her, and live happily ever after.

How do they do it?

Well, primarily, I think, they get so interested in other people that they forget themselves. They don't let themselves stay away from parties and other social gatherings just because they sometimes feel uncomfortable at them. They make it a rule to go everywhere they're asked, and, when they're talking to someone, find out what the other person is interested in and then let him or her do the talking. The other person loves it, and it saves them from that embarrassment of feeling "completely speechless," as you say. And the next thing they know, the other person is asking what they're interested in, and so one thing leads to another until they find they're having a good time.

There are, of course, books you can read from which you might get some helpful ideas. Did you know, too, that there are courses you can take which aim to help people develop social poise? Why don't you write me again, giving me your name and address, and I'll send you a list of books and tell you about the courses.

ALWAYS READY FOR HER MEALS

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B_1, D, Riboflavin (G) and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Climate Plays Big Part in Many Lives

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

For ages, people have looked upon change of climate as a good method for treating a number of different diseases and there is scientific evidence to indicate that climatic conditions do have an effect on the health.

According to a doctor the chief effect of climate comes from its control over the rate at which heat is lost from the body. For every unit of heat which is used in the body, three units are lost from the skin.

As long as the surroundings are cool, this large amount of waste heat is gotten rid of easily and a person may maintain a high level of activity, but when heat loss becomes more difficult due to living in a tropical climate, the production of heat in the body must slow down and life go on at a more leisurely pace.

According to doctors, this slowing down strikes hardest at the tissues in the brain and may rob a person of his initiative and his ability to think clearly and also may cause slowing down of growth and development of the young. The people living in warmer climates have lowered vitality and a quieter type of life. Those in temperate and cooler climates are more vigorous but live a more exhausting life.

Doctors believe that climate has an effect on such diseases as diabetes, toxic goitre, hardening of the arteries, heart failure and other conditions. Climate plays a part in disease in other ways. For example, storms bringing wide and frequent changes in air pressure and temperature seem to act as a factor in starting respiratory and rheumatic troubles.

These disorders, such as colds, sinus infections, bronchitis, pneumonia, and arthritis are among the most frequent diseases affecting those who live in temperate and in cold climates. This is true even though the resistance to infection of those living in temperate climates may be higher than among people living in warmer climates where these diseases occur much less frequently.

Climate may also play a part in food consumption. In hot climates people do not eat as much and, hence, frequently may suffer from vitamin and mineral deficiencies. The temperate climates have many blessings but also some drawbacks. However, by adjusting the manner of living these drawbacks can be overcome.

Father and Baby Arrive, Halifax

HALIFAX, March 6 (CP)—Thirteen-months-old Victor Miller, whose mother died tragically in England two weeks before they were to sail for Canada, arrived here today aboard the liner Mauretania. He was accompanied by his father, William Miller of Wapella, Sask., who flew to Britain when he received news that his wife had been strangled after a dance in Canterbury, England, Feb. 17.

During the voyage, the boy was cared for by Mrs. Louise Bourassa of Radville, Sask., who had her own story to tell of a trans-Atlantic wild-goose chase to join her serviceman husband.

The Canadian Red Cross appointed Mrs. Bourassa to care for the child. It was Mrs. Bourassa's second voyage to Canada.

Last March the Scottish war bride sailed aboard the Trooper Rangitana for Canada thinking her husband who was then serving with a New Zealand unit in Italy would soon join her at his home in Radville.

She got a job with Naval Service Headquarters in Ottawa but when her husband had not joined her by last July, she stowed away aboard the liner Pasteur at Halifax.

"I went aboard as a scrub woman," she told reporters this morning, "with a pail in one hand a mop in the other. Then I mixed with the British evacuees who were returning to their homes."

Mrs. Bourassa said she left the liner the same way she went aboard. She then found her husband had sailed the day before for Canada.

When she left England five days ago to join her husband "for sure this time" she boarded the Mauretania as a regular passenger, and not as a war bride. Her passport read "returned Canadian citizen."

Do YOU Know About the Man Who Found a Spider in His Newspaper ?

Back in the days when Mark Twain was editor of a newspaper, a subscriber wrote in to complain about finding a spider in his newspaper. The subscriber asked sarcastically if the spider was supposed to bring good or bad luck. Mark replied that it was neither . . . . the spider was just studying the paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that it could go to that store, spin his cobwebs across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace the rest of its life.

Mark Twain was exaggerating, of course . . .

IT DOESN'T look as if there would be cobwebs anywhere for a while. Business in Canada seems to be jumping right over the gap which Reconversion was supposed to create. Instead of any noticeable recession while Industry tools up for peacetime production, business and sales volume keep right on cracking records. But merchandising will rapidly change from the wartime methods.

In 1946 the buying public will go back to that Canadian custom of choosing exactly the things it wants . . . the brands, the quality, the stores. There will be lots of new firms bidding for their trade. In this new era Newspaper Advertising will be the most powerful force in the competitive battle.

Hope to Extend Exchange of Photographs

With pride of the scenic attractions of the Kootenays strongly in mind, the executives of the Trail and Nelson Camera Clubs are planning through joint excursions and exhibitions to combine the pleasures of an absorbing hobby with the publicity that comes from displaying their prints both locally and by exchange with other clubs far afield, including the United States.

At one of the mitial home and home meetings held in Nelson Sunday, arrangements were made to exchange their prints of the month for mutual criticism by holding four exchanges during the year in March, June, September and December. In addition the Nelson club will make a definite contribution to Trail's annual salon and as a start on a special Kootenay exhibit, Trail will assist Nelson in making a display of scenes from the Kootenays at the projected Fall Fair to be held in Nelson. To this display the work of any photographer in the East or West Kootenay is invited. It is hoped that many more camera clubs will be formed to take part in the interchange of prints and ideas. Production of miscellaneous subjects will be carried on as usual.

Both clubs though young in formation have many capable and experienced members keenly interested in educating young people in the art of photography. It is certainly to the advantage and a grand opportunity for those wishing to learn photography to join either of these clubs, stated Ross Fleming. The splendid friendship and cooperation existing between the two clubs portent a rosy future and a welcome bond of unity between Trail and Nelson, he continued.

The Trail representatives at Sunday's meeting were President W. G. Kennedy, Secretary L. M. Rimes, W. Schultz, P. Archibald and F. C. Ransom, while Nelson was represented by President E. G. Kidd, Secretary M. K. Thain, Vice-President P. Robinson, Tom and Ross Fleming.

Oscars Likely for Milland, Crawford, Bergman

HOLLYWOOD, March 6 (AP)—Getting ready for its annual Oscar-giving party tomorrow night, the word in Hollywood is that the Academy Award will go either to Joan Crawford, who made a comeback in "Mildred Pierce," or to Ingrid Bergman, for "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Speculation is that Ray Milland is head and shoulders above any other candidate for male acting honors through his performance in "The Lost Weekend."

BAKER LAKE, N.W.T., March 6 (CP)—The Navy beat the Army in Exercise Muskox beard growing contest. The champion is Lieut. P. P. Croal of Port Arthur who beat out Lt.-Col. G. W. Rowley of Ottawa, Commander of the advance force which prepared the air strip at Baker Lake.

Beauty and length were the winning qualifications. The judge was Mrs. King-id-uack, an Eskimo housewife of the trading-post settlement.

She liked the soft quality of Lieut. Croal's beard, but explained: "I don't like beards. They tickle."

Grandmother-Member Champions Equality for Women, Condemns Classes

REGINA, March 6 (CP) — The Saskatchewan Legislature has a lone "Lady of Politics," a farmer's wife with a deep conviction about the equality of women. And when she speaks the House listens.

She is Mrs. Beatrice Trew, 48, mother of four and a grandmother as well. She confesses a deep interest in politics but says it was her farmer-husband who was responsible for getting her into the political picture in the first place.

It was he who insisted she accept the C.C.F. nomination in Southern Maple Creek constituency where she beat out a Liberal candidate in the 1944 Provincial election. Now he has to get along without her help on their half-section wheat-cattle farm near Lemsford while she attends the Legislature.

A native of Coates Mills, N.B., and daughter of a teacher-mother who was a "student of world affairs", she came to Saskatchewan to teach in 1918. Three years later she married and settled on the farm with her soldier-settler husband. Their two eldest sons are in the Army.

Mrs. Trew guesses her interest in affairs of state stem from her teaching days and from her mother. Lately, particularly since entering the Legislature, she has concentrated on championing the equality of women.

"No one would think of dictating to men the conditions under which they should live," she said.

Speaking in the Throne Speech debate before the 55-seat Legislature, Mrs. Trew continued to champion the rights of women.

She condemned the "stupid class snobbery" that made the domestic girl feel downtrodden, and said "we need a revolution in our thinking."

Varied Musical Program Enjoyed at Sorority Tea

On Saturday afternoon the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held their annual tea and musicale in Trinity United Church, sponsored by the Trinity Church Choir.

A capacity audience received the varied and interesting program, featuring Nelson artists. The entertainment was opened by Alfie Anderson, boy soprano, accompanied by Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson and he delighted the audience with two solos: "Gypsy Love Song" by Victor Herbert and "Pilgrim's Song" by T. Dunhill.

A beautiful rendering of Tschaikowsky's "Romance" was given by C. C. Halleran, on the organ, who prefaced his solo with an informal chat on the astounding number of actual physical movements required to play a piece of music.

Mrs. Verrica Deerward, accompanied by Mr. Halleran, was heard in two violin solos, "Son of the Plains" by Keler Bela and "The Old Refrain" by Fritz Kriesler. She was extremely well received, as was Miss Frances Prestley, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Tyler in her two beautiful solos: "Maids of Cadiz" by Demusset and "On Wings of Song" by Mendelssohn.

An excellent team, Miss Peggy Grimes and Miss Beverley McCosham, gave a spirited performance when they played, as a piano duet, the Hungarian Dances—Nos. 1 and 3 by Brahms, and the ever popular young baritone, Donald Brown, accompanied by Mr. Halleran, was heard in "Where'er You Walk" by Handel and "Duna" by Josephine McGill and Marjorie Pickthall. Mr. Halleran closed the program with another organ solo, "Prelude".

Tea was served to the guests in the church parlors which were effectively decorated in the Sorority colors of black and gold with plaques featuring shields and mottos of the Sorority. Mrs. S. A. Maddocks, Mrs. S. C. Coleman and Mrs. H. H. Currie presided at the attractively arranged tea table centred by yellow rosebuds and black and gold tapers.

Hollywood Gossip

Walker Gets Chance to Act; Bette Davis Mourning Death of Poodles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 6 (AP)—Robert Walker, a contentious character, says at least he is getting a chance to act.

"So far I have been playing naive boys," he says. He contends he is neither a boy (He is 27), nor naive (he didn't explain this).

His first chance to escape the gee-whiz type of role is in "Till the Clouds Roll By," the Jerome Kern biography on which Metro is lavishing most of its talent and a sizable hunk of dough. Walker is playing the late composer and he says it is a challenge to his acting ability.

"Most of the picture portrays Kern in middle age," he said. "Any actor will tell you it is easy to play youth or old age, but middle-age is tough."

When you se the English star, Rex Harrison, in "Anna and the King of Siam," you'll notice that he's photographed largely in profile. Not exactly because he's usually looking at Irene Dunne, who plays Anna, but because his make-up makes it a good idea. The slant eyes needed for the portrayal are achieved by the use of adhesive tape, concealed by makeup, and the tape is most uncomfortable. Sometimes excessive use of it will create painful water blisters, which are dangerous because of possible infections. To relieve the situation, only one eye is made up at a time. That's why you'll see so much of the handsome Harrison's profile.

Bette Davis is mourning the deaths of her twin poodles, who were 16 years old . . . Errol Flynn makes one of his rare radio appearances on the Jack Haley show Thursday to plug his recently published novel . . . Van Johnson arrives home this week, which will eliminate all those long-distance calls to Sonja Heinie . . . Gary Cooper will play a Virginia frontiersman in "Unconquered."

Highway Construction Can Be Done Much Faster

During the war construction of immense projects was carried out so rapidly that returned servicemen are going to be impatient at the slowness of government public works construction unless the lessons taught by the war are put to good effect.

Of course, there were none of the usual peacetime limitations to hamper wartime construction. Everything was done under forced draught, including the use of labor under military discipline — conditions which do not exist in normal times. But much of the speed of construction was due to use of modern equipment and modern stream-lined methods. The heavy bulldozer is a case in point.

Devastated portions of Europe are today witnesssing what can be accomplished in rapid time in reestablishing communications, the first essential to solving the problems of distribution which are hampering supply of fuel and food and clothing to the people.

The second report of the European Control of Inland Transport organization, published on 29th January, reports remarkable progress in the formidable task of restoring railway communications throughout Europe. Reconstruction of bridges and buildings, it says, will be far advanced by the end of the year. The report particularly mentions the opening of the new bridge across the river Ijssel, at Deventer, Holland, last November which has made possible the resumption through all services between North Germany and Western Holland — one of the main rail routes of Western Europe. Work on the Deventer Bridge was carried out by five companies of the Royal Engineers of the British Army who were responsible for the design and construction of trestles, piers and all superstructure while the Netherland Railways' engineers designed and constructed foundations with the assistance, where necessary, of British military equipment.

The original Deventer Bridge was completely destroyed by the Germans and the problem facing the British army engineers was to construct a new bridge across the 1600-feet wide flood plain of the Ijssel, sufficiently strong to withstand the worst Winter icing conditions, and providing a waterway not less than the original for the heavy shipping traffic on the river. The new bridge has been constructed 70 feet upstream from the old to permit the eventual building of a permanent bridge on the old site but has been constructed to last ten years. The main spans across the waterway consist of three 230 foot Everall sectional truss bridges — British military equipment specially designed for the replacement of damaged railway bridges and adaptable for any span from 90 to 400 feet. Everall bridging will carry the heaviest train loads without speed reduction and can be erected speedily on the most difficult sites. The spans of the Deventer Bridge are among the longest span built by the Allied forces in Western Europe.

Another important bridge just completed by British army engineers is the 2000-foot bridge across the Rhine at the historic Wesel Crossing. This bridge, which is being opened this month, carries two carriageways with cycle tracks and foot paths. The seven piers are made up of 70-foot long steel tubes, each nearly 2 feet across, filled with reinforced concrete. The control pier contains 24 of these tubes and the remainder 18 each. The bridge itself consists mostly of standard British Bailey bridges and the central span is 240 feet long. The method was to build a false Bailey Bridge, the wooden trestle bridge used by the original invasion forces, and then to run roadways of the final bridge across the false bridge on rollers. This work, which normally would take almost one year to complete, has been achieved by the British army in a little over three months. Work has continued seven days a week. By night "artificial moonlight" has been supplied to avoid interruption of the sappers' work. Under the direction of the Royal Engineers have been German civilian workmen and one skilled Steed Construction Company of the German Army. The Wesel Bridge is only a small part of the bridging work undertaken in the British zone by the Royal Engineers who by November had already restored over 230 bridges. The new Wesel Bridge will not only be an important communications link for the British Army of occupation but will also serve as one of the channels to Western Europe for products of industrial Western Germany.

Protecting State-Owned Air Lines by Keeping Up Rates

The United Kingdom — United States conference at Bermuda produced concessions by American air lines to the desire of the British Government to keep air rates higher than open competition would bring about, in order to favor the British state-owned lines.

It would seem in the long view that it would have been better if British private enterprise, which was prepared to take its chances in a competitive market, had been given a free hand, had been allowed to compete, using American-built planes if necessary, until British planes were available.

The prospect is that United States competition will not be seriously hampered, but that the development of international air travel will be checked and limited and prevented from ever finding out how cheap international air transport can really be.

D. K., Kimberley—What was the religion of Charles Darwin?

As a young man, Charles Darwin was a Christian. His later views on religion are best expressed by himself in his autobiography where he says: "In my most extreme fluctuations I have never been an atheist in the sense of denying the existence of a God. But I may say that the impossibility of believing that this grand and wondrous universe with our conscious selves arose through chance, seems to me the chief reason for the existence of God." Mr. Darwin frequently made use of expressions such as "with his god-like intellect," "I hope to heaven," but himself declared that he was subject to fluctuations of opinion on the subject of religion, and declined in answer to express a definite belief or disbelief.

ON THE SIDE

By E. V. DURLING

I look to thee in every need
And never look in vain.
I feel thy strong and tender love
And all is well again.
Discouraged in the work of life,
Disheartened by its load
Shamed by its failures or its fears
I sink beside the road;
But let me only think of thee
And then new heart springs up in me.
Samuel Longfellow.

Following an operation many people devote considerable conversation to it. Samuel Pepys, the immortal diarist, went even further. He regularly celebrated the anniversary of his operation. On this occasion he threw a party and drank a number of toasts to the surgeon who had carried him safely through a difficult and dangerous operation. There's an idea for you. After all, the anniversary of the day in which your life was saved is worth celebrating. Besides tossing a party you should send your surgeon an anniversary gift. And the nurse.

CHARMERS

Practically all the great woman charmers of history were over five feet, seven inches tall and weighed more than 135 pounds. Well-proportioned statuesque women appear to have a terrific appeal for men of importance. Lillian Russell was a good example of this type. Wherever she went, celebrated males battled for her smiles and attention. But Lillian was rarely impressed by wealth or fame. For example, the Crown Prince of Germany, who had been fawned upon by many celebrities of the stage, never got to first base with Miss Russell. When Lillian was appearing in Berlin, the Crown Prince was greatly attracted by her. To her hotel he sent an orderly with a message in which he invited her to go riding with him in the Tiergarten the next morning at eight. Lillian read the message and then said to the orderly: "Tell the Crown Prince I wouldn't get up at eight in the morning to see Washington cross the Delaware."

ASKING

Queries from Clients: Q. What seaside place had the slogan: "Where the fish bite and the mosquitoes don't?" A. That was the slogan of Sheepshead Bay, Long Island, which is now a part of Brooklyn. Q. Has any dramatic critic ever become an outstanding playwright or producer? A. William Archer, the famous British dramatic critic, wrote the play, "The Green Goddess," which was a terrific hit. Augustin Daly, considered one of the greatest producers in American stage history, was originally a dramatic critic.

Here's a favorite limerick:

A flea and a fly flew up a flue,
Said the flea to fly: "Oh, what shall we do?"
"Let us flee," said the fly,
"Let us fly," said the flea
So they fluttered and flew up a flaw in the flue.

SOUTHPAWS

Among the questions recently asked this department is the following: "When a man and wife are both left-handed are their children usually left-handed?" I am informed that Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moorhead, of Leechburg, Pa., are both left-handed. Their daughter is also left-handed. To top it off, their dog is also a southpaw. He shakes hands with his left paw.

PAYING THE CHECK

States a correspondent: "Over quite a long period I have noticed that Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) men are very adept at outfumbling the rest of the group when it comes to picking up the check. The most generous fellows and best spenders are those born under Taurus (April 21-May 20) and Cancer (June 21-July 22). A Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) will not try to outfumble when the bad news is presented, but, on the other hand, he won't fight very hard for the privilege of paying the check. Taurus and Cancer men will.

Today's Horoscope

If you are celebrating a birthday today, you should be more forward, assert yourself. You are slow, methodical and extremely careful in all you do. You are likely not to go through with plans you make, because of your cautious temperament. You are generous to a fault, and very tender-hearted, and too often allow others to impose upon you. Do not plan social functions or amusements today. A propitious time for dental appointments, mining, and all precision work is this evening.

English Family Names Latest Addition "John Uno"

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 6 (CP) — An English family named the latest addition to their flock "John Uno" to commemorate the Assembly of the United Nations here, and touched off one of those discussions dear to the British Press.

The Times of London devoted an editorial to "the great lottery of the font", remarking that "many people are christened in haste to repent at leisure" and predicting the eventual naming of "a little Miss Unrra."

"The evil that parents do lives after them, but it is interred at last," the editorial reflected. "The Almas (named after the Battle of Alma), at least the genuine vintage, are today a dwindling band, for they must be 92 years old."

People with odd names can, however, sometimes find humor in the situation, as demonstrated by Grace, Countess of Wemyss and March, whom Sir James Barrie once called "the most beloved and most bewitching of women." She died in London recently.

Lady Wemyss (pronounced Weems) drew gaily fantastic sketches for the family young fry. One showed a retinue of nightmare animals marching to a nightmare zoo and beneath she wrote this verse:

"Has dreadful dremyss,
"Oh, you should hear
"How Grannie scremyss
"When Grannie dremyss."

The Wemyss name, however, was not acquired at the font like John Uno's. But letters to the editor proved he is far from alone in the christening fantasy.

The writer's father, a clergyman, also was asked one Christmas to baptise an infant " 'Erald." He ventured "Harold," only to be pulled up with: "No, no. The name is 'Erald, like in the hymn, 'Ark the Erald Angels Sing."

The prize, if there was one, would have gone to this letter:

"What, if any, is the correct reply to be made by him who administers holy baptism when, in response to the direction, 'Name this child,' the godmother answers, 'Albertenry, an' don't pore too much water on 'im, Guv'nor, corse 'e's go' a corf.'"

Blake Allan, Frank Stringer Welcomed Home by Kinsmen

Nelson Kinsmen Club welcomed two recently returned Nelson servicemen and dealt with a variety of committee reports at its dinner meeting at the Hume Tuesday night.

Welcomed were Lieut. Blake Allan, who served overseas for nearly three years at Canadian Army Reinforcement Headquarters and at Repatriation Headquarters, and Lac. Jack Stringer, who spent three years overseas with the R.C.A.F. Lac. Stringer saw service with the Repair and Salvage Branch, on fighter and medium and heavy bomber squadrons in England, Belgium, Holland and Germany. He recalled a delightful five-day holiday in Northern Ireland, flying there with Gib Goucher of Nelson.

Other guests were Frank Sullivan and Cliff Kilburn of the Kimberley Dynamiters team and C. Poxon, Gyro Club member of Penticton.

LIST COMMITTEES

Chairman O. J. Tupper of the July 1 Celebration Committee named Chairmen, and assistants in some cases, of the various committees for the annual event. The Chairman will select other assistants. The Committees:

Tom Alexander, announcing; J. Wylie and A. T. Godfrey, advertising; W. A. Duckworth, soap box derby; H. A. D. Greenwood, parade; A. Cook, games; Gordon Burgess and L. Gustafson, gates and finances; Al Barton and Gordon Williams, sports, and G. F. Allan, entertainment.

Alderman T. S. Shorthouse reporting on the Kinsmen convention to be held in Nelson in May, described plans and asked for names of those able to offer billets to the visitors.

Frank Stringer reported that funds from the Kinauctions being held for kid hockey assistance were still being held pending another meeting with the Nelson Amateur Hockey Association.

MEMORIAL PLANNED

Leigh McBride of the Rehabilitation Committee reported that at a meeting of citizens, it was proposed to set up a memorial to the late Lieut. Hampton Gray, V.C. It was planned to have a bronze plaque cast and placed on the Vernon Street wall of the Civic Centre. A fitting inscription would be drawn up.

Ald. Shorthouse, Chairman of the Committee on plans for reception of servicemen, Mr. McBride and G. C. Wallach, were instructed to look after distribution of funds for the reception raised at a Kinauction. Ald Shorthouse said it was felt that the end of March would be the most opportune time for the reception as many men were expected to return in the next few weeks.

President Bud Greenwood, W. A. Duckworth and James Madden reported on the visit to the Lethbridge Shirtsleeve Bonspiel of members of the Club.

Films on Alaska and Science, shown by B. B. Stallwood, were enjoyed.

Press Again for Answer From Wartime Housing

Nothing having been heard from Wartime Housing, Ltd., in Toronto, on the City's application for the construction of 50 houses in Nelson for veterans, the City Council Monday night, on motion of Aldermen B. C. Affleck and H. H. Hinitt, authorized Alderman T. D. Rosling, who is leaving in a few days for Vancouver, to endeavor to get action, another wire also to be sent to Wartime Housing.

"WELCOME" SIGN SUGGESTED

Nelson's electric victory sign mounted on the Western edge of Gyro Park, which has been flashing its dots and dash for nearly three years past, beside the big electric "V", may soon give way to a peacetime sign.

Alderman Hinitt suggested that a new electric sign, perhaps "Welcome to Nelson," or other appropriate wording, should replace the victory sign, which has served its purpose.

This subject was referred to the Parks Committee for a report.

Two Lanes on Castlegar Ferry

TRAIL, B.C., March 5 — Although it was previously announced that the new steel ferry at Castlegar would accommodate three lanes of cars, James L. Webster, Rossland-Trail M.L.A., has learned from the Minister of Public Works that it will be impossible to use three lanes of traffic on the new ferry. This will mean that the extra 20 feet of length in the new ferry will accommodate two extra cars and that the entire ferry will carry 14 cars instead of the 21 originally reported.

Mr. Webster pointed out that his conversation with Hon. Herbert Anscomb demonstrated that three lanes would be impractical on the new ferry. It was also shown that the engine house would have to be mounted in the centre of the ferry to prevent listing.

A work gang from the Coast shipyard where the ferry sections were built is at present in Castlegar and has started the job of assembling the ferry sections.

V. K. Soharev Lectures on Swarm Control at Beekeepers' Meet

Nelson Beekeepers enjoyed a lecture on Swarm Control presented at the last meeting of the beekeepers by V. K. Soharev.

Swarm control, he said, was a very important manipulation in beekeeping. Swarm for the beekeepers meant loss of bees and honey, so beekeepers had to know how to prevent swarms.

Old methods of swarm controls as: "Cut out all green cells in the hive," or "Put more supers" and so on, were too primitive, not always effective, but in some cases harmful. For better results scientific methods were used and for this it was necessary to study natural impulse and the causes of swarming.

From a practical view, swarm for some beekeepers was a blessing, a sign that his bees were strong and healthy. For another beekeeper swarming was bad, as any bee disease. For some beekeepers swarm meant increase, prosperity; for others swarm meant loss of honey crop.

"If we do not want swarms, we have to know how to prevent them, we have to study the impulses and causes of swarming," Mr. Soharev said.

The theoretical view: law of nature—"Be active, strong and healthy for successful living and prosperity."

FOLLOW NATURE'S LAW

Bees followed this law of nature: they were very active to be strong; from early Spring to late Fall, every suitable day from early morning to late evening they carried honey, pollen, water, salt, etc., to feed young broods. Attendant bees at all times fed the queen and the queen laid eggs day and night, like a factory, turning food into eggs 15 to 20 hundred per day in the Summer season. Nurse bees fed young brood day and night constantly. A colony of bees, growing very fast, hatched 15 to 20 hundred on a Summer day, thus the colony of bees 10 to 15 thousand in early Spring, turned into 60 to 80 thousand strong in the Summer.

The hive became too small for such a big strong colony: there was no room for breeding, for storing food, honey, pollen, etc.; no room for work, even for living. Life and activity of the colony reached a standstill; bees outside of the hive were idle, but, more bees still hatching from the brood, the colony was in danger of suffocation in the hive. To save the situation, the colony of bees would decide to swarm, that is, the main part of the bees emmigrated to another good location for a new home.

To prevent a colony of bees from swarming, a beekeeper had to watch that a colony of his bees had at all times suitable room for their brood nest. Too small, unsuitable room for brood nest was the main cause of swarming.

If the Queen became too old, or crippled, or lost, then bees started to raise new queens and when new queens were hatched, the colony might swarm.

If the bee pasture was very poor, it made bees think of swarming and moving to a better location, etc.

PREVENTION MEANS

To prevent swarming the beekeeper had to keep in his mind the following points:

1. Good, suitable-for-colony, hive, which could be enlarged or made smaller according to strength of the colony for every part of the season. The hive must have room for a big, solid, compact, brood nest.
2. There should be good ventilation, so that the bees never suffer from the heat in the hive.
3. Do not keep old, or crippled or poor queen in the hive; change queen every year or every other year.
4. Keep good strain of bees; there are races of bees ready to swarm every suitable moment. There were cases where a colony swarmed three to four times during the Summer season.

During question time, the legal rights of beekeepers came up for discussion. Contrary to a widespread misconception, the owner of a swarm of bees had the right of entry to any place where his bees settled, it was stated. The only condition was that he must make good any damage he may cause in taking the swarm.

Methods included use of a modern atomizer that will throw a fine mist 30 or 40 feet into the air; many a swarm being induced to settle under the impression that rain has interfered with their plans. Also, a few swarm traps, made of a board, scorched black on the underside, and set on light poles at strategic points about the apiary, under a shady branch that the bees are likely to make for. These might make light the work of swarm catching and possibly save cutting down half the trees in the neighborhood.

Royals to Enter Allan Cup Contest

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 6 (CP)—Mayor W. M. Mott of New Westminster today called a meeting for tomorrow night of sports-minded citizens here to discuss ways and means of obtaining money to back New Westminster Royals in their quest of the Allan Cup.

Team members, at a meeting here last night, voted unanimously in favor of entering the Canadian playdowns. The players originally had planned to leave for their homes today following the end of play in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

The Royals, coached by Clarence Moher, formerly of Edmonton, finished out of the P.C.H.L. playoffs, being last in the four-team Northern division.

Some time ago the New Westminister club affiliated with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and it was expected at that time that Vancouver Canucks, winners of the Northern division, P.C.H.L., also would affiliate.

However, Coach Paul Thompson of Canucks, announced that playoff dates in the P.C.H.L. clashed with Allan Cup dates and that Canucks' would first fulfill their obligations in the Coast league.

Royals hope to arrange at least two exhibition games, possibly in Nanaimo, before they start on the cup trail against winners of the West Kootenay Senior League for the provincial championship.

One-Armed Bowler Scores Perfect 450

TORONTO, March 6 (CP) — A one-armed veteran of the First Great War, Bill Hendry of Toronto this week realized the bowler's dream of bowling a perfect game of 450 in a scheduled game of a Toronto five-pin circuit. His 100 per cent score came in the last game of a three-game string.

Member of the league for the past 20 years, he boasts an average of several pins over the 200 mark and also plays a steady game of golf.

Hendry's left arm was amputated above the elbow but bowlers say his delivery with his good right arm has excellent timing and balance.

Fernie Intermediates Beat Trail 6-3 but Trail Takes Series 13-12

TRAIL, B.C., March 6 — Trail's Smelter Hockey League Reps tonight won the Kootenay Intermediate hockey title when they took the two-game total goals series with Fernie Intermediates, 13-12, though the Fernieites won tonight's game 6-3.

Trail went into tonight's game with a four-goal lead from Tuesday night's clash here, which they won 10-6. Though Fernie tonight reduced Trail's lead to one goal, that margin gave Trail the series.

This result puts Trail into the Provincial semi-finals, in which they will meet Vernon at Vernon, on dates not yet announced, in a two-game total goal series.

Coast Skating Stars to Perform in Rotary Ice Carnival

Nelsonites visiting the Rotary Ice Carnival in the Civic Centre arena Friday and Saturday are in for some top-notch entertainment by talented skaters, some local artists and others from the Coast.

This is the fourth year in succession that Nelson Rotarians have produced an Ice Carnival here, net proceeds of which go to their Crippled Children's Fund, and as always, many note-worthy skating stars will be present to take part in rhythm, novelty and comedy numbers.

Strobo lighting, the "black light of magic", is to enhance the beauty of the colorful costumes and a 15-piece orchestra under the direction of Frank Wheeler will provide "mood" music.

Jeane Matthews, senior ladies champion of the Vancouver Skating Club will thrill the audience with her artistry on the ice. Also from the Vancouver Skating Club are popular Joan Taylor, Comedian Walter Grant, back on skates after three years and a half years in the Canadian Navy, and Billy Lewis.

Sydney Swingler and Joan Kelter are among local artists to be present, and one act sure to be popular is the comedy starring Walter Wait, Ed Kelter and Jackie French, the little boy who steals everyone's heart. Other local skaters are Doreen Field and Roy Mackenzie, who wil take part in a duo act, and there will be a Dumbell number performed by the Pro-Rec Class.

A bevy of pretty girls will be featured in "Over the Rainbow", a ballet, and the Vancouver Skating Club Four are slated to do some pretty slick skating in a number titled Flashing Blades.

Three ensembles, all under the efficient direction of Verna Miles Fraser of the Vancouver Skating Club, are also ensured of popularity.

They are Lullaby Lane, featuring the junior members of the Nelson Skating Club, Cotton Blossom Time, starring the senior members, and Melody and Romance.

The first mentioned is to portray fairy-tale characters, while the second will show colored people with bales of cotton. Local talent will again be brought forward in this act when Al Pagdin will sing "Old Man River," Jack Stewart will vocalize with "Lilly Belle", and Frances Prestley will render, "Why Do I Love You?"

Melody and Romance is to feature "Barcorolle", from the Tales of Hoffman, and "Rhapsody in Blue", by Gershwin.

Two shows will be held in the Civic Arena on Friday and one on Saturday. The events are sponsored by the Nelson Figure Skating Club and sanctioned by the Canadian Figure Skating Association.

Pitching Is Yank Worry

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6 (AP)—The old fence-busting New York Yankees are back together again, ready to pick up where they left off in 1943, if some of the younger talent can fill the gaping holes in the pitching staff.

Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller and Tommy Henrich still can take care of the outfielding. Joe Gordon and Phil Rizzuto form the keystone combination to a brilliant infield. Bill Dickey once again is behind the plate. But who is going to pitch?

Behind Spud Chandler, the "bell cow" of the staff, comes 24 or 25 tossers.

Last season Floyd Bevens, a young fellow from Salem, Ore., found himself as a big leaguer with a 13-9 record for a sagging club. Bevens still has to prove his ability in a post-war setting against hitters like Ted Williams, Dick Wakefield and other returning stars.

Ernie Bonham, a disappointment for the last two seasons although he came back strong in the final months of 1945, is unsigned and missing valuable training time when, at 32, he should be one of the better hurlers in the league.

There are seven lefthanders in the crop, including Marius Russo who still is a question mark because of a Winter arm operation.

Red Ruffing hasn't reported despite threats of fines from MacPhail. The redhead won seven and lost three for the club after getting out of the army last Summer. Although he is 41, he still has enough left in his right arm to come in handy to Manager Joe McCarthy. Atley Donald comes in the same category, but he is a doubtful case because of a shoulder operation.

Fernie All Stars Take Natal-Michel Devils 8-3

NATAL, B.C.—The Natal-Michel Devils Intermediate hockey team journeyed to Fernie and suffered an 8-3 defeat at the hands of the Fernie All-Stars played at the Fernie arena over the weekend.

The game, which was played on soft ice, was close for two periods during which time the Natal-Michel team held the power laden Fernie All-Stars to a narrow 4-3 lead.

In the final period Fernie went to work and scored four goals without a reply from the visitors. The Natal-Michel goal getters were McVeigh, Scott and DePoali.

The Natal-Michel High School teams also journeyed out of town and suffered a 6-1 lacing at the hands of the highly touted Kimberley High School, who retained the Dr. Green Cup which they have successfully held for the past eight years. This challenge game was exciting throughout with the visitors fading badly in the final period after holding their own for the first two periods. The large sheet of ice proved their downfall. Janfransisco scored the lone Natal-Michel goal.

Man has cultivated the date as a food for 5000 years.

Northern Ontario Rinks Out in Front in Macdonald's Brier 'Spiel

By MEL SUFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SASKATOON, March 6 (CP)—An unheralded rink from Kirkland Lake, representing Northern Ontario, held the spotlight Wednesday as the Macdonald's Brier Bonspiel for the Canadian curling championship moved into the fifth round.

The Kirkland Lake four, skipped by Tommy Ramsay, scored a 10-7 victory over Dat Henderson's Saskatoon Nutana quartet, Saskatchewan champions, Tuesday to take an undisputed lead in the bonspiel with four victories and no defeats.

But almost over-shadowing Ramsay's feat was the 10-7 upset of the highly-favored Manitoba representatives—Leo Johnson's Winnipeg Strathconas—by Ontario's skip Perry Hall of Kitchener.

That result dropped the hitherto unbeaten Manitoba rink into a second-place tie with an 18-3 triumph over the luckless Prince Edward Island entry. Each has three victories and one loss.

In other matches, Dr. George Macintosh's Nova Scotians, rebounding after two straight losses, took their second game by edging out British Columbia 11-10 and Quebec kept pace by overcoming New Brunswick 12-8. Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia and Quebec are tied for third place with two victories and two losses, British Columbia is next with a lone victory and three defeats and New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island has dropped four straight.

The Northern Ontario-Saskatchewan batle was a hard fought affair for 10 ends but Tommy Ramsay's men scored four points in thelast two to take the match.

SPECTATORS GOT EQUAL THRILL

The 2500 spectators got an equal thrill out of the Ontario-Manitoba contest, likewise a tightly fought match throughout which saw three ends posted without a score. A four-end and a single in the last two ends gave Perry Hall's rink the game.

Bench Bosses to Leave Playing to Hired Help

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP) — Playing managers will be scarce in the big leagues this season with only Mel Ott of New York Giants and Lou Boudeau of Cleveland Indians combining playing with master-minding during the coming baseball campaign.

Last year Joe Cronin and Leo Durocher, managers of Boston Red Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers respectively, did a little playing in the early part of the campaign, while Ben Chapman, boss of Philadelphia Phils, tried his hand at pitching in the latter part of the season. But all three have scratched themselves from the active roster this year.

This is in contrast to 10 years ago when the two majors were dotted with playing bosses. The 1936 list included Bill Terry, Giants; Charlie Grimm, Chicago Cubs; Frank Fritsch, St. Louis Cards; Jimmy Wilson, Phils; Pie Traynor, Pittsburgh; Cronin, Red Sox; Jimmy Dykes, Chicago White Sox; Mickey Cochrane, Detroit and Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis Browns.

At one time in the game's history it was seldom that a bench manager was hired. Frank Selee, Ned Hanlon and Jim Mutrie were a few of the great bench bosses before the advent of the American League. From the time the junior loop began, the playing and bench managers usually were closely matched. Recently the playing managers have practically disappeared.

In all likelihood, the tremendous success enjoyed by Connie Mack in the early years and by John McGraw, both non-playing mentors, had a lot to do with the modern trend.

WHAT a difference between this old tub of mahogany and sheet metal, and today's streamlined porcelain job ... and between an ordinary safety razor blade and the new PAL HOLLOW GROUND—a different, modern blade for a different, modern shave. Pal is flexible in the razor, follows facial contours, whisking away whiskers with just a "Feather Touch". No "bearing down" so no irritation to tender skins. Delicate blade edges last longer, too. Says Public Suffers From Unethical Builders, Agents

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP) — For the last three years unethical contractors and builders have been "a thorn in the flesh of the public," William Templeton, Better Business Bureau Manager, told a service club here last night.

He added that the real estate business "lends itself to crookedness," and said certain contractors who had no intention of fulfilling their obligations could not be prosecuted under the Criminal Code because their infractions were civil rather than criminal in nature.

"For that reason the city police are handcuffed."

At present some contractors were "definitely biting off more than they can chew," and the public will have to wait while they "take men from one place to the other to keep everyone satisfied."

He said five men had been charged several months ago and the bureau sent briefs to the Attorney-General's Department outlining the cases and naming the men involved.

Attorney-General R. L. Maitland today said that his department is "keeping its eye on the situation."

He recalled five convictions in such cases and said they were obtained "due to the excellent work of Detective Eric Hichens and other members of Vancouver Police Force."

MONTREAL, March 6 (CP) — Canada Northern Power Corporation Limited today reported net profit available for dividends in 1945 at $492,932, equal to 23½ cents a common share, compared with $633,544 or 45½ cents in 1944.

LIVERPOOL, England, (CP) — One thousand South African brides of British soldiers arrived here in the liner Scythia shortly after the Mauretania left for Canada with 800 English wives.

War Communications in B.C. to Be Kept for Peacetime Use

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP) — None of the communication facilities set up for war purposes in British Columbia will be dismantled except those for which no commercial or public use can be envisioned, Reconstruction Minister Howe said here today.

In an interview he announced that the network of telephone, telegraph and frequency-modulation radio, known as Pacific Communications System, would be continued. Technical details of its operation will be discussed in an Ottawa conference March 20.

"It will remain as an outstanding constructive development for the future of Western Canada," Mr. Howe said.

James Hamilton, Vice-President B.C. Telephone Co., said the unscrambling of the great network, set up to help protect the West coast, is engaging the attention of the telephone company, the Canadian National Telegraphs and the Canadian Government telegraph system.

The system was completed at a reported cost of $11,000,000 and until late last year was one of the prize secrets of the war. It was started when the Japanese threat to the West coast was at its greatest.

C.P.R. REOPENS ORIENT OFFICES

MONTREAL, March 6—Offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian Pacific Steamships at Hong Kong and Shanghai, taken over by the Japs during the war, are once more open for business it was announced today by George Stephen, Vice-President of Traffic.

LONDON (CP)—Dr. George William Bray, Harley Street asthma specialist and authority on allergy, has died at 44.

Market Trends

NEW YORK — Stocks dawdled through an indecisive market session that saw early losses reduced or wiped out without uncovering any extensive demand.

CHICAGO — May rye slipped sharply under pressure or somewhat general selling today.

Oats encountered some unexpected liquidation in the nearby months, but held at ceiling prices, while the distant contracts lost major fractions of a cent. Some transactions in the September deliveries were understood to involve hedge sales and a moderate volume of spreading.

WINNIPEG—Rye futures prices displayed an easier turn on the grain exchange in sympathy with the decline of May rye prices at Chicago. At the close the range was five to 4¾ cents lower with May at $2.40½, July $2.32 asked and October $1.86¼-1.86⅜.

Dealings were thin and it took little selling to depress prices.

Export business included the sale of 320,000 bushels of wheat to the United Kindom and 350,000 bushels for distribution to U.N.

TORONTO — The stock market was down at close as base metal stocks posted the wildest losses. Volume was close to 2,000,000 shares.

MONTREAL — Majority trends were easier on the stock exchange and curb market with some of the junior mines tumbling precipitatively.

VANCOUVER — Mines, oils and industrials were all down on the stock exchange in the forenoon session. Sales were 51,045 shares.

LONDON — On the stock exchange the market opening quietly for the first time in several

MONTREAL — Trading was dull on the bond mar d changes were small in number.
