21 More Towns Seized by Allies in Italy

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALGIERS, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Allied 5th and 8th Armies, laboring forward in mud and rain, have captured 21 more Italian towns and villages, including Teano, in grim fighting at the approaches to the Germans' massive new trans-peninsula defence barrier.

Teano, important road junction 10 miles Northeast of the enemy's towering Mount Massico stronghold, fell to Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th Army after a one-mile uphill fight against elements of the crack Herman Goering Division, headquarters communique announced today.

In another thrust, Allied troops advanced five miles through downpours and up mountain slopes to lake Vallesgricola, perched on a 1000-foot hill four miles North of Raviscanina. In the two advances Gen. Clarke's men also enveloped the villages of Anfitica, Otello, Mannello and Neviere.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's British 8th Army was pinned down by heavy rain and stiff Nazi resistance along the Trigno River near the Adriatic end of the battle line, but in the mountainous interior his left wing, assigned to Canadians, smashed through 15 towns and villages to within nine miles of the communications junction of Isernia, central pivot of the German line.

In slugging through bitter resistance to win high ground on both sides of the broad Foggia-Isernia-Rome highway, Gen. Montgomery's Canadians engulfed Cantalupo and Macchiagodena, both nine miles Southeast of Isernia; Frosolone, Cerasito, Collecarrisi, Gentile, San Matteo, Mazzone, Ferrigiro, Campodicello, Gronelari, Campitello, Le Finiere, De Salvia and San Gregorio.

PREPARE JOINT PUSH

Capture by the 8th Army of Cantalupo and by the 5th Army of Valle Agricole placed the two armies about 12 mils apart and brought nearer a junction of the two armies for a joint smash at Isernia.

The capture of Teano gave the 5th Army possession of valuable network of roads for the impending drive to pierce the formidable Massico Ridge line at the Southwestern extremity of the front.

While Allied foot soldiers jabbed resolutely into the enemy's defences and probed for possible weak spots, the Allied Air Force opened a powerful new offensive against the Nazis' rear, designed to wreck the Nazis supply system.

Bombers attacked Genoa, Savona, Imperia and Porto Maurizio on the Ligurian Riviera, the ports of Civitavecchia and Anzio in the Rome area, and a railway and road viaduct near Cannes in Southern France.

Unescorted American bombers scored at least four hits at both ends of the important 500-foot span across the Siagne River outside Cannes and rendered it impassable. This is on the main route between Marseille and Genoa for German troop and supply movements.

NAZIS LOSSES HIGH

Few enemy fighter planes and relatively little flak were encountered in these raids. Not an Allied plane was lost over the weekend. Official figures for October disclose that 161 German planes were shot down in the Mediterranean in that period, against an Allied loss of 66 aircraft. Many more Nazi planes were destroyed on the ground.

R.A.F. TRADES BLOWS WITH NAZIS

Fighters Hit French Coast; Two Hun Raiders Destroyed

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP)—Low-flying R.A.F. fighters swept across the Straits of Dover in bad weather late today to rake French coast around Calais, eight German planes were reported later to have paid a return visit, dropping a few bombs on widely-separated places.

Targets of the R.A.F. raids were not specified but the fighters apparently were maintaining the round-the-clock shootingup of German communications along the "invasion coast."

Two of the German raiders were destroyed. The Nazi attack caused some casualties and damage.

Meanwhile it was disclosed that the plane shot down in last night's small German raid on Britain was a Messerschmitt 410, the Germans latest and fastest twin-engine fighter-bomber. It is a successor to the Messerschmitt 210, Germany's principal night fighter which recently was pressed into daytime service to hurl rocket-shells at heavy bombers on day raids.

A direct hit from an anti-aircraft shell four miles up exploded the German planes and wreckage fell into a woods outside London.

The Messerschmitt 410 was supposed to be the Germans "answer" to the R.A.F. Mosquitoes. The Air Ministry announced today that Mosquitoes attacked targets in Western Germany last night and it was revealed also that these fast-flying planes have been successfully employed as night fighters. They have downed three Nazi raiders in the last three nights.

U.S. Turns Out 8300 Planes During October

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—United States plane factories turned out aircraft at the rate of almost 100,000 planes a year during October, with a record-smashing output of almost 8300 units, it was learned tonight. Aircraft production in September was 7898 units. The highest total production prior to October was 7612 units in August.

BOUGAINVILLE INVADED BY AMERICANS

Bypass Shortlands, Gain Beachhead on Jap-Held Island

CHALLENGE FLEET

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 2 (Tuesday) (AP)—American ground forces captured Empress Augusta Bay at dawn Monday in a bold invasion of West Central Bougainville Island 260 miles away from Japan's big key base of Rabaul, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allied Commander-in-Chief in the Southwest Pacific, challenged the Japanese Navy to come out and fight.

Cognizant that this big move threatened to unhinge the entire Japanese position in the Southwest Pacific and that the enemy must consider strong counter measures, MacArthur said:

"If the Jap fleet comes out, I will welcome it. I will throw everything we have against it."

The attacking force, which achieved its initial landings with such surprise that little opposition was encountered, by-passed Japanese positions on Southern Bougainville and imperilled all enemy forces there.

The Japanese positions on the Shortland Islands, 15 miles South of Bougainville, and on newly invaded Treasury and Choiseul Islands also were bypassed.

The Americans gained their beachhead about half way up the West Coast of the largest Solomon Island, the last one between the invaders and Rabaul.

The move apparently surprised many thousand Japanese troops which garrison Bougainville.

Explaining the strategy and objectives of the Bougainville operation at a special conference at his Headquarters, MacArthur said repeated heavy air strikes "had neutralized Rabaul but had not prevented the Japanese from syphoning in reinforcements."

The extent to which the enemy's air potential around Rabaul was neutralized was borne out by failure of the Japanese Air Force to hit the Allied convoys moving Northwestward through narrow waters Sunday night. Neither did the enemy air force impede troops from landing craft on the beaches at Empress Augusta Bay.

Bougainville is second only to New Britain as a strongly occupied island in the area Northeast of Australia.

The American and New Zealand troops which invaded Treasury, meanwhile, captured Jap mortar guns, as they pinned the enemy against the North Coast.

The seaborne paratroops which landed on Southwestern Choiseul are advancing.

2600 B.C. COAL MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Skeleton Crews Stay on Job at Fernie and Michel

HITS COAST

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 CP)—All quiet was the report tonight from the three British Columbia coal fields where 2600 miners went on strike in compliance with a call from Union leaders and the chief fear was that the serious shortage of coal may become critical if the walkout continues for any length of time.

Only skeleton maintainance crews were on the job at workings at Fernie and Michel in Southeastern British Columbia, at Princeton in the interior and Nanaimo and Cumberland on Vancouver Island following stoppage of work at midnight Sunday in support of Union protests against Federal Government delay in considering demands for wage increases.

The coal strike overshadowed British Columbia's only other major labor trouble—the threat of 1700 Vancouver civic workers to strike if their demands for a closed shop are not met. The civic workers now are negotiating for formation of an arbitration board to study the dispute. Such a strike would paralyze Vancouver's civic services such as garbage collection and street cleaning.

Thomas Marshall, Regional Fuel Controller for the Prices Board, said Vancouver dealers had agreed to limit deliveries to a half ton while present supplies last or until the strike is settled. A supply shortage was reported from Victoria.

Mr. Marshall said the coal shortage will be felt all across Canada if the strike lasts for any length of time.

According to Provincial Department of Mines figures there are about 2600 Union miners in the Province employed at 24 mines. There are about 1400 on Vancouver Island, about 850 in the Fernie-Michel areas and about 300 at Interior Princeton. Only mines in B. C. not involved are five very small pits employing 54 men in the Peace River and Telkwa.

Government figures show that in the first nine months of 1943 there were 1,355,365 tons of coal produced in the Province, an average of about 4905 which approximates the 1942 daily average.

Nelson Drug Convictions Quashed at Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP)—Convictions of George Alfred Eldridge his wife, Lillian and Clyde Anvoots for possession of morphine were quashed today by Chief Justice Farris in Supreme Court.

Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine of Nelson had convicted them after the narcotic was found in a train on which they were alleged to have travelled from Penticton to Nelson.

Eldridge had been sentenced to 12 months and a $500 fine; Mrs. Eldridge and Anvoots to six months each and fines of $300. The alternative to non-payment of the fines was a further six months imprisonment.

His Lordship said that there was a defect in the conviction and warrant of committal contrary to the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act of 1927 when Magistrate Irvine had inserted the stipulation of a further six months hard labor in prison if the fines were not paid.

As there was no provision for the imposition of hard labor in the act, Magistrate Irvine exceeded his jurisdiction, said the Chief Justice.

He also said that there was no evidence to support the conviction.

Mr. Justice Sidney Smith ordered the release of the accused in August after holding they were held on defective warrants. The Crown then amended the warrants and rearrested them.

Labor Conference Protests Gov't Attitude to Miners

VICTORIA, Nov. 1 (CP) — The Vancouver Island joint labor conference today wired Ottawa protesting the attitude of the Dominion Government in handling the coal situation in B. C. and Alberta and calling on Federal authorities to see that just claims of the miners are met.

That action followed a meeting of the conference Sunday night at which the issue was canvassed generally and mention was made of the hardships that would follow if the men left the mines.

Tiny Dodecanese Island of Symi Occupied by Nazis

BODRUM, Turkey, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Germans have occupied the tiny Dodecanese Island of Symi which is just North of Rhodes, after having been repulsed in an attempt to take it last month, an informant from the neighboring Turkish coast said today. Details of the capture were not available.

$915,000,000 LOAN MARK MAY BE REACHED TODAY

Bulge in Special Names Category to Maintain Average

OTTAWA, Nov. 1 (CP)—National Loan Headquarters estimated tonight that subscriptions to Canada's Fifth Victory Loan should reach the three-quarters mark—$915,000,000—toward the minimum $1,200,000,000 when overnight returns are totalled tomorrow.

"Chiefly by reason of a sudden bulge in collective applications in the 'special names' category, the 12-day average should be equalled and the cumulative total should reach about $915,000,000 overnight," said tonight's Press release.

The Dominion-wide canvass of Canadian National employees, while not yet complete, was expected to reach $6,000,000, bringing the grand total from the C.N.R. and its employees to more than $26,000,000.

Employees of Canadian Pacific Railway Eastern lines took $1,734,800 worth of bonds in the first two weeks. C. P. Air Lines staff has invested $815,250.

The Navy total neared the $8,500,000 mark.

Lt.-Col. G. H. Rainville, National Chairman of the Army's Loan Committee, has asked all Military Districts to assist in raising the Army's subscriptions to the $15,000,000-mark. Purchases for the first two weeks totalled $11,704,050, 117 per cent of the original quota of $10,000,000 and an increase of $1,750,000 over the Army's total at the same stage of the last Loan.

Why Not Include Germans, Italians? Asks McInnis

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP)—Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. M.P. for Vancouver East, said last night that if Japanese, including those born in Canada, are to be repatriated then "why has no one suggested that all residents of German and Italian extraction be repatriated also?"

"The crimes of Germany and Italy in this war are just as ghastly as those committed by Japan," MacInnis said in an address at St. John's United Church. "If the rules applied against the Japanese are not also applied to the Germans and Italians, then we will be guilty of racial prejudice."

STRIKE TO HIT ALBERTA AIR STATIONS

Serious Heating Situation May Develop

CALGARY, Nov. 1 (CP)—Cities and towns of the West, caught without reserves of coal, felt immediate repercussions of the coal strike as it neared the end of the first day tonight with no let-up in sight.

Officials of District 18, U.M.W.A., delayed at Regina by bad weather on their flying trip to Ottawa to confer with Labor Minister Mitchell, declared they were open to "a fair and reasonable offer."

Edmonton went into a partial dim-out to conserve coal at the steam operated power plant. Street lights were curtailed and theatres closed at Drumheller and other Alberta towns which receive their electric energy from the Drumheller steam power plant of Canadian Utilities Ltd.

At Calgary, which uses natural gas and is one of the least affected cities, Mayor Davison sent a telegram to Labor Minister Mitchell drawing his attention to the serious plight of nearby municipalities, dependent on coal.

Of Alberta's total annual output of roughly 8,000,000 tons, the Crow's Nest Pass and Drumheller areas provide some 50 per cent and these fields were shut down, as were Mountain Park, Edmonton and Lethbridge.

Civilians were the first to feel the effects of the coal shortage. The Canadian Utilities Ltd., with plants at Drumheller and Prince Albert, will attempt to maintain output of electrical energy at its Prince Albert plant for use of the training schools in the vicinity, but its coal reserves are small. In the meantime, service to civilian customers will be curtailed and may be discontinued. Arrangements have been made by the Company to notify the customers to this effect.

A serious heating situation may develop at numerous Army and Air Force training stations in Western Canada. Army training centres at Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Wainwright and Grande Prairie, where thousands of men are stations, used coal as a heating fuel. Today, these centres had only enough coal for 11 or 12 days, under "normal conditions."

Approximately 80 per cent of the many Air Force stations in No. 4 Training Command, R.C.A.F., which takes in all of Alberta and much of Saskatchewan, burn coal. Few, if any of these stations, have been able to build up substantial stock piles.

Coast Craftsmen Demand Increases

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP) — While the strike of 36 Vancouver jewelry craftsmen entered its sixth day, officials of the International Jewelry Workers Union (A.F.L.) today said that no progress toward a settlement had been made with the other affected wholesales.

"We are still demanding 10 cents per hour increase in holidays with pay for journeymen and improvers, and 10 per cent increase on the contract wage for apprentices, and paid vacation for apprentices," Karl Zuker, Union Secretary said.

Begin Annihilation of Tremendous Trapped Hun Force

By JUDSON O'QUINN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 2 (Tuesday) (AP)—The Red Army trapped tens of thousands of Germans in the Crimea yesterday by cutting the Perekop Isthmus, and Moscow announced early today that one fleeing enemy group above the Peninsula has been surrounded, losing 2,000 killed and 6,000 captured in a continuing battle of annihilation.

Nearly 5,000 Germans also were killed and scores of tanks, guns and trucks were captured or destroyed in fresh Russian gains inside the Dnieper River Bend, Moscow said, as the Red Army reached the Lower Dnieper River, 15 miles above the Kakhovka Crossings in its pursuit of demoralized German troops, thousands of whom have perished on the Nogaisk Steppe.

In sealing off the Crimea the Russians stormed and captured Perekop, on the Isthmus of that name, and smashed five miles beyond across the narrow land bridge toward the Crimea.

The Germans faced one of their greatest disasters since Stalingrad, where Field Marshal Gen. Friedrich von Paulus' Sixth Army of 350,000 was lost. Nazi Crimean forces are believed to number less than that.

Gen. Feodor Tolbukhin's victorious 4th Ukraine Army drove five miles ahead into both narrow corridors linking the Crimea with the mainland, on the Northwest of Perekop and on the Northeast at Novo-Alekseyevka.

Other units racing Westward of the Crimea converged on the Kakhovka and Nikopol crossings, of the lower Dnieper River in an effort to cross that stream and join two other Russian armies inside the Dnieper Bend, where fresh Red Army gains also were made.

Spilling into Perekop at the top of a 15-mile-long Isthmus the Russians captured that town, went on to crack the old Turkish wall fortifications, and took Armyanski Bazar, five miles to the South.

"Thus the ways of retreat by land for the enemy forces in the Crimea have been cut by our troops," the bulletin said.

This rapid investment of the Crimea was one of Russia's greatest accomplishments of the war, and put the Red Army in a reversal of the bloody role played out on the four-mile-wide Perekop Isthmus in September, 1914, when the Germans captured it by a frontal assault.

"Hastily retreating under blows of our forces the enemy is sustaining huge losses in manpower and equipment," Moscow announced only a few hours after the historic results of the tri-partite conference among the U. S., Britain and Russia had been disclosed.

"During Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 alone our troops have taken prisoner over 9000 enemy officers and men," the communique said in telling of the fall of 60 more villages on the Nogaisk Steppe and the cutting of the enemy's Perekop-Kherson road and rail links to the Crimea.

The Russians still are 10 miles from the Crimea proper in their attack across the Perekop Isthmus.

On the other side of the peninsula the Red Army is 15 miles away after advancing from Novo-Aleksyevka to take Salkovo, another point on the Melitopol-Dzhankoi railway at the edge of the Sivash Sea causeway leading into the Crimea.

The Germans' only hope of succour is by sea or air, and Moscow dispatches said the Soviet Black Sea fleet and Red Air Force are ready to smash any such attempts.

Gen. Ivan Petrov's Northwest Caucasian Army also is poised across the two-mile-wide Kerch Strait separating the Caucasus from the Crimea on the East.

Russian reconquest of the Peninsula would again put the Soviet fleet in control of the Black Sea, and give Red Airmen valuable bases for attacks on Axis bases in the Odessa area, and in Rumania.

The Germans acknowledged the break-through on the Nogaisk Steppes in their Berlin broadcasts, but only indirectly disclosed the immensity of it by saying that "the gateways to the Crimea are still in German hands."

North of the Crimea the Russians reached the edge of the lower Dnieper River between Kakhovka and Nikopol at a point 70 miles West of Melitopol with the capture of Zapadnye-Kairy, the communique said.

SWEEP 60 TOWNS

Sixty towns were swept up during the day, a total of 410 in three days, as the Germans fled in disorder over roads choked with wrecked and abandoned equipment, and their own dead.

"The front roads are crowded with Soviet citizens released by our troops," a Pravda dispatch said. "All were being sent to Germany for enforced labor."

Inside the Dnieper Bend the communique said the army of Gen. Rodio Y. Malinovsky had captured several more villages in another advance of unspecified extent Southwest of Dnepropitrovsk toward Krivoi Rog.

At Krivoi Rog, however, the Germans still were hurling large tank and infantry reserves into battle to check the Russians.

RUSS DECISION GIVEN BRITISH ACCLAIM

Representatives of Poland Show Satisfaction

LONDON, Nov. 2 (Tuesday)—(CP)—The war and post-war vows of Britain, the United States, Russia and China, as set forth by the Moscow conference, won general acclaim here today—but raised a few complicated questions and much speculation. (For details of Moscow announcement, see page 3).

Morning papers declared editorially that the Moscow agreement wiped out any prospect of distrust between the Allies—Hitler's only hope.

Even representatives of Poland, the only refugee government not having diplomatic relations with Russia, expressed satisfaction with the declarations of the parley, although Polish-Russian relations were not mentioned.

Representatives of European Governments in London interpreted the declaration to mean that the great powers had agreed not to dictate to the smaller countries.

Czecho-Slovakians particularly welcomed the plan to liberate Austria.

Unanimous was approval for the expression of determination to punish war criminals.

The press here cheered the announcement that China had joined the signatories in the declaration of general security. Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said that while "it does not mean that Russia goes to war in the East—it means that Russia will collaborate in the victory in the East."

The Daily Herald said: "Our hopes are realized. The shape of things to come grows clearer. It is a goodly shape. But if the splendid promise of Moscow is to be realized, the work of collaboration must go on henceforth at an ever-increasing pace."

The Times declared "by far the most important operative decision" of the conference was establishing a European Advisory Commission of the three powers. It added that "the most obvious gap in the declaration" was the omission of any reference, except by implication, to economic reconstruction.

The BBC devoted entire programs to the declaration, beaming its full text to Germany and occupied countries. It broadcast the agreement in 26 languages.

Cranbrook has led larger centres of Kootenay-Boundary in soaring over the top in the Fifth Victory Loan campaign, and by attaining 105 per cent of its objective has set the pace for the remaining similar centres to help replace the destroyer St. Croix.

Aiming at $210,000, Cranbrook City on Monday had $219,000 and was still climbing.

The entire district, with only the last week of the campaign remaining, had 63.1 per cent of its St. Croix objective of $2,725,000. To reach its goal Kootenay-Boundary needs $1,014,700 this week.

CRANBROOK OVER TOP AND GOING HIGHER

CRANBROOK, B. C., Nov. 1—East Kootenay's Victory Loan total stood at 67.9 per cent of its $925,000 quota tonight.

In a day of sales which topped any day of any Victory Loan campaign here, Cranbrook cleared its quota today by a wide margin with indications it might yet oversubscribe to a large extent. When reports for the day closed it had 105 per cent of its $210,000 objective.

Kimberley still led the whole field in total applications, 1684, for 87.9 per cent of its $240,000 quota and hopes to be next sub-unit to top its mark.

Creston reported highly improved sales today and passed the 35 per cent mark. An intensified campaign is planned to pass the $155,000 goal. Fernie failed to report today.

Michel-Natal and Windermere have reported unofficially that their objectives of $75,000 and $45,000 have been met but their official returns are not yet in and East Kootenay's report shows them as unchanged from the last report.

The Council has passed a resolution asking the Dominion Government to enact the necessary legislation.

Badoglio Wants King Taken From Throne

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ITALY, Nov. 1 (AP) — Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio told King Victor Emmanuel today that he cannot form a representative Government while the King remains in power.

Thus Badoglio, who had just returned after an air tour of Southern Italy, including Naples where he conferred with political leaders, handed the King the problem of whether to abdicate or allow Italy to tear herself apart by political strife.

In Naples, Badoglio had conferred with Count Carlo Sforza and Benedetto Croce, the Italian philosopher, among others.

Sforza, anti-Fascist leader who is outstanding among Italian political figures, is said to have told Badoglio he never would join the Government so long as the King retains the throne.

Sforza and other leaders let it be known that they would not oppose a Regency for the Prince of Naples — the six-year-old son of Crown Prince Humbert.

They told Badoglio, however, that the Regent would have to be elected with care, and they would decline flatly to consider Prince Humbert or the Duke of Aosta.

New Contingent Overseas

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Nov. 1 (CP) — Additional thousands of reinforcements for Canadian Navy, Army and Air Force units overseas sailed from here recently. The movement also included several thousand American troops and fighting men of the United Nations. Their arrival in Britain was announced tonight. One of the top-ranking officers aboard was Lt.-Col. J. E. Underhill of Vancouver.

Col. Underhill was on the staff of National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa, with the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Canadian Naval personnel included a large group of sub-lieutenants who will be attached to the Royal Navy for operational training.

Arriving overseas, too, were 30 members of the Canadian Army Dental Corps, who will be attached to various units of the three Canadian forces.

Imagineering New Word for 1944 Coast Board Told

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP) — "Imagineering" is the word for 1944.

Royell F. Friend, prominent Seattle merchandising expert, told the Vancouver Board of Trade today that the new word, coined from imagination" and "engineering," best describes the new era facing the world in scientific advances.

Sea water, pumped up in vast quantities, will provide all the elements the world requires, new motor fuel will give 50 miles to the gallon, all domestic glass will be unbreakable, there'll be building wood that won't burn, shoes without leather, automatic home lighting and air conditioning that will eliminate both discomfort and germs in the new post-war world, Mr. Friend said.

More immediately, he said, people will be wealthier than ever before, a new peak in national income and national spending power being imminent in 1944.

Carrier Workers Get 5½-Day Week

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP)—The principle of the 5½ day week has been established for aircraft carrier workers, Bert Smith, Business Agent of the Amalgamated Shipwrights, Joiners, Boatbuilders and Caulkers Union, announced today.

"The yard is now working on the 5½-day week," said Mr. Smith. "A number of men were called out Saturday afternoon, and will be called out on week days for overtime. But from now on they will be asked to work overtime, not ordered to do so."

COAL INDUSTRY IS SEIZED BY ROOSEVELT

Ickes Authorized to Work Out Contracts With Men

HALT PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — President Roosevelt, confronted with another general coal strike, tonight seized the mines for a second time and authorized Secretary Ickes to conclude bargaining contracts with the miners, subject to the War Labor Board.

Rejecting the course of waiting another day or more for the United Mine Workers to act, the President announced his order two hours and 15 minutes after the Union's Policy Committee adjourned for the day without reaching a decision on sending the miners back to work.

Virtually all production had ceased as the President called on all miners to be at their posts Wednesday morning. "Coal must be mined," the Chief declared. "The enemy does not wait."

Ickes immediately signed an order seizing all coal mines producing 50 tons or more daily where a work stoppage has taken place or is threatened.

The presidents of the various coal companies affected by Ickes' order were designated as operating managers. They were instructed to fly the American flag at the mine property and post notices of government possession of the mines.

The seizure put into effect the criminal penalties of the War Labor Disputes Act. These may be imposed upon anyone found guilty of encouraging an interruption of production. Thus, any decisions reached at the reconvened meeting of the UMW Policy Committee tomorrow must be made with those provisions of the Act in mind.

The President's order differed from the seizure of last May in that Ickes may work out agreements with the miners. Although the War Labor Board will have the last word on any such agreement, this provision may pave the way to the contract which the miners have been demanding.

Fernie Strike Delays Elk Colliery Opening

FERNIE, B. C., Nov. 1 (CP)—Approximately 1000 coal miners in the Crows Nest Pass area struck today in support of 7500 other miners in British Columbia and Alberta as a protest against Federal Government delay in dealing with a demand for wage increases.

Special meetings of United Mine Workers of America (independent) locals at Fernie and Michel last night voted overwhelmingly to comply with a call from district headquarters to strike beginning at Sunday midnight, the first general strike in the area in nearly 20 years.

Speakers at the meetings said it was distasteful to strike at this time but there was no alternative. They said discontent has prevailed for some time because miners felt the wages were inadequate compared with other industries and failure to adjust grievances aggravated the discontent.

The strike will delay opening of the new Elk River Colliery at Fernie which was expected to begin limited operation late in December.

Operation of the Michel coke oven plant will not end abruptly as the Union is allowing temporary operation until it can be properly closed down.

Union officials said picketing is not planned but will be put into effect if warranted.

Rossland Social . .

By MRS. HARVEY FLEURY

ROSSLAND, B.C. Nov. 2— A wedding of interest in the Autumn social calendar was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. in the Rectory of Sacred Heart Church when Audrey Edith, only daughter of Mrs. Jessie Spencer, of Rossland, and the late Joseph Spencer, became the bride of Gerard Joseph Boisjoli, only son of Mrs. Joseph Bourget and the late Joseph Boisjoli. Rt. Rev. A. K. MacIntyre, V. G., officiated. The slender brunette bride made a lovely picture in her formal white wedding gown, fashioned from silk jersey, with its sweetheart neckline, bishop sleeves, softly gathered bodice, and wide waistband, to which the full skirt was gathered. She wore a chapel veil, daintily embroidered with silk, which was held in place by a wreath of bridal flowers. Her slippers were of silver, and she wore a necklace of pearls. Carnations and fern tied with wide pastel pink ribbon formed the bride's bouquet. Mrs. John J. Freney, as Matron-of-honor, was the bride's only attendant. She chose for the occasion a blue silk jersey gown fashioned along similar lines to the bride's gown, but with bracelet sleeves. Her clever head-dress in matching blue was a halo of plaited ribbon with a band of orange blossoms. Gold and bronze mums tied with gold ribbon formed her bouquet. J. J. Freney acted as best man. Mrs. Spencer, mother of the bride, wore an attractive two-piece effect black silk crepe frock, with which she wore a smart black hat and a corsage of cream and pink rosebuds. Mrs. Bourget, mother of the groom, chose an attractive wine-colored silk crepe frock; she also wore a black hat and accessories of black; her corsage was of pink and white carnations. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Pollock, Jr., 1606 Columbia Avenue. A snowy white damask cloth covered the table. A three-tiered wedding cake, with its arch of orange blossoms and a silver bell, formed the centrepiece. Tiny mauve daisies with yellow centres, arranged in crystal vases, and pink tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake. J. J. Freney proposed the toast to the bride, and William Pollock, Jr., the toast to the matron-of-honor. The living rooms were decorated with gold and white mums. For the wedding trip to Nelson the bride changed to a two-piece cinnamon brown silk crepe frock, cleverly trimmed with beige and military style buttons. With this she wore a chic model hat and veil en tone and a muskrat coat. Talisman roses formed her corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Boisjoli will reside on Queen Street, Rossland. Both are well known. The bride lived in Nelson and in Trail before becoming the owner and operator of the Roslyn Beauty Salon, Rossland, four years ago, and the groom, who graduated from the University of British Columbia in 1938, is employed as a mining engineer by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, Tadanac. Out of town guests included Mrs. D. Richardson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, cousin of the bride, both of Nelson; also Mrs. Anderson's son.

Constitutional Revolution Trend In Canada Similkameen M.L.A. Tells C.C.F. Meeting at Nelson

Throughout Canada a trend toward constitutional revolution was evident, declared Bernard Webber, M.L.A., for Similkameen, in an address Monday night at the Eagle Hall under C.C.F. Club auspices. In his travels through B. C. and a large part of Canada on behalf of the party he had been "struck by the degree of trend toward the C.C.F.," he declared.

Mrs. Webber, a former Nelson girl, shared the platform with her husband. S. J. Newell was Chairman.

"No C.C.F.'er expects to see blood flowing in the streets, because our ways in Canada are not necessarily the ways of other countries," Mr. Webber said. It was unnecessary for Canada to arrive at a "planned economy" as Russia did, but "we certainly need a planned economy."

Three factors had spurred revolutionary thought in this country—the depression; the war; and "the marvellous resistance of Russia against invaders." Russia had developed "the most magnificent morale of any country in the war," and "by Russian morale we can judge whether their economic system is a good one."

He charged the Government with "bungling" in dealing with coal miners, stating their case had been before the National War Labor Board for two years. To strike was the only alternative left to the miners. He claimed that the handling of the farm situation was "corruption of agriculture."

FINE WAR RECORD

No one was going to deny Canada had done a great deal in the war, and it could be proud of it, but the true perspective should be based upon what might have been done with a complete war effort.

Social security as proposed in the Marsh report would only "relieve the worst" conditions without curing them, Mr. Webber claimed. Creation of new wealth was the proper attack. The fault with the present system lay in the profit motive. There was never sufficient purchasing power for the people to satisfy their needs.

He advocated that the people take over ownership and control of production wealth.

At the end of the war the men engaged in it should be brought back; all the goods needed by the nation should be produced; but distribution shoul be upon the basis of need rather than profit, he urged. Other countries had shown the way to Canada to take over industries and resources.

OUTLINES POLICY

He outlined C.C.F. policy in the Province and how it proposed to take over the forest industry. With Provincial revenues increased, the party would take the cost of education off the land. Nationally the C.C.F. would take over credit, banking and the railroads and socialize them.

The urge to live now drove people to work day after day. Under C.C.F. economy the standard of service to the community would be the incentive. When that time arrived all would be working for the benefit of their fellow men, and true Christianity would be practised for the first time.

LAUDS NELSON SCHOOLS

Mrs. Webber, stating she was "brought up in Nelson" and obtained all her formal schooling here except for one year at Normal, declared she "often had reason to be grateful for the education and fine teaching at Nelson." When she went to Normal she found Nelson was already practising many of the modern ideas advocated, and was considerably ahead of other parts of the Province. When she was teaching she was grateful for the examples she had while as a student here.

When she left Nelson, Mrs. Webber continued, hundreds of men were riding box cars and many school children were improperly clothed. Some of her friends had to leave school because their parents could not afford to continue their schooling.

Capitalism, she said, served in scarcity, but when scarcity was overcome it had failed and found it necessary to create artificial scarcities.

How much could have been accomplished if all the energy and knowledge now devoted to destruction had been used for constructive activity. Huge sums were being spent to educate young men to destroy; but a few years ago the same young men could not obtain money for education. She told of a young man unable to borrow $1000 to continue his education; but upon whom $25,000 had been spent to make him a pilot.

Money could be spent on factories in wartime; why not in peace, Mrs. Webber asked.

The need for change was apparent and the only way to do it in a Democratic country was through political parties, through the people exercising Democratic rights as citizens. It was not good enough to hold meetings only at election time; and it was not sufficient for the citizen merely to make a cross on a ballot once in four years. Mrs. Webber declared voters must do more than choose a "good man," but must also examine the policy of his party, since once elected, members voted as their parties decided.

The C.C.F., she said, did not want a "protest vote" but an intelligent vote. It wanted the people to help frame its policies.

There was "enough natural wealth in this country for the people to live happily and well if they apply their brains and arms to the work that has to be done."

POST WAR PLANS

Post war plans of the large corporations were based on hiring men for profit, said Mr. Newell, expressing his belief that "the capitalist system is absolutely outdated." He feared if present plans were brought into effect "there would be another depression, followed by another war caused by the desire of certain people to obtain the things they lacked. There was sufficient for everyone to have "a decent standard of living" yet "millions even today can't get the bare necessities."

Layoffs in war industry, he felt, meant that with the promise of victory the promises made to the men who went overseas were being forgotten. Promises made to the soldier of the last war were forgotten, and plans proposed "had to be dropped because too many of us came back."

The socialist philosophy, Mr. Newell believed, would be "much more beneficial than cut-throat competition."

He stated socialism would be impractical in the Province, that it would require election of a C.C.F. federal government to obtain necessary changes in the British North America Act.

Though it would be necessary to go to Britain for the necessary changes, "London has never failed to make changes asked by one of the dominions."

Lighting Rules Eased In City of Nelson

Easing of restrictions on outside lighting was announced Monday by Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Chairman of the Civilian Protection Committee at Nelson.

H. E. Thain, Chief Warden, explained that business places could use signs and other outside lighting provided someone was on the premises who would be able to turn it out in the event of an air raid alarm.

Porch lights, provided they were not stronger than 25 watts, could be used on residences under the same conditions. There must be someone on hand to turn them off if necessary.

Moscow Meeting's Results Beyond All Expectations

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Nov. 1 (AP)—United States and British delegates to the Tripower Conference of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov agreed tonight that results of the historic meeting surpassed their most optimistic expectations.

I did not see Molotov but I saw Hull and Eden after they signed the declarations. The 72-year-old Hull, who made his first airplane flight to attend the conference, looked pleased. Eden was jubilant and no secret was made of the fact he considered the Moscow Conference, to use a British phrase, "a pretty considerable result."

Underlying the results of the conference, two important points stood out:

1. The Soviet Union demonstrated plainly that it does not intend to go isolationist after the war.

2. A broad basis for post-war political and economic cooperation was established.

Cold Too Much for Escaped Hun Prisoners

WINNIPEG, Nov. (CP) — Wintry weather proved too much for 19 German prisoners of war—airmen and sailors—who escaped or wandered away from a fuel wood camp in the Riding Mountain National Park. After a night in snow-blanketed bushlands, the men returned to camp voluntarily today.

They came in groups, the final two reporting in mid-afternoon after being absent for more than 20 hours in the woodlands of the Park.

"We got lost, in the bush," a spokesman for the men told camp guards. It had been indicated it was a deliberate escape plot, foiled by a snowstorm which started shortly after they left camp and continued throughout the night.

The Winnipeg City Police short-wave station early today announced the escape of the prisoners. At the same time, Royal Canadian Mounted Police declined to issue a statement.

Scantily clad in army uniforms, the men were cold and hungry. The men had been free for several hours before their absence was reported at the 11 p.m. roll call Sunday night.

Britain Hails Moscow Declarations as Germany's Death Blow

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP).—Official Britain hailed the sweeping declarations from Moscow today as the death blow to Germany's most effective propaganda weapons and as "a very considerable contribution to hastening the end of the war."

After reading the communique on the tripartite decisions, a foreign office spokesman said that this evidence of collaboration both during and after the war "knocked the props from under Nazi propagandists who have encouraged their dupes to expect dissension among their Allies."

The spokesman said that in the European Advisory Commission "you see the beginnings of practical collaboration" and the forerunner of a "general international organization" for the maintenance of peace.

It seemed apparent that the question of an invasion of Europe had been settled.

He said he was not at liberty to discuss if, when or where Prime Minister Churchill, Premier-Marshall Joseph Stalin and President Roosevelt would meet, suggesting perhaps that the three chiefs of state would not meet soon.

The communique explained that the new council for Italy would supplant the present Mediterranean commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP).—Closer cooperation on the battlefronts and united action in the peace to follow victory through eventual creation of "a general international organization" were pledged at the historic Moscow Conference by Britain, the United States and Russia.

Attended by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, and their staffs, the conference was the first of its kind. A tripartite communique, issued at the conclusion of 13 meetings running from Oct. 19 until Oct. 30, said the conference was marked by "frank and exhaustive discussions of the measures to be taken to shorten the war against Germany and her satellites in Europe."

Suggesting that a second front in Europe already had been set, the communique said:

"Advantage was taken of the presence of military advisers representing the respective chiefs of staff in order to discuss definite military operation with regard to which decisions had been taken and which are already being prepared in order to create a basis for the closest military cooperation in the future between the three countries."

China was included in a surprise four-power declaration whereby Great Britain, the United States, Russia and China pledged themselves to united action in the peace to follow unconditional surrender of their respective enemies and to establishment of a "general internafour-power declaration whereby tional organization" for maintaining peace and security.

The Chinese Ambassador in Moscow, Foo Ting-sheung, signed this agreement on behalf of his Government along with Eden, Hull and Molotov.

Documents embodying the Moscow agreements were made public simultaneously today in Washington, Moscow and London.

Highlighting fruits of a conference which included also declarations governing the restoration of a non-Fascist Italy, a free Austria, and a Churchill - Roosevelt - Stalin pledge to punish those guilty of atrocities, the four-power document stressed unity of action and consultation between powers with a common enemy (Russia is not at war with Japan) until unconditional surrender was achieved.

In a joint communique, the tripartite conference agreed to establish an American-British-Russian "European Advisory Commission" in London to examine European questions arising as the war developed.

The Foreign Ministers also decided to set up an Advisory Council on Italy with representatives from the French Committee, Yugoslavia and Greece.

The Council on Italy will deal with day to day questions other than military preparations and make recommendations designed to coordinate Allied policy with regard to Italy.

The three Foreign Ministers also said that military experts at the conference discussed definite operations already decided and now being prepared "to create a basis for the closest military cooperation in the future between the three countries."

Other questions besides current problems taken up at the conference the communique said, concerned treatment of Hitlerite Germany and its satellites, economic cooperation and assurance of general peace.

"Frank and exhaustive discussions of the measures to be taken to shorten the war against Germany and her satellites in Europe" also took place, the communique declared.

In the four-power declaration in which China joined, the countries said:

1. That their united action, pledged for the prosecution of the war against their respective enemies, will be continued for the organization and maintenance of peace and security.

2. That those of them at war with a common enemy will act together in all matters relating to the surrender and disarmament of that enemy.

3. That they take all measures deemed by them to be necessary to provide against any violation of the terms imposed upon the enemy.

4. That they recognize the necessity of establishment at the earliest practicable date of a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, and open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security.

5. That for the purpose of maintaining international peace and security pending the reestablishment of law and order and the inauguration of a system of general security, they will consult with one another and as occasion requires with other members of the United Nations with a view to joint action on behalf of the community of nations.

6. That after the termination of hostilities they will not employ their military forces within the territories of other states except for the purposes envisaged in this declaration and after joint consultation.

7. That they will confer and cooperate with one another and with other members of the United Nations to bring about a practicable general agreement with respect to the regulation of armies in the post-war period.

China did not participate in the other declarations, dealing with the European war. They were:

1. Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin promised that those German officers and men, and members of the Nazi Party, who have been guilty of atrocities—either directly or by consent—will be taken back to the scene of their crimes after the war and there be tried according to the laws of the country concerned.

2. Britain, Russia and the United States agreed on Allied policy toward Italy, based on a determination to wipe out Fascist influence and to give the Italian people "every opportunity to establish governmental and other institutions based upon democratic principles.

3. The three also declared that "Austria, first free country to fall victim to Hitlerite aggression, shall be liberated from German domination."

The joint four-power declaration obviously left the way open for Russia to remain neutral as far as Japan is concerned, but provided a guarantee that neither Russia nor the Western Allies would sign a separate peace or take other separate action against their joint enemies.

While recognizing the "necessity of establishing at the earliest practicable date a general international organization," the four powers did not attempt to specify the nature of that organization beyond insisting upon equality of sovereignty of all peace-loving states, with membership open to all such states, large and small.

Regulation of armaments after the war was left to such a time as the United Nations "will confer with one another . . . to bring about a practicable general agreement."

In their declaration on Austria, the three powers said they regarded the anschluss with Germany as null and void and considered themselves in no way bound by any changes in Austria since then.

The future of the Balkans may be affected by the next clause:

'They declare that they wish to see reestablished a free and independent Austria and thereby to open the way for the Austrian people themselves as well as those neighboring states which will be faced with similar problems, to find that political and economic security which is the only basis for lasting peace."

Then a warning, and an invitation to all Germany's satellites:

"Austria is reminded, however, that she has a responsibility, which she cannot evade, for participation in the war at the side of Hitlerite Germany, and that in the final settlement account will inevitably be taken of her own contribution to her liberation."

In their joint statement on Italy, Eden, Hull and Molotov declared that the three governments had been agreed from the "inception of the invasion of Italian territory" that, insofar as military operations permitted, their actions would be based upon the principles of destroying Fascist influence and giving the Italian people a chance to set up their own democratic institutions.

"In furtherance of this policy," the three governments agreed that the following "should be put into effect:"

1. It is necessary to include in a more democratic," Italian government, representatives of those sections of the Italian people who have always opposed Fascism.

2. Freedom to establish anti-Fascist political groups shall accompany freedom of speech, religion, politics, press and public meetings.

3. Suppression of all Fascist-created institutions and organizations.

4. Removal of all Fascist and pro-Fascist elements from public institution and organizations.

5. All political prisoners of the Fascist regime shall be released and accorded full amnesty.

6. Democratic organs of local government shall be created.

7. Fascist chiefs and army generals, known or suspected to be war criminals, shall be arrested and handed over to justice.

The signers provided for oint consultation on these matters at the request of any one, with the understanding that "nothing in this resolution is to operate against the right of the Italian people ultimately to choose their own form of government."

The Churchill - Roosevelt - Stalin statement on retribution for German atrocities said that such German behavior was "no new thing" and that evidence had been received from many quarters of "atrocities, massacres and cold-blooded executions which are being perpetrated by Hitlerite forces in many of the countries they have overrun and from which they are being steadily expelled."

"What is new," continued the joint statement, "is that many of these territories are now being redeemed by the advancing armies of the liberating powers and that in their desperation, the recoiling Hitlerites and Huns are redoubling their ruthless cruelties.

"This is now evidenced with particular clearness by monstrous crimes on the territory of the Soviet Union which is being liberated from Hitlerites, and on French and Italian territory . . .

"At the time of granting of any armistice to any government which may be set up in Germany, those German officers and men and members of the Nazi Party who have been responsible for or have taken a consenting part in the above atrocities massacres and executions will be sent back to the countries in which their abominable deeds were done in order that they may be judged and punished according to the laws of these liberate countries and of the free governments who will be erected therein."

The statement warned those not already guilty to beware lest they join the doomed ranks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP). — Congressmen generally hailed the Moscow agreements today as a long step toward collective action to insure future world peace.

Undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettinius Jr., who handed copies of the agreements to the Press, termed them encouraging and said: "The American people owe a great debt of gratitude to Mr. Hull for his magnificent contribution to the success of the Moscow Conference."

At the capitol, Senator Connally (Dem.-Texas), Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and author of the pending Senate post-war resolution, told reporters that the portion of the agreement pledging the Allies "to continue hostilities against those Axis powers with which they respectively are at war until such powers have laid down their arms" on the basis of unconditional surrender should "silence those who have been expressing fears that Russia might conclude a separate peace with Germany."

Agreeing with this latter view, Senator Wheeler (Dem.-Mont.) said he hoped the principles of the four freedoms enunciated for Italy "shall be established throughout Europe and the world."

"I note no mention was made of the Atlantic Charter — I wonder why," Wheeler said.

Highlights of Moscow Meeting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — Actions of the Moscow tripartite conference in brief:

Four Power declaration:

1. The united action pledged to win unconditional surrender of their enemies, will continue in organizing for peace and security.

2. Those at war with common enemies will act together on surrender and disarmament of that enemy.

3. They will take necessary measures to provide against violation of terms imposed on the enemy.

4. They recognize the necessity of establishing "a general international organization, based on the principle of sovereign equality of all peace-loving states and open to membership by all such states" for maintaining peace.

5. They will consult on the maintenance of peace and security pending inauguration of a general system.

6. After the war, they will not use their military forces in other states except after joint consultation.

7. They will confer with each other United Nations on regulation of postwar armaments.

Austrian tripartite declaration:

Austria will be liberated but the extent of her aid to Hitlerite Germany and her efforts for her own freedom will be taken into account.

Italian declaration:

All vestiges of Fascism will be erased from Italy; freedom of speech, worship, political belief, press and public meeting shall be restored.

Atrocities:

German war criminals will be sent back to the scenes of their atrocities to be punished by their victims.

Joint communique:

Created basis for the closest military cooperation on decisions taken and already being prepared.

A European advisory commission will be set up in London to study questions arising as the war develops and make joint recommendations to the three governments.

An advisory council on Italy is to be established with representatives of the French, Yugoslavs and Greeks joining the three big powers.

Canada Consulted on Terms of Russ Conference

OTTAWA, Nov. 1 (CP).—Canada was consulted about the terms of the four-power declaration on general security issued after the Moscow Conference and the Government is "fully in accord with its provisions," Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today in a brief statement.

The Prime Minister, who received day-to-day reports on the meeting of British, United States, Chinese and Russian representatives and knew of the terms of the declaration before it was made public, said he welcomed it "most warmly."

The text of Mr. King's statement: "I welcome this announcement most warmly. It makes the determination of the British, Soviet, United States and Chinese Governments that their wartime cooperation will continue, not only until victory has been achieved but indefinitely thereafter, within a general international organization which will be open to membership by all peace-loving states.

"The declaration brings the assurance that the largest powers among the United Nations are pledged to a joint endeavor to devise, in concert with other countries effective means of ending the blight of war and establishing freedom from fear throughout the world.

"The Canadian Government has been consulted about the terms of the four-power declaration and is fully in accord with its provisions."

In governmental circles here the declaration is considered a "most important" development, ranking with the Atlantic Charter in carrying a step further United Nations agreement on the post-war world and with decisions reached at Casablanca and Quebec Conferences of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in clarifying and defining the course to be followed while the war continues.

New Curriculum Another Progressive Stem Inspector Tells Teachers

While it was felt the new school curriculum was only a few years old actually it was just another step in the continuous advance of education, declared School Inspector J. F. K. English of Trail, addressing the Nelson District teachers' convention in the Central School Library Friday morning. He traced the advance of educational theory and practice from early times and showed that progress had been steady and positive.

Inspector English described two theories in the United States, both of which had a number of followers. The progressives, starting with the interests of the child, stressed self-expression entirely, even to the extent of ignoring factual information altogether. They believed factual knowledge could be obtained incidentally.

"If a pupil wants to get up out of a class room and ride his bicycle around the block," said Mr. English, "he is perfectly at liberty to do so."

The other faction was a little more conservative. It began with the interests of the child also, but believed that tools, skills and attitudes required in later life, served as the criterion for these interests. If teachers gave meaning to these things, the interests would be there.

Canada attempted to take the good points from both systems. The teacher must give direction to the interests, and most important, the teacher must be a trained psychologist and sociologist.

Concluding, Mr. English pointed out that the new curriculum was not infallible, but one should be careful with criticisms. In order to iron out difficulties in the curriculum it was necessary to be constructive and not merely destructive.

He declared no one nowadays would care to revert to the methods used even 10 years ago. Methods had advanced, but there was still room for improvement.

Says DeMarigny's Fingerprint Found in Room

By E. V. W. JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 1 (AP).—A scholarly New York police expert testified today the fingerprint reported by the Crown to have been found in the room where Sir Harry Oakes was slain is the impression of Alfred de Marigny's little right finger.

Frank Conway of the New York Bureau of Identification, the first witness of the third week of De Marigny's trial on a charge of murder in connection with the bludgeoning and burning of his millionaire father-in-law, said he studied the fingerprint on exhibit and the impression made by De Marigny when he was fingerprinted after his arrest.

"My conclusion is that they are identical, and were made by the same person," he swore.

Dressed in the same creamy white tropical suit he wore last week, De Marigny propped his foot against the bars of the prisoner's cage and listened.

Conway said the New York Bureau of Identification has on file more than 4,000,000 cards, or 10,000,000 individual fingerprints. He told of demonstrating fingerprinting at the New York World's Fair, where he took prints of thousands of volunteers, including many sets of twins.

"No fingerprints of separate individuals ever have been found identical anywhere in the world," he declared.

Damage to the car was approximately $300, covered by insurance.

"I'll tell you one thing," says Squadron Leader Charles Stuart Dowie, D.F.C., Bar—

"We can't win this war with an even balance of power—it must be a decisive superiority. The more support, the shorter the war!

"The better we're backed up by the folks back home—the better we fight!"

SETTING THE PACE FOR VICTORY

Squadron Leader DOWIE knows what he's talking about! Fifty flights over enemy territory taught him. He knows you can't stop at being just as good as the other man—you've got to be better and have more of everything!

He knows the Jerries are tough! Once they nearly got him when he visited Hamburg in a death-dealing Wellington! It was a close call—but those Canadians did what they set out to do ::: released a surprise packet of bursting bombs right where it hurt Jerry most—on one of his precious war factories.

Then they streaked for home ... if you can call it streaking ::: peppered with flak—the bomb doors hanging open ::: flaps sagging ... and the hydraulic system knocked out! You lose a lot of height quick in a jam like that—and bucking a strong west wind doesn't help much! But they made it—safely—with less than ten minutes' gas to spare. That's war as they know it ::: split-second decisions ::: nerves tensed to trigger quickness ... brains alert to death and danger.

That's their job—tackled in the true Canadian spirit! Tackled by boys from prairie farms ... from northern bushlands ... from peaceful Canadian seacoasts ... from little towns that have borne and bred men with the spirit of Squadron Leader Dowie.

They're fighting this war—and they know what's needed! When they ask for more planes, more equipment, more guns—there's only one answer ::: "more of everything on its way!"

We can do it—we're Canadians too! It means more and more work ... greater self-denial ... MORE VICTORY BONDS!

Show these boys we're in there fighting with them ::: they're putting everything they've got into this war ... put everything you've got into VICTORY BONDS.

For it's VICTORY BONDS that will deliver the goods ::: it's VICTORY BONDS that will shorten the war.

BOVARD-WILLISCROFT

• A wedding of considerable interest in Nelson and vicinity took place in Chalmers United Church Vancouver, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m., when Assistant Section Officer Georgina Claire Williscroft, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Williscroft of Nelson and Trail, was united in marriage to Flt. Lieut. John Pitblado Bovard of Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bovard of Montreal. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Iris Williscroft, as bridesmaid, and Lieut. C. M. Mowat, R.C.A., as the groom's best man. The ushers were Flt.-Lieut. Earl Welch, R.C.A.F., and Wing Commander H. Ashdown, R.-C.A.F. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, is a great granddaughter of Sir Joseph Pope, one of the Fathers of Confederation, and the groom is a grand son of Isaac Pitblado, K. C., and Mrs. Pitblado of Winnipeg. Chrysanthemums in rich Autumn shades and palms adorned the church. The organist, A. W. Chard, played the wedding music and the bridal march Lohengrin's and Mendelssohn's and accompanied Wren Diana Thompson, who sang, "Because" at the signing of the register. For her marriage Miss Williscroft chose a gown of white brocaded satin with long-waisted bodice and full-length skirt, sweetheart neckline and tight fitting long sleeves. She wore a veil of illusion net with Mary Queen of Scots coronet and carried a gorgeous bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, stephanotis and orchids. Her bridesmaid wore a powder blue chiffon frock with Juliet cap of net to match and carried carnations in graduated shades of pink. The reception was held at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Williscroft, West Seventh Avenue. The home was adorned with lovely shaggy pink mums. For her wedding trip to Vancouver Island, the bride wore an olive green, two-piece wool suit braided in self color with matching topcoat collared in bleached wolf, shoes and bag of alligator. Both return to duty as officers of Western Air Command and will reside at 3287 West 22nd Avenue, Vancouver. Out of town guests included W. O. Bovard of Montreal, G. M Williscroft of Nelson, A. H. McGuire of Calgary, Lieut. C. M. Mowat of Alberni and several fellow officers of the bride from Vancouver and Patricia Bay.

Children Have Gay Fancy Dress Party

Children dressed in masquerade costumes, their mothers and admiring friends, filled the Memorial Hall Saturday, when the annual Children's Fancy Dress Party, sponsored by Martha and Mary Circle of St. Saviour's Church, took place. Musical games interspersed with solo and other dances, with an amusing and clever clown tumbling team and marionette show, all kept the little people highly entertained and quite unconscious of the fact that they themselves were providing much amusement for the onlookers. E. Kelter was Master of Ceremonies.

Besides the old favorite singing games, the Attree dancers, under direction of Mrs. Frank Phillips, gave a series of pretty individual acrobatic, toe and tap dances. The dancers were accompanied at the piano by Miss Jean Neill.

An amusing and clever clown tumbling act was put on by Mr. Kelter and his brother clowns. A smart group of young soldiers and lassies from Home School performed the dancing song, Captain Jenks, under direction of Miss Curwen, assisted by Miss Ruth Hind and Miss Edna McKenzie. Accompanist for dances and games was Miss Daisy Norris at the piano and Miss Meg Gerrish, violin. The young ventriloquist, Billy Hunter, with his various hand dolls, delighted the children with several plays, announced by Douglas Honsberger.

During the afternoon a delicious supper was served at gaily decorated tables for the youngsters, while afternoon tea was served to grown-ups. Mrs. J. G. Holmes and Mrs. F. Paddon poured tea and serviteurs were Miss Lois Whimster, Miss Dolores Ward and Miss Betty Johnston.

The climax of the afternoon came when prizes were presented for the most outstanding costumes. The judges were Mrs. J. McGregor, Mrs. J. G. M. Lock and Miss M. Plenderleith. Prizewinners were:

Tiny chick, Mary Fink; Topay, Harry Swingler; Pirate, Larry Simpson; Spirit of Hallowe'en, Jocelyn Banks; Bo-Peep, Maureen Johnson; Basket of flowers, Bonnie Jeffs; Columbine, Heather Erb; Victory Twins, Denise Greenwood and Neil Morrison; Santa Claus, Teddy Swendson; Rose, Shirley Mae Smith; Russian girl, Linda Manaford; Harlequin, Shawn Erb; Bo-Peep, Marguerite Cavill; Little Eva, Sydney Swingler. Science, Religion Should Stand Against Ignorance

"Children gathering milk tickets for their cousins across the sea instead of treats for themselves is a truly ideal way of observing Hallowe'en," stated Rev. Gordon G. Boothroyd at Trinity United Church Sunday evening. He added that never had he seen the young people such realistic witches, pirates, ghosts and goblins, all of whom had entered into the romantic spirit of the occasion. The speaker described the ancient origin of Hallowe'en and its mixture of superstition and religion. Modern enlightenment and Christianity had supplanted the uglier and more fearsome aspects of early times. Sir James G. Fraser in his history of magic believes that in primitive times magic preceded religion and the magicians were glad to prey upon the fears and credulities of the people. Magicians claimed to set natural law aside and vest all power in themselves. Religion accepts the natural world and directs man to a higher Power. Often the sorcerers wished to go into partnership with religion as Simon the Sorcerer in the Book of Acts. This the Apostles sternly rejected. There have been times in history when religion yielded to the temptation and so a caricatured the true faith.

Even in the classic periods of history people have maintained an interest in the supernatural. Shakespeare introduced ghosts and witches in his great dramas. Today Hollywood is introducing the supernatural in such films as Flesh and Fantasy. The speaker asserted that a certain amount of such entertainment is without harm but the trend should be watched closely as emphasis on the supernatural may be at the cost of the rational and ideal. He warned against the modern tendency to turn to the occult. Hitlerism is an outstanding example of a so-called enlightened nation reverting to pagan philosophies and following a leader relying upon "intuition." Going to the fortune-tellers may be an idle pastime or it may mean losing one's grip on life. The speaker maintained that science and religion should stand together against all forms of superstition and ignorance. Folklore on the other hand is often the handmaid of religion with customs and tales expressing a people's childlike sense of wonder and faith. The speaker closed with the Irish folktale entitled, Etain.

Julia says— Let the Children Cook

LAST MONTH, in one of these columns, I talked about the way youngsters like to put up their own school lunches. And, to tell the truth, I was amazed at the number of readers—both young and old—who wrote me afterward. Almost everyone was quick to point out that the younger generation not only likes to pack lunches, but also gets real satisfaction from various kinds of practical cooking.

More than one reader added this very timely thought: nowadays, when so many mothers are busy with war work, it's a real family help when the children take an active part in making the kitchen run smoothly. It gives them the feeling of "doing something" important, too.

I've found through my own experience that youngsters make creditable cooks provided they're not hurried and provided they start out on things they really like.

And these are a "natural" for girls to start out on:

BONNIE DEE COOKIES

2 cups Canada approved flour
½ tsp. soda
1 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
2 cups quick oats
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup coarsely chopped nutmeats
⅔ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup milk

Sift flour, measure and sift with dry ingredients; add oats, raisins and nutmeats. Cream shortening with sugar; add well-beaten eggs and milk; combine with flour mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 min. Makes 6 dozen.

One of the best things for boys to try their kitchen skill on is waffles and pancakes—but warn them not to "peek" while baking waffles, and not to turn pancakes until they are fairly full of bubble holes on top.

Kootenay-Boundary Can Replace the St. Croix

To raise enough money through subscriptions to Victory Bonds to replace the St. Croix is an objective for Kootenay and Boundary which clearly exemplifies the service we perform for the cause of the United Nations when we lend our money in a war loan drive.

We know that every dollar we subscribe in a Victory Loan campaign is of direct aid in the prosecution of the war. We know that the Government must borrow money to pay the workers who produce the raw materials and manufacture and transport munitions. It cannot all be raised by taxes. We know all that in a general way, but the campaign to raise enough to purchase a destroyer to replace the St. Croix, which was lost while its crew was gallantly fighting a pack of U-boats attacking a convoy, gives us a very definite and tangible object to work for.

This is the last week of the campaign, and we are in the same position in our Fifth Victory Loan drive as are our armies in the field. We have proved by our record that we can win, but we have a long way to go.

To raise the amount still required will call not only for maximum possible subscriptions from those who have yet to be canvassed, but thought by those who have subscribed, as to whether they cannot make another subscription. Experience has shown many of us that we can actually purchase much more in Victory Bonds than we had thought possible.

Those of us who have bought a $100 bond might find that we could handle another $50; if $500, possibly another $200; if $1000, possibly another $300 or $400. It is worth thinking over. The more we can invest in Victory Bonds the more we will speed the victory, and the better for our own individual finances.

Liberation of Corsica Pattern for French Mainland

It is not really necessary for the Free French to declare as they do in a publicity release on the liberation of Corsica by Allied force that "There is one other thing that these events have shown and that is that French people are quite capable of looking after French affairs."

No responsible representative of the United Nations has either suggested that the French were not so capable or evinced any desire to interfere with French internal control after victory has been won over the Axis.

During the war the United Nations have only one primary concern, which is to bring about the surrender of the enemy. After that, it is not our affair whether the party of De Gaulle or Giraud, for the time being united in the French Committee of National Liberation, or some other party devoted to the peaceful progress of France should hold office. The French people must make their own choice.

The invasion of Corsica was in a sense a try-out of the French resistance machinery that is functioning in France, and it has shown that it works.

Exactly the same methods, directed from the same headquarters outside the country, built up the resistance movement in Corsica as in France and North Africa, when that region was still under Vichy. Cells of resistance were formed, adherents were recruited, and from end to end of the island, as throughout France, orders passed secretly.

The Corsican patriots rose on Sept. 9. No fewer than 15,000 of them met at Ajaccio and marched on the town hall, to rid themselves of the mayor, a notorious Vichy puppet. They were in action against the Germans before any assistance from outside reached them. To the surprise of everyone, especially the Germans, it was found that the patriots were well equipped with arms and ammunition, and their activities coordinated and directed from their own headquarters.

Patriots took over the administration of the island until the arrival of the new Prefect appointed by the French Committee of National Liberation in Algiers.

Actual out-and-out collaborators with the German forces were few and there was no massacre of them, they were merely arrested.

Everything that took place in Ajaccio was orderly and methodical, with no anarchy. The whole machine of resistance and aid to the Allies worked with smoothness and precision that was a credit to the organizers.

The French have remained in heart Republican, that they want nothing of any kind of government that should in any way threaten to be totalitarian.

Munday Says Non-C.C.F. Parties Capped Depression With War

To the Editor:

Sir—In his letter of Oct. 22, "Citizen", however courteous, still tries to confuse the issue which he himself raised. That issue was not one of personalities—Mr. Woodsworth's, "Citizen's", or mine. The issue he raised was regarding the C.C.F. He will be satisfied, I am sure, if I stick to that issue, though in his own pleasant letter he really deals with it in only one paragraph, and deals with it then in such a way that one feels inclined to ask, Is "Citizen" also among the prophets?

Might I again remind him of the dark days of the depression? If he searches his memories of those days he will undoubtedly remember the men and the parties who then put themselves "in the place of one who has promised prosperity and happiness to deliver only ruin and misery", as his own words put it so well. He must agree, being a lover of truth, that the same men and the same political parties, administering the same economic and upholding the same social system, capped the depression with the calamitous ruin and the barely imaginable misery of this war. It is these men, these political parties, this same economic and social system, which "Citizen" continues to pull for, and which he argues should still be maintained. Could any "optimism" be more "irrepressible" than one so balloon-like as that?

But "Citizen" is a travelled man, a widely read and a most thoughtful man. He can hardly fail to be aware that the war has already created truly revolutionary changes, such change is in fact that many men also widely travelled, just as well read, and equally thoughtful, have become convinced that we have left far behind us the world of which "Citizen" seems still so fond; that we cannot, if we face realities, hope to return to pre-war conditions; that the changes must be accepted, and continued; that, in sober fact, to go on to C.C.F. socialism will be a simpler, a more reasonable, and a more practicable matter, than to attempt to roll back the changes which have taken place and bury ourselves once more in the blind-eyed capitalism of the 1930's. The Canadian people believe in democracy. They support the C.C.F. because they believe the one sure way, the most direct and the simplest way, to preserve democracy is to practise it. The Canadian people have seen that they can accomplish in effort to win a war. They see that the energy, the intelligence, and the skill developed to win the war will still all be available when peace comes. It is not their "optimism" only it is their sound solid sense, which leads them to believe they can use that same energy, that same intelligence, and those war-won skills to win the peace. They see Canada's first and most essential step in doing that is to firmly establish democracy in Canada. They have chosen the C.C.F. as their means to do that because the C.C.F. policy is their own policy.

"Citizen" must know that Socialism is no longer only a hope; that it has become a reality; that it is being practised. Policies almost identical with those of the C.C.F. have been tested in other countries. In these places those policies have increased prosperity and brought hope of greater and truer happiness. It is not being unduly optimistic to conclude that similar policies will produce similar results when applied in Canada.

It is a pleasant thought, Mr. Editor, that since "Citizen" is so open-minded and thoughtful he himself may become a C.C.F. supporter once he is given the chance to see how well the C.C.F. policy works. May I assure him it will be a real joy to greet him as "Comrade"?

A. R. MUNDAY.

L. P., Salmo—I would like to know who owns the Emerald Mine at Salmo.

The property is operated by the Wartime Metals Corporation. We advise you to write 637 Craig Street West, Montreal, for the information you request.

H. A., Kaslo—Can you please tell me how I can remove soot from a studio picture?

If the picture is an oil painting rub the spots lightly with a soft cloth dipped in a solution of equal portions of vinegar and water. For any other type of picture apply soapsuds made from Lifebuoy Soap, let dry, wipe off with a soft cloth.

Curious, Kimberley—Further to your question on the retail price of butter.

Butter prices have fluctuated during the year namely, Winter and Summer. During the Winter the price is increased one cent and at the beginning of the Summer months it is decreased one cent. The Winter increase is effected to allay the additional cost of production during these months, but at no time does that price exceed the ceiling price. These fluctuations are made strictly in accordance with the regulations of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. On May 1, 1943 the Government put the wholesale carlot price of butter down one cent, and the price to the retailer was accordingly decreased one cent.

Since then the wholesale price has been increasing three-eighths of a cent until the one cent increase for the Winter has been accumulated. That price prevails until April 30 when it is put back down again by one cent.

R. L., Nelson—I mailed some war savings certificates to Ottawa for redemption, without registering the letter. Is there any way that those could be cashed by someone other than myself?

These certificates are not transferrable, therefore could not be cashed by anyone else. The check for redeemable value would be made out to you and mailed to your address.

Words of Wisdom

Be slow to fall into friendship; but when thou are in, continue firm and constant.—Socrates.

Heaven Comes In This Life Says Mr. Forbes

"Can Heaven Wait?" was the subject of the sermon at St. Paul's United Church on Sunday evening.

The Minister, Rev. H. Stewart Forbes, spoke of the picture recently shown in Nelson, "Heaven Can Wait." He said the picture was an exceptionally good one, with real human interest, fine understanding, and 'some spiritual truth.' But he contended that behind the picture was an idea that gave an absolutely wrong view of religion as portrayed by Christ.

The hero was most attractive, profoundly humble, and reminded one of the younger son of the Parable, as the cousin was a perfect portrayal of the elder son. He might have said, "I am not worthy to be called thy son; make me one of thy hired servants." The preacher wondered what Christ would think of the story.

There is with people today, Mr. Forbes said, a light-hearted way of treating the moral demands of life. There were those who said that God does not trouble Himself about people's actions. With the French skeptic they say, "God will forgive us; that is His business." They would make God like the insipid, foolish parents of the wayward son shown in the picture.

The Bible said, "We must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ." Religion however, was not a "fire-escape," a way of escaping a peril. Religion was not something to die by, it was something to live by. Heaven was not a future acquisition, but a present possession. Man must have it and enjoy it here if they were to have it hereafter. The Gospel was for the present day and the life man now lived, a Gospel of vital and urgent importance if man were to discharge the duties of life aright, and to know the deep joys of the soul.

"Heaven Can Wait," is the word of "his excellency the devil." The word of Christ is, "Now is the accepted time, now is the day of salvation," concluded the speaker.

Eternal Punishment Is Church Theme

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption" (Psalms 130: 7).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price." (Isaiah 55: 1.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "For victory over a single sin, we give thanks and magnify the Lord of Hosts. What shall we say of the mighty conquest over all sin? A louder song, sweeter than has ever before reached high heaven, now rises clearer and nearer to the great heart of Christ; for the accuser is not there, and Love sends forth her primal and everlasting strain."

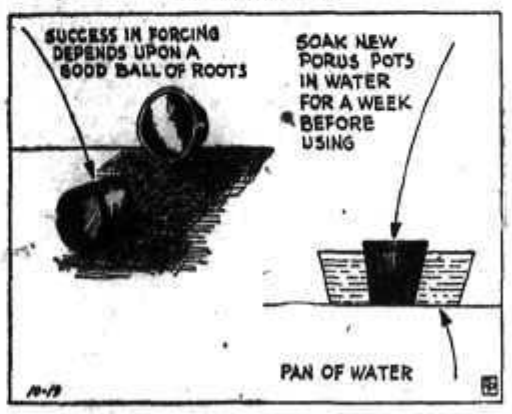
Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH

By DEAN HALLIDAY



SECRETS OF SUCCESS WITH BULBS INDOORS

Always buy bulbs from a reliable dealer for to insure satisfaction forced bulbs should be of the finest quality. The bulbs should be firm and well ripened. Bulbs used for indoor bloom must be stronger than bulbs for outdoor planting: Most catalogs or bulb dealers specify certain bulbs as suitable for forcing indoors.

The accompanying Garden-Graph shows a ball or root mass of the kind that makes it possible to force bulbs with success. Bulbs should be potted early, as abundant root growth must first be established before top growth begins in order to obtain fine flowers later. This is nature's law for bulbs in the outdoor gardens have weeks and even months to develop a root system before they show green shoots above ground.

Always avoid the use of new pots for bulbs. If new porous pots must be used then, as illustrated, set them in soaking water for a few days or a week, otherwise they will absorb all the moisture from the soil.

New City Garbage Truck Goes in Service Tuesday

Nelson's new garbage truck goes into service Tuesday.

Mayor N. C. Stibbs stated Sunday night that repainting of the unit had been completed, and that it would be ready Tuesday morning, inaugurating city-wide service. Direct charge to householders for garbage removal is being discontinued, and the collection will be carried out henceforth as a city service.

Schedule of collection is to be worked out when it is known how it can best be handled, the Mayor said. It is expected the actual handling will be speeded considerably by the power lift on the truck. This will eliminate excessive lifting of cans.

A garbage bylaw to govern the service on its new basis is under preparation.

George M. Gunn, Early Day Merchant and Police Officer Here, Dies, 73

George M. Gunn, early day Nelson merchant, later identified with the R.C. Police in this district for a number of years, and then on the staff of Oakalla Jail for many years, before his retirement some years ago, died Sunday at his home in Sturgeon Creek, a suburb of Winnipeg. He was within a month of being 73 years old. He had a host of friends throughout the West Kootenay District.

Born in Wick, in the North of Scotland, George Manson Gunn emigrated to the United States in his early 20's, and was seven years there, latterly in the Coeur d'Alenes, Idaho, where he settled at Gem, where he was a shoe merchant. He married there.

CAME HERE IN 1890

When the big labor troubles hit the Coeur d'Alenes, he closed out at Gem, and in 1890 came to Nelson, where he opened a shoe store on Ward Street, on the lower end of the site now occupied by the Medical Arts Block. This he operated until 1911, when he entered the Provincial Police here. He was almost immediately transferred to Creston, in charge of the post there, and in 1912 was moved to Trout Lake City, where he remained for two years. In 1914 he was transferred to New Denver, and remained there for eight or nine years.

In 1922 or 1923 he obtained transfer to Oakalla, where for 18 or 14 years he was in charge of the shoe making department, residing in Burnaby.

Some nine years ago he was superannuated, his retirement being speeded up somewhat on account of his health, and he remained a resident of Burnaby until a year or two ago, when he moved to Winnipeg, residing at 2805 Portage Avenue, in the suburb of Sturgeon Creek.

OUTDOOR MAN AND PIPER

Hunting and fishing were Mr. Gunn's outdoor recreations, which he enjoyed to the full, particularly on Trout Lake and Slocan Lake, but he was also a musical devotee, and during his residence in Nelson he was official piper for all public affairs. He was a member of Clan Johnstone here—the early name of Clan McLeary—and was a lifelong Pythian and Mason.

Mr. Gunn was twice married. His first wife died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital, where she was brought for treatment, in 1913, while the family resided at New Denver. After his retirement, he married again, in Burnaby.

He is survived by his wife; by five adult children—H. G. Gunn of New Denver, W. E. Gunn of Nelson, Miss Ida Gunn of Victoria, Mrs. Hunter Vogel, formerly Miss Isabel Gunn, of Duncan, and Alex. Gunn of Vancouver, now overseas in the Royal Canadian Artillery; and by three sisters in Canada—Mrs. Denver Shannon of Trail, Mrs. C. J. Sinclair of New Denver, and Mrs. W. McKay of Eston, Sask.

Nelson Doing Big War Job "Behind the Scenes"; $4,700,000 Contributed

Written for The Canadian Press
By ERIC RAMSDEN
Nelson Daily News

NELSON, B. C., Nov. 1 (CP) — Nelson District's part in the war effort has been "plain plugging"—but it's been doing a better job of that than anyone, least of all the citizens, appear to realize.

Nelson has not had a war boom, nor has it been a war derelict. Just now, after four years of asking, a war industry has been established—a sub-assembly plant of Boeing Aircraft of Canada Ltd., housed in the Civic Centre's badminton hall, largest of its kind in Western Canada. Some 250 to 300 persons, mostly women, will be employed.

Previously Nelson's war industry was confined to minor sub-contracts at machine, blacksmith and woodworking shops. But the war effort proper goes far beyond the city, spreading through the district like roots of a tree.

Outstanding contributions have been made by the mining and lumbering industries. Pre-war mining meant gold but modern demand is for base metals and mines of other years have been reopened, mills rebuilt, and an increasing flow of lead and zinc concentrates is moving to United States smelters.

Given greater manpower, the Slocan could increase still further the flow of base metals.

Wartime demand brought the development near Salmo of Canada's greatest tungsten mine, the Emerald. Just as it came into production, the need for tungsten fell off sharply and mine and mill are now idle. But engineers state the development program carried out by Wartime Metals, a Crown company, has made a mine which can operate commercially later.

Wartime metals also brought back into production the Kootenay Florence at Ainsworth, one of the District's base metal producers.

LUMBERING HAS BIG PART

Lumbering has played a part evidenced by trainloads of forest products. Output has climbed steadily until an all-time record for sawlogs was established in August. Spruce for airplane veneers made at Vancouver; cottonwood for locally-made veneers that find a hundred war uses; spruce lumber and cottonwood for wartime packaging; cedar poles for power lines in place of steel; lumber for Alaska highway construction, for barracks, internment camps and wartime housing—this is the picture of West Kootenay lumbering in wartime.

Increased railway traffic has resulted in expansion of shop facilities at Nelson, a Canadian Pacific Railway divisional point, with a wheel and axle lathe shop built this year.

While all this was going on Nelson and District sent nearly 1000 men and women to the forces. The local Women's Auxiliary to the active forces has undertaken to supply each recruit with a Christmas parcel and 500 will go overseas, each containing a home-baked fruit-cake and knitted articles.

Early in the war Wing Cmdr. John Campbell, well known local fruit grower, set a mark for Nelson District men to strive for when he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. He was killed in the Battle of France.

Housing is not a serious problem, although good accommodation is at a premium.

Business has profited from the evacuation of Japanese from the Coast to such adjacent points as Kaslo, Sandon and Slocan City. Quantities of local lumber were absorbed in the construction of hundreds of small houses for them.

An outstanding service rendered by Nelson, Nakusp and Kaslo has been entertainment of airmen training in Alberta under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan. Fifteen hundred of varied nationality has come here through offices of the Citizens' Committee and many have returned on private invitations.

One of the greatest stories of the war effort is the financial contribution made by Nelson District residents. With a population of 25,000, of which 7000 are Doukhobors whose contribution generally is regarded as slight, more than $4,698,000 has been raised of which $3,793,150 was in victory bonds.

Bulldozer Wipes Out Jap Machine-Gun Nest

GUADALCANAL, Oct. 31 (AP).—A United States bulldozer doubling in an emergency as an offensive weapon knocked out a Japanese machine gun nest during the landing on Treasury Islands, it was reported today.

A New Zealand officer, whose men were held up a few yards from shore by strong enemy machine-gun fire, saw an unidentified American drive his giant bulldozer from a landing craft which had just beached.

"The light of battle came into the American's eye," the New Zealand officer said. "With blade uplifted as a shield he barged through the undergrowth and then as he reached the enemy pillbox he dropped the blade, scooping up earth on the Japs burying them.

"Halfway over the hole he swerved his improvised tank around and then pulled away leaving a flat, smooth area and no trace of the Japs or the machine guns."

RECOVER STOLEN RINGS

VICTORIA, Nov. 1 (CP)—Police today recovered about 120 gold rings of an undetermined number stolen early Sunday morning from the window of J. W. Francis Jewelery Store, Douglas Street.

APPROVE INCREASE OF U. S. POSTAL RATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP). — An increase from three to four cents in charges on out-of-town letters was voted today by the United States House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee. The revenue group raised the local letter rate from two to three cents. The Committee decided to cut back the air mail rate from a tentatively approved 10 cents to 8 cents. The present rate is 6 cents.

ANOTHER PARALYSIS CASE AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP).—Discovery of one more case of poliomyelitis over the weekend brought the Vancouver total to four so far this year. The victim was a 16-year-old boy.

F.A.C. Annual and Banquet to See Presentations

The Fairview Athletic Club will hold its annual meeting and banquet shortly, states Slim Porter, the Club's manager.

As usual hockey matters will take up most of the time of the meeting. This year the Club will be able to enter only a bantam and a midget team, the Juveniles being shifted into the Commercial League—such as there are of them available.

Last years executive is small, with only two Vice-Presidents available, with the other members being in the Armed Services.

Highlights of the meeting and banquet will be the presentation of the Wilfred Marquis Sportsmanship Trophy to St. Clair Duffy, who won the honor for the past 1942-43 season. Duffy also receives a small replica of the Trophy from the Club for his own personal keep. There will also be presentation of photos of the Club's City Bantam Champs to each of the Bantam players who were on the team.

This year's meeting will mark the start of the Club's twenty-second year in Nelson and district sport.

Osler's 14½-Pound Trout Officially Entered for Derby

Ed. Osler, Main [illegible] who annually has some of the best entries in the [illegible] Derby, caught a 14½ pounder way back in July—a tribute to his prowess because few big fellows were caught that month. The report of his catch went astray somewhere, and it wasn't until a checkup was made that his catch was brought to the notice of Derby Statistician J. A. Ballantyne. It is now on the official list, however.

Mr. Osler landed his 14½ pounder in the North Bay at Blandel, the big fellow taking a Gibbs Stewart No. 2. It was weighed in by J. W. Burns, Ainsworth.

Big Stuke Takes 10-Point Lead in Ontario Scoring

TORONTO, Nov. 1 (CP) — Annis Stukus of Toronto Balmy Beach tonight held a 10-point lead over his closest rival, Joe Krol of Hamilton Flying Wildcats, it was shown in the Ontario Rugby Football Union scoring statistics compiled by The Canadian Press.

Big Stuke scored two field goals, a single and three converts in the two games Beaches' played in the last week to increase his total to 56 while Krol had a touchdown and one single, bringing his total to 64.

Walter Gibb, Hamilton's placemen kicking expert, held third place in the standings with 31 points.

Hundreds of Fish Caught in Freak of Nature

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Nov. 1 (AP).—It was a freak of nature, but fisherman's luck, and 300 boys made the most of it.

They used landing nets, coal sieves, bushel baskets, even their hands, to scoop up hundreds of fish marooned in the shallow waters along the banks of the Delaware River here yesterday.

All they did was wade in and slap 'em onto the banks.

A 14-year-old boy claimed the record catch—more than 300.

Opinions differed as to how the fish were stranded. Some believed heavy rains, causing an interchange of fresh and salt water, made them sluggish. Others thought heavy blasting on the Jersey side may have stunned them.

But the boys didn't worry about explanations—they just caught fish.

Kimberley May Have Ice for B. C. Spiel

KIMBERLEY, B. C.—Possibility of playing host to the annual B. C. Curling Bonspiel was discussed at the annual meeting of the Kimberley Curling Club and it was agreed on by members providing satisfactory arrangements could be made. Last season McDougal curling facilities were diminished when a couple of sheets of ice were taken over to be converted into living accommodation to ease the housing situation.

However the community affords other ice facilities than the remaining sheets in the curling rink, in the Arena skating rink and the Chapman Camp curling rink.

William Lindsay and J. R. Giegerich were elected honorary officers.

Albert Lilley was chosen President, J. McConnachie, Vice-President, G. R. Felker, Treasurer, J. H. Twells Secretary, Rev. S. T. Galbraith, Chaplain, and J. R. Rochon, J. R. Giegerich, Storm Maarinan, D. A. Morrison, J. R. Buchanan and C. P. Neabitt, Executive.

TO BUILD NELSON GYM TEAM FOR B. C. COMPETITION

Nelson Pro Rec Centre may next Spring be represented in the B.C. gymnastic championships at the Coast. A number in the men's classes are showing exceptional ability, Ed Kelter, Pro Rec Director, said, and it is his aim to develop them into a display team for competition. Among the more advanced gymnasts are John Collinson, Don Brown, Jack Steed, Dalton Boomer and Louis Hanic. Others may be added to the team.

A team of five Saturday afternoon entertained at the St. Saviour's Church Hallowe'en Party. It included Kelter, Collinson, Brown, Steed and Boomer.

McCance Tops West Scoring Race

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1 (CP) — Chas. McCance, flashy backfielder with Winnipeg R.C.A.F. Bombers topped the Western Armed Services Rugby League scoring race during the regular season which ended here Saturday.

McCance, for many years a star end and backfielder with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, earned 29 points in six games with the Bombers. He had four touchdowns, and four converts.

He was followed in the point-getting parade by his team-mate Lac. Johnny Lake who ran up 18 points in a similar number of games with the Bombers. The 200-pound flying wing combined two touchdowns with six converts.

Pioneer Cranbrook Business Firm Goes to Coast Man

CRANBROOK, B.C.—This area's oldest business firm, which predates the founding of Cranbrook has been bought by J. M. Falkins of Vancouver. It is the real estate and insurance firm of Beale and Elwell, started at Fort Steele in 1897 by M. A. Beale and Edward Elwell, when Steele gave indications of becoming the hub of East Kootenay.

When the course of the projected southern provincial branch of the railway went through Cranbrook instead of Steele the townsite was blocked out in 1898 and settled rapidly. The firm transferred from Fort Steele to Cranbrook in the early 1900's.

Both partners are now dead. On the death of Mr. Beale several years ago, Mrs. Beale assumed management and will now retire to make her home at Victoria. Mr. Falkins is a former member of R. S. Day & Son, and he and Mrs. Falkins and their young son will take over the apartment occupied by Mrs. Beale in the Hanson Block, which also houses the office of the firm.

Apple trees can be planted in late Autumn after the trees have shed their leaves. If they are to be planted in the Spring the earlier they can be put into the ground the better.

Jewett, Kelter, Massey Welcomed as Rotarians

Nelson Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting Monday welcomed three newcomers to membership. They were F. A. Jewett, Ed Kelter and Dr. W. K. Massey.

E. P. Dawson, welcoming the new members, detailed the objects of Rotary and emphasized the obligations they accepted as members.

Do not leave any cull apples or wormy fruits lying under the trees over Winter. Rake them up and dispose of them. This method of sanitation is one effective way to keep brown rot of plums and grapes under control.

Silverton Mine Men Buy $2400 in Bonds

Victory Loan subscriptions totalling $4000, representing about one-third of the objective, have been made so far by employees of Western Exploration Co. Ltd. at Silverton.

The campaign to date has been led by the men employed at the Standard mine. Included in the group are Western Exploration employees at the nearby Mammoth mine and mill.

Jury Sees Body of Doukhobor Killed In Car

Body of John Woykin, Glade Doukhobor who was killed Saturday night in a truck-car crash near Shoreacres, was viewed Monday by a coroner's jury, opening an inquest into his death.

Adjournment was taken after the view, tentatively until 4 p.m. next Monday. This date was not certain, however, being dependent upon the availability of officials and of witnesses.

Woykin was driving a 1937 model passenger car when it figured in a partial collision with a slabwood-loaded truck driven by John Waldie of William Waldie & Sons Ltd., Robson.

The driver of the truck and his son escaped unhurt.

Three passengers in the Woykin car are in Kootenay Lake General Hospital under treatment — Miss Mary Chernenkoff with concussion, a broken arm and cuts; Alex Koozmetzoff with broken leg and shoulder; and Eli Koometzoff, father of Alex, with cuts.

The coroner's jury consists of J. V. K. McRory, Foreman; Albert J. Hanson, Charles McDougall, J. W. Smith, J. A. Wright and James Muir.

Doukhobor Goes to Jail for Failing Register

For failure to register as required under National Registration Regulations, Sam Savinkoff, Pass Creek Doukhobor, on Monday was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or to serve three months in jail.

Appearing before Stipendiary Magistrate Stanley Humphries in Provincial Police Court at Castlegar, he pleaded not guilty and in his defence said he followed only God's law. He refused to pay the fine and Monday afternoon was escorted to the Provincial Jail at Nelson to begin serving his sentence.

Contract... By Shepard Barclay

THAT DOUBLING HABIT

GET YOUR opponents into the doubling habit, by bidding a whole series of different things they are certain to whack, and you may ultimately lure them into doubling something they shouldn't. At least, that is the idea back of a policy employed by some bidding psychologists or psychological bidders in trying to get the contract at a sacrifice and thus prevent the opponents from playing the hand at a highly profitable contract.

North: ♠ A K 10 8 7 5 ♥ Q 9 5 4 ♦ None ♣ A Q J
West: ♠ J 9 4 ♥ 8 3 2 ♦ K 3 ♣ 10 9 7 5 ?
East: ♠ 3 ♥ 6 ♦ Q J 10 8 7 6 5 4 2 ♣ 6 4
South: ♠ Q 6 2 ♥ A K J 10 7 ♦ A 9 ♣ K 8 3

And, believe it or not, North passed that double. As it turned out, East was set five tricks, giving the opponents a score of 900, whereas they could have made more than 2,000 by playing the hand at an easily makable grand slam in hearts, spades or No Trump.

South told North, after the loss of the big score, that his business double of 7-Diamonds was not meant to be left in, but to tell his partner that he had the diamond A and also the A of his own heart suit. North could not read it that way, however. He reasoned that, having shown his blank in diamonds by the bid of 6-Diamonds, his partner probably had the diamond suit bunched against East and could beat his head off.

If you think East was taking a terrific chance in bidding all of those things which he could not make, just realize that he was willing, after North's 2-Spades, to be set any number of tricks not doubled at 50 points a trick and could take himself out whenever he was doubled.

* * *

Your Week-End Lesson

All good players consider a suit bid of exactly one more than necessary to overcall the bid which reaches them, as a preclaimer of general power. What, then, is the accepted meaning among fine bidders, of a call which is two more than necessary, or one which is three more than necessary, in the early stages of the auction?

Market Trends . . .

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (CP)—Buying again centred mainly on specialties in today's market while the majority of leaders slipped to moderately lower levels.

Volume was around 700,000 shares.

Braniff Airways came on the big board for the first time and sold at 14. The issue slipped after declaration of an initial 25-cent dividend.

International paper edged into new high ground for 1943.

Canadian issues were mostly on the down side.

TORONTO, —Gold stock led an upward movement of Toronto Exchange today.

Dome Gold gained a point to 27 and other golds advancing fractions were Bollinger and Bralorne.

The Abitibi issues were up ¼ to ⅝. Montreal Power recovered 1⅝ to 19⅝. B.C. Packers and Western Canada Flour Pfd. weakened a point. B.C. Power A weakened a point to 24½.

MONTREAL—Utilities, Papers and Golds were slanted up today.

Montreal Power and Shawinigan advanced major fractions. Also up were Winnipeg Electric common and preferred and International Utilities "A". International Power was shaved.

National Steel Car pasted again. Smelters and International Nickel backed up. Imperial Oil and B.A. were better in refineries.

VANCOUVER.—Mines were firm this morning on Vancouver Stock Exchange.

WINNIPEG, —Rye futures finished stronger after a weak opening. Closing values were 1⅞ to 2⅞ cents higher with December quoted at $1.12⅝.

Gains here reflected strength on the Chicago market where substantial selling of wheat and buying of rye was reported.

A small wheat business was transacted with the United States Commodity Credit Corporation during the session. Estimates of the business were placed at more than 200,000 bushels.

CHICAGO, —Once the presidential message to congress advocating subsidies to control food prices was out of the way, grains staged a good advance today. Early losses ranging to about a cent in wheat were cancelled and gains were substituted in all pits.

Doukhobor Jailed for Refusing to Take Examination

Refusing to pay a fine because, he claimed, he had not committed any offence and was guided by God's law rather than Canadian law, John E. Woykin, Doukhobor of Pass Creek, entered on a 30-day sentence at the Provincial Jail at Nelson Monday. At the conclusion of his term he is to be escorted to the Military Training Centre at Vernon.

Woykin, arrested by Constable John DeVoin of Castlegar, appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Stanley Humphries at Castlegar Monday and pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to report for medical examination as instructed under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations.

Lt. Ken McBride Sees Germans Ready to Crack

Lieut. K. G. McBride writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Leigh McBride of Nelson, from the thick of the struggle of the Canadian Army in Italy against the Germans. "The way things look the Germans are already to crack wide open" he says of the situation on that part of the Italian front.

"Hello again from Italy—things are still going well with me in this campaign," writes the Nelson boy. "I'm in the very best of health so please dinna worry about me. Hope you both are feeling well and are still getting some golf in. I'd give plenty to whack a pill around — even in an old field. Oh well, I have a job to do here and the way things look the Germans are all ready to crack wide open—all the same as the Italians. As soon as we hit their country they gave up with no fight in them. I'll bet you are following the news very closely now—trying to figure out where the Canadians are exactly, because you know I am there, right in the thick of it all.

"Right now we are doing big bargaining with the natives—we have 139 eggs in the Platoon larder (we had two fried eggs this a.m.—almost thought I was back in Canada.

"Read in an Eastern paper that the overseas men would be last men demobilized—That didn't cheer us up much. Right in our advance in Italy the Salvation Army brought out some newspapers. I found six Nelson News' among them which was some surprise to me. They were June issue. It was quite a thrill to see the News again."

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Heavy blows at German morale have been rained upon Nazidom with publication of the four-power Moscow covenant of war and peace and the accompanying declarations.

The sweeping scope of the main document, pledging China as well as Britain, Soviet Russia and the United States to fight on, is breath-taking.

It could leave Japan, not specifically mentioned, in no doubt as to where Russia ultimately will stand in the global battle.

It is expected the Moscow declarations as to Germany will be followed soon by similar Anglo-American-Chinese pronouncements of a similar nature, dooming Japan. But it is upon the Nazi front that the blow conceived and executed in Moscow must fall most heavily.

The Moscow agreements constitute a political coup as far-reaching in effect and as stunning to German satellite morale as the military victories being carved out by Allied arms in Russia and in Italy.

They and definitely Nazi hopes of an Allied break over war or post-war policies.

The four-power pact and the seven specific declarations it contains, appear to cover the whole field of relations for both war and post-war purposes so fully that there remains little for a face-to-face meeting between Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin to accomplish.

The declarations leave the strong impression that State Secretary Cordell Hull and Foreign Minister Eden, perhaps to their mutual surprise, found the Russian colleagues fully advised as to the difficulties of bringing the Allied attack from the West, the march on Berlin from Britain, into operation sooner than now scheduled.

They invite the thought also that faced with a vast task of reconstruction within her own borders, Russia is more concerned with securing peace through the post-war "general international organization" such as the pact visualizes, than with extension of her own Western frontiers for military buffer purposes.

In effect Moscow has fully assented to the Anglo-American thesis that National Security and world peace are synonomous and can be gained only by friendly cooperation, not by territorial grabs.

Capt. H. J. Byrnes Prisoner in Italy

Capt. H. J. Byrnes, who was listed as missing in July, is now reported a prisoner of war in Italy, according to word received by his wife, Mrs. H. J. Byrnes, in Nelson. Mrs. Byrnes received an Italian captive card from her husband last week. She resides at 319 Carbonate Street with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. McMillan.

B. C. Veneer Flies 3-Star Pennant

A three-star pennant is flying over the B. C. Veneer Works.

This war finance award signifies that at least 90 per cent of the employees are subscribing to Victory Loan bonds and War Savings certificates, and that the subscription represents 15 per cent of the firm payroll over a six-month period.

The Veneer Works was the first Nelson firm to fly the three-star pennant in the Fifth Victory Loan campaign.

To gain a pennant 90 per cent of a firm's employees must subscribe 12½ per cent of their payroll over a six months' period to war finance. For a three-star award this objective must be exceeded.

Lac. Don Wilson Leaves After Visit to Coast

Lac. D. A. (Don) Wilson has left for his base at Regina after spending a leave at Grand Forks, Trail and Nelson. He expects to transfer immediately to a station in Ontario to continue his training in navigation.

Lac. Wilson spent the first of his leave visiting his wife and family at Rossland. At Rossland and Trail he visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wilson, and friends. He was accompanied by his wife on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, 722 Third Street, Fairview.

When seeds are being saved for next year, it is important that they should be thoroughly dried before they are put away, otherwise they are likely to spoil. Spread the seeds out on papers in an airy room and when thoroughly dry, clean out the trash and put the seed away in pasteboard boxes, taking care to label each kind properly.

Orange Shortage Reported in Supply Survey

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canadians have sufficient essential foods to maintain health but recurring shortages of some supplies, like oranges, are common, a survey by The Canadian Press revealed today.

From Halifax to Victoria supplies of most meats are sufficient, although some cities reported bacon and other pork products "rare." But with one voice the cities reported a severe shortage of oranges.

With respect to meats generally, pork products not included, the Maritimes reported good supplies while Montreal noted that poultry meat was not plentiful. In Quebec the meat situation was "fair." Ontario's meat situation is fair.

The Prairie Provinces, which include many ranches within their borders, reported good beef, veal and lamb stocks, but were little better off than other parts of Canada in respect to pork products. Manitoba reported prices from 32 to 51 cents a dozen for oranges.

Merchants in several cities said bananas are "only a memory." In Montreal, Quebec and the Maritimes citrous fruits are scarce. Canned fruits have vanished from shelves in many places along with salmon, canned vegetables, peanut butter and similar lines.

Locally-grown vegetables have been in fair supply in most Ontario cities.

In the Maritimes and West, apples were said to be in fair supply but some Ontario cities accustomed to plentiful supplies were not so cheerful. In Vancouver there was a report apple rationing might be necessary due to a poor crop, but although it might be no consolation, there appeared to be plenty of lemons in the coast city stores.

The Prairies, too, reported apples usually available, with fancy McIntosh Reds selling at three pounds for 27 cents in Regina. In Manitoba, Jonathans sold at three pounds for 25 cents.

Despite the demand for eggs, most cities reported enough to go around, although there was not the abundance of pre-war days and in some centres supplies were definitely short.

Toronto merchants said the supply of onions was inadequate, and it was expected supplies of old potatoes would have to be drawn from the United States this Winter—something not been done for 20 years.

Roosevelt Urges Boost in Food Price Subsidy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP). — President Roosevelt in an exhaustive review of the world food situation urged Congress today to continue and increase the administration's $800,000,000 food price subsidy program to assure an adequate supply and prevent a "serious and dangerous cycle" of inflation.

To a legislature which has been sharply critical of Federal subsidies and which has leaned rather toward higher farm prices to encourage greater production for war, the chief executive sent the longest special message of his nearly 11 years in the White House—10,000 words. He had checked and rechecked it many times and spent almost a month writing it.

Shorn of its historical data, the message assured the American people that there will be "enough food to go around," specifically nailed reports of a "meat famine" this Winter, and declared in two objectives —increasing production, and maintaining fair food prices for the consumer.

"I am convinced," the President said, "that to abandon our present policy would increase the cost of living, bring about demands for increased wages which would then be justifiable, and might well start a serious and dangerous cycle of inflation—without any net benefit to anyone."

Nelson K.P.'s to Sponsor Show to Aid Blind Kiddie

Nelson Lodge No. 25, Knights of Pythias is sponsoring a picture show in Nelson in the near future to raise money to assist in paying for an operation to try to restore the sight of Jimmie Nyman, of Rosebery.

Jimmie was blinded about three years ago when he found a box of blasting caps and proceeded to put on his own show by striking them against the rocks to hear them pop, the result being the total destruction of one eye and severe damage to the other. About three months after this unfortunate accident, Jimmie's father was killed in an automobile accident near New Denver, leaving his widow and six other small children.

Jimmie is now attending a school for the blind at Vancouver, and upon being examined by specialists it is believed with the aid of an operation that sight may be restored.

It is with this in mind that the residents of the Slocan District are endeavoring to raise sufficient money to make this operation possible. They have already raised over $300. The Trustees named to look after this fund are Dr. A. Francis and F. L. Beggs of New Denver and A. Ham and T. Leask of Silverton.

Corporal Farrar of the R.C.M.P., now stationed at Kaslo, has put on several picture shows in the Slocan District to assist in raising money for this cause, and has volunteered to present his show in Nelson for the same purpose. The pictures to be shown were taken by Corporal Farrer himself on his trip through the Northwest Passage in 1904 and 1924.

Corporal Farrar was a member of a crew on the sailing ship St. Roch, that left Vancouver, in the Spring of 1904 and proceeded up the West Coast, around Alaska, and through the Northwest Passage, arriving at Lunenberg, N.S., almost two years later. During the trip the Corporal took moving pictures of everything of interest, and is now presenting them to the public along with his interesting lecture on his trip through these hazardous waters. Corporal Farrar has the sanction of his superior officers in putting on his show and telling his story of their trip for any worthy cause, and has already shown his pictures in many Coast cities, and assisted in raising several thousand dollars for the Red Cross, Aid to Russia, and Milk for Britain Funds.

Japanese Leave for Eastern Pulpwood Jobs

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP) — Twenty-two young unmarried Japanese leave Nelson tonight to work in a pulpwood mill near Fort William, Ont., it was announced today by George Collins, B.C. Security Commissioner.

It is the first time since the war with Japan began that Japanese have been affected by a compulsory job transfer order issued by the National Selective Service.

The men are all Canadian-born and are Canadian citizens, Mr. Collins said.

"They are qualified for the work they are being sent to," Collins said, "as they have had experience at it since they were sent to the Interior."

Additional groups of Japanese are expected to be moved to other parts of Canada from time to time as orders for them are received by Selective Service.

The men will be paid standard wages paid white men by the Pigeon River Timber Co., which sent the order for employees to Selective Service. This wage rate has been set by the Ontario Government and timber operators.

Trail Rink Opens Tonight

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 1— Reg Stone, manager of the Trail rink, announced yesterday that everything would be all set for general skating Tuesday night. This was a day or so sooner than expected but the pipes were found to be in excellent condition with fewer leaks than was looked for.

Activities at the rink for the first couple of weeks will be confined to general skating but the different organizations are busy completing their plans for the coming season and a full schedule for the rink is foreseen.

Curlers are looking forward to their pre-season bonspiel, which is scheduled for the week of Nov. 15, and the Trail Skating Club is all set to go Nov. 23. Reports from the hockey front are promising and it sems almost certain that sports fans can look forward to some good competitive hockey this season. Further details will be forthcoming after the general meeting of the Senior Hockey League which is scheduled for sometime this week.

Besides the expected City League word should be coming soon from the midget, bantam, and juvenile leagues which will operate again this season.

SCHOOL WILL BUY MOVIE PROJECTOR

CRESTON, B.C. — Highlights of the monthly School meeting was the transfer of $300 from a reserve account of the Agricultural Department to an active account, with the money being spent under the supervision of the Finance Committee, for the purchase of an incubator, construction of a small hot house and the buying of agriculture references and the renting of a moving picture projector with suitable films. This recommendation by Principal S. J. Graham was adopted by a full School Board with James Holder in he chair.

Charles Perry and W. J. Scott, and Bandmaster Fishwicke, were appointed to the Band Committee and will meet representatives of the Creston Board of Trade for the policy of the Band for the ensuing year.

The matter and financing of High School Cadet uniforms was discussed and the Board authorized the purchase of uniforms for the senior platoon under the financial plans presented by S. J. Graham.

In conclusion, Mr. Graham hoped all trustees would be able to attend the Teachers' Convention being held in Cranbrook, with discussion centered around the school and the community, industry and the citizenship of the community. Rev. A. A. Fulton, Creston, will be the local representative on the panel which will hear the discussions.

Accounts passed for the month totalled $1755 withsalaries totalling $2405. The Board also authorized the purchase of a wreath for Memorial Day.

Fruits which drop prematurely are usually afflicted with insect or fungus pests. For this reason it is wise to gather them up and destroy them rather than leave them on the ground where they may serve as a source of reinfestation next season.

War Hits Prince Rupert With Bang

By G. A. HUNTER
PRINCE RUPERT NEWS

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Nov. 2 (CP) — September, 1939, found Prince Rupert a tranquil town of 6000 population, its main industry fishing, little dreaming of the transformation that would be wrought by four years of war.

Apart from fishing the port existed as a railway branch line terminus and distributing and administrative centre for a largely undeveloped district. Fortification of the harbor had begun in a leisurely sort of way prior to the outbreak of war, which caused a spurt of feverish activity as the shipyard owned by the Canadian National Railways was put into operation to build ocean-going freighters.

There was some nervousness in regard to Japan and troops began to come to Prince Rupert, mostly to continue their training. But Dec. 7, 1941, and the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, brought home the full impact of the war.

Since then the city has been virtually transformed. A strategic port of embarkation for the Alaskan war theatre, it has become a congested centre of population of 20,000 persons, all more or less engaged in war activities, trying to get along with the town's facilities for 6000.

Prince Rupert is now the hub of a vast war program of which major phases are port development, emergency war transport and highway construction. The railway line has become one of the busiest in the C.N.R. system with traffic— both freight and passenger— 30 times what it was two or three years ago.

The great increase in industrial employment here has brought hundreds if not thousands of new families and has produced a housing shortage possibly more acute than anywhere else in Canada. Wartime housing has entered the picture by erecting hundreds of new homes to care for at least part of the demand.

Today finds every employable man and woman in Prince Rupert pressed into service in the war effort. There is a labor shortage in line with that of goods and services.
