8th ARMY JUMP TRAPS GERMANS

Germans Seize Strongpoints on Island of Kos

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Striking by sea and air, German forces have wrested several strongpoints from British troops on the island of Kos in the Italian Dodecanese, the Allies announced, but in Yugoslavia patriot armies engaged the Nazis on a long, irregular front.

The counter-assault upon Kos, 23 miles long and the second largest island of the Dodecanese lying near Turkey, was a minor but measurable setback in the Allied campaign in the Aegean. The Middle East Command announced that "the fighting continues."

A Berlin broadcast asserted that all military installations had been seized on Kos. The island was recovered Sept. 22 by British parachute troops and sea-borne forces along with Leros in the Dodecanese and the Greek Island of Samos to the North.

The Yugoslavs battled the Nazis on a front from Northeastern Italy in the frontier region 350 miles down the coast of Yugoslavia, broadening their lodgment in the lower section of their homeland and tearing up German port and rail communications in the bottleneck where the Italian peninsula meets the Balkans.

They struck with rising power at a time when the German flank in that area of the Balkans was being increasingly menaced by the landing of fresh troops of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army on the Adriatic shores of Italy at Termoli.

A communique broadcast by the free Yugoslav radio gave these details of the struggle pinning down a large number of Nazi divisions:

The Tara River city of Kolasin in Southern Yugoslavia, 75 miles inland from the port of Dubrovnik, was captured by the Yugoslavs.

All isolated German garrisons in like province are encircled and are "being systematically destroyed."

The Yugoslavs still are clinging to their positions about the port of Susak near Italian Fiume, and about the port of Split after days of heavy German attacks.

R.A.F. Strikes New Blow; Nazis Hit East Anglia

LONDON, Oct. 5 (Tuesday) (CP)—For the fourth successive night R.A.F. bombers crossed the Channel "in strength" early today for another blow at the continent where German industrial centres had been battered Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Southeast coast residents reported they heard the unbroken roar of planes crossing over one town for more than an hour.

Over Britain, a few German raiders dropped high explosive bombs in one district of East Anglia.

SIX MORE BARGE LOADS OF HUNS SUNK BY RUSS

Bitter Tank Battles Rage Near Gomel; Rain Hampers Russ FORCE RIVER

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Russian airmen, apparently hammering the last German remnants fleeing from the Caucasus to the Crimea, sank six more barges carrying troops and supplies today, while the Red Army forced another river near Gomel and killed nearly 4,000 Germans amid bitter tank battles in White Russia, Moscow announced tonight.

Soviet Black Sea fleet airmen also destroyed more than 100 trucks and dispersed a German battalion. But there was as yet no official Moscow report on what Berlin has hinted—that the liberation of the Caucasus is in its final stage.

In White Russian and along the Dnieper River line of the Ukraine, bad weather and fierce German resistance had slowed the Red Army for the first time since it launched its successful Summer offensive to hurl back the Germans 200 miles to the Dnieper, the Moscow communique indicated.

A group of Soviet automatic riflemen crossed a river near Gomel, probably the Sozh Northeast of the city, routed the German defenders and paved the way for the crossing of the main Russian forces, the bulletin said.

In another sector of the Gomel front the Russians said one of their units beat down seven enemy counter-attacks and wiped out about 3,000 Germans.

Three populated places were captured by the Russians attacking in the Vitebsk area, where 300 Germans were killed, and stout enemy counter-attacks also were reported on the intermediate Mogilev front, Moscow said.

Soviet airmen entering the White Russian skies above the armies grappling in the marshes knocked out 10 German tanks, 40 guns, and more than 100 trucks carrying war materials, it was said.

The communique termed all these engagements as only of "local importance," fought to improve Soviet positions.

A tacit acknowledgement that fierce German resistance also had played its part at the Dnieper came in the announcement that 67 German tanks had been destroyed in Sunday's fighting.

That made a two-day Russian bag of 222, and showed that German tank reserves were being hurled into battle along the Dnieper and the Gomel-Vitebsk railway in White Russia as the Axis fought for time and weather to hold its natural defence line after a harrowing retreat carried out steadily over nearly a three month period.

DOWN 53 PLANES

Fifty-three German planes also were shot down for a two-day total bag of 95, Moscow said, as airmen of both sides increasingly took over a battle that has bogged down in muddy roads and marshes.

Although dispatches from Moscow for the last few days have foreshadowed a lull, largely due to the Fall downpours, it was too early to say whether the latest communique meant that the Russians were to be cheated out of early capture of Gomel, Mogilev and Vitebsk. The Winter freeze does not descend on White Russia until late November.

ADMIRAL POUND RESIGNS AS FIRST SEA LORD

Mediterranean Chief Cunningham to Succeed Him POUND ILL

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP.)—Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, First Sea Lord and Chief of the Naval Staff, has resigned because of ill health, it was announced tonight. He will be succeeded by Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Cunningham, Commander-in-Chief of Naval Operations in the Mediterranean. (See photos in Today's News Pictures).

Sir Dudley, who is 66, entered hospital for treatment after returning from the Quebec conference. He had been First Sea Lord and Chief of Naval Staff throughout the war and before his appointment in June, 1939, was Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean Fleet for three years.

Sir Dudley was reported seriously ill in the Royal Masonic Hospital.

Often termed Britain's greatest Admiral since Nelson, Sir Andrew, 59, has been supreme Commander-in-Chief of Naval Operations in the Mediterranean under Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Allied Commander-in-Chief. Sir Andrew, who won one of the greatest victories in British naval history when the Italian fleet gave up the fight, became Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean Fleet when Sir Dudley was appointed First Sea Lord.

Sir Andrew's new duties are expected to take him from the Mediterranean post in the near future but there was no indication in London tonight who would succeed him.

The new First Sea Lord knows the Mediterranean perhaps as no other man. He defeated units of the Italian fleet in the first stages of the war and spent the last months before Italy's surrender attempting to lure Mussolini's warships from hiding for a finish fight.

Sir Andrew also was attached to the Mediterranean fleet in the first Great War. He served in neighboring waters during the Boer War.

He was serving in one of his few land jobs—as Deputy Chief of Naval Staff—when this war broke out, and took his assignment as Commander of the British Mediterranean fleet with a sigh of relief.

"I never was any damned good at office work anyhow," he told intimates.

Sir Andrew is considered the personification of the Royal Navy, a strict disciplinarian who holds the respect of his men. He is known throughout the Navy for his powerful voice.

Admiral Pound has been prominent in three critical periods for Britain. He commanded the Colossus at the Battle of Jutland and in 1935, when war with Italy threatened over Ethiopia, he was placed in command of the Mediterranean fleet.

He was appointed Chief of Naval Staff in 1939 and soon after was given the rank of Admiral of the Fleet.

Popularly called the "father" of Britain's present naval strategy which emphasizes aggressive action, he attended Prime Minister Churchill's 1941 warship conference with President Roosevelt at which the Atlantic Charter was drawn, and later conferences at Washington.

Sir Dudley is one of two living naval officers to hold the Order of Merit, which the King conferred on him Sept. 2. He served as Director of the Admiralty Plans Division in 1922-25, Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty and Assistant Chief of the Naval Staff in 1927-29, Rear Admiral commanding the battle cruiser squadron in 1929-31 and from 1932 to 1936 was Second Sea Lord and Chief of Naval Personnel.

NAZI CHIEF LOOKS OVER ATLANTIC WALL DEFENCES

Bundled up in a heavy overcoat, Reichminister Albert Speer, head of the Todt construction organization, inspects one of the big guns in the Atlantic Wall defences along the French coast. The Nazis claim that this wall, longest and most fortified in the world, is the "perfect defence" against invasion.

U. S. WARSHIPS SINK OVER 40 JAP BARGES

Also Sink Gunboat in Gulf Action; Planes Fought Off 1 WARSHIP HIT

By OLEN CLEMENTS
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 5 (Tuesday) (AP)—United States warships intent on thwarting the enemy's apparent evacuation of Kolombangara Island intercepted flotillas of gunboat - escorted barges in the Vella Gulf the night of Oct. 1-2 and destroyed more than 40 of the craft.

One of the Japanese gunboats also was sent to the bottom under heavy shelling from surface units, Allied Headquarters announced today.

The scene of the action, which was repeated the following night when further losses were inflicted upon the enemy, was in the narrow waters between American-held Vella Lavella Island in the Solomons and the weakening Japanese position at Vila on Kolombangara to the South.

Indications were that the barges carried full loads of enemy troops.

On the night of the first attack, enemy planes attempted to disperse and drive off the American warships, but the Allied communique said they inflicted only "light casualties on one vessel." In addition, the ship suffered some bomb damage from a near miss.

CROSS GUSAP RIVER

At the other extreme of the Southwest Pacific battlefront, Allied ground forces pushing up the Ramu River Valley in Northeastern New Guinea were reported to have crossed the Gusap River. The Gusap, tributary, flows into the Ramu 20 miles Northeast of the long-held Allied line at Bena Bena, an interior New Guinea 90 miles Northwest of Lae.

Meantime, with another successful campaign behind them, Australian veterans of the Allied New Guinea forces raised their sights to new horizons but there was no official indication as to where the next blow would be struck against the Japanese.

Word that something new was in the offing came from Brig.-Gen. Charles Willoughby, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Chief of Intelligence, who remarked:

"We will not stand still."

The Huon Gulf campaign, in which three major enemy coastal bases—Salamaua, Lae and Finschhafen—fell in as many weeks, "provides the answer" for operations for the next six to 12 months, said Willoughby, "if we are given the means to carry them out."

Fall of Finschhafen Saturday to those veterans of El Alamein, the Australian 9th Division, completed the Huon Gulf campaign. Now the Allies dominate the Gulf, have made the Japanese positions on Huon Peninsula virtually untenable and, in the words of MacArthur, have rendered enemy positions "practically useless" for a distance of 200 miles along the Coast to the Northwest.

Should the Allied forces turn Eastward, they have ahead of them strategic New Britain Island, a short hop of 70 miles across Vitiaz Strait. There the enemy is entrenched at Rabaul and other bases.

HUNS REPORT ITALIAN KING AND BADOGLIO ARRIVE IN NAPLES

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — The Berlin radio quoted a Geneva dispatch as saying that King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, accompanied by Crown Prince Humbert and Marshal Pietro Badoglio arrived in Naples today.

The dispatch, which gave the Swiss newspaper La Suisse as the source, said the King and his entourage had taken up residence at the Naples Royal Palace which for some years has been the home of the Crown Prince and his family.

TROOPS TAKE OVER AT HALIFAX DOCKS

Load Ship While Striking Freight Handlers Look on NEW THREATS

HALIFAX, Oct. 4 (CP)—Nearly 300 Army, Navy and Air Force troops took over a section of the Halifax waterfront today to transfer a perishable cargo from freight cars into the hold of a waiting ship in the wake of a strike of some 400 freight handlers and a sympathy walkout of nearly 100 stevedores.

Clad in navy blue and khaki dungarees the "labor battalion" moved into the dock sheds and swarmed into the ship and about the waiting freight train to begin their unaccustomed task, while the regular freight handlers and stevedores stood by. There were no demonstrations.

The freight handlers went on strike last Friday, protesting against the action of the National War Labor Board in granting them an increase of only four cents an hour, instead of the higher rate they asked. They now receive 56 cents an hour plus 6½ cents an hour cost of living bonus, and 10 cents an hour extra for night work. They had asked for 75 cents an hour for day work and 85 cents an hour for night.

The stevedores have no wage demands. They turned up ready for work this morning but when the troops were moved in they came off the ships and returned home.

Peter Garnier, President of the Halifax Local of the International Longshoremen's Union tonight refused to comment on the situation, but the expressed opinion of individual stevedores was that they would not work until the troops were withdrawn.

Meanwhile strike threats came from another source, when some crew members of the ship concerned said they would refuse to sail the vessel loaded by the troops because the cargo would "not be properly stowed." There was no comment on this by shipping officials.

The freight handlers held a mass meeting here this morning and all except two voted to remain on strike until their demands were met, it was learned following the closed session.

There was no indication from military sources how long the troops would remain on the docks, but there are six full trainloads of perishable goods on railway sidings between here and Winnipeg waiting to be loaded in the empty, waiting ships.

Almost 1500 longshoremen have been affected by the tie-up, and most of them have been idle since the strike started.

U. S. PLANES KNOCK OUT 75 HUN PLANES

Lose 15 Bombers; Canadians Cover U.S. Force BOOST SCORE

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP.)—Seventy-five Nazi planes were destroyed today in bombing and raiding operations by United States aircraft against the German industrial city of Frankfurt, other targets in Western Germany and operations over the North Sea.

A joint communique by the Air Ministry and the United States Army headquarters said the operations were carried out with the loss of 15 heavy bombers.

Without loss, Canadian Spitfires helped cover the return of the United States heavy bombers, an R.C.A.F. communique reported. The communique also raised the Canadian score in Sunday's Allied bag of 24 Nazi planes from nine to 10 but it did not identify the additional successful pilot.

The heavy bombers that hammered Frankfurt arrived over the city only a few hours after R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. night raiders blasted Kassel with 1900 tons of explosives hurled down at the rate of 96 tons a minute.

Long-range fighters which escorted the heavy bombers shot down 19 of the Nazi planes while the bombers who participated in the North Sea sweep accounted for the rest.

The intensity of the air drive indicated it might be intended to open the way for an invasion of Northwestern Europe, or to create a real aerial "second front" calculated to bring the maximum force against the German Air Force while it is preoccupied in Russia and Italy.

Reconnaissance pilots said that eight hours after the 1680 tons of bombs had been cascaded on Kassel, fires were burning so furiously that curtains of smoke were encountered 20 miles Northeast of the city.

Frankfurt's big rubber, automobile, chemical and rail facilities give it high priority in Allied list of German targets marked for obliteration.

The escorting fighters in this raid, equipped with extra gasoline tanks for the long haul, did not suffer a single loss.

Berlin acknowledged "considerable" damage to Kassel and said the population also suffered losses.

The R.A.F. loss of 24 planes brought Allied casualties for British-based aircraft to an average of 11 per raid out of hundreds of British and American craft used in night and day assaults since last Wednesday's attack on Bochum in the Ruhr.

Jap Supply Bases in Burma Bombed

NEW DELHI, Oct. 4 (CP.)—Heavy attacks on Japanese supply bases and rail transport were carried out by American medium and fighter-bombers in Northern and central Burma Saturday and Sunday, a U. S. headquarters announcement said today.

Medium bombers caused heavy destruction on tracks and rolling stock and left several large fires raging in the storage area during Sunday assaults on Sagaing, Irrawaddy River port in central Burma.

Fighter-bombers tore up railway tracks and left five fires raging among warehouses Saturday in a furious raid on Namti, North Burma.

Land Behind Nazi Lines to Seize Termoli

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Oct. 4 (AP) — The Allied offensive rolled forward along the entire Italian front today, with landings from the Adriatic Sea 17 miles behind the enemy's lines enabling the British 8th Army to make a spectacular gain in the face of stiffening German resistance.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's amphibious operation —the same type of "leap-frogging" advance that proved highly successful in earlier campaigns in Africa, Sicily and Calabria—trapped an undisclosed number of Nazi troops and clinched positions at Termoli, almost midway between the Italian heel and the mouth of the River Po in Northern Italy. Desperate German counter-attacks failed to drive the British veterans back into the sea.

5TH ARMY CROSSES CALORE

Fighting through a steady rain, troops of Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's Allied 5th Army pushed forward from Benevento, 32 miles Northeast of Naples, to force an important crossing over the Calore River and tonight were in position to outflank any defence line the Nazis might attempt to establish along the Volturno River, of which the Calore is a tributary.

British armored patrols thrusting Northward from Naples engaged in brisk clashes with the retreating enemy, but there yet was nothing to indicate that the Germans intend to fight more than a rearguard action in that area.

The Berlin radio reported that a sharp clash occurred at Giugliano, only five miles North of Naples, and declared that an Allied vanguard was repulsed after hard fighting. It said German forces were taking up new positions between Naples and Rome, but gave no hint of the location of the new line.

The air attack was directed primarily against bridges and highways around Capua, Isernia and Mignano, in the area between Naples and Rome where the Nazis have concentrated their transport both to supply their fighting troops and to withdraw heavy equipment from the path of the Allied advance.

SMASH BRIDGES

Allied medium bombers destroyed a high bridge Northeast of Isernia, wrecked an important road intersection and destroyed four enemy craft. Other bombers knocked out the Capua Road bridge across the Volturno after long columns of enemy troops and supplies had been observed crossing it.

Civitavecchia, North of Rome, was the target of a night attack by R.A.F. and Canadian Wellington bombers. Pilots reported smoke and flame and a series of blue flashes after a 4000-pound bomb hit in the railway yards and among electrical installations.

The 8th Army's landing at Termoli confronted the Germans with a new threat to their left flank. Fifty miles North of the great air base of Foggia, the port is at the sea head of a good lateral highway that runs inland to connect with a main North-South trunk line running up over the Apennine Mountains to Rome.

Termoli is about 215 miles up the coast from Taranto on the Italian heel and 190 miles South of Rimini, where the Po plains begin. It is along the historic path of conquerors toward the Emilian Way, which leads to the Po Valley in Northern Italy.

Gen. Montgomery's forces which include the Canadian 1st Division, now stand almost directly Eastward across the Italian Peninsula from Rome and are about the same distance from the eternal city as are Gen. Clark's divisions fighting out of Naples. By continuing its swift progress up the Adriatic shore, the 8th could make it virtually impossible for the Germans to put up a major defence South of Rome, or, indeed, South of the Po line.

There already was evidence that yesterday's crossing of the Calore by units of the 5th Army had forced the Nazis to abandon any thought of making a stand on the Volturno, which swings around to the North and West about 30 miles out of Naples. The Calore flows into the Volturno about 25 miles North of Naples.

Once across the Calore in force, the Allies will be able to strike Westward with little natural impediment.

Among the towns listed as taken in today's Allied communique were Castelfranco, 20 miles Northeast of Benevento; Ginestra, also Northeast of Benevento; Montecalvo, 18 miles East of Benevento; Mirabella, Nerlito and Bonito, all East and Southeast of Benevento; Lapio, Altavilla and Arpina, South of Benevento; Motta, 28 miles Northwest of Foggia, and Montemiletto, 11 miles Southeast of Benevento. There was only a slight arc in the Allied line bisecting the Italian Peninsula from Termoli to Naples.

GOUMIERS TAKE CORSICAN CITY OF BASTIA

Moroccans Chase Nazis to Sea; Huns Take Shelling CASUALTIES HIGH

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALGIERS, Oct. 4 (AP.)—Allied forces fashioned another spearhead at Hitler today with the fall of Bastia in the Northeastern corner of Corsica, virtually completing conquest of the island.

Moroccan mountain warriors—the Goumiers—entered Bastia, chief commercial city of the Napoleonic Isle, at 10 a.m., the French announced, following a devastating artillery bombardment from the hills which sent shells plunging into munitions stores and the boats in which the Germans were trying to escape.

While the shellfire was splintering the boats and setting great fires, the pig-tailed Moroccans employed their sharpshooting skill to chase the Germans out of Furiani, three miles Southwest of the port, and then pursued the enemy to the beaches.

Only a few isolated remnants of the Germans remained scattered along the beaches and they were being mopped up quickly by American Rangers and French motorized and shock detachments which had been equipped from United States stores.

The French communique said the whole Western coast and Northern part of Cap Corse, the Northern tip of the island, had been cleared as far as Luri, and that Borogo and its airfields 15 miles Southwest of Bastia, Vescovato and Casamozza, farther South, had been occupied.

Freeing of the Corsicans from enemy bondage was completed in less than a month after the patriots, supplied secretly by submarine and parachute, attacked the Germans Sept. 8 when it was learned that Italy had capitulated.

3000 CASUALTIES

An Allied officer just returned from the island said the Germans got most of their troops out, but suffered about 3000 casualties.

Japs Claim 6 Allied Subs Sunk in Sept.

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP.)—A communique broadcast by the Tokyo radio today claimed that Japanese naval units had sunk six Allied submarines during September "near Japan proper and in other operational areas."

The bulletin provided indirect confirmation of U. S. Navy announcements concerning the extensive operations being carried out by American submarines in Japanese waters, where they have been reported taking a heavy toll of enemy shipping. The Japanese claims concerning the number of submarines reported sunk, however, is not borne out by American acknowledgments of submarine losses.

Dill at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP) — Field Marshal Sir John Dill, who, as Chief of General Staff was responsible for the task of rebuilding the British Army after Dunkerque and who now represents the British Chiefs of Staff at Washington, arrived in Vancouver today.

Work Stoppage Ties Up New York Milk

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — The Sheffield Farms Milk Company said tonight a work stoppage had halted its operations in the Greater New York area and that 370,000 families would be deprived of regular milk deliveries tomorrow unless the workmen return.

The stoppage began when 300 drivers, pasteurizers and platform men declined to work, saying they were sick, and spread until 3500 men were out, tying up all the company's distribution in New York City, Nassau County and in New Jersey, the company reported.

F. J. Andre, Sheffield Bres'dent, described the stoppage as a "strike" and said he presumed it developed from a War Labor Board decision, effective today, approving a reduction in personnel on milk routes and continuance of skip-a-day deliveries. Fenton Hibbits, local President of the A.F.L. Milk Wagon Drivers' Union said the union officials were "unalterably opposed to the action of our men in the field." He added they were out because of a "provocative statement" by Edward O. Mather, Executive Secretary of the Milk Dealers' Association of New York. Hibbits did not elaborate.

CANNED MILK RETAILERS TO BUILD RESERVE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP) — Board rationing officials said today that British Columbia retailers of canned milk will be instructed to place 25 per cent of their stocks on hand in a "reserve" to meet the needs of holders of the new evaporated milk coupon cards and special permits.

Wholesalers, retailers and manufacturers of evaporated milk predicted today that Vancouver may face another canned milk shortage before the year's end. An official of the Pacific Milk Company here said that production of canned milk will slump now as raw milk supplies decrease.

B.C. Teachers to Link Up With Congress

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP.) — First Canadian Teachers' organization to affiliate with a labor body, the British Columbia Teachers' Federation will link itself with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, Federation officials reported today.

Decision on the Congress affiliation was made Saturday at an executive meeting.

The Federation points out that they are creating no precedent, however, as the American Teachers' Federation has for 20 years been linked with the American Federation of Labor. In New South Wales, Australia, public school teachers are organized in a trades union.

Confident U. S. and Russia Will Maintain Friendship

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP) — Newly-appointed Soviet Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko told President Roosevelt today that the Soviet Union has full confidence that the United States and Russia will be able to continue and strengthen their friendly relations after the war.

AUSSIE VETERAN KILLED NEAR NEW GUINEA

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTH PACIFIC, Oct. 4 (CP)—Brig. R. B. Sutherland, Australian veteran of Middle East campaigns was killed in an air accident in New Guinea, it was announced today.

Lt.-Gen. Sir Edmund Herring, General Officer Commanding Australian forward forces in New Guinea, had a narrow escape in the same accident. The plane crashed in attempting a take-off. Brig. Sutherland was Gen. Herring's aide.

Railwaymen Preparing for Campaign in C.P.R. Victory Loan Drive; Melneczuk Gift of $100 Sets Pace

William Melneczuk, C.P.R. Section Foreman at the Nelson yard, has set the pace for the C.P.R. employees' Victory Loan campaign. On Monday he handed to A. E. Stewart, Division Engineer, a check for $100 to be forwarded to Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance, as an outright gift for Canada's financial war effort.

Announcement of his gift was made, and the covering letter to the Finance Minister was read, at a rally of C.P.R. employees Monday night at the Canadian Legion, when another step in pre-campaign preparations was taken.

F. M. Rutter, Campaign Chairman for the B.C. District, and Ben Williams, Railway Liaison Officer, both of Vancouver were the chief speakers; Mr. Rutter on "Organization and Functions of Committees" and Mr. Williams on "Questions and Objections."

David Shepherd, Chairman of the Kootenay Division Committee, presided. He announced Mr. Melneczuk's $100 gift.

KOOTENAY QUOTA $94,000

Superintendent W. J. McLean, Honorary Chairman, stated Western Lines of the C.P.R. had a quota of $3,250,000, an increase of $250,000 over the last campaign. The Kootenay Division quota of $94,000 was an increase of $4000.

In the last campaign, he said, 34 per cent of Kootenay employees subscribed $54,000 through the company organization. This was 60 per cent of the objective and did not compare favorably with other divisions." He felt sure actual subscriptions were higher, but not being made in a manner to be credited to C.P.R. employees, they did not show in the total.

Mr. McLean, and other speakers, emphasized that subscriptions through the C.P.R. employees' plan meant that the entire subscription, without commission deducted, would go to the war effort.

H. A. Matthews, Organizer for Nelson District, described the payroll savings plan as in effect throughout Canada. He showed how in the first Victory Loan 275,000 applicants subscribed $30,000,000; and in the fourth 1,520,000 subscribed $143,000,000.

He emphasized that the national income had increased to the point where individuals were earning $15 for each $10 worth of available goods and the price ceiling was endangered as a result of competitive bidding by the public. This money must, he contended, go into bonds.

ADVICE TO CANVASSERS

Mr. Rutter discussed the committee setup for the Kootenay Division and counselled canvassers.

"We have a job of work to do — let's do it," he urged. "Let us move by lending, and speed the victory."

Taking up various questions about Victory Bonds, and objections voiced by some, Mr. Williams supplied an answer for each. He used charts to show what C.P.R. employees in B.C. had done in the last campaign and urged the Kootenay Division to aim at a "V" flag. This would be awarded when 90 per cent of the employees subscribed 12½ per cent of the gross payroll.

Victory Loan drives, he said, represented "the safest way to spread the huge cost of war and prevent inflation." He appealed for investments in bonds "to protect your job and provide employment for soldiers and munition workers after the war."

Canada had made a reputation all over the world for the manner in which it had financed its war expenditures, Mr. Williams stated. The total cost was under one per cent. Advertising cost less than one-tenth of one per cent.

REFUSALS HURT SELF

"Never, anywhere in the history of the world, was money raised so cheaply," he declared. For a person to refuse to buy bonds, hurt only himself. Money in the savings bank earned only half of what it would earn if invested in bonds.

Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Chairman of the War Finance Committee for Nelson District, asserted: "All of you want an all-out effort to win the war, and if you do there should not be any need to appeal to you to buy Victory Bonds."

One had every right to think and talk "of the victory that is to be," for it was "as sure and certain as tomorrow's sunrise," said Gerald S. Rees, Secretary of the Kootenay Committee. But, he added, "unless we, as individuals transmute thoughts into action and acts into deeds and there can be no building of the new Jerusalem."

THINKING OF HOME

Men in the services were thinking of victory in terms of homecoming, Mr. Rees continued.

"We do well to honor the men who have gone forth. How soon they can return depends very largely on how we keep the home fires burning.

"We can work, we can save, we can lend—and this can be our answer to the hate of Hitler and all his herrenvolk,' declared Mr. Rees.

"One thing we must realize," commented S. J. Newell, who was among Kootenay representatives at a recent rally in Vancouver of C.P.R. men, "is that we are still able to buy war bonds voluntarily."

As a father whose sons were serving in the Army, he urged "do all we can to save bloodshed, to rescue enslaved countries and to restore our freedoms. "Let us put as much as we possibly can into War Savings, hoping this campaign may be the last."

W. R. Hunter, another who attended the Vancouver meeting, pointed out that "if the people don't buy bonds, the only alternative for the Government is to get it by taxation." He emphasized the value of Victory Bonds for loan purposes in emergency.

Films, one showing the German leaders building up war frenzy, and the other a sing-song, were shown by J. M. Morley.

Othoa Scott Fund Interest to Go to Solarium

VICTORIA, Oct. 4 (CP.)—Interest from the Othoa Scott fund which, annually, is donated to crippled children will, for the second successive year, be given to Queen Alexandra Solarium, it was decided at the annual meeting of the Provincial Board meeting of Women's Institutes held here today. The fund amounts to $6800.

Gift of $100 was forwarded to Queen Elizabeth Fund for Bombed Children in Britain by five Junior Quilters at Colwood.

Plans were formulated today for holding of the Provincial convention which probably will take place in Vancouver during the last week in May.

TURKISH SYMPATHIES WITH THE ALLIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP.) — Turkish sympathies are definitely with the United Nations and if the military situation warrants, Turkey will enter the war with the Allies, diplomatic sources said today.

The Nazis, these sources assert, have written the strategically-placed neutral off their list of hoped-for satellites.

The main question is one of Allied strategy, according to a qualified observer who said it cannot be assumed that the United Nations' High Command would consider it advantageous to have Turkey fighting now.

Pro-Rec Work Gets Under Way With Men's Class

Owing to the Legion Hall being occupied by the C.P.R. Victory Loan meeting, the Men's Pro-Rec Class, which was billed to start its season there Monday night, had to go down to the Civic Arena, taking down the springboard and a load of mats in a car.

By the time the work got started, Instructor Ed Kelter had 16 men left, for the season's initial workout. It is expected, however, that there will be a big turnout for the Thursday night session at the Legion Hall.

Tuesday will see the Girls' Class get under way at the Legion, at 4 p.m., and the Women's Class will open its season at the Legion Tuesday night.

The Boys' Class will open Wednesday at 4 p.m.

R.M.R. Colonel Inspects Nelson Platoon

In the course of his annual inspection of the Battalion, Lieutenant-Colonel G. H. Ellis of Kamloops, Officer Commanding the Rocky Mountain Rangers (Reserve Army), visited the Nelson Platoon Monday night.

He was accompanied by Major J. F. Roberts, M.C., of Kamloops, Training Officer, and Regimental Quartermaster Sergeant R. Cooper of Kamloops.

With the Commanding Officer for the inspection was Captain Robert McNish of Trail, Officer Commanding D Company. Nelson Platoon, commanded by Capt. C. H. Hamilton, is included in D Company.

Others from Trail were Company Sergeant Major Alfred Elston; Lance-Corporal C. R. Stephinson, and Lance-Corporal Alfred Dupuis.

American Companies Disagree on World Air Policy

By J. F. SANDERSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (CP.)—A cleavage developed today among the big American commercial air lines over the policy to be followed by the United States in world flying after the war.

W. A. Patterson, President of United Air Lines, came out for monopoly representation, claiming "as a nation we cannot permit the conduct of private business to retard our international negotiations."

W. H. Coverdale, President of American Export Airlines, one of two companies holding a certificate for international flying, expressed direct opposition to monopoly control, arguing "our country is just too big for such a system."

The controversy between the two airline Presidents strikes deep into one of the basic problems that will confront the United States after the war: will the American share of global flying be carried by a single monopoly, as is the case with Canada represented by Trans-Canada Airlines, or by several private companies competing among themselves?

U.S. CUTS DOWN CIVILIAN WARNING SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (CP.) — The volunteer civilian portion of the United States' aircraft warning net was virtually eliminated tonight except as a reserve for emergency use.

The War Department ordered most of it placed simply on an "alert" status as a manpower conservation measure.

Instead of operating 24 hours a day, the approximately 7500 observation posts of the aircraft "spotters" and the 46 filter centres along the ast, West and Gulf coasts and the Canadian border will be manned only a few hours one day a week, to keep the organization together and prepared to return to full time duties at a moment's notice.

EXECUTIVE SHOT TO DEATH IN CHICAGO SKYSCRAPER

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)— A Chicago Insurance Executive was shot to death in his loop skyscraper office today, Police Capt. Thomas Duffy said, by a former business associate who subsequently surrendered to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The victim was Walter J. Habenicht, 45, office supervisor for the Connecticut Life Insurance Company. Duffy identified the slayer as J. Walter Tarpy, 42, whom he said formerly worked with Habenicht in another insurance office.

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP)— The Berlin radio said today that German naval units and British destroyers engaged in a sharp brush off the Septilales (Seven Islands), on the Brittany coast early this morning. There was no immediate report of such an action from British quarters.

DEMOCRACY AIM OF ITALY SAYS BADOGLIO

Tells Newsmen of Mussolini's Fall From Power

FASCISTS OUT

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press War Correspondent

ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, Oct. 2 (Delayed)—(AP.)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio declared today that the new Italian Government emphatically would be established on a democratic basis and asserted that "all former Fascist leaders will definitely be excluded."

In his first interview with Allied newspapermen, the 72-year-old head of the temporary Italian Government and Commander-in-Chief of Italian forces, revealed details of Beinto Mussolini's fall from power. He said that when Fascism collapsed unfounded rumors that Hitler had been assassinated swept "all the German soldiers in Rome into ecstasies of joy."

Declaring that the happy Nazi troops "embraced people in the streets," Badoglio said:

TORE HITLER PICTURES

"They tore down photographs of the Fuehrer in their barracks and scattered the bits in open places." Describing Fascism's final moments, Badoglio said that "Fascism, at the end, broke apart like a rotten apple."

He said also that Mussolini, apparently fearing the fury of the people, wrote a note thanking Badoglio for placing him in protective custody.

In a reference to the new Italian Government, Badoglio said, "I will set about its constitution as soon as practically possible."

He declared that as proof of Fascism's failure to exert a hold upon the Italian people "not the slightest resistance to the change was met even from any of the 7,000,000 belonging to the Fascist party proper." He added, "the morning after the announcement (of Mussolini's fall) not a single person even any longer wore the fallen regime's insignia."

Recounting the last hours of Fascism, Badoglio said:

"It fell from within, during the night of July 24 at the general meeting of the Fascist Grand Council, held to invite Mussolini to resign power into the King's hands. The scene was a lively one. Mussolini himself was present and was violently attacked by the Fascist chiefs. The meeting lasted from five in the evening until three in the morning. In the final voting 19 favored the resignation and five only were against."

The next morning Mussolini saw King Victor Emmanuel, who accepted the Fascist leader's resignation and invited Badoglio to take over the Government, he said.

Badoglio also revealed that Mussolini had said he now wished to dedicate himself to the Roman Catholic Church. This fact was elicited from a letter to a sister posted from one of Mussolini's three places of confinement preceding his rescue by German parachutists.

Describing the German attitude before, during and after the downfall of the Fascist regime, Badoglio said:

"Before the crisis considerable difficulties had arisen in the alliance because the Germans commanded everything. The German High Command did not intervene in internal Fascist events themselves, but when the Grand Council's decision was known it at once passed extra divisions in Italy.

"Nevertheless, getting rid of Fascism was taken as a political affront by Germany, and, using the passage of troops as an excuse she prevented any further transport of petrol and coal. Her deliberate intention of throttling Italy was immediately clear."

Mussolini's intimidation by Hitler's verbosity was almost certainly a contributory cause of the Italian dictator's downfall, Badoglio said.

When the two dictators met at Feltre on July 19, Mussolini's original intention had been to state plainly that Italy no longer was fit to continue the war. But instead of allowing him to speak, Hitler stormed for two hours uninterruptedly. But the end of the tirade, Mussolini's courage had evaporated and he said nothing. The knowledge of this undoubtedly precipitated the attack on him at the final Fascist Grand Council meeting.

Two Diphtheria Deaths in Halifax

HALIFAX, Oct. 4 (CP) — Two deaths from diphtheria and five other cases of the disease were reported today by Dr. A. R. Morton, Health Commissioner, as having occurred in Halifax over the weekend. Fears that the city may be in the throes of an epidemic was given added impetus with the further announcement that 32 cases of diphtheria were contracted here in the last eight days. Lack of accommodation has prevented several patients from being admitted to the infectious diseases hospital.

1700-POUND BOOBY TRAP FOUND IN NAPLES HOTEL

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN NAPLES, Oct. 3 (Delayed) — (AP.)—Discovery of a 1700-pound booby trap left by the Germans in a Naples hotel today possibly saved the lives of Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark and other high British and American officers.

Engineers found the explosive while inspecting the building, where Clark intends to establish headquarters for the 5th Army. The booby trap was removed.

COST OF LIVING INDEX SHOWS NEW INCREASE

Higher Bonuses to Be Payable Unless Decline Is Reported

MAY START SPIRAL

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 4 (CP) — For the seventh month in a row the official cost-of-living index moved higher during August, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced today, and unless there is a decline in the figure reported next month for Oct. 1, hundreds of thousands of Canadian workers will be entitled to higher cost-of-living bonuses after Nov. 15.

And higher bonuses, officials in charge of wartime economic controls have said, would probably mean the beginning of the end for price control by starting an inflationary spiral.

At Sept. 1 the cost-of-living index was 119.4 compared with 119.2 at Aug. 2, the Bureau of Statistics reported. For the seven months of upward trend in the index, the gain has been 2.5 points, with monthly advances ranging from 0.3 to 0.5 points.

The wartime increase in the index has been 18.5 per cent. At present cost-of-living bonuses are based on a total increase of 17 per cent, on a basis of 26 cents a week or one per cent of weekly earnings for each one per cent of increase, depending on salary category of the worker. Thus the maximum bonus now is $6.25 a week or 17 per cent.

The bonus payments are not changed unless the index has altered one full percentage point since the last adjustment. Thus, if there is a drop of more than 0.5 per cent between the Sept. 1 and Oct. 1 figures, the bonus payments will remain unchanged.

At the present index figure, however, the maximum bonus would be $4.62½ cents a week or 18.5 per cent of earnings. For the majority of workers who received the bonus for the first time in August, 1942, the bonus would be increased from 60 cents or 2.4 per cent a week to 97½ cents or 3.9 per cent.

The increase in the cost-of-living index during August was caused by small increases for foods, home furnishings and miscellaneous commodities.

The Bureau also announced a higher figure for its weekly index of 30 industrial material prices. For the week of Sept. 24, the composite index showed an advance of one point to 99.3 from the final August level.

Salmonbellies Tie Up Series

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Oct. 4 (CP) — New Westminster Salmonbellies stayed in the running for the British Columbia box lacrosse finals tonight, setting down a last-quarter uprising by Patricia Bay R.C.A.F. to defeat the Airmen 12-10 and tie up the best of three series at a game apiece.

Patricia Bay won the first game Saturday in a surprising upset, 23-10. Next game will be played here Wednesday night with the winner meeting the Mimico-Brampton Combines, Eastern titlist, in the Mann Cup final which will be played here.

Salmonbellies went into an early, though somewhat shaky lead tonight, leading 4-2 at the end of the first quarter and improving that to 6-2 at the half. They held a 10-5 edge at the end of the first quarter.

But in the final quarter, Pat Bay R.C.A.F. flashed the same whirlwind attack which left Salmonbellies bewildered and beaten Saturday night. They scored five goals while holding the Fishmen to two, but the effort just fell short of tying the count before the final whistle.

U.S. Tax Program Runs Into Snag

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP.) — The United States Treasury's new tax program, intended to raise another $10,500,000,000 from income tax payers, gum chewers, tobacco smokers and drinkers of liquor and soda pop, apparently died a-borning today.

Representative Robert Doughton (Dem-N. C.) took a quick look at the program, which would increase by 40 per cent of the Government's overall take from personal incomes, and proclaimed it too big a burden for the taxpayers to bear at this time.

Since Doughton is chairman of the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee, through which all tax bills must go, it was believed unlikely that this tax bill or anything remotely like it would be approved.

DIARY TELLS OF BEHEADING OF U. S. FLIER

Execution Carried Out According to Code of Samurai

FLIER CALM

By G. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 5 (Tuesday)—(AP.)—The beheading by the Japanese of a captured American airman was disclosed today as Allied headquarters made public a diary captured from a Japanese soldier at Salamaua, New Guinea.

The execution, carried out according to the "Samurai" code of the Japanese, occurred last March.

Verbatim translations of extracts of the diary, dated March 29, said:

"We all assembled at headquarters where one of the crew of a Douglas shot down by anti-aircraft March 18 was brought under guard.

"Tai Commander (sub-lieutenant first class) Komai told us it had been decided to execute him and he was to be accorded a Samurai's death.

"We were assembled to witness the execution. The prisoner was given a drink of water outside the guard house. The chief surgeon, Lieutenant Komai and a platoon commander bearing a sword came from the officers' mess.

"The time has come. The prisoner of war totters forward with his arms tied. His hair is cut close.

"I feel he suspects what is afoot, but he is more composed than I thought he would be. Without more ado he is put on a truck and taken to the place of execution. . .

"I glance at the prisoner and he seems prepared. He gazes at the grass, now at the mountains and sea.

"At the execution ground Lieutenant Komai faces the prisoner and said: 'You are to die. I am going to kill you with this Japanese sword according to the Samurai code.' . . .

"The prisoner is made to sit on the edge of a water-filled bomb crater. The precaution is taken to surround him with guards.

"When I put myself in his place the hate engendered by this daily bombing yields to ordinary human feelings."

"The Tai commander draws his favorite sword, the famous 'Osamune'. The sight of the glittering blade sends cold shivers down the spine. First he touches prisoner's neck lightly with sword.

"Then he raises it overhead. His arm muscles bulge. Prisoner closes his eyes for a second and at once the sword sweeps down.

"I realize that the emotion I felt just now was not personal pity but manifestation of magnanimity that becomes a chivalrous samurai.

"A superior seaman from the medical unit received the sword from the surgeon. He rolls the body on back.

"The seaman gives him a kick then buries it. . . .

"If ever I get back alive this will make a good story to tell. That's why I write it down."

At the end of the press release, appearing as though headquarters wanted to remember for future reference, was the footnote that said the officer who committed the atrocity was Sublieutenant First Class Komai and the next senior officer responsible was Lt.-Cmdr. Tsukioka.

Agrees Production of CBC Not Up to What It Might Be

TORONTO, Oct. 4 (CP)— Norman Wilks, Principal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, commenting on a recent statement made in Vancouver by Sir Thomas Beecham, British orchestral conductor, to the effect that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is "not only the worst broadcasting system in the world, but has the reputation of being the worst,' agreed that production "is not up to what it might be."

"A great many changes, chiefly in actual technical presentation are necessary," Mr. Wilks said, "if the CBC is to give us representative and first-class performances."

Boris Hambourg, Director of the Hambourg Conservatory of Music, Toronto, said: "The CBC does not always show the best judgment in choosing their artists. We are getting some fine new artists here from other parts of the world, and we must give them encouragement. Supporting the CBC is one way to help art in this country along."

OTTAWA, Oct. 4 (CP.)—Pensions Minister Mackenzie announced tonight the appointment of Brig. James L. Melville, M.C., E.D., as Chairman of the Canadian Pension Commission, succeeding Brig.Gen. H. F. McDonald, who died recently.

Brig. Melville, born in Glasgow Dec. 28, 1886, is at present Chief Engineer of the 1st Canadian Army and has been granted release from that post to take his new appointment.

Must Be Patient to Be a Victory Gardener

Fundamentals for a successful Victory Garden were pointed out to Rotary members by Frank Holt, City Gardener, at their luncheon Monday. Mr. Holt named four essentials for a good garden—preparation of land, seeding, watering and upkeep. He also maintained that a great deal depended on the patience and enthusiasm of the gardener.

"I think the best time for preparing the land for the Spring is at the end of the year," he said. "Use a lot of fertilizer, and when you dig with your shovel, shove it right down at a perpendicular and not at a 45 degree angle. Leave the earth rough all Winter, so that it will absorb that much more fertilizer from the snow and wind and rain.

Mr. Holt advised buying good seed, and listed the requirements for the average garden. He mentioned potatoes, tomatoes, peas, cabbage, corn, beans, spinach, beets, carrots, leeks, lettuce, onions, marrows and turnips as a good selection.

"Watering a garden is not an easy job—it must be done systematically. Many people prefer the irrigation system. This method is suitable for heavy ground, but the sprinkling system does not wash the soil away. Be sure the ground is well covered with water, but in the case of potatoes, over watering is a mistake because it starts them on their second growth and that results in scabbiness. I think about three good waterings a year are all potatoes need.

"Maintainenance of your garden," he said, "is chiefly cultivation. A lot of cultivation is necessary to preserve moisture in the ground. Don't go too near the roots, three inches away is the limit since the roots can be easily broken . . . and be sure to keep the weeds down."

Ald. Hinitt remarked that the efforts of the club in sponsoring the Victory Garden Contest were "timely and well-guided. The results are indeed favorable and I hope you continue the contests."

V. Ben Williams of Vancouver, F. M. Rutter of Vancouver, Mr. Holt and Ald. Hinitt were luncheon guests.

President R. A. Peebles was chairman.

Bread Prices Hold Steady

OTTAWA, Oct. 4 (CP)—Government authorities said today there is every prospect that bread will end the war at approximately the same price as when the conflict started.

Spokesmen here said this has been made possible by economies in the baking industry, simplification practices encouraged by the Prices Board, and by a Federal Government arrangement under which wheat prices to the baking industry are held at not more than 77½ cents a bushel.

"With the continued cooperation of bakers with the Prices Board and among themselves, and with the continued Government drawback on prices charged for wheat to the industry, a rise in bread prices is not likely," said Cecil Morrison, the Prices Board's Director of Bread and Bakery Products.

"Labor and raw material costs rose prior to the imposition of the general price ceiling in 1941, but bread prices were held at a level which today is believed to be the lowest in the world."

Ramsden, Abbott Winners in Garden Contest

Dick Ramsden won first prize, and Angeline Abbott second prize in the Junior class of the Victory Garden contest sponsored by Nelson Rotary Club this year. In the Senior class Alice Staya was first, and Rob Robinson second. Winners were announced at the club luncheon Monday by Frank Holt, City Gardener, who with Ald. H. H. Hinitt, judged the gardens.

First prizes were two War Savings Certificates each, and the second prize was one War Savings Certificate to each winner. Twelve consolation prizes of four War Savings Stamps were given to six contestants in each class. They were:

Junior: Beverley Ure, Stanley Skinner, Aubrey Lawrence, Ralph Lewis and Lorne Dyke.

Senior: Roy Lewis, Patrick Morrison, Kathleen Morrison, Giovanna Davis, Mary Davis and Eva Roos.

Initial entries numbered over 70 but the number of gardens grown totalled about 50. The contest was organized by the Boys' Work Committee of the Rotary Club which in April was composed of H. D. Dawson, C. W. Taylor, W. J. Hipperson, and A. H. Allan.

Vegetables of the winning gardens were displayed and among the exhibits were beets, cabbage, onions, carrots, potatoes, corn, tomatoes and parsnips.

The vegetables exhibited were donated to Kootenay Lake General Hospital by the contestants.

Heavy Bombers Hit Industrial City in Fourth Big Blow

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP)—R.A.F. and Canadian heavy bombers hit Kassel, 91 miles Northeast of Frankfort, last night in the fourth big blow in six months against that manufacturing centre for Nazi fighter planes, locomotives and other important war machines it was announced today.

Aircraft from the Canadian Bomber Group were out in considerable numbers.

The assault was officially described as heavy. It cost 24 bombers.

Four of the missing bombers were Canadian. The R.C.A.F. participation in the raid was by Halifax bombers and their crews reported the bombing was well concentrated with many large fires started. At the same time Canadian Mosquitoes made intruder patrols over Northern France and the Low Countries, without loss.

Today in daylight American heavy bombers supported by long-range fighters swept into Germany and attacked targets in Frankfurt which is 91 miles Southwest of Kassel.

It was the third R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. attack in three nights against Germany and was a continuation of the heavy Allied raids on the continent that have been pressed home for three days and nights without a letup.

Kassel was attacked last on July 30.

The city, which has a population of 200,000, has been bombed more than a dozen times during the war. The raid last night was the fifth on Germany in seven nights by British-based bombers.

At Kassel are the Fieseler Aircraft Works, which the hard-pressed Nazis have been forced to shift from an original product of light army observation planes to Messerschmitt fighters because of the inroads on combat plane sources like the recent attacks on fighter factories near Vienna, at Regensburg, and Paris.

The Air Ministry also said that British Mosquitoes bombed Hanover and targets in the Rhineland last night. Other bombers laid mines in enemy waters.

A communique described the Kassel attack as very heavy, and said preliminary reports indicated "that heavy damage was done to this important industrial target." The weather was described as excellent.

Frankfurt, with a population of more than 500,000, is a big inland port on the main river, a railway centre and the site of large oil refineries, chemical plants and other war factories.

It was the 37th raid of the war on that city. It has been untouched by air assault since last December.

Today's raid by the American bombers and their escorts was the first daylight attack of the war on Frankfurt.

The Kassel raid was the fourth big blow in six months on that manufacturing centre for Messerschmitt fighters and other war machines.

The twin blows followed the now-familiar Allied strategy of splitting the German defences, as the cities lie less than 100 miles apart, one East of the Ruhr and the other Southeast.

While the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. heavy bombers were delivering last night's major raid, light Mosquitoes dropped explosives on Hanover, 160 miles West of Berlin, in the second blow at that industrial city in six days. It was raided in force by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. on Sept. 27.

Three enemy patrol boats in the Bordeaux area were damaged, mines were scattered through enemy shipping lanes and a Junkers-88 was shot down by still other Mosquitoes ranging the French channel coast.

Tungsten Mine at Hazelton Will Be Closed

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP)—The Red Rose Mine at Hazelton will shut down within the next two months, second British Columbia tungsten property to cease operations due to what Federal authorities have said is a surplus of the war-needed product.

Approximately 160 men will be affected by the closure, according to a spokesman for the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, but they are expected to be absorbed quickly into copper producing properties where hundreds of men are needed.

The crown-operated tungsten mine at Emerald was ordered shut down last week just before the start of milling operations there. Some 160 men employed at the mine were transferred to mines at Copper Mountain, Ainsworth, Zincton and Kimberley.

Similarly the men from the Red Rose Mine will be moved to other properties, the Union spokesman said.

Japs Bring More Planes Into Hong Kong Area

U. S. AIR HEADQUARTERS IN CHINA, Oct. 1 (Delayed) (AP) — Japanese air strength recently has been boosted 200 to 300 per cent along the Coast in the Hong Kong, Canton and Haiphong areas, Maj.-Gen. Claire L. Chennault said today in an interview.

"I think we have hit them so heavily that they had to bring in more planes to defend themselves," said the 14th U.S. Air Force Commander.

Japanese planes have improved in performance and pilots are showing more careful training, Chennault said.

Reviewing operations in the last half of September, he said the enemy lost 16 bombers and four fighters and probably lost seven more bombers and two fighters. The Americans lost one bomber.

With a large enough air force, Chennault declared, he could have destroyed the enemy's vital shipping along the China Coast from Japan to Southeast Asia.

Morgenthau Asks $10,500,000,000 in Wartime Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP).—Secretary Morgenthau asked the United States Congress today to provide an additional $10,500,000,000 a year in wartime taxes, taking $6,400,000,000 of this huge sums from individual incomes.

Repeal of the Victory Tax, which Morgenthau said would "relieve 9,000,000 hard-pressed families from tax on their incomes," was included in an administration program which embraced also big increases in corporation and excise taxes.

The Treasury Secretary presented the tax plan to the House Ways and Means Committee.

In brief, it proposed:

1. Individual incomes—Raise rates and lower exemptions so as to gather in an additional $6,500,000,000 annually. Merge the Victory tax with the income tax. Lower the exemptions for married persons from $1200 to $1100; dependents from $350 to $300, and retain the $500 exemption for single persons.

2. Corporations—Raise rates so as to raise another $1,100,000,000, with small corporations given "special favorable treatment."

3. Excise taxes—Stiff increases in the taxes on so-called luxuries—including liquor, beer, tobacco, travel, pop and gum—for an added Government income of $2,500,000,000.

4. Estate and gift taxes—Reduce the exemption for estate taxes from $60,000 to $40,000, and increase estate and gift taxes throughout the scale, to yield $400,000,000 additional.

Goebbels Warns People Heads Will Come Off

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP) — Alternately threatening and reassuring a Berlin Harvest Day crowd, Propaganda Minister Goebbels yesterday promised Germany enough food for the Winter and then warned that any one who placed personal comfort "above the honor of our people," would be beheaded.

Goebbels warned those attending Germany's annual celebration of the Fall harvest that a slackening of Allied air raids during the last few weeks was due to adverse weather and that "we must reckon upon severe setbacks in the future.'

He contended that Germany will win the air war in the end.

In an explanation of the retreats in Russia, he said, "our disengagements . . . originate from audacious and ration reflections."

"Nobody knows better than the Fuehrer himself what tribulations have been suffered in badly bombed sections," he said.

"If, however, there is among us so cowardly a subject who places personal comfort above the honor of our people, then we are resolved to cut his head off."

Acknowledge Jap Successes on East China Front

CHUNGKING, Oct. 4 (AP)—Japanese successes on the East China front were acknowledged in a Chinese High Command announcement today which said that a number of towns, including several key points, had been lost.

Chinese forces fell back along several sectors between Hangchow, lakeside beauty spot near the East Coast, and Nanking former capital.

The Chinese were reported to be engaging the enemy advances according to a well prepared plan—which probably is their much-favored strategy of fading away when superior forces are encountered and then striking at the enemy's flanks when his lines have been extended.

First R.C.A.F. War Staff College Opens in Toronto

By SCOTT YOUNG
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 4 (CP)—A remodelled stable set in 27 acres of parkland on the Northern fringe of Toronto was opened today as the first R.C.A.F. War Staff College—a development in Canadian air training which means simply, in the words of its commandant, that "the R.C.A.F. has grown up."

There is none of the dignity of other famed Canadian leader-training establishments about Air Commodore G. E. Wait's new command, but its modest, blue-kalsomined classroom in what used to be the stables of A. L. Ellsworth's Armour Heights estate will turn out in the next few months and years officers who will mean as much to the framework of the R.C.A.F. as the Royal Military College at Kingston has meant to the Army.

The first class of 20 men—drawn from most Canadian Provinces—started a 10-week course today to qualify for the initials "W. S." (for war staff) after their names, a recognition by the Canadian Government that will place this new college on a par in importance with the greatest staff college names in the Empire.

These first officers to attend the college were chosen from a list of recommendations made by air officers commanding in all Canadian air commands, and the next 10 weeks in their severe classroom will fit them for some of the most important staff positions in the R.C.A.F.

Chief Instructor on the course is Group Capt. Bob McKay of Winnipeg, an original of the old Canadian 110 Squadron which arrived in Britain in February, 1940, a man who flew Lysanders back in the days when 110 was the grandfather of the later—and highly important—army co-operation squadrons.

In the first class, which hasn't a man below the rank of squadron leader, is one veteran of Hurricane fighting in the Battle of Britain—Wing Cmdr. Bon Corbett, D.F.C. of Montreal. Others with decorations include Sqdn. Ldr. J. H. Roberts of Prince George, B. C., both holders of the Air Flying Cross.

TEACHERS WON'T STRIKE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP).—B. C. school teachers will not strike over the question of inadequate salaries in rural schools, it was announced today by the Executive of the Teachers' Association.

In the strike vote last June 87 per cent voted in favor of strike action but the annual convention earlier had stipulated two-thirds must vote for strike action to authorize calling by the Executive of a walkout.

Vancouver Water to Be Chlorinated, Starting Wednesday

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP).—Chlorination of Vancouver's water will begin Wednesday morning, office of the Greater Vancouver Water District announced today.

City of North Vancouver's water supply will be chlorinated today and will remain chlorinated if newly-installed machinery operates satisfactorily, E. H. Valentine, Superintendent of Works for North Vancouver reported.

A Change in Recruiting Plans But Not Much Improvement

The revised recruiting policy, announced at Ottawa, of cooperative recruiting for all three armed forces will continue to be bedeviled and confused, as have all recruiting plans up to date, by Ottawa's refusal to put into effect the will of the people as expressed in the plebiscite on conscription. We will continue to blunder along under a system which makes draftees available only for home service in Canada, where most of them are not needed, and depends upon volunteers for overseas service.

Under the new joint recruiting plan men fit for aircrew will be allowed to enlist in the air force. If fit for overseas service but unfit for aircrew they may volunteer for the army. If fit for aircrew or the overseas army they will no longer be accepted for ground crews in the RCAF.

Up to this time we have been saying to men eligible for the draft: "If you want to avoid footslogging in the home defence army in Canada you had better hurry and join the Air Force, either for air crew or for ground crew". Army service has been less popular than air service or the Navy, hence the Army has suffered.

Now we say to those eligible for the draft: "You can avoid the Army if you are fit for aircrew. If, when you volunteer, you cannot qualify for aircrew then you will be accepted for the Army. You will no longer be taken on for groundcrew."

Will any such plan inculcate in those eligible for the draft any greater desire to go into the Army? Will they not, if unable to qualify for aircrew, prefer to wait until actually drafted, after which they will have the choice of remaining in the home service army, or of volunteering for Army service overseas?

The whole trouble is that in order to avoid offending Quebec by an honest and equitable policy of conscription we have been enforcing a dishonest policy of hidden compulsion—"Enlist in Air Force or Navy or we will grab you for the Army which you won't like." The effect has been infinitely bad for morale and it has been especially bad on recruiting for our Army, represented by that splendid body of men overseas whose performance in fighting has been so magnificent whenever they have been given on opportunity.

Under all these difficulties we have nevertheless built up a great fighting force in the Canadian Army overseas. It is only our flagrantly dishonest policy of hidden compulsion in home recruiting which has tended to take away from the Army the glamor which properly belongs to it. There is more glamor in driving a tank, or feeding shells into a 25-pounder, or hurling grenades at the enemy than in groundwork crew at an airport, yet our extraordinary recruiting policy has persuaded many of the best of our youth otherwise.

Now we apparently have a surplus of ground crew in the Air Force, an obvious shortage of recruits for aircrew because of the high qualifications which are necessary, a continually more acutely pressing shortage of men to reinforce our overseas Army, yet a largely useless army of not less than 50,000 confined to Canada under the home defence draft.

Instead of applying conscription for overseas, for which an overwhelming majority of the people of Canada have voted, we propose to continue to fuss and fiddle along. And with a new policy whose trend will be to induce more men to wait until they are drafted for service within Canada, or Newfoundland, the West Indies or Alaska. How can the average man readily decide upon how best he can serve his country and the cause as long as Ottawa maintains its policy of political fence-sitting with a plan which is half-voluntary, half-compulsory?

Nor does the revised plan carry us any further toward protecting home front production which is essential to supporting our armed forces in the field. We will still have men who are essential to efficient production volunteering for the armed services when they could better serve the United Nations if their abilities continued to be devoted to activities which only the highly trained technician or mechanic or tradesman can perform. We will continue to find that expert miners, expert loggers, expert mechanics, will volunteer and be putting in their time in activities in the armed forces which could as well be performed by others less valuable in essential war industries.

The United States squarely faced this difficulty long ago by prohibiting voluntary enlistment. It uses the draft exclusively, and it refrains from drafting men who are of more military value behind the lines than in them. We still allow such men to volunteer.

Fire Losses Chiefly Due to Carelessness or Neglect

If a home in Canada is destroyed by fire in these days the occupants are likely to find it difficult to locate a home for rent, and almost impossible to secure materials or labor for rebuilding.

Last year our housing situation was made the more acute by major or minor damage to or destruction of more than 35,000 homes. The damage exceeded $7 million. During the same period damage to wholesale and retail buildings and contents totalled $8.6 million, and to manufacturing properties more than $6.9 million. Total fire damage to Canadian business and residential property exceeded $31 million.

Of the 47,000 fires which occurred, more than 14,000 were due to carelessness by smokers and more than 18,000 to other forms of neglect of elementary precautions by property occupants who did not see that stoves and furnaces, and flues and electrical wiring, etc., were kept in good order. Hot ashes and open fireplaces alone caused 2900 fires.

This is Fire Prevention Week in Canada, and it is timely to recall the necessity for reducing our tremendous loss from fire, so much of which arises from failure to remember what a tremendous conflagration one little spark in the wrong place may cause.

F. K., Rossland—Could you please tell me something about the life of Nelson Eddy?

Nelson Eddy was born in Providence, Rhode Island, in 1901. He is six feet tall and weighs 173 pounds, has blond hair and blue eyes. He is married to Ann Franklin. Before studying voice he was a newspaper reporter.

G. T., Nelson—Please tell me in which State the famous American Military College, West Point, is situated?

West Point Military Academy is situated on the West bank of the Hudson River in the State of New York.

F. M. P., Nelson—Will you please tell me how to remove a couple of small rust stains from a linen cloth?

Table salt and cream of tartar, equal parts will remove rust stains. Wet the mixture and spread it on thickly then place the material in the sun.

In your "Questions and Answer" column of the Daily News September 30 in answer to A. O., of Trail, you make a statement that Old Age Pension is payable to women over 65 years of age. Are you quite sure this is right? In the copy of your paper dated July 13th there was a short account of A. J. Carter of Fernie on Old Age Pensions and it stated that the object of his tour through the Kootenay was to increase the amount of the pension and also to lower the age to 65 years. I have not seen or heard that this has been done. I will look in your column for the answer. — Interested, Fruitvale.

The answer should have been 70 years of age.

Could Double Output of Slocan Zinc Concentrates If Supplied the Men

To the Editor:

Sir—I have just read your editorial in Friday's issue regarding a customs mill to produce more zinc, and am particularly pleased to see that this district is finally beginning to take some interest in the case for this really vital material.

The question of a customs mill (like the continual demands at the Coast for a steel mill) is a highly technical (and debatable) problem, requiring intensive research before an intelligent decision could be made.

However, if an earnest desire is being shown to increase the output of salable zinc concentrates from this district, as a direct contribution to the war effort, it can be promptly and effectively brought into play by simply bringing local pressure on the Selective Service to have the Western Exploration and Zincton operations brought up to their fullest capacity by making sufficient labor available.

The output of these two producers today is understood to be roughly 500,000 pounds of zinc per month from Western Exploration, and 1,200,000 per month from the Lucky Jim at Zincton.

These figures can be practically doubled in a matter of days and maintained for some time once the labor is secured.

With regard to a customs mill, discounting the months that would be wasted in a preliminary ground work, it would require a mill of approximately 400 tons daily capacity to produce the 1,700,000 pounds that can be produced from these two operations by the simple addition of a few dozen men.

At this stage of the war, it seems hardly practical to beat a dead horse, when we have a couple of live ones quite ready to pick up the load. H. M. T.

Sheep Creek, B. C., Oct. 1, 1943.

Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH

RED RASPBERRIES REQUIRE WATCHING IN VICTORY GARDEN

If you are planning to plant red raspberries this Fall in your Victory Garden check the plants for crown gall before planting them. While called "crown" gall and most frequently occurring near the surface of the ground, the galls, illustrated in the accompanying Garden Graph are often found on all the roots and at some distance from the stalk. Every plant showing unusual swellings or knobs on the roots should be discarded or returned to the nurseryman to be replaced.

If you have had red raspberries in your garden for a season or so keep them under inspection, for they are very susceptible to a disease known as raspberry leaf-curl.

Leaf curl usually appears in a fairly well defined area in a planting. At a distance the foliage in this area appears lighter, smaller and sometimes decidedly yellow. The edge of the leaves of the affected plants turn down and the whole surfaces of the leaves are uneven and folded, as shown in the Garden Graph. Later in the season the leaves take on a decided yellow green cast.

Since no organism has been found associated with the disease, and since the conditions bringing it about are unknown, the best advice, if the disease appears in a portion of a patch, is to dig up and destroy the afflicted plants.

JAY WALKERS PAY $1

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 4 (CP).—Six of nine pedestrians handed tickets Friday for jay-walking have already settled at the police station for one dollar, the amount fixed by Magistrate H. L. Edmonds, that offenders may pay and so avoid attendance in Court. Summonses will be issued for the other three if they do not pay up within a reasonable time.

DANES BLAST NAZI WORKS IN ANSWER TO JEWISH PURGE

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 4 (AP)—Danish patriots blasted German troop barracks, two power stations and two war material factories in a reintensified sabotage campaign today which provided a militant answer to German's attempted purge of the 10,000 Jews in Denmark.

The Free Danish Press service here said one of the heaviest bombs ever used by saboteurs wrecked the important power station at Broenderslev in the Jutland area. Another station at Nibe was damaged and explosions wrecked portions of a troop barracks at Locke on the Skaggererrak Coast of Jutland where large contingents of Nazi troops are assigned to guard against a possible Allied invasion.

SAFEWAY Thanksgiving Guide

Julia says- Thanksgiving Dinner can be thrifty

IT SEEMS to me we have a great deal to be thankful for, this Thanksgiving season. Here on the home front we're all working hard to bring Victory closer, and we have the deep satisfaction of seeing that work beginning to bear fruit. It's quite proper and fitting that we should observe the hallowed occasion of Thanksgiving Day by preparing something out of the ordinary for a special meal.

But we need not be extravagant. There are dozens of little tricks that will turn an otherwise ordinary dinner into something very like a feast.

No matter what your "main dish" may be, these suggestions will help to pull your Thanksgiving dinner into the realm of a celebration:

Ever try this method of using potatoes, for instance? You cook and mash potatoes in the regular way. Then you take as much mashed carrots or rutabagas (also cooked and mashed in the regular way). Combine the two, and you have something attractive in color and pleasantly exciting in flavor. If you want, the mixture can be placed in a casserole and given a brief oven treatment.

Or this one with winter squash, such as Hubbard. You cut a large squash, in halves, and steam them in a large kettle until done. Then you choose the half-shell which has the most attractive appearance, and scrape the squash out to within a half-inch of the shell. Scrape all the squash from the other shell, season, mash, and replace in the half-shell which looks better. Serve right from the shell, at your dinner table!

For dessert, how about frosted applesauce tarts? You bake individual pastry tart shells, fill with seasoned applesauce, and garnish with meringue (one egg white beaten with 2 tablespoonfuls of sugar should make enough to ice six tarts). Bake in a moderate oven, 10 to 15 minutes.

The Skin Can Tell Doctor Much

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The old doctor of our youth used to look at the tongue. This was supposed to give him a sort of general idea of the state of health, as to how serious the condition was. As a matter of fact, it didn't teach him much because he didn't know what to look for.

He concentrated on a coated tongue and a coated tongue doesn't mean anything. If he had known the meaning and significance of raw tongue and red tongues, he would have had a clue to a number of the anemias and the vitamin deficiencies. "Raw, red tongue, raw, red gut" is a modern clinical phrase.

The modern physician is much more likely to get his impressions of the patient's general status from looking at and feeling the skin.

DIAGNOSIS FROM SKIN

The sagging of the muscles of the face that denotes Nature's exhaustion, the pallor of heart muscle disease, or the bluish duskiness of heart failure or shock, the yellow tint of anemia, the thin skin of abnormal weight loss—any of these the trained eye sees and assesses almost subconsciously.

A whole new science has grown up around the skin changes of vitamin deficiency. In general these changes consist of changes in the color of the skin, in an increase in scruffiness of the skin and in poor function of the grease glands of the skin.

One of them at least comes from too much vitamins. We hear so much of people having too little vitamins that we never give a thought to the possibility of getting too much. We are warned pretty regularly not to eat too much protein, cut down on your meat, or cut down on your fat, so why isn't it possible that if we stuff ourselves with vitamins we may get more than the body can take care of.

CAUSE OF CAROTENEMIA

This seems to be the case with the appearance of a yellowish discoloration of the skin known as carotenemia, which comes from eating too much of pigmented vegetables containing carotene, the precursor of Vitamin A. In Germany after World War I it, was found frequently because of the predominant vegetable diet used by the German people in those years.

Vitamin deficiency, especially Vitamin A deficiency, results often in a simple dryness of the skin. This may go over into scruffiness and finally the scaly skin known as ichthyosis. It has been found that many of these cases respond to Vitamins A and B.

Still another set of skin conditions apparently due to vitamin deficiency are characterized by a roughness of the skin due to plugs that form in the mouths of the sebaceous glands which normally supply the skin with grease. Lack of Vitamin B (yeast, wheat germs) accounts for most of these.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. L.—Who invented gelatin, and what nutritional value has it?

Answer: Papin, a French agriculturist, in 1861, in order to use as much of the animal as possible, removed jelly from the bones. Cox's Gelatin was introduced into this country in 1846 and sold first through druggists, later being taken up by grocers. Carl Voit, the great physiologist, in 1879, made the first scientific experiments in gelatin showing it spared protein in the diet more than fat or starch.

Tell me all over again how I can make friends easier.—Agnes.

Many recipes have been written for the important task of making friends. You will find many articles written on personality, poise, popularity and friendliness. One surefire way to have friends, is to be one. Here are several questions to ask yourself, for the rules are hard to define. Can you be depended on to do exactly what you say you will? Do you refrain from showing off? Are you careful not to make fun of others? Do you commit social errors? Are you truthful? Do you pay back what you borrow? Do you refrain from boasting people? Do you greet others cordially? Do you keep out of arguments and gossip? Are you neat and clean about your person? Do you keep free from bad habits? Have you social poise? I might go on, but these are the most common faults that make or break friendships. How simple they all boil down to treating other people as you yourself like to be treated!

OATMEAL MUFFINS

¾ cup flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup rolled oats, ¼ cup shortening, 2 eggs, 1-3 cup sugar, ¾ teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup milk.

Sift flour with baking powder, sugar and salt, add rolled oats. Melt shortening and add to first mixture. Beat eggs lightly with milk and stir into dry ingredients until they are dampened. Fill greased muffin pans half full and cover over with waxed paper. Store in refrigerator over night and bake next morning in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. Makes 12 to 14 muffins.

CHERRY PUDDING

1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ cup shortening, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1½ cups flour, 1 egg, ½ cup cherries, drained.

Cream shortening, add sugar, and cream well; sift flour, measure and sift again with baking powder. Beat egg, add milk and add alternately with flour mixture, adding drained cherries last. Put into greased molds and steam two hours. For sauce, add small amount of sugar to cherry juice, thicken with flour or corn starch and cook until clear. Don't make too thick. Serves 4.

Boost Your Breakfast Enjoyment

FOR breakfast tomorrow, eat delicious, nourishing Grape-Nuts Flakes. They're ready to eat as they come from the package—just add milk. They're an extra special treat with fresh or canned or dried fruit.

Made from two grains, Grape-Nuts Flakes give you all the grand nourishment of sun-ripened wheat and malted barley—carbohydrates and proteins, useful quantities of iron and phosphorus, and other food essentials.

Buy Grape-Nuts Flakes from your grocer. In red and white packages—regular size or giant economy size.

How to keep your family SMART for the duration—

—make precious clothes last
—keep them lovely
with NEW improved LUX

New clothes use up precious materials and labour, yet every woman wants to keep her family looking smart. Here's how to make the clothes you already have last and stay new-looking! Don't risk strong soaps or ordinary washday methods. Guard pretty wartime washables, rayons and woolens by dipping them regularly in new, improved Lux—the mildest, safest ever made! NOW MORE LUX FOR YOUR MONEY, AND REMEMBER, THE LARGE SIZE IS AN EVEN BETTER BUY!

THRIFT TIPS

STOCKINGS
Buy stockings that are large enough and the right length. Get at least two pair and wear alternately. When dipping them in Lux, remove finger rings that may catch threads. Dry thoroughly.

PRINT DRESSES
Dip in lukewarm Lux suds to remove soil and perspiration at once. Perspiration "ages" and fades the pretty patterns and tends to rot threads.

BABY'S WOOLIES
Dip little woolies in Lux to keep them soft. Ease into shape, following drawn outline, and dry flat away from heat. This way, size and texture will be saved so you can "hand them down" or give to a friend's child.

In wartime more things need Lux care—dipped REGULARLY in Lux, they last longer!

The mildest, safest LUX ever made! Dissolves twice as fast. Richer, longer-lasting suds that do more work. New, bigger package—more for your money!

Wartime Activities Open Up in the Northland

A trainload of military supplies and equipment chugs into the switching yards at Whittier, Alaska, to be made up for the trip to Anchorage. A lone passenger car is tacked onto the rear end.

KISKA HARBOR BUSY SPOT

It took the war to pull Kiska out of the category of sleepy lagoons and make a bustling island out of it. That this Aleutian outpost, recently wrested from the Japs, is a busy place, this beach scene plainly shows.

A 16-mile railway shortcut between Whittie and Portage, Alaska, which includes this tunnel, saves 52 miles of dangerous grades. This train, crossing Bear Valley, is approaching the three-mile-long tunnel—longest on the cutoff.

CUNNINGHAM NEW CHIEF OF NAVAL STAFF

SIR DUDLEY POUND

SIR ANDREW CUNNINGHAM

Admiral Sir Dudley Pound has resigned as First Sea Lord and Chief of the Naval Staff because of ill health, it was announced yesterday. He will be succeeded by Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Cunningham, Commander-in-Chief of Naval Operations in the Mediterranean.

ALLIED BOMBING RANGE FROM ITALY

Since capture of the main Foggia-Gino-Lisa airdrome, and 12 satellite fighter airfields which cover a 25-mile radius, near Foggia, Italy, the Allies have a deadly air menace to the Axis. The dark arc shows the 500-mile effective flying range of bombers that can operate from Foggia fields.

SALLY'S SALLIES

CALICO PUP

This droll pooch with stand-up tail has a mission in life—to cheer people up. You never met a more expert gloom-chaser and friend of all ages. Now that the British War Relief has asked for cuddly animals, you can delight some war-orphaned child by sending one. Pattern 698 contains pattern and directions for dog; stitches.

Send 20 cents for this pattern to The Nelson Daily News, Needlecraft Dept., Nelson. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address. Patterns will be mailed to your home in about 15 days. There may be some further delay in delivery because of the large increase in orders during the present season.

SLIM PRINCESS LINES

So you're busy as a bee! Well, here's a slimming princess model you can run up without fuss or bother. You'll enjoy wearing it in either a tubbable cotton (for home) or a warm, becoming wool for jaunts about town. A clever idea is to contrast colors as in the sketch.

Pattern 9543 may be ordered in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 4 yards 35-inch fabric.

Send 20 cents for this pattern to The Nelson Daily News, Needlecraft Dept., Nelson. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address. Patterns will be mailed to your home in about 15 days. There may be some further delay in delivery because of the large increase in orders during the present season.

Contract... By Shepard Barclay

DO NOT RETURN IT

It was the great veteran, Wilbur C. Whitehead, who died over 10 years ago, that used to point out the essential difference between defense against a No Trump contract and that against a suit bid. Almost invariably, you should return the lead of your partner's suit against No Trump, unless special conditions prevailed. In a suit contract, however, if you won the first lead, you should generally return something else, up to the honors which your partner probably held and which would be more valuable if led up to than if led from.

North: ♠ K Q 10 4 ♥ Q 8 7 ♦ J 6 5 3 ♣ 9 4

West: ♠ J 6 3 ♥ J 5 ♦ A Q 10 ♣ K J 10 3 2

East: ♠ 8 7 2 ♥ 10 2 ♦ 9 7 4 2 ♣ A 8 7 6

South: ♠ A 9 5 ♥ A K 9 6 4 3 ♦ K 8 ♣ Q 5

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♥	2 ♣	Pass
Pass	2 ♥	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	4 ♥

East took the lead of the club J with his A and promptly returned the club 6. That very moment he enabled the declarer to make his contract. The K took the trick, but it was now impossible for West to take more than one trick in diamonds. South was able to drop the trumps and use the spades for a diamond discard.

If East had been on his toes, he would have realized that he was no doubt in the lead for the only time during the entire hand, and that he should have prized the privilege. If West had the cards to set the contract, they could hardly be anywhere except in diamonds, and then probably only if the suit was led to him.

A diamond return to the second trick would have enabled West to score two tricks in the suit and then lay down the club K for the one which would beat the declarer.

* * *

Your Week-End Lesson

What is the principal value to the defense in leading the fourth-best card of a suit, which the partner can be sure is a fourth-best?

HUNS CLAIM FIVE TRANSPORTS DESTROYED BY JAPS

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP.)—The Berlin radio asserted today that five Allied transports, a cruiser and 10 planes were destroyed Friday during a Japanese aerial attack on a convoy off Vella Lavella in the central Solomons Islands. There was no Allied confirmation of such losses. The broadcast said the Japanese lost five planes.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP) — The Stock Market closed with a steady undertone today after a quiet session. Oils and Coppers were in demand but some Industrials closed lower. Kaffirs felt the effects of a holiday at Cape Town but there was selective buying from other quarters.

NEW YORK — The Stock Market negotiated a small-scale retreat today without disturbing financial sentiment to any noticeable extent.

Dealings were relatively slack from the start. There were a few losers of a point or so near the close and turnover for the full proceedings was around 500,000 shares.

TORONTO — Stocks developed a heavy tone in the afternoon trading and the bodices were down at the close. Base Metals issues gave the firmest display in quiet trading and the Golds showed the main weakness. Volume was lower than the recent average at about 350,000 shares.

Most liquor issues were lower. Foods and Implements were strong and Utilities, Steels and Papers lower.

MONTREAL — Outside of the performances of a group of selected leaders, Securities clung closely to dead centre in trading up to the final hour today.

In Utilities which were mostly higher, Winnipeg Electric was lower, C.P.R. was weaker in Carriers. International Paper Preferred reached a new high in Newsprints. Smelters was down in Metals.

VANCOUVER — Trading was steady on the Vancouver Exchange today.

WINNIPEG — Rye futures moved into lower ground today, influenced by weaker values at Chicago and lack of outside buying. Final quotations were 1⅜ cents a bushel lower with October at $1.05⅝.

Trading in the pit was light and local. Minor spreading was reported early along with some selling by commission houses.

Further business in oats and barley for Eastern feed supplies were reported in the cash coarse grain market. Estimates of the business were placed at 250,000 bushels for deferred shipment.

Traders deserted the wheat pit for most of the session and only clean-up trades were made. Cash wheat trade was confined to odd cars of the top four Northern grades and apparently represented completion of old orders.

Oats and barley futures remained at ceiling prices with no trades posted.

Country wheat marketings Saturday amounted to 905,000 bushels compared with 2,327,000 bushels last year.

CHICAGO — All grains slumped today, with wheat and rye down about a cent, on reports the Commodity Credit Corporation was asking the Argentine Government to quote prices on wheat and barley for importation into this country to help ease the tight feed grain situation.

Helen Duclos Is Head of Lady Bowlers

Prospects for a club of six or more teams loomed at the annual meeting Monday night at Gellnas Recreations, of the Junior Ladies Bowling Club, when 14 were present, and names of 34 prospective members for the opening of the season were tabulated.

President Agnes Stewart, who headed the club in its first year, was in the chair.

For the new season, which will be the club's second year, Helen Duclos was elected President, and Geordie Procter, Secretary-Treasurer.

It was decided to ask all intending junior bowlers to turn out at a meeting next Monday, when teams will be lined up. Last year the teams determined their own composition, but this time it is proposed, in the interest of well balanced bowling, to arrange that each team shall have both experienced bowlers and neophytes.

Last season there were four teams —Flirbusters, Rookies, Queens and Savoys—but this season will probably start with six or seven teams. It is proposed to divide the season into two parts, as was done last year, the first part concluding at Christmas, and the second part starting after the Christmas holidays and continuing for the balance of the Winter.

Combines Ease Into Finals

TORONTO, Oct. 4 (CP)—Mimico-Brampton Combines tonight coasted into the Dominion lacrosse finals for the second straight year when they edged Lachine R.C.A.F., 15-13, in the second game of the Eastern Canada finals.

Protecting a 14-goal lead gained Saturday in the first game of the goals-to-count series, Combines sat back and let the Quebec Lacrosse Association champions come to them.

The Ontario Lacrosse Association titleholders took an early lead and although the airmen came close several times, they lacked that extra drive needed to tie the score.

Frank Eddolls, Lachine Coach, contributed three goals to the total for the airmen and Pat Egan, borrowed from Valleyfield Army of the Quebec Association, scored four times.

But it was Combines all the way. Paced by Bill Brunskill and Bill Isaacs, the Dominion lacrosse champions led 8-3 at half time and stayed with the determined Quebecers in the fast second half.

Brunskill scored four goals and Isaacs had two goals and four assists. Garney Large gave a standout performance in goal for Combines.

Combines left for British Columbia immediately after the game, to meet either New Westminster Salmonbellies or Patricia Bay R.C.A.F. in a best-of-seven series for the Mann Cup, starting October 9.

Kimberley Pupils to Get Hot Meal at Noon Hour

KIMBERLEY, B. C.—Starting November 1, each month $300 hot noon meals will be served to children at the school here. Board authorization has been given the plan and the equipment is on order. A charge of five cents a day will be levied and the hot dish will be soup, pork and beans, macaroni and cheese, or stew. This was announced at the first Fall meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Also announced was permission by the School Board for the public to use the school library. The library will be kept open each Wednesday evening, when volumes may be tomorrow. A registration fee will be charged, and any profit will be used for new books or repair of old books.

To Report to Toronto Leafs

FORT WILLIAM, Oct. 4 (CP)—Ross Knowles, a former hard-hitting defenceman with Fort William Hurricanes in the Thunder Bay Senior Hockey League, will report for training with Toronto Maple Leafs at St. Catherines, Ont., Oct. 12, it was announced today. Knowles played professional hockey with Fort Worth, Texas, in the American Association until the League suspended operations last season.

LONDON — Forty thousand British women work whole or part time in the National Fire Service.

Ten-Pin Ladies Reorganize a Strong Club

After being in abeyance for one year, the Nelson Ladies' Ten-Pin Bowling Club was reorganized Monday night, about 30 being in attendance at the reorganization meeting held at Gellnas Recreations.

Mrs. Bud Stevens was elected President, and Mrs. John Edwards, Secretary, while J. H. Chapman, who was in the chair, was reelected Manager.

In addition to the 30 or so who put down their names, several other registrations are expected, by Friday, when Manager Chapman will draw up the schedule for the early part of the season, actual bowling being dated to start at the Gellnas alleys Wednesday, October 14.

A strong club is expected.

Prior to last year, when the club did not organize, it had a record of five successful seasons.

Cullen Tops in Prairie Race

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4 (CP) — Sgt. George Cullen, a 23-year-old halfback with Regina All-Services Roughriders, moved into third place in the Western Interprovincial rugby football league scoring race Saturday when he registered nine points against Winnipeg United Services in a league fixture.

Cullen, a member of the R.C.O.C. and a nifty performer in Regina backfields since 1941, scored a touchdown, a convert and a beautiful 23-yard field goal to climb within one point of the league pacesetters, Lac. Andy Branigan and Ches. McCance, both backfielders for Winnipeg R.C.A.F. Bombers.

Branigan and McCance, each have 10 points and were mainly responsible for both triumphs the airmen have scored in play this season. Branigan ran for two touchdowns when the team defeated Regina in the League opener Sept. 25 at Regina, while McCance equalled the feat when the Bombers downed Winnipeg United Services Sept. 29 in Winnipeg.

Chandler and Lanier to Take Mound In Opener Today

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)— New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals will tangle tomorrow in one of the greatest toss-ups in the 40-year history of the World Series.

Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler, the season's outstanding pitcher in the Major Leagues, was named to take the mound for the Yankees against Lefty Max Lanier in the opening game.

A crowd of 70,000 was in prospect for the first contest, which will start at 1:30 p.m., EDT, and determined fans began lining up around the big concrete bowl tonight for the 33,000 unreserved seats which will be placed on sale when the gates open tomorrow morning.

The pitching choices of the rival managers, Billy Southworth of St. Louis and Joe McCarthy of New York, failed to change the betting odds which make the Yankees favorites both for the opening game and to take the series.

However, they pointed up the principal issue between the two pennant winners—namely, whether the Cardinals can curb the Yankees potent punch with lefthanded pitching.

Lanier won 15 games and lost seven during the season and proved his ability to cope with critical assignments by beating the Brooklyn Dodgers five out of six times as St. Louis swept to its second consecutive National League championship.

In the series last year he appeared twice in relief and received credit for the Redbird's victory in the fourth game after Mort Cooper had been knocked out.

Chandler has won 20 games and lost four and compiled a spectacular low earned run average of 1.67 each nine innings. He, too, has failed twice in previous world series, first against the Dodgers in 1941 and against the Cardinals last year. But both times he has pitched good ball.

Over the season the Cardinals have topped the Yankees in every department of play except home runs and stolen bases. They lead in total games won, in batting percentage, in runs scored, runs batted in triples, doubles and so on, and have shown themselves vastly superior defensively.

As a result the series shapes up as Yankee pitching and power as against the Cardinals' speed and all-round skill. It was the same situation last year and this writer, for one, still picks the Cardinals to repeat.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — Now that the proposed Pacific tour by Major League all star teams received an arctic response from the War Department, why not take up coileague Whitney Martin's suggestion and start a domestic tour? The entertainment would be welcomed on this side too; it would hardly place an intolerable burden on the transportation system to move 40 odd men around the country, and if the all star teams aren't organized now, we suspect that they never will be.

CALLING HIS SHOT

When Lee Stodalski approached the sixth tee at Pipestone, Inn., Golf Club the other evening, he remarked: "This is going to be the best shot I'll make tonight.' Then he whacked the ball, which went right down the middle and disappeared in the dusk. Lee called to the foursome just ahead, asking if they had seen the ball, and one of them strolled over and picked it out of the cup. . . .

MONDAY MATINEE

When Bill Johnston, the Yank's rookie third baseman, was in training camp at Asbury Park last Spring he complained: "I've been here three weeks and Joe McCarthy hasn't spoken a word to me. Guess he doesn't know I'm on the squad." . . . Mel Ott received word the other day that a bomber named "Ott's Big Bat" had returned from five successful missions over unspecified targets. Any hits?

Sport Writers Close Pickers

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — Three baseball writers—Rud Rennie of the New York Herald-Tribune, Sid Mercer of the New York Journal-American and H. G. Salsinger, Sport editor of the Detroit News—came the closest to picking the actual finish of either of the Major League pennant races in the Associated Press poll last Spring.

The trio named the exact order of finish of the first division in the National League, selecting the Cards, Reds, Dodgers and Pirates in that order. They also were in agreement as to what they thought would be the order of finish in the second division but failed to pick any of the last four teams for the exact spot they wound up. They named the Giants, Cubs, Braves and Phillies whereas it was the Cubs, Braves, Phillies and Giants.

Harold Kaese of the Boston Globe was the only writer to come anywhere near close in the American League. While most of the experts were selecting the Senators to finish in the last division, Kaese named them to wind up behind the Yankees which they did.

Forty one of the scribes predicted the Yankees and Cards would meet again in the World Series.

Umpires Named for World Series Coast Plant Burns

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP.)—K. M. Landis, Baseball Commissioner, today announced the umpires who will work the World Series.

Representing the American League will be Ed Rommel and Joe Rue, with George Pipgras as alternate. National League umpires will be John K. Reardon and William Stewart, with John B. Conlon as alternate.

Lord Dudley would rather see men knitting comforts for the Services than wasting their idle time gambling and having a good time, he said at Birmingham.

Ruffin Defeats Beau Jack In Big Upset

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)—Chalking up one of the outstanding ring upsets in Madison Square Garden history, long-shot Bobby Ruffin tonight outpointed ex-lightweight champion Beau Jack in 10 bruising rounds before a crowd that nearly filled the huge Eighth Avenue Arena. Ruffin scaled 138½; Jack, 140½.

A 9-to-1 underdog and so lightly rated that he was put on tonight's card as a tune-up for Jack's November 19 lightweight title tussle with Bob Montgomery, Ruffin outboxed the Jumping Jack From Georgia most of the way and piled up points with jabs and counterpunches.

The local youngster, a Long Islander now although a native of Bridgeport, Conn., wound up with a badly gashed left eye, but he knew too many ring tricks for the wild-swinging Beau.

However, at the finish the Associated Press score card had the thing exactly even, at five rounds apiece, with Jack pulling up by his slugging finish through the last round—a finish that had the crowd on its feet and howling for minutes after the final bell.

However, Ruffin earned the decision, mostly through his ability to think faster than Beau. Jack carried five extra pounds of beef into the ring with him, weighing more than he's ever done before, largely because he came up with a "trick" right knee during training and was unable to do any road work. Ruffin took some advantage of this by firing his heaviest guns at Jack's body.

Promoter Mike Jacobs announced that the defeat would have no effect on the Jumping Jack's title bout with Montgomery, who took the 135-pound crown away from him last May.

"The fight has been signed for months," Mike explained, "and the only reason Ruffin was in there at all tonight was because of the operation Montgomery had to have on his impacted wisdom teeth."

Swelled by hundreds of fans in town for the World Series, the crowd reached a surprising "high" of 14,449. The gross gate was $43,489.

Stukus Still Top Scorer

TORONTO, Oct. 4 (CP.)—Annis Stukus of Toronto Balmy Beach still led the scorers in the Ontario Rugby Football Union's senior series today but scoring statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show that Joe Krol of Hamilton Flying Wildcats is threatening his supremacy.

Krol broke out in a scoring rash as Wildcats whipped Balmy Beach Saturday with 15 points on two touchdowns, a field goal, a single and a convert to increase his scoring total from five to 20 points.

On the other hand Stukus was held to three points scored on a field goal for a total of 26 in his three games this season.

Three players are tied for third place with 10 points each—Polly Mlicinovich of Hamilton who was idle Saturday because of injuries, Os. Bruce Richardson of Navy and Frank Stukus of Balmy Beach.

Behind them are clustered four seven-point performers, George Fraser of Ottawa, Po. Jimmy Smith of Hamilton, and two members of the Toronto R.C.A.F. Hurricanes who had an open date in Union play Saturday—Po. Jack Alexander and Ac. 2 Ross Goodwin.

Columbus Two Up on Chiefs in Little Series

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 4 (CP)—Columbus Red Birds of the American Association went two-up on Syracuse Chiefs International League champions, by defeating them 8-2 tonight in the second game of the Little World Series. Columbus won yesterday's first game 3-0.

Organized Campaign of Sabotage Under Way In Rumanian Cities

BERNE, Oct. 4 (CP)—A Budapest dispatch to the Basler Nachrichten declared today that an organized campaign of sabotage has been under way for the past five days in industrial cities of Axis-dominated Rumania.

The dispatch reported fires and explosions, accompanied by heavy loss of life, had partially destroyed an important leather factory at Moctor-Nitza and the Schmidt Chemical Works—one of the largest plants of its kind in Rumania.

Telephone lines were said to have been cut to hamper fire fighters and first aid units after four heavy explosions started a blaze in the leather factory, where 31 persons were reported to have perished. An official explanation, however, the Budapest dispatch said, attributed the disaster to a carelessly-dropped cigaret.

After the fire in the Schmidt plant, in which the loss of life was not specified, military guards were said to have been increased at all important industrial establishments.

Despite the vigilance of the guards, two other factories engaged in production of war material were said to have been damaged by explosions only a few hours apart.

The explosions were not unexpected, the dispatch said, "since sometime ago big military stores in Bucharest were transferred to other parts of the country."

Coast Shipyards Back on Even Keel

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP)—Vancouver's steel shipbuilding yards today were back on a comparatively even keel following minor layoffs last week in a reorganization program to adjust staffs to a curtailed production schedule. It is expected there will be little further change until the end of the year at least.

Approximately 200 men were given their notices at North Vancouver Ship Repairs Ltd., last week, an official said, but practically all were reassimilated into other jobs in the yard.

"We do not expect any further layoffs for some time," he added. "You might say we are in a transitory period from now until the end of the year, when we will go on the 100-day launching schedule."

North Burrard Shipyard reported only minor layoffs, far less than the number of men leaving voluntarily for various reasons.

West Coast Shipbuilders Ltd., was in a similar position, while the yard's prefabrication plant, Hamilton Bridge Western Ltd., said no layoffs were contemplated at the present time, leaving normal labor turnover to take care of any necessary personnel reduction.

About 300 men were laid off at the South Burrard yard, but some of these were taken back for other work, and an official said future weekly layoffs would decrease in number.

A union spokesman said he expected the personnel situation in the yards to remain on an even keel for some time. Another union official said the yards had definitely gone back to the 5½-day week when they closed Saturday afternoon except for maintenance crews.

Yugoslav Patriots Take Kolasin

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP)—The Free Yugoslav Radio in a communique recorded by Reuters News Agency today announced that patriot troops have captured the Montenegrin town of Kolasin on the Tara River 75 miles inland from Dubrovnik.

Troops of the First Croat Corps have occupied the railway station of Gen. Balaki-Stoi on the Zagreb-Sisak line, the bulletin added.

Yugoslav troops were reported still battling German forces near the Adriatic seaport of Split and near the towns of Mila, Knin and Drniz.

Judge Howay, Pioneer Jurist, Dies

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 4 (CP)—Judge Frederick William Howay, 75, pioneer British Columbia jurist and 1942 President of the Royal Society of Canada, died in hospital here today. He suffered a stroke three weeks ago.

Judge Howay retired in 1937 after 30 years as a County Court judge. He was an outstanding historian and at the time of his death was Chairman of the Canadian Historic Sites Board.

Born in London, Ont., he was educated at New Westminster schools before attending Dalhousie University.

Douglas Crawford, foreign editor of the Daily Mail until his retirement in 1938, is dead at 60.

Graf Spee Hero Commands Salerno Carriers

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN ALGIERS, Oct. 4 (AP)—Seafires — the British Fleet Air Arm's carrier-borne version of Spitfires—flown from five carriers provided a substantial portion of the air cover for warships and transports participating in Salerno landings, the Allied Naval Command disclosed today.

The carrier force was commanded by Rear Admiral Sir Philip Vian, one of the heroes of the battle of River Plate in which the Graf Spee was put out of the war. His command consisted of the Carrier Unicorn and four converted American-built carriers, the Hunter, Battler, Stalker and Attacker.

Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Cunningham, in complimenting the entire force, declared that the landings would never have been undertaken but for the availability of carrier-based aircraft.

Admiral Vian's flagship was the Cruiser Euryalus and cover for his force was provided by a force commander by Vice-Admiral Sir Algernon U. Willis. That included the Battleships Nelson and Rodney, the Carriers Illustrious and Formidable, and destroyers.

Court Martial of Pearl Harbor Chiefs After War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP). — Court martial trial of Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj.-Gen. Walter C. Short, United States navy and army commanders in Hawaii at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, probably will not be held until after the war.

United States War Secretary Henry Stimson and Navy Secretary Frank Knox have said the trial should not be held while it might hamper the war effort.

U.M.W. Agrees to Submit Demands to a Tribunal

CALGARY, Oct. 4 (CP)—District 18, United Mine Workers of America, has agreed to submit its demands to a tribunal, providing one member is a labor man approved by the District Executive, it was announced Sunday by Mr. Justice O. R. O'Connor, Commission Chairman, at the conclusion of the three-day sittings of a Government Commission appointed to investigate the miners' demands.

The Commission met representatives of District 18 and the coal operators separately at sittings Sunday.

Appointment of a Board of Referees to investigate the wage dispute was proposed by the Drumheller Coal Operators' Association, Ltd., the Board to consist of representatives of the National War Labor Board and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

The Western Canada Bituminous (Steam) Coal Operators' Association was asked by the Commission if it would endorse the proposal of the Drumheller (Domestic) Coal Mine Operators.

In the opinion of the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association no evidence had been produced which would justify demands of the U.M.W.A. for wage increases, said C. Stubbs, Secretary and Commissioner of the Association, in reply to this question.

However, he added, if the Government authorities, in their wisdom, thought it necessary to grant some concessions to the U.M.W.A., to offset the Union threat of a work stoppage, this should be done in such a way as not to interfere with present agreements between the Union and the coal operators.

Also, said Mr. Stubbs, proper authority should be given to the operators to collect the added cost of higher wages, either in increased prices for coal, or in such manner as the Government might devise.

If a Board of Referees, as proposed by the Drumheller operators could accomplish this said Mr. Stubbs, the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators' Association would agree to the appointment of such referees.

The miners are seeking a $3 a day wage increase and other concessions for coal miners in Alberta and British Columbia.

Warns Less Gas In Pacific States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP) — Petroleum Administrator Ickes told 37 West members of Congress today "there is going to be less gasoline in the near future in the 10 Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain States."

The Westerners, some of whom received the news indignantly, were told that the gasoline reduction for civilian purposes will amount to about 15,000 barrels a day.

When asked what changes would be made in the value of A, B and C gasoline coupons—now four gallons a week for each—Ickes said he had nothing to do with that.

The gasoline rationing chief for the Office of Price Administration Charles Phillips, who was present, said the coupon value would be determined after officials disclose the exact supply figures.

Rangoon has a population of 400,000.

10 FROM EAST KOOTENAY ENLIST IN MONTH

CRANBROOK, B. C. — Enlistments in the Western half of East Kootenay during the past month sent 10 people to the Canadian Army.

At Cranbrook enlistees were S. A. Dundass, A. N. Whiting and A. Roman. From Kimberley they were R. N. Brenton and J. O. F. Gauthier, from Erickson J. R. Goodwin, from Yahk, A. B. Barnhardt, from Arrow Creek D. E. Cole and from Creston E. P. Joy.

Only recruit to the Canadian Women's Army Corps was Miss M. Sheridan of Elko.

Kimberley Near Goal of Incorporation

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Oct. 4 — At the regular monthly meeting of the Kimberley Board of Trade held this evening, the Secretary of the Incorporation Committee of the Board, M. McIntosh, stated that owners of property representing well over $110,000 of assessed land values had signed the petition in favor of incorporation. This sum did not include the holdings of the C. M. & S. Company. This left only $20,000 worth to be signed up. He stated that the Committee had no doubt that enough signatures could be obtained before October 15, to make incorporation for Kimberley a reality. He stressed the point, however, of the necessity of having the immediate signature of those who had not already signed, so that a house to house canvass would be avoided.

In regard to any improvements being made here this year by the Provincial Public Works Department, J. Macich of the Roads Committee stated that the Public Works Department would not be able to undertake any work this year. The Department had neither the money nor the men to do the work, he said.

In connection with the post-war rehabilitation plan H. Nicholson stated that he would endeavor to arrange a meeting of the Rehabilitation Committee that was appointed by the Associated Boards of Trade for Eastern British Columbia. He hoped that the meeting would be held at Nelson some time this month.

In discussing the necessity of an increased membership of the Board, President R. B. MacLeod stated that an effort would be made in the near future to canvass several former members. He felt that no great difficulty would be encountered in increasing the membership if a personal contact could be made.

Buck Makes Plea for Labor Unity

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4 (CP). — Tim Buck, of Toronto, national leader of the Labor Progressive Party, made a plea for labor unity and urged establishment of a second front when he addressed a rally here yesterday.

Doukhobor Jailed, Driving While Licence Suspended; Girl Fined Also

For driving a borrowed car while his driver's licence was suspended, John Mike Tomilin, Doukhobor, of Brilliant, on Monday entered on a jail term of two months, with hard labor, as the alternative to paying a fine of $150. The charge was one of three developing from a car accident at Ootischenia, in the Brilliant area, about 1 a.m. Sunday, when a car driven by Helen Zoobkoff of Brilliant left the road and crashed into a pole on the West Kootenay Power & Light Company line, disrupting service on three power lines.

The car, owned by William Maketiff, was damaged considerably, but no one was injured.

Tomilin's licence was suspended September 10 when he appeared before Stanley Humphries, Stipendiary Magistrate, in Provincial Police Court at Castlegar, and pleaded guilty on a reckless driving charge.

Monday he again appeared before Mr. Humphries, charged under the Criminal Code with driving while his licence was suspended, and again he pleaded guilty.

GIRL FINED TWICE

Miss Zoobkoff, charged with reckless driving as a result of the accident, in which the car left the road while rounding a right-hand curve and hit the pole, pleaded guilty and was fined $15. On a second charge of driving when she was not the holder of a current driver's licence, she pleaded guilty and was fined $5. Both her fines were paid.

Tomilin was given a large part of the day in which to raise $150 to pay his fine, but in the late afternoon he decided to take the jail term instead.

The charge developed from an investigation of the accident by Constable Frank Slater of the B. C. Police Highway Patrol. He explained that Tomilin drove the borrowed car for a time and then turned the wheel over to Miss Zoobkoff shortly before the accident.

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

A lull of uncertain duration in heavy fighting both in Italy and Russia seems indicated although on both fronts the Nazis are still in retreat.

This does not mean there is lack of major movements now. On the contrary, in Italy both the 5th Army in the West and the 8th Army in the East are moving up swiftly against Nazi rearguard resistance, probing for indications of the line along which the enemy proposes to make his next formidable stand after his skilful evacuation of all the South-Central portion of the Peninsula.

In Russia Red forces are apparently thrusting at the narrow sector the Germans still hold East of the Dnieper between Orsha and Loev. That East-bank footing covers the vital crossings of the Dnieper North of the marshes of the Pripet on the West bank. It forms an outpost protection for this most vulnerable and dangerous Central segment of the Dnieper defence line and it appears possible that heavy Nazi forces have been thrown in here to hold the Russians at arms' length from the river.

Early Fall rains obviously are impeding the Russian attempt to reach the Dnieper along its whole length and particularly in the centre mouth of Kiev and South of Orsha. The threats to Orsha, to Mogilev, to Zhlobin and to the Gomel crossing South of them are grave, however, and stubborn Nazi resistance in an effort to cling to that long, narrow East-bank foothold between Orsha and Loev indicates Nazi recognition of the fatal importance of that segment.

ROME FATED?

In Italy, the Allied march on Rome is in full swing. Advices from Allied Headquarters indicate that there is no expectation of more than a delaying stand expected now short of the Rome-Chieti line. Some Allied commentators are already apprehensive that Rome may be destined to know the grim fate that overtook Naples.

Even the Rome-Chieti line is regarded as vulnerable by military experts. They doubt seriously that the German High Command is contemplating a real knock-down-drag-out defence short of the Arno-Rimini front far North of Rome.

It is pointed out that this is the line to which Nazi generals urged Mussolini to fall back after the loss of Sicily to the Allies was assured. Any other line across the Italian boot could be turned by sea-borne flanking operations, such as the 8th Army now has employed in landing at Termoli on the Adriatic Coast, 50 miles North of their previous most advanced position.

Appoint Fuel Men to Help Solve Problem

OTTAWA, Oct. 4 (CP) — The Munitions Department announced today the appointment of Regional Solid Fuel representatives in seven provinces to help solve Canada's lightening fuel problems.

The announcement said the representatives will be given powers to act for the Federal Coal Controller, E. J. Brunning, to determine solid fuel requirements in their provinces and to assist in solving problems of conservation and distribution.

The appointees include—

Ontario—George T. Pepall, Toronto.

Manitoba —Dr. Sidney E. Smith, Winnipeg.

Saskatchewan—Mr. Justice Donald Maclean, Saskatoon.

Alberta—Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin of Calgary.

British Columbia — Lawrence Killam, Vancouver, who has been serving since July 6 as Regional Advisor to the Coal Controller and the Wood Fuel Controller.

Appointment of the Provincial representatives, forecast for several weeks in unofficial quarters, was another in a series of steps the Federal Government has taken to relieve an acute fuel situation facing the Dominion's householders this Winter.

The Munitions Department announced that wholesalers will be required to ship anthracite coal to retailers on an equitable basis so all may have a "fair share" of supplies which become available.

Explaining the order, Coal Controller Brunning said that in some parts of Canada certain dealers have been able to obtain carloads of hard coal while others have had almost none to supply their customers. The new order is aimed at remedying that situation by making equitable distribution compulsory.

Another department announcement said the Canadian Motion Picture War Services Committee, representing 1160 theatres across Canada, has voluntarily agreed to a 30-per cent reduction in coal consumption by the motion picture industry. The cut will result in the saving of approximately 90,000 tons of coal a year.

Record Gate From Fall Fair, Windermere

CRANBROOK, B. C.—Final report by the Windermere District Farmer's Institute on its Fall Fair shows record gate receipts despite wartime handicaps. Net profit was $476 of which $100 was given to the Red Cross and $225 was divided among the Institute Scholarship Fund, the Community Committee, the Hospital and Church organizations. This amount does not include the profits from a refreshment concession run by ladies' auxiliaries of two churches.

Major source of income was gate receipts at the fair in the Athalmer grounds, and the dance in the David Thompson Memorial Hall.

An Indian dance and tribal dance added considerable color to the Fair.

Stettinius Is Sworn in as Under Secretary of State

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP).—Edward R. Stettinius Jr. was sworn in today as United States Under-Secretary of State, with prospects of becoming acting secretary soon while Secretary Hull attends a meeting with the British and Russian Foreign Ministers.

Stettinius succeeds Sumner Welles, whose long-reported resignation was announced by President Roosevelt a week ago along with the Stettinius appointment.

Hull later presented Stettinius at his Press conference.

Turning to reporters' questions, the Secretary of State indicated that there is some basis to reports the Badoglio Government may be broadened to include additional Italian anti-Fascist elements.

All members of the United Nations, Hull said, would be interested in the fullest possible unification of all elements in Italy opposed to the Axis powers.

MORE TIME LOST BY STRIKES

OTTAWA, Oct. 4 (CP)—An increase in time lost through labor disputes during August, as compared with July was reported today by the Labor Department.

During the months there were 50 strikes involving 33,201 workers, with a time loss of 336-948 man-working days. In July there were 42 strikes with 15,984 workers and loss of 66,971 man-days.

Comparative figures for August, 1942, were 59 strikes, 21,434 workers and 40,951 man days.

A strike of workers in three Montreal aircraft plants accounted for 60 per cent of the workers and 85 per cent of the time loss in August this year.

Of the 50 strikes, 47 were terminated during the month, 10 being recorded in favor of the workers, seven in favor of the employers, four as compromise settlements, one as partially in favor of the workers, and 27 as "indefinite."

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP) — B. C. Packers' Cannery and Reduction Plant at Pacofi, Southern end of Queen Charlotte Islands, were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin Saturday night.

The Pacofi plant, newest of the several operated by B. C. Packers up and down the British Columbia Coast, was valued at more than $150,000.

Residential buildings, a general store, boiler house and power house and wharf escaped damage, according to the report to local offices of the company by Douglas Souter, Manager at Pacofi.

Because of elm disease, trees at Windsor planted by Charles II are being felled.

Nations Must Have Global View Says Boothroyd

"The airplane has revolutionized travel and transportation throughout the world," Rev. Gordon G. Boothroyd stated in his Sunday evening sermon, at Trinity United Church. He quoted the words of a famous aircraft building company which were: "No man on earth lives more than 50 hours from your nearest airport."

The speaker contrasted the present day outlook with that of 150 years ago, when men thought of distant lands as forbidding and fearsome. Now daily people listened to voices in Europe, and great leaders met or conversed when and how they chose, and Canada's representatives in the armed forces were in every part of the globe.

Mr. Boothroyd maintained that henceforth there was no security in isolation, and naval and air protection was extended thousands of miles to cover vulnerable centres. Nations must have the "global view" of the world and see beyond the limits of national borders, continent and race.

The speaker spoke of the new respect for Russia, and the Russian Government's revised policy toward Christianity. In Russia the Church was again accorded something of its ancient place of prestige and influence. He warned that the democracies must do their utmost to prevent China from falling into a mood of cynicism and bitterness which might prove disastrous to all concerned.

Mr. Boothroyd believed that the common man living in this smaller world might look forward to many enjoyments, such as cheaper and more extensive travel, and be not as "a hermit under the hill, but a citizen of the world." The common man was daring to hope that the necessities of life would in the future more readily reach the masses of whatever race or place.

The speaker reminded his listeners that this had always been God's world but that the conflict between good and evil continued. He affirmed that issues might be more sharply drawn in the future. "Choose ye this day whom ye shall serve," was the same choice given as of old. Christians everywhere must crusade as never before to make the kingdoms of this world the kingdoms of the Son of God.

HUNS PUT CURFEW ON SOUTHERN FRANCE

BERNE, Oct. 4 (AP)—German occupation authorities decreed an 8 p.m. curfew for the Thonon region of Southeastern France today and arrested 25 hostages there, including seven women, in reprisals for an attack on a German troop train in which one soldier was killed and a dozen wounded.

Coastal Guns Shell Nazi Convoy Seen in Channel

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP)—British long range coastal batteries shelled a German convoy passing through the English Channel during the night, a Berlin radio announced shortly after lively gunfire had been heard along the coast.

The broadcast said that German big guns based in France had shelled Ramsgate, Dover and Folkestone at the same time.

The German announcement claimed the convoy escaped unharmed but that a large fire was started in the Dover area.
