"Pacific Freight Rate an Injustice" . . .

B.C. to Fight Mountain Scale

Johnson Plans to Rally Prairie Premiers in Stand for Removal of Differential; Handicap to West

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP)—Premier Byron Johnson said today the British Columbia Government is prepared to "fight to the finish" for removal of the mountain freight rate differential.

"It is one of the greatest injustices that has ever been imposed on the economy of Canada," he declared.

Commenting on the decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners increasing rates, Mr. Johnson said the mountain differential should have been wiped out.

He proposes to confer at the earliest opportunity with the premiers of the Prairie Provinces to present a united front for removal of the differential.

"Too long have British Columbia industries and agricultural enterprises suffered from the differential, which served only to foster Eastern industry to the detriment of Western development," he said.

NOT TO LATE

"Under no circumstances should the increase have been granted, and even now it is not too late for the Board to make a concurrent decision removing this great handicap on the movement of freight to and from British Columbia."

He was gratified that at least one Commissioner, F. M. Macpherson, recognized in a minority report the need for its removal. The Commissioner recommended further review of the mountain differential.

The mountain differential — or Pacific scale — provides that 1¼ Prairie miles shall equal one mile in Pacific territory for rate purposes.

The majority report of the Commissioners allowed the general 21-per-cent increase to be added to the differential.

HALIFAX, March 31 (CP) — There is every likelihood Nova Scotia will support any move to appeal the Transport Board's decision granting a 21 per cent freight rate increase to Canadian railways, it was learned from high Government sources here tonight.

APPEAL EXPECTED

OTTAWA, March 31 (CP)—Informed quarters here see little possibility of the Cabinet intervening on its own initiative to scale down the $70,000,000-a-year freight-rate increase given the railways by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

But if regional interests carry an appeal to the Government — as seems almost certain—there is no question but that the Cabinet would do considerable soul-searching before rejecting such an appeal.

Best bet, according to persons in touch with the picture, is that in such a case the Cabinet would send the load of potential political T.N.T. back to the Transport Commissioners. That would serve this dual purpose:

1. Getting the Government out from under a ticklish political position in this period of by-elections, leadership change and imminence of a general election.

2. Giving the Commissioners a chance to review the need of a 21-percent rate increase in the light of railway operating results for the first quarter of 1947.

While as yet there were no official reverberations here in the way of an appeal from the provinces against yesterday's Board verdict, this step was regarded as a foregone conclusion.

The ceremony will take place in St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral at 10 a.m.

Consecrator will be Most Rev. W. R. Adams, D.D., Metropolitan of British Columbia, former Bishop of Kootenay and now Bishop of the Yukon.

The Province's other Bishops will be present. They are Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, D.D., Lord Bishop of Columbia; Rt. Rev. Sir Francis C. C. CLOUD OF SUSPICION HANGS OVER AMANA; NOT A LADY SAYS SCRIBE

By RAY TIMSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, March 31 (CP) — Timid and inoffensive Amana Matilda of Australia flashed her six upper and two lower teeth to an airport audience today, grinned excitedly and whistled in Aboriginese "How Is the Hour."

But in the interests of better marriages incorporated, I demand Amana be investigated before she weds Bluey at the April 10 Byline Ball of the Toronto Men's Press Club. I have reasons to believe the nine-months-old Wallaby kangaroo is a male!

With the samba movement of her elongated hind feet, Amana today hopped down from an Australian National Airways DC-4, which had brought the kangaroo on the 46-hour flight from Sydney.

I grabbed her, fondled her soft and wooly fur, then dropped her with a bounce. Amana has no pouch!

BLUEY MISLED

Bluey, a proven male kangaroo who came to Canada last year as a Byline Ball gift from the Sydney Men's Press Club, is waiting in Toronto for his child bride. Bluey, I believe, is being misled, or rather miswed.

True, this young and flippant Amana Matilda has nutritious and savoury flesh resembling mutton, and is considered a delicacy. But her shoulders and fore limbs are feebly developed, like a man in the pantaloon stage.

Nevertheless, Amana Matilda was given a "shower." Moira Wallace, President of the Vancouver Branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club, presented her with a garland of daffodil heads. Australian Trade Commissioner F. R. Gullick diplomatically tendered felicitations.

A.N.A. stewardess Patricia Fox said the diminutive bride was "perfectly delightful" throughout the entire 5000 mile trip. She never refused the aromatic servings of milk, grass and potatoes.

Questioned, Miss Fox said Amana had the appetite "of a man."

Tells of Attempt to Save Coast Woman From Drowning

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C., March 31 (CP)—The story of a police constable's heroic, but vain, attempt to save a woman from drowning was told at an inquest here.

The coroner's jury was inquiring into the death last Saturday of Mrs. S. B. Hokenson, 27, who was trapped when the truck in which she was riding plunged into the water from a wharf. Three others, including the woman's husband, escaped.

Provincial Police Constable M. Beaumont dived into the water and recovered Mrs. Hokenson's body. He applied artificial respiration, but the woman failed to respond.

DISCOVER URANIUM ORE

(Approved by Atomic Control Board)

THE PAS, Man., March 31 (CP)—Uranium ore, major means of producing atomic energy, has been discovered within 30 miles of Flin Flon, Man., on about 18 claims held jointly by George Branscombe and John McLelland of Flin Flon, it was reported today.

The claims were staked two years ago by Mr. Branscombe, a veteran prospector now employed by Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company. The property lies just inside the Saskatchewan border on what is mapped as Judick Lake, South of Wildnest Lake.

Last Summer, two representatives of the National Research Council, Ottawa, checked the discovery with a Geiger counter, a device for ascertaining the presence of radioactive materials.

RUSSIANS HOLD UP BRITISH TRAINS

HEMSTEDT, Germany, April 1 (Thursday) (AP) — United States railroad officers said early today that Russian authorities halted two British military trains at Marienborn when British guards refused to allow Russian forces to inspect them.

The trains left Berlin late last night, a few hours before a surprise Russian order calling for Soviet inspection of Allied trains was due to go into effect.

Britain and the United States earlier had rejected the restrictions. France followed suit.

[illegible] SMALL IN [illegible]MBER LOVE TELLS B.C. HOUSE

Trouble-Makers Use Laws Only for Own Convenience

NEED FIRM HAND

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP)—The Doukhobor problem long ago ceased to be a backyard fracas and unless dealt with firmly will develop into more serious trouble, Thomas A. Love, (Cln—Grand Forks-Greenwood) told the Legislature today.

"The trouble makers are a comparatively small fraction of the entire group. In Grand Forks they number about 350 out of a total of 3500 but they have an intimidating and terrorizing influence over the entire number. Virtually all the trouble in my district has been caused by the Sons of Freedom.

"Fires and bombings have cost at least 10 lives and caused more than a million dollars damage and some insurance companies have refused policies on Grand Forks homes.

"Every reasonable effort has been made to win the goodwill of these people and to get them to adopt our way of life."

"It has been slow progress, with special schools and teachers and many of them have accepted our way of living. But the Sons of Freedom have exhausted tolerance. They spurn regimentation of any kind, but are quick to take advantage of our laws for relief and other ways of advantage to them.

"There is a very strong feeling that the over-leniency of the Government towards the Doukhobors has been doing them the greatest unkindness — leading them into flouting our laws and knowing they will not be punished.

FIRM HAND A NEED

"This policy amounts to little short of persecution of Canadians affected and a firm hand on the part of the law would have been good for all concerned."

"The Government apparently wants to cuddle these fanatical lawbreakers," said Mr. Love. "This pampering has been going on for 40 years and the fanatics think they can do as they please. Hence they take particular delight in disregarding the laws.

"Until recently any Russian could buy what he wanted of Government owned land. That right is denied a Canadian. This situation is a blot on the honor and integrity of any Government and should be effaced with the least possible delay.

"Lives of people of the Kootenays are just as precious as those of you folks at the Coast and this Government should take immediate steps to guarantee them equal freedom against the nightmare of terrorism that has been existing.

"Special spoon-feeding of factious foreigners should be ended and a Canadian citizen should be given rightful recognition in the land of his birth."

Saskatchewan Miss Western Canada's First K.C.

REGINA, March 31 (CP) — The appointment of four King's Counsels from among lawyers employed by the Saskatchewan Government was announced today by Attorney-General J. W. Corman.

They included Miss Dorothy Greensmith, of the Attorney General's Department, who becomes the first woman King's Counsel in Western Canada.

The appointments were made under amendments to the King's Counsel Act passed at the recent session of the Legislature which provided that barristers and solicitors in the Government service would be created King's Counsels by order-in-council.

Dr. M. C. Shumiachter, legal advisor to the Labor Relations Board and Executive Council who will appear before the Privy Council this Summer in conection with two constitutional appeals, was also appointed. The other appointments are A. M. Nicol of the Attorney General's Department and J. P. Runciman, Legislative Assembly Counsel.

SOCRED BOARD WINDS UP

EDMONTON, March 31 (CP) — The Alberta Social Credit Board, tacitly renounced by the Provincial Government, goes out of existence at midnight tonight.

Set up 11 years ago to spread the Government's monetary theories, the Board was allowed to expire but its militant members fought to the last.

As recently as last week, the Board repeated its criticism of the secret ballot and took what could be interpreted as a dig at the Provincial Government led by Premier Manning.

The Board has been linked with a dissident group in Social Credit ranks because its Chairman, A. V. Bourcier, M.L.A. for Lac Ste. Anne, also is Chairman of a Douglas Social Credit Council which is critical of the Canadian Social Credit movement.

"Fairly Easy Day" For Mayor Jones

KELOWNA, B.C., March 31 (CP) —Mayor Charles Jones of Vancouver, who suffered a heart attack here Monday, tonight was reported "holding his own." Dr. J. W. Knox said the 66-year-old Mayor had a "fairly easy day" and required less oxygen.

Meat Dealers Here Foresee Price Hikes

Nelson meat wholesale firms, faced with a 21 per cent hike in freight charges, here Wednesday foresaw rises in retail meat distributions when supplies are shipped in under the increased rates. The dealers stated, however, that they were not sure of specific price hikes and would work out the new prices when more information was available.

The increased freight rates were approved by the Board of Transport Commissioners Tuesday.

Fruit and vegetable dealers reported a fairly heavy turnover of goods. During the week one car of oranges, one of California cabbage, one of bananas and a part car of Texas grapefruit were checked in.

Elizabeth Has No Engagements After June

LONDON, March 31 (Reuters)—A Buckingham Palace official told Reuters News Agency today that Princess Elizabeth had made no further engagements after June, but refused to comment on persistent rumors that she and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, were expecting a baby in October.

The usual procedure for announcing an expected birth in the Royal Family is an official notice from a Royal residence that the member of the family "will not, for the next few months, be undertaking any further engagements."

These announcements in the cases of the Duchess of Kent and the Duchess of Gloucester came four full months before the births of their children.

WOULD KEEP SPAIN FROM AID PLAN

BOGOTA, March 31 (Reuters) — George Marshall, United States Secretary of State, has issued instructions to the State Department at Washington to make every effort to eliminate the inclusion of Spain in the House of Representatives measure for Marshall aid, it was learned authoritatively today.

LONDON, March 31 (AP)—Opposition to the inclusion of Spain in the Marshall Recovery Plan swelled in the European press today.

Plan Chrome Industry In Washington State

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Rep. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today plans are being worked out for establishment of a large chrome industry in Washington State.

Jackson said the American Chrome and Magnesium Industries, Inc., which is being capitalized here, has been granted a contract by the Treasury for 200,000 tons of chrome to be stockpiled by the Government. Chrome, he said, is the No. 2 critical material in the Government's stockpiling program.

He told a reporter he has been informed the company proposes to construct a crushing and concentration plant near Hamilton, Wash., at a cost of $1,000,000. This plant would separate the chrome from oviline. It will employ 200 men.

The company plans to bring the chrome ore from Africa and its Twin Sisters Mine in Washington State.

EUROPEANS FOR U.S. ARMY SENATOR'S PLAN

"For Sale" Signs Come Off Armament Plants

"USE A-BOMB"

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) —Senator Henry Lodge (Rep.-Mass.) urged Congress today to let 50,000 young single European men join the United States Army and become citizens later.

Lodge, a Tank Corps officer in the Second World War, said this would cut down manpower needs in the proposed temporary draft, for one thing. He asked the Senate Armed Services Committee to back him up.

Lodge would sprinkle the carefully chosen foreigners among regular army units. They would get all soldier benefits and qualify for citizenship after five years service. He would limit their number to 15 per cent of the army's total. Young men all over the world want to join, he said.

Use of the atom bomb to shorten any future war and thus save lives was advocated by Senator Burke Hickenlooper (Rep. Iowa), Chairman of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. He told a reporter we should have no qualms about using it strategically in this fashion, but that it should not be employed indiscriminately.

The War Assets Administration got ready for an expected order this week to pull back from the surplus market another group of powder and ordnance plants. The agency took the "for sale" signs off 10 others on March 20.

GRAND FORKS MUST DEFEND LICENSE REFUSAL

VANCOUVER, March 31 (CP) —Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson has ruled that the City of Grand Forks must defend in Supreme Court its refusal to renew the trading license of Sunshine Valley Cooperative Association.

The Association's store was destroyed by fire last New Year's Eve. It was a Doukhobor cooperative store.

The municipality contends the fire was of incendiary origin and that the possibility of a second bombing is a menace to public safety. The Association denied the store was bombed.

The Supreme Court hearing will open here next Tuesday.

Saves Lives of 12 Seamen in Ship Fire

VANCOUVER, March 31 (CP) — Alertness of A. MacCuish, night watchman, possibly saved the lives of 12 seamen aboard the Canadian Australasian Line freighter Wairuna today.

MacCuish turned in a fire alarm when he smelled smoke coming from the ventilator of No. 6 hatch. He awakened the crew and all hands were called on deck.

A fireman's cabin in the stern quarters was found blazing. A cigaret butt was said to have started the fire. Loss was estimated at $300.

The Wairuna arrived here yesterday with several thousand tons of sugar aboard.

WATCH IT! THAT DAY IS HERE AGAIN

Today is a practical joker's dream come true.

Phony bills, urgent phone calls and their like are quite in order, for, good people, it is April Fools' day. In vogue will be squirting carnations, exploding cigars—for the more violent type—and verbal foolery for the less indulgent.

Anyway it will be a day for laughs depending of course on which end of the jest you are.

There are many tales about the best April Fool prank ever pulled off, but the brainwave a London jest had about takes the pastry.

It seems that a gang of street workers moved in on a busy section of town and proceeded to take the street apart. Nobody questioned the "workers"; police helped to rope the area off and before the day was done a block of the street looked like an atom bomb had hit.

At the end of the shift the men disappeared. No one knew who had ordered the excavation, but eventually the light was seen—the job was the work of April Fool guys.

Compulsory Hospital Insurance for B.C.

$33 Yearly Maximum Family Cost; To Bring Same Services as Blue Cross To More Persons; Aid to Hospitals

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP)—A compulsory contributory hospital insurance plan will be established by the British Columbia Government.

Premier Byron Johnson announced today that legislation for the plan would be introduced at the present session of the Legislature.

It will call for maximum family payments of $33 a year, and the only persons exempt will be those already covered by comparable hospital insurance. Payments for single persons are expected to be based on a $1.25-a-month fee.

Cost of the project will be covered by a $2,000,000 stablization fund, plus provincial and municipal grants to hospitals of 70 cents a day for patients.

AMUSEMENT TAX TO CARRY LOAD

Mr. Johnson, while he did not announce full details, said the Provincial Government will take over the amusement tax field when it is vacated by the Dominion. Receipts from this source will be earmarked for the hospital scheme.

The Government will contract with hospitals to supply ward and diagnostic services and will continue to provide services for all recognized social indigents.

The scheme amounts to an extension of facilities provided by the Blue Cross Service of the B.C. Hospitals Association.

The announcement of the Premier followed discussions Monday of representatives of the hospitals and the B.C. Medical Association with Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson.

Mr. Johnson's announcement gave no indication of what the contribution would be for a single person. Under the present Blue Cross scheme the single person contribution is $1.25 per month. The family contribution is $2.75.

The Blue Cross scheme provides for maternity benefits after a person has been enrolled for nine months. The Blue Cross scheme is limited to groups of 10 persons or more.

PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS

No indication was given in the Premier's announcement when the scheme would come into effect. The contributions, it was indicated, where possible will be made on the payroll deduction plan, the same as is done by the Blue Cross.

It is possible that the scheme will provide for contributors to get hospitalization treatment anywhere in Canada or the United States. This is provided for under the Blue Cross arrangement that was started in the U.S. and is now in force in all provinces of Canada and all states of the U.S.

"The scheme to be instituted will bring hospital care within the financial reach of everyone," said Mr. Johnson. "It is hoped as the plan is put into practical operation, other improvements may be made."

British Columbia will be the second province to have compulsory hospital care. Saskatchewan embarked on a similar plan last year. Legislation has also been approved in Alberta for a hospital and medical care plan, the latter including incorporation of a company to supply medical and surgical care.

AID TO HOSPITALS

British Columbia hospitals had deficits of $1,000,000 last year, and to aid the institutions the Government contributed $500,000.

The plan would aid the burden of financing hospitals, but bed supply may be aggravated.

"We won't be able to take care of an increased demand," said Dr. R. A. Seymour, medical head of General Hospital in Vancouver. At present patients are accepted on an "emergency merit" system, the more serious patients getting first call.

SUGGESTS INVESTIGATION

Hospital-operating costs were brought under fire by E. E. Winch (CCF-Burnaby).

"Hospitals have recently raised rates and are always appealing for more and more Government financial support—recently successfully," Mr. Winch said.

"I suggest serious and close scrutiny of their operational methods and costs is essential before a wholesale increase towards costs is forthcoming."

Mr. Winch drew attention of the House that at Royal Jubilee in Victoria per capita cost per day of supplies, $2.72, was the highest in the province, comparing with $2.05 at Vancouver General, $2.29 at St. Paul's, $1.89 at Westminster, $2.18 at St. Joseph's Victoria and $1.96 at Duncan.

"Why the discrepancy?" he demanded.

Dietary costs at Jubilee were $1.29 per patient day, against 72 cents at New Westminster, 87 cents at Vancouver General, 98 cents at St. Paul's, and $1.11 at St. Joseph's.

"Courtesy service at Jubilee represented $28.18 per bed, against $7.16 at Vancouver General and $21.32 at St. Paul's, though New Westminster was higher, $36.64.

"If this is mainly extended to the staff, then in some hospitals there must be an excessive amount of staff illness, which should be inquired into. Or is it given to friends of friends?" Mr. Winch commented.

SERVING OUT-OF-TOWNERS

At the same time, he said some cities apparently were operating hospitals to a considerable extent as a service of convenience to neighboring districts. As examples, he quoted these percentages of out-of-town patients treated: Jubilee 62; Vancouver General 21; St. Paul's 31; St. Joseph's 50; New Westminster 74; Duncan 82.

C.N.R. Western Vice-President Retires

MONTREAL, March 31 (CP)—Retirement of W. R. Devenish, Vice President of Canadian National Railways Western Region, with headquarters at Winnipeg, and his replacement by J. P. Johnson, formerly Vice President and General Manager of the Atlantic Region at Moncton, N. B., was announced today in a list of senior C.N.R. administrative changes.

Mr. Johnson, four years in the Moncton post, will be succeeded by W. E. Robinson, who has been Central Region Assistant General Manager at Toronto.

J. F. Pringle, Central Region Vice President and General Manager, is appointed Vice President of the Company at Toronto, and A. J. Lomas, formerly General Superintendent at Montreal, becomes Central Region General Manager.

Mr. Devenish, a Civil Engineer, was educated at St. Columbus and Trinity College, Dublin. He engaged in construction activities with the transcontinental railway in 1912. After serving in various posts in the East he was named Vice-President and General Manager, in June, 1942, with jurisdiction over the railway's activites from the Great Lakes to and including the Pacific Coast. In February, 1944, he was appointed Vice-President of the Western region with headquarters at Winnipeg.

Mr. Johnson was born at Castlebar, Quebec, in 1889. He began as a telegrapher with the former Grand Trunk in 1905. Wanted It for Their Girl Friends?

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) — On the eve of April Fool's Day, the United States Government today turned down two Pennsylvanians who laid claim to the moon.

Interior Secretary Julius Krug, saying the moon belongs to everyone, denied their request that the Government approve the claim.

In a formal reply to Robert D. Eaton and Charles W. Honhold of Sewickley, Pa., Krug explained with tongue-in-cheek seriousness that Federal homestead laws require applicants to inspect in person the areas sought.

Further, he said the sovereignty of the United States has never been established over the moon.

Truman Signature Next Step

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) —The House of Representatives passed tonight the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid bill aimed in large part at blocking Communist expansion.

Truman's signature later this week will start United States supplies rolling about two weeks before the April 18 elections which may decide whether Italy goes Communist or stays in the Western Democratic camp.

STUDYING STRIKE REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP) —President Truman today received the report of his fact-finding board in the soft coal strike over a pension dispute. But his next move was put off "pending study."

HART 69

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP) — Former Premier John Hart, a British Columbia Cabinet Minister longer than anyone in the Province's history, celebrated his 69th birthday today.

The Irish-born minister moved to Victoria in 1898 and was first elected to the Legislature in 1916. He served as Finance Minister from 1917 to 1924, and was again named Finance Minister in 1933. He held the finance portfolio until 1946. He was named Premier in 1941 and left the Premiership last December 29.

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP) — Veteran C.C.F. Member E. E. Winch (Burnaby) today called on Municipal Affairs Minister, R. C. MacDonald to name Communists who the minister said in his radio speech Monday were infiltrating into the ranks of the C.C.F.

The Minister's statements over the air have sparked a storm of protest from Opposition benches since the House resumed after the Easter recess.

Eight-year-old Earl Farenholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Farenholtz, is in Kootenay Lake General Hospital with a broken collar bone after being in collision with a car while riding his bike on Granite Road. The car was driven by W. L. Anderson of Nelson.

Police said the accident occurred about half a mile West of Nelson near the boy's home. After the collision, he assured Mr. Anderson that he was "alright," and picked up his bike and went home. A doctor was called, however, and the boy was taken to Hospital, where the injury was discovered after an X-ray had been taken. He also suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Provide Special Train Service After Rail Tieup

The Canadian Pacific passenger train from Vancouver again arrived in Nelson during the small hours Thursday. A similar delay, caused by a tieup o nthe line West of Princeton when a freight train struck a slide, was experienced the previous night, the train arriving about 5 a.m. Wednesday. It is normally due at 5:05 p.m., although coming in about 8 p.m. lately while on the Spence's Bridge route.

Tuesday night, a local train was made up to take passengers and mail to Lethbridge and Calgary, the passengers including the Trail and Edmonton senior hockey teams en route to Edmonton to continue their Western Canada semi-final series.

Thursday night's train is expected to be on time as the trouble spot has been cleared.

Claims Plane Wing Seen

REVELSTOKE, B.C., March 31 (CP)—An investigation was made tonight into a report made by a Canadian Pacific Railway sleeping car porter that he saw the wing of a plane near the tracks at Lauretta, 19 miles East of here early today. No further information was immediately available.

An R.C.A.F. photo-reconnaissance plane with nine aboard has been missing in the general vicinity since last Oct. 18.

Ramsbottom 'Spiel Winner

Victory in the Primary Competition of the Nelson Curling Club's Red Cross Bonspiel came to Ernie Ramsbottom's rock hoisters Wednesday night when they dumped Joe Kary's men 11-4.

Finalist rinks were Ramsbottom, A. (Chum) Arcure, T. Romano and I. Kraft; Kary, N. S. Macleod, Bill Brown and Bill Hamilton.

A late game saw A. H. Allan skip his team to a 14-10 victory over A. G. Lane to claim the honors for the Secondary Competition.

Allan's winners were Herb Peacock, R. B. Morris and Reeve Harper; while their finalist-opponents were Lane, Albert Hamson, D. Cathcart and T. Dodman.

CONSOLIDATED DONATES $5000 TO CHARITY

Donations amounting to $5000 by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company have been made to charitable organizations recently.

The first of these, made by the Montreal headquarters of Consolidated was for $2500 to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

The second was $2500 to the Western Society for Physical Rehabilitation, made by the Trail office of the company.

The Western Society for Physical Rehabilitation is a new organization seeking to give relief to sufferers of severe paralysis. Sponsored by a group of prominent British Columbia men and women, the society plans the erection in Vancouver of a rehabilitation centre for sufferers of severe paralysis.

Suggests Heavier Legislative Burden For Private Members

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP) — A suggestion for private Members of the Legislature to assume a greater legislative burden, thus relieving the Provincial Cabinet, has been made by A. J. Turner, C.C.F., Vancouver East.

In a motion, notice of which has been given, Mr. Turner suggests "that this House recommends for the consideration of the Government that facilities be provided to allow for the hearing of representations to the Government for changes in legislation for at least 30 days prior to the opening of each session and that, as a means of lightening the burden now mainly carried by the Executive Cabinet in this respect, the greater use of private Members be made for this purpose, and it is recommended to the Government that it name private Members of the Legislature who shall sit prior to the opening of the session with a representative of each Government Department concerned as a Committee of Committees to hear and study the proposals so made."

Mr. Turner also suggests that each Special Committee shall make a report and recommendations to the Government which may refer such reports and recommendations to the appropriate Select Standing Committee of the Legislature.

There are many matters of public importance presented to the Members of the Legislature by bill, motion and resolution during the sesstion on which insufficient time is allowed to give wise and serious consideration, said Mr. Turner.

Criticize Finnish Interior Minister

HELSINKI, March 31 (AP) — Rightists in Parliament and the Finnish press aimed a steady drumfire of criticism today at Finland's Communist Interior Minister. They voiced the suspicion he has infiltrated the country's police force with Communists.

The Interior Minister, Yrjo Leino, is in Moscow as a member of a seven-man Finnish delegation sent to negotiate a friendship and military pact with Russia. He must answer the charges before Parliament when he gets back, but is not expected to reply for several weeks.

There has been no announcement either here or in Moscow as yet concerning conclusion of the treaty, suggested by Prime Minister Stalin.

Former Brandon Music Director Speaker Here

The March program meeting of the Nelson Branch of the B.C. Regional Music Teachers Association was held Sunday at the studio of the President, Mrs. L. A. McPhail. Prior to the program there was a brief business session, at which the advisability of continuing a policy of sponsoring professional concerts was discussed. If this project is maintained, an outstanding violinist and pianist of international reputation will be available for an appearance in Nelson in November.

Tentative plans for a pupils' recital to be held, if possible, in June, were made. It was noted that the annual meeting and election of officers will take place late in May.

For their program, the teachers had as guest speaker, Dr. W. L. Wright, former Director of Music at Brandon College, and also the founder. Dr. Wright is a past president of the Manitoba Music Teachers' Association. Music teachers from Nelson public schools had been invited to hear Dr. Wright, who spoke on "The Joy of a Musical Life."

From his long experience as an educator in the world of music, Dr. Wright was able to offer wise and encouraging advice to his listeners. He closed his talk by suggesting that "a teacher's greatest pleasure was that of self-expression, shown through the work of their pupils." He discussed informally the problems of belonging to new organizations such as the Nelson Branch.

Dr. Wright, now retired, has taken up permanent residence in Robson.

"The presence of one so gifted and experienced in his art," said a Nelson Branch member, "should prove a valuable asset, not only to the musical life of the District, but also to that of his newly adopted Province."

To Study Revenue For Municipalities In Public Utilities

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP) — A Subcommittee of the Legislature's Municipal Affairs Committee was appointed today to work out a way to assure municipalities no reduction in revenue from public utilities.

The Committee will consist of A. C. Hope, Delta, who is Chairman of the Committee; C. W. Morrow, North Okanagan, Secretary, and Herbert Gargrave, Mackenzie. Mr. Hope and Mr. Morrow are Coalition Government Members, while Mr. Gargrave is a C.C.F. Member.

At the present time the municipalities are authorized to collect 3 per cent of the gross revenue of public utility companies' operations within their boundaries in lieu of taxes. There is some question whether or not this tax should be in lieu of taxes from pole lines or on all properties of utility companies but land.

Previously municipalities had collected taxes on assessment of pole lines at $500 per mile in rural areas and $800 per mile in urban areas. Some municipalities, particularly those of the Lower Mainland, claim that the previous method of taxing provided considerably more revenue for them than the 3 per cent gross revenue tax.

W. C. Mainwaring, Vice President in charge of Vancouver Island operations of the B. C. Electric Railway Co., Ltd., said that the total amount paid by the B. C. E. R. under the 3 per cent tax was $187,000, compared with $294,000 paid previously.

However, the Company has guaranteed that no municipality in 1948 will receive less than it did under the assessment of pole lines, and this would cost the Company $351,000.

M. D. Hamilton, representing the B. C. Telephone Company, said that under the 3 per cent tax they had raised their taxes by 30 per cent.

Taxation of pole lines and other improvements has long been a problem of municipal officials. The 3 per cent gross revenue tax, recommended by the Goldenberg Commission, it was thought, would solve the problem.

Dr. Huckvale will rejoin the C. S. Williams Clinic, where he will continue to specialize in industrial hygiene in addition to caring for his practice.

A Consolidated official said that Dr. Huckvale's resignation would in no way affect the company's industrial hygiene program, as the C. S. Williams Clinic had agreed to serve the company in a consulting capacity when required.

Make Check of R.C.A.F. Reserve

OTTAWA, March 31 (CP)— The R. C. A. F. is asking officers, automatically placed on the list of reserves at the end of the war, if they wish to remain on the reserve list, it was learned today.

An Air Force source said that when the war ended officers when discharged were automatically placed in "Class E" of the reserve. Letters now are being mailed to find out if they wish to remain in the reserve.

If they volunteer to remain their names will be kept on the list. Otherwise they will be dropped.

There was no special significance to the move, he said. The force simply did not wish to have on hand a lengthy list of reserve officers and then find in a time of emergency that a large number of the men were not available either because of death or because of movements about the country.

KASLO HOSPITAL TO HAVE LAB; MACPHEE IS NEW PRESIDENT

KASLO, B. C., March 31 — The annual meeting of the Victorian Hospital Board in the Council Chambers of the City Hall approved a financial statement showing revenue covering all departments, including Provincial Government and City of Kaslo grants amounting to $24,691.62, and expenditures of $23,809.88, leaving a balance of $881.74. Revenue included an extra 30 cent per diem grant dating from July 31.

Gordon Bowker, President, gave a resume of the year's work. He pointed out that at the end of 1946 there was a deficit of $3000. In July a drive for funds was made and a total of over $2000 was contributed. An anonymous donor gave $150. Adding to this amount was a grant from the Province of $2000, making a total of over $4000.

While approximately $1500 had been written off as bad debts, some of this amount was recoverable.

The Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary had donated $650 apart from supplying many necessary requirements. Japanese patients also assisted materially with generous checks each month.

The Registered Nurses were receiving the highest salaries in B. C. as it is difficult to get nurses to leave larger centers for a small community.

Owing to the high cost of living and higher cost of operating the hospital, it was necessary to increase the hospital rates in order to cover expenses.

The Government allowance of $3 per day for old age pensioners for a given length of treatment, greatly helped toward the upkeep of the hospital.

NEW SURGERY LIGHTS

Speaking of improvements, the President said that a new flood light had been installed in the surgery. There was also a new domestic water heating system, and on the advice of the doctors and the matron, a small laboratory is being installed, and new fire escapes are being constructed.

Mr. Bowker recommended a full time Secretary who would take care of the purchasing of supplies etc., and to arrange with dischargeed patients regarding payment of their accounts.

The President said that while the bylaws had been amended and accepted by the Registrar of Companies and the Provincial Secretary, the Inspector of Hospitals had not approved of some and suggested additional amendments. Mr. Bowker urged the Board to complete the bylaws as soon as possible. The present bylaws he described as obsolete.

IMPROVE WARD

The I. O. D. E. during the year spent $140 on renovating the I.O.D.E. ward, the office and dispensary, and in providing a complete tray and curtains for the women's ward.

Elected to the Executive were A. L. MacPhee, Dr. W. Irwin, C. Lind, W. F. Tyers and William Tonkin. An Executive meeting followed the annual meeting when A. L. MacPhee was elected President, Dr. W. Irwin, Vice-President and W. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer. Representatives on the Board are Mrs. Guy Browell, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, C. Macdonald, Government representative, and Mayor G. S. Baker.

KLONDIKE KATE TO WED TODAY

BEND, Ore., March 31 (AP) — Klondike Kate, once the belle of the Yukon, will take a second husband at Vancouver, Wash., Thursday.

Now 68 and known as Mrs. Kate Rockwell Matson, the one-time beauty of the Northlands will be married to W. L. Van Duren, Bend accountant, whom she has known for 18 years.

Her first husband—she did not marry until she was 53—died 1½ years ago on a frozen Yukon trail. He was John Matson, a miner who had carried his love for her 33 years before he worked up the nerve to ask her hand.

After her days as queen of the dance-hall girls in the Alaskan gold rush, Kate homesteaded on dry farmland East of here. She first met Van Duren when he entered a convalescent home she started here later.

The couple will leave for Portland, Ore., tomorrow. After the wedding Thursday, they plan a short honeymoon trip, probably to California.

It will be Kate's first real experience as a housewife.

After her marriage to Matson, she came back to Bend, and he went to his diggings in Alaska. They met only occasionally through the years, generally when Kate made a trip to Dawson.

Matson, then 63, died after a heart attack while hiking out from the Yukon to meet Kate in October, 1946.

Nelson Social

By Mrs. M. J. Vigneux

● A Golden Wedding Anniversary is to be celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. George D. Batchelor, newcomers to Nelson, at their home at 410 Gore Street, on Friday, April 2. They will be "at home" on this day from three to five p. m. in the afternoon, and seven to nine p. m. in the evening.

They were married at Leytonstone Essex, England, on April 2, 1898, and have two sons and two daughters, Stella A. of Nelson, Mrs. W. H. Partin (Kathleen) of Calgary, Rev. Leslie D., Rector of the Church of the Redeemer, (Episcopalian) Providence, R. I., U. S. A., and Dudley E. of Calgary.

Before coming to the Kootenays, the Batchelors were for over three decades resident in Calgary, and were active there in Church and Community work. Mr. Batchelor, a printer by profession, is now retired.

ALLAN-SMITH

● The full Choral Choir at the early Spring wedding which took place at Trinity United Church Saturday evening, March 27, at seven thirty o'clock, was performed by Rev. G. G. Boothroyd. The church was arranged with a profusion of Easter blooms. The impressive ceremony united in wedlock Marion Irene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, 414 Falls Street, and L. Gordon Allan, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Allan, 1115 Ward Street. The popular bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an imported all French (Alencon) lace wedding gown, modelled entrain, form fitting, Princess lines, featuring a becoming Mary Queen of Scots collar, lily point sleeves. Her arm bouquet was of American Beauty roses and paper white narcissus. Her attendants included her cousin Miss Beryl Purdie of North Bend as bridesmaid, and the groom's sister, Mrs. R. H. Patzig of Vancouver as matron of honor, little Donna Mary Boothroyd made an adorable flower girl. Robert Collinson supported the groom, and the ushers were Ted Mannings, cousin of the bride, and Harold Mannings, brother of the bride. Mrs. C. W. Tyler who played the wedding marches, also accompanied Miss Marie Stringer who sang "I Walk Beside You" at the signing of the register. The reception which followed the ceremony took place in the church hall where about 100 guests assembled to offer congratulations. Rev. Boothroyd proposed the toast to the bride. The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake daintily topped by rose buds. Mrs. L. Kearn Pegg of Vancouver, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. R. J. Purdie of North Bend, aunt of the bride, presided at the tea table centered by a vase of pink and white carnations. Serviteurs included Mrs. George Penniket of Corra Linn, Mrs. W. R. Procter, Miss Maureen Kennedy, Miss June Kelly, Miss Mollie Arneson, Miss Margaret McCosham, Miss Peggy Bailey, Miss Beverley Irwin, and Miss Ann McDonald. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Allan and son Skipper, of Penticton, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mannings of Vancouver, grandparents of the bride. The Trinity Service Club catered for the affair. The bride was leader of the C. G. I. T. Club of the Trinity United Church.

● Mrs. Charles Brett, High Street, has returned from Vancouver where she has spent the Winter months. Mrs. Brett was accompanied by her son Guilford.

● Miss Betty Boyd of Brandon, Man., is spending a few days with her sister, Miss Gwen Boyd, who is on the staff of the Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

● Mr. and Mrs. R. McNeill who have been spending the past four months with their son Kenneth McNeill, 1814 Stanley Street, left Wednesday for their home in Virden, Man.

● Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sharp, Hoover Street, have had as Easter guests, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Penniket of Corra Linn and their two babies.

Sirdar

SIRDAR, B.C.—There was an enjoyable feature at the termination of the school session, the exchange of gifts between teacher and pupils. Mrs. Arnold presented her elder pupils each a Bible, and the smaller ones little volumes of Bible stories. They in turn presented their teacher with hankys, servilettes, stationery, etc. An interesting item was the Easter card and greetings to the school from Mr. and Mrs. Walton of Vancouver. Mr. Walton is a retired C.P.R. operator who lived here for a short time with Mrs. Walton, who is an invalid. Both were much attached to the children.

Mrs. Frank Pelle has left for Vancouver where she will visit her daughter and friends during the Easter holidays.

Mrs. L. V. Rehmann and daughter left on Thursday for Calgary to take in the Barbara Ann Scott skating before proceeding to Regina and Winnipeg for a short visit.

Mrs. Arnold left for Medicine Hat on Thursday where she will visit friends during the Easter holidays.

L. V. Rehmann left for Calgary on Friday.

Alice Mae Harlow was a visitor to Cranbrook on Thursday, the guest of Mrs. Murdoch.

Jack Scott of Kimberley visited his home for the weekend.

Miss Anne Pascuzzo of Nelson is a weekend visitor of her mother and other relatives.

Girl, Baby Found in Car After Chase

TORONTO, March 31 (CP) — A five-mile chase at 60 miles an hour ended at gunpoint in suburban Leaside today when two policemen forced a stolen automobile to the curb.

They said an 18-year-old youth jumped from the car but surrendered when one constable pulled a revolver. A 15-year-old girl, clutching a two-year-old baby in her arms, was in the car.

A Good Citizen

Nelson lost a good citizen in the death Sunday of Charles Forbes McHardy. His career in Municipal, Provincial and Federal affairs may well be held up as an example of a man's unselfish devotion to his fellows and community.

Mr. McHardy spent nearly 50 years of his life in and around Nelson and during that time he supported and activated every proposal which he felt would make for the betterment of the community. He served as Mayor and Alderman, he was President of the Board of Directors of Kootenay Lake General Hospital, President of the Fair Board, a President of the Board of Trade, President of the Union of B. C. Municipalities, as well as being a charter member of the Rotary Club and one of the earliest members of Clan Johnstone, later Clan McLeary. Like all good Scotsmen, he enjoyed a roarin' game of curling.

He made time for all these various interests in addition to pursuing his own business activities, all of which were tied up with the pioneering of this country.

The District has better roads and better facilities of all kinds because of the efforts of Mr. McHardy in conjunction with other men of his same calibre.

Not only Nelson, but the Kootenay as a whole, will lose from the death of Charlie McHardy.

Aluminum Schools

In Britain the aircraft industry is helping to provide new schools! A big airplane company which has already contributed to Britain's housing drive by building thousands of aluminum houses is soon to start production of aluminium schools. The schools will be built in units, bolted together on the principle of airplane construction.

Main aim is flexibility—there is no rigid pattern to which the school must be built, and the units can be put together in any number of different ways to suit local conditions. They can also be used to add extra classrooms and offices to schools that are overcrowded—already the raising of the school-leaving age last year is taking effect, and in a few years' time it is estimated that there will be 1,000,000 more young Britons at school than there were in 1946.

Aluminum schools will be a blessing to Britain's teachers for several reasons. They are quick to erect, once the foundations are laid, and the actual time from the placing of the order to delivery at the site is eight weeks. As the units are so light to handle, costs of transport and erection are small. The classrooms are sunny and airy, and the deep eaves of the roof reduce glare. A touch of color can be added by painting the inside of the eaves, while maintenance of the outside surfaces is reduced to a minimum as they are oxydized.

The heating arrangements are left to the school authorities, and pretty well any form of steam heating or electric heaters can be used. Most important of all—the aluminum schools use one of the few raw materials that are not in short supply in Britain today. They require no steel or timber, which is very scarce.

It's Been Said

This date is Maryland Day, commemorating the first Roman Catholic mass which colonists sent over by Lord Baltimore celebrated when they landed in 1634. March 25 is Greek Independence Day, celebrating the winning of freedom from Turkey, in 1827.

It Happened Today

On April 1, 1765, the Stamp Act was passed by the British House of Lords in England. In 1939, same date, the United States accorded Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain full recognition at the conclusion of the Spanish civil war. William Harvey, English physician and discoverer of the circulation of the human blood, was born in 1578.

Press Comment

EDUCATION

It is a moot problem if what applies in the university does not also apply in the lower schools, with the age limit of 16 causing waste of time when youngsters could be learning the rudiments of a good trade. The old system of apprenticeship did have its good points.

When the Royal Commission reports this year on the educational system of Ontario, there is hope of great advances and reforms to follow. It is a matter of history where men have risen to great heights in human endeavor, they have sacrificed the most and worked hard for their education. Nothing is truer than the ancient axiom: There is no royal road to learning.—St. Catharines Standard.

CHANGE OF NAME

A somewhat melancholy longing for a past which seems romantic, largely, perhaps, because it is irrecoverable, is evoked by news that the Anti-Saloon League of America is contemplating a change in its name. The president and general superintendent of the league have announced their intention to resign this week—to open the way for "young blood." And this "young blood" is said to believe it can carry on the "fight against liquor better" under some such title as the National Temperance Federation. Maybe so. But, shades of Carry Nation, this seems a jejune and pallid substitute for the old, frank, fighting title, the very sound of which used to make tough stalwart bartenders blench and quail.—Washington Post.

AID TO DOCTORS

Europe's doctors, with rare exceptions, are approximately seven years behind current medical research and practice. The fraternity is well aware of the disadvantages under which medicine is practised on the continent today. It is justifiably alarmed both for its own historically high reputation and for the unfortunate patients in its care. To meet this serious need, Britain is experimenting with a scheme whereby European doctors are to spend three-month periods retraining in British hospitals both in London and in the provinces. This would seem to be a valuable and practical program. It is an impressive and useful demonstration of the fraternalism of medicine. It is possibly a suggestion that might, with great mutual advantage, be adopted by Canada.—Montreal Gazette.

WHERE DOES "PARTICIPATION" START?

Lieutenant General Albert C. Wedemeyer made it clear to the House Foreign Affairs Committee that he believes military aid abroad should be backed up mith military support, and then hastened to explain that he was talking about military aid and not military participation.

Yet Major General James A. van Fleet has been sent to Greece as adviser to the Greek army, and Secretary of Defence Forrestal has told the House group that he believes Van Fleet can impart a new spirit to the Greek army, and "we can look for an increase in vigor in the Spring."

Just where does "participation" begin? With an army, a division, a regiment—or a General? It has become a neat trick to distinguish between coach and player.—New York Sun.

SCIENCE, HAVE A CARE!

We've been alarmed for some time at the thoughtless speed with which science has muscled in on nature, by making mechanical brains, artificial snowstorms, and what not. Now, to our horror, we see that the publicists of business firms are getting in the act. Heaven knows where it will all end. For instance, a Connecticut perfume house hired an airplane the other day to sow scented dry ice crystals over Bridgeport. The idea was that as long as Bridgeport had to have snow, it might as well smell good. It didn't work, but that was the idea. All right, so a Bridgeport citizen comes home reeking of Shocking or Tabu or Chanel No. 5. He tells the little woman he fell in a snowdrift. Does the little woman believe him? Huh! So take care, science and publicity. First thing you'll be breaking up the American home, among other things.—NEA Service.

FARMER'S DISTILLERY

Secretary Charles Milton, Princeton, injected a temperance note into his report at the annual meeting of Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers. He said: "If a farmer sells a bushel of grain to a manufacturer of whisky, he puts the grain through a distillery, called a still, it comes out firewater and the consumer pays $3 to $5 a quart or 50 cents a shot. The consumer drinks it and says 'Gimme another.' The farmer puts his grain through a distillery called a cow and it comes out milk. The consumer pays 18 cents a quart, takes a drink, sets his glass down and says, 'Go easy on the milk, folks; the price is away up'. This is a classic lesson in economics and human frailty."

CARUSO AGAIN

On Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1918, Enrico Caruso, then living at the Hotel Knickerbocker, 42nd St. and Broadway, Manhattan, sang from the balcony of his apartment the national anthems of the United States, France and Italy, so states a historian. Why Enrico left out the British national anthem is not stated. By the way, do you know what the national anthem of Italy is? All right, sing or whistle it for your wife, sweetheart or pal and you won't have to send me a stogie.

CLOCKERS

The Answer, Quick!

1. With what card games are the following terms connected: "grand slam;" "high, low, jack and the game;" "fifteen two;" "nullo;" "queen o' spades"?
2. At what speeds do you get the best gasoline mileage out of your automobile?
3. Which one of these three States was not one of the original 13; New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island?
4. What was the patented trademark Rudyard Kipling used on all his books?

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. "Grand slam" is bridge; "high, low, Jack and the game" is Seven-Up"; "fifteen two," etc. Cribbage; "nullo and 500" are virtually synonymous, and "queen o' spades" is important in Hearts.
2. With moderate speeds of 25 to 35 miles an hour, depending upon the car.
3. Vermont.
4. An elephant's head.

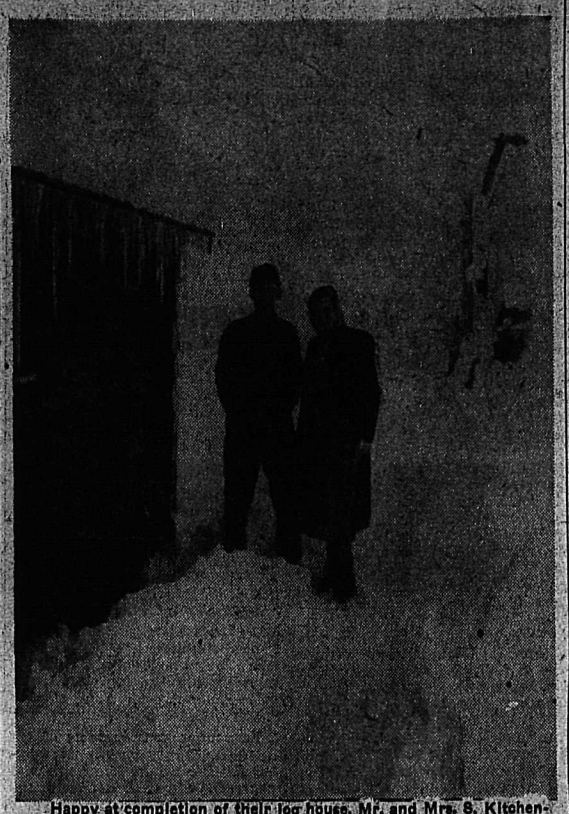
Back From New Zealand Build Own Home Here



Happy at completion of their log house, Mr. and Mrs. S. Kitchener of Nelson look it over. They came to Nelson last year from New Zealand, where they had lived for eight years, and five months after their arrival were able to move into their new home at 1102 Latimer Street. Residents of Salmo and Nelson before going to New Zealand, they constructed the five-room house themselves.

MRS. COPELAND'S GHOST SCHEDULED TO VISIT ISLE

By WYN RHYDWEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SABLE ISLAND, March 31 (CP)—No ghost ever returned to a more lonely and desolate spot than did the ghost of Mrs. Copeland.

And according to the legend handed down from generation to generation of the small marine service staff, only residents of Sable Island, Mrs. Copeland's ghost is scheduled to make another visit to the 21-miles-long sandpile this year.

The story goes back more than 100 years, when a small shipload of immigrants was wrecked on the treacherous shoals 90 miles East of the Nova Scotia mainland.

Only a few of the shipwrecked mariners and passengers survived the pounding surf. Mrs. Copeland—her Christian name has long since been forgotten—was one of them, but she died shortly after her harrowing ideal.

A greedy sailor—he was also an optimist who believed he could escape from the island—tried to steal the dead woman's wedding ring. When he could not remove it, he hacked off the finger.

Regularly since then, according to the legend, the ghost of Mrs. Copeland has returned to Sable Island and drifted up and down the shifting sands looking for the ring, and presumably for the sailor who stole it.

Since there are no cruises scheduled to this treacherous lump of sand, with its tentacle-like reefs stretching for 17 miles from either end, doubting Thomases must take the word of a reporter for the veracity of the spookiness at Sable.

The flotsam and jetsam, the half-buried hulks of ships, the abandoned homes and barracks of a few wartime personnel all add to the phantasy of the island whose clutching shoals have earned it the nickname of "Grave of the Atlantic"—the burial place for more than 400 ships.

NEW YORK, March 31 (CP)—Stephen Bedner, 42-year-old tenement building superintendent, today was charged with attempted arson after admitting to police that he started a fire in the basement of one of his dwellings. Police quoted him as saying:

"I was mad at the tenants. They are always pounding on the pipes for heat."

The fire, started in a baby carriage, was discovered by a tenant and quickly extinguished by firemen.

The State of Nebraska was called "Tree Planters' State" by act of legislature in 1895, because Arbor Day was originated there by J. Sterling Morton, and also because Forestry was emphasized by its pioneers and their successors.

Surprised at Number Who Believe Chinese Reds Not Russian Brand

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, in urging quick United States Senate approval of $463,000,000 aid for China, described that unhappy country as "a major victim of that conspiracy of aggression which undermines the peace of the earth."

He was speaking of aggressive Communism, and he declared that the situation in China is "touch and go." This graphic estimate of the position will cause little surprise, since the general publics of Western countries have been well aware that China was in desperate straits. However, it is an astonishing fact that many people still believe the fiction that the Chinese Reds are not of the Russian brand but are merely agrarians who are fighting for their place in the sun.

DANGEROUS ERROR

Now that's a terribly dangerous error, since defence against the spread of Communism in the Far East depends on recognition of the truth that the Chinese Communists follow the Muscovite pattern. The Chinese Reds, as I know from personal observation on the ground, have carefully spread the tale that they have nothing to do with the Soviet Union. However, the evidence is clear enough that they are working hand-in-glove with Russia.

This fact is distinct from the question of whether the vested interests of China have profiteered at the expense of the people, the hands of the vested interests are not clean—but that's another issue.

In this connection it's interesting to note the comment of the late Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, wartime United States Commander in the China-Burma-India theatre, in his diary which is being published by the Ladies' Home Journal. He wrote it as his opinion in 1944 that the Chinese Communists offered a better future to the people than did Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang Government. Stilwell then was trying to persuade Chiang to correlate the war efforts of Communists and Government armies.

Charles Grumich, AP war correspondent in Stilwell's theatre, in a review of the diary, comments:

"Whether Stilwell would think the same about Chinese Communists now is something that can't be answered. He died Oct. 12, 1946."

In any event, the Generalissimo was under American pressure to cooperate with the Chinese Reds. His present reaction to the situation was made clear Sunday at Nanking in a statement to the People's Political Council on the eve of the meeting of the National Assembly which is to elect China's first constitutional President and make the new constitution effective. Said Chiang of the 10 years which he had worked with the Council:

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T MAKE IT EASY

WHEN a defender can't find any sure way to beat the contract, he at least should try to make the declarer's job as difficult as possible. To play in such a way as to eliminate any guess for his opponent is to act the part of a fool, whether the date be April 1 or some other time. Such a decision often confronts you when a lead is made toward a king-jack combination in the dummy. Playing your ace right away takes the guess out of it for the declarer, whereas a low card leaves him wondering what is best to do.

North: ♠ K J 10 9 2 ♥ J 5 ♦ A 6 2 ♣ Q 7 2

West: ♠ A 8 7 ♥ K 10 7 3 ♦ K 8 7 4 ♣ 5 4

East: ♠ Q 5 3 ♥ Q 9 8 6 4 2 ♦ Q 5 ♣ 8 3

South: ♠ 6 4 ♥ A ♦ J 10 9 3 ♣ A K J 10 9 6

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♣	1♥
1♠	3♥	3♣	Pass
4♣	4♥	5♣

West picked the heart 3 for his lead, the Q losing to the A. South for reasons best known to himself, followed his taking out of trumps with the A and K by working on the diamonds. He led the J to the K and A, then gave up a diamond to the Q. Ruffing the heart return, he scored the diamond 10 and 9, then led the spade 4.

If West had played low, South would have had a bit of a problem to make his contract; he said later that he would have put in the J. If he had, that would have lost to the Q and the A would have set him. But West came right in with the A on the first spade and thereby eliminated all guess for the declarer.

South, by that playing plan, was just as foolish as West proved. After taking out trumps, he should have worked on the spades, not the diamonds, by leading low from his own hand and then coming up with the K if West played low. West was much more likely to have the Spade A than East, since he made the first overcall. In any event, guessing the spades right would have made it unnecessary to get any break in diamonds, as losers there could have been thrown on spades. Playing as South did, he took chances of bad luck in two suits, spades and diamonds, instead of in just one.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ K J 10 7 ♥ 4 ♦ 7 ♣ A K Q 10 6 5 3

West: ♠ 2 ♥ A 10 5 3 2 ♦ 9 8 3 ♣ 9 8 7 4

East: ♠ A Q 6 ♥ Q J 9 ♦ A Q J 6 5 ♣ J 2

South: ♠ 9 8 5 4 3 ♥ K 8 7 6 ♦ K 10 4 2 ♣ None

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

Why should it be easy for East to find the correct defense against 4-Spades after West leads the diamond 9?

Ballroom Dancing Easy Way of Acquiring "New Look" Figure

Lithe and lovely Sally DeMarco of the famous dancing team thinks women can find fun, Good figures, poise and grace—while the band plays on. "Besides being one of the most pleasant forms of exercise," our talented authority said, "ballroom dancing is also one of the best. It develops grace while slimming off the inches."

For proof, she offered her own measurement changes after taking up ballroom dancing as a profession. "I never really had to worry about my size, "she explained, "but dancing fined down my figure—1½" off the waist, ½" off the calf, 1" off the thigh, and a full inch off the hips." Slim through the midriff, willowy round the waist, Sally gives the right look to the New Look.

So for those of you who would achieve a spare midriff and a willowy waist and banish the middle age spread forevermore, our favorite ballroom dancer obligingly swung through a few new-look specials.

Midriff and waist slimmer—stand, legs well apart, body bent gracefully to one side, one arm arched overhead, the other parallel to it at side. Swing down, around in front, over to opposite side, back as far as possible, and around again...using the waist as a pivot. Following through with the arms, our authority said, gives an extra slimming pull and makes for grace and willowness. Fine—we might as well go after grace and streamlines at the same time.

Now for the hips—it's Sally's theory that an ounce of prevention can stave off pounds and pounds of middle age spread, and there's no excuse for women succumbing to hips. Two good preventives—lie flat on floor and raise and lower alternate legs. Like this .:. raise right leg up, move it out to side, back to position, and down. Repeat with left leg, and so on. Now stand up and kick...back and forth as far as possible. "It mustn't be done haphazardly," Sally emphasized. "In every exercise good form should be practiced. When kicking, tighten hip muscles and point the toes."

To make exercises really count, our authority said: Get in good posture before starting—don't let the body flop around...Think about what you're doing...Exercise rhythmically—hit a good pace and maintain it...Keep going until you feel you've exerted real energy—10 to 15 minutes is good for beginners...Exercise in front of a full-length mirror if possible and consciously try to make movements graceful.

Then we were back on Mrs. DeMarco's favorite subject—dancing. "So many people are taking lessons these days," she pointed out, "they're not embarrassed about it anymore. While it's wonderful to begin dancing when you're a child, it's never too late. I know a couple who didn't start until they were grandparents in their 60's. Both of them are good dancers now and have wonderful figures."

"But," she went on, "regardless of skill in steps, no one will cut a fine figure on the dance floor without good posture. Dancing is walking to music—walking beautifully. Practice a graceful posture and a graceful walk—then 'walk' to music."

"Tell your readers to try it," urged Sally. "After all, they'll never improve their figures playing bridge!"

So don't sit this one out—dance!

Better Dates Than This Man To Be Found—Miss Atkinson

Dear Miss. Atkinson:

I am 27 years old, single, and lonesome. I have known and liked a man for three years. He is 25, bashful, and "a good boy," from what people have told me.

I have always wanted to go out with him. Once he asked me where I lived. I told him and he hasn't come to see me yet. We see each other once in a while on the street. Once I asked him why he didn't come around, and he said: I don't go anywhere, honest. "He doesn't want to come and see me, does he?

Do you know of any way I could get him to come and see me? His company would make me happy.

"DISGUSTED"

Dear "Disgusted":

Somehow I think you can do a lot better than this bashful 25-year-old, who doesn't sound as though he would be very interesting company if you did wangle a date.

Why don't you start a campaign with yourself to dig up some new interests that will be such fun you won't care whether this man comes around or not? Twenty-seven is by no means so old that you can't have plenty of good times yet, if you will look for them, even if you have to start by joining some kind of club to which only girls belong. That would easily lead to acquaintances among the other sex.

Why don't you write me a letter and tell me something more about yourself—your interests, hobbies, activities, and so forth? I might be able to make some helpful suggestions if I knew more about you.

TEEN-AGE "OLD MAIDS"

Dear Miss Atkinson:

Please don't think this problem foolish, as it is very important to us. My sister is 16 and I am 17, and already we are being called "old maids."

Just about everyone in our circle of friends is married at this age and those who aren't are planning to be soon. That just leaves us out. We haven't even any prospects yet, and it has preyed on our minds so much that we cry ourselves to sleep at night.

"DESPERATE"

Dear "Desperate":

Instead of crying yourselves to sleep at night, I think you and your sister ought to be laughing at the people who call you "old maids" at 16 and 17. If you haven't any unmarried friends of your own age, go out and find some. There must be thousands of them in the big city where you live, I might be able to tell you where to look for some if you will tell me where I could write you.

Take my advice and stop being so foolishly morbid about yourselves, and refuse to let any of your friends tease you into believing anything so ridiculous as that you are "old maids." I'm sorry for the girls who marry so young; they're losing a great deal out of their lives that they'll never have again, when they exchange a teenager's carefree fun for the responsibilities of marriage. You might suggest to them, when they disparage you as "old maids," that you're just being smart.

The critics are predicting great things for this young Australian mermaid, Marjory McQuade, who is shown practising in the Olympic pool at Melbourne, Australia. A member of the Olympic Swimming Club, Miss McQuade is only 13 years old, but was credited with a record of 1.12:4 for a junior 110-yard event recently.

41,644 See P. C. L. Openers

By The Associated Press

The Pacific Coast League ushered in another season of baseball Tuesday. The four inaugural games drew a total of 41,644 spectators, somewhat under expectations except at Oakland, where the crowd overflowed the stands and bleachers.

San Francisco, the pre-season favorite for the pennant, dumped Sacramento in a day game at Sacramento, 7-4, before 13,476; Los Angeles downed San Diego's Padres by the same score before 7852 in San Diego; there were 13,802 on hand in Oakland as Portland downed Oaks, 3-0, and the smallest crowd, 6514 in Hollywood, watched the Stars lambast Seattle, 17-2.

The outstanding pitching performance was contributed by Portland's Roy Helser, who scattered the seven hits he allowed Oakland, rated as a dangerous contender for the pennant. His shutout was well deserved as he drove in two of Portland's runs.

Rugger Ardizoia of Hollywood gave Seattle only four hits but one of them was a home run by Big Lou Novikoff.

A three-run homer by Cece Garriott, Los Angeles outfielder, was the payoff as Los Angeles scored four runs against San Diego in the seventh.

Says Boston Team Head Ejected From Leafs' Dressing Room

TORONTO, March 31 (CP)—Jim Vipond, reporting Toronto Maple Leafs Stanley Cup playoff victory over the Bruins in Boston last night for the Globe and Mail, said that after the contest Boston President Weston Adams was "bruysquely ejected" from the Toronto dressing room "at the vehement demand of Leafs' Managing Director, Conn Smythe."

The contest, which the Leafs won easily 5-1, ended in a fight between fans and members of the Toronto team. Vipond's account did not state the purpose of Adams' visit, but he said that Smythe "charged the Boston executive with adding to the hard feeling by refusing to permit police officials to remove a belligerent fan early in the game."

Net proceeds in the vicinity of $700 will make this possible and leave a small cash balance.

Ticket sales were conducted through the entire area the hospital serves, and a large crowd attended the party Easter Monday in the city auditorium.

BARBARA ANN HEADS BACK EAST

CALGARY, March 31 (CP)—Barbara Ann Scott said farewell to Calgary this morning as she boarded a T. C. A. plane at the Municipal Airport following an 11-day stay that had seen her capture the Canadian Women's Figure Skating Championships, star in an ice carnival and win the hearts of thousands of Calgarians who saw her.

Heading East for a big holiday starting May 8, Miss Scott will receive a short civic welcome at Medicine Hat, then fly on to Brandon to perform there, finally visiting Winnipeg and several Eastern cities before ending her tour in Toronto in May.

Women in Lonely Posts

CANBERRA, (CP) — Australia's 12 most isolated women are too busy to be lonely. Two of them live inland and 10 in lighthouses around the coast.

Small, grey-haired Mrs. A. Alston, who has turned 60, runs a tiny general store at Mulka on the 500-mile long Birdsville-Maree cattle trail more than 1000 miles Northeast of Adelaide, South Australian capital.

She lives alone, and the only people she ever sees, apart from aborigines, are passing drovers who sometimes call in to the store to replenish stocks, and the trail mailman.

Her only other contact with civilization is by pedal radio, which connects her with the flying doctor operator at Broken Hill, Western New South Wales. All her supplies go 500 miles by rail from Adelaide to Maree, then several hundred miles over the cattle track by truck.

Mrs. L. Hese, postmistress and general storekeeper at Ti Tree Well, 120 miles from Alice Springs in the Northern Territory, has her husband her neighbors once a week when to keep her company and she sees they drive 50 to 100 miles for their stores and mail.

The most geographically-isolated woman in Australia is Mrs. Hayns, wife of the light-keeper on Maatsuyker Island, off the South Tasmanian coast. Mr. and Mrs. Hayns get fresh supplies of food and mail only once a month—delivered by fishing smack from Hobart.

There are three light-house keepers' wives o nCape Don, 1000 miles Northeast of Darwin, capital of the Northern Territory. There are four children in the little colony. Three more light-keepers' wives live on Montague Island, three miles off the coast near Narooma, about 175 miles South of Sydney, N.S.W.

Mrs. Duncan, wife of the light-keeper on Solitary Island, seven miles off Coff's Harbor, N.S.W. "hates the mainland." She has three children, and two other families live on the island.

Urges Fight Again Burmese Regime

RANGOON, March 31 (AP)— The Communist White Flag Party urged today a fight to the finish against the regime of Premier Thakin Nu. The Burmese Press expressed hope that civil war would be averted.

Political tension heightened as Premier Thakin Nu ordered police to arrest on sight Thakin Than Tun, fugitive leader of the White Flag Party.

Warrants were issued Sunday for the arrest of Thakin Than Tun on charges of attempting to incite rebellion. His supporters have paraded in the streets waving hammer and sickle banners and shouting anti-Government slogans.

To Offer Contracts To Non-Union Printers

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—The International Typographical Union tonight wrote instructions for its local unions to offer full-year contracts without discrimination against non-union job applicants.

Government lawyers agreed that the new instructions comply with a Federal Court injunction issued against the union Saturday.

Both union and Government lawyers expressed the hope that the new document will clear up all current disputes between the I. T. U. and employers—both in the newspaper and commercial printing industries.

Makes Remarkable Recovery

VICTORIA, March 31 (CP)—Making a remarkable recovery, Chief of Police John A. McLellan is going through the process of learning to walk again in hospital, almost four months from the day he was injured by a falling fire ladder.

The Chief suffered a fractured lower pelvis, a bruised kidney, three fractured ribs and a cracked bone in his left foot when a 40-foot ladder sudenly fell on him while he was passing. Leonard Harper, fireman, died shortly after when he plunged to the pavement from the top of the ladder.

To Hear 16 Claims

MOOSE JAW, Sask., March 31—(CP)—Mr. Justice Henry I. Bird of Vancouver will hear 16 claims for damages filed by Japanese-Canadian residents of the Japanese relocation centre at hearings of the Japanese Claims Commission April 6 to 9, it was learned today.

The claims are for losses allegedly suffered by the Japanese when the Canadian Government took over their property at the outbreak of war with Japan.

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—A highly-developed and modernized port of Sarnia serving an expanding industrial community and acting as port of departure for farm exports to Britain, was envisaged for this city on Lake Huron in a speech here recently by John E. Goodison, of the Chamber of Commerce.

Flyers Board Ship for Home

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOUTHAMPTON, England, March 31 (CP)—Canada's Olympic and World Hockey Champions, the R. C. A. F. Flyers, battered and bruised but with their spirits high, sailed for home today on the liner Queen Mary on the final leg of 15,000 mile European tour that took them to seven countries.

Six of the players bore facial cuts and bruises as souvenirs of their 76-day, 42-game jaunt.

They are returning with the goalkeeper's stick which survived all the games and it's their prized possession. It has been taped and retaped scores of times and the players said they "hope" it will be given a "good home" in Canada.

"It is the only survivor of more than 300 sticks we brought over with us and we wouldn't part with it for $1,000,000," said Trainer George McFaul. "Don't forget, only five goals got past it in the Olympics."

The ship is scheduled to dock at New York April 5 and a day later the team will arrive in Ottawa. The Flyers plan to present the world-championship cup to Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the R. C. A. F. Air Staff, at Union station. "We would feel very proud to hand it to him," Watson said.

The Flyers, given only a ghost of a chance to win the Olympics, played eight games at St. Moritz without a loss. They battled to a scoreless draw with Czechoslovakia, overwhelming favorites, and later in exhibition games in Prague the Flyers twice defeated the Czech Olympic Club although they were without the services of their stars, Mara and Halder.

The Canadians played games in Sweden, Holland, France, Switzerland, England and Scotland before an estimated 250,000 spectators and lost only five of the 42 exhibitions, drew six and won the remaining 31.

Rotary Governors To Meet in Quebec

QUEBEC, March 31 (CP) — District Governors of Rotary International for 1948-49—about 650 strong and representing some 50 countries—will meet in Quebec the week of April 24-May 2, it was announced here today.

An official of the local described the affair as a form of school for incoming District Governors' held each year prior to Rotary International's annual convention which this year will be held in Rio de Janeiro in June.

Quebec has the distinction of being the only city to be chosen twice as the scene of the Governors' meeting which also was held here in 1942.

GLASGOW, Scotland (CP)—Two passenger ships and two merchantmen were launched from three Clyde shipbuilding yards within an hour.

Let Contract For New Fernie Hospital

FERNIE, B. C., March 31—At the annual meeting of the Fernie Hospital Association the contract for the new Memorial Hospital was let out to the Marwell Construction Co. of Vancouver.

The tender, the only one received, amounted to $223,000. This is more than double the original estimate of $100,000. However, the Board of Directors is quite confident that the sum will be entirely raised and in addition only first class equipment will be used. Building will commence this Summer.

The well attended gathering re-elected K. N. Stewart President for the ensuing year. The Board of Directors will include Mrs. Miard, K. N. Stewart, Jack Brown, Matt Whitelaw, Bill Haile, Bob Lilley, Bob Elmsley and Mike Mee.

The Board of Directors received news that Matt Whitelaw, efficient Secretary for a number of years, requested that he not be appointed for the following year. However, he agreed to the appointment to the Board of Directors. The Secretary will be chosen at the next meeting.

Ancient Building Recalls Pioneers Of Upper Canada

By DENIS CASE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, (CP) — It's a safe bet that many York county residents don't know that within the shadow of their county administration building in downtown Toronto, men have been hanged for treason, and that up the worn front steps county representatives have attended sessions for more than 100 years.

Those 51 members of the York County Council, representing the six towns, eight villages and 12 townships of York, who go between the grey stone pillars thrice yearly for sessions, are members of a government that has undergone many changes in its 156 years of existence.

Containing the Dominion's second largest city and the heart of Canada's economic life, York County has built up a population of 963,173—more than four times as large as any other Ontario county. The Council is the second largest and second oldest municipal government in Canada.

The county was proclaimed by John Graves Simcoe, first lieutenant-governor of Upper Canada, in 1792, and since then has been governed by three separate bodies as its boundaries were reduced from an area now covering about 17 counties to its present size.

The hall, where council holds its sessions and police court is held daily, is in keeping with the county's tradition. Last remaining building in the large area once owned by the county, it houses the first circular staircase built in Ontario.

Hidden at the back of the three-story building, the deeply-hollowed steps of the staircase lead to the top floor where once the Ontario Assizes were held. Legend has it that a prisoner, on receiving the death sentence, leaped from the railing as he was led from court, and fell to his death two stories below.

HISTORIC COURTYARD

Not far from the hall there are the remains of another structure, the county jail. County officials are not sure whether it is the first or second county jail—what there is left of it. The city has grown around the building and now all that is left are the walls surrounding the courtyard where Lount and Matthews, supporters of William Lyon Mackenzie, were hanged for their part in the Upper Canada Rebellion of 1837.

Across from the hall on the other side of the street is the only other county stronghold — police headquarters. The county constabulary dates back to 1788 when its duties were to police the district of Nassau, now the county itself. At that time the districts of Nassau, Hesse, Luneberg—also known as Lunenberg—and Mecklebeg, formed Upper Canada. Later, in 1794, the districts were renamed East, West, Central and Home and the Nassau police took the name of Home District Constabulary.

When the United Counties were formed in 1851, the United Counties constabulary was named and policed the present area of Peel, York, Simcoe, Ontario, Durham and Northumberland counties—the peak of its authority.

Since 1851 municipalities have formed their own police forces and the duties of the county police have been reduced until now there is a staff of only 12 men and one woman to supervise the one- and two-man stations North to Lake Simcoe.

There is little now to remind one of the countrys efforts through three centuries to bring wealth and progress to Canada. Perhaps the best praise for York's accomplishments is simply its motto—"Deeds Speak."

Would Put Choker On Berlin Supplies

By LYNN HEINZERLING

BERLIN, March 31 (AP) — The Russians threatened today to restrict the supply lifelines of the British, French and American Governments in Berlin.

The lines pass through the Russian decupied zone and are the only ground communication routes of the Western powers in Berlin.

Lt.-Gen. G. S. Lukyanchenko, Russian Chief of Staff, made the threat ,the latest Soviet act in a series apparently designed to disrupt four-power rule of Germany.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American Military Governor, refused to comment on the Russian general's statement. British and French officials also would not comment.

U.K., Canada To Extend Food Pact

To Cover Period Until U. S. Recovery Program Aid Becomes Available

OTTAWA, March 31 (CP)—Britain and Canada will announce tomorrow a short-term extension of arrangements for financing of British purchases of Canadian foodstuffs, it was learned authoritatively today.

This extension will cover the period between today, when the financial arrangements were due to expire and the date when the United States European recovery program aid becomes available to Britain.

It was said the new arrangement involves "concessions" on both sides.

The financing arrangement is linked to food contracts negotiated at the year-end and involving shipment could not be determined but cheese and eggs during 1948. It also includes the four-year Anglo-Canadian Wheat Agreement now in its second year.

When the contracts were negotiated, an arrangement also was reached enabling Britain to pay for the foodstuffs by drawing on the Canadian loan for the first three months of this year. This arrangement ends today.

The extension tomorrow will enable Britain to continue to draw from the loan until the E.R.P. legislation is passed by the U. S. Congress and funds from it become available to the United Kingdom. This may take several weeks.

Details of the extension arrangement could not be determined but they may mean that during April, Britain will draw $15,000,000 from the balance of the Canadian loan, financing the remainder of the deficit in U. S. dollars.

About $242,000,000 remain of the Canadian loan of $1,250,000,000 negotiated two years ago.

40 PERSONS KILLED WHEN CAIRO TO HAIFA TRAIN BLOWN UP

JERUSALEM, March 31 (AP)—A train from Cairo to Haifa was blown up today on the coastal plain, killing 40 persons and injuring 60, the Government announced. Most of the victims were Arabs.

The blast occurred at Binyamina, 20 miles South of Haifa. The engine and four coaches of the train were derailed. The train was enroute to Haifa, major Palestine port.

Four Arabs and three Jews were killed in sporadic gunplay elsewhere. The unofficial death toll since partition was decided upon Nov. 29, rose to 2256.

A dozen Jews raided an army camp near Haifa, police said. The raiders held up guards and stole a three-ton truck, a 12-ton steam roller and tools.

The Palestine Government said three former British policemen, a British civilian and a German internee escaped Acre prison yesterday by breaking cell block locks.

Meanwhile the food shortage in Jerusalem's Jewish sector came in for attention, a Government spokesman saying it could be erased if the Jewish agency cooperated with the Government and the Army.

CHILE ATTACKS RUSSIA AS BOLD AGGRESSOR

Replies to "Insolent Expressions" of Gromyko in U.N.

OVER CHILE PROBE

LAKE SUCCESS, March 31 (AP)—Chile today accused Russia of being a bold and impudent aggressor employing crude gangsterism.

Delegate Hernan Santa Cruz used this bitter language in renewing his country's demand that the United Nations Security Council investigate Russia's role in the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

Santa Cruz told the council it is time to reply to the "insolent expressions" of Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister. Last week Gromyko called the Chilean Inquiry Demand a dirty document and termed the Chilean Government a venal clique.

The Chilean delegate said low and vile insults would not alter his Government's determination to press for the Inquiry. He suggested that the council immediately name a subcommittee to start a preliminary investigation.

Santa Cruz said Russia is using the United Nations as a loud speaker to broadcast propaganda against the Democratic world.

He told the 11-power council Chile had suffered from an attempt by Russia to carry out "its colossal and sinister plan of universal domination and destruction of Western civilization" through Communist Party Fifth Columns. He added that despite the Communist manoeuvres Chile had managed to defend herself without resort to undemocratic tactics.

Chile broke off diplomatic relations with Russia and Czechoslovakia last October.

Santa Cruz said he had the names of six highly qualified Czechs who had escaped from the homeland and were ready to testify before the council or any other U. N. organ to set up to investigate the Communist grab of power in Prague last month.

Meanwhile, barring a Russian veto the United States proposal for a specific Palestine session of the United Nations Assembly appeared headed for acceptance.

No Freedom Of Press For Canada -- Moscow

Attack Banning of Progressive (Red) Paper Serving "Third of Population"

LONDON, March 31 (CP) — Moscow radio said today there is no freedom of speech or freedom of the press for an overwhelming majority in Canada.

"According to The Canadian Press, the Canadian delegation at the Geneva Conference on freedom of the press and information intends to take a firm stand; but representatives of the Canadian Government, one may suppose, will not tell the conference that in Canada freedom of speech and the press already do not exist for an overwhelming majority of the population," a commentator said.

The broadcaster said the "progressive" Montreal newspaper Le Combat, serving "almost a third of the population," has been banned and the "Association of Canadian Radio Industrialists" has "decreed not to admit progressive (Communist) organizations to radio broadcasts."

The Government of Quebec labelled Le Combat a Communist publication last month and closed it up.

The Soviet commentator said that all these activities deprived "the progressive working class" of an opportunity to take part in the elections.

"In March the Canadian Government refused an entrance visa to the leader of the British Communist party, Harry Pollitt. In January the President of the Canadian Legion gave instruction to detachments of the Legion to exclude members whose political ideas were undesirable."

The commentator also alleged that there was an "offensive against the rights of trade unions," saying that a recent Prince Edward Island law prohibited trade unions in that Province from affiliation with international trade unions and national trade union organizations.

The broadcast was taken here as referring to action of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters at its annual meeting in Quebec March 11. At that time a resolution was adopted recommending that air time be denied "speakers representing any party, group or association . . . that advocates or approves of the overthrow of government other than by peaceful, democratic or constitutional methods."

The reference to the newspaper Combat apparently concerned the Quebec Government's action in closing up the offices of the Montreal weekly under the Province's Padlock Law aimed at sources of Communist propaganda.

The newspaper, closed in February, reappeared several weeks later a one-page sheet printed in Ontario.

Provincial Police said that only 2500 copies of Combat were printed weekly and most of them were circulated in the Montreal area.

MONTREAL, March 31 (CP)—Pierre Gelinas, editor of the padlocked leftist weekly Combat, today disclosed he had asked that the newspaper's case be taken up at the International Conference on Freedom and Information of the Press at Geneva.

Gelinas, whose newspaper was padlocked last month under Quebec laws aimed at sources of Communist propaganda, asked the Canadian delegation to "claim for Combat the right to publish by virtue of freedom of the press and information."

Introduce Bill Aimed at U.S. Labor Unions

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Rep. Hartley (R—NJ) introduced Legislation today to make Labor Unions subject to prosecution under the Anti-Trust Laws. It is admittedly aimed at John L. Lewis.

The bill, a proposed amendment to the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act, would make it unlawful for Labor Unions to combine in restraint of trade.

The House twice has approved similar legislation but it never became law.

Hartley is Chairman of the House Labor Committee. He also is co-author of the labor law bearing his name.

At present, Labor Unions are specifically exempted from the Anti-Trust Laws which forbid business firms to set up restraints on trade, fix prices or foster monopoly.

In a statement, Hartley said Lewis is "proving that the Taft-Hartley is not drastic enough" and that the law must be changed.

He said the Taft-Hartley law affords Lewis full opportunity to settle his dispute with coal mine owners without a work stoppage, but Lewis chose not to take it.

Real Targets Needed For Radar Bombing Training

"Sees" Through Camouflages; Pierces Clouds, Rain, Snow in Same Way

By JAMES J. STREBIG

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 31 (AP)—Radar bombardier training requires real targets—cities, factories, bridges, docks. Substitutes such as black circles on the desert or a wooden make-believe town don't mean a thing.

Radar "sees" for the bombardier through reflections or echoes of electric radiations. It pays no attention to a wood and canvas town. But if a real city were hidden by wood and canvas, radar would pick out the buildings and ignore the camouflage. It pierces clouds, rain and snow in the same way.

That makes it fine for an attacking force, as the Germans learned. But it makes it tough to check the accuracy of bombardiers. For safety's sake they can't drop even dummy bombs when they make practice runs over cities.

That's where the radar bomb scorer comes in.

Targets which correspond to the types of objective in war have been designated in a number of cities in the West. The targets are specific—a corner of a building, one end of a bridge, a particular dock or an airport control tower.

Starting off on a mission, B-29 crews are assigned one or more to hit. The target may be 2000 miles from the base.

A radar bomb scorer unit is near the target. It has measured its distance from the objective to within 10 feet and calculated exactly the elevation and direction of its radar antenna.

The bomber reports by radio that it is approaching its "I.P." (initial point), where the final run on the target begins. Then a search radar in the R.B.S. follows the plane until it is about 10 miles away.

At that point, a radar tracking device is "locked" on the bomber, and a printed record is made of the plane's course until it theoretically drops its load. From that scorers determine where the bomb would have landed.

Finland Insists On Military Aid Only When Asked for

HELSINKI, March 31 (Reuters)—Finland's insistence that Russia send her military aid only if specifically asked for, has caused a hitch in the Russo-Finnish negotiations for a military assistance and friendship pact, it was learned tonight.

President Juho Paasikivi, his Cabinet and leaders of Parliamentary political groups, were meeting to work out fresh instructions for the Finish delegates who have been negotiating the pact in Moscow for the last week.

A compromise solution is being sought, it was understood.

A special courier, who arrived today by air from Moscow with the delegation's first full report to the Government, will return to Moscow tomorrow with new instructions.

At Least 50 Killed in Japan Train Wreck

TOKYO, March 31 (AP) — Between 50 and 70 Japanese were reported killed today in a train wreck near Osaka.

Kyodo News agency said 50 Japanese had been killed. The United States Army later boosted the figure to 70 and said the wreckage still was being probed for bodies.

Details were confused also.

Kyodo said the wreck occurred between Wakaeiwata and Hanazono on the Nara-Osaka line. It added that an electric connection broke and the train crashed when the brakes failed.

The Army reported that the electric train was stopped at a station near Osaka and was hit by a speeding express.

EAST KOOTENAY TRAFFIC GOING VIA PORTHILL

Owing to the condition of the highway near Goatfell in the East Kootenay, traffic is being rerouted via Porthill and back again at Kingsgate, the Provincial Public Works Department at Nelson announced Wednesday.

The road is blocked because of Spring thaws, and cars can go only as far as Kitchener before being directed South.

Also blocked is the highway between Wardner and Crow's Nest.

U. S. Has Adequate Supply Of Atomic Bombs

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—The United States has "an adequate supply" of atom bombs and is steadily making more, Congress members said today.

They reported that this information came from David E. Lilienthal, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman, during secret testimony before the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 28.

On the strength of Lilienthal's statements, the Committee yesterday recommended an additional $150,000,000 for the Commission's work, the full amount asked.

While Committee members were reluctant to discuss Lilienthal's testimony, they agreed privately with the statement of Representative Frank Keefe (Rep., Wis.) that "we have an adequate supply of bombs already manufactured."

Volume Heavy on N. Y. Exchange

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—New York's struck Stock and Curb Exchanges appeared to be surviving their first big test today as buying orders flooded in and prices rose.

The shouts of traders on the Stock Exchange floor were louder than the chant of the pickets who shuffled along in front of the building.

The third day of the strike of United Financial Workers (A.F.L.) brought the first real volume of business.

The action was so fast as 580,000 shares changed hands in the first hour on the Stock Exchange that the quotation ticker tape fell behind floor transactions for brief periods. In the first hour yesterday the volume was 220,000.

Prices of many leading shares were up $1 and more as the demand grew heavy for stock which might benefit from heavy defence expenditures.

Volume on the Stock Exchange in the first hour was more than double yesterday's. On the Curb, 120,000 shares were traded in the first hour compared with 80,000 yesterday.

How to Increase Your Bird-Power

No. 26

By H. H. CURRIE

On the edge of an apple box that was filled with the stiff carcases of minks whose fur coats had been removed, balanced a four-toed bird. I had not ordinarily thought of as a fighter. It was a foot or so high, had a clean gray head, except for a red moustache mark that indicated it was a male, had a black crescent across its upper chest, round black dots on a fawn-colored breast, barred brown back and wings, and barred outer tail feathers. When it lifted its wings, their under-sides were red.

Its short neck feathers were ruffed up like a rooster's in a fighting attitude, and its open sharp straight beak dared three smoky gray or cream-colored birds with black wings, and white tails except for a black middle streak, and with equally sharp beaks, like a jay's, who faced it in a semi-circle, to advance and gouge mouthfuls of white mink-fat from the carcases.

This red-shafted flicker, our commonest woodpecker, whose song, that string of staccato "kuk-kuk-kuk-kuks," is now beginning to be heard as a sign of Spring, was telling three Clarke's nut-crackers, or Clarke's crows, to "advance at your peril!"

The nut-crackers, of whom I counted seven in sight at once, while deferring to the flicker, in turn bossed the fine big all-blue "Northwestern black-headed jays," which were still more numerous.

And the large jays, with their fine upright arched topknots, in turn, I was informed, told the Canada jay or "gray jay" that came around frequently, but that I caught sight of only once, where to get off at.

All four of these species are large birds, which are so conspicuously marked as to be readily identified, even when in flight, and I should name with them still another that I saw in flight, a magpie, a black-and-white bird of the crow and jay tribe that has a long flowing tail, that trails like a streamer.

I'm picturing incidents of a visit, most enjoyable to me, that I made to the Avis Bros. Fur Farm at Perry Siding in December, in acceptance of an invitation to "meet the birds" there.

While I was aware that the pileated woodpecker, the largest of our Canadian woodpeckers, would respond to the lure of suet in Winter—Mrs. H. E. Thain once snapshotted one applying himself to a slab hung on the verandah—I had not thought of the flicker in this connection, though it is a year-round resident. It constantly bores for grubs, and in Summer pretty nearly goes on an ant diet on the lawns. In fact, it has even been known to nest on the ground, on a sandy "key" or island, where there was no tree in which to chip out the traditional "woodpecker's hole."

Now, in mentioning these birds, I am presenting them as illustrating two or three of the features to be looking for when observing birds you can't immediately identify.

In this group, all had absolutely distinctive plumage—and they were large enough to make the distinctions stand out. The Canada jay, for instance, would have ashy plumage, a black patch on the back of its head, and its jay bill would be almost smothered in basal feathers.

PLUMAGE MAY IDENTIFY

The unknown bird you are looking at may have a plumage so distinctive that it is easily placed.

For instance, a large deep-blue bird, several sizes larger than a robin, and having an upstanding crest as described above, will infallibly be the black-headed jay, our version of the Steller's jay, which varies in different parts of the Rocky Mountain chain.

A small light-blue bird, all-blue, larger than a sparrow but smaller than a robin, of which it is a relative, is bound to be a male mountain bluebird. Its female is gray or ashy, and a bit dumpy contrasted with its sleek and trim male partner.

If your bird is of sparrow size, but has a solid blue head, neck and shoulders, upon a drab body, there is nothing it can possibly be but a male lazuli bunting. Its female is largely fawn-color.

CAN OF PAINT TIPPED OVER

Perhaps the feathered visitor you are looking at has a red head. If its head and shoulders look as though a can of red paint had been poured over it, and it is a size or so below the robin, it is the male pine grosbeak, with its pleasing gentle warble, barely heard. It is the consort of a rather drab female.

Should this red-topped bird be of sparrow size, it is probably one of the purple finch tribe, perhaps the Cassin's finch. It is the male, and the female will be just a brown finch, with white showing underneath in flight.

Or the red may be just a rosy flush, covering the head and neck of a trim-built yellow bird with black wings with white cross-bars, which might be a giant canary. Your friend is the male Western tanager, whose wife is prevailingly green and drab.

WHEN TAIL SHOWS WHITE

I mentioned the white outer tail feathers of the Clarke's nut-cracker, which shows most conspicuously in flight, in addition to its other distinctive color features.

Suppose the white outer tail feathers you are looking at are on a rather stubby-tailed ground bird, of nearly robin size, that has a pronouncedly long curved beak, and wears a sort of wide black "V" or crescent on its yellow breast. It's a meadow lark.

Two other smaller birds flash these white outer tail feathers in flight. The larger is Townsend's solitaire, a beautiful little songster that is pretty much all gray, except for one or two splashes of ginger on the back or sides, that gives the impression of length, and that has a white eye-ring. The other is our still smaller little confiding friend, the junco, with its black head, exactly like a black hood, and the male's sweet little trill, which I was hearing Easter Sunday.

The shrike also shows some white on the tail in flight, but not the outer tail feathers.

I'm not going to go through all the bird list, but am mentioning these cases to show how important it is to look for precise details when seeing a new bird. In many cases, details of plumage, coupled with size, will supply the clues needed.

Crests, banded tails, barred wings, necklaces, eye-rings, spotted breasts, and color patterns generally, are worth observing. But one feature every one interested in birds should look for—the shape of the bill.

CLASSIFY THE BILL

The shape of the bill goes a long distance toward classifying your bird. In the case of small birds, of which there are so many kinds, many of them looking much alike, the bill effects a preliminary sorting.

Here is a little yellow or yellowish-green bird. What can it be?

Well, it can be one finch or sparrow, two or three vireos, and at least half a dozen warblers—of those that are known here.

If it has a sparrow bill, I'd first test it for a goldfinch.

In the case of a thin pointed but straight bill, I'd expect it to be one out of several warblers.

Should its bill be like a warbler's except for having a very slight downward curve, it would practically have to be a vireo.

Of course, some forms of bills are absolutely distinctive.

Crossbills have bills in which the mandibles fail to meet, the tips actually projecting over and across each other. These bills are practically machines for extracting the kernels from pine cone seeds.

One needn't mention the long rapier-like bills of the herons and bitterns, among our largest birds which leave no questions to be asked.

The bog-probing bills of the woodcock and the snipe, and the mudflat-probing bills of the plovers and sandpipers, also are sign-posts to identifying shore birds.

Then there are the sweepingly hooked bills of the owls, often almost completely concealed in the feathering; the longer hooked bills of the hawks; the hooked bills of certain predator gulls, such as the skuas and jaegers of the Far North; and the bills of the shrikes, hooked at the tip.

Ducks' bills are adapted to straining food from water, mergansers have serrated or toothed bills that enable them to hold fish, and geese have teeth for grasping grass.

Then, take the matter of feet.

UNDERPINNING ELOQUENT

All the kinds of woodpeckers we are likely to see here have four toes, one pair pointing in front and the other behind—unless the Arctic three-toed woodpecker happens to come along. Thus the woodpecker gets a good grip on the bark of a tree, or in cracks or dents or around bumps on poles. The woodpeckers and sapsuckers all use their tails as braces as they wield their pickaxe bills. Of course, nobody is going to have difficulty in knowing woodpeckers from other kinds of birds as long as they work at their job of pecking wood. But the flicker, as I have said before, often is seen on the ground.

Many birds scratch among the leaves and dust themselves. These include the grouse, quail, and so on, and even some of the singing birds, such as the towhees. Their toes must be sturdy and their toe-nails blunt.

These must be quite different from the fine-pointed toe-nails of the nuthatches and creepers, chickadees, and kinglets. I read of a naturalist who had a pet nuthatch, that used to climb straight up the polished side of his walnut desk.

The longspurs have a long hind toe and a long toe-nail on it. I've seen two kinds here, the Lapland longspur and the snow bunting.

Then there are water birds that have lobed feet. The grebes, for instance, which hardly ever leave the water, except to fly, do their wonderful diving and swimming by paddling with their toes that are lobed or flanged. And don't forget the coots or mudhens, which are still fancier, and have the lobes scalloped—as you can often read from their footprints on a clean beach or sandbar.

ROUTINES CAN TALK

This brings us to habits, which may often tell you just what you want to know.

If a huge brown hawk with a white head dives into the water, it has thereby declared itself to be an osprey.

A very long-billed spotted-breasted little shore bird that teeters on its feet tells you it is a spotted sandpiper. When it flies, the points of its wings curve downward, and its flight is known as decurved.

A black-headed bird smaller than a robin, that you catch scratching among the leaves, exactly like a hen, will be a spotted or Oregon towhee. It will have a slab of white down its front, and a slab of tawny down each side.

If a little bird circles a tree-top while singing blithely, the chances are it is a redpoll or linnet.

On the other hand, the bobolink will flit just over the top of the meadow grass emitting his bubbling song.

All kinds of fly-catchers, from kingbirds down to the smallest species, advertise their classification by flying from their perch for a few feet, and then returning after catching their prey. Our mountain bluebird does this too, though it is a thrush.

The kingbird, in the large majority of its flights, will fly with a sort of half-wing-beat, a fancy style that is probably a showing off, accompanying this aerial strutting with a song.

If you see a high-flying croaking bird do a nose-dive, and end with a whining boom caused by its feathers stiffly meeting the air, you know a male nighthawk is doing his routine. In flight the nighthawk continually changes its rate of wing-beat, alternating fast and slow.

DUCK BEHAVIOR

A mallard, in taking flight, will invariably rise sharply at a high angle, while a little bufflehead will patter on the water in its takeoff. A merganser will fly fast and low in a straight line. A goldeneye male, during the mating season, will do a lot of head tossing. Most ducks have their mannerisms.

Terns, unmistakable because of their forked tails, further set themselves apart from their mammoth cousins, the gulls, by pointing their bills toward the water as they fly, instead of holding them level.

Nests may also tell identity infallibly. I need mention only the cliff, eave or mud swallow's nest under the eaves of a building, or a kingfisher's nest in a mud bank.

All the foregoing bird species, plumage details, physical structures, and habits and mannerisms I have myself personally seen, except only that I have not seen a skua or a woodcock.

I'm aware this is just a long enumeration of very dry facts.

But I hope that some bird lovers, whether old or new to this fascinating study, will find in it a few useful tips on how to increase their "bird-power," and to have the thrills of making original discoveries.

There are three more tips, all of them essential to real satisfaction in bird observation.

1. Use a field-glass.
2. Have a book on Canadian or North American birds.
3. Keep dated notes on your observations.

In rocks that are at least a billion years old we find fossil evidence of plants like the scum which forms in stagnant pools. Older rocks containing carbon, iron and lime indicate the existence of life long before identifiable fossils were laid down.

The Doctor

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

The Youngster With Night Terrors Requires Good Care

Few things are more alarming to parents than to watch a child through what is called an attack of night terrors. The child starts up in bed, cries out in fear, and gives every evidence of being completely terrified. To those looking on he seems to be wide awake, but actually he is not conscious of his ordinary surroundings and in the morning has no recollection of what has occurred.

The underlying cause of night terrors is almost always to be found in some unhappiness or insecurity in the child's life, though there are a number of more definite things which may help bring on the attacks. These include infections in thetonsils and adnoids, digestive upsets, and constipation.

SUGAR SOLUTION

It has been noted in some cases that there is a lessening of the sugar in the blood, and in these instances treatment by the giving of a glucose or sugar solution at night has been found helpful.

The attacks usually occur in children between five and eight years of age and come on once or twice a week. They develop during the period of deepest sleep from around a half hour to two and a half hours after the youngster goes to sleep. It is rare for more than one attack to occur a night.

DIFFERENT FROM NIGHTMARES

It is necessary to tell the night terror attacks from nightmares. In nightmares, the child is asleep and dreaming, but the child suffering from night terrors appears to be awake and is actually in a state of semi-conciousness, in which his phantasies take the place of reality. The nightmares, as a rule, occur during a period of light sleep and afterwards the child usually wakes up.

Epileptic attacks may also occur at night, and the symptoms of such attacks may somewhat resemble those which occur in night terrors. However, in an attack of epilepsy there are convulsions, and the child usually falls into a deep sleep after an attack. Furthermore, in night terrors, convulsions or spasms of the muscles do not occur.

While the exact cause of night terrors is not known, it is thought that they develop because of some psychological disturbance. Usually, as I said earlier, the child's home life is unhappy and he does not feel secure, but uneasy and worried.

Children who have such attacks are usually described as being nervous. Thus, in treating the condition, an attempt must be made to adjust the child to his surroundings so that his feeling of insecurity and unhappiness is eliminated. The giving of sedatives or quieting drugs is of little value.

As a general rule, it is unusual for the attacks to occur for more than several weeks or months, but it must be remembered that these attacks are only a sign that something is wrong in the child's environment which should be corrected for his normal development.

One Influenza Death

THE PAS, Man., March 31 (CP)—One death has occurred in influenza outbreaks, mainly involving children of pre-school age, at three Indian reservations in Northern Manitoba, Dr. R. F. Yule, Medical Superintendent for Indians at The Pas, said today.

Dr. Yule said that the death occurred at Nelson House, a trading and trapping settlement 200 miles Northeast of here. He returned yesterday from a visit to Nelson House and said approximately 50 children there were suffering from a severe type of influenza.

A similar outbreak was reported at the Grand Rapids reservation at the mouth of the Saskatchewan River, and the doctor left here today by plane to check on the situation. Other Indians were reported to have been hit by the disease at Gillam on the Hudson Bay Railway.

DETROIT MOUND STAFF MUST CARRY CLUB'S BID FOR A.L. FLAG

By JACK HAND

LAKELAND, Fla., March 31 (AP)—Detroit's five-star pitching staff, faces a back-breaking task, it must make up for lack of power and an unsteady infield.

Despite mound strength, the Tigers do not appear capable of matching either New York or Boston in the American League race. They may have trouble with Cleveland and possibly Philadelphia although they finished second in 1947.

Manager Steve O'Neil thinks he has the best pitchers in the league in Hal Newhouser, Freddy Hutchinson, Dizzy Trout, Virgil Trucks and Art Houtteman. He also has two kid Southpaws up from Buffalo — Ted Gray (11-7) and Bill Pierce (14-8). Stubby Overmire will do spot duty. Al Benton and Hal White will be in the bullpen.

SEEK TO REPAIR RECORDS

Newhouser now is ready to go nine innings. Trout and Houtteman each already have gone the route. Trucks has a string of 27 innings with only one run and Hutchinson is set for a big year. Both Trout and Trucks are in top shape and eager to make up for their poor records last Summer.

There is only one trouble. Somebody has to get some runs to back up the pitching. Little power has been added to bolster the club's 1947 team batting mark of .258.

At first base, O'Neil plans to use George Vico, a .307 hitter at Portland. He has been averaging about one hit a day during the Spring games. Roy Cullenbine who had the job last year is now with the Phillies.

Eddie Mayo is making a fine comeback to hold his second base position and George Kell, of course, is at third.

Shortstop remains a problem. Eddie Lake, a holdover with a .211 average, reported late and had seen no action as the club broke camp today. Two younger boys, Cornelius (Neil) Berry and John Lipon have been splitting the work. Lipon hit .295 at Dallas and Berry batted .299 at Buffalo.

First string catcher will be Bob Swift, a capable receiver but a .251 batter. Hal Wagner ranks second with a .275 mark.

Dick Wakefield in left, Hoot Evers in centre and Vic Wertz in right probably will be the starting outfield.

Doc Cramer, now a player-coach, Eddie Mierkowicz and Pat Mullin, an early season flash in '47, will be the reserve outfielders. Jimmy Outlaw will fill in at third and the outfield.

One-Time Dishwasher Buys Town To Rescue it From Ghost Town Fate

LANGELOTH, Pa., March 31 (AP)—This once-bustling community of 3000 was rescued from a "ghost town" fate today by Gus (The Greek) Barbush, who as an immigrant boy got his start by washing dishes 36 years ago.

Gus saved Langeloth by the simple process of buying it—the whole town — for a reported $500,000.

The town's troubles began when the American Zinc and Chemical Company decided to close its local zinc plant. The major industry here, it provided 800 jobs and a $9000-a-day payroll. Officials explained the company's process was obsolete and the plant wasn't worth rebuilding.

Things looked pretty gloomy until Gus surveyed the scene. Gus lives in nearby Burgettstown, where as a lad of 13 he got his first dish-washing job. Working hard and saving money, he built his original $7 into a small fortune. At Burgettstown he owns a large country store, a large restaurant, and a hotel building with a half-dozen stores.

Gus thought he might put Langeloth on its feet. He went to the Burgettstown bank, which showed its faith in him by advancing a $200,00 loan—largest it ever advanced to an individual.

With the loan, Gus had little difficulty in buying the 390-acre property of the zinc company, which includes 261 houses, a water company, community hall, church, school, scout hut, sportsmen's clubhouse, park, and incidentals.

Gus's main objective is to induce a new industry to move into the empty plant. Then he wants to improve the town by laying out a baseball diamond, fixing the park, and similar projects.

"My plan is to run a good town," he said.

Gus admits he got a kick out of buying the town.

"It could only happen in this country," he smiled.

No Corn Whisky For Anti-Communists

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Representative Clare Hoffman of Michigan sniffed corn whisky in the European Aid Bill today.

That's what "corn derivatives" mentioned in the bill smelled like to him.

"We don't need to get them drunk to stop Communism," Hoffman shouted.

The House agreed. By voice vote it made the bill say that the United States won't ship corn whisky as part of the aid program.

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D

Don't Use Endearing Names When You're Cross or Angry

Words are not what they seem to be. For instance, parents often use words of endearment in addressing each other and their children, as Dear, My Dear, Dearie, Honey, Sweetheart. Usually these names began as expressions of genuine affection. But they tend to become so mechanized as to be used always, especially in private, to address other members of the family.

Now, as practically every wife, husband, mother or father sometimes feels and expresses vexation toward the other spouse or child the endearing word may—of all times—be used then. Thus the same name is employed in anger as in loveliness, in rebuke as in approval, in cursing as in blessing. Yet always the tone reveals the true meaning. And in the course of a day this true meaning may come from an ugly, angry heart even more often than from a tender, lovely heart.

Then what may happen to the quality of endearment in the name? Any name once associated only with affection can thus lose all its former loveliness. Don't you believe we should reserve all endearing names for moments when they will be used and understood as such?

SIMILAR PSYCHOLOGY

There is a similar psychology revealed in what ever so many mothers write and say about their unsuccessful efforts at dealing with some problems of the child's behavior, expressed in such ways as these: "I've tried reasoning, explaining, approving, rewarding, bribing, coaxing, cajoling, shaming, ridiculing, spanking, threatening, sending to bed, sitting in chair — nearly everything I have ever heard about, but all in vain."

As you can see, some of these ways appeal through pleasure, some through pain; some through rewards, some through punishments. But as several of them were employed about the same problem, sometimes one right after the other in relation to the selfsame incident, they all tended to take on the nature of pain.

QUIET TALKING

When, moreover, quiet talking, reasoning or approvals failed the mother being annoyed at her failure, was inclined to turn right away to rebukes and punishments. Then after one punishment seemed to fail another was immediately tried, and so on. Having memories, the child "reasoned with" must have often figured that anger, rebuke and other punishments would follow anyway. Then how could he be expected to respond to the persuasive ways? Even persuasive words may have turned in tone to angry "reasoning" or jawing.

Incidentally, most cases in which "everything was tried" are clearly not punishable cases at all. Perhaps for one such case requiring punishment there are a hundred not, but needing a long constructive program at self-discipline by the parent. But if you are sure the case is one for punishment, work out carefully a procedure you will follow to the letter without exception for a good long while.

Where most parents are weak is in complex problems involving all sorts of emotions and the need of working hard on themselves, as with eating and elimination problems, or with such problems as nervous habits, habit spasms and the like. Anyway, why worry your child and yourself with your wobbling?

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—Owen Sound—population 14,000—will have to spend more than $328,000 on capital equipment during the next five years, or institute metering of water, Chairman A. A. Kennedy told the Utilities Commission. Metering would discharge wasteful use of water, he said.

SAFECRACKER MUST PAY DAMAGE

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP)—A jury decided today that a safecracker must pay for the damage he did to the safe—plus interest.

A Supreme Court jury brought in an $812 verdict against convict Stanley Patrek, 33, and Justice J. B. M. McNally said:

"It's the first case that has ever come to my attention in which a convict was sued for damage he did in committing the crime."

Patrek is serving a 15- to 20-year prison term for grand larceny in the $15,260 robbery of the Yonkers, N. Y., Savings and Loan Association June 2, 1945.

Most of the money was recovered after Patrek and a companion were arrested. But an insurance company sued Patrek for $707.25 damage to the vault and safe of the Yonkers Bank.

By the time the jury reached its verdict, the sum, with interest, had grown to $812.

Labor Dispute May Delay Racing Season

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP) — The New York racing season is scheduled to begin tomorrow at Jamaica, but labor trouble may postpone it.

Grooms and exercise boys announced they would strike against some 130 horse owners and trainers at 6 a.m. tomorrow unless they sign an agreement with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL). The union said it believed such a walkout would halting racing.

Nelson Juveniles May Play Series With Lethbridge

Nelson Juveniles, who last week successfully defended the provincial title may be going to Lethbridge for a series with the Alberta champs.

During the week the Nelson Amateur Hockey Association has been in touch with Lethbridge and a meeting between the two juvenile teams is almost a certainty. It has yet to be decided, however, whether Lethbridge will travel to Nelson or vice versa. Tentatively, a two-out-of-three series has been suggested.

Word from the Hockey Association here late Wednesday night was that a final decision would be known sometime today.

Complaints Against Clancy, Hayes; Winger Fined $100

BOSTON, March 31 (AP)—Complaints charging Frank (King) Clancy and George Hayes, National Hockey League officials, with assault and battery were issued today by Judge Frank Tomasello in Municipal Court.

The complainant was Edward P. Shallow of Boston, a spectator, who said he was attacked and struck by the two hockey officials after last night's turbulent Boston Bruins-Toronto Maple Leafs playoff game at Boston Garden.

Both Clancy and Hayes claimed that Shallow was the aggressor. Clancy, a referee, served in a stand-by capacity but Hayes officiated as one of the two linesmen under Referee George Gravel.

At about the same time in another court room, Pete Babando, Boston Bruins right winger, was fined $100 by Judge Charles L. Carr after being convicted of assault upon Sygmund Wojciechowski, also of Boston, during a brawl here after a game with the Chicago Black Hawks Jan. 31.

Babando appealed and was released on his personal recognizance after he explained he had become excited during a melee on the ice and swung at Wojciechowski in the belief that the spectator was about to strike him. Previously, the player said, Wojciechowski taunted him by remarking: "It's about time you got it, Babando."

After handing down his decision, Judge Carr advised Babando to learn to control his temper.

Dodgers Purchase Negro Catcher

NEW YORK, March 31 (AP) — Branch Rickey announced today the purchase by Brooklyn Dodgers of Roy Campanella, Negro catcher, from Montreal. That Campanella would be moved up was announced some time ago, but the deal wasn't made official until today. Rickey also intimated that Dan Bankhead, Negro pitcher, would be farmed out.

New York Giants' home run attack seems to be in form and Pittsburgh Pirates ought to know it. The Giants have whipped the Pirates two straight days at El Centro, Calif., on four-baggers. The Pirates' Ralph Kiner, 1947 home run king, also is finding his eye. He hit his second of the season yesterday.

A 30-man Detroit Tiger squad in fine trim left its Lakeland, Fla., quarters today and headed for New Orleans. The Bengals will open a three-game series Friday night with the Southern Association Pelicans before starting North.

Trick Pitch Bucky's Hope for More Years

By WHITNEY MARTIN

TAMPA, Fla., March 31 (AP)—He stood in the hot sun patiently practising on a knuckle ball, and you felt a quick rush of sympathy for you knew Bucky Walters when he didn't have to worry about such trick pitches. He'd just throw the ball and dare the batters to hit it.

He's facing the sunset of a fine career now, though, and nobody knows it better than he himself and he figures that maybe a knuckle ball might help him stay around just a little longer.

Bucky has pitched with his heart many a time, but he never showed more heart than he's showing right now, when every time he throws hard enough to crack an egg he gets shooting pains in his arm.

"It hurts just about all the time," he admits frankly.

Walters was a once-a-week pitcher last year, and certainly won't go to the post oftener than that this year. If he can get the knuckler working he might win a few more games.

20TH SEASON

He's inching up on 38 now, and starting his 20th year of pro ball, and his 15th consecutive year in the majors. He became a third baseman after one year of pitching with High Point in the Piedmont League, but he was just hanging on to the fringes of the majors by his finger nails when the late Jimmy Wilson brought him to the Phillies from the Boston Red Sox in 1934 and convinced him his future, if he had one, was on the mound.

The Reds acquired him in 1938 and he promptly became one of the most respected hurlers in the league. He was voted most valuable player in 1939, when he won 27 games in the Reds' pennant march. He won 22 the next year, when the club again won. In 1944 he came back with 23 victories.

TWO GAMES TO GO FOR 200TH WIN

He had an 8-8 season last year, marking the 10th straight year he has not dropped below the .500 mark. If he can tease and heckle and bait the batters with trick pitches and sheer know-how this year for a record equally as good it will make him more valuable than a lot of rookies with the power of youth in their arms but still muscle-bound between the ears. It also would put him well over the coveted 200-mark in victories, as he has only two to go.

TO SEE FILMS OF BRITISH SOCCER HERE

Old Country soccer films depicting the top notch type of football played in Britain are to be seen in Nelson.

A number of soccer-mined Canadian Pacific Railway employees have arranged to show films brought to Canada by Billy Finlay of the Vancouver Sun. They are N. B. Bradley and Peter Thom.

Two of the films are of an instructional type, while a third shows English Cup play up to and including the final game.

The films will be shown at the Canadian Legion April 8, proceeds from a collection to go to the Red Cross.

Ancient Luke Seeks Prolonged Career at Third

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 31 (AP) —Old Luke Appling, 17 seasons a Chicago White Sox shortstop, is seeking baseball's fountain of youth at third base this campaign.

The shift was ordered by Manager Ted Lyons, who thinks it will prolong the amazing career of Lucious Luke, fixing to celebrate his 39th—he says—birthday on Friday.

Swapping places with the two-time American League batting champion will be 28-year-old Floyd Baker, one of the most agile infielders in the business.

Appling's listed birth year is 1909, which gets a wink from people who know Luke well. Somewhere along the line, they say, Appling celebrated the same birthday two or three times.

Appling moans and groans perennially about his physical state — "Old Aches and Pains" his teammates call him.

Lyons didn't pay much attention to the complaints of his most reliable .300 hitter until last season. Then, in mid-September, Luke admitted he would like to sit out a few games, and he really meant it.

The eagle-eyed swatter from Dunwoodie, Ga., was a little reluctant this Spring about leaving a position he could play from a rocking chair. Third base, he knew, would inflict less wear and tear on his aging pins. But even then he had to be coaxed.

LOOKING GOOD

Now, he is giving the hot corner the fanciest Appling touch and Lyons is confident Luke will add "one or two years to his career."

Luke batted .306 last season, finishing in the league's top 10. His best season was 1936 when he took the league crown with a whopping .388. He won the championship again in 1943 with .328.

Baker, a .264 hitter last year, will have to fight it out at shortstop with Cass Michaels (.273). Lanky Johnny Wallesa, former Toronto player, might have a chance if he could improve his woeful carry-over batting mark of .195.

Dickson Pitches No-Run, No-Hit Game

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 31 (CP)—Murray Dickson of St. Louis Cardinals hurled the second no-run, no-hit nine inning Spring exhibition game in baseball history yesterday. The performance showed Manager Eddie Dyer he was justified in standing by the little right-hander last year when he couldn't win for losing.

The Cardinals, and Dickson in particular, had tough luck all through the 1947 season. He wound up with 13 victories and 16 losses. The fans were down on him, but Dyer kept rushing him into vital contests despite the boos from the crowd.

Murray picked on the World Champion New York Yankees yesterday and won 7-0. He faced 30 batters, walking five and hitting one. He struck out six.

The late Cy Blanton of Pittsburgh Pirates pitched the only other Spring no-hitter, according to sketchy exhibition records. He blanked Cleveland Indians without a blow in New Orleans, April 9, 1939.

Ice Season About Over At Civic Arena

By next week the skates, hockey sticks and curling rocks will be put away for another year.

The ice in the Civic Arena, maintained since the latter part of October, will be let go after the conclusion of the Little Bonspiel which is due to wind up April 4.

This year the arena was a host to a new record number of visiting hockey teams. Besides the Western International League teams which played here, the Nelson Juveniles battled their way to the provincial crown on home ice. Trail juveniles were the first comers and as the Lakesiders went farther down the road to victory Kimberley and Vernon were seen on home ice. And this week the Edmonton Flyers to touch off a season of hockey dished up a bruising brand of puck chasing when they did themselves proud in trimming the Smokies 4-1 in the second inter-provincial playoff game.

Among the feature attractions of the year were the Skating Club ice show, various skating parties and a novelty night when the sexes were turned topsy turvy in aid of kid hockey.

Turkish Wrestlers Seek 10 Eggs for London Breakfasts

LONDON, March 31 (AP)—Turkish wrestlers training for the Summer Olympics in London eat 10 eggs a day apiece for breakfast.

That builds up stamina, they say. Borsnti

Britons are lucky to get two eggs a week. But the Turks have written Stanley George Briault, housing and catering chief of the Olympics, asking him to see about those 10 eggs per man for the wrestling team.

Briault has a lot of problems like this to solve. His job is to feed and house athletes of 55 countries competing in the forthcoming Summer games.

Mexico's team wants to bring in its own brand of cigarets, duty free. Others want their own wine. The government departments are working on these ticklers.

Trout Adds New Strikeout Pitch

LAKELAND, Fla., March 31 (AP) —Watch out for that Dizzy Trout this year. He has added a knuckle ball to his bag of tricks.

"That's my strikeout pitch," said the bespectacled Detroit veteran. I see those other guys getting away with that knuckler, winning ball games, fooling hitters. I know I got a better knuckler than they do, so I'm going to use it.

"Steve (Manager O'Neil) says its okay with him. Anything as long as I win. I'd better win some this year, too."

Trout said he had been fooling around with the knuckler for years but never seriously until last year when he used it in his last start of the season. Now it's a permanent part of his repertoire.

The Tiger righthander has no illusions about 1947. He agrees it was a bad year. It must have been because it cost him money.

"Sure they cut me," he said, talking about his contract, "why not? They don't pay you for nothing. This year it's going to be different; I'm going to get it all back and then some.

ONE OF THOSE YEARS

"Aw, I was due for one of those years. Got to have tough luck once in a while. Even at that I was going along fine into May with a 4-2 record. Then against Chicago I pulled my leg. Got a big charley horse way up high. I won that game with a homer in the 10th but that leg ruined my year.

"I was back in there right away but pretty soon I came up with a sore arm. I'm pitching stiff-legged, unnatural that puts a strain on your arm. I wind up 10 to 11 for the year."

With Virgil Trucks burning up the South and Hal Newhouser, Freddy Hutchinson and rookie Art Houtteman poised for a great year, a return of Trout to his old form could make the Tigers an important factor in the race.

At 32, there still should be plenty of wins in Dizzy's right arm. He showed plenty Sunday turning back the Yanks with four hits in a full nine-inning job.

Five Bison Stars Held After Brawl

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 31 (CP)—An early morning restaurant brawl in which one man was injured so severely his sight may be permanently impaired, today resulted in the arrest of five star players of the Buffalo team of the American Hockey League.

Arrested on a charge of breach of the peace and released in court on bonds of $2500 each were Joe Bell, 24, of Portage La Prairie, Man.; Tommy Cooper, 30, of Winnipeg; Mike McMahon, 32, of Brockville, Ont.; Les Douglas, 29, of Perth, Ont.; and Leslie Hickey 27, of Winnipeg.

IN FINALS

Bond was furnished by Maurice Podoloff, President of the League.

The players were arrested a few hours after their team had defeated New Haven Ramblers 6-2 to reach the finals for the Calder Cup, emblematic of the A.H.L. playoff championship.

The victory was the fourth straight in the playoffs for Buffalo, who eliminated both Hershey and New Haven in straight games in best-of-three series. The Bisons meet the winner of the Cleveland-Providence series in the finals.

The players were charged with assaulting Wallace Holland, 23, of New Haven during an argument shortly before 4 a.m. in the restaurant. Holland, an off-duty counterman at the restaurant, was taken to hospital where a spokesman said he had received a "critical" injury to his left eye.

AIDED MATE

It would not be known for a "few days" whether the counterman would lose the sight of the eye, the spokesman said.

Police quoted a witness as saying the brawl started when the players became abusive to George Wilson, the counterman on duty, and Holland interceded.

Holland was knocked to the floor and kicked at least twice, police reported.

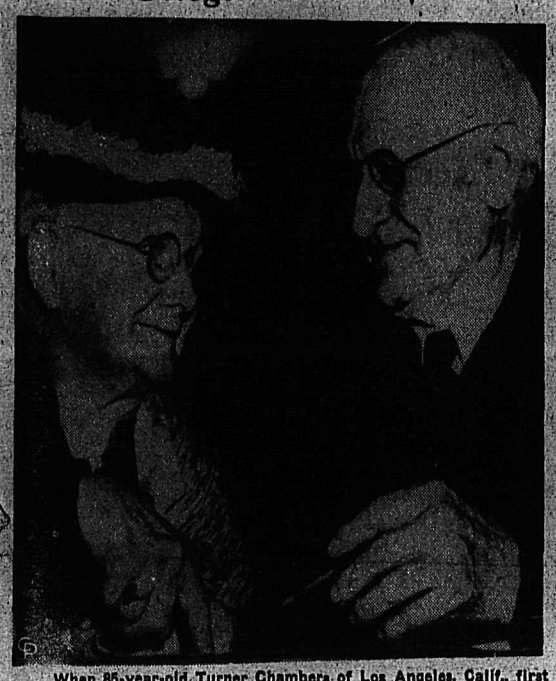
Octogenarians Wed



When 85-year-old Turner Chambers of Los Angeles, Calif., first cast his eyes on his new next-door neighbor, Mrs. Lucy Emma Grace, 84, he remarked: "There is the woman I have been looking for." He didn't waste any time. Within two weeks he had popped the question, was coyly put off, but finally accepted after a few days. They were wed on Easter Sunday. This photo was made as they obtained the marriage licence. It will be the second marriage for each. Chambers has eight children, 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. WOULD GIVE GOV'T RESPONSIBILITY OF MANITOBA POWER

WINNIPEG, March 31 (CP) — Exclusive Government responsibility for development and operation of all hydro-electric power plants in Manitoba was recommended today by Dr. Thomas H. Hogg in a report of the Manitoba Water Power Commission tabled in the Legislature by Resources Minister J. S. McDiarmid.

The lengthy report said this would mean:

The taking over by lease or purchase of the Winnipeg River power plants of the Winnipeg Electric Company and the City of Winnipeg Hydro-Electric Company.

Development of adequate sources of power over the next 20 years, including completion of the Slave Falls and Seven Sisters Falls plants and development of new power sources at a probable cost ranging from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000.

Other recommendations included:

Development of the Pine Falls and McArthur Falls sites on the Winnipeg River with the least possible delay; and Closest co-ordination between Ontario and Manitoba on developments on the Winnipeg River watershed in Ontario and the same river system in Manitoba.

Even with continued high river flows and on the basis of developments now under way the report said the present two utilities could meet anticipated power requirements only to 1951, or at the latest to 1952.

Smith to Perform With Bombers

CALGARY, March 31 (CP) — Don Smith, mentioned as a possible member of the 1948 Calgary Stampeder Football Club, will perform with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers again this year, Tom Brook, President of the Calgary Club, said today.

Smith had been approached by Stampeder officials about coming to Calgary along with Harry Hood, also of the Bombers. The latter now is working in Calgary and expects to turn out with the Calgary squad.

Mr. Brook also said Coach Les Lear was expected to arrive in the city shortly to start lining up details for Spring training which will be held May 2 to 22. The only import signed by Stampeders to date is Keith Spaith, a 23-year-old quarterback from California.

Beer-Drinking Cow Breaks Milk Record

MEET A NEW CHAMP, Bridge Birch, British Friesian cow which broke the world's milk-yield record with 44,289 lbs. in 350 days. The previous holder was a U. S. cow, Carnation Ormsby Fayne, which gave 41,943 lbs. in 365 days. Included in Bridge Birch's diet was a daily half-gallon of stout, dark, heavy, British beer. Before the war British farmers produced one-third of Britain's food. As their contribution to the food problems of Britain and the world, during and since the war, they have made and are making vigorous efforts towards another third—totalling two-thirds—by 1951.
