Nelson Church Groups And Doukhobors Jam Hall in First Social

A gathering "to stimulate mutual understanding between English-speaking peoples and the Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ," (orthodox Doukhobor group, Thursday night, surpassed all expectations.

St. Saviour's Memorial Hall was jammed to the doors by Doukhobors from Brilliant, Castlegar, Shoreacres, Appledale and various other valley points, and by a large representation from congregations of various Nelson churches. Nelson Ministerial Association organized the affair.

For the first of what is hoped to be a series of such gatherings, about 300 people joined in prayers and singing of hymns, heard brief talks by representatives of both groups, then sat down together to refreshments.

Stressing the "friendship in Jesus Christ", Very Rev. T. L. Leadbeater, Dean of Kootenay, said the "friendship created today is a friendship created for all eternity."

That the gathering was a prelude to many more was the hope expressed by John Verigin, Secretary of the Doukhobor group, who also paid tribute to the work of Emmott Gulley, American Friends Service Committee representative, former Provincial Police Commissioner John Shirras and Col. F. J. Mead, and the Consultative Committee on Doukhobors, for their work in striving to solve the Doukhobor problem.

AN EXAMPLE

J. Stoochnoff of Brilliant was "very glad to see an opportunity for fellowship between the English-speaking and Doukhobor people" and hoped that "in a distressed world the people of Kootenay could set an example to the world of mutual understanding and fellowship."

Rev. Allan Dixon, Ministerial Association President, opened the program with an invocation; Rev. A. L. Anderson read the 103rd Psalm and "The Sermon on the Mount"; and Rev. Theo. T. Gibson led in prayer. The gathering joined in two hymns.

E. E. L. Dewdney, St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral Warden, welcomed visitors from other churches and the various communities.

Among those attending was Lieut. Austin Millar of the Salvation Army.

Following Mr. Verigin's talk, a Doukhobor choir sang about 12 hymns and songs of a religious nature in Russian, and two quartets were also heard. One quartet of four girls sang in English, "He the Pearly Gates Will Open", and "Wonderful Words of Life".

Appreciation of the singing and thanks for their coming were extended by Mr. Dixon, and Mr. Verigin also offered thanks.

Following the benediction given by Mr. Dixon, the gathering enjoyed refreshments in the hall basement served by St. Saviour's Anglican Young Peoples' Association and friends of Nelson church congregations who provided the lunch.

Russia Protests Release of Japan War Prisoners

LONDON, Feb. 15 (Reuters) — The Soviet Government tonight sent a note to the United States protesting the release of Japanese war criminals by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The note, broadcast by Moscow radio, referred to the "arbitrary actions of General MacArthur concerning the Japanese war criminals."

Copies of the note were delivered to other members of the Allied Council for Japan, including Britain and the Chinese Communist Government.

The note referred to a previous protest made by the Soviet government Nov. 19 against release before his time of Mamoru Skigemitsu, "one of the chief Japanese war criminals."

The American State Department reply ,the note added, made it appear that the United States Government "not only did not take any measures to conceal the illegal order issued by MacArthur, but on the contrary supported his illegal actions in the release of Mamoru Shigemitsu."

Retains British Conservative Seat

BRISTOL, England, Feb. 15 (CP) —Sir Walter Monckton tonight retained the Bristol West House of Commons seat for the Conservative Party in a byelection.

Monckton, a leading British lawyer, was a close confidant and legal adviser to King Edward VIII—now Duke of Windsor—during the crisis leading to the abdication in 1936. He defeated his Labor opponent, Harold Lawrance by 17,144 votes.

Lawrance, a 41-year-old railway clerk who was rebuffed by Prime Minister Attlee for his pacific views, polled 5072 votes. Monckton had 22,216.

The byelection was caused by the death of Oliver Stanley, one of Winston Churchill's closest collaborators. In the general elections last February Stanley polled 24,920 votes to Labor's 12,677 and the Liberals' 4688.

Goose-Pimples on Coast Cars Puzzle

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — The mystery of the goose-pimpled cars has automobile companies and paint manufacturers baffled.

The phenomena, which has raised blisters like goose pimples on 500 cars here, has stumped a panel of experts sent to Vancouver by car and paint manufacturers.

The blisters first turned up here in December. Physicists of the University of British Columbia and B.C. Research Council said they didn't think they were caused by radioactivity in snow or rain.

Built here by the makers of the first jet engine, it will be installed in the British tanker Auris. Designer B. E. Forsling said the engine's performance surpassed all expectations.

Protest Nelson Ferry Services

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — Resort operators in British Columbia will ask the Provincial Government to take immediate steps to set up travel bureaus at five key locations in B.C.

This action was decided on by directors of the Auto Courts and Resorts Association at a meeting here yesterday.

The group passed a resolution to inform the Travel Bureau of the need for bureaux at the Blaine customes house, Osoyoos customs house, Yahk, Hope and Nanaimo.

Another resolution opposed any licence fee for sports fishing in salt water.

The Association also decided to protest to the Minister of Highways what it termed inadequate ferry service at Nelson. It contended the ferry service on the Trans-Provincial Highway at Nelson should be lengthened from its present eight hours to 16 hours to render proper service to the public.

Radar Device Ends Air Pocket Shocks

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia, Feb. 15 (Reuters) — Those air pockets that toss air travellers' stomachs into their throats can be avoided thanks to a new radar device developed by the British Overseas Airways corporation. Corporation Chairman Sir Miles Thomas said yesterday his engineers have developed a radar receiver enabling pilots to see the air pockets on the screen and avoid them.

Tit-For-Tat Attitude With U.S. On B.C. Power Sources Urged

PENTICTON, B. C., Feb. 15 (CP) —A member of the British Columbia Government suggests that B. C. should play tit-for-tat with the United States when it comes to power sources.

M. P. Finnerty told a meeting last night that since the U. S. is reluctant to underwrite the $500,000,000 power and aluminum development in Northern B. C. he believed the Government was in no frame of mind to lease land in Southern B. C. for a power project in Washington.

Keremeos and Cawston in Southern B. C. and Loomis in Northern Washington are opposed to construction of a dam at Shankers Bend, Wash. The dam would flood most of the lower Similkameen Valley, now used as fruit and grazing land.

Ross Woodward of Loomis said if the dam were built "we would all be wiped off the map."

"Canada has the power to stop this and if you don't you will suffer more than we will," he said.

Mr. Finnerty, Member of the Legislature for Similkameen, said he would do everything possible in opposing the proposed $35,000,000 dam.

Loomis representatives said backers of the dam were using need for additional power in defence work as an argument to get Government assistance for the project.

At the same time, the U. S. Government was refusing to help finance a power and aluminum development at Kitimat, B. C., because output might squeeze U. S. aluminum companies out of business although there was at present a critical shortage of aluminum in the U. S.

Flu Epidemic Reported Easing

By The Canadian Press

A mild but widespread epidemic of influenza continues to hold sway in scattered sections of Canada as laboratory researchers study the mysterious virus to determine its nature and origin.

In some centres the disease is reported on the wane. In others, the epidemic took on a less serious aspect Thursday as many suspected influenza cases were diagnosed as severe colds.

But some communities were hit heavily. a Canadian Press survey showed. Schools closed and factories struggled to keep up normal operations with reduced staffs.

In almost every large municipality, hospitals either banned visitors or appealed to them to stay away to minimize the danger of infection.

SLACKENS IN MONTREAL

In Montreal, where 92 deaths were attributed to the epidemic, Health Officer Adelard Groulx said the three-week siege was showing signs of slackening. But 28 hospitals barred the public and city schools declared a special holiday weekend to give undermanned teaching staffs a rest. School is out from Thursday afternoon until Tuesday morning.

In Edmonton, 500 students at the University of Alberta — more than 10 per cent of the student body — were absent. The number of empty desks in Prince Albert, Sask., classrooms ran as high as 32 per cent.

Ontario's largest cities are relatively free of the disease, but scattered cities in all parts of the province are feeling its effects more severely.

Dr. J. T. Phair, Ontario's Deputy Health Minister, said in Toronto there is little doubt that the virus is the same that has taken 7,000 lives in Britain, possibly carried to the Maritimes and spread Westward by passengers on ships and planes.

Await Husband of Wounded Mother

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — R.C.M.P. today awaited arrival here of Tony Casano, driving from Kaslo, in the hope he may be able to throw some light on the attempted murder of his wife yesterday.

Mrs. Rose Casano was seriously wounded in her North Vancouver home by a tenant, Ramon Xandri, 76 who committed suicide later by slashing his throat with a razor.

Her condition was described as fair.

Mr. Casano, connected with Selkirk Mining Co. at Kaslo, left Nelson last night. He is expected here tonight or tomorrow.

An inquest into Xandri's death will be held tomorrow.

One theory held by police is that Xandri went berserk and attacked Mrs. Casano, 39-year-old mother of four, with a .32 calibre revolver.

P-C Members Disagree On Manpower Policy

Approve Social Credit Motion; Compulsory Training Proposal "Not Acceptable to Gov't"—Claxton

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—Two Progressive Conservative Members today in the Commons disagreed with their party's views on the contentious issue of compulsory military training in Canada's reserve forces.

First Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East), wartime artillery Lieutenant-Colonel, and then Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra), a veteran of the First World War, announced support of a motion calling for compulsory training in the reserve forces for home defence.

They disagreed with the military spokesman of their 43-men party—Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (PC—Nanaimo)—who said Wednesday he could not approve the motion, sponsored by the 10-man Social Credit Party.

As the debate appeared to be drawing to a close, Defence Minister Claxton spoke briefly. He said that because of the reasons given by Gen. Pearkes and some of the others the policy proposed in the motion "is not acceptable to the Government." He did not elaborate.

Mr. Green said it was better to argue the question dispassionately now than with heat and bitterness later after war had started.

Despite the impending danger of war there was no adequate preparedness in Canada and would not be until the Government announced a clear cut plan for use of manpower. The voluntary system of enlistment was discredited across the country because of its unfairness in the last war.

"The forces were having trouble getting men and he doubted that defence production would get enough. It was obvious that some form of selective service for both would be necessary if Canada was to arm quickly.

The reserve army, on the basis of its program outlined in 1945 by then defence minister Abbott, was 100,000 men short of the 150,000 men Mr. Abbott had said it would contain. It had 50,000 men or less today.

Those ranks must be filled. The Government should "choose them by lot from the group best fitted to serve" with others volunteering if they wished.

The Government should bring in a selective service that could direct the required men into defence industry and into the reserves. There should be national registration now.

Tom Goode (L.—Burnaby-Richmond) said he would go along with the views of Gen. Pearkes, his commanding officer in the last war. Gen. Pearkes had spoken from experience whereas Mr. Green had based his speech on a "couple of newspaper clippings."

CASTE SYSTEM

One of the "most disgraceful episodes" in the last war was what happened to men called up for home defence. A caste system was established. Those called for home defence walked down one side of the street while those who volunteered for service anywhere walked on the other side.

O. L. Jones (C.C.F.—Yale), a veteran of the First World War, said Canada has not the facilities to handle compulsory military training at this time. He said it is costing Canada $200,000 a month to keep the Army's 10,000-man Special Force at Fort Lewis, Wash. This was an unnecessary expense.

He proposed that the force be brought back to Canada and trained at Vernon, B.C., where there were adequate facilities.

Victor Quelch (S.C.—Acadia) said he had not yet heard a convincing argument against his party's proposal for compulsory military training. He was surprised at the weakness of the arguments of those who were trying to oppose it.

Mr. Quelch said the war danger is "very great" and, if war came, Canada couldn't escape the consequences. The reserve army should be "thoroughly reorganized" and strengthened because it would have an important role in defending a country that could become another Belgium.

The conference of defence associations had pointed up the sad state of the reserve army by saying even the 40,000 men it has are not nearly prepared for action. Canada had the arms to train the men needed. The reserve units needed the men.

J. A. Ross (P.C.—Couris), a lieutenant-colonel in the First World War, said he supported wholeheartedly the views of Gen. Pearkes.

George Cruickshank (L.—Fraser Valley), decorated First World War infantry captain, said he still stands by his belief that there should be compulsory training in the reserve army but he couldn't support the Social Credit motion. It would bring back to Canada a "zombie army" for home defence only.

Mr. Cruickshank said he was satisfied with assurances from Prime Minister St. Laurent that full conscription will be introduced if and when the time is right. That time is not now.

ATTLEE GOV'T. WINS VOTE

Tory Rearmament Motion Downed by 21-Vote Majority

LONDON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee's Labor Government tonight beat down by 21 votes a Conservative Party attempt to oust it from office on charges of bungling Britain's rearmament.

A motion of censure introduced by Conservative Leader Winston Churchill was defeated in the House of Commons by a vote of 308 to 287. In acid debate he had assailed Labor's rearmament efforts as "inept and incompetent."

The victory margin was surprisingly large in view of criticism some left-wing Labor members have directed against their own party's arms program. Even Labors' pacifists remained in step to give the Government its second largest majority since last February's general election on any major issue in the closely-balanced House.

Members on both sides of the House were surprised by the margin of the vote. There was a great shout of "oh" mingled with Labor cheers. It was the biggest confidence vote Labor has received in the year-old Parliament. The Liberals backed Labor on the issue.

CHURCHILL CHALLENGED

Jutting out his chin, Churchill said Attlee's regime had failed in 5½ years to produce atomic bombs in Britain. In that period, he said, the country actually was "outstripped by the Soviets" in the field of atomic energy.

Attlee challenged Churchill's A-bomb statements. The prime minister said Churchill "is not producing any evidence that, given the resources over here, we could have done more than we have done."

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hugh Gaitskell, said Churchill's speech was "completely lacking in serious argument of any kind."

The Labor Government plans to spend £4,700,000,000 (about $13,000,000,000) during the next three years on rearmament.

To meet this program, Gaitskell said, British civilians will have to get along with "less clothing, fabrics, radios, domestic equipment, pottery and glass."

100,000 More U.S. Troops For Europe

BY ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) — Defence Secretary Marshall told Congress today the United States plans to send 100,000 more troops to Europe to serve under the supreme allied command of Gen. Eisenhower.

He said the new contingents will include 72,000 men in four combat divisions — plus supporting units — and will raise American ground forces in Europe to about 197,000. The U.S. has the equivalent of two divisions there now, with supporting units.

Coupled with American air and sea forces, the troop reinforcements will lift the total to some 250,000 U.S. fighting men in the Europe-Mediterranean area.

Testifying before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committee, Marshall indicated it may be necessary to keep American soldiers in Europe for the next 10 years.

"Our aim is primarily to deter aggression if that be possible and to defeat aggression if, in spite of all our efforts, the actions of the Soviet Union or its satellites should precipitate another world war."

He said emphatically he does not consider it a hopeless task to defend Western Europe against Russia and her puppet states "if war is thrust upon us." But he warned that the fall of Europe to Russia would heighten the possibility of Soviet air attacks upon the United States.

Marshall said that for security reasons he spoke "reluctantly" in disclosing the plan to send four more divisions to Europe.

"I have reached the conclusion that there is a greater peril to our security through weakening the morale of our allies by a debate based on uncertainties, than there can possibly be through the public disclosure of our planned strength figures."

LONDON, Feb. 15 (Reuters) — Britain's countryside cafes are preparing to start serving strawberries and real cream once again — after a gap of 11 years. Food Minister Maurice Webb said last night that a wartime order banning the making of cream in most of Britain would be revoked this Spring and that cream once again may also be imported.

Rumors of Raise In Sales Tax

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 15 (CP) — The Victoria Colonist in a front-page story today says possibility of increasing the three per cent sales tax to four per cent to bail out the financial pressed hospital insurance scheme is reported being debated by the Provincial Government.

The paper goes on to say the matter may be placed before the caucus when the Legislature meets as a means of avoiding a stiff boost in premiums.

Cabinet ministers are reported still sharply divided on the whole question of how to meet soaring costs, which have brought deficits amounting to $7,000,000 in two years.

One section is stressing that subsidies by the government should end, that it was always intended that the scheme should stand on its own feet. Others maintain that the government will have to continue subsidies to keep premiums from going too high, says the Colonist.

It is estimated that the tax would raise another $7,000,000 if increased to four per cent.

Fish Catch Too Heavy to Handle

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Feb. 15 (CP)—So much fish has been landed here plants can't handle it, Kenneth Harding, Manager of the Fishermen's Cooperative, said today.

Surpassing her own record catch of 90,000 pounds of flatfish, the Vinetta Prince Capt. Adolph Prince netted so many fish yesterday she had to continue on to Vancouver to unload.

The biggest catch of recent years more than 120,000 pounds of flatfish, was taken by the Vinetta Prince in Skidegate Inlet.

Canada's Trade Hits $6 Billion Mark

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Canada's international trade in 1950 rolled past the $6,000,000,000 mark for the first time in history.

Buying and selling increased by about $500,000,000 to $6,331,300,000 from $5,783,700,000 in 1949, the Bureau of Statistics said today. Biggest stride was a half-billion-dollar gain in exports to the United States.

Exports to all countries totalled $3,157,100,000, a gain of about $100,000,000 from $3,022,500,000 in 1949. Imports, reaching an all-time peak, touched $3,174,300,000, compared to $2,761,200,000 the previous year.

This splurge in purchases cut Canada's usual surpluses in trade to a $17,200,000 deficit — first since the depression year of 1931.

But conditions have changed vastly since then, said the Bureau. The deficit in 1931 was sparked by low prices and shrinking markets; last year's deficit — relatively small when compared with the huge overall trade — was caused principally by the great demand for goods in Canada.

Main feature of the year's trade added the Bureau, was the expansion in exports to the U.S. Shipments rose 34 per cent to $2,050,000,000 from $1,524,000,000.

Imports from the U.S. also were higher. Boosted nine per cent, they climbed to $2,130,500,000 from $1,951,900,000.

This drove a deepening wedge in Canada's traditional deficit with the U.S. reducing it to $80,000,000, compared with $427,800,000 in 1949 and an unprecedented $918,100,000 in 1947.

Trade with the United Kingdom, on the other hand, slipped. Exports of $472,500,000 were down about $250,000,000 from $705,000,000 in 1949. Imports at $404,200,000 were higher by about $1,000,000 from $307,400,000 the previous year.

No Blame Fixed by Coroner's Jury In Salmo Accident Inquest

SALMO, B.C., Feb. 15 — A coroner's jury fixed no blame in connection with a car-truck collision that caused two deaths near here Jan. 7, after hearing testimony at an inquest held here yesterday.

The six-man jury concluded that "owing to conflicting evidence, we are unable to determine which vehicle was responsible for the accident."

However, the jury recommended that "owing to the reactions of the truck driver, possibly due to a state of shock, that his licence be suspended for one year or until such time as a medical examiner declares him fit to operate a vehicle."

Witnesses testified that truck driver George Strookow of Shoreacres, had not assisted the injured men in the other vehicle following the accident.

The deceased, Francis (Tiny) Morrow of Nelson and Garnet Sauter of Salmo were both riding in the car.

A further recommendation by the jury was a request for the Department of Public Works to erect warning signs on the approaches to the accident curve, where it pointed out, four persons had met death in the past two years.

Twelve witnesses were heard during the nine-hour hearing, conducted by Deputy Coroner Dr. N. E. Morrison of Nelson.

Louis Bonacci, passenger injured in the Morrow vehicle, was able to give testimony. The hearing had been held up pending his return from Vancouver where he received medical treatment.

J. H. Gordon of Trail appeared as counsel for Bonacci while L. S. Gansner and L. M. McBride of Nelson appeared on behalf of insurance companies.

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Feb. 15 (CP)—One of the largest family groups ever to fly the Atlantic Ocean has taken up residence here.

Thirteen in all, and including a 10-month-old baby, the Metson family left home in Coventry, England, because, said Charles Metson, Sr., "there isn't enough grub to keep a family alive in England.

"I'm sick and tired of eating eight pence worth of meat a week and I don't like whale meat, squirrel, reindeer or horse meat," he added.

Mrs. Metson, Sr., said she got the shock of her life at the sight of the food on the table at relatives' here. "We just ate and ate until our eyes popped," she said.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Army never was like this before 26-year-old Pte. John Doll came along.

Then he types out a 'Happy Birthday" greeting, clips it to the rookie's X-ray plates and hands the new soldier a penny lollipop for a gift.

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—The Canadian National Institute for the Blind said today it isn't so: five pounds of that bright-colored, narrow cellophane stripping on cigarette packs will not provide a blind man with a seeing-eye dog.

Some thousands of Toronto persons, the Institute said today, have been saving the stuff in all good faith—because of a story the origin of which nobody seems to know.

For a week now the Institute has been deluged with telephone calls; people wanted to know what to do with the cellophane.

It was a nice idea, the Institute said, but neither five pounds nor 5000 pounds will buy a blind man a dog.

Nelson Juvenile To Coquitlam

A 16-year-old Nelson juvenile was committed to the Industrial School for Boys at Coquitlam, B.C. when he appeared in Juvenile Court Thursday.

The juvenile was convicted of a vandalism charge arising out of a pre-Christmas bulb-breaking spree on two Fairview exterior light displays. He had, police said, been on a suspended sentence in connection with an earlier offence.

Re-elected, Muir Asks More Youths For Kiltie Band

J. C. Muir was reelected President of the Kootenay Kiltie Pipe Band Association at the annual meeting in the City Council Chambers Thursday night.

The 1951 slate of officers consists of William McLeary and Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Honorary Presidents; Joseph Kary, Honorary Vice-President; Ivie Spiers, Vice-President; Mrs. Gordon Haskell, Secretary; D. W. Crozier, Treasurer; Mrs. A. L. Stevens, James Milne, Jack Neil, James Ritchie, G. C. Wallach, Executive, and three trustees to be appointed by Clan McLeary.

Mr. Crozier reported that the balance on hand in the bank was $86.23. All uniforms had been paid for and the Association had no debts.

In the President's report, Mr. Muir pointed out that in the past couple of months band leadership had vastly improved. Earlier in the year consistent band leadership had been impossible because of the private endeavors of the pipe majors, though they had done fine work when able.

There were 19 members capable of turning out to a parade and during the year the band had turned out 30 times.

Mr. Muir made special mention of the Labor Day parade when he felt the band had excelled itself and "had been a credit to Nelson."

Out of town concerts were given at Slocan City, Procter, New Denver and Nelway. As well, individual members had performed at Salmo and at various functions.

The Kiltie Band had also participated at Burn's Night anniversary and had served the dinner.

Mr. Muir said he believed the youth of the community should be encouraged to join the band.

Discussion on the possibility of amending a clause in the constitution resulted in the decision to let it stand as it was.

A new member of the Kootenay Kiltie Pipe Band is Ian Inkster from Revelstoke. Mr. Inkster has held the Northwest Pacific piping championship for two years and had received honors in Winnipeg.

Breaks Leg in Car Mishap

E. P. (Ted) Baker of Nelson suffered a broken leg Wednesday when he was struck by a car on High Street.

Police said Baker was pushing his own car to the side of the road after it had stalled when a car driven by William Marshall skidded into the back of Baker's vehicle and crushed his leg.

Marshall applied his breaks upon approaching the stalled car, but was unable to bring it to a full stop because of the icy condition of the street.

Rain will start alnog the Northern coast in early morning and spread to Northern Vancouver Island with approach of a new storm centre now moving into the Gulf of Alaska. Increasing cloudiness is expected over the Southern coast and Northern Interior later in the day as the system moves Eastward with snow beginning in the Northern Interior by evening.

Wants Protection For B. C. Fishing

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—Senator Thomas Reid (L—British Columbia) said today "it looks like" the United States is ignoring Canada and her $75,000,000 annual Pacific fishing industry in negotiations for a Japanese peace treaty.

Canada is vitally interested in what the Americans are proposing to the Japanese with regard to fisheries, he told the Senate in the Throne-Speech debate. There has been no announcement, though Foster Dulles, Foreign Affairs adviser to President Truman, has returned from Japan.

Dulles, he said, "should come to Ottawa and place these things before our Government" so there can be joint action. Otherwise, he fears the U. S., anxious to rearm Japan to meet the Communist threat in the Far East, may "hand everything" to the Japanese and allow them again to send fishing fleets across the Pacific to deplete British Columbia and Alaska salmon runs.

Allies Smash Red Resistance

TOKYO, Feb. 16 (Friday) (Reuters) — British troops moving up toward outflanked Chipyong routed one Chinese unit after another in a series of stiff skirmishes, latest front-line reports from the central sector said today.

TOKYO, Feb. 16 (Friday) (AP) —An allied tank column smashed through faltering Chinese Communist resistance Thursday and lifted a 42-hour siege of a valiant French-American regimental combat team on the central Korean front.

The relief column, smashing from the South, routed Communist forces that had besieged Chipyong, 35 miles East of Seoul and the anchor point of the central front.

Despite heavy losses, the Chinese were reported massing fresh troops. They apparently were intent on striking again on a new and larger scale in an attempt to split the United Nations army and isolate 100,000 allied troops in the West.

The F-84F, the United States Air Force's newest swept-wing fighter bomber, was powered with the new Wright Sapphire Turbo-Jet engine which develops 7200 pounds of thrust, more than 2000 pounds over that of engines previously used in Thunderjets.

Nootka Returns To Japan Base

A UNITED NATIONS NAVAL BASE IN SOUTH JAPAN, Feb. 15 (CP) — The Canadian destroyer Nootka is back at this United Nations naval base after her first baptism of fire in the Korean war.

The tribal-class ship, under command of Cmdr. A. B. Fraser-Harris of Halifax, arrived in Japan Jan. 14 as a relief for the destroyer Sioux, now back in Canada. She sailed a short time later for the West coast of Korea and things started popping.

On her first patrol, with the destroyer Cayuga, she engaged in a gun duel with Red shore batteries at the Korean port of Inchon.

Then she guarded the approaches to Inchon while Cayuga remained in the hostile harbor with the British cruiser Ceylon and a United States task group providing gunfire support for approaching U. N. armies.

During sea patrol off Inchon, Nootka spotted and destroyed a mine and rescued a Royal Navy flier from the carrier H.M.S. Theseus who was forced to ditch his plane close to her. The pickup was accomplished in four minutes. The flier was unhurt.

Scouts Self-Help Contrasted to TV Catering by Dean

The Boy Scout movement develops the enterprising spirit of Canadian boys, Dean T. L. Leadbeater told Kiwanis Club Thursday night at the Hume.

Dean Leadbeater was appealing for financial assistance for the Boy Scout movement in connection with Boy Scout Week, and for a volunteer from the Club to aid in a canvass. The appeal was turned over to a committee.

"We don't want to amuse them, we want to teach them to make their own amusements," the speaker said. The training received by the Scout covered a wide course and stimulated his observation. As a contrast, the Dean referred to the trend to television in the United States, where youth leaders viewed with alarm the tendency on the part of children to sit back and do nothing but watch the television screens.

The whole plan in Scouting was to develop the character of the boys. They worked hard to raise money themselves, and were assisted by the executive, which had many financial problems in connection with the movement. The Scout Hall, for instance, was in poor condition; a provincial assessment had to be paid and money had to be found to send the boys to camporees and jamborees, affairs which stimulated the movement.

The executive also assisted in training of leaders who volunteered their services, receiving, of course, no pay. The leaders, particularly District Commissioner Don Ure, were giving a tremendous amount of time to the movement, and he felt they should not always have to "bear the brunt" of the financial problem. The movement was of a community-wide nature.

COMMITTEE SET

W. G. Hamilton, Chairman; Samuel Korbin and G. W. Jensen were appointed a committee to bring in recommendations on the Club's annual Spring dance.

K. W. Jensen was asked to continue as Kiwanis representative on the Midsummer Bonspiel Committee, and support similar to that of last year, when all service clubs rallied behind the Bonspiel, was promised.

Libby Dam Would Revolutionize South-East Kootenay Geography

CRANBROOK, B. C., Feb. 15 — International Joint Commission hearings with regard to effects of a proposed dam on the Kootenay River at Libby, Mont. on East Kootenay are scheduled for various East Kootenay Centers in mid-March, with Cranbrook's hearing to be in the city hall here March 16. Hearings are at request of the United States Government which has conditionally authorized the project subject to state, province and Dominion approval.

Though the project has been under practical consideration for three years no East Kootenay organization has yet taken a public stand. Hearings will give every opportunity to those affected to place their views before the public.

Cost of the project in 1948 was estimated at $258,659,000 to provide 800,000 horsepower, 4,250,000 acre-feet of usable water storage, and develop 244,000 kilowatts with 821,000 kilowatts of system prime power because plants down river would benefit. The Canadian portion of the reservoir would cost an estimated $5,500,000 for necessary installations above the dam and to compensate operating interests in the area which would be flooded in this district, cost to be borne by the American Government.

Realization of the Libby dam would revolutionize the very geography of Southern East Kootenay. It would create a lake 89 miles long, approximately the size of Kootenay Lake in the mountain valley Westward. This lake would straddle the International Boundary at the present village of Newgate, with its Northern end 45 miles North in the vicinity of Wardner on the Southern Trans-Provincial highway about 20 miles East of Cranbrook.

WOULD AFFECT RAILROAD

Most obvious detrimental effects are flooding of the sparsely settled valley South of Wardner. It provides excellent farming conditions along the river banks, and timber for small portable sawmill operations scattered along the valley. The Kootenay runs briskly in substantially increasing volume through this part of East Kootenay but cannot be considered steep. Since flat-bottom wood-burning boats from Fort Steele navigated it fairly regularly South to Jennings near Libby up to about 1910, it must be considered navigable. Its course is fairly direct, tending slightly Southeastward, and it runs through a valley flanked by the Rockies and a spur of the Purcells. Level of the proposed dam would be 2440 feet above sea level, over 500 feet lower than Cranbrook.

HIGHWAY CHANGE

Relocation of a few miles of Southern Transprovincial Highway and the Crow's Nest branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Wardner area would probably be necessary. Much of the secondary road from Elko to Newgate and the Gateway border station would be completely inundated.

TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

It would provide East Kootenay with a resort and tourist attractions secondary only to Kootenay National Park, adding a big lake to the Southern section which is already famous for its rugged scenery, fishing and hunting and it is within comfortable range of Kimberley, Cranbrook and Fernie, says the project's supporters.

Power potential of the dam facilities at Libby would go into the huge Northwest power pool which also includes the Columbia facilities in Washington and Oregon. There has been no discussion as to whether East Kootenay would secure direct power benefits. At present power is supplied by East Kootenay Power and Light a few miles North of Wardner on the Bull River before it joins the Kootenay, and installations at Elko 15 miles East of Wardner on the Elk River before it joins the Kootenay. Additional East Kootenay power for Cominco operations at Kimberley will be available shortly in line installations planned from West Kootenay across Kootenay Lake and the main Purcell range to Kimberley. This is in the 1951 expansion program.

The huge reservoir is also considered as fountainhead of irrigation, though in the Canadian part except for the Kootenay River bottom now successfully farmed which also provides excellent grazing for the increasingly significant livestock beef industry, the terrain is steep, rocky and not apparently productive. Irrigation might change this picture, however.

THIRD BENEFIT

Third major benefit listed by advocates of the project is measures for flood control. Most costly damage on the Kootenay River in recent flood years, notably the 1948 disaster, was in Montana, then in Bonner's Ferry, Idaho district where diked lands were inundated, and further down river at Creston, B. C., where swamped dikes collapsed running damage into millions. The Kootenay continues from Creston into Kootenay Lake and Nelson, to join the Columbia at Castlegar.

The Kootenay River occupies 19,300 square miles, three-fourths in Canada and the remainder in Montana and Idaho. Approval of the American Government has already been given, but must also be given by the two states. Most in the Montana hearings was that serious objection turned up in 1948 seven little towns would be inundated and a state highway obliterated. Zonolite Company, which has a vermiculite mine in the area, and K. Neils Lumber Company, operating a sustained yield program in the Fisher River watershed which would be under water filed protests.

British Columbia would be required to affirm the plan, and Canadian Government approval would be necessary before any practical implementation could be undertaken. The Kootenay hearings at Nelson, Creston, Cranbrook and Fernie should determine the public attitude toward the project.

GLASGOW, Feb. 15 (Reuters)—Work stopped at the big Rolls Royce aero engine factory here today when 3,500 workers went on strike in protest against the dismissal of two union officials.

Production at the factory, vital in the present arms drive, had already been held up by the refusal of engineers to work overtime. They are claiming more pay.

Argue Right to Cancel Contract

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 15 (CP) — The right of the Alberni School Board to terminate a contract with its architect for a $1,000,000 school project, was argued in Appeal Court today.

R. D. Harvey, K.C., counsel in the appeal of Hubert Savage of Victoria, who claims $27,560 from the School Board for plans drafted for three Alberni schools, said that under the contract the Board was bound to pay Mr. Savage his full six per cent commission for work done in connection with the plans.

Fire Protection Certain For Invermere Homes

INVERMERE, B.C., Feb. 15 — Adequate fire-protection is in sight for Invermere. Purchase of $1000 worth of fire fighting equipment from the Cranbrook Fire Department has been negotiated. This consists of a 1932 International truck with a 12 foot roof ladder and a 25 foot extension ladder. It is also equipped with a centrifugal front mounted pump, 2 soda ash chemical extinguishers, 2 re-inforced suction hoses and a 5 h.p. flasher siren.

Roy Lake, Ian Weir and William Bond made a trip to Cranbrook to inspect the equipment and on consultation with the local Fire Marshal feel that such equipment is the answer to the serious problem that has been facing the town which has no protection whatever except that provided by local garages with extinguishers and by courtesy emergency help from the Forest Service.

Four fires within the past year have resulted in complete loss of buildings and contents. Two were business premises, one the liquor store the other the Chuck Wagon restaurant. Two were private residences.

All Time Safety Year For Cominco

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 15 — Last year was the safest record for the 9000 employees of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, according to figures released today. The biggest gain in safety was made by the 5000 employees at the Trail plants. There the accident rate dropped 33 per cent with a new low of one accident for every 67,000 hours worked being set. This amounts to about one accident for every 30 years of work per employee.

The Alberta Nitrogen Department at Calgary had the lowest accident rate for company operations. The 300 employees there had only one accident for every 110,000 hours worked.

At the Sullivan Mine in Kimberley, the 500-man surface crew worked for 227 days without an accident, erasing the old mark of 150 days which was set in 1933.

Commenting on the record year for safety in 1950, a company official said that the accident rate has been decreasing steadily since the end of the war. "The keen cooperation of employees as well as the intensive safety program put on by the company have been important factors," he said.

PORT ALBERNI SCHOOL COST UP 14 PER CENT

PORT ALBERNI, B.C., Feb. 15 (CP) — An estimated 14 per cent increase in school costs for 1951 in Port Alberni and district is reported by District No. 70 Board of School Trustees.

The Board has budgeted for an expenditure of $1,333,313. Estimated revenue this year is $1,011,563, of which government grants will amount to $427,794, by-laws $425,657 and a surplus of $16,044 from last year, leaving $304,725 to be raised by taxation.

Last year the Board budgeted for $451,513, with an actual expenditure of $412,906.

Main reasons for the sharp jump in costs are operation charges of new school buildings, increased debt charges and inclusion of 1951 by-law expenditures.

Pennsylvania, great coal-producing state, has a total mineral production of more than $1,000,000,000 annually.

$450,000 Trail-Tadanac Share In Proposed New Hospital Project

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 15—Trail City Council last night was asked for assurance that the City of Trail would pay its share of the costs of constructing and furnishing a new hospital here. Council referred the request, from the Trail-Tadanac Hospital Board, to Ald. L. A. Read, Council's representative on the Board, for further clarification.

The letter from the Hospital Board said that the building was expected to cost approximately $1,500,000. Government grants and hospital funds would pay for a part of the project, but the municipalities of Trail and Tadanac would be required to raise a total of some $450,000.

The Board pointed out that there would be some return on the two cities' share. When the new building was completed, the present hospital building would be sold, possibly for about $200,000, and that sum would be returned to Trail and Tadanac in proportion to the amounts raised for the new building by the two cities.

The communities' share of the cost is worked out on the basis of communities paying one-third of the total cost and the Provincial Government being responsible for the remaining two-thirds, part of the latter being paid by the Federal Government through a grant of $1000 per bed, which in this case would amount to $150,000.

The communities' share then would be one-third, or $500,000 for construction costs, but the Hospital Board can provide $117,000 of that sum through its construction fund, which leaves $383,000. Added to that is cost of furnishings, expected to total $100,000, of which the cities' share is two-thirds, or $67,000, bringing the overall cost to the cities up to $450,000.

There was no indication as to what part of the $450,000 Trail would have to raise.

Higgs Named Chairman of Railroad Groups; Daylight Saving Fought

President O. C. Higgs of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Lodge 558, was appointed chairman for the newly organized joint meetings of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, at a recent joint meeting. A. Peterson was Secretary.

Daylight saving time was discussed. It was pointed out that it would be satisfactory if all watches and clocks were changed including the railroad, but that this would be impractical. The railroad would encounter heavy expense twice each year in making the changeover.

Most of the men in the running trades were called for work at any hour of the day or night, every day in the year. The meeting felt that the inconveniences caused by changing the time for the Summer months could be overcome if those who favored it got up an hour earlier in the mornings and arranged their daily program accordingly.

Necessary steps seeking to "rectify this matter" will be taken by the organizations, it was decided.

Cabaret Officers Pay $14,000 Fine

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — Magistrate Oscar Orr today fined a cabaret and two of its officers $14,000 for income tax evasion.

The fine was suggested by Special Crown Prosecutor Paul D. Murphy in the case of Nick Kogos, president, and John D. Dillias, an employee of the Commodore Cabaret Ltd.

Mr. Murphy told the court that a check for $111,000 to cover seven years — from 1942 to 1948 — of falsified income tax returns was paid Wednesday.

Movie Gossip—

Leading Comedians bid for Hollywood's TV Industry

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15 (AP) — The "revolt of the comics" today appeared to be hastening Hollywood's bid for contention in the television industry.

This is no organized rebellion. It is a growing distaste on the part of several top comedians for the rigors of doing television shows in New York. All of the men I polled have homes here and most of them are engaged in movie work. They dislike being uprooted for the strenuous life of Eastern TV.

Furthermore, several of the comics are against "live" video, preferring to offer their efforts on film. Bob Hope is one of these.

"Why not take advantage of cutting?" he inquired. "Doing a show on film would cut out the sloppiness.

"The same thing happened in radio. People realized you can get a much better show on tape than you can broadcasting 'live.' "

Abbott and Costello, who recently made their TV debuts, also favor films. They have one more Eastern show to do and have turned down "fabulous" offers to do more.

NOT EVEN SKELTON

Red Skelton, who has not yet made his TV debut, told me: "You couldn't get me to New York on a bet." He plans to start a TV series in October and he will film a half-hour show bi-weekly in Hollywood.

Jack Benny is an advocate of "live" shows and would like to do his stint from Hollywood. He has trekked to New York for two shows this season.

Widow Tells Court of Husband's Taunting

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — A 38-year-old widow told the British Columbia Supreme Court yesterday her husband used to shout at her when she asked for housekeeping money and doled out a few dollars at a time.

When Charles Harold Peterson died 27 months ago, he was worth $750,000, counsel for Mrs. Ethel Peterson said.

Mrs. Peterson is asking an increase in the $150-a-month left her by her husband. Mr. Peterson was 58 and she was 18 when they were married in 1930.

In a quiet voice, Mrs. Peterson related how she met Peterson here in 1929 and took him to her home, thinking he would be a suitable friend for her mother. The next year, he asked the daughter to marry him and she had accepted, she said, to help her mother, who had had to work for their living.

"He was kind until our son was born in 1933; after that he belittled me and said I would never amount to anything," the widow said.

"I went to church despite his protests but he would not allow me to go to shows."

Mrs. Peterson said she had nursed him through long illnesses.

Mrs. Peterson's application was adjourned to Feb. 22 for lawyers to draft a settlement for consideration by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

India Owns Huge Thorium Supply

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) — Here's one hush-hush reason for the policy American leaders describe as patience and kindness toward India:

India has three-quarters of the world's supply of thorium, a mineral that may become tremendously important in the atomic race with the Soviet Union, and the United States government doesn't want to risk letting this supply fall into unfriendly hands.

The whole subject is shrouded in secrecy, but one government official who asked not to be quoted by name, acnowledged today that India's possession of all this potential atomic material has had its effect on American policy.

It may well have influenced President Truman's request — endorsed in principle by former President Herbert Hoover and various other leading Republicans — for a gift of 2,000,000 tons of wheat to the government of India to help avert the danger of famine.

Ill Mother Struggles Through 30 Below Weather to Safety

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C., Feb. 15 (CP) — A desperately-ill mother of five children told here today of a struggle through deep snow in 30 below zero weather to reach the safety of a neighbor's home.

Mrs. Brownie Perry suffered an appendicitis attack while her husband was out on the range.

She couldn't leave her children, the youngest 10 months old, so she lashed them on a hand sleigh and started a trek across the range.

She trudged for miles only to find the first ranch house she reached unoccupied, but the door was unlocked.

Mrs. Perry entered and telephoned the nearest neighbor, Mrs. Ann Johnston at Riske Creek, who went to her aid.

The two women then hauled the sleigh with the children to Riske Creek, from where medical aid was called.

One of the children may lose the tips of three fingers as a result of frostbite. The others suffered no injury.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 15 (Reuters) — A small plane decapitated four persons when it dipped in a farewell salute at the Paraguay Encarnacion Airport, according to press reports reaching here today.

The four were friends, who came to bid farewell to a lieutenant of the Paraguayan Air Force.

B.C. Aluminum Project Defined

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — McNeillie Du Bose, Vice-President of the Aluminum Company of Canada, told the Empire Club today that development of the British Columbia aluminum project is the quickest and cheapest way to increase production on the scale required by Canada and her allies for military purposes.

"Today, after three years of work and $1,000,000 spent, the scope and details of the project are well defined," said Mr. Du Bose. "The access road to the powerhouse site is being built and commitments are being made for hard-to-get construction equipment so that there need be no delay in getting this development under way."

Coast Loggers Back To Island Forests

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — The "holiday"is over for most Vancouver Island loggers.

They headed back to work today as snow plows and work gangs cleared up deep snow in lumbering districts. Boats leaving Vancouver were packed and the majority of workers were bound for Alberni, Campbell River, Hillcrest, Youbou and Mesachie Lake.

Some 2300 loggers were laid off shortly after Christmas when heavy snowfalls stopped logging operations. Officials said the unemployment list may be back to normal by the end of the week.

Revive Confidence Game in B. C. Towns

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 15 (CP) — One of the oldest confidence games in the books is being tried on some British Columbians. Residents of Cowichan Lake, Greenwood and Princeton have been contacted by letter by a person who alleges he is in a Mexican jail.

The letter claims the writer has documents entitling him to untold wealth that is stored in a customs warehouse and says if the recipient of the letter will only send financial help to get him out of jail, he will share the great wealth.

The trick has robbed many unsuspecting persons of their savings in past years. Police refer to it as "the old Spanish prisoner game."

Economical Step

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Postmaster General Rinfret told the Commons today his department is contemplating some changes in urban postal deliveries, "in view of the economics that we have to make."

Sturdy, Religious Moslems Would Fight Against Atheistic Russia

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

The Moscow Press, marking the first anniversary of the Russo-Chinese alliance, makes much of the claim that the joint actions of the two countries will have a powerful influence on the future of humanity.

Certainly, as things now stand, the vast Asiatic theatre, which contains more than half the world's population, presents a grave problem for the democracies. It could be the decisive battlefield of the ideological struggle.

GENERATIONS BEHIND

Many of these peoples still are living in primitive conditions, literally generations behind the Western world. Poverty and hunger are the general rule.

So the combination of the Soviet Union and huge Red China comprises a formidable alliance, especially since much of their territories actually lie within Eastern Asia. China, to be sure, suffers from the common ailment of poverty and hunger. But she has a vast reservoir of manpower which is backed by Russian resources — military and otherwise.

It is, of course, too early to arrive at any final conclusion regarding the Asiatic situation. A long, hard conflict may lie ahead.

GREATLY ALTERED

Much will depend on the trend of the struggle in Western Europe. Should war develop there, and should Russia overrun the continent the picture in Asia would be greatly altered.

In short, Russia would be pretty well queen of the globe — a circumtance which this column doesn't expect to develop.

The Asiatic struggle may take on a different complexion as Communism increasingly comes up against the Moslem countries.

We may expect sturdy religious resistance on the part of the Moslem peoples against atheistic Communism. The Moslem takes his belief in God seriously, and will fight for it.

So we get back to the premise that the outcome of the Russo-Chinese operations in Asia is bound to have a great influence on the future of humanity. And there is, as I see it, no reason why the democracies shouldn't look forward confidently to the outcome.

Witness to Keep Prices Uniform

CALGARY, Feb. 15 (CP)—Evidence that efforts had been made to maintain uniform bread prices at Regina, Calgary and Edmonton was given today by Frank E. Alloway, Edmonton, a former manager and regional sales supervisor for McGavin Ltd., when he testified before Mr. Justice Boyd McBride at the alleged bread combine case which is now in its sixth week.

Alloway said he started the McGavin plant at Regina in December, 1939, and managed it until 1936 when he came to Calgary to open the McGavin plant which he managed for 18 months before he went to Edmonton as regional sales manager of McGavin Prairie plants under Archie M. McGavin. He left McGavin's in 1945.

When he opened the McGavin plant at Calgary he had "adopted the prices of the other bakeries" such as Canadian Bakeries, Model Bakeries and Golden West, a Weston plant. McGavin's had become a member of the Alberta Master Bakers Association of which George Weir was the Calgary secretary. Alloway attended Association meetings and said it was an aim of the Association "to keep uniformity among the trade." He said some of the larger customers were given "secret discounts" which were denied the smaller retailers and it was the duty of Weir to investigate complaints of price-cutting or secret discounts and try to have them eliminated. The Association also tried to regulate the price and weight of "sweet goods" and to eliminate Sunday deliveries. Similar conditions had prevailed at Edmonton, he said.

Trappers Choose Queen at The Pas

At the same time, the 140-mile Canadian dog derby to Cranberry Portage and back got under way. After 10 miles, at Pike's Lake, Bill Beardy of Grand Rapids, Man., was in the lead.

The new beauty queen is Helen Lundy, a blue-eyed brunette who stands five feet, four inches.

Miss Lundy won out over three other contestants representing the Northern Manitoba communities of Flin Flon, Churchill and The Pas.

A scant one minute behind Beardy in the dog derby came Gilbert Lavallee, Pine Bluffs trapper. Both were driving eight-dog teams. George Poirier, woodsman of The Pas, was in third position, a minute behind Lavallee.

The drivers and teams will rest at Cranberry Portage overnight, covering the return lap Friday.

OPPOSES SENATE REFORM

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—Veteran Senator John T. Haig said today he opposes any sweeping reform of the Senate.

The 73-year-old Progressive Conservative leader from Manitoba told fellow senators that they no longer were politicians. As senators they were arbitrators or judges of the legislation which streamed from the elected House of Commons. Any suggestion of an elected Senate would upset this independence.

Senator Haig, 15 years a member of the upper chamber, was replying to proposals by Senator Wishart Robertson, Government leader, which revived the old question of Senate reform.

Sandwiches, Cakes Can Be Stored in Empty Lockers

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Let's take a look at those half-empty food lockers, and a second glance at the food budget.

At this time of year most of the vegetables and fruit stored last Summer have been consumed. "Waste" space is left.

And we literally mean that. Waste. Because that space costs money. Lockers are paid for by the year—so why leave them half empty?

And they've come up with some encouraging results.

Sandwiches can be kept frozen for months on end. Cakes also can be frozen, coming out as delicious as the day they were put in.

This news should be cheerful to the ear of the housewife who must count lunch-box packing among her daily chores.

It means she can pack enough lunches to last a month, putting them in the freezer until needed.

BEST FILLINGS

Leftover meat, fish and peanut-butter are the best fillings for sandwiches which are to be frozen. Lettuce, Tomatoes and hardcooked eggs should be avoided as they do not keep well. Mayonnaise should not be used as a spread as it tends to make the bread soggy under freezing.

Cooked food to be frozen must be wrapped carefully in moisture and vapor-proof paper.

The experts say bread also stands up well under freezing. In the near future they hope to look into the possibility of freezing such goodies as angel-cakes, cookies, rolls and pies.

So far the results they have obtained are encouraging.

That Easter Bonnet May Be Sensation

PARIS, Feb. 15 (Reuters) — Milady's Easter bonnet this year promises to become the centre of attention in her Spring silhouette.

Reminiscent of grandfather's derby, great grandfather's tricorne or father's wartime forage cap, 1951 hats promise a revolution in styles.

The newest ones, just shown here in Paris, are worn straight on the head, titled slightly forward. Crowns are important, over tiny brims. High-crowned hats, derby inspired, have rippling or scalloped brims.

The most-talked-of hat, the star of Pierre Balmain's first separate millinery collection, is made of plywood. It is a tiny sailor shaped in plywood, edged in leaf-green grosgrain and trimmed with a few tiny rosebuds.

Picture hats, for the dressy occasion, have stepped right out of a Gainsborough painting.

Madame Paulette offers gay West Indian turbans worn under large rough straw brims. The two pieces form one hat but each may be worn separately.

Canned Fruit Is Versatile

By MARGARET CARR

Canned fruit, whether purchased from your grocer or preserved by you last Summer, is one of the best things there ever was to have at hand.

When you plan to serve canned fruit as it comes from the jar or can, your family will enjoy it more if the fruit is opened, poured into the serving dish and allowed to chill in the refrigerator for a few hours before serving.

We have a number of ways we like to serve our "preserves" and there follow recipes for some of our favorites.

FRUIT DUFF

Grease a baking dish or bowl, spread drained cherries or other canned fruit in the bottom; sprinkle with brown sugar and drop over the fruit 2 teaspoons of lemon juice then cover with your favorite baking powder biscuit dough, making the dough a little softer than for biscuits with the addition of a little more liquid. Fit the dough closely aruond the sides, cover with oiled paper and steam for one hour. Then lift out of the steamer, remove the paper brush over with butter and place under the gas flame or electric element of your oven to brown the crust. Serve hot. Sauce is not necessary, as the fruit and sugar usually form enough sauce for the dessert, but if desired, extra sauce may be made from the drained-off juice, thickening it slightly with cornstarch and adding to it a little more sugar, a few drops of lemon juice and a teaspoonful of butter.

FRUIT COBBLER

Place the fruit in the bottom of a greased pudding dish, sprinkle with brown sugar, dot with butter and add a tablespoonful of the fruit syrup to which one-half teaspoon of almond extract has been added. Make your favorite baking powder biscuit dough and roll into an oblong one-quarter inch thick. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar; roll up jelly-roll fashion; cut in one-half inch slices, place the slices on the fruit, then bake in a fairly hot oven (375 deg. F.) for about 35 minutes.

Art Wallace's Interest In Youth Brought Student 'Spiel to Nelson

They're starting to call him "Pop" Wallace around the curling rinks, and for T. A. (Art) Wallace there must be a particular satisfaction in the nickname. We have known other men who have, after years of work for and with youngsters, earned the tag, and always it has been a badge that combined respect and affection. We are probably not going too far to suggest that the sobriquet is additionally apt in this case because Art Wallace, without a doubt, is the father of student curling in British Columbia.

Now the hard-working sportsman's big day is near at hand. And it's an equally big day for Mrs. Wallace, incidentally, and for all Nelson. The Canadian High Schools Curling Bonspiel is only three days away.

Nelson has been the curling capital of B. C. already this season, and will in the Summer, of course, again stage its famed Midsummer Bonspiel and Canadian Summer curling championship. But right now it's concerning itself with being the kid curling capital and for all of Canada. It's a job we could be proud of for its association with healthful things for youth alone, but we can be additionally proud because, through Pop Wallace, the Kootenay has been represented in the van of those who worked for the organization of a benefitting sports movement on a national scale.

Certainly, there have been others to help, but let's put our share of the glory right where it belongs, and that on Art Wallace's shoulders. There are none among those who are interested in youngsters' sport and the investing of a healthful, competitive spirit in youth but can remember seeing Art Wallace at the park encouraging young swimmers, at the Recreation Grounds cheering on track and field teams and ball nines, in the arena coaching boxla teams or on the ice with his Maple Buds—the tiniest but most spirited crew to don skates and hockey gear. In all things Wallace's kids were instilled with a spirit of keenness and competition. We can remember, perhaps, as well as any of these things, when Art Wallace entered a rink of youngsters, practically, in the Provincial Bonspiel, and the mild stir aroused when his kids showed up in the Little Bonspiel. That was the start. Next came Saturday High School curling, and then the Provincial Student Bonspiel.

It is no exaggeration to say that Nelson has been honored with the choice as host city for the national student championship because of Art Wallace's hand in the founding of the sport on its present scale. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace have had a part in establishing a sport on a national scale, just as surely as they have done Nelson and their home-district kids a lasting favor.

Atom "Games" on God's Day

To the Editor:

Sir—I was pleased to read the statement in the Nelson Daily News letter to the Editor Feb. 8, from members of the Nelson Ministerial Association and Christian leaders of the community. I am glad that your clergymen answered the S.O.S., not meant for sailors only, but for Christianity and Christians.

As we go down to the oceans as Christians crying S.O.S., it means save our soul, but no answer comes from our clergy. As you clergymen stated in your letter, "In these rather grave and perilous days we view with alarm the ever-increasing amount of sporting activity that is taking place on Sunday throughout the year.

"It is not only a violating of the Christian conscience, but a menace to Christians' efforts which try to uphold the standard of our Christian democratic way of life."

But clergymen and we Christians are failing to mention many more important games that are playing in the Christian era, and on God's Day. Like in Nevada, U.S.A., and during the last week of January, 1951, and the first week of February, what they call atom bomb practice. Isn't it violating to Christianity? As blasts went out, panic struck the people. As they heard blasts animals were frightened to death, windows blown up like balloons, then fell to pieces, radiation spread over the earth. Does it make us healthy? Is it the Christian way? Will a barbell or basketball shake our windows or our bodies to pieces as the atom bomb?

Wake up, Christians! We are sinking. Wake up, clergy, and go to strange lands to meet and teach people regardless of their race, creed, color and nationality. There are six of you signed on your letter, and the other six are missing. You have St. Peter's key to Christianity; nobody else has it yet. Only the clergy. No dictator has it yet; just you. Go ahead and save our souls.

CHRISTIAN.

Verse

The Waltz Sonnet

Oh thank Thee, God, for those immortal minds
Of music which will never, never die;
Majestic movement of meandering lines,
Ascending softly, sweetly in the sky.
They who have their cherish'd strings
Of waltzes graceful as the feather'd flight,
Romantic as the Springtime sparrows sing
Their dreamy tones amid a morning rite.
Enchanting to a pair of glowing hearts
Are waltzes, as they flow throughout the night;
So noble, truest in the beauteous arts,
So towering over anything that's trite.
So be there any who would disapprove,
Then they their waltzes never did improve.

LINES

Salty depts, thy Western waves are heaving,
Lashing lisping winds of April's being.
Misty mountains void of frost so early
Fragrance of the Spring is come so clearly.
Hidden fibres, waiting Ceres' glance,
Heralding the drowsy pigments dance.

Gardener, Nelson—Is there a quick way to destroy large weeds in a lawn?

Cut them down to ground level, and pour a few drops of coal oil on the crowns. They immediately commence to decay, and are entirely destroyed. There are of course many commercial weed-killers on the market.

Adult, Creston—Can you give me a recipe for brandy mint julep?

Brandy, one wineglass; sugar, one lump; fresh mint, one or two small springs; orange, one thin slice; crushed ice. Put lump sugar into glass and dissolve in few drops of cold water, add brandy, mint and a little crushed ice. On top place a small piece of orange and a small piece of pineapple, and serve.

Curious, Kimberley—What is the origin of the word "jingo"?

"By jingo" was originally employed as a mild oath and appears to have become common after Motteux translated the phrase "par Dieu" as "by jingo" in an edition of Rabelais. The Oxford Dictionary supposes the word to have been "a piece of conjuror's gibberish".

F. K., Nelson—To settle an argument, did Jack Johnson die as the result of injuries received in the ring?

No. Jack Johnson was killed in an automobile accident.

Sinclair Lewis

Charlie Crandall, once Managing Editor of The Montreal Star, referring to the death of Sinclair Lewis, tells of an evening spent with the creator of "Main Street" in a Spanish restaurant on Swallow Street in London. Herb Bailey, of the British United Press, and Hank Wales, of the Chicago Tribune, were there too, and the latter held the stop-watch in an unusual wager.

Lewis bet Crandall that in four minutes he could write a sonnet fitted around any 14 line-ending, rhyming words the Canadian editor cared to jot down. Crandall wrote down 14 words which rhymed but were absolutely meaningless. And he lost the bet. Says Crandall, "I still have in my files at home the sonnet Lewis wrote. It was perfect in rhythm, had a definite meaning from first to last, and was quite printable."—Napier Moore in The Financial Post.

From an Oldtimer's Notebook

by R.G. JOY

Editor's note: This is a third installment in the story of Martin Fry, Kootenay pioneer, by R. G. Joy, Historian of the Nelson District Oldtimers Association).

The Winter 1876 was put in by Martin Fry trading with the Indians. Their only product for barter was furs, but they brought in lots of these.

There were no wagon roads in the country only a pack train trail leading from Sandpoint on the Pend d'Oreille to the Wild Horse mine in B.C., 100 miles North of Bonners Ferry, where Fort Steele now is. The only mail they had the Winter through was brought from Victoria, B.C., once a month. The postman brought the mail on a pack horse over the mountains by the Dewdney Trail through Colville and Pend d'Oreille to Sandpoint.

He always stopped at the trading post which, of course was a great event. When the snow got too deep for the horses, the mailman took to snowshoes. The postman's name was Brady. His only companion was a good big mongrel dog.

Dick Fry had an old friend at Fort Steel, who was taken very sick and on his death bed he bequeathed his fine bulldog to the Frys. This dog lived at the post, but Brady's dog came in and utterly routed him.

There was an old Indian mask at the store and the next time that Brady appeared Martin carefully tied this mask over the bulldog's head. The effect was terrifying—in fact so bad that poor Brady's dog left in a wild panic and could not be induced to come back to the store.

GAME PLENTIFUL

Game was wonderfully plentiful. Until the river and the swamps froze up. The place was alive with ducks, geese and now and then swans. The Indians brought in marten, bear, lynx, muskrat, fisher, cougar, mink and otter.

In the Spring, Dick and Martin with one half-breed and one Kootenay Indian took out the furs by pack train. They had about 10 horses and went by the Dewdney Trail to Hope and on down to New Westminster. There they left the pack train and help and took the furs by steamer to Victoria. Two fur dealers bid on the furs and they were sold at auction at a very satisfactory price.

With the proceeds of the furs the Frys bought goods for the next Winter's trade. They bonded the Victoria goods through Idaho and back into British Columbia at Port Hill. The idea of having the two stores, one on each side of the line, was to control the whole fur trade of that part of the country.

FAMILY MOVES

Dick Fry took the pack train back Martin went by steamer to Shoalwater Bay where his family welcomed him. After quickly settling up their affairs, selling their oyster boat etc., Martin and family took the Verona for Astoria at the mouth of the Columbia River, from there by steamer to Wallalula, near Walla Walla, and there transfered to Baker's Narrow gauge road for Walla Walla where they met Dick's freight team. This freight team had been hired to haul the goods that they had purchased at Walla Walla for the Bonners Ferry store.

The youngest Fry boy, Freddy Lee, was two years old. The road only went to Semneacquoteen from there the goods, Mrs. Fry and Freddy were taken to Bonners Ferry by the pack train.

The Fry family settled down happily though there were no white neighbors. There was another good Winter's trade in furs and next Spring Dick went off to sell the furs leaving Martin in charge.

Absent Tse-Tung Rouses Rumors

BY FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG, Feb. 15 (AP) — Observers of the China scene began to express curiosity today about the whereabouts of Mao Tse-Tung, Communist Chinese leader.

They noted he had failed to appear at three important functions in the last few days.

Reports in this strategic vantage point said last month that Mao had gone or was going to Moscow to confer with Stalin on the Korean war and other Asiatic developments.

Mao's last known public appearance in Peiping was Jan. 26, when he attended the celebration of Indian National Day.

The huge Chinese-sponsored celebration of the first anniversary of the Chinese-Soviet treaty signing was held Wednesday in Peiping. Nearly all the Chinese Communist government and party leaders were reported there, along with all foreign diplomats. But not Mao.

Two hours earlier, Russian Ambassador N. V. Roshchin gave a cocktail party at the Russian embassy. Reports listed Chinese Red government and party leaders there up to Premier Chou En-Lai and Gen. Chu Teh, the Red's Army Commander. But not Mao.

Communist propaganda describing these events did not mention the absence of the Reds' No. 1, but his name was glaringly missing from the lists.

Mao does not always attend such functions. But it was intriguing that he did not appear at any of the Chinese-Soviet treaty celebrations, which received top billing on the Communists' political-social schedule for the week.

MOSCOW, Feb. 15 (AP)—Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov headed a big group of distinguished Russian leaders at a reception given by the Chinese Embassy last night to mark the first anniversary of the Soviet-Chinese treaty.

Molotov led a toast to the Chinese army and the Soviet army and to Mao Tze-tung, head of the Central People's Government of the People's Republic of China, and Chu Teh, Mao's army commander-in-chief.

Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky led a toast to the "Korean people's liberation army" and all countries "following in the historic path which has been pointed out by the U.S.S.R.," Soviet Press accounts said today.

Countries Confer On Pooling Plan

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

PARIS, Feb. 15 (AP)—Representatives of five European governments—including West Germany—conferred here today on a French-sponsored plan for pooling men, guns, ships and planes in one big European army.

The first assignment for such a force would be to make its armed strengths available to Gen. Eisenhower's Atlantic alliance command. So far individual countries have pledged Eisenhower only about a dozen divisions.

The countries represented at the conference in addition to France and West Germany are Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg. Five other powers invited to join in the plan—Britain, Norway, Denmark, The Netherlands and Portugal—agreed only to send observers. Canada and the United States also will have observers on hand.

Success or failure of the French plan may depend on the British attitude. Precedent does not indicate that Britain's Labor Government will be enthusiastic. It has been cool toward the Schuman coal-steel pooling plan and kindred steps toward federalization of Europe.

You pay for examination of your driving ability and a semi-annual car checkup fee!

And your car license? Wouldn't $5.00 be plenty for a four cylinder car . . . $10.00 ample for the average size car—instead of the exorbitant price you pay now? On top of all these overburdening taxes, your government in Victoria is collecting drivers' license fees FIVE YEARS IN ADVANCE . . . $5.00 more out of your pocket! The Sports Eye

BY CLIVE FLEMING

There will be no rest for Eddie Wares' wandering Maple Leafs. They start another W.I.H.L. series, three games in as many nights, after just arriving home from a successful Coast jaunt, batting .500.

The travel-weary locals just left the train at 10 o'clock Thursday night, but they'll be out to play the Kimberley Dynamiters here tonight, before playing a weekend pair in Spokane.

Not that a two-win record on the road is anything to hide under a bushel, but it was only the breaks that stopped Nelson from coming home with a better show. I have already mentioned in a previous column the break that gave Nanaimo Clippers their 6-5 overtime win, but the breaks were really tough for Nelson around Dinny McManus in the final game of the tour at Nanaimo. In the first period the tired locals should have piled up a lead, and at one time when Nelson was all over the Clippers, Eddie Wares hit the crossbar from close in, when he had pulled the little Irishman in the Clipper nets, to the ice. However, that's the way the game goes.

Eddie Wares was playing much better on the Leaf defence. Johnny Harms is still improving greatly on the front line and Neil McClenaghan is also playing better hockey.

Now that the scribbler has seen Nanaimo three times, he can't see how the Clippers will get past Kamloops or Kelowna to represent the M.O.A.H.L. in the Allan Cup chase. Eddie Shamlock has a lot of good players, but if a few of the lackadaisical stars would buck up in the playoffs, Scotty Milne's crew could knock off the Clippers come playoff time.

Players were bothered by smoke in both the Kerrisdale and Nanaimo rinks, a trouble which has been found in the Cominco arena too, but to make things even worse, there was cold water in the showers.

Except that the Leafs are leg weary and tired, they came out of the series in fair shape, with no really serious injuries. There are just a couple of bruises and stiff limbs.

It will be the last appearance of the Kimberley Dynamiters here before the playoffs when the same clubs pair off in the W.I.H.L. semis. Sully Sullivan will most likely be out of action tonight. It isn't known whether he will be ready for the playoffs or not.

The five Nelson players (Ernie Gare, George Barefoot, Bill Haldane, Johnny Harms and Red Koehle) who were picked to play on the all-star team which meets Spokane Tuesday, aren't overanxious to play in the "classic." In the remaining 10 days of the W.I.H.L. schedule, Nelson already has six games, with only a day rest before the playoffs. It's easy to imagine how much they relish the exhibition match.

Sports Eye got in on a little chat between B.C.A.H.A. President, Gerry Thomson and C.A.H.A. bigwig Doug Grimston, who maintained that Kerrisdale could not use Herb Lovett in the playoffs. Al Picard of the Saskatchewan branch refused a couple of clubs in that region the use of Lovett, recently released by Saskatoon Quakers, and now Grimston was saying unofficially that the Monarchs could not use Lovett in the playoffs.

(There was a new clause injected in the C.A.H.A. constitution this season whereby players could be registered 'til February 10.)

A notice had been sent to the various clubs that they could ink released pucksters 'til the tenth. Those players would naturally include players from pro ranks, as well as from senior and major circuits.

This reporter was not positive of the details of that clause, whether the players had to be registered in the provincial branch by that date, or in Toronto, as Grimston thought. In any case, if Lovett is not eligible to play for the Monarchs, it isn't likely that Stan Jones, another Quaker castoff who was picked up by Vernon, will be eligible. Other late minute roster changes included Johnny Ursaki going from Kamloops to Vernon, Alex Watt to Vernon Canadians from Nanaimo, Rod Booth going home to Prince Albert from Vernon, and Lou Holmes supposedly going to Kerrisdale from Canadians. Reinstated pros Busher Jackson and Kevin Conway had been picked up by Nanaimo.

Kamloops' protest of the Nanaimo 7-1 triumph, was based on the Clippers' use of Kevin Conway, an unreinstated pro. Apparently Busher Jackson, who was used in the previous Nanaimo win over Kerrisdale, was eligible.

Quakers Edge Flyers 5-4 In Rough Game

SASKATOON, Feb. 15 (CP) — Saskatoon Quakers tonight eked out a 5-4 victory over the second-place Edmonton Flyers in a Western Canada Senior Hockey League game here.

The game had no effect on the team standing. Calgary Stampeders are in first place with 61 points and Edmonton is two points back. Saskatoon holds down third spot with 45 and Regina Caps trail with 27.

Bill Ramsden, with two, Cy Rouse, Bob Wiest and George Senick scored for Saskatoon. Edmonton marksmen were Steve Witiuk, Alex Pringle, Ray Barry and Roy Heximer.

Fifteen penalties—including four majors and one misconduct—were handed out in the rugged encounter —played before 4500 fans.

A free-for-all broke out in the second period. The referees broke it up after five minutes and Flyer's Witiuk and Kilburn and Quakers' Larry Zeidel were given major penalties for fighting. Saskatoon's Senick got a major and an additional two-minute penalty for cross-checking.

Penalties were heavy in the third period. There were six men in the penalty box with a minute to play. Quaker's Bill Heindl was given a misconduct for arguing.

Sugar Ray Eyes Maxim's Crown

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (AP) — Middleweight Champion Ray Robinson set his sights on Joey Maxim's lightheavyweight crown today, still claiming the welter crown.

"Sure We'd like to fight Maxim," said George Gainford, Ray's manager. "It's the big money match. We've been after him for a year. Even got a $75,000 guarantee for Maxim from Bil Kyne in San Francisco. Positively, there's a chance of our fighting Maxim this Summer."

Gainford was equally positive about Robinson'swelter title claims.

"It's up to us to give it up," he said. Robinson however, added he'd "rather not" fight a- a welter but would try if "my manager wants me to."

It's an academic question because both the New York and Illinois Athletic Commissions insist he automatically yielded up the 147-pound crown when his hand was lifted as winner over Jake Lamotta in the 13th round Wednesday night at Chicago stadium.

Lamotta, the badly-battered and beaten bull of the Bronx, also was in line for Maxim.

Al Weill, I.B.C. matchmaker, indicated a Lamotta-Maxim fight is in the works. He also talked of Bob Satterfield as an opponent for Jake.

Nobody is talking about a Lamotta-Robinson rematch.

Gainford claims the return bout contract calling for a seventh Lamotta-Robinson bout in June on a 30-30-per-cent split is "an outside contract you can throw in the ashcan."

Robinson got 15 per cent plus $1500 television money or a total of $21,873.31, the official audit of the Wednesday night fight revealed today. Jake's 45 per cent TV cut came to $62,611.93. The revised gross gate was $186,866.05.

There was a slight swelling of Robinson's left hand and a lump near his left eye today.

"I won't fight until I get feeling good," he said. "You know that was rather strenuous last night."

"I hear I was dead," he said without expression. "I been right here in this room all the time. Take more than that guy to send me to the hospital."

Rangers Take Over Third Place in Beating Hawks; Leafs, Canadiens Tie

By The Canadian Press

Centre "Bones" Raleigh figured in six of the goals as New York Rangers took over third place in the National Hockey League with a 7-3 victory Thursday night over the last-place Chicago Black Hawks. The smallest crowd on record in Chicago, 4466, saw the hapless Hawks go down to defeat again.

In the night's other N.H.L. fixture, Toronto Maple Leafs came from behind to snatch a 2-2 draw with Montreal Canadiens before a Montreal Forum crowd of 14,301.

Raleigh had two goals and four assists at Chicago, with his 1-1 in Wednesday night's Ranger victory over the Hawks, gave him eight scoring points in two successive evenings. Up to this midweek explosion, Raleigh had 20 points in all for the season.

The Hawks now have lost five straight, have only one tie in their last seven games and only one victory and four ties out of their last 29.

The game at Montreal was a close-checking affair most of the way and took a lot out of the two battling teams, both of whom set a furious pace at the start.

Canadiens trotted out three newcomers and all of them showed well. Bob Dawes and Paul Meger from the American Hockey League were used largely on a line with Bernie Geoffrion, taken over from the Montreal Nationale Juniors.

Offer Wakefield $1 Contract

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 15 (AP) — Dick Wakefield, who flopped as a $50,000 (plus Cadillac) bonus outfielder for Detroit a decade ago, received this Valentine.

A 1951 contract calling for $1 salary, plus expenses with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

Oaks President "Brick" Laws said that in the heat of the 1950 P.C.L. pennant race (which Oakland won) Dick told him:

"Brick, you are the finest owner I've ever played for. Why, I'd be willing to come back to Oakland next year for $1 plus expenses."

Laws elaborated: Wakefield has been indifferent to oral offers. March 1 is the P.C.L. contract deadline. If Wakefield signs for $1 he'll beat the deadline and still can bargain.

And Laws added: Dick, a great showman, still might have the last say . . . sign for $1 and put in for $17,000 expenses, the amount of his 1950 contract.

Wakefield, reputed highest paid P.C.L. player in 1950, batted .293, drove in 38 runs and hit seven homers in 87 games.

Science Marches On

This unusual parachute picture was made during a recent survey by the U.S. Bureau of Medicine and Surgery at Patuxent, Maryland, to determine how the position of the body and bulkiness of flight clothing will affect a pilot's rate of fall in a free fall parachute descent. It was found that the type of suit worn had a significant effect on the rate of descent—a pilot wearing Winter flying suit falling slower than one in lighter, less-wind-resisting gear. Differences due to the tilt of the body during the fall were also found highly significant.—Central Press Canadian.

A Victim of Old Man Winter's Vengeance

There doesn't seem to be any relief in sight yet for residents of both Canada and U.S. who have been suffering from one of the worst cold waves to hit the continent for some time. A six-day coat of snow and ice has taken more than 200 lives in the U.S., while in Canada fires attributed to the cold weather outbreak have claimed 17 lives and caused over $1,000,000 in damages. A victim of Winter's wrath, seen above, is an ice-coated fireman, Capt. Neil MacLean, of Winnipeg, Man.—Central Press Canadian.

Starving Cougar Invades Hut

The cougar, above, plunged through the window of a Government telegraph patrol hut near Campbell River, B. C., attacking Edward McLean, 63, in the small room. Before McLean killed the animal he was clawed in the face and arms (right). Obviously starving, the animal weighed only 52 pounds, but it nearly succeeded in killing McLean.

Won "Outstanding Athletic" Trophy

It is doubtful if any athlete has ever brought more honors to the University of Western Ontario than Bob McFarlane, 23-year-old medical student who has been named winner of the Lou Marsh Memorial Trophy for 1950, symbolic of the outstanding Canadian athlete of the year. Bob, a London boy, is shown left with Western track coach Murray McNie. Besides playing football for Western's perennial intercollegiate champion Mustangs, Bob carried Western's colors to the Olympics and to many meets in United States and Europe, and owns a flock of Canadian records.—Central Press Canadian.

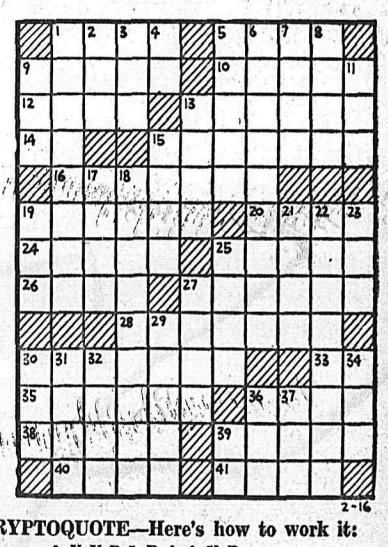
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

F O U U A O F, J O M P O W O S O, I A D E I E P U L D X P G U T G Y D S V A E L V Q, A E W O V D L K R O Y O Z G E U O — E Y L D M Z.

Italy, France to Consult on All European Issues

SANTA MARGHERITA LIGURA, Italy, Feb. 15 (AP) — France and Italy, closing a three-day conference here, announced today they will consult each other on international questions and present a common front on problems of German rearmament and European defences.

The Premiers and Foreign Ministers of the two countries issued a communique urging "intimate solidarity to thwart a movement attempting to upset Atlantic unity," adding that such solidarity is extremely important in the light of today's international situation.

Take or Leave Offer For Civic Workers

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — Some 1600 civic workers today were offered a take-it-or-leave it nine per cent pay boost.

The latest across-the-board increase was offered to the outside workers in an effort to end long-discussed wage negotiations.

The increase would boost wages to about $215 a month. They want a 10 per cent increase.

City officials said it was the final offer, and it would go to conciliation if not accepted.

Conciliators Fail to Settle C.P., Guild Case

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Proposals for settling a dispute between The Canadian Press, national news-gathering agency, and the American Newspaper Guild (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) were submitted today by a Federal Conciliation Board and accepted in part by the CP.

The majority and minority findings of the board, which reported to Labor Minister Gregg it had failed to settle the 10-month dispute are not binding on the parties.

The Canadian Press, in a statement issued at Toronto headquarters said it is in accord with a majority recommendation for five-per-cent salary increases for editorial men with a minimum weekly increase of $3. It also accepted a minority finding for minimum pay bases for editorial men in their first two years with CP.

The Guild countered with a Toronto statement saying the majority report was proof of 'complete lack of good faith" on the part of CP in its dealings with the Guild. It said the board had seen through "the sham and hypocrisy of the Canadian Press case."

(The majority report stated it was difficult to accept CP's "unyielding" attitude on some points in negotiations as evidence of bargaining in good faith.)

The CP statement said it most emphatically denies evidence of anything other than good faith was shown in its position that it must have authority in transferring, promoting, demoting and dismissing employees engaged in handling news. It had sought common ground on salaries and working conditions.

The majority report was filed by County Court Judge Archibald Cochrane of Brampton, Ont., Board Chairman, and Herbert Orliffe, Toronto lawyer and Guild nominee. Gordon Munnoch, Toronto lawyer and CP nominee submitted the minority report.

The findings dealt with a dispute that has been in progress since last April 5, when the Guild was certified by the Canada Labor Relations Board as bargaining agent for a unit of employees in CP's editorial department. The board included editorial workers and messengers in the unit.

The CP, news co-operative owned jointly by 91 daily newspapers, informed the board that at last Oct. 1 the unit as designated by the C.L.R.B. consisted of 73 employees, of whom 15 were messengers.

Both majority and minority findings represented compromis in varying degrees between the views of the union and management. In some cases, Guild demands were approved. In others continuance of CP practice was recommended. Elsewhere, middle ground was suggested.

Both reports proposed upward slary adjustments. The majority suggested in the light of living costs, a five-per-cent increase with a $3 week minimum, with messengers, comprising 15 of the bargaining unit, excluded. These increases would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1951.

Ottawa Boosts Cobalt Prices

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—Trade Minister Howe today announced that the Government will increase payments for cobalt by 50 cents a pound to boost production of this strategic metal.

Cobalt, in scarce supply, is a metal used extensively in Canada's defence program for the production of jet engines and blades and electrical equipment.

Mr. Howe said in the Commons that the Government will offer to buy the metal at increased prices for a period of three years, with the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company acting as its buying agent.

Cobalt is produced in Northern Ontario and is usually a by-product of silver and nickel mines.

The Government's new prices for ores and concentrates range from $1.35 to $1.45 a pound, depending on the percentage of cobalt.

Sentenced to 3 Years

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 15 (CP) — Cpl. William Lawrence Helsel, a 24-year-old United States airman stationed at Kindley Air Force base was found guilty by a Bermuda supreme court jury, after a four day's trial of the rape of an unidentified Canadian girl tourist. He was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Brought here from her home in Vancouver to testify, the tourist aged 27, alleged that she "fought, bit and scratched" to ward off the airman's attack. The offence took place on the night of Dec. 10, only a few hours after the girl had arrived in Bermuda and taken a room at an hotel.
