Suspect Murder in Lad's Disappearance

Quebec Homicide Squad Officers Take Over Investigation; 10-Day Bushland Search Fruitless

EASTMAN, Que., June 9 (CP) — Suspicion of murder in the disappearance of six-year-old Michel Fontaine was voiced by a police spokesman today coincident with the arrival of three members of the Provincial force's homicide squad.

At the same time there were indications that the search will be abandoned and the mystery of the boy's disappearance placed entirely in the hands of police.

The spokesman, who has been stationed at the Charles Fontaine farm during the 10-day search of dense and hilly bushland, said he and many others are convinced that Michel, lightly clad and a sufferer from asthma, was not merely lost.

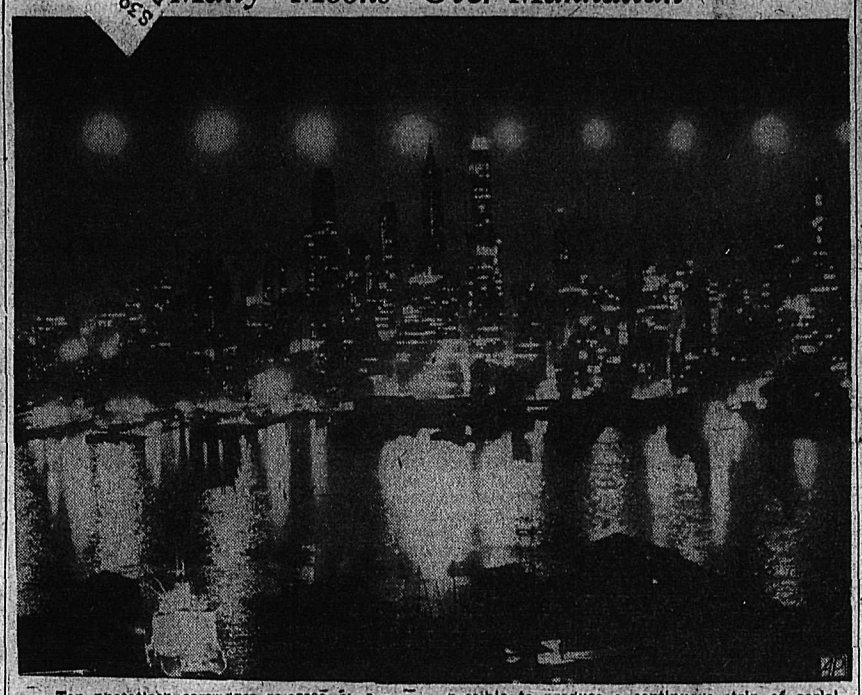
"There seems no doubt it is a case of murder," he said. "It seems impissible that this child, sickly and scarcely able to walk, should disappear without leaving a trace."

In Montreal a high police official added that any investigation by homicide officers could scarcely be carried out while the number of searchers remains high and "there are so many people around." Up to 2500 have added in the hunt.

Coupled with this statement was one by Police Chief Edmond Rioux of Eastman saying he doubted the search would continue after tonight unless some definite clues were found.

Michel disappeared May 30. He went that evening with two older brothers to get the cows.

Many "Moons" Over Manhattan



Ten phototlash cartridges released by a ... during test of new photographic equipment by U.S. Air Force illuminate a section of New York City. Flashes of 50,000,000 (m) candlepower each, resembled giant Roman candles and made it possible to produce a continuous strip of aerial photos at night. N.S. Returns Liberals; P-C's In Opposition

Majority Trimmed as Tories Alone Gain in Popular Vote; Premier Macdonald, All of Cabinet Re-Elected

By The Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, June 9 (CP) — The Liberal Party rolled to power in Nova Scotia for the fifth straight time today but has a smaller majority than in the last election.

It was the second victory for Liberals in 1949 Provincial elections, the new Province of Newfoundland having given the Party a strong majority.

With returns in from all ridings—returns were complete for all but five — the Liberals had elected 27 members, the Progressive Conservatives eight and C.C.F. two.

A total of 37 seats was at stake, compared with 30 in the last contest. In the 1945 election, the Liberals captured 28 seats and the C.C.F. the remaining two.

The Progressive Conservatives now will take over from the C.C.F. as official Opposition.

All three party leaders were elected. Premier Angus L. Macdonald was returned in Halifax South. It was the fourth time he had led the Liberals to victory since 1933. He missed one election while he was serving as Federal Navy Minister during the war.

Progressive Conservative Leader Robert Stanfield, taking his first fling in the political field, was elected with his running-mate, G. I. Smith, in the dual riding of Colchester.

C.C.F. Leader Russell Cunningham was returned in Cape Breton East. The other C.C.F. member in the last House, Michael McDonald, was also returned in Cape Breton Centre to keep the C.C.F. strength the same.

CABINET RETURNED

Mr. Macdonald's entire Cabinet was returned with him. Mines Minister Patterson won in Cape Breton West, Agriculture Minister MacKenzie in Guysborough, Minister Without Portfolio Geoffrey Stevens in Halifax East, Industry Minister Connolly in Halifax North, Highways Minister Rawding in Queens and Attorney-General Currie in Richmond. Speaker G. E. Romkey was returned in Lunenburg.

LIBERAL SEATS TO P-C's

The Progressive Conservatives took five seats from the Liberals. Of the seven new seats, the Liberals won four and the Progressive Conservatives three. Twenty-five seats remained unchanged—23 Liberals and two C.C.F.

Liberals in the last House defeated today were R. F. McLellan in Colchester — where Mr. Stanfield won — Kenneth J. Cochrane in Cumberland West and R. A. MacLellan in Hants East.

The other two Progressive Conservative gains from the Liberals came in ridings where the last sitting Liberal member left the provincial field. These were in Colchester and Digby.

Premier Macdonald said: "I am very gratified over the results but they were not unexpected. I hope it indicates the strength of the Liberal Party in the Federal voting June 27.

"We stood on our record and the people have approved of our record."

About 400,000 persons were eligible to cast votes for their favorites among 96 candidates.

The Liberals had been in power since 1933 and Premier Angus L. Macdonald led his party into a provincial election for the fourth time. He served as Federal Navy Minister for a five-year stretch during the war.

This compared with the March, 1943, figure of 347,591 fine ounces.

Colors, Uniforms Flash at King's Birthday Celebration

LONDON, June 9 (AP) — Leaden skies today failed to darken the pageantry of trooping the color. The King's birthday ceremony, traditionally held June 9 regardless of actual birth dates, was revived for the first time since 1939 in all its pre-war splendor. The King's real birthday is Dec. 14.

The ceremony today was one of scarlet, blue and bearskin, of gleaming swords and shining breastplate, of ranks of guardsmen marching stiffly in towering black headgear, of massed bands and of cheering crowds.

Flies swarming over the parade ground in the sultry air made the horses restless. Princess Elizabeth, riding side-saddle, had trouble with her chestnut mount, Winston.

Queen Mary and sun-tanned Princess Margaret watched the commotion from a balcony window. The King later congratulated the Princess on her riding.

Through it all—an hour-long parade of 2000 of his guardsmen—the King sat calmly or stood to take the salute.

Did Have Power To Sign Air Pact

OTTAWA, June 9 (CP)—A Government spokesman today said there is proof on record that Canadian negotiators did have the power to sign the new Canada-United States bilateral air agreement last Saturday.

He was commenting on a Washington report in which James E. Landis, a Director of Colonial Air Lines, told members of the Senate Committee on Foreign Commerce that he has proof that the Canadian negotiators, headed by Transport Minister Chevrier, were without power to sign when the pact was concluded.

Mr. Landis contended that the negotiators were given that power by an Order-in-Council passed by the Canadian Government after the actual signing ceremony.

"There is proof on record," said the Government spokesman, "that full authority to sign the agreement was given the Canadian signer May 27, by virtue of an order of the Minister of External Affairs." The signing ceremony did not take place until June 4.

Howe Brands Drew Charge "Senseless"

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., June 9 (CP) — Trade Minister Howe today described as "senseless and completely without foundation" charges that he arranged a "secret deal" under which the Canadair Limited plant near Montreal was sold to the Electric Boat Company of the United States for $4,000,000.

He said a statement last night by George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, that there were "irregularities" in the contract were "as senseless and completely without foundation as were Mr. Drew's attacks on the North Star aircraft and the Merlin engine."

Mr. Drew said: "The largest aircraft plant in Canada, which had cost Canadian taxpayers approximately $22,000,000, passed out of Canadian control and was handed over to the Electric Boat Company of the United States for a maximum payment of $4,000,000.

Mr. Howe said the Government had no knowledge of the arrangement under which Benjamin Franklin, Canadair's original director, and his associates transferred ownership of Canada's largest aircraft plant to its present owners.

He challenged Mr. Drew to name the Canadian manufacturers who, the Opposition Leader said, were prepared to pay more for the plant than the lease-option arrangement of $200,000 annual rental or $4,000,000 option to buy which was actually concluded.

Confirms "Monster" Living in South Saskatchewan River

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., June 9—(CP) — A medicine hat newspaperman, Parker Kent, has confirmed that a "monster" is living in the South Saskatchewan River.

Mr. Kent, his wife and family have held a five-day watching brief on the river bank since the monster first was reported seen by Mr. and Mrs. John Needrum and their children.

The Kents last night watched the "Ogopogo" swimming around for 15 minutes in the river. They described it as from five to eight feet long, covered with dark fur and with a head resembling an alligator.

Residents have stopped bathing and boating in the river and plans are being discussed to have the Boy Scouts and members of the South Alberta Reserve Regiment start daily patrols.

Eskimo Dies During Mercy Flight

EDMONTON, June 9 (CP) — An unknown illness took the life of an aged Eskimo today as an R.C.A.F. mercy plane carried him Southward from the Arctic to hospital in Edmonton.

The name of the man, and those of two other Eskimo patients on the plane, had not been confirmed tonight. The man died about 11 a.m. M.S.T. The other two, a middle aged woman and a young girl, reached Edmonton safely.

The illness of the other two had not been diagnosed, but officials said they had symptoms of pulmonary trouble.

FARMERS FIGHT WEEDS AND BUGS FROM AIR

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 9 (CP)—There is a steady roar of aero engines over the Fraser Valley these days as planes begin an all out attack on the Fraser's worst enemy—bugs.

The spraying operations carried out by light planes flying a few feet from the ground are saving thousands of dollars worth of crops.

Spuds now are being dusted against attacks of the dreaded flea beetle. Later on the tubers will be sprayed for blight.

A new experiment in weeding rows of carrots has also been successful. The rows are sprayed with a special oil solution which kills the weeds but leaves the carrots.

This is saving the farmers the cost of employment of much farm labor.

Fiery Cedars Topple About 40 Fighters

VICTORIA, B.C., June 9 (CP) — The B.C. Forest Service reported today all B.C. forest fires under control with the hazard steadily lessening following rain.

Another storm, coming in from the Pacific, is expected to bring further relief.

The only fire causing firefighters any trouble is a 70-acre blaze near Guilford in the Fort George Forest District. The fire was reported toppling old cedar trees which were of no commercial value. The fighting of the blaze by 40 men is hazardous.

This is one of 15 fires in the Fort George District. All others are under control.

JUDGE SILENCES BIRD, SETS EXECUTION DATE

Is Fourth Order For Hanging; Two May Go to Gallows

ANOTHER HEX?

TACOMA, June 9 (AP) — A fourth execution date — July 15—was set today for Jake Bird in an unprecedented court appearance here.

The usually voluble Negro transient was stopped short just as he was about to begin his customary courtroom harangue.

"Mr. Jake Bird," Superior Judge Hugh Rosellini said quickly but coldly, "the court has heard you several times before. The court believes there is no purpose in hearing you further. I will read the death warrant."

He did.

Bird's jaw dropped in obvious surprise and he stood silent and almost stunned.

Less than 60 seconds later, the judge signed the death warrant directing the warden of the State Penitentiary at Walla Walla to hang "the said Jake Bird by the neck until dead" on July 15.

The judge then turned without further comment to another case he had interrupted for Bird's brief appearance.

IN 44 KILLINGS

Mumbling in a protest-plea as he was being ushered out of the door, the prisoner said in a momentary show of the legal knowledge that has carried him into 14 courtrooms and his case twice to the United States Supreme Court:

"Does Remington's revised statutes refuse to permit me to say something just because I have been heard twice before?"

No one replied.

The hanging was ordered for the 1947 ax-slaying of Mrs. Bertha Kludt here. Mrs. Kludt's daughter, Beverly, also was slain while attempting to defend her mother against the man who has confessed complicity in 44 killings around the United States.

If the execution is staged July 15 it may mean a double execution as Arthur Bruce Perkins, Onalaska youth, is also scheduled to die on that date for the slaying of an elderly Olympia couple last year.

Bird had regained his composure a short while after his courtroom appearance and joked and jested with Prosecutor Patrick M. Steele as he was being bundled into a car for the return to his Walla Walla cell.

The hex, which the 48-year-old slayer has alternately claimed and denied having put on six persons with fatal results was revived in a sharp exchange of words with a Tacoma newspaperman.

"You can write all you want about me in the future," Bird told the Tacoma News Tribune's James Faber.

"The future isn't too long for you," Faber replied.

"What do you care," Bird retorted in angry tones. "Your future ain't long either. You aren't going to live very long."

Faber said he wasn't worried.

Jake didn't look worried either.

WOULD EXPAND STRENGTH OF MUNICIPALITIES

QUEBEC, June 9 CP)—Immediate action to expand and strengthen the scope and organization of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities was urged on delegates to the annual convention today by Mayor George G. MacLean of St. Boniface, Man.

In an address prepared for a panel session on Federation policy, Mr. MacLeon said that each municipality should be assessod on a per capita basis in order to set up a yearly budget of at least $40,000 for five years or more.

"It is only by showing a united front and by marshalling all the municipalities in the Dominion that we can achieve (the multiple services of the Association(and so preserve our democratic institutions," Mr. MacLean said.

EIGHT GROUPS

He advocated an establishment fund under which Canadian municipalities would be defined in eight groups based on population. Municipalities of more than 30,000, of which there are 27, would contribute $97,000. The 15 municipalities ranging from 20,000 to 30,000 in population would be assessed $14,150; 10,000 to 20,000 (36), $15,450; 5000 to 10,000 (74), $15,950; and 1000 to 5000 (428), $61,150.

SAFECRACKERS FIND EQUIPMENT NOT NEEDED ON COAST JOB

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 9 (CP) —Overzealous safecrackers attacked a coal company safe here last night with pick, crowbars, hacksaws and an acetylene torch before they discovered the box was open.

Gaining entrance by breaking through a washroom wall, they made off with $600, leaving armloads of safecracking equipment behind.

It was the third try made at the Marpole Coal Company safe recently.

The couple will visit Broadacres, Sask., where Yvonne's parents live.

MINISTER WOULD BROADEN GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE

VANCOUVER, June 9 (CP) — Rev. J. L. McLean of Victoria told the Vancouver Kiwanis Club today that desertion, cruelty and insanity should be included with adultery as grounds for divorce in Canada.

Headed for a rough Pacific trip off the Queen Charlotte Islands, the fisheries vessel is carrying a boatload of top scientists from the Pacific biological station at Nanamio, B.C.

The aims of the group are to locate the lucrative but highly elusive tuna, gather scientific data on the sea-water fish, and to offer wider measures of safety for tuna fishermen in the area.

Already the Laurier has explored 200 miles out into the Pacific off Vancouver Island's lower West coast in its search.

15-Minute Ferry Service For Nelson

A 15-minute ferry service across the West Arm at Nelson will be put into operation shortly, O. P. Roberts, District Engineer for the Provincial Public Works, has advised the Board of Trade. This was learned at the Board Council meeting at the Hume Thursday. The 15-minute service, replacing the 20-minute service, would operate up to Sept. 30, it was stated.

A Roads and Bridges Committee recommendation that a resolution from Kaslo Board of Trade asking that an 11-mile stretch of road be built from Kaslo to the Lardeau be adopted, was acted on. Vincent Fink explained that the Kaslo Board's main interest was to obtain a road that would allow car traffic. Only a small boat was servicing the Lardeau and there were rumors that the Moyie might not be put back on the run.

And in This Corner—

LOS ANGELES, June 9 (AP)—Yes, there are bad gnus.

Take Gnefarious Gned for instance. Noting that Gned was becoming gneurotic, Chief Keeper Charles Allen coaxed into his pen at Griffith Park Zoo a lovely lady gnu, which arrived yesterday from San Diego.

After proper introductions, Allen left the gnusome to themselves.

Gned pawed the ground in welcome. His gnu girl friend pranced coyly around the pen. Suddenly she stopped and sniffed at a Brahman bull in an adjoining cage.

Gned apparently considered this a violation of his gneutrality. He charged and gored her twice, luckily not seriously.

Allen placed them in separate pens, opining that in a couple of days they'll be rubbing gnoses like any gnormal gnulyweds.

WASHINGTON, June 9 (CP)—President Truman, who signs his name about 600 times a day, has an "autograph watchdog" — his executive clerk, William J. Hopkins.

Hopkins keeps close tab on things from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., the period during which Truman sees visitors and newspaper men. When Hopkins sees a caller come out of the President's office a few minutes before the allotted 15 minutes is up, he rushes in with a stack of documents.

Truman is ready for him with a pen.

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Television, which has been getting its bumps from spots lately, had a new and unusual rap today.

Casey Stengel, Manager of New York Yankees, says hitters who swing from their heels when they should do no more than slap at a pitch, are victims of the TV complex."

With their relatives watching the game on television, everybody is trying to be a slugger and look good to their relations, the Yankee pilot asserts.

GLASGOW, June 9 (Reuters)—Archibald MacKirdy, 50-year-old business man, has chosen to go to prison here because he disagrees with the law on the meaning of a word.

He was found guilty and fined $8 for failing to stop his car at a road sign which said "Halt." MacKirdy argued that "halt" did not require a complete stop.

Rather than pay the fine, he chose to go to prison for 15 days as a martyr in what he described as "the interest of the public."

His wife said: "My husband is a very highly-principled man."

VAN BUREN, Me., June 9 (CP)—Bing Crosby didn't sleep here—there was no room.

The crooner rolled up to the hotel here enroute to Canada for some fishing on the Gaspe Peninsula. But the hotel was so heavily booked it could only offer Bing and party a meal.

The singer then set out to spend the night at Restigouche, N.B., 90 miles away.

Bevin Backs West Pact as Shield Against Biggest Army in World

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BLACKPOOL, England, June 9 (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today described the Atlantic Pact as a Western shield against the biggest army in the world—Russia's.

"It is the largest army, the greatest power in the world that is mobilized today," Bevin told the annual Labor party conference, "And I want to see that brought to an end, not by war but by example—by remaining firm ourselves...

"There has never been a dictator in the history of this world who has not talked peace when he had been preparing for war.

"Do not be misled."

Bevin told the conference he believes he has established "a basis upon which a real structure of peace can be raised."

The Foreign Secretary, who flew to Blackpool from the Foreign Ministers' Conference in Paris, reviewed world problems since the war and said "something may yet emerge" from the four-power talks in Paris.

In the far East, he continued, Britain had been unduly optimistic that after the defeat of Japan the Civil War in China would end.

In Europe, morale in France had been lowered by political chaos. Italy, a defeated country with 2,000,000 unemployer, also had found it difficult to get back on her feet. Austria—"held to ransom over a question of German assese"—had been struggling to have a peace treaty passed.

Britain had sought to help these countries, in co-operation with Marshall Plan aid from the United States.

Today was the first time foreign policy had dominated the conference. During the first three sessions domestic problems excluded overseas considerations.

C.C.F. FIGHTING COMMUNISM, ASSERTS COLDWELL

By Canadian Press Staff Writer

ARMSTRONG, B.C., June 9 (CP) —M. J. Coldwell, National C.C.F. leader, today defended his party's British Columbia section against suggestions there might be a secret agreement in this province between the C.C.F. and Communists.

"If there was any vestige of truth in that suggestion I wouldn't support the C.C.F. in the British Columbia Provincial election," Mr. Coldwell told a political campaign meeting here.

He was replying to an advertisement placed in B.C. newspapers by the Coalition Government, which is seeking reelection against C.C.F. oposition June 15.

The advertisement said suspicion of the tie-up was the result of the fact that the Communists, who nominated 21 candidates in last B.C. election, had nominated only two this time.

"The C.C.F. has fought the Communists all through the years," he said, "and will continue to fight them in the only effective way—by removing the causes of poevrty, misery and want."

Executive or Council? Board Problem

Lack of discussion on recommendations of Executive meetings, at the Board of Trade Council meeting at the Hume Thursday, led to merits of Executive and Council considerable argument over the meetings. The matter was referred to the Executive which is to bring in a recommendation.

The Executive is composed of Chairmen of the various Board committees, and E. T. Bodard remarked upon the lack of discussion on various recommendations contained in minutes of three Exexcutive meetings.

This prompted R. D. Barnes to suggest the Board Council be dissolved to save "needless talk" and discussion in which there was too much duplication.

T. D. Rosling, Vice-President, agreed and suggested the Executive might be enlarged and the Council dissolved. There was a lot of work for the Executive and there could easily be two full Board meetings each month to handle the work.

H. B. Gore thought the Executive was too small and did not have a thorough cross section of Board members. R. D. Gilday said he understood the Executive was meant to handle major decisions only in event of emergency, but at present it seemed to be running all Board affairs.

Mr. Barnes recalled that increasing of the number on the Council in the past had created more interest in the Board; and suggested that the "fraternity spirit" that had existed all along was now being taken away. If business was to be railroaded through, then there was no need of the Council.

Mr. Gore said the Council had no knowledge of the background of the Executive resolutions, whereas members wanted to take more interest in the various matters of business, "and learn something about them."

Mr. Bodard agreed and said that the Executive was receiving all the information and that the members were not, because recommendations were "literally pushed through."

Some members suggested more business should go to the committees, but Mr. Rosling pointed out that minutes of five committee meetings were to be read before the Council meeting adjourned, to indicate the large volume of business now being handled by the Board.

Winch Denies Red Tieup

VANCOUVER, June 9 (CP) — A strongtwo-fisted attack on the Coalition's "slander of the C.C.F.," was made by Harold Winch, B.C. Provincial C.C.F. leader, in a radio broadcast tonight.

Hitting out at what he called "the depths to which the Coalition are resorting" in the campaign, Mr. Winch said they were using "the old red herring" of a tie between the C.C.F. and the Communists.

"The C.C.F. has never collaborated with the Communist Party, and never will," he said.

He cited cases where the L.P.P. is running candidates against Angus MacInnis, Dorothy Steves, and also against himself.

"Coalitionists seem to think that the way to win an election is to slander their opposition."

"We in the C.C.F. will not resort to such tactics," he added.

Challenging the Coalition's allegations of a "secret agreement" between the C.C.F. and the L.P.P., Mr. Winch said: "We have no secret agreements with or finances from any corporation or other political party. We challenge the Coalition to make the same statement."

He termed the administration's about-face in proposing a report to the Legislature on Bill 66 as "another victory for the C.C.F. in their defence of democratic rights and rule by Parliament."

"Coalition big shots now realize that people will not stand for betrayal of their rights in their interests in their own resources," he said.

Anscomb Concludes Interior Tour

CHASE, B.C., June 9 (CP) — Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb wound up his week-long 2000-mile tour through the Interior of B.C. tonight in this thriving farming, tourist and lumber centre. The Progressive-Conservative Leader spoke to an audience of 150 in support of Conservative Coalition candidate Arthur Ritchie who has represented the fertile farming district of Salmon Arm for the past four years. Mr. Ritchie is winding up a lively two-way campaign with C.C.F. candidate R. C. Freeze, Armstrong farmer.

Outside interest in the electoral district has been increased by the presence of 200 Shuswap Indians, and 1800 newly-arrived. voters. The groups are voting for the first time in B.C.

FREE PRESS TO CELEBRATE 100TH YEAR WITH RECORD 232-PAGE ISSUE

LONDON, Ont., June 9 (CP) — The London Free Press celebrates its 100th birthday Saturday.

In recognition of the anniversary, the Free Press Saturday will publish the largest single edition ever put out by a Canadian newspaper. A paper of some 232 pages, in 12 sections, will be distributed to its 74,000 subscribers.

The Canadian Daily Newspapers Association said it has no record of so large a single edition of standard-sized pages ever being published in Canada.

As a second recognition of the anniversary, the Free Press commissioned Orlo Miller to write a book, "A Century of Western Ontario"—a history not only of the company but also of London and of Western Ontario.

A dinner attended by the company's staff and associates will highlight the day's activities.

The Free Press was founded as a weekly publication in January 1849, by William Sutherland, an Edinburgh Scot, who had come to Canada three years previously.

His interests were sold to Josiah Blackburn, effective Jan. 1, 1853. From that time to the present, the interests and traditions of the newspaper have been guided by the Blackburn family. W. J. Blackburn, now President and Managing Director, is a grandson of Josiah Blackburn. He represents the third generation to direct the destinies of the newspaper.

Washington Let's Go Home Talk Seen as Republican Manoeuvre

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

This sun-baked capital city, where foreign diplomats once received "tropical" pay, is talking in a traditional, heat-happy June monotone.

And on Capitol Hill, perspiring Congressmen are starting the annual pre-Summer talk about packing up and heading home.

Behind the stepped-up tempo of this wailing about the weather is a political bombshell which may explode at the slightest nudge.

Since early January, when Congress met, little progress has been made toward implementation of the program on which President Truman and the Democratic Party where elected to power. Three major matters—labor legislation, the North Atlantic Treaty and extension of reciprocal trade measures — may be dealt with within a few weeks.

But much more remains on the books: arms for Europe, civil-rights legislation, the International Wheat Agreement, the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

Some observers see Republican skullduggery in the growing talk about closing up shop. The best strategy of opposition, they say, is delay.

Truman's attitude—publicly—is that Congress' progress hasn't been too bad, really. He said at a recent press conference, though that he will remain in Washington until the legislators do their job.

He added, too, that he'll be President until 1953. This was interpreted generally as a roundabout acceptance of the probability that most of his program will be shelved until next year.

If, however, the let's-go-home-talk is opposition-inspired, the same deliberate delaying tactics could be applied again in 1950. If they were successful both times—and Republicans regained control in the Congressional elections next year—the Truman program would be doomed. For the last two years of his term he would be wrestling again with the virtual impossibility of getting a Republican Congress to put his Democratic ideas into effect.

Because of this possibility—remote as it may seem today—Democratic leaders will do their utmost to keep Congress in session as long as possible.

Mining a Vital Interest–Corner

Mining was a vital interest in West Kootenay, although its people were not as dependent on it as in years past, Mayor J. R. Corner of Rossland told a meeting here of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia, Thursday night.

"But its men cannot escape the enthusiasm."

Mayor Corner is Progressive-Conservative candidate for Kootenay West in the Federal election June 27. The Mayor described Rossland as the likely birthplace of mining in West Kootenay.

"Rest assured, British Columbia, and particularly this part, will never be forgotten. It has great development ahead."

The province had offered boundless opportunity to the men who pioneered it, it offered opportunity to men coming in today.

"I cannot see why it should not develop in the future as it has in the past."

Commenting on a film shown, "Men Against Rock," John O. Dolphin, President of the Chamber of Mines. saw. a levelling off, or a stabilization of base metal prices—a betterment for the "district as a whole."

The prices had been getting a "little out of hand. I've heard it said that if the prices hadn't come down, we would have needed a substitute for zinc—it was getting too expensive to use."

The film was brought to the meeting by Alderman N. R. Sardich.

However, he admitted passing some cars between leaving the ferry and where he was stopped at Willow Point.

Case was heard by Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine.

Stresses Need Of Christian Education Here

Christian education took in the whole aggregate of human life, physical and spiritual, intellectual and moral, individual domestic and social, not with a view to reducing it in any way, but in order to elevate, regulate and perfect it in accordance with the example of the teaching of Christ, Rev. Father W. J. Harrison said in an address to the Nelson Kiwanis Club in the Hume Thursday night.

Christian education was the prominent factor in life today and did not develop just one particular aspect in man, but developed all parts of man, his mind, imagination and will both individually and socially.

The first and primary foundations of education began in the home, he said, but many families left it to the school to teach the children. The family was also inclined to leave religious education to the schools.

It was the parents who gave life to the child and it was up to them to fulfill the primary object of developing the child he said.

The church should also play a part in education. Christian teaching was not only for Sunday but should be brought into the everyday life of the children.

The state must recognize the principles of the church and it was the duty of the state to provide facilities through which the home and the church could combine in the development of the youth.

The product of true education was the finished man of character. It was not firmness of conduct based upon subjective principles that made true character, but only constancy in following the external principles of justice, Mr. Harrison said.

Guests at the meeting included James Curtis of Trail, President of the West Kootenay Progressive-Conservative Association, and Mayor J. R. Corner of Rossland, Progressive-Conservative candidate for Kootenay West in the Dominion election, and F. Eberley of Nelson.

Name Committee For Dumping Site At Fruitvale

FRUITVALE, B. C., June 9—At the regular meeting of the Fruitvale Ratepayers Association the settling of a new dumping site was thoroughly discussed. Harvey Dilling gave a report of the Children's Playground committee and stated that A. Nelson's bulldozer wouldbe available for leveling the Park lots on Hillcrest Avenue and asked for volunteers to turn out to help. A suggestion had been made to have a single tennis court made at one end of the playgrounds but on recommendation of meeting was decided to leave this in hands of F. R. A. and also seek aid from F. R. A. for proper swing equipment.

Where to find a new dumping site was the main question under discussion. Mr. Stevenson, Sanitary Inspector for this area, gave an interesting talk on care of dumping sites. He further stated that when a dumping site had been decided upon and legalized, any person found dumping in any other spot would be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Mr. Dilling gave a report on the activities of the Executive to secure one and told of offer of a spot on Gordon Leitch's place by Mr. Leitch at a nominal cost with sufficient ground around it to permit a sound fence being put up. An motion of meeting, the chair appointed a committee of President of Ratepayers Association, H. Dilling, with A. Webster and O. Scheive to close deal with Mr. Leitch for this spot.

Mr. Stevenson stated that this would make an ideal place as it is a gully over 300 feet deep and the stream diverted back to original bed, would in no way pollute the Montrose water-system. Placing of "No Dumping" signs was responsibility of the community itself. As to ownership of dumping site the Ratepayers Association was logical group to handle it but would have facilitated matters a lot if we were an organized district.

BEAVER CREEK USE

J. Johns and F. Danns of Beaver Falls were also present at meeting and on reporting back to Beaver Falls residents and if they desire to join in on the dumping site, they will send a represtative to meet with the committee.

"No Dumping" signs were authorized placed along many points of Beaver Creek.

Talk of F. D. Roosevelt, Jr., as U. S. President Crosses Country

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., will take his seat in Congress next week amid continuing talk of a possible Roosevelt dynasty in United States politics.

There is speculation that he might later win election as a United States Senator or as Governor of New York, traditional steppingstone to a presidential nomination. Eight Governors of New York have become major party nominees for the presidency.

Only one son of a president has become a president. He was John Quincy Adams, son of John Adams, and the middle member of a dynasty which was the most famous and longest-lasting in American political history.

The Adams were in top light political posts for almost 100 years — from 1774, when John was a member of the Continental Congress, to 1868, when John Quincy's son Charles Francis was United States Minister to Great Britain.

Only one other son of a president has come within shooting distance of the presidency. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, son of William H. Taft, was one of the leading candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1940 and 1948.

Young Roosevelt is the fifth son of an American President to win election to Congress. The other four were John Quincy Adams, Charles Francis Adams, John Scot Harrison and Robert Taft.

John Scot Harrison, a Whig representative from Ohio, had the unique distinction of being the father of a president, Benjamin Harrison, as well as the son of a President, William Henry Harrison.

Young Roosevelt has a double-barrelled political heritage which might take him places—the voter appeal in the name Roosevelt and some of his father's magnetism. He made a rousing campaign to beat three opponents for a seat in the House from a New York City District.

If he does go on to the Presidency Franklin Roosevelt, Jr. might be the first President born outside of the United States. He was born at the Roosevelt's Canadian Summer home in Campobello, N. B., 35 years ago next Aug. 17.

Former Cranbrook Fish Hatchery Offered to Guides; Plan New One

CRANBROOK, B. C., June 9—Human small fry, specifically Girl Guides and Brownies, will be offered the chance to purchase the former Cranbrook Rod and Gun Club Fish Hatchery building centrally located on Edwards Street where it intersects Joseph's Creek. A nominal price has been set for this organization which has been making valiant efforts to secure itself a permanent meeting place.

At a special meeting of the Rod and Gun Club this decision was made. The commodious hatchery building is of shingle and has incubated may millions of cutthroat and Kamloops trout for planting as eyed eggs, fry or fingerlings in all East Kootenay lakes since it was built about 1927. For 20 years it was operated by the club for this purpose, and three years ago its operations were turned over to the provincial game commission for the same purpose. Its work of these many years has been apparent in the high standard of sports fishingg the district offers at scores of mountain locations.

Continuation of operations at this site was considered undesirable this year when it was announced that chlorination of Cranbrook's water supply would be undertaken some time this year.

A temporary hatchery building has been constructed for the 1949 hatch about two miles from Cranbrook flanking the city reservoir. Its water supply will come from a point in the reservoir above the projected treatment plant which will also be at the reservoir.

A gravity water system has been devised to provide the 26 by 48 foot building with continuous circulation, and the metal troughs and screens from the old hatchery have been installed there. Hatchery fish population so far is relatively far below normal. Cutthroat eggs for the hatchery are collected at Fish Lake above Munroe by trapping and stripping adult fish, but local collections are below normal. Kamloops trout eggs are all shipped in from Gerrard and Penask hatcheries, and are hatched and given a special diet high in protien which multiplies rate of growth and produces fighting fingerlings for early planting.

In charge of hatchery operations for the game commissioner are E. T. Cooper and John Bayley.

ATTACK FREIGHT RATES ON CATTLE

REGINA, June 9 (CP)—An attack against a new increase in railway freight rates on pure-bred cattle was delivered today before the Royal Commission on Transportation by the Saskatchewan Cattle Breeders' Association.

The Association, whose 8735 members are breeders of this type of livestock, said the railway move would bring shipping costs in some cases up to more than 200 per cent of those of 1947, and would be harmful to the Canadian cattle industry generally.

Ashes Examined To Find Value Of Burnt Banknotes

By SHAUN McQUILLAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 9 (CP)—An old-age pensioner walked into the Bank of England and handed the clerk a brown paper bag. It was full of ashes.

"This was my life savings," she said. "Four hundred pound $1600) completely destroyed by fire. Can you help me?"

It's an old, old story to the bank. The money had been hidden in the chimney for safety. One day it was forgotten, the fire lit, and the money becme smoke and ashes.

The bank is ready for just such an accident. It has a team of experts able to dissect charred fragments of banknotes. There is no charge for the service.

The official took her name, address and the ashes. A few weeks later she received a cheque.

From the charred paper, Bank of and 10s. Notes valued at £390. The England experts found traces of £1 other £10 could not be identified.

"You'd be surprised what people do with their money," an official said. "We've had banknotes burnt, baked and even boiled. During the war thousands of banknotes were destroyed in air raids. So many, in fact, that we employed a special staff of 50 to examine the ashes."

The bank is confident nobody could pull a fast one over them.

"I can't recall anybody trying to defraud us," said another bank employee. "But I shouldn't think they'd have a dog's chance, anyway."

There are heavy penalties for would-be defrauders.

LONDON (CP)—Boys at North Trinity Grammar School issued a list of their pet dislikes. At a "grumble meeting" they complained of the small choice of hymns, hard seats in the science laboratory, not enough time for homework, no mirror in the changing room, and cheese pie at school dinners.

Columbia Valley Man Celebrates 87th Birthday

INVERMERE, B. C., June 9—John Hopkins Griffith Taynton of Invermere, believed to be the oldest male resident of the Columbia Valley, celebrated his 87th birthday June 4.

Mr. Taynton, familiarly known as "Jack" to the old-timers that remain, first came to this valley in 1884 with his pack horses. At that time the older Indians were still using bows and arrows for hunting and living conditions among the few whites were most primitive. There were only 18 white men between Golden and Fort Steele (then known as Galbraith's Ferry).

Mr. Taynton was born in 1861 in the valley of the Wye, Herefordshire. A young man when he came to this valley, he has watched the District grow through the years of the steamboats and stagecoaches, and the building of the railway, to the present era of the airplane.

Mr. Taynton has known and worked with most of the well-known pioneers of this part of British Columbia. He was familiar with Major Steele, after whom Fort Steele was named, and he worked for some time with Captain F. P. Armstrong, who was operating steamboats on the Columbia River and Windermere and Columbia Lakes.

Mr. Taynton is remarkably active for his years. He does his own housekeeping, and lokos after a small garden, and is still able to walk up a sizeable hill to town for his mail and groceries.

He was married in 1886 in Winnipeg, and except for a period when they lived in West Kootenay, Mr. and Mrs. Taynton resided in the Columbia Valley until her death seven years ago.

The Columbia Valley has one known older resident. That is Mrs. C. A. Bavin of Invermere, who is approaching her 92nd birthday.

British Labor Party Lays Cards Down on Nationalization Plans

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Britain's Government certainly has nailed its Socialist flag to the mast in connection with the party's annual conference at Blackpool.

There is no attempt to camouflage the program as the party gets set for the general election which is due next year but might come sooner. The challenge to the Conservatives, headed by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, is without qualification.

Herbert Morrison, Deputy Prime Minister, the party's political strategist, laid the cards on the table in a speech which evoked an ovation. He named further industries which the party proposes to nationalize, and then declared that if re-elted the Government would pass a "permanent and revised version" of the wartime act giving it control over industry and manpower.

"Private industry," he said, "cannot any longer be allowed to go just any way. Private industry or finance which indulges in anti-social conduct will be pulled up sharp by a Labor Government."

Conservative-minded folk undoubtedly will interpret Morrison's declaration as savoring rather strongly of regimentation. Be that as it may, it should be noted that he didn't say the war-time measures would be used except of necessity. They would be on the books ready for use when needed.

FUEL FOR TORIES

The Labor view of this is that there's nothing bad in the fact that the Government has such powers. It all depends on how the Government uses the powers. Moreover all orders under the emergency program can be rejected by Parliament. Still, one would expect the Conservatives to make propaganda out of this issue in the coming election campaign.

LAD TELLS OF CLOSING ICEBOX DOOR ON CHILDREN; UNABLE TO OPEN AGAIN

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., June 9 — (AP)—Arkansas State Police reported today a 10-year-old boy said he slammed shut the door of an unused icebox, causing deaths of three other children.

Police identified the boy as James (Buddy) Chesser, uncle of one of the victims.

Police quoted James as saying the children were playing "I spy", when all three climbed into the old-fashioned wooden box last Friday.

Then, police continued, the boy related:

He shut the door of the box, and was unable to get it open.

"My mother called me then to go to the store. I was scared. I ran home and went to the store. Then I forgot."

The victims were James Delbert Chastain, 2; Joyce Ann Chastain, 9, and Shirley Ann Ramsey, 6.

Police said they doubted that any charge would be made against the young boy.

Young Chesser was an uncle of the Ramsey girl.

The old icebox was at the home of the Chastain children's parents in a farm community near Walnut Ridge. The other children lived nearby.

Mrs. Edward Chastain discovered the children in the box when she returned home from work in the cotton fields.

Her son and the Ramsey girl were dead of suffocation. Joyce Ann Chastain died early Saturday.

Chesser was held in custody temporarily.

"He's too young to do anything with even if it had been deliberate —and I don't believe it was," said Police Lieut. H. R. Peterson.

Meeting Breakdown Would Speed Arms For Europe Program

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — Senator Tom Connally (Dem. Tex.) said today a breakdown in the Foreig nMinisters' Conference at Paris could speed action on the Government's $1,130,000,000 arms-for-Europe program.

Democratic leaders have set aside the rearmament plan at least until the North Atlantic Treaty has been ratified by the Senate. One Senator said privately that President Truman is in "complete agreement" with that schedule.

Bathhouse Opens At Radium

INVERMERE, B. C., June 9—The new temporary bathhouse at Radium Hot Springs, on the site of the building demolished by fire in February, 1948, was officially open to the public Saturday, June 4.

The building, 33x39 feet, houses an office, men's and women's dressing rooms, and rest rooms. There are 126 lockers for clothing, 66 being in the men's quarters and 60 in the women's. Women have four dressing cubicles, and men, two.

For the Winter an oil furnace, thermostatically controlled, will be installed. As it is dependent on AC power, which is not available at present, it will be attended to later in the Summer.

Visitors to Radium pool have been swimming free of charge while the bathhouse was under construction, but again will have to put their hands in their pockets before enjoying the relaxing waters of the pool.

NEW POOL

Plans for the permanent bathhouse to be built at Radium Hot Springs also include a new swimming pool, which will be housed in a "U" formed by the wings of the building. Although the pool will be outdoors, it will be protected from wind by this arrangement.

The pool will be regulation Olympic size, 40x80 feet.

The present pool, which will still be used, is 105 feet long by 30 feet wide. It contains 122,000 gallons of water flowing at a varying rate of 20,000 to 26,000 gallons an hour from the spring. When emptied for cleaning, five to seven hours is required for the pool to fill again. The pool is emptied twice a week, and thoroughly scrubbed once weekly.

The water entering the pool has a temperature of 114 degrees, cooling to 90 to 95 degrees in other portions of the pool.

PARADISE MINE MILL NEARLY COMPLETED

INVERMERE, B. C., June 9—Construction of the mill for the reopened Paradise Mine is now three-quarters finished. When completed, development of the mine will start shortly. Initial capacity of the mill is 50 tons a day.

It is built at Jack Pine, seven miles from the mine and 14 miles from Lake Windermere station, from where shipments will go to Trail. Because of the altitude of the mine, 7800 feet, it is considered advisable to have the mill at a lower level to permit year-round operations.

Ore will be trucked from the mine and concentrates will be trucked from the mill to the station.

Two prefabricated houses and a duplex have been erected at Jack Pine to house staff members.

The powerhouse at the mine has been rearranged to instal a new engine.

Chinese Reds Watch Big Four Meet

NANKING, June 9 (AP)—Chinese Communist leaders were reported today watching the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference as a guide for relations with the Western powers.

Diplomatic observers here believe the outcome of the Paris meeting will be a strong influence on the pattern of Red relations with Britain, the United States and France.

The foreign-policy line of the Chinese Communists of late has followed closely the lead of Russia.

Failure of the Big Four Ministers to ease tensions of the Cold War is expected to further strain to the Chinese Reds' relations with the West.

Cream Fruit Pie for Sunday Meal

If Sunday at your house means dinner at noon, a hearty dessert makes a good ending for the usual simple supper fare. And whether it's family or company supper, a creamy smooth fruit pie is a good choice.

For a bit of meal magic, just add lemon juice to a can of sweetened condensed milk, and there you have a rich smooth pie filling that is always of the right consistency. With that magic base you can use several variations—crushed pineapple, bananas, sliced peaches, sliced apricots, using canned, quick-frozen or fresh fruits. For something special prepare tart shells.

BANANA CREAM PIE

To prepare a banana cream pie blend 1 1-3 c. (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk and ¼ c. lemon juice. Stir until mixture thickens. Cut 2 medium-sized bananas in pieces; fold into milk and lemon mixture. Pour into 9-inch pie plate lined with vanilla wafer pie crust. Cover with ½ c. whipping cream that has been whipped and sweetened with 2 tbsp. confectioner sugar. Chill before serving.

To prepare crust, roll enough vanilla wafers to make one c. of crumbs. Mix well with 5 tbsp. melted butter. Cover bottom and sides of 8-inch pie pan, pressing firmly into place. Pour in pie filling.

Fo rsomething different in the pie line, blend 1 1-3 c. sweetened condensed milk, ½ c. lemon juice, the grated ring of a lemon, or ¼ tsp. lemon extract, 1½ c. seedless raisins that have been softened in boiling water, and well drained, and 2 egg yolks. Pour into baked 9-inch pie shell. Cover with meringue made by beating 2 egg whites until stiff and adding 2 tbsp. sugar. Bake at 350 F. for 10 min., or until brown. Chill.

EPIDEMIC HITS ALBERNI SCHOOL

ALBERNI, B. C., June 9 (CP)—A serious epidemic has stricken more than 30 per cent of pupils attending Alberni Elementary School.

Diagnosis shows a gastro-intestinal condition accompanied by sharp pain. The attacks are short and recurrent. The illness has been confined mostly to young people.

Wednesday morning one-third of the children were absent from the school and more were forced to leave during the afternoon.

Dr. H. H. Beattie of the Central Island Health Unit at Nanaimo, is investigating the strange ailment.

The local water supply is suspected to be the cause of the sickness and a warning has been given by B. Wakelyn, Sanitary Inspector with the Health Unit, that all water should be boiled before being used.

There have been no deaths reported but authorities view the situation as serious.

CHILD DROWNS

PORT MOODY, B. C., June 9 (CP)—Six-year-old James Sigurdson drowned in a swimming pool here last night, 10 minutes after Mrs. B. J. Bradley left him and his playmates.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Sigurdson, was playing at a safe distance from the pool before Mrs. Bradley left them for a few moments. When she returned the other children told her Jimmy had fallen in.

Dreaded Angina Pectoris Seldom Mistaken By Examining Doctor

There is this to be said for angina pectoris—it creates such unmistakable symptoms that it can seldom be ignored by the patient or confused by the doctor with any other form of heart disease.

Angina pectoris is a disorder of the heart due, in most cases, to hardening of the main coronary arteries which carry blood to the heart muscle.

Pain, under the breast bone or over the heart, is its chief symptom. Though of short duration, it is usually severe while it lasts, often passing upward into the left shoulder and down the arm. Almost invariably it comes on during or immediately after exercise, emotional upsets or chilling.

CLASSIC PICTURE

This is the classic picture, but sometimes the pain may be slight and in a little different location. Now and then, for instance, it may be felt chiefly in the upper part of the abdomen. Not only may the pain pass into the shoulder and arm but upward into the neck to the left side of the face. In severe cases, the pain may pass upward into both arms.

This passage of the pain to various parts of the body is known as radiation. If the area of radiation should change, it may indicate that further changes in the heart may have occurred, such as further narrowing of the opening through the coronary arteries.

In addition to the pain, there may be other symptoms, such as sweating, weakness, fainting, collapse, dizziness, and shortness of breath. However, all of these symptoms are not present in every case, and it is on the pain and its characteristics that the diagnosis of angina pectoris is made.

When it is suspected that a person has this disorder, he should, of course, be carefully studied by his physician, and an electrocardiogram made. This is an electric tracing of the heart beat, and is helpful in the diagnosis.

DECIDE TREATMENT

The physician will decide in each case just what treatment is necessary. In every case, of course, chilling, overstrain, and emotional upsets, which tend to bring on the attacks, must be avoided. These patients are supplied also with nitroglycerine which they can take when an attack threatens.

There are many facts concerning angina pectoris which still must be determined by scientific study and experimentation. This is true in regard to many forms of heart disease, and it is important that such scientific studies be undertaken if the dangers of heart disease are to be eliminated.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. D.: About an hour after each meal my heart beats peculiarly. Can this be caused by stomach disorder?

Answer: A stomach disturbance might cause the irregularity in the heart beat. However, in order to be sure, you should have an examination made, including an electrocardiogram or electric tracing of the heart.

For Parents

When Child Lags in School Work Don't Scold, But Try To Help Them

In these days some reports from school or college are disappointing, as of failure by the child to win promotion or graduation. For the college student, failing grades usually means he can't return next Fall and probably the ending of his college attendance anywhere.

Not so for the youth failing in a public high school. He can go on indefinitely if he chooses, though he may not so choose. Yet by skillful influence of the school and home this youth may be prevailed on to go back to school next Fall.

If the youth has failed at the end of the junior, sophomore or freshman year in high school more persuasion from the home and school may be needed to induce him to return to school in September, especially if he finds it easy to get a job. Too bad these youths can't see that when jobs grow scarce the youths who have finished high school will have an advantage in the competition for employment and promotion.

FAILURE WITH BOOKS

Whatever the plans of the youth who has failed in high school or college, his relationship with his parents is of first importance. All too many parents are inclined to show disgust over the son or daughter's failure with books and to charge him or her with having been indifferent or lazy; and the disgust is more often from a selfish reason than from what it may mean to the youth himself. Indeed, the average parent tends first to consider his own personal pride and social status —what his own friends will think— when a child at any age lags or fails at school or college. And when the child senses this parental attitude see what it means to the parent-child relationship.

Its painful to consider the heartaches of the child in the grades who has not won promotion, when his parents respond to his school report by words of shaming and abuse, charging him with having been lazy, telling him how he has disgraced them. And when there is another child in the family who passed with flying colors cruel comparisons may arise.

ACT INTELLIGENTLY

If your child has failed to win promotion do try to be humane and act intelligently. Let him know you are sorry for his sake. You know very well it is water over the dam. Just think through a plan for helping this child do better at books next Fall. If some of his teachers are available, find out from them all you can about his learning difficulties and what may be done about them. At your nearest college or university find a psychologist to study this child further and recommend a program. One thing you certainly should not do is to scold the child about his failure. Never discuss the matter again in his presence.

If you are advised to send him to Summer school or to employ a tutor fo rhim, dont choose it as a punishment, but as an opportunity for him. In case you can manage your own emotions well so as always to be calm, patient and serene, you might be able to help him bring up some of his arrears in such subjects as reading, arithmetic and spelling, by having him practice on some materials easy enough for him to succeed at.

You might find some useful suggestions in my "Home Help" bulletins on reading, arithmetic, and spelling (to be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper). Usually it is wiser to employ a patient teacher for individual instruction of this child—about the best investment I can think of.

C. P. A. Omits New Zealand Base

AUCKLAND, N. Z., June 9 (CP) The Auckland Star says tonight that Canadian Pacific Airlines is omitting New Zealand from its Trans-Pacific service because the New Zealand Government insists on keeping a monopoly of the Australia-New Zealand route for Tasman Empire Airways, a Government-owned line.

The Canadian service originally was planned to include a call at Auckland on the Sydney-to-Fiji leg, but it was announced Wednesday that the New Zealand stop is being temporarily omitted.

"LUSCIOUS LUCY" FINDS HER MAN

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 9 (AP)—"Luscious Lucy" appears to have found her man.

Lucille Archibeque, a Los Angeles accounting clerk, is attending the current convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce for the admitted purpose of locating a husband.

The 23-year-old brunette, whose extravagant physical architecture has already earned her the name of "Luscious Lucy" among the Jaycee delegates, said last night that 24-year-old Sandy Crews of St. Catharines, Ont., is "just what I'm looking for."

"He's got the most terrific manners," she said in an interview.

"And he speaks terrific French. I love his French."

Crews, an automobile salesman in St. Catharines, is a convention delegate. His unabashed opinion of Lucille is: "She's really got something."

He appears unconcerned over the fact Lucille's husband-hunting expedition is backed by a radio program, Art Linkletter's "People Are Funny". And he isn't especially averse to the idea that she must send periodic "progress reports" to Linkletter.

Miss Archibeque is pledged to make a second appearance on the air next Fall when the Linkletter program is resumed. At that time she will give a detailed summary of her experiences as a huntress.

Crews' only worry is that competition may become a little too crowded in this jammed resort town. "I've got to figure a way to scrape off all the other guys hanging around," he said. "You know, this convention ends Sunday. I been thinking. A guy 24 years old ought to be having thoughts about marriage."

Clinic days were the third Friday in each month with one appointed Institute member assisting.

The Institute was asked to send in resolutions for the Arrow Lakes District rally to be held in Burton Sept. 10, before July 15.

After a lengthy discussion on the library fund, it was decided to hold a special day to raise funds for this project. The committee appointed with Mrs. R. Jordan in charge, was Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. H. Hiltz, Mrs. A. E. Fowler, Mrs. J. Parent, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Mrs. T. Mitchell and Mrs. Armstrong.

A baby layette collection was donated by individual members and will be in charge of the Public Health Nurse.

The roll call, "My Most Embarrassing Moment" was answered by members amid laughter. Afternoon tea was served by hostesses, Mrs. J. M. Armstrong and Miss M. Kirk.

Housewife Training Good Background For Tourist Industry Job

By KAY REX

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 9 (CP)—Training as a housewife will stand the average woman nin good stead should she ever seek a job in the tourist industry.

Manolita Doelger, the only woman to head a foreign travel bureau in the United States, is Director of the Italian National Tourist Office which has its headquarters in New York. She paid a brief visit to the capital this week and said that tourist work is deal for women.

"To begin with, a woman brings into her job the training she has had as a housewife—and that is good school," said Mrs. Doelger.

HUMAN RELATIONS' EXPERTS

The tourist industry is a public service and hence the human relations rather than the dollars and cents value is important in the tourist industry. Here women score again. By nature they are interested in people and in human problems, she said.

It was her interest in people which drew Mrs. Doelger into the travel field about a year ago.

'Ihad no background except as an everyday tourist who has travelled a great deal," said the expert who once studied law at the University of Genoa.

An American citizen of Italian extraction, Mrs. Doelger's father was in the British Navy, and because of this she saw a ggood deal of the world during her early years.

Italy now is seeking Canadian tourists, and soon will advertise in newspapers across the Dominion.

Invermere Couple Exchange Vows

INVERMERE, B. C., June 9—A corsage of deep red roses made a delightful color accent on the smoke-grey gabardine suit worn by Myrtle Allison Cleland Saturday, June 4, at her wedding in Trinity United Church.

The bride, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard Cleland of Invermere, exchanged marriage vows with Corbin Neil Mitchell, second son of Mrs. Albert Mitchell and the late Mr. Mitchell of Invermere. Rev. A. E. Weaver officiated at the late afternoon ceremony. Joe Pietrosky was groomsman.

Mr. Cleland gave his daughter in marriage. Her trim grey suit was worn with a white beret style hat, feather trimmed, and white accessories. She and her matron of honor wore identical white lace trimmed blouses.

Mrs. Charles Osterloh was her sister's only attendant.

She had chosen a suit of maroon gabardine worn with a white beret trimmed with a maroon feather. Her corsage was composed of white carnations and snapdragon.

The church, decorated by friends of the bride, was fragrant with lilac and snowballs. Miss Gladys Pitts presided at the organ.

The bride's mother wore a dress of grey silk crepe fashioned with pleats on bodice and skirt, and a grey hat with grey and maroon ribbon trim. The mother of the groom was in a flowered jersey dress with a black background, and her small black hat picked up the colors of the dress in its flower trim. Both wore corsages of white carnations and snapdragon.

A reception for immediate members of the principals' families was held at the home of the bride. A three-tiered wedding cake decorated by the bride's mother centred the table. Toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Weaver.

After the brief wedding trip, the young couple will reside in Invermere, where the groom is employed by the Invermere Contracting Company.

Pool Popular as Cranbrook Temperatures Climb

CRANBROOK, B. C. June 8 — Temperatures in the mid-80's at the weekend launced the first rush of the season on the Gyro Swimming Pool. Possibly the most valuable educational offering of the year was the three lecture series given by Dr., Brockington, Inspectors C. I. Taylor and R. D. Young, H. S. Principal. Major undertaking was the very successful hobby show held to raise funds for the fine arts scholarship.

C. C. F. Throwing Back the Small Ones

The Hon. C. M. Fines, Finance Minister of the Saskatchewan C.C.F. Government, declared in a meeting at Trail the other night that a "C.C.F. Government would not be interested in operating every corner store, taxi, hotel, filling station, the drug store, and the local Press."

The C.C.F. has indicated it does not want to be bothered with any such "small potatoes".

What Mr. Fines and his Government really have their eyes on is such large corporations as the C. M. & S.

Has Mr. Fines the faintest conception of the problems involved in maintaining successfully such a mining and smelting operation?

Has Mr. Fines any idea of the problems associated with marketing a huge volume of base metals in open competition in a world-wide market?

Everybody in this District, anyway, understands full well the foolishness of the C.C.F. idea that such a Company as the C. M. & S. Co. could be operated by a Government, or that it could be milked of its profits in good years and continue to survive when profits tumble—as metal prices are tumbling today—and its treasury had been emptied of reserves.

Birds of a Feather?

Less than six months ago citizens read in a Canadian paper that, "while Soviet 'peace' doves coo abroad, the Soviet war eagle screams in Russia—."

Mrs. Dorise Nielsen was quoted by another Canadian paper as saying, "I'm a Communist and proud of it."

In still another, L. B. Pearson, Canada's Minister of External Affairs, was saying of the Atlantic Pact, "It is a pact for peace, and if peace is impossible . . . then it will be a pact for victory."

How soon we forget. Less than six months ago threat of war seemed to stand over us like a shadow. Now, thanks to the Atlantic Pact, the threat has been lifted. Already the Pact has been successful beyond the hopes of the participants. Already Russia has pulled in her horns.

And still the "peace mongers" denounce the Pact.

At the present time at least three organized political bodies are on record as opposing the Atlantic Pact—the C.C.F. Party of British Columbia, the C.C.F. Party of Manitoba, and of course the Communists.

This means that no matter how vehemently the British Columbia C.C.F. leaders protest their personal anti-Communist views, they are harboring within their midst a poisonous Communist element.

Obviously these Communists would have an enormous influence on the Government of British Columbia if by any chance the C.C.F. gained power in the Province.

Looks Longingly at Day When Members Welcomed Letters

To the Editor:

Sir—Fifty years ago B. C. had a real Parliament, when its members could proudly claim they were M.P.s. They did not aspire to be a legislative body, and they made what laws were needed, knowing they must be constitutional.

Forty years ago the members were still M.P.s, and carried on constitutionally. If they passed a Bill that had some small mistake in it and some outsider pointed out the mistake, every effort was made to remedy matters without undue delay.

This happened between 1912 and 1914 when some new game regulations came into force. Fur animals may be pests, and there was no way for the small farmer to get rid of such pests except by shooting under the new Act. As soon as it was pointed out to the House that not one farmer in ten ever had shot at a weasel, an amendment was passed allowing the trapping of fur animals doing damage.

But the person who pointed out this received a very charming and friendly letter thanking him for his trouble in writing.

Thirty years ago the first war was barely finished.

Twenty years ago there was a change; the bureaucrats claimed power, and letters to Ministers, all except confidential letters, began to be dealt with entirely by the officials.

Ten years ago the bureaucrats claimed more power; letters were frequently not replied to.

Now one does not expect a reply unless the matter is in praise of or greatly to the benefit of the officials. Confidential letters do not reach the Minister.

So it is little use for the few remaining ranchers in the West Kootenay, that is, the few who try to make a living on fruit ranches, to ask that they may be protected from deer damage.

Deer, like the officials, have more than doubled in number in the last 10 years, and, as the regulations have not encouraged the growing of vegetables for profit on outlying properties, while the taxes have more than doubled, it becomes increasingly difficult for anyone to live in the country. Of course we may buy vegetables from the South now, even cabbage.

More than 30 years ago there were meetings of ranchers called to consider the unsuitable cultivation of vegetables by Chinese and the possibility that the Doukhobors would produce so many that the small rancher would be penalized by having no market. Now the majority of small settlements have to import imported vegetables.

Statesmen are rare in B. C., but it may not be above the ability of some half-dozen politicians in the House to copy some of the old ways of dealing with unwanted surplus pests in the older countries. One sound way is to allow surplus livestock to be sold, and venison or deer meat can be bought at the same price as beef, generally in July and August. In this country, it is safe to say that of the deer killed in West Kootenay more than half are wasted.

Our bureaucrats will not agree, but we may have a Minister some day who will be allowed his own way, and given letters addressed to him.

NAGY, Ferenc—
The Struggle Behind the Iron Curtain.

When Ferenc Nagy was Premier of Hungary, he tried to rebuild his war-devastated country in coalition with the Communists. This book reveals in detail the means by which the Communists gained control over the Hungarian people—from the first fine promises of the liberators to the melodramatic coup d'etat that crushed the last vestige of democratic opposition. It is the exciting, first-hand story of a man of peasant stock who became one of the outstanding political figures of his country.

Unions Opposed To Socialism Say Labor Men

SHEEP CREEK, B. C., June 9—In any country where socialistic principles had become the growing factor, free enterprise became a thing of the past, and labor should strongly oppose any such encroachment through their freedom of action, Walter Scribbins of the Civic Employees Union of Vancouver said before an audience in the Sheep Creek school here Monday night.

Other speakers included D. D. McLean of Nelson and Walter Hendricks, Coalition candidate in the Nelson-Creston riding.

Mr. Scribbins emphasized the Civic Employees Union preference for free enterprise rather than Socialism.

Mr. McLean spoke of the stand of his own particular union which was international in scope. He asserted that the Coalition Government was the best Government British Columbia ever had. The fact that the Coalition Government had succeeded in having the mountain differential removed from freight rates should alone warrant the return of the Coalition party to power on June 15, he said.

Mr. Hendricks followed with a forceful talk on his 51 years in the Kootenays and stated that his only interest lay in the continued progress of the Kootenays and its people. He also hoped to secure more and better social services for the people as they became economically feasible. He promised wholehearted support to the Coalition manifesto of 32 planks and a guarantee that he would act solely in the interest ofthe Kootenay people should he be elected to Victoria. One of his pet hobbies for the past 40 years had been participation in an effort to establish a contributory old age pension plan with retirement at 65 and the abolition of a means test.

He also spoke briefly on the hospital insurance plan and allied services that were at present the finest on the North American continent. He also hoped that in the near future medical and dental services would be included in the hospital plan.

Close to 50,000 acres of Canadian farmland will be sprayed from the air with chemical dust this year.

Newcomer Shows Heels To Golf Name Players

By WILL GRIMSLEY

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP) — Les Kennedy, Rhode Island professional playing in his first Masters' Tournament, today outstroked the leading professionals of the United States with a sparkling two-under-par 69 in the first round of the United States Open Golf Championship.

Kennedy had a picnic on the tricky, tiny greens of Medinah's No. 3 course which baffled the game's top putting specialists.

Using only 26 nudges on the greens and holing out once from the fringe, Kennedy bracketed a 35-34 over the difficult 36-35—71 layout that snakes 6981 yards through a veritable forest.

This gave him a one-stroke lead over a small cluster of veteran pros—Herman Barron and Chick Harbert of the tournament tourists and Charley Farlow and Al Brosch of the home variety. They wound up with 70s and were the only others in a starting field of 162 to crack Medinah's grim regulation card.

Putting miseries plagued the pre-tournament favorites of this 49th championship.

SNEAD CLUB MISBEHAVES

Even Sam Snead's new gooseneck putting blade, which carried him to victories this year in the P.G.A. Tournament, went berserk and left the chosen West Virginian clinging to a 73.

The other two best-liked contenders — Bobby Locke, the methodical South African, and Byron Nelson, the former champion who has left his Texas cattle ranch for the event, shared 74s that left them in arrears.

Other top-flight pros who took a beating were Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N.J., and Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., with 78s; Skip Alexander of Lexington, N.C., 76, and Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis precisionist, 75.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, Canadian amateur titleholder and former British amateur champion, missed seven putts of three feet and less and came in with a rotund 82 that blew him out of competition.

By the time two-thirds of the starting field of 162 was in, half a doze nplayers were bunched at even par—71—and it was a great day for the oldsters.

Bobby Cruickshank, the indestructible Scot from Pittsburgh, headed the even-par cast. Also in it were Lew Worsham of Oakmount, Pa., the 1947 champion; Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C., and E. E. Peelle, slender youngster from Kansas City.

The leading amateurs were Robert H. (Skee) Riegl of Tulsa, Okla., former United States champion, and J im McHale of Overbrook, Pa. They shared 72s with big Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N.C., and Horton Smith, the 40-year-old veteran from Detroit.

Atlanta Links' No. 17 Pays Off on Ace

By STERLING SLAPPEY

ATLANTA, June 9 (CP)—Just about every golfer is nervous teeing off on par-three holes because the perfect golf shot—a hole-in-one—may be coming up.

But No. 17 on Atlanta's druid hills course is an extra bugaboo. It is one of only three holes in the world—and the only one in the United States—which is endowed.

A hole-in-one on No. 17 is worth $10 plus accrued interest since the last perfect shot was made.

Since 1926 when Druid Hills' Board of Directore voted to spice up interest in their course by putting a premium on perfect shots, President W. H. Hester says only two men have won prizes.

Alf Newell of Atlanta, did it first. His shot was made in 1929. He won $10.95 besides becoming the club hero.

President Hester says Newell's blow stood by itself until last Fall when W. L. Gunter, also of Atlanta, became the second golfer to make such a shot. Gunter's prize money was complicated since bank interest rates have been reduced. His prize was $14.50, or thereabouts.

NO ACE FOR JONES

Holes-in-one are scarce on any course and such strokes on the tricky 200-year No. 17 at Druid Hills should put Newell and Gunter into an honored category in golf record books.

Another famous Atlantan—Bobby Jones—has palyed No. 17 often and has never come too close to an ace. In fact he completed his competitive golf life without scoring a one on any hole.

Druid Hill's original course, including No. 17 which has not been changed, was laid out in 1914 and from the beginning it wasn't designed as a birdie hole, much less a place where holes-in-one are most likely.

Every inch of the 200 years excepting a minute green and skinny apron, must be carried on the fly.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

If you could see yourself exactly as you are when you hit a golf ball, it would be fairly easy to eliminate most of the faults in your swing.

Errors of grip, arm action and pivot that ruin all possibility of an effective hit may originate numerous places in the backswing or downswing. But they all reach the payoff the instant the ball is hit.

For example, there's the hip action that throws many fellows completely out of the chance of hitting firmly through the ball. The correct thing to do is to get the left side out of the way so it won't cramp the downswing. Just before the ball is hit the left hip should be about as shown in the illustration. Then the right leg straightens and the arms swing through as the wrists complete their uncocking.

You watch plenty of fellows and about the time they are going to hit the ball they are practically facing the hole. They have begun their downswing by switching their hips around. Too bad.

Cripples Give Tigers Third Win Over Yanks

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A couple of cripples who had far from rosy prospects at the start of the current baseball season, stole the spotlight from the hectic National League pennant race Thursday.

Outfielder Hoot Evers and Pitcher Art Houtteman combined to give the Detroit Tigers a 9-5 victory over the League-leading New York Yankees in an American League encounter.

The victory was the Tigers' third straight over the Yanks, and cut the New Yorkers' lead over the Tigers to 3½ games.

Evers, out most of last season with injuries, whacked out five hits, scoring three runs and knocking home two. Houtteman, seriously injured in an auto crash prior to the season, pitched a six-hitter for his third victory as against one defeat.

Meanwhile, the National League race maintanied its torrid pace, with Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals posting wins. The Cards remain a scant half-game behind the Dodgers.

The Dodgers exploded for two big run-producing innings to defeat the Chicago Cubs 9-5. Ralph Branca pitched shutout ball for seven innings for the Dodgers, but was routed in the eighth when the Cubs scored five runs from as many hits. Paul Minner finished but Branca was given credit for the victory, his eighth. Jackie Robinson and Pee Wee Reese garnered three safeties apiece for the winners.

Lefty Howie Pollet won his fifth consecutive game for the Cardinals, spacing six hits on St. Louis' 4-1 triumph over the sagging New York Giants. Clint Hartung, who started for the Giants, was the loser.

BRAVES DUMP REDS

The Boston Braves kept just a whisker behind the Cardinals, downing Cincinnati Reds 10-2. For the first time since he became a Brave in 1947, Third-Baseman Bob Elliott was bench for feeble hitting. He was replaced at third base yesterday by Connie Ryan, Tommy Holmes led the Braves at the plate with a triple and two doubles.

The Philadelphia Phils and Pittsburgh Pirates tangled in an 18-inning game in Philadelphia, with the Phils coming out on top 4-3. Del Ennis' single followed by Andy Seminick's double and Johnny Mayo's fly produced the winning run in the 18th.

In the American League, the St. Louis Browns continued to astound even their own supporters by scoring their third consecutive win over the Boston Red Sox, and their fourth in a row after dropping 11 straight. Jack Graham and Whitey Platt hit homers for the Browns, and Dick Starr hurled a six-hitter for his first victory after seven losses.

Veteran Luke Appling made a key error in the 12th inning at Chicago to allow the Philadelphia Athletics to defeat the White Sox 1-0. Dick Fowler and Lefty Bill Wight went all the way in a tight pitchers' duel, with Wight emerging the loser. It was the 12th Chicago loss in the last 16 games.

Dodger Idiosyncracies Go Down On Paper of Facts, Figures Man

By ROBERT MARX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BROOKLYN, N.Y., June 9 (CP)—Allan Roth of Montreal, facts-and-figures man for Brooklyn Dodgers, could be a champion arm-chair baseball manager.

Instead, Roth is probably the only full-time statistician for a major-league baseball club. He invented the job for himself, then sold the idea to Branch Rickey, President of the Dodgers.

Roth watches all the Dodgers' games from a seat behind home plate. He counts all the pitches, records how and where they are thrown, where they are hit, how the fielder plays the ball, how the batter runs the bases.

He records how each man on the Dodgers and on the opposing team bats against right-handed or southpaw pitchers, against individual pitchers or against a team as a whole.

He knows who plays best at night and who in day games, who comes through with a hit most often when there are men on base, who draws the most walks, how often a player strikes out, the number of times a lead-off hitter reaches first base.

Roth keeps abreast of the game even during hectic moments with a system of baseball shorthand. Afterwards he compiles his figures and tabulates them on charts he keeps for each player and team. The figures then are added to a written report which warm up the cold statistics with a touch of the human element.

All his records are made available to Rickey and Manager Burt Shotton. They use them as a supplement to their knowledge of each player's natural ability.

Roth, who attended school in Cornwall, Ont., for seven years, got the idea for his job in 1941 while a statistician for the National Hockey League and developed it in the Canadian Army during 1942-44.

Patience, Tibbetts Outshoot McElroy

VANCOUVER, June 9 (CP)—Subpar golf by Canada's top amateur, Walt McElroy, wasn't good enough to win this city's pitch-and-putt tourney for the Gordon Wismer trophy Wednesday.

Carding a three-under-par 50, the Shaughnessy star looked a good thing to cop first prize until Bill Patience and Bill Tibbetts toured the course at a blistering pace for five-under-par 48's apiece.

The two golfers are slated to tee off for the play-off on Saturday.

Sees Possible Tennis Fame for Canada in B. C.'s Lorne Main

VANCOUVER, June 9 (CP) — The brightest thing in Vancouver tennis for years, 19-year-old Lorne Main, is rated a good chance of becoming an international star by no less than U.S. tennis "czar," Jerry Jones.

Jones, Secretary of the Southern California Amateur Tennis Association, expressed a strong liking for the diminutive Vancouver netman. "If this lad really goes far in international competition — as he quite possibly can do, given proper assistance, he will be a tremendous credit to Canada and the game itself," said the tennis chief.

The Vancouver boy was compared with another two-fisted star, Ecuadorian Pancho Segura, who has reached the top of the tennis tree.

Advocating a scheme for the development of Canadian tennis players early on in life, he said "help them while they're young—later is too late."

"And believe me," he continued, "we in California would welcome a champion from Canada with open arms."

"In fact, if you sent a good player down to us, we'd see to it that he was nursed like one of our own. We'd give him every break in any tournament draws.

In the meantime, Main will probably take part in the Vancouver City championships, scheduled here next Sunday, and the Western Canada meet, also here for July 5.

Game Club Against Reissue of Sportsman's Map

The Executive of the Nelson Fish and Wildlife Protective Association, at a meeting at the home of J. O. Dolphin, President, went on record as being "definitely against" reissuance of the Sportsman's Map by the West Kootenay Rod and Gun Clubs Association.

Many members felt that it was not consistent with the Association's aims and objects, namely the conservation of fish and game resources. Nelson Board of Trade had asked into the possibility of reprinting the map.

It was also decided that as the biological staff of the B. C. Game Department was conducting a survey in the district, that efforts should be made to arrange a public meeting with Dr. P. A. Larkin, Chief Biologist. Many members felt they would like to know more of the procedure and objectives.

Natal-Michel Cubs Drub Blairmore 13-7

NATAL, B. C., June 9—Playing their opening home game in the Crow's Nest Pass Junior Baseball League the Natal-Michel Junior Cubs drubbed the Blairmore Juniors 13-7.

The visiting 'Pass Juniors outhit the Natal-Michel team twelve to ten but failed to bunch them as the winners used four pitchers during the game.

Strikeouts were many during the game as no less than 33 strikeouts were registered by the pitchers of both teams. The big blows of the game were homers hit by Stevenson with the bases loaded and by Androlick with one on for Natal-Michel. Lowe also contributed one hit while receiving three walks for the winners.

For the losers D. Lloyd and Gordon with three hits apiece led the attack. The game was umpired by A. Krall, Sr., of Michel and L. Krall of Natal.

Rookie Keeps Mack Club in Amerk Chase

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP) — The American League agrees today that baseball's Connie Mack is "the luckiest guy in the business."

He may have bad luck, they admit, but he has good luck too. The latest exhibit is rookie pitcher Alex Kellner, hottest mound assest of the 1949 campaign.

The 24-year-old Kellner has won seven times for Philadelphia Athletics, three from the league-leading New York Yankees. He's lost three and has appeared in a total of 12 contests.

The latest triumph Thursday, over Chicago White Sox, pulled Philadelphia from fifth to third place, just six games from the top.

Kellner, Lou Brissie and Joe Coleman are the mainstays of Mack's mound staff These three are credited with 17 of 26 victories this year.

At the season's start, Kellner didn't figure to stick long with Philadelphia. Then Dick Fowler, Phil Marchildon and Bill McCahan turned up with sore arms. Marchildon, from Penetanguishene, Ont., hasn't done much more than Fowler, a former Toronto moundsman.

Mack took a chance, pulled Kellner off his relief chores and converted him into a starter.

Kellner made the jump to the majors in one big leap. He came up from the Sally League (Savannah, Ga.) where he was assigned after Connie bought him from Birmingham, (Ala.) of the Southern Association in 1947.

Natal-Michel Red Sox Gain Tie In 'Pass Journey

NATAL, B. C., June 9—Playing up the 'Pass over the weekend the Natal-Michel Red Sox Baseball Club gained but a tie in a double header played against the strong 'Pass teams.

Playing at Blairmore, Natal-Michel blew the first game.

Lefty Scott pitched the entire game for the losers allowing thirteen hits while striking out ten. Dobek was the winning pitcher after relieving Chala in the fifth inning during a five-run rally.

Corney with three hits paced the winners while Quorin and D. DePaoli with two hits, were the leading batters for the losing Natal-Michel team.

Playing the second game at the Hillcrest stadium the Natal-Michel nine blew a 6-1 lead in the sixth inning to allow the Hillcrest Miners to score six runs when starting pitcher A. Krall, weakened.

W. Krall finished the game in grand style striking out two and forcing a third out in the last inning.

Pahara pitched the entire game for the winners allowing eight hits while striking out nine batters.

Elick with three hits paced the attack for Hillcrest. The games were umpired by P. Zeith of Natal, Tabor of Hillcrest and Dancey of Blairmore.

Only Six Horses Entered in Belmont

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Only six horses, smallest field since 1943, appear likely to face the starter Saturday in the 81st running of the $75,000 Belmont Stakes.

Calumet Farm's Ponder, the Kentucky Derby winner, appears certain to be established the favorite by an expected crowd of 50,000. After running fifth to Capot in the Preakness, Ponder came back last Saturday and took the Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont.

Odds-makers were quoting the Calumet colt at 6 to 5, with Isidore Bieber's Palestinian probable second choice at 2 to 1, and Greentree Stable's Capot next at 7 to 2.

Others expected to complete the field for the mile and one half grind are Mrs. Eden H. Ellison, Jr.s Sun Bahram, Clifford Moder's Old Rockport, and J. Graham Brown's Saint Nicholas. All will carry 126 pounds.

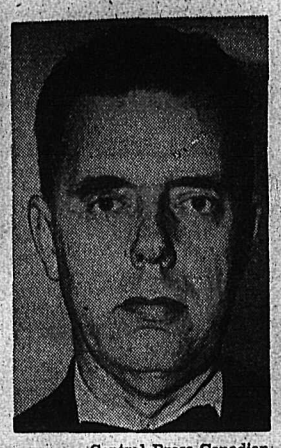
Hope To Rheumatism Victims



—Central Press Canadian

Dr. Philip S. Hench, chief of the U. S. Mayo Clinic medical section, has called Compound E a new miracle in arthritis treatment and likened it to insulin. The compound, hailed by some as "the greatest discovery of our generation," came out of the famous Mayo Clinic and holds promise that millions of arthritis sufferers may now get from the mysterious hormone the same relief which insulin gives to diabetics. Like insulin, Compound E is extremely difficult to produce, and it will be many months before enough will be available to treat more than a handful of sufferers. Medical men say there are more persons suffering from rheumatism and allied ailments than any other single complaint.

Drama in the Court

—Central Press Canadian

This realistic demonstration was given in court at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, at the trial of Dr. Robert Rutledge, accused of murdering Byron C. Hattman. The trial, one of the most spectacular in recent years, had the accused wife testify that the deceased had seduced her. Here the prosecuting attorneys are presenting a case to prove premeditated murder, demonstrating their conception of how Hattman was killed.

Stranded on Globe-Girdling Flight

—Central Press Canadian

Penniless and dogged by misfortune ever since she started out on a globe-circling flight last August, Mrs. Richarda Morrow-Tait, 25-year-old English aviatrix, is grounded at Malton, Ont., by international red tape. She and her navigator, Jack Ellis, shown here, are liable to prosecution in the U. S. for taking their aircraft out of Seattle without an inspection. Auxiliary Tanks Extend Vampire Fighting Range

Seven-league boots in the form of long-range fuel tanks are being provided for R.C.A.F. DeHavilland Vampire jet fighters. Known as drop tanks, the containers extend the normal range of the speedy interceptors, and during wartime can be dropped by the pilot when engaging in combat, to allow full aerobatic performance. Shown above is one of the first R.C.A.F. Vampires to be fitted with the long-range tanks, which look disturbingly like bombs at first glance. The tanks are not actually dropped except under operational conditions.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Many Fruit Trees Suffer Winter Injury in Creston Valley Area

In many Creston District orchard-, trees are still dying back from Winter injury, the fortnight Horticultural Newsletter of the Department of Agriculture reveals.

It continues:

In the orchards the first cover sprrays have been applied, and on the reclaimed lands chemical weed control measures are in use.

In small fruits, strawberries are showing a good set of fruit; raspberries, where Winter injury was not serious, are showing a large flower bud development; currants suffered severely from the Winter with the result that there will be a very poor set of fruit. In strawberries, the mite, weevil and spittlebug have caused some damage. The first ripe strawberry was recorded June 4. This came from an early location and from an everbearing variety.

FAIRLY HEAVY DROP

In the orchards, trees are still dying back from Winter injury. Apricots, peaches, cherries and late apples showed the greatest amount of injury. Considerable June drop is being experienced at this time in some orchards. Some portion of this is attributed to Winter injury and spray burn. Generally, however, the tre fruit set appears favorable and the prospects of a satisfactory yield is good.

Although some apple scab has been recorded this season, this disease is not developing as it did in 1948. The European Red mite is fairly general throughout this valley. Where dormant oil was used efficiently, the control of mites is good, however, in other spots the mite had developed alarmingly and parathion will have to be used.

Vegetable acreages in Creston this year, with 1948 acreages shown in brackets, follow:

Asparagus (3) 20; beans (½) 1; beets (1) 1; early cabbage (1) 1; late cabbage (3) 2; carrots (2) 3; celery (¼) ¼; corn (2½) 3; vines (3) 2; lettuce (¼) ½; mangels (2) 3; onion (8) 4; parsnips (1) 1; peas (1) 2; peppers (1) 1; early potatoes (12) 10; late potatoes (40) 35; tomatoes (12) 10; Turnips (1½) 2; others (2) 3.

Seed vegetables:
Peas (150) 1400.
