Briton To Attend Nationalization Board Meeting

Reply to Iranian Threat to Take Over Company Without Consultation

BY ROBERT B. HEWETT

TEHRAN, Iran, May 27 (AP) — The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company made a conciliatory gesture today by offering to send its resident manager to listen in at one meeting only of the Oil Nationalization Board.

The billion-dollar British company thus replied by half measures to the Iranian ultimatum that it help carry out its own nationalization by Wednesday or be taken over without consultation.

Members of the Oil Board said A.I.O.C.'s appeal Saturday to the International Court of Justice to appoint an arbitrator in the world-shaking dispute was "ridiculous" and the "desperate act of a drowning man."

Communist front organizations called mass meetings throughout the country for Tuesday "to fight imperialistic oil companies."

All these moves seemed to presage a new crisis for Premier Mohammed Mossadegh—a crisis in which Westerners here saw a possible coup d'etat growing out of the present instability as the greatest danger.

Supporting A.I.O.C.'s appeal to the World Court at The Hague, the British Government reserved the right to take measures to preserve her present status in Iran. The Government owns 53 per cent of A.I.O.C. If Britain moved her parachute troops, presently destined for Cyprus in the Eastern Mediterranean, into Southern Iran to protect her property and nationals, Russia might make a similar move in the North.

The application to the United Nations-sponsored International Court invoked Article 22 of the 1933 Agreement by which Iran gave the company the right to exploit oil resources in the Southern part of the country for 60 years. The article provides that differences shall be settled by arbitration and, in the event of the two parties are unable to agree on a choice of arbitrators, a third or a sole arbitrator shall be appointed by the President of the World Court at the request of either party.

A communique issued by the Court said Iran in 1932 ratified its adherence to the World Court and accepted its jurisdiction.

A.I.O.C.'s Chairman, Sir William Fraser, in a letter to Iran's Finance Minister announced that the company's resident manager, N. R. Seddon, would attend one meeting of the Oil Board as a "measure of respect to the Imperial Government and Iranian Parliament."

He will be empowered only to listen and report back to the company.

J. R. Riesterer, Pioneer In B. C. Brewing Industry, Passes at 76

Julius Robert Riesterer, pioneer British Columbia brewer who was in Vancouver in 1890 and came to Nelson three years later, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Sunday morning. He was 76.

Born in Milwaukee, Wisc., he came to British Columbia in the latter part of May, 1890, and worked in the only three breweries in Vancouver at that time, the Red Cross brewery, Doring and Marsden and the Mainland, his uncle's brewery.

He came to Nelson with this uncle, Robert Riesterer, and the two started the first brewery in the Interior the same year, on the site of Kootenay Breweries, Ltd. In 1895 the first Kootenay beer was turned out.

In 1899 the pioneer built his own brewery on Hall Mines Road, next to the old skating rink.

Mr. Riesterer went to work in 1902 for the late William Gosnell in the Castle brewery on Chatham Street. After the death of his uncle the same year, he returned to the Nelson Brewing Company on Latimer Street to become brewmaster and Mr. Gosnell took over managership.

The year 1904 saw him in Grand Forks working for the Northfork Brewery, but he stayed there only a year, returning to Nelson Brewery as brewmaster and remaining until 1908. He then went to the city of his birth to take a course in brewing and later went to the Golden Westbury brewery in Calgary.

In 1910 Mr. Riesterer returned to Nelson and this time was employed by the late W. M. McLean in Thorpe's Bottling Works on Vernon Street. After a short time he went back to the Nelson Brewing Company where he worked until the last day of 1924.

ON MAIN LINE

His occupation also took him to the Enterprise brewery at Revelstoke where he worked from 1925 until 1928, and to Princeton from 1933 until 1935.

J. R. RIESTERER

Many events which stand out in the history of this province were clear in Mr. Riesterer's memory. He had seen the first Empress boat dock at Vancouver and the Emperor of China visit the coast city.

In his earlier days Mr. Riesterer was one of the city's most enthusiastic sportsmen. He handled a rod and reel with the best, and took a keen interest in curling and baseball and in gardening.

He was a member of Nelson's first hospital board, and a charter member of Knights of Pythias, Elks and Eagle lodges.

Mr. Riesterer married in Nelson in 1903 and his wife died in 1947. He had lived lately in Mount St. Francis infirmary.

There were nine children in the Riesterer family, all brought up in Nelson. They are Mrs. Margaret Harrop, Julius, Robert, Ernest and James, all in Nelson; Mrs. J. Janni in Wenatchee, Wash., Mrs. Mel Snowden in Montreal and Mrs. George Gill in Vancouver. A fifth daughter, Annie, died in 1940. He has a sister, Mrs. Annie Kading of Longbeach, Calif., who lived in Nelson from 1898 until 1902, and a brother and sisters in Milwaukee.

Close Escape Gates; Capture 2000 Chinese Reds

BY DON HUTH

TOKYO, May 28 (Monday) (AP) — Hungry, beaten Chinese Communists surrendered in wholesale lots on the Korean front today. The allies slammed shut escape corridors on thousands of other woeful Red soldiers.

The U.S. 24th Division captured 2,000 Reds — largest single bag of the war — on the central front Northwest of Chunchon.

Other Allied forces surged back into Hwachon, seven miles North of parallel 38, and seized two other road centres Sunday. The Reds still were on the run across the mountainous peninsula, except for sporadic attempts at rear-guard actions.

Field dispatches said an entire Chinese division—between 6000 and 10,000 men—was believed trapped Southeast of Hwachon, in the area generally North of Chunchon.

FED, TURNED LOOSE

One field report said American soldiers fed some of the hungry prisoners and then turned them loose in the hills to encourage their comrades to quit.

An Eighth Army briefing officer reported Red casualties continued "heavy."

Two U. S. 2nd Division armored forces within 30 minutes bottled up both North and South ends of an important escape route into North Korea for thousands of Chinese. With only slight opposition they seized the road junction of Inje, four miles North of the 38th parallel and Hyon, four miles South of the pre-war boundary.

The swift movement caught the tag end of a large Red column streaking North through Hyon. Allied fire slaughtered the trapped column, a pooled field dispatch reported. The Red column was estimated at between 5000 and 10,000 in number.

On the extreme East coast South Korean capital division troops were back in Yangyang, eight miles North of 38.

The mounting debacle to Chinese and North Korean troops across the entire 125-mile Korean front led some high officers to estimate it would take three months or more for the Reds to mount any new offensive.

Field Marshall Blamey Dies

MELBOURNE, Australia, May 27 (AP) — Field Marshal Sir Thomas Blamey, 67, mastermind of Australia's toughest military campaigns in two world wars, died today in Heidelberg military hospital after nearly a year of illness.

During the Second World War, Blamey was commander-in-chief of Allied land forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur and gained much of the credit for stopping the Japanese at the very doorstep of Australia.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies announced in Canberra that the late field marshal will be buried with full military honors in a state funeral Wednesday afternoon.

"He was a magnificent soldier and a devoted servant to his people," Menzies said. "A man in whom patriotism, great ability, strength of mind and force of character were blended in most massive proportions."

"GREAT SOLDIER"

(An aide to MacArthur, Col. Lawrence Bunker, who relayed his chief's message of regret, added that MacArthur always thought of Blamey "as a great soldier.")

Blamey was the first Australian and the second Dominion officer ever to be elevated to the rank of field marshal. This promotion came last year on the King's birthday just after Blamey became seriously ill with pneumonia.

The late Jan Christiaan Smuts of South Africa was the first Dominian field marshal.

Archbishop Duke Says School Taxation Unjust

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP) — Roman Catholic Archbishop William M. Duke of Vancouver contended today that British Columbia's school taxation system is "manifestly unjust."

He made the statement in defending action of the Roman Catholic School Board at nearby Maillardville which closed two parochial schools recently and sent the 664 students to the district's public schools.

The Board claimed the Government did not allocate sufficient funds to the separate schools for them to carry on.

Kootenay Crests At Bonners Below Flood Stage

BONNERS FERRY, May 27 (AP) —The up again, down again Kootenai (Kootenay) River was on its way down again today after cresting just one-tenth of a foot below flood stage here Saturday morning.

A six-tenths foot rise in 24 hours boosted the muddy river to the 30.9 foot level before the drop began. Upstream at Libby, Mont., the Kootenai receded four-tenths foot during the period the Bonners Ferry rise was taking place.

Spokane Weather Bureau Chief Robert McComb said he expected the Kootenai to drop to the 30-foot mark here Sunday. Flood stage here is considered 31 feet.

The Kootenai reached a stage of 31.8 feet here 12 days ago and neared flood stage a second time last weekend. Its latest rise began about the middle of last week.

Tin Can Note Not Missing Youth's; Last Search Group Leaves Goldhill

The search for 18-year-old Carl Olson of Ainsworth was back where it started today—without a lead of any kind.

R.C.M.P. reported last night it had established that the handwriting on the tin can, bearing the words "Not Lost" and dated May 22, was not that of the missing boy who disappeared in the Goldhill area 29 miles North of Lardeau on the evening of May 16.

Police investigation indicated that the tin can message is in no way connected with the disappearance.

The can message was discovered at Cooper Creek, four miles North of Lardeau and about 15 miles South of the point where the boy was last seen.

The mystery of an up-turned motorboat, found in a log jam in the Lardeau River, after it had apparently been cut loose from its moorings at Cooper Creek, was still not solved however. The possibility that the boat may have broke loose through a broken rope is also being considered.

Four Kaslo miners who have been searching the Goldhill area for the past several days, returned to Kaslo Saturday, satisfied that "everything that can be done in the way of a search has been done". The men had gone in after the larger search parties and police dogs had given up, but failed to find anything.

The nature of the Goldhill terrain which searchers say is not easy country in which to get lost, coupled with the failure to find a single clue has led Police to consider the possibility that the lad has disappeared of his own accord.

Lost Battalion Survivor Sheltered by Koreans

BY JOHN RANDOLPH

WESTERN FRONT, Korea, May 27 (AP) — Help reached Britain's lost 1st Battalion of the Gloucestershire Regiment — but it came a month too late for all but one dazed and unbelieving survivor.

He was Pte. Lionel Essex who crawled from the scene of massacre the night of April 25 and hid with a kindly Korean family for 33 days. A Greek patrol found him last night in a pouring rainstorm.

With the exception of the 49 men who fought their way back from the trap, he is the only survivor of some 600 Britons who battled for two days after they were surrounded by the Chinese corps.

The rest of the battalion, except for some who must have been taken prisoner, were also found today — still lying in the hill trap or scooped into shallow graves by the Chinese.

At the foot of the hill was the wreckage of the battalion — vehicles and equipment—burned trucks, wrecked Bren gun carriers, scattered ammunition and smashed machine-guns.

This story was told by Maj. P. Pantelis Kalamakis, Greek officer who found the British soldier:

"We went into the village of Paegan just below the Imjin at 8:30 p.m., Saturday.

" A Korean ran up and shouted. He pulled our sleeves . . .

"We went in and saw this Englishman . . . . He was thin, pale and hairy."

"He said nearly as I remember: 'For this moment. I waited. I prayed to God you'd come.' "

The major said Essex cried and then laughed.

"I wanted to make him happy," the major said. " I started to sing to him. I sang a song of yours 'Bless 'Em All.' "

As the Koreans carried Essex back, the major said, the soldier told his story.

The Chinese had over-run the Gloucesters position after Essex had been wounded in the leg. A Chinese came up and shot him in the arm and the other leg while he lay on the ground.

Essex played dead and after the Chinese left he crawled away. Next day the Koreans found him.

25th Gains 7 Miles In First Korea Action

Canadians Fight Like Old Hands To Take Hills; to Join Patricias

BY BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WEST SECTOR, Korea, May 27 (CP) — Brig. John Rockingham's 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade, unleashed Friday for the first time against the Communist forces in Korea, fought stubborn Chinese troops off three heights Saturday, part of the Brigade registering a 30,000-yard advance in the hills North of Uijongbu.

Though the enemy was not thick on the ground, he forced the Canadians to fight every inch of the way — which they did with the dash and verve of old hands.

While Eastern Ontario troops fought a battle every thousand yards, French-speaking troops to the East, also operating in hilly country, chalked up an unopposed 5000-yard gain.

Canadians in Sight Of Parallel

WEST SECTOR, Korea, May 27 (CP) — Canadian troops were in sight of the 38th Parallel tonight after a Sunday advance of six map miles.

Brig. John Rockingham's 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade had advanced about 15 miles since going into action against the retreating Reds.

In Sunday's advance, the only casualty was a soldier whose phosphorus grenade bounced back burning him slightly.

Elsewhere, the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, which relaxed Saturday after five weeks in the line, was notified that it will be rejoining the 25th Brigade as soon as possible. The Patricia's left the rest of the Brigade at Fort Lewis, Wash., last November when they sailed for Korea. The rest of the Brigade under Rockingham arrived in Korea a few weeks ago.

(The Patricias now are with another Brigade operating some 15 miles to the East of the 25th Brigade's sector).

Rockingham's force went into action Friday pointed in the direction of the 38th parallel and at nightfall of the first day had rolled their front back seven miles, with some units still in contact with the retreating enemy.

FOLLOWED U. S. TANKS

Eastern Ontario and French-speaking units of the Brigade both had been "blooded"—lightly—and the day yielded five enemy prisoners.

Operating in a broad clearing action, Rockingham's troops followed in the wake of a United States armored tank force which went clear to the 38th parallel.

The battalions cut a wide swath in taking towns. By nightfall Friday they were tied in brisk fire fights with Chinese troops in the hills.

Other Canadian troops continued to rest in the hills, where British Commonwealth troops had carried the front forward.

Saturday's fighting was carried out in pelting downpours that came and went as though someone was pulling a drawstring, opening the skies and closing them again.

A company under Maj. Don Duncan of Hamilton, Ont., followed up two napalm (jellied-gasoline bombs(air strikes to seize the first.

It was a craggy, 1500-foot hill approached by a ridge almost as long. Their every step, transforming the sodden soil into greasy mud, was a labor. They slithered, and lost two feet for every three gained. Their soaking uniforms hung heavy on their bodies, sending rivulets down their limbs as pockets of water formed and vanished at every movement.

PRISONERS SURRENDER

Duncan's company was nearing the top when a company under Maj. Dick Medland of Toronto was sent through. Even before he launched his assault, Medland passed back three prisoners, who surrendered at his approach waving United Nations safe-conduct passes. They were escorted back to headquarters.

An 1100-foot objective was taken in a textbook-like operation in the same kind of weather. Light forces under Lieut. Ed Mastronardi of Toronto were shot ahead into a cluster of villages to draw fire.

The ruse worked, and Maj. Harry Boates of Glace Bay, N. S., took a company on to the next hill, knowing where the enemy's first line of defence was.

Using everything at Vmandmoars, artillery and the direct fire of tanks under Lieut. Lorne Clendinning of Vancouver—Boates gave the objective a thorough dusting over before going forward.

PEPPER HILLS

As the troops moved Northward from a village on to the mountain, Rockingham went in to see where the opposition had come from. He returned saying: "Boy, you've sure beaten the hell out of that town."

Most of the shooting done by Clendinning's tanks was at point blank range through open sight.

As the advance continued, Boates kept the hill constantly peppered by combined fire. This became so hot that observers 1000 yards away could see with the naked eye Chinese leaving their dugouts and moving Northward out of sight—probably to alternate positions.

Boates' final assault, supported by a lifting curtain of artillery fire with tanks firing from the crests immediately behind, worked.

Friday's main fighting was done by an Eastern Ontario company under Maj. Jack Peterson of St. Thomas, Ont., and Three Rivers, Que.

All but the last stages of the first day's battle induction were a song for these cheerful troops, who went in chipper, joking and really looking for a fight.

The main fighting, for possession of a long, spiny ridge, was done by a platoon under Lieut. David Renwick of St. Catharines, Ont., and Hamilton. There a dozen Chinese bodies were found lying in the area covered by Renwick's men, while mortar fire directed by Lieut. John Barrett of Kingston, Ont., is believed to have inflicted considerably more casualties.

TIBET SIGNS RED CHINA PACT

"Liberation" Treaty Will "Wipe Out Imperialism Trend"

TOKYO, May 27 (AP)—Communist China announced with much fanfare today a sweeping treaty for the "liberation" of Tibet—but which, if effective, gives it a military stronghold on that gateway to India.

The terms called for control of Tibet's national defences by the Red army. They also featured a sly Red attempt to divide the country by establishment of a Chinese as a rival of the ruling Dalai Lama.

Peiping radio told just how Red China "will certainly help the Tibetan people in wiping out the influence of Imperialism in Tibet."

By treaty, Tibet became a military district of Red China under a Red general's command the moment the treaty was signed—May 23.

By Peiping's own account:

Red troops will stay in that "roof of the world" land—about the size of France and Germany—which they invaded last fall.

Tibetan troops will be integrated in the Red army.

Tibet will banish "Imperialistic influence and revert to Red China."

One treaty provision was that the status and power of the Dalai Lama would continue unmodified. With his government of priests, the Dalai Lama fled Lhasa at the outset of the Communist invasion. He went to Yatung on the Indian border.

But the treaty promised to establish the Panchen Lama. The present claimant is a Chinese who has never been in Tibet.

Tibetan "collaborators" who sever their relations with "Imperialists and the Kuomintang" (Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalist Government Party) shall not be punished.

U. S. Explorer, Ellsworth, Dies

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP) —Explorer Lincoln Ellsworth, 71, died last night following a heart attack.

Ellsworth's last major trip of exploration was a flight into the interior of Antarctica in 1939, when he claimed 381,000 square miles for the United States.

In 1925, with another famous Arctic explorer, Capt. Roald Amundsen, Ellsworth set out by plane, intent on being the first to reach the North Pole by air.

During the trip, in two planes, they surveyed 120,000 square miles of unknown territory. But head winds kept them from their goal.

They came down on the ice, and Ellsworth's plane was wrecked. It took a month for the men to join forces and get their remaining plane into the air.

It flew to within one mile of the North Cape, Spitzbergen, then came down again, this time on the open sea. They were rescued by a sealer.

In January, 1934, he and Bernt Balchen were ready to fly across the Antarctic.

A submarine upheaval wrecked their plane as it rested on the ice. In the Winter of 1936 Ellsworth with Herbert Hoolich-Kenyo as pilot, gave the world a scare by disappearing in the Antarctic.

They were cut off by radio failure and later rescued by an Australian patrol ship.

Takes Over 11 Hours To Land Salmon

SKERRAY, Scotland, May 27 (Reuters)—Fly-casting Donald Davidson recently hooked a 33-pound salmon and landed it 11 hours, 55 minutes later.

The fish stayed in a pool for an hour and a half, then towed Davidson's line upstream where it sulked for four hours. A crowd gathered, and as darkness fell, spectators supplied flashlights.

At a minute after midnight the fish was gaffed.

I.O.D.E. ATTENDS CHURCH SERVICE

"Building a Better World" was the subject of Rev. Allan Dixon's address to members of the I.O.D.E. Sunday morning in Trinity Church.

Mr. Dixon emphasized the fact that every worthwhile organization in a community as well as the church was concerned and engaged with building a better world.

He also spoke on the two forces in the world today—one constructive and one destructive — saying that it was easier to destroy. There was the need, he felt, to build a better world on the firm foundation of the Christian faith.

The occasion was the annual church attendance of the I.O.D.E. in a group.

TREDEGAR, Wales, May 27 (AP) — Three hundred men working in a clothing factory went on strike for 90 minutes Saturday because they didn't like the music played to keep them happy.

Factory manager W. P. Coates said the workers objected to recordings of popular music and asked that factory loudspeakers relay a BBC program called "Housewive's Choice" which consists of records chosen by women radio listeners.

The men went back after they were promised payment for the time lost.

"It cost the firm £80," Coates said ruefully.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 27 (AP) — Police discovered something new in bootlegging Saturday.

They made several futile attempts to find liquor in the possession of a 63-year-old woman suspected of selling whisky in dry Oklahoma. When they threatened to take her to jail, she confessed.

The whisky was hidden in two zipper bags strapped to her legs above the knees. Each bag held a pint.

WHITESBURG, Ky., May 27 (AP) — Sam Sexton and Martha Kelly decided Saturday — for the fifth time — that they can't live without each other. And this time the great-grandparents aim to make their marriage stick

The farm couple — each 61 years old — walked into Justice of the Peace Nathan Lucas' office, and said:

"Here we are again . . ."

Lucas understood. He had married them twice before.

The Sextons, first married in 1912, have 10 married children, about 50 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Their last divorce was four months ago.

VANCOUVER, May 27 (CP) — A 19-year-old upstart from Victoria B. C., today gave Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, Canadian amateur golf champion, a terrific battle before bowing out on the 38th hole in the final round of the British Columbia amateur golf championship.

Mawhinney dropped an eight-foot putt on the second extra hole to defeat Bob Fleming, a youngster who turned his hand to golf only a couple of seasons back. Fleming needed two putts from 10 feet out.

Explosion Lifts Rail at Castlegar

CASTLEGAR, B. C. May 28 —This area late Sunday night was aroused by the blast of a heavy explosion that was reported to have lifted a rail of the Canadian Pacific Railway track one mile South of here.

The explosion was heard in Kinnaird, Castlegar, and also in the Doukhobor communities across the Columbia River. Police began an immediate investigation.

Headlights pierced the dark as a number of residents of the area began a search to locate the source of the blast. Only a few, however, gathered at the actual scene, near what is known locally as Sherbico's Hill.

One train, it was reported, had to be flagged down and delayed because of the rail damage.

Canada's Chief Scout Gains Silver Buffalo

CHICAGO, May 27 (CP)— Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry, C.B.E., D.S.O., Chief Executive Commissioner of the Canadian Boy Scouts Association, was among eight men Saturday given awards for "distinguished service to boyhood."

They were given the award of the silver buffalo by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, at its 41st annual meeting here.

The only Canadians who have received the award before are Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, who won it in 1933, and Dr. John A. Stiles of Ottawa, a former Chief Executive Commissioner of the Canadian Boy Scouts Association, who won it in 1938.

Maj.-Gen. Spry, who at 31 was the youngest major-general in the British Commonwealth forces during the Second World War, was described as a man who has "practically grown up in scouting."

His citation recalled that after his service in the army, he gave up an appointment as Vice-Chief of the General Staff of the Canadian Army in 1946 to "give executive leadership to the Scout movement in Canada.

"General Spry has been a member of the International Committee of the Boy Scout movement since August, 1949, and his interest in youth is world-wide," the citation said.

The Weather

Fairly heavy showers were scattered through the province and many points reported thunderstorms including Vancouver, Williams Lake and Crescent Valley. Hail sometimes accompanied the thunderstorms.

However the South and West coast of Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlotte Islands escaped the showers and enjoyed sunny weather.

Conditions along the coast will stabilize but it is likely to continue showery in the Interior.

Forest Fire Threatens Timmins

TORONTO, May 27 (CP) — A huge forest fire roared through 24 miles of birch, pine and dead timbers during the weekend creeping to within 35 miles of the Northern Ontario mining town of Timmins.

Between 700 and 800 men were battling the blaze which has covered more than 50,000 acres of woodland.

The blaze, largest since the disastrous 1948 Mississagi fire, was one of eight still out of control in Ontario. Officials reported they had brought three under control. A total of 50 fires are reported in the province.

Nasookin Floats, Slated for Barge

The S.S. Nasookin, once the pride of Kootenay Lake, is floating again for the first time since she ran aground three years ago, but is well on her way to a less impressive role — that of a barge.

The boat, purchased last year by Earl Cutler of Taber, Alta., is being dismantled down to the main deck for scrap metal and recoverable parts, then will likely be disposed of for use as a barge.

John Gowan, who has been engaged in scrapping the superstructure since last November, has successfully patched the bottom, torn open when the ship grounded in 1948, and the boat began floating several days ago when the lake level rose.

Using a motor launch and a power wagon, Cutler and Gowan have manoeuvred the boat alongside the Nelson wharf to facilitate unloading.

parts have been taken off the vessel

An estimated 75 tons of scrap and to date and one carload of scrap has already been shipped to the Coast. Many usable parts have been sold locally, including the big steam whistle which was purchased for Glacier Lumber's new mill.

The dismantling job is expected to last through the Summer.

Slocan Board Measures Potential Power Market of Area, Wins Dentist

Slocan Mines Give Investor Better Return Than East, Says Ottawa Chief

NEW DENVER, B.C., May 27 — Nine potential consumers of electric power have written to the Slocan District Board of Trade in a survey of power needs of commercial enterprises along the Ainsworth-Kaslo-New Denver-Silverton route. The nine, mining companies and others, have indicated a willingness to purchase a total of more than 7000 horsepower when available, the Power Committee reported.

The Board has already written the West Kootenay Power and Light Company Ltd., concerning the potential market in this area.

The monthly dinner meeting of the Board held in the Women's Institute Hall, Slocan City, also heard President J. L. Wilson announce that after many months of painstaking effort the Board had been successful in obtaining a resident dentist for the district. Dr. Trevor J. Harrop of Vancouver and Glasgow, is expected to start practice in New Denver as soon as the necessary alterations to the Robinson Medical-Dental block are complete.

The application for corporate membership of Kelowna Mines Hedley Limited, was accepted without ballot.

Dr. Robinson reported that the "pledge card" canvass of the Blood Donor Committee was well under way and that the Red Cross Clinic would be at the New Denver High School Auditorium on June 13.

The nation-wide protest against the introduction of legislation permitting the provinces to levy indirect taxes was discussed. It was decided, however, that the Board would take no action at this time in view of the fact that the measure had not gained unanimous approval of the provinces and hence need no longer be considered as a live issue.

The industrial committee is to be requested to obtain and compile statistics relating to the district's annual production, payrolls, traffic, etc.

BETTER TO INVESTORS

Guests introduced to the meeting included Miss R. Dunn, PHN, of New Denver, M. B. Steele of Nelson, and W. E. Leonard of Slocan City.

Mr. Leonard, manager of Harrison Drilling and Exploration Company, presently operating the Ottawa mine at Slocan City, spoke briefly of his impressions, as an Easterner, of the mining in the Slocan. He felt that investors in the Slocan mines get more for their money than do their Eastern counterparts, and that this district is essentially a small-scale, high-grade camp. Mr. Leonard spoke also of the opportunity for travel afforded by a career in mining.

Only 2 Lost-Time Accidents at Trail

TRAIL, B.C., May 27 — A brand new safety record is just around the corner for employees at Cominco's Trail plants and for the company as a whole. With less than six days remaining in the current month-long safety campaign there have been only two lost time accidents at Trail for working time totalling three quarters of a million hours. At this stage of the campaign for the Trail plants last year, there had been six lost time accidents.

So far this month, Cominco men at all operations have worked over a million hours and there have been seven lost time accidents; two at Trail, four at Kimberley and one at the Con mine at Yellowknife. This is nearly 50 per cent better than last year's mark of 13 accidents for the first 25 days of safety month. Cominco's Calgary plants continue to have a clean slate. There have been no lost time accidents among employees there this month.

Kenney Defends Hospital Plan At New Denver

NEW DENVER, B. C., May 27 — During a "friendship tour" of the district, Hon. E. T. Kenney, accompanied by Mr. Morris, Liberal organizer of Vancouver, visited New Denver recently and spoke to a meeting in the Bosun Hall.

Mr. Kenney, Lands and Forests Minister, was introduced by the Chairman, Neil Tattrie, and in his opening remarks said Governments were not masters but servants. Constructive criticism was welcomed for it was only by trial and error that perfection could be achieved.

Referring to the increased budget for the Province, the Minister pointed out that B. C.'s population today was around 1,150,000, showing an increase of 45 per cent. With the dollar worth about half of prewar value extra money was needed. In the 10 years of Coalition much had been achieved. It had been a sound and stable Government.

On the subject of B.C.H.I.S., Mr. Kenney claimed that much grumbling had been heard. Yet he had yet to meet one person who wanted to abandon the scheme entirely. The mass of good far outweighed the grumbling. Under the scheme, hospitals were able to pay their way. The co-insurance was only payable on one member of the family and was designed to allay the tendency to malinger. The minister thought doctors had cooperated one hundred per cent in the scheme which was again a case of trial and error; past experiences could not be overlooked.

J. W. Hendrickson M.L.A. of Creston-Nelson riding, who accompanied Mr. Kenney, also spoke and Thomas M. Leask of Silverton.

This Ice Cream Is Creamy, Economical—and Iceless

BY MARGARET CARR

We had request for a foolproof one guaranteed not to be icy and we think we have found it. It is a creamy, economical ice cream that is most delicious.

Most recipes for ice cream just say "pour into the refrigerator tray and freeze for three hours, setting the indicator at the coldest point." We have always found that we obtain a better product, if, when the ice cream is frozen around the edges but is still mushy in the centre, we take out the tray and stir the cream well together, mashing down the frozen sides and bottom. Then put it back in the refrigerator and let it freeze. Sometimes we even take it out of the tray and put it into a chilled bowl and beat it well with a rotary beater. This is the best method. Unless you do one or other it seems impossible to get a cream that does not have a few frozen particles. So, although we don't tell you to do that at the end of each of the following recipes, to obtain the best results, we'd advise it.

VANILLA ICE CREAM

3 tablespoons minute tapioca
2 cups milk
1/3 cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons corn syrup
2 tablespoons sugar
2 egg whites
1 cup cream, whipped
1 tablespoon vanilla

Combine minute tapioca and milk. Cook in double boiler over rapidly boiling water for about 10 minutes. Strain hot mixture through a sieve, stirring but not rubbing the mixture through, onto the sugar, salt and syrup. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill. Add the 2 tablespoons of sugar to the egg whites and beat until stiff. Fold into cold tapioca mixture, then fold in the whipped cream and vanilla. Turn into freezing tray of refrigerator, and set at coldest point. Freeze for about three hours. Serves 8. The tapioca strained out may be added to one and a half cups milk, two tablespoons sugar and half teaspoon vanilla and cooked in a double boiler with the two egg yolks left from the ice cream to make tapioca pudding.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM

1 teaspoon gelatin
¼ cup cold milk
¼ cup scalded milk
1 square chocolate
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon soluble coffee
1 cup milk
½ cup heavy cream
2 teaspoons vanilla
Few grains salt

Soak gelatin in cold milk and dissolve in the scalded milk. When the gelatin is dissolved add slowly to the chocolate which has been melted over hot water and mixed with the sugar and soluble coffee. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then add the cup of milk and heavy cream, vanilla and salt. Pour into the refrigerator tray and freeze.

SHE,S EIGHT YEARS OLDER —SHOULD THEY MARRY?

By JANE ATKINSON

Dear Miss Atkinson:

I am a young woman of 29, but most people take me for 24 or 25 or sometimes even 23.

I have met a very nice young man of 21 who looks and acts much older than his years. We have the same interests and are very fond of each other. I have a good job and he has a fairly good one.

Do you think it is all right for us to continue seeing each other, and perhaps later on even get married in spite of the difference in our ages?—Linda.

Dear Linda: As I have often said in this column, the fact that a woman is considerably older than a man doesn't necessarily mean that they couldn't be happily married. However, this is the exception rather than the rule, and if a young man and an older woman have any feeling that they would like to get married some day, they should wait until they know each other very well and can be quite sure that, as you say, they have the same interests, and also the same point of view toward essentials.

My advice to you is not to make up your mind in a hurry, but to allow plenty of time to find out beyond any doubt how congenial you really are, how much you actually have in common and how well you understand each other. These are the things that will determine whether or not you could be happy together as man and wife.

Ill-Fitting Clothes Bring Sharp Criticism of Hungarian Tailors

BUDAPEST, (Reuters) — The Hungarian garment industry is under heavy fire for turning out shoddy, ill-fitting clothes. The main reason for the poor clothing apparently is the workers' attempts to keep up with production quotas by sacrificing quality to quantity.

Istvan Gyorgy, writing in Szabed Nep, central organ of the Hungarian Communist party, blasted the Sopron garment factory for turning out "zoot suits" for the peasants.

The jackets of these villages' clothes were in "zoot suitish" lengths which no respectable peasant would wear, he said.

The Shirt Manufacturing Enterprise, on the other hand, made only small-size shirts on the Assembly line because with such sizes it could make more shirts and achieve "better production performances."

Commenting upon complaints by workers of faulty and sloppy manufacture of ready-made clothes, Gyorgy declared that exceeding the five-year plan target should not mean merely "to produce more in quantity but also to improve quality."

OF DIFFERENT SHADES

He complained about the Kispest Men's Garments Enterprise which allegedly is making "suits of which the trousers are of different shade from that of the jacket and in which the hems of the trousers are uneven."

The Ladies' Garment Enterprise, he continued, is turning out suits with linings which are too small for the garments.

Other enterprises are making carelessly finished garments, leaving out button holes and such.

"Such shortcomings" Gyorgy said, "have resulted in storing up more than 40,000,000 forints ($22,500,000) worth of unsaleable clothing in the state-owned department stores."

Movie Gossip—

Caruso Film Overlooks Fact That Truth Is More Alive Than Fiction

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 27 (AP) — Is grouse in season? I'm in trouble if it isn't, because today I feel like grousing.

So here goes . . . aren't the movies going overboard on the unsympathetic portrayals of newspaper men? In the Ben Hogan biography, the "heavy" was a nasty golf columnist, the like of which I've never seen. In a new pro-football flicker, the villain is again a columnist who picks on Paul Douglas because he's a has-been.

But the biggest blow comes in "Ace in the Hole", in which Kirk Douglas plays the blackest double-dyed louse in journalistic history . . . and while we're on the subject, hasn't Douglas gone overboard in his playing of heels?

THE VOICE'S TROUBLES

Nothing gives me a bigger case of the yawns than reading about Frankie Sinatra's troubles with Ava Gardner . . .

Ever wonder what happened to the Frank Merriwell ending in which the football hero scores the winning touchdown in the last minute? It's revived in "The Guy Who Came Back." Paul Douglas carries the ball.

TV WOES

Wonder why such a polished gent as Bob Hope seems so nervous on TV . . . West Coast viewers continue to gripe about being sluffed off in TV programming. They see kinescopes of Eastern shows that look as though they were photographed by candlelight. Also, they are subjected to dated programs. They're getting Mother's Day shows now.

How did they get by with that off-color burlesque routine in the new Danny Kaye film? Pardon me if I don't shed any tears over the movie executives who are having their salaries cut by from $4000 to $2000. I wish they had told the real story of Caruso in the film instead of the glossy Hollywood version. Truth is more exciting than fiction.

Anniversary Plans Continued by Group

ROSSLAND, B.C., May 27 — Further plans for their fiftieth anniversary to be celebrated June 27 and 28 were made by members of Maple Leaf temple, Pythian Sisters, at a meeting here. Members agreed to take turns chaperoning a Teen Town dance.

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP) —The Duchess of Windsor, departing with the Duke for five months in France, left behind some unhappy milliners. The Duchess wore no hat, just a little mask veil over her eyes tied by a ribbon in back.

"I can't understand it," wailed a prominent modiste, "they've been wearing veils like that for a couple of seasons now.

"You can buy them for almost nothing in any department store. I was shocked that the Duchess wore it, particularly as I've never seen her in my life without a hat on."

The milliner hastily added that most women are wearing those tiny veils — which reach between eyebrows and nose-bridge — with small hats — pillboxes and calots.

Balfour . . .

BALFOUR, B. C. — Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Reid and son Bobby, of Calgary, are at their Summer home here. They have as guest, Miss Ferguson of Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McGillivary have as guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Garth Saunby of Prince Rupert.

Mrs. J. Johnsen of Vancouver is guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. Wellwood. Mrs. Johnsen is en route to Toronto.

G. Conrad of Nelson spent Empire Day at his Summer home here.

E. Lowen and J. Barker of Vancouver visited at the C. Brown home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Merry of Ainsworth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Erickson.

Towhey-Ozey Vows Heard At Cathedral

St. Joseph's Academy Girls' Choir sang at a double-ring nuptial mass performed by Very Rev. R. D. Anderson in Cathedral of Mary Immaculate for Shirley Mae, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ozey, and William Rhonie Towhey, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Towhey.

Given in marriage by her father, the blonde bride wore a traditional blush satin gown en train with lily point sleeves. A lace-edged three-quarter-length veil and a string of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom, completed her ensemble. Talisman roses and blue carnations mingled in her bouquet.

Her three attendants were gowned in apple green, mauve and blue. They were Miss Doreen Ozey, her younger sister, whose apple green taffeta gown was complimented by a jacket, Dutch style bonnet, matching mitts and a bouquet of pink asters and sweetpeas; Miss Shirley Towhey, younger sister of the groom, who wore the same style ensemble in mauve with a bouquet of yellow asters and sweetpeas, and Miss Patsy Ozey, the bride's youngest sister, in blue taffeta accented by a colonial bouquet.

Mr. Jake Koenig and Mr. Robert Kenzie supported the groom. Gordon Towhey, the groom's younger brother, was ringbearer, and Mr. Herb Miller ushered the guests.

A breakfast was served in the Cathedral Hall at which Mrs. G. R. Pickering and Mrs. M. E. Bailey poured. The guests were received by Mrs. Ozey, who chose a navy silk dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations, and the groom's mother, who was attired in a navy silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Father Anderson proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. J. Cullinane handled the guest register.

TO ALBERTA

For a wedding trip to Calgary, Edmonton and Banff, the bride changed to a turquoise gabardine suit with white accessories. Upon returning, she and her husband will live in Nelson.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. G. N. Granaski of Regina, the bride's maternal grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. H. King of Calgary, the groom's maternal grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Smart, also of Calgary.

The Indian population of the United States in 1492 was estimated recently at 846,000; now it's about 330,000.

Alice Stevenson Lovely In Net, Pink Organza

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized in St. Paul's United Church Saturday at 2 p.m. when the former Alice Elizabeth Jane Stevenson became the bride of Arthur Henry Stevens in a formal, double-ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stevens came from Swift Current, Sask., to attend their son's marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Stevenson.

As she entered the church on her father's arm, the bride was a picture in her gown of white net over pink organza. The full skirt fell into a long train, and the bodice of white satin had pink embossing, and a sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves. Her lily of the valley headdress held a filmy white veil, and her necklace was a gift from the groom. White gladioli and lily of the valley were the flowers in her bouquet.

TRIO IN ATTENDANCE

The gowns of her three attendants, her sister, Mrs. R. D. Valentine, matron of honor; Miss Peggy Grimes, bridesmaid, and Miss Doris Valentine, her niece, as junior bridesmaid, were fashioned alike with net overskirts. Mrs. Valentine was in apple green taffeta, Miss Grimes in mauve taffeta, and Miss Valentine, in turquoise, and their white headdresses featured tiny flowers matching their dresses. The two senior attendants carried snapdragons and lily of the valley, and her niece held a bouquet of carnations and sweetpeas.

Best man was Mr. Henry Stevenson, the bride's brother, and ushers were Mr. Robert Coventry and Mr. Hewitt Ferguson. Mr. Raymond Thompson was soloist during the signing of the register, with Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson as organist, and Mr. Paul Hielscher sang at the reception.

Mr. Anderson proposed the toast to the bride at the reception in Hume Hotel silver room. Mrs. Stevenson was in a powder blue dress with white accessories, and the groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories.

The bride chose a smart navy blue dress with pink accessories and a grey shortie coat for going away. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

When they return from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will make their home in Nelson.

Among out-of-town guests were Mrs. Thomas R. Dickie of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Ellen Peterson of Penticton, aunts of the bride.

Let's Not Be Niggardly With the Men in Uniform

Canadian Legion branches and auxiliaries can be assured that they have strong public support behind their efforts to gain income tax exemptions or some other compensating recompense for servicemen overseas.

There can be no differences of opinion over the principle that men offering their lives for their country and countrymen should be afforded such advantages as can be given over civilians.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott has taken "under consideration" the resolutions urging tax exemptions or added combat service pay. But Canadians are asking more than that. They want their government to act, to put aside pinch-penny delay, and to treat their servicemen as they should be treated.

Canadians, in this matter, are not asking the Government to spend time thinking up excuses. If there are administrative difficulties, as claimed, they can be solved. In fact, it is the duty of the administrators to solve them. That's what they are in office for. If tax exemptions are unfair because they would permit a greater saving to an officer than a man in the ranks, then that is a matter that can be overcome, too. There are other compensations besides tax exemptions possible.

At any rate, with men already in front line service in Korea, and efforts being made to raise more men for defence duty every day, it is well past time to get squared away with those in uniform. We, who believe in freedom, can have little use for niggardliness in dealing with those who have volunteered to give their blood, if necessary, to defend it.

Rayon Garb for Men

Fashion news from New York in the past has been mostly about feminine attire, which changes in periodic cycles from long skirts to short skirts, and reverse. The plan, or so it seemed, has always been to rework styles of women's clothes with such rapidity that nothing could be worn for more than a few weeks, unless the wearer didn't give a darn what people thought.

But times are changing, and as there is currently as much news about what is ahead in male raiment as about women's styles, this trend has recently been reflected in the columns of the staid Wall Street Journal, which reports dire changes looming in male garb.

This, in itself, is news. For years there have been valiant attempts by those in the industry to make radical changes in men's clothes, but with indifferent success. Every few years pink suits, and similar innovations, are predicted, but men will have none of them.

But it now seems material shortages are about to be felt in the men's clothing industry to an extent not dreamed of in the late war. Wool, specifically, is going to be scarce. And come next Fall, according to the news, men will be wearing Winter suits fabricated from rayon. Fully 50 per cent of Fall suits will be made of this synthetic fibre, it is revealed. Less than a third of Summer suits will be woolen.

The wool shortage, which is becoming increasingly more acute — with prices highest in history — will be felt in other ways, but it will be most noticeable when men begin to appear in raiment that appears to be fashioned of material originally intended for women's dresses.

News Columns Not for Sale

It seems strange to find in these enlightened days there is still a fairly large number of people who fail to distinguish between the function of the news and editorial columns of a newspaper.

As a result, because we carry a news story in which some person or organization takes a stand either for or against some project, it is assumed the paper shares the same policy. This is far from being correct.

The news columns of the paper are reserved for reports of interest to people of the district. In these columns, every effort is made to confine reports to a chronicle of actual happenings, regardless of the policy of the newspaper, the opinions of the person writing the story, the editor or the publisher.

Often, too, there are people enquiring as to the cost of having certain items of news published. Not only is there no charge for the publication of items, but space in the news columns cannot be purchased.

People who have something they wish to have publicized, which is not regarded by the editor as news, are referred to the advertising department. And if they wish their advertisement in the form of a "reader" then it is clearly labelled so that readers will know it is not an unbiased report by the paper.

On the other hand, the opinions of the paper and its policy are expressed on the editorial page. Here again there is considerable misunderstanding about how the policy of a newspaper is formed.

The policy of a newspaper on any particular question does not of necessity reflect the personal views of either the publisher, editor, or any other member of the staff. Rather, it is drafted by an impersonal viewing of the question involved by several people to decide what stand is best in the community interest, and could quite conceivably not coincide with the single personal viewpoint of any of those who chart the newspaper's stand.

Press Comment

A NEW BOOM

Pipe liners in 1950 tied in a record-breaking 20,000 miles, most of it big-inch (over 16-inch diameter). Just completed is the 1840-mile Transcontinental Gas line from the Rio Grande to New York City, longest in the world, and the 1068-mile trans-Arabian oil line from the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean. In the U.S., eight out of every 10 barrels of crude oil are sent to refineries by pipe line.

Canada's first long "big-inch"—the Interprovincial Pipe Line—will carry over 120,000 barrels of oil daily at capacity. Making Canadian oil available to the industrial East, it will save the country 150 million U.S. dollars a year.—Reader's Digest.

SHADOW CABINET

The official Opposition at Ottawa would be strengthened, thinks the Winnipeg Tribune, if Mr. Drew would designate some of his supporters as opposite numbers to Government Cabinet Ministers. "They would then count for something in the public prints and would come to be known by the public as experts in the designated departmental areas. This way he could have a shadow Cabinet in being, even though its members would not be paid any more money nor hold any actual office recognized by the Government of the day."

BOARD OF CAUTION

Unless you are sure you can lick both of them, never try to stop a fight between a man and his wife.—Kitchener Record.

Playing sparkling golf, T. R. Wilson, top-notch veteran of the Nelson Golf and Country Club, created a sensation over the weekend when he took the championship of the Wilson Cup tournament for the handicap golfers in a final with R. C. Andrews. Dr. W. M. Toone, a newcomer to the club this year, took Dr. H. H. MacKenzie into camp in the final bracket of the C.I.L. Cup consolations. Jimmy Allan and L. M. The Porcupine mining camp is booming with activity as rapid development is taking place on the property. During the Winter months, 300 carloads of machinery were brought in for the mine, C. P. Today's Bible Thought

The birth of a child in a stable dates every watch and clock in the world. Every historical event. Some would like a Saviour born on a throne in a palace, but God wanted our love, not our fear. He wanted to show what a Son of His could do as a workman and a peasant.—Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?—Matt. 11:3.

Education Comes From Church, School and Home

TORONTO (CP)—By day Denys Rankilor works as an accountant.

By night—and on Sundays—he becomes Rev. Denys Rankilor, rector of St. Martin's-on-theHill reformed Episcopal Church.

But even two jobs aren't enough for the young Cambridge graduate.

When he makes his pastoral call he asks to see the children's report cards. If a student has fallen down in one or two subjects Mr. Rankilor becomes an unpaid tutor, going to the home and coaching the child in his weak subject.

"Education consists of physical, mental and spiritual training," says the rector, "and to arrive at this we use the home, school and church.

Being both preacher and accountant has its problems. Often he is called upon to hold special services, such as funerals, on week-days.

"You have to be able to prove to your employer that you are of value to him, even though you must take time off during working hours," said Mr. Rankilor. "And you have to be good to do that—and work an average of 16 hours a day, seven days a week."

Dewitt MacKenzie To Retire After 41 Years With AP

With his column of Saturday, June 2, Dewitt MacKenzie is retiring, bringing to a close 41 years of AP work and 23 years of column writing.

MacKenzie always has written in a highly personalized vein. That is one of the reasons there will be no replacement for the present.

Additionally, the impact of today's world events on the average reader has made it necessary to provide interpretative material by other Associated Press experts on almost every front. Thus on any given day newspapers will have one or more articles of an interpretative nature from experts.

Sweden Hit by Soaring Prices

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—Sweden's Socialist Government is experimenting with a "once only" inflation which may cause repeated rises in the cost of living.

The planners' idea was to allow wages and prices to rise once only and then peg them. But the soaring prices of foreign raw materials, following Western rearmament, has made the "pegging" impossible.

First step in the government's experiment was to end the two-year-old wage freeze, with the approval of the opposition parties and under some pressure from the trade unions Federation.

This meant negotations between the different unions and employers' Federations for new collective wage agreement for this year. The unions, which had shown patriotic restraint in accepting the wages freeze, drove through reasonably good bargains for their members, under the threat of strike where necessary.

The wage increases so far agreed on average about 15 per cent. They vary from 19 per cent for state employees to eight per cent for workers in the mines of Central Sweden.

But the workers are finding their increased wages will not buy more goods. Indeed, as fast as new wages agreements are published, the State Price Control Board is sending out announcements of higher prices.

"FAIR FOR ALL"

On the principle of "fair shares for all," the Government is imposing new taxes on commercial firms. This new tax, like the inflation, is a "once only" tax, the Government says. But there are sceptics.

Everyone is complaining—wage earners of the difficulty of making both ends meet. Industrialists of new restrictions on private enterprise. Yet, statistics show the people are buying more because the retail trade turnover is increasing steadily.

In the same way, the reports of the big companies recently published show higher profits all round. Sweden's exporters are doing a roaring business as timber, cellulose and ore prices soar.

Nevertheless, non-partisan economists here believe Sweden is going to be forced to tighten her belt like the other Western countries. Rearmament is causing a scarcity of raw materials which hits neutrals and Atlantic Pact members alike.

Canadians Share Ambrosia With Fellow Soldiers

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, May 27 (CP)—Cooled in a mountain freshet, the liquid was as ambrosia in the 80-degree sun.

Just arrived was the first shipment of Canadian beer to reach the 2nd Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, dug in in strong defensive positions on the Korean front-line.

Capt. Andy Foulds, who in civilian life works for a Vancouver brewery, said that a 12-ounce can of the gift beer gave the soldier a bigger "lift" than did a 24-ounce bottle of either the Japanese or British kinds.

Be that as it may, the satisfaction registered on the faces of a dusty, tired patrol to whom Sgt. Al Taplin of Vancouver distributed its share on its return from deep into No Man's Land, would have assured the brewers that the gesture was a happy one.

Incidentally, the Patricias shared their beer with a company of the King's Own Scottish Borderers and some American troops working with them.

Watch for Better, Cheaper Infuser

TORONTO, May 27 (CP)—Cheaper and better coffee is promised by the Australian Exhibitor of a new type of coffee-maker at the Canadian International Trade Fair.

Herb Jones of Melbourne says the coffee "infuser", which works on the same principle as the pressure cooker, can produce good, strong coffee from half the grounds used in the usual type of percolator.

To prove it, he put three tablespoons of grounds into an infuser at a press reception Friday and produced a dozen demi-tasse cups of strong coffee.

Developed by the Australian Labor Department, the infuser heats the grounds to 250 degrees before water is added. Jones says this keeps the aromatic oils in the coffee instead of allowing them to be boiled off.

He estimates the infuser can be produced in Canada for about $15.

Amateur Stargazer Picks Berries To Buy Telescope, Finds Comets

DELPHOS, O. (AP) — Leslie C. Peltier is probably America's best amateur astronomer because he once picked 900 quarts of strawberries.

That was 35 years ago when he needed $18 to buy a telescope.

Picking strawberries was the only way the 16-year-old Ohio farm boy knew to raise that much money.

After 35 years of deep-space fishing, the 51-year-old furniture designer now owns a heavenly harem of 10 bodies—10 new comets man never had seen before. Each is named after him.

He holds the amateur astronomer medal "for meritorious service to the science of astronomy in the field of discovery and observation of comets and other celestial objects." His was the second such award.

On a typical evening, Peltier comes home from his work of designing juvenile furniture at the Delphos Bending Co., plant. He'll grab a bite to eat, bundle up in his overcoat and walk out to his little tin observatory in his backyard.

There he trains his telescope on the sky and begins fishing for a star. Ten times in 35 years he has hit the jackpot. The first one came Nov. 14, 1925. It's known as Peltier 1925A. The A means it was the first new comet reported that year.

1943 BIG YEAR

Peltier reports with pride his banner catch in 1943—two new comets that year.

He designed his own tiny observatory in the corner of his backyard, a unique tin shack on a turntable.

"There's not another like it in the world," he says proudly.

About seven feet square, the tiny building is mounted on four steel wheels on a circular track in cement. From the inside, the observer can rotate the entire building by an automobile steering wheel and a rope and pulley arrangement.

Peltier uses a six-inch telescope given him by Princeton University in 1923. It replaced a four-incher donated by Harvard University in 1919.

Canadian Members of Fraser Clan To Visit Famed Field of Downie

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)— Canadians who trace their ancestry to Scotland's famed Fraser clan have a date this Summer with their hereditary chief among their ain folk.

It is an open invitation from Lord Lovat, present leader of the clan to the thousands of Frasers at home and abroad for a get-together with their kinsmen at his family estate, one of the largest in the Highlands.

The rally will be held June 23 on the historic fields of Downie, surrounding picturesque Beaufort Castle at Beauly in Inverneshire.

It was there that the Frasers down through the generations mustered on important occasions. It was there, too, in 1899, that the father of the present baron recruited and trained the famed Lovat Scots for service in the South African War. The Scouts also fought with great distinction in two subsequent wars and a unit of the regiment in the Second World War went through a special course of training in British Columbia.

Lord Lovat, just back from a trip to New Zealand and Australia, told the Canadian Press he was anxious to extend a special invitation to the large number of Frasers that have settled in Canada. He believes the Festival of Britain will attract many to the United Kingdom and hopes they will make June 23 at Beufort Castle a "must."

WILLOW BUNCH, Sask. (CP)—Willow Bunch is planning monster celebrations of the town's 75th anniversary this Summer. The town is on the railway line 85 miles South of Moose Jaw.

Major Factor Surprise King's Plate Winner

BY LORNE BRUCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, May 27 (CP) — Major Factor, a lightly-regarded brown gelding that most fans thought was just out for the exercise, drove to an upset win Saturday in the 92nd running of the King's Plate, Canada's premier racing attraction.

Some 35,000 fans at Woodbine Race Track watched Toronto jockey Alf Bavington guide the big gelding to victory in the oldest continuously-run horse race on the North American continent. The purse was the second richest in Canada's turf history.

Recovering from a slow start, Major Factor uncorked a hurricane stretch drive for a ¾-length victory over the favored Libertine, owned by Col. Jack Smallman of London, Ont.

Another ¾ length back and third was Bear Field, owned by Jim Fair of Cainsville, Ont. Bear Field had a one-length margin over Britannia, a filly that faltered after leading all the way to the home stretch in the 1⅛-mile event.

Because Major Factor was coupled with Britannia as the Taylor entry it ran as second choice in the 21-horse field and returned only $8.30 on a $2 win ticket in covering the nine furlongs in one minute and 53 seconds over a fast track, a full second slower than the Plate record set by Jim Fair's Last Mark in 1948.

Major Factor earned the Fifty Guineas and $16,155 for Taylor, a Toronto industrialist who won the Plate in 1949 with Epic. Britannia gathered in another $450 for Taylor.

The $21,400 in prize money was second highest in the Canadian turf history, exceeded only by the $80,000 won by Man O'War in beating Sir Barton in the 1920 match race at Windsor, Ont.

Bavington got the mount on Major Factor after his contract stable owned by Bill Beasley of Toronto, cancelled its Plate entries. The jockey had never ridden a Plate-winner before.

Major Factor, by Boswell out of Aldwych, was slow getting away as the field, biggest since the 22 starters in 1933, broke from the improvised 20-horse gate with one horse on the outside.

The gelding was sixth in the back stretch and then came with a rush to edge Libertine. Libertine, with Johnny Dewhurst i n the saddle, stumbled at the start, recovered to be well placed and then moved into first place momentarily in the stretch before giving way to Major Factor.

Britain Honors 'Peg Hockey Star

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 27 (CP) — Winnipeg's Chick Zamick has installed himself solidly in Britain's Hall of Fame by adding the English National Hockey League scoring title to his list of triumphs this season.

The wizard marksman, who led Nottingham Panthers to the league championship, wound up the regular season with a total of 67 points, six ahead of runner-up Kenny Booth, imported by Earl's Court Rangers from Montreal. Trailing Booth by a single point was another Montrealer, Neale Langill, playmaking ace of the Wembley Lions.

White Sox Mark 11th Straight Win

By The Canadian Press

Chicago's amazing White Sox made a clean sweep of their road trip Sunday, registering their 10th and 11 straight victories with a double win over Cleveland Indians 5-2 and 6-4.

That made it four in a row off the Indians and followed seven victories over the four Eastern teams of the American League.

Continuation of Chicago's spectacular streak finally enabled the team to pick up some ground on the league-leading New York Yankees.

Philadelphia Athletics saw to that, snapping New York's seven-game winning streak with a 7-4 victory in the second half of a doubleheader at Yankee Stadium. New York had won its seventh in a row in the opener, 9-0 behind Frank Shea.

White Sox, who picked up a full game Sunday, now are a single game out of first place.

The double bill at Cleveland, interrupted frequently by showers, ran more than seven hours.

Joe Dobson, a righthander, won his fourth victory in the first game allowing seven hits. Howie Judson got credit for his first victory in the nightcap.

Al Zarilla was the batting star of the day. He drove in four runs in the second game on a double, a single and a homer, the latter accounting for the Soxs' final and deciding pair of runs in the seventh. Zarilla also drove in Chicago's final pair of runs in the first game, his double capping a three-run sixth inning which broke a tie and drove Early Wynn from the mound.

At New York rain held up the first game three times, for total delays of 52 minutes and also caused a 40 minute wait in the seventh inning of the nightcap. The second game was played under lights from the fourth inning on. Less than half of the crowd of 32,839 stayed through to the final out, which came at 9:21 p.m., the opener had begun at 2:13.

Third place Boston Red Sox completed a home-grounds slaughter of Washington Sentators by sweeping a doubleheader, 9-3 and 7-1 to extend their American league winning streak to seven games.

The Socker's nightcap tallies resulted from a grand-slam homer by Ted Williams and a three-run four-bagger by Bobby Doerr, both in the third inning.

In addition to connecting for his 10th homer which boosted his runs batted in total to 37, Williams poled a pair of doubles and a single in the opener.

In Detroit, the St. Louis Browns split a doubleheader with the Tigers, dropping the first game 3-2 but winning the second 8-3. The win gave the last-place Brownies the four-game series. Virgil Trucks gave up eight hits to win the first game. Ned Garver tossed a seven-hitter for Browns to win the nightcap.

GAMES WASHED OUT

In the National League, rain washout Sunday games for two of the leaders. First place Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Braves were rained out. and the same happened to a scheduled doubleheader between the second-place Chicago Cubs and the bottom-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

Taking advantage of the situation, St. Louis Cardinals beat Cincinnati Reds 6-1 to move into a second-place tie with Chicago.

PITCHES 2-HITTER

In Philadelphia, Sal Maglie, New York Giants' brilliant right-hander, spun a two-hitter to give the Giants their second 2-0 National League victory over Philadelphia Phillies in two days. The victory ran Maglie's winning streak to seven games.

Only four batters reached base against him, two on singles, one on a walk and one on a boot by shortstop Alvin Dark.

Charles, Maxim Developing Vicious Styles for Title Bout

BY TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP) — Joey Maxim puts away his polished boxing style and swings for a knockout; Ezzard Charles stops being a "nice guy" in the ring and develops a "mean, tiger instinct."

Result: Savagery in Chicago Stadium.

That, at any rate, is how the backers of the protagonists see next Wednesday's heavyweight championship bout featuring the two champions, heavyweight king Charles and light heavy titleholder Maxim.

Master boxer Maxim, who hasn't a mark on his face after 10 years in the ring, has won a majority of his fights with know-how and a clever right hand.

But he and his handlers say he's changing his style for Wednesday's opportunity night at the Stadium.

"I'm going to knock him out, or get knocked out," said Joey. "I'm going to use my right hand just as much as my left."

Charles, on the other hand, also is said to be developing a vicious style, possibly in the hope it will bring him the color that critics say prevents his being a proper successor to Joe Louis as heavyweight champ.

He has been fighting regularly in defence of the crown — his fight with Maxim will be his eighth as champion.

Charles is the favorite in the 15-rounder, by odds of 5-2, but some boxing veterans, including former middleweight champion Tony Zale, said the odds should be even.

Both fighters were examined at the weekend and pronounced in excellent shape. Maxim is 28, Charles 29.

Smokies Edge Spokane Airmen, Then Drop Doubleheader Sunday at Trail

TRAIL, B. C., May 27—Spokane's Fairchild Airforce Base Flyers chalked up two wins against one loss here over the weekend in an exhibition baseball series with the Trail Smoke Eaters.

After dropping a close 3-2 game to the Smokies Saturday evening, the American G.I.s came back to score a pair of wins Sunday by scores of 12-2 and 6-2.

Trail's ace southpaw, Irv Lavorato provided the locals with their first win at home this season as he went the distance in Saturday's contest. Lavorato spaced 10 hits and struck out nine while Fairchild hurler Jess Cowart allowed five hits.

Sunday afternoon, Paul Bukovich, former Class B Western International League hurler, easily subdued the Smokies on five hits while his mates collected 11 safeties off three Trail chuckers. Trail's two runs came in the seventh and ninth innings, the latter a home-run over the left field wall by third baseman Danny Gerannazo.

A three-run splurge in the sixth inning by the visitors broke up a tight game Sunday evening. Both teams matched single runs in the fourth and fifth innings. After their big sixth inning, the Flyers added another run in the seventh. Orren Muse earned the victory with a five-hit effort while striking out 10.

Trail's Joe Monaldi gave up seven hits. He was relieved in the last frame by Pete Boisvert, who allowed one hit.

The Smokies will meet two more teams at home before embarking on a tour of Alberta and Saskatchewan early in June. This Thursday they are planning to meet Nelson while on the weekend they will play a Spokane team.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Sheep Creek Gold Mines, Ltd., reported that combined net smelter returns from its wholly owned Zincton and Paradise mines amounted to $115,041 in April. This included $73,357 from Zincton from 6454 tons, an average of $11.36 a ton and $41,684 from Paradise from 1267 tons, an average of $32.89 a ton.

25th Wins Praise in First Action on Korean Front

(Editor's Note:— The following story was the last written by Derek Pearcy, Reuters-Australian Associated Press Correspondent, before he was killed Saturday.)

By DEREK PEARCY

ON THE WESTERN FRONT IN KOREA, May 25 (Delayed) (Reuters) — Khaki-bereted Canadians of the 25th Infantry Brigade went into battle at dawn today for the first time.

Within 12 hours they had pushed the Allied front line forward five miles in their sector and sent out advanced forces to start the fight for a Chinese held mountain more than 12 miles ahead of their jumping off point.

They moved up the front line on Wednesday and went into action this morning (Friday), only three weeks after landing in Korea May 4.

After a hectic night of preparation and celebration they set off at 6 a.m., down a valley thatched with paddy fields and dotted with farms and out-buildings.

Keyed up with training and waiting behind the lines, they started out carefully for the first mile along the dust roads through fields and shattered villages and across a row of hills. Their small arms were at ready, their eyes alert for the slightest movement ahead of them.

The first shot rang out. The infantrymen ducked for cover, fanned out and opened fire at a hill on their flank.

There was a short silence, then a rattle of Sten guns, then silence again.

UNDER HEAVY FIRE

The Canadians emerged cautiously from shelter and closed in warily on a camouflaged dugout not far from the crest. A young Canadian looked intently into the dugout, laughed a little, then waved the others on.

The Canadians turned North again and the advance resumed.

By mid-afternoon the Canadians were under heavy harassing fire from a mountain on their flank as Chinese suicide delaying forces tried to screen their mass withdrawal North.

From the gnarled mountain on their left came the continuous crack of small-arms fire, while tanks ground their way through a ring of trees and up the side of a hill facing this mountain.

The infantrymen crossed a field to scale the mountain-side from the North. Chinese entrenched on the razor-backed ridge opened up a wild barrage of machine-gun, rifle and mortar fire as the Canadians climbed up, jumping out from behind rocks and trees. For an hour, the valley resounded to the crack of rifles, the crash of grenades and the thump of tank guns and motors.

Allied fighters, added to the din as they wheeled and dived to rocket and drop napalm on the Chinese on the mountain further up the valley.

By nightfall, the infantrymen, led by Maj. Jack Peterson, former Mayor of St. Thomas, Ont., had to dig into defensive positions after fighting their way nearly to the crest of the mountain.

Lt.-Gen. Frank Milburn, U. S. 1st Corps Commander, said after the action:

"I am very happy to see you Canadians under my command. I have already been shown by the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade and the 29th British Brigade how well you Commonwealth troops can fight.

"You Commonwealth troops are very good—superior in fact."

Meets Gruesome Death

EVERETT, Wash., May 27 (AP)—A 59-year-old pulp plant workman was chopped to bits and then cremated today in one of the most gruesome industrial accidents in this city's history.

Verner Emanuel Frisk lost his life at Weyerhaeuser pulp mill where he had been employed as a clean-up man for nine years.

Coroner Ken Baker said Frisk apparently lost his balance and fell onto a moving conveyor which carried waste wood through a multiple knived chopper and then into a furnace where the shredded wood was burned for fuel.

Baker said bits of bone were on the chopping knives. Later, when the furnace had been turned off and cooled, Frisk's watch fob was discovered among the ashes.

U. S. Urges Iran To Close Dispute

TEHRAN, Iran, May 27 (CP) — The United States told Iran she does not oppose Iran's wish to control her own oil resources but does, oppose one-sided cancellation of Iran's contract with the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

In a diplomatic memorandum handed to Iran by Ambassador Henry Grady the United States again urged Iran to settle this dispute—"which could undermine the unity of the free world"—by negotiation.

The memorandum, a reply to Iran's accusation of U. S. interference, said Iran had misconstrued the American attitude. The United States has a legitimate interest in the well-being of both Iran and Britain, and it considers a peaceful settlement of their "serious controversy" of the utmost importance to the free world as a whole, it said.

Study Field Mice On Reforestation

TORONTO (CP) —Mice and their habits are being studied by the research division of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests working in the "wilderness area" of Algonquin Park. The tiny rodents have a good deal to do with the regeneration of forest land.

Research workers say that studies of habits and population figures are important because mice figure largely in the diet of many other animals. The mice feed largely on tree seeds and in this way work to some extent against forest regeneration. Department workers say that knowledge of their physiology and habits is important to all game management and forest operations.

One of the many research projects covers an effort to discover a suitable protecting material for seeds—especially coated seeds—to be used for reforestation.

Of hundreds of repellents tested to date, the forest specialists found that mice don't like tear gas.

Railway Staffs Go Back to School

MONTREAL, May 27—The next three months will be school days again, complete with instruction classes and examinations, for 27,000 operating officers and employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

They'll even have a new textbook—the 163-page "Uniform Code of Operating Rules"—a revised, universal rule book governing the operation of all Canadian railways coming under the jurisdiction of the Board of Transport Commissioners. The new rules take effect August 26.

Up to now each Canadian railway has operated under its own set of rules, but the new rule book will mean that a man will only have to qualify once to work on any railway that operates under the new code. But more than that, the new rule book is another forward step in Canadian railroading progress and aims at an even higher safety record in operating the nation's railways.

Urge Revaluation Of European Currencies

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA, May 27 (AP) — The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe urged an immediate and drastic revaluation of European currencies to "turn the mounting tide of inflation."

A special report by the Commission said that an increase in the dollar value of sterling and other West European currencies was the only conceivable alternative to "the vastly disturbing process" of permitting inflation to run its course.

The report also suggested that any revaluation now should be easily reversable, "since it would be a mistake once more to attempt to establish fixed exchange rates in a fluctuating world economy."

The report was a last-minute addition to the Commission's annual survey, published a week ago, which warned of the "menacing problem" of accelerating world-wide inflation and asserted that the 30-per-cent devaluation of most European currencies in 1949 was proved excessive by subsequent events.
