Turnbull Replies To Throne Speech

Rossland-Trail Member Says Processing Of Primary Products for Export Would Aid Economy, Provide More Jobs

VICTORIA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Future growth and prosperity of British Columbia depends to a marked degree on the ability to create secondary industries which will provide jobs for manufacturing, fabricating and processing of primary products, Alexander D. Turnbull ,(Cln.-Rossland-Trail) declared in the Legislature today.

He was moving the address in reply to the Throne Speech.

"At present 40 per cent of the people of this Province are dependent on the export of our primary products for their livelihood. Our economy would be more stable if these primary products were processed before being exported," he said.

A. D. TURNBULL, M.L.A.

"Our timber should be manufactured to the highest possible degree before export. Our metals and minerals should be fabricated into articles ready for use. Such processing and fabrication would, as well as stabilizing our economy, provide jobs in the off seasons of the great tree fruit industry of the Okanagan, Robson and Creston areas."

Devaluation of the English pound has not only affected the export market of the Okanagan, but also the many large and small logging and sawmill operations in the Southern Interior which are dependent indirectly on the export market for their existence, added the speaker. He said he was glad Premier Johnson was going to London next month to discuss this matter with British lumber exporters.

Touching on the mining industry in the Kootenays, Mr. Turnbull told the House that one important secondary industry already established, Trail was the chemical and fertilizer business.

Development of the Columbia River basin in the United States as a hydro-electric expansion project had created a tremendous industrial boom through cheap power from Bonneville and Grand Coulee Dams and the International Joint Commission was studying in a broad way the possibilities of similar development on the Canadian side of the border.

He said his riding was keenly interested in such development. One proposal was the construction of a storage dam on the Lower Arrow Lake near Castlegar which could release water when necessary to augment power production of dams on lower reaches of the Columbia across the Line. It would carry the highway and replace the Castlegar ferry.

The Rossland-Trail Member then turned to the tourist industry and contended the Government must be prepared to invest more money in Game Commission activities if fish and game were to be used as one of the Province's drawing cards there must be more conservation and propagation funds available to the Commission.

Mr. Turnbull urged the Government to study recommendations of the Committee set up to study the Doukhobor problem and take whatever steps were necessary to control lawlessness in the affected area.

Jobless List Swells to 1361; 114 More Out of Work in Week

Today there are 114 more unemployed in Nelson District than there were last Friday.

Registration of jobless at the National Employment Service a week ago numbered 1247. Today the list has swollen to 1361.

The odd jobs campaign, launched during the week, has provided temporary work for some. But the combination of continued seasonal layoffs and the existence of the largest labor force in Nelson District's history continues to aggravate the situation.

The list of unemployed is the longest in Nelson District's post-war period.

"The National Employment Service has the biggest payroll in Nelson," Manager George C. Wallach commented. He estimated the weekly unemployment insurance checks to be worth over $15,000.

Another sawmill at Rosebery stilled operations during the week. Major mines were working, but several of the smaller properties were closed.

There were 1014 out of work at last year's unemployment peak March 3. On Oct. 6 there were only 111.

SNOW-SHOVELLING

Most of the part-time jobs that have been opened were for snow-shovelling roofs. The campaign, instituted across Canada and taken up by the Nelson office, is one to have householders and business men do redecorating, repairs and indoor building. Service clubs and women's organizations are being approached and asked to support the drive.

MINERS LEAVE PEACE PARLEY

Stormy Air Hangs Over Meeting, Want Separate Session

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Southern coal operators walked out of bargaining sessions with John L. Lewis today.

They left less than three hours after new "peace talks" began.

Josephy Moody, President of the Southern group, told reporters the Southern operators want bargaining talks with the union separate from other operator groups.

Moody said the Southern group is "taking steps" to determine if it must meet with Lewis along with other operators.

The sessions opened this morning. The Southerners walked out when the meetings were resumed after a luncheon recess.

David L. Cole, Chairman of President Truman's Coal Fact-finding Board ,sai da forenoon meeting was spent entirely on "procedurial" questions. Lewis and the coal men never got down to th wage and working condition issues that have 372,000 miners on strike and the country getting desperately short of fuel.

Cole acted as an observer at the session, but is not taking part in the negotiations at this time.

An explosive air hung over the bargaining — with a full-fledged strike still in progress in the U. S. coal fields. A close-to-home development was the start of an informal coal rationing system in the District of Columbia.

The men even disregarded a message from Lewis telling the miners he had no choice, because of the court order, but to instruct them to end their walkout.

Cyrus S. Ching, Canadian-born director of the Federal Mediation Service, and David L. Cole were ready to step in to encourage the bargainers if they become deadlocked. Their job also was to keep the White House informed on deve- the White House informed on developments.

FLOOD HAZARDS THREATEN COAST

Strengthen Creek Banks; Trains Move Cautiously

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — Both railway lines crossed their fingers tonight as cautious trains crept through newly-cleared Rocky Mountain passages.

But the warm rains that helped the railroads clear their tracks brought threats of flood conditions to parts of the Lower Mainland.

In North Vancouver, residents along Seymour Creek are preparing for what may be their third battle against flood water. The shallow banks are chafed by a raging torrent, and the level is the highest it has been since last November, when the creek tore loose twice.

GARDENS RUINED

Workmen are busy strengthening sandbag bulwarks placed there after the storm and flood ruined valuable gardens an dprivate properties.

At Capilano Creek in West Vancouver the water is also rising. Last Fall the Capilano roared down its rocky course to tear out a steel and concrete bridge. A temporary Army structure was thrown up to handle traffic over West Vancouver's outlet to Vancouver City.

The level of the mighty Fraser River is also rising.

Meanwhile, in the in-again-out-again Fraser Canyon, the Canadian Pacific Railway announced service had resumed at a near-normal rate. Slides at Boston Bar, 160 miles East of here were cleared yesterday, and an Eastbound passenger left tonight.

The Canadian National reported its lines clear, but said traffic will not be resumed until morning. A passenger is scheduled to leave here for the Okanagan Valley at 8 a.m., with a transcontinental listed for 8:30.

A Westbound C.N.R. passenger is due to arrive tomorrow noon.

New Contract for Southern Alta. Coal Miners

CALGARY, Feb. 15 (CP) — A new contract was signed today, affecting 3500 miners in Southern Alberta domestic coal fields, by representatives of District 18, United Mine Workers of America (C.C.L.) and the Domestic Coal Operators' Association of Western Canada.

In a joint statement tonight operators and union officials said the new working agreement, which goes into effect Friday, is substantially the same as last year's contract. The new agreement is for one year.

No changes were made in the average basic wage and hours of work. Wages at present range from $9.79 to $10.74 a day for a five-day weeks.

The 3500 miners affected work in almost 40 collieries in the Lethbridge, Drumheller, Saunders, Alexo, Mercoaland Foothills fields.

May Start Survey Of B. C.-Alta. Boundary in March

EDMONTON, Feb. 15 (CP) — Work of surveying about 170 miles of Alberta-British Columbia boundary probably will be started in March, Provincial authorities said today. The area is North from Peace River to the Northwest corner of Alberta. Only a few trappers live there.

Mississippi Swells

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (AP) — The bloated Mississippi today swelled up almost to its brim along a 600-mile stretch from Cairo, Ill., to the Gulf of Mexico. Engineers said more rain can send it on its most destructive orgy in 23 years.

The biggest storm of the Winter meanwhile continued without letup in New England.

Sleet and snow storms in the Midwest and Eastern States were blamed for at least 17 deaths in 48 hours—mostly from over-exertion in snow or traffic mishaps.

C.I.O. Board Expels Mine, Mill Workers

Described as "Power Grab" by Parent Union; Name Shop Stewards in Trail

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (CP) — The C.I.O. Executive Board today expelled three left-wing unions accused of following Communist party policy, and hastened a vote on another facing similar charges.

The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, with 44,000 members, and the United Office and Professional Workers, with 13,000, were kicked out by a 34-6 vote of the C.I.O.'s top leadership.

C.I.O. officials here said they do not know what effect the ouster will have on the mine unions status in Canada.

The Canadian Congress of Labor, with which C.I.O. unions in Canada are affiliated, already has expelled the Mine, Mill and Smelter Union. The action was taken last October for leftist leanings and its refusal to vacate the Northern Ontario field, where the C.C.L. said it was not doing a satisfactory organizing job.

With the C.I.O. ouster here, the union in Canada now has affiliation only with its parent union in the United States.

In Chicago, Maurice Travis, former President and now Secretary-Treasurer of the parent union, termed the C.I.O. expulsion a "power grab." he added:

"Even at this moment the Steelworkers Union is raiding our locals in Utah, in Timmins and Sudbury, Ontario, and Trail, British Columbia."

The mine unions ouster from the C.I.O. was made effective at once, but the other was delayed until March 1 because of a pending injunction plea in New York.

The food, tobacco and agricultural workers, with 22,590 members, was expelled by a 34-4 vote, effective March 1. It too has a petition for an injunction still pending in New York.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The board tomorrow will take up the recommendation of a special committee for the expulsion of the United Public Workers.

The four unions, on which the Executive Board is acting after investigations by special committees, may appeal the board's decision to the next convention, in October. But in the meantime they are out.

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 15 — Local 480 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Wednesday night named its chief shop stewards and announced it would seek an injunction preventing any other labor organization from using its name.

The Local was "rapidly getting back to normal function of bargaining for the C.M. & S. employees after being delivered a staggering blow below the belt," John Gordon, International Representative said Wednesday night.

The chief shop stewards appointed were: H. McDonald, Lead Refinery; F. Pearson, Zinc Plant and SO2 plant; N. Dosen, Lead Smelter; C. McMartin, Chemical and Fertilizer Division; J. Shutek, Warfield Engineering; Les Walker, Tadanac Engineering; and K. Haight, Miscellaneous.

The men composed the Grievance Committee of the Local, Mr. Gordon said, and represented the chief point of contact between management and the men.

The Tuesday night membership meeting also approved and listed with the company 47 departmental shop stewards.

SPARKS PROPOSAL

Application cards for Local 4281, United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), organized Tuesday night, sparked the proposal to seek an injunction through a Supreme Court ruling. The cards bore the name "Trail District Smelter Workers Union." Injunction applicants are Ken Smith, British Columbia District Union President, and Mr. Gordon.

WAGE CONFERENCE

Delegates from all over Canada and from two United States points will begin to arrive in Trail Friday for the National Wage conference Monday. A mass meeting, open to the public, will be held Sunday night.

International President John Clark is expected Saturday.

Many locals, Mr. Gordon said, had doubled the number of delegates "on hearing of the trouble here." Tacoma, Wash., and Coeur D'Alene, Wash., are sending six to eight representatives up and others will come from Sudbury and Port Colborne locals in Ontario.

A $1000 check, to help finance the fight against U.S.W. gaining jurisdiction, was sent to District Office coffers by the Tulsequh, B.C. local, The Mine-Mill is presenting its arguments over the air in an extensive radio campaign.

Local 480's ranks were being swelled by returning smelter workers, he said. "Large numbers of the union men who left 480 to join the Steel Workers "are coming in the office to resign application cards."

"Kimberley men are solidly back of us," Mr. Gordon said. He praised Robert Eccleston, Kimberley representative . . . "he's doing a grand job of reassuring the members here."

James Byrnes, M.P. for East Kootenay, was thanked "for the stand he took when he delayed his departure to Ottawa to attend the next Sunday meeting," by Regional Director Harvey Murphy.

The campaign moves out to Fruitvale Thursday night.

No Bonds Posted, 2 Still in Cells

No bonds have yet been posted for the release of Alex Datchkoff and Mike Barisinkoff and the two, Wednesday, were still in B.C. Provincial Police custody.

Datchkoff, convicted on the Tarry's school burning, and Barisoinkoff, convicted in the school burning and the bombing of Peter Verigin's tomb, were sentenced to 24-hour terms by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in Supreme Court here last week.

Provincial Police at Nelson said Wednesday that under terms of their conviction and sentences the two must post $3000 sureties each, or remain in custody for one year or until such time during the year that the bonds are provided.

Thames Floods On Rampage

LONDON, Feb. 15 (Reuters) — Floodwaters today spread across many miles of the Thames Valley in the 16th consecutive day of rain.

The normally narrow, leisurely river was two miles wide between Oxford and Reading.

Henley, London's boating suburb, had hundreds of acres swamped.

Women living along the riverside were rowed to their shopping. Men wore waders to plod from their homes to rail depots.

Many homes were flooded, and the level of the river was expected to rise still further.

VICTORIA, Feb. 15 (CP). — The general picture of agriculture is not too bright, Alec Hope (Cln.-Delta) said in the House today as he seconded the address in reply to the speech from the Throne.

"Farmers see their export markets slipping away and in some cases, completely gone to countries that were not too friendly to us during the war."

Slides, Ice, Slush Upset Slocan Traffic

SLOCAN CITY, B.C., Feb. 15.—Raw and a steady drizzling rain fell Tuesday and over night made difficult driving conditions on the highway to and from Slocan City. The highway was icy in sections and with deep grooves through slush hampering all motor vehicles.

Meanwhile in the vicinity of Cape Horn, five miles out of Slocan City, about 10:30 o'clock this morning a series of three snowslides came down the rocky hillside blocking traffic on the Slocan City-New Denver highway. A snowplow operated by the B.C. Public Works Department worked down from the North end, and it was expected that traffic would be resumed late tonight. Motorists were warned to proceed with caution.

Pete Busfield of Vancouver, whose car was stranded at the slide area, walked into Slocan City. He declared "the highway in the slide area is a massive sheet of ice and small slides are periodically coming down with a rumbling noise to frighten anyone."

The morning bus from New Denver enroute to Nelson came through though encountering difficulties. However, the bus from Nelson, which arrived here at 10:45 a.m., was forced to return at noon with its load of passengers due to hazardous road conditions beyond Slocan City. Other motorists and freight line trucks were stranded here.

Salmo, Trail Men Off to Victoria To Act for Associated Trade Boards

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Feb. 15.—Dr. H. Wright, newly-elected President of the Associated Boards of Trade of Southeastern British Columbia, and M. C. Donaldson of Salmo, senior Vice-President for East Kootenay, left here today for Victoria, where they will present the appropriate Cabinet Ministers with resolutions passed by the Association at its two-day annual meeting here.

They were given this task by the Executive, which met at the conclusion of the Association's deliberations. Mr. Donaldson replaced J. A. Hacken, Secretary-Treasurer, who has been ill.

Appointed to the Financial Committee by the Executive were James White of Fernie, Vice-President for East Kootenay, Chairman; Mr. Donaldson and Mr. Bracken. P. Hiles of Trail was named Chairman of the Tourist and Publicity Committee and also serving will be T. D. Pulling of Nelson and H. G. Wilson of Cranbrook. Chairmen of the Tourist Committees of each member Board will also serve on this Committee.

It was decided to publish a newsletter at least every quarter.

Dr. Wright was authorized to call a special meeting to consider action to be taken if acts of terrorism again occur in Kootenay-Boundary.

The appointment of Mr. Donaldson as a Vice-President, followed action taken by the Association, when it was decided vice-presidents should be named in the East and West areas to act for the President when necessary.

The proposed Board of Trade trip to Vancouver, to return the visit of the Vancouver Board of Trade delegation to the Interior last year, was left in abeyance.

It is hoped to hold four Executive meetings a year, with the first expected to be held in Nelson. The next meeting would probably be held in East Kootenay.

WOMAN DIES IN HALL FIRE

CHARLOTTETOWN, Feb. 15 (CP)—One woman was burned to death and two men were believed missing tonight after fire swept through a combined bingo hall and bowling alley. At least a dozen others were treated for burns.

The victim was Mrs. Thomas Coughan, described by police as a dwarf. Names of the men believed missing were not immediately available.

The fire broke out in a furnace room next to the bingo room. One of the bingo players noticed fire around a hot-air register. When a door was opened flames suddenly burst through.

Loss was estimated at $50,000.

HOPES TO IMPORT WATERMELONS FOR STRICKEN SON

EDMONTON, Feb. 15 (CP) — Mike Gonek of Edmonton is seeking to import watermelons from the Canal Zone in the hope they will help his son stricken with the kidney disease, nephrosis.

Gonek saw a newspaper picture of a boy in Texas suffering from the disease, who was reported improved after drinking watermelon juice.

Wholesalers say no melons are available in Canada or the United States.

The boy was first stricken in September, 1948. He improved, then became ill again recently.

Rescue 11 Survivors of B-36; 8 More Die in Another Crash

17 Jump From Burning Plane in 10 Seconds; Search Island for Other Six; Montana Crash Takes Victims

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — The Canadian destroyer Cayuga radioed tonight an 11th survivor of 17 men who parachuted from a stricken United States Air Force B-36 bomber has been rescued by a 25-man ground party on Princess Royal Island.

The brief report did not identify the survivor but said he was injured.

It was not known immediately whether he was Vitale Trippodi, critically injured in his leap early Tuesday from the plane which presumably sank in the waters off the Queen Charlotte Islands 500 miles Northwest of here off British Columbia's Northern coast. Trippodi is trapped on a 3000-foot cliff of the rugged island.

Six others are sought but the Cayuga radioed it is withdrawing the ground crew from the island till morning. The U. S. Coast Guard vessel Wynona will continue to circle the island shooting flares while the Cayuga will stand by doing likewise.

Earlier, Brig. J. B. Montgomery, Director of Operations, Strategic U.S.A.F. Air Command, from Omaha, Neb., said he discounted reports from the Coast Guard that 14 are rescued and all are accounted for.

Plans were being pushed to use an RCAF helicopter if necessary, using the deck of the Cayuga as a landing strip.

The 10 men rescued today by a fishing boat now are at Port Hardy, B.C., on the Northern tip of Vancouver Island. They will be flown to McChord Field, Wash., all are in good condition.

Three engines were afire when the six-engine $6,000,000 bomber ditched in the icy waters off the Northern coast of B.C. early Tuesday.

The men jumped in 10 second while over the rough island.

Three of the men were taken off a rubber life raft some distance from shore while the other seven were picked from the shores of the island by the same fishboat. The craft, one of many coastal vessels alerted since the plane was reported missing, spotted smoke from the island.

The RCAF announced the rescue of survivors shortly after 1 p.m. today and within a few minutes Capt. H. L. Barry, captain of the bomber, told the Canadian Press in an interview from the Cape Perry:

"We are all in good shape, but very tired. It was the roughest country I have ever seen."

CRASHES IN TAKE-OFF

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 15 (AP). — A Spokane-based B-29 bomber carried eight men to a flaming death today when it crashed while taking off to lead a search for a missing B-36 which had ditched off British Columbia.

The big four-motored B-29 roared down the runway of the Great Falls Air Force base, climbed about 100 feet, then fell near a highway three miles Southwest of the city. It slithered along the prairie for a quarter of a mile, careened across the highway and exploded.

Crew members near the nose were trapped in the flames. Those in rear compartments escaped without serious injury while flares exploded around them.

The Air Force did not list the men as dead, but "officially missing." They were:

Maj. Clyde Butts, aircraft commander, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Capt. Lester V. Johnson Jr., co-pilot ,Cove, Ore.

Capt. Johnathan M. Herbold, co-pilot, Anoka, Minn.

Lieut. Herbert S. Findley, bombardier, Aurora, Colo.

S.-Sgt. Robert E. Fisher, flight engineer, Roseville, Ohio.

Cpl. James V. Fulton, radio operator, Eldorado, Ark.

S.-Sgt. James Di Pierro, radio operator, Spokane.

CRIES WITH JOY

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (CP).—The widowed mother of Sgt. Vitale Trippodi wept tears of joy tonight in her Brooklyn home when informed that her son survived the ditching of a United States B-36 bomber off the coast of British Columbia.

A Canadian Press dispatch from Vancouver which listed a number of known survivors was the first news the family had that Trippodi, 23-year-old radio operator, is alive, though injured.

"Oh, I'm glad, so very glad," Mrs. Trippodi cried.

Notified that her son is among the rescued, Mrs. Warren Barry, mother of Capt. H. L. Barry, skipper of the B-36, expressed great relief.

"The suspense has been awful," she cried in a telephone conversation from the Barry farm home near Hillsboro, Ill.

At Lancaster, Pa., the mother of Lieut. Paul Gerhart said when informed of her son's safety:

"That's wonderful news. We sure feel better tonight."

Paul M. Gerhart, father of the radar operator, said he had been confident his boy would come through.

"He's got the grit to find a way, as well as the courage to keep from giving up hope," the father said.

SPOKANE, Feb. 15 (AP). — A light Aeronca plane with two men aboard is overdue and presumed down somewhere in Northern Idaho tonight, the Commercial Aeronautics Administration here reported.

The C.A.A. said the pilot is Roy Howar and the passenger, Tom Peterson, both of Lewiston, Ida.

Soft Weather Hits Air, Road, Train Travel; Slide Down at Cape Horn

Delayed trains.

Snow-laden highways.

Slides and possibilities of more slides.

Rain and thaw.

And slush, streams, and puddles everywhere.

These were the problems that were faced by Nelson and District citizens Wednesday as temperature held to above-freezing levels.

District highways and roads were left heavy with ice and slush and it was with difficulty that traffic plowed its way along the highways and streets. Slides of heavy, wet snow were expected to come down in the Coffee Creek area on the Nelson-Kaslo road.

A large slide at Cape Horn was reported to have blocked the Slocan Valley highway. The Cascades was still open despite heavy conditions.

Canadian Pacific Airlines planes were unable to land on the Castlegar field due to severe snow conditions and were landing only at Cranbrook in the Kootenay. From there, passengers were brought to Nelson and Trail by car. Airlines officials said Wednesday that weather conditions would decide how long this plan would be continued.

Canadian Pacific passenger train schedules were also taking a beating fro mthe weather. The westbound passenger left Nelson between 1:30 and 2 p.m. Wednesday, about an hour and a half late, while a local No. 12 made up at Penticton was expected to reach here over 10 hours late. Slides in the Fraser Canyon had been cleared and Coast trains were again making their way East.

District bus lines cancelled runs from Nelson to Kaslo, to Nakusp and Kingsgate when buses found it difficult to manoeuvre through the deep slush and ruts. Operations between Nelson and Trail were being continued although somewhat behind schedule. City buses made their rounds, though drivers reported the going "rough" in the uphill sections where the snow was beginning to break up.

The Northport, Ia., ferry which had been lodged in the ice-packed Columbia River since early January, this week resumed operation. The mild weather and rain was also quickly melting the ice on the West Arm of Kootenay Lake.

City work crews were busy throughout the day clearing clogged catch basins at the main street intersections, while sections of the streets and sidewalks were flooded with pools of water. The situation was rapidly being overcome by busy workers, however.

Wednesday night Nelsonites had nothing to look forward to but continued slushy weather and showers, according to the weather man's prediction.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15 (AP)—The town's most unusual Valentine gift came to light today—a skunk sent to Columnist Hedda Hopper by Actress Joan Bennett.

It probably helped make up Hollywood's most expensive holiday greeting. Including advertisements in two trade papers, Miss Bennett spent $435.

The skunk, thoughtfully deodorized, was delivered by Miss Bennett's chauffeur with Miss Bennett's card. She picked it up for $35 at a pet shop. Full-page ads in Variety and the Hollywood Reporter cost $200 each.

The ads were heart-shaped. On one side was an excerpt from a Hopper column Jan. 5, criticizing Joan Fontaine, a close friend of Miss Bennett. On the other was an excerpt from the column of a rival, Harry Crocker, which remarked that "Hollywood is smiling tolerantly" at "the attack in print by a certain female." He didn't mention Miss Fontaine or Miss Hopper.

"This couldn't be you, could it, Hedda?"

Miss Bennett says the matter goes far back:

"I've been the victim of her attacks for many, many years. I have often wanted to be able to express my feelings, but Harry Crocker's column was the first opportunity."

'Deep Waters'

Friday—"SHE WORE A YELLOW RIBBON"

Works of Canadian Artists on Show Here

By J. C. INGRAM ROGERS

An artistic "double bill' is showing this week at the Central School Library. The Nelson Art Club has brought in two seperate travelling exhibitions, which are being shown together.

The first is a collection of oil-color and water-color paintings entitled "Eighteen Canadians" on loan from the Dominion Gallery, Montreal. Works by a number of well-known Canadian artists are on view, including two oils, "Alberta Village" and "Foothills Near Pincher Creek" by A. Y. Jackson, C.M.G., LL.D., in which the artist portrays with broad brush-strokes the color and wide sweep of the Alberta landscape, two attractive water-colors by Rafel Malczewski, "Rock Island Lake" and "Mount Pyramid"; two pleasing pictures, "Peaceful Summer Day' and "Georgian Bay" in oil and water-color respectively, by Goodridge Roberts, and not-so-pleasing "Flowers on Bridge Table" by the same artist.

EMILY CARR WORK SHOWN

For those who like Emily Carr, there are three examples of the work of this famous British Columbia artist, "Mountain Peak, Cheekeye" (water-color), "Fir Trees" (oil) and "Woods" (charcoal). Franklin Arbuckle, well-known artist and illustrator, Frederick B. Taylor, A.R.C.A., and J.E.H. MacDonald, R.C.A., are also represented.

The other exhibition on display, sent out by the Vancouver Art Gallery, and sponsored by the Provincial Government, is a two-man show of 20 black-and-white drawings by B. C. Binning and Lemoine FitzGerald, ten by each artist. Mr. Binning is a well-known Canadian artist and an instructor at the Vancouver School of Art. Mr. FitzGerald is principal of the Winnipeg Art School. The work of these two men presents an interesting contrast, their styles being the very antithesis of one another. Mr. Binning draws in outline only, using a very loose pen-line, with no shading whatever. The result is a child-like drawing of deceptive simplicity.

Mr. FitzGerald, on the other hand discards outline and depends solely on tone effects, produced by a multitude of short meticulously-drawn pen strokes. Only an artist-penman of concummate skill, such as Mr. FitzGerald, could achieve a successful drawing in this style.

The exhibition is open Wednesday through Saturday.

Deer in Return Visit to Fairview

Fairview residents have again been hosts to hungry deer, deserting the woods to seek food. Residents of the area reported seeing several deer in their yards earlier this week.

There have been many visits by woodland creatures, the latest being reported by William Brown, 708 Third Street.

While driving home from work at 4:30 Wednesday morning, he saw five deer at the corner of Elwyn and Third Streets. He stalled his car within eight feet to avoid hitting them, he said, but they would not move.

North Shore residents have also reported seeing many deer.

21st Parliament Opens Today

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Canada's Parliamentarians, faced with many new domestic and international problems, meet tomorrow for the opening of the second session of the 21st Parliament.

The formal opening will come shortly after 12 p.m. when the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, reads the speech from the Throne from the Speaker's dais in the stately Senate chamber.

The speech, drafted by Prime Minister St. Laurent and members of his Cabinet, will outline some of the legislative work the members of the Senate and the Commons will be asked to consider this year. It likely will refer to conditions at home and abroad in this the fifth year after the war.

Some reference may be made to current trade and currency problems, to the unemployment situation, to Canada's commitments under the North Atlantic Treaty and to other phases of Canada's international relations.

The Senate will meet briefly before the formal opening. At 8:30 a.m. the Senators will be called together to witness the swearing in of Vincent P. Burke of St. John's, Nfld., appointed to the Senate Jan. 26.

Senate standing: Liberals 76; Progressive Conservatives 15; vacant 11; total 102.

Standing in the Commons: Liberals 189; Progressive Conservatives 40; C.C.F. 13; Social Credit 10; Independent five; Independent Liberal three; vacant two; total 262.

GIVE NO HINTS

The Government has given no indication of what it plans to include in the speech from the Throne, always a secret document until read by the Governor-General

There have been indications that the legislative program may not be heavy in view of the fact that the last session ended only two months ago. Called to handle work left over from the Spring pre-election session, the Fall session ran from Sept. 15 to Dec. 10.

Some of the legislation at this session may arise directly out of international commitments. The Defence Department possibly will present measures providing for the training of Atlantic Pact forces in Canada, and authorizing the Government to carry out Atlantic Pact undertakings.

Coast Labor Council Behind Union Fight

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — The Vancouver Labor Council last night endorsed action of the United Steelworkers of America (CCL) in their fight to take over 5000 mine and smelter workers at Trail, B. C.

A stormy council meeting voted approval after a 45-minute debate which saw Communist and anti-Communist factions tangle heatedly.

The debate stemmed from the withdrawal last week of 86 members of the Union of Mine Mill and Smelter Workers. They joined the Steelworker group.

The Smelter Union was expelled from the Canadian Congress of Labor last October on the grounds that it was Communist-led.

Representatives of the Steelworkers' Union argued they had been given the right to "move in" on Trail and regain the membership for the CCL.

An admittedly-Communist member argued that the fight was not a question of which union could do more for the men.

"It is a question of the leaders' politics," he said. "The leadership has a right to its own political views so long as it adheres to sound trade-union principles."

Dan Radford, regional director for the CCL said the men in Trail are fed up "because they are isolated from the rest of the trade union movement."

Pleasing Style of Trail Soprano Wins Audience in Rotary Recital

The pleasing manner and finesse of an accomplished artist won Kathleen Rose Sinclair the approval of an audience of Nelson music lovers Wednesday evening in the Capitol Theatre.

Mrs. Sinclair showed good style throughout her program and her poised stage presence pleased.

The Trail soprano's warm tone brought out the beauty of the Handelian group of songs as did her artistic interpretation of Mozart's "Alleluja".

The mood of the song was effectively carried through in selections of German songs by Schumann, Schubert and Brahms. Her technique was good throughout.

Sympathetic understanding and continued mood of the French group of songs were well received by the appreciative audience.

In her final group, Mrs. Sinclair chose songs by English and American composers. In this group she again proved her artistry as well as her imaginative powers in "At the Well" by Haeman, "In the Silence of the Night," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "Loves Philosophy."

Mrs. Sinclair was brought back again and again by enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. Helen Dahlstrom was an excellent accompanist and at all times was in perfect harmony with her singer.

Proceeds of the recital, which was sponsored by the Rotary Club will go towards improvements to Camp Koolaree, youth camp sponsored by the West Kootenay Religion Education Council.

The winners scored a goal a period. Ray Johnson opened the scoring midway in the first as he drove in a double relay from Pickering and Carmichael. In the second frame White scored unassisted and in the final stanza Carmichael scored the third goal with Pickering assisting.

Only four penalties were handed out in a rather mild affair and all came in the last session. Pat Poulin and Ken Ackert were sent off for the Panther offences while Benedetti and Burns sat it out for the Lions. Jack Morgan and Ron Harkness were the referees. Gordon Corbett and Stan Grill kept the time and score.

The game was close in the first period with the Dodgers being held to just one goal. In the second period the winners added three more to the Lions' lone counter. The last frame saw the Dodgers put on the power and rap home four more pucks behind Goalie Harries.

Bill Richardson paced the Dodgers with three goals and three asists. Arnold Sherwood scored two while Buck Ecstrom, Terry Stenson and Tom Dolphin scored singletons. Suggests Adding to Sales Tax, Quitting Hospital Premiums

VICTORIA, Feb. 15 (CP). — One of the difficulties of collecting premiums for hospital insurance is the collection from those who are self-employed, Alec Hope (Cln.-Delta) contended in the House today.

"It is a debatable point whether . . . it would be better to add another 2 per cent to the sales tax and do away [illegible] collecting of the premiums," he said.

Ready for Hot War In Cold Climate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) — United States military planners are taking seriously the possibility that if there is a "hot war," fighting will take place where it is bitterly cold.

They are anticipating what can be done in event there are major clashes with Russia in the Arctic regions.

This was disclosed in a House of Representatives Military Appropriation Sub-Committee report released today.

The report makes public in part secret hearings on the Army's request for $4,018,384,000 of the proposed $13,000,000,000 U. S. defence budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The Army Quartermaster Department is seeking $8,258,000 for research and development alone. The requests are studded with research projects on how to enable the soldier to live and fight in the Arctic.

The Army wants to spend $48,000 in developing lightweight, highly resilient and durable filling material for padded Arctic clothing. It proposes to continue research to improve socks, mittens, shoes, sleeping bags for cold wet areas.

The Quartermaster Department has developed "a meat component for an Arctic ration that the soldiers will eat, and one that has great stability in keeping a long time." The Army has found it can store cooked bread two years in the Arctic.

New Process Makes High-Quality Steel in 12 Minutes Without Fuel

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — A new process makes high-quality steel in 12 minutes without using fuel, two scientists reported today.

The steel is equal in quality to open-hearth steel, they said. But it takes eight to 12 hours to make a batch of open-hearth steel, cooking it in a fire of fuel oil, or some form of gas.

The new method is called the turbo-hearth, shaped like a giant steel coffee-maker. Molten pig iron from the blast furnace is poured in. Blasts of air are shot in from the side, to blow over the molten iron. The pig iron cooks itself to become steel. Carbon and other impurities in the pig iron supply the heat as they burn or oxidize in the air stream.

The turbo-hearth was described to the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers by C. E. Sims, Assistant Director of Batelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, and F. L. Toy of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, largest subsidiary of United States Steel Corporation.

A 30-ton turbo-hearth could make at least 60 tons of steel an hour, or 480 tons an eight-hour day, they said. This would be double or triple the production in a working day from a 150- or 225-ton open-hearth.

The turbo-hearth is easier to build. Steel production could be fitted flexibly to demands. More hearths could be used when demand was high, fewer when demand fell off.

Such advantages, plus savings in fuel, might reduce costs of some steels.

Former CWACs Gather at Dinner

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — The girls who wore khaki during the war soon may be meeting across dinner-tables to talk over old times.

The newly-formed Canadian Women's Army Corps Association has announced plans for a dinner here March 9. Some 150 former C.W.A.C.s in this area are expected to attend the meeting. Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Nanaimo, B. C., will be guest speaker.

The Association hopes former servicewomen across Canada will hold dinners on the same date. Groups in Victoria and Montreal already have announced plans for similar get-togethers.

Head office has been established at Ottawa, and plans are under way for the formation of branches across Canada.

Affairs of the Association are managed by a Board of Directors headed by the President, Lt.-Col. Joan Kennedy of Ottawa, and an advisory council.

"Big Mo" to Become Training Centre

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) — The U.S.S. Missouri will be kept in service in a reduced status for training midshipmen and members of the Naval Reserve, it was announced today by Secretary of Defence Johnson.

There had been some speculation that the giant battleship, which ran aground off Norfolk, Va., a few weeks ago, would be taken out of active service. Critical Congressmen have pointed out that it costs around $6,000,000 a year to operate the Missouri.

Johnson said that the decision was made by the Chief of Naval Operations, and that the joint Chiefs of Staff had agreed with it.

The announcement also said that an additional carrier, currently in commission, would stay in service.

The retention of this additional carrier will permit the assignment of three carriers to the Pacific fleet and the maintenance of a carrier in the Western Pacific on a rotational basis at all times.

Mystery Blasts Rock Vancouver, New Westminster

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — Police last night investigated mysterious explosions which rocked three widely-separated areas of Vancouver and New Westminster.

One in Vancouver damaged a truck, and an earlier blast threw mud into the air and sent Kitsilano residents rushing into the streets.

New Westminster Police were unable to pinpoint the blast there, but telephone switchboards and radio stations were flooded with calls asking where it was.

In Vancouver, police said they thought both blasts here were caused by home-made bombs. They would not theorize whether dynamite was being used.

Dennis Bryson, a Kitsilano resident, said an explosion by his back fence "rocked the house." A hole 20 inches deep was blasted out of the lane, but there was no property damage.

The other Vancouver blast ripped through the bottom of a truck, and seared a deep gash in the earth beneath.

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 15 (CP)—Provincial Police have found the bod yof James Frederick Buckley, who died on Dec. 24 when a Queen Charlotte Airlines flying boat crashed into Belize Inlet.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Buckley of the Prairie Inn, Saanichton.

Soviet-Red Pact Worries Japan

TOKYO, Feb. 15 (AP)—Japanese were plainly worried today over the 30 year Soviet-Red China pact aimed at Nippon.

News of the Moscow agreement spread slowly, Those who heard about it evinced unease, worry apprehension or puzzlement.

Neither the Japanese Government nor General MacArthur's occupation headquarters made immediate comment.

Most foreign diplomats were silent.

One Western diplomat commented the "Chinese have made a pretty good deal."

Some Japanese foresaw a "peace offensive" as a result of the clause expressing a desire for a quick peace with Japan. Such an offensive would attract considerable attention from peace-hungry Japanese.

A democratic party spokesman suggested "Japan now should appeal both to the United States and the Soviet Union for guarantees of peace."

Former Foreign Editor, Time, Leaps to Death

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — Laird Shields Goldsborough, 47, former Foreign Editor of Time magazine, plunged to his death last night from the ninth floor of the Time-Life building in Rockefeller Centre.

His hurtling body grazed a passerby on the sidewalk before it crashed to the curbing.

Goldsborough, 47, fell through a sleet storm. He wrote two brief notes before the plunge.

Goldsborough, who was Foreign Editor of Time for five years, left the magazine in 1941 because of illness, his widow told police.

The Union Stock Yard fire at Chicago in 1934 brought a total damage of $10,000,000.

Smart Little Bonnet

By ALIC EALDEN

The attractive little hat that derives straight from the bonnet and that is worn with an accent on the downbeat is always with us, since it is both becoming and smart. Here is one of the elegant entries for Spring, a sophisticated model of navy milan straw, designed by G. Howard Hodge. It is detailed with a gently peaked brim and bloused crown, and for colorful trimming, there is a huge bow of picot-edged chartreuse taffeta, striped with milan straw.

Death Ended Fast

PAIGNTON, Devonshire, England, Jan. 26 (CP)—Death ended a 26-day fast by Mrs. Laura Ann Cornish, who "made a vow to God to fast until she had received his blessing."

The coroner, noting that Mrs. Cornish belonged to the Apostolic Church, one of whose principles was fasting, said there was no question of suicide.

"Fasting has always been a feature of religious life and it is not for me to judge other people's beliefs."

Listing Mrs. Cornish's death as being caused by "self-inflicted starvation," he said some persons thought fasting a means of obtaining divine blessings.

Mrs. Cornish's daughter said that her mother had not complained of illness during her fast, but that on the evening before her death had mentioned a pain under her left arm.

Not connecting this with the fast, she said she didn't call a doctor because she felt God was her mother's strength.

Boys Plan Holidays In Norwegian Arctic

LONDON, Feb. 14 (CP) — Fifty English schoolboys will soon start preparations for spending their Summer holidays in Norway's Arctic Circle.

The boys, all between 16½ and 18, will "rough it" for six weeks in uninhabited country which has never been properly mapped before.

Mapping it will be one of the jobs they will carry out. Others will be to collect scientific specimens and notes on birds, mammals, insects, plants and minerals for the British Museum.

They will also make short-wave radio experiments and take with them photographic and cinematograph equipment.

To qualify for the expedition organized by the British Schools Exploring Society, the boys has to be selected at a special interview.

They must be adventurous, good mixers, physically fit and able to look after themselves when there is nobody to help them.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Snowstorms cost plenty to a big city when drifts have to be cleared. The cost of a recent storm here was estimated at about $15,000 by City Engineer W. D. Hurst. He said snow clearing operations during and immediately after the storm cost about $3000 a day and after that averaged $2000 daily until the streets were open.

News Stands Boss Will Suppress Trashy Stories

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Feb. 15—(CP)—Pocket-size editions of "torrid tales" will be removed from Medicine Hat news stands Saturday by the city's principal magazine distributing agency, it was announced today.

Oscar Watson, agency owner, said he has cancelled his contracts with the publishers of this type of literature and will follow up this action by removing books now on the stands during regular pickup rounds Saturday.

"I will not in future handle the lines with such suggestive covers and titles," he said.

Mr. Watson said his action was one way of backing up the campaign of W. D. Wylie, Social Credit Member of Parliament for Medicine Hat, to curb the flow of such books to the market.

Formosa Views New Pact With Growing Alarm

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 15 (AP)—Nationalist Chinese leaders say they are convinced far reaching secret agreements lie behind the Soviet-Red China pact announced today.

They expressed belief the pact provides for Chinese Reds to assume the leadership of Communist movements in Southeast Asia and for Russia to have secret naval and air bases in Red China.

The Nationalists say any pacts concluded by the Chinese Communists are invalid.

Labor Relations Board Reserves Decision on Canadian Press-Guild

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — The Canada Labor Relations Board today reserved decision on an application of the American Newspaper Guild (C.I.Q.) for certification as bargaining agent for editorial employees of The Canadian Press.

The CP, Canada's news cooperative, sought dismissal of the application. Alternatively, it asked the Board to order Government-supervised vote of the employees to determine whether a majority wanted the Guild to bargain for them.

Major point at issue in the 3½-hour hearing was the question of the Board's jurisdiction over labor relations involving CP editorial workers, with the news agency contending there was no jurisdiction and the Union arguing the Board had the powers.

The Company and Union also disagreed on a number of points concerning employees who would be regarded as part of a bargaining unit.

A point advanced by The Canadian Press during the afternoon hearing was that CP employees claimed as members by the Guild were not actually members of the Union, under sections of its constitution setting out membership requirements. Such a position would make a certification vote necessary.

DENY CONTENTION

Guild spokesmen denied this contention, declaring the Union had undertaken the proceedings before the Board in line with its constitutional set-up.

Opposing the application, J. J. Robinette of Toronto, CP Counsel, contended employees doing the type of work done by the CP editorial staff do not come within the scope of the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act.

Mr. Robinette opened his case before the Board after a Guild spokesman had argued the Board had jurisdiction. J. H. Osler of Toronto, Guild Counsel, said the news agency came within the Act on the ground it was a "national" undertaking with offices and wire networks stretching across the country.

The two Counsel disagreed on the question of whether a CP bargaining unit should include the employees of Press News, Ltd., a subsidiary which buys news from CP for processing and sale to radio stations.

The Guild lawyer said the objects of Press News are in many respects similar to those of CP, and he said the Guild will contend that, under the Act, the staffs of CP and PN have only one employer.

Mr. Robinette said that PN is an entirely separate corporate entity, which hires and pays its own employees. The CP would not for a moment consent to the suggestion that PN employees should be included.

The Guild called Angus A. Cattanach, Solicitor in the Secretary of State's Department, who testified that PN's incorporation papers showed that CP holds all PN's stock except the qualifying shares.

However, Mr. Cattanach told Mr. Robinette that the two organizations are "entirely separate and different corporate entities."

A. H. Brown, Acting Chairman of the Board, asked Mr. Osler why, if the personnel was employed by separate corporations, the Union wanted a single bargaining unit.

Mr. Osler replied that working conditions in the two firms were identical. There was considerable interchangeability of employees between CP and PN. Their functions and working conditions were completely merged.

FOREIGN UNION

Besides opposing the application on jurisdictional grounds, Mr. Robinette also put forward the contention that Canadian newspaper men, whose duty it was to report the news impartially and without distortion, should not be members of a "foreign" trade union. Headquarters of the Guild are in the United States.

The Canadian Press said also that "the horizons of some trade union interests have been extended in recent years into the fields of politics and political ideologies." It added work stoppages are called at times "without reference to the public interest and on occasion in defiance of the laws of the land."

"The existing labor laws of Canada," said the CP reply, "are such that the National News Service supplied by The Canadian Press, could be stopped by actions over which neither The Canadian Press management nor its editorial employees, if they are members of the Guild, would have control. It would not be in the interest of Canada to have the National News Service placed in this position."

Cafe Wrecked, Two Killed

PORTLAND, Ind., Feb. 15 (AP)—An explosion in a restaurant here today caused the death of three persons and sent six to a hospital.

Six other persons received first aid treatment for slight injuries.

The explosion occurred as the restaurant, the Home Cafe, was preparing to reopen after being flooded yesterday in a flash flood from the Salamonie River.

Only the front and rear walls of the two-storey brick building were left intact.

The dead are William Bailey, 30, gas employee; Walter Muye, 40, of Richmond, Ind., a bakery truck driver who was in the restaurant taking orders for his products, and Guy Dollins, a fireman.

Muye was crushed to death in the debris. Dollins suffered a fatal heart attack while engaged in rescue work.

Firemen said they believed the blast occurred as two employees of the Ohio Valley Gas Company sought to restore gas service, which had been shut off by the flood.

Released on Bail

MONTREAL, Feb. 15 (CP) — Pierre Gelinas, 25-year-old editor of the Labor Progressive weekly Le Combat, and Mrs. Alphonsine Morand pleaded not guilty to distributing circulars without a licence and were remanded on bail of $50 each until Feb. 21.

The two were arrested Monday by City Police in a drive against alleged subversive activities.

Six others, arrested yesterday also on similar charges, pleaded not guilty but were ordered to cells until Feb. 21 because they were unable to raise $50 bail.

SOUTH WESTMINSTER, B. C., Feb. 15 (CP)—Ernest Winch, veteran C.C.F. Member of the Legislative Assembly for Burnaby, has criticized British Columbia's prison administration as "inefficient and a waste of the taxpayers' money."

The Beaver Starts to Dam Election Machine

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP)—The line formed on the left, politically speaking, when Lord Beaverbrook came back to Britain for another election campaign.

Soft words of welcome from Labor opponents, and strained silence from Conservative friends, marked the homecoming last week of the man veteran political writers call the most stubbornly-independent Tory of all time.

The day he returned from a holiday in Jamaica, a large cartoon showed the old Empire crusader, wide mouth spread in an evil leer, juggling sinister tools over an apparatus labelled "Tory Election Machine."

The cartoon appeared in the mass-circulation Daily Express, a Beaverbrook newspaper whose front pages and editorial columns daily expound Commonwealth and Empire ideals.

The artist's drawing reflected an oft-expressed feeling — that Lord Beaverbrook, a lifelong Conservative, could upset the Tory applecart at any time. He did in 1931 when he and the late Lord Rothermere combined to assail Stanley Baldwin's leadership of the Conservative Party.

Lord Beaverbrook himself has said, "There is only one good Conservative — and that is Winston Churchill." Churchill replied last Fall by saying he and Lord Beaverbrook were old friends, but that the Canadian-born publisher's views did not necessarily reflect those of the Conservative Party.

WELCOME MAT

With Lord Beaverbrook back in Britain, Socialist leaders rolled out the welcome mat. War Minister Emanuel Shinwell saluted him as a man of great intelligence.

Herbert Morrison, Deputy Prime Minister, said he noted that Lord Beaverbrook's return had coincided with flourishing Empire speeches by Churchill and others.

Lord Beaverbrook's "election platform" was published last October. In an article under his own byline, he advocated Empire free trade, Empire citizenship, and a minimum wage of £ ($18) a week.

Since his return, Lord Beaverbrook has been campaigning for the £6 minimum wage and saying little about Empire. Churchill already has repudiated the idea of a floor on wages.

Sir William Lawther, President of the National Union of Mine Workers, rejected the £6 minimum as an amusing idea of "Tory blatherskite politicians."

The Woman's Auxiliary served refreshments at the close of the evening.

Bevin Announces U.K. Wants Peace

LONDON, Feb. 15 (Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said tonight that if Russia showed the slightest change of attitude, Britain would be ready to enter into discussions with the object of abolishing the possibility of war.

He made no direct reference to Winston Churchill's call yesterday for a big-three meeting, but in a country-wide broadcast he said the problem of international control of atomic energy could not be solved "by stunt proposals."

"We must continue to work for agreement through the Atomic Energy Committee of the United Nations."

Thailand Premier Urges Leadership

BANGKOK, Feb. 15 (AP) — Thailand's Premier Pibulsonggram warned today that time is running out for Communist-threatened Southeast Asia.

"It is late, but not too late yet" to check the Southward Red sweep in Asia, the Siamese leader said.

As he spoke American diplomats from Far Eastern posts conferred here over the situation. The U. S. diplomats appeared to be leaning toward economic aid as the main tool for welding a Southeast Asian front against Communism.

Immediate steps must be taken, Pibulsonggram said, to erect economic and military barriers or things "will be black" for Thailand and her neighbors.

He proposed these counter measures under the leadership of the Western powers:

1. Warn Russia and the Chinese Communists they cannot advance beyond the Indo-China border without risking armed conflict. "This should have been done a year ago."

2. Conclude an economic pact among Oriental nations for mutual cooperation and development of backward areas.

Regard Soviet, Red China Pact as New Weapon Against U.S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) —United States diplomatic authorities said today Russia and Red China apparently designed their new treaty of alliance in part as a weapon for cutting the ground from under American policy toward China.

That was the initial interpretation placed on the annex to the pact announced last night. Under this, Russia promises to hand over to Communist China within two years the South Manchurian Railway, and the Port of Dairen. Moscow also says it eventually will withdraw Soviet troops from the "jointly used naval base" of Port Arthur.

LESSEN CONFLICT

U. S. policy, as stated by State Secretary Dean Acheson Jan. 12 is based on the hope of a conflict of interest between Russia and China in North China and particularly in Manchuria. If Russia actually returns the railways, Dairen and Port Arthur the effect would be to minimize this conflict.

Meanwhile, State Department officials are certain that both Moscow and the Chinese Red regime will make propaganda capital of the fact that Russia has entered into a treaty to relinquish the special rights which the United States has assailed as a form of old fashioned Imperialism in China.

Here are some of the provincial points of Western interest in the known or suspected results of the two-month meeting:

1. The Russian and Chinese Communists can now be expected to begin an intensive campaign for a Japanese peace treaty, as an aid to Japanese Communism.

2. The form of the new pact, which has its military defence clause aimed against Japan, follows the same pattern worked out with the Russian satellites of Eastern Europe where Germany is the specified objective of the defence clauses.

3. Behind the scenes the Russians and Chinese probably agreed on general Communist strategy in Asia.

4. The completion of the Moscow Conference marks the beginning of a new era for Communism in Asia. Whatever Sino-Russian conflicts may eventually emerge, the expectation is that for some time the two greatest Communist Governments will give every outward evidence of working together in a completely friendly manner.

Movie Gossip—

Lucille Ball's Efforts As Door To Door Saleswoman Flop Flat

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15 (AP) — What happens when a movie star poses as a door-to-door seller? In Lucille Ball's case, she flopped flatter than a doormat.

The carrot-topped actress will play the title role in "The Fuller Brush Girl." Since realism is the keynote in Hollywood now, she got in training for her part by being a residence retailer of cosmetics. Not only did she meet buyer resistance —she had trouble giving her wares away.

She picked out an area in North Los Angeles for her research. I tagged along. Also three studio employees, a photographer, Miss Ball's hairdresser and a studio chauffeur.

Lucille slung her cosmetic kit over her shoulder and strode up to the first house. She rang the doorbell and tapped her foot impatiently. A housewife stuck her head around the door.

"How do you do," said the actress, "I'd like to show the new line of cos—"

"Sorry, I've got some friends I'm entertaining. I don't have time." That ended the interview.

FACE AT PEEPHOLE

We tried the next house. This time the saleswoman identified herself as a face appeared at a peephole in the door.

"How do you do, I'm Lucille Ball and I'd like to show you the new line of —."

"Can't see it now," was the answer and the peephole closed.

"She was naked," reporetd Lucille.

The next three residents failed to answer the doorbell. Lucille decided to try her luck across the street. Still no answers. She went back to the original side.

She finally had some luck with a little old lady with a barking dog. The lady admitted being a sucker for salesmen, adding that she had "boxes full of brushes in the basement." She accepted a box of cosmetics and tried to pay for it. "It's free," said Lucille.

The next old lady wasn't as cordial. She looked bored as Lucille made her spiel. "Would you accept this sachet as a gift?" said the actress.

The lady looked at it suspiciously. "This don't obligate me to buy anything, does it?" she asked. Lucille assured her it didn't.

I hope she does better in the picture than she did in real life.

Expect Price Drop to Keep Step With U.S.

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

It appears likely that the downward pressures on Canadian prices in the near-term future will be at least as great, and possibly greater, than those working to reduce prices in the United States.

This is the finding of the current monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia in a study of price trends.

And it finds that the weight of evidence appears to be on the side of a continued downward trend in the U. S. price level, provided there is no great increase in defence outlays.

Explaining why Canadian prices were more strongly sustained in 1949 than American prices, but are more likely to be in tune with them this year, the letter says:

"The sustaining influence of the British food contracts on Canadian farm prices is passing . . . the effect of devaluation of the Canadian dollar in raising prices is diminishing, competition is becoming keener, and the much lower rate on sterling is introducing a new competitive element in the Canadian market."

onger Living Adds Richness to anada's Home, Export Market

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—Canas growing population and the t that people now live longer re pointed to today as hopeful hs in Canada's economic future James A. Roberts of Hamilton, t., President of the Canadian Exters' Association.

nother hopeful sign: Indications of easement in United States tariffs.

Said Mr. Roberts, in an address to an exporters' lunchceon meeting:.

BUYING POWER

"Since 1940 our population has grown by nearly 3,000,000 . . .

"We tend to forget not only the increased buying power of the individual but the increase in life expectancy, even within our time . . .

"Our people are living more than 25 years longer than their grandfathers—think what that extra 25 years of buying means as a huge addition to the richness of our domestic market.

"Consider also stabilized wages for labor, extension of profit sharing and pension developments, baby bonuses and other forms of social security.

"These factors alone would tend to point to developing markets in Canada, even if one's imagination were not stirred by the distant thunder of the rising development of the natural resources . . . which give promise of freeing us forever from the thralldom of the United States dollar and which may well be the economic salvation of Canada's national sovereignty . . .

TRADE ADVANCE

"When Congress assembles in March it will be asked to pass a Bill called the 'Customs Simplification Act of 1950.' It is suggested that passage of this Bill will be the greatest advance for Canada in trade with the United States since the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act of 1934. One leading United States exporter describes it as 'a $1,000,000,000 boost for imports'—not all of which, however, would come to Canada, but a goodly part would."

Appointed

FRUITVALE, B. C., Feb. 15—At a special meeting of the Fruitvale Water Board Monday evening, the Debenture Bylaw for $100,000 to finance the proposed water system was given its second reading and passed by the Board without any change in its wording. Ralph Leckett, Chairman of the Water Board, leaves by plane Wednesday for Victoria to expedite matters.

It is hoped to have the water system in the district by mid-Summer.

Free Press City Editor Dies After Curling

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15 (CP)—E. A. (Eddie) Armstrong, 46, City Editor of the Winnipeg Free Press and long associated with athletics in an executive capacity, died early today at his home.

His death came a few hours after attending Manitoba Curling Association matches at the Amphitheatre, Armstrong. Born at Weymouth, N. S., he had been a member of the Free Press staff for 23 years.

Son of Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Armstrong, the family moved from the Maritimes to Emerson, Man., while Eddie was a child. From there the Ministry took the family to Winnipeg, Virden and Portage La Prairie in Manitoba and to Kenora in Northwestern Ontario.

He was educated in the schools of these Western points and in 1922 he became the first Premier of the Manitoba's Boys' Parliament. Shortly after leaving Wesley College he joined the staff of the Free Press, becoming sports editor on the death of W. G. Allen in 1939.

He is survived by his widow and two children.

Lamp Explodes in Living Truck, Pats Suffer Burns

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., Feb. 15 (CP)—Four members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry on Operations Sweetbriar suffered superficial burns, it was learned last night.

None is in serious condition in Whitehorse Military Hospital.

The accident occurred when the men, part of the Canadian spearhead now engaged with "enemy" forces, attempted to fill a kerosene lamp in their truck living quarters. The lamp exploded and the three-ton vehicle was destroyed.

The men were identified as Cpl. J. R. Burleigh, Calgary; Pte. E. C. Morley, Edmonton; Pte. Peter McKenzie, Vancouver; and Pte. G. F. Godfrey, Indian Head, Sask.

Plan National Organization Of Unemployed

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15 (CP) — The Vancouver Labor Council last night took its first step toward organizing Vancouver's 30,000 unemployed. It authorized the Executive to name a committee to set up a local of the Federation of Unemployed Workers.

The action followed a policy announced by the parent Canadian Congress of Labor last month. The C.C.L. said it planned a nationwide organization of unemployed.

The Unions would draft proposals for public works to increase employment.

Jail Sentences For Supplying Liquor to Indian

CRANBROOK, B. C., Feb. 15—Four months' imprisonment was the sentence of Magistrate C. R. Ward on Joe Micellotti of Cranbrook, who was found guilty in City Police Court Monday morning of supplying liquor to an Indian. Found guilty of attempting to supply liquor to an Indian, Edward Pilon of Cranbrook was sentenced to two months. Constable A. G. Smith prosecuted the charges, and both men pleaded not guilty.

South African War Vets to Gather for Gala Celebration Here February 25

At a meeting of the South African War Veterans held in the Legion, it was decided that the veterans' banquet would be held on Feb. 25 at the Legion to enable veterans from the outlying district to attend the celebration. They will also attend a church service at St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral, Feb. 26.

The meeting felt that there were more South African veterans in the district who might not have heard of the reunion and it was hoped that in order to have the banquet as fully represented as possible, any who had not heard of the Dominion-wide celebration or who could come were invited to write to H. Hinks, Secretary, Nelson, giving rank, unit and service in the South African War.

Those who have already registered will represent units which went to South Africa at the same time. An interval of 50 years has elapsed since this campaign, and army reunion was a considerable effort on the part of these veterans to come to Nelson from the outlying districts. The meeting not only appealed to the veterans to come if possible but also to those who would help by bringing the veterans to Nelson.

There are comparatively few veterans of the South African war in Canada, and these few can say they were "Soldiers of the Queen and still fewer who still possess their Queen's shilling," the gathering was told.

WELCOME REUNIONS

All felt that as they have passed the three score years and ten mark, they could not look forward to many more reunions to celebrate the war. But they would remember that it was memorable for much more than the actual fighting—it was the participation of Colonial contingents overseas which set a precedent for armed assistance in a national war. The passing of the days when soldiers went to war in "red" and inaugurated the general wearing of khaki with all its discomforts, the manual of military training was rewritten and close order gave way to open order tactics.

It is hoped to hear Winston Churchill and Field Marshal Smutts broadcast on the radio and also Viscount Alexander, Governor General of Canada, Feb. 25.

The Committee stressed they would like to see a full contingent of veterans at the banquet.

CASSEL, Ont. (CP)—A definite "tang" to the water from Karl Keintz' well led to investigations. The suspicious of Mr. Keintz were confirmed. He removed from the well-one dead skunk.

Not Depression Signs

A Washington announcement states that the total of persons with jobs dropped in January by 1,609,000, but that official records of the total of persons classified as unemployed had risen by only 991,000. The discrepancy between the fall in employment and the rise in unemployment is accounted for by the fact that 618,000 have "dropped out of the labor market."

The January jump is further explained by bad Winter weather, which has caused suspension of some outdoor work. It is added by Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer that industrial employment did not appear to be affected, whereas a year ago industrial layoffs were an important factor in the rise of unemploymen.

On the whole, these swings in the United States tend to be wider and often relatively more severe than in Canada, notes the Toronto Globe and Mail. In the present instance, however, the general picture is very similar to that in the Dominion. In neither case is the total of currently unemployed persons sufficient warrant for predictions of a serious depression. Canada also has a measurable proportion of workers recently losing their jobs who have dropped out of the labor market. That is a common experience toward the end of a highly productive period, when many workers of both sexes hold boom-era jobs and then return to retirement, resume the management of small businesses or household duties. Seasonal factors, too, are as operative here as in the United States.

A revival of export trade in Canada would soon bring employment up to recent peaks, and so far as the longer-range prospect is concerned, there is little evidence to support pessimism—unless it is assumed that our exports to markets other than the United States may continue to fall.

All Is Not Lost

To broadcast first tremors of some weathervanes in food prices and seasonal unemployment as proof that we are about to have an economic collapse is a sure way of encouraging a setback.

Some people want the depression for obvious reasons; others have a curious quirk in calamity howling for its own sake. The majority of Canadians, declares the Hamilton Spectator, is healthy enough to take a few adjustment punches without going down for the count.

And they don't expect the mumbo-jumbo of state planners to do the job. It is common sense and initiative of individuals that will achieve a greater stability and increase in real wealth.

It's Been Said

No man can tell whether he is rich or poor by turning to his ledger. It is the heart that makes a man rich. He is rich according to what he is, not according to what he has.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Verse

The Unknown

Some days I have a longing thirst
To know more of the universe;
Some days, it seems so commonplace,
Others, its a speck in space.

When the clouds dispel the Sun,
I know the Almighty One
Can make us blind, or let us see,
Can chain us tight, or set us free.

The Earth, produced from almost nought
Is never by such creatures wrought
As men on earth; and they should know
That miracles, by God's help, they show.

NEOPHYTES

The finest bits of wisdom
Are but mockery,
For all the forces of Christendom
Are in elements of Nature.
There is a pattern for the stars,
And do not the birds, bees, and ants,
All unknowing,
Live according to some depth of instinct
That we cannot fathom?
As such we live on—
The forces of evil are only part of a pattern
Meant to be;
A force caused by, or from the sun
Urges us on.
We are servants of nature.

Predator Control

By MANLY F. MINER,
Eldest Son of the Late Jack Miner,
Canadian Naturalist

Since I am now 50 years of age, I can say with authority that as I grow older, more and more fully do I subscribe to the theory of game management propounded by my late father, and to his philosophy expressed in the following quotations from his writings:

(1) "Nature is wonderful; Man is more wonderful; God is most wonderful."

(2) "Man is Nature's first assistant, or God's Viceroy. What is man without God, and what is God without man? They are—or should be—partners."

(3) "God put the birds and animals here for man's uses and for man's control. The same is true in regard to plant life. God made the weeds at the same time He made the vegetables, but it is man's job to destroy the weeds so that vegetables good for man can exist."

In this beautiful world we have two schools of thought on this point. One school is composed of those who believe that if a hunter shoots certain species of hawks, coyotes, or a timber wolf, man is upsetting Nature's balance. That might be true if man never had shot a game bird or animal for food; but the minute man shoots a deer, man upsets Nature's balance, and it becomes his responsibility to reduce, in turn, the enemies of the deer in the same proportion. If a man shoots a half dozen ducks, for food, man upsets Nature's balance unless he also slaughters the crows, and other enemies of the ducks, to a similar extent.

I shall never understand how it is that some students of Nature hold out for the protection of such predators as the great horned owl, or the common red fox, in localities where pheasants and upland game birds are so scarce that the hunter is allowed only two days' or a week's open season. A single specimen of the predators named would kill at least one game bird daily. Or let us put it this way: We have laws to restrict man's killing of game birds to two days in the year, but at the same time protect those predators that commit the same act 365 days a year!

The other school of thought consists of those with whom I desire to be classed, namely, the ones who believe in man's control. For illustration, if the potato vines are attacked by potato bugs I believe in using Paris green, not in waiting for God to send some other insect to kill the potato bugs. It always has seemed foolish to me to see a group of sportsmen hopefully liberating young pheasants, hatched at a cost of hundreds—yes, thousands—of dollars, while the Game Commission, sitting in offices in the Capital buildings, have no program for the control of predators and take the comfortable attitude that "Nature will balance itself." The fact of the matter is that here, at our Sanctuary, we have known one small weasel to kill 32 young pheasants in one night. Some people will say, "But that happened on a congested area—on a Sanctuary." My reply to that is: "The habit of a predator is the same outside such a game preserve as within its borders."

L.L.M., Castlegar—The "True" answer is correct. In The World Almanac we find the following statement: "During the Battle of Midway the Japanese attacked the Aleutian Islands and there was hard fighting. The Amercians invaded Attu . . . and dug the enemy out of his holes around Massacre Bay and Chicagoi Harbor. Japanese resistance expired with a banzai charge and on May 11, one year after the Japanese seized it, the island was in American hands. In August the Americans turned to Kiska but found the Japanese had fled . . ."

J.S.P., Brilliant—What should I do if Old Age Pension Board cannot find my entry into Canada and proof of age? I wrote to Ottawa and they searched all census records but could not find my name and age. I have friends and others who could witness my age and entry to Canada. I am over 70 years of age.

We would advise you to get in touch with the Social Welfare Service, Ward Street, Nelson.

C.A.K., Sanca—What is the record time for flying round the world, going by London, Paris, Bombay, and so on to Los Angeles or San Francisco? I mean actual time elapsed from starting to finish, not actual hours in air?

Has any reader this information?

Looking Backwards

10 YEARS AGO

All officers of the Nelson Girl Guide Association were returned at the annual meeting in the Women's Institute Rooms Thursday afternoon. President was Mrs. G. S. Rees; Vice-President, Mrs. F. B. Pearce; Secretary, Mrs. C. F. McHardy; and Treasurer, Mrs. F. Boyce.

J. R. McLennan reported that the Publicity and Tourist Committee of the Nelson Board of Trade had decided that when inquiries as to the population of Nelson and environs made the answer would be given that the total was 9700.

By permission of the censor the world received word today that the King played his first game of ice hockey last month on a frozen strip of ice near the Royal residence at Sandringham. Although it was a rather unorthodox game, with sometimes 20 playing on each side, it was reported that what the King lacked in skill he made up for in enthusiasm.

25 YEARS AGO

Practically every person has a touch of tuberculosis in childhood, and the infection acts as an immunization which prevents the disease in after life, Dr. Lamb told Nelson Rotarians yesterday.

The sum of $358,021 may fairly be taken as the about-accurate value of the 1924 crop harvested in the Creston district, the local Assistant Provincial Horticulturist has announced.

Mrs. W. B. Steed and her son Graeme, who were on a short trip to Spokane, have returned.

40 YEARS AGO

From the Daily News of Feb. 16, 1910

William Irvine, the newly appointed police magistrate for Nelson, assumed his official position on the bench for the first time yesterday when a man, charged with stealing goods from the Hudson Bay store here, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in jail.

Julius Friedman, a former Nelson boy, who has been studying the violin under Prof. Headly at Spokane, has proved himself to be a musical genius by winning a three-year scholarship at a leading German conservatory. He is now in town renewing acquaintances before leaving for Germany. He is only 16.

Exchange Teachers Find Home in London Hostel

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP)—Canadian exchange teachers are enjoying the comforts of home in single and double-room London flatlets provided by the League of the British Commonwealth and Empire.

They cook their own meals, arrange furniture and pictures to their own individual tastes and, if they choose, put up their own curtains. They are relieved of the chores of cleaning and polishing, but have modern facilities for doing their own washing.

Since 1932 the League has maintained a hostel for the use of Dominion exchange teachers in a large, stone-fronted house at Victoria, Southwest London. Recently the hostel was extended by purchasing a bomb-damaged house next door, which has since been repaired.

The two houses now accommodate eight Canadians and 15 others from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia. They are temporarily employed at schools in London, Middlesex and Sussex.

NO CENTRAL HEATING

There is no central heating, but the Canadians, all of whom arrived in Britain last September, say they have learned to get along without it.

"We feel we can really make homes for ourselves here," said Edith Carscadden of Toronto. Her enthusiasm is shared by her companions: E. F. Barbor, Regina; B. J. M. Fox, Toronto; E. I. Brooke, Irene Bunyan, Rose Johnson, Joyce McRae and J. E. S. Tennant, all of Vancouver.

Aside from the eight living in London, 48 other Canadian teachers are working at schools in Wales, Scotland, Ireland and different parts of England. Fifty-six British teachers are working in Canada on exchange.

"We expect at least 39 British teachers will go to Canada this year, while a similar number will be coming here from Canada. The next exchange is due to take place some time in August when those now holding temporary posts will be returning to their homes."

Explosion Wrecks Yakima Basement

YAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 15 (AP)—An investigation was launched today into the cause of a violent explosion that sent three men to the hospital with critical burns last night and demolished a downtown cafe.

The sharp blast occurred as firemen in the basement of the Ruth cafe checked on the source of an unidentified odor. It had been reported nine days ago as a gas leak, but Mrs. Ruth James, wife of the proprietor, said gas company service men had been unable to find its origin.

In hospital are Assistant Fire Chief G. A. Creamer, John E. James, Proprietor, and Victor Hofdahl, a heating expert.

The explosion shattered all first floor windows, scattered equipment and blew out a wall.

Effort To Bridge Gulf . . .

Churchill Says Atom-Bomb Sure Guarantee of Peace

EDINBURGH, Feb. 15 (Reuters)—Winston Churchill hinted Tuesday that if he again becomes Prime Minister after the Feb. 23 general election, he will personally approach Prime Minister Stalin of Russia "in a supreme effort" to try to end the cold war.

Speaking to a huge election meeting, he recalled his earlier relations with Stalin and said:

"Still I cannot help coming back to this idea of another talk with Soviet Russia upon the highest level.

"The idea appeals to me of a supreme effort to bridge the gulf between the two worlds, at least without the hatred of the cold war."

As thousands surged outside Edinburgh's Usher Hall, unable to obtain admission, an overflow and audience a mile away listened by radio relay as Churchill said:

"It is my belief that the superiority in the atom bomb, if not indeed almost the monopoly of this frightful weapon, in American hands is the surest guarantee of world peace tonight."

GREATEST FORCE

The Soviet-Communist world has by far the greatest military force, Churchill said, but the United States has the atom bomb—"and now, we are told that they have a thousand-fold more terrible manifestation of this awful power."

"It is my earnest hope that we may find our way to some more exalted and august foundation for our safety than this grim and sombre balancing power of the bomb," Churchill said.

"When I say 'we,' I must not let you forget that 'we' means the United States, and it is their power which protects not only Britain, but Europe."

Alleging "one of the most extraordinary administrative lapses that have ever taken place," Churchill said when Britain was spending enormous sums upon her army, navy and air force, it was "very odd that we should not have been able to make the atomic bomb for ourselves by now."

Would Reduce Production Costs For Farmers

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—An Ontario fruit and vegetable expert said today that unless there is a sharp reduction in production costs 1950" can be the year of the big squeeze."

It was a "sad thing," said M. M. Robinson of Toronto, Secretary of the Ontario Fruits and Vegetable Association, that when the export market is good, the Government takes a lot of credit for its development. When the export market "turns sour," the Government "tires of the deal."

Mr. Robinson told the annual convention of the Canadian Horticultural Council that Canada's import restrictions imposed under the Austerity Program brought a degree of prosperity. But because it encouraged expansion, it also brought "in its wake a period of lower prices and attendant grief."

He said the preservation of the domestic market for Canadian-grown vegetables in season was unquestionably the No. 1 Horticultural problem in Canada.

In the second day of a three-day convention, the Council showed interest in a verbal scuffle over price-support policy between H. H. Hannam, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and A. M. Shaw, Chairman of the Agricultural Department's Price-Support Board.

They also heard a luncheon address by Sir Andrew Jones, Head of the British Food Mission, in which he expressed Britain's anxiety to avoid further reductions in purchases from Canada.

End Price Controls On Steel Scrap

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—Price controls on steel scrap will be withdrawn effective tomorrow, Prices Board announced tonight.

The Board's elimination of these controls brings to an end the last of the wartime commodity controls under Prices Board regulation.

Still under the Board's power is the disputed control on rent ceilings.

Formosa Tactics Threaten Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 15 (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese counter-offensive on the Asian mainland was promised today but no hint was given when it would start.

Leaflets telling about the offensive will be dropped on Red China Friday, beginning of the Chinese Lunar New Year. The leaflets say:

"Our ground, air and naval forces will launch a counter-offensive on the mainland and retake it."

Nationalists on the Red mainland were called upon to aid Nationalist armed forces in every way possible and to "support them in overthrowing bandit Mao Tze-tung and the Russian big noses." ("Big noses" is the mildly derisive Chinese term for foreigners.)

TRUMAN ADMITS LACK OF FAITH

Hope Vanishes on Hearing Reds Not Told of U. S. Aid

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — President Truman is reported today by the New York Times as saying he has lost faith in Russian promises but is still hopeful.

The President's views are outlined in an interview by Arthur Krock, Times Washington correspondent.

Krock says the President told him he no longer has any hope that the Soviet Union will keep any agreement with the United States which it now would be good policy to seek.

When the Russians blocked East-West trade, he began to lose hope that the good peace prospects apparent at the founding of the United Nations would survive.

HIDING FACTS

The last vestige of hope vanished when he learned that the Russians were hiding from their people the facts about the war assistance the U.S. had given them.

The President is quoted as saying that the same situation now would prevail in Japan as in Germany if he had not demanded an American as the Allied General for the signing of the Japanese surrender.

The real trouble with the Russians is that they are still suffering from a complex of fear and inferiority where the U.S. is concerned, Truman is quoted as saying.

Norwegian Boat Shelled by Shore Batteries

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15 (AP)—The captain of a Norwegian freighter says his vessel was shelled last November while carrying a cargo of coal to Northern Korea.

Capt. H. Werner Hansen reported here the 10,000-ton freighter Helgoy was shelled and damaged by Chinese Communist shore batteries.

He described the shelling of his ship following a conference with officials of the Samuelson Lines, owners of the vessel.

During the conference, the Norse skipper said he warned the ship's owners that neither he nor his crew would visit any more Communist-dominated ports.

The Helgoy arrived in port yesterday with a cargo of lumber from Vancouver, B. C.

RUSSIAN PLOT

Hansen said the Helgoy, with a crew of 35 men, had been chartered by the North Korea Government to bring 7500 tons of coal from a Siberian Port of Chinnampo.

The ship arrived outside the harbor last Nov. 15 and picked up two pilots—a Korean and a Russian.

The ship barely had entered the harbor when concealed shore batteries opened fire, Hansen reported.

Six shells were fired at the Helgoy and one hit the ship, ripping a hole three feet in diameter in the ship's port side and plowing through to the captain's cabin where it exploded.

He ordered the pilots to put the ship about and later headed for Japan. During a six-week lay-over in Japan, Hansen said, a Russian diplomat called upon him to offer an official apology and ask him to deliver the coal which the diplomat said was needed urgently.

Hansen said he refused. Instead he unloaded his coal in Japan and sailed for Vancouver.

Blame Communism, Moslem-Hindu Hatred For India Riots

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 15 (CP) —The wave of riots and disorders in India during the last week have been caused by Communism as well as old Moslem-Hindu hatred.

Dozens have been killed and hundreds arrested in the disturbances in East and West Bengal, the Punjab, Madras and Bombay Province.

Home Secretary H. V. R. Iengar said today that a "chain reaction" of Hindu-Moslem troubles started in Pakistan's East Bengal in the East, spread to India's West Bengal and back again. It also had repercussions in India's Assam.

Parliament yesterday authorized the Government to expel 500,000 Moslems from Assam as well as many Chinese and Burmese who have migrated to the exposed Border State since the partition of India 30 months ago.

Deer Damage Windermere Land

INVERMERE, B.C., Feb. 15 — Scarcity of forage in their own habitat has driven deer to the farmyards and pastures of local farmers and much damage has been reported.

A. W. G. Statham of Wilmer built an eight foot fence of snow fencing around a haystack in an effort to protect it from the marauders but the deer still succeeded in topping it. He reports the loss of several tons of hay to the animals.

V. E. Marshall, Invermere dairyman, also reports extensive damage done by deer. His apple trees have been nibbled until it is doubtful if they will ever recover and he has also lost several tons of hay.

Gordon Rad of Lake Lillian has also suffered serious hay loss to the animals who are apparently fearless of dogs or humans this season and can scarcely be driven away from the stacks. Mr. Rad reports that he saw several deer give chase to a coyote and the coyote took to its heels. His own dog has also been chased by the marauders.

Other district farmers report similar losses to hay stacks and fruit trees.

Claims Writers Pre-Judged Conacher Case

MONTREAL, Feb. 15 (CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said today the Detroit Hockey Writers Association has pre-judged the Conacher case and when court proceedings end "the representations made will be given thorough consideration and action."

Campbell's comment was made in a press release following receipt of a telegram from the Association.

The Association, addressing its protest to Campbell and the N.H.L. Board of Governors, said there was a "failure to take disciplinary action" against Charlie Conacher, coach of Chicago Black Hawks.

Following a game Feb. 8 in Detroit writer Lew Walter of the Detroit Times filed an assault charge against Conacher. He claimed Conacher slugged him in the Hawk dressing room.

To the hockey writers' contention that the league "has considered every employee of a hockey team within its jurisdiction and has not hesitated to punish or otherwise take prompt action when it felt an individual was acting against the best interests of the game," Campbell said:

". . . That is indeed true. But it has never done so in any case where the same matter was the subject of a criminal prosecution or a civil action before courts until those preceedings were terminated.

"I have in every statement or interview deplored the entire incident and I am satisfied that it has had a damaging effect upon relations with the press, which is injurious to the game. However, the important thing to be kept in mind is that the aggrieved party, Mr. Walter, sought redress immediately after the incident in the criminal court, and so long as the case remains before the court it would be quite improper for me or anyone else to express any opinion on the merits of the conflicting stories of the participants as to what actually took place in the Chicago dressing room. . ."

Babe Didrikson Selected First Woman Athlete

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — For 20 years a slender American girl of Norwegian blood has dominated women's sports internationally. So it was to be expected that Babe Didrikson Zaharias would be overwhelmingly selected as the greatest female athlete of the first half of the century.

She won world fame at the 1932 Olympic Games by taking two gold medals and losing a third on a technicality. In 1947 she became the first American to win the British Women's Golf Championships.

She was noted even before 1932; she has gone right on winning after 1947. Out of 361 first-place votes cast by American sports writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press mid-century poll, she received 319. Only 34 rated her in second place, and five in third.

Three-Way Tie In Alta. Curling

EDMONTON, Feb. 15 (CP) — A three-way deadlock in the round-robin series for the Northern Alberta Curling Championship developed tonight between three Edmonton rinks skipped by Cliff Manahan, Gordon Walker and Frank Wolfe. Each has posted two victories against one defeat.

The Billy Rose foursome of Sedgewick, Alta., dropped out of the series lead to Dominion championships tonight as they lost their third straight game.

Hashimoto scored twice and Yasui, Sakura and Tanaka once each.

Both goalies deserve mention, Tateishi for his shutout and Hauka for the many brilliant saves he brought off as shots were coming to him from all directions.

Durnan Serious About Retiring

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL, Feb. 15 (CP) — This is Bill Durnan's last season in hockey—if a decent business proposition comes along. And he has one in sight.

The big goalie of Montreal Canadiens said today he is serious about retiring. He was 35 years old last month, although the record books show no signs of him slipping.

"Of course I have my family to consider," said Durnan. "At the same time I know I can't go on forever and I've got to think about the future. I've been in this game a long time.

"If there's a decent business opportunity I am certainly ready to take it and leave hockey. There is one tentative proposition now. If it materializes I am retiring."

This is Durnan's seventh season in the big time. He was a sensation from the start and won the Vezina trophy in five of the last six N.H.L. campaigns. He is aiming again this season for the money and trophy that go to the goalie who team has the lowest goals-against average.

Does he worry about the fight for the Vezina award?

"Certainly I do; any goalkeeper does," said Durnan with a grin. "With all that money riding on it, who wouldn't ?"

The death sentence on Alfred Childs (above), 17-year-old farmhand sentenced to be hanged Feb. 10 for murder in the rifle-slaying of a farmer near Napanee, Ont., last Summer, has been commuted to live imprisonment. Childs was convicted by a Supreme Court jury at Napanee, Nov. 19, in the slaying of Elijah McQuaig, fatally wounded by rifle bullets fired from a barn. The Napanee Ministerial Association and Con. Wallace Bunton of the Salvation Army pleaded for commutation because of the youth of the accused. Childs broke down when he heard the news and with the Salvation Army man in the quiet prison cell received prayers.

Unique Beat for Ontario Police

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Feb. 15 (CP)—Constable Elmer Stokes of the Fort Frances Police certainly has a unique beat.

Stokes patrols a strip on the outskirts of town where numerous Summer cottages have been built. Because the section is not kept clear of snow, he is forced to use snowshoes to carry out his patrol work.

Police Chief Louis Camirand disclosed that the need to put a snowshoe-wearing constable on the beat arose from numerous complaints of petty thievery from the cottages.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market Trends

LONDON (Reuters) — Prices of domestic industrial issues today spurted to higher levels at the start of the new trading period on the London Stock Exchange.

Rising stock market hopes of a Conservative victory at the forthcoming elections proved a strong tone in most sections.

TORONTO (CP)— Prices settled into a narrow trading rut on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Volume was about 675,000 shares.

Industrials showed weakness in early dealings but found some support in mid-session that lifted the list ahead slightly. Utilities, foods and refining oils were among the brighter groups. Papers weakened and steels also backed down.

MONTREAL (CP)—Stock prices showed an upward trend near the final hour on Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market today.

Trading was fairly active, with an industrial volume of 38,000 shares and mines, 75,000 shares.

NEW YORK (AP)—Demand for railroad issues steadied a declining stock market today.

Rails were marked down along with most other groups during the morning. Buying interest in the carriers perked up soon after noon and quickly spread.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, Feb. 15 (CP)—Export trade continued to spark the market at the Calgary stockyards today, especially for stocker and feeder cattle. The calf market also showed a very strong trend and there was a brisk demand for all classes of cattle. Prices for the week were from 25 to 50 cents higher due to lenient sorting and grading.

Yesterday 736 cattle were sold and weighed, and there were about 400 on offer at noon today.

The Dominion Livestock Market Service reported yesterday's saleable receipts: 865 cattle, 44 calves, 530 hogs, no sheep. Today's saleable receipts: 147 cattle, 5 calves, 15 hogs, no sheep.

Hogs sold yesterday at $26.25; sows at $14.25.

Good to choice butcher steers, $22.25 to $23.50; common to medium, $18 to $22.

Good butcher heifers, $20.50 to $21; common to medium, $17 to $20.

Good cows, $16 to $16.50; common to medium, $14 to $15.50; canners and cutters, $10.50 to $13.50.

Good bulls, $17.50 to $18.25; common to medium, $15.50 to $17.

Good to choice veal calves, $22 to $23; common to medium, $17 to $21.

Good stocker and feeder steers, $19.50 to $21.75; common to medium, $16 to $19.

Good lambs sold for $23.

With bathing facilities one of the rarer comforts in Berlin ever since the days of the aerial raids that devastated the city, Germans are sometimes hard pressed for a chance for a good scrubbing. Associated Boards Rally to Side Of New Marysville Board of Trade

MARYSVILLE, B.C., Feb. 15 — Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia, "tightly knit together in their interests," in the words of their new President, Dr. C. H. Wright of Trail, gave a demonstration here of just how they rally to a cause.

Winding up their two-day annual meeting at nearby Kimberley, the delegates descended on this village in a body to help the brand new Marysville Board of Trade get off on the right foot.

A meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Keer and advice freely given to the new Board, members of which eagerly pumped the visitors, all veterans in Board of Trade work.

President of the new Board, W. F. (Bell) Turner, was Chairman. Other officers are Mrs. M. Rose, Vice-President, and Miss M. McClure, Secretary-Treasurer. The Executive is comprised of 16 members.

TELL OF RAPID GROWTH

Some information was also given the visitors, who learned that 278 electric meters are now installed in this village, which only two years ago counted 77 families. Continued rapid growth for another two years was expected. A brand new school had been built at a cost of $52,000. It has four classrooms.

Purpose of the Association of Boards of Trade was to bring more effective representations to governments of problems of concern to Kootenay-Boundary, Dr. Wright said. He described the various areas covered by Boards from Grand Forks to Crow's Nest, and said both Provincial and Dominion Governments welcomed representations from these groups, upon which they "looked very highly."

"We are out to develop our facilities here," Dr. Wright continued, and he suggested ways in which the new Board might help this development. He urged good discussion on motions so that members know their full implications before acting upon them.

Companionship, interchange of ideas, a common ground on which members could meet, were features stressed by Mayor J. R. Corner of Rossland. He urged the new group to call on the Association when help was needed to put over a project of benefit to the Marysville District.

A faithful follower of the annual meeting of the Association in his six years as Superintendent of the Kootenay Division, Canadian Pacific Railway, C. E. Lister of Nelson, told of his pleasure in developing lasting friendships during that time and of the sustaining influence that come from friendships developed in this manner. He spoke feelingly of the manner in which these friends came to his aid during the terrible flood period in 1948. This augured well for the Boards, because these friends were all members.

He outlined the tremendous task facing his company in maintaining the transportation lines from Midway in the West to Crow's Nest in the East.

BEST PART OF CANADA

Development of this area had only started, he felt, and he was satisfied, particularly after having seen with the Board delegates the giant Sullivan mine at Kimberley and Chapman Camp mill. From every angle, the Kootenay territory, with its magnificent, ever-changing scenery, and its opportunity, was one of the best parts of Canada.

"Keep all the members busy," urged T. D. Rosling, President of the Nelson Board. The busier members were kept, the better members they became.

"Don't forget the broader aspects," remarked J. B. Thompson, President of the Trail Board of Trade. While many local problems would have to be considered, the new Board should "think of Provincial matters and of things Canadian."

J. A. Bracken, Associated Boards Secretary-Treasurer, and also Secretary of the Nelson Board, advised the Marysville group to join the Association and to become actively associated with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, which would be "of intense value to you."

"Your Board of Trade should be your senior organization; it is the duty of the local Board of Trade to take the leadership. Never forget, that next to your municipal council, your Board should be Marysville's most important organization. Then the other things will naturally follow."

He urged the Board to stop and think "how big you are," and traced this bigness from a local Board to the Associated Boards, to the provincial national and international fields, "so that you are worldwide in your influence."

D. P. Shepard, new Assistant Superintendent at Cranbrook for the Kootenay Division, C.P.R., M.C. Donaldson of Salmo, E. D. Taylor of Kimberley, immediate Past President of the Associated Boards, were also speakers. Many questions were fired at the visitors, the C.P.R. delegation, which also included K. D. Carmichael of Nelson, Assistant Superintendent, particularly facing a barrage of queries in connection with C.P.R. activity here.

Legendary Canoe Maori Problem

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Maoris in New Zealand are arguing about the advisability of digging up a sacred canoe which, tradition says, has been buried at Kawhia, on the West coast of the North Island, for 600 years.

It is the Tainui canoe, most famous of the five canoes in which the Maoris came to New Zealand in a great migration across the thousands of miles of open ocean about the year 1350.

The spot where it is reputed to lie is in a grove of manuka trees near the sea. Stones which the migrants are said to have erected to mark the mow and stern of the canoe still stand. They are enclosed with a fence to make sure nobody walks on the sacred ground.

Some of New Zealand's leading Maori tribes are descended from the migrants who arrived in the Tainui canoe and the Maoris are convinced that the petrified remains of the canoe still lie beneath the ground at Kawhia. They claim that part of the hull was uncovered many years ago in a landslide, but many Europeans regard the story as a myth.

A party of Europeans once attempted to dig up the canoe, but were prevented by local Maoris, traditional guardians of the relic which means so much in the history of the race.

TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

Now, however, the Maoris are planning to uncover the remains as part of the celebrations to mark the 600th anniversary of the arrival of the race in New Zealand. The trouble is that nobody can be found with sufficient prestige to undertake the ceremony of uncovering the canoe. A highly complicated and involved ceremony would be necessary before such a treasured relic could be disturbed.

Princess Te Puea, the greatest woman leader the Maoris have ever had and herself a descendant of the commander of the Tainui canoe, has been asked to undertake the task, but she has refused to disturb the remains. She says the place where the canoe lies is sacred and that it would be an infringement of ancient Maori law to desecrate the spot.

Many Europeans consider it would be inadvisable to search for the canoe. They think it preferable that the tradition should remain whether the canoe actually lies at Kawhia or not, and that if the effort were unsuccessful it would destroy a treasured legend to which large numbers of Maoris look with pride in tracing their ancestry.

There is more authenticity in another Tainui relic held by the Maoris of Mokau. They claim to possess the original anchor stone of the canoe. Certainly it has been handed down in the tribe for many generations and it is jealously guarded. It has been set in concrete and is an object of veneration by visiting Maoris from all parts of the country.

India Encourages Foreign Visitors

NEW DELHI (CP) — India is going after an increasing share of the world's tourist traffic.

Steps being taken by the Government to encourage foreign tourist traffic, including modification of visa and customs formalities, were outlined recently by the Minister of State for Railways, K. Santhanam. It was hoped to eliminate all avoidable inconvenience to tourists.

Special attention was being devoted to the problems of food, drink and residential accommodation for tourists both at ports of entry and at centres likely to attract them. Railway facilities were being improved and preparation of guide books and other literature was under way.

A special tourist traffic section was being set up and assistance of the United Nations Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East was being sought to get expert advice on various tourist problems.
