First Steps Taken In Amalgamation

South Nelson Group Will Petition Area; 30 Residents Vote for Plan

Residents of the South Nelson area between the Great Northern Railway tracks and the city limits, decided Thursday night to take steps leading to amalgamation with the city.

About 30 persons attending instructed the executive to have a petition drawn up by a legal authority to be circulated among property owners.

The petition will ask the residents if they wish to join the city under the second of two plans laid out by City Comptroller W. A. Gordon. There are more than 75 homes in the area.

Votes were unanimous, three or four who had spoken in opposition having left the meeting before the voting.

J. DeLucrezio, railway employee, and S. Bragagnola, Central School teacher, were asked to continue as chairman and secretary, respectively, on a permanent basis. With Paul Hielscher, committee member, and two volunteers, Mrs. Walter Palmer and Mrs. Joseph Florio, they will be in charge of circulation of the petition. They were also empowered to name assistants.

The meeting was in complete accord in accepting the second plan under which a minimum of services—water mains, sewers, hydrants and street lights — would be offered at a cost of $44,000.

The first plan, with all forms of service, would have cost $120,000.

The lesser plan would mean issuing of $44,000 20-year debentures, requiring $2200 annually for retirement, plus $900 in interest. Annual taxes and sewer rates revenue would be $3140, and annual cost to the city, $6459.

DROP ALTERNATIVE

The meeting was also unanimous in deciding to abandon an alternative proposal, that of setting up a provincial improvement area. Cost of this plan, it was pointed out by delegates, would be $44,000, which would have to be met by the residents of the area. By joining the city, the cost would be shared by all Nelson property owners.

The early part of the meeting saw a few heated moments.

When H. Kitchener suggested it might be years before pipes could be obtained for the water and sewer system, and that City Council might put other obstructions in the way, there was an angry reply by the secretary.

PLAY IN FILTH

Mr. Bragagnola asked Mr. Kitchener if he wanted sewers, or if he wanted to see children continue to play in the filth caused in the area by lack of sewers. He objected strenuously to the suggestion Council might be "dishonest enough to run around and play a dirty trick on us."

He stressed the urgent need for fire protection, reminding the gathering that if a fire truck went to the scene of a fire ouside the city, it was only through "generosity."

The people outside the limits had been getting many favors for a long time, and they should wake up to the fact. Some people were paying as much in provincial taxes as were City residents, but getting "nothing" for them.

Rising to his support after a burst of applause were Mrs. Florio and L. Santor, who recalled efforts over many years to win service from the Provincial Government without success.

There had been a lot of hard work since the amalgamation movement was reopened last November, "now let's get behind it," urged Mr. Santor. He predicted a delay now would mean that another 20 years would pass before new action, recalling the fate of other petitions. He told of present difficulties in selling of houses in the area because there were no sewers. An offer such as the City was now making would never be offered again, he felt.

Many questions were directed to Mr. Gordon, who attended the early part of the meeting. He said it would be difficult to say how long it would take to obtain pipes because of present near-war-emergency conditions. Prices were also unpredictable.

There would be many benefits. Property would be worth more, and fire protection would be available. At present, firemen legally had no right to fight fire outside the City. In his plans, he had attempted to offer something fair to both South Nelson residents and the City. The City would certainly not be making money by absorbing the area.

P. Santor suggested that while taxes might be higher, still there would be saving through the ability to make advance payments on water and electricity, thereby gaining reductions, and saving on fire insurance. The taxes would be "well worth it."

There would also be an end to the situation where indignant outside water users were cut off in Summer, and saw their gardens "burn up" while lawns in the City area practically "floated" in water.

PROTECTION MEASURE

Mr. Gordon said this regulation was forced by the City's need to keep a reserve for protection from fire, a city's "worst enemy." Only other solution, metering, would be a heavy expense. An attempt was made to check City residents who violated sprinkling regulations, but this was difficult.

He also reminded those who protested they still were unable to get certain services after perhaps 40 years of paying taxes, forgot that more than half the taxes went to schools, and other portions to debenture debt and teh police and fire departments.

He said there would be no discrimination, that the City would not "bleed you" with taxes, and that assessments would be fair. It would be "like getting married; you would join for better or for worse."

MT. SENTINEL OPENS . . . Grade VI No Longer Limit For Slocan Valley Pupils

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C., May 3—South Slocan and lower Slocan Valley children who have graduated to secondary schools have been the exception rather than the rule.

With the opening of the highly-modern Mount Sentinel Junior-Senior High School here Thursday by Hon. A. D. Turnbull, Minister of Health and Welfare, few if any youngsters will stop at Grade VI.

The opening attracted scores of parents to the long, flat-roofed building at the intersection of the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway and the Slocan Valley highway. Its white and blue trim and long line of windows gleamed in the hot sun.

Since September, it has consisted of Grades VII, VIII and IX, the junior high grades, with 45 students, 80 per cent of whom are fine-looking, energetic Doukhobor boys and girls. But when it reopens its doors in the Fall the first high school grade will have been added and at least 60 students are expected to enrol. A third classroom will have been built on by then, and the six acres of level ground surrounding the school will have been improved.

Aim is that by the Fall of 1953 there will be a Grade XII and an enrolment of between 90 and 100 students.

As it is now, the school has two well-equipped and well-lit classrooms opening off a hall which runs the length of the building. A furnace room, lavatori s and staff room are on the other side. J. L. Canty, formerly of New Denver, is principal, and Miss Betty Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holt of Nelson, is on the staff.

COOPERATION

In opening the school in one of the classrooms, Mr. Turnbull said "this school strikes me as being built as a cooperative enterprise."

A country prospered, he said, when it had courageous, intelligent people willing for work and desirous of education for their children. In Canada, which had a small population, talent must be used to best advantage.

"Every section of the community must take a part in promoting the school if it is to be successful," he said.

Tom Edgar of Vallican, long-time member of the Board of Trustees of Slocan School District, received the keys from R. B. Yuill of Vancouver, representing Sharp and Thompson, Berwick, Pratt, architects.

Greetings from the Department of Education were brought by H. L. Campbell, Deputy Minister.

"We have a two-fold purpose in education," he said. "That is, doing everything we can to raise a group of young people who are fine, happy and contented citizens and developing each child to the limit of his ability and capacities."

"We have mass secondary education today because the sum total of human knowledge has doubled and trebled in the last 50 years."

NEW ERA

By giving children of the lower Slocan Valley a chance of higher education, the Mount Sentinel School was starting a "new era" in this part of the country, E. E. Marshall of South Slocan, Board Chairman, predicted.

"Before, the children had to go to Nelson or do without secondary education — and the majority did without," he said.

From the time South Slocan and South Valley residents petittoned the board for a school, a lot of hard work had been done, particularly by the Sports Association which set up a water supply system by which water is pumped from the river to a reservoir near the school; the Bonnington and South Slocan Parent-Teacher Association; the West Kootenay Power and Light Company and individuals in the community.

EASED LOAD

Not only has the school made secondary education possible, but it has improved the lot of valley schools at such places as Slocan Park and Passmore, E. E. Hyndman of Nelson, school inspector, said.

These schools, which carried grades I to VIII, go only as high as Grade VI now, and their teachers can give more efficient service to the reduced number of pupils.

He praised the board for its careful planning in construction details of the school.

A call for cooperative effort on the part of parent, teacher and student was issued by Mr. Canty.

"If these three work together in cooperation, we can make Mount Sentinel the great living school we know it can be."

INDUSTRIAL "MUST"

J. Street, P.-T.A. member, and C. H. Bland, representing R. G. Anderson, General Manager of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, spoke of the importance of secondary schooling for workers in industry.

Not long ago the laborer had no need of education, but today with the advances in machinery, workers had to have skill and knowledge for their particular job in industry, Mr. Street said. "It is schools like this with fine teachers which can give people the knowledge they need for industry.

Mr. Bland saw the entire lower Slocan Valley "gravitating" to South Slocan with the school's construction.

Mr. Marshall also introduced school inspectors John MacKenzie of Nelson and W. E. Lucas of Trail, and Board members Neil Tattrie of New Denver, J. Wilson of Silverton, and W. E. Graham of Slocan City, and Carl Johnson, President of the Students' Council, who spoke briefly.

George Mulloy was master of ceremonies for a program of square dancing by costumed students and "radio" entertainment. The school Journalism Club published a special edition for the opening.

Tea was served by the P.-T.A. and the visitors were conducted on a tour of the school by students.

ALLIES SCATTER RED OUTPOSTS

1740 Casualties, 75 Taken Prisoner In 11-Mile Blast

By DON HUTH

TOKYO, May 4 (Friday) (AP)—American tank raiders plunged into Red lines 11 miles North of Seoul Thursday on aggressive patrols that scattered or destroyed small offensive outpost forces around the South Korean capital.

Total Communist casualties for Thursday on the whole Korean warfront were estimated by the Eighth Army at 1740 killed and wounded and 75 taken prisoner.

One tank-infantry team entered Uijongbu, 11 miles North of Seoul, for the deepest penetration of Communist lines since the Red Spring offensive was jolted to a halt by Allied big guns and air power before May Day.

Reds at Uijongbu met the tanks with small-arms fire and then broke and ran when the tankers opened up with machine-guns and 90-millimetre rifles.

After the raids there and to the Northeast and Northwest the tanks pulled back for the night inside the defences around Seoul.

Tank patrols ranging Northeast of Seoul reported encircling one company and cutting it to pieces.

The heaviest resistance Thursday was Southeast of Chunchon. Chinese dug in on a hillside held on under artillery and air strikes throughout the day until nightfall when they had lost 100 killed out of 150.

U. N. forces still held a sector North of the 38th parallel in the Northeast. There during the day one Red battalion was forced to withdraw under attack East of Inje.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported no action on the Eastern front.

Rita Headed for Reno

RENO, Nev., May 3 (AP) — Actress Rita Hayworth is motoring to Nevada, the land of quick divorces, for the possible end of her story-book marriage to Prince Aly Khan.

"There is nothing definite on a divorce," said divorce lawyer William Woodburn, Jr., tonight. "She is coming here to establish Nevada residence."

That, however, is what lawyers here always say about Reno-bound celebrities.

NICE, France, May 3 (AP) — Prince Aly Khan denied tonight that he had taken any steps to demand that his estranged wife, movie star Rita Hayworth, return their daughter to his custody.

Lost on All Sides

MIAMI, Fla., May 3 (AP)—A 65-year-old Negro today said his wife ran away with the iceman and took a still-unpaid-for icebox with her. "The iceman took my wife and my icebox," Walter Rawlings testified. "He got my wife—he ought to pay for the box." A jury thought otherwise, finding him guilty of embezzlement of an icebox. He was given a six-months sentence.

Cost-of-Living Index Leaps to Record 181.8

Howe Blames Butter Prices for Unexpected March Rise of 2.1

OTTAWA, May 3 (CP)—The cost-of-living index advanced 2.1 points in March to a record 181.8 from 179.7, Trade Minister Howe announced in the Commons today.

The March rise in the index—based on the 1935-39 price level equalling 100—compares with a record climb of 4.5 points in February.

In taking the unusual step of making the announcement to the House, Mr. Howe noted that in a Commons speech April 9 he had said a preliminary survey for March indicated the index would hold about even or at most show an increase of not more than one-half of one per cent.

Mr. Howe, making an announcement customarily issued by the Bureau of Statistics, said almost half the increase between March 1 and April 2 was accounted for by the price of butter, which has since dropped.

The announcement from the Bureau, as read by the minister, said the remainder of the increase was largely due to other foods, clothing, home furnishings and miscellaneous items.

FOOD INCREASES

The Bureau's figures — which normally would have been made public tomorrow — showed a rise in the March food index to 238.4 from 233.9.

There were numerous but slight increases in foods other than butter. Decreases were registered for eggs, pork and fresh vegetables.

The clothing index went to 198.8 from 196.3, largely caused by advances in men's wear and footwear.

Home furnishings and services went up to 190.7 from 188.6. The miscellaneous index rose from 138.8 from 137.8 as the result of higher indices for personal care, transportation and theatre admissions.

Fuel and light went to 146.7 from 146.5.

Rents were not surveyed during the month, that index staying at 137.6.

DREW WANTS CONTROLS

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, asked if Mr. Howe now intended, in view of the further increase in living costs, to use powers granted him earlier in this session to control prices.

Mr. Howe said the special powers obtained by him related to war buying as it would affect the civilian economy. Controls already had been imposed on steel and other strategic materials and there had been no increase in those fields due to war buying.

The minister then told questioners that his earlier forecast of what the index would do during March had been based on a survey he had asked the Bureau of Statistics to make.

However, he now realized that it had been "unfair" to ask the Bureau to make a preliminary forecast.

Warned

Lt.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer (above) advised President Truman nearly four years ago that Korea was threatened by a "Soviet-controlled invasion of North Korean forces." This was disclosed in Washington with release by the Senate Armed Services Committee of the top-secret report on Korea that Wedemeyer submitted to the President on Sept. 9, 1947. Wedemeyer is now commanding general of the Sixth Army with headquarters in San Francisco. He declined any comment.

Attlee Admits Rubber Going To Communist China

LONDON, May 3 (CP) — Prime Minister Attlee under five over British exports to Communist China, admitted today the Chinese are receiving some rubber but not in "strategic" quantities.

He told the House of Commons to discount suggestions that supplies from Britain have been used by the the Chinese Reds against British troops in Korea adding: "Everybody knows the source of Chinese arms."

He said Britain's policy on rubber and other strategic raw materials was worked out "in accord" with the United States.

(In Washington a state department official expressed hope Britain will tighten controls on rubber shipments to all the Communist bloc. He said the new export contracts can be expected to limit shipments to China to the level of the pre-Korean-war years, from 21,000 to 26,500 tons.)

The Prime Minister said the system of licensing exports, in effect since April 9, prevented the Chinese from getting large quantities from British possessions.

"Obviously large quantities would amount to strategic but very small quantities of rubber for a particular purpose would not. And that is how it is dealt with under export licence."

A report made public Wednesday by the Colonial Office showed that Malaya sent 120,000 tons of natural rubber to Red China during the nine months ended with March. This compared with 27,500 tons during all of 1949. Another 40,400 tons went to Russia.

Attlee, back in the house after his recent illness, first said there had been a ban on all major strategic materials to China. Then he corrected himself, and explained the export licensing system.

King George Opens Britain's Festival

LONDON, May 3 (Reuters)—The King spoke, the crowds cheered, the church bells rang — and the Festival of Britain officially began today.

The months of preparation came to a climax when the King and Queen rode through the streets of London to St. Paul's Cathedral in an open carriage, escorted by the glittering household cavalry. Throngs had waited all night for a glimpse of them.

Sunshine filtered through a grey London halo as trumpets blared at Buckingham Palace and the cavalry jingled out, plumes tossing and breastplates gleaming.

Behind came the royal carriages —the King and Queen in one, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh in another. This is the show that Londoners—and visitors —love.

All the pageantry and color of British tradition were on show at the Cathedral — yeoman in scarlet and gold, pikemen in silver armor, dignitaries in shining top hats and frock coats.

At the service in St. Paul's, Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, said:

"For this period of festival, even amid the pressing labors which these times impose on us . . . we snatch brief moments to remind ourselves and show others what we have done in working out our own salvation, and to be joyful for a season and renew our strength and spirit."

Then the King, slim and straight in his admiral's uniform, mounted a dais outside the Cathedral.

He said the festival had been planned, like its predecessor in 1851, "as a visible sign of national achievement and confidence.

"This is no time for despondency; for I see this festival as a symbol of Britain's abiding courage and vitality.

London got an early start on the fun. Crowds flocked to the sprawling exhibition site on the South bank of the Thames River last night for midnight revelry.

London, which went through a full Winter of brown-out restrictions because of the coal shortage, was fully lit up. Long-dingy buildings had been scrubbed down and repainted.

Canadians Arrive in Korea; To Leave for Front Soon

A SOUTH KOREAN PORT, May 3 (CP)—The first contingent of the Canadian 25th Brigade arrived in Korea tonight. Brig. J. M. Rockingham announced his troops will go into action as soon as possible.

Rockingham, who flew to Korea after seeing the 6000-man force off when it sailed from Seattle two weeks ago, boarded the first trooper and welcomed the men. The Brigade sailed in three ships, several days apart.

He said the Brigade will go into action as an independent unit before the Commonwealth division comes into being. It was announced two days ago that the Brigade — including the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry who have been in action in Korea since February—will join a division made up of British, Australian and New Zealand troops.

Rockingham said Lt.-Gen. James Van Fleet, Eighth Army Commander, has asked that the Canadians be ready to go to the front as soon as possible after arriving.

"I promised Gen. Van Fleet we would be ready," Rockingham told a Press conference. "The way we have been working and with the cooperation we have been receiving from eighth Army and logistical officers, there is no doubt about it."

The Canadian Brigadier from Vancouver described the 25th Brigade as in "pretty good shape. In all my life I've never seen troops as willing and anxious to do jobs as these fellows. We will leave for the front soon."

Rockingham said his troops—about 40 per cent of them veterans of the Second World War—received good training at Fort Lewis, Wash.

"Just a little more acquaintance with narrow roads and steep mountains in Korea will be enough for their good fighting," he said.

"They've been working 14 and 18 hours daily ever since arriving at Fort Lewis, and they're going to be a crack outfit."

The Brigade's vehicles are American-made but most of its weapons were manufactured in Canada. Rockingham said the Canadians will receive American rations but when they became part of the Commonwealth division there likely will be changes in the methods of supply and in the types of equipment used.

The Brigade Commander said the Canadians will be rotated after one year of service if replacements are available. Three battalions, created to provide a steady stream of replacements, were left at Fort Lewis and may be used, he said.

CALL MORE RECRUITS

OTTAWA, May 3 (CP) — The Government is expected to appeal soon for thousands of recruits for a new brigade or its equivalent for service in Europe. The formation is likely to reflect Canada's trend towards the United States military orbit in a number of ways.

This was learned today as the 25th Brigade began arriving in battletorn Korea. Announcement of plans to back Canada's commitments for Gen. Eisenhower's Atlantic-Pact Army is expected shortly, possibly tomorrow night.

It will be made in the Commons by Defence Minister Claxton as one of several important defence statements to be made within the next five or six days.

The new formation is to be armed primarily with American weapons and fitted into American command overseas, a departure from the Canadian tradition of forming units on British lines, with British arms and under British command.

It will mean that peacetime Canada will have the equivalent of a division of some 18,000 ground troops under arms plus reinforcements. There will be one brigade—the 25th—in Korea. Another — the airborne regular force brigade — will be in Canada for home defence. A third will prepare to go to Europe, probably mainly at the big Petawawa, Ont., army base. There are three brigades in a division.

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—As brunette Dorothy Campbell put it: "I don't go around assuming men are whistling at me. But I defy you to ignore it for three weeks."

So today she called the cops.

They went to her Manhattan office and, sure enough, they, too, heard a lusty, suggestive "Whee-wheeoo."

A search led police to the nearby apartment of explorer Carveth Wells. There they found the masher—a talking Mina bird named "Raffles."

Mrs. Wells said her husband taught the bird to whistle at pretty girls as an act.

"In a very seductive voice," Mrs. Wells conceded.

Said Miss Campbell:

"I'm a nature lover—I'm happy it was a bird."

Cracked the pleased-with-himself Raffles:

"Hello, darling."

MONS, Belgium, May 3 (Reuters)—A municipal council meeting in a village near here developed into an impromptu jam session Wednesday.

Councillor M. Hismans recently resigned from the Communist Party but retained his seat on the local council—to the disapproval of his fellow-councillors.

Since then they have drowned his voice in a babble of conversation.

Hismans brought along a megaphone Wednesday.

As soon as he raised it two Socialist members began a jam session, one playing a flute, the other a trumpet. A Communist colleague joined in with a mouthorgan.

The chairman had to declare the meeting closed.

TORONTO, May 3 (CP)—The plate glass display window of Harry Winton's clothing store on West-end Bloor Street had just been cleaned today when Joseph Missud, 26, called at the shop.

It was so clean that Missud didn't even see it as he left. He walked right through the $300 window, shattering it.

He was taken to hospital for cuts about his head and one hand, but later was able to go home.

Winton said the damage to the window was covered by insurance.

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Morgan, 27, sounded a fire alarm Wednesday to get her six-month-old daughter Janice to hospital.

She dashed into the street with her baby after she found her turning blue in the face. She saw a fire-alarm box and pulled the handle.

In a few minutes the block was cluttered with four fire engines, two hook-and-ladder trucks, a high-pressure truck, a water tower an inhalator unit, three battalion fire chiefs' cars, and three police squad cars.

At the hospital Mrs. Morgan anxiously watched as attendants up-ended Janice and patted her gently on the back.

From the baby's mouth dropped a marble.

$430,000 HIGH SCHOOL OPENED . . .

500 Attend as Castlegar District Enters New Era Educational Progress

CASTLEGAR, B.C., May 3—This is the day from which Castlegar District will be marking time in its march of progress into the future.

For this is the day it saw officially opened its greatest community undertaking, the $430,000 Stanley Humphries Junior-Senior High School of Castlegar School District No. 9.

Hon. A. D. Turnbull, Minister of Health and Welfare, in declaring the gleamingly modern 10-classroom building opened before a crowd of 500 remarked:

"I am sure that Castlegar District, moving determinedly into the future, will no longer mark events as from the year of the flood (1948), but from the year the Stanley Humphries Junior-Senior High School opened." He complimented the district on its project, and the spirit of responsibility and progressiveness it illustrated.

The new school will serve all the communities of the school district, Castlegar, Kinnaird, Robson, Brillant, Blueberry, Renata, Deer Park, and the various Doukhobor communities East to Tarrys and Shoreacres.

At present, 147 students of Grades 9 to 12 attend; next term, with expansion of staff and opening of new classrooms over 400 from grades 7 to 12 will be served.

Education Minister W. T. Straith, unable to be present today, will speak to students and members of the public in the gleaming gymnasium-auditorium Friday morning at 11 p.m. In the afternoon open house for parents and others will be held.

Following the official opening Thursday night, tours were conducted through the building by students. Later refreshments were served.

AMONG FIRST.

All through British Columbia, said Deputy Education Minister H. L. Campbell new modern schools were being built to accommodate students. Castlegar District's new building he declared, could be ranked with the finest.

Introduced by Inspector C. E. Clay the deputy minister told of the educational development in B.C. This province's children attended school for a longer period than those of any other province, and accordingly reached a higher standard of education, he said.

Keys to the new building were presented by A. R. Grimwood, contractor to Stanley Humphries, former school board chairman after whom the school was named. In turn, Mr. Humphries passed the keys to Principal J. A. Thomas.

"We are very proud of the new school, the students and the staff," said Mr. Thomas. Until recently pupils and teachers had contrived to overcome the difficulties of an old school building lacking in almost every facility. Credit was due the students for not yielding to discouragement, and the new school with every facility to provide them the education they sought was a reward.

Work of the Board of School Trustees, of Mr. Humphries when he was chairman, and of others in the project, were recalled by J. George Craft, board chairman. The greetings and congratulations of the village of Castlegar was expressed by Commission Chairman Joseph Dunlop.

Dedication of the building was by Archdeacon B. A. Resker of Castlegar.

H.I.S. Problem "Can Be Licked" States Hendricks

The problem of putting British Columbia's Hospital Insurance Service on a paying basis can be overcome, Kiwanis Club was told at the Hume Thursday night.

Walter Hendricks, M.L.A. for Nelson-Creston, a member of the Club, said hospital insurance was wanted by the people, and he predicted that it would eventually become a plan that would be copied by provinces and states throughout the North American continent.

He had been criticized because he had not voted against increased premiums, or for not walking across the floor. Canada and British Columbia were not built by quitters, he said, and he personally was not going to be a quitter. This problem, he felt, could be licked. For his part, he had tried to offer constructive criticism and suggestions.

Mr. Hendricks mentioned his stand in briefly replying to a rousing welcome given him by the Club members.

Vice-President Kai W. Jensen, substituting for President E. E. Hyndman, said that Mr. Hendricks had carried out the Club motto, "We Build", by his outstanding work in the Legislature. In this respect, he felt, regardless of which side of the political fence a person was on, this district could not have had better representative at Victoria.

Mr. Hendricks is a member of the select committee appointed to study all phases of the Insurance Service.

Further Legion Improvements Being Studied

Further plans for the improvement of the Nelson branch of the Canadian Legion building are being studied.

At the general meeting held Thursday night, the question of bowling alley improvements was brought up and discussed briefly but no decision made.

S. J. Newell was of the opinion that the alleys had been in use for many years and that if the sport was to continue something should be done. An estimate on the work is to be sought before a definite decision can be made. If the alleys were beyond the stage of repair, Mr. Newell suggested that they be taken out and a game and recreation room established.

In the meantime, Mr. Newell pointed out, work must go ahead in the Legion kitchen which is to be remodelled and new stoves and sinks installed by the Ladies Auxiliary.

Work on other sections of the building were going ahead gradually, it was reported.

Province Praises Future Farmers

CRESTON, B.C., May 3—John Verkerk and his Future Farmers of Canada are receiving the plaudits of the province over their recent edition of their eight page pictorial edition newspaper which was circulated widely over the province.

Radio commentators, publishers of dailies and other publishing interests have all commented on the excellence of material, layout and effort put into edition.

Possibly the greatest tribute was from former school inspector J. S. Frederickson who personally wrote the president of the F.F.C. on the accomplishment.

"It is indeed a tribute to the Creston memebrs of the mother chapter of the organization which is rapidly growing in British Columbia and now has nine branches in Alberta," according to the editorial comment of one West Coast publisher.

TRAIL TAXIS SEEK METERS

TRAIL, B.C., May 3 — Trail taxis may soon have meters installed in their cabs. Permission to install the meters was asked at City Council this week and a by-law enforcing the use of meters in the city was requested.

Meter rates would be 45 cents for the first half-mile and 10 cents for every additional two-fifths mile. Another 10 cents would be charged for each passenger over two.

J. E. Jeros, speaking for the group, told the Council that the group felt meters would be fairer than an arbitrary increase in straight prices for rides. It was also difficult to establish fares for surrounding sub-divisions and outside points. He pointed out that 54 taximen were in agreement on the plan.

However the Council pointed out that the men would probably have to go to the Public Utilities Commission for permission to change fares on trips outside the city.

About 400 delegates representing the 42 clubs in the 153rd District, which covers Eastern British Columbia, Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho, are expected to attend the Conference, he said.

The principal speaker at the Conference will be Tom Davis of Butte, Montana, Past President of Rotary International, who will address the group on Monday at the Conference banquet. Mr. Davis, during his presidency, travelled all over the globe addressing Rotarians in the thousands of communities in which Rotary operates. He is an outstanding speaker. Other speakers will include Erle E. Eisenhauer, Deputy Minister of Public Works for Saskatchewan. His topic will be "This Is Our Canada". Rotarian William T. Knights of Calgary, will address the Tuesday noon luncheon.

Richard Hadley, from Seattle, Washington, will relate his experiences studying abroad as one of the fellows sponsored by the Rotary Foundation Fellowship for 1947-48. Since its inception 285 young men and women have been chosen for post-graduate study in countries other than their own. The Foundation Fellowship Fund is a memorial to the founder of Rotary International, Paul Harris. It is subscribed to by Rotarians all over the world. The purpose of this activity has developed so much interest because of its goal of greater international understanding that this year many non-Rotarians have subscribed large sums as an investment in youth.

Purpose of the Conference, President McDonald explained, is to review the service work of the Rotary Clubs in the District and to plan ways of increasing the effectiveness of their future activities. Most of the conference sessions will be held in the Civic Theatre, while the luncheons, banquet and ball will be held in the Civic Centre Auditorium. District Governor Harry D. Harrison of Nelson, will preside.

HIGH POINT

One of the high points of the Conference will be the confirmation of nomination of Sidney R. Woodcock to succeed Harry D. Harrison as District Governor. Nomination at the Conference is equivalent to election, President McDonald said, but the new Governor will be formally elected, along with more than 200 others from all parts of the world, at Rotary International's 1951 convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, U.S.A., May 27-31. The new Governor will take office on July 1 as the official representative of Rotary International in this District.

According to Carl B. Mutchler, Chairman of the District Conference, the program also will include Past District Governors R. V. Borleske of Walla Walla, Wash., Herb Clark of Trail, Al W. Ross Fleming, chairman finance committee; Cecil Hughes, chairman entertainment committee; Bus Wills, chairman reception committee; Jack Coventry, chairman registration and information committee; John Ferguson, chairman transportation committee; John Erb, chairman housing committee; Carl Mutchler, chairman of program committee; Kenneth Yale, chairman of Boy Scouts committee; Jack McMillan, chairman of program committee; Don Mollison, chairman halls and meeting places committee; Harry Ashton chairman public address system committee; Jack McDonald, chairman catering committee; Art Gilker, chairman pioneers committee; Larry McPhail, chairman attendance and publicity committee and Rufe Gilday, chairman of printing committee.

Croft Haynes is Conference song leader with Don Jordon as accompanist. All activities will take place in the Civic Theatre, commencing with a pre-Conference Concert Sunday evening.

There are now more than 7270 Rotary Clubs in 83 countries and geographical regions, President McDonald said. While the 153rd District Rotarians meet here, many of the 346,000 Rotarians in all parts of the world will also be holding their District Conferences.

Movie Gossip—

Hollywod Learns From TV How Gangster Suspects Act, Speak

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 3 (AP) — Senator Estes Kefauver has made some changes here, too.

I'm not speaking in terms of real-life crime and corruption. But the crime-investigating Senator from Tennessee has made Hollywood alter its thinking about gangster pictures.

Top-rank Producer Edmund Grainger told me: "The Kefauver hearings had a tremendous impact on the public. People were able to see first-hand what gangsters really look like and how they operate. Now you can't fool them with anything phony.

"Initially, the hearings hurt the picture business, because people stayed at home and watched their TV sets. But I think the investigations will help us in the long run. People are now more aware of and concerned about gambling and gangsterism."

TIN-TYPE TOUGHS TABOO

Grainger said the hearings have outmoded the old-style movie gangster. The movies used to portray criminals as tough-talking mugs. The Kefauver hearings showed many of them to be smooth characters who act like business men.

Edward G. Robinson, the "Little Caesar" one of the most-successful screen gangsters, tried one of his old-style characterizations in "Key Largo." Unfortunately, he conveyed more humor than menace. James Cagney, the famed "Public Enemy" of the early '30s has done a couple of gangster roles recently, but they are "wearing pretty thin."

"We can't get away with that sort of thing any more," Grainger said.

SILVER LINING

The Kefauver hearings proved a break for the producer, who was preparing a new version of the old play, "The Racket".

"I was having trouble with the Johnston office," said Grainger, referring to the industry's censors. "The play concerned the connection between the criminal element and politics. The office told me that the subject might be offensive, since corruption is limited to only a few localities.

"I tried to tell them that it was widespread. Then the Kefauver hearings came along and showed the connection of crime and politics in many areas. After that, I did not have any trouble with the Johnston office."

Modelling Stepping Stone To Careers of All Kinds

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Fashion modelling appears a springboard for almost any kind of career these days. Among today's most popular models are apt to be many of tomorrow's feminine standouts in the arts and business, judging by the record of their predecessors.

A large number, of course, moved on to the movies and the stage, including Barbara Stanwyck, Gene Tierney, Paulette Goddard, Jennifer Jones, Joan Caulfield, Kay Francis, Lucille Ball, Meg Mandy and Nancy Kelly.

Many more, however, leaped from modelling to matrimony and motherhood. Jean Murray married Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller was model Barbara (Bo-Bo) Sears. Edith Backus is the wife of Jack Chrysler of the automobile family.

Frances Westcott married Edgar Bergen, and Oona O'Neill, daughter of the author, Eugene O'Neill, was a fashion model before she married Charlie Chaplin.

DUAL ROLES

Others have managed to combine marriage and a career. Jinx Falkenburg is one of the most versatile and busiest ofthe modelling alumni. After a fling at the stage and screen Jinx retired to become the wife of newspaper and magazine executive Tex McCrary. Shortly the couple blossomed out as a radio husband-and-wife team, picked up a daily television show and launched a joint daily newspaper column. They have two boys.

Another radio husband-and-wife team is former high-fashion model Betsey Drake and Film Actor Cary Grant. Ex-model Robin Chandler is married to Actor Jeffrey Lynn, mother of two children and hostess on a TV show of her own.

THE BENEFITS

Many more could be listed. The question is, what does modelling give a girl that helps in a later career?

"It gives an awful lot," answers Betty Downey, now fashion editor for Slick Paper magazine after a successful career as a model.

"You gain confidence," she explains. "You understand about styles and fashion, and of course you learn diplomacy, how to get along with all kinds of people and how to handle yourself in many situations."

Babs Lee, now an advertising executive and author, said "I learned many helpful things from modelling. I learned how to get along with people. I made contacts which have been very useful to me. I learned how to handle clothes and myself in them."

Great-grandmothers attending were Mrs. J. Parent, Mrs. T. W. Harvey, Mrs. R. S. LaRue, and Mrs. G. H. Gardner, and grandmothers were Mrs. Islip, Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. Keshaw, Mrs. E. C. Wynndel W.I. Hits Speeding

WYNNDEL, B.C., May 5—Wynndel Women's Institute is out to stop motorists speeding in the school zone.

Members at their meeting in the Co-op building made suggestions as to how motorists could be notified of the approach to the school zone on the downhill road, and the secretary was instructed to inform the Provincial Public Works Department of the ideas. It was felt children could also be checked on road safety, especially cyclists.

The welfare convener stated Creston was having a tag day and asked if a tag could be held in Wynndel. If tags are permissible, the event will be held.

The sum of $5 was voted to the Conquer Cancer campaign. A letter was read thanking the Institute for a bed in its ward in Creston Valley Hospital which had given comfort to a patient.

NAKUSP, B.C., May 3—A number of Nakusp Young People sat down to supper in the United Church Sunday School room with the team of gradautes of Naramata Christian Leadership Training School.

The team, under the aegis of Miss Ruth Simpson, Dean of Women, consisted of Miss Lorna Park, of Ponoka, Alta., Miss Carol Palmer of Winnipeg, Clayton Heron of Lethbridge and Douglas Robinson of Victoria. Following an informal supper and a rollicking singsong, Miss Palmer and Mr. Herron related their experiences at, and before entering the school.

At a public meeting in the Church lated Miss Simpson further pictured the school in its history and purpose, and further reminiscences were given by Lorna Park and Doug. Robinson.

Following the viewing of filmslides made Clayton Heron, school photographer, the audience had an opportunity to inspect the many excellent examples of handicraft done by members of the tour team. After the public meeting Mrs. J. O. Harper entertained the team and a member of the young people at her home.

The team is one of three touring the Kootenays, Peace River Country and Lower Mainland to bring something of the teaching of the school to young people of Western Canada in these times when it is becoming ever more manifest that Canada's, and the world's great need is for young, Christian leadership.

During their stay in Nakusp team members have been the guests of parents of present or past Naramata students.

Rossland W.M.S. Request Clothing Depot at Coast

ROSSLAND, B.C., May 3—The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church met in the small Sunday School Room. Mrs. H. Pepin gave a thought-proviking talk on "The Calling of the Disciples" and "Jesus' Power to Change Men's Habits." Mrs. P. Swift and Mrs. H. Pepin were appointed to make further arrangements in cooperation with Miss Joyce Coventry for the proposed affiliation of the Canadian Girls in Training with the Women's Missionary Society. It was reoprted that 11 home and 21 hospital visits had been made by the Society to the sick.

Mrs. T. B. McMillan read the allocation of supplies which includes a layette for the "Wrinch Memorial Hospital" at Hazelton, B.C. Donations for the layette are to be sent in to Mrs. H. Lindquist.

Considerable discussion was held in regard to send used clothing overseasons. It was though that there should be a depot for such clothing at Vancouver. As it is, parcels shipped from Rossland go to Toronto and then if the destination is Korea, they are shipped back to Vancouver for Korea. The meeting feels very strongly on this matter and stated that with the present heavy freight rates it is practically prohibitive to ship clothing.

Mrs. E. Jamieson gave a short talk on Japan dealing with "Higher Education" and also read from an article by Rev. W. H. H. Norman on "Church Missionaries in Japan" telling of the eagerness of the Japanese people to know more about Christianity.

Mrs. T. B. McMillan reported on the recent W.M.S. Presbyterian meeting held in Nelson, B.C. She reported that the Kootenay Presbyterial had exceeded it's allocation in 1950 and was able to give substantial donations toward the Building Fund and other new work.

Sixth Pipeline Bill Receives Senate Reading

OTTAWA, May 3 (CP) — The sixth pipeline bill of the session received second reading in the Senate today and brought from Senator Thomas Reid (L — British Columbia) the comment that there are going to be "a lot of squeeze plays" for pipeline concessions.

The sixth bill asked incorporation of the independent pipe line company. Its sponsor, Senator Gray Turgeon (L—British Columbia) said the company plans a 720-mile oil pipeline from the Edmonton district via Kamloops to Port Mann and Port Moody, B.C., near Vancouver. From there it would go South into the United States. It would cost more than $60,000,000.

It would be a public carrier. That is pipeline facilities would be open for all who wished to ship oil to the coast. It was backed by the Federated Oil Company and its backing and financing would be almost entirely Canadian.

Senator Reid, remarking there has been an "epidemic of pipeline bills," said it is apparent there are going to be "a lot of squeeze plays going on between the companies" to see who's going to get the right to build the all-Canadian line from Alberta to the coast. He understood that only one company will be allowed to construct such a line.

He wondered why the independent company planned to stop at Port Moody and Port Mann without going to New Westminster, a city which he said some day will have "the area of Chicago" and may even take in Vancouver.

"Pipe dream," quipped Senator Norman Lambert (L—Ontario).

Other pipeline bills which have passed or are before Parliament at present include legislation to incorporate the Canadian-Montana Pipeline Company, Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., Border Pipeline Corporation, Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company and Champion Pipe Line Corporation.

Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Company plans an all-Canadian line from Alberta to the coast along the same route proposed by the Independent Pipe Line Company.

NO PEACE HINTS IN MAY DAY SPEECHES

HONG KONG, May 3 (AP) — The major speech at Peiping's May Day celebration contained no hint of any willingness by the Chinese Reds to seek settlement of the Korean war, belated details showed today.

The chief speaker at the celebration, reported to have been attended by Red leader Mao Tze-tung, was a pro-Moscow Red, Li Li-san, vice-chairman of the National Labor Union.

"We have only one aim," he said, "and that is to crush the American invasion army, to strengthen our national defence, to safeguard our fatherland, to convert our great country into a paradise for the laborers and to create a happy life for ourselves and our offspring."

Lord Simon Hopes For Commonwealth Judicial Council

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 3 (CP) — A suggestion that the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council should become a commonwealth appeal court, including representatives of dominion governments, was made yesterday by one of the law lords.

Viscount Simon, 78, made the proposal in replying to an address by Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., of Vancouver. Senator Farris speaking at the close of an appeal to the committee, said this was likely the last time he would appear in the Privy Council Chamber.

Future Canadian appeals will be tried in Canadian courts.

Senator Farris expressed regret that "this intimate tie" between Canadian lawyers and the committee was being severed.

Lord Simon, replying, said that whether appeals should go to the Privy Council depended entirely on Canada. He said he would like to see the Judicial Committee constituted to include dominion members; this would make it a truly-representative commonwealth court.

He said these circumstances might make it possible for the Judicial Committee to go on tour, and sit in Ottawa and other capitals.

Col. Danby Delighted By Appointment

WINNIPEG, May 13 (CP) — Lt.-Col. Ernest D. Danby, D.S.O., said today he is delighted at the honor bestowed on him in appointment as top staff officer for the First Commonwealth division in history.

In a telephone interview from Rivers, Man., joint air training centre, the 35-year-old deputy commandant of the camp said he planned to have his family and himself in Ottawa by mid-month.

Other than that he had little to add, he said.

Col. Danby's appointment was announced yesterday from Ottawa. He will be General Staff Officer Grade One at divisional headquarters when the Commonwealth Division headed by Britain's Maj.-Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, is formed of British, Canadian, Australian, New Zealand and Indian forces for Korean action.

Col. Danby has been Deputy Commandant at Rivers since last year.

The Ontario Educational Association was originally founded in 1861 as the "teachers association of Canada West."

Film Technician Held for Arson

VANCOUVER, May 3 (CP) — A 22-year-old Vancouver film technician today was charged with arson and smuggling as a result of a fire Dec. 2 which alledgedly destroyed films insured for almost $500,000.

Peter Jorgenson is accused of setting fire to his color-film processing plant here.

R.C.M.P. laid the smuggling charge. Jorgenson is charged with "clandestinely introducing into Canada" $16,000 worth of movie equipment fraduently obtained in Los Angeles.

The Fire Marshal in his report to the Attorney-General, said "There was about $500,000 worth of insurance on stock and equipment which never existed."

At a January hearing, Jorgenson admitted smuggling the equipment into Canada with the help of two assistants.

The iFre Marshal said he was satisfied that the fire was set.

She Favors Cakes For Special Events

TORONTO, May 3 (CP) — Mrs. Grace Bourgard would like to see a Victoria Day cake on sale in every Canadian bakeshop for May 24.

Representative of a large milling company, she said today that possibilities are "almost limitless" for such special events cakes.

She told delegates to the Canadian Baking Exposition:

"There should be cakes for special days and occasions like Victoria Day, Dominion Day, after-the-rugby-game parties, graduation parties—and even canasta parties. Why, there could be no end of them."

Mrs. Bourgard conducted a cooking school in Nelson earlier this year under auspices of Ladies' Auxiliary to Nelson branch of the Canadian Legion.

SASKATOON (CP)—During the Spring break-up of the South Saskatchewan River the waterworks pumping plant here separated more than 90 tons of silt each day during treatment of the local water supply.

Opposition Fails in Attempt To Repeal Budgetary Changes in Taxes

OTTAWA, May 3 (CP) — Opposition parties today sharpened their attack against the government's budgetary changes in sales and excise taxes and launched two unsuccessful Commons attempts to bring about their repeal.

Under fire were the 25-per-cent increase in the general sales tax—to 10 per cent from eight per cent — and the now 15-per-cent excise tax on stoves, washin; machines and refrigerators.

First, Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, moved that the two taxes be repealed and replaced by a further increase in the new corporation defence tax to an amount sufficient to maintain the budgetary balance.

The amendment was ruled out of order by Deputy Speaker J. A. Dion on the ground that it did not give a specific amount for the substituted tax. Mr. Low appealed and the Deputy Speaker was upheld by a vote of 129 to 50.

Then Ross Thatcher (CCF—Moose Jaw) moved that the tax on stoves, washing machines and refrigerators be replaced by a $16,000,000 capital-gain tax. This amount, he suggested, would make up the revenue loss.

Deputy Speaker Dion ruled thata amendment out of order too, on the ground that it was not sufficiently specific and, on appeal, was upheld by a count of 140 to 26.

Voting with the C.C.F. group were Social Credit members and H. O. White (PC—Middlesex-east), Don Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton), A. J. Brooks (PC—Royal) C. W. Hodgson (PC—Victoria, Ont.) and R. H. McGregor (PC—York East).

The house opening was highlighted by Trade Minister Howe's announcing that the official cost-of-living index jumped 2.1 points in March to a record 181.8. Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced the government has decided to issue permits for shipment of live hogs to United States markets.

Finance Minister Abbott, opposing Mr. Low's motion, said a further increase in corporation taxes at this time would be "uneconomical and unsound" and would invite "waste, extravagance and inefficiency." Coupled with provincial taxes, those levies already were high.

Dealing with sugegstions that corporation profits were "unduly inflated," he said he had found that corporate profits before taves, as expressed as a percentage of the gross national product, were only 11.59 per cent in 1949 as against 11.04 per cent in 1939.

Mr. Low, arguing that the two taxes would add to inflationary pressures, suggested that a further boost in the new corporation defence surcharge,—now at 20 per cent — still would leave corporations with $500,000,000 of undistributed profits after taxes and dividends have been paid.

Those undistributed profits, if used for development or expansion purposes, would produce a "terrific inflationary effect." The only way to give the individual taxpayer relief was to obtain the money from the corporations.

Mr. Abbott said he felt it would be unwise to tax undistributed profits further. Their reinvestment in plant and equipment was performing "a useful economic function at this time."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative eLader, held that the budget made it clear that Mr. Abbott would have a substantial surplus this year, That being the case, he had no need for the additional tax increases. There was no necessity for a tax that was inflationary.

Joseph Harris (PC—Toronto Danforth) and George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley) joined in urging the ministry to impose a tax on vegetable oils imported for the manufacture of margarine.

Mr. Thatcher sugegsted the increased sales and excise taxes might send the cost-of-living index up another three or four points. There was room for a capital gain tax, such as had been used in the United States for some years.

J. L. Gibson (IND—Comox-Alberni) said he was inclined to agree that there would be a budgetary surplus which would make the new taxes unnecessary. He suggested the base of the tax be broadened to include electricity used for commrcial signs and building materials used in places of amusement.

Mr. Cruickshank said he regretted that house rules prevented him from moving at this stage, an amendment calling for a tax on margarine.

Mr. Abbott said the 10 per cent sales tax will apply to vegetable oils used in margarine. He suggested that if the dairy industry wanted protection under the Customs Act it should make representations to the governmen.

MacArthur Sees No End To Korean Conflict Without Policy or Plan

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur warned today that unless Communist China is beaten into surrender by all-out air aattacks the Korean conflict may explode into a third world war.

He told senators the course being followed by the Truman admistration may be "inviting" another war rather than avoiding it. And he strongly urged the use of air power, a naval blockade of the China coast, and the use of Chinese nationalist troops.

His appeal came at the conclusion of more than six hours of testimony behind closed doors with the senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees investigating the administration's Far Eastern policy and the dispute leading to his dismissal. He agreed to return tomorrow for further questioning.

A transcript of the testimony — with some deletions — was given reporters at intervals. The pruning was done by a military censor, who had a state department official as advisor.

Calling the Korean war a dreadful conflict" he lined up directly against President Truman's policy of trying to limit the war to Korea.

"I believe," he said, "the chances of the terrible conflict you so rightfully dread—and all the rest of us dread with you — would be more probable if we practise appeasement in one area."

He told senators there is no end in sight in Korea because the government has no policy or plan.

MacArthur said the Chinese Reds could be beaten into surrender by all-out air attacks, naval blockade and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops. He said he did not believe these moves would draw Russia into the fight—and that "You'll have to take a certain degree of risk in these things, one way or another."

He laid down three possible courses to follow: "Either to pursue it to victory; to surrender to the enemy and end it on his terms; or, what I think is the worst of all choices — to go indefinitely and indefinitely, neither to win or lose, in that stalemate."

He said the latter course will mean "these losses are going to mount up to figures which would stagger the imagination."

"The war i nKorea has already almost destroyed that nation of 20,000,000 people. I have never seen such devastation . . . "

MacArthur pulled no punches in wading into the administration. He said President Truman "jeopardized" the security of United States by firing him from his Far Eastern commands.

He conceded Truman had a right to oust him. But he protested he was forced "summarily" to turn over his job to Gen. Matthew Ridgway "who was 350 miles away on the Korean front."

"I don't think there is any question that the interest of the United States was jeopardized in such a summary mode of turning over great responsibilities which involve the security of the country."

MacArthur expressed firm belief that Communist China could be forced to sue for peace if all-out air attacks were launched against her and if Chinese Nationalists now bottled up on the Island of Formosa were used against her. He said that Red China is "militarily weak."

The Truman administration has refused to countenance such steps, expressing fear they would lead to a third world war. MacArthur took the position that Russia was in no shape to launch all-out war in Asia.

And as for the relutance of Britain and other U.N. members to hit the Red Chinese hard, he said he would be willing to "go it alone" if U.N. members refused to join in.

He testified under oath today that the Joint Chiefs of Staff prepared a study last Jan. 12 containing the same Korean war plans which he had advocated — and which led to his dismissal by Truman.

He added that he must "assume" this study was vetoed either by Truman or Defence Secretary George C. Marshall.

"As far as I know the Joint Chiefs of Staff have never changed those recommendations," he added.

With his testimony being released in sections, the General said the Joint Chiefs of Staff sent a recommendation to Marshall urging:

1. An economic and naval blockade of Red China.

2. No restrictions on air reconnaissance of coastal China and Manchuria.

3. No restrictions on operations of the Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa and American aid to support them in "effective operations against the Communists."

PRESIDENT URGES "WAIT AND SEE"

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP) — President Truman asked today that the country wait until all the evidence is in before making up its mind on his controversy with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Labor Shortage Threatens Defence Assembly Lines

By RAE CORELLI
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, May 3 (CP) — A Canadian industrialist said today that Canada's labor shortage spells trouble for the machine tool industry and could mean the beginning of the end for much non-defence production within a year.

Walter G. Hubbard, vice-president of Modern Tool Works, Ltd., said in an interview that an already-critical shortage of machinists, toolmakers, and machine operators in Canada's six major machine tool plants also poses a threat to defence assembly lines. That would affect output of jet planes, tanks and guns.

As rearmament accelerated, more and more lathes and precision planes, grinders and drills would be needed, he said. But there were not more and more trained men to make them.

"We will be obliged to cut off deliveries to our normal customers (the manufacturers of non-essential goods) and devote all our time to defence."

There was a definite threat to rearmament because, "If the machine tool industry is put back the defence program will be put back."

It was too late to begin training apprentices. Mr. Hubbard saw as "the only salvation" the dilution of skilled labor forces with untrained workers. These latter could be hired only during a period of abnormal production and taught one particular job, such as a simple machine operation.

Mr. Hubbard said immigration is some help. But toolmakers for example require anywhere from seven to nine years' training.

"Immediately after the war, machine tool manufacturers both here and in the United States were very nearly bainkrupt because of a vast surplus of machinery dumped on the market," Mr. Hubbard said. "Thus, they were hardly in any position to introduce extensive apprentice training programs."

Claims Rent Control For Minority Benefit

MONTREAL, May 3 (CP) — H. E. Langford, President of the Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association, said today that rent control "is being maintained for the benefit of a vocal minority."

Addressing the annual meeting of Association, he said the Federal Government is to be commended for its decision to abandon rent controls, but it is most regrettable that provincial governments are moving into this field with little thought of the outcome.

"Actual experience in France, Britain and Canada shows that in the long run the effect of controls is to decrease the amount and quality of housing," Mr. Langford said.

SUBSIDIZE TENANTS

Mr. Langford said the inequities and injustices arising out of rent control are almost too numerous to mention. Landlords had been forced to subsidize tenants. Properties had been permitted to run down because rental income was not sufficient to maintain them. Some owners in selling their properties had to accept a lower price than others merely because their houses were subject to rental control.

"There is fear that decontrol will result in a sharp increase in rents. Some rents would certainly go up immediately, and they should; but, through restoration of genuine competition, rents of some controlled properties would probably be reduced. Experience in the United States shows that rent increases resulting from decontrol are not nearly as great as the supporters of rent control claim."

U. S. POLICEMAN KILLED IN VIENNA

VIENNA, Austria, May 4 (Friday) (AP)—Cpl. Paul Gresens, an American military policeman, was killed early today by a burst of fire from tommy-guns wielded by two Russian soldiers in the heart of Vienna.

The shooting occurred while Gresens and another American Corporal were making their routine round in the international sector of the Australian capital.

The American's challenged the two uniformed men and discovered they were Russian soldiers. As they were challenged, the Russians turned and started firing their tommy-guns.

A passing Austrian was wounded in the arm and bullets splattered taxis parked outside a night club.

The Soviet soldiers apparently escaped on foot into the Soviet sector.

British Seamen Bar N.Z. Scab Dockers

WELLINGTON, May 3 (Reuters) —British merchant seamen in this New Zealand port today refused to work with "scab" dockers who abandoned the waterfront strikers and formed a government-approved trade union.

The government withdrew recognition from the dockers' union because it backed the wage strike which has imperilled the country's industrial life for the last 10 weeks.

In Auckland, the other chief trouble spot, about 300 pro-government dockers went to work this morning escorted by the biggest force of police and servicemen ever seen there.

Mr. Justice A. O. Wilson found that there was no enforceable contract to bear out Green's claim that Consolidated Mines Ltd. of Ontario had agreed to sell him the property.

Measuring

The growth of the West is a staggering thing and a wonderful thing. But it takes cold figures sometimes to make us realize just how vast a thing it is.

In 1946, less than five years ago, Alberta's crude oil met but 9.6 per cent of Canada's needs. Today it is providing 30 per cent, and present production of 127,000 barrels a day is expected to jump to 185,000. Exploration and development gives reason to hope that British Columbia may in the not too far distant future provide its own "black gold" to add to the flow. Oil companies are already probing the Flathead country of the East Kootenay and the potentialities of the Peace River country.

The oil industry is already vastly important to Western Canada, especially to Alberta. The annual saving of United States dollars to Canada from its output is $150 millions yearly; new investment money—$750 millions before 1942—means new facilities and employment; the development of our own resources eases a dependency on imports that is significant in an era of defence preparations.

We mention the role of such a resource in defence preparation. Does not the knowledge of the richness of Canada's resources and what they can mean for the future, stir one to realize more than ever what a vast stake Canada has in peace?

Canada Agrowing

The Aluminum Company of Canada have decided to go ahead with a $500,000,000 plant in British Columbia. Already $10,000,000 has been spent on preliminary work; a road costing $1,000,000 will be built to the area of the plant, and the first stage of construction will cost $160,000,000.

Thus one industry is going to spend for one plant more than the accumulated debt of Canada from Confederation up to the beginning of World War I. It will, in the words of Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, "establish an industrial empire".

One day we read of the great iron ore development in Ungava, making Canada the great iron centre of North America. Another day comes word of Alberta's oil reaching Ontario, promising future care of all our fuel needs. And now this vast expansion in British Columbia.

The scope of these developments test the powers of imagination. But no imagination is required to appreciate that Canada is indeed headed into a new and greater role.

Why the Fuss

To the Editor:

Sir—Replying to Alderman Newell's question, Why all the fuss about a 45 mill rate, the same as last year?

Well, Spence, you haven't been following the local paper's editorials advocating more expenditures of public money. In order to survive, business must have money spent and that means profits. Are you not aware we have a program of construction before us:

A $1,500,000 hospital and $80,000 club-house at the Park.

The Civic Centre wants $40,000 for repairs and the Summer Bonspiel is coming up which last year cost us $900.

All this means business and our big wholesale firms are looking for the supplying of the materials. Now where is the money coming from? That's easy. The assessment was raised last year some hundreds of thousands of dollars. Then the business property was lowered, but the home owners were raised and there are more of them to tax.

The only trouble he will have is how he can pass his increased taxes on to someone else.

Dedication

O ye friends, such as our world responds today
In doubtful vapors cloaking strife,
I would write these moods and memorable lays
To you, who know the wealth of life.

To you, who know what serenity means,
That the wealth of life is health and aspiration,
Is the joy in fulfilment of goodwill dreams,
And the strength from men of inspiration.
To all who helped erase adversity,
Who have known the strength of devoted love,
The strength of wisdom, and the strength of simplicity,
And the strength of all strength from God above.

And hence, my friends, my thoughts herein I hope
Will each respond of some such power;
And hope you'll read this page you ope,
Within the peace of time's brief hour.

R. F., Trail—What season do lilac trees bloom? How long do the flowers last? With the late season this year, when do you think they will start blooming in and around Trail and Rossland?

Lilacs usually are in full bloom from the middle of May to early June, according to the weather, and the blooms last some time unless there is much wind. In Trail presumably the flowers would be out earlier than Rossland which is at a considerably higher altitude.

Curious, Nelson—Is it correct to say a baby has been named "for" another person or "after" another person?

"After" is used in Great Britain, "for" on this side of the Atlantic. Both are correct, the latter being a survival of the much earlier English custom.

LONDON—Between four million and five million industrial workers have laid down their tools and are on strike in the British Isles. From an Oldtimer's Notebook

by R. G. JOY

HISTORIAN, NELSON AND DISTRICT OLTIMERS ASSN.

The following is an article published in the Silverton, Silvertonian of July 7, 1897, Volume 1:

"SILVERTON, the silver and gold centre of the rich Slocan, improvements all along the line—Silverton is growing and she may safely grow until the population shall exceed that of all other towns on Slocan Lake.

"While it is probably true that the present rapid growth is more owing to the fine booming qualities of George H. Suckling, than to the knowledge of our resources; it is unquestionably a fact well known by a few, who by long residence here and by careful investigation have found them out, that these resources are such as to justify the continuance of Silverton's present rate of growing, for several years to come.

"Silverton is not depending for its growth upon the beauty of its surrounding scenery, though she invites inspection of her scenic attractions with no fear that any town along the lake has any advantage over her in this respect. In fact this is usually agreed among oldtimers on the lake that Silverton Bay is the best sheltered, warmest and most pleasant place on it for all-the-year-round living.

"The peculiar and all important advantage that Silverton has over all other lake towns is its situation with reference to mines. While the other towns have but a vague feeling of confidence in their growth on account of their locations on the lake and in the great Slocan, Silverton has the certainty of a miner's payroll at her door and she is situated in the midst of mines. Nor is the generally accepted notion that the hills about Silverton contain only silver-lead ores though of these it is reasonably certain that there are enough to ensure a dozen shipping mines before the Summer closes. But besides these there are silver ores carrying no lead and these are generally much higher grade than the Galena ores, and they will probably prove to be more valuable than the Galena Mine.

"And gold! There is gold about Silverton. Although it is not realized by one in a hundred of the population of the Slocan that gold is a probable factor of consequence in the property of Silverton, the prediction is here confidently made, that the gold mines in the vicinity of Silverton will within three years employ more miners than will be working in the silver mines.

"To the writer the most astonishing thing connected with the development of the Slocan is the fact that the gold prospects of Red Mountain, near Silverton, have excited no general enthusiasm among prospectors and none at all among investors.

NOT IMPRESSING

"From the little Daisy prospect hundreds of prospectors have carried away chunks of ore in which little nuggets of gold were plentifully sprinkled and a score of experts have reported assays from a distinctly defined vein that gave results about $200 per ton in gold; besides the Tacoma Smelter last Winter paid the Little Daisy owners $620 for five tons and still these facts seems to signify nothing to either the prospector or the investor in general.

GOLD PROSPECTS

"Hundreds of tests have been made from the Little Daisy, Las Vegas, L.H., the Baby Ruth, Mountain View, Congo, and from other gold prospects in Red Mountain and results have all been significant to any man of intelligence that probable existence of gold is of immense commercial consequence. Nor is the gold hereabouts confined to Red Mountain. On the lake shore halfway to Bannock Point, in the Echo Mineral Claim, there are three quartz veins of considerable size from each of which fair samples have assayed from $5 to $80 per ton in gold; and the ore is susceptible of concentration which is also the case with gold ores in general in this locality. Besides, very rich gold ore, has recently been found in the Vancouver and Bowmar Mountain thus showing that the area of gold bearing ledges is very large.

"Further Silverton, has fine farming lands adjacent, and Farmer Harris and Farmer Thompson and many other farmers will be patrons of Silverton."

STUDY ZINC REFINERY FOR EASTERN CANADA

TORONTO, May 3 — The Northern Miner reports that the proposal that a zinc refinery be built in Eastern Canada is still in the study stage. The American Zinc, Lead and Smelting company is playing a leadnig role in the proposition.

No decisions have been reached and the company's engineers have been working on a new report which is expected to be ready by late May.

The question of an Eastern Canada zinc smelter has been a lively one for more than five years. Heavy capital costs have been a leading consideration and are a still larger governing factor today, says the Miner. On the other hand the great expansion of zinc ore resources in Quebec impels attention to the idea that concentrates could be treated in that province instead of sending them to the United States or abroad.

"Impressive Results" Made in Cancer Treatment

LONDON, Ont., May 3 (CP) — A Western Ontario physician said today he is treating cancer victims with a relatively simple and inexpensive extract of calf spleen and getting "impressive results." Dr. George F. Watson of Kitchener treated cancers of the breast, uterus, mouth, skin, tonsil, stomach and rectum. He says all the cases improved and, in some, the malignant growths disappeared.

Dr. Watson added, however, that the extract will have to be tried on hundreds of other cancer victims and the results watched for years.

In his treatment, the spleen extract is combined with sterile water in varying concentrations and injened into the patient's veins.

In earlier published reports of experiments he said the extract apparently deals a death blow to the hearts of cancerous cells, leaving only a lifeless shell.

The spleen is a bean-shaped gland located near the kidney and is believed responsible for the control of quality and quantity of blood.

"In all cases improvement was seen," he said. "Tumors diminished in size or disappeared completely and some patients have survived by years their life expectancy. Chronically-ill patients have shown a remarkable gain in weight. Pain has disappeared and the mental outlook of the individual has improved."

The doctor said he started using the extract in 1928, when he treated a patient suffering from chronic lymphatic leukemia, a cancer of the blood.

Said Dr. Watson:

"We have a long way to go yet. Many more cases must be tried. But, every day, cancer researchers are swinging towards investigation of the lymphatic system of the body, of which the spleen is one of the most important organs."

Greeks Had Word For Fire Bombs

By FRED ZUSY

BAGHDAD, May 3 (AP)—Scientists have begun their first excavations in an ancient desert city which could claim the fire bomb of modern warfare as its own.

The city—deserted for about 1650 years—is Hatrah in Western Iraq, about 100 miles Southwest of the Middle East oil city of Mosul.

Hatrah was a circular city with double walls nearly 1½ miles around. It was an important trading centre on the old caravan route from the Far East to the Western world.

Hatrah flourished as a city-state until about 300 a.d. During that period it repulsed two powerful Roman armies.

Dr. Naji Al-Asil, Director-General of the Iraq Department of Antiquities, says that from their strong defensive positions, the fighting men of Hatrah developed a trick—the jellied-gas bomb of their day—of throwing balls of fire at their foe.

The Greeks referred to such methods of warfare as "Hatrah fire," indicating how widespread the fame was of this defensive system.

Dr. Al-Asil says the "Hatrah fire" probably consisted of big balls of some absorbent substance soaked in naphtha from nearby oil wells. These were launched at the foe by catapults.

In this manner, he said, the men of Hatrah destroyed the war chariots of Trajan and others who threatened.

The evacuation work began in Hatrah only in March, but remains of several temples have been found already, along with 18 fine statues and reliefs.

CHINESE REDS USING RUSSIAN AMMUNITION, AMERICAN RIFLES

EDMONTON, May 3 (CP)—Chinese Communist troops use large quantities of Russian-marked ammunition and seem to have a good supply of American Garand rifles, a former company commander of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Korea said today.

The officer, Maj. Jack George of Edmonton, has been posted back to Canada as an instructor in battle technique at Wainwright Military Camp, 135 miles East. Replacements for the P.P.C.L.I. in Korea will arrive there soon.

Maj. George said the Chinese are far from fanatical and surrender willingly. They were fighting only because they were conscripted.

Sentence Saxey For Oscar Death

Hears Verdict With Unflinching Calm

NANAIMO, B.C., May 3 (CP)—Martin Saxey tonight was sentenced to be hanged for the slaying in February of Louis Oscar at a West Coast Vancouver Island settlement.

Saxey, an Indian, was convicted of murder after an Assize jury deliberated 4½ hours. The jury recommended mercy.

Oscar, also an Indian, was shot Feb. 6 at the settlement of Battle Bay.

Mr. Justice A. M. Manson sentenced Saxey to be hanged Aug. 17. It marked the first time in more than 25 years that the death penalty hs been handed out in a Nanaimo court.

COMPLETE BLACKOUT

Frank S. Cunliffe, K.C., defence counsel, argued that Saxey suffered a complete mental blackout. He quoted Dr. G. A. Davidson, senior psychiatrist at Vancouver General Hospital, as saying a series of events stretching over 21 years could possibly have culminated in a "mental explosion" at the time of the shooting.

Mr. Justice Manson told the jury the recommendation for mercy would be forwarded to the Department of Justice.

Saxey retained the same emotionless expression that he had shown all through the trial. He accepted the sentence without flinching, but the jury foreman broke into tears after hearing the sentence announced.

Commandant Denies Deserters' Drive

TORONTO, May 3 (CP) — Col. R. C. Clarke, commandant of the Army base at Camp Borden, today denied published reports that the Provost Corps has launched a large-scale drive to round up soldiers absent without leave in Toronto.

He added that the number of soldiers missing from their units is not large enough to warrant such procedure.

Trucks and Provost Corps members were seen here last night in some force. Army officials said most of the men were Reserve Army members being trained in traffic and convoy duties.

Yanks Cap Records In Routing Browns

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York Yankees powered their way to a 17-3 rout of St. Louis Browns Thursday, tieing two records and breaking a third along the way.

Rookie infielder Gil McDougald was a star in the lambasting American League performance, driving in six of the runs on a triple and a base-clearing home run.

Washington Senators swept into undisputed possession of first place in the American League by trouncing Chicago White Sox 7-1 at Chicago.

In the only other day game Thursday, first-baseman Walt Dropo smashed in four runs with a double and single to spark Boston Red Sox to a 6-1 American League victory over Detroit Tigers in Detroit. It was a comeback for Dropo, who had been benched for weak hitting for the last 10 games.

FIRST FOR REYNOLDS

The smashing Yankee victory at St. Louis was the fifth straight for the world champions and the first for sore-armed Allie Reynolds, who made his first start of the season year and limited the Browns to five hits.

A small crowd of 1612 saw the Bombers unload their vaunted power with a 17-hit attack that produced four home runs, three triples and three doubles.

They scored 11 runs in a wild ninth inning, equally the league mark for total bases in one inning, getting 24 on two singles, two doubles, two triples and three home runs. That figure had been set by the Browns Aug. 7, 1922, with the identical types and quantities of hits. The major league mark of 29 was set by the 1883 Chicago Cubs.

The 11 runs were the most ever tallied in the ninth inning of an American League contest, the previous high being 10 by the 1901 Detroit and 1912 New York clubs.

Stubby Overmire started and was crushed when the Yankees got five in the fifth, two crossing on a round-tripper by Yogi Berra.

Joe Collins hit one of the round-trippers in the ninth with a man on and Jack Jensen capped the inning with a solo blast.

MacDougald's six R.B.I.'s in one inning tied the modern mark shared by Fred Merkle of New York Giants (1911), Robert Johnson of the Philadelphia Athletics (1937) and Tom McBride of Boston Red Sox (1945).

Conrado Marrero, scattering nine hits, registered his third straight victory for Washington. The chunky Cuban righthander has allowed only one run in each of his three games. The Senators belted Billy Pierce and Bob Mahoney for a dozen blows. Ed Yost hit a homer and batted in three runs.

Chuck Stobbs of the Red Sox shackled the Tigers with six hits to win his third game against no defeats. Teddy Gray, who hurled hitless ball until Bill Goodman singled to start the sixth, suffered his second loss without a win.

CUBS BEAT BRAVES

Andy Pafko belted a grand-slam homer, a triple and a single while pacing Chicago Cubs to a 9-3 National League victory over Boston Braves in a night game at Boston. Hank Sauer also homered for the Cubs as they broke a three-game losing streak at the expense of righthander Max Surkont.

The loss knocked the Braves out of first place. Rookie Bob Schultz yielded nine hits but had trouble only with Sam Jethroe, who drove in all Boston runs with his sixth home run and a single.

A four-run eighth inning rally by St. Louis Cardinals proved more effective than three Philadelphia home runs as the Redbirds defeated the National League champions 8-4 in a night game at Philadelphia. The defeat may have been even more costly for the champions as Catcher Andy Seminick was sent to hospital after being hit by a pitched ball.

The victory enabled the Cards to take over first place from Boston Braves who lost to Chicago.

Seminick was hit behind the left ear by one of Max Lanier's pitches in the fourth inning. The big catcher was taken to hospital where he was reported resting comfortably.

Preacher Roe shut out Cincinnati Reds with six hits as Brooklyn snapped a three-game National League streak with an 11-hit barrage and an 8-0 victory in a night contest at Brooklyn. It was the third straight victory for the Dodger lefthander.

Pittsburgh batted around in a four-run 10th inning to whip New York Giants 7-4 at New York after Spider Jorgensen's pinch homer tied the score in the ninth inning of the National League game. New York came back with one run in the 10th when Bill Werle came to the rescue of Mel Queen.

The Giants outhit the Pirates 10 to nine.

Attack American Grid Stars Jumping Canadian Leagues

PHILADELPHIA, May 3 (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League said today absolutely no bans will be imposed on players who jump to the Canadian leagues.

But the Czar of pro football admitted that he wouldn't think very kindly of any "jumpers" who get their fill of Canada and decide to come back to the National League.

Bert didn't say outright he would not take a boy back into the fold but he warned:

"I'm paid to protect pro football. Anything detrimental to the game must be curtailed. And I'll say this, contract breaking is detrimental to the game."

Several club owners are reported even more incensed over the exodus North of the border of some of the United States' finest grid talent — a situation paralleling the famous Mexican league jumping case in baseball.

Ray Bennigsen, president of the Chicago Cardinals, said if contract-breaking continues, "We'll have to make up our minds about taking legal steps." New York Yankees are said to be of a similar outraged mind.

The Cardinals today lost their third player to the Calgary Stampeders of the Western Canada Conference. He is Bill Blackburn, a centre, who joins Bob Shaw, an end and line coach, and Jim Lipinski, a tackle.

The Saskatchewan Rough Riders also free with the buck, recently lured two players from the New York Yanks—Jack Russell, an end, and Martin Ruby, a tackle.

But the situation actually was brought to a head when overtures were made to Bob Waterfield, star quarterback of Los Angeles Rams who is equally famous as the real-life husband of movie queen Jane Russell.

Waterfield, who has been made an offer by Montreal Alouettes, said: "Money is money, if enough is offered I'd be interested in the proposition."

The Alouettes are members of the second major football league in Canada—The Big Four.

Between them the two circuits have lassoed more than a score of American players from the National and American leagues and are reported dickering for others. Each club is allowed seven imported players.

The Regina Club has signed quarterback Glenn Dobbs, formerly with Los Angeles Dons, and Jack Nix of San Francisco 49ers, among others.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers have signed George Trafton, former assistant coach of the Dons as head mentor. Last year members of their team included Joe Aguirre, John Brown and Bud Tinsley of the Dons; Tom Casey of the Yanks and Jack Jacobs of the Green Bay Packers.

Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones played last year with Hamilton in the Big Four.

Town Team Leads Kimberley Junior Baseball

KIMBERLEY, B.C., May 3—Kimberley's infant Junior Baseball League, entering its second year, seems destined to have a much better season this year. Already all four teams in the circuit have seen action, and as players continue to join squads, the future seems bright.

Statistics to date reveal the Town team leading the loop, followed by Townsite. Upper Blarchmont batters, however, set the pace with customary early-season high averages.

Olympic Heads Start Meetings

By BEN PHLEGAR

VIENNA, May 3 (AP) — The six men to have the greatest control over the Olympic Games began a week of meetings today in the international sector of this romantic city.

Action on Russia's application for membership in the Olympic family is high on the agenda. The country is expected to be admitted. Russia recently announced formation of a national Olympic body, a prime requisite for membership in the Olympic group. The two top Russian Olympic officials were sent to Vienna for the meetings.

The flags of the four occupation powers— Russia, France, Britain and the United States—were flying in the streets as the executive commission of the International Olympic Committee started to smooth out the final kinks in plans for the 1952 Games at Oslo and Helsinki.

Results of the first secret session were not announced. Nor will the proceedings during the next two days be made public until the commission is ready to begin its full schedule session with the Olympic Committee Monday.

Tomorrow the commission will open discussions with the individual International Sports Federations whose sports make up the Olympic program.

The Federation will make suggestions not only for the 1952 Games but also for advance plans for the 1956 Games which will be held in Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy (Winter) and Melbourne, Australia, (Summer).

Members of the Commission included Sigfrid Edstrom of Sweden, President of the I.O.C.; Avery Brundage of Chicago; Armand Massard, France; Col. P. W. Scharroo, Holland; Alberto Bonacossa, Italy; and Lord Burghley of Britain who represented the absent Lord Aberdare.

St. Kitts, principal island of the Leeward Islands, was the first possession of the British West Indies to be colonized in 1623.

Louis, Savold Sign For June 13 Bout

NEW YORK, May 3 (CP) — Joe Louis and Lee Savold have been fighting professionally for 17 years and somehow or other never got around to facing each other in the ring. Today they agreed to remedy that and signed to meet in a 12-round bout in the Polo Grounds June 13.

The survivor of this battle of graybreads will earn the right to walk into the chopping fists of heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles in a title bout in September. That is if Ezzard still is boss. The champion has a couple of engagements of his own coming up.

It's fortunate for Savold that he's just geeting around to Louis now. The Bomber, who will be 37 in 10 days, apparently has lost the power in his right hand wallop.

Old Joe threw only duds in outpointing Omelio Agramonte in a 10-rounder in Detroit last night. The former Heavyweight King dropped the Cuban once for nine but that's way over par for Omelio who usually goes up and down like a yo-yo.

That was Joe's fifth win on his latest comeback campaign. He's probably right for Savold, who just passed the 35-year-old mark but hardly ready for Charles again.

Savold, a one-time bartender, has not done any regular fighting since he won British recognition as world heavyweight champion by stopping England's Bruce Woodcock in four rounds, June 6, 1950.

The Englewood, N.J., blond has been nursing his piece of the title carefully while manager Billy Daly shopped around for the right opponent for a big payday. They think they've got just what they wanted in Louis.

Activity in Prince Edward Island

In Prince Edward Island, all thoughts are concentrated now on the opening of the fish and lobster season. Entire populations of town and villages throng the docks where the lobster pots are piled high and where busy fishermen move among their boats and nets. Above, Priscilla Arsenault points to a spot where the pots are to be placed as May Poirer, right, and Barbara Gallant look on. Left, part of the season's first herring catch is handled by Stanley Glenn and Gussie Barley of Summerside. Nets have been laid close to shore, but soon the small vessels will be venturing far out to sea.—Central Press Canadian.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP) — Substantial progress under the leadership of railroad shares was made age high for the year.
with prices moving up to a new high average for the year.

Canadian issues displayed mild strength. McIntyre gained ½, Canadian Pacific and International Nickel were up ¼ and Dome Mines ⅛. Hiram Walker dropped ¾. Distillers Seagram remained unchanged. On the curb, Royalite Oil eased ⅛. Lake Shore was unchanged. Giant Yellowknife was unquoted.

TORONTO, (CP) — Prices moved quietly ahead. Volume was about 1,200,000 shares.

In industrials papers, agricultures, constructions, textiles, refining oils, and manufacturing companies showed a majority of gains.

Base metals were up fractions. Quebec Manitou and Golden Manitou climbed briskly to new 1951 peaks.

MONTREAL, (CP) — Securities firmed slightly as the session progressed. Trading improved considerably after a slow start.

The industrial list opened mainly unchanged, following Wednesday's mixed appearance.

LONDON (Reuters) — There was less activity in London but, taken as a whole markets again moved slowly higher.

A little hesitancy was noticeable at the start, particularly among industrials which reflected some disappointing overnight dividends. This section later took the lead in a better tendency, however, with good support for textiles and the heavies.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, May 3 (CP) — Livestock was definitely under pressure on the Calgary Market this morning with prices 50 cents to $1 lower on several classes. On offer were 389 cattle and calves.

Good to choice butcher steers and heifers were 50 to 75 cents lower, cows around $1 lower, with the odd choice light cow going for $28.00. Bulls were holding about steady but good stocker and feeder steers were $1 or more lower. Veal calves were about steady.

Wednesday's sales were: 396 cattle; 27 calves; 165 hogs, and seven sheep, compared with 384 cattle; 26 calves; 239 hogs and three sheep a year ago.

Hogs advanced $1 Wednesday, closing at $31.25 to $31.50. Sows were steady at $21.00. Good lambs brought $35.50 while good ewes were up 25 cents at $17.00 to 17.75.

Good to choice butcher steers 31.75 to 33.00; common to medium 28.00-31.50. Good to choice butcher heifers 30.50-32.00, common to medium 27.00-30.00. Good cows, 26.00-27.00, common to medium 22.50-25.50. Canners and cutters 19.00-22.00. Good bulls 29.00-29.75; common to medium 25.00-28.50. Good stocker and feeder steers 30.00-32.00; common to medium 27.50-29.50. Good to choice veal calves 36.00-39.00; common to medium 28.00-35.00.
