Blame Food for Living Cost Rise

Three-Tenth of a Point Increase Noted; Beef, Eggs, Coffee, Coal Up

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP) — Living costs in Canada edged up three-tenths of a point to a new high of 164.0 in March, reflecting price increases for a wide range of goods with the exception of clothing.

The Bureau of Statistics said today that the advance from the previous record of 163 7 in February was caused mainly by higher prices for beef, eggs, coffee and anthracite coal.

Although butter prices were down slightly, the advance in other food prices moved the food sub-index from 204 0 to 204.5, down 4.7 points from the record of 209.2 last July.

The general index is calculated on the basis that 1935-39 prices equal 100. A year ago the index touched 159.3.

In other sub-groups comprising the index, the Bureau reported that advances for anthracite coal in Ontario and Quebec were largely responsible for the rise in the fuel and light index from 136.3 to 138.0, a record for that column.

Floor coverings went up in price and advanced the homefurnishings sub-group from 166.3 to 166.4, a one-tenth of a point increase which brings that group to within 1.7 points of its record of 168.1 last August.

Only clothing moved down, continuing a trend which became evident earlier in the year. The March decline was two-tenths of a point from 181.4 to 181.2.

The Bureau noted that from August, 1939, to March 31, 1950, the increase in the cost-of-living index was 62.7 per cent.

Wismer Wants Cooperation . . .

Asks Ottawa To Share Doukhobor Problems

VICTORIA, B.C., May 4 (CP)—Attorney-General Gordon Wismer sent a new plea to Ottawa yesterday for cooperation in meeting British Columbia's Doukhobor problem.

The difficulty at the moment, he said, is that everybody was asking that the law be enforced, but the province simply did not have jail facilities to take care of the prisoners involved.

"I intend to enforce the law," he said, "but I must have co-operation."

For example, Mr. Wismer said, the municipalities were all crying for law enforcement but were saying in effect "Don't do it here."

"If every municipality takes that attitude," he said, "we're obviously not going to get anywhere."

POINTS TO PROTESTS

He pointed to the protest that had followed reports Doukhobors would be imprisoned at Nanaimo and Nelson. He reiterated that he knew nothing of the Ottawa report that Doukhobor children would be housed at a hospital at Patricia Bay airport.

Ninety-one Doukhobors would be charged on June 6 at the Nelson assize court, said Mr. Wismer. They must be held pending trial and for a 30-day period pending appeal in provincial jails. If they were sentenced to the penitentiary, then they automatically became a federal responsibility.

"I repeat," said Mr. Wismer, "whether we get the cooperation of the federal government or not we're going to enforce the law."

VICTORIA, B.C., May 4 (CP) — Foster homes may be sought by the Provincial Government for Doukhobor children whose parents have been jailed for nude parading and fire raids in the recent Sons of Freedom uprising in the Kootenays.

This was learned at the Legislative Buildings today when it was reported a proposal to use the R.C.A.F. Hospital at Patricia Bay airport as a shelter for the homeless children would be of a temporary nature.

No decision has been made to use the 112-bed hospital as a shelter, although a welfare official stated the building "seems to be the preferable location" among a number investigated.

VICTORIA, B.C., May 4 (CP)—Arthur Ash, M.L.A. for Saanich, has sent a letter to Attorney-General Wismer and to Premier Byron Johnson and Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew protesting any plan to house Doukhobor children at Patricia Bay near here.

The letter said:

"On behalf of the people of Saanich I wish to protest against any such move. The concentration of Doukhobor children in a thickly-populated area such as Saanich is no solution to this serious problem. Furthermore, no good purpose could be served in concentrating these children in an area that has such a large incoming and outgoing traffic on T.C.A. as well as through the tourist port at Sidney.

"The sect known as the Sons of Freedom have shown utter contempt for the laws of this country and, therefore, to my mind, have forfeited all rights as Canadian citizens.

"May I suggest they be isolated in an area where they have no contact with law-abiding citizens and that steps be taken to see that their children are given proper education in Canadian citizenship?"

Menzies' Amendment Would Ensure Control Of Both Houses

By LOUIS L. LECK

CANBERRA, May 4 (CP)—Prime Minister Menzies today introduced in the Australian Parliament a constitutional amendment to ensure that the majority party—at present his own Liberal-Country Party coalition—will control both upper and lower houses after a double dissolution.

Menzies himself has forecast an early double dissolution if the Labor-controlled Senate rejects any important part of his drastic anti-Communist bill—and the Labor party announced today that it intends to do just that.

Would Outlaw Communist Party

Australia's Prime Minister Menzies on Thursday introduced a bill described as a measure of public safety and self-defence to outlaw the Communist Party in Australia. "We could not have tolerated a fifth column in 1939," he told the House of Representatives. "We certainly do not propose to tolerate one in 1950." The bill calls for the dissolution of the Communist Party, provides prison terms up to five years for Communists who refuse to cease party activities and bars Reds from holding jobs in the Government or in private enterprise vital to the country's security.

Two-Year-Old Found at Play on Floating Logs; Chief Sounds Warning

City Chief of Police Robert Harshaw Thursday issued a warning to Nelson parents to keep a watchful eye on their children wandering near the waterfront.

The warning came after a two-year-old boy who had been reported missing from his home, was found near the city wharf with another youngster. The tots, when found by police were playing on some logs in the water. Other youngsters have been stopped from this dangerous pastime in recent days.

Construction of the new floating wharf under way at the waterfront, may be another attraction to the curious youngsters, police advised parents.

In Store for Surprise

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — Edward Biegenzahn, 65-year-old egg crate repairman, is in for a surprise.

In a rarely used warming oven underneath an ancient stove, Mrs. Biegenzahn today found $1000 cached in pepper tins—the first with $500 in bills and the next two with $500 in tens.

She was surprised, too, but her husband doesn't know of her find.

"I guess he had been saving a bit every week for the last seven years," she said at her suburban Burnaby home. "An old house like this is not the place to keep money."

Mrs. Biegenzahn left a pencilled note in a tin: "The money is in the bank."

"I guess he hasn't found the note. I'm waiting for him to say something."

Chrysler Strike Settled

By A. F. MAHAN, JR.

DETROIT, May 4 (AP) — The long, costly Chrysler strike was settled today on a note of bitterness similar to that which marked its beginning 100 days ago.

But there was elation, too.

The 89,000 striking members of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) begin going back to work Monday, with everything they asked in the way of a $100 monthly pension, including Federal social security benefits, backed by a jointly-administered trust fund.

The union failed, however, to get a union shop and total benefits of 28 cents an hour, which it demanded when negotiations on a new contract opened July 6, 1949.

Bitterness marked negotiations from the walkout to settlement and as today's signing was announced, Walter Reuther, U.A.W. President, angrily told a Press conference:

"Chrysler Corporation has sunk to a low never before attained in the auto industry . . . as late as yesterday Mr. Weckler (Herman L. Weckler, Chrysler Vice-President and General Manager) prostituted the facts."

Weckler yesterday repeated his charge that the U.A.W. was stalling settlement to collect a maximum strike fund under $1 weekly assessments against working union members.

All-Time Safety Record at Trail

TRAIL, B.C., May 4—The co-operation of all employees during Safety Month has established a new all-time safety record for our Trail operations," stated W. S. Kirkpatrick, Assistant General Manager, today. "Special credit is due to engineering with 1300 men and the Zinc Department with 900 men for having gone the full month without a lost time accident.

During the month of April, there were approximately 118,000 shifts worked at Trail and we had only seven lost time accidents, none of which were serious. I am sure every one can see from this example the value of an active and continuing safety program."

The seven accidents which occurred during Safety Month is strikingly below the monthly average for 1949 which was 20.4.

The first accident was recorded in the Chemicals and Fertilizers Division during the first week. The second week saw an accident mar the Metallurgical Division's standing. A change in the exceptional record established in the first two weeks was shown during the third week as three accidents occurred within the Metallurgical Division. During the last week, two accidents occurred, one within the Chemicals and Fertilizers Division and the other within the Metallurgical Division.

The first week revealed the divisional winners in the first aid play-offs. The two other winning teams were the Lead Refinery No. 1 team and the Salvage Yard team. These four teams competed in the Labor Day Sports Cup play-offs during the fourth week of Safety Month at the James L. Webster school. The 300 members of the audience cheered as the fertilizer group team carried off the coveted trophy. This team will now compete in a further competition against Calgary and Kimberley for the Blaylock Bowl.

CAN'T MONKEY AROUND

The display of two monkeys in the window of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company and around the plants was a novel type of advertising used by the Safety department during the campaign. The monkeys were suitably captioned with such phrases as "You can't monkey around with safety." A large collection of colorful, and humorous signs appeared around the plants during the campaign, serving as reminders of the importance of working safely.

As Trail's Safety Month ended, Kimberley's began.

Sask. Subsidy-Nationalization Plan for Railways Submitted

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP) — The Saskatchewan government today called for transportation subsidies to hold down freight rates and for a study into the possibilities of public ownership of all railways.

In its final argument before the Royal Commission on Transportation, the CCF government declared it was not committed for or against public ownership but it should be examined from the angle of providing most efficient transportation at lowest cost.

On the almost equally controversial question of subsidies, it made these two proposals:

1. Slashing of all freight rates within, into and out of the prairie provinces—except the already-low charges on grain—with the deductions made up from the federal treasury as in the case of the Maritime Freight Rates Act. A 20-per-cent reduction—the same as that of the Maritimes—was suggested.

2. Use of a "deficit subsidy" to enable the railways to provide satisfactory services despite inadequate operating revenues. This device, limiting the need for rate increases would be applied only when the railways showed they were operating economically.

Saskatchewan's subsidy-nationalization suggestions were submitted to the commission by Dean F. C. Cronkite of the University of Saskatchewan Law School, appearing for the government.

Other points in the Saskatchewan submission were presented today by M. A. MacPherson, Saskatchewan counsel, including these:

1. Saskatchewan cannot stand further freight-rate increases without disturbance to its economy. This was in reference to evidence that it would take another rate increase of about 24 per cent to pull Canadian Pacific Railway earnings at a level needed to rehabilitate the company's credit.

2. All transportation legislation should be consolidated into a single transportation statute.

3. Duties of the regulatory Board of Transport Commissioners should be extended to have it recommend railway legislation to Parliament.

4. There should be closer regulation of railway rate-making, in contrast to the carriers' own suggestion that they should have a freer hand.

5. The transport board should set up uniform accounting practices for the railways and make them stick to the regulations.

Dean Cronkite, in addition to making representationgs on subsidies and nationalization, also advanced these arguments:

1. Saskatchewan agrees in principal with the Canadian National Railways' proposal for reorganization of its capital structure. It cannot definitely endorse the amounts put forward in President Gordon's $1,000,000,000 plan, but it sees no reason to dispute them. However, it does not want the CNR placed in a preferred position to the Canadian Pacific.

2. All income from every type of CPR enterprise should be taken into account in setting rail freight rates, since they all stemmed originally from transportation revenues. (At present, only a part of non-rail income is considered in rate-making.)

Dean Cronkite suggested that these factors be considered in dealing with the nationalization problem:

1. To those alarmed over the bogey of government monopoly," it could be said that there now was very little real competition between the railways. There was no competition in rates.

2. It should be considered whether, under a government monopoly, integration of service might not result in more effective transportation.

3. Long-run trends—including competition and financing difficulties—"may well be against (the CPR's) survival as a privately-owned and operated utility."

4. The problem could not be considered as a matter of free enterprise against government enterprise, since the CPR was begun originally as an instrument of national policy. Public ownership of all railways was consistent with the view that the railways were instruments of national policy.

One-Man Survey Of Unexplored Arctic Area Planned

CHURCHILL, Man., May 4 (CP) —Dr. J. P. Moody, a physician familiar with the barren North, is to make a one-man survey of an unexplored Eastern Arctic area.

The trip, by plane, canoe and dog team, is expected to take four or five months.

Dr. Moody hopes to find a Muskox herd unseen for 15 years. If located, he believes they can be important to the economic future of the Eastern Arctic.

Dr. Moody hopes his studies of rock formation, wildlife and plants can be utilized in th future for the benefit of Eskimos and whites.

A Small Swoose is Called a Swasling

CHEHALIS, Wash., May 4 (AP)—This is no joke.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gustin have hatched 30 swaslings this Spring.

What is a swasling? It's a small swoose.

What is a swoose? It's a cross between a swan and a goose.

At any rate, wildlife officials say the Gustins have accomplished quite a feat; that they are the only producers of swaslings—or swoose—in the Pacific Northwest.

Senator Canada's Mother of Year

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP)—Canada has a Mother of the Year—a dark-haired woman with eight children and seven grand-children who prefers the title of "Mrs." to "Senator".

She's Mrs. Norman Wilson of suburban Rockliffe, Ont.—better known as Senator Cairine Reay Wilson, one of the two women members of the Senate and a top figure in national and international affairs.

As Canada's Mother of the Year, the 65-year-old Senator will receive a gold pin from the American Mother's Committee in New York.

Chosen for the award by the National Council of Women, Senator Wilson is the first Canadian to hold the title.

Evacuate Last People From Morris; Hospital Emptied

Rain, Snow Adds to Winnipeg Flood Woes, Subways Hit, Buses Rerouted

WINNIPEG, May 4 (CP)—The Red River flood and some of its victims were moving into Winnipeg tonight.

Water levels rose in this apprehensive city of 300,000. At the same time more than 200 refugees and workers were on their way in from the lost town of Morris, 41 miles South.

Two-foot waves whipped by a strong wind crushed the last cell of resistance—the dike around the Morris hospital. Its 13 patients, four of them new-born babies, boarded a special Canadian National Railways emergency-relief train for Winnipeg.

Along with 134 citizens and 20 staff members, the patients are expected here early Friday morning. Some 75 railway maintenance men also were brought out.

About 30 Canadian army personnel, who temporarily stopped the muddy flow through the breach, will fight throughout the night to save the hospital. So far only a "small amount" of water lay in the basement.

The army men used an amphibious Duck and an RCMP yawl to bring patients and civilians to the flooded railhead.

RAILS THREATENED

The Red's water, one day after the crest of the most disastrous Southern Manitoba floods since 1826, was six inches over the tracks. Waves that undermined the hospital dikes threatened to do the same with rail lines.

CNR officials, at a meeting with Rene Jutras, federal member for Provencher, and the townspeople, frankly stated they held out little hope for their line.

They said they would reassemble their equipment, including a heavy piledriver, at Winnipeg to continue the fight against the Northern reaches of the flood.

Morris's "express to nowhere," a nine-car train used to house and feed the remnants of its 1100 population for several days, will be returned to Winnipeg. One dining car and two pullmans will remain for the last few workers.

The evacuees will be housed at HMCS Chippewa here. The patients will go to General Hospital.

Meanwhile in Winnipeg the approaching crest already was being felt.

A half-inch of intermittent rain and heavy snow—more was falling—added to the rise. Many basements were flooded and sewers backed up.

Two subways were flooded and bus-lines rerouted. Some bus routes were cancelled temporarily.

The Winnipeg Electric Company stopped heating all buildings on its huge system East of Main Street. Water rising around boilers in the basement threatened to halt all heating services. It is situated on James Street, two blocks off Main about three-quarters of a mile from Portage and Main.

Fort Garry, to the South, issued a call for 25 men to help hold a dike in Wildwood Park.

City officials in nearby St. Boniface warned householders to "keep someone awake in the house tonight" against backing sewers.

Canadian Pacific Communications' lines to the East were disrupted for half an hour when sewers backed up in their building basement at Portage and Main.

City engineers said the crest, previously predicted for Friday, probably will hit Saturday.

The Red was 6½ feet over its 18-foot flood stage. Engineers said waters might swell another foot. The city has been spending nearly $3000 a day in labor costs alone to battle rising waters.

Other highlights:

1. Premier Douglas L. Campbell said Manitoba does not intend to seek federal aid "until the present emergency is over" and damage can be assessed more completely.

2. Supplies of milk, cream and eggs normally shipped to Winnipeg are piling up in flooded Southern Manitoba towns because of disruption of truck and rail service.

B.C. OFFERS HELP

VICTORIA, B.C., May 4 (CP)—The British Columbia government today offered help to Manitoba in the flood crisis.

Premier Byron Johnson telephoned Premier Douglas L. Campbell at Winnipeg to tell him B.C. is prepared to do everything possible to assist Red River valley flood victims.

WINNIPEG, May 4 (CP)—Army officials announced tonight they are sending three trucks to the South side of the bridge at St. Norbert, Man., in case the bridge falls victim to flood-waters.

The bridge is one of the last links between St. Norbert and Morris, Man.

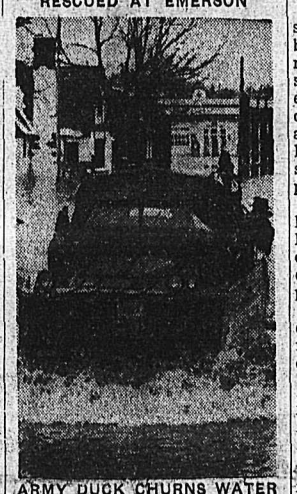
RESCUED AT EMERSON



ARMY DUCK CHURNS WATER

Waterlogged Southern Manitoba is bracing itself for what may be the highest level in 125 years. Already at Emerson, where the Red River enters Canada on its downstream course toward Lake Winnipeg, the reading has topped that record in the 1897 disaster. Not since the legendary flood of 1826 has there been so much water in the valley. Fed by the melting of many unseasonable Spring snowstorm, the Red has risen to 46 feet above datum. As damage mounted in the valley's week-long battle with the relentless Red, the Federal Government promised to investigate the possibility of Federal aid.

Pave Way for Detailed Study Of Gov't Spending

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP) — The Senate today approved a move to bare its operations to a minute inspection by a special group of Senators and to pave the way for a wide, detailed study of Government spending.

The move was initiated by Senator Wishart Robertson, Government leader, who appealed to members to end once and for all the continual "rubber-stamping" of Government money bills in the Senate.

Plan No Immediate Transfer of Doukhobor Children—Turnbull

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — A. D. Turnbull, new Health Minister, said tonight that there will be no immediate transfer of Doukhobor children to the R.C.A.F. hospital at Patricia Bay on Vancouver Island.

"We are getting prepared to take care of the children if necessary," he said, "but there is no indication that any action is needed now.

"We do not know how many children are involved or even if there will be any situation to handle. We do not know that there are any children to be taken care of yet."

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — Negotiations for a new wage and hour contract have been started by the 3400-member British Columbia Telephone Workers Federation (AFL-TLC), it was learned today.

Secretary William Docharty of the B. C. Telephone said "multiple demands of the huge union bars their publication at this time."

PREPARE B.C. FLOOD PROGRAM

Fear Warm Spell After Continuing Cool Weather

PENTICTON, B. C., May 4 (CP)—Disaster relief and emergency radio communications programs were being prepared today as the threat of floods rose in British Columbia.

Continued cool weather in the Interior is building up a serious flood potential in the Okanagan Valley.

Ernest Smith, Penticton District Engineer of Okanagan flood control, said today that the picture as it now stands "does not look promising.

"If the weather continues cool for the next ten days and then a continuous warm spell is experienced, flooding is almost certain to take place."

Water is being allowed through wide-open control gates at Okanagan River mouth at the South end of Okanagan Lake in Penticton, he said.

Present flow is 700 cubic feet per second. When the heavier run-off begins, the flow will be held at a maximum of 1000 cubic feet per second, the flow estimated by Federal authorities to prevent flooding of the lowlands around Osoyoos and Penticton and at the same time keep Okanagan Lake down to a safe level from Kelownas standpoint.

Should the run-off build up a lake level which cannot be controlled at the 1000-cubic-feet-per-second flow through the dam, flooding of low areas in this city will take place, the engineer said.

No tenders will be called for work on the first stage of the Okanagan flood control project until the run-off has passed its peak, Smith said.

About 200 men have almost completed preparing Penticton Creek which runs through Northeast sector of city, for the expected heavy flow.

City Engineer John Davies estimates that at the present rate, necessary work should be completed in ten days. More than $50,000 has been spent clearing the creek channel this year.

Local radio hams have been alerted to take care of emergency communications and the Red Cross branch is preparing a disaster relief program to care for those made homeless in the eventuality of floods.

Mr. Smith added that "the greatest insurance against flooding in the valley this year will be warm days followed by cool nights for at least the next six weeks."

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., May 4 (CP)—Mass typhoid immunization as a precaution against possible floods got under way in the Fraser Valley today.

Several Strikes Threatening B.C.

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — They're talking strike in the logging camps, construction jobs and cities of British Columbia.

Some 50,000 workers say they will lay aside their tools unless contract agreement is reached. And union heads say time is running short.

With both union and management reluctant to compromise on demands and offers, the situation today rests precariously in the hands of the harassed Labor Relations Board.

Negotiations are deadlocked in the lumber industry, backbone of the province's economy. Also involved are Lower-Mainland construction workers and contractors and in numerous other comparatively minor industries.

Most-crushing blow to B.C.'s economy, of course, would be a walkout of some 35,000 loggers. Members of the powerful International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), they work the logging operations along the Mainland coast and on Vancouver Island.

Before a Mediation Board, which probably will announce its findings this week, is the dispute between 12,000 Lower-Mainland construction workers and the General Contractors' Association. The workers, members of seven affiliates of the Building Trades Council (A.F.L.), demand a wage boost of 15 cents an hour. The Association asks a 10-cent cut.

Already on strike—and they have been for five weeks—are workers of the building supply firms of Evans, Coleman and Johnson Ltd. in Victoria.

The Labor Relations Board is attempting to prevent a strike of 430 linemen here. A similar dispute is hatching in Victoria. In Vancouver, negotiations are stalemated in the case of 1300 civic "outside" workers. All want a pay boost.

Shack Destroyed At Shoreacres

An incendiary fire destroyed a Shoreacres home Thursday. It was the 23rd burning since April 14 laid at the door of fanatical Sons of Freedom. It was the second in the current outbreak to occur at Shoreacres, 15 miles West of Nelson.

The house, which had been converted from a shed, was believed to have ben occupied by the Kinakin family.

A group of 75 Sons of Freedom watched the flames lick through the crude structure until only the charred ruins remained. Members of the sect had planned to March up and down the village, it was said, but dispersed after Provincial Police talked to them.

Police said Thursday that they did know the individuals responsible for the fire and no arrests were made. No strippings occurred during the burning.

The sect have been comparatively quiet during the last few days since the burning of two buildings at Gilpin, near Grand Forks, Sunday.

APRIL NOT AS WARM AS USUAL

April saw the drab Winter turn to Emerald green of Spring and the chartreusse green leaves pop out.

April was not as warm as usual with the temperature only reaching 66.1 degrees on April 20 and dropping as low as 26.3 on April 4. There was even a sprinkling of snow as late as April 22, leaving a precipitation reading of .10.

The expected April showers appeared with a total of 1.44 inches of rain registered during the month.

April mean temperatures were 55.6 and 32.8 degrees.

And in This Corner —

CRANBROOK, B.C., May 4 — There can't possibly be such things as flying saucers, a Cranbrook district farmer has observed. Having completed the formalities of licensing tractor, trailer and truck for a rather simple task of hauling mine props from his ranch to a railway siding, he fell into discussion of the flying saucer flurry.

"Our Government says there aren't any flying saucers," he remarked, "And our Government must know. If there were flying saucers they would have collected licenses for them."

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 4 (AP)—Bill Knight, 15, got a bigger thrill out of play rehearsal at high school last night than the script called for.

In the play, bill is smuggled into a women's dormitory in a trunk.

When he heard his cue all he could do was pound on the trunk. Somebody had shut the lid too hard. It was locked. Nobody had a key.

Other members of the amateur cast telephoned for—and got: an ambulance, a fire truck, a wrecker and a mechanic.

Bill was freed.

"On with the show!" he shouted. But the cast called it a night.

TORONTO, May 4 (CP)—The Police Commission today turned thumbs down on a Date Bureau for Lonely Men.

"A little while ago it was rent a car, now it's rent a woman," said Magistrate R. J. Browne. "This is too dangerous."

Samuel Stirling and Leon Kimel made the unsuccessful application. They said girls from modelling schools would be engaged at $10 a night. The men would have to pick them up at their offices or homes and take them to dinner. The girls would get half the $10 fee.

TORQUAY, Devon, England, May 4 (Reuters)—Torquay Town Council is snobbish about who shall open its first flower show next July.

Movie stars are out and only a member of the Royal Family — Princess Margaret preferably—or a "high personage" will suit.

A suggestion by the Parks Committee that British movie star Margaret Lockwood be invited was turned down unanimously by the city fathers.

Alderman Ted Ely said: "I am a snob where film stars are concerned—they are rather overrated."

Former Mayor L. E. Currey, member of the Arts and Library Committees, said: "It would be a mistake. What you want is someone who knows something about botany."

$100,000 Fire Damage To Vancouver Plant

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP)—A two-alarm fire caused an estimated $100,000 damage tonight to Industrial Engineering, Ltd., largest manufacturer of power saws in Canada.

No one was injured. R. D. Noble, assistant manager, said he estimated the plant will be closed about a week.

The blaze, for which no cause has been determined yet, was confined to one corner of the building.

A 10-year-old school boy, Albert Broadfoot, turned in the alarm while walking past the plant.

Machinist Maurice Baldry first noticed the fire and said he opened the door to "the running room and a sheet of flame came at me."

A night shift of 30 men was working when the fire started. Most dropped their tools and fled.

Resigns Council of Physical Fitness

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP) — Dr. J. B. Kirkpatrick of McGill University has resigned from the National Council on Physical Fitness, it was learned today.

In a letter of resignation, the director of physical education at McGill protested against the lack of Parliamentary interest in the Council's work. He said a bill for revision of the National Physical Fitness Act has not been introduced in the House of Commons.

Mrs. Donald L. Ure, Devoted Youth Worker, Guide Commissioner, Passes

A woman who had contributed much in time, talent and devotion to Nelson District youth, Mrs. Donald L. Ure died early Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ure was honored recently by appointment as Commissioner for Girl Guides of Nelson District. The appointment acknowledged a man-and-wife contribution to the Guiding and Scouting movements that had extended over many years. Her husband, member of the Nelson City Hall business staff, has been District Scout Commissioner for several years.

Evelyn Mary Emeline Dawe, was born May 13, 1903, in New Westminster the daughter of the late Samuel Dawe and Mrs. Dawe, 405 Queen's Avenue, New Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Ure were married at St. Saviour's Church here June 1, 1929, by Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham.

Trained at Vancouver General Hospital, she was a member of the graduating class of 1924. She nursed in Vancouver General Hospital, Royal Columbian Hospital at New Westminster and was a member of the staff of Kootenay Lake General Hospital here as a floor supervisor for three years from 1930 to 1932.

Again during the war emergency she served in the hospital at Nelson in a part-time capacity. Of Mrs. Ure, it had been said that "Her Florence Nightingale pledge was ever vivid before her and came first in matters of emergency or need". In fact it was from her nursing experience that she began her contribution to the Girl Guide movement.

Prior to coming to Nelson, she entered the movement serving as first aid instructor to New Westminster Company. She continued her Guiding activities through her years in Nelson.

Mrs. Ure's death occurred in Kootenay Lake General Hospital after an illness of four years.

Surviving are her husband, Don L. Ure and three children, Beverley, 19, Donalda, 13, and Merrilyn, 8, at Nelson, her mother, a sister and four brothers, Miss Daisy Dawe Harold and Arthur W., all at New Westminster, Dr. Charles at Alert Bay and Ernest at Seattle.

TO BUILD NEW STEPS AT LEGION

A resolution for the construction of new concrete steps at the entrance of the Nelson Canadian Legion building was passed at the general meeting of the branch Thursday night. Work is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $900.

Plans for circular steps leading from the front entrance and curving to meet Stanley Street have been drawn up by the house committee and were accepted by the meeting. The new steps will eliminate the two stairway entrances now leading to the building, and will also eliminate some nine steps.

Construction of the steps is part of the extensive building program planned by the branch.

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — A strike of 15 seamen aboard the Panama flag ship Conosaga is illegal and the strikers have forfeited back pay, Panama Consul Carlos Calzadilla, said tonight.

The Consul said the strike, which involves demand for a pay raise from $80 to $122 per month and 75 cents an hour overtime, instead of the current 25 cents, is a breach of Panama marine law for two reasons.

Before a strike can be called aboard a Panama flag ship a written statement of grievances must be handed to the Consul for mediation between seamen and master. This has not been done.

A strike cannot be called on a Panama flag vessel unless 60 per cent of the crew are in favor of striking after consular intervention has failed.

Tax Relief for Small Businesses

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP)—Genuine small businesses throughout Canada will obtain tax relief under provisions of the 1950-51 budget, James Sinclair, Parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, said today in the Commons.

He spoke as members studied resolutions to bills which will give legal effect to the tax change forecast in the budget brought down March 28.

There was little actual debate. Opposition members sought clarification of the proposed changes and Mr. Sinclair, with the aid of departmental officials supplied the answers.

Mr. Sinclair said that small businesses will benefit from a change in the Corporation Income Tax Act. In the 1949-50 budget the tax rates were decreased from 30 to 10 per cent on the first $10,000 profit. They were increased from 30 to 33 per cent on profits above that figure.

Where the shareholders owned more than one company they could decide which of the companies would enjoy the 10 per cent rate on the first $10,000 profit. During the last year it had been found that the legislation hurt one class of business main in Canada—the man who helped many small businesses to become established and who retained control of them for a while.

Under the present legislation only one of such a group of small companies which had been aided by one or two local men would be able to apply for the 10 per cent rate on profits the other companies would be paying the 33 per cent rate.

Under the new legislation all the small companies will be able to obtain the 10 per cent concession if the one or two local men who put up the original funds do not control more than 70 per cent of the common shares.

The provision will be made retroactive to cover the 1949 taxation year, said Mr. Sinclair.

Mr. Sinclair said private companies—described as those with 75 shareholders or less—can benefit from another change in the tax laws. The provision would be particularly helpful in cases where private companies are winding up business.

Under the present low the entire volume of undistributed profits of a private company must be assessed as income of that year when a company is winding-up business.

The government decided to give the private companies an opportunity to pay now a 15-per-cent tax on their profit undistributed at the end of 1949. If this was done the remainder of the profits after taxation could be distributed later "tax-free."

If a company paid the 15-per-cent tax now all shareholders would be protected in the event that the principal shareholder died and affairs of the company had to be concluded.

Spawning Pickerel Are Ticklish

It's easy to catch a pickerel at spawning time. Just reach under his (or her) tummy, tickle gently, and the fish is so pleased you can lift him right out of the water. That is what Helen Miller, of Carleton Place, Ont., did to have this photo taken. The pickerel was put back in the river, however, as the season doesn't open until May 13 in Lanark County.—Central Press Canadian.

Fire Truck Crashes Into Rear of Bus; No One Injured

VANCOUVER, May 3 (CP) — Twelve passengers on a B.C.E.R. bus narrowly escaped death tonight when a fire truck crashed into the vehicles' rear, skidding it 50 yards.

None of the passengers were hospitalized.

Driver Johnny Stark manoeuvered his vehicle to a stop in a narrow lane.

Another 10 yards it would have crashed into a parked car and through the service station office where attendants were eating supper.

"It happened so quickly," said passenger Miss R. O. Brien, (3408 West 39th) "that I don't think anyone realized what had happened. I didn't hear the fire siren."

The fire engine was going to call at Industrial Engineering. Other passengers said the first they were aware was a sudden "thud" and the bus suddenly seemed to swerve.

Driver Stark said he was almost through the intersection before he saw the fire engine and he "stepped on the juice."

He declined to state when he heard the fire siren.

B.C. Electric officials investigating praised Stark for "his cool judgement and rapid action in averting what might have been a major disaster."

Labor Increases Voting Majority

BRIGHOUSE, Yorkshire, England, May 4 (Reuters) — The Labor Government today increased its effective voting majority in the House of Commons to nine by holding Brighouse in a parliamentary by-election.

L. J. Edwards, the Labor candidate, polled 24,004 votes against 23,567 for the combined National Liberal and Conservative candidate, Maj. W. E. Wooley.

The result was announced after a recount demanded by Wooley because of the narrow majority of 437 votes.

The victory increases Prime Minister Attlee's over-all majority in the House of Common to seven, but because two Irish Nationalist members returned at the general election have not taken their seats, his effective majority will be nine.

Mayhew Favors All Canadian Gas Line

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — Fisheries Minister Mayhew said in an interview today that "if one fellow says he can build an all-Canadian natural gas line, there's no reason why others couldn't."

The Minister, who arrived in Vancouver on his way to an Australian meeting on Asiatic problems, said he favored an all-Canadian route and thought it would be the one finally selected.

He said it would appear "there's a lot of jockeying around being done by Commons members. The boys all want the same thing—to see that British Columbia gets the best deal out of it she can possibly get."

"We are even prepared to pay some price to have it built in Canada, but I'd like to know what the price is before I'd say it must be built here," Mr. Mayhew said.

By "we" he said he meant the Canadian gas consumer who would pay something in capital costs, and so many cents per cubic foot of gas.

In his opinion there are only two possible routes for the line—either the Yellowhead or Crow's Nest routes.

The Crow's Nest route has the Pincher Creek block of oil at its mouth. The Yellowhead way has the Edmonton district block.

Jets To Stage Aerial Show In Washington

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP) — Canada's two new jet planes are going to get their chance to show off their sleek lines before high United States officials.

Defence Minister Claxton today announced that the R.C.A.F.'s all-weather CF-100 fighter and the commercial transport Avro jetliner will put on a demonstration in Washington Tuesday, May 9.

Senior officers of the United States Air Force and senior U.S. Government officials are expected to attend the aerial show to be staged in Washington's Andrews Field. The two aircraft, both manufactured by A. V. Roe Canada Limited, in Malton, Ont., will fly to the American capital during the weekend, Mr. Claxton said.

SIGNIFICANT SHOW

Showing off of the latest Canadian jet developments in the U.S. has unusual significance, since the U.S. Government already has made known its intentions of considering a foreign-built, jet-powered commercial transport for scheduled operation tests over U.S. airline routes.

Attending the Washington demonstration will be Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, Chief of the Air Staff, and three officials of A. V. Roe Limited.

The CF-100 will be flown by W. A. Waterton, test pilot from Camrose, Alta. The jetliner will be flown by Don Rogers, chief test pilot for Avro.

Britain to Spend $7,000,000 on Can. Aluminum

WASHINGTON, May 4 (CP) — Marshall Plan aid to Europe now has reached the nine-billion dollar mark. This figure was reached this morning when the Marshall Planners in Washington approved a grant of more than 15-million dollars to Britain.

Seven-million dollars of this credit will be used to buy aluminum in Canada. The balance will be used to purchase petroleum from Latin America and the Middle East.

The multi-billion dollar E.C.A. program was started two years ago.

The London County Council was constituted under the Local Government Act of 1888.

Order Forbes Released From Jail

VICTORIA, B.C., May 4 (CP) — Appeal Court today ordered John G. Forbes, Burnaby, Secretary-Treasurer of the National Council of the Woodworkers Industrial Union of Canada, released from Oakalla jail pending his appeal on May 16 against a contempt of court committal.

Forbes has been held in Oakalla prison since April 25 for failing to abide by a Supreme Court judgment ordering him to return a sum of $11,000 belonging to the rival union, the International Woodworkers of America.

Canada Demands Controls for Her Commodities

TORONTO, May 4 (CP) — Perry Bower, President of the Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association, said today Canadians may expect "further planning of the welfare type." He said it probably will be accompanied "in spite of it" by a rising standard of living.

In a speech at the Association's annual meeting, Mr. Bower, who is also Assistant General Manager and Treasurer of the Great-West Life Assurance Company, Winnipeg listed these "important economic and political changes:"

1. Self-employed business men have become a much smaller percentage of the total working population than they were before confederation.

2. As a community, Canada has become less willing to accept "free market prices for our commodities" and is demanding extension of controls.

3. Government, through progressive income-tax and tax-financed welfare payments, is controlling more income distribution.

4. Government is competing more and more with private industry through its various boards and corporations.

LESS INFLUENCE

These four "instruments for the redistribution of income" had developed largely with the shift in political power.

The Canadian Manufacturers Association and the Chamber of Commerce, for instance, now "have less influence in Ottawa and the provincial capitals" than have the wheat pools and the Canadian Congress of Labor.

It was logical, therefore, that "present-day government intervention, control and operation of sections of the economy will continue."

Briton Succeeds Fuchs at Harwell

LONDON, May 4 (AP)—Britain today appointed a Briton to succeed atom spy Dr. Klaus Fuchs in its top atom research post.

Dr. Maurice H. L. Pryce, 37, was named chief of the theoretical physics Division at Harwell, the Ministry of Supply's Atom City.

Fuchs, German-born but naturalized, was sentenced to 14 years in prison March 1 for betraying secrets to Russia.

From 1941 to 1944 Dr. Pryce was engaged on radar research for the British Navy and in 1944-45 on atomic energy research with Canada's National Research Council at Montreal.

To Join British Merchant Service

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP)—Four more Vancouver freighters now are on their way to the United Kingdom to be operated under British registry.

The vessels are the 10,000-ton Lake Shawinigan, Lake Canim, Lake Chilliwack and Lake Tatla. Their Canadian crews will be repatriated and British crews will take over operation of the vessels.

So far, the transfer of 93 vessels has been approved by the Government. Still owned by Canadian firms, the ships are being transferred to British registry where they can be operated more cheaply.

Community Service Is 'Just Living' To Busy Hobbyist Mrs. R. H. Dill

A native daughter of Nelson who has been prominent in several civic organizations, and whose story writing, poetry and human interest articles have spread her name far, is Mrs. Reginald H. Dill, pictured above.

One of her greatest interests is in the Nelson branch of the Navy League. She is Treasurer of the newly-organized League. Mrs. Dill has the "yen for sailing and the Navy in her blood and just can't stay off a ship." This is probably the reason she and Mr. Dill live aboard the colorful tugboat "Valhalla," which is "landlubbered" atop a sandy beach on the North Shore, directly across the West Arm from Lakeside Park.

The tug has served as an up-to-date, modern home for the Dills for many years. The "Valhalla," a one-time C.P.R. tugboat, was one of the earliest on Kootenay Lake and towed huge barges of ore from Kimberley over Kootenay Lake to Procter in her day.

As a writer, Mrs. Dill's name is familiar in papers and magazines across the country for her stories, human interest articles and poems. One of her most interesting columns, which she maintained for two years, was "Here and There with Lilly Anne," a regular feature in the Nelson Daily News from 1933 to 1935. Her most recent column in the News is "Ship Ahoy!" dealing with the Navy League and Sea Cadet Corps here of which she is an active member and officer.

SPORTSWOMAN

Other articles written by Mrs. Dill have been published in the Star Weekly and Vancouver papers, while a most interesting story of their "ship shape home that doesn't go to sea," appeared in the American Home magazine in 1941.

As a sportswoman, she is an ardent figure skater and has been a member of the Nelson Figure Skating Club for many years. But her activities don't stop there. She has directed and produced several popular ice revues for the club and Nelson audiences as well as Silver Slipper revues. Among the biggest ice shows have been Honeymoon Special, Romance of the Paper Doll, St. George and the Dragon and Winter Wonderland. Tennis and badminton have also found a place on her list of sports activities, and she has even gone down to the bottom of Kootenay Lake in a diver's uniform.

Mrs. Dill's interesting scrapbook which is packed with her numerous articles also contains pictures and stories of work which she undertook untiringly, during the years of World War II. During those years, she was active as Secretary of the Victory Loan campaigns, which alone was a load. However, in addition, she also led sponsorship of the H.M.C.S. Kootenay during those years and had a prominent position on the citizens committee looking after the entertainment of airmen just out of air training school, under the British Empire Air Training scheme. Airmen and officers from England and Australia were often guests aboard the "Valhalla" during the war.

She also undertook Red Cross work, and started the first shop in Nelson. Besides being the first woman to register for war work, Mrs. Dill was also first Secretary of the work committee of the Red Cross during the war.

Handicrafts, the making of perky pine cone birds, is another feature in her rounded schedule of activities. She goes no further than her front lawn or back yard for the materials which go into making of her "conifer comicals."

MRS. REGINALD H. DILL
—McGregor Photo.

Some of the names given to her pets are Cocky, Topper, Sir Peacock, Sandy and many others. "These little novelty birds come from the evergreens which shade your own lawn or spice the nearby woods," Mrs. Dill said in one of her articles on the novelty birds. A few colorful feathers, sealing wax, bright dabs of paint and toothpicks, all add up to wide-eyed looking birds, suitable for ornaments in any nook and corner of the house.

Mrs. Dill's numerous activities also take in membership in the I.O.D.E., Silver Slipper Club and the Arthritic Society. One of her newest projects is her collection for the Archives. Acting for the province, Mrs. Dill is busy collecting ancient data and materials of the Kootenay area.

Her parents, George Hunter, and the late Mrs. Hunter, were real old timers, coming here in 1896.

All in all, the color and interest in Mrs. Dill's life are pure entertainment to her. She loves to be busy and useful and feels that being civic minded and ready to help is "just being alive."

Kaslo Council Renews Lease On Millsite

KASLO, B.C., May 4—City Council, at their regular meeting in City Hall Monday, under Acting Mayor E. J. Leveque, granted B. F. Palmer a permit to erect a garage on his property. Mrs. W. F. Moody was granted permission to plant a flower garden on a city lot adjoining her property on Front Street under condition that said flower garden would not interefere with sale of the lot and that the lot must be cleaned up at the end of the season.

The Lambert Lumber Co. was granted a renewal of lease on millsite in Kaslo Bay dated from April 1, 1950, to March 31, 1951.

A letter was read from the Fernie City Council inviting representatives of the Kaslo City Council to a meeting of the Kootenay Association of Municipal Affairs to be held in Fernie May 30.

The council was also notified that the convention of municipal officers will be held in Victoria on June 1 and 2.

The report of the provincial fire marshal regarding classes held March 24 was read and the city clerk was instructed to write a letter of appreciation to the local Volunteer Fire Brigade.

STUDY ESTIMATES

At the close of the general meeting the council studied the estimates for 1950 which will be forwarded to the Department of Municipal Affairs for approval.

Explosion Wrecks Sicilian Factory

CATANIA, Sicily, May 4 (CP)—Fourteen persons were killed and 40 were injured today in an explosion at a chemical factory five miles outside Catania.

The blast occur-ed while workmen were attempting to extract explosive from a store of heavy-calibre aerial bombs. The dead were buried under tons of earth, stones and debris while most of the injured were struck by splinters and flying glass.

The bombs blew up when a workman was taking the caps off one of them in an effort to recover its contents for industrial uses.

Origin of the bombs could not be learned immediately. During the war Catania was an important air base from which Italian and then German planes ranged out to attack Malta and Mediterranean shipping.

The base was subjected to heavy aerial attack itself just before the Allied invasion in 1943. Catania was captured by British troops, with the First Canadian Division encountering some of the heaviest fighting of the Sicilian campaign not far away.

Today's explosion gouged a hole 25 feet deep at the factory and rocked this city of 245,000.

The scene in the city recalled wartime bombings. Fire engines and ambulances raced through the streets littered with broken glass to the factory.

The explosion was believed to have originated in the research section of the chemical works. It disrupted telephone communications.

The president sent the nomination of the State Department protocol chief to the Senate for confirmation.

Woodward, a close friend of the president and a companion on most of his vacation trips, would succeed Laurence A. Steinhardt, killed in a plane crash near Ottawa last month.

WANT TO KEEP AMERICANS OFF BRITISH STAGE

LONDON, May 4 (Reuters)—A campaign to keep American actors and actresses off the British stage will be carried into Parliament next week.

Latest star to run into opposition here is Tyrone Power, cast for the leading role in a London production of the successful American play "Mr. Roberts."

A Conservative Member of Parliament, Anthony M. Marlowe, will ask Labor Minister George Isaacs next week why he has agreed to let Power, 14 other actors and an actress come from the United States to star in the London production, when there is unemployment in the theatrical profession here.

PANAMA FREIGHTER GOES ON STRIKE

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — The 13-man crew of the Panamanian freighter Onosaga went on strike today, protesting "low wages and poor food."

The Onosaga is berthed at terminal dock here.

Agent for the vessel, the Empire Shipping Co., declined comment.

R. Aemmer, Mountain Guide, Leaves Golden With Wife for Switzerland

GOLDEN, B.C., May 4 — First Class Mountain Guide Rudolph Aemmer, serving in this capacity for Canadian Pacific Railway mountain resorts in the area for the past 41 years, has left with Mrs. Aemmer for their former home at Interlaken, Switzerland, for a holiday. On holiday he intends to climb some Swiss mountains. He also plans to visit his brothers at their old home.

He came to the mountain resort in this district in 1909 and has been guiding continuously since then except for a trip back to Switzerland in 1912 to obtain his first class guiding certificate and marry. Requirements for this certificate of high-standard are three years as porter in guiding, three in second class guiding on difficult specified climbs and special knowledge in first aid and map reading.

During his long career here including his final climb last Fall when he guided two doctors from the Mayo Clinic at Rochester he never lost a climber, though some of his parties did get into difficulties on occasions.

Doubling for the late John Barrymore in a cinema production, "Eternal Love" in 1928, he put on a good facsimile however. The production ended with an avalanche swallowing the mountain-climbing lovers of the picture.

Both he and Mrs. Aemmer have been active in many organizations of the Golden district during their long residence, and several parties and presentations preceded their departure on the trip to their homeland.

Budget Boredom New To British Commons

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 4 (CP)— Judged strictly on its entertainment value, Britain's 1950 budget was a flop.

If the speeches get any duller, future chancellors of the exchequer may have to play to empty houses.

Budget day used to be regarded as the most exciting event of the Parliamentary year. It was always a sell-out spectacle. But the recent practice of prefacing the actual tax changes with a lengthy review of Britain's economic position is not to everyone's taste.

This time, there were all the time worn trappings of a great occasion —the Chancellor's dispatch box, which few writers can refrain from calling battered; the glass of orange juice to refresh a speaker celebrated for his austerity; the massed crimson benches, filled to overflowing, and the crowded, expectant galleries.

HARD TO TAKE

But it didn't come off. After Sir Stafford Cripps finished the first hour of his address, members stirred restlessly,

After two hours, with the real news of the speech still to come, some Parliamentarians began drifting out of the Chamber.

Observers of all political colors found the 2½-hour speech hard to take.

Several members detected what they called a "schoolmaster's chant" in the economic statement. There were chuckles from the House when the Chancellor reminded his audience that "saving is the opposite of spending."

One of the Chancellor's supporters echoed this idea. J. P. W. Mallalieu, Labor Member for Huddersfield East, wrote in the left-wing tribute:

"As his review of the country's external economic position proceeded, I seemed to hear the tic-toc of the school clock and to hear the drowsy humming of a lawn mower on the school field outside."

Budget boredom even afflicted the editorial writer of the independent Times. He started a sentence with:

"Brooding over the bleak and barren budgetary scene . . ."

INVITES MOTHERS, GRANDMOTHERS TO 28TH ANNUAL COMMEMORATION TEA

NAKUSP, B. C., May 4 — To commemorate her own mother's birthday on "May Day", Mrs. Ralph Islip again entertained at a grandmothers' tea.

In 1922, when Mrs. Islip returned from a visit to her home in England, she said she was feeling particularly lonely for her home and friends, and as May 1 came around she decided she would entertain someone else's mother. This has become an annual event. For 28 years several of the grandmothers of 1922 have never been absent.

Notable Monday were the great-grandmothers present. Mrs. J. Parent, herself a great-grandmother, sang "Galway Bay" with Mrs. G. P. Horsley at the piano. Mrs. M. Embree sang "One Fleeting Hour". Mrs. Horsley delighted the gathering with several piano selections.

Mrs. E. C. Johnson presided at the tea table, which was effectively centred with a bouquet of Spring flowers intermingled with fernery, arranged in a silver basket. Completing the appointments were yellow tapers in silver holders.

Serviteurs were Mrs. A. N. Cowan, Mrs. R. McWhirter and Mrs. M. Embree. Daffodils were in profusion throughout the reception rooms.

Present were the hostess, Mrs. Islip; Mrs. George Keys, Mrs. Stanley Crowell, Mrs. J. Parent Sr., Mrs. A. N. Cowan, Mrs. R. McWhirter, Mrs. G. P. Horsley, Mrs. R. H. La Rue, Mrs. A. E. Fowler, Mrs. G. H. Gardner, Mrs. M. Embree, Mrs. A. Howitt and Mrs. E. C. Johnson.

Toronto Favors Better And Bigger Weddings

TORONTO (CP) — With orange blossom season just around the corner, a timely glance at wedding styles shows a trend toward bigger, splashier ceremonies.

The old family-type ceremony is fast disappearing. Now 100 to 150 guests attend the average formal wedding, which costs the bride and her family $500 to $600—and often plenty more.

Evening ceremonies are becoming increasingly popular, too, especially on hot summer days. The twilight weddings are also more convenient for the increasing number of out-of-town guests.

For a Saturday occasion, reception hall reservations are made five months to a year ahead of time, and cost $25, with engraved invitations for 150 guests taking another $30.

Want some luxurious touches? Shell out upwards of $30 for a canopy and anything from $225 up for a bar serving a wide variety of liquor and champagne. Some have three to eight piece orchestras playing at union rates. Provision of a wedding display table and arrangement of gifts will take care of a further $25.

But you don't have to follow the trend. Wedding authorities say you can have a simple informal ceremony with eight to 10 guests for $50. That doesn't include spiked punch.

BABY-SITTERS INCORPORATED MEANS OUTINGS FOR HOUSE-TIED PARENTS

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—"Baby-Sitters Incorporated" spells time off for "baby-blessed" married couples in the Kitchener-Waterloo area and it means extra funds for middle-aged women in the district. But for 17-year-old Rose Ann Norrie who has been partially-crippled since birth, it is a real thrill as a new vocation.

The venture started with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ritzer who operate a nursery. They received so many calls for sitters that they decided to fill the need with a sitters' agency.

Accordingly Mr. Ritzer asked the Rotary Club to suggest a handicapped person to manage the agency—Miss Norrie got the job.

Baby Sitters Incorporated is designed to act as "middle-man" between sitters and "needy" families. But before being accepted applicants are interviewed and screened in an effort to instil a feeling of confidence in the parents. The agency also protects the sitters by refusing requests from homes that have previously been proved undesirable.

Miss Norrie acts as correspondent for the organization and she collects the registration fee and commission from which the bureau derives revenue.

So far the scheme is in its initial stages but already there has been a heartening response from clients. One assignment provided a sitter with work every afternoon for a week and expectations are that demand will grow as the operation swings into high gear.

Say Baby Bonuses Used To Pay Rent

HALIFAX, May 4 (CP)—A Committee of the Nova Scotia Legislature was told today that family allowances are being used to pay rent because fathers spend their money in taverns.

The Legislature's Law Amendments Committee was holding a public hearing on a Bill that would allow liquor plebiscites in rural districts. Present law provides that only whole municipalities can conduct such votes.

Mrs. E. P. Webber, Presbyterian Secretary of the United Church of Canada for Halifax District, said the proposed change would breed intemperance. Social workers had found that "baby bonuses" are being abused because of taverns.

Forbes Thrasher, representing the Nova Scotia Innkeepers' Guild, supported the legislation. He said beer and wine in hotels are necessary to develop the tourist industry.

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP) — Retail merchants here are disputing whether stores should close on Mondays or Wednesdays during the tourist season.

It is a multi-colored, pleated column of silk print with a fan-shaped collar. The silk is patterned in a Chinese fan motif.

Hams for England? The Money's More Useful Says Nelson Visitor

Mrs. Nelson housewife should think twice before she sends a food parcel costing her anywhere from $5 to $20 to that sister or cousin in England.

Better she send the money, according to Roy Pollard, District Water Rights Engineer, who returned Thursday from a six-week holiday trip to the country of his birth.

"I'm against this business of sending a great hulking ham to people there," he said.

"Unless they have refrigeration, what are they going to do with it?" It just disturbs the regiment of their lives.

"They accept the food parcels because they think we're rolling in money," he said. "Actually, while their income is about two-thirds of ours, the costs of living are about the same."

A good number of food commodities are cheaper in England than in Canada, Mr. Pollard noted.

OR NYLONS

So the best bet, he thought, was to send money to England, where cigarettes, for instance are 52 cents for 20 and other luxury items are subject to heavy purchase taxes. Money, that is, or nylons, which are particularly scarce and dont cost an exorbitant amount to mail from Canada.

Mr. Pollard stayed with two sisters, one in London and another in Blackpool, and with Mrs. B. Dyball, mother of a well known Nelson woman, Mrs. Frank Drew. He also visited Mr. Drew's brother. Col. H. D. Drew.

As the petrol allowance is three gallons a month, Mr. Pollard saw few private cars on the highways, but trucks and buses galore. He saw the most cars dotted on acres of ground, ready for the export market.

As a member of Nelson Rotary Club, Mr. Pollard extended greetings at meetings he attended in Blackpool, Exeter and London. One of the five London clubs whose meetings he attended presented him with a pennant.

"The Rotary Clubs there greet one with open arms," he said. "Remembering the things Canada did for Britain during the war, they make a great point of welcoming visitors from abroad, especially from Canada and the United States."

Mr. Pollard's interest in the theatre (he is active in Nelson Little Theatre) led him to a number of plays. He also attended several concerts, and one by pianist Rudolph Serkin, on Sunday night.

The proximity is because Mr. Pollard flew home and to England, and hailed the trips by air as a "grand experience." He stopped at Montreal to visit his wife's relatives both going and coming.

ELIZABETH JANE ANDREWS, FORMER NELSON GIRL, MARRIED IN SPOKANE

Miss Elizabeth Jane Andrews, who spent her childhood days here, and the daughter of J. T. Andrews of Nelson, became the bride of Kenneth R. Wesseler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Wesseler of Seattle in an informal ceremony in candlelit Francis Lester Hotel in Spokane.

Dr. Paul Calhoun of First Presbyterian Church officiated.

The bride was gowned in an afternoon dress of white organza with cut-velvet pattern. The soft, rolled collar, high at the nape of the neck, graduated into a deep V; the bodice was tight-fitting and the skirt full. Her mitts were of self-matching material.

Her bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis, and in her hair was a tiara of fresh blooms.

Mrs. Edmund Patrick Codd was matron of honor, and Miss Kitty Clausen, bridesmaid. Robert B. Jay was best man, and Walter R. Wesseler and Mr. Codd ushered.

Guests attending the reception numbered about 125.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesseler will make their home in Lamont, Wash., where the groom is with the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railway Company.

Nelsonites attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Fink and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Foster.

Dean Leadbeater, Degree Recipient, Honored by Club

DEAN T. L. LEADBEATER

Welcomed on his return from Regina, where he had conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity, was Very Rev. T. L. Leadbeater, D.D., Anglican Dean of Kootenay. The welcome was given at the Hume Thursday night by the Kiwanis Club, of which Dean Leadbeater is padre.

The ceremony took place at Convocation April 27 at St. Chad's Theological College. Mrs. Leadbeater attended.

In responding to congratulations tendered by the club, Dean Leadbeater, rector of St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral, gave a humorous account of their return to Nelson by car, for during the trip they encountered some severe snowstorm conditions in Montana.

The club also enjoyed two vocal selections by Ralph Lewis, well-known young Nelson singer and elocutionist, who won the junior elocution championship class and the Wood Vallance Cup in the recent Kootenay Musical Festival. He sang Schubert's "To Music" and "The Skye Boat Song," accompanied by F. E. Wheeler.

Another guest was J. A. Hill, Nelson amateur radio operator, who recently was host to Nelson Kiwanians when they took part in a short-wave radio inter-club meeting with Idaho and B.C. clubs.

Organization of a work party to prepare the site for the Peace Marker ceremony at Nelson June 4 was made.

Must Conserve As Well As Develop Resources

No country has more natural resources per capita than Canada. Few countries, on the Governmental level, have done less in the way of planned development. George Drew, Conservative leader, is on the right track when he urges a proper development of our resources. It is not enough to leave a task of this magnitude, and of such importance to our country, to private initiative without any Governmental guidance.

But it must be a double-edged program. Entire emphasis must not be placed upon opening up new mines, drilling new oil wells, or cutting down more trees. If it is necessary to develop our natural resources, it also is necessary to conserve them.

In the past we have been too prodigal. In respect to our forest wealth "exploitation" would be a correct term, too often, than "development". A development which is designed only to make most money possible in the least time, without regard to the future, is about as bad as no development at all.

Governments have been derelict in this way also, particularly some Provincial Governments, including those of Ontario. Timber limits were granted sometimes in a scandalous manner, with the rights abused by cutting and slashing and ruining forest areas. Governments should promote the orderly development and use of our resources. Equally, they should protect these resources.

The Joyous Season

With houses costing what they do today, with taxes what they are and going up, the advantages of owning one's home may seem problematical—but not, at this season, to the man who owns one.

It is something to see the pride and enthusiasm with which home-owners are surveying their estates these evenings and weekends, especially in the newer areas where much is to be done. The chap with a new house contemplates his back yard and sees not the mud and rubbish, but a place of grass and flowers and shrubs. Here he will put his rose garden, there a perennial bed, and with the eye of faith he sees it as good as done. There he will build a flagstone terrace with tall trees to give it shade; here is the exact spot for a clump of lilacs or a kitchen garden or a bed of annuals. The mind pictures something right out of the seed catalogues.

So the home-owner rakes and shovels, digs and plants, in great contentment because he is doing something for himself and because it is the sort of thing most of us enjoy doing in the Spring. A tidy lawn and well-kept grounds do not just happen—they represent careful planning and much hard work. But it is work that has its rich reward in the satisfaction of accomplishment, in the joy of making something useful or beautiful grow where previously there was nothing, and that is what the owner gets for his money which the tenant never can have.

Spring in Paris

By DOROTHY WADDINGTON

PARIS (Reuters)—Opening of the buds on the horse chestnut trees which line the Champs-Elysees is the signal for every Parisienne to think of her Spring wardrobe.

And for the traditionally smart Parisienne, this is indeed a carefully planned venture. In all budget groups, the new Spring wardrobe consists of one of possibly two dresses and a suit or a coat, depending on the last season's purchase.

Parisian women fall roughly into three shopping groups.

The first is "chateau madame"; next there is the housewife; and finally, the working girl. Here is how each goes about it:

Chateau madame dresses at one of the top (hautecouture) fashion houses. Although a steady client of one house, she will undoubtedly first do the rounds of all the top collections.

Then, in the setting of luxurious grey carpets and crystal chandeliers, she makes her choice of the best which Paris dressmakers have to offer. She generally buys her suits in one house and her evening clothes in another.

The housewife: She starts her shopping with visits to as many collections as she can get invitations for.

For her, to get an invitation becomes something of a problem, and it is first a matter of calling upon all her friends who might have an acquaintance in the fashion house.

Once inside, each line she sees at the collection has to be applied to her last year's wardrobe—the black dress which can be brought up to date with white organdy cuffs; last year's hems that must be shortened this year.

"LITTLE DRESSMAKER"

Combining ideas from the collections and a good fashion magazine, she arrives at roughly the style she wants. The next step is a visit to her "little dressmaker".

By taking the sleeve from one dress seen at Faith's, perhaps the corsage of another at Dior's, and still another line from a dress seen at Piquet's, a new design is made up. The finished product is always a personal one, and the cost about 4000 to 12,000 francs (roughly $12 to $36).

These "little dressmakers", who serve the not-so-rich, are a group by themselves. Working in tiny apartments or with dummies set up in the corner of their salons, they turn out beautiful examples of French workmanship.

The working girl: Hers is a completely different problem. The time factor is important, and she spends precious time reading her favorite fashion magazines.

The French magazine carefully and thoroughly analyzes all the new lines. These magazines, coupled with the complete reports of the collections in the newspapers, act as her personal fashion service.

Next she starts to look at small stores which carry ready-made dresses. The piece-goods department receives considerable attention, too—with a view to a new blouse made to order, or possibly a skirt.

The average salary of a secretary is about 18,000 francs, or $22.50, a month. The purchase of the smallest article is tremendously important. A tailor-made blouse, for example, will cost her about 1200 france (about $3.50) at a department store.

Orchid Industry

The Australian orchid industry is booming again. Not since the lush years of the American G.I. invasion has the future looked so promising for the many amateur and professional growers. Australia's Summer is America's Winter, and in those months thousands of lovely blooms are air-freighted across the Pacific weekly to markets in New York, San Francisco and Chicago. Busy forwarding agents in Sydney, however, report they are not able to supply a fraction of the total oversea demand.

Most growers concentrate on the cymbidium orchid, which is less delicate and easier to grow than some of the more exotic varieties. Even so, these flowers, which return about 1/6 to 2/ each from export, can be produced only after four years of tedious and patient care. Overseas the period is at least seven years. Sydney enthusiasts maintain that within a radius of 100 miles of their city exist the most favorable climatic conditions in the world for the cultivation of cymbidiums.

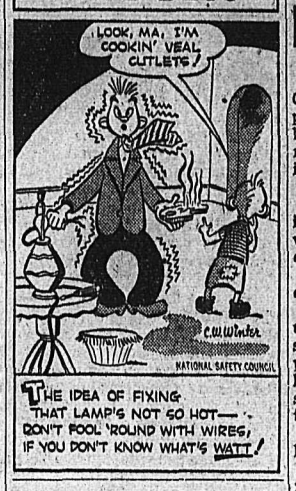
SAFE BETS



Force Elderly Man To Open His Safe

FRESNO, Calif., May 4 (AP)—Three well-dressed gunmen who made themselves at home while waiting for their victims forced a wealthy retired pawnbroker to open his safe and took more than $130,000 in stocks, bonds, jewelry and cash.

Harry Rose, 63, and his wife were out late yesterday when the trio entered their plush residence in an exclusive North District. So the men took several small but expensive household items, then settled down with beer and sandwiches from the refrigerator and mixed cocktails from the liquor cabinet.

POUNDED HEAD

The three greeted the Roses with guns drawn, knocked out the pawnbroker with a gun butt, dragged Mrs. Rose into the house, and ordered her to open a wall safe. When she pleaded she did not know the combination, the gunmen pounded her head against a wall.

Convinced she was telling the truth, the robbers dragged Rose into the house, revived him, and forced him at gunpoint to open the safe. They then tied up the couple with an electric cord and fled with their loot. Mrs. Rose freed herself and called police.

Sheriff's deputies said the men took $56,000 in Government bonds, $60,000 in stocks and bonds, some negotiable, about $15,000 in jewelry, 19 $20 gold pieces and several thousand dollars in cash.

E. German Paper Misquotes Stalin

BERLIN, May 4 (AP)—The East-German Communist Party newspaper, Neues Deutschland, today publicly confesses to an "unforgivable mistake"—misquoting Prime Minister Stalin.

And what a misquote it was!

Yesterday the paper printed Stalin's "12 pre-conditions for the development of a (Communist) Party of the new type."

One of these points, as it came out in print, stated:

"It is necessary for the Party to understand that its leaders must be selected from the best elements of progressive fighters so that it will have genuine representatives of the struggle of the reactionary proletariat."

Today red-faced Neues Deutschland carries a correction:

"Naturally," it said, "we meant revolutionary and not reactionary proletariat."

It adds: "The Editorial Board will take the necessary measures."

Two More Peers Join Liberals

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON, May 4 (Reuters)—Two more members of the House of Lords today joined the breakaway from the Liberal Party—now fighting desperately to maintain its existence in the face of Conservative "wooing."

The peers are the Marquess of Willingdon, 50-year-old son of the former Viceroy of India and Governor-General of Canada, and 40-year-old Viscount Cowdray.

Recently the Marquess of Reading and Lord Rennell left the Liberal Party and crossed over to the Conservatives.

Lord Willingdon and Lord Cowdray have not so far joined them—they have merely broken with the Liberals.

REGINA (CP) — An expectant hush fell over the audience as English adjudicator John Sterling stood up after the last competitor had performed in a music festival here recently. "I hope you'll excuse me," Sterling said, "but I'll just have a cup of tea, then we'll get down to business."

Russians Outfit Chinese Reds, Sovietize Army

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa, May 4 (AP)—Nationalist China's top leaders told visiting American newspaper men today that Russia and Red China are preparing for world war.

The Russians, they said, have thrown planes, warships and men into the fight to knock out the Nationalists, now standing on a few fringe of islands with their backs to the sea.

Gen. Chou Chi-jou, chief of the Joint General Staff, said:

One hundred Chinese Communist divisions are being "Sovietized" in organization and equipment.

Russia has promised the Chinese Reds 600 planes. Already 237 are in the Shanghai area. At least 20 have been identified as jets.

Soviet submarines are using Tsingtao as a base in addition to Dairen and Port Arthur. Russian subs prowl the entire China coast, have been spotted near Shanghai, Formosa and Hainan.

Russia gave the Chinese Reds 34 warships totalling 37,000 tons received from Japan as war prepar ceived from Japan as war reparations.

A total of 23,000 Soviet advisers and technicians are in Red China. Of these 12,000 are with the Army, 8000 with the Navy and 3000 with the Air Force.

REBUILD AIRFIELDS

From the Yangtze River to the Port of Swatow opposite Formosa the Reds have mobilized 6600 motorized craft capable of carrying 100,000 men.

Gen. Fisher Hou of the Defence Ministry said the Chinese Reds have 2,260,000 regulars and 3,420,000 auxiliaries under arms. Russians are supervising the rebuilding of many airfields on mainland China, he added.

Finance Minister C. K. Yen said the Nationalist Government presented Washington without result in March a $50,000,000 aid program. Of this, he said, $30,000,000 was sought to stabilize currency.

Optimistic Over Peace Hopes . . .

Truman Not Worried By Cold War Scare

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — President Truman said today he is not alarmed over the cold war situation and that he expects a lower defence budget next year.

Mr. Truman said the situation is much better now than it was in 1946; that he is optimistic over hopes for peace.

Mr. Truman's press conference remarks were touched off by questions about a speech Senator Tydings (D—Md.) made to the Rotary Club here yesterday. Tydings, Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he feared a war might start "accidentally" at any time.

A reporter told Mr. Truman that Tydings said the United States is close to a shooting war with Russia.

UNDULY ALARMED

The President said he thought Tydings was unduly alarmed if he said that.

Mr. Truman withheld comment on an assertion by Edwin G. Nourse, that the United States is spending too much on armaments.

The President said there was nothing in the international outlook to scare us into putting more money into defence than strategic planning allowed.

Also on the spending theme, he observed that the cost of continuing Marshall Plan aid to Europe is much cheaper than a shooting war.

The President recalled that Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations, had talked to him recently on the hopes of the world for peace.

Asked if he gave Lie a message for Generalissimo Stalin to deliver on his forthcoming visit to Moscow, the President said his meeting with Lie involved just a plain every day discussion.

Pearson Meets Delegates Headed by Dr. Endicott

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson today told delegates representing the Canadian Peace Congress that he was forced to "suspect the good faith of this movement" because it "viciously misrepresented" Canada's stand on atomic warfare.

The eight-member delegation, headed by Dr. James C. Endicott of Toronto, congress chairman, presented Mr. Pearson with a petition asking that the atomic bomb be banned. The delegates said the petition was signed by 128,000 persons.

FELLOW STUDENTS

Mr. Pearson, who went to university with Dr. Endicott, left a cabinet meeting to receive the delegation. The delegation remained with the minister for about 20 minutes and presented him with a three-page brief outlining their stand, together with the petition.

Dr. Endicott also handed Mr. Pearson a typewritten reply to the minister's statement [illegible] the House of Commons last week that statements attributed to the congress chairman while addressing a recent peace rally in Moscow were "beneath contempt." The reply largely reiterated Dr. Endicott's earlier reply on his return to this country from Russia that he did not say anything in Russia which he had no[illegible]d or [illegible] this [illegible] the last year.

Newspaper reporters were not allowed to enter Mr. Pearson's office while he received the delegation, but both the minister and Dr. Endicott spoke with reporters separately following the hearing.

MISREPRESENTATION

Mr. Pearson said the congress had circulated a pamphlet with its petition claiming Canada had voted against banning the atom bomb and therefore had voted to "continue the threat of mass murder."

That statement, said Mr. Pearson, "was a complete and vicious misrepresentation of our position."

"The Canadian Government, with the unanimous support of Parliament, has always favored banning the A-bomb. But we are determined that proper controls will be set up to ensure that the ban can be made to work."

The Russians had used the question of recognition of the Communist government of China as "their excuse for walking out" on talks called to discuss atomic control.

Mr. Pearson also told the delegation that he questioned the good faith of the congress because any time any member at a congress meeting "put forward views not entirely favorable to the USSR they were not given a fair hearing."

Dr. Endicott, who described the interview as "very pleasant," said Mr. Pearson maintained the government is in favor of banning the A-bomb and that the minister had questioned the good faith of the congress.

On the latter point, Dr. Endicott said the congress had "many members strongly opposed to Communism and Russia."

Chicago Blasts Yankees 15-0

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—The meek Chicago White Sox battered the world champion New York Yankees 15-0 today for one of the soundest drubbings ever handed the Bronx Bombers.

To add insult to injury the shellacking was administered by Bob Cain, a young lefthander who gained his start in organized baseball with the New York Giants, across-the-river rivals of the Yanks.

Cain, purchased from Giants' Minneapolis American Association farm by the White Sox last year, blanked the champs on five hits, three of them by little Phil Rizzuto.

The Sox belabored Eddie Lopat and Don Johnson for 23 hits with rookie Jim Busby and Gus Zernial leading the onslaught with four hits apiece.

Chicago salted the game away in the first inning, scoring four runs after the first two batters were out.

Meanwhile, the league-leading Detroit Tigers outscored the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-5.

The strong men in the Tiger triumph were Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers who drove in seven runs between them to enable young Art Houtteman to post his third victory of the season.

Houtteman allowed the A's only five hits but had difficulty in spotting catcher Mike Guerra. The Cuban receiver drove him all of the Aathletics' runs on a three-run homer and a double.

The Red Sox dropped a 5-4 decision to the Cleveland Indians in their own nigh impregnable Fenway Park citadel.

Bob Lemon went all the way for the Indians and won out in the ninth when his battery mate, Jim Hegan, doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice, and scored on Dale Mitchell's long fly to break a 4-4 tie. The run was the third batted in by Mitchell in the game against Mel Parnell who went the distance and suffered his first reversal of the season.

The Brooklyn Dodgers consolidated their berth at the top of the National League's standings by crushing the Chicago Cubs, 10-2, behind Dan Bankhead and Erv Palica.

Brooklyn welcomed starter Walt Dubiel like a long-lost relative, scoring two runs in the first inning and knocking him out in the third with five more.

Bankhead, making his first start, departed in the sixth complaining of a bad right shoulder.

Dodger Captain Pee Wee Reese played in his 1,000th major league game but the celebration was short-lived as umpire Babe Pinelli thumbed the Dodger shotstop out of the game for the first time in his career. The penalty came after Reese tossed his bat into the air on being called out on strikes in the fifth inning.

Home runs decided the other two games in the National League. The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Giants, 3-1, on Nanny Fernandez's two-run homer with two out in the ninth, and Boston Braves crushed the Cincinnati Reds, 12-6, on a quartet of homers.

Larry Jansen went all the way for the Giants against Cliff Chambers. Jansen had a 1-0 lead going into the seventh when Johnny Hopp homered to tie the score and set the stage for Fernandez' clout two innings later.

Earl Torgeson, Sam Jethroe, Willard Marshall and Connie Ryan homered in the Braves' display of power against the Reds. Marshall drove home five runs. Vern Bickford and Bob Chipman divided the Boston pitching with Chipman gaining credit for the victory. Herm Wehmeier, who won a two-hitter the last time out, was the loser.

On night game was scheduled in each league. In the National the Cards entertained the Phils at St. Louis and in the American the Senators played host to St. Louis.

At night, Dick Sisler, batting in five runs with five hits including a homer in five times at bat, led the Philadelphia Phils to a 9-6 National League win over St. Louis Cardinals, while Joe Sotrowski stopped Washington with five hits as St. Louis Browns defeated the Senators 5-1 in the American loop.

Curt Simmons held the Cards to eight hits but all were doubles, one a four-bagger and the other a single. He needed Jim Konstanty's help in the ninth after St. Louis had scored a pair of runs. Four Card pitchers gave up 13 safeties.

Pats Ride Back Into Series With 7-4 Win

By VIC MORRIS, JR.

MONTREAL, May 4 (CP) — Regina Pats kept their Memorial Cup hopes alive here tonight by coming up off the floor with a 7-4 victory over Montreal Canadiens in the fourth game of the best-of-seven Canadian Junior Hockey Championship series.

A crowd of 8100 saw the fighting Pats come from behind a 4-1 deficit midway through the second period and connect for six straight markers and take the contest going away from the Montrealers.

DAVIS HERO

Canadiens who went into tonight's contest with a 3-0 lead in the series put up a stubborn battle but were no match for the Pats who staged a terrific last-ditch stand.

Defenceman Lorne Davis was the hero of the night as he scored three goals and assisted on two others.

Captain Morley McNeil, Doug Little, Gordie Cowan and Merg Bregg accounted for the other Regina goals.

Shifty Art Rose sparked the Montrealers with a pair of brilliant goals while Jacques Nadon and Don Marshall sniped the other.

Although shots on goal were even—27 on Montreal's Roger Morrissette and Regina's Bob Tyler—Pats held a wide edge in play after the halfway mark had been reached in the second stanza.

Fifth game of the series will be played here Saturday night.

Lineups:

Track Dries for Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP)—The old-time Kentucky Derby atmosphere overtook Louisville again today as the sun came out, visitors began pouring into the city, and the names of the three-year-olds which will run in Saturday's $100,000 classic started dropping into the Secretary's box.

The famous racing strip at Churchill Downs, boggy for the past two days, dried fast under the sun rays and promises to be fast by tomorrow if no more rain falls.

This brought extreme joy to the big California contingent. The boys from the West Coast know their pride and joy, Your Host, can fly on a dry track but must only guess that he would have both his speed and staying power in the mud. Virginia bred Hill Prince, the second choice behind Your Host, revels in the slop.

The rival Your Host and Hill Prince camps, which are living in the same stable at the Downs, are so full of confidence and so anxious to get at one another that they practically rushed the entry box together soon after the Racing Secretary's Office opened this morning.

Louisville-owned Black George, surprise winner of the Derby trial Tuesday, was the first colt to be nominated.

Trainer Barnett dropped Black George's name into the box shortly after the Racing Secretary's Office opened.

Then came entries of Your Host, the 2-1 favorite; Hill Prince, 5-2 second choice, and Lotowhite, winner of the Experimental Handicap No. 2 at Jamaica, and Oil Capitol, at 6 to 1.

Man-Made Mountain at Vancouver Planned for Tourist Skiers

By GERRY PRATT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP) — Vancouver's Junior Chamber of Commerce will bring a prefabricated mountain to Mohammed in an effort to put over a courtesy-to-tourists week. What's more, the mountain will be covered with snow.

The mountain, 60 feet high and made of $4000 worth of steel scaffolding, is being built in the park adjoining Kitsilano outdoor swimming pool.

Saturday water skiing, high diving and sailboat races will contrast with daring skiers soaring 80 to 90 feet from the ski jump.

Trickiest part of the promotion will be supplying and maintaining the snow during Vancouver's warm Spring weather. Temperatures for the day are expected to hover around 60 degrees. The only snow in sight is sitting well atop B.C.'s Coast Range mountains which start at Vancouver's doorstep. Skiers take a 20-minute ski-lift to do their jumping there when there are no mountains in town.

But the man-made mountain at Kitsilano on the sparkling shores of Burrard Inlet is less than 10 minutes ride from downtown Vancouver. Across the inlet are the snow-capped mountains.

Ice, 20 tons of it, will be hauled to the beach where a "crusher slinger," used to pack refrigerator cars, will grind and blow until the steel mountain and surrounding beach becomes a penquin's paradise.

It takes over just 100 man hours to build the jump, and can be dissembled in 40 hours. One hour is all it takes to make 20 tons of snow.

Charles Given 90 Days To Mend Ailing Heart

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP) — Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati is a heavyweight champion with an ailing heart and 90 days to mend it or possibly forfeit his crown.

Charles, who won the National Boxing Association version of Joe Louis' vacated title last June, today was adjudged by an Illinois State Athletic Association Medical Board to have "a vascular condition of the heart."

After a three-hour examination ordered by the NBA, Charles was found "not fit for strenuous exercise at the present time." Doctors added in their report, however, that Charles may recover with proper rest and medication. They recommended re-examination in three months.

Simultaneously, Fred Saddy of Milwaukee, NBC President, said the "only righteous and humane thing to do is to recognize Ezzard Charles as heavyweight champion pending the forthcoming examination within 90 days."

Saddy, who attended the examination at the Illinois Commission office, pointed out that the NBA "recognizes Charles made every effort to be a champion worthy of the title. This injury or affliction is beyond his control."

HOGAN LEADS OLYMPIA OPEN

OLYMPIA, May 4 (AP)—Eddie Hogan of Portland — shooting a sub-par 104—held a one-stroke lead in the $1000 Olympia Centennial Open Tournament at the end of the first day of play here today.

The Riverside Golf Club pro shot a 68-36 for the first 27 holes of the 54-hole tournament. His first two rounds were each played in a snappy two-under-par 34.

One stroke back were Bob Duden, Portland amateur, and Chuck Congdon, Tacoma pro, with 105. Duden shot 68-37 and Congdon 69-36 for the 27 holes.

Ernie Brown and Stan Leonard, both of Vancouver, B.C., Irv Parent, Seattle, and Ted Longworth, Portland, were bunched together at 108.

They Love Their Teachers!

Demonstrating not against teachers but for them, 1000 public high school students in New York staged a howling demonstration that led to Mayor O'Dwyer's office. The students, some of whom are shown here being held back by police as they attempted to storm the Mayor's office, were lending support to an increase in wages for the teachers, and were trying to end the ban on the teachers' extra-curricular activities.—Central Press Canadian.

Neighborhood Centres May Eliminate Street Gangs

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP)—For the first time, the two-year-old Community Centres Committee report on the "street gang" problem has been made public.

It deals with the community centre in Vancouver and found that the number of organized street gangs of 'teen-agers was a commentary on the lack of services to young people throughout British Columbia. It said:

"Neighborhood centres would greatly reduce the intensity of this (street gang) problem."

The report, better known as the "Weir Report,' recommended skilled leaders to work with the gangs, and sought use of buildings for their use. Under its finding, the provincial and civic governments would have made financial contributions for the operation of community centres.

The committee was headed by Dr. G. M. Weir, then Education Minister.

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP)—Square dancing took to wheels last night at the Physical Rehabilitation gymnasium here as more than 20 paraplegics swung and wheeled their partners from wheelchairs.

It was the second session of square dancing for the group. The Vancouver Folk and Square Dancing Society started it here after hearing that Edmonton paraplegics had a thriving club, first of its kind in Canada.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP)—Selling forces let loose with some high-powered ammunition late today.

Radio-television issues were the weakest, dropping an extreme of more than five points. Rails, motors and aircrafts lost fractions to about a point.

Chrysler Common gave no immediate response to settlement of the 100-day strike against the common, but dropped late in the day along with the rest of the market. Canadian issues were down.

TORONTO (CP) — Base metals tended lower in an otherwise firmer market. Volume was about 2,100,000 shares. Industrials brightened quietly. Papers and utility stocks showed fraction advances. Steels, agricultures and banks were mixed. Western oils firmed on gains in market leaders.

MONTREAL (CP) — Fractional plus signs predominated near the final hour today. Paper stocks continued to hold the leadership, with base metals also moving higher. Senior oils were on the minus side of the line.

LONDON (Reuters)—London was in a lethargic mood today, and the small amount of business that passed produced but few major movements.

The market in British Government stocks remained quiet, while awaiting the result of the £150,000,000 electricity issue—lists open and close Friday. Prices were steady to occasionally a fraction harder.

Fire Destroys Cobalt Smelter

COBALT, Ont., May 4 (CP) — A $250,000 fire today turned the giant smelter building of the Cobalt Chemical and Refinery Company into a heap of twisted steel.

The blaze ripped through the building before noon and defied the efforts of firefighters for nearly two hours.

In one of Cobalt's most spectacular fires, masses of flame burst from the building and a huge pall of chemically-produced smoke poured hundreds of feet into the air.

Company officials said the fire began about 10 a.m. when a group of workmen were building up the heat in No. 3 smelter. The oil began feeding into the smelter too quickly and the flaming overflow dropped into a barrel beneath.

Loss of the smelter building will not halt production at the company, officials said.

About 90 men are employed at the plant.

British Women Hit Back at American Criticism

LONDON, May 4 (Reuters)—British women today hit back at American novelist Emily Hahn who described them in a London newspaper as "spirited sheep with buck teeth and receding chins" who chased their men unmercifully.

They wrote in to the same newspaper biting criticisms of Miss Hahn—married to a Briton—and the American female in general.

Here are extracts from some of the readers letters:

"There are just as many buck-toothed, chinless females in America as here. The American girl pulls no punches to get her man. She will go farther than telephone calls and parties if necessary. The English girl is a blushing violet by comparison."

"I for one would rather have the English type of looks than the hard-lined face of the typical American woman with all her abundance of artificial aids. There is the freshness of the English woman compared to the hard-boiled, heavily made-up, emancipated American type."

"The English girl as a general rule does not do the chasing. Also she is thrity—the American girl is a spendthrift. She respects her male partner—the American girl dominates hers."

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, May 4 (CP)—The cattle market continued active today on light receipts at the Calgary stockyards.

Hogs sold Wednesday at $25.50 for A grade at yards; sows 17.70 liveweight at yards. Good lambs 26.00.

Good to choice butcher steers 25.75-26.00; common to medium 19.00-25.50. Good to choice butcher heifers 24.00-26.00; common to medium 18.00-23.50. Good cows 19.00-20.00; common to medium 16.00-16.50; canners and cutters 15.00-18.50. Good bulls 19.00-20.00; common to medium 16.00-18.50. Good to choice veal calves 25.00-28.00.

3 Years to Jail For Falsely Obtaining Bonds

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., May 4 (CP)—Aubrey Hancock, 35, today was sent to penitentiary for three years for his part in a $100,000 swindle of Colonial Corporation Ltd., in Toronto. He pleaded guilty to 12 charges of forgery and 12 of fraud.

Paul Imming, formerly of Toronto and Peterborough, still is sought in connection with the case, which police said involved obtaining cash loans on automobiles by misrepresentation. Hancock was arrested in Vancouver early in March.

Jack Douglas, 27, of Toronto, pleaded guilty to being an accessory and was given two years' suspended sentence.

In Best Interests

NANAIMO, B.C., May 4 (CP) — The Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities was told last night the police switch in British Columbia — from the Provincial force to the R.C.M.P. — is in the interests of national security.

"Based on information which I am not at liberty to divulge," said Reeve A. J. Thomas of Esquimalt, "I can assure you that the proposed consolidation is in the best interests of the province."
