Russia Gets New Lease on China Base

Soviet to Use Manchurian Port Until Japan Peace Treaties Signed; China to Govern Railway

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Sept. 16 (Tuesday) -(AP) — The Soviet Union and China announced agreement early today to prolong Russia's lease on Port Arthur in Manchuria until the two countries sign peace treaties with Japan.

The texts of Russian and Chinese notes which ended top-level talks here between Moscow and Peiping that began Aug. 17 were issued this morning by Tass.

The two countries also agreed that Russia would turn over to China full administration of the Changchung railway in Manchuria by the end of this year.

Under Russian-Chinese agreements signed in Moscow Feb. 14, 1950, Russia agreed to get out of Port Arthur and turn the Changchung railway over to China by the end of 1952.

The Chinese delegation, in a note to the Russians, said they were asking that Russia's lease on Port Arthur be prolonged because Japan has no peace treaty with China and the U.S.S.R. and apparently wants none. The Chinese note added:

"DANGEROUS" CONDITIONS

"And conditions have been created which are dangerous to the cause of peace and favorable to a repetition of Japanese aggression."

Four documents were issued:

1. A joint communique on the Chinese-Soviet talks.
2. A joint communique on the Changchung railway.
3. The Chinese note to the U.S.S.R. on prolonging Russian use of Port Arthur.
4. Russia's reply to the Port Arthur request, together with the Soviet agreement on the subject.

No mention was made of the port of Dairen, Manchuria, which was specifically covered by the 1950 agreements. This means that Russia and China are standing pat on article three of those pacts, which provided that the question of Dairen would be taken up "after the conclusion of the peace treaty with Japan."

A.F.L. SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRATS

BY ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP) — American Federation of Labor leaders keynoted their 8,000,000 members today toward all-out political support of the Democratic party — and the first presidential endorsement in their history.

Their goal, outlined to the 71st A.F.L. convention, is repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. A.F.L. president William Green bitterly labelled the labor measure that "obnoxious, dirty Taft-Hartley law."

The law has provisions for injunctions in case of strikes and bans the closed shop.

Green foresaw labor as "a very deciding factor" in the November elections.

And the approximately 800 convention delegates were told they would be "strike-breaking at the ballot box" if they backed supporters of Taft-Hartley — who are chiefly Republicans.

$10 CAR LICENCE FEE TO BE ASKED

VANCOUVER, B.C.—Setting of a standard car licence fee of $10 per year will be discussed with Premier W. A. C. Bennett by a delegation headed by Harry Duker, president, and Frank Bird, secretary-manager, of the B.C. Automobile Association.

Mr. Duker announced that the delegation expected to be in Victoria to interview the premier at an "early date."

Premier Bennett had previously stated he is in favor of a lower car licence fee.

Second Arson Suspect Arrested By Mounties

A second arrest has been made by R.C.M.P. in connection with incendiary fires in the Castlegar-Brilliant area.

Nick Konkin of Brilliant was arrested during the weekend and formally charged with arson in Provincial Court Monday. He was remanded eight days by Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans. R.C.M.P. said Monday Konkin will be charged with "several fires in the Castlegar-Brilliant area."

This is the second arrest made by R.C.M.P. within a week. Paul Popoff of Brilliant was arrested Thursday on suspicion of arson in connection with the deliberate fire of a newly constructed house at Castlegar.

Meanwhile, police are continuing intensive investigation into other incendiary blazes in the Kootenay during the past months.

4 NELSON KINSMEN TO TOTEM PARLEY

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP) — One thousand Kinsmen from all parts of Canada are descending on Vancouver for the "Totemland convention" which opens here Wednesday.

The five-day convention of the all-Canadian service club will feature an "Indian potlach" and five-hour cruise up Howe Sound on the Princess Joan.

Hal Rogers of Toronto, who founded the Kinsmen Club in 1920, is expected to attend.

The president and three members of the Nelson Kinsmen Club are attending the meeting. They are A. K. McAdam, A. Boas, Dr. T. E. Bourque and Fred Leno.

26-Man Committee Starts Union Draft

Move Toward "Eden Plan" in Drive For United Europe

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 15 (AP)—A six-nation constitutional convention today began the task of drafting the basis of a European confederation, with next March 10 as a deadline.

The representatives of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg decided upon a name for their assembly, speedily elected the same slate of officers that will preside over the Schuman Plan assembly and entrusted the actual drafting work to a 26-man committee.

Almost the first action of the assembly was to move a step toward Britain's "Eden Plan" to link all Europe, the powerless debating Parliament of 14 countries and the Saar.

This decision was on a motion of French Socialist Guy Mollet to invite 13 observers from other states of the Council of Europe to take part in assembly and committee sessions except in voting.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for the first time explained his plan to the Council of Europe's consultative assembly.

He said the assembly's action today was in "full accord with the spirit" of his own proposals.

WANTS COUNCIL

He urged, however, that the constitutional assembly, the Schuman coal and steel pool, and the projected European defence community be loosely integrated with the 14-nation council. Britain is a full member of the council but not of the others. Jealous of her sovereignty, Britain did not join the Schuman pool.

The 87 delegates to the constitutional convention decided to call themselves the "Ad Hoc Assembly" because they were given the specific task of drafting a charter for European union by the six-nation Schuman Plan assembly.

Ad Hoc, a Latin phrase meaning "to this", is applied in parliamentary procedure to a group appointed for one specific task.

VERNON MAN IS S. C. LEADER

J. O. Bates of Nelson New Member Of Party Board

VERNON, B.C., Sept. 15 (CP)—L. Hugh Shantz, Vernon grocery store proprietor and member of the Legislature for North Okanagan, has been named the new president of the B.C. Social Credit League, it was learned here today.

He replaces Labor Minister Lyle Wicks who stepped down when he assumed a Cabinet post.

Health Minister Eric Martin, vice-president of the League also resigned his position at a board meeting last Thursday, it was reported, but it is not known who replaced him.

The executive positions are held only till a general convention when the members either confirm the appointments or elect new officers.

J. O. Bates of Nelson, and Ira N. Monson of Vancouver, were added to the board to bring it up to strength.

CALLS FOR REDISTRIBUTION OF SEATS

VICTORIA, Sept. 15 (CP)—Former Lands Minister E. T. Kenney said in an interview here today there should be a redistribution of seats in the Legislature before another general election is held.

He said there has been a 42 per cent increase in British Columbia's population since the last redistribution based on the 1941 census.

Mr. Kenney said there should be another distribution based on the 1951 census, and he also declared there should be a session of the Legislature before an election is called.

"In all fairness the government should test its strength before an election," he said.

Holds Up Bank

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, Sept. 15 (AP) — A lone bandit held up the Idaho Bank and Trust Co., here today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money. Police said the man walked up to a teller's window and ordered the money placed in a sack. He then turned and ran from the bank.

LOGGERS SUPPORT GOV'T INQUIRY

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP) — The British Columbia Truck Loggers' Association today announced its support for a government inquiry into forest policy.

It was reported Saturday that the Provincial Government plans appointment of a royal commission to make the inquiry.

J. W. Balkie, association president, said the royal commission might well work out equitable and efficient operation of the sustained yield policy.

"The primary problem today appears to be the mechanics of establishing tenures, operating regulations, taxation, etc., he said. "On the basis there has been in effect no inquiry into these phases of the problem, another commission of inquiry appears most desirable.

He said the new inquiry should consider collaboration with the Federal Government to facilitate solution of such problems as taxation.

Meanwhile, plans of the Celgar Development Co. Ltd. for construction of a $65,000,000 integrated forest industry on the Arrow Lakes near Castlegar, B.C., are marking time pending a decision of the Cabinet on the company's application for a forest management licence.

Prior to the provincial election the licence was approved by former Lands Minister E. T. Kenney, but decision was appealed by Kootenay Forest Products Ltd., and representatives of mining interests.

It has been requested that the mining operations be guaranteed all of the timber required for any mines to be developed in the district in future as well as for present needs.

Labor Income at $5 Billion Peak

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 CP)— Canadian labor income reached a peak of $5,150,000,000 in the first half of this year and most of the boost was due to higher average earnings.

A record labor income of $889,000,000 in June, the highest monthly total in Canadian labor history, shot up the six-month total, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The $5,150,000,000 figure compared with $4,584,000,000 in the January-June period of 1951, a rise of 12 per cent.

The Bureau said "approximately 10 per cent of the rise in labor income in the first half of this year may be attributed to higher average earnings and the remainder to increased employment."

Sabres Down Nine Migs

SEOUL, Sept. 16 (Tuesday) AP) —Sabre jet pilots reported Monday they shot down eight Communist migs and lured a ninth to destruction while fighter-bombers destroyed three North Korean war plants on the doorstep of Manchuria.

PROGRESS SLOW ON HIGHWAY

Speed-Up Needed To Meet 1956 Deadline

OTTAWA Sept. 15 (CP) — The Trans-Canada highway is emerging as a distinctive $300,000,000 national artery but unless work is speeded it won't be completed by the 1956 target date, Resources Minister Winters said today.

He said 389 miles of new highway have been completed. Although he expected next year's progress to be greater, the present rate of construction would not permit completion before Dec. 9, 1956, when the legislative authority for Federal participation ends.

"That means that the Federal Government and the Provincial Governments will together have to consider whether the work should be accelerated or legislation should be sought at the appropriate time to extend the construction period."

The Minister was speaking to the opening meeting of the second Federal-Provincial Highway Engineers' Conference. The conference, designed to achieve a basis for uniformity in all phases of planning, design and construction, will plan the work to be done next year.

The Minister told the conference that because of defence and other pressures on the construction industry, provinces signing the highway agreement—all but Quebec—have not been pressed to maintain a schedule.

At this time last year total contractural commitments in all signing provinces was $55,000,000. This has increased to more than $79,000,000 are more than 1300. Last year there were road under construction; now there are 000. In 1951 there were 952 miles of paving under way; this has been extended to more than 500.

EXPECTS SURGE IN 1953

He believed that despite the heavy load still faced by the construction industry, progress on highway work next year will exceed that of this year which was the third construction season.

The project, when completed, would "provide a good highway across Canada." The Minister said he was pleased to note that much of it was above agreed standards. This was gratifying because traffic volumes always exceed expectations on new highways.

Wants Job Back . . .

Rails Convention Battleground for McGuire, Mosher

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP) — A knock-down fight between two leaders embroiled the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees' triennial convention today and was still steaming along when sessions broke off late in the day until tomorrow.

Antagonists were James F. McGuire, appealing to the convention from dismissal as national secretary-treasurer of Canada's biggest transport union, and A. R. Mosher, 72-year-old head of the C.B.R.E. and of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

For 2½ hours behind closed doors the 375 delegates representing 32,000 members, heard McGuire call for reinstatement in the union and in his executive job and attack the veteran president for actions during a period of years.

Tomorrow the Mosher forces were to reply after further hearing of McGuire's case.

LIKELY CANDIDATE

The 54-year-old McGuire, long regarded as the likely successor to the presidency of the C.B.R.E., was fired from the union by its executive board last March on charges of insubordination and "vilifying" President Mosher.

Along with the appeal for his reinstatement, he is trying to unseat the president, and he probably would be a candidate for that office if his appeal were allowed.

Following a sometimes-uproarious session today, supporters of both opponents professed themselves heartened by sentiment appearing among the delegates.

Some McGuire backers said the convention was certain later in the week to adopt a constitutional amendment calling for compulsory retirement of C.B.R.E. officials at the age of 65, effective immediately.

That would automatically put out Mr. Mosher—seven years beyond the proposed age limit—but his executive is understood to be backing a plan to have this resolution adopted only to go into effect three years from now. Several C.B.R.E. branches are sponsoring the 65-year proposal.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP) — Registrations of births in Canada were higher in the first six months this year than in the same months last year, while marriages and deaths declined, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

In the first six months, births rose to 191,958 from 188,802 in the January-June period last year. Marriages declined 3.5 per cent to 47,347 from 49,054 and deaths dropped 5.4 per cent to 62,099 from 65,655.

Yellowhead Toll Road Proposed by Gaglardi

$15 Million Highway Suggestion of Works Minister Gets Trade Board Backing; "No Burden" on Taxpayer

KAMLOOPS, B.C., Sept. 15 (CP)—Public Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi has proposed that a toll highway be built through the North Thompson Valley and Yellowhead Pass to the Alberta boundary.

"What I would like to do is borrow $15,000,000 or more and pay it back through the levying of tolls, hence it would be no burden on the taxpayers," he said in a letter to the Board of Trade.

He said British Columbia was already committed to the limit for its present road program and it was impossible to raise money from general funds.

"I would like to make this a paved road," he said. "I feel that the public would definitely use it, maybe to the extent of about 300,000 cars a year or so. I think the toll should be set at about $5."

At a meeting here of representatives of Boards of Trade from Blue River to Chilliwack the proposal was given unanimous support.

A resolution endorsed, however, emphasized that if the road is to be a toll road, it must be a paved highway.

Supporters said the Yellowhead route would provide an all-year highway as throughout most of its length the snow-fall is light. The average depth of snow is less than on other routes through the mountains, it was reported.

U. S. COAL TALKS AT IMPASSE

300,000 Workers to Strike if No Pact by Saturday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) —John L. Lewis grimly reported tonight an impasse in his talks with major coal producers, suggesting prospects for a strike of approximately 300,000 of his United Mine Workers.

Lewis pledged that his Union would not walk out in the Pennsylvania hard coal industry, employing about 75,000, or in most of the soft coal mines West of Ohio, where he estimated an additional 70,000 work.

But as for the remainder of the coal industry, Lewis' first public report on a month of hush-hush negotiations was pessimistic.

The U. M. W. contract with Northern soft coal producers expires on Saturday, leaving them free to stay away from the pits next Monday under the traditional Lewis policy of "No contract, no work."

"MOST DISTURBING"

The Mine Workers' chief told newspaper men he had reached a tentative agreement last Monday with Harry M. Moses negotiator representing the Northern soft coal producers, but this accord was reected at a meeting of mine operators in Pittsburgh last Wednesday.

This reection by the operators, Lewis said, was "most disturbing, most unstabilizing, distinctly unfortunate."

After a closed-door session with his 200-man policy committee, Lewis said "it is the position of the United Mine Workers of America that the settlement must be the agreement reached between Mr. Moses and myself, or the equivalent thereof. We assume (the operators) are counselling among themselves. We await their further pleasure."

Coldwell Calls for Health Scheme

CAMPBEL'S BAY, Que., Sept. 15 (CP) — M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, tonight urged the Federal Government to introduce a national health insurance program at the "earliest possible moment."

"Canada has never been in a more favorable position to undertake a national health insurance plan than it is today," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at a public meeting in this town 40 miles Northwest of Ottawa.

He called for a "complete medical and hospital program which will adequately meet the needs of the Canadian people,' and added:

"The recent decision of Ontario to enter into a tax agreement with Ottawa has removed still another of the excuses the Liberal Government used for years to explain its failure to introduce a national health insurance plan."

The government had indicated in 1948 that health insurance would be introduced as soon as agreements were signed with most of the provinces.

Truman Accepts Resignation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) — President Truman today accepted the resignation of Cyrus S. Ching, 76, director of the Federal Mediation Service, and appointed David L. Cole to succeed him. Ching is a native of Red Point, P.E.I.

Cole, of Paterson, N.J., has served several times on special federal boards dealing with labor matters.

Ching called on Truman last week and said at the time that he hoped to resign as head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service when Truman could find a successor.

Convicts Break With Guards' Truck, Guns

KENNEWICK, Wash., Sept. 15 (AP) — Five convicts of a party of 11 being taken to state prison overpowered their two guards and took their panel truck and weapons near here today.

The break occurred near Kiona, 15 miles West of Kennewick. The six other prisoners were understood to have refused to join in the escape.

The names of the escapees and the guards were not immediately available. The men were believed to have a sawed-off shotgun and two pistols in their possession.

DOLLAR UNCHANGED

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (CP)—The Canadian dollar was unchanged at a premium of 4¼ per cent in terms of United States funds in closing foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was up ⅛ of a cent at $2.78¼.

Safe From Cafe Theft Here Found in Slocan

Two hunters, seeking deer in the Slocan, stumbled on a battered safe, identified by police as the one carried from the Club Cafe here September 2.

Dr. R. Walley and G. Fowler were on a hunting trip when two and a half miles North of Crescent Valley they struck off the highway about 9 a.m., and came upon the 400-pound safe, lying in the brush, 100 yards from the road. No attempt had been made by the thieves to conceal it.

The bottom of the safe was torn off. Police found a number of checks and some silver strewn about in the brush. Nearly $2000 cash was gone.

City Police Sergeant R. R. House and R.C.M.P. identifications officer Constable Roger Brett went to the scene to conduct investigations, along with Constable Tobiason of Crescent Valley who had been notified of the find by the hunters.

Police said Monday it was possible to drive an auto to the spot where the safe was found.

Shortly after the robbery, police said at least four men must have taken part in the crime. The safe had apparently been lifted bodily and carried from the front of the Cafe on Baker Street to the alley at the rear where it was loaded onto a vehicle.

SHORT RATIONS QUELL RIOT

TORONTO, Sept. 15 CP)— Some prisoners at the Don jail were put on short rations for a time last week to head off a planned riot.

This was made known today by Col. Hedley Basher, deputy minister of reform institutions and temporary governor of the jail.

He said unrest developed at the jail after the escape of Edwin Boyd and three members of his gang last week.

"We merely showed the prisoners that they did what we wanted them to do, not what they wanted to do," said Col. Basher. "We had reason to believe there was a demonstra*tion planned for Thursday in the* dining room, so to avoid this we fed the prisoners in the corridors off tables covered with tablecloths."

The Royal Commission inquiry into the escape of Boyd, Leonard Jackson, Steve Suchan and William Jackson will start Wednesday.

Said Attorney-General Dana Porter today:

"It will be as wide open as it is humanly possible to make it. Anyone who wishes to appear and give evidence will be heard. We will take suggestions offered from any source and follow them down as far as possible."

Mrs. Edwin Boyd, facing a conspiracy charge in connection with a previous jailbreak by her husband, today was remanded to Sept. 23 on $1000 bail.

Face Heavy Losses . . .

Apple Pickers Needed In Okanagan

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 15 (CP) —Okanagan Valley growers face losing approximately 1,000,000 boxes of apples unless sufficient orchard workers are found, National Employment Service officials reported today.

Officials made this estimate as they sent out pleas for at least 50 skilled apple packers, required "immediately," and about 200 apple pickers.

Kelowna and Rutland high school students currently are helping to pick the apple crop.

Naguib Promises February Election

BY GILBERT SEDBON

CAIRO, Sept. 15 (Reuters) — Premier Mohammed Naguib today asked his public for six months to carry out his program of social and economic reforms.

At the end of the time the people will be able to judge his strongman government for themselves. He has promised elections for next February.

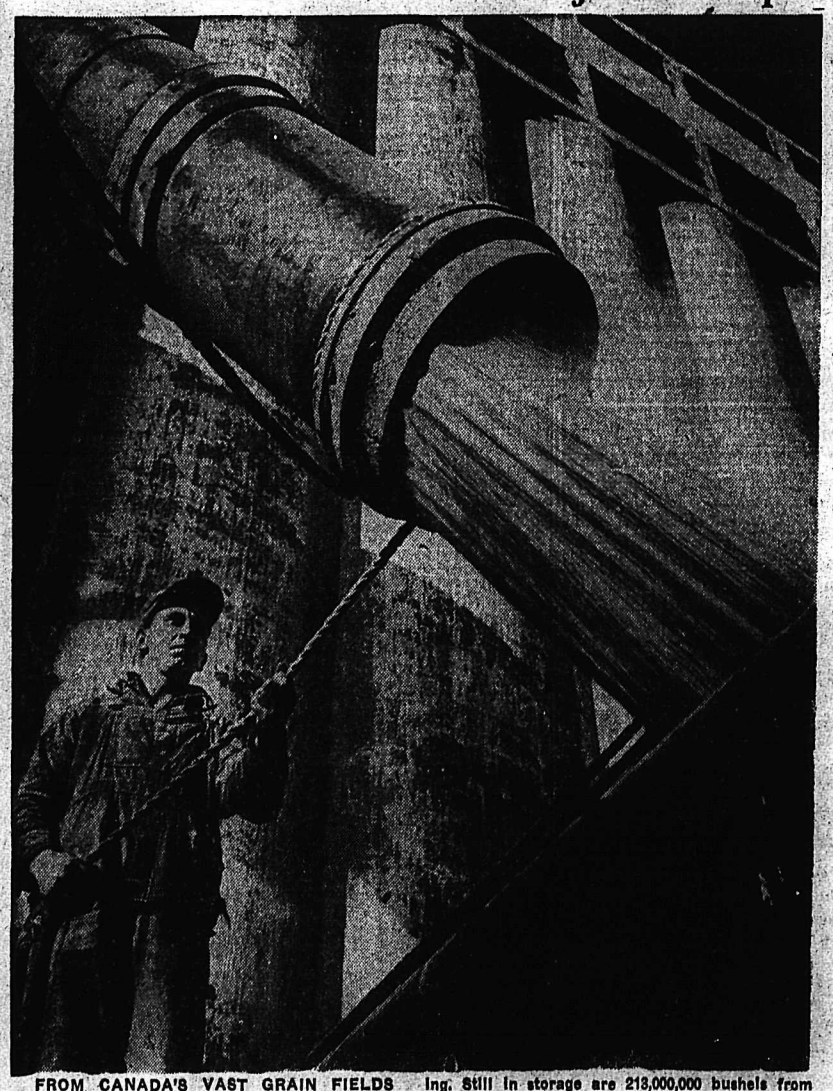
"What we have done is only the first phase of our movement," he said .. a public meeting.

"The other steps need your cooperation and patience. Give us a chance to work for six months."

Two major projects he has embarked upon are a redistribution of land among the peasants and the formulation of a definite line in foreign policy.

The first big landowner to resist his agrarian reforms will face a special military court this week. He is Abel Lamlum, owner of a large tract in upper Egypt, who was arrested Saturday on charges of defying the authorities and wounding a policeman.

Canada Harvests Record Grain Crop



FROM CANADA'S VAST GRAIN FIELDS of the West this month is coming the greatest wheat crop the nation has ever known—more than 656,000,000 bushels. Conveyer tubes will send rivers of gold rushing into ships' holds, bound for overseas markets and mills in the East. The harvest figure can be reduced by last-minute adverse weather and lack of harvest help, but farmers aren't worrying. Still in storage are 213,000,000 bushels from the 1951 crop, half of which was left under last Winter's snows with safety, an experience that lifted a worry from the Western farmer's mind—that of Wintering surplus wheat in the open. The biggest problem to arise will be the matter of storing the 1952 bumper crop. — Central Press Canadian.

And in This Corner . . .

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—A man fell into the East River today, and two hours later bobbed back up on the surface with this comment: "I thought I was in heaven down there."

Several people saw the man topple off a Manhattan parapet into the river. They notified harbor police, who rushed a rescue launch to the scene.

There was no sign of the river victim. For two hours police combed the water with grappling hooks, searching for the body. Hope for the man's life was abandoned.

Then suddenly, the victim, later identified as Randy J. Petterson, 20, a Negro, rose to the surface, yelling: "Help! Help!"

Lifted aboard the launch, he said: "It was pitch black down there. I thought I was dead. I thought I was in heaven."

Police finally figured it out: Petterson, by a freak accident, had plunged in the water through a hole in the river wall into an inky-dark compartment of riverside pilings. He clung to a piling, until the lowering tide revealed light through the hole, and then crawled back through it to the river.

GATEFORTH, Yorks., England, Sept. 15 (CP)—Patients and staff of the Killingbeck and Gateforth Sanitorium have produced the Summer number of their popular hospital magazine.

The issue tells the story of a beautiful nurse. She is so conceited, the magazine says, that when she takes a male patient's temperature, she subtracts five degrees from the thermometer reading.

TOKYO, Sept. 15 (AP)—Masae Motohashi made such a fuss that her father let her go to bed without taking her medicine. After all, you can argue just so much with a three-year-old.

A few hours later a neighbor pounded on the door. He had heard a special radio broadcast. The druggist who mixed Masae's prescription for ringworm had made a horrible mistake. The dose he delivered was so strong it would kill a child.

Masae—stubborn, undosed and unharmed—slept through it all.

TRAIL TOT IN HOSPITAL, HURT BY TRUCK

TRAIL, B.C.—A six-year-old Trail youngster was injured Sunday afternoon when struck by a truck on Rossland Ave.

Seriously injured but in "satisfactory" condition in Trail-Tadanac Hospital Monday was Gerald Bicknell of 277 Railway Street.

Driver Roy J. Hayes of Trail, R.C.M.P. reported, said he was coming down Rossland Avenue, in the 300-block, when he saw something run in front of the truck. He thought it was a dog and stopped as fast as possible, but found the youngster lying on the pavement in front of the truck. The child was taken to hospital in an ambulance.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was baptised at Southwark Cathedral in London, England, in 1607.

Revenues Would Cover Costs . . .

Five Countries Would Be Represented B. E. G. Rowing Events, Rotarians Told

It was H. A. D. (Bud) Greenwood's idea to bring the rowing event of the British Empire Games to Nelson, Mayor Joseph Kary told Rotarians in introducing Mr. Greenwood as guest speaker at the Monday luncheon. Mayor Kary said this idea was put before City Council by Mr. Greenwood, and as a result an alderman was appointed to attend the meeting with Colonel W. D. Swan at the Coast with Chamber of Commerce representatives.

Mr. Greenwood had attended a Penticton meeting August 24 at which it was proposed to revise the Northwest Rowing Association with a view to holding regattas in which all members would compete. There were seven probable cities, he said, whose clubs would be members of the Association. This would mean revival of the Nelson Rowing Club and annual regattas in conjunction with the Power Boat Association. Every seventh year, he pointed out, the Northwest Rowing Regatta, an international event, would be held in Nelson. Discussion along these lines, plus knowledge derived from newspaper stories, gave him the idea that the Empire Games rowing event could be staged in Nelson.

Mr. Greenwood outlined the trip made by four delegates to Vancouver, after several meetings with the Chamber of Commerce and other interested groups. The trip, he said, was financed by the delegates. At the Coast, he continued, they met with Col. Swan and following the hearing, the group felt there was a good likelihood of staging the rowing events at Nelson, but there were many things to take into consideration, and many things that must be done before this could be achieved. One of these, Mr. Greenwood said, is to estimate as accurately as possible, the probable cost and possible revenue of the games.

Nelson rowing course has the reputation of being the finest on the continent, and during the Coast interview Col. Swan agreed to the suitability of the Nelson course with its straight-away, calm and deep waters.

Before a concrete proposal could be made, the Nelson delegation compiled information from committees at the Coast. Four and possibly five countries including Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia, Canada and possibly South Africa, would be competing in the games. Events would include singles, doubles, fours and eights.

Mr. Greenwood outlined the original plan of the games committee at Vancouver to dredge Burnaby Lake for the rowing events. Approximate cost of this preparation alone would be $430,000. The Nelson delegation, entering into the discussion at this point, felt that the event could be brought to Nelson and that the attendance and revenue from the show would cover expenses estimated at between $20,000 and $30,000 so that the Empire Games Committee would be relieved of an expenditure of over $400,000.

The main part of the expenditure at Burnaby Lake would be ridding the lake of marine growth, Mr. Greenwood explained, and even then, there was no assurance that the growth would not re-appear, thus eliminating long-term benefit from large expenditures made to prepare it. The cost here would be limited to spectator and boathouse accommodation.

Mr. Greenwood also outlined how Coast newspapers and Bill Good, sports commentator, gave Nelson much favorable publicity.

Post Office Work Still Being Planned

The proposed addition to the post office building in Nelson is still in the planning stage.

City Council learned this Monday night from postal authorities in Ottawa in reply to its query as to why work had not been started.

The letter, from R. H. MacNabb, director of operations for the post office department, stated:

"This matter has been under study for some considerable time, and I am given to understand by the department of public works that plans are being prepared at the present time.

"I believe you will agree that this department must be very careful to assure that postal requirements are met in any proposed new building or addition to a building. Furthermore, the public works department wishes to assure that the postal requirements are thoroughly met to the best advantage. This takes time of course.

"You may rest assured that we are following up this matter, especially in view of the fact that funds are available and this department is aware of the need for improvement at Nelson."

Council decided to send a letter of acknowledgment, expressing the hope work will be expedited.

Carpenters Sign Fourth Contract

An agreement has been signed between local 2458 of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America and N. J. Varseveld, manager of Farmers Supply. Work on the new Farmers Supply building on Railway Street halted August 27, when carpenters walked off the jobs in a demand for higher wages. Work was halted on six projects here and one at Salmo at the time.

The basic wage demand of district carpenters was $2.10. They were receiving $1.90 before the new agreement.

This is the fourth agreement signed by the carpenters.

C.P.R. Seeks Road Via City Airstrip

The Canadian Pacific Railway has asked the city for road access to its new diesel plant at C.P.R. yards by way of the city's airport.

Other routes, either through tracks and train traffic or via a steep roadway, would be infeasible, a representative of the company told Council Monday night.

The company, he said, is looking for allowance for a 2½-foot road on the South side of the airstrip by April.

The city has been attempting to obtain a licence for its air park, and with this in mind, Mayor Joseph Kary and the aldermen decided to enquire as to the width which would be required for a licence.

They expressed the hope, however, that an arrangement could be worked whereby the city would have ample width, and the C.P.R., its road. Additional filling may be required.

Bylaw Gets Readings

City Council Monday night gave two readings to a bylaw allowing for three easements for electric light department purposes.

The Weather

Synopsis: Most regions of British Columbia are enjoying sunny mid September weather. The low eighties which occurred in the Interior valleys were some 10 degrees above the normal for the season. Southern areas will have similar weather Tuesday. Cloud cover is drifting into the Northern coastal regions ahead of another Pacific disturbance which is still well out at sea.

Health Department Gets Pat on Back

A pleased and somewhat surprised City Council Monday night heard praise of health department efforts and garbage service.

W. F. Armson wrote to say the department is functioning in "a most congratulatory manner, particularly at this time when the need is so great for an alert and efficient health department." The garbage disposal unit is also to be commended for the manner in which it is carrying out its duties."

"We should frace that letter", quipped Alderman Elizabeth Wallach, chairman of Council's parks and sanitation committee.

Trail Waterworks Bonds Sold for $97.78 at 4.5%

TRAIL — With four bids entered, successful tenderer for Trail $335,000 waterworks debentures was Wood Gundy and Company of Vancouver. They placed a firm bid of $97.78 plus accrued interest at 4 3/6 per cent.

After reading correspondence concerning the construction of ranch-style self-owned apartment suites in Sunnydale sub-division, Council tabled consideration of waving restrictions pending a meeting with the Town Planning Committee. Columbia Parks residents were in favor of such a building as proposed by G. Ericson, and the C.M.&S. Company, owners of the property, was willing to sell providing restrictions were waved by proper authorities. No objections were forthcoming from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Mayor E. G. Fletcher referring to recent criticism from the School Board directed at the Council for not making property available for a school site at the new Glenmerry subdivision stated that the city does not own property there. As the School Board had purchased expensive sites in other places there was no reason why it could not have purchased land in or near Glenmerry.

Alderman J. B. Reid, chairman of the board of works, reported favorable progress on the Violin Lake water pipeline project to Trail.

Kinsmen Club of Trail was voted $100 towards the annual Hallowe'en party for the children. Alderman J. B. Reid said that it was a "worthy cause which assisted in cutting property damage."

LICENCE REQUESTED

A request from George H. Coleman, 514 Victoria Street, for an electrical contractor's licence, Monday night was referred by City Council back to the applicant for additional information.

SEWER EXTENSION ASKED

City Council Monday night referred to Q. G. Lake, city engineer, for a report, an application from J. C. Archambeault for a sewer extension.

Tourists Here Sleep in Car

A Minnesota couple, holidaying in the Kootenay, curled up in their car to sleep Sunday night when they failed to find accommodation in Nelson. The couple apparently searched through Nelson to find a hotel room, but without success. They drove the car to Gyro Park, curled up in blankets to sleep on the car seats.

The incident recalled another similar situation earlier when two Nakusp school teachers planning a weekend in Nelson had to return to the Arrow Lakes centre because they could not find accommodation.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary J. A. Bracken, when advised of the incident Monday night, reminded Nelsonites that visitors should be referred to the Tourist Bureau. Often it is possible to arrange accommodation in private homes when hotels and auto courts are filled.

TRIAL ON GUN CHARGE FACES MINER

SALMO—Cyril Murphy was committed for trial Monday following a preliminary hearing on charges of being in possession of a "weapon dangerous to the public peace." Murphy appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Henry John in Provincial Court here.

Eye witnesses testified the accused pulled an automatic pistol from his jacket pocket and threatened a Ymir resident on a sidewalk at Ymir. The incident followed an argument between the two men. The threatened man took the gun from Murphy and knocked him down before police arrived at the scene. The gun was not loaded.

Corporal W. Benton appeared for the Crown.

Murphy had been working briefly as a miner in the Salmo area.

22 CHURCHES ORDERED CLOSED

Denomination Needs Official Permission For Rome Services

By STAN SWINTON

ROME, Sept. 15 (AP) — The Church of Christ was ordered by the government today to shut up its 22 Protestant branches in this Roman Catholic country until it gets official permission to operate. Italian officials said such permission might take years to obtain.

A Church of Christ spokesman said the American-sponsored denomination will fight the ban in the courts as unconstitutional.

The State Department in Washington said it has asked the U.S. embassy here for a full report on the action of Italian police in barring the Church of Christ from holding Sunday services.

Informed sources have said they believe the difficulties of the church which has gained about 1000 converts in Italy since the war, sprang from its aggressive evangelism in winning over Catholics.

Police prevented serices at the Rome Church of Christ Sunday and two weeks ago they closed the church at Alessandria, Northern Italy. Other Protestant denominations have been holding services as usual.

"Pending a decision of the Ministry of Interior all the cult's churches will have to remain closed," Dr. Roberto Poppi, chief of cabinet for the Rome Police Prefecture, said tonight.

Poppi said that Cline Paden of Brownfield, Tex., head of the Church of Christ in Italy, earlier today applied for authority to operate the churches.

"Naturally some time will elapse before the ministry of interior, which is competent in the matter, can decide whether the cult which had developed around the meeting place can hold meetings in Italy again," he said.

City Steps Up Garbage Pick Ups

In an attempt to give better service, the city has altered slightly its garbage regulations.

Daily, instead of thrice weekly, pick-ups are to effected in the business section in a defined area, a driver and two men carrying out the collections.

In Winter, extra men will be put on regular domestic garbage service to carry and replace cans. The garbage truck will not go to inaccessible or difficult spots in Winter. In these places, cans must be taken to the truck.

The new regulations were adopted by Council Monday night on recommendation of the parks and sanitation committee. They will be put into operation as soon as possible.

A request from residents on Seventh Street for garbage service has been deferred until the new system has been tried.

$100 FINE LEVIED

John Chursinow of Nelson was fined $100 in City Police Court Monday by Magistrate William Brown for driving Saturday night while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

J. B. Ritchie entered a plea of guilty for Chursinow.

CAMP LOURDES PASSES ALL HEALTH TESTS

Camp Lourdes on the West Arm of Kootenay Lake has been given "a clean bill of health" by Dr. L. S. Anderson, medical health officer for the West Kootenay.

Dr. Anderson, after a visit, said that the sanitary, hygienic and domestic arrangement of the camp are "entirely excellent."

His statement arose out of an incident earlier this Summer when it was thought that a Kinnaird youth, sent home ill from Camp Lourdes, had been suffering polio.

However, some time ago it was reported that the case was not now considered to have been polio, but was regarded as such at the time for safety's sake.

Due to that case, there had been some fear in the district that polio had been contracted at the camp.

However, Dr. Anderson says that the source of water at the camp has been proven sound by laboratory tests, and notes that two Nelson physicians are on call in case of any illness that might occur at the camp during its open season.

Trail Post Office Project Under Discussion

TRAIL, B. C.— Rumors of a Federal Government plan to purchase property opposite City Hall on Pine Avenue for a post office and Federal building, and the consequent flurry of both approval and disapproval of the scheme, has resulted in a move by the Trail Chamber of Commerce to discuss the matter with a small group of responsible citizens, and ascertain whether or not any action should be taken locally.

The matter will be discussed at a private meeting Tuesday night, to be attended by representatives of the Chamber, City Council, Town Planning Commission and local postal officials.

The Chamber called the meeting after a recent discussion of the matter with H. W. Herridge, M.P. for Kootenay West.

Mr. Herridge felt that the government should not undertake such a big project in the city, without first obtaining some opinion from local authorities as to the site, and therefore asked Fisheries Minister Mayhew to delay proceedings in Ottawa. Mr. Mayhew obtained a 30-day delay so that the matter might be discussed locally.

E. H. Gautschi, vice-president of the Trail Chamber, said Monday that the meeting would merely be an informal discussion.

WANTED: 150 APPLE GATHERERS . . .

Creston Still Looking for Apple Pickers

CRESTON — Creston is still hard up for pickers to harvest one of the biggest apple crops ranchers there have ever had.

Although volunteers have been gradually coming in, an estimated 150 pickers are still needed for the peak which will be reached either the end the week or the first of next.

N. E. Leveque, Federal-Provincial Farm Labor representative at Creston, said Monday that from 20 to 25 have volunteered since Friday, but many more are still needed. Although no word has been received from the Department of Education, Mr. Leveque anticipates some high school grades will be released for the peak picking. This has been the procedure in other years.

Picking of MacIntosh apples started in earnest Monday, although spot picking was underway last week.

The Macs are still a little too green for first class quality, Mr. Leveque said, but a few more days with frosty mornings and they will be fully colored.

Creston farmers estimate a crop of 550,000 field boxes of which 360,000 will be MacIntosh. Harvest is expected to last until October 10 or 12.

At the start of the drive for pickers some 300 were needed.

Rossland Chamber Again Asks Road Improvement

ROSSLAND — Another urgent appeal to the B.C. Public Works Department, for a "decent road" from Cascade to Rossland is planned by the Rossland Chamber of Commerce.

"We don't care what you do . . . but do something" was the general attitude of a recent meeting during discussion of the matter. It was noted that the incidence of accidents on the present route was increasing constantly, and members strongly urged the government to improve the present route or build a new one. A surveying party is in the area at present, studying possible routes.

The highway section, frequently termed the "Cascades" actually is a 40-mile section over the Monashee Mountains. It climbs two summits between Cascade and Rossland.

CUSTOM HOURS

The chamber also will contact officials concerned in an attempt to have customs hours at the border crossing at Cascade City extended to correspond with the hours at the Paterson-Northport crossing. At present, the Cascade customs office closes three hours earlier than the Paterson office.

The group decided against sending delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Toronto, but planned to send Ted Davies and Tom McCrae to the Associated Board meeting at Nelson Wednesday, Sept. 17.

Excavation for Trail Hospital Progressing Well

TRAIL, B. C.—Excavation for the foundation of Trail's new 150-bed hospital is well under way on the site above East Trail, contractors reported Monday.

Crews of Bennett and White Construction Company started work on the project a week and a half ago, clearing and levelling the bench site, and last Tuesday, excavation work was started. About half of the excavation is completed.

First Canadian telephone communication with a moving train was carried out near Toronto in 1929.

Eisenhower's Victory Margin Looms Above Dewey's In Campaign of '48

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP) —Five politically potent middle Atlantic states — New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware — are expected by editors and political writers at this stage of the U.S. election campaign to go narrowly Republican in November as they did in 1948.

An Associated Press survey, based on estimates of editors and correspondents, indicates there is a composite belief that if the election were run off now, Republican presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower would roll up bigger margins of victory in most of these states than Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York did four years ago.

The 105 electoral ballots of the five states are a prize political package. They represent nearly one-fifth of the U.S. total of 531 and almost two-fifths of the 266 electoral votes needed to win the election.

18th CENTURY HANGOVER

(The electoral system is a hangover from the late 18th century. Under present practice, each state has a number of electoral votes equal to the number of members it has in Congress. After it has been determined which states each presidential candidate has carried in the election — even by the smallest popular-vote margin —the electoral votes for each of these states is totalled.)

In the last four presidential elections, all have voted alike — Democratic in 1936, 1940 and 1944; Republican in 1948.

While a majority of the newspapers that have taken sides favor Eisenhower, numerous editors reported trends opposite to those their papers advocate editorially. Efforts were made to obtain estimates untinted by wishful thinking.

TOO EARLY TO TELL

Many of the analysts taking part in the survey said it is too early to tell now what is likely to happen in their areas in November, since a large proportion of voters still are waiting to make up their minds.

Eisenhower's personal popularity was described generally as a more forceful factor in the campaign than time-for-a-change sentiment and such specific issues as high taxes and corruption in government.

Tripe de roche, a species of lichen growing on rocks in Northern Canada, was often used by starving Indians and fur-traders.

Passenger's Tribute to Nurses And Doctors in Train Accident

Written For The Canadian Press
By J. R. Meakes
Publisher, Sudbury Star

MATTAWA, Ont., Sept. 15 (CP)—Until 4:15 a.m. Sunday, "train wreck" meant to me a tragic but remote accident that usually made headlines. Then in a blinding flash of momentary spinal concussion, train wreck became to me a carnival of chaos.

My head crashed into the partition of lower 10, in No. 900 sleeper of Canadian Pacific Railway train No. 9, Westbound from Montreal. I realized the sudden paralyzing shock meant only one thing—collision.

In shirt and trousers I tumbled into the aisle, just as Bob Pearson, Sudbury Star Advertising Manager with whom I had been travelling, climbed from the opposite berth.

Together we pushed towards the forward end of the sleeper. Nothing could be heard but murmurs from still shocked passengers, and the hissing of steam, then the sharp voice of a man who was running toward the tail end of our train. It was Conductor William Quinn of No. 9, shouting "Where are the fuses, get the torpedoes, protect our tail end—No. 7 will be along in a few minutes from Montreal."

Then Quinn headed up the incline from the tracks, to flash the first hasty report over the emergency railway phone already clipped to the tangled telegraph wires.

"Mattawa despatcher, No. 9, we have just piled into No. 10 Eastbound, which over-ran its switch at our meet, outside Morel (five miles West of Mattawa). We have our head and tail ends protected. Get help and stretchers out fast."

Three women—all nurses—turned the corner of the aisle. "Where are the first aid kits?" they asked. Then, to me, "Where is the blood coming from?" Looking down, I realized for the first time that the blow to my head must have caused a scalp wound. Blood dripped down on my shirt front. The nurse said, "Your scalp is cut. But we haven't any first aid material yet."

With that, Pearson and I headed up front toward the baggage car. Eighteen feet of wooden "reefer" type box car had plunged through into its head end. Aid was being given to the engineers and firemen of both trains.

NURSES ON JOB

The porter of our car produced his first aid kit and nurses were on the job at once. During the first 30 minutes, they traversed the length of our train, plunging along in the dark, through track ballast in high heeled shoes, as they sought out passengers who seemed to need help most.

Then I met a hero of the wreck: A fair, slight young doctor, whose quiet-spoken English calmed imminent hysteria, while his sure hands made a rapid examination of injuries.

The only doctor travelling in the two trains, he was bound for Montreal from Western Canada, on No. 10.

Like the nurses, the doctor made us promise "not to mention names." But the doctor does not need to be named to be remembered by the passengers of No. 9 and No. 10.

Late dawn, passengers were able to examine the crumpled baggage and mail cars. Three of the wooden "reefer" type cars had been tossed off the track, practically smashed to pieces. Many felt these cars had furnished the life-saving buffer between the steel coaches and the locomotives. The wooden cars absorbed the impact, for steel passenger cars remained upright on the rails. All of us thanked God. A druggist returning home to Sault Ste. Marie made the best summary, "A modern miracle."

Drug Specialists To Visit B. C.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 CP) — Three officials of the Federal Health Department plan to visit British Columbia soon to discuss with provincial government officials the treatment of drug addicts.

Expected to leave here some time next week are K. C. Hossick, head of the Narcotic Control Division of the Health Department, Dr. C. A. Roberts, head of the Mental Health Division, and R. E. Curran, head of the legal division.

The officials hope to find out what type of assistance the province would like from the Federal Government in dealing with the problem of drug addiction.

Dr. Roberts and Mr. Hossick now are in Chicago studying a counselling clinic established for addicts. A close watch has been kept on experiments in the United States to see if any of them would be useful in Canada.

Mud Slide Halts Cars, Trains

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP) — Hundreds of automobiles and the C.N.R. mainline to Eastern Canada were blocked for several hours Sunday when tons of mud and rocks swept over the Trans-Canada Highway between Chilliwack and Hope.

A burst coffer dam let hundreds of tons of rubble flow down the mountainside near Cheam View. Bulldozers went to work and cleared a narrow passage, but cars were lined up for miles on each side.

C.N.R. officials re-routed trains over C.P.R. tracks until the tracks were cleared. Highway officials said no permanent damage was done, and the highway is reported passable today.

315 POLIO CASES

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 15 (CP)—British Columbia's polio total rose to 315 cases today, with addition of 15 more during the weekend.

Total of deaths remained at 21, unchanged since Sept. 8.

Provincial Health Department officials reported incidence of the disease last week had receded, compared to the previous week.

At this time in 1947, the province's previous peak polio year, 231 cases had been reported, including 12 deaths.

FALLS TO DEATH

VICTORIA, Sept. 15 (CP)—Mrs. Catherine Woodley, 81-year-old widow, fell 20 feet to her death Sunday from the window of her second-storey room in a city apartment.

Mrs. Woodley has no known relatives in Victoria. She has a stepson, Fred Woodley, living at Brandon, Man.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 — Cancellation of the 6:15 a.m Daylight Tmie sailing of the Princess of Nanaimo from Vancouver to Nanaimo and the 9:15 a.m. sailing from Nanaimo for Sept. 16 was announced today. The Princess of Nanaimo will go into Esquimalt tonight for general overhaul returning to regular service on Wednesday morning.

Vast Canadian Convoy Plans 2200 Miles Trek

EDMONTON, Sept. 15 (CP) —The Canadian Army today announced a convoy of nearly 200 men and 90 vehicles will leave Wainwright, Alta., Friday on a 2200-mile run to Camp Borden, Ont.

Described by Western Army Command at Edmonton as probably the largest military convoy ever to cover a similar distance in Canada, the group will be on the road 14 days.

There will be two one-day stopovers: At Saskatoon Saturday to participate in that city's 70th anniversary celebrations and at Winnipeg Sept. 25 to complete any maintenance work.

OPERATIONAL MOVE

Fifty-six transport company of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps will move from Wainwright military camp, 180 miles East of Edmonton, to Camp Borden, the company's Winter station.

The convoy will be composed of five officers, 190 men and 90 vehicles, mostly three-ton trucks. It will travel an all-Canadian route via Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Port Arthur, and Kapuskasing, Ont.

Planned as an operational move, the trip will find officers and men bivouacing in the open each evening except for overnight halts where a drill hall is available.

The convoy commander will be Maj. E. G. Hession of London, Ont., who does not anticipate any great difficulty moving the convoy over the long distance.

U. S. ASKS FOR TITO'S COOPERATION

BELGRADE, Sept. 16 (AP)— The United States has asked Premier Tito of Yugoslavia for greater cooperation in the joint defence of Southeastern Europe, including the use by American planes of air bases in this country.

From a responsible source, it was learned that Vice-Admiral J. H. Cassady, commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean-based Sixth Fleet, laid the proposition before Tito last week.

Tito was non-commital But, it was unlikely, in any event, that he would make an on-the-spot decision.

Allied Aircraft Join In Battle of Britain Week

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 15 (CP) — Two hundred and twelve Allied aircraft —ranging from plodding Lincolns to speed-of-sound jet fighters—swept over London today in a fly-past marking the opening of Battle of Britain week.

Office and factory workers watched from windows around Whitehall as the air armada, led by an anonymous pilot in a lone Hurricane, whooshed over London and fanned out over the surrounding countryside.

The fly-past included 187 jets—the biggest such force ever to fly over London.

Among the fast-moving fighters were 24 Sabre jet fighters from the R.C.A.F.'s No. 1 Fighter Wing at North Luffenham, Rutland. The Canadian force was led by Group Capt. E. B. Hale of Hamilton, commanding officer at North Luffenham, who has just returned from a tour of operations with the United States Air Force in Korea.

IMPRESSIVE SHOW

The fighters and bombers made an impressive show as they zoomed over the city. But perhaps the biggest thrill came as the final aircraft in the procession, the RAF's new Hunter fighter plane, screamed by at more than 600 miles an hour.

The leading Hurricane, on the other hand, travelled at a modest 185 miles an hour. The Hurricane, in traditional fashion, represented the RAF fighter force which 12 years ago today brought the Battle of Britain to a climax.

For the watchers from the windows of London,the impressive thing was the way speedy jet planes made the bomebrs look like stately, slow-moving relics of another age.

Cairo Paper Says Want Vote On Monarchy

CAIRO, Sept. 15 (AP) — The weekly newspaper Rosa El Youssef said today a petition has been presented to Maj.-Gen Mohamed Naguib's headquarters asking that Egyptians be given a chance to vote on swapping their monarchy for a republic.

Rosa El Youssef said a petition for a plebiscite to decide between the monarchy and a republic had been presented to Naguib's office by "certain persons, organizations and parties." An Army spokesman said he couldn't confirm the report but added "all parties and other groups have the right to demand a republic if this is part of their program."

The newspaper said the Wafdist party, largest in Egypt, is considering whether to put establishment of a republic in their new party platform.

43 Steps Downhill From Casual Drinking to Chronic Alcoholism

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 15—(Reuters) — Tipplers please note: There are 43 steps on the downhill road from that casual drink to acute alcoholism.

The steps were plotted in a new report on alcoholism released this weekend by the World Health Organization. They form a "chart of addiction" based on the drinking habits of more than 2000 male addicts to enable scientists to classify excessive drinkers.

Women's habits were not included beause their progress to rack and ruin generally isn't as easy to follow as men's, and they often sink faster.

SOME MAIN STAGES

The chart shows that most cases get into trouble with those first occasional pick-me-up drinks. This casual drinking leads to "constant relief drinking" and the first sign of addiction, "alcoholic palimpsests"—technical term for forgetting what happened the night before.

Some of the main stages from then on:

1. The tippler stoops to surreptitious drinking — guzzling a few while no one is looking his way.

2. He becomes preoccupied with alcohol, has one or two before going to a social function to fortify himself against a possible drought.

3. Loss of control. As soon as any small amount of alcohol enters the organism, there is an immediate demand for more. This demand lasts until the drinker is too sick or too intoxicated to continue.

4. Social pressures begin. His drinking behavior has become conspicuous. There is a marked loss of self-esteem as friends and relations probably begin to warn him. This is the beginning of an entire "system of rationalizations".

5. Grandiose behavior—extravagant expenditure and grandiloquence. Also marked aggressive behavior, generating guilt.

6. He "goes on the wagon" quite frequently.

7. He quits jobs. Sometimes he is fired, but more often he takes the initiative himself as an anticipatory defence. About here he also begins to be concerned about how his activities might interfere with his drinking instead of vice versa.

8. He feels himself isolated, runs away from his environment, or contemplates doing so.

EMBARRASSED FAMILY

9. Change in family habits. His wife and children may withdraw from him in embarrassment or seek activities away from home.

10. Neglect of proper nutrition begins to ruin his health, often leading to the hospital and decrease of the sexual drive.

11. Regular morning drinking. This is the beginning of the chronic phase.

12. Prolonged benders.

12. Loss of alcohol tolerance. One-half the previously required amount may put him in a stupor.

14. The inability to do a simple mechanical act such as winding a watch without a drink.

15. The entire rationalization system fails. The addict admits defeat. He now becomes spontaneously accessible to treatments, but his obsessive drinking continues, since he sees no way out.

TO SELL 100,000 TELEGIAPH SHARES

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—John Fox said today he will retain 81,200 shares of his stock in Western Union Telegraph Company and sell only 100,000 shares.

The Boston financier, who holds 14 per cent of Western Union stock and is the largest single stockholder, had said he would sell all his 181,200 shares. But today he said he has decided to retain 81,200 shares as a permanent investment.

Railways to Ask Higher Boost

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP) — The railways, now seeking a general increase of 16 per cent in freight rates, will boost this application to 17 per cent next Monday, it was learned today.

The further one per cent would yield them an anticipated gross $5,000,000 a year on top of the $80,000,000 which they seek through the 17 per cent.

The carriers have given notice to the Board of Transport Commissioners that they will ask for the additional one per cent when the board on Monday begins hearings on their original application.

I.A.T.A. President Predicts More Passenger Flights by End of Year

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 15 (CP) — Sir William P. Hildred, director-general of the International Air Transport Association predicted today International Airlines will do 250 per cent more revenue flying this year than they did five years ago.

In his report to the annual general meeting of the World Airline Organization, Sir William said 45,000,000 passengers will be carried this year alone, each flying an average of 625 miles. The 2500 aircraft of I.A.T.A.'s member companies will have flown 1,062,500,000 miles by that time.

Cargo operations for 1952 will pass the 625,000,000 ton-mile mark. A ton-miles is a technical measure, equivalent to one ton of cargo flown for one mile.

URGES AGREEMENT

Sir William urged member governments to consider an international agreement on a standard system of charges for use of air navigation and airport facilities, "instead of imposing, arbitrarily and independently, rates which threaten the economic well-being of the airlines which serve their territories and link them with their neighbors."

Dr. Walter Berchtold, president of Swissair, took office today as president of I.A.T.A., succeeding Sir Miles Thomas, chairman of British Overseas Airways Corporation.

Meetings will continue through Friday, with a recess Wednesday.

Nelson Girl Is Married in Trail

Nelson and Kelowna shared interest in a simple, attractive ceremony at the rectory of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Trail recently when Carol Young became the bride of Alec Koenig. Rev. L. R. McKenzie of the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate here officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Young of Nelson and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Koenig of Kelowna.

For the wedding ceremony the bride chose an exquisite semi-formal two-piece dress of pale beige which was accentuated by mauve colored accessories. She carried sweet scented gardenias.

The maid of honor was Mrs. J. Kabluk, formerly of Nelson.

Mr. Victor Koenig, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following signing of the register, the young couple left for a honeymoon in Washington.

Staples-Duncan Rites Held at St. Saviour's

The bride's parents came from Ontario and the groom's mother arrived from Vancouver for the wedding in St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral uniting in marriage the former Doris Jean Duncan and Joseph William Staples.

The bride, a registered nurse on the staff of Kootenay Lake General Hospital, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Duncan of Petrolia, Ont., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Staples of Vancouver, formerly of Nelson.

CHANTILLY LACE

For the ceremony, performed by Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood, the bride selected an ankle-length gown of Chantilly lace. A fingertip veil misted from her net tiara, and her outfit was completed by a cameo necklace and a bouquet of red roses.

Her attendant, Miss Christine Johnston, wore an ankle-length gown of turquoise nylon net, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Neil Hood was best man, and Mr. Raymond Helbeque and Mr. Konrad Senger ushered.

Mr. Stanley Smith proposed the toast to the bride at a reception in the Memorial Hall. Telegrams were read from Toronto, Vancouver, Powell River and Kettle Falls.

The bride donned a burgundy suit with grey accessories and a corsage of carnations before leaving with her groom for a honeymoon in Spokane.

W. I. SAMPLES DANISH FARE

NEW DENVER — Mrs. C. Parker demonstrated Danish cooking during a home economics committee presentation at New Denver Women's Institute's Septtmber meeting, and her product, abelskivers, was served at supper.

Mrs. W. E. Jenks, and Mrs. E. M. Kirkwood read provincial handicraft reports and displayed articles from Denmark, Belgium, Italy, England and other countrits.

It was reported Bigelow Beach repairs had been made during the Summer. The group decided to renew its three-year bursary award pledge and to send a Thanksgiving parcel to its English Institute. Mrs. F. A. Johnson and Mrs. W. G. McLaughlin are visiting the hospital this month.

Age accounts for much when it comes to diminishing loveliness, but sometimes a woman's years are blamed wrongly for her lack of beauty. Often disposition and outlook on the world count more in shaping a mature woman's facial appearance than the number of birthdays she's passed.

Kay Apps, G. Coletti Speak Vows

Making their home in Nelson are George Roy Coletti and his bride, the former Ellen Kate Apps, who were married before a gladioli-banked altar at St. John's Church in Cumberland, V.I., recently.

Rev. Father Tunner performed the service for the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Apps of Cumberland, a native daughter of Cumberland and a graduate of Vancouver Normal School and University of B.C., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Coletti of Nelson. The bride has been a home economics teacher here.

Mr. David Lunn of Nelson was best man, and Mr. Donald Symons of Vancouver and Mr. Donald Apps were the ushers.

White Chantilly lace set over crinoline fashioned the charming gown of the bride. A lace cap edged with orange blossoms held her embroidered chapel veil, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink rosebuds and stephanotis.

CONTRASTING

The dresses of the matron of honor, Mrs. R. McPhee of Courtenay, and the bridesmaid, Miss Doreen E. J. Apps, sister of the bride, added a lovely color contrast. The former's was of pale pink nylon net posed over taffeta, featuring a net stole trimmed with sequins. Her flowers were pink carnations and stephanotis. Turquoise net over taffeta in ballerina length was worn by the bridesmaid, with pink carnations and stephanotis composing her shower bouquet.

Mrs. L. H. Finch was organist, and accompanied the soloist, Miss Sebbie Legrand of Vancouver, cousin of the bride.

At the reception at Holy Trinity Parish Hall, the guests were received by the bride and groom and the bride's mother, in rose crepe with navy accessories, and the groom's mother, in fuchsia velvet with navy accessories. Their corsages were gardenias.

WIRES READ

Telegrams came from London, England, Saskatoon, Banff, Olds, Smithers, Vancouver and Nelson.

A three-tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother centred the bridal table at which Mrs. H. Banks and Mrs. G. J. Richardson poured. Mr. McPhee was master of ceremonies, Mr. Banks proposed the toast to the bride, and Rev. L. G. Chappell proposed a toast to the parents. Mrs. Kay Williams and Miss Legrand sang during the reception.

The newlyweds travelled by car on a honeymoon in Vancouver, Oregon and Coast cities, the bride choosing for travelling a rosy beige soft wool dressmaker suit with a navy velvet hat and bag. Before leaving, the bride visited several friends at Cumberland General Hospital.

Others attending from Nelson were Miss Kay Cameron and Mr. Leonard Lythgoe.

One of favorite air-conditioned pies is a graham cracker crumb shell filled with a layer of ice cream, then a layer of well-drained chilled canned cling peach slices and finally a topping of thick chocolate sauce. Keep in refrigerator until time to serve.

Housing Financing More Costly

The interest rate on joint loan under the National Act was increased from five to 5¼ per cent, effective Sept. 1. That is the rate paid by the home buyer. The rate received by the lending institutions is 5¾ per cent. The federal government, which puts up one-fourth of the amount of N.H.A. loans through Central Mortgage and Housing Corp., gets 3¾ per cent.

This announcement by Hon. Robert Winters, Minister of Resources and Development, was welcomed by insurance companies with the prediction that the rate increase will stimulate housing by bringing money "out of hiding" into the mortgage field.

In view of recent experience, that forecast is not reassuring. Less than a year and a half ago the insurance companies and other important money-lenders developed a marked coolness about lending money under N.H.A. In effect, they held out for a higher interest rate, which the government granted. The N.H.A. rate to the home buyer was raised from 4½ to five; to the lender, from five to 5½. But the volume of housing loans (and house construction) declined last year, and this year has declined still more sharply. It seems evident that raising interest rates is not a sure-fire method of speeding up housing.

The government has repeatedly said that its chief aim in the housing field is to create conditions in which the maximum number of people can own their own homes. A higher interest rate does not serve that purpose. It makes the lending institutions more willing to lend, but it makes harder the buyer's task of paying for his home. The mortgage on an N.H.A. house currently averages about $8000. The new interest rate of 5¼ per cent, as compared with the 4½ per cent rate which was in force before May, 1951, means that approximately $800 has been added to the typical buyer's final cost. That, of course, is entirely apart from increases in costs of labor and materials.

Color Line

Many a householder must be wondering whether he can find and use enough bargain-price canned pork to offset his share of the $8 million—$9 million loss the Dominion Government is taking by dumping it on the domestic market, comments the Winnipeg Tribune. "His calculations will not be made any more cheerful by the reflection that he has already paid, through high taxes and high meat prices, twice for the Government 'support' program through which the pork was acquired in the first place."

Your Horoscope

SAFETY CIGARETTE HOLDERS

An inventor says he has perfected a practical "safety cigarette holder", and has a quantity ready to market. However, he is having difficulty in making sales. This cigarette holder permits a person to smoke in bed with no danger of starting a fire. If I were in the inventor's place, I would try to interest hotels in buying quantities of this holder to present to guests. I would also try to enlist the co-operation of fire insurance companies in promoting the use of safety cigarette holders.

FORGOTTEN MEN

Are the small fellows the forgotten men of the ready-to-wear clothing industry? A subscriber, who gives his height as five feet and his weight as 140 pounds, says they are. He claims it is practically an impossibility for a five-footer to acquire a ready-to-wear suit to fit him. Currently in search of a new suit, he has tried 25 different retail clothing outlets with no luck.

GOING TOO FAR

A drug that makes timid persons courageous. That's what 16 British doctors, working together on the experiment, claim to have discovered. Only trouble with this preparation is: It has a tendency to make a man too courageous. That is, a five-footer after taking a dose is inclined to kick some six-footer in the shins. It makes husbands talk back to their wives, and inspires show bettors to wager to win. And so on.

IT'S THE HUMAN SPECIES

It is continuously being observed by many females that men are to blame for "the mess the world is in". That certainly is an outstanding example of passing the buck. Women are just as much to blame for the present situation as men. Many examples could be cited to prove this. Take the case of Hitler, whose strange actions had much to do with tossing the world into its present state of turmoil. His greatest admirers were women. The German females went wild about Der Fuehrer. They were the most enthusiastic Nazis. That is, until Adolf's ideas brought his country to disgrace, defeat and ruin. Then the women said the men were to blame.

"Nuts" to You

Two serious little Doukhobor faces looking upwards, a voice says, "Kin we go get ches'nuts?"—and memory unrolls itself.

A 6-year-old going to school through a manor park where huge sweet chestnuts grew, stopping to search for the nuts spilled from their burrs by the early frost or filling his school bag with the beech nuts which spread like a carpet beneath the trees. If he arrived late to school or home nothing was said, for in England they know the magic of the Autumn woods and trees.

Later there was the long walk across the Queen's Parade, along a road double-bordered with horse chestnuts; in Spring a glory of white and pink spikes and in Autumn a veritable treasure garden of shiny conkers. To search for the largest was pure delight, and no matter how many fell on the ground, it always seemed that, still hanging on the tree, was the largest and best of them all. Sticks and stones, the patter of falling nuts, and the shouts of children, the conker season was in full swing.

How carefully the nuts were bored to avoid splitting; a knife was good, but a horseshoe nail was better. Then the cord was knotted and the nut was threaded on it, ready to conquer.

It was a simple game. One boy held his chestnut dangling at arm's length while the other swung his to hit his opponent's. Taking turns, they struck until one split in fragments.

But if the game was simple, the scoring was not. The victor not only counted the chestnut, but his opponent's victories as well. Added together, the total was often fantastic.

The past is gone; but to the child the magic present remains.

"Kin we go get ches'nuts?"

"Yes, if you will be sure not to miss your bus."

"The man who lives there," says another child, "said he planted those trees a hundred years ago." Half a hundred, perhaps; but let us hope that one hundred years from now they are still bearing "nuts" to you, "conkers" to the children.

A. A. D., Nelway—I have made some dill pickles, using a garlic recipe, and, having some of the garlic left over, decided to put it in with some green pepper pickles. The peppers were blanched, prepared, and the jars scalded before wet solution was poured into them, then sealed. The garlic has taken on a light blue tint. I have been told this indicates poison. I would like to know if you have any information on this.

We would strongly advise you to throw out the pepper pickles. We can find no reference in any cook-book to such a change taking place in the color of the garlic.

Mrs. C. B., Nelson—Please advise me how to keep a burnished stove clean without forever rubbing with emery paper.

One way is to apply a jet-black stove polish, obtainable at any hardware store, after using the emery paper. Another way is the old-fashioned one of lightly rubbing waxed paper over the stove when it is almost cold. This, done daily, is said to be completely satisfactory.

Mrs. K. H., Nelson—Please print a recipe for canned creamed corn.

Can another reader help?

Mrs. G. N., Rossland—I bought a steam iron, and the directions say to use distilled water. Where can one obtain this? How would one go about making it for oneself?

Distilled water can be made by boiling ordinary water and syphoning it through a glass or rubber tube into a crockery bowl. The main thing is that the tube and receiving bowl must not be metal, for water picks up impurities from metal. Rain water can be used provided it has been caught in a non-metal receptacle in the open, not as run-off from roof or drainpipe. Garages and drug stores sell distilled water.

There is considerable doubt among the men who are pushing plans for a confederation of Western Europe that they are going to have complete British cooperation.

Some say Anthony Eden's effort to tie the Schuman Plan and the European defense community into the European Consultative Assembly as weakening their drive toward political union.

The fear is that Britain really wants to continue her traditional policy of making herself the fulcrum in the European balance of power. Assembly action in approving the Eden idea in principle has little bearing on the outcome of this fear.

Britain is not a member of the coal and steel community established under the six-country Schuman Plan, nor of the European defence community, the unified army plan which now awaits parliamentary ratification by the same six powers.

She is a member of the Consultative Assembly, and thus would gain some voice if that organization became the parent body of the regional military and economic arrangements.

Instead, the six countries —Belgium, France, Italy, Germany, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — have voted to go ahead on their own toward an entirely new parliament of Europe under which, eventually, political as well as military and economic interests may be unified. Toward this end, they have formed a constitutional committee out of members of the coal and steel authority, with instructions to report back in March with a charter for consideration.

It seems inevitable that as this movement progresses the need for the Consultative Assembly will diminish insofar as Europe is concerned. The Assembly has been valuable in defining European issues and in securing eventual joint government actions as the movement for union has been taking form. Once that for mis taken, Britain and the United States will be dealing ·ith Europe as an entity and not merely with a group of states bound together by mutual fears of Soviet Russia.

Indian Girl Not Known to Agent

ST. REGIS, Que., Sept. 15 (AP) —The Indian agent on this island in the St. Lawrence River says he does not know Yalamulankastidanamustsa—Kim for short.

Kim, a blue-eyed 18-year-old girl with white skin, was found Saturday in the woods near Fort Worth, Tex. She told Sheriff Hank Davis she belonged to a tribe of Albino Iroquois Indians who live on St. Regis and that her people became dark of skin when they are about 21.

Kim said her parents are dead, but she had lived on the island with her "adopted father" and her eight brothers and sisters until she hitch-hiked to Texas, where she hoped to train horses.

Ernest L. Bonnah, veteran agent of the St. Regis Reservation, said he neer had seen or heard of the girl. What's more, he never had heard of albino Indians, Bonnah added.

Bonnah, who says he knew everyone on the Canadian and American shores and on the islands near this reservation, observed:

"More and more people want to become Indians. People show up here quite often claiming to be indians who quite obviously aren't."

Kim plays the piano, types and speaks English, French and what she described as a tribal dialect.

The Salvation Army located a room for the girl and Shaitan, her dog.

Cobalt Bomb in Place at Coast

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP) — Vancouver's 3½-ton cobalt bomb, latest and most powerful weapon for combatting the cancer scourge, has now been installed in British Columbia Cancer Institute.

First patients will be treated in the next three or four weeks, Dr. A. M. Evans, Institute director, said today.

"We have no one in the city waiting for treatment by this kind of machine now," he said.

Installation is complete, but three technicians specially sent from Ottawa may take several weeks making delicate measurements and adjustments before the machine is used.

The "bomb" is nine feet tall, and housed in a special room with concrete walls 40 inches thick.

Venezuela, Dollar-Rich, Spells Sales Opportunity for Exporters

By The Canadian Press

Looking for markets? Try Venezuela.

Rich in oil and with plenty of dollars to spend, Venezuela, eighth largest of the Latin American Republics, "spells sales opportunities," says the Trade Department.

Scouring foreign horizons for greater Canadian trade opportunities, the department devoted the entire issue of one of its publications, "Foreign trade," to assessing the value of the Venezuela market—world's second-largest producer and leading exporter of petroleum products.

It found:

"Venezuela is one of a half-dozen countries to escape the crippling economic malady, the dollar shortake.

"It has the money to buy what it desires in the markets of the world. It erects no import barriers, imposes no currency restrictions.

"Soon growing iron ore production will boost its dollar income further."

DREAM COME TRUE

To most exporters, faced with rigid import restrictions and dollar scarcities in many traditional markets, this appraisal of the Venezuela market would be like a dream come true.

And yet Venezuela, with a population of just 5,000,000, is selling Canada a lot more than she is buying from this country. The big item, of course, is oil. Much of Canada's oil comes from this Latin country.

For example, last year Canada sold that country only $27,000,000 worth of goods, but purchased an unprecedented $136,000,000 worth, mostly crude petroleum. That gave Venezuela a trade surplus with Canada of $109,000,000.

In that same year, points out the department, United States firms supplied Venezuela with $485,000,000 worth of goods, covering more than 2700 different commodities.

Venezuela is Canada's third-largest export market in Latin America. It is the United States second-largest. Both countries get most-favored-nation tariff preference.

To focus the exporter's attention, the department made a detailed analysis of Canada's exports. It found that Venezuela takes Canadian newsprint and paper products and the outlook for increased sales of these "appears most promising."

It also buys Canadian dried salt codfish, canned meats, animal feeds, trucks and automotive parts, textiles and construction materials. In most cases, the U. S. is the big competitor but J. A. Stiles, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Caracas, Venezuela's capital, notes that the country is "gradually recognizing Canada as a dependable source of supply."

Venezuela is undergoing major industrialization and Mr. Stiles adds:

"The requirements for building up Venezuelan national industries, plus the continuing demand for a wide variety of consumer goods, support the belief that the present volume of Venezuelan imports will not only be maintained but will actually increase during the next few years."

We haven't even worked ourselves into a good lather over who's going to be in the World Series but already the hockey tub-thumpers are shifting into high and grabbing more and more space on this page

And it's not all confined to the professional camps, either. The Western International League, after a short tete-a-tete in Spokane last weekend, came up with its 100-game schedule and the rest is now to be settled in the rinks. What are the prospects?

★ ★ ★

Financially, it will be better. Discarding of inter-league games with Okanagan and Coast teams will lop considerable off travelling and lost-time expenses and thus mean easier operating budgets, even though the loss of variety through inter-league contests may mean a few less customers. But even that's doubtful if we have another whinging competitive season such as last year.

Roy McBride's Spokane Flyers are getting off to an early training start this year, opening camp next Tuesday at their ice arena, but the Kootenay clubs will probably all follow suit soon after Oct. 1. Ice goes back into the Civic Centre at that time and Wares intends to take advantage of it immediately. Last season, replacement of pipes cost Leafs two weeks training ice and a flock of hockey games prior to December.

None of the W.I.H.L. clubs are making any startling announcements—not unusual at this early date—but nobody's singing the blues, either, and that is somewhat unusual. All, apparently, have lines out and are getting bites.

The "split" pay fuss in Trail is apparently not as serious as it appeared to be and most of last year's squad is still very much around. Loss of Kotanen to Seattle will weaken the Smokies and Spokane will miss Cirullo, Carrigan and MacAuley. Nelson, of course, will have to get along without Don Appleton and probably Johnny Harms, so it's certain that all clubs will have holes to fill.

★ ★ ★

Leafs will miss opportunist Johnny Fargher, whose eye injury in the playoffs last year has impaired his vision permanently. John has given the Leafs six good seasons since moving here from Winnipeg. Glen Smith and Pete Dobnl, only non-Nelson Summer residents, are still in Saskatchewan but both are expected back.

Coach Eddie Wares will go to Calgary within the next two weeks to look over prospects and select a replacement player for Bob Gilhooly from the Stampeder ranks and, of course, Jimmy Lowe, the ex-Leaf late of Kelowna Packers, will be welcomed back to the Green and White this season.

Special good luck to Eddie Wares and Frank Hufty with the 1952-53 Leafs; to Ab MacDonald and his Little League movement, and to Carl Locatelli and his West Kootenay baseball league hopes . . . Thanks for reading this stuff, all five of you.

Ray Jablonski International Loop's Top Rook

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Ray Jablonski, slugging infielder-outfielder of Rochester Red Wings, has been voted the International League's rookie of the year by members of the circuit's Baseball Writers Association.

Jablonski, a St. Louis Cardinal farm hand, placed first on 14 of 33 ballots cast to nose out Don Hoak, Montreal third baseman.

Other players drawing votes were Chris Kitsos, Springfield, Milt Jordan and Joe Erautt, Buffalo, two votes each, and Ed Roebuck, Montreal, Bubba Phillips, Buffalo, one.

Jablonski, a righthanded hitter, batted .300 for the season. He drove home 101 runs, collected 177 hits and 279 total bases. His hits included 18 home runs, 11 triples and 26 doubles.

Giants, Bums Show Power

By The Associated Press

Brooklyn Dodgers and their persistent pursuers, New York Giants, went on slugging binges in neighboring boroughs Monday but when the cannonading had ceased there was no change in the National League pennant fight. The Dodgers still led by three games.

The Dodgers blasted out five home runs, with Jackie Robinson and Duke Snider contributing a pair apiece, to smother Cincinnati Reds at Ebbets Field 11-5.

The Giants, bidding for a second miracle finish in as many years, cut loose on St. Louis Cardinals, winning 12-1 at the polo grounds after a nine-run outburst in the sixth inning.

The day's only other action was in the American League and had no bearing on the championship race. The leading New York Yankees and the challenging Cleveland Indians were idle.

Chicago White Sox downed Boston Red Sox 4-2 on Rocky Kranich's bases-loaded single — his second such blow in two days. The lowly Detroit Tigers nipped Washington Senators 5-4.

Brooklyn lashed out 13 hits against a former teammate, Clarence Podbielan, the loser and first of five Red pitchers.

ROBINSON CONNECTS

Robinson hit a homer in the first with two mates on base, his 18th of the year, and followed with No. 19 in the eighth. Snider hit for the circuit in the third and fifth to raise his season's total also to 19

Gil Hodges also homered in the fourth—his 31st— as the Dodgers tied their all-time record of five home runs in a single game.

Carl Erskine was the winning pitcher although he was relieved in the eighth by Joe Black.

Bobby Thomson and Whitey Lockman hit home runs for the Giants but neither came in the wild sixth inning in which the New Yorkers put together six hits, three walks and an error for their biggest single inning of the season.

Shortstop Al Dark banged out a pair of doubles to spark the big inning.

With this boisterous support, Sal Maglie coasted to his 17th victory against seven defeats. The Cardinals' loser was Al Brazle, first in a parade of four pitchers.

Bonus shortstop Harvey Kuenn tripled and scored the Tigers' winning run against Washington in the ninth on Fred Hatfield's fly ball. Hal Newhouser, working in relief, gained credit for the victory, the 199th of his big league career.

Nelson Team Retains Boundary Golf Trophy

Nelson golfers retained the Boundary Cup at Metaline Falls, Wash., Sunday on the strength of a big advantage gained here last month in the first half of the home-and-home series with American competitors.

The local team ended with a 29-point margin after the Northern Washington shotsmiths won the Metaline round by a single point. Nelson had a healthy 30-point lead after the first round. The locals won the inaugural event last season.

Nelson players also dominated the individual prize lists. Doug Campbell took the low medal trophy with a two-over par 68 Sunday to go with the 70 he chalked up here.

Johnny Leschuk also shot a 68 to finish second, two strokes back of Campbell. Bruce Latremouille had a 69 to finish third, three strokes off the pace.

Bill Stream of Metaline, who was tied with Campbell for the lead after the Nelson matches, took a 73 to drop into fourth spot.

A party of 30 golfers made the trip from Nelson, including several team members' wives who played host club ladies in informal rounds.

Both team and individual Boundary trophies were donated by Nelson member Gordon K. Burns. Third annual series will be staged next year when a system of handicaps is likely to be arranged for the Americans in the Nelson round to offset the grass greens. The Northern Washington team is used to playing on sand greens.

Kinsmen Advance Into Little League Finals

Carmen Hancock's Kinsmen romped into the Nelson Little League baseball finals last night by trouncing Kiwanians 13-8. The win gave them the best-of-three series in two straight games after an 8-1 opening-game victory.

The hard-hitting Kinsmen, who now meet the winner of the Lion-Rotarian series in the finals, capitalized on nine Kiwanian errors and the big bat of Lloyd Atwell to salt it away. Darkness halted play after five innings.

Atwell drove in six runs on a homer, double and single to lead the winners while pitcher Gordon Jeffs was limiting the Kiwanians to four hits. He struck out eight and walked nine.

Eugene Kraft was the loser, giving up seven runs after relieving Carl Swan in the fourth but allowing only two hits. Errors were the big factor with all but two of the winners' runs being unearned.

Lions and Rotarians play their crucial third and final game Wednesday evening for the right to meet Kinsmen. Lions took the opener 8-1 but Rotarians came back to even it with an 8-6 victory in the second.

36-Year-Old Slaughter Still Has Rookie Spirit

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP) — Enos Slaughter, the ever-hustling country "boy" of 36, is aiming at that 2000-hit circle. Stan Musial, a team-mate on St. Louis Cardinals, made the grade last week and now Slaughter is thumping down the last 100 hits.

Last Spring they said "Slaughter is all through." Although he was in fine condition, they shook their heads wisely and said "Wait until August. He won't play 75 games."

Well, here it is Sept. 15 and Slaughter played his 131st game today against New York Giants. And playing at a .300 clip, seventh in the league. His major league career showed 1911 hits through Sunday.

"I still play this game the only way I know how," he said before the game. "You only get out of it what you put in."

"Years ago in the minors Eddie Dyer (ex-Card manager) watched me run in from the outfield and then stop when I got to the baseline. He asked me why I stopped. Ever since that day I've run every step of the way when I'm on the ball field.

"Sure the old legs and muscles ache a little now and then. I have to give them as much rest as I can. There's plenty of life in the old boy yet. I'm good for a few years yet."

15TH SEASON

It's hard to believe Slaughter has been around the majors since 1938. That was the year Stan Musial was breaking in as a lefthanded pitcher in the Mountain States League. Managers have come and gone while Enos stays on. First it was Frankie Frisch. Then Ray Blades, Billy Southworth, Eddie Dyer, Marty Marion and Eddie Stanky. Slaughter gives out for every one.

Here's what Bill Meyer, the harassed Pittsburgh skipper says:

"That Slaughter kills us. You walk Musial and Slaughter hits a home run."

ROCKET RICHARD SIGNED AND READY TO GO

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard today signed his 1952-53 contract with the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League. This is the starry winger's 11th straight season with the Montreal team. The terms were not disclosed.

Richard was the first player signed by Canadiens this year. Last season he was the last to come to terms. Defenceman Tom Johnson also signed today.

Richard said he was satisfied with terms after a short conference with general manager Frank Selke. He said he was anxious for the season to open so he could beat the all-time scoring record of Nels Stewart of 324 goals. Richard has 319 goals and 204 assists and needs six to beat "Ol' Poison's" record.

RACE TRACK FIRE TO BE INVESTIGATED

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP) — An investigation was ordered today after 25 thoroughbreds and a stable pony perished in a 15-minute fire at the swank Belmont Park racetrack.

George Clough, Nassau County fire marshal, directed an investigation into what he termed "flagrant abuses of ordinary fire prevention."

The horses lost were valued at $125,000.

The blaze broke out late yesterday in the huge, wooden barn where about 50 horses, some of them scheduled to run in today's opening Fall card, were quartered.

Twenyt-five were led to safety but there was no time to save the others, including such well-known stake runners as Big If, owned by John T. Maloney of Virginia and Tocoli, owned by J. S. Kroese of Hackensack, N.J. E. P. Taylor of Toronto lost Noble Gesture.

Gad, Abner Doubleday Was Russian

MOSCOW, Sept. 15 (AP) — The Soviet youth magazine Smena told young Soviet readers that "beizbol" is not North American in origin but just a distortion of the Russian village sport of lapta which was played in the Russian countryside hundreds of years before there was any America on the map.

(The Russians also claim to have discovered or invented, among other things, the radio, the electric light, penicillin, the airplane, the helicopter, the telephone, the parachute, jet planes, the first oil well and sound movies).

"Beizbol," the magazine said, is a "beastly battle, a bloody fight with mayhem and murder."

"Beizbol" players are slaves who are bought and sold like sheep. Then when they are worn out and usually cripples as a result of injuries suffered on the playing fields, they are thrown out on the street to die of starvation, Smena said.

The article, entitled "Beizbol — Big Ketch," was written by A. Juleshov and M. Kremnev.

One of the pictures showed a player knocked out on the field with the caption "Episode in game between 'Sen Luis' and 'Dodjers.' Del Rios, having received blow struck on the back of his head, being carried unconscious from the field."

Smena said "business men from sports" who make fabulous profits from the game, train young boys in the special techniques of rough play so they will be able to inflict injuries on their opponents.

NHL Opening Earliest Yet — Set for Oct. 9

By BARRY WEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP)—The National Hockey League opens its 70-game 1952-53 schedule Thursday, Oct. 9—earliest date in the 36 years of league operation.

The opening clashes bring Chicago Black Hawks to Montreal to meet Canadiens while Detroit Red Wings, Stanley Cup champions, play host to New York Rangers.

The schedule, issued tonight by N.H.L. officials, opens two days earlier than it did at Detroit last year, but has the same number of games. It ends Sunday, March 22.

Toronto Maple Leafs make their first stand at home Oct. 11 with the Leafs meeting Chicago. This will be a test of the trading abilities of the high command of both teams. Harry Lumley, goalkeeper of the Hawks last year, will be in Toronto toggery while lanky Al Rollins, last season's goal janitor of Toronto, will be with the Hawks.

Boston fans see the 1952-53 edition of the Bruins for the first time Oct. 12, with Montreal Canadiens as opponents. These teams were play-off rivals last year.

New York Rangers, last team to play a home game, meet Boston Bruins Oct. 22.

The two Canadian clubs, Montreal and Toronto, play most of their home games Saturdays. The Leafs play 24 and Canadiens 22. The Leafs are home 11 Wednesdays while Montreal plays 13 weekday games Thursday.

Chicago, Boston and Detroit have most of their home games Sundays, the Black Hawks 17, Bruins 17, and Red Wings 15.

The Rangers will play four games in five nights on six different occasions. Toronto plays four games in five nights four times, while Montreal and Detroit see such action three times and Chicago and Boston twice.

Argos' Curtis Setting Hot Pace

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP) — Ulysses (Crazy Legs) Curtis, the elusive Toronto Argonaut speedster from Albion, Mich., is speeding towards a Big Four point-scoring championship and on his showing to date he'll probably set an all-time league record in the bargain.

Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press show the former Florida A & M back with 30 points, the exact total he made with Argos in 10 games last season. The league record of 108 points in the 12-game schedule was set up in 1950 by Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, then with Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Curtis, dubbed by Coach Frank Clair as the "greatest player in Canadian football," holds a 10-point lead over team-mate Al Bruno and 15 points over pint-sized Doug Pyzer of Argonauts and Hal Waggoner of Tiger-Cats. Bob Heck, another Argo who rejoined the team this season after a year with the United States Marines, is fifth with 14 points.

Archie McAffer, home-brew with Sarnia Imperials of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, holds the Eastern Canada point leadership with 26.

The 24-year-old player, held pointless in Saturday's game at Brantford, has an 11-point lead over Lloyd (Dutch) Davey, also of the Imps who has kicked 11 converts, a placement and a single.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Canadian Envoy Calls on Dutch Queen Juliana

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—Thomas Stone, Canada's new ambassador to The Netherlands, today drove in state to present his credentials to Queen Juliana at the Noordeinde Palace.

Escorted by Mounted Police, the stocky 51-year-old diplomat rode in the customary gleaming coach accompanied by liveried footmen.

At the palace a guard of honor presented arms while the band struck up the Canadian national anthem and "God Save the Queen." Three officers ushered him into the palace, where he had a 10-minute audience with the Queen.

Stone had met Queen Juliana in Canada during her wartime stay there when Holland was occupied.

A career diplomat who has also been a newspaper man, teacher and farmer, Stone was previously in Stockholm as minister to Sweden.

PUBLIC NOTICE

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
ENGINEERING DISTRICT No. 6

NELSON-CRESTON DISTRICT
ROSSLAND-TRAIL DISTRICT
KASLO-SLOCAN DISTRICT

The attention of citizens residing adjacent to Provincial Highways and roads is drawn to the fact that certain sections of the Highway Act are being contravened. These regulations are designed to protect and maintain the highway surfaces and drainage systems and to assist motorists. It would be appreciated if the public would obey these regulations. Further, failure to observe the law may result in prosecution. It is necessary to obtain a permit before:

(1) Making an entrance on to the highway (such as private or commercial drive-ways, farm entrances, logging or mining entries, etc.). Those operating commercial concerns should be sure to obtain a permit prior to incurring expenditures as they may otherwise suffer financial loss if the permit is refused.
(2) Before erecting utility poles, mail boxes, loading platforms, etc., on the highway right-of-way.
(3) Before removing any timber, soil, gravel, or other material from the highway right-of-way.
(4) Before placing any material on the highway right-of-way.

It is unlawful to:
(1) Dump garbage on any highway right-of-way.
(2) Allow to flow on to the highway right-of-way any seepage from septic tanks or any filthy or noxious water.
(3) Operate any ditch, the water from which is damaging the highway.
(4) Tamper with highway drainage or culverts.
(5) Place fill in highway ditches.

The following is a quotation from the Regulations:

"No person being the owner, occupier, or lessee of any land shall place, or permit, or allow to be placed, any building within a distance of 25' from the property frontage on any highway within the unorganized territory of the Province."

Regulations prohibit the display of signs or advertisements on the highway right-of-way or within 1000' of the highway, in unorganized territory. Certain concessions are allowed store buildings and gas stations off the right-of-way, and certain concessions are allowed tourist camps if covered by a permit.

Those interested may obtain copies of the Highway Act or copies of the "Regulations Respecting Regulation of Traffic" from the Queen's Printer, Victoria.

Further information regarding the above and forms for application for special permits can be obtained from the District Offices of the Department of Public Works. Permits are free. Applications for permits should be made in triplicate on Form P.W. 20 and should be accompanied by sketches. Applications should be forwarded as follows:

For the Nelson-Creston District to: District Engineer
Department of Public Works,
Court House,
Nelson, B. C.

For the Kaslo-Slocan District to: District Engineer

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (CP) — Losses in railroads and oils led prices lower but it wasn't long before the declines spread to about every major category.

Canadian issues were mostly lower. Dome Mines and Distillers Seagram both fell ¼ and Canadian Pacific slipped ⅛. Hiram Walker added ⅛. International Nickel was unchanged and McIntyre unquoted.

TORONTO (CP) —Prices continued to decline today toward the close.

Base metals lost more than 1½ points on the index after a weak day and industrials and Western Oils also dropped more than an index point. Golds weakened slowly throughout the session.

Active trading in a few mining issues boosted the volume of shares traded and volume for the session totalled about 2,600,000 shares.

MONTREAL (CP) —Prices showed an irregular tone towards the close. Trading resumed its slow pace.

Most changes were small and about evenly divided between gains and losses.

Senior metals, utilities and carriers posed a considerable amount of gains but senior oils, steels and banks turned lower. Papers and miscellaneous industrials were mixed and trendless and beverages held steady.

LONDON (Reuters) — Interest was slack in most sections.

Gilt-edged issues made the best showing by putting on 1-16 to ¼ in early dealings.

Foreign bonds were dull with the subnormal turnover in Japanese issues bringing losses up to one point. Germans were a half-point lower.

Sweden Finishes Naval Exercises

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 15 (Reuters) —Sweden today concluded her own large-scale air and sea exercises for this fall, staged independently but simultaneously with the North Atlantic Pact's Operation Mainbrace.

Gen. Nils Swedlund, Sweden's Commander-in-Chief, called off the manoeuvres in northern Baltic waters from his headquarters aboard a coastal destroyer after J-29 jet fighters staged a surprise attack on an "enemy" fleet heading for the coast.

Sweden, officially a neutral country, is not a member of NATO and is taking no part in the Mainbrace operation to her west.

No Rest for Mothers

BOSTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—Six-year-old Tommy Wallace swung his lariat Sunday and lassoed an automobile by the bumper. The youngster was jerked off the sidewalk and slammed on to the street. He was treated for cuts and bruises.

Had Chest X-Ray Lately? Possible Still If You Missed at the Fair

Have you had a chest X-ray this year?

Some 975 people took advantage of the free X-ray service offered at the Community Health Services booth at the West Kootenay Exhibition last week. If you were not one of them, you can still have a free X-ray any time at the Kootenay Lake General Hospital's Tuberculosis Control Clinic.

Out of 800 tests made at the Health Services booth last year, only one active case of tuberculosis was discovered.

Everyone should have at least one X-ray a year, said Lyall Cruickshank, secretary-manager of the hospital. The hospital participated officially in the health exhibit for the first time this year. Miss Marian Davies, Director of Nursing, helped to plan the display, along with Miss Nancy Lee, Public Health Service nurse, and A. G. Boas, Sanitary Inspector for Nelson and district.

The main idea of the exhibit said Miss Lee, was to dramatize to the public the fact that all the various services and agencies, as well as the hospital are working together in a cooperative effort to maintain public health. Services represented include Public Health Nursing, Cancer Society, Arthritic Society, and Sanitation, Tuberculosis Control, Vital Statistics, and Social Welfare branches of the Department of Health and Welfare.

A new feature of the exhibit was a graphic display of how water and milk are tested for impurities. Raw and pasteurized milk from farms and dairies, well-water and municipal and rural public water supplies are regularly tested at the Provincial laboratory of the Department of Health and Welfare, which has been in operation for the past year and a half.

Miss Dorothy Done, attractive UBC chemistry grad with the imposing title of Assistant Bacteriologist, explained how she and Miss Ruby Schoeps, laboratory technician, determine the purity of milk and water according to standards set up by the department. Miss Done performed the remarkable feat of counting nearly four million "colonies" of bacteria, magnified on a test plate at the booth, in 120 seconds. Asked for an explanation, she said smilingly that it was all a question of mathematics.

Working at the Provincial laboratory, which is located behind the hospital, Miss Done and Miss Schoeps also determine the nature of bacteria or germs causing disease or infection in hospital patients. Last month alone, Miss Done conducted 1326 separate bacteriological tests.

The display included a rack containing a large number of pamphlets on health subjects ranging from prenatal care to hospital insurance. Some 15 nurses, technicians and others staffed the booth, and explained the variety of services available to the public, many of them free and others at a nominal charge.

At the hospital everything humanly possible is done for each individual patient, said Miss Davies. She explained that no matter what the illness, the Hospital takes care of all cases whether covered by hospital insurance or not, and calls on the many agencies and services to provide other kinds of assistance where it is needed.

Bear Roundup in Shipyard Rodeo

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP)—A shipyard "cowboy" staged a black bear roundup in suburban North Vancouver, but Mr. Bruin won.

Harry Natyshak, a shipyard worker, and 20 fellow workers chased the bear through the Burrard shipyards, around coal bunkers and launching timbers.

Finally, Natyshak climbed to the top of some piles and lassooed the bear.

After a hard struggle the bear freed himself from the rope, disappeared among some boom timbers and is believed to have taken to the waters of Vancouver harbor.

Police Seek Driver Of Damaged Auto

World of Dolls Is Two-Month Job By Exhibitor

Two months of daily work went into the non-competitive display of "Dolls of the Nation" shown at the West Kootenay's exhibition here.

Fifty five dolls, most of them dressed in delicately crocheted gowns were made by Mrs. P. Perdue of 215 Gore Street.

By far the most beautiful and delicate doll was the Gypsy. Dressed in rainbow hues with swinging skirt, the tiny Gypsy had an impish appearance of reality. Most of the dolls were standard nine-inch heights, but some were tiny cupie-dolls. It's a hobby with Mrs. Perdue, dressing dolls in every costume imaginable. She started last year and her first 20 dolls were exhibited at the Fair.

This year's Dolls of the Nation represented most of the countries in the world.

Giant Babine Slide Cleared; Salmon Freed

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP) — Federal fisheries men signalled "success" today in clearing the giant slide in the salmon-rich Babine River.

It was the end of a 10-month battle. When a 300-foot cliff collapsed into the Babine a year ago, blocking the passage of thousands of Sockeye, it was a disaster for the fishing industry.

The slide threatened the livelihood of many persons in Northern British Columbia, who are dependent on salmon runs. The Babine tributary produces half of the Skeena River Sockeye—valued at several million dollars annually.

From the field men came word today that the slide is being successfully cleared and that the clearing work has opened up a little-known migratory channel to permanent inspection.

$1 MILLION JOB

By blasting and rock removal, engineers have cleared small side channels for the fish, first of the 1952 run to arrive. An estimated 155,000 of the total run of 500,000 Sockeye now have arrived at the Babine Lake spawning grounds.

However, there is a big job ahead. The permanent clearing of the slide itself must be completed before high water in the Spring.

It is estimated total cost of the clearing job will be around $1,000,000.

SEVEN FROM KOREA HOMING TO B. C.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP) — One hundred and fifty-six men and one dog, all veterans of the Korean war and members of the first battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, will arrive in Seattle, Wash., 8:30 a.m., Wednesday, army headquarters here announced today.

The dog, the first battalion's regimental mascot, is being repatriated in the custody of Lieut. W. R. Burton-Foster of Vancouver.

The repatriates will arrive in Seattle on board the U. S. Navy troopship Gen. H. L. Howze. All will be sent to Vancouver on special buses and Eastern soldiers will catch trains from here.

Returning British Columbians are: Pte. F. A. Hart, Pte. D. G. Morgan, and Pte. E. Walton, Victoria; Cfn. S. E. Schell, Prince George, Sgt. R. H. Daw, Sgt. J. C. Merry, and Pte. R. J. E. Rutter, Vancouver.

S. African Judge Frees Non-Whites

CAPETOWN, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—A judge today freed 40 South African non-whites and said it was "a shame" they were arrested on such flimsy charges.

The non-Europeans had been charged with living in shanties on Table Mountain without permission of the man who owned the land.

"Every time they are brought before me I shall reprimand and discharge them," said Magistrate J. J. Coetzer. "What harm have they done to the land? It is derelict."

Flat-topped Table Mountain dominates the bay around which Capetown is built. With the acute housing shortage in the city, homeless Africans have spread out to the slopes of the mountain.

Britain Opens "Hold Fast" Exercises

SENNELAGER, Germany, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—More than 120,000 Canadian, British, Belgian and Dutch ground troops and airmen deployed today for the start of the British army's main Autumn manoeuvre, named Hold Fast.

The war games, to last a week, are to "exercise the Northern army group on protracted defence under conditions of air inferiority and to train the second Allied Tactical Air Force in tactical and air defence," a British army announcement said.

Four Nelson Girls Start R. C. A. F. Careers

New enlistees in the R.C.A.F. (regular) are these four Nelson girls, who will take their basic training at St. John's, Quebec.

From left to right they are the Misses Peggy Darwin, Joan Will, Joan Allen and Lillian Thorlakson.

Miss Darwin and Miss Will have selected "Fighter Control Operator" as a trade for their new life in the service, Misses Allen and Thorlakson have selected clerical trades.—Cross photo.

"OUT IN OPEN" NEW POLICY OF B. C. DOCTORS

VICTORIA, Sept. 15 (CP) — The medical profession in British Columbia today took a long step forward in an attempt to draw back the curtain of mystery which has surrounded the practice of medicine.

At the general assembly of the annual convention of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Medical Association which opened here, the delegates:

1. Opened their private deliberations to the Press, with no restriction;

2. Unanimously approved the principle of a weekly radio broadcast to present the doctor's viewpoint to the public.

"We are attempting to move away from our previous policy of Olympian isolation," Dr. Gordon Johnston of Vancouver, chairman of the Public Relations Committee, stated in presenting his report.

This is the first time that general assembly has met under the eye of the public. The building committee on professional policy in B.C., the assembly has previously met behind closed doors and released no statements.

Under chairmanship of Dr. Frank Turnbull, Vancouver, the assembly met this morning to consider the treasurer's report; a suggestion for group insurance and pensions plans for doctors; and other matters of internal interest in the B.C. division.

Dr. J. A. Ganshorn, Vancouver, president-elect who will take office at the annual dinner Thursday, was named as representative on the board of the Canadian Medical Association.

Claim Women Spies Work for N. Korea

PUSAN, Korea, Sept. 15 (AP)—South Korean police have smashed a band of 17 women spies operating from within the United Nations Organization, the Government has announced.

Police arrested 17 women, including two alleged ringleaders.

The announcement followed by one day a disclosure that a spy ring of 17 men had been broken up.

The two leaders were identified as Miss Pak Chungn Ja, 25, and Miss Yoon Chil Sung, 24, both graduates of the Seoul Women's Medical College. The Government said Miss Pak received special Communist training in North Korea. She has been working in a U.N. unit.

Newest Newspaper In Newfoundland

CORNER BROOK, Nfld., Sept. 15 (CP)—The Western Star today became Canada's newest daily newspaper. Serving an urban area of 20,000 and all of West Newfoundland, the Star is the only Newfoundland daily outside St. John's.

First published as a weekly in Curling, Nfld., April 4, 1900, the Star progressed to the twice-weekly field four years ago, and now will publish five times weekly, the Friday and Saturday editions being combined.

Managing director is K. H. Pritchard, former news editor of the Kingston Whig-Standard.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR SPEEDY HOSPITAL TRIP

John Daniel Abrosimo was given a 30-day suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty to a charge of exceeding the 30 mile per hour speed limit on the Granite Road. Evidence was given that Abrosimo was en route to hospital with his wife. Magistrate William Evans heard the case in Provincial Court Monday.

District Police Force Increased; Fire Investigations Are Pressed

R.C.M.P. said here Sunday, additional men have been posted to detachments at Trail, Nelson, Castlegar and Grand Forks. A shift of officers during the past few weeks, has increased Castlegar's strength to four. Similar changes have been made in other areas.

Night patrols of the Castlegar to Nelson areas have been in effect for some time and the additional personnel are participating in a concentrated investigation of the fires in the district.

One arrest has been made as a result of investigations in connection with an incendiary fire in Castlegar when the home of John Bloodoff was damaged two weeks ago.

"No Greater Responsibility in Life Than Being a Parent" Mission Theme

"There is no greater responsibility in life than the responsibility of being a parent," stated Rev. Lawrence Banfield, mission preacher from Washington, D.C., to a packed congregation in the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate Monday evening.

Quoting from a speech by Queen Elizabeth, the priest emphasized that the parent by nature has the affection which is the root of education. "The affection which can alone inculcate a round Christian training so vital to a healthy society and yet so lacking today.

Most of the troubles in the world today is traceable to a lack of a proper Christian family life because the family is the foundation of society. Unless there is a healthy family life there cannot be a healthy world. It is to be remembered, the priest emphasized, that a child learns by example. So it is important that the parent not only tell the child what to do, but also that the parent practices his Christianity.

"It is foolish for a parent to expect a child to be good, to be virtuous if the parent himself is indifferent to religion and morality."

7-DAY MISSION

This was the third talk given by Father Banfield in the seven-day mission being conducted in Nelson. The mission opened Sunday morning with an overflow crowd at each of the three masses. On Sunday night when the priest spoke on the dignity of the human soul and its eternal destiny all seats were filled long before services began.

SERVICES IN MORNING

To accommodate the workingmen the first service is held each morning at 6:00 a.m. and then at 7:30 and 8:30, consisting of mass and a short instruction. The evening service is held at 7:30. The mission will continue on each day and night until Sunday evening when the solemn closing will take place.

"Many today fear that in trying to impart a Christian guidance, training and discipline to their children," the missioner announced, "that they will be labelled as old-fashioned. Consequently such parents either give up their obligation or fail to show disapproval of what they know in their hearts to be wrong."

Christ the God-Man might have chosen to dwell on earth as a hermit in a desert, or a king in a palace, but He chose instead an ordinary home. A home with his mother Mary and his foster-father, St. Joseph. And why did Christ do this? To leave us an example of Christian family living.

"The obligations then of parents toward their children are no less sacred, no les noble than those of Our Lady and St. Joseph, because the child is another Christ, made in the image of God and destined to live and reign in heaven. But whether or not this destiny will be achieved depends to a great measure on the early training parents give the child in the home."

The mission priest, who was dressed in the centuries-old white and black habit of the Dominican monks, concluded his talk on the "Obligations of Parents in the Home," with a four-fold persuasion: teach the child religion in the home, be careful of his companions, his amusements, give the child when necessary the proper discipline, and, lastly, to remember again that as a child walks and talks by imitation so does he learn his religion by imitating his parents.

NO ONE HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

About $100 damage was caused to two cars late Saturday when they brushed fenders at Beasley on the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway. No one was injured. A coupe heading toward Nelson, was driven by Robert Bergeron of Remac. The auto was owned by J. Gaetz, also of Remac. Cliff Phillips of Spokane was driver of the sedan.

Sideswiped Vehicles Plunge Into Ditch

One man was treated for cuts after the car he was riding and another vehicle sideswiped near Shoreacres. William Waldie, occupant in an auto driven by his son Arthur of Castlegar sustained superficial injuries. The accident occurred Saturday afternoon. Neither the driver nor a second passenger was injured.

No one was injured in the other vehicle, driven by Edward Harman of Rossland. He carried one passenger.

The two apparently sideswiped on the brow of a hill and ran into ditches on either sides of No. 3 highway. Total damage is estimated at $1000.

R.C.M.P. are investigating the cause of the accident.

Drinking — Driving Ends in $200 Fine

For driving a vehicle while his ability was impaired by alcohol, Fred Makaroff was fined $200 and $9.50 costs. He pleaded not guilty to the charge before Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans in Provincial Court.

The court heard evidence of two crown and two defence witnesses. Constable K. H. Wickens and Constable C. P. Wasson testified they checked the vehicle driven by Makaroff near South Slocan and found him to be "in a state of intoxication". Two defence witnesses, Mike Styrak and Andrew Olychick told the court the three had consumed "only one pint of liquor" and didn't think the accused was intoxicated.

Constable W. A. Demmon appeared for the crown and R. G. Simms for the defence.

The Ursulines is a religious order founded in Italy in the 16th century for the education of young girls.

Chamber Seeks Uniform Hours for Border Crossings

The Nelson Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of keeping the Nelway customs open later in the evenings. Nelway now closes at nine while Paterson remains open until midnight. The committee will also attempt to have the Laurier border crossing opened until midnight.

Pensions Advocate Hears 17 on First Visit Here

Melville F. Gladman, district pensions advocate of the Veterans Bureau, was at the Canadian Legion Saturday.

Mr. Gladman, who replaced the late Hugh Aird as pensions advocate for the Vancouver district of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, is on a trip through the Interior, interviewing veterans who have pension problems or disabilities.

In Nelson, Mr. Gladman had a busy day interviewing 17 people, some of whom he will later represent at hearings of the Canadian Pension Commission.
