Careful Handling Of Comics Urged

Wismer Would Avoid Suggestion of Censorship in Federal Legislation

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 17 (CP)—Careful handling of any Federal Legislation banning crime comics, to avoid any suggestion of censorship, was advised today by British Columbia's Attorney-General, Gordon S. Wismer.

Mr. Wismer made public suggestions he has forwarded to Justice Minister Garson at Ottawa, in response to a request from the later to all provincial attorney-generals, for advice on the subject.

Essence of B.C.'s attitude is the laying down of a definition of undesirable comics, Mr. Wismer said. Comics falling under the undesirable class should be prohibited entirely from publication and sale.

The difficulty lies in regulating comics without widening the general for all publications. Another eral definition of objectionable madanger, he said, lies in the possibility of some form of censorship board.

The Minister said under the definition of "desirables," it would be up to the publisher to decide whether his publications come within the law. Stretching the definition would make him liable for prosecution—just as book and magazine publishers are liable under present laws covering obscene, indecent or libelous material.

Mr Wismer said he feels censorship "would be a very dangerous precedent."

Bishop Johnson Presented To Pope

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Nov. 17—The Pope today received in private audience Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Nelson.

The Bishop was making his traditional "ad limina" visit to Rome. During 1949 all the bishops from the North American continent will journey to the Vatican to report on the work of the church. Bishops are required to make the reports every five years, but in the case of the bishops in North America and in many other parts of the world, this was precluded by the Second World War.

It was reported here today that Bishop Johnson expects to leave later this month on his return journey. He is expected home early in December.

Magnificent Sent To Area Believed Of Missing B-29

HAMILTON, Bernuda, Nov. 18 (CP)—The Canadian Aircraft Carrier Magnifice nt early today was diverted to the area where a United States B-29 bomber was believed to have been forced down Wednesday. The missing plane carried 20 men.

The 18,000-ton carrier, enroute South on a Fall cruise, was the vessel nearest the spot where flares were sighted by a search plane last night. Later it was reported that faint distress signals had been picked up from the same area, 345 miles Northwest of Bermuda.

PEARSON WARNS HOSPITALS TO CUT DOWN COSTS

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17 (CP) — Health Minister Pearson today warned British Columbia Hospital administrators that they "must reduce hospital costs."

"The Government is not trying to use a big stick on the hospitals," he said at the opening of the B. C. Hospitals Association Annual Meeting. "We are not trying to condemn you, but want to help you to more efficient management."

He told the 250 delegates the biggest challenge is to reduce costs.

INEFFICIENT

Mr. Pearson suggested there were "some inefficiencies" in B. C. hospitals whose total costs had risen from $9,000,000 to $17,000,000 in four years. Statistics showed some hospitals are "less than efficient."

He announced that investigation of hospital efficiency will shortly be launched by the Provincial Government.

Little Linda had gone to the house to play with Stroble's granddaughter, Rochelle, also six. But Rochelle and her mother were away at a birthday party, and only Stroble was at the house.

Simpson said the statement was verbal, but that it was being transcribed by stenographers.

Urge Greater U. K. Share of Canadian Machinery Market

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP)—A determined drive by the United Kingdom for a greater share of the expanding agricultural machinery market in Canada was recommended in a report released tonight by the British Agricultural Machinery Mission which made a fact-finding tour of the Dominion last Spring.

The Mission of nine leading British industrialists expressed the belief Britain could sell large quantities of farm machinery in Canada, but said the price differential is a major problem.

EDMONTON, Nov. 17 (CP) — A fleet-footed Clergyman Pinchhit for for a Police Constable here yesterday and nabbed a man whom he charged had broken into his church.

The story of the parson and the pilferer was unfolded in City Police Court today when John D. McNair, formerly of Brandon Man., was remanded on a charge of breaking into St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

Rev. A. J. Miller testified he had discovered accused in his office which he had left securely locked when going out on a call.

The intruder fled out of the Church office with Rev. Miller in hot pursuit. The Minister won the race.

When searched later by Police, Mc-Nair was in possession of a flashlight, pick keys and a screw driver.

Police said the accused admitted breaking into a Calgary Church recently and stealing $25.

Canada to Attend Commonwealth Meet at Ceylon on External Affairs

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson announced tonight in the Commons that Canada will be represented at a conference of Commonwealth External Affairs Ministers at Colombo, Ceylon, in January.

The conference will discuss the situation in the Far East and other matters of interest to the Commonwealth.

Mr. Pearson made the statement in concluding a two-day debate on External Affairs.

Earlier, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, indicated in a speech that he felt sanctions should be applied against Russia until she agrees to give the people under her domination the opportunity of choosing their own form of government.

Mr. Pearson said he could not name the Canadian representative to the Ceylon conference. There was nothing he would like to do than spend January in the balmy breezes of Colombo "but I don't know whether I will be allowed to go."

He said that during the debate there had been questions as to when Canada will recognize the new Communist Government of China, the situation with respect to recognition of that Government probably would be cleared up during the Ceylon conference.

He wished to state emphatically that no pressure had ben put on Canada to recognize or not to recognize the new Chinese Government.

PACIFIC PACT

Some members had asked why Canada did not press for a Pacific pact similar to the Atlantic Pact. There was no lack of interest on the Government's part in Pacific questions but countries such as India, Australia and the United States had stated that it would be premature to negotiate a Pacific pact at this time.

Mr. Pearson said he believes that "we should press ahead" with negotiations of a Japanese peace treaty and with the building of a truly democratic government in Japan.

PACT CLEARED UP

Mr. Pearson said he would like to clear up what appeared to some members to be a contradiction in statements on commitments under the Atlantic Pact.

When he said Canada had definite commitments, he meant the political undertaking that Canada would come to the defence of any member of the alliance which might be a victim of aggression.

When Defence Minister Claxton had implied some time ago that there were no commitments, he was referring to the millitary undertakings.

It had taken almost a year to work out the political foundation of the Pact. Work had just begun to work out the military plan which would assign each country its contribution in the event of aggression.

It would take some time to draft this plan and until then Canada's military commitments would not be known.

Mr. Pearson agreed with the suggestion by Mr. Drew that great strides would be made if the West could get to the people of Communist countries.

The Opposition Leader said that by putting her signature to the United Nations Charter Russia had agreed with other countries to give every nation the right to choose its own government. This right was being denied to all countries under Russian control.

Other speakers in the debate included Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North); Ralph Campney (L-Vancouver Centre); and Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra).

WOULD RETURN PART OF $4170 TAKEN FROM MAN LEAVING FOR HUNGARY

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP)—An Exchequer Court judgment today suggested that Steve Gomori, 55, former resident of Newcastle, Alta., should be given some consideration in a tangle with Foreign-Exchange laws in which he lost $4170.

The money was seized when Gormori, now back in Hungary, tried to go home in 1947 via Halifax. The crown appeared before the Exchequer Court to establish claim to the money.

The Court said Gomori was in the wrong, but felt he should get back "substantial part" of the money, which apparently constituted his life savings during many years in Canada.

Gomori sought to return to Hungary with $4170 tucked in a flannel money-belt. The Court said he could have taken out all his declared assets by using a certain form. There was no explanation as to why he chose to "evade the Act and its regulations."

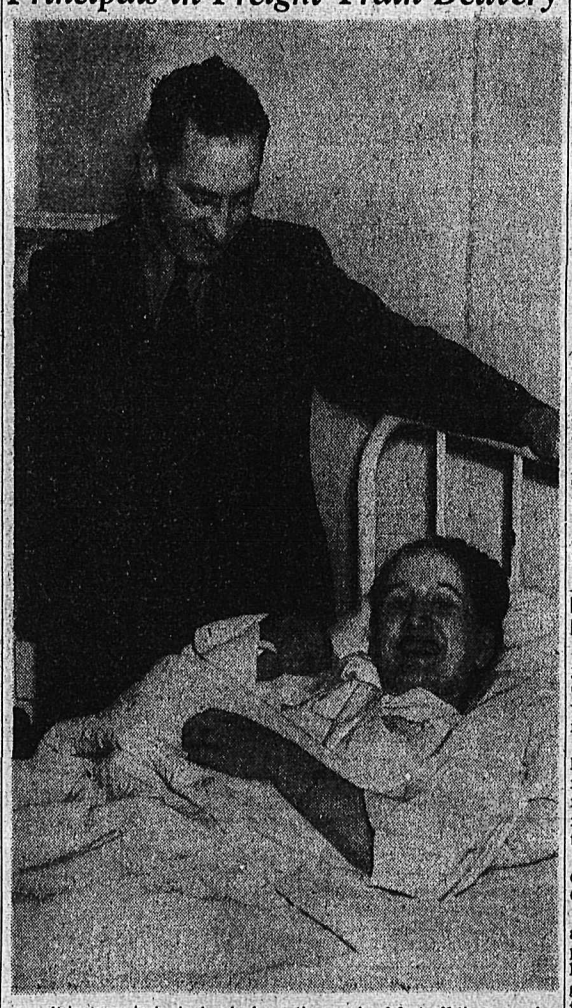
The judgement made by Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron, said:

"He may have been badly advised by someone as to the value of the Canadian draft (the special form in question) in Hungary and quite apparently he thought that the Canadian currency would be of greater value to him there than would a Canadian draft.

"If his declaration of assets is true, then by a single breach of the Act his entire Canadian savings may have been lost to him. That constitutes a very heavy penalty and in my view consideration might well be given to the matter of relieving him of a substantial part of such a drastic penalty."

The case now rests with the leniency of the Government, as influenced by the Exchequer Court recommendation.

Principals in Freight Train Delivery



It happens in taxis, in airplanes thousands of feet off the ground, and mostly in hospitals, but this time the stork caught up to a freight train.

This is the story which can be told by smiling Mrs. Anthony Silvernagle of Tye who gave birth to a bouncing six-pound baby boy on a freight train racing Nelson-bound Saturday morning in a vain attempt to beat the stork. Both mother and son are doing fine in Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

Conductor O. C. Higgs of Nelson, pictured above, also had a leading role in the adventure with the racing stork who just couldn't wait. It was he who delivered the prize package.

Himself a father of a six-year-old boy, and a nine-year-old girl, Conductor Higgs, in 21 years of railroading never had been called upon to perform such a duty.

18 FLIERS VICTIMS AS B-29S COLLIDE

3 Crewmen Manage To Parachute to Safety; Others Fail

Survivor Confused

STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 17 (AP)—Eighteen fliers were killed last midnight as two B-29s collided in a mock bombing run.

Three of the 21 crew member parachuted to safety from the plunging superforts—one plane in flames, the other "spinning like a top" from 26,000 feet.

Search parties located 10 bodies in one plane and eight in the other. There was grim evidence that some of the dead had tried to get parachutes on.

A fishing resort owner, Edward Kenyon, reported that a flier who gave his name as Lieut. Warren F. Sharrock, Pilot of one of the planes, staggered into his place and told of the crash.

The Fairfield-Suisun Air base said they could not confirm that Sharrock survived.

The Sheriff's office had quoted Kenyon as saying Sharrock had gasped out: "The other plane ran smack into us." Sheriff's Deputies and Air Force Officers later said Sharrock had not turned up anywhere. The Armed Forces Public Relations Office in San Francisco suggested that the circumstances indicated Sharrock had been confused for one of the confirmed survors.

The planes, both from Spokane, Wash., and part of a flight of 13, came down with a splintering impact on neighboring Delta Islands.

Only Pte. Keith R. Burns, 19 radio operator, is know to have survived among the 10 on the B-29 which crashed, spurting smoke and flame, on McDonald Island.

The other two bailed out of the second plane which narrowly missed a ranch bunk house with 30 workers and splattered on Rindge Tract, on on a Delta Island two miles North across a river channel.

They were officially identified as: Sgt. Robert S. Kluge, Gunner, and Sgt. Frank D. Schmidt, Flight Engineer.

INQUEST SETS COAST DEATH AS A SEX CRIME

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17 (CP) — The mystery death of Ferne Blanche Fisher, 45-year-old store clerk, today was established as a sex crime.

Her body was found floating in False Creek Nov. 9. She had vanished from her home 12 hours earlier.

Dr. T. R. Harmon, coroner's pathologist, told an inquest jury:

"She had been violated, judging by the multiple bruises from her head to her feet."

Death was caused by drowning, but she might have been unconscious when she entered the water.

The jury returned an open verdict—death by drowning and that bruises on her body were inflicted by "a person or persons unknown."

Dr. Harmon said the body bore head injuries, and there were multiple bruises on each side of her neck. They could have been caused by fingernail scratches.

"I feel certain that she could not possibly have inflicted all these on herself," added Dr. Harmon.

A reward of $2500 has been offered for a solution of Miss Fisher's death. It includes $2000 from the department store where she worked.

A brother, David Fisher, testified she was a shy, religious woman. She had no male companions.

"I believe my sister was waylaid and murdered by a sex fiend," he said.

He believes she was thrown off Kitsilano bridge by her murderer. The body was found near the bridge.

After eight days, her death is still a mystery and no arrests have been made.

FRIGHTENED BOY HIDES IN WOODS FIVE DAYS

SEATTLE, Nov. 17 (AP)—A 12-year-old Kirkland boy was in the County Hospital today for frost bite treatment after five days of hiding in the woods.

He had run away to escape what he thought might be a whipping from his father. When other boys found him Tuesday, his toes and fingers were swollen nearly twice their normal size.

The boy is Gary Lee Osborne, one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Osborne.

Mrs. Osborne said Gary ran away after she warned him of possible punishment for the mess he made of his new dress shoes. The boy had greased them on the advice of friends, hoping to preserve them.

Swanson Life in Hands Of Eleven-Man Jury in Early Morning Study

12th Member, S. P. Bostock, Becomes Ill, Judge Accepts 11-Man Jury

A 11-man Supreme Court jury early this morning was still deliberating the fate of William Francis Swanson.

The Creston Indian is charged with the murder of his 23-year-old wife, Julia, on the Lower Kootenay Reserve Oct. 23, 1948.

Ten minutes to midnight Thursday Swanson agreed to accept the verdict of the 11 men when the 12th member became suddenly ill.

The jury retired to make its verdict at 10:35 p.m. after the two days of hearing testimony. It was about 11 p.m. when the foreman Stanley P. Bostock of Nelson became ill. Dr. N. E. Morrison called to the Nelson court room, testified to the inability of the foreman to carry on. The jury retired again to the jury room after electing another foreman, A. L. Gustafson of Nelson.

M. Justice A. M. Manson was presiding.

Swanson spent four hours on the stand during the second day of his trial as the only defence witness. He denied testimony of prosecution witnesses that he had said on Oct. 23, 1948, "I have killed my wife", or that he had said he hit her with a stick.

Three times during the day, he claimed, he was completely unaware of happenings. He and his wife, he said, had consumed a gallon of home brew, and, later on finding her dead, he drank another two quarts.

Swanson claimed no memory of how his wife was fatally injured. "It could have been me, or it could have been something else. I don't remember".

He and his wife had been attempting to saddle horses to journey to Porthill for more liquor, he told.

Anastasia Basil, who claimed she was forced to flee with Swanson in his bid to escape a police net, declared that Swanson had told her he thought "a horse must have kicked [redacted] he must have done [redacted] hours as the [redacted] tions witnesses to testify.

GUILTY

William Francis Swanson murder trial jury at 1:15 a.m. Friday returned a verdict of guilty of murder with a recommendation for leniency.

He was sentenced by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson to be hanged Jan. 27, 1950.

And in This Corner —

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17 (AP)—A psychology professor knows what makes radio give-away shows so popular: the cinderella complex.

In each contestant's mind is an underlying desire for recognition, position, and escape from a humdrum, day-to-day existence.

The contestant, usually an obscure housewife, visualizes the program sponsor as a 20th-century fairy godmother capable of consummating these desires with a simple flick of a magic wand.

This intelligence comes from Dr. Franklin Fearing, Professor of Social Psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles. The professor has just completed an exhaustive study of the thought process behind the give-away shows.

CRIPPS HAS BAD NEWS FOR EGG PRODUCERS HERE

Timber Imports Must Be Reduced

QUERIES TARIFFS

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP)— Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, had bad news for Canadian egg producers today.

He told a press conference that Britain is switching back to her "original sources of supply" for certain food imports obtained from Canada during the war.

He mentioned eggs specifically.

Before the war Britain obtained most of her eggs from Denmark.

TIMBER TOO

On the question of import cuts generally, Sir Stafford said that Britain plans to reduce purchases of "marginal foodstuffs and semi-luxury things" where alternative supplies were available.

He said timber was one of the things which would be cut.

Asked about the volume of newsprint exports from Canada in 1950, The chancellor said it was a matter for the Board of Trade but added: "I think the program has been completed but I am not certain."

The chancellor also said the Commonwealth Countries had agreed on an import program of $1,200,000,000 a year and "that program is being maintained."

Britain could not "finally" close the dollar gap unless some adjustments were made in Canadian and American tariffs.

GARDINER DISAGREES

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner today said he disagreed with a United Kingdom view that Canada should be used as a food larder only during times of war.

The Minister was commenting in an interview on a statement by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, who informed a London Press Conference that Britain may switch to European supplies for food she formerly purchased in Canada.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Gardiner, " the view that Canada is to be depended on for supplies of food only during war is rather hard on Canadian agriculture.

"I am sure it is not the view of a great many people in Britain."

Mr. Gardiner said he could not comment at this time on a statement by Sir Stafford on purchase of Canadian eggs.

CHEESE BRIGHTER

A brighter picture looms for Canadian cheese. Britain has indicated she will take about 50,000,000 pounds the same amount as she bought this year. However, the price likely will range between 25 and 27 cents, compared with 30 this year.

Unlike eggs, the sharp reduction in bacon shipments may create a domestic problem. Canada is not expected to absorb an 80,000,000-pound surplus anticipated next year.

BCG ATTRACTING MORE CONFIDENCE

Confidence is increasing in BCG, states the Canadian Tuberculosis Association Bulletin. BCG is the immunizing agent for pulmonary tuberculosis—bacillus calmette guerin—discovered in 1908 by a French scientist named Calmette who worked on it with an associate named Guerin.

The bulletin reports that Professor Arvid Wallgren of Stockholm was one of the vaccine's most enthusiastic supporters. He said BCG had proven efficient in Scandinavian countries, so "why not use it?" Studies in Sweden, he said, had shown the duration of immunity afforded by BCG to be approximately three years, and added that its use in nursing schools had resulted in tuberculosis ceasing to be a problem in these institutions.

Dr. Kai Adolf Jensen of the University of Copenhagen, is reported as stating that in his opinion natural resistance was the predominant factor and that while BCG had worked well in the Scandinavian countries, it remained to be seen whether it would prove effective in the countries where the natural resistance was low, brought down by bad nutrition.

Will Professionalize Boxers If Found Paid

WINNIPEG, Nov. 17 (CP) — F. J. (Don) Rowand, President of the Manitoba Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, said today that if the branch is given proof that any amateur boxer receives money or vouchers "we'll professionalize him so fast it will make his hair curl."

Rowand made the statement in commenting on a Vancouver report that two of Canada's Empire Games boxers may be barred from the team because boxing associations in Manitoba and Ontario refuse to abide by international rules. The report named Toronto flyweight Bonnie Muir and Winnipeg featherweight Frank White as the fighters.

MONTREAL, Nov. 17 (CP)—Maj. Jack Davies, General Manager of the Canadian British Empire Games team, said tonight that he does not "place any faith" in a report from Vancouver that two boxers on the team may be suspended.

Present Kiwanis Travelling Gavel

The Nelson Kiwanis Club has won the travelling gavel again. This time it was for their trip to Chewelah, Wash., when the members, through some scheme of their own, rolled up 5148 miles.

The gavel was presented to the club at their dinner meeting in the Hume Thursday night by Neil McClure of Colville, Wash., Lieutenant-Governor of Div. 6. In making the presentation, Mr. McClure said the Nelson Club had been the "best travelling club in the division."

Mr. McClure also presented a Past President's certificate for Walter Hendricks, who was unable to be present. The certificate was in recognition of his work as past president and for his "devoted services to the club."

A discussion on the coming annual turkey shoot sponsored by the Club was held.

The evening wound up with films shown by Dr. J. Vingo following a directors' meeting.

Market Trends

MONTREAL (CP)—Stocks were higher near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market today.

Gains ranged from fractions to more than a point.

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials climbed to the highest price level in more than three years on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Demand increased steadily as market leaders chalked up advances ranging from fractions to more than two points.

Western oils also gained while golds backed down from yesterday's advances. Base metals held against pressure. Volume was about 960,000 shares.

WINNIPEG (CP)—The United Kingdom was allocated 900,000 bushels of Canadian wheat under the long-term agreement, while Israel and Iran each took cargoes of approximaetly 265,000 bushels, it was reported today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy demand for automobile stocks strengthened today's market.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eastern activity affected the Vancouver Stock Exchange in a session that saw oils come back to life and sales climb to 54,771 shares.

Although activity was greatly increased over yesterday's low, gains were mostly fractional.

LONDON (Reuters)— Although most sections moved higher today, the London Stock Exchange lacked driving force.

British Government stocks were being bought in initial dealings but this was thought to have been an overflow of yesterday's late institutional support. Gains were not always held and the section closed fractionally under best.

Blames "Blue Laws"

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17 (CP)—Dr. Charles L. Hunt today blamed Sunday "blue laws" with being a factor in the high rate of venereal disease in Vancouver.

Dr. Hunt, Director of VD Control of the B.C. Department of Health, told the city's Metropolitan Health Committee that "idleness promoted by lack of interests promotes promiscuity."

"Vancouver is the mecca for all of British Columbia and many merchant seamen, but over the weekends there is no form of entertainment and no amusements open to them."

Judge Ryan Rules Judith Coplon's Arrest Justified

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP).—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ruled today that Judith Coplon's arrest was legal and that papers taken from her purse by the Federal Bureau of Investigation can be used as spy trial evidence against her.

Ryan held that the F.B.I. was justified in making the arrest without a warrant. He said agents had reasonable ground to believe the girl was guilty of a crime and also that she might escape before a warrant could be obtained.

Crease Clinic, Essondale, "Dream Building"

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17 (CP)—A $2,000,000 clinic of psychological medicine was opened Wednesday at the Essondale Provincial Mental Hospital.

It bears the name of Dr. A. L. Crease, Director of Essondale for 24 years, and is a tribute to his work in assisting the mentally ill.

Health Minister George Pearson attended the opening ceremony.

The Crease Clinci is a four-storey building containing the latest in hospital facilities, a reasearch laboratory, medical and surgical offices and wards for 325 patients.

Built as a hospital rather than a mental home, there are no jail-like bars. The wards are pastel colored, and huge sitting rooms are rug-covered and furnished with comfortable lounge chairs.

Dr. Crease explained that the clinic—his "dream building"—was built to create peace of mind and comfort.

Work of Master Spy In Germany a Secret

BY DON GILBERT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP)—Too hot to publish, one of the best spy stories of all time is to be kept as a top-secret textbook for future British spies.

It is the story of 60-year-old Lt.-Col. Alexander Paterson Scotland. A master spy, the close-cropped, grey-haired British officer was on the German General Staff during both World Wars.

Scotland is currently a defence witness in the Hamburg trial of Field Marshall VonManstein. He probably has more inside information on German war crimes than any other Allied official.

Although his personal story would earn him a fortune Britain's "Very Special Agent" has promised never to write for publication. His sercets will stay in the archives of the British Intelligence Service—and in that hush-hush textbook.

A nephew of George Bernard Shaw, Scotland doesn't share the Irish playwright's volubility.

"The less publicity directed at people like myself the better," he said when his spy role was revealed.

IDEAL PRUSSION

When Hitler touched off the Second World War, Scotland headed for Berlin. There, his perfect German and his short, bristled hair made him the ideal Prussian type.

From German Army Headquarters in Bendlerstrasse he relayed information to London by communications facilities installed in his office.

Some 40 years earlier, from 1903-1907, Scotland had done a hitch as a private in the Kaiser's Army.

Combined Decision on Chinese Reds Best for Everyone, Says Britain

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

State Secretary Acheson of the United States was using plain, though unemotional, language when he said in Washington that Chinese Communist treatment of American Consul-General Ward, who is in a Mukden jail with four of his staff, removes any present possibility of considering U. S. recognition of the new Red Chinese Government.

This comes on the heels of repeated failures by U. S. authorities to secure news about Ward and his colleagues, who are accused of beating a Chinese employee. Even American Consul-General O. Edmund Clubb in Peiping has been rebuffed by top Communist leaders.

RIGHT CHALLENGED

It also comes at a moment when the Red regime at Peiping, which is seeking recognition by the great powers, is boldly challenging the right of Chinese Nationalist delegates to represent the country in the United Nations. Thus far none of the members of the Soviet bloc has shown any disposition to oust these representatives of the regime which still ranks as one of the Big Five in the peace organization.

Britain has been seriously considering the idea of recognizing the Peiping Government. Her economic interests in China are far greater than those of any other foreign power, and she naturally is gravely concerned. However, one would expect Downing Street to move slowly now in view of the American position. In fact Foreign Secretary Bevin, speaking in the House of Commons yesterday regarding recognition, said:

"I am more concerned in acting together with the Commonwealth and with other friendly Governments rather than taking a hurried decision on this. I think a combined decision in which a large number of people cooperate in this business is much the best."

U. S. Expects 10 Air Groups and Bases in France

PARIS, Nov. 17 (Reuters).—The United States has asked France to form 10 air groups and install extra air bases as a condition of military aid, Andre Maroselli, new French Air Minister, said in an interview published today in the newspaper Figaro. A French air group averages 50 planes.

Too Many Ships, Says J. V. Clyne Create Problem

QUEBEC, Nov. 17 (CP) — The problem of exchange as well as the fact the "world has too many ships" is complicating the world's shipping problems, J. V. Clyne, Chairman of the Canadian Maritime Commission said on his arrival here today aboard the liner Franconia.

Returning from the talks in Britain between British and Canadian Shipping Authorities on Merchant Marine problems, Mr. Clyne said the talks will be resumed shortly in Ottawa with Sir Gilmour Jenkins, permanent Secertary of the British Transport Ministry.

Rentals Salary $10,000 Yearly Expenses $15,000

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP).—Owen Lobley, Canada's Rental Administrator, gets a salary of $10,000 a year, Alan Macnaughton (L.—Montreal Mount Royal) was told today.

Giving the background of the rental administrator, a return in the Commons disclosed that Mr. Lobley started his rentals job on Jan. 1, 1944, and since then has received travelling expenses of almost $15,000.

His appointment was not by Civil Service Commission examination, but by Order-in-Council and although he devotes his full time to rentals administration work, he still has a number of outside business connections.

Uniformity in Securities Laws Needed—O'Connor

TORONTO, Nov. 17 — Canadian efforts to raise venture capital for being "strangled in a web of American restrictive and discriminative oil and mining developments are legislation," Thomas P. O'Connor, prominent Toronto lawyer and former Senior Solicitor of the Ontario Securities Commission declared here today at a luncheon meeting of the International Alumni Association.

"Not only must we file with the Federal Security Exchange Commission and comply with their Federal Act, but also with the Acts of the 48 States of the Union."

"The delay and expense is prohibitive. After meeting all of our own requirements we find ourselves confined to the boundaries of Ontario in our efforts to raise money, unless we qualify with the Commissions of the nine other Canadian provinces and the 48 States."

Mr. O'Connor declared that "there must be reciprocity and uniformity in securities legislation, not only in Canada, but across the International border."

Until then, he said, "there is danger that millions of tons of strategic metals and millions of barrels of oil will never be unearthed. The development of our resources is of continental, even global, concern."

Securities legislation in Ontario today was praised by Mr. O'Connor as being "the most advanced in Canada and far superior to the American state blue sky laws."

Visitors to Study Canadian Radio, Life, Newspapers

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Nov. 15 (CP).—Andre Schuwer can tell you how to plan a mass escape from a Gestapo prison. Roy Ferroa knows the niceties of unloading tobacco on the wartime black markets of the Far East.

But both prefer to talk about Canada, Canadians and Canadian newspapers.

Schuwer, 35, an editor of the Netherlands Press Agency, ANP, and Ferroa, 33-year-old reporter for the Straits Times of Singapore, are in Canada for a six-month study of newspaper, radio and film methods.

BRITISH TRADITION

Several weeks in Ottawa and Toronto has convinced them that a Canadian is a far cry from either a Briton or an American.

Schuwer said in an interview: "I like the proud way you people say, 'I'm a Canadian'." Ferroa, on the other hand, has noticed amongst most Canadians a love of British tradition.

CANADA'S NEWS

Schewer's considered judgment is that Canadia nnewspapers "aren't doing a job" of educating readers to "the things that really matter." He pointed t oan eight-column headline over a report of a murder—and turned to an inside-page story about developments in the Dutch-Indonesian case.

"Canadian papers seem to know what the people want to read so they give it to them all the time," said Schewer. "Just the news—no explanation."

Ferroa isn't quite so critical on that score. He thinks "explanation" or interpretation should be confined to editorial pages.

Urges Selling of Provinces To Each Other

HALIFAX, Nov. 17 (CP)—Canadians face the problem of selling each Province and its products to every other Province, John A. Marsh of Toronto, General Manager of the Canadian Exporters' Association, said today.

"In other words," he declared in an address to the Port of Halifax Club, "we must make confederation work."

TO DETERMINE FUTURE

Mr. Marsh said the happenings of the next year will determine whether many nations will eat or starve and whether this continent will have the greatest depression within our memory or a business boom and a contiuance of the highest standard of living in the world.

Stafford Cripps Tells Church to Avoid Politics

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP) — Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told Churches today to stay out of politics.

"The church should not attempt to devise remedies for particular social, economic or industrial evils," he said. "That is the function of technicians such as politicians and administrators."

The Labor Party is concerned over a series of recent speeches by Church of England prelates as to what part churchmen will play in next year's general elections.

Former Wife of Joe DiMaggio Sues for $650

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP).—The former wife of Joe DiMaggio, now Mrs. G. Schubert and wife of a New York broker, wants some more of the Yankee's dollars for their son.

She brought suit in State Supreme Court yesterday in the name of their son, eight-year-old Joe Jr., asking to have the boy's monthly allowance raised from $150 to $650.

OUTRAGEOUS ACT

Joe's lawyer, Sol Rosenblatt, rushed to the defence of the Yankee's slugging centrefielder, who is home in San Francisco on a visit.

Rosenblatt called the suit "an outrageous action without moral or legal basis."

He asked for dismissal on two grounds. First, that the divorce settlement was made in Los Angeles and the New York courts have no jurisdiction. Second, that big Joe's contributions to his son have "far exceeded" the settlement terms.

Joe and Dorothy married in 1939 and were divorced in 1944. DiMaggio won unlimited right to visit the boy, and in return gave his wife $14,000 in cash, half his personal property, and the allowance.

To Win New Friends and Keep Them Try a Morning Brunch Party

By ALICE DENHOFF

An early morning breakfast party or a brunch later on in the day is one of the nicest of all parties. Flowers and greenery give a glowing look to the room and set the mood.

A "take-your-pick" tray for the first course can be prepared well in advance and makes things easy all around. Various fruit juices, tomato juice and prune juice, with a platter of fruits or a mound of strawberries or raspberries, either of the quick-frozen variety, or mayhap out of your very own deep freeze. Nowadays it is so easy to serve just what the day and the mood dictate, which makes entertaining easier and nicer than ever. While lots of folk go in for their various favorite breakfast dishes, ham or bacon and eggs is still the prime favorite.

To give this stand-by a new interest, serve with toasted cinnamon doughnuts. Slice the doughnuts in crosswise halves, so that there are two sections with holes in them. Toast them quickly, butter, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar, then serve hot. And do be prepared for seconds, for they go well with extra cups of coffee. Some freshly made apple sauce with the main dish and the doughnuts would really give the meal a party air, which is what is wanted, especially with run-of-the-mill dishes.

Nice too for early breakfast or brunch is a bacon and sausage grill. Prepare a stack of pork sausage links, bacon and banana halves. Arrange in a sunflower formation on a large chop plate and complete the picture with a scarlet mound of currant jelly.

Finds Much To Admire In Canadian Women

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP) — Ask Mrs. Francis Forde what she likes most about this country and she probably will say — the women themselves.

In Canada three years now, the grey-eyed wife of Australia's High Commissioner has had plenty of opportunity to see Canadian women at work.

"I admire their enthusiasm and the energy with which they enter into church and welfare activities" she said in an interview. "I think they have a great deal of citizenship."

She recalled a particular instance, a garden party which the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Mothercraft Society held on the grounds of the Australian High Commission. It rained. But that didn't discourage the hundreds of visitors.

"The women came in crowds," said Mrs. Forde. "The garden party was a complete success."

Summer means a constant going and coming at the official residence of Australia's High Commissioner—a towering red-brick mansion in Ottawa's Sandy Hill district.

"It is the busiest season for us," said Mrs. Forde. "Most Australian officials travelling to Canada try to arrange their visits for the Summer months, to be here during the good weather."

FOUR CHILDREN

In Summer, too, Mary, Marcia and Clare are home from college. Seventeen-year-old Clare, the third of the four children, now is in her second year at the University of Toronto. Marcia, 19, is attending McGill University, Montreal. Mary, who is 21, graduated from McGill this year, and now is studying drama in Washington.

The youngest in the family, 13-year-old Francis Gerard, is the only one left at home when school days roll around. A student at a day school in Ottawa, Gerard is a Boy Scout and is most proud of the Scout badges he has won since coming to Canada.

All in all, the Forde family has found it comparatively easy to pick up the threads of everyday living in this Dominion, which Mrs. Forde said "has so much in common with Australia."

She recalled her first months in Canada, the troubles she had becoming accustomed to the change in season and the fact that gardens bloom less than half the year.

But she found Canadians use their growing time to the limit, planting the first bulbs before Winter has disapepared and keeping gardens in trim until the last day of Summer. And finally, when there no longer are flowers to decorate their homes, Canadians use the brilliant Autumn leaves.

Mrs. Forde thinks this such a good idea that she had several vases filled with scarlet and golden maple-leaves in the drawing-room of her home.

"In Australia they wouldn't understand my using leaves as decoration," she said. "But then, at home they have flowers the year 'round—here I find the lovely Autumn leaves do just as well."

For Parents . . .

Humiliated by Cruel Nagging

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

By this time you may have received the first official report of your child's progress at school. It may have on it some symbols indicating roughly how your child has been doing in each of his school subjects. Or there may be some short statements indicating in what subject or subjects, or in what direction in behavior he needs to improve.

If the symbols on the report card indicate to wou that he is lagging in his lessons you probably say nothing about it to your friends but show the child your strong disapproval an dcommand him to have a better report next time. Perhaps the father repeats like exhortation later. And if there are more than one child and one of them has a good report you will be tempted to engage in cruel comparisons in the presence of the lagging child.

RARELY HELPS

Such procedure may make you parents feel self-righteous and important and help you get some anger off your chests. But what effect will it have on the lagging child? Will it cause him to study harder from now on? It rarely will. More often it will so discourage him that he will not have the heart to strive.

What, then should you do? Try to find out from his teacher or teachers what his specific learning troubles are and how you can help him improve where he has lagged. Expect the teacher to tell you more than that he is "lazy" and doesn't work hard enough. Such an answer is useless and silly.

DON'T SHOUT

If you try to help your child at home with his lessons the most important thing for you to do is to get your own emotions under complete control so you never raise your voice or even feel stirrings in your insides. The moment you find yourself a bit vexed you should walk away as unfit to be in the child's presence when he is trying to learn. My bulletin, "Parents and the Child's Homework" may be had in the usual way.

Mink Coat, Car Not Appealing; Woman Wants Cows for Farm

NEW WESTMINISTER, B. C., Nov. 17 (CP) -Mrs. Sam Kabool of Coquitlam has a choice—A $5000 mink coat or a 1950 model automobile.

But they don't appeal to her. She wants more cows for her diary farm.

She was the winner of a draw at the live animal fur exposition here and today said:

"I think we'll take the car. When we sell the car we will be able to afford another 15 good cows."

Middle-aged, Mrs. Kabool and her husband, a longshoreman, bought a 40 acre farm but didn't have enough money to stock it.

Many B. C. Delegates at Spokane Session

Representatives from British Columbia, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana attended the Pacific Northwest Trade Association's 22nd General Conferance held in Spokane Nov. 14 and 15.

Among the 21 delegates from B. C. were Guy Costable and Frank Putnam of Creston, former B. C. Minister of Agriculture and former M.L.A. for Nelson-Creston, and J. A. Bracken of Nelson, Secretary of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern B. C. and Secretary of the Nelson Board of Trade.

The attendance was said to have been one of the largest in the Association's history.

Highlights of the two-day session was the Governor's banquet held Monday evening at which Sherman Adams, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, was guest speaker, and the Tuesday luncheon honoring the Canadian delegation over which T. Braidwood of Vancouver, Vice-President of the Association, presided. Maxwell Weir MacKenzie, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, was special speaker.

During regular sessions, matters of mutual concern were discussed, resolutions passed and plans made for their necessary support and assistance.

It was decided that the annual meeting would be held in Vancouver next April.

John Agar Not To Oppose Wife's Divorce Action,

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17 (AP)—Actor John Agar apparently will not oppose the divorce action of his wife, lovely Shirley Temple.

Says Mother Should Rest After Baby Born

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP)—Princess Elizabeth's obstetrician says mothers should stay in bed at least two weeks after their babies are born.

"I am a great believer in people getting up after operations," Sir William Gilliatt told a nursing conference.

"But I consider that there is nothing to be said for getting a normal mother up early after she has had her baby."

Sir William, who attended Princess Elizabeth when Prince Charles was born, said new mothers should be encouraged to do special exercises from the second day. But they should not get up for two weeks.

Expectant Mother Must See Doctor Before Dieting

By IDA JEAN KAIN

An expectant mother asks for a diet which will be completely adequate without causing a too-rapid gain in weight. Since the nine months before the baby is born is the time to give it the best start in life, I am eager to pass on this nutrition information. But please ask your doctor's advice before making any dietary changes.

A diet of 1800 calories a day will allow for the essentials that are required from the fourth to the ninth months, and that number will control the weight gain.

It is easier to appreciate the daily need for certain foods when the reasons are given. About twice as much calcium is needed during pregnancy as ordinarily, and at least twice as much phosphorus, for bone and tooth formation. The teeth of the child develop before birth—not only the temporary teeth but some of the permanent ones are well formed before the child's birth.

Effective utilization of calcium and phosphorus depends on the adesuate intake of vitamins A, C and D. So besides the full quart of milk included daily, there must be two citrus fruits for vitamin C, a dark green leafy and a deep yellow vegetable for vitamin A, and a concentrate to furnish 800 units of vitamins A and D.

Complete protein is furnished in lean meat, fish or fowl, and the expectant mother needs one-fourth to one-half pound daily, with liver once or twice a week. One egg should be included in every day's menu. A baked potato or one boiled in the jacket is needed daily for mineral salts. The menu should also include a raw vegetable without dressing; two slices of 100 per cent wholegrain bread and one ounce of butter, and a small serving of wholegrain cereal. A tablespoon or two of wheat germ cooked into the cereal adds abundant B vitamins.

When the gain in weight is so rapid that the doctor finds it necessary to limit the calories to 1600 a day, then a concentrate furnishing all the vitamins must be used.

WHY CONDEMN SON BECAUSE OF FATHER?

By JANE ATKINSON

Possibly it is only at natural human reaction, but it is always hard for me to understand why people so often regard with suspicion the sons and daughters of men or women of bad reputation.

I have a letter from a young man or 29 who tells me that he and a young woman one year his junior have been planning to be married this coming January, after having known each other for five years. Now his fiance has suddenly refused to marry him because of circumstances he describes as follows:

"My mother died when I was a baby," he says. "Father remarried and separated from his second wife when I was a child. He always avoided discussion about this marriage and I respected his wishes.

"My fiancee's family have recently discovered that my father deserted my stepmother during an illness and to this day has never supported her. When I heard this, I investigated and found it to be true, and that my father was guilty of other cruelties towards his second wife.

"My fiancee refuses to marry me because her family feels I will act the same way toward her after we are married as my father did toward his wife. I can hardly blame them, as my father was inhuman, and I have lost all respect for him. But why should the sins of the father be visited on the son, so that I am losing my fiance because of his extreme selfishness? I am thinking of leaving him and never seeing him again. To thing that friends and relatives of mine have acted courteously to him all these years, though knowing what a scoundrel he was, while I, his son, was kept in ignorance!"

I think the writer of this letter shows a quite unusual amount of character when he says that he can hardly blame his fiancee's parents for feeling as they do about the situotion. For my part, however, I do blame them. I think they show a very narrow-minded and tragic lack of understanding in taking such an attitude.

There is no reason in the world why this young man would treat a wife badly just because he had the misfortune to have a miserable heel for a father. I would say, in fact, that because he has discovered after all these years just what kind of father he did have, he would be all the more likely to be an even kinder and more gentle husband than he would otherwise have been, in his eagerness to show that he is a different sort of man himself. If the parents of this girl had mature insight, they would certainly realize this.

SHORT-SKIRTED, NAVY-BLUE DRESSES TOP PARIS STYLE SHOW FOR SPRING

PARIS, Nov. 17 (AP)—Designer Pierre Balmain devoted half of his mid-season style show today to the 1950 Spring look "A la Paris."

As his bid for next Spring's fashion diet he showed the press short-skirted, navy-blue dresses, enlivened with a huge amount of white-blazed linen and lingerie trimming.

Balmain returned from New York last week with a pocketful of contracts. He said he was still undecided whether to follow other prominant French designers into the ready-to-wear dress field in the United States.

His Spring color scheme is mainly navy blue or navy blue and black combined with white trimmings.

He uses effectively scarlet patent leather for shoes, handbags, belts and even hat trimmings on Spring models. He also uses a lot of black and white wool with miniature checks for narrow skirts that wrap around in a spiral and trimmed with bone buttons.

Balmain shows trouser-skirts for day wear, camouflaged to look like skirts with two loose-hanging panels.

Spinal Cysts May Become Infected

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

The term pilonidal cyst became familiar to many families during the war when the armed services found it necessary to send many of their young men to hospitals for this reason.

These cysts, or fluid-containing sacs, are located in the region at the lower end of the spine.

Just why they develop is not known but they are rarely noticed unless they become infected. Since such infection is usually the result of injury or bruising, they are most frequently observed in active young people between the ages of 18 and 25.

HOT BATHS

When such cyst is first noticed because of the flare-up of an infection, the treatment consists of hot baths and hot, wet dressings.

With this treatment, the infection comes to a head and may be cut open and drained. The wound is then packed with gauze and the hot baths are again started two or three times daily. Three times a week, the wound is repacked and dressed.

It is not uncommon with this form of treatment to obtain a permanent cure, if only one cyst is present.

In cases where there are several cysts with an opening to the outside a different form of treatment may be required.

MUST BE REMOVED

In these cases, the entire cyst and the tract leading from the cyst to the surface must be removed.

SWENSON-MORROW

● A very pretty double wedding was solemnized at St. John's Lutheran Church at 9 o'clock, Nov. 12, when Margaret Sarah Irene, only daughter of Mrs. Margaret Morrow, and the late R. G. Morrow, became the bride of Lloyd, second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Swenson of Birch Hills, Sask. The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, H. McCandless of Rossland, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Mrs. C. W. Tyler. Rev. S. Maier read the marriage vows. The bride looked charming in a fitted white satin gown, featuring a sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves, side peplum and bouffant skirt, with it, she was wearing a full length veil of illusion net, held in place by a wreath of pearls. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, gift of the groom. Red roses and white carnations composed the lovely bouquet. Mrs. Lawrence Adie of the Emerald Mine acted as matron of honor and wore a rose taffeta gown with contrasting blue headdress and gloves. She carried a colonial bouquet of prink and white carnations. Bridesmaids were Patricia McCandless of Penticton, who wore ice-blue taffeta with matching headdress and gloves and carried a bouquet of yellow chysanthemums, and Miss Audrey Swenson of Moose Jaw, Sask., sister of the groom, who wore a mauve nylon taffeta, matching headdress, gloves and carried a bouquet of maize chrysanthemums. Frank Morrow, brother of the bride, acted as best man while ushers were David Baker and Laurence Adie. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Arthur J. Bradshaw sang "I'll Walk Beside You" accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Tyler. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Memorial Hall for 60 guests received by Mrs M. Morrow, the bride's mother, who wore navy with matching accessories and a corsage of maize mums. The bride's table was covered by a crocheted lace cloth and centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, and was embedded in white tulle interspersed by pastel pansies, flanked by pastel tapers in dainty glass holders and tiny chrysanthemums and myrtle. The bride's toast, responded to by the grom, was proposed by Rev. S. Maier. The best man proposed the toast to the bridesmaids. Serviteurs were Miss Phyllis Christenson and Mrs. Wilnuik. For her travelling costume the bride chose a green gabardine suit with bronze topcoat, black accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. The happy couple left for their honeymoon at coastal points and on their return plan on making their home in Nelson. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. McCandless of Rossland, Miss Patricia McCandless of Penticton, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kraatz, of Brooks, Alta., Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bohle of Spokane, Wash., and Miss Audrey Swenson of Moose Jaw, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adie of the Emerald Mine, Philip Graham and Frank Morrow of Salmo.

● Rev. Father Sullivan, O.M.I., of the Cranbrook Missions is a guest at the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate.

● A surprise miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Swenson, nee Miss Margaret Morrow, a most enjoyable affair took place Nov. 10, when Mrs. M. Brader and Mrs. A. J. Carlson, Gore Street, were co-hostesses at the former's home on Seaby Street. They were assisted by the bride's mother, Mrs. M. Morrow, who presided at the tea urn, while Miss Helen Brader served .Twenty-five guests attended. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. G. Farenholtz, Mrs. Harry Nelson and Mrs. L. Carter.

Little Government Comfort in Report Delay

A headline at mid-week told Daily News readers: "Opposition Verbally Censures Government for Handling of Combines Report." It referred to the reaction of Opposition Members of Parliament to the Government's action in delaying Combines Investigation Chief F. A. McGregor's report on alleged price fixing in the milling industry.

Canadians could hardly have felt otherwise than that the censure was deserved; and, too, that Speaker Ross Macdonald's ruling permitting Opposition Members their voice on the matter was more than justified, despite Government argument that House rules forbade revival of the debate.

The Government, earlier, by clever employment of Parliamentary rule had prevented a motion of censure reaching House records. Its maneuverings, however, were of no avail in blocking a public castigation of its action in delaying a report from Dec. 29, 1948, to Nov. 7 that the law requires to become public property within 15 days of its presentation to the Cabinet.

Trade Minister C. D. Howe has defended the Government by claiming that exception was taken to the report on alleged price-fixing because the situation arose from Prices Board policies during the war. It did not require 10 months' deliberation to arrive at that view.

Nor is that claim in accord with the statement of Justice Minister Garson, recalled by John Diefenbaker (P. C., Lake Centre), that the report was held up so that the Combines Law could be strengthened before any prosecution might be undertaken.

Resultant critical publicity on the handling of the report can hardly be considered a favor by the industry—no matter what its status—that the Trade Minister, himself, describes as a "perfect example of cooperation between Government and Industry in wartime."

Too, a valuable public servant, Mr. McGregor, who from every previous indication has handled a difficult job well, has found it necessary to resign.

It must be that many members of the Government are troubled in their consciences on this proceedings.

Mystery of Words

There can be few today who will accept an official outpouring from the Soviet Union—such as Georgi Malenkov's speech on the thirty-second anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution—as a guide to the future.

Anyone who did try to read Russian intentions in the Malenkov statement would be more than a little confused by the headlines on it. Three that we noticed read as follows: "Soviet Warns of 'Blood Bath'"; "Soviet Peace Plea Voiced by Malenkov"; "Malenkov Says U.S. Seeks to Turn World Into Colony". You can pay your money and take your choice. Yet such speeches, because they say what the Kremlin wants the people to hear, may be revealing.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the speech is the extensive attention it gives to the United States. The picture painted is rather contradictory. First comes America as the imperialist ogre, bent on creating "by means of violence and new wars a world American empire," reducing "sovereign peoples to the position of slaves."

But the Kremlin isn't frightened. The "warmongers" now know that Russia and the "lackey" role of Yugoslavia have been exposed; a "democratic peace-loving republic" has been set up in Eastern Germany; Russia has more friendly nations on her borders than ever before; and with the "victory of the Chinese people," the lands of the "people's democracies in Europe and Asia" include 800,000,000 people.

Indeed, this view of the world, plus the second picture of the United States—as the decadent leader of the decadent capitalism—could lead the Russian people into almost a complacent mood. Mr. Malenkov might even make them feel sorry for Americans—hanging on a precipice of economic disaster, with unemployment reaching 14,000,000, and the stock market "declining."

It is easy to laugh at such stuff. But it may be more useful to note that Russia is counting mainly on an economic "bust" in America. Also that the general tone of the Malenkov speech is not that a dictatorship adopts to whip its people into a war fever. On the whole, it is rather relaxing.

But again let us remind ourselves that our judgment of Soviet intentions may be as far off as Mr. Malenkov's estimate of our North American neighbor.

Verse

Nine-Thirty P. M.

The curfew wails to please the P.T.A.
The bobby-sock no longer stalks the street,
The skookum guy forsakes the gay cafe,
When all's arranged where next the twain shall meet.

What say to walking out past Willow Point?
Or tramping o'er the hills to Taghum Bridge?
Or better still, let's try some snooty joint
Midway between Nine-Mile Creek and Midge.

But such flat-footed numbers, Jessie, jar,
And Jack, embarrassed, bolder grows at once:
Okay then, what about the Old Man's car?
Beatified, then smiles the erstwhile dunce.

A roar for luck down Baker Street they send,
And back again to show it was no fluke,
Then to the highway's farthest, bitt'rest end,
They and the jalopy bounce without rebuke.

But why so near to earth? I dimly ask;
Such youth and spirit was designed to soar;
Time was when, having neither car nor flask,
Our Dads and Mammies walked a starry shore!

No farther seek this problem to unfold,
For youth may never hear what age could tell;
And every age shall scorn to take the old,
Preferring its own path to heav'n and hell.

—G. A. BUTLING.

Mrs. B. T., Nelson—How can I find out the value of some old coins I possess?

Get in touch with R. Brown, 426 Baker Street.

J. B., Nelson—Please give me information on the making of spaghetti.

To begin with, spaghetti is macaroni, the word being derived from Italian dialect, maccare, to bruise or crush. In different forms it has different names, such as spaghetti, vermicelli, tagliono, etc. These forms are prepared in a uniform manner from a granular product of hard wheat which, under the name of semolina or middlings, is a commercial article. The semolina is mixed with boiling water and incorporated in a kneading machine into a stiff paste or dough. It is then further kneaded by passing frequently between rollers until a thick mass is produced, which is placed in a strong steam-jacketed cylinder, the lower end closed by a thick disc pierced with openings corresponding to the diameter or section of article to be made. Into this cylinder an accurately fitting plunger or piston is introduced and subjected to very great pressure, which causes the stiff dough to squeeze out through the openings in continuous threads, sticks, or pipes, as the case may be. Vermicelli is cut short and laid on trays to dry, macaroni and spaghetti are dried by hanging over wooden rods in heated chambers. True macaroni can be distinguished by the flattened mark of the rod over which it dried.

GOOD CITIZEN

Members of the nefarious Ku Klux Klan always claim their objective is to keep the United States a decent place in which to live. They suggest they are better qualified to root out wrong than are the qualified officers of the law.

Judging by the record of the late Dr. Samuel Green, who was Imperial Wizard of the Georgia Klan, they are just a bunch of frauds. Revenue officials claim Green owed almost $40,000 in Federal income taxes, which indicates a large income, dating back through the years to 1944. That tells just what kind of a "good citizen" he was.—Windsor Daily Star.

Fortunes Change as Missing Will Found

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17 (CP) — Gilbert Campbell found today his $600,000 inheritance had dwindled rapidly overnight.

Not, mind you, that there isn't a considerable chunk left in any man's language.

But the legacy which descended from a blue sky yesterday to the City fireman, with the finding of a will believed non-existent, was described last night by executor Elmore Meredith as "nowhere near the expected $600,000."

Meredith said succession duties already have taken "one-third of the value." Besides, Campbell receives only the "residue" of a sum from which almost 50 other persons get various amounts.

The will was that of the late James Thomson, former hotel owner here and a veteran of the Klondike Gold Trail.

11-MONTH SEARCH

An 11-month search for the document preceded its unearthing in the real estate office of a friend of the deceased.

Discovery of the will deprived Mrs. Marjorie Millen, widowed old-age pensioner, of more than $400,000 from the estate.

"I wish they had thrown out the documents among which the will was found," said Mrs. George Faulkner, Mrs. Millen's daughter.

"Mother is disappointed, but not bitter. I guess people who never have anything never get anytihng."

Elliott Sensabaugh, 65, tap man in the hotel's beverage room for 16 years, was one of the three employees to draw $30,000.

Dizzy Days of the Seller's Market Near an End, Costs Must Come Down

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

. . . There are those who say, "costs must come down"—costs, that is, within your business, within your office.

But how? By the pruning-knife method, or by a bit of thinking?

Dr. R. P. Brecht, Professor of Industry at the University of Pennsylvania, offers some advice on the subject.

He offered it last night to the Toronto Chapter of the National Office Management Association, of which he is second Vice-President in the United States.

WEAK METHOD

Well, if you get panicky, or if things get suddenly critical, just possibly, according to Dr. Brecht, there may be some justification for the pruning-knife; but he thinks it is the weakest and least intelligent approach.

The pruning-knife system is, of course, the one in which you suddenly say to all departments: "Cut costs by so much per cent.—To heck with everybody and everything—cut costs."

Dr. Brecht, though he recognizes that in certain circumstances it may have something to recommend it, cautions that it may lead to false economies! in reductions or punching of necessary services.

Incidentally, he himself is one of those who says, "costs must come down;" that the "dizzy days of the seller's market is pretty well shot.'

But he offers an alternative to the pruning-knife. And the gist of it is to make sure that you are operating in such a way that your employees are working with you.

He emphasized particularly, for office managers, simplification of methods—more effective ways of doing things; elimination of waste motion and of waste time in paper work.

Two B-29s Collide 26,000 Feet Over Stockton, Calif.

STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 17 (AP). —Two United States Air Force B-29 Superfortress planes collided 26,000 feet above Stockton at midnight last night. One fell in flames. The tail of the other fell off and it crashed in the mud.

Four of the 22 men aboard were saved. Seven were found dead in the wreckage. Eleven are missing

FROM SPOKANE

Officials at Hamilton Field, 25 miles North of San Francisco, said both planes were part of a bombardment group at Spokane Air Force base.

First definite word of the crash in a fog, came from one of the survivors, Lieut. Warren F. Sharrock, whose home is only 26 miles from Stockton. The Lieutenant staggered into Edward Kenyon's King Island fishing resort bleeding from a head injury.

"The other plane ran smack into us," he gasped.

The Kenyons heard the crash. They were out looking for the flames in the fog when Sharrock arrived.

Highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies from four counties circled for nearly three hours across the fields and streams of the delta country before they found the wreckage of both planes.

Fourteen flushed-faced happy ckesters stumbled into the Nelson ssing room Wednesday night er they had taken a good hold on st place, over the Spokane Flyers. A lot of them had bumps on their ggins, and bruises in every nceivable place, but it was worth Don Appleton, displaying a high ot on his scalp, just said "Guess o?" and my second guess was ht, Bull Waldner.

There is little resemblance beeen the 1949 crew and last year's okane outfit, in their play. They ve a good first line, but the ers haven't near the class of last r's front lines; the defence is weaker, and Dinny McManus t anywhere near the class of n Pickell. At least that's how y showed here.

don't think McManus is as good Kneeshaw, whom Spokane ored. When Spokane made their t appearance on Nelson ice, Bill idane let drive a sizzler which nost cut McManus' head off. The hinutive netminder ducked down to about the middle of the goal, and the puck only cleared the crossbar by a matter of short inches. Personally, I would rather have rookie Bobby Bartlett in goal than McManus, who has seen action in the P.C.L. and the W.C.H.L., with New Westminster and Lethbridge respectively.

It has been a long time since the Leafs have been the league leaders. Not once in the four year history of the W.I.H.L., except possibly for maybe a game or two four years ago, has Nelson been on top. I don't think they ever were this far ahead since prewar hockey. Let's see if they can stay there for a while.

ICE PANNED

Both teams, and even the referees found the ice terrible, and it is generally thought that Nelson's ice is the worst in the W.I.H.L. Al Euerby criticized the condition of the sheet, and claimed that it had a big part of causing so many penalties.

Because of the ice, passes would take crazy hops, and quickly caused the players to whack at the puck in sloppy shinny. Along with the shinny came petty infringements of the rules. Elbows rose, sticks were carried high, and the occasional butt-end was delivered.

Out of the six times Nelson and Spokane have engaged so far this season, Nelson has won four, and tied the fifth, losing only one.

Puck Pourri Predicts: Kimberley over Trail tonight in a stiff battle. Standings: 13 right, 5 wrong, 2 ties—.700.

Legion First To Humble Senior-B Vets

The two Senior B Clubs of the Big Three Hockey Loop battled it out Tuesday night with the Vets tasting their first defeat at the hands of the Legion, 7-6.

Sporting their new powerhouse line of Larsen, Whitfield and Winlaw, the Legion uncorked a strong offensive that gave Freno a busy time in the Vets net. Madden at the other end also came through time and again as the Vets pressed to gain that odd goal margin.

Sunday afternoon will see these same two clubs take to the ice and, with the increased rivalry developing, coupled with a close race for scoring honors, a good game should result. The Legion is attempting to stretch its wins to three and the Vets just as determined not to relinquish their top spot.

This League is providing a surprisingly good brand of hockey as evidenced by the increasing turnout of more and more fans to the Civic Arena for their Sunday afternoon entertainment.

A crack shot, Ricky has captured many trophies on the range in Rod and Gun Club shoots.

Hunters Urged to Return Bands From 2400 Ducks Marked in B. C. This Year

With 2400 ducks banded by the B. C. Game Comission, in the Caribou and Southern Districts of the province during 1948, hunters are being requested to return all duck bands to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D. C., this year.

In 1948 there were only 1200 ducklings banded. Returns this year this year, particularly so since band- this year, particularly so sinec banding operation were carried on by the U. S. and Canadian authorities in the Far North and Alaska in the past Summer, a report from the University of British Columbia stated.

Interesting light has been thrown on the migration of ducks by some of the bands returned by hunters. Although the majority of the ducks were banded along the Pacific flyhave been killed a long way from way, some of them, banded in B. C., the banding point. Three instances:

A young Redhead banded Aug. 7, 1948, on Westwick Lake, not far from Williams Lake, B. C., flew all the way to Fort Worth, Texas, before being shot by a hunter there.

A British Columbia Canvasback was shot as far South as San Diego County, Calif.

Outstanding example of the tremendous distances flown by wildfowl was that of a bluebill, or scaup, banded near Williams Lake, B. C., and shot three months later near Chihuahua, Mexico.

Much information is gathered by return of bands from ducks by hunters. Hunters thus can contribute greatly to the knowledge steps to be taken for the proper management of waterfowl.

The Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington, D. C., which handles all the returned bands is the continental clearing house for the work.

WINNING TEAM WILL NAME EAST OFFICIALS FOR GREY CUP GAME

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 17 (CP)—Eastern Canada officials for the Canadian football final and Grey Cup, in Toronto Nov. 26 will be nominated by the East's championship team Dr. W. A. Campbell, President of the C.R.U. said today.

He said if the winning club — either Montreal Alouettes or Hamilton Tigers—fails to agree on officials after Sunday's sudden-death game in Montreal ,the C.R.U. will name them. The winners will meet the defending champion Calgary Stampeders.

In Calgary, Tom Brook, President of the Stampeders, said the two officials from the West will be Les Ferguson of Calgary and Andy Bieber of Winnipeg.

No Rags-To-Riches Yarn

BY JACK MITCHELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HAMILTON, Nov. 17 (CP)—A blonde understudy steps into the star's role to try to make good against overwhelming odd in the Eastern Canada football finals. But here the story departs from the Hollywood Scenario—its no rags-to-riches yarn.

Young Vic Spenser, whose wide shoulders carry much of Hamilton Tigers' hopes, is well-heeled financially. He's the oldest son of a West Coast family whose fortune jumped a cool $14,000,000 a year ago. His wish—and that of his family—is that he won't let his side down in the tough test against Montreal Alouettes.

He's enough like Tony Golab—on and off the field—to be his double," said truck salesman Jake Gaudaur. That's high praise from the veteran team captain who has played against Golab on assorted gridirons and considers the golden boy one of football's greatest.

Team-mates jokingly refer to Vic as "Moneybags" but that wasn't what earned their respect. It was the way he turned out for the team as a rookie after business moved him East, fought for a position without favor, and played wherever Coach Merle Hapes assigned him.

Title Football Play At Coast on Weekend

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17 (AP) —Coast Conference football comes to a thundering climax Saturday with the championship and the Rose Bowl as the prizes.

California, the team with the perfect record and third-ranking in The Associated Press' national poll, can grab it all.

The nine-time-winning Bears must beat their oldest rivals, Stanford Indians.

The only Rose Bowl hope down here rests on a U.C.L.A. victory over Southern Cal which would have to be coupled with a Stanford win over California.

That would throw the Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl into a three-way tie and at least give U.C.L.A. a chance in the Conference balloting to select its Rose Bowl candidate to meet the Big Ten invader New Year's Day.

New Invention Finds Uranium From Airplanes

University of Manitoba physicists have developed a type of spectrometer which will, experts predict, replace the Geiger counter in prospecting for radioactive material. Chief advantage over the Geiger counter, which signals by noises through earphones, as pictured here, in the presence of radioactivity, the spectrometer, many times more sensitive, distinguishes between valuable uranium and almost useless radioactive thorium. The spectrometer can be operated from airplanes, making ground prospecting obsolete. It will soon be manufactured for use by independent prospectors. —Central Press Canadian.

Manager of Year

CASEY STENGEL

Casey Stengel, who hit the jackpot in his first year with the New York Yankees after nine unsuccessful seasons as a National League pilot, is the major leagues' "manager of the year." The grizzled veteran who overcame many obstacles to lead the Yankees to an American League pennant and a world championship last season, was the overwhelming choice of the baseball writing fraternity which voted recently in baseball poll. Stengel nearly spread-eagled the field, grabbing 101 of the 116 votes cast.

Movies Going Down to Realism But the Latest May Go Too Far

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17 (AP) — The good old American custom of sleeping in the raw finally will be depicted on the screen.

I guess it was inevitable. Movies have been going down the road to realism for some time. Actresses have been shown without makeup, without fancy hair-dos, and now without clothes.

This new blow for realism is being struck in the film, "In a Lonely Place." It came about during a confab with producer Robert Lord, Director Nick Ray and star-producer Humphrey Bogart. Also present, Gloria Graham, the co-star and Ray's wife.

"We've got a scene of Gloria waking up in the morning," said Bogart. "What'll we have her wear —nightgown or pyjamas?"

AU NATURAL

The men mulled the momentous matter for a few minutes. Then Miss Graham spoke up:

"What's the matter with you? I sleep in the nude and so do millions of other American women. Why don't you do it that way?"

The men were stunned. "It's been done," said Ray defensively.

"Wait a minute," said Lord. "I've been in the picture business many years and I've never seen it done."

It was true. For years, glamor girls have been clambering out of king-size film beds attired in gowns that looked no more slept in than their other costumes.

So the scene was shot with Miss Graham in the altogether. Ray, a stickler for the real thing, had her slip under the covers and slither out of her clothes. Of course, she didn't clamber out of bed; she played the scene with her arms and shoulders above the sheet. Miss Graham was nonchalant about the whole thing. "I was born this way and I sleep this way," she said.
