Bombers Collide; 13 Airmen Killed

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 16 (AP)—Thirteen airmen were killed and 10 survived a collision of two United States Air Force bombers over the desert 50 miles West of here today.

Lieut. Elwin Piwetz, Public Information Officer at Davis-monthan Air Force Base here, said the two four-engine planes, a B-29 tanker and a B-50 bomber, plunged to the ground five miles North of the Papago Indian village of Silnakya.

It is believed the two planes collided during a refuelling operation.

The planes apparently crashed within a hundred feet of each other in a valley in the Black Mountains.

Anti-Dumping Law To Be Reimposed

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP)—Canada's anti-dumping law, waived in some instances to help the sterling bloc sell more goods and earn more dollars in Canada, will be re-applied on five categories of consumer goods Jan. 1, a Government source disclosed today.

The move to reimpose the law, which may make it tougher for some overseas exporters to break into the Canadian market, stems mostly from the fact that Canada will withdraw all remaining emergency exchange import controls Jan. 2.

If the law was not re-applied on these five categories, said the informant, Canada would have to let in United States goods on the same conditions as those granted other countries.

This would mean American exporters would be able to sell their goods in Canada at prices below those prevailing in the home market and provide what is considered as "unfair competition" with the Canadian manufacturers.

The law will be re-applied on such goods as confectionery, sporting equipment, lawn mowers, oil cloth and chocolate preparations including cocoa butter.

Still outside the reach of the law will be automobiles and window glass. These items were lifted from the anti-dumping regulations after controls on dollar imports were clamped on in 1948.

Some Canadian manufacturers have protested that waiving the anti-dumping law on British automobiles has had detrimental effects. They have complained to the Government against Britain actually dumping cars on the Canadian market.

SPECIAL MAN. SESSION ENDS

Representatives to Study B. C. Formula On Flood Reparation

WINNIPEG, Nov. 16 (CP)— The special flood session of the Manitoba Legislature prorogued tonight after sitting eight days. The second session of the 23rd Legislature convened Nov. 7 to cover damage, rehabilitation and dyking resulting from the Spring floods of the Red River Valley.

Premier Douglas L. Campbell, in his flood budget, set Manitoba's total cost at about $6,000,000—to be raised from consolidated revenue.

The Federal Government has committed itself to handle at least 75 per cent of the total $23,000,000 flood bill. Affected cities and municipalities will chip in, as well.

Besides the $23,000,000 total, greater Winnipeg dyking against future flooding has cost nearly $5,000,000.

The Federal Government has agreed to pay at least 75 per cent of this, as well, with Manitoba and the affected municipalities splitting the remainder 50-50.

The Federal Government's action is based on the general lines of reparation made in the 1948 Fraser Valley flood in British Columbia.

Provincial and Federal representatives leave this weekend for B. C. to study the formula more closely.

N. Zealand Newsprint Future Possibility

LONDON, Nov. 16 (Reuters)—Possibility of developing large-scale newsprint supplies in New Zealand for export to paper-starved Britain will be brought up in the House of Commons tomorrow.

The opposition will ask Patrick Gordon-Walker, Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations, whether he has consulted the New Zealand Government about such a scheme.

The United Kingdom and New Zealand Government could co-operate "in the large-scale development of newsprint supplies from forests in the North Island" of the Dominion, Conservative M.P. Anthony Hurd suggests.

GRANTS FOR SALARIES AT B. C. MENTAL HOMES

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP)—The Federal Government has approved grants for British Columbia amounting to over $93,700 to meet salaries of additional clinical staff in the treatment of mental illnesses, it was learned today.

The grants include $77,000 for salaries of key personnel at the Crease Clinic of Psychological Medicine at Essondale, the short term treatment centre for early cases of mental illness.

Newsprint Output Up

MONTREAL, Nov. 16 (CP)—Canadian newsprint production in October amounted to 456,443 tons, an increase of 20,792 tons over the corresponding month last year, the Newsprint Association of Canada reported today.

Canadian shipments for the same month were 465,243 tons, an increase of 32,215 tons over October last year.

United States consumers purchased 88.3 per cent of the shipments, an increase of 11.2 per cent over the same month last year.

15-Inch Snowfall For Rossland in 24-Hour Period

ROSSLAND, B.C., Nov. 16 — Most of the West Kootenay is covered with snow today although Rossland's 15 inch fall in the last 24 hours appears to hold the record.

Five inches fell yesterday and by 10 a.m. Thursday 10 more inches were added. The city, eight milesp up the mountain from Trail has approximately 17 inches of snow on the ground and cars and buses are having trouble. So far this Winter Rossland has had 23.7 inches of snow.

In Trail yesterday the snow changed to rain which has washed most of the snow from the highways.

Refuse Interference In Civic Workers Union in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16 (CP) — The Supreme Court of British Columbia today refused to interfere in a drive by the Trades and Labor Congress to break alleged Communist control of the Civic Workers' Union here.

Cry From Behind The Iron Curtain

Frau Ernst Reuter, wife of the lord mayor of West Berlin, is shown reading a message smuggled through the iron curtain from a woman captive in Czechoslovakia. The slate was included in a bundle of roof slates consigned to a Berlin building firm. The short message reads: "In this slate factory are 30 German women who have been sentenced to forced labor. We are innocent, and have been sentenced only because we are German."—Central Press Canadian.

Northern Pilots Awaiting Freeze-Up

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Nov. 16 (CP)—Northland bush flying is in its slack season. Pilots are taking an annual vacation while awaiting the freeze-up.

At dozens of remote Northern outposts this last 10 days prospectors and settlers have watched pontoon-equipped aircraft swoosh off near-freezing lakes for the last time this year.

Until thick ice covers Northern lakes, many settlements are isolated. Not even emergency flights will be possible.

Here in Prince Albert, mechanics are busy refitting planes with skis. Engines are being overhauled, airframes checked and Winter flying equipment placed in readiness.

The rubbery ice on Northern lakes fast is freezing into hard-packed, wind-swept landing strips. At Goldfields, a mining area 500 miles North of Prince Albert, the ice on Lake Athabaska already is reported six inches thick.

The freeze-up brought to a close one of the busiest Summer seasons of Saskatchewan Government Airways. An official estimated that more than 200,000 air miles were flown and close to 1,000,000 pounds of cargo hauled.

He said the increased activity is due to a surge in prospecting and mineral development in Northern Saskatchewan.

CHARGE CHINESE DRIVEN TO WAR

Tsaing Says Action In Interests of Soviet and Stalin

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP) — Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang today charged that the Chinese masses are being driven into "un-Chinese" adventures in Korea, Tibet and Indo-China in the interests of the Soviet Union and Prime Minister Stalin.

He told the U.N. Security Council the last thing the Chinese people want to do is fight in Korea, Tibet or Indo-China. As he spoke, President Truman told his Press conference in Washington that the United States "never at any time entertained any intention to carry hostilities into China."

RUSS TO USE VETO

Russia's Jakob Malik informed the Council he would veto a six-power resolution calling for immediate withdrawal of the Red Chinese army from Korea and promising to respect China's borders.

Malik said the resolution is based on illegal actions of the Security Council in ordering U.N. forces into Korea while the Soviet Union and Red China were not at the Council.

Tsiang and delegates of Ecuador, Cuba and Norway urged the Council to approve the six-power resolution.

Tsiang called the Chinese Communist chieftain, Mao Tze-tung, the "junior partner" in the "imperial firm of Stalin and Mao, a firm organized for the specific purpose of world imperialism."

Earlier Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam unexpectedly proposed a seven-country committee to study the issue of Chinese representation in the General Assembly. He suggested the committee include Belgium, Canada, India, Iraq, Mexico, The Philippines and Poland.

"TOO HASTY"

Malik and Polish delegate Juliusz Katz-Suchy objected. They accused Entezam of being too hasty and Malik asked him to delay action.

Entezam replied he had been studying this committee for two months.

Elsewhere in the U.N.:

1. The Assembly asked the international court of justice to advise what effect reservations by various states have on the genocide convention. The vote was 47 to 5. The convention outlaws the mass murder of racial or religious groups.

2 The Assembly's Trusteeship Committee recommended independence 10 years from now for the former Italian colony of Somaliland.

Determined to Prove Petroleum, Natural Gas Separate Items

CALGARY, Nov. 16 (CP)—A trial to determine the meaning of the word petroleum began here today

Michael Borys, Leduc farmer, is asking the Alberta Supreme Court to declare that he is the sole owner of the natural gas found under his 160-acre farm. The Canadian Pacific Railway and Imperial Oil Ltd., have counter-claimed for a declaration that they have the right to carry away from the land all petroleum including natural gas.

When the C.P.R. transferred title of land in 1906 it reserved rights to all petroleum, coal and precious stones. Subsequently the C.P.R. leased the petroleum rights to Imperial Oil.

Borys contends that petroleum and natural gas are separate and distinct items.

G H. Steer, K.C., of Edmonton, counsel for Borys, said his client feels this way about the matter: "If they are entitled to my gas which comes in their oil, I'm entitled to their oil which comes with my gas."

The hearing is expected to last several days.

Resume Korea Service

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP)—Civilian air mail service to Korea is being resumed immediately but postal service to the Republic by surface remains suspended, the post office announced today.

The air mail service is limited to unregistered letters, postcards and Canada air letter forms. The rates will be 25 cents for each ¼ ounce on air mail letters and 15 cents each for Canada air letter forms.

Part of Cascade Highway Closed

Provincial Public Works officials in Nelson reported Thursday that the Cascade Highway between Rossland and Cascade would be closed to traffic for the next few days due to heavy snowfall.

Public Works crews are plowing about two feet of wet snow off the road. It was expected to be open in about two to three days.

Roads in the Nelson District were wet, but no danger was expected unless the soft snow froze.

British Losses Light in Korea

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell told the House of Commons today British casualties in Korea to date are 51 killed, 158 wounded and five missing. About 10,000 British troops are engaged.

Winston Churchill, the Opposition leader, said the House should "thank God" that British losses have been no heavier.

MARQUIS WHEAT WINNER FOR ALBERTA LAD

By ERWIN FRICKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (CP)—Marquis wheat—not the Thatcher variety—brought young Ricky Sharpe, Alberta public school boy, the World's wheat championship at the Royal Winter Fair, officials said tonight.

And there is a big difference, the wheat men say.

The 13-year-old Munson, Alta., lad Wednesday became the youngest exhibitor to win a world grain championship at the fair when he captured the Canadian National Railways challenge trophy.

As sensational to farmers as the age of the victor was the fact that fair officials announced he had succeeded Mrs. Amy Kelsey of Erickson, B.C., as wheat champ with a sample of Thatcher wheat.

Thatcher is probably the most popular wheat on the Prairies, in large part because of its rust-resistant qualities. But it never has won an important championship.

Marquis on the other hand has long been the variety which has won the grand prizes.

Old Saanich Favors Joining Oak Bay

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP)—Residents of the old Saanich Ward Three area have indicated they favor breaking away from Saanich and joining Oak Bay, Reeve P. A. Gibbs reported at an Oak Bay Council meeting last night.

Reeve Gibbs said he has just been presented with a report on the petitions being circulated in the area.

Allied Troops Roll Forward Five Miles in North Korea

Reds Pulling Back From High Ground; South Koreans Regain Lost Territory

SEOUL, Nov. 17 (FRIDAY) (AP)—Allied troops scratched out gains up to five miles against spotty Red resistance in a general advance along the sleet-struck fighting front in North Korea Thursday.

The sleet made the going rough for the foot soldiers, and cut down the around-the-clock bombing of Red bases and supply centres. Temperatures rose from previous near-zero levels, however.

Chinese and Korean Communists pulled back a little more in the Northwest and North-Central sectors. The steam went out of a North Korean Red counter-attack in the far Northeast.

The U.S. 1st Corps advanced on a 30-mile front in the Northwest against practically no opposition.

On the West end of the line, the Korean Republican 1st division moved four miles Northwest of Pakchon, seven miles North of the Chongchon River.

The British Commonwealth 27th Brigade rolled through Kakchon and pushed about three miles North. British patrols ventured another 1½ miles ahead and found no race of Reds.

Chinese and North Korean Red Divisions, once reported digging in on high ground West of Pakchon, now were reported to have pulled back 10 miles.

Northeast of Pakchon, the U.S. 24th Division sent patrols as far as Yongsong, The U.S. 1st Cavalry Division moved almost a mile North of the old Walled City of Yongbyon. The two divisions were in an arc along a front 15 miles Northeast of Pakchon.

These advances swelled the Allied Chongchon River bridgehead Northward and Westward.

On the bridgehead's East side, the Korean Republic's 2nd Corps struggled back to Tokchon, 25 miles East of Yongbyon, and thereby regained most of the four miles lost to counter-attacking Reds earlier in the week.

In snow-covered mountains East of the bridgehead, U.S. Marines skirmished with outposts of a Red force of unestimated size after a three-mile Marine advance West of the Changjin reservoir.

CHINESE ASSEMBLING

A prisoner said Chinese troops were assembling in large numbers in mountains West of the reservoir. The Chinese 42nd army, possibly numbering 30,000 men, may be massing in the area.

To the Northeast, the U.S. 7th Infantry Division sent one spearhead along the East banks of the Pujon reservoir and another—the U. S. 17th Regiment—five miles North to the 41st Parallel against Red tanks, artillery and infantry. The advance, Thursday's biggest, put the 17th only 20 miles South of the Manchurian border on the road to Kapsan.

Red troops were reported pulling back for a stand at Kapsan, five miles North of the American positions.

In Thursday's air action, a few bombers and fighters of the U.S. Fifth Air Force braved the murky overcast and bombed three towns North of the Chongchon beachhead front in the Northwest.

The big port of Hungnam, North of Wonsan, was opened to shipping, taking pressure off the smaller port of Wonsan.

A new British Commonwealth Brigade, the 29th, was being assembled on the West to bolster Allied front line forces.

Heavy Damage In Pacific Northwest Storm

By The Canadian Press

Increasing winds and more rain were forecast to end a brief respite from a storm that lashed the Pacific Northwest last night and early today, causing widespread damage.

A fisherman was reported missing and another man was injured.

The storm tapered off today after hurricane force winds hit sections of Eastern Oregon and Washington, crashing trees down on cars and homes, blocking highways and ripping out power and telephone lines.

A downpour of rain set a record at Eugene in Western Oregon and sent some small streams over their banks.

Some $50,000 damage was reported at Walla Walla where 200 trees were uprooted and fell on automobiles and homes.

The wind lifted a grain elevator and blew it across the Walla Walla-Spokane highway. Roofs of dozens of homes were caved in.

West of the Cascades, rivers were on the rise, and weather bureau river forecasters said they expected minor flooding in the Willamette Valley within the next 24 hours.

Social Credit Retains Olds Seat

OLDS, Alta., Nov. 16 (CP) — Fred Niddrie, a farmer of Mound, Alta., today retained the Olds seat in the Alberta legislature for the Social Credit Government with an easy victory over Martin Winther of Huxley, Liberal, in a provincial by-election.

At 8:55 p.m. with 27 of 41 polls reported, Niddrie had 1573, Winther 1167.

The seat was made vacant by the death last Summer of Norman Cook of Olds, Social Credit member since 1940.

Mr. Niddrie's victory leaves the standing in the Alberta Legislature unchanged: Social Credit 51, Liberal 2, C.C.F. 2, Independent Social Credit 1, Independent 1. Total 57.

Copperhead Snake Found on Banana Stock

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Nov. 16 (CP) — A poisonous copperhead snake was found today coiled around the steam of a banana stock at the National Fruit warehouse here.

Warehouseman Ray Mackie picked it up, but it didn't bite. Used to Central American temperatures of 100 degrees above, the snake had been "chilled" to sleep.

It is believed it slipped in with the bananas when they left Central America recently.

Blessings Given Victims of Alpine Plane Crash

By JOSEPH DYNAN

CROIX DE LA PIGNE, France, Nov. 16 (AP)—Most Rev. Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec, today gave the last blessings of the Roman Catholic Church to 17 identified victims of a plane crash Monday that took the lives of 58, most of them Holy-Year pilgrims from Canada.

Similar ceremonies will be held tomorrow for the remainder of the victims when all bodies are removed from the mountain crash scene. The rites, in a simple stone chapel in this mountain village, were attended by Canadian and French officials.

The 17 identified dead included 16 pilgrims and a young Italian priest, Rev. Romano Mocchiutti. Volunteer workers toiled in rain and fog during the day, bringing down from Mont L'Obiou the remains of other victims.

Four Canadian officials were trying to identify the remains.

After the Catholic ceremony Rev. Henri Schaerer, pastor of the Reformed Church at Mens, performed a Protestant ceremony.

No bodies of the Protestants among the seven-man Canadian crew had yet been identified.

Anglican Primate Spends Fair Night

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (CP)—Most Rev. George F. Kingston, Primate of the Church of England in Canada, spent a "fair night and a fair morning," hospital authorities said today.

The 61-year-old Archbishop of Nova Scitia suffered a heart attack Monday while here for the annual meeting of the Canadian Council of Churches.

Archbishop Kingston's physician, Dr. Cameron Gray, said he is "holding his own today and perhaps is a little better."

"We are more hopeful today," he said, "but the Primate's condition still is serious."

BIRMINGHAM, England, Nov. 17 (Friday) (CP) — The Labor Government's working majority in the House of Commons dropped to five with the victory of a Conservative candidate in Thursday's by-election to fill a House vacancy.

Conservative Sir Edward Boyle, 27, a newspaper man, defeated Labor candidate Cyril Bence, 48-year-old toolmaker. The vote was 22,083 to 13,852 in the Handsworth constituency.

The seat was made vacant by the death of Conservative Harold Roberts.

Egypt Discards British Treaty

CAIRO, Nov. 16 (AP)—Egypt's Government stated formally today it no longer regards its 1936 treaty with Britain as legal.

But although the Speech from the Throne at the opening session of Parliament made this assertion, and added "there is no other alternative than to decide its cancellation," the Government stopped short of formal denunciation of the treaty.

The Throne Speech read by King Farouk indicated instead that Egypt hopes Britain will recognize its demands to remove British troops immediately from the Suez Canal zone and permit the unification of the Sudan with Egypt under Farouk's rule.

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today Britain would not comply with Egyptian demands to pull British troops from the Suez Canal zone —Trade and defence lifeline to the East.

The spokesman told a press conference Britain did not recognize the Cairo Government's right to upset the 1936 treaty which binds the two countries together for 20 years.

Britain argues Egypt should look at the presence of British troops on her soil not from a national, but from an international standpoint.

Lethbridge Weekly Issues Last Edition

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 16 (CP)—The Lethbridge Weekly Herald today published its last edition. It is being discontinued largely because of newsprint shortage.

The Weekly Herald was established 45 years ago by F. E. "Old Man" Simpson, Publisher of the Cranbrook Herald. Within a month, W. A. Buchanan bought a half interest, became Publisher and later bought complete control. The Herald began publishing a daily edition in 1907.

And in This Corner—

TOKYO, Nov. 16 (CP)—The C.C.F. keeps popping up at Army briefings here.

But it's not the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation. The initials refer to the Chinese Communist forces.

United States Army officers use the initials, all unconscious of their connotation for Canadian correspondents.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 16 (AP)—Dan Rees, elected Laramie County Commissioner Nov. 7 after a campaign in which he promised to be "reasonably honest," thanked his supporters in a newspaper advertisement which said:

"All promises made in the heat of the campaign are hereby retracted; they are null and void and of no further value."

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Nov. 16 (AP)—Motorists are getting free gasoline—30,000 gallons of it—from a hole in the ground.

The stuff came from a 12-inch pipeline which sprang a leak three weeks ago. The break was fixed, but there's still gas for the taking.

Phillips Petroleum Company, which owns the pipeline, dug a big trench around the break, and townsfolk around here have been dipping the gasoline out of the trench by the bucketful.

Phillips is happy to have its gasoline carted away, eliminating a fire hazard.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—John Probovich has a mind like an elephant when he goes bear hunting—he seldom forgets.

Last Winter, Probovich and a companion became lost in the woods. Stumbling around in the darkness, he tripped over an object which he at first took for a boulder. The obstacle grunted and walked away —it was a bear.

Yesterday, Probovich went bear hunting at the spot where he had tripped over the bruin last year.

He came back with a 450-pound specimen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—An electric iron which some one forgot to turn off started and put out a fire in an apartment house here yesterday.

Firemen who answered an alarm said they found that the iron burned through the ironing board, then through the floor where it melted a lead water pipe.

By the time firemen arrived, the spray of water from the melted pipe had extinguished the smouldering fire. Damage was slight.

Cases, Clothing Taken From Visitors' Car

When Mrs. H. Myers, a visitor to the district from Assinaboine, Sask., came to B.C. she far from expected the welcome she got in the Kootenay.

Travelling by car with her two sons and daughter-in-law, the party was on their way to Slocan City to attend the wedding of her son to the daughter of H. H. Reimer. On the way their car broke down near Cranbrook and the occupants went to find a garage.

On their return to the car they found that someone had broken the lock on the car trunk and had stolen two suitcases containing all of their clothing, some of which were new. The incident happened Tuesday. Thursday the luggage and clothing was still missing.

Fire Equipment Taken by Boat in Herridge Home Fire

NAKUSP, B.C., Nov. 16—Volunteer fire fighters were called last Thursday to the newly erected home of H. W. Herridge, M.P. and Mrs. Herried at "Shorkolm" six miles North of Nakusp. As there is no regular road to this lake-shore property the fire fighters had to commandeer the motor boats of Edward Wanstall, the Forestry boat and boat belonging to Roy Eaton and M. Quisick, which were soon loaded up with forestry pumps, fire hose, buckets and firemen.

The fire had started from a chimney stopper where it was supposed sparks could have done the damage between the wall and finishing board.

The fire was brought under control with damage estimated at about $150. Several firemen remained at the scene for several hours in case of a further outbreak.

Little Theatre Actors Give Lively Staging to "Ring Around Elizabeth"

Charl Armstrong's three-act comedy "Ring Around Elizabeth" is a happy choice for a group such as Nelson Little Theatre. The lively interpretation its members gave the play Thursday night in Capitol Theatre, was missed by all too many who like their humor sophisticated yet without slapstick.

A half-filled house was taken through the antics of the Cherry family, which involve a legacy left to Mrs. Cherry (Elizabeth), ensuing commitments and a convenient loss of memory. Marjorie MacBain fitted well into her role of Elizabeth, both in and out of amnesia.

If one were to pick out the best bits of acting in the performance, your reporter would put the laurels on R. H. W. Chanter as Hubert Cherry, Elizabeth's father-in-law, who got more laughs per punch line than anyone in the cast; Peggy Grimes as Harriet Gilpin, the busybody club woman who "runs the town singlehanded", and to Barbara Hyndman as Mercedes, if only for her typical teen-age actions.

Elizabeth's husband, Ralph, was portrayed convincingly by George Dick, whose deep, easy-carrying voice is particularly in his favor. And speaking of voices, Alice Stevenson, as the maid who is constantly threatening to "quit"—and does — affects a Swedish accent which, if it sacrifices a number of good lines, is fairly authentic.

Bob Coventry as playboy Andy Blayne, Connie Andrews as Jennifer, Edith Smith as Laurette Styles, Mike Rushby as Dr. Hollister and Clifford Carne as the policeman, all do adequate jobs. Irene is a disturbing character in the pattern, but Beverly Bradley did admirably in making her presence seem necessary.

The pace was good, even if a few cues were missed or caught late, but perhaps most credit is due director Frederick Wheeler for his attention to details; i.e., fine stage positioning. Stage setting, costuming and make-up couldn't have been improved on.

The Nelson High School orchestra under Don Cowan played intermission music.

The show will be repeated tonight, and before the curtain goes up, Mrs. Frederick Niven will be awarded the Greenwood Trophy for her Little Theatre work last year.

B.C. Production Rate Not Holding Up To Population Gains, Kiwanis Told

Although B.C. resources development has taken great strides in the past 25 years, it has not kept pace with population growth," Dr. H. Warren said in a dinner address before the Nelson Kiwanis Club Thursday night at the Hume.

Dr. Warren is a professor lecturing in economics, geography and mineralogy at the University of British Columbia.

Speaking on the subject "Raw Materials and the Future of B.C.," Dr. Warren compared primary industries production figures of 1925 with those of today, showing in nearly every instance that on a per capita basis, today's figures were lower.

While population had increased from 600,000 in 1925 to 1,100,000 today, production of foodstuffs had had not increased accordingly, the speaker said. Potato production 85,000 tons in 1925, had increased to only 110,000 tons this year.

There were now actually less cattle in the province than there were 25 years ago although the milk produtcion rate had approximately held its own.

Cultivated acreage had increased to approximately one acre per person, but this was still far below the internationally accepted figure of three acres necessary to feed each individual, yearly, he said.

Dr. Warren blamed this situation on the drift of young people away from the farms to the cities. "There are still two to seven million acres of potentially arable land in B.C. for those willing to work it," he added.

In the mining industry very little actual expansion had been shown in this period. High world market prices, he said, had caused renewed activity in many old mines but very little activity was being shown in new fields. "We must find new mines and new techniques to expand in this field," he said.

Dr. Warren also reviewed the fishing and lumberling industries. "There is little likelihood that the fishing industry can expand much more even with a large increase in population."

Forestry would find it difficult to continue to expand the way it had during the past 25 years since Coast loggers were now cutting about 125 per cent of growth in most areas, he said.

Dr. Warren is past president of the "Resources Conference", a unique organization which keeps tab on this province's raw material wealth and offers technical advice to business and industry.

"This is the only group of its kind in North America at present, but we expect that other provinces will follow suit before long," he said.

One of its biggest problems at the present time was deciding whether or not the Fraser River could be harnessed for hydro-power without ruining the salmon industry.

Other projects it was considering was the Tweedsmuir Park project by which the Aluminum Company of Canada would develop 1,125,000 horsepower in one area. This was more than has been developed in British Columbia to date, he said.

The Weather

Synopsis — Polar air which was driven Northward out of the Southern Interior valleys yesterday by the strong Southerly winds which developed ahead of the Pacific storm, is now drifting back into the valleys as the storm moves on into Alberta. As a result a sharp drop in temperature is expected in these Interior valleys.

There are some indications that another storm is forming about 1000 miles West of the coast. This storm if it continues to develop should bring further unsettled weather to the Coast over Friday night.

Test District Cattle for T.B.

The first Federal Government T.B. test of cattle in the Kootenay area is being conducted by the Health of Animals Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Dr. R. L. Lancaster is carrying out the tests in the Rossland, Trail and Castlegar Districts, and he will eventually come to the Nelson District.

Up to July 1 of this year testing had been carried on in the district by the Provincial Government, but has since been handed over to the Federal Government.

All beef and dairy cattle will be tested, and Dr. Lancaster has pointed out that it is imperative that no cattle be missed.

Following tests will depend on how much tuberculosis is found in district herds.

POOR FRUIT CROP REDUCES NELSON JAM OUTPUT

The poor fruit crop this season caused considerable curtailment of jam manufacturing here, McDonald Jam Company officials reported.

There was no packing of either apricots or peaches, due to the complete failure of both fruits. Some strawberry and plum jams were packed for the local market, but none were shipped to outside points.

The company usually ships its products to Alberta and Saskatchewan markets.

Claudette Warns Not-So-Young Against Shoulder-Length Hair

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16 (AP)—The glamor girls of Hollywood are letting their hair down.

Reaction has struck the short haircut craze that swept and blighted the country a couple of years ago. Now Jane Russell, Joan Crawford and many other Hollywood names are allowing their locks to resume normal length. Most of them admit the men demanded it.

But Claudette Colbert adds a note of caution. She is the screen's most noted devotee of the short cut, and has stuck to her bob despite the whims of fashion for these many years.

"I think many women should think twice before they let their hair grow back," she says.

"I like long hair on some women—particularly young girls whose hair looks silky and soft. But on some women it just looks messy. There is nothing more unattractive than long, stringy hair that looks as though a comb had never been run through it.

"The best thing about the short haircut is that it makes a woman look neat. And a lot of women could stand looking neater."

Mrs. A. M. Barrow presided at the tea table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centred with chrysanthemums, during the afternoon. Mrs. J. Parent Jr. and Mrs. S. Ward poured during the evening. Assisting were the bride's sister, Miss Dorothy Herridge, and two cousins, the Misses Eileen and Dianne Herridge, Mrs. Pat Beingessner, Mrs. Glen McMullen, Mrs. S. Williams, Mrs. C. Jensen and Mrs. V. Hill.

A three-tiered wedding cake embedded in tulle and flanked by tall white tapers in silver holders was cut by the bride, assisted by the groom.

War Brides' Club Pitches In To Assist Red Cross

Nelson's War Brides' Club, since its formation at the beginning of the year, has been more or less a social group which has sent parcels to its members' families in England and Scotland.

But now the little band has decided to do business. It's going to make surgical dressings for the Women's Work Committee of Nelson Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The idea caught when Mrs. E. Gopp, Women's Work Committee Chairman, demonstrated how the surgical dressings were made at a meeting at the home of Mrs. G. F. Fox, 68 Douglas Road.

When members learned that the dressings aided the blood transfusion service of the Red Cross, they felt they would like to "branch out", Mrs. Fox said.

SMALL BEGINNING

The War Brides' Club is an organization of about 10 English and Scottish brides of Nelson men. Although a few were friends, it wasn't until early this year when one suggested they organize, that the members really got to know each other.

Up to now they had met at each other's homes every two weeks to chat about their homes in the "old country." Each member would also bring tins of food and similar household commodities which are on the hard-to-get or ration list in Britain, and a parcel would be wrapped up for mailing to a family each meeting date.

With supplies of guaze from the Red Cross, they'll start the cutting, folding and wrapping process that makes surgical dressings for the Red Cross's biggest peace-time home project.

Greek Parents Still Search For Children

ATHENS, Nov. 16 (Reuters) — Red-eyed Greek mothers in mourning in every village and hamlet along Greece's borders ask the same question: "Do you know where our children are?"

Their children were taken from them three years ago by Communists who marched them in thousands across the frontier, scattering them in Communist countries whose names mean nothing to these poor, illiterate peasants.

The parents have no doubt that, whatever the Communist may say, their children were taken to build a future core of fanatic servants of the Communist cause.

According to the Greek Red Cross 23,304 Greek children between the ages of 4 and 18 were carried off behind the iron curtain; more than 7000 applications for the return of some 10,000 children have been submitted by relatives to the International Red Cross; a further 5000 requests were collected during October by Greek Red Cross nurses touring the villages of Western Macedonia.

The West Arm Community Looks Ahead

There can be no better indication that the future of the fast-growing West Arm residential area is in sound hands than the information that the West Arm Ratepayers Association has launched a study of a possible regional development control plan. Too frequently, residential areas on the environs of urban centres, because growth is speedy when site advantages are realized, are allowed a Topsy-like development. The result is unsatisfactory and expensive to correct when planning becomes an essential, and it invariably does.

Regional planning is especially vital to safe and sensible growth for suburbs or communities that have chief travel arteries as their "main streets". Adequate planning can offset the dangers to local movement and at the same time minimize inconvenience to the through-traffic that rightly also has use of the high-speed highways. The fact that the North Shore link is part of the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway—and during many months of the year the only open road through B. C. on a Trans-Canada route—cannot be disregarded. It must be faced that volume of its traffic will continue to swell, and communities along its route must plan accordingly.

The villages of Castlegar and Kinnaird that developed largely as residential suburbs of Trail, have ample reason to appreciate the advantages of early planning. They will perhaps have suggestions from experience that would be of advantage. The North Shore planners already have the energies and counsel of Walter Hendricks, M.L.A. for Nelson-Creston, in their endeavor.

Because a planned community will be of ultimate benefit to all who have use of the No. 3 Highway link, their effort will be applauded by the entire region.

Korea Questions

There are many questions aroused by the changed situation in Korea. The entry of Chinese Communists into the battle poses one of these.

Should the Chinese Communists really decide to get into the fighting in a big way, there will be posed more than military problems. Great Britain has troops in Korea. Great Britain also has given recognition to the Chinese Communist Government. In the event, therefore, of British troops being attacked by Chinese Communist troops, or vice versa, Great Britain would be in the position of engaging in hostilities with a State which she has recognized diplomatically, and with which, in fact, she is carrying on trade.

Further: Should it turn out that Communist China really means business in Korea (she can pour troops into Korea much faster than can the U.S. or U.N.), then, points out The Ottawa Journal, it might follow that fighting in Korea would go on indefinitely, draining the U.S. and U.N. of strength needed sorely for the proposed unified army in Europe.

Finally, another question, one affecting Canada. We have talked of Canadian forces, a limited number of them, going to Korea as troops of occupation. It may well be, unless things change in the next few days, that such troops will go to Korea, or be expected to go to Korea, for a task more serious.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

From The Daily News of Nov. 17, 1940

The Nelson Juveniles, who captured the B. C. title last year, and the unofficial championship of Southern Alberta, started the current season off on the right foot as they upset the more seasoned Juniors 2-1 in a main event of the Senior Hockey Club's annual ice carnival last night. In the senior game Alfie (Red) Carr shot in the winning goal for the Leafs, breaking the 3-3 tie, for the Whites over the Greens.

Verse

Lease on Life

I give you the world, little man,
To use as you will today.
It's yours on a lease . . . 'Till the lease expires,
You are master of all you survey.

I give you the glorious dawn, lad—
A treasure that no one may steal.
The warm caress of the rising sun
Is yours, if you'll wake and feel!

I give you the timbered hillside,
The pasture and rambling brook.
The wild Spring flowers and the rustling leaves
Are yours, if you'll turn and look!

Don't sit by the roadside, son,
And watch while the others pass by;
But shoulder your pack, step out with a stride,
And make time while the sun is still high.

For the sun goes down very soon, my boy,
And the day grows dreary and cold;
And you find you still are far from your goal,
And you cure all in vain—when you're old.

They told me these things years ago, son;
Yes, they told me sincerely and frank.
But I waited for someone to give me a lift,
And I'm still sitting here on the bank.

Take a tip from a weary old fool, now:
Go through Opportunity's doors.
Shake a leg and get in on the fun while it lasts.
Take the world, little man, while it's yours!

B. A., Nelson—We are indebted to Mrs. C., Ymir, for the following information:

The Century Dictionary and Encyclopedia says: "Ymir (pronounced E-Mer) was in old Norse mythology a mighty sea-giant, the first created being who arose through the interworking of heat and cold in Gennungagap. He was slain by Odin and his brothers, Vill and Ve, and thrown into the midst of Geeungagap. His flesh became the land, his bones the mountains, his blood the lakes and streams, his hair the forests, his skull the heavens, and his brains the clouds."

Match Cover—$25,000

(By Grace Luckhart in The Vancouver Daily Province)

Reading about the present collectors' craze sweeping the country—mostly in the United States (according to a recent issue of the "American")—leads us to wonder just which, among the everyday objects we use, ought to be saved in case they may some day become collectors' pieces.

The most widespread objects now being collected seem to be match covers. At first glance you would wonder where their value lies. Surely not in their scarcity. But when you read that one match cover is insured for $25,000, kept in an airtight silver frame, and in the museum of the Diamond Match Company, you begin to see the light.

This rare cover, only one in existence, was originally one of 200, made one night in 1892 by the cast of the Mendelssohn Opera Company of New York to advertise their performances. The advertisement is hand-written and the match cover is decorated with photographs of the leads, cut out and pasted on.

Apparently the Mendelssohn match cover is in the same class among collectors as the British Guiana one-penny stamp. Only one copy is known to exist, and it is valued at $50,000. Among the coin collectors, the 1820 silver dollars are the rarest because they were carried in the pockets of sailors whose ship sank in the Mississippi. The ship, with its load of newly minted dollars, is still in the bottom of the river somewhere between St. Louis and New Orleans.

To get back to the match covers, there is one that is in terrific demand. Only two are known to be in existence, and one can't be found at that. These match covers were distributed to guests at a testimonial luncheon for Charles Lindbergh June 15, 1927, at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York. They were used up, left behind or thrown away. Collectors keep hoping a few will turn up.

The biggest recognized collection is only 500,000 out of a possible 5,000,000.

I must say the whole idea leaves me cold.

Iron Curtain Nothing but Tin Curtain, Is No Military Barrier

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Capt. Liddell Hart, internationally-known British military analyst, stated in a studied estimate of the global crisis that "the chances of peace and war are closely balanced—almost on a knife edge."

This is one of the conclusions in Liddell Hart's outspoken new book, "Defence of the West" (William Morrow and Company, New York). Amplifying this uncomfortable appraisal, he says:

"One may doubt whether any Government wants another war, but it is hard to see how it can be avoided if the present tension persists. The "Iron Curtain" that now divides the world fulfills its name all too well in preventing peaceful communication, but it is only a tin curtain in other respects. A large extent of it has no strength as a military barrier, and it is not sound-proof against the roaring on either side of it."

THREE WAYS

Referring to the devastation and impoverishment resulting from the last war, Liddell Hart believes the consequences of a new conflict are likely to be much worse. He figures there are three ways in which another world war might be detonated.

"One way would be a direct clash between the United States and Russia. Another would be a conflict between Russia and States other than the U. S. but within the latter's sphere of interest—for example a Russian threat to European members of the Atlantic Pact.

"A third way,' says the author, "is from a conflict arising between states that the two giant powers respectively support—a duel that the 'seconds' begin and the principals join in."

Liddell Hart says the Pacific is the most likely area where a direct clash between the United States and Russia might arise. The other two cases might develop anywhere in Europe, the Middle East or Southeast Asia.

"An outbreak in Europe," says the author, "would be the most dangerous both in its form and for the future of Western civilization."

Pocket Prayer-Books For Canadian Force

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP) — The 11,000 members of Canada's Special Force, both Protestant and Roman Catholic, are being issued pocket-sized books of prayer to help them in their hours of trial, and in religious devotion.

First batch of copies of a small, blue book entitled "Divine Service Book for the Armed Forces" will be distributed shortly to Protestant members of the force.

Roman Catholic members of the force are being issued their own book, a standard prayer book widely used in various parts of the world. It is entitled "My Sunday Missal."

Both types of books will also go in time to members of the regular forces.

Crippled Freighter Towed to Hong Kong

HONG KONG, Nov. 16 (CP) — The British freighter Tsinan, crippled by a mine last September and helpless victim of a 57-hour typhoon in the Strait of Formosa, reached Hong Kong in tow late yesterday.

The 2994-ton vessel showed little effects of the typhoon's buffeting, but she displayed a gaping 20-foot hole as the result of the contact with the mine—presumably laid by the Chinese Nationalists.

SPORTS

The Sports Eye

By CLIVE FLEMING

There may be a little rhubarb about travel between the W.I.H.L. and the M.O.A.H.L. as the result of the Leaf swing through the Okanagan. Nelson was planning to go to the three Western division games by plane, but bad flying conditions forced a change of plans, and they had to travel by train, thereby missing the Kamloops-Nelson game last night.

Last year, the Calgary Stampeders were forced to miss a game at Edmonton due to similar circumstances, and a big squabble resulted.

The Kamloops-Nelson game will likely have to be picked up when the Wares-men make their jaunt to the Coast.

Tomorrow night the Zinc Plant Metallurgicals of the Trail Smelter League meet the Nelson Senior B's.

The Mets have quite an impressive lineup, too. In goal is Bill Waddell, former netminder for the Smokies, with a strong defence in front of him: J. Johnston, K. Robertson, M. Wellock, and C. Casey. Several of their forwards played for the Smokies also. Lining up on the three front lines are Joe Laface, Ed Primeau, Len Carlson, Herbie St. Jean, Howie Palmer, Dick Sisson, Duke Scodellaro, Mario Scodellaro and Don Davis.

Highlight of the game will be Duke Scodellaro playing forward. Several times while wearing the Smokie goal pads, he was almost another defenceman, going well out of his net to clear the puck.

Recently Doug Vaughan, columnist of Windsor, was the victim of words with double meanings.

A while back, Vaughan described the front-running Toronto Maple Leafs as being a club which was much more 'offensive-minded' than at any time in recent years. Soon he received a letter from an obviously loyal supporter of the Toronto club, which read in part: "The Leafs are the greatest team in hockey. Just because you don't like them, you don't have to call them 'offensive-minded'. They aren't dirty players and never have been."

Since he once again wanted to talk about the 'offensive-minded' Leafs, he had to find some other term to describe their ability to punch home goals with greater rapidity than any of their rivals so far this season.

The outstanding scoring punch packed by the Leafs could be contrived from the change of coaches. Hap Day, who piloted the Leafs to no less than five Stanley Cup conquests in a period of nine years, a record unmatched by any modern-day N.H.L. mentor, was a defenceman in his N.H.L. playing days. It would be natural that he would stress defensive hockey.

Joe Primeau, on the other hand, was the centreman of the famous Leaf "Kid Line" of the '30's; Conacher, Primeau and Jackson. It was natural for him to stress offensive tactics, as Day emphasized the defence. By the way, you might have noticed that at no time this season has Primeau used more than four defencemen, and for a while only three when Bill Barilko was sidelined, contrasted by four forward lines.

Members of the Hot Stove League down in Toronto airing their N.H.L. forecasts, agreed that if anything would handicap the Leafs it would likely be lack of rearguards if one or more were injured.

Still up in the N.H.L., Lynn Patrick, new coach of the Boston Bruins, must be a happy man today. The other night he beat the Rangers, the club which he directed into the Stanley Cup finals last season. Now his Bruins are tied with the Manhattans for fifth spot.

Charles Must Shave Moustache for Bout With Barone

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16 (AP) —Ezzard Charles, world's heavyweight boxing champion, must shave off his moustache before fighting Nick Barone of Syracuse, N. Y., in a title bout here Nov. 28.

The City Boxing Commission so ruled today. Charles and the boys who boss the sport here have been fussing over the question for days. Charles is real proud of the thing.

"This rule applies not only to the champion, but to all boxers who fight in Cincinnati rings," Paul Cain, Commission Chairman, announced. "The rules say the fighter must be clean-shaven."

Rangers Hire Veteran Coach, Trade Players

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (CP) — New York Rangers, never at a loss for a new idea, today announced the signing of veteran coach Don Penniston, as a "defensive consultant" to assist head coach Neil Colville.

This was the latest in a series of moves designed to shake the National Hockey League Club out of a disastrous early-season slump.

At the same time, the cellar-dwelling Blues announced a trade with the equally-futile Boston Bruins by which they obtain forwards Zellio Toppazzini and Ed Harrison in exchange for Dunc Fisher, a right winger the New Yorkers recently shipped to their St. Paul Farm in the United States League. It was a straight player transaction with no cash involved, Ranger Manager Frank Boucher announced.

As to the status of Dr. David Tracy, the psychologist hired to give the down-trodden Rangers a "treatment" before Wednesday night's 4-3 loss to Boston, Boucher wasn't too clear.

"The doctor may talk to the boys again, or he may not," said Frank. "I'm not sure his treatment helped us last night."

Canadiens Whip Leading Leafs 5-2; Wings Down Hawks 5-1 Score

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Canadiens, after seven winless games in the National Hockey League, Thursday night turned on the League-leading Toronto Maple Leafs with a 5-2 victory before a crowd of 14,583 at Montreal. The game was Toronto's third loss of the season and the three-goal margin was the worst defeat of the three.

In the league's other Thursday night fixture, Detroit Red Wings successfully protected second place as well as their unbeaten string by defeating Chicago Black Hawks 5-1 before 15,488 fans in Chicago.

Fifteen penalties were called at Montreal, including a major to Maurice Richard of Montreal for walloping Bill Juzda over the shoulder with his stick and a 10-minute misconduct penalty to Fleming MacKell of the Leafs for some fancy talk to Referee Bill Chadwick.

The Toronto team turned in possibly its worst performance of the season. Their usually smart power plays didn't click, partly because of Canadiens' close checking, and their passing and shooting were erratic most of the time.

Canadiens rained 40 shots on Turk Broda in the Toronto nets, Gerry McNeil had only 18 to handle for the full game in Canadiens' cage.

Canadiens showed more dash to their play, especially with the return to form of several of their more recently injured players. The Mosdell-Curry-MacKay line was outstanding.

The Wings now have eight straight without a loss, consisting of six victories and two ties. Their victory put them only one game back of leading Toronto.

19 PENALTIES

Gaye Stewart, one of the Hawks traded to Detroit in the nine-man off-season draft, hit for two of Detroit's goals.

It was a rough game in which 19 penalties aggregating 46 minutes were called.

Terry Sawchuk, Detroit goalie, had 45 stops to 21 for Harry Lumley.

25 Minor Loop Players Picked Up

By FRITZ HOWELLH

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16 (AP)—Major League teams, hoping to plug gaping holes in their 1950 lineups, picked up 25 minor loop players today in the annual draft at a cost of $239,500.

Eleven of the 25 have seen previous Major League service. Average age of the draftees—around 26 years—is the highest ever in the annual talent grab from the bush loops.

The triple-A clubs, who may be excused from the draft next year, were raided for 22 of the 25 players, the American Association giving up nine, the Pacific Coast seven, and the International League six. Each cost the Major loopers $10,000.

The Kansas City farm of New York Yankees was the big loser in the draft, three players being picked off the eighth place club of the American Association.

Pittsburgh picked up first baseman Richard Dale Long. Jack Cusick, shortstop, went to Chicago Cubs, and bonus pitcher Paul Henrichs was claimed by the Boston Americans.

Branch Rickey, making the opening selection as representative of the last place Pittsburgh Pirates of the National loop, put his finger on George Metkovich of Oakland, Calif., former Big League outfielder who hit 24 home runs and batted .316 for the Pacific Coast League club.

Harry Dorish, who won four and lost nine for St. Louis Browns last year, had one of the shortest minor league careers on record. Less than 48 hours before the draft was made he was shifted to Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Loop, but Chicago White Sox picked him up as their No. 4 draft choice.

N.H.L. Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

There were no changes in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race Wednesday night. The seven top places were not affected by the only scheduled game between New York Rangers and Boston Bruins.

Max Bentley of Toronto remains in first spot with 19 points—five goals and 14 assists, the latter also being a leading mark. Maurice Richard of Montreal is best sniper with nine goals to his credit.

Ezinicki, Lynn Traded to Bruins

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (CP)—For the rest of his National Hockey League career, bashing Bill Ezinicki will be throwing his body-checks at Toronto Maple Leafs, instead of for them.

The Leafs traded the thumping Winnipeg right winger to Boston Bruins today along with Vic Lynn, hustling left wing from Saskatoon. Both have been playing this season with Pittsburgh Hornets, Leafs' farm in the American Hockey League.

In return Leafs get three players—defenceman Fern Flaman, centre Phil Maloney and left wing Kenny Smith—along with the rights to a junior from Port Arthur, Leo Boyvin.

Ezinicki and Lynn will report to Bruins immediately. Flaman, Maloney and Smith will head for Pittsburgh to join the Hornets.

In addition, the Rangers sent veteran defenceman Wally Stanowski to Cincinnati Mohawks of the American Hockey League and brought up back Jackie Evans from Cincinnati.

Stanowski twisted an ankle early in the season and has seen limited service.

Picture of Stalin Highlights Celebration

Fails to Make Friends, Influence Police

A West German policeman gives a not-too-gentle shove to a Communist demonstrator from the British sector after a large group of Reds attempted to mob a courthouse in order to free a fellow "peace fighter" who was arrested. The demonstration was successfully broken up and the arrested Red was later sentenced to a year in prison for illegal propaganda and "terrorism".—Central Press Canadian.

French Develop New-Style Bazooka

Two French soldiers demonstrate a light anti-tank weapon, similar to the Canadian Piat, during a demonstration of new weapons by troops of Western Union countries at the British School of Infantry, Warminster, England. The gun can be handled by one man or a team of a firer and a loader.—Central Press Canadian.

MONTREAL (CP) — An "employee" of the Bank of Canada finds his monthly allowance of $4 isn't enough. The employee is a huge, grey cat which has been keeping a local branch free of rats for six years. He won't eat anything but liver, and at the rate of a pound a day it adds up to more than $7 a month.

HALIFAX (CP) — Some of the world's leading mathematicians will meet here next Summer when the Canadian Mathematical Congress holds its biennial seminar. Mathematicians from Canada and the United States will study problems of statistics, probability and pure mathematics applied to these subjects.

Dramatic Surrender Of Missing Driver

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP)—Under intense emotional strain and on the verge of collapse, 34-year-old John Farmer appeared in City Police Court today and faced a charge of failing to remain at the scene of the accident Friday in which 80-year-old William Savidge was killed.

Farmer's appearance in court followed a dramatic surrender to the police last night.

After counsel for Farmer announced accused intended to plead guilty, the case was remanded until Monday and the millworker freed on $500 bail.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
