Canada, U. S. Agree On Defence Program

President Advocates Preparedness Against Communist Aggression

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—President Eisenhower Saturday told Canadians they should prepare for atomic attack but maintain faith that lasting peace can be achieved without war.

Speaking before a joint session of the Commons and Senate, the president said Canada and the United States "can and will" devise ways to protect North America from any surprise attack from the air.

"The basic threat of Communist purpose still exists. Indeed the latest Soviet communication to the Western world is truculent, if not arrogant, in tone. Our security plans must now take into account Soviet ability to employ atomic attack on North America . . ."

As parliamentarians applauded loudly, the president said firmly: "And we shall achieve the defence of our continent without whittling our pledges to western Europe or forgetting our friends in the Pacific."

After his speech, the president conferred for 65 minutes with the cabinet and a joint communique was issued two hours later indicating increased integration between the Canadian and American defence buildups.

The communique said:

"There was complete agreement on the vital importance of effective methods for joint defence, especially in the light of evidence of increasing technical capability of direct attack on both countries by weapons of great destructive power."

This was an obvious reference, also contained in the president's speech, to the Russian threat of air attack with atom or hydrogen bombs.

The communique also said "arrangements for collaboration which have proved satisfactory over the years provide a firm basis on which to carry forward the close relationship between Canada and the United States in matters of common defence."

Mr. Eisenhower received Canadian views on world problems which he may pass to the Big Three conference in Bermuda early next month.

The communique said:

"Views were exchanged on recent developments in the world situation and on measures which might bring about a relaxation of current international tensions."

These measures were not specified but presumably they were along the same lines as those which will be discussed by the Big Three.

The communique added:

"It was agreed that all efforts for peace and improved world conditions being made by the United Nations or elsewhere should be supported and the necessity of maintaining the strength, unity and determination of the free world to resist aggression was fully recognized."

The president in his speech and the communique referred to the importance of expanded world trade on a multilateral basis and construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

BIGGER CHEESE RATION

LONDON (Reuters) — Purchase of 4500 tons of cheese from Canada has enabled Britain's cheese ration to be increased from two to three ounces a week from Nov. 29, it was announced Sunday.

WITH VISA DIFFICULTIES straightened out, Lee Kyung Soo, four, has reason to be happy as he learns at the U.S. naval station in Atsugi, Japan, that he can come to the United States as adopted son of a navy man. Paladino found Lee a year ago, homeless, in Inchon, and brought him to the U.S., where immigration officials sent him back to Japan to await proper immigration clearance. — Central Press Canadian.

Farmer Charged In Killings

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

DIGNE, France (AP) — A bearded, 76-year-old French farm patriarch, accused by two of his own sons, was formally charged Sunday with the triple slaying 15 months ago of British nutrition expert Sir Jack Drummond, Lady Drummond and their 11-year-old daughter.

Police said the aged man, Gaston Dominici, admitted he killed the holidaying Drummonds early on the morning of Aug. 5, 1952, after Sir Jack, 61, caught him peeping into their roadside camp to watch Lady Ann Drummond undress. The camp was 200 yards from Dominici's stone farm home in southeastern France.

Detective Georges Harzig gave a press conference this version of Dominici's three confessions:

Around midnight, as was Dominici's custom, he was out hunting and he approached the Drummond car. He saw a woman — it was Lady Ann — undressing and he came closer to spy upon her.

TRIED TO ESCAPE

The woman saw or heard him and she screamed. This aroused Drummond who angrily demanded what he was doing there. They began quarrelling and exchanged blows. Dominici, enraged, fired first at Sir Jack and then at Lady Ann, killing them both. He also fired at the child Elizabeth but the bullet only grazed her ear and she ran screaming toward the river to escape. He pursued her. She fell upon her knees and covered her head with her hands. He had no more bullets, so he clubbed her with the rifle butt.

Plaque Honors Naughtiest Boy

HOVE, England (Reuters) — A plaque was unveiled here recently to honor "the naughtiest small boy in the world" who went to the Misses Thompson school here 70 years ago.

After the eight-year-old snub-nosed redhead enrolled in the sedate private school, he cut capers that shocked the Misses Thompson and their teachers.

Young Winston once shocked the genteel old schoolmarms while playing soccer for the school. He ran around the field shouting—not the traditional "play up, you chaps" —but a slogan all his own: "St. George, St. Dunstan and the Devil."

TWO BOYS OF QUADRUPLETS DIE

SYLVESTER, Ga. (AP)—Quadruplets were born to a south Georgia farmer's wife Saturday night, but two of them died Sunday.

The Negro babies—two boys and two girls—were placed in incubators immediately after birth and attendants reported them in "fair" condition. The two boys became weaker during the day.

Mrs. Robert Dollson of Poulan, Ga., was the mother. She and her farmer husband have eight other living children ranging in age from four to 17. One child died shortly after birth last year. The Dollsons have been married 18 years.

Flyer Locates Cranbrook Hunter

CRANBROOK — Circling low over the huge hilly and wooded area of Gold Creek, Ed Sanderson of Cranbrook Flying Services located John Sparks, missing Cranbrook hunter, signalled to the missing man he was spotted, buzzed the ground search crew a few miles away, and dropped them a note.

A B.C. Forest truck went immediately to the hunter's location in an abandoned lumber camp and brought him out, hungry, but otherwise undamaged by his 36 hours solitude and wanderings. Sparks began trying to make his way out late Thursday afternoon, but dusk and evening fog caused him to make large circles in the dense country he was in. When he realized this he built a fire for the night and in the morning found the abandoned camp.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Surgeons who recently discovered an 18-year-old boy had an extra stomach and an extra set of intestines successfully removed the "spares" in an operation which required nearly eight hours, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph reported Saturday. The 'teen ager, Paul Hochendoner, was able to enter school two weeks after the surgery.

Dupre Felt He "Had a Message"

CALGARY (CP) — George Dupre, unmasked self-styled Second World War spy hero, believed he was a man with a mission.

Grey, haggard and shaken by the events which tumbled his make-believe world about his ears, Dupre declared earnestly in an interview over the weekend: "I honestly felt I had a message."

He looked grave and a little awed as he said: "No man can survive without faith in God. I felt the story would do a lot of good. A man can't do much without God and I wanted to prove, especially to the young, that a man with faith can endure anything — even death."

Dupre, pale and sick looking, is under a doctor's care but is not in hospital.

He was asked what reason he had to permit his deception to carry on to such lengths.

KEPT ADDING TO YARN

"I don't know," he said. "I guess the story just got bigger than I was. I told it and then I told it again—always adding a little, always making it a little better.

"I don't know how to explain this, but it seemed the yarn was always being told by request. People asked to hear about my experiences and I obliged them."

His wife, gravely dignified and silent, sat on the edge of his bed and Dupre went on in the same quiet voice.

"It began in a very small way, this story. A small lie became a great lie. I don't know how. I can't tell you why I told it. I felt that a story of tremendous self-sacrifice was a means of leading youth — and grown-ups too — to a new insight into what men can be capable of.

"I am truly sorry that I misled Quentin Reynolds and the editors of Readers Digest."

Kidnap-Slayers To Face Jury

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The kidnap-slayers of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease will appear today before a jury which will decide whether they are to die for their crime.

The two, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady and Carl Austin Hall, who have admitted they killed him and buried his body in a grave they had prepared earlier in St. Joseph, Mo., will be brought into U.S. district court. It will be an advisory trial. Its sole purpose will be to present the case so that the jury can decide whether to recommend death.

As a precedent, government and defence attorneys have a parallel case in John Henry Seadlund, the Minnesota lumberjack who kidnapped and killed Charles S. Ross of Chicago in 1937.

Seadlund pleaded guilty, but under the Lindbergh Law, life was the maximum penalty the judge could give. A jury heard the evidence and then recommended the death penalty.

Among witnesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Greenlease, parents of the boy; a nun from the Notre Dame de Sion Institute, a private school from which the boy was lured; the woman who sold Hall the spade with which he dug the grave for the victim at St. Joseph, Mo., and the florist who sold him potted plants to disguise the grave as a flower garden.

Hooded Men Rob Coast Man

VICTORIA (CP) — Two young men, their faces covered with white hoods, today brutally assaulted and robbed Harry James, 58, at his Esquimalt home.

He was robbed of his wallet containing a $10 gold coin, two $5 gold coins and a small amount of change. The gold coins were souvenirs his father had given him.

Canadian Friendship Must Be Kept Say Leading New York Newspapers

NEW YORK (CP)—President Eisenhower's visit to Ottawa is the occasion for editorial comment by New York newspapers on Canadian-American relations, with the emphasis on current problems jointly facing the two countries.

The New York Times Saturday said "It would be wrong to feel in the slightest degree proprietary or complacent about Canadian-American relations.

"Our ties to Canada are now so close and so friendly that we can afford such luxuries as the quarrels that are taking place over American tariffs and import quotas on Canadian goods. At the same time we have to keep in mind that our links are too important to allow such disputes to go too far."

NO ANTI-CANADIANISM

The Times says that while "There is no such thing as anti-Canadianism on this side of the border . . . there is such a thing as anti-Americanism on the Canadian side—although fortunately little of it and that little unimportant."

The Herald Tribune says that to keep the traditional Canadian-American association intact "may be considered a primary duty of American statecraft—and one which no administration in Washington can ever take for granted."

Friday the World-Telegram and Sun said Eisenhower's visit comes "at a time when our mutual interests need the kind of re-emphasis such an occasion provides."

"Any people who live next door to a nation with 19 times its population are bound to have moments of uneasiness. Fortunately, Canada's extraordinary growth and progress in recent years have given its people a pride and a confidence in their future that has disposed of most of their old fears of the 'Yankee Colossus.'"

12 IRON LUNGS OFF TO EDMONTON

The C-119 planes, under the command of RCAF Flt. Lt. Walter Birchnall, are scheduled to arrive in Edmonton early today after a fuel stop Sunday night in Montreal.

IWA Officials To Meet Cabinet

VANCOUVER (CP) — Policy committee of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO) met Saturday to draw up recommendations to be handed to Premier W. A. C. Bennett for settling the crippling strike of 5000 woodworkers in the north and central interior.

IWA officials will meet with the premier and cabinet members in Victoria Tuesday in a resumption of their talks on the interior situations.

Meanwhile, the interior strike scene was quiet with pickets manning lines around some 80 mills as the operators and union dig in for a long fight over wage differences.

ANNOUNCE PRICE CUTS

LONDON (AP) — The Polish government Saturday night announced sweeping price cuts in food and some consumer goods "to increase the purchasing power of the population." The Warsaw radio broadcast announcing the decree said food prices would be reduced 10 to 15 per cent.

Oil Workers To Vote Wednesday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Some 200 members of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) employed by the Shell Oil Company at Vancouver will mark ballots Wednesday in a government-supervised strike vote. The vote was granted after the company rejected a conciliation board majority award recommending a 5½ per cent wage increase.

A second unit of the Oil Workers' Union comprising 80 workers at the Standard Oil's Stanovan Refinery in Vancouver, have also applied for a strike vote following a breakdown of wage negotiations. A conciliation board majority report recommended a three cent an hour increase.

A conciliation board has ended hearings between the union and British American Oil Company but has not yet released a report. A conciliation officer has been requested by the union's Imperial and Home Oil locals.

4 VIOLENT DEATHS REPORTED IN B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police in British Columbia reported four violent deaths during the week-end, all in the greater Vancouver area.

Maynard McPhee, 66, missing since Oct. 19, was found drowned in English bay; Howard Perry was found dead in a west end room, victim of domestic gas; Gordon Brooks, 59, was drowned when he fell from a gangplank in the downtown dock area, and the body of an unidentified man was taken from the Fraser river at outlying Richmond.

Ike, Mamie Win Canadian Hearts

OTTAWA (CP) — "State visit?"

That's what the official announcements had said. Some reporters preferred to refer to it as a "goodwill visit;" to others, it was a "courtesy call."

But when President Eisenhower and Mamie left for Washington in their special train early Sunday few in the friendly crowd of some 1000 well-wishers gathered at Ottawa's Union Station were thinking in terms of the visit's official significance.

A loud cheer greeted the two, wearing evening clothes, as they made their way past RCAF and Canadian Army "liners" to their waiting train.

Then, when the President and Mrs. Eisenhower disappeared momentarily into their special armored car, the crowd yelled: "We want Ike."

When the president appeared, alone, they shouted "We want Mamie."

Soon, President and Mrs. Eisenhower were smiling and waving on the rear platform of their car. They were joined by Governor-General Massey and Prime Minister St. Laurent.

WANT TO COME BACK

In a brief parting statement, the president said:

"We would like to come back some day. We've had the most wonderful treatment; everyone has been so kind."

Reds To Resume "Explanations"

PANMUNJOM (CP)—After 10 days of stalling, the Communists gave in Sunday and agreed to proceed with questioning balky prisoners—on Indian terms.

In an abrupt switch, the Reds asked for 500 anti-Red North Koreans from compound G-53.

The prisoners were due to appear before the Communist persuasion teams starting at 8 a.m. Sunday.

The talks had been stalled since Nov. 5 over Red demands that 136 Chinese be forced to leave their compounds a second time to hear explanations. The Reds, interviewing at a slow rate, did not get around to talking to the 136 the first time they came out.

REDS GIVE IN

Each day since then the Indian custodial officers had rejected Red demands that the 136 be forced to come out. By agreeing to interview other prisoners, the Reds indicated they were giving in to the Indian stand.

It still is barely possible for the explanations to be completed by the Dec. 23 deadline, but officials here are not optimistic.

ONE KILLED, TWO MISSING IN BLAZE

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP) — One man was killed and two others were missing Sunday in a fire at the YMCA building here. Two men were injured.

The body of Thomas Dunn, 73, of London, Ont., was found on the top floor of the three-storey building after the blaze was brought under control.

Taken to hospital for treatment were Percy Woods, 48, and Oliver H. C. Webb, 63. Their condition was described as satisfactory.

The missing men were identified as G. Russell Grimmon, about 65, of Port Stanley, Ont., and W. Attaman.

More than 30 other persons escaped, clad in pyjamas or underwear.

Flood Waters Cover Coast Districts

COURTENAY, B.C. (CP) — Fifteen families have evacuated their homes and others prepared to leave as flood waters covered low-lying areas of Courtenay, Campbell River and Port Alberni.

Following days of torrential rain, the Campbell, Courtenay and Tsolum rivers gushed over their banks Friday, swirling waters four feet deep into homes and business blocks.

Highways are flooded in many sections, and farmlands inundated.

Families evacuated from their flood homes have been housed in a creamery and a parish hall at Courtenay.

Military Court To Try Mossadegh

TEHRAN (Reuters — An Iranian military court Sunday declared itself competent to try ex-premier Mossadegh on charges of trying to depose Shah Reza Pahlevi.

The court which made its decision after hearing week-long arguments by wily, weeping Mossadegh, now will hear the case against him. Date of the trial has not yet been announced.

Demands Rest of Free Zone A in Compromise

By ALEX SINGLETON

BELGRADE (AP) — President Tito offered Sunday to surrender Yugoslavia's claim upon the strategic Adriatic port city of Trieste provided his country is allowed to annex the rest of the free territory of Trieste zone A.

His surprise proposal was advanced as a compromise solution to a violent dispute between Yugoslavia and Italy which arose a month ago when Britain and the United States announced a decision to pull their troops out of zone A and turn the entire area, including the port, over to Italy.

Tito declared his proposal is the only basis on which Yugoslavia will consider taking part in a conference with Britain, France, the United States and Italy on the violent Trieste dispute.

He hinted such a conference has already been arranged.

His suggestion constituted a substantial modification of a proposal he advanced Oct. 10 which called for creation of two autonomous areas, internationalizing the port city under Italian sovereignty with the balance of zone A being placed under Yugoslav control.

This previous proposal met with scant approval from Italian Premier Giuseppe Pella's government, partly at least on the grounds that some sort of corridor would have to be created through Yugoslav territory to give Italy access to the port. Presumably, the same objections will be raised against Tito's new move.

Tito addressed a crowd estimated at 240,000 in downtown Belgrade as the climax to a country-wide parliamentary election campaign in advance of balloting next Sunday.

"Yugoslavia will not go to war for Trieste," he said at one point—a remark which created some bewilderment here until deputy foreign secretary Ales Bebler explained Tito meant just the port city, not all of zone A . . .

"A RIGHT TO IT"

"The majority of the population of the port of Trieste is Italian. We know that we cannot get it. But we are firmly asking for zone A because that is our land, we have a right to it and we will not yield on that point."

In substance he was suggesting a division of zone A into two parts —one to include the port, the other the surrounding countryside made up chiefly of rocky, hilly farmlands and vineyards populated by settlers of Yugoslav-Slovene origin.

The entire free territory of Trieste comprises 285 square miles at the head of the Adriatic sea, and has a population of 375,000.

UN Deals With Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Krishna Menon of India stalled off a vote Saturday in the UN political committee on widely different proposals about how to tackle the problem of disarmament. He said he would try to get some unanimity during the weekend. Delegates held little hope he would succeed.

At the same time, diplomats reported Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky was working behind the scenes to smooth over the uncompromising speech he made to the political commitee Friday. He was absent Saturday and Soviet delegate Jacob Malik took a somewhat calmer tone in the debate.

These diplomats said if the committee had voted Friday everyone except the Red bloc would have voted against Vishinsky's arms proposals. They added that he wants to get some countries at least to abstain if they do not support his view.

The committee is expected to approve by a big vote a 14-nation resolution suggesting procedures for future work on the topic of disarmament. Canada is among sponsors of the resolution which includes a call for the disarmament commission to consider the possibility of private talks by the big powers under the commission's sponsorship.

EIGHT BOX-CARS GO UP IN FLAMES

LETHBRIDGE (CP) — Wind-fanned flames swept through a string of CPR box-cars and part of the stockyards at Lethbridge Sunday, causing damage estimated at $100,000.

Every piece of fire equipment available in the city was rushed to the scene, when the four-alarm blaze broke out about 3:30 p.m. MST.

Although hampered by a 50- to 60-mile an hour wind, firemen managed to prevent flames from reaching a pen containing 200 head of cattle.

The blaze was under control in about one hour.

Eight box-cars and a vacant portion of the stock-yards were demolished by flames which spread swiftly as a result of the gusty wind.

CPR workmen detached the burning cars from the rest of the string, avoiding greater damage.

It is believed the fire started in a boxcar where some men were working with branding irons.

U. S. Arms Pact With Pakistan Could Have Far-Reaching Effects

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru served notice on the United States and Pakistan Sunday that any military pact between them would "have some very far-reaching consequences in the whole structure of things in South Asia."

Nehru, who stated earlier that India would consider U.S. military aid to Pakistan an unfriendly act, discussed at a press conference reports from abroad that the United States is considering arms aid for Pakistan in return for bases. The prime minister expressed surprise that "this major development should take place in the way it apparently is taking place."

Asked about U.S. arms aid for Pakistan, he said:

"It is a matter of most intense concern to us. Pakistan can have bases, foreign armies, and anything it likes. It is open to it to give up its independence if it likes or limit it, but we are concerned with the consequences of these actions and watching developments with the greatest care."

British informants in London said Wednesday the United States and Pakistan are negotiating on the bases.

In Washington, however, officials said last week that while defence of the entire Middle East was getting top-level consideration, no negotiations with Pakistan actually are under way.

Turning to the Korean situation, Nehru remarked that if a Korean peace conference is not held, the neutral commission headed by India must let the UN and Communist commands in Korea decide for themselves what to do with unrepatriated war prisoners.

A walking stick?

No. The stick comes apart, another thinner one comes out, it all screws together, and ergo—a pool or billiard cue.

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. James P. Huffman claim their black cat, Delilah, travelled more than 1500 miles all alone to return to its Fresno home after being lost in Tulsa, Okla.

They said Delilah, a male, jumped out of the family car in Tulsa Sept. 25 and returned here exhausted 47 days later.

They added the cat, whose identity was confirmed in their minds by faint bald spots above its eyes, has slept soundly for two nights and a day since its homecoming.

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A youngster of 81, Dio Chalmers Fleming, pedals his bike to classes at Bradley University.

Fleming, who retired from business 17 years ago, says he took it easy for a few years, but got tired of inactivity.

"I started taking setting up exercises at the YMCA," he recalled. "And every day since 1941 I've been taking long rides on my bicycle. I seldom cover less than 80 blocks. I use the bike to go to school."

Fleming, a graduate of Oberlin College, has also studied at Illinois Normal University and Colorado State. He is currently boning for a master's degree in psychology at Bradley.

Celgar, IWA Talk Contract

CRANBROOK — At request of Celgar Development Company, operators of Waldie Lumber Company at Castlegar and Big Bend Lumber Company at Nakusp, International Woodworkers of America bargaining committee met with company officials at Nakusp Saturday to discuss renewal terms of their contract which expired August 31, according to IWA business manager Vic Mauro.

Both operations have been closed by the strike since October 23. Scaled down renewal terms of six cents increase, 40-hour week and compulsory dues checkoff were presented by the union in this reopening of negotiations, and adjourniment left the way open for continuation. Celgar is an affiliate of the Interior Lumber Manufacturers Association with whom the IWA is in dispute over the new contract. In the other woods contract dispute between ILMA and Woodworkers Industrial Union of Canada, who have not yet taken strike action, negotiations were resumed here Thursday and adjourned for a week.

Nelsonites Lead Lumber Grading Classes

Receive Gold Cups For Highest Marks Throughout Interior

Awards for marks obtained in lumber grading classes of 1952-53 conducted by Interior Lumber Manufacturers Association have been captured by two Nelson men.

Warren Hardy won the award for first-year students and Fritz Rose the award for second-year students. Mr. Hardy is a shipper for Kootenay Forest Products Ltd. at Nelson and Mr. Rose is now with a hardware store in Nelson, having had to leave Kootenay Forest Products because of health reasons.

Presentations of gold cups were made by E. L. Vance, a director of the association and vice-president and sales manager of Kootenay Forest Products. He explained that the Interior Lumber Manufacturers' Association had put up the cups for first and second year students for annual competition. Token cups were also being given to the winners to retain permanently.

He said Mr. Hardy and Mr. Rose had been outstanding in their marks, both in theory and practical work, among students numbering about 275 throughout the Interior.

TO STANDARDIZE

Mr. Vance was introduced by W. F. C. Clark, educational director for the association, who explained that object of the classes in lumber grading and mathematics was to standardize products of the industry.

In making the presentations, Mr. Vance said the lumber manufacturers saw the need of competent grading as important. The lumber must be "on grade" when being sold and from the time it entered the mill as a log, the aim was "to get every piece of select or clear we can" and also to see that it was shipped properly.

It was necessary always to remember that "we are manufacturers". The association was trying "to school us in ways of getting better lumber from logs."

Men attending the classes became of more value to their companies, a point he felt could not be stressed too much.

First classes, organized by Mr. Clark, were held in the 1951-52 period and they had grown from six to nine; enrollment from 150 to 300. A total of 54 is enrolled in the 1953-54 year's class in Nelson.

LI'L ABNER AND 300 STUDENTS GO TO DANCE

The girls had the pick of the boys Friday night. They issued the invitations, bought them corsages, escorted them to the dance and finally saw them safely to their doors as Sadie Hawkins spirit held sway at the annual High school co-ed dance.

Of course the corsages were made of candy, vegetables and steel wool but the dances and prizes made up for that. For the master of the "Kick-A-Poo Joy Juice Dance, the "Dog Patch Jump," "Skunk Hollow Fox Trot" and "Li'l Abner Waltz" there were corn cob pipes, gum drops, teddy bears and a ball.

About 300 students attended the dance sponsored by the Junior Red Cross.

Sadie Hawkins day murals and autumn hued streamers decorated the High school gymnasium. In the center of the dance floor stood a house decorated with a crescent moon and "one hour parking" sign.

Jean Stringer and Jerry Stevens were masters of ceremonies. Miss Stringer is president of the Junior Red Cross.

A jitterbug contest, judged by Sylvia Shorthouse and Lorne Loomer, was won by Reni Masi and Thersa McEachren.

Refreshments of pop, doughnuts and chocolate bars were sold.

LPS PROTEST GUIANA ACTION

The Labor-Progressive Party at its monthly meeting in Nelson heard a report of the recent national committee meeting in Toronto. The main point of the report was "the new plan to stop the oncoming depression." In view of "definite signs of depression" in West Kootenay, with unemployment reaching a dangerous stage, the area committee discussed various ways in which this could be combatted.

A resolution was passed asking members of parliament to seek government action protesting Britain's "flagrant overthrow of the democratically elected government of British Guiana." It was claimed in the resolution that this action by Britain was brought about when the Guiana government attempted to pass legislation making trade unions compulsory, and the powerful foreign capitalists therefore called on Britain to interfere.

A second resolution to Attorney-General Bonner was passed protesting the "Police State" action of the RCMP in their handling of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, which was in direct contradiction to the basic right of "innocent until proven guilty." The resolution pointed out that "the newly elected Social Credit government must take full responsibility in this case."

St. Joseph's To Unveil Memorial

Wednesday afternoon will see the students of St. Joseph's High School in Nelson complete a project which was started by the graduating class of 1953, when they assemble in the main hall of the school with friends for the unveiling of a memorial dedicated to the boys from St. Joseph's High School who gave their lives in the Second World War.

Mimi Sturgeon will head a committee for arrangements of speakers and student participation. Marlis Falkner, student boy president, will preside at the ceremony.

The memorial consists of two pieces, a mahogany plaque with engraving of names, a prayer and a dedication on silver shields and a large frame enclosing the boys' portraits and brief life sketches. St. Joseph's graduates and classmates have shown much interest in this project, and have contributed generously towards the erection of the plague.

Boys listed on the memorial are Robert Main, class of 1936; Michael Prestley, class of 1941; James Eccles, class of 1941, and John Kubin, class of 1943.

Materialism Versus Christianity Studied

The bankruptcy of materialism, as contrasted with the healing power of pure Christianity, was brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Lesson title was "Mortals and Immortals." The Bible passages included the following words of Christ Jesus:

"He that is of God heareth God's words."—(John 8: 47).

From "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following was read:

"Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, — in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

Rollicking Comedy Nears Last Rehearsals For Little Theatre

Rehearsals of "See How They Run," by British author Philip King, are in the final stages. Suitable suits for the male characters have been ordered. Posters by the Nelson Art Club members are brightening Baker Street and outside points.

This rollicking comedy is popular in Britain where it is frequently played by repertory companies and amateur clubs. On this side of the Atlantic it had a long New York run and is recommended to Little Theatre groups in Canada as a drawing attraction. A short time ago it was produced in Seattle.

The action takes place in an English vicarage in 1950. New scenery has been prepared and painted by the Nelson Art Club.

The cast is as follows: Ida, Bunty Rutherglen; Miss Skillion, Pauline Niven; the Rev. Lionel Toop, John Gleeson; Penelope Toop, Evelyn Ford; Clive, John Norris; the Bishop of Lax, John Applewhaite; the Rev. Arthur Humphreys, F. H. W. Chanter; the Sergeant, H. C. Carne; director, E. Musgrove.

Evelyn Ford and E. Musgrove are former professionals. Mrs. Ford was on the English stage for five years before her marriage; Mr. Musgrove had 14 years' experience on the British stage and BBC, Canada and the United States.

77 NHA Loans To Trail; 51 To Rest Of District

TRAIL — West Kootenay homebuilders to date in 1953 have obtained 128 National Housing Act loans. Of these 77 are in Trail and nine in Nelson.

Distribution of loans is as follows: Montrose 20, Warfield nine, Rossland three, Nelson nine, Kinnaird five, Fruitvale two, Genelle two, Beaver Falls one, Trail 77.

Of the 128 loans approved by Central Mortgage and Housing, 60.1 per cent are in Trail.

Maximum loan available, except for defence workers, is 80 per cent of the establishing lending value which approximates close to cost price.

Certified employees of a company named by the minister of defence may receive a 90 per cent maximum. Both the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd. and the West Kootenay Power and Light Co. Ltd. have been certified as defence production plants.

New housing legislation proposed by the federal government will likely lower the required down payment to 10 per cent.

Denver Legion Seeking Valley Repeater Station

NEW DENVER—New Denver Canadian Legion is joining with other Slocan Valley organizations seeking to have a CBC repeater station built in the Valley.

At a Legion meeting a two-man committee was formed to draw up a resolution to be presented at the next meeting urging a repeater station be built. A. R. McGorman and W. Thring form the committee.

The organization has also taken action on the War Veterans Allowance Act, sending H. W. Herridge, MP for West Kootenay, a wire urging him to do all in his power to have the "permissive income" of war veterans brought into line with the present cost of living.

L. R. Campbell presided in the absence of president J. L. Irwin.

William Andrews of Rosebery was welcomed as a new member and transfer of A. R. McGorman from Nelson Branch No. 51 was approved.

Poppy campaign report was given by W. Thring showing a favorable profit in sales although they decreased from last year's sales.

It was decided to hold the annual turkey shoot November 29. A. R. McGorman, P. McCrory and W. Thring will be in charge. Ladies' Auxiliary agreed to serve coffee.

A. R. McGorman gave a report on the West Kootenay zone meeting held in Nelson October 17 and 18.

A $10 donation was voted the Ladies' Auxiliary for their Christmas Tree fund.

Members decided to put a notice on the bulletin board advising any unemployed veteran desiring temporary employment to put his name in with L. R. Campbell.

The Branch will be hosts to the Ladies' Auxiliary at the next meeting.

POSSIBLE SITE FOR GOV'T OFFICE CHOSEN

CRANBROOK — Selection of a site for the new provincial government office building to be built here, appears to have reached final stages after a number of complications. Plans for constructing the building were announced this spring.

The city requested the present government building, which blocks the east end of Baker Street, be demolished and the new building be constructed elsewhere. The department of public works left the community to decide the new location providing it conformed with a reasonable budget.

To be recommended is a parcel of land on the east side of Eleventh Avenue opposite Rotary Park. This belongs to the East Kootenay Scandinavian Brotherhood who agreed to trade it for lots created along Baker Street with demolition of the present building.

Property owners, including two churches in that area, objected to operation of a lodge hall in their neighborhood. At the city's suggestion the Brotherhood agreed to trade its Eleventh Avenue lots for four lots owned by the public works department and opposite their present office and garages east of the government building on Baker Street, which would be suitable for their lodge hall.

W. T. Waldie Returned To Kiwanis Office

CASTLEGAR—Castlegar Kiwanis Club held its annual election of officers and said farewell to a charter member at their weekly dinner meeting.

W. T. Waldie was re-elected president of the club for another term and Ken Sharples was re-elected vice-president. Elected vice-president also was Mike Dalton while Tony Kiessling was voted in as treasurer.

Directors elected were Bill Sharples, Gus Leiner, Mickey Moran, Cyril Bell, Bob Waldie, Eddy Frederickson and Ralph Kerr.

A farewell remembrance was presented by Cliff Wanless on behalf of the club to Earl Stanford who has left Castlegar to take up employment in the bakery department of a Spokane department store.

In accepting the gift, an electric toaster, Mr. Stanford expressed regret at leaving Castlegar.

Cyril Bell recalled that Earl was one of the first members of Castlegar Kiwanis Club and their first secretary, a job he discharged faithfully until leaving. He has also been one of the club's most sincere and tireless workers.

"We're very sorry to see you go," Mr. Bell told Mr. Stanford, "but at the same time, we sincerely wish you every success."

Guests at the meeting were Dave Duncan of Nakusp and Axel Brandstrom and Charles Dunham of Celgar Development Company.

Okanagan Road Planners Seek Grand Forks-Greenwood Trade

PENTICTON — Penticton Board of Trade hopes to attract Grand Forks and Greenwood trade with a highway up the east shores of Okanagan Lake.

The board has launched a campaign to have the government build a highway connecting Penticton with Carmi, near Kelowna.

The road would also ease congestion on the present West Bank highway.

Mayor W. A. Rathburn strongly supported the Board of Trade plan. "All organizations should get on the bandwagon to get an east side road to Kelowna," he said.

"It will be a good thing for Penticton and I believe we'll get support from centres north of us."

The Board of Trade action asks the government to make an immediate survey of the east bank of the lake, connecting Penticton with Carmi.

The scheme follows closely on the Kelowna Truckers' Association demand for westside bypass highway to route heavy traffic around Penticton to avoid congestion in the busy downtown streets.

An east bank highway with a bypass at Penticton for heavy traffic would obviate the need for this plan, several board members pointed out.

Curlers Plan Season With Artificial Ice

FERNIE—Fernie Curling Club has submitted to City Council for consideration its tentative plans for the coming season.

The club is offering to pay the city a flat rental of $400 a month for curling facilities in Fernie Arena. In addition the curling club will engage its own icemaker and caretaker. The club assured council it wished to assume its fair share of costs for artificial ice operation. It suggested engineers of the John Inglis Co., which is installing the artificial ice equipment, be asked to prepare estimates and suggest a fair division of costs between skating and curling sections of the arena.

The curling club also requested curling rink lighting be placed on a separate meter.

Curling plans of the club will give every interested person in the district an opportunity to play. Tentative schedule is: Men's league, four nights a week; Ladies league, one night and two or more afternoons as required; High school league, Saturday mornings; Miner's league and others unable to play during the week, Saturday afternoons; Mixed league, Saturday and Sunday evenings; Delayed and pick-up games, Sunday morning and afternoon to 4 p.m.

The proposed schedule of fees is set at: Men $25, ladies' $10; students $3, Saturday afternoon curlers $8. City Council tabled the proposal to a later meeting due to absence of three aldermen.

"Custom-made" Coffee New Breakfast Vogue

Marvellous 100% Real Coffee Made "Strong, Medium or Mild" Right in the Cup

At breakfast you could always get your toast light or dark—your bacon medium or well-done—your eggs, 2, 3 or 4-minute boiled. But your coffee? Well, you just got coffee!

The coffee might be too strong for you—it tasted bitter. Or too mild for you—it tasted weak. But if you were in the minority—too bad! After all, one pot of coffee can't satisfy everybody's taste.

But then came the revolution—the "Coffee Revolution"! Now the most forgotten "little man" can get just the cup of coffee he likes! Seriously, though, it's the women who make the coffee who brought on the revolution! It was they who discovered the wonderful new Instant Chase & Sanborn, and started serving it for breakfast.

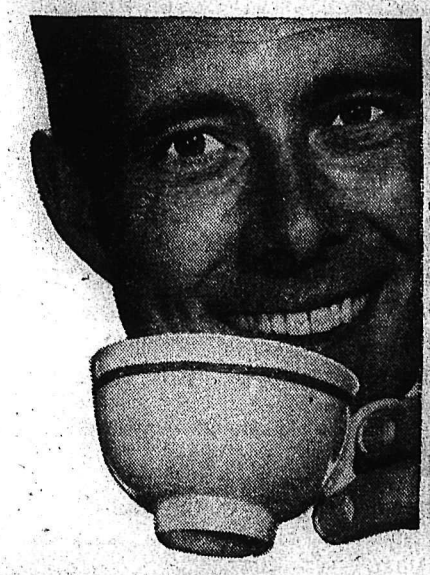
First of all, here's 100% real coffee that really tastes like it. Chase & Sanborn scientists saw to that! They took on the job of producing an "instant" worthy of Chase & Sanborn's 100-year-old coffee reputation. They never relaxed till they had succeeded in extracting from the finest coffee beans the color and texture—the rich robust flavor and aroma of freshly ground coffee.

Next, housewives decided that this definitely superior "instant" plainly belongs whenever and wherever coffee is served. And then, everybody caught on to the other important benefit. Cups of Instant Chase & Sanborn can be "custom-made" to each person's taste. Goodbye to the old one-pot handicap!

Farewell to Grounds

For the housewife, Instant Chase & Sanborn means the end of that doleful after-meal chore of scouring a stained coffee pot and disposing of coffee grounds. Here is the modern, dainty, trouble-free way of serving fine coffee.

Budgeteers are excited about the savings on Instant Chase & Sanborn too. The regular size jar makes about the same number of cups as a pound of regular ground coffee. Yet it sells up to 40¢ less than a pound of regular coffee.



THIS REALLY IS MY COFFEE!

New Instant Chase & Sanborn is 100% real coffee—and tastes like it. Rousing, rich-flavored coffee—ready with its magical lift the moment you add the hot water.

It's your kind of coffee—made by people with nearly 100 years of coffee experience.

One sip and you'll agree—it's so good you'll make it your regular coffee!

Now!..the Flavor and Aroma of Freshly Ground Coffee Instantly!

HOSPITAL DISTRICT
QUESTIONS We Are Asked

Q. The City of Trail put a second money by-law to property owners for hospital construction purposes. Will this happen here?

A. The estimates given to the Trail Hospital Board were, apparently considerably less than the lowest contract they were able to secure. A supplementary by-law was necessary to make up this deficiency. Careful checking of estimates and comparison with building costs elsewhere will, it is hoped, avoid such procedure here.

Q. Will the new District hospital in Nelson benefit from federal grants to the full amount of $1000 per bed? Such, apparently, will not be the case in Trail?

A. Yes, when a hospital has been condemned by the provincial fire marshal, as has Kootenay Lake General Hospital, then the full grant of $1000 per bed is allowed on the total number of new beds constructed. The Hospital District Organizing Committee has received confirmation of this from Ottawa, Department of Health and Welfare.

Dredging on Elk River Sought To Remove Fernie Flood Hazard

FERNIE—Mayor Thomas Uphill will apply immediately to the Provincial Department of Public Works for dredging of 1000 feet of the Elk River to remove a flood hazard in the Fernie annex area, it was decided at a city council meeting here.

The mayor will ask the river be dredged below the old Fairy Creek bridge thus diverting it into its old channel at the foot of Fernie Mountain, removing any flood danger to the new housing project.

Entire Fernie council was named to the court of revision for the assessment roll during the meeting. The court will meet in February.

A request by Fernie Chamber of Commerce to consider changing street names to numbers was discussed. Council decided a month ago to paint street and avenue names on poles at all intersections except in the business section. As materials for this work have already been ordered council felt change of street names to numbers could not be made at this time.

Public works committee reported it has already instituted plans for pointing in crosswalk lines at several points in the city. One intersection is one at the school on the corner of Thompson Street and Victoria Avenue where Fernie Chamber of Commerce requested such lines be placed.

The city will move present fencing and construct additional fencing required to enclose the extension of the Legion burial plot in St. Margaret's cemetery.

Lots 9 and 10 of Block 18 in the business section of the city was sold to Ross Colgur who plans to build a commercial building on the land.

The October police report was accepted. No major crime was reported. The East Kootenay Health Unit report was accepted.

City clerk was instructed to advertise for a caretaker for the arena. Aldermen James Cameron and Joe Haile were named to drew up the advertisement and outline the particulars and duties of the position.

Public works committee and the city engineer were authorized to take necessary steps to encourage use of a free city truck parking lot near the Fernie Arena. The lot was constructed a half block off No. 3 Highway for the convenience of truckers wishing to make stops in the city.

PEPPY WAY TO START THE DAY when you wake up L-O-G-Y

If you often feel "logy" on getting up—if tired, sluggish feelings drag you down all through the day—an inactive liver with resulting habitual constipation may be the cause. Millions of people who suffer this way find that Kruschen Salts help bring relief from these symptoms. The reason Kruschen is so widely recommended is because it contains active principles similar to those of world-famous Mineral Springs. Kruschen acts two ways—laxative and diuretic. It promotes healthy action of the bowels and the kidneys. You just take a little Kruschen in hot water or your morning beverage, when needed. Try it and you'll rely on it—as so many do—to help you to new pep and zest, by aiding healthy, natural elimination of the body wastes through bowels and kidneys.

Cost of Living Up Though Farmers' Returns, Freight Rates Down

That the cost of living index should have risen another half point, or from 116.2 to 116.7, during September is disquieting, especially as this is the fifth month in a row the trend has been up. The index now is at the highest level in 16 months.

Higher food prices is one factor, the food index being up 1.5 points over August. It is disturbing this increase in retail food prices is occurring though farmers are getting less, not more, for their products. The farm price index actually dropped 1.7 points during the month, which means a widening by 3.2 points between what the farmer received and the consumer paid.

Farmers, as well as consumers, would like an answer to this mystery. The increasing margin between farm and retail prices is detrimental to both groups. Somebody in between is pocketing the difference. This decrease in prices paid the farmer is not peculiar to September only. There has been a drop of 22.4 points in farm prices in the past year, without consumers being allowed to get equivalent benefit. In addition, freight rates, always blamed for such discrepancies, have also come down.

This Month

November is often regarded as a grim month, grey and drab. It has little of October's glories, and little of December's traditional charms. Robert Burns used to speak of himself as feeling "Novemberish" whenever he was in a mood of "fretfulness and melancholy".

Yet there are beauties in November too. There are more delicate colorings to field and forest, if the eye dwells upon them. The grace of leafless trees has a classic cleanness unknown in summer.

Perhaps November in Canada comes as a grey aftermath to an excitingly brilliant October. Yet Canadian poets have found in this month much of mature and softened beauty. Bliss Carman wrote:

The valley lies in late November now,
Flooded with purple twilight, warm as wine.
Northward the woods lie far and wide outspread
In their wild peace, their grey austerity,
Bathed in the ash of autumn's passing glow—
The mellow consolation of the year,
More mythical than all of summer's pride.

Your Horoscope

During your next year you may find older friends most helpful if you need assistance. Better avoid extremes, and when you entertain do so hospitably, but not extravagantly. While the child born today may meet with some difficulties in life, an optimistic and courageous nature should be able to surmount them.

Sees Irrigation, Woods Protection In Small Dams Plan

To the Editor:

Sir—A storage dam on Bull River would aid Creston flood control; but it certainly "would not permit passage of waters of the upper Kootenay directly into Columbia Lake through Canal Flats," which the Spokane reporter quoted Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton as having stated in his address to the Pacific Northwest Trade Association last Monday.

Those who know Gen. McNaughton, who undoubtedly is an expert fact finding engineer—and who know the mountain and valley terrain of East Kootenay—will certainly not believe that Gen. McNaughton made such a statement.

Of course a storage dam on Bull River, which flows into the Kootenay some 50 or 60 miles down-river from Canal Flats, would aid toward normalizing the Kootenay flow south and around through Creston Flats.

So also would storage dams on Wild Horse Creek, Sheep Creek, White River—as well as Lewis and Tracy and Wolfe Creek—all of the above having their watersheds between Bull River watershed and the Kootenay River at Canal Flats.

On the west side of the Kootenay River, between Canal Flats and the mouth of Bull River, there flow into the Kootenay three sizable streams which with their tributaries are fed by large areas of heavy snowfalls—the St. Mary's, the Skookumchuck and Findlay Rivers. Each of these mountain watersheds are large in both area and snowfalls. Each of the eight sizable streams flowing from both ranges into the Kootenay before it flows into U.S.A. could be dammed in one or more places for both storage, power and irrigation. It is vitally important to the Kootenays, and to Canada, to consider that: (1) for forest protection and maintenance, many high up, small storage intake dams could be installed with even small pipes or other conveyances to furnish water as protection against forest fires, and for irrigation. The cost of this would be much less than the forest fire losses of only a few forest fire years of the past. (2) Six or eight storage and power and irrigation dams and equipment installations could be constructed on the Kootenay tributaries, the Elk and Bull Rivers, Wild Horse, Sheep Creek, White River, the upper Kootenay, Findlay, Skookumchuck, Cherry Creek and St. Mary's River. The lot of these would cost not greatly more or less than the estimate of the Libby dam. The Libby dam, which we hope may yet be built, will not furnish irrigation to the East Kootenay, or domestic water supply, or forest protection.

Anyone who has witnessed and observed for a number of years the flood volume, May to July, of the Kootenay tributaries, and of the storage possibilities, will agree with the above.

200,000 ACRES

Engineer Webb, in his report of his careful survey of East Kootenay resources some years ago, stated that irrigation of possible areas south of Canal Flats to the U.S. boundary could add over 200,000 acres to the profitable farming and ranching development. Also on the Columbia River area north of Canal Flats, with a proper irrigation system, another 100,000 acres could be profitably farmed.

As for "permitting the passage of waters of the upper Kootenay into Columbia Lake"—During the 1916 flood and during other flood years, at times there was danger of—and men were stationed to guard against—the upper Kootenay washing its own short channel from just above Canal Flats into Columbia. In fact, one bulldozer could in a very short time give the channel a good start—and the first upper Kootenay flood would soon make it plenty big.

But there is a lot of water during flood time, flowing into the Kootenay River from the large heavy snow areas east and west, before the Bull River enters into it some 50 miles south—and all down grade.

By means of several storage and power dams on the most suitable of these streams, the Kootenays and Canada as a whole could receive greatly more progressive benefit by storage to normalize the runoff for power throughout the Columbia River system; safeguard the Creston Flats as well as our neighboring Idaho Flats; provide power perhaps equal to or more than the Libby dam at no greater cost; and probably the greatest of all benefits, irrigation for all of the arable land in the East Kootenay area.

Forest protection and maintenance, and irrigation, means increased production and population, and improved market for power.

The Kootenays and British Columbia have need of all these.

Student, Nelson—Will you please supply information regarding the Trusteeship Council in the United Nations?

The administration of Trust Territories is subject to the supervision of the United Nations. Administering authorities are required to render an account of their stewardship to the Trusteeship Council. The Council may entertain petitions from private persons or organizations regarding conditions in the Trust Territories and may despatch regular or special visiting missions to these regions for studying conditions at first hand. The Trusteeship Council as of Jan. 1, 1953, has 12 members, six of them administering authorities. These six are: Australia, Belgium, France, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, and the United States. China and the USSR hold membership by virtue of being permanent members of the Security Council not administering Trust Territories. The four other members are elected for three-year terms by the General Assembly in order to ensure that membership in the Council is equally divided between members which administer Trust Territories and members which do not. These are the Dominican Republic and Thailand, until 1954; and El Salvador and Syria, until 1956.

Save Us the Kilt

Now, dancing officials in Edinburgh are hoping that a new style of kilt with a "very long skirt" will become accepted by Scotsmen in the name of modesty.

This could cause some embarrassment among the Scots. It must come as a shock to a race to realize that they have been "indecently exposed" for several centuries. Even their best friends had neglected to tell them.

So now the kilt as we know it must go, according to its critics, sacrificed to the prudery of those who think the presence of knees should be denied or that they should be heard and not seen or something. No doubt these puritanical souls whisper behind the hand that it is unfortunate we were born with knees, and the least we can do is keep them a deep dark secret, after all everyone has one or two skeletons in the closet.

Surely there is a solution that will prove satisfactory to all parties concerned and still eliminate the necessity of 50,000 Scotsmen lengthening their kilts. Couldn't their stockings be rolled up or made longer to cover these offensive unmentionables? Why not a special little knee pad in sizes small, medium and large?

On the other hand, the rubbing of the kilt on the stocking would surely spoil the wiggle-waggle o' the kilt and what is a kilt without a wiggle-waggle?

No, it seems to me there are only two ways left open for all red-blooded Scotsmen, either to cast modesty to the winds and say they'll wear the kilt the way their fathers, grandfather's and great grandfathers before them wore it, immodest or not, or to look to their knees and recognize them for what they are, be they knobby, bony, pudgy or dimply, nevertheless a necessary leg joint without a scrap of immodesty about them.—M.D.

EXPENSIVE NAME

Turnips at Ayr, Ont., are selling for 35 cents a bushel, and dressed up under the name of rutabagas they are selling seven cents a pound in the States, around $3.50 a bushel. It is a nice trick when they can get away with it; does the name make the turnip taste or cook better?—St. Catharines Standard.

From an Oldtimer's Notebook

By R. G. JOY

Historian, Nelson and District Oldtimers Association

The old-timers thought the following would interest our readers. They are reminiscences of P. Mills, one-time Nelson resident, entitled "Country dances and sleigh rides of school and of 1870." These stories were of Mankato, Minn., U.S.A. You will note that most of the names of the people have a familiar ring and are evidently of those who were pioneers of the country beyond the border, south of us.

Riding in the blue-and-white stage-coach drawn by six horses, 14-year-old Zula Bartlet arrived in Mankato on an October day in 1866. By references to her arrival do not conjure in your mind: "October's bright blue weather" celebrated in the poem. Far from it!

Asked if the horses drawing the coach were milk-white steeds like Cinderella's, Mrs. Baker (for she later married James H. Baker who became Minnesota's secretary of state) chuckled and replied they were not all white, although one or two of them might have been.

The reporter, thinking perhaps of Dancer and Prancer and Donner and Blitzen, inquired if she remembered the names of the animals whereupon Mrs. Baker broke into a hearty laugh. I don't remember their names, but I'll never forget some of the names that driver called them.

Mrs. Baker, who is a member of the Blue Earth County Territorial Pioneers, described her trip for the Pioneer Press at the recent annual picnic of the pioneers in Sibley Park, Mankato. She will celebrate her 81st birthday anniversary Nov. 10.

"It had been a rainy, disagreeable fall," she said, "and the roads were terribly muddy. My cousin, Samuel Randall, who had previously located in Mankato, made the trip from my home in southern Illinois with me. My family sent me to Minnesota," she explained, "for fear I would die from TB as my father and his sister had done.

END OF RAIL

"They thought that Minnesota had a more healthful climate than Illinois, so Sam and I took the train to Owatonna, which was the end of the railroad, and came the rest of the way by stage-coach. There were 12 passengers inside and eight outside in addition to our trunks and the driver. Four of the passengers were women and one of them had a silk child. The poor little thing was cold and hungry and cried so piteously that I could hear it for weeks afterwards in my dreams.

"The trip took us from noon one day until 11 the next morning, we had not so much as a cracker to eat on the way. Time after time the wheels of the coach sank to their hubs in mud and the men had to thrust poles through them and lift the heavy vehicle out of the mire. On these occasions all passengers had to get out, save the women with the sick child. Four times that night my cousin carried me on his back from the coach to dry ground.

"Besides the driver, most stage coaches used to have a rider who rode and guided one of the lead horses, but this coach only had the driver to get us out of difficulties.

"The horses of the lead team were good stout animals, and the wheelers too were willing to pull, but the middle team was stubborn and it was all the driver could do to get us out of some of the holes we got into. We had only one little lantern that cast a feeble ray of light into the wagon tracks, and seemed only to emphasize the shadows.

INDIANS GONE

"It had been warm and sunny when we set out from home, and my only wrap was a little cape. I was cold and nearly famished when we finally reached Mankato and the stage stopped at the stage barn which stood where the post office building stands now. My cousin's home was on the corner of Fifth and Jackson, but there was no sidewalk then. Jackson was only a cow path. But, thank goodness, the Indians were all gone when I arrived. I am glad that I was not there during the Indian outbreak. The four or five hundred inhabitants there when I came were all white people.

I lived with my cousin and attended the Mankato Normal School, graduating with the class of 1872. I am the oldest graduate of the Normal, living in Mankato. There is one older graduate in Minnesota, one of the members of the first graduation class of 1870, but I am the oldest living in Mankato. The school is now known as the "Mankato Teachers' College."

When I first came here there was a grove where the college now stands and we used to have picnics and hunt wild flowers there. The mosquitoes were the largest I have ever encountered and the fiercest, but it has a favorite spot for picnics.

The Fourth of July was always our most gala occasion. We looked forward to it from one year to the other with great expectancy. We always had a parade, with the statue of Liberty riding on the float and the school children sang and spoke pieces, but the most important number on the program was the reading of the Declaration of Independence. Someone always read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, too. I don't know how we ever sat through so many readings of them! But we took it quite as a matter of fact in those days. Services were long.

Going to church in Mankato in early days, as described by Mrs. Baker, reminds one of the stories of the Pilgrim Fathers. Services were long and there was no fire in the church in the old Presbyterian structure which stood where the Security Flats are now.

"Although I am now a member of the Methodist Church," Mrs. Baker explained, "I went to the Presbyterian Church then because all the girls I knew went there. It was a big building and the women had pasted colored papers on the the windows and made them look like stained glass."

NO FLOWERS

Our minister was very strict and would stand for no foolishness. He was of the old school and had very decided ideas on what was wicked. Do you know he wouldn't even allow a flower in church. I don't know why he stood for the colored paper on the windows but I suppose he was used to stained glass.

I remember one time when some of us girls gathered some violets and other wild flowers in the grove where the Teachers' College now stands, and took them to church on Easter Sunday.

"We arranged them early Easter morning, and thought they looked nice in the bare old church. But when the minister saw them he was furious and going to the nearest window he raised it and threw our bouquet out, cans and all, one after the other. Then he banged down the window and scolded us severely for bringing anything into the church to distract our attention from the service. We never attempted it again."

Mrs. Baker taught Sunday school for more than 10 years, and she always chose the primary pupils for her own, being particularly fond of children. Sleighing parties, dances at the Mills Hotel between Mankato and Garden City, and New Year's calls figured largely in the winter social program of Mankato's younger set in Mrs. Baker's youth. Everyone had bobsleds and strings of sleigh bells. She said "Young men of that day took as much pride in the cutter and a good team of horses as those of today enjoy their roadsters."

Oven-Cooked Meals Make Cooks Popular

By ALICE DENHOFF

It's the time of year for oven-cooked dishes. Spicy, delicious meals send an aromatic invitation through the house, just right as appetites become sharper with the changing season.

PORK PATTIES AND APPLES

Baked pork sausage patties and apples is a hearty, satisfying dish that makes the most of a natural combination.

To serve 6, form into thin patties 2 lbs. pork sausage meat. Peel and slice 6 large apples. Alternate sausage patties and apples in a 2-qt. casserole making top layer of the meat patties. Bake at 350 degrees F., with casserole covered for first 45 min., then remove cover to brown the top layer, and cook about 15 min. more.

A STEAK DISH

For a good steak dish for 6, purchase 2½ lbs. round steak and have it cut in 2 in. thick. Place in a pan and insert slices of a garlic clove into the beef. Cover with a bottle of chili sauce and season with salt and pepper to suit. Slice a Bermuda onion in ¼-in. slices and place on top of meat. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 1 hour.

CROWNED WEINERS

A crown roast is a grand affair but, unfortunately, it is on the expensive side. For a crown roast that isn't a budget-wrecker, try crowning weiners.

Use 24 ordinary weinies, or 12 short ones. Arrange in vertical position around sides of 8-in. casserole. Press stuffing into center of casserole, forming an elegant crown-roast effect. Bake at 375 degrees F. for about 20 minutes. Yield, 8 servings.

To prepare the bran stuffing, combine 12 c. ¼-in. bread cubes and 1 c. all-bran. Saute 3 tbsp. minced onion in ½ c. melted fat, and add to bread. Add 2 tsp. salt, ½ tsp. each pepper and poultry seasoning and 1½ c. water or meat stock, mixing thoroughly.

Love Wins Through Ice, Snow, Engine Trouble

OTTAWA (CP) — A Canadian couple has settled down to domestic life in the relatively-temperate clime of Pangnirtung, Baffin Land, after a wedding 700 miles further north and just 900 miles from the pole.

The marriage of RCMP Constable H. A. Johnston and Rita McDonald, both of Dartmouth, N.S. was performed closer to the pole than any Canadian nuptials in history.

For their honeymoon trip, they had a helicopter flight over the frozen wastes, an icebreaker voyage to a point 200 miles closer to the pole and another one south to their new home.

IN SHIP'S LOUNGE

A bearded Roman Catholic priest —Rev. S. Daniels — married them Aug. 12 in the lounge of the government icebreaker d'Iberville at Craig Harbor, Ellesmere Island, where the constable had been stationed for the last two years.

Miss McDonald had gone north on the d'Iberville, sailing from Montreal July 15 on a supply trip to the Arctic outposts. She was loaded down with heavy clothes and housekeeping effects.

Wilfrid Doucette, Ottawa photographer who went north to record the trip for the transport department, says the course of true love hit a few minor snags before bride and groom finally got to the altar.

First, ice kept the d'Iberville from getting into Pond inlet, 300 miles south of Craig Harbor, to pick up the missionary. The ship's helicopter was sent to take him aboard.

When the ship arrived at Craig Harbor, Constable Johnston set out for it in an outboard motorboat. His engine broke down, and he hauled the boat aboard an ice floe to make repairs.

TRYING MOMENT

From the d'Iberville's deck, the distressed fiancee watched as the floe and the mounties drifted off seaward past the vessel. He repaired the motor though, before rescue was needed.

At the ceremony, the bride was given away by Supt. Henry Larsen, only skipper to navigate the northwest passage in both directions and now commanding officer of the RCMP's Arctic division.

After their brief helicopter honeymoon, the couple sailed north to Twin Glacier, 700 miles from the pole, where the groom put in 10 days helping to build a new RCMP post. Later, he took up a new station at Pangnirtung, just below the Arctic circle.

Constable Johnston is a son of Harold A. Johnston, a former mounties, of Dartmouth. His bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McDonald of Dartmouth.

Balfour Notes

BALFOUR—Mr. and Mrs. M. Wellwood have as their guest Mrs. C. Christenson of Spokane.

Frisky Bloomers Replace Slips

LONDON (Reuters)—A London designer has come up with an accessory to Christian Dior's raised hemline—a new rendition of the garment invented in 1849 by an emancipated American woman, Mrs. Amelia Jenks Bloomer of New York.

London designer Ellerie Fricker believes the old-fashioned bloomer is the coming thing.

If Dior intended to expose more of the female anatomy by raising skirt lengths, it appears that Fricker is bent on covering it up.

THINGS TO BE SAID . . .

But there are things to be said for Fricker's bloomers. They are a far cry from the outfit sported by Mrs. Bloomer more than 100 years ago in her effort to dramatize her woman's rights movement.

1. Mrs. Bloomer's bloomers, patterned after Turkish trousers, were gathered at the ankle. Fricker gathers his just below the knee.

2. The original bloomers were an outer garment. Fricker's versions are entirely for the inner woman, to replaces, he says, petticoats.

3. Mrs. Bloomer's bloomers were utterly lacking in gayety. Fricker's bloomers are frisky.

PRESERVE ELEGANCE

If British women cotton to Fricker's bloomers, they will be able to kick over all the traces and still preserve traditional British elegance.

At a Mayfair showing models wearing Dior skirts put their legs up on fences, kicked high and pulled their skirts up boldly to show Fricker's handiwork.

Some broke out in loud stripes, others threw off Victorian flounces. "Far prettier, neater and more practical than a petticoat," said their creator.

Then he asked the experts:

"Have you ever watched women climbing on and off the double decker buses?"

They said no, of course, they hadn't.

"Do it sometime," he said, "and you'll agree that petticoats are hideous."

FIVE MEMBERS JOIN KLGH AUXILIARY; BRIDGE PLANNED

The wool and blankets and sheeting which were donated by the auxiliary are now in use at the hospital.

QUEEN'S BAY—Alec Attree has returned to his home in Victoria after spending a couple of months visiting his sister and brother, Mrs. J. S. Hirst and K. R. Attree.

The November Guild meeting was held at the home of the Hon. Mrs. Kenneth Aylmer. Mrs. A. Merz was co-hostess. There were two guests, Miss H. M. Rouch of Victoria, and Mrs. W. Merz, who is visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. A. Merz.

Sunshine Bay

SUNSHINE BAY — Mr. and Mrs. A. Yaworski and family have returned after a two weeks' holiday visiting relatives in Saskatchewan. En route they visited Mrs. Yaworski's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lepitzki, in Calgary.

83 Bantams Line Up In Five Puck Teams

Bantam hockey apparently has had the spur it needed; 83 boys turned out to practice Saturday. These were divided into five teams, one of which is the Bantam Reps which will play in the midget league.

This arrangement has brought a change in the bantam hockey schedule. The Bantam Rep team will now take the time formerly allotted to the Pats, Wednesday from 5 to 6.

The midget turnout was only sufficient for two teams. A third midget team will be named on Saturday at open midget practice, it is expected.

Juvenile teams will be chosen from players reporting for practice this Tuesday and Thursday.

Rockets: David Nielson, Don Stevenson, Fred McClelland, Wayne Eckstrom, Charles Morrison, Bob McCandish, Ken Hancock, Dan Lang, Hugh Hooker, Arnlo Sjoberg, Ross Ennis, Bob Anderson, Harry Adcock, Dave Mawer, Harold Chapman, John Thompson, Ted Burns and Warren Ife. Windsor AKO Move To Finals

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — The defending champion Windsor AKO moved into the Canadian junior football finals Saturday on a great running and passing attack that whipped the once-unbeaten Verdun Shamcats 26-11.

The Windsor squad, which swept all nine games during the regular schedule, piled up a 12-0 first-quarter lead and then coasted in convincing fashion to beat the Shamcats in their sudden-death game for the Eastern Canada crown.

Windsor will go west next Saturday for a championship game against Saskatoon Hilltops who downed Vancouver Blue Bombers 50-6 in the western final Saturday.

A hometown crowd of nearly 4000 fans nearly went wild as AKO drove into a 5-0 lead on a 65-yard ground offensive two minutes after the game started. Although the Shamcats were undefeated in their nine league games this season, their line and pass defence was no match for Windsor's attack.

Half Bob Fletcher led the Ontario champions with two touchdowns and three singles. Flying wing Jack Forrest an dend Pete Murphy each went over for a major while half Zeno Karcz boted three converts.

Victorious Bombers Get Royal Welcome

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — Despite the early hour, nearly 2000 persons jammed Stevenson field Sunday as the plane carrying the western champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers taxied onto the runway at 5:13 a.m. CST.

In one of the greatest comebacks in western football history, Bombers captured the WIFU championship Saturday night by downing Edmonton Eskimos 36-24 in the saw-off game at Edmonton.

The huge crowd, which came by car, bus and on foot, was entertained in the waiting rooms—those who could get in—by Marsh Phimister's quintet from the Bomber quarterback club. The Blue Bomberettes also were on hand.

Then the yell went up: "The plane's in."

The band struck up with "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," and "The Blue Bomber Victory March."

First down the ramp came club president Karl Slocomb and Bomber executives, then beaming coach George Trafton and the players.

"WHERE'S JACOBS?"

"Where's Jacobs? . . . where's Casey?" was the chant from the mob.

Jacobs was the big gun at quarterback when Bombers rallied from a 12-point deficit in the fourth quarter. Casey scored the winning touchdown on a 60-yard run after a pass interception and lateral by Davie Skrien.

Only a few fans caught a glimpse of the weary Casey as he skirted the end of the airport buildings and climbed into a waiting car.

Jacobs, however, was trapped by the crowd and sat for sometime signing autographs and accepting congratulations. The big Indian from Oklahoma never once let go of the yellow football tucked under his arm — "a souvenir of the final game."

In another corner, another group was surrounding coach Trafton, who still had a wide grin which seemed to say: "I told you so."

Flyers Down Leafs 5-3; Kimberley Nips Trail 2-1

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The Spokane Flyers skated to a 5-3 Western International League hockey win over the Nelson Maple Leafs Saturday night, despite the fine performance of Nelson goalie Jim Hodges.

Flyers showed superior passing and checking as they built up a 4-1 lead during the first two periods. But early in the third, a dropped pass in front of Spokane goalie Jerry Fodey's net made it easy for Clay Lavell to shoot the puck in, and a moment later things looked even worse for the Flyers as Frank Carlson went off the ice on a holding penalty.

Mickey Maglio scored the final Nelson goal at 12:15 of the third period. But that was the Leafs' last chance as the Flyers stiffened their defences and time ran out.

Summary:

First period — Spokane, Ramsden (Tilson) 6:16; Spokane, Scott (Ramsden) 7:16; Nelson, Barefoot (Haldane, Lowe) 16:06; Spokane, Ramsden (Tilson, Scott) 19:38. Penalty: Luke.

Second Period—Spokane, McNally (Rozzini) 11:15. Penalties: Gare, Toole.

Third period — Nelson, Lavell 5:09; Spokane, Tilson 6:44; Nelson, Maglio (Lavell, McKay) 12:15. Penalties: Carlson, Gare.

KIMBERLEY — It is doubtful that any of the 1500 wild-eyed fans who sat in on Saturday's WIHL contest will ever forget the final minutes of the game. Moe Young yanked goalie Martin and sent six forwards on the attack searching for the equalizer but Becker was red hot and kept the goal hungry Trail Smokies at bay, 2-1.

Earl Becker turned in a brilliant performance in the Dynamiter net as did Sid Martin at the other end of the rink.

Kimberley used their number one line of Buzz Mellor, Buck Kavanagh and Cal Hockley to the limit in holding on to their slim 2-1 margin.

Kavanagh hardly left the ice surface in the final period and was the pick of the Dynamiter forwards along with Coach Norm Larson. Frank Kuzma and Bill McCulley stood out for the Trail Smoke Eaters.

All the scoring was done in the initial period with Trail opening the book at 7:49 with McCulley, the lamp lighter. Buzz Mellor was in the penalty box at the time when Rypien caught the Kimberley defence flatfooted and passed the puck to McCulley who drilled in Trail's only goal. Becker rose to great heights by robbing Bearshaw and Rypien on clear breakaway.

Red Mellor engineered the plays for the tying marker at 16:38. He carried the puck over the Trail blueline, stopped and waited for his teammates to take their positions and passed the puck over to Tatchell who in turn rifled one at the net. Andy Port who was parked right on Martin's doorstep tipped the puck into the cage. It was young Port's first goal in senior company.

A tripping penalty by Bearshaw paved the way for Kimberley's second goal with Mellor the marksman. Kavanagh gave Mellor the puck at the blueline and the clever Kimberley centre iceman put on a wonderful display of stick handling before he blazed in the winning goal.

Trail held a wide margin of the territorial way in the middle frame and only the great job of goal tending by Becker kept them from charging ahead.

McCulley trapped the entire Kimberley team inside the Trail blueline and sailed up the ice alone, but only to have Becker boot out his high drive. Seconds later Andy Port was home free on Martin with the Trail rookie custodian outguessing him. Martin was slightly hurt early in the third stanza when he went flying into the net and hit his head against the goal post. He returned to action after a ten minute delay.

Kimberley failed to score when they had a two minute advantage with Buzz Mellor passing up the best scoring opportunity. With time running out Coach Young sent six forwards to the goal hunt and they gave Becker and company many exciting moments. Frankie Turik stopped the puck from entering the empty net just seconds before the siren sounded to end the game.

Referees Laypon and Calles called a total of 12 penalties, seven going to Trail.

Kimberley — Goal, Betker; defence, Jones, Craig, Sullivan, Tatchell; forwards, Kavanagh, Hockley, Buzz Mellor, Red Mellor, Bell, Lilley, Larson, McDonald, Port.

Trail—Goal, Martin; defence, Corrado, Cook, Sinclair, Paolone; forwards, Shabaga, McCulley, Cavanaugh, Bursaw, Kuzma, Turik, Kromm, Young, Rypien.

Summary:

First period—1, Trail, McCulley (Rypien) 7:45; 2, Kimberley, Port (Tatchell, R. Mellor) 16:38; 3, Kimberley, B. Mellor (Kavanagh) 19.02. Penalties: B. Mellor, Bursaw.

Second period—No scoring. Penalties: Lilley, Bursaw, Young, Kavanagh, Paolone.

Third period—No scoring. Penalties: Hockley (2), Paolone, Sullivan (2), Cook (2), Kromm, Corrado.

Hornets Sting Kimberley; 'Cats Claw Creston

CRANBROOK, B.C.—The visiting Kimberley All-Stars led Cranbrook Hornets up until the last two minutes of play Friday night at Cranbrook, but the locals pulled the game out of the fire to win 48 to 46 in an East Kootenay International Basketball League contest.

Anderson paced the Kimberley aggregation with 18 points in three-quarters until referee Honeyman sent him off the floor for misconduct in the fourth quarter. Gordon Walmsley sank the winning basket and led the Cranbrook scoring with 13 points.

On Saturday night the local Wildcats rolled over the Creston quintette at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, to win 70 to 48. Bonners took the lead early and never looked back, sinking baskets with uncanny accuracy.

Bonners Ferry leads the league with five wins and no losses.

Liniment Bowl Play Draws 12,000

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — Ghosts of yester-year, complete with high foreheads, greying hair and protruding waistlines, battled on the gridiron at the Winnipeg Stadium Saturday, leading a trail of aching bones and muscles and pounds of lost weight, but a lot of happy memories.

The occasion was the "Liniment Bowl" football game between former stars of Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

The game came about a couple of weeks ago when a group of old-time Winnipeg players challenged ex-Stampeders, who had banded together for a practice game to keep a Calgary junior team in shape during a playoff lull.

Billed as a charity contest for the Community Chests, the game drew about 12,000 fans as old-time fans wanted to see their favorites in action again, and the younger set wanted to see these players their dads have been bragging about.

STAMP VETS WIN

The result, a 22-0 victory for the Stampeders, was incidental. Although most of the players were in poor shape for the bodily-contact game, nobody was seriously injured, any everybody had a good time.

PACKERS BLANK PENTICTON 3-0

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Penticton Vs, defending Western Canadian champions, found it tough to get goals last week, even though they've added two ex-pros fresh out of the Western Hockey League to their roster.

They were blanked 3-0 here Saturday night by goalie Al Laface and the Kelowna Packers for the second whitewash in three game. The Vs have managed to hang on to second place in the OSHL, however, even though they have counted just two goals in their last three outings.

The win moved Kelowna back into third place over the Kamloops Elks, who lost 6-4 to the visiting Vernon Canadians.

Walter Fines of Aurora, charged with manslaughter in the death of Robert Gillies in a hockey game at Collingwood, Ont., was declared not guilty by a Barrie jury after four hours deliberation. Fines had collided with Gillies a few moments before the game had ended on March 4. He died en route to hospital of hemorrhage induced by skull fracture. — Central Press Canadian.

Canadiens Tie Hawks 2-2, Hold League Lead

By the Canadian Press

Montreal Canadiens held their two-point lead at the top of the National Hockey League standing by tieing Chicago Black Hawks 2-2 Sunday night. Toronto Maple Leafs kept pace by playing a 1-1 tie with the crippled Boston Bruins. Detroit Red Wings did likewise by downing New York Rangers 4-1.

In Saturday's contests the Hawks edged the Canadiens 3-2, the Leafs blanked the Bruins 2-0 and the Wings came from behind for a 3-2 decision over the Rangers.

Canadiens led 2-0 at the end of the first period in Chicago on goals by Doug Harvey and Ken Mosdell. Mosdell assisted on the first and Harvey and Calum Mackay helped on the second.

Early in the second stanza, Chicago got one counter back as Lou Jankowski rapped in his first goal of the season, off assists by Pete Conacher and Jimmy Peters. At 15:28, Gus Bodnar tipped in a rebound of George Gee's Shot, after the latter had taken a pass from Gus Mortson. The third period was scoreless despite a furious onslaught by the Habintants.

HAWKS RECALL PAIR

The Hawks announced the recall of defenceman Fred Hucul from Calgary Stampeders of the Western Hockey League and 18-year-old rookie forward Fred Sasakamoose from Moose Jaw Canucks of the Western Junior League. Hucul will report Wednesday night in New York while Sasakamoose will join the Hawks in Chicago Friday night against Boston.

Toronto extended their unbeaten streak to eight games by their deadlock with the Bruins in Boston. Veteran Porky Dumart scored his first goal of the season for the Bruins early in the third period. Eight minutes later Ron Stewart evened the count.

Dumart, at 37 the league's oldest active player, took a pass from Joe Klukay near the left sideboards and lashed a 35-footer through an opening goalie Harry Lumley left in the Toronto cage. Stewart scored on a 12-footer, after being set up by captain Ted Kennedy.

Gordie Howe and Red Kelly each scored his sixth goal of the season in the Wings' victory on their home ice over the Rangers. Johnny Wilson, Howe and rookie Bill Dineen scored within the first 15 minutes of play to give the Wings a flying start.

RONTY CONNECTS

Paul Ronty clicked on a 12-footer in the second period for New York's only tally. Kelly offset this with a point-blank drive in the final period.

In the finale, Ronty and Red Wing captain Ted Lindsay tangled with Lindsay doing all the punching. As the officials parted the players, Lindsay took a swipe at Ivan Irwin, Rangers defenceman, who was merely looking on.

The Hawks ended a six-game losing streak by edging Montreal Saturday night. The victory broke the Habitants' home-ice run of nine victories without a loss. Boston suffered a crushing blow Saturday when two star players, Bill Quackenbush and Real Chevrefils, suffered broken legs.

Ti-Cats Win Berth in In Big Four Playoffs

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats advanced into the Big Four playoffs for the fourth straight season Saturday when they closed out the 14-game schedule with an 18-8 victory over Ottawa Rough Riders. Tiger-Cats ended in a first-place tie with Montreal Alouettes who downed Toronto Argonauts 27-8 at Toronto.

The win, before a crowd of 18,000 at Civic Stadium, was the third in four season's starts for Tiger-Cats over Riders who switched from the straight T to Split-T formations in an effort to salvage the game and a spot in the best-of-three final series.

Tiger-Cats now meet the Als at Hamilton next Wednesday with the second game at Montreal on Sunday. A third, if necessary, will be played at Montreal on Wednesday, Nov. 25, just three days before the Grey Cup final at Toronto.

Tiger-Cats, Rough Riders and Alouettes entered Saturday's games in a first-place tie with 14 points each.

The Cats were quick to take advantage of Ottawa mistakes and moved into a 10-0 lead early in the second quarter before the favored Riders started to roll. Tip Logan put Tiger-Cats ahead 3-0 with a field goal from the Ottawa 17 midday through the first quarter and Tiger-Cats didn't look back.

HILLTOPS MOVE TO JUNIOR FINALS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Saskatoon Hilltops, led in a blazing scoring spree by a pass-pitching quarterback with icewater in his veins, smothered Vancouver Blue Bombers 50-6 Saturday in the sudden-death Western Canada junior football final.

Their overwhelming win moved them into the Canadian final in Saskatoon next Saturday against the defending-champion Windsor AKO, who defeated Verdun Shamcats 26-11 at Windsor.

Blue Bombers Win WIFU Championship

By GRAHAM TROTTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers, riding on the strong passing arm of quarter Indian Jack Jacobs and turning a pass interception into a 100-yard touchdown winning run in the last two minutes, won the Western Inter-provincial Football Union championship Saturday night with a thrill-soaked 30-24 victory over Edmonton Eskimos.

The Bombers, who lost the first game of the best-of-three finals 25-7 and took the second 21-17, stunned 16,000 Edmonton fans with a four-touchdown fourth-quarter march that turned a 24-12 deficit into a spine-tingling triumph in the last 12 minutes.

Bombers now meet the Ontario Rugby Football Union champion in a sudden-death Grey Cup final in Winnipeg next Saturday.

The crushing blow to the Eskimos came when Dave Skrien, Minnesota backfielder cut adrift by Saskatchewan Roughriders prior to the Oct. 1 import-cutting deadline, intercepted a second-down pass by quarter Claude Arnold from the Winnipeg 21 with the score deadlocked 24-24. Eskimos were in good position for a field goal or single that would have given them the lead with two minutes remaining in the game.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Copper Demand Held Price Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—Fairly active copper demand last week held prices firm at the 30½ cents a pound charged by custom smelters and the 30-cent price of the big producers. The stalemate in United States negotiations with Chile over her surplus metal kept forward ordering cautious.

LEAD ACTIVE

Domestic demand for lead was moderately active at 13½ cents a pound. Zinc buying was light, with the price holding at 10 cents a pound.

Aluminum production was running well ahead of a year ago.

The tin industry continued to suffer from over-supply and price weakness. The world tin study group will meet in Geneva, Switzerland, Monday to try for an international agreement stabilizing the world tin market. A similar attempt in 1950 failed.

Nickel continued in tight supply.

The Zinc Institute reported a continuing buildup in producers' stocks which now are around 156,000 tons, highest since August, 1946.

Canada's Oats Rouse International Uproar

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—In the view of some Americans, Canada grows a lote of controversial oats—the ones that are exported to the United States.

This has created an uproar which already has involved the U.S. agriculture department, the tariff commission, a leading international elevator firm, a member of the Chicago board of trade and several United States senators.

President Eisenhower also will be involved because it will be up to him to make the final decision whether to proclaim restrictions on imports of Canadian oats.

And that, in turn, would involve international trade relations between the United States and Canada.

RUNNING HIGHER

It all goes back to 1951 when oats imports took a sudden leap. Oats imports in the crop year beginning July 1, 1937-41, averaged a little more than 4,500,000 bushels. Then averaged a little under 14,000,000 bushels in 1946-50. But in 1951 the total was more than 62,000,000 and in 1952 it was nearly 69,000,000. It's running higher this year than at the same time last year.

From those facts came the following events:

1. A complaint filed by the agriculture department against Cargill Inc., the biggest U.S. cash grain and elevator firm, charging Cargill "attempted" and "in fact did manipulate" prices of oats on grain markets in 1951 and 1952.

2. A request by the agriculture department that the tariff commission restrict imports of oats from Canada to 23,000,000 bushels a year.

Cargill gets into the picture because it brought most of the Canadian oats into the United States. What Cargill did was this:

It sold oats futures on the Chicago board of trade.

It bought oats future on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

It accepted delivery of cash oats on these futures at Winnipeg and then shipped the oats into the United States—some to Chicago, where they were in a position to be delivered on the future Cargill had sold on the board of trade.

Oats prices fell. The agriculture department says Cargill's imports contributed to the fall. Cargill may have lost money on its dealings in cash oats, but it is claimed the company made a big profit because of its short position in oats futures.

The department claims Cargill reported its short position in Chicago oats futures represented hedging—that is, sales in futures against cash grain owned by Cargill. Not so, says the department. It contends the short sales were speculative and were illegally reported as hedging.

Imports, however, are not entirely damaging to all farmers. In New England, particularly, livestock feeders are anxious to get Canadian oats. Furthermore, most oats are consumed on farms where they are grown. And farmers who do not like the market price can impound the grain under government price-support loans.

It is up to the U.S. tariff commission to recommend action to President Eisenhower. The commission won't say if it has made any recommendation.

West's Progress Assured Only If Prairies Get More People—Akins

"Yes, Canada has certainly made great progress. If you doubt that, you should go and see what I've just been seeing everywhere. The question is: Can that progress be continued into the future, and for how long? My answer is, indefinitely—provided we get more people into the country, and still more people," said W. George Akins, president of Walsh Advertising Company Ltd., on his return to Toronto from an 8,000-mile inspection trip through Western Canada.

A larger population is urgently needed, Mr. Akins is convinced. It is required to provide bigger domestic markets and a larger and more diversified labor force, and to permit more economical production. The West in particular needs more people, and Mr. Akins believes the government should not only maintain immigration at the highest possible level but do its best to get more of the newcomers placed in the West.

"I don't think the Prairies will ever have the population they would like to have, since farming (it's still their basic activity and I think it always will be) is becoming so highly mechanized. And, despite all the new resource developments, I doubt that there will be any mushrooming of industry there. However, I think we shall see a fair number of new industries in Alberta and Saskatchewan, to take advantage of opportunities rapidly developing in the petro-chemical field. And those industries will attract new population," Mr. Akins said.

The big problem of the expanding West, he added, is "where do we go from here?" The West is producing vastly more wheat, oil and natural gas than can be consumed there, and the marketing of the big surpluses is a problem for which there is no immediate solution.

Mr. Akins said that though most big western business is now controlled in Eastern Canada and many oil companies have their head offices in Calgary, he envisages the possibility that Vancouver will become the financial heart of western development. Toronto and Montreal, he thinks, will lose out. "Men like Ray Milner in Edmonton and Austin Taylor, A. B. Graham and H. R. MacMillan in Vancouver have access to as much capital for financing purposes as any capitalist in the East. And they're more alert to western possibilities."

In respect of British Columbia, Mr. Akins saw soft spots developing in their economy. "British Columbia, of course, is dependent to a very large degree on its income from the forests and sea. But the province has been plagued by strikes and the unions are now asking for another round of wage increases. They are practically pricing B.C. products out of world markets. B.C. may have to have a depression to effect a cure, though that is a very unpleasant way of learning a lesson."

Mr. Akins said: "I felt on this trip, more than ever before, that Canadian have acquired a greater national pride. People in the West, people in the East, are more truly one people, Canadian. This is reflected in the decline of the movement of people to the United States."

Social Crediters Left in Healthy Cash Position Declares Johnson

(Editor's note: These statements by former premier Byron I. Johnson are published as a public service. The same space is available to any other informed authority who might wish to deal with the same matter.)

By BYRON JOHNSON
Former Premier of B. C.

This is the third in a series of articles dealing with Provincial finance with particular reference to the claims made by the Socreds that they have reduced the Provincial debt by $34,000,000 since taking office. These articles are written for the express purpose of keeping the record straight.

In the first article I dealt with surplus in the sinking funds and money provided for debt retirement for which no sinking funds were required and was paid out of cash left in the Treasury by the Coalition and Liberal Governments. These items amounted to $8,000,000. The second article dealt with $3,500,000 allocated by the Liberal Government to local school boards to assist in the school building program. This amount was returned by the Socred Government to the Provincial Treasury, and the school boards were ordered by them to borrow not only their share of funds required but the Government's share as well. I also dealt with the appropriation from the surplus of $3,000,000 for the Squamish Highway, which is still in cash or bonds in the Provincial Treasury, making a total in the second article of $8,500,000 left by the Coalition and Liberal Governments.

Now I am going to deal with the cash position of the Provincial Treasury at the time we were defeated in the election of June 12, 1952. No new commitments were made after that date. As Leader of the Government and still responsible to the people of British Columbia as Premier, I felt it was my duty to leave the incoming Government with no responsibilities for any current debt created by the Liberal Government, and to have a clear-cut picture of the financial position of the Treasury at that time. As Premier and Minister of Finance I discussed these matters with the Deputy Minister of Finance, explaining to him that I was desirous of paying off all treasury bills owing to the bank for capital expenditures during the fiscal year, and of providing funds in cash to pay for any commitments made by the Liberal Government up to September 1, 1952. So that the method of procedure may be followed, I am quoting in its entirety a letter I received from the Deputy Minister of Finance.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
Office of the Deputy Minister,
Victoria, B. C.
June 17, 1952.

Honourable B. I. Johnson,
Premier and Minister of Finance,
Buildings.

Sir:

On June 12th the public debt of the Province amounted to $272,087,188.72 gross, of which amount $6,675,000.00 was by way of Treasury bills sold to The Canadian Bank of Commerce. As an offset to the gross debt there were also sinking funds amounting to approximately $57,075,000, and by way of self-supporting debt there were due by the Power Commission to the Province a net of $30,354,987.73, leaving a net debt of $185,857,000.99.

PROCEDURE

The question was raised as to the advisability of repaying the Treasury bills now outstanding at the bank and the meeting in part of the commitments made pursuant to the Budget submitted to the House. On May 8th I submitted to you a tentative statement concerning the current position of the Province as at March 31st, 1952. That statement revealed that revenues were anticipated to exceed expenditures by some $11,350,000. Therefore, if it is decided not only to repay the Treasury bills now outstanding at the bank, but to create a capital reserve at the bank to meet, in part, the aforesaid commitments, the following procedure could be adopted:

(a) In order to meet the more urgent and more immediate calls for capital funds, to borrow from the bank by way of Treasury bills:

For University purposes	$ 417,000
For PGE purposes	250,000
For hospital construction	300,000
For buildings	1,000,000
For highways and bridges	2,300,000
Add to the foregoing the Treasury bills now outstanding of approximately	6,675,000
	$10,942,000

and repay from the revenue surplus just mentioned the total amount of the aforesaid Treasury bills.

From current indications it would appear as if by following this action enough funds will be provided to meet capital requirements up to approximately September 1, 1952, and, concurrently, the debt would be reduced by $6,675,000, leaving a net debt of approximately $179,000,000.

Insofar as our banking position is concerned, may I point out that we are enjoying at this date a credit balance of $7,877,000, and that towards the end of June there will be received some $8,000,000 due and payable under the old Tax Agreement, plus some $10,000,000 payable under the new Agreement. Therefore, it would appear as if ample cash resources will be available for some time to meet all the revenue surplus appropriations passed at the last Session of the Legislature, without the necessity of selling any of the investments made under Section 9 of the "Revenue Act". This is after taking into account the fact that there will be distributable to the municipalities at the beginning of July, some $8,000,000, of which $2,200,000 is under the Motor-vehicle Act, and the balance under the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax Act (final instalment).

Yours truly,
J. V. FISHER,
Deputy Minister of Finance.
JVF GW

You will note that the date on this letter is June 17, 1952—five days after the General Election.

HEALTHY POSITION

I placed this letter before the Cabinet and it was agreed that we should proceed along the lines outlined in the letter. From this it will be seen that the Socreds were left in a very healthy cash position when they took over.

All capital borrowings for the fiscal year had been paid in cash, amounting to $6,675,000; special Treasury bills were paid in cash to pay for capital expenditures to September 1, 1952, amounting to $4,267,000, making a total of $10,942,000. I will refer to this amount later as it is included in the debt reduction claimed by the Socreds as a part of their magic formula.

May I draw to your attention the reference in the letter to the net debt as approximately $179,000,000 without allowing for the Treasury bills for commitments to September 1, amounting to $4,267,000, which, in the words of the Deputy Minister, were "to create a capital reserve at the bank to meet in part the aforesaid commitments." In view of the fact that Premier Bennett includes this $4,267,000 in the debt reduction claimed by his Government, I just want to point out that the cash was placed in a capital reserve at the bank to meet this advance payment in capital expenditures, therefore it would not seem unreasonable to deduct this amount from the net debt of approximately $179,000,000, mentioned in the Deputy Minister's letter, which would make the net debt approximately $175,000,000.

This is not the figure which the electors of British Columbia heard during the election a few months ago or since that time—particularly at the Socred convention. I may point out that the expected surplus ending March 31—in the Deputy Minister's letter—is placed at $11,350,000. Mr. Gunderson's Budget speech of February last reports this surplus at $20,098,155.06. From this it will be seen—in the Deputy Minister's words—there were sufficient funds in the surplus to pay off $6,675,000 Treasury bills owing to the bank; set up a cash reserve of $4,267,000 to pay for capital expenditures up to September 18, 1952. But there was also the difference between the Deputy Minister's estimate of $11,350,000 and the actual amount later reported to the Legislature by Mr. Gunderson, on page 24 of his Budget speech as $20,098,155.06—$20,098,155.06 minus $11,350,000, making an additional amount of $8,748,155 available to the Socreds when they took office.

BREAKDOWN

On page 13, of Mr. Gunderson's Budget speech, February 18, 1953, he gives in detail the amount and breakdown of the so-called debt reduction by the Socreds:

"A. From revenues collected during the current year—

"(a) Serial instalments on debentures, $2,922,000."

(Note: It is compulsory for the Government to set up this reserve, and was provided for in the Budget of the Liberal Government presented in February, 1952.)

"Serial instalments on Treasury bills, $707,582."

(Note: Same remarks as above.)

"(b) A debenture issue at maturity on October 20, 1952, $89,000."

(Note: Provided for in full under Mr. Anscomb's term as Minister of Finance, in sinking funds.)

"(c) Treasury bills issued and sold since August 1, 1952, $7,923,925."

(Note: Provided for in full in the $8,748,155 excess surplus over the amount estimated by Deputy Minister of Finance.)

"B. From revenue surplus accrued to March 31, 1952—

"(a) A debenture issue at its maturity on December 15, 1952, $5,000,000."

(Note: This is item mentioned in first article. Cash in bank to pay before Liberals left office. Funds were provided under Coalition during Mr. Anscomb's regime as Minister of Finance.)

"(b) Treasury bills sold prior to August 1, 1952, $10,925,259."

(Note: This item is made up of two items (ref. letter of Deputy Minister). To retire Treasury bills issued by Liberal Government for capital expenditures to June 17, 1952, $6,675,000. To prepay capital expenditure for period from June 17 to September 1, 1952 (See D.M.'s letter), $4,267,000. The Treasury bills were paid off before Liberals left office, and a cash reserve was set up at the bank to pay estimated capital expenditures to September 1, 1952.)

"C. From funds on deposit in the Hospital Construction Fund for repayment of Treasury bills sold for hospital construction, $2,050,000."

(Note: This amount was either in cash in the Treasury or provided for in full in Liberal Budget of 1952.)

"Or total dept repayments, of $29,617,766."

I am safe in saying that every dollar of this money was on hand when the Liberal Government left office. Remember, some of this money came out of a budget which was passed by the Legislature in February, 1952. The Liberal Government did not leave office until August 1, 1952. In addition there was, as reported by Mr. Gunderson on page 25 of his Budget speech, an expected surplus applicable to this period of $10,180,000.

In the next article I will discuss surpluses in the Highway Development Account—Hospital Construction Account—deferred credits under the Trans-Canada Highway Agreement — payments under our Dominion-Provincial Taxation Agreement, and many other phases of Provincial finance.

Sask. Signs U.S. Contract For Peeled Spruce

REGINA (CP)—Signing of a 10-year contract for production and delivery of about 200,000 cords of sappeeled spruce pulpwood to an American paper company has been announced by the Saskatchewan timber board.

M. Malmakoff, general manager of the board, said the contract with Rhineland Paper Company of Rhinelander, Wis., will bring "many millions of dollars" into the province.

Milk Price War

NEW YORK (CP) — Milk price increases recently have aroused housewives in the New York area, but Friday it sold for as low as a nickel a quart during a brief price war along a six-block stretch of Flatbush avenue in Brooklyn. The regular price is two quarts for 49 cents, but at 11 a.m. one merchant started a "leader" sale and other stores started beating down his price. By 3 p.m., when eager housewives had snapped up the last quart in the neighborhood, the price was at the nickel low.

$900,000 Natal District School Project Under Way

NATAL—A public meeting of all qualified voters of Michel-Natal attendance are of District No. 1 (Fernie) was held at Michel-Natal school.

Secretary-Treasurer J. F. Bennett of Fernie gave the school board chairman's report.

L. R. Amundsen of Natal was elected chairman at the meeting. Attending the meeting were School Board District No. 1 chairman, A. L. McPhee of Fernie, and School Inspector F. P. Levirs of Kimberley. The report of School District No. 1 showed number of pupils enrolled this term was 1306 with 172 pupils starting in Grade 1 and a staff of 53 teachers.

Out of bids for building the new Michel-Natal Junior-Senior High School in Sparwood, contractor C. J. Oliver of Vancouver was given the contract. The new school is expected to be completed the end of April and occupied in September.

The addition to the Fernie school is expected to be completed in May.

Water situation at the new school was also cleared up at Sparwood with a well driven down 100 fee. The pump will supply only sufficient water for ordinary school needs. The coal company had given the school board permission to use the Sparwood water supply for emergencies. The pump at the school will not provide enough water in case of fire.

The new Junior-Senior High School being built at Sparwood for Michel-Natal will cost $416,827 while the building program estimated for School District No. 1 is set ao $906,453. By-law money to be used on improvements at the present Michel-Natal school was for rewiring the entire school, new lighting in all class rooms and new linoleum floors. Basement rooms will also be made into suitable play rooms.

Other work done this year at the present school included building a new board fence on the ball field next to the school and other jobs around school.

During the meeting an election for a trustee to Michel-Natal school board was held. S. A. Baudoux of Sparwood, who has been temporarily elected to replace former trustee W. Cole of Natal who left the district the early part of the year, was elected for a two-year term commencing the first of the year. The other trustee on Michel-Natal school board is L. A. Amundsen of Natal who has still one year to serve.

The Patricias Welcomed With Ear-Shattering Cheers, Bands

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Princess Patricias came home to a roaring welcome Saturday.

Smiling broadly at the ear-shattering ovation from ships sirens and whistles, two brass bands and the cheers of hundreds of spectators, 1000 Canadian veterans of Korea arrived aboard the United States troopship Marine Lynx.

GREAT OCCASION

The arrival of 784 officers and men of the 3rd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and 290 members of other units marked the first time returning troops have docked at this west coast port since 1951. Vancouver made it an occasion to remember.

As the big grey transport steamed down the harbor, tugs broke into a tooting welcome. Other ships joined in with screaming whistles and blaring sirens. At the dock, gay with flags and bunting, the PPCLI's western command band from Calgary, broke into martial music, backed up by a Vancouver band.

The troops, who had been in the Far East for a year, stepped smartly down the gangplank following brief words of welcome from Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace and Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, general officer commanding the army's western command. His son, 2nd Lt. C. J. F. Vokes was among those returning.

YANKS CHEER

More than 2000 American troops aboard the Marine Lynx gave a housing cheer for the disembarking Canadians with whom they spent 18 days aboard the vessel. Afterward, the ship pulled anchor and headed for Seattle to disembark the American troops.

Blonde singer Lorraine McAllister of Vancouver, who earlier entertained Canadian troops in Korea, provided a musical welcome for the men.

As the veterans spilled onto the dock, they formed up smartly and moved off at 10:15 a.m., 90 minutes after they had docked, to parade through Vancouver streets. Following the parade, they boarded four special trains for Calgary, home base of the PPCLI, where another welcome is planned Sunday. Heading the parade here was Lt.-Col. M. F. MacLachlan, the 3rd Battalion's commanding officer.

VOYAGE PLEASANT

Troops described the 18-day voyage from Tokyo as rough but otherwise pleasant.

The Patricias, one of Canada's crack infantry uints, gave little support to recently-voiced criticism by some returning Korean veterans that the army was insisting on too much "spit and polish" since the truce.

"Maintaining morale is the biggest problem in Korea since the fighting ended," said WOs Grant Salmon of Edmonton. "We have been training and training hard. It is the best thing and I think the men have been happy with it."

Pte. M. H. Johnson of Glenavon, Sask., jokingly chimed in:

"We were so polished we dazzled them."

NEED MORE SPORTS

Ptes. Harry J. McLaughan of Headingly, Man., and Melvin H. Lewis of Mistitim, Sask., said the troops generally would enjoy more soprts activity, but both said conditions were improving.

"Things could be a lot worse in Korea, we didn't suffer any," was the way Pte. Roland Turenne of Montreal, summed up the soldier's lot in the Far East. His opinion was echoed by Pte. Glen Shaler, Winnipeg and Sgt. D. V. Jones, Port Arthur.

Give More Attention To Educating Women Says Dr. Norman Mackenzie

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

QUEBEC (CP)—Much greater attention should be given to the education of girls and young women, Dr. N. A. Mackenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, said Saturday.

"For," he added, "although the independent role of women has been technically established, our culture is far from accommodating itself to the change, and far from developing to the full the talents and contributions of women."

Dr. Mackenzie made his comment in the course of a study on education delivered before "Canada Tomorrow"s conference. The two-day sessions are sponsored by Canadian Westinghouse, Ltd., and are being attended by some 250 representatives of Canadian life.

Dr. Mackenzie gave four objectives for the education of a young Canadian.

It should help him to prepare himself to make a living; to prepare himself for enlightened cititenship in a democracy; to refine his emotions, intellect and taste; and it should attempt through him to extend 'the rule of love' among all men.

FINE TEACHING NEEDED

These objectvies, he added, "will require a fine quality of teaching and this in turn will demand a concept of teacher-training which is concerned not simply with obtaining greater numbers of teachers, important though that is, but most vitally with the quality of the teacher, his abilities, human interests, cultural sympathies, and understanding of the need for spiritual emphasis.

"They will require an extension of educational opportunity in Canada, more particularly by increasing the numbers of older adolescents completing high school, and by providing for other types of education which these young people may well need.

NEED FINANCING

"One thinks here by a wide variety of vocational institutes and of as yet undeveloped programs in adult education.

"They will require a more generous conception of financial support for education throughout our whole economy, not merely through the support furnished by individuals and corporations, but through the assistance of all our governments, including our federal government for institutions of higher education."

With these requirements Dr. Mackenzie included his comment on education of women.

Dupre Story Has Repercussions From Calgary, Winnipeg And New York

CALGARY (CP)—Quentin Reynolds, American writer who interviewed George Dupre of Calgary for the magazine article "The Canadian Who Wouldn't Talk," says he "was shocked and appalled" by Dupre's admission his story was a fabrication.

Reynolds, in a long-distance telephone interview with the Albertan from his home in Bedford Village, N.Y., said: "What can you say in the face of a situation like this? At no time did I receive the slightest hint that I should kill the piece."

The author interviewed Dupre for his article in the November issue of Reader's Digest. In the article, Dupre was said to have worked in France for the British intelligence during the Second World War and to have suffered Gestapo torture rather than disclose secrets of this work.

The Calgary Herald published a story last week which said Dupre, when interviewed on technical details of operational intelligence, admitted his story was false.

ANNOYMOUS TIPOFF

The Calgary Herald reporter who broke the story, 33-year-old Doug Collins, was assigned to it after an anonymous tipoff.

He served overseas in the Second World War and after being captured by the Germans at Dunkerque in 1940 escaped back to Britain via the Balkans. He then worked with the British intelligence corps for nearly eight years and joined the Herald in August, 1952, with no previous newspaper experience.

Collins never was a member of Britain's special operations executive, mentioned by Dupre in his story, but he knew many persons in it.

OFFICER HAS "NO RECOLLECTION"

WINNIPEG (CP) — Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale says that he has "no recollections" of an interview mentioned by Quentin Reynolds in his magazine article "The Canadian Who Wouldn't Talk."

The story, which appeared in the November issue of Reader's Digest, dealt with the wartime undercover work in France of George Dupre of Calgary.

"MISUNDERSTANDING"

At Winnipeg Gen. Penhale said there must have been some "misunderstanding."

He said Reynolds had called him and asked: "Do you know George Dupre?"

The general said he had met Dupre in Calgary on several occasions at meetings of the Canukeena Club.

"I thought Reynolds was referring to the club connections. I had no idea he meant this wartime business."

Gen. Penhale said he had read the reference to himself in the Reynold's book as it subsequently appeared in the Digest. He was named as one of four officers who interviewed Dupre after his return from France.

Gen. Penhale says he has "no recollection" of this interview. He hadn't challenged its accuracy when it appeared in the Digest because he had interviewed many men in just those circumstances.

WIFE STICKS BY DUPRE

CALGARY (CP) — The wife of George Dupre, who has admitted his story of being an espionage agent in France during the last war was a hoax, said in an interview Saturday that she has known of the fiction since 1946.

Mrs. Dupre said he first started telling the story to friends. Then it spread to social gatherings and church groups.

She had warned him continually because she knew the story might be exposed.

"He didn't need to be a hero," Mrs. Dupre added. "I was quite satisfied with him the way he was. George has been the best husband possible. I am going to stand beside him."

Boy's Fire Call Brings The Army

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jules Kaplan's chemistry lesson this week began in the basement of his home —and ended 500 feet out in the Ohio river.

Some of his teachers along the way included firemen, policemen, coast guardsmen and an army detonation team.

They spent a tense two hours disposing of the 17-year-old boy's product—about two pounds of nitroglycerine.

With more than a year's experience in chemistry and a textbook to guide him, Jules figured he could make the explosive, so he borrowed the ingredients from school Thursday and went to work in his basement.

The next day he called the fire prevention bureau.

HOUSE EVACUATED

The bureau communicated with the United States Army, and was told to evacuate the eight people in the house.

Several hours later two fire cars arrived, followed by a jeep with army bomb experts. They poured the frothing liquid into a pail filled with sawdust, and headed for the river, where a coast guard launch was waiting.

A safe distance from shore, the pail was lowered into the water and sank from sight.

"You could hear the silence," said fire prevention inspector Franklin Morgan. "And then you could hear seven sighs of relief."

At home, Jules also breathed a sigh of relief. But he added:

"It hasn't dampened my enthusiasm for science."

Demolition Squad Halts Rioting

TEHRAN (AP)—Pick and crowbar squads Saturday won a major victory over the strongly pro-Mossadegh merchant community after tearing nearly 500 feet of roof off this capital's giant Sabz Mehdaz bazaar.

A delegation of Bazaaris—one of the strongest organized groups in Iran—pleaded with Premier Fazollah Zahedi to halt the demolition work in return for a promise to refrain from demonstrations like those of Thursday in which an estimated 80 per cent of the bazaar closed in support of ex-premier Mohammed Mossadegh, now on trial for treason.

Removal of the roofs would expose the shops to the broiling sun in the summer, and to thieves.

The Mossadegh trials proceeded, meanwhile, with the five-man court martial which is hearing the case reported split on the court's competence to try him.

Scientists Back U.S. Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP)—A committee of 10 scientists backed up the U. S. bureau of standards' findings that AD-X2, a product designed to pep up tired, old batteries, is "without merit."

The 10 scientists from the National Academy of Sciences labelled the bureau's tests as "excellent."

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks once sharply criticized the tests as "not sufficiently objective" and fired the bureau director, but last week he expressed his "sincere appreciation" of the review which the 10 scientists conducted at his request.

Jessie Ritchie of Oakland, Calif., who manufactures the battery additive, has battled for five years against the standard bureau's attitude toward his product.

Bells Ring For Royal Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles, chubby-faced heir to the Throne, had his fifth birthday Saturday—without a party, without a birthday cake and without parents to wish him happy returns.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, who have spent only one birthday with their son, were set to have a happy family time together this time, but suddenly changed their plans.

QUIET WEEKEND

The Royal Couple decided instead to spend a quiet weekend at their country estate at Sandringham, resting before the start Nov. 23 of their gruelling six-month Commonwealth tour to Australia and New Zealand.

However, the Queen and Duke telephoned the young prince to provide a high spot for the birthday. And throughout Britain flags flew and bells pealed in celebration.

Charles and his sister, Princess Anne, were sent to spend the weekend at the Royal lodge in Windsor with "grandma" — Queen Mother Elizabeth — instead of romping around Buckingham Palace with friends invited to a royal party.

UNTIL MONDAY

There was a small tea party at the lodge but it wasn't the real thing. That will have to wait until Monday when the Queen and the Duke return from Sandringham.

Charles had a few presents to open but most of them have been held up until Monday. Tops among them undoubtedly was the little boy's dream automobile from his parents.

Firemen Hurt In Chemical Blaze

TORONTO (CP) — A hundred firemen fought a chemical-fed blaze that raged for two hours in adjoining buildings of four manufacturing plants in west Toronto early Friday. Three firemen were hurt, one seriously.

Damage was estimated at $500,000. The fire broke out in a building at Queen and Dufferin streets.

Firemen Harley Murphy, 31, and Robert Wilson, 27, were hurt when a wall collapsed into the streets, showering them with bricks.

A third fireman, Ray Bell, was treated later for an injured hand.

Firemen said the blaze appeared to be under control about 3 a.m. when it erupted suddenly, throwing flames 100 feet into the air. They believed the blaze struck a store of inflammable chemicals.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately known.

The fire gutted most of the three buildings containing the four manufacturing firms — Canadian Glass and Ornaments, Toronto Dyeing and Finishing Works, R. D. Russell, Manufacturing Company, and Toronto Toy Limited.
