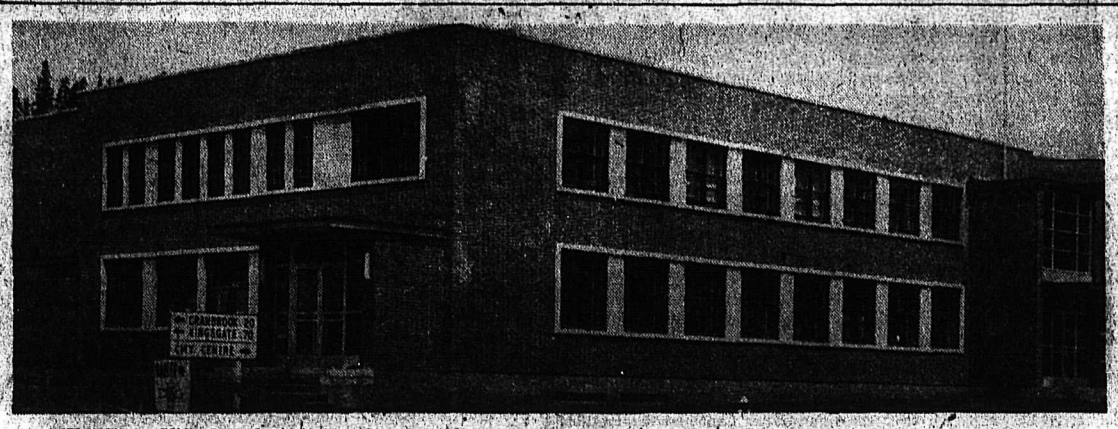
Sudden Death to Invasion Planned



KIMBERLEY'S NEW $240,000 Federal building, which was officially opened by Mayor Clifford Swan Wednesday, is pictured here. It will house a new post office, RCMP offices and living accommodation for some of the RCMP city detachment staff and provide space for a branch of the Unemployment Insurance Commission. The building is situated at the corner of Wallinger Avenue and Ross Street, a block below the main street.

Unemployment to Get Gov't Attention

Consider Protection of Cold Weather Jobless; House Prorogues Saturday

OTTAWA (CP)—Measures are being taken to protect Canadian workers against hardship in the event of another out of cold-weather unemployment, Labor Minister Gregg said Thursday.

He told the Commons his department is taking a "very serious and continuous look" at the Unemployment Insurance Act — from which jobless benefits are paid — in the light of experience in the recent period when unemployment was a post-war high.

"Steps are being taken to guard against hardship in the future," he said after some opposition members had called for higher benefit payments from the $900,000,000 insurance fund during debate on the labor department's annual estimates.

The discussion developed as Parliament neared the end of a session that opened last Nov. 12.

With all legislation completed and only estimates of some departments remaining, the House is expected to complete sessional business late Friday night and to prorogue Saturday morning.

In the labor debate, the government was faced with varying demands from opposition groups for action against unemployment.

Proposals included suggestions in general terms for keeping work at a high level, improved unemployment insurance, federal treasury aid for persons not qualified for insurance and intensified programs of retaining those who have been displaced from jobs.

Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC—Hamilton West), her party's chief labor spokesman, said the government has been taking a short-sighted view of the problem by seeking to tax Canadian products out of competitive markets.

She also said government officials are taking the "wholly false" attitude that Canada's unemployment has been largely seasonal.

SEES TOUGH FUTURE

Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) said the next four or five years are going to be among the toughest in unemployment that Canada has ever gone through. Cut-throat international competition was to blame.

"I hope the years ahead are not going to be as tough as he (Mr. Gillis) thinks," Mr. Gregg observed.

Mendes-France Gets Overwhelming Backing

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France reported to Parliament Thursday on his two-hour talk in Switzerland with Premier Chou En-lai of Red China. He asked the national assembly to defer debate on the makeup of his new cabinet, and won on that point, 343 to 23.

He said he is pushing ahead as quickly as possible for a halt to the fighting in Indo-China—which he has promised to bring about by July 20 or resign — but that France intends to keep her position in the far east and will insist on an honorable settlement.

If the fighting must continue, the Premier went on, France probably will be unable to carry on alone and may be forced "to ask another nation to help shoulder the sacrifices." He did not indicate what nation he meant.

Mendes-France said he had been impressed with the "realism, care for detail and desire to reach an agreement" which had marked the Chinese approach to the conference Wednesday.

While the negotiations for a cease-fire are continuing, Mendes-France told the deputies, the government is going ahead with plans to bolster the French forces in Indo-China. In case his plans for peace fail and the war must continue after July 20, Mendes-France said his successor as premier would find the military situation improved over that which he had inherited from Joseph Laniel.

He said he believed his own time limit of a month of negotiations for a cease-fire and warnings by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden that the negotiations cannot continue indefinitely have been helpful.

"Concessions by Russia and China may have come in part because of the time limit," he said.

Union Row Brews in Alcan Plant

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—A jurisdictional battle between the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) and the AFL Aluminum Workers of America is shaping up here at the site of the giant Aluminum Company of Canada project. Bargaining rights were awarded the AFL last spring but Wally Ross, Steelworker organizer, has challenged the AFL for a certification vote. About 450 men are involved.

A conciliation board hearing during the weekend was thrown into uproar when Ross admitted his Steelworker affiliations. While serving as an undercover Steelworker, Ross had been elected president of the AFL local. He was instantly dismissed.

Don Dunphy, representative of the Steelworkers for B.C., said Ross and his family face eviction from their home purchased under Alcan's employee housing plan.

Canadian steelworkers chief Charles Millard commented in Toronto earlier that "If they (Alcan) do Ross it will be obvious the employees are captives of a company union."

Old Cow Foils Rustlers

WINNIPEG (CP) — RCMP are searching north of here for a band of truck-driving cattle rustlers whose hand was tipped by a homesick old cow.

Rustlers made off with 48 head of high-priced cattle from the farm of Arthur Martil, just outside Gunton, about a month ago. The theft was discovered last Saturday after the old cow, a member of Martil's herd for several years, rebelled during the second rustling attempt.

Last Friday night, thieves drove 42 more animals off Martil's farm to an abandoned barn. While the rustlers awaited a truck, the old cow started a stampede. The thieves fled, and the cow led the herd home.

Alcoholics Not In Slums Alone

TORONTO (CP) — R. J. Gibbins, research associate with the Alcoholism Research Foundation of Ontario, said Thursday there are more alcoholics living in good districts than there are in slums.

In an address to the Canadian conference on social work, Mr. Gibbins said 14-month survey in an Ontario county revealed 698 alcoholics, 60 per cent of whom were skilled or semi-skilled workers, white-collar workers, professional men and women, and business executives. Only about six per cent were transient or casual laborers.

TRIBUTE PAID R. H. POOLEY

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier Bennett today paid tribute to the late Robert Henry Pooley, former B. C. attorney-general who died in Victoria Wednesday night at the age of 75.

"He played a big part in the development of B. C.," said Mr. Bennett, "and was always an active and devoted member of the Conservative party. But he always placed B. C. first."

Many other prominent public men joined in tribute to Mr. Pooley.

Mr. Pooley was attorney-general during the Tolmie regime and for 25 years Esquimalt member of the legislature.

His death severed one of the few remaining links with the pioneers of this city and removed one of the last stalwarts of the pre-war Conservative party in the province.

Mr. Pooley was attorney-general from 1928 to 1933 and a member of the legislature from 1912 until 1937 in successive Conservative governments. He was leader of the opposition for one term of four years — 1924-28.

RUSSIANS WIN CHESS TOURNEY

NEW YORK (AP) — American and Russian chess players tidied up the loose ends of their 32-game tournament Thursday which the Russians won by a final score of 20 to 12.

The visitors already had clinched the victory in games completed Wednesday night. Three of Wednesday night's games were adjourned to Thursday and one was left over from the third round.

Too Bad For Rising Generation

LANARK, Ont. (CP)—"From the cradle, to the car, to the casket," marks the pattern of life now, says Mrs. Jennie Majaury, who will be 103 today.

People can't go across the road without a car, she said, and the body isn't given a proper chance. As a result, people won't live to ripe old ages anymore, the spry great-great-grandmother said.

Death Benefit Plan Okayed

OTTAWA (CP) — The Senate Thursday gave final approval to an amended version of the government's death benefits plan for civil servants and members of the armed forces, sending a change making plan optional to the Commons for action.

The Commons originally passed the plan, providing a maximum of $5000 in death benefits, containing a clause requiring that all 120,000 civil servants and 105,000 servicemen participate.

Following expressions of opposition from civil service groups, the government agreed to accept an amendment of the Senate banking committee which would make the plan optional.

Solicitor-General Macdonald, government leader in the Upper Chamber, explained that if more than 25 per cent of those eligible reject the scheme the government will not bring it into operation.

He said that if only two per cent refuse to participate it will not affect the plan for which participants would pay 40 cents a month for each $1000 of annual salary.

Churchill Has Big Assignment

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill will need all his statecraft and fabulous charm when he sits down with President Eisenhower today for two days of concentrated efforts to re-establish the grand alliance.

Seasoned observers of the international scene see no apparent basis for agreement on the issues that divide the two great powers in their attitude toward the world threat of Communist successes.

The prime minister, with Foreign Secretary Eden and two highly-placed technical advisers, Lord Cherwell and Sir Edwin Plowden, is due to arrive at Washington airport this morning.

HIGH ROAD COSTS BLAMED ON FORMER GOV'TS

VICTORIA (CP) — High cost of maintaining northern roads in B.C. is mainly due to neglect by past governments, Public Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi said Wednesday.

The minister joined Premier Bennett in hitting back at Liberal Leader Arthur Laing who Tuesday accused the Socred government of playing politics in road building and wasting money.

Mr. Gaglardi said the roads up north were "suffering from lack of adequate expenditure in the past."

"Since we have taken over we have had to spend 300 per cent more money on them," he said. "We are trying to make up for the terrible treatment received from the past administration."

RUSSIA PROTESTS

Claims U.S. Seized Tanker Carrying Paraffin

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia, in a stiff note to the United States, reported a Soviet tanker carrying paraffin was intercepted in the China sea off Formosa Wednesday, and accused the U.S. Navy of seizing the vessel, its crew and cargo.

The note, made public today, demanded the immediate return of vessel, crew and cargo and "severe punishment of the American officials responsible for this unlawful act." It threatened to take "appropriate measures for safeguarding the security of Soviet merchant ships sailing in that area."

The U.S. state department in Washington acknowledged it had received such a note from the Kremlin. Department press officer Lincoln White said the note gave "no evidence that the United States had anything to do with the ship seizure." He said the United States will reply to the note in due course.

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Admiral Felix B. Stump, U.S. Pacific fleet commander, said Thursday "no U.S. warship seized any Russian ship."

Stump made the statement after he was read an Associated Press dispatch about Russia's protest of the alleged incident.

Stump commands all naval operations and ships in the Pacific.

Colombo Group to Meet in Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Government spokesmen from some 14 countries will gather in Canada's Parliament next October to scrutinize the economic strength of Southeast Asia, now infiltrated by the Reds.

The week-long session, opening Oct. 4, will mark the first meeting in North America of the Colombo Plan consultative committee built up by the Commonwealth four years ago to put new wealth into the weak economies of Asian democracies.

The committee will review achievements in the six-year, $5,000,000,000 scheme and study further steps to achieve objectives of the plan which runs to June, 1957, the external affairs department said Thursday in announcing the meeting.

GAMMA GLOBULIN FAIR PROTECTION

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Discovery of new viruses apparently causing paralytic disease resembling polio was reported Thursday by a Pittsburgh research team.

The viruses turned up in a new study which indicates that gamma globulin can really give fairly good protection against polio viruses, or make an attack less severe.

WOMEN TO HAVE LABOR BUREAU

OTTAWA (CP)—A women's bureau will be set up soon in the labor department.

The bureau will deal generally with the problem of women in employment and will be headed by a woman.

Formation was announced more than a year ago, but Labor Minister Gregg said in the Commons Thursday there has been difficulty getting a woman chief. Now, the civil service commission expected to declare a choice shortly.

Trail Voters Approve $70,000 Water Program

TRAIL — Trail ratepayers Thursday confirmed a $70,000 waterworks bylaw authorizing council to carry out further necessary improvements to the city water system. Only 377 ballots were cast and of these 275 were yes, 100 no, and rejected two.

Mayor E. G. Fletcher and councilmen were jubilant at learning that the vote had gone well over the three fifths majority necesary to confirm the bylaw.

Improvement of the water system will include the main piping supplying water to the area on the easterly side of the Columbia River; the piping supplying water in the old Shaver's water system on Shaver's Bench and the piping from the Gorge creek intakes to the storage tanks which supply the upper sections of central Trail.

Court of Appeal Quashes Charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — Conviction of Jack Raoul Cloutier of Victoria on a theft charge has been quashed by the court of appeal here.

Cloutier was sentenced by Judge J. B. Clearihue in county court, Victoria, April 21, to six months for theft of a $250 diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Edith Burkmar of Dencross Terrace, Saanichton.

The accused man said he found the ring on Easter Sunday last year in the Burkmar garden where he was a guest of George Percy Burkmar. The ring was turned over to Mrs. Burkmar by Cloutier when he learned that she had lost it.

Cominco Okays New Agreement

TADANAC — The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited announced Thursday morning that the company had approved the terms of the agreement recommended by the company's bargaining committee and approved Wednesday by the union.

CO-ORDINATION OF FUEL RESOURCES BEFORE HOUSE

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal direction and co-ordination of all Canada's fuel resources was proposed Thursday night in the Commons.

Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South), a former coal miner, said this would be the only solution to the problems of the coal industry, running into heavy competition from other types of fuel.

Speaking in a coal debate, Mr. Gillis advocated forming a central body—with the consent of the provinces—with authority to integrate the use of coal, oil, gas, hydro energy and atomic power.

He said all fuel production and distribution should be declared a national industry. This had been done successfully with the coal industry during the last war.

MARY MELLISH TRIAL TO BE HEARD IN FALL

VANCOUVER (CP) — The murder trail of 18-year-old Mary Mellish will not be heard until the fall assizes.

Miss Mellish was charged in connection with the death of her boy friend, Sam Messer, 22.

Synod Calls for Evangelism Study in Diocese

TRAIL — A plan to study evangelism in the diocese was endorsed Thursday during the thirthieth session of the Anglican synod. A resolution was adopted empowering Rt. Rev. F. P. Clark, Bishop of Kootenay, to appoint a committee to investigate evangelism in the diocese.

Following a speech by Archbishop Barfoot, Primate of the Church of England in Canada urging delegates to undertake a plan which would aid others in becoming Anglicans, a committee was appointed to investigate methods of encouraging others to join the Anglican faith.

The synod endorsed a plan to raise funds to send Bishop Clark to the 1958 sessions of the Lambeth meeting of Anglican bishops.

Very Rev. T. L. Leadbeater, dean of Kootenay, and rector of St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral in Nelson, spoke on religious education in the diocese.

Penticton was selected as the site for the 1954 meeting. Ven. Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole of Kelowna was appointed treasurer of the Kootenay diocese, succeeding honorary Canon O. St. P. Aikens of Kelowna, who has served in the post for 30 years.

Bronze Statue to Honor George VI

LONDON (Reuters) — A bronze memorial statue of the late George VI will be erected in London by the King George VI National Memorial Fund, it was announced Thursday.

The fund, which raised £1,665,000 in subscriptions from many parts of the world, was opened on Oct. 4, 1952, by Prime Minister Churchill in a broadcast appeal.

The statue will be put up in Carlton Gardens above a flight of steps leading to The Mall.

The statue, nine feet six inches high, will show the King bareheaded, wearing his robes of the Order of the Garter and decorations over the uniform of an admiral of the fleet.

It will bear the simple inscription—"George VI."

Guatemala Readies to Strike Hard at Rebels

By SAM SUMMERLIN

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Guatemala's army is preparing for a "big fight" to put a quick end to the anti-Communist invasion, the Guatemalan radio has declared.

There was no indication when the army intended to strike at the rebels, who moved in from the Honduran border last Friday in a bid to overthrow President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-supported regime.

The general opinion here appeared to be that the rebel drive has lost its momentum and that failure of the Guatemalan peasants to join in a spontaneous uprising upset the invaders' plans.

The government broadcast said the army Thursday made advances "on all fronts" despite bad weather. Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, the rebel chief, said Wednesday the rains had slowed down his forces.

The government radio has been plugging hard to keep the peasants behind the leftist government, addressing the overwhelmingly illiterate Indian population in various Indian languages, including Quiche Pipil and Zutuhil.

The radio reminded the peasants the Arbenz regime was responsible for the present land reform law and asserted it had been bitterly opposed by the U.S.-owned United Fruit Co., which has extensive holdings in Guatemala. The chief objection to the government's expropriation of land for distribution among landless peasants has been that there was no satisfactory arrangement for compensating the former owners.

TROOPS MOP UP

A government broadcast heard in San Salvador quoted the army high command as saying activities were back to normal around Puerto Barrios, important Atlantic seaport, and that troops were engaged in mopping up operations south of the port. A rebel broadcast Wednesday had claimed the invaders had cut off communications between Puerto Barrios and the rest of the country.

A government communique said victory is near.

PEACE COMMITTEE MAY PROBE CHARGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed diplomats said Thursday night Guatemala may change her mind at the last minute under persistent urging and accept a proposal to have the inter-American peace committee conduct an on-the-spot investigation of her aggression charges.

These officials said committee chairman Luis Quintanilla of Mexico has been strongly appealing to Guatemala that she reverse her stand and accept the joint Nicaraguan-Honduran investigation proposal.

Quintanilla told a reporter he is "rather optimistic" that Guatemala will agree to the proposition.

Previously, Guatemala had balked at the inter-American peace committee conducting the investigation of her charges that she had been bombed and attacked from abroad.

She took the position that the United Nations Security Council has already taken jurisdiction over the case.

Vancouver Citizens Vote Against Wednesday Closing 36,234 - 30,666

VANCOUVER (CP) — Shopping may soon be back on a six-day basis here.

Citizens voted 36,284 to 30,666 in a plebiscite to end Wednesday closing of city stores, in force since 1947.

Immediately the final count was known early Thursday, a spokesman for advocates of maintaining the mid-week closing said city council will be asked for a recount.

"If we win this fight," said Bill Whitehead, advertising executive of a large Vancouvre department store, "then we will consider closing Mondays and maybe opening Friday evenings."

Ratepayers also voted Wednesday on three money bylaws, all requiring at least 60 per cent approval.

Sale of the city's airport to the federal government for $1,000,000 was blocked by a bare one per cent. Some 30,227 wanted it compared with 20,659 who didn't. The majority was only 58.8 per cent.

Expenditure of $2,000,000 for a sewage extension and improvement program was approved.

Flood Threat Has Manitobans Edgy

WINNIPEG (CP) —The weatherman threw in his lot with the farmers of southern Manitoba and predicted continuation of sunny and hot weather "for at least the next three or four days." Although rain is forecast for Friday, it will be extremely light.

Residents of the province — where 150,000 acres are inundated by the Assiniboine, Carrot and Winnipeg rivers which are all at flood levels — hope the weather will help levels go down substantially, particularly in the Brandon area where the crest of the Assiniboine is expected any day.

Mayor James Creighton of Brandon has ordered the evacuation of 50 homes — most of them market gardeners — in the low-lying flats districts on the outskirts of the town. Brandon itself is situated high enough to be out of the "danger list."

Although a state of emergency has not been issued, Manitoba Premier D. L. Campbell Thursday warned residents that the swirling Assiniboine could rise another five feet before the end of the month.

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes the fur flies between husband and wife concerning whether they should buy a new car or get a mink for mama.

A Bronx auto agency claims it has solved this problem thus: Buy a new car and get a mink stole valued at $786.

Martin W. Franklin, agency sales manager, Wednesday said the offer is effective until July 4.

How's it going? Three stoles have gone out with cars, Franklin said, and there have been two dozen telephone calls seeking further information.

Zone Instructs Trustee On Hospital Cost Shares

The first endorsation of costs between the city and district on a 60-40 basis in the proposed district hospital plan, came about Thursday night at a small meeting of zone number four, at Shirley Hall.

Wilbert A. Anderson, elected zone trustee at the meeting, was instructed to endorse this when the trustees meet with the Nelson city council to make final arrangements on division of costs for the proposed district hospital. Mr. Anderson was declared elected by returning officer Mrs. Frank Drew. Also nominated was E. T. Bodard. Scrutineers were D. C. Leahy and A. G. Smith.

The meeting, with 32 present, chiefly represented the Granite Road district. Other areas in the zone extending around the perimeter of Nelson from Sproule Creek, through Taghum, Blewett, Granite Road, Uphill, South Nelson, Upper Fairview to Atbara, were not well represented.

Points raised in general discussion after Mr. Anderson took the chairmanship of the meeting were the endorsation of the division of the new hospital costs and district representation on the hospital board of directors.

A discussion was held on the possibility of the failure of the Nelson city bylaw. In reply to questions on the bylaw, R. H. Procter pointed out that letting the project drop at this time would result in a loss of government grants to the tune of $120,000. Because the proposed Nelson hospital is an existing project, government ruling allows it to come under the old financing formula of two-thirds government assistance to one-third provided by local taxation. Mr. Procter explained that should the project lapse it would be classified as a new project and come under the new formula whereby government assistance amounts to only 50 per cent of the total cost.

Today's meeting in the Salmo High School will see two trustees elected for the largest zone in the district, which stretches from Hall Creek through Ymir, Salmo, Ross Spur, Erie, Canadian Exploration and Remac, south to the international border.

Chizmazia Crossed Ferry Hours Before House Burned, Jury Told

Louis Chizmazia crossed the ferry about 10:30 p.m. the night his house burned at Castlegar. And he was not alone. There were other cars on the ferry, he told a Supreme Court jury Thursday. The fire was first spotted about 1:10 a.m. next morning.

The accused, facing a charge of perjury arising from a fire marshal's inquiry last August 12 into the burning of his one-room house at Castlegar, told the court he was home at 12:30 a.m. the morning of the fire. He was sure of the time because his wife mentioned it on his arrival and he had "glanced" at his wristwatch.

Chizmazia is charged with falsely saying he was at Renata at 12:30 a.m. July 8, the day his house at Castlegar burned. His car was alleged to have been seen on Castlegar ferry about 1:10 a.m. or 1:15 a.m. July 8. Witnesses testified Wednesday it takes about an hour and 25 minutes to travel from Castlegar to Renata.

The one-room Castlegar house was where the accused stayed while working at Trail smelter. He explained he worked 12 days on one shift, staying at the house, then went to Renata on his four days off. He had purchased the house from Nick Zeebin in 1952 with the idea "my wife and family could stay with me during the Winter months."

After attending a Fruit Growers Association annual meeting at Nelson July 7 he went to Trail seeking a market for cherries, the accused said, explaining he owns a fruit ranch at Renata.

He and a friend went to a beer parlor and later with his nephew Roger Iddings (who had accompanied him to Nelson) he saw a ball game then retunred to Castlegar about 9:30 p.m. With his nephew he had dinner, picked up some baby medicine at a Castlegar drug store and, about 10:30, crossed the ferry and returned home.

He didn't know his house had burned until the next night when he stopped by on his way to work.

Roger Iddings, who had been with the accused constantly during the day and night prior to the fire, verified the accused's movements, saying they arrived home at 12:30 a.m. Mrs. Chizmazia also took the stand to confirm the time they arrived.

Constable R. P. Gilchrist told the court he paid little attention to the car that came up the ferry ramp just before the police car moved down it on the way across to investigate the fire. He and another constable had spotted the glow while on patrol.

The constable said he had later received a number of licence numbers from ferryman C. R. Nickerson, who had taken numbers of cars he didn't recognize for an hour after the fire broke out. Licence number of the accused's car was allegedly among them. The car was identified by witnesses Wednesday as the first car on the ferry after the fire, and the one that left as the RCMP car pulled on, on the Robson side.

A Castlegar druggist who sold the accused and Roger Iddings the baby medicine explained his store had been closed but he was called to fill a prescription about 10:30 p.m. and while at the store the couple had come in and made a purchase.

Another witness, Matthew Rohn of Renata, testified that Chizmazia had been delegated to attend the Fruit Growers meeting at Nelson.

Leo Gansner is crown counsel and F. J. Meagher defence counsel. The trial continues today.

Mrs. S. T. Dawson, Long Nelson Resident, Passes

Mrs. Ellen Dawson, wife of Stanley T. Dawson, manager of the Credit Bureau of Nelson, died Thursday at Kootenay Lake General Hospital. Mrs. Dawson was a district nurse in Nelson prior to being called into the forces. A veteran of World War I, she served as a nursing sister and saw service in Egypt and Palestine.

Mrs. Dawson was vice-president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Church of the Redeemer and is a former member of the Trail branch of the Canadian Legion.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Margaret John of Salmo; one sister, Edith, one brother, William, of Westholme, Vancouver Island, and three grandchildren.

Ceremonies, Parties, Sports Mark Close of Nelson Schools

Shouts of happy schoolchildren could be heard on the school grounds Thursday as they left their classrooms looking ahead to a two-month vacation. Special ceremonies and parties were held in the elementary schools while junior high and high school students completed final examinations.

An awards day completed the year for Central School with many individual class parties taking place. A softball game between the students and teachers highlighted the morning. The annual school track meet was held Wednesday for the Grade 3, 4, 5 and 6 classes, while the grade 1 and 2 classes remained on the school grounds for their own sports day.

Closing day at Hume School was similar to that of Central School as an awards day program was held as well as class parties Wednesday and Thursday at Lakeside Park. The school held a bicycle meet Wednesday to conclude the sports activities of the year.

An awards program highlighted the final day at St. Joseph's Academy for the elementary grades, along with class parties. The junior high and senior high classes were dismissed June 18 after completion of the final examinations.

Students of the Junior High School were dismissed earlier this year because of the construction on the building. June 18 was their last day when the graduation and awards ceremonies were held. Graduation banquet and dance was held June 17.

Grade 12 students recommended were dismissed June 11 and the Grade 11 and 10 students June 15. The last examinati was written Wednesday morning.

Druggists' Meet Hears Report Of UBC Faculty of Pharmacy

A total of 132 students were enrolled at University of British Columbia Faculty of Pharmacy for 1953-54, and of this total 95 passed all courses. Awards, prizes and scholarships awarded to second, third and fourth year students totalled 14.

This information was included in the report of the Faculty of Pharmacy to the fourth session of the annual convention of the Pharmaceutical Association of B.C., here Thursday by Dr. A. W. Matthews, Dean.

A report by A. F. McDuffee, registrar was also among the business conducted Thursday.

Dr. Matthews reported that "the past academic year, while a successful one, was disappointing in one respect inasmuch as the number of graduates declined over the previous year. On the other hand, encouragement can be taken from the fact that the entering class was larger than for several years past. The work of students was generally satisfactory and there was good co-operation between students and staff."

Six awards to the graduating class, five third year scholarships and three second year scholarships were issued to students in 1954.

Pharmacy students were active in many capacities in various campus affairs throughout the term, notably the Red Sross Blood Drive, the homecoming parade and in the sponsorship of the basketball dance. A pharmacy student, Miss Phyllis Cooper served as vice-president of the UBC class of 1954. She was also the first winner of the Class of 1953 Cup to be awarded annually to the student who makes the greatest contribution to campus affairs.

904 PHARMACISTS

Registrar McDuffee told the 63rd annual meeting that at March 1 of this year there were 904 pharmacy chemists in this province. This number included 59 recently registered which include 1954 university graduates and pharmacists who have moved here from other provinces. There are 53 registered student pharmacists and 456 licenced pharmacists in B.C.

The B.C.P.A. will operate a dispensary at the University of British Columbia during the week of the British Empire Games. BEG competitors will be billeted in UBC students' quarters during the week of the event.

Social activities Thursday included a coffee and sherry party for the ladies at the home of Mrs. J. Argyle, and a stag luncheon at the Legion Hall at noon. At night the conventioners partook of a buffet dinner at K'niksu lodge at Balfour. "The Nelson people are sure looking after us," commented one of the visiting pharmacists, G. A. Elliott of Kelowna, vice-president of the Association.

At the noon luncheon Thursday the druggists heard an interesting address on "The Glorious Kootenays" by Harry D. Harrison. The annual meeting winds up today with a banquet at the Hume Hotel. Meetings of the B.C.Ph.A. Council continue Saturday.

Wednesday, F. H. Fullerton, manager, gave a detailed report on public relations.

An item of public interest noted by Mr. Fullerton was that "the Association's position in regard to the suppression of undesirable literature such as horror comics, etc., has received much publicity. In this connection an editorial commenting on the stand of Pharmacy was reproduced and distributed at the Parent-Teacher and Educational conferences in Vancouver during the past year. Pharmacy has received many complimentary comments from educational, religious and community groups in regard to the stand which it is taking in an endeavor to clean up magazine stands in its stores," Mr. Fullerton stated.

Nakusp Asks Removal Of Works Building

NAKUSP — Sixteen members at-ded the dinner meeting of Na-p Chamber of Commerce at the and Hotel when a letter was d from the Town Planning Com-ssion, saying regulations for un-anized areas were established by ncil-in-Council. Regulations re-ding building and zoning re-rements could be introduced. It s the idea of the Chamber to in-duce such regulations for the perty being opened up for sale the north of the community. Fur-r action was referred to the ex-tive.

A letter from the B. C. Power mmission stated that under Sec-n 64 of the Act, an amount equal three per cent of the yearly gross enue could be set aside for eet lights in an unorganized area. edit up to 80 per cent of this ount, totalling $39.50 per month ld be used. Apparently the total ount due the community was not ng used and some lights could added.

Local manager Vic Smith said t he had discussed with the Na-p Development District, the sibility of assessing the water rs for street lights, but had had success. It was possible, though, said to incorporate a street light trict, similar to a village. This orporation would have the right assess fees for street lighting purposes. The district suggested would be everything inside the tracks and both sides of Nelson Av-enue down to waterfront. He thought the total cost would not exceed $300 and would be one mill or less of taxation.

The present method of street lighting, carried on by the Cham-ber was not good business. It was decided to have the executive study the matter and move towards its completion. The same applied to the installation of additional lights under the present set-up.

MONASHEE WORK ASKED

A letter from Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, minister of public works, said it was his intention to look after the Monashee and keep it in the best possible condition. Consider-able work had been done. The meet-ing decided to wire the minister saying that the road was not in good shape, and should be put in good shape. The wire was to be follow-ed up by a resolution from the Roads and Bridges Committee, to the effect that the highway was im-passable except to heavy trucks.

H. M. Rolston reported on the Deer Park opening and discussion with Mr. Gaglardi. He had prom-ised improvements on the Monashee and that it would be kept open ev-ery winter. He was surprised that the bulldozer and grader, ordered for this district, had not arrived. If Chamber would write to him, he would see that they were sent here. A letter was authorized.

M. Fraitzl reported on a meeting with M. C. Struve, district engin-eer. H. Jeal and A. Stanley report-ed on the nuisance grounds. A letter is to be written to the government, asking them to move the present site to a new location as it was a menace to the health of the com-munity.

D. Bruce reported on a visit to Edgewood, to meet Castlegar Board of Trade. He termed the Inonoaklin Valley as "an ideal spot for further improvement and breadbasket for Castlegar."

The Chamber appointed Mr. Bruce to the cemetery board.

MORE BUILDING

The following resolutions were passed:

Whereas the Department of Pub-lic Works has been squatting on privately-owned property adjacent to their own one lot and disrepu-table building, in the heart of the community; and this piece of prop-erty is entirely inadequate to house three trucks, gasoline drums, snow plow blades, culvert pipes, old side-walk plants, etc.; the noise, smoke and smell of this equipment start-ing up in the morning and fueling up at night, is a source of annoy-ance to the community; when trac-tor equipment is available, it is un-able to get to this location, due to the hard-surfaced main street; the Department now has property on the outskirts of the community, be it resolved that the department pro-vide funds to build a proper build-ing on this site and move its equip-ment from the property referred to above.

Resolution No. 2—

Whereas due to the opening of the Monashee highway as an all-year route has caused additional expense to the Arrow Lakes sec-tion of the Kaslo-Slocan riding; the moving of the government equipment to a new site, has been a drain on this year's budget; the unusually heavy spring run-off has been an expenditure extraordinary; the Chamber applies for a larger grant of money to be placed in the hands of the local authorities for administration.

A. J. Butt reported that the sec-retary of the Lumby Board of Trade had phoned saying the Board would do anything it could to further the East-West highway from Winder-mere to Lumby. They further sug-gested that Nakusp organize a meeting of all interested parties from Windermere to Vernon.

After only 16 months of operation, Creston Film Council has purchased this new projection machine, replacing the old one on loan from the National Film Board with this powerful sound equipment. Admiring the model is president, A. Avery; librarian and booking officer, George Hills, and publicity directors, Mona Cook and Betty Brunner.—Buckna photo.

Slocan City Honors Graduates

SLOCAN CITY—Ceremonies for the graduates of the W. E. Graham High School took place in room three of the high school.

Eleven graduates and 23 parents and guests attended the banquet which was prepared and served by the girls of grade nine, supervised by those of grade XI. The class-room was decorated in red and white, tables were centred with lilacs. Programs rolled and tied with ribbon, topped by a black mortar board on which names were written were used as place markers.

The 11 graduates were Bud Rae, James Blanchet, Joan Marchi, Mar-lene Marchi, Beverly Hicks, Jean Miller, Joyce Eto, Sally Terakita, Helen Berekoff, Yoshiko Matsubay-ashi and Hatsume Yamamoto.

H. Parker proposed the toast in honor of the graduates, which was replied to by Marlene Marchi. Helen Berekoff proposed a toast to the teachers, to which E. McLeod replied.

After the banquet, presentation ceremonies were open to the public and a good crowd took the oppor-tunity to see and congratulate the successful students.

Mr. Wilkinson, in his opening remarks, spoke of the 12 years of study that had gone into obtaining this diploma which he called a record of achievement and an in-vestment for the future. B. O'Neail presented the diplomas.

Each graduate thanked the teach-ers and those present for the honors bestowed on them. A gift was also presented to each graduate from the students.

Highlight of the ceremony was the presentation of the PTA schol-arship, which was presented by Mr. Wilkinson, who stated how dif-ficult a task the judges had been called upon to do and that in pick-ing the winner the highest percen-tage for exams this year and gov-ernment exams for last year had been used. The highest mark of 87 per cent was made by Bud Rae, making him the winner.

Photos were taken of the grad-uates and the evening closed with a dance in the Legion Hall.

LORNE MURRAY BACK FROM CIVIL DEFENCE COURSE

GRAND FORKS—Lorne Murray has taken a two-week instructor's course at the Civil Defence College at Arnprior, Ontario, to prepare him to conduct classes in civil de-fence in Grand Forks. He will be aided by the instruction unit which is expected to come here for a week this summer.

This line of work is not alien to Mr. Murray, who has had numerous courses at fire college and first aid. He is chief of Grand Forks fire department's rescue unit and holds certificates in industrial first aid, a requisite for civil defence in-struction.

His name was submitted to the civil defence co-ordinator in Nel-son and arrangements for the trip made by the commission in Vic-toria. There were 50 from all parts of Canada in the class held in the former air training base. Grand Forks' delegate found the exercises "gruelling" and described the mock raids and practices so realistic that "it could have been the real thing." Classes are held all year with small groups such as this receiving ex-tensive training and knowledge to pass on to others.

Civil defence training programs are seriously undertaken especially in the large cities out east, where the people are made aware of its necessity. There is no apathy, he stated.

Program Planned For Nakusp Dominion Day

NAKUSP — Only 10 attended the Nakusp Recreation Association meeting at the Legion Recreation room, called to further Dominion Day sports. The matter of appoint-ing a member to the cemetery board was laid on the table for a week.

A letter was received from A. T. Thiessen of the Recreation Com-mission of the Department of Ed-ucation. His offer to give a short training course to a good swimmer for a lifeguard this summer at the beach, was received and he will be asked to attend a public meeting on July 8th. Mr. Bolstad agreed to look around the high school for a suitable person who could be train-ed to take the job.

The following program was drawn up: Parade forms at 9:00 o'clock, leads off at 9:30; children's sports 10:30; 12 p.m., first ball game, 7 innings, Burton vs Edgewood; 1 p.m., square dancing; 2 p.m., adult sports, also juvenile ball game, Hor-nets (yellow caps) vs Cardinals (red caps); 3:30, Queen crowning; 4:00 ball game, 9 innings, Kamloops vs Nakusp; 7:30 variety show; 10:00 dance.

Groups Decide Against Appeal

FERNIE — No attempt will be made at the present time to in-augurate a united or community appeal in Fernie for national fund drives. This action was decided at a well-attended Chamber of Com-merce sponsored meeting of the various organizations which have taken active part in the soliciting of funds.

All groups represented agreed that separate appeals for funds re-sulted in overlapping of drives, that numerous canvasses caused ir-ritation among donors, that the number of volunteer workers was limited with the result that a small group had to do most of the can-vassing. These same persons often worked on several appeals during the year.

However, it was thought by all that the sums obtained by each organization from a united appeal would be less than what could be obtained through separate, individ-ual appeals. It was also reported that some of the national organiza-tions preferred individual appeals and were loath to join united or community appeals.

Several suggestions for raising funds under a united appeal in-cluded employee payroll deduction plans or the donating of a day's wages. Telfer Dicks, of the Arena Finance Committee, pointed out that many wage earners in the Fernie district had already pledged monthly payroll deductions toward the installation of the artificial ice in the Fernie Arena. The City of Fernie had advanced the money for the installation, following a referendum. The Arena Finance Committee had thoroughly can-vassed the district a year ago and had obtained sufficient pledges to meet the city advance in a period of four years. The obligation to the city must be met, and the organization of a united appeal might jeopardize the artificial ice payment program, he said.

A motion was then passed that no effort be made to form a united appeal organization at this time and that a further meeting would be called about six months prior to the expected final payment of the artificial ice obligation.

Among national fund drive org-anizations represented at the meet-ing were the TB Seals, Polio, Blind, Arthritis, Cancer, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, March of Dimes and Salva-tion Army Red Shield. In addition local service clubs and other organ-izations were present to support their own fund raising projects for community service.

Class valedictorian was Florence Rainko, and historian Gordon Walmsley. New president of the student council, Larry Belway, gave the farewell message.

Addressing the graduates was Kimberley Inspector of Schools D. H. R. Jeffery. Rev. S. H. Irving gave the invocation and short speeches were made by W. L. Ir-vine introducing the graduates, Mayor R. E. Sang, and School Board chairman Murray MacFar-lane.

New Public Health Nurse for Golden And Windermere

INVERMERE — A new public health nurse to serve the Winder-mere and Golden school districts has been appointed by the Depart-ment of Public Health.

Mrs. Edith Fisher, a recent grad-uate of the public health course at the University of British Co-lumbia, will arrive in Invermere around July 15 to take over from Mrs. Wayne Lacy, PHN, who has served the two school districts for the past year.

Mrs. Fisher was formerly on the staff of public health centres on Vancouver Island.

District Interest in Hospital Site High

HARROP—All parts of Kootenay Valley Hospital Improvement Dis-trict zone number one, covering Queen's Bay, Balfour, Longbeach, Procter and Harrop, were well rep-resented by over 40 property own-ers at a lively meeting in Harrop School.

R. H. Procter emphasized that the need for a new hospital, well un-derstood by district people, was growing increasingly evident. At one time during Wednesday there had been no empty beds at all in the hospital and some weeks ago occupation of the 94-bed hospital had stood at 106. Formation of the district had only been possible through the willing help and co-operation of so many of the district people. A spirit of good will had permeated all the work of the past year and enabled the necessary steps to be taken leading to the meeting.

Aftr duties and qualifications of trustees had been explained by Mrs. Frank Drew, returning officer, several names were put forward for nomination as trustees. Many declined to stand because of lack of time and other commitments. When voting was called voters were asked to choose between Mrs. Jo-seph Kieran and C. M. McNown. Gordon Sargent and D. J. Fitchett were appointed scrutineers and when votes were counted returning officer declared C. M. McNown elected. This was the first election in the three meetings held to date. Trustees in zones numbers two and thre were elected by acclamation. They are George Penniket of South Slocan and R. A. Grimes of Willow Point.

CENTRE PRESIDENT

Trustee McNown, who has lived in the district for 18 years, is chair-man of the Harrop and District Community Centre Association. He is a school bus driver. Mr. Mc-Nown took the chair on his elec-tion and opened the meeting for discussion on hospital district mat-ters.

Particular interest was shown in the matter of the site for the new hospital. B. J. Fitchett, a member of the sites committee, advised that this committee had made a careful study of the many sites proposed and finally recom-mended four locations. Experts from the hospital service at Vic-toria were expected in the area shortly to view these sites and make their recommendations.

SCOUTS, GUIDES PLANT PONDEROSA PINE SEEDLINGS

CRANBROOK — Third Troop Cranbrook Boy Scouts and Cran-brook Girl Guides in separate woods expeditions each planted 200 pon-derosa pine seedlings from East Kootenay Tree Nursery in an area in the general vicinity of the junc-tion of the Southern Transprovin-cial and Fort Steele roads.

Expeditions were part of the Guide and Scout programs, and were also a gesture of appreciation to Mel Niedig, Cranbrook West assistant forest ranger. Mr. Niedig has also been Assistant Scoutmaster of Cranbrook troops for some time, and a generous instructor of woods matters including natural history, forest fire prevention and woods-manship for both Scouts and Guides.

Mr. Niedig recently resigned from the B.C. Forest Service and has left for the coast.

Kootenay Must Correct Road Misinformation

It is evident that one of the big jobs the Kootenay must carry out is to correct to the East and West and South and North the misinformation concerning district roads. This misinformation is harming our tourist trade for one thing, and detracts from the reputation of the Kootenay-Boundary as a district with modern amenities.

This newspaper has been insisting for some time that there is a real need to counteract fairly widely held wrong impressions about Interior roads. The Grand Forks Gazette has also found that there is reason for concern and action. Says the Gazette:

"Information given us a few days ago by a tourist travelling through the Southern Interior rather startled us. He had come to Grand Forks over the Hope-Princeton, Anarchist Hill route, and although he did hit the short stretch by Greenwood now in the process of being paved, he had nothing but admiration for the scenery and the roads. This did not surprise us, for we too think Southern B. C. is one of Canada's most beautiful spots.

"But when he told us that filling-station attendants and tourist bureau advisers had told him to go some other way, we were a little perturbed. They had advised him to go East through the States, not through Canada at all!

"We know that our local Board of Trade, and very likely many more of those along the Southern Trans-provincial Highway, have made representations to the Tourist Bureau and gasoline companies, in order that the 'poor-road fallacy' could be eliminated. It seems their efforts have had little effect.

"When you think of the hundreds of tourists and thousands of dollars lost to the Southern Interior, if not to the country, it is understandable why some steps must be taken.

"We would suggest the Board of Trade make further and more definite representations to gasoline companies and others instrumental in directing tourists. Thus visitors may view our beautiful country, and drive on our generally excellent roads. Then we may be able to get our reasonable share of the tourist dollar revenue."

Better Farming Methods Need Demonstrating

In 1901, Canada had a population of 5,371,000 citizens and 511,073 occupied farms. Forty years later the population had reached 11,806,000 and there were 732,832 occupied farms. The national census of 1951 showed the population as 14,099,000 citizens, but the number of occupied farms had dropped to only 623,091.

There has admittedly been a consistent increase in the volume of agricultural production during the first half of this century. But all too many farmers are succumbing to the lure of an easier—if not a better—life in city offices or factories. Their movement from the farms to the city has presented a challenge to the implement makers, and the manufacturers have not been slow to accept that challenge. Industrial research has achieved important gains in the design of easily operated, low-cost, efficient machines that will not only take much of the back-breaking labor out of farming, but materially assist the farmer in cutting costs.

The challenge to the public at large has been less readily accepted by the public's representatives: the Provincial and Federal departments of government dealing with agriculture and land use. All too many farmers are growing the wrong crops on their land because the advisory services of their governments have not yet found time to analyze their soil nor offer a plan of the most effective crop rotation. There is an adequate farm planning service, but there has been no energetic advertisement of the service, and too little demonstration of the results obtainable from the application of the service.

There is no reason to expect that the Canadian population will cease to increase. Nor is there reason to believe that the drift from the farms to the cities will be halted in spite of new developments in the mechanization of agriculture, unless the agricultural experts and administrators make more energetic efforts to relate the new machines to soils and crops.

Occupation: Hobo

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

That delightful song, "The Happy Wanderer", seems to have burst on American radio audiences at the wrong time so far as factual background is concerned. That is, unless it is designed to suggest a backdrop of the Tyrolese Alps rather than the rustic byways of Merrie England.

For, according to Ernie Henson, a bearded wayfarer to whom 30 years of tramping the roads of Britain represents "a way of life", the welfare state has played hob with the life of a hobo. "We have been registered, checked, urged into new-tangled reception stations, persuaded to take regular jobs, bathed, questioned, and generally treated as prehistoric freaks," he says.

Your true tramp or hobo deeply resents the implication that his career is one of worthlessness. He is an itinerant, a vagabond, a follower of the open road, living off the countryside; but he has dignity. And he is not looking for security; he has it.

And he has no more liking for bureaucrats with their forms and red tape than did Henry David Thoreau when he retired to Walden Pond. In fact, that is what makes other fields, possibly French or Italian fields, look greener to Ernie Henson and his few remaining companions in Britain.

The Labor government which inaugurated "fair shares" missed the point that not all the individualists are capitalists with something tangible to share. Mr. Henson's "boys" report that "the French and Italians are prepared to let us alone as long as we behave, and that is all we have ever wanted."

World's Tallest

In years gone by, when arguments got around to the question of Ontario's physical attributes, someone was sure to mention the International Nickel Company's huge smokestacks at Copper Cliff.

Their exact height rarely was given accurately in those discussions, but the fact always was stressed that they were the tallest in the British Empire. And they just missed being the highest in the world, it might be added disparagingly, because an American stack happened to have a few bricks added where they could properly have been omitted.

Young Ontarians, and especially young northerners, were proud of those stacks, and by assertion and the evidence of postcards spread their fame.

Now another generation is receiving something new to boast about. Copper Cliff is getting a new smokestack, one which will tower 115 feet above the two-500-footers so fondly extolled in the past. The highest in the world? Certainly the virile north deserves nothing less.—Windsor Daily Star.

Demented, Nelson—What can I do to stop the roof shingles from turning up?

Nothing. Apparently the only certain cure when shingles turn up is to get new ones. Before being laid they should be well oiled. To nail them down now would only cause splitting.

Press Comment

Retiring senators at 75 gets no support from the Vancouver Sun. "The reform isn't necessarily to be accomplished by such schemes as limiting the age of the senators. Methods must be found to enable the Senate to fulfill its original purpose of playing a role in legislation and government. To make this possible some alteration in the method of appointing senators is required."

The Husband Who Wasn't There

By WILLIAM G. BOGART

(Copyright, 1954, William G. Bogart. Illustrations copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.)

I was feeling the liquor and was wondering what hours her husband kept at the office. I was aware of Louella Townley's eyes watching be curiously.

Standing in front of her, I said harshly, "After all, you're married. Things are different. Why don't you leave me alone? Why bother calling me at the office? What do you think I am, anyway? I've got a heart and lungs, and there's blood in me. I tick inside." I snapped my fingers before her lovely face. "I tell myself it was swell and terrific and all that, but now the lady's married and you forget her. She's private property. Go along and be a private detective, Steve Morgan, and forget all about Lou. She's not for you, chum."

"Steve!" She was also on her feet now. Very close to me. Hands pressed against my chest and the enticing fragrance of her all mixed up with the burn of the liquor.

"Steve, darling. I'm trying to tell you. Dave and I haven't lived together for a year—"

"Furthermore—" I stopped. I frowned down at her. She was tall, but I still had to look down into her upturned face.

"I'm trying to tell you," she said. "It never worked out, Steve. Dave and I are separated. It's all over."

Her hands slid down beneath my arms. She held herself tight against me. "You haven't even kissed me," she said softly.

I put my arms over hers. I tilted her head back and my fingers were lost in her tawny hair. Her warm lips came up and for a long moment there was only the delicate hum of the air-conditioning unit.

Finally she broke away and took a moment, getting her breath. "That's better, you big hard guy."

I felt like I was rocking when I let go of her. Maybe I was.

"I'd heard, Steve, that you'd gone back to operating your own detective agency. That's why I called you," Lou said.

She wanted something. I should have known.

"I called you because there's no one else I can turn to, darling."

I still didn't say anything.

"Dave has disappeared," she announced.

She was sitting down again, but on the edge of the chair. There was tenseness in her.

"You said you haven't seen him in a year."

She shook her head. "I didn't say that. I said we hadn't lived together in a year. Naturally, I've seen him. I couldn't afford to let anyone know the way it was, especially business acquaintances. You know how it is when you're dealing with ad agency people. They're touchy as racehorses at the post. None of them guessed that Dave and I—"

"He disappeared?" I said.

She nodded. "A week ago. I've checked everywhere. There's no trace of him at all!"

I grinned a little. "Did he walk out on you, pet?"

Abruptly she was on her feet again. She walked to a tier table and mashed out her cigarette. Her eyes had darkened.

She snapped, "That's one of the things I want to know! If he's walking out, I'm not giving him the opportunity to divorce me. If divorce is what he wants, it's going to be the other way around. Nobody's making a fool out of me!"

I was intrigued. I've said Louella was ambitious, and now I saw the angle. "Pet," I told her, "I begin to see what you mean. You sue for the divorce and maybe you can collect a nice hundred-thousand-dollar settlement. I understand the guy's worth a bucket of dough. You did all right marrying him. You're a very smart girl, Lou." Then I stood up and started across the room. "But all you need is a shyster lawyer who specializes in divorce stuff. Cut him in for a good slice and you won't have any trouble." My face was hot and the old scar seemed to be burning like a fiery iron across my jaw. "Now, if you'll just tell me where the maid put my hat—"

"There's something else," Louella said. She said it in such a way that I paused, turning back to look at her. She hadn't moved away from the table, but stood there stiffly, eyes intent on my face, her voice almost a whisper as she spoke.

"It's the real reason I called you," she continued. "Steve, you had a reputation once. You were supposed to be good. I imagine it's still that way. You know your way around this town, and you can do this without anyone finding out . . . at least, yet."

"Do what "

"Find out if he's dead. I haven't seen him," she explained. I haven't heard from him. He hasn't been at his office for a week, or up at the lake where the crowd is spending the summer.

"Is that so important? Maybe the guy had something to do."

Slowly she shook her head. "Not Dave. When you're involved in as many deals as he is, you have to be on the job constantly. He never misses spending a part of each day yatching the board at Simpkins Hart, a brokerage office on LaSalle Street. The market has been so erratic. And he always has a dozen things on the fire."

I said, "Did he have any enemies?"

Dogs and Cats

. . . F. B. Pearce

One writer says, "It pays to be a copy-cat if you copy a real cat. I never saw a cat with a bulging abdomen or large hips, or one which looked nervous and twitchy and waddled along as it walked."

Well, maybe so, but have you ever seen a cat, with all its fur stripped off, dressed up in two bits of clothing too far apart? Even a cat in a Bikini bathing suit would show some signs of abdominal adipose or overstuffed hips.

The writer continues, "We can learn to alternate work and play, alertness and complete relaxation. This is what a cat does. It indulges in extreme activity and then goes limp as a rag."

She must have been talking about a different breed of cats, not our Tom, who at present is rather moth eaten, and anything but a picture of "grace and litheness". For weeks past he has been so completely relaxed as to be almost in a state of suspended animation, broken only with intervals for food. As a male of the species, it seems that his job is to pack on weight so as to be in form for the Spring Handicaps. Around Christmas he will be resplendent in dark grey fur, and shortly thereafter he will look as disreputable as any alley cat. At present he is asleep, "as limp as a rag", on a window sill while his mother contemplates life from the top of the kitchen stool. Both are top hands at sleeping, and any "extreme activity" is due to being chased by a dog. This happens only on rare occasions when they set foot outside the house.

ECONOMICS

Cats like to be stroked and petted and when they make a fuss of anyone it is because they want comfort, to sit on a warm lap. They are popularly supposed to be useful for catching mice, but considered in a cold-blooded economic light, it would be cheaper to feed the few mice they kill.

One cat is very like another, but dogs, now, are different. They are not only different from cats, but from one another. They are all shapes and sizes and colors. In this respect they are more human than cats. They are more human in other ways, too. They don't go stepping around in lordly grace giving themselves airs, and it says much for their good sense that when they see cats showing off they promptly chase them up a tree.

Dogs are the right sort of friends to have. They don't care about your social status or your habits, good or bad, and they are on your side all the time.

No one ever saw a bunch of cats having a good time together, but dogs are gregarious animals. They have fun. When Spring comes they celebrate by meeting on school grounds to play tag, indulge in rough and tumble games and enjoy life.

Dogs are strong on duty. Their job is the protection of their master's property. Let another dog come near the baby buggy and bared teeth and snarls greet him. But dogs have a code of behavior. No dog trespasses on another's yard or disputes the right of others to their own territory. A dog is ready to go anywhere with one of the family, and the first word a dog learns to recognize is "walk". They can be fast asleep and still hear that.

Dogs may not have the social graces of cats, but they have their own quaint ways. Our Mr. Dithers has one particular friend. When he is scolded at home he is likely to run to her for comfort and lie behind her kitchen stove.

But for those who do not like dogs or cats there is always the goldfish; but who can like or dislike a goldfish?

12-Year-Old Boy in Quebec Prison Has Toys and Puppy, Says Garson

OTTAWA (CP)—Prison officials say a 12-year-old boy in the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary near Montreal probably is better off and better cared for than he has ever been, the Commons was told.

Justice Minister Garson reported on the boy whose case was raised earlier during the session by CCF members. A. M. Nicholson (CCF-Mackenzie) asked Mr. Garson what prison officials had to say about the boy.

Mr. Garson said the officials report the boy was transferred to the federal training centre at the prison the day after his admission to prison March, 1953.

He was given a scooter, a toy truck, other toys and, on the theory that all boys want to own a dog, a young puppy.

PRIVATE ROOM

He said the officials say the boy seems to have adjusted quite well to his new mode of living and that he is probably better off than he has even been. He is segregated from older prisoners and has a room of his own in the hospital wing.

When the question was first raised by members who saw the boy during a visit to the prison last fall, Mr. Garson read a report on the boy from Solicitor-General Rivard of Quebec. The letter described repeated attacks on children and older persons, homo-sexual tendencies and several escapes from reform institutions and hospitals.

Mr. Nicholson said he hopes Mr. Garson will ask his prison officials to comment on this report which he described one-sided. The boy should not be in a penitentiary, he said.

$7 Million in School Bonds Sold

VICTORIA (CP)—Premier Bennett anounced that the government has sold $7,000,000 worth of school bonds for various school districts at the cheapest rate since it took over the job.

The 3¼ per cent government-guaranteed debentures sold for $98.07, or a net cost of 3.495 per cent.

Under the School Construction Act, the government sells bonds for school districts and pays half the interest and principal as they come due.

The bonds were sold for 54 school districts. They ranged from $1,875,000 for Vancouver to $5000 for Cranbrook.

The government has been getting a steadily-improving price for the debentures since it started selling them almost a year ago.

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) —Five packers and 42 fishermen have been convicted in the last month for catching and processing undersized lobsters, paying fines ranging from $1 to $100. Federal fisheries department officers here warned all violations will be prosecuted.

CHANGES NAME

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"Country Gentleman," oldest farm publication in the United States, will change its name to "Better Farming," Robert H. Reed, editor, announces. Reed said the change, which will become effective late this year, is "more indicative of the magazine's contents." The magazine has been published 101 years by Curtis Publishing Co. Its circulation exceeds 2,600,000.

New Gasoline Seen Re-powering Engines by Second Tankful

Gives Up to 15% More Power

A power-restoring job on the family car can be accomplished now simply by a trip to the service station.

The "re-powering" is achieved by a new additive which researchers say neutralizes lead and carbon deposits, and gives up to 15% more engine power.

Tests Show Power Gain

This encouraging news for car owners came when Shell Oil Company engineers released performance figures on tests conducted using the additive, blended into Shell Premium Gasoline and sold under the trademark TCP.

"TCP overcomes pre-ignition and spark plug misfiring caused by lead and carbon deposits. These have been two major power robbers up till now."

A spokesman pointed out that "all gasoline sold today contains deposit-forming compounds." He said these compounds built deposits in the combustion chambers of all auto engines. It was explained that the deposits often become "hot spots" when power is needed most—for quick acceleration, for instance. As a result, fuel is pre-ignited before the piston reaches proper firing position. Vital power is lost.

"Not only does pre-ignition create power working against you," the Shell spokesman said, "but the deposits—which TCP now neutralizes—form on your spark plugs, causing misfiring, unburned fuel and considerable waste."

TCP Well Received

The new additive blended into Shell Premium Gasoline already has created wide enthusiasm among car owners attracted by Shell's promise of "up to 15% more power without touching a tool."

Drivers are warned, however, that these deposits constantly accumulate with modern fuels—and therefore must constantly be neutralized to keep the power gained. Shell says the only way to insure this is continued use of Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP.

Company sales officials said Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is being handled by all Shell dealers.

RETIRED WOMEN'S EDITOR STILL RECEIVES MAIL LABELLED "PEGGY"

TORONTO (CP)—The 1900s were the golden days for newspaper women editors. You could choose your own assignments and put what ever you wanted in the women's page.

The only drawback was that you probably didn't get paid much. Mrs. A. B. Watt, veteran of more than a half century of newspaper writing, recalled this while attending the Canadian Women's Press Club golden jubilee convention.

The only living charter member of the CWPC, Mrs. Watt started her newspaper career in 1902 with the Woodstock Southern Review where her husband was editor.

"Those were the days to be a newspaper reporter," she recalled. "We chose our own assignment and I used to fill the women's page with whatever I pleased."

Her husband received $10 a week as editor and "goodness knows what the reporters got; I know I was just paid with a song."

WENT WEST

From Woodstock, Mrs. Watt and her husband went to Edmonton where Mr. Watt founded the Edmonton Saturday Review, with Mrs. Watt as women's editor. Later he joined the editorial staff of the Edmonton Journal where he still is editor emeritus.

With three children to bring up, Mrs. Watt retired from full-time news work and opened an antique store. She did free-lance writing for newspapers, magazines and later radio.

She did most of her writing under the pseudonym "Peggy" and still receives mail addressed simply to "Peggy, Edmonton."

Now, Mrs. Watt's two daughters both write and her son, Cmdr. Fred B. Watt, RCN, writes poetry and sea stories. A grandson, Erik Watt, is city editor of the Lethbridge Herald.

"I don't do much writing now," Mrs. Watt said. "But whenever I get the yen, I dash off an article. With three generations in the family, I have to keep on my toes."

Russians Tour New York City

By JACK WEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP) — What happened when a group of Soviet intellectuals are turned loose in a capitalist town like New York?

For nearly two weeks now, eight chess masters from the Soviet Union have been looking this city over in between games of an American-Russian tournament. In large measure, they have behaved like any other visitors to the great metropolis.

The visiting masters said they were greatly impressed by the 1200-foot high Empire State building but not so much with the other tall buildings "because we have the same in Moscow."

In large and small groups, the Russians have also visited Radio City music hall and the Soviet UN delegates' residence at Glen Cove, Long Island; taken in movie shows and watched baseball games on television in their hotel suite. They thought Radio City was "wonderful."

The Russians say they consider the U. S. team one of the strongest in the world, though they themselves were ahead throughout the tournament.

Diplomats Face Etiquette Issue

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Several diplomats here are sending cables to their governments for instructions on a ticklish problem of etiquette.

Dr. Rajendra Prasad, India's president, has invited all members of the diplomatic corps to a reception Friday night for Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

Half the diplomats here are from countries which do not recognize the Communist Chinese government. At the same time, it is unheard of for an invitation from the president to be refused.

Among the diplomats in the quandry is E. M. Reid, Canadian high commissioner.

U. S. ambassador George Allen is on vacation in Kashmir so the problem does not arise for him.

Procter's Grade X Grads Hold Award Banquet

PROCTER—The students' Council of Procter Superior School held its fourth annual award banquet in Holiday Inn dining room which was decorated. Grade X graduates, Norene Friesen and Olga Stoochinoff wore corsages, and Dean Renzie a boutonniere, gifts from the principal and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. T. Wickstrom. Cyril Podmero also finished Grade X but had taken it largely by correspondence.

Heather MacLeod asked the blessing and Dean Renzie, master of ceremonies, proposed the toast to the queen. Anne Pomaranski gave the toast to the Parent-Teacher Association. The president, Mrs. A. J. Garner, replied.

Violet Friesen paid tribute to the Flashlight Club, which annually presents a three-act play as family entertainment and uses the proceeds towards student intrests. Mrs. Alec Maclean responded. Cecile Mucha proposed the toast to the teachers, Mr. Wickstrom, W. A. Henke and Mrs. C. S. Price, and to the school. Mr. Henke replied. Master of ceremonies proposed a toast to the caterers and Mrs. C. A. Brady replied.

B. J. Fitchett, Procter school attendance area representative advised the graduates to continue their education in preparation to earning a living.

Presentation of awards followed at the Community hall. Trophies and awards were displayed on a table and overhead, glittering capital letters spelled out "award night" in silver on a black background. The ceremonies opened with "O Canada" played by Josephine McMullin.

Mr. Wickstrom spoke briefly, listing the Sports' awards and giving an explanation of the block letter and crown awards which are given for achievements in the fields of scholarship combined with student extra-curricular activities and athletics.

For the Flashlight Club, Mrs. Alec Maclean presented the inter-House trophy cup to the Captain of the winning House A, Dean Renzie and the individual cup and maple leaf crest to the highest scorer in the Procter-Harrop elementary schools, Maxine Paulhus. Runnerup James Mucha won a crest and a special award from the president of the Flashlight Club was presented to James Bedard for 'a job well and willingly done'. James was the Grade VI pupil who undertook an adult role in the club's Spring play at the 11th hour.

Dean Renzie, Captain of House A, accepted the House pennant from Mike Radulovich, Captain of House B, and as president of the Students' Council presented the individual cup to the highest point-winner of the seniors, Grant Hazelwood, who had a score of 25.

Mrs. Garner presented the citizenship award posted by the PTA to Millicent Dvorak of Grade VIII, mentioning that this is the first time it has been won by a student outside the senior room. Mr. Wickstrom presented the West Arm individual sports trophy for the highest boys' score to James Mucha and the one for 1953 to Warren Garner. He presented the West Arm individual sports trophy for the highest girls' score to Maxine Paulhus. Last year it was won by Susan Nield of Willow Point. Willow Point again won the inter-school cup in the four-school meet.

Mr. Wickstrom made the block letter and crown awards with small block letters going to Mary Dvorak, Gerald Iwanik, Cecile Mucha, Grant Hazelwood, Mike Radulovich, Nancy Stoochinoff and Lynn Ferguson. He noted that it is unusual for a pupil in a grade lower than 8 to attain enough points to win a block letter, but Lynn Ferguson, Grade VII, achieved it on academic standing alone.

Large block letter awards went to Olga Stoochinoff, Dean Renzie, and Heather MacLeod. Dean Renzie won his first crown and Cyril Podmero his second. Mr. Henke presented honor cards to Lynn Ferguson, John MacLeod, Millicent Dvorak, Heather MacLeod, Anne Pomaranski, Nancy Stoochinoff and Mary Dvorak. Heather MacLeod and Nancy Stoochinoff were also winners of honor cards last term.

Norene Friesen gave the valedictory address. Violet and Norene Friesen sang "Whispering Hope" as a duet with Norene also playing the piano accompaniment.

Mr. Wickstrom announced that he had accepted a position as principal of a high school. He came to Procter Superior School as principal from Grand Forks last term.

Heather MacLeod played "God Save the Queen" to close the exercises. The evening ended with dancing. Lunch was provided by the mothers and served by the senior girls. All decorations were done by the students.

The 475-foot vessel, which has an all-welded aluminum superstructure, was launched in Quebec Monday.

The ship's main function will be to carry alumina from Port Esquivel, Jamaica, to the new Alcan smelter at Kitimat, a 4800-mile voyage.

On the return voyage to the Caribbean, it can be used to haul aluminum ingot, flour, grain, lumber, fish and newsprint from B.C.

Duke Inspects Rhine Soldiers

LUENEBURG, Germany (CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh, piloting his personal plane, arrived Thursday from Paris for a one-day inspection of units of the British army of the Rhine.

He also included a visit with his sisters, who are married to German princes.

The duke was greeted by bagpipes playing a Scottish air as he walked slowly along the ranks of a guard of honor of kilted troops drawn up on the tarmac.

Colonel-in-chief of the regiment, the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, he wore its uniform kilt as he inspected the guard and stopped to talk to several men.

He came to Lueneburg after a two-day visit to Allied defence headquatrers in Paris.

'Peg TV Station Cost $153,000

OTTAWA (CP) — A return tabled in the Commons Thursday for Ross Thatcher (CCF—Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) said expenditures to May 1 on the CBC's TV station in Winnipeg totalled $153,000. The station was on the air with limited facilities and orders were being placed for additional equipment required.

A second return for Mr. Thatcher said equipment has been ordered for the new CBC television station in Halifax and that construction of the transmitter building is scheduled to start in August.

Trifle Mistaken

PERTH, Australia (Reuters) — Canadians and Australians have "a comic book concept" of each other, C. T. Bissell, University of Toronto Professor of Literature and History said Thursday.

In Australian eyes, he said, Canada is a place of "ice, snow, Eskimos, Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Rose Marie."

"Our concept of Australia is limited in the same way with emphasis on a fringe habitation with a huge desert in the centre, Davis Cup players and surfboard riders."

Bissell, in Australia to study Australian literature, said he had gained understanding of Australia through its art and urged interchanges of university staffs and students, and more direct cultural interrelations.

How to Be Safe When Driving

VANCOUVER (CP) — Take it easy in your holiday driving and you'll get back home without running into trouble on the road.

That's the advice from British Columbia Automibile Association, which issued some driving tips for a safe vacation.

BCAA officials suggest your car be in tip-top shape before your trip starts. They recommend each day's driving be limited to about 300 miles and urge you to stop for a rest before you're too tired to continue safely.

When on strange highways, observe traffic regulations and signs, and always yield the right of way to another driver rather than risk a collision.

G. FORKS AIRPORT RUNWAY EXTENDED

GRAND FORKS — Markers at the city airport were given a new paint job this week and have come out a spanking red and white. This face-lifting is done every two years.

Continuing with improvements commenced last year, the Great Northern Railway fill at the extreme end of the field has been levelled. Trains at one time made daily runs to and from Spokane along this route, but after the closing of the Granby Smelter, shortly after the first war, the tracks were taken out.

The levelling work has just been completed by the city crew and Percy Sewers, who has use of the airfield for his private plane.

With the shutting off of the present road to the west of the airport and the construction of a new road farther down, the runway will be extended another thousand feet, making the length about 3800 feet.

Maintenance of the airport will be kept up and additional improvements are slated for next year.

SUSPENDED SENTENCES ON FORGERY CHARGES

CRANBROOK — Forgery offences, one of them over three years old, occupied the attention of city court as Dennis Hall and Jack Lowen of Calgary pleaded guilty to forgery of a traveller's check before Magistrate Richard Shiell. Each was given six months suspended sentence. The check in question was property of a newcomer to Canada from Holland, Fred Meismuller, and was for $50. The pair made full restitution.

Second case dealt with forgery of a check for $56 here in 1951, property of a Vancouver man. C. J. Chenier, no fixed address, who recently completed a sentence at Prince Albert penitentiary was escorted here by RCMP for hearing on the charge of forging this check, pleaded guilty, and was remanded by Magistrate Richard Shiell for sentence.

NO INJURY IN TRANSPORT ACCIDENT

NATAL — Although the driver escaped serious injury, a Pacific Inland Express transport sustained considerable damage when it overturned on its side after being forced off the hard surface by a car headed west. The accident occurred a few miles east of Michel. The transport and the load were soon removed.

Trail Athletic Association Set For Summer of Much Activity

TRAIL — With the weather finally turning fine the Trail Athletic Association is getting ready for a large summer program.

Playground directors will be placed on nine playgrounds throughout the city, where they will be responsible for organizing playground activities for the community, which they will be serving. The nine playgrounds are Shaver's Bench, Butler Park, Sunningdale, Central School, B. Street and Austad Lane, Byers Lane, James L. Webster, Warfield and Tadanac.

The directors selected are Elva Bernava, Marsia Degan, Joyce Cameron, Lorna Ryder, Marilyn Meyers, Roberta Bowen, Doreen Davidson, Irene Babcock, Evelyn Patterson, Doreen LaRocque and Jean Attaway. Assistant athletic director for this season will be Billy Lee. These directors will commence a three-day, "staff training institute," which is so planned to give them a good idea of what is expected of them and to prepare them for the task which lies ahead.

Official opening of the summer playground program will be Friday, July 2. Directors by this time will be placed on their respective playgrounds and once again the theme "The TAA Helps You to Play," will be heard from the throats of thousands of boys and girls.

Last season, so much success was realized by the re-organization of track and field, that this season, will once again see Joe Haley organizing and training the participants of the TAA Track and Field Association. Many meets have been planned in addition to the invitational track and field meet, which will take place in the early Fall.

Another large feature of the summer playground program is the Jubilee Swimming Pool. With the addition of a chlorinator and much paint, the pool is all set to cater to the hundreds that will be using it daily. Red Cross swimming classes will be conducted, starting Saturday, June 26, and it is anticipated that 450 students will enroll. Adult swim classes, which proved so successful last season, will again be held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The management of the swimming pool will be under Larry Ford, Noel Caputo and Patty Krause.

All programs will be under the direction of Dmitri Goloubef, athletic director for the Trail Athletic Association.

TENDERS TO BE CALLED FOR CEMETERY WORK

SLOCAN CITY—For the second time the request for volunteers by the Cemetery Committee has been well responded to, resulting in considerable improvemnt in the conditions of the cemetery. Trucks and volunteer workers cut brush and hauled soil for filling and levelling the ground.

The committee has decided to call tenders to complete the remainder of the work, or part of it, in as far as finances allow.

Tarred wooden blocks with aluminum name plates will be made and all graves that can be identified will receive a name plate; others will be marked by a plain block with a hope of later identification.

It is the hope of this committee, given time and money, to see this cemetery in a condition that will allow a power mower and a man to keep it in shape for the summer months.

PARK TO BE CLEANED FOR SPORTS DAY

INVERMERE—Preparations are in full swing for the third annual Lions' Sports Day to be held at the Lions' Park at the Crossroads July 1. Convener is C. R. Tipple of Athalmer.

A full program of events is planned, including baseball games, midway games and a mechanical ride for the children.

A clean-up day at the park is planned for Sunday next.

A dinner meeting saw the installation of officers. The new president succeeding Joe Renwick of Canal Flat is Vaughan S. Kimpton of Windermere; vice-presidents are Melvin McArthur of Windermere, D. C. Cameron of Edgewater and Chris Madson of Radium Hot Springs. Secretary is E. S. Mitchell of Edgewater and treasurer Adolf Sattmann of Windermere.

'FORKS PURCHASES NEW EQUIPMENT

GRAND FORKS — Latest piece of machinery to be purchased for the City of Grand Forks is an Oliver model 77 Industrial tractor with a Henry Back hoe and Loader and a front end blade for snowplowing and grading. It was bought for $6500.

The hiring of this type of equipment up to this time was costly enough to warrant the purchase of this machinery for city use, it was decided. The loader is being used for gravel loading.

CRANBROOK — Schools Inspector for Cranbrook district, F. P. Levirs, has been notified by the Department of Education of his appointment to the position of chief inspector of schools for the province, with headquarters at Victoria. Specific date he takes on his new duties has not been set. He leaves soon for Victoria where he will lecture at the summer session of the Provincial Normal School as he has done in past years.

Around the KOOTENAY in Sport

By LEN WALKER

An effort is being made to procure for Nelson additional facilities for sporting events.

This, and the last several seasons have seen many sports revived to the point that Nelson today has more sporting activities going on than in any time in its history.

The Recreation Grounds is loaded to capacity with many organizations unable to get time on the grounds due to its heavy schedule.

The newly-elected Recreational Committee, headed by H (Fritz) Farenholtz, will be doing the city and athletes a favor should they further plans for new playgrounds. This new organization has already taken the first step. It has written two letters to get work done on both the Falls Street playground and the one in Gyro Park.

The committee will also act as organizers for recreational needs. It must be remembered that already Nelson has a capable instructor who has done much good work along these lines thus far. Nothing should be done by the committee to distract from the present program. If the effort is in agreement with and adds to the recreation program, well and good, but if it conflicts, the community will be the loser; something Nelson can ill afford.

The fortunes of this recreational group and the sporting picture in Nelson will largely depend upon the spirit of all concerned.

We note with interest that baseball in the East Kotenay city of Kimberley is going over in a big way this year, with fans turning out by the hundreds to witness top notch ball.

A letter from friend Les James in the mining city states that the Kimberley team has entered the Spokane Twi-light League of five clubs, four of them from the American city.

Kimberley this season has what we would call the best setup seen in senior ball in the Kootenays in some time.

Travelling expenses for the club are nil as it plays all home games with the sponsored Spokane clubs, each making the trip to Kimberley on a weekend when two games are played. Believe it or not, all games count in the standing too.

When the season closes, all teams will have played 20 games and trophies and prizes will go to the teams finishing in first and second place.

If we know Kimberley, they will give a good account of themselves in this type of a league. Much work has gone into the team this season to see to it that fans will be given their money's worth.

Coach Rusty Wynn has some fine boys on the club in Pete Boisvert—Trail's loss and Kimberley's gain—Elgin Smith and Eric Bodin who look after the pitching chores. Outfielders Jimmy McDonald, also from Trail and Howard Thomas, a lad who has had experience in Senior A company at the coast also help to give Kimberley a balanced team.

Congratulations go to Kimberley sportsmen for coming up with a senior ball answer.

Giants Hold 1-Game Edge; Indians Drop Another

By The Canadian Press

The Cleveland Indians looked back over their shoulders once too often Thursday and their nearest rivals, Chicago and New York, cut another game off their American League lead.

The Indians managed only five hits off rookie Arnold Portocarrero and bowed to the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1. The White Sox crept within two games by beating Washington 5-2 and the third place Yankees, who open a three game series in Cleveland tonight, downed Detroit 11-2.

Cleveland's loss was its second in three days to the revived Athletics who have won 11 of their last 14. Lou Limmer and Joe De Maestri led the Philadelphia attack on Art Houtteman with home runs.

Sandy Consuegra got expert help from Billy Pierce in the closing innings and picked up his ninth victory for Chicago. Pierce took over with one out in the seventh and hurled hitless ball.

SOX START QUICKLY

The Sox got away fast with two runs in the first on a walk, a single by George Kell and a double by Johnny Groth. They added a run in the fourth on a walk plus singles by Jim Rivera and Consuegra and the final two in the sixth on Kell's home run, a walk, a double by Rivera and a sacrifice fly.

Tom Morgan tamed the Tigers for his fifth victory against a single loss as the Yankees unleashed a 16-hit attack on three Detroit pitchers. Mickey Mantle drove in four runs with a pair of doubles and a single. Harvey Kuenn homered for Detroit, Morgan for New York.

In the National League the New York Giants kept their one game edge over the Brooklyn Dodgers with a 2-1 victory against Milwaukee. Brooklyn defeated Cincinnati 9-6.

All of the runs in the Giants' game came on homers. Andy Pafko put Milwaukee into a brief lead with a blast into the right field stands in the second inning. But after a single by Don Mueller, Willie Mays found the upper left field seats with his 23rd homer of the campaign. Don Liddle, acquired from the Braves during the winter, allowed his former mates just four hits. Warren Spahn was the loser.

In the Brooklyn slugfest the Dodgers produced five runs with homers by Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Junior Gilliam. Ted Kluszewski and Ed Bailey homered for Cincinnati. Snider ran his hitting streak to 15 games.

The St. Louis Cardinals found welcome relief in righthander Brooks Lawrence, just up from Columbus. The rookie gave the Pittsburgh Pirates only 4 hits in recording a 5-1 triumph. Stan Musial broke a 0 for 14 batting slump with an infield single his first time up but went hitless in his next four appearances. Lawrence struck out four and walked two.

Boston and Baltimore in the American League got a well-deserved day off after playing 17 innings Wednesday night.

Earl Torgeson's 11th-inning bases-loaded single scored Del Ennis with the winning run as Philadelphia Phillies edged Chicago Cubs 3-2 in a National League game under the lights. It was the only night game in the majors.

Herman Wehmeier went the route for the Phils, giving up only five hits, including second-inning homers by Hank Sauer and Steve Bilko. Paul Minner was the loser.

Jim Christie Soccer President

James Christie was elected to head the Nelson Football Club for the 1954 season at a meeting at the Civic Centre.

George Crothers was elected secretary treasurer and Lawrie Dodd publicity agent.

On the selection committee are Steve Cameron, Ed Kelter, Dave Cathcart, Jim Christie and Bill Cook.

This committee will work toward giving Nelson a good start in soccer this season.

The club will play host to the Rossland team next Wednesday in their second meeting of the season. In the first game last week they tied 4-4 in a game at Rossland.

NATAL — The opening game of the Natal-Michel Little Leaguers saw Natal Yankees trounce the Natal Indians 23-5.

Tennis Tourney Goes Into Fourth Round at Nelson

With the advent of summer weather tennis enthusiasts in the district are looking forward to greater use of their courts in preparing for the fourth round of the travelling tennis league.

The West Kootenay Travelling Tennis League resumes play Sunday with the league leading Tadanac club playing at Nelson. The Nelson players are hoping to make up for a total of 17 matches that have been rained out and several wins Sunday would put them in an advantageous position in the final scoring race.

Meanwhile the Rossland club visits Trail who are playing their first matches on their home courts. Previous matches had to be cancelled due to sickness on the Nelson Club. Rossland holds second place in the league standings over Trail by one point and the last meeting of these clubs on the Rossland Courts saw Rossland take close 6-5 victory, and Trail members will be fighting to catch first place Tadanac.

Much discussion has taken place already this year concerning the playing of the Chesser, Murray and Wallinger Trophy matches. These cups symbolize the men's, ladies' and mixed doubles championships of the West Kootenay and are usually played in Nelson and Rossland. A meeting of representatives from the four clubs is to be arranged as soon as they can be contacted and it is hoped that these matches can be run off the second weekend in July. With the revival of the Travelling Tennis League this year more teams are expected to be entered this year than in previous years.

Strong Transfers Advance Lead With 6-4 Victory

The Transfers grabbed an even stronger hold on first place in the Nelson and District Fastball League Wednesday when they dumped Playmors 6-4 at South Slocan.

For the Playmors it was a tough loss as they outhit the Transfers 10-6, but failed to get the hits when they would count most.

Transfers started early as they got to Perehoodoff for three runs in the first frame on a single and five walks.

Playmors got back in the game in the third when they counted twice on an error and two singles but Transfers, fighting to gain on the rest of the league, came back with a run in the fifth on two singles and an error.

Transfer scored their two remaining runs in the eighth on two errors and a double by Keith Harrison, who chucked the distance for the Transfer, his second win in two nights.

Playmors, striving to get back in the game, started a rally in the final frame and managed to get two runs before the side was retired. The two runs came on one big blow, a homer by James with a man on base.

Harrison struck out seven and walked two while Perehoodoff struck out three and walked six. Playmors had four errors while the Transfers had five.

Metaline Falls Dump Outlaws

Nelson Outlaws travelled to Metaline Wednesday where they were defeated 4-2 by the American club.

The Outlaws, with just enough men to play the game, found the offerings of Reynolds tough until ninth frame when they managed to put together two singles and a triple to account for their two runs.

The Metaline team tucked the game away as early as the second frame when they counted three runs. They added their fourth in the fifth.

Metaline, in second place in the Washington-Idaho baseball league, displayed good fielding as they held the Outlaws from the score sheet on many occasions after they advanced players to third base.

Reynolds was exceptional on the mound for Metaline as he struck out 15 Outlaw batters with many coming in the clutches when men were on base.

Stan Grill on the mound for the Outlaws also pitched great ball, but errors by his mates at the wrong time caused him trouble.

SIX RELAY TEAMS TO SWIM LAKE ONTARIO

TORONTO (CP)—Six teams, including one from Egypt, are expected to enter a relay swim across Lake Ontario in September, George Duthie, sports director of the Canadian National Exhibition, said.

Prizes total $20,000, with $10,000 going to the first-place team. Rules call for a minimum of four swimmers, with a maximum of five, for all-male or mixed teams, and a maximum of six for all-women groups.

Florence Chadwick's attempt at a solo swim across the lake is to start the night of Sept. 6 from Fort Niagara, N. Y., Duthie said. She is expected to finish the 32-mile grind about 6 p.m. Sept. 7.

If the San Diego, Cal., girl completes the swim, she will win $10,000.

Mrs. Brown, McGregor Capture First In Golf Tourney

Mrs. R. R. Brown and E. McGregor captured the two ball foursome event at the Nelson Golf and Country Club course Wednesday night when 36 members participated. Miss Helen Sloan and W. Vance took the hidden hole event.

At the conclusion of play a buffet supper was served to the members in the club house.

Fruitvale Stops Leafs With Run In Final Frame

Fruitvale All-Stars upset Nelson Maple Leafs 7-6 in an exhibition game at Fruitvale, before a fair crowd Wednesday.

It wasn't until the final frame that Fruitvale was able to push across the winning marker on the strength of Andy Bilesky's double.

The game was a tight affair until the final frame as both clubs showed spectacular fielding.

Both clubs scored single runs in the first and second with Nelson going ahead in the fourth when they counted three times. Fruitvale picked up two runs in the fifth and after the Leafs scored one in the sixth Fruitvale added their fifth in the same frame and then evened matter in the eighth setting the stage for the final time at bats when they eked out the win.

Frank Hufty led the Leaf batters with four hits with two being doubles, while Bill Johnson led the Fruitvale nine with three safe blows, one a double.

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The eight teams left in the world soccer championships took their final full-scale workout Thursday before the weekend's "sudden death" quarter-finals.

London CC Suggests New System For Paying International Debts

OTTAWA (CP) — The London Chamber of Commerce proposed that the world's present system of international payments be eliminated and a new one created to bring an end to restrictions between dollar and sterling area countries.

Under the proposed new system, exporting countries would be able to accept in payment only goods and services of other countries, and nothing more.

If a country such as the United States chose to export more than it imported, it would have to, in time, withdraw the resulting surplus as a form of public works undertaken to keep its own people fully employed.

A. de V. Leigh, chamber secretary, told the Senate trade committee the new system "would be a most effective answer to Communism."

It would become more attractive than that of the Communist system and even Russia would realize that in the event of war "their satellites would come over to our side at the first opportunity."

B. C. Sales Up 10 Per Cent

OTTAWA — Department store sales were up 10 per cent in British Columbia in the week ending June 12, the biggest increase registered anywhere in the country.

Next largest increase was in Quebec, where sales were up 6.8 per cent. Slight increases were noted by the bureau of statistics in Ontario and the Atlantic provinces.

Sales were down sharply across the wheat-glutted prairies—down 9.5 per cent in Manitoba and 16 per cent in Saskatchewan.

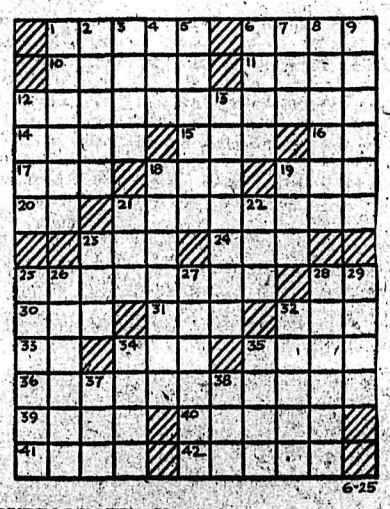
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices scored another in their long string of new high marks with a broad advance that carried on strongly in the late afternoon.

Higher Canadian stocks included Canadian Pacific and Hiram Walker, both up and Distillers Seagram up.

TORONTO (CP) — Prices moved a little lower in light trading toward close. Industrials countered the lower trend.

Industrials were strong in papers, utilities, foods, liquors, refining oils, financial institutions, and motors. Constructions and manufacturers were weak.

MONTREAL (CP) —Prices edged forward in quiet trading.

Steels and utilities showed a mixed pattern while carriers and banks held firm. The remainder of the industrial market leaned forward.

LONDON (Reuters) — Trading was cautious pending further developments in the Indo-China situation and the outcome of the Churchill-Eden visit to the U. S.

Government securities were firm without much change.

A. V. Roe Making Top-Secret Jet

LONDON (CP) — Crawford Gordon, head of A. V. Roe of Canada Ltd., announced Thursday that his firm is developing privately a new top-secret jet engine.

Gordon told a press conference: "We are developing a new engine as a private venture and we think it is the most advanced engine being developed."

He declined to disclose any details of the engine's expected performance, but said that titanium, a light metal with an extremely high melting point, will play a large part in its construction. He said it was hoped to reduce substantially the weight of the engine through use of this metal.

Bar Association Elects Wooton

VANCOUVER (CP) — R. A. Wootton of Victoria Thursday was elected vice-president of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Bar Association.

A native of Victoria, he was admitted to the bar in 1924, and last year he was appointed a bencher of the Law Society of B.C.

He has also been president of the Victoria Bar Association.

Mr. Wootton takes over the post from Walter S. Owne of Vancouver.

Five members of the section's council elected were: Frank H. McK. Bonnell, Vancouver; M. M. McFarlane, Vancouver; Prof. M. M. McIntyre, University of B.C.; J. G. Ruttan, Victoria; and J. D. Taggart, Vancouver.

Camp Lourdes to Feature Films

CAMP LOURDES — When the boys from Nelson and East Kootenay invade the camp for its opening Saturday, an international character will be evident as several applications have been received from Metaline Falls and Spokane. Father Smith is again the Camp Director and is assisted by Father Postma. In charge of the boys are Rev. Mr. Thompson of Toronto, J. Coulson of Montreal, Rev. Mr. C. Fraresso of Toronto and R. Stockmann, who has recently arrived from The Hague.

Mrs. Vi Mason is again in charge of the culinary department, capably assisted by Dennis Frie of Kaslo.

Father Smith has had a workparty at the camp for the past two weeks and reports that the water is going down rapidly. An added feature at the camp this year will be films to be presented by the Nelson Film Council.

Sugar beets are grown commercially in Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec.

Dominica Seeks Trade Balance

OTTAWA (CP) — Rafael Paino Pichardo, Dominican Republic's first ambassador to Canada, regards bettering his country's trade balance with Canada as one of the main problems of his new job.

"At the moment my country imports much from Canada, but does not export enough to compensate," he said in an interview. The tiny Caribbean republic buys from Canada goods worth about $8,000,000 more than those it sells to this country.

"My country used to supply 63 per cent of the sugar consumed in Canada, but last year this was cut down," the ambassador said. He hopes to improve the sugar situation and also find markets in Canada for Dominican coffee, cocoa and possibly tobacco, other products of his predominantly agricultural country of 2,500,000 population.

This is the first time the 55-year old ambassador has been to this country and he said he finds Canada "most delightful."

Announce Date Of Colombo Plan Meeting

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Pearson announced Thursday that the annual meeting of the consultative committee of the Colombo Plan will be held in Ottawa Oct. 4-9.

He said delegates from the Colombo Plan countries will review the progress of economic development in the Far East during the last year and survey contributions by member countries.

Orders Further U.S. Wheat-Planting Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson has ordered a further cut of 13 per cent in U. S. wheat-planting for the 1955 crop and called a grower referendum for July 23 to approve rigid marketing quotas to enforce planting goals.

Benson also announced perhaps the strictest controls in the history of American farming to prevent the production of new crop surpluses. The government now has about $8,500,000,000 invested in farm surpluses, mainly wheat, cotton, corn, and dairy products.

The wheat reduction comes on top of a 17 per cent decrease in this year's wheat acreage. With the harvest of this year's crop, the U. S. will have a two-year supply of this bread grain.

MANY TRACTORS

Canadian farms had one tractor for every 242 acres of improved agricultural land in the last census.

Official Opening for Mid-Summer Spiel To Be Held Monday Night

Curling will get under way early Monday morning, July 12, but the official opening for the Mid-Summer Bonspiel will take place at the mixer party Monday evening.

The committee has decided that for the first draw Monday, few people would be on hand and it was not fair to ask Mayor Joseph Kary or any other dignitary to officially open the spiel at that time.

On the question of liability for the hockey players in the Summer game it was decided to leave this in the hands of the chairman, Earl Jorgenson, and secretary Jack Morgan, with power to act.

H. (Nap) Lupton, chairman for the hockey game, said plans to stage the hockey game with Vernon Canadians were progressing. Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings assured the committee by phone that he would say next Monday whether he will be able to play for the Leafs.

NEW LOOK

The curling ice will have a new look as the space behind the circles will be painted green and every rink will be asked to take the rocks from the playing area after each game is completed, thus giving the rink a clean appearance.

Dave Cathcart, president of the Nelson Curling Club, suggested that racks near the playing surface be made to hold the brooms after each game. Players would not have to waste time trying to locate brooms for games.

It was reported that plans are under way to have several mayors from prairie cities bring a rink of aldermen to compete against Nelson's Mayor Joseph Kary in feature games to be played Wednesday night.

FOUR BANDS

George Benwell reported that four bands have been lined up for the parade which is expected to be one of the largest held in Nelson. The bands will consist of the Claresholm Pipe Band, Trail Maple Leaf Band, Kootenay Kilties and the Nelson High School Band.

A. B. Gilker will act as parade marshal which will see all the Nelson Little Leaguers in the parade as well as clowns, banners and curlers.

Bill Horner reported that although a place to hold the Jaycee beach party has still to be selected, everything is going ahead as scheduled. Plans for the hoedown are fast becoming finalized.

Mrs. O. G. Macintyre, chairman for the ladies' curling club tea, stated plans are going ahead to hold the tea in the Silver Room.

N. C. Stibbs has offered to look into another tea to be held on the lawn at Bonnington Falls. It was felt by the committee that this would be a big attraction for the women visitors to the city.

Koolaree Opens For 24th Year

CAMP KOOLAREE — The 1954 Koolaree camp sessions will open Monday with the Senior and Intermediate Boys moving in under the directorship of Fred Robins.

This will be the twenty-fourth camping year at Koolaree, and the camp has come a long way in that time, with improvements being kept up to date and in good repair through the strenuous efforts of the camp fraternity. Some of the fraternity members, under the guidance of Jack Steed of Nelson, have at the same time kept the fleet of boats in good shape. Letters from the boys indicate they are proud of the job they have done on the "Pop Smillie" this spring.

Among the repairs and improvements accomplished this spring by the fraternity and assisted by some of the young people of Trail and Rossland are the re-flooring of cabins two and four. New sills were put under the dining hall and cabin two. The major improvement was the finishing of the work centre at the rear of the memorial administration hut, this will provide a place to carry out handcrafts on wet days and leave the lodge free for other activities.

The Junior Boys' camp will take over on July 9 with Fred Robins again in charge. Directors for the succeeding camps will be Miss Carol Proudfoot, the Intermediate Girls, July 20; Mrs. J. D. McMynn, the Junior Girls, July 31; and Mrs. J. W. Little, the Senior Girls, Aug. 9.

The young people of the district will again occupy the camp for the weekend of Aug. 20-22 and the family camp will be in session Aug. 23 to September 3.

Throughout each camp some thought will be given to planning the 1955 celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the camps. Koolaree is unique in that those who made possible the camp in 1931 and set the pace of high Christian ideals, are still actively interested in the camp, its work and programs.

The tribute for such effort goes to Charles Daly, the present president of the organization; Dr. Stuart Daly, Dr. Auld and Mrs. Kettlewell, and the hard work of many associates such as Mr. Gore, the late Robert Smillie, Floyd Irwin, Arthur Foster, Miss Carol Proudfoot, Miss F. Moran, Mrs. Little, Mrs. German, and many others throughout the district.

Kootenai Floods Cost $1,140,000

SPOKANE (AP) — The Kootenai river flood cost a total of $1,400,000 this year, Col. N. A. Matthias, district Army Engineer from Seattle told the Columbia Basin Inter-Agency Committee Wednesday.

It included damage to land and property along the river and the cost of fighting the flood.

Such costly floods could be prevented in the future by construction of the proposed Libby Dam in northwestern Montana, Matthias said.
