France, West Disagree on German Rearmament Plan

Delegates Still Optimistic Solution Will Be Found

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—France and her Western allies disagreed Tuesday night on how to prevent any run-away German rearmament. The question emerged as the key issue before the nine-power conference meeting to free and rearm West Germany in the Atlantic alliance.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France called for a seven-country European armaments authority to control the production and supply of weapons in West Germany, France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy. Britain would be an uncontrolled seventh partner.

German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer proposed instead that controls be exercised by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization over all of its continental European members. West Germany would become NATO's 15th member nation.

Foreign Secretary Eden and State Secretary Dulles backed Adenauer's proposal. It appeared that support also would come from the other nations participating — Canada, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Although difficulties arose, key delegations voiced a cautious optimism that agreements in principle on freeing and rearming the West Germans would be reached this week.

Experts worked far into the night in search of a compromise between the French and other delegations' views. Some delegations suggested a solution may lie in letting NATO and the seven-country group share controls.

Conference informants said the French, invaded three times in three generations by German hordes, want the new German military buildup so strictly controlled that a super-authority would decide even where new German arms factories could be built.

France, Germany, and all other participants were reported agreed on banning atomic and bacteriological weapons in any forward areas close to the Iron Curtain and exposed to Communist conquest. West Germany and part of France would be adjudged included in such forward areas.

WANTS SAAR SETTLEMENT

A second French proposal treatened to snag the conference. Mendes-France said the French-German dispute over the Saar should be settled as part of a "package deal" that would include an agreement on arming West Germany. The rich coal and steel producing territory, German before the Second World War, has been a bone of contention between the two countries for generations.

Adenauer Tuesday offered the conference his own plan, calling for an end to nearly 10 years of occupation of his country by British, U.S., and French troops. He promised to limit West German rearmament to the quota fixed by the French-killed EDC unified army plan.

Adenauer, in trouble back home after a demand Tuesday night by his chief coalition partner for complete German sovereignty and emphasis on German reunification, evidently was seeking quick and tangible benefits to his country from the conference.

Mendes-France, Adenauer, Eden and Dulles agreed to instruct experts to work out a formal program for ending the British-American-French occupation of West Germany and establishing that country as a full and equal member of the Western alliance.

Bevan Loses Seat on Executive Committee

German Rearmament Approved by Narrow Margin at Labor Conference

By FRASER WIGHTON

SCARBOROUGH, England (Reuters) — The British abor party Tuesday ousted leftist leader Aneurin Bevan om the executive and approved support for the government's policy backing West German rearmament.

But party leader Clement Attlee obtained only a rrow majority of votes for German rearmament at the rty's annual conference re.

Attlee and his moderate leaderp had to beat off a violent attack the plan by the party's rank-file led by backers of Bevan d other leftists.

Victory by the margin of about ,000 card votes in voting by delates representing the party's 6,,000 members did save Attlee m the dilemma of a complete tch on the policy he has been vocating in Parliament for nths. But it also made clear that re is far from unanimous support e for a rearmed Germany.

The official resolution that talks uld be held with other European ialist parties on how best to re- Germany was carried by a vote 3,270,000 to 3,022,000.

VAN OUSTED

The second day of the conference, saw the departure of Bevan m the party leadership in which has served since the end of the ond World War.

he strident, 57-year-old Welsh- met a crushing defeat in a con- with Hugh Gaitskell, chancel- of the exchequer in Attlee's cabinet, for the vacant post of ty treasurer. The job carries a seat on the executive committee, the party's ruling body.

Bevan attempting his first test of popularity with the full party membership, had been expected to lose but Gaitskell's poll of 4,338,000 votes was even heavier than predicted.

Party rules prevented Bevan from seeking re-election to the executive committee as the representative of the local Labor parties which for years have returned him to the governing committee with huge majorities.

Bevan's supporters, although depressed by their leader's personal defeat, were consoled by retaining five seats in the 28-member executive.

The effect of Tuesday's rearmament vote is to keep the Labor party in step with the Trades Union Congress which provides five-sixths of its membership and which recently approved German rearmament by an equally-narrow majority.

But with the whole Labor party so obviously still split it is an uneasy situation for the party leaders.

Moreover, Bevan losing all official position in the party means he will be able to campaign more freely in public for his policies of opposition to German rearmament.

CCL TO RENEW CCF TIES

Votes Against Association With Communist Body

By JOHN LEBLANC

Communist-supported proposals were batted down right and left by a big majority of the 850 delegates in a day of political operations that also saw the CCL decide to renew its ties with the CCF party on the political front.

Major anti-Red action was the decision of the 400,000-member congress to continue its support of the Communist-fighting International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, a move that was taken over the protests of leftists in a shouting debate.

As a follow-up to that step, the congress threw out a left-wing resolution that called for the CCL to send delegates to a forthcoming conference of the Moscow-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions.

Leftists also led the opposition to the CCL renewing its long-standing political association with the CCF party—which the congress calls the "political arm of labor"—but again they were swamped by a top-heavy majority of delegates.

Among other actions Tuesday, the congress:

1. Adopted a resolution deploring "anti-labor" legislation in Quebec;
2. Took a stand against night opening of retail stores;
3. Turned down a resolution demanding compulsory military training;
4. Expressed opposition to the granting of court injunctions in labor-management disputes;
5. Decided to press for the 40-hour week for federal employees.

Power of Women

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's economy wears skirts, not trousers, said Mrs. H. E. Vautelet of Montreal, president of the Canadian Association of Consumers Tuesday.

Addressing the seventh annual convention here, she said women do most of the buying in Canada, and therefore hold the purse-strings of the national economy at their fingertips.

Dr. Rush Appeal Upheld in Court

VICTORIA (CP) — The British Columbia Court of Appeal Tuesday upheld the appeal of Dr. Raymond Rush of Vancouver against a manslaughter conviction in the death of his wife.

Dr. Rush was sentenced to five years imprisonment by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane following his conviction in assize court at Vancouver June 23.

A full court of five appeal judges agreed without a dissenting voice that the verdict should be quashed.

Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan said he believed the conviction could not be supported by evidence presented at the trial.

Dr. Rush was charged with manslaughter following the death of his wife, Margaret, Nov. 30, 1953. Evidence showed that Mrs. Rush died of necerative colitis.

A-Weapon Ban Would Aid Soviet

VANCOUVER (CP)—Outlawing atomic weapons would play into Russia's hands, Lord Laverley said here Tuesday.

"Unless you could agree to limit armaments generally, it would be absurd to outlaw the most effective weapons yet developed," said Britain's wartime chancellor of the exchequer.

"We must of course continue to work towards agreement. Fear plays a great part in international decisions and the state of world strife."

Pay School Taxes Under Protest

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP) — Roman Catholics in the Chilliwack area Tuesday presented municipal council with a $2500 check to ensure that the church retains ownership of St. Mary's parochial school.

Payment was made by Rev. Gordon McKinnon under protest at the direction of Most Rev. William D. Duke, Archbishop of Vancouver.

St. Mary's officials, protesting the double taxation system under which Catholics maintain their own schools and pay public school taxes, had refused to pay their taxes for three years.

Under provincial law property in such circumstances reverts to the municipality.

The two separated when the big bear charged Erickson. He leaped to a tree but the bear grabbed a leg and dragged him to the ground.

The bushworker kept dodging the animals paws and charges until his cries were heard by Stephenson who had a rifle.

The bear lunged at Stephenson but was killed by a single shot.

CAIRO (AP) — An Egyptian gunboat seized a small Israeli freighter Tuesday as it tried to run Egypt's blockade on Israeli shipping through the Suez canal.

Egypt charged the vessel fired without provocation on a cluster of Egyptian fishing boats, wounding several fishermen. During the confusion one boat overturned and three fishermen were drowned.

Toys Fool Parents

OTTAWA (CP) — Parents aren't too smart when it comes to buying toys.

Mrs. S. A. MacKay-Smith of Ottawa, chairman of the Canadian Association of Consumers' toy-testing committee, said Tuesday that a lot of parents need to be educated in how to get the most for their money when buying toys.

Mrs. MacKay said, "Parents get very annoyed when a toy doesn't last, but if they are provided with information on how to evaluate toys they probably will make sure they get good value."

The toy committee's main work this year, she told the seventh annual CAC convention, included evolving a testing method which would be accurate.

Housewife Believes . . .

Recession Better Than Inflation

OTTAWA (CP) — A Montreal housewife says that in the long run a recession may be better for consumers and manufacturers than another ride on the inflation rocket.

Mrs. H. E. Vautelet, president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, said Tuesday night industry can build its own cushion for the dark days ahead by keeping consumers informed and regard them as partners in Canada's economy.

"In the long run, unrealistically high prices reduce demand," she said in an address at the association's seventh annual convention banquet.

"Making buying profitable for the buyers is the best way of making it profitable for the seller," she said.

URGES BETTER LABELLING

"In pressing for informative labelling and standardized sizes, for consumer representation on marketing boards and for advertising that serves instead of merely selling to consumers, CAC is pressing for the best depression insurance trade and industry can provide for themselves today."

Her remarks were contained in the text of a speech issued in advance of delivery.

Mrs. Vautelet said a recession seems inevitable but it should not be feared. A recession would mean getting down to real, as against artificially-created, consumer needs.

"In the long run it may be better for all of us than a further ride on the inflation rocket, even if we do have to pull our belts a little tighter."

Polish Officer Relates . . .

Red Resistance High In Soviet Satellites

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top-ranking Polish security officer who fled from behind the Iron Curtain turned up in Washington Tuesday. He declared that resistance to Communist regimes is widespread throughout the Soviet satellite countries.

The official is Jozef Swiatlo, who was No. 2 man in Communist Poland's security program. The U.S. government had kept him secretly in Washington for eight months.

The story brought into the open an account of the disappearance five years ago of Noel and Herman Field, American brothers, and Noel's wife, Herta.

OPEN REVOLT IMPOSSIBLE

Swiatlo, a stocky, ruddy faced man of 39, spoke with newspaper men at a press conference at which he said:

1. Active revolt against the Communists in Iron Curtain countries is a virtual impossibility now because "the Red army is everywhere." But the U.S. "should do everything it can to bolster the spirit of resistance."
2. "There is a great movement for resistance" against the Moscow-directed Red leaders in Poland. He said it was likely that a central body was organizing the resistance.
3. He fled Poland because of his "great ideological disappointments" with Communism.

The state department made public the text of notes sent to the Iron Curtain countries of Poland and Hungary, demanding the release of the Fields. Noel Field went to Czechoslovakia in May, 1949, subsequently disappearing. His German-born wife, Herta, followed, presumably to search for him. She, too, vanished.

George Dick Visiting Here . . .

Former Nelson Actor Aims for Vancouver TV

A young man who has gone a long way in Canadian theatre in a remarkably short time, is back in Nelson this week, revisiting the scenes where he got his start.

George Dick admits he knew little of plays or acting when he joined the Nelson Little Theatre five years ago. Now, after three years with the International Players of Kingston, Ont., first professional company in Canada, he has reached the sunny stage where he can more or less pick and choose his engagements.

Mr. Dick, with his bride of April, is on his way to Vancouver where he plans to enter CBC television productions, join theatre companies and possibly form his own company.

When he became a member of Nelson Little Theatre, he applied himself diligently to learning all he could about stagecraft and acting techniques. He had roles in the festival play "Dark Brown," in "Night Must Fall" and "Ring Around Elizabeth."

Then, in 1951, he set off for Kingston, and landed himself a spot as apprentice with the International Players. His job with the Royal Canadian Air Force's university training scheme at Queen's University gave him a steady income and at the same time enough time to devote to the stage.

According to the Players' system, a newcomer automatically became an apprentice for the first year, receiving a thorough training in behind-the-scenes work and possibly the chance of bit parts.

In Mr. Dick's first full season with the company, the pace was fast and hectic. No fewer than 40 plays were presented, one a week, and as he says: "It got so that we would memorize the lines of a play for one week, and have forgotten them by the next week."

He came in for his share of travel, with company's plays being presented interchangeably in Kingston and on tour in Southern Ontario. He took leading roles in Maugham's "Rain" (as the doctor), in "Tobacco Road," which ran just before Vancouver opened its controversial version, and in "Born Yesterday."

IN EASTERN TV

To the late Arthur Sutherland, originator of the International Players, and to the present director, Drew Thomson, Mr. Dick owes much of his knowledge of the actor's devices and staging tricks. Still eager to learn, as he was as a novice in Nelson, he gained pointers not only from them but from other leading Eastern Canadian professionals.

International Players now functions as a Summer company, operating for between 10 and 12 weeks, owing to the heavy demands upon the talents of its director.

Mr. Dick has also made radio and television appearances in Kingston and Toronto, and thus will not be venturing into a new field when he goes to Vancouver.

IN SAME PLAY

Mr. Dick met the attractive girl who was to become his wife when they were playing in "Life With Father." A professional dancer, she trained in Kingston and Toronto, and later taught in both cities. She, too, has been with CBC in Toronto and part-time theatre work brought her in contact with the International Players.

In the future, Mr. Dick has hopes of starting his own repertory company, which would tour the B.C. Interior. "It's just a dream which might become a reality," he says.

The couple are staying with Mr. Dick's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Frederickson.

Summer 'Spiel Association Formed; 12 Named Directors

Nelson's Mid-Summer Bonspiel organization took another step forward Tuesday night when it was incorporated under the Society's act with the name now being the Nelson Mid-Summer Bonspiel Association.

At a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms attended by 19 interested citizens, 12 directors of the new association were elected with six being for two-year periods and six for one year.

Elected to two-year terms were Walter Wait, Norman C. Stibbs, Mrs. L. Wallace, David Cathcart, George Barefoot and Ed Avery of Salmo. Serving one-year terms will be Bob Bruce, Alan Ramsden, Ernie McLachlan, Vic Owen, Art Wallace and Len Walker.

Earl Jorgenson, past chairman of the committee, held the chair and read the constitution. Mr. Wait told the members briefly why it was decided to form the Association. It came about mostly because of financing for the 'spiel which has become a big thing not only for the city of Nelson but for the district. The spiel started in an unusual way, but for some time the citizens have had the idea it was being run by the curling club or the Civic Centre. Both lines of thought were wrong, said Wait, for it belongs to the community and is run by the citizens.

"Although we have held the event for 10 years we are still only scratching the surface." He pointed to the Kelowna Regatta which requires 52 committees. "We have in the past depended upon to few to do the work and we should go all out to get more committees working. We have had very poor street decorations and few window dressings in the past. Every effort must be made for a remedy.

"We should cast to the prairies for publicity instead of the coast. It is from the prairie provinces that we get most of the curlers.

"We need more entertainment and also we should re-dress some of the entertainment we now put on. In short," said Wait, "we must put the 'spiels importance over to our own citizens."

OUTSTANDING IN CANADA

Norman Stibbs told the gathering that the spiel has benefitted everyone and although still in its early stages is one of the outstanding events in Canada in that is was the first curling event to be staged in the middle of the summer.

"We have a lot to be proud of with our spiel. If we can get hundreds of people to work with it then we will really do something great."

It was decided a membership fee of a dollar annually would be charged. The meeting felt if this was done more people would take an interest in the running of the event because then they would definitely have a share in it.

It was also moved that the new directors ask for a clear statement of the finances to carry out the 1954 bonspiel.

A meeting of the directors will take place October 14 in the Chamber of Commerce Room.

There's Still Time To Enter Contest

The Nelson Daily News' big scrambled names contest is drawing to a close, but there is still plenty of time for readers to cash in on the prizes.

The sixth and final series on the contest has been announced. Competitors must unscramble 12 names of firms which have participated in the contest, and send their results in with a sales slip for $1 or more purchase or a dated receipt. If the unpied names are correct, the winners will be selected on the basis of originality with which the names are presented.

Prizes for the last series are a set of silverware, first; copper-bottomed cookware, second, and an electric iron, third.

In addition, the grand prize, a combination radio phonograph for the best entry in the entire series, is at stake.

Government Okays Glade Ferry

Official word has been received here that the Glade ferry, designed to transport Sons of Freedom children to school if government policy can be carried out, will be built.

In a telephone call from Ferry Superintendent H. K. Gann at Victoria, the Department of Public Works here has been notified that the ferry will be built.

J. A. Dennison, divisional engineer at Nelson said Tuesday the ferry will likely be built at the coast and assembled here. It will likely be a two or three car ferry," he said, "like the Nick's Island ferry."

Children at Glade cannot attend school because they are across the Kootenay River from the school without facilities to cross the river.

The Freedomite children will be compelled to attend school when the ferry is provided, the government has said.

47 Place Names On Voters List; Deadline Oct. 31

Registration for the municipal voters list is going "very slow" City Clerk C. W. Harper said Tuesday.

To date only 47 householders and licence holders have registered," he said. The city clerk could not say the number elegible to vote but Nelson's population within the city limits is about 7000 including children.

Registration closes October 31 and is for the December civic elections.

Lions Seek to Boost Goodwill; Governor Visits

At its tenth charter party, Nelson Lions Club was host to a large number of guests from the State of Washington, including District Governor Earle Ausman of Asotin, Washington.

Nelson Lions Club is the only club in British Columbia that is in Zone E-1, eleven others are in Washington. Seven of these are in Spokane, the others are in Central Valley (Dishman), Cheney, Colville and Kettle Falls.

Zone Chairman Henry Stevenson of Nelson presided over an advisory committee meeting at which presidents and secretaries discussed club problems, objectives and activities. While the zone meeting was in session the visitors wives were entertained by the Nelson lady Lions Club at a dinner at Kokanee Lodge on the North Shore.

One of the most discussed subjects at the zone meeting was the promition of inter-club visitations. This encourages international relationship and goodwill, an objective in Lionism.

October 10 marks the 37th birthday of the International Association of Lions Clubs. The "great family of Lionism" embraces 56 nations and geographical locations there are 11,024 Lions Clubs with a membership of 501,525 as of June 30, 1954. This large body works for peace throughout the civilized world seeking a marked effect of international friendship.

Council Dispossessed By Staff Space Needs

Nelson City Council has been crowded out of its chamber by the need for space for the city's technical staff. From now on mayor and aldermen will hold their Monday meetings in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The Chamber of Commerce office at the foot of Ward Street is the Westerly neighbor of the City Hall.

Arrangements for use of the Chamber quarters were completed Tuesday afternoon when Mayor Joseph Kary and City Clerk Reeve Harper met with the Chamber's executive members. The arrangement is for a period of "two or three years."

City Council chambers were reduced in size about a year ago when the electrical department superintendent, public works superintendent and assistant city assessor's offices were moved to the upper floor of the City Hall. This measure was to ease crowding on the ground floor where city clerk, general staffs and mayor's offices are accommodated.

Still earlier considerable of the city records were moved into vaults in other municipal buildings because storage space had become inadequate.

The present City Hall is much more than half a century old. It was the former Provincial Court House and was taken over by the municipal corporation and moved to its present Front Street location when the beautiful marble Provincial Government building was constructed.

Certain of the accoutrements of the Council Chambers, such as the Queen's portrait and flags, will be moved to the Chamber of Commerce meeting room.

The need for extra city office space results from natural growth in administration matters and the need for additional facilities when the Assessment Equalization Act is applicable next year, Mayor Kary explained Tuesday night.

Temporary partitions will create two new offices one of which will be devoted to the assessor's department. Engineering offices are now congested and additional space is required.

Slocan Board Asks 12 Miles Fine Gravel

NEW DENVER — Slocan District Board of Trade meeting Tuesday night decided to send a telegram to Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, works minister, asking that 12 miles of the Slocan Highway be covered with fine, crushed gravel.

The board appreciates that coarse gravel surface is in preparation for blacktopping, it was said, but feels that a delay with proceeding with the next step is uncostly and unwise. The 12 miles is between Appledale and Passmore.

The board will also write B.C. Telephone Company in appreciation of new telephone lines installed to Silverton and the proposal to install improved service to Slocan City. Both have been projects of the Board.

Tourist and publicity committee reported framed pictorial display featuring Slocan highlights has been sent to MV Anscomb for display. A second copy will be available for other use.

Nothing new was reported by the power committee, but concern was expressed that power would be exported to the United States before local districts are adequately served.

A. L. Harris, chairman of the industrial committee, reported two new sawmills in operation at Rosebery and a local syndicate was developing a mining property near Sandon.

Two were elected to fill vacancies on the council, Herman Clever and Quentin Forsythe of New Denver. The vacancies were created when Dr. S. C. Robinson and J. G. Browell left the district.

Before the meeting a movie "Powered Flight" was shown by an oil company. A dinner was served by the New Denver - Silverton Parent-Teacher Association.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ernest Raymond, 35, was sentenced in Vancouver police court Tuesday to 10 years for trafficking in narcotics and five years each on two charges of breaking and entering. The sentences will run concurrently. Police testified they seized 15 capsules of heroin from his room in a raid Aug. 21.

Fernie Continues to Bolster River Guards

FERNIE — City of Fernie will carry out further river bank protection work along the Elk River.

Last Winter a levee was constructed in the Annex. A break in the levee will be repaired. Council will also do other necessary work in the west end of the city near the city septic tank. A grant of $2000 from the provincial government and city funds have been allotted for the purpose.

City engineer Jeff Hunt reported to Monday's Council meeting that the main sections of the new sewer project in the South part of the city have been completed. Lateral lines have still to be laid. The work including a septic tank for this project, is expected to be completed before Winter.

City clerk George Robertson was instructed to proceed with the collection of poll taxes. The sum of $25 was granted to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Ald. Frank Butala asked that applications for icemaker-caretaker for the arena be called. He suggested that the successful applicant begin duties about October 15. Ald. Butala also reported that a representative of the C. J. Oliver Construction Company would examine the arches of the arena this week and submit estimates for reinforcing.

Damage caused by an elevator at the MacDonald's Consildated warehouse moving the wrong direction, is being investigated. The accident is allegedly due to electrical phase reverse caused by change over in wiring on city lines. Information received by the council was to the effect that there were no safety devices on the elevator. The city electrician is being asked to be present at the next council meeting to explain the case.

The city solicitor will be consulted on the possibility of drafting an arena bylaw to enforce non-smoking and other arena regulations.

An increase is expected in the number of eligible voters for the December municipal elections. This is due to the fact that the spouse of a property owner is now eligible to vote, providing registration as a voter is completed on or before October 31.

Monday's meeting was attended by Clifford Uphill, commissioner at New Denver. Commissioner Uphill was able to see the Fernie Council in session, with his father, Mayor Tom Uphill, MLA, presiding. His brother, Howard Uphill, is a Fernie alderman, thus making Monday's meeting somewhat of a family reunion.

Siren, Phone Authorized For Salmo Fire Hall

An electric siren and two first aid kits will be purchased for Salmo Fire Hall and a telephone will be installed in the building, the village commission decided Tuesday night.

The siren will be used for fires and as a curfew.

The commission commended the group who have beautified Salmo cemetery. A main entrance is being built into the cemetery, grass is being planted and plans are in progress to map the area.

Permission was granted Associated Enterprises at Salmo to build a coal shed by the loading portion of the railway and for the Community Church to bulldoze a hole for a septic tank.

A glass notice board with a light behind the glass will be erected in front of the commission office for municipal notices.

A query from Fred Parsons concerned the commission plans to keep Salmo River water from backing up, particularly in flood season, in lowland near the bridge on the Nelway highway. The commission will provide drainage as soon as the department of public works grants permission, the meeting said.

The water backs up and contaminates the area, particularly in the Spring.

The commission stressed that for the health and welfare of the community's sake, no garbage or waste should be dumped without the commission's permission. They referred to the dumping of a cow in the garbage disposal area but too near the highway. It was decaying and unsanitary.

Next commission meeting was postponed to October 14 as the regular meeting date, October 12, was the date set for the official opening of the Salmo Junior-Senior High School.

Three sidewalks have been completed at Salmo, the public works department reported.

REVOLVER SCARES CAFE SNOOPER

MOYIE — The melodrama of the Old West is as much alive today as it ever was.

Take the case of the woman who is in charge of the Society Girl coffee shop here while Mrs. R. Redford is on holidays.

She was closing the place on Saturday night, and stashing away the cash when she saw a stranger watching her through the window.

The man fled when she grabbed a revolver and pointed it at him.

Fernie Man Killed In Mine Accident

MICHEL—Joe Caravetta, 62, of Fernie, employee of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, for many years, was killed Monday morning in a coal mine shaft here.

A supplyman at the mine, it is believed he fell down a coal shute, suffering fatal injuries. It was his first shift after taking his annual fortnight's holiday from the mine.

He had worked at Michel since the Fernie miners started travelling to work here some years ago.

An inquest opened Monday night conducted by Coroner L. F. Cheston of Natal, and adjourned until Oct. 4 in Union Hall here at 7:30 p.m.

The jury consists of Neillo Quarin, foreman; Alex Dausey, Charlie Kowall, Joe Gaal, Reggie Gris and Lorne Mullett.

This is the first fatal accident at Michel mines this year.

Rossland Art Club Holds First Show

ROSSLAND — Lovers of fine painting found a great deal to admire at the Rossland Library when the newly-formed Rossland Art Club held its first display. The many pictures shown were all work of local artists.

Until now, Rossland artists have been associated with the Trail Art Club, but owing to increased interest shown by Rossland artists, it was decided to form a club here, with meetings to be held every month. At these meetings, the members will display the pictures they have completed since the previous gathering, and receive assistance through the constructive criticism of other members.

It is hoped that the art display will be an annual event. Convener of the display was Mrs. W. J. Ternan.

The "Marmorhallor" . . . where the Seagram Collection was shown.

They're talking about Canada the world over

This sketch by the prominent Swedish artist, Gunnar Brusewitz, depicts Stockholm's "Marble Halls". It was here that the Seagram Collection of Paintings of Canadian Cities was visited by more than 31,000 Swedish citizens who came to see this colourful Canadian exhibition.

Everywhere these paintings went ...north and south of the equator... on both sides of the Atlantic... they won new friends and favourable comment for Canada. In sixteen cities along a 30,000-mile international route through 15 foreign lands, more than a quarter of a million people came to see these original canvases of 22 of our cities, and from them gain a new understanding of Canada and her remarkable achievements.

During its year abroad, the Seagram Collection of Paintings earned for Canada thousands of columns of newspaper reports, editorials, reviews and pictures; magazine articles; radio and television broadcasts; newsreel films—all commenting on these portrayals of our thriving cities, and all serving to make Canada talked about the world over.

Few Street Signs For Strangers in Nelson

Community housekeeping includes a lot of seemingly small matters like street-sweeping, maintaining street signs, keeping roadside grasses cut and outdoor lighting in good order, and dealing with dust nuisances. In the gross they add up to a matter of mighty importance in a community, for they are the things on which first (and frequently permanent) impressions are based.

Nelson for years kept up a pretty good standing in its community housekeeping, and its good burghers have become fairly used to hearing compliments on clean streets, tidiness and such. But our slip's beginning to show. It's not exactly at half-mast yet, but could become bedraggled if not given a stitch or two.

Something a little bit more than the hemline is showing, for instance, in the matter of street signs. When mail delivery was introduced (and that's farther back than the memory of some residents go), each street was neatly tabbed and each home numbered. Now the postmen rely upon their own knowledge of geography and strangers must go knocking on doors to get most street identities. This is particularly bad in the uphill section; even on the all-paved bus route street name signs are missing.

Heavier traffic probably means more street dirt. The better streets are sanded in Winter the worse is the sand condition when no longer needed in the Spring; the more road work done the more gravel and travel there is about. A machine street sweeper would seem to be a good investment. Trail uses one to good advantage.

Street light improvement probably calls for greater planning and long-range action than these other items. Nevertheless, the time must soon come when Nelson looks to progressively modernizing its street lighting system.

Farmers Individualists Even in Russia

Here we are in North America with wheat and other food commodities piled up in huge surpluses and running out our ears, says the Lethbridge Herald, when from Russia comes a boast about a new "grow more food" campaign.

Russia claims to be well on the way to having added 75,000,000 acres of hitherto untilled land to its agricultural potential for farm and fodder. It hardly connotes with what we have heard about the various five-year plans for the collective farms that such a drive should be under way almost 40 years after the revolution. One is inclined to ask what is the matter with Russian agriculture.

The real trouble, in the Herald's opinion, is the peasants lack confidence in the government, and their bitter resentment over the ruthlessness with which the Communist bosses despoiled them in the first decade or so after the 1917 revolution. Russian farmers seem to be like their counterparts the world round. As individualists they resent orders from the police state. We doubt if the boasts about 75,000,000 acres just turned over by the plow will rectify the basic weakness in the Communist farm program.

Jane's Letter To Betty Blythe

Dear Betty:

I have been going to answer your letters for a long time (that's how I am about letters—I procrastinate), so here, at last, I am. I always like to hear from you, and your last letter about the Fair was so "just right". I thought it deserved an answer to tell you how much I enjoyed it.

Have you ever stopped to think, Betty, how many man-hours and woman hours went into the making of that Fair, and of how many hours of pleasure were derived from it by the more than 20,000 people who attended? I am sure the tired and weary Fair Committee must have wondered often if it was all worth it, but to glance around at the happy faces of the children, the interested and satisfied faces of the grown-ups, answers them in the best way possible that it was indeed worth it and very much worth while. And what do you think of the "Sixth Annual" idea? I am wondering if the early day workers who started it all wouldn't like to see it called the "Forty-Seventh", or whatever number it adds up to, and forget the "Annual" idea.

I loved your letter about the ferry lights. It reminded me of a good radio play I once heard, in which a thug placed his captive in a room, tied to a chair in front of an inescapable red light. The thug then sat outside the room and snapped the light switch on and off, on and off, on and off, on and off, until the captive could stand it no longer and went stark, staring mad and told all. That is how I sometimes feel at the ferry waiting, trying to escape the red light going on and off, on and off, on and off, on and off, until, half blinded and berserk, I try to steer myself through resulting blackness in safety down the ramp on to the ferry.

NEW "GAME"

Don't you think our editorials lately have been much better? I thought the one about the trees, and the one about the bad manners of the drivers of small boats were particularly good. It reminds me of the new game I hear they are playing on the North Shore and the Granite Road. Two or three cars usually play—equipped with youthful driver and his girl. One driver drives just as slowly as possible, with left wheels riding the double line, or solid line on his side, the object being to pile up as many cars as possible behind him. When he comes to a broken line or passing spot, he steps on the gas and goes like the wind to prevent anyone passing him. The winner, of course, being the driver who has the most cars piled up between him and a given point—the ferry. They play it differently on the Granite Road. A driver passes a pal and stays just in front of him. The object of the pal, then, is to pass his friend before any other driver. If he succeeds he sits in front, and they carry on this way right into town. The winner being he who gets to town first. Do you think our editors have heard about this one?

UNJUSTLY BLAMED

I hope you have noticed the splendid rules laid down by the Teen Town committee. You know, these youngsters really have something if they can make it stick. I believe that teen-agers as a class are unjustly blamed many times for the trend toward crime and delinquency. I believe the majority of them are decent, hard working, intelligent kids who want only to get the best deal they can in life. Don't we all? And I for one hope they have a wonderful year. They can certainly count on me for any help they could use from me. We are all proud of, and want to continue being proud of, our teen-agers. Aren't they all the sons and daughters of our friends?

Have you noticed how the squirrels are working like mad? They are throwing down cones and piling them up in little heaps to carry away to their winter storehouses. When I look at the hills of home and see that some of last year's snow has not left us, I feel as though it can be but a short time until our garden flowers are all gone, and our clothes-lines blooming with ballooning "longies". Oh, well, winter is fun, too!

Affectionately,
JANE.

Steady Reader, Kimberley—Are Canadian citizens married in U.S.A. legally married in Canada? If one gets a divorce in the United States, is it legal in Canada? After taking residence in the U.S. to obtain a divorce, what would the ruling be regarding permanent residence in the U.S. or returning later to Canada?

Your best plan would be to consult a lawyer. There are many difficulties to iron out in such a situation, and the wisest plan is to obtain legal advice.

Would you please amplify this question? It is not clear if by "entertainment" you mean dance orchestras, boxing matches or concerts.

For Fast Time All the Time

To the Editor:

Sir—To those who have not read the editorial in the Daily News September 25 issue entitled, "Time Switching Ridiculous in West Kootenay," I would strongly urge that they look up the paper and read it.

During the last war the Government had us on a year-'round "fast time" as a light saving economy measure. It should be as good today for us as then. Things went along smoothly then, and we did not have any trouble. We liked it.

All the good people across the main lake and East have been on "fast time" for years. They love it—no talk of changing, and even feel sorry for us in our plight of changing times.

A lot of people are in favor of "fast time"—all the time. Could not a poll be started to find out public feeling? You know we all want to get as much out of life as we can. Would not health and life be enriched with more sunshine and less clock changing? We all need all the light we can get in these mountains for our waking day.

I do hope the people of Nelson will write you and do something about "fast time all the time".

J. A. C. LAUGHTON.

Nelson, B. C.

Verse With the Classics

Alas! How swift the moments fly!
How flash the years along!
Scarce here, yet gone already by,
The burden of a song.
See, childhood, youth and manhood pass,
And age with furrowed brow;
Time was—Time shall be—drain the glass—
But where in Time is now?

Let's Everybody Sing!!

. . . F. B. Pearce

The occasional small and rather obscure periodicals which come into my hands are often very interesting. Such a one is the Farmer's Magazine, published monthly in Toronto. The friend who sent it to me thought that I would be interested in an article entitled, "What's Happened to the 'Maple Leaf Forever'?" I really don't know. When I left Canada in 1914 they were still singing it, and when I returned in 1919 "O Canada" had supplanted it. This is really no time to be discussing our national songs when Mr. St. Laurent is busy telling Mr. Duplessis that Canada is greater than Quebec and Mr. Duplessis is saying that Quebec is the tail that wags the dog.

"O Canada" is French-Canadian in origin. The French-Canadians sing it with fervor because they feel it is their duty to stand on guard for Canada against the rest of us. We sing it because we feel that the Maple Leaf offends them. It is a most unhappy state of affairs, but race and nationalism are two things about which little study has been made. It is common to speak of the U.S. as the melting pot of nations, but nationalism still exists there. Those of Irish descent are still Irish on St. Patrick's Day, and almost every foreign nationality has its club or organization. Though we are apt to decry it, it is a very strong force in the struggle of nations for survival. The Poles, who for centuries have been oppressed by the Germans and Russians, have never been completely subjugated. A hundred years hence they will still be Poles, and doubtless will still be fighting against their hereditary enemies.

THEY SING

The writer of the article suggests that The Maple Leaf has been crowded out by other songs in the "Music Period". I was raised in England, which one of my friends insists is a benighted country. There we did not have Music Periods; we had Singing. We learned all the patriotic songs of the four countries, we marched with the Men of Harlech, took the high and low roads to Scotland, wandered by Killarney's lakes and fells, and scrambled over Dartmoor looking for Tom Pearce's grey mare. We learned lots of them with no regard to nationalism, and we loved it. They still do. They sing hymns when they start in the morning and again at the close of school. They probably would not come up to the standard of the Elgar Choir or gain first place in a musical festival, but they do succeed in making what can be called a "joyful sound", which, after all, is why we sing. In one school they used to sing "Sun of My Soul". As you know, there are six verses and three alternative tunes to this hymn, so they sang two verses to each tune and the hymn became an anthem. If they are still singing it when I revisit England I would like to get a recording of it. You would then be able to appreciate their enjoyment of it.

In England the school sings. Here the classes have music periods, in which the pupils are too often not learning songs for the purpose of enjoyment, but to satisfy a teacher's idea of what constitutes good music and good singing. Music festivals, with all the good intentions in the world, often stifle the love of singing by forcing children to attain a standard of excellence of which they have no understanding. It would be much better to have a class singing happily for the love of it than melancoholically aspiring to artistic perfection.

Capital Memo

BY JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA—On the gates of Government House is a neatly printed sign pointing out the hours the magnificent gardens, maintained by the taxpayers, are open to the public.

The notice is signed by Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, the Minister of Public Works. This is because Government House and its grounds are publicly owned and the big boss of all publicly owned buildings and grounds is Mr. Gaglardi, the bubbling preacher from Kamloops who goes home every weekend to preach.

For instance, if there's a paint job to be done at Government House, or a new sink or stove needed, or a new rockery, Mr. Gaglardi must approve—or no new paint, sink, stove or rockery.

Next to Mr. Gaglardi's name on the sign about the hours someone printed, in very small letters, in blue ink, this: "Who doesn't know a damn thing, like the rest of the S. C."

Now, who did this? Was it done in the glare of the noonday sun, or at the dark of midnight?

Was it a schoolboy prank?

Was it done by one of S. C.'s political enemies, who walking leisurely up beautiful Rockland Avenue, meditating on the vagaries of politics, went near crazy at the mere sight of Mr. Gaglardi's name on the stone and iron and bronze walls of Government House?

Alas, we'll never know!

The Liberals are none too happy these days about the poppings-off of their Mr. Gibson of Lillooet.

Every political group in the Legislature, of course, has a popper-off; the S.C. popper-off is Health and Welfare Minister Martin. The C.C.F. seems short of a popper-off at the moment, though Mr. Strachan of Cowichan-Newcastle isn't too bad during a legislative session.

Mind you, politics would be much duller without such poppings-off, and if there weren't any, columns like this would go out of business. Just the same, poppings-off do the parties concerned no political good.

That's what the Liberals fear as they listen to Mr. Gibson. He himself has a fine time talking about forest management licences. He has a loud voice, and sometimes he becomes so carried away by his subject, and himself, that he talks without thinking too much, if at all.

FOR OPPOSITION'S SAKE

That's the way politicians get themselves into trouble. Politicians should always weigh carefully every word they utter—otherwise the steam starts rising from the political tub, and the first thing you know the politician is dripping, and so is his party.

More quiet Liberals, especially the old guard, think Mr. Gibson does their cause, if they have one, more harm than good.

One cannot help but get the idea that Mr. Gibson opposes merely for the sake of opposing.

And try as you might, you just cannot figure out exactly what it is that Mr. Gibson wants done in the forests.

It's something like trying to figure out exactly what Social Credit means.

Forest management licences were brought in by the Liberals—under E. T. Kenney as minister.

Is it that Mr. Gibson now thinks Mr. Kenney wasn't much of a forests minister in the first place?

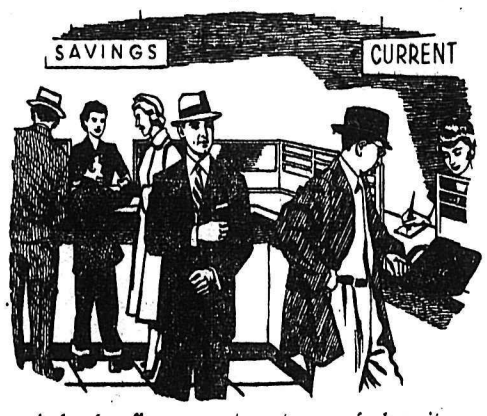
Saving money . . . and writing cheques



A bank offers you two types of deposit account, Savings and Current.

If your main purpose is to save, to accumulate funds, it's good to have a Savings account.

If you write cheques frequently, you will like the many advantages of a Current account.

The money you leave in a Savings account earns interest, and your bank book gives you an up-to-date, continuing record of your financial progress. If your funds are active, with frequent deposits and withdrawals, a Current account provides a special service; a monthly statement, together with your cancelled cheques—useful as receipts and a ready reference for budgeting, bookkeeping and other purposes.

Movie Gossip...

Maggie McNamara, Shy Dress Model, Shows Hollywood a Mind of Her Own

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The public thinks of most actresses as rather brassy extroverts. Here's one who is shy—Maggie McNamara.

Actually, she's a paradox. Although she is admittedly shy, she has stood up to her studio in a manner that has amazed Hollywood.

There can be no doubt about her shyness. She talks in a soft voice, shuns any ostentation and seems uneasy in an interview.

"I started as a model," she explained. "When you're a model, you don't have to talk. It was ideal for me."

HAD NEVER ACTED

Her photo appeared on a magazine cover and movie offers came her way. She declined them, having never acted in her life—"not even in the high school plays." So she took private dramatic lessons for three years. Then followed an impressive job in a Broadway flop and 13 months in the Chicago company of "The Moon Is Blue." Twentieth Century-Fox signed her to a contract.

Her first movie was a loan-out to her old stage employers for the film version of "The Moon Is Blue." The part won her an academy nomination, and no one was more surprised than Maggie.

After her first film, her studio assigned Maggie to "King of the Khyber Rifles." She astounded them by refusing the role. For a new contractee to turn down her first role at a studio is nothing short of treason, but she stuck to her guns and Terry Moore drew the role. I might add that Maggie's judgment was exonerated. The picture and the role were duds.

SCORES HIT

Maggie languished happily on suspension for a few weeks, then was put back in the studio's good graces with an assignment in "Three Coins in the Fountain." She scored another hit and is now playing Edwin Booth's wife in "Prince of Players."

I asked if she would take another suspension if she drew an assignment she didn't like.

"Certainly," she replied with resolution. "After all, it's the only weapon an actress has when she's under contract to a studio. It's different when you're a free-lancer; then you can pick and choose."

MANCHESTER, England (CP) — After 42 successive days' rain, officials asked citizens to save water. They feared a repetition of the 1947 summer when it rained heavily until late August, followed by a long heat wave resulting in drought.

Horsewoman, 19, Back From Tour

OTTAWA (CP) — Horse-jumping is more interesting and more difficult in Europe than in Canada, says Shirley Thomas, 19-year-old Ottawa horsewoman.

She has just returned from a two-month tour of European horse shows as the only girl on the four-member Canadian equestrian team sponsored by the Canadian Horse Show Association.

"Horse shows over there may draw as many as 40,000 spectators" she said. "Over here the limit is about 4000."

The difference, she says, is that the tougher European courses make for more audience interest. The horses have to take more hurdles in one trip, and different kinds of hurdles are mixed up as they never are in Canada. Also, speed is a factor, unlike competitions in Canada where time is rarely considered.

Shirley would like to see an association formed in this country to look after horse jumping exclusively, rather than having it merely one of the facets of the Canadian Horse Show Association.

Clyde Woollard was vice-principal and courses in the study of the life of Christ were conducted by Rev. W. Burgess. Fatigues, recreation and camp fire fun were interspersed with serious study.

The Procter Ladies' Aid donated $10 towards Miss Ogden's camp expenses and she will teach at the Sunday School again this year. Classes for children in the three to 12 year range will begin Sunday with Mrs. Fitchett, Miss MacLeod and Mrs. A. Ogden as additional teachers.

WOMAN MAY BE ADJUDICATOR AT DRAMA FESTIVAL

OTTAWA (CP) — The Dominion Drama Festival may use a woman as adjudicator at its 1955 festivals.

DDF director Richard MacDonald said Tuesday that among prospective adjudicators are two women, one of them "quite a figure" in European theatre.

She is Finnish, he said, and speaks French and English in addition to her native tongue. That probably will give her away, he said, but he could not release names at this time. The other woman being considered, for the regionals, was English. That's all he would say.

Should one of the women be chosen, she would be the first to adjudicate the festivals.

Mr. MacDonald, who recently returned from a month-long visit to Europe where he spoke to prospective adjudicators.

There was not a very heavy crop of bilingual adjudicators such as the DDF requires and at an executive meeting in Toronto on his return to Canada, Mr. MacDonald had found that there is no restriction on nationality or sex in selecting an adjudicator.

The chief problem in picking a woman was to find one hardy enough to stand the gruelling three months of travel to the regional festivals. Mr. MacDonald said he suspects that a woman could stand the trip as well as a man.

Maglie, Lemon To Open World Series

Indians Favored 9-5

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Crafty Sal Maglie, New York Giants' 37-year-old curveball pitcher, and Bob Lemon, Cleveland's 23-game winning ace, will open the world series today at the Polo Grounds.

Although managers Leo Durocher of the Giants and Al Lopez of the Indians held up official announcements until early Tuesday afternoon, almost every fan had "selected" the pitchers days earlier.

Strong support for the American League champs, who set a league record by winning 111 games, sent the Las Vegas gambling odds to 9 to 5 on the Indians. Solid front-line pitching and the tradition of American League victory, unbroken since 1946, edged the price higher.

A survey of baseball writers who turned up at the Polo Grounds to watch the two clubs in their final workouts showed a lopsided vote for a Cleveland victory.

LEFTFIELDER NOT NAMED

Durocher still held out one bit of information — his starting left fielder. Depending on how he feels about it this morning, Durocher will play Dusty Rhodes (a left-handed hitter with a .341 average) or the veteran Monte Irvin (right-handed with a .262 average).

If Rhodes plays he'll bat in the No. 4 cleanup spot, followed by Willie Mays, the league batting champ, and Hank Thompson. If Irvin starts, Mays will hit fourth, followed by Thompson and Irvin in that order.

There were no "ifs" in the Cleveland lineup with Dave Philley, a switch hitter, definitely assigned to right field, the only doubtful spot. Some thought Lopez might two-platoon Wally Westlake and Dave Pope in right because Philley, batting only .226, has been in a bad slump.

Lopez will follow Lemon with Early Wynn, another 23-game winner, in the second game and Durocher will use Johnny Antonelli, his 21-game winning lefthander. Mike Garcia will work for Cleveland in the third game at Cleveland Friday but Durocher isn't ready to go that far yet. It will be Ruben Gomez or Don Liddle, depending on what has happened.

55,000 EXPECTED

Maglie has made a fine comeback after suffering with a bad back and a sorry 8-9 record last season. The scowling "barber" with the long sideburns applied the clincher last week by beating Brooklyn just as he had won so many games all season.

During the 1954 season, Maglie completed nine of 32 starts for a 3.26 earned run average and a 14-6 record.

A crowd of about 55,000 is expected for the opener.

Some 3600 bleacher seats at $2.10 and standing room at $4.20 go on sale this morning.

Although there is a good chance of rain Thursday, the weatherman predicts the opener probably will escape rain clouds headed toward New York.

Strikes 'n' Spares

The bowling in the Men's Commercial League Monday was exceptionally sharp as both rookies and veterans came through with all but record breaking scores.

Rookie Alec McClelland of the Scholars scored the best single and aggregate, a 365 and a 817. He now has an average of 236, second to Doug Hall of the Humes with 243.

Bob MacDonald hitting a torrid pace scored a 340 single along with 239 and 191 for a 770 aggregate. Carl Locatelli came up with a 325, single and an aggregate of 780. Frank Hufty showing much improvement scored a 713. Doug Hall finished off the 700 scorers for the evening with a 715.

Bowling in the 600's were Len Wise 605, Bing O'Neil 605, Joe Sikorski 636, Barney Jarbeau 659, and Art Bouchard 653.

Team honors went to the Tire Service with 1168 and the Humes with 3170.

YANKS, OF COURSE

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — The Auburn Citizen-Advertiser was gathering local opinion on who would be the winner of the world series opening today.

One young lady replied: "The Yanks, of course."

Told nicely New York Yankees weren't playing this year, she commented:

"Why I thought the Yankees always played in the series."

Bartonettes Reach Finals

TRAIL — Shavers Bench Bartonettes advanced to the finals of the Trail and District Women's fastball crown Monday night by defeating Rossland Royals 13-10 in the final game at Butler Park.

The winners scored one run in the second and added two more in the third on a home run by Eve Wilmot.

Royals battled back and finally tied the score 5-5 in the top of the fifth when they scored three runs on two hits.

The roof fell in on the Royals when the Bartonettes came back to score five times without a hit in their half of the fifth to go ahead to stay.

Helen Gwillian held the visitors to eight hits while Shirley Veysey limited the Trail team to five safeties. Eve Wilmot and winning pitcher Gwillian connected for two hits each while Stefani and Joan Molyneaux retaliated with a pair each for the Royals.

Shavers Bench will now meet West Trail or Salmo for the championship.

HALIFAX (CP)—Richard (Kid) Howard of Halifax won the Canadian lightweight championship Tuesday night with a split decision over Montreal's Armand Savoie in a scrappy 12-round bout here.

Howard scored an upset win over the Montrealer who had been out to regain the title he once held and lost to Arthur King of Toronto.

The Canadian Boxing Federation made the fight a 12-round championship after King refused to defend the crown.

FOUR BIG HOPES of the New York Giants for the World Series, starting today, are, from left: Willie Mays, Alvin Dark, Monte Irvin and Bobby Hofman, all top sluggers. —Central Press Canadian.

Holmes, Redding Win Kimberley Golf Crowns

KIMBERLEY — Twenty-six ladies participated in the Kimberley Ladies Club golf championship Sunday with Mrs. Lorraine Holmes declared the winner by defeating Mrs. Margaret Wilson in the championship flight.

Mrs. Holmes eliminated last year's champion Mrs. Edith Atchzener in a close match to reach the finals.

This is the third time Mrs. Holmes has won the crown, her previous titles coming in 1949 and 1950.

Mrs. Fannie Fisher captured the first flight with Mrs. Ruth Young winning the second flight.

Diminutive Ralph Redding won the men's club championship by shading Doc Livingston in a match that went 19 holes before the former Dynamiter hockey star defeated Livingston also a hockey ace.

Next weekend the club will hold a special mixed tournament to wind up a successful season.

The course will officially close on October 15. Approrimately 218 members enjoyed a six-month season, a slight gain in membership over last season. Club president Bill Clark worked overtime during the season arranging the popular men's Wednesday night tournament which also proved successful.

Kimberley's picturesque nine-hole grass green course in the locality of Marysville four miles southwest of Kimberley just off the Kimberley, Cranbrook highway is fast becoming a popular place for golfers.

Humes to Hold Banquet, Dance

The Humes of the Nelson Fastball League Friday night will hold their wind-up banquet of the season in the Silver Room where they will be accompanied by their wives and friends.

The Humes, this season playing in Senior B company, travelled to Vancouver, where they competed against six other clubs for the B.C. fastball crown but were unsuccessful although giving a good account of themselves.

Following the banquet, a public dance will be held. Proceeds will help pay the expenses of the club for their journey to the fastball finals.

The name "sheriff" for county officials comes from the old English "shire reeve."

SWEDISH JUMPER THREAT TO RECORD

STOCKHOLM (AP) — A 20-year-old Stockholm University student is the newest threat to the high jump record, monopolized by Americans.

He is Bengt Nilsson, who recently bettered the European mark with a leap of 6 feet, 11 inches—just ¾ inch short of the world record held by Walter Davis of the United States.

The tall, blonde Swede made a try at the 6-11 ¾ bar. He vaulted over smoothly but the bar, shimmying on its pegs a few moments, fell to the ground.

Als Dominate Big Four Race

TORONTO (CP) — Montreal Alouettes' clear-cut superiority in the Big Four race is shown in official statistics released Monday night. They lead in first downs, both by rushing and passing, in ground gained and in practically every offensive department.

The first-place Als have made 127 first downs, compared with 105 by Toronto Argonauts, 100 by Hamilton Tiger-Cats and 97 by the last-place Ottawa Rough Riders. Total yards gained show Als with 2559, against 2131 by Toronto, 1932 by Ottawa and 1893 by Tiger-Cats.

Yards gained by rushing give Alouettes 1273, Toronto 996, Hamilton 813 and Ottawa 781. On passing, Als have moved 1041 yards, Toronto 1007, Ottawa 956 and Hamilton 919.

Defensively, Argonauts have yielded only 740 yards and 43 first downs to opposition rushing compared to Montreal's 858 and 51, Hamilton's 1063 and 54 and Ottawa's 1202 and 60.

SCOTS WIN

KILMARNOCK, Scotland (CP)—Kilmarnock of the Scottish soccer league defeated Spartak of Prague 5-2 Tuesday night in an exhibition match. A crowd of 10,000 watched the game in which Kilmarnock led the Czechs 3-1 at halftime.

The quartet as a musical composition for four instruments, or singers, originated with Joseph Haydn about 1755.

Leafs To Hit Ice Lanes Monday; Two New Players Already in City

Hockey in Nelson will officially get under way next Monday morning when the Maple Leafs take to the ice at the Civic Centre for their first workout of the 1954-55 season

Coach Chuck Rayner has announced the Leafs will have approximately 25 men in camp and that two hour workouts will be conducted daily with one in the morning and one in the evening.

It is expected that the majority of last year's team members will be on hand, along with several top-ranking juniors belonging to the New York Rangers chain.

During the practice sessions, the Leafs will be watched by Dennis Ball, head scout for the Rangers in Western Canada. It may also be that Al Ritchie of Regina, famed football and hockey player and now a scout in Saskatchewan, will also be on hand along with Norm Couch, manager of the Saskatoon Quakers.

NEWCOMERS

Two players to try out with the club have already made their appearance in the city in the person of Vic Lofvendahl and Roy Mikulan.

Lofvendahl, a burly defenceman tipping the scales at 200 pounds and standing 5 feet, 10 inches, played last season with the Seattle Bombers and could give the Leafs much added strength on the blueline.

Mikulan played goal for the Humboldt Indians last year and was chosen as the all-star goaltender of the league in a poll conducted by radio and sports writers in Saskatchewan.

Carl Linden, publicity manager for the club, arrived back in the city to announce that arrangements with the Rangers through the Saskatoon Quakers, parent club, have been completed.

Linden stated that players could be called up from the Leafs during the season for a three-game tryout.

Any given a pro contract would be replaced by the Quakers. Quakers will only ask for a defenceman or a forward and it will be up to Rayner to send the man he wishes. He will not have to break up any combination which is going well.

"During the playoffs the club can not be touched for players as there is a deadline."

Rayner, who is visiting the tryout camp of the Quakers in Saskatoon, is expected in the city this weekend with several players.

Fire Season to Close Earlier

VICTORIA (CP)—This year's official fire season, the lightest in B. C.'s history, has been cut short one month and will end Sept. 30, forestry officials announce.

Moist summer conditions throughout the province have made the forests relatively fire proof and the extended fire season is unnecessary

The end of the fire season means that no camp fire or burning permits will be necessary after the end of this month.

Forestry officials say that up to Sept. 24 there had been only 753 forest fires in B.C., none serious and about half as many as usual.

Cost of fire-fighting was $38,509 this year, compared to $197,725 in 1953 and nearly $600,000 in 1952.

JUMPING POUND EXPANDING

TORONTO — The extensions to Shell of Canada's natural gas and sulphur plant at Jumping Pound, Alta., will soon be producing additional fuel for Southern Alberta and sulphur for an important uranium property in the Lake Athabaska area. Refinery Engineering Limited, gas plant contractors, and R. M. Parsons Company of Canada, Limited, who are constructing the extensions to the sulphur unit, expect to complete the multi-million-dollar additions by late fall.

The expansion of the gas plant follows the conclusion of contracts calling for greatly increased deliveries to the Canadian Western Natural Gas Company, who supply Calgary, Banff and other Southern Alberta communities. The capacity of Shell's Jumping Pound plant will be raised from 35 million to 60 million cubic feet of sales gas daily.

St. Lawrence Seaway Orders Start Steel Mills Rolling at Top Speed

MONTREAL (CP)—An improvement in the Canadian steel business has been noted and observers here predict the St. Lawrence seaway project will add to the upswing.

A. C. Leslie and Company Limited, dealers in steel and other metals, says in a newsletter:

"Steel orders are being received at the Canadian mills for a number of products at a faster rate than a month or two and steel production figures have increased.

"Especially noticeable is the increase in sheet production. Delivery of cold rolled and galvanized sheets have advanced slightly with the recent increase in the price of zinc.

"As the contracts are awarded for the St. Lawrence seaway and power projects, there is no doubt that this will point to a higher sales figures for structural steel, reinforcing bars, plates, etc. The building of this project will be spread over a period of five to seven years and will therefore provide a long-term cushion effect for the Canadian steel producers.

"Canadian warehouse sales have shown improvement lately. The recent return of the optimistic view in the steel business is having its effect, and the feeling is that the present rate of business will be maintained, if not increased, during the next few months.

"The new seaway and power project will have its effect on warehouse sales too. It will be the job of the warehouses to fill the 'rush' requirements for the undertaking.

"They will supply the many smaller lots of steel and non-ferrous items needed by sub-contractors and for the maintenance of the equipment being used on the job."

Yard Detective Against Guns

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Fabian, Britains' most celebrated detective since Sherlock Holmes, feels it might be a good idea if American cops quit carrying guns.

"The display of firearms is to be deprecated,' mildly observed the detective, formerly a superintendent at Scotland Yard. "It incites the criminal to carry one, too.

"A firearm is not an equalizer—it is an antagonizer."

ADVOCATE LASHES

Fabian believes Britain made a mistake in doing away with the cat o'nine tails in 1948. He is convinced that 10 lashes on a criminal's back with "the cat," or 20 strokes with birch switches on his bared bottom teaches him an unforgettable lesson.

Recently Fabian visited Toronto to investigate the disappearance of 17-year-old Marion McDowell, Toronto typist who disappeared from her boy friend's car in a lover's lane Dec. 8. He turned up no new evidence during a three-week investigation but is expected to return to the case next week.

Here are a few observations on crime by Britain's "detective of the century":

"It has been my experience that most killers do have grey eyes. People with brown eyes are more warm-natured.

WAGES OF SIN

"Criminals who work alone are usually the most difficult to catch. It is generally easier to catch a murderer than a robber.

"The most common mistake of criminals is that they go to the well too often.

"I'm a great believer in women—as detectives, I mean. They are better than men in solving the disguises of women criminals. It is hard for one woman to fool another woman."

Beavers Have Fun

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—The road around Round lake, 40 miles west of here, is probably flooded again by now, giving a dauntless bunch of beavers another chisel-toothed chuckle.

They are "the most pig-headed things you ever saw," said Fred Arnold, of the Saskatchewan natural resources department, after he broke open their damaging dam recently for the umpteenth time.

Beavers first caused flooding in 1952 when they built a dam on the Shell river, a mile upstream from a bridge.

"We make a check every two or three days to guard against road flooding," says Mr. Arnold. "We've pulled out that dam at least 20 times this summer.

"We tried live-trapping, but as fast as we trapped one, two more moved in.

"If we wreck the dam, it's built before we can get back again. It's nothing but a pain in the neck."

Queen's Colt Comes In Third At Race

NEWMARKET, England (AP) — Queen Elizabeth's three-year-old colt Landau finished last of four runners here Tuesday threw a doubt into his proposed running in the Washington, D. C., International race at Laurel Park, Md., Nov. 3.

"Landau's American trip now will have to be looked into and no decision can be given," Capt. Charles Moore, the Queen's racing manager, said.

The royal colt and King of the Tudors, owned by F. W. Dennis, are the two British thoroughbreds scheduled to compete in the 1½ mile Laurel Park race.

Marshall Ney, a chestnut colt by His Highness out of Fair Freedom won the race, the one-mile Old Rowley Stakes.

Foreigners Beat American Boxers

NEW YORK (AP) — The steady forward march of foreign fighters and the decline of American boxers is reflected Tuesday in the last ratings which show half of the 80 contenders are from out of the U.S.

For the first time in 25 years, four foreigners are listed among the top ten heavyweights in Ring magazine's monthly ratings.

They include the only Canadian in the listings, Earl Walls of Toronto and Edmonton who holds down ninth position. Walls, who will defend his Canadian heavyweight title in Toronto Oct. 25 against James J. Parker of Barrie, Ont. and Paterson, N. J. held the same ranking in the previous listing.

Kingston Scene Of Campus Jinks

KINGSTON (CP)—Queen's university is the latest Canadian college to feel the effects of campus high jinks.

A snake dance by 200 freshmen along the main street wound up with a raid on a police station when students tried to rescue two freshmen who had been arrested.

The two youths were picked up after a manhole cover was removed on Princess street. They were charged with drinking while under age and with obstructing an officer.

USE FIRE HOSES

The crowd followed the police cruiser to the station. Students milled around the building. Some pushed a parked patrol car up against the main door, smashing the hinges. Others hurled rocks through a window.

Police brought out the fire hoses. Several students rushed at the officers to snatch the hoses, but police kept them off. The crowd broke up.

Earlier, a motorist tried to crash the student lines with his car. The students hauled him out of the front seat, tore his shirt off and slapped mustard all over the car.

Demand Standard Sizes, Reliable Labels for Ready-Made Clothing

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Association of Consumers Tuesday opened a campaign for better standard sizes in ready-made clothes.

A survey prepared for the association's seventh annual meeting and based on complaints from some members, said that:

1. Sizes differ from one manufacturer to aonther;

2. Sizes are larger and better fitting in more expensive lines;

3. Sizes bear little relation to body proportions.

Results of the survey were distributed in advance of delivery.

The report forms the background for a resolution by the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union to be studied Wednesday. The union will ask the association to request the federal government to enact legislation standardizing sizes of clothing. It will also request that garments be labelled as to type of material and shrinkability.

The report, signed by Mrs. M. Humphries of Toronto, chairman of the textiles committee, said that the association wants labelling of fibre content on all garments. However application of this recommendation by manufacturers would be voluntary.

The committee also recommended that labels carry information as to the durability of materials, how they behave in use and how to care for the garments. This would amount to a "Canada standard" type of performance label.

COMPLAINTS AND COMMENTS

Here are some complaints drawn to manufacturers' attention, their comments:

Manufacturers said a suggest that patching materials be suppl with dresses would lead to unre onable complications.

Makers of brassieres and sl passed on to their suppliers the sociation's complaint that clips shoulder straps rust in washing.

The committee reported no re from manufacturers associations the complaint that sleeves on me work shirts are too short and material is not pre-shrunk.

Two associations of wome dress manufacturers replied th would pass on their members su gestions for deeper hems and thre quarter-length sleeves in midd aged women's summer dresses.

PTA Calls for More Interest In Youngsters

Nelson Junior-Senior High School Parent-Teacher Association wants more parents to show an interest in youngsters this year.

The PTA wants them to come to their meetings and take part in their projects, Mrs. C. F. Kearns, a member of the group, said Monday. First meeting is Wednesday.

"The PTA is the only organization that works primarily for children," she said. "It seeks to improve the community by helping young people."

One of their projects, one they have persistently worked on for a number of years, will receive marked attention this term.

They will back a local committee which is seeking to help juvenile girls who have become incorrigible.

For a number of years Nelson PTA's have sought a detention home for juveniles (a place to keep juveniles while they await trial). They were instrumental in getting Nelson its first probation officer.

"It took two years and a volume of correspondence," Mrs. Kearns explained, "before he was appointed, and any other program for youngsters will require an equal amount of persistence and work."

The PTA has drafted a resolution to be presented at the PTA convention at the coast this year requesting the Attorney-General to enforce the section of the Juvenile Delinquent Act that provides for a probation home and asking the provincial government to alert municipalities of their responsibility to provide accommodation as specified under the Juvenile Court Act.

The resolution also urges all PTA's to concern themselves in establishing such accommodations.

Guest speaker at the High School PTA's first meeting Sept. 29 will be Alan R. Ramsden, manager of CKLN radio station, who will speak on Radio and Education. It will be followed by a buzz session on program suggestions.

Baby-Sitters Cause Death of Child

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two teen-age baby sitters were charged with murdur in the fatal beating of an 18-month-old boy whom they admitted whipping because he was "backward." Charges were filed against Kenneth James Brewer, 16, and Benjamin West McGrew, 17, stepbrothers who were caring for little Thomas Harris last Friday. They told police they whipped the child "with a belt and with our hands" because he could not stand up and walk.

U.K. Continues Overseas Deals

WASHINGTON (Reuters) —R. A. Butler, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer, said Tuesday the United Kingdom has set itself the specific task of so constructing its economic policy that it can continue to be a substantial investor overseas, particularly in the Commonwealth.

Butler spoke in a panel discussion on the prospects for private international investment at the World Bank meeting here.

"The resumption of the United Kingdom's traditional lending for development overseas at so early a stage after the disruptive effects of a shattering war was largely made possible by the rapid recovery of its production, helped by the generous assistance of the U. S. and Canada," he said.

NOT YET FREE

It was as yet much too early to think in terms of complete freedom of movement of capital.

"That comes only after other freedom, such as freedom to convert one currency into another and freedom of trade from quota restrictions—both of which would greatly stimulate international capital movement. We intend to press forward with those objects."

Cease-Fire Pact Progressing

VANCOUVER (CP)— Brig. Sherwood Lett, Canadian representative on the Indo-China truce commission, says some terms of the cease-fire agreement are not clear and could be difficult to carry out.

But he added prospects of a successful conclusion of Canada's assignment in Indo-China are "fairly good."

Brig. Lett is chancellor of the University of British Columbia here and leaves for Southeast Asia early next month.

"I understand the cease-fire agreement was drafted in some haste and I imagine that experience will show us that in some places the terms are not clear," he said Monday.

KOREANS DEMONSTRATE

SEOUL (AP) — Thousands of South Korean laborers and disabled war veterans Tuesday staged demonstrations against the withdrawal of United States troops from Korea. Some 200 crippled veterans staged a sitdown strike in front of the American embassy while another 100 shouted anti-withdrawal slogans at the gate of the foreign correspondents billets.

McCarthy Low in World's News

LONDON (AP) — The United States Senate committee's recommendation that Senator Joseph McCarthy be censured played second fiddle in European papers today to the nine-power London conference on Germany.

It received its biggest displays in Britain, Denmark and Holland. Elsewhere, papers either printed the story on back pages or igonred it altogether.

British papers were the only ones to comment editorially this morning. The Times hails the recommendation as "an example of the infinite variety and ultimate sanity of American democratic processes." It adds that the Wisconsin Republican now may find it harder to return to his investigations because "the committee's report — though not checkmate to his ambitions—is an unmistakable check."

Doctor Criticizes Hospital Industry

WINNIPEG (CP)—Hospital administrators who speak of their profession as "the hospital industry" were criticized Tuesday by Dr. A. C. McGugan of Edmonton, president of the Canadian Hospital Association.

"If hospitalization and the alleviation of suffering are no more than an 'industry' to you, get out of it," he advised.

Dr. McGugan, superintendent of the University of Alberta Hospital, spoke at the annual western Canada institute for hospital administrators.

"There is nothing more revolting than the spectacle of an individual seeking personal aggrandizement at the expense of suffering humanity," he said.

De Castries Inquiry Termed "Untrue"

HANOI, Indochina (AP) —General Rene Cogny Tuesday categorically denied there is or has been either a formal or informal inquiry into Gen. Christian de Castries' conduct as commander at Dien Bien Phu.

Cogny branded as "completely untrue" a report that Colonel Langlais and other of de Castries' staff officers took over command at Dien Bien Phu because de Castries had not been able to maintain command.

British Columbia Has New Baby City

LANGLEY PRAIRIE, B.C. (CP) —Langley Prairie is a little place with big ideas.

Monday 85 per cent of the village's 917 eligible voters voted to cast off the cloak of incorporation within Langley municipality and form their own little city.

The campaign for independence in the four square miles of farm land began two years ago.

Reeve George Brooks and his council will continue in office in the district but a mayor and six aldermen is expected to be elected for the province's newest city in December or early next year.

Trace "Saucer" To Young Lads

SANSPRINGS, Okla. (AP) — The mystery of the midnight "spook light" that has drawn crowds numbering as many as 600 persons has been solved.

Monday night, as expensive radio and television equipment was made ready to capture the strange sequence, police found two boys perched half way up a cliff with flashlights and towels. Some 500 persons were present at the scene, two miles west of here.

The boys, identified by officers as Eugene Anderson, 19, and Jimmy Rose, 17, admitted that the light was their invention. They said they first tried it last Wednesday, and because the crowd liked it so much they repeated it nightly.

Coast Hospital Plans Clinic For Alcoholics

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alcoholism Foundation of British Columbia will establish an out-patient clinic near Vancouver General Hospital as soon as accommodation can be found to rent, president Harry J. Seed said Tuesday.

Trustees have approved a $34,000 budget for "an initial program to deal with alcoholism on a province-wide basis." The funds come from provincial government grants made for the years 1953 to 1955.

The proposed out-patient clinic will be the first step in a program which includes relocation and enlargement of the present rehabilitation centre here, and publication of a Journal on Alcoholism as part of an educational program aimed at helping alcoholics recognize their illness and encouraging them to seek treatment.

Prosecution For Wheat Smugglers

WINNIPEG (CP) — Anyone caught smuggling selkirk wheat to the U. S. will be prosecuted for violating the Canadian Wheat Board Act, RCMP said Tuesday.

They were commenting on reports that some selkirk has been smuggled across the border since the Canadian wheat board banned exports Aug. 16.

Selkirk is the only wheat which resists the stem rust strain known as 15B which ruined millions of acres of spring wheat on the Prairies this spring

Czechs Must Meet Obligations to Monetary Fund or Else Get Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Monetary Fund Tuesday voted to oust Czechoslovakia, its only member from behind the Iron Curtain, on Dec. 31 unless the Czechs meet their obligations to the agency before that date.

The fund's board of governors overwhelmingly rejected Czechoslovakia's argument that its failure to supply economic data was justified on "national security" grounds.

Forty-two of the fund's 57 nations voted for the ouster. Nine abstained. Two — India and Czechoslovakia itself — voted against the resolution; and four governors were absent.

The World Bank, holding its annual meeting concurrently here with the fund's, already has suspended Czechoslovakia from membership in an action which will become final Dec. 31 unless the Czechs pay up their subscription to the bank's capital.

Nehru Dismisses Blast at Hillary

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—A book published here recently, in which an Indian writer claimed the British party faked the conquest of Mount Everest and never did reach the top, created a stir in the Indian Parliament Tuesday.

Prime Minister Nehru told questioners that the government will take no action against the writer.

Asked if the government was aware that the book — "Everest—Is It Conquered?" by S. M. Goswami—cast doubts on the success of the British expedition, he replied: "The government are aware that the 1953 expedition led by Col. John Hunt succeeded in climbing the peak."

The book had been seen "but no action is contemplated or considered necessary."

Goswami, who describes himself as "a former anti-corruption officer," wrote that "the alleged news of the "conquest" of Everet is a sinister attempt to restablish tottering self-styled British supremacy once again."

Leading Indian climbers have described the book as "ridiculous from beginning to end."

Want Measures Set By Imperial Ounce

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Association of Consumers recommended Tuesday that standards for measuring cups and spoons be set down in Canada's Weights and Measures Act.

The association's consumer research department reported at the CAC annual convention that a meeting of experts at the National Research Council last April 12 agreed that Canadian standards should be based on the imperial fluid ounce.

It was agreed, the report said, to ask manufacturers to make an eight-ounce measuring cup. This would mean five cups to the imperial quart .

Reality's Spiritual Nature Set Forth

How understanding of the spiritual nature of reality brings enduring health, harmony and progress—was set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

The lesson-sermon entitled "Reality" included the following from I Peter (1: 24, 25': "For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away: but the word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you."

From "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following correlative passage was read: "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."

The golden text was from I Corinthians (1: 31): "As it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord."

Room Where Chopin Played Scene Of Statesmen's Dramatic Meeting

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign ministers of nine countries gathered Tuesday to solve key problems of the atomic age in a gilded music room where in quieter days Frederic Chopin played waltzes and mazurkas to entertain Queen Victoria.

Security officials paced through the carpeted corridors and high-ceilinged halls of Lancaster House as the statesmen tackled the problems surrounding German rearmament. Plain-clothes officers patrolled the quiet grounds outside.

IN FAMOUS ROOM

In the music room the statesmen assembled around a hollow square of blue-topped tables beneath a huge glittering chandelier. Facing each foreign minister were microphone and earphones geared to a simultaneous translation system in German, French and English.

Each minister has been allotted three seats for his leading advisers, most of the 150 delegates attending the talks. The Germans created an accommodation poser by turning up with 28 officials—biggest delegation at the conference.

5-DAY OCCUPATION

From the decorative music room the ministers will gaze out on an ancient stable yard, once the royal mews to nearby St. James' Palace.

On the side of the conference table, between towering gold and white corinthian columns, is a glass-fronted box-like office where a team of interpreters will work.

At the other end of the room six high-speed shorthand experts will record the thousands of words which the ministers will speak during the five-day conference.
