Malay To Elect First Legislative Council

Security Measures Taken in British Protectorate Against Terrorists

By FREDERICK COLEMAN

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters) — Security precautions against any last-minute Communist intervention went into force today as the people of Malay voted for the first time to elect a legislative council.

A triple alliance of Malayan, Chinese and Indian organizations—pledged to achieve independence from Britain by 1959 and to offer an amnesty to Communist terorists—was firm favorite to win in eve-of-poll forecasts.

The Malay Negara (Country) party is the only other group strong enough to upset predictions.

All federal citizens above the age of 21, including those who can neither read nor write, make up the electorate of 1,280,000 Malays, Chinese Indians, Thais and others.

It may take two days before all votes are counted, but a definite trend indicating which party will form Malay's first-elected government is expected by late tonight.

There are 129 candidates for the 52 seats in the legislative council for elected members. It will be the first elected majority in the, 50,800 square-mile British protectorate, a 500-mile long peninsula, rich in tin and rubber, on the southern tip of the Asian continent.

The council had previously been entirely nominated. There will still be 46 nominated members, representing the tin and rubber industries, other commercial interests, trade unions, and fractional minority races.

TERRORIST BACKDROP

Nine of the elected members will join a cabinet headed by Sir Donald MacGillivray, the high commissioner. It includes three government officials.

These ministers will govern most of the domestic affairs of Malaya as a first ste ptoward the promised goal of self-government. But the high commissioner will have the power of veto and also will control defence and internal security.

About 4,000 terrorists holding out in the jungle against 40,000 British troops form a dark background to the polls, and police and troops will be standing by in a struggle for their own survival.

Armed guards will escort electoral officials in Communist areas.

Tuesday, eve of the elections, security forces killed 11 terrorists and captured three—highest bag in several months. Among the dead were the leader of Communists in the Selangor area and four women.

Phoney Petition Gets 47 Names

WEST VANCOUVER (CP) — Reginald Mullen claims some people will sign anything and to prove his point, he successfully circulated a phoney petition which netted 47 names in two hours.

Mr. Mullen, representing a group wishing to build a new apartment, told council here Monday night the document was circulated to discredit a previous petition by residents opposed to the new apartment.

Mr. Mullen's phoney petition urged a compromise, that the site chosen for the apartment be used as a park "dedicated to the memory of Capt. Gilbert Question-Faggett of HMS Fluke Dolphin, who forewarned in his report on first sighting these shores against mutilation by settlers and speculators who but little prize the surpassing natural beauty of the new world."

19 KILLED IN RIOTS SO FAR

10,000 Moroccans Shout For Sultan's Return

MEKNES, French Morocco (CP) —The death count from nationalist rioting in Meknes climbed to 19 Tuesday. Fifteen persons were killed outright in disorders Monday and four more Moroccans succumbed to bullet wounds inflicted by French police and soldiers.

Official figures put the wounded at 50, including several Frenchmen hurt by stone-throwing mobs.

The latest rioting in this troubled North African protectorate broke out as the new French resident-general, Gilbert Grandval, visited Meknes. About 10,000 Moroccans, many of them veiled women, shouted for the return of French-exiled Sultan Sidi Mohammed ben Youssef, who backed the nationalist cause.

Fresh clashes also were reported in Algeria, another French North African troublespot.

Reports reaching Paris said 15 Algerian rebels were killed and four taken prisoner in a battle with French forces near Cheria, about 140 miles southeast of Constantine. Numerous farm fires were set by guerrillas in the Constantine area.

The Lawsons were remanded until Friday.

In police court prosecutor Paul Delaney told Magistrate Oscor Orr an attempted murder charge might be laid. Bail was set at $10,000.

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — Sudbury has just lost to progress its last log house. Workmen clearing the site for a new Dominion government building have demolished the 67-year-old structure. Polling Heavy at Israel Election

TEL AVIV, (Reuters) — Silent Moslem women, shrouded from head to toe in thick black robes, voted Tuesday with Jews who have come here from 70 countries in Israel's third parliamentary election. Polling was relatively heavy, despite a stifling heat wave. Provisional results were expected at about midnight local time, but a definite trend will not be indicated until today.

Grateful Man Pays Back Found Money

LONDON (AP) — George Shepherd reached London Tuesday after a 10,000-mile journey — just to drop a pound note on the sidewalk in Bayswater square.

For the 48-year-old Shepherd, now a prosperous lumber dealer in Sarawak, it will be a sentimental act of remembrance.

During the depression, Shepherd ws walking through Bayswater square with only two pence in his pocket. He found a pound note. His luck changed for the good.

"I hope someone who is as badly off now as I was before will find the note I drop," he said.

Weather No Aid To Firefighters

TORONTO (CP) — Tuesday was not a good day for Ontario's forest fire fighters. Winds were high, and temperatures hot; and there was little rain.

Flames licked at timber and brush over 200,000 acres in the province in an unrelenting onslaught against the efforts of 6000 men and millions of dollars in equipment.

Neither the flames nor the men made much headway.

"The situation is somewhat the same," T. E. Mackie, chief of the forest protection division of the Ontario lands and forests department, reported Tuesday night. "It wasn't a good day for fire fighting."

"Somewhat the same" meant more than 150 fires still crackled their way through valuable forests across the province, the worst blaze roaring uncontrolled over 100,000 acres north of Blind river 90 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie.

Orphan Lad Goes To Top Man

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Until Monday two things dominated the life of a Bedouin Arab boy named Mohammed Ali Muhisn — a problem and an ambition.

For at 13, he found the life of a nomad pretty tough. He had practically no money. He had no prospects. He had no parents.

Muhisn's problem was what to do with his life, and how he was to get an education.

Monday he decided the time had come for action, but his story was only for the king.

So it was that as Jordan's 20-year-old King Hussein drove into Amman, a small boy ran up beside the sleek car and waved for him to stop. The king stopped.

Five minutes later, Muhisn was sitting beside him, driving to the palace of the queen mother, where he was fed and clothed.

Tuesday the orphan prepared to start an expensive education — with the king footing the bill.

Anniversary of President's Wife's Death Remembered in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — On the national day of mourning for Eva Peron, vandals Tuesday defaced posters and monuments erected to her memory in towns of Buenos Aires province.

The dynamic blond wife of President Juan D. Peron died of cancer three years ago.

The incidents occurred as Peronista legislators ended a week-long squabble and accepted President Peron's directive to change officers of the national House of Deputies. The move was a defeat for the party's Labor wing.

Police said the vandalism occurred in three towns near the capital and a newspaper reported an attack in another town.

In addition, police said, a bomb exploded at the local branch of the General Confederation of Labor in the town of Olavarria. The building front was damaged and windows were blown out but there were no injuries.

On this third anniversary of Eva Peron's death all public activity except transport and essential services halted for 24 hours. Radio stations broadcast only subdued music and memorial programs.

Police accounts of the vandalism said unknown persons tore off a plaque at the foot of a memorial in the town of Miramar.

In Balcarce, the hands of a clock erected by workers' contributions in her memory were twisted. The clock's hands had been stopped at 8:25 p.m., the minute of her death on July 26, 1952.

In San Antonio de Areco, two tar bombs were tossed on the Eva Peron monument in the town square.

On the troubled political front here, the Peronista deputies bowed to the president's orders by accepting the resignations of their leaders and designating replacements. The party's new candidates are certain to be elected when the House meets, probably today since it holds all but a dozen of the 1666 seats.

2 Gold Miners Strike it Rich

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — One hour's work in their mine earned two brother $40,000 when five cwt of ore yielded 1226 ounces of gold.

The brothers, Ernest and William Wright, after prospecting with varying success for 23 years, "struck it rich" in the Mount Clifford area of western Australia.

Ten years ago they were prospecting in the same area but gave up when a thunderstorm flooded their workings. Early this year they returned.

Since March their mine — the Beau Don — has produced a total of about $85,000 worth of gold. Another 12 tons of ore with potentially $75,000 worth of gold has still to be crushed.

Speaking from Kalgoorlie, the nearest big town, Senator V. S. Vincent said: "We are taking the news calmly here. Nothing like a gold rush has started yet, but we are all watching and waiting developments with great interest."

House Expects Prorogue Today

OTTAWA (CP) — Prorogation of the current session of Parliament was virtually certain for today as the Commons moved swiftly Tuesday through the last of its sessional business.

The Senate, after brief afternoon and evening sittings, was adjourned until 1 p.m. today, by which time the Commons was expected to complete its work.

The House began the day by unanimously waiving its 10 p.m. adjournment rule and then tied into the last of the departmental spending estimates standing in the way of a windup of the session which began Jan. 7.

Members gave final approval to estimates of the mines and state secretary's departments and several minor government branches. At supper adjournment the House was well into the spending allocations for Revenue Minister McCann's department — which includes the CBC — and the only other major department to go through was finance.

Progress was delayed briefly as CCF members debated their passage this seession on the last occasion on which they could be considered.

It was the 138th sitting day of the session, one short of the modern record of 139 days set last year.

Austria Celebrates Independence Day

By HUBERT HARRISON

VIENNA (Reuters) — Austrian independence becomes an established fact today. It ends 17 years of foreign domination and 10 years of uneasy existence in the front line of the cold war.

At 10:15 a.m. local time, the four-power council of British, American, French and Russian commanders meets for the last time to dissolve the group — supreme authority over the little nation since 1945.

Before jubilant crowds, soldiers of the four powers will lower their nations' flags over the Allied Council building here.

Meanwhile, in Moscow, the last act ratifying the Austrian state treaty will be deposited by France concluding one of the most tangled chapters of East-West negotiations since the Second World War.

Other acts ratifying the May 15 treaty have been deposited in Moscow by Britain, the United States and Austria.

The agreement ends an occupation that began at the end of the Second World War and persisted through almost 10 years of the cold war as Russia turned down Western bids to reunify and evacuate the country.

But last spring a surprise move by Moscow produced Austrian-Russian agreement on treaty terms and signalled the beginning of an apparent cold war thaw.

Radio announcers will speak into programs to tell Austrians their country is free again the moment news of the last ratification deposit has been received.

It is a public holiday and Austrians will throng beflagged streets to celebrate their first day of independence since Adolf Hitler's troops annexed it in March, 1938.

Herridge Speaks for Pension Right

OTTAWA (CP) — A union request for federal recognition of an employee's so-called "vested right" in his pension equity was laid before the Commons Tuesday night.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) supported the stand of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, which asked that workers under non-contributory pension plans acquire full title on their pension equity after the age of 50 and after 20 years' service.

He read to the Commons a letter the union sent to Finance Minister Harris asking for the right on behalf of members employed by the International Nickel Co. and Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. at Trail and Kimberley in British Columbia and at Sudbury and Port Colborne in Ontario.

RULES STUDY

Revenue Minister McCann said the letter was turned over to him. He had replied to the union that a stuly is being made of all revenue department rules and regulations regarding pension plans, with a view to proposing changes.

The union's letter said the "vested right" should be granted to workers, partly on the ground that the companies' contributions to pension plans are deductible for tax purposes and represent a considerable amount that does not go into the treasury.

It added that of $25,600,000 in the Consolidated Mining and Smelting pension fund, $10,900,000 represented tax savings from the tax-free contributions. The International Nickel fund included more than $27,000,000 in tax savings.

The letter said workers who now leave the companies after 20 years' service, but before reaching retirement age, receive no benefit from the pension plans.

The Weather

This boat, its weathered planking coming apart from its stem, is all that serves at Lakeside Park as a patrol or rescue craft. It is not used because it is not usable.

During past week, lifeguards were unable to patrol a swimmer who attempted an unaccompanied swim of the West Arm. "We didn't have a boat with which to go after him", questioners were told.

Separation of planking from the bow piece is shown in the photo above. The craft hasn't been launched this season because orelocks are not serviceable and because of its unseaworthy condition.

Maintaining Health, Preventing Disease Work of Public Health

The extensive services "as near to you as your telephone" provided by the Public Health Service in British Columbia were outlined by Dr. Howard T. Lowe, Medical Health Officer for Selkirk Health Unit, in a vocational talk to the Nelson Rotary Club on Monday.

Ordinarily people go to a doctor "to get well, not to stay well", said Dr. Lowe. Medicine is thought of as "curative rather than preventative." The public health service however is concerned with "maintenance of health and prevention of disease."

Its program is largely educational. Only when the practical aspect of something is too extensive, too expensive, of too long duration or involves legal problems is it carried out by the service rather than through practitioners. An example locally is tuberculosis control.

Public health is not a one-man show but is very much a team effort, the speaker stated. It involves understandings between provincial, national and international health departments. It requires the services of doctors, nurses, nutritionists, sanitary inspectors and several others, all of whom have training in public health.

All public health services are divided into "programs". These programs, available to British Columbians if needed, include maternal hygiene, infant hygiene, schoolmedical program, communicable disease control, sanitation, industrial hygiene, mental hygiene, nutritional consultation, preventative dentistry, laboratory service, health educational service, public health research, vital statistics, care to elderly people, medical care plan and drug addiction.

The services provided in a particular locality depend on what the area requires. Public health in Nelson is concerned with well baby clinics, immunization, school medical examinations, sanitation, tuberculosis control, children's consultative clinics, air evacuation service, polio vaccination, fluoridation survey, community dental clinics, prenatal classes and pollution.

With regards to sanitation, Dr. Lowe said principal concern here was a sanitary milk supply and sanitation in restaurants. Dr. Lowe mentioned the "wonderful job" being done by sanitary inspector R. G. Scott.

Regarding tuberculosis control, Dr. Lowe said there is a "fair amount" of the disease in this area because it is a mining district. Tuberculosis and silicosis are closely related.

Of fluoridation he said that in Selkirk unit are the only two districts in B.C. where the water supply has natural fluoride, these being at Nakusp and in the Blaylock sub-division. A survey of Nakusp children was taken in the Fall of 1953 and the lower tooth decay ration among these children was "significant."

Regarding pollution, surveys have been taken on the Kootenay River to determine what effect sewerage which empties into the river has on the water.

The cost of public health services is about $2 per capita per year. The population of Selkirk Unit is about 25,000 with the cost per year about $43,000. Of the $2 per person, 30 cents is paid by local school boards and the balance comes from the provincial government.

The work of the medical health officer in particular includes determining what services are required locally and it is his responsibility to see that the services are arranged for and the program carried out.

Public health services are not intended to take the place of but are intended only as a supplement to services received through family doctors, said Dr. Lowe.

Dr. Lowe was introduced by O. C. Odegard and thanked for his address on behalf of the club by E. C. Wintemute.

The Nelson club will be represented at a Rotary club dinner in Spokane this week at which the president of Rotary International will speak.

Guests were Tom Ferguson of Lethbridge, Gordon D. Herbert of Kelowna, William Dobbs of Rossland, Gerry White of New Westminster, and Alex Eastwood, Dave McLaughan, Ted McKillop, Bert Harrison and Hugh Robertson, all of Vancouver.

A short sing-song was conducted by Kenneth Counsell.

Peddle-Pushers Not Popular Back East

CALGARY (CP) — Women in Western Canada like to dress more casually than their eastern cousins, says H. Kostman, owner of a chain of dress shops in Canada and the United States.

Mr. Kostman, here on a pleasure tour of western Canada, said the main distinction between wothe main distinction between women's dres sin western Canada is the prevalence of faded blue jeans and padol pushers.

"We're selling lots of blue jeans, and pedal pushers from our Edmonton plants," he said. "They can't seem to sell them back East, though. Apart from that, you'll find no great division between eastern and western fashions."

Nelson Cadets In OK Camp

VERNON — Ten Nelson boys are among more than 600 B. C. and Alberta army cadets now in camp in this Okanagan Valley centre taking seven weeks training.

Representing more than 80 Cadet corps in the two provinces, the teen-aged youngsters travelled here by road, rail and air from home towns located from Vancouver Island to the Saskatchewan border.

Courses during the seven-week program are split into two main categories. These are the Senior Leaders' Wing, training more than 400 boys as instructors in infantry subjects for their own corps; and the "D & M" Wing, training 200 youngsters in driving and maintenance of three-ton army trucks. Other boys are training as rifle coaches.

Training is undertaken by Regular Army, Militia and Cadet Services of Canada officers and NCOs assigned to cadet training for the summer.

Towns Favor B. C. Police

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Two cities in the Okanagan want the return of the provincial police to British Columbia.

The B.C. provincial police were absorbed by the RCMP in August, 1950. Since then, the RCMP has policed most centres in B.C.

Enderby and Vernon will present resolutions on the matter to the Okanagan Valley Municipal Associations meeting in Enderby Thursday.

NATIONAL COSTS

Vernon objects to the cost of policing municipalities being based on a percentage of a total cost of the force including musical rides band tours and other expenses.

The city alleges such expenses "are not essential to municipal policing, but national in character."

Enderby alleges the increased cost in RCMP policing is unreasonable" and is in favor of petitioning the attorney-general for re-establishment of the autonomous provincial force.

In other matters to be considered by the OVMA meeting, Kamloops and Summerland will seek abolition of the 70 cents per diem hospital costs.

Revelstoke seeks relief from taxes imposed on diesel fuel for production of electricity and Summerland wants the tax removed on materials used in municipally-owned irrigation systems.

20 Mile Swim of West Arm of Lake Planned

The Straits of Dover, Lake Ontario and the Juan de Fuca Strait have been conquered by swimmers. Nelsonites in the near future may attempt to swim the 20 miles from Procter to Nelson on the West Arm of Kootenay Lake.

Several parties are busy on plans to promote the event. It should prove a tough grind for swimmers as some currents will be encountered near Procter. Water temperature has been near 60 degrees.

Tom Murphy, winner of last year's three mile swim from Kokanee, has already expressed his willingness to attempt the long swim as has Shawn Harold.

Ed Kelter said an invitation to Mrs. Ann Merawa of Vancouver would be sent. At present she is entered in the Lake Ontario swim. Mr. Kelter trained Mrs. Merawa years ago at the Coast.

Should the swim be attempted it is likely it will take place the latter part of August when the water will be a little warmer.

597 of 832 Ratepayers Favor Hospital Improvement District

KIMBERLEY — To date 597 of 832 property-owners in the proposed Selkirk Hospital Improvement District which surrounds the organized territory of Kimberley and roughly corresponds to the Kimberley School District, have signed the petition for creation of the district which would be a preliminary to provision of a $1,250,000 hospital to replace the present old three-storey frame structure at Kimberley.

Refusing to sign the petition were 56 property owners, while 60 neither refused nor approved, and 119 remain to be canvassed. Provincial regulations require approval by 70 per cent of all property-owners in rural areas for application for establishment of a hospital improvement district to be considered.

If approval is given and the district established six trustees will be elected representing Chapman Camp, Marysville, strictly rural area and industry to reach agreement with the city as to the relative financial responsibility of the organized and unorganized territory.

PLEBISCITE

When this fact is established along with the amount of financing necessary from the whole hospital district a ratepayers plebiscite would be required to authorize raising of the respective totals. If ratepayers support was sufficient, the project would then become eligible for substantial financial help by the provincial and Dominion governments.

Kimberley district hospital established as a Cominco hospital in the late 1920's on a small scale was closely and impartially inspected by an international firm of hospital engineers last year, together with district hospital requirements and population trends and the final recommendation was a new 61-bed building on a new location expandable to 100 beds as need increased in the district. The board of management of the hospital this spring considered th eneed so acute that members believed discontinuation of all public hospital service for Kimberley was the only alternative to the new building.

Architects' model of the proposed new building, already extensively displayed here, will be shown at the Pacific National Exhibition this summer at request of the B. C. Insurance Commission.

8½-POUND BULL TROUT TAKEN BY FERNIE MAN

NATAL—A well known sportsman and hunter, Mike Camilli of Fernie, has reported catching a Char or better known as a Bull Trout weighing 8½ pounds. The fish was caught in the Elk River at Hosmer and is regarded as the largest of this species to be caught in this district from the Elko Dam to Michel in the past 25 years.

His father, J. V. Camilli was a well known fisherman also. In 1920 he caught a large Char weighing over 14 pounds at Olson, B.C. which used to be a favorite spot for big fish many years ago Many of the oldtimers in the district will remember this catch.

Eject Negro Dancing With White Girl

TORONTO (CP) — Bernard Dolman, 18-year-old Negro, claimed Tuesday he was ejected from a dance hall for dancing with a white girl.

He told reporters two policemen removed him from the dance hall after he told the manager it is illegal to prohibit dancing between Negroes and white persons.

He said he plans to complain to the Ontario labor department, which administers laws forbidding racial discrimination.

Dolman identified the dance hall as the Palais Royale at west-end Sunnyside.

AGAINST CLUB RULES

Joseph Broderick, manager and part owner of the Palais Royale, said Dolman was put out because he argued against the hall's "no mixed dancing" rule.

"The policy of the club is not to allow mixed dancing. I won't have a colored fellow dance with a white girl. It always leads to trouble. That's why I won't have colored bands. That always leads to trouble too."

Broderick said he allows Negro couples to dance together and he also lets unaccompanied Negro boys in "as long as they just sit and listen to the music."

Delayed Alarm Made Firemen Late at Fire

DELTA, B.C. (CP) — Misdirected alarms caused firemen to be an hour late at a blaze here which levelled the two-storey home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Nicholson, mink ranchers.

Mr. Nicholson suffered serious burns during an attempt to save valuable mink breeding records from the blazing house.

Loss is estimated at $20,000.

North Delta volunteer firemen said they were an hour late reaching the fire because a passing motorist, flagged down by Nicholson to telephone the alarm, had first called the wrong departments.

First calls were made to Burnaby RCMP and the New Westminster fire department, then to the South Westminster brigade which contacted the North Delta hall, only two miles from the burning house.

Firemen said they were also hampered in bringing the fire under control when a pump became clogged with mud.

Mr. Nicholson said he had spent 20 years compiling the records and other charts of his 2,100-mink operation.

Doing Thesis on Shores' Geology

GRAY CREEK — Percy Crosby of Chevy Chase, Maryland, U.S.A. is collecting data for a thesis on the geology of the shores of the centre part of Kootenay Lake stretching from Lockhart to Riondel on the East and including Procter, Balfour and Ainsworth on the West, also five miles inland. Mr. Crosby at Gray Creek stated he chose this part of the continent because of the many problems in rock formation. So far he found his expectations fully justified. He expects to take two years' vacations. Mr. Crosby is a graduate of Harvard University.

Gov't Rejects Trail's Request For Homes' Appraisal

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — Council's request for an independent appraisal of the value of 175 Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation homes in Upper Sunningdale has been rejected by the government, H. W. Herridge, CCF member of Parliament for Kootenay West, has advised council. The city sought the appraisal after tenants termed proposed prices too high.

FERNIE DEFEATS NATAL 6-2

NATAL — Playing a return exhibition game at the Natal ball park the Fernie Falcons handed the Natal-Michel Red Sox their first defeat as they came from behind to score a 6-2 win behind the steady hurling of Wilf Ashmore. The Red Sox scored their only runs in the fourth on a long double by Ben Serafini with two mates aboard.

Errors proved costly for the losing Red Sox. The visitors scored their only run in the first inning when Buchanan hit for the circuit with the bases empty. Whalley Krall went the route for the losers, but poor support paved the way for the loss after he pitched one of his better games.

Red Sox had won three straight games including a 7-1 decision over the Falcons until absorbing their initial loss. The other two wins were over the Eureka, Mont., nine in a home an dhome encounter. The game was umpired by Tom Krall of Natal and Quido D'Angelo of Sparwood.

Harvey Murphy Denies Jobs in B. C. Await Miners From East

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harvey Murphy, British Columbia regional director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) Tuesday denied there are jobs in B.C. for east coast miners.

Murphy was commenting here on House of Commons reports from Ottawa Monday that work existed on the west coast for Nova Scotia coal miners, 800 of whom have been thrown out of work following closure of Dominion Coal Co. colliery at Glace Bay.

"I haven't heard of any jobs going around and I'd advise east coast miners to thoroughly investigate prospects before coming out to B.C.," said Murphy.

"There aren't enough jobs for the men now in the province so I don't see how there could be much for miners from the Maritimes."

Murphy said coal miners from Alberta had taken up an earlier demand for extra miners and "there's not much room for anybody else."

In the Commons Monday, H. W. Herridge (CCF — Kootenay West) said there was mining work at Trail, B.C., site of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. operations.

PGE Opened to Traffic Again

VICTORIA (CP) — Railways minister Ralph Chetwynd said Tuesday the mainline of the Pacific Great Eastern railway now is open after a month's stoppage caused by floods in the Quesnel area.

Fills and railway trestles were knocked out by a cloudburst. Damage is estimated at $300,000.

Mr. Chetwynd also announced tenders will be called within the next two weeks for a 25-mile section north of Prince George.

Rubber Cheque Artists Busy

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police warned Tuesday that the booming "rubber cheque business" is bound to dupe Vancouver businessmen of "much more" than the average annual toll of $500,000 this year unless more stringent identification rules are applied.

Detective Bill Barkley, chief of the police cheque detail, revealed that the bad cheque artists are operating mainly against stores or hotel beer parlors but are also be coming brazen enough to victimize an increasing number of banks.

Most of their worthless cheques are forgeries but many are simply cheques written against non-existent bank accounts, he said.

"Too many business people are willing to accept a stranger and his cheque at face value," Det. Barkley added. "Persons who do this get stuck every day of the week.

Det. Barkley said the best method of stamping out the bad cheque business is the "fingerprint system" now in use in many parts of the United States.

This involves businessmen making strangers place their fingerprints on the back of their cheques before cashing them.

"Then we'd find cheque losses dropping—but fast," he said.

ROSSLAND — Gordon Seafoot and J. Biell approached city council this week about several matters which included a hazardous tree on a neighbor's property, the seepage of stagnant water on to their properties, lack of oil on the road behind their properties, and the need for some precautionary measures to deal with traffic. On the request of Alderman W. Keane, $125 expense money was voted to enable fire chief David Bishet to attend the B. C. Firefighters convention at Powell River. He also mentioned that the two inch water line on Park Street had been completed. Alderman Austin stated that $69,000 tax money had been collected to date with $60,000 still to be collected.

The board of works has installed six catch basins and laid nearly 15,000 gallons of oil on city streets.

Barrett Lawrie has been appointed collector of dog licence fees.

It was decided to hold monthly meetings of the parks committee during the summer months.

Prejudice in Child Starts With Parent

This problem of prejudice in the human mind has been the subject of much intensive study by social scientists, especially in recent years. Valuable work has been done in this field during the post-war years under the auspices of the United Nations, especially through one of its associated agencies, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. I believe it is desirable to take advantage of the research that organization has done.

One thing that most students have agreed on is that prejudiced people, like heroes, are not born—they are made. Prejudice is something that is acquired. It is often passed from one generation to another. It is frequently the result of deliberate propaganda, sometimes by one nation against another, sometimes by one group within a nation against another group, and sometimes by one person against another. In addition to this, it is often found in children at a very early age. We all know from our own observations that prejudice can be acquired by children, and usually the source of prejudice in young children is the influence of their parents.

Most parents, of course, do not want their children to have prejudices. However, students of this problem have found that children acquire prejudices by the example of unfortunate behavior, by observations of other people and by other expressions of superiority. Students of prejudice have discovered that much of the time, we older people do not realize that we are in fact passing on our prejudices to our children.

This, it seems to me, is one of the main things that Canadians, and especially Canadian parents, should keep in mind if they want to do something about prejudice and discrimination. Prejudice is a very subtle thing, and even the students who have spent a lot of time in research and study of the problem admit that they cannot analyze it completely. However, it is safe to say that the best way to work against it is first to examine our own attitudes and try to develop a fair and open mind about other human beings who are different from ourselves.—Hon. Walter Harris.

Gasket-Blowing Via Telegram

Following the rejection of the original pipeline plan, Mr. St. Laurent, the Prime Minister, announced that the Cabinet had before it three alternative plans, one of which might include Port Arthur in its transcontinental route.

Like any good burgomeister, Port Arthur's mayor, Fred Robinson, and his aldermen wanted to know more, and wired their member, Hon. C. D. Howe, asking for an interview. They got their reply, with this nasty little reminder tagged on the end:

"It is my understanding that you were elected to represent the citizens of Port Arthur and that I was elected to represent the same at Ottawa. I hope that you are doing your job as I am attempting to do mine."

We know that the ministers and members of Parliament have free mailing privileges, but we wonder if the taxpayers have to foot the bill on full-rate commercial telegrams when a minister feels called on to beat the heat by blowing a gasket in 41 words?—Calgary Herald.

The Halogens

People put chlorine in their drinking water to kill the germ-bugs, and they put fluorine in it to delay the onset of that day when your true teeth play you false. Now it seems a pity to use only two of the four chemical elements which make up that little group called the halogens. A third halogen, iodine, could go into the drinking water to keep down goitre. But the fourth . . . ah, there's the one that would do more good than all the other three put together. It is bromine. Bromine, in the form of bromides, would stop people from worrying about fluorine in their water.—The Fort William Times-Journal.

Your Horoscope

Exercise the utmost caution in all your affairs, especially concerning elders and property. Today's child may be beset with difficulties, mostly caused by an unsympathetic nature, which can be corrected while the child is young.

Back to Land?

Many men who have entered the coal mines of Nova Scotia in past times have come from the land, many are the sons of members of the farming population, and many others would, it goes without saying, be happy to establish themselves on the land if they were given that measure of encouragement and assistance, financial and otherwise, which has been extended through the years to other classes of workers by both the federal and provincial governments.

Without going into detail at the moment, there are opportunities for people to go on the land, or back to the land, in this province today—in mixed farming, in stock-raising (cattle and sheep), in poultry-raising, in dairying—and where men are left unemployed as a result of a decline in coal, mining, there would appear to be no reason why a considerable percentage of them could not be settled in some branch of the land industry.—Halifax Chronicle-Herald.

Ball and Chain

We are fascinated by the story from Wellington, New Zealand, about the man wo, drinking in a pub with his friends, heard a sharp click and, looking down, noted that a 40-pound ball and chain had been locked to his ankle. Noting that this impediment bore no resemblance to his wife, he picked it up and started after a short, dark man who was hastening out of the pub. He failed to catch him, and had to go to the police to have the ball and chain removed.

There should be, of course, a moral to this tale, but we're darned if we can find one. It could not, naturally, be a warning against marriage sent down to Wellington, New Zealand, by Providence. This seems unlikely. Perhaps the real moral is that men should avoid drinking in pubs with their friends. Or perhaps they should never do so, unless accompanied by their wives.—The Montreal Star.

It's Been Said

Being a parent used to be one of the most simple, natural, inevitable developments in the world. But nowadays one has no business to be married unless, waking and sleeping, one is conscious of the responsibility.—Abraham Flexner.

Naming a Hotel

It appears that in this whole business (naming the new CNR hotel in Montreal) there has been a little too much hurry, and that a lot of people would like to stop the machinery. The situation is delicate. . . . The Queen has complacently consented to the request (that her name be used). It was only later that an opposition, polite but firm, was taken into account. It is too late for a correction which would greatly please numbers of Canadians? The Governor General of Canada is at present in London. It is on his presence there that some people build their hopes. . . . It is thus (if the Sovereigns were informed of the sentiment of the population) that all would come to order, to the great satisfaction of Canadian opinion. How Do English Children Grow That Way?

. . . F. B. Pearce

The English are said to take their pleasures sadly. Whether this is true or not, they certainly are very calm and quiet under most circumstances. In a cafe or restaurant there is no high-pitched voice or the animation so common in North America. Men and women seem to have a real equality, and there is no noisy domination by the women; and as for children, their behavior in public is exemplary. They are neither assertive nor subservient, but as well behaved as their parents.

Bath is a city of considerable antiquity and historical interest. While there we saw many parties of school children with their teachers. Though they were obviously enjoying themselves, there was no pushing, running or shouting. The guide at the Roman baths talked to the children in our party, not to the adults, and they responded by giving him all their attention. I have seldom seen children so absorbed in listening to what they were being told. If there is any difference between Canadian and English education, it may be that English children can concentrate more on the subject in hand.

Apparently all schools can make these expeditions. We saw elementary children visiting a garden in Stratford, and a party of adolescent girls looking hopelessly English in their floppy school hats. The guide had just pointed to the monument to the inventor of the bath oliver biscuit, and when I remarked that they didn't know the bath oliver, they smiled and said they did.

COMMAND LANGUAGE

English children are quiet, but not shy and speechless. The fourteen-year-old boy who told us about the Teddy Boys also spoke about his school most interestingly. Another boy of nine gave me very clear directions how to reach his school, and got off his bike to accompany me part way so that I should be sure to find it. Even children in the nursery schools could answer questions quite well. They all seem to have a command of clear language.

During the war, with all its dangers and terror, the British were subconsciously determined that the race should not perish, and concentrated their efforts on the care of the children. They gave them special rations, milk, orange juice and cod liver oil, and established school meals for them. The result is clearly discernible. The children everywhere are robust and healthy. Milk is still supplied free to all children and school meals to all who wish for a nominal sum. These meals as plain, wholesome and attractive. A central committee in each area plans the overall diet, but each cook has freedom to make the menus. In one nursery school the cook was making pink sponge cake to go with stewed peaches because she liked the children to have color in their meals. In every place it seemed the cooks enjoyed turning out good meals for the children.

One of my friends remarked that he was surprised how quickly even little children learned to ride a bicycle. This may be due to the physical education program in the infants' schools, which are for children from five to seven. This is directed but not controlled, and the children love it. The little girls quite unself-consciously strip off their dresses and clamber through a jungle gym, hand head down or swing by their hands. They walk along two-by-fours five or six feet above the floor, or use a jumping horse.

Boys and girls play together, but each sex prefers its own games, and each child can choose his own. While some were high-jumping and others playing ball, one seven-year-old was keeping a wooden hoop rotating around his body by the movement of his hips. This is in keeping with the national belief in freedom of choice.

Cut Costs to Save Coal, Says Prudham

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's coal industry must cut production costs if it is to survive, Mines Minister Prudham says.

He told the Commons that Nova Scotia coal mines, aiming at wider markets through cost-cutting mechanization, have not achieved that goal.

As for the industry in Alberta, there is no solution in sight to revive the mines to their former position in the face of competition from big surpluses of oil and gas.

John Blackmore (SC, Lethbridge) asked for greater federal aid in getting Alberta coal into Ontario markets.

Mr. Prudham said there are difficulties. Alberta coal could not be stored. And the furnaces of eastern industries were adapted to different types of coal.

STAY-AT-HOME WOMEN RAPPED BY SENATOR

OTTAWA (CP) — Housewives who spend all their time at home are just so much deadwood, says Senator Muriel Fergusson.

Women should take an interest in life around them, the Liberal senator for New Brunswick said in an interview. With modern, time-saving appliances, they have extra time to devote to being good citizens, without neglecting their families.

For instance, said Mrs. Fergusson, one of five women in Canada's 102-seat upper chamber, women's clubs are both "very interesting and a wonderful source of education."

Mrs. Fergusson, 56, practises what she preaches. She has led a busy public life and belonged to numerous women's groups.

AFTER AN ILLNESS

Admitted to the New Brunswick Bar in 1925, she was readmitted in 1936 following an illness. She became clerk of the county and circuit courts for Victoria county and judge of the county probate court.

From 1944 to 1947 she was provincial counsel for the wartime prices and trade board and between 1947 and 1953 was director of family allowances and old age security for New Brunswick. She was the first woman to hold all these positions. In 1953 she was appointed to the senate.

Her latest distinction is being one of three women on the 26-member parliamentary group representing Canada at the current inaugural meeting of NATO parliamentary associations in Paris.

PET PROJECTS

Mrs. Fergusson has numerous pet projects she hopes to further during her political career—rehabilitation programs for women in penitentiaries similar to those provided for men, removal of unemployment insurance limitations on married women and reduction of succession duties for widows.

Recently she became chairman of the Canadian Welfare Council committee on the aging. She has been a vice-president of the council for some years.

Elderly People Need Vitamins

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, MD

The basic dietary needs of the elderly are relatively simple.

An expert on nutrition of the aged, W. H. Sebrell, lists the daily requirements as: One pint of milk or its equivalent. Some of this may be taken in the form of cream soups, milk toast, puddings and in other forms.

One serving of tomatoes, oranges or grapefruit, or their juices. You can substitute salad greens or raw cabbage if you wish, provided your doctor does not advise against them.

One serving of yellow or green vegetables, some of them raw.

One serving of potatoes or other vegetable or fruit.

One egg each day, or at least three or four a week.

One serving of whole grain cereal, wheat or oatmeal.

One serving of meat, poultry, sea food or other foods rich in proteins.

All bread or flour should be enriched or whole grain. Butter or margarine, fortified with vitamin A, should be used. Peanut butter or other fats rich in vitamins are also advised.

Some doctors maintain that you can get sufficient vitamins and minerals from your foods alone. But let's look at this thing realistically.

You aren't going to get your proper share day in and day out, because you simply aren't going to eat what you should eat each day. As you get up in years, your need for vitamins and minerals increases. At the same time your appetite and ability to digest foods decline.

Food, of course, contains unknown factors which you can get in no other way. However, you can and should get supplemental vitamins and minerals. Therapeutically, it's more important to raise the total intake of your vitamins than it is merely to supply a single vitamin which you might lack. Some vitamins, you see, act as triggers for others, thus benefiting you even more.

The modern multivitamin tablet is one of the few examples in pharmacy where the "shotgun" treatment is more practical than the "rifle" treatment aimed at the precise location of trouble.

If you are 50 or older, better start thinking about these vitamin and mineral supplements right away. Take it from me, you'll be glad you did.

Cold Drinks Should Refresh, Nourish

By MARGARET CARR

On hot summer days, what is more refreshing than to stretch out under the shade of a big tree with a cool drink by your side! If you have lost the desire for food then be sure to drink cool drinks that are wholesome foods. Cold drinks can be refreshing and at the same time nourishing.

Does your family like eggnogs or do they think of them as a food for invalids? A plain eggnog made of milk, egg and flavoring can be as cool, and satisfying as any other drink, or the flavor may be varied by substituting fruit juice for all or part of the milk and by beating in either a whole egg or the beaten white. If the whole egg is being used, it is best to mix the fruit juice with the beaten yolk and then just before serving, fold in the beaten white. Raspberry juice is particularly good used in this way and apricot nectar or grape juice will give an eggnog a party air.

Cool, appetizing and always a favorite with adults is cafe au lait. This is hot coffee mixed with plenty of hot milk, then chilled and served icy cold. It is a simple drink, easy to make and just the thing to serve to summer guests.

MILK DRINKS

When a scorching day is predicted, a quick drink that appeals most to some is plain ice-cold milk. However, in summertime, plain milk does not always appeal to everyone. Often just a slight change in the flavor of the milk will remedy the problem. Just add a little chocolate or fruit syrup to the cold milk. As a matter of fact, it is a good idea to keep plenty of these syrups in the refrigerator ready for any occasion. Chocolate or fruit syrups are easy to make and to prepare a flavored drink you need only add a teaspoonful or two of syrup to each glass of milk.

Another simple, easy way to change the flavor of milk is to add crushed fresh fruit or even a little jam to the cold milk. Crushed peaches mixed with ice cold milk and a spoonful of ice cream is a drink which the family will love, right to the last drop. Many milk drinks may be turned into milk shakes by adding a little ice cream to the flavored drink, and shaking it well.

GARNISH FOR COOL DRINKS

Fruit garnishes really give a drink a party air so use plenty of them. Fruits such as cherries, melon wedges, raspberries, grapes, are ideal for the purpose. Mint grows in abundance in many gardens but is often forgotten until a roast of lamb appears on the table. Pop a sprig in a glass of cold drink. It will give it that refreshing touch.

Free Day for Mothers Popular Idea

OTTAWA (CP) — Eve Latham, program director of the Ottawa YWCA, has set up a "day-off-for-mothers" scheme.

Young mothers bring their children to the Y, place them with nursery attendants, and enjoy a whole day free, taking part in sports, painting classes, study groups and listening to guest speakers.

About 19 women enrolled in her "ladies day out" classes when she began them this spring.

Providing interesting programs for married women is one of her pet projects because with today's time-saving, housekeeping gadgets, young mothers want more activities outside the home, she said in an interview.

Miss Latham, a native of Toronto, began working with the YWCA in Ottawa 13 years ago.

Later she served as executive director of branches in Moose Jaw and Regina, Sask., finally returning to Ottawa.

She says she encountered one surprise in her scheme:

"When I proposed to teach the women smocking and sewing, they preferred to have classes in civic affairs."

Union Forces Ready to Unite On Coastal Shipping Fight

MONTREAL (CP) — Union forces are gathering their power for a struggle against British and foreign shipping in Canada's coastal trade, it was reported here.

Hal C. Banks, president of the 14,000-member Seafarers' International Union (AFL-TLC), said he will raise the matter as a delegate at a special conference of the American Federation of Labor, beginning in Chicago Aug. 11. Mr. Banks, recently returned from an international labor conference at Helsinki, said in an interview the problem already has been discussed among some Canadian unions.

URGED RESTRICTION

Canada's three labor congresses have urged a royal commission on coastal shipping to recommend that the coastal trade—including Great Lakes business—be restricted to Canadian vessels.

The Trades and Labor congress, in a brief submitted to the commission July 12, went so far as to recommend that all vessels except Canadian and American should be barred from inland waters, even international traffic. Crux of the issue now is the building of the St. Lawrence seaway, with its opportunities for foreign shipping operating with wages and other costs below those of Canadian ships.

Mr. Banks, who represented Canadian and American seamen at the Helsinki conference of the International Transport Workers Federation, said his plea was generally well received.

BRITAIN ONLY EXCEPTION

Britain was the sole exception—"unfortunately the top British leaders were not at the conference," said Mr. Banks. They were unable to attend because of a dock strike in progress at the time.

Mr. Banks said Britain currently has some 30 vessels plying in the Canadian inland trade—far more than any other country.

"The Scandinavian delegates promised 100 per cent support at Helsinki," he added. "The Swedes said that if they heard of any of their ships causing trouble they would pull them out immediately. Norway said it has no intention of getting into such trade.

"Germany is not a great factor as yet, but some keels have been laid. The Austrians are also preparing."

HAS "HOPE OF RELIEF"

Mr. Banks said he has "great hopes of relief" from the royal commission which has not yet finished its work.

"As for the unions, the CIO, AFL, CCL and TLC are all very definite in their feelings on this," he added. There had been "formal" meetings among "teamsters, railroad brotherhoods and longshoremen."

American and Canadian unions were in agreement on the matter, feeling that the "lakes are traditionally American and Canadian." The U. S. already had a law stating that ships in coastal service must be U. S.-built and U. S.-manned. This regulation was relaxed in the case of Canadian ships to "mutual advantage."

Mr. Banks said any action the unions might take to back up their views would be decided at conferences later.

Colonel Debags Elderly Lawyer

LEWES, England (Reuters) —A bemedalled colonel and former secret agent was sentenced Tuesday to six months in prison for forcing an elderly lawyer to walk home without his pants in a dispute over a will.

Retired, monocoled Lt.-Col. Alfred Daniel Wintle, 57, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault after admitting he had lured 71-year-old Frederick Nye to his apartment last April and forcibly removed his pants — or "debagged" him in the local terminology. But the colonel went down with guns blazing.

"I was going to fly his trousers in triumph from my flagpole at home," said he in his confession with a fierce flash of his monocle. "But unfortunately I was arrested before dawn."

He added that he planned the escapade in order to get himself arrested and "ventilate" what he thoght was unfair treatment of his sister in a will drawn up by Nye.

Not To Replace Broken Span at Mission City

MISSION CITY, B. C. (CP) — Highways Minister Gaglardi told an emergency meeting here the government will not build a bridge across the Fraser river to replace the CPR span which collapsed Sunday.

The decision curbed hopes in Mission City and Matsqui that the collapse of a pier and span of the 50-year-old bridge linking the two villages would prompt the government to consider erecting a new structure.

Mr. Gaglardi, here to inspect the damaged rail and motor bridge, told councillors, village commissioners and board of trade members from Mission City, Matsqui Abbotsford and Sumas, Wash., the present flow of traffic in the area does not warrant a new span.

ONLY WHERE NECESSARY

He added that the record of his government "proves it builds the bridges where necessary."

The minister said no effort will be spared to provide transportation between the north and south shores of the Fraser. And he said he was now trying to obtain landing barges to ferry trucks carrying produce across the river to the canneries in Mission City.

"I assure you," he told the meeting, "the farmer will suffer no loss as far as perishable foods are concerned. They are of prime consideration."

Mr. Gaglardi also said he had been assured the CPR would restore service over the old bridge "in a couple of months."

5500 Canadian Air Cadets Mix Play and Work at RCAF Camps

OTTAWA (CP) — More than 5500 Canadian boys will spend at least part of their summer holidays in close-up study of what makes airplanes fly.

They are 14- to 18-year-old members of Canada's Air Cadet League. Most will attend two-week courses at special camps at Air Force training centres. Some will learn to fly at four-week sessions at civilian flying clubs. A few will visit other countries as exchange cadets.

Formed in 1941 as a pool for pre-trained RCAF recruits, the league now graduates about 5000 boys a year. Officials estimate that 1000 of them — one in five — join the RCAF.

275 SQUADRONS

There now are 275 air cadet squadrons in Canada's 10 provinces and membership totals more than 19,000.

The Air Force foots the bill for their training, equipment and uniforms, while the League, a voluntary organization, promotes community interest and raises funds to support existing squadrons and help form new ones.

SUMMER CAMP

Every summer some 5000 cadets spend two weeks in camps at RCAF stations at Greenwood, N.S., Clinton, Ont., and Abbotsford, B.C. There they continue their studies, participate in sports and fly as passengers in service aircraft.

A senior group of 17- and 18-year-olds — usually one from each squadron — learns to fly each summer through a scholarship plan started in 1946. Four-week training sessions are held at 33 flying clubs across the country and at the end successful cadets qualify for private pilots' certificates.

Tuition for 250 of these older cadets is paid by the Air Force. The League pays their travelling expenses and board, and this year raised tuition fees for an additional 50 students. The 1955 courses are expected to bring to 2800 the total who have learned to fly under the plan, many of whom now are RCAF or commercial aircrew.

NEW COURSE

This summer a new drill instructor's course will be held at Abbotsford, B.C. It will train 100 cadets including those selected for a drill competition with United States air cadets Aug. 27 at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

Exchange visits with cadets from other countries are the United Kingdom, the United States, Norway, Holland, Sweden and Denmark. In previous years, 421 Canadian boys made such visits.

Air force authorities say they are pleased with the league's effectiveness as a recruiting pool.

"The Air Cadet movement is looked to by the RCAF for a well-motivated, partially-trained and voluntary flow of recruits," Air Marshal C. R. Slemon, air chief of staff, said. "The League's achievements in this direction have been extremely heartening."

Moby Dick May Have Made Gregory Peck Less Eager For Tame Whale

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie producers will be happy to hear that Gregory Peck is over his wanderlust.

The last time we checked up on him he was home from two years of film-making abroad, but he was not ready to stay put. He was bearded and ready to shove off for Europe again to play Captain Ahab in "Moby Dick." That was a year ago.

Today he's clean-shaven and content to remain in his California homeland. And if any picture could cause an actor to lose his love for travel, "Moby Dick" was it.

It's possible that his local outlook is also improved by the fact that Veronique Passani, the 22-year-old French writer, is here now. But that's a matter he won't discuss, so we'll return to "Moby Dick."

The picture started filming off the Irish coast. Just about everything went wrong, including the weather. Then the huge, man-made whale got lost in heavy seas.

"The line broke and it vanished in the storm," Peck recalled. "The next day they searched all over for it, but not a sign was found. There was one report that it was seen off Belgium some time later."

More ocean scenes were needed to depict the South Pacific. Since the angry North Atlantic would not suffice, the company had to plan another location jaunt to the Canary islands. This followed long months of shooting in Wales and London.

Peck admired the Canaries, but he had a brush with disaster there. He was aboard a new whale, along with director John Huston and a dozen others. A tow rope again snapped, casting the crew adrift in a squall. Hours later they reached safety.

Huston, a tireless practical joker, provided another scare for Peck. For the last scene of the picture he planned to show a section of the whale rising out of the water with the dead Ahab in tangled ropes.

"I noticed they were building a section of the whale," Peck said, "but Huston wouldn't tell me what it was for. In a voice pitched so I was sure to hear, he told the art director that he was saving the scene for the last."

On the final day, the actor found what was expected of him — he was to be strapped on the whale's side, lowered into the water and then surfaced. A "frogman" was nearby in case there was trouble.

"It was a terrible experience, being helpless under the water," Peck said. "It was probably only 15 seconds, but it seemed like eight minutes. Huston, who was enjoying himself immensely, took the shot four times."

SPORTS

Around the KOOTENAY in Sport

Duck hunters in British Columbia except in the most northerly district will be allowed a slightly lengthened season and a possession limit of four days' bag during the 1955 season, according to an announcement made today by the Canadian Wildlife Service of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

The daily bag limit is 10 ducks, provided that at least two of these are pintail or baldpate. Twenty-five coots and eight Wilson's snipe may also be taken daily. In the Provincial Electoral District of Nelson-Creston three geese may be taken in one day, and elsewhere in the Province five geese is the daily limit.

The Province is again divided into three districts for waterfowl hunting. Open season for ducks and geese begin on dates varying from September 1 north of the 57th parallel to October 15 in District No. 1 which includes the southwestern part of the Province and the North and South Okanagan Electoral Districts. The Wilson's snipe season begins in all districts on the same day as the waterfowl season.

Open season on band-tailed pigeons in the area west of the summit of the Cascade mountains and south of the Electoral District of Atlin will be from September 3 to October 2.

* * *

Until this year, it was nearly impossible to cast a fly on a spinning outfit with any degree of success.

This is because plastic bubbles and similar floating weights which were attached to spinning lines to make the cast also serve to scare the fish with their characteristic splash.

In spinning one is casting the lure which contains its own weight. In fly casting, one casts the line and the fly goes along for the ride.

Fishermen are now using a short, heavy tapered sections of lines called "wet heads." Just tie these 34-inch long sections of line, which weigh a quarter of an ounce, on the end of your spinning line, attach a leader and fly to the "wet head" and you are in business.

The surprising thing about these "wet heads," or "spin heads" as they are variously called, is their low cost.

They really are nothing but a heavy torpedo section of silk or nylon fly line.

Current prices of spinning reels, or at least the kind that are being used most in the Kootenay, range from $20 to $30. Thus it is not expected that the modest $1 for a "wet head," will hold back its use.

In fact you can even make your own "wet head" by taking a piece of level A or AA fly line, splicing loops on each end, and using this to cast. This, in fact, is how the idea got started with steelhead fishermen on the Coast a few seasons back.

The "wet head" sinks immediately. It hits the water like a loose piece of spaghetti and goes straight to the bottom.

"Wet heads" are not the complete answer for making fly fishing an easily learned sport since they cover only half the field—leaving the dry end still exclusively to fly rod operators.

NO, IT'S NOT A FLEET of miniature motor boats, it's just the beginner's class taking swimming instruction from recreational director Ed. Kelter at Lakeside Park. A good kicking action is the aim in this phase of the lesson. Classes this year are the largest in history.

Ford Beats Middlecoff To Capture PGA Crown

DETROIT (AP) — Doug Ford, an expert shotmaker who needed only a title to stamp him as a great golfer, won the United States Professional Golfers Association championship on his first try by defeating Cary Middlecoff 4 and 3 Tuesday in a thrill-packed match that ended on the 33rd hole.

Ford, 32, has been a pro less than six years and only became eligible for the PGA tournament this year. Playing almost perfect golf for an entire week and refusing to bend under pressure, he swept through six strong opponents in a succession of sub-par rounds to take the title.

He is only the second player in the 37-year-history of the PGA tournament to win the title on his first attempt and the fourth qualifying medallist to go clear through.

The stocky son of a veteran Yonkers, N.Y., pro won the medal with a sub-par 36-hole score of 135 and thus joined Walter Hagen, Olin Dutra and Byron Nelson on the short list of tournament-winning medallists. The only player before him who had won this rugged match play test of skill and endurance the first time he tried it was Tom Creavy of Albany, N.Y., in 1931.

Tuesday Ford dropped behind early in the morning round and didn't get ahead until the 26th hole. Then as Middlecoff wilted under an intense sun and humidity Doug never let him get away.

Cricketers to Meet Okanagan

Cricketers in the Kootenays and the Okanagan will appear on television at the coast if proposed match between the teams can be arranged.

Charlie Rushby of the Nelson Cricket Club said Tuesday plans are under way to have an all-star team from Nelson and Trail meet a like team from Vernon, Kelowna and Naramata on September 4 in Trail.

Word has been received from George Leng of Vernon that they are interested in the proposed match but a final decision can't be given until a few small details are cleared up.

Nelson's next home game will be against Trail on August 6 at the Recreation Grounds. The last time these two teams met, last Sunday the game was called off due to the death of Eric Bouchier, one of the Trail players who collapsed early in the match.

Secretary Charlie Rushby stated Tuesday a letter of deepest sympathy had been sent to the Trail club from Nelson on their loss of a fine sportsman.

Queen's Horses In the Red

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth, with 22 thoroughbreds in training is in the red on this season's racing.

So far she has had only four winners on the flat since the season opened in March and they haven't brought in enough to cover bare expenses.

The Queen can bank on a few more winners but hopes of any big prizes are slim. The most valuable race left is the Doncaster St. Leger in September and she has no strong challenger for that event.

Experts estimate it costs £750 a season to keep a horse in training in Britain. That means the Queen's race bill this year will be £16,500.

British race writers estimate that by the end of the season the Queen will be £10,000 on the wrong side of the ledger.

Bedard Toe Has Them Worried

MONTREAL (CP) — Bob Bedard had a bit of minor surgery performed on an infected big toe Tuesday and there was some hope the husky Sherbrooke boy can test it tentatively at tennis today.

A physician opened the toe to drain the pus. Bob was told there is a chance he can work out briefly today or by Thursday at least. There was some worry earlier that the painful infection would prevent the Sherbrooke, Que., player from starting for Canada against Australia Friday in the Devis Cup North American zone final.

Bedard, nationally ranked No. 2, watched his teammates at practice Tuesday. He worked out Monday although a blister on the toe bothered him. Lateri nfection set in.

Although Canada is very much the under dog in the coming meeting with Australia, there has been a feeling that one or two upsets may crop up during the matches, and Bedard's loss or physical handicap would put a severe crimp in these hopes.

Coast Rowing Crew Trained On Skis

PORT DALHOUSIE (CP) — Vancouver's navy crew risked broken bones and spills last winter to train for this week's 73rd annual Royal Canadian Henley regatta. They took to the hills on skis.

This is unique in the rowing world but Lt.-Cmdr. Tony Penley, coach of Henley's Cinderella kids, doesn't think it extraordinary.

Kinsmen won over Gyro 15-14 and then defeated Rotary 11-8. Third game was a battle with the Lions for second place with the Lions winning 10-7.

The Kiwanis team continued to show the way with a victory over the last place Gyros 14-4.

The Nelson Outlaws with two wins in two starts against the Metaline Falls club this season will try to make it three in a row tonight when they travel to the American centre for an exhibition game.

Ron Nash of the Outlaws said nine players would travel, and as an added attraction all nine would take a turn on the mound for the Outlaws.

The Outlaws have an abundance of chuckers with Win Storgard, Wendy Keller, Johnny Misuraca and Stan Grill ready for duty at all times. Catcher Ron Nash at times has taken to the mound and has always proved tough as has catcher Ed Isackson.

League-Leading Royals Meet Salmo Tonight

The Nelson Royals, league leaders in the West Kootenay Ladies' Fastball League, will travel to Salmo tonight to take on last place Salmo.

Royals are having a successful season, but are being hard pressed by Trail who hold down second place. Rossland Royals are in third spot of the four team loop.

It is anticipated Verda Pratt will go to the mound for the Royals against Salmo. Several new players Gail Christoferson, Margaret Eye and Lorain Stallwood will also be in the lineup for the Royals.

Attention All Muskrat Hunters!

TORONTO (CP)—A call like a "broken-up Hollywood kiss" lures muskrats like anything, says F. L. Hall, government forester in Ontario's Cochrane district.

He gave a demonstration that surprised veteran conservation officers who had heard of calls for moose, wild geese and crows — but not for muskrats.

He explained his techniques: "The muskrat call is made by pressing the lips lightly on the back of the hand and drawing the breath like a broken-up Hollywood kiss. It is most effective."

Leafs Play Host To Fruitvale

The Nelson Maple Leafs after two straight losses to the Fruitvale All-Stars will attempt to get back in the win column tonight when they play host on the diamond here.

All-Stars captured a win Sunday at home against the Leafs by a 5-3 score. Previously they had defeated the Leafs 2-1 in Nelson.

Manager Frank Hufty said Marsh Severyn would likely be chosen for the mound duties with Les Hufty and Jimmy Todd ready for relief work. It is expected Tony DeRosa would work for the All-Stars.

Redmen Drub Kokanees 22-5 to Retake Lead

ROSSLAND — Rossland Redmen regained sole possession of first place in the Western International Lacrosse League Tuesday with a 22-5 victory over the Nelson Kokanees in Rossland.

After the opening period it was no contest as the Redmen completely dominated the play. Jack Laface was the main reason for victory as he sharpened his shooting eye and notched nine goals. Harold Mayo was tops for the Kokanees with two markers.

Kokanees started fast and for a time looked as though they would capture their first game on the Rossland floor. With the Redmen sporting a two-goal lead the Kokanees came up with four straight goals to take the lead for the one and only time in the game.

FOUR WITHOUT REPLY

Four unanswered goals in the second quarter gave the Redmen the lead again and they never relinquished it. Jack Laface and Bert Bertoia each notched a pair.

Mayo cut the Redmen's lead to two goals shortly after the second half got under way but that was the end of the scoring for the Kokanees. The Redmen took over and almost scored at will.

Seven goals turned a close contest into a route. By the close of the third frame the Redmen held a 14-5 edge.

The last frame saw the Kokanees completely crumble under the continuous pressure of the Redmen. They scored goals in bunches never letting up, and at times their passing and shots had tho Kokanees baffled.

The game was a clean affair with six penalties being handed out, all to the Redmen.

Ottawa Inquiring Into Sugar Merger

OTTAWA (CP) — The combines investigation branch is making a formal "preliminary and informal inquiry" into the action of the British Columbia Sugar Refining Co. Ltd. in obtaining control of the Manitoba Sugar Co., Justice Minister Garson said Tuesday.

He informed CCF leader Coldwell in the Commons that the inquiry is to determine whether the transaction raises any question under the federal Anti-combines Act.

Mr. Coldwell asked two weeks ago whether an investigation would be considered.

SEA STINGS

DYMCHURCH, England (CP) — The sting has been put into sea bathing on the Kent coast. Thousands of jelly-fish have invaded this resort and druggists have been kept busy copying demands for anti-sting lotions.

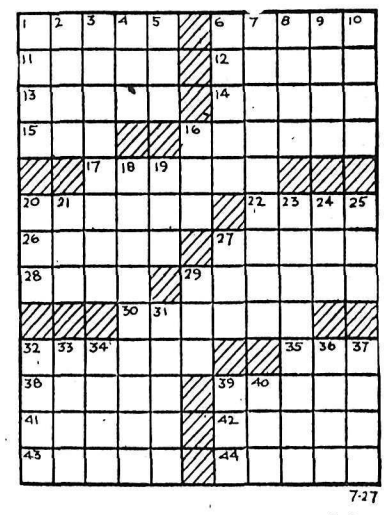
Saturday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

E Y C E J C H J N Y C E E J M C Y C P I Y A K R E M E J Q Q' T P C I Y K T T P R Y T C — Z A P G Y A I M.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: IT IS A DIFFERENT THING TO SAY MANY THINGS AND THINGS TO THE PURPOSE. — SOPHOCLES.

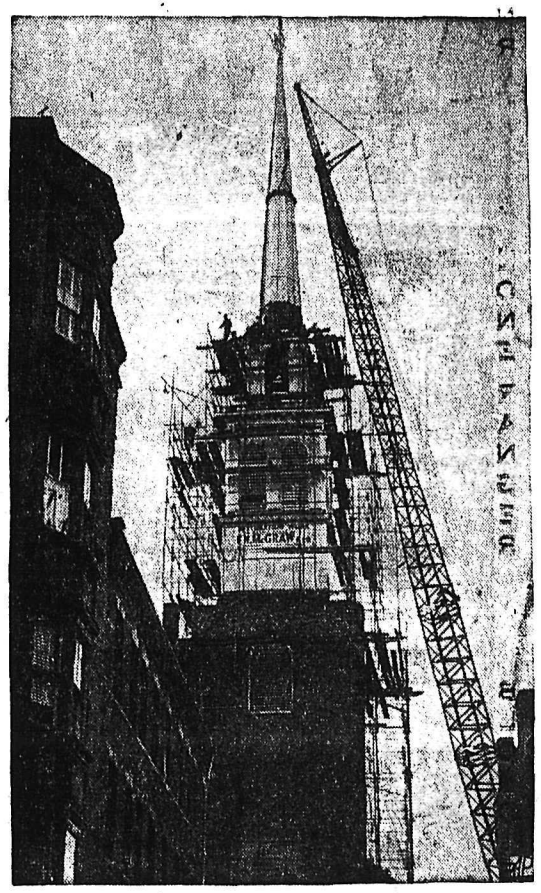
Butler Hints of Gold-Dollar Gaps

LONDON (AP) — Stocks gained lost ground on the London stock exchange Tuesday as traders shook off their nervousness over Britain's newly-announced steps to curb inflation.

Butler's denial of rumors on the value of pound sterling and his assurances that the British economy was fundamentally sound were credited with restoring confidence in market values.

At a cabinet meeting Tuesday Butler was reported to have prepared the ministers for something of a shock when the July dollar and gold reserves are announced within two weeks. Butler said Monday the gap between imports and exports had widened.



A new 90 foot steeple is hoisted to the top of historic old North Church in Boston, Mass., less than a year after it was wrecked by hurricane Carol. It was the second restoration in the landmark's 215-year history. The windows from which the arning laterns flashed their signals to Paul Revere to announce the coming of the British in 1775 were saved, and with other ancient woodwork, are being built back into the restored steeple.—AP Wirephoto.

MANN DRUGS LTD.

Bandit Sends Police to Release Couple

VANCOUVER (CP) — A jittery but "considerate" gunman is being sought by police here following a holdup of a city drugstore in which a bandit escaped with $150 in cash and a quantity of pills he thought were narcotics.

Police said Tuesday the masked bandit who held up drugstore owner David Brail and his wife at gunpoint, later telephoned to say he had locked the couple in the storeroom of the premises.

The bandit, a white cloth pierced with eyeholes covering his face, entered the drugstore as Mr. and Mrs. Brail were counting up the day's receipts.

NERVOUS GUNMAN

Waving a gun nervously in their faces, the gunman demanded:

"Let's have the money."

After taking the store's receipts, Brail's wallet and some cash from the post office department, the jittery bandit ordered Brail to give him narcotics.

The druggist told police he opened a drawer containing only antibiotics and sulfa pills and the bandit eagerly scooped up its contents.

The man then force dthe couple into a storeroom in the building but before leaving, told them he would notify police to free them. He did.

Massey Invested With High Honor

LONDON (CP)—Canada's Governor-General Massey Tuesday was invested with the insignia of a Bailiff grand cross of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, becoming the first Canadian to receive the honor.

The Duke of Gloucester, grand Prior of the Order, conferred the insignia at a ceremony in St. Jame's Palace.

Massey is Prior of the order in Canada, The insignia, deemed the Order's highest honor, has been received by only 14 persons now living, including the Queen Mother.

Nehru Aims to Regain Goa by Peaceful Means

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru rejected demands in Parliament Tuesday that India try to acquire Portugal's Indian colonies by a limited war or police action.

Nehru said his government will strive to attain a merger with the colonies through peaceful means.

In a three-hour debate the determination of some members of Parliament to have India win Goa and the other Portuguese holdings clashed with traditional Indian ideas of satyagrah — non-violent demonstration.

IGNORES REQUESTS

Nehru ignored requests that he withdraw statements that he does not favor mass demonstrations against Goa, the principal colony, but approves marches of small groups.

Political parties opposing Nehru's government are planning to march by thousands against Goa Aug. 1 and Aug. 16. Nehru's statements are vague and organizers wonder whether the government will restrain Indian marchers, as it did last year.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP)—Late selling troubles of a relatively minor nature set the stock market back moderately Tuesday.

Canadian issues were mixed. International Nickel added 2⅜, Hiram Walker was up 1 and Distillers Seagram gained ⅛. Canadian Pacific lost ⅜, Dome Mines fell ⅛ and McIntyre was unchanged.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market kept ahead by a narrow margin in moderately active trading Tuesday.

Gains and losses in industrials seldom went as far as two points, although Aluminium dropped four at 103.

Uraniums moved ahead from the start and chalked up substantial gains before the advance slowed up in mid-afternoon. Best of the gainers was Can-Met, which advanced 20 to $2.95.

MONTREAL (CP)—After a hesitant opening Tuesday, industrials featured an uphill climb to move irregularly higher at the close of moderately active trading on the stock market.

Banks, utilities and base metals were mainly firmer, though a few setbacks were suffered in all three sections. Senior oils advanced while papers eased. Beverages and steels were steady.

LONDON (Reuters) — The recovery in after-hours dealings following the chancellor of the exchequer's statement Monday was continued in the markets at the opening Tuesday, but expected buying did not materialize.

The dollar stocks reflected the strength of Wall Street overnight. Coppers improved slightly.

Father Keeps 8-Year-Old Boy on Chain

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (CP) — A father who kept his eight-year-old son chained by the neck for a week in a filthy stable was sentenced to a year's hard labor.

William Robert Ferguson, 68, a district farmer, was sent to jail and his wife Eva was given a suspended sentence.

RCMP constable Bruce Sutherland told magistrate B.C. Hendricks that the boy, Harry Harold Ferguson, was not released until police arrived at the Ferguson farm.

He said the boy slept on three bags of hay thrown on the floor.

LOCKED IN AT NIGHT

The chain was about 20 feet long, allowing the boy to move just outside the door. The stable was locked from the outside at night.

Sutherland also told the court the stable was filthy and the odor almost unbearable. He said there were no bathroom facilities.

He said Ferguson told him that he thought the chain would make his boy good because it made his dog good. The farmer admitted he chained the boy when he was five years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson were charged under the Child Welfare Act. Both pleaded guilty.

There are five children in the family.

He told police his wife had gone off with another man taking their two children and he wanted to commit suicide but had not the courage.

Delay Report On Patents, Copyright

OTTAWA (CP) — The royal commission on patents and copyright won't make its report for at least another year, State Secretary Pinard Tuesday informed the Commons.

He said the commission still has a lot of work to do and will resume hearings in the fall to consider submissions on trade marks.

The three-man commission, headed by Chief Justice J. L. Ilsley of Nova Scotia, started work last fall.

Butter Stocks Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Butter stocks in nine Canadian cities rose 22 per cent July 21 to 67,322,000 pounds from 54,997,000 in the corresponding period last year, the bureau of statistics reported Tuesday.

Stocks by cities with last year's figures in brackets: Quebec 4,751,000 (3,844,000); Montreal 32,248,000 (26,331,000); Toronto 9,610,000 (8,912,000); Winnipeg 15,665,000 (10,978,000); Regina 1,262,000 (937,000); Saskatoon 627,000 (337,000); Edmonton 1,932,000 (2,115,000); Calgary 454,000 (521,000); Vancouver 773,000 (1,022,000).

Ex-Husband to Pay Alimony

VANCOUVER (CP) — A city businessman was ordered to pay alimony or go to jail.

Mr. Justice Manson in Supreme Court said Victor Matthew David, sign company owner, must pay the $300 monthly alimony which he had failed to do since the beginning of the year. He set Aug. 8 as the date the court would deal with Mrs. Pearl David's application to have her former husband committed to jail.

Mr. Justice Manson said: "The first wife is not to suffer by reason of his second matrimonial venture. That is well established by law."

David is remarried and has a family of four children.

Says Rates Killed H.B. Freight Route

REGINA (CP) — A government trade official said Tuesday it is unlikely that northern Saskatchewan timber will be exported this year through the Hudson Bay port of Churchill.

Following the Second World War, two cargoes of timber — one containing 2,500,000 board feet and the other 5,000,000 — were shipped from Saskatchewan through Churchill. The last shipment was in 1948.

"But the high freight rate killed any further movement," said W. J. Hansen, director of trade and business information for the provincial government.

Tackle "Staph" Infection by Reducing Use of Penicillin

VANCOUVER (CP)—The staphylococcus germ which can cause serious post-operative complications, is being battled by one Vancouver hospital by reducing the use of penicillin.

A spokesman for the 12-man infection committee of St. Paul's Hospital said it had been found that cases given penicillin pre-operatively seemed more prone to the "staph" infection.

"It seemed to encourage it," he said. "For the last six months we have not been using it nearly so much pre-operatively."

The germ has a tendency to affect surgical wounds or any skin abrasion and dust in the air can carry the infection.

IN FLOOR WAX

Calgary bacteriologists found it multiplied in common floor wax. Two hospitals there had to curtail operating schedules for two weeks due to the infections.

The St. Paul's spokesman said large sale of common antibiotics is a contributing factor in the germ's buildup of resistance to antibiotics. Staph is more prominent now because development of antibiotics killed off other bugs in recent years leaving staph in sole control of the field.

"Probably it was always resistant to antibiotics" he said.

Incidence has been cut greatly here by new techniques and cleaning procedures.
