Reeves MacDonald To Start Up Again

Reopening To End Two-Year Sale of Stockpile Also Announced

Reeves MacDonald Mines Ltd. is taking steps to resume operations at Remac, idle for two years, announced Monday by W. L. Ziegler of Spokane, manager.

At the same time it was announced that a deal has been negotiated for the sale of 5000 tons of zinc concentrates stockpiled prior to the July, 1953 closure.

Rise in the price of zinc and ability to dispose of zinc concentrates in the United States have been determining factors in the company's decision to start up again, Mr. Ziegler said. The reopening will take place as soon as possible. Size of the crew, however, is not known.

Before the shut-down in 1953, Reeves MacDonald was milling the largest tonnage of lead-zinc ore of any mine in B.C. except for the Sullivan Mine at Kimberley. In 1951 the mill averaged 25,000 tons monthly. Production was increased to 27,000 tons in the first quarter of 1952 and later to about 30,000 tons.

1000 TON CAPACITY

The concentrator was completed in 1949 with a capacity of 1000 tons a day, and at that time about 165 men were employed. A flourishing townsite rose above the mill to accommodate 50 families. In 1952 a new crusher was installed to increase total crushing capacity.

First claims were staked on the present Reeves MacDonald in 1916 by L. P. Larsen, Reeves MacDonald Mines president. These lapsed, and the present claims were staked by Bob Reeves and "Black Jack" MacDonald in 1918.

Handling of Diplomats Case Causes Furore in Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — The foreign office Monday said it must be presumed that Donald Maclean photographed government documents and passed the copies to Russia before he and fellow-diplomat Guy Burgess fled the country more than four years ago.

The disclosure was made by a spokesman as an angry storm blew up in Britain about the way the foreign office has handled the case of the two diplomats who mysteriously disappeared in 1951 after travelling to France.

After years of reticence the foreign office Sunday admitted Maclean was actually being investigated by security authorities when he vanished.

The office came into the open with the information after a Sunday newspaper published an article on the diplomats by Vladimir Petrov, former Russian diplomat and spy chief in Australia who came over to the West last year.

As newspaper editorials thundered charges of "evasion" at the government for taking so long to produce the facts, the department spokesman announced Monday a white paper—official government document—will be published this week on the pair.

DOLLAR HIGHER

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar closed 1-16 higher Monday at a premium of 1 9-32 per cent in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling up 3-32 of a cent at $2.78 ⅝.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed Monday at a discount of 1¼ per cent in terms of Canadian funds, down 1-16. It took 98¾ cents Canadian to buy $1 American. Pound sterling $2.75⅛, down 1-16.

WOULD RETAIN SCHOOL DENTAL PROGRAM

PENTICTON (CP) — Penticton school board's decision to cancel the school dental program drew criticism during the weekend from a Penticton area PTA.

The association supported the stand of city dentists in urging the board continue with the dental program.

The members felt that for the amount of money involved the clinic was a worthwhile effort.

Mammoth House-Mover To Clear Seaway Path

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IROQUOIS, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Charles Roberts had just finished the breakfast dishes at 9:30 a.m. Monday when a big machine surrounded her house and started lifting it off its foundation.

At 10:45 a.m. the Roberts and their six-room home were settled in a new community 1¼ miles away — with electricity, phone water and sewage connected—and Mrs. Roberts was inviting in other residents of new Iroquois for a neighborly cup of tea.

The crockery was uncracked in the cupboards. The television was working. So were the electric stove and refrigerator.

All the Roberts lacked were a clothesline, the front and back steps of their frame house and some landscaping for the grounds.

Charlie Roberts, a 46-year-old linen mill superintendent, his wife and 17-year-old daughter Gladys had ridden along with the home as the Ontario Hydro — Electric Power Commission staged a press-radio - newsreel - television show piece on how families can be relocated at speed in the job of shifting whole communities out of the area to be inundated by the St. Lawrence seaway-power project.

By all odds, this was the fastest comparable moving ever carried out in Canada. The actual moving time between the disconnection of the Roberts utilities in old Iroquois and their resumption in the new townsite of the about-to-be flooded village was almost exactly an hour.

Hydro expects to settle down shortly to a one-house-a-day movement involving between 150 and 250 homes in this village of 1180 persons.

Diesel Plants Arrive in Slocan

NEW DENVER — B.C. Power Commission, acting under a provincial government order-in-council passed Friday, took first steps Monday toward establishing of a commission-operated electrical system in the Slocan.

Crews under J. S. Foster, diesel supervisor for the commission, and Victor Smith, commisisoner manager at Nakusp, brought in two 50-kilowatt diesel engines previously used at Clinton to provide power here.

The order-in-council authorized purchase of the New Denver Power and Light Company plant, hit last Spring by floods, forcing setting up of an emergency power supply.

A local bulldozer was engaged to clear a site near the existing power plant for the diesel plants. Mr. Foster will remain in charge until installation is completed. The New Denver company and its crews are co-operating in the job.

UN to Test Summit Spirit

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (CP) —The 10th General Assembly of the United Nations opens today and it is expected to provide the first solid test of the "spirit of Geneva" engendered at the Big Four summit conference.

Canada is sending a 12-man delegation to the conference, including seven alternate representatives. Health Minister Martin heads the Canadian contingent, which also includes two other cabinet ministers—Revenue Minister McCann for the first part of the session and State Secretary Pinard for the second.

As in past assemblies, Russia is expected to make an early bid to get Red China admitted to the assembly, challenging the right of Nationalist China to represent the Chinese people.

The U. S., with the backing of Britain and Canada, will move that the matter be shelved, thus blocking Peiping's admittance at least another year. Though a lively debate is anticipated, it is expected in UN circles that the Russian move will be defeated.

Disarmament, colonial issues, atom tests, will be discussed.

B.C. Development Of World Interest

VANCOUVER (CP) — Progressive Conservative leader George Drew told the Canadian Club here Monday that development of British Columbia is attracting attention of people all over the world.

In a non-political speech, he said that Canada's future has a "bright and challenging prospect" for Canadians.

He said widespread use of minerals of all kinds has changed the whole course of world events.

Canadians themselves "hardly yet realize we possess a wider veriety of minerals in commercial quantity than has ever been discovered in any one nation."

Ione Veers North; May By-Pass Canada

WASHINGTON (CP) — The course of hurricane Ione has shifted toward the northeast and indications now are that central Canada will escape the fury of the big storm, the U.S. weather bureau said Monday night.

A forecaster said Nova Scotia may feel "some effects" of this ninth tropical storm of the season but he declined to make a specific prediction this far ahead. If she was to reach there it would be 48 hours before Ione touched the Maritime provinces.

The storm, lashing its way slowly up through the middle Atlantic states, has switched direction and is veering to the northeast.

"She should move up the coast and off toward New England at about latitude 40, south of New Jersey," the forecaster said. Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal now appear to be in the clear, although Nova Scotia may feel some effects."

Two Killed In Jet Trainer Crash

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Two airmen were killed when their RCAF T-33 jet trainer crashed at Big island, five miles south of here, Sunday night.

Dead are: The pilot, FO Delphis Henri Tanguay, 24, based at nearby Trenton and son of Joseph H. Tanguay, Ville La Salle, Que., and his passenger, LAC Joseph Hilary Dennis McClusky, 19, based at Namao, Alta., son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. McClusky, Grand Falls, N.B.

Plebiscite Asked On Open Sunday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Former city alderman Archie Proctor Monday handed city council a brief demanding a Sunday sports plebiscite for the December civic election.

Mr. Proctor said his prosopal for a plebiscite called for allowing commercial and amateur sports to be played Sundays from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

"This will not interfere with morning or evening church services," said Mr. Proctor. "I have also eliminated horse racing, cocktail lounges and theatres from the proposed plebiscite."

The real estate operator who was alderman here for four years starting in 1949, twice pressed for a plebiscite and both times council placed the plebiscite to a vote, calling for a "wide-open" Sunday.

Bith plebiscites were defeated.

"This is a loaded issue," said Mr. Proctor. "I expect there will be much opposition from the church groups—even to allowing the people the democratic right to vote on the issue.

"But if the plebiscite goes before the people, I expect the voters will pass it this time."

Crash Victim Identified

HOPE, B. C. (CP) — RCMP Monday identified Robert Stewart, 31, as the Kamloops man who was killed when his car went off the road six miles north of here Sunday afternoon.

Stewart was the father of two and had lived in Kamloops for some time.

With him and injured in the accident were RCAF Cpl. Keith Edwards, 31, stationed at Kamloops and Lawrence Burt, 30, also of Kamloops. Extent of their injuries was not known.

GM Closed Down For First Time

TORONTO (CP) — Seventeen thousand Canadian employees of General Motors Corporation of Canada were out on strike Monday.

Their leaders and their employers, worn out after six days of night and day negotiations to meet a Sunday midnight deadline for a new wage and conditions contract, caught up on lost sleep.

For the first time in its history, the entire General Motors multi-million-dollar Canadian enterprise, divided among five plants in Oshawa, Scarboro, St. Catharines, London and Windsor, was closed down.

George Burt, Canadian director of the United Auto Workers Union (CIO-CCL) called the strike just after midnight Sunday, spurning a company offer both sides agreed was the largest made in Canadian industry this year.

It was turned down, he said, because the company made it conditional upon the union signing a three-year contract, and its conditions left GM employees' pay out of line in comparison with those of other automobile manufacturers.

RUTLEDGE TO HEAD DEFENCE SHIPBUILDING

OTTAWA (CP) — Production Minister Howe has decided on a change in command of Canada's $200,000,000 defence shipbuilding program, marking the end of dollar-a-year men under his control.

The planned shift, to be announced shortly, will see shipbuilding director R. M. (Bert) Robertson, 61, return to his civilian role as operations manager of the Dominion Bridge Co. at Montreal.

The last of the dollar-a-year men will be replaced by J. C. (Jack) Rutledge, 41, of Toronto, a wartime naval officer and a career civil servant who now is Mr. Robertson's deputy.

The changeover will be the final chapter in Mr. Howe's operations to shift the management of a multi-billion-dollar arms effort from technicians borrowed temporarily from industry to permanent civil servants.

The operational move is designed to provide a nucleus of well-trained personnel permanently based in Ottawa and available to direct an expanding arms production quickly in the event of an emergency.

Pairs Lucky?

ZEPHYR, Ont. (CP) — There is somebody around here who likes pilfering things in twos. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Newell told police Saturday a thief fled their farm home near this community 25 miles northeast of Toronto with two dimes from a table, two beers from the refrigerator and two 40-pound pigs from the yard.

West Plans for Big Four Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western diplomats met Monday to try to decide what concessions they will offer—and demand from the other side—in the interests of ending the cold war with Russia.

Twenty "working level" experts from the U. S., Britain, France and West Germany participated in the opening conference at the state department.

There were signs that they were split on at least one key problem: What kind of security treaty to propose to the Soviet Union to dissipate its fear of a rearmed West Germany.

The state department, hoping to keep Western strategy secret, declined to give any detailed information about the meetings here beyond that they would seek to work out a joint stand to guide the Big Three foreign ministers when they meet Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov.

TESTIFIES IN MURDER TRIAL

VANCOUVER (CP) — Stuart Brackenridge of Vancouver told a 12-man jury here Monday that he saw Albert Annette in a fight with Daniel Littman shortly before Littman was found dead from stab wounds last May 10.

Annette, a 37-year-old construction worker, is being tried on a charge of murder in connection with the knife-slaying of Littman in a city hotel.

Brackenridge said he went to Annette's hotel room with Littman on the night of the murder and saw the two men quarreling.

There had been a woman in the room and after she left, Brackenridge said, Annette went to a drawer and rummaged around in what "sounded like cutlery."

He said he left the room and was 15 feet down the corridor when he heard "a rumpus."

"The men appeared to be fighting with their fists," he said, "and I saw Littman with his hands up to guard himself."

Brackenridge said he saw Littman keel over "as if he was out." He then went downstrairs and told a woman to call an ambulance and left the hotel.

When he returned two hours later he was told Littman was dead.

WINDOW CRASHER

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (CP) — As Mrs. Carmen Folco and her son Brant, 2, were eating breakfast Friday, a hawk with a 40-inch wingspread came in their kitchen window "like a dive bomber," sending glass splinters flying across the room. Mrs. Folco trampled it to death.

Army, Navy Revolt Ends 10-Year Regime

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The loyalist military junta told the rebels Monday night Juan D. Peron, dictator of Argentina for ten years, has officially resigned the presidency and the loyalists are ready to open peace talks in Buenos Aires.

The statement was addressed to Admiral Issac Rojas and Gen. Juan Jose Uranga, leaders of the revolt, aboard the cruiser La Argentina.

Peron's government fell apart in the face of a successful revolt of army and navy forces which began last Friday.

The 59-year-old dictator, in a swan song read by his army chief, said: "My patriotism and my love of the people" led him to offer his resignation.

Under the constitution, the resignation had to be submitted to Parliament, and there was no word of any action on it— but no doubt remained that events had moved faster than constitutional processes.

All Peron's cabinet was reported to have resigned with him. One who definitely announced his resignation was the army chief, Maj.-Gen. Franklin Lucero, war minister. He had brought Peron through the June 16 revolution.

GENERALS TO PARLEY

Before quitting, Lucero announced the formation of a committee of army generals to carry on peace talks with the rebels.

Reuters news agency reported the Argentine state radio Monday night broadcast an announcement by the military junta in control of the republic that agreement to suspend fighting had been reached. The junta said negotiations with rebel commanders to end the conflict would start at midnight.

The cry of "liberty, liberty" sounded in the streets of Buenos Aires. Thousands of persons paraded through the streets, leaving no doubt of their happiness. Motorized infantry with tanks and gun carriers took up positions outside Government House. This apparently was a precautionary move. Peron had his office in this building, bombed heavily in June.

PRIMATE BROADCASTS

For the first time in months, a statement from the Roman Catholic primate of Argentina was broadcast on the state radio. Santiago Cardinal Copello called on the people to work for peace.

There were rumors that Peron had taken refuge in the embassy of Paraguay, or had fled to Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital. But Juan R. Chaves, the Paraguayan ambassador, said neither report was true.

"I do not know where he is," the ambassador said.

The army negotiators appealed for a cease-fire in the four-day civil war. In a communique read over the state radio, they asked the rebels to halt all firing while the peace talks get under way. They said both sides should hold the territory they now occupy.

They suggested that peace talks get under way in Buenos Aires early today.

CIVILIANS CELEBRATE

In this capital, an estimated 5000 persons marched to the foreign ministry building shouting "liberty." Civilians waved Argentine flags and hugged and kissed each other in the streets.

Demonstrators pulled down busts of Peron and his wife from the President Peron railroad station in Buenos Aires. They dragged the busts through the streets with ropes.

"Real Sovereignty" To Be Granted E. Germany

MOSCOW (AP) — In a burst of diplomatic speed, the Soviet Union signed agreements Monday restoring the Porkkala military and naval base to Finland and extending their friendship treaty for 20 years.

At the same time, negotiators in the Kremlin finished drafting a new treaty with East Germany — hailed as granting "real sovereignty"—which is to be signed today.

The Russians promise to withdraw their forces from the Porkkala base within three months of ratification of the agreement and the 20-year extension of the friendship and co-operation treaty will begin as soon as ratifications are exchanged. The original friendship treaty, signed in April, 1948, would have expired in 1958.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin signed for the Soviet Union and Premier Urho Kekkonen and Defence Minister Emil Skog for Finland.

SATISFIED AT LAST

At a reception afterward, Finnish President Juho Paasikivi recalled in proposing a toast that exactly 11 years ago, Sept. 19, 1944, Finland lost Porkkala in an agreement giving Russia a 50-year lease and said:

"I am in Moscow for the seventh time for negotiations on state affairs concerning Finland and the U.S.S.R., but this is the first time I return home satisfied."

With completion of the Finnish-Soviet agreements, the Russians have been calling for American troops to quit their European bases.

American sources at the United Nations pointed out that the Soviet withdrawal from Porkkala would move Russian forces only 30 miles across the Gulf of Finland. American withdrawal from Europe would roll back U.S. forces about 3000 miles.

POLICE WARNING SHOTS TO BE INVESTIGATED

VANCOUVER (CP) — The police commission Monday gave the city police a free hand in the use of firearms for self defence "if their lives are in danger." The order, issued by the commission, however, warned that all warning shots fired by police officers "will be thoroughly investigated."

And In This Corner . . .

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP) — Mrs. Walter Eaton's house has been hit in recent years by a horse and buggy, an automobile, a truck and a 12-foot plank hurled by a windstorm. After another truck smashed 19 windows, moved the foundation, cracked the plaster in all rooms, knocked off one end of the verandah and sent two family cats howling into the night, Mrs. Eaton said Monday:

"I think we'll move soon."

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary's traffic squad could have taken a holiday Sunday.

Not even a minor fender scrape was reported.

The city fire department had to work, though. One call was answered — a false alarm.

LONDON (Reuters) — London grocer Tom Skeagrove Monday carried out his threat to exhibit in his window the first two names of customers who owe him money.

Other local shopkeepers in a southeast London suburb have declared that if the idea is successful they will do the same thing.

Several debtors hurried to pay up when Seagrove issued his warning a week ago. But he said Monday that others had ignored him and he will put their names in the window two at a time to shame them into settlement.

"I was owed about £100," he said.

RUGELEY, Eng. (Reuters) — A "grown-ups" solution Monday forced curly-haired Dave Hitchens to attend kindergarten in a school four miles away.

The local schoolhouse is only 200 yards from Dave's home.

Trouble is Dave lives with his firechief father in the fire station and was hurried to almost every fire since he was old enough to walk.

The tot's parents knew that if he went to local school, he would rush out at the first sound of the firebell.

Dave, who wears a tiny helmet and boots, often beats the local firemen to the scene of the blaze, racing in a red-painted bicycle or kiddy car.

EARRINGS PAID FOR — ON Q.T.

A pair of earrings surreptitiously taken from a Nelson store have been paid for, also surreptitiously.

Businesses receive some strange communications, but this unsigned letter surprised the manager of the Hudson's Bay Company. It read:

"This money is in payment for a pair of earrings which I watched another girl take, then accepted them.

The price for the earrings is $1 and five cents tax so I have enclosed $1.05.

"Hope this is the right amount."

82 Students Register . . .

College Anticipates Outstanding Year

Eighty-two Notre Dame College students went back to their books Monday, filling classrooms, straining class schedules and creating a shortage of textbooks in the highest enrollment the junior college has ever had.

Three highly qualified teachers have joined the college faculty this year to help teach the record enrollment. They bring the faculty to seven.

The college has improved its science facilities and second year chemistry has also been added to the curriculum.

Record enrollment, highly quilfied staff, occupation of the new $12,000 men's dormitory and the start which has been made on a college chapel all point to an outstanding year for the college, officials feel.

New to the staff is Dean of Studies John C. Gallagher of Montreal, Miss Mary A. Nowak of Kitchener, Ontario, and Richard I. Greyson of Nelson.

Continuing on the staff are Miss Janie Stevenson, E. B. Harp, J. Coulson and Rev. Father J. Postma.

Mr. Gallagher, new dean of studies, who has a master of arts degree from McGill University and has had wide teaching and administrative experience, will handle college administration and teach some classes.

Miss Nowak, who has her BA and MA from University of Toronto and has studied in Paris and the United States, will teach history.

Richard I. Greyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Greyson of Upper Bonnington, UBC with double honors in biology and chemistry. He also has a bachelor of ducation degree. He will teach biology and other science subjects.

Dean of Women Miss Jane Stevenson, who received her degrees in Scotland, will teach speech, drama and English.

Dean of Men Rev. Postma who comes originally from Holland, will teach French.

Mr. Coulson, who studies theology at Grande Seminaire, Montreal, and has taught in England and France, will teach French, Theology and Latin.

Mr. Harp, who has a UBC degree, attended the Summer session at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, doing further graduate work in higher mathematics. He will teach second year chemistry, a course not offered last year.

PRESIDENT

Most Rev. T. J. McCarthy, Bishop of Nelson, with 24 years of university administration experience behind him, is president of the college. He is a member of the senate of the University of Western Ontario and has his master's degree of arts degree from the University of Western Ontario and his doctorate from Angelicum in Rome.

Rev. Father L. R. McKenzie, popular Dean of Men last term, spent the Summer at Gonzaga University doing graduate work in English literature where he is contining for his master's degree this year. He is on leave of absence from Notre Dame.

Dr. James Royce, SJ, has been recalled to seattle University from which he was loaned for one year on leave of absence.

Work on the new $112,000 men's dormitory was rushed during the last of August and first of September to provide accommodation for the large number of students. It will accommodate 68 when fully completed. Male students make up 88 percent of the student body.

STILL HOLDS

The co-operative system that has made possible low tuition fees since the college was formed in 1950 still holds and the students began their household chores with the same enthusiasm as they did their classes Monday.

The kitchen teams will have it easier this year for the kitchen has new facilities. A new large-size gas stove, big hot water heater and a well-filled deep freeze have been added, all donations to the college.

Auto Dealers' Suits Launched As Assizes Open

Hours of cross-examination and close questioning over interpretation of an agreement for sale of cars left in stock when Wiginton Motors Ltd. took over the Kootenay Motor's premises at 281 Baker Street, filled the first day of the supreme court sitting at Nelson Court house Monday.

The case being heard by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson, was a claim by Wiginton Motors for return of promisory notes said made in favor of Herbert Harrop and Kootenay Motors Ltd. as security for sale of Mr. Harrop's stock of used cars after Wiginton Motors took over Kootenay Motors premises on a lease.

The plaintiff is asking return of the notes, contending that vehicles to the agreed amount of $9750 had been sold although Mr. Harrop had notified him of sales made only once.

President of Wiginton Motors J. R. Wiginton interpreted the agreement to mean that the notes were payable by his firm only if $9750 in vehicles (new or used and not necessarily those in stock when his company took over the premises) were not sold over a period of one year. The agreement said that he was to assist in selling the used cars.

NOTES VOID

Mr. Wiginton claimed $10,000 worth of cars had been sold by the defendant during the year and the notes were void and should be returned.

Manager of the Bank of Commerce J. W. Graham verified the agreement was signed in his office.

Secretary-Treasurer of Wiginton Motors Malcolm McLean testified briefly before adjournment.

COUNTER CLAIM

Mr. Harrop and Kootenay Motors Limited is counterclaiming for $3585 and costs — the amount being made up of $585 interest on the notes and $3000 for damage suffered by depreciation of unsold vehicles.

R. B. Allan and M. E. Moran are solicitors for the plaintiff and L. S. Gansner and B. K. Arlidge for the defendant. The case continues today.

Witness J. W. Graham will be reimbursed for a holiday interrupted by the hearing. Mr. Justice Wilson on hearing his holiday had been interrupted and it had cost him $150 to appear at the hearing, ordered the party that loses the case to pay his costs.

NO CAISSONS, NO BEDROCK . . .

Bridge Piles Able To Support Three Times Load, Rotary Told

No caissons will be used in the construction of the West Arm bridge. Piles on which piers will rest will not go down to bedrock.

These innovations from what are popular conceptions of bridge building methods and requirements were explained Monday by Ramsay Murray, resident engineer for A. B. Sanderson Company Ltd., consulting engineers on design for the new structure.

Displaying a model which presented a right angle cross-section of the bridge pier setting, Mr. Murray showed Nelson Rotary Club members the methods that would be employed in placing the two essential piers.

Though not on bedrock, the underground and underwater bridge foundations could support three times the load they will eventually bear.

By calculation of the pile-driver hammer drop, the size of the hammer and measurement of the drive per blow it will be possible to obtain a safe bearing value of the pilings. To accommodate the "factor of ignorance," the eventual bridge load will put only one-third of this bearing value to use.

Construction towers will take the place of tremendously expensive caissons. Each tower is comprised of four 14-inch diameter steel pipes braced to make a 12-foot square tower 85 feet long. By a pontoon-mounted crane they will be put into place and construction piles will be driven, later to be cut by a driver with an air saw.

A 400-foot coffer dam will go out from the present Lakeside Park car parking area. Base forms and bell forms will be fabricated and put into place at the construction tower locations out in the stream. Twelve - foot diameter shaft forms will go in, reaching from the underwater base to the water surface. These shafts will be filled with gravel to displace the water and grouting will go in via grouting forms.

Grouting is a combination of cement, sand, water and a special ingredient to make it flow.

BREATHING BRIDGE

When top cross beams are in place th estructure will begin to place the structure will begin to be seen above the water "and are building a bridge," said Mr. Murray.

From each pier will go up a Christmas-tree like structure of steel toward the shore. When this is complete, the 480-foot section between the piers will take shape. That's where engineering calculations get their real test and temperatures must be just right.

Steel in that span could vary as much as four inches over the range of applicable temperatures.

When completed, pin gears will play an important role "so the bridge can breathe with temperature changes."

Bridge building was an engineering feat and art reaching into the dim past, Mr. Murray said. In the last 50 to 100 years greater strides had been made than in the thousands of years previous. All this accumulation of knowhow was going into the West Arm span "so you and we can have a bridge of which to be proud."

Mr. Murray expressed a real appreciation of the co-operation of the people and officials of Nelson in their job and a strong assurance in the supervision of William Hitt, superintendent for the contractors, Poole Engineering Company Ltd., and Raymond Construction Company Ltd.

Mr. Murray was introduced by James Dennison, provincial public works divisional engineer.

Guests were Dudley Murphy and Jim Hobles of Montreal, Edward Swarz of Calgary, David Shaw, Thomas Clark and S. Low of Vancouver; Jack Vinette and William Hartley of Ottawa, William Cowie of Winnipeg; Sidney Woodcock of Coeur d'Alene and Patrick Murphy, William Hitt, Emmott Gulley and Mr. Murray of Nelson.

1 More Truant Freedomites Sent to School

Four more truant Freedomite children were packed off to school by RCMP and welfare officials Monday. The children, two girls and two boys, were taken from their Krestova homes in the second successful search for truants in the past week. Ten were picked up in the Slocan valley September 13.

The four Krestova children, who appeared in juvenile and family court in Nelson before Juvenile Judge William Evans and were placed in temporary custody of the Superintendent of Child Welfare, swell the number of Freedomite youths in the New Denver welfare home to 82.

Parents visited children at the home Sunday, but there were no disturbances.

Law Invoked Over Sink and U-Turn

You can't make a U-turn except at the alley intersection of the Hall Street dead-end and a carpenter can't move a sink under Nelson bylaws. Two defendants had these facts impressed with fines Monday.

John Schesnuck paid a $10 fine when he pleaded guilty to making a turn in the Hall Street 500-block. No U-turns are allowable on Baker Street and many drivers enter Hall off Baker to make their turns there. However, it's required that the turn be made after driving to the street's end only.

A $10 fine was levied on L. Simpson, contractor, for having plumbing done June 9 without a plumber's licence. The infraction occured, it was explained to Magistrate William Brown, in the course of renovation of a Baker Street basement store. A sink was moved by a carpenter-employee from one wall to another wall a few feet distant. The job did not require a plumber, it was explained, and time was at a premium. The $20 cost of a licence was added to the $10 court levy.

Approach to Shaver's Bench Ready Shortly

TRAIL — Actual construction of the Fifth Avenue approach to Shavers Bench should be completed by the end of the week, and open again to traffic by the end of next week, it was reported to City Council Monday by City Engineer George Sanders.

Mr. Sanders, who recently replaced Jack Reid as city engineer, said that he and his family like it very well in Trail. "It seems to be a city that grows on one — I feel that we are going to have a happy time here." While acquainting himself with Council members and the engineering organization and different projects within the city he found that Mr. Reid had left "a fine organization here."

A recommendation by the board of works calling for the installation of a sprinkling system in Jubilee Park was approved and work of installing will be undertaken by city forces with the cost made chargeable to the parks commission.

A motion by Alderman G. E. Sanborn for a change in the plumbing bylaw allowing the plumbing inspector authority to say whether plumbing on property is put in right or not, will receive consideration. At present authority exists to within three feet of outside of house.

Resignation of J. R. Mills as chairman of the Town Planning Commission was received with regret. "It is very unfortunate Mr. Mills is unable to act on this commission. He had done a very excellent job," it was stated. Mr. Mills has moved to Tadanac.

A letter will be sent to the Ministerial Association that Council is not in favor of having banners stretched across the street, acting upon advice from the legal department.

A donation of $100 to the Senior Hockey Booster Club was approved.

A letter was received from the Cranbrook Junior Chamber of Commerce thanking the mayor for co-operation extended during its recent car cavalcade publicizing Cranbrook's 50th anniversary celebration.

Trail Property Association extended an invitation to Council members to attend opening meeting Wednesday night in City Council Chambers.

It was reported that the new Cominco gymnasium being constructed in the Memorial Centre will be ready for presentation to the city by the latter part of October possibly, October 18.

Nelson Concert Series Formed; R. Bain Oliver Is President

A group of musically-minded people, interested in bringing a concert series to Nelson, met in Chamber of Commerce rooms on Monday evening to elect a group of officers and form an organization to be know nas the Nelson Concert Series.

The central aim is to foster introduction of Canadian artists in this area.

It was decided to approach Overture Concerts, Vancouver and to discuss with Ian Docherty and George Zukerman, a series of four recitals and concerts to be presented in November, February, March and April, which would include The Concert Orchestra, conducted by John Avison, an ensemble of 23 virtuosi led by a distinguished known to every radio listener with conductor whose programs are an ear for music.

Other possible performers are the famous contralto, Marie Schilder, Gerald Jarvis, violinist, and Jean de Rimanoczy's West Coast quartette.

It will be a "no risk" program, said R. Bain Oliver, who was appointed temporary chairman. Subscription to the series called for tickets sold, and if sale did not warrant cost of bringing the artists to Nelson, the money would be returned to subscribers. It was advised a week ago by Mr. Zukerman, when he was in Nelson, that the auditorium at the Junior High should be used. If the series proved successful for the first season a larger hall could be filled next year.

Mrs. Gerald Lee, protem secretary, read a brief report of the meeting with Mr. Zukerman. There would be no concerts in December and January, both having been proved unsatisfactory months for entertainments.

It was pointed out that Nelson would be the first city in the interior to show faith in B. C. artists if this series was presented. Many of the artists travel as far east as Winnipeg, and make frequent appearances in Washington, Oregon and otrer western States.

Vincent Fink moved that the organization be named The Nelson Concert Series. This was seconded by John Norris and passed by the entire meeting. Ross Fleming nominated J. R. Corner as president, but Mr. Corner declined and Bain Oliver was nominated and elected unanimously. Other officers are: Secretary, Mrs. Eleanor Lowe; treasurer, W. Lawrence Hall; directors Mr. Corner, Mr. Norris, Miss Catherine Argyle, Roy Pollard, Vincent Fink, and John Erb. A rider empowers the directors to add other members. It was decided to leave choice of programs to them and it was further moved by Ross Fleming that the committee take under advisement reserving some 10 per cent of the budget from ticket sales for contingencies. Campaign date for ticket sales is yet to be fixed.

Mayor Joseph Kary assured the meeting that he was fully in favor of such a cultural program in Nelson and extended his congratulations on behalf of the city to the meeting for having formed the organization. Mr. Kary added that he would do all in his power to encourage and help the effort.

Air Cadets Thrilled by Tour of B-36 Bomber

Highlights of a weekend visit by 24 Nelson Air Cadets to Spokane consisted of a flight over Spokane and a visit to Fairchild Air Base.

Guests of the Spokane Civilian Air Patrol Cadets, the Nelson Squadron spent all day Saturday on a visit to the Fairchild Air Base. The Cadets took great interest in demonstrations of instructional equipment used in the training of B-36 personnel.

Of special interest was the B-36 Flight Simulator. This consisted of a large classroom filled with electronic equipment and the front-end of a B-36. The apparatus is able to simulate all the problems of B-36 flying with astonishing realism. For instance the cadets "felt" the "actual take-off", and on landing heard the screech of rubber on the runway. At one point the problem of what to do in case of fire was posed by a smoke-filled cockpit.

For the space-travel minded there was a tour of equipment designed to produce some of the actual conditions of living in space.

However, for the boys the best part of the tour was a two-hour jaunt through all parts of a monster B-36. Standing under a bomb-bay one could hear a rolling noise during the whole two hours. This was made by cadets sliding through a tunnel on a dolly from front to rear of the ship.

TURN BARTENDERS

In the evening the officers mess was thrown open to the cadets. A bar with all soft-drinks on tap was given over to them. Nelson cadets were soon taught how to tend bar and the drinks were on the house.

After a steak and mushroom dinner the cadets were entertained by a dance at Calkins airport.

Sunday was given over to church parades, flights over Spokane and a visit to the Spokane filter centre.

Those officers who are school teachers were perhaps too tired themselves Monday morning to be aware of how sleepy looking were the Air Cadets now turned into Monday morning scholars.

Making the trip were Flt. Lt. G. E. MacNeill, FO N. G. MacLeod, FO A. Cartier, FO F E. Kennedy, WO2 G. Anderson, Sgt. K. Holmes, Sgt. G. Lowe, Cpl B. Smith, LACs H. Harris, R. Wood, J. Boyes, R. How to KEEP FIT after 50
In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead,—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order,—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. 54

Longbeach School To Go on Sale

Department of education go-ahead for sale by public tender of the Longbeach school and site, which have not been used for several years, was received by board of trustees of Nelson school district at its meeting Monday night.

Nelson General Insurance Agents' Association confirmed by letter the appointment of Robertson, Hilliard and Cattell as agent for Yorkshire Corporation Ltd. which will carry fire insurance on schools.

The board decided to write to the department of education for advice on an offer from Schultz Appraisal Company, currently reassessing city property, to reappraise and take inventories of Nelson schools for $525 and district schools for $1050. City schools were appraised three year ago.

Regarding a request from J. P Keiran, North Shore, for permission for his son to ride school buses to Nelson where he attends Notre Dame College, the board reiterated that its policy is to permit rides to students attending Catholic schools if there is room on the buses. About 35 students of Catholic schools are transported. The board stood by a previous decision to refuse Mr. Keiran permission for a younger son to attend Willow Point school rather than the nearest school which is at Procter.

School facilities were placed at the disposal of Robert Stangroom, successor to A. W. Thiessen as regional consultant for the community programs branch of the department of education.

Pays $150 Fine For Possession of Car While Impaired

A Thrums man, Samuel Kurbotov was fined $150 in provincial court Monday for being in possession of a vehicle while his ability to drive was impaired by alcohol. R. B. Allan, solicitor, appeared for Kurbotov and entered a guilty plea.

Offence occurred near Castlegar

The case was one of four traffic infractions heard in provincial court Monday.

Mrs. M. G. MacDonald of Riondel pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit near Balfour and was fined $5.

J. Horvath of Nelson was fined $20 and costs for crossing a double line on the North Shore He pleaded not guilty, saying he believed it was a dotted line.

K. H. Mason of Nelson was fined $25 and $23 costs for driving without due care and attention. He was in collision with a car driven by Harry Myres of Slocan City near Vallican August 8. He pleaded not guilty, saying he felt the driver of the other car was as much at fault. Warren Ferguson of Nelson was defence counsel.

All appeared before Magistrate William Evans.

First Windermere Paper . . .

Mining Lingo Figured In "Wilmer Outcrop"

INVERMERE — The Valley Echo, the first photo-offset weekly to be published in Western Canada, is making its mark in the Windermere District as an enterprising medium for spreading news of the valley. It is by no means the first newspaper to be published in the district.

Four predecessors, "The Wilmer Outcrop," "The Columbian," the "Columbia Valley Times" and the "Valley News," all had their heyday. The first three folded against the struggle, the last made a quiet and timely exit when its purpose was accomplished.

Shortly after the turn of the century the Windermere Valley had its first newspaper. It was "The Wilmer Outcrop" published first in May, 1900, at Canterbury (now Invermere) by W. P. Evans. In 1902 Mr. Evans moved his printing establishment to Peterborough (now Wilmer) and published it there until 1910.

It was followed by "The Columbian," published at Wilmer in 1911 by J. H. McDougall assisted by the late James Butterfield who was later to make a name for himself with his column, "The Common Round" in The Vancouver Province. "The Columbian" lasted only a few issues.

In the boom days at Athalmer, in September, 1912, the late Charles Johnston, the first customs officer of the district, assisted by James Davidson launched the "Columbia Valley Times." It was a well-composed weekly, with eight pages, subscription $3. This paper appeared regularly for three years and then fell like the others by the wayside.

During the Second World War a most successful newspaper venture was "Valley News" a little monthly published for service men and women from the valley who were scattered throughout Canada and in various countries around the world.

POPULAR SHEET

Conceived by the late W. H. Cleland of Invermere it started out modestly and by the end of the war was in such demand that 350 copies were printed monthly and the paper had tripled in size. The boys overseas wrote enthusiastically that "Valley News" was read by every fellow in their outfit. Complete strangers wrote to ask to be put on the subscription list. It found its way to Canada House and B.C. House in London.

The mimeographed paper was financed by the showing of moving pictures in valley communities. All work for the paper was voluntary and no charge was ever made for it. When the war came to an end the paper's purpose was fulfilled and it was discontinued.

But to return to the first paper "The Wilmer Outcrop." One of the first experiences of its editor, W. Park Evans, was frustrating enough to break the heart of any editor. With a first class murder on his hands of which he had practically received advance notice, he had as yet no paper in which to print it.

It happened this way. Peterborough (Wilmer) was the centre of activity in the valley early in the 1900's and it lured a motley array of transients and would-be citizens. Among those lured were two young lads, known for obvious reason, as The Banjo Kids. The kids had a gay time in Peterborough made gayer by the presence of a young and giddy damsel who led the two lads on until the green-eyed demon, jealousy, got in cupid's way.

One of the Banjo Kids saw the editor one day.

"Hear you're going to start a paper," he said.

"Yes," replied Evans as soon as I can get some equipment and get going."

"Well, I'll give you some news right now," volunteered the Banjo Kid. "I'm going to clean up the whole —— dance hall."

Maybe he did clean up the dance hall and maybe he didn't but he did clean up the fellow he was aiming at. He got hold of a six-shooter and hunted up the other Banjo Kid by the name of Dando, who was upstairs in a local hostelry.

There was a fight and he let Dando have it. In fact both of them had it. One got a rough box coffin and the other, Collins, got life sentence instead of hanging and was sent off to Nelson jail. He was a painter by trade and he evidently figured painting the Nelson jail for the rest of his life was going to be monotonous. So when he was up on high scaffolding one day he just took a header and died in the fall. Word of the second tragedy seeped back to Wilmer where the girl, known as Freddie, took poison.

The editor did get his equipment in time to record the story for it appears in lengthy and lurid detail in the October 11, 1900, issue of the Outcrop.

"The Outcrop" its masthead declared was "devoted to the Mining and Development of the Windermere and Golden Divisions of North-East Kootenay." Subscription was $2 a year in advance and $2.50 to "people worthy of credit." It was published every Thursday.

No more suitable name could have been given a paper in a mining community and the enterprise and imagination of the editor were evident throughout. District news was called "District Croppings" social notes from Golden were "Golden Nuggets." The front page heading carried in a box "The Paystreak of Advertising never pinches out in this paper. Try one before the space is all staked out."

The paper was well patronized by district firms for advertising and display ads were $2 per month per column inch.

The oldest copy of "The Outcrop" known to be in existence is the October 11, 1900, edition owned by Mrs. Edward Rauch, pioneer resident of Wilmer.

Not Decided When Munro To Appear

VANCOUVER (CP).— J. G. A Hutcheson, counsel for royal commissioner R. H. Tupper, said today it had not been decided when Flash reported Ray Munro is to appear before the police investigation on a show cause summons.

Mr. Munro was ordered Friday by Commissioner Tupper to show cause why he should not be cited for contempts. The summons had not yet been issued, said Mr. Hutcheson.

The commissioner's move followed a charge by lawyer Tom G. Norris that Mr. Munro had blackmailed him in an article appearing under the reporter's name in the Toronto tabloid.

Meanwhile, Mr. Norris confirmed today he will not again appear before the inquire "because I haven't any further status" in it.

Mr. Norris earlier withdrew as council for Police Chief Walter Mulligan who has been accused in testimony before the royal commission of accepting bribes from gamblers.

Friday, the lawyer said he withdrew because an article by Mr. Munro was an attack on himself and his daughter. He charged Mr. Munro with blackmail but when the reporter appeared before the commission on order of Mr. Tupper, he refused to answer Mr. Norris' questions on grounds "it might incriminate me."

Clinton Power Units To Be Moved to Slocan

VICTORIA (CP) — The B. C. Power Commission, authorized Monday to service the New Denver and Silverton areas of the Slocan Valley, has announced it will immediately transfer two surplus portable diesel units of 50-kw capacity from its Clinton power station for installation at New Denver to meet peak Winter loads.

The cabinet has approved purchase by the commission of assets of the Denver Light and Power Company Ltd., and formation of the Slocan power district.

A heavy storm some months ago damaged the area's small hydro plant and it has been operating since on power from an emergency diesel unit.

The commission said "long-term power needs of the area are under study."

32-Hour Work Week Seen as Only Answer by Rail Union President

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)— A forecast of a labor demand for a four-day, 32-hour week as the long-range answer to automation in industry was made today by W. J. Smith, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CCL).

Mr. Smith, opening the triennial convention of Canada's largest transport union, said the guaranteed annual wage sought by some unions is not a complete answer to automation, the use of automatic machines that take over manpower's work.

"The answer to the problem of automation," he said in his presidential address, "is to be found in a reduction in the hours which constitute a normal work week.

"We must begin to consider seriously making a demand for a four-day, 32-hour week and organizing all the forces of labor, in and out of the industry, for such a demand.

"Only by this method will we retain employment for ourselves and provide employment for the coming generations."

Most Canadian rail workers now have a normal five-day 40-hour week. Mr. Smith's 32-hour proposal is the first to be made by the head of a big Canadian rail union.

Dealing with the railway union's coming contracts with Canada's railroads — in which representatives of some 160,000 workers will be asking for a wage increase and a welfare plan — Mr. Smith issued a new demand for the rail workers' right to strike. They yielded this in the last set of negotiations under a cabinet threat of legislation for compulsory arbitration.

"Let this convention make clear in unmistakable terms," he said, "our undying opposition to the enforcement, now or in the future, of any form of compulsory arbitration.

"It is important to let all Canada know that, as a responsible union and as citizens, we will never agree to forego our basic rights and freedoms . . ."

Mr. Smith was critical of the federal government on several points, including its handing to the provinces of jurisdiction over interprovincial highway transport and the way it has dealt with seasonal unemployment.

He said interprovincial highway transportation should have been placed under the board of transport commissioners at Ottawa when the Privy Council more than a year ago ruled it under federal jurisdiction. But instead the cabinet and Parliament had "shrugged their shoulders and abdicated their responsibilities."

"When it comes to regulating trucks and buses, the national interest takes a back seat, but when it comes to regulating railway workers, it's right up in the front row," he said.

Discussing seasonable unemployment in the cold weather months, he said the federal government has been "callous, complacent and indifferent."

PTA Award Goes To Canyon Girl

CRESTON — Miss Cecelia Cross of Canyon was awarded the Creston Valley Parent-Teacher Association bursary for 1955.

Mrs. A. Staples, chairman of the bursary committee, made the announcement at the PTA meeting held in the Prince Charles high school.

Miss Cross is registered in the senior matriculation class at the Prince Charles High School. She has received all her schooling in the Creston area. Her school records show that she has consistently been a good pupil throughout her school career.

Miss Cross has ambitions in the field of nursing, it is felt that the bursary will aid her in realizing this goal.

LUXURY YACHT SOLD

VANCOUVER (CP) — Sale of the luxury yacht Fifer by Hon. Clarence Wallace to the Powell River Company was announced Monday. The Fifer will be used by the new owners to provide executive travel and entertainment in coastal waters.

Irene Chomlak Is Fair Queen

GREENWOOD — Miss Irene Chomlak will reign as queen over the ninth annual Rock Creek and Boundary District Fall Fair.

Miss Chomlak, who entered the competition as "Miss Greenwood", will be crowned Wednesday, following the opening ceremonies. Competing with her for the title were Celia Zitko, "Miss Beaverdell" and Kathryn Bostock, "Miss Rock Creek and Kettle Valley" who will be the fall fair princesses, Alva Keinaf, "Miss Bridesville" and Dorothy Verigan "Miss Midway."

Queen contest was under the management of the Rock Creek Parent-Teacher Association.

Fair day itself will be a big one for the Rock Creek and Boundary district. Judging of livestock and exhibits will start at 11 a.m., with opening ceremonies at 1 p.m., the children's fancy dress parade at 1:15 p.m., and the queen crowning at 2 p.m. Sports and a baby show will also be part of the day's events.

Freight Lines To Amalgamate

PROCTER—Plans to amalgamate two freight lines now serving the Procter-Nelson area have been announced.

Faced with steadily rising costs of operation and equipment, there was no alternative but to raise the freight rates or cut costs, so the merger was proposed. The Procter-Nelson Freight Line and the West Arm Freight Service have sold out to the newly-formed company to be known as West Arm Truck Lines Ltd., with co-owners Peter Iwanik and Alec Maclean to head it. The daily schedule now used by Procter-Nelson Freight will be maintained and the schedule of West Arm Freight Service will be discontinued.

A new truck is on order and a bigger van is being built. The new company will continue to have its Nelson headquarters at the Truck Terminus and the other terminal will be at Procter.

After five years of battling the elements, poor roads, rising costs and each other, this move offers the solution to some of these factors, the firms feel.

Mr. Iwanik has operated his line so closely to schedule that residents claim they can tell the time by his appearance. In the Spring, he completed eight years of uninterrupted service but in July of this year a ruptured appendix forced him into the hospital for six days after which he was up and at it again. Mr. Maclean has operated as a competitor on the 21-mile run for the past five years. He settled at Sunshine Bay eight years ago after serving as a pilot in the European theatre in the Second World War, with the rank of Flying Officer in the RCAF.

The southern part of Florida is a favorite target for hurricanes.

4 YOUTHS CONVICTED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Four Calgary youths were convicted in police court Monday of plotting to cash a fortune in stolen money orders. A similar charge against a fifth youth was dismissed.

Remanded to Sept. 26 for sentence were Rudy Driedger, 22; John I. Raines, 21; Victor J. Hampson, 21, and Walter W. Pomroy, 18.

Set free was Douglas Mellick, 23.

Seasonal Joblessness a Problem To Be Licked

Every year in Canada from 150,000 to 200,000 people are thrown out of work and go on the unemployment insurance rolls for varying periods through no fault of their own. It occurs each year whether times are good or bad. Certainly, no efficient national economy as we claim ours to be should accept such a situation as inevitable. Everything possible should be done to reduce or eliminate this so-called seasonal unemployment.

In Canada jobless rolls are at their lowest in September, increasing to a peak during the late winter or early spring. Seasonal unemployment is of several main types. There are layoffs arising from the direct effects of climate on production procedures. There is seasonal unemployment resulting from variations in demand for certain goods and services.

To present the problem in terms of economic waste is looking at only one side of the picture. The other half concerns the human side—the welfare of thousands of Canadian breadwinners and their families. For them there is unemployment insurance, but that is no substitute for work.

A number of studies into seasonal unemployment have been conducted at Ottawa, the latest of these completed last year. Hon. Milton F. Gregg, V.C., Minister of Labor, during the past session of Parliament hinted that his department would be conducting some "interesting experiments" this winter. The problem merits the serious attention of all.

Youngster Learns First Lessons in Social Life On Neighborhood Playlot

Give the kids a place to play and we won't have to provide a place to jail them in later years. The neighborhood playlot is the place where the youngster learns his first lessons in social life, the first steps in the art of getting along with others.

Cranbrook's Boulevards

Cranbrook's neat boulevards are among the notable features leaving an impression on the visitor. There is not an untidy one to be seen, and in that way they are a sharp contrast to boulevards of many centres. They, with the fine gardens and parks, bespeak a civic pride of residents as well as a sound policy of municipal housekeeping.

Centralized Tax Power Weapon Against Inflation

The Winnipeg Free Press takes great pains to reassure its readers that federal tax proposals to be presented at the October conference are nothing to worry about. Taxes, the paper says, may rise; but not because of Plan C. Existing taxes may be split into two parts, federal and provincial; but that would not be double taxation.

This may soothe the readers of the Free Press, but it fails to reassure us, and it ignores completely the third objection to the tax proposals. Under Plan C, the nation—not just the taxpayer—stands to lose, because the central government abdicates the power it has under the existing tax rental agreements; power to use all the elements of financial policy to influence the economic health of the country. Taxation can be used as a weapon against depression and inflation. It's a useless weapon if several taxing authorities are acting at cross purposes.

We aren't impressed by the argument of Maurice Lamontagne that this problem wouldn't arise because "simple political wisdom and the pressure of public opinion will compel (the provinces) to reflect very seriously" before raising direct taxes in time of depression. Simple political wisdom is one of the rarest of all qualities. We see no reason to suppose it can be relied on any more in the future than in the past to keep the Dominion and the Provinces working in harmony. Then, "simple political wisdom" might in some circumstances lead a provincial government to commit economic folly in the hope of political gain.

Now, it may be that the central government is going to lose its control of direct taxation anyway; even under existing conditions, Premier Duplessis could obviously go even farther than he has in offsetting Ottawa's tax policies. It may be that the other wealthy provinces will also have itchy fingers by 1957. A move away from centralized tax policy at the insistence of the provinces would not be surprising; it is astonishing to see the movement encouraged by the Government at Ottawa.

It's possible that the political problem will have to be solved, in the end, at the expense of economic sanity. It's essential, though, that in such an event, Canadians should know the nature of the decision. Ottawa, and its friends, should not issue bland assurances that the baby is still in the bath.—Financial Post.

Everybody's Business

"The union, or at least its spokesman, refuses to admit that the dispute is the business of anyone but that of the two parties involved."

That comment comes from the majority report of the conciliation board that attempted to negotiate between General Motors and the United Auto Workers. But it could be made, unfortunately, of dozens of other industrial disputes that from time to time have shaken or threatened to shake our economy.

Long before this, both labor and management should have learned that their disputes do concern a lot of other people. Life would be smoother and happier if it were not so. But in our complex economy it is just not possible to have a strike or even a threat of strike in any industry without involving a lot of outsiders.

There are strikers' wives and families. Surely they have some interest in the matter. There are other industries with their labor forces which supply raw materials to or buy finished goods from the strikebound plant. And there are consumers who in the end must pay for every strike either in higher prices or delay in deliveries, or both.

Strikes concern a lot of people who are never seen and too seldom represented around the bargaining table.

Your Horoscope

Your indomitable industry and keen enterprise will cause you to prosper in the year ahead. Be careful of unwise investments, however, especially in property. Today's child should be a tremendous worker and capable of enduring hardships, ideally fitted for a strenuous career in which success would be achieved.

P. L., Nelson—To settle an argument, has Canada ever had a trade deficit with the United States?

There was an unfavorable trade balance with the United States in 1954.

Interested, Trail—Which of the Western provinces has the largest population?

British Columbia, with Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba following in that order.

Mother of Three, Nelson—Can you give me a rough amount of the average family allowance cheque?

Our source of information is only made up to 1954, when the average family allowance cheque was $14.11.

Reader, Nelson—How long should one continue to wear mourning?

It is a personal matter. Many people wear black at a funeral but not afterwards; possibly two wars are responsible for the change of custom. After air raids it was impossible to buy mourning materials, not only because of rationing but because of the damage done to wholesale and retail houses.

T. T. K., Salmo—We are going to Hollywood shortly and may have an opportunity to attend a star opening night. How would one dress for this?

It would depend on where your seats are placed and with whom you are going. If the rest of the party are in formals, then you would be similarly attired. If you are in a less fashionable part of the theatre you could wear what you like. Sports clothes, pedal pushers, loud checks and the like would not be suitable.

Undeliverable Letter Office Not Dead?

Canadian postmasters have been notified that the phrase "dead letter office" must be expunged from their official vocabulary. The department in question is now the "undeliverable letter office", where, no doubt, there is no death.

The Postmaster-General was probably prompted by a desire to be accurate and reassuring when he decided upon this change. But we wonder if he is justified in discarding such a well-established and satisfactory phrase. We can foresee many dfficulties.

What, for instance, of the orator who wants to warn us that Magna Carta has become a dead letter? How much less telling, if he must substitute "undeliverable" for "dead". And is the new phrase really any more accurate than the old? What is so dead as an undeliverable letter?

Official terminology is being overtaken by the polysyllable. There are few short words left for the civil servant to use. This might be a good place to make a stand in defence of the brief, vivid phrase.

Curious and Costly

(Exeter (Ont.) Times-Advocate)

The Ways of Man are curious and costly. Take water in Western Ontario for example.

For years Western Ontario has been spending millions of dollars trying to get rid of water as fast as possible. By building drains, ditches and channels, the area sends the water out to the lakes as soon as it falls from the sky.

Now the country's dry. So what is proposed? A water pipeline System from the Great Lakes to the communities.

This man, who spent millions to rush water into the lakes, must now spend more millions to pump it inland again.

Think how much cheaper it would have been if we had let the water take its natural course in the first place.

Threats Near Home Change Views In Ottawa on NATO Commitments

OTTAWA (CP) — The government is caught in a jam between NATO commitments and home defence needs, some senior officials say.

The problem arises in this way:

The opinion among defence planners is that any future war will be short and extremely violent, with both sides using all available nuclear weapons.

The main struggle would be between the United States and Russian bomber forces. Therefore, North America is the key to Western defence.

But 12 of the RCAF's 21 fighter squadrons are based in Europe as part of Canada's commitment to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. This commitment also includes an infantry brigade group.

AWKWARD POSITION

Officials say it would be awkward for the government, long and strong supporter of NATO, to withdraw the air division from Europe, even though it feels the main threat in total war would be against North America.

The situation is considered to have changed radically from what it was five or six years ago when Canada undertook its NATO commitments. Then, before nuclear weapons and long-range bombers became plentiful, the main Communist threat was judged to be against Western Europe.

PEARSON STAND

Government members since last spring have been making references to this poser.

The latest is by External Affairs Minister Pearson, who has an article in the October issue of the U.S. quarterly Foreign Affairs, published last week.

Mr. Pearson says the protection of North America is as important to European defence as the stationing of North American troops in Europe.

Some observers say that equipping next year of four of the 12 RCAF squadrons overseas with the CF-100, the long-range interceptor for home defence, signals eventual return of at least part of the air division to Canada. This would give Canada 13 instead of nine fighter squadrons at home.

Alberta Royal Commission Holds Meeting

EDMONTON (CP)—The royal commission established by Alberta's Social Credit government to investigate its operations held a brief preliminary hearing Monday and adjourned for two weeks.

Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald of the Alberta Supreme Court trial division said he and his four colleagues hoped the investigation woulud be able to proceed "as expeditiously as possible" when the hearings are reconvened.

REPORT BEFORE SPRING

The commission will investigate charges made against the provincial government before the provincial election July 29. The government expects its report to be ready before the legislature meets again next spring.

One of the main points to be investigated will be an exchange of mineral rights between Premier Manning and the provincial government on a farm he owned near Edmonton.

Besides the chairman, members of the commission are John Dower, Edmonton; Dr. George Harrison Villett, Edmonton; Maurice Brown, Calgary, and J. H. Galbraith, Ponoka.

Advises World Rule For Antarctica

OTTAWA (CP) — I. J. Pitman, member of Britain's Parliamentary Association for World Government, said Monday that Antarctica should become the first soverign territory of a world government.

Mr. Pitman, a book publisher, arrived here today from Washington to address the Ottawa branch of the World Federalists of Canada.

He said delegates to the proposed world government, which would be developed through the United Nations, should place world peace before nationalistic interests and have the right to vote without reference to their respective governments.

Canadian Growers Hail Removal Of U.S. Curb on Imported Grains

OTTAWA (CP)—A move which undoubtedly will help improve Canada-United States trade relations is the U.S. decision to remove import curbs on oats and barley.

The controls come off Sept. 30 just four days after Canadian-American diplomatic, trade and economic leaders meet in an attempt to solve some of the economic difficulties between the two countries.

Canadian officials are still concerned over American restrictions on imports of rye, dairy products and the U.S. "giveaway" wheat program which, they say, has hampered Canadian wheat sales in overseas markets.

But they welcome the oats-barley move as an expression of "good trade faith" on the part of the Americans. The removal comes at a time when Canada's grain productions has increased, requiring greater marketing efforts. The U. S. has been a big market for Canadian coarse grains.

It is felt that the American action, announced Sept. 9, likely will soften Canada's approach to the Sept. 26 gathering when top spokesmen from the two countries meet for the second conference of the joint economic and trade committee.

The Ottawa meeting will be attended by External Affairs Minister Pearson, Trade Minister Howe, Finance Minister Harris, Agriculture Minister Gardiner and on the U. S. side by State Secretary Dulles, Agriculture Secretary Benson, Commerce Secretary Weeks and Treasury Secretary Humphrey.

CANADIAN PRICES HIGHER

Major reason for removal of the U. S. oats-barley restrictions is price. President Eisenhower observed in his announcement that Canadian prices have been higher than those in the U. S.

"Unless there is considerable change in present conditions," he said, "it appears unlikely that oats and barley would be imported in such quantities as to interfere materially with domestic price support programs."

The curbs were imposed Oct. 1, 1954. Until Sept 30, 1955, Canada could ship only 39,300,000 bushels of oats and 27,225,000 bushels of barey. This was a lot less than Canada shipped in the 1953-54 crop year, but, as it turned out, she filled only about one - half the quota because of price and other factors.

In the 1953-54 crop year, Canada shipped 65,878,000 bushels of oats and 36,921,000 bushels of barley to the U. S. In the following year, exports dropped to 14,811,000 bushels of oats and 19,086,000 of barley.

Carrot Relish Easy to Make

By ALICE DENHOFF

TODAY we salute the carrot! And why not, when everything from pickles to peppers gets recognition with a special "week"? And don't think that the carrot doesn't rate as much recognition as the best of them. It is in season the year -round and it is nutritious, economical and flavorsome. Uufortunately, it is usually prepared with so little imagination.

When cooking carrots as an accompaniment for a roast, try putting a small amount of sugar and ginger on them.

Grated carrots add bulk as well as nutritive value to salads and sandwiches. Children will love grated carrots mixed with peanut butter as a sandwich spread. Carrots, by the way, rank very high on the nutritional chart. Carotene, which the body converts to vitamin A, is found in especially large quantities in the yellow root.

Here's a tasty recipe for carrot relish.

For 6 pints, prepare 6 cups ground fresh carrots, 2 cups each ground fresh green pepper and ground fresh red sweet pepper, 2 cups ground cabbage and 3 cups ground onion, using a coarse knife or food chopper for grinding vegetables. Combine ground vegetables and set aside.

Meanwhile, bring 4 cups cider vinegar, 1½ cups brown sugar, 3 tablespoons sals, 4 teaspoons dry mustard, and tablespoon celery seed to boiling point in 8-quart kettle. Add ground vegetables. Cook 15 minutes or until thickened, stirring frequently. Add 1 large fresh sweet red peper, diced; cook 5 additional minutes. Seal airtight in hot, sterilized jars.

Carrots, thinly sliced across the root, are delicious eating indeed when they are braised in a small amount of butter until barely tender. Just before serving, sprinkle them with a generous amount of finely minced parsley. For a real treat with lamb, steam or boil carrots as usual. Chop fresh mint fine. Pour melted butter and mint over the carrots and allow a few moments for the flavors to blend.

Chief Guide's Arrival Nears

Red letter day for Guiding in the West Kootenay Division is rapidly approaching — the visit of the World Chief Guide, Lady Baden-Powell.

Owing to the fact that Lady Baden-Powell is on a holiday trip, it has been deemed advisable to have only one rally in each Division. Thus the place and the time for the West Kootenay Division rally has been set for Nelson October 7, leaving Central School grounds at 3 p.m. and parading the few blocks to the Recreation grounds, weather permitting.

Guiders are being requested to get in touch with their Commissioners for further details regarding, when the Interior will have the privilege of seeing and hearing the Chief Guide.

Keen-Cartwright Wedding . . .

Choir Sings as Bride Enters St. Saviour's

St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral was the setting for the marriage of Lillian Mabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cartwright and Emil Keen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Keen of Red Deer, Alta. Very Rev. T. L. Leadbeater, Dean of Kootenay, officiated at the double ring ceremony which took place at 4 p.m., Saturday.

St. Saviour's Pro - Cathedral choir accompanied by the choirmaster, Mr. F. E. Wheeler, as organist, sang "Praise My Soul" as the bride proceeded up the aisle, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bride was lovely in her white bridal gown fashioned with a bouffant skirt of lace and net over satin. The bodice, which featured a net yoke and Peter Pan collar, was trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls. Her fingertip length net veil was caught in place with a heart-shaped headdress, also trimmed with sequins and pearls. The bride wore a sterling silver filigre and black diamond necklace and earrings, gifts of the groom. She carried a bouquet of three orchids on a bridal prayer book. The bride's attendants were Miss Lillian Anderson, maid of honor, wearing a blue ballerina length gown of net over satin, the strapless bodice featured a design of daisies, covered by a net jacket. The bridesmaid, Miss Elsie Keen, sister of the groom, wore a rose colored gown of net over taffeta with lace inserts in a flower design on the skirt. The strapless bodice was covered by a net jacket. They carried crescent shaped bouquets of gladiolus.

The best man was Mr. William Cartwright, brother of the bride, and the guests were ushered by Mr. Reg Boissonneault. Mr. Donald McRae and Mr. Edward Forrest.

During signing of the register, the choir sang, "O Perfect Love."

The reception was held in St. Saviour's memorial hall. Mrs. Cartwright received the guests attired in a teal blue gown of crepe with lace panels with Wedgewood blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The bride's table was centred by a four-tier wedding cake, made by her aunt, Mrs. J. Williams. Dean Leadbeater proposed the toast to the bride. The toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by Mr. Boissonneault. Telegrams were read from relatives and friends.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Keen left by car for Calgary, Banff and points east. The bride was attired in a frost white suit with sable brown accessories, and an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests attending were Mrs. J. Fletcher, Burnaby, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Heaven, Rossland, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams, Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kovach, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fashion Show Features Wool

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—A colorful picture of European fashion was presented at the International Wool Fashion Festival.

Clothes by top designers of 11 countries were featured. Represented were Denmark, France, Switzerland and Britain — with models to match—although French couturiers chose a German mannequin to show off their dramatic creations.

Organized by the International Wool secretariat, the show exhibits the versatility of wool. It now comes in a lace-type weave, smooth facecloth material, soft-moulding jersey and sometimes with a sheen to give a doeskin look to the garment.

Among clothes shown at the Savoy Hotel was a Dior Y-line model, a Chinese-type tunic in sombre black facecloth with high side splits opening on to a narrow black sheath dress. The broad shoulders of the tunic tapered of at the knees to give the Y effect.

Issue Warrant For Arrest of Montreal Editor

MONTREAL (CP) — Warrants were issued Monday for the arrest of the editor and distributor of the weekly publication Midnight in the city's move against publication and distribution of allegedly obscene literature.

Named in the warrants were John Vader, editor and publisher of Midnight Publication Company, and the Canadian News Company, distributors.

A summons was also issued against Hebdo Press, printers of Midnight.

In applying for the warrants, Dollard Dansereau, lawyer acting for the Montreal police department, told Judge Rodolphe Camirand "this is part of the campaign launched by police against the publishers for the good of the public."

Meanwhile, Jacques Sauriol of the French-language weekly Nouvelles et Potins (News and Gossip), surrendered Monday to police. He was wanted on a warrant charging defamatory libel. Sauriol, member of the Quebec Provincial Board of Censors, is a reporter and editorial writer for the weekly.

In raids on newsstands and a printing establishment last Friday police seized copies of Midnight and Nouvelles et Potins.

In its issue last week Nouvelles et Potins severely criticized Pacifique Plante, assistant police director, in an article.

Fiery Priest Prefers Pulpit

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Post says Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Canadian-born priest who once was a controversial political figure, now is "delighted to be out of political life."

"If I had to do it over again, I don't think I'd go in for radio broadcasting," the Roman Catholic cleric says in an interview with reporter Irwin Ross. "You can only reach people superficially that way."

Father Coughlin was interviewed at Royal Oak, Mich., near Detroit, where he is still in charge of the Shrine of the Little Flower. Every Sunday 8000 to 10,000 persons go to mass there, The Post reports, saying Father Coughlin's sermons cannot now be "remotely regarded as 'controversial.'"

The 63-year-old priest who gave up political activities 13 years ago, is quoted as saying of the past:

"People continually misunderstood what I was driving at. My critics were so hostile that if I said two and two were four, they would claim that it was five."

SAYS WASN'T WISE

Father Coughlin "doubted now that it was wise to publish the fraudulent and anti-Semitic protocols of the elders of Zion in Social Justice," a publication he used to put out. The newspaper quotes him as saying:

"First of all, the validity of the document was somewhat doubtful. But that's irrelevant. The main thing is that it was uncharitable to rake up all that ancient history."

Father Coughlin insists that he was never anti-Semitic. When asked why in 1938 he had stressed the the Jewish origin of some of the leaders of the Russian revolution, he gave The Post this answer:

"I know most of the Communist leaders were gentile. But I was trying to prod the Jews in America to attack communism, and the persecution of Christians in Russia, the same way they were attacking naziism in Germany."

Father Coughlin denies that he was silenced by Archbishop Mooney of Detroit.

"A certain amount of pressure was brought to bear on me, but the archbishop never told me I couldn't talk. He wouldn't say that to any priest. But for some time he insisted, as was his right by canon law, that I submit all speeches to him in advance."

Father Coughlin, a native of Hamilton, Ont., taught at Assumption College in Windsor, Ont., and St. Michael's College, Toronto, before going to the United States. His broadcasts made him a prominent figure in the immediate pre-war years.

Accuses Soldiers Of Mau Mau Murders

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — The prosecutor at the trial of two British soldiers charged with murdering an African shepherd alleged Monday that one of them, a sergeant, offered a £1 reward to each member of his platoon who member of his platoon who brought back a Mau Mau terrorist's body.

The prosecutor told the court the African "was deliberately taken from the road into the bush and he was there deliberately shot" last May by the two accused soldiers, Sgt. Alfred Pimblett, 34, and Pte. Ronald Swaine, 22.

Both men pleaded not guilty.

Lions Beat Stamps; Esks Still Unbeaten

British Columbia Lions scored a 24-18 victory over Calgary Stampeders Monday night at Calgary to move into a second-place tie in the Western International Football Union with Saskatchewan Roughriders at Edmonton.

Eskimos slithered over rain swept Clarke Stadium to their eighth straight WIFU victory Monday night, coming from behind to defeat Winnipeg Blue Bombers 14-8 in a fumble-filled game before 12,500 soaked fans.

The wide-open contest at Calgary was witnessed by 11,000 fans.

Lions jumped into a quick 12-0 lead early in the first quarter, extended it to 18-0 in the second. Calgary bounced back with two touchdowns, one late in the first half and another in the third quarter, to tie it up 18-18. A touchdown for B.C. was the only score registered in the fourth quarter.

Bombers' loss stopped Winnipeg's winning streak at two games, leaving them with a 2-6 record. Eskimos pushed their first-place lead to eight points over Saskatchewan Roughriders, who didn't play Monday night, and British Columbia Lions.

SHAMROCKS LEAD SERIES 3-1

VICTORIA (CP) — Victoria Shamrocks swept to a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven Mann Cup senior lacrosse series here Monday night when they edged Peterborough Trailermen 10-8 after a last quarter drive.

Alston Again Dodgers Manager

BROOKLYN (AP) -- Walter Alston has been told he will manage Brooklyn Dodgers again in 1956.

Walter O'Malley, Dodger president, made the announcement in an unofficial manner Sunday night at a victory party for the ball club.

NEAR BAT HONORS

NEW YORK (AP) — With just a week remaining before the regular major league baseball season ends there seems to be little doubt as to who will carry off the batting average honors in the National and American loops.

Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn has all but clinched the National League title, while Al Kaline of Detroit has the junior circuit championship all wrapped up. Ashburn is hitting .341 and holds a 18-point lead over runner-up Roy Campanella of Brooklyn. Kaline, boasting a .340 average is 22 points ahead of his nearest pursuer, Kansas City's Vic Power.

MONARCHS WIN BOXLA TITLE, MINTO CUP

TORONTO (CP)—Long Branch Monarchs Monday night won the Minto Cup and Canadian junior lacrosse championship with a 9-3 victory over Manitoba All-Stars. They swept the best-of-seven series in four games.

A crowd of 11,400 saw Long Branch goaltender Porky Russell dash the All-Stars' hopes with brilliant saves throughout the game and help the Monarchs win their first Minto Cup in history.

Monarchs outshot the western Canada champions 27-25 but the All-Stars shots were more difficult to handle.

Three More Sign With Wings

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP) — Three more hockey players Monday signed contracts with Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League for the 1955-56 season.

They are Ted Lindsay, Real Chevrefils and Earl Reibel.

Fred Humber, the team's publicity director, said only three players remain unsigned as the team's training camp here starts its second week of operation.

LANE PLANS TO LEAVE WHITE SOX

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank Lane is going to leave Chicago White Sox.

"I want to leave, and I intend to leave," the general manager told The Associated Press Monday.

Lane added: "I have put up with a lot of indignities from Chuck Comiskey, both in private, and recently in public. Lack of allegiance is morally a breach of contract, if not technically."

DeSpirito "Fair" After Spill

NEW YORK (AP)—The condition of jockey Tony DeSpirito, the 1952 U.S. riding champion, was reported as "fair" Monday at hospital.

DeSpirito, 21-year-old native of Lawrence, Mass., was placed on the serious list Sunday following injuries suffered when he was involved in a three-horse spill during the running of the Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct.

Dr. Alexander Kaye, Jockey's Guild physician, said DeSpirito received a brain laceration, a badly fractured lower jaw, and broken teeth.

Turpin Back In Ring After Surgery

BIRMINGHAM, England (CP)—Randolph Turpin, holder of the British and Empire lightheavyweight titles, returned to the ring Monday night after an absence of several months for an appendicitis operation and convincingly outpointed Eddie (Polly) Smith, of Bermuda, at the Perry Barr Stadium here.

Smith displayed astonishing stamina and only his strength and courage enabled him to last the 10 gruelling rounds, each of which went comfortably to Turpin.

BCAHA To Enforce Transfer Rule; Vingo Proposal Well Received

KELOWNA (CP) — Payment of $250 senior hockey player transfer fees was upheld here during the weekend session of the B. C. Amateur Hockey Association annual meeting.

The BCAHA rule concerning transfer fees had not been strictly enforced and members decided not to tolerate breaches during the coming season.

First to be hit by the transfer fee will be the Kelowna Packers in the OSHL who will have to pay Trail for playing - coach Moe Young.

Delegates also decided to cut to two per cent the association's former three per cent levy on 60 per cent of the gross of all games within the provincial jurisdiction.

Revenue taken in by the BCAHA since 1950 from players turning professional will be returned two-thirds to the clubs concerned and one-third to the minor hockey association.

Delegates displayed considerable interest in a proposal by Dr. Joe Vingo, president of the Western International Hockey League, that the Okanagan and the Kootenays play off for the Savage Cup.

Dr. Vingo's proposal, based on the premise that this season's Savage Cup playoffs will be in the Kootenays, won approval by both leagues in an informal discussion.

The proposal would see both leagues winding up their season of play, then start inter-league playoffs with the first two games of each series to be played in the Okanagan and the remainder of games in the Kootenays.

Dr. J. J. Butler, past president and second vice president of the association pointed out that any such plan would have to receive the acceptance of the association.

The policy of eliminating bodychecking in minor hockey came under fire but delegates decided to continue another year with the non-body contact ruling in effect.

A proposal to set up a Doug Grimston memorial trophy, possibly for bantam playoffs which now are not on a provincial level, was endorsed.

Elimination of the bodycheck in juvenile, midget and bantam play was proposed by the Kamloops representative to minor hockey and by Jack O'Reilly, Kelowna representative and the coach of the B. C. juvenile champs from Kelowna.

Mr. O'Reilly said the B. C. body should not tamper with rules that affected a "fine and respected Canadian sport."

"Hockey was in a critical period," he said. "and in time of crisis, we as a provincial body, shouldn't change Dominion rules."

Black Pitches First Shutout

By The Canadian Press

Bud Black, a 23-year-old righthander, pitched his first shutout in the major leagues Monday night as Detroit Tigers whipped Kansas City Athletics 4-0.

Black, who had balked last May when the Tigers told him to report to their Buffalo farm club of the International League, scattered six hits in his third big league start. The Tigers still heady from their three-game American League sweep of Cleveland Indians, supported Black with nine hits off loser Walt Craddock and reliefer Gus Keriazakos.

Rain washed out the only other game scheduled in the American League, between New York Yankees and Washington.

St. Louis Cardinals rallied to down Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 12 innings in the only scheduled National League game. The Cards had to overcome a five-run deficit that included Ernie Banks' record-setting fifth grand slam homer of the season. Banks' 44th homer broke the record of four grand slammers in one season held by 10 other players, including Babe Ruth.

Reliefer Mel Wright was the winner and Jim Davis the loser.

Muench Fails To Swim Lake

TORONTO (CP)—Ray Muench, 29, of Windsor, Ont., failed late Monday in his bid to swim across lake Ontario.

The former Luftwaffe glider pilot was pulled from the water 15 miles off Pickering and about 18 miles from Toronto, his intended destination.

He entered the water at Youngstown, N. Y., at 8:45 o'clock Sunday night.

For several hours Monday, Muench and his two escorting boats were unreported. Planes sought them in vain.

However, observers finally spotted them from the air. The swimmer had been blown far off course when men in the plane sighted him through thick haze hanging heavily over the water.

Muench was the lake's 33rd unsuccessful challenger this year.

Only Marilyn Bell of Toronto has succeeded in swimming across it. She made her swim a year ago, when she was 16.

Lethbridge Legion Downs Fernie United

FERNIE—Lethbridge Legion defeated Fernie United 3-1 in Fernie Sunday in an exhibition soccer game. Lethbridge scorers were Adam Rath, Joe Eder, and Que Wensveen. Mike Cairns got the lone Fernie counter.

Legion went ahead at the 11-minute mark when Adam Rath drove home a rebound off the goal post. Mike Cairns finished off a fine combination play by four Fernie players to tie the score at the 30-minute mark. Two minutes later Joe Eder got the second Legion goal as the Lethbridge squad took advantage of some slow, careless clearing by the United. There was no further scoring until five minutes before the final whistle when outside left Q. Wensveen completed a long, passing play.

Indians Going to Fight to Last

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Lopez promised Monday his Cleveland Indians will put up a fight to the finish in the American League pennant race until their elimination becomes a methematical certainty.

The quiet skipper, who Sunday was left stunned and speechless after the Indians' fourth successive loss that dropped them two full games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees, was in a more talkative mood Monday.

"Before yesterday's game I said we needed six straight to win the pennant," he recalled. "Now I say we need five straight to finish in a tie. I'm hoping the Yankees lose at least three. We lost four in a row, why can't they lose three? There's no doubt the Yankees have a tremendous advantage, but we're not giving up. Not by a long shot."

The Indians spent the off-day licking their wounds before engaging Chicago White Sox in Comiskey Park in a pair of games tonight and Wednesday night.

"I'm going to shoot my best," Lopez said. "It will be either Early Wynn or Herb Score tonight with Bob Lemon, the next night. I understand they're going to pitch their lefthanders, Billy Pierce and Jack Harshman, against us."

Lopez admitted the Indians' sudden flop was entirely unexpected.

"How can a club look as good as we did in the east and then get so lousy?" he moaned.

"I can come to only one conclusion. Out hitters simply let us down. It was a case of the fellows going into a batting slump at the worst possible time."

Soviet Track Stars Set Records

BELGRADE (AP)—Nina Otkalenko, Russian woman track star, Monday broke her own record for the 800 metres.

At a track meet here, she ran the distance in 2:06.4 minutes, three-tenths of a second faster than her old mark.

Russia's Mikhail Krivosonov set a world record by throwing the hammer 64.42 metres, 24 centimetres farther than his previous world mark.

Ione To Have Final Say on Title Bout

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Ione, swirling north with a wallop that could flatten both Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore, threatened tonight's big heavyweight title bout at Yankee Stadium.

Promotor Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, kept an ear glued to the telephone for the latest reports from his personal weather man who predicted a mid-morning clearing. However, heavy rains and high winds were supposed to lash the city during the night.

Until Ione decided to try to crash the gate, the ticket sale was booming with the advance approaching $600,000. A tremendous last day sale was expected. Now it all depends on the weather.

If the fight should be postponed, it would go on Wednesday night. With the Yankees on the road, Yankee Stadium is available the rest of the week.

The odds favoring Marciano lengthened a bit to 3½ to 1 as fight time approached. The bookmakers said it was 6 to 5 Moore wouldn't go more than eight rounds and 18 to 5 the bout wouldn't last the 15-round route.

WRITERS PICK CHAMP

Boxing writers who have visited both camps were even more positive than the odds. Of 68 polled, it was a 64-to-4 landslide for Marciano, the heavyweight king who is unbeaten in his 48-bout career. The average pick was Rocky by a knockout over the light heavy king in nine rounds.

New Look Uniform For Chinese Reds

LONDON (Reuters) — Communist Chinese soldiers will have "new look" uniforms with shoulder straps, medals, badges and unit emblems, the Soviet news agency, Tass, reports from Peiping. The new uniforms will replace the plain cotton type made famous in photographs of Chinese Communists in Korea.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — A quick about face in closing minutes of trading sent the stock market down Monday.

The late selling depressed the railroad and cut prices throughout the entire list.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market chalked up a token advance among industrials Monday but mines were dull and western oils mixed.

Selective demand put motors, steels, foods and manufacturers on a higher plane. Papers faded after showing early strength. Ogilvie came to life near the close, jumping $6.00 to a high of 52.

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrials advanced irregularly at the close of a moderately active session on the stock market Monday. There were several strong performers and a dozen new highs established for the year.

Lower-priced speculative issues were active in the mining section. Princes fluctuated in a narrowly confined range.

LONDON (Reuters)—In the absence of any fresh incentive the stock market remained unsettled and prices tended to drift lower today.

Money rate uncertainties continued to dominate gilts and prices were from ⅛ to ½ lower. Dominion and colonial issues were dull in sympathy.

3219 Miles of Pavement for B. C. At End of Current Building Year

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia must spend $292,000,000 to bring its arterial highway system up to standard, says Deputy Highways Minister Evan Jones.

The arterial system involves 4,041 miles of highway, and only about one-half of the total is up to modern traffic standards.

"To bring the remainder up to standard will require an expenditure of approximately $292,000,000," Mr. Jones said.

In a paper prepared for the Canadian Good Roads Association at Banff last week, the highways deputy disclosed that B. C. has let contracts for 125 miles of road construction in the last year.

"In addition, work on a further 24 miles was carried over from previous contracts, so that at present 149 miles are under construction, and at this date work is well advanced on half this total," he said.

TRANS-CANADA FIGURES

Mr. Jones gave the following figures on the status of the Trans-Canada highway in B. C.: 230 miles are reconstructed to Trans-Canada specifications and paved; 210 miles are in gravel, and 35 miles are under construction.

On the southern trans-provincial highway, between Hope and Crow's Nest, he said 467 miles are standard and paved, 98 miles substandard pavement, and 40 miles gravel.

SALMO-CRESTON ROUTE

Mr. Jones said surveys now are complete for the relocation of a new section between Christina Lake and the Columbia River. The new road location will eliminate the tortuous Cascade summit section.

In addition, a new route between Salmo and Creston is scheduled for construction "in the very near future". It will bypass the Kootenay Lake ferry and shorten the southern trans-provincial mileage by 40 miles.

Mr. Jones said B. C. will have 3219 miles of pavement by the end of the current construction year. This year's surfacing program is for 223 miles, which will take 6,000,000 million gallons of asphalt.

Movie Gossip...

Tyrone Power, Third of a Stage Family, Plans To Leave Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some people get bitten by the acting bug, others inherit the disease. Tyrone Power is one of the latter. In his case, it goes away back. He is the third of the acting Tyrone Powers, and the most famous in the line. His family background helps explain why he will soon be abandoning Hollywood again for the stage.

Ty could find enough leading roles here to keep him busy for 10 years, and most actors agree that working in the movies is more restful, easier and more profitable. Then why does he choose the stage?

"You don't always do everything for loot, do you?" he replied.

It was suggested that in some actors the yen to perform doesn't die easily.

"That's true," he laughed. "In some you can beat it with a club and still not kill it."

Following the footsteps of his forebears, Ty got his seasoning on the stage. When he became a big star in films it appeared that his footlight career was over. But he surprised Hollywood by going to London for "Mister Roberts."

It was no mere fling. Three years ago he toured the country in Paul Gregory's "John Brown's Body." Last season he starred on Broadway in "The Dark is Light Enough." He appeared opposite Katharine Cornell, with whose company he had once been a featured player.

His next venture is "A Quiet Place," a play written by a new author, Julian Claman. Ty will open this fall, and may be unavailable for films until next June.

In his latest movie job in "The Eddy Duchin Story," he has the chore of matching the finger work for his portrayal of the late pianist. He has a portable piano keyboard is his dressing room and practises regularly to the Duchin records.

Canadians End Mock War In N. Germany

GLADBACH, Germany (Reuters)—Four-day British-Canadian manoeuvres in north Germany to adapt troops to the requirements of nuclear warfare ended Monday.

The troops taking part — the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade and the 7th and 11th British Armored Divisions — were "grouped to give them greater mobility and flexibility, as the situation required," a communique said.

The manoeuvres were the last field test of the Canadian brigade, which is returning to Canada after 2½ years of duty as part of North Atlantic treaty forces in Europe.

Regrets Attacks On Turkish Jews

JERUSALEM (AP) — Turkey has expressed her regret of Turkish Jews during anti-Greek riots in Istanbul and Izmir Sept. 6. Official sources said the message, conveyed through the Turkish legation in Israel to the foreign ministry here, denied any official tendency to violate the security and rights of Jews in Turkey.

Arrested Woman May Help Police Solve Alta. Post Office Theft

REGINA (CP)—City police reported Monday that the arrest of a Vancouver woman on a vagrancy charge may help solve a $2550 post-office robbery at Chipman, Alta., 10 days ago.

Police said a car in which Mrs. Rose Wood was arrested was later searched by detectives who found $2500 in money orders stuffed in the upholstery and two loaded guns. Det-Sgt. Alex Hill said the money orders were part of the post office loot.

Mrs. Wood, who pleaded not guilty and was remanded in custody to Friday, was arrested shortly after a constable's unsuccessful chase of a drug store thief. The thief, who dropped a carton containing goods worth $450 when he saw the policeman, escaped down an alley.

BOUGHT IN EDMONTON

Returning to the drug store vicinity, the constable noticed Mrs. Wood sitting in a parked car. Questioned, she said the car battery had run down and she was waiting for her husband, who was in a nearby garage arranging to have the battery charged.

Then the constable stepped into the car anad started it without trouble. Mrs. Woods' husband has disappeared.

Tracing the parked car through its Alberta registration, police found it was purchased in Edmonton Sept. 14 by a man called John Dible.

Coast Man Tops Carrier Rodeo

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bill Russell of Vancouver took top honors for the second consecutive year at the third annual lumber carrier rodeo here.

Wheeling his big machine like a baby carriage, Mr. Russell, representing Canadian Western Lumber Co., won out over 24 other skilled drivers from lumber mills all over Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland.

The drivers piled lumber in neat rows exactly three feet apart, dropped one end of a 40-foot beam right on a chalked line, guided their big machines between upright posts allowing two inches' clearance, and lines of balls allowing one inch clearance. They were also judged on their time and the efficiency with which they handled their "straddle trucks".

SCORES 821 POINTS

Bill scored 821 points out of a possible 1000. Peter Fleming of McMillan & Bloedel, Somass Division, was a close second with 811 points. Dewey Terpsma, Canadian White Pine Division of McMillan & Bloedel, took third with 790 points.

This event is staged in the interest of safety and efficiency and no driver with an accident on his record book was allowed to compete.

No Picking by Kelowna Pupils

KELOWNA, B. C. (CP)—Students will not be released from classrooms to pick apples if a recommendation of the school board is adopted by trustees of Kelowna School District 23.

The recommendation was drafted at a special meeting of the board Monday.

A special appeal will be made to orchardists, canneries and packinghouses not to employ children if other help is available.

C. T. Hubbard, school board chairman, said education comes first, regardless of industry.

"I do not think the fruit industry would go to ruin for the sake of 50 student pickers," he said.

Alex Haig, manager of the Unemployment Insurance Commission here, assured the board that students will not be called upon unless an emergency arises.

Harvesting of MacIntosh apples starts Saturday, and it will be in full swing next week.

Charge Footballer With Smuggling Car

CALGARY (CP) — Bob Levnhagen, football guard with British Columbia Lions, appeared in police court here Monday to answer a 1953 charge of smuggling a car across the U. S.-Canada border.

He was remanded without plea to Oct. 3, when Lions next play in Calgary. Lions meet Stampeders here tonight.

Levenhagen is charged with buying a car in the U. S. in 1953, bringing it to Canada and selling it without having paid duty.

Fire Still Smouldering

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Firemen were called twice this morning to the smouldering ruins of the main building of the Burns and Co. Ltd. meat packing plant, destroyed in a multi-million-dollar fire Friday.

In the second outburst an hour after dawn the fire threatened to spread to undamaged buildings at the packing plant, but firemen brought it under control within two hours.

Members of United Packinghouse Workers of America, Local 234, met to discuss benefits for which they may be eligible under the company-union sick leave and pension schemes.

350 JOBLESS

The fire threw 350 employees in this northern Saskatchewan city of 19,000 out of work at least temporarily. The union represents about 260 employees.

Union officials said they expect to meet company officials this week to discuss the unemployment situation.

It is expected that a number of the workers may be able to return to their jobs shortly in undamaged parts of the plant, and others will be employed cleaning up.

Plant manager George Neis announced earlier that construction rebuilding the plant will start next spring.

Pacific Northwest Sees Green Light Nearer for Canadian Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—New alternatives, submitted by El Paso Natural Gas Co., appeared Monday to have removed the bugs from previous proposals to import natural gas from Canada.

Opposition to the El Paso proposals came only from lawyers representing coal itnerests—traditional opponents of increased natural gas use—as a power commission examiner resumed a hearing on applications by El Paso and Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp.

William Miller, counsel for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said his client has reservations against parts of an El Paso proposal involving exchange with Pacific Northwest of Canadian gas for San Juan basin gas.

But he added:

"We're getting San Juan gas and we're getting it at Topock, Ariz. That's what we asked before so we haven't much to complain about."

Spokesmen for Pacific, which previously had balked at giving El Paso any San Juan basin gas, also expressed satisfaction with the exchange proposal.

CAN SHOW MARKETS

Charles McGee, Pacific Northwest counsel, said he was satisfied he would be able to show markets in the Oregon-Washington-Idaho market are for the 250,000,000 cubic feet of Canadian gas Pacific would import over and above the 50,000,000 it would sell to El Paso.

The hearing resumed with cross-examination of witnesses of Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd., from whom Pacific would would buy the Canadian gas.

Questioning was brief and dealt primarily with the accessibility of the Canadian line for emergency repairs in event of breaks during bad weather.

W. R. Finney, consultant for the Bechtold Corp. which will supervise construction of Westcoast's line, said he is "completely satisfied" repair crews can be moved in "one way or another" to fix any breaks which occur.

The hearing involves an application by Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp. to bring in 300,000,000 cubic feet of Canadian gas for its Oregon - Washington - Idaho market area, and various proposals by El Paso Natural Gas Co. to increase deliveries to its California, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas customers.

Whirlpool May Have Caught Two

ALERT BAY, B.C. (CP)—A tidal whirlpool at nearby Sullivan Bay is believed to have sucked under a man and a youth in their 16-foot boat Saturday night.

Missing and believed to have been drowned are Donald Welde, 25, a father of five and Bud Taylor, 16, owner of the outboard powered boat. Both were employees of Scott Logging Co. near Sullivan Bay, 200 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Searchers found the capsized boat Sunday but the bodies had not been recovered.

Fishermen and loggers who took part in the search said they believed Welde and Taylor were caught in a "roaring hole" at the narrow entrance of a lagoon. When the tide is running, the water level varies as much as 15 feet between the open water and the lagoon.

The tidal rips and whirlpools can reduce huge logs to splinters and foams up the ocean for miles outside the lagoon entrance.

KELOWNA (CP)—Ivor Jackson of Trepanier was elected president of the Kelowna and District Society for Retarded Children succeeding R. C. Gore of Kelowna. Vice-President is Mrs. H. Woodhouse; secretary, Mrs. W. T. Buss; and treasure, J McClelland. All were elected for three-years terms.

CALGARY (CP) — Ham radio operators in the Calgary area will play a vital role in maintaining communications for Operation Lifesaver, Calgary's civil defence evacuation exercise Sept. 21.

A two-pronged operation, making up one of the most complete communications networks ever set up for civil defence purposes, will provide comprehensive running reports on the progress of the evacuation, first in the city and then in the mutual control area surrounding it.

Winnipeg Waves Goodbye to Last Streetcar

WINNIPEG (CP)—It was the end of the line Monday for streetcars in Winnipeg, the last city in Western Canada to switch to all-bus service.

The clanging of metal wheels vibrating along the rails on Portage Avenue and Main Street, the city's main thoroughfares, was heard for the last time in a special "last-run" ceremony.

Four cars were used in the ceremony, including a sweeper making a "clean sweep" as buses took over. Operators included Mrs. Frances Daly, last of the women operators, and W. J. Jones, superintendent for the Greater Winnipeg Transit Commission.

Going along for the last ride were mayors and reeves of the 12 municipalities which operated the system, commission officials, civic government officers and press and radio representatives.

NEW DIESEL BUSES

Nine of the new diesel buses taking over along with trolley buses arrived in Winnipeg during the weekend from the factory at Fort William.

It was 73 years ago that the first horse-drawn street car showed on Winnipeg streets, with the first electric car operating on River Avenue Jan. 28, 1891.

Since 1938 trams have gradually been disappearing from the various routes in Greater Winnipeg, until only the Portage Avenue and Main Street lines were operating.

Remand Kramer Till Friday

PENTICTON, B. C. (CP)—George Kramer of Summerland, charged with the murder of his wife, Ruth, Monday was given a further remand when he appeared in police court here. He was remanded until 10 a.m. Friday.

Kramer was taken into custody Sept. 11 near Okanagan Falls shortly before his wife's body was found in a shallow grave.

UBC Graduates Join Staff

VANCOUVER (CP) — Three University of B.C. graduates are among 12 new members appointed to the university teaching staff this year, it was announced Monday.

Dr. Ross Stewart, a 31-year-old Vancouver-born chemist, has been appointed assistant professor of chemistry.

Dr. George M. Griffiths, 31, who received his master's and doctor's degrees in physics from the university in 1950 and 1953, is returning this fall as assistant professor of physics.

Donald George Brown, 28, has been appointed assistant professor of philosophy. He was born in Vancouver, entered University of B.C. in 1943 with the highest standing in junior matriculation examinations for that year.

Erect Monument To Ancient Egyptians

VANCOUVER (CP) — A pyramid of rocks on a corner lot in Vancouver was the focal point of a solemn ceremony as a group of men, women and children paid tribute to the wisdom of ancient Egyptians.

The ceremony was held by the Rosicrucians, members of a society which believes the ancient pyramids held the secrets of astronomy, physics, geopgraphy and mathematics.

The ceremonial pyramid was built from stones "untouched and unmarked by human implements." Each stone weighed about two or three pounds.

Police Capture Arson Suspect

VANCOUVER CP—Police were holding a suspect late Sunday for questioning shortly after the outbreak of four fires believed by fire wardens to have been the work of an arsonist.

One home was destroyed and two others were damaged and the fourth, set in a garage, was extinguished by the owner who saw a man fleeing down a lane.

Bill, Hay, 77, a retired railroad engineer, told fire wardens he gave chase and nearly intercepted the fleeing "tall, blond man."

"When I got to the garage there was an oil soaked rag hanging against some shingles and burning. I stamped out the flames."

Wardens said the other fires appeared to have been kindled, some with newspapers. All fires occured in a thickly-populated downtown residential-commercial section and broke out within minutes of each other.

It was in this vicinity that a string of fires were believed set by an arsonist the previous weekend.

Worst blaze Sunday night destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Deacon. It was set at the rear at the home, said firemen.

"We were sitting watching television," said Mrs. Deacon, "when suddenly there was a loud crackling and the place began to fill with smoke."

Mr. Deacon said he could smell gasoline fumes when he ran to investigate.

Hurricane Ione Threatens Ont.

HATTERAS, N. C. (CP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau said Monday Hurricane Ione poses a "definite threat" to Canada's Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence Valley regions, and there is a possibility the centre might hit Montreal or Ottawa by Tuesday night.

A spokesman said that if the big storm does strike into Canada, it will be accompanied by heavy rains and possibly dangerous winds.

However, by that time it probably would have moderated considerably.

The Bureau said Ione, which whipped inland over North Carolina Monday, may be compared in intensity with Hurricane Hezel, which hit southern Ontario last October, killing 82 persons, most of them in the Toronto area.
