BCHIS To Provide Chronic Care

"Dollar a Day" Basis for Chronically Ill; Into Operation Within Year

VICTORIA (CP)—Health Minister Eric Martin announced Friday the B. C. Government will provide chronic care under B. C. hospital insurance next year.

He emphasized that nursing home patients, "or more specifically, the bedridden aged and infirm," will not be eligible for coverage.

Cost of chronic care to the individual patient will be on a "dollar-a-day" basis.

The new plan was described by Premier Bennett as the most important announcement made by his government concerning BCHIS.

Health Minister Martin said the program will go into operation in about one year's time, with B. C. carrying the financial burden until the federal government national health program comes into operation.

At the same time, Mr. Martin disclosed details of a plan to cover servicemen's dependents under BCHIS during their first year of residence in the province.

The plan, effective May 15, calls for graduated payments and registration within two weeks of arrival in B. C.

Under existing conditions, servicemen's dependents are not eligible for BCHIS coverage for their first 12 months in B. C.

Details of the definition of chronic care have not yet been worked out between the federal and provincial governments, but Mr. Martin said the federal government's stand had been made clear.

"Its proposed program included care of chronic hospital patients requiring rehabilitation or other intensive services, but not those receiving nursing home care, or more specifically, the bedridden and infirm patients," the minister said.

Initial impact of the plan will be to lift a heavy case load of chronic patients from B. C.'s acute care hospitals.

BUILDING PROGRAM

Mr. Martin said the first step in the plan will be a vigorous effort on the part of the provincial government to get a multi-million dollar chronic hospital building program under way.

"For the past two years, efforts have been made to encourage communities to construct chronic hospital facilities," Mr. Martin said.

"The most generous construction formula in Canada was devised whereby the province would pay 50 per cent of the costs. But it was to no avail, because the communities could not face the cost of operation."

The 50-per-cent offer of the government toward construction costs is unchanged.

British Columbia's Hospital Insurance plan was first put into operation in 1949 on a premium basis. The Social Credit government abolished premiums in 1953 and increased the provincial sales tax from three to five per cent to meet the cost.

MLA Harding Won't Accept Leadership

SILVERTON—Randolph Harding, who has been mentioned in newspaper stories emanating from the Coast as the most eligible CCF member of the Legislature to step into the shoes of resigned provincial party leader Arnold Webster, won't take on the job.

Although he has been approached by several party officials, Mr. Harding told The Daily News Friday that he has turned down their offers, for "purely personal reasons."

"It's a position requiring a great deal of time, most of which I would spend at the Coast," he said, "and I don't like to spend too much time away from Silverton and my family." Mr. and Mrs Harding have four children. He has lived in the Slocan for many years, and is a member of the Silverton Village Commission among other groups.

He indicated there were also financial considerations to be taken into account.

Mr. Harding, who has been described as the best debater in the Legislature, a man of ready wit, humility and great natural dignity, ranks third in seniority of the CCF legislative group, although he is 41 years of age. E E. Winch of Burnaby, 75, and Arthur Turner of Vancouver East, 68, have held office longer.

He's fifth on the entire Legislative service scale, veteran Tom Uphill, Labor, Fernie, and Premier Bennett being the others of long tenure for all parties.

Mr. Webster's resignation, he said, was not news to party circles. "We had known for some time that he intended to resign, and we were very sorry to see him go."

Should Be Replaced Stevens Says . . .

Nelson Jail Termed "Entirely Inadequate"

VANCOUVER (CP) — A new prison should replace provincial jails at Kamloops and Nelson, a year-old report submitted by E. G. B. Stevens, provincial gaols inspector says.

The report also calls some of the facilities at Oakalla prison farm, Canada's biggest provincial prison, "crudely primitive."

The report covers the fiscal year ending March 31, 1955, and was tabled in the legislative near the end of the recent session by Attorney-General Bonner.

Mr. Stevens said the Nelson and Kamloops jails were "entirely inadequate."

"I would stress the necessity for closing both these institutions, and constructing in their place a modern jail between Kamloops and Nelson for prisoners from the Interior."

In the report, Warden Hugh Christie said the Oakalla young offenders' unit is "one of the most progressive treatment units of its kind in Canada."

Of those released, 90 per cent complete their parole, he said.

"Trafficking of drugs and other contraband has been made a near impossibility. Control of the institution has been taken from the professional criminal and placed in the hands of the staff,'" the warden said.

Matron B. E. Maybe said an experiment housing women in cottage-type units has proved wise.

In the overcrowded women's section, she said, the accidental offender is too often morally contaminated by too close an association with the chronic inmate.

It was Dr. R. G. E. Richmond's section of Mr. Stevens' report that called Oakalla facilities "crudely primitive and insufficient."

He said a new hospital was needed and the amount of active tuberculosis is growing.

He criticized the absence of facilities for the psychopaths, the suicidal and the violent and the lack of anaesthetic apparatus.

He said there was no provision in the prison's east wing to separate long-term addicts from those barely out of the "joy-pop" stage.

17½ Years For Petlock

MELVILLE, Sask. (CP)—John Petlock, 36-year-old farmer charged with murder in the rifle-slaying of his brother Michael, Friday was found guilty of manslaughter. He was sentenced to 17 years and six months at hard labor in Prince Albert penitentiary.

The all-male jury deliberated two hours and 36 minutes before bringing in its verdict.

Petlock was arrested in Edmonton last Labor Day after a three-province manhunt resulting from discovery Aug. 29 of five bodies on the Petlock family farm at Fenwood, Sask.

He was charged specifically with the murder of his brother Michael, 34. His mother, Mrs. Mary Petlock, 72, Mike's wife Angeline, 21, and Mike's two daughters, Dianne, 3, and Michaelene, 11 months, also were slain.

$30 Million Ship Building Plan Announced

OTTAWA (CP)—A government ship construction program of more than $30,000,000 was announced to the Commons Friday by Transport Minister Marler.

As House debate on transport estimates opened, Mr. Marler said his department intends to enlarge and modernize its fleet of icebreakers and other vessels during the next four years.

Federal officials said later the over-all cost is expected to run between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000.

Major single expenditure, it was learned, will be upwards of $10,000,000 on a large icebreaker for use in the Arctic and the St. Lawrence river. Another $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 will be spent on a combined icebreaker-supply vessel to be based in St. John's, Nfld.

Mr. Marler also told the Commons that between 12 and 15 old department vessels — used in various types of services — will be replaced as part of the four-year program.

Trapper "Sore" But Safe

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP) — Trapper John Terry was feeling "a little rough and sore" when brought here by helicopter Friday after two weeks isolated in a mountain cabin in the British Columbia wilderness 80 miles southwest of Dawson Creek.

The 34-year-old trapper was helped from the aircraft and walked with some difficulty to a waiting car which took him to hospital for a complete medical check up. He is suffering a back ailment and exhaustion, but his condition is described "as well as can be expected."

The RCAF helicopter that brought Terry to Dawson Creek, 350 miles northwest of Edmonton, also brought three other men who had been stranded on the Murray river since last weekend when their snowmobile bogged down while they attempted to reach Terry's cabin.

Three other men were left at the scene, two of them to watch the snowmobile and a third, George Wood, Terry's partner, to look after horses used in the trapline operation.

Terry and his young partner had been trapping in the Wolverine river district since last fall.

NOT A SUBSIDY SCHEME – MARTIN

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Martin said Friday the government's proposed national hospital scheme pital insurance scheme is not designed to subsidize provincial health programs.

He made the statement to the Commons estimates committee after Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) suggested that the costs of caring for patients in tubercular and mental hospitals be included in the proposed insurance plan.

Mr. Martin said there is no justification for loading the plan with costs already being met by provincial and municipal governments. Both Saskatchewan and British Columbia recognized this in their insurance plans and carried the costs of TB and mental hospitals as a charge on general revenues rather than on insurance funds.

The federal plan was designed to help Canadians and not to relieve the provinces of responsibilities they already have assumed.

Cabinet Okays Arms Shipment for Israel

Two Other Israeli Applications Deferred; Opposition Not Bitter

OTTAWA (CP) — Cabinet approval for shipment of $268,000 in military supplies to Israel was announced Friday by Prime Minister St. Laurent—first Canadian arms shipment to that country this year.

He informed the Commons that the cabinet, in a session Thursday which approved three export permits for the supplies, also considered two other Israeli applications for arms. Decisions on the latter were deferred.

Mr. St. Laurent said applications for the three permits "were considered in the light of the tensions now existing in the Middle East."

SEES IMPROVEMENT

It had been felt that although basic tensions remained, there had been an easing in the last few days of "apprehensions" which existed when British Columbia Sir John Glubb was removed from control of Jordan's famed Arab Legion and when there had been some clashes on the Sea of Galilee.

Biggest part of the newly-approvid shipment is $136,000 worth of spare parts of Sherman tanks —unshipped balanced of a 1954 sale of $565,000 in tank parts without breech blocks or arms.

e said the other two export permits are for 1754 rounds of 25-pounder field artillery ammunition and $1200 worth of electronic equipment for converting wireless sets from direct to alternating current.

Value of the artillery ammunition has been estimated by an Israeli embassy official at $30,000. The question has been before the cabinet since early January.

Mr. St. Laurent gave no details of the two Israeli applications for arms export permits still under study.

WILL BE ANNOUNCED

"If and when a decision is made, an immediate announcement will be made," he said.

The prime minister's statement was the latest development in the controversial issue of arms shipments to the Middle East which has been simmering in the Commons almost since the session began Jan. 10.

It produced some Opposition questions, but not the kind of bitter criticism which greeted his announcement last week that the government would not halt the shipment of 1 Harvard training planes to Egypt.

Shipment of the first three planes was made in January and was the main spark which led to a formal Commons debate early in February. All Middle East arms shipments were suspended from Jan. 20 until the debate ended Feb. 6.

CLEAR OUT MURDER ZONE

Cypriots Moved In Punishment For Silence Screen

By L. S. CHAKALES

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities expelled 30 householders and shopkeepers from a terrorist "murder zone" in downtown Nicosia Friday.

Field Marshal Sir John Harding, the governor issued the order as collective punishment for a screen of silence shielding a bloody challenge to British rule by pro-Greek gunmen.

Six British soldiers and a police sergeant have been killed within the zone, all by bullets in the back, since last October. Throughout the colony, 18 British servicemen have died.

The banishment order came after Martin Clements, British commissioner for Nicosia, summoned 75 residents to an outdoor inquire court in a search for information on the killings.

IN DANGER ZONE

Ten families were instructed to leave and shutters went down on 20 shops. All their quarters overlooked places where shootings have occured. The expelled were told to find their own lodgings elsewhere until the area is made safe. A parachute trooper explained it was thought these persons could have seen the shootings, but decided not to help authorities solve them.

The "murder zone" is a thickly-populated, rectangular piece of land covering about 80,000 square yards in the heart of the island's capital. The last victim was a British police sergeant, shot in the back Wednesday.

Parachute troopers had found five bombs in a locked carpenter's shop there and a sack full of gunpowder in the tiny Maikhairos church. A British officer said the priest in charge of the church had been arrested. Combing of the area also uncovered a large number of pamphlets urging further violence.

Genial Malenkov Talks to Lloyd

LONDON (Reuters) — Georgi Malenkov was greeted Friday in London's West End with a chorus of good-humored giggles and applause from women shoppers.

The man who was Stalin's successor doffed his grey felt hat to them with the smile he has worn in public since he arrived in Britain Thursday for a three-week visit.

Malenkov, minister of Russian power stations since he was deposed as premier because of self-confessed "inexperience," is leading a delegation of Russian engineers to inspect Britain's power plants.

His brief encounter with London women came on a visit to the headquarters of his hosts, the British electricity authority in Oxford Street.

In the afternoon, he paid a courtesy call on Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd who talked to him through an interpreter for 45 minutes.

It is believed they mainly discussed next month's visit to Britain of Russian leaders Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev.

Before going to the foreign office, Malenkov met Hugh Gaitskell, leader of the Labor party, at a vodka and caviar lunch for 30 guests at the Soviet embassy.

The Russian minister landed at London airport Thursday amid tight police security precautions that must have suggested he was going to be faced with big crowds of sightseers wherever he went. But on his journeys Friday, workaday London minded its own business and staged no big demonstration of welcome.

DOLLAR LOWER

NEW YORK (CP) — Canadian dollar was off 1-32 of a cent at a premium of ⅛ per cent in terms of U. S. funds Friday. Pound sterling 1-32 lower at $2.80⅝.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal cabinet has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Chow Bew, Vancouver Chinese convicted of murder in a 1955 robbery.

The 43-year-old Chow Bew was to have been hanged April 3 for the strangulation death of Ah Wing, 65, a Chinese storekeeper. He had lost an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Chow Bew and Donald Keith Cathro, 26, were convicted of murder.

Appeals of both were dismissed in the British Columbia appeal court, but Cathro was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court of Canada and later was convicted of manslaughter, getting life.

Budget Tuesday Night . . .

1955-56 Seen as "Break-Even" Year

OTTAWA (CP) — New federal spending figures for the current fiscal year Friday left the government with a good chance to break even for 1955-56 despite an earlier $160,000,000 deficit forecast.

Final supplementary estimates for the year that ends March 31, tabled in the Commons by Finance Minister Harris, appeared to indicate either a nominal surplus or deficit.

They have no direct bearing on the tax outlook for the coming year, which will be announced by Mr. Harris in his second budget to be presented to the Commons Tuesday night.

Friday's final supplementary estimates for the current year—only $26,213,000—were not large enough to make any change in the informed opinion here that the year's outcome will be just a little above or below the break-even line.

A seeking of authority for relatively - minor miscellaneous spending the supplementaries bring the government's authorized budget expenditures for the year to $4,500,513,000.

FORECAST OUTDATED

In his budget for the current year, Mr. Harris early in 1955 forecast spending of $4,362,000,000. However, budget estimated of spending are year-ahead calculations and can vary widely from the final result with changing economic conditions and demands on the treasury.

The same holds true for budget revenues, which Mr. Harris forecast a year ago as $4,202,000,000. The 1955-56 upswing in the economy will boost the final figure well above that.

In his fist budget as finance minister last year, Mr. Harris forecast the $160,000,000 deficit, but since then he has stated this would at least be reduced by half. Later, the rising Canadian economy so swelled tax revenues that the prospect of a surplus appeared.

However, time lags in collections of tax monies could result in a small deficit.

SEE CAUTIOUS BUDGET

For the coming fiscal year starting April 1, indications were that Mr. Harris would produce a cautious budget containing no more than light tax cuts despite a swelling economy.

Khrushchev in 3½-Hour Speech . . .

Stalin Accused of Massacre, Torture in Bitter Attack

BONN (Reuters) — A bitter attack on Stalin, accusing him of responsibility for massacre and torture during his 30 years as Russia's leader, has been made by Nikita Khrushchev, reports from reliable Communist sources reaching here today said.

These reports said the attack charged Stalin with crimes never before mentioned in the Soviet.

It came in a 3½-hour speech by the Soviet communist party leader to the security session of the recent party congress Feb. 25.

Khrushchev is said to have painted a vivid picture to the delegates of the regime of "suspicion, fear and terror," through which Stalin ruled, especially in his last years.

Even other top leaders were subject to this regime, including Khrushchev himself.

IGNORED WARNINGS

He is reported to have held Stalin responsible for Soviet failure in the early stages of the Second World War both by ignoring warnings by Britain's Sir Winston Churchill and by "weakening" the country's morale and economy in the great pre-war purges.

These reports said the decision to throw open the terrible secrets of the Stalin era was reached because it was felt to be the only way of breaking the magic of the "Stalin cult" which has gripped Soviet citizens for 30 years.

An edited and slightly shortened version of the speech is said to have been produced for the instruction of the public. At the same time, a top-secret document is reported to have been prepared from Stalin's archives only for members of the party's powerful central committee.

DECIMATED THE PARTY

In his speech, Khrushchev was reported to have declared that Stalin decimated the Communist party by purges, especially in the years 1936-38. Five thousand of Russia's best officers were "murdered" during the blood baths which followed the secret trial of Marshal Tukhachevsky on treason charges in 1937.

Stalin "seriously weakened" the country's economic structure by his actions on the eve of the war and by purges which resulted in the "massacre" of innocent people.

Under Stalin, purge victims, including children, were tortured.

Khrushchev is also reported to have said there was suspicion that Stalin was implicated in the assassination of Sergei Kirov, the Leningrad party chief in 1934, which was followed by his own series of purges.

MURDER OR SUICIDE

Sergeo Ordjonikidze, a fellow Georgian and close friend of Stalin who died during the same period, was given the choice of being murdered or committing suicide, he said. He committed suicide and was given a state funeral.

Nikolai Voznesensky, the economic planner, also was shot without trial and without even the knowledge of his colleagues of the politburo. He disappeared from public view in 1949.

About three-quarters of the delegates to the 17th party congress, many of whom spoke against Stalin, were shot soon after the congress.

Before the German attack on Russia in 1941, everyone knew war was coming except Stalin, who refused to believe it because he was linked by a friendship treaty with Hitler, these reports quote Khrushchev as saying.

He ignored the warnings of Churchill and Sir Stafford Cripps, then British ambassador in Moscow, and even of Col. Perebeshchik, the Soviet military attache in Berlin, who knew and informed Moscow of the exact date of the coming German attack.

"FEAR AND TERROR"

The Communist reports quoted Khrushchev as saying that after the war, Stalin became especially suspicious. In the later period of his life, an atmosphere of "fear and terror" prevailed.

During Khrushchev's description of some of the worst aspects of Stalin's terror, some delegates were reported to have shouted: "How did you stand it? Why didn't you kill him?" Khrushchev is reported to have replied: "What could we do? There was a reign of terror. You just had to look at him wrongly and the next day you lose your head."

Getting To Be a Habit

NEW YORK (AP) — Radio car patrolmen George Ahrens and Edward Gibbons knew exactly what to expect early Friday when they were directed to speed to the Brooklyn home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kennedy. The officers got there just in time to deliver a son of the 29-year-old Mrs. Kennedy. Three years ago the same patrolmen had delivered a daughter to the same mother, and a year before that still another daughter.

And in This Corner...

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—If you see a pink duck or striped goose in Michigan within the next several weeks, don't worry. It probably will be a pink duck or striped goose.

The state conservation commission advised Thursday that many ducks and geese, soon to start their annual migration northward, have been banded and dyed various colors as an aid to waterfowl studies.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—If these two fellows could get together, they could really shine up to each other.

On March 3, a thief stole 120 sample shoes in Columbus. They were valued at $800. All were left shoes.

Friday in this city, a thief stole 100 sample shoes valued at $700. All were right shoes.

DETROIT (AP)—Two men were held for investigation Friday because their kitchen faucet didn't run water. It ran pure corn liquor, sheriff's deputies said. The deputies said they found two 600-gallon stills running in a chicken coop outside a home in suburban Sumpter township. Serving as a "coil," they said, was a pipe leading through sub-freezing weather to a kitchen tap.

CREIGHTON, Sask. (CP)—One of the village cats has been living the life of a feline Riley in nearby Flin Flon, Man.

Village council has received this bill: three cans of cat food $1.12; housing and heat $3; overhead 41 cents—total $4.53. The account was submitted by the town of Flin Flon, where the cat was held as a rabies suspect.

"Did the cat come back?" asked one councillor.

"Why should it," replied the secretary. "It never had it so good."

TRAFFIC SLOWS UNDER ROAD RESTRICTIONS

Motorist, if you notice the truck or bus in front of you poking along, don't get mad and pass him, horn snarling, he's probably obeying road restriction regulations that have just come into effect for the Spring breakup.

The public works department has placed 30 mile per hour speed limits on trucks and buses on the highways and has ordered "No person shall operate any vehicle over any provincial highway road or arterial highway within Nelson-Creston district having a single axle weight in excess of 75 per cent of 18,000 lbs. or a tandem axle weigh in excess of 75 per cent of 32,000 lbs."

Already there are many frost heaves on paved highways and gravel roads are becoming muddy and rough as the Spring runoff plows furrows down roadbeds.

NES EMPLOYEES JOIN CIVIL DEFENCE IN GROUP

A group of Nelson civil servants, 12 strong, have joined the civil defence organization in a body.

Employees of the National Employment Service who daily go about the big task of registration of the public, they decided the time had come to take a more direct interest in civil defence work. They are going "beyond the call of duty" as civil servants, said George Bevis, branch manager of NES and the Unemployment Insurance Commission, who went right along with his employees.

They have already had their first lecture in the 16-hour course, under J. G. James, CD deputy co-ordinator. The 12 are C. R. Higgens, Cecil Pitt, George Harvey, Alex Savinkoff, Fred Thompson, Miss Mary McDonald, Miss Amy Kershaw, Miss Vera Halliday, Mrs. J. G. Coates, Mrs. F. Hanson, Mrs. Phyllis Harrison and Mr. Bevis. Co-ordinator E. W. White will also lecture the group and Mr. Higgens will assist in the training.

Youth to Industrial School After Fight

One Nelson youth was committed to the industrial school for 12 months and two others were placed on one and two year probation when they were found to be juvenile delinquents in juvenile court here Friday afternoon.

The boys, all 17 years old, were charged with causing a disturbance after a fight on Baker Street Wednesday night.

The two placed on probation were fined $20 each and costs by Juvenile Court Judge William Evans. All three have been in trouble before, city police said.

$115 IN FINES AFTER PARKED CAR HIT

A collision with a parked car on Baker Street resulted in a $15 fine and costs for Nick J. Gretchen of Crescent Valley. He was found guilty of driving without due care and attention by Migstrate R. S Nelson in city court Friday. The offence occured February 18. He had pleaded not guilty to it.

Gretchen pleaded guilty to driving while his driver's licence was suspended and was fined $100 and costs by the magistrate. This offence occurred at the same time as the first.

CAR ABANDONED IN NELSON, THIEF TRIES ONCE TOO OFTEN

WINNIPEG (CP) — The criminal did return to the scene of the crime.

Andrew Adams, a Winnipeg car salesman, sold a car to Joseph Alexander Paling, 61, of Sioux Lookout, Ont., in December, 1953. Paling took the car, still owing $435 on it.

The car was found some time later abandoned at Nelson, B. C.

Thursday, Paling walked into the same office and tried to buy another car. Adams took one look at him and called police.

Paling was sentenced to six months in jail Friday.

Shamrock Tea Sign of Spring

As the crocus is the first sign of Spring in the garden so the Parent Teacher Association Shamrock Tea is the first sign of Spring in the social world.

Today the Shamrock Tea will be held amid shamrocks and the Irish's green at the Silver Room of the Hume Hotel.

Welcoming guests to the annual tea will be the three PTA presidents, Mrs. H. E. Doelle, S K Yorke, and Mrs. Ted Swendson. Pouring tea will be three past presidents of the PTA before it divided into three groups.

TRAIL BAND LAUDS EFFORTS OF NELSON GROUP

The Nelson City Band, which is making rapid progress under bandmaster Norman Fishwick, has received a pat on the back from fellow musicians in Trail.

S. S. Comba, secretary of the Canadian Legion Brass Band in Trail, wrote to the Nelson Band secretary asking him to convey to the sponsors and members of the Nelson Band his organization's congratulations on steps they have taken to reform the band, and sincere best wishes for their success.

"We, as a group, would be very willing and happy to assist you in any way possible, and we hope that you will feel free to call upon us at any time. We congratulate you, also, upon your choice of your Bandmaster. We all know Mr Fishwick and respect his ability, and feel confident that, under his guidance, the Nelson City Band will justify its existence in a very short time."

IRISH REMEMBER ST. PAT TODAY

All who have roots deep in the soil of Ireland, and a lot of others, today will celebrate St. Patrick's Day by wearin' o' the green.

By Shamrock decorations, imitation harps and green ribbons, they will carry on the traditions of the Emerald Isle and pay tribute to St. Patrick.

Moved while he was in St. Martin's Abbey at Tours to undertake the conversion of the pagan Irish, this monk who had been sold into slavery to an Ulster Chieftain and subsequently escaped to France, founded over 360 churches, baptized with his own hand more than 12,000 persons and ordained a great number of priests. He made his See at Armagh in the year 454. According to the encyclopedia there are preserved his "Confessions" and a letter addressed to a Welsh chief named Carotic, both written in barbarous Latin but of historical value.

But whether or not he, as is claimed, drove the snakes from his homeland, his fame remains to this day when all those with Irish blood or Irish pretentions will look for a bit of Shamrock and bid you "Top of the Morning" in memory of the island, the irrepressible Irish and the good saint himself whose good deeds are remembered after 1500 years.

Progress in Making Crossing Safer Reported

CASTLEGAR—Definite signs of progress resulting from the efforts to have something done about the dangerous railway crossing south of Castlegar, was reported by the Roads and Bridges Committee at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

L. H. Hawkins, of Winnipeg, representing the Department of Transport, in company with the members of the committee, visited the crossing in question Thursday and the committee is hopeful that action will be taken.

The Roads and Bridges Committee, under chairmanship of Dennis Brookes has put a considerable amount of work and effort into this project, particularly since the fatal accident of last November, resulting in the death of one person, and the more recent narrow escape by a party of young people when their car was in collision with a freight train, at this crossing, which has an average of one accident every year.

Resolutions to be presented to the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Southeastern British Columbia at Invermere in April were discussed and since there were too many resolutions to be gone into thoroughly, a special meeting will be called next week to discuss them fully.

The apathy shown at the recent Project Society meeting at which directors for the administration of the society could not be obtained, was discussed, and a committee was appointed to meet with similar committees from other service clubs, to meet with the project society nominating committee. These committees will offer their help in an endeavor to find some solution to the difficulties, of finding enough directors to fill the nine appointments. There will be no partiality shown to any particular project by these committees appointed by the different organizations, merely an effort to help the project society get into operation, as many people have put up a great deal of work as well as contributions into society, and it is a matter of vital importance to the community, no matter what choice of recreational facilities is made, it was pointed out.

At present the chamber is engaged in a movement to gain a better schedule for the Arrow Lake ferry Arrow Park.

Players Lose Money on 'Yeomen of the Guard'

ROSSLAND — A drain on financial reserves built up in previous years was noted at the annual meeting of the Rossland Light Opera Players held in the hibh school here.

Although the Society made a profit on Trail performances, an operating loss sustained on Rossland and Nelson showings resulted in an overall loss for the year, treasurer Ian Waterlow said in reporting on gate receipts of "The Yoemen of the Guard."

Almost full houses are required to break even on costs, it was explained, because the Society's desire to present stage productions of good visual appeal as well as good acting and music, means a more expensive type of production entailing costs of between $1800 and $2000. Being a non-profit organization, admission fees are kept low.

"The reasonably large attendance at each of this year's performances might lead the public to think that they were a great success financially, but such was not the case," he said. "The attendance of some 250 children and students at the Rossland and Trail performances was encouraging but not so great as anticipated. It would seem that education of youth in this type of music appreciation has far to go."

Retiring president Gerry Lewis, who will continue on the administrative committee for next season as past president, called for suggestions. These covered continuing with other Gilbert and Sullivan operettas as well as trying something different, such as the modern musicals.

He also spoke of the great loss to musical circles and the Society in the death last Summer of Eric Bourchier.

Mr. Waterlow, treasurer during 1952-53, 1954-55 and last season, was elected president, Charles Sutherland, stage manager for the last two seasons, became vice-president, Miss May McDonald will continue as secretary and Gordon Ellison, business manager for the past two years, was elected treasurer.

Black Thanked for Promoting Road Construction in District

HARROP—Socred groups on the West Arm met to honor the constituency member Hon. W. D Black. The dining room of the Holiday Inn at Procter was filled. The supper of roast beef delighted Mr. Black who remarked that he was weary of turkey and chicken usually served at such gatherings.

After supper a special vote of thanks was given Mr. Black for pushing road construction in this district. B. Fitchett was asked to move the vote of thanks. It was he who had taken the road petition to Mr. Black only a year ago.

A public meeting followed at the Procter Hall, at which Mr. Black gave a resume of the work covered at the recent session of the House. He stayed chiefly on items that concerned the Kootenays, explaining smaller communities do not realize how fast this province is booming, and all roads must keep ahead of the growth. This area seemed one for particular expansion. The influx from the other provinces pointed the way to B. C. becoming a great centre of industry.

There was no reason for the natural resources to be tapped off into other provinces before B. C. and particularly the Kootenays have thei rrequirements, hence the Kootenays were second highest on the budget list. The hinterland has yet to be given road access, and more power is needed, he said. "The wealth of natural resources is worthless untapped."

Mention was made of the elderly citizens and the various housing projects and hope expressed that some group would interest itself in this need.

The new school opening brought up the subject of the handicapped children. The point was stressed that the government will pay a per capita grant to help a school for these children.

Other points were spoken of such as the public medical service and rural electrification, the amusement tax that went to hospital construction, bridges and tolls.

The Fitchett orchestra played for dancing for a short period of entertainment during which Mr. and Mrs. Black left for Nelson.

The Cyprus Situation

The cessation of the cold war may not have come about by a Russian change of heart, but rather by the belief that, left to themselves, the alliance of the Western powers would fall apart through internecine quarrels. Recent events in Cyprus show how readily that may happen.

Cyprus has been under the administration of the British since 1878 and part of her colonial possessions since 1914. During that time the island has made considerable educational and economic progress due largely to the subsidies paid annually by the British people. There has always been some agitation by a small group of Cypriots for union with Greece, but Britain has always regarded the island of too much importance strategically to come under the rule of a country whose government holds office largely by Communist support. To transfer the island, one-quarter of whose population is Turkish, would also arouse the enmity of Turkey. Since the loss of Suez, Britain feels strongly that her existence depends strongly on retaining Cyprus as a base in the Mediterranean.

Cyprus has been offered a large measure of self-government which has been refused, largely by the influence of Archbishop Makarios. Accustomed as we are to regarding archbishops as saintly religious leaders, it will come as a surprise to most people that one observer who interviewed him considers him as anything but saintly, that his bland exterior covers a great deal of Machiavellian cunning and that he is indifferent to terrorism and murder.

As a result of their belief that the archbishop was not trying to find a peaceful settlement, but was actively fomenting unrest, the British removed him from the island to exile in the Seychelles Islands. This caused a great deal of uproar in Athens which was increased when the American ambassador called on the Greek premier and expressed his regret for the action of the British. This unwise and unnecessary visit undoubtedly led the Greeks to believe that they could count on American government sympathy in their agitation for the transfer of the country to their sovereignty. It also aroused a great deal of resentment in Britain. Despite the fact that it was a diplomatic affront to Britain, it is unlikely that it will endanger British-American relations, but it has most assuredly done a great deal of harm to cordial relations between the two peoples.

They Still are Canadians

(Wallace Reyburn, Toronto Telegram)

LONDON—Last night at a party I bumped into a Canadian who lives in London and whom I know quite well. He is head of the London branch of a Canadian firm. In the course of conversation he mentioned that he had been in England eight years and had not been back to Canada in that time.

The fact that he had been here eight years came as a surprise to me. Anyone meeting him for the first time would have sworn that he had just arrived. Everything about him was so Canadian—his clothes, his way of speech, the things he talked about.

When an Englishman present used the expression "to go for a Burton" I was a trifle bewildered when this Canadian asked what it meant. To live here eight years and not know an expression as common as that is strange, to say the least.

("Go for a Burton" is the equivalent of "come a cropper," which means to fall headlong.)

At the party were several other Canadians and I noticed that he spent practically the whole evening with them. They discussed the recent Grey Cup final, the proposed changes in Ontario's liquor laws and tidbits from the various home towns of each of them. There were numerous well-known people present, each well worth having a chat to. But he preferred to talk Canadiana with his fellow-countrymen.

I could not help reflecting that here was a man all too typical of Canadians living in this country. At his office, when he decides to ask someone to join him at lunch, he phones up, almost without exception, another man like himself—a Canadian working in London. When one goes to a party at his flat one can be sure that the guest list will be 100 per cent Canadian and a tape recording of the conversation would sound to all intents and purposes like one made at a party in a Toronto or Vancouver suburb.

When he does come in contact with English people he is completely at sea if the chatting gets onto the subject of England's cricket prospects against Australia in the coming summer or any other such terribly important (to the English) topic.

It astounds me how a man can live day in and day out for eight years in England and have so little of it rub off on his shoulders. If he were an isolated case, one would just write him off as a very insular type. But he is not a rarity.

A Canadian woman who has lived here five years told me proudly how she was no longer able to shop in her district because she had had a series of rows at her local shops in which she had told off good and proper "these cheating, double-crossing English shopkeepers."

I feel it is a conscious effort on the part of that man, the woman and too many of the so-called Canadian colony here to not let themselves become part of the way of life in this country. Though having lived here many years, in public they continue to stress their Canadianism by such tiresome antics as complaining about the lack of ice in drinks and in private they prefer only the company of fellow-Canadians.

Whenever I hear loudly-voiced annoyance from Canada about English people settled there who appear to stress their Englishness, I remember that Canadians here go in for the same thing in reverse.

But I hear no holler from the English. They seem to be more understanding about such things.

Would Like To See SPCA Branch Here

To the Editor:

Sir—I was very interested to see a letter published recently in your columns from Mrs. Barbara Dixon of 514 Elwyn Street, Nelson, who is very interested in the formation of a branch of the SPCA in your area.

There is a definite need for all humanitarians to support this effort to form a branch. There is a great deal of work which can be done by such a branch to protect dumb animals against cruelty, whether that cruelty be intentional or as a result of ignorance. In addition, the more branches this society has the more power the parent body has in its efforts to obtain reform in the slaughterhouses and to obtain modern legislation which is so urgently required for the transport of livestock by truck and air. I would appeal therefore to all residents of Nelson to contact the following ladies: Mrs. Helen Mawer, 615 2nd Street, Nelson, B.C.; Mrs. Irene Burns, 410 E. Richards Street, Nelson, B.C.

T. I. HUGHES, Secretary.

We promise you freedom of speech; we do not promise you wisdom. We promise you liberty; we do not promise you peace.—Judge speaking to newly-naturalized U.S. citizen.

Too Much for His Lordship

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP)—When a jewel thief turns into a con man trying to swindle a fence who is in fact a policeman, some confusion may ensue—even in the Old Bailey police court.

The judge has decided to take a little time to sort things out. Meanwhile, 35-year-old Henry Garratt, the accused con man, is nibbling his nails and hoping for the best.

A police informer advised detectives in suburban Harrow recently that Garratt had a batch of phony diamonds he planned to peddle to a receiver of stolen property.

The meeting, the informer said, would take place in a certain saloon, and Garratt would know the fence only from his description as a man in a brown coat and corduroy cap.

On the appointed night, the detectives got there first. One of their number, constable Jeffrey Lyons, was dressed to play the part of the fence, and was approached by Garratt.

Lyons testified that Garratt flashed four rings and described them as stolen goods worth at least £1000. Garratt offered the supposed fence a bargain price of £300 for the four.

At this point Detective Sgt. Amos Gibson stepped up and arrested Garratt on a charge of being in possession of stolen jewellery.

"Hah, hah," laughed Garratt. "The stones are phony and I did not steal them. I bought them for £4 and I've got the receipt to prove it."

"Hah, hah, yourself," retorted Gibson. "In that case the charge is attempting to obtain money by false pretences."

And on that charge Garratt was convicted in the Old Bailey.

The judge postponed sentence.

Find Mastodon Bone In Columbia Basin

EPHRATA, Wash. (AP) — A big bone dug up in the Columbia basin irrigation project has been identified as an elbow or front knee of a prehistoric mastodon, the reclamation bureau said.

The bone was uncovered during construction of a siphon and was sent to Washington State College for identification.

W. E. Walcott, chief geologist for the bureau here, said WSC scientists reported the bone was from the large elephant—like mammal that roamed the area centuries ago.

He said carbon tests may be taken to determine the approximate age of the bone.

armour against the atom

Because it is the most effective shield against gamma rays, the deadly radiation resulting from atomic fission and fusion, high purity lead has accepted a new and even more important role in modern science.

In addition to its incomparable "stopping power," lead offers atomic researchers another safety feature—it cannot become radio-active itself. However, any foreign material present in an atomic shield can become "hot," and therefore high purity lead—like Tadanac Brand—is essential.

Now, more than ever before, metal applications in modern industry demand high purity. Sometimes the product must be "tailor-made" for a specific job; for example, the complete removal of even minute amounts of certain impurities or the addition of small amounts of other metals.

These are problems for Cominco's research men and metallurgists. Tadanac Brand metals are constantly in their care to ensure that Cominco products will meet the exacting demands of today's markets.

Our Father's Business

One of the stories we sometimes tell for children is that of the two locomotives, one that thought it could not make the grade, so did not try, and the other that snorted up the grade saying: "I think I can, I think I can, I think I can.." until it was over the top!

A pilot taking o boat through a narrow channel, ran it aground. The owner of the boat had no sympathy for him, but rebuked him with the words: "You didn't get through because you thought you couldn't".

The children of Israel wandered for 40 years in the wilderness before they entered the Promised Land. A later writer in the Bible said of them: "They didn't enter the Promised Land because of their unbelief."

All of these incidents reflect the truth that we are often our own worst enemies. We are "beat before we start", not because of the difficulty of the task, but because we have a poor opinion of ourselves, and a poor opinion of God and His power.

Some of those with the finest opportunities make very little of themselves because of this defeatist attitude. On the other hand, we are constantly made aware of the fact that numerous of the world's most notable characters, and ones to whom we owe a great deal, are people like Beethoven, Milton, R. L. Stevenson, Kagawa, Helen Keller, etc. who had serious handicaps, yet triumphed by faith, prayer, sacrifice, will power and determination, to make contributions of heroism and unselfish service to their fellowmen, which put the rest f us to shame. For we, in spite of the blessings and capabilities given to us of our Maker, go limping and faltering through life, often nagging and complaining because we "don't get the breaks."

God forgive us, and help us to to make manifest in our lives the hope and destiny with which we were born, not only into this life, but in the rebirth to Eternal Life.

Recipes . . .

Children Tuck Into Refrigerator Cookies

By MARGARET CARR

We've had a request recently for refrigerator cookie recipes, with the result that our refrigerator is at the moment literally stuffed with rolls of dough waiting to be baked.

And if there's anything children like better than the finished product, it's the fun of making it. Here are the three recipes we like the best of those we tested. If they're new to you, you can add them to your list of favorites.

CHINESE ALMOND CAKES

One cup sifted pastry flour, ½ cup shortening (half butter), ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon almond extract or vanilla, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon water, ¼ cup blanched almonds.

Place flour in bowl. Cut in shortening finely. Use hands to work in salt, sugar and flavoring. Shape into long roll, 1 inch in diameter, and wrap in waxed paper. Chill about 1 hour. Heat oven to 400 degrees F. Cut roll into ¼-inch slices and place 1 inch apart on lightly greased baking sheet. Brush each slice with mixture of egg yolk and water. Press ½ blanched almond into top of each. Bake until light golden brown, 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen cakes.

CARAMEL NUT SLICES

One-half cup soft shortening (part butter), 1 cup brown sugar (packed), 1 egg, 1¾ cups sifted pastry flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ cup finely chopped nuts.

Mix thoroughly shortening, sugar and egg. Sift together and stir in flour, soda, salt. Blend in nuts. Form into two rolls, 2 inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and chill overnight. Heat oven to 400 degrees F. Cut slices ⅛ inch thick; place a little apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake 8 to 10 minutes until set but not hard. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

CHOCOLATE MARBLE COOKIES

Two cups sifted pastry flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, 2-3 cup sugar, 1 egg, unbeaten, 1 tablespoon milk, 1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and milk and beat well. Add flour, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Divide dough in two parts. To one part, add chocolate and blend. Shape chocolate and plain doughs into separate rolls, 1½ inches in diameter. Place rolls together and twist, to give marbled effect. Roll in waxed paper and chill overnight, or until firm enough to slice. Cut in ⅛-inch slices. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 10 minutes, or until done. Makes about 5 dozen.

CHOCOLATE PINWHEELS

Chill chocolate and plain doughs until firm enough for rolling. Then roll each on floured waxed paper into rectangular sheet, ⅛ inch thick. Turn plain sheet over chocolate sheet; remove waxed paper and roll as for jelly roll. Chill until firm. Cut in ⅛-inch slices and bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 10 minutes or until done.

ALL WOMEN ALIKE, SAYS ENVOY'S WIFE

OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. Vieira Garin, wife of the new Portuguese ambassador to Canada, says: "All women are alike."

She has had a chance to observe them in Siam, Ceylon, Washington, Montreal, Portugal and New Delhi during the last 23 years.

"I found that women from Afghanistan, Portugal or North America have the same family problems of how to raise children and what to wear," she said.

As for a diplomat's wife, what she needs most is adaptability.

She exhibited considerable herself. Having just come to Ottawa from the heat and sultry weather of New Delhi, Mrs. Garin found herself in the middle of a sudden March blizzard. It didn't raise a shiver, she said.

The weather, in fact, was "bracing and refreshing." London, England, is Mrs. Garin's home town.

An ambassador's wife must adapt to the weather, but she must also pay close attention to each country's customs. She often adopts them in her entertaining.

The menu in New Delhi was ont the same as in Washington. In India beef is never seen on the table. The cow is considered a sacred animal. Many persons there are vegetarians. Many never drink alcholic beverages.

One of Mrs. Garin's interest is interior decorating. She prefers period furniture for its elegance and grace. She conceded that it may not be so comfortable as modern pieces, but modern decor, she said, has no personality. It's cold. She conceded, however, that the best effect can be created by mingling modern and period pieces in the same room.

The diplomatic corps, she added, "is one big family."

"It constantly amazes me to run into friends all over the world," she said. "The first people we met in New Delhi were a Turkish couple who had lived next door to us in Washington, D.C."

Says Reds Aim To Make France Puppet State

PARIS (AP) — A former police chief testified Friday that the French Communist party is working hard to take over the country and turn it into another puppet state.

Jan Baylot, former police prefect of the Seine department, told the military court trying four men for leaking defence secrets to the Reds:

"The Communist party is a subversion force which is working obstinately to take over control of France and turn our country into another 'people's democracy.'"

Baylot said Communist policy in France since the liberation has had four phases: 1.) To block economic recovery, 2) to stage demonstrations against the Americans 3) to promote the idea of abandoning Indochina, and 4) to make contacts with persons who had similar ideas about Indochina.

Claretta Petacci Reburied in Rome

ROME (AP) — A scattering of Fascit salutes and a wreath from ex-king Farouk of Egypt paid tribute Friday to Claretta Petacci, mistress of Benito Mussolini, as she was reburied in Rome.

About 250 friends, relatives, and curious people, followed her body to the family's new $30,000 glass-and-marble tomb in a cemetery alongside the church of San Lorenzo, outside the city walls.

Church rites were refused. A priest rode in the funeral limousine, however, and said prayers inside the tomb.

Eleven years ago partisan machine-guns felled Claretta and Mussolini. They were strung up by their heels in a Milan square before the tens of thousands of partisans.

Her body was brought here from a hidden grave near Milan. The location of Mussolini's grave has never been revealed.

Engineers Turn Rough Road Into Highway System

OTTAWA (CP)—For 10 years, the Canadian army has outfought black flies, avalanches, washouts and sub-zero temperatures to keep the northwest highway system open the year round.

On April 1, 1946, it took over control from the United States army of the 1221-mile road from Dawson Creek, B.C., to the Alaska border. Formerly called the Alaska Highway—it still is except by the army—the road was built in 1942 by the U. S. army as an overland auxiliary supply route to Alaska

The army said Friday the 700 soldiers and 800 civilians who work on the system look back on the last 10 years with a considerable amount of pride.

ENGINEERS DO JOB

The Royal Canadian Engineers have not only kept the road open winter and summer but have built 13 new steel or concrete bridges, replaced hundreds of the 7000-odd culverts and relocated and rebuilt long stretches of the road. In the year ending Jan. 31, 1955, 25,423 vehicels used the highway.

The engineers are also responsible for maintaining seven emergency airstrips and their access roads along the highway and the Haines cutoff, a 117-mile highway linking Haines Junction, Y.T., and the Alaska border. They work out of well-equipped camps located at intervals along the highway.

First commander of the northwest highway system was Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, now a major-general and the army's quartermaster-general. Present commander is Brig. H. L. Meuser, 43, of Regina.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market gave up a limited amount of ground Friday after streaking to record peaks in five out of the last six sessions. While profit-taking slipped a swath through some divisions, a strong afternoon advance by coppers almost pushed the market to new heights.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 10 cents to $118.50.

TORONTO (CP) — Strength in senior base metals featured a fairly active session on the stock exchange Friday. Gains ranging to more than two points, sent the base metal index to another new high in the strongest advance of the week. Industrials hit a new peak in the first hour, then retreated quietly, but closed narrowly ahead on the day. Western oils displayed weakness throughout.

Papers, foods, refining oils, motors and miscellaneous issues were a little higher.

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrial issues were higher at the close of moderately active trading Friday on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges.

Hudson Bay led a firm base metal group with a two-point gain. Aluminum and Noranda added major fractions. Algoma slipped 3½ points in the steels while Stelco gained ¾.

Says More Forest Rangers Needed To Control Nelson District Fires

VICTORIA (CP) — Annual fires losses of thousands of dollars in B.C. forests were blamed partly on insufficient staff and equipment of the B.C. Forest Service at the Sloan Commission hearings.

Assistant forester J. A. K. Reid, in a report comparing the B.C. Forest service with the U.S. Forest Service, said the provincial service is given considerably less money in relation to the annual cut and contribution of the forest industry.

Mr. Reid said the gross area served by the B.C. Forest Service totalled 234,000,000 acres, 5,000,000 acres more than all the regions supervised by the U.S. Service.

CITES NELSON DISTRICT

As a basis for comparison, Mr. Reid compiled statistics of five danger districts of the Nelson Forest District which are adjacent to Kootenay and Kaniksu National Forests of Northeastern Washington and Northern Idaho. The B.C. and U.S. areas each averaged a total of 3,600,000 acres and had similar populations.

Fire occurence in the two areas are reasonably similar, he said, but there appears to be a major discrepancy in the number of Lightning fires reported.

Total number of fires reported caused by lightning in the five-year period 1949-53 on the U.S. side was 660, compared with 280 for the five B.C. ranger districts.

In spite of the fact that fewer fires were reported on the Canadian side and the fact that more than 99 per cent of the fires were contained to similar size in both regions, the total area burned on the Canadian side was five times that on the U.S. side.

"The difference is due to the few fires which get badly out of control," Mr. Reid said.

"This is obviously the result of lack of sufficient staff and facilities by the B.C. Forest Service to handle the peak fire control load," he said.

Comparing the facilities in the two regions, Mr. Reid said he found that full-time ranger personnel on the U.S. side totalled 148. The Canadian region had 22 permanent staff members.

As a result of a discrepancy in manpower and equipment, the Canadian area suffered 14,375 acres burned in the five-year period, compared with only 2871 acres across the border.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY (CP) — Trade was moderately active on the livestock market Friday though offerings were light, 390 cattle and 15 calves. Most of them were of mixed quality and were cleared up by noon.

Choice steers were scarce and prices generally steady at the week's decline of around 50 cents; medium to good kinds were in good demand at fully steady prices.

Choice butcher steers 16-16.50; good 15-15.75; medium 14-14.75; common 10-13.50; choice butcher heifers 14.75-15.50; good 13.50-14.50; medium 11.50-13; common 9-11; good cows 10.50-11.50, medium 9.50-10; common 8.50-9.25; canners and cutters 6-8; good bulls 11-11.75; common to medium 8-10.50, good feeder steers 14-15; common to medium 10-13, good to choice veal calves 17-20, common to medium 12-16.

Not Giving Up World Position

LONDON (Reuters)—Sir Anthony Eden declared Friday that Britain "cannot and will not" abdicate from the special position of a great power in the world which history and geography had combined to give her.

The logical conclusion of such an abdication would be a policy of neutralism—"and to be neutral for Britain is slow death," the prime minister told Conservative party conference.

Eden said Britain's domestic economy has a vital effect on its international influence.

"Only a solvent and prosperous Britain can shoulder the burdens of a great power," he said. "We are in the middle of a hot trade war. Unless we are prepared to deny ourselves some part of the fruits of our labors . . . we shall be out-produced and out-traded by our rivals."

Unemployment Down

VANCOUVER (CP) — The season unemployment peak is over, the National Unemployment office announced in a February job summary released here.

The report said that despite intermittent severe weather last month, the overall employment situation reflected a "moderate improvement" and predicted "some buoyancy" towards the end of March.

There were 20 per cent fewer persons unemployed than in February, 1955 and jobs available were up 60 per cent over February, 1955.

OTTAWA (CP) — Larger number of births, deaths and marriages were registered in Canada during February than in the corresponding month last year. The births rose to 33,939 from 32,785, deaths to 12,921 from 11,122, and marriages to 7349 from 7113 in February, 1955, the bureau of statistics reported Thursday.

SPORTS

Here's John Speaking on SHORT SPORT

This reporter has seldom enjoyed himself more at a skating review presented by a small local club than he did Friday afternoon when I sat through the 1956 edition of "Rhythms On Ice."

That is indeed lofty praise, and intentionally so. It is not claimed that the show was letter-perfect. Rather it had a charm that can be generated only by a predominantly local group that has been bolstered by visitors from neighboring centres.

Even the errors, whether of omission or commission, added to the pleasant, friendly atmosphere. The youngsters, ranging in age from five to 12 or 13, held sway during the first half of the program and did a truly magnificent job. A few of the smaller tots fall flat on certain portions or anatomy, but their reactions, in most cases, were healthy embarrassment rather than disappointment.

Their positions were solidified more than somewhat in that parents and friends dominated the matinee performance, which was the one one we saw. Although there were certain noticeable rough spots which will be smoothed out, we are sure, before tonight's performance, they added more to the display in spontaneity than their errors subtracted from it.

In all, it was quite a show.

Of one number, "Top Hats," in which Joan and Yvonne Pouchard of Creston skated, a duet to the strains of "Swanee," yours truly scribbled only: "Wow! Number too short."

More about that and other individual acts will be found elsewhere on this page.

Our chore, and a very pleasant one it is, is to praise the local talent. It is a very easy thing to do.

If this reporter had gone to the performance with an eye to criticizing every thing that happened differently than expected, I could probably do it. But it would be a very short column.

Everyone from the officials of the Nelson Figure Skating Club right down to the smallest tot who stepped on the ice gave of their best. And their best was plenty good enough for me.

The show had samples of everything. There were pretty girls in profusion, cute little girls who will break many hearts in five or ten years and even boys who looked a trifle apprehensive lest they be teased by their mates in the schoolyard.

If we may make one small uncomplimentary remark it would be that their seemed to be a slight lack of organization behind the scenes. Looking for that lack of organization, however, might in itself cause spectators to miss the easy charm and quick tempo of the performance and for that reason it would not be wise.

Yours truly was particularly impressed during the matinee by the performance of one Bonita Buerge—at least I think there was only one—who showed what I considered to be great promise in her solo to "Easter Ballet."

I said Friday night that I would pay if necessary to see the show. We did not have to pay, but I have not changed my mind. I might see it again.

May I suggest that everyone who possibly can see it, at least once.

Jamieson Rink Wins Trophy

Presentation of a trophy to skip Penny Jamieson climaxed a wind-up banquet for Nelson's newest group of organized curlers — the Business and Professional Women's Curling Club.

Mrs. Jamieson took only one loss in leading her team through the club's first season of play to win the newly-presented Diamond Grill cup. On the team were Dorothy Pearson, Betty Cowan and Mary Kershaw.

Runners' up team was skipped by Joan Sutcliffe, with regulars Aileen Sien and Verna May Murphy.

Eight rinks, rather than the four that made up the club in 1955-56, is the aim for next season. With the nucleus of a "good club" already formed, members were urged to bring a new member each to the general meeting in the Fall. Elections are held in January.

Possibility of entering a team in the Midsummer Bonspiel, and of making up a float for the parade were discussed.

Films on Hawaii, Bermuda, India and the Panama were shown by Bea Cooper and Lillian Hickey following the banquet.

1000 See Skaters in First Two Showings of "Rhythms on Ice"

Approximately 90 members of Nelson Figure Skating Club, bolstered by a handful of talent from neighboring centres, left a pleasant taste in the mouths of approximately 450—mostly youngsters—Friday afternoon as they presented a matinee to open the skating revue, "1956 Rhythms on Ice." About 500 attended an evening performance.

All types of music to satisfy fans of everything from jazz to ballet formed a suitable background for the fairly long performance. Third production will be staged tonight.

It was difficult to pick out the stars. The afternoon audience being predominantly young, was thoroughly captivated by the antics of Red and Priscilla Heywood of Rossland who did a parody on the immortal poem, "Casey at the Bat."

The father - daughter comedy team appeared later on the program as they skated to the moody "St. Louis Blues." The second named number was a portion of a three-part exhibition entitled "Precision in Jazz." Elaine Heibey, Doreen Speirs and Michael Laughton skated in the earlier sections.

The first half of the program was devoted almost entirely to the embyro skaters. Young Corrine Vance who replaced Donna Drew as the "old woman who lived in a shoe" when Miss Drew was unable to appear, showed exceptionally well in her role. Shepherding 20 children around the confines of the Civic Arena ice surface can be a troublesome chore at the best of times but young Corrine made it look easy.

Professional Sheilagh Moore, who climaxed her first year of teaching, added her own considerable personal talent in two numbers, "Bella Note" and "Espana Mamba". But she was but one of the many talented skaters who took part.

Another visiting couple, Yvonne and Joan Pouchard from Creston, were, almost certainly, the high point of the show. Skating together in the number "Top Hats", the sisters showed the ability that has qualified Yvonne as a professional and carried Joan to a third-test rating. Joan, only 16, appeared much older as she skated six numbers later as The Sultan's Favorite in the spectacular "Easter Slave Girls."

Naturally, the first performance encounters obstacles. The afternoon performance—first of three—was no exception. But the spontaneous charm generated by the unimportant, barely noticeable errors more than made up for them. It is impossible in limited space to mention all those involved in the complicated operations necessary to running an ice show. Sufficient to say that the whole affair was a perfect example of willing spirit conquering sometimes weak flesh.

The obvious enjoyment of the participants, the youngest of whom were barely five, was by no means the least significant of the affair. In fact, it might safely be called the most significant part.

High School Teams Win Both Hoop Tilts

L. V. Rogers High School basketball squads swept both ends of a senior doubleheader Friday night before a vociferous gathering. The games were the first played in the new Rogers High School gymnasium.

Rogers Bomberettes opened the evening with 49-46 triumph over Eaglettes as a rally by the ex-high school players fell three points short.

Notre Dame Pups staged a similar rally in the nightcap but they, too, failed. Rogers Bombers held six points of their 15-point half-time edge to emerge victorious 57-51.

Lydia Hecker pumped home 16 points, the majority in the last half to lead the Bomberette victory. Closest scoring rival was Joyce McEwen who scored 14 for Eaglettes.

The second game was a thriller almost from the opening buzzer. Pups were handicapped greatly by the loss of two key men. Paddy Bell who led all scorers with 18 points fouled out with two minutes and 45 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter. Before he left he had paced the losers to within one point of a tie. Bombers added three quick field goals immediately after his departure to consolidated their position.

PUP INJURED

Larry Wolfe who led top scorers throughout most of the early season games was hurt in the second quarter but recovered sufficiently to return to action after a short respite. Although he totalled nine points he was obviously not at his best.

The taller Bombers, paced by Peter Thom and Gord Towhey with 12 and 11 points respectively used their height throughout to control both backboards and pull down the majority of the taps.

Girls scoring: Bomberettes — Farenholtz 8, Strong 4, Kary 7, Moran, Evans 9, Dewar 5, Derby Hollington and Cain and Hecker with 16.

Eaglettes — Smith 6, Fife 6, Valentine, Thom 11, Mores 2, Hendrickson 7, Viau, McEwen 14, Gold.

Boys Scoring: Bombers — Elmes, 7, Phillips 4, Wharton 10, Thom 12, Towhey 11, Percival 2, Monteleone 6, Farenholtz 1, Peterson 4, and Wah.

Pups — Wolfe 9, Bell 18, Labrosse 6, Bouchir 10, Dugan, Englund, Sylvester 6, Smith, Laver 2, Kronibouer.

SANTEE RUNS MILE IN 4:06.9

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wes Santee, running his best mile of the year, posted a 4:06.9 effort Friday night in a special race at the Knights of Columbus annual indoor meet.

Santee's time was only nine-tenths of a second slower that the meet record, which he set here last year and much better than two previous "special" races he has run since his court fight with the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union began.

Canadian Breeds Palomino Mink

EDMONTON (CP)—John Caine, wartime flying ace who turned to mink ranching in 1946, recently made the first Canadian shipment of Palomino and Aleutian mink by air to Japan.

Caine manages a mink ranch on south Edmonton's outskirts and shipped 26 mink via commercial plane to Sappore, Hokkaido, Japan.

Further shipments are predicted. Alberta mink also are being sold in South America, New Zealand, South Africa, Europe and the United States.

In 1946, the Caine ranch had 350 female and a few male mink. About 1000 pelts a year were sold. This year, with 3000 females and about 600 males, between 11,000 and 12,000 pelts will reach world markets from four Caine ranches in Alberta and British Columbia. Many will bring $100 a pelt.

Caine recently acquired a fleet of fishing boats in B.C. which will catch, sort and refrigerate tons of fish as mink food to be sent to his ranches and sold to others on the Prairies.

Nashua Out for Money Record Today

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Nashua will go for the world's money-winning record today in the 1¼-mile Gulfstream Park Handicap with six other stakes winners opposing him.

There have been rumors that if Nashua wins he may be retired to stud, but trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said the Leslie Combs II colt is nominated for the Campbell Memorial Handicap in Maryland next month "and all the big handicaps this summer."

Some 32,000 fans are expected to crowd gulfstream park for the biggest feature in the track's 11-year history. Post time is 3:17 p.m. MST.

Nashua drew No. post position and was solid 3 to 5 favorite despite a burdensome 129 pounds—highest impost of his career and two more than he carried to a neck victory in the Widener last month.

Wins Fifth Skating Crown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Olympic champion Tenley Albright won her fifth straight American skating crown Friday night, defeating world titleholder Carol Heiss in the "rubber match" of their 1956 ice queen duel.

Experience and finesse paid off for the 20-year-old pre-med student from Newton Center, Mass., who skated with all but perfect precision in the free skating portion of the 38th United States Figure Skating Association meet.

The yellow - costumed Tenley, possibly a little less spectacular than the vibrant 16-year-old New Yorker, but more expert in the intricate turns and twists, Thursday won the unanimous first place verdict of five judges in the more important school figures.

Young Carol just couldn't make up the difference, despite her brilliant free skating performance Friday night.

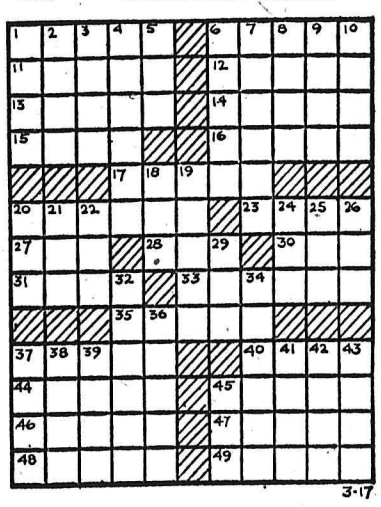
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

O W G T U A E T A K E N V E F T H E N A,
O W G T T N O E N U K E N V E K M T V F D—
F V E K W J.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: ALACK, THOU KNOWEST NOT HOW LITTLE WORTHY OF ANY LOVE THOU ART—THOMPSON.

Magistrate Busy, Age 90

VICTORIA (CP)—William Halliday, teacher, author, Indian agent and magistrate, still keeps busy in his 91st year.

He is British Columbia's senior commissioned magistrate and notary public, becoming a notary in 1887 at the age of 21 and a magistrate seven years later.

He spent years of teaching among the Indians and their welfare is still close to his heart. "I've always advocated they should become full Canadians with all rights and privileges of the white people, and I know that in them they will be," he said.

A book he wrote in 1936 has been recognized as a text for those interested in Indian life and Indian problems. "Potlatch and Totem" tells the recollections of an Indian agent over 28 years.

He was an active bowler until three years ago.

ROAMING LIGHTS

BODMIN, England (CP) — Farmers who run cattle on the unfenced moor around this Cornish town are considering branding their animals with luminous paint as a warning to motorists.

EAGER CAMERAMEN are haunting Rosemont and Ymir Road areas these days, for there are plenty of unusual snow scenes on which to train their lenses. There's approximately eight feet of snow on the porch roof of the house shown here near Vancouver Street. Photographer Dick Spurway clambered on to what he thought was a woodpile, only to be informed by its owner that he was standing on top of a car.

Polio Immunization For 4098 Children

More than 4000 students and pre-school age children will be protected against crippling poliomyelitis in the Selkirk Health Unit this Spring.

Parents have sent in consent cards authorizing immunization of 4098 children, Dr. H. T. Lowe, medical health officer for the Selkirk Health Unit said Wednesday. There were 902 refusals.

Consents for students from grades one to nine totalled 3671 and pre-school 420.

Highest number of refusals came from the Slocan Valley where 41.5 per cent of the parents refused to allow their school-age children to be immunized. Many in this district are Doukhobors and conscientious objectors to immunizations. Lowest number of refusals was in the Kaslo School District where only 3.1 per cent refused.

In Nelson School district 2414 consents were sent in for school children with 214 (8.9 per cent) refusing immunization. There were 214 consents for pre-schoolers.

The immunizations will tax health unit staff for they will have a total 7300 immunization shots to give these students and pre-schoolers who are scattered from the Lardeau, to Salmo, to Nakusp and into the Arrow Lakes in the far-reaching Selkirk Health Unit.

Students and pre-schoolers who received immunization last year will receive one booster shot this year but all others will receive two shots, the medical health officer explained in releasing the figures. Second doses will be given after a four-week interval.

Movie Gossip...

Mitzi Gaynor Found That Losing Weight Changed Her Whole Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mitzi Gaynor offers proof of how losing weight can change your life. Dropping 35 pounds brought her a whole new career.

Three years ago, she was a curvy 150 pounds.

"It was all right after I had my appendix out," she recalled. "I figured I had to build myself up, so I ate like a fool. I told myself bread was good for the blood, butter was good for the skin, potatoes would fill my stomach and so forth.

"It was all baby fat and muscle. Since I was a dancer, the exer*cise turned the fat into muscle.* I was simply too big. My waist was always small—even at my heaviest it was no more than 22 inches—so that made the rest of me look even bigger."

Being a career-minded doll, she figured this wasn't good.

"I was in sort of a rut at 20th Century-Fox," she admitted. "When I left there, I was 22, but I was still playing little-girl roles. I wanted to grow up. But you can't play mature roles if you still look like a little girl. You've got to be able to wear glamorous clothes, which I couldn't."

One day she decided to do something about it. She started on a diet, dropped a pound a day for the first 10 days. Then—horrors! —she could only drop a single pound in the next two weeks.

It was then she decided that weight control is not a passing fancy but a way of life.

"You just have to decide that you are going to eat sensibly all the time," she said. "The main element is self-control. If you don't have that you can't lose weight."

Her methods are diet, massage, and exercise. Besides skipping starches, sugar, sauces, etc, she undergoes a daily two-hour dance session followed by a deep massage.

GOT RESULTS

The results of the Gaynor campaign can be viewed in "Anything Goes" and her new film with George Gobel, "The Birds and the Bees," She plays a femme fatale in the latter and obviously is equipped for the job.

Mitzi is now down to an elegant 114 pounds and never allows herself to rise above 118.

"I like to have that four-pound spread," she explained. "Between 114 and 118 I can really go wild."
