Pinay, Adenauer Report Talks Bearing Fruit

Saar Main Issue; Ownership of Huge Roechling Steel Works Thorny Question

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BONN, Germany (AP) — French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reported good progress Friday in their talks to clear up outstanding French-German problems.

After a two-hour session with Adenauer, Pinay told reporters his expectations of success had increased. He said the talks, to continue today and covering future French-German co-operation in the political, economic and cultural fields, were taking place in "a very favorable atmosphere."

Adenauer said he was convinced "we will achieve something good for France and Germany, for Europe and for the peace of the whole world."

Although the agenda covered a number of issues, the success of the conference would mainly rest on satisfactory settlement of remaining differences over the Saar.

The key question is future ownership of the huge Roechling Steel works in the Saar. This plant, producing about 1,000,000 tons of steel yearly, is the backbone of Saar industry. If it reverted to German control it would swing the balance of power in the six-nation coal-steel community away from France.

The French sequestered the plant as war preparations but did not dismantle it. They are determined the Roechling family shall not get it back. The family has rejected French offers to buy them out.

French Premier Edgar Faure told the National Assembly some time ago he would not deposit the Paris treaties granting West German sovereignty until the Roechling works issue was settled. He took a similar position at a press conference in Paris Friday.

Other Saar questions that have to be settled are:

1. Details of increased West German trade with the area after it becomes autonomous under the west European Union.

2. The date of the plebiscite of Saarlanders to approve their new European status.

3. The identity of the high commissioner for the Saar to be recommended to the council of the West European Union. He is to be neither French nor German but approved by both countries.

As the talks opened, the West German constitutional court at Karlsruhe began hearing of a suit to declare the whole Saar agreement unconstitutional. It was filed by Socialist, Free Democrat and Socialist, Free Democrat and Refugee party deputies of the Bundestag (lower house) who oppose the agreement as a "surrender of German territory."

Gov't Saved Embarrassment St. Laurent Points Out

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government's proposals in 1945 for a broad program of social services and public works are not now being offered to the provinces, Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Friday.

If they had been accepted then, he said, the federal government would find it "pretty embarrassing" to carry them out under present conditions.

The federal "green book" proposals to the 1945 federal-provincial conference offered a health insurance program, federal acceptance of responsibility for all able-bodied unemployed and a program of public investment and public works. The offer was coupled with the requirement of tax rental agreements with the provinces.

Mr. St. Laurent emphasized Friday that the proposals were based on expectations that defence expenditures of $250,000,000 a year would be "quite sufficient." In the 1955-56 fiscal year the defence bill will be about $1,700,000,000.

But the 1945 offer was not accepted, he said. Although a great number of things included in the offer had since been carried out, "the government does not consider that it is bound in any way by unaccepted proposals that were made in 1945."

Later, he added:

"I will be perfectly frank, that had those proposals been accepted the federal government, as representing all the people of Canada, would find it at the present time pretty embarrassing to carry out the commitments that would have resulted.

Britain Readies Emergency Plans To Cope With Threatened Strike

LONDON (Reuters) — The government Friday announced plans to maintain essential services and supplies by emergency measures as the threat of a rail strike timed for this weekend mounted.

Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton, speaking in the House of Commons, did not specify what measures he planned, but said he had summoned Trades Union Congress leaders to meet him later. Final truce talks between the state-run railroad system and leaders of 70,000 locomotive engineers and firemen broke down Thursday night.

The men are demanding wage increases averaging five shillings a week, aimed at maintaining a differential between their earnings and the earnings of less-skilled railworkers who benefitted under a recent wage settlement.

Coal to keep industry running, perishable foods and milk will receive top priorities of the stoppage goes into effect on schedule at midnight Sunday.

WOULD CLOSE MINES

A national coal board spokesman warned Friday that production at some mines would stop within a day or two of a rail strike. They rely on trains to get coal away from the mines.

A spokesman for the Federation of British Industries said the strike could cause "a pretty general stoppage" throughout industry within two weeks.

London's subway system is not involved but the electric and steam overland trains bringing thousands of commuters into and out of the capital every day would be seriously affected.

A ROOKIE on the police force, Joseph Haywood spent two months as an undercover agent in Vancouver. At the end of that time he was able to provide enough evidence to convict William Semenick, 52, who was sentenced to ten years for trafficking in narcotics.

Slocan to Vote Again May 14 on School Program

SLOCAN CITY — The Slocan school district's $107,000 referendum which ratepayers rejected by only one vote March 26, will be put to the vote again May 14.

The Money bylaws call for construction of activity rooms at the Mount Sentinel junior-senior high school at South Slocan, and at the W.E. Graham junior-senior high school at Slocan City, and an activity room addition at Lucerne junior-senior high school at New Denver.

Half of the district's 800 eligible voters went to the 14 polling stations March 26, and voted 238 in favor and 159 against the program. A 60 per cent majority is required for passage. The district would be required to pay 50 per cent of the cost over the next 20 years.

The Mount Sentinel activity room would cost $38,000, the W.E. Graham activity room $38,500 and the Lucerne activity room addition $14,000. Equipment for the rooms would come to $6100, and plans, supervision and contingencies $10,400.

Polling stations will again be at Sandon, Rosebery, Hills, New Denver, Silverton, Slocan City, Perry Siding, Appledale, Winlaw, Vallican, Passmore, Slocan Park, Crescent Valley and South Slocan.

Says Press Help Behind Oakalla Farm Changes

VANCOUVER (CP) — Warden Hugh Christie says officials at Oakalla prison farm here have "perfected" a humane and efficient withdrawal treatment for drug addicts in Canada's largest prison.

He told reporters during a conducted tour of the jail he has proposed additional treatment for addiction at the prison as soon as the necessary resources are acquired.

"We can have a man off drugs with very little pain in five days," the warden said. "I have seen some still trying after five months in other centres."

"ONE OF THE WORST . . ."

When Warden Christie took over the jail in 1952, he branded it "if not the worst, one of the worst in Canada."

Dring this week's tour he said: "The newspapers and the public deserve much praise for the improvement. They told the government what should be done and the government took notice.

"Every major improvement we have asked for has been given us with the exception of higher pay for prison staff so that I could recruit the professional-standard of men needed for work like this . . ."

VANCOUVER (CP) — Joseph Marcoux and Eddie Sherban, charged with attempted murder in the shooting of William Semenick in Stanley Park here Nov. 4, were remanded Friday until Monday following a dispute between the magistrate and city prosecutor.

They are still in custody, Marcoux unable to raise $60,000 bail and Sherban unable to put up $25,000.

Charged jointly, they have separate counsel, who have not been able to appear in court simultaneously.

SUGGESTS SEVERANCE

Magistrate Oscar Orr suggested severing the cases, and when city prosecutor Stewart McMorran protested, gave him until Monday to "think it over."

"I am no longer going to keep setting days aside for this case," Magistrate Orr said.

Regina Police Free Hordenchuk

Firefighters Show Ladder Mastery

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP) — The former sales manager of a bankrupt television manufacturing firm has been sentenced to six months in prison and fined a total of $2000 on two charges under the B.C. Securities act.

Michael R. Hambleton formerly with the Industrial Radio Electric Enterprise Ltd., was sentenced Thursday to two months and a $500 fine for "making a false representation to a client upon the merits of a security."

A similar charge brought a $1500 fine and four months sentence. An additional six months in jail will be ordered if the fines are not paid.

Hambleton will appear in police court here Monday to face four criminal charges and an additional security act charge.

$2 MILLION IN CONTRACTS FOR POWER PLANT

VANCOUVER (CP) — The largest remote-control hydro-electric plant in the world was closer to reality Friday with the award of more than $2,000,000 worth of contracts by the B. C. Electric Company.

The contracts are part of a $25,000,000 hydro-electric development at Cheakamus, located north of Squamish on Howe Sound.

When the new power station goes on the line in 1957, the B. C. Lower Mainland's supply of energy will exceed 915,000 horsepower—more than four times the amount available here a decade ago.

Gronchi New Italian President

ROME (Reuters) — Giovanni Gronchi, 67-year-old president of the Chamber of Deputies, tonight was elected president of Italy to succeed Luigi Einaudi, whose seven-year term is expiring.

Gronchi was elected on the fourth ballot after Premier Mario Scelba's Christian Democrats had surrendered to a powerful left-wing faction within the party and agreed to back Gronchi, the faction's candidate.

Gronchi also received strong support from Communists and left-wing Socialists.

His victory represents a smarting defeat for the Christian Democrats' leaders who feared Gronchi's election might upset the centre coalition and Italy's firm ties with the Western camp.

BCHIS Accounts Up by 27,500

VICTORIA (CP) — The B.C. Hospital Insurance Service paid 27,500 more hospital accounts in 1954 than in 1953.

The annual report of the service, released Friday, showed the service paid 235,510 accounts compared to 208,111 in 1953.

Included in the first total were 2738 accounts paid on behalf of persons admitted to hospitals outside B.C.

The increase was attributed to the new system of universal coverage and abolition of premiums, increased number of hospital beds and absorption of several private hospital plans by the service.

The average length of stay in public hospitals also increased from 10.13 days in 1953 to 10.31 days in 1954. The total number of patient days during 1954 was 1,955,721, an increase of 242,843, or 14.2 per cent, over 1953.

Discharges also increased. In 1954 189,735 patients were discharged, an increase of 29,568 or 12.1 per cent, over 1953.

Eden to Press Talks With Russia

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden Friday launched his Conservative party's election campaign with a ringing declaration that he will "spare no effort" to start talks with Russia soon on world problems.

The declaration, appearing along with publication of the party's official platform for the general election May 26, obviously sought to steal the thunder from the Labor party's pledge to promote East-West talks.

Later, Eden appeared before 300 newspaper men at a press conference to publicize the party program and answered questions. This campaign technique was shunned in post-war elections by his predecessor, Sir Winston Churchill.

Eden told the press conference he will support four-power talks "at whatever level seems to me to have a real chance of success."

Rebels Routed; Reported Ready To Call for Peace

By JOHN RODERICK

SAIGON (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem staggered his Binh Xuyen enemies with sledgehammer military blows Friday. He fought also for his political life, backed by expressions of support from the United States and noticeable lack of it from France.

Diem refused a summons from chief of state Bao Dai to attend consultations on the French Riviera. His cabinet, fearing such a summons was tantamount to dismissal, issued a communique saying Diem's presence was "indispensable" to Viet Nam.

Reuters news agency reported the bloody battle suddenly stopped Friday night after 33 hours of fighting. It said some observers believe the lull to be due to the influence of Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, army inspector-general, who was instructed by Bao Dai, Vietnamese chief of state, to take over the army from Diem. They said he may have won sufficient support from the army to have stopped the battle.

On the second day of a civil war that has claimed more than 1000 killed or wounded, Diem's nationalist troops sent the green-bereted Binh Xuyen forces reeling out of Saigon and back into their own bomb-scarred area in the teeming smoke-shrouded suburb of Cho Lon.

REBELS APPEAR BEATEN

Six battalions of the national army pounded the Binh Xuyen with mortars, artillery and armored cars. Fighting raged among the burning straw huts and spread into the pleasure parks, once a rich source of revenue for the Binh Xuyen, a former society of river pirates who have controlled gambling and vice in Saigon.

At nightfall the main rebel force of between 4000 and 5000 appeared to have been split. They were reported out of ammunition and ready to sue for peace.

Propped up by his military successes, Diem dispatched a message to Bao Dai refusing to quit his post and meet with Bao Dai at his villa on the French Riviera by Tuesday. The Viet Nam cabinet gave him full support.

The cabinet refused to go along with Bao Dai's appointment of Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, a foe of Diem, as chief of staff to replace Gen. Le Van Ty, now directing the war against the Binh Xuyen.

U.S. BACKS DIEM

U.S. special ambassador Gen. J. Lawton Collins is returning to Saigon from talks with President Eisenhower and other U.S. officials on the Viet Nam situation.

The U.S. state department made it official Friday that the United States still supports Diem. This was disclosed in comment on a statement by Premier Edgar Faure of France who said Diem's government was no longer equal to its tasks.

Henry Suydam, U.S. state department press officer, said he knew of no change in the attitude of the United States, which supports the legal government of Viet Nam.

Forty-eight hours of battling between the army and Binh Xuyen left much of the city in flames and made thousands of refugees from the Communist North homeless.

A two-square-mile area on Boulevard Galliéni, the most important thoroughfare in the city, was laid waste. It was a mass of smoking rubble.

Milk Price Hike Forecast at Coast

VANCOUVER (CP) — A hike in milk prices in stores here was predicted by a distributor Friday following new provincial regulations.

The government has ordered dealers to pay producers a minimum of $5.08 per 100 pounds at the farm. The distributor said the market is not returning that much at present.

With the exception of one large producer-distributor, all Vancouver dairies now are paying only $4.63 following a 25-per-cent drop in the wholesale prices. The price of wholesale milk fell after decontrol in all prices above the producer level was ordered in October, 1953.

Bonner Offers 3-Way Choice

OTTAWA (CP)—British Columbia insisted Friday Canadian confederation can prevail only on the basis of federal respect for provincial rights.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, reiterating his province's concern over a bill tightening federal control over use of Canada's international rivers, said:

"It is the careful regard of our provincial rights and the expressions of that regard for provincial rights, which is the foundation stone of the future success of our country.

He offered a three-way course to the government:

1. Withdraw the bill.

2. Hold it up pending a new approach to the provinces affected which might co-operatively arrive at a modus vivendi which will be mutually agreeable.

3. Amend it, giving the federal government, "in effect, a veto power" over projects "to which proper objections may be taken."

NEW YORK (AP)—A diminutive Brooklyn woman, who weighs only 98 pounds, Thursday night gave birth prematurely to triplets —all girls.

The infants, weighing a total of eight pounds, four ounces, were placed in incubators.

"Mother and children are doing well," a hospital spokesman said Friday.

The parents are Burton Kaplan, 26, an unemployed salesman, and his wife, Barbara, 21.

"We were expecting only one baby two months from now," Kaplan said. "Now with three babies, and me out of work six months—boy, what am I going to do?"

TOKYO (AP)—Meunkichi Masuda, 65, is a janitor at Tokyo's international airport.

Two years ago he picked up a small cardboard case. There were 24 glass beads in it, he noted. He put the case on a shelf.

He took another look at the glass beads Thursday. Then he took them to a watchmaker friend.

"Genuine diamonds," the watchmaker exclaimed.

Smuggled, said police, taking over the diamonds — and worth $10,000 if they're worth a cent.

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Anna E. Benjamin, 41, who charges that her husband had beaten her at least twice a week during their 25 years of marriage, Thursday rejected his proposal that they become reconciled. Her lawyer, Norman Becker, told judge Elmer N. Holmgren he estimated the beatings probably would total 2500.

City Power Lines Rerouted To Clear New Bridge Area

Rerouting of City of Nelson high voltage power lines in Fairview marks a first step towards construction of a bridge across the West Arm.

The 12,000 volt lines are being carried from Nelson Avenue along Kokanee Avenue to Third Street and along Third to Gordon Road. High voltage lines cannot be maintained below or above the bridge. North Shore substation is not expected to be affected.

The new route replaces one which drew power from either the main Josephine Street substation or the station on Rosemont. It will tie in with a loop in the Kootenay Forest Products area.

135 District Air Cadets To Parade Here Today

Weather permitting, a downtown parade is planned at 1:30. The afternoon schedule also includes basketball and bowling games with teams from each of the three centres participating. A banquet for the visiting cadets is planned in the evening at the Legion and to complete the day a dance will be held.

District cadets are among 20,000 members of the Air Cadet League of Canada who have been marking the past week as National Air Cadet Week. There are 270 squadrons in Canada.

7 Competitions in Garden Contest

Nelson Garden Club is now accepting entries for their annual Better Gardens Contest. Gardeners may enter in any of seven different competitions with the Championship Cup and the Draper Cup competitions the two top events.

Both cups are for similar gardening efforts. The Championship Cup is awarded the contestant with the best all around garden. The Draper Cup is for a similar accomplishment but can only be won once. The Draper Cup winner must participate in the Championship event the following years. Last year, William Meineczuk won the Championship Cup and S. Zabawa was Draper Cup winner.

Other competitions for which cash prizes will be given are lawns and boulevards, rockeries, vegetable garden, small garden and new garden. Cash prizes are also given in the cup competitions. First and second prizes are awarded in all but the championship event.

All Nelson residents are invited to enter the contest. Garden Club Secretary D. R. Grahame is accepting entries until May 30.

The trophy is awarded on the basis of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct combined with a high standard of playing ability. Selectors were hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters in the six NHL cities.

BLOSSOM SHOW LATE

PENTICTON (CP) — Visitors to the Okanagan have expressed disappointment that fruit blossoms are not in full bloom, says Mrs. Hettie Kingsley, secretary of the Penticton Board of Trade.

The late spring has delayed the annual parade of floral beauty, she said Friday and it will be at least another week before the first apricots burst into bloom. They will be followed by peaches, cherries, pears, prunes and apples.

NELSON EXAMPLE QUOTED IN COAST ASSESSMENT CASE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two interior B.C. centres were brought into the court fight here Friday as the city continued the battle against the provincial government's intricate Equalization Assessment Tax policy.

D. W. McQueen, heading Vancouver's assessment department, said he had a letter that showed Kelowna had first been told a 23 per cent tax increase would be necessary, but that the government would accept a six per cent increase, and then finally told not to bother with any increase.

Mr. McQueen said Kelowna was then told to make up the difference by increasing commercial and industrial assessments.

Evidence also showed, he said, that Nelson was told that a 60 per cent increase would be necessary, but the government settled for 14 per cent.

Commenting on the reference to Nelson in the Vancouver court case, G. A. Butling, city assessor said:

The sample appraisal conducted by the assessment commissioner showed that the 1954 assessments in Nelson would need to be increased by an average of 60 per cent in order to bring them up to the level required by the Assessment Equalization Act. But, because of irregularities, the commissioner deemed it inadvisable to increase the entire roll by 60 per cent. Instead, a "controlled" factor was used, residential improvements being increased by 14 per cent and commercial and industrial improvements by the appropriate construction factor supplied by the commissioner.

Electrical Workers Get 2 p.c. Increase

City electrical workers will receive a two per cent wage increase across the board from the Nelson municipal corporation but will receive no new fringe benefits.

A collective agreement between the city and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 1003, AFL, is expected to be signed shortly.

The electrical union originally asked a 10 cent an hour wage increase. The city and union have been negotiating for an agreement for some time and have been assisted by Conciliation Officer G. A. Carmichael.

Union security, hours of work and overtime and provisions respecting annual holidays and termination of the agreement wede other points of disagreement but they were settled.

Jurors Appeal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eight members of a murder jury Friday filed an appeal from dismissal recently of their libel suit against publishers of the Vancouver Province and certain of its employees.

They sought damages against the Southam Co. Ltd., publisher A. W. Moscarella, editor H. H. C. Anderson and columnist Eric Nicol over a column written by Nicol March 20, 1954. The appeal will be heard by the appeal court here during May sittings.

Impressive Cast in Circus at Civic Today

The Ward-Bell circus under the sponsorship of Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce invades the Civic Arena today for two performances. A long list of attractions, topped by the nine Ward-Bell flyers, the world's only triple-wide flying return act, will thrill circus goers, young and old.

The show will feature some of the world's finest scenic artists including ground tumblers, net divers, comedy acrobats, equilibrists, gymnasts and balancing marvels. The cast includes Al Antonucci's human-like chimpanzees, Andre Fox's Champion Palomino liberty horses, Dolly Jacobs and her elephants.

Guaranteed for laughs are Bob Nelson and his trained pigs and Norbu, a gorilla parody. "Circus on Parade" will provide a breathtaking spectacle. There will be afternoon and night performances.

Since signing the contract with Ward-Bell a month ago, the Jaycees have carried on an advance ticket sale campaign. Funds raised by the Junior Chamber from the circus will be used to further community services conducted by the Chamber.

Kokanee Bridge Nearly Finished

Kenyon Construction Company of Penticton has almost finished the new bridge over Kokanee Creek 12 miles east of Nelson on the North Shore. It replaces the narrow bridge 40 feet downstream, where at least one traffic disaster has occurred in recent years.

In a week's time provincial public works crews will build approaches. It will be a month, however, before the bridge will be open to traffic.

Meanwhile, public works officials have announced, work is going ahead slowly on the Balfour-Kaslo road survey.

Legal survey is being made of the North Shore road from the North Shore ferry approach.

Federal Law Strong for Religious Freedom Says Justice Department

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government says provincial legislatures have no constitutional power to prohibit freedom of religious worship.

It also contends that three Quebec provincial police officers who broke up a meeting of Jehovah's Witnesses in Chapeau, Que., in September, 1949, can claim no defence under the Magistrate's Privilege Act of Quebec.

This argument will be advanced by the justice department in the Supreme Court appeal of Esymier Chaput, self-styled Jehovah's Witness evangelist, scheduled to be heard next week. Written argument supporting the government's stand was submitted to the court Thursday.

WITNESS APPEALING

Chaput is appealing a judgment of the Quebec courts dismissing his claim for $5000 damages from the provincial policemen for alleged violation of religious freedom, his rights as a citizen and seizure of a Bible and other articles.

The officers broke up a Bible session attended by about 35 persons in Chaput's home. They testified Chaput had pamphlets containing "seditious libel" and was "creating animosity and hate between different classes of society."

Victoria School Band In Kimberley Today

KIMBERLEY—The S. J. Willis High School Band of Victoria will be heard today in a joint concert with the Kimberley High School Rotary Band.

The Victoria band, under the direction of Howard Denike, received particular attention at the summer school of education last year. This is its first trip of this kind and the first time the Kimberley band has been host to a similar group.

When the Kimberley band goes to the coast in May they will cross to Victoria to be guests of these visitors.

Eric Ekskog, Retired Cominco Employee, Dies

KIMBERLEY — Funeral services were held here Thursday for Eric Ekskog, pioneer Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company employee who died at his home in Creston.

Born June 1, 1886, at Dalarna, Sweden, Mr. Ekskog emigrated to the United States in 1906 to work in the gold mines at Cripple Creek, Colorado. He married Miss Anna Swanson. They then returned to Sweden, where Mr. Ekskog worked in the coal mines at Spitzbergen. Early in 1923 they came out to Canada, stopping briefly on the Prairies before coming on to the Yahk sawmills.

On October 19, 1923, Mr. Ekskog began work with Cominco at the old Top Mine, working as a miner until 1927, then as shift boss until his retirement in 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Ekskog then sold their home on the Catholic Church Hill and moved to Creston.

Mr. Ekskog was a member of the United Church and an organizer of the Kimberley Rod and Gun Club.

He is survived by his wife at Creston, two sons, Walter and John of Kimberley, two daughters, Mrs. Mimmi Tidstrand, Sagmyra, Sweden, and Mrs. Signa Ostland, Ronnas Leksand, Sweden, and eight grandchildren, three in Canada and five in Sweden. Two brothers also survive him in Sweden.

SENIOR CITIZEN COUNCIL ELECTS KIMBERLEY MAN

CRANBROOK—T. S. Dawson of Kimberley was named new president of the East Kootenay Regional Council of the Senior Citizens' Association when representatives of branches at Golden, Edgewater, Canal Flat, Wardner, Kimberley, Creston and Cranbrook met at the KP hall here. Other officers elected were Mrs. Anne Weston of Canal Flat, vice-president, and Mrs. Charles Lafleur of Cranbrook, secretary-treasurer and district delegate to the provincial council meeting June 6 and 7 at Vancouver.

Representatives chosen on the East Kootenay Council were Rev. I. E. Cumming of Golden, Ole Holm of Wardner, Charles Hudson of Creston and T. S. Frost of Cranbrook. Business matters were discussed and a list of suggestions prepared for submission at the provincial meeting.

Newest branch formed recently at Wardner reported difficulty in recruiting members, and the council authorized L. C. Bonnier, secretary of the Cranbrook branch, to assist in this by presenting appropriate Film Council films at the next Wardner meeting.

Coal Company Post For Cranbrook Man

CRANBROOK — Appointment as new treasurer of the Crows Nest Pass Coal Company Ltd., at its Fernie headquarters office has been accepted by Ronald Colleaux of Cranbrook, at present resident partner of George Touche and Company, chartered accounting office here. He takes over his new duties at Fernie July 1.

He received his certification as chartered accountant at Prince Albert, Sask., and has been in charge of the Touche office here since September, 1951. He has been an active citizen, secretary and director of Cranbrook Rotary Club, and secretary of the Cranbrook Golf Club. Mrs. Colleaux has been active in the Registered Nurses' Association. With their infant daughter, Joanne, they will move to Fernie in June.

Cranbrook Raises Cry Over Road Allocation

CRANBROOK—Provincial highway department 1955 plans for only 3.6 miles of highway construction in Cranbrook electoral district, which is one of the province's main tourist areas, has had vigorous reaction from the Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber executive has drawn up and forwarded a resolution to highways minister Gaglardi urging a more extensive program to rescue this industry particularly through improvements to the dilapidated feeder road from the American boundary at Kingsgate.

The resolution suggests the provincial government seek dominion financial assistance for this work in view of the importance of the Kingsgate-Radium road as principal access way for American tourists to Jasper, Banff and Kootenay National Parks which are under federal jurisdiction.

The provincial treasury derives upwards of $20,000,000 annually from the mineral resources of East Kootenay in which the Trans-Canada highway and the Kingsgate-Radium road lie, the resolution points out.

Only Cranbrook district highway improvement planned by the highways department this year is reconstruction of 3.6 miles from Yahk north to Ryan, which is both Southern Transprovincial and Kingsgate-Radium road.

EXTENSION SOUGHT

The resolution insists this plan be extended from Yahk South the 10 miles to Kingsgate, and from Ryan North to include the parts not yet reconstructed to Southern transprovincial standards to Aldridge at the South end of Moyie Lake, so that the 1956 surfacing program will complete both roads to that point. Further it urges reconstruction in 1956 of the five miles along Moyie Lake Northward for 1957 surfacing.

Kingsgate-Radium road was a joint dominion-provincial highway project as a parks feeder road in 1935 and is far below Southern transprovincial minimum standards of today even where it has not broken into dangerous condition.

Brock New Chairman Of Kimberley Group

KIMBERLEY—Kimberley branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at its annual meeting was addressed by Douglas Walkington of Canadian Industries Ltd. His topic was plastic fabrics being developed for various industrial and textile purposes and their special individual qualities.

The branch named H. M. Brock as its new chairman, C. D. M. Chisholm vice-chairman and A. Swystun secretary, with R. J. Barrett treasurer. Executive representatives chosen were P. S. Barratt for the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company general office, O. E Weightman for the mine and M. Malnarich for the concentrator.

Dates Set for Creston Fall Fair

CRESTON — Dates for the 1955 Creston Valley Fall Fair were tentatively set for September 9 and 10, at a meeting held in Prince Charles High school.

Last year's executive was voted back into office. President is J. Verkerk; vice-president, A. J. Allan; secretary, J. E. Swales, and treasurer, C. B. Twigg.

It is hoped that organizations and individuals who took charge of the different sections at past fairs will continue to do so this year. The Creston Women's Institute, represented by Mrs. G. Hurl, Mrs. M. Beam and Mrs. J. B. Clarke, will again take care of the canned fruits and vegetables section, and the Rebekah Lodge, represented by Mrs. C. Gay, Mrs. A. Winter and Mrs. V. Johnsen, will again be in charge of the needlework section. The other organizations have yet to be heard from.

Fall Fair members present at the meeting voted in favor of donating $100 to the Creston Civic Centre, which is experiencing financial difficulty.

Another Fall Fair meeting will very likely be held during the fourth week in May when prize list revisions will be discussed.

District Needs More Gamma Globulin

TRAIL (CP) — The West Kootenay Health Unit has announced a drive to obtain more gamma globulin for the district.

The campaign, prompted by a request for more of the whole blood, was spurred by Dr. John McKay of Fruitvale, who said the present supply was inadequate.

The Union of South Africa reported 70,000 vehicle accidents in 1954, with 1588 killed and 22,000 injured.

ROSSLAND — Arthur Turner of Rossland has been named second vice-president of the B.C. School Trustees' Association, succeeding Mrs. Gladys Ellis of Surrey, who resigned owing to pressure of business.

On The Side of Youth

. . . I must confess that I am somewhat weary of the repeated utterances of Jeremiahs and Cassandras of an older generation who bemoan the weakening of the fibre of Canadian youth. Ignorant, irresponsible and paganistic are some of the adjectives that are applied to you. You no doubt have already learned that in every succeeding older generation many persons have wailed that youth is not as good as they were when they were young. To the harsh critics of modern youth I sometimes retort that throughout history youth were never in the eyes of many of their elders very promising. Baldness, bulges, bifocals and bridges have a tendency to produce forgetfulness of the critics' own juvenile shortcomings.

I recall clearly that in the dismal thirties many persons described the youth of those years as empty-headed and light-hearted. What a lie that was! In World War II, Canadian youth demonstrated that they had robust intellects, stout characters, rare capacity for leadership and singular devotion and courage. Only last week I read in a current issue of a Canadian periodical a series of indictments of the quality of Canadian "frosh". With those denunciations of our current crop from secondary schools I substantially disagree.

It is my considered testimony that they are better prepared than we of an older generation were. They are at least as responsive to rich ideas and high ideals as my high school class in 1911 was. Those who criticize schools and colleges are frequently parents who might well re-examine the measure of their discharge in their homes of their educational responsibilities.—Dr. Sidney Smith, President, University of Toronto.

Interdependent

Since the end of the Second World War, Canadian industry has prospered under a certain degree of artificial protection. International currency restrictions and the preoccupation with defence production in other countries has made it much easier to sell the output of factories in this country.

Now, however, the honeymoon is over. If industry in this country is to compete—in the home market as well as the foreign market—it must get into a competitive position. In one way or another, that means getting costs down.

In his address at the annual meeting of the National Canadian Bank, President Charles St-Pierre put it this way:

"It is to be hoped that (there will be) recognition of the obvious fact that employers and employees are inter-dependent. despite the secondary questions which may sometimes divide them, and that their loyal collaboration is more important than ever in the interests of both parties and for the progress of the country. The reduction of costs is an urgent task, and it can only be a collective undertaking. It demands first and foremost a high level of competence and a strict economy in the management of business, the improvement of manufacturing processes and the increase in labor productivity."

"Canada is in the position of populate or perish."—John Diefenbaker.

Ah, Jukes for Bestros

At first we were disturbed by the news that France is installing American juke boxes in bistros and cafes. What a horrible turn of events for the land of the troubadours and Debussy, we thought.

But maybe it isn't such a bad development. If we consider the current hit tunes—allowing for possible pitfalls in translation—the idea might be quite appropriate.

We can picture Pierre Mendes-France, instead of engaging in a long plea to save his government, just singing to the Assembly: "Hold Me, Hold Me, Hold Me." And the deputies' chorus would get the idea and come right back with "Let Me Go, Lover."

Then Pierre Pflimlin or any other politician who has to stay up nights trying to form a cabinet would find an appropriate theme song in "Mister Sandman."

Of course, the tourists can always go up on Montmartre or into some dubious neighborhood bistro, put in 20 francs, and think they are being real devilish listening to "The Naughty Lady of Shady Lane."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cluttered Mail Slots

One nice thing about April Fools' Day this year is that it is the cut-off date for the flood of "junk" mail.

No longer will the neighborhood postman be required to deliver to city homes those unwelcome envelopes addressed to "occupant" or "householder". The Post Office Department has revised its regulations and abandoned this type of mail service as of midnight last night.

Twice in recent memory the postal officials have experimented with this form of bulk mailing in an effort to reduce the postal deficit. Back in 1933 the plan was given up after a six-month trial. The latest attempt to make the plan work began in August, 1953, and is just now being written off as both non-productive to the post office and annoying to postal employees and the general public as well.

It will be permissible, however, for bulk mailers to send out material to a specific address without having to use the name of the individual resident. And the regulations will continue to permit the sending of junk mail to persons living on rural routes and boxholders where no city delivery service is available.

The urban revolt against unwanted mail has been productive. And that's no joke.

—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Another Malenkov

Kao Kang, boss of Red China's five-year plan, has been purged from the Communist party, and, according to reports, has committed suicide.

He was placed in charge of the plan in 1953 and was sometimes called the Manchurian Stalin. When he was cutting a wide swath through Red policies in China, he was mentioned as the man who would take the place of Mao Tse-Tung, Red Chinese ruler.

The purging of Red leaders has become so commonplace that it must be difficult, except on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, for the top brass to induce ambitious Communists to offer their heads for the short-time glory of directing a five-year plan.

Perhaps if the Communists worked on a five-week program there would be less trouble with the directors. It might even result in a considerably reduced mortality rate.—Vancouver Herald.

Press Manager Dies, Victoria

VICTORIA (CP) — Robert G. Thomson, 66, general manager of Victoria Press Ltd., died Friday in Royal Jubilee Hospital after a short illness.

He had been in the newspaper business in Victoria for 44 years. He was associated with the Victoria Daily Times until the formation four years ago of Victoria Press Ltd., which prints the Times and the Victoria Daily Colonist.

BORN IN NANAIMO

Mr. Thomson was born in Nanaimo. At the age of 22 he decided to go to Australia and came to Victoria to await a ship. To fill in time he took a job with the Times. His parents persuaded him to give up the Australian venture and he remained in the newspaper business.

He rose from junior clerk to general manager.

He is survived by his widow, the former Evelyn Olsen of Victoria; one daughter, Mrs. John Thomson of Vancouver, and two grandchildren.

MONTREAL (CP) — Dr. Adelard Groulx, Montreal's health director, warned parents Friday to be careful about making arrangements for private vaccination with the Salk polio vaccine.

He was commenting on reports that a man is canvassing west-end parents by telephone and offering to sell enough Salk vaccine for three injections for $20.

"Call your own doctor," Dr. Groulx urged parents whose children will not be covered by the city's free program for the vaccination of children born in 1953.

Destroyer Cayuga's Theft Unsolved

Most of the officers and crew of the 300 man ship have been questioned. The money, in small bills, was kept in a strong box in the supply officer's cabin.

A second strongbox in the same cabin was untouched. It contained about $5000 in U.S. currency.

Police Examine Burned Liner

LIVERPOOL (Reuters) — Detectives boarded the 27,666-ton Cunard liner Britannica when she berthed at Liverpool Friday to investigate a serious fire in her hold during the Atlantic crossing from New York.

Police photographed No. 4 hold which was found on fire last Saturday morning three days out from New York and burned throughout the day.

Passengers were disembarked, the liner then moved out into the middle of the Mersey River with the crew still on board.

Most of the 800 passengers were unaware of the fire as the liner continued on her way. About 560 bags of mail, 211 pieces of heavy baggage and four cars were involved. Damage is reported considerable.

Late Spring Threat To Vernon Apples

VERNON, B.C. (CP) — A late spring and a series of heavy frosts are threatening the economically important McIntosh apple crop in the Vernon district.

District horticulturist William Baverstock says that the spring is about 10 days or two weeks behind that of last year, when the apple trees were in peak bloom on May 13.

The McIntosh crop is the chief orchard product in this area, and is even more important since the frost wiped out the commercial apricot crop.

Believes Rain-Making Experiments Cause of Serious Missouri Floods

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — The man who pioneered the science of making rain believes armed-forces experiments may have caused the disastrous Missouri valley floods of June, 1952.

Dr. Irving Langmuir, a Nobel Prize winner and consultatn for General Electric Co., experiments with rainmaking, also declared in an interview:

1. A U. S. air force test on a tornado off the eastern coast Oct. 17, 1947, may have turned the twister off its course and pushed it into Savannah, Ga., with damage of $5,000,000.

2. There is evidence that rainmaking in some areas may create a drought in others.

Langmuir was interviewed while attending the international arid lands symposium where scientists from 18 countries are seeking answers to the rapidly growing arid regions which already cover a third of the earth's land surface.

WANTED TO STOP

He declared he thinks now—and insisted at the time—that a single silver-iodide generator operating at Alamorgordo, N. M., caused the steady downpours which drowned the Missouri valley three years ago.

"We had been seeding for some time, and the storms kept getting bigger and better. I told the military heads administering the project that I felt we ought to stop seeding as the rains in the Missouri valley kept falling.

"But the administrator of the project was on vacation at the time. No one would take responsibility for ordering the seeding stopped.

"Finally I told them we must stop, things were getting serious.

"We stopped on July 2. On July 7 the flood just about devastated Omaha."

Langmuir explained how a lone cloud-generator in New Mexico could affect the weather so far away: The silver iodide particles are sent into the air, say, in New Mexico. Winds from the west blow them across the Mississippi where they come in contact with moist air masses coming in from the Gulf of Mexico.

TRIGGERS OTHERS

A particle of silver iodide about the size of a pencil dot is enough to affect a cubic mile of air weighing 100,000,000 tons, Langmuir said. Once a storm has been started, it triggers other storms.

And if the cloud seeder is restarted at intervals, you get rain at about the same intervals.

Langmuir also said that on Oct. 17, 1947, an air force plane seeded a tornado heading north off the east coast. The twister turned 120 degrees "which the weather bureau said was impossible" and smashed on to Savannah.

"There was not one chance in 7000 that the tornado would have turned if it had not been seeded," Langmuir said. "I had suggested that we wait until the storm was further north and out to sea to experiment."

CAMERA NEWS

By BILL RAMSAY

What is a montage, you ask? Simply speaking, it's a combination of two or more negatives in one print. A montage can be used as a gimmick; for example, to combine a shot of a diapered two-year-old and an obviously anti-social rhinocerous, or, it can be used to rather adroitly strengthen the weak point of an otherwise outstanding photograph.

Let's say, for example, that you have a bangup landscape that falls just short of sensational because of a weak sky in the finished print. In this case a negative boasting a fine array of clouds can be double-printed with the landlandscape. Masking will keep the clouds from printing through onto the landscape itself, and the result will more often than not provide a most worthwhile picture. The mechanics of this technique are fairly exacting but the greatest thought should go into selecting a combination of pictures which will complement one another in character, mood and proportion. Incidentally, price, quality, selection and service, are the montage ingredients to describe RAMSAY'S CAMERAS. If you haven't been in to take advantage of our wide selection of cameras and supplies, and our purse-pleasing prices, be sure to drop in today. We're nearby at 497 Baker Street.

Mother Should Give Child Hearing Tests, Especially After Illness

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — At least 3,000,000 school children in the United States have impaired hearing.

The American Hearing Society got the figure by applying the number of children with impaired hearing in certain tested areas to the total school population across the country.

If Johnny or May happens to live where hearing tests are not required, their deficiency might go undetected indefinitely. Billy was one of these. And his is a more or less typical case:

He was a shy, quiet child, of a large family. After scarlet fever at three Billy became even more reticent. Often he didn't respond to directions from his parents. His father thought Billy was disobedient and should be spanked.

JUST ABSENT-MINDED

"He's not a bad boy," his mother always would say. "It's just Billy's nature to be absent-minded. Maybe he'll outgrow it."

When Billy started to school he didn't play much with the other children. Once when he saw the teacher ask him a question he said timidly he hadn't heard her. She smiled at him reproachfully, said "How could you Billy? You weren't listening." After that he just shook his head when he didn't know the answer.

When he was nine his town's school board decided to institute audiometer tests.

He was found to have a serious hearing impairment arising from an infection that didn't clear up after scarlet fever. With a hearing aid, Billy is at last able to hear everything said to him. There is hope, too, that proper medical care will improve his natural hearing.

Dr. Edmund Prince Fowler, Sr., a specialist on hearing, says the mother is the logical person to notice impaired hearing.

SIMPLE TESTS

Dr. Fowler helped invent the audiometer more than 30 years ago. Here are some tests he suggests for mothers to use in simple home checks every few months.

1. Does your baby react to sudden noises like a telephone ringing, a door banging, loud clapping of hands, dogs barking? He should, with normal hearing.

2. Does your baby react if you suddenly come into his line of vision, as if he hasn't heard you enter the room? This would indicate impaired hearing.

3. Is he learning to talk normally and is his voice natural? Children learn to talk from hearing others talk. If they can't hear properly, they obviously won't be able to talk properly either.

"Children can develop hearing difficulties from whooping cough, mumps, colds, meningitis, even certain infections before the child is born," says Dr. Fowler. "Doctors can do a lot to prevent this if they know their business."

Hawaiian Buffet Menu Adventure in Cooking

By MARGARET CARR

Have you ever noticed that quite often the girl who brings home part of the bacon as well as doing "home work". is also the girl who breaks away from the traditional menu and tries something different?

Because her job takes her out of the home. she meets other women and learns of other meal ideas which her co-workers have found interesting. So, her adventuring begins and often the after-five homeworker becomes the wonder of her stay-at-home friends.

For the after-five hostess. a Hawaiian dinner or supper party could be an interesting experience for guests and hostess alike. Our menu is easily adapted so that very little work is required for the last hour before the meal service.

HAWAIIAN BUFFET MENU

Chilled Mixed Fruit Juices
Toasted Coconut Chips
Salted Nuts
Cocktail Cracker Bits
Hawaiian Curry — Hot Rice
Chutney
Chopped Salted Peanuts
Chopped Hard-cooked Egg Whites
Chopped Hard-cooked Egg Yolks
Crumbled Crisp Bacon
Chopped Green Onions
Shredded Coconut
Finely Chopped Parsley
Tossed Green Salad
French Dressing
Hot Buttered Rolls
Fresh Finger Fruits
Tea or Coffee

The curry is the focal point of the meal, but this improves on reheating, so it can be made a day ahead of time for last-minute heating. Hot rice is a must. Have it fluffy and dry with each grain distinct. The long grain rice is best. Since this is a 10-minute job, don't cook it too early.

The accompaniments to curry are as much a part of the recipe as the seasonings. None need be hot so these may be early-fixed for service in separate dishes clustered around the curry. These are perhaps the original of the fix-your-own foods.

Hawaiian desserts are fruits, pineapple, coconut, passion fruit, and bananas are all suitable. A fruit tray might contain serving-sized pieces of pineapple held in shape to hold fresh strawberries; inch-long pieces of banana, dipped in lemon juice to prevent discoloration; and kumquats of orange sections.

HAWAIIAN CURRY

2 cups hot milk
1 package shredded coconut
2 cloves garlic, chopped
2 teaspoons ground ginger
3 green onions, chopped
1 to 2 tablespoons curry powder
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1/3 cup flour
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup cream
3 cups cooked, boned chicken meat
Cooked rice

Pour hot milk over coconut and let stand 30 minutes. Add garlic, ginger, and onion to coconut (in milk). Combine curry powder and two tablespoons of butter in top of double boiler. Stir in coconut-milk mixture and cook over hot water for about two hours. stirring frequently. Strain through double thickness of cheesecloth. Blend the flour and remaining butter in top of double boiler. Add strained coconut milk. Stir and cook over hot water until the sauce is thick and smooth. Stir in salt and cream. Add chicken and cook slowly to prevent curdling — about 20 minutes. Serve hot on hot cooked rice.

Newlyweds to Make Their Home In Kimberley

KIMBERLEY — Kimberley and Chapman Camp families were linked with the marriage in the lily-decked Sacred Heart church here of Margaret Mary Morrison and Harold Chadwick Entwisle.

Rev. Father Cheevers officiated at the wedding of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Morrison and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Entwisle, Chapman Camp.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white net over satin, featuring a lace bodice. A chapel veil, a white satin caplet and a bouquet of red and white carnations enhanced the wedding dress.

The sole attendant, Mrs. Lorne Dow, the bride's sister, was in ballerina-length blue net over satin, with a net bodice and bolero. Her flowered hat was blue, her accessories white, and a touch of color was added by her pink rose corsage.

Mr. Frank Conrad Jr., was best man, and ushers were Mr. J. Lowe and Mrs. B. Crooks. Miss Gladys Smith played the wedding music.

When they arrived at the reception in Chapman Camp hall, the newlyweds were piped in by Mr. Gordon Stuart. Telegrams of congratulation were read and the table was centred with a three-tiered cake.

A wedding breakfast was served to 40 guests at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's mother chose a black crepe afternoon dress with white trim, red accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations, and the groom's mother was attired in a navy dress, navy accessories and had a corsage of apple blossoms.

The couple left for the U. S. and Vancouver, the bride travelling in a wool flannel dressmaker suit in an off-white shade with black fleck. Her accessories were in pink and black.

Mr. and Mrs. Entwisle will reside in Lower Blarchmont.

Guests from out of town, were Miss Lillian Morrison of Vancouver, sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Jenkins, grandparents, and Mrs. L. Hawkes, aunt of the bride, from Langley Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. George Page, uncle and aunt of the bride from Sechelt, B. Planting Plan Builds Flower Garden Appeal

An informal mixed border is one of the most popular ways of growing flowers, say nurserymen.

When you plan a border you can fill all your space with long-lived perennials, such as peonies, iris, phlox and daylilies.

Or, you can use these as the backbone of your planting and get still more color by filling in between them with bright annuals for summer and fall. Include among these, zinnias, marigolds, asters and cosmos.

One working plan for a perennial border with color all summer is simply this: first, choose a list of bold flowers that bloom in succession, such as iris, peony, daylily, phlox and chrysanthemums.

Next, group several plants of each of these in prominent places in your border, placing them according to their height. Then build up the importance of each of your principle flowers by planting near it lesser flowers, chosen for their flattering colors and contrasting shapes.

Heights and eventual spread of individual plants are items to consider when making a planting plan. Before you decide to include any plant, check to see how much room it will take.

THREE CLASSES

When you consider height, it will help to divide your plants into three classifications, tall, medium and low. Let one or two low-growing plants serve as edging at the front of your border. Medium-height plants take over the middle of the border and the tallest ones form the background.

Never underestimate your edgings—they're always in view. The choice in low-growing plants is endless. For your background you might include delphiniums, hollyhocks, tall liatris, Michaelmas daisies, monkshood, tall dahlias and lilies like the Madonna, auratum and regal.

For the centre row in a border you might choose, Canterbury bells, lupines, columbines, shasta daisies and medium-height phlox.

NEW BUILDING SET RECORD

Another record month for the value of construction contract awards has been set early in 1955. Following the release of all-time record figures for February, the figures for March, have also set an all-time record for volume for the month. Figures based on information collected by MacLean Building Reports further show that the first quarter of 1955 has set a Canadian record for construction contract award volume for this period.

Cumulative value of construction contract awards for the first quarter of 1955 of $529,872,000 was $253,486,600 over the figure set for the same period in 1954. The 1955 figure, which is almost double that of last year, again reflects the large number of individual high-value projects which have been initiated early this year. For instance during March, 1955, a $45 million smelter expansion contract was let at Kitimat, B. C., and this, along with other sizeable contracts let earlier in the year, helps to explain the comparative cumulative figures which follow.

Comparative cumulative figures for each category with 1954 figures in brackets are: Residential, $192,070,000 ($115,320,800), up $76,749,200; business, $120,840,200 ($110,409,200), up $10,431,000; industrial, $89,490,300 ($29,046,200), up $60,444,100; and engineering, $127,471,500 ($21,609,200), up $105,862,300. (The engineering figure reflects the impact of the St. Lawrence Seaway contracts let this year.)

Total value of construction contract awards for the month of March, 1955, of $189,039,400 was $84,160,700 over the figures of $104,878,700 set for the same month in 1954.

Comparative figures for March for each category (1954 figures in brackets) are as follows: Residential, $61,409,500 ($48,530,900), up $12,878,600; business, $41,457,900 ($39,575,900), up $1,882,000; industrial, $54,754,100 ($9,395,700), up $45,358,400; and engineering, $31,417,900 ($7,376,200), up $24,041,700.

Regionally, all areas except the Maritimes recorded gains for the month. The largest gain was made in the Western area, up $64 million; Ontario was up $18 million; Quebec was up $7 million, and the Maritimes was down $5 million.

All categories gained in the Western region. Due to the large $45 million smelter project the $81.5 million total was up $64 million over last year. Gains in residential and business plus a $12.5 million gain in engineering helped to swell the total.

Twenty-two projects appear in the "Big Jobs of the Month" list. Eleven were recorded in Quebec, secen in Ontario and five for the Western area.

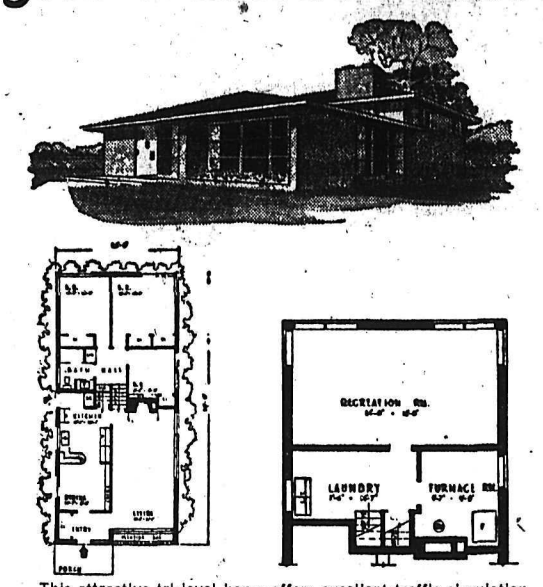
The Modern Home



This attractive tri-level home offers excellent traffic circulation because of its well divided areas. The ground level includes a large living room with a fireplace at one end and the kitchen and dining area. The upper level holds three bedrooms with large closets and a bath. The lower level features a large recreation room, laundry, and furnace room.

These plans are published for the interest and information value only. The Daily News cannot supply detailed blueprints or specifications. Those contemplating building homes should consult a local architect, designer or builder.

Room Looks Larger If One Color Used

Using the same color on the walls and woodwork of a small room makes the room look larger by eliminating the eye-catching contrasting hues that seem to "cut up" the wall areas. Following the same practice is often advisable in rooms where the woodwork is not well placed. By making the woodwork blend with the surrounding wall, its deficiencies are made less noticeable.

MANY USES FOR DRILL

Closest approach to a "universal" tool for a home workshop is the electric drill. It has many attachments for doing a great variety of work.

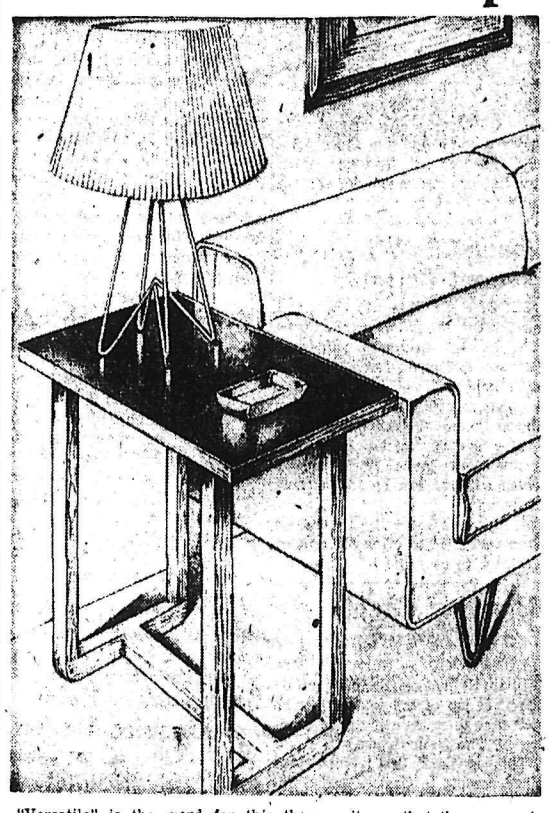
Modern Methods Prevent Wood Decay

Modern wood-preserving methods by pressure process poison the food supply of the decay-producing fungus. Injected under pressure and heat, the preservative also protects against insects such as the termite.

Aluminum Paint Labels Handy

A good, legible label for workshop cans and boxes can be made with aluminum paint. Dab on a patch of paint, let it dry and then write the label with a black grease pencil. Should you want to change the label, turpentine removes the writing—but not the paint.

Home Workshop



"Versatile" is the word for this easy-to-build end table. Its size makes it ideal for use at the side of a sofa or arm chair, as an occasional piece in the living room or hall, or as a night table. It is 15" wide, 27" long and 24" high. End tables make welcome gifts. Plan to make two or more when you buy the materials specified in the pattern.

By following the step-by-step method of construction outlined in the full-size pattern offered below, anyone with simple hand tools and stock-size materials should find little difficulty making and finishing this well-designed piece of furniture.

Many people who have made these write us that they are using the new plastic-surfaced plywood for the top. This now comes in a wonderful selection of colors and wood grains and is completely impervious to stains or cigarette burns. Bonded under enormous pressure to plywood, it requires no painting or other finishing. It saws like wood.

Enzymes Help Speed Septic Tank Digestion

In areas where there are no sewers, community-minded people are concerned about the danger of ground pollution from septic tanks.

Enzymes have now been put to work on the sewage problem. A new enzyme-active biological compound packaged for home use "digests" sewage in exactly the same way the body digests food. It turns the organic solids into liquid so that bacteria can digest and absorb them.

Bacteria cannot assimilate solid food and sewage digestion can take place only after solids have been liquefied. The new enzyme-active compound contains more than 70 different enzymes, each of which liquefies a specific fat, starch or protein component of sewage.

A man who has spent most of his life building and installing septic tanks says that if it's built right and treated right, a septic tank should work indefinitely.

Most septic tanks are "built right" but not all are "treated right." Inevitably, housewives put large amounts of cooking fats or soap or detergents into their septic tanks. Others have garbage disposal units which disgorge into the septic tank slow-decaying things like shredded vegetables.

All these things retard the digestive process and sludge may accumulate to the point where solids begin to clog the drain field. Before enzymes were used to cause this accumulated sludge to flow freely, a householder had to have the septic tank pumped out. With an enzymatic compound, a properly designed tank of proper capacity may not need pumping oftener than one every 12 to 20 years.

COMFORT IS IMPORTANT WHEN PAINTING

Any piece of furniture to be painted should be raised off the floor. Although this is chiefly a comfort factor, the comfort of the brush wielder is important to the result of his efforts.

For finishing chairs and other small pieces of furniture, a turntable is an excellent idea. You can make one easily from an old, screw type piano stool.

Chairs and tables should be finished from the bottom up. Paint all the bottom surfaces, including seat, legs and back. Stand chairs upright to paint the top surfaces, finishing the seat last.

Finish the bottom sections and edges of a table frst. Then proceed to the legs.

Do the inside surfaces of the lesg next, then the sides of the table and the outside of the legs. The top comes last.

If the legs are round, brush around them first, and finish with lengthwise strokes.

Before starting a cabinet or chest, remove all drawers, knobs and hardware. If possible, mount the cabinet on two saw-horses.

Begin application of the finishing material on the cabinet panels, doing the panel edges first. Then cross brush the panel and finish with light, vertical strokes. The remaining surface can be finished as a table.

Paint the drawers separately, of course. Paint drawer sides about six inches back from the front, then do the edges and finish front panels last. Stack the drawers facing in alternate directions to dry.

Built-In Electric Appliances Popular

Biggest drawing card of a Home Builders' show in Chicago was the built-in electric appliances.

Ranges and ovens were emphasized but refrigerators and freezers were displayed too.

It was evident that built-ins are not only popular, they are the rule.

New surface cooking units fold out of the way when not in use, and stack-on ovens eliminate stooping.

Kitchen cabinet and appliance colors range from pink and pumpkin to natural wood and baked-on copper coatings.

Welcome to the housewife were such features as a built-in cutting board for sinks and a pump drain dishwasher that uses existing plumbing for drainage, permitting installation in homes that could not handle floor-drain models.

Other new ideas and products that attracted attention at the 1955 exposition included garage doors decorated with colorful design appliques of either metal or wood and electronically operated from either car or house.

Inside the home, low voltage wiring gives homebuyers a path of light throughout the house plus silent, automatic switching.

Monochromatic schemes, with carpet, walls and draperies all one neutral tone, create a quiet, retiring background that allows the furniture and accessories to "star."

Play Field Problem Faces Athletic Groups

By Staff Writer

Nelson's expanding sports and recreation program and prospects for even more outdoor team activities this season have city sports organizations again forecasting that they will be handicapped by lack of facilities.

In the past few seasons the lack of play space has curtailed activity in some divisions of sports activity. Lack of playing field space makes it particularly difficult to bring along young players as eventual replacements in the senior sections of athletics. It also makes it difficult to expand activities and consequently the participating sport populations.

The accompanying cartoon depicts the situation when things get in warm-weather swing at the Recreation grounds.

Suggestions from leaders in athletic endeavors range from installation of night lighting to extend the useable time at the grounds to opening up of new playing fields and sports facilities.

Advocates of an increase in playfield facilities point out that crowded conditions now make it necessary to be too selective in picking players for teams and in limiting the number of teams. Actually, they say, the best results are obtained if everyone who wants to play is able to regardless of ability. Recreation, participation and sportsmanship are held as far more important than just getting the best players into action.

The City for its part plans to continue its program of extending Lakeside Park with the possible installation of tennis courts this year. Bowling green was put into use last season. A start may be made on Rotary swimming pool to further add to facilities at Lakeside. The City will continue to add to tots' recreational equipment.

A suggestion that has been raised that is wavering in the winds for a sponsor is that to install a tots' wading pool.

HOPE FOR NEW GROUNDS

However, these things will add little to space for sports activities, although the new tennis courts will fill a long felt need. The new Nelson Recreation commission for its part, hopes to pursuade city dads to carry through the program to open the Uphill playgrounds. This would provide a site for girls' fastball, cricket and soccer, its advocates suggest. It would also provide a neighborhood recreation centre for a large residential section.

Queen Elizabeth Park, formerly known as Fairview Playfield, is pretty well occupied with little league and Pony league baseball. This year that set-up expects to expand with addition of Babe Ruth League play, a division between Pony and junior baseball.

School District No. 7 board of trustees has often noted that sports fields at the new district high school are forthcoming. These are still abuilding, however, and won't be available this year. School grounds, in the past, have not been notably successful additions to facilities for out of school activities, though they have played a very real role in school physical aducational programs.

SPECTATOR FACILITIES

To be of benefit, spokesmen of the city sports organizations, point out sports fields must provide for spectators as well as players. Costs for sports groups, like those for every other activity, have turned upwards and gate receipts are almost a necessity to keep most activities going. Facilities for spectators, it is pointed out, should be part of long-range plans for new sports fields.

Municipal recreation program under director Ed Kelter, will be able to fill up all facilities available. Mr. Kelter is prepared to handle, encourage or advise on ball, soccer, track and field, tennis, swimming and diving and just about anything else in which it is possible to whip up interest or in which there already is a following. Kelter will continue to keep his gymnast leaders group, at least, active and probably will carry out some of the sketching and hiking jaunts that have been popular in the past.

Box lacrosse will stage a comeback in the Civic Centre proper, and an archers club is a new organization seeking space for action.

EASE CONGESTION

C. Locatelli [illegible] associated with baseball in [illegible] believes the uphill park [illegible] brought into use for soccer [illegible] to eliminate congestion at the [illegible] Recreation Grounds. He also feels that a track and field [illegible] could be made at the [illegible] School. These things would certainly help to keep sports organizations intact."

MORE GROUNDS MORE TEAMS

President of the Nelson Royals, Olive Swihart, stated the girls don't get enough time on the Recreation Grounds. Because of this it is hard to get the younger groups to take to the game, which the Royals have made popular through the years. Newcomers to the game are discouraged because lack of diamond time makes it difficult for all comers to get into play. More than one team is needed for the best interests of the sport.

Ron Nash of the Nelson Outlaws feels there has been a lack of practice time for the Outlaw baseball team. Able to play approximately one game a month, the team finds it tough to operate. The source of income for a ball club is fans who attend. With the setup the way it is, fans don't get into the habit of attending the games.

TRY TO KEEP JUNIORS

Frank Hufty, president of the Leafs, had much the same view. Nelson was fortunate in having a team who have been champions for two seasons despite the lack of practice time, he said.

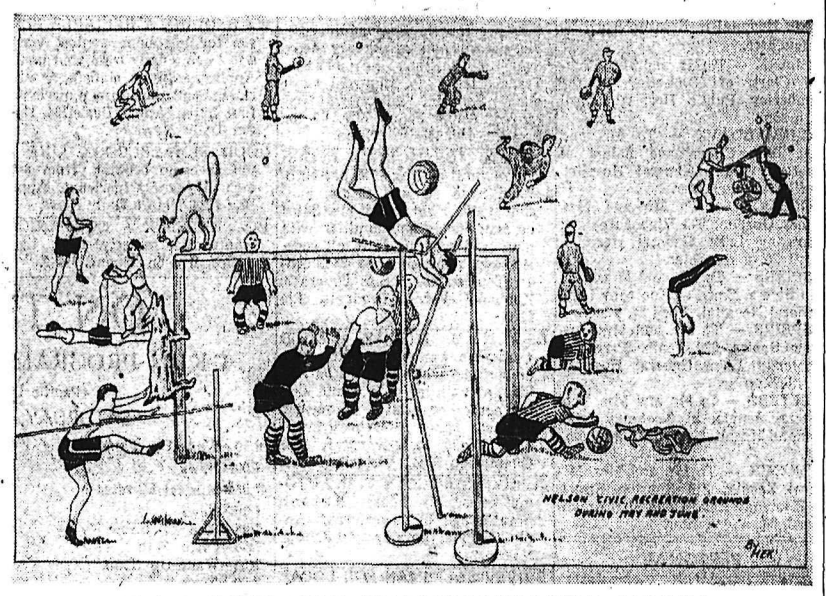
"With the Babe Ruth League coming," said Mr. Hufty "we must think of the future. When players leave that league we should have a junior league, if we are going to bring ballplayers along. At present we try to include several juniors on our club, but this could be made easier if we had the facilities to take care of all those who want to take part in baseball."

The conditions at the Recreations Grounds and the whole facility picture is under the scrutiny of Recreational Commission and it is hoped within the next year they will be able to improve facilities.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wallach, chairman, said the commission this year is not concerned with the grounds. "We are busy getting organized and setting up takes time. However, when the committee is functioning properly we will take charge of allotting the park and it will be done as fairly as possible."

UPHILL PROJECT

The committee this season hopes to see that money allotted for the uphill park is used to improve the grounds. "This will help a great deal," said Mrs. Wallach. "The park should be available this summer."



SUMMER SPORTS SCENE AT NELSON RECREATION GROUNDS

Tigers Win 6th Straight; White Sox Run Second

By The Associated Press

Detroit Tigers made Washington Senators their sixth straight victims Friday 3-2 to barrel into the American League lead as Kansas City belted New York Yankees out of the top spot 6-0 behind Bobby Shantz' three-hit pitching.

Chicago White Sox climbed into second place, a half game behind Detroit, by beating Boston 7-0 on rookie Dick Donovan's four-hitter. And Cleveland, ambushed by Baltimore 5-2, tumbled to fourth.

In the National League, Brooklyn added a half game to its lead although the Dodgers' game with the Chicago Cubs was rained out. Philadelphia joined Milwaukee in a second-place tie, 4½ games back, by getting rid of Warren Spahn in a six-run fifth to beat the Braves 13-4.

Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 5-0 in the only other game. Rain also washed out St. Louis at New York.

The Tigers, on their longest winning streak since 1950, got all their runs in the sixth. Ray Boone homered, rookie pitcher Frank Lary drove in the second run with a pop fly double and Harvey Kuenn singled Lary across with the winning run. Detroit's Al Kaline extended his hitting streak to 14 games in the afternoon contest.

SPACES HITS

Lary, a 24-year-old righthander, worked out of a couple of jams with clutch pitching and kept Washington's eight hits well spaced. Mickey Vernon batted in both Nat runs, with a single and his third homer.

Baltimore ganged up on Cleveland for four runs in the ninth as four singles followed Gene Woodling's leadoff double. It was Baltimore's first success in Cleveland since rejoining the AL last season.

Ray Moore was hte winner, in relief of Harry Byrd in the ninth, while Mike Garcia, who no-hit the Orioles for five innings, lost his third decision against one victory.

Shantz had the Yanks on a string all the way at Kansas City. He gave up a single in the first, but it was the seventh before New York got No. 2, also a single. The third single came in the ninth.

Bobby had a 4-0 lead after two innings as the A's routed rookie Johnny Kucks with a pair of runs in the first two frames. Bill Wilson drove in two of the runs with a single and homer.

Earl Torgeson's double, four singles and two walks got the six runs across for the Phillies in the big fifth as Ray Crone and Ernie Johnson came on in relief of Spahn. Del Ennis gave the Phils a 2-0 lead in the first with his third home run.

Herm Wehmeier held the Braves to four hits — including Bobby Thomson's solo home run in the fourth and Andy Pafko's three-run triple in the ninth. Rain fell through the last half of the game.

The Redlegs had things pretty much their way at Pittsburgh with Joe Nuxhall hitting a home run and scattering six Pirate hits. Nuxhall fanned six and didn't allow a walk. Ted Kluszewski drive in two runs with a single and double.

Eastern Game Man Tells of Cougars Return to the East

One of the rarest animals to Eastern Canada, the cougar, is again taking up residence in New Brunswick.

This fact was disclosed when Bruce S. Wright, director of the Northwestern Wildlife Station, Wildlife Management Institute of Fredericton, N.B., visited Nelson.

Mr. Wright, who has visited Vancouver Island and the Kootenays for the past month to accumulate information on the cougar, stated they were hoping to place the cougar in the same category as other protected game animals. "The reason," said Mr. Wright, "is we feel because they are rare in our area and they feed on deer which otherwise would die they should be protected."

Mr. Wright, who has been in the game organization since his discharge from the Navy in 1945, over the past month has made trips into cougar country in an effort to pick up their tracks and their customs so when he arrives back East he will be able to distinguish their signs. During his studies he has been accompanied by Al West, superintendent of predatory animal control from Vancouver, and Game Warden Ted Rutherglen of Nelson.

Mr. Wright said the cougar was thought to be extinct from 1860 until 1948 in the East. "In 1948 we found what we believed to be unmistakeable tracks of cougar. After taking a cast and sending them away we discovered they were cougar tracks.

"The only possible reason we know of for their existence in the East again is the increasing herds of deer in that area. Besides this, cougar food there are great numbers of porcupines in that area, another food for cougars."

"As yet there are few cougars in the East," said Mr. Wright, "and if I recall correctly, I have seen only four kills in the last 10 years. Just how many would be in the New Brunswick area is undetermined, but we feel they are few. At present Vancouver Island and the Kootenays are the places where they are in any great number. It is known that a pocket of about 25 exists in Florida.

DIFFERENT

"From what I have seen of the Eastern type, they differ slightly and are known as the Eastern Panther."

While in the West, Mr. Wright went cougar hunting on Vancouver Island and bagged one cat, a study from which he learned a great deal.

While hunting in the Lardeau country this week with Rutherglen, Mr. Wright discovered tracks, but the animal had a long head start. However, the tracks have aided him in his studies of the animal which after many years has arrived back in New Brunswick.

Mr. Wright, with his survey completed, left Friday for Fredericton.

PRACTICE SUNDAY

Nelson Outlaws will hold their initial 1955 practice Sunday morning at the Civic Recreation grounds. The Outlaw management is urging all baseball players interested to turn out to practice. "Everyone will be given a full opportunity to make the team."

MARLBOROS VICTORIOUS

Toronto Team Takes Series 4-1 for Memorial Cup

REGINA (CP) — Toronto Marlboros plumped home three quick goals in the third period to force overtime, then added three more in the extra session to defeat Regina Pats 9-5 and win the Memorial Cup for the first time since 1929.

Pats blew a 3-0 first-period lead in their bid to extend the best-of-seven Canadian junior hockey final to a sixth game. Coach Turk Broda's Marlboros, after losing the series opener 3-1, came back for four straight victories, the last two in overtime. Scores were 5-2, 3-2, 3-2 and 8-5.

Denver, Silverton Baseballers Meet Sunday Afternoon

NEW DENVER — New Denver - Silverton baseball club will meet Sunday afternoon to organize for the coming season.

The club here had a successful season last year, playing 12 games and dropping only three. It is hoped to build this year's club around right-hander Ken Gordon, and the hustling catcher Knobby Hayashi. It is expected first sacker Andy Avison will be back, along with Bud Leask, Barrie Morrison, Wayne Morrison, Dave Crellin, Kenje Hayashi. With up and coming youngsters like Tom Ida, Bill Harcus, and Keith Wilson a team stronger than last year will be organized.

Kimberley Team Organizes for Baseball Season

KIMBERLEY — Kimberley Dynamos senior baseball team is in process of organization for the 1955 season, with John Achtzener continuing as business manager. Last season Dynamos ended in second place as members of the Spokane Twilight League.

This year they plan to switch affiliation to the Western International League, to play against Bonners Ferry, Libby, Troy, Sagle and Creston on a schedule of road games alternate weekends.

Poor summer weather last season is blamed for a deficit over the season of $247.93, along with capital expenditures for equipment and uniforms for Dynamos initial season. Total revenue was $4998.11 of which only $2778.08 came from gate receipts from the 20 home games. League affiliation required $2000 guarantee for Spokane clubs, and uniforms and equipment, to be used again this year cost $1156.94. Expenditures for the season totalled $5216.11.

Bowlers From Four Centres To Vie for Five-Pin Crown Sunday

Bowlers of four Kootenay centres will be in Nelson Sunday for the first annual Kootenay Open five-pin 25-game marathon.

The event promises to become one of the best events of the bowling season. Many entries had to be turned down due to the lack of time. Entry has been limited to 30.

The bowling will get under way at 8 a.m. Sunday and, it is expected, will continue for 12 hours continuously.

The top average bowler of the tournament will be One Basso of Trail, who sports a 237. He will be followed by another Traillite, Ed Daloise, with a 235. Next in line is Bruce Malcolm of Nelson with a 231. Malcolm, who in five other marathon bowling events in Nelson has come away with four seconds and a first, will be making his bid for the Kootenay championship.

The next best average comes from Trail in the person of Albert Cancian, who sports a 229 average, followed by Cranbrook's Stu Malcolm, brother to Bruce Malcolm. Stu, like his brother, hits the pins for a fine average, 227.

Al Bakken, also of Cranbrook, sports a 226 and promises to give the other bowlers stiff competition. Currently holding a 225 average is Ferro Pelligrin of Trail, a real threat in any tournament and one of the most dangerous competitors.

Following down the list of averages is Cranbrook's Ed Erickson, with a 224. Although small in stature, Erickson has proved in his city that he can tumble the pins. At 223 is Nelson's Elio Zuccolo, who moved to the Queen City from Trail three months ago. He will be out to try and keep the crown here as he competes with former teammates from the Silver City.

Three bowlers with a 222 average will be entered. Rossland's left-handed Herb Castle will be making his first bid in marathon competition along with Alf Bakken of Cranbrook. Bakken, a smooth tumbler, is president of the Cranbrook Five-Pin Bowling Association. Jerry Pickering, the curve-balling artist from Nelson, will be hard to beat if the curve works for him.

A dark horse with only a 221 average, Bob MacDonald could easily upset the cart when the scores are totalled. His average suffered due to two badly cut fingers recently but he has recuperated and will be a strong threat. Another strong contender for the title will be Cec Forest of Trail, who, like Pickering, is a curve ball artist and one of the best.

TOURNAMENT PLAYER

Leading the under-220 class will be Bob Ridenour of Trail with a 219. Many times this past season he has scored over 700 aggregates. Henry Bertola of Cranbrook with a 219 is expected to give the other 29 bowlers trouble. He is a tournament player.

Three Nelson bowlers, Joe Sikorski, Darrell Prezau and Len Wise sport 218's. Sikorski captured one of the Nelson marathons, while Prezeau, formerly of Prince George and Vancouver packs plenty of punch. Wise is the brother of Ted Wise, who captured the second annual Nelson tournament and still holds the 25-game average record with a 248.

Cec Grimwood, the methodical bowler from Trail holding the lucky 213 number, was on a team coming in third in the bowl-a-car tourney three years ago in Vancouver.

Alex McClelland, although having an average of 210, was the winner of this year's Nelson marathon. He, with Len Wise, are the two rookies of the tournament. Another 210 average player is Al Merlo, a six-foot-four-inch speedball artist from Trail. Merlo usually averages four or five straight strikes per game as he bowls with an easy motion.

Art Bouchard of Nelson and the former president of the Cranbrook club, has a 209 average but better things are expected of him. He had a 232 average last season and could break out of his slump.

Following with a 208 is Clyde Mills of Nelson, the oldest player in the district. In the Nelson tourneys he has always ended close to the top and on one occasion won the event.

TOURNEY TYRO

At 207 is Ross Mathews of Trail, who will be entering his first 25-game marathon. The last of the 200's is Clarence Lenardon of Trail, who currently holds a 202. Just under the wire is Art Korevar of Nelson, a real tournament bowler with only two seasons under his belt. Gil Johnson will also be out to better his standing, having hit fifth spot in the last marathon.

The two remaining entries are Trail's Clarence Young, another speedball artist who pulverizes the pins, and Harold Mayo of Nelson, one of three entrants to be tossing the ball from the left side.

At the conclusion of the tournament, a banquet will be held for the participants, at which time future plans will be discussed.

WORK PARTY TO IMPROVE GOLF COURSE TODAY

A work party, under the supervision of Spud Cameron will venture to the Nelson Golf and Country Club course Saturday and Sunday to put the course in shape for the official opening to take place Wednesday.

The party is expected to prune many trees, and do some burning and paint jobs on benches and several other items along the course.

The official opening Wednesday will see a two-ball foursome run off. President Jimmy Allan reported several new members have phoned to enquire about joining the club this season.

Maple Leaf Runs Good Second

LONDON (CP) — The Queen's Maple Leaf, a two-year-old chestnut filly believed named for Canada, ran a promising second Friday in her first appearance on a racecourse.

The filly, starting at 100 to 6 in a £200-added race at Newmarket, just missed pulling off a surprise. She swerved when making her bid but still got within a head of the winner, M. W. Wickham-Boynton's 13-8 favorite Ribambelle. There were eight runners.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman said it was not certain whether the Queen chose Maple Leaf's name herself, and if so whether the implied link with Canada was deliberate.

But it was reported earlier that the Queen had spent a long time puzzling over names for her two-year-olds. She might have been inspired to think of Canada by the name of Maple Leaf's dam, Northern Hope.

Another unraced two-year-old of the Queen's stables is Sunburned Country, believed suggested by a Royal visit to Australia.

40 to Attend Track and Field Clinic in Nelson

The first of two track and field clinics in Nelson will take place today with instructors H. Kruger of Fruitvale, Dave Shunter of Creston and Joe Haley of Trail taking care of the 40 expected students.

Both Kruger and Shunter attended the instructors' course at UBC, Vancouver, which was jointly sponsored by UBC, B.C. Track and Field Association and the Community Programs Branch.

Points to be covered during the two clinics (the second one to take place next Saturday) are running, throwing and jumping events, administration, conditioning, rules and equipment and warm-up, body work and massages.

There is expected to be 40 prospective instructors from 15 recreational commissions, all junior and senior high schools and some of the larger elementary schools of the West Kootenay region.

Landy Expects To Quit Running

MELBOURNE (AP) — The world has probably seen the last of miracle John Landy as a competitive runner.

After he was invested as a Member of the British Empire at Government House Friday, "in recognition of his outstanding representation in Australian amateur athletics," Landy said:

"I doubt if I will ever run competitively again. I simply haven't time or the opportunity to train."

In June 1954, in Finland, Landy established the present mile record of three minutes, 58 seconds. He now is a teacher of agriculture.

Population Higher

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's population increased to 15,482,000 on March 1, a rise of 72,000 from Dec. 1. This made for a total increase of 399,000 or 2.6 per cent over March 1, 1954, the bureau of statistics reported Friday.

The first-quarter 1955 rise compares with increases of 78,000 and 68,000 respectively, in the corresponding periods a year and two years ago.

The Japanese earthquake and tidal wave of 1923 cost about 143,000 lives.

Truckers Want Change in CPR Freight Tariff

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Trucking Associations have asked the board of transport commissioners to rescind a freight tariff which permits the CPR to haul loaded truck trailers across the Prairie provinces.

The associations, representing about 7000 trucking companies, said in a statement Friday the tariff item contravenes the provisions of the Railway Act, is "unjustly discriminative" and gives the Canadian Pacific Transport Company "undue and unreasonable preference and advantage."

CPTC, a CPR subsidiary, is the only company which may move its loaded trailer trucks on CPR flat cars across Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the associations said.

In a brief to the board, the associations maintained that the Railway Act stipulates that railways must afford to all persons and companies "all reasonable and proper facilities" in traffic transportation.

The act also states that no railway shall give "undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to or in favor of any particular person or company," the associations added.

The truckers want the tariff item to be set aside or that the trailer-on-flat-car service be extended to all trucking companies.

Agree on Coalition

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's four government parties have agreed in principle to form a coalition to replace the Socialist-dominated government in the state of Lower Saxony, party officials said Thursday. Control of Lower Saxony would give Adenauer the vital two-thirds majority in the federal Bundesrat (upper house) needed for rearmament legislation.
