WEATHER FORECAST

Kootenay: Cloudy with a few light snow-showers. Colder. Winds light. Low-high at Cranbrook and Crescent Valley 24 and 35.

WHAT WITH FALSE TEETH, black wax for blocking out teeth, false whiskers, and a prodigious number of the fiercest looking masks imaginable being sold these days, there's little doubt Hallowe'en is at hand. This little miss decided to try out her outfit to see if she would look rough 'n tough enough to go trick-or-treating tonight. The pistol she's a-totin' indicates she means business.

Youssef Ends Exile; Arafa Gives Up Throne

About-Face Moves of Former Youssef Enemies Brings Former Sultan Home

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Moroccan politics boiled toward a climax Sunday as deposed Nationalist sultan Ben Youssef ended his Madagascar exile and his successor renounced the throne.

The quickening developments all suggested greater strength for Youssef, who was kicked off the throne two years ago but now is flying to France with more backing than ever.

The man named to replace 41-year-old Youssef, Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa, Saturday renounced his rights to the throne in favor of the former sultan, who has become a flaming Nationalist symbol. This added new force to the movement to restore Youssef to the throne. That movement was launched when Thami el Glaoui, powerful Pasha of Marrakesh, changed sides and rallied to Youssef.

ARAFA IN TANGIERS

Arafa's action was disclosed by his protocol chief, Abderrahjam el Hajoui, who said a letter embodying the decision was handed French Resident-General Pierre Boyer de Latour for relay to President Rene Coty of France. Hajoui said the letter clearly states that Arafa renouncesn his rights in favor of Youssef. Arafa now is in Tangiers, where he took up residence Oct. 1 after turning his powers over to a four-man regency council.

COUNCIL'S MISSION

The French agreed to return Youssef to France as a concession in their negotiations with Moroccan Nationalists. The French had strongly opposed his return to the throne, but in the last month Youssef's Moroccan opponents have one by one performed startling about faces.

A member of the throne council — which was supposedly weighted in favor of French views—came out Sunday with a statement that the mission of the council is simply to reinstall Youssef. The statement was made by Mohamed Ben Jah Taibi Sbihi, a Pasha appointed by the French.

It was the first open statement by a member of the council urging Youssef's immediate return.

Man Drowns as Car Skids Off Wharf

SALMON ARM, B.C. (CP) — One man was drowned Sunday when the car in which he was riding skidded off a wharf and plunged into the Shuswap lake here.

Dead is Robert Ferguson, about 35, of South Canoe.

Two others, Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Newnes of Salmon Arm, swam to safety.

Police said the car got out of control while Mr. Newnes was driving down an incline and skidded off the apron of the government loading wharf into eight feet of water.

Mr. Ferguson, a non-swimmer, waited on the roof of the car while Mr. Newnes swam with his wife to the wharf.

The victim had disappeared from the roof of the car when the two reached safety.

His body was found four hours later.

A former North Vancouver resident, Mr. Ferguson is survived by his widow and two children.

"Black Hand" Terrorizes Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily (Reuters) — The murderous "black hand," secret Italian gangster organization that once held Sicily in a grip of terror, appears to be on the warpath again after four years of inactivity.

Three killings and a kidnapping have led to the belief that a new outbreak of gangster terror is being engineered by the dread society, members of which are said to have spearheaded gang crime in the United States.

Two weeks ago the son of a wealthy and powerful landowner was kidnapped before his father's eyes by a masked band.

Baron Francesco Agnello remarked as he prepared to pay his son's 15,000,000 lire ($24,000) ransom: "Even the bandit king Giuliano never dared to trouble me This gang must be powerful indeed."

Sinclair Report Still Awaited

OTTAWA (CP) — Fisheries Minister Sinclair's own story of his visit to Russia and Red China — first by a Canadian cabinet minister — and his serious accident in Siberia still remain to be told.

Mr. Sinclair arrived in Ottawa Saturday night by RCAF North Star from Vancouver where he had been in hospital for several weeks receiving treatment for jaundice and leg and back injuries. He suffered the spinal and leg injuries in a fall at Petropavlovsk, a fishing village in Siberia. On his return to Canada it was discovered he had developed jaundce.

Mr. Sinclair did not talk to waiting reporters anxious to interview him on his visits to Moscow, Russia's Siberian fishing ports and the Chinese Communist capital of Peiping.

Alistair Fraser, the minister's executive assistant who accompanied him on his trip behind the Iron Curtain, said Mr. Sinclair will not talk to reporters until he has had further rest.

Slide Derails Train Near Hope

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian National Railways' cracks Super Continental was derailed by a rockslide 10 miles east of Hope, B.C. Sunday evening.

CNR officials here said the engine and five cars of the transcontinental train left the track after the train, moving slowly at the time, ran into the rocks.

No one was injured and all the cars remained upright.

The train left Vancouver at 2:45 p.m. PST and reached hope, about 100 miles east of here, shortly after 6 p.m.

A double-unit diesel, a baggage car, two day coaches and a sleeper-cafe car left the track.

The 45 passengers were to be taken by bus to Hope, where they were to board a later eastbound train.

DECEPTIVE CAR

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Better Business Bureau here will take part in a country-wide crackdown on deceptive automobile advertising.

The bureau, a voluntary watchdog on business ethics, said Saturday it was concerned about certain practices used to promote the sale of new and used cars.

Leading the crackdown is the Association of Better Business Bureaus, representing 108 branches in Canadian and the U.S.

Low Defines Six-Point "On to Ottawa" Policy

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Solon Low, in a major policy speech predicted here Saturday night his Social Credit party would roll into Ottawa—perhaps in 1957—on a provincial rights program.

"Only fools make predictions" the national party leader said, "but I will say we are going to have a Social Credit government in Canada and we are going to make a right good effort to get it in there in 1957."

Mr. Low made his prediction in an address to a banquet audience of 600 which closed the two-day, seventh annual convention of the B. C. Social Credit League.

"If we fail to form a government in the next few years, it will be because the people have failed—you and I.

"It is there for the taking."

GEARED TO FARMER

Mr. Low, terming Social Credit "the greatest movement ever conceived outside Christianity itself," said the Canadian economy is geared to the farmer, whose income has dropped 40 per cent since 1951.

"When the Canadian farmer is not prosperous, the rest of us cannot hope to be prosperous," he said.

"The farmers of Canada can't be blamed for thinking the more they produce the poorer they get."

Mr. Low outlined six policies which he said would carry Social Credit to Ottawa.

1. "Social Credit will see to it that so long as 20 per cent of the population is agricultural, their share of the Canadian economy will be 20 per cent."

2. "We believe in a new era of Dominion-Provincial co-operation. Canada is ready for a new immigration policy" in which the provinces would have a voice. Health insurance should be applied on a basis of Dominion-Provincial co-operation.

SHUT OUT HEELERS

3. He predicted a "new era of resources development" to keep "great grants out of the hands of heelers. The resources belong to the people."

4. "We offer a new concept of social security," preserving provincial rights. "Social Credit will preserve the freedoms of the people intact."

5. He said Canada needed a new financial and economic party.

6. "We have a new concept of political organization." He said the party must "train people in the art of taking part in their own government. No more patronage, pork barrel and skullduggery."

The national leader said unemployment hit 400,000 in Canada last year and would go even higher at the next seasonal slump if farmers are denied their just income.

MARKETS VITAL

"Canada needs markets, markets, markets," he said.

". . . The greatest market for Canada today is the Canadian people themselves. They must be supplied with sufficient purchasing power . . . and that is what we aim to do."

Mr. Low said Canada should accept sterling "instead of tying ourselves to the United States."

"We are forcing the United Kingdom to go behind the Iron Curtain to buy her wheat and lumber. That is a tragic thing."

He said Saskatchewan would be the next province to vote in a Social Credit government and that Manitoba and Ontario were beginning to experience "the irresistible force" of a growing Social Credit organization."

Trio Questioned In Nelson Theft

FORT MACLEOD, Alta. (CP)—Larry Hill, 17, and Gordon Erickson, 20, both of New Westminster, B.C., and Cliff Lamirande, 17, of Duck Bay, Man., were sentenced to three-month jail terms when they pleaded guilty today to charges of breaking and entering.

Erickson and Hill were arrested and charged two hours after RCMP officers saw three men leave the Charlton Transport garage in this town 35 miles west of Lethbridge October 21.

Lamirande was arrested 18 hours later hitchhiking on a highway northwest of here.

RCMP officers said British Columbia police have requested them to hold the trio. RCMP said the three were questioned concerning a theft at Nelson.

Want Machinery Owner Taxed

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Social Credit league Saturday asked that the government stop taxing landlords for machinery owned by tenants.

The resolution, presented at the league's annual convention here, asks the tax be collected only from the owner of taxable machinery.

The tax is part of a new assessment equalization and school financing scheme.

A committee will be set up in Victoria next month to study proposals to allow dental technicians to make and sell dentures. Health Minister Eric Martin said here Saturday.

The minister was speaking against a resolution presented to the seventh annual convention of the B.C. Social Credit League which read:

"Be it resolved that no technicians be allowed to make dental plates and repairs and to sell them to the general public."

In setting up the committee, said Ray McCarthy of Victoria, the minister "is exposing one of the meanest rackets today."

Delegates voted against seeking an investigation into the prices of antibiotics and other prescription drugs.

A resolution asking an increase of at least $5 in the old age pension cost of living bonus was withdrawn after it was decided to ask the government to revise regulations covering home ownership as it affects senior citizens.

Defeated was a resolution proposed by Howard Walters, Delta delegate and president of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

Mr. Walters, a vice-president in the B.C. Electric, urged that dependents of B.C. servicemen be covered by hospital insurance immediately on their return to permanent residence in the province. It went down after Health Minister Eric Martin said:

"Where would you stop? It would be opening the flood gates" for people to come in as transients and quality for BCHIS.

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks described as "socialism," a resolution that legislation be sought to institute compulsory arbitration in disputes in industries where the product is of a perishable nature. It was defeated.

Sod Turned for New Hospital At Invermere

INVERMERE — History was made in the Windermere district Sunday when the first sod was turned for the long-awaited Windermere District Hospital at Invermere.

The ground was broken for the $248,000 institution by Mrs. Chris Madson of Radium Hot Springs, president of the Windermere District Hospital Association.

The ceremony was opened by Dr. F. E. Coy, chairman of the Village Commission, and prayers were said by Rev. A. A. Burnett of Invermere and Rev. Father Agnellus of Athalmer.

Girl Guides of the Lake Windermere company, Brownies of the Lake Windermere packs and Wolf Cubs stood along the perimeter of the planned building to outline it for onlookers. Members of the Hospital Association from Edgewater, Canal Flat, Windermere and Radium joined those at Invermere for the ceremony.

Attendance was lessened by a bitter wind.

Ratepayers who had backed the proposed hospital since its first planning more than two years ago rallied last week to an emergency vote which due to a government technicality proved necessary before construction could be started. Voting was 153 to five in favor of the new hospital.

Contractor is Oland Construction of Lethbridge. Tenders for the staff residence will be called in the Spring. The building program calls for the new hospital to be completed and in use by April. Architect is Paul Smith of Trail.

New Warship a "World Leader"

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's first atomic-age warship has been described by Prime Minister St. Laurent as "a world leader" and "one of the most complex warships afloat."

The prime minister said Saturday at the commissioning of the new anti-submarine destroyer escort, St. Laurent, that the sole purpose of the 2600-ton ship "is the maintenance of peace and the defence of freedom."

He praised the "magnificent combination of Canadian skills" which made it "possible for us to produce in Canada a world leader."

"This vessel began as a sharp challenge to the skill of Canadian shipbuildings and manufacturers," Mr. St. Laurent told more than 1200 officials and guests at the Canadian Vickers shipyard, where the Canadian-designed warship was built.

"We see her today as a floating tribute to their accomplishments," he added. "None is better equipped for her particular purpose."

Mr. St. Laurent said the ship holds promise for the future "because she is part of our contribution to the defence of freedom under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

The St. Laurent — named for the river — is the first of 94 such ships being delivered to the navy at a cost of $15,000,000 each.

Dulles Protests Red Arms Going to Egypt

West Sees New "Cold War" Front Open While Russia Talks Peace at Geneva

By STANLEY PRIDDLE

GENEVA (Reuters) — U.S. State Secretary Dulles Sunday delivered a strong protest to Russian Foreign Minister Molotov over the threat to Middle Eastern peace posed by Communist arms shipments to Egypt.

Dulles gave Molotov the second Western protest on the issue in 24 hours during a one-hour visit to the Russian diplomat's villa.

Then he saw Israeli Prime Minister Moshe Sharett, who stressed to him Israeli's desire for armaments and a security guarantee against a threat to "her very existence" by Communist arms supplies to Egypt.

The series of rapid-fire developments brought the tense Middle East situation to the middle of Geneva's diplomatic stage as the Big Four foreign ministers took a day off from scheduled East-West negotiations.

SHARETT TO SEE MOLOTOV

The growing tension between Israel and the arming Arab states is not on the Big Four foreign ministers' conference agenda. But Sunday it overshadowed other topics as Dulles expressed the Western view that Russia has actually opened a new "cold war" front in the Middle East while talking peace at Geneva.

Western policy on the issue will be finally formulated at a Big Three meeting today after Sharett has seen Molotov and passed on the results of his interview to the western foreign ministers—Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Pinay.

Dulles' protest followed a similar statement to Molotov Saturday by Macmillan.

Both Russian and Western delegates maintained the closest secrecy about Molotov's responses to the Western protests. But it was taken for granted in conference quarters that he took the line broadcast by Moscow radio Saturday night.

U.S. IS SYMPATHETIC

This Russian rejoinder was that the Czechoslovak agreement to supply arms to Egypt was a normal commercial agreement. The radio laid the blame for Middle East tension on the West for promoting the Baghdad Defence Alliance of Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan, Iran and Britain.

Authoritative sources said Dulles told Sharett the U. S. would consider "sympathetically" any Israeli request for defensive arms but is not prepared further to encourage the arms race.

Sharett told reporters after his interview with Dulles:

"Israel considers her very existence now menaced by this massive increase of strength falling to her strongest and most pronounced enemy. If it is impossible to prevent that, then Israel's military position should be strengthened as far as possible.

Kelowna Man Heads B.C. PCs

VANCOUVER (CP) — Stuart Harrison Smith of Kelowna was elected president of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association at the annual convention here Saturday.

He succeeds Tom McDonald of Vancouver, who steps down after two years.

Mr. Finlayson said the party needs to prepare a policy on forest management "on which to wage the next election in B.C."

"We're not going to remain the low men on the totem pole," he said.

"The Lillooet by-election taught us that the government in power has the ear of the press — and we might as well prepare ourselves for that.

"We have no official policy on forest management. We agree there has to be some system of forest management. We approve of the principle of gazetting public working circles."

On power, Mr. Finlayson said Progressive Conservatives think B.C. power should turn the wheels of local industry, not that of the United States.

He said taxes in the province now are $100,000,000 higher than five years ago.

"The future of British Columbia has been mortgaged to an extent that has never been known before." He said the public debt was $289,000,000, not $124,000,000 as quoted by Premier Bennett.

Official Announcement About Margaret, Peter Expected Soon

By ADRIAN BALL

UCKFIELD, England (Reuters) — An official announcement on whether Princess Margaret and Group Capt. Peter Townsend will marry is generally expected this week.

As Margaret and Townsend continued their weekend here behind a tight police cordon at 18th century Uckfield House, circles close to royalty expressed belief they were making their final decision on whether or not to wed.

The expectation of an announcement is based on the fact that little time is left to settle the mounting uncertainty before the 40-year-old divorced airman returns to Brussels where he is air attache. He is due back from leave Nov. 7.

Between now and then, he and the princess will have only a few fleeting hours to talk over their plans because Margaret has a number of official engagements in the coming week.

TOWNSEND LOOKS WORRIED

The Princess drove here Friday after a talk with the Queen. The day before she went to see the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who has constantly upheld the Church of England's attitude against remarrying divorced people in church while their partners are still alive.

Sunday night the 25 - year - old Princess and Townsend were ending their second country weekend meeting as quietly and as mysteriously as they began it.

The Associated Press quoted an informant inside Uckfield House as saying Margaret was smiling, gay and sometimes singing Sunday night while Townsend, in contrast, looked worried and preoccupied.

STRICT PRECAUTIONS

The informant said they spent most of the crisp fall Sunday alone in the lounge with a roaring log fire, playing records, with Margaret singing occasional accompaniment.

When dusk fell over the white-porticoed mansino at Uckfield, police with dogs were still patrolling the 75-acre estate keeping watch.

Neither the Princess nor the airman had made a public appearance since they left London on Friday for their "weekend of decision" at the home here of Lord and Lady Rupert Nevill, friends of the royal family.

The elaborate security precautions taken to ensure complete privacy for the Princess and Townsend underlined the gravity of their meeting. The radio cars kept on the move around the lanes circling the estate while constables checked up on the identities of all callers to the house.

Woodward Said Accidentally Shot by Wife

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP)—William Woodward Jr., 35, millionaire sportsman, was killed Sunday by a shotgun blast which police said his wife fired when she got up to investigate a possible prowler in their swank country residence.

District - Attorney Frank A. Gulotta said the death was being listed as "accidental pending further investigation."

Woodward, owner of a racing stable including the current great three-year-old Nashua, was killed about 3 a.m. Police said his wife, Ann, 32, a New York society leader, telephoned for help immediately after the shooting.

Investigators found her incoherent when they arrived, but after being given a sedative, Gulotta and Chief County Detective Stuyvemsant Pinnel were able to question her briefly. She was placed under a doctor's care and police said they did not expect to question her further until today.

Woodward's body was found sprawled face down in the foyer of his bedroom. One shotgun blast had struck him in the head, and a second blast had smashed the woodwork.

Bridge Lack Sees Business Drop

MISSION CITY, B.C. (CP) — A lumber firm has suspended operations while a cannery is threatening to close because of a business decline in this area since the collapse of the Mission bridge july 24.

The Louis Clarke Shingle and Lumber Co., has closed down because logs cannot be brought across the Fraser river. Canadian Canners Western Ltd., the town's largest individual industry, is considering closing.

The collapse of the bridge has cut off easy access to the growing areas on the south side of the Fraser. This area also provided Mission with many of the consumers for its retail businesses.

Some businessmen claim they have lost 25 per cent of volume since the bridge collapsed.

Meanwhile, Keith Collyer, manager of the Pacific Co-operative Packing Union here, said: "Because there is apparently no plan or target date for restoration of the bridge, we must consider moving across the river."

DIVORCES CONDUCTOR

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski, 31, Saturday obtained a divorce here from her conductor husband, Leopold Stokowski. Twice-married, she did not mention future plans. Her name has been linked romantically with Frank Sinatra.

MRS. BERTHA WHYTE of Bowmanville, Ont., is never sure how many children she has living with her in her eight-room farmhouse. "There are about 44, I think," but makes it plain that twice that many wouldn't make any difference. For seven years she and her husband, Bert, have been taking in children of all ages, and though they admit they are always broke, they have no intention of changing their ways. They have two children of their own, but Mrs. Whyte has enough affection left over for the other 42. The children "just arrive" from broken homes, as orphans, or from families who are having financial troubles. Their house is being enlarged, with the help of strikers from the General Motors plant in Oshawa, and they grow food on their 100-acre farm to sustain their growing brood. Mrs. Whyte explains it this way. "We made a covenant with God. We do not belong to any church, but we want to live like Christians in the true sense of the word."

And In This Corner . . .

VANCOUVER (CP) — The city police department has a traffic problem of its own.

Police temporarily stopped impounding cars Friday after the 60 spaces in their garage were filled.

Deputy chief Gordon Ambrose said the department will ask civic authorities to provide a fenced-in parking lot for impounded cars.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — As twins, Mrs. Dorothy McDonald and Mrs. Helen McDonald always have done things together. They became engaged on the same day and seven years ago were married on the same day — to brothers. Last week, within half an hour, each gave birth to her first child. But Dorothy had a daughter and Helen a son.

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Police reported Sunday a thief snatched a knapsack in the railroad station and ran.

He'll be surprised.

The knapsack contains 12 live snakes for use in making medicine.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police were called Saturday night when a passerby couldn't wake two men asleep in a parked car.

The car was parked in the middle of a usually-busy Vancouver street.

H. E. Stevenson, Businessman Here 45 Years, Dies at Spokane, Age 68

Hazen Everett Stevenson, who operated a business in Nelson for 45 years, died Sunday in Spokane after an illness of three months. He observed his 68th birthday just three days ago on October 28.

Mr. Stevenson, whose business here grew from a horse shoeing and blacksmithing establishment to a modern machine shop, was born at Molus River, New Brunswick in 1887. Coming to Nelson in 1910 he started a business located where the Farmers Market used to be on Vernon Street. In 1919 he moved his business to its present site at 708 Vernon Street. Soon after he began acetylene welding, the first of this type of work in the Nelson area. In 1931 Mr. Stevenson obtained the first prevately owned electric welding equipment in the district.

Over the years more modern equipment has been added to Stevenson's Machine Shop Ltd., which handles a large amount of repair and maintenance work for district mines, mills, logging operations, sawmills, and contractors.

H. E. Stevenson in 1910 married Jennie Peterson who had come out from Sweden in 1906. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge since 1910 joining while still in New Brunswick. He was a member of the Nelson Chamber of Commerce for several years. He was an ardent supporter of outboard racing, and found most of his recreation at his camp and garden on the North Shore.

Mr. Stevenson had been in good health until three months ago when he consulted a specialist and underwent an operation in Spokane.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Henry Everett; two daughters, Mrs. R. D. Margaret Valentine and Mrs. A. H. (Alice) Stevens, all of Nelson; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Dickie of Danvers, Mass.; and eight grandchildren.

Masonic funeral service will be conducted Tuesday at the Masonic Temple and the public service at Thompson Funeral Home.

Coast Theatre Group Presents "Mr. Timekiller" Here Today

The Holiday Theatre Players of Vancouver who thrilled audiences here a year ago with their performance of "Puss and Boots" will present two performances of "Mr. Timekiller" at the Junior High Auditorium today.

The party of six are currently on a tour of the province, appearing at Hope, in the Okanagan, Trail. After playing here they will continue on to Kimberley, Invermere, Cranbrook, Fernie and Creston. The children's theatre group consists of Mildred Cushing, Michael Yardley, Glenyss McDairmid, Bill Green, Jean Wright and Norman Young. Shows are at 10:30 a.m. for elementary children and parents and at 1:45 p.m. for secondary students and parents.

"Mr. Timekiller" is the colorful, delightful story of a young man who decides to get rid of everything annoying, such as clocks, even the church clock, and the trouble he goes to to do this. The play is cast in a Italian peasant setting. Though designed for younger children, it appeals also to older children and adults, said Mrs. Cushing, who is in charge of the show.

In 26 performances in Vancouver before coming to the Interiors, crowds were from 300 to 500. Ages of the performers vary from 18 to 28 years. The play for children are under the dircetion of Miss Joy Coughill of Vancouver.

MAN INJURED IN ACCIDENT

One man was hospitalized Saturday night following an automobile accident on the Ymir Road about four miles from Nelson. The car, which allegedly rolled, was a United States vehicle. The driver was the lone occupant.

Further particulars, including the man's name, were not available Sunday night from RCMP who investigated the accident and were still on patrol.

Thrills of First Solo Flight Related By Award-Winning Castlegar Cadet

CASTLEGAR — "I look down, and there's a tree below me—I'm flying!"

This was how Corp. Ed Killough, Castlegar Air Cadet, described the take-off on his first solo flight. Corp. Killough was winner of the Air Force Association Trophy for highest standing in the Province, and was a close second to the highest in the Dominion of Canada.

One of the guest speakers at the Stanley Humphries Parent-Teacher Association meeting Ed won the hearts of the audience with his hilarious tales of adventure and near misadventure.

More seriously, he stressed the fact that he owed a lot to the patience and efficiency of the instructors, and to all those people who supported the Cadet movement and made this training possible.

Continuing, Corp. Killough told briefly of the Cadets training in navigation, meteorology, the theory of flight and air regulations, all of which subjects are vitally important and a necessary part of learning to fly.

In closing, he read a humorous little poem depicting the hard lot of the instructor.

CONFIDENCE NEEDED

Corp. Glen York, who also took the course, and obtained a high standing, remarked that as he saw it, self-reliance was a big thing in learning to fly. You had to rely entirely on your own judgment. He was very appreciative of the opportunity to take the course, and to be able to realize the wish he had always had, that of being able to fly.

Flight Lieutenant W. H. Reed, of the 581st Squadron, Castlegar Air Cadets, introduced the boys and gave a brief outline of the formation of the Cadets and the manner in which the organization functions. He wished everyone to understand that Cadet work is completely voluntary as in other branches of the services. F. L. Reed was proud of the work the Cadets had been doing, especially those taking special courses.

Mr. Cail, program chairman, also introduced Mrs. R. Martini, girl's physical education instructor, who spoke briefly on the purposes of physical education. The boys and girls learn co-ordination, and poise, they learn to be better spectators and, of utmost importance, they learn good sportsmanship. Mrs. Martini said although this word is over-worked and at times misplaced, she felt it meant to be able to lose as well as to win, and to be considerate of those who were not able to attain as high a standard as oneself. In short, physical education is an aid to better citizenship, she said.

During the business session of the meeting, it was decided to make a grant towards purchase of basketball uniforms, and the budget for the ensuing year was adopted.

Mrs. D. Campbell reported in brief on the recent regional conference, which had earned many favorable comments as to facilities and entertainment, but had financially ended very slightly in the red.

Mrs. M. Martini, PTA president, displayed a briefcase purchased as a gift for Mr. Thomas, former principal of the High School, and past honorary president of the Stanley Humphries PTA.

Winner of the booster prize was Mrs. R. Cail. Proceeds from the booster prize go toward convention delegates' expenses.

Parties, Fireworks . . .

Treats Galore for Would-Be Tricksters

"Tricks or treats!"

That will be the cry of hundreds of Nelson youngsters tonight as they observe Hallowe'en in the traditional guises of such scarey and shady characters as witches, hobgoblins, and ghosts. But judging from the treats in store for the young celebrants of All Hallow's Eve, there will be few tricks pulled if they're true to their words.

Householders have been stocking up on all sorts of candy and toffee apple handouts for the small masqueraders for whom door to door calls of the neighborhood make Hallowe'en one of the best nights of the year.

A fireworks display and Civic Centre parties will also be part of the Hallowe'en festivities.

A skating party for children of Junior High School and elementary school age is scheduled for between 6 and 8 p.m., at the Civic, the Civic Centre and the Nelson Fire Department being in the host roles.

Prizes will be presented for the best costumes and treats will be distributed to the crowd of youngsters expected to attend.

Teen-agers and high school students will be treated to their share of the Hallowe'en fun also, with basketball games and a Hallowe'en dance. Senior Ladies' basketball club and the High School Bomberettes will meet in a special encounter at 7:30 and Senior Men's team will take on the Bombers at 8:30. Eric Iles' High School Band will play for the games.

Mickey McEwen's orchestra has been engaged for the dance for the teen-agers later in the evening.

BOMBSHELLS

To make Hallowe'en here a bang-up show, the North Shore "Bombers" will start shooting off aerial and ground fireworks across the West Arm at 7:15.

Sponsor Dick Spurway points out that owing to expense of materials, no attempt is made at a spectacular skyfilling barrage.

"Rather, each individual item will be set off and enjoyed; as piece by piece dies down, other items will be fired," he said.

A general order of sequence will be as follews: First, the smoke generators followed in quick succession by colored flares and the ground displays. Next, the first round of aerial bombshells. This is preceded by an aerial flare of intense candlepower in order to warn water craft against falling particles and low bursting bombs. Then comes another ground display featuring noisy bazookas, star mines and more flares. During this, mortars are cleaned and readied for the second aerial barrage of 12-inch and nine-inch colored bombshells. The terrific blast of a blockbuster will signal the end of the sky display.

Another 10 minutes of bazookas and ground displays will fill in until a big bonfire gets under way as a gala climax.

An Emergent Communication of Nelson Lodge No. 23, A.F. & A.M., will be held in the Masonic Temple, Nelson, B.C., on Tuesday, Nov. 1, 1955, at 1:15 p.m., for the purpose of conducting a funeral service for our late Brother Hazen Everett Stevenson.

Public Service in the Thompson Funeral Home at 2 p.m.

Visiting Brethren invited to attend.

By order of the Worshipful Master.

125 Attend Annual Doukhobor Service at Brilliant Hall

Adverse weather conditions forced cancellation of the annual by Kootenay Doukhobors to the tomb of their martyred leader, Peter (The Lordly) Verigin and of Peter Verigin II at Brilliant Saturday.

Rain and snow also affected the crowd, but about 125 devout Doukhobors from Grand Forks, Brilliant, Thrums, Castlegar, Robson and other district points met for two and a half hours in the Brilliant Hall. A meeting similar to that usually held at the tomb which contains "The Lordly" and his son, Peter, "the Scurger," was held in the hall. Peter the Lordly original Doukhobor leader was killed in a train explosion in October of 1924. Yearly his followers observe the anniversary of his funeral.

Principal among those attending Saturday's service was John J. Verigin, recognized by the 7000 Orthodox Doukhobors in the Kootenay as representing their spiritual leader.

By next Summer, Kaslo should have one of the finest Scout troops in the Kootenays, Scoutmaster J. Flamank and assistant Scoutmaster Jack Morris advised the meeting. A resolution amending the constitution to allow the Scoutmaster or assistant and Cubmaster or assistant to be added to the KRA executive, will be placed before the next general meeting.

In hospital is Terrance Bisaro, 17, driver of the car. Two companions, Merillo Jeronazzo and David Debiasia escaped injury.

The accident occurred at Bear Creek, on the outskirts of Trail.

KASLO SCOUTS TO BUY GOODS FOR CAMPING

KASLO—The Kaslo Boy Scout troop which has reached a total strength of 24 boys, is at a peak of activity.

Second class work is progressing rapidly, with instruction being given on first aid and lashings.

Plans are being made to invest three more boys into the troop, these being Eiji Kitagawa, Ron Baba and Ron Davidson.

In patrol competition, the Owl Patrol competition, the Owl Patrol is leading the other two patrols with 229, next is the Lion Patrol with 226, and following closely to the Lions is the Fox Patrol with 225.

BOTTLE DRIVE

A very successful bottle drive was held, with some 500 dozen beer and pop bottles being collected. Special appreciation went to Ainsworth where 175 dozen bottles were collected. With money realized from the sale of the bottles, the Scouts hope to purchase badly needed camping equipment. This will be used at their summer camp in 1956.

Work is progressing at the scout hall with good turnouts for the work bees. Insulation has been placed in the upstairs portion of the hall to keep more heat in the meeting place. The new indoor fireplace is half completed, and will enhance the scout hall. Kootenay Forest Products at Nelson donated 2000 feet of fir flooring to the scouts and cubs. This flooring will be laid by a party of scouts and their fathers in the near future, and will be a great help when the scouts and cubs are playing their various games.

The scouts are under the leadership of Const. J. Flamank, assisted by J. Morris and the cubs' leader is R. E. Green assisted by J. Johnston of the Kaslo School staff.

H. S. Haynes, In Cranbrook 41 Years, Dies

CRANBROOK — Herbert Spurgeon Haynes, resident and active citizen here since 1914, died suddenly at his Eleventh Avenue home Friday.

Rev. E. E. Jessop will officiate at the funeral service Tuesday at the Baptist Church, the rites to be followed by burial in Westlawn Cemetery.

Invermere Cuts Waterworks Tax

INVERMERE — The Waterworks frontage tax for ratepayers in the village of Invermere is be-in greduced from $20.50 per year to $18.50 per year by a bylaw.

The reduction is possible because of the increased number of water users within the village limits, thus decreasing the cost per consumer for paying initial cost and maintenance of village owned water mains and facilities.

Permission was granted Dr. K. J. Williams and Dr. G. A. Duthie to build a four foot wide grass boulevard in front of the new medical clinic at Invermere provided it is in conformity with sidewalk bylaw. Their request for a loading zone prohibiting parking in front of the clinic, to facilitate loading and unloading of patents for the clinic, was granted.

Request for a street light near the medical clinic building will be included in plans for 1956 street lights. The school board also has requested a street light be placed near the south entrance to the Invermere school. Additional street lights for the village are planned for 1956 and these two requests will be discussed with the B.C. Power Commission.

Commissioners approved two grants, one of $25 to the Windermere District Womens' Institute and one of $12.50 to the High School Band.

Local building contractors are being advised by the Village Commission that their trade licences will be revoked if construction is started on a building before a building permit has been issued by the building inspector.

BUYS OUT GEORGE McINNES . . .

Important Deal Announced By Cranbrook Lumber Firm

CRANBROOK — Major industrial transaction effected here last week was purchase by the Cranbrook Sash and Door Company Ltd. of the George McInnes Lumber Company operations which are at St. Mary's Lake West of here and in the Cedar Creek district of the Upper Kootenay River North of Canal Flat. Mr. McInnes will continue as supervisor of both operations following the sale.

St. Mary's Lake part of the transaction has been in operation for many years as a producer of cedar, larch and lodgepole pine poles and logs and lumber from a stationary sawmill on the East shore of the lake. In the past its lumber production has gone mostly by rail the 65 miles to the Wardner yard and planer of the Crow's Nest Pass Lumber Company 50 miles East of Cranbrook. The transaction includes approximately 10 square miles of timber licence and four timber sales in that area. The new owner will truck the sawmill output the 45 miles to its Cranbrook yard and planer. About 40 men are employed in the St. Mary's setup.

LOG SUPPLIER

The McInnes Cedar Creek operation established three years ago also produces poles but its main function has been supplying the logs for the stationary mill in the same location about 60 miles North of Canal Flat, part of the operations of Columbia Contracting Company which is a Cranbrook Sash and Door subsidiary. The two companies have shared camp facilities there and the lumber output has all been trucked to the Columbia Contracting planer and yard at Canal Flats, which will continue unchanged.

Announcement of the purchase has been made by V. C. Brown, general manager for the Cranbrook Sash and Door Ltd., of which Mrs. H. A. McKowan is president.

Sea Cadets at Castlegar Show Film to Parents

CASTLEGAR — A number of parents turned out to enjoy the film "Corvette K 225" shown by the Sea Cadets and their officers. The showing of the film followed inspection of the Castlegar Sea Cadet Corps, "R.C.S.C.C. KOOTENAY", by Lieutenant Commander D. H. Tye of Vancouver.

At the request of the Commanding Officer, Lieut. G. Archibald, Commander Tye presented Acting Petty Officer Earl Cherrington with a crest from the Cornwallis training school in Nova Scotia. PO Cherrington recently returned from a seven week course at Cornwallis.

Earlier in the evening the Cadets and Wrennettes had taken tests on the courses just completed, including, signalling, gunnery drill, navigation and general seamanship.

Mrs. D. Campbell is meeting shortly with the mothers who are interested in forming a Ladies' Auxiliary.

Street Improvements Brighten Kaslo's Face

KASLO — Many permanent and outstanding improvements have been made in Kaslo during the year in civic and private construction.

Also on Front Street, the new Kaslo Hotel is nearing completion and a modern mercantile store is being built by W. Hendren.

We offer this as a Latin label for a brand-new type of barnyard fowl—a skating rooster. "Buster" is reported to be a nonchalant performer on a pair of 5-inch roller skates taped to his feet. Need we add that they're of featherweight aluminum.

No less impressive than this fowl's spirit of derring-do is the resourcefulness of the designers and engineers who dream up new uses for aluminum—from gadgets (see above) to furniture to minesweepers. It keeps Alcan's researchers busy, working with customer companies with new ideas on how to use aluminum to create lighter, more lasting products

Will You Be Able to Cast Your Vote In Civic Elections? List Closes Today

A check of the voters list at the City Hall will assure you of the right to a vote at the civic elections in December. If your name is not listed today is the last on which you can make a declaration for inclusion.

Entitled to vote for city councillors, school board or police commission members are:

The Spouse of an owner of land or land and improvements in the City of Nelson, who may have his or her name placed on the annual list of Voters by making the necessary declaration under Section 7 of the Municipal Elections Act as amended by Chapter 8 of the 1954 Statutes of British Columbia.

Householders who are now exempt from payment of Road and Poll Tax but before their names are included in the Voters' List a new statutory declaration must be delivered to the Municipal Clerk stating they have tendered two dollars to the Collector of the Municipality.

Property owners and holders of agreements to purchase which are registered in the Land Registry before October 31st, 1955, whose names automatically placed on the Voters' List.

Democracy begins right here. First step is to see that your name is on the list of those who may vote, and the onus for this rests with the individual. The hours left in which this may be done are fast running out. This is the final day.

Great Art Objects, Costs and Taxes

To the Editor:

Sir—A few weeks ago a short feature in the News, on the obelisk known as Cleopatra's Needle, appeared to say that the poor people of England were heavily taxed to pay for it, although the Needle was a gift to Great Britain and its cost of transportation was defrayed by private persons. There are so many well-endowed institutions, with funds supplied by private persons, that rarely is it necessary for the expense of objects of great cultural interest to be added to the taxes.

This was understood clearly in the year 1878 when the Needle was erected in London. England was a wealthy country, taxation was so low that industrious people of small means were able to live comfortably and, in many instances, to give sufficient sums to endow schools, hospitals, museums and other cultural institutions so that they can still work without calling on the government for funds.

In the present year a famous picture of Tiepolo (1696-1770) has been cleaned in England, exhibited at the National Gallery, and is now being returned to Australia. It is called "The Banquet of Cleopatra". It was purchased in 1933 by the Felton Bequest for the National Gallery of Victoria, Melbourne.

Actually the Needle is very much older than Cleopatra's time.

Rodin's famous group, "Burghers of Calais", is being re-arranged at Westminster so that the public may obtain a better view.

A famous Cope, known as the Butler-Bowdon Cope, that has been in the possession of the Butler-Bowdon family since the Middle Ages, is being acquired by the Victoria and Albert Museum. The cost is £33,000. The museum has a certain sum to spend this year that will not cover the purchase price, but it is being helped by the Pilgrim Trust, and the National Art Collections Fund, and any small balance needed may be found by the government and returned at a later date.

The Elgin Marbles were purchased in 1816 for £35,000. Between 1801 and 1803 Lord Elgin obtained them from Greece and transported them to England. Early in this century much criticism of his action developed in England in regard to this. It was complained they ought to return them to Greece, but it was proved that a great number that were purchased but not moved to England had not been cared for, and had become worthless. Those in the British Museum are in better shape than they were when exposed to the weather in Greece.

It would be of interest to many people to hear if the U.S.A. government imposed a tax on their people to pay for the Needle, given them by the Khedive and erected in Central Park, N. Y., in 1881.

In June this year King Paul of the Hellenes, at Thermopylae (the Hot Gates Springs), dedicated a marble memorial to King Leonidas and his Spartans. Leonidas, with 300 Spartans and a few allies, in July of 480 B.C. defended the narrow Pass against more than a quarter of a million warriors of Xerxes.

When the secret path over the mountains was discovered by the Persians, Leonidas attacked with such ferocity that an enormous number of the enemy were killed before he and all the Spartans fell. A lion memorial marked the Pass for a long time.

The cost of the new memorial was some £18,000, subscribed by the "Knights of Thermopylae", a society of Greek-born Americans.

Is there anyone who claims this memorial was built from money taxed from poor people? Hundreds of years ago the Royal families of England and Scotland founded many of the colleges of the old universities. Schools and hospitals were founded by the trade guilds and by many private persons. Recently newspapers reported Lady Eaton as saying the cultural arts of Canada needed funds for the encouragement of budding artists, writers and others. Were these funds to come from the taxes or from private benefactors? When Mr. St. Laurent became Premier, news reports were quoting him as saying he did not think that private persons should endow institutions, as so often they seemed to expect something in return. Not a very kind remark; but probably the press reports were not correct.

A. W. LYMBERY.

Press Comment

It is a sad thing that courtesy should be so unexpected in motor traffic, for courtesy is common enough in most other phases of Canadian life, says the Peterborough Examiner. "But we wonder what the effect on our accident rate would be if drivers would just try the elementary but unexpected plan of behaving as politely as if they were on foot."

It's Been Said

Manners are the shadows of virtues, the momentary display of those qualities which our fellow-creatures love and respect.

D.T., Nelson—I am confused. In Tuesday's Questions and Answers you stated that Morte d'Arthur was written by Alfred, Lord Tennyson, yet in my school textbook Morte d'Arthur was written by Malory. Did Tennyson write a later version of this or are you mistaken?

In 1842 Tennyson published privately "Morte d'Arthur, Dora, and Other Idylls." (This is the despair of book collectors and what copies are extant are of great value.) The lines we quoted were from this version of the Arthurian legends and is now contained in the Complete Poems of Alfred, Lord Tennyson. Malory's Morte d'Arthur is an abridge compilation of the great Arthurian romance. It is not yet known whether Malory himself was responsible for the collection he compiled or whether he found it ready to hand, in the "Frensshe Booke" to which he often refers. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that Malory took the Arthurian story in "its worst and weakest form, and he imparted to it a moral force and elevation which the cycle, even in its earlier and final stage had, save in the unique case, of Von Eschenbach's 'Parzival', never possessed."

Bigness Not the Answer

Back before the First World War, Russia was regarded as a major competitor of Canada in world grain markets. We don't need to worry much about that today, according to a group of American farm experts who toured the U.S.S.R. this past summer.

"Soviet farming," says one of these U.S. visitors, "suffers from the curse of bigness. Their fields are too big. Their farm labor force is too big. A lot of their machinery is too big."

Bigness in urban industry often means more efficiency. In farming it can mean more waste. The reason is simple.

In a factory, operations run steadily, perhaps 24 hours a day and at least five days every week. Under such conditions the bigger the equipment and labor force usually the cheaper the production.

In grain farming, on the other hand, machines and men may work at top speed for only a few weeks of the year, while the crop is being sown or harvested. The rest of the time much of the equipment is idle, eating into the profits made during the short period of peak operation.

During and just after the First World War North American farmers, too, had the idea that bigness was the only answer to cheaper production. Those were the days of the mammoth binders, gang plows, huge threshing outfits and harvesters' excursions. We got more grain production, but it was not cheap production. An enormous amount of manpower was still required, and the giant machines were costly to operate, costly to maintain, and when they broke down everything stopped but the overhead.

We have learned since then. We have learned that bigness and mechanization are not the same thing at all. Two or three self-propelled, one-man-operated combines, for instance, will do the work faster and much more efficiently than the monsters of 35 years ago, and save an enormous amount of manpower as well. And the same is true with other modern farm machinery.

—The Financial Post.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One more spark could ignite the Middle Eastern powder keg.

That is the considered opinion held by most Arab leaders and Western diplomats since Egyptian premier Gamal gabdel Nasser made his cotton-for-guns deal with Communist Czechoslovakia.

Nerves have been stretched to the snapping point by repeated shooting affrays and raids along the Israeli-Egyptian and Israeli-Syrian frontiers.

An American diplomat described the situation in these words:

"It's like boys tossing firecrackers around in an oil refinery—one bang at the right place can blow the whole thing up. And there doesn't seem to be much we can do about it."

The Soviet Union's bold entry into Middle East politics has aroused Arab passions and fanned Israeli fears. The Czech arms deal won friends among the normally anti-Communist Arabs. Talk of Soviet economic aid is played up.

American influence among the Arabs — already at a low point because the Arabs charged United States and American Zionists were responsible for sacrificing Arabs in creating Israel — has been put on the skids by the Soviet drive.

DOWN ON U.K.

And the seizure last week by British-officered troops of the Buraimi oasis on the disputed Saudi Arabian boundary — where there may be oil — stepped up Arab attacks on Britain.

Most American diplomats in this area do not believe the Arabs will provoke an incident which might touch off war at the present time —if only for the reason that the tanks are not yet in the front lines.

In the last fortnight Egypt has signed military alliances with Syria and Saudi Arabia aimed at repelling possible Israeli aggression. These pacts as yet are no more than paper so far as joint planning is concerned, but Egyptian involvement in big-scale fighting would lead Syria and Saudi Arabia into any conflict.

No one is quite certain as to the course of Jordan, whose crack Arab Legion is British-subsidized, but it is obvious the Israelis hope Jordan would stand aloof in the event of any big fighting.

Arab nationalistic ties are so strong, however, it is likely Jordan eventually may join up with her Arab neighbors despite pressure from Britain. Britain, in fact, is bound by treaty with Jordan which would oblige Britain to aid Jordan if she is attacked.

WANT U.S. SHIFT

Pro-Western Arabs, and there are still many in responsible positions — although they rarely speak up publicly — call for a change in U.S. policy. They say this now favors Israel over the Arab states.

The main demands have been for repatriation or compensation for more than one million Arab refugees who lost their homes in what now is Israel and for a readjustment of present boundaries on the lines of the United Nations Palestine partition plan — which would mean Israel would have to give up territory.

Paper Mill in New Zealand In Operation

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters) —The first commercial newsprint was made Saturday at New Zealand's giant new paper mill at Kawerau in the middle of North island.

Sir James Fletcher, chairman of Tasman Pulp and Paper, said the plant would be in full production within a week.

In a full year the mill will produce 75,000 tons of newsprint, 36,000 tons of woodpulp and 72,000,000 board feet of timber.

Two years ago there was nothing at Kawerau. Today there are two new towns and a railroad, a port and a highway network.

Anglican Clergyman Disagrees With Bishops on Divorce Issue

SYDNEY (AP) — One of Australia's foremost Anglican theologians, Archdeacon Thomas Chatterton, Hammond, said Saturday Anglican bishops have no authority to prevent the remarriage in the church of the innocent party in a divorce.

In an interview with the Sydney Sun Herald, Hammond, assistant registrar of the Sydney diocese, commented on the Princess Margaret-Peter Townsend problem.

He said: "There is a strong feeling in England that it is discreditable for a member of the Royal Family to be involved in any way in a divorce question.

"That feeling has been increased by the unhappy experience of Edward VIII.

"But I do not believe bishops have the slightest authority to prevent the marriage of an innocent party.

"In the 17th, 18th and 19th century, bishops had charge of matrimonial cases and were permitted to grant 'bed and board' divorces (a form of separation' on the parties concerned giving an undertaking they would not remarry.

COULD BE DISSOLVED

"But by English law of that period appeal could be made to the House of Lords for the complete dissolution of the marriage —or divorce as we now know it.

"Several such divorces were granted and in every case remarriage was solemnized in the Church of England."

The 78-year-old Irish-born Hammond is author of many Anglican theological books.

In a similar interview Saturday, the former moderator-general of the Presbyterian Church, A. C. Grieve, supported Hammond.

He said that as far as he knows there would be no ecclesiastical bar to Margaret marrying Townsend in the Church of Scotland.

"Since the puritans, the law of the Presbyterian Church has permitted the remarriage of an innocent party in a divorce obtained on grounds of adultery or desertion which cannot be remedied."

Scholarship Presented At Rossland PTA Meet

ROSSLAND — About 75 persons turned out for the first Fall meeting of the Rossland High School Parent-Teacher Association. W. S. Potter, vice-principal, was chairman of the program, which included discussions on homework, report cards and student activity cards.

David Mitchell, president of the Student Council, explained how the Student Council was elected, what the aims of the Student Council are, and what good training members derive from serving on the Council. Miss Elaine Muth, secretary of the Council, told parents that student activity cards give the student the right to vote, reduction of admittance fees to special activities, the right to join the various clubs, student prices at the theatre, and the right to take part in those school programs which are under Student Council sponsorship. The money raised from these cards helps to pay for extra-curricular activities.

A lively question and answer period on report cards was handled by Principal E. Davies, who explained that letter grading should give a little more meaning to students' marks. All parents were urged to come to the school and discuss the students' report card with the teacher or principal at any time they deemed necessary.

On the subject of homework, Mr. Potter termed it an important matter of co-operation between the teacher and the home. Besides regularly assigned homework, there is always review, extra reading, or preparation of reports, due at a later date. Mr. Potter stressed that occasionally a student may have completed his homework in study period at school, but there is something wrong when he repeatedly uses this excuse to his parents, and the parent should see the teacher about such a case. To help their children, parents should provide a proper place for study, see that a planned study schedule is maintained and encourage them with their work.

AWARD GIVEN

A highlight of the program was the presentation of a Canadian Legion scholarship to Bob Douglas, by Legion president J. D. Ianson.

Cecil Pitt, Canadian Legion representative, gave a short history of Canadian Legion scholarships, and pointed out that Rossland was very fortunate in that two of these scholarships came to Rossland students in the last three years, as well as one Legion bursary this year.

A brass quartet, part of the school band provided a musical interlude. The quartet included Bill Thorpe, Don Comba, Doug Scott and Bill Tollife.

Parents were taken on a guided tour of the school, and returned for the brief business meeting.

The PTA president, Mrs. C. L. Brown, introduced newly appointed executive members, Mrs. H. Lindquist, secretary; Mrs. R. K. W. Greene, treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Flanagan, historian and Mrs. R. Butler, hospitality convener.

Members decided to change the regular meeting night to the fourth Wednesday of each month. A telephone bridge to raise money for the PTA will be convened under Mrs. J. Page. It was decided to start a point system for parent and teacher attendance at future meetings, and to give a money award to the home room obtaining the most points.

Mrs. Lindquist gave an interesting report on the recent zone convention in Castlegar.

A welcome to all parents to attend future PTA meetings whenever they could, regardless of membership, was extended by Mrs. Brown.

Baines-Davies Nuptials Held At Rossland

ROSSLAND — A lovely Fall wedding took place in St. Andrew's United Church, Rossland, when Donna May Davies became the bride of Kenneth James Baines. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Davies and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baines of Trail. The Church was decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums for the double ring ceremony, performed by Rev. A. J. Lawton. Mrs. A. R. Dahlstrom was organist, accompanying Miss Laila Kalhovd, who sang "Ill Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless waltz-length gown of chantilly lace over net and taffeta, with a full gathered skirt. Her bolero jacket was fashioned with lily point sleeves and a tiny collar. She wore a bonnet halo headdress of net over lace, piped with satin, trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. For jewelry she wore a rhinestone and pearl necklace with matching earrings and she carried a cascade bouquet of red and white carnations.

AZURE BLUE

Miss Betty Frederiksen as the bridesmaid, wore an azure blue strapless gown of double net over taffeta. The bodice and sleeveless jacket were of brocaded taffeta. She wore a blue halo headdress, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom's brother, Mr. Dennis Baines was best man, while Mr. Allan Davies and Mr. Winston Baines, brothers of the bride and groom, respectively, were ushers.

A reception was held in the church annex where the three-tiered wedding cake, embedded in green tulle, graced an embroidered linen-covered table. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom beneath a heart-shaped arch of lace and net, and was flanked by green tapers in crystal sconces.

The bride's mother was attired in a dark teal blue afternoon dress with gold hat and accessories, and en corsage, pink rosebuds. Mrs. Baines wore a navy blue formal dress of French imported lace, with navy hat and accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The cake was cut by Miss Joan Holt. The bride's uncle, Mr. Harry Lefevre proposed the toast to the bride.

For the honeymoon trip to Spokane, Vancouver and the Arrow Lakes, the bride changed to a navy frock, with beige hat and brown accessories and a shortie coat. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

The young couple will reside in Montrose.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Garvin of Chapman Camp and Mr. Lloyd Wilkinson of Vancouver.

1956 Census to Start on June 1

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's census which starts next June 1 may well find this a country of 16,000,000 persons.

Experts at the bureau of statistics, which will conduct the census, have forecast that the 16,000,000 milestone will be reached at about that time. The house-by-house count to be carried out in the first half of June is expected to be almost exactly on the mark.

Next year's census is a departure from the traditional count, which in the past has been conducted in the first year of each decade. The 1951 census showed a population of 14,009,000.

Since 1951 the bureau has been making monthly population estimates based on births, deaths, immigration and emigration. Basis of present forecasts is the fact that in the last three years this estimate has risen annually by an almost constant 400,000 — given or take a few thousand.

FEWER QUESTIONS

The regular ctnsus-takings will continue to be held on the first year of each decade. The next is in 1961. The in between ones, starting next year, will have far fewer questions.

The person who answers the door next June will be asked only six questions about each resident of the household: name, address, sex, age, marital status and relationship to the head of the household. In 1951 there were 29 questions, going into such things as religion, citizenship, national origin, occupaton and whether the household had equipment such as running water, washing machine and telephone.

Farmers will be asked 73 questions, compared with some 200 in 1951, dealing with farm operations, area, size of crops and number of livestock.

MUST TRAIN 17,000

The count in urban areas is expected to be completed in a week or 10 days. In rural areas it will take about a week longer.

About 17,000 enumerators, the same size as the 1951 counting force, still are to be chosen and trained. Many of them will be housewives, students, pensioners and other part-time workers. They won't be trained until just before the census starts.

Kee Karl Denounces Korean Unification

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea Saturday denounced North Korean Premier Kim Il Sun's call for a Far East conference on Korean unification as "Communist campaign for the extinction of freedom through co-existence."

Government spokesman Hong Kee Karl said such a conference "would load the attendance with pro-Communist and neutralist countries, and thus bring pressure on the United States and other United Nations allies to give up their fight for a free, independent and united Korea."

A Pyongyang radio broadcast Thursday said the Communist North Korean boss told Indian reporters such a conference should represent a "wide area" of Asia.

Red China Buying Singapore Stocks

SINGAPOAE (Reuters) — Investments from Communist China amounting to millions of dollars have infiltrated into Singapore's banking, commercial and industrial organizations, the newspaper Sunday Standard says.

The newspaper alleges these investments have been sponsored by "several of the colony's business magnates who have been intimidated by the Reds."

The Sunday Standard says this is believed to be the next stage of a Communist infiltration program to control Singapore's economy.

The first stage had been the circulating of letters to firms here asking them to do business with Communist China.

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 300 Tons of machinery, designed to transform the arid southern deserts of Israel into a lush paradise, will leave here next week.

The shovels are part of $25,000,000 worth of Surplus equipment being disposed of by the Aluminum Company of Canada. They were used in construction of the great Kitimat and Kemano operations in upcoast British Columbia.

The shovels will be used to lay a 128-inch water pipeline which will snake more than 200 miles to the Negev desert.

Railway Man To Head Saarlanders

SAARBRUECKKEN (AP) — Heinrich Welsch, a 67-year-old railroad man, was named caretaker premier of the Saar by its parliament Saturday. His selection represented a compromise between pro-German parties and the groups which control the present parliament.

Welsch succeeds pro-French Johannes Hoffman, who resigned as premier after Saarlanders voted last Sunday against a French-German plan for "Europeanizing" this industry-rich border territory.

The new premier will be in charge of the government until new elections Dec. 18.

The pro-German parties, which were outlawed until last July, are not represented in the present parliament.

Threatens Chums With Revolver

VANCOUVER (CP) — An angry schoolboy threatened three pals with a Russian revolver when they accused him of damaging one of their bicycles, police said Saturday.

The 12-year-old admitted taking his father's unregistered weapon from a dresser drawer and using it to frighten the other boys when they confronted him at his home, police said.

The father told police the gun was a war souvenir given to him by a brother. The gun was confiscated.

Vernon, Kamloops In OSHL Top Spot

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Vernon Canadians moved into a first place tie with Kamloops Elks by defeating the Kelowna Packers 5-2 in an Okanagan Senior Hockey League game Saturday night.

It was the fourth straight setback for the Packers.

Frank King opened the scoring for the Canadians in the first period. Their second tally was recorded by Orv Lavell in the second period.

The third period of the comparatively penalty-free game was wide open as Blair, King and Lowe scored for Vernon.

Kelowna's first goal was in the second period and was scored by playing coach Young who pulled goalie Hal Gordon out of his net to get the shot in.

In the third period Middleton scored the only other Kelowna goal.

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)— Kamloops Elks scored four goals in four mniutes of the first period to whip the Penticton Vs 4-1 in an Okanagan Senior Hockey League game here Saturday.

The win was Kamloops' third in as many games and was witnessed by 2,776 fans, the biggest crowd of the season. It also left Kamloops in first spot.

Tallying for Kamloops were Billy Hryciuk, playing coach Kevin Conway, Howie Hornby and Ed Kassian. Dick Warwick scored Penticton's only goal.

Only misconduct of the night was picked up by Penticton's Bill Warwick, who was ordered to the showers in the third period when he threw glove and stick on the ice from the players' bench.

Hryciuk began the scoring parade at 11:23 of the first period with an unassisted effort. Conway made it 2-0 a minute later with a screen shot from the blue line. Hornby converted a pass from Johnny Milliard at 13:01 and Kassian tallied the fourth on an assist from Don Slater at 15:53.

Dick Warwick completed a nice passing play with Doug Kilburn and Jack McIntyre at 10:35 of the second period. After that both goaltenders put up the shutters though Moog was heavily tested in the third period.

Senators Not To Be Sold

WASHINGTON (AP) — The brother-sister team of Calvin Griffith and Thelma Haynes assumed control of Washington Senators, vowing the club will not be not be sold.

Griffith and Mrs. Haynes, wife of Washington pitching coach Joe Haynes, take over the leading roles in operation of the club under provisions made by Clark Griffith, baseball's "Old Fox", who died Thursday night at the age of 85.

Calvin Griffith and Mrs. Haynes are Griffith's adopted children.

Calvin, now executive vice-president of the Senators, is on record as saying: "We'll never sell our baseball stock."

With the death of the elder Griffith, the clamor is expected to grow to shift the Senators' franchise from Washington. The Senators finished last in the American League.

But Calvin Griffith and Mrs. Haynes were in no mood to sell out. Long before Griff's death publicity plans had been worked out to boost season ticket sales and increase attendance.

Giant Rallies Planned to Get Coach Annis Stukus Reinstated

VANCOUVER (CP) — The campaign to reinstate Annis Stukus as head coach of B.C. Lions gained momentum Saturday as supporters of the colorful coach announced plans for two mass rallies of football fans.

A spokesman for the supporters, Phil Wood, said a meeting of the Western Interprovincial Football Union Club's 3000 members will be held Wednesday night.

A "gaint protest rally of all football fans" will be called the following week, said Wood.

He said the first meeting will draft strategy in the campaign to have Stukus re-hired, and the mass rally will seek the support of fans throughout the area.

Wood collected more than the 100 signatures needed for a petition to force an emergency meeting of the general membership to discuss the situation.

Stukus was fired as head coach Thursday by a 13 to 10 vote of club directors.

Vancouver sportswriters, meanwhile, joined the chorus of protests against the directors' move.

Erwin Swangard of the Vancouver Sun wrote: "Perhaps Stukus did deserve a crack at coaching here for another season. Perhaps he didn't. But he definitely did not deserve a kick in the face.... The Stukus mess points up the fundamental weakness of the entire Lions' organizational set-up. Three thousand members tell a board of 29 amateur directors to manage a $750,000 business with all its inherent complexities ... That's just silly."

Eric Whitehead, Vancouver Province: "The fact was that hidden under the maze of impassioned argument was the solid, irrefutable fact that here was a man who flatly warned that he would need three years to produce a contending team, did a magnificent job for two years—and then was abruptly denied the third, the one he wanted and deserved most of all."

TRAIL — Trail Smoke Eaters built up a two-goal first period lead over Nelson Maple Leafs in a Western International Hockey League game here Saturday, and then checked Nelson to a standstill for the next two periods, giving Leafs only one goal and adding one themselves for a 3-1 victory.

Nelson attacked strongly in the last two periods but couldn't penetrate Smokies' defence, except for one goal in the second period.

It was 2-1 for Trail in the third period with Nelson pressing the attack, when Smokies' Yogi Kraeger broke fast out of his own end and carried into the Leaf zone. He fed the pass to winger Bud Andrews who cut around the defence and went in all alone to sink the clincher at 13.07. This took all the steam out of the Leafs and from then on it was just another hockey game.

Norm Lenardon put Trail one up in the first period when he took relays from Gil Desrosiers and Andrews and fired a long, low screen shot into the left corner. Desrosiers had been in alone to test Adams seconds earlier, and recovered his own rebound to set up the play.

Gerry Penner notched Trail's second counter of the period when he took Frank Turik's perfect pass just inside Leaf's blueline and let go a high, hard one that glanced in off the left goalpost.

Nelson cut Smokies lead to one in the second session when Wendy Keller batted Lee Hyssop's passout past Zanier in Smokies' goal at 14:12. Nelson kept on the pressure through the remainder of the period, but was unable to crack Smokies' armor again.

Andrews' clincher in the third was the last goal of the game.

Reno Zanier turned in his second straight sensational performance on Trail ice. He held Spokane to one goal here Thursday.

SPOKANE (CP) — Spokane Flyers played a solid game of hockey here Saturday night to defeat the Kimberley Dynamiters 3-1 in a WIHL encounter.

The Flyers opened the scoring in the first period when Jones, assisted by Gordichuk slammed one into the Kimberley net at 13:26. The second goal of the period was scored by Hockley for the Dynamiters.

The Flyers took a 2-1 lead at the end of the second after Cirullo scored for Spokane.

Gordichuk added another goal for the Flyers early in the third as the Dynamiters couldn't get back in the game.

Only six penalties were handed out in the game witnessed by a crowd of 3000 fans.

Prince John Wins Rich Garden Stakes

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Prince John, a 24-to-1 outsider owned by a New York clothing merchant, staved off the closing rush of Career Boy Saturday to capture the $282,370 Garden State stakes — world's richest horse race — by a nose.

Needles, the 8-to-5 favorite, finished third after it appeared he might win during a furious charge down the home stretch. Needles was a length behind Career Boy while Happy New Year came fourth.

Prince John is a chestnut son of Princequillo-Not Afraid, and is owned by the Elmendorf farm of Max Gluck, who entered racing only five years ago. The triumph was worth $157,918.50 to Gluck.

FIRST STAKES WIN

This third Garden State stake, in which the two-year-old championship is supposed to be fairly well established, was the first stakes victory for Prince John.

Mrs. Anson Bigelow's Nail, who won the $125,125 Belmont futurity Oct. 8, carved out a scorching pace before quitting at the head of the stretch in the mile-and-one-sixteenth race contested by a dozen juvenile stars.

Jockey Angel Valenzuela, a native of McNary, Tex., but raised in Mexico, rated Prince John no worse than fourth in the early poing, then set dead aim on the lead an eighth of a mile from home.

Career Boy, owned by C. V. Whitney, and Needles, from the Desh stable, came from far back, went wide to get running room in the stretch, but couldn't quite catch Prince John.

Two Last-Minute-Goals Give Canadiens 2-2 Tie With Wings

By The Canadian Press

Floyd Curry and Bert Olmstead triggered a pair of Montreal goals 40 seconds apart in the final period as the first-place Canadiens rallied for a 2-2 tie with Detroit Red Wings Sunday night before 14,286 fans at Detroit.

The tie gave the Habitants three out of a possible four points in their two weekend games with the Red Wings. They edged Detroit 2-1 in Montreal Saturday night with Dickie Moore firing the winning goal in the third period.

The Wings painstakingly built up a 2-0 lead in Olympia Stadium, only to have it wiped out in the third period. Bill Dineen slapped in a rebound at 7:32 of the opener and Alex Delvecchio converted a power-play tally at 6:21 of the second period.

STARTS COMEBACK

Curry started the comeback when he sailed in unchecked to convert Ken Mosdell's pass at 10:53. After a change in lines Olmstead and rookie Claude Provost swept down the ice and Olmstead rapped in Provost's pass from close range at 11:33.

It was the only game played Sunday night.

Chicago Black Hawks battled Toronto Leafs on even terms for 30 minutes Saturday night, then fell apart in the last half of the game as the Leafs overpowered them 2-0.

In Saturday night's third game, goalie Terry Sawchuk notched his third shutout of the season as Boston Bruins downed New York Rangers 1-0.

The first period of the game at Montreal Forum was scoreless. In the second session Bert Olmstead of the Habitants and Ted Lindsay of the Wings matched goals. Lindsay's was the 271st of the NHL career, breaking the 270 record for leftwingers held by Aurel Joliat, one-time Canadiens star.

SINKS BACKHANDER

Olmstead sank a backhander from 10 feet out for the first Montreal goal. Lindsay evened the count at 16:26 of the second period on Warren Godfrey's rebound. A tripping penalty to Real Chevrefils in the last period gave the Canadiens their big chance and Moore capitalized on it by slapping in a short rebound of Jean Beliveau's shot. Canadiens brought up left winger Claude Provost from Shawinigan Falls of the Quebec Hockey League for the game.

There were 3,802 fans on hand.

The shutout in the game at Toronto was the first of the season for goalie Harry Lumley of the Leafs. He handled 14 shots in the first two periods, then took it easy as the Hawks got through for only one drive during the last period. A crowd of 12,905 fans saw the Toronto victory.

After a scoreless first period, centre Tod Sloan sent Toronto out in front at 16:41 of the second frame. His 25-foot drive from along the boards whistled across in front of netminder Al Rollins and nestled in the far corner of the net.

Near the midway mark of the last period rookie centre Billy Harris counted from a goalmouth scramble while Chicago defenceman Allan Stanley was serving a penalty. The Toronto defence corps was bolstered by the return of Tim Horton, out of action since March 12 when he suffered a broken leg and a fractured jaw in a collision with rearguard Bill Gadsby of New York.

ROOKIE SCORES

The Rangers' loss to the Bruins was their first defeat on Madison Square Garden ice after three straight home victories.

Orville Tessier, 22-year-old rookie centre from Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League, scored with just 50 seconds left in the opening period. Tessier took Marcel Bonin's perfect pass from the left boards and whipped in a sizzling 15-footer directly in front of the goalmouth. Goalie Lorne Worsley had no chance on the play.

Sawchuk, in his first season with the Bruins after five years with Detroit, turned in a fine performance with 36 saves. Boston's Vic Stasiuk and New York's Andy Bathgate received two majors and a misconduct each for fighting in the first period. The game drew a crowd of 13,509.

Brother of NHL Star . . .

Man of Many Teams Comes to Maple Leafs

First acquisition of the Nelson Maple Leafs in their current quest for new hockey players is Vic Howe, six-foot right-winger scheduled to arrive from Saskatoon on Tuesday. Vic is the younger brother of Gordie Howe, NHL scoring-record smasher of the Detroit Red Wings.

For a 25-year-old, Vic Howe has an impressive list of hockey teams on his record . . . the New York Rangers, the Cincinnati Maroons, the Saskatoon Quakers, the Vancouver Canucks and the Valleyfield Braves.

With the WHL's Saskatoon Quakers in the 1953-54 season he scored 15 goals and had 25 assists. He played part of this season with the New York Rangers.

Last year he started with the New York Rangers playing 29 games and finished with the Saskatoon Quakers and the Vancouver Canucks. He also played six games with the Valleyfield Braves in the Quebec Hockey League.

Tonight they play the Kamloops Elks, Tuesday the Vernon Canadians, Wednesday the Kelowna Packers, and Thursday the Penticton Vs.

Kwong Sets 2 WIFU Records as Esks Win

EDMONTON (CP) — Normie Kwong, the China Clipper of Edmonton Eskimos, carried the mail for 192 yards Saturday night to set two Western Interprovincial Football Union rushing records as the Eskimos trounced Calgary Stampeders 30-5 in the final scheduled game.

Kwong pushed his rushing total to 1250 yards to set a season record. His 192 yards is a one-game record for rushing.

Kwong's tremendous plunging helped Eskimos to a team rushing record for the season. The club rolled up 267 yards in the game to boost its total to 3415 yards in the 15-game schedule, compared with 3311 yards along the ground by Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Esks had set the previous mark in 1951 with a total of 3305 yards and both Bombers and Esks surpassed it Saturday night.

Kwong's drive to beat a season record of 1205 set a few hours earlier by halfback Gerry James of Winnipeg was the main attraction as the WIFU wound up its regular schedule.

The outcome had no effect on the league standings since the Eskimos finished in first place with a comfortable total of 28 points, eight more than second-place Saskatchewan Roughriders, while the Stampeders are last with only eight points.

Winnipeg wound up in third and last playoff spot with 14 points.

BOMBERS WIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Coach Frank Filshock used up most of his bench strength as Saskatchewan Roughriders walloped Winnipeg Blue Bombers 31-13 Saturday night to close out their 1955 Western Interprovincial Football Union regular schedule.

The result had no bearing on the final standings of the two teams which will face each other in the two-game, total-point semi-final. The second - place Riders, who wound up with a 10-6 record, have elected to play the opening game in Regina next Saturday. The third-spot Bombers, 7-9 during the season, have the second game in Winnipeg, Nov. 7.

A chilled crowd of 14,464 had little to cheer about after Bombers blew a 12-0 lead, except to have the privilege of watching Rider halfback Ken Carpenter win the individual scoring title and to see Winnipeg break two league records—but both went for nought.

CARPENTER'S 18th

Carpenter scored his 18th touchdown of the year to wind up scoring champion with 90 points. The 18 touchdowns also are a league record. Gerry James gained 131 yards rushing during the night to run his total to 1205—162 yards better than the previous record of 1043 set last year by Calgary's Howard Waugh. Normie Kwong of Edmonton, however, topped James by punching his total to 1250.

Bombers also gained 3311 yards along the ground during the 1955 season to better by six yards the old record set by Eskimos in 1951. This too went by the road as the same Eskimos Saturday night added 267 yards along the ground for a season total of 3415.

Wanderers Beat Celts To Top Soccer Final

Coached by Maple Leaf trainer Steve Cameron the Wanderers defeated the Celtics 1-0 to take first in Nelson Junior Soccer League final standings with a three-point margin. Bob Eckstrom scored Wanderers' winning goal on a penalty shot.

A match between the Hotspurs and the Rangers slated for Thursday afternoon was cancelled because of rain. The Hotspurs and Rangers tied for second place with nine points each.

The victorious Wanderers nine will be presented with felt crests at a league meeting to be held shortly.

The four-team league was organized by Gordon Taylor, Nelson school teacher, last August. Soccer equipment was donated to the league by several Nelson merchants.

The league plans to resume play early next spring.

Twin Win for Kimberley

FERNIE — Senior basketball teams of the Kimberley High School won both games in East Kootenay High School Basketball League play here Friday night defeating the Fernie senior boys 43-37 and the Fernie senior girls 22-20.

Fernie's Audrey Markland scored 10 points to spark a rally in the second half which narrowly fell short of a victorious Fernie comeback.

Martin Thomas led the scoring for the Kimberley boys with 14 points.

Mister Gus Takes $100,000 Handicap

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Llangollen Farm's Mister Gus Saturday set a Bay Meadows track record of 1:47 4-5 for the mile and an eighth to take the $100,000 William P. Kyne handicap.

Bobby Brocato, one of the three-horse entry of Travis Kerr was second and his stablemate Arrogate, was third.

Three Elk Fall On First Days

Three bull elk were taken during the opening weekend of the elk season in the Lardeau area by Ken Bowles and Laurie Abey of Meadow Creek and Sammy Myers of Howser. The largest elk, a full grown six-pointer, was shot by Laurie Abey.

The Lardeau elk colony was started in 1949 when 16 cows and six bulls were shipped from the Edmonton's Elk Island Park by the Game Commission and released in the area.

Assisting Nelson game warden Ted Rutherglen in supervision of the hunt were Pete Ewart, Castlegar game warden, and Kaslo RCMP officers.

Game Commission biologists Dr. James Hatter and Glen Smith were also on hand to rate the progress of the colonization scheme.

Honor Man Who Made Paper From Pulpwood

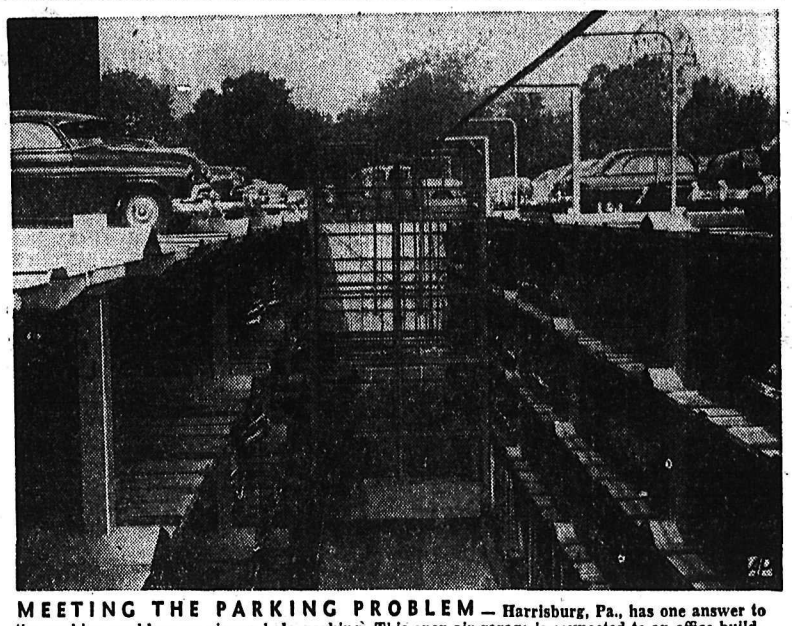
HALIFAX (CP)—A monument was raised Friday to the man who first told North America that paper could be made from pulpwood.

Charles Fenerty, whose memory was honored at nearby Upper Sackville, first wrote a letter on pulpwood paper in 1844. Historians say it was the first such paper in North America, and perhaps the first in the world.

The monument was raised by the Nova Scotia government.

Mr. Fenerty, born on an Upper Sackville farm in 1821, worked at a paper mill at nearby Bedford when the raw materials were rag, linen or raw flax. While employed there he began working on the theory that spruce, fir and other native woods could be used for paper and after various experiments he wrote a letter on paper made from pulpwood and sent it to the Acadian Recorder.

His early processing methods are not known, but some say he got the idea from the nests of wasps and hornets which are covered with a paper-like substance made from woods bits.



MEETING THE PARKING PROBLEM — Harrisburg, Pa., has one answer to the parking problem — pigeon hole parking. This open air garage is connected to an office building. The elevator slides locked car into space. No hands touch the vehicle. One man operates the whole works with pushbuttons. State capitol dome is at right background.

Records Soar for U. S. Business, Farm Incomes and Building Lower

By WALTER BREEDE Jr.

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. industry toted up its third-quarter profits last week — and the score was never better. Records were swept aside like dead leaves in autumn.

Net income of General Motors was the highest for any third-quarter in the company's history; profits for the first nine months nudged the billion-dollar mark after provision of well over a billion for income taxes.

Standard Oil Co. N.J., largest of the world's petroleum giants, reported nine month's net of $532,000,000, up nearly 20 per cent from a year ago. The leading steel-makers, United States Steel Corporation and Bethlehem Steel, also announced nine-month highs in profits, sales and production

STEP UP PRODUCTION

This week, as all of the big automakers plunged full tilt into production of 1956 models, Detroit's major role as a mainstay of prosperity became increasingly clear.

Steelmakers — pressed to the limit to supply their biggest customer, the atuo industry — once again scheduled their operations at more than 98 per cent of capacity. Industry leaders saw no hint of a letdown.

In Detroit, a production race of fantastic proportions was in progress. Ford aimed for a weekly record of 39,000 cars; Chevrolet and Buick came back faster after a hurried changeover to 1956 models; Plymouth hoped to turn out more than 20,000 cars to break the record of 19,897 it set last spring.

In business generally, retail sales continued strong, with department store volume running eight per cent ahead of year-ago levels. Loans to business by lending New York banks were on the upbeat again; freight carloadings were 12 per cent higher than in the corresponding week of last year.

Farm income, however, was weakened by falling livestock prices and the construction industry continued to recede from its previous peaks. Dunn and rBadstreet said building permits issued in September declined in volume from the levels of a year ago for the first time in 14 months.

Prank Ends in Burned Hand

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—A young boy was seriously burned Sunday morning by a pre-Halloween trick.

Police say somebody wrapped a length of wire around a rock, tied one end to a railway track and threw the rock over B.C. Electric power lines.

The rock was suspended about three feet off the ground.

Sunday morning a young boy walking along the tracks noticed the rock and touched it.

He received a shock of 650 volts, severely burning one of his hands.

Stock Market Movements Slow

By PATRICK FELLOWS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The stock market picture was a mixed one last week on exchanges in Toronto, Montreal and New York. The opening session saw all markets continuing a slow but steady advance.

On Tuesday the winning run was broken and a moderate decline in prices was recorded. A mixed note underlined dealings for the remainder of the week.

Market movements were generally sluggish and where the market switched from an advance to a reverse, business activity slowed up.

There were few developments of general significance to the market. Monday's advance was accompanied, however, by an announcement from the U.S. commerce department's advisory council that that country is well on its way to a $400,000,000,000 gross national product, which will make it the wealthiest people in mankind's history and possessors of the most successful economic system yet devised.

BANKS MOVED UP

Most of the Canadian market news affected specific issues or groups. On Wednesday, there was an upward movement in bank stocks following announcements by the Bank of Montreal and Royal Bank of increased dividend payments. These two stocks each added $1.00. Royal Bank was up almost $3.00 on the week, Montreal $1.25 and Imperial, which also announced an increase bonus. $1.00.

Steels, financial institutions, foods, motors and utilities provided the week's largest price changes at Toronto, though there were very few of importance.

Among mining stocks, there was good demand for some junior base metals and uraniums.

Week's index changes at Toronto: Industrials down 2.19 to 422.06, golds down .44 to 83.78, base metals up .11 to 201.39 and western oils down 1.52 to 110.45.

Week's volume 24,614,000 shares against previous week's 21,794,000.

At New York The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.00 to $168.90.

Week's index changes at Montreal: Banks up 1.04 to 48.05 utilities up 0.80 to 130.20, industrials up 1.00 to 278.00, combined up 0.90 to 228.70 papers off 15.31 to 1359.84 and golds off 0.91 to 73.42.

Week's volume: 324,881 industrials and 2,989,276 mines. Previous week's volume: 339,285 industrials and 2,909,788 mines.

Number of issues traded: 398 Advances 120, declines 155 and unchanged 123.

Says Hostility to Edward VIII's Marriage Staggered Sir Winston

LONDON (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill was "completely staggered bf the unanimous hostility" of the House of Commons when he sought to champion King Edward during the 1936 abdication crisis, writes Leopold Amery in his memoirs. Amery, long a member of the house, died in September at 81.

He writes that Churchill for some two weeks had believed he would carry the House and public opinion outside in his defence of the king's attitude.

"Influenced by his personal affection for the king and by his own romantic disposition, and, in any case, no enthusiastic supporter of Stanley Baldwin's government, he threw himself passionately into a defence of the king's right to marry — if necessarily, morganatically, i.e., on condition that Mrs. Simpson should not become Queen."

ASSESSMENT MADE

Amery makes this assessment of Churchill:

"For, years he had been in the political wilderness, estranged from his former Conservative colleagues . . .

"Universally admired, he had been almost as universally distrusted. Even his own confidence in his star must at times have been seriously shaken.

"But chance, of England's destiny, had been saving him for higher things . . . What is more, it was in those years out of office he had at last found his true model. In his great ancestor Marlborough, he discovered that fusion of political and military ideals, as well as the inspiration of family piety, for which he had all hs life been groping . . .

ONE AND ONLY LEADER . . .

"So, in that fateful week of May, 1940, Churchill, the one man by common consent ruled out from ever becoming the prime minister of any party, was, by equally common consent, welcomed as the only possible leader in the hour of danger . . . For once, democracy had found a leader who could not only voice its spirit but who was also a great master of war."

Live Bomb Not Best of Clubs

CANBERRA (CP) — A West Australian man was found using a live bomb as a club in physical exercises, Army Minister Josiah Francis has disclosed. A souvenir from the Second World War, it could have "blown the man to pieces," Francis said.

Army authorities and police in four months this year recovered 9230 pieces of unexploded ammunition being kept as war souvenirs in Australian homes. Announcing these figures, the minister said:

"Most of it was capable of causing death and serious injury.

"Many people risk injury because they are ignorant of the danger that could result from the mishandling of ammunition.

"At one Sydney home, 12 pieces were found in one house, nine of which were capable of causing great destruction."

When Father Acts Things Happen

EASTPORT, Nfld. (CP) — George Henry Bull got tired of carrying buckets from the well, and now practically every house in this growing town on Bonavista Bay has running water.

Mr. Bull ran a plastic pipeline from Saucer pond to his home. The idea caught on, and the rest of the people in Eastport decided to get together and bring in community water.

They tapped three small lakes besides Saucer pond, and brought in a department of public works bulldozer to lay the pipe. For a while the railway station at the Alexander Bay junction was piled high with 1½ inch plastic pipe.

NO PUBLIC FUNDS

Altogether the job cost about $10,000, and was completed without public assistance.

Now the by-products of running water are coming to Eastport. Houses sport chrome kitchens waste disposal units, bathrooms and septic tanks.

The government has been approached to protect the watershed. A chlorination plant is still in the discussion stage.

Electricity is also on its way to Eastport. Many houses have their own generators, but after seeing what could be done about the water supply most people are talking of a community power supply: A diesel generator or a hookup with a hydro-electric source.

TO OPEN NEW SCHOOL

LUMBY, B.C. (CP) — Education Minister Ray Williston will officially open Lumby's new eight-room elementary school and four room addition to the Lumby high school on Nov. 2.

The new school was constructed at a cost of $104,000 and the addition to the high school cost $34,987.

Continue Search For Missing Girl

TIMAGAMI, Ont. (CP) — Provincial police, pressing their search for 21-year-old Grace Beaucage who disappeared Oct. 17, are retracing what is known of her movements the night she vanished.

Inspector Harold Graham of the Ontario Provincial Police questioned 21-year-old Albert Lalonde of Timagami in connection with the case.

Lalonde, described as a friend of Grace's since childhood, told police that after a dance he and the girl drove to Rouyn where they went to a bar. The girl did not drink and after sitting at the table left him saying she was going to the washroom.

He is quoted as saying he waited for an hour but she did not return.

Has Solution to Level Crossing

OTTAWA CP)—James W. Glover, retired Ottawa railwayman has invented a device he figures will provide almost sure-fire prevention of level-crossing crashes.

It is built on the principle that the surest way to stop an automobile is to catch it.

The invention, which Mr. Glover has patented, consists of coiled steel springs about 10 inches in diameter strung vertically between a frame over the highway and a firmly-bedded steel rail in the roadway.

WORKS AUTOMATICALLY

The springs, spaced 4½ feet apart would be pulled across the highway when an approaching train tripped an automatic signal.

Mr. Glover, a railway employee for more than 35 years, says he has discussed the project with many railway men and government officials and that they feel he has something.

They have suggested a couple of changes. One would be to have the springs extend across only half the highway on each side of the crossing to prevent a car being trapped after crossing the rails. Another would be to time the closing for fast and slow trains, to prevent unnecessary delays in highway traffic.

Mr. Glover says the springs will be made so they will expand with pressure, but will not spring back.

New Use For Coal

YORK, England (Reuters)—Dr. Jacob Bronowski, director of Britain's coal research centre, forecasts that in about 30 years mines will have been converted into processing plants — converting coal on the spot into chemicals and perhaps oil. Atomic energy will have superseded coal as the direct source of power in about 20 years, but that would not mean the end of the industry, he told mining and industrial engineers in conference.

Says "Nyet", But With a Smile

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov—the grim nyet-man of many international meetings—is behaving at the Geneva conference like a jolly Volga boatman on a Saturday night off.

He smiles, he laughs, he even makes jokes.

"I've never seen him so relaxed," said an American delegate who has known Molotov for at least nine years, "and while he still says nyet, he said it with a smile."

Nyet is the Russian word of no.

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan is reported to have commented to his ministerial colleagues about Molotov's easy manners around the conference table—and his mellowness in the conference bar.

NO RETIREMENT HINTS

Asked whether anyone at the conference table has questioned the Soviet foreign minister about his reported intention to reveal at Geneva his plans about retiring, the spokesman for the American delegation said:

"No, that question hasn't come up."

Members of other delegations who've been talking to Molotov since his arrival here last Wednesday, says he hasn't given the slightest hint of any imminent retirement.

"He's always joking," explained one delegate. "Yesterday, when he saw another delegate drinking orange juice during the tea break, Molotov came up and said—'You'd better order something stronger for I'm going to make a speech."

Molotov, one Western delegate pointed out, is the life of the party in the conference bar.

"He started out on fruit juice, switched to strong tea and his latest move was to march up to the bar and say in very good French:

"Un scoth at seltz, s'il vous plait, mademoiselle."

Airman Wins Piano Non-Stop Record

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP) — LAC Allen Rye, 26-year-old member of the RCAF at nearby Macdonald air base, Saturday claimed the Canadian non-stop piano playing record.

The Australian-born airman was still playing at 11:15 a.m. Saturday after completing 51 hours, 15 minutes of non-stop playing. He said he hopes to go on to 60 hours, which would surpass the known world record by five hours.

The Canadian record was previously held by army Cpl. Donald (Tiny) Bird of Camp Shilo, Man., who stayed at the keyboard in a Brandon restaurant for 48 hours. Bird holds the organ-playing record of 60 hours without a break.

Ryan, playing in a local hall, was massaged by two Winnipeg physiotherapists during his record-breaking stand.

FIND NAZI PLANE

LINZ, Austria (AP)—The body of a man, several large boxes and containers were found Friday in the hulk of a German courier plane salvaged from the bottom of an Austrian alpine lake. The plane, rumored to contain gold and documents of Hitler Germany plunged into Lake Atter after being shot down by U.S. fighters near the end of the war.

FAMOUS LANDMARK

The Eiffel Tower in Paris, opened in 1889, is 985 feet high.

FLOATING TV FOR ROYAL NAVY

LONDON (CP) — Everything's up to date in the Royal Navy — including a floating television network.

The £2750 TV system has been installed in Britain's newest and biggest aircraft carrier, the 36,800-ton Ark Royal. It can be used both on operations and for entertainment.

The giant carrier, worth about £15,000,000, is equipped with one TV camera and eight large screens. Eventually it is hoped to have 20 more small screens.

Capt. D. R. F. Cambell, Ark Royal's commanding officer, said the system is used mainly for entertainment of the 2700-man crew, picking up BBC programs, but it can also be used for simultaneous briefing of pilots in three sections of the ship.

It is hoped, he said, to provide "live" programs later from the ship's studio.

Two-Year Term for Breaking, Entering

OSOYOOS, B.C. (CP) — Orbin Sims, 65, and Clayton Sims, 26, were sentenced in Osoyoos police court Friday to two years each on charges of cattle theft. Both were later convicted of a similar offence at Keremeos.

The charges were laid by Ted Pendergraft, an Anarchist mountain rancher, who testified he surprised the two as they were butchering one of his calves near the southern trans-provincial highway.

He said the men offered to pay him any amount if he wouldn't go to the police. Instead, Pendergraft rode his horse to the highway where he stopped a motorist and requested him to summon police at Osoyoos, four miles west of the butchering scene.

Witnesses said Orbin Sims had had several business setbacks during the last few years and that he has been in failing health.

Both men were taken from Osoyoos to Keremeos where they were sentenced for the theft and killing of a cow owned by a Mrs. Richter. Orbin Sims was sentenced to one year, and Clayton to two years, the sentences to run currently with those imposed at Osoyoos.

It's Tricks or Treats Tonight Whether She Likes it Or Not

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

"I don't care what you say—" Mrs. Murphy began.

"I didn't suppose you did," her husband murmered.

"I do not," went on Mrs. Murphy firmly, "want Merton to go out trick-or-treating. In the frist place he's too little."

"Oh come, now," Mr. Murphy said. "Let the boy have a little fun. I'll go along and keep an eye on him.'

"Mfff," said Mrs. Murphy. "I remember the time junior was little and you went along to keep an eye on him. And Jim Simpson invited you in for a 'taste' of hard cider. Junior got home two hours before you did!"

"Well, you wouldn't expect us to share the cider with a boy of three," said Mr. Murphy reasonably. "Anyhow, junior got home all right. Taught him self-reliance."

DON'T APPROVE

"Mfff," said Mrs. Murphy. "He could have got lost or — or almost anything. Besides, I don't approve of this trick-or-treat business. It's nothing but begging."

"There is," said her husband, "begging and begging. I don't recall using any such word when you went from door to door putting the arm on people for the benefit of the ladies' anti-ragweed guild."

"That's entirely different and you know it! The idea! Comparing a fund drive for a worthy cause with this — this juvenile delinquency. That's all it is — it's racketeering. You're encouraging your own child to threaten the neighbors: 'Give me a treat or I'll do something to annoy you."

"You know," said Mr. Murphy thoughtfully, "maybe you have a point there. Maybe we should forget the treats and concentrate on the tricks. Like when I was a boy. Did I ever tell you about the time we hitched the mayor's car battery to the door handle, and —

"Come on, Merton. We'll try it first at the Websters'. Then I know a dandy trick to play on old Mrs. Somers, and—"

"Men," sobbed Mrs. Murphy. "Children — exery one of them. All right. Go trick-or-treating. But if you stop in for any more of that cider, I'll come up and soap every one of Jim Simpson's windows!"

Copper Demand Slackens Off With Price Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — The call for copper for November and December delivery absorbed all of the metal available last week at the producers' price of 43 cents a pound. But demand for January delivery slackened, particularly at the 45 cents a pound price asked by the custom smelters.

Zinc had a quiet week at the old price of 13 cents a pound, after the previous week's flurry when three producers tried unsuccessfully to boost the price to 13½ cents.

Sales of lead at 15½ cents a pound were light.

Aluminum demand will expand at least another 50 per cent over the next five years, members of the Aluminum Association were told at the autumn meeting. Dexter Keezer, vice-president and director, department of economics, McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., said the outlook for the aluminum industry is even brighter than for business generally, "which remains verry good indeed."

MAJOR METALS PRICES:

Copper — 43-45 cents a pound delivered. Foreign 40-45 cents, nominal New York.

Lead — 15.50 cents a pound, New York! 15.30 cents, St. Louis.

Zinc — 13 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 13.50 cents, New York.

Silver — 91.625 cents an ounce, New York; 79.50 pence, London.

Bill of Rights Need —Coldwell

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, national CCF leader said Saturday night a bill of rights should be written into Canada's constitution to protect individual freedoms.

Mr. Coldwell said at a public meeting that it is dangerous for Canadians to think that curtailments of rights and freedoms that have taken place in other countries can't happen in Canada.

"Indeed some of these rights have been infringed upon from time to time in some parts of Canada," he said.

Mr. Coldwell referred to his unsuccessful attempt at the last session of Parliament to get acceptance of a bill of rights.

BILL IS NEEDED

"The answer of the minister of justice was that the present laws were sufficient. But it only necessary to recall a few of the things that have actually happened in Canada to see just how necessary a bill of rights really is."

He said the press bill passed in 1936 by Alberta's Social Credit government could have limited the freedom of the press if the law had not been disallowed by the federal government. Quebec's padlock law permitted the provincial attorney-general to padlock any establishment suspected of being used for Communistic activities, without any trial.

"The CCF believes that the basic rights of Canadian citizenship should be entrenched in our constitution so that these could not be denied either by the federal minister of justice or by any provincial attorney-general."

CENTENNIAL OF SHAW BIRTH TO BE NOTED

VANCOUVER — The first large scale celebration of the centennial anniversary of the birth of George Bernard Shaw will take place at the University of B.C. in January.

A week-long Shaw festival featuring Shaw readings, lectures, movies and production of Shaw's epic play "Back to Methuslah" presented at U.B.C. will be the first major event in the world wide year-long celebrations of the Shaw centennial.

The festival, planned for the week of Jan. 16 to 21, will include readings from Shaw by one of Canada's most noted dramatists, Lister Sinclair.

To Submit Arms Sales to UN

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese industry spokesman Saturday said Japan intends to try to sell armaments to Egypt, but all orders will be submitted to the United States for approval.

"Of course we will make overtures to Egypt, and we are certain the free world would rather see Japan than Czechoslovakia sell arms to Egypt," said the spokesman for the Federation of Economic Organizations, composed of all major Japanese manufacturers.

"But we must clear first with Washington," he added, "because our whole arms industry is geared to U.S. military specifications and supported by American procurement. Everything we make now is a copy of U.S. weapons, and we must have permission to export them."

Use Mouth Organ To Charm Snake

SYDNEY (CP) — An Australian woman used a mouth organ to defeat a snake which invaded her home.

The woman, Mrs. W. Handsaker, of Kyogle, New South Wales, played the mouth organ until the snake, four feet long, was hypnotized.

The snake was so attracted to the music that a man was able to hold a rifle only inches from its head and pull the trigger.

Mrs. Hendsaker's main tune on the mouth organ was her own interpretation of "Yankee Doodle." She said afterwards: "I'd never played 'Yankee Doodle' before but I can certainly play it now."

Sex in Schools Comes Up Again

VANCOUVER (CP)—An echo of the 1952 "sex in our schools" dispute was heard here Saturday as delegates to the seventh annual British Columbia Social Credit League convention angrily debated a resolution based on a high school course called "personal health and development."

The resolution, asking the course be made elective instead of compulsory, was defeated.

The course is a successor to the former "effective living" course, the object of a ranging controversy in 1952 when the Social Credit member for Salmon Arm, J. Alan Reid, charged "sex is being taught in our schools."

Ken Haufman, Burnaby school teacher, defended the course, saying that "children should have some place where, when they have a grievance against their parents, they can take it to their teacher."

MEETS OPPOSITION

"I don't need anyone to tell me how to make my child a good citizen," snapped a Cowichan-Newcastle delegate.

"This course seeks to give the child the thought he can arbitrate any problem. It should be thrown out of our school sysem completely."

R. O. Ney, delegate from Oak Bay, who said he is the father of seven, supported the course. "Lots and lots of homes have children who need help."

Bert Price, MLA for Vancouver Burrard, said:

"There is a great deal of room for improvement in the curriculum. There is too much exaggeration on courses such as the one mentioned."

The course was defended by Education Minister Ray Williston who said it is "one of the most important courses in the school system."

The course emphasizes boy-girl relationships, solving of child-parent problems and character development.

Way To Overcome Sin Considered

The way to overcome sin — its causes as well as its effects — through the understanding of God was brought out at Christian Science services on Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon "Everlasting Punishment" was the Golden Text from Ezekiel (18:23): "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?"

Selections read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy included the following: "Divine Love corrects and govern man .... Every supposed pleasure in sin will furnish more than its equivalant of pain, until belief in material life and sin is destroyed."

Scriptural readings included the following (Psalms 37:27): "Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore."
