Van Roi Plans To Reopen Mill

Resurgence in Kootenay Mining Follows Increase in Metals Prices

Slocan Van Roi Mines Ltd., plans to reopen its 150-ton mill at Silverton and possibly include some custom milling, it was learned Wednesday.

G. W. West, manager, told The Daily News by telephone that development work has been going on since mid-September at the mine located six miles from Silverton, both on the Van Roi and Hewitt properties. The Van Roi portion is being mined and the ore stockpiled for future mill operation.

The company intends to rehabilitate its mill, shut down in the summer of 1952 during the base metals slump, and will probably acquire additional equipment.

Mr. West confirmed that his company feels the present price of base metals warrants resumption of mine and mill activity.

"We are operating on a very small scale for the present," he said.

Also in the district is L. G. White of Vancouver, official of Transcontinental Resources Ltd. which is the parent body of Slocan Van Roi Mines Ltd., formerly Van Roi Consolidated Mines.

Van Roi ore reserves at December 31, 1951, were estimated at 120,000 tons positive, 18,000 tons probable and 84,000 tons possible, averaging eight ounces silver per ton, 2.5 per cent lead and six per cent zinc.

MOUNTING INTEREST

Mining circles throughout the Kootenays this week are humming with stories of exploratory work by various companies due to the current upsurge in metals prices, latest development in which was Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's announcement Tuesday of a half cent a pound increase in the price of lead, bringing the new price to 14.75 cents a pound.

The Chamber of Mines of Eastern B.C. reported several representatives of mining companies from Vancouver and from Eastern Canada in the district.

Granby Consolidated will have three or four men into the old "ghost" working at Phoenix probably in a week for diamond drilling, Jack Ross of Copper Mountain told The News.

He denied a rumor circulating in this area that the company intends to install a 300-ton concentrator.

"We have taken an option on the old Phoenix," he said. The company has seven men employed at the Lone Star property just across the border in Washington State, and in four or five months of drilling the crew has met with "some success'.

"If we meet with success at Phoenix, we will carry on," Mr. Ross said. "Otherwise we will let things drop."

Granby, which operates now at Copper Mountain and is recognized as one of the best low grade copper property operators in Canada, has optioned the Phoenix property from Greenwood's Mayor W. E. McArthur.

The prospect of the copper camp of Phoenix, one of the most celebrated ghost towns in B.C., being brought to life again by the same company which built it and the smelter at Grand Forks, has stirred not only the Boundary but also the neighboring Kootenays.

Meanwhile it is reported that other companies are probing about in the Deadwood area West of Greenwood, including the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

The Mother Lode property, staked in 1891 and another major producer of the early days, is said to be under scrutiny of Surety Oils and Minerals of Toronto which is diamond drilling in search for copper ore bodies.

Negotiations are also reported to be under way concerning the Kenville mill just West of Nelson, and the Eureka copper, gold and silver property.

MOLOTOV WALKS OUT

Nationalist Tirade Sees Russian Quit UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Russia's V. M. Molotov walked out of the UN assembly Wednesday as Nationalist China's Foreign Minister George Yeh denounced Moscow's peace drive and Red "tyranny" over the Chinese mainland.

Yeh, making a policy speech to the assembly in Chinese, said the Communists in their six years of domination of the Chinese mainland have "spawned a gigantic system of repression and terrorism, the like of which has never been known in Chinese history."

He said the current peace campaign by the Reds actually is a form of war between communism and capitalism and the "softer words" do not mean the Communists have given up the fight.

Molotov was joined in his walk by Vaclav David, Czechoslovak foreign minister, and Marian Naszkowski, deputy foreign minister of Poland. Kuzma Kiselev, foreign minister of White Russia, remained. At the afternoon session, Kiselev in his policy address attacked Yeh for making "slanderous remarks."

V. K. Krishna Menon, India's chief delegate who has joined Molotov in advocating a UN seat for Red China, left the same at the time Molotov departed. A spokesman said Krishna Menon had a medical appointment but added: "Our position is well known."

St. Laurents' Granddaughter To Be Wed

QUEBEC (CP) — Vivacious Louise Samson, 21-year-old granddaughter of Prime Minister St. Laurent, will be married Saturday to a young Quebec lawyer.

It was on Oct. 1, 1931 that Mr. St. Laurent gave away his daughter Marthe in marriage to Dr Mathieu Samson, then a fledgling practitioner. Saturday, the eldest child of that union will be married.

Louise, a pert, shapely brunette, wants the wedding to be given as little publicity as possible. But "grand-papa" will be there and already some 20 Quebec policemen have been assigned to keep things rolling smoothly near the church of Notre Dame du Chemin in Uppertown.

The groom-elect is Yvon Mignault, a 25-year-old graduate of Laval University. After the marriage he will set up practice in Noranda, Que., where the couple plans to buy a house.

DR. AND MRS. SANFORD MARCUS are a good deal happier now that they have their baby back safe and sound than when this picture was taken a few days ago. Mrs. Marcus is being comforted by her husband as she is about to be placed in an ambulance for a sad journey to her home.

Childless Woman "Just Had to Have a Baby"

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A childless housewife who "just had to have a baby" remorsefully surrendered Robert Marcus to a priest in Stockton, Calif., early Wednesday, nine days after the newborn boy was kidnapped in San Francisco.

Recovery of the healthy baby, now 11 days old, ended a country-wide hunt.

Dr. Sanford Marcus, 34, and his wife, Hanna, 29, sped in a police car the 82 miles to Stockton from San Francisco in 75 minutes for a joyful reunion with their son.

Frightened by the earlier questioning of a sharp-eyed deputy sheriff, Mrs. Betty Jean Benedicto, 27, plump and blonde, decided to give up the baby she had so carefully tended while police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation hunted him from California to New York.

Police were closing in on Mrs. Benedicto when she telephoned the anxious Dr. Marcus, told him the infant was safe and that she was leaving it at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in Stockton.

SURE OF IDENTITY

Father Alan McCoy of St. Mary's answered his doorbell at the rectory at 1:15 a.m. and found Mrs. Benedicto standing there, the baby in her arms.

Dr. Marcus said it took "only a few seconds" to "become at least 99 per cent sure" that the child was his son, stolen from San Francisco's Mt. Zion Hospital Sept. 19.

In Mira Loma, Calif., Mrs. Benedicto was described by her mother as "a problem child since her early teens."

The Herald-Express quoted Mrs. Berg in a copyrighted story:

"I have no sympathy for her and I don't believe it was hunger for a child that made her steal the San Francisco baby. I think she took the baby hoping to please that new husband of hers."

DECEIVED HUSBAND

District attorney Bradford Crittenden of Stockton said the plump woman told of playing an elaborate game of deception upon her husband.

"I just had to have a baby, I had to have a baby!" he quoted her as saying.

She was married last October to Marcos Benedicto, 52. She said that because of a caesarean operation she had been told she never would have a baby. But when she began to take on weight Mrs. Benedicto told her husband she was pregnant, visited her mother, dieted, then returned and told her husband the baby had been born but was ill and in a hospital.

Then, she said, she went to Mt. Zion Hospital and took baby Robert Marcus because his name was similar to her husband's.

Deputy sheriff Osvaldo J. Vannucci first became suspicious when he spotted Mrs. Benedicto at a boxing match, with the baby. He let her go after questioning when she produced a birth certificate from a hospital in Lylwood. But he checked the hospital, found no baby by the name of Benedicto had been born there. The hunt was on.

Ike May Be Back in Office in a Month

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Mounting hopes that President Eisenhower may return to the helm of government within a month were strengthened Wednesday. The oxygen tent was removed from his hospital room.

However, doctors ordered the tent returned when the president went to sleep Wednesday night.

There was no thought of him assuming the burdens of a full White House schedule that soon. But, barring complications, administrative associates seem agreed he will be able to make any necessary decisions from the calm of his farmhouse at Gettysburg, Pa.

The president will be 65 on Oct. 14.

Meanwhile, vice-president Richard Nixon said at Washington that operations of the government are "going smoothly" and "we see no legal problems involved."

Egypt Defends Arms Purchase

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP — Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi Wednesday challenged the right of any country to tell his government where and how it should buy arms for its defence.

In a statement issued at the UN, he said:

"It is our indisputable right and our inescapable duty to get, from wherever we can, our defence requirements.

Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser disclosed Tuesday that Egypt has made a deal to trade cotton to Czechoslovakia for arms.

QUEBEC (CP) — Northern Affairs Minister Lesage said Wednesday night that development of Canada's northland "is the very realization of Canada's heritage."

Bennett Reserves Comment On Tax Rentals

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett of British Columbia found reports from Ottawa on a proposal to scrap tax rental agreements "very interesting."

"But we will say what we have to say at the Dominion-provincial conference," he said Wednesday when asked to comment.

It was reported that the federal government will propose scrapping of the tax rental agreements at next week's conference in Ottawa.

Other government sources here indicated the B.C. government will probably reject the proposal.

Townsend Guarded

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Belgian police have assigned a 24-hour guard outside the home of Britain's air attache, Group Capt. Peter Townsend, to keep out "unwelcome callers." Townsend, whose name has been linked romantically with Princess Margaret, has been pestered for the last seven months by reporters and others seeking information.

MINIMUM WAGE SET IN MINING

VICTORIA (CP) — All workers in B.C.'s mining industry will be given the protection of a minimum wage for the first time in history, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks announced Wednesday.

Establishment of a $1 an hour minimum wage from Nov. 1 ends extensive hearings during the last two years by the board of industrial relations, he said. Previously the only persons covered by a minimum wage were those engaged in geophyisical exploration.

Boys under the age of 18 employed on a casual basis during school holidays to do odd surface jobs now are required to be paid not less than 60 cents an hour.

Workers engaged in development projects are not restricted as to the number of hours they work but must be paid overtime for all hours worked above 191 a calendar month. Other employees work a 44-hour week.

MOLOTOV TO HOST PEARSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Khrushchev, now vacationing in the Caucasus, are expected back in the capital in time to receive External Affairs Minister Pearson when he visits Russia early next month, but plans as yet are not definite and the Canadian embassy has been unable to give any details.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov probably will return here from the United Nations General Assembly in New York before going to Geneva for the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

Molotov would be host to Pearson since the Soviet foreign minister informally extended the invitation at the UN jubilee conference in San Francisco last June.

Janet Wipes Out Town of 1,000

MIAMI (AP) — Uncounted dead and injured were reported Wednesday from the flattened tiny seaport of Xcalak as killer hurricane Janet slashed across Mexico's Yucatan peninsula and moved back over open water still carrying winds of 100 miles an hour.

A telegraph operator reported that only one house was left standing in Xcalak, a town of 1000 in the southern part of Quintana Roo province. It is on the southern tip of Yucatan.

Janet has killed hundreds in its week-long rampage over land and water in the Caribbean area—an estimated 200 in Mexico alone. It swallowed up the only hurricane hunter plane that has ever failed to return from a storm-scouting mission.

Radar Accuracy Questioned

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—Lawyer H. A. D. Oliver Wednesday drew an admission from police that even when nothing is passing a radar speed trap, the meter needle reads 80 miles an hour.

"If it can do that when there is nothing, it can also do it when there is something," Mr. Oliver said. He was appearing at police court in this suburban Vancouver municipality for William Phillips, who is alleged to have passed a radar patrol at 40 miles an hour. The speed limit in the area is 30 m.p.h.

The magistrate reserved decision for a week.

Operation Lifesaver Termed Big Success

By DAVID OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY (CP) — Operation Lifesaver now is over and despite a light turnout civil defence planners described it as a "big success."

Unofficial estimates were that 2500 cars, carrying less than 10,000 persons, sped out of the city when the evacuation test was launched by the wailing air raid sirens at 10:50 a.m. Wednesday. Civil defence officials had expected four times as many cars and people to take part in the exercise.

Planners blamed the light turnout on poor weather, loss of enthusiasm when the operation was postponed a week ago, lack of cooperation by some employers and criticism of the operation by some officials.

Wednesday was a dull, cold day in the Calgary area. In the city itself rain fell intermittently and at some reception points heavy snow was reported. The temperature ranged between 30 and 40.

But despite slippery and soggy roads the operation ran smoothly.

SEAL OFF AREA

The nine-square-mile northeast section of Calgary was deserted 2½ hours after the sirens sounded. Only a few official and police cars moved along the streets. RCMP and city police, on foot and on motorcycles, patrolled the area to prevent looting.

Thirty minutes after the sirens sounded the entire section was sealed off from the rest of the city. No unauthorized traffic was allowed to enter and the only flow of traffic permitted was out of the city.

Lifesaver was carried out with much of the realism of a real attack. Smokebombs were set off in the area as a make-believe enemy force of planes roared overhead. They echoed through the tomb-like silence of the empty streets.

Better Check on Cafes Urged

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Vancouver restaurant owner Wednesday urged examinations for eat-inghouse operators.

Nat Bailey, national secretary of the Canadian Restaurant Association, also told the B.C. regional meeting of the association here that British Columbia's liquor laws should be revised.

Mr. Bailey said health department officials have "fallen down on the job. They don't inspect eating establishments in B.C. as well as they should."

Any person who wants a licence to run a restaurant pays the required fee "and he can open anything from a greasy spoon to a lounge."

Mr. Bailey, who operates a chain of restaurants, says hotels may serve liquor, other than beer and wine, "but we can not. Hotels can bring down the price of a meal and make up the loss by selling liquor while a cafe must charge a higher price to make a reasonable profit."

Donald Coburn of Santa Barbara, Calif., said the so-called "greasy spoon" is needed in every city, but generally they are outnumbered by the better restaurants.

Must Replace Sultan or Resign

By HAROLD KING

PARIS (Reuters)—Premier Edgar Faure Wednesday ordered Gen. Pierre Boyer de LaTour, France's resident-general in Morocco, to arrange for the replacement of Sultan Moulay Ben Arafa by a regency council by midnight today, or resign.

Ben Arafa's departure from the throne, and his replacement by a council of three, is the first step in the long-delayed French reform for the troubled protectorate.

An official close to Faure said: "If the resident-general finds himself unable to carry out the explicit instructions of the government, he must resign, and someone else will be appointed to carry out the government's decisions."

The 16-day delay in giving effect to the autonomy plan, adopted and announced by the government Sept. 12, has undermined its prestige both among Moroccan Nationalists and in the French Parliament.

The national assembly reconvenes after its summer recess next Tuesday. The Faure government, constituted last Feb. 23, will find itself in serious difficulties and may even be overthrown.

CLAIM 105 REBELS KILLED IN ALGERIA

ALGIERS (Reuters) — French security forces claimed Wednesday to have killed at least 105 rebels in a two-day offensive by infantry, tanks and planes in the Nementcha mountains of eastern Algeria.

SNAKE WARNING

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Game Warden Don Ellis has warned blue grouse hunters to be on the lookout for rattlesnakes in the Bear creek area.

Bear creek is on the west side of Okanagan lake and about 15 miles back in the hills.

And In This Corner . . .

CALGARY (CP)—The World Series penetrated even the all-work facade of the Alberta civil defence headquarters Wednesday.

Throughout the morning one observer wandered through the Calgary drill hall with a matchbox-sized radio clapped firmly to one ear and an abstract expression on his face.

Behind him trailed an avid retinue of eager ball fans. For him the most earth-shaking announcement of the morning was not connected with civil defence but that the score was 2-2 at the bottom of the third.

VERONA, Italy (AP)—A fish stopped a passenger train here Tuesday.

It happened this way:

A small boy was fishing with a long, cane pole. He felt a nibble and heaved. The fish landed up in the electric power line that feeds the electric trains. The train arrived just then, the trolley hit the fish, there was a short-circuit and the train stopped.

It took half an hour to get the Verona-Bologna-Rome express under way again.

LONDON (AP)—It's enough to make a man hopping mad — someone with itchy fingers has stolen the flea circus Maurice Cheepen has taken days to bring up to scratch.

Cheepen, manager of the Troxy movie house at suburban Stepney, put his miniature performers out on display in the lobby to advertise a coming circus film. Overnight they disappeared.

"You've no idea how hard it is to find a nice juicy flea in London these days," he said. "I've even offered a bob each, but had no takers."

Judge Lord Told . . .

Onus on Government To Unfreeze Lands

The onus is on the provincial government to take the freeze off the Doukhobor lands, put a price on them and offer them for sale, Orthodox Doukhobor leader John Veregin has told the Doukhobor Land Commission.

At two-day hearings in Castlegar before His Honor Judge A. E. Lord, the Doukhobor leader said that if this was done he anticipated his people would co-operate and come forward to purchase the land.

He said this after being asked for a brief he had been requested to prepare when he appeared before the commission in Grand Forks June 23. The brief was to set forth the Orthodox Doukhobors' intentions of purchasing the controversial Doukhobor lands. He told Judge Lord, who sits as one-man commissioner on the Doukhobor Lands Allotment Commission that he had not had time to prepare the brief and if he had it would have been a repetition of what he had already said at hearings in Nelson, Grand Forks and finally Castlegar.

NO ASSURANCE

Mr. Verigin expressed fear that if any or all of the 18,000 acres was purchased by the Doukhobors, they would be unable to obtain fire insurance and there was no assurance they would not be subjected to Freedomite protest action. To this Judge Lord suggested that the provincial government inaugurate a fire insurance program up to 50 per cent of the value of the buildings, and if no commercial house was willing to undertake it, then an appropriate government guarantee could be made.

He also suggested that the government supply three persons to train and organize the Doukhobors to assist in their own protection and suggested that "if deemed advisable certain Doukhobors would be sworn in as special constables."

The Doukhobor leader was against this, for swearing in of special constables entails an oath of allegiance.

J. G. Gould, counsel to the commissioner, read into the records that the Doukhobors since 1908 had cost the federal and provincial governments, the CPR and West Kootenay Power and Light Company in excess of $5,900,000. This did not include care of Doukhobors in jail.

These costs arose from the Sons of Freedom, Mr. Verigin pointed out, and they should not be included in a "blanket indictment."

Asked if he was satisfied with Judge Lord's suggestions, Mr. Verigin said he was, provided no Doukhobors were sworn in as special constables.

Also appearing before Judge Lord were Pete Koorbotoff of Glade and Peter Oglow, executive members of the Orthodox group, and Fred Vanjoff of Grand Forks, representative to the hearing from the Orthodox group.

SCHOOL LAND

Representations from Castlegar School District 7 for the 21 to 22 acres that Ootishenia school is located on and from the Robson Irrigation District for reservation of 13 district lots adjacent to Pass Creek, the source of their domestic and irrigation water supply, were also heard.

The Commission adjourned Monday afternoon to view the Ootishenia school land. Secretary of the school district C. H. King explained that the land would be valuable to the school for development of a long-term plan to introduce agricultural courses. Neil Drewry, author of the report on Doukhobor lands, testified the land was not used at all and felt it would be a progressive step to have it used as a school area.

COULD CONTAMINATE

Ross Oborne and Duncan Carter asked that the 13 district lots adjacent to the Robson water supply be set aside and not settled as any further settlement would be liable to contaminate the supply. Mr. Drewry testified the land was of little use for agricultural purposes.

A third application from Castlegar Rotary Club to have approximately 50 acres set aside for park purposes between Pass Creek and the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway, was abandoned. Mr. McGauley of McGauley and Wetmore appeared for the club. The club asked instead that the provincial government place a reserve on it and have the Parks Division of the Department of Lands and Forests investigate feasibility of park development there.

Petition For Fire Hydrant Turned Down

A petition signed by 45 Rosemont property owners asking for installation of a fire hydrant has been turned down by city council

After considerable discussion, council decided it could not go outside the city with such a service. Although the petitioners volunteered to be responsible for the hydrant, winterizing it and keeping it shovelled out, councillors felt it set up a moral obligation for the city to provide fire protection which they could not give outside the city. It would also set a precedent for installing hydrants outside the city which they could not follow. New pumper truck now on order for Nelson Fire Department would be more adequate if fire did break out in that area, it was felt.

The petitioners had offered to form a volunteer fire brigade if the petition was accepted. They had made the petition while a four-inch water main was being laid by the city between Innes and Gore Streets West, as it would reduce the cost of the hydrant. They also offered to pay the extra cost of installation.

The Opposition Leader and Mr Fulton will attend a luncheon meeting of the Trail Chamber of Commerce.

Then they will drive to Nelson for a dinner and public meeting tonight sponsored by Nelson Chamber of Commerce, at which Mr. Drew will be the guest speaker. He will be introduced by Mayor Joseph Kary.

Representatives of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce have been invited to attend the dinner and meeting.

PAYS $25 FINE

Marcel VanRuyskensvelde of Nelson, charged with driving without headlights on Ward Street, pleaded guilty before Magistrate William Brown and was fined $25.

Chest Drive $500 Short

The second annual drive of the Nelson District Community Chest Society fell $500 short of its objective of $20,000. This was revealed at a meeting of the Society's board of directors Wednesday night.

President J. R. Corner announced that very few pledges solicited during the campaign had been cancelled. Pledges are being received by the society at the rate of $450 per month.

Payment of outstanding disbursements to the B.C. Cancer Society and the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, was authorized by the board of directors.

Payment of $2000 is to be made to each organization, both of which received $2000 grants last July.

Mrs. Deerward, who teaches at the school, said the children were responding enthusiastically to the classes, which are facilitated by equipment already present in the Memorial Hall playroom where the classes are held.

Medical Director Dr. G. R. Callbeck, who has checked many handicapped children during the past year. and who has done considerable research and travel as medical director, also gave a report.

One of the chief achievements of the year, he felt, was that the coast organizations had been interested in the Kootenay Society and realized the importance of co-ordination between handicapped societies.

Membership chairman D. M. Sample reported individual membership lagging.

Treasurer Mrs. S. Tyler reported a current bank balance of $1215.82 in the current account and $986 17 contributed to the building fund.

The Borough of Slough sends Nelson special greetings and best wishes for happiness and prosperity.

The letter of greeting came from the Mayor's Parlor, Town Hall, Sloughs, Bucks, after the Elgar Choir visited the city for two days and the mayor had received a note of goodwill from Nelson City Council delivered by Elgar Choir members Miss Dorothy Foster of Nelson and Ronald Fawcett, formerly of Nelson, now of Vancouver.

The letter was signed by A. W. Pusey, Mayor.

GIRLS FOUND WITH LIQUOR ON PROBATION

Three juvenile girls have been placed on 12-months probation in the last week for possession of liquor and consuming it in a public place and two others face similar charges.

One girl, 16-years-old, appeared in juvenile court Wednesday on a charge of consuming liquor. The others appeared earlier in the week.

Two juvenile girls, a minor boy and one adult were apprehended by RCMP on Ymir Road Saturday night following a dance and have been charged with possession.

S. S. Simpson Retires From Forest Service

A senior employee of the B.C. Forest Service and chief clerk of the Nelson Forest District for the past 23 years retired Wednesday because of ill health.

S. S. (Sid) Simpson, 64, who has been ailing for several years, leaves the forest service after 33 years.

He joined the service in Cranbrook, where he worked as supervisor's assistant and was transferred to Nelson as chief clerk in 1932. He left his native Scotland in 1910 and has lived in the Kootenays ever since.

An ardent cricketer and golfer in his youth, Mr. Simpson later turned to the hobbies of gardening and fishing. His wife has long been a familiar figure in the I.O.D.E. and in Nelson church activities.

Both Mr. Simpson and his wife served with the British forces in France during World War I. Mr. Simpson with the British Imperial Army and Mrs. Simpson with the British Women's Army Corps.

The couple leave Nelson today for Victoria, where they have many friends and where they will take up permanent residence.

Schmidt's Prison Term Reduced

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Edward Schmidt, 23, hotel clerk from Nelson has won a reduction of his prison term from 37 months to one year for theft and forgery.

Schmidt was clerk in the Hume Hotel at Nelson when he was charged with theft and forgery, for which he was sentenced by Magistrate William Brown to one year and 23 months, respectively.

The terms were to be served consecutively, the magistrate ordered, but the appeal judges reduced the forgery sentence to one year and ordered the two terms to run concurrent.

Land Bought for New United Church

A United Church offer of $2400 for nine lots in Fairview has been accepted by the city of Nelson. The offer was made subject to the confirmation of the church boards and the United Church Kootenay Presbytery which meets October 11 in Cranbrook.

The lots are where the old city tennis courts were located on Second Street between Cottonwood and Davies Streets.

The site is for the proposed new Fairview United Church.

ROWING CLUB FUNDS DRIVE MOVES SLOWLY

Nelson Rowing Club is having little success in its efforts to raise funds for the improvement of its boathouse on the city's waterfront. To date only $300 of the $2000 campaign objective has been collected.

First established in 1896, the club brought many rowing honors to Nelson, particularly in 1938 and 1939, when several championships were won at meets on Okanagan Lake.

Spokesmen for the club, D. F McKay and C. F. Rutherglen, have announced that efforts to raise the required $2000 will continue this winter in order to have adequate housing facilities ready for next summer.

Cranbrook Firm's Dry Kiln Goes Into Operation Soon

CRANBROOK—New Cranbrook Sash and Door Company Ltd. Moore dry kiln installation and plant necessary for it has reached the final stage of construction to go into operation next month. Cost of the new facilities is approximately $85,000.

The equipment will enable drying of fresh-cut lumber in approximately 72 hours to the stage where it can go through the planer instead of the three to five weeks of yard drying necessary under natural conditions and will sharply curtail the time necessary for delivery of orders of specific size and grade.

Actual installation put in under supervision of Elmer Gustafson, company representative from Vancouver here for the last month, is in the gable of the new 106 by 36-foot cement block building in the planer yard, where 130,000 fbm. of green lumber per charge can be treated.

Steam under 15 pounds pressure will be fed to the gable where it is circulated through the charge in the kiln alternately with dry air which comes through the roof ventilators and is heated to 180 degrees. Row of 13 72-inch reversible fans will circulate alternately the steam and dry air which completes the process of drying without warping the lumber.

Operating from a winch, small bunker cars will be loaded on tracks outside the west end of the kiln, proceed into the kilns for the drying, and then continue to the cooling shed at the west end where the dry lumber is then ready for transfer to the planer. Three hundred and eighteen feet of track are required between the two terminals.

OTHER BUILDINGS

Other new buildings for the process now near completion towering over the planer yard are a fuel shed and a boiler house. Shavings waste from the planer will be diverted from the burner and blown to the hopper in the fuel shed. From there they will be chain-fed to the boiler house to maintain 15 pounds of steam pressure which will be piped overhead in six-inch steam line to the kiln gable.

Control shed for the kiln is at roof level, accessible by a ramp alongside the cooling shed. Process requires only check at intervals to confirm normal operation inside the kiln and rate of progress of the charge, but the boiler house will be manned continuously while the kiln is operating.

When the kiln goes into operation, one result will be a spectacular reduction in inventory of drying lumber in the company's adjoining yard, which normally has handled up to 20 million feet a year.

Efforts are under way by the company to equip the boiler house with a steam whistle which will operate on 15 pounds pressure. Regular industrial whistle has been missing from Cranbrook since curtailment of railway shop operations and displacement of steam engines by diesel locomotives.

NAKUSP PTA TO BUY KILN FOR SCHOOLS

NAKUSP— Uses to which a kiln could be put in both elementary and high schools in art work were outlined at the first meeting of the new term of the Nakusp Parent-Teacher Association, and resulted in the group's decision to raise fund for the purchase of a kiln. An electric kiln could be bought for $60, it was stated.

Considerable discussion took place on the department of education's change in policy on school buses, and the PTA decided to draft a resolution backing a request from the school board for continuation of former schedules in this district.

The resolution stated reasons for the request are road conditions, distances, industrial traffic hazards. On the resolutions committee were Stan Fellows, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Robins.

D. LeLievre installed officers for the year.

Hospital Contract Award Postponed

INVERMERE — Opening of tenders and awarding of the contract for the construction of the $315,000 Windermere District Hospital has been postponed from Friday to October 5.

The postponement has been made at the request of several contractors who require more time to complete estimates and present a bid on the project.

Invermere Sawmills Production Way Up

INVERMERE — Sawmills in the Invermere area (Dutch Creek to Luxor) cut a record 3,671,244 board feet during August. Previous record set last March was 2,833,000 board feet. July cut was 2,775,000 board feet.

Canal Flat area reports a cut of 928,708 cubic feet or more than 5½ million board feet during August for that area. In addition 19,265 lineal feet of cedar poles were cut in the Canal Flat area in August.

Loggin goperators in the Windermere are riding the crest of current high prices and heavy demand for their products Building in the Windermere District is likely to strike a high this autumn.

Wilder Brothers Lumber Company of Radium Hot Springs was the successful bidder at a large timber sale at Canal Flat obtaining a timber parcel on the Kootenay River near Bear Creek. The timber is near the present logging operations of the company from where it is hauled through Kootenay Park to the company planer and mill at Radium. The parcel included 1,264,000 cubic feet of larch; 1,179,000 cubic feet of spruce; 973,000 cubic feet of fir and small amounts of pine and balsam.

Cranbrook Sets Winter Rates for Tourist Camp

CRANBROOK — Conditions for Winter rental of the bungalows in the Municipal Tourist Camp on a montly basis following its closure to tourists October 15 were set by City Council Monday. The one- and two-bedroom units will be available partially furnished at monthly rent from $35 to $45, with the tenant responsible for installation of the individual electric meter. Similar service will be offered to trailer units at $15 a month.

Change in city water billing method and payment is authorized to go into effect through the city next January 1. In the past these rates have been payable annually in advance or quarterly. In future they will be billed monthly along with the city electric service account for simultaneous payment, and the five percent discount for early payment of electric bill will be dropped.

A letter from store-operator D. J. Middlebrook protested to City Council changes in the city bylaw covering hours of operation of city stores which have been proposed by the Chamber of Commerce, and criticizing some of the regulations of the present bylaw as they apply to one-man store enterprises. The letter was filed for consideration when the Council is officially notified by the Chamber of Commerce of the merchants' proposal to substitute an all-day Monday closing for the present Wednesday half-day closing.

Screen Star keeps "young" look

Time and weather can't mar the perennial good looks of aluminum screen cloth. It gets star billing among builders and home owners both because it lasts so much longer and because it never stains or discolors surrounding woodwork.

It is also the lowest-priced non-rusting insect screen on the market. And that adds point to the happy fact that Canada is the world's most efficient aluminum producer. And that fact, in turn, means that people who make aluminum screen and window frames, roofing and hardware for Canada's active building industry can do so at prices that save a lot of people a lot of money.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, September 29th—Bless his darling heart! . . . Don't you sometimes find yourself spell-bound with the delight of your small baby? I know they can be difficult at meal-times—but I know, too, that babies love Certified AYLMER BIB ORANGE JUICE. This orange juice is very, very finely strained—so it will cause no feeding disturbance. It's made from sun-ripened oranges—and is very rich in Vitamin C. As we all know—babies must have orange juice—and it's a pleasure to urge you to buy this fine Aylmer product—one of a wide range of baby foods that are favorites everywhere, very low in cost, too!

One Of The Joys . . . in life, seems to me, is a piping-hot cup of coffee, and good talk shared with people one loves . . . And—seems to me also! . . . there's nothing like INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE, made with the unique know-how of 100 years coffee experience. "Agreed!" cries chubby Mr. Chase, "Know-how—plus my matchless brewing—that's the secret!" . . . "Come now," says the gentle Mr. Sanborn, "You can't forget the top-quality beans we use! It's beans, sir—the best we can buy! That's the secret." . . . Right, Sirs—to both of you, I think. For it's fine brewing and fine beans and fine experience that has made Instant Chase & Sanborn so very popular.

A Very Small Boy . . . was making a very great uproar, at noon yesterday, howling up our street on his way home from school! He'd cut his knee on the gravel. His mother came running with comfort in her voice and in her hand. "Come on, honey, this CURAD will fix you in a jiffy!" We beamed at each other—two women who knew the value of Curad Plastic Bandages for any cuts or scratches. You see, the new "Stick-Quick" adhesive is wonderful—won't curl or fray. It's completely water-proof, Good to know, too, that Curad are made with an exclusive new medication—with the germ-killer right in the pad! Keep a supply of Curad always on hand—it's a wise thing to do!

Even When It's Ice-Box Cold . . . it's smooth and easy to spread! That's the exciting news about new BLUE BONNET MARGARINE . . . It's delicious—yet so easy to spread, or use, even when ice-box cold, because now, it's super-homogenized! . . . It won't tear or damage even the freshest bread but spreads smoothly. All the golden goodness of Blue Bonnet is yours—for baking, serving with vegetables, or using as a spread . . . Your family benefits from the milk minerals—calcium and phosphorus and from the added Vitamin D and 16,000 units of Vitamin A contained in every pound. Buy Blue Bonnet in the convenient De Luxe foil-wrapped quarters—economical yet convenient—and oh! truly delicious!

Ready For The Winter Months? They're coming—fast! Only a few more weeks to do those outside repairs or improvements to the house. And there's no need to let them slide because you lack the ready cash . . . get the man of the house to go with you to your BANK OF MONTREAL about a Home Improvement Loan. H.I.L.'s at the B of M are inexpensive—only 5¼% interest per annum—and you can pay them back in monthly instalments. So, if your roof or chimney needs repairing—if you want insulation to protect your family, and save on your fuel bill!—if a garage is in your plans—in fact, for any worthwhile home improvement—a B of M Home Improvement Loan is the practical, low-cost answer.

Nothing So Satisfying, seems to me, as a sense of pride in the housework we've done. When laundry is snowy-white and beautifully ironed, there's a pride in our skill that's priceless! One way to be sure of this pleasure in ironing, is to use GLIDE LIQUID STARCH week by week. It's so simple—just add water to Glide, hot or cold. That's all! There's blue in Glide to add whiteness, and wax to smooth your ironing . . . As the days darken into Autumn—you'll find that Glide makes a wonderful difference in your laundry! Use it for cottons, curtains, house dresses, youngsters' clothes. Buy it in the 32 oz. or 64 oz. giant economy size—today!

Do Take My Advice! . . . Just try the delicious whole grain cereal with the extra wheat germ added—BREX. I'm sure your family will like its pleasant, nutty flavor. It's good to know that while you're appreciating its taste—you're getting the precious B vitamins . . . and other essential nutrients which Brex contains. You can cook this fine cereal in only three minutes—so there's no problem at all to serving to your family however rushed your breakfast is. Look for the attractive blue package—which gives many, many attractive ways for serving Brex—in meat loaf, or muffins, for instance.

Organization Needed to Promote City Band; Council Ready to Help

Nelson City Council, to its credit, is prepared to support the organization of a community band. It is one asset the city earnestly needs, and one which the citizens would be delighted to have.

There are few things Nelsonites like better than a parade. It is one of those things that can be taken for granted that if any organization plans a parade, Nelson will turn out to see it. The citizens will line the streets well in advance in preparation for it, they'll delight in it while it's in progress, and they'll talk about it afterwards.

But what's a parade without a band? A band marching alone can create a parade—or the parade spirit; it's the same thing. But a parade without a band is just nothing at all.

Three years ago at the time of the West Kootenay Exhibition this newspaper suggested in these columns there were two things that Nelson needed in connection with such events: a city band and a new arena public address system. The inspiration that prompted organizers to "import" bands from neighbor cities for the recent Summer Bonspiel parade—certainly one of the best in the city's recent times—again showed how stirring a proper band can be and re-emphasized the need for Nelson's own.

In the past, Nelson has had some splendid city bands. The Kootenay Kilties, too, for many years have put on a brave show and on many an occasion carried the burden for various affairs.

A band can well be a part of community education. It can provide the opportunity for musicians to perform in public, it can provide a place of graduation for the products of our school music classes and student bands. As one Nelson and North Shore business man, Fraser Tees, has pointed out, our schools have been "pumping out relatively good players for some years and parents have been pumping investment into expensive instruments for which there is comparatively little use after the students leave schools."

It would be exceedingly worthwhile to have a place for these students to take their talents and in which older musicians could contribute to community enjoyment and attractiveness.

Ald. J. H. Coventry has expressed the willingness of the City Council to support such an enterprise. The Council itself is not ready to handle actual details of organization and training. That is a job for some organization with the assistance of those interested in the promotion of musical endeavor and community service.

Criticism Is Not Sedition

Governments must expect criticism, whether they be of the local sphere or the national. Whether they need suffer from this criticism is entirely another matter.

Usually criticism is raised because the public or the individual critic does not have sufficient information. The public body that keeps the people it serves well informed seldom finds itself in an undefendable position.

Some politicians seem to look on criticism as a form of sedition. Actually it can be mighty useful to them. If it is justified they can mend their ways. If it is not, let them prove it and so confound their critics.

Sees Possibilities for City Borrowing Without Debt by Setting Up Commissions

To the Editor:

Sir—When is a debt not a debt? This could be your $64 question for today. And sure, if the answer is like those Premier Bennett gives out with, it is high time that the big and little cities and municipalities sat up and took notice. They might emulate our present provincial government's precepts and examples on how to borrow money without owing it.

So-o, may we expect our next councils (or will the current ones see the light?—and always providing that our Minister of Municipalities is agreeable to endorse such an outstanding example) will each and every one decide to borrow oodles of money, on our taxpayers' credit, to be repaid by the taxpayers, from whom it will be collected by taxes or tolls?

Yes, they may borrow, vigorously, giving their village, city or municipal bonds as security, and without creating a debt to their village or city, providing they appoint commissions to manage and spend the money. Commissions of streets, of highways, railways, of sewers and waters, etc., etc., will be entrusted with the borrowed money to finance and manage the enterprise, whatever it may be.

In any event, and whatever the outcome, such procedure will exclude any possible increase of debt to the village or municipality on whose credit it was borrowed by its authorized officials.

Of course there may be, as in the case of provincial toll bridges or provincial toll highways, similar contrivances in our villages and cities. For instance, there are time limit parking meters extracting tolls from motorists. We could have turnstiles for pedestrians. And, for the sewer and water commission, to save the poor taxpayers from debt, why not have them consider a time limit meter on every hotel and private residence bathroom door? This is an important question that might be carefully studied by our Convention of Municipalities.

Mrs. G. B., Trail—Where could I purchase a jacket (nylon or other material) with a lining of down?

Any store that sells sports clothing should be able to procure this for you if they have not one in stock.

Reader, Lardeau—Where could I get a pamphlet on deep freeze 32-volt Delco plant? And where might I obtain a book on childbirth at home, what to do and so on when one is far from a doctor?

Regarding freezer literature, we advise you to write to Mc & Mc (Nelson), Ltd., Baker Street, Nelson. On the second question, we do not recommend a guide book, but advise the expectant mother to come in to Kaslo or Nelson when the time for the baby to arrive is near. A doctor is your best source of information.

Interested, Penticton—Please print recipe for making grape wine.

Grape wine: To one gallon bruised grapes allow one gallon water, from three to four pounds sugar, quarter ounce gelatine, a little brandy. The grapes must be free from blemish and not over-ripe. Part of them at least should be black. Strip from stalks, wash, and then bruise well in wooden tub but without crushing seeds. Add water in above proportion, cover tub, and leave to stand for week, stirring occasionally, then strain carefully through fine sieve. Add sugar and let it dissolve, then pour all into a barrel. Leave bung covered lightly until hissing has ceased, then add brandy (about wine-glass full). Half an ounce of bitter almonds cut in pieces may also be added. Put the gelatine in a muslin bag, attach to bung, then close barrel tightly. Keep six months before bottling and store six months or longer before using.

Appreciation for Trees

(Niagara Falls Review)

It takes weather like we had this summer to make us appreciate the trees. They not only offer shade, but keep the air moist. Think before you cut down a tree, and do all you can to encourage new trees.

Those living in new subdivisions realize the disadvantage of few trees more than those who inhabit old, built-up sections of the community. We take trees too much for granted and don't realize their importance until we are without them.

Wine Making

. . . F. B. Pearce

One of the nice things about English houses is the pantry, a room not only for the pans but also where the groceries and foodstuffs, the jams and jellies are stored. We have done away with the pantry in favor of the deep-freeze, and our kitchens are largely cupboard space which hide our canned food and labor saving devices. There is no place where the housewife can go and gloat over her preserves and bottled fruit. This is a pity, for half the pleasure of canning is in being able to see the results of the work in the increasing fulness of the shelves.

Where we stayed in Lincolnshire there was a very fine pantry. It may originally have been the buttery, for its floor was lower than the rest of the house. It was large and cool, and well stocked. I called it the still room, for it had a row of little casks full of home-made wine. The English make a great deal of home-made wine from recipes handed down in the families, but I found that there was an excellent book on wine-making compiled by the National Federation of Women's Institutes.

This surprised me as I had always thought of Women's Institutes as own sisters to the WCTU, but that may be only in this country. It must be quite a book, for it is edited by F. W. Beech, B.Ss., A.R.I.C., and has a foreword by Sir Stephen Tallents, K.C.M.G., C.B., C.B.E. Men with degrees and decorations like that cannot be ignored, so it is evident that home-made wine making is endorsed by science and the great—in England, at least.

My earliest efforts at wine making were with dandelion flowers. I thought the only thing to do was to follow the recipe and then set it behind the stove to ferment. This first attempt was so successful that my principal borrowed the recipe and made a couple of gallons for himself. It must have been good, for long before it had finished fermenting he had sampled it so much that there was not enough to bottle. Now I find that there is much more to wine making than following the recipe and putting it behind the stove. The book gives a list of a dozen pieces of equipment, eleven of which I am familiar with, and one, the air lock, I had never met with before. It seems that it is essential to have the carbon dioxide formed by fermentation above the surface of the wine. This prevents the formation of vinegar. Now I know, and so do you, why some of our efforts have not been drinkable. To quote the book: "Three forms are available, one being an inverted U-tube with arms of unequal length, the shorter passing through the cork and the longer arm dipping into a glass of water. The second type is manufactured, and consists of a piece of glass tubing incorporating two bulbs half full of water." I should like to see that second one. It sounds quite fancy. "Or," to continue to quote, "if one of the family is studying chemistry persuade him or her to make a third type by putting a double bend in the stem of a thistle funnel and drop a small quantity of water into this." My advice to the science teacher is that he should lock up his thistle funnels from now on. But if you cannot get an air lock, try keeping the lid on the crock.

CHANGE IN METHOD

Putting the wine behind the stove was all right in the old days, but with these modern electric stoves you need to know that wine fermenting should be kept at a temperature of between 60 and 65 F., so set your room thermostat at 70 and it should be all right.

The book is a real mine of information. It tells how to doctor sick wine, and how to sweeten that which is sour, and it gives a host of recipes, including one for every kind of fruit, flowers and vegetables. You can make wine from goldenrod flowers, and from marigolds, and many others. You can make wine from vegetables, potatoes, pea-pods and spinach. You can make wine from barley, maize (our corn), and rice, and you can make it from birch sap, oak leaves and bramble tips. It also gives recipes for making liqueurs, but says sadly that in view of the present price of brandy, gin, rum and whiskey, the recipes are given mainly for their historic interest.

It is an interesting book, and costs three shillings and sixpence. If any of you feel you would like to have it, write to the Daily News and I will tell you how to get it.

"Out of West by Land and Air"

By DICK SPURWAY

In the event that certain readers might find interest value in a trip, the 16th annual event of its kind, recently completed by myself and two companions, I herewith submit a few remarks and observations relevant to this period of continental sight-seeing.

For a title let us choose "Out of the West by Land and Air."

It all started on a sultry Sunday afternoon in early August. Our first stop was surprisingly near, for we were so struck by the beauty of Destiny Bay on the main Kootenay Lake that we decided to make this our headquarters for the opening hours of a trip embracing nearly every province in the Dominion and requiring many thousand miles of travel. Destiny Bay—the very name encourages a few moments of deep thought. Sitting on a rocky ledge jutting out into the tranquil waters of the lake, I pondered things past, present and in the future.

I recollected just a year ago having sat on a promontory overlooking the valley beneath Rossland, B. C., while a full moon rose high into the night sky. At the moment I had a vast new panorama set before me. The mighty waters of Kootenay Lake predominated the scene, the sky assuming all the varied tints of a summer sunset. The mountains were exchanging their vivid greens and browns for the deeper, more solemn blues and purples. Only their highest peaks reflected the departing day in spires bathed in a deep orange glow. Out of the fast growing dusk one could sense the presence of eternal time. On all sides were age-old rocks, studded by juniper trees, distorted by countless spells of heat and cold. What a story they could reveal! . . . Indian warriors in their fleets of wooden canoes making rendezvous for the night in this same bay . . . the first explorers northbound to seek the riches and adventures of a vast new territory . . . and then the great white fleet transporting two generations of our population to the east and west, their bleaching timbers lying in mute testimony in many bays and inlets about this great inland waterway.

A living symbol of the passing of time circled high in the dusky sky—a true fisherman indeed, as he made unerring swoops and dives—and all too soon left our presence with a large fish dangling from his talons. Then, as a light from a cottage reflected on to the dark waters, and several jabs of lightning entwined the northern skies, the words of the Psalmist came to mind: "Lord now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen the glories of Thy handiwork."

LONE SHADOW

A new day dawned and on we went, noting with great satisfaction the improvements already made, and in the making, to the Southern Transprovincial Highway route. The only area that cast a shadow was the depressed coal mining district surrounding Natal and Michel. However, if a very small percentage of profits had been set aside for the betterment of the workers' homes, even this blot on the landscape could have been minimized.

Perpetual winds appear to blow from west to east in the Crow's Nest Pass, and the waters of the lake so named are in a state of constant turmoil. The trees also have been blown into an unbalanced stance.

Our next resting place was to be Turtle Mountain. This great pile of limestone belied its name when in 1903 it crashed with lightning-like velocity upon a sleeping village. I quote from the historical monument set up at this point: "Disaster struck here at 4:10 a.m., April 29th, 1903. A gigantic wedge of limestone, 1300 feet high, 4000 feet wide and 500 feet thick, crashed down and destroyed the town of Frank. Seventy million tons of rock swept over two miles of valley, taking 66 lives and burying numerous homes, the mine and railway, along with 3200 acres of fertile land, to a depth of 100 feet in 100 seconds." Regarding this gigantic manifestation of natural destruction I would advise would-be sightseers to hike in and over the rocks for a quarter of a mile; only in this way can the full immensity of the avalanche of rock be fully appreciated.

Early the following day we set forth. Mountains receded, surrendering their rugged heights to the rolling foothills and finally the vastness of the prairies. Here, too, highway improvements were noted, particularly as we neared Calgary. Here it was, following a night of rest, that we discarded our earthbound mode of transportation and took to the air.

TURBINE CRAFT

With the well being of their travellers at heart, characteristic of TCA, our previous tickets were amended to enable us to have the opportunity of flying in the new Viscount turbine propelled airliner. The takeoff period is almost immediate, compared to the conventional piston-engine aircraft, and the rise in altitude also is much accelerated. Thus it was that in no time at all we were looking down on a patchwork of squares and rectangles — greens, golds and blacks, interspersed by a network of roads and innumerable bodies of water. To me this was somewhat amazing. Surface travel never gives the impression of so much water.

Less than three hours later we sat down at Stevenson Field in Winnipeg, where we spent the evening and the next morning, taking a quick look at what is generally considered the geographical centre of North America. I noted an old acquaintance, CPR engine No. 1, still dominating the station plaza. What esteem she must rate by those with throngs of children, whereby a few restful moments may be gained in letting them romp and play in, under, and atop of this old relic of the rails. She arrived long, long ago on a Red River barge, and played her part in the cavalcade of the prairies.

No time to reminisce further, for the organ-like tones of the modern diesel announced the arrival of CPR train No. 2, "The Canadian", which was to be our home for about 17 hours en route to Toronto. This train is a sleek streamliner, equipped with the new scenic domes. The minimum of stops are made. My impression was that probably due to the lighter metals used in constructing these cars the sway was more noticeable—particularly around the Lake Superior, Sudbury region. Very few straight stretches of track appear to be possible, due perhaps to the boglike nature of the country. This was graphically borne out by subsequent air travel over this area. However, more of this later.

VICTORIA (CP) — Attorney-General's department was condemned at a joint meeting of Oak Bay and Victoria Federal Conservative Associations for what was called the "shameful exhibition" now being held in the Vancouver police inquiry.

R. J. Patch, second vice-president of the B. C. Progressive Conservative Association, said there was no necessity for such an investigation to be held in the open.

"I am not suggesting for one moment that the findings of the commission should not be made public," he said, "but I do suggest a much clearer picture could be obtained without all the scandal, interference and threats which appear to be evident."

SEWING NEWS

By MARGARET PYE

There is no "secret" to dressing well. If you will analyze your figure carefully, you will learn to select pattern lines that emphasize your good points — and that will minimize your bad ones. For example: If you have a short or plump neck, the V-neckline will be the most flattering. Use only simple finishing details at the neckline, try your hair in an upswept style—it will add to your neck length.

If you have a long, thin neck, choose high necklines, perhaps softened with ruffles, a choker necklace or a collar in a contrasting color. Hair should be long to detract from neck length. — More style hints for your figure problems next week.

We are living in an age where costume jewelry is almost as important as a woman's make-up. Even the insignificant, artificial flower has blossomed forth. All these inexpensive accessories help you to dress up your wardrobe, at little cost. Next time you call at the CUSTOM SEWING CENTRE look over our selection of bracelets, earrings and necklaces, or brighten up your costume with a hand-made flower. — These are even delicately scented.

Institute Hears Woman Lawyer

INVERMERE—Windermere district Women's Institute, at the first meeting following the summer recess, heard an informative and informal address on Women and the Law by Mrs. Patricia Curtis of Invermere.

A practicing lawyer herself, Mrs. Curtis was able to explain to her listeners many points regarding wills, succession duties and the rights of women.

Mrs. Curtis stressed the importance of every adult making a will, emphasizing that a married woman should not feel that her husband's will was sufficient. In the event of a man and his wife dying almost at the same time, as for example in an automobile accident, it might be extremely important to the children surviving if both parents had not made a will.

Mrs. Curtis answered many questions asked by Women's Institute members regarding the rights of women under the law.

The meeting agreed to undertake the annual campaign for the Salvation Army Appeal.

The annual meeting will be held in October and plans were made to hold an anniversary charter meeting to which all charter members who have dropped their membership will receive a special invitation.

Held Danish Governor as Hostage . . .

Faroe Islanders Still Demand Return of Favorite Medical Man

THORSHAVN, Faroe Islands—(Reuters)—Rebellious villagers in the little town of Klaksvik Wednesday released the Danish governor of the Faroe Islands after holding him captive in a new uprising to recover their local doctor.

They turned loose Governor Elkaer Hansen after getting a sharp cable from Prime Minister H. C. Hansen in Copenhagen. Denmark owns the Faroe chain in the North Atlantic.

The Danish government Wednesday decided to send a frigate loaded with Copenhagen police to the Faroes to deal with the uprising.

Finance Minister Viggo Kampmann, who negotiated an uneasy settlement with the unruly Klaksvik villagers five months ago, flew out to the Faroes to deal with the latest episode in the "Viking war".

BEGAN LAST SPRING

The Klaksvik villagers last spring took up arms in their dispute with the Danish government over their local doctor, Olaf Halvorsen, whom the government wanted to remove. Halvorsen had been at odds with medical authorities over his failure to pay a fine for alleged practices during the Nazi occupation of Denmark.

Halvorsen finally went back to the mainland under a compromise settlement, with the promise of an inquiry into his case. But not before the villagers had broken out their hunting rifles, mined their harbor and threatened bloodshed in their campaign to keep the doctor with them.

Halvorsen now has a practice in Copenhagen.

The governor was seized to back the villagers' demand for Halvorsen's return.

Rumors Fly on Armament Deals

CAIRO (Reuters)—Russia Wednesday was reported to have offered to sell arms to Saudi Arabia in a new bid to gain a foothold as weapons merchant for the Middle East.

Reports of the offer to Saudi Arabia followed official announcements that both Russia and Communist Czechoslovakia have offered to sell arms to Egypt.

PERSISTENT RUMORS

Rumors persisted here that the United States will soon give Egypt a credit of $10,000,000 to buy the arms she wants—with no obligation in return—in an apparent attempt to offset Egyptian deals with the Czechs and Russians.

Says Plastic Bands Cause Harm to Ducks

CAMROSE, Alta. (CP) — Bob Harris of Edmonton, wild life management officer for Alberta, says he was unaware that ducks banded in the Vermilion district 120 miles east of Edmonton were suffering because of a new type of band.

Hunters in the district said use of plastic neck bands should be stopped.

The Wild Life Association placed 400 of the new plastic neck bands on ducks in the Vermilion area to determine their movements.

One hunter said the band on a blue-wing teal he shot was 1½ inches wide and would hamper the duck when it eats, sleeps, and when it oils or preens its feathers.

CUT THROUGH SKIN

Mr. Harris said the bands were originally designed to slip up and down on the duck's neck. The hunter said growth of feathers prevents any slipping, and the band on the teal had cut through the skin on the neck.

Mr. Harris said the new bands were an experiment.

"We have to learn the hard way," he said. "The Vermilion district was the only centre in the province where the new bands were used."

Baby's Cries Prevent Gas Poisoning

VANCOUVER (CP)—The cries of a baby were credited Wednesday with helping to save the lives of five persons in a gas-filled house.

Discharged from hospital after treatment were: Mrs. Mary Florio, 64; Mrs. Annie Florio, 30, and her two-year-old son, Frank; Mrs. Josephine Florio, 23, and five-month old daughter, Mary.

Mrs. Annie Florio said all were canning tomatoes in the basement when the baby started crying.

"When Frankie and I got upstairs he toppled over, and I realized it was gas."

The women had not noticed the gas flame had gone out. All were revived by an inhalator and taken to hospital.

Okanagan Asks Prairie Help To Pick Apples

VANCOUVER (CP)— Response to an appeal for apple pickers in the Okanagan has been so poor that prairie help is being sought, an official of the Dominion-Provincial Emergency Farm Labor Service said here.

Ben White said he was placing advertisements in Calgary and Edmonton papers to help fill a shortage of 250 pickers to bring in a big McIntosh apple crop. Only 16 persons answered a call for help Tuesday.

Maritime Power Plants Mark New Developments on St. John River

HALIFAX (CP)—The day may not be too far distant when the supply and cost of electrical power in the Maritimes—a big factor in attracting new industries—will be on a par with that in the rest of Canada.

A huge development in New Brunswick, new plants in Nova Scotia and plans for the future indicate an increasing supply. There have also been suggestions of an inter-connected electrical system between New Brunswick and the State of Maine.

R. E. Tweedale, chairman of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council's power committee, has said that the cost of electrical power in the Maritimes now is "not too far out of line", and he sees the day when it will approach that in other provinces.

In New Brunswick, work is under way on the $50,000,000 Beechwood project expected to be producing 135,000 horsepower by 1960.

ONLY A START

Premier Hugh John Flemming said this "is only the beginning of the . . . work of harnessing the full potential of the St. John River."

"Furthermore," he said, "plans for more utilization of coal in thermal plants will also go forward in accordance with the balanced and co-ordinated program envisioned by our engineers."

Nelson Mann, executive manager of the government-backed economic council, put it this way: that we work to improve the economic picture of our region for future generations."

But he emphasized that conditions could be improved—by co-operation—in this generation.

GAS OVERCOMES FIVE

VANCOUVER (CP) — Five persons were overcome by domestic gas fumes here Tuesday. Mrs. Mary Florio, 64, her two daughters-in-law and their two children were taken to hospital. All were reported in satisfactory condition. The accident occurred while the women were canning.

Cruiser Comes Through Fallout

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's "guinea pig" cruiser, the Cumberland, has weathered an atomic bomb fall-out in her summer trials, the Admiralty disclosed Tuesday night.

It said the 10,000-ton Cumberland had a quantity of radioactive liquid sprayed on her structure to test the efficiency of her secret washing-down defence against atomic contamination.

The 27-year-old cruiser was refitted last winter under "top secret" conditions, and spent the summer in the Mediterranean testing her new devices, weapons and mechanisms.

Russians Mum On U.K.-U.S. Arms Request

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union kept silent Monday toward the Communists help in limiting the sale of heavy arms to Egypt and the Middle East.

State Secretary Dulles and Foreign Secretary Macmillan broached the issue to Foreign Minister Molotov at dinner here following Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's announcement that Red Czechoslovakia has agreed to trade such arms for Egyptian rice and cotton.

The Soviet Foreign Minister did not comment, other than tot say he would communicate the view to Moscow.

London Shocked By Gangsters

By JOHN DUDMAN

LONDON (Reuters)—Detectives combed the narrow streets of London's Soho quarter Wednesday, seeking fresh evidence in a bloody knife battle which has shaken Britons' faith in their legal system.

Two women sleuths and a force of male associates worked their way through cosmopolitan Soho's underground drinking dens Wednesday while newspapers kept up a cry for action over the acquittal of two men for lack of evidence after a knife fight in broad daylight in crowded Soho streets.

THREATS FOLLOW

Rumors of threats against witnesses followed the unexpected acquittal. The court's failure to impose punishment in the case raised a roar of protest.

The new investigation was ordered by Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd George.

COMPARED WITH CHICAGO

Britons, proud of their law-abiding reputation and legal system, are shaking their heads over newspaper editorials comparing the Soho section with Chicago's old-time gangland.

The fight took place on a hot August morning. Two men ran through the crowded alleys. Knives flashed. The men lumbered, fighting savagely, into a shop where they collapsed in a welter of blood.

One was Jack Comer, better-known as Jack Spot, a barrel-like man long feared as the city's top gangster. The other was Albert Dimes, 40, a bookmaker known as "Italian Albert".

They were tried separately on charges of "making an affray", possessing an offensive weapon and wounding. They were acquitted this week on all charges in separate trials after an earlier joint trial had been dismissed.

All the witnessesare expected to be questioned again following rumors of underworld strong-arm tactics against them during the trials.

Jurymen may also be questioned. There have been hints that attempts were made to influence them, though no definite evidence has emerged from police investigations to support this.

Minneapolis Wins Little World Series

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minneapolis Millers of the American Association defeated Rochester Red Wings of the International League 9-4 Wednesday night in the seventh and deciding game to win their first little wolrd series.

Bob Lennon, Carl Sawatski, Monte Irvin and Don Bollweg smashed homers to climax a sweep through the American Association and inter-league playoffs for the Millers.

Lennon drove in five runs and supplied the most damaging home run, a three-run wallop in the fourth inning that wiped out the International Leaguers 2-0 lead.

Gallagher May Manage White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Gallagher, business manager of Chicago Cubs, is a strong candidate to become general manager of Chicago White Sox, the Daily News says.

The News says that Sox vice-president Chuck Comiskey, in New York for the world series, favors Gallagher as a replacement for resigned Frank Lane because:

1. Gallagher showed administrative ability when he won the last Cub pennant in 1945 with his deal for Hank Borowsy of the Yankees.

2. Gallagher would offset "bad press relations" which have beset the Comiskey family since Lane began feuding with Chuck Comiskey in public.

Terry Would Like To Buy Giants

NEW YORK(AP) — Bill Terry, former star New York Giant first baseman and manager, would like to get back into major league baseball, especially as owner of the Giants.

"I would like to buy the Giants if Horace Stoneham is willing to sell," said Terry who now is president of the Sally League. "I've got the money. If I could buy the Giants I would definitely keep the club in New York and use Yankee Stadium providing it could be obtained."

Terry hastened to say he had not approached Stoneham. Nor has Stoneham given any indication he would be willing to sell the club.

Terry piloted the Giants to the world championship in 1933.

Cameron Again Leafs' Trainer

Three Nelsonites have been appointed to the senior hockey team posts of trainer, assistant trainer, manager and team manager.

This season's trainer will be Steve Cameron, who has served in this post for six years. In the past his job has involved everything from soothing sprained muscles to serving penalties for his team. He served a two-minute penalty in a game with Kimberley during the '51-'52 season.

Assisting Cameron will be Bobby Macdonald, who will also serve as equipment manager.

Maple Leaf manager will be Al Anderson, past president of the Nelson Little League Baseball Clubs. He succeeds Merv Horne.

High Gun Quits Racing

NEW YORK (AP) — The King Ranch's High Gun, who scored a sensational victory last Saturday over Nashua, Jet Action and others in the $106,700 Sysonby stakes at Belmont Park, was retired suddenly to the stud Tuesday.

Trainer Max Hirsch said the decision was taken after conferring with Robert J. Kleberg, owner of the Kingsville, Tex., ranch and racing stable.

"He has shown slight signs of suspensory trouble, and although the colt has never been lame, we don't want to take any chances," Kleberg said. The suspensory is a ligament in the ankle.

Yanks Capture Opener 6-5; Collins Slams Two Homers

JACKIE ROBINSON
. . . Stole home from third in the eighth to give Dodgers their fifth and last run.

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Collins, part-time first baseman, bench warmer and pinch hitter, smashed two home runs Wednesday to give New York Yankees first blood over Brooklyn, 6-5, in the opener of their sixth world series.

The 32-year-old infielder, who showed a puny .148 batting average for five previous world series, ripped into Don Newcombe, the Brooks' 20-game winner, for the two homers, and drove in three runs.

Not even an electrifying steal of home by Jackie Robinson in the eighth and homers by Carl Furillo and Duke Snider could save the Dodgers who never have won a series. Once again they opened the series on the same frustrating note of defeat.

When Whitey Ford, the chunky lefthander, appeared to tire in the two-run eighth inning, manager Casey Stengel brought on Bob Grim to pitch the ninth.

The fast-balling righthander struck out Peewee Reese, yielded a single to Snider, got Roy Campanella on a deep fly to Hank Bauer and flipped a third strike past Furillo's swinging bat to nail it down.

AUSPICIOUS START

"Why don't they change the script," a reporter moaned as he left for the clubhouse and the customary post-mortems while the crowd of 63,869 slowly streamed out of Yankee Stadium.

It was Ford's victory and another auspicious start for the Yanks who own a fabulous 16-4 record in series competition. The winner of the opener has captured 32 of 51 previous series. Grim deserved his share of praise and so did Elston Howard who tied the score with a two-run home run in the second inning.

But the big man was Collins. His first homer, lined into the lower rightfield seats in the fourth, sent the Yanks out front 4-3, and his second smash, a 400-foot wallop into the bleachers in right centre with Yogi Berra on base in the sixth, provided the late-inning insurance the Yanks needed.

Once again Collins had risen to the occasion as he did so often during the regular season despite his .234 average. Both Cleveland and Chicago were beaten almost single handedly by Collins who hit two homers against each in vital games.

Rain threatened the game early in the day but a warm sun broke through a heavy overcast during the early innings. In the final stages of the game, black clouds hung low, forcing the lights to be turned on in the last of the eighth.

FURILLO HOMERS

Brooklyn rocked Ford, the lefty who dared to face the heavy right-handed sluggers of the Dodgers, and scored two runs in the second inning on Furillo's homer off the top of the four-foot wall in right field, Robinson's triple and Don Zimmer's single.

The Yanks came right back with a pair in their half of the second on a walk to Collins and Howard's line drive homer into the lower stands in left.

Snider gave Brooklyn the lead again in the third when he smashed a 1-2 pitch by Ford deep into the upper deck in right field, breaking his own National League record with a sixth world series home run.

Once again the Yanks lost no time in tying it up in their half of the third on a walk to Ford, Hank Bauer's single and two successive infield outs. Ford scampered in from third while the Dodger infield played back and Zimmer threw out Irv Noren for the second out.

With the game tied 3-3, Collins lined his first home run, into the lower right field seats, to lead off the fourth inning.

NEWCOMBE SHAKEN

Berra singled to right with one gone in the sixth and the final blast that knocked loose Newcombe was under way. Collins looked at one ball and hammered the next pitch into the bleacher seats in right centre. It must have travelled at least 400 feet.

Newcombe steadied to get Howard on a grounder to Reese but was sent to the showers after Billy Martin lofted a long fly over the head of Junior Gilliam in left centre for a triple.

Don Bessent replaced Newcombe and Stengel sent up Eddie Robinson, a lefthanded batter, to hit for Phil Rizzuto. On the second pitch, Martin unexpectedly lit out for home but was nipped at the plate by Bessent's throw.

Even with a 6-3 bulge, the Yanks were hard pressed to hold their advantage in the eighth due to a damaging error by Gil McDougald at third base.

DYING SPURT

Furillo's third hit, a single, started the Dodgers' dying swan spurt. Hodges flied out but Robinson's grounder bounced off McDougald's leg and squirted down the left field line. By the time the ball was retrieved, Furillo was on third and Robinson on second.

Zimmer's sacrifice fly to Noren was deep enough to let Furillo score and also long enough to get Robinson to third after the catch.

When Walter Alston, Brooklyn manager, called for Frank Kellert to bat for Bessent, Robinson pulled his sparkling steal. On the first pitch to Kellert, a righthanded batter, Jackie streaked for home and slid in under Ford's throw. Berra, Ford and Stengel bitterly protested the "safe" call by plate umpire Bill Summers, but they might as well have been yelling into a rain barrel.

Robinson's run made it 6-5, with Kellert representing the tying run at the plate. After Kellert singled into centre, Stengel came out for a talk to Ford. The crafty "old professor" let Ford stay in the game, long enough to get Gilliam to pop up for the third out.

It was a bitter blow for the Dodgers who coasted to the National League pennant by 13½ games. With their ace beaten, and their No. 2 boy, Carl Erskine, below par, their hopes of finally winning a series has taken a dip.

In today's second game at Yankee Stadium, the Yanks again will pitch a lefthander, Tommy Byrne (16-5) against another Brooklyn righthander, Billy Loes (10-4).

$350,000 To Run Argos This Year

TORONTO (CP) — Team director Harry Sonshine of Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union said Wednesday it will cost $350,000 to operate the team this season.

Sonshine termed "ridiculous" a report several days ago that the Argos would spend $500,000. He said the Argos could sell every seat in Varsity Stadium and still lose money.

HUMBLE ORIGIN

Lady Hamilton, famous for her romance with Lord Nelson, was a nursemaid in her youth.

CHARLIE RAYNER

"Big Chief" Charlie Rayner will lead the Nelson senior hockey tribe into its first battle of the season against Jim Morris and his Trail Smoke Eaters. The Nelson pucksters will play two pre-season exhibition games against Trail, the first in Trail on October 4 and the second in Nelson on either October 10 or 11.

Coach Rayner will also display this season's Maple Leaf potential to Nelson fans on October 8 when an exhibition game will be staged between separate strings of the local club. It is also planned to wage the local talent against the imports.

Contrary to a current rumor, fans will be admitted free to team workouts in the Civic Arena. The first workout starts tonight at 6:30.

Some 14 hockey players will make an appearance at tonight's workout. In addition to those announced Wednesday, Mickey Maglio and Don Appleton will hit the ice.

To date no players have actually signed contracts. Rayner declared that the team roster is wide open and that any player is welcome to initial workouts.

Three of last season's Maple Leaf pucksters are also expected in Nelson shortly. Herb (Whiz) Jeffrey is expected to arrive from Saskatoon on Friday. According to Archie Burnie, an agreement with the standout forward is "in the bag." Negotiations are also being carried out with Murray Parker and Joe Bell, who won last year's WIHL scoring race. Names of four other players who are being contacted by the executive have yet to be released.

At present the only contender for the goal-tender's spot is the Winnipeg import, Gus Adams. Charlie Rayner will serve as substitute goalie.

Leo's New Job Quite Different

NEW YORK (AP) — Leo Durocher has said farewell to baseball after 30 years. He took an executive job with the National Broadcasting Company at a reported $52,000 a year.

Durocher resigned Saturday as manager of New York Giants, a job that paid him an undisclosed salary, reported in the neighborhood of $60,000 a year.

NBC unveiled the fiery ex-manager at a press conference as the new "quiet, conservative" network executive. He will negotiate with talent and help in programming it. He also will fill in from time to time as a sports commentator, but will not be a regular broadcaster. His contract is for one year.

Maple Leafs Forever

A. R. Burnie, spokesman for Nelson's senior hockey executive, has announced that the senior club has been re-christened the Nelson Maple Leafs, the executive having found that no advantage could be derived from changing the team's name to the Nelson Rangers as had recently been proposed.

He also stated that arrangements have been made to purchase hockey equipment at a considerable saving through the New York Rangers organization.

Lane May Sign With Cards Soon

ST. LOUIS (AP) — If Frank Lane joins St. Louis Cardinals as general manager, as generally expected, the contract probably would be signed in St. Louis early next week.

August A. Busch Jr., president of the Cardinals, said Wednesday he has authorized general manager Dick Meyer to carry on "preliminary negotiations" with Lane in New York during the world series.

To Fight For Middleweight Title

FREDERICTON (CP) — The Canadian middleweight title will be on the line here Friday night when Lou Lawrence of Fredericton and Cobey McCluskey of Dartmouth, N.S., clash in a 12-round bout sanctioned by the Canadian Boxing and Wrestling Federation.

The federation has declared the championship vacant. Charlie Chase of Montreal last held the crown but did not defend it in the last year.

The new champion must defend his title within 60 days.

Queen Acts on Gypsy's Behalf

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters) — The Queen has come to the aid of Lydie Lee, 68-year-old Gypsy leader who can neither read nor write.

The Gypsy, who lives in a trailer, has been faced with eviction from a common here where she has camped with her followers. One by one they have left her.

WROTE TO QUEEN

The old woman had someone write to the Queen about it. Tuesday a Housing Ministry official knocked on the trailer door. He said the Queen has ordered Housing Minister Duncan Sandys to look into her case.

The Gypsy was given a letter from the Queen which asked her whether she wanted land for her family to live on permanently or land where they could camp periodically on their travels.

"All I want is a piece of land near Cardiff where I and my family can put our caravans and pay rent to live there," Gypsy Lee said.

The Cardiff Corporation wanted to clear Gypsies off the common to make playing fields there.

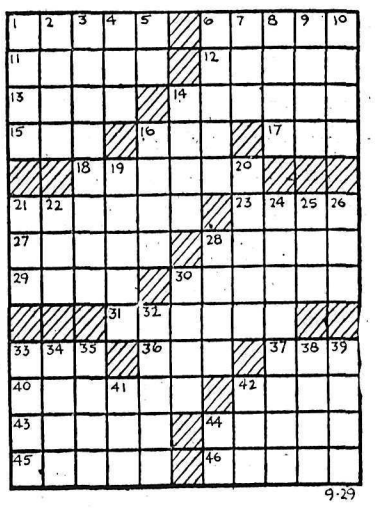
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

L O B J Q L X N P P B X - Y P S T O Q L B Y L B I T, Q O N Q A S D Q O U S J X S I T L S I Q U N J L, N I A L E S W N X N Z - Q U I I Z L B I.

Train Pilots To Catch Falling Rocket

SYDNEY (CP)—Pilots at the Woomera rocket range in southern Australia are being trained to fly planes that catch falling rocket missiles in mid-air.

The method means that missiles can be recovered intact before being damaged in bumpy parachute landings.

A test missile fired into the air has a parachute that opens when the missile begins to fall. A plane flies at a lower level with a 500-foot parachute which trails slightly to one side. The plane then flies alongside the falling missile and grapples on the paravane cable grip a cable trailing from the parachute.

The plane flies down a small valley spanned by cables so that the missile is transferred from the paravane to a cable across the valley. There it swings undamaged until collected.

Key Stocks Run Higher Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Wednesday continued its comeback from Monday's big break.

Prices in key stocks ran from $1 to $4 a share higher as buying and selling orders churned the market. There were some losers here and there.

Dupont was up $3.12 at $222.75, General Motors up $3.12 at $142.75 and Santa Fe up $3.50 at $139.75.

"There is no sign of a reversal of the recovery," said one analyst for a big Wall Street house. "Monday's cell-off was emotional and nothing else. Some technicians think that the market was high and had to test its August lows, anyway, but I think the selloff was purely emotional. Therefore I think the recovery will proceed."

Another analyst said: "I think that sanity will return to the Street and it's already showing up. The market is showing its ability to come back and get over a nervous shock. The investment demand will continue to re-assert itself with stability."
