Nelson Chamber Wires Gaglardi For Explanation

Nelson Chamber of Commerce Thursday sent a wire to Victoria to Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, who is currently in South America, asking for an explanation to letters tabled in the House of Commons dealing with the Trans-Canada Highway route through the Selkirks.

The highways minister is expected back at the Coast Sunday.

Decision to request an explanation was taken at a roads and bridges committee meeting Thursday morning and ratified at the Chamber's noon luncheon meeting, attended by Arthur Laing, B.C. Liberal party leader, who is touring the Interior.

The wire read:

"Nelson Chamber of Commerce after discussion of recent news releases re Rogers and Jumbo Pass controversy feels latest data could be your reason for requesting Rogers Pass decision to be withheld. Chamber would appreciate having a report from you and is withholding any further discussion until it learns your position and whether decision is still not made."

Copies are going to Hon. W. D. Black, Nelson-Creston Member, and Lardeau, Kaslo and Windermere Boards of Trade which have joined the Nelson Chamber previously in pleading for an official and thorough survey of Jumbo Pass possibilities as one way of taking the Highway through the mountains.

The Chamber also decided to leave in abeyance any action on the matter until Mr. Gaglardi replies.

Correspondence tabled in the House of Commons has revealed that March 1 Mr. Gaglardi asked that the highway go through Rogers Pass and later asked this be kept confidential. In Nelson May 10 for an aerial trip over Jumbo Pass he was quoted as saying that no final decision had been made.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Province says Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi denies he has made a definite decision on the Rogers Pass route for the Trans-Canada highway.

He made the statement in a telephone interview from Santiago, Chile, Thursday. He said he will issue a full statement when he returns to Vancouver Sunday.

He was asked if there was still a possibility of the alternative route through the Jumbo Pass.

"I wouldn't say that — I said before I would be making a statement on my return.

Correspondence tabled in the House for H. W. Herridge (CCF — Kootenay West) discloses that the B.C. government decided March 1 to build the highway through the Rogers Pass and asked that Works Minister Winters keep the decision confidential. The Nelson Daily News reported Mr. Gaglardi as saying March 11 no final choice had been made.

Asked by the Province if the letters tabled in the House didn't contradict his denial a decision had been made, Mr. Gaglardi replied.

"No. The last engineering report I had recommends Rogers pass but the letter . . . was in answer to a quetsion from Ottawa. It was confidential, too.

"The position is the same as I told the Nelson Chamber of Commerce. I wanted to investigate the Jumbo Pass before making a final decision."

Told of accusations that he fooled the people, Mr. Gaglardi exploded: "What's the fuss . . . the situation is the same . . . no definite decision . . . I told Winters I had not finished investigating the Jumbo Pass."

His reference was to one of the communications tabled by Mr. Winters, in which the highways minister telegraphed Ottawa April 18: "I would appreciate if you would suggest that preliminary studies indicate that Rogers Pass may be route chosen but do not make it definite as yet as I have not fulfilled my promise to the people in connection with Jumbo Pass but expect to do so in immediate future."

Mr. Winters, as quoted in Hansard for April 19, complied with Mr. Gaglardi's request.

From Santiago Mr. Gaglardi reemphasized that aspect of the letter exchange, but when asked a second time if Jumbo Pass is still a "possible," he replied again: "I wouldn't say that."

Restricted Forest Closure Ordered At Vancouver

VICTORIA (CP) — A restricted industrial forest closure was ordered Thursday in the dry Vancouver Forest District. Forests Minister Williston said the woods will still be open for recreation but he urged campers to exercise extreme caution.

The measure, earliest in history, goes int oeffect at midnight.

The closure was ordered as another 51 fires were reported in the district in the 24 hours up to noon Thursday.

Urges CBC Control

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SASKATOON (CP) — Lack of control in broadcasting could result in "anarchy" on the airwave a farm spokesman said Thursday before the royal commission on broadcasting.

J. F. C. Wright of Saskatoon spoke before the commission in support of a brief of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union calling for continuance of the CBC's control over radio and television.

Gin, Wine Nightcap For 105-Year-Old

WINTERBOURNE KINGSTON, England (AP) — Mrs. Sophia Wellstead tossed off her usual sleeping potion of a tall glass of gin and port wine Wednesday night after celebrating her 105th birthday. "It has never done me any harm," she told a reporter. "And it is to late now to start wondering if it might."

Floo[illegible] Workers Appear Holding The[illegible] against Fast Runoff

PROVINCIAL LIBRARY
PARLIAMENT BUILDING
VICTORIA B.C.
241 31 Dec 56

After close to a [illegible] and go efforts to cont[illegible] annual spring runoff of Mar[illegible] Creek, which runs through the heart of Kimberley, the city engineering crews and civil defence workers appeared to be winning the battle Thursday.

The creek, which has threatened to get out of control several times, has caused severe damage to the concrete walls which encompass it through the downtown area, and only through 24-hours-a-day efforts has the turbulent run off been kept from running amok. With city crews under Engineer K. H. Montgomery and civil defence workers under city official Al Watson, and the use of heavy equipment from Cominco, on the alert at many places at once, the most serious danger appears to be over.

The sewer system which parallels the creek for some distance has been in danger, and there are spots where only ton after ton of rock and fill have been able to keep the waters in check.

Five families along the creek bank have evacuated their homes and others were warned to be ready. However, none found it necessary.

At Cranbrook, the weather cooled appreciably after Thursday morning's rain and the flood situation improved slightly. However, danger is not entirely over.

South of the border at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, the wind-whipped Kootenai River continued to surge just inches below the top of 37-foot dikes late Thursday, but army and civilian workers were still "holding their own" against the unpredictable river.

Citizens watching the gauge on the south bank here said the reading was 36.8 feet about 2:30 p.m. and the water was still creeping up.

The partly evacuated town it- [illegible] and some 32,000 acres of [illegible]h farm land in the river val- [illegible]y were still relatively dry, although many of the farm dikes were in critical condition. More than 8,000 acres of farm land has been flooded through broken dikes.

Cooler weather and falling water upstream led river forecasters to predict that the flood crest would pass the town late Thursday night or Friday.

Plan $2 Million Road Program

VICTORIA (CP) — A $2,225,000 forest development road program will be undertaken by the Forestry Service within the next few months, Lands and Forests Minister Williston announced Thursday.

Included in the work will be the construction of 70 miles of high-speed forest roads, three large bridges, and maintenance of existing roads.

Mr. Williston said there was a "definite limit" to the number of projects that could be undertaken because of a serious shortage of qualified engineers.

"Major efforts will be directed toward developing access to extensive stands of timber—many of them mature or overmature—in the Willow River and upper Kootenay working circles," he said.

"Development in both these areas will assure a supply of timber to operators already feeling the pinch of timber shortages in areas presently accessible to them."

In the upper Kootenay working circle about 21 miles of road will be built to open up some of the last remaining stands of timber in the East Kootenay.

The 21 miles of road will tap a block of 46,000,000 cubic feet of overmature timber from which a partial cutting could remove 37,000,000 cubic feet in the next 10 years.

Estimated cost of the road is $650,000.

U.S. Living Cost Up A Fraction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another slight increase in U. S. living costs was reported by the government Thursday. It means a one-cent-an-hour pay boost for a million factory workers.

The wage increase is required under living cost provisions in labor union contracts in the auto, aircraft and farm equipment industries.

The labor department's consumers price index rose 0.2 per cent in April to 114.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average—meaning it now costs about $1.15 to buy what $1 would buy in the three-year base period.

It was the second fractional increase in two months. An expected seasonal rise in grocery prices, amounting to 0.6 per cent, accounted for the April upturn. Other consumer items averaged the same as in March, although housing, medical and recreation costs edged upward. Clothing prices remained the same and transportation costs were down a bit.

FIRE RUNNING WILD AT COAST

VANCOUVER (CP) British Columbia's worst forest fire this year raced uncontrolled over valuable timber land 50 miles north west of here Thursday and equipment was flown in to help fight the blaze.

The forest service ordered the emergency airlift by float planes from Vancouver to tiny Ruby Lake, near the main front of the fire, after the flames ran wild through 1000 acres of timber on the Sechelt Peninsula.

Car Sales Climb

OTTAWA (CP) — Value and sales of new motor vehicles climbed in Canada during the first three months of 1956 from the corresponding period last year.

Sales rose to 93,150 vehicles from 83,306 and retail value to $277,765,000 from $219,990,000 in January-March period of 1955, the bureau of statistics reported Thursday.

He Was "That Dead Man"

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters) — James Walsh, 28, walked into a police station here and said: "I am that dead man you held an inquest on," police here disclosed Thursday.

The inquest was on a body recovered from a local canal. Walsh's relatives identified it as his.

The inquest returned a verdict of "death by misadventure." Walsh, a boxer, read about his "death" in a newspaper.

Police are still trying to identify the real victim.

Heavy Losses On Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was thrown Thursday for its heaviest loss of the week with key issues declining more than $4 a share.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was down $2.50 at $177.60, the decline representing an estimated loss of nearly $3,000,000,000 in the quoted value of securities listed on the New York stock exchange. This left the average at its lowest point since Feb. 21.

Trading was at a somewhat faster pace with big board volume totalling 2,600,000 shares against 2,140,000 Wednesday. Of the 1,210 issues traded, 866 declined and only 130 advanced. Only four 1956 highs were scored against 178 lows for the year.

Among the losers were Bethlehem Steel down $2.63 at $143.50, Ford 50 cents at $54, Caterpillar Tractor $2 at $70.00, Boeing $3 at $78, Zenich $2.75 at $111, Anaconda $3 at $73.75, Allied Chemical $3.50 at $111.50, Georgia-Pacific $4.13 at $55.75, Union Pacific $4.25 at $176, Texas Co. $3.25 at $122.75 and U.S. Gypsum $4 at $60.50.

"Back from Hell" Says Survivor of Ambush

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters) — The only known survivor of 21 ambushed French soldiers sat up dazedly in his hospital bed here Thursday and mumbled: "I have come back from hell."

Bearded, 23-year-old Pierre Dumas, his head swathed in bandages, told his story as latest reports said at least 100 nationalist insurgents have been killed throughout Algeria in the last 24 hours.

Dumas, a truck driver in civilian life, was a member of a patrol of recently called - up French youths from the Paris region, all of whom had been in Algeria less than three weeks.

Insurgents ambushed the patrol near Palestro, 30 miles southeast of here, last Friday, killed 17 of the troops outright and mutilated their bodies. Two men are still missing and the other, taken prisoner with Dumas, died Wednesday.

Tough French paratroopers caught up with Dumas' captors in the Bou Zegza mountains Wednesday and fought a bitter battle in and around the caves honeycombing the hills.

HOISTED INTO 'COPTER

So rugged was the terrain that a helicopter could not land to pick up Dumas, who was unconscious with head and leg injuries. It hovered over the area while he was hoisted up on a stretcher.

Still haggard and suffering from shock, Dumas said the man found dead at his side, Jean-David Millet, had been captured with him.

"Millet and I were taken from village to village for days after the ambush," he said. "We had hardly anything to eat—it's hard to remember anything."

The young Frenchman said he and Millet were the only two prisoners taken. He could not explain what had happed to the two missing members of the patrol.

Meantime, the 3000 French troops which rescued Dumas pushed on through wild mountain country in search of remaining members of the insurgents involved in the ambush. The French forces were supported by tanks and planes.

Turkish Mobs Stone Greeks in Nicosia

British Put Barbed Wire Between Turk, Greek Cypriots; Stores Smashed

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish-Cypriots armed with stones and clubs rioted through the streets of Nicosia and Lanarca Thursday, seeking revenge against Greek-Cypriots.

Their anger was aroused by the fatal shooting Wednesday night of a Turkish-Cypriot police sergeant at Polis, a village 60 miles from Nicosia.

In Nicosia, the mobs stoned Greeks and their property One group attacked with guns, firing from a speeding taxi. British troops moved in and separated the Turks from the Greek Cypriots with a barbed wire fence, but several Greeks caught on the wrong side of the barricade were battered with stones.

One Greek was wounded in the shooting and many persons with head wounds were taken to hospitals.

ORDER RESTORED

At Larnaca, a port 23 miles from Nicosia, the mobs rushed through the main street smashing windows in every Greek shop it could reach. Police managed to disperse the rioters, but not before several persons were injured seriously.

Another protest, a parade of Turkish-Cypriots, was staged in Limassol. Late in the afternoon, authorities reported order had been restored throughout the island.

The Turkish policeman whose death aroused his compatriots was shot three times at point-blank range by two masked men. Authorities blamed EOKA, the underground fighting arm of the movement for union with Greece. He was the third Turkish-Cypriot policeman killed since the Greek-Cypriot campaign began 14 months ago.

Turkish - Cypriots, outnumbered by the Greeks 4 to 1, want the British to keep Cyprus but insist that if Britain withdraws from the island it must revert to Turkish rule. Cyprus was leased by Britain from Turkey in the 19th century, then annexed as a colony in the First World War.

CLOSE SHOPS

Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, chief spokesman of the Turkish population, announced the closing of all Turkish shops Thursday to protest the policeman's death.

Thirty-three shopkeepers in Nicosia were ordered to close their premises so long as emergency regulations are in effect on Cyprus. Seventeen apartments above the shop were also ordered vacated and closed.

All these are near the scene of bombings last Monday in which a British soldier was killed British authorities said the occupants are being punished for failure to come forward with information for the police. They have until Sunday morning to move.

$12,000 In Fund For Sinclairs

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than $12,000 collected in a fund for former Constable Gordon Sinclair, shot to death by a prowler last December, has been handed over to a trust company for investment.

Superintendent John Fisk said Sinclair's widow will receive about the same income in interest that she would have had had her husband been living.

James Gordon and Joseph Carey have been sentenced to be hanged for the Constable's murder.

Empire Day Not What It Was

By HOWARD WHITTEN

LONDON (Reuters) — British newsdealers Thursday gave readers tiny paper Union Jacks with their morning newspapers.

Some Britons smiled and pinned them on; some shrugged or looked embarrassed; some were puzzled until it dawned on them that Thursday was Empire Day.

Flags flew here and there, but general public indifference infuriated older Britons who remembered the Empire at its height.

Empire Day was initiated in 1902 by Canada and was adopted in 1904 throughout the Empire. Its avowed object was to help "produce patriotic citizens of the Empire, special prominence being given to saluting the flag."

Pickersgill Ditty Brings Down House

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservatives chanted a ditty specially composed for Immigration Minister Pickersgill after he put his foot into Thursday night's uproarious Commons pipeline debate.

Composed by George Hees (PC-Toronto Broadview) in swift collaboration with other Conservatives, it goes:

Poor old Pick,
Poor old Pick.
See how he runs,
See how he runs.
He stepped upon the dictator's toes,
Up jumped Howe and down Pick goes,
His face as red as a full-grown rose,
Poor old Pick.

The sing-song followed a battle for the floor involving Mr. Pickersgill, Mr. Hees, Trade Minister Howe and Colin Cameron (CCF-Nanaimo) in a simultaneous attempt to speak. None could—members were making too much noise.

Pipeline Debate . . .

"Foul Fascist Deed" Echoes Through House

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservative Davie Fulton Thursday night charged Commons chairman W. A. Robinson and the government with being "rapists" of Parliament's liberties.

The angry, deliberate words of member for Kamloops, which normally might result in a member's expulsion if not retracted, instead got no reaction.

He spoke as the Commons resumed the evening sitting in the stormiest day so far of the Commons gas pipeline battle. Earlier angry opposition members had hurled phrases such as "foul Fascist deed," "an abomination" and "the sorriest day in Canadian history" at the Liberal government.

Mr. Fulton spoke after the House, for the second time, had voted down his demand that Opposition Leader Drew be given the floor instead of Trade Minister Howe.

Mr. Fulton said the earlier proceedings had been contrary to the customs and usages of Parliament whose principles of law were meant "to protect a minority and restrain the improvidence or tyranny of a majority."

"What is taking place now is the rape of our liberties," he said. "I demand that you, sir, and the government end your careers as rapists and get back to the customs and usages of Parliament."

UPROAR STIRRED

The night sitting saw a continuation of the afternoon's uproar, becoming bedlam at times, over the government's apparent attempt to manoeuvre its hotly-contested pipeline legislation into a position where the powerful weapon of closure could be applied to limit debate on the third stage of the bill's passage through the House.

OTTAWA (CP) — The need by Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., of the government's proposed $80,000,000 loan became critically urgent Thursday as the board of transport commissioners empowered the company to make an immediate start on Prairie pipeline construction.

Mr. Justice John D. Kearney, chief commissioner, emphasized that the board's empowering order, to be issued today, will contain a proviso rescinding the construction authority if the government does not come through with its loan early next month, perhaps by June 15 at the latest.

As he handed down the board's decision, the Commons remained locked in one of the most bitter debates of the post war era, with Progressive Conservative and CCF members lined up in pitched battle against the proposed government loan.

Trans-Canada has agreed with the government to build the 575-mile Alberta to Winnipeg portion of the line if the government loan is made by June 7. The government is determined to meet the deadline, using every parliamentary weapon possible to get the legislation through. The Commons opposition is just as determined to block it.

MAIL BAGS FLEW onto the road in an unusual accident which occurred two to three miles South of Canal Flat on Highway 95. The truck carrying mail, driven by Lloyd W. Shibley of Cranbrook, slowed owing to straying cattle, and a car driven by Mrs. Genevieve O'Brien of Kimberley plowed into rear of truck. Damage totalled $1000, mostly to the car. This photo was taken by G. Caron of High River, Alta.

And in This Corner...

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Ben Porterfield is getting tired of motorists smashing down the fence in front of his house at a curve in the road.

In his efforts to keep cars out of his front yard he recently erected a barrier of railroad rails, but they proved ineffective. His latest attempt, an old water tank solidly filled with concrete, made a barrier eight feet long and a foot through. The tank got the business Wednesday.

Porterfield says he is going to sue the city and the state road commission. He says they have been promising to fix the curve.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — P. Wilson Schiller, a Syracuse university official, didn't like the presence of an old car overturned on the street in front of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house.

So he asked the Phi Gamma Delta boys, who had done the deed to the rival Betas, to right the jalopy and move it into the driveway.

The Phi Gams obliged Wednesday, but nobody remembered to set the brakes.

The vehicle rolled out of the driveway and smashed into Schiller's car.

DENVER (AP) — It wasn't only that Frederick J. Betts had to share his home with 11 chinchillas, a parrot, a cat, a dog and three large bowls of tropical fish. It was also, he told a divorce-court jury Wednesday, that his wife, Anonia, reminded him repeatedly that she preferred the animals, bird and fish to him. The jury granted Betts a divorce.

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A Palm Springs couple caused the arrest Wednesday of a chief of police and charged him with making an illegal U-turn. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paxton said Robert Morton, chief at nearby Cabazon, made a U-turn and forced them off the highway. Morton has been convicted but not yet sentenced for using a red light and siren on his car in violation of California highway patrol regulations.

Anderson Creek Wrecks Gardens

Anderson Creek in Fairview again went on the rampage Thursday afternoon, spilling water over newly planted gardens and washing away rock walls.

The creek reached its peak on Monday and was brought under control after volunteers were called out Sunday night to battle the swirling water.

Noon Thursday another call went out and women, and men who were not working uptown, filled sandbags all afternoon in an attempt to stop the creek from flooding its banks.

The hardest hit area was the eight and nine hundred blocks on Fifth Street, where gardens were flooded and rock walls uprooted. Sixty feet of rock wall was swept away at the home of W. A. Fetterley, 811 Sixth Street.

Residents along the creek said the flood condition this year is the worst since 1948 and expect to spend two years getting their yards back in shape.

Control of the situation near the Canadian Pacific Railway station was gained. Cottonwood creek water which Wednesday leaped over sandbags and flooded the basement of the station and pits of the diesel shop, receded and permitted some relaxation by work crews for the first time since Monday.

Tons of boulders and gravel were scooped up from the culvert running under the tracks to clear the waterway. Officials said little damage was caused by the flood. Only a few old records and papers stored in the station basement were damaged.

ADVISES NURSES NOT TO WITNESS WILLS

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — Alberta nurses were advised not to be witnesses to wills signed by patients.

Albert Miller of Edmonton, legal adviser to the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses, told the nurses' 38th annual convention nurses who witness wills should "make certain the person making the will is of sound mind."

"If in doubt, consult with his or her doctor," he said. "Don't advise patients how to make a will."

Scouting Growth Told at Trail

TRAIL—The importance and scope of the World Scout Jamboree was brought out before a gathering of Trail and District Scouts and council members in an address by R. K. Jordan, B. C. executive Scout commissioner, on Thursday night at the East Trail Scout hall.

"The jamboree brought an awareness on the part of the public that there is a Scout movement in this country and that the movement is growing," he said.

"The public is viewing us now like they never have before. It shows us how good scouting can be and how far we have to go to make it that good on the local scene."

He advised that sufficient people be recruited to positions of leadership and that "we be on guard, ready and prepared, with sufficient committees and sufficient sponsors to handle the group of youngsters who will be coming to Scouts and Cubs."

A strength of 200,000 promises within the next two or three years, at the present rate of increase, to become a quarter of a million strong and not too long till it becomes a million. Figures recently released from Victoria disclosed that the number of boys coming into Cub age within the next couple of years will have doubled.

"Without a good organization we could not provide the leadership we are providing today. We should not be complacent but make sure we are achieving those ends we set out as our target."

"The theme of conservation we have on this year is capturing the imagination of more and more Scouts," said the speaker. "If we can teach our youngsters thrift concerning our basic resources and show them the necessity of preserving our great gifts, we have done a great deal for our country."

Speaking of the growth of scouting, Mr. Jordan mentioned a new district formed at Nakusp Wednesday. It is the 56th district in the province.

Track Removal Okayed at Trail

TRAIL — The Trail city council decided Thursday night at a meeting with R. E. Sommers, MLA for Rossland - Trail, city engineer George Sanders and a central mortgage and housing official, to go ahead with the track removal on Rossland Avenue.

Approximate cost of the undertaking was estimated at about $346,000, of which Mr. Sommers said the provincial government would pay at least half.

Included in the program would be the removal of track and shed facilities from along Rossland Avenue, with the Canadian Pacific Railways procuring sufficient property at the western end of the city, in the vicinity of Ceccanti Street, for construction of yards and other facilities. A total of five plans were submitted to the meeting by Mr. Sanders.

HONOR DIAMOND AT TRAIL TONIGHT

TRAIL — Acquaintances and associates throughout the district will honor R. W. Diamond at the Cominco gymnasium here Friday night.

A complimentary dinner is being held upon Mr. Diamond's retirement as executive vice-president for the western region of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Ltd. Mr. Diamond will remain active in an advisory capacity.

Porteous Heads Nelson Jaycees

D. F. Porteous was elected president of the Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held at the Shamrock Grill Thursday night.

Elected first vice president was E. J. Allen; second vice president, P. Siemers; secretary, F. Westfall; treasurer Ralph Aubrey and directors, Clifford Sherlock and Donald Rosling.

The Midsummer Bonspiel hoedown will be sponsored this year by the Jaycees as the Bonspiel committee will be unable to stage it because the Civic Centre Badminton Hall will be occupied by the Calgary Stampeders. The annual Jaycee beach party will again be staged this year during the bonspiel.

Newly elected president Don Porteous and director Clifford Sherlock will be Nelson Jaycee representatives to the coming regional convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Prince George.

Holsten Found Innocent

A jury deliberated 25 minutes Thursday afternoon to bring in a verdict of not guilty for Robert William Holsten, who was charged with unlawful rape of Caroline Haliday.

The case, which has been proceeding in assize court here since Tuesday, closed Thursday afternoon with summaries by Crown Counsel R. B. Allan and Defence Counsel G. B. Arnesen.

The jury listened to a three-quarter hour charge from presiding Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes before retiring to bring in the innocent verdict. He reviewed the law for them and how it applied to the particular case and also reviewed the evidence.

When the foreman announced the verdict a near-filled gallery broke into spontaneous applause, forcing the sheriff to call for order.

Evans Named School Principal

E. K. EVANS

Eldred K. Evans has been appointed principal of South Nelson Elementary School which is to open this Fall.

Appointment of Mr. Evans was made by the board of trustees of Nelson School District No. 7 meeting Wednesday night. At the same time board chairman George Mermet asked the management committee to bring in a report at the next meeting on the appointment of a vice-principal at Central Elementary School. A vice-principal will not be required at South Nelson School. Mr. Evans was vice-principal at Central School for a year and a half prior to being transferred to the high school staff at the beginning of this year to meet an emergency.

Advisability of appointing a principal now while building of the school (renovation of old Nelson High) is under way was noted by the board.

Canada Must Be Alert to Power Demand, Laing Tells Chamber

Canada should be constantly aware of the "fantastic source of energy" residing here in the form of falling water, Arthur Laing, B.C. Liberal party leader, told Nelson Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon meeting in the Hume Thursday.

Hydro-electric development was the central theme of his address, one of several he is delivering in the Kootenays in the course of a tour of the Interior. He was accompanied by Thomas Dohmm, recently-elected first vice-president of the B.C. Liberal Association, and Kenneth Stewart of Fernie.

The Vancouver Point Grey Member was "gratified" at prospects of top level discussions between Canada and the United States government leaders on development of power resources which would affect both countries.

He noted growing realization that, concerning international rivers, hydro-electric power should be the exclusive property of B.C. people, but downstream benefits should accrue to the Canadian people to the extent of 50 per cent of power created across the line by upstream storage.

Of Canada's 82,000,000 horsepower potential, it had been estimated that B.C. could attain between 22,000,000 and 25,000,000 horsepower.

"We are at the very threshold of an insatiable demand for power," Mr. Laing said.

This was the age of energy. Last year energy consumed on this continent was equivalent to consumption of eight tons of coal per person. This was expected to reach 15 tons per person by 1975. Yet last year only five per cent of our energy came from falling water. Sixty-eight per cent was derived from coal and 28 per cent from petroleum.

Not only did Canada possess a great water power potential against "rapidly declining" energy from other spheres. She also has the raw materials.

"The United States mines cannot compete with ours today for raw materials," the speaker continued. He foresaw the time when that country would look beyond its borders for the raw products to feed its giant industries and increasing population.

"I would hope our governments in respect to resources and sources of energy look to building our country industry-wise and population-wise."

Canada was still exporting some raw materials "which we do not need to send at this time". He cited 95,000,000 board feet of lumber in raw wood chips which went out of B.C. last year.

"If needs be, we should be a little more selfish than in the past."

Ending on a warning note, Mr. Laing said: "One of the most challenging things in Canada today is the danger of inflation." While wages and prices had risen, there had been no appreciable increase in production.

"While exulting in great prospects, we must remember to act with caution, foresight and every bit of intelligence."

H. D. Harrison introduced the speaker.

Other luncheon guests were Dillon O'Leary, Vancouver Herald reporter, who is covering Mr. Laing's tour; and Fred Lowe and R. H. Dill.

Applications for membership were accepted from S. A. Liptak, R. E. Watts, Lorne Kennedy and C. D. Pearson.

Spokane Chamber of Commerce informed the Nelson Chamber by letter that no money has been allotted for improvement to the road from Newport to Waneta, as on the basis of Washington State highway traffic count, authorities had decided traffic was too light to justify the expenditure which would be required.

TRAIL—B. C. Liberal leader Laing addressed a public meeting of about 100 people in the Trail Legion Hall Thursday, where he criticized R. E. Sommers for failing to testify at the Sloan inquiry.

Mr. Laing also blasted the provincial government for its plans to construct a $31,500,000 bridge at Kelowna. "The interest on the loan to build the bridge was greater than the cost to operate the three ferries in operation," he said.

He went on to say that the Social Credit government should tell the people about the economic conditions of the province, the loans and the debts.

A. J. McDonnell Passes at Trail

TRAIL — A former employee of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. and a well known Trail resident A. J. (Scotty) McDonnell, died in Trail-Tadanac Hospital Thursday morning, Mr. McDonnell died from a heart attack. He once was in charge of transportation at Cominco. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Herb McDonald of Trail, a son Art in Spokane and another son Archie in Virginia.

MAN WHOSE CAR STRUCK GIRL, FINED

A man whose car struck an 18-year-old girl at Shoreacres on April 23, was fined $25 and $10.50 costs in provincial court Thursday when he was found guilty of driving without due care and attention. Gilbert Edward Goucher of the North Shore appeared before Magistrate William Evans. He pleaded not guilty and was defended by Warren Ferguson of Nelson. Defence was he was not driving without due care

The girl was recently released from hospital.

Peter Pasqualato of Trail was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit at Genelle.

W. H. Crossley Again CNIB Head; Urges Development of Projects

W. H. Crossley was re-elected by acclamation to head the Nelson branch of the Canadian National Institute of the Blind at the annual meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office Thursday night.

Other officers elected by acclamation were vice-chairman, D. E. Hunter; secretary, Mrs. G. S. Blaney and treasurer, F. S. Aikins. Honorary members re-elected were Mayor Joseph Kary, J. R. Corner and Dr. R. M. McCullough.

In the annual chairman's report, Mr. Crossley told the 13 members present that the local organization needed stimulation by local projects. "With the removal by the Community Chest of the annual drive for funds, our main effort has been taken over and we do not have the same feeling of teamwork which makes an active, vital group," he said.

"If our group should disintegrate and disappear we would lose the Community Chest grant, but the greater loss would be no local group interested in work for the blind in this area," Mr. Crossley continued. "I am sure we can lick the problem by tackling it with local projects," he concluded.

A message on tape by Dr. M. C. Robinson M.B.E., national director for Western Canada, was played at the meeting. "Our task is to develop blind people to such a point that they will be able to take their place beside people with sight," he said. Dr. Robinson went on to tell of the help received by three blind people at Vancouver from the CNIB and explained the function of the organization.

J. C. Hembling, field representative for CNIB, reported on the activities of his Okanagan and Kootenay area during the past year. "We have given up our struggle for elimination of the means test," he explained, "but we still maintain that the means test kills the incentive of the blind people for they tend to rely too heavily on the pension and do not work for a living as they might be able to do otherwise."

Mr. Hembling told of the new One Point Program being waged by the CNIB to secure some funds for blind people to cover the cost peculiar to blindness as well as the regular blind pension.

In the Okanagan and Kootenays there are 259 registered blind persons, he pointed out. Twenty-seven of them were newly registered this year.

Mr. Hembling warned the meeting in the hope of reaching the general public of persons allegedly collecting for the blind. "The CNIB has only one campaign during the year and it is carried out by local citizens," he said.

A message from P. W. Ogilvie, executive officer of CNIB for B.C., was also read to the meeting by chairman Mr. Crossley. A film followed the meeting, "Man of the House", illustrating the work done in the United States in teaching handicrafts and giving vocational training to the blind.

Driving With Boy On Windshield Brings $50 Fine

Driving on the wrong side of Baker Street with another boy sitting on the windshield of his convertible, making a noise, resulted in a $50 fine and costs for 22-year-old Kenneth Lipsack of Nelson. He was charged with driving without due care and attention and pleaded guilty before Magistrate R. S. Nelson in city court. Offence was early Sunday morning.

He pleaded not guilty to causing a disturbance by swearing on Baker Street, was found guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Evidence was he swore at two city police officers and used abusive language when they stopped him for the first offence.

Roy Lindblad of Nelson was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to not having a licence for his dog.

School Board Briefs..

Maintenance of grounds at Queen Elizabeth Park, being used by L. V. Rogers High School students because the school grounds are not yet completed, was discussed by Nelson School District Board this week.

Nelson Little League secretary D. E. Hunter in a letter to the board stated high school students were using the grounds during recreation periods and leaving it in an unsuitable condition for baseball playing later in the day. He suggested that the school district supply four of five loads of clay to be applied to the field to make it serviceable.

Trustee Mrs. G. V. Frederiksen, who is also a member of Nelson Recreation Commission, stated that arrangements to use the park had been made by the high school through the recreation commission, with the stipulation that the school leave it in good condition. Mrs. Frederiksen will further investigate the situation.

• • •

A tender of $647 from Stange Construction Company for building a roadway at South Nelson Elementary School to get fuel into the building will be sent to the architects for investigation and submission to the Department of Education for approval. A new stairway makes it impossible to get fuel in by the previous method.

• • •

The board granted permission to use the Salmo High School gymnasium for a Boy Scout concert June 20 as requested by Mrs. J. Black; and permission to Salmo Elementary School principal F. E. Parsons to hold the school's annual track meet May 30.

• • •

Trustee Mrs. Richard Palmer will officially represent the board at L. V. Rogers School graduation ceremony May 31, and Mrs. Frederiksen, with Mr. Frederiksen, will be board representative at the graduation banquet and dance the following night. A letter from Principal G. H. Lee requested board representation at the two functions.

• • •

The board accepted with regret the resignation, effective the end of June, of Mrs. M. A. Floren of Central School teaching staff.

• • •

Trustee O. P. Larsen of Salmo was asked to investigate and given power to act regarding a request of R. Koenig, Ymir School principal, to have three school buses made available to transport pupils from Ymir and Remac schools to a track meet at Harold Lakes School on June 15.

• • •

Maintainence supervisor A. I. Collinson will make the bottom floor of the old school district garage and warehouse building on Ward Street available for rental to Columbia Bottling Works for storage of empty bottles. This will necessitate closing off the top floor where the school district has miscellaneous equipment stored. Request for the storage space was made in a letter to the board from the bottling firm.

Creston Farmers Take Flood Precautions

CRESTON — Although taking precautionary measures against a continued rise in the Kootenay River, some farmers were going ahead with seeding on reclaimed land here Thursday.

Those most deeply concerned with flood conditions, however, were wondering what effect intermittent rain Thursday would have on river levels. One theory was that the rain, offsetting heat of recent days, might slow run-offs.

Stock cars rolled into Creston Thursday morning in case cattle have to be moved out, and a small amount of wheat was moved from grain sheds on the Flats.

Kootenay River at Wardner is 11.64 feet, an increase of about half a foot. At Bonners Ferry, it rose to 36.2 feet and at Creston at noon the level was 22.75 feet.

In 1948, biggest flood year since 1894, the dikes stood over 22 feet, for 19 days and over 23 feet for 13 days, a spokesman pointed out.

Dike losses on the United States side have relieved pressure at Creston. Nearly 8936 acres are under water. Break-through in the No. 1 diking district covered 4454 acres. Another 2239 acres were inundated with loss of No. 7 district dike and 2002 with the loss of No. 12 district dike. Another 241 acres are also flooded.

A few families are moving from homes on low-lying land. At Wynndel, the Larsens were evacuated to a house on higher land when their home on the flat land beside Duck creek filled with rising water. The road is impassable, and Pawluk Brothers trucks hauling lumber and private cars, have to use the Cory Road.

HUGE BOULDERS, like one here, were swung into position to act as bulwarks for retaining wall against onslaught of Mark Creek. Gus Gris, cable man, and Al Fabro, in charge of sandbagging, move rock into place. Scene was reminiscent of the 1948 flood, when Mark Creek went on a devastating rampage.
—Charles Wormington photo.

FOR THE LAST FOUR DAYS, men and machinery have been pitted against Mark Creek in Kimberley which became a raging torrent in recent floods. They have been sandbagging, anchoring and timbering retaining wall, one section of which gave way under incessant battering. By Wednesday, however, creek level had dropped. Here workers are shown bolstering wall.

South Slocan Calls Meeting On Road Problem

SOUTH SLOCAN — South Slocan aims to reach a solution once and for all to its twisty road problem.

I. R. Jones, chairman of the South Slocan Waterworks District has called a public meeting for the WI hall Tuesday of all people interested in settling the matter.

Hon. W. D. Black, when in South Slocan recently, was in conversation with Mr. Jones and other residents about eliminating the highway hazard.

The Nelson-Creston MLA suggested a delegate from South Slocan go to Victoria where he would arrange a meeting with Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, highways minister, and himself.

Mr. Jones had made arrangements to drive Mr. Gaglardi through South Slocan from Nelson in an effort to give the minister a first-hand look at the hazards of the narrowness of the Southern trans-provincial highway through here. However Mr. Gaglardi's aerial survey of Jumbo Pass did not give enough time for the ride to South Slocan.

Mayor Read Opens Park Grandstand

TRAIL — Mayor L. A. Read threw the first ball following opening ceremonies of the $65,000 Butler Park grandstand Wednesday evening before a large crowd that turned out despite the threat of rain.

Immediately after receiving the fine structure from the president of the Trail and District Recreational Projects Society and accepting it on behalf of the citizens, Mayor Read announced it was dedicated to Dr. C. H. Wright "for his beneficial and untiring efforts over a long period of years, and for his great contribution to Trail and district."

In presenting the grandstand to the mayor, Dr. Wright said, "We are celebrating another occasion in the march of progress towards better recreational facilities in this district." The large crowd went wild in expressing appreciation when he announced that at an early date the society would be able to provide an up-to-date community swimming pool to be located on Butler Park.

Otto Gill accepted the grandstand on behalf fo the Trail Tadanac Board of Park Commissioners, who will supervise its operation. Master of ceremonies was W. F. Watson, chairman of the Butler Park committee.

Mattie Marshall, chairman of membership and canvass, announced that a large plaque had been donated by Mel Monkhouse for dedication of the grandstand to Dr. Wright. He also announced the donation of $400 to the Recreational Society from Oglow Brothers.

Three bands, high school majorettes and four ball teams provided entertainment for the evening.

NEW DENVER — The National Cancer Campaign was held in New Denver by members of the women's Institute canvassing the town the sum of $210.75 was collected.

Members helping with this work were convener of social welfare Miss M. H. Butlin, Mrs. J. A. Greer, Mrs. R. E. Crellin, Mrs D. S. Brown, Mrs. H. T. Butler, Mrs. H. Witt, Mrs. A. L. Harris and Miss Gladys L. Reynolds.

Fun For All Saturday . . .

Crawford Bay Day May Become Annual Affair

CRAWFORD BAY — Arrangements for Crawford Bay Day on Saturday, are now in final stages.

Organizers have made every effort to plan a gala day for residents of this community and neighboring Kootenay Lake settlements. If successful, the day may be held annually.

The opening ceremony and flag raising will take place at 10:30 a.m., and will be followed by a parade of decorated bicycles and prams. There will be races and contests for people of all ages, special treats, peanut scrambles and Shetland pony rides for the small children. Winners of sports events will receive cash prizes.

The Prince Charles High School Band from Creston will be in attendance.

Big events will be an exhibition of square dancing by teams from Riondel and Crawford Bay, and a ball game between Riondel and Crawford Bay. Both men's and ladies' teams will compete.

To wind up the day, a dance will be held with two orchestras playing. There will be spot prizes and novelties.

Fire Destroys Kitchener Store

KITCHENER—The Harry Redmile grocery store at Kitchener burned to the ground Tuesday in a fire of unknown cause.

Mr. Redmile found a small fire burning in a back room at 6 p.m., just before closing time. He tried to extinguish the flames with a sack, but failed to do so. He then used a fire extinguisher, but was overcome by fumes. Oil and gasoline stored in the room spread the fire rapidly.

The roof fell in 45 minutes after the fire was discovered. The Kitchener Hotel and Johnson home, both directly across the road, had roof fires from sparks, and some windows in the hotel cracked from the intense heat.

B.C. Telephone Company crew from Creston repaired wires a short time later.

Some insurance was carried on the building, erected in 1921. Some case lots of stock were saved, but all shelf stock was lost.

Fernie Youth Found Guilty of Assault

CRANBROOK — A Fernie youth Albert di Georgio, was found guilty by a jury at the Spring Assize session here of assault occasioning bodily harm and was sentenced to eight months definite sentence at the Young Offenders prison unit, and six months indefinite. Alan Graham, Q.C., prosecuted and defending the accused was S. F. Hyslop of Fernie. The hearing concluded the Assize criminal session.

B.C. Farming At "Low Ebb" Laing Charges

CRESTON — Arthur Laing, provincial Liberal leader, addressing a gathering of some 55 persons at a public meeting Wednesday night, condemned recent policies of the Social Credit government.

Mr. Laing, dealing with a matter of interest to Creston Valley residents, stated he believed a motion by him for an investigation into means of obtaining flood control was vetoed "merely because it was by suggestion."

He felt the agricultural end of the province was at a low ebb and that it must be strengthened. History had shown that post war depression patterns started with declines in the agricultural industry. Outlay required by farmers to operate successfully now was greater than that of any industry, he pointed out. The Liberal leader wondered if a taxation ceiling for farms could be instigated, for the industry had to be kept healthy, or the cost of living would rise if more food had to be brought into the province.

Only two-tenths of one per cent of this year's budget was allocated for Agricultude, he stated.

Chairman of the meeting was Dr. W. Fraser, who first introduced Thomas Dohm of Vancouver, recently elected first vice-president of the Liberal Party of B.C., who spoke briefly. Kenneth Stewart of Fernie, East Kootenay Liberal Association President, also addressed the meeting.

Children's Clinic From Coast To Visit Kootenays Next Week

CRANBROOK — Following up on the Okanagan Clinic, the Children's Hospital Kootenay Travelling Clinic from Vancouver will open in Cranbrook on Monday. It is expected that 55 children will attend.

In Kimberley on Tuesday, 56 patients have already been registered. Nelson clinics will be held on Wednesday and Thursday with 110 children scheduled to attend.

In Trail, 60 youngsters will come to the June 1 clinic.

Patients in all centres are referred to the Children's Travelling Clinics by their family doctors with appointment arrangements completed by the director of their local Health Unit. An orthopaedic surgeon and a pediatrician from the medical staff of the Vancouver hospital at 250 West 59th Avenue will be in charge of the clinic.

The Travelling Clinics visit 12 major points in the province with a new clinic, to be added at Terrace this year. During 1955 a total of 1461 sick and crippled children were seen at these clinics, over three times the number attending in 1952.

The Travelling Clinic service is made possible through the annual March of Dimes for Children's Hospital carried on throughout B. C. during November and December.

Business Pioneer In East Kootenay, A. F. Haddad Dies

CRANBROOK — East Kootenay and Okanagan businessman for 56 years, Abraham Farhat Haddad died at St. Eugene Hospital Wednesday after a long illness. He was 69 years old.

Born at Beyrut, Syria, in 1886, he came to Canada as a youth and settled first at Fernie where he operated a store. He transferred his business to Cranbrook and after many years moved to Radium Hot Springs, where he established and operated a motel. He sold this enterprise and moved to Kelowna where he established a soft drink plant which is now operated by his son He had been in ill health since 1948, and returned to Cranbrook last year from Kelowna.

Surviving him are his wife in Phoenix, Ariz., two sons, George in Cranbrook and Victor in Kelowna, five daughters, Mrs. C. H. Reid (Lillian) in Cranbrook Mrs. G. D. Floods Confirm Need for Ounce of Prevention

After a long and dreary winter with all its cold and snow, it has been a delight to have a spell of warm, bright weather. The holiday, so long looked forward to by all, seemed to be a happy occasion. Undoubtedly most people did rejoice in its warmth and beauty, but the occasion was marred by the very warmth and brightness.

The hot sun melting the snows in the mountains turned the creeks into rushing torrents which could not be kept within the confines of their banks. Bridges have been swept away, low lands inundated and carried away, and property loss has been great. Even in its brightest moments nature seems to be at war with man, and man cannot afford to lose this war.

As a recent editorial in this newspaper pointed out, it is not sufficient to study the rivers of British Columbia purely from the point of view of their power potentials. There must be also a study of means of flood control in all its phases, from the mountain creek to the mighty rivers.

Such a survey would enable plans to be made to hold back flood waters of the smaller rivers and to control their flow, and this, in turn, would assist in the control of the Kootenay and Columbia. It would also build up data which would enable river clearing to be most efficiently carried out, something which should not be left to haphazard last-minute arrangements.

One heartening feature of such disasters is the response made to the challenge they present. Various organizations went immediately into action, providing direction to the many volunteers who worked at sandbagging, municipal and provincial public works employees gave up their holidays and worked long hours in the fight, and the women carried out their part by providing sandwiches and coffee for the workers.

Public Must Adjust to Shorter Hours, Writer Says in Reply to Editorial

To the Editor:

Sir: I feel I must take exception to your editorial in May 22's Nelson Daily News. Your finger is pointing directly at the civil service.

Should we not keep in mind that governments, (whether they be Municipal, Provincial or Federal) only follow in the footsteps of private enterprise? Only after a change has been well tried first, (say a year or two) does a government bring in legislation to increase wages and shorten hours of work. Then, and only then, does a government make adjustments commensurate with those outside their organizations.

Yes, the Nelson Post Office now closes Wednesday afternoons. Is this not good business? Does it not seem obvious that it would be a losing proposition to keep men on at say the money order, stamp and general delivery wickets, when the amount of business does not warrant it? That would be three men working an additional five hours per week. How would you suggest offsetting these fifteen extra hours? Would you hire another body and further the loss, thereby adding to the burden of the tax payer? Your paper is a strong advocate of free enterprise in industry, but bear in mind a private industry does not last long if it is not always seeking ways and means of economizing. It is common sense — the stores are closed — why not the Post Office? The public will buy their stamps on Tuesdays!

As to your paragraph on stores staying open later on Friday nights as a service to the public. Don't ever believe it! This is simply a scheme to further their own ends and line their pockets. In other words — good business.

As for the lads from the Trail area who ran out of gas one night in Nelson, I would venture to say that they passed some fifteen gas pumps on the way over to Nelson, any one of which would have been open had they cared to stop. It would seem poor business to me to keep a man at a gas pump all night to sell a few gallons of gas. From 6 p.m. to 8 a.m. is fourteen hours. At $1.35 per hour, wages would amount to $18.90. The service station would have to sell approximately 380 gallons to break even. Breaking even is not good business, so to make it pay they would have to sell some 500 gallons. Quite a risk to take in order to serve someone who couldn't remember to buy a few gallons of gas during a ten-hour day.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, in rebuttal I would say that the trend is towards shorter hours. The worker, in other words the public, is seeking this change It is then up to the public to adjust themselves to this change. Either this or alter the system entirely.

Press Comment

Travel by train is traditional in Canada, declares the Edmonton Journal. "As long as railway management keeps abreast of the latest scientific developments and their potentialities for increased speed and comfort, the majority of Canadians will probably travel by rail for a long time to come."

A bit of secrecy won't hurt at these international conferences, thinks the Ottawa Journal. "This is not to say that the world must return to the old and sometimes sinister practices of what was called 'secret diplomacy.' Binding agreements without parliamentary knowledge or approval would be unthinkable in this age. But what it does mean is that the methods and conversations by which agreements are reached must themselves be confidential, carried out in an atmosphere free of the publicity which as often as not only begets more division and controversy."

Pro-Canadianism is not anti-Americanism, says the Calgary Herald. Today, "the real issue is the preservation and perpetuation of our nation and our people, whether or not we want to build a nation of our own or apathetically allow somebody else to do it . . . and in that process very likely to lose it. It is a Canadian issue, fundamentally and first of all involving Canadians. It should be kept within that framework. We're not mad at the Americans; but we ought to be mad at ourselves for having slept so dangerously long."

"Worried", Jaffray—How many months can eggs be preserved in waterglass? Also, where can I send for an autographed picture of the singer, Elvis Presley?

Regarding the eggs, the only recipe for preserving eggs we can find states "eggs preserved in waterglass keep a very long time." Another recipe is as follows: Lime, slaked with water, one bushel; common salt, two or thre pounds; cream of tartar, half pound; add water and mix until strong enough to float an egg. This, says the writer, will preserve the eggs for two years by simply keeping them in it. As for Mr. Presley, we can only suggest you write to him direct care of the company that makes his records, RCA Victor, New York, U.S.A.

S.H., Nelson—I've been told the customs and immigration office at Nelway is on daylight time this year. Is this so?

Yes, the office is open from 8 a.m. to 12 midnight Pacific Daylight Time. The United States office is open for the same period although on Washington time, that is 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Standard Time.

K.T., Nelson—Would you have a recipe for Lobster Egg Foo Yung? It is a Chinese dish.

Lobster Egg Foo Yung: Two tablespoons peanut oil or other fat; half-cup thinly sliced celery; one small onion, finely cut; half-cup sliced mushrooms; half-cup sliced bamboo shoots; one tin lobster, broken in small pieces; four eggs; half-cup water, one teaspoon salt. Heat oil in frying pan, add celery, onion, mushrooms, and bamboo shoots with a little water, cover and cook about four minutes, then add lobster. Add half-cup water and salt to beaten eggs, then add eggs to contents of frying pan. Reduce heat. As mixture begins to thicken, tur nover with spoon. Con- begins to thicken, turn over with spoon. Idearama

It used to be "-iums" that were popular with the semantic innocents of the advertising world. By analogy with auditorium and emporium we went so far as lubritoriums to describe the grease pit in a service station.

Then came "-teria." From cafeteria we galloped to groceteria and even to marketeria. At least the laundreteria had the euphonious grace to contract to laundrette.

Now comes "-ama." Starting with cinerama we have gone on to motorama and fooderama (almost indistinguishable from a marketeria). We even read the other day of a stylerama being presented in St. Thomas.

Since we are in for it anyhow, we should like to encourage these linguistic barbarians so that the craze may the more quickly die. We suggest that cosmetic counters be called a glamorama, and that any cinema, having more than one feature film on its program, tell the world that it is having a dramorama. A new collection of summer straw hats might be a Panamorama, and, to show that we are not entirely concerned with commercial ideas, why not a provincial spelling bee for schools next year called a wordorama? Any convention could be a talkerama and a racing meet could be a trackorama.

University Fees

University students are going to pay higher fees in at least half of Canada's universities this fall and undoubtedly all universities will follow the same pattern of increasing their fees to offset rising operational costs. University professors are receiving better pay and it costs much more to run a university today than it did ten years ago, but the fact remains that Canada is not making it easier for its youth to get higher education and we must not lose sight of the fact that with rising university costs confronting us, there will be increasing numbers who won't be able to avail themselves of higher scholastic learning. This is a serious matter for the country and government subsidies for university education should receive serious consideration.—Niagara Falls Review.

2-Room School Addition At Salmo Approved

The board of trustees of Nelson School District No. 7 Wednesday night, after an hour-and-half discussion, voted 4-3 in favor of building a two-room addition to Salmo Elementary School.

The motion called for instructing the architects, Sharp and Thompson, Berwick, Pratt, to proceed with plans for the addition so that it will be ready for occupancy by September. Estimated cost of the project is $25,000.

Discussion of the addition resulted from a report given by Trustee F. N. Emmott on a meeting he and school district secretary J. S. Livingstone had with Department of Education officials in Victoria recently regarding the addition and other matters.

Mr. Emmott reported that the department was willing to share the cost of the school, but would not, at this time, commit themselves to sharing additional transportation costs.

Points of view expressed by board members included:

1. Possibility of building one room now. This, it was noted, would not be economical as need for a second room was foreseen.

OTHER NEEDS

2. Building no rooms this year at Salmo and using the money elsewhere. Trustee Mrs. Richard Palmer felt work on Central School in Nelson was more urgent. Other board members expressed the view that to do a complete renovation of Central would cost $100,000 or more and would necessitate a bylaw.

3. In the near future preparing a bylaw for school improvements throughout the district to include Salmo Elementary, Central School and improvements to North Shore facilities. This was suggested by Trustee Gordon Sargent. Later in the discussion of difficulties experienced by the board in getting Department of Education approval of plans, Mr. Sargent said "any long sighted move this board has ever suggested for economy has been turned down by the department."

4. Possibility of renovation an old existing building at Salmo was suggested by Trustee Mrs. G. V. Frederiksen, but condition of the building and lack of playground space made this unfeasible, other board members stated.

Mr. Emmott's and Mr. Livingstone's discussions at the Coast were with J. H. Wilson, supervisor of planning and construction, and G. W. Graham, director of administration.

When board chairman George A. Mermet called for the vote on the motion, Mr. Emmott and Trustee O. P. Larsen and L. M. McBride favored it, and Mrs. Frederiksen, Mrs. Palmer and Mr. Sargent opposed it. The motion carried when Mr. Mermet voted "yes."

Factors causing him to vote "yes," the chairman said, included the fact that building one room would be uneconomical, renovation of the old school would be both unfeasible and uneconomical, and that earlier this year the board had passed a motion favoring building of the addition.

City Delegates to Convention Named

Aldermen C. F. Blakeman, J. W. McClelland, Elizabeth Wallach and W. S. Smith, as well as City Clerk C. W. R. Harper, have been delegated to represent Nelson at the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in Penticton October 3 to 5.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Saturday, May 26, 1956

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —It might be well to slow down now in order to review plans, get a broader perspective. Stars indicate little, maybe no assistance. Do not consider new propositions unless fully informed.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) —This could be a costly day for you ambitious, and sometimes impulsive folk. Your code should be: think first, then move — but cautiously! Don't go to extremes.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)— Exercise calm intelligence and judgment, especially in business and financial matters. Choose companions wisely, considering their habits, principles, etc. It could mean much later on.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)— Some restrictions now. This does not mean your chances are nil. It just means more and harder work, thinking. Take criticism smartly; smile. Heed well-meant suggestions.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) —Leo natives have accomplished a great deal despite seeming lack of appreciation. Remember this. Recall only the best in the past; work confidently toward the future. You can achieve.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — The day, being somewhat dull, will give you a chance to think things over quietly, take stock. Have you discarded outmoded methods? Are you planning ahead?

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Whither are you going? Maybe you need to change your course or make some revisions in your methods. All problems can be solved, especially with your pluck and ingenuity.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Your planets, Mars and Pluto, in good aspect this invigorating day. Determine your plan of action. Is it worthy? If so, on with it! Present your wares with assurance. Avoid tension.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Concentrate on your program so as to avoid waste motion. A NEW approach and a progressive touch will count. If free time is available, enjoy it with pleasant companions.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Risky ventures, games of chance, speculation should be avoided. Maintain harmony with those about you. Be interested in home, civic matters.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Mental work equally favored with physical activity. Whole day receptive to sincere and good deeds. Avoid worry, gloomy thinking. Be philosophical.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Prospects look encouraging for business and professional endeavors. However, don't force issues now. Tomorrow is another day.

YOU BORN TODAY are of the keen, imaginative, sensitive Sign Gemini. You are full of activity (often are whirling away mentally while you seem to be sitting quietly). You have dexterous hands and could become an able nurse, or member of the medical profession. Don't let bursts of enthusiasm be the rule, but rather a steady, not-too-hectic pace, which won't strain nerves. Keep seeking more facts; never be satisfied with the knowledge you have. You can rise to great heights providing you live on the higher plane and stand by your innately fine character. Birthdate of: Lady Mary Montagu, famed English writer.

Time To Apply Spray For Scab Control

CRESTON — It is recommended that the calyx spray for control of apple scab be applied in Creston Valley and early sections of the Kootenay-Arrow Lakes District by the end of this week. In later sections the spray should be applied during the first part of next week, J. E. Swales, District Horticulturist, has announced.

While present weather conditions are not favorable for the development of apple scab, growers are cautioned not to gamble with the weatherman. If rain appears likely it would be advisable to apply the calyx spray before the rain.

Don't irritate child's intestines with "too-strong laxatives"

Science at last has developed Children's Own Tablets for your child's protection — No cramps! No gripes! No bad taste!

Stop using harsh laxatives that may irritate the tender walls of your child's intestines, causing cramping, griping, or weak, uncomfortable feelings. Large, harsh, adult-size laxatives are often too strong for children. They work, but they may irritate the delicate membranes in the intestines. Medical science has at last developed Children's Own Tablets — clinically-tested for children's needs . . . just strong enough . . . not harsh . . . in tablet form, pleasant-tasting, easy to take! Relieves upset tummy, too. So try Children's Own Tablets today — made by the makers of Baby's Own Tablets. See if they are not the answer to your child's laxative problems.

Wynndel, Ladner Families Linked By Creston Rites

WYNNDEL — Christ Church in Creston was the setting for a double-ring wedding service, Rev. E. R. Hope officiating, when Evelyn Mamie Andestad, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Andestad of Wynndel, became the bride of Alexander S. Jackson of Ladner.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the young bride looked lovely in a floor-length white gown of nylon net and Chantilly lace over satin, lace bodice featuring round neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls on net inset, long lily point sleeves and small peplum over net bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a wreath of mother of pearl orange blossoms and she carried a sheaf bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Sheila Andestad, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, chose a ballerina-length gown of green nylon net over taffeta, featuring a strapless bodice with stole and ruffled skirt, a nylon flowered headdress, green nylon mitts and white shoes. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and fern. Miss Donna Jackson, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, wore a pink gown of nylon net and Chantilly lace featuring a strapless bodice with lace jacket and lace inset and ruffle in skirt, pink mitts and white shoes. She carried a bouquet of green and white carnations and fern.

Mr. Cliff Wright, uncle of the groom, acted as best man with Mr. Adrian Andestad, brother of the bride, as usher. During the signing of the register, Miss E. Hook played "Because" and also played the wedding music. The church was decorated with tulips and narcissus.

A reception was held in the Memorial Hall. Assisting the bride and groom in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. R. Andestad and Mrs. A. Jackson. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Andestad chose a dress of dusty rose faille with white accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Jackson chose a two-piece dress of navy with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in pink tulle and flanked by cream tapers and bowls of pink tulips and lily of the valley. The toast to the bride was given by Mr. Hope. A. Andestad acted as master of ceremonies.

Before leaving for a honeymoon the bride presented her bouquet to her grandmother, Mrs. W. Towson. For travelling the bride changed to a charcoal wool and nylon suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Following a honeymoon spent at Vancouver and Ladner the young couple will reside at Cranbrook.

LONDON (AP)—An attempt to codify habits of speech among Britain's dwindling upper classes has added a couple of catch-phrases to the English language and started some furious arguments.

In the new design, words in upper-crust usage are "U" and those that don't make the grade are "non-U." The designations were first used by a Birmingham professor, Alan Ross, and they've swept the country.

Some samples? Well if you are upper class and want to powder your nose, you ask for a looking glass rather than a mirror. Similarly, you say false teeth, not dentures; wear stays rather than corsets; eat jam rather than preserves and wind up "mad" rather than mental.

NO PUBLIC POWDERING

The distinction also applies in some cases to pronunciation, where the area for disagreement is much wider, and to conduct. Among various non-u activities for males is the practice of combing the hair in public, while U-women mustn't powder their noses, paint their nails or apply lipstick except in private.

The original distinctions between U and non-U were drawn by Ross in an article which appeared in a philological periodical in 1954, and would have gone unnoticed but for the eagle eye of Nancy Mitford, author of "Pursuit of Love" and something of an authority on blue bloods.

Miss Mitford, daughter of an English baron, took up the theme in a magazine article and drew a reply from another British author, Evelyn Waugh, couched in his usual acid terms. Other commentators joined the fray and a spirited correspondence appeared in British newspapers.

The correspondence came to an end, appropriately, with a three-word letter from an exasperated reader, saying simply: "Will U stop?"

Any member of the aristocracy who isn't too sure what is expected of him can study the required speech forms in a new book, "Noblesse Oblige," edited by Miss Mitford. This collects the main articles on U and non-U, including the professor's original paper, and lists some of the tricky distinctions.

DUTCH LOTTERY

THE HAGUE (Reuters) — The Dutch Football Association has proposed to the government that national football pools be allowed for the first time in Holland. Winners would receive 60 per cent of the takings in a state-controlled lottery.

U.K. Appoints New Ottawa Commissioner

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is getting a new United Kingdom high commissioner next fall, one of the youngest ever sent to Ottawa.

He is Sir Saville Garner, 48-year-old undersecretary of state in the office of Commonwealth relations.

Canada will not be new to the one-time secretary to former British Labor party leader Clement Attlee. He served as senior secretary at the British high commissioner's office here in 1943 and later was appointed deputy high commissioner.

His appointment was announced in London early Wednesday.

He succeeds Sir Archibald Nye, 61, who was appointed high commissioner to Canada in 1952 and whose term of office expires late this year.

SERVED UNDER NYE

Sir Saville is Cambridge-educated and was appointed to the Dominions office in 1930, serving as private secretary to Malcolm Macdonald, Lord Caldecote, the Marquess of Salisbury and Mr. Attlee among others. He accompanied Mr. Attlee on visits to Newfoundland and Canada in 1941 and 1942.

He was appointed to Ottawa in 1943 and served as senior secretary under Mr. Macdonald and as deputy high commissioner under Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, Sir Archibald's predecessor here. He returned to the Commonwealth relations office in 1948 as assistant undersecretary bting promoted to deputy undersecretary in 1950.

He served under Sir Archibald as deputy high commissioner in India in 1951.

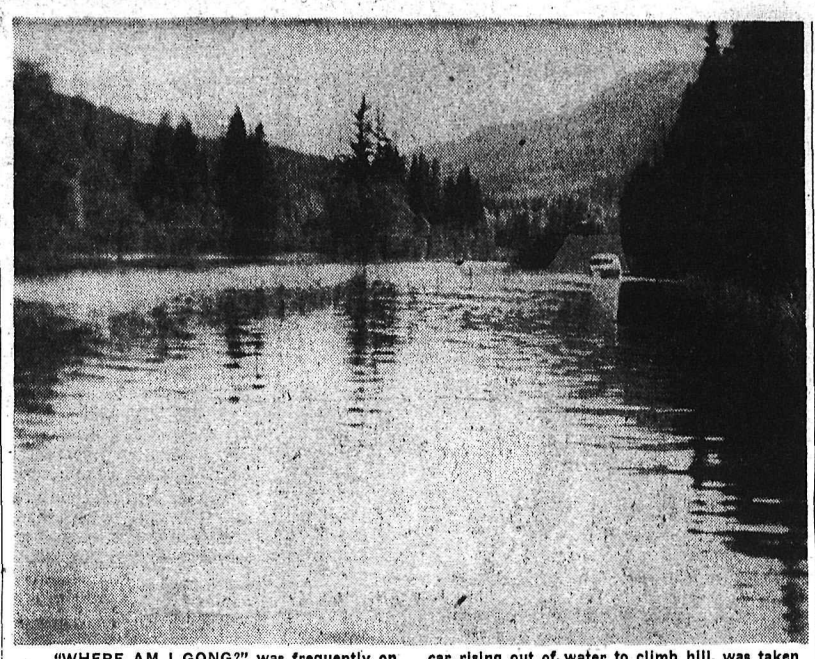
Lady Gardner is Indiana-born. They have three children, two boys and a daughter, who was born in Ottawa. The children will accompany them to Canada.

Aged 99, Salvation Army Officer Dies

BILBOROUGH, England (AP)—Mrs. Hannah Lord, 99, believed to be the oldest Salvation Army officer in the world, died Thursday. She had the rank of brigadier.

Hur husband, Brigadier William Lord, who died three years ago, served with the army's founder, William Booth, in the early days of the organization.

Her son, Commissioner Herbert Lord, directs Salvation Army affairs in South Africa.



"WHERE AM I GONG?" was frequently on lips of drivers having to "ford" their cars through flood waters which have formed great pools on East Kootenay roads. This picture, showing one car rising out of water to climb hill, was taken on the Southern trans-provincial highway by Mr. and Mrs. John Erb of Nelson.

Says Lambarene Hospital Dirty

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—A Presbyterian minister has charged that the African hospital of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, Nobel prize winner, is "filthy" and that "white supremacy" is practised there.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Behrenberg, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Mutachen, said the hospital in Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa, is 'filthy beyond description" and "a color line is practised there which is more severe than anything found in Alabama."

The minister, whose congregation numbers about 1600, told a luncheon meeting of the Perth Amboy Kiwanis Club that Dr. Schwitzer in his thinking "is more a Hindu-Buddhist than Christian in respect to his extreme adherence to the doctrine of reverence to life."

As a result of Dr. Schweitzer's respect for life, the pastor said, "nothing is killed in the hospital area including insects, animals which deposit their filth everywhere (including the operating room) and animals with serious infection that mingle with the all-white staff and the patients."

ONE WEEK VISIT

Dr. Behrenberg, who said he spent one week at the hospital last summer, said the "next village five minutes away from the hospital is neater and cleaner than the hospital compound."

He quoted Dr. Schweitzer as having said on occasion that his hospital has to be primitive, otherwise the natives wouldn't come to him.

The minister said this is false because there are nearby missionary hospitals operated on democratic principle with strict standards of cleanliness and sanitation. He added these hospitals are heavily used by the natives.

MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS MEET AT VICTORIA

VICTORIA (CP) — About 150 treasurers, clerks and managers of B.C. municipalities are expected to attend the annual conference of the Municipal Officers' Associations of B.C. here Monday and Tuesday.

Mayor Percy Scurrah will welcome the delegates. Municipal Affairs minister Black and his deputy minister, J. E. Brown, will deliver opening addresses.

The conference will feature open discussions on the topics, "Classification of Local Government Units", Municipal Finances", "Mechanics and Personnel and Public Administration".

Election of officers will be held Monday.

Nasser To Visit Chou En-Lai

PEIPING (Reuters) — Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser has accepted an invitation from Premier Chou En-Lai to visit Communist China, it was announced Thursday.

A press release from the Chinese foreign ministry said it was learned from the Egyptian trade delegation in Peiping that the Egyptian government had decided to accept Chou's invitation, and also one from Defence Minister Peng Teh-huai inviting an Egyptian military delegation to visit China.

Egypt announced her recognition of Communist China last week.

To Honor Canadians

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (CP) — The University of Rochester announced Wednesday night that three eminent Canadians will be awarded honorary degrees at its 106th annual commencement June 10. Dr. Norman A. M. MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, who will deliver the commencement address, will receive a doctor of laws degree. Sir Ernest MacMillan, who recently retired as conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, will receive a doctor of music degree. Mrs. D. B. Sinclair, executive assistant to the federal deputy minister of welfare, will receive a doctor of humane letters degree.

Queen Sends Cable To B. C. Centenarian

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. William J. Johnston today celebrated her 100th birthday here.

She received a cable from the Queen and a letter from Prime Minister St. Laurent.

The message from the Queen, a customary greeting to centenarians, was arranged by alderman Anna Sprott only after a long search for proof of Mrs. Johnston's age. She has no birth certificate but an entry in the old family bible was finally discovered noting that Lidie Baker was born in Amherst, N.S., in 1856.

Aircrew Safety Problem Said Lagging Behind

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCAF's deputy chief test pilot says developments in aircrew safety are lagging behind the advances made in the capabilities and hazards of new planes.

The statement comes at a time when public attention has been drawn to the problem by a series of RCAF jet plane crashes.

"The fact is that this problem has been pretty well ignored all along," says Sqdn. Ldr. E. D. Harper, writing in the May issue of the Canadian Aeronautical Journal. Harper is deputy chief test pilot of the RCAF's central experimental and proving establishment here.

CF-100 BEST

Harper says the CF-100 jet fighter, in service with the RCAF's nine home defence squadrons, has the most advanced escape equipment in use in Canada.

Pilot and navigator can get free of a CF-100 by pressing a button.

Harper says, also, the Sabre jet, used by the RCAF air division in Europe, and the T-33 jet trainer soon will have escape devices similar to the CF-100's.

But he adds that, with their present equipment, it is almost impossible to abandon safely at high speeds the Vampire and Meteor jets and piston-engine Sea Fury and Mustang. The Sea Fury is still in regular use with the navy, the other three with the RCAF reserve fighter squadrons. There are no ejection seats in these and the pilots must climb out, virtually impossible at high speed.

Elijah Comes Home in Style

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP) — Elijah, the horse came home to a brass band, a parade and a cheering throng after spending the winter trapped on a 13,000-foot mountain ridge.

The shaggy, one-time packhorse, took the celebration in stride.

His owners, Al and Bill Turner, reached this Western Colorado community of about 1100 persons late Wednesday afternoon and before anyone had a chance to say much, a welcome home parade was under way.

First came the high school band, then a float depicting the hay lift that kept Elijah alive during his lonely stay, and then Elijah, himself, led by a halter. Following the horse were more floats, cars, and marchers. The parade was about a half mile long and was watched by some 1000 residents, tourists and fishermen.

Later Elipah was taken by truck to Denver for display in an honor stall at a race track.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — A steadily declining stock market stumbled badly near the close and took its sharpest setback since May 10.

Canadian issues were lower. Aluminium Ltd. dropped 3¾, International Nickel and McIntyre both lost 1, Hudson Bay Mining slipped, Granby Mining fell ⅝, Canadian Pacific dropped ⅜, Dome Mines and Distillers Seagram both fell ¼ and Hiram Walker was off ⅛.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market suffered another sharp reverse Thursday—its third straight decline and just about tieing with Tuesday's setback as the heaviest since last October.

Prices moved lower from the opening with scattered areas of resistance, mostly from the utilities and papers in the industrial list.

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges were stable Thursday for the first two hours this morning and then took a sharp downward dip with some issues closing several point lower.

Aluminum declined 4½ points to lead the base metals to lower ground.

B. C. Forest and Powell River faded major fractions in the papers. Imperial Oil moved ⅞ lower and Interprovincial Pipeline lost 1⅜.

Criticize Publicity

TORONTO (CP) — Atomic publicity should centre on productivity rather than destructive power, the Lions International Club president, Humberto Venzuella of Chile told a meeting of the Ontario Clubs Wednesday night. He said too much space is given to atomic and hydrogen explosions by newspapers. That space should be used to advertise atomic power development, medical advancement and peaceful purposes, he said.

Blame U.K. Test For Radioactivity

TOKYO (Reuters) — The Japanese wdlfare ministry reported Thursday that fruit and vegetables in central districts of Japan are redioactive, and warned people against eating them.

The warning said the amount of radioactivity found in fruit and vegetables in the areas exposed to recent heavy rainfalls was calculated to be five times greater than the amount considered safe for human consumption.

The Tokyo meteorological observatory is receiving reports of radioactive rain from all parts of Japan, and attributes it to the British nuclear test held off Australia May 16.

LONDON (CP) — Sherlock Holmes is popular in Russia — Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's books sell well and the detective's adventures appear on television. But Adrian Doyle, Sir Arthur's son, has filed a complaint with Soviet Premier Bulganin that the Russian neglect to pay royalties.

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 58

GORDETSKI FACES KIRILENKO IN GRAPPLING MAIN EVENT

Betty Hawkins, Millie Stafford, Barbara Baker and Olga Zepeda, four of the premier female wrestling attractions in the world, stage a tag-team match tonight at Civic Arena as, once again, matchmaker Tex Hager and the Civic Centre Commission attempt to revive wrestling.

They tried the same thing last week. The crowd was small, but enthusiasm was high, so although they lost considerably at the box-office, they decided to try again.

They have a top-notch card, featuring Jerry Gordetski, Leon (Mad Russian) Kirilenko, DeVince Carty and Cal Roberts, as well as the lovely ladies.

The women have appeared here only seldom, but according to advance information, they are real box-office attractions.

The Gordetski-Kirilenko brawl is eliciting almost as much comment as the appearance of the women. Kirilenko battered Cal Roberts last week while Gordetski upended Al Warshawski. The clean-cut Gordetski confided last week as soon as he heard about the pending match, that he would attempt to do something Roberts couldn't—sort of even things up.

Kirilenko, on the other hand, only snarled. As anyone who has ever seen him will testify, he snarls in extremely menacing fashion. He wrestles even tougher than he looks.

Blue Bombers Sign Canadian Halfbacks

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers Thursday announced the signing of holdover Canadian halfback Elton Taylor and halfback Ted Warga, last year with Winnipeg Rams intermediate club.

Taylor will be played his third season with the Western Interprovincial Football Union team. Warga, a 180-pound back and linebacker, was reported being sought by Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Bombers also announced they received the signed contract of tackle Gene Renzi, captain of the 1955 Northeastern University team, in the mail Thursday. Renzi announced from Boston earlier in the week that he had signed with Winnipeg.

Hoad, Gibson In Net Finals

PARIS (AP)—Australia's husky Lew Hoad and New York's slim Althea Gibson, who have been sweeping everything in sight in European tennis this year, moved into the singles finals of the French international championships Thursday but neither looked like a champion.

Miss Gibson played erratic tennis as she eliminated Britain's Angela Buxton, 2-6, 6-0, 6-4, and qualified to meet the only played who has beaten her this year, defending champion Angela Mortimer of Britain. Miss Mortimer, forced to call on her strong net game, turned back Hungary's veteran Suzy Kormoczi, 6-4, 6-3, in the other women's singles semi-final.

Hoad, angry because of an unfavorable gallery and displeased with the two-handed pat-ball tactics of his opponent, stormed to a 6-4, 7-5, 6-4 victory over Guiseppe Merlo of Italy.

Hoad's opponent in the final will be Sven Davidson, who conquered 19-year-old Ashley Cooper of Australia 6-2, 9-7, 5-7, 6-3.

Program Rights Worth $150,000 For Cup Classic

MONTREAL (CP) — The Canadian Rugby Union has sold television, radio and film program rights for the 1956 Grey Cup football final for more than $150,000, it was learned Thursday.

Estimate of the figure was obtained following announcements in Montreal and Toronto of the names of the companies which purchased the program rights.

In Montreal, Senator Hartland (Dem. Molson), president of Molson's Brewery, announced that it has obtained the rights to televise the annual classic which will be played in Toronto Nov. 24.

However, the brewery could sponsor the telecast only in Quebec because of regulations governing brewery advertising.

In Toronto, it was announced that General Motors would act as sponsor in all provinces except Quebec.

Penticton Appeals For Contributions

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Penticton Vs of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League will appeal to fans for contributions, ask the Parks Board to forget about $2,000 back rent and apply for a nominal arena rental of $1 a game next year in efforts to wipe out half a $15,000 deficit.

At a meeting here Wednesday night, the executive said although these moves would cover $7,500 of this year's loss, the club would like to raise $17,500 to re-establish firm credit.

$65,000 GRANDSTAND

TRAIL (CP) — A new $65,000 grandstand was handed over to city council here Wednesday night. The presentation was made by Dr. C. H. Wright, president of the Trail District Recreational Projects Society, which turned over the keys to Butler Park to Mayor L. A. Read.

Five Specialists Fail To Heal Ted Williams

BOSTON (AP)—Hard-luck Ted Williams' potent bat has been all but silenced for five weeks now by an injury which started as nothing more than a sore instep.

Red Sox have had five specialists on the Williams case but there is still no indication of when he will return to the lineup.

Ted, who suffered a chipped elbow in the 1950 all-star game, a broken collarbone in 1954 spring training and was out 1½ months last year due to personal problems, has played a full role only in the first two games this season. Since that time he had had 12 at bats with two hits. He has walked twice. After that second game Williams fell off a wooden shower slipper and suffered what appeared to be a bruised instep. It developed later that he had hematoma, defined as "a tumor or swelling containing blood."

The spot of the injury was at a juncture of many blood vessels and hemorrhaging occurred. It is also at a point where the full body weight falls in walking or running and the healing has been slow.

GAME CANCELLED

Nelson Maple Leafs have been forced to postpone their scheduled Border League baseball contest until sometime in the future. No date has yet been set for the replay.

Apparently, road conditions in Washington state have made it impossible for the Leafs to visit Colville Air Force Base, where the game will be played.

However, the Sunday game between Leafs and a Trail squad will go on as scheduled.

SPORTS

Here's John Speaking on SHORT SPORT

For the first time in my still-short lifetime, I am about to say something complimentary about the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

They are thinking!

In past months this writer has sounded off perhaps more than I should have about the CAHA's deficiencies. But the decision they made Thursday afternoon in Montreal erased, in my mind, at least a portion of the stigma of asininity under which they have laboured for so long.

They realized that the old method of picking a representative to the world hockey championships had more flaws than a pair of 39 cent nylons. So they changed it.

They have now, to quote a once-popular song, "gone about as far as they can go."

According to the Canadian Press story received on the meeting, everybody was happy but Nelson delegate Leo Atwell. Atwell must have had a reason, but be darned if I know what it is. Enough to say that he is an intelligent hockey man and must have had sound reasons for his dissenting vote.

• • •

To this uninitiated observer, it seems the CAHA has at least indicated they want to succeed. Which is more than they indicated earlier in the week when they said they would like to see Canada represented only if the CAHA did not have to pay the shot.

Well, anyway, Canada will be represented. I subscribe to the school of thought which says that if we win the title in February, we should keep it here. Make the opposition come over here to play for it, if they want it as badly as all that.

This observer also feels that Vernon Canadians will be indeed fortunate to win eight spots on such a club. It seems to me that Vernon Mayor Frank Becker is letting justifiable pride color his ordinarily sound judgment.

• • •

It is certainly conceivable that Tom Stecyk, Odie Lowe, George Agar (if he doesn't retire), and maybe Willie Schmidt, will make the squad. It is also highly likely that Trail's Yogi Kraiger will be among the five defencemen comes time to leave. Unhappily, I cannot see in my mind's eye anyone from Nelson making the trip, contrary to what CKLN sports director Earl Warren said Thursday afternoon I will say, though, that I'd like nothing better than to see a few local players at least get to the training camp. It is almost certain that Murray Parker and Lee Hyssop will be invited.

• • •

Short's briefs: Women wrestlers. Wow! Wouldn't be surprised to see plenty of wives sitting home alone tonight. If pictures prove anything, it should be quite a sight . . . Thor Andreassen, Nelson Recreational Director, reminds that a meeting of all members of the archery club is scheduled for Monday night on the archery course. Looks like another of those wild, wild weekends, sports-wise. Hope we don't have to include sandbag loading on the agenda.

Organize Fund For Athletes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A "blue-book" group of 30 Los Angeles civic leaders was revealed Thursday as organizer of a secret $71,235 fund reported to have been used for illegal payments to University of Southern California athletes.

It includes two judges, a past national commander of the American Legion, former USC football stars and business and civic leaders.

The articles of incorporation said the purpose of the organization is to "assist worthy high school graduates to attain the advantages of higher education."

The founders proposed to help high school graduates through the granting of "scholarships, fellowships, loans and such other assistance as the members may from time to time determine."

Conference Commissioner V O. Sschmidt and faculty representative president Emmett Moore of Washington State indicated a special meeting of the conference might be called if the evidence against USC, or any other institution, warranted one.

May Seek Shorter WHL League Sked

SASKATOON (CP) — Norman Couch, manager of Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Hockey League, said Thursday he may suggest a shorter schedule for the WHL at the league's annual meeting at Calgary May 30-31.

Mr. Couch added he probably will support a proposal to split the league into separate prairie and coast divisions.

A spokesman for the Quakers, who have been up for sale for some time, said the club's directors have agreed to wait until after the WHL meeting before deciding on the future of the club.

All-Star Team to Represent Canada In World Tournament in February

By W. R. WHEATLEY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association Thursday decided that Canada's representation at the 1957 World Hockey Tournament in Moscow will be an all-star amateur team selected from across Canada.

The team will begin training next October in Vernon, B.C., and money to support its entry will be sought through subscriptions from Canadian business firms. A film company which has already sought picture rights for the series, has become a potential angel.

The decision was something of a compromise on the plea of Vernon Canadians, Allan Cup champions, that they be designated as the official Canadian entry or form a nucleus of it. The torch for Vernon hopes was carried by Mayor Frank Becker of the west coast city of 8,400.

The adopted proposal stipulated that every member of Vernon Canadians be invited to the training site and given an opportunity of making the team.

ATWELL DISSENTS

When the final show-of-hands vote came the only dissenter was Leo Atwell of Nelson, B.C.

Dudley said that particularly in view of the defeat of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen at the Olympic and world tournament last winter by Russia, the Canadian public must be sold on the idea of the best possible team going to Moscow.

The motion adopted Dudley's ideas in principle and as a basis for the set-up of the team.

A committee will be established which will choose the best coaches available. There was some suggestion that Hap Day, general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, be named as head coach, with assistants from eastern and western Canada.

Coaches of all teams under CAHA jurisdiction, including seniors, intermediates and juniors, will be asked to names their top players as possible candidates.

EXHIBITION SERIES

The full squad of about 30 will assemble in October at Vernon. After a period of training there and after a tentative weeding-out process, the team will start an exhibition tour across Canada and into the United States, playing both amateur and professional teams.

As its final session Thursday the CAHA general meeting shelved for one year a proposal by Conn Smythe, president of Toronto Leafs of the NHL, to stage the Memorial Cup final in Toronto for the next five or 10 years.

Smythe offered to pay a stipulated amount to the finalists in addition to his share with the CAHA of the gate. He wanted a five-year contract plus an option for the next five years.

All CAHA officers were re-elected for another term and the executive accepted an invitation from Art Potter of Edmonton, president of the Alebrta branch, that the 1957 CAHA annual meeting be held in Edmonton.

SHOULD PAY COSTS

Along with the proposal to raise money through private contributions, there was the feeling that when Russia or any other country wants to put on a hockey show it should pay costs for competing countries. The Moscow tournament is next February.

It was felt particularly that Canada's team, as a top attraction among competitors, should be reimbursed.

It was Dudley's feeling also that unless something along this line can be set up, Canada should cease to be a competitor. Dudley said the CAHA no longer is in a position to finance these overseas trips. Its budget has been cut by more than half compared with a few years ago, and the CAHA's responsibility primarily is looking after the interests of hockey in Canada and not abroad, he said.

January Sets Course Record To Grab Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Lanky Don January, the Texas collegiate golf great rounding out his first year as a professional, set a competitive course record with a whistling six-under-par 64 Thursday to grab the first round lead in the $10,000 Dallas Centennial Open.

With most of the favorites and heavy artillery of the golf tour faltering, the young men from Abilene, Tex., beat a driving rain by 30 minutes to take the 6216-yard Preston Hollow course in tow and glimpse his first big money along the links trail.

One-fifth of the field of 153 was still out when rain swept the surroundings. Among them were pre-tournament favorites Ben Hogan, Tommy Bolt, Gene Littler and Mike Souchak. The rain didn't last long, however, and had little effect on the late finishers.

Souchak made a gallant bid for the lead as he reached the 16th hole four under par. But he had to settle for pars on the last two holes and wound up with a 66 and a tie for third place.

Leadership in the tournament was an all-Texas affair. Just one stroke back of January was Henry Ransom, a graying Texas rancher who plays only a few tournaments each year.

RICKEY PLEASED WITH PREMATURE PREDICTION

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Every time Pittsburgh Pirates grab another victory in their climb from the National League cellar the Mahatma chuckles.

The Mahatma is cagey Branch Rickey, Sr., former general manager of the Pirates. He now is retired and continues in an advisory and scouting capacity.

"They better look out," Rickey chortled Thursday after returning from a combined pleasure-scouting trip to find the Pirates only 1½ games out of first place. "We could really raise a rumpus in 1957."

Rickey, who masterminded St. Louis and Brooklyn to National League pennants, stepped down at the end of the 1955 season after five years with cellar-dwelling Pittsburgh clubs.

"I'm not surprised to find the Pirates right there," said Rickey. "If our offensive holds up we could make the first division this year."

Golfer-fishermen have been taking sizeable carp from the large pond where Crystal Lake has flooded the seventh fairway.

Applauds CAHA For Decision

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — The leading goal-scorer in the 1955 World Hockey championships Thursday applauded the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's decision to send an all-star team to the next world tournament in Moscow.

Bill Warwick said an all-star lineup is needed to compete with improving European hockey play.

"With European, especially Russian, hockey improving as rapidly as it is, you'll need an all-star team."

Warwick, one of the famous brother line of the Penticton Vs, 1955 world champions, said everything, "even the crowd," is against the Canadians.

"An Allan Cup team probably couldn't win and the CAHA can't afford to take the chance.

"In any case the team that goes over represents all Canada, so it should be an all-starr team. If the all-stars win, that'll be fine.

"If they lose it'll prove we need professionals to win and the CAHA can't send over professionals. The CAHA is off the hook either way."

Canadiens Sell Two, Option One to Hawks

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens Thursday announced the sale of farmhands Eddie Kachur and Forbes Kennedy to Chicago Blackhawks for $50,000 and the option of Eddie Mazur to the same club for $5000 a season.

Kachur, is a 22-year-old right wing, who played for Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the Quebec Hockey League for the last two seasons.

Kennedy completed his third and final season of junior hockey with Montreal junior Canadiens last year. He was considered one of the better young prospects in the Canadiens' farm system.

Mazur, a 26-year-old forward, played a full season with the Habs in 1953-54, but was sent down to Montreal Royals of the QHL the following year. Last season, he played with Winnipeg Warriors in the Western Hockey League, Edinburgh Trophy winners.

General manager Frank Selke of Canadiens said Mazur will become Chicago property if he should remain with the Hawks for three full seasons, "otherwise he returns to us."

He said Chicago would also have to provide a replacement player for Canadiens' minor league teams.

Mantle Mangles Tiger Tossers as Yanks Win

By The Associated Press

Mickey Mantle crashed his 17th home run and four singles on Thursday in pacing New York Yankees to an 11-4 triumph over the sixth place Detroit Tigers.

Mantle's perfect day at the plate boosted his batting average to .421, tops in the major leagues.

Big Eddie Robinson homered with three men aboard and Joe Collins and Andy Carey also hit home runs for the Bombers who racked up five Detroit pitchers in a 17-hit burst.

Tom Sturdivant held the Tigers to two hits over the final 5 1-3 innings in recording his third victory against a single loss. Bob Turley failed to last for the fifth time in six starts.

The fire-balling righthander held the Tigers hitless until the third inning, then gave up two walks and three singles, good for three runs.

Back-to-back home runs by Mantle and Collins off loser Duke Maas gave New York the lead in the second. The Yanks added three more in the third and after the Tigers narrowed it to 5-4 in the fourth, Robinson's grand slam blast and Carey's drive sent the Yanks into a comfortable 10-4 lead at the end of five innings.

PHILS BEAT DODGERS

In the only other scheduled game, Philadelphia Phillies cast off their losing habit to trip the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-4 in the National League.

Willie Jones drove home four of the runs on two homers and a single. Jones got his first round tripper with the bases empty in the second inning. In the fourth, Elmer Valo singled and Jones sent another home run into the left field bleachers to score behind Valo.

Robin Roberts notched his fifth victory of the season, going all the way and holding the world champions to seven hits.

Rookie Don Drysdale started for the Brooks but left the mound after the fourth inning. He was followed by Sal Maglie in his first appearance since he joined the Dodgers. The Barber failed to survive the two-run sixth inning and Ed Roebuck finished.

CONLEY RETURNS AFTER LAYOFF

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Righthander Gene Conley of Milwaukee Braves was taken off the disabled list Thursday and will be ready to pitch "any time manager Charlie Grimm needs him."

The Braves' front office said that Grimm and general manager John Quinn were satisfied with the physical condition of the tall pitcher, many think can mean the difference between the first pennant year at County Stadium and another also-ran finish.

The 25-year-old hurler had been carried on the disabled list for the last 30 days while recovering from a strained tendon in his pitching shoulder.

PLAYERS JUGGLED IN COURTESY DEAL

CHICAGO (AP)—Infielder Ed Winceniak Thursday was recalled from Havana of the International League by Chicago Cubs and Owen Friend was sold outright to the same club.

Winceniak had been optioned only two weeks ago by the Cubs. The recall completes a gesture of courtesy by the Cubs' personnel director, Wid Matthews.

Matthews optioned Winceniak to prune the roster under the player limit and thereby retain Infielder Friend. Friend needed only a few more days to give him five years' service in the majors and qualify him for a $50 monthly pension at the age of 50.

Parking Ticket For the Judge

NEW YORK (AP) —A few days ago an unidentified Brooklyn judge drew up to his usual parking place in front of the Brooklyn central courts building. There was a "no parking" sign at that space and he always parked there.

That's been a judge's unofficial prerogative at the central courts building since time immemorial.

This time the judge found an assistant district attorney already parked and getting out of his car. "I'll see that you get a ticket unless you move,'" shouted the indignant judge.

"If you do, I'll see that you get one too!" the assistant DA shot back. "I'll see that every car on this block gets a ticket. There's a sergeant—why don't you tell him what you have in mind?"

The judge did just that, and the policeman said: "If I give one out, you'll all be tagged." The cop took a deep breath, smiled and added with relish; "Besides, we've been thinking about that."

INVESTIGATORS ESCAPE

The panic was on.

The crackdown snared a special sessions justice, a car used by a county judge, and a reporter's car bearing the hitherto magic "NYP" licence plates which stands for New York press.

The police even ticketed cars parked in a space "for official cars only." They said, reasonably enough, that there was nothing about the cars to indicate that they were on bona fide oficial business.

The indignant judge and the assistant DA who started it all were not caught in the net.

The judge had the presence of mind to start parking in a legal spot farther away.

The assistant DA began going to work by subway.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints Each day the code letters are different.

Odds . . . and Ends

. . . by M. D. B.

While the gardens soaked up the rain, the general feeling was that as far as the flood conditions go we could easily have done without it. Even Anderson Creek, usually a well-mannered bit of water has chosen to misbehave and refuses to stay in its bed. These doggone little creeks seem to get big ideas in the Spring and figure they ought to be rivers. They gather up as much water as they can find and proceed to hurl themselves along at a great rate, roaring and snorting like dragons. Fortunately they lose their wind after about two weeks of this heady pace and have to settle back to just being creeks again. But the misery they cause while they are going their own wilful way reminds me of the chaos sometimes wrought by thoughtless people.

* * *

Was recalling an odd figure who was part of the Nelson scene some twenty, thirty and forty years ago. Some called him "Old Mongolian" and to the youngsters, who made his life miserable at times, he was "Old Dan Tucker". He was a small bent creature with sparse trailing whiskers at the corner of his mouth, thin grey hair and a wizened face the color of sienna. A harmless old fellow, he was entirely alone, and lived in a cave somewhere 'out the track' toward Bealby's point. His trousers were held up by a rope, ragged at the bottom and he wore his tattered shirt loose. At high water he would go out on the lake in his old boat and haul in drift wood which he sold, timidly knocking on doors and in a hoarse whisper asking, "You vant to buy some vood?" Poor old chap, he was found dead eventually in his cave. How old he was no one knew, but toward the last he depended on the kindness of a few of our neighbors for food and cast off clothing. He was such a poor solitary soul.

* * *

Heard one small boy commenting that he'd "sure be glad when the summer holidays come." I guess all this sunny weather affects youngsters the same way it used to affect us. It was pretty hard to keep your mind on what the teacher was saying when the day beyond the windows looked so inviting. With adults time passes swiftly and it will be the end of June in no time, but when you're young time crawls along like a snail and the end of June is a mighty long time away yet.

Immigration Officer Speaks at Annual Chinese Youth Banquet

About fifty persons were treated to a complete Chinese dinner Wednesday night at the second annual Chinese Youth Association banquet at their club house on Lake Street.

Gaily colored Chinese lanterns and crepe paper decorated the club house where the dinner, prepared and served by the members of the association, was served to the parents and special guests.

About ten members of Nelson Teen Town were guests of the Association at the banquet and Chinese boys helped the Teen Town members manipulate their chopsticks.

"Remember and cherish the culture and the language of the country which you left behind you, but take this country to your hearts and it will take you to its heart," guest speaker W. J. Grinsted said.

Immigration officer for East and West Kootenay, Mr. Grinsted extended a welcome to all newcomers to Canada. "Coming to a new country with completely different customs and language was a tremendous emotional experience for you," he said. "All Canada demands is that you work hard and be willing to work."

He went on to explain the laws of Canada relating to Canadian citizenship.

"The limit you can go to in Canada is the limit of your own ambition," he concluded.

Miss Kathleen Porter, Central School teacher, commented on the amount of effort that the young Chinese immigrants have put into their education. "I would like to congratulate all the Chinese boys and girls for their attainment," she said.

Ernest Mason, Mayor of Nelson Teen Town, thanked the Chinese Youth Association for the invitation to the Teen Town members.

Other speakers included Mrs. G. E. Thompson and Dr. C. E. Bradshaw. Chairman was Bill Wong.

16,000 To Conduct First 5-Year Canadian Census Starting June 1

The first five-year Canadian census on a nationwide scale will get under way June 1.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that a task force of about sixteen thousand census-takers will canvass the country to determine population and agricultural developments in the last five years.

In the past the Bureau of Statistics has taken the national count once every ten years, but it is now believed necessary with the rapid growth and change in Canada, to provide the government and industry with accurate figures every five years.

The army of census-takers in Nelson and throughout the West Kootenay will head out June 1 under West Kootenay census Commissioner W. J. Sturgeon of Nelson. Other Kootenay supervisors are Mrs. R. Edmonstone and S. C. Stewart of Trail.

Calculation of population is of great importance to government and industry for development plans and Dominion-Provincial tax agreements. Some provincial governments provide assistance to municipalities on a per capita basis.

LESS DETAILED

This year's census will be less detailed than in past years. It will cover only population and agriculture and will not inquire into employment, and earnings, birthplace and education, housing and household facilities and merchandising, such as in previous census calculations.

The 1956 census is being taken in response to repeated requests from provincial and municipal governments and from organizations needing accurate figures to maintain their operations.

The Bureau expects to have many population counts ready for publication before Christmas, complete population counts early next year and all detailed agriculture compilations by March 1957.

Recruitment and training of the census-takers is taking place all across Canada during May under the supervision of 263 census commissioners.

MONTY FAVORS HOME CELLARS IN A-ATTACK

HAMILTON (CP) — Lack of "a central organ of decision" is the greatest weakness of the Western world, Britain's Field Marshall Montgomery said Thursday.

Viscount Montgomery is in Hamilton on a visit to Col. Trumbull Warren, a former member of his military staff in World War Two.

Strength is the best guarantee against another world war, he said. Another world was would be unthinkable.

Montgomery doesn't think much of civil defence plans which call for evacuation of great cities in the event of a threat of nuclear attack.

"Best place is in your cellar. Stay put. If you start wandering around the countryside you'll just run into all sorts of fall-out. And clog the highways."

Marks Nanaimo As Pulp Centre

NANAIMO (CP) — Nanaimo is the centre of the greatest pulp and paper producing area in Canada, H. R. MacMillan, B.C. industrialist told a Chamber of Commerce audience here.

In announcing the addition of a $1,000,000 wood room expansion to the $45,000,000 Harmac sulphate mill south of this city, he suggested that Nanaimo Chamber would do well to pull every string, political or otherwise, to get the province to build a 75-mile road from Kelsey Bay on the north end of the island to Port Alice and Coal Harbour.

Nanaimo depended on coal for 100 years but now bases its economic future on pulp and paper, he said.

Prospects for a steadily expanding market for paper are good due to increasing literacy and improving living standards throughout the world.

Mr. MacMillan said marketing was the chief problem for Vancouver Island mills. They have to face competition both domestic and foreign.

"There is no domestic market in B.C. and 99.9 per cent of the total product is sold outside B.C. and Canada. We have no control over prices in the markets we serve and two-thirds of our products go to the U.S. where the market is east of the Mississippi and north of Virginia."
