Call Tenders for Start On West End of Cutoff

The department of highways is calling for tenders for a start on the west end of the Salmo-Creston cutoff.

Bids will be received up to noon on May 16 for construction of 4.11 miles at the Salmo end.

This follows last month's provincial government budget announcement that two more contracts would be awarded this year on the cutoff totalling $1,125,000—one on Summit Creek at the Creston end and this one from the south fork of the Salmo River.

P. F. Law Construction Company is still at work on the first contract awarded last year for construction of 6.17 miles across Kootenay Flats from Creston to Summit Creek.

It has been estimated that the entire project, stretching over several years, will require a total expenditure of around $10,000,000.

The P. F. Law contract last year was in the amount of $821,359.

10,000 Flee Texas Floods

New Rains Forecast for Today; 35,000 Square Miles Flooded

DALLAS (AP)—Residents of the lower Sabine River town of Deweyville planned Wednesday to abandon their community as the swollen river reached record heights upstream.

"There's no use fighting this thing again," said Sheriff Curtis Humphreys. The town was inundated in 1953.

The misery of the 1000 Deweyville residents was added to that of 9000 other Texas victims the Red Cross estimates have fled their homes during 14 days of heavy rains and floods.

Rivers east of the Sabine, which forms the Texas-Louisiana border levelled off Wednesday and the flood threat to cities and towns eased.

Croplands still were flooded, and scores of highways and feeder roads were closed.

Some families still were unable to return to their homes, particularly on the upper Brazos.

State disaster headquarters estimated 35,000 square miles were affected by the floods. Texas weather bureau forecast new heavy rains on the Sabine watershed. Some rain fell Wednesday afternoon.

John Simmons, general manager of the Sabine River Authority, called a meeting to lay plans if case of major flooding, particularly at Deweyville.

LIKE GYPSIES

He went through the 1953 flood. "We had water a foot deep all over our house, he recalled. That ruined the floor, and I lost a cow and about 150 chickens—about $7,000 altogether."

What will he do if he's flooded out again?

"Well, we'll send the kids (he has five) to relatives where it's safe, and my wife and I'll camp out like gypsies. We have to or people will take everything we've got." He and his wife own a fishing camp which she operates while he's working.

Upriver, the Sabine was closing roads and lapping at lowland residential sections of Gladewater.

Scores of oil well pumps were shut down as water rose.

At Longview, a short distance downstream, Carl Estes, publisher of the News - Journal, ordered a motor boat so he could reach his office from his ranch home.

The Trinity river was still flooding farm acreage near Trinity, Livingston, Riverside and Liberty near its mouth. Liberty was practically encircled by high water.

Even Not Guilty

VERNON (CP) — Nicolas Even, 23, of Rutland was found not guilty Wednesday on a charge of criminal negligence as the Vernon Assizes closed.

Even was charged in the traffic death of N. Filatoff last December.

In a rider to its verdict, the jury said traffic laws regarding pedestrians should be more rigidly enforced.

Glamor Added To May Day

LONDON (AP) — Communists attempted to enliven their customary May Day rallies and military parades Wednesday with a dash of glamor and sex.

Pretty girls in red bathing suits did a tableaux of waving flowers on a float in Moscow's traditional Red Square parade. Other athletic misses played imitation games of basketball and volleyball.

Multi-colored flags, balloons and maypoles were borne by the crowd which filled a Budapest square to hear Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar attack "imperialists" and "counter - revolutionaries."

One major riot marked the day as Naples police battled a crowd of 20,000 for an hour when Communists started an anti-American demonstration and began throwing bottles and stones. Fourty policemen were injured.

U.S. Increasing A-War Danger, Zhukov Charges

By VINCENT BUIST

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Defence Minister Georgi Zhukov in a May Day speech accused the United States of increasing the danger of atomic warfare.

"The decision taken by the United States government to locate American atom formations on the territories of other countries and the refusal to accept our policy of banning nuclear weapons tests brings nearer the danger of an outbreak of atom warfare," he told 500,000 citizens gathered in Red Square.

The air show accompanying the 30-minute Moscow parade was the biggest and most impressive in several years, foreign observers said.

Hundreds of balloons with the slogan "Peace, Peace, Peace," filled the cloudless sky after the planes zoomed past.

Zhukov said the Soviet people celebrated May Day this year in an atmosphere of "further solidarity of all countries in the struggle for peace, democracy, socialism and national independence."

But "imperialist circles" frightened by what he called the growing liberation movement of Asia and Africa, stubbornly reject Russia's proposal for disarmament and a ban on hydrogen and atom bombs.

"The imperialists," he said, "are doing everything in their power to isolate the Arab people from each other and to break their determination in their struggle for independence."

The defence minister said the Soviet government and Communist party will "take care to strengthen the defensive capacity of the Soviet state to make it a reliable defence of the achievements of the great October revolution."

He said it is the duty of the Russian people to prepare their defences within the framework of the Warsaw Pact in order to defend the unity of the Communist camp against imperialism. The Warsaw Pact is the Soviet counterpart of NATO.

Security police moved among the crowd, warning visitors not to use cameras. The films of two U.S. news cameramen were confiscated.

All members of the Communist party presidium, led by party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev, watched the parade from the Lenin-Stalin mausoleum.

CLC Would Oust Racketeers

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's top labor leader promised Wednesday to get tough with any crooks in Canadian unions.

President Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress emphasized a no-racketeering policy as he addressed the first biennial general board meeting of the CLC.

He made it plain that labor racketeers—and he used the word—will be thrown out of the congress. But he said he knows of none in Canada now.

"Anyone," he said, "who wishes to follow racketeering policies or abuse their offices is as unwelcome in the CLC as are organizations following the Communist or Fascist philosphy.

"This is not to say that such conditions exist. Most emphatically, we do not know of such conditions."

U.S. "Giveaway" Complicates Wheat Problem – PM

CALGARY (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent said Wednesday night there is "no easy answer" to the problem of disposing of Canada's huge wheat surplus but he was convinced that some day a solution will be found.

The situation, he added at a political rally here, has been complicated by the United States wheat "giveaway" program, but Canada could not match such a program and it wanted no price war with its American friends.

Beer Price Battle In Prince Rupert

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C. (CP) A battle has frothed up in this northcoast British Columbia city over the price of a glass of beer.

For a time it seemed the traditional 10-cent glass had become a casualty like the five - cent cigar but by late Wednesday its opponents had been forced to retreat.

They intend to regroup, however, and by the weekend the foaming fight will be taken to the provincial capital. Powerful allies — the B. C. Hotels' Association—will provide reinforcements and the life of the dime glass seems endangered throughout B. C.

The "war" began here last Friday when seven hotels announced they had increased the price of beer to 15 cents a glass or two glasses for 25 cents.

NO TAKERS

The hotel owners claimed the increase was necessary because tapmen and waiters had recently been awarded a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost.

They say they advised Donald McGugan, B. C. liquor board chairman, of the increase in an airmail brief sent the previous day.

On Tuesday the owners received this telegram from Mr. McGugan:

"Have no intention of considering brief while gun-to-head tactics are applied. Expect surrender of licences by operators who have raised prices."

The operators said they tried to give up their licences Tuesday night but neither the RCMP nor G. L. Venables, liquor store vendor, would accept them.

In Victoria, Mr. McGugan said in an interview he had not suspended the licences. He had only notified the operators if they changed the price of beer without permission from the board he would expect them to forfeit their licences.

ALLIES RALLY

He said there is a clause in liquor regulations which says that once a licencee has fixed a price he cannot change it without permission of the liquor board.

William H. Murray, one of the hotel operators, said two delegates will be sent to Victoria today to try for a Friday appointment with Mr. McGugan.

"We opened (Wednesday) with two-for-25-cent beer but following a meeting we decided to go back to the 10-cent glass until we can meet with Mr. McGugan," said Mr. Murray.

In Vancouver, an official of the 392-member B. C. hotels' Association said the association will also send representatives to Victoria. It was expected they would meet with Attorney - General Robert Bonner and the liquor control board.

The official said the association wants an increase in price to 15 cents a glass or two glasses for 25 instead of the present 10 cents.

Says Army Needs Colorful Uniform

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian soldiers should be given a colorful uniform, says an army major.

"Battledress may be adequate in an operational theatre but that it is an embarrassment to the soldier in peacetime is plainly evident," writes Maj. William Simcock in the current issue of the Canadian Army Journal.

The journal publishes Maj. Simcock's prize entry in the Conference of Defence Associations 1956 essay contest. The subject posed was means of attracting the best men into the army.

Maj. Simcock, an artilleryman, is well qualified to write on this topic. The 38-year-old native of Fredericton went overseas with the 1st Division in the Second World War, rose through the ranks to be commissioned in 1943 and was wounded in action. He has attended army staff college and now is serving in Indochina.

Maj. Simcock works from the premise that "the traditional peacetime apathy of the Canadian towards the armed forces of his country remains as rooted as ever."

He says pride in the uniform is an instinctive trait of the soldier but "this instinct is frustrated by the uniform provided at the present time."

Sommers Case Delayed to Fall

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prospects that the trial of Robert Sommers' slander action against lawyer David Sturdy will proceed on the appointed date of June 3 dimmed Wednesday.

Alfred Bull, counsel for Mr. Sommers, said in court of appeal that an application to the Supreme Court of Canda for leave to appeal an order of Mr. Justice Harry Sullivan allowing Mr. Sturdy to inspect bank accounts will not be heard until sometime in June.

The long court vacation will prevent trial sittings during July and August, and indications are that the case will not be tried until September or October.

Jordan Arrests Reds, Trade Unions Banned

Egyptian-Sponsored News Agency Closed; U.S. Fleet Movement in Mediterranean; Nasser Jolted

By JAMES NORRIS

AMMAN, Jordan (Reuters)—King Hussein's government tightened the pressure on its opponents Wednesday with the arrest of several Communist political leaders and a ban on trade unions and employees' associations.

Those arrested included a young Communist member of the suspended parliament who is a teacher and journalist on the Communist newspaper Al Jamahir. Several Communist leaders in the Jerusalem area also were seized.

Further action was taken by the military governors against what Hussein called "Egyptian propaganda against me and Jordan."

The ban—effective today—covers 50-odd trade unions and employees' associations with a total membership of 35,000.

Official sources said that security men Tuesday night closed the offices of the Egyptian-sponsored Middle East News Agency in Amman and Jerusalem. The agency's chief correspondent in Jerusalem was arrested.

FAVORED NABULSI

The agency reports have been heavily biased in favor of former Premier Suleiman Nabulsi. Hussein's dismissal of the left - wing leader April 10 touched off a political crisis which has led to the imposition of martial law, suspension of parliament and dissolution of political parties.

Hussein prayed at the big Husseini mosque early Wednesday in a service marking the end of the Moslem feast of Ramadan.

He left the palace with an escort which included armored cars, jeeps with mounted machine-guns motorcycle machine-gunners and Circassin guards in black Cossack dress.

The curfew in Amman was lifted early to allow people to attend the service. Streets appeared normal and people relaxed for the first time in eight days. Government offices, banks and many shops were closed.

NO COMMENT

Officials will not comment on recent United States fleet movements in the Mediterranean.

Although Hussein has stressed lack of interest in the mission led by U. S. envoy James Richards to explain the Eisenhower doctrine, observers said the government has nevertheless followed the same principles accepted by those who welcomed Richards and has driven Communists and other left-wing elements underground or into prison or exile.

Hussein, by obtaining a U. S. offer of $10,000,000 in aid, has succeeded in getting "unconditional aid" without formally committing himself to what other Arabs call "the Richards conditions."

Observers think Hussein's actions have jolted Egyptian President Nasser and Syrian President Kuwatly into acceptance of his policies.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia also has contributed through mediation, they said.

Britons "Ready To Face Facts"

TORONTO (CP) — Sir Saville Garner said Wednesday night the record of the British government in the last four months shows that the people of Britain "are ready to face facts, are tough enough to draw the conclusion from those facts and are willing to act accordingly."

Sir Saville, United Kingdom high commision in Canada, spoke at the 40th anniversary dinner of The Canadian Press, giving to his audience of newspaper men from coast to coast "a picture of the position of my country today as I see it."

DIFFICULT YEAR

Sir Saville said it would be an understatement to say that the last year was a difficult one for Britain. The Suez crisis came as a shock to public opinion. There was perplexity and frustration.

He paid tribute to Sir Anthony Eden, prime minister in those times of difficulty, saying that no one who knows Sir Anthony's character and record "can doubt his complete integrity and his earnest striving for the upholding of international law and order."

NEW DOMINION

In reference to the June conference of Commonwealth prime ministers in London, he mentioned that Ghana will be represented for the first time and that in years to come the prime ministers of Malaya, Nigeria, The West Indies will attend similar conferences.

"It is a most imaginative and hopeful experiment that so many different races, creeds, colors wish to retain this link and that in this way we are building up in friendship a true multi-racial commonwealth," he said.

PLANE CRASHES, 30 KILLED

U.K. Servicemen, Families Aboard Fated Transport

BLACKBUSHE, England (AP)—A British military transport plane headed for South Africa crashed in flames here Wednesday night soon after taking off. Thirty persons were killed.

The twin-engined Viking plane was carrying servicemen and their families to Libya.

Officials said the 35 persons aboard included one woman and two children.

The plane plummeted to the ground in flames after exploding high above this English airfield in the flat countryside about 30 miles from London. Seconds before the crash it appealed by radio for permission to land.

It circled the field once, then one engine cut out and there was an explosion, airport officials said.

Fire engines from adjoining counties rushed to the scene with flame - fighting foam equipment. Sixteen bodies had been taken from the wreckage before midnight.

The air ministry in London said: "The aircraft was a Viking belonging to Eagle Aviation Company. There was a crew of five and the passengers, numbering 30 were service men and families.

"The Viking took off from Blackbushe for Lyon, France, as first stop. She took off and one of the engines cut. A flash was seen in the sky later. She crashed two miles from the runway.

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was 1-32 higher at a premium of 4 7-16 in terms of U.S. funds Wednesday; a week ago 4 7-32 per cent premium. The pound sterling was 3-32 higher at $2.79 9-32.

Parliament Dethroned, Says Diefenbaker

TRURO, N.S. (CP)—John Diefenbaker said Wednesday night that last year's pipeline battle in the Commons was not "hot air" but meant instead the destruction of Parliament unless the Liberal government is defeated June 10.

The Progressive Conservative leader took issue with Prime Minister St. Laurent's statement in Winnipeg Monday that the bitter debate of last May and June was hot air.

"Parliament was dethroned," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

"The prime minister says it's hot air. I say it's the future of your sons and daughters. If these people come back they will simply say in the days ahead: 'You say we violated Parliament; what did the people say?"

President Dead?

BERLIN (Reuters) — Rumors that East German President Wilhelm Pieck has died were current Wednesday. The 81-year-old president was said by the east German new agency ADN last week to be suffering from circulation trouble. The rumors, which could not be confirmed, said news of the death has been withheld until after Wednesday's May Day celebrations.

At a mother - and - daughter banquet in St. Catharines, Ont., these five sets of twins graduated from Brownies to Girl Guides. Front top: Marilyn and Marion Hutt, 10; Karen and Sharon Keeling, 13; Caroline and Josephine Sitar, 12; Deanna and Donna Kalls, 11, and Nancy and Norma Foreman, 12.

POLIO VICTIM Cameron Enns, 26, of Kingsbury, Calif., who lost the use of his arms, is co-inventor of an automobile foot driving control. They function with absolutely no use of arms or hands. Steering is accomplished by means of a "wheel" near the floor board directly coupled to regular steering shaft. The left foot, fitted into a steel slipper, runs this steering device much the same as a normal person would use a spinner knob of the regular steering wheel. The right foot operates the gear selector, accelerator and brake. Enns drove the car from California to New York, where he is shown.

Canada Council Operation Expected Start in October

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. Brooke Claxton, chairman of the Canada Council, said Wednesday he expects the council's program for promotion of the arts, humanities and social sciences will start in October.

He also told a press conference that the council will meet next June in Ottawa with representatives of Canadian universities for preliminary talks on council aid to university construction over the next 10 years.

Mr. Claxton, former Liberal defence minister, spoke to reporters at the conclusion of the council's first two-day meeting.

The council has been armed with $100,000,000 by an act of Parliament — $50,000,000 to aid university building over the next 10 years and $50,000,000 to be invested on the advice of a special investment committee. Revenue from this investment — estimated at about $2,000,000 annually — will be used to promote the arts.

MEETING SET

Mr. Claxton said the council could not start aid to Canadian culture until the endowment fund had earned some revenue. He was unable to estimate how much revenue would be available for 1957 but said he expects that a start on a program can be made by October.

He said the council has made no decision on how revenues from the endowment fund will be apportioned. It was too early to decide the exact fields grants would cover.

The council expected to meet three times annually — in October, February and May—but an extra meeting would be held late this summer to approve a program for air this year under the endowment fund.

Following this meeting the council would announce it was prepared to accept applications for grants. Once the program of aid had been announced applications should be addressed to the director of the council in Ottawa and not to individual council members.

Mr. Claxton said the council has received less than six applications for grants. Most people realized that the council was not yet in a position to grant assistance.

The experience of most foundations, he said, had been that best results were obtained through direct assistance to artists. He anticipated this would be an important part of the council's work and said "quite a lot" of awards would be made as a result of competitions.

And in This Corner . . .

TORONTO (CP)—The May Day sun rose this morning on historic Queen's Park legislative buildings and the statues of famous Canadians in the park.

It might have been any other lovely spring morning, except that all the statues were painted red and displayed the hammer and sickle.

Police said they believed it was a student prank.

Early reports were that the paint appeared to be soluble in water and could easily be washed off.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A groom pecked his bride of only an hour on the cheek, whispered "I'm scared" and left for his mother's home. That was in 1954.

The bride, Mrs. Sherrwyn Martinez, told Judge Ben Curler Tuesday that as far as she knows her husband still is on the solo honeymoon.

"I guess some men are just mama's boys," she said.

The judge granted an annulment.

Tom D'Aquino Wins Public Speaking Test

Speaking on the topic of Catholicism and Patriotism Wednesday evening at Notre Dame College before a well-represented audience of teachers, parents and students, Tom D'Aquino of the L. V. Rogers High School won over three other contestants in the district public speaking contest sponsored by the Knight of Columbus for young students.

Representing St. Joseph's elementary school were Robert Moisey, Barbara Falkner and Sheila Munch.

Chairman James MacAulay, Registrar of Notre Dame, explained the purpose of the contest to encourage young Catholic speakers and to stimulate an intellectual approach to pertinent Catholic topics.

Rev. L. R. McKenzie, professor of speech, congratulated all of the contestants on their speech maturity. He said all of the speakers demonstrated poise, clarity of expression and a keen sense of logical presentation. He felt, however, that sometimes the youths spoke too rapidly, without a true sense of communicating their ideas to the audience, and that they all used gestures without motivation.

Tom D'Aquino, who began with the problem of Catholics branded as unpatriotic because of their adherence to their faith during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, continued his topic from the historical aspect. However, Father McKenzie suggested that greater emphasis be placed on such Canadian patriots as Champlain, the Jesuit Martyrs, Sir Wilfred Laurier, Prime Minister St. Laurent and the numerous Catholics who fought and died for love of Canada during the two world wars.

Barbara Falkner, whose approach to the subject was from the ethical aspect, stated that a Catholic is bound by the laws of God and by the laws of the Church to be patriotic.

"Listening to Miss Falkner expound her arguments, I felt as though I were sitting at the feet of a young Socrates," the speech professor stated.

Robert Moisey, who received congratulations as a "potentially great political speaker", presented the practical side of the topic. He pointed out the necessity of Catholics recognizing their duties to the country: "get out and vote, and consider it an honor if you are called upon to fulfil some office for your country." Father McKenzie suggested that the speaker practice some exercises to make his final consonants clear.

The last speaker, Sheila Munch, was praised for her personal and feminine approach to the argument. She explained what she hoped to do for Canada, as a Catholic and as a citizen. "The judges," Father McKenzie said, "particularly liked Sheila's clear definition of a patriot and her reference to how the graces of the sacraments and the prayers of the Church should assist Catholics in being better citizens and better patriots."

The representatives from the Knight of Columbus, Grand Knight A. Bouchard, congratulated all the speakers and extended best wishes to Tom D'Aquino, who will represent the city in the Nelson diocesan finals to be held some time this month in Trail.

James MacAulay, B.Ed., Rev. L. R. McKenzie, MA, of Notre Dame College and A. L. Cartier, MA, of the Rogers High School were judges.

All-Day Parking Meters To Be Installed in City

All parking meters in the city will be changed in the near future, Ald. G. E. Mermet, chairman of the garage and transportation committee, said Wednesday night.

The eastern company from which they have been ordered has said it will have the new meters here by May 15, Ald. Mermet stated. He said it had been found necessary to install new meters because those now in use were giving much trouble, some costing almost as much to repair as they earn in parking fees.

It is planned to install 10-hour meters on the west side of Kootenay Street from Baker to Victoria and on the east side of Hall Street from Baker to the lane. Ald. C. F. Blakeman said he thought these meters would defeat the purpose for which parking meters were intended, to help provide more parking space, but Ald. Mermet said it was considered necessary to put these longer-term meters on side streets for the convenience of businessmen.

For the convenience of those going to the medical clinic, plans are being made to put two-hour meters on the west side of Hendryx Street from Baker Street, to Vernon Street.

CITY BUSES ON REDUCED RUNS

Buses of the Nelson Transit System fleet began operating on a reduced schedule Wednesday morning. The cuts were necessary because monthly transit reports have shown a steady decline in passengers carried and revenue earned.

There will now be 29 trips from City Centre Uphill, including two morning trips to L. V. Rogers High School, instead of 33 before. This also is true of runs down from Robson and Hendryx Streets, City Centre to Fairview, and Lakeside Park up.

The high school trips will operate Monday to Friday only, and 20 trips will be operated Sundays and holidays.

Complete schedules were published in Tuesday's Daily News.

A licence has been issued to Plexolite Plastics of Vancouver to erect signs in Nelson.

The Company erected some signs here recently, but is not presently operating in the area.

Here From Coast To Practice Teaching

Three more local girls have returned from University of British Columbia in Vancouver and the College of Education in Victoria for practice teaching at local schools. Miss Eleanor Morrison is at Willow Point, while Miss Margaret MacLean and Miss Mary-Ann Swanson are at South Nelson Elementary School for the three-week period.

Nelson Bank Clearings Climb

Clearings at Nelson banks during April topped the same month in 1956 by almost $1,000,000, bringing the total for 1957 so far to about $400,000 more than for the same period last year.

Totals, with 1956 comparisons bracketed, are: April, $4,113,945.47 ($3,489,938), and year to date, $14,907,816.98 ($14,537,359).

National Dissatisfaction With Liberals — Harkness

VICTORIA (CP) — A feeling of dissatisfaction with the Liberal government is general across Canada, Col. Douglas Harkness, Progressive Conservative MP for Calgary North, said here Wednesday at a public luncheon meeting.

People across the country feel the time has come for a change in government, he said. The reasons varied according to conditions in different parts of Canada.

Two Pay Fines

M. E. Warner of Nelson was fined $10 and costs Wednesday when he pleaded guilty in city court to speeding on Nelson Avenue Sunday night. Fine was $10 and costs.

J. Hayes of Nelson pleaded guilty to not having his dog licenced under the City pound by-law, and was fined $5 and costs. City police laid the charge after receiving complaints from neighbors.

Justice of the Peace C. W. R. Harper levied the penalties in place of Magistrate R. S. Nelson, who is at a Magistrate's Convention at Harrison Hot Springs.

Coast, District Visitors Here for Telephone Meet

Annual three-day "workshop" of B.C. Telephone Company chief operators and local representatives of the East and West Kootenays is under way at Nelson.

Chief operators who also serve as local representatives met Wednesday to discuss various commercial business subjects with C. W. Halford, general commercial manager, and R. M. Smith, general commercial supervisor, both of Vancouver, and J. R. Crawford, district commercial manager of Kamloops.

Thursday and Friday's agenda deals with the traffic, or operating phase of telephone work. Visitors from Vancouver will be H. G. Bourne, general traffic manager, and H. W. Foulkes, general traffic supervisor, along with T. E. Brett, of Trail, and V. C. Owen, of Nelson, both district commercial and traffic managers.

Chief operators and in some cases, local representatives, who will attend, are: Miss Muriel Reade, Cranbrook; Miss Honoria Payne, Creston; Mrs. Lilian Wilson, Fernie; Mrs. Mary Feuz, Golden; Mrs. Dorothy Koralewicz, Invermere; Miss Joan Lowndes, Kaslo; Miss Irene Laughton, Nelson; Mrs. Isabel Madden, Grand Forks; Mrs. Marjorie Hogue, Greenwood; Miss Joan Brown, Nakusp; Miss Velma George, New Denver; Mrs. Annie Ross, Oliver; and Mrs. Elizabeth Carter, Trail.

Mrs. Isabella Cotterell, training supervisor of Nelson; Miss Bertha Paul, travelling training supervisor; and Miss Patricia James, district traffic clerk of Trail are also attending.

Fernie Tax Rate Raised 15 Mills

FERNIE — Tax rate this year is one and one-half times what it was last year, 45 mills, compared with 30 mills in 1956.

Tax rate for general purposes is 27.83 mills, double that of last year's 13.91 mills. Rate for school purposes increased 1.08 mills, from 16.09 mills last year to 17.17 mills this year.

Revenue budgeted for 1957 is $237,628.40, and general tax levy is planned to raise about $49,000, while the school tax rate will provide about $31,500. Both levies are based on 100 per cent of land and 75 per cent of improvements.

MIXED QUARTET TO CONDUCT SERVICE HERE

A young peoples quartet from the Baptist Leadership Training School, Calgary, will conduct a service of testimonies, vocal and instrumental numbers and the showing of a new set of slides entitled "Loyalty to Christ", Friday evening at First Baptist Church.

The purpose of the visit is to strengthen young peoples work in the local church, to deepen Christian commitment and to inform the people of, and to recruit students for, the BLTS.

The party is led by Rev. Ron Watts, BA, BD, principal of the School, assisted by four students, Miss Eleanora Basky, Miss Constance Attrell, Brian Bendor, Samuel and David Graham.

The students are on a tour of Baptist Churches of British Columbia and Alberta.

Portugese Consul Nelson Visitor

Ruy San-Romao, Portuguese consular officer in charge of the immigration branch at Montreal, visited Nelson Tuesday.

The visit to Nelson was part of the regular cross-Canada tour made by the officer to obtain first-hand information on how recent Portuguese immigrants were settling into Canadian ways and customs. Forty Portuguese immigrants were expected in the group which arrived in January, of which 39 have arrived. One was unable to make the trip at the time on account of illness.

Spring Assizes Begin May 14

A law case involving the Corporation of the City of Nelson and the Nelson Oldtimers' Association will be heard during the Spring Assizes, scheduled to open here May 14, with Mr. Justice A. E. Lord of Vancouver presiding.

B. C. Affleck and R. McCandlish obtained an injunction preventing the City from moving the Cenotaph and John Houston memorial on the boulevard in the 400 block Vernon Street in preparation for a provincial government highway program.

Three criminal cases are now listed, two of criminal negligence in which W. H. LaCroix of Salmo and A. J. Ewashen of Creston are charged, and one of retaining stolen property in which E. P. Panagabko of Trail is charged. Some civil cases are also scheduled.

Fellow Workers Pallbearers for R. Forgie-Thompson

CASTLEGAR—Funeral services were held Saturday from the Castlegar United Church for Ian Robert Forgie-Thomson, 52, who died April 24 in Trail-Tadanac Hospital.

Rev. L. Clinton Johnston officiated, with cremation following. Pallbearers were fellow workers R. Weller, S. Waring, J. Powell, R. Bingham, G. Jones and J. Moffat. Honorary pallbearers, members of Knights of Pythias Twin Rivers Lodge No. 70, Castlegar, were C. W. Fraser, E. LeRoy, D. Read, J. Sherbikoff, J. Strelieff and J. Sakson.

Hymns sung were "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Just As I Am", another favorite of Mr. Forgie-Thomson's. Organist was Mrs. J. Thatcher.

Prior to the regular service, KP members held a special lodge service.

City Visitors' List Grows as Sun Shines

An indication that tourists are beginning to visit the Kootenays in increased numbers is to be found in the number of persons calling at the Chamber of Commerce tourist office.

Number of visitors signing the register kept in the Chamber office jumped from an average of 80 recorded during the first three months of this year to a high of 217 in April. Last year 161 names were listed in the book during the same period.

There were 76 visitors in January 77 in February and 69 in March. A year ago there were 51 visitors in January, 67 in February and 90 in March. Cumulative total for the first four months of 1956 was 369, while the total for the four months of this year stands at 459 visitors as registered at the tourist office.

Most of the visitors have been from B.C., but there have also been 60 American visitors and 16 from other foreign countries.

Not all visitors to Nelson call at the tourist office and those who do call do not always sign the visitors' book. However, the book is there and Mrs. Elsie Christiansen, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, suggests to all visitors that they add their names to the register.

After B.C., home province of 239 visitors, Alberta is next with 58 and Manitoba with 30. Visitors from Saskatchewan and Ontario are 23 and 22 respectively.

There were four visitors from the province of Quebec, three each from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and one from the North-West Territories.

60 FROM 8 STATES

There have been 60 visitors from eight states in the U.S., almost half coming in April. Washington had 24, Oregon 15 and Idaho 10. Other states listed included Utah, Colorado, Minnesota, Florida and Pennsylvania.

Three visitors have listed homes in New Zealand, with England and Scotland each listed as the home of three. A single visitor is listed from Wales, another lists Hungary as his home country. Five Germans are listed.

Most of the visitors seek information about tourist areas, while some seek reports on accommodation in Nelson and surrounding areas. Wednesday visitors sometimes see out the office to ask "what is there to do here?" or to ask for information about shows in town.

Many people seek particular information such as job opportunities here or in other areas, or particulars about the various industries to be found here.

By the comments they leave behind, most of the visitors are pleased with the service rendered by the office. Page after page contains effusive "Thank you's" or "Service much appreciated."

Hospital Clinic Coming Here

The Children's Hospital Clinic will come to Nelson from Vancouver for two and a half days this month. It will be here May 29, 30 and 31, it was announced Tuesday.

Dr. P. Leahman and Dr. Gordon Baker, specialists in orthopeadic work and pediatrics, respectively, will be in charge. They will see all those referred to the Clinic by their family doctor.

It will be the first time that the Clinic has been held here for more than two days. This is because of the increase number of persons referred. Area served includes Creston, Castlegar, Nakusp, Kaslo, the Slocan and Salmo as well as Nelson.

Prior to coming here, the Clinic will be in Cranbrook and Kimberley.

Training School Graduates Speak At Church Program

Young people from Kimberley, Ottawa, Greenwood, Kelowna, Vancouver and other points, graduates of the Naramata Christian Leadership Training School near Penticton, were guests of the Canadian Girls in Training and Women's Federation of St. Paul's-Trinity United Church Tuesday night.

Guests present included Miss Helen Moss, Miss Marion Pearson, Miss Cecily Goss, Miss Doreen Armstrong, and two boys. They spoke and showed slides of their work at the School, and leaders of the 25 CGIT girls reported they showed some interest in learning about this centre which trains lay workers for the United Church of Canada.

After the meeting, CGIT girls served refreshments.

Nakusp High School Opens Today

EDUCATION MINISTER Hon. L. R. Peterson will be principal speaker today at the official opening of Nakusp's new junior-senior high school, interior scenes of which are pictured above. Also taking part in the afternoon ceremony will be school inspector Nelson Allen of Nelson, and William Craft of Needles, chairman of the Arrow Lakes school board. A tea, at which old-timers of the district will pour, and a program, have also been arranged.

BUILT BY David Howrie Ltd. of Vernon which submitted a tender of $163,023, the high school contains six classrooms and an auditorium gymnasium. The students, numbering around 150, had previously been receiving schooling in separate buildings. Brightly-illuminated, modern classrooms of the new school have been in use for nearly a month. DON BARKER'S SPEECH BEST IN SALMO CONTEST

SALMO — The annual public speaking contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias was a special feature of the monthly meeting of the Salmo high school Parent-Teacher Association.

Don Barker of HB Mine was the winner, and Betty Ann Larsen came second. Contestants, who were required to speak on "Youth Looks to the Future," were judged by Mrs. J. C. Carpenter, Mrs. Lest Hart and C. Henry. Master of ceremonies was Gordon Moir, and O. Jensen and D. Parsons of the Pythian lodge were time keepers.

Other contestants were Florence Heuscher of Sheep Creek and Doris Jean McMillan of Salmo.

Don Barker will participate in the district competition to be held in Trail on Sunday.

During the PTA meeting Mrs. C. Treat reported that the Talent and Variety show was successful and showed a profit of $152.32.

Book prizes which are given each year by the PTA are to be taken care of by J. Holden. The scholarship and bursaries will be decided by a special committee with data compiled by F. Middleton, principal, and the staff.

Spring Assizes Open Next Week In Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — —Mr. Justice A. E. Lord will open the East Kootenay Spring Assize court here next Tuesday at Cranbrook courthouse with present indications the session will continue to the end of that week.

At present only three criminal charges are scheduled. They are: charge against Justina Joe Dennis of Tobacco Plains, attempted murder of her husband last December; criminal negligence against James V. Waddington of Edmonton in the highway death in November near Springbrook of Harold Axel Granberg of Cranbrook; and theft against Audrey Hanson of Cranbrook.

Two cases are scheduled in civil court session of the Assizes. J. Kmiecik is suing East Kootenay Lumber Company of Fernie for alleged breach of contract in connection with a logging job, and Mary Phillips of Fernie as administrator of the estate of her late husband, Douglas Phillips, is claiming damages from Jack Brown of Fernie in connection with the highway death of her husband.

Eleven divorce petitions will also be heard.

MINERS TO BE REHABILITATED . . .

Famed Greenhill Mine Closes

BLAIRMORE, Alta. (CP) — Alberta's biggest underground coal mine — the Greenhill at Blairmore —was idle today.

Approximately 250 miners brought up their tools Tuesday at 4 p.m. to mark the official closing of the mine, which for 40 years had been a source a income for hundreds of families in the Crowsnest Pass.

Meanwhile, officials of the provincial labor department arrived here to begin rehabilitation work with the jobless miners, and possibly move them to other jobs elsewhere in the province.

John Stokoluk of Calgary, vice-president of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, conferred with general manager William Bird of West Canadian Collieries.

Company officials had announced earlier that the Grenhill mine was being closed because of complete deterioration of coal markets, caused chiefly by CPR dieselization.

Greenhill mine opened in the spring of 1914 with a normal employment of 500 men. Since then, more than $5,000,000 has been invested in the mine and approximately 15,000,000 tons of coal produced from it.

Battle Against Alcohol In Manitoba Watched

By NEVILLE NANKIVELL
Canadan Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP)—First of its kind in North America, Manitoba's program of alcohol education is being watched by authorities in other parts of Canada and in the United States as a way to combat the alcohol problem.

The Manitoba Committee on Alcohol Education is the pilot balloon in a new approach which urges control in the use of alcoholic beverages.

Through an advertising and publicity campaign, the committee hits home the bare facts about alcohol and advocates moderation, rather than preaching prohibition.

Newspaper advertisements, radio plugs and street car displays use a tone of 'friendly persuasion" in pleading for sane and sensible drinking in interpreting the province's new and more liberal liquor laws. The recently-enacted laws permit liquor sales in five new types of outlets.

GOOD RESPONSE

Prof. R. N. Hallstead, committee chairman and a professor of English at United College, says public response to the campaign has been enthusiastic. Since it started last October requests for copies of the committee's advertisements have come from other provinces and from the United States.

He said in an interview that the campaign is designed to reach every one in the province, to inform the public that drinking is an act that requires responsible handling. Its object is to encourage a policy either of abstinence

"We don't feel that drinking is going to stop," he said, "But we feel that those who drink, if they are responsible citizens, will be interested in learning facts that will enable them to drink sensibly and without abusing alcohol."

Typical of the advertisements is one which appeared during the Christmas period. It advised those serving alcoholic beverages at parties to be considerate and serve non-alcoholic drinks with out alcoholic ones so that a person could make a choice; to avoid embarrassing the guest who declined an alcoholic drink; never urge a drink on anyone, never serve drinks to minors, always serve food with drinks, and never "offer one for the road."

STRESS MODERATION

Theme of most of the advertisements is: "Where there is drinking, moderation should be the rule."

Topics include: Why shouldn't adults drink? Can you really afford to buy liquor? How much do you know about the effects of Alcohol and Why shouldn't minors drink? One sums up with "The decision to drink or not to drink is. of course, your own."

Other advertisements interpret the new liquor laws to the public, discussing how they affect the community, what new outlets are permitted under the Act and responsibility of the public in helping to enforce and enjoy the new laws.

Future topics will include one persuading non - drinkers to be more tolerant of those who do indulge.

The committee was appointed last May as a result of a recommendation by the Bracken liquor commission, and it works on a $50,000 annual grant. Professor Hallstead, who came from Cornell University, was a research consultant on the Bracken commission and on the committee for alcoholism for Manitoba.

The committee will not try to take over alcohol education work in the schools, which is handled by the Manitoba Temperance Alliance and the Manitoba Alcohol Foundation, but it will co-ordinate its activities with all interested groups and hopes to give a boost to the work carried out in highway safety.

Professor Hallstead said some individual criticism of the campaign has been received, such as the advertisements being either "too dry" or "too wet," but that favorable reaction has far outweighed complaints.

Confirmation At Castlegar

CASTLEGAR — Ten Castlegar and district youngsters were confirmed in St. Alban's Anglican Church recently. Rt. Rev. P. R. Beattie, Bishop of Kootenay, conducted the service, welcoming Douglas McLuckie, Leslie Waldie, David Adshead, Ronald Hawkins, Lawrence Peirpoint, Louise Fink, Vay Hawkins, Sheral Anderson, Faythe Toogood and Anne Henderson into the Anglican faith.

Mrs. A. T. Horswill, past president of the diocesan WA, presented Mrs. L. E. Killouhg with a certificate, and life membership badge of the St. Alban's Womens' Auxiliary.

Following this, a private service was held at which four adults were confirmed by Bishop Beattie.

Municipal Act To Be Discussed Saturday

TRAIL — Three municipalities, Warfield, Fruitvale, and Montrose, will be host to the annual Spring convention of the Association of Kootenay Municipalities Saturday. About 100 delegates and 50 wives are expected from the 23 East and West Kootenay municipalities which belong to the Association.

Sessions open 9 a.m. in Warfield. Consolidated Mining and Smelting will be host to the noon luncheon, and the afternoon session will be at Montrose.

Principal subject of discussion will be the new Municipal Act, and J. E. Brown, deputy minister of municipalities, will speak.

A. C. Richards of Trail, member of the Engineering Institute of Canada, will discuss proposed Columbia River developments at a banquet preceding a dance which will conclude the day in Fruitvale Community Hall.

Hon. W. D. Black, MLA for Nelson-Creston, provincial secretary, and minister of municipal affairs, and R. E. Sommers, MLA for Rossland-Trail, will be present. T. R. B. Adams of New Westminster, executive director of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, of which the Association is a member, will also speak.

MAJOR HYATT DIES AT COAST

BOSWELL — Word has been received here of the death in Veterans' Hospital, Victoria, of Major Percival Taylor Hyatt, OBE, age 69, of Denman Island, B.C.

A former resident, he is well known to many people still living here in Boswell.

Born in Shepton Mallett, Somerset, England, he had lived in B.C. for 25 years. Survivors are his wife Joyce at home; two sisters, Mrs. Ben Luck of Campbell River and Mrs. E. Vigne in England, and two nephews.

Funeral service was held at the Coast, and cremation followed.

Procter Groups Urged To Concentrate On Hall Work

PROCTER — Robert Stangroom, regional consultant of the Community Programmes Branch was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Procter and District Recreation Commission.

B. J. Fitchett, chairman, Mrs. N. C. MacLeod, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. C. A. Brady, third member of the three-man commission were re-elected. The chairman reported that the swimming project lacks a suitable supervisor and skating rink progress is impeded by lack of an available site. Hobbies including square dancing, copper tooling, aluminum etching and plastic braiding have been taught and interest in these has been maintained.

It was suggested that all organizations represented on the advisory board centre their activities and energies on the centennial project of hall improvement.

Hoodlumism Not a New Problem

There seems to be quite an outcry against hoodlumism in the schools just now, but it is no new problem and in all probability the situation is not as serious as many people would have us believe. There comes a time in every boy's life when he is rebellious and anti-social, but the degree of his revolt depends very much on circumstances.

All high schools are faced with this problem and if it becomes acute it is no reflection on the high school or its teaching staff, but rather on the community in general.

Even the best of adolescents have a tendency to become rude and boorish to everyone—including their own parents, and it is in the schools that this is most noticeable. These adolescents demand considerable patience from their teacher when they have their moods, but fortunately the really intractable student is rare.

Hoodlumism is often associated with the inability to learn, since the pupil who cannot or will not keep up with his studies becomes impatient of restraint.

It says much for our high school that so far there has been no hoodlumism there, though there have been instances reported of the crashing of parties by bands of "hoods".

These are usually older boys to whom a party suggests drinking and invariably they arrive in a semi-drunken condition and prepared to make trouble. Unfortunately, the resulting brawl is apt to reflect on the party-makers as well as on these rough elements.

It is particularly deplorable that in this day and age it should be considered that a party involves drinking and that young people should consider that drinking is a necessity of adulthood. Not much, perhaps, can be done except that parents should insist that no party take place without the presence of a responsible adult who can take the appropriate action against such hoods.

There has been a growing outcry of late for the exclusion of those pupils who do not do their work in school, largely on the grounds that such persons hinder the learning of other pupils. Their exclusion would undoubtedly make for a better climate of learning in the classrooms and would be of benefit to those excluded if something were provided for them.

Often at this age such persons do quite well if they can go to work and one thing employers might consider is employing such young persons. The apprenticeship system, which has long been languishing, has taken on a new lease of life. Despite the remarkable fact that many older persons are becoming apprentices, there is a great need for many more as the number of skilled workmen required increases.

Time Council, Civic Centre Got In Step With Public Says Bonspieler

To the Editor:

Sir—In a recent issue of the Daily News you devoted a story to "the facts" given to the ratepayers by Alderman Mermet during discussion of Civic Centre Commission minutes with regard to curling rink rental charges and maintenance. May we take a little space to put Alderman Mermet straight on a number of other things?

He speaks of "unfortunate misunderstandings between last year's Midsummer Bonspiel Committee and this year's". Alderman Mermet, the difference between last year's Midsummer Bonspiel Association was not with the current committee but with the Nelson City Council. Surely you remember—the Council wanted what we considered an outrageous price for us to rent the rinks, and in return would give only a thousand dollars donation. We refused, and the mayor and council had to get in and help with the bonspiel. For the past couple of years, Alderman Mermet, the council has said it was too busy to even attend our meetings. Now we have the lugubrious situation of the mayor and at least two aldermen not only attending all bonspiel meetings but also taking two or three days off to go out of town to publicize Nelson. We also took two jaunts to Spokane, one to Colville and one to Ione, and on only one occasion could we get a member of the council, and never the mayor. We were never able to get the Nelson Curling Club to assist us as a club, for the simple reason that it does not function during the summer, but we did have help from individual members and you have been promised the same.

Also, Alderman Mermet, two years ago the association put the bonspiel on with five members, and if we may believe the reports in the Nelson Daily News on the number of members who are said to be working on the bonspiel this year you must have about fifty members. What are they all doing? And let us assure you that at least ninety per cent of the work for this year's bonspiel is still to come.

It is not only the curlers who are complaining, Alderman Mermet, but they have reason to know if the proposed rent is to be asked for 1957-58 season as was specified the other night. It will mean the end of the Nelson Curling Club.

Isn't it about time the Nelson City Council and Civic Centre Commission got into step with the Nelson public? The rent which the commission is asking for next year may kill curling; the rent asked last year of the Nelson Senior Hockey Club would have put them deeper in the red for the year's operation, had it not been for the efforts of the Booster Club, if they had acceded to the commission's demand; the Nelson Fall Fair is staggering at the present and they had difficulties with the commission over rent. The baseball diamond in the park is being sown to grass and may well mean the end of baseball in the city; the Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel Association suspended operations because the city and commission were too greedy. It would appear that the city will be paying more in actual dollars and cents to carry out the bonspiel than it would have done had the $2400 curling rink rental charge been paid by a city donation.

It is pointed out that it was only 22 years ago that the Civic Centre was built to get the Nelson children and adults off the streets and into healthful recreation, and now you have managed to get most of them back on to the streets, only now they do not have the kindly shade of the Vernon Street trees.

Alderman Mermet also felt it was time a compliment was paid those who went on the recent cavalcade. They had their pictures in the paper and there were write-ups about the trip. Would it also be time that a compliment was paid the former Bonspiel Association for the approbation handed out to them by the Canadian Tourist Publicity contest judges, who summed up their report "We would like to commend the work of the Summer Bonspiel Association of Nelson, B.C. We think that few if any of the promotional plans in Canada showed more initiative or used the so-called gimmicks to better advantage. All this work was done too, on a very modest budget and brought reams of valuable publicity."

Last year's association provided Nelson with a very pert and charming queen at the PNE and paid the entire cost. Has the council complimented the association yet? No.

And finally, if Alderman Mermet is going to give facts, could we please have facts?

G. W. BAREFOOT, on behalf
The Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel Association.

Wenner-Gren Deal

The deal which the B.C. Social Credit government has made with the Swedish Wenner-Gren combine is still cloudy. The haze is more impenetrable than the mists that rise from the 40,000 square miles of the Rocky Mountain Trench to which the combine has apparently been given valuable rights. How many rights have been given away and for what requital?

Vast government concessions to private corporations are not new in Canada's story. The Hudson's Bay Company is still the proprietor of tracts of the prairies west of Winnipeg to the Rockies, given it under the Dominion Lands Act of 1872 when it resigned its claim to Rupert's Land. By the land regulations of 1882 the CPR acquired half the sections within a 24-mile-wide belt on either side of the whole western railway line, or better alternative lots elsewhere. Both companies are still exploiting these concessions.

The Dominion goevrnment has pretty well got out of this shadowy business, the department of northern affairs is now the agent for administering national resources in the hinterlands. But several of the provinces have recently gone into enormous dealing with private developers. In Newfoundland the government is in partnership with foreign financiers in the Newfoundland Larbador Development Corporation. In Quebec Premier Duplessis has given special rights to private corporations exploiting the waterpower and ore resources in the interior. And now in British Columbia is the Wenner-Gren arrangement, said to involve a billion dollar development.—Toronto Star.

Going Modern

Talk about coals to Newcastle! A news dispatch informs us that strange things are happening in our own back yard. Boston macaroni, it seems, is being exported to Italy. Not only that—macaroni outsells the traditional baked beans in Boston by a margin of three to one. Next thing we know someone will be telling us that all the beans consumed in Boston are actually baked in the brick ovens of Viareggio.

There is, we suspect, no moral to this story. But we are tempted nonetheless to comment on what a close-knit world this is getting to be. How else could Italians, across an ocean and a language barrier, know that such buoni buoni macaroni is being produced by their fine relatives in America?

Expanding trade and relaxed tariff protection are bringing us if not into each other's back yards at least into each other's kitchens. This is a tasteful approach to getting along in the world and we commend it, even if it does risk putting the world under French and Cantonese culinary domination.

Meanwhile we intend to ask our man in Bombay what sort of a market he thinks he could find there for New England's famous Indian pudding. Who's to know which Indians invented it?—Christian Science Monitor.

A Fascinating Subject

. . . F. B. Pearce

One of my lady friends was telling me that I should not write about women, but then why shouldn't I? After all what more interesting and fascinating subject can there be.

Of course I have no degree in such enlightening things as psychiatry or psychology but I flatter myself that perhaps I do know something about the sex. After all one cannot teach little girls for a long time without learning something about the dear little creatures. And, for that matter, any man who has been married to a woman for a year has learned the first lesson, that the opposite sex is entirely inexplicable. If he is wise he contents himself with that and does not, on any account, ask for reasons. If he has any sense he enjoys them without question.

I always enjoyed my little girls at school. Even the tiny ones had their own personalities and their own ways. They were a cross section in miniature of the adults. Some there were who were gay, a few who were subdued but all of them were born flirts. Most of them could misbehave, too, but that is a different matter.

In their play, girls are different from the boys. They don't make so much noise as boys except when they feel called upon to squeal and their games seem to have some sense to them. They seem to be developing some ability or other and all their games lead more to grace than strength.

It was not the same with the boys. Most of their games were of the rough and tumble variety where strength was the most important thing. Quite a number of people deplore this tendency to roughness but it sems to be nature's way of preparing the male to the struggle of life.

BEHAVE DIFFERENTLY

Girls and boys behave differently in school. The girls talk more fluently and are not adverse to attracting attention, while the boys are diffident and certainly avoid attracting attention to themselves.

In the elementary school girls learn to read earlier than boys and are usually at the top of the class. The one quality which distinguishes the girls all through school is their willingness to work. Everyone must have noticed the number of books which the high school girls carry home at night and the remarkable few which the boys have.

It is this ability to work hard—and the ability to talk well which makes girls appear clever in school, but the boys begin to shine later on when maths and science are taken. The boys begin to work later in life and often make quite a success of university.

Much of the girls' success in school is their ability to remember the spoken word. This used to amuse me when girls got to quarreling. Then it was, "You said this" and counter charges of "You said that." As you go along the street you often hear snatches of conversation between bigger girls and hear one say "I said — and he said."

Boys frequently get into quarrels and hurl charges at one another, but, unlike the girls, they seldom tell teacher. Their quarrels end in fights and girls in hair pulling.

But if you believe that the child is the father of the man you can see that all these things are carried over into adult life. Women still retain their ability to remember the spoken word and much of the talking they do is along those lines. Every man, therefore if he expects to be a good husband should prepare to be a good listener.

The best that most men can do or hope for is to attain a certain amount of philosophic amazement where women are concerned and with luck he will agree with the Frenchman who said "Vive la difference."

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlok is, according to the stars.

For Friday, May 3, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —You won't "put your foot in your mouth" if you make up your mind to be at ease with dissenters, take upsets and obstacles philosophically, and tone down exuberance.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—You may be tempted with wrong leads, may misuse energies and talents. Be careful from the hour you arise until you retire. Keep temper, emotions under control; don't criticise destructively.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—This is no time for regretting, looking backwards, wishing things were different. Everyone has had hardships, trials. It is how you push forward that counts.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Some folks may argue, dissent, and be just plain do-nothings now. You can offset this with a spirited and healthy enthusiasm for action and for good work.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Fussing, moodiness, non-cooperative tendencies prevail now. Avoid them yourself and do your best to help others strive onward with faith, courage, cheer.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Don't worry about what "might" happen, or what occurred yesteryear. Today is what counts, and today's deeds will bolster (or tear down) tomorrow's. Use common sense!

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — You may have to cope with some who seem to have "got out of bed on the wrong side." You can do it; just maintain your sense of humor and be reasonable in the face of temper and antipathy.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Don't give in to irritation, annoyances; don't be too quick to answer, too rushed or try to do more than necessary.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — While your major planet, Jupiter, is somewhat negative in aspect, you can nevertheless, accomplish more than may seem possible. Don't waste time, energy; be alert.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Bright prospects for some gain in well-planned and cleverly executed endeavors. Routine maters should be handled systematically, efficiently.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Don't be caught in other people's hassles. You will deplete the energy needed for the things you should be doing; will strain nerves, too. Be a good listener; remain calm within.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Spend some thought on the gracious and artistic sides of life, all of which you appreciate. This is no time for misgivings, doubts. Forget others' foibles; smile your way through.

YOU BORN TODAY: Loyalty and practicality are strong in your Sign, Taurus. You are not always demonstrative, but are affectionate and friendly; can be gentle or rather short in manner, if not on guard. Don't abuse good health; avoid overindulgences. Employ your artistc iside for relief from workaday matters. Being Bohemian in associations isn't necessarily democratic. Birthdate of: Niccolo Machiavelli, Florentine statesman.

Name Former Sen. Lehman Jewery's Man of Century

TORONTO (CP)—Former U.S. senator Herbert H. Lehman said Wednesday the "revulsion" of Americans against the Senate internal security sub - committee for its part in the Herbert Norman case was not deep enough to bring about permanent restraints on the investigating activities of Congressional committees.

Addressing leaders of the Combined Campaign for American Reform Judaism, the New York Democrat said the recent suicide in Cairo of the Canadian ambassador was a "tragic example" of the trend toward sacrificing fundamental freedoms in the East-West struggle.

He said he was pleased to report that in this case, at least, there was "a strong revulsion in the United States" against the conduct of the sub-committee.

"However, I fear that this revulsion was not deep or violent enough to impose any substantal or permanent restraints on the Congressional committees engaged in this kind of business.

BLAMES PUBLIC

"In this case again, I have come to the belief that the chief fault lies not with these commttees—unpleasant as they are—but with the public climate which tolerates them."

The Combined Campaign, representing the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the Hebrew Union College—Jewish Institute of religion, designated Mr. Lehman American Reform Jewery's 'man of the century" for what it described as "his glorious sanctification of God's will through a lieftime of supreme achievement in freedom's cause and valorous championship of the oppressed."

Mr. Lehman charged that "in foreign affairs, there has been a most unfortunate tendency to postpone solutions for the sake of temporary, standstill arrangements, thus merely postponing the days of reckonng."

He cited the "great pressure" brought against Britain, France and Israel "to force a return to the status quo in the Middle East" adding that this was done "despite the fact that the status quo in this case was a condition completely characterized by legality, disorder and immorality."

The Canadian government, he said, "showed an understanding of the middle eastern stuation from the very first," and through External Affairs Minister Pearson "at all times urged concentrated efforts to get at and solve these basic problems."

Saleswoman Pedals to Farms

EDMONTON (CP) — Dorothy M. Lusty says "the city's too busy."

Miss Lusty, who spends the summers riding a bicycle around the Alberta countryside, says "the country is the only place where I can get a good night's sleep."

A jaunty figure in riding breeches, rubber boots and gaily-colored tam, the 58-year-old native of Bristol, England, supports herself by selling notions to farm families.

WELL-EQUIPPED

Edmonton has been her headquarters for the annual summer travels since 1931. Each spring he loads her unique bicycle with her equipment—a tenting outfit, home-made sleeping bag and suitcase on the back, tent poles, two small grips and a small suitcase on the handlebars — and heads for the outdoors.

"I tried working indoors at housekeeping and even worked on a dairy farm," she said, "but I can't stand being inside and I like to be my own boss. After each job I feel like I was just let out of jail."

Last year she put her bike into storage and travelled by horse democrat with her dog and a couple of cats. But keeping a horse had its problems such as ensuring a supply of fresh grass. "Shoeing is expensive too," she said, "and there aren't too many people who do it these days."

Usually when travelling she stays at farms or sometimes in a hotel.

This year, she's again using the bicycle.

Opera Singer Prefers Hair-Dye To Wigs

LONDON (CP) — Canadian soprano Irene Salemka has tinted her red hair with a blonde rinse for her first full-length role on British television tonight.

The 26 - year - old singer from Weyburn, Sask., who arrived in Britain from New Orleans two days ago, plays the part of Marguerite in Gounod's opera Faust. As Marguerite is a blonde, and Miss Salemka dislikes wearing wigs, the Canadian decided to change the color of her own hair.

After her television appearance she goes to Germany as principal lyric soprano at the Frankfurt Opera, making her debut in Debussy's Pelleas and Melisande.

B.C. Applicants Request Good Spot On Radio Dial

OTTAWA (CP)—The CBC board of governors is considering three applicants for choice west-coast location on the radio dial—730.

The frequency which Mexico turned over to Canada by international agreement last year, was sought Tuesday night by applicants from North Vancouver, Port Alberni and Burnaby, B.C.

The board, which held an unusual night sitting in an unsuccessful attempt to clean up hearings on 24 applications, reserved its decision on the applications. Its decision likely will be announced Thursday or Friday.

Two operating stations, CKLG, North Vancouver, and CJAV, Port Alberni, and a proposed new 5,000-watt station in Burnaby, sought the 730 frequency.

WOULD COVER VANCOUVER

Eason Gibson of CKLG asked for a power increase to 10,000 watts from 1,000 and a switch from his present 1070 spot on the dial to provide a better signal in his coverage area.

Present ground conductivity was not sufficient to enable his station to give adequate service. The only solution was to boost the power and set up a transmitter tower south of Vancouver. This would mean covering the Greater Vancouver area.

Station CJAV's K. Hutcheson said growth of Port Alberni would soon force him to move his present transmitter location and the only solution would be a boost to 1,000 watts daytime and 500 watts night time, from 250 watts at 1240 on the dial.

BURNABY APPLICATION

Warren T. Johnstone, President of Burnaby Broadcasting Co. Ltd. applied for the new west-coast licence to give community service with a 5,000-watt station at 730 in Burnaby.

The applications were opposed by Jack Sayers of CFUN, Vancouver, who said further licences or increased power of existing stations "would be to the detriment of existing stations." Stations CJOR, Vancouver, and CKNW, New Westminster, also opposed, in written statements, the North Vancouver and Burnaby applications.

Victoria stations CKDA and CJVI both opposed "for economic reasons" an application by Ellison Queale for a new daytime 1,000-watt station, at 810 on the dial, in suburban Saanich.

A spokesman said communications from the stations said Victora could not support more than two private stations at present, but Roy Parrett, manager of the there now is more radio advertising in Victoria than CKDA and CJVI can handle.

INTERIOR STATION

Robert A. Reagh, former Lethbridge, Alta. broadcaster applied for a licence to operate a 1,000-watt station at 570 on the dial to serve the Cranbrook - Kimberley area of the B.C. interior. He said the 40,000 persons in the area now have no local radio service.

Other applications heard included:

David M. Armstrong, CKDA, Victoria, power boost from 5,000 watts to 10,000 and frequency change from 1280 to 1220.

Station manager C. J. Rudd of CHUB, Nanaimo, B.C., power increase from 1,000 to 10,000 watts, opposed by J. L. Sayers of CFUN, Vancouver.

J. B. Craig, CKX, Brandon, Man., power boost from 1,000 to 5,000 watts daytime and 1,000 at night to improve rural coverage.

Dutch Church Supports Segregation

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters)—Professor A. P. du Preez of Pretoria University has told the synod of the Dutch Reformed Church here that non-whites must not worship together with whites because they originate from separate cultures.

He said this was the synod's final decision in the controversy over the "church" clause in the Native the South African Parliament last week.

This clause, twice amended, provides powers for the native affairs minister to bar Africans from church services in white areas f their presence is considered a nuisance.

The dutch reformed church, which has the largest white membership of all the churches in South Africa and is almost exclusively Afrikaans, has always maintaned strict segregation in its churches.

The other major churches in South Africa — Anglican, Methodist and Roman Catholic — oppose the "church" clause as an interference in corporate worship.

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT

Christ also loved the church and gave Himself for it. Ephesians 5:25.

Christ knew the great faults of the church of His day. He overthrew the tables of the money changers and drove them from the temple foyer. But he attended services and never left the church of His day. A very imperfect church is vastly better than none.

FAST RELIEF FOR RHEUMATIC PAIN

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

United Church Clothing Aid Has Skyrocketted From Small Start

A rummage sale which resulted in a large scale community service is the story behind the United Church clothing aid ,primary aim of which is to give aid in every way possible to persons in need.

It began in 1954 when a new women's association group with about ten members decided to hold a rummage sale as a means of quickly raising some money. One sale led to another, and soon, enthusiastic young mothers who had found that the group offered used clothing in good condition at minimum prices, began to bring friends and neighbors.

Two other church circles joined the original group. A large room in Trinity Church was put into use, and the "Clothing Aid" was born. Since amalgamation, it has become a Women's Federation project in which four groups from St. Paul's-Triinty and one from Fairview participate.

Not only do the volunteer workers sell clothing, they have on several occasions supplied families with complete sets of underclothing, obtaining donations from church members and interested persons for the purchase of new items when their supply was inadequate. People of all denominations and many transients are helped.

IN TIME OF DISASTER

Victims of disaster have turned to the "Aid" for help. In one instance, after a fire in which seven lost their lives and some 50 persons were left homeless, the clothing aid became the centre from which the survivors received their immediate neds. At this time it became a community effort and was open six full days and evenings a week.

At present the aid is open two hours each week for sales, but the needy are taken care of at any time.

Since a small price is usually charged for the articles, it is a money raising project, but perhaps more important is the fact that this eliminates the feeling of "accepting charity" when a person of meagre means avails himself of the service.

EVERYTHING USED

Occasionally, articles of clothing are donated which are not in saleable condition. These are not discarder, however. Patches are saved for quilt-making, cotton rags are sold to garages while woollen rags are sent away to be made into blankets. The blankets in turn are donated to hospitals or used in overseas bales. Even buttons, zippers and ornaments are used. Boxes of free articles are open to everyone.

Statistics of the aid are impressive. During 1956 600 pounds of clothing were shipped to Unitarian Service Committee for Overseas relief. Twenty-five single persons and six families with from four to seven children were outfitted. Two large quilts were made and several articles knit from donated wool. In addition to this, more than $1000 was realized for Federation funds.

Although a large portion is contributed by members of the sponsoring groups, Mrs. L. R. Hart, convener, states happily that she is kept busy arranging to have clothing donations picked up from a number of others interest in this worthy effort.

Radium Teacher Becomes Bride At Windermere

INVERMERE — Historic St. Peter's Church, Windermere, was the scene of a pretty wedding which united in marriage Patricia Selma Schlapbach, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schlapbach of Invermere, and Edward Kenneth Tegart, only son of Mrs. Lloyd Tegart of Windermere and Mr. Tegart, of Prince George. Rev. R. C. Littlehales officiated at the double ring ceremony, and Mrs. S. K. Wenger, sister of the groom, was organist.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was charming in a floor length model gown of nylon chiffon with lace inserts. Her fingertip veil, dotted with pearls, cascaded from a mother of pearl headdress. She carried an orchid bouquet with white stephanotis on a white prayer book.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were four attendants. Mrs. Theodore Chorny of Red Deer as her sister's matron of honor was gowned in a ballerina-length pink frock of crystal charm with which she wore a pink floral headdress and pink accessories. The bridesmaids Miss Hata Deglan of Langley and Miss Joanne Bradford were similarly gowned in blue with blue headdresses. They carried white iris. The groom's four-year-old niece, Pamela Gaye Woodall of Calgary, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of yello with a matching headdress and carried a nosegay of pink roses.

The best man was Mr. Arthur Tegart and ushers were Mr. James Statham and Mr. Allen Tegart. The groom's four-year-old nephew, Christopher Wenger, was ringbearer. Mrs. Ian Weir sang "I"ll Walk Beside You."

Covers were laid for 100 guests at a reception at the Lake Windermere Centre. Centering the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by candelabra.

Receiving with the bridal couple Mrs. Schlapbach wore a figured dress and navy duster with white accessories and a rose corsage. Mrs. Tegart was in a light blue metallic dress worn with a muskrat cape and a rose corsage.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. James Boyle. A wedding dance was held later.

For their trip to United States points, the bride changed to a green tartan suit with which she wore an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Winnifred Woodall and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Woodall and family of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Chorny and daughter of Red Deer, Miss Hata Deglan of Langley and Mr. Robert Schlapbach of North Bay, Ont.

The bride, born in Vancouver, moved here two years ago and is a teacher at Radium. The groom was born and educated in the Valley and is in business here. They will reside in Invermere.

May Day Theme Sets Off Service Clubs' Tea

Tiny crepe paper dolls dressed in yellow and pink lavender dancing around a Maypole at linen-covered tea tables formed the May Day theme at the Church of the Redeemer Service Clubs' annual Spring Tea Wednesday afternoon in the Church Hall.

A little Maypole with gaily-colored streamers was in the centre of each table, and huge bouquets of lacy forsythia stood at the windoes. The piano, at one end of the hall, was topped with a miniature birdhouse and wishing well and silver centrepiece with forsythia, narcissi and heather. Ladies of Circle Two arranged decorations.

Guests were received at the door by general president Mrs. T. C. Lambert, and Mrs. W. A. Silverwood. Mrs. A. C. VanSacker was in charge of ticket collections, and the bake table was staffed by Mrs. R. Phillips, Mrs. Stanley Morris, Mrs. Frank Pennoyer and Mrs. Harry Whiteley.

Mrs. A. K. McAdams looked after the fish pond, and Mrs. T. C. Halsey, Mrs. C. W. R. Harper and Mrs. R. Christie were at work tables. Servers were Mrs. A. L. Furman, Mrs. G. D. Gullivan, Mrs. Eric Robinson, Mrs. J. P. Horswill, Mrs. H. B. Forse, Mrs. E. Evans, Mrs. Richard Palmer, Mrs. W. J. Ebdon, Mrs. J. Flavelle, and Mrs. L. W. Lehrle.

ENROLMENT UNDER WAY FOR PRENATAL COURSE

The second prenatal course of this year, offered by Kootenay Lake General Hospital and the Selkirk Health Unit, will begin next week and continue into June.

Classes in the six-week series will be conducted by Dr. I. K. Benson, health unit director, and Miss Joan Sutcliffe, public health nurse. The exercise sessions will be instructed by Mrs. G. A. Butling, hospital physiotherapist.

Fifteen women registered for the first course this year, and organizers hope for as good or better attendance at this series.

A lecture and film on "Human Reproduction" Monday afternoon at the health unit will lead off the course. On Thursday morning prenatal exercises and instruction will be given at the hospital.

In the second week, a lecture and film on "Prenatal Care" are scheduled for the afternoon of May 13 at the health unit.

Two sessions will again be held the third week, with a lecture and film entitled "Labor and Childbirth" the afternoon of May 22, and exercises with instruction at the hospital the morning of May 23.

"Postnatal Care" will be subject of the film and lecture the fourth week, set for the afternoon of May 27.

In the fifth week, the June 3 afternoon class at the health unit will be shown a film on "Baby Meets Its Parents", and there will be an optional baby bath demonstration. Prenatal exercises and a visit to the hospital maternity unit are scheduled for the morning of June 6.

In the closing week of the series, there will be prenatal exercises with instruction at the hospital the morning of June 13.

Registrants will be required to pay $1 for each exercise class attended at the hospital, and 50 cents registration fee for Health Unit classes will cover cost of refreshments.

Those wishing to enrol are being asked to telephone the Health Unit at 1214.

Women PCs At Trail Plan Coffee Parties

TRAIL—When the Trail and District Women's Progressive Conservative Association met in the Y.M.C.A. rooms recently. Social, program and publicity committees were formed to be convened by Mrs. S. N. Mitchell, Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. H. W. George, respectively .Volunteer workers for the campaign headquarters will be organized by Mrs. L. B. Wrinch.

Coffee parties will be held throughout the district between now and the federal election for the purpose of having the candidate, Dr. C. H. Wright, meet as many of the constitutents as possible.

The meeting was addressed by Dr. Wright who with Mr. E. B. Scott had just completed a swing through the constituency. He reported a high level of interest in every area visited where enthusiastic local groups were formed. These are headed by experience community leaders, who assured Dr. Wright the utmost cooperation in the coming election. Dr. Wright also spoke on the great resurgence of the Progress Conservative party throughout Canada as exemplified by the recent meeting held in Toronto for the national leader John Diefenbaker. Backed 100 per cent by Premier Frost of Ontario, Diefenbaker was given a wildly enthusiastic reception by the record-breaking crowd at Massey Hall, he said.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR AIR CADETS OUTLINED TO PTA

CASTLEGAR — Flt. Lieut. W. Reed, Air Cadet Squadron, Castlegar, guest speaker of the Stanley Humphries Parent - Teacher Association meeting, outlined the courses offered to the air cadets and told of some of the privileges the boys and birls may earn. Summer training camps, tours and exchange visits to other countries are sponsored by the RCAF, and are a possibility for any cadet who has taken an interest and works well during the year.

The civilian committee, most of whom are parents of the Cadets, keep the organization functioning by giving much of their time and help to the local group, he said.

Although the high school staff sets the date for the graduation festivities, PTA members discussed at great length the possibility of having the banquet on Thursday or Saturday, rather than Friday, as has been the custom in the past. The suggestion that the banquet and dance be held on separate nights, as is done in many of the larger centres, was tossed back and forth, but no agreement was reached.

Natal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. George David and daughter Terry Sue of Calgary were recent visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Yarovich.

A huge crocheted swan, donated by Mrs. Lundgren, was won by Mrs. Lillian Manuel. A marked chair prize was won by Mrs. Baerg.

The tea tables were decorated with spring flowers donated by a Nelson firm, and Easter lilies donated by A.Ferworn.

The ways and means committee convened the affair, the women being Mrs. Zeebin and Mrs. Schneider in charge of the bake and sale booth, and Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Lundgren, Mrs. Beaulieu, Mrs. Fields, who handled the fish pond. Servers at the tea tables were Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Gillis and Mrs. Tetz, assisted by Mrs. Gouring, Mrs. Edwardson and Mrs. Manuel in the kitchen. Mrs. Poznikoff handled contest tickets and collected the children's lunch money.

Out of town visitors were Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Paul, Mrs. Fiacho, Mrs. Faurot, Mrs. Jorgenson and Mrs. Nellie Faurot.

BOSWELL — Mrs. M. McBurney has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Neily for two weeks, and has left for her home in Cranbrook.

Roy Purser has left for Calgary and will spend two weks in that area.

Twelve Month Test Ahead of Aramburu

.... By BRUCE HENDERSON ....

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—According to the script, Argentina's political drama should reach its climax one year from today.

Provisional President Pedro Aramburu says he will hand over the reins of this country of 19,000,000 to a democratically elected regime on May 1, 1958.

But people here are asking whether Aramburu can manage to stay on stage that long?

PLAN FOR DEMOCRACY

To set Argentina back on the democratic path the government chief has written this political schedule:

July 28, 1957—Election of a 205-member constituent assembly to amend the constitution to restrict the president's power.

Feb. 23, 1953—A general election to choose a constitutional president and new congress. (Aramburu rules by decree.) The last Peron-controlled Senate and Chamber of Deputies were dissolved).

May 1, 1958—The elected government to take office.

HARASSED REGIME

Aramburu says this will be a "great democratic example." Few question his sincerity but most realize that he is pitted against an ominous array of threats. They include:

1. A hard core of diehard Peronists who harass the regime with terrirism, sabotage and whipped-up labor unrest.

2. Many original participants in the anti-Peron revolt who have turned against Aramburu. These are mostly right-wing nationalists.

3. Some of Aramburu's own military backers, who doubt the country is sufficiently "de-Peronized" for elections.

4. A mounting number of politicians who, despite the fact Peron persecuted them, now angle for support of the ex-dictator's followers.

ECONOMIC WOES

Capping all of the president's problems is a critical economic situation inherited from Peron. and even anti-Peronists grumble.

An unending series of strikes have halted needed production and exposed the government to ridicule.

Despite the recurring crises, Aramburu plugs doggedly ahead with his program, determined that nothing will stop his regime's course. The next 12 months should provide the answer.

Royal Portrait Displeases Star

LONDON (Reuters)—A portrait of Prince Philip, described by one London newspaper as "cold, aloof, almost arrogant," promises to be one of the most talked - about paintings of the year when it is shown at this year's Royal Academy summer show Saturday.

The portrait, which the Liberal evening newspaper, The Star, has dubbed "the Iron Duke," is the work of the Italian artist Pietro Annigoni, whose paintings of royalty and English high society have made him world famous.

"I wonder what the Queen thinks of the Annigoni portrait of the Duke of Edinburgh," The Star mused Monday.

"It is of a husband as no wife likes to see him—cold, aloof, almost arrogant. . . .

"He looks 10 years older than he should, his mouth is tight-lipped, his eyes stare out from the shadows of his face with an almost fanatical intensity. . . .

"No one could deny the power of the portrait nor the skill with which the painter has captured the sitter's wintry expression.

"But the effect is frankly frightening. It is just not the duke, and the beaky nose which Annigoni has given him makes one think of Wellington (the Iron Duke) rather than Edinburgh."

CP Membership To Reach 101

TORONTO (CP)—D. B. Rogers, president of The Canadian Press, reported Wednesday that the number of newspapers holding memberships in the national news cooperative will reach 101 this year.

CP is the partnership through which Canada's dailies exchange the news of their areas and bring into the country a world report, including news from The Associated Press, Reuters, and CP staffers stationed outside Canada

This year is CP's 40th. It is also the 50th anniversary of co-operative news - gathering in Canada, begun with formation of the Western Associated Press in 1907, developed through the setting up of eastern associations, and initiated in its present form by the union of these groups in 1917 in the organization from which the present CP has grown.

Mr. Rogers, editor of the Regina Leader-Post, in his presidential address to CP's annual meeting noted that the half-century anniversary this year coincides with the expected issuance of a special postage stamp, recognizing the contribution of newspapers to national development.

General Manager Gillis Purcell reported on the news service generally, including plans for Dominion election campaign coverage.

U.K. Doctors Delay Strike

LONDON (Reuters) — British doctors Wednesday decided to postpone decision on whether to go on strike against the national health service.

The medical men, demanding a 24-per-cent pay increase, have plans ready for a progressive withdrawal of general practitioners from the health service beginning Oct. 2.

The council of the British Medical Association today at a special meeting also agreed to postpone a decision on the question of giving evidence to a royal commission which has been set up to inquire into doctors' pay.

The pay demand would mean an average increase of £10 a week in doctors' salaries and would cost the health service more than £20,000,000 a year.

Wheat Exports Drop in April

OTTAWA (CP)—A sharp drop in overseas wheat exports during the week ended April 17 left Canada's visible wheat supplies standing at 369,591,000 bushels, compared with 369,049,000 a week earlier and 329,857,000 a year before.

Export clearances amounted to 2,377,000 bushels in the week, against the 8,044,000 cleared in last year's corresponding week, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Overseas wheat clearances from the begiming of the new crop year last Aug. 1 were higher by total, however, at 154,297,000 bushels, compared with 147,643,000 a year earlier.

Barley clearances totalled 459,000 bushels for the week and flaxseed 251,000, with none of either being cleared during the corresponding week of 1956. Total overseas clearances during this crop year were up, barley climbing to 42,323,000 bushels from 18,576,000 last year and flaxseed to 15,352,000 from 9,581,000.

Prairie farmers marketed more of the three grains in the week, wheat climbing to 4,707,000 bushels from last year's 4,383,000, barley to 2,407,000 from 596,000, and flaxseed to 332,000 from 45,00.

Cumulative marketings for the crop year were thus boosted, wheat rising to 221,31,000 bushels from 175,978,000, barley to 86,642,000 from 61,123,000, and flaxseed to 22,770,000 from 14,344,00.

CLC Clamps Down On Raiding

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Leaders of the Canadian Labor Congress got tough Tuesday about inter-union raiding and threw out a big union for stealing other affiliates' members.

The executive council of the CLC handed an indefinite suspension to the International Union of Operating Engineers, which has 10 000 members in Canada. The engineers are out permanently unless they promise to behave.

The council, which met Tuesday in advance of today's biennial session of the congress general board of 150 members, dealt with the engineers on the basis of long-standing charges that this union has been reaching into other unions' jurisdictions for members.

Sask. To Investigate Mineral Transactions

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan government announced today it has set up a provincial royal commission to investigate all mineral transactions in Saskatchewan involving the Prudential Trust Co., Ltd. Calgary.

The commision was set up by order-in-council Tuesday following complaints by farmers they had been defrauded out of mineral rights by agents acting in the company's name.

Members of the commission will be Mr. Justice Roy E. Graham, chairman; F. C. Cronkite, dean of the University of Saskatchewan's college of law, and Tom Lax, Regina district farmer.

Mr. Walker said in most instances persons, who believed they were defrauded, were unable to finance court action.

Farmers, who considered they had been defrauded, were advised to bring their case to the attention of the commission's counsel, Roger C. Carter of Saskatoon.

Harold E. Mason, manager of Prudential's Regina branch, said today his company acted merely as trustees and had no financial interest in the purchase and sale of minerals or mineral leases other than that the transactions were carried out under its name.

"We welcome the establishment of the commission," he said, "but would have preferred it to go into the full matter of leasing and purchasing and sale of all mineral interests in Saskatchewan."

Crump Would Ease Railway On Gov't Restrictions

MONTREAL (CP)—The railway industry needs greater freedom from government regulation if it is to compete with otherforms of transport, President N. R. Crump of the Canadian Pacific Railway said Wednesday.

He told the 76th annual meeting of CPR shareholders other needs are an easing of the burden of fixed grain tariffs and revision by the board of transport commissioners of its formula for establishing permissable returns.

It was encouraging to see, he said that the Gordon royal commission on the Canadian economy reconized the necessity to ease the squeeze put on railways' by fixed grain tariffs and rising operating costs. It suggested a subsidy.

One-third to one - quarter of CPR's merchandise traffic volume was carried under statutory tariffs that averaged half a cent per ton-mile, he said, a rate unchanged for 60 years.

MORE CAPITAL NEEDED

Railways in the next 15 years would feel a real and pressing need for more capital to expand. To get this capital CPR must offer investors opportunities comparable to those offered in other industries.

Net receipts for 1956 represented a return of 3.15 per cent on investment, he said, less than what investors could get on government bonds.

Mr. Crump also announced that the CPR has hired a firm of consulting oil engineers to explore 12,000,000 acres of land in Western Canada on which CPR holds mineral rights.

Gaspe Strikers Returning To Work Slowly

TORONTO (CP) — Richard V. Porritt, general manager of Gaspe Copper Mines, said Wednesday more workers are returning to the strike-bound plant every day, and the plant s being put in order with a view to getting back into operation soon.

Mr. Porritt, who is also general manager of Noranda Mines Ltd., said: "Even if we had all the men back now we couldn't be in production yet. Our operation now consists of putting the plant in order. There are miners back at work now, but they are not doing mining yet."

Canadian Davis Cup Star Battles Gamely in Defeat

LONDON (CP)—Canada's Bob Bedard receives high praise from the Times for his sturdy battle against Egypt's formidable Jaroslav Drobny Tuesday in the British hard-court tennis championships at Bournemouth.

The Canadian Davis cupper from Sherbrooke, Que., who won a tournament at Sutton last week, dropped his second - round match to the second - seeded Drobny in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3. But the Times says that wasn't the whole story.

"Bedard, who must have run an equivalent to the distance between Montreal and Quebec, did more than cold figures can say," the Times tennis correspondent reports.

Trailing 1-4 in the opening set, the Canadian broke service and then uncorked three straight passing shots to reduce his deficit to 3-4 before the 1954 Wimbledon champion recovered himself and put the set away.

GALLANT FINISH

"An hour later, the match at last finished on a gallant note," the Times account continues.

"Drobny, serving, led by five games to two and 40-0 .But now Bedard, leaving jagged skidmarks on the court as he retrieved teasing drop shots, saved five consecutive match points.

"Drobny, with a note of admiration, shouted 'enough.' But there was yet one more point saved before the Canadian won the game to make at 3 - 5 amid loud applause."

The self - exiled Czech, who made his first Wimbledon appearance in 1938 at the age of 16, is a longtime favorite in Britain, but Bedard received his full share of applause when Drobny's perfect overhead smash ended the match.

LIPPY LEO MEETS LEAF BALL CLUB

TORONTO (CP) — The manager of a baseball team gets the tag "genius" for a number of reasons that can include hit-or-miss luck, "the breaks" or even his mistakes, says Leo Durocher, ex-baseball manager and national broadcasting company executive.

Durocher told 700 persons at an old timers' annual dinner that the main thing for a manager to do however, is have his players believing he's the greatest manager in the game," even when they know he's wrong about something."

The dinner was a "meet the ball club" affair for Dixie Walker, coach of the Tortono Maple Leafs, and the 1957 International Baseball League team which opened the season in Toronto Thursday.

Fielder, Dechene Unanimous Choices for WHL All-Stars

VANCOUVER (CP) — There were two players without peers in the Western Hockey League this past season, sportwriters and sportscasters in the eight WHL cities have decided.

Centre Guyle Fielder of Seattle Americans, and Lucien Dechene of Brandon Regals were the only unanimous choices by the experts who chose the 1956-57 all-stars.

With Fielder they could hardly go wrong. He scored 33 goals and set up another 89 for 122 points. the most ever scored in one season of professional hockey.

Dechene, who said after a recent game that this had been "his best season ever," made 1,829 saves in 66 games, third highest in the league. But in the vital goals-against - per-game section, his 2.65 average was the best. His fancy back-stopping did much to make Regals the top team in the league.

This year for the first time, the league chose separate all - star rosters for the two divisions.

Brandon ,WHL champions, placed three players in the Prairie Division as did Seattle, Coast Division leaders throughout the season, in the coast section.

Here are the teams with votes received — of a possible 60 — in brackets:

Prairie Division

Goal — Lucien Dechene ,Brandon (60); defence — Bob Chrystal, Brandon (57), Art Michaluk, Calgary (35); centre — Sid Finney, Calgary (45); leftwing — Ray Manson, Brandon (52); rightwing, Bill Mosienko, Winnipeg (54).

Coast Division

Goal — Marcel Pelletier, Victoria (50-½); defence — Lloyd Durham, New Westminster (36-½) Gord Sinclair, Seattle, (36); centre Guyle Fielder, Seattle (60); leftwing — Colin Kilburn , Victoria (45); rightwing — Ray Kinasewitch, Seattle (57).

For the porky Brandon goalie, selection on all-star squads is old stuff. He made it in 1949 ,1951 and 1952 while with New Westminster Royals.

Michaluk now is a three-timer having previously been chosen in 1953 and 1956.

Pelletier, who had the highest percentage this year of goals stopped—91.3 per cent—of any goalie in the league, was the league's all-star goalie in the 1955-56 season.

Durham and Kilburn were also selected last year and Fielder was a choice of the experts in 1954. All others are getting all-star rating for the first time.

Chrystal, a New York Ranger the previous season, and Kinasewitch made impressive showings in the balloting, each drawing first team ranking from every selector but one.

Alberni Plans Large Events For Centennial

ALBERNI (CP) — A giant track and field meet and a Senior A basketball tournament with the best talent in the northwest competing are planned for the Albernis in centennial year.

Work has commenced on the district high school track oval. Alberni and Port Alberni city councils granted the centennial committee permission to call on city-owned equipment for use in centennial year projects.

Major effort of the committee will be construction of a full-sized, fully-equipped track oval at the high school. Dave Smith, chairman of the centennial committee, told both city councils that $10,000 was earmarked for the project.

Mounties Slide To Fourth Slot

VANCOUVER (CP) — A record crowd in Capilano Stadium watched Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast League make their 1957 home debut Tuesday night. The Mounties lost 10-5 to San Diego Padres and slid into fourth place, one-half game behind the leading Los Angeles Angels.

The crowd of 10,047 was some 2000 more than the previous record, set at the 1956 Vancouver opener. Lineups for bleacher seats began to form 1½ hours before game time and 15 minutes before Defence Minister Ralph Campney threw the opening pitch to Vancouver's Mayor Fred Hume there was not a seat to be had in the stadium.

Ground crews roped off a 20-foot strip in front of the outfield fences where children scrambled for fly balls throughout the game. A hit into the roped-off area was an automatic double.

It was announced during the game tickets were being sold for Sunday's doubleheader here against the Padres even though the British Columbia legislature at its last session turned down a Vancouver Sunday sports bylaw.

Riggin, Denny Olson WHL Rookies of Year

SEATTLE (CP) — Brandon goalkeeper Lucien Dechene and Seattle centre-man Guyle Fielder have been chosen by sportswriters and sportscasters as the most valuable players in the Prairie and Coast Divisions respectively of the Western Hockey League, the WHL announced.

Dennis Riggin, Edmonton goaltender, and Dennis Olson, winger of the New Westminster Royals, were named best rookies in the respective divisions.

The selections were made by sports reporters in each of the eight WHL cities. All four winners will receive $100 and a trophy.

Dechene's MVP award is his second. He was chosen the League's most valuable player when he was with New Westminster during the 1951-52 season. The same year, Fielder was named outstanding rookie, playing for the Royals.

Dechene led goalkeepers of both divisions during the past season with a goals against average of 2.65.

Outstanding rookie Dennis Riggin played 67 games for the Flyers and had a goals against average of 2.98. He was born in Kincardine, Ont., in 1936 and played junior hockey with the Hamilton Tigers. Riggin is the first goalie to win the WHL rookie award.

The other rookie award winner, Olson, scored 39 ponits in playing the entire 70-game schedule with New Westminster. He was born in Kenora, Ont., in 1934 and played junior hockey with Port Arthur Flyers. In 1955-56 he was with Troy of the International League and led the IHL scoring.

Both Riggin and Olson are the property of Detroit Red Wings.

SALMO MINERS ORGANIZING FOR 1957 SEASON

The Salmo entry this season in the West Kootenay Women's Softball League will be known as Salmo Miners. Last year, Salmo, Rossland and Nelson were all named Royals, which caused considerable confusion during the playoffs.

Lily Haigh, president; Elvina Kraft, secretary; and Flo Comeau, treasurer, have set up several committees to canvass Salmo businessmen for donations in order to purchase new equipment for the club.

Practices are being held every Monday and Thursday evening.

DUPAS ANCESTRY STILL IN DOUBT

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Louisiana State Athletic Commission Tuesday informed Ralph Dupas, No. 4 lightweight, he can not box in Louisiana without showing a birth certificate. Dupas has been called a Negro and Louisiana law prohibits bouts between Negro and white fighters.

The statements calling Dupas a Negro were made before the April 8 fight between Dupas and welterweight Vince Martinez, a white fighter from Paterson, N.J. At that time, the commission said it would not halt the fight because the statements had not been proven.

Archie Overweight But Wins Easily

ESSEN, Germany (AP)—Archie Moore, pudgy and overweight, scored an easy 10-round decision today over German heavyweight Hans Kalbefell. Moore weighed 206 and Kalbefell /210½.

The 40-year-old American from San Diego floored Kalbefell twice for nine counts.

The bout was little more than a workout for the light - heavyweight champion, who is getting in shape for a scheduled June 7 defence against Tony Anthony.

The SHORT CIRCUIT

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor

Rare indeed are the occasions when one is allowed to look into the past without being faced by masses of fog. The fact of their rareness makes them more welcome because one never knows when he again will be entitled to turn back the pages of history.

For a period of 15 or 20 seconds Wednesday evening, Ray Robinson treated a capacity crowd of paying customers and untold millions of televiewers to a glance at the man, who, in his prime, was acclaimed "the greatest fighter, pound-for-pound, in the world."

Prancing on his toes like a fencer eager for "en garde," moving and punching like a well-lubricated machine, the dancing dandy from Harlem threw three blows at Gene Fullmer to win for the fourth time the middleweight championship of the world.

Greatness is not a transient quality. It stays long after those skills possessed by ordinary men have ceased to be. But even for one as great as Robinson, 17 years in the rugged wars of personal combat exact stiff tolls from one's mind and reflexes.

Robinson's right to the peculiar and grudging knighthood of ringdom was proven Wednesday against an able fighter. Not a great fighter is Gene Fullmer, but rather a rugged and tenacious battler to whom quitting is entirely foreign.

Fullmer was not a Bobo Olson, set up for sacrifice on the sacrificial altar. He is a fine young man who lives by the standards of Mormon religious leaders. Fullmer's only shortcoming was his inability to match ring arsenals with the willowy Robbie.

After the previous encounter when Fullmer took home the short end of a sizeable pay-check, Robinson's hangers-on screeched of unfairness. They claimed that Fullmer held, that he butted, that he hit low, that he rabbit-punched.

He did none of those things. The offender to these eyes was Sugar Ray. It is to Ray's credit that he took no part in the criticisms; he also promised things would be different next time—if there was a next time.

Next time came, and went. Along with it went Fullmer, a writhing hulk who tried valiantly to escape the inevitable. He finally collapsed onto his back and remained there as the referee's arm came down for the 10th time.

Who is in a position to say what the future will bring for Ray Robinson? What can it bring that will match the successes of his past?

The fondest hope of worshippers of ring genius is that in future bouts, Robinson will enable his fans to once again peek into the hallowed days of ring history.

LONG, LEE WALLS GO FROM PIRATES TO CHICAGO CUBS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — First baseman Dale Long, the toast of Pittsburgh last spring when he broke home run records, was traded Wednesday with outfielder Lee Walls to Chicago Cubs for first baseman Dee Fondy and infielder Gene Baker.

The straight player deal between the seventh-place Pirates and the last place Cubs was announced in Brooklyn and Pittsburgh.

Pirate manager Bobby Bragan said "the big man in the deal for us was Baker."

Charley Grimm, Chicago vice-president, said Walls gave the Cubs "a pretty good hitter, able to play centrefield," and Long could furnish first base power.

Bragan said he would use the 31-year-old Baker at shortstop and would move Dick Groat to third. Frank Thomas and Fondy, he added, will alternate at first but Thomas also would be used in the outfield.

With Baker gone, Chicago manager Bob Scheffing said he would shift shortstop Ernie Banks to third and would try rookie Ed Winceniak at shortstop.

Salk Vaccine for All Under 40 Next Year

VICTORIA (CP) — Provincial health officials said Wednesday it was still planned to give all residents of B.C. under the age of 40 free anti-polio Salk vaccine shots by next year.

Victoria doctors are at present preparing to administer three shots of vaccine to anyone at a price of $3.

Robinson Cops Title for Fourth Time

Aging Sugar Ray Bombs Fullmer With Stunning Left Hook in 5th

By JACK HAND

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson brushed back the years for one electrifying burst of violence Wednesday night to knock out champion Gene Fullmer with a left hook to the jaw in 1:27 of the fifth round.

Thus the Sugar man became the first man ever to win the world middleweight title four times.

Robinson, a 3½-to-1 underdog, softened up the 25-year-old champion with two solid right hand punches to the body and then drove home a terrific left that dropped Fullmer to the Chicago Stadium deck.

Writhing on the canvas, Fullmer attempted to get up. But he jack-knifed back on his face and was counted out by referee Frank Sikora, the first time he had been stopped in his 44-bout career.

AVENGES DEFEAT

With this one flash from his glorious past, the man who once was called "the greatest fighter pound for pound in the world" avenged his unanimous decision defeat by the sturdy boy from West Jordan, Utah, at New York's Madison Square Garden Jan. 2.

This was a different Robinson from the inept, faded workman who clutched desperately in an effort to go 15 rounds four months ago.

The bull-necked champ from the West had been banging away at Robinson's body and charging in fearlessly under Robinson's sporadic fire in the earlier rounds.

Fullmer had piled up a slender 19-18 lead on points on the cards of all three officials in the first four rounds.

Referee Sikora had warned Fullmer for a cracking left hook that strayed low in the third round, but he did not take away any points under the "five-point-must system" used in Illinois scoring.

Robinson's dramatic upset victory earned him a July match with welterweight champion Carmen Basilio.

When Robinson finally got his chance to turn it on he let loose with both hands with deadening effect. When Sugar Ray tried to punch in bursts last January, Fullmer merely shook off the blows and came in stronger than ever.

Although the record books say Robinson will be 37 Friday, he insists his correct age will be 36. In any event, he punched with his effectiveness of old in that one blinding flurry that ended Fullmer's reign at one day short of four months.

It was in this same stadium ring that Robinson first won the middleweight title from Jake Lamotto in 1951.

REFEREE WARNS

In the final seconds of the second round, the veteran from New York flurried briefly with both hands only to meet a Fullmer who came back punching.

Robinson moved out of his corner fast at the beginning of the third. He was at mid-ring before Fullmer was off his stool.

However, a crashing right to the ribs by Fullmer slowed him down.

Then came the hook by the champion that drew the warning from Sikora.

Robinson was beginning to find his target in the fourth. With about 45 seconds to go he caught Fullmer with a series of punches ending with a hook to the head. Instead of backing off to take cover, Fullmer rushed Ray into his own corner and held off the attack for the rest of the round.

NEVER BEATEN TWICE

As Robinson stretched out in his corner before the fifth, he looked tired. When Fullmer flailed away from a wild right Robinson stepped away and slammed a hard right to the body.

After another Fullmer right missed its mark, Robinson dug a right deep to the body and followed with another right to the body. As Fullmer straightened, Robinson pulled the trigger on the left hook that ended it.

No man ever has beaten Robinson twice in his long career and he has lost only five times in 148 starts since 1940.

MEMORIAL CUP SET EVENED BY FLIN FLON

REGINA (CP)—Flin Flon Bombers exploded for three goals in the third period Wednesday night to defeat Ottawa Canadiens 3-1 and tie their best-of-seven Memorial Cup junior hockey series 2-2.

The balance of the series will be played in Regina with the fifth game Friday and the sixth Saturday.

Wednesday night's game was almost a repetition of Flin Flon's opening victory, with the western champions scoring into an open net in the final seconds of play.

The Flin Flon front line of Teddy Hampson, Patty Ginnell and Mel Pearson scored for the Bombers before a near-capacity crowd of 5118 fans. Hampson, Saskatchewan junior league scoring champion, also got two assists.

ICE STICKY

Billy Carter scored Ottawa's lone goal.

The teams played a scoreless first period, with Ottawa moving ahead in the second on a goal by Carter at 15:36.

Bombers held a decided edge in play after the opening period. Both teams appeared cautious and checked extremely closely. The players seemed to have trouble with the ice, which appeared sticky.

Flin Flon coach Bob Kirk placed his regular netminder, George Wood, back into the net. Wood played in the first two games of the final but sat out the third, which Ottawa won 5-2, because of a hand injury.

STAR HAB CENTRE TO TAKE CHECKUP

MONTREAL (CP) — Jean Beliveau, star centre of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, said Wednesday he is to leave here Sunday for the Lahey Clinic in Boston for a complete medical checkup.

The league's top scorer last year, Beliveau finished third this year following a mid-season slump.

Near the end of the season, Beliveau was examined by his personal physician and found to be suffered from a kidney ailment. It cleared quickly but for a time it was feared he would have to quit hockey and take a rest.

Victoria Shamrocks Dump Vancouver

VICTORIA (CP) — Victoria Shamrocks scored their second victory of the 1957 inter-city lacrosse league season here Wednesday night by dumping the speedy Vancouver Pilseners 17-11 before nearly 3000 fans.

Led by the four-goal performance of starry Jack Bionda and Al Gill, the Rocks took command at the start and were never behind although the Pils made it a battle all the way.

Lew Landess, Ed Kowalyk and Bert Bertioa each scored twice for the winners while Gordie Gimple topped the losers with two goals and two assists.

FRENCH, FINNISH BOW

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Austria defeated France 4-0 and Spain crushed Finland 7-0 in an international field hockey tourney Wednesday.

WORLD CUP MATCH

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters) — Wales defeated Czechoslovakia 1-0 in a world soccer cup preliminary game here Wednesday night after a scoreless first half.

POSITION BETTERED

DUBLIN (Reuters) — Distillery beat Crusaders 2-1 Tuesday night to improve its position at the top of the Irish League standings.

CHAMPION AGREES TO TITLE DEFENCE

CHICAGO (AP) — Promoter Joe Dupler of Denver said Wednesday lightweight champion Joe Brown of New Orleans had agreed to defend his title against Orlando Zulueta at Denver "sometime in June."

Dupler said the exact date would be announced

The 15-round match would be the second defense for the 31-year-old champion who won his crown from Wallace (Bud) Smith last August and beat Smith in a return match at Miami Beach in February.

Zulueta, 28, is ranked No. 3 among the contenders in Ring Magazine and No. 5 in the National Boxing Associaiton ratings.

Bruins Complete Don Simmons Deal

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Bruins Wednesday completed the deal in which they obtained Springfield goalie Don Simmons, who played in the last half of the National Hockey League season.

The Bruins shifted forward Floyd Smith and defenceman Don Cherry from Hersey, their American Hockey League farm club, to Springfield, also in the AHL.

Bruins obtained Simmons, a native of Port Colborne, Ont., from Springfield after Terry Sawchuk quit. Later in the season the Bruins also obtained forward Buddy Boone from Springfield.

Lynn Patrick, Boston general manager, said the transfer of players might lead to other deals.

PORTUGAL DEFEATED

BELFAST (Reuters) — Northern Ireland defeated Portugal 3-0 in a World Soccer Cup preliminary game here Wednesday night. Northern Ireland led 1-0 at halftime.

Ray Manson's Late Marker Evens Series for Brandon

QUEBEC (CP) — Ray Manson scored with a 30-foot drive with five seconds remaining in the third period Wednesday night to give Brandon Regals a 2-1 win over Quebec Aces and tie the best-of-nine Edinburgh Trophy hockey series at one game each.

Manson's counter came just 10 seconds after the Aces had knotted the score on Skip Teal's close-in blast.

Les Colwill had given the Western Hockey League champions the lead at 12:58 of the third stanza when he batted the puck past Quebec goalie Al Millar from just outside the crease.

Next game of the series will be in Montreal Thursday. All other games will be played here with the fourth contest scheduled for Sunday.

The clubs battled through more than 50 minutes of vicious, hard-checking hockey before either could score. Brandon goalie Lucien Dechene was outstanding in kicking out 31 shots—26 in the two opening periods.

Brandon opened strong in the first period but faltered when defenceman Howie Milford was thumbed for intereference near the six-minute mark.

The Aces took over and had an edge on much of the play through the second period but could not fool Dechene. The Prairie division's unanimous choice for all-star goalie twice robbed Quebec centre Gene Achtymichuk on drives from just outside the crease.

The Quebec Hockey League champions also controlled the play early in the final period. Dick Gamble cut loose a partly-screened shot that caromed off the goals post and a minute later passed to Stan Maxwell who had a good chance at the open corner of the cage but shot wide.

MANSON MISSED

The Westerners stiffened after Colwill opened the scoring. Manson missed one chance on the open corner during a regal attack. Bob Chorley also missed an unguarded net when he stole the puck after goalie Al Millar had come way out to clear.

Aces' strategy paid off when they pulled Millar with just over a minute remaining in the game. Their six-man attack held the puck in the Brandon end until Teal was able to flip it past Dechene while the Regal netminder was sprawled in the goal.

Former Eskimo In Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, hoping to fortify their offensive tackle positions, Wednesday signed a pair of free agents, Bob Dean and Marv Rawley.

Dean, a 6-0, 245-pound lineman, played for the Edmonton Eskimos in Canada from 1953 to 1955. A 1951 graduate of the University of Maryland, he kicked field goals and conversions for the Eskimos.

Rawley was signed by the National Football League club on the recommendation of coach Frank Nassida of Ft. Lewis, Wash. The 6-2, 245-pound Rawley never played college football. He has turned in a 10.3-second 100-yard dash.

ORFU Picture Said Crucial

SARNIA (CP)—M. J. Chilton, newly-elected president of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, told a meeting Wednesday that the general picture for the senior ORFU this year is bright.

"I consider this to be a crucial year for the league," he added.

Speaking to members of the Sarnia Quarterback Club, Chilton said it was a crucial year for the ORFU because of the proposed television deal involving home games of the Toronto Beaches and the test game between the ORFU winners and one of the Big Four semi-finalists.

Chilton was empowered by the union deal with Cass Kell Productions of Toronto in regard to a package TV deal concerning the six Beaches' home games at Varsity Stadium.

If the league as a whole has a successful year and if the TV deal is a success, Chilton said he felt the ORFU will be off and running in 1958.

If the deal were approved, the games would be sent by microwave to a station in Buffalo and possibly to another in Detroit.

Braves, White Sox Retain Top Slots

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The surprising Chicago White Sox continued their winning ways Wednesday, rolling over Baltimore 9-3 for their third straight triumph. Victorious in nine of its first 11 games, Al Lopez' hustling club increased its first-place margin in the American League to two games.

Milwaukee's Braves, only club with a better won - lost record than the White Sox, rebounded from Tuesday's shutout by New York to defeat the Giants 5-1 in 10 innings. It was the Braves' 10th victory in 12 starts and kept them in undisputed possession of first place in the National League one game in front of Brooklyn.

The Dodgers defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-2.

St. Louis took over sole possession of third place in the National, trouncing Pittsburgh Pirates 9-2.

KC WINS

Kansas City defeated Boston 7-5 dropping the Red Sox two games behind Chicago and only a half game in front of the New York Yankees, who evened their series against Detroit with a 7 - 4 triumph. Cleveland, in fourth place, jumped over the .500 mark for the first time this season with a come - from - behind 7-6 victory over Washington.

Minnie Minoso spearheaded an 11 - hit White Sox attack against four Baltimore pitchers by driving in four runs with a double, two singles and a sacrifice fly. Lefty Jack Harshman was credited with the victory. George Kell got four of the Orioles' nine hits.

Tony Kubek, the Yankees' brilliant rookie prospect, hit his first major league home run and contributed two singles to lead the Yankees to their victory over Detroit. Tommy Byrne, an old Tiger nemesis, earned the victory in relief of Art Ditmar, gaining his 19th triumph over Detroit in 28 decisions. Frank Lary was the loser.

NARLESKI SAVES IT

Vic Wertz' two-run single in the seventh gave Cleveland its see-saw victory over Washington. The Senators, held to one hit by Herb Score through the first six innings knocked the spectacular southpaw from the box with a five-run outburst in the seventh to take a 6-4 lead. Ray Narleski, in relief, was the winner.

Virgil Trucks, with a splendid 6 2- 3 -inning runless relief performance, gained his third victory of the season as the Athletics spotted Boston a 5-2 lead in the first two innings and went on to rout Dave Sisler. Ted Williams hammered his fifth homer for the Red Sox. Gus Zernial and Harry Simpson homered for the winners.

Frank Torre and Bobby Thomson hit 10th-inning homers after Danny O'Connell had opened with a triple to feature a four-run outburst that gave Milwaukee its victory over New York. Warren Spahn, who won his fourth straight game, had a shutout until the ninth when Ossie Virgil tripled and scored the tying run on a single by pinch hitter Ray Jablonski.

COOPER HOMERS

Roy Campanella and Gil Hodges each drove in a couple of runs as young Don Drysdale won his second game for Brooklyn. The 20 - year - old righthander hurled a seven - hitter, one of which was a homer by Ernie Banks.

Walker Cooper got a pinch hit homer and Stan Musial rapped two doubles as the Cardinals scored six runs in the last two innings in their rout of the Pirates. Willard Schmidt gained his first St. Louis triumph.

In the only game played at night, the Cincinnati Redlegs moved into a fourth place tie with New York by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 8-6 in 16 innings. Wally Post broke up the longest game of the young season with a two-run single. Singles by Roy McMillan and Smoky Burgess off loser Dick Farrell preceded Post's hit. Warren Hacker, fifth of six Cincinnati pitchers, was the winner.

New York Probable Site of Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a good possibility that the featherweight championship fight between Nigeria's Hugan (Kid) Bassey and France's Cherif Hamia will be held in New York State.

That was the opinion expressed by George Biddles, manager of Bassey, before he and the tiny British Empire champion left by plane Wednesday for London.

Bassey, who lives in Liverpool, earned the bout against Hamia for the vacant world title by outclassing Puerto Rico's Miguel Berrios in Washington last Friday.

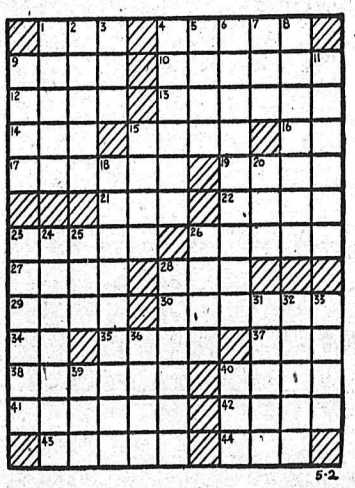
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

W M H J H W J K S V J J W E K G T X H X A H R
W J A N V K J W S N V J S A E W R H C N E
R W T E N A U — E N W U V K U V J J.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote—NO ONE CAN BUILD HIS SECURITY UPON THE NOBLENESS OF ANOTHER PERSON —WILLA CATHER.

To Draft Men For Service By Lucky Draw

CANBERRA, Australia (Reuters)—Australia will draft men for military service by a "lucky draw" system, the government announced tonight.

Labor Minister Harold Holt told the House of Representatives a number of birth dates will be drawn each year and youths whose birthdays fall on the drawn dates will be liable for call-up. All others will be deferred.

The government announced last month that under a new defence plan national service conscripts will go into the army only. They have three months full training and attend parades and classes once a week for two years. The number of conscripts will be cut this year to 12,000 from 33,000.

Warehouse Burns In Halifax Fire

HALIFAX (CP) — Fire roared through a wholesale equipment warehouse on the Halifax waterfront Wednesday, causing damage estmated unofficially by firemen at more than $100,000. No one was injured.

The blaze gutted most of the two-storey building on Upper Water Street occupied by Industrial Suppliers Ltd.

Firemen fought the two-alarm outbreak for two hours before controlling it.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP)—Oils surged ahead strongly Wednesday pacing the stock market as a whole to a fair-sized recovery movement. Aluminums staged some good advances. Steels made small gains.

TORONTO (CP) — Western oils and industrials paced the stock market to a decided advance in moderate trading.

The oils recorded an index gain of more than 2½ points and industrials were up almost two points.

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed in a firmer tone.

Frantic Parents Surrender Son

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Juvenile officers are seeking a child abandonment complaint against 43-year-old Mrs. Sadie Bernstein, who walked into a police staton with her teen-aged son and said:

"You take him. I don't want him any more."

Authorities said Mrs. Bernstein acknowledged that her action "was unconventional," but said her 13-year-old son was incorigible.

"Basically," she said, "he's a good kid and intelligent. But he's destructive. He steals and lies and everything he touches is destroyed."

Said the boy's father, Nathan, 56: "We didn't know what to do . . . If we have to go to jail for this, that's the way it has to be."

The boy is being kept in a juvenile shelter.

Gramps Excused Family Pays Up

NEW PLYMOUTH, N.Z. (CP) — Ted Zinsli put on his best blue suit, pinned his coronation medal to his coat, and set off for court.

The 101-year-old veteran of the Franco-Prussian War was indignant. He had been charged with being found in a hotel bar after legal hours for buying liquor.

Charged with him were his 72-year-old son, George Zinsli, and his great-grandson, Robin Zinsli.

When his name was called, Ted strode forward shouting: "I plead guilty."

Then he told his story: "It was a Friday night and I had some groceries to get for the weekend. I am not allowed out at night on my own and I had to take my son with me.

"I had a bit of a heart attack and I said to my son: 'I must get a brandy.' My son said: 'You had better not,'" but I insisted.

NO DRINK

"We went into the Bridge Hotel, but we did not get a drink. The police came and took our names.

"It is the first time in 101 years that I or any member of my family has been charged with breaking the licensing laws."

The magistrate was sympathetic.

"When a man reaches 101 and is able to walk into an hotel, even with an escort, to get a brandy to help his heart along, I would not like to be the one to enter the first conviction at this late stage.

"His son and great-grandson are sharing some fo the penalty for him and I am sure they will not mind if I make a special dispensation in this case."

He discharged Ted Zinsli and fined the others the equivalent of $5 each.

Urges Readable Books for Kiddies

MONTREAL (CP)—A Montreal professor says the curious and persevering young pupil will have little trouble with reading, unless he has some emotional problem or physical defect to overcome.

Charles Rittenhouse, supervisor of English for the Montreal Protestant School Board, says the reason for poor reading is mostly lack of practice.

"It isn't just the practice, it's what the child practices when he does practice," he said in a recent talk to the community council of suburban Notre Dame de Grace.

If 10-year-old Johnny had 25 good, understandable juvenile books in his home and if his parents added to the library there would probably be no problem about his reading.

Reading was the ability to understand the author's meaning and to judge the worth of what he had to say.

PARENTS' COMPLAINT

A mistake many complaining parents made was that they often chose books too difficult for their children to understand.

"They have the mistaken idea that many of the children's classics are required reading for their 10-year-old child," he said. "However, even the old familiars like Robinson Crusoe, Tom Sawyer and Treasure Island are often too difficult for the young reader and should be saved until he is about 13."

SINGS IN JAPAN

TOKYO (AP) — Richard Tucker, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, will give 10 concerts in Japan this summer under sponsorship of the Tokyo newspaper Asahi and the American National Theatre and Academy.

No Interference On Newsprint Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday announced it will not interfere with substantial cuts in rail freight rates on newsprint shipments from points in British Columbia, Oregon and Washington to California destinations.

The cuts, effective today, are designed to match the charges of coastal water carriers, who asked ICC to block the railroad reductions.

The revisions, varying accordfrom Vancouver to San Francisco from 99 cents a 100 pounds on a 50,000-pound shipment to 75 cents a 100 if the shipment weighed at least 55,000 pounds and to 63½ pounds or more.

The Vancouver-Los Angeles rate would be cut from $1.09 for 50,000 pounds.

Aluminum Company Tries End Strike Threat

ARVIDA, Que. (CP) — Officials of the Aluminum Company of Canada and of the National Metal Trades Federation (CCCL) are continuing efforts to avert a strike of the 6,000 aluminum workers in this Lake St. John district town.

The officials met Tuesday and again Wednesday in an attempt to settle a wage dispute and other points at issue in a new collective bargaining agreement.

The employees have authorized their union to call a strike to back demands for an immediate wage increase of 30 cents an hour and a two-year contract. The minimum wage now is $1.52 an hour.

The union has rejected wage and contract recommendations made by a provincial conciliation board.

At a meeting Tuesday, the company reiterated its original offer —approved by a majority of the conciliation board—of a wage increase of 47.5 cents an hour spread over the next three years. The increase would amount to 23.6 cents in the first year. The remainder would be evenly divided over the next two years.

A union source said a strike can be called May 9 or later if a settlement is not reached before then.

DISARMEMENT TO BE NATO TOPPIC

BONN (AP) — NATO foreign ministers assembled here for a three-day meeting which U.S. State Secretary Dulles said "will seek to assure to our peoples the blessings of justice and peace."

Russia's latest disarmament proposals, announced Tuesday night, are certain to be a major topic at the talks opening in Bonn Thursday on mutual political problems of the 15 NATO powers. Intial Western reaction to the Soviet proposals, which included a limited acceptance of President Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan, was generally cool.

Lord Ismay of Britain, NATO's retiring secretary-general, told reporters in a preview of tasks facing the Allied foreign ministers that a new appraisal of NATO defence strategy will be ready next August.

NUCLEAR EQUIPMENT

He said the military planners almost certainly will recommend that the member nations accept nuclear equipment for their air, land and sea forces. He stressed that no country will be forced to accept such a proposal.

The news Soviet disarmament plan was advanced for initial consideration within the UN disarmament sub - committee which is meeting in London.

Young Mayo Man Killed In Flight

PENHOLD, Alta. (CP) —The RCAF Wendnesday released the name of a student pilot killed Tuesday when his Harvard training plane crashed into a field three miles northwest of the air force base here.

He was identified as Flight Cade t Robert N. Close, 24, of Mayo, NWT, about 200 miles north of Whitehorse.

A board of inquiry was set up to investigate the cause of the crash which came durng a routine night training flight.
