Gov't To Move On Three Fronts

Ottawa to Study Tax-Sharing Plans; Conference Adjourns Till Next Year

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The two-day federal-provincial conference adjourned late Tuesday until early next year to await the federal government's tax-sharing proposals.

But Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced, following a closed-doors session with the 10 premiers, that his central government plans to move ahead on its own with three other projects:

1. Special federal "grants in aid" to the four Atlantic province governments—the amount undisclosed—to help offset their below-average economic position.

2. An $11,500,000 expansion in federal sharing of provincial costs for unemployment.

3. A start some time next year in federal payments for provincial hospital insurance plans, without waiting—as now required—for six provinces to have hospital insurance legislation in force.

The final closed session followed 1½ days of open meetings in which the 10 premiers called for a bigger share of the direct tax fields shared by the two levels of government and threw in a multitude of other requests, most of them involving further loads on the federal treasury.

ESTIMATES COST

Federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming, in a speech winding up the open sittings, estimated the total provincial demands as costing "something substantially in excess of $1,500,000,000 a year.

Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters afterwards that it had been made clear to the premiers that "there are just so many dollars" in the federal treasury.

On the central issue of a new tax-sharing agreement, a joint communique issued at the close started

"It was understood that no endeavor would be made to reach conclusions on this matter prior to further consideration of the subject by the Dominion government.

"It was agreed that a subsequent meeting be held as soon as possible in the New Year in accordance with the proposal made by the Dominion government in calling this conference.

VARIED OPINIONS

Provincial premiers expressed varied opinions when questioned by reporters following the meeting.

Premier Frost of Ontario was asked whether the federal government showed indications of meeting his province's position, which involved a sharply-expanded provincial share of national revenues.

"I wouldn't say that," he replied. "But it was a very excellent conference and there was a good attitude all around."

Premier Campbell of Manitoba asked about the federal reception to his proposals, which included a bid for an even larger share than Ontario asked, said:

"We're always hopeful anyway. I can't say more than that."

Jupiter Missile Unsuccessful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The U.S. army fired its Jupiter missile into the skies Tuesday night, but said later the test was unsuccessful.

The missile was visible for four minutes.

Shortly after the firing, the public information office at Patrick Air Force Base issued a statement saying the missile "failed to complete its programmed flight because of technical difficulties."

No details were available as to how far the intermediate range ballistics missile travelled but spectators on the beach near the missile test centre said it appeared to go straight up until it was out of sight.

U.K.-EGYPT NEAR AGREEMENT

ROME (AP) — The first phase of British-Egyptian talks on a financial settlement after the Suez crisis "are very near an end" with agreement in sight, an Egyptian diplomatic source said Tuesday.

This source said the British "are finally meeting our requests for release of most of Egypt's frozen assets in Britain."

He said reports that Britain was willing to release £23,500,000 were "probably correct."

A British source close to the negotiations, which have been going on here off and on since May, declined to confirm or deny the report.

YOUNG CRESTON MAN KILLED

Logs Roll Off Truck Killing E. Glowacz

CRERSTON — Well known Creston resident, Edward Glowacz, 26, married only six weeks ago, was reported to have been killed instantly Monday afternoon when a truckload of logs rolled over him at Parson, B.C.

Mr. Glowacz was foreman of the Ellard Contracting Company at Parson, south of Golden.

Reports reaching here said that a clamp holding a cable broke as Mr. Glowacz was inspecting the load on one side of the truck, while the driver inspected the other. Loading had just been completed.

He is survived by his wife, Vivian, a school teacher.

Liberals Blamed For Stamp Design

OTTAWA (CP) — Postmaster-General William Hamilton has indicated he is trying to do something about his opposition-days criticism of Canada's postage stamp designs.

He said Tuesday numbers will be printed bigger on future stamps. The possibility of printing all stamps of one denomination in the same color also is being studied, he informed Gordon K. Fraser (PC—Peterborough) in the Commons.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) broached the matter with a reference to Mr. Hamilton as the "colonel-in-chief of philately and a former caustic opposition critic of the postal engraver's art."

Respecting the stamp to be issued Jan. 22 in tribute to the press, "does the minister consider it appropriate that Canada should be stood on end to achieve this objective?" he asked.

Printed vertically on the right-hand side of the black and white stamp is the word "Canada."

Mr. Hamilton said the stamp "is just one other example of the many things stood on end by the previous government."

He had found that the design for the stamp had been approved last April—"preceding the June 10 election." (Stamp appeared in Daily News Monday.)

Diesel Conversion Complete by 1960

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway's system-wide conversion from steam to diesel will be completed by 1960, J. N. Fraine said here Tuesday.

Mr. Fraine, vice-president of the CPR's Pacific Region, told the Canadian Pacific Pioneers Association annual luncheon that diesels now are handling 83 per cent of the company's passenger operation.

The company has 815 diesel units operating and a total of 1300 units will be required to complete the diesel program.

Six Still Missing . . .

Inquest Opens in Landslide Disaster

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP) — Bodies of six people lost in a landslide here last Friday remained buried under tons of rock and mud Tuesday.

Only one of the seven people killed when the top of a mountain was washed away by a gale-driven deluge and rumbled down on three homes has been located.

He was five-months-old James Murray, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, also died. James's sister, 18-months-old Selma Murray, escaped when the slide somehow carried her on its surface instead of swallowing her up.

Police directing the search for bodies Tuesday discounted reports that an eighth person apparently died in the ocean of mud which swept the three homes into Oldfield Creek.

The reports said that a transient who often visited one of the homes had not been seen since last Thursday. However police said this probably was John Vandall, already identified as one of the missing.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perry and George Henderson.

An inquest into the tragedy opened Tuesday afternoon and was adjourned.

Among those present were Lewis Oppen and Alvin Oppen of Houston, B.C., grandfather and uncle respectively of the rescued Murray child. They plan to make a home for her.

An offer to adopt little Selma Murray had been made by a West Vancouver woman.

Parliament Tuesday

By The Canadian Press

External Affairs Minister Sidney Smtih called on NATO to formulate more co-ordinated policies in the political, economic and military spheres.

Former Liberal external affairs minister Lester B. Pearson said the joint Canada-U.S. air defence command should be under NATO control.

CCF Leader Coldwell said U.S. and Russian diplomacy has degenerated into exchanges of insults and threats; Canada should not tolerate this drift to disaster.

A. B.. Patterson (SC — Fraser Valley) proposed an all-party consultative committee of the Commons to help ensure a non-partisan foreign policy.

Justice Minister Davie Fulton said his department is investigating charges made by Toronto lawyer Lewis Duncan in connection with a Supreme Court case.

CLOSURE LIFTED

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Department of Highways announced Tuesday that a closure of a portion of the Fraser Canyon to trucks now has been lifted.

Truck traffic had been banned from Mile Nine to Hope because of road conditions.

CO-ORDINATED NATO POLICY URGED BY SMITH

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith Tuesday called on NATO to formulate more co-ordinated policies in the political, economic and military spheres.

His call, made in his maiden Commons speech, was echoed by Lester B. Pearson, former external affairs minister.

Both men discussed what they believe should be accomplished by the NATO summit meeting in Paris next month.

The one-day foreign policy debate was, generally speaking, not a debate at all. Mr. Smith indicated that he endorsed the foreign policies of the previous Liberal government and Mr. Pearson on the whole supported what Mr. Smith had to say.

CCF Leader Coldwell said he had rather expected a "more specific" outline of the new Progressive Conservative government's foreign policy.

UN Concerned Over Illness

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Word of President Eisenhower's illness caused shock and concern at the United Nations Tuesday.

A number of delegates from countries friendly to the United States, while declining to be quoted directly, expressed apprehension over what this development will mean in connection with American foreign policy.

One source predicted that the president's illness will have a more disastrous impact on the U.S. in general than his two previous ones.

In those periods, this source recalled, uncertainty over the president's condition resulted in a wave of uneasiness in investment circles despite the fact the U.S. economic position was basically strong.

Now, however, the U.S. is faced with the threat of a general economic recession. And this, coupled with the mounting concern over Russia's recent scientific gains, makes the issue of the president s health much more likely to have far-reaching effects than during the previous illnesses.

Morocco Reports Revolt Crushed

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Unofficial reports from Moroccan Nationalist quarters said Tuesday night a revolt that exploded in the Spanish colony of Ifni last weekend has been crushed.

Nationalist circles here, which announced the revolt last Sunday, indicated there had been no more violent incidents in the tiny enclave on the West African coast.

Meanwhile, dispatches from Madrid said Spanish Generalissimo Franco and his military advisors had a planning session of more than three hours Tuesday and shaped measure to halt any more attacks by Ifni rebel forces.

Spanish government informants in Madrid said the military conference reached decisions which were a fundamental change in Spain's attitude toward Morocco and the Arab world.

Spain already is reported to have sent 15 U.S.-supplied Sabre-jet fighter planes and troops to reinforse its Ifni garrison.

U. S. Capital Welcome —Bennett

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Bennett of British Columbia Tuesday said his province welcomes United States capital and is peopled by optimists about the country's economic future.

In an address to the Canadian Club, Mr. Bennett, here for the federal provincial fiscal conference, said the people of his province are not depression-minded.

Economic developments in British Columbia have given the lie to "some political leaders who are at present doing a great disservice to all of Canada by shouting 'depression' and raising a spectre of widespread unemployment, unrest and gloom," he said.

On U. S. investment, Mr. Bennett said:

"There is no bogey man attached to an American dollar if it's an honest investment here. Let's not be carried away with the cry of American domination every time a U.S. company moves here."

He added Canada is not going to solve its trade problems by switching to Britain part of its present trade with the U. S. What was needed was "more trade anywhere."

Artery Blockage in Brain Impairs Speech

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower has suffered blockage of a small artery in the brain and is experiencing a slight impairment of speech, the White House disclosed Tuesday.

This is a condition commonly called a stroke, but the president's physicians did not use that term.

A medical bulletin said the outlook for "complete recovery" of the 67-year-old president is "excellent."

The bulletin described the seizure, the president's third major illness in a little more than two years, as "an occlusion of a small branch of the middle cerebral artery."

The president's physicians said there was no indication of brain hemorrhage.

Two brain specialists were called to the president's bedside for consultation.

Later the team of neurologists issued a bulletin confirming the earlier diagnosis and saying the occlusion of a small branch of a cerebral vessel had produced the "slight difficulty in speaking."

The specialists said the president's "reading, writing and reasoning powers are not affected." The difficulty in speaking, the bulletin said, had improved during the last 24 hours and now is manifested only by a hesitancy in saying certain difficult words. The bulletin added:

"The president's physical strength is normal, and he is allowed to be up and about his home. Home surroundings are considered preferable to the hospital for his recovery. He is alert, his spirits are good and he discussed with interest and clarity recent events."

SWIFT REACTION

Reaction to this latest illness of the president, who suffered a heart attack in 1955 and underwent an abdominal operation in 1956, was swift.

A heavy wave of selling hit the stock market on release of the news, withheld from the American public for 24 hours. When the president was put to bed Monday, the White House said only that he had suffered a "chill."

The state department announced that Eisenhower will be unable to attend next month's NATO council meeting in Paris designed to rally free world strength against the Soviet Union.

There was a steady procession of high government officials, including Vice-President Richard Nixon and State Secretary Dulles to the White House.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED

The White House medical bulletin reported improvement in the speech impediment with which the president awakened Tuesday morning.

On the question of recovery of the president, re-elected a year ago for his second four-year term in the White House, it said this:

"In the absence of other findings, the patient's age, and the improvement that he has shown in the relatively short period since the onset of his illness, the outlook for complete recovery within a reasonable period of time is excellent."

It added that several weeks of rest will be necessary.

Nixon told reporters the president is "fully capable" of making major decisions and expressed himself "completely confident" the president will be able to return to his desk and his responsibilities.

Eisenhower apparently was stricken shortly after he returned to the White House Monday from an airport welcome for the king of Morocco, now on a state visit to the United States.

At 1 p.m., the medical bulletin said, he told Mrs. Eisenhower and his physician that he felt a "chill," the term used by the White House in reporting the illness Monday.

2000 m.p.h. Travel Foreseen

MONTREAL — G. W. Grant. McConachie, who foresaw modern aviation developments in the 30's, took a look toward the 80's in an address to the Rotary Club.

The pre-war "bush pilot" who became president of Canadian Pacific Airlines and moulded it into one of the world's great international air services, believes that commercial airplanes will hit the 2,000 mile-an-hour performance region in 20 or 25 years but "there is no assurance that our passenger handling facilities in Canada will ever catch up."

Low-Cost Housing To Get Shot in Arm

OTTAWA (CP) — The government served notice Tuesday it intends to ask Parliament to provide an additional $150,000,000 for new low-cost housing and to make possible lower down payments.

Works Minister Green, on a Commons order paper, gave notice of legislation to amend the National Housing Act, 1954, by increasing to $400,000,000 from $250,000,000, the aggregate amount that may be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund under appropriate sections of the act.

The legislation also would provide for reduction of down payments, his notice said.

The NHA legislation originally authorized the federal government to make $250,000,000 available from the treasury for low-cost housing. The former Liberal government subsequently released $100,000,000 of that money.

Last September, in a move to speed up home construction, increase employment and put more money into circulation, the Conservative government authorized the release of the remaining $150,000,000.

Last week Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which administers the act, said two-thirds of the new amount has been contracted for and that loans then under study would account for most of the remainder.

No Dental Faculty Seen for Ten Years

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. is unlikely to have a dental faculty for at least 10 years, a top official of B.C. Dental Association said Tuesday.

Dr. Jack G. Lewis, chairman of the association's fluoridation committee, spoke of the shortage of dentists in B.C. to Kerrisdale Kiwanis Club.

He said there was little hope of an early solution to the problem. Unless public pressure could be brought to bear on the government, the first dental class from B.C. would not graduate for 15 years—and there would be only 40 dentists in that class.

Dr. Lewis, stressing the importance of fluoridation as a preventive measure, said Canadians were spending more than eight per cent of their health expenses on dental treatment and it amounted to $73,000,000 every year.

"We are treating only 25 to 30 per cent of the people every year," he said. "The problem is far too great for dentists to tackle alone and we must have fluoridation.

"There isn't one public health, medical or dental association in Canada or the U.S. that has not actively endorsed fluoridation.

Russ May Be Ready To Talk Disarmament in Spring

OTTAWA (CP)—Russia has informed the Western nations in private that it may be willing to resume disarmament negotiations next spring, it was learned authoritatively Tuesday night.

Informants here said the negotiations would not necessarily be carried on within the United Nations. They might be conducted under a bilatered arrangement between the United States and Russia.

Sources said that though the Russians at the UN rejected the Canada - sponsored resolution to increase membership of the UN disarmament commission to 25 from 11, they indicated privately they would be prepared to resume negotiations in four or five months.

There is a growing body of opinion here that disarmament negotiations would have a better chance of success if they were carried on between the two major nuclear powers only — the U.S. and Russia.

It could not be determined Tuesday night, however, whether this is the Canadian government's view. It is unlikely that Britain and France would take kindly to such an arrangement.

Actual disarmament negotiations in recent years have been conducted by the UN's disarmament subcommittee comprising the U.S., Britain, France, Canada and Russia.

Canada has made it clear it is willing to quit the subcommittee if this would aid in resumption of disarmament negotiations.

And in This Corner ....

NEW YORK (AP)—It's no crime to steal a little shuteye, a judge ruled Monday, even when you crawl into another bed already occupied by a man and his wife.

Joseph McMillan, 22, an elevator operator, was accused of climbing through a ground-floor window in the apartment of J. Weinberg and going straight to bed.

Unfortunately, the bed was occupied by Weinberg and his wife, Hilda. They were somewhat surprised when they awakened in the morning to find a stranger in their midst.

Justice Ambrose J. Haddock said McMillan was not guilty of unlawful entry because no proof was presented that he intended to commit a crime. The justice added:

"It is not unlawful for a man to enter an apartment and go to sleep."

Case was dismissed.

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Sam A. McMillan, 57, won't have to worry about drinking on weekends for at least the next 10 weeks.

When he pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge in court Monday, he told Judge Herbert Mook that he drinks only on weekends. He added that it would work a financial hardship on his family if he were sent to jail.

Judge Mook solved McMillan's drinking and financial problems. The judge told McMillan he may remain free on weekdays but must serve the next 10 weekends in jail from 6:30 p.m. Fridays to 6:30 a.m. Mondays.

LONDON (Reuters) — Hollywood movie producer John Bash bought Queen Victoria's monogrammed bloomers for £75 at a charity auction Monday night.

He said he would give the 19th century linen underpants to his girl friend, actress Loren Haigh.

Asked if she would wear the things, Bash grinned: "I don't want to say too much about that — she may be embarrassed."

The bloomers, with monogram and crown in red silk, were donated by a tailor who bought them 33 years ago from "an accentric maiden lady."

Takes Century for Art To Be Appreciated, Says Speaker

It takes about a hundred years for the art of a period to be appreciated generally.

This, Adrian Officer of Salmo told Nelson Rotarians Tuesday, accounts for the popularity today of the works of the great French impressionists who in their day were "considered very modern."

On the same premise, he predicted: "Your children and your children's children will appreciate the art of today."

In his defence of contemporary trends in painting, the art instructor at Salmo High School declared that "like all good artists, the good painter must pioneer, develop and be inventive," which required a tremendous amount of courage and often hardship.

"The painters of pretty-pretty pictures are appreciated in their lifetimes, not the great artist."

The artist, he continued, reflects in his works the age in which he lives, as Leonardo da Vinci painted the Renaissance. Today, he suggested, that expression was more difficult.

"We have war to paint, political and religious complications, and the subconscious mind."

In concluding his talk, which he illumined with drawings and stories of personal experiences during his career, Mr. Officer had a word of advice for those who wished to gain more from visits to galleries of modern art: "Always have an adventurous spirit in your appreciation of art."

F. T. Middleton, Salmo High School principal, introduced the speaker.

12-Mile BCPC Slocan Line Energized

NAKUSP — B.C. Power Commission's new section of power line from New Denver to Roseberry and Hill Siding was energized Monday, Larry Harper, BCPC district manager reported Tuesday night.

Construction of 12 miles of 6900-volt primary distribution line has just been completed. It was a seven-week job.

There are 22 customers on the new line and it is the first electricity they have had.

Hamil Mines To Consider Reorganizing

A meeting of shareholders of Hamil Silver-Lead Mines has been called for Thursday to consider reorganization on the basis of one new for each five old shares.

Dr. W. A. Rutledge, president, states that sufficient funds will be subscribed to maintain the Hamil property at Argenta, in good standing, and that the reorganized company will have adequate share capital to finance further work when deemed advisable.

Under the proposed reorganization the company's name would be changed to New Hamil Silver-Lead Mines, and its authorized capital increased to 5,000,000 shares, with change from 50 cents par to no par value. After the one-for-five exchange, there would be 4,488,660 unissued shares in the treasury.

In his report to the shareholders, Dr. Rutledge says it was found unprofitable to continue development work on mineral claims in Utah and accordingly the claims have been abandoned. He states a satisfactory program of drilling and mining development has been carried on at the original Hamil mine in B.C. but it is not economic to undertake production under current lead-zinc conditions. There are no current debts other than a final property payment of $10,000 which has been deferred to December, 1960.

The president also pointed out that changes in British Columbia's "Mineral Act" and "Mineral Property Taxation Act" have had an adverse effect on securing money for exploration purposes.

The company's balance sheet at September 30, 1957, shows cash of $379 against accounts payable of $123. Other assets listed are 110,000 escrowed and 10,000 free shares of Peel River Gas and Oil Company and $48,201 in investment and advances to the subsidiary Amex Uranium Inc.

Good Response To Kinauction

First of the 1957 annual Kinauctions of Air over CKLN Tuesday night went over "wonderfully well," Kinsmen Club reported.

Donations were in excess of last year. Club president M. A. Martyn was chairman and six other Kinsmen handled auctioneering duties.

Next auction in the series of four will be Friday.

CAR DRAGS, KILLS MAN

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police said a car struck a man in downtown Vancouver Tuesday night, dragged him half a block to his death and left the scene without stopping.

They said the victim was carrying a Winnipeg newspaper but apparently had no means of identification. He was about 50 years of age.

Temporary Taylor Bridge Reopens

TAYLOR — Temporary wooden bridge across the North Pine River, feeding traffic over a new road to the planked Pacific Great Eastern Railway Bridge, was open to all traffic again Tuesday.

It was closed Monday until repairs were made to ice-damaged piles.

The Canadian Army crew gave the green light when several new piles were driven in place of those dislodged by floating ice. Colder weather Tuesday night has also expected to speed freezing over the Pine River and thus make the bridge secure until spring breakup.

Scores of trucks and cars from Alaska were stalled on the north side of the Peace, awaiting repair of the bridge.

The bridge was erected by army engineers to detour Alaska Highway traffic around the recently wrecked suspension bridge here.

Mrs. C. Avis Hurt in Intersection Accident

In the second intersection in downtown Nelson in two weeks, Mrs. Clara Avis, Knox Road, received severe injuries Tuesday.

Mrs. Avis, a stenographer is in Kootenay Lake General Hospital being treated for head and body bruises, lacerations and a deep gash on her right shin. She also suffered shock.

The accident occured as Mrs. Avis crossed Baker Street at the Stanley Street intersection, from the west corner to the east. Making a left hand turn up Stanley Street at the same time was a car driven by Mrs. Elvira Laurino, 124 Houston Street.

Witnesses said Mrs. Avis was drawn under the car in the collision and, caught underneath, was rolled around on the roadway before the car came to a halt. The car had to be raised with two jacks before she could be extricated. A passerby, Eddy Johnson of Nelson, raced to the car and crawled underneath in the first attempt to rescue Mrs. Avis.

Owner of the car is Dominic Arcovio.

The accident is still being investigated by City Police.

Two Nelson women, Mrs. Jack Gallicano and Mrs. Berna McKay, were injured when struck by a car at the corner of Baker and Josephine Streets, on Nov. 15.

14 Taking Dual Driver Training, Lions Told

Fourteen L. V. Rogers High School students have completed driver training classroom instruction and are now taking training with a dual control car, Lions Club members learned at their meeting at the Hume Tuesday night.

President Walter Ebdon was reporting on progress of the program, which is sponsored by the Lions. Each student will receive 20 hours instruction, he said. Lions are sponsoring the dual control car.

Instructor is Hugh Herbison of the high school staff, who took summer driver school training at University of British Columbia.

Mr. Ebdon also reported on visits made by club members. He and Mrs. Ebdon attended the Kettle Falls, Wash., Lions ladies' night program early this month. With Frank Beresford, he attended a Kettle Falls Lions dinner meeting Nov. 15 then journeyed to Aberdeen, Wash., for a Lions meeting there. Later they attended the Lions district conference at Aberdeen, where Mr. Ebdon was a panel speaker.

Keith Barkes, chairman of the new Nelson branch of the John Howard Society, and Gordon Olson, chairman of the juvenile committee of the society, were congratulated on their appointments as representatives of the club on the society.

W. C. Wicken reported that the club's light bulb campaign was nearly completed, with only a few bags left to sell.

The Christmas dinner meeting was set for Dec. 17, with J. G. James as chairman and Konrad Senger assisting.

Lions Five Flats entertained with songs, then members toured the Nelson brewery upon invitation of Ernest Welsh of Interior Breweries Ltd.

Out of town guests were Ted Huck of Calgary, George Farrell of Kelowna, Doug Bowell of Trail and Pete Suitor, charter president of Trail Lions Club who is transferring to the Nelson club.

HOCKEY PLAYER WINS $50

Winner of $50 prize in a contest sponsored by Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce in support of Silver King Ski Club was Cliff Shockey, 709 Observatory Street, Nelson Maple Leafs hockey player.

Announcement of winner was made Tuesday night. The Ski Club will receive $50 from the contest.

Two Hurt as Paint Drum Blows Up

Two men were hurt, but not seriously, Tuesday morning when the end blew out of a paint drum they were warming up. The two men, Canadian Pacific Railway employees, were sent to their homes after medical checkup. Their names were not available.

The loud report accompanying the accident was heard over most of the Nelson downtown area. It was understood the drum of paint was being warmed up over a fire and that the men suffered some burns.

Lake Stocking Discussed

Spawning Channels at Gerrard Possible in '58

Pending a definite decision, the construction of spawning channels at Gerrard in or beside the Lardeau River are a possibility in the plans of the B.C. Department of Recreation and Conservation for the coming year. Nelson Rod and Gun Club has been behind this move in an effort to protect the Kokanee trout from gradually becoming so scarce as to eliminate Kootenay Lake fishing altogether."

Reaffirmation of a previously passed resolution concerning the $1000 presented to the Nelson Rod and Gun Club by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company was put forth at the meeting of the club Tuesday night in Legion Hall. This means in effect that the matter will be brought forward at the annual West Kootenay zone meeting in Nelson on January 19. The resolution proposes that the money be used fully on the Kootenay River Cora Linn and Brilliant dams, and that a definite procedure of stocking be followed in this designated area.

It was proposed that a letter be written to the zone secretary asking for clarification of the resolution passed at the meeting in Kaslo, that a three-man committee be formed to handle matters pertaining to conservation of fishing in Kootenay Lake. It was felt that it was impractical to have a committee of three when four clubs are represented, leaving one without direct membership on the committee.

A request to Nelson Chamber of Commerce that they suggest definite adoptation of the program outlined by the provincial fish and game branch for improvement of Kootenay Lake was proposed.

The hope was expressed by J. J. McEwen that the Nelson club would send a delegate to the convention of Rod and Gun clubs to be held in Penticton.

Little Theatre Play "Ambitious Undertaking"

The present theatrical production "The Curious Savage" by John Patrick to be presented shortly by the Nelson Little Theatre "is the most ambitious undertaking ever attempted by the group in the past ten years." Since the middle of November the cast of eleven under the direction of G. E. Goucher has been in rehearsal every evening.

The production end of the presentation finds some members of the cast doubling up for other duties. If interested people were available who could spare the time, jobs could be found for thirty individuals, it was stated.

The set was made especially for the Nelson group. It is not from "Hasty Heart" as stated in Tuesday's paper.

Producer of the play is Pattie Grieve.

Opening night Les Greenwood will present the Greenwood Memorial Trophy to Mrs. Ray (Abbie) Pollard, voted the most valuable member of the Little Theatre Association for the past season. This is the second time that Mrs. Pollard has won this trophy.

The Weather

Synopsis: Skies were sunny over most of southern B.C. Tuesday as an area of high pressure crossed the district. However rain began over the northern coast in the afternoon as another in the series of Pacific disturbances reached northwestern B.C. The storm will cross the province overnight and Wednesday morning. Partial clearing will occur as the system passes but a few showers will continue during the day.

Bylaw Would Affect Garage Hours

VICTORIA (CP) — Two members of a special three-man council committee will recommend Thursday that council give final passage to a bylaw requiring that service stations either close at 6 p.m. or remain open 24 hours a day.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, committee chairman, will oppose the bylaw, it is believed, with aldermen Austin Curtis and M. H. Mooney recommending it be passed.

LACE WORKERS STRIKE

CALAIS, France (AP) — Workers of all Calais lace factories today called a strike of unlimited duration to back demands for higher wages. About 7,500 persons in this port city earn their living from work on lace. It is the city's most important industry.

Peter Verigin III Death Reported From Russia

GRAND FORKS (CP) — Doukhobor leaders here have been informed through the Canadian Red Cross that Peter Verigin III, the long-sought spiritual leader of Canada's 15,000 Doukhobors, has "died in confinement in Russia."

Red Cross headquarters in Toronto passed on word of Verigin's death from the Red Cross and Red Crescent Socities of Russia. The two Russian groups expressed "our sincere condolences at the sad outcome to our long search."

John J. Verigin, 34, of Grand Forks, secretary of British Columbia's 10,000 Orthodox Doukhobors, said Tuesday elders of his group have asked the Canadian Red Cross to try to learn where, when and under what circumstances Verigin died.

News of the death was published here during the weekend in the Doukhobor-language weekly newspaper Iskra.

Doukhobors have been trying to get word on Peter III's fate since 1939, after the death of his father, Peter Petrovitch Verigin.

Young Peter III never came to Canada. He stayed behind in Russia when his father came here in 1929 to assume leadership of the Doukhobors.

The Canadian Red Cross said Tuesday he was "imprisoned in a Russian concentration camp in the early 1930s, during the Stalin purge, and no word has been heard from him or of him since 1931."

If alive today, Peter III would have been about 49 years old.

Through the years, various Doukhobor leaders wrote letters to Russia seeking word of him. Some visited Russia and pleas went to the United Nations and the Soviet embassy in Ottawa.

"Sunday Farmers" Depressing Agriculture

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — B.C. offers wonderful opportunity for agricultural development but prices at present are being depressed by "weekend farmers", a University of B.C. agriculture professor says.

Dr. Neil McLean told a service club audience here Tuesday the part-time farmer often is competing with full-time farmers in market production and causing the fall in prices.

He said B.C. farmers also face severe competion from other provinces and from the United States.

The B.C. strawberry farmer must compete with California growers getting 30 tons of berries an acre for a seven month period compared with 10 tons an acre for a much shorter season here.

Competition with Alberta and the U.S. is fierce in the potato field and B.C. tomatoes are often left on the vines because of competition.

Dr. McLean said the cost of production can be reduced as then size of the farm is increased. B.C. with less than half its arable land being used, therefore offers wonderful opportunities.

PLAN TWO MORE BOOKS OF REMEMBRANCE

OTTAWA (CP) — Two more books of remembrance honoring Canada's war dead, including those lost in the Korean war of 1950-53, are to be prepared by federal heraldic expert Alan B. Beddoe.

The veterans affairs department announced Tuesday that the other book will contain about 275 names of Canadians killed in the Nile expedition of 1884-85 and the South African war of 1899-1902. The second book would contain the names of 425 Canadians killed in the Korean war.

Mr. Beddoe and his staff of calligraphers recently completed a book of remembrance containing the names of Second World War dead. It is being kept for the present in the memorial chamber of the Peace Tower on Parliament Hill where a book listing the First World War dead has been on display for many years.

PRINCESS MAY WED

DAMASCUS (AP) — Egyptian ex-king Farouk's eldest daughter, Ferial, and Ahmed Izzat el Abed, grandson of a former Syrian president, today were reported planning marriage. She is 18 and he is 22. The youth's aunt, Sherifa el Abed, said the engagement will be announced soon in Lausanne, Switzerland, where the couple met as students.

SECOND FLU WAVE

TOKYO (AP) — The welfare ministry reported Tuesday that the death toll since September caused by the second wave of Asian flu now sweeping Japan has increased to 509 persons. A ministry official said 549 persons died in the first wave in May and June.

Fine Arts School for Nelson Being Studied

What could develop into a Summer school in Nelson similar to the Alberta School of Fine Arts in Banff is now in the formative stage.

At present, promoters of the idea are endeavoring to determine how much interest there would be in such a project and if Nelson could support it.

A "major problem" would be providing board and room accommodation for about 200 students during the two weeks of the course in July or August, E. D. Barravalle, director of music at L. V. Rogers High School and a promoter of the idea, said Tuesday. Residents who could and would provide accommodation were urged to come forward.

Mr. Barravalle explained that it had been proposed by the extension division of University of British Columbia through director J. K. Friesen to hold a two weeks conference course here for junior-senior high school music (both choral and instrumental).

It was felt classroom facilities would not present so great a problem.

Possibility of holding the course at Notre Dame College has been broached. Rev. Father L. J. Smith, dean of studies at Notre Dame, was "enthusiastic" about the idea, Mr. Baravalle said and the proposal was before the college directors. However, it had been pointed out that Notre Dame did not now have housing and classroom facilities for 200.

An alternative, L. V. Rogers High School, which had ample classroom and auditorium, as well as a cafeteria, was being considered. Mr. Baravalle plans to attend Nelson School District Board's next meeting to discuss this possibility.

There were other classroom possibilities too, he said.

FIRST IN INTERIOR

The idea, if it materializes, would be "the first thing like it in the Interior." Mr. Baravalle said Mayor Joseph Kary had "willingly helped" and that others were attempting to form a committee.

The course would likely attract about 200 high school students and a dozen adults from outside the area, plus another 50 from the Kootenay. It could be held any time in July or August, with the first two weeks of July as the preferable time.

It would probably attract families of some of the students, Mr. Baravalle said, thus bringing business to the city.

In appealing to the community for "adequate and reasonable accommodation," it would be pointed out the type of accommodation that Kootenay students would want if they were taking the course at UBC.

Discussion which has brought the idea to its present stage started a year ago when Dr. Slind of UBC raised the question to Mr Baravalle when the latter was in Kelowna with the high school band.

Mrs. G. Coletti Wins Bread Baking Contest

A bread baking contest sponsored by Fairview Catholic Women's League drew 89 entries. Mrs. George Kirby and Mrs. John Eckmier were conveners for the event which was held in Blessed Sacrament Hall Monday evening.

Prior to a talk on flour and related products by Ed Smith, Mrs. S. Moisey, president, welcomed the guests and thanked them for the large number of entries.

Task of judging three winners from so many excellent loaves of bread was handled by Mrs. Frank Varseveld, Mrs. Neill Hood and Mrs. Doug Jamieson.

Prizes were awarded by Mr. Smith with first prize going to Mrs. George Coletti. Mrs. Betty Robertson won second prize while third was taken by Mrs. William Vickers. A special prize went to Mrs. J. Huiberts.

Mr. Smith, who represents a flour firm, gave away a number of packaged products of his company's products, following which refreshments were served.

DOLLAR LOWER

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was 11-32 lower at a premium of 3 17-32 in terms of U.S. funds; a week ago 4 1-16 per cent premium. The pound sterling was 1-16 higher at $2.80¾.

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed at a discount of 3 13-16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, up 11-32. Pound sterling $2.71⅛, up ⅞.

Sylvia Shorthouse Nelson Candidate for Rotary Award

Miss Sylvia Shorthouse of Nelson, who is studying at University of B.C., is the candidate of Nelson Rotary Club for the 1958-59 Rotary Foundation fellowship award for district 508. The winner will be announced early in the new year.

Her name was put forward at the club's luncheon meeting Tuesday by H. D. Harrison, and N. C. Stibbs seconded the motion for candidacy. Chairman of the club's committee is G. A. Hoover.

The district winner is entitled to a year's post graduate study in another country, generally abroad, expenses being paid by Rotary International for the development of greater international understanding.

Candidates are selected on the basis of scholarships, talents, personality, leadership ability, and other qualifications. They are not necessarily sons or daughters of Rotarians.

The nominee of the Nelson club, however, is the daughter of Rotarian T. S. Shorthouse. She will be graduating in arts in the spring, and has specialized in history and international studies. Miss Shorthouse was an outstanding student in Nelson schools before entering U.B.C.

Unemployment Problem Tackled At Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — Visits are being made to various organizations in the district by Cranbrook Branch manager of the National Employment Service E. N. Hardy, outlining a proposed winter employment campaign. This area appears to be similar to the national employment situation recently reported, with more people unemployed than at the same time last year, though the number of people employed is also greater than at the start of last winter.

Purpose of Mr. Hardy's visit is to enlist interest in providing work opportunities for the unemployed through individual projects of work that can be done in the winter such as interior renovating, decorating and household repairs. This will be supported in January with a national "Do It Now" advertising campaign.

Practical objective of his talk at the City Council and Chamber of Commerce meetings was to prepare for organization of a local Cranbrook winter employment committee on which both these organizations, school staffs, welfare service, churches, labor groups, management and service clubs would be represented to locate work which requires doing during the slack season, by unemployed workers who are qualified to do it.

Moyie Pioneer, Miss Farrell Dies

CRANBROOK — A district resident ever since she came to Moyie in 1899, Miss Mary (Mamie) Farrell died at St. Eugene Hospital Friday. She had lived at Shaw's Rest Home in Cranbrook the past three years.

Born in San Francisco, she came to Moyie 58 years ago to join her brothers who were prominent in prospecting and were employed at the St. Eugene Mine there during its production of the early 1900s. Following the mine closure she continued her home at Moyie. Her brothers predeceased her there and she lived alone until coming to Cranbrook in 1953.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. L. McIntyre celebrated requiem at St. Mary's Church Tuesday and burial was in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Only surviving relative is a niece, Mrs. Lloyd Merrick of Oakland, Calif.

KIMBERLEY FIREMEN RESPOND TO CHIMNEY FIRE, FALSE ALARM

KIMBERLEY — A chimney fire at 390 Chapman Street about 2 p.m. Tuesday afternoon was put out by the prompt action of the local fire department before serious damage occurred.

Fifteen minutes later another call was answered to the same area, which turned out to be a false alarm turned in by an unknown youth on a bicycle.

Calgary Man Committed For Trial

CRANBROOK — Allan Barclay Code of Calgary was committed for trial at the Spring Assize session, on completion of the preliminary hearing here of a charge of criminal negligence in the death of Joseph McConnell September 29.

Magistrate Richard Shiell presided, with the firm of McKay and Hislop of Fernie, Crown counsel, and Michelangelo Provenzano of Cranbrook as defence counsel. About eight Crown witnesses were heard. Their evidence showed McConnell, who was 76 years old and a long-time Moyie resident, was proceeding on foot through Moyie eastward on the left side of the arterial highway when he was struck by a transport truck owned by Millar and Brown Ltd., and operated by the accused, also proceeding eastward through the community.

Following the charge, Code was released on bail of $2000, and this bail was ordered continued pending the hearing at the criminal session of Assizes here next Spring.

Wynndel Gets Books On Circuit

WYNNDEL — The Women's Institute has announced that the new books from Cranbrook regional library are in the library at the Co-operative Fruit Growers. Many comments have been received on the fine selection of books available under this new plan. The books will be renewed every three months under a circuit arrangement in the East Kootenay. Books for all are groups are included.

RADIO FORUM PLANNED BY CRANBROOK JAYCEES

CRANBROOK — Cranbrook Junior Chamber of Commerce is lining up a public forum radio program for December 11, the day before the municipal election, to acquaint the public of the documental facts concerning fluoridation of water supply in relation to dental health of a community. Jaycees have undertaken support toward the required 60 per cent vote in favor of fluoridation installations for the city water supply.

The Jaycee committee is objecting to what it calls "irresponsible claims" being circulated concerning the matter. The forum will be broadcast both afternoon and evening, and speakers who have thus far accepted the invitation are Dr. Frank Fergie and Dr. M. K. Bauman, both Cranbrook dentists, and Dr. Laird Wylie of the Dr. F. W. Green Medical Clinic.

C. H. Bird Dies at Trail

TRAIL — Butcher, Cominco employee and pool hall operator since 1937, Charles Harvey Bird, 67, died in the Trail-Tadanac Hospital recently.

Mr. Bird, who succumbed to a lengthy illness, was born in Brandon, Man., and was married in Kelowna 47 years ago.

He and his wife operated the King George Hotel in Creston during the years 1916-17. Moved to Trail in 1917. He learned the trade of butcher in Kelowna, and was in business as a butcher in Trail for a short time.

It was in 1937 that Mr. Bird purchased the Bay Ave. billiard hall which still carries his name, but has been operated by a manager in recent years.

A member of the Trail Lodge No. 23, Knights of Pythias, since 1920, Mr. Bird made his way through various offices until he became chancellor commander.

Mr. Bird was an ardent curler and had belonged to the Trail Curling Club for a number of years.

He is survived by his wife, Ida Vivian; a brother, R. M. Bird of Rutland; daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Kelly of Seattle, and Mrs. Ida-May Byers of Vancouver. A grandson is Bobby Byers of Nelson.

Funeral services took place from St. Andrew's Anglican Church in Trail. Rev. E. H. Patterson officiated.

The services were attended by members of the K.P. Lodge and interment took place in the K. P. cemetery.

Castlegar Opens New Fire Hall

CASTLEGAR — Originating in the vision of three Castlegar men, with $300 cash and an old school bus, the Castlegar fire department became officially up-to-date with the opening of its new $18,000 fire hall Monday. The fire hall, with accommodation for three engines, hose-drying racks, and club rooms for firemen, is situated on the property adjoining the Village office.

J. E. Kraft, chairman of the Village Commission, officiated at the opening ceremonies, and Rev. A. O. McNeil gave the invocation. The ribbon was cut by Mrs. Gordon Pettitt, wife of the commissioner in charge of the fire department.

Fire Chief Ed Lewis gave a short history of the Castlegar Fire Department, from its "formation in the spring of 1941 by such men as Ralph West, N. Oswald, and C. Watson, who jointly borrowed $300 to start a fire department by buying an old school bus."

The president of the Castlegar Chamber of Commerce, Ed MacGauley, commented on the reputation the firemen had earned for their speed and efficiency. Village Commissioner R. Maddooks was in attendance for Commissioner Gordon Pettitt, who was unable to be present. Badges were presented to all the firemen.

Representing the Kinnaird Fire Department at the ceremony were R. Heagy and G. Jackson, and the Nelson Fire Department was represented by Captain W. Eckmier and assistant chief Wes Motion.

Fernie To Pay More For Policing

FERNIE — Fernie City Council at its meeting Saturday passed a resolution permitting late opening of Fernie retail stores for Christmas shopping from December 16 to Dec. 23. Merchants will be allowed to remain open until 9 p.m. during that period and will be exempt from prosecution under store closing regulations of the Municipal Act. This action was taken following receipt of a letter from the department of municipal affairs that Council could pass such resolution. It is not likely that local merchants will take full advantage of the late opening privileges.

City Council has been notified by assistant Commissioner C. W. Harvison, commanding the B.C. force, that the costs for the 1958 agreement for RCMP services will increase from $3139 per man to an estimated $3411, an increase of $272. The present agreement expires next May 31.

Mayor James White informed the Council that Neil McTavish of the Deprtment of Transport, Kelowna, would visit Fernie soon to make checks to locate reported radio interference. Mayor White said he had assured Mr. McTavish that if the city was responsible for the interference would take steps to remedy the situation and would give every assistance to the Department of Transport to enforce elimination of radio interference from other sources.

A request from the Retail Merchants Association that the city consider use of sand in place of cinders for sanding icy sidewalks and intersections was handed to the public works committee to obtain estimated costs. Merchants claim that the cinders are tracked into the business establishments and are hard on the floors.

The council agreed to accept sponsorship under the "Elderly Citizens Housing Aid Plan" for the Senior Citizens Homes, the Fernie Centennial Project. This will make the project eligible for building grants.

Official Looks Into Future of Canadian Ex

The annual meeting of Placer Development Ltd., held in Vancouver, was informed by vice-president J. D. Simpson that the company enjoyed a quick cash position in excess of $10 million.

Of particular local interest was his statement that the wholly-owned subsidiary, Canadian Exploration Ltd., had earned an estimated net profit of $598,390 in the six-month period to October 31, 1957. He said that despite the decline in the prices of lead and zinc, the company's operation near Salmo could reasonably be expected to carry on at a profit.

The tungsten situation is somewhat different. A normal profit is anticipated during the life of the present sales contract which terminates in the middle of 1958. When that commitment is filled, the company plans, unless surprising new markets develop, to concentrate on the mining of high grade tungsten ore which has already been developed. This operation will be conducted, under present conception, on a salvage basis with no development work being carried on.

Bennett Up To Same Old Tricks—Strachan

VICTORIA (CP) — Opposition leader Robert Strachan Tuesday said the CCF had demanded the resigntion of the Social Credit government because of its "disgraceful machinations" to prevent a public inquiry into the Sommers case during the past two years.

At the same time he accused the CCF of condemning former lands and forests minister Sommers before the present court case had even come to trial, and of believing in a police state.

"Premier Bennett is up to the same old tricks he used during the election last year," said Mr. Strachan in an interview Tuesday. "At no time, in the legislature, in the press or from the public platform have I condemned Mr. Sommers.

"My criticism was and is of the premier himself and Attorney-General Robert Bonner for their mishandling of the whole Sommers case," he said.

IMMEDIATE past-president of the Trail Liberal Association, G. L. Filippelli, above, of Trail, was elected president of the West Kootenay Liberal Association over the weekend, succeeding H. D. Harrison of Nelson. Mr. Filippelli is former president of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Strachan said that during the last provincial election Premier Bennett had asked the people to shower their confidence in Mr. Sommers by re-electing him in Rossland-Trail.

"This they did," he said, "but the premier did not show equal confidence in Mr. Sommers by reappointing him as minister of lands and forests.

"It is the premier who is guilty of prejudging Mr. Sommers — he and Bill Rose, a member of the B.C. Social Credit League who last week not only demanded that Mr. Sommers resign from the legislature but also stated that Mr. Sommers should never have been elected."

MISHANDLING

He said the CCF had demanded the resignation of the Social Credit government because of the mishandling of the people's business and that the Socreds had ignored the traditions of responsible government.

"Mr. Bennett's reply was in the ungentlemanly and unstatesmanlike manner the opposition has come to expect from him when we ask a question or make a criticism," said the CCF leader.

"Sometimes he will sulk like a spoiled, petulant child and refuse to say anything at all as he did almost two years ago when the legislature sat all night. At that time the opposition were demanding a judicial inquiry into the allegations . . . made against Mr. Sommers.

Mr. Strachan said in view of the statement made recently by the premier that the opposition was an important part of our parliamentary system "I fail to understand his violent reaction when the opposition does try to do the job for which it was intended."

Cranbrook CCF Urges Total Disarmament

CRANBROOK — Cranbrook District CCF Association at its annual meeting here following a dinner Saturday night, elected H. E. Mathias of Cranbrook new president, T. N. Anderson of Kimberley vice-president and Mrs. A. Mennie of Kimberley secretary-treasurer. David Bjerstedt was named Cranbrook representative on the B.C. council, with R. J. Laurie alternate.

Unanimous endorsation was given a resolution to be forwarded to the provincial and dominion councils concerning the international arms race in the guided missile field which the resolutions said could "only lead to increased tension, war, and eventual disaster on a vast scale." The resolution commented on the vast potential for use of world resources for higher standards of living and relief for the distressed. With this as the preamble, the meeting resolved to ask the government of Canada to undertake, in agreement with other nations or alone if necessary, action toward total disarmament.

Attending the meeting was David Bjerstedt of Cranbrook whom East Kootenay CCF Association nominated as its candidate recently for the next dominion election. He reported he would start organizing for the campaign at a Kimberley CCF potluck supper scheduled for next Saturday.

Fire Destroys Home Of Creston Family

CRESTON — The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Everett and their three children was destroyed by fire Monday night. The small house was owned by Mrs. Andrew Lovstrom.

The fire started between 11 and 12 o'clock and quickly razed the house, which was located on the Goat River bottom lands, Southeast of Creston. A heavy rain had fallen earlier, but the flames raced through the building despite the dampness.

The house was insured, but contents were not insured.

Mr. Everett was away at Golden where he is employed.

Mrs. Everett and the children, 10, 7 and 6 years of age, moved temporarily into the home of Mrs. Everett's mother, Mrs. Lovstrom. The Red Cross branch here is assisting the family.

H. M. Baker Heads Kimberley CCF

KIMBERLEY — At the annual meeting of Kimberley CCF club Monday, the following officers were elected:

President, H. M. Baker; vice-president, Mrs. J. O. Mennie; secretary-treasurer, C. J. Worthy; organizer, K. Wocknitz; executive members, Mrs. L. T. Nimsick and Mrs. J. E. Johnson. Auditors for 1958 are to be elected at the Dec. 30 meeting when a supper will be served and guest speakers will be present.

Shavers Group Expresses Thanks For Through Road

TRAIL — Members of the Shavers' Bench Improvement Association Monday passed a vote of thanks to City Council for providing a through highway to town by removing certain "Stop" signs. They were highly pleased with the actions.

However, they were not so pleased with damage done to park grass seeded by the Parks Board last summer. Parents will be asked to keep children off the grass until it makes a substantial growth in spring. Other damage mentioned was tearing down a backstop.

The meeting voted to recompense Fred Stainton for work time lost while attending the examination for discovery in the Ward suit, involving injury to a child on a local playground. This legal action was keeping members from the meetings, William Kassian thought. For the benefit of residents, this statement from legal counsel was written into the records: "that individual members are not liable for any legal action taken against the Association as it is registered under the Societies Act of B.C."

A Challange in Municipal Office

The council of a municipality is elected to carry on the affairs of the city, and within the framework of the law its power is absolute. So long as it keeps within the provisions of the Municipal Act no one can gainsay it. It does not have to bow to the wishes of a few or of organized bodies such as ratepayers' associations. It will, if it is wise, listen with respect to criticism or advice, but in the end decisions will have to be made by the council, whose sole responsibility they are.

It would be unwise for any candidate for office to intimate that on all vital or controversial matters that he would insist on council holding plebiscites.

To those of us who have been reporting down through the years affairs of council, such a plan would, we think, lead to a slowing down or cessation of the corporation's business to the point of becoming harmful to the citizens' interests.

After all, our representatives are elected to conduct the affairs of the corporation and should do so with dispatch. Only with this clear understanding will it be possible to attract candidates of ability and integrity to offer themselves for public offices which carry with them a certain knowledge that there will be differences of opinion and very likely criticism and abuse from fellow taxpayers.

Good municipal government demands councillors of honesty, integrity and strong character; men and women who are not swayed by the importunities of individuals or the clamor of crowds, but such as will soberly appraise every piece of municipal business brought before them and render what they consider just and wise decisions without fear or favor.

At the present moment Nelson needs the nomination of three men or women for aldermen. As the past year has shown, the office, though one of honor, is not without its drawbacks. The popularity of aldermen begins to wane the moment they take office, and too often they begin to regard municipal service as a thankless task. Nevertheless, municipal office should be a challenge to the individual who has a high regard for the good of his city. Despite the drawbacks, there is an opportunity for service to the community which brings with it a satisfaction seldom found elsewhere.

No feelings of diffidence should restrain men and women with the qualifications for making good aldermen from offering themselves. Nor should fear of defeat hold them back. Even in defeat readiness to serve is an honor.

Canada Fourth Trading Nation in '56

More than one dollar in every five earned by Canadians last year came from the sale of goods and services abroad, according to the current Commercial Letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. One dollar of every four spent by Canadians, the letter says, was used to buy goods or services from foreign countries.

The record volume of exports shown by the final figures available for 1956 reflects a high level of activity in the world economy, the letter says. Canada ranked as fourth trading nation in the world in 1956, with per capita exports nearly twice as great as those of the United Kingdom.

Grain and flour exports were up 14 per cent for the year, but lumber shipments fell off sufficiently to register a decline in total forest products export. Forest products form the largest group of Canada's goods sold abroad. Crude and partly refined petroleum exports trebled during 1956 and export of iron ore to the U.S.A. also increased sharply.

In spite of the rising value of the Canadian dollar, which made Canadian products relatively more expensive in the world market, the value of Canada's exports to the U.S.A. rose by 10 per cent over the 1955 level. Trade with the United Kingdom also reached post-war records in 1956, the letter says.

Rising domestic production of industrial materials once again held imports in this category close to the 1955 figure, in spite of Canada's continuing industrial expansion, the letter states. Higher prices for crude petroleum caused an increase in the value of fuel and lubricant imports, but much of the higher volume demand was met by growing production of Canada's own resources.

One-third of 1956 imports consisted of investment goods such as machinery and electrical equipment which, the letter says, "may be expected to contribute directly to manufacturing capacity and, in course of time, to have some effect on the future pattern of trade."

While underdeveloped and semi-industrialized countries may offer diversified export markets for Canadian products, the letter suggests that the bulk of our exports will continue to be natural resource products, as dollar-scarcity in many importing countries places Canada in a bad competitive position in relation to countries like the U.S.A., which have better means for enabling importers to buy from them.

The advantages of quality and price enjoyed by Canada are therefore particularly important, especially in the case of industrialized countries which pay cash. "So long as this country can sell," the letter concludes, "it can use the earnings of foreign trade to purchase the machinery and capital goods upon which future prosperity depends."

Secrets of Success

In a satirical short story written more than two hundred years ago, the Chinese scholar, P'u Sungling, told how a young man who had intended to devote his life to study was induced to forsake his ivory tower and become a political success.

As may be guessed, a beautiful young girl played a part in the story, acting both as the young man's temptress and as his teacher. Many of the lessons were on learning what to say. The lower grades of this art were for the student to say what was not on his mind and to say what was on the mind of the person he was speaking to.

However, these arts, while undeniably useful, led only to positions in the lower grades of the Chinese civil service. The highest art, perfection in which led to posts of the highest rank, those of governors and ministers and prime ministers, was to learn to say half of what was on his mind. Perfection in this art was attained when the political aspirant could never be caught affirming or denying anything, "and when things turned out not to be what he had thought at first, he could always conveniently deny what he had affirmed and affirm what he had denied."

Utterances of some statesmen at international gatherings lead one to suspect that the arts of getting ahead in politics are not exclusively Chinese.—Printed Word.

M.B., Nelson—Where should a person, born in England, write for copy of birth certificate, and how much money should be sent? Also, where should one apply for certificate if born in Calgary?

Write to Dept. of Births, Marriages and Deaths, Somerset House, Strand, London, W.C., England. Enclose money order (obtainable at any bank or the post office), for seven shillings and six pence. For Calgary, write to the Department of Vital Statistics, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton, Alberta, enclosing one dollar.

Reader, Kinnaird—Would you please tell me if a person could bake puddings and Christmas cakes in old jam tins? Would they cause ptomaine poisoning?

If they are lined inside with waxed papers they are quite safe, we have been informed. They should be perfectly clean, and being jam tins would of course be lacquered.

Drinking Big Factor in Holiday Traffic Deaths

Holiday drivers have been warned that glasses have a dangerous effect on vision. That is, if they've been emptied several times.

The warning comes from the United States National Safety Council, which says the throttle and the bottle are big factors in the Christmas holiday traffic toll.

Social drinkers, because of the stepped up festivity of the season, present a greater traffic hazard than at any other time of the year, the Council said.

In a special study of 501 fatal Christmas holiday accidents, which killed 609 persons, the Council found drinking drivers were involved in 55 per cent of the accidents. At other times of the year they are involved in about 30 per cent.

Men were driving in 94 per cent of the accidents studied. In 90 per cent of the accidents only one person was killed. Almost four out of five victims were men, and these were mostly drivers.

The most common type of accident was collision between two or more cars. Next in order were non-collision, pedestrian and fixed object collisions.

The most common driver action contributing to fatal accidents was driving on the wrong side of the road or in the centre of the road. Failure to observe a signal or stop sign was second. Mechanical failure or tire blowouts were mentioned in only four of the accidents studied.

In launching its annual Christmas safety campaign, the Council said the nation may have a safer and happier Christmas this year if drivers will exert a little extra care and caution. The traffic trend is encouraging. During the first nine months of the year traffic deaths dropped three per cent from the same period for the previous year—a saving of 800 lives.

"If this rate of improvement can be maintained the rest of the year," the Council said, "more than 1000 lives can be saved on the highway in 1957. But the Christmas holidays will be the decisive factor."

Dream Come True

. . . F. B. Pearce

Looking at the Central School today it seems true that if you wait long enough everything will come, if not to you, then to your successor. Almost everything which I wanted for the school they now have.

Their particular pride just now is the renovated basement. The toilets are a marvel of sparkling newness and cleanliness. Of course the old ones were perfectly serviceable but most unpleasant but they had been in use for nearly fifty years. There are three nice new sinks and hot water for them. I always wanted plenty of hot water for the boys in marble time. They get their hands so dirty and cold water is unpleasant and does not get them clean.

I could never convince my Board that boys should have hot water. They were men and I rather fancy that having two women on the Board has made a difference. No woman needs to be convinced that boys' hands are always dirty. Nor do they need to be told that children need only the best of bathroom facilities.

Why so many people will not rent houses to people with children is because their accommodation is often not of the highest quality and children do not respect it. It seems an unconscious reaction but children seldom harm or deface well cared for premises.

There are new drinking fountains. The old ones were high and many children had to stand on tiptoe to drink from them. These are low and constructed with more thought for the convenience of the drinker, but I did not see the sinks. What has happened to them? Perhaps the children no longer paint and use water, but there should be sinks if they use as much as they did in my day.

ONCE SNUBBED

Years ago I asked for an intercommunication system and was heavily snubbed, but today the school has a fine one.

I wonder who installed it? I was told that the brick walls made it impossible to install such a system.

I wonder if they use it for music? I always had the idea that I would buy a set of Gilbert and Sullivan and broadcast it throughout the school when the children were coming in. My idea is that you cannot expect children to like music unless they hear it every day.

When the Board wanted to make room in the school for a board room it was my suggestion that they tear out the partition between two cloak rooms and make it into a room. I hoped eventually to make it into a teachers' room as it is today. It has some modern furniture, but the ladies on the Board should see what they can do to make it liveable. It looks a most unhappy room.

The library is back in use and the principal, who has never had a separate room for one before is delighted with the enthusiasm with which the children use it. It makes a great deal of difference to their reading ability. I wish they would take those horrible black boards away. They spoil the room and after all the thought Harry Hulls, Mr. Sewell and I put into making it look attractive it is a pity to have them spoiled.

GOOD LOOKING

I find it rather nerve-wracking these days to try to hear clearly when there are many people together so I did not meet the teacher, though the opportunity was there—they were having a teachers' meeting. I think I must go again and get the principal to introduce me to them individually. I am always surprised these days at the number of good looking teachers we have.

One, they tell me, comes from England and is a whiz at physical. She is just the person we want. Our children badly need new games and some of the enthusiasm of the English children. If she will carry on as she did in her own country I am sure the children and the teachers, will be delighted.

Did I see many of the children I knew? No, only a few and I particularly wanted to see Sherry, whose father tells me she put my article on the bridge in her scrap book, but I did see the janitor's little daughter, who made me welcome and sat on my knee while I talked with her parents.

I was always appreciative of good janitors. In my day they were badly over-worked, but even then the school was clean. Today their hours are shorter and as a consequence they are happier than they were.

U.K. EMIGRANTS JAILED

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—Many British immigrants are being jailed for vagrancy because they faile to find work, Lt.-Cmdr. G. W. S. The Australian government should provide work and homes for migrants already here rather than encourage another 115,000 to come out here every year, he said.

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, Nov. 28, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Investigate all matters thoroughly, think carefully, and speak tactfully, but be soundly confident. There are fewer obstacles than you may think.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—It will take more than your usual willingness to work to make gains today; it will take keen analysis of all problems, perhaps conferences and extra planning, but it will all be worthwhile.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Gains can be made by keeping on the right track and following the rules and methods you've found profitable in the past.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Especially favored now: medical technology, home economics, agriculture, physical education, dietetics, laboratory work.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Follow a well-devised plan now—one that is reasonable and not overtaxing. Sensible economy, avoidance of unnecessary debts stressed.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Devote some time to study, reviewing and planning next week's work. Check others' doings and the reasons for their success. Be a careful observer.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Benefic rays abound now, and the keen, intelligent go-getter will have many good ideas—with consequent gains.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Don't be swayed in wrong directions or allow questionable propositions to influence your better judgment.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Headway, gains may be held up in the early hours. Stick to sensible methods, tried and familiar endeavors; be constructive rather than critical. Attend to important tasks first.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—It may require extra effort to convert things to your credit or favor now. Keep logic in the foreground. Don't allow unusual situations to affect your disposition.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — You can do more than you think with a day like this. Begin with hope and a fresh determination to alter what should be altered, change what needs changing. Enjoy diversion, too.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Hoarding talents is as bad as accumulating tangible things you don't need — worse. Assist others with your keen sense of balance, magnetism and tact.

YOU BORN TODAY are gifted with great ability and the gift of being able to cut red tape. You would be a clever reporter, traveller or teacher, though in the latter occupation you must guard against being too brusque. Do not be too hasty in making decisions for, though your judgment is usually wise, you can overlook little, but important, details is not careful. In sports and pastimes you will contend fiercely, but in a fair and forthright manner. Protect your mental and physical health as you would material assets; they are more important. Birthdate: William Blake, poet, painter, mystic.

Magistrate Certain Fair Treatment Given Kennedy

WALKERTON, Ont. (CP) — Magistrate Otto Conrad McClevis said today that William Lyle Kennedy pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge when he appeared before him last May 30 and that "as far as the court was concerned I dealt as fairly as I could."

The magistrate said no evidence was taken but there were statements by both defence and Crown counsel about "a gun being involved" and that "there had been threats." He said: "I could have sent him to jail."

Mr. McClevis said Kennedy was charged under the vagrancy section of the criminal code "as a person found under suspicious circumstances."

The magistrate told a reporter he would discuss details of the case conducted before him but publication of a letter from Toronto lawyer Lewis Duncan to Justice Minister Fulton complaining about dismissal Nov. 11 of an appeal action sought before the Supreme Court of Canada to have the vagrancy conviction quashed.

ASKED FOR EXPLANATION

Mr. Duncan's letter was written Nov. 23, five days after he objected to proceeding with another appeal before the Supreme Court of Canada if Mr. Justice Locke remained on the panel. The court rejected the unprecedented objection but Mr. Justice Locke, who had also sat on the Kennedy appeal application, voluntarily withdrew. The Law Society of Upper Canada has asked Mr. Duncan to explain his objection.

Mr. Duncan said in his letter the record of the Kennedy case "leaves the inference that the processes of criminal law have been used to oppress a farmer, and that his application for redress has been frustrated by defects in the administration of justice which ought to be brought to your attention." The letter said Kennedy had pleaded not guilty and that no evidence had been taken.

Magistrate McClevis said Kennedy appeared first before him May 30 and pleaded guilty to the charge brought under the vagrancy section of the Criminal Code. He said counsel for the defence and the Crown both asked that no evidence be taken but that in statements they said "a gun had been involved but was thrown away before the arrest" and that "there had been trouble and threats made."

SON PHONED POLICE

Mr. McClevis said he understood Kennedy was arrested after Kennedy's son phoned police that the father was driving with a gun.

Mr. McClevis said there had been trouble between Kennedy and his wife for about 20 years and there had been threats several times.

Mr. McClevis said the lawyers told him when they asked for no evidence that they "did not want to aggravate the wife's condition." He said Mrs. Kennedy is "a nervous wreck." He said she now is working at the Bruce County Hospital at Walkerton and will not go out alone.

In his letter to the justice minister, Mr. Duncan had said that Kennedy was stopped by provincial police as he drove along the highway in his own car, "was told that he was under arrest . . . was instructed to drive to Walkerton . . . was there put in jail and searched . . . was not told why he was arrested."

He said Kennedy had pleaded not guilty and that appeals before the Ontario Appeal Court were also denied.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Mr. McClevis said today: "I wouldn't want to be unfair with Mr. Duncan. . . . He has the Kennedy story which is one side. . . ."

The magistrate said he gave Kennedy a one-year suspended sentence on $500 bond with two sureties but "I could have sent him to jail."

He said "as far as the court was concerned, Kennedy was dealt with fairly. I don't want to deal harshly with a man if I don't have to."

Sputnik Rocket May Fall Sunday

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The final - stage rocket that launched Sputnik I, history's first man-made satellite, may make a flaming plunge to its death next Sunday, Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said Tuesday.

The new calculation advances the expected day for the death of the Russian rocket by more than a week. The observatory had originally estimated it would be within the period of three days either side of Dec. 11.

Whipple said the rocket should burst into flames when it hits the denser atmosphere about 35 to 40 miles above the earth and will make a spectacular sight if the final plunge comes at night.

Eisenhower Names Trade Advisers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Monday named a committee of seven cabinet members to advise him on reciprocal trade matters, including pleas by U.S. industries for relief from low-traffic competition.

Previously a group of officials known as the trade agreements committee advised the president on the program for reducing tariffs in exchange for comparable concessions by foreign countries.

Hereafter those recommendations will be reviewed by the new cabinet - level committee before going to the president.

A White House statement said function of the new committee will be to advise Eisenhower regarding tariff commission recommendations in escape clause cases. The escape clause is a provision of the Trade Agreements Act under which the United States may increase tariffs previously reduced by agreement if American industry is threatened with serious injury.

Police Must Apologize For Wrongful Entry

TORONTO (CP)—Police said Tuesday two plainclothes officers who broke into a downtown house Monday without a search warrant will apologize to the tenants.

Lorne McLarty complained to police that his pregnant wife was so upset by the intrusion that she had to be given pills by a doctor to quiet her nerves.

Police said officers Cyril Cooper and Frank Barbetta burst into the McLarty's home looking for a suspect in the $1,800 robbery of a suburban Etobicoke man.

McLarty said he asked the officers if they had a warrant and he said they replied a warrant was not needed.

Police said the owner of a car believed used in the robbery was listed as living at the McLarty home. The man, later cleared, had moved.

Etobicoke salesman Alexander Kelly told police five masked men attacked him as he put his car in his garage, robbing him of $1800 he carried for business reasons.

Times Sees Good In Setbacks

LONDON (Reuters) — A major result of Soviet Sputnik successes and Communist advances in the Arab world is that the United States now is "willing to listen to advice," The Times says Tuesday.

The independent newspaper publishes a long editorial summing up the effect on the United States of Russia's scientific triumphs, the "shattering" of the Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East and the "holocaust" of the last congressional session.

"These setbacks have left America willing to listen to advice," The Times says. "A widespread thaw of ideas and attitudes is apparent.

SELF-CRITICISM

"The Russian successes have set free that gift of self-criticism which is a saving American quality."

"A whole range of values—from the worship of material values and applied science to the almost sacred American school system—have for the first time been brought into question."

The U.S. administration "may well take more seriously the shattering of the Eisenhower doctrine. The reaction of the Arab world to the Syrian crisis showed the administration that its attempt to save the Middle East for the West in double-quick time has been a costly failure."

But "to the average American it is the Russian foray into the sky which casts the coldest light on the state of the West."

ACCEPT CHALLENGE

The Times notes as a hopeful sign that in the current "ferment" of self - criticism and changing values both Republican and Democratic leaders are accepting the challenge.

Men "as far apart" as Adlai Stevenson and Vice - President Nixon have shown that both parties can agree on a "broad economic counter-offensive" with aid to underdeveloped countries, more liberal trade and investment policies to "bind the free world together."

Chairman Edgar B. Brossard said those participating would be given until Dec. 10 to file briefs. The commission then will study the evidence to determine whether the domestic lead and zinc industry is threatened with serious injury from imports under existing tariffs.

PM To Make Debut In Life-Size Wax

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada will join a group of Commonwealth statesmen in London this week—without even leaving Ottawa.

A life-size wax figure of Diefenbaker will be placed Thursday in Madame Tussaud's, the famous museum on Baker Street. It will stand in the Commonwealth group, along with former prime minister Louis St. Laurent, Prime Minister Robert Menzies of Australia, Canadian Governor-General Massey and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Student Should Work His Utmost, PTA Discussion Emphasizes

Of the 200 students in grade 8 at Nelson Junior High School, 10 will receive "A" in a subject when report cards are handed out in two weeks' time. Ten more will receive "E" in the same subject and 40 will have earned a "C" grade.

These were some of the facts brought out when parents and teachers met Monday night during the monthly meeting of the Junior-Senior High School Parent-Teacher Association in the Nelson Junior High school.

Employing a round-table type of discussion, those interested in each of the three grades of the school congregated to discuss the problems which they had in common. In a spirit of mutual interest without criticism they spoke of such subjects as report cards, grades, homework and what the different subjects included.

Brought out in the exchange of ideas was the fact that grades in themselves are not important. What does count is whether the child is working to the best of his ability. Parents learned that any student who receives above a "D" grade on his report is university material.

Most apparent during the discussion which covered the general routine of the school year was the honest desire of parents to assist their children however possible, and the sincere wish of teachers to show how this could be done. One group of teachers said: "The parents worry about their child; the teachers worry about him. But the child doesn't worry. To him it's all a part of growing up."

As at the Senior High school meeting the month before, teachers deplored the fact that the parents who should worry about their children do not attend PTA meetings at which they might receive some help. It is the parents of normal, well-adjusted children who make the effort to attend, they said.

B. B. Crawford, principal of Nelson Junior High school, directed parents and teachers to the classrooms where they met.

FOR UNIFORMS

During the business meeting which preceded the discussion period, $50 was donated by the PTA to the Junior High school to be used in partially paying for uniforms for the girls' choir. This was the school's share of Family Carnival proceeds. L. V. Rogers High school will receive a similar amount.

In accepting the donation, Merlin Bunt, director of the choir, announced that the group will present two concerts in the school auditorium next month in conjunction with the school band.

Success of the annual Family Carnival was revealed in the financial statement read by Mrs. J. T. Harvie, treasurer. A. W. Laine expressed the appreciation of the committee for help given in making the event a success.

PTA president Mrs. C. Alexander reminded those present about the annual Christmas Carol program which will be held in 10 days at the Civic theatre. Explaining that it is the Junior High school's turn to provide posters for the event, she said a contest will take place soon with prizes for the three best entries.

S. T. Rogers, vice-principal of the school, read the aims and objects of the Parent-Teacher Association. Membership chairman Mrs. N. H. Collett announced that membership stood at more than 100.

Greenwood WI Reviews Active Year

GREENWOOD —Mrs. W. E. McArthur jr., was returned to the office of president at the annual meeting of the Greenwood Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. E. Zahnd.

Others elected were Mrs. Neal Zahnd, vice-president; Mrs. Helen Macnab, secretary; Mrs. Helen Dodd, treasurer, and Mrs. Martin Holm, director.

A special meeting will be held in December to plan for the Christmas dinner and parcels, a yearly event of the institute.

The annual reports showed that an active year has been enjoyed by all members.

The Women's Institute recently celebrated its 19th birthday at a dinner party attended by 29 members and guests. Present were several chartered members, Mrs. W. E. McArthur sr., Mrs. C. S. Floyd, Mrs. Jesse Puddy, Mrs. T. W. Fritz. Another chartered member is the provincial president Mrs. E. J. C. Roylance.

The district president, Mrs. McArthur jr., for a report on the first national convention at Ottawa which she attended as delegate from the Kettle River district.

Mrs. Roylance spoke on the institute work on the provincial level.

YULE GIFTS RECEIVED AT SALMO WI TEA

SALMO — A box filled with Christmas gift parcels to be sent to a B. C. provincial mental hospital was the result of a gift tea, sponsored by the Salmo Women's Institute held recently in the Salmo Masonic Lodge. Each visitor brought a gift in payment for the tea. Mrs. E. Henry was kept busy during the afternoon making out information slips, which were attached to the parcels, while Mrs. H. John looked after a contest, the prize going to Mrs. G. Waterstreet.

Assisting with the tea were president Mrs. James Dodds, Mrs. W. Partridge, Mrs. Clifford Hearn, Mrs. A. W. Hearn, Mrs. L. Laing, Mrs. W. Sheeloff and Mrs. A. Hearn.

Dishes From Jamaica Add Spice to Menu

By ALICE DENHOFF

As any traveller will tell you, half the fun of roving the Spanish Main is the exotic and differently delicious foods offered by the West Indian islands.

Jamaica is particularly famous for unusual and intriguingly spiced foods.

Broiled Chicken with Cashew Nuts is one Jamaican chicken dish that adapts nicely to the table.

To make it, cut 2½ pound chicken into quarters.

Mix ½ tsp. each ground black pepper and ground thyme and teaspoon salt; rub on all sides of chicken. Place in a baking pan large enough to arrange chicken on a single layer. Dot with ¼ cup butter or margarine.

Broil until chicken is done, about 30 minutes in pre-heated broiler with oven control set to very hot (450 degrees.)

Sprinkle with ¼ cup toasted cashew nuts about 10 minutes before cooking time is up. Garnish with paprika and dried parsley flakes.

To prepare 6 to 8 servings of a Jamaican - type Spiced Banana Souffle, beat 3 egg yolks until light and lemon-colored.

Wash three large ripe bananas and mix tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg, teaspoon grated lemon rind and ½ cup fine vanilla wafer crumbs. Fold into egg yolks.

Add ¼ teaspoon salt to 3 egg whites. Beat them until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in ½ cup sugar and fold into banana mixture.

Turn into ungreased 1½ quart casserole. Place in pan of hot water. Bake in pre-heated slow oven (325 degrees) 1½ hours or until firm over top. Garnish with a dash of nutmeg.

Serve hot or cold topped with whipped cream.

Says Man-Made Meteor May Reach Moon Before Spring

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Fritz Zwicky, Cal Tech astrophysicist and former rocket expert in Germany, says a man-made meteor possibly could be fired to the moon within the next three months.

Zwicky told an interviewer on Monday that a few preliminary tests and perhaps $100,000 might result in landing a pound-and-a-half slug on the lunar body.

Eventually, he added, fragments of such a slug probably could be made to glance off the moon and return to earth.

Zwicky said the slug could be attached to a shaped charge of high explosive. The charge and the slug would be fired aloft by an Aerobee rocket.

In 1946, Zwicky supervised the firing of a V-2 rocket equipped with shaped charges. This attempt failed, but last Oct. 16 such charges exploded meteors into space at the highest velocity achieved by a man-made object—40,000 miles an hour.

ORBIT AROUND SUN

Some of these particles, released from charges fired at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M., escaped the earth's gravity and are now moving in an ellipse around the sun, Zwicky said.

"With the kind of speed we can achieve, the slug would either create an explosion on impact with the moon or would generate flashes of light as it bounced from crag to crag," he said.

"We could observe this through telescopes. Also we could see the tremendous mushroom cloud of dust which the impact would generate. There would be no friction from air to stop the cloud from growing because the moon has no atmosphere. . . ."

Artificial meteors fired by the shaped charge method, said Zwicky, offer a new means of learning the composition of space and atmosphere.

Luminous meteor tracks, he said, can be traced by a prism-equipped telescope. The prism could break down the track into spectral colors which would identify chemicals and conditions with which the meteor came in contact.

Movie Gossip...

Kim Novak Explains Why She Staged Sit-Down Strike On Columbia Studio

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kim Novak says she staged a sitdown strike against her studio because "I don't like to have anyone take advantage of me."

All is rosy now between her and Columbia pictures. But a month ago they were at stiletto points after Kim refused to report for a loanout to Alfred Hitchcock for a new James Stewart movie, now called Vertigo.

Backed by her new agents, she demanded an adjustment in her contract. After a few weeks of name calling, she got it.

"I'm on top now," she explained. "But who knows how long that will continue. I've got to start participating in the profits, too.

ENDS WOULDN'T MEET

"After all, you work hard so you can do the things you want, such as providing things for your family. But I couldn't do that on my salary. I couldn't do a lot of things.

"My salary was $1,250 a week. That sounds like a lot of money, but my take - home pay was around $250. Where does it go? You'd be surprised how easily it can go. And when you're well known, people think you're able to contribute more than others to charity.

"I was unable to buy sufficient clothes for myself. When I wanted to go to a party, I'd have to go to the studio and ask to borrow a dress that Rita Hayworth had worn in a picture. I'd have to get the studio to do my hair, too. They'd complain and ask why I couldn't get it done myself on my salary. Then I'd have to explain the whole thing to them.

INDEPENDENT TYPE

"I'm a very independent person, and I didn't like that. Also, I don't like anyone to take advantage of me. The studio was making a great deal of money off me, and I was seeing very little of it.

"I didn't think that was fair. I don't think one side should have too much advantage in a contract. I'd rather have it slightly to their advantage, so I'll continue to fight hard. To have it in my direction would be bad. Then I'd have an inferiority feeling and think I had to produce—or else."

Kim didn't know exactly what her new salary was, but it apparently is $2,750 a week. That puts her in the 85 per cent tax bracket, she admitted, but at least she is able to buy clothes, hire a secretary and have other deductible expenses, as well as do things for her family.

About her most recent release. "Pal Joey is a good picture—wonderful for Frank (Sinatra). But I hated my part. She didn't have the guts to fight for him or to give him up. I hate weak women."

Refugee Wife Returns To U.K.

LONDON (AP)—A young Hungarian freedom fighter has brought his wife and two-year-old son back to Britain after a dramatic dash to intercept them from a trip behind the Iron Curtain.

The wife, 25 - year - old Mrs. Edith Gabriel, is the daughter of Hungary's deputy defence minister, Maj.-Gen. Mihaly Horvath. Communist agents were reported to have warned her that her father might be in danger unless she returned to Hungary.

Last week she set out with her son, Sandor, from the London apartment where she and her husband Alex Gabriel had lived since last November. Gabriel traced her to Paris. Helped by other freedom fighters, he located the apartment she had taken there. Last Saturday he confronted her as she left the apartment with the boy in her arms.

"COME BACK"

"Come back with me now or give me my boy," he implored. "I won't let you take him to Hungary."

Mrs. Gabriel refused and the couple scuffled on the sidewalk, each tugging at the wailing child. Police took them off to face a charge of creating a public scandal.

They were held for six hours, then released. Outside police headquarters they continued their argument. Mrs. Gabriel capitulated and the next day they all flew back to London.

Mrs. Gabriel explained: "My marriage was under a strain and I was worried about my parents. Last week I decided to go, but, I was very confused and when I got to Paris I could not make up my mind. Now I am glad. I think we will be happy again in London."

No Improprieties Raised In Duncan Letter — Fulton

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton said Tuesday no suggestion of impropriety by Mr. Justice Locke has been raised in a letter to the minister from Toronto lawyer Lewis Duncan.

"There can be and is no question of impropriety" on the part of "that distinguished jurist," Mr. Fulton said in a Commons reply to Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre).

He also said his department is investigating other charges made by Mr. Duncan in his letter. Mr. Fulton said he hopes to reach a decision soon.

Mr. Knowles referred to a letter made public Monday complaining of disposal of a case Nov. 11 by a Supreme Court of Canada panel of which Mr. Justice Locke was a member.

The letter dealt with dismissal by the panel of an application by William Lyle Kennedy, an Ontario farmer, for leave to appeal an Ontario Supreme Court judgment upholding his conviction on a vagrancy charge.

The letter made no mention of an unprecedented incident Nov. 18 in another case before the Supreme Court when Mr. Duncan objected to proceeding if Mr. Justice Locke sat on the panel. The court rejected Mr. Duncan's objection but Mr. Justice Locke voluntarily withdrew from the case.

Canada Least Affected by Wheat Exports

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada was affected to a lesser degree than the three other chief wheat exporting countries as exports from the major producers dropped 22 per cent during August and September from corresponding months last year.

The bureau of statistics Tuesday reported that exports from Canada, the United States, Argentina and Australia slipped to 141,300,000 bushels in the first two months of the 1957-58 crop year from 180,100,000 last year.

U.S. exports dropped almost 20 per cent to 57,400,000 from 76,700,000, Argentina's by about 15 per cent to 14,600,000 from 17,200,000 and Australia's about 20 per cent to 18,200,000 from 29,100,00.

Supplies Oct. 1 for export and carryover with last year's figures in brackets: Canada 885,400,000 bushels (928,600,000); United States 1,148,900,000 (1,332,500,000); Argentina 86,800,000 (57,60,000); Australia 57,600,000 (107,800,).

TORONTO (CP) — Education Minister Dunlop says Ontario has more teachers than it needs. He told the Women's Progressive Conservative Association Monday: "There isn't a shortage of teachers in Ontario. There's just a little bit of a surplus."

Ottawa Informed U.S. Interests Hold Control of B.C. Telephone

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons railways, canals and telegraphs committee was told Tuesday the British Columbia Telephone Company is a corporation which is effectively controlled by United States interests.

Company President Gordon Farrell gave the information in reply to a question by Colin Cameron (CCF — Nanaimo).

After a two-hour discussion of the company's ownership and need for funds to finance capital expansion, the commmittee approved the bill for third and final Commons reading. Its purpose is to permit the company to boost its authorized capital from $75,000,000 to $250,000,000.

Mr. Farrell said 35.85 per cent of the stock of B.C. Telephone is owned by the Anglo-Canadian Telephone Company, which in turn is controlled by the predominantly American-owned Associated Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

U.S. CONTROL

Mr. Farrell replied yes to a question by H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) as to whether B.C. Telephone is "a monopoly controlled in the United States."

The company president added, however, that most public utilities were monopolies to provide efficient service. He said the board of transport commissioners has complete control of his company's operations.

The company has said the increased capitalization is essential to meet the demand for telephone facilities brought about by the growth and expansion in British Columbia. During the next three years the company plans to spend about $150,000,000 to provide more telephone service.

Mr. Farrell said there is no possibility of meeting the demand through new bond issues.

St. Laurent's New Role One of Silent Interest

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Louis Stephen St. Laurent looks like a man who can hardly wait to get back to work.

For nine years, he was Liberal prime minister of Canada. Now, as opposition leader in the Commons, he has no government work to do and he gives the appearance of hardly being able to put up with the inactivity.

Mr. St. Laurent is 75—he looks much younger—but when his successor as Liberal party chieftain is chosen in January, he plans to return to his law practice in Quebec City.

One might have thought that once Mr. St. Laurent announced his intention to retire as Liberal leader he would decamp Ottawa for a well-earned rest.

FAITHFUL MEMBER

On the contrary, however, he has attended Commons debates this session probably more faithfully than any other member of the House.

Day after day, he is in his front-row seat on the opposition (left) side of the Commons, following the debates, plucking at his small, white moustache. He attends the evening sittings regularly as well.

In some ways, Mr. St. Laurent appears a forlorn figure in the Commons chamber. It is obviously hard for him to get used to his new role after years of making decisions which affected the lives of all or many Canadians.

He has said little in the Commons in the first six weeks of the current parliamentary session. He has made only one major address—that in the throne speech debate—and has otherwise been content to put a few questions to cabinet ministers during the daily question period. He has spoken no more than a score of times.

For the most, he has left the questioning to his chief lieutenants. They include these former cabinet ministers: James Sinclair, fisheries; Paul Martin, health; Lionel Chevrier, transport; Lester B. Pearson, external affairs; Jean Lesage, northern affairs; J. W. Pickersgill, immigration; and George Marler, transport.

But it is obvious who is still the boss. When a matter affecting Liberal policy crops up in the Commons, the former cabinet ministers immediately huddle with Mr. St. Laurent to get his advice.

The contrast between Mr. St. Laurent and Prime Minister Diefenbaker is marked.

The difference has been likened to that between a corporation lawyer (which Mr. St. Laurent is) and a jury lawyer (which Mr. Diefenbaker is).

Mr. St. Laurent in the Commons has always been quiet, polite and courtly and it takes a great deal to get him riled. Mr. Diefenbaker, on the other hand, is relatively flamboyant and has the facility for arousing the desk-thumping approbation of his followers with a ringing political speech.

Both men have a sense of humor. Mr. St. Laurent relies on easy, well-rounded wit while Mr. Diefenbaker exhibits a preference for the slapstick type.

Prince Rupert Must Apply to Ottawa For Aid

OTTAWA (CP) — Any request from Prince Rupert, B.C., for aid following its recent landslide should be made to the provincial government, Works Minister Green suggested Tuesday.

Frank Howard (CCF—Skeena) asked in the Commons whether federal aid had been offered to those whose homes had been demolished and to those who had been forced to leave their homes for fear of future slides.

Mr. Green said the federal government had been "very much concerned" to learn of the disaster. However, the usual course was for the municipality to request help from its provincial government. The province then could ask for federal aid if it thought this was needed.

YANKEES RELEASE 1958 SCHEDULE

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees announced their official 1958 home schedule Tuesday, including 20 night games, three more than were played in each of the last few years.

In playing every other team three times under the lights with the exception of Detroit, which has two arc dates, the Yankees said the icnrease was made to offset a part of the heavy National League night game program in 1957.

The Giant and Dodgers, now the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers, played 58 night games in the area last season.

New York opens its home season April 18 against the Baltimore Orioles after opening the season three days earlier in Boston.

Veteran Eskimos Hang Up Cleats

EDMONTON (CP)—Two veteran players for Edmonton Eskimos have announced plans to retire.

Bill Briggs and Mike King, both Toronto products who have played eight seasons with Edmonton, announced Monday night they have decided to hang up their cleats.

Briggs feels he has to devote more time to his church, Winterburn United, in his last year at theological college next season.

King, once an all-star fullback in the Western Interprovincial Football Union but used in the last four years as a defensive player, saw little action this season.

By SITZMARK

We are really pleased with the progress made last Sunday on the ski lift.

Our main cable is now all around — this was a big job — and the first Sunday we tried it had seemed an impossible task. Again we have to thank Roy Hickey for his aid.

There was also a crew working on the further construction of the upper tower, and with any luck it should be in place and anchored next weekend.

Several ties were laid inside the drive shed. These are for the track on which our bottom drive unit runs. There are still more of these to go in before we can lay the tracks.

Only one of the intermediate towers was braced before darkness called a halt, which leaves nine more to be done. Again we hope this will be done on the coming weekend.

We have been really lucky with weather for this outside work, and we hope for at least another good one. However, if it rains or snows we'll have to be on the job anyway.

Another important job started Sunday was the foundation of the First Aid Hut. Dick Moore, head of our Ski Patrol, got going on this most important project. Sorry, Dick. We couldn't spare some men from the work on the lift line, but another Sunday we must see that this job gets more attention. We hope it won't be a popular place, but we all realize the necessity of a First-Aid Shack.

Our communications detail did a fine job Sunday installing our telephone system, and this was no small task when you consider there's half a mile of line, a telephone at the bottom, at the Silver King Road, and one on the top. This will save a lot of lung power.

We're sorry we have not called more meetings of the club, but hope to rectify that now and to tee it off there will be a club meeting for all members Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms. Be there, please.

KIMBERLEY SEASON HIGHLIGHTED BY BIG FEBRUARY SKI EVENTS

KIMBERLEY — With the club's annual meeting, Kimberley Ski Club got its 1957-58 season away on a downhill run with all but two members of last year's executive being returned by acclamation.

Elected as honorary president was J. O. Geigerich, and Al Fabro was elected honorary vice-president.

A 16-man board headed by president Fred Waldie and including 12 directors is facing its toughest test since the ski club was formed in 1931 because two major meets — the Northwest Intercollegiate meet and the Canadian Ski Championships — are scheduled to tie in with Kimberley's annual Snow Fiesta in February.

The Canadian ski championship has been an objective ever since formation of the club, and an esmated 130 competitors are likely to participate. The B.C. Centenniay Committee at Victoria has allotted $3,000 toward the budget and a possibility — with cooperation of the Alberta Government who will then make use of the skiers at Banff — is that three Norwegian ski-jump stars will join the three already assured.

With more than 200 competitors, at least 30 visiting officials and a *minimum of 3000 visitors expect*ed, Kimberley will be bursting at the seams.

Only Senior men and women with A or B ratings will compete, and those carrying B ratings will have to be passed by the technical chairman.

A vote of thanks was tendered retiring secretary Lucille Martin, and Janet Thompson was welcomed as incoming secretary. Sam Wormington is tournament chairman.

Warriors Take Second Place With 3-1 Victory Over Trail

ROSSLAND — Defenceman George Ferguson and centre Frank Turik sparked Rossland Warriors to a 3-1 victory over Trail Smoke Eaters here Tuesday night with a goal and an assist apiece to account for the winning margin in a triumph that sent the Western International Hockey League race into a scramble that made obsolate every other reference this season to such things as "jumbled league races."

Warriors jumped all the way from last to second spot in the four team circuit by scoring once in every period while Reno Zanier and his defensive team-mates — without Don Fletcher — set up a bulwark.

Frank Turik and Gil Desrosiers added singles for Rossland while rookie Warren Hicks took a pass from linemate Gerry Penner to beat Zanier. There was little rejoicing in the Warrior camp at the thought of the first shutout of the season, because Trail's goal was the first of the game.

Warriors tonight visit Spokane Flyers, whom they trail by four points — 18 to 14 — with a game in hand. A victory on the spacious Coliseum ice-sheet would open a two-point gap between Warriors and the other two clubs in the league, Trail and Nelson Maple Leafs.

At present, Trail, Nelson and Rossland each has 14 points, but Warriors held second place by virtue of one less defeat. They have played 14 games; Trail and Nelson 15 each.

The game itself was marked by *tight checking and supurb goal*tending — not to mention an at*tack on referee Al Toikko by trig*ger-tempered Bobby Kromm.

Assessed a 10-minute misconduct for disputting an off-side call at the Rossland blue-line with only two seconds remaining in the first period, Kromm went after the bulky arbiter before being restrained by team-mates.

After being held back once, Kromm broke free again and took a lusty swing to Toikko, but fortunately missed. His match-misconduct will probably prevent him seeing action at Cominco Arena Thursday night against the visiting Nelson Maple Leafs.

Smokies battled as gamely as they knew to take unchallenged possession of second-place, pelting 33 shots at Zanier. Smokie goalie Seth Martin kicked out 27, many of them dangerous. With 55 seconds remaining, Warrior Hal Jones tangled with Smokie Ernie Secco in a battle for which each drew major penalties.

Trail — goal: Martin; defence: Conn, Hamilton, Andre, Robert*son; forwards: Kromm, Hockley,* Tambellini, Penner, Hicks, E. Secco, Bursaw, Hayes, Rypien.

Rossland — goal: Zanier; defence: Kraiger, Lofvendahl, McCabe, Ferguson; forwards: McIntyre, Desrosiers, Demore, Lucchini, Birukow, Lenardon, Andrews, Turik, Jones.

Officials — Al Toikko and Bing Juckes.

First period — 1. Trail — Hicks (Penner) 1:09; 2. Rossland—Turik (Andrews, Ferguson) 15:32.

Penalties: McCabe 11:25; Kromm (10 - minute misconduct and match misconduct) 19:58.

Second period — 3. Rossland — Ferguson (Turik) 16:12.

Penalties: Jones 13:22; Bursaw 18:41.

Third period — 4. Rossland — Desrosiers (Turik, Ferguson) 15:09.

Penalties: Jones 16:48; Jones (major, fighting) 19:05; E. Secco (major, fighting) 19:05.

Contenders Sign Pacts

CHICAGO (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown of New Orleans and Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., Tuesday formally signed for their 15-round championship bout in Chicago Stadium Dec. 4.

Lopes, ranked the No. 7 contender by the National Boxing Association, battled Brown to a 10-round draw in a non-title bout at the stadium Aug. 21.

There is no return match clause in the contract which pro*vides a 40 per cent split of the* gate for the champion and 20 per cent for the challenger.

Brown will get a 60-40 percentage benefit in slicing the $20,000 television proceeds.

The Sponsoring International Boxing Club said it was shooting for a 7000 crowd and a $20,000 gate.

Brown, 31, has a record of 66-14-9 and has scored 28 knockouts. Lopes is 41-13-3 with 17 knockouts.

Brown won the title in August of 1956 from Wallace (Bud) Smith.

Strikes 'n' Spares

Jerry Grant of Raindrops, bowling in the Friday Mixed League at Nelson Bowl-a-drome, posted the first entry in the select "400" club in nearly three years last week. He incorporated a 402 single into an 816 triple to cop top honors for the week in each category.

In 1954, Gwen McRone rolled a 403 for the last previous select score. To concoct his potent tally, Jerry spared his first frame, then rolled nine consecutive strikes. He will receive a "Bowl-a-Drome Award" plus awards from four local merchants.

Dutchies Win 4-2 . . .

First-String Goalie No Help to Russians

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen scored a 4-2 victory over Moscow Selects in an exhibition hockey game Tuesday night before 8,000 fans.

The Russians came up with a surprise when they started Nicolai Puchkov in goal in place of Yevgeny Erkin. Puchkov has been recovering from a fractured jaw, an injury suffered at a game in Moscow Nov. 3.

Erkin got a split finger in a workout earlier Tuesday and it may have caused the change. Monday the visitors said that Puchkov had been forbidden to play by his doctor.

TAKE LEAD

A 40-footer that beat Puchkov gave the Dutchmen a 1-0 lead in the first period. Don Rope was the marksman.

In the second period Ken Lauf*man scored a backhander at 20* seconds. Less than four minutes later Jerry Theberge made it 3-0 when he spun in front of the Soviet goal and hit the corner.

The Dutchmen were short-handed when Russia scored its first goal.

Konstantin Loktev registered with a 25-footer as the Russians showed a fine power play.

LOOSE PUCK

Jack Stoddard hanged in a loose puck in front of the Russian goal at 11:49 to make it 4-1. The margin stood up to the last 10 seconds when the Selects got their final goal.

Veniamin Alexandrov beat the K-W defence to the puck and took a shot. Hurley kicked it out. The puck went behind the goal and as Alexandrov tried to pass it in front it hit Hurley's skates and deflected in.

Bomber Coaching Pair Instil Pride in Club

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP)—Last July, a prematurely-grey, rookie coach in the Western Interprovincial Football Union told a Winnipeg service club luncheon, "we're shooting for the top."

The speaker, coach Bud Grant of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, also told the gathering, "we're doing all we can to instil in all our players a sense of pride of being a member of the Blue Bombers."

Today, he has accomplished both.

Bombers captured the WIFU championship from the defending Edmonton Eskimos with a display of "pride and guts" that won not only the admiration of the Winnipeg fans but those all over the West.

HUNGRY TEAM

There is no doubt that Bombers were "up" for and pointing to the series with the almost-invincible Eskimos. That was the team they wanted to beat. They were hungrier than the Esks.

Now, Grant and assistant Wayne Robinson must make sure there is no letdown before their Grey Cup battle Saturday against Ham*ilton in Toronto.*

Both are quietly confident there won't be.

"This week's rest is the first real break we've had since we entered the playoffs," said Robinson as he scanned films in the coaches' office at the Winnipeg Arena.

RUGGED GAMES

"We played five rugged games in 14 days and our injuries never got a chance to really heal," he said. "We'll be ready."

Grant credits Bombers' tremendous display in the playoffs to "pride and guts."

"The team spirit was wonderful," he said. "Everybody did their job. They worked together. There was never just one man making a tackle. It was a ganging job."

He said he plans nightly work*outs at Winnipeg Stadium until the* team takes off by plane Thursday for the Toronto suburb of Scarborough. There, they will work out on a nearby field until they move into Varsity Stadium for the afternoon game against the Tiger-Cats.

What is behind the team spirit Bombers have shown this year?

HOT COMBINATION

They'll be the last to admit it, but it goes right back to the day the Bomber executive signed the coaching combination of Grant and Robinson.

None of their predecessors since the coaching days of Reg Threlfall in the late 1930s and the early '40s has been able to instil such a "work-together" atmosphere around the practice fields, playing fields, and dressing rooms.

Centre George Druxman explains it this way:

"The reason the boys wanted to play so hard is because of Grant and Robinson. They're the greatest with everyone on the team."

That is no mean tribute to a couple of former football players who never before had coached a team.

Prystai Recalled By Parent Squad

DETROIT (AP)—Metro Prystai, 10-year veteran of the National Hockey League, Tuesday was recalled by Detroit Red Wings from their Edmonton farm club.

The 30-year-old Prystai is Edmonton's leading goal-scorer with 10 and has played all three forward positions for the Flyers. He will report in time for Thursday's game here against Toronto Maple Leafs.

Prystai was sent to the minor leagues during the 1957 pre-season training period. Going to Edmonton is young Tom McCarthy.

"He needs regular work," said coach Jim Skinner, "and he can't get it in Detroit."

SOLDIERS SENTENCED

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Three British soldiers were sentenced Tuesday to prison for *handing over arms and ammuni*tion to Cypriot Greeks in return for a motor boat in which they deserted to Turkey. Pte. David Peter Kerry, 20, was sentenced to six years imprisonment. The two other accused each received five years.

Ti-Cat Coach Watched Esks to Learn Secret

HAMILTON (CP) — If Hamilton defeats Winnipeg Blue Bombers in Saturday's Grey Cup final — and bettors are saying they can — coach Jim Trimble can bow deeply to Pop Ivy, his counterpart with Edmonton Eskimos. Ivy demonstrated the cup can be won with a rough, tough club.

Trimble spun his Ticats through a light workout Tuesday and, in one of his more talkative moments, told reporters how he brought the club to first place in the Big Four, a double playoff victory over Montreal Alouettes and into the Canadian championship. He got the idea from the Eskimos.

After watching Edmonton defeat the Als 50-27 in the 1956 East-West classic, he said his thinking changed about the kind of club to build for 1957.

CHANGED THINKING

"I saw Edmonton hammer at Montreal until the Alouettes had nothing left in the fourth quarter. I saw them fall apart while Edmonton got stronger and stronger. That changed my thinking . . . I wanted a tough ball club."

There's little doubt in the mind of eastern observers that Trimble got what he went after. Tiger-Cats were a mauling, block - busting bunch of players all through the 14-game Big Four schedule in which they lost only four games — and they came out of it the healthiest football club in the country.

There isn't a hint of a serious injury in the Tiger-Cat camp.

STRESS ON DEFENCE

The season's statistics reveal Hamilton's stress on defence. They scored 250 points in the 14 league games, the lowest of any club, but had only 189 scored against them, again the lowest.

With magic man Bernie Faloney directing traffic from the quarterback slot, Tiger-Cats employed to the full the power-driving potentialities of Gerry McDougall and Cookie Gilchrist. McDougall was the league's leading ground-gainer, piling up 1,053 yards in 177 carries for an average gain of 5.9 yards.

The 21-year-old Gilchrist was next with a total of 958 yards gained in 204 rushes for an average of 4.7 yards a carry.

Yank Imports Dominate Team

TORONTO (CP) — Five players who formerly played with teams in the Big Four were chosen on the 1957 Canadian Press all-star team of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

The team, chosen for CP by coaches, sports writers and sportscasters in the four ORFU cities and announced Tuesday, was dominated by American imports. Flying wing Bob Smith of Sarnia Golden Bears is the only Canadian player selected.

The 12 positions were evenly represented by three teams, Sarnia, Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen and London Lords. The other team in the league, Toronto Beaches, did not gain a berth.

The team: Flying wing — Bob Smith, Sarnia; halves — Leroy Thompson, London, Ron King, London, Mike Norcia, Kitchener-Waterloo; quarter — Bob Celeri, Kitchener - Waterloo, centre — Veryl Scott, London; guards — Larry Cordonick, Sarnia, Joe Lightfoot, Sarnia; tackles — Ed Heuring, London, Tom Mooney, Kitchener - Waterloo; ends — Frank McDonald, Sarnia, Al Romine, Kitchener-Waterloo.

Young Richard Still Leads In Battle for Point Crown

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens' current high - scoring trio each picked up three points in National Hockey League action last week to held their top places in the scoring list, with Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard heading the parade.

The little Rocket scored one goal and contributed two assists in Montreal's two games, running his point total to 27. His brother Maurice, the Rocket, is still in second place with 23 points although he has been sidelined since Nov. 13 with an injury.

Jean Beliveau collected three assists and Dickie Moore a goal and two assists to remain tied for third place with 22 points.

Henri Richard is setting the pace for goal scoring, with 13 and is tied at 14 with Beliveau and Moore for the most assists.

RANGERS HANG ON

New York Rangers hung on to top place in the league race. They won, lost and tied in their three games and now have 26 points, one more than Canadiens.

The Montrealers, who have played three fewer games, won and tied in their two outings last week for the best percentage among the six clubs—three of a possible four points.

Cleveland Builds 12 Ore Carriers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Plans for construction of 12 big Great Lakes iron ore carriers at a cost of $100,000,000 were announced today by the Pittsburgh Steamship Division.

Admiral Charles R. Khoury, president of the U.S. Steel Corporation subsidiary, said it is hoped approval for construction of the first of the 12 ships can be obtained next year so that it can be ready for service in the 1960 shipping season.

The ships, which Khoury said he hoped could be completed in five years, will be larger and faster than any now in the 57-vessel fleet of Pittsburgh Steamship, largest on the Great Lakes.

Khoury said the ships will be about 730 feet long, 75 feet wide and have carrying capacities of 25,000 gross tons. When they are completed, 29 old and smaller ships will be retired.

Starr To Watch B.C. Fishermen

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Starr says his department will keep close watch on the situation whereby British Columbia fishermen may not qualify this year for seasonal unemployment owing to a lack of credits.

He was replying in the Commons Tuesday to Frank Howard (CCF — Skeena) who asked that regulations requiring a minimum of 15 contributory weeks be suspended. He said that due to a short salmon run this year, many fishermen will not be able to qualify.

Mr. Starr, who received a telegram from the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union about the situation, said that if it warrants action it will be given careful consideration.

Under new unemployment insurance regulations, effective Dec. 1, fishermen who have paid 15 weekly contributions to the insurance fund may be eligible for benefits.

Riots and Arson Sweep Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—Anti-British riots and suspected arson Tuesday marked the second anniversary of the British emergency proclamation in Cyprus.

The fire broke out in a hangar of the British air force's new Middle East base at Akrotiri. A number of planes were reported burned.

Greek-Cypriots, calling for union of Cyprus with Greece and an end of the anti-terrorist emergency regulations, rioted in several Cyprus towns. British military police were stoned in a Famagusta demonstration and many were injured. The terrorists have refrained from major violence since last March.

Says Japanese Dumping Apples

hu-imports espy bc

OTTAWA (CP) — Agriculture Minister Harkness said Tuesday he will look into recent imports of canned Japanese apples on the west coast. But he said there is no ground for action against present imports of United States potatoes into British Columbia.

The issue of importation of the two products was raised in the Commons by two Social Credit members.

George Hahn, New Westminster, said the B. C. lower mainland has been flooded by Japanese apples while Okanagan Valley producers were in a distressed condition.

Frank Christian, Okanagan Boundary, questioned current imports of U. S. potatoes.

Dr. Harkness said the Japanese apples have met Canadian standards, and there is a tariff of one cent a pound on them. Thus there was no basis for prohibiting their entry. Departmental officials would look into the situation.

There was no reason for action on imported U. S. potatoes. Imports in recent weeks were less than half the influx a year ago.

CROSS PICKET LINES

BATH, Me. (AP) — The Bath Iron Works Corptration, strike-bound since Nov. 11, said Monday it has resumed production on five naval craft, including two guided missile vessels. Nearly 600 strikers — by management count — crossed picket lines at the main shipyard and Harding Fabrication plant in East Brunswick.

PREDICTS FASTER AIRPLANE TRAVEL

MONTREAL (CP) — Commercial airliners should reach performances of about 2,000 miles an hour in 20 or 25 years but "there is no assurance that our passenger-handling facilities in Canada will ever catch up," President G. W. Grant McConachie of Canadian Pacific Airlines said Tuesday.

Air transport prophesy was risky with rocket engines and atomic fuel looming, but Mr. McConachie said he believes the advent of the 600-mile-an-hour jet means airlines have reached a "10-year-plateau." Time would be required to recover huge investments.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Gambling by TV Latest Novelty

HAVANA (AP) — A new 400-room hotel opening in Havana next month will offer gambling by television.

Guests can place bets from the privacy of their rooms while watching the roulette wheel spin and cards dealt in a central casino.

Wagers will be telephoned to the casino. Television cameras will pick up the play during certain hours.

Harry Smith, president of an $11,000,000 hotel opening Dec. 10, says technical difficulties in operating closed circuit gambling are being ironed out and he is confident the plan will be a success.

It will work this way:

Guests wishing to play roulette will telephone the wheel's operator, saying what color number or brackets of numbers they want to play, and the amount of their wagers.

PUT ON BILL

They then will watch on television as the wheel spins. If they win, messengers will deliver the profits, or they can have their hotel account credited.

If they lose, their account will show a debit.

This new hotel, the Riviera, in the fashionable Vedado sector, was built with North American capital and $5,000,000 lent by Bandes, the Cuban bank for economic and social development.

Other hotels opening before Jan. 1 include the Havana Hilton and the Capri. All, under licence from the Cuban government, will operate casinos. That will make 10 big casinos in this capital. Havana long has been known for wide open gambling on everything, including cockfights. Any hotel or club investing more than $1,000,000 in its property can get a casino licence for $25,000 a year.

TARTANS POPULAR

The beautiful colors of the traditional highland tartans are always in fashion and available in wide variety.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took one of its worst tumbles of the year Tuesday on news of President Eisenhower's illness.

After a see-saw day, prices were beaten down in the last 20 minutes of trading following publication of the medical report. Key stocks lost 1 to 7 points.

Based on the fall in The Associated Press 60-stock average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $4,500,000,000.

It was the sharpest break since Oct. 21 when the market suffered its worst setback since September 1955 following Eisenhower's heart attack.

Volume swelled to 3,650,000 shares from 2,600,000 Monday and was the biggest since 4,030,000 on Oct. 24.

Stocks in all major divisions were clobbered. All 15 most active stocks were lower.

The AP 60-stock average fell $3.60 to $154.60 with the industrials down $5.40, the rails down $4.10 and the utilities down 70 cents.

Canadian issues on the New York exchange followed the downtrend. Losers included Aluminium Ltd., off 1⅜ on 12,400 shares; Distillers - Seagrams, 1⅜ McIntyre Porcupine, 3¼; Canadian Pacific, ½; Hudson Bay Mining, ½ and International Nickel, ⅜. Walker - Gooderham was up ¼ on 100 shares.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market Tuesday was hit hard in the closing minutes by heavy selling which resulted after a medical bulletin from Washington said President Eisenhower had suffered a clotting of "a small branch of the middle cerebral artery."

Prices among the stocks listed on both the Toronto and New York markets fell sharply with some losses ranging to more than $3 a share.

The industrial index of the Toronto market, compiled on the activity of 20 key issues, dropped more than 6 points and most of that loss was made during the final 15 minutes of trading.

Western oils lost four points on their index. Base metals were down 1½ points.

Selling was heavy. The final volume was 2,116,000 shares, only the second time this month that sales had gone over the 2,000,000 - mark. Monday's volume was 1,865,000 shares.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges generally slipped Tuesday. Losses ranged to more than a point.

Royal Bank fell 1¼ to 61¼ and Bank of Nova Scotia 1⅛ to 51.

Base metals were generally lower. Asbestos at 30½ and Noranda at 36¼ lost each. International Nickel improved a point at 73. McColl Oil advanced a point to 58 in an otherwise fractionally lower refinery group. Imperial Oil slid ½ to 40.

In a mixed newsprint group International Paper gained 1¼ at 30 and Abitibi Paper at 26 and Price Brothers at 41½ lost ¾ each.

Western oils were lower as Pacific Petroleums lost 1½ at 19 and Central Del Rio 20 cents at 6.80. Campbell Chib gained 25 cents among generally-lower producing metal mines. Steep Rock dropped 30 cents to a new low of 9.00.

Industrial volume was 48,100 shares; mines and oils 325,200.

Survey Notes Need For Uniformity In Financial Reporting Practice

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canadian firms have made progress in developing effective financial reporting but variations in practice indicate there is a need for great uniformity.

This is the conclusion of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants as stated in a new volume, Financial Reporting in Canada.

The need for great uniformity, the publication adds, is particularly true of reports on problems created by expanding business and changes in statues.

"Financial reporting," as referred to in this instance, means the manner in which companies present their annual reports.

The new 115-page volume is the second edition in expanded form of one first issued by the institute in 1955.

It is the result of a survey of the annual reports for the four years 1953 to 1956 of 300 companies representing beverage, construction, merchandising, foodstuff, grain and milling, iron and steel, sundry processing and distributing, pulp and paper, and textile industries.

COMMENTS ON TABLES

The comment accompanying tables on inventories reads in part:

"Because inventories are generally made up of items in various stages of production, their availability for realization varies, depending on the proportionate degree of completion of the components.

"It has been suggested, therefore, that in judging the current position of a company, it is helpful to know how much of the inventory consists of finished goods, how much is in process and how much represents raw materials.

"In the United States, reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission must, if practicable, segregate inventories between finished goods, work in process, raw materials, and supplies."

The table accompanying this comment shows that of the Canadian companies whose reports were examined, 86.8 per cent grouped inventories in one figure; 9.8 per cent set out all components as separate figures; 2.7 gave raw materials as one figure and grouped work-in-progress and finished goods; while 0.7 per cent grouped raw materials and work-in-progress and gave finished good separately.

LINK OTHER YEARS

Over the last four years there has been a gradual but steady increase in the number of companies which, along with the figures under review, give the corresponding figures for the preceding year.

"This trend," the book comments, "indicates the growing recognition that each set of financial statements is, in effect, a chapter in the history and development of a company which cannot be properly understood without some knowledge of what has taken place in the preceding chapters."

London Retains Nash Terraces

By CARL MOLLINS

LONDON (Reuters) — Though there are no popular songs to prove it, there are folk who love London as much as any songwriter dotes on Paris.

These people breathed easier Tuesday than they have for the last several months. Half-a-dozen newspapers told them that the sweeping crescents of fine, tall houses built 130 years ago by regency architect John Nash may not be demolished after all.

"It now seems certain that the Nash Terraces will be preserved," The Daily Telegraph said after an all-party political deputation issued a plea for preservation.

OUTRAGED PROTESTS

Earlier this year, outraged protests greeted rumors that moves were afoot to sweep away some Nash buildings to make room for new office blocks.

John Nash, who lived from 1752 to 1845, was a little Cockney with a genius for town planning and for building stone and stuccoed houses of classical simplicity and beauty.

He revolutionized the West End of London with a vast plan sponsored by England's prince regent —later King George IV — who was ruling for his mad father, George III.

In the borough of St. Marylebone he designed Regents Park and ringed it with terraced crescents of pillared, cream-colored homes.

CREATED ROYAL MILE

He linked the green slopes, trees and ponds of this park to St. James's Park in Westminster with his "Royal Mile," a series of broad streets flanked by more of his buildings — Portland Place, Oxford Circus, Regent Street, Piccadilly Circus and Waterloo Place —to The Mall.

Much of the Royal Mile now is a bustling, neoned business district in the heart of London. But most of the Regents Park terraces and the grandeur of his Carlton House, a vast block on The Mall, remain.

Many of the houses are in bad repair. There is no official plan to demolish them, but there is an official recognition that a lot of money — estimated at some £7,000,000 — would be needed for structural repairs and interior modernization.

GETS UN POST

OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. Harry S. Quart, 59, of Quebec City, a member of Canada's delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, has been named a Canadian representative on the UN commission on the status of women, it was announced Tuesday. Canada has been elected to the commission for a three-year term, beginning Jan. 1.

Odds . . . and Ends

. . . by M. D. B.

I wonder what happened to all the talk of the bridge. It seems to have died quite suddenly, with the new Vernon Street hotel-office project stealing all the lamplight. And no wonder, for the prospect of having a beautiful new building to fill in that great gaping space has caught almost everyone's imagination, since it will add not only to the beauty of the street, but of the whole town in general.

* * *

Most people to whom I've spoken have been elated that such a thing is to happen to Nelson and see it as a progressive step in the growth of the city. Some said it had long been needed and felt the council has done wisely and with the city's interest at heart. A goodly number admitted they do not know too much about the inner workings of things, but felt they could trust council in the matter.

* * *

Some to whom I spoke were adverse to the whole business. They said the city would pay out $500,000 rent over 20 years and still not have a city hall. True, but as has been pointed out taxes collected will pay the city rental possibly with some spare and there will be no upkeep for the city over that period of time. Or if the city found it really wanted a city hall it could lease out its office space and go ahead and build a city hall — thereby losing nothing.

* * *

But just think — if the city had said no, they wouldn't lease space, then the project would not go through, for the prospective builders need that guaranteed rental of city and provincial offices to be certain of being able to carry the financial burden — good times or bad.

* * *

If the project does not go through, Nelson loses an industry that will employ 75 people when completed, to say nothing of employment during the building or of sales of building materials. There would be no much needed additional hotel space for our increasing tourist industry and conferences which now bypass our central location in the province would have to continue to do so.

* * *

Some say we should have had a plebiscite. Few people are in a position to entirely assess the situation and they expect the mayor and council to go into all the details. This council has done and laid the facts before us, saying they figure it is a good thing. What more can we ask?

These are only my own personal thoughts on the matter after reading the reports and listening to the opinions of others.

Arctic Explorers Progress Good

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (Reuters) — Sir Edmund Hillary and his New Zealand tractor party Tuesday reached a new Antarctic depot on their way to meet another group attempting the first land crossing of the treacherous "white" continent.

Officials here received a message from Hillgary, conqueror of Mount Everest, reporting his party arrived at Depot 480—720 miles from the South Pole—after a two-week, 200-mile trip from Depot 280 near the rim of the polar plateau.

Hillary's group hit bad weather on the latest stage of its trip from New Zealand's Scott base for a rendezvous about Jan. 10 with the Commonwealth trans - Antarctic expedition. The latter left Shackleton base on Vahsel Bay Monday in the first bid to cross the continent by land.

The trans - Antarctic group, bound for Scott base via the pole, is scheduled to meet Hillary's party near Mount Albert Markham on the New Zealand side of the pole.

EXCELLENT ROUTE

In his message, Hillary said his group "had an unpleasant time in a crevassed area yesterday but extricated all vehicles safely and found an excellent route further west."

He also reported heavy snowdrifts.

Hillary added: "All members of the party are well."

Earlier, Hillary said he might press beyond the slated rendezvous with the Commonwealth party about 400 miles from the pole.

Led by British geophysicist Vivian Fuchs, the trans - Antarctic team hopes to complete its 2,100-mile trek to Scott base by February. It is journeying on snow vehicles and dogsleds.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Prince Aly Khan is in town to visit his seven-year-old daughter, Yasmin. The prince, who arrived Monday, said he has no plans to see Yasmin's mother, actress Rita Hayworth. He and the actress were divorced in 1953.

Canada's Roving Envoys Visit Atomic Centre

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HARWELL, England (CP)—Canada's roving ambassadors of business Tuesday visited Britain's atomic research centre in Berkshire, starting a month-long tour aimed at changing transatlantic trading patterns.

The "Maple Leaf Special," a seven-coach maroon-colored train provided by the British government, rolled out of London's Paddington station early Tuesday morning carrying the 50-odd official members of the biggest trade mission that has ever left Canada.

First stop was the atomic centre at Harwell, where the party inspected experimental nuclear reactors. Visits to an aircraft factory near Bristol and a dinner party at Cardiff in Wales were other items on the first day's agenda.

SEEK TRADE BALANCE

The mission, unique in British-Canadian relations, represents a determined effort by Canada to test once and perhaps for all the possibility of increasing British sales to Canada, with the hope ultimately of enabling Britain to buy more from Canada, thus helping to bring the old Canada-Britain-United States pattern of trade into closer balance.

The mission completed the first London phase of its visit Monday with a lavish luncheon at Claridge's Hotel, talks at the Federation of British industries and an evening reception, also at Claridge's. This was given by the Canadian high commissioner, George Drew, who is travelling with the mission.

Chlorination Buildings Ready For Equipment

Two buildings are now ready for chlorination equipment at Anderson Creek reservoir, J. A. Maber, waterworks superintendent, said Monday. The buildings have been built of concrete blocks.

JUDGE'S DECISION IN FAVOR OF WIFE

LONDON (AP)—A high court judge ruled Tuesday that a wealthy widow had broken an agreement by inducing the 95-year-old Marquess of Winchester to file a nullity petition against his wife.

Judge Patrick Devlin found in favor of the 54-year-old Marchioness of Winchester, who claimed damages from Mrs. Evelyn Fleming, 73, formerly of the Bahamas. He ordered an inquiry to fix damages.

Devlin said the aged nobleman became unofficially engaged to Mrs. Fleming in 1951 and lived at her house in the Bahamas for nine months. She broke off the engagement when a doctor advised her she was not strong enough to look after a husband of that age.

In 1952 the marquess married his present wife. But he continued his friendship with Mrs. Fleming, the judge continued, and eventually went back to her house in the Bahamas.

The marchioness brought an enticement action. In a settlement of that action Mrs. Fleming agreed not to interfere any more.

Playing Cards Required for Mount Residents

A game of cards with cards that still have four corners and are still fairly close to the color that playing cards were meant to be — white — is a favorite pastime with the men of Mount St. Francis. Endless games of cribbage (or rather, countless games) pass hours at this residence where so many of Nelson and district's original settlers have found comfort and companionship.

However, the Sisters of St. Ann say there is difficulty in keeping the playing cards in fair enough shape to last the length of time that lapses before birthdays or gift-giving celebrations roll around. Because of this, they are hoping that Nelson and district residents having packs of cards that are in good condition would pass them along to the card players at the Mount. Chess and checker sets are also required, they said.

Buffalo Hold Up Geologists

EDMONTON (CP) — The world's largest buffalo herd—15,000 strong — is frustrating the northland search for minerals.

Geologists so far have been unable to get permission to enter the federal government's Wood Buffalo Park, a 17,300 - square mile preserve straddling the Alberta-Northwest Territories boundary. The main reason for this is believed to be herd protection.

Meanwhile, geologists contend that the park contains the same or similar geological formations as those in the Pine Point area on the south shore of Great Slave Lake, where an estimated 60,000,000 tons of lead-zinc ore await development.

Dr. H. N. Grace, director of the Alberta Research Council, told the province's government-appointed commission on northern development in hearings here Monday that geologists are getting anxious to make a detailed study of the park.

"We wish we knew exactly what is there," he said. "We'd like to shoo the buffalo over a few miles."

The commission has told that one large company, interested chiefly in copper, already has applied for federal government authority to make detailed surveys in the area.

RAIL ROUTE AFFECTED

Dr. Grace said the route of the proposed rail line to Pine Point cannot be determined properly until the park's mineral potential is known.

He estimated that, in the event of a national or world emergency, it would take two years to obtain a good indication of the park's potential wealth.

G. H. Finland, manager of the Alberta and Northwest Chamber of Mines, said:

"We've been talking about a railway to Pine Point for 10 or 20 years. The income tax alone from resources development in the area opened up would pay for the rails in 50 years."

Two rail routes have been proposed. One would stretch north from Grimshaw in the Peace River district of northwestern Alberta, the other from McMurray, present end of steel about 250 miles north of Edmonton. The latter route probably would pass through the buffalo park.

Safe-Driving Week Starts December 1

December 1 to 7 has been declared Safe-Driving Week by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference. Nelson RCMP subdivision officers, under Inspector E. S. W. Batty, are co-operating in an attempt to keep the area free of traffic accidents for the week.

Pedestrians and drivers should "drive and walk as you would have others drive and walk," Inspector Batty said in a bulletin on Safe Driving week.

About 35,000 people died in traffic accidents on Canadian highways, during the last 20 years, and the inspector said 85 per cent of those accidents were due to human behaviour, illustrating the need for motorists and pedestrians to observe the letter and the spirit of traffic regulations. Efforts would be made to increase RCMP traffic patrols during the week, Insp. Batty said.

Last week there were 28 traffic accidents, no fatalities, and seven prosecutions in the subdivision, with 290 traffic accidents, two fatal accidents and 119 prosecutions in B. C., RCMP announced Monday.

Hardly a day goes by without someone in the Nelson RCMP subdivision or Nelson city, being involved in an accident or coming before court for speeding, crossing a double centre line, or doing something else which might cause a traffic accident, it was pointed out.

P.M. By-Passes Langley's Claim

OTTAWA (CP)—Amid high affairs of state, the federal-provincial tax conference Tuesday took notice of a claim to fame by Langley, B.C.

White boutonniers were sent by Langley high school students, with the note that Tuesday was the 130th anniversary of Langley as "the birthplace of British Columbia."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who with a number of the premiers wore a white flower, said with a smile that the conference had enough controversial problems without considering whether the claim would be accepted by all those from B.C.

CLOSE WAR PRISON

BONN (AP)—The French war crimes prison at Wittlich closed Monday as the last German prisoner was released. That leaves the U.S. war crimes prison at Landsberg with 11 prisoners—as the final relic of the occupation prisons that once held thousands of Germans.
