3-Day Adjournment for UN's Bitter Turkish-Syrian Debate

By LLOYD McDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The United Nations General Assembly voted Tuesday night to adjourn its bitter debate on the Turkish-Syrian crisis for at least three days in order to give King Saud's Saudi Arabian mediation effort a chance.

The assembly voted 37 to 10 with 34 abstentions for an amended resolution adjourning the UN debate for a period not exceeding three days.

The three-day suspension was proposed by Syria after the United States suggested, and Paraguay formally proposed, an indefinite waiting period.

HEATED ARGUMENT

The final vote came after delegates had argued heatedly for an hour after the usual adjournment time. The entire debate was marked by exchange among the two Middle East participants and Russia and the United States.

Russia's foreign minister warned the assembly that in the event of any attack on Syria the Soviet Union would "take all the necessary steps to extend assistance to the victim of aggression." Russia said its security was involved because of its proximity to the area.

The U.S. in turn served notice that it would regard an attack on any member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, to which Turkey belongs, "as an attack on all."

At the outset, Turkey's delegate, Sey Fullah Esin told the assembly that Turkey had accepted the Saudi Arabian mediation offer and that State Minister Fadim Zolu already was on his way to Saud's capital.

The Turkish delegate felt that the discussion here should be deferred to allow scope for these efforts although he had no information on Syria's acceptance.

CONFUSING THE ISSUE

Farid Zeineddine, the chief Syrian delegate, took the rostrum to condemn "this talk of mediation" which was aimed at confusing the issue and "at throwing a bad light on my country."

U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge had told the assembly earlier that mediation could take place as soon as "Syria says yes" to Saud's offer.

Russia's Andrei Gromyko spoke on Syria's behalf to the assembly, saying the UN body "would do well to wreck the manoeuvre of Turkey" which he blamed on American plotting.

The postponement of the Middle East debate clears the way for resumption today in the assembly's full political committee of consideration of the disarmament question.

Canada will make a submission to the committee this morning when External Affairs Minister Smith makes his second disarmament speech here since he was named to the post in September.

Queen, Philip At Home

LONDON (CP) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip flew home from New York Tuesday and heard thousands of Britons roar "welcome home" outside Buckingham Palace.

Dressed in a cherry red wool suit, the 31-year-old sovereign smiled happily and looked none the worse for her gruelling 10-day schedule in Canada and the United States.

Ase her limousine swept through the palace gates in a clear twilight, some of the thousands awaiting her arrival broke through police lines and surged within touching distance of the car.

Squeezed between Elizabeth and Philip in the back seat was seven-year - old Princess Anne. The blonde tot, dressed in pale blue and clutching a tiny matching handbag, was a surprise member of the official greeting party at London airport.

EXTEND TIME FOR APPEAL

OTTAWA (CP) — The Supreme Court of Canada Tuesday extended until Nov. 4 the deadline for Joseph McKenna, Vancouver, to seek an appeal from a murder conviction.

McKenna has been sentenced to be hanged Nov. 5 for the March 23 murder of Vancouver ambulance driver John Donaldson.

John Taylor, lawyer and Progressive Conservative Commons member for Vancouver - Burrard, applied Tuesday to Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin to extend the time in which McKenna might seek leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Taylor said later that the British Columbia court which convicted McKenna will be asked to postpone the execution date for about one month beyond Nov. 5.

Byrne Tackles Hees on TCA Passes

OTTAWA (CP) — Hope that Commons members residing 1000 miles or more from Ottawa may receive passes on Trans-Canada Air Lines planes to travel to and from the capital was held out Tuesday by Transport Minister Hees.

James Byrne (L — Kootenay East) had reminded Mr. Hees that when the minister was sitting in opposition he had advocated TCA passes for members living 500 miles or more from Ottawa.

Mr. Hees replied that he had been discussing the matter with TCA President G. R. McGregor and had been "rather startled at the cost to the taxpayer that this would involve."

But, he said, he is just as interested in the idea as he had been as a private member.

Fewer U.S. Cars Enter Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Fewer cars entered Canada from the U. S. in September than in the corresponding month last year, the bureau of statistics said Tuesday.

During the month 1,672,200 vehicles entered Canada compared with 1,713,600 a year ago. The decline was partially attributed to an early Labor Day and that many Americans may have crossed in August.

Entries into Canada in the first nine months of 1957 were 5.1 per cent higher than in the first nine months of last year. There were 14,340,600 entries compared with 13,648,600 last year.

SET TALKS FOR SATURDAY A.M.

OTTAWA (CP) — The main conversations scheduled for next weekend between Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Prime Minister Macmillan of Great Britain are to be Saturday morning, Mr. Diefenbaker's office said Tuesday.

Likely main topics are to be clearance toward pooling of scientific information and projects, an idea first put forth by Prime Minister Diefenbaker last month and taken up last week by President Eisenhower of the U.S.; Syria and the Middle Eastern situation, and possibly a review of NATO relationships.

Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Lloyd leave Saturday afternoon for London by air, after less than 24 hours in the capital.

Disillusioned Pair Return Home

PORTSMOUTH, England (Reuters) — A "disillusioned" young English couple returned home Tuesday so the wife can get expensive medical treatment free.

Lionel Jenson, 27, and his 26-year - old wife, Marie, returned from Vancouver so near - blind Mrs. Jenson could have an eye operation under the British nationalized health service.

Jenson said the operation — to remove cataracts from each eye —would have cost more than $1000 in Canada.

"We just could not afford it," he said, "as I was unable to get any work." The Canadian immigration department arranged to get them back home.

He added they do not intend returning to Canada, after six months they became "disillusioned," he said.

Calls for Inquiry Into Fisheries

OTTAWA (CP) — H. J. Robichaud, Liberal MP for Gloucester, Tuesday called on the government to order a formal inquiry into the "deplorable" price conditions in the fisheries industry.

He said during the Commons throne speech debate that the study could be made either by a joint Senate - Commons committee or by a royal commission.

Ritual Murder

MASERU, Basutoland (Reuters) —Eighteen members of the Basuto tribe of British Basutoland appeared in high court here Tuesday charged with ritual murder. They are accused of murdering another Basuto, Mpho Mothijoa, in April, 1956, by cutting a piece from his eyebrow for medicine.

Cold Snap Hits West Provinces

By The Canadian Press

A heavy snowstorm swept across Alberta and Saskatchewan Monday and Tuesday and its accompanying cold snap by late Tuesday was already moving into northwestern Ontario in a steady southeastward march.

By late Tuesday temperatures in northwestern Ontario were dipping into the 30s with snow flurries and a cold drizzle.

October's second severe snowstorm, this time made worse by the lowest temperatures in 24 years, left 10 inches of snow in southern Alberta.

The storm, with temperatures around 10 degrees and winds gusting to 35, left a trail of drift-blocked district roads and tangled telegraph and telephone lines Tuesday.

SNOW HITS SOUTH

Southern Saskatchewan will get a taste of the same conditions today and forecasters said the storm also may move into Manitoba. Snow began falling in the Regina - Moose Jaw area late Tuesday.

The cold was general. Maximum temperatures of 11 degrees in Calgary and 17 degrees at Edmonton both were two degrees lower than the previous Oct. 22 records set in 1933.

These and most other readings in Alberta and Saskatchewan were 35 degrees below the seasonal normal.

BALMY ON WEST COAST

In comparison, it was almost balmy at the West Coast. Vancouver's daytime high Tuesday was 56 degrees, after a low Monday night of 43.

The Atlantic provinces felt winter's approach too. Temperatures in several sections dropped below freezing during the night and Tuesday.

HUNTERS MAROONED?

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — A Montana snowstorm may have marooned hundreds of big game hunters in a mountain area about 100 miles northwest of Helena.

The sheriff's office said Tuesday a deputy at Augusta in northern Lewis and Clark county estimated 500 hunters were trapped in the Beachmark area by snow and ice.

5 Cabinet Ministers to Attend Bridge Opening

Premier W. A. C. Bennett and four other B.C. cabinet ministers—Hon. W. D. Black, MLA for Nelson-Creston and provincial secretary, Hon. P. A. Gaglardi, minister of highways, Hon. W. N. Chant, minister of public works, and Hon. N. P. Steacey, minister of agriculture—will attend the opening of the West Arm bridge on November 7, Mrs. W. J. VanMaarion, chairman of the bridge opening committee, announced Tuesday.

The ribbon will be cut at 2:15 p.m., but it has not yet been decided who will do the honors.

The Nelson Kiltie Band will lead a parade across the new span, followed by cars bearing the premier and other visiting dignitaries, ex-mayors of Nelson and their wives, a bus for senior citizens, the Nelson City Band, Girl Guides, Brownies, Boy Scouts and Cubs.

Missile Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An intermediate range ballistic missile roared aloft from its windwhipped firing pad Tuesday night.

The huge rocket was identified by the defence department as a Jupiter. It was announced it flew its prescribed course and landed in the pre-selected target area.

The distance covered was described as classified information.

The announcement marked the first time the department has issued an official statement identifying the type of rocket launched at a firing. In the past, announcements have been limited to confirmation that a firing took place.

Hope to Reopen Highway Soon

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Pearkes said Tuesday it is hoped that traffic on the Alaska Highway, cut by the recent collapse of a bridge over the Peace River, will be fully resumed in three weeks.

He informed the Commons this will be possible through use of a railway bridge near the site of the bridge collapse at Taylor, B.C. The bridge, owned by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, would have to be planked, and detour roads to it would have to be built.

Explanation of Gas Prices Asked By Harold Winch

OTTAWA (CP) — Harold Winch Tuesday asked the federal government to explain why the people of British Columbia pay almost 50 per cent more for Canadian natural gas than United States consumers.

Speaking in the Commons throne speech debate, the CCF member for Vancouver East said Westcoast Transmission Company Limited is selling gas to the B.C. Electric Company for 32 cents a thousand cubic feet. However, the same gas was being supplied to a U.S. distribution company at the border for 22 cents.

"I would like to know why the citizens of British Columbia, on the wholesale basis, should have to pay almost 50 per cent more for our own gas than it is supplied to the wholesaler when it crosses the border into the United States, Mr. Winch said.

Canadian consumers should not be placed in the position of subsidizing U.S. consumers in the export of a Canadian raw material.

Czechs Arrested On Spying Charges

PRAGUE (CP) — Two Czech citizens, Vladimir Helmuth and his wife, Martha, are under arrest on charges of spying for Britain, police announced Tuesday. Officials claimed reports from the Helmuths were sent to the West through the diplomatic bag of a Western embassy here.

Ban Extended Against Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal District Judge F. Dickinson Letts Tuesday extended the ban against James R. Hoffa's taking over as president of the Teamsters' Union.

Letts said he will sign a preliminary injunction Wednesday morning. He said it will contain "certain other provisions which the court thinks it is necessary perhaps to discuss in detail with counsel.

Kept in Port

VALLETTA, Malta (Reuters) — The British destroyers Duchess and Diamond have cancelled a visit to Haifa, Israel, to prevent any "wrong interpretation" being placed on the arrival of British warships in the present Middle East situation. But the British destroyer, Solebray, will leave Cyprus for Haifa, as planned, informed sources said.

Mollet to Try for Comeback as Premier

PARIS (AP) — Socialist Guy Mollet agreed Tuesday to try a comeback as premier. Prospects are that he will be able to form a cabinet and end a crisis that began Sept. 30.

Mollet was thrown out last May by the same rightist groups that now agree to let him try again. He had set a post-war record by staying in office 15 months.

President Rene Coty called in Mollet and asked him to attempt the task of forming a government.

Mollet accepted after virtual assurance from rightist leader Antoine Pinay that Pinay's Conservatives will not vote against him at a time when France is deep in a financial crisis.

COULD NOT REFUSE

The 62-year-old Socialist leader told reporters he could not refuse the request "in the present circumstances and because of the seriousness of the situation."

He arranged a meeting with caretaker Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury Tuesday night. He begins talks with party leaders today. He did not say when he expects to have his cabinet formed to go before parliament.

Apparent solution of the crisis came none too soon. With the treasury nearly empty, fresh funds must be found to settle state bills at the end of the month.

Strikes against leaping living costs have been called for next Friday. The United Nations is about to debate the Algeria question. France is not represented at vital British-U. S. talks in Washington.

But perhaps what spurred the politicians most was the angry reaction of the French voter.

$9 More for 810,000 Canadian Pensioners

SYRIAN FOREIGN MINISTER Salah Bitar, above, Oct. 16 called for the UN inquiry into the Turkish-Syrian border situation. Tuesday night this inquiry, which has caused many a heated debate in the assembly hall, was adjourned for three days awaiting the outcome of King Saud's Saudi Arabian mediation effort.

Gov't Has Plans for Other Welfare Programs

OTTAWA (CP)—Plans for a $9 increase to $55 a month in federal old age pensions to some 810,000 Canadians 70 and over were unveiled Tuesday by the new Progressive Conservative government. Cost of the increase would be some $90,000,000 a year.

The government also announced it is prepared — if the provinces are willing—to make a similar boost in maximum payments to the needy aged, blind and disabled under federal - provincial welfare programs.

Works Minister Green, government House leader, told the Commons the legislation will be brought forward "at the earliest possible date." Health Minister Monteith declined to disclose now in reply to opposition queries, when the increases are planned to take effect.

The increases follow the boost to $46 from $40 a month in the social security programs made by the former Liberal government, effective July 1.

OTHER CHANGES

The federal government can act on its own, with parliamentary approval, in the proposed increase in old age security pensions to those 70 and over. These are paid from a fund financed by specific taxes on personal and corporation income and retail sales.

The government also proposes to cut the residence requirement to qualify to 10 years from 20, and also extend to six months from three the length of temporary absences from Canada which a pensioner can make without loss of pension.

For the other three welfare programs — whose cost is shared by the two levels of government — provinces must agree to pay their share of the increased payments before they take effect. This also will apply to proposed increases in the means test ceilings under which those programs operate.

MIXED REACTION

Reaction from provincial capitals was mixed.

Manitoba, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan said they are prepared to pay their share. An Ontario government spokesman said that province likely will also.

New Brunswick was awaiting further details. The word from Nova Scotia was that the province likely would act after Parliament deals with the registration.

The three shared programs for needy persons are:

1. Old age assistance to those 65-69.
2. Allowances to those totally and permanently disabled, aged 18-69.
3. Blindness allowances to those 18-69.

The federal government pays half of the cost of the first two and three-quarters of the blindness allowances.

INCOME CEILINGS

The proposed increase in the means test income ceilings will be $120 a year for single persons and $240 for married recipients. The federal government also has proposed a reduction from 20 to 10 years in the basic residence requirement for old age assistance, and extension of disability allowances to some patients in hospital not now covered.

The income ceilings operate so that if a recipient's total income, including the government payment exceeds the ceiling his payment is cut accordingly.

The proposed increases in ceilings for old age assistance and disability allowances are: To $960 a year from $840 for single persons, to $1620 from $1380 for married persons, and to $1980 from $1740 for married persons with a blind spouse.

The proposed increases in the income ceilings for blindness allowances: To $1200 from $1080 for single persons, to $1680 from $1560 for a single person with a dependent child, to $1980 from $1740 for a married couple one of whom is blind, and to $2000 from $1860 for a married couple both of whom are blind.

Parliament Tuesday

By The Canadian Press

TUESDAY

The government gave notice of plans to increase old age pensions and aid to the needy aged, blind and disabled by $9 monthly to $55.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced Canada will contribute $35,000,000 to the Colombo Plan in 1958 — about $600,000 more than this year.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he will discuss pooling of the West's scientific knowledge with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner (L-Melville) accused the CCF and Social Credit of putting party ahead of country in moving non-confidence motions.

J. C. Van Horne (PC - Restigouche-Madawaska) urged old age pensions of $60 monthly for everyone at 65.

The Senate gave approval in principle to the government's request for a month's supply of money to carry on its operations.

WEDNESDAY

The Commons continues the throne speech debate. The Senate sits.

Says Aiming at Republican Gov't

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (Reuters) — Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom said Tuesday night his government is aiming toward a republican form of government as a way of uniting the two white sections of South Africa's population.

Strijdom told the delegates to a congress of the National Party, which he heads, that it is his government's "deep conviction" that only under a republican form of government will there be real co-operation between the English and Afrikaans-speaking sections, "because only then shall we all be South Africans and nothing but South Africans."

Other Commonwealth countries have declared themselves republics but have remained within the family of nations. India and Pakistan have followed this procedure.

REFUSE BBC REQUEST

LONDON (Reuters) — The opening of Parliament by Queen Elizabeth Nov. 5 will not be televised the BBC said Tuesday night.

Terrorist Bombs Injure 18

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Terrorist bombs injured 13 U.S. servicemen and five Vietnamese Tuesday. The time bombs ripped a U.S. information agency library, a military bus and a hostel.

The explosion shattered the calm of a Colombo Plan meeting. Officials said the attacks were designed to embarrass President Ngo Dinh Diem's government. Washington officials laid the attack to Communist agents.

No one was killed, but two of of the American wounded were reported in serious condition.

Outline Proposals For Scientific Pool

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles Tuesday outlined proposals for a Western scientific pool they are reported to favor in the missiles-and-satellites race with Russia.

They discussed this during a 70-minute White House meeting to lay the groundwork for Eisenhower's conference starting today with Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain.

Macmillan accompanied by his scientific and foreign policy advisers, was due by plane this morning for three days of strategic talks.

The White House said the talks would begin either this afternoon or after an informal White House dinner which will include only Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd as other guests.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to disclose the topics discussed by Eisenhower and Dulles.

SCIENCE MAJOR TOPIC

But authoritative officials reported that the meeting dealt mainly with the scope of the western scientific partnership that should be arranged in the wake of Russia's scientific advances.

Macmillan is reported to have given advance notice he wants a big British-American program that would involve dividing up specific scientific tasks as well as sharing each other's secrets.

Eisenhower and Dulles are reported undecided yet about the kind of scientific co-operation they consider necessary, they are reported highly sympathetic toward the British approach but somewhat worried about what the impact would be in other Atlantic Pact countries.

He told his doctor he suffers no pain.

Ned Hanley Honored at Nelson On Retirement as Insurance Head

A former Nelsonite who left the city in 1927 and has since decided "it was the greatest mistake in all my business life," is shortly to retire as assistant general manager of the North American Life Assurance Company.

Here for a special branch meeting of the company in connection with his retirement and on his last formal visit, is Edward Henry (Ned) Hanley.

The meeting will be held Thursday, but in the meantime Mr. Hanley is meeting acquaintances made while he was district manager of the company in Nelson, and he plans to continue meeting them until Friday or Saturday.

Representatives from Kimberley, Cranbrook, Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon will come to Nelson for the meeting. Branch manager is M. A. Martyn.

Mr. Hanley is accompanied by E. S. (Ted) McEwen, general superintendent, Toronto, who also visited Nelson last April, when W. M. Anderson, president, made an official visit to the Nelson branch office. They had known each other in New Westminster, while Mr. Hanley came to live in 1912 from his native land—Ireland.

During World War I, Mr. Hanley joined the Royal Flying Corps, and in 1919 returned to New Westminster to join the North American Life Assurance Company.

MANY PROMOTIONS

In October of 1923, he was transferred to Nelson, where he led the company in personal production in the years 1924-25. A series of promotions followed. He went to Ottawa in 1927 as branch manager and to head office in Toronto in 1929 as supervisor of agencies. In Toronto he became general superintendent of agencies in 1946, director of agencies in 1948 and assistant general manager, highest post in the company agencies, in 1951.

He retires in January, 1958, after 39 years.

Mr. Hanley is married and has three daughters, two of whom are married. The third attends Western University in London.

Mr. McEwen recalled that during World War II, many district agents went into the services and Mr. Hanley covered Canada from Newfoundland to Victoria. He travelled with him and commented, "I've yet to meet anybody as well known or who has as many friends across the country."

"Nelson is the grandest town I've ever been in in my life," said Mr. Hanley. In all my travels across Canada and to the West Indies, I've still to find as friendly a people."

That's why he felt it was a mistake to leave.

He said that when he first came here, Nelson was "a town of small shops, with a "Toonerville Trolley" running up hill and down vale."

FACE LIFTING

"I know of no town," he said, "that has had a better face lifting. Stores are now showing their wares through plate glass windows, which are silent salesmen, rather than confining them to drawers and cupboards.

"Generally speaking, the tourist looks on a city from the outside, rather from the inside. There is no better advertising than that which can be displayed—this is what the tourist takes home with him.

"The landscape is now a scene of beautiful homes. The ferry plying on a cable is now being replaced by a $4,000,000 cantilever bridge, and you had 60,000 autos and 100,000 passengers visiting Nelson during July. Yet, you are only on the fringe of greater things to come.

"Natural gas is going to change the picture; manufacturers and distributors will find it more profitable to establish branches in what is really the hub of the Kootenays. Today we find tenders being prepared for work on a site for the Celgar pulp mill; B.C. Telephone is making extensive expansions; West Kootenay Power energizing their power plant at a cost of a quarter million dollars; a new hospital costing some $2,000,000 is in the making.

"Are any of us so foolish as to think that the financial brains behind these enterprises are throwing money down the drain as fly-by-night schemes? No, indeed, they expect a long time fair return on an almost foolproof investment."

An old friend, who was accountant at the Imperial Bank in Nelson, was recalled by Mr. Hanley. He is L. Stuart Mackersy, past president of the Imperial Bank and now chairman of the board, and also a director of North American Life.

Kinsmen to Stage 'Mothers' March' Here

At their Tuesday night meeting, Nelson Kinsmen voted in favor of staging a "Mothers' March" on February 1, 1958, to help raise money for the B.C. Polio Fund. Dr. A. W. L. Vogelsang, director of the Selkirk Health Unit, was appointed chairman of the new Mothers' March Kinsmen Committee.

He reminded the group that the B.C. Polio Fund was first started by Kinsmen at the Coast at the time of the polio outbreak in 1942. Later it was carried out on a provincial basis and now after 15 years of progress it has become adopted throughout Canada.

The fund had paid for a lot of medical equipment which would have been otherwise impossible to obtain, Dr. Vogelsang stated. It has also looked after those requiring attention after having suffered with Polio or some similar form of handicap. Kinsmen have made the fund services available to many children under 16 which would otherwise have had no medical care. He emphasized that polio care has been the main object of the Kinsmen club for a long time, largely because no other club has taken on the responsibility for such rehabilitation and medical service.

Dr. Vogelesang was also appointed to act as liaison officer between the local Kinsmen and the Medical Society.

F. E. Morris told the club the fund objective for this year is $275,000. He pointed out that the Polio Fund has now changed its name to "The B. C. Child Care Society."

Mr. Morris reported on the B. C. Child Care convention at Vancouver Thanksgiving weekend where he had attended six business meetings dealing with polio fund business which covered child care and polio rehabilitation. In connection with the Child Care workshop, the delegates had visited the Health Centre for Children at the Vancouver General Hospital, the G. F. Strong Rehabilitation Centre, and the UBC Neurological Research department.

Courtesy to School Children Requested by City Police

More coutresy to school children has been requested by city police to help alleviate traffic problems during rush hours, especially at noon.

It was pointed out that although motorists were not obliged by law to stop and wait for students to walk across the intersection, unless the children are already out on the street, it would be appreciated by the children, their parents, police and school authorities if the motorists would stop and give them a break whenever they see long lines of children standing and waiting along the sidewalk. The situation is worst at Hume and Central schools.

It was the responsibility of the motorist to volunteer to co-operate and help whenever he can in this regard, it was said. It is quite possible, police said, that many drivers do not realize that the children are forbidden by school authorities to walk out onto the street until the way is clear. The boy who carries the stop sign is forbidden by the Motor Vehicle Act to use any authority in trying to halt traffic. His job is to help keep the waiting youngsters lined up and in order, waiting for a break in traffic.

Often there is seldom a break in the traffic during the rush hour and thus the children are late getting home for dinner, it has been reported. Many times police have been obliged to come to the rescue and step in and stop cars to allow the children to cross over.

Wintry Blast Hits Province

Nelson was assailed Tuesday by stiff northerly winds. The thermometer dipped to 29 degrees with a high of 38 degrees.

The wind blew down fences, and motorists reported a little trouble on the Salmo-Nelson road because of a light snowfall.

The Dominion Public Weather Office in Vancouver said Tuesday cold air which surged out of the Yukon on Sunday night covers the whole of B.C. Strong northeast gales were being felt in many mainland inlets as the air moved over B.C., but were subsiding gradually and should moderate considerably by Wednesday.

Light snow was falling across the southern fringe, and few light showers were reported on the lower coast, but skies were clearing in northern areas. Temperatures were expected to drop sharply Tuesday night as winds decreased.

Rossland Snowfall 6 Inches; Spokane 3

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A surprise fall storm dumped a record three inches of snow on unprepared Spokane Tuesday and stalled traffic, stranded hunters and closed schools in other parts of the Pacific northwest.

The temperature fell to 25 degrees at 4 p.m. in Spokane, tying the record low for the date, and was exxpected to drop below 20 during the night. The forecast was for occasional snow, partial clearing and continued cold.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Snow fell in the Okanagan and Kootenay districts Tuesday and zero temperatures were predicted for the Prince George region Tuesday night.

More than nine inches of snow fell in Cranbrook Tuesday, disrupting telegraph communications between Nelson and Trail. No serious accidents were reported. Rossland reported six inches of snow.

FINED $15

Alec Barisoff of Crescent Valley was fined $15 and costs Tuesday when provincial court Magistrate William Evans found him guilty of crossing a double line. Barisoff had pleaded not guilty.

Choir Presents Unique And Varied Concert

With an astounding range of voices from basso-profundo to falsetto, and a three-part program of religious and folk songs, the Don Cossack Choir entertained an appreciative but disappointingly small audience with their uniquely Russian interpretation and harmony at the L. V. Rogers High School Tuesday night.

Soberly-clad in dark blue tunics for the opening selections which were entirely religious in nature, the Cossacks presented first, "Blessed Be the Lord" by Tschaikovsky, "Credo" by Gretchaninoff, with bass solo by A. Grigorieff; "The Lord's Prayer", an arrangement of Malotte's version, beautifully sung in English; "O Holy God", by Tschaikovsky, with Recitative sung by the exceptional basso-profundo voice of N. Reva; "Those Evening Bells" by A. Donizetti, with solo part sung by tenor W. Laschewitsch; and "Save Thy People", by P. Tchesnokoff.

After an intermission, the Cossacks made their second appearance in brilliant red tunics, setting the athmosphere for the second portion of the program, a variety of folk songs and ballads. The pace was set by the Choir's rendition of "Along the Peeterskaia", a lively, rollicking tune by J. Oshchudlak, tenor. Following this was a quieter piece, "Serenade", by F. Abt, sung with great feeling by Victor Galley, dramatic tenor; "Signals", a Cossack battle song, after which "Lord Have Mercy", by Lvosky was substituted for a ballad. This religious selection is outstanding for the variety of shadings and harmonies, with the words "Lord Have Mercy" being repeated 75 times throughout the song. Next came a popular melody, "Monotonously Rings the Bell," with tenor solo by W. Laschewitsch, then "The Snowball Tree", a song in counter time arranged by J. Strimer, after which the choir's special song, "The Song of General Platoff", a Cossack war song, was presented with great vitality, and "Lezginka", the final number on this part of the program, was received with enthusiasm by the audience with whom the Cossack dancers were always popular. This last selection was sung by the choir and danced by Niko Bochko, and Elias Ulitin, who danced with eight daggers on his person and concluded the number by throwing the knives from his mouth and having them land quivering in the floor, all to the rhythmic accompaniment of clapping and singing by the choir.

The third portion of the program, presented by the soldiers in white tunics, consisted of a lively "Slavik Polka" by Agreney - Slaviansky, "Stenka Razin" with solo part taken by N. Czaly, bass, a patriotic song, "The Snow Has Blown Over the Steppes", "My Sweet Lady", a gay Cossack folk song, two soldier's songs sung without the conductor, "Soldier's Song" and the delightful "Happy Wanderer", then the final number, "Kozatchok", a popular Don Cossack dance involving the Choir, conductor and dancers. The agility of the dancers drew hearty applause from the audience and several of the Cossacks who were clapping and singing stepped out with the dancers and did their own versions of the dance which ended hilariously. The program ended with the singing of "The Queen" by the Don Cossacks.

Trail Petitioners Ask Street Repair

TRAIL — More attention on Green Avenue was requested in a petition to city council by residents of Green Avenue-Spokane Street area.

It requested better access to homes and garages. Green Avenue is too narrow for turning and leaves no place for parking, it was stated. As there was considerable work being done in the area, attention should be given to this problem, the petitioners thought. The petition was referred to the works and service committee for investigation.

A letter from Laura J. Morrish Parent Teacher Association protested the use of Main Street as a through street. It went past Butler Park which is a playground for small children, the letter read, and the main route, Third Avenue, for children going to school across the street.

It was felt by alderman that "stop when occupied" crosswalks and recommended speed limit would be satisfactory for the situation.

Snowplows in Action At Cranbrook Airport

CRANBROOK — Nine inches of snow has fallen in this valley in the past 24 hours, and the temperature during most of that period was below freezing, with a minimum of 19 degrees Tuesday morning.

The airport run-way required snow plowing Tuesday morning, a record date for start of this city service. Snow clearance equipment of both city and highway departments had not yet been prepared for this extraordinarily early demand and sanding of slippery places was the most they could offer.

An extra headache was a power failure from the city electrical supplier during the night which lasted over an hour, throwing electric clocks out of kilter and resulting in late arrival at work for a large number of people who slept through the blackout.

Centennial Planning Moves Ahead As Grants Made Kootenay Towns

Centennial projects across the province are being approved at a rapid rate, and present "a very pleasing picture of additional community facilities for British Columbia", L. J. Wallace, B.C. Centennial Committee chairman, has stated.

Several Kootenay communities were included when the committee's board of directors in two recent meetings approved some 60 more grants to communities for permanent projects and for celebrations in 1958. Many community parks and children's playgrounds have been approved.

Invermere, with 543 people, has had $325 approved towards a $1500 bathing pavilion and bathhouse on Lake Windermere, to be constructed with the help of the Kinsmen Club, and it gets $217 towards allied celebrations.

New Denver has had $441 approved towards its first park. Golden and district it getting $1728 towards a children's playground.

Rossland has had $2606 approved for purchase of Senior Citizens' Club Rooms.

Both 40-cents and 60-cents grants have been approved for Ainsworth, Crescent Valley, Wardner and Bridesville.

Lasting projects have been approved for a number of B.C. points including Procter.

Celebrations grants have been approved for Windermere and Salmo.

Trail Council Displeased With Street Repairs

TRAIL — Protest was made at City Council meeting in a letter from the Parent-Teacher Association of the Laura J. Morris School against removing of stop signs on Main Street. Representatives from Shavers Bench had previously requested that this be made a through street. The PTA pointed out that the street passed a playground and small children would be endangered, and that it crossed the route taken my many children on the way to school. Consideration will be given to this by the traffic committee.

Councillors reviewed the conditions of certain streets and the manner of repair work undertaken since gas pipe lines were installed. They are not satisfied with the condition they are in. Ald. Alex Brokenshire said some of the areas reminded him of the time when, as a boy, he rode his bike down a railroad track. Pressure by Council will be shifted from the contractors to the Inland Natural Gas Company if improvement is not shown soon.

Ald. F. E. Devito said removal of "remains from the old cemetery is progressing satisfactorily and should be completed by the first week in November. "It is a good job being well done," he reported.

Mayor L. A. Read, who is a member of the Library Board, reported the new Municipal Library is functioning satisfactorily and that membership is increasing month by month. The board is looking forward to the day when the library will be moved into larger quarters.

Ald. H. S. Dixon accompanied by the city engineer toured various projects in the city. He reported that each project appeared to be in good shape, both financially and from the point of view of achievement. Said the mayor, who has been on the tour: "You should accompany Alderman Dixon on one of his periodical tours and see the amount of work that is being done in the city."

Permission was granted to the Legion to distribute poppies in Trail on November 9. Permission was also granted for a Remembrance Day parade November 11 and for a church parade on November 10.

Trail Kinsmen were granted a donation of $100 to assist them in holding "safe and sane" Hallowe'en parties in Trail. Parties are planned for Butler Park, Central School, Shaver's Bench, Glenmerry Park, Colombo Hall, K of P Teen Town and Sunningdale.

The two elementary schools are again reported overloaded, with three basement rooms operating for classes at Central School, and two temporary class rooms in former auditorium space at the Tenth Avenue primary school. This situation will be relieved next September, when a new eight-classroom elementary school on Eleventh avenue for the south end of the city is expected to be ready. The board building committee reported at its October meeting that the concrete for this single-storey frame building has been poured by Fame Brick Construction Ltd., the contractor.

In teaching staff changes, Charles Friederich has been appointed at Mount Baker Junior High School, Mrs. Joe Gnucci to succeed Mrs. G. A. Brabazon at Tenth Avenue School, and Mrs. Inez Brierly to succeed Mrs. MacDonald at Yahk School. Mrs. C. W. Brockington has been appointed girls' physical education teacher at Mount Baker School.

A Need for Changes

In its beginning years the West Kootenay Teachers' Convention was a small affair, with an attendance not much above one hundred. Now, in this year of 1957, nearly five hundred teachers attended.

If the growth in the past few years has been exceptional, there are other changes. The character of those attending has altered. There are fewer bright young things just out of Normal, the women teachers are older and more mature and there are more men.

But despite all this the programs of conventions do not seem to have changed. The original programs were designed to help the beginning teacher and so there were many demonstration lessons. There still are, though the beginning teachers are few and the women teachers persons of maturity and technical skill.

Conventions of the early days catered mostly to elementary teachers who were in the majority. Today there are vastly more men and most of these are in the secondary schools. They are people of intelligence and learning to whom the mechanics of teaching are of less importance than their own cultural development.

Possibly with the increased attendance the education purposes of conventions would be better served if those for elementary and secondary teachers were held on separate days. It is questionable if, under the present circumstances, secondary teachers reap the greatest benefit from these conventions.

Youth's Spirit Could Be Useful

A group of six teenagers in Vancouver recently fired off their own home-made rocket they had christened Spudnick 3. From the photographs it seems to have been some six feet long. To fire it they set it upright on a wooden platform and fired it from a detonating box five feet away.

It rose 30 feet into the air and the head flew off and disintegrated with a deafening roar. This first trial seems to have been unsuccessful, but in that respect it is no worse than many others launched by other experimenters.

What makes this experiment of interest is that the teenagers were able to use a propellant of considerable power. It is to be hoped that our own secret service will be able to discover this secret before spies of a hostile power obtain it.

It would be quite as well, too, if the RCMP and the local police force investigated the matter of this explosion to discover where the young people bought the materials in these days when even the sale of Chinese crackers is forbidden.

It is reassuring in these days of grandmotherly supervision of juvenile activities that there are still young people filled with the spirit of adventure and scientific enquiry who are not afraid of possible danger. From present indications we shall need such people in the coming years.

Refugees From Marxism

Here, from Germany, is a sidelight on the relative merits of communism and democracy.

From 1950 to 1956 inclusive the number of refugees from eastern to western Germany was 2.5 million. This works out at an annual influx of around 400,000 in the period.

In 1957 up to early September the refugees numbered 378,000. This is a monthly rate of 47,000 or well over half a million for the whole year, if it keeps up.

There is probably no similar exodus going on anywhere else in the world. On the assumption, which is correct, that the people moving out are mainly in the prime of life, eastern Germany would lose the whole of its labor force in about 15 years at the present rate.

Prosperity in Chancellor Adenauer's country is clearly one-half of the explanation. Wretchedness under communism is certainly the other half.

Dr. Ludwig Erhard, economics minister in the Adenauer cabinet, has a forthright way of explaining the good times his policies have brought. Just before the German election of last month, he declared himself a firm believer in property and individual economic rights. He went on to dismiss "collectivism" as a pernicious delusion.

Dr. Erhard certainly ought to know. His divided country is supplying the best available evidence that the market economy is better than Marxism.—Financial Post.

Civil Defence

The reason why civil defence exercises have been more or less a failure is that the public and the officials themselves have very little confidence in their efficiency in an emergency.

How could cities like Montreal, Toronto or Winnipeg or, for that matter, cities of any size be evacuated in the few minutes which would elapse between a warning of approaching aircraft—not to mention long range missiles—and the actual attack? And if by some miracle as yet unknown this could be done, where would the millions of displaced persons go and how would they be sheltered and fed? How would they be protected against radioactive fallout which certainly would not be confined to any particular area?

The Government will have to convince the people that civil defence has some practical meaning and not merely theoretical meaning if it expects any worthwhile measure of public co-operation. So far, nothing that has been said or done has conveyed that impression.—Charlottetown Guardian.

It's Been Said

It is easy when we are in prosperity to give advice to the afflicted.

—Aeschylus, Greek tragic poet.

Economics?

All six million Soviet readers who have acquired and read a copy of Political Economy, the latest text book issued by the Economics Institute of the Academy of Sciences of the USSR, will be fully convinced, among other unreal things, that the health of workers in the Western world is being steadily undermined by overwork and undernourishment.

Additional recommended reading should include the advertising pages of Western newspapers with special attention to holiday entertainment and how to lose weight.

Maybe They Should See an Analyst

What is happening to the animal world? Is it trying to emulate the oddest animal of all — man — or is it, too, cracking up under the strain of modern-day living?

Whatever the reason, there are certainly some unexplained incidents which are bewildering man, the thinker.

Take, for instance, the bull elk which took a violent dislike and several horns to the car of a Calgary motorist who was peacefully driving through Banff National Park. The elk charged the car and, with his portable can-openers, ripped several large holes in the steel body of the vehicle.

Just why the elk attacked the car is a mystery. The theory tentatively put forward that the animal thought the driver was a member of a rival "lodge" is patent nonsense and not to be credited. This story was obviously circulated by a disgrunted insurance agent who is worried that elks might start making a habit of this.

Then there is the case of the geese who have apparently decided the wild blue yonder and the solitary majesty of the silent wild is not for them any more. These birds had the nerve to fly into Calgary the other night and start living it up just when every one else was trying to get to sleep. And on a week night, too.

There is reason to think these geese dropped down low over Calgary to get their bearings and were immediately enmeshed in the traffic. Honking, of course, got them nowhere. This city's motorists are too used to honking to let it bother them. This would account for the report that many of the birds were seen flying away from the city in a northerly direction, for after hours of circling traffic round-abouts the birds were so dazed they lurched off in the wrong direction.

In any event, there'll be feathers flying if this kind of nightly disturbance continues. These winged alarm clocks would do well to remember the well-known saying that a bird in a freezer is a gone goose.

And there are many more examples of the recent odd behavior of the animal kingdom. Take the wild mountain goat which wound up in the Calgary Zoo recently after deserting his snowy crags only to be picked up wandering around Bowness. Some say the goat wanted to volunteer his services to the downward-slipping Stampeder football club and so save another coach's career. Possibly, but it is much more likely he was looking for for a political party to aid.

At any rate, these visitations must cease. If all these animals keep hogging the headlines, man will soon have to bite dog to get into the news at all.

We Can't Afford It

If we are compelled to imitate the American give-away policy in wheat, observes the Victoria Times, "at least the Canadian Government should not imitate its cause, the American system of rigid farm price supports that inevitably encourage surpluses. The United States perhaps can afford this sort of economic lunacy when grain production represents a small fraction of its economy. We cannot afford it as more than a temporary measure of relief when grain production is a very large item in our economy and large exports—paid for in cash—are essential to our prosperity."

The Beaver

It looks as though there's a vicious campaign under way to discredit the integrity of our national symbol, the beaver. For one thing, the recent edition of an otherwise authoritative encyclopedia says most unflatteringly that the beaver "is the largest North American rodent (rodent, yet!), characterized by dense chestnut-brown fur; a black, flattened, scaly tail and webbed hind feet."

This is scarcely an appetizing description of an animal which has been cherished for generations by Canadian school boys and girls as a cheerful and industrious builder of dams, and invaluable as a water conservationist.

And now there's word from Sault Ste. Marie that beavers are accused of playing havoc by felling trees which fall across power lines and cut off electricity to resort areas, and cause railroad wash-outs by backing up water with their dams.

All this nonsense is obviously a high-pressure propaganda move designed by subversive trappers to reconcile Canadians to the presence of so many of their national animals in fur coats.

True, the beaver seems to have protruding front teeth, but so have many persons who are good, upright Canadians. Traitors among us who are maligning our traditional conception of Canada's symbol deserve to be bitten by one as they retreat. Where are the Mounties, anyway?

Your Individual HOROSCOPE

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, October 24, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — There's no better day than this in which to make plans for the future, for altering outmoded methods, accepting the latest improvements. An excellent aspect of Mars should encourage your best efforts.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—The forgotten promise may put you on a spot today. But go on in your usual sensible way, attending to important things first, minor ones later. Let others chafe; you be calm.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—You will have to allocate duties properly, be ready to capitalize on good opportunities as they appear. All may not run as smoothly as you wish, but keep on going; things will improve.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—You, too, will need more verve, a calm attitude in the face of stubborn opposition. Have faith; don't dally, don't fret.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Without being overanxious or too vociferous, you can make this day produce more than may seem likely at first. The sure method, the steady gait, and the smile will do it.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Better note the DOs and DON'Ts of most other Zodiacal Signs today. You will run into many similar situations and, if you don't maintain self-control, you could invite friction.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Be convincing in speech, but not dictatorial; steer clear of prevarication and overdoing. You may have some incompetence to deal with, and maybe cunning. Keep your head.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Something of importance may come up, but in all things be discreet, particular, and tend to first things first. Don't attempt too much for one day, or become involved in others' heated talks.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—Deal with everyone in your innately straightforward manner, and be sure you are getting value for your efforts and time. You can make good headway now.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Some unusual influences. Be careful in what you accept as true or false. Seek more facts where possible, but do not be hesitant. Follow a forward-looking acting policy.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Consider all angles and possibilities before you embark on projects. You can make good strides now, but don't allow yourself to be hampered by people who impose upon your generosity and willingness.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — There will be more stimulation in this day than you may believe at first. Pitch in and work with consistency; have no misgivings or fears. Courage and amiability will help you to win.

YOU BORN TODAY were born on the Libra-Scorpio Cusp — the change of Signs — which makes you especially dynamic, full of enthusiasm and willing to take chances. In the latter, be careful—not foolish. You of this birthdate often reach great heights through your industriousness and ability to tackle any number of jobs without considering the hardships or difficulties. Your common sense can carry you far. You are especially adapted to scientific affairs and have the qualities of leadership. You are friendly but not always demonstrative. Avoid overexertion and spending beyond your means.

Birthdate: A. van Leeuwenhock, Dutch microscopist.

Says Direction of Trade In Buying Public Hands

By FORBES RHUDE

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP) The direction of Canada's trade—whether she buys from the United States or Britain—has been put into the lap of the Canadian public at the current two-day annual convention of the Canadian Exporters Association.

The responsibility for the trade decision was outlined Monday in a presentation from the association's policy committee which received convention approval. Dealing with the frequently-made suggestion that 15 per cent of purchases now made in the United States be switched to the United Kingdom, the committee said:

"To bring about anything like this we believe the buying public would be the controlling factor."

AVOID TARIFF WAR

"Juggling of tariffs to control the direction of trade is not the best way. Reprisal tariff adjustments by concerned countries are usually the result and a tariff war is something we believe we all wish to avoid.

"Perhaps a long-term educational program could be the first step and could possibly bring about a desire for Commonwealth products as against similar products from the United States."

The recommendation accompanying this preamble asking the incoming executive to pursue with the department of trade and commerce the points contained in the association's brief on Commonwealth trade which was recently submitted to the trade minister.

U.K. RESPONSIBILITY

This brief said in part:

"A switch in Canada's import trade rests more with the British manufacturer and other Commonwealth producers than in Canada's hands alone.

"Exporters to Canada must study the market a little more deligently than heretofore, and give better delivery and better service following the sale."

Ivan E. Lenard of Toronto, an association past - president, said that when sufficient incentives are given to the British exporter to sell in dollar markets, he will go out and sell.

Those who visit the United Kingdom, he added, know that "lip service" is paid to the idea of dollar exports, but that is not enough.

NEED DOLLARS FIRST

J. S. Vanderploeg, retiring association president, speaking of the British suggestion that tariffs be abolished between Britain and Canada, commented:

"The proposition would be meaningless if not accompanied by abolition of the import licence system so that English importers would be allowed the dollars to pay for any goods which Canada could successfully sell."

Another recommendation asked for "a more sober examination in Washington of the facts and implications" of Canada's adverse trade balance with the United States than had yet been made.

Well, Well, Well!

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio in a broadcast to the Russian people gave this account today of the Queen's visit to New York:

"Queen Elizabeth II of Britain made a brief speech Monday at a special plenary meeting of the UN General Assembly. During the Queen's visit to the UN building people of African origin who are in New York held a demonstration in adjoining streets. They carried banners with slogans demanding freedom of independence for British colonies in Africa."

The broadcast made no mention of the tumultuous welcome given by New Yorkers.

Weight Loss Slows Down at Finish Line

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Often a dieter makes steady progress in reducing — and then, when almost in sight of her goal of normal weight, she finds the last 10 to 15 pounds the greatest hurdle she has faced in her reducing program.

It's not that it is more difficult to turn down fattening food. In fact, that part has become easier. Toward the finish line, weight loss invariably slows down, sometimes to a standstill. This is the problem expressed in today's letter.

"I have lost 50 pounds on your protective diet and feel wonderful. I reduced from a size 42 to size 16 and have only 15 pounds more to lose. I lost steadily until this past month when I have lost nary a pound — although I'm still on the diet. Please help me over this last hump."

You've done remarkably well, so don't falter now. Be assured your reducing course is running true to form. Here's the scientific explanation for the standstill period. Weight loss is determined by the deficit between the number of calories used and the number consumed. As long as the calories burned for energy is 500 to 1000 a day more than the number consumed in food, stored fat is burned, more or less evenly. In many instances registration of weight loss is irregular, due to water swings. Apparently you did not have to contend with water retention.

After prolonged reducing, the situation changes somewhat. You now require fewer calories. Bear in mind that calorie requirements are directly related to body weight: the heavier person burns more calories. In short, with 50 less pounds your calorie needs are lower. Moreover, nature has a way of adjusting to restricted food supply and runs the body on less fuel.

At this point two measures are helpful . . . step up protein and exercise so as to burn more calories. A two to three mile straight-away walk daily would do wonders for you. Here's a sample high protein menu:

Breakfast: 1 egg, plus second egg white, scrambled (no fat); thin slice toast, fruit juice, clear coffee.

Lunch: Generous serving of broiled fish or lean meat, or non-cream cottage cheese, ½ cup; skim milk in hot soup or as a beverage; and sliced tomatoes.

Dinner: Lean meat, 6 oz. cooked weight; 2 low calorie vegetables, no butter; a second glass of skim milk or buttermilk; fresh fruit. Restrict salt for 3 days.

'Flu Symptoms Easy To Identify

By DR. H. N. BUNDESEN

With all the talk about influenza, I think it's a good time for you to learn a little bit more about what this disease is and how it acts.

Influenza, or the "flu" or "grippe," is an infectious disease caused by one of three known principal types of influenza virus called Type A, Type B and Type C. Scientists now believe there may be a fourth, Type D.

There are many strains within each major classification. Oriental or Asiatic Influenza is believed to be caused by a group of viruses.

Influenza most often strikes healthy young adults. Fortunately, these persons are generally strong enough to fight off the attack without too much trouble. When children or elderly persons are stricken, however, the danger of complications is greater.

It's rather difficult to avoid the disease because it is so easily spread. Persons who are immune to it can transmit the villainous virus by coughing or sneezing.

Symptoms of influenza are easy to recognize. But by the time they begin, there's not much you can do about alleviating them.

Generally, you will develop a fever ranging from 101 to 103 degrees, you'll feel weak, have chills, and a severe pain in the head and back. You may feel very nauseated and vomit. You are apt to have a cough, sneeze a great deal and become hoarse.

Usually, after a few days in bed and isolated from the other members of your family, you'll be up and around again, but probably feeling weak. The disease most often runs its course in three or four days.

You should call your doctor, of course. While there isn't a great deal he can do to cure your influenza, he can prescribe antibiotics or sulfa drugs if he suspects there might be complications such as pneumonia.

We have developed vaccines to give at least short-term protection from most strains of influenza virus. But, at best, these vaccines provide immunity only for eight to twelve months.

Royal Photographer, Baffled by Light Meter, Enjoys Making Hollywood Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Is there anything Cecil Beaton can't do?

"Yes," replied the British jack-of-all-arts. "I can't read a photographer's light meter and I can't ride a bicycle."

The latter frustrates him, but the former seems to bother him not at all. Light meter or no, he is one of the world's most noted photographers and official lensman for the Royal Family.

He also has written numerous books. He has designed sets and costumes for many Broadway shows and two British movies. He is now supervising all the visual aspects of MGM's Gigi, with Leslie Caron, Maurice Chevalier and Louis Jourdan. It's his first Hollywood job and he's having a ball.

"I am responsible for everything that appears on the screen, as far as design goes," he explained. "I sketch the costumes, the sets, the colors and the studio departments supply the details from my sketches — very efficiently, I might add. Oh, yes, I am taking photographs, too. It gives me something to do during the long waits on the set.

"I must say that I've enjoyed it all immensely."

Beaton was something of a design himself—a tall, mature man league lightweight trousers. He spoke willingly of his most notable function — photographing England's royalty.

"If it's just for some informal shots, I'll take only my small camera," he said. "But if the Queen or princess is going on a state tour and needs for all portraits in full regalia, then it becomes a big production. I bring along a great number of lights and electricians."

Are the royal figures good subjects?

"Definitely so. They know that photographs are a part of their job and are patient and willing to pose until I get what is needed."

He does the work largely for the honor, he indicated. He receives no pay for the sittings. "Of course I am paid if the Queen should need 100 photographs to with a planter's hat, striped shirt, coat and scarf and ivy be put in silver frames and presented on a tour," he said.

For each sitting he shoots around 200 negatives, from which a handful of poses are selected.

About the light meter—"I bring along someone who can read it for me."

Fabrics of Beautiful Texture Stand out in Paris Collections

By PEGGY MASSIN

PARIS (Reuters)—Luxury fabrics with texture interest underline every silhouette in the Paris winter collections.

Hubert de Givenchy claims that the prerogative of the straight and simple chemise dress is a rich and sumptuous fabric. Christian Dior reiterates this thought when he states that "simplicity is luxurious because it does not support mediocrity."

Stark, uncluttered lines with a minimum of fitting focus the limelight on the quality of the fabric, and Dior bases his own collection on a range of the most beautiful textiles ever woven in France.

Weave and surface interest shine with the clarity of a lighthouse beacon through every type of new fabric from dawn till midnight. Whether it be in the irregular and loosely-woven porous coatings and daytime woollen materials, or in the elegant evening fabrics such as cut velvets, metalasses, brocades, failles and moire, the story is told in terms of texture and design.

There is newness in the rustic coatings in Shetland, Cheviot and Herringbone weaves, treated to a lama or reindeer hair surface finish. Blends of pure wool and real fur are just one of many exciting themes in winter coatings.

The rough aspect in loose, airy grounds is another leading trend, worked in slubbed or broken-thread effects, with big darning stitches overcast in a contrasting color.

In tweeds, there are curious floor parquetry patterns, lace and hand-knitted effects, broken checks, wavy line stripes, irregular basket and hop-sacking weaves, and clear and shadow contrasts achieved in black and white.

Other favorites in coatings are the heavy coachman broadcloths, soft woollen fabrics with velvet finish, and Lesur's new blistered crepe featured in a coat weight which includes seven per cent natural silk. Givenchy uses a pure mohair coating with a wide diagonally woven stripe.

Under these coatings go feather-soft dresses, usually in matching tones. Combinations of several different fabrics paired in the same ensemble, are dyed to match.

Natal Woman At Daughter's Golden Wedding

NATAL—Mrs. Susan Krall, who is 83 and one of the oldest residents in Natal-Michel, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. P. (Betty) Zeith, recently journeyed to Milwaukee, where they attended the golden wedding anniversary of her eldest daughter Susan, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Zvara.

On the morning of the anniversary the couple attended high mass and renewed their marriage vows. Mrs. Zvara wore a blue nylon lace dress, a blue velvet hat and gold accessories. She and her mother wore gold corsages and Mr. Zvara wore a gold buttonniere. In all, 10 grandchildren and great grandchildren were in the wedding group. The "bridesmaids" wore gold and blue nylon dresses with matching head wreaths and carried pansy bouquets. The ushers wore navy blue trousers, white nylon shirts and blue bow ties. Following the mass the family enjoyed a family breakfast, and in the evening a reception was held for 100 guests. Three telegrams congratulating the couple were read from Natal and one from Seattle. The couple were recipients of many gifts and money. John Krall of Natal also joined his mother and sister to celebrate the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Emery Place, the latter being a daughter of the Zvara's, of Snow, Wisc., was also present.

In all five generations were represented at the wedding anniversary celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Zvara who were married at Natal 50 years ago.

British Papers United In Royal Tour Results

LONDON (Reuters) — Mission accomplished.

That is Britain's verdict on the royal tour as reflected in its press today while Queen Elizabeth winged home across the Atlantic after her whirlwind 10-day visit to Canada and the United States.

British newspapers say the Queen successfully cemented British-American friendship.

The Queen Mother and Prime Minister Macmillan headed the list of the official welcoming delegation at London airport where the Queen and Prince Philip were to arrive later today.

CHILDREN STAY HOME

But the royal children—Prince Charles, 8, and Princess Anne, 7—were not expected to be at the airport when their parents fly in from New York on their British Overseas Airways Corporation Seven Seas airliner.

Charles has not been given time off from Cheam boarding school in Hampshire. The little princess was not on the "welcome home" list.

Named for the airport delegation were high commissioner for Canada George Drew and the Earl of Home, secretary of state for Commonwealth relations.

A big crowd was expected to greet the Queen and her husband when they arrive at Buckingham Palace.

Meanwhile, the British press commented fully on the Queen's tour.

The Daily Telegraph says editorially, "She was received with a warmth of respect and admiration that must have gone far to heal the wounds of the perilous disagreements of last year."

The Telegraph asserts the Queen "has reminded the American people of the need for the closest sympathy and understanding between the two nations."

The Liverpool Daily Post says Macmillan "is a fortunate man as he prepares to leave this evening" by plane for Washington and crucial talks with President Eisenhower.

The Post explains that Macmillan's trip to Washington and Ottawa will take him to "lands where so strong a mood of affection for Britain has been established for him by the visit of his sovereign."

Newspapers blossom out with big headlines over stories of the visit to New York by the Queen and Prince Philip.

"Razzmatazz on Broadway," says The Daily Express. "'Belle of New York," says The Daily Mirror.

Privy Council Refuses To Free Lion Man

LONDON (AP) — The Privy Council refused Monday to upset a death sentence given an African tribesman who kept a "lion man" as his hired killer.

The African, a 48-year-old native of Tanganyika named Muhandi, was found guilty of murder at Dar-es-Salaam in the death of a five-year-old girl, Mwajuma.

The Crown charged that the actual killing was carried out by Muhandi's lion man who, it said, "appears to be a human being who has been brought up as a beast to kill on the orders of those in charge of him and to kill with bestial ferocity."

"While employed in its inhuman task," the Crown reported, "the creature disguises itself in the skin of a lion, or partly in lion skins and partly in baboon skins."

Tanganyika police said the slaying was the result of a grudge held against the girl's uncle, Gomo, by two old women. They asked a friend to get them a lion man to kill the little girl. The friend hired Muhandi's animal-like charge for the equivalent of $14.

Police were unable to find the lion man. They said Muhandi turned him lose when he learned that officials were on his heels.

The Privy Council refused Muhandi's appeal for a review of the case. His execution date now will be fixed by a court at Dar-es-Salaam. The two old women also are under sentence of death. They did not join in Muhandi's appeal.

B.A. Unions Start Strikes

BUENOS AIRES, (AP) — Seventy unions claiming more than 3,000,000 members began a 48-hour general strike at midnight Monday demanding wage increases to meet the rising cost of living.

The unions defied pleas of provisional President Pedro Aramburu to stay on the job and increase production to ease inflation. The 70 include 62 unions that give nominal support to exiled dictator Juan Peron.

Some observers said the sirtke might so disrupt the country that it would topple Aramburu's government, which has ruled under a state of siege for almost three weeks.

Most radio stations said the government had ordered mobilization of the railroads, making strikers on them liable to military penalties, but the government Radio Nacional denied this.

Morning newspapers did not appear as the printing trades joined the strike.

Provinces Urged To Establish Coast to Coast Camping Sites

OTTAWA (CP)—British Columbia and Alberta Tuesday suggested the 10 provinces establish a network of outdoor camping grounds from coast to coast on the Trans-Canada highway.

Dr. D. B. Turner, assistant deputy minister of conservation and recreation for B.C., told delegates to the federal-provincial tourist conference they would have to start on the project as soon as possible to prevent "commercial interests" from taking up the choice sites along the 4470-mile long highway.

Reading a brief signed by ministers of both provinces, Dr. Turner said the "practice of family camping and boating has increased at an accelerating and almost phenomenal rate during the past five years."

He urged the provinces to choose sites next summer and put plans 'on paper" by March 31, 1958.

The highway, running from St. John's, Nfld., to Victoria, B.C., is scheduled to be completed in December, 1960.

Dr. Turner was appointed by delegates to head a committee of representatives from Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan to draw up plans for the project.

PINK TICKET SYSTEM

Ralph R. Moore, Alberta's deputy minister of economic affairs, explained the province's "pink ticket" auto insurance system to the delegates as the conference swung into its second and final day.

Non-resident motorists involved in accidents in which damages exceed $100 must produce a statement from their insurance company that the company will recognize damage claims against the client. Cars can be impounded by the province, if the visitor can't produce this pink ticket statement "as evidence of ability to pay damages."

Also slated for consideration were standards and rates of Canada's accommodation for tourists, methods of exploiting Canadian handicrafts and the promotion of Canada's tourist attractions in the United Kingdom and Europe.

R. E. Grose, Manitoba's deputy minister of industry and commerce, said Monday that 53 per cent of the Canadian population travels in July and September, some on holidays, others on business and most of them travelled by automobile.

His estimates were based on "very preliminary pools" of an economic study of the Canadian tourist industry, completed results of which are expected next year. Cost of the $40,000 survey shared by federal and provincial governments.

Alan Field, director of the Canadian government travel bureau, said $300,000 was spent in advertising in United States publications to promote travel in the Atlantic provinces. Delegates from the Atlantic provinces said the program to bolster their tourist industry was successful.

Arrest Two in Fake Coin Roll Charges

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP)—Police arrested two men Monday and charged them with 10 counts of fraud and attempted fraud in connection with the exchange of fake coin rolls for $525 at five banks between Toronto and here.

Burlington police were tipped the exchangers were working toward Burlington.

Charged are Harold J. Currie, 35, and Harry Wallace Currie, 44, both of Collingwood, Ont.

Police said two men dressed in service station uniforms drove from bank to bank, exchanging rolls of metal washers wrapped in bank coin wrappers.

Police said they seized about 300 pounds of washers and 2,000 coin wrappers, and enough equipment to make an estimated $150,000 worth of fake rolls, police estimate.

Selling Wave Battered Markets' Blue Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market has just suffered its bluest "blue Monday" since Sept. 26, 1955, the first trading session after President Eisenhower's heart attack.

Successive selling waves Monday slashed an estimated $6,350,000,000 from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the average.

The high-speed ticker tape ran behind the pace of transactions on no less than seven separate occasions when sellers rushed to unload.

The so-called blue chips took a beating along with stocks of lesser quality. American Telephone lost 3⅜ points and Du Pont 6¼.

Brokers and analysts looked for some recovery movement after prices were pounded down—buying by so-called "bargain hunters." This is the usual pattern. But there was little or none of it Monday.

DEPRESSING OUTLOOK

Wall Streeters reported no single news event, rumor or other factor behind the shake-out but rather a combination of "more of the same." The market, they said, still is worried about tight money and uncertain business prospects.

Production cuts or layoffs were reported by several more companies. The scaling-down of defence spending was emphasized by the U.S. Navy's cancellation of $21,000,000 in contracts with Lockheed Aircraft Company.

The steel industry's operating rate slipped below 80 per cent of rated capacity.

Brokers reported that despite the 70 per cent margin requirement some stocks were sold because more margin was required. Other stocks were disposed of merely because their owners were nervous — they had seen their holdings fall far enough. Additional sales were reported for establishing tax losses on income tax returns.

LONG EROSION

Although this was the sharpest decline since the first Eisenhower "heart break," it was only half as bad, judging by the fall in the average. Nevertheless, it was part of a three-month erosion of prices since the market reached its high for the year July 12, coming then within an ace of its all-time bull market high.

The market got an extra push to the downside last week on news of the Syrian-Turkish crisis. The week before that, the Russian space satellite was the main upsetting factor.

The curious combination of inflation and deflation, the squeeze on corporate profits, high interest rates, low prices for copper, lead and zinc, high consumer prices, the failure of the post-Labor Day business pickup to materialize and the cloudy outlook for the economy have all been elements in the Wall Street atmosphere.

Teamsters Say English Lies "In His Teeth"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Counsel for teamsters members challenging James R. Hoffa's election as the union's president Tuesday accused union secretary - treasurer John F. English of "lying in his teeth."

The charge was promptly challenged by teamsters lawyer Martin O'Donoghue, but Godfrey withdraw his statement.

The cash came in arguments before Federal District Judge F. Dickinson Letts on motions by Schmidt. He has asked the judge to convert an existing restraining order against Hoffa's taking office into a preiminary injunction.

Schmidt represents a rank-and-file group of New York teamsters members who say Hoffa was elected illegally.

WALLASEY, Eng. (AP) — A magistrate has ruled in effect that a mother may continue taking her 12-year-old son to school on a dog leash if necessary. The mother explained she resorted to the leash because her son turned up at school only 43 times last term.

Finnish Twins Handcuff Judge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 42-year-old Finn twins, Charles and George, have done it again — handcuffed a public official.

This time the object of their attempted citizens' arrest was Superior Judge Kenneth N. Chantry. In 1954, they put the cuffs on U.S. Attorney Laughlin Waters. For that they were sentenced to jail. They staged a three-week hunger strike before getting out.

The twins, embroiled in years-long litigation over ownership of a surplus wartime plane, seized Judge Chantry on the city hall steps Monday.

They said they were arresting him for "conspiracy to steal our airplane through fraud and trickery." Judge Chantry had presided for one day last July in a suit brought against the Finns.

Police persuaded one of the twins to surrender the key to the handcuffs and the judge was freed.

A few hours later George was sentenced to five days in jail for contempt of court in another phase of the controversy over the plane.

Seizure of the plane by the federal government was the reason the Finns handcuffed Waters three years ago.

The SHORT CIRCUIT

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor

Maurice (Rocket) Richard made history Saturday night.

It was not the first time the 36-year-old marvel scrawled his name indelibly in the sands of time, nor will it be the last.

But never before has the Rocket provided history for so many at once. Hundreds of thousands of listeners heard a description of Richard's 500th goal, and few of them will ever forget it.

When history is made, fortunate are the few who are allowed to bask for a moment in reflected glory. For that reason, the succulence that comes from sharing—even remotely—in the shaping of history is more sweet.

With his feats, Richard has dusted off for himself a place beside the game's immortals—indeed the immortals of any game. It is difficult to recall that officials of Montreal Canadiens were once warned to release the prospect because he wasn't rugged enough fon the rigors of National Hockey League play.

* * *

How does Richard keep himself in such wonderful condition in a sport acclaimed as the most rugged in the world? What is the dividing line between competence and greatness? Why is Richard, even now, among the top three most valuable pieces of hockey talent in the world?

At the risk of sounding trite, as one who speaks at kid hockey banquets might be, the answer is simply that Richard comes to play.

He came to play at the age of 20, and suffered an injury. He came to play at 21, and suffered an injury.

And still he comes to play. he basks in the adulation of the fans and the worship of the youngsters, he tolerates the overtures of nuisances and the obnoxious attitudes of those who refuse to accept his stature as a human being when the game is over and quiet is foremost in his thoughts.

* * *

He is Rocket Richard, hero. Long may he reign.

Pastrano Pummels Welsh Heavyweight

LONDON (AP) — Willie Pastrano of New Orleans jabbed Britain's Dick Richardson into a blood-dripping wreck Tuesday night to win a 10-round decision in a heavyweight bout.

Pastrano weighed 188½; Richardson 199.

The stocky American feinted and faked his towering Welsh opponent wide open and then sent in clusters of straight lefts to the head.

Pastrano is the No. 4 contender for Floyd Patterson's championship.

MOOG'S SHUTOUT DREAMS PERISH; PACKERS TRIUMPH

KELOWNA — Don Moog, former Kelowna goaltender who was pressed into service here Tuesday to replace Dave Gatherum, was within less than 15 minutes of a shutout in his Okanagan Senior Hockey League debut for the 1957-58 season when Murray Wall and Clare Wakshinski broke through to shatter his hopes.

Wall and Wakshinski, however, did little more than spoil the Kelowna goalie's shutout dream as Kelowna won their third successive game by a lop-sided score, beating Penticton Vs 6-2.

Bill Swarbrick scored three goals, Greg Jablonski two and Brian Roche one for the league-leaders. Only five penalties were called, two each of Andy McCallum of Kelowna and Reo Touzin of Penticton.

Ray Mikulan Posts Shutout

WINNIPEG (CP) — Ray Mikulan scored his first shutout of the young Western Hockey League season Tuesday night as Winnipeg Warriors blanked Calgary Stampeders 4-0 in a Prairie division game before 2415 fans.

It was Warriors' third win in four starts, with all victories at the expense of the Stampeders.

Earl Ingarfield with two, Art Stratton and Mickey Keating scored for Warriors. Mikulan booted out 26 shots including 14 in the second period. Stampeders' netminder Al Rollins, who stopped 32 shots, also turned in a brilliant performance and agile work kept the score from going even higher.

Chihawks Edge Bruins 2-1 In Only NHL Game on Card

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Black Hawks scored twice in the first period, then hung on to defeat Boston Bruins 2-1 in a National Hockey League game Tuesday night.

Chicago's goals were scored by rookie Bob Hull and Eric Nesterenko, both during the final four minutes of the opening period.

Bronco Horvath climaxed a second period in which the Bruins out-fought the Hawks with a goal at 19:54, when the Hawks' Ted Lindsay was in the penalty box.

The loss was the Bruins' second in six games, while the Hawks, who now are tied with Detroit and New York for third place, show a record of two victories, four defeats and one tie.

GOALIES OUTSTANDING

Both goalies, Glenn Hall of Chicago and Boston's Don Simmons, played outstanding games. Hall was credited with only 21 saves to Simmons' 38, but many of the Chicago netminder's were on close in drives.

In the final period, Chicago reversed the pressure, pouring 19 shots at Simmons, while Hall was called on to make seven saves. Chicago showed rare power in the first period also, firing 16 shots at Simmons.

Hull's goal was the first of his NHL career.

Flyers Oppose Maple Leafs In Nelson Debut Tonight

Spokane Flyers, undisputed holders of first place in the Western International Hockey League, pay their first visit of the season to Nelson Civic Arena tonight.

Before Tuesday night's action, Trail Smoke Eaters, Nelson Maple Leafs and Spokane were all tied with two points. Flyers and Leafs have two points apiece, even yet, but Flyers have yet to lose a game.

Smokies, who beat Nelson 7-3 in the first game of the season, dropped their second game in three nights Tuesday at Rossland when they bowed, 8-3, before a tremendous third-period scoring outburst.

To confuse the picture further, Nelson defeated Rossland at home Saturday night, 7-1, in a game that was never in doubt from the opening whistle after Don Appleton started the scoring.

Flyers are apparently without Rock Crawford for tonight's encounter, and unconfirmed rumors from Spokane indicate veterans Ralph Luke and Carl Cirullo have been chopped, also. Crawford's wicked shot would help Nelson immeasurably in the small rink on which they play their home games, but chances are he won't show in a Nelson uniform this season.

There is little friendship between the two squads as Spokane trained here before the season started. Flyer coach Roy McBride threatened some of his players with "demotion to Nelson" if they didn't play to expected form.

Lionel Martini, scrappy left winger, was one who came in originally to try for a spot with the Allan Cup finalists, and wound up in a Nelson uniform. Cliff Shockey was another, and both would like to prove McBride wrong tonight.

Close observers of Nelson and Trail hockey clubs figure Leafs to be at least the equal of their WIHL counterparts, and Trail bowed by only two goals in Spokane's home opener Saturday. And Flyers scored four times with Trail short-handed through penalties.

Because rookies Jack MacAuley and Norm Ryder have not at this writing returned from Calgary — where they went to iron out difficulties in regard to their premature (by some standards) jump from junior ranks—Leaf coach Pat Egan will probably dress tonight.

He is expected to operate at centre between Shockey and Garth Lipsack. Failing that possibility, he will play defence, thus freeing Shorty Malacko for another shot at the centre-ice berth he occupied so effectively against Rossland here Saturday.

Egan is enthusiastic about this year's edition of Leafs. He figures that with one or two solid performers to shore up Leafs' weak spots, Nelson will be tough for any club to handle.

If Lee Hyssop and Mickey Maglio, Don Appleton and Jim Pilla can continue their performances of Saturday, the reinforcements won't be necessary for awhile.

CAHA OFFICIAL PERTURBED BY ACTION OF GREYHOUNDS

MIDLAND, Ont. (CP) — George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Tuesday an action by Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds to retain a player could conceivably "cause chaos to all clubs" in the CAHA.

He referred to an interim writ obtained by the Sault team from district court Judge J. H. McDonald that restrains the CAHA, Ontario Hockey Association and Northern Ontario Hockey Association from preventing Tommy Walker from playing with Greyhounds in the OHA-NOHA senior A league.

Walker played last season with Stratford Indians in the OHA western division, which played an interlocking schedule with the NOHA. The leagues affiliated this year and when Stratford folded, Walker was drafted by Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen.

A CAHA hearing last week refused Walker's request to play with the Greyhounds. The team signed him anyway, claiming Walker was a free agent.

C. T. Murphy, Sault attorney and team vice-president, said the case will be heard Oct. 30 in Toronto.

Walker Named Top Lineman

REGINA (CP) —Guard Art Walker of Edmonton Eskimos Tuesday was named the first winner of the Becket-Demarco trophy as outstanding lineman for 1957 in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

The trophy was offered by the widows of Mel Becket and Mario Demarco, Saskatchewan Roughrider linemen killed in the Mount Slesse air crash last December following the East-West all-star game at Vancouver.

Walker, 23, an all-American at University of Michigan, joined the Eskimos last season and named an all-star guard.

Mrs. Demarco will present the trophy at Edmonton Saturday night when Eskimos play B. C. Lions.

The choice was made in voting among former coaches Annis Stukus of Vancouver and Les Lear of Calgary, former Roughriders Ken Charlton of Winnipeg and Pete Martin of Regina, and Bert Warwick of Edmonton, the chairman of Canadian Rugby Union rules committee.

The winner was announced by WIFU secretary Bob Gillies of Regina.

Ski Slants

By SITZMARK

Last Saturday and Sunday the Silver King Ski Club project began to look like the City of Nelson Centennial Project.

Early Saturday, Art Waters, John Wysk, Randy Mulcaster and several ski club members began construction of the lower shed to house the drive unit for our lift. To watch these men work—experts all— with crosscut saw, adze and level, makes us realize how tough a job ski club members would have had. Thanks, fellows, for taking one big job off our hands.

Sunday we were indebted to Bob Weaver and Mr. Van Sacker. They have made it possible for us to get the holes dug for our intermediate pole towers. Some of these holes are in solid rock and without Bob and a portable drill we would have had a rugged time getting holes dug.

Actually, the clearing of brush is one of our biggest problems, but we must get construction of the upper part of our lift finished as soon as possible.

We managed to get all cross-arms located near the different poles, and two of them bolted on.

During the day quite a few ski club members worked on burning brush. I'm afraid some of the junior members worked too enthusiastically, especially when carrying oil to start fires.

Hope mothers weren't too angry with these boys. Their clothes certainly will need a good cleaning.

Work will continue next weekend. Art Waters and his citizen volunteers will be back at their jobs on Saturday. We hope to have Bob and his drill again and with luck would be able to get a few of our intermediate poles in position.

Time is running short, especially at the top of the hill where we still have quite a job in the erection of the head tower and bull-wheel.

We still have considerable digging to do on some of the holes. Number 11 is finished, No. 10—in solid rock—has to go down another two feet; No. 9—also in solid rock—is barely started. Holes eight, seven, six, five and four have been dug by ski club members.

Another citizen who is helping with our centennial project is Earle Cutler. Without his "power wagon" we would have had quite a time getting our equipment to the top of the clearing. Earle loaded up his wagon with six cross-arms (200 pounds each), Bob Weaver and his drill, and took the load up the California mine road. Also Earle's three youngsters rode up with him. They enjoy the distinction of being the youngest citizens to get to the top of our ski hill.

Albert Maida was also a busy man, trying to get the brush and trees burning on the ski slope. He had a real good blaze going, but unfortunately we had to steal most of his gang to carry equipment and cross-arms to the different pole locations.

We hope ski club members will be out in force again. We certainly can use help on all the above-mentioned jobs.

Rocket Leads Pocket By Point in Scoring

MONTREAL (CP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal Canadiens refuses to recognize that at 36 a National Hockey League player should find the going a bit rough.

Playing with all the color that marked him a rookie in the 1942-43 season, the fiery right winger garnered eight points last week—three goals and five assists — to take over the scoring lead.

Richard's third tally was a milestone. It was his 500th goal in regular-season play. Added to his six previous goals this season and his six assists, the point gave Richard a total of 13, one more than his younger brother and linemate, Henri.

Henri kept pace by scoring five goals and assisting on three others.

MORE HABS

Montreal's Dickie Moore and Jean Beliveau, deadlocked for the scoring lead last week, remained bracketed in third spot with 10 points on identical records of four goals and six assists. Moore picked up a goal and three assists and Beliveau, two goals and two assists.

Charlie Hodge, tending goal for Montreal while regular netminder Jacques Plante convalesces after a pre-season operation for a sinus condition, is tops among goalies. Hodge has allowed 10 goals in six games for a goals-against average of 1.67.

Kid Gavilan Bows

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mexico's Gaspar (Indian) Ortega punched his way into the muddled welterweight championship picture by scoring a split 12-round decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba Tuesday night.

Each weighed 146.

Fletcher Paces Rossland to Win in First Home Game

ROSSLAND — Defenceman Don Fletcher took personal charge of a third-period spurt here Tuesday night to pace Rossland Warriors to an 8-3 victory over Trail Smoke Eaters in Rossland's home opener before an estimated 400 fans.

Fletcher scored one goal and assisted on two others within less than four minutes early in the period after Rossland had roared from behind twice to knot the score in the first two periods.

Pinoke McIntyre beat Set Martin from a scramble at 4:58 to start the spree, and barely more than three minutes later Fletcher scored on a screened shot that was deflected by a Trail player.

From then on it was a rout. Bud Andrews tallied 26 seconds later, then George Ferguson added one at 9:24, 28 seconds before Frank Turik made it 7-2. Johnny Rypien broke the monotony with Trail's only goal of the third period at 12:50, but with less than three minutes remaining, Yogi Kraiger restored the five-goal margin.

Hockley, besides assisting on Rypien's tally, picked up Trail's first two goals, one of them unassisted. Rypien drew an assist, along with Gordie Andre on Hockley's tally at 1:45 of the first period.

Rookie defenceman Paddy McCabe and sophomore forward Steve Chorney picked up the equalizers in the first and second periods, respectively.

Ferguson tangled with Trail forward Ed Ferenz in a scuffle midway through the final period for which each drew majors. Rypien's tally came with the pair in the penalty box, while Kraiger's tally was counted before the combatants could join the play, two seconds after their sentences ended.

Rossland — goal: Zanier; defence: Fletcher, Kraiger, McCabe, Ferguson; forwards: Desrosiers, Birukow, Andrews, McIntyre, Demore, Hyssop, Turik, Chorney, P. Secco.

Trail — goal: Martin; defence: Hamilton, Conn, Andre, Robertson; forwards: Tambellini, Penner, Bursaw, Rypien, Ferenz, Hockley, Godfrey, Reid, L. Secco.

First period—1. Trail—Hockley (Andre, Rypien) 1:45; 2. Rossland —McCabe (Desrosiers) 11:57.

Penalties: Ferguson 2:22; Hamilton 5:17.

Second period—3. Trail—Hockley 8:42; 4. Rossland — Chorney (P. Secco) 16:47.

Penalties: Kraiger :19; Bursaw :19; McCabe, 5:43; McCabe, 7:48; Penner, 10:51.

Third period — 5. Rossland — McIntyre (Fletcher) 4:58; 6. Rossland—Fletcher (Desrosiers) 8:05; 7. Rossland — Andrews (Fletcher, Birukow) 8:31; 8. Rossland — Ferguson (Turik, McIntyre) 9:24; 9. Rossland — Turik (Demore, McIntyre) 9:52; 10. Trail — Rypien (Hockley) 12:50; 11. Rossland — Kraiger (Turik) 17:20.

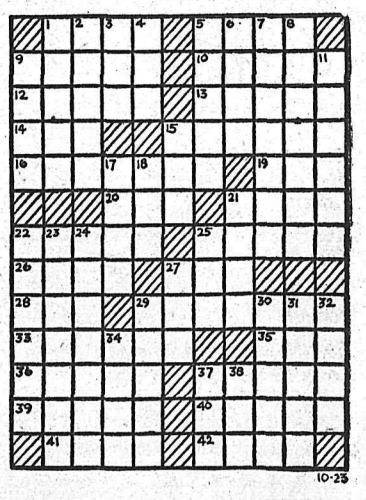
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

M W O K Q K B O U D B P J V W B X W B C U B X K Y P G O J W Q K O — O K A C K B.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: THERE IS NOTHING EITHER GOOD OR BAD, BUT THINKING MAKES IT SO — SHAKESPEARE.

Blame H-Bomb Material For Windscale Accident

LONDON (AP)—A secret experiment with H-bomb material was blamed in a newspaper report Tuesday for the accident which recently poured radioactive dust onto farms around the big Windscale atomic plant in northwest England.

The Daily Express says a canister of H-bomb material was being "cooked" in unusual heat in one of the plant's uranium furnaces.

Sir William Penney, Britain's top expert in atomic and nuclear weapons, had ordered the experiment, the Express says.

The accident Oct. 10 spewed radioactive dust from a chimney of the plant, which produces plutonium triggers for Britain's nuclear weapons.

Since then milk from 700 farms in 200 square miles around the plant, in Cumberland near the Scottish border, has been condemned.

The atomic energy authority has announced that the furnace involved will be out of action "for some months."

The Daily Express reports that scientists had told about insertion of a canister of H-bomb material in the pile. The paper says:

"The canister, which scientists referred to Monday as 'an extremely interesting egg,' could not possibly explode.

"But it began to react in an unexpected way when the temperature of the furnace was raised during a routine operation.

"Intense heat in the heart of the furnace split the aluminum covers of (the furnace's) uranium fuel rods. The uranium caught fire. Radioactive dust swept up the chimney."

Atlantic Wrecks Rubber Raft

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP)—A storm in the Atlantic near Nantucket Island has wrecked the plans of a French sailor to sail from New York to Halifax in a rubber raft.

Jean la Combe, 38, was found Monday on Coskata Beach off Nantucket.

He said his raft was blown ashore Sunday by a 40-mile-an-hour wind.

The New York-to-Halifax sail in the rubber raft was to have been a test run in preparation for an attempt to cross the Atlantic next summer.

MARKET TRENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Volume climbed to 5,090,000 shares as prices rallied vigorously from Monday's sharp break but the market failed to hold their gains and ended moderately lower on average.

In the second climatic session in as many days, the market's turnover soared to another two-year top, besting Monday's 4,670,000 shares.

Closing prices were a mixture of gains and losses running from fractions to 2 points among pivotal stocks. But the average and statistics put the market definitely on the downsite at the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 70 cents to $150.90, another new low for the year and the lowest since March 18, 1955. The industrial component felt 70 cents and the utilities $1.10 to new lows for the year while the rails advanced 60 cents.

American Telephone was 10th most active stock. It was off 3¼ at 160½, another new low for the year, on 38,700 shares. This was added to its break of 3⅞ Monday, making a tremendously wide loss for this ordinarily "safe" stock.

Canadian gainers on the New York exchange included Aluminium Ltd., up 1⅝ on 21,700 shares and International Nickel, ½. Losers included McIntyre Porcupine, off 2 on 300 shares; Hudson Bay Mining, 1½; Distillers-Seagrams, 1 and Walker - Gooderham, ½.

TORONTO (CP) — Buying support of bargain hunters failed and in mid-afternoon the stock market turned decidedly lower to absorb its fourth straight loss.

The market opened irregular and turned a shade higher, featured by a rally among western oils. At noon the market was mixed and about 1½ hours before the close, coinciding with a sharp reversal of form on Wall Street, prices began to retreat. They closed near their lows for the session.

The industrial index lost 2¼ points which put it at its lowest level since 1955. Golds were a point easier and base metals lost more than a point. Both were at their lowest point since 1954.

Western oils had a 2¼ - point gain completely erased near the close and their final index showed a loss of one-quarter of a point.

The final volume was 4,036,000.

Industrials had a two - to - one edge of issues on the downside but the range of losses was much slimmer than in the sharp decline Monday. Steels and papers had the biggest margin of stocks on the losing side.

Uraniums turned down in mid-afternoon but most of them recovered in the final minutes. Gunnar and Algom were a shade lower at the close after losses of as much as 1½ points an hour earlier.

Western oils held firm for most of the session but wilted when selling shook other sections. North Canadian, Canadian Chieftain, Central, Del Rio, Dome Explorations and Consolidated West Pete were among the heavier losers. Central Explorers, Pacific Pete and Provo Gas featured the winning side.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices were down again on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges. Trading was moderate.

Union Gas dropped 6 to 52.

McColl at 46 lost a point as did Hudson Bay at a new low of 46.

Pipelines closed strong. Interprovincial gained ½ at 34 and Trans-Mountain 2 at 56. International Petroleum at 36 and Aluminium at 28½ each added 1½. Steel of Canada improved a point.

Odds . . . and Ends

. . . by M. D. B.

Had the good fortune to be in a gathering that included a lady who has lately returned from a trip to Europe, and while I strove to ignore my itching feet she showed us postcards and mementos they had gathered during their journeyings.

* * *

She said their Canadian passports gained them smiles and friendliness wherever they went—apparently the Canadians are well thought of in European countries. Then the other necessary tourist item which saw them through many a difficulty was the foreign words and phrases booklet which translates such things as "Where is a good hotel?" into French, German, Dutch, Italian and Spanish — whichever you need.

* * *

As she talked I wanted to haul out my litle notebook and make a few notes, but this always gets people off the track so I'll just have to tell you what I remember. The postcards included beautiful scenes, famous paintings, and pictures of some of the world's finest architecture, and as I avidly devoured them I couldn't help thinking, "Just think, to really have seen those places!" and I found myself wondering, as everyone does at one time or another, whether the future may hold such a trip for me.

* * *

One picture was of an old castle in Lucerne, now a youth hostel, which offers a night's lodging for 25 cents. Such places are numerous for students hiking or biking across the country. She said one thing she found difficult to get used to was seeing people in church in shorts. These were the travellers with their little pack sacks on their shoulders who were travelling light and "only had the clothes they stood up in." Another thing she noticed too was that more women were going hatless to church — they wore gloves, but no hat.

* * *

They loved London, she said, and "you simply cannot get lost." Tourist information bureaus are more than willing to help you and wherever you go you find the same kindly interest, so that you never really feel either alone or lost. I have a few more things to tell you of her observations which I shall save for tomorrow.

Call Off Air Search for Subs

HALIFAX (CP)—The navy has called off its air search for strange submarines off Newfoundland, but naval ships will continue the hunt.

A navy spokesman here said the searchers, assigned almost two weeks ago, have found no subs.

Newfoundland fishermen and coastal residents have reported seeing what they think were submarines at various points on the island's coast since last spring.

The navy has not disclosed the number of ships and planes taking part in the hunt, but several Halifax-based warships are in Newfoundland waters.

New Comet Seen By Young Swiss

BERN (Reuters) — A young Swiss astronomer has discovered a new comet, the second after the comet "Markos" to be detected this year, it was announced Tuesday at Bern University.

The comet "Wild," named after its discoverer, Paul Wild, 32, a former employee of Mt. Palomar Observatory in California, was first observed on the night of Oct. 18 - 19 and disappeared Monday night while travelling in a southerly direction.

Elect Adenauer To Third Year

BONN (AP) — The Bundestag Tuesday elected Konrad Adenauer to his third four-year term as chancellor of West Germany. He quickly ran into trouble in forming a new cabinet.

He was faced with a revolt from the farmers and from the Protestants within his own party. They were reported angry because they were given too few seats in the reorganized cabinet.

So serious were Adenauer's problems that he was forced to cancel plans to introduce his new cabinet to the Bundestag Wednesday.

Re-election of the 81-year-old Adenauer was a foregone conclusion after his Christian Democratic Union won an absolute majority of the Bundestage seats in the Sept. 15 election.

The vote was purely on party lines, Adenauer gaining 274 votes while 192 cast ballots against him with nine abstaining. To elect, a total of 249 votes was necessary.

BEING PRESSED

Adenauer told reporters it probably will be Monday or Tuesday before he would be able to present the new cabinet to th Bundestag. He complained numerous interests were pressing him for representation on the cabinet.

Protestant members of Adenauer's party were reported incensed over the fact the chancellor had only six of their number on his 18 - member cabinet state, while he had chosen 10 Roman Catholic party members. Adenauer is a Catholic.

The remaining two cabinet posts were to go to deputies from the German party, a small coalition party made up largely of farmers. These two prospective ministers also are Protestant.

Never Take No For an Answer Is Mitzi Gaynor's Motto For Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Three years ago, Mitzi Gaynor was told by both Century - Fox that her services were no longer needed.

Today she's back on the lot with one of the prize roles of this or any other year.

She's playing Nellie Forbush, the pert nurse in South Pacific. It's a role that many a movie queen would give anything to snag, but Mitzi won it in a walk. She was the only girl who tested for it.

"They let me go just before I started There's No Business Like Show Business," Mitzi recalled in her dressing room. "No explanation. No farewells. They just told me my option would not be picked up.

"But I think it worked out for the best. I've been pretty lucky on the outside. Now, when I come back to the studio, they accept me as I am.

"It's different when you stay at the studio where you started out, especially if you began when you were young. Everybody at the studio thinks of you as 'our little Mitzi.' They can't understand that you have grown up."

CONTINUED TO GROW

Mitzi continued to grow in stature when she went out on her own. Picking her roles carefully, she did pictures with Bing Crosby, Donald O'Connor and George Gobel. Now she has two hits in the theatres—The Joker is Wild and Les Girls.

How did she get to do Nellie?

"I wanted the role like mad," she said, "but I didn't think I had a chance of getting it."

Nevertheless, she made the pitch to Josh Logan, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II. She auditioned for the latter while suffering from laryngitis, singing two South Pacific songs.

Hammerstein's only comment: "Thank you. You're a good sport."

But the production minds got together and decided to give her a test. Then her confidence rose, since she knew no one else had tested for the role.

One of the toughest things about the role is the dancing! That's because she has to do a flat-footed, maladroit routine in the Honeybun number, an amateur performance for the servicemen.

"I had to forget everything I learned," she said.
