Britain Explodes Hydrogen Bomb

Takes Place as World's Third Nuclear Power

By RONALD THOMSON

LONDON (AP) — Britain exploded its first hydrogen bomb high over the Pacific ocean Wednesday.

The blast began a series of tests establishing Britain as the world's third nuclear power.

A terse announcement by the ministry of supply said merely it was "the first explosion of a nuclear device in the present series."

But an authoritative source said the device tested was a hydrogen bomb.

It was fired at a high altitude after being dropped from a four-engined Valiant jet bomber in the area of British - owned Christmas Island, 1,400 miles south of Honolulu. The precise location was not divulged.

An air ministry spokesman said the white-painted Valiant—one of four flown from Britain to the test area—was manned by five men.

NO DETAILS

The bomb aimer was 36 - year-old Flt. Lt. Alan Washbrook, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The official announcement gave no details of the type of weapon exploded, but government officials announced previously the explosions would be "in the megaton (1,000,000 tons of TNT) range" and would be high air bursts without heavy fall-out.

Britain began its series of nuclear tests in the face of a sustained protest campaign by the Japanese government. Also pressuring Prime Minister Macmillan's government were the British Labor party, scientific organizations, and other societies and individuals in dozens of countries.

But Macmillan repeately rejected protests that the tests would endanger the future health of mankind. He said the explosions would in no way harm peoples of the Pacific lands.

An area extending 900 miles north and south of Christmas Island — midway between Sydney and San Francisco—was declared a danger area for shipping from March 1 until Aug. 1.

TOP POWER

Word of the explosion was flashed to Supply Minister Aubrey Jones from Air Vice-Marshal W. E. Oulton, commander of the Christmas Island task force, and W. R. J. Cook, scientific director of the tests.

Wednesday's blast puts Britain alongside the United States and the Soviet Union as a hydrogen bomb power.

Japan had protested that nuclear tests in the Pacific would injure its fisheries as well as imperil the health of its population.

Britain replied that the tests would be high - level bursts and the fall - out would not create a danger to countries of the Pacific.

Britain never has stated just how many nuclear tests it would conduct. But the figure has been variously estimated at from three to five.

The last reported explosion of an H-bomb was somewhere in the Soviet Union April 16.

FIFTH TEST

This blast was the fifth Soviet nuclear explosion within two weeks and latest in a series of Soviet tests that began last August.

Immediately afterward Moscow called for a halt in nuclear tests. It asked Japan to join it in a joint appeal to Britain and the United States for a cessation of all nuclear explosions.

New U. S. atomic test blasts begin today in Nevada.

The supply ministry announcement said only:

"The minister of supply, Mr. Aubrey Jones, has received a report from Air Vice-Marshal W. E. Oulton, commander of the task force, and Mr. W. R. J. Cook, scientific director of the trials, that the first explosion of a nuclear device in the present series took place today at a high altitude in the central Pacific.

TOKYO (Reuters) — The president of Japan's anti - bomb test council said today the council believed about 15 Japanese fishing vessels were operating in the area where Britain exploded a hydrogen bomb Wednesday. Some might have suffered damage, he said.

Kaoru Yasui, the council's president, said his organization believed that world public opinion will "explode in anger" at the word that Britain went ahead with the planned series of nuclear tests near Christmas island in mid-Pacific "in defiance of that opinion."

False Alarm

LONDON (Reuters) — Mysterious subjects sighted over the English Channel April 29 turned out to be two British Hunter jet fighters on a training exercise, Air Secretary George Ward said Wednesday. The subjects aroused wide speculation at the time and RAF Javelin fighters went up to chase them. They outsped the Javelins.

Mollet Feels France Deserted

Coty Persuades Premier Not To Resign; Israel Plans to Send "Test Ship" Through Suez Canal

PARIS (AP) — Premier Guy Mollet said Wednesday night he feels France has been deserted by Britain and the United States on the Suez issue. He attempted to resign after 16 months in office, a post-war record in France.

Persuaded by President Rene Coty to stay in office, the premier and the cabinet then decided in a stormy session to ask the United Nations Security Council as soon as possible to order Egypt to observe the six principles it approved last October for safeguarding free passage to all nations through the Suez Canal.

Mollet indicated he felt he should resign because his leadership had isolated France on a vital issue.

In a statement to reporters, the premier indicated he felt most keenly the decision by Britain—France's partner in the Suez fighting last fall—to agree to Egyptian President Nasser's terms for operation of the canal.

BRITAIN APPROVES

The British government has authorized British ships to use the canal again, paying tolls in sterling to Egypt. Other members of the Suez Canal Users Association also have removed official discouragements of shippers' use of the canal. France alone has stuck to her boycott.

His gesture came as Israel apparently was preparing to send a "test ship" to seek passage through the canal.

An Iraeli spokesman in Jerusalem has announced that such a test is being prepared and that Israel and France are co-ordinating plans. The Israeli ambassador met with Mollet earlier Wednesday.

Egypt has indicated she will prevent Israeli shipping from using the canal because she still considers herself in a technical state of war with Israel despite an armistice signed eight years ago.

DEFENDS POLICY

Israel has declared that if her test ship were stopped by Egypt it would be an act of war.

Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons in London that Israel's right of passage through the canal "must be assured" and that Britain would do everything possible "through the United Nations and with our friends" to see that Israel obtained her rights.

Macmillan was defending his government against Labor censure charges on Suez policy.

His statement was similar to one made by President Eisenhower at a Washington press conference. The president likewise defended Israel's right to send her ships through the waterway, but urged that force not be used.

UN RESPONSIBILITY

Macmillan told the Commons the issue could be settled "more quickly" by the United Nations than through lengthy World Court procedure.

Opening a two-day Suez debate, he said:

"I agree that this throws a great responsibility on the United Nations. It may be said—and it is true — that the United Nations have failed up to now but I cannot help thinking that the dangers involved in letting these matters drag on are now more clear than ever before."

Polio Figures Lower For '56

OTTAWA (CP) — Cases of all types of poliomyelitis in Canada in 1956 declined sharply by nearly 59 per cent to 600 from 1020 in the previous year, the bureau of statistics said Wednesday.

A special bureau report on polio said the 1956 total represents a "drastic reduction" from the record high of 8878 cases in 1953.

The bureau said the report makes no attempt to evaluate the Salk vaccine program and the extent to which it may have influenced the incidence of the disease in 1956.

Salk vaccine injections were started in Canada in the spring of 1955. In that year the number of cases, at 1021, was the lowest in 10 years.

About 2,800,000 Canadian children have received Salk injections. This number should rise to about 4,000,000 by March 31, 1958.

IODE ANNUAL TO BE IN VANCOUVER

TORONTO (CP)—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire announced Wednesday it will hold its 57th annual meeting in Vancouver May 25 to 29.

Zoli Asked To Form Cabinet

By WILHELM ROSENBERG

ROME (Reuters) — After nine days of hectic manoeuvring, Adone Zoli, an opponent of both the fascists and the Communists, was asked Wednesday night to form a cabinet and end Italy's political crisis.

President Giovanni Gronchi charged the 69-year-old Christian Democrat with the task of forming a new government to replace the coalition administration of Premier Antonio Segni.

Segni's administration fell when the right - wing socialist party withdrew its four ministers from the 22-month-old cabinet as a step toward possible merger with the left-wing socialists.

Zoli, minister of finance, budget and justice in previous governments, said neither he nor his party wanted to set up a cabinet composed of all Christian Democrats. But, he added, this is necessary because of the refusal of the allies of his party to continue the centre coalition which had governed Italy with only brief interruptions for the last nine years.

He told reporters he does not intend to set up a "transitory government" but said that his cabinet will concentrate on urgent legislation before the general elections next year.

MARKET AND ATOMS

This legislation will include treaties ratifying the European common market and the European atomic pool.

The Christian Democrats are the largest party in the 590-man chamber of delegates with 261 seats.

Zoli has been a life-long anti-fascist and nearly was executed for his part in the wartime liberation movement.

ARRESTED BY FASCISTS

When Mussolini's fascists came to power, he retired from public life and practiced law.

In 1942, he organized secret meetings at his Florence home to plan the local liberation movement. The fascists arrested him in September, 1943, and his jailer once threatened to "knock your teeth out."

"You can't do that," Zoli replied. "They're false."

When they tried later to re-arrest him for treason, he fled across the Arno River, then dividing the German and Allied portions of the city, on a stretcher swathed in blankets. He resumed his political activity at once in allied-occupied Naples. Like other Christian Democrats, he has opposed Communist manoeuvres in post-war Italy.

Convicted Of Criminal Negligence

CRANBROOK — East Kootenay Spring assize court criminal session ended here Wednesday with conviction by a jury of James Victor Waddington, 28, Edmonton salesman, of criminal negligence in the highway death last October of Harold Axel Cranberg of Cranbrook, age 64.

Mr. Justice A. E. Lord sentenced the prisoner to one day in prison, a fine of $500 and six months suspension of driving privileges.

Cranberg was a hitchhiking passenger riding in the car owned and operated by the accused from Invermere to Cranbrook when it went out of control on a hill near Springbrook, and left the road. Third member in the party was uninjured.

Waddington suffered injuries which hospitalized him for several weeks. It was the only conviction in the assizes session this Spring. Alan Graham, Q.C. prosecuted and L S. Gansner of Nelson represented the accused.

INSTITUTE TO STUDY UPPER ATMOSPHERE

SASKATOON (CP) — Establishment of an institute of upper atmosphere physics to explore the atmosphere more than 50 miles above the earth was annbunced Wednesday by the University of Saskatchewan.

Expenditures for research and teaching in connection with the institute will exceed $100,000 over the next three years, in addition to about $50,000 a year already being spent on upper atmosphere physics at the university.

The institute will be under supervision of a committee headed by Prof. B. W. Currie.

"Because the zone maximum occurrence of aurora for the northern hemisphere crosses Canada," the announcement said, "the University of Saskatchewan is in a favorable location for finding the answers to numerous problems concerning the atmosphere above the 50-mile level.

SPECTACULAR CRASH

TORONTO (CP)—Eight-year-old Gardiner Ritchie was severely injured Wednesday when struck by one of four vehicles involved in a spectacular pileup and hurled 25 feet onto an iron railing which was flattened by the impact. George Halsey, whose store is fronted by the railing, collapsed after witnessing the collisions involving three trucks.

Driver Unhurt In Dozer Wreck

BOSWELL—Steve Bullock, driver, narrowly escaped injury in a bulldozer wreck near here.

He was working for Ellard Contractors of Creston in construction of a road to mineral claims of the Silver Lead Producers of Vancouver at Goat Creek. Above the end of the two-mile completed section, the road began to slide and the bulldozer rolled downhill, turning over and landing 200 feet below on its tracks with the engine still running.

Fellow workers watched helpless and were amazed to see Bullock had managed to scramble clear. The bulldozer blade was broken off, and has not been seen since.

The workmen found that water had collected above the area, precipitating the slide.

The contractors brought in another bulldozer, graded a track to the bottom of the slide and recovered the damaged machine.

There is still another mile and a half of road to be constructed.

General manager Roy Chapman said the station is expected to be on the air by September.

Stocks Snap Back

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market snapped back to the upside Wednesday after only a single day's reaction to the posting of new 1957 highs.

Oils and chemicals were the standouts in the industrial division as the latter accounted for most of the list's improvement on average.

The improvement by pivotal issues brought the average back within an ace of its year's high of Monday. The key stocks rose from fractions to around 3 points.

Canadian issues were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.

Strikers Warned May Lose Jobs

MURDOCHVILLE, Que. (CP) — Gaspe Copper Mines Limited warned members of the striking United Steelworkers of America (CLC) their jobs may be taken by other applicants if they do not return to work.

The union termed the warning a "direct threat" and said its men will not be intimidated.

In a letter to strikers, W. G. Brissenden, manager of the Gaspe Peninsula mine, said before the strike 85 per cent of the employees were Gaspe residents but "how much longer this policy can be continued depends on the employees who have not returned to work."

Ban Freedom of Speech in Haiti

By LARRY ALLEN

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —A farmers' rebellion aimed at halting food supplies for Port au Prince and paralyzing commerce generally was described as critical Wednesday night by Haitian army headquarters.

At St. Marc, 45 miles north of the capital, 10,000 farmers armed with knives swarmed over the road to turn back all vehicles headed for the capital.

Official reports said telephone wires were cut and bridges were wrecked over a wide area of northern Haiti and police and troops were battling armed demonstrators in many northern and northwestern communities.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) Haiti's wobbly temporary government banned freedom of speech and muzzled the press, radio and judiciary Wednesday in a desperate effort to halt unrest.

There was a hint the United States might step in to help solve th economic and social problems that led to the ouster of dictator-president Gen. Paul Magloire last December and riotous demonstrations since.

The new U.S. ambassador, Gerald Drew, said in presenting his credentials to the seven - member executive council that he is ready to explore means by which the United States and this Negro nation in the Caribbean might co-operate in finding solutions.

A general election is set for June 16.

COUNCIL SUPREME

Alarmed over a continuing threat of revolution, the executive council issued a decree to prevent its fast-multiplying foes from "plunging the country into disorders and anarchy."

It banned all public demonstrations, speeches and the distribution of bulletins and writings aimed at "inciting the people to revolt." Also ruled out were general strikes intended to paralyze governmental functions.

The council ordered heavy fines and imprisonment up to 10 months for all owners of newspapers or radio stations who permit publication or broadcasting of material inciting revolt.

It prohibited any court from ruling that the executive council is illegal or refusing to recognize its authority. It said any judge challenging the government which has the backing of Haiti's 5,500-man army, would be speedily arrested and tried by a special tribunal.

Fresh criticism flared immediately.

All workers in Haiti's labor department walked out charging the executive council was the voice for two men, Louis Dejoie and Daniel Fignole, among the 10 candidates for the presidency.

Dr. Francois Duvalier, a presidential candidate who charges the council has rigged the voting, came out with a declaration that the people are organizing to topple the government and install a provisional chief of state who would guarantee free and honest elections.

It blamed "political terrorists" for a fire which destroyed scores of homes Tuesday in the town of Jeramie, in southwest Haiti, and for attempts to organize a peasant march on Port au Prince.

Voter registration, started Tuesday, proceeded slowly in Port au Prince. Outside the capital, Haitians in all five departments (states) refused to list their names.

4 INJURED IN EXPLOSION

BROOKHAVEN, N. Y. (AP) — Four persons were injured, one severely, in an explosion at Brookhaven National Laboratory Wednesday.

No radiation was involved in any of the injuries.

It was a chemical explosion "at a small-scale engineering test facility," a statement by the director of the laboratory, Dr. Leland J. Haworth, said.

Brookhaven is one of the U. S. government's principal centres of atomic research. It is located in a remote section of Eastern Long Island, about 75 miles from New York City.

Six other persons were exposed to corrosive acid vapors sufficiantly to warrant medical attention, the Atomic Energy Commission said.

Moyie Goes to Final Berth at Kaslo Saturday

Retired sternwheel steamer SS Moyie will be delivered to the city of Kaslo Saturday, Canadian Pacific Railway superintendent G. L. Phillips said Wednesday.

Early in the morning the veteran steamer will be moved from her Procter berth by her successor, the tug Granthall, with Capt. Norman McLeod, the Moyie's longtime skipper, in charge.

The Moyie, sold to the city of Kaslo for the nominal sum of $1, is expected to pull alongside the Kaslo wharf just before noon. Mr. Phillips, Kootenay division superintendent, wired Mayor R. E. Green Wednesday that his company would deliver the boat on that date to Kaslo, where she will become a monument and museum.

Search Parties Agree . . .

Can't Recover Crash Victims Now

By ERWIN FRICKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP) — A coroner's desire to bring out "one identifiable body" of the 62 who died near here in a TCA air crash last December may never be realized.

Search parties Wednesday agreed that no one, not even European alpinists, can bring out bodies now. British Columbia alpinists said it might be possible about the end of July, and then only at great risk.

The Sun says: Herb Seagrim, TCA vice-president of operations, decided it would be "too dangerous to try to bring out bodies."

The 62 died the stormy night of Dec. 9 when the giant TCA North Star crashed into 8000-foot Mount Slesse, 72 miles east of Vancouver. The plane had been on a flight to Calgary from Vancouver and had turned back after the pilot said a warning light on his dashboard signalled a fire in one of the four engines.

FOUND BY CHANCE

First remnants of the wreckage were found Sunday when two Vancouver alpinists took a wrong turn and came upon debris near the top of the forbidding mountain.

Coroner Glen McDonald of Vancouver opened an inquest here.

"We are trying to identify one person out of the 62 aboard," he said. "The one we have in mind is presumably the pilot."

Mr. McDonald suggested earlier that European climbers might be called. But alpinist Roy Mason of Vancouver said:

"British Columbia climbers are of more use than European climbers in this area."

A search party found the main wreckage Tuesday. Alpinist Paddy Sherman, a Vancouver Province reporter, said the crash had shattered the rock for an area of 2000 square feet.

When Mr. McDonald asked at the inquest if snow covering bodies might be shovelled away, Sherman said:

"We could remove the snow but I wouldn't use anybody but trained mountaineers. It's too dangerous."

D. D. Murphy, district superintendent of air regulations, visited the site Wednesday. He said it would be "at least two months" before anything could be done.

A warning was given to anyone who might be tempted to recover $80,000 said to have been in a money belt carried by Chinese passenger Kwan Song.

"They're doomed," said Fips Broda, mountaineer member of one search party. "A false step and they would plunge 3000 feet to their death below on the rocks." RCMP closed the mountain to all but official personnel.

Broda said there was definitely an explosion when the plane struck.

"They didn't know what hit them," he said of the 62 aboard.

Pasengers included five football players, an airlines executive, the mother of a beauty queen, and several businessmen.

A cheque for $100,712, the city's grant under the 1955 Municipal Act, was received by City Council from G. S. Bryson, deputy minister of finance. The grant is based on the 1956 census, which showed Nelson's population as 7226.

A complaint that non-union carpenters were used to bulild the new tourist park shelter was received from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local No. 2458. Council said men working as carpenters on the job were being paid union rates, and did not feel it was the City's concern whether or not they belonged to the Union.

SIX-HOUR MEETING

The meeting was one of the longest council gatherings in recent months. It began at 7:30 p.m. Monday, ending at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday. About half of the meeting was taken up with delegations, including representatives of the Nelson Ratepayers' Association, Canadian Pacific Railway shop employees, and J. R. Johnson, civic recreation director.

* * *

Mayor Kary and other councillors will be on hand May 23, when tenders from general contractors on the new hospital are to be opened.

* * *

Parking meter collections last month totalled $1252.77, according to traffic officer A. C. Hall. He issued 196 violation tickets and 14 courtesy stickers last month.

* * *

Endorsation was given to a petition from North Shore residents asking that the North Shore ferry landing be kept as public property for launching boats, similar to plans for the city-side landing, after the ferry ceases operation. Council has no jurisdiction in the matter, and copies of the petition have been sent to provincial government officials.

E. E. Olson, works superintendent, was asked to look at railings in the 500 block Latimer Street. Mrs. C. L. Boettger and Stanley Reid said railings in front of their properties at 517 and 519 Latimer Street, respectively, had been broken by a snow plow, and asked they be repaired quickly. Mrs. Boettger also wondered about the possibility of planting trees on the 500 block, Victoria Street.

Mr. Olson told Ald. W. S. Ramsay he is trying to get contractors to remove the former Vernon Street bandshell.

No money is available in the 1957 budget for provision of water services to the Nelson Marine Service, it was decided. Ald. J. W. McClelland, fire and water committee chairman, who was asked last month to investigate the matter, said waterworks superintendent J. A. Maber estimated this would cost about $1000. Ald. C. F. Blakeman thought government authorities might help pay the bill in order to get fire protection for their dock, which they plan to extend.

Kinsmen To Publicize Bonspiel in Okanagan

A second Diamond Jubillee-Mid-summer Bonspiel cavalcade leaves today for a trip through the Okanagan. It is formed by members of Nelson Kinsmen Club and their wives who will be attending the regional convention of Kinsmen Clubs of B.C. at Kamloops.

Members forming the cavalcade will wear red and white checked shirts with the bonspiel crest displayed on the back. The men will wear the green felt hats that have been adopted as the symbol of the Jubilee celebrations this year and the women will be wearing a bowler-type white hat with a green ribbon displaying the name of the city.

The cavalcade will be using some of the banners used when boosters of the Midsummer Bonspiel visited Lethbridge and Calgary last month in support of this year's bonspiel. They have also added various additional touches and gimmicks that members of the club believe will publicize the attraction of Nelson as the home of the Mid-Summer Bonspiel.

A float will also be entered at the Kamloops convention and delegates will leave Nelson loaded down with literature promoting Nelson and the Kootenays as a tourist area.

In the cavalcade will be R. A. Jack, Kinsmen president, Mrs. Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leno, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Ryalls, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon French, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nuyens, Mr. and Mrs. G. Willburn of Salmo, and M. A. Martyn, president-elect. Mr. Ryalls is also Nelson Chamber of Commerce president.

The cavalcade will leave Nelson today, visit at Penticton and stop over-night at Vernon so the caravan can assemble for the trip to Kamloops. The convention in Kamloops will be held from Saturday to Monday.

PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM UNDER WAY

Nelson public works department crews are excavating and backfilling on Cedar Street between Carbonate and Latimer Streets in preparation for paving.

Works superintendent E. E. Olson said similar work will be carried out on Latimer from Cedar; to Hendryx, on Josephine between Latimer and Robson Streets, in the 100 block Willow Street, and in the 70 block Mill Street. Paving will be done later in the year. Sidewalks on these streets were completed last year.

Work on Vernon Street has been completed except for paving, which is expected to be done soon.

Car Thought Stolen

Crescent Valley RCMP officers announced Wednesday they believed a 1955 car found abandoned near Bonnington power plant was stolen May 6 from Norman Snyder of Edmonton. Investigations are continuing into the incident, and police think the car may have been taken by a transient.

Insurance company officials will take the car back to its owner.

The car was found on a little-used side road. One side had been scraped by bedrock.

Chief Warns Students Against Walking on Road

Warning that high school students would be subject to prosecution if they walk on the road rather than on sidewalks while coming to and going from school was sounded Wednesday by City Police Chief Robert Harshaw.

The situation was said to be particularly bad on Davies and Carbonate Streets, according to the chief. Police have warned the students "many times" to keep off the road for the safety of themselves and motorists, but these warnings seem to have had little effect, the chief said.

Chief Harshaw pointed out a clause in the B.C. Motor Vehicle Act requires that pedestrians must keep to the sidewalk or, if there is no sidewalk, to the left-hand side of the road.

Civic Centre Activities Arranged

Several activities have been lined up at Nelson for the coming weeks.

High school track meet will be held Friday. Senior lacrosse will start May 25, and the next day will see the first home game of the Nelson Outlaws' Baseball Club, playing in the International Border League. Gayland Shows have booked the grounds from May 29 to June 1, and elementary school pupils will hold their sports day there June 7. Polls will be located at the Centre for the June 10 federal elections, and the Mid-Summer Bonspiel Show, when a queen will be picked is booked for June 14 and 15.

The Wilf Carter Show will play the Centre on July 1, and the Bonspiel will be held from July 8 to 13. Calgary Stampeders' Football Club will use Centre facilities from July 8 to 27.

There will also be an air cadet inspection during June.

King Perry and his orchestra will play for a student dance tonight at the Civic.

Civic Centre manager Jack Morgan said this special "rock and roll" session is being arranged because he thought many students would like to see and hear these entertainers. Although it is being booked as a "student dance," the program is open to anyone, according to Mr. Morgan.

Queen Contest Parade Being Considered

A parade to increase interest among Nelson and district residents in the Nelson Diamond Jubilee Queen Contest is being considered by Nelson Mid-Summer Bonspiel Committee.

At a meeting of the committee Wednesday night, it was suggested the parade, featuring a band and queen candidates in cars could be held some Saturday. Ernest McLachlan will report to the committee next week on this matter.

Chairman E. T. Bodard announced 11 queen candidates had registered to Wednesday night. Latest entry is Miss Terry Morgan, sponsored by Associated Enterprises. He said three other firms have committed themselves to enter candidates, and replies were awaited from other sources, so it "looks like our 25 objective will be met."

Committee accepted offer of one firm to place pictures of candidates in its Baker Street display window. A local photographer had offered to supply prints at reasonable charge and loan frames.

R. E. Richardson suggested the parade go to Trail, Castlegar and other points. He noted considerable interest in the contest among Trail people and will investigate the possibility of putting a poster at a central business place when he is in Trail Thursday.

Mr. Bodard will meet Tuesday with executive of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary who are holding a fashion parade in conjunction with the queen contest.

41 RINKS ENTERED

The chairman has distributed 45 posters to local stores. Tickets to the show at which the queen will be chosen have been distributed to committee members and to stores. R. E. Richardson and J. D. Wallach will assist Mr. Bodard with this project.

Some candidates have appeared at service club meetings and Mr. Bodard hoped others would make similar visits.

Thomas McGovern has been engaged to operate a concession during bonspiel week, for which he is to receive 40 per cent of the profits.

Forty-one rinks have entered the bonspiel to date, it was reported.

The committee decided to revert to meeting weekly instead of every two weeks as had been the case recently.

125 Visit Hospital During "Open House"

Some 125 visitors were shown behind the scenes and the everyday business of Kootenay Lake General Hospital at "open house" Wednesday.

Mrs. E. Welsh, superintendent of nurses, and administrator R. H. Proctor greeted visitors who were asked to sign the visitors book. George Lester, with 38 years of service at KLGH was in charge of the visitors book.

Staff members on all floors and in all departments were ready with information on equipment, hospital work, and explanations of tests and procedures. During the afternoon, adults stepped across to the Nurses' Home for the tea served by the Women's Auxiliary, and dozens of students registered. Their interest sparked by the Hospital Week information which had reached them through the Press and posters and through the talks on hospital careers given by staff members at local high schools, the young people went to every department and showered questions on the staff members.

Lead lined aprons and heavy insulated gloves used in the X-Ray room came in for comment, and interest was also high in the examples of X-Ray films shown on the illuminator in the radiologist's office. Several boys were eager questioners among the groups, some discovering the sort of jobs expected of the maintenance department, and others concentrating on X-Ray and laboratory departments.

Free chest X-rays were made available to those who wished to take advantage of the service. Mrs Norman Buckley, nurse and X-ray technician who does miniature films for TB control, along with Lloyd Grigg, X-ray technician, explained the procedure and workings of the equipment.

A popular department was the laboratory where Mrs. A. Clements and Mrs. A. Wylie allowed visitors a peek into a microscope at blood corpuscles, and showed them the other intricate operations of the lab.

Dietician, Mrs. R. Hood, showed guests through the regular kitchen and diet kitchen. She explained that a high percentage of patients in Kootenay Lake General Hospital, from a quarter to a third of the patient count, are placed on special diets. An innovation at the hospital is the introduction of selective menus. Mrs. Hood proudly a sample menu where patients may check their choice of food for the following days meals. The staff is also given a choice of dishes.

Visitors were conducted on first floor by Mrs. F Goucher, Mrs. A. Jerome and Miss R. Johnson, while on second floor they were greeted by Mrs. M. Muschik and Mrs. M. Correale and shown through the children's ward.

On third floor the nursery was shown interested guests, along with the case room, by Mrs. J. DeLucrezio.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nicol, in her office, explained that her work, medical records department, was a comparitively new field.

Throughout the afternoon, care for 96 patients in hospital went on undisturbed.

Immigration Revamp Recommended by MP

NAKUSP — The federal department of immigration needs a good overhaul, H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West, said here in a campaign address in his home town.

The considerable unemployment of the present time was due to a waning lumber market and immigration, he said.

Appearing on the platform with the Member was Randolph Harding, MLA for Kaslo-Slocan who spoke on business of the last session of the B.C. Legislature. J. W. Bailey was chairman. A public meeting was also held at Arrow Park two days later with J. Lee as chairman.

BALANCE FACTOR

Besides covering many phases of Parliamentary life, Mr. Herridge spoke on the general policy of the CCF party at Ottawa. The CCF was, he said, out for co-operative enterprise and public ownership, and offered a "true balancing factor" between the extremes of dictatorship and monopolistic capitalism. Democractic procedure and co-operative ownership formed the basic principle of the CCF, encouragaing competition only where there was no exploitation.

Advocating that federal and provincial governments should work closer together for the common good, he cited the proposed Columbia River power development and projected joint action between federal and provincial forces.

Speaking on old age pensions, Mr. Herridge said he considered the $6 a month increase was "ridiculous" and that old age pensions should be not less than $75 per month, without a means test. This had been advocated by the CCF for some time. Any extra monies for the aged should and could be raised through increased corporation taxes, capital gains tax, excess profit tax, income splitting and writeoffs, much of which are slipping by the federal treasury, he said.

The Member deplored what he said were many instances of government waste, stating that more money should be spent on public benefit projects such as flood control, aid to farmers, conservation, low cost housing, hospitals, roads, etc.

The speaker also dealt at some length with the great role being taken by the United States in fostering international goodwill and better trade relations.

Copter Rescues Two Climbers

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—Two would - be mountaineers who started out with 10 feet of rope and a bag of sandwiches to climb Mount Slesse were rescued by helicopter Tuesday.

The pair entered the restricted area where searchers are examing the wreckage of a Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star which crashed last December with 62 persons aboard.

One of the pair was dressed in white coveralls and smooth-soled walking boots. Officials said the nearest he had ever got to climbing a mountain was looking at pictures.

Sqdn. Ldr George Sheahan said he saw the two waving frantically about a mile away from the wreckage. They said they didn't want to be rescued but a helicopter was sent to them and they were told by the pilot: "Get in you awful little men."

RCMP said the two hid their car about a mile from the restricted area, covering it with branches. They hiked through six miles of bush to the mountain base and were above the 5,000-foot level when rescued.

One of the two said they planned to spend the night on the mountain and continue their trek this morning.

One had a camera He was trying to sell pictures of mountains to reporters.

"They must have been nuts," said an RCMP officer.

Nimsick Raps Conservation Fund "Steal"

CRANBROOK — In accordance with his policy of previous years, Leo Nimsick, MLA for Cranbrook, has been making his sessional report to all parts of the constituency. He has given his report in Wardner, Yahk, Kimberley and Moyie.

Mr. Nimsick dealt with the efforts of the CCF to bring in amendments to the Compensation Act, which were opposed by every member of the Government. He explained ramifications of the Wenner-Gren deal, and the CCF demands for public development of the Mica Creek power project. Premier Bennett was criticized for not accepting the Federal Government offer to help develop Mica Creek under public ownership.

The $28 home owners rebate came in for comment with the suggestion that "this money could have done greater good if it had been used to build homes for our senior citizens or for the complete exemption of taxes on homes of recipients of the cost of living bonus, social assistance, mother's allowance, etc."

Amendments to the Game Act were explained including the "big steal" of the Game Conservation Fund. "This Fund was in trust with the government, and by the confiscation, the government broke faith with the sportsmen of the province," he said urging that every effort be made to have the fund restored.

Howard Day, the federal CCF candidatae accompanied Mr. Nimsick on his rounds, and gave a comprehensive talk on the federal policies of the CCF. The meetings were well attended

Growers Advised To Apply Calyx Spray

CRESTON — Horticulture authorities are recommending that apple growers in Creston Valley and early sections of the Kootenay-Arrow Lakes district who have not applied a spray for control of apple scab since the pink stage of blossom development, spray as soon as possible. A spray applied at the pink stage of blossom development will not provide protection for the central part of the blossoms or the inner parts of the calyx. Therefore, if weather conditions are favorable for the development of apple scab, infection of the calyx could occur if the exposed parts are not covered with a protective film of fungicide. Apple growers will remember that infection of the calyx occurred during the blossom period in 1953.

Intensive Planning Went Into Hospital, Salmo Club Informed

SALMO — Nine schemes were presented before approval of plans for the new hospital at Nelson was finally given, David Fairbank, president of Nelson Rotary Club, told Salmo Rotarians at their supper meeting Tuesday.

As one of the architects who prepared plans for the hospital to replace the present Kootenay Lake General Hospital, Mr. Fairbank said he had been invited to address the club in connection with Hospital Week because Salmo was one of the communities to be served in the Kootenay Lake Hospital Improvement District. He said the board had looked at 22 sites in various communities because few Nelson sites were available.

The Gyro site finally selected above the present hospital grounds was well-located, provided easy access and would have a level approach from Carbonate Street. A hospital built there would have a good view of the West Arm, he said.

Four plans were made before one was found acceptable to the board members. The plan adopted was one devised by an American architect whose idea was "serve the patient first, then reduce mileage." It arranged the nursing station in a central location, provided service areas close by and then placed the patients to be served in a compact area served by two corridors instead of one long corridor with station at the end.

This idea of hospital planning met location conditions as it allowed compressing the length of the building and avoided the need for much sub-basement construction on uneven ground. The only "disappointment was the year it took to convince Victoria that there was sound planning behind the double-corridor plan.

Other innovations included were "the airline type of food service" where all dishes were served from the one kitchen, operating rooms placed on ground floor "to cut vertical traffic," inter-lock system of entry to maternity, nursery and operating rooms and the arrangement of wards allowed "borrowing rooms" to distribute patient-loads if rooms were needed for some other use than originally planned.

Newest Radar Device for TCA

VANCOUVER (CP) — Trans-Canada Air Lines expects soon to have a new radar device to guide planes through bad weather over British Columbia mountains.

But whether it will guide a plane through storm over such peaks as 8,000-foot Mount Slesse where a TCA North Star crashed last December, killing 62 persons, is uncertain.

Herb Seagrim, vice-president of operations for TCA, says the radar is on order and will be installed "in a matter of months." He said it is primarily for avoiding bad weather. It will have minor use as a navigational aid.

It might show such mountain peaks as Mount Slesse "depending on circumstances."

Mr. Seagrim arrived with chief engineer Jack Dayment of TCA, and director of flight operations Lindy Rood. They went to Chilliwack, centre of operations for the search into wreckage of the North Star, found Sunday.

For the weekend of May 31 and June 1, a get-acquainted dance will be held in Cominco Arena the night of May 31, a callers' clinic is scheduled for the morning of June 1 and a dancers' clinic in the afternoon, with a giant square dance that night in the arena. A "cowboy breakfast" will start the morning of June 2.

Al Berry, Canada's top master of ceremonies and caller, will emcee the entire program and will call most of the square dances on the Friday and Saturday nights.

Trail businessmen will join in the celebration atmosphere by donning Western style clothes.

TB Survey of Adults To Be Taken In East Kootenay During July

CRANBROOK — The B.C. Tuberculosis Society in conjunction with the East Kootenay Health Unit, is proposing to hold a mobile chest X-ray survey for the East Kootenay in July. A new modern X-ray unit has recently been purchased and this will be used.

It is proposed to commence the survey at Crawford Bay in the beginning of July, and then call at all important points on the road to Crow's Nest and thence to Golden. By this mobile survey it is hoped to X-ray the chests of as many people over 15 years of age as possible. It is hoped that voluntary organizations will co-operate.

Owing to recent advances in therapy and drugs, there has been a marked decrease in the death rate from tuberculosis, but it is emphasized that there has been no reduction whatever in the incidence and infectivity of the disease. Consequently, Dr. G. A. Gibson, Health Unit director states, these chest X-ray surveys are still vitally important to the health of the community. "It is therefore hoped that everyone will take advantage of this opportunity to make sure they are clear of infection and that a full turnout will result," he said.

BUSINESS SOLD

CRAWFORD BAY — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Draper have sold The Wooden Shoe and gas business to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Creston. The Smiths will take up residence here soon.

Peterson; camping, Mr. Jensen, and publicity, Dr. Carpenter.

Lorne Avery reported on the leaders' training course held in Nelson, and attended from here by Douglas Leake, Claude Blaney, G. MacDonald and Mr. Avery. The leaders found the course both interesting and instructive, he said.

Mr. Powers reported that several Scouts from Salmo had participated in the first aid competition in Trail recently and did well in their work. These teams expect to register in the Mine Rescue competition June 15.

The Association was approached in regard to co-operating with the Guide Association to obtain a camp-site in the district. The camp committee was asked to investigate and bring in a report.

The meeting decided to hold an auction sale on June 7.

Mrs. Ericson reported that the women in the district expect to form a Ladies' Auxiliary. This organization will co-operate with the association to carry on the work of the Cubs and Scouts.

Our Aged Politicians Go Gaily On

Speaking in Vancouver recently, the minister of trade, Hon. Mr. C. D. Howe, told a questioner that he was seventy-one years old and planned to retire when he got too feeble to carry on.

This is an admirable spirit, and one which we thoroughly applaud. We also admire the gay spirit with which the Prime Minister goes around the country at the age of seventy-five, making speeches, meeting people and kissing babies, but perhaps it is because politics has no compulsory retirement age that they have this buoyancy of spirit. With no fear of being retired at the age of sixty-five, a great number of people would also be bright and cheerful. It may also account for the lack of interest by our politicians on the question of old age pensions.

This is something which old age pensioners should immediately take under advisement. They should start a campaign to make it compulsory for all politicians to retire at the age of sixty-five. After all, we hear so much of making way for the young, and possibly more people would make politics a profession if the way were not blocked by our very elderly statesmen.

From the fact that so many of our politicians, and there are others besides the prime minister and Mr. Howe who are old, it is possible to assume that politics, far from being a wearing profession, is one which enables one to enjoy juvenescence for a long time. For the benefit of the rising generation this should be pointed out to those who are now going into such exhausting professions as engineering, science and teaching. There is no need to kill themselves with work.

No Danger in Hospital X-Ray

In these days many medical publicists seem to be viewing with alarm many things which we have been in the habit of taking for granted. The recent furore over the effects of the hydrogen bomb has made many conscious of the effects of atomic radiation to the point of hysteria, with the result that even the X-ray machine has come under suspicion.

It should be thoroughly understood that none of the X-ray machines in hospitals are ever used without great care or without a thorough realization of their effects. There can be no possibility of radiation doses too great for the human body.

This is particularly the case in chest X-rays. According to Dr. G. F. Kincaid, director of the Division of Tuberculosis Control of British Columbia, a person would have to have 2000 miniature X-ray chest films in the first ten years of his life before the effects could possibly become dangerous. The amount permissible for older persons is even greater. In effect this means that X-raying a patient to discover tuberculosis symptoms in no way exposes the patient to harmful radiation.

Canada's Minerals To Be Displayed

Canada's minerals and the people who discover, mine, process and distribute them, will be strikingly displayed to visitors in the Canadian Pavilion at the Brussels Universal and International Exhibition of 1958.

Entrance to the mining exhibit will be through a black-roofed, tunnel-like passage facing which, at the back of a larger display section, an immense wall of soft aluminum tile surfaces will shimmer and glow in the moving beams of floodlights playing upon them from above.

This is only one aspect, however, of a carefully-conceived display prepared primarily to tell the dramatic story of Canada's mineral development and the people who have brought it about.

The mining exhibit, as it is being constructed in the Canadian Government Exhibition Commission premises in Ottawa, is designed to lie between exhibits on the northland and on industry, and it is linked to both. Within the area of the northland display, the story of Canadian mining is foreshadowed on a wall of artwork which sets forth the tale of exploration; and the industry exhibit opens immediately from the mining area around a sectioned working model of an Orenda engine, the most advanced product of Canadian metals so far devised by human skill.

The entire exhibit stands in an area of 1880 square feet and its first theme is people; the individuals, families and communities who are unlocking the mineral treasures which lie in the soil of Canada's vast spaces.

Within the softly-lighted, tunnel-like structure which is the first section of the exhibit, artwork, color photographs, transparencies and text tell the tale of the establishment, largely from the air, of a modern, fully developed mining community in northern Canada, with all its amenities. How its people live, work and play is graphically shown. The mining project itself comes to life in a working model of the plant and townsite, mounted vertically in a recess in the right-hand wall.

The light grows steadily stronger as the visitor advances into the bright main area of the exhibit, where diamond drills face him in front of the 30-foot by 12-foot wall of shimmering metal already described.

Off to the right is a three-dimensional map of Canada, illuminated to reveal in turn the locations of the main mineral deposits in the country. The map is flanked by hand-picked specimens of the 29 minerals produced commercially in Canada.

The spectator turns his back to this display and faces the entrance to the industry exhibit. On the wall at his left, the story of complex ores in Canada is told in an animated, graphic but simple manner. The extraction of metals and minerals from these ores is a highly technical and complicated *process, the fruit of much research and ex*periment. In this presentation, even a child can grasp its essentials. Samples of actual ores and extracted minerals are used to heighten the effectiveness of the feature.

Entrance to the industry exhibit is between two pairs of vertical stands which tell, *in considerable detail, about the eight lead*ing Canadian metals or minerals: asbestos, aluminum, copper, gold, iron, lead and zinc, nickel and uranium. The units are assembled from Kodachrome transparencies, text and some of the end products which are made from these key minerals.

*The overall objective of the mining ex*hibit is to illustrate an important technical aspect of Canadian life in a way which anybody can understand yet a technician will find interesting.

Designer of the exhibit is Norman Hallendy of Ottawa and Toronto, script writer is Margaret Tanner of Ottawa and Saskatoon; graphic artist is Jacques St. Cyr of Ottawa.

In the planning of this display, the Canadian Government Exhibition Commission was assisted by an advisory committee of authorities whose chairman is Dr. G. C. Monture, former Chief of Mineral Resources, Mines Branch, Department of Mines and Technical Surveys, and whose vice-chairman is W. Keith Buck, of the same Division. Members are: W. H. Durrell, vice-president of Hollinger-Hanna Ltd., Montreal; Dr. J. M. Harrison, acting chief, Precambrian Division, Geological Survey of Canada; Eugene Larochelle, executive secretary, Quebec Metal Mining Association, Quebec; C. H. Mitchell, editor, Western Miner and Oil Review, Vancouver; W. M. Tovell, Curator of Geology, Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto, and V. C. Wansbrough, vice-president and managing director, Canadian Metal Mining Association, Toronto.

The Appeal Of the Circus

The circus is not just coming back—it is back. So say news reports. So says The Billboard, special organ of the variety entertainment field.

The giant of the sawdust rings is back, playing in indoor arenas and in outdoor stadiums. The smaller outfits are on the road again—and today on the roads, not the rails. And these are sticking to canvas. Circus acts are said to be in brisk demand.

It wasn't a fading of American taste for the circus that made it appear this venerable institution was on the way out. It looks as though it was a fading of taste for night-club routines and Hollywood extravaganzas posing as circuses.

That and certain negative factors: labor union shortsightedness as to what might kill the goose that lays the golden eggs; circus shortsightedness as to what it could not cling to in the face of contemporary transportation and operating costs.

Some people don't like circuses. They don't like crowds, raucous noises, and even good-natured confusion anywhere. To others these are simply prices they pay willingly for a wholesomely primitive whirl of entertainment. To still others the throng, the racket and the hurly-burly add to the fun.

At any rate, the appeal that made the circus beloved by town and countryside in the 1700s is not to be erased by some passing difficulties of the 1950s.—Christian Science Monitor.

MOTHER

Mother, Queen, beautiful of name,
Just Mother, priceless, seemingly the same.
May Heaven surround and enfold you
Within its gates. Ever loving, ever true.

Need I say, Mother, need I, Dear One?
The ecstasy, the friendship that you have won
Through sorrows, through tears,
Are cherished gifts in your eventful years.

May I then, Mother, lay roses 'neath thy feet,
And count the many blessings, every day I meet
Anew. May God in His Infinite wisdom and kindness
Grant you all these, Mother, for your ever goodness.

Forced Holidays

We predict a rush of office boys applying for jobs with the Bart Schwartz International Textile Company of New York. This company has just started a new vacation plan which would be incentive enough for any officeboy who has aspirations to become the managing director of the firm.

The new plan is simplicity itself. Every seventh week throughout the year all executives are given, and have to take, a week's holiday with pay. This holiday is intended by the company to prevent its executives from suffering heart attacks, strokes or ulcers all of them afflictions which strike the overworked and high-pressure executive.

There is only one drawback to those who intend to work their way up through this enlightened company's ranks. The rank and file employees do not get such consideration. By the time they have made the impression on the management which will get them promoted to the charmed circle of those who get a holiday every seventh week, they may already either have an ulcer or be a candidate for the heart attack on the very first such vacation. — Kingston Whig Standard.

Pleasure must first have the warrant that it is without sin; then the measure that it is without excess. — Henry Gardiner Adams, English author.

No Longer Based On "Adjusted Income" . . .

Vets' Disability Pensions Not Considered as Income

OTTAWA (CP) — Regulations governing veterans' eligibility for reduced cost treatment for ailments not connected with their war service have been broadened, the department of veterans affairs announced Wednesday.

The amendments to section 13 of the Veterans Treatment Regulations were spelled out in letters dispatched Tuesday to veterans associations throughout Canada.

Veterans' eligibility for such treatment has been based on "adjusted" income — their salaries and other income after allowable deductions for dependents.

Henceforth disability pensions will not be considered income for purposes of the regulations. At present only one-quarter of such pension may be disregarded. The point had been raised by the War Amputations of Canada.

INCREASE OF $120

Other changes include a $120 increase, to $960, in the amount of adjusted annual income a veteran may have and still receive the treatment he requires free.

In calculating their "adjusted" income, veterans may claim $550, instead of the present $480, for the first dependent.

The section applies to veterans who served in a theatre of war, or receive a disability pension, or who served in both First and Second World Wars. It was designed to protect them against hospital-care costs which might prove financially disastrous.

Health Director Opposed To Hospital Plan

TORONTO (CP)—A civic health director urges the dental profession to act now to forestall a move by "do-gooders" to bring dentists into a public health program.

Dr. L. W. C. Sturgeon, director of the Welland, Ont., district health union, said Tuesday night the forthcoming dominion - provincial hospital plan as a step toward increased bureaucracy and costs.

He told delegates to the Ontario Dental Association's annual conference he fears "that you will be gathered up into some plan promoted by professional do-gooders and those who would enjoy a greater measure of control over your activities."

He said action against the threat should be taken by both the Ontario *and Canadian dental associ*ations.

As for the federal hospital plan, Dr. Sturgeon said care for the poor could best be met "if the provincial government assumed responsibility for paying the premiums on any of the approved hospital plans already in operation."

Anglicans Warn Against Risky Faith Healers

TORONTO (CP) — An Anglican Church committee cautioned adherents against self - appointed faithhealers Wednesday a few hours after a minister claimed to have seen the practice achieve results in persons with various maladies.

The report originated with a sub - committee of the Toronto diocesan council for social service.

The committee said followers should be protected from faithhealers regardless of the degree of sincerity.

Rev. W. E. Mann, secretary of the council for social service of the diocese of Toronto, and Rev. C. P. Muirhead, a retired minister, told the great chapter of the deanery of Scarborough of their experiences in faith healing.

Dr. Mann, who said he had success in treating minor ailments in his own family, said a young man with a bad kidney infection was healed after a 30-minute session.

FAITH WAS STRONG

"He was healed because his faith was strong and because he believed in God's presence," he said.

Mr. Muirhead said his first experience with faith healing was at the bedside of a dying baby. He prayed with the baby's parents and the child recovered.

Dr. Mann called faith healing "a wonderful way of evangelizing," but said that it can also be dangerous.

"Some people come to lean on the priest completely and not on medical science," he said. "That is wrong, very wrong. Above all else our idea is more and more co-operation with doctors and psychiatrists."

Candidates Not Permitted To Pay Transport

OTTAWA (CP) — Candidates or their supporters in the federal election campaign may transport voters to the polls June 10 as long as they do not pay for the transportation or charge for it.

MRS. ALEXANDER NAMED BY JUNIOR-SENIOR PTA

The Nelson Junior-Senior Parent-Teacher Association has a new list of officers for 1957-58.

Recommended by the nominating committee to the organization's meeting in the Junior High School this week, they are: Mrs. C. Alexander, president; Mrs. E. J. Boyes, honorary past president; Mrs. J. Mr. Imayoshi installed the new officers and welcomed them, and Mr. Crawford presented Mrs. Helen Peachey, the retiring president with her past president's pin and a corsage. She is leaving Nelson.

It was recommended that the PTA have representation in the Nelson branch of the B.C. Division, Canadian Mental Health Association, and the Nelson chapter of the Kootenay Safety Association.

Mrs. Alexander reported on the Kellogg Conference held recently in Trail.

A detailed report on the 35th annual Parent-Teacher convention in Vancouver was given by the delegate, Mrs. Laine.

The John Oliver high school auditorium seated 591 delegates representing 50,000 PTA members, she said.

Quoting the words of the national president, she said "Ours is an organization of people naturally drawn together by their personal interest in children, which had its beginning perhaps in the children nearest to them or under their care, but which spilled over and circled out to include all children everywhere."

The convention theme was "Our Children". Several resolutions were endorsed, and these were outlined by the delegate. Two life membership certificates were presented, and workshop and panel discussions were held.

Interesting statistics were given in the address of Hon. L. R. Peterson, education minister. One was that 50 per cent of pupils in B.C. go on to grade 12, whereas the Canadian average is only 15 per cent.

Excerpts from the speeches of other prominent guest speakers at the convention were also given by Mrs. Laine.

Physiotherapist To Arrive Here Next Week

Miss Ruth McKinnon will arrive next week to take over the duties of physiotherapist for the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society in this district. She replaces Miss Beryl Kirkham now in England.

Announcement of the appointment was made Monday at the monthly meeting of CARS by Denis Crowther, president. There has been no regular physiotherapist here for several months.

Miss McKinnon, who is at present in Vancouver, has worked under Mrs. G. A. Butling of the Kootenay Lake General Hospital staff at Mount St. Francis for several months. She received her training in New York.

City Can't Accept $6000 Tender For Property

Conditions stipulated by a realty company who bid for a piece of City land were "implied and understood" when the sale offer was made, Council decided Monday night.

T. D. Rosling and Son bid $15,100 last month for a piece of land near the gas plant. Only other offer was $6000 from H. Farenholtz of Mac's Welding and Equipment. No definite announcement has yet been made on the successful tenderer, but City Clerk C. W. R. Harper was instructed to advise Mr. Farenholtz his tender cannot be considered.

In a letter to Council, Mr. Farenholtz asked that the Rosling offer be declared "out of order," because of stipulations placed on the tender. Roslings offered to buy the land for an unnamed client who, they claimed, was interested in building an office and warehouse on it. Stipulations were that the building would be built over pipe and power line easements with work or repairs to these lines at no expense to the prospective purchaser; that the building extend to lot lines, with provision for a three-storey building if required; and that the City complete a promised road from Railway Street and Government Road to the southeast part of the property.

"All of these things were implied and understood" when tenders were asked, works superintendent E. E. Olson said.

Roslings stated the prospective purchaser sought to bring a new industry here, employing 10 persons at first and possibly up to 20 people if business warrants.

Gas Plant Land Sales Completed

Papers giving Inland Gas Company title to the lands around the gas plant, which they bought from the city last year for $70,000, were finalized Monday night by Mayor Joseph Kary and City Clerk C. W. R. Harper.

Mr. Harper will discuss the matter of about $800 worth of city-purchased supplies left in the plant when it was turned over to Inland.

Ald. W. S. Ramsay noted streets were being "chewed up" by a machine used for installation of gas pipes. "We caught that," works superintendent E. S. Olson said. He pointed out Dutton-Williams Brothers of Calgary, who are laying the pipe, must replace all alleys and streets "at least as good as or better" than they were before work started. It is thought this will be done by subcontractors after pipe-laying ceases.

Final approval was given to By-law 1254, calling for expenditures of $25,950 of the gas works sale money. Almost all the money received from Inland has now been spent, biggest items being $40,000 for new storage facilities.

The $25,950 is required to pay for capital equipment purchases, also for such projects as the new tourist park building.

ZOOLOGICAL SOCIETY REGISTERED

Official word has been received that the Registrar of Societies has accepted the constitution of the Columbia Zoological Society.

The Society will now operate in an official capacity in promoting of its aims for a zoological garden and natural history museum at Robson. Opening of the zoo is scheduled for 1958, the B.C. Centennial year.

Curlers visiting Nelson for the Midsummer Bonspiel this year will be given an invitation to tour the property. The offer has been made to the Bonspiel Committee.

BUNNY ARMSON WINS TV PRIZE

A former Nelson girl, Miss Bunny Armson, was taken for the famous marathon swim star, Miss Marilyn Bell, by two members of the panel on the TV show, "To Tell the Truth," Tuesday night.

Miss Armson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Armson of Trail, appeared on the program with the real Marilyn Bell and an American college student. She is studying interior design at New York. By a series of question, the panel attempted to guess which of the three girls was the famous swimmer.

The real Marilyn failed to receive a vote and the three girls thus shared a prize of $1000.

Miss Armson was the choice of one panelist because "she looks strong and healthy, the picture of an athlete." About half of the questions were directed at the Nelson girl. She appeared quite at ease and made a pleasant TV personality.

Scores Lack of Co-operation In Play Program

The 1957 playground recreation program got off to a bad start because of lack of co-operation, civic recreation director J. R. Johnson said Monday night.

Instances he mentioned were, one Saturday morning children were unable to gain entrance to Civic Centre dressing rooms to change, and failure of city crews to cut grass at city parks.

Ald. Elizabeth Wallach thought the Civic Centre staff had "goofed" in not having the doors opened. She promised the matter will be discussed at Civic Centre commission, to which she is Council representative.

Mayor Joseph Kary thought parks chairman Ald. W. S. Ramsay had not taken proper action to see that grass was cut in Queen Elizabeth Park and Fall Street playgrounds. His Worship said Ald. Ramsay should have instructed the crews to do the work, then told the Mayor if this was not done. Ald. Ramsay agreed he might not have acted properly.

Council agreed with Mr. Johnson that playground warning signs are needed on the streets near Fall and Anderson Street grounds. It is hoped these will be put up shortly.

Question of providing markers to restrict lifeguard patrol areas at Lakeside Park and keep boats away from the floats was left to parks committee. Mr. Johnson thought booms would be most effective, and lumber mills have agreed to provide logs. Cable, cement, blocks and piles would also be desirable.

Ald. C. F. Blakeman thought council would be wiser to go ahead and get the Rotary Pool finished. He thought buoys on a rope would serve as a better marker, since children would be liable to climb on log booms and slip off, or strike their heads against the logs while swimming. Works superintendent E. E. Olson and City Clerk C. W. R. Harper thought a boom would have to be lighted under government regulations.

PROTEST BUILDING CHANGE

Ald. Ramsay asked why the building under construction at the tourist park had been placed differently to what he, building inspector H. A. Butling, and other parks committee members had decided after inspecting the site. Mr. Olson said the change had been made to keep the building out of the way of tourists entering or leaving the park. He was advised to check with committee chairmen in future before changing the location of similar buildings.

Two applications for positions on the parks staff this Summer were turned over to the parks committee with power to act. Mrs. Mary Darwin applied for a position at Lakeside Park, similar to what she has had for several years. Her salary last year was $130 per month, but she asked for $150 a month this year since she claimed she has to do considerable minor first aid work. Mr. Johnson said he might want Mrs. Darwin to take tickets and do other jobs in connection with the recreation commission program.

Arthur Brown applied for the position of caretaker at the City tourist park, which job he had last year.

Weekly classes for high school students interested in being park supervisors were started Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Johnson.

FORMER ALBERTA MAN DIES HERE

John McMillan Ferguson of Carstairs, Alberta, who had resided for the past six months with his brother, Charles Ferguson of Procter, died Monday morning in Kootenay Lake General Hospital at the age of 66 years.

He resided and farmed in the Carstairs district for many years, retiring in 1952. He was single. The body was forwarded to Carstairs Monday night for burial.

45 Fires This Year In Nelson District

Nelson district has had a total of 45 fires with an estimated cost of $1509 this year up to May 10.

These figures were released in the weekly forest fire report published by the Public Relations Division of the B.C. Forest Service.

For the same week of 1956 there were only 11 fires with a total cost of $82.

Drivers Fined

Two out-of-town men were fined a total of $40 and costs by Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans when they pleaded guilty in provincial court to driving charges.

K. A. Robinson of Kelowna was penalized $15 and costs for not renewing his drivers' licence. Paolo Muzzin of Trail was fined $25 and costs for exceeding the speed limit on Highway 3A, near Star Auto Service, on May 14. RCMP said they clocked him at 60 to 65 miles per hour on the 50 MPH zone.

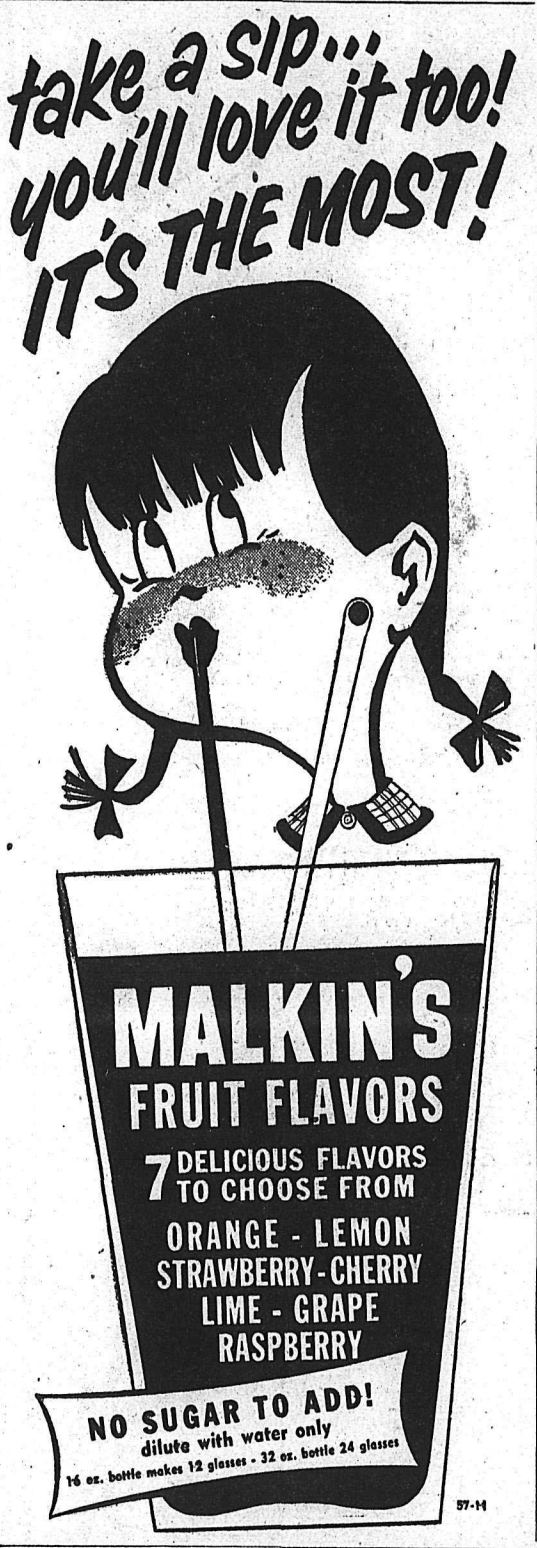
Service Club Road Signs Plan Studied

Members of the Nelson Kiwanis Club are "not interested" in putting signs on a Venetian-type sign outside city limits, Ald. J. W. McClelland told City Council Monday night.

Venetian-type signs, erected outside many cities, contain signs of all service clubs. The Kiwanis Club has procured signs, and seeks permission to put them up inside City limits.

Mayor Joseph Kary suggested the matter be deferred until May 27, when representatives of the Kiwanis and Lions clubs have asked to interview Council.

Ald. W. S. Ramsay thought permitting the Kiwanis signs to be erected would lead to other clubs seeking permission to erect signs in the same vicinity. He said officials of the Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce have promised to "definitely" get venetian-type signs up soon, as they were asked to do by a joint meeting of service club presidents about three years ago.



Delegates Reject UPW Demands For Union Wages Publication

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian section of the United Packinghouse Workers (CLC) Tuesday demanded the publication of estimate union salaries as an anti-graft measure but the move ran into opposition from the resolutions committee at the annual convention.

The 135 delegates, representing 22,000 Canadian members of the UPWA, proposed in their demand that the figures be published in the union house organ, The Packinghouse Worker.

Because such financial figures are not now available in Canada, the convention's resolutions committee moved non - concurrence, suggesting instead that the matter be referred to the next international convention.

The convention approved AFL-CIO executive council actions in the current teamsters crisis in the United States. The council recently suspended Teamsters President Dave Beck from his position as vice-president and member of the executive council.

The suspension followed Beck's refusal to answer questions before a U.S. Senate sub - committee about his financial dealings.

Delegates decided the UPWA should refuse to recognize he International Union of Operating Engineers, suspended recently by the Canadian Labor Congress, as a bargaining agent within the trade labor movement until the suspension is lifted.

The operating engineers were suspended on 24 charges, most of which were pressed by the UPWA and the United Auto Workers, that they had raided affiliated unions.

Socreds Plan "Short but Active Campaign"

Executive members of the West Kootenay Social Credit League met in Nelson to discuss and finalize campaign plans for the coming election.

It was decided that the entire campaign will be conducted from the Trail office with executive members appointed in each district.

The main executive body set up Rollie Crowe, official agent; Carl Loeblich, campaign manager; Louis Fryling, director of publicity. Executive members are Angus Drinnan, Rossland-Trail; Mrs. W. J. Van Marion, Nelson-Creston; Fred Manchur, Kaslo-Slocan.

The executive decided on a "short but active campaign" with visits to the various groups in the riding.

However, the executive was not adverse to attending a "properly conducted four way political meeting and so willingly accepted an invitation from Local 480 Trail Smelter Union to have the candidate Don Brothers attend such a proposed meeting."

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black will assist in the campaign and is expected to arrive about May 25. R. E. Sommers, Rossland-Trail MLA, is also expected to arrive around that time.

Fined $50

C. Higgins of New Denver was fined $50 and costs Monday by Magistrate R. S. Nelson as the aftermath of a two-car accident Saturday afternoon on the 500 block Kootenay Street. City police said damage was "not extensive."

Higgins' vehicle allegedly struck the rear of one owned by Anton Kienburger of Nelson. Higgins was charged with impaired driving.

Mrs. Woodall Longtime B.C. Resident

Mrs. Josephine Margaret Woodall, 48, who died suddenly Monday night, had lived all her life in B.C. Mrs. Woodall collapsed at the Civic Theatre, and was dead on arrival at Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

She was born at Larkin, B.C., in 1909, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Payette. Mrs. Woodall went to public school at Notch Hill, on the Shuswap Lakes, until she was 13, when her mother died. After her mother's death, Mrs. Woodall was at a convent in Kamloops for two years, then took a business course and worked in Vancouver before going into business for herself as a cloak model.

After travelling for a wholesale cosmetics firm, Mrs. Woodall was a ladies' wear clerk in Vancouver. She came to Nelson on her marriage to Wallace Woodall last July.

Besides her husband, survivors are two children by a former marriage, a son, Robert Stone, and daughter, Mrs. Trudy Dillon, Vancouver; three sisters, Mrs. Kathleen Porteous, Mrs. Sophia Armstrong, and Mrs. Hortense York, all of Vancouver; one brother, James Payette, of Nelson; and a grandson, Robert Dillon of Vancouver.

No Paint For City Hall

Council has decided not to paint the front of the City Hall in preparation for the City's Diamond Jubilee celebrations.

A. J. Ringrose offered to put on two coats of paint for $200, and Kootenay Decorators tendered $190 for one coat of "special" paint.

Suggestion was made last month by Ald. George Eckmier, who is now away.

"I can't see painting that thing," Ald. C. F. Blakeman said, and Ald. J. W. McClelland thought it was "far better to leave the thing the way it is." It was thought painting only the front would make the rest of the Hall seem worse.

Mayor Joseph Kary suggested bunting could be put on the building. Parks superintendent Frank Holt is going to put window boxes on some hall windows.

3 From Here To Attend B.C. Telephone Meet

Three Nelson officials of the B.C. Telephone Company will make up a three-man delegation to the seventeenth annual meeting of B.C. Chapter 53, Telephone Pioneers of America, in Vancouver Saturday.

The Nelson group will consist of V. C. Owen, district commercial and traffic manager; E. C. Wintemute, district plant manager, and H. F. Lake, district plant chief.

They will be among 500 pioneers representing a total of over 10,000 years in the telephone industry, who will gather in Hotel Vancouver for the annual banquet. Delegations are expected from all over B.C. and from parts of Washington and Oregon.

Bus Revenue Still Declining

Revenue from operations of the Nelson Transit System continued to decline in April.

Last month the system took in $2640.93, compared with $2949.41 in April, 1956. Number of passengers carried last month was 33,613, against 37,297 for the previous April. Last month the buses chalked up 5991 miles on 1642 gallons of gasoline, against 6183 and 1660 for April, 1956.

Dr. H. G. Steed, who visited Council with other representatives of the newly-formed Nelson Ratepayers' Association, mentioned there was no bus service from shortly after 12 to just after 1 p.m. from downtown under the new schedule, which started May 1. Mayor Joseph Kary said the matter will be looked in to.

In response to a petition from 49 Fairview district residents, the bus stop at Fifth and Gordon Road will be changed back to the upper side of Gordon Road. Some councillors said they did not know the stop had been changed to the lower side. The change was made on a trial basis, but will be moved back because the trial proved unsatisfactory.

The residents also asked renewal of the Fourth and Gordon stop.

Centennial Committee In Nelson Next Month

Members of the Board of Directors, B.C. Centennial Committee, will be in Nelson on June 18 to confer with members of West Kootenay centennial committees, R. L. Strangroom, regional consultant for the Community Programs Branch, B.C. Department of Education, has announced.

The Board, which consists of L. J. Wallace, general chairman, Hon. Ray Williston, B.C. minister of education, Hon. Kenneth Kiernan, B.C. minister of mines, Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, Dr. Malcolm MacGregor, Ted Fox, and T. R. B. Adams, executive director of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, hopes to answer questions and help with problems of local committees.

Mr. Stangroom said they would also try to hold a Board meeting here. They will probably fly to and from the Coast.

Executive secretary is Larry McCance, and Douglas Horan is publicity director.

The SHORT CIRCUIT

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor

Reporters were barred from attending the Western International Hockey League meeting in Spokane last weekend. That in itself is not a newsworthy comment, because it has happened all too often before.

League president Dr. Joe Vingo knows how most reporters react upon being told they are not wanted: immediately find it desirable to attend. And whenever this or another reporter indicates displeasure with the arrangement, Dr. Vingo strings together a phrase that, loosely interpreted, means "It's for the good of the league."

As president of the WIHL, Dr. Vingo's main objective is to see that the league survives. It is also his duty, one which he has accepted fully, to try proving that all is sweetness and light within the four-team league structure.

* * *

One of Dr. Vingo's reasons for barring members of the working press from league meetings is that an eager-beaver reporter might write about so-and-so saying such-and-such (of decidedly uncomplimentary nature) to this-and-that. He is afraid that unsavory publicity to a flare-up between members of the league executive might lead to a long-standing feud.

From where he sits it might appear to be a logical fear. But from this side of the desk, the impression that the estamable doctor has been watching too many late-late-late shows.

He denied it Tuesday evening when yours truly mentioned the feeling, and he said at least twice that he expected the league to be sounder and stronger next season.

How can a league be sounder and stronger when it is hesitant to tell the public what is going on?

* * *

Another of Dr. Vingo's fears is that reporters might latch onto a series of facts that are nobody's business and blow them up into mountainous bonus of contention.

Surely he must realize that a reporter — at least most reporters — can be relied upon to hold in confidence anything they are asked, within reason, to keep secret.

In all fairness, the entire onus fo rthis unhealthy situation does not lie with Dr. Vingo. At the request of at least one scribe a short while ago, he considered inviting reporters to sit in on the meeting, and he polled the WIHL for their reactions.

They, too, were in favor of barring the press.

If they have nothing to hide—and I believe they have nothing of serious nature to suppress — why did they make that decision?

Short's Brief's: Joe Johnson Wednesday received notification from the B C. Soccer Association that he has been chosen conditionally to represent this province in exhibition competition against Tottenham Hotspurs . . . One wonders now if he is still eligible to play for the Alberta side? . . .

The Trail Hockey Society advertised Tuesday that their annual meeting will be held May 28. It is to their credit that the advertisement was big enough to be seen without a magnifying glass.

Notre Dame Captain In Stampeders' Fold

CALGARY — In a move all but guaranteed to silence critics who have lambasted Calgary Stampeders for allegedly failing to sign "big names," the Western Interprovincial Football Union team Wednesday announced the signing of Jim Morse, Captain of Notre Dame during 1956.

Morse, who along with Paul Hornung gave the Irish it's only experienced offensive power, is a powerful runner and fine pass-receiver. His glue-fingered ability to haul in passes should make him a fine target for Jim Fink's aerials.

A graduate of St. Mary's High School in Muskegon, Mich., Morse is a talented right halfback, who has been in the starting lineup for Notre Dame for every game since Terry Brennan took over from Frank Leahy as head coach.

The 13th draft choice of Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, Jim set a Notre Dame record for pass-catching last season with 20 catches totalling 442 yards gained Jim Mutscheller, currently lined up with Baltimore Colts of the NFL, held the previous record of 426 yards on 35 catches, set in 1950.

SECOND IN HISTOR Y

As a junior, in 1955, Jim also led the squad in hauling in passes. He corralled 17 passes for 424 yards. The year previous, as a sophomore, Jim pulled down 15 passes for 236 yards, second on the team. Joe Heap, who romped in the famed Irish backfield that featured Ralph Guglielmi at quarterback from 1951 through 1954, is the only player in Notre Dame history to surpass Morse's mark.

During his three-year career, Jim scored 73 points on 12 touchdowns and one conversion. Seven scores came on passes.

Jim is also a talented passer. Although he threw only seven times last season, he completed five for 68 yards gained. He carried from scrimmage 48 times, gaining 148 yards and returned four kickoffs for a net gain of 72 yards.

He will appear in Nelson during July when Stampeders set up their training base here.

Championships May Be Costly For Victoria

VICTORIA (CP) — Aldermen indicated Tuesday the price of Dominion curling championships here in 1958 mayb e a new $50,000 floor for the Memorial Arena.

Although Council has several times refused a new floor on the grounds that a patch-and-pray system of maintenance would avoid the expense, the matter will get new study.

Mayor Percy Scurrah and five aldermen examined the floor Tuesday and asked an accounting of recent maintenance costs.

Both Ald. Austin Curtis and Ald. E. D. McEwen were worried that the present ice system may produce too bumpy a surface for the curlers.

It is hoped to have teams from each province playing off during the centennial event.

Arena manager Joseph Dukowski told the aldermen he estimated a new floor would cost about $50,000.

AARON'S POWER PUZZLE NEWK

MILWAUKEE (CP) — In the fifth inning of Tuesday's Milwaukee-rBrooklyn game, the Braves' Henry Aaron belted a changeup pitch by loser Don Newcombe to the centrefield fence for a double. It was his second hit off Newk.

With time still "in" the hulking Newcombe ambled off the mound to within about 10 feet of the bag where Aaron was standing.

"Oh, oh," said the boys in the pressbox, "looks like the dusters will be flying now."

"Naw," said Aaron afterward. "All he said to me was 'what's your wife feeding you?' I said 'steak' and he said 'How does she fix it?' With onion, I said."

Was that all that was said?

"Aw, no," Aaron added, "he said, 'Where do I got to pitch to you Henry, under the plate?"

Johnson to Play Against Hotspurs

Nelson's recreational director, Joe Johnson, will in all probability line up with the Alberta All-Stars in Calgary May 29 for an exhibition soccer game against the touring Tottenham Hotspurs.

Joe played last year against Moscow Lokomotiv when the Russians made their cross-Canada tour, but was ruled ineligible by selectors of the B.C. team this season because he no longer plays in the Coast Soccer League. The wire arrived Tuesday morning from the Alberta Soccer Association, Joe said.

Before coming to Nelson, Johnson played for St. Andrews against New Westminster Royals, Halecos and North Shore to gain recognition as one of the league's foremost players.

Mr. Johnson said Wednesday he had enlisted people to help with the program, and assurances had been given that incidents similar to those referred to would not happen again. Ald. Ramsay contacted Mr. Holt, who has agreed to attend to grass-cutting

Unable to gain entrance to Civic Centre dressing rooms one Saturday morning, four soccer teams had to use dugouts for dressing rooms. They were thus unable to have showers.

PCL Umpire Fined $100 By President O'Connor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leslie O'Connor, president of the Pacific Coast League assessed a $100 fine Tuesday against arbiter John Nenezich for making an incorrect report against manager Clay Bryant of the Los Angeles Angels.

The president ruled that when Nenezich ordered Bryant from the park at Sacramento last April 23, he had "merely surmised" the Angel pilot made abusive and insulting remarks. The umpire's report attributed the remarks to Bryant.

"A hearing on the matter established that, although the remarks were made, Nenezich admitted that he had not heard Bryant make them."

The president added:

"Any matter of question or doubt must be resolved in favor of the offender, who never is to be charged as guilty of the misconduct unless that is positively known, not merely guessed, surmised, imagined or thought."

He said a deliberately false report by an umpire to a league president would bring dismissal.

Such action was not taken against Nenezich, a PCL umpire since 1954, because "it is evident that the report was not wilfully and deliberately false, but was made on a good-faith but erroneous conclusion improperly and inexcusable reached by a process of faulty so-called 'reasoning' "

In his first bulletin of the season, O'Connor also spoke against the bean ball and said "balls deliberately pitched at a batter's body, particularly his head, are a disgrace to baseball."

He warned umpires to take swift action any pitcher throwing deliberately at the batter.

Also any player calling out such exhortations to "dust him off," "knock him off," or "throw it down his throat," are to be tossed out of the game.

If the umpire can't identify the player talking, he is to immediately warn the pitcher against any such throw.

As a precaution against accidental beaning, O'Connor ordered all PCL to wear protective headgear.

Far-Flung Friday Activity For World's Tennis Star

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Davis Cup tennis competition reaches full scale activity Friday with play in all three of the challenging zones.

At Manila, Japan and the Philippines meet for the eastern (Asiatic) zone championship. Second round matches are scheduled throughout Europe and opening contests are slated in the American zone, with the United States strongly favored.

A three-man U. S. team of Vic Seixas, Grant Golden and Bernard Bartzen takes on the British West Indies at Port of Spain, Trinidad.

The eastern zone final is a tossup with Japan's Kosei Kamo and Atsuski Miyagi facing the Philippines' Felicisimo Ampon and Raymundo Deyro. All matches are best-of-five, covering three days. Four singles and one doubles match comprise the schedule.

Seven second - round matches are scheduled in the European zone where teams will try to catch up with Sweden, which advanced last weekend by beating Austria. Sweden, with two strong players in Sven Davidson and Ulf Schmidt, are co - favorites with Italy for the European crown.

Other strong contenders are Denmark, with a team headed by the veteran Kurt Nielsen and Torben Ulrich, and South Africa, one of the most improved teams in the competition, who meet at Copenhagen.

On Friday Ulrich will play Gordon Forbes and Nielsen will meet Trevor Fancutt in opening singles. Nielsen and Ulrich make up the doubles team which will play Forbes and Abe Segal Saturday.

In other matches, Mexico plays Germany, Hungary meets Belgium, Great Britain meets New Zealand, France plays Czechoslovakia, Poland faces Chile and Italy meets the Netherlands.

Italy is the defending European champion and has a good chance to repeat. Its star players, Nicola Pietrangeli and Giuseppe Merlo, are returning.

Hungary which drew first round default when Ireland refused to play in Budapest, will meet Belgium at Brussels. Originally scheduled to be held in Hungary, the match was transferred at the request of the Belgian Lawn Tennis Federation.

The United States - BWI winner will meet Venezuela at Caracas May 24-26. Then the survivors go against a bracket composed of Brazil, Canada and Israel.

The American and Eastern zone champions then must clash to decide an opponent for the European winner. Australia will defend the cup against the ultimate survivor at Melbourne Dec. 26-28.

Seven-Point Program For Game Club Leaders

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — Recreation Minister Earle Westwood has advised fish and game club leaders that they must broaden their scope to include tourism and parks.

"Up to this time your group interests have been canalized, with perhaps a passing glance at tourism or at parks," Mr. Westwood told the annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs Tuesday night.

"Now you have to pay strict heed to tourism and parks for they now are powerfully linked with fish and game."

Fish and game clubs should function within the wider concept of total resource use, the minister said.

"You will begin to consider the part played by provincial parks and by the tourist industry in furthering your enjoyment of our wildlife, of fish and game."

He defined the specific functions of the newly-formed recreation ministry as:

1. Studying, evaluating and acting on the effect of various factors, including industry, on wildlife resources — both game and sport fisheries.

2. Enforcing the provisions of the Game Act and the Migratory Birds Conservation Act.

3. Regulating and supervising the trapping of fur-bearing animals.

4. Controlling and supervising bird farms and the importation of game and game birds into the province to ensure protection of native species.

5. Controlling predatory animals.

6. Co-operating with the University of B.C. to trap various species so that new areas may be restocked.

7. Carrying out public relations and education programs.

Mr. Westwood said the new department will supply unity and stop overlapping and contrary policies. It would set its various components running on a single harmonious path.

The minister said the first objective of his six-weeks-old ministry is that "we keep all our branches running on their predetermined course, following their own long-range program."

His second objective was the complete co-ordination of the branches and the integration of all their programs into one sensible, purposeful and busy interpretation of the recreation and conservation needs of the people of British Columbia and of visitors.

"A lot more than paper is flowing from my office. Action is swift and practical and each branch is moving forward in this application of practical action."

He said the B.C. Government Travel Bureau is not only keeping a watchful eye on the immensely lucrative tourist industry but is also maintaining a high standard of hospitality for visitors through tourist and workshop clinics.

Track Purse Dispute Ends

CALGARY (CP) — Agreement was reached Wednesday to hold race meetings in Calgary on May 18 and 20 and from June 1 to 17.

Members of the Calgary exhibition board and the Horsemen's Protective and Benevolent Association met to discuss a purse dispute that has been going on on the Prairies for several months.

Following the meeting, it was announced that the horsemen "will race for the 16 days in Calgary for the advertised purses and a drastic action decision will be postponed for one month to allow the HPBA purse committee to negotiate with the fair boards on the percentage basis."

The vote was 151 to 3.

The Calgary exhibition association has offered a guaranteed $1000 minimum purse and 61.2 per cent of the 1956 take—that portion of the pari—mutual handle left to the track operators after bets and taxes are paid.

The dispute between the horsemen and the Western Canada Racing Association representing the four fair boards at Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Regina has been statelmated for some time. The horsemen sought 56.3 per cent of the take while the fair boards offered 54 per cent.

The horsemen were considering a vote on possible strike action against the track operators.

BOBO DIVORCED WANTS TO FIGHT

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Helen D. Olson received an interlocutory divorce decree Wednesday from Carl (Bobo) Olson, one - time middleweight boxing champion.

And she said Bobo confided in her that he wants to get back in the fight game. He retired after three consecutive defeats, the first at the hands of Archie Moore. Sugar Ray Robinson then stopped him twice.

Olson, 28, now is managing a night club in Vancouver, Wash.

The Olsons were married in Honolulu Aug. 28, 1946, and separated Nov. 13, 1955.

BUCS GET R. G. SMITH

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates picked up Robert Gilchrist Smith, 27-year-old rookie lefthander, from the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday.

NOW THIS IS A SWITCH! Here you see a catcher hitting and a pitcher catching in preliminary warmups before the opening Wednesday night of Nelson Little League. The catching pitcher is Donnie Wah who paced Lions to a 15-5 victory over Rotary. The hitting catcher is John Christie who batted in two runs for the vanquished Rotarians. Due to a delay in the arrival of score-books, which have been ordered, details of the opener were scanty, to say the least.

Hammer - and - Sickle Looms on Net Scene

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Russia definitely will start challenging for the Davis Cup within the next few years and Australia and America had better watch out, a ranking Swedish tennis official said here Wednesday.

"If the Russians concentrate on sports — and I imagine they will — they should prove very tough," added Eric Leijonhuud, president of the Swedish Lawn Tennis Federation.

He observed that tennis in the United States and Australia is below its usual standard and there's a chance that a European nation may sneak into the challenge round for the first time in 20 years.

Guyle Fielder Sold To Wings

SEATLE (AP)—Guyle Fielder who set a professional hockey record of 122 points in one season, was sold Wednesday by Seattle Americans of the Western Hockey League to Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League.

The Seattle centre was named most valuable player at the close of the league season and selected on the WHL all-star team. He scored 122 points on 33 goals and 89 assists.

Terms of the sale were not revealed. Keith Allen, general manager of the Americans, said both players and cash were involved.

The agreement also provides that FiFelder will return to Seattle if sent back to minor league hockey.

Don Campbell Seeks High Water Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald Campbell, British speed king, Wednesday selected Lake Canandaigua in upstate New York for his attempt to break the world speedboat record this summer.

Campbell said he would try to raise his mark to 250 MPH in July or August.

STAFF IN CHARGE

TORONTO (CP) — Stafford Smythe has been officially chosen chairman of the committee of seven which will direct the affairs of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League next season. The committee was appointed last week to replace Conn Smythe as head of the Leafs.

Selke Describes Habs' Loss —Says "West Had To Win Cup"

OTTAWA (CP)—General manager Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens described Ottawa Junior Canadians Wednesday night as "lambs led to the sacrificial altar in the year the west had to win the Memorial Cup."

He spoke at a dinner in honor of Ottawa Junior Canadiens, defeated by Flin Flon Bombers last week in the Memorial Cup final, played at Flin Flon, Man., and Regina. Officials of the Baby Habs were strongly critical of officiating by western referees throughout the series.

"This was the year Canadiens had to be defeated so somebody's ego in the west would be satisfied," Mr. Selke said. "The Junior Canadiens were lambs led to the sacrificial altar."

He said he had learned that Gordon Juckes of Melville, Sask., Canadian Amateur Hockey Association vice-president, was critical of the sportsmanship displayed during the series by Sam Pollock, coach of the Montreal farm team.

LAUDS POLLOCK

"Sam Pollock has brought nothing but credit to the Canadien hockey club since he has been associated with (it) . . ." he stated." If Mr. Juckes found anything wrong with Pollock's handling of his players, "I can only describe him (Juckes) as the vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in the year the west had to win the Memorial Cup."

He declined to say whether Canadiens, who moved here from Montreal last year, would play in Ottawa for another hockey season, but said if they did it would be under a different arrangement than the "ham-and-eggs" setup under which they played in both amateur and pro leagues.

The Baby Habs this season played against Ontario Hockey Association junior A opposition, in the Laurier Cup series and an abbreviated Quebec Hockey League schedule.

GIFTS GALORE

More than 600 sports fans attended the dinner, sponsored by the city and civic groups and attended by Mayor George Nelms and other city council members.

Merchants contributed various personal gifts to the players and the city donated wrist watches to all 22 members of the team.

The guests ate turkey and listened to a band playing western music.

A scheduled noon parade through the capital in honor of the team was called off because of rain.

Baseball Trading Market Active at Cutdown Date

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The major leagues, in a last day series of trades, sales, options and outright releases involving 17 players, beat the cutdown deadline Wednesday night as all 16 teams got down to the required 25-player limit.

As the last day began only seven teams had rid themselves of excess baggage. With only hours remaining, the nine other clubs began to work and hurriedly disposed of their expendables.

Washington, which had been three over the limit, added another player by purchasing outfielder Bob Usher from Cleveland. The Senators sold outfielder Dick Tettlebach and pitcher Dick Brodowski to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League, a farm club of the Indians; and optioned two players to other minor league clubs. Outfielder Neil Chrisley went to Indianapolis and pitcher Graland Shifflett went to Charlotte in the Sally League.

YANKS CHOP HELD

The New York Yankees optioned infielder-outfielder Woody Held to their Denver farm of the American Association and the Boston Red Sox optioned rookie catcher Heywood Sullivan to Miami of the International League.

The Milwaukee Braves optioned two players to get down to the limit. They sent outfielder Chet Covington and pitcher Bob Trowbridge to their Wichita farm in the American Association.

The decision to drop Trowbridge was made when the club was unalbe to obtain waivers on Dave Jolly, another pitcher.

The New York Giants optioned rookie lefthander Pete Burnside to their Minneapolis farm in the AA and the St. Louis Cardinals optioned outfielder Jim King to their Omaha farm in the same league.

BRIDGES CUT

Cincinnati got down by taking infielder Rocky Bridges off the active list and asking waivers on him. Waiver requests expire Monday. The Reds have first baseman Ted Kluszewski on the disabled list until June 10. When he is able to return to action it will be necessary to cut another player loose.

The Brooklyn Dodgers sold pitcher Karl Spooner to Macon, Ga., of the Sally League, getting down to the player limit.

The Dodgers actually have 26 players including Johnny Podres, who spent the 1956 season in the navy. Under the rules a team is permitted to carry an ex-service man for one year without affecting the 25-player limit.

Baltimore reached the limit by recalling Art Ceccarelli, a left-handed pitcher, from Vancouver and asking waivers on Tommy Patton, the catcher recently called up to fill in for the injured Gus Triandos.

Brooks Robinson, an infielder, is the 26th player, but he is on the disabled list.

Kansas City had 26 players, including Hal Raether, a pitcher who has just returned from the service. Raether, out of shape, may be optioned to the minor leagues for conditioning.

The Detroit Tigers also carried an extra man in infielder Frank Bolling, whose service status expires May 28. This will necessitate another chopping job but bonus rookies Jim Small and Jim Brady may be sent out in early June.

Bertoia's Batting Mark Twice as Good As Last Season

BOSTON (CP)—Reno Bertoia of Windsor, Ont., bonus boy with the Detroit Tigers and only Canadian playing in the major leagues, Wednesday took over the American League batting lead from Kansas City's Vic Power.

Bertoia, a .182 slugger in 22 games for Detroit last season, had two hits in three times at bat in Wednesday's game against the Red Sox, lifting his average so far this season to .393.

Power went hitless against Yankees' Tom Sturdivant and dropped to .393.

Ceccarelli Called Back to Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles Wednesday recalled pitcher Art Ceccarelli from Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast League and asked waivers on Tommy Patton, the young catcher recently called up to fill in for the injured Gus Triandos.

Manager Paul Richards wants to give Patton an outright release so he can make a deal for himself.

INVERMERE TRACK MEET TOMORROW

INVERMERE — The annual track meet in No. 4 Windermere School District will be held tomorrow at Crossroads Park. A number of improvements are anticipated as this will mark the first time the meet has been held elsewhere than the former fairgrounds at Athalmer.

The meet will be divided into elementary and high school sections this year, and the arrangement will speed up running off of the various events and simplify matters for the recorders.

Eleven district schools are expected to participate which will continue until late in the afternoon, when cups and medals will be awarded.

Big Klu Discharged —Told "Play Ball"

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati Reds infielder, was discharged Wednesday from the Lahey Clinic and advised by doctors that he "can be of definite value to the ball club."

Dr. James Poppen, who examined Kluszewski on his arrival here Monday, said he has advised the first baseman "to get in shape and play ball."

Kluszewski was to leave Boston later in the day to rejoin the club.

Dr. Poppen said Kluszewski has a protruded intervetebral disc and that "with exercise and conservative treatment it is hoped that he will be able to carry on without surgery, although no one can say for certain that surgery will not be necessary at a later date."

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Canadian Mines Supply Whole World—Massey

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Governor-General Massey told a banquet audience Tuesday night "the whole world looks to the mining communities of Canada to meet an ever - increasing demand for essentials which can help lay the foundations of a peaceful and civilized life."

More than 200 persons attended the banquet, given in his honor, at this northern Manitoba mining community, 380 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

It climaxed a busy day in Flin Flon for the governor-general. He visited schools, broadcast to far northern residents, including an estimated 7,000 Indians, and toured the surface workings of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company Ltd.

At the banquet he congratulated Flin Flon the "great battle of your hockey team in winning the Memorial Cup."

However, he said, it presented something of a delicate problem since the team beat Ottawa.

The Flin Flon Bombers beat the Ottawa Canadiens four games to three in a best-of-seven Memorial Cup series in Regina.

Mr. Massey left by train Tuesday night for Tisdale, Sask., next stop in his northern tour.

Canada Shows Interest In Air Inspection

LONDON (AP)—Canada Wednesday signified her willingness to participate in any aerial inspection plan which is made part of an international disarmament agreement.

Canadian delegate David Johnson told a closed meeting of the United Nations disarmament subcommittee his country would require only that the inspection plan be established on a fair and appropriate basis.

Johnson, at a sub - committee meeting which lasted only 30 minutes, did not specify what he considered the requirements of such a plan.

His statement, however, was believed to have in some measure increased the possibility of air inspection involving North America air inspection be established over and Siberia.

Russia proposed April 30 that huge areas of Siberia and the western United States and Alaska. Canada would be involved in any plan along these lines.

Danish Election Creates Problem

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—Results of the national election in Denmark Tuesday produced a political stalemate, with parliamentary strength split about equally between two major blocs.

The outgoing government of Socialist Premier H. C. Hansen, a coalition of Social Democrats and Radicals, faced a decision on whether to seek Communist support to assure its return to power.

Results early Wednesday gave 84 seats each to the Socialist - Radical alliance and the right-wing bloc of Conservative, Liberal and Single Tax parties. Communists hold the balance of power with six seats.

UPS AND DOWNS

In the last Folketing (parliament), the governing left - wing group held 88 seats and the right-wing opposition 78 in the 179-seat House. The Social Democrats dropped four seats Tuesday while the Liberals and Single Tax party gained three each. The Communists lost two.

The state of the parties in the new Folketing are: Social Democrats 70, Radicals 14, Conservatives 30, Liberals and Farmers 45, Single Tax nine, Communists six and German minority one.

CPA To Abandon Regina to Edmonton Route

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian Pacific Airlines has applied to abandon its Regina-to-Edmonton air service and Pacific Western Airlines of Vancouver has applied to take over the route, an air transport board spokesman said Wednesday.

The Regina - Edmonton route also provides air service to such points as Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, Prince Albert and North Battleford, Sask. CPA's reasons for applying for abandonment of the service were not disclosed.

The board spokesman said public notices of the dual request to switch operators of the route now are being advertised. Anyone interested has the right to make representations to the board on the application.

He said final public notices will appear in newspapers about June 7. When the board will give its decision on the matter after that date will depend on whether representations from interested parties require special hearings to be held.

Yale Lead, Zinc Profit Goes Up

Yale Lead and Zinc Mines' operating profit rose last year.

The company's operating profit during 1956 was $258,759, compared with $195,354 in 1955. This was from the production of 6,047,476 pounds of lead, 1,103,212 pounds of zinc and 95,619 ounces of silver. A total of 53,120 tons of ore was milled compared with 53,760 tons during 1955 despite a strike which brought about a four-month shutdown last spring. Total cost of production was $792,463, and operating costs including administration amounted to $533,703.

So far this year, production is showing good progress. January figures show production revenue of $77,156 and operating costs of $53,149, leaving an operating profit for the month of $24,006. February production was $69,314, operating costs $47,365, leaving an operating profit for that month of $21,948.

Ore reserves were 12,000 tons lower than at the end of 1955. Ore discoveries on the 1900-foot level were less frequent than anticipated. There is about 1000 feet of potentially productive vein lying north to the present drift face at the 1900-foot level, according to a report by P. E. Olson, mine manager.

Some raising has been carried out above the 1900-foot level, but insufficient ore does not justify sinking below the level.

Total ore reserves are estimated at 132,000 tons, grading 5.70 per cent lead, 1.5 per cent zinc and 2.0 ounces silver per ton.

Korea Hopes To Receive A-Cannons

SEOUL (Reuters) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea called his cabinet into immediate session Wednesday following a Washington announcement that more effective weapons, believed to be atomic; may be supplied to the republic by the United States.

States Secretary Dulles said Tuesday the U.S. is considering the introduction of more modern weapons into Korea as much of the equipment used by the South Koreans was no longer being produced by the U.S.

Defence Secretary Charles E. Wilson said weapons likely would be the same as those earmarked for Europe — Matador and Corporal guided missiles and Honest John rockets, all capable of carrying nuclear warheads.

A member of the staff of Gen. Chung Il Kwon, chairman of South Korea's joint chiefs of staff, said it was not immediately known what sort of weapons may be sent to South Korea, but "we hope they are atomic cannons."

Odds . . . and Ends

by M. D. B.

Tuesday evening the News was perfumed (?) with cigars as practically every smoking male in the place puffed and blew ecstatically on "one for free" passed out by one of the press room boys who had done his first pacing on maternity floor. Sprouting a fair start on a beard, (the father I mean) I asked him if the new son had whiskers too. No, he said, but when it saw him it gave a lusty howl.

* * *

Being a non-cigar smoker I find these times rather trying. It hurts to see anything free being handed out and not being able to take advantage of it. It's enough to drive a person to smoke.

* * *

While I am on the News news, the bindery is a whirr with activity. The new phone books are coming off the press. This is the big flat bed press that says, "It MUST have been, it MUST have been, it MUST have been" as it merrily prints eight pages of the phone book at a swathe.

* * *

I can never listen to a machine withou figuring out what is says. Now the el-rod, that makes the long strips of metal that divide the columns in the paper, sits there all night saying, "Shaking it up, shaking it up, shaking it up." Why these machines say these things as the various working parts slip, slide and shift as they execute their particular jobs I do not know.

* * *

I suppose it could be because they are referred to in the feminine gender. You know — "she" doesn't seem to be running smoothly, or "she" just didn't sound right, or something. This must be the answer, for being shes they must have something to say.

* * *

Couldn't help chuckling over Uncle Louis' pondering — if he wasn't prime minister, he didn't know what he could do. It rather sounded as though the prime ministership had been his last ditch stand and if that were taken away it would be nothing but the soup kitchen for him from there on in. I know he didn't mean it this way, though. What he meant was that he should have done something about raising the retirement age so he'd have a chance at landing a job. But there, that's what comes of not preparing for a rainy day. With Liberals thumping their chests, though, and looking toward victory at the polls I'm surprised he even gave it a thought.

Urges Summit Conference . . .

Bulganin Denies Russian Interest In Middle East

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin made a new bid today for an international summit conference to discuss world problems. He said such a meeting had to be "properly prepared."

Bulganin made the statements in a speech at a Soviet-Mongolian friendship meeting in the Kremlin. It was broadcast by Moscow radio.

Bulganin said he attaches "great importance . . . to personal contacts between statesmen," and that "experience has shown that such contacts are useful."

"Now that there are again symptoms of some easing of international tension, favorable conditions are created for the resumption of such contacts.

"There are many things the leaders of the Western and Eastern countries can talk about on the condition, of course, that the meetings are properly prepared."

Bulganin described the Eisenhower doctrine as the "main source of unrest and complication of the situation" in the Middle East.

He referred to the "honest warnings we have sent to the European countries who are members of the North Atlantic bloc of the heavy consequences likely to be brought about by the policy of the United States—leading power in the bloc."

The situation in the Middle East still gave rise to certain concern.

"The situation in this region has become more complicated with the foreign-inspired events in Jordan and the activities of the United States in the eastern Mediterranean.

NO SPECIAL INTEREST

"As far as we are concerned, we have no special interest in the Middle East—or in any other part of the world—other than the safeguarding of peace and giving every people the right to resolve its own fate."

Soviet proposals to come to an agreement over disarmament and the banning of atomic weapons were "warmly supported in the Arab East, but unfortunately did not have the agreement of London, Washington and Paris."

"The Soviet government warned them last year of the danger of resorting to force. There are only two solutions—war or peace and we are for peace, and are sure that the peoples will not allow the politicians to continue balancing on the brink of war."

"The political work will have to be carried out under more difficult conditions than before," he said.

Council Committee To Investigate Store Hours

Ald. W. S. Ramsay, Ald. J. W. McClelland, and Ald. C. F. Blakeman, themselves merchants, have been appointed to study action to be followed in connection with store hours under the new Municipal Act, which comes into force July 1.

One of the most troublesome features of the Act, the store closing hours were discussed at some length at the recent Spring convention of the Association of Kootenay Municipalities in Montrose recently by J. E. Brown, deputy minister of municipalities. Unless civic governments take some action before the new Act comes into force, opening and closing hours will be as laid down by the provincial government.

In an effort to establish unanimity, Mr. Brown's department is writing municipalities asking what action they will be taking on store hours so the government may regulate stores in neighboring unorganized districts accordingly.

Mayor Joseph Kary said he has told representatives of garage and grocery owners Council would like to have their views on the matter. He also thought members of the Nelson Ratepayers' Association could help in this connection.

Negotiations For Chlorinator To Continue

City Council decided Monday night to authorize works superintendent E. E. Olson to continue negotiations with a chlorination and fluoridation equipment supply firm to obtain a chlorinator for $6900 on condition the company will exchange the machine within a year's time if a decision is made by voters next December to fluoridate the water. Council would then buy an $11,600 combination fluo-chlorinator from the same company.

Installation of the machine would cost $7000, including $5000 for housing, $1500 for easements and power lines, and $500 for incidentals and labor.

Only other quotations were $7200 for a chlorinator only, and $14,100 for a fluo-chlorinator. The $7000 for installation would also have to be added to these.

Three tests made in the provincial laboratory during April of Nelson water all showed contamination, according to sanitarian Russell Davis.

It was reported Dr. K. I. G. Benson, Selkirk Health Unit director, has recommended installing the plant above the large reservoir, contrary to engineering recommendations. Final approval of any plans would, however, be up to provincial health department officials.

Five Motorists Fined $110

W. C. Krohman of Salmo was assessed $50 and costs in provincial court when Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans found him guilty of driving in excess of 30 miles per hour on March 26, when road restrictions were in effect. Krohman had pleaded not guilty.

L. W. Knight of Salmo was fined $25 and costs by Magistrate Evans when he pleaded guilty to driving with an expired drivers' licence.

John V. Gall of Castlegar was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to driving a truck without clearance lights.

Tsuyaski Aikowa of Slocan City was fined $10 and costs for speeding near South Slocan, and A. P. Jeffery of Nelson was fined $15 and costs for speding at Shoreacres. Both pleaded not guilty but were found guilty.

Jail Sentence, Fine On Impaired Driving

George Sherstobitoff of Crescent Valley is now serving a 30-day sentence in Nelson provincial jail for an impaired driving charge laid by RCMP last month.

Sherstobitoff appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate William Evans April 15 on the charge, and was ordered to pay $250 and costs or serve six months in jail. He was unable to pay the fine in the set time, and was sent to jail.

Adrien Delorme of Nakusp was fined $250 and costs and his licence suspended for six months when he appeared before Magistrate Evans on the same charge.

Lightning Causes Fractured Skull

NEW YORK (AP)—A lightning bolt blasted bricks off the top of a skyscraper hotel in the Times Square area Tuesday night. Falling debris fractured the skull of a boy in the street.

Heavy rain flooded streets and cellars, delayed trains and stalled traffic in the metropolitan area.

Lightning struck the tower of the 30 - storey Lincoln Hotel. A hit Paul Gorrin, 14, as he was piece of brick hurtled down and standing in the street. He was in criticial condition.

There was no one in the hotel. It is being remodelled.
